Comments: I support this because we get a lot of military and they come from states who do not have registration and are unaware of the laws. So having only 3 days is very short.

Comments: I approve of this change, however consider that many individuals may still be hesitant to register after the fact due to the Rap Back system.

Comments: Rapback needs to be repealed or removed so people will be more willing to register their firearms. Rapback goes against the FOPA of 1986. (Firearms Owners Protection Act) "No such rule or regulation prescribed [by the Attorney General] after the date of the enactment of the Firearms Owners Protection Act may require that records required to be maintained under this chapter or any portion of the contents of such records, be recorded at or transferred to a facility owned, managed, or controlled by the United States or any State or any political subdivision thereof, nor that any system of registration of firearms, firearms owners, or firearms transactions or disposition be established. Nothing in this section expands or restricts the Secretary's authority to inquire into the disposition of any firearm in the course of a criminal investigation." please remove Rapback. it is illegal.

Harvey Gerwig	Hawaii Rifle Association	Oppose	Yes

Comments: The Hawaii Rifle Association does not support the current language in this bill. HOWEVER: With some minor changes in the language of the bill we can be in full support. We feel that allowing individuals to register their firearms without fear of penalty for late registration is a good thing and should be supported by law enforcement to draw forward those guns that should have been registered but for a myriad of reasons were not. The language changes that we suggest are as follows: We are concerned that stating that the duty to register a firearm is an "ongoing one" could create confusion, implying that firearms need to be re-registered in the future. This can be clarified by striking the following language contained in 134-3 (A) and (B). "provided the duty to register the firearm shall be on ongoing one" and keeping the remaining language, it is clear that a failure to register a firearm within the specified time period does not relieve the duty to register thereafter. We ask that the language change be made so we can support the worthwhile legislation. Thank you, Harvey Gerwig, President, Hawaii Rifle Association. ( 808 ) 306-7194
