the House and their guests to enjoy the entertainment of Sheron Leihua Bissen, former Miss Hawaii; Palani Vaughan and the King's Own; and Sol Bright.

The Chair then delivered the following address:

"Governor and Mrs. Ariyoshi, Lieutenant Governor Waihee, distinguished guests, members of the House, friends and fellow citizens: Aloha.

A glance at our legislative agenda reveals that a broad range of issues and problems confront us. They are problems which require solutions, but they must be addressed carefully and not with an expectation that hard problems can be resolved easily.

Given the fiscal condition of our State, we have a heavy task and a great responsibility. But it is a task which I believe has been made easier because of prudent fiscal policies established and maintained through the cooperation between capable executive management and responsible legislative action.

We have weathered most of the economic and social upheavals which have touched many states throughout this country. Most of these states ended 1983 by having to increase taxes. In 20 states, and that's 40 percent of our nation, the fiscal year, which ended last June 30th, ended in deficits.

Besides the recession, recent federal aid cutbacks have added to our economic troubles. Federal aid to state and local governments, other than payments to individuals, have been cut back by 25 percent in just two years. For Hawaii, whose structure of government places much of the responsibility for service on the State rather than county level, such losses in federal revenue affects many programs from public school education to health care services for our young and elderly.

While 1984 may be a financially difficult year, I believe we can take steps to brighten the outlook and assure that here in Hawaii the sun continues to shine.

We must seek changes in procedures, practices, policies and laws which may not be working well, while maintaining those elements which make Hawaii special.

We shall, for example, re-examine the constitutionally mandated formula which ironically will require a refund or credit to taxpayers during this period of financial austerity. We shall also consider changes in the State-County revenue sharing plan and law which requires the transfer of a certain amount of State funds to each county regardless of statewide needs.

With continued fiscal restraint and constant effort to improve productivity and eliminate duplication of services, we will balance the budget and still provide needed services. But restraint does not mean stagnation. More than ever before, we must be creative, imaginative and innovative.

If Hawaii is to truly prosper in the coming decades, our outlook must be international and our economy diversified. Action was taken last year to encourage growth and expansion of existing business and attract new trade and commerce. Our activities included initiating a review of our tax system and worker's compensation laws; streamlining the permit process for the film industry; promoting agriculture, aquaculture and marine research; and expanding the opportunity for international banking.

As we face our future, our greatest asset is a well educated, talented and industrious workforce. Although we cannot predict the precise forms it will take, our future economy will need to operate with a higher level of technology. Last session, we took the first steps by funding computer education in our schools. We established a high technology development corporation and a Pacific International Center for high technology research at the University of Hawaii.

Our future, however, is not a break from our past, but a continuation. The stable and mature sectors of our economy, tourism and agriculture, form this foundation.

The visitor industry is very important to us. I firmly believe that visitors are attracted to our islands not just because of our gentle breezes, beautiful sites and recreational facilities, but also because of our warm hospitality. Ours is truly a land of aloha anchored in diverse cultures. It is also the homeland of a Hawaiian culture found nowhere else in the world. Visitors are attracted and excited by the romance of discovering a special place. While they enjoy the Hawaii of today, they also seek the Hawaii of yesterday. Therefore, I strongly feel that while our visitor industry deserves our support, they should also assume a greater role in making sure that the culture which is Hawaii is not only promoted but preserved.

Likewise, our major agricultural industries are important and deserve our continued support. However, such companies as well as many other businesses must develop a greater level of commitment to our community even as they seek to improve the bottom line.

Hawaii is a special place and although we are faced with a fairly lean budget, our prospects for growth are good. For example, in discussing Hawaii's role in the high technology industry, a recent publication related a number of advantages which our State has to offer, including: A productive and competent labor force; wage and salary rates lower than mainland high-tech locations; a strategic location in terms of transportation and communications between Asia, the United States, and the Pacific region; and a desirable environment for people to live and work in. Many, if not most, of these elements are advantages to any number of industries and suggest that not only can Hawaii compete with some sectors in the world marketplace, but can, in fact, become a leader in certain areas.

One such area might be in the development of foreign investment. The record shows that foreign investments in Hawaii have generally been good for our State. The infusion of foreign capital creates jobs, provides trade and capital investment and generates taxes to support State and local programs. Foreign investments also lead to an exchange of know-how, increased productivity and stronger cultural ties. I firmly believe that our State should continue to develop such foreign investments which meet our long-term goals.

As we move toward the future which some economists have already called the 'Pacific Century,' labor also has a role to play. Our labor force has faced difficult decisions. Many in the private sector have taken steps to encourage the growth of business and to protect the financial conditions of their employers. Our public employees also face similar difficult decisions. I know that these public employees share the same concern for the welfare of our State, and I am confident that a reasonable approach and solution to the issues of collective bargaining will be achieved.

Over thirteen years ago, in an address before the Legislature, the late Governor John Burns identified those elements which make Hawaii a special place for all of us. He said Hawaii has '...a supremely beautiful setting, a talented and industrious people, and a location which, while it is very much a part of America, is linked in spirit and tradition to the many peoples of the Pacific and Asian world...' His observations were given added significance this year, especially now, as we celebrate our Silver Jubilee, marking 25 years of statehood. We honor the first anniversary of a sister state relationship with the Japanese Prefecture of Fukuoka; and begin preparations to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the arrival of many of our Asian immigrant families to Hawaii. All these events underscore the unique potential of Hawaii and her role in the Pacific.

Members, ladies and gentlemen, thank you, mahalo, and God bless you all."

Representative Rohlfing, on behalf of the Minority Caucus, then rose and stated:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Governor and Mrs. Ariyoshi, Lieutenant Governor Waihee, distinguished guests, and if I may, a special 'talofa lava' to my old boss, Governor Peter Coleman.

As the Speaker has so eloquently noted this morning, we are on our 25th year as a state of the Union. I hope I will be permitted a moment of a little nostalgia in that 25 years ago, it was my first legislative session, and that session was across the street in Iolani Palace. And in spite of the history that has taken place in this Capitol, that was something, if you were there, would never forget. It has been my privilege to serve 21 Regular Sessions for this State.

The other night, I was privileged to attend a gathering on behalf of a man who put a lot of time and effort for the Legislature, in particular the Senate. His name is Harvey Kimura, and he reminds me of the obligations that we as legislators here have to those who serve us so well on our staff, in our offices, and those who serve us so well -- Sergeant-at-Arms like Harvey Kimura in the Senate; here, Bill Staunton; our Clerk, George Takane, and all those who make it possible for us to have an Opening like this. I hope you will join me in recognizing those people for a moment.

Thank you.

Also, the other night, at that gathering, there were a lot of old legislators there -- Senators with whom I have served and Representatives, and I suddenly felt a little ambivalent, having served with them and still being here, and maybe the electorate will take care of that problem shortly. At any rate, there were a lot of Republicans there, and they are in private enterprise, and then there were a lot of Democrats there who have retired from the Legislature and are now on the Bench.

Mr. Speaker, a lot has happened in those 25 years. The other day, I was trying to get a vivid picture of that and I remember we had two statutes books in 1959. And today, to remind me about that, I brought a few books. We have eleven. During that same period, our State workforce has grown approximately 200 percent to take care of the burgeoning population and the problems. And yet, when you figure that in comparison with the federal employee workforce, that is twenty times what the federal growth was between 1960 and 1980.

In those early days of statehood, there was much excitement and challenge. We had to enact a comprehensive framework for the government of this State. We had the opportunity of taking on far-reaching legislation as well--things like State anti-trust laws, land reform, setting up the State law for handling lands throughout the State, and numerous pieces of legislation. We worked hard, just as this Legislature works hard. Once in a while, we had some fun. Just like once in a while we have some fun. And today is one of those occasions. I am also reminded of the night that Senator 'Doc' Hill closed the legislative session. An extension of some five days had taken place. 'Doc' lived in a hotel downtown and he appeared on the final night in his kimono and that was rather unusual for the closing night of the legislative session but he had an explanation. He had run out of laundry and he said, 'We must end tonight.' And, we did end that night.

Today, Mr. Speaker, it seems to me, with a little bit of perspective, that quite frequently, we spend our time, an awful lot of time, working over the statutes with housekeeping, sometimes tinkering with the bureaucracy. A lot of times I think we defer the tough issues--things like tax reform, workmen's compensation, to commissions to study, or to the Executive to resolve when that duty really devolves on us. The tendency to build up the type of written legislation in rules and regulations just follows that, that has a tendency to make us join a lot of the American states and our country in possibly too much legalism and too much bureaucracy. As a lawyer, I have to say we played our part in that, but I think also that many times that is an effect rather than the cause, of this growth of our legislation and our government in appearance, so to speak, in the life of our people. We have to be able to react faster to worldwide economic change, and I think it is time for the Legislature and may I suggest that we make a concentrated attack on the structural and attitudinal problems of our island society. I would suggest that we repeal those overlapping and onerous rules and regulations which restrain sound economic growth, that we shake up the Department of Education and the University of Hawaii, as our Governor said last fall, 'Stop management by chance.' We should get beneath the current services' level of the budget and look to what's under there. We must provide incentives for capital investment, more business is the essence of our Hawaiian economy, and we must unshackle it and give it a chance, and along with it, I think we should give a better break to our counties to perform the tasks that they have.

Being a bit presumptuous, I also would like to suggest a legislative litmus test for the bills and resolutions that come across our desks. Will the particular bill or resolution develop self reliance and encourage investments, or will it lead to more bureaucracy and legalistics, thereby inhibiting opportunities? One of Parkinson's lesser known laws goes like this: 'Aim at prosperity and employment will follow. Aim at employment and anything but prosperity will follow.'

Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, we must build a bridge to a new era and thereby give our young people new hope. To master possibilities of that new era, the Legislature, the policy-making body of this State, must become, once again, bold, adventurous, and pioneering, to the extent, Mr. Speaker, that the programs and the bills of the Majority, and the programs and bills sent to us by the Administration, meet those tests, we in the Minority, promise our full support. Where we do not find that in our judgment to be the case, as always, you will hear from us on this floor and we will offer alternatives both here and to the electorate as a whole. That is our duty. We pledge our best effort toward proving that Hawaii is indeed that very special place and it will take all of us here, together, working to keep it so.

Thank you."

Representative Blair, on behalf of the Majority Caucus, rose and stated:

"Mr. Speaker, and distinguished guests, your Majority Caucus looks forward to a productive session which justifies the support which we have received from the people of Hawaii. Aloha.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Apo then rose and stated:

"Mr. Speaker, this Honorable Body is quite accustomed to the practice of offering formal congratulations to men and women with achievements of note. Without question, all of those to whom we extend our aloha are equally deserving. However, every so often we assemble with a special pride to acknowledge a truly exceptional accomplishment. Today is one of those days. The University of Hawaii Wahine Volleyball Team has compiled a record that places it among the great sports teams of all time. They might be compared to the UCLA basketball team while under the direction of John Wooden, or Hawaii's outstanding delegation of Olympic swimmers which included Duke Kahanamoku, Dick Cleveland, and Ford Kono, or the 1980 U.S. Olympic hockey team. The achievements of these sports greats may never be surpassed. I think the same might be said of the amazing records set by this University of Hawaii Wahine Volleyball Team.

To you, Dave Shoji, and all of you who played key roles in the building of one of the highest achieving athletic programs in Hawaii's history, this House is humbled and stands in awe of your spectacular strides toward excellence. I think it is also appropriate to note that your success goes a long way toward strengthening the argument for increased support of women's athletics in the State of Hawaii. The 51 members of this House salute you with a special sincerity today.

I would now like to ask that as I call your name, you stand to be recognized. I also ask that we hold our applause until the last name is called."

Representative Apo then presented the following persons to the members of the House and audience: Cindy Boerner-Mazda, Women's Athletic Director; Dean Nowack, Assistant Coach; and the members of the 1983 National champions -- Naomi Higa, Susan Hlavenka, Pam Lawrence, Sista Palakiko, Lee Ann Pestana, Kori Pulaski, Kris Pulaski, Lisa Strand, Marcie Wurts, Missy Yomes; and Miss Dietre Collins, the country's #1 female collegiate athlete; and Mr. Dave Shoji, the country's #1 women's coach in any sport.

FOURTH DAY

The House of Representatives of the Twelfth Legislature of the State of Hawaii, Regular Session of 1984, convened at 10:00 o'clock a.m., with the Speaker presiding.

JOINT SESSION

At 10:42 o'clock a.m., the House of Representatives met in joint session with the Senate, pursuant to House Concurrent Resolution No. 1, to receive the Governor's address. (Gov. Msg. No. 1)

Before receiving the Governor's address, the Speaker recognized the First Lady of Hawaii, Mrs. Jean Ariyoshi, and her family; Chief Justice Herman Lum; Department Heads; Mrs. Patsy Mink, Chairman of the City Council; and Consul General Miyabara of Japan; Consul General Fisher from Australia; Consul General Nakamura from Japan; as well as all the other members of the Consul Corps.

Representative Blair then presented First Lady, Mrs. Jean Ariyoshi with a red carnation lei.

The Speaker then appointed Senators Cobb, Young, Kuroda and Henderson, and Representatives Segawa, Stanley, Marumoto and Rohlfing to escort the Honorable George R. Ariyoshi, Governor of the State of Hawaii, to the rostrum.

Representatives Chun, Hashimoto, Hayes, Hirono, Ikeda, Isbell, Kim, Kiyabu-Saballa, Marumoto, Stanley and Wong presented Governor

Ariyoshi with ilima leis.

The Speaker presented to the members of the Twelfth Legislature, the Honorable George R. Ariyoshi.

The Governor addressed the Joint Session as follows:

"Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Members of the Legislature, Distinguished Guests and Friends:

"Your new legislative session convenes in a momentous year. The world is deeply troubled by conflict and rumors of conflict. Nuclear war and its effects are discussed openly and widely feared. Millions continue to be afflicted by hunger and social distress. The year 1984 sees George Orwell's prophetic book, "1984," near the top of best-seller lists. That chilling novel tells how totalitarianism can enslave peoples. And all the while, anxiety over the world's economy continues in spite of the hope that one of our greatest recessions is passing.

"In the midst of all this gloom, Hawaii shines forth as a place of beauty, peace and progress. In this year 1984, we celebrate with profound joy and gratitude our Silver Jubilee of Statehood. The youngest State of the United States will soon be 25 years old. As the world around us worries, we count our blessings, while ever conscious of our responsibility to be a bright, positive, American influence in the vast Pacific region.

"My first thought, then in this auspicious Silver Jubilee year, is to thank Divine Providence for our blessings; to recall with appreciation the work of all who went before us to give us this greatest of civic privileges; and to take stock with you on our progress, our problems, our programs and our opportunities.

"I have appeared at this rostrum many times. Never before have I been so proud of Hawaii's people and of our political, cultural and social systems. Ours is a constructive community. Our proudest accomplishment is democracy at work among all of our people. We are our great Nation's light in the Pacific - a model for ethnic harmony; for prudent use of our resources; and for reaching out, as our State Constitution says, ". . . with an understanding and compassionate heart towards all the peoples of the earth."

"It is with these thoughts in mind that I come before you, as a partner with you in the work of managing Hawaii's precious resources for the welfare of all of our people. If Hawaii is to continue prosperous and sound, we must work in harmony, pooling our wisdom and talents.

"I will present to you this morning what I believe are some of the most important matters facing us today. I will take up our fiscal situation, our educational system, our economic development, and the concept of our Pacific Outreach. I will touch on our fresh water situation, and on important social issues. There is much to be done as we move into this Silver Jubilee year, but I am sure you join with me in working with confidence and hope.

"In looking at our current State revenue picture, we find that Hawaii is in sound financial condition. Last year, I spoke of a projected deficit as of June 1985 . . . a deficit that was a possibility if prudent steps were not taken. But you did take prudent steps in the Legislature's last session to address this problem. And our Administration complemented that effort by instituting timely restrictions on spending. Our combined foresight and action are why we are in better shape today than we might have been.

"But our ability to remain on a sound financial path depends on our willingness to recognize that we simply cannot provide all the programs and all the services our people may desire, however meritorious. There are limits to the financial resources we can realistically and justifiably seek from our people in taxes. Just as individuals and families must live with income limitations, so too must our State live within its resources.

"With this as a preface, let me turn to an important financial problem that must be resolved. There are many thousands of State and County government workers in Hawaii. You and I individually know many hundreds of these fine employees. We work with them daily. We recognize their positive attitudes, and the innumerable contributions they make to the lives of all in Hawaii. These are the talented people who make up the machinery of our State government work. They are the ones that make it work!

"We have been trying but have not yet been able to achieve contracts with their union representatives. Our differences are not centered around whether the public employees deserve or need an increase, but rather around our ability to fund any increase.

"There are honest differences over the number of dollars or other resources available to government. We must continue our efforts to determine what is, in fact available.

"Within the resources available to us, we will be flexible and accommodate our public employees. But let me state emphatically that I will not support any tax increase to fund any agreement. There should be no misunderstanding of my resolve on this point.

"Recently, some have advocated that arbitration be used as a means of resolving these contract negotiation disputes. It is a proposal I do not endorse. While arbitration can have a place in settling disputes that arise under a labor contract, disputes over the contracts themselves are a different matter.

"These controversies involve huge sums of public funds. They have long-term impacts on the financial condition of the government. Arbitration removes decision-making authority from the hands of those elected by the public to represent them and to make such decisions. It means the placing of that authority in the hands of one or two individuals who, beyond making one decision on how government money should be spent, has no responsibility or accountability to the citizens of our State.

"As the elected Governor of Hawaii, I do have that responsibility, and I cannot shirk it. The decisions to be made are clearly major public decisions, and must remain the duty of those elected to make those decisions.

"More than any other area of government activity, our public educational system has had a tremendous impact on the shaping of Hawaii. Education has been the great door to opportunity, the path to equality, to a deeper understanding of our common humanity and its dignity, and to social harmony.

"Understandably, therefore, education has been the government activity receiving most of our resources. Our 1983 bill for education was over $600 million. The next highest cost was our bill for social services, which stands at $350 million.

"At one time it was relatively easy to address the needs of our public school system. We simply added dollars to the budget of the Department of Education. But it's no longer possible to do that. The dollars -- coming from our citizens either directly or through Federal funding -- are not as plentiful as they once were.

"Consider these figures:

"In 1963, Hawaii spent $59 million to educate 157,000 students.

"In 1983 -- just 20 years later -- Hawaii spent $420 million to educate 160,000 students.

"That's an increase of $361 million for an increase of only 3,000 students. Even allowing for inflation, this can only be described as a remarkable increase in money spent per student.

"Yet some months ago, when I proposed a trimming of the school budget, one quick response was to do it by shortening the school year. That didn't seem an appropriate solution to me. It would seem that classroom time would be one of the last things to cut, not one of the first.

"The close classroom link between a student and a good teacher is the very heart of successful education. I often recall the kindnesses -- and strictness -- of one of my intermediate school teachers, Mrs. Hamada. She took extra time with me, and helped me clear up a speech impediment. It changed my whole life.

"If we want to keep opportunities for a rich and rewarding classroom experience, let us step back and carefully take a long, hard look at what we are really doing in education. Let us ask ourselves if we are doing our job well.

"Let us systematically reassess our entire educational efforts. Let us identify every function -- everything we do, in every school, every district office, and in the central office of the Department of Education. Let us then determine whether each function is necessary. The question is very simple: "Does this function contribute to the quality education of our children?"

"For functions about which the answer is not clearly "yes", let us determine whether such functions are really necessary. If not, let us reallocate the resources elsewhere.

"Perhaps it is time also to provide a change for the educators closest to the classroom -- teachers and school administrators -- to have more involvement in the decisions that relate to teaching. When they are challenged to be more imaginative and effective, I know that they will rise to the challenge. But, if everything is prepared and frozen for them at the top, there is no room for imagination or flexibility down the line.

"Let me reiterate that Hawaii's public school system is basically sound. The structure of this state-wide centralized school system insures that equal educational opportunities will go to all our children. But we need to encourage a flexibility and a spirit that will allow teachers and children to build upon that foundation in their own way. Let us say to them:

"It is your school. Make the most of it and make it the best!"

"I am entirely confident that they will do just that.

"Abraham Lincoln once said that our children will sit where we now sit, and will decide the things we are deciding -- and it will happen faster than you think. And he was right. We must properly prepare them for the future that will soon be their own.

"While the details are different, the question I ask today about our University of Hawaii have the same intent. Our citizens quite appropriately invested nearly $200 million in the University this past year. Is the University so structured and operated that our society is getting the greatest benefits from that expenditure? I don't mean to oversimplify what is clearly a complex problem, but I do mean to ask that question.

"Our University has done much for us over the years. It has been a powerful tool for the progress of Hawaii. The University of Hawaii has added quality to our community; it has contributed to and reflected the spirit of this community. It has also served as a center of research, responding to the needs of our Pacific region and the world. Perhaps it can even be seen as Hawaii's main contribution to making our world a better place. And those University achievements have been in many fields . . . in astronomy . . . in the liberal arts and humanities . . . medical and health fields . . . in marine and ocean sciences . . . in geophysics-

 . . . in engineering . . . in Asian/- Pacific studies . . . in language and linguistics . . . and, perhaps most spectacularly, in alternate energy research, amongst many others. Yes, the University of Hawaii has been a unique barometer of the progressive spirit of our islands.

"For many years, the University could look forward to continuing growth in size and resources. For many years, the University aimed to excel in all areas of scholarship. But today, those who are at the heart of the University's planning and teaching should decide in which specific areas we most need to excel. Let us use a familiar but useful rule -- the establishment of priorities -- to help in determining how our limited resources can be best used.

"Related to this idea of giving specific priorities to the University's academic programs is the effort of the University to reexamine its administrative structure, to see if more effective and efficient ways of doing things can be developed, and I support that effort. On the broader administrative issue of how the University will relate to the other agencies of our State government, I pledge to work with the University to make those relationships simpler, faster, and more responsive, and we already have a group to do this.
 And we need accountability in this process as well as action.

"All this reassessment and tightening will not be easy. But I believe that in the long run, they are the right things to do.

"Let me turn now to the business environment of Hawaii and our economic future.

"The philosophy under which this Administration operated can be stated very simply -- even though the matters it deals with are complex.

"First: we know it is the private sector alone that creates the money that sustains the government of Hawaii.

"Second: we believe that governmental planning should not be a negative regulatory function, but should be a positive, constructive one by which worthy goals can actually be achieved.

"Third: we believe that our planning and economic development must continue to be linked and move ahead together. Why? Because our resources are limited and we cannot afford to waste them. Because our society is complex, and guesswork about the future cannot be tolerated.

 Because in this small and fragile place, we cannot risk economic or environmental disasters. And finally, because if we plan well, we shall not have to respond endlessly to crises.
 We shall get things done today -- and at the same time leave open the constructive options that will take us on to tomorrow.

"If our State planning is to be credible, it must produce results.
 And we have had some good results to date. Let me just list a few:

". . . Over the past decade, more than 80,000 new jobs have been created in Hawaii. We can look at those new jobs as having helped Hawaii maintain one of the lowest rates of unemployment in the Nation during the recent recession -- even though our population growth has been greater than the national average.

". . . Our tourism industry has remained relatively strong during this difficult recessionary period.

". . . To help small businesses, we have assisted in funding the Small Business Center, and have started a program to combat unfair and deceptive trade practices. We have made almost 200 loans, totalling more than $20 million, to small, labor-intensive Hawaii businesses.

". . . Almost a thousand acres in agricultural parks have been developed since 1975. And this progress will continue if this Legislature will agree to appropriate $5.3 million this year for our continuing agricultural parks improvement program.

". . . Acreage in the developing industry of aquaculture doubled in the years between 1976 and 1980, in part due to the investment of almost $3 million by the State. Just this past Friday, I took part in a ground breaking for a very high technology aquaculture project, the largest intensive culture salt water shrimp plant in the world. Ground was just broken on Friday.

". . . We have had great success in our efforts to promote our "Made-In-Hawaii" products -- our garments, processed foods, and manufactured goods.

". . . We have been at work revitalizing our commercial fishing -- not only with berthing and harbor and support facilities, but also with almost $5 million in State loans for fishing boats, large and small.

". . . To simplify the permit process, a new permit information center has been established. To assist filmmakers and television producers, we now have a streamlined permit process.

"And perhaps no urban renewal will be more visible than the Aloha Tower Complex when this re-development work gets under way. The developer has been chosen, detailed negotiations are under way, and if they work out, ground will be broken before the end of 1984.

"There are many other activities currently in various development stages which will also contribute, as they come to fruition, to a stronger economy and a stronger Hawaii.

"Eight days from now, a conference will be held in Honolulu to bring together an international group of experts in computers, telecommunications, transportation, and energy to discuss the concept of videotex applications to transportation and energy conservation.

"I will be sending to you a proposal to allow our Hawaii Community Development Authority to issue improvement district bonds to help that agency proceed in the redevelopment of the Kakaako area. This area is vital to the development of a more beautiful and useful central Honolulu.

"There has been a great deal of interest in the work of the Tax Review Commission. It has been my impression that our tax structure, basically geared to the realities of the 1950's, must be reviewed in the realities of the 1980's. The review, when it is presented to you next year, will provide very valuable guidance. I am hopeful that we will not make major changes in our tax laws before that review is completed.

"Our highly-successful Foreign-Trade Zone -- one of the finest facilities of its kind -- has finished its move to more spacious new quarters at Honolulu's Pier 2. With its warehousing and manufacturing capacities expanded, it will continue to make a real contribution to our economy and Pacific outreach.

"The total amount spent by all our State government agencies in the past two years on activities linked to economic development was $76 million. That is proof of our strong commitment, yours and mine, to the success of business in Hawaii. And it will continue. Though our State is small and limited in resources, and at a great distance from overseas markets, we have accepted the challenge of continuing to make Hawaii's economy substantial and successful.

"The 1983 Legislature took a significant step when it appropriated $100,000 to establish a High Technology Development Corporation.

"This new organization will help high technology firms to find sites for industrial parks in our islands. It will help with financing, issuing bonds to raise development money. It will support the establishment and growth of high tech industries here.

"But let me make clear, that while we are indeed interested in microelectronics and silicon chips, our use of the phrase "high tech" carries a broader meaning. Perhaps the phrase "Pacific High Tech" will come into use, for we want to develop technology that is suited to these islands and these times and this Pacific Ocean. Thus, subject areas such as OTEC, biotechnology, ocean mining, ocean robotics and research, agriculture and aquaculture research and development, renewable energy, and telecommunications -- all these and more will fall under the banner of Pacific High Tech.

"Our Legislature in 1983 also made an appropriation that helped set up the Pacific International Center for High Technology Research, currently affiliated with our University of Hawaii. The Center will bring together Pacific nations' expertise, not only in research, but in designing the programs of the Center itself.

"To be of real assistance to this new and important organization, I have submitted a request in our Administration's supplemental budget to provide additional funding for the University's organized research program, with a portion to be used by the Center for its programs.

"To help our University support some of its other research activities, I will also be sending a proposal to you shortly which would allow the University of Hawaii to retain 30 percent of the overhead funds generated by its research activities and deposit them in the University of Hawaii Research and Training Revolving Fund. In dollar terms, this change will mean a doubling of the current fund level of $1 million to $2 million in a year.

"This increased level will result in long-term tangible and intangible benefits to the State. It will augment the acquisition and maintenance of research and training equipment. It will improve both academic programs and technology. And it will provide seed money for an expanded flow of research funds in the future. It is an important and potentially fruitful investment, and I hope you will look upon it favorably.

"The new high technology organizations that we attract to Hawaii will be pivotal to an important movement now under way -- one which is going to continue for a long time into the future. I refer to our "Pacific Outreach."

"We are an American State at the midpoint of the broad, world trade area called the Pacific Basin. We are the only American State moving so quickly towards energy self-sufficiency, using renewable resources. We are the only American State with so international an ethnic and cultural mix. We are unique in many ways.

"As we add our vision of the future to our history, our location, and our economic strength, we can see Hawaii continuing on the way to becoming a leader in the Pacific. We have much to offer -- in education, information, research and technical facilities, investment opportunities, and in our compassionate and respectful understanding of the varied peoples of this vast region. We are ourselves a Pacific people. We understand the Pacific way. And the Pacific is, without a doubt, the ocean of the future.

"I spoke last year in my State-of-the-State Address of our search for "The Best Hawaii." Today we can broaden that concept in a practical, ongoing way. Let us keep searching, together, business and labor and government and private citizens, for ways to make it "The Best Pacific." Let our accomplishments in Hawaii further brighten the light of the dawning of this Pacific era.

"Whether we are dealing on an ocean-wide level or on a local level, our State government must plan, and program, and budget. So I ask you to consider once again the matter of our 12 State Functional Plans as among our best tools in our vital and continuing planning process.

"I strongly urge you to adopt the 12 Plans in this Silver Jubilee year. Our State Plan Policy Council has been reviewing them and has had significant input from the community -- from hundreds of individuals and organizations, in both the public and the private sectors. Let me reiterate that these refined functional plans are guidelines, not mandates, to help us toward our preferred future. We can have confidence in them. They will allow us to change with the changes we cannot control, and to plan the changes that we can control.

"Turning now to something that is not in the future, but is of immediate concern today, let me review our fresh water problems. I want our people to know what we are doing about them.

"Last month, I instructed our Department of Land and Natural Resources to drill new wells about two miles above the existing Mililani wells here on Oahu. If these new sinkings are successful, they will produce about four and a half million gallons of drinking water per day for the residents of Mililani Town.

"We are working, with an equally high priority, to find ways to purge water supplies in wells already contaminated. The purging of closed wells must be a part of the overall approach to this problem. In the meantime, we will not ask anybody in our State to drink unsafe water. At the same time, we will try to determine more precisely what the level of danger really is whenever we deal with suspect water supplies.

"While we talk about some contaminated water in certain areas, let us remember that nearly all the water that comes out of Hawaii's faucets and drinking fountains is still the cleanest, purest, and best-tasting in the world. If there are any who question that, I urge them to ask about the water in a number of other places around the globe.

"I am asking this Legislature for funds to look into the potential value of developing a desalinization plant. With our population now at a million, it may well be that purifying salt water or brackish water for agriculture and other appropriate purposes is the best policy for the future. There may come a time when the great aquifers that have served us so well for so many years will no longer be enough.

"In this as in other matters, we continue to look ahead and to stay ahead of the needs that develop. Certainly nothing is more vital to Hawaii's future than abundant supplies of pure water.

"Let me turn now to what are sometimes called the "social issues."

"We are maintaining our welfare support programs, but we are working these days with very limited resources, and with Federal programs which have had significant cutbacks. We have had to tighten our review procedures so that our neighbors who most need help do indeed get that help.

"Of the roughly $350 million we spend each year for social services, $197 million, or more than half, goes for medical help. Even so, it is not enough. But when faced with the stern reality of less money available for these services, there is simply nothing we can do but work out cost-containment programs and deal with problems of over-utilization.

"There are some situations in public service when your heart cries out to you to do one thing, but your head tells you that you can't, and it is just not possible to follow your heart when your hands have nothing to give. This is reality.

"In another area, we have proposed that our mandatory retirement laws -- in both the public and private sectors -- be abolished. This would permit those who want to continue working in their older years to do so, and thus retain a larger measure of activity and a greater number of options.

"I am pleased to report that this past year has been a good one for our HULA MAE housing program. The State sold $141 million worth of tax-exempt, single-family-residence HULA MAE revenue bonds in 1983.

"These bond sales made possible a mortgage interest rate to eligible borrowers of as low as 10.5 percent, at a fixed rate for 30 years. Up to 1,200 first-time home buyers may still benefit from these bonds, which would bring the total number of families buying homes through the HULA MAE program to over 3,800.

"I will be sending you a proposal to authorize the sale of another $400 million of HULA MAE bonds to continue this valuable and practical program -- provided Congress acts again this year to allow the sale of these mortgage bonds.

"No relationship in our community is more important to the general well-being than our relationship with our citizens of Hawaiian ancestry, whose forebears in ancient days discovered these Islands and developed a remarkable society long before European explorers found them here.

"This is a complex relationship. It includes dealing with the hard facts of daily life that we all must face. And it includes reverence for the symbols of tradition and continuity that are important to any society challenged by time's changes.

"We have seen progress in this area in the detailed review of the Hawaiian Homes Commission Act, and its modifications that should mean greater fairness and flexibility. I will be sending down to you for your consideration a Resolution regarding permitting multi-family dwellings on Hawaiian Homes Lands residential lots. Another proposal will provide for a leasing program under which native Hawaiian homesteaders will have the option of using their leasehold interest as collateral to obtain conventional financing, in order to go ahead and build their homes and develop their farms. I hope you will be able to act on these proposals as quickly as good judgement permits. They are good for all of us.

"Consider the progress made in recent years:

". . . We see that since 1975, more than 1,500 homes have been built for Hawaiian homesteaders. This is as many as in the entire history of the Hawaiian Homestead program prior to 1975.

". . . We see that the Native Hawaiian Development Office has been created and placed in the Department of Hawaiian Homes Lands.

". . . We see that important historical sites -- Iolani Palace, Kamao Point, Hulihee Palace, Lapakahi -- sites sacred in Hawaiian history -- have had significant preservation work done on them. It is fitting and proper that we all keep alive the memory and meaning of such sites.

"But constructive and useful as these achievement may be, there is a larger issue at stake here. It is the matter of not just how we perceive each other, but how we treat each other. Adlai Stevenson once said that how we treat each other is just as important as what we get done.

"Historically, the Hawaiian people have faced enormous misfortunes. In setting about to rectify old injustices, we can and should rely on government for some things, but we must also rely on our own people for others. For no government can reach inside a human heart to force that heart to change.

"And while we seek to rectify old injustices, we must remember also that we have today to deal with, along with the sad echoes of the past. As memories of injustice have remained for a century after the fact, we must find new ways to fairness for all.

"Let me say to you as we consider these delicate matters that I myself am no stranger to the emotions involved. When I was a student at McKinley High School, air and naval forces of the then-Empire of Japan struck a dramatic and destructive blow at Pearl Harbor. In Hawaii, Americans of Japanese ancestry were roughly and unjustly thrust aside by the power structure during those terrible events of World War II.

"Our family was ordered by the military to move out of our house in Chinatown near the waterfront, into Manoa Valley. We were not considered reliable enough to be in a waterfront area. I felt a keen sense of injustice.

"And I have not forgotten those days. In retrospect, the experience was something of a gift -- it made me conscious of the need to be very careful whenever important decisions had to be made about human well-being, and in areas of ethnic and social justice.

"With this personal background, I supported the 1979 change in our State Constitution that established the Office of Hawaiian Affairs, or OHA. In recent months there has been considerable controversy about our Administration's attitude toward OHA.

"I have never questioned whether OHA should have a place in State government. Of course it should! And millions of dollars have been provided because we agree, you and I, that OHA should be so placed.

"But the problem has been to work out OHA's relationship, in a legal and practical way, with various other agencies of the State government.

Because of its unique nature, the role of OHA has been more difficult to define than the roles of other, more conventional departments -- the Department of Health, for example.

"This work -- to find, define and refine OHA's role -- should take place through rational discussion, and in some instances, through legislation. These processes allow for the consideration and accommodation of the needs of both the community at large and individuals and organizations within it.

"I want OHA to be a vital support for the Hawaiian people. But even as it is helping to rectify an unhappy past, I would not want to see this vital influence turned toward diminishing the quality of the future we all should contribute to.

"The simple fact we must all remember in this relatively isolated place is that the State of Hawaii and all the people of Hawaii, is bigger than any of us. Our total community here in the middle of the North Pacific Ocean is bigger than any of its components -- bigger than any individual, any church, any ethnic or labor group, or any organization at all. We have made our social advances because we have understood this underlying truth. We have seen it to be true, and because it is true, we have accepted it. And the final result has been a beautiful melding called, often over-dramatically, the Aloha Spirit.

"My friends, the Aloha Spirit is real. And whether we are passing laws in our Legislature or simply passing each other on the street, if we lost the Aloha Spirit, we lose it at our own peril.

"Let me illustrate . . .

"In Honolulu recently, the noted writer James Michener spoke of the reason he chose the Honolulu Academy of Arts to house his outstanding collection of Japanese prints. He spoke of his initial intention to make the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York the repository of his collection. But, he told a newspaper reporter, while attempting to visit the Museum, an aggressive New York policeman argues with Michener about parking his car. The arguing continued. Eventually he left without finishing his task of leaving his art at the Metropolitan.

"Later, on a visit to Honolulu, Michener decided to visit the Honolulu Academy of Arts. He asked directions of a Honolulu policeman. And Michener said:

"(The policeman) was so kind that he walked three blocks out of his way to point the Academy out to me. I thought the difference between these two attitudes was so great that I can say honestly that these prints are in Hawaii because of the difference in attitudes of two policemen."

"How many of us here today know of similar stories. The Aloha Spirit is real.

Let me conclude with a quotation from an autobiographical sketch by that same James Michener. Mr. Michener was in Hawaii recently and his wife, Mari, is with us this morning. Michener's family had moved from New York to Doylestown, Pennsylvania, when he was 10 years old. And in remembering those years, he later wrote this:

"When I was a little boy in that small Pennsylvania town, a remarkable road ran past my door.

"To the East, it went a quarter of a mile and stopped dead.

"But to the West, it appeared to be limitless. In my mind's eye, I could see it going all the way to the Pacific and from there on across the ocean to Asia -- and eventually to the world.

"Even as a child, I understood its two directions and its two meanings -- limited and unlimited. And I thought how sad it would be for a human being to devote his life to the exploration of the eastern portion, which could be exhausted in an afternoon -- and how commendable to turn westward, and thus enter upon a road and a complexity of roads that would lead to the very ends of the earth. I chose the western road."

"My friends, we in Hawaii live on that unlimited western road. For all of us, there is something blessed about being here in the Aloha State.

"In this our Statehood Silver Jubilee year -- and in all our year ahead -- let us make the most of it, with all our heart and mind and strength and talents.

"Aloha and Mahalo."

Senate President Richard Wong then rose and stated:

"Thank you very much, Governor, for sharing with us some of your thoughts. I think all of us here admit that we have some very serious issues confronting us this legislative session. And we look forward to working with your administration in addressing these issues.

"I think that it is your's and mine, and everyone's, here in the building, fervent hope that this year, the silver anniversary of our statehood, will be a year of renewed commitment and progress for the benefit of all the people of Hawaii.

"If there be no objections, I hereby declare this Joint Session of the Twelfth Legislature adjourned.

INTRODUCTION OF RESOLUTIONS

A resolution (H.R. No. 16) extending congratulations to Dr. Loren Cunningham, President of Youth With a Mission, Captain Benjamin Applegate, and the crew of the international mercy ship M/V Anastasis was jointly offered by Representatives Jones, Isbell, Chun, Dang, Hagino, Hashimoto, Hayes, Hirono, Honda, Kawakami, Kihano, Kim, Kiyabu-Saballa, Leong, Levin, Menor, Nakata, Shito, Stanley, Tam, Taniguchi and Wong and was read by the Clerk.

On motion by Representative Jones, seconded by Representative Isbell and carried, H.R. No. 16 was adopted.

Representative Jones then rose and stated:

"Mr. Speaker, thank you and the House for passing this resolution. It is a real privilege for me this morning to introduce Dr. Cunningham and Captain Applegate. I want to take just a few minutes to describe the nature of their work to the Body here and also to acknowledge where they're coming from.

This Youth With a Mission was founded more than twenty years ago, in 1960, and has now grown to be one of the largest Christian organizations in the world. They have 19,000 full-time and part-time workers in 90 percent of the countries of the world. They are involved in training, spiritual comfort and also mercy. The real attractive thing about this organization, to me, is that they do tremendous human services for very inexpensive costs. The whole ship is volunteer. Nobody is paid to work on that ship. The average worker in Youth With a Mission in Kona makes $150 to $200 a month. They work for love and they work for very, very low wages for which they are supported from, not by the organization, but by their own homes, church and their families. This is a great organization doing a great service and if you think of the phenomenal human service needs we have in this State and around the world, I think we can be proud of the many voluntary organizations like Youth With a Mission and the great work that they are doing.

Dr. Cunningham is a graduate of USC. His loving wife, Darlene, is here with us today. They have two children -- a boy and a girl, ages 13 and 15.

Captain Benjamin Applegate has been a ship master for thirty years. He left his work doing that and is now the captain of the ship and has been for three years and going to fourteen countries. He has a crew of 190 people and he is a citizen of New Zealand.

These men should be commended for the great work that they are doing."

Representative Jones then presented Dr. Loren Cunningham and Captain Benjamin Applegate to the members of the House and audience.

Representative Isbell added:

"Their real headquarters is in Kona on the Big Island of Hawaii, so I want to be sure that everyone knows that Youth With a Mission chose the very best place in the world to be. So, I congratulate you for your good choice."

Representative Medeiros then rose and stated:

"Mr. Speaker, I, too, am very proud of this organization. My daughter has been with the Youth With a Mission for the last eight years serving in Brazil. My son-in-law is the Director of the Youth With a Mission in Brazil and they are doing one super job there. We visited them last year and we are very proud to have my daughter involved with this organization."

Representative Isbell then presented Dr. Cunningham and Captain Applegate with carnation leis while Representative Jones presented them with the certificates.

At 11:45 o'clock a.m., the Chair declared a recess, subject to the call of the Chair, "for the purpose of extending our personal aloha and gratitude to our honorees this morning."

Upon reconvening at 11:50 o'clock a.m., the Chair directed the Clerk to note the presence of Representatives Albano, Graulty, Hayes, Hee, Hirono, Honda, Kim, Lardizabal, Levin, Medeiros, Morgado, Nakasato, Nakata, Stanley, Taniguchi, Tungpalan and Wong.

By unanimous consent, the following resolutions (H.R. Nos. 17 to 19) and concurrent resolution (H.C.R. No. 5) were referred to the Committee on Legislative Management and further action was deferred:

A resolution (H.R. No. 17) urging Congress to investigate tax provisions relating to tips received by food and beverage service workers was offered by Representative Shito.

A resolution (H.R. No. 18) requesting a study on the types of and reasons for the educational deficiencies of criminals in Hawaii was jointly offered by Representatives Bunda, Albano, Apo, Baker, Chun, Kihano, Leong, Matsuura, Nakata, Say, Shito, Souki and Taniguchi.

A resolution (H.R. No. 19) requesting a study on the concept of shifting reliance in existing State loan programs from direct loans by the State to the guarantee of loans made by private lenders was jointly offered by Representatives Bunda, Albano, Apo, Baker, Blair, Crozier, Hayes, Honda, Kihano, Lardizabal, Leong, Menor, Morgado, Okamura, Say, Souki, Taniguchi, Tom and Wong.

SUSPENSION OF RULES

On motion by Representative Segawa, seconded by Representative Marumoto and carried, the rules were suspended for the purpose of considering certain certificates of recognition out of order.

CERTIFICATES OF RECOGNITION

The following certificates of recognition were read by the Clerk and were disposed of as follows:

A certificate of recognition commending Wesley H. Hillendahl for his contribution and public service to the people of Hawaii was offered by Representative Hashimoto.

Representative Kiyabu rose and stated:

"The certificate of recognition speaks for itself but I'd like to make some small remarks.

"Especially, we want to thank Mr. Hillendahl for his community service and working on the very difficult Council of Revenues.

"I guess most people don't believe that economists that come before our Committee have differences of opinion, but we have selected to use the Council of Revenues projections and he has made our work simpler, sometimes more difficult, but we do want to thank him for this difficult task."

At this time, Representative Kiyabu introduced Mr. Wesley H. Hillendahl to the members of the House. He also introduced Mrs. Hillendahl who was seated in the gallery.

Representative Hashimoto then presented Mr. Hillendahl with a lei and Representative Kiyabu presented the certificate of recognition.

A certificate of recognition commending Mr. Dodge Chu, Vice President of Pacific Operations for Wang Laboratories, Incorporated was offered by Representative Hagino.

Representative Hagino rose and stated:

"Several weeks ago, Representatives Apo, Say and I visited the regional headquarters of Wang Laboratories here in Hawaii. We were given a short tour by Mr. Ed Yang, who unfortunately is traveling and could not be with us today and we were very impressed with the operations of Wang Laboratories here. They have over 100 employees and it is truly a regional headquarters for Wang Multi-National Corporation.

"One of the reasons it's one of the few multi-nationals that has a regional presence here in Hawaii is due to the honoree that we have here on the floor. He has given his time, not only to his business but also to public service. As noted he has served as a valuable member of the Governor's Advisory Committee for Hawaii as a regional center. He is one of the prime movers of Wang Laboratories having this kind of presence here in Hawaii. Also, he is a prime mover in a gift from Wang to the University of Hawaii of a very advanced computer that is currently being used by the University and housed in the Department of Urban Planning. Being computer illiterate, I can only refer to it as the 'million dollar computer'. It's a tremendous gift, and we're very fortunate to honor the person who has made this possible."

At this time, Representative Hagino introduced Mr. Dodge Chu to the members of the House. Representative Hagino then introduced Mr. Fujio Matsuda, President of the University of Hawaii, who accompanied Mr. Chu.

Representative Wong then presented a lei to the honoree and Representative Kiyabu-Saballa presented a lei to Mr. Matsuda. Representative Apo presented the honoree with the certificate of recognition.

Representative Apo then rose and stated:

"I'd like to take advantage of this opportunity to call to the House's attention the fact that in our discussions and in the State's efforts to encourage a high-tech industry in Hawaii, call attention to the fact that we already have companies here and the emphasis in the discussions that I've participated in has always been a concern on how we would attract industries that are now located in the mainland and elsewhere, in other places. I just wanted to reinforce my desire to see us provide more incentive to local companies to expand their businesses and operations. Thank you."

Representative Hagino then introduced Dr. Priscilla Ching, Acting Director for University Relations; Mrs. Pam Ishimoto, Director of Foreign Alumni at the University of Hawaii; Mr. Don Nixon, District Manager of Wang Laboratories; and Mr. Milton Moriyama, Branch Manager of Wang Laboratories, who were seated in the gallery. Representative Hagino also introduced Mr. Michael Ching, State of Hawaii Account Executive with Wang Laboratories who was in the lobby.

At 11:53 o'clock a.m., the Chair declared a recess for the purpose of extending the Aloha of the members of the House to the honorees, subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 11:59 o'clock a.m.

SUSPENSION OF RULES

On motion by Representative Segawa, seconded by Representative Marumoto and carried, the rules were suspended for the purpose of considering a Certificate of Recognition.

CERTIFICATE OF RECOGNITION

A Certificate of Recognition honoring Mary G.F. Bitterman was offered by Representative Lardizabal.

Representative Lardizabal then rose and stated:

"Mr. Speaker, it is always a great pleasure to acknowledge special people and their accomplishments in the community, particularly when they are young and attractive women. You know, when you look up in the sky and see shooting stars, well, we have such a person in our presence today -- a shooting star.

In 1971, she was a Research Associate at the University of Hawaii; she moved further up to become a project manager at the University of Hawaii and moved further up to become Executive Director and General Manager of the Public Broadcasting Authority, and became a Director for the Voice of America, and most recently, she was Director of the Department of Commerce, and now, she is another Director at the East-West Center. I wonder, Mr. Speaker, if she wouldn't be a very good candidate as a female President of the University of Hawaii."

Representative Lardizabal then presented Dr. Mary G.F. Bitterman to the members of the House and audience.

Representative Kihano then presented the honoree with a red carnation lei while Representative Shito presented her with the Certificate of Recognition.

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to speak in favor of this resolution. I do want to make just a very short note on it.

The resolution contains the signatures of, I believe, probably all of the Majority members of this House and is, I guess, part of the program of the Majority. Having been a member of the interim committee on the Land Reform Act in 1967 and having worked prior to that for many years to accomplish land reform to assist leaseholders in this State, I feel a personal commitment to the program contained in the Land Reform Act and the effort now to overturn the decision of the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals. Therefore, I am personally very strongly in support of this resolution and the purpose for which it is intended, and believe that it is this State's right to set forth its policies as they affect the public interest and that they should be upheld by the courts unless there is an overriding consideration of individual merit.

Under the circumstances, the history of the Land Reform Act in this State, the documentation over the years, in my opinion, there is substantial ground for our actions in the 1960's and, subsequently, to reform that law to make it workable, practicable and in the best interest of all the people of this State. I believe that there are, along on this side of the aisle, others who would concur with this position and would like to support the idea and the proposal to support our legal counsel in their arguments before the Supreme Court of the United States to reaffirm the policy contained in the laws of this State adopted in the 1960's and who would join in this proposal before this body at this time -- House Resolution 49.

So, from that point of view, Mr. Speaker, I want to make it clear that from at least my personal standpoint, I feel that this is a bi-partisan resolution and it should reflect not just the signatures on the resolution, but the entire support of this House except for anybody who wants to indicate a negative vote.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

On motion by Representative Hirono, seconded by Representative Stanley and carried, the joint report of the Committees was adopted and H.R. No. 49, entitled: "HOUSE RESOLUTION EXPRESSING CONTINUED SUPPORT OF THE GOALS AND OBJECTIVES EMBODIED IN THE HAWAII LAND REFORM ACT", was adopted, with Representative Tungpalan voting no.

"Mr. Speaker and members of this House, I am delighted this morning to say a few words about Kaipo Bailey, a native daughter whom we had the distinct pleasure of knowing in our short trip to Washington this recent Fall. Because Representative Crozier is the author of the resolution, I had to take the liberty of digging deeper into Kaipo so, with your indulgence, I would like to say a little bit about her on the personal side and perhaps a little about the professional side which we met her.

Kaipo was born in Japan and moved to Haleiwa at age 3 months. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mahina Bailey, who is a graduate of Kamehameha, and has a sister, Kaua Bailey, also a graduate of Kamehameha. At about the age of 15, Kaipo moved with her family to the Eastern United States where she pursued her formal education, part of which took her to Europe, and it was her interest being an active person in helping people which eventually took Kaipo to Washington, D.C. where she worked for Vice President George Bush and, as a result, is currently on his staff as a lead researcher on domestic affairs for the Office of the Vice President.

Mr. Speaker, I know you joined the contingency who went to Washington and will agree that the success and the enjoyment of the House members was in part due to Kaipo and her kindness and courtesy to us, part of which was to take us through the working part of the White House as well as the Oval Office and other areas that are not accessible to the general public."

Representative Hee then asked Kaipo Bailey to stand and be recognized, saying, "Hopefully, she will return home to pursue some of her professional endeavors in Hawaii."

Representatives Morgado and Yoshimura then presented ilima leis to Kaipo while Representative Bunda presented her with the Certificate of Recognition.

At 11:56 o'clock a.m., the Chair declared a recess, subject to the call of the Chair, "for the purpose of extending our personal aloha to our honorees this morning."

"Speaker, it gives me great pleasure this morning to introduce to this body three distinguished guests.

The certificates have set forth the major accomplishments of Dr. Becklin and Mr. Shaya and the important contributions the Hawaii Institute for Astronomy is making to our students, our higher education system and the State of Hawaii.

If it is not already conventional wisdom, I think it's appropriate for me to mention that it is rapidly becoming accepted that the four major economic pillars of the evolving post-industrial society will be centered around the field of electronics and computers, the rich resources of our planet's oceans, genetic engineering, and the exploration of outer space. We are fortunate indeed to be among the world's leaders in the exploration of outer space and this leadership is due to the sort of outstanding accomplishments achieved by Dr. Becklin and Mr. Shaya. These men and the others who staff the Institute for Astronomy are the reason Hawaii has established a position of world leadership in the field of astronomy. I believe that we have demonstrated that we will do our part as a state to maintain and strengthen our leadership in the field.

Dr. Hall, this body wishes you every possible success in your new position and will you convey our utmost appreciation to others of your staff for their contributions to making the Hawaii Institute for Astronomy the outstanding organization it is today. Dr. Becklin and Mr. Shaya, we wish you many more years of fruitful production."
