Reverend Eishin Matsumoto delivered the invocation.

INTRODUCTION OF RESOLUTION

H.R. No. 2, electing the Honorable Calvin K. Y. Say, Representative from the Eighteenth District, and Marcus R.

Oshiro, Representative from the Fortieth District, as Speaker and Vice Speaker, respectively, of the House of Representatives of the Twentieth Legislature of the State of Hawai'i was jointly offered by Representatives Case and Marumoto, and was read by the Temporary Clerk.

On motion by Representative Case, seconded by Representative Marumoto and carried, H.R. No. 2 was adopted.

The Temporary Chair appointed Representatives Ed Case, Nestor R. Garcia, Marcus R. Oshiro, Alexander C. Santiago, Nobu Yonamine, Barbara Marumoto and David A. Pendleton to escort the newly elected Speaker to the rostrum.

The Temporary Chair stated:

"Members of the House of Representatives, ladies and gentlemen, I present the Honorable Calvin K.Y. Say, the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Twentieth Legislature," and presented the Speaker with the gavel.

The Speaker took the Chair and delivered his address, stating:

"Governor Cayetano, Lieutenant Governor Hirono, Chief Justice Moon, distinguished guests, family, and friends...

"Before I begin, let me introduce to you the Speaker and Finance Chair of my house, my wife Cora; and two of the most effective lobbyists that we have in the State of Hawai'i, our sons -- Geoffrey and Jared -- who are playing hooky from school today; my biggest fundraisers -- my parents Clara and Hugh Say, my Auntie Jane Nishimoto, and my brother-in-law and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. John and Karen Kotake.

"Today, the twentieth day of January, marks the beginning of the Twentieth Legislature and it will be the Twentieth Legislature that will mark the end of the Twentieth Century. The significance of this twenty--twenty--twenty is not lost upon me. Numbers are significant in the Chinese heritage and I see this as a symbol of renewal and hope.

"For I have a dream...a dream for Hawai'i's future.

"In America's south, a man, whose birthday the Nation just celebrated, had a dream to provide equal opportunity for black Americans -- in education, voting rights, and in every aspect of American life. Martin Luther King, Jr.'s dream of recognition and respect for all people of all colors has become a reality.

"Aung San Suu Kye of Burma, following the non-violent example of Gandhi, waged her silent fight for democracy and human rights for her people while under house arrest for six years. Her dream was recognized by the world and she was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize.

"Buzz Aldrin, a fighter pilot, who wanted to fly beyond our earthly boundaries. In 1969, his dream became a reality when he became one of the first two humans to set foot on the moon.

"I also have a dream. My dream may not be as grand or noble, or as earth shattering as these. My dream is simply to help Hawai'i become the kind of place that my sons and your children and your grandchildren will be proud to call home.

"Like most of you, I have often heard from constituents, press, and others how difficult it is to do business, earn a decent living, get a good education, and raise a family in Hawai'i.

"As a husband, I look at my wife, who works to help support our family, and I realize that in Hawai'i it takes two incomes for a family to survive. As a son, I worry about my aging parents. As a father of two growing boys, I wonder about their future prospects. And as a small businessman, I have concerns about keeping my business afloat in these difficult economic times.

"But as someone who was born and raised here, I have a lifelong commitment to Hawai'i. There is no place else in the world like Hawai'i. Sometimes, I think people forget that and just focus on the negative aspects and the problems facing us today.

"In Hawai'i, our quality of life can inspire all of us to work together, to share what we have with others, improving not only Hawai'i but the Nation through our unique identity and culture.

"Let us remember that Hawai'i has a very special quality that exists nowhere else in the world. It is our Aloha Spirit.

"It is this spirit that will guide me as I humbly accept the honor that you have bestowed upon me as your Speaker.

"I am deeply aware of the obligation and trust which you have placed upon me. When I look back over my 22 years in public service as a Representative, I see enormous changes in the House. When I was a freshman legislator back in 1977, my staff typed on IBM Selectric typewriters, using carbon and onion skin papers to make copies.

"A few years later we advanced to using the mag card. And you would not believe it members of the House, family and friends, I have two bill jackets from the 1981 and 1983 sessions that I would like to share with you, with the mag cards.

"Now everything is on computers. Hundreds of copies can be easily made and transmitted on machines or faxed to the four corners of this world!

"But it's not just technological changes. It is the visionary changes to the legislative process made by the previous Speakers that have improved the House as an institution. They provided such innovations as a Public Access Room for the general public to help citizens participate in the process, a code of ethics for all elected officials, and a gift disclosure law.

"But it was Speaker Emeritus Joe Souki who really opened up public access to the legislative process by:

"Providing for public broadcasts of hearings and sessions;

"Accommodating disabled individuals at the hearings;

"Providing more opportunities for public participation by formalizing public hearings on Saturdays and allowing for community-based meetings; and

"Allowing for all of us the Legislative Internet Project.

"Thank you, Speaker Souki. We have arrived at this openness because of leaders like you.

"With your wise counsel, I hope to continue improving the legislative process. I have learned a lot since my first term in office. When I first entered the House, my focus was on issues of specific concern to my constituency and me. And boy, I think the Governor would recognize too that I was pretty dogmatic about my position on issues.

"Today, I am much more philosophical about our work here in the Legislature. For this is the place where the ideas of Hawai'i are crafted, debated, and enacted. I recognize that it's our constituents who sent us to the Legislature, and we must represent them. But we are also the trustees of all the citizens of this State.

"Our commitment is to communicate with them about how we evaluate issues and arrive at our collective decisions. That means listening, educating ourselves, and sharing one's opinions. No matter how controversial or far-reaching an idea is, if we discuss it openly with everyone, we can transform our old way of thinking and develop new solutions.

"As we look forward to this session, we recognize our mandate from the public. Our mandate is change. But as Saul Alinsky noted, 'change means movement, movement means friction, friction means heat, and heat means controversy.'

"We are prepared for controversy because avoiding change is not an option. We will embrace change and lead it.

"Our primary focus for this Twentieth Legislature remains on long-term economic viability. Most everything else depends on it. Jobs, and our ability to provide for ourselves and families' needs, rely directly on a healthy economy.

"All that we collectively desire for this State -- a good education, a safe community, a clean environment -- is made possible through economic activity.

"We will plant the seeds for a fertile business climate because capital will not otherwise be attracted and invested in our State. Therefore, we will continue to focus on our work on these structural facets: taxation, regulation, and capital improvements.

"Hubert Humphrey once said that the 'moral test of government is how government treats those who are in the dawn of life, that's our children, those who are in the twilight of life, the elderly, and those who are in the shadows of life -- the sick, the needy, and the handicapped'. We will meet this test. We will not abdicate our social responsibilities.

"In carrying out this mandate, we must be cognizant that within our community there is skepticism, even suspicion, of our government processes. As Speaker, I assure you that this chamber's response will be openness, candor and accountability.

"I am concerned that the public is frustrated with government. Frustrated because they perceive that we lack the courage to deal with our problems.

"The challenge to all the members of the Legislature is: 'Be Bold. Be Innovative. Bring forth your new ideas for discussion.'

"Allow me to respond to my own challenge by suggesting a few ideas that have been simmering in my mind. Some of them are quite specific and designed to ignite discussions on long-pending concepts.

"First, biotechnology is estimated to be a $450 million business by the year 2000. Hawai'i has three niches in biotechnology in which we are very, very competitive: marine, medical, and tropical agriculture.

"We should take advantage of our resources and work that is already underway at the University of Hawai'i. We should develop a center to facilitate these efforts and serve as a focal point for our biotechnology industry.

"Specifically, I propose that a Biotech Park be developed in the makai area of Kakaako, with a public-private relationship.

"Second, there has been much discussion about public-private partnerships and we can point to numerous successful examples. What is lacking is a coordinated effort at developing such partnerships, especially in the area of infrastructure development. To this end, I propose a law which would authorize State agencies to enter into agreements with private entities to develop transportation and environmental infrastructure.

"For some time now, we have been aware of efforts to promote Hawai'i as the 'Health State.' There are numerous proposals circulating to develop wellness centers as a clean industry for Hawai'i. Perhaps it is time to get the specifics if we are going to do anything. I propose that we consider developing the Marks Estate in Nuuanu, just off Pali Highway, as a wellness center in conjunction with a private entity.

"The Housing and Community Development Corporation has developed a master plan to develop the site surrounding the Oahu Railway and Land Building, across from Aala Park in Downtown Honolulu. I propose that we kick-start this project by providing the necessary seed money to attract private partners and initiate low- and moderate- income housing development.

"Finally, with the recent opening of the Convention Center, the need exists to ensure that we have adequate quality hotel rooms to attract and accommodate conventioners. However, due to the City's development restrictions for Waikiki, there is virtually zero incentive for hotels to renovate their existing rooms. I believe the State can provide that incentive. And I propose that we consider offering a dollar-for-dollar tax credit for capital investments of $1 million or more which renovates or replaces existing hotel rooms and facilities. The credit will be applied to all State taxes due over a ten-year period.

"Yes, some of these ideas are potentially costly and controversial. However, they should not be tabled or dismissed for those reasons. In my humble opinion, these ideas represent the kind of bold and innovative thinking that our electorate expects from its leaders.

"It is important that we find the courage to deal with these issues.

"In doing so, we must elevate ourselves so that we are able to acknowledge the controversy of an issue, but still conduct the debate impersonally, in a climate of openness and mutual respect.

"As I stated in my opening, I accept the honor of being Speaker in the full understanding of the Aloha Spirit and what it means to all of us. It is the one unique quality that makes Hawai'i so unlike anywhere else in the world.

"It is at once real and unreal - it cannot be touched but it can certainly be felt. It is a precious gift from the Hawai'ian people to all of us.

"To me, part of my duties as Speaker is to be a guardian of the true Aloha Spirit and to quietly share it with everyone I embrace, just as the late kupuna Pilahi Pahi shared it with me.

"Leaders before me have recognized its special quality also. Leaders like Representative Tom Okamura, who, perhaps inspired by the legacy of Pilahi Pahi, was instrumental in codifying it into law in 1986.

"Fellow members of the House of Representatives, on the desk in front of each of you is a gift -- from me to you.

"It is a book containing the recollections of the late Nana Veary. I encourage you to read it and let the full meaning of the Aloha Spirit fill you through her words.

"I am especially touched by her account of her grandmother's meeting with a stranger.

"While still a young girl of six, Nana Veary recalls visiting the village of her grandparents. One day, a stranger entered the village. As the stranger approached, her grandmother welcomed the stranger and invited him to enter her home and dine. After the stranger had eaten and left, the young girl asked her grandmother if she knew him. 'No', said the grandmother, 'he was a stranger.' 'Why did you feed him?' the young girl asked. At this point the grandmother became angry and ordered young Nana to sit down on the floor and said, 'I was not feeding the man; I was entertaining the spirit of God within him.'

"Nana Veary never forgot those words. In the book, she recalls that the practice of honoring the other person was so natural to the culture that it did not need a name.

"Today, we call it the 'Aloha Spirit.'

"One thing I have learned from Nana Veary's book is that one cannot practice sharing the Aloha Spirit by merely learning about it. First, it must be within us; then it must be embraced. Only then can we truly share it.

"I dwell on the Aloha Spirit for a reason. As I have come to realize its true meaning and applied it to my life, I have witnessed its gentle power.

"By living Aloha, we will understand much more because we will listen in a different way -- not just with our ears -- but like the old Hawai'ians, with our eyes ... our mind ... and our heart.

"By doing so, I believe I am a better legislator and a better public servant. And I am seeing it work for us now, in the Legislature.

"As we began the arduous process of defining the House Majority Legislative Package, our Policy Committee and the Majority Caucus reached consensus that the economy was to receive our primary attention.

"During that process, however, two members argued passionately and sincerely for the needy. They said that we were focusing so strongly on economic revitalization that we were in danger of forgetting about those in need ... those who are unable to help themselves. They argued that we must not abandon those who would suffer from the reduction or elimination of programs as a result of tax cuts.

"It was a difficult moment for us. But together, we were able to set aside our individual mindsets and reach an agreement. I see this as evidence of the Aloha Spirit at work.

"By embracing the Aloha Spirit, our leadership structure welcomes and encourages such openness. Each member not only heard the arguments, they felt the depth of the emotion behind them. In the end, I believe you will see a more balanced Majority Package.

"It is a package that recognizes the primacy of economic revival while remembering that government is defined by how well it takes care of its neediest citizens.

"Let me close with a quote from scientist Robert H. Goddard, who wrote:

'It is difficult to say what is impossible, for the dream of yesterday is the hope of today and the reality of tomorrow.'

"My fellow members of the House, we have much work ahead of us.

"Let us commence with the public's business with integrity and efficiency.

"Let us embrace the Aloha Spirit and allow its gentle hand to guide us in our efforts and fill us with the courage, the compassion and the wisdom to put the people of Hawai'i first.

"Mahalo, and Aloha!"

At this time, the Chair appointed Representatives Kenneth T. Hiraki, Ken Ito, David Morihara, Bob McDermott and Colleen Meyer to escort the Honorable Marcus R. Oshiro to the rostrum.

The Chair presented the Vice Speaker, stating:

"Members of the House of Representatives, I present the Honorable Marcus R. Oshiro, Vice Speaker of the House of Representatives for the Twentieth Legislature."

The Chair then recognized Representative Marumoto, the Minority Leader, to present the Minority's response.

Representative Marumoto rose and responded:

"Mr. Speaker, Governor Cayetano, Lieutenant Governor Hirono, Mr. Chief Justice, distinguished guests, ladies and gentlemen, Republicans and Democrats -- aloha kakahia'ka.

"This election is not about the economy. It's about values. Do you remember that phrase from the 1998 campaign? I say that the election was both about the economy and about values. The two are not mutually exclusive. For it is our values which dictate how we deal with the challenges before us, economic or otherwise.

"But what values do we deem most important and what beliefs matter to us so much that they govern how we view the world and how we find our place in it? Agreeing on a set of values to guide us in this House may be challenging, but it is not impossible.

"Here in the House of Representatives we are 51 men and women with different backgrounds and levels of expertise. The voters of this State have charged us with doing something concrete to improve our State's economy. They don't need anymore talk. They don't want anymore rhetoric. They won't tolerate anymore excuses. They demand change. They demand action.

"That's the true message the voters sent us last fall. I believe we have heard the message loud and clear. I'd wager if wishes were dollars and good intentions were jobs, things would be booming out there.

"I'd like to offer a framework within which to proceed based on five values we share and hold dear.

"The first value is fairness. Fairness is essential in developing a new tax policy. We can all agree that the excise tax is regressive and extreme. When applied to our basic needs of food, shelter and medical services, it is most unfair to those who can least afford it. They should also simplify our State taxes. The complexities of both federal and State taxes impact most unfairly on those who can't afford to hire someone to navigate the tax code for them.

"Republicans again offer a plan with considerable bi-partisan support to tie our State taxes to the federal and that includes tax credits for long-term care. Mr. Speaker, your Republican Caucus will join with all others interested in restoring fairness to our regressive excise tax system by eliminating the tax on food, medical care and residential rent.

"The second value is honesty. Beyond being regressive the excise tax is also dishonest. It looks small, but adds so much to our cost of living.

"We also have to tell the truth in our claims to the public. We can't keep saying 'government spending is going down' when it's going up, or that 'government jobs are falling' while they are, in fact, rising. Since 1995, the strongest gains in employment have occurred in State government while the private sector loses jobs. We must stop spinning the facts and tell it like it is. The most honest action we can take on this floor is to truly make government smaller and better.

"Mr. Speaker, we have to do it, and your Republican Caucus will join with all other interested parties in finding the most humane, most practical, and most effective ways to accomplish these necessary changes.

"The third value is compassion. The most compassionate thing we can do for the families of Hawai'i is to build a strong economy. Our families are hurting because of lack of jobs, inadequate education, and underfinanced health and human services. A rising economic tide will lift the fortunes of our people.

"Mr. Speaker, the compassionate choice is to change Hawai'i's economy for the better. Your Republican Caucus will join with all others willing to put party loyalties and special interests aside and take the risks necessary to reshape the relationship between government and business. We can no longer weaken free enterprise so that the bureaucracy can flourish.

"The fourth value is nurturing. Do we truly nurture our students? Put them first? If we did, we'd be centering education on individual schools, emphasizing students then their parents, then by supporting teachers in their classrooms who wish to work together with other teachers to create education programs that challenge and excite students.

"Mr. Speaker, your Republican Caucus will join with all willing to encourage others to step back so that our students may step forward.

"The fifth value is empowerment. We can empower students by nurturing small schools, schools-within-schools, and charter schools, and by allowing students greater choice in the schools they attend. We can empower teachers by allowing time to plan schools-within-schools on their own and by protecting their continued employment in the programs they help create. We can empower principals by granting them both authority to run their schools and accountability for their performances and by rewarding them for their additional responsibilities. We can empower communities by creating elected school boards at the district level more responsive to neighborhoods and parents.

"We can empower the people of Hawai'i by allowing for initiative, referendum and recall, as do a majority of the other states. We can empower the voters by joining many other states in electing our own attorney general. And we can further empower the taxpayers and by extension government itself if we privatize government services where it makes sense to do so.

"Let us be honest about whom we're protecting if we fail to give taxpayers the best possible service at the lowest possible cost.

"Mr. Speaker, your Republican Caucus will join with all others who hold these values dear and who will base their decisions on these five questions. Is it fair? Is it honest? Is it compassionate? Is it nurturing? Does it empower people, not government? Good tests and sure ones, Mr. Speaker.

"Should our initiatives meet these values, economic growth will surely follow. Your Republicans stand ready to hold these values and to work with the Majority for the betterment of all. Mahalo."

The Chair then recognized Representative Case, the Majority Leader, who rose and responded:

"Mr. Speaker, respected colleagues, distinguished guests, fellow citizens, welcome!

"I appreciate the words of our colleague, the Minority Leader. It is clear from her remarks that there are many areas on which we can agree. But I address you today on behalf of the 39 Majority members of this house, who, although we reflect the great diversity of our State, are nonetheless united by party affiliation and by the obligations of Majority Leadership.

"Before I go on, I wish to recognize, for all of us, my predecessor as Majority Leader, Representative Tom Okamura, who has served this Caucus, House and State so well in that capacity throughout fully nine of his 18 legislative sessions. In his conduct, both as leader and in this time of transition, he has demonstrated uncommon commitment to this institution, and we all have great need for his continued guidance. Thank you, Mr. Majority Leader.

"I also hope that each of us pauses just briefly today to say a simple thank you to the loved ones seated with us and beyond this chamber. We too often forget how much you have sacrificed that we may serve. Thank you.

"Mr. Speaker, as you have so directly stated, our mandate is change. Each of us has brought from our communities the collective yearning of our neighbors for something other than the status quo. Our challenge is to add definition to that hunger, and then to act.

"Since election day, your Majority has engaged in a broad ranging, and often intense, discourse over how best to define and carry out change. The Majority Package we introduce this week, which is entitled simply 'Change,' will better describe the results of this effort, but please allow me to present an outline.

"First, however, this one point your Majority Caucus is very clear about: we do not believe that change means a rejection of the fundamental principles of our party. Equality, opportunity, compassion and tolerance, as manifestations of the 'Aloha Spirit' of which you, Mr. Speaker, so eloquently spoke, are the bedrock upon which our society rests. We believe that we have continued in the legislative majority these many decades because to us and to those that we represent these are not just words, they are a way of life. And we won't change that now.

"But we also view it as a mistake for us to conclude that our return as the majority party reflects public satisfaction with the Legislature's performance. Where we must continue to change is in how we conduct the people's business and in how we best adapt those principles that we hold dear to the modern world.

"Public confidence in how we do our job as legislators is essential to leadership in tough times. Without it, neither constructive debate, nor hard choices, nor public acceptance is possible. We will propose further reforms in our campaign spending laws and other measures to increase confidence in our electoral and legislative processes. But we know that ultimately, the public's trust depends less on such laws and more on what we expect and deliver of ourselves as leaders.

"So please let me express these expectations that we have of each other. That we will address issues openly, honestly, directly and with realism. That we will put personal interest and ego aside. That we will look beyond the trees to the forest. That we will welcome the public into their house. That we will not allow any one legislator or minority of legislators to thwart our collective will. That we will each sacrifice our sacred cows, and in doing so lead by example that which must occur beyond this chamber. And, most important, that each of us will have the right to expect of his or her colleagues the highest standards of conduct and performance.

"Substantively, as you have stated and for the reasons you have noted, Mr. Speaker, we must change our economy. Our business climate and its ability to produce jobs for our people must come first. We will implement responsible reductions in business and consumer related taxes, targeted tax incentives and credits, and continued deregulation and infrastructure development.

"But we must also change more than that. We must change our view of the connection between our business climate and needed improvement in other key areas: government operations, education, public safety, healthy families and communities, the environment.

"We have all tended to approach each as a separate effort, but the fact of the matter is that they are all interdependent. Just as a healthy business climate adequately funds core government efforts, so does that climate depend, in turn, on efficient government, quality education, crime prevention, social responsibility and environmental protection. Thus, to truly change our economy, we must not only change our business climate, but also accelerate our efforts in all other areas.

"To this end, on government operations, your Majority will convene a balanced review of our civil service and collective bargaining laws by all stakeholders for specific action during this Legislature. In education, our focus will be on improving governance, for we cannot agree that the primary problem here is funding. On public safety, we will assure adequate prison space to provide safety to communities while also assuring alternatives to incarceration; this is not a matter of choice, for we need to do both.

"To provide for our aging population, we will implement the recommendations of our Long-Term Care Task Force including a tax credit for long-term care insurance premiums. For agriculture and natural resources, we will accelerate implementation of our constitutional obligation to provide long-term protection of our prime agricultural lands.

"Mr. Speaker, above all, we will welcome the challenge of change as the very essence of our legislative process as have other legislators before us.

"In preparing these remarks, I revisited the Opening Day speeches of our predecessors since statehood. And one in particular, that of Speaker Richard Kawakami in 1987, stood out.

"Speaker Kawakami asked his audience of 12 years ago to remember the opportunities presented to humankind over our history from revolutions in thinking wrought by a few. He urged that audience 'to join together, as did a few daring individuals in those centuries past, to examine the issues that come before us with the courage and the willingness to perceive and think in new ways, to extend our vision beyond the horizon of the current century, so that we might prepare wisely for the century ahead.'

"He then left to us these particularly compelling words: 'We must push ourselves to think anew about the concerns which face our State. We must challenge old premises, and replace threadbare paradigms, while retaining as firm anchors those ideological perspectives and fundamental values which reflect the nobility and humanity of mankind.'

"Mr. Speaker, I can't improve on that outline for change. Your Majority will deliver. Thank you."

Miscellaneous Com. No. 6, from U.S. Representative Neil Abercrombie transmitting the following message:

"It is a pleasure to convey my heartfelt aloha to the members of the Twentieth Legislature of the State of Hawai'i, their families, staff, friends, guests and members of the public gathered for this historic occasion.

"I regret that my duties in the United States House of Representatives make it impossible for me to join you today. As a fellow legislator and former member of the Hawai'i State Legislature, I appreciate the significance of Opening Day for you.

"This is a day of excitement, challenge and optimism. You have the opportunity to begin anew to move our Aloha State forward toward the goals you have set. Hawai'i faces many challenges. Our people have entrusted you with the awesome responsibility of seeking solutions, weighing alternatives, and giving due consideration to the views of every citizen. The burden of responsibility will at times be heavy, the decisions difficult, and the demands of comity severe. Each of you, however, has the intelligence, commitment and spiritual resources to chart Hawai'i's course into the 21st century.

"Above all, you are imbued with a profound love of our State and its people. It is a love shared by all of us who serve Hawai'i. It is expressed in the spirit of aloha. We must continue to look to the aloha spirit for inspiration and recognize it in our colleagues. In doing so, we establish the atmosphere of mutual respect necessary for fulfilling the mandate of Hawai'i's people.

"Please accept my best wishes as you embark on the first day of an exciting journey. May your work be guided by wisdom, inspired by aloha, and crowned by success."

At this time, the Chair appointed Representatives Dennis A. Arakaki, Kenny Goodenow and Emily J. Auwae to escort Father Joseph Priestly of St. Louis School to the rostrum.

Father Joseph Priestly offered the benediction.

In closing, Ohana O Mele and The Vocalz led the members and the audience in singing Hawai'i Aloha and rendered a medley of songs.

"Members of the Twentieth Legislature, ladies and gentlemen, please join me in extending our warmest aloha and welcome to the Governor of the State of Hawaii, The Honorable Benjamin J. Cayetano."

The Governor addressed the Joint Session as follows:

"Thank you very much.

"Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Lt. Governor Hirono, Chief Justice Moon, members of the State Legislature, Congressman Abercrombie, Congresswoman Mink, Mayor Harris, Mayor Yamashiro, members of the County Councils, members of the Office of Hawaiian Affairs, distinguished guests, members from our military, distinguished members of the Consular Corps:

"Aloha!

"We are truly blessed with the duty of leading our State into the next century.

"For this, I thank the people of Hawaii for giving me the privilege of serving the public for the past 25 years.

"I thank our First Lady, my wife Vicky, our children, our family, and all who made it possible for this Kalihi boy to stand before you today as Hawaii's Governor.

"This morning it is my privilege to make my fifth report to you on the state of our state.

"We all know that the past four years have not been easy. When I took office in December 1994, the state government found itself facing the biggest fiscal crisis in Hawaii's history.

Since then, we've dealt with a projected revenue shortfall of about $612 million and turned it into a $154 million surplus. We've reduced government spending to a pre-1995 level.

"Today, the state is better off than it was in 1994. A few months ago, our state's bond rating was upgraded from A+ to AA. The last year, the conservative CATO Institute gave us a B+ for good fiscal management, and I must tell you that only two states got A's, so we did pretty good.

"In 1994, we pledged to make education our highest priority, and we kept our word.

"Through our accelerated $1 billion capital improvement program, we built a record 11 new schools and 900 new classrooms, as well as gyms, libraries and other educational facilities.

"We pledged to increase teachers' salaries, and we did.

"And we accomplished something the Board of Education had been working hard to achieve for more than 25 years -- we got our teachers to agree to extend the school year by seven days.

"We gave our University the autonomy it needs to find greatness. We increased faculty salaries and negotiated a permanent home for UH-West Oahu in the hills of Kapolei.

"We passed a mandatory approval law to make state government more time-sensitive to applications for permits and licenses. And we reduced the number of business forms for new businesses to a single unified form.

"We have pursued and successfully attracted world-class high tech and telecommunication companies like Square USA, Uniden, ESS Technology and 'Avant!'

"We gave the tourist industry the biggest boost in our State's history. A record $60 million for marketing. And we waived the airline landing fees to encourage more flights to Hawaii.

"We opened our world-class Hawaii Convention Center and bookings today are estimated to bring in $1.6 billion of new direct spending.

"While we have vigorously pursued economic development, we have been sure not to have done it at the expense of our beautiful environment, as we demonstrated in our actions on Ka Iwi and the Hanalei River, and that will be the guide that we will follow in the future.

"Together -- and it has been a joint effort between the executive and legislative branches -- we've done a lot over the past four years.

"The results of our efforts seem mixed. Job counts are down, but overall employment is up. Real estate sales are up.

"Some businesses continue to fail -- but according to Dun and Bradstreet, new business starts are up by 15 percent over last year -- mainly in retailing, telecommunications, high tech, insurance and healthcare.

"Tax revenues have grown over the past ten months, confounding our economic experts who predicted they wouldn't -- and who seem unable to tell us where the increased revenue is coming from.

"Clearly, Hawaii would be doing better if the Asian economy had recovered, but we cannot control Asia any more than we can control our weather.

"So let us focus on those matters over which we have some control.

"Like those who see the glass as being half full, I believe that Hawaii's economy has bottomed out, and we are beginning to see a modest recovery.

"But all of us here today know that more needs to be done -- not just by the State, but by all of us together.

"And let me say to those who are our critics in the business community: we in the state government can help improve the business climate to make things easier, but in the end, business -- big and small -- must take responsibility for their own success or failure.

"In the next four years, my Administration's focus will be in the following areas:

"First, we will continue our efforts to make the State more efficient and productive;

"Second, we will continue to make education our very highest priority -- and maximize our resources to build a well-educated work force with skills to compete in the 21st Century;

"Third, we will continue our efforts to reduce our citizen's tax burden;

"Fourth, we will improve the business climate and pursue economic diversification to reduce our State's reliance on tourism.

"And, we will do so by building on our strengths -- our unique location, our diverse culture, our natural environment -- and most of all, our people, as our 'competitive business advantages.'

"The solutions we shape, the programs we propose, will be created within the values which make Hawaii a very special place.

"Economic prosperity is meaningless if it comes at the expense of Hawaii's precious environment, our culture, our quality of life -- our soul.

"Let me share with you in greater detail what my Administration will do over the next four years.

"First, we want to make the state government more efficient and productive.

"You know I am very, very proud of our State employees. And this morning, I want to introduce someone who epitomizes the best of our State work force. She worked for the State for 42 years before retiring a few weeks ago from my office. Not only was she an exemplary employee, but she never took one day of sick leave in all of those 42 years. Incredible! And in fact, I am told that on the birth of her son, she left early one Friday to give birth to her son and was back in the office at work on Monday! I don't recommend that today to you ladies.

"Ladies and gentlemen, I want you to meet an extraordinary public servant, an extraordinary worker -- Florence Yamada.

"It's because of remarkable workers like Florence that some of our State departments have excelled in providing public service even in the face of budget cuts.

"For example, for the past three consecutive years, the federal government has ranked the Department of Human Services, much criticized by the media sometimes, first and second in the nation for efficiency and accuracy in the administration of the food stamp and welfare programs.

"Last year, the federal government recognized the department for its innovative welfare-to-work programs -- which put more welfare recipients back in full- or part-time jobs per capita than any western state -- an extraordinary achievement, given our State's poor economy.

"There are many State workers like Florence Yamada. And in every state department, from the Department of Business, Economic Development and Tourism to the Department of Defense, to the Department of Land and Natural Resources, to the Department of Labor, there are success stories of innovation and efficiency.

"But these stories have come in spite of the current civil service system.

"The past four years have led me to conclude that Hawaii's 60-year old civil service system is obsolete. With nearly 1,700 job classifications, the system is rigid, inflexible -- unable to make timely responses to public needs.

"The system stifles employees who are innovative, hardworking and who want to do a good job.

"For Hawaii to prosper in the New Millennium, state government must be more flexible, and State employees must be empowered to make timely and responsible decisions.

"Therefore, it is absolutely critical that we develop and build a new civil service system which encourages innovation, rewards hard work, and is empowered to adapt to constant change.

"This morning, I am calling on you to join us in rebuilding our State's civil service system.

"To this end, I have asked my Director of Human Resources Development, a former colleague of yours in the Senate, former Senator Mike McCartney, to develop a plan to modernize the system -- to meet the needs and challenges of our global society.

"By the next legislative session -- one year from now -- we will present our proposed reforms for your consideration and approval.

"This is not about layoffs -- it's about change, it's about empowering State employees and trusting them to do what's right.

"As a start and to show that we are serious, I will propose a bill which will repeal the current system by June 30, 2000. By clearing the deck, we will demonstrate to the public that we are earnest in our desire to reform civil service. And by clearing the decks, we will be held accountable for assuring that civil service will be reborn in Hawaii.

"I propose no task force, no blue ribbon committee. But I assure you we will invite all stakeholders -- state workers, labor union leaders, business and the public -- to join us in this effort.

"The time -- one year -- may seem short, but for years now we have all known what has to be done, and now is the time that we must do it!

"I will talk a little bit about rules and regulations. About three years ago, you empowered a task force of small business people to reform the State rules and regulations. After two years of hard work, little changed.

"The result was not surprising because reforming State rules and regulations is a complicated and difficult process. Most rules and regulations can be justified. But finding out which ones are obsolete or no longer needed can be best done by working with State employees -- many of whom themselves are frustrated by these very same rules and regulations.

"Our State has more than 20,000 pages of rules and regulations. Today, we have rules which are clearly obsolete. Rules covering mangers and livery stables. Rules covering a fund to deal with -- get this -- the bubonic plague.

"And even where justified, we have rules which are too complicated, too difficult for the common person to understand. For example, there are 22 pages of rules covering frozen desserts alone!

"These obsolete rules or unnecessary rules are complicated and make it difficult for State employees to do their jobs. And these rules can impose a heavy cost to our business community and discourage investment in Hawaii.

"Therefore, as part of our campaign to reform civil service, we will make streamlining our rules and regulations a very high priority.

"To this end, I have asked Lt. Governor Hirono to head the equivalent of a rule-cutting SWAT team -- she says, 'SWAT stands for slice waste and tape' -- to reduce State rules and regulations by 40 percent over the next four years. Our very real and ambitious goal, but one that we feel that we at least must shoot for.

"And now I want to say something to you about the relationship between the executive branch and the legislative branch.

"We know that you want us to become more efficient and productive and more responsive. But the state government cannot become more efficient and productive if it is micromanaged by the Legislature. Just as it is with private business, state government must have the flexibility to respond in a timely and appropriate fashion to public demand for services.

"Let's take the Department of Commerce and Consumer Affairs, because I think it is a good example of how a state government can turn things around. DCCA has become more innovative, more responsive and more self-supporting because it has greater flexibility.

"We gave them greater discretion over the setting of user fees, for example, and how they process licenses, and today DCCA is 93 percent self-sufficient. I ask you to approve legislation which I will submit which will give the same discretion to all other State departments as well.

"Our health corporation is struggling because it is being micromanaged by the rules that were set in the law establishing its existence some years ago. If you want state government to improve, as I know you do, you must learn to trust and to let go.

"The recent Tobacco Settlement will allow our State to recover a portion of the enormous health care costs smoking and tobacco use have caused us.

"I commend Attorney General Margery Bronster and her office for the fine work they have done.

"Under the $1.13 billion settlement, payments are expected to begin in about the year 2000 for a period of approximately 25 years or so. But first, a final judgment must be obtained.

"In anticipation of the final judgment, I propose dividing the settlement equally between two trust funds: First, a Tobacco Settlement Trust Fund to support anti-smoking initiatives, education, and to expand children's health programs; and second, a Rainy Day Trust Fund for use in future economic emergencies.

"The Tobacco Settlement Trust Fund will be used to educate the public in the hazards of smoking and it will be a symbol of our commitment to promoting good health for the people of Hawaii.

"The Rainy Day Fund will accomplish two goals: First, it will obviate the need for us to have a carryover balance each year for budgeting purposes, giving us greater flexibility with our revenues -- but more important -- it will be our legacy of fiscal prudence for generations to come.

"Nothing is more important to me than the education of our children.

"Over the past four years, we gave education our highest priority, increasing teachers' salaries, extending the school year, and building a record number of new schools, classrooms and other facilities.

"This year, in response to our desire to have our eighth graders computer literate before the end of four years, I added $20 million a year to our capital improvement budget to upgrade, where needed, the power capacity of all public schools to accommodate more computers and, where appropriate, to install air conditioning.

"Over the years, the State has focused mainly on providing greater funding for our public schools as a means of improving our public school system.

"But surveys -- national surveys -- reveal that the only states which have experienced significant increases in student achievement are those which hold their schools, their educators, the administrators, accountable for performance.

"Contrary to the cries of our critics, Hawaii's public schools are not the worst in the Nation. However, we are not the best either -- and I take no comfort in the fact that we can be called 'average.' Like you, I want our public schools to be the best that they can be.

"Therefore, while my Administration will continue to support the funding requirements for public education as we have done, we will look to developing ways to measure and improve student and teacher performance.

"Today, we start by joining President Clinton in getting schools to become more accountable. And Hawaii is lucky, truly lucky, to have a nationally recognized scholar as our Superintendent, a scholar recognized in school accountability and assessment. Ladies and Gentlemen, join me in welcoming Dr. Paul LeMahieu, our new School Superintendent.

"With Dr. LeMahieu's guidance, we propose a system of performance measures which is fair, simple, and which is based on common sense.

"We propose that each school set achievement goals which measure performance against its own past history rather than against other schools.

"This would include performance indices such as student test scores, school attendance, student dropout rates, and parental involvement.

"Each school would set up goals to improve on its past performance -- perhaps the average of the past three years. To motivate, to achieve parental involvement, we must urge the parents to get involved in setting these goals for their children.

"Each year, every school would submit a final report to the Superintendent. Any school which did not achieve its goals would be evaluated by the Superintendent who, if appropriate, will make recommendations for improvements or changes in personnel.

"This is a simple, inexpensive and common sense way to determine how a school is progressing overall and how we can determine which schools need assistance.

"It can be implemented in the beginning of the next school year, I believe, but it should be seen as a complement to the more sophisticated, expensive performance measures now being developed.

"Simply throwing money at our schools will not improve them. We could provide a computer for every child and teach the child how to become computer literate. I remember when I was in school, I learned how to use the slide rule technically to solve those problems. If we don't teach our children how to think, how to solve problems, then we would have failed.

"These skills, the skills of critical thinking, which are so important in today's global society, are taught best in an environment of academic freedom -- where schools can experiment, innovate, and try new ideas without fear of failure.

"To this end, I propose -- on a pilot basis -- that we establish 'Schools for the New Century.'

"These 'New Century Schools' will be given the following freedoms:

- * the freedom to negotiate their own collective bargaining contract or not to have collective bargaining at all;
- * the freedom from the constraints of our State procurement code;
- * the freedom to control and create their own curriculum;
- * the freedom to engage in true lump sum budgeting without interference from the Department of Education, the Superintendent and the Board of Education; and
- * the freedom to select their principals and faculty without constraints from existing contracts.

"The schools would be administered by a principal answerable to a school committee comprised of faculty, parents and community leaders.

"At the end of each school year, the schools would be audited by the Department of Education to measure performance.

"The two schools that I have in mind to be the first are the Kapolei Middle School and the Kapolei High School. These schools present a rare opportunity to us. They have not yet been built, but the money is there. Moreover, they are located in an area where parental and community interest in education is high. Tomorrow, I will submit legislation to achieve these new schools for the New Century for your consideration.

"Now, let me turn to something that we talked a lot about in the campaign and we would like to see it happen, and this is reducing class size. This is something all of us would like to see happen. But the cost to do it in a meaningful way on a meaningful scale, we all know, is prohibitive.

"However, there are less costly alternatives which will help our teachers in the classrooms.

"First, our teachers spend too much time disciplining unruly students. Therefore, I propose a review of the rules on school discipline. A review of Chapter 19 is long overdue. Recent United States Supreme Court decisions make it possible for us to give school administrators greater authority and flexibility in disciplining unruly students. Chapter 19 should be amended accordingly.

"Second, I propose that the Department of Education establish alternative schools to accommodate students who may be expelled from regular school. This is an area which could be privatized. Funding would come as the allotted state cost per student would follow that student to the alternative school.

"The many years of our Department of Education, of the Legislature, the executive branch, focusing on improving the school system to college prep curriculum has made technical education a stepchild in our public schools. And yet studies show less than half of our high school students go to college.

"To provide greater access to quality technical education, I propose that high school students be allowed to take technical courses at the community colleges -- and have those courses counted toward their graduation.

"Some years ago, I was speaking to people who ran the auto mechanic's program at Honolulu Community College. And I was told that the equipment there, the course there, is 'state of the art', that their graduates could walk out from that college and work for General Motors or anyone else as auto mechanics. But I was also told that the auto mechanic programs in our high schools are obsolete, that many of the students that Honolulu Community College gets have to be taught all over, have to start from ground zero.

"My proposal would help resolve that problem, would help address the shortage of technical education in our schools because we simply do not have the resources to get technical education up to a par with college prep.

"This would require greater cooperation and articulation between the Department of Education and the University of Hawaii and we, this Administration, will take the lead in bringing the University of Hawaii and the Department of Education together to resolve this issue.

"Finally, we need to build a New Millenium work force. In this regard, I will propose legislation which will establish a millenium work force training program focusing on the economic areas in which we have a shot to become successful -- the areas of healthcare, biotechnology, high tech, telecommunications and environmental sciences, for example. These are economic niches which have great potential for us. But we cannot exploit this potential without a skilled work force.

"Let me turn now to the institution that is most critical to the economic development of the State -- the University of Hawaii.

"Last year, we gave the University of Hawaii autonomy -- the single most important tool for its growth and development for its march to greatness.

"The UH is critical to Hawaii's economic development. Therefore, over the next four years, we will continue to support the University.

"Planning and building the education centers for Kona and Molokai will be given high priority.

"Planning for the new UH-West Oahu campus in Kapolei gives us the rare opportunity to design and build a 21st Century University from the ground up. We reaffirm our support for UH-West Oahu, and we will work with the Board of Regents to speed up its development.

"We cannot ignore the fact that the University of Hawaii, besides being an educational institution, is also an economic entity.

"I propose that the College of Astronomy, which I believe rightfully belongs at UH-Hilo, in fact begin to move there. We will work with the Board of Regents to move the support staff from the University's Institute for Astronomy to the research park at UH-Hilo in two years.

"This will provide the infrastructure for high technology developments on the Big Island and demonstrate that Hilo can become the world leader in land-based astronomy.

"Part of my vision for the State is Hawaii becoming the premier health care center of the Pacific, and a better medical school is crucial to our vision for Hawaii. Therefore, I am taking this opportunity to reaffirm my support for the UH Medical School, and we pledge to work with the UH Board of Regents and the President to enhance the quality of the Medical School.

"A better way of the plans that we have to develop the high tech park in Kakaako to stimulate development in high tech and biotechnology, we will invite the University to become a partner in the developing of that proposed high tech park.

"Through a consortium of state, business and university interests, we hope to achieve the benefits experienced by such coalitions in North Carolina's Research Triangle and Stanford's Industrial Park. And, Mr. President, we look forward to working with you and the Board of Regents to, in fact, make that park a reality.

"Finally, we will convene a meeting of the leaders of all of our universities -- public and private -- to discuss and develop a common strategy to market Hawaii as the Education Center of the Pacific.

"Education -- American education in particular -- is the best in the world, and that is the way it is seen throughout the rest of the world. Every year, hundreds of thousands of foreigners flock to American universities for their education. We need to get a greater share of those students here in Hawaii. That will be good for our University, good for our economy, and good for our State.

"Let me turn now to tax reform.

"Over the past four years, we've made the state government more efficient, we reset priorities, and today state government is less of a burden on the overall economy. Last year, we approved Hawaii's biggest tax cut in State personal income taxes -- $750 million over four years. I might add that the CATO Institute states that it is the second biggest tax cut in the Nation.

"We wish to keep this momentum going. Therefore, we will propose the following:

"For business development:

- * A 50 percent reduction in corporate and franchise tax rates -- to tell the business world Hawaii's business climate has changed;
- * An exemption from the general excise taxes for exported services -- to allow our professionals to compete on the global level;
- * A double deduction for employer costs for prepaid healthcare insurance -- to encourage businesses to hire full-time workers and to give all of our businesses which have these full-time workers a tax break;
- * A research and development income tax credit for selected new industries to attract new industries to diversify our economy;

- * A 5-year tax holiday for high tech companies and biotech companies which are located in the Kakaako High Tech Park; and finally

- * An extension of the hotel renovation tax credit which we passed several years ago now to include new construction to help our hotel industry.

"For individuals, we propose the following:

- * A reduction in the State personal income tax that would be triggered like a circuit breaker if revenues reach a certain level; and

- * A long-term care tax deduction for individuals and family members to help our senior citizens and their loved ones deal with the high cost of long-term care.

"My friends, this is not a wish list. We have looked at these measures and we believe we can afford them, and we need your support to make them a reality.

"Earlier, I talked about our decisions on Ka Iwi and Hanalei and we stated then that we would not pursue economic development initiatives at the expense of Hawaii's pristine environment. Hawaii's beautiful environment is the magnet that draws people to our State.

"Therefore, I propose that we begin discussion on the following proposal that a small and modest portion of the transient accommodation tax be earmarked to preserve, protect and sustain Hawaii's natural resources, and we expect to discuss this with you.

"Over the past four years, you have heard me talk about my VISION for Hawaii's economic future and I have stated repeatedly that I believe Hawaii will become the premier education center of the Pacific, where the people of the world can come to teach and learn at world-class educational institutions;

"That I believe that Hawaii will become the healthcare center of the Pacific, blending knowledge of the East, the West and the Pacific, and that I believe Hawaii will become a center for commerce, employing a network of state-of-the-art technology touching every corner of the globe.

"For the past three years, I have kept you abreast of the progress that we have made in pursuing these initiatives. This morning, however, I would like to talk, in the time remaining, about some of the new and exciting initiatives that are on the horizon.

"Today, I am pleased to announce that in March 2000, the Pacific Basin Economic Council -- made up of over 1,100 international business organizations -- will hold its annual International General Meeting at the Hawaii Convention Center.

"PBEC represents over 1,100 corporations in 20 economies throughout Asia, North America and South America. Big corporate names like Motorola, Toyota, Sony are members. These business organizations account for $4 trillion in global sales, and employ more than 10 million people throughout the world.

"This is no small gathering -- it is a major international event in which world leaders in government and business routinely participate.

"Historically, countries throughout the Asia-Pacific Basin vie each year for the right to host this prestigious meeting. Now PBEC is considering giving Hawaii or making Hawaii the event's permanent home.

"This would not have been possible without the hard work of some individuals, and one in particular who had a tremendous role in doing this, and he has done it and worked hard at it because he loves Hawaii, and I will introduce him to you this morning.

"Ladies and Gentlemen, please join me in thanking PBEC's Secretary General Robert G. Lees for bringing this important business meeting to Hawaii.

"For Hawaii, this is a major breakthrough. It is a major breakthrough in changing our image and establishing our State as a true international gathering place for business -- and it has made Hawaii a strong contender for the annual World Trade Organization meeting this year and all of us, of course, are waiting breathlessly for the decision as to where the WTO will be held.

"Let me now turn to something that the Legislature is very interested in. The Senate President is pushing this in particular, and this is the business of call centers.

"We have introduced legislation to establish Hawaii as a call center for the rest of the world. Let me say that last week, last week Thursday I think it was, I had the pleasure of participating in a press conference for another breakthrough. The Southco Company -- a billion dollar high tech hardware company -- established Hawaii's first call center at Kapolei.

"Southco's President and CEO Stephen Kelly told us that he was amazed to discover that Hawaii may have the best telecommunication system in the world.

"Let me tell you what Mr. Kelly told me.

"They came to Hawaii for the following reason -- location. Our strategic location allows them to service clients on the Mainland and in Asia the very, very same day. We are the most western American state and as such they are more comfortable in dealing with American laws in doing business. These high tech companies are very impressed by the quality of our graduate students at the University of Hawaii and the School of Computer Sciences.

"They are impressed by the quality of life here. They are impressed with the fact that Hawaii as a state ranks very low when it comes to the incidents of crime. The biggest problem they had, he said to me, talking in discussion about the poor business climate in the State, he never mentioned it one time. The biggest problem he had was convincing his directors that Hawaii was not just a place only for fun, games and surf, and he did that. And with this breakthrough, I believe if we help Southco succeed, Mr. President and Mr. Speaker, that the Legislature's drive to make Hawaii a call center is going to become a reality.

"The City of Kapolei has really put Hawaii on the map with its top quality telecommunications environment. Its satellite capabilities will become even greater when a company called Loral Orion, an international satellite company, launches a new satellite later this year. The people from Loral tell us that they selected Kapolei because of its unique access to both Asian and U.S. satellites.

"We have advantages that most of us never knew about, and I have brought these to the floor and we must exploit these advantages to make our economy stronger.

"Last year, working with the Linkbeck Foundation, working with the private hospitals, we announced the first statewide telemedicine network in the Nation. It links up all of our hospitals, both public and private. Next week, history will be made in this State because for the first time in world history, telemedicine will be used to perform eye surgery on a 16-year old girl on the Big Island.

"Dr. Jorge Camara at the St. Francis Medical Center in Honolulu will guide -- they call it telemed -- via telemedicine, a doctor at the North Hawaii Community Hospital on the Big Island, as she removes an eye tumor from her patient. I will be there personally to witness this most amazing event. It is a major step forward once again in our quest to become the premier healthcare center of the Pacific.

"Let me talk about the millennium, something of course that we all want to celebrate. To usher in the New Millennium, I will issue an executive order establishing The New Millennium Celebration Commission.

"This Commission will begin planning a year-long celebration of the year 2000 -- starting with a December 31, 1999 New Year's Eve Concert in the Diamond Head Crater. The concert -- featuring local musicians -- will be televised statewide. One TV station has donated its time and will be shown not only in Hawaii, but also on the Mainland and in Japan.

"The Commission, and I would like to introduce the Chair because I have asked him to serve as Chair and I'm not sure that he knew how big it was going to be. Former Governor John Waihee will chair this Commission.

"This Commission will plan a series of events, including multicultural celebrations, but the one thing that really strikes and excites me is that we will embark on a campaign to bring home every Hawaii resident who is outside the State, to bring them home. It will be called, 'Come Home Hawaii.'

"This celebration, of course, is designed to boost our tourist industry and we are targeting an additional 500,000 visitors in the year 2000 -- a great way to showcase Hawaii in the first year of the New Century.

"Though I have focused today primarily on economic issues, we all know that there are many other important issues facing our state. The fact that I haven't discussed them today does not mean they are not important. Nor does it mean that we have abandoned them.

"Earlier in my remarks, I said my Administration would shape solutions according to the values we hold as a community.

"There are many pressing social issues, such as Native Hawaiian rights, death with dignity, domestic partnerships, child abuse, domestic violence and others that I have not discussed here today. But we will present proposals dealing with all of these areas to the Legislature in the coming days.

"While these social issues may draw controversy, we believe they are important and should be debated and discussed and considered.

"Let us follow the wisdom of our great Queen Liliuokalani, who said: 'Never cease to act for fear that you may fail.'

"Let me close now with these thoughts.

"Over the years, Hawaii's economy changed from sea trading to big sugar and big pineapple. And over the past forty years, to a strong reliance on tourism.

"Throughout all these changes, however, the spirit of aloha -- our host people's greatest gift to the rest of the world and to us non-Hawaiians -- has remained constant.

"It has endured because our forefathers, in spite of their differences, understood its central role to the unique greatness of Hawaii as a society.

"It has endured because they lived it, they strengthened it, they nurtured it, and they passed it on, unchanged, from generation to generation.

"The spirit of aloha is the glue which holds us together.

"It is the heart and soul of the Hawaii we all love today, and the Hawaii that we want to pass on to our children.

"Today, I ask you to join me in pledging that all of us here will work together to assure that the spirit of aloha will be strengthened, preserved and passed on to the children of the New Millennium.

"We owe this to our children, as one day they, too, will owe it to theirs. In these times of frequent, rapid and sometimes unwanted change -- that will be our greatest gift of all to them.

"Soon we will enter the 21st Century. We have been blessed as the generation of leaders which will take Hawaii into the New Millennium.

"What we do over the next four years may set the direction for the next decade, perhaps longer.

"Knowing this, I am awed by the enormity of the responsibility -- grateful for the privilege of leadership -- and excited by the possibilities of making positive and meaningful changes to build a better Hawaii.

"Members of the Legislature, I look forward to working with you!

"Thank you and aloha."

Senate President Mizuguchi then rose and stated:

"Thank you very much Governor Cayetano, for sharing your message with members of the House of Representatives and Senate and the people of Hawaii.

"I'm sure I speak for the House when I say that the leadership of both the House and the Senate will give your proposals our full attention and consideration.

"We pledge to work collaboratively with you during this session. Our minds and doors are open to your ideas and proposals.

"In an age where change is the rule, we've heard your call for change -- and change we must.

"It is each of us, representatives of the people, along with our consciences, who will bring about this change. Achieving economic recovery and reclaiming the lost dreams of the less fortunate -- the displaced workers, the sick and the aged -- are our common goals.

"As Robert Frost wrote: 'We have promises to keep and miles to go before we sleep.'

"Governor, mahalo again for your insightful, bold and challenging State-of-the-State address.

"If there is no further business by the members of the Senate and the House of Representatives, I now declare this Joint Session adjourned."

At 10:57 o'clock a.m., the President declared the Joint Session adjourned.

At 12:00 o'clock midnight, the House of Representatives adjourned until 9:30 o'clock a.m. tomorrow, Tuesday, January 26, 1999.

INTRODUCTION OF RESOLUTIONS

By unanimous consent, the following resolution (H.R. No. 23) and concurrent resolution (H.C.R. No. 36) were referred to Printing and further action was deferred:

H.R. No. 23, entitled: "HOUSE RESOLUTION REQUESTS THE GOVERNOR AND THE HEAD OF EACH STATE EXECUTIVE AGENCY TO TAKE NECESSARY MEASURES AND ADOPT AN ACTION PLAN TO ENCOURAGE THE PRIVATE SECTOR TO PROVIDE SERVICES TO THE PUBLIC WHENEVER POSSIBLE RATHER THAN THE GOVERNMENT," was jointly offered by Representatives Chang, Cachola, Case, Fox, Garcia, Herkes, Rath, Whalen and Yonamine.

H.C.R. No. 36, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTS THE GOVERNOR AND THE HEAD OF EACH STATE EXECUTIVE AGENCY TO TAKE NECESSARY MEASURES AND ADOPT AN ACTION PLAN TO ENCOURAGE THE PRIVATE SECTOR TO PROVIDE SERVICES TO THE PUBLIC WHENEVER POSSIBLE RATHER THAN THE GOVERNMENT," was jointly offered by Representatives Chang, Cachola, Case, Fox, Garcia, Herkes, Rath, Whalen and Yonamine.

At 9:40 o'clock a.m., the House of Representative stood in recess, subject to the call of the Chair, to meet in Joint Session with the Senate to receive Chief Justice Ronald T.Y. Moon's State of the Judiciary address.

JOINT SESSION

The Joint Session of the Senate and the House of Representatives of the Twentieth Legislature of the State of Hawai'i, Regular Session of 1999, was called to order at 10:04 o'clock a.m. by the Honorable Norman Mizuguchi, President of the Senate.

At this time, the Senate President welcomed and introduced the following honored and distinguished guests to the members of the Twentieth Legislature:

Governor Benjamin J. Cayetano
A floral lei was presented to Governor Cayetano by Senator Inouye.

Mrs. Benjamin J. Cayetano
A floral lei was presented to Mrs. Cayetano by Representative M. Oshiro.

Lt. Governor Mazie Hirono
A floral lei was presented to Lt. Governor Hirono by Representative Chang.

Mr. Leighton Oshima
A floral lei was presented to Mr. Oshima by Senator Buen.

Mrs. Stella Moon, wife of Chief Justice Moon
A floral lei was presented to Mrs. Moon by Senator Nakata.

Senate President Mizuguchi then appointed Senators Chumbley, Matsunaga, Hanabusa and Slom and Representatives P. Oshiro, Hamakawa, Lee and Whalen to escort The Honorable Ronald T.Y. Moon, Chief Justice of the Hawai'i Supreme Court, to the rostrum.

Senator Chun Oakland and Representative Morita presented Chief Justice Moon with floral leis on behalf of the Senate and the House of Representatives, respectively.

Senate President Mizuguchi then presented to the members of the Twentieth Legislature and guests, The Honorable Ronald T.Y. Moon, Chief Justice of the Hawai'i Supreme Court, saying:

"Members of the Twentieth State Legislature, ladies and gentlemen, please join me in extending our warmest aloha and welcome to the Chief Justice of the Hawai'i Supreme Court, The Honorable Ronald T.Y. Moon."

Chief Justice Moon addressed the Joint Session, as follows:

"Thank You.

"Before I begin, please allow me to introduce a special guest who is visiting the islands from the great State of Washington, excuse me Wisconsin -- starts with a 'W' -- Associate Justice of the Wisconsin Supreme Court. Associate Justice William Bablitch is not only a good friend of mine, but also of several of our judges and justices on the Courts of Appeals.

"Now, he is not only a good friend of ours, but he is also a good friend of Hawai'i because recently he became a Hawai'i taxpayer. He purchased a home on the Big Island. And not only that, on this particular trip he did not intend to be here with us today, but when he arrived he was invited and he kindly accepted our invitation. However, he had a problem. He only brought his sandals. As a result, he purchased a new pair of shoes from one of our very fortunate local retailers.

"Associate Justice William A. Bablitch.

"Governor Cayetano, Lieutenant Governor Hirono, Speaker Say, President Mizuguchi, legislators, members of the federal and state Judiciaries, other distinguished guests, family, and friends, it is my privilege to be here to deliver my third State of the Judiciary Address.

"A couple of weeks ago, in a not too subtle way of telling me to keep my speech short, my mother told me about an ancient Korean tradition that a speaker must stand on one foot while addressing his audience. As soon as his second foot drops and touches the ground, he must stop speaking. Well, sounds like a good tradition for short speeches; however, you may be horrified to learn that for two weeks I've been practicing and I can now stand on one foot for an hour, especially when I hold on to the lecturn. Nevertheless, today I will not implement this tradition, and I promise to be relatively brief.

"What I want to do today is to share with you how we're doing, talk about the changes we're making, reaffirm our commitment to working together, and finally, look to the future.

"First, how is Hawai'i's Judiciary doing? To answer this question, we must remind ourselves that justice is about laws and procedures, but, above all, justice is about people. As you are aware, the Judiciary is involved in every aspect of people's lives, working towards helping them make their problems less and resolve their disagreements.

"During the past year, our judges have continued to make thousands of decisions that have directly impacted people's liberty, property, and family relations. Of those thousands of decisions, only a handful have generated headlines in the media -- some of which were quite critical. I firmly believe, however, that we should not, and must not, measure the Judiciary's success by the amount or kind of media coverage our decisions generate. Nevertheless, I realize that, to a large extent, the media is the public's, and often your, only source of information about judicial decisions. As I have indicated and stated in the past, public scrutiny of judicial decisions is healthy, but it must not be allowed to cast a cloud over an entire judicial system that functions very well on a daily basis. And so I ask you to keep media criticism in perspective.

"In helping answer the question 'how are we doing?', we also look to the attorneys, who appear in our courts, as well as the public, who use our courts every day. We solicit the views of attorneys through written, confidential evaluation surveys. And they tell us, consistently, that Hawai'i's judges have keen legal ability, excellent judicial management skills, and valued personal attributes. Through our 'We Value Your Opinion' surveys, the public tells us that it is generally pleased with the service it receives. Additionally, others outside of our great State assure us that we can be proud of our Judiciary. Our Family Court, our alternative dispute resolution initiatives, and our Drug Court have been acclaimed nationally and serve as models for other judiciaries to emulate.

"I, therefore, say to you today, with confidence and pride, that the State of Hawai'i's Judiciary is sound. But, there is always room for improvement. Throughout the United States, the perception is that the judiciaries are too steeped in tradition and too slow to change. We must not find comfort with the status quo. Like you, and the members of the Executive Branch, we are stewards of the public trust and, as such, we must continually search for ways to improve and better serve the public.

"This past year, we started, and in some cases completed, initiatives intended to change conditions and to better serve the public. Allow me to review just a few of these initiatives with you.

"As the grandson of Korean immigrants, I know first hand what it is like to be confronted by the realization that this country's most valued rights are not always available to everyone. After graduating from high school in 1958, I left for college in Iowa. Living in Iowa during that first year was a culturally shocking experience for me. At that time, the Korean War had been over for only a few years, and the war with Japan was still fresh in the minds of many of the students, teachers, and town folk. For the first time, I experienced the sting of discrimination -- not being allowed to join a fraternity because of its 'White' clause, not being served at a restaurant, and not being allowed access to a restroom at a service station. I, therefore, understand the feelings of frustration and despair when members of the public perceive our courts to be inaccessible. Indeed, access to our courts is about as fundamental a right as I can imagine. This is why Hawai'i's Judiciary devotes so much energy to make it easier for people to access and understand our court system as well as work their way through it.

"In our district courts, for example, a significant number of individuals pursue claims without the benefit of counsel and rely on the many preprinted court forms that are available to assist them in processing their claims. These fill-in-the-blank type forms can be quite labor-intensive and time-consuming to complete. Thus, in keeping with our goal of enhancing access to the courts, we converted our district court forms to an electronic format. Forms are now available on computers at the public library, may be downloaded over the Internet, or purchased on diskettes at a nominal cost. Self-represented litigants, as well as attorneys and their clients, have benefited from this time- and money-saving modern technology. Of course, preprinted forms are still available for those of us who are uncomfortable around computers.

"If you tuned in to the public access stations during the past few months, you may have seen our new district court videos on traffic and small claims proceedings. These videos give step-by-step explanations of various options and procedures in plain, everyday language. The videos have also been dubbed in Ilocano and Korean, and the English-language version is captioned for the deaf and hearing impaired. All three versions of the videos are available in public libraries throughout the State.

"Because our immigrant community and its legal needs continue to grow, we have also established a Multilingual Lawline. Our non-English speaking citizens can now hear recorded messages about juvenile proceedings, domestic violence, divorce, and other law-related topics in seven different languages. By avoiding legalese and providing information in user-friendly formats, court users can now better evaluate and make knowledgeable decisions regarding their circumstances.

"Equally important, however, is a court user's ability to effectively maneuver through court proceedings. Over the last year, we gave much thought as to how we could better assist court users in finding where they need to go and what they need to do once they get there. As a result, the Ho'okele Court Navigation Project was born. Ho'okele will consist of a Court Concierge Program at the entrance to the courthouse and Customer Service Centers in those courts where many litigants are not represented by attorneys.

"Just as we make it easier for the public to understand and use the court system, so too must we fully utilize the talents of those who generously give of their time to serve as jurors. Each year, more than 63,000 Hawai'i citizens are called for jury service. This past fiscal year, more than 7,500 individuals actually served as jurors. As you are probably aware, many of our citizens who are called for jury service would rather be somewhere else. The strength of our jury trial system, however, depends in large part on the willingness of our citizens to participate in it. The jury trial, as envisioned by our forefathers, provides an opportunity for our citizens to directly participate in the decision-making process by assisting our judges in resolving disputes. We are, therefore, committed to finding ways to make jury service both meaningful and relevant.

"In furtherance of those goals, we implemented a Jury Innovations Pilot Project to study the effect of various changes to the traditional jury trial procedure. Jurors who serve in the courts participating in the pilot project are, among other things: (1) advised at the beginning of the trial, rather than at the end, about what each party must prove in order to win; (2) allowed to take notes; (3) instructed upon the law applicable to the case before, rather than after, the attorneys' closing arguments; and (4) allowed to submit questions that might be asked of witnesses. Jurors who have participated in the pilot project have told us that these changes helped them to better concentrate on the information presented and helped keep their attention throughout the trial. We firmly believe that, by making the jury service process more meaningful and relevant to those called upon to serve, we can increase juror satisfaction and, in turn, elevate public trust and confidence in the justice system.

"No discussion about change can be complete without addressing technology. Plainly and simply, the Judiciary's obsolete technology slows us down. For example, we have difficulty keeping track of the massive amounts of paperwork and information that are processed in our courts because the eleven or so computer systems that the Judiciary relies on are antiquated, limited in their applications, don't 'talk' to each other, and are in need of major overhaul or replacement. All of these factors significantly impact our ability to manage our cases effectively and efficiently, track and collect fines and penalties owed to the State, as well as restitution owed to victims of crime, and so forth. We are also racing against time to ensure that our computer applications are Year-2000 compatible and compliant.

"But all is not lost. In visionary legislation, you established the Judiciary Computer System Special Fund in 1996 to enable the Judiciary to address its critical technological changes and needs. We are diligently working on a plan to implement a statewide automated integrated case management system, that, when fully implemented, will allow courts at all levels to manage information associated with the individual cases, streamline work flow, organize data, ensure compliance with court orders, eliminate redundant data entry, generate reports, and handle repetitive tasks that presently require considerable manual effort. The Judiciary is also planning the design and installation of the necessary infrastructure to connect employees statewide on a common communications network.

"We recognize, however, that technology is only part of the solution to helping us manage our cases and information more effectively and efficiently. Thus, in July, the Judiciary began a systematic, in-depth process to critically re-examine its structure, procedures, and scope of functions with an eye toward increasing efficiency, reducing duplication, producing cost savings, and generating revenue. We firmly believe that this self-examination process will enable us to address future needs more effectively.

"We acknowledged, from the outset of the Court Improvement Process Initiative, that the Judiciary does some things solely because we've always done them and that there are some things that we should be doing, but we aren't, simply because we never have. This initiative is providing a forum in which to determine whether the Judiciary has moved beyond its mission, whether its processes can be streamlined, and whether its services can be performed at less cost. The answers to these questions will necessarily involve change and, whenever one talks about change, feelings of uncertainty and anxiety inevitably arise. Although we are aware that our Court Improvement Process Initiative has created, and will undoubtedly continue to create some uncertainty and anxiety, we cannot, and we must not, allow the fear of change to stand in the way of finding better avenues to service the people of Hawai'i. We ask for everyone's patience, understanding, and support as we consider various options.

"The initiatives I've mentioned -- improving access to the courts, jury reform, technology projects, and our Court Improvement Process -- all have one common purpose and that is to position the Judiciary to enter the 21st Century better prepared to meet the needs of the people of Hawai'i.

"The Judiciary, however, cannot succeed in isolation. The external agents of change are too great. A struggling economy, changes in divorce and employment rates, variations in demographics and lifestyle patterns, and overcrowded prisons place significant demands on our State court system and transform the types of conflicts that arise. The number of cases of domestic violence, crimes against property, and child abuse signal personal and social stresses on and among Hawai'i's people. And, business failings register the existence of the economic pressures on Hawai'i's business and financial communities.

"We cannot, however, fight change. John F. Kennedy understood this when he said: 'The one unchangeable certainty is that nothing is certain or unchangeable.' Our challenge is to continue our collaborative efforts to find appropriate and workable solutions around these external agents of change. In both your Standing and Conference Committee Reports last session, you expressed gratitude for the cooperative working relationship between the Judiciary and the Legislature during the session. We appreciate your sentiments and pledge to continue that cooperative relationship this session.

"We look forward to continuing the partnerships we have formed with the Executive Branch. For example, we are working very closely with the Attorney General's Office to facilitate the collection of fines and restitution; our Drug Court could not succeed without the full cooperation of the Department of Public Safety and the Department of Health; our Family Courts have worked hand in hand with the Department of Human Services to improve adoption procedures; and sheriffs from the Department of Public Safety provide much needed security for judges, staff and the public.

"We also continue to look forward to our collaborative efforts with the community at large. For example, earlier, I spoke about our most far-reaching efforts to date -- the Court Improvement Process Initiative. The draft recommendations generated by the initiative were based, in part, on the more than 750 surveys we received from interested individuals outside the Judiciary. I also spoke about our Jury Innovations Project. The Jury Innovations Committee, which formulated the project, includes former jurors. The Committee's recommendations also reflect community input obtained through three public meetings, a live, call-in program on 'Olelo, and written comments from the public. And, finally, the Judicial Council, which acts as an advisory board to the Chief Justice on matters concerning the administration of justice, has representation from the labor, business, medical, and legal communities, as well as from the Legislature and the media. Recently, the Judicial Council assisted in identifying public trust and confidence issues facing the Judiciary and developed strategies to address those issues. These issues and strategies were forwarded to a national committee organized by the American Bar Association, in cooperation with the Conference of Chief Justices and Conference of State Court Administrators. The national committee will use the input received from all fifty states to create the agenda for a National Conference on Building Public Trust and Confidence in the Justice System to be held this coming May in Washington, D.C. As you can see, the community has responded enthusiastically to our call for input, and we are grateful for its assistance so we can do our jobs better.

"When I look to the future, I see a modern, efficient, fair, and accessible Judiciary. But the Judiciary needs your help in making that vision a reality. Although a State of the Judiciary Address should not be confused with testimony at a budget hearing before the money committees, I would be remiss if I did not mention certain vital areas needing your assistance. First, because Hawai'i's Drug Court is an innovative, multi-disciplinary means of addressing an urgent community concern, we will be asking you this session to solidify the Drug Court's future by converting the temporary staff to permanent status.

"Second, despite the progress I noted in the area of technology, much work remains if a modern integrated case management system is to become a reality. The Computer System Special Fund is scheduled to terminate on June 30, 2000. Because court automation is a long-term and continuing endeavor, and because its implementation is critical to the Judiciary's goal of improving justice, access, and service to the public as well as increasing the efficiency, effectiveness, and productivity of our courts, the Judiciary will be seeking repeal of the sunset date on the fund.

"Third, the Ho'okele Court Navigation Project that I mentioned earlier cannot become a reality without your support. This customer-service oriented project requires staff in the entryways of the Oahu District and Circuit Courts to answer questions about court activities and to direct individuals to the appropriate sources of information. We will ask that you consider providing additional staff to implement the project.

"Fourth, I know you agree that no area creates more concern than domestic violence and child abuse in our State. We are, therefore, requesting funds for two additional Family Court judgeships to help stay abreast of these cases.

"And, finally, in order to attract and keep competent judges, we seek your support of the Judicial Salary Commission's recommendations to increase judicial compensation.

"Ladies and gentlemen -- our citizens look to our courts to protect their lives, liberties, property, communities, and democratic values. They expect the courts to administer the same justice whether the parties are rich or poor, well-known or obscure, powerful or powerless, victims or offenders. In that sense, we are not talking about the future at all. These are our responsibilities for today, as well as for tomorrow, and I pledge to continue to work with you to 'do justice.'

"I also pledge to stay in touch as we each work toward the 'big picture' of an integrated, pluralistic, and dynamic conflict resolution system. And, I pledge to communicate the progress that the Judiciary makes toward its goal of ensuring justice for all of our citizens.

"I thank you again for the privilege, ladies and gentlemen, of speaking to you today."

Speaker Say then rose and stated:

"Chief Justice Moon, thank you. Your words on the state of the Hawai'i Judiciary offers comfort and hope for all of us. We are fully cognizant and appreciative of the role of the Judicial branch as an equal partner, along with the Legislative and Executive branches, in the application of democracy and the protection of our constitutional rights.

"On behalf of Senate President Mizuguchi and the members of the Senate, and on behalf of the members of the House of Representatives, I assure you that the Legislature stands ready to address the issues which you so eloquently raised. And we look forward to working with the members of the Judiciary in resolving these issues.

"At this time, I declare this Joint Session of the Legislature to be adjourned."

At 10:40 o'clock a.m., Speaker Say declared the Joint Session adjourned.

MISCELLANEOUS COMMUNICATIONS

The following communications (Misc. Com. Nos. 15 through 17) were received by the Clerk and were placed on file:

Misc. Com. No. 15, transmitting a report from the Joint Legislative Committee on Long-Term Care appointed pursuant to H.B. No. 147, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, (Act 339) adopted by the Regular Session of 1997. The report reads as follows:

"PART I. BACKGROUND

Introduction

The population of residents in Hawai'i aged seventy and over is the fastest growing segment of the overall population. The population of disabled persons is also increasing gradually. As people age or become disabled, they need services to help them with the activities of daily living. These services are currently being provided by family members, professional organizations, and institutions and are sometimes entirely lacking. Ideally, a person should be able to age-in-place in a setting of the person's choosing, though this is not always possible. It is incumbent upon the Legislature to help Hawai'i's elderly and disabled persons to cope with daily living and to live with dignity. The approach to helping Hawai'i's elderly and disabled should be prompted by compassion and caring, although the problem is inextricably one of economics.

Hawai'i's citizens are faced with an overwhelming financial burden of caring for their elderly and disabled citizens. The elderly and disabled population needing long-term care (LTC) will continue to grow as the population ages. Nursing home costs often exceed a family's ability to pay, threatening a family's financial self-sufficiency. The cost per year in 1996 in a nursing home averaged about $38,000. This cost is only an average and varies widely across the country. In Hawai'i, the cost is substantially more. However, nursing home care is but one component of an array of LTC services options, including care at home and in community-based facilities.

Due to high institutional costs, it is likely that more home- and community-based services will become predominant. Services, such as personal care, chore, respite care, and day care are less costly than institutional care, but they are still expensive. For example, if one receives skilled nursing care in the home from a nurse three times a week for two hours per visit for a year, the cost is about $12,300. If one receives personal care in the home from a home health aide three times a week for two hours per visit for a year, the cost is about $8,400. These are national averages for 1996, with Hawai'i being characteristically higher.

For those who will rely on home- and community-based care, there are social as well as financial costs. To accommodate the demands of caregiving that grow as dependency increases over the years, caregivers (usually the family) work reduced hours at their jobs; adjust or abandon career and personal goals; place their own health in jeopardy; expose themselves to increased debilitation from overwork as they age; and retire earlier than intended, resulting in lower pensions and retirement benefits. This problem is magnified when one considers the high cost of living in Hawai'i and the necessity for people to hold two or more jobs. However, people in Hawai'i seem to prefer home- and community-based care in spite of these sacrifices.

Current methods of financing LTC involve predominantly Medicaid, private insurance, and personal assets. Medicaid which is limited to financially qualified persons of low income, pays for institutional care (about eighty per cent of all nursing home residents are dependent on Medicaid) and some home- and community-based services. However, Medicaid funding from the federal government cannot be relied upon in the future. Private insurance is not widespread, and most people do not have sufficient personal assets. Medicare does not pay for long-term care.

Since increasing numbers of Hawai'i's population will need LTC services, there is a compelling need to create an affordable method of financing those services. Unlike the past, federal and State moneys cannot be relied upon in the future. What Hawai'i needs is another method of financing that is affordable and suitable for the majority of residents who do not qualify for Medicaid, do not currently have private LTC insurance, and do not have sufficient personal assets.

No state has a universal (covering all persons) LTC program, whether tax-based or insurance-based, as distinguished from Medicaid programs that cover LTC services as medical coverage for qualified persons. Hawai'i would become the first state with a universal LTC program if the recommendations of the JLC are adopted.

Legislative Mandate

Act 339, Session Laws of Hawai'i 1997, established the Joint Legislative Committee on Long-Term Care (JLC). The purpose of Act 339 was to "...create a joint legislative committee to develop a sound financial plan to address a problem of compelling state interest, the current and future long-term care needs of the people of Hawai'i."

The JLC is composed of eight members: four members of the House of Representatives, of whom three are of the Democratic Party and one is of the Republican Party, all to be appointed by the Speaker of the House; and four members of the Senate, of whom three are of the Democratic Party and one is of the Republican Party, all to be appointed by the President of the Senate.

The members are: Senator Suzanne Chun Oakland and Representative Dennis Arakaki, Co-Chairs; Senators Les Ihara, Jr. (appointed in place of Senator Rosalyn Baker), Andrew Levin, and Sam Slom; and Representatives Marcus Oshiro, Paul Whalen, and Nobu Yonamine.

Approach of the JLC

The JLC held a series of eleven public meetings for input and discussion at the State Capitol on: September 5, 1997; September 29, 1997; October 16, 1997; October 27, 1997; November 13, 1997; January 8, 1998; June 1, 1998; June 30, 1998; August 3, 1998; October 2, 1998 (for status of proceedings); and October 20, 1998 and November 20, 1998 (to determine recommendations).

Information was provided by the Department of Human Services, Department of Health, the Executive Office on Aging, the Statewide Council on Developmental Disabilities, county agencies on aging and elderly affairs, life insurers, long-term care insurers, health insurers, health care associations, health care providers, advocacy organizations for the elderly and disabled, long-term care associations, nursing homes, adult residential care homes, business organizations, hospitals, hospices, the University of Hawai'i, the Governor's Blue Ribbon Panel on Living and Dying with Dignity, and interested individuals.

Based on the input obtained from the meetings, the JLC issued a Request for Proposals No. SH2-98 for Competitive Sealed Proposals to Provide a Plan to Finance Long-Term Care in Hawai'i on May 26, 1998, to obtain a preliminary actuarial analysis. A contract was awarded on June 29, 1998, to Dr. Lawrence H. Nitz, Associate Professor of Political Science at the University of Hawai'i, who has a background in research and consultation on LTC.

Dr. Nitz presented his recommendations regarding the establishment of a state-sponsored public trust fund verbally at the August 3, 1998, meeting of the JLC. The recommendations were formulated into a proposed financing plan which became an alternative model for the JLC, as explained in Part IV of this report. The plan was presented in outline form to the public by Dr. Nitz on behalf of the JLC in a series of statewide public briefings on: August 13, 1998, at Maui Community College; August 17, 1998, at the State Capitol Auditorium; August 18, 1998, at Pearl City Elementary School; August 19, 1998, at the King Kamehameha Hotel, Kona; August 20, 1998, at the Hawai'i Naniloa Hotel, Hilo; August 24, 1998, at Castle High School; and August 25, 1998, at the Kauai County Council Chambers.

The JLC was assisted in research and recording minutes of public meetings and notes on public briefings by the Senate Majority Office (Dennis Chu), House Majority Staff Office (Wes Lum), and Legislative Reference Bureau (Peter Pan). Research was performed to obtain requested information about LTC services and Medicaid programs in Hawai'i and other states.

PART II.

THE CURRENT STATE OF LONG-TERM CARE IN HAWAII

What is Long-Term Care?

The JLC formulated the following definition of LTC:

'Long-term care is the organization and delivery of a wide range of health and human services to people who are severely disabled or limited in their functional capacities for a relatively long and indefinite period of time. In medical terms, long-term care is chronic care: the aim is management, control of symptoms, and maintenance of function. Long-term care has a vast non-medical dimension, and many individuals requiring long-term care are not sick. They may have been injured, or were born with a developmental disability that limits their activities, but otherwise may be perfectly healthy.'

The JLC supplemented this definition with a vision statement:

'Long-term care refers to a comprehensive range of personal, medical, mental health, and social services developed and coordinated to meet the physical, social, and emotional needs of people of all ages with disabilities. These comprehensive services should meet peoples' changing needs over an extended period of time. Long-term care services can be delivered in an institution, the community, or the home.'

The definition used by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners' is helpful in understanding the insurance perspective:

'Long-term care involves a wide variety of services for people with a prolonged physical illness, disability or cognitive disorder (such as Alzheimer's disease). Long-term care is not one service, but many different services aimed at helping people with chronic conditions compensate for limitations in their ability to function independently. Long-term care differs from traditional medical care as it is designed to assist a person to maintain his or her level of functioning, as opposed to care or services that are designed to rehabilitate or correct certain medical problems. Long-term care services may include, but are not limited to, help with daily activities at home, such as bathing and dressing, respite care, home health care, adult day care, and care in a nursing home.'

Scope of Frailties Requiring LTC Services

Long-term care services typically are required when a person needs assistance with:

1. Mobility: difficulty getting in and out of bed, standing up and sitting down, walking, and moving from bed to chair or visa versa;
2. Bathing: using grab bars or lifts, having a person to help set up the bath and to wash, getting in and out of a tub or shower, and washing the body;
3. Toileting: safely getting to and from the toilet, getting undressed and dressed, cleaning up, and performing basic personal hygiene;
4. Continence: voluntarily controlling bladder and bowel function, caring for incontinence if it occurs, cleaning up after accidents, and someone to remind to go to the bathroom;
5. Dressing: putting on and taking off clothes, and managing buttons and zippers;
6. Eating: shopping for food, cooking and serving food, feeding oneself, grasping utensils, and cleaning face and hands; and
7. Daily Living: going to doctor appointments, shopping, yard work, doing laundry, cleaning house, going to occasional restaurant meals, and going to library.

Levels of LTC Services: Categories

Community-Based Care - This category of care helps the elderly and disabled maintain independence and encourages continued involvement in their communities. Services include but are not limited to adult day care, adult day health care, nursing level care in specialized homes, foster care, and social and recreational programs at senior citizen centers.

In-Home Care - As capabilities diminish to semi-independence and the elderly or disabled person becomes more homebound and less able to participate fully in the community, LTC services then shift to the home setting. Home-based services seek to support, not supplant, the existing informal (family) support network. Services include homemaking, transportation, home visits from physicians, nurses, therapists, social workers, and attendants who provide medical and personal care, and home modification assistance.

Institutional Care - Usually referring to nursing homes, this level of care is for persons with significantly diminished capabilities that warrant placement in an institution providing medical supervision and nursing care around the clock. There are various levels of institutional care that are licensed for the level of care being provided and the number of patients, including skilled nursing facilities, intermediate care facilities, and adult residential care homes.

Assisted Living Facilities - This is a recent development in LTC. Assisted living facilities are a combination of housing, health care services, and personalized supportive services designed to respond to individual needs and to promote choice, responsibility, independence, privacy, dignity, and individuality. Assisted living facilities provide private living quarters but with communal dining and recreational/social activities, a hybrid of hotel, retirement home, and elderly apartment complex. Residents have their own apartment-like homes, where they are allowed to 'age in place.' There is usually on-call, on-premises nursing services, health monitoring, and medication administration assistance. Assisted living facilities cost less than nursing homes. In 1996 in Hawai'i, estimated costs were in a range of $1,800 to $2,300 per month.

Financing of LTC

Medicaid Coverage - Medicaid is a need-based program of medical coverage, paid for by matching federal and state moneys that pays for medical expenses of a qualified recipient, including hospital, LTC facilities, adult care homes, and some home- and community-based care. Eligibility for Medicaid is determined by federal requirements using a percentage of income formula specific to the type of care.

Medicare Coverage - Medicare is a Social Security program for persons sixty-five years of age and older, or younger for a qualifying disability. There are two parts to Medicare coverages, Part A and Part B.

Part A, for hospital insurance, is mandatory. This covers hospitalization for up to ninety days with a deductible to be paid by the patient for each hospital stay of $736; skilled nursing facility for up to twenty days (total coverage) and an additional eighty days (co-pay required); part-time home health care, intermittent skilled care, home health aide services, durable medical equipment and supplies, and occupational and physical therapy; and hospice care for up to two ninety-day periods, and one thirty-day period and one extension period of indefinite duration if necessary.

Part B, for medical insurance, is voluntary. This covers doctor services and many other medical services, outpatient hospital care, ambulance services, and X-rays, with eighty percent of approved costs being covered after an annual deductible of $100.

It is important to understand that Medicare does not pay for LTC, whether Part A or Part B. It is a health insurance program that individuals pay for as part of Social Security to provide medical and hospital care when individuals are over age sixty-five.

Private Insurance - Insurance policies vary widely in coverages. Some policies cover only stays in nursing homes. Others cover only care in a person's own home. Still others cover both nursing home and home care. In addition, many policies also cover services provided in adult day care centers or other community facilities. Costs of a policy vary widely, depending on the coverages, age of the insured, and underwriting standards.

PART III.

PLANS AND OPTIONS CONSIDERED BY THE JLC

Social Insurance

The 'Hawai'i Family Hope Financing Plan' (Family Hope) is a form of social insurance with mandatory participation by anyone with income above a specified threshold, with automatic coverage for non-working spouses. Family Hope was proposed in House Bill No. 31, Regular Session of 1993, as an outgrowth of two earlier reports submitted to the Legislature by the Executive Office on Aging: one entitled, 'Financing Long-Term Care' (January, 1991), and the other on the findings and recommendations of The Long-Term Care Financing Advisory Board (February, 1992). The Advisory Board was created pursuant to Act 133, Session Laws of Hawai'i 1991, 'to advise the Executive Office on Aging on the establishment of a comprehensive long-term care financing program for Hawai'i residents', including the 'feasibility of creating a public fund to be administered by a public body.'

As proposed in H.B. No. 31, Family Hope would have required a graduated 'contribution tax' on income to be paid by 'every unmarried resident individual and every married resident individual who does not make a single return jointly with the individual's resident spouse'. A 'Hawai'i Long-Term Care Trust Fund System' would have been established to '...administer a comprehensive long-term care financing program funded by annual mandatory contribution taxes and other sources...' Payments would have been made for covered long-term care services not covered by medical or other insurance, such as: primary institutional LTC benefits (nursing homes), primary noninstitutional LTC benefits (home- and community-based care), and associated noninstitutional LTC benefits (homemaker services, companion services, home meal delivery, and chore services).

As proposed to the JLC by Melvin Sakurai, Ph.D, Family Hope consultant to the Executive Office on Aging, the Family Hope plan was modified to include a mandatory stand-alone 'back end' program covering nursing home care financed by mandatory taxes. Benefits would begin after one year of care, with private insurance covering the first year, and a two-part mandatory-voluntary comprehensive program, covering home- and community-based care, which splits benefits into two parts, one covered by the mandatory tax and the other by voluntary LTC private insurance (coverages for each part were not specified).

Both options require the imposition of a dedicated tax. The stand-alone back end program entices private insurers to fill the gap for the first year. The first part of the two-part program is to allow voluntary LTC private insurance to build awareness and public acceptance for the second part, a mandatory tax. Viability of the two-part program could be enhanced by encouraging large employer groups to offer LTC insurance policies to their employees.

Private LTC Insurance

Private insurance to cover LTC is of recent origin in the nation. The first policies were issued in Hawai'i in the late 1980's. Only now has there been sufficient actuarial data to 'price' such policies, i.e., to determine the claims costs and policy premiums.

Long-term care insurance was authorized in Hawai'i in 1989. As defined by section 431:10A-521, HRS:

'Long-term care insurance' means any insurance policy or rider advertised, marketed, offered, or designed to provide coverage for not less than twelve consecutive months for each covered person on an expense incurred, indemnity, prepaid or other basis, for one or more necessary or medically necessary diagnostic, preventive, therapeutic, rehabilitative, maintenance, or personal care services, provided in a setting other than an acute care unit of a hospital. The term includes group and individual annuities and life insurance policies or riders that provide directly or that supplement long-term care insurance. The term also includes a policy or rider that provides for payment of benefits based upon cognitive impairment or loss of functional capacity. Long-term care insurance may be issued by insurers, fraternal benefit societies, nonprofit health, hospital, and medical service corporations, prepaid health plans, health maintenance organizations, or any similar organization. Long-term care insurance shall not include any insurance policy offered primarily to provide basic medicare supplement coverage, basic hospital expense coverage, basic medical-surgical expense coverage, hospital confinement indemnity coverage, major medical expense coverage, disability income or related asset-protection coverage, accident only coverage, specified disease or specified accident coverage, or limited benefit health coverage.'

As of September, 1997, there were fifty mainland-based insurers underwriting LTC policies in Hawai'i, according to the Insurance Division. There were no Hawai'i-based insurers underwriting LTC policies, other than those acting as agents for mainland insurers. The Hawai'i Medical Service Association (HMSA), as a mutual benefit society, has offered LTC policies since 1991. Coverages vary widely from policy to policy, ranging from home health care to nursing home care, including acute hospital care and combinations and variations of coverages.

The JLC considered proposals for universal private LTC insurance in Hawai'i, so that everyone would be covered by a policy. The JLC concluded that an LTC insurance policy should have the following features:

1. Funding by a 'flat' age-graded advanced-funded guaranteed renewable premium. Age-graded premiums vary according to the insured's age at the time of purchase. The premium should be locked in for the life of the policy. Advance-funding provides for the collection of more money than actually needed to cover current risk in order to build up reserves to cover future liabilities;
2. 'Anti-lapse' protection, so that the policy is not canceled when the insured does not make a premium payment (common occurrence with the elderly who may forget to make a premium payment);
3. Full institutional and community-based LTC benefits;
4. Inflation-adjusted benefit payouts;
5. Reduced paid-up non-forfeiture benefit to provide a reduced level of benefits after a policy lapses;
6. A 'take all comers' requirement, so that no one is disqualified from purchasing a policy; and
7. Strong regulatory controls, modeled after the National Association of Insurance Commissioners Model Code.

The JLC considered the following proposals to make private LTC insurance universal:

1. State-funded subsidy to encourage the voluntary individual purchase of qualified private LTC insurance policies, such as purchase vouchers (Since this proposal is not currently feasible due to the State's economy, the JLC did not seriously consider it, but it is a viable possibility after a universal LTC system is implemented);

2. Income tax credits; and
3. Mandatory employer sponsored group LTC insurance benefits, modeled after mandatory prepaid health insurance.

The Insurance Division was unable to provide data on the current number of persons insured under a private LTC insurance policy or on the loss ratios for LTC insurance policies in Hawai'i. The JLC was concerned that very few people in Hawai'i (or anywhere in the nation) purchase LTC insurance, because the matter does not become a concern until one reaches the age of fifty; the premiums are expensive; and LTC insurance is generally not appropriate for lower-income persons (who could probably rely upon Medicaid).

Expanded Home/Community-Based Services

Expanding home- and community-based services is not a financing strategy, but is an approach to alleviating the necessity for expensive institutional care and reducing LTC costs to manageable levels. Proponents of this approach maintain that providing LTC in the home or in a community setting will keep a person sufficiently healthy to avoid a nursing home, and will satisfy most LTC needs, even for those who are bedridden; therefore institutional care should be reserved for those with the most serious conditions needing the most care. Moreover, the culture in Hawai'i prefers at-home care for the elderly and disabled.

The counter argument is that nursing home care can be unavoidable, depending on the severity of a medical condition which is independent of whether or not home- and community-based care is provided.

Strategies for increasing home- and community-based care include providing:

1. More services involving intervention/outreach, prevention/screening, and informational programs;
2. Single point of entry and managed care to channel people away from institutional settings; and
3. Alternative congregate care settings, such as assisted living facilities or adult residential care homes.

While the expansion of home- and community-based services could lower LTC costs to the individual and enhance the quality of life for persons needing LTC, the net total LTC spending for the State as a whole would increase for the following reasons:

1. According to the federal General Accounting Office ('Long-Term Care: Current Issues and Future Directions', 1995): '...while home- and community-based programs were less costly on a per person basis, they generally raised total long-term care costs. Limited reductions in institutional use were more than offset by increased demand for home- and community-based care ...';
2. The frail elderly, whether as a result of their medical condition or as a result of prolonged home- and community-based care, may become so debilitated so as to need institutional care in a nursing home;
3. Early intervention and screening programs would likely identify more persons needing institutional care by uncovering previous unserved needs, thereby prompting delivery of appropriate institutional services earlier and for longer periods; and

4. Payment for non-institutional care is inherently more susceptible to abuse and fraud, although this could be deterred by quality assurance programs and fiscal accounting monitoring.

The State's Department of Human Service believes that Hawai'i's unique culture and values postpone costly nursing home care.

German Health Insurance System

Germany provides LTC to its citizens as part of its universal government-sponsored health insurance system. In 1994, the German Parliament established mandatory LTC insurance to provide benefits to persons with physical, mental illness, or other mental incapacity who regularly need help in daily living for at least six months. There are benefits for nursing home care and community-based care. Financing is through a tax on employers and employees of 1.7 percent of income up to $48,000 of income. To compensate employers for the tax, one paid vacation day was given up by employees. The self-employed pay 3.4 percent; an employer tax to cover pensioners is paid by the pension system; and the unemployed have their tax paid for by the unemployment system. The system has generated such a large pool of money that the tax is being adjusted downward.

Administration is through the large number of non-profit, quasi-public insurance companies which administer the national health insurance.

Benefits include: (1) reimbursement for community-based services; (2) cash payments to family caregivers; and (3) payments to nursing homes. Levels of disability are predetermined and schedule of payments for services is established.

Germany has experienced the following benefits in its LTC insurance system:

1. Significant savings in welfare budgets;
2. Greater sense of financial security for middle-class families;
3. Significant increase in family caregiving, with eighty percent electing to have cash paid to a family caregiver;
4. Significant decrease in nursing home admissions;
5. Expansion of private, innovative community-based services due to financial incentives; and
6. More responsiveness to consumers from home care agencies, due to increased competition.

The Kaigo Hoken System of Japan

The Kaigo Hoken System is Japan's government-based plan of providing LTC services for the Twenty-first Century. The plan covers citizens age forty and over. Citizens pay a monthly premium to the local government which acts as an insurer. Coverage is for community-based care and institutional care through a system of reimbursements and co-payment requirements of ten percent. The plan is a departure from Japan's current and traditional tax supported free medical service system. The start date is the year 2000, with mandatory participation for all citizens age forty and over.

Costs for reimbursements for community-based care are calculated to be $1,000 per month for the first level of care up to $2,143 per month for the fifth level of care. Monthly costs for institution-based care are calculated to be $2,071 for intermediate care facilities; $2,285 for skilled nursing facilities; and $3,071 for sub-acute geriatric hospitals. These figures are calculated at seventy-five percent of actual costs and do not include the ten percent co-payments.

Part A and Part B Approach

The JLC considered a two-part approach to financing LTC in Hawai'i, modeled after Medicare with mandatory (Part A) and optional (Part B) plans. Under this proposal, the mandatory part would cover institutional or nursing home care supported by a dedicated tax revenue source. The optional Part B portion would cover home- and community-based care.

Private LTC insurance policies vary in their coverage of their home- and community-based benefits; however, most cover 'front-end' or lower-level disability assistance, and do not provide enough community-based care; lack anti-lapse provisions (policy terminates for failure to pay the premium); and do not effectively adjust for inflation in paying benefits.

The Part B optional plan considered by the JLC would be a plan publicly sponsored or administered by the private insurance sector, mutual benefit societies, or health maintenance organizations. The plan would provide coverage for two or three years of home- and community-based care with a benefits package to be delineated in an actuarial design that accounts for costs and degrees of impairment. The plan would be offered to all interested persons, with facilitation of purchase through health insurance companies, employers, and labor unions. Policies would contain anti-lapse provisions.

State-Created Private Insurance Company

Concerned that LTC insurance companies could reap financial windfalls at the expense of policyholders in selling policies to employers under an employer mandated scheme, the JLC also explored the possibility of requiring the Hawai'i Employers' Mutual Insurance Company (HEMIC) to sell LTC, or creating an entity as a subsidiary of HEMIC to underwrite and market LTC insurance policies to the general public and to government workers. HEMIC was created by Act 261, Session Laws of Hawai'i 1996, to sell workers' compensation insurance and employers' liability insurance to companies which could not obtain coverage through insurance companies. These companies were known as assigned risks and were relegated to the residual market. In effect, HEMIC became an independent insurer for assigned risks. HEMIC has been successful in its underwriting and financial operations.

The JLC is aware that HEMIC is restricted by statute to workers' compensation and employers' liability insurance. However, there are significant advantages to using HEMIC, rather than establishing a public trust fund, including most significantly:

1. Avoiding the financial requirements and solvency risks inherent with a public trust fund;
2. Taking advantage of the existing administrative infrastructure of HEMIC to avoid administrative expenses;
3. Providing a ready market for selling policies through employers; and
4. Providing competition to LTC insurance companies.

This approach provides possibilities of lower premiums.

PART IV.

STRUCTURING AN LTC PLAN

Preliminary Actuarial Analysis

Pursuant to a request for proposals (RFP) prepared by the Legislative Reference Bureau, a contract was awarded to Dr. Nitz, who in turn hired John Wilkins, a qualified actuary in LTC insurance and actuarial consultant to the California Public Employees Retirement System (CALPERS), to advise on establishing a public trust fund. After consultation with Mr. Wilkins, Dr. Nitz reported the following:

1. The preliminary analysis took into account current and pending models of LTC in California, Florida, and Ohio. Based on discussions with the JLC members, the CALPERS model was the focus because it is a voluntary program for public employees;
2. Based on Hawai'i's difficult economic circumstances, it is more reasonable to implement a totally voluntary, front-end program that provides a three to four year program of home- and community-based services that includes assisted living facilities and adult residential care homes as valid community service options. In order to control costs, CALPERS requested bids nationwide from professional third-party administrators to administer the desired package of LTC benefits. Hawai'i should do the same and not restrict itself to in-state insurers to achieve similar cost control;
3. Because Hawai'i's program is intended to be entirely voluntarily, privately financed, requiring no new taxes, as inexpensive as possible, and covering as many people as possible, the actual number of people covered may be fewer than many expect. Employer programs may reach twenty percent participation at most, but typically do not exceed five to ten percent participation. In order to attain ten percent enrollment, it is necessary to offer low premiums and aggressively market the product. Large groups such as public employee unions, private employee unions, large businesses, and trade association groups, should be targeted for Hawai'i's program enrollment. Even if only a small number of members from each group decide to sign up, the gross number of these individuals in the aggregate may form a large enough critical mass to make the program workable and affordable; and
4. Consideration should be given to a state-subsidized program by means of vouchers, tax credits, and direct payments to encourage enrollment.

Mr. Wilkins' findings were submitted to the JLC in the form of a report entitled, 'Actuarial Issues for the Proposed Long-Term Care Program of Hawai'i', for the development of a state-sponsored LTC program.

Alternatives for a Proposed Plan

The JLC developed alternative proposals for a model LTC plan that would preserve personal assets, promote individual peace of mind, relieve family economic pressure, avoid possible reliance upon Medicaid, and stimulate the economy by nurturing the LTC industry in Hawai'i. The first alternative is to create a state-sponsored plan by establishing a public trust fund. The fund would be governed by a board of trustees and operate as an underwriter of LTC policies or as a marketing mechanism. The fund would underwrite or market LTC insurance policies, or both, to government and non-government employees and would be financed by premiums or by taxes.

As a premium-based underwriter, the fund would operate in a manner similar to a private insurance company by collecting premiums, accumulating reserves, processing and paying claims either directly or through a third-party administrator, and paying administrative costs. This operation is similar to CALPERS. Enrollment in the plan would be voluntary. The plan would target large groups, including employer organizations, labor unions, retiree groups, and trade associations. The board of trustees would hire a private sector third-party administrator to administer the fund, preferably a large mainland company with proven experience in administering LTC programs. In turn, the administrator would hire an independent actuary to construct the specifications for the program and would also hire private sector care coordinators (case managers) to administer the benefits.

As a marketer, the fund would select a private LTC insurer to underwrite the policy to be sold through the fund. This operation is similar to the Hawai'i Public Employees Health Fund (HPEHF) in providing prepaid health insurance to public employees.

A second alternative is to add LTC insurance to HEMIC or create an entity as a subsidiary of HEMIC, as discussed above. This alternative would be financed through premiums from policyholders, who could be government and non-government employees.

A third alternative is for the State to facilitate the purchase of private LTC insurance policies. This can be accomplished through tax incentives. An income tax deduction for employers is an employee benefit that employers may find desirable. The JLC believes that any loss in revenue to the State would not be appreciable and would be more than off-set by the benefits of having large numbers of people insured for LTC. The State would need to increase public awareness about the necessity of planning ahead and purchasing LTC insurance at a young age; mandate the offering of LTC policies through large groups such as state and county governments, private employers, labor organizations, and professional, trade, and occupational associations; and provide income tax deductions for the purchase of LTC policies. The income tax deductions would apply to employees and self-employed as allowed under Internal Revenue Code section 213(d)(1)(C), (d)(1)(D), (d)(7), and (d)(10) for the amount of premium paid for LTC policies; and to employers, organizations, and associations for the amount of premiums paid in whole or in part for LTC policies purchased by their employees or members.

This alternative has other significant advantages:

1. The State would not become an underwriter or compete with private LTC insurers;
2. Inherent liabilities and solvency concerns of a public trust fund would be avoided;
3. Creating more bureaucracy with its attendant costs to administer a public trust fund would not be necessary; and
4. New private LTC insurance products have been developed and are ready to be mass marketed pending regulatory approval.

PART V.

CONCLUSIONS

Findings

1. In the current economy, it is not realistic to propose a universal coverage, mandatory LTC financing package that covers home- and community-based care as well as nursing home care. Additional taxes may cause a burden which the majority of people may not be able to afford.

2. Most payments for home- and community-based LTC services are made by the patients or their families. Paying for these costs through an insurance program would minimize expenditures by patients and their families. The costs of these services can be controlled by LTC insurance underwriting principles. In effect, the risk and burden of payment is shifted to an insurer in return for a payment of a premium. Therefore, it may be useful for the State to promote this form of voluntary insurance by helping to define the most typical package of benefits that individuals would want to cover, assessing the genuine likelihood of needing specific services, and establishing regulatory conditions that would guarantee that benefit payments would be available once premiums had been paid, should the insured person become disabled and need the help promised by the policy.

3. The typical LTC insurance policy is deficient in one or more of the following ways:

- Offering excessive coverage for 'front-end' or low-level disability assistance;
- No appreciable coverage for community-based care;
- No anti-lapse protection;
- No adjustment for inflation in paying benefits, resulting in inadequate payments to providers and diminished services; and
- Inadequate regulatory scheme regarding insurance reserves.

4. Consumer groups, notably retiree organizations and labor groups, are interested in LTC insurance coverage that falls within a range that their members feel are affordable. A number of employee organizations have put serious thought and effort into finding such insurance packages, often with only limited success -- the packages were often too expensive, or failed to provide protection in the long run.

5. A state-sponsored public trust fund is financially imprudent at this time due to the State's economic condition. The State should be cautious about taking on added financial exposure. The JLC received numerous questions about the state-sponsored public trust fund and financing plan proposed by Dr. Nitz, first unveiled at a JLC meeting on August 3, 1998, which was before the JLC was aware of HMSA's plan to offer an LTC policy that may meet or closely meet the JLTC criteria and specifications. More questions were raised at the public briefings.

The general public reaction to Dr. Nitz's proposed plan at the public briefings was in support for the plan and commendation for the JLC's efforts, but with recurrent reservations about the affordability of premiums, possible disqualification for some pre-existing conditions, and being too little and too late for senior citizens of the present. It was explained that a non-mandatory, premium-based financing system cannot have comparable benefits to a universal, mandatory, tax-based system. A tax-based system is able to spread the risk more evenly over a larger population and can accumulate larger reserves over a period of time. However, a mandatory tax is not feasible at the present.

6. HMSA is preparing to offer, subject to regulatory approval, an insurance policy for LTC that is reportedly very similar to the JLC proposal. Furthermore, HMSA reportedly is using the same administrator on the mainland (the best in the country, according to Dr. Nitz) that the JLC would have recommended the State to use, thereby making that administrator unavailable to the State. The JLC was informed that HMSA plans to begin marketing its LTC policy in December, 1998, or January, 1999.

A readily available mass market for HMSA's LTC policy would be the HPEHF, but it is as yet uncertain whether the HPEHF will select HMSA or any other LTC carrier.

7. There are three alternatives for a proposed plan:

- Relying upon private sector LTC insurers to market policies, which could be facilitated by requiring employers to offer a LTC policy to their employees and by enacting tax incentives for employers and employees, and others who purchase a LTC policy; or

- Developing a state-sponsored plan by establishing a public trust fund to underwrite or market LTC policies; or
- Using a state-created entity such as the Hawai'i Employers' Mutual Insurance Company to underwrite and to market LTC policies.

Although the first alternative can be implemented immediately because the private insurance market is far ahead of the State in providing for LTC services, the second and third alternatives could serve to cover government as well as non-government employees and would provide a more equitable and efficient manner of providing universal LTC.

8. The need for nursing home care remains unmitigated in spite of home- and community-based care. Most people at some time in their aging will face the prospect of entering a nursing home. The attendant cost of nursing home care is prohibitive for most people. This causes a great deal of worry and anxiety for elders and their families, not just those over fifty years old. A universal LTC program would be incomplete if it did not accommodate nursing home care.

Recommendations

1. The JLC believes that the proposal to increase the availability of private LTC insurance policies has significant potential.

This proposal however, has drawbacks -- notably that the State loses much control over structuring coverages and underwriting standards for a universal LTC program. Accordingly, the JLC recommends that legislation be introduced in the 1999 legislative session to:

- Amend existing long-term care insurance statutes to provide for desirable minimum underwriting requirements consistent with a universal, cost-effective, and voluntary LTC insurance program;
- Require large groups, such as employers and associations, to offer LTC insurance coverage to employees and members at no cost to the employer or association; and
- Provide tax incentives for employers to offer LTC insurance to employees and for employees and self-employed to purchase LTC insurance.

2. The JLC cannot, at this time, make a recommendation as to an appropriate, adequate, and affordable universal LTC financing plan since there has not been a comprehensive actuarial LTC study. Accordingly, the JLC recommends that the Office of the Governor commission immediately a comprehensive actuarial study of the entire population of the State. The actuarial study should analyze the three JLC alternatives, recommend an alternative, and address whether the plan under the recommended alternative should:

- Be voluntary or mandatory;
- Be administered through private insurance, a state fund, or a state entity as a subsidiary of HEMIC;
- Cover public and private employees, retirees, and other members of the general public;
- Be premium or tax-based funding; and
- Include types of care, such as home- and community-based care, adult residential care homes, assisted living facilities, nursing home care, hospice care, and respite care. (Due to the State's poor economy at this time, the JLC recommends that the State consider including nursing home care as a mandated benefit in any LTC plan, perhaps in three to four years.)

The JLC recommends that the Governor expend the $150,000 budget appropriation to the Hawai'i Public Employees Health Fund for fiscal year 1998-1999 (BUF 142, Seq. 95) for an actuarial study on LTC and any available funds under the jurisdiction of the Insurance Division to conduct a comprehensive actuarial LTC study. If the Governor does not expend these funds, the JLC recommends that an appropriation of $300,000 be made to the legislature for this purpose.

3. The Insurance Commissioner recommends, and the JLC concurs:

- That an appropriation be made to enable the Commissioner to hire or contract with a qualified LTC actuary and to hire more staff to adequately review LTC insurance filings; and
- That all LTC insurers, including HMSA, be placed under the Hawai'i Life and Disability Insurance Guarantee Association for purposes of offering some form of protection to consumers in case of insolvency.

JLC Co-Chairs Senator Suzanne Chun Oakland and Representative Dennis Arakaki, and other members of the JLC will jointly sponsor the introduction of two bills incorporating these ideas for consideration by the 1999 legislative session.

Misc. Com. No. 16, transmitting copies of a report from the Joint Legislative Committee on Long-Term Care Financing, created pursuant to Act 339, Session Laws of Hawai'i, 1997, and having been directed to report to the Legislature by H.C.R. No. 225, H.D. 1, S.D. 1 (1998) entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING A STUDY TO ASSESS STRATEGIES FOR ORGANIZING THE VARIOUS FORMS OF RESIDENTIAL CARE PROVIDERS." The report reads as follows:

"PART I. BACKGROUND

Introduction

Hawai'i's citizens are faced with an overwhelming financial burden of caring for their elderly and disabled residents. The elderly and disabled population needing long-term care (LTC) will continue to grow as the population ages. The cost of nursing home care is currently the highest of all types of long-term care and is continuing to escalate. Consequently, long-term residential care has become a realistic and cost-effective alternative.

Unfortunately, the organization and regulation of residential care facilities in Hawai'i are fragmented. This tends to reduce cost-effectiveness and hamper operational effectiveness of the delivery of residential care services. There is a lack of overall direction and guidance at the state level regarding the delivery of long-term care to Hawai'i residents. Specifically, there is no vision of how residential care facilities and services may be used to alleviate the burden of long-term care in the State. This is reflected in the fragmented structure of regulation for a plethora of residential care category types in both the Hawai'i Revised Statutes and the Hawai'i Administrative Rules.

There is, therefore, a compelling need to clearly define how residential care facilities and their services can be used. To facilitate this vision, there is a corollary need to re-examine how these facilities are organized for regulatory purposes. Based on a more rational, consolidated, and equitable reorganization of the residential care system, practical operational improvements can then be made to benefit consumers of the system.

Legislative Mandate

Your Joint Legislative Committee (JLC) was created by Act 339, 1997. The JLC members were: Senator Suzanne Chun Oakland and Representative Dennis Arakaki, Co-Chairs; former Senator Rosalyn Baker, Senators Andrew Levin, and Sam Slom; and Representatives Marcus Oshiro, Paul Whalen, and Noboru Yonamine.

H.C.R. No. 225, H.D. 1, S.D. 1 (1998), directed the JLC to create a Subcommittee to study long-term care residential facilities in Hawai'i. H.C.R. No. 225 also directed the Subcommittee to confer with the Healthcare Association of Hawai'i, the American Association of Retired Persons, the Departments of Human Services and Health, the Home Care Association of Hawai'i, the Hawai'i Long-Term Care Association, the State Planning Council on Developmental Disabilities, the Hawai'i Nurses Association, the United Home Care Providers of Hawai'i, and the Executive Office on Aging. The Subcommittee members are: Co-Chairs Senator Chun Oakland and Representative Arakaki; Violy Bernadino, Ruth Dias, Maria Etrata, Nancy McGulkin, Kookie Moon-Ng, Bob Ogawa, Roy Piliin, Rose Ann Poyzer, Marilyn Seely, Pat Snyder, Stephan Torak, Joan White, and Helen Yoshimi.

H.C.R. No. 225 also directed the Legislative Reference Bureau to provide research information to the JLC and to assist in drafting the final report.

Approach of the JLCs Subcommittee

The Subcommittee met as a whole on July 22, August 10, August 24, September 8, September 21, October 5, October 19, November 16, and November 24, 1998. In addition, the Subcommittee also met in four separate working subgroups numerous times over the course of the legislative interim.

The Subcommittee conferred with all of the organizations as directed by H.C.R. 225, either through direct membership on the Subcommittee or through participation as additional resource persons invited to attend Subcommittee meetings. These participants included: Espe Cadavona, Yvonne de Luna, Annie Fernandez, Cullen Hayashida, Richard Hioki, Bryan Kagihara, Lita Posis, Angel Ramos, Mildred Ramsey, Kevin Sypniewski, Garrett Toguchi, and Will Young. In addition, information and input were obtained from representatives of the following organizations: Alliance of Residential Care Administrators, Big Island Adult Residential Care Homes, and United Home of Group Operators.

The Subcommittee Co-Chairs were aware that another resolution, namely H.C.R. No. 139 (1998), requested holding a Governors Conference on the Future Role of the Residential Care Home Industry. Accordingly, the Co-Chairs decided not to mount a duplicative and parallel effort but, instead, build on the work of the Conference. The Co-Chairs believe that this approach is more logical and efficient while appropriately addressing the issues raised in H.C.R. No. 225. Consequently, the Subcommittee examined the three main recommendations that emerged from the Governors Conference. These recommendations were to:

- (1) Use a uniform assessment tool across facility types;
- (2) Implement a single entry point concept and process for all non-institutional residential care facilities in Hawai'i; and
- (3) Improve the regulatory environment to reduce fragmentation in the residential care home industry by consolidating and simplifying organizational categories of facilities, increasing uniformity of regulations across facility types, and promoting parity of provider reimbursement for similar services regardless of facility type.

The Subcommittee directed its attention to an extensive examination of these three issues and makes the following findings.

PART II.

SUBSTANTIVE ISSUES

Guiding Principles: The Subcommittee adopted the following guiding principles in dealing with the three issues named above:

- Achieve and maintain high standards of services for clients.
- Make residential care a consumer-friendly system.
- Streamline and improve by simplifying access to the system.
- Reduce fragmentation and overlap in services.
- Increase uniformity of regulation and reimbursement across facility types.
- Promote reimbursement parity: pay providers on the basis of cost of services and not facility type or site of service delivery.

1. Uniform Assessment Tool

The Problem: The Subcommittee recognized that not all long-term care residents have the same needs or require the same level of care. The current system is fragmented. Different types of residential care service providers offer different, similar, and sometimes overlapping services. To comply with different state laws and funding source mandates, agencies and service providers are forced to use separate assessment tools for their residents. In other words, residents are often assessed more than once by more than one agency or service provider in order to receive the appropriate services and as their needs change over time. Moreover, data elements that are not standardized may not be easily shared between agencies or providers.

This inefficient redundancy and lack of uniformity can be at least partially alleviated if patient assessment can be done more uniformly. Data that are collected must be standardized so that they can be shared without modification by agencies and providers. Agencies and providers need to agree on a minimum data set and to standardize all data elements in a common assessment tool. Supplementing this approach, a re-organization of categories or types of service providers (see "3. Regulatory Environment" below) should also help to reduce differences and enhance uniform collection of data.

The Subcommittee met as a whole and in a working subgroup on this subject and noted that the Minimum Data Set (MDS) is already federally required as the assessment tool for skilled nursing facility- (SNF) and intermediate care facility-level (ICF) residents. Because of its comprehensive nature, the MDS contains information for service planning. In Hawai'i, Department of Human Services Forms 1147 and 1150 are intended for use as financial eligibility determination tools and as indicators for service planning and placements. The Subcommittee also discussed and ruled out several other systems, including a proprietary client-tracking software system used by the Executive Office on Aging, which were all found to be inappropriate for the purpose.

Finding: After much discussion and the efforts of a working subgroup, the Subcommittee finds that:

- The use of a uniform assessment tool or tools conforms with and acts to further the goals as enumerated in the guiding principles stated previously.
- A uniform assessment tool that contains standardized data collected from clients of residential care facilities in Hawai'i will help to reduce system fragmentation, increase efficiency and effectiveness of the system, enhance quality of care for residents, and help to make the system more consumer-friendly.

Recommendations: The Subcommittee recommends that:

- A much scaled-down 6-page version of the Medicaid waiver programs social and health assessment forms, fashioned by the working subgroup, should be used as an assessment tool in all residential care settings above the adult residential care home level. However, the name of this assessment tool should not be in any way associated with, or be reminiscent of, the MDS tool.
- The 1-page form currently being used by the Department of Health termed the 'Level of Care Evaluation' should be updated to assure placement of only non-nursing facility level clients, and should be used for all adult residential care homes (ARCH).
- The data elements in the scaled-down tool and the 1-page ARCH tool should be standardized to reduce the need to obtain identical data later on, and to allow different providers to access and share standard information. The data elements should be consistent with the 2-page information and referral screening form, administered at the time of entry, termed the 'Coordinated Screening Form (SEPC),' that is recommended for use in the single entry point process (see 2. 'Single Entry Point' below). Only one modification needs to be made to the 2-page form by adding the item 'attending physician.'
- The two tools are meant to elicit basic data that can be shared but does not preclude any agency or provider from obtaining any additional information, as required.

2. Single Entry Point: Concept and Implementation

The Problem: Individuals who potentially require residential long-term care generally do not know how to get care. Many know they need help but cannot articulate their needs in terms of the services that are available in the community. Many do not know what services are available. If they do, they may not know whether they are eligible to receive care, where to get it, and who to ask about it. Hawai'i citizens cannot be expected to be familiar with the confusing jargon, departmental and agency jurisdictional distinctions, or the intricacies and idiosyncrasies of funding requirements that affect their eligibility for services. These intricacies sometimes confuse even those in the industry. What is needed is a simple, uniform, and highly professional way to allow anyone who needs care to easily and quickly access the care appropriate to that persons individual circumstances.

Discussion over the past several years has refined the concept of a single entry point (SEP) for long-term care in general. However, the scope of the Subcommittees work is limited to residential care. Nevertheless, the concept remains the same. An SEP is meant to serve as a simple and uniform, yet sophisticated and comprehensive information and referral system to allow people easy access into the system. An SEP is similar to a one-stop triage system. An individual is given an initial screening to determine the persons needs so that a quick and accurate referral can be made to the appropriate agency or service provider.

The Subcommittee met as a whole and in a working subgroup on the SEP concept and clarified that the uniform, universal 'assessment' done at the time of entry into the system via the SEP is actually an initial information and referral 'screening' to determine an appropriate referral. After entry, the accepting agency or service provider uses a uniform universal assessment tool (see '1. Uniform Assessment Tool' above) to develop an appropriate individual service plan. Depending on requirements agencies or providers are mandated to comply with, or on clients individual needs, the agency or service provider may refine a service plan by using further specialized assessments or interviews.

The Subcommittee examined the SEP model proposed by the coordinating committee created by Act 301, Session Laws of Hawai'i, 1996, that mandated the Department of Human Services to design and develop a single entry point system for long-term care. That SEP model proposed using the four county area agencies on aging as part of the Executive Office on Aging's Aging Network. It also proposed to contract with ASK-2000 to enhance and update relevant long-term care data including service providers and types of services by provider.

Findings: After much discussion and the efforts of a working subgroup, the Subcommittee finds that:

- The institution of a single entry point conforms with and acts to further the goals as enumerated in the guiding principles stated previously.
- An SEP process for clients requiring long-term residential care should be simple, quick, professional, uniform, consumer-friendly, and accurate.
- The SEP system should provide an information and referral screening function for potential clients of long-term residential care.
- The SEP system should serve the non-elderly (those under 60 years of age), the elderly, and disabled persons of all ages.
- The SEP process should include the conduct of a uniform initial screening for all potential clients at the time of entry (see 1. "Uniform Assessment Tool", above, regarding the "Coordinated Screening Form (SEPC)").
- The SEP system should be implemented by exploiting existing resources to reduce duplication of effort. This should be done by:
 - Financially augmenting the intake and assessment services for persons aged 60 and older that are already being performed by the Executive Office on Aging (EOA).
 - Contracting with ASK-2000, an information and referral organization, to provide initial information and referral screening for the non-elderly under age 60.
- The SEP should not be expanded into a comprehensive client-tracking system which, by its nature, focuses on data after a client is already in the system.
- An SEP system needs to educate the public and help especially those with long-term care needs to become aware of the entire range of long-term care options.

Recommendations: The Subcommittee recommends that:

- The single entry point system should provide simple, quick, uniform, and consumer-friendly access to the system through professional and accurate information and referral screening for potential clients of long-term residential care services.
- The State should establish a single entry point system by funding the Executive Office on Aging (EOA) to augment its Aging Network to perform information and referral initial screening for all persons aged 60 and older. As part of its funded task, the EOA is to expand its screening and referral program to coordinate similar services to be provided by ASK-2000, or other providers as appropriate, for clients under age 60. Development of this system should begin in July, 1999.

- The State should provide similar information and referral initial screening for all persons under age 60 by funding the EOA to subcontract with ASK-2000, a proven local information and referral organization, or other providers, as appropriate. Development of this part of the system should begin in July, 1999.
- Funding for the entire EOA-operated SEP system should include one-time start-up as well as annual operating costs.

3. Regulatory Environment: Overall Vision and Consolidation

The Problem: The elderly and disabled populations in Hawai'i are rapidly growing even as the States resources to meet the long-term needs of these individuals are dwindling. Institutional nursing home care is the costliest. Yet, many people do not need to be institutionalized but can make use of less expensive alternatives such as residential care services. However, several obstacles prevent maximal use of these residential options. First, most people are not aware of the full range of care options. Second, it is difficult to access the system. A single entry point system and the use of universal assessment tools in the previous two sections help to address these two problems. Third, the fragmented structure of residential care in Hawai'i and its sheer complexity hamper the efficient and effective delivery of residential care services.

There is no overall unifying framework for the various types of residential care facility types. The following facility types are currently defined, regulated, and authorized under different statutes, a situation that creates confusion even for those in the industry and that gives rise to disparities in provider reimbursement for similar services:

1. Types I and II Adult Residential Care Homes (ARCH):
 - Defined in §321-15.1 Hawai'i Revised Statutes.
 - Regulated by Department of Health in §321-15.6, HRS.
 - Rate of payment authorized by Department of Human Services in : §346-53, HRS.
 - (Same as Type I ARCH.)
2. Developmental Disabilities Domiciliary Homes:
 - Not specifically defined in HRS.
 - Regulated by Department of Health in §321-15.9, HRS.
 - Rate of payment authorized by Department of Health in §321-15.9, HRS, but based on payments authorized by Department of Human Services in §346-53, HRS.
3. Adult Foster Homes (for developmentally disabled):
 - Defined in §321-11.2, HRS.
 - Regulated by Department of Health in §321-11.2, HRS.
 - Rate of payment authorized by Department of Health in §321-11.2, HRS, but based on payments authorized by the Department of Human Services in §346-53, HRS.
4. Adult Foster Homes(for elderly):
 - Not specifically defined, regulated, or authorized in HRS but operate as 'adult waiver foster homes' under Department of Human Services rules under broad HRS authorization for 'duties generally' in §346-14, HRS.
5. ICF-MR Homes:
 - Not specifically regulated in HRS except that in §333F-2(c)(9), HRS, the Department of Health is required to provide "community residential alternatives for persons with developmental disabilities or mental retardation, including group homes and homes meeting ICF/MR standards."

6. Maluhia Waitlist Project:
 - Authorized by Act 165, Session Laws of Hawai'i, 1994 (but will sunset on 6/30/99 pursuant to Act 341, SLH 1997).
7. Extended Care ARCHs (Types I and II):
 - Defined and regulated by Department of Health in §323D-2, HRS.
 - Further defined as 'expanded adult residential care home' in §321-15.1, HRS.
 - Regulated as 'expanded adult residential care home' in §321-15.61 and §321-15.62, HRS.
 - Rate of payment authorized by Department of Human Services in §346-53 and §346-53.4, HRS.

H.C.R. No. 225 inappropriately cited several 'facility types.' First, the Subcommittee specifically excluded special treatment facilities from the scope of its report because of the short-term nature of services provided in this type of facility. Second, 'respite home' is not a facility category type and has no authorization in the statutes although 'respite care' can be provided in existing facility types. Third, 'supportive living' is a concept and not a facility type nor a specific package of services. Finally, 'assisted living facilities' are only defined in the statutes but are not specifically authorized or regulated. However, as of the date of this report, rules are currently being proposed for adoption to regulate assisted living facilities and have reached the public hearing stage.

The Subcommittee met as a whole and in a working subgroup to examine ways to streamline and consolidate the structure of the residential care industry in Hawai'i. Input was sought and received from the industry. Discussion focused on consolidating the various facility types to improve efficiency and to promote parity of reimbursement for the type of services provided regardless of the facility type in which the services are provided.

Findings: After much discussion and the efforts of a working subgroup, the Subcommittee finds that:

- Re-organizing the structure of the residential long-term care industry in Hawai'i to streamline and consolidate facility types to provide more uniform regulation and to promote parity of reimbursement, conforms with and acts to further the goals as enumerated in the guiding principles stated previously.
- Consolidation and streamlining acts to improve efficiency and effectiveness of service delivery, improve access to the system, encourage maintenance of high standards of service quality by facilitating system monitoring, and promotes parity of reimbursement for services provided regardless of facility type.

Recommendations: The Subcommittee recommends that:

- Long-term residential care facility types in Hawai'i should be statutorily re-organized by consolidating facility types to the extent practical and should be regulated in a more streamlined and uniform manner. The statutes should clearly state the intent to consolidate and to provide a unified framework for all long-term residential care in the State.
- All residential care facilities should be placed in three categories:
 - (1) Basic residential care facilities

- Adult residential care facilities, Type I and Type II.
 - Developmental disabilities domiciliary homes.
 - Adult foster homes for the developmentally disabled.
- (2) Expanded (ICF/SNF-level) residential care facilities:
- Expanded adult residential care homes (re-named from "extended care adult residential homes"), Type I and Type II.
 - "Adult foster waiver homes" (informally referred to in the past as "adult foster homes for the elderly").
 - Developmental disabilities domiciliary homes (ICF/SNF-level).
Adult foster homes for the developmentally disabled (ICF/SNF-level).
- (3) Specialized residential care facilities:
- ICF-MR homes.
- After an appropriate transition period, all residential care facilities for adults must be licensed, to be required by statute.
 - After an appropriate transition period, all care providers providing care in residential care facilities for adults in the State must be licensed, to be required by statute.
 - The Department of Health should be the single department responsible for all statutory licensing. However, additional staffing must be provided to accommodate the increased workload.
 - Statutes that authorize and regulate these facilities should:
 - Impose uniform requirements for all facility types within each of the three residential care categories.
 - Use uniform terminology and definitions across all three residential care categories.
 - Establish specific requirements for each specific facility type within a residential care category, if necessary, to comply with federal and other requirements, while maintaining quality of care for residents.
 - Mandate the Department of Health to adopt rules to implement the re-organization.
 - Include a provision to respect the residents right of self-determination about choosing where to live.
 - Include a provision to respect the providers right to not accept a potential resident based on the providers belief that the provider is not qualified to provide the required adequate and appropriate care.
 - The State, through its departments, including, but not limited to the Departments of Labor and Industrial Relations, Human Services, and Health, should work with private sector residential care organizations to educate and train all residential care providers to improve the quality of residential care in the State.
 - Parity of reimbursement for residential care should be promoted. Reimbursement for residential care services should be rational and tied to the type of service provided to the resident, regardless of facility type or residential care category.
 - To provide the foundation upon which to base parity of reimbursement, the Department of Human Services, with the assistance of the Department of Health and the residential care industry, should first comprehensively review and categorize all residential care services that are provided in the State and determine existing reimbursement rates for these services.

- To encourage aging in place, subject to the residents right to self-determination and the providers right of choice to not accept a potential resident, if a provider lacks the ability to meet the residents needs, the provider should obtain training to upgrade the providers skills to meet licensing and training requirements.

Your Joint Legislative Committee has reviewed and approved the report of the subcommittee, as presented above. Accordingly, the JLC recommends that legislation be introduced in the 1999 legislative session to implement the recommendations outlined in the three sections above. Co-Chairs Senator Suzanne Chun Oakland and Representative Dennis Arakaki, and other members of the JLC will jointly sponsor the necessary legislation.

With the filing of this report, the business of the Subcommittee created to study long-term care residential facilities in Hawai'i is completed.

Island of Oahu.

1. Summary. Pursuant to Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 157, a task force was convened including community, City, and State representatives for the purpose of developing a conceptual master plan for the Manoa Valley complex -- a heavily used public educational, recreational, and residential area centrally located in Manoa Valley, City & County of Honolulu, Island of Oahu. The complex includes the Manoa Valley District Park (including Manoa Gym, Recreation Center and Pool), Manoa Elementary School, Manoa Gardens Elderly Housing, Manoa Community Gardens, and Manoa Stream. The area (Tax Map Key No. 1-2-9-036) is generally bounded by Manoa Road, Lowrey Avenue, Manoa Stream, and Kahaloa Drive.

The top priority identified by the task force is the planning, design, and construction of a multi-purpose building/gymnasium for use by Manoa Elementary School, Manoa Valley District Park, the A+ Program, and the community at large. The proposed facility would replace an aged one-story wooden classroom/office building of Manoa Elementary School and provide additional classroom, office, meeting, recreational, and storage space.

The task force is encouraged by the support and cooperation for the proposed multi-purpose building/gymnasium by and between the State of Hawai'i Department of Education and City & County of Honolulu Department of Parks & Recreation representatives. The task force members are committed to pursuing the short- and long-term efforts needed to fully realize the master plan for the Manoa Valley complex as envisioned.

2. Legislative History. The Nineteenth Legislature of the State of Hawai'i, Regular Session of 1998, considered Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 157 entitled Establishing a City, State, and Community Task Force to Develop a Master Plan for Improvements to Manoa Recreational Park and Manoa Elementary School. The measure was co-sponsored by Senators Brian Taniguchi and Carol Fukunaga.

The resolution was referred in the Senate first jointly to the Committees on Transportation & Intergovernmental Affairs and Education (which amended the measure as Senate Draft 1), then the Committee on Ways & Means. After adoption by the Senate, the House of Representatives referred the measure to the Committee on Education. The House of Representatives adopted the measure unamended on April 28, 1998.

A copy of Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 157, Senate Draft 1 is attached.

3. Meetings Held. Senator Brian Taniguchi and his staff coordinated the organization of the task force and the scheduling of meetings. Group meetings were held on September 8, 1998, October 2, 1998, November 7 and 24, 1998, and January 12, 1999. All meetings included detailed discussions of participants needs, interests, and preferences, with no artificial limitations (such as cost) placed on the vision creation. The two November 1998 meetings were held at the Manoa Elementary School cafeteria, and included subgroup mapping activities to visually present master plan element ideas and create alternative Manoa Valley complex layouts. Additional information useful to the task forces discussions was gathered by various individuals and presented at the group meetings.

4. Participants. Peter Adler and Miki Lee served as the primary facilitators. Approximately 45 persons cumulatively participated in the task forces meetings. Participants included Senator Brian Taniguchi and staff, Representative Ed Case, Councilmember Andy Mirikitani and staff, Department of Parks & Recreation personnel Toni Robinson, Howard Yoshioka, Steven Min, Elizabeth Tsuruda, and Mike Amii, Department of Education personnel Al Suga, Ray Minami, and Sanford Beppu, Manoa Elementary School personnel Victoria Bannan, Kara Mark, Kathi Nohara, and Ginny Young, the students of Manoa Elementary School -- represented by Sergeant at Arms Megan Akamine (a sixth grade student), and representatives of the Governor, the Manoa Neighborhood Board No. 7, Malama o Manoa, Hui o Manoa, the various athletic leagues, the Ala Wai Canal Watershed Improvement Project and Manoa Subwatershed Group, the Manoa School Association of Parents and Teachers, A+ Program, Manoa Boy Scout Troop 33, the East Manoa and Waioli Lions Clubs and area residents, including design professionals.

5. Expressed Needs and Ideas Presented.

- 5.1. Development of a multi-purpose building/gymnasium to be located between the existing park gymnasium and school blacktop. Envisioned to be two-stories, include two full-size indoor playcourts, an auditorium seating at least 150 persons, stage, classrooms, offices, meeting space, craft room, exercise-/weightroom, storage, and kitchen facilities. A true community center.
- 5.2. In the alternative to a multi-purpose building, creation of covered open-air playcourts.
- 5.3. Repairs to the existing gymnasium, especially the roof and ceiling.
- 5.4. Expand the existing gymnasium to allow for two full-size playcourts, meeting rooms, and storage space for all users.
- 5.5. Creation of a covered open area between the existing gymnasium and new multi-purpose building.
- 5.6. Enclosure of the pavilion or other expansion of the recreation center adjacent to the Kaaiipu Avenue parking lot.
- 5.7. Expand and improve the swimming pool facilities, especially by widening the existing 50-meter length pool dimensions to 25-yards wide to meet national short course competition standards. (The pool is presently 6-yards too narrow.) If possible, the design should also include steps (not just ladders) for easy accessibility by all users.
- 5.8. Add a therapy pool for multi-purpose use, including steps, handrails, and lifts for access by all users.
- 5.9. Relocation of playground equipment areas and installation of new equipment to create a super playground area near the east side of the pool and existing gymnasium to improve safety, permit easier adult supervision, and allow reconfiguration of the open fields.
- 5.10. Creation of a perimeter lei pedestrian pathway around the entire complex.
- 5.11. Provide by easement or land acquisition access between the park and Lowrey Avenue along the west bank of Manoa Stream.
- 5.12. Americans with Disabilities Act accessibility and design improvements throughout the complex to benefit all users.
- 5.13. Lighting improvements for the athletic fields, parking lots, and facilities for safety and security.
- 5.14. Upgrade electrical and other utility services.
- 5.15. Place all utility lines underground (e.g., 46,000 volt subtransmission line traverses the north (mauka) boundary of the complex).
- 5.16. Provide additional restroom facilities at strategic locations.
- 5.17. Provide space for a helipad for fire, rescue, medivac, and civil defense use.
- 5.18. Creation of a dedicated dog park -- bark park -- area.
- 5.19. Roadway and parking lot entrance redesign at the Kahaloa Street access to improve traffic flow and pedestrian safety. Create a traffic calming circle near the Kahaloa Drive and Manoa Road entrances to serve as gateways.
- 5.20. Improve overall park and school access for pedestrians and automobiles.
- 5.21. Move parking to the periphery to maximize level field use.
- 5.22. Include convenient bus shelters and work with TheBus to improve service to the park as a central transit point.
- 5.23. Additional parking spaces at several locations around the complex perimeter, including at the mauka end of Loomis Street.

- 5.24. Creation of two covered passenger loading areas near the northwest and northeast corners of the existing lower gymnasium parking lot.
- 5.25. Relocate the Boy Scout building to allow for more parking.
- 5.26. Improve the recycling center area and location to ease access and safety.
- 5.27. Maximize green space and landscaping treatments, including more trees.
- 5.28. Create picnic areas.
- 5.29. Expand the community gardens area.
- 5.30. Improve the natural and built water drainage system and relocate swales to accommodate realignment of the athletic fields. Maintain grassy areas to promote natural water filtration and help improve Manoa Stream water quality.
- 5.31. Stabilize the Manoa Streambank between the Kahaloa Drive bridge and makai boundary of the park. Include design elements of a terraced amphitheater near the southwest corner of the bridge and possibly near the southeast corner of the park where the concrete-lined streambank begins. Coordinate landscaping and streambank stabilization engineering design elements with the lei pedestrian pathway and other components of the Manoa Valley complex master plan.
- 5.32. Develop a taro lo'i near the southeast corner of the park, using the existing perennial stream that traverses the makai side of the park and drains into Manoa Stream.
- 5.33. Improve the grandstand, press box, dugout, and bleacher facilities.
- 5.34. Increase tennis and volleyball facilities. Add racquetball courts.
- 5.35. Install exercise stations like at Kapiolani Community College.
- 5.36. Create a concrete area for roller blade, etc. activities.
- 5.37. Create a performance/stage mound.
- 5.38. Consider a snack bar facility space.
- 5.39. Create more covered areas between classrooms at Manoa Elementary School.

6. Prioritized Improvements.

- 6.1. Development of a multi-purpose building/covered playcourt area to be located between the existing park gymnasium and school blacktop. The two-story multi-purpose building would provide replacement and additional space, envisioned to include classroom, office, meeting, storage, and recreational space -- including two full-size indoor playcourts and exercise-/weightroom, craftroom, an auditorium seating at least 150 persons, stage, and kitchen facilities -- a true community center.
- 6.2. Creation of a full perimeter (lei) pedestrian pathway with benches and picnic table areas.
- 6.3. Additional parking, roadway entrance design treatments, and traffic flow improvements.
- 6.4. Improvement and realignment of athletic field configurations to better accommodate multi-purpose use and facilitate water drainage.
- 6.5. Relocation of playground equipment areas and installation of new equipment in the area east of and close to the pool and existing gymnasium to improve safety, permit easier adult supervision, and allow reconfiguration of the open fields.
- 6.6. Relocation of the Boy Scouts building (now near community gardens) and recycling container area further mauka to allow for new playcourts and additional parking.
- 6.7. Expansion of existing 50-meter length swimming pool by increasing width from existing 19-yards to national short course competition standard of 25-yards. If possible, the design should include steps (not just ladders) for easy accessibility by all users.

- 6.8. Manoa Streambank Restoration Project improvements from the Kahaloa Street bridge to the makai park boundary.
- 6.9. Creation of a dedicated dog park -- bark park -- area.

7. Draft Conceptual Site Plan Map. A draft conceptual site plan map dated November 1998 which illustrates most of the task forces master plan elements is attached.

8. Opportunity to Coordinate with Other Planning Efforts. This master plan effort for the Manoa Valley complex has occurred at an opportune time, and the task forces vision may be advantageously coordinated with other current planning, community-based vision, and capital improvement project efforts. These include:

- (1) the Manoa Streambank Restoration Project and Manoa Elementary School Demonstration Lo'i Project, two components of the Ala Wai Canal Watershed Improvement Project;
- (2) the Primary Urban Center Development Plan revision process being conducted by the City Department of Planning & Permitting;
- (3) the Oahu Trans 2K community-based transportation vision for the 21st century joint initiative of the State Department of Transportation and City Department of Transportation Services;
- (4) the Mayors 21st Century Oahu: A Shared Vision for the Future community-based planning initiative of the City & County of Honolulu;
- (5) the Manoa Vision: The Future of a Valley grassroots planning initiative of the community organization Malama o Manoa.

The Manoa Neighborhood Board No. 7 at its regular meeting of December 2, 1998 selected the multi-purpose building as envisioned by this task force as its number one capital improvement project priority.

The Mayors 21st Century Oahu Team 10, which encompasses the areas of Makiki, McCully, Moiliili, and Manoa, included the Manoa Valley complex task forces priorities in its January 1999 Vision Summary document, with special emphasis given in support of the multi-purpose building as the primary capital improvement project for the complex.

9. Task Force Commitment. By strong consensus, the members of the task force and the organizations represented are committed to the short- and long-term efforts needed to fully realize the master plan for the Manoa Valley complex as envisioned. The task force members intend to continue to meet periodically to refine the master plan; work together with the State Department of Education and Manoa Elementary School, City Department of Parks & Recreation and Manoa Valley District Park, and other agencies, organizations, and volunteers to advance the planning and design efforts and actual work projects in furtherance of the master plan; work together with the Legislature, Governor, City Council, and Mayor to secure the necessary support and funding appropriations; and ultimately work together with the planning consultants, designers, and contractors to make the master plan a reality for the benefit of our entire community.

Additional information will be required to fully and fairly assess the needs of the Manoa Valley District Park, Manoa Elementary School, A+ Program, and the Manoa Streambank Restoration Project, the demographic use characteristics and projections for the park and school, space use needs and design (building code, etc.) requirements, and the needs of the broader community. That informational gathering and assessment work is expected to be done as this planning effort continues.

10. Task Force Recommendation. As a beginning, the task force recommends the inclusion of specific appropriation requests in the capital improvement project budget bills of the Twentieth Legislature of the State of Hawai'i and the City Council of the City & County of Honolulu for the purpose of initiating the planning, design, and construction budget process for improvements at Manoa Valley District Park and Manoa Elementary School. This would include the hiring of a planning consultant to fully and properly develop a comprehensive master plan in keeping with the conceptual site plan created by this task force.

The top priority identified by the task force is the planning, design, and construction of a multi-purpose building/covered playcourt area for use by Manoa Elementary School, Manoa Valley District Park, the A+ Program, and the community at large. The proposed facility would replace an aged one-story wooden classroom and office building of Manoa Elementary School and provide additional classroom, office, meeting, recreational, and storage space.

Respectfully submitted,

Manoa Valley Complex Task Force

MISCELLANEOUS COMMUNICATION

Misc. Com. No. 18 from the Joint Legislative Committee on Early Childhood Education and Care, dated January 1, 1999, transmitting the Joint Legislative Committee report pursuant to H.C.R. No. 120, HD 1, SD 1, adopted by the Regular Session of 1998. The report reads as follows:

"PART I. BACKGROUNDA. Introduction

Recent research has demonstrated that the early years of a child are most crucial in the child's cognitive, emotional, social, and physical development. This neuroscience research in early brain development, as well as studies in early child development, affirm not only the tremendous opportunities for preventive work with children and families, but also the predictable, costly consequences of not doing so.

Health care professionals agree that quality early childhood education and care is fundamental to the positive growth and development of children into adults, and urge development of policy decisions that recognize the critical importance of the early years and provide support for families so that every young child has a healthy start in life. In developing these policies and strategies for early childhood education and care, the Legislature was urged to recognize that policy decisions must:

- (1) Create learning opportunities to assure that parents are supported in meeting the important task as the first teachers of the next generation;
- (2) Seek to reduce stress in family life and assure that all infants and toddlers are raised in a safe, nurturing, and caring environment;
- (3) Assure that culturally appropriate family support services are available for all young children at risk for abuse;
- (4) Assure that the needs of young children with disabilities and other special needs are met;
- (5) Address the needs of pregnant and parenting teens to assure the best outcomes for themselves and their babies;
- (6) Commit Hawaii to developing universal quality preschool services for young children within the next decade; and
- (7) Commit Hawaii to assuring quality care for all its keiki.

B. Legislative Mandate

In response to these and related concerns, the Legislature adopted Act 77, Session Laws of Hawaii 1997, which recognized a public and private partnership between the State's Interdepartmental Council and the Good Beginnings Alliance to enhance, develop, and coordinate quality early childhood education and care services. In 1998, the Legislature established a Joint Legislative Committee on Early Childhood Education and Care (JLC) composed of eleven members: six members from the House of Representatives, with at least one member each from the Committees on Human Services and Housing, Health, Education, Labor and Employment, and Finance, and one member from the minority party, all to be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives; and five members from the Senate, with at least one member each from the Committees on: Human Resources, Health and the Environment, Education, and Ways and Means, and one member from the minority party, all to be appointed by the President of the Senate.

The members are Representative Dennis a. Arakaki and Senator Suzanne Chun Oakland, Co-Chairs, Representatives Ezra kanohe, Alex Santiago, David Stegmaier, Nobu Yonamine, and Barbara Marumoto, and Senators David Ige (appointed in place of Senator Brian Kanno), Marshall Ige, Andrew Levin, and Sam Slom.

C. Approach of the JLC

The JLC held a series of four public meetings for input and discussion at the State Capitol on November 6, December 1, 17, and 30, 1998.

Information was provided by the Office of the Governor, the Department of Education (DOE), the Department of Health (DOH), the Department of Human Services (DHS), the University of Hawaii, the City and County of Honolulu, Good Beginnings Alliance, the Childcare Business Coalition, Children's Hope International/Asian Media, Family Support Centers, the Hawaii Association for the Education of Young Children (HAEYC), the Hawaii Head Start State Collaboration Project, Hawaii Kids Watch, INPEACE, Kahoolauloa Community Center, MothersCare for Tomorrow's Children, People Attentive to Children (PATCH), Prevent Child Abuse Hawaii, Queen Liliu'okalani Children's Center (QLCC), Seagull Schools, and a number of individuals.

Presentations to the JLC included additional information on the importance of developmental, cognitive, and social growth in the early years, and the need to design an integrated comprehensive, family-centered delivery system to meet the needs of the whole child.

The Committee received an overview of current programs in support of early childhood education and care, including the Office of the Governor's focus on children and families; the DOE's Primary School Adjustment Project (PSAP), special education for pre-schoolers, Families for REAL (Resources for Early Access to Learning), Sequenced Transition to Education in the Public Schools (STEPS), Goals 2000 Grants, and Kindergartners are Most Precious (KAMP); the Childhood Lead Poisoning Surveillance Project, the Children's Trust Fund, and Child Death Review under DOH's Children and Youth Services Section, Maternal and Child Health Branch (MCHB), as well as programs under the DOH Psychosocial Support Services Section, the Preschool Development Screening Program, the Family Planning Services Section, the Perinatal Support Services Section, and the Hawaii Early Intervention Coordinating Council; as well as the current level of subsidies for childcare to low income families by DHS.

The Good Beginnings Alliance reported on its activities and priorities for the future. Hawaii Head Start discussed its efforts in collaboration with the State; and presentations were made by Family Support Centers, the Childcare Business Coalition, MothersCare for Tomorrow's Children, and the Hawaii Association for the Education of Young Children (HAEYC).

In its meetings, the JLC focussed discussion on the first four of the ten actions of H.C.R. No. 120, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, to:

- (1) Support the Good Beginnings Alliance in the implementation of its duties as delineated in the Good Beginnings Early Childhood Education and Care Master Plan;
- (2) Recommend reallocation of public funds for early childhood education and care;
- (3) Encourage maintaining current levels of funding for early childhood programs and support services; and
- (4) Encourage integrated and responsive policy and program plans that focus on the period before birth through the first five years of life in which all state agencies serving children and families shall consider.

In addition, the JLC held preliminary discussions of action (9), regarding a result-based accountability system using benchmarks and indicators to set goals to focus and coordinate efforts across agencies, between higher and lower levels of government, and between public and private groups at all levels of government; to track outcomes to provide for informed policy decisions impacting programs and resource allocation; and to evaluate programs and policies to determine which programs and policies are effective and to shed light on reasons for the successes or failures.

PART II. RECOMMENDED 1999 LEGISLATION

As a result of its meetings, the JLC recommends legislation for consideration during the 1999 legislative session in support of the first four actions, listed above. The Omnibus Early Childhood Education and Care bill will:

- (1) Establish a revolving loan fund that makes micro-loans of up to $25,000 to start or expand family child care homes or centers;
- (2) Expand the number of childcare subsidies to increase the number of children in licensed child care programs;
- (3) Expand and continue the Accreditation-Mentor Project for Early Childhood program;
- (4) Support the good Beginnings Alliance as it supports the county and statewide efforts to coordinate programs and outcomes in the early childhood arena;
- (5) Expand the Families for Real project beyond the three current schools;
- (6) Expand the Keiki Play Mornings program;
- (7) Continue to fund programs for pregnant and parenting teens; and
- (8) Provide funding for Childcare Development Associate Training credentials.

In support of the teen pregnancy and parenting programs, the JLC also recommends a concurrent resolution regarding Board of Education policies and support for parenting classes for teens.

Your Joint Legislative Committee on Early Childhood Education and Care, through its members and supporting agencies, will actively support the above proposed legislation as a vital component to the further development of quality programs for hawaii's children and their parents.

PART IV. REMAINING WORK

The JLC will continue to meet with regards to the first four actions of H.C.R. No. 120, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, listed on the previous page of this committee report, and will develop strategies and priorities to address the remaining six, including more detailed work on number nine, to:

- (5) Support the development of a data collection system to track outcomes and program effectiveness;
- (6) Support the State's interdepartmental efforts to implement Title XXI to assure health care coverage for all children in the State;
- (7) Encourage expanding incrementally the capacity of intensive home visitation services through Healthy Start, or other appropriate programs, to meet apparent needs;
- (8) Support the development of a comprehensive, community support system which will:
 - (A) Allow for local decision-making and embrace collaborative approaches to community engagement and oversight;
 - (B) Place a strong focus on achieving results; and
 - (C) Facilitate the creation of flexible financing systems and strategies that link funding to results;
- (9) Adopt a result-based accountability system using benchmarks and indicators to:
 - (A) Set goals to focus and coordinate efforts across agencies, between higher and lower levels of government, and between public and private groups at all levels of government;

- (B) Track outcomes to provide for informed policy decisions impacting programs and resource allocation; and
- (C) Evaluate programs and policies to determine which programs and policies are effective, and to shed light on reasons for the successes or failures; and
- (10) Develop a plan of action to implement its recommendations.

Pursuant to H.C.R. No. 120, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, your Joint Legislative Committee on Early Childhood Education and Care will submit a final report no later than twenty days prior to the convening of the Regular Session of 2000.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Representative Kanoho rose and stated:

"This past Friday, January 29th, the Grand Opening ceremonies were held of the mighty battleship Missouri at Pearl Harbor. At that very historic ceremony, I was honored to represent you and the members of this body in the receipt of a plaque from the Missouri Memorial Association. It is a very handsome plaque with a sketch of the Missouri and a piece of wood from its deck, indicating that we, as all others who received this plaque, are co-owners in partnership of this very historic battleship.

"And just to let you know, Mr. Speaker, a congratulatory resolution is being prepared with the intent that you will be the primary introducer of that resolution so that we can appropriately recognize and express our appreciation to the Missouri Memorial Association for successfully bringing that great battleship to Pearl Harbor.

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Thielen rose and stated:

"Mr. Speaker, I would just like to thank the Chair of the Transportation Committee, Representative Hiraki, for setting up the keiki car seat safety inspection. I know that there was at least one member whose car seat had been recalled; it's on the recall list.

"They taught me how to install my granddaughter's car seat much more safely. It took twenty minutes to get it into place. And then when I took her for malasadas on Sunday morning, I felt very comfortable to go take her in the seat with me. The seat was installed in the wrong way, and I would recommend to everyone that if they have not had either their children's or their grandchildren's car seats checked, then please do so.

"Thank you so much to the Chair."

Representative Pendleton rose and stated:

"Mr. Speaker, I, too, would like to add my thanks and mahalo to the Chair of the Transportation Committee. It was my car seat for my new four month old baby that was recalled. We had sent in the postcard, and you would assume that the company would notify you if they had been recalled. It had the correct address and it would be easy if they had wanted to get hold of me, but they didn't bother to get hold of me.

"So thanks to the Chair and to that very effective program, we have our car seats that are good and sound."

Representative Hiraki rose and stated:

"Just to say that my car seat also was installed incorrectly. Being Chairman of the Transportation Committee and we really did not have any idea of how to properly install a car seat. But, members, thank you very much for all your help and participation.

"Thank you very much."

Representative Moses rose and stated:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'd like to rise in opposition to Standing Committee Report No. 15. This is a tax stamp bill. We saw this before, last year. This calls for putting cigarette tax stamps on all packs of cigarettes. I brought up the issue then about the military, and I'll bring it up again. This would impose fines and penalties for any cigarettes that are purchased in the State that don't have the State tax stamp. One thing, that's an unnecessary burden on the military. Secondly, it's the state taxing the federal. I don't think that's proper. This could also apply to cigarettes sold aboard ship and then brought back into the country. So I think we're opening up an entire can of worms here. Unless I see some kind of an amendment, I'll have to stay in opposition to this bill."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 176, H.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TOBACCO TAX," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance with Representative Moses voting no and Representatives Meyer and Okamura being excused.

Representative McDermott rose in support of the measure with "some strong reservations", stating:

"It triples the fine for speeding in school zones, and as a father of three kids I don't think there should be any speeding in school zones. But as a practical matter, our island is littered with schools everywhere. This is a $200 fine for speeding. The speed limit is 25, and if someone is going 26 they get a $200 fine. So I have some severe reservations about this measure.

"Thank you."

Representative Kahikina rose in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, we don't have to make the fine where we have to draw the line between the kid's safety and people getting fined for violating the law, and this vehicle does that."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 286, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SPEEDING," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Judiciary and Hawaiian Affairs, with Representatives Case, Okamura and Say being excused.

Representative Meyer rose to comment on Stand. Com. Rep. No. 21, House Bill No. 278, stating:

"I do have some reservations. I don't have the bill before me, I'm just looking at the committee report. But it appears that this may be a way to handle a 'revolving door' to get some very misguided youth who really should be locked up. . .

Representative Herkes interjected: "Is the Representative in support or in opposition?"

Representative Meyer answered:

"I'm in opposition. I was originally with reservations because I don't have the bill in front of me. But with the reservations that I have, I might as well say that I'm no on this.

"I know the problems they have at the Youth Correctional Center with overcrowding, mainly due to the poor planning when they built this facility in the first place. This looks like an attempt to get a creative way to gracefully get these young people out of there and with no regard to the safety of the community, so that's why I'm no on this.

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Takamine rose and stated:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise to speak in support of the motion. Mr. Speaker, House Bill No. 85, HD 1, SD 1, provides for meeting the expenses of the Legislature and the legislative agencies. Passage of House Bill 85 allows us to proceed with the people's work.

"Mr. Speaker, as you will recall, the House passed House Bill 85's House Draft 1 this past Monday, and the measure was forwarded to the Senate for their consideration. The Senate Ways and Means Committee amended the bill and decked House Bill 85, HD 1, SD 1 on Tuesday.

"Mr. Speaker, we are all aware of the constitutional requirement that all bills be made available to the members 48-hours prior to any Third or Final Reading in final form. Therefore, I appreciate the effort made to have copies of House Passage of House Bill 85, HD 1, SD 1, allows us to move forward in addressing the concerns of the people of our State. Therefore, I urge my colleagues to fully support the measure. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative M. Oshiro then rose and stated:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of House Bill 85, HD 1, SD 1.

"Mr. Speaker, there are a couple of things I think I need to point out for the members here. The changes or amendments in the Senate Draft 1 are non-substantive. The first item I need to point out is that what the Senate has done is change the fiscal year provision. As it was sent over to the Senate, unless it was changed, we would have to wait until July 1, 1999 to expend any monies. That would mean that we would practically have to shut down and not fulfill our duties to our people.

"The second effect of that would be that my Olelo project, which I am working on with Representative Marumoto, would be unable to broadcast any of the public hearings through the public access channel 54. The other change was to specify the appropriate expending agency to the legislative programs and that to ensure that the funds would not lapse prior to June 30, 1999.

"The third point I need to make, Mr. Speaker, is that I've already committed to have Saturday's broadcast covering the Health Committee's hearings on several important bills dealing with the physician assisted suicide and that's on Saturday, 10 o'clock a.m. I've set aside six hours for coverage of that.

"Mr. Speaker, this is a very important bill. When looking at the practical aspects of what this bill does, the fact that there is no substantive type changes within the bill, I would ask that all members support this bill wholeheartedly. Thank you."

Representative Pendleton then rose and stated:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of this measure.

"Mr. Speaker, the Minority Caucus applauds the action of this body in expediting H.B. No. 85, HD 1, SD 1. This move allows staff to receive their pay in a much more expeditious manner. The concern that was raised was that this precedent, while it keeps with all statutory and constitutional procedures, might be something used for other bills. But in discussions between your Majority and Minority leadership, we've been assured that this is something extraordinary followed on this specific bill and is not to set future precedent on dealing with other bills.

"So for the following reasons, I strongly support this measure."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the House agreed to the amendments proposed by the Senate to H.B. No. 85, HD 1, and H.B. No. 85, HD 1, SD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING APPROPRIATIONS TO PROVIDE FOR THE EXPENSES OF THE LEGISLATURE, THE LEGISLATIVE AUDITOR, THE LEGISLATIVE REFERENCE BUREAU, AND THE OMBUDSMAN," passed

Final Reading by a vote of 47 ayes, with Representatives Case, Hiraki, Morihara and Okamura being excused.

The Chair directed the Clerk to note that H.B. No. 85 had passed Final Reading at 12:40 o'clock p.m.

STANDING COMMITTEE REPORTS

Representative Santiago, for the Committee on Health, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 28) recommending that H.B. No. 203, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Economic Development and Business Concerns.

On motion by Representative Yonamine, seconded by Representative Garcia and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 203, H.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING AN APPROPRIATION TO DEVELOP A NEUROSCIENCE INDUSTRY IN THE STATE," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Economic Development and Business Concerns with Representatives Cachola, Case, Hiraki, Morihara, Okamura, Souki and Yoshinaga being excused.

Representative Santiago, for the Committee on Health, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 29) recommending that H.B. No. 287 pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Education.

Representative Yonamine moved that the report of the Committee be adopted and H.B. No. 287 pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Education, seconded by Representative Garcia.

Representative McDermott rose and stated:

"I rise in opposition to Standing Committee Report No. 29, page 2. I voted with reservations in the Committee and I realize that this is a well intended bill. Just like everything we do here, our hearts are in the right place and there's a lot of aloha behind this. But as a member of the Education Committee, if we're really going to get serious about education and improving academic achievement, I thought about this, we're going to spend almost a million dollars here, in a year or two, for 26 teachers, certified teachers who are in the peer education program. If you would ask their parents -- I'm a parent, most folks in here are parents -- if we'd ask the parents, if we have 26 teachers do we want them to teach 'serious teen health issues, such as pregnancy, sexually transmitted diseases, substance abuse, violence and suicide' or do we want them to teach mathematics, science, English, geography. Well, I think most parents would say English, mathematics, science and geography. This is a feel good thing. I can imagine if I was in high school today, what I would say. I'm looking, filling out my schedule, oh I need three credits, I got a choice of pre-calculus or peer education. Hey, I'm going to take peer education, it's a cruise class, I'm going to take that.

"Now it's well intended, as I said, but it's a feel good bill. If we get 26 teachers, let's put them in the core subjects if we're serious about reducing the class size and improving academic achievement. That is where I think this money should go and the school is trying to displace the role of the parents on some of these issues such as substance abuse and sexually transmitted disease. But again, very well intended measure, heart's in the right place and I will have some comments on some other bills. So I request if we can take them by page. Thank you."

Representative Arakaki then rose in support of the measure stating:

"I understand the previous speaker's concerns and wanting to see money spent wisely. But I think many of us realize when it comes to our schools in these modern days, especially in our high schools, the issues are not always in the classroom because many of the problems that students bring with them often interfere not only with their own educational progress, but with others as well.

"I think a case in point is the amount of dollars that we're spending for the Felix consent decree. If we recognize the problems that our students have, it's not just educational, it's psychological, it's social. We have to look at how we can best deal with these problems. And rather than spending on high cost programs like what Felix demands, we found that the most cost effective way is to have the peers of these students actually try to deal with and help their fellow students.

"I think those of us who have children in high school or intermediate school know that peer relationships are so important. So to the extent that we can empower these students to help each other out, I think we can assure that many of these problems can be intervened with and solved at their level before we need to look to institutions and special programs. So I say, it's money well spent. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ahu Isa then rose in strong support of the measure, stating:

"For those of us that are fortunate enough to have both parents and not come from single parent homes, you might say that this bill is a waste of money. My grandson lobbied me heavy on this bill because he was part of the Peer Education Program at Moanalua High School, and it helped him tremendously. I don't want to take anymore time, but I just rise in strong support of this bill because it does help our youth, especially the ones that are at risk. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 287, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING AN APPROPRIATION FOR THE PEER EDUCATION PROGRAM," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Education with Representative McDermott voting no and Representatives Cachola, Case, Hiraki, Morihara, Okamura, Souki and Yoshinaga being excused.

Representative Yonamine moved that the report of the Committee be adopted and H.B. No. 264, H.D. 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Education, seconded by Representative Garcia.

Representative McDermott rose in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Again, this is a well intended measure and the heart's in the right place. I have a philosophical difference of opinion on the way our school should be run, particularly in this area, so I need to note that. I do have a philosophical objection so no matter how we amend this I don't think that we should have school health care clinics, particularly when the economically disadvantaged have Quest and anyone who has a job, full-time work, has health insurance.

"Mr. Speaker, when I was growing up, you were growing up, you went to school, you bumped your knee, you go see the nurse. I gave this speech last year, I'm sorry I have to give it again. You go see the nurse and she took care of the first intermediate level. Anything rather serious you went to see a doctor, you went to a hospital. Today, we still have the nurse's aides in some schools, we have a nurse, like Pearl Harbor. And if we need the mental health, we're compelled by the Felix decree to get them the services that they need -- one of my sons is a special education child. We have counselors to work on the mental health. So if this was exclusively mental health, I think I could support it, but it's not. It goes into the physical realm which I don't think we have any business being in the schools.

"That being said, Hawai'i Medical Association is against it. The American Academy of Pediatricians, Hawai'i Chapter, shared their reservations on this measure.

"The other issue I have is confidentiality. I sat there when the lady from Aiea came in and said, if the girl's over 14, or a student is over 14, and they don't want to tell the parent what's wrong with them, the school doesn't have to tell them, even though the parent signed a permission in the beginning of the year. They don't have to release those records to the parent. Yet we hold the parent accountable and responsible. If the child is undernourished, we call in CPS. We hold the parent accountable, but at the same time we don't give them the right to know what's going on with their child.

"This thing is so broad that I don't think our school should be doing the following, and I'm quoting from the bill: 'A center shall consider rendering the provisions of the following types of health services to eligible students...(2) laboratory screening, throat cultures, mononucleosis, diabetes, urinalysis, hematocrit,' -- I can't even pronounce it -- 'Pap smears, and sickle cell anemia; (3) sexually transmitted diseases...(5) nutrition counseling; (6) drug and substance abuse counseling; (7) family counseling.' Do we have a licensed marriage and family therapist to do that? I don't know. 'Individual counseling about sexuality.' Clearly the mother and father's role and if not their role, the family priest or the clergyman, and there are churches, synagogues and temples all over. The kid doesn't have to go too far to find those. 'Pregnancy testing.' And if you're over 14, by the way, you don't have to tell the parents what the results are. 'Prenatal care.' In the school, prenatal care. 'Mental health screening and referrals.' Well, Felix already says we have to do that.

"Now I quote from line 12 on page 2 of the HD 1: 'Nothing in this section shall be construed to limit the types of health services that may be provided by a center,' except abortions. Well I'm glad that's in there, but that means they can do brain surgery in the health center. They can do heart surgery. They can do anything. And all that's needed is parental consent. What that is, is a permission form in the beginning of the year. Do you want to have these services? Yeah, free medical, sure I'll do it. Everyone would sign that, I'd sign that.

"And who's going to man these things? These things will cost a fortune. You know I hesitated. I said, 'should I come out and say anything?' The things going to die anyway. We can't afford it. It's going to cost a fortune. Who's going to staff these things to provide all these services? Who's going to staff them: physicians, nurse practitioners, nurses, counselors, social workers and any other person the Department of Health deems necessary to implement this act? We're going to open up a little hospital in every school. We can't afford it.

"Now it would be much easier for me to sit down and say nothing, and I know my colleagues would have probably preferred that, especially my good friends on the Health Committee."

At this time, Representative Pendleton yielded his time to Representative McDermott, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative McDermott continued, stating:

"Hey, that's the first time that's ever happened to me in two years, Mr. Speaker. Thank you. In closing, we're usurping the responsibility of the parents. Not everyone is a good parent, that's unfortunate. But the government cannot be a parent to every child. We just can't do it, and we can't afford it, and that's the reality. I'm stating the obvious, but the government should not usurp the parents' role. And there are some bad parents out there. I'm going to finish, Mr. Speaker. I know I'm going to get blasted from some of my colleagues. Thank you."

Representative Arakaki then rose in support of the measure, stating:

"I'm not going to blast the previous speaker because I understand his concerns are very sincere. And I know he's a good parent for his children and is very concerned about their health. But I think he misinterprets what the intent of this bill is.

"Basically, the issue that it addresses is access to health care. When we talk about adolescents and we look at how adolescents access health care, they're probably the population most unlikely to go to a doctor or a pediatrician, unless they have to, unless the parents force them if they're sick. So the real issue here is: how do we have our adolescents maintain good health and provide an environment in which they feel safe and comfortable?

"The thing is we've been pursuing this, both the Health Committee and yours truly, for the past so many years because we've looked at how other states have successfully implemented school-based health centers. They've used a variety of financing mechanisms. A health center is not a hospital, it's not even a clinic. It's basically a service that responds to what students need.

"In looking at the survey of what kind of services are allowed and what kind of services students want to access, a lot of it is in the area of getting certification to participate in sports, physicals, because a lot of students don't have access to those types of services. Another is in the area of counseling. We can look at, again, the cost of the consent decree and how much we have to spend for actual psychiatric and professional services. The cost of these services can be minimized if they're caught earlier.

"I think what this bill does really is to look at each community. And although there is a menu of services, as the previous Representative pointed out, these are just suggestions. We've allowed for each community, each school, to decide what kind of services they want to have and what is appropriate for their kind of students. As was pointed out in the hearing, for Kahuku High School, they have a heavy population of LDS (Latter Day Saints) students -- Mormons. Of course they have a lot of concerns about having their students access some of these services. So they craft their services according to what their parents want and what their students want. Now we envision this for every school in every community. But the important thing again here is how do we get students, especially high school students, to look at preventive care and to provide the kind of services that they need.

"Another thing is even though the Pediatric Association Academy did raise some concerns, the fact is that through school-based health centers a lot of these students are linked up to a primary care provider. And so in actuality it provides, for the pediatrician, more business, so to speak. I think this is something that Hawai'i needs to adopt as a model of delivery of health services to our young people. And I'd like to ask my colleagues to support this as well. Thank you."

Representative Stegmaier then rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I'm rising in support, but I wanted to mention a couple of things that need to be clarified as this measure goes along. They're in the nature of a couple of reservations that I have.

"One is that we're talking about leaving it up to the individual schools to determine what kind of services would be available. How that would happen is that the principal would appoint a nine member board of directors. My own concern is that we already have a mechanism in most of our schools, the SCBM councils, to deal with these kinds of policy issues. And perhaps as an after thought, and I did not mention this in the Health Committee, we might want to look at turning that over to them where they're established.

"Additionally, in section 3 we say that services would not be available unless the student and parent consented, signed a consent form, but then in section 6 we talk about what would happen in the case of services being provided without the consent of the parent. I think there's a little bit of a conflict there that needs to be clarified. For these reasons, I support this measure as far as it goes right now, and I look forward to improvements in the future."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 264, H.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SCHOOL-BASED HEALTH CARE FOR ADOLESCENTS," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Education with Representative McDermott voting no and Representatives Cachola, Case, Hiraki, Morihara, Okamura, Souki and Yoshinaga being excused.

Representative Santiago, for the Committee on Health, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 40) recommending that H.B. No. 297, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Labor and Public Employment.

On motion by Representative Yonamine, seconded by Representative Garcia and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. "Mr. Speaker, this bill was opposed by the Department of Commerce and Consumer Affairs on behalf of consumers, including residents of Hawai'i who rent cars, also including visitors. What this bill permits is, essentially, to advertise an artificially low price on a cost of a rental car, and then hit the person when they come up to the counter with a charge, which represents the cost to the rental car company of renting premises at or near an airport.

"As far as I know, this kind of splitting of the charge where you create an artificially low price and then hit the customer with a rate they weren't expecting is not in practice, generally, throughout the country. So I think we'd be pioneering new ground here. For that reason, I oppose passage of this bill. Thank you."

As for transportation concerns, I think that to permit motor vehicle lessors to pass on the concession and access fees and charges paid to public airports as airport charges does have some merit. Thank you."

No. 310, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PLANNING AND BUDGETING FOR NEW SCHOOLS," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance with Representatives Catalani, Chang and Herkes being excused.

Representative Ito, for the Committee on Education, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 82) recommending that H.B. No. 309, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance.

On motion by Representative Case, seconded by Representative Yonamine and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 309, H.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance with Representatives Catalani, Chang and Herkes being excused.

Representative Ito, for the Committee on Education, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 83) recommending that H.B. No. 149 pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Judiciary and Hawai'ian Affairs.

Representative Case moved that the report of the Committee be adopted and H.B. No. 149 pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Judiciary and Hawai'ian Affairs, seconded by Representative Yonamine.

Representative Pendleton rose and stated:

"Mr. Speaker, regarding Stand. Com. Rep. No. 83, first I would like a ruling on a potential conflict. My wife is a member of the Board of Education."

The Chair ruled "no conflict."

Representative Pendleton continued, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to this measure which is House Bill No. 149, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 83, which is a constitutional amendment to have the Board of Education appointed. Our Caucus is strongly in favor of educational reform, making our schools as good as they can be for our young people. But we do find it difficult to imagine that we are somehow making the board more accountable to parents who have their kids in the schools by removing their ability of being able to vote for their members of the Board of Education. So I rise in opposition to this measure.

"Also for the record, Mr. Speaker, for efficiency, if the Clerk could note all 12 noes for our Caucus on this measure," and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ito then rose in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, Hawai'i's public schools will have to prepare our children to compete in the next century with other Americans, as well as people from other countries. By all accounts, we have a long way to go to improve our public school system. Who's responsible for the mess we're in? Some people blame the Board of Education. Others point the finger at the Governor. Still others point to the Legislature. That's the problem. There are too many people who can be blamed. There is confusion over who is responsible for public education. As a result, there is no accountability.

"House Bill 149 and House Bill 150 seek to build accountability into Hawai'i's public school system at the highest level. Under these bills, the Governor will be as accountable for public education as he is for most of the other functions of state government. Today, all of the state departments, except for the Department of Education, has the directors or boards appointed by the Governor. If any of them don't perform, the Governor is held responsible. That's how it should be for education as well.

"These bills make the Governor clearly responsible for public education. But, Mr. Speaker and colleagues, these bills alone will not fix Hawai'i's public schools. Much, much more has to be done. However, these bills establish accountability into public education that ensures that progress will be made. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 149, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT PROPOSING AN AMENDMENT TO ARTICLE X, SECTION 2, OF THE HAWAII CONSTITUTION, TO CHANGE THE BOARD OF EDUCATION FROM AN ELECTED BOARD TO AN APPOINTED BOARD," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Judiciary and Hawai'ian Affairs with Representatives Auwae, Fox, Halford, Leong, Marumoto, McDermott, Meyer, Moses, Pendleton, Rath, Thielen and Whalen voting no and Representatives Catalani, Chang and Herkes being excused.

"DISSENT TO STAND. COM. REP. NO. 83
Honolulu, Hawai'i
February 8, 1999

RE: H.B. No. 149

Honorable Calvin Say
Speaker, House of Representatives
Twentieth State Legislature
Regular Session of 1999
State of Hawai'i

Sir:

We the undersigned dissenting members of the Committee on Education oppose changing the Board of Education from an elected body to an appointed body and beg leave to file this dissent to Standing Committee Report No. 83 in reference to H.B. 149, PROPOSING AN AMENDMENT TO ARTICLE X, SECTION 2, OF THE HAWAII CONSTITUTION, TO CHANGE THE BOARD OF EDUCATION FROM AN ELECTED BOARD TO AN APPOINTED BOARD.

Education is of great importance to Hawai'i's people and we believe the people should have the utmost participation in its development and governance. The Board of Education should be representative of the populace whom they serve rather than appointed by the Governor. The board should also be accountable to the public since it is the public that receives the services of the board. Education services are core services that have a tremendous impact on the lives of the average citizen. They also have an impact on the future of Hawai'i residents. It is therefore prudent to make the Board of Education accountable to the very people whose lives they touch so deeply.

Making the board directly accountable to the public rather than the Governor would enhance the performance of the board since the people who know the everyday performance of the Department of Education will be able to choose whom they feel are most qualified to make the policy decisions the board has to make.

We also feel the Legislature should take the additional step of creating regional elected boards rather than one board to make them that much more accountable and in touch with the residents of Hawai'i. We therefore oppose passage of H.B. 149.

Respectfully submitted by the following members of your Committee on Education,

Bob McDermott, Member
Bertha F.K. Leong, Member"

Representative Ito, for the Committee on Education, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 84) recommending that H.B. No. 150, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Judiciary and Hawai'ian Affairs.

Representative Case moved that the report of the Committee be adopted and H.B. No. 150, HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Judiciary and Hawai'ian Affairs, seconded by Representative Yonamine.

Representative Pendleton rose and stated:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to Stand. Com. Rep. No. 84, which is the accompanying H.B. No. 150, HD 1. I also rise in opposition to this particular measure for the reasons previously stated and would like the Clerk to note that the entire Minority Caucus is opposed to this measure.

"One final word, Mr. Speaker, across the Nation, our school boards are elected and are directly accountable to parents, and we don't believe that at this time we should differ from that pattern. Thank you."

Representative Kahikina then rose in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, as our Chair of Education alluded to, this is a first step towards accountability. I must say that even tonight, as we speak, in Kapolei, a community will be meeting on issues of education. And even in my community, an elected board of education has enacted policies governing new schools that is far fetched from our community. And in every community meeting, I have never seen an elected board member, but the community for some reason seems to think that this legislative body is responsible. And so, therefore, I believe that it is a first step toward accountability because I've been personally assessed that we're responsible. So I support this measure wholeheartedly."

Representative Moses then rose in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Nowhere else are school boards appointed. As my colleague just mentioned, in Kapolei tonight there will be a meeting. My phone has been ringing off the hook all weekend with community members calling in outrage. How dare somebody appoint a school board for our new schools. They don't want it. They'll be there tonight and people will hear about it. They don't have other problems with the measure. They do have problems with appointed school boards. They were promised, when we built those schools and designed them, that the community would be involved in governing the school. We thought at that time through SCBM councils, but they are adamantly opposed to appointed school boards. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 150, H.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Judiciary and Hawai'ian Affairs with Representatives Auwae, Fox, Halford, Leong, Marumoto, McDermott, Meyer, Moses, Pendleton, Rath, Thielen and Whalen voting no and Representatives Catalani, Chang and Herkes being excused.

Representative Stegmaier rose and stated:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise to speak in support of Standing Committee Report No. 96, but with reservations.

"I was not there for the decision making on this bill although I did hear the testimony. What this bill calls for is that the Legislature appropriate another $31.9 million as an emergency appropriation for services associated with the Felix vs. Cayetano consent decree.

"The testimony, as I recall, of the Department of Health was that these are unanticipated expenses. I think that's the wrong term to use for these requests that have been coming to us year after year. I think it's fiscally prudent, fiscally necessary for the Department of Health to be up front with projected costs concerning Felix so that we have a chance to scrutinize their requests in advance of a set outcome plea, such as in this case, which is that we're just funding something -- services that have already been provided or that have been contracted for.

"While I'm in favor of satisfying the requirements of the consent decree, it puts us in a very difficult position to be asked to pay. It sort of forces us as hostages to come up with that money without the chance, as a Legislature, to determine whether every penny of that money is well spent. Thank you."

Representative Case moved that the report of the Committee be adopted and H.B. No. 1370 pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committees on Energy and Environmental Protection and Water and Land Use, seconded by Representative Yonamine.

Representative Pendleton rose to speak in opposition to the bill, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, House Bill 1370 relates to the conveyance tax increase and revenue distribution. Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to this measure because what this does is it increases by a hundred percent the tax on conveyances.

"Now, the intent and purpose of this bill is a good and noble one. We all care for the homeless, we all want to help them, we want to do everything we can for them. But in a down economy, it's very questionable whether this is the best way, the most appropriate way, the most effective way, to help the homeless. Perhaps a better way would be to appropriate the necessary funds out of the general fund to help the homeless. Using this tax increase not only harms our economy in a time when we need to be reducing taxes, but it also is an undependable and unreliable revenue stream. We don't know how much revenue will be raised by this measure to help the homeless, so there is a lot of uncertainty there.

"For those reasons, Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to this measure -- to the 100 percent tax increase on conveyances. And also, if the Clerk would note that all Minority members present are also voting no on this measure.

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Arakaki then rose to speak in favor of the measure, stating:

"I appreciate the concerns of the previous speaker; however, I do want to ask the members to support this as an alternative to provide funding for homeless programs. As we have seen from last year when we had to do this on an emergency basis, we don't have the kinds of resources we need to care for those who are really in desperate situations. And to cite the economy I think is correct, but we also need to look at what the economy is doing for the people who are the neediest. The population of the homeless is growing and it's not the normal of what you would expect the homeless to be. We are finding that more families are becoming homeless, and this is where the needs are increasing. And when it comes to meeting the needs of families, it takes a little more and so it takes more money and, of course, more resources to care for this population.

"I would like to note that as far as the conveyance tax, this is just a temporary increase. It sunsets after two years and not only benefits homeless programs, it also provides additional funding for the rental housing trust fund which will increase the supply of low-income rental housing. Not only that, this temporary increase will also serve to upgrade and modernize the conveyance tax recordation system and computer, so there are a lot of benefits to this temporary increase, and I hope that all the members can at least consider this and its possibilities.

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Halford then rose to speak against the bill, stating:

"I would like to say that this tax increase is an arbitrary tax increase with a weak nexus between real estate transactions and the homeless poor. We have already damaged the most fragile members of our community, from the homeless to the working poor, by removing tax credits related to the general excise tax, which does have a strong nexus to the homeless and poor, and also to our lagging economy.

"If this Legislature is serious about helping Hawaii's poor and helping our economy, we are much better off restoring the tax credits on the general excise tax. Thank you."

Representative Stegmaier then rose to speak against the bill, stating:

"As I did in the Committee deliberations on decision-making, I am going to be voting no on this draft. One problem that I have with it is that half of this increase would go into the general fund and it wouldn't be dedicated to homeless care at all. In addition, I'm not sure that we can say that because it's a temporary increase, that the situation will have been corrected concerning our homeless to the extent that this increase will no longer be needed. I would prefer rather than deal with it this way, that we need to identify homelessness as a priority and dedicate the funds that we know are necessary from the general fund to be able to serve this population.

"For these reasons, I am voting no. Thank you."

Representative Kahikina then rose in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, the previous speakers were correct in alluding their concerns of increasing this conveyance tax. Although I agree with many of the talks that were shared, we, in our Committee, had deliberated ways to secure funding to service the homeless, and it's a hard decision to make. Although this is still early in the process, we know that we need to have an open mind and have all of the options available.

"For those reasons, I am really urging our members to support the process, and through the deliberations we can put it in the actual budget, and so be it. If not, we need an alternative, and for that matter I ask our colleagues to support the measure."

Representative Marumoto then rose and stated:

"I'm sorry, Mr. Speaker, I wanted to address Stand. Com. Rep. No. 131. Is that on page 4?"

Asked by the Chair to "please proceed," Representative Marumoto continued, saying:

"The last measure on the page -- House Bill 873, HD 1.

"Mr. Speaker. . .

The Chair said: "We're on page 4."

Representative Marumoto: "I'm sorry, I have a draft that was perhaps changed."

At 12:35 o'clock p.m., the Chair declared a recess, subject to the call of the Chair.

Upon reconvening at 12:36 o'clock p.m., Representative Marumoto continued, saying:

"Mr. Speaker, on Stand. Com. Rep. 131, House Bill 873, HD 1. . .

The Chair interjected: "I have House Bill 1370."

Representative Marumoto: "Oh, it is House Bill 1370. My mistake. I'm sorry, sir."

Asked by the Chair to "please proceed," Representative Marumoto continued, saying:

"I speak in favor with reservations. I generally favor tax exemptions, Mr. Speaker, so I am voting aye on this measure. But I simply rise to express the sincere belief of the Republican Caucus -- your loyal opposition -- that tax relief for the general population for items such as food, medical care and residential rent would better help Hawaii's families as our economy. . .

At this point, Representative M. Oshiro rose on a point of order and said:

"Mr. Speaker, I believe the speaker is not speaking to the subject matter of the bill which says: 'Conveyance tax increase and revenue distribution,' and ask that she keep her remarks to the subject matter of the bill."

Representative Marumoto responded:

"I'm sorry, Mr. Speaker, I should be addressing the bottom of page 5 -- House Bill 873. May I speak to the measure on page 5?"

The Chair asked:

"Is there any further discussion on page 4? If not, we can proceed on to page 5 and I'll acknowledge Representative Marumoto."

Representative Marumoto thanked the Chair.

The Chair recognized Representative Marumoto and she stated:

"Just to conclude my remarks, I just feel that we have better ways to help Hawaii's families and the economy and the narrow tax breaks which are given to select companies in this measure. This would give a GET break to amusement parks, and I think that there is a possibility also that these parks can have gambling businesses, and many of us here do not want to see that possibility. So, for that reason I want to express my strong reservations at this time.

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker."
