This bill seeks to expand protection of the 38,000 historical properties in our State by establishing civil and administrative penalties for intentional violations of an approved mitigation plan for any historic property, aviation artifact, or burial site located on private property.

"In the past, DLNR did not have administrative tools needed to impose financial penalties against individuals who destroy historical properties they agreed to preserve. By authorizing the Department to seek up to $10,000 in administrative and civil penalties against any individual who knowingly violates approved mitigation plans, this bill is the solution.

"Increased developments statewide warrants this bill, and insures that our future generations have access to the historical and cultural sites that our communities treasure and make Hawaii so unique. I ask my colleagues to support this important measure. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2857, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HISTORIC PRESERVATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Sonson rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"On 760, I am in strong support, however I have some reservations and I hope that it can be improved some. The bill before us is a way to ensure that children will have no access to pornographic materials, if they happen to be dragged in there with their parents into these stores.

"About 10 years ago, Suzie's, or Suzie Q I believe, an adult entertainment store opened up in Waipahu right on central Farrington Highway. I haven't been there, but ... No really, I haven't. But I can imagine that if parents were to take their kids in there, all this bill says is that the establishment will put or segregate the items out into a separate area.

"Well if it's segregated and curtained off, that just provides a private viewing place for children. It should actually say that the establishment shall not allow 18 and under into that particular section. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2885, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ADULT ENTERTAINMENT PRODUCTS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Magaoay rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Magaoay's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of House Bill 1417.

"Mr. Speaker, this bill will serve to mitigate frivolous claims, and help to improve the professional liability insurance against design professionals. It will assist in providing fairness, equity and justice in our legal system with regard to design professionals. As a case in point, a few years ago, a firm was dragged into a slip and fall claim at a local public facility. As a result of this claim, the firm spent a great deal of time and money to defend its position, and after a great deal of litigation was released from the claim. From a common sense viewpoint, it was strange that a structural engineering firm was named in the claim that had no merit. To the structural engineering firm it was a claim of slip and fall.

"Mr. Speaker, design professionals in both the public and private sectors are regularly faced with lawsuits for injury and damages resulting from facilities which were constructed from plans bearing their signatures. In the vast majority of cases, the professionals have made no error or omission that could be traced to their responsibility for the injury or damage claimed.

"Acceptance of House Bill 1417, will provide quality control of frivolous claims against design professionals, and increase professional liability and integrity. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committees was adopted and H.B. No. 1417, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO DESIGN PROFESSIONALS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Lee rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Lee's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this measure.

"This bill will amend Hawaii laws concerning narcotics prescriptions to be consistent with federal law by making several clarifications to Chapter 329. The bill is quite technical in nature, but in essence it will clarify how prescriptions for narcotics must be written by physicians, and how they are transmitted to and filled by pharmacists.

"As it stands now, there are times when verbal instructions are given to pharmacists by State officials after pharmacists raise questions about particular narcotics prescriptions. In our litigious culture, pharmacists are increasingly concerned about liability that could result should the prescription process be abused when a pharmacist was following verbal instructions in good faith. I'm quick to acknowledge the fact that narcotics prescriptions are vulnerable to abuse, so the pharmacists' concerns about properly filling these prescriptions have merit.

"However, it's also important to remember that when there is confusion during the filling of a narcotic prescription and a pharmacist chooses to be cautious that the net result is a patient, who may be in great pain, will be unable to have his or her narcotic prescription filled. This unfilled prescription situation is precisely what the bill before us would seek to remedy.

"I urge my colleagues to support this measure. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2192, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CONTROLLED SUBSTANCES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1860, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in opposition. Mr. Speaker, I voted in favor of this measure in the Education Committee, and since then it's just kind of sat with me and I just didn't feel right about it. It's because of the whole Act 51 and trying to get money to the school level. I really hate to make this hardline like, nothing for DOE, but I really do believe that if we are going to try and push, trying to let go of some of the programs that we force DOE and these schools to have, to let go some of the categorical funds so that they have the flexibility to do what they need at the school level, and to really embrace the Weighted Student Formula for what it is, and allowing the central bureaucracy or the central level to basically provide the needs that are priorities for the school level, then we need to say no to things like these.

"I believe the website and the maintenance and the upgrading of the website for the Department of Education are extremely important, and that's why I voted yes originally. But what this does is it says, I'm making the decision, that this more important than something that they could have at the school level, and I'm not sure. Why don't we let that be the deciding of how the schools decide on how to spend this kind of money?

"If it means even $10 or $100 that a school needs to give up or use to pay for website services then so be it, but let them decide because they could have used that $100 for, I don't know, some kind of school supplies or something that they think that is more important at the school level.

"I hate to make these hardline choices on these types of things, but I also do need to, I do need at this point to stand up for them and say that we need to be moving in the opposite direction. A direction that gives them more empowerment and more authority to say what their priorities are at the school level. Thank you."

Representative Takumi rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in support. There seems to be a misunderstanding about what exactly this bill does. You know, Mr. Speaker, if you were to look at the corporate world, take First Hawaiian Bank with their many branches, or Longs Drug Stores. I suppose each branch or each store could come up with their own website and people could access that and so on, but I suspect it's far better and far more efficient if the corporate body has a website that anyone can access and get information about any individual store or branch.

"This is no different. I don't know if any of you have been to the Department of Education's website. On one hand it's okay, but what this bill would do is provide additional resources so that they'll be able to aggregate data, dis-aggregate data, and provide that to the greater community. If you want to know what's going on at Hookena Elementary School on Big Island, or Mauna Loa on Molokai or Nanaikapono on the Leeward coast, you can, and should be able to, access that information in a very easy and transparent way.

"I am just puzzled. Again, when we talk about, 'let's put all the money into the classroom, into the individual school', without the realization that it does take a certain amount of coordination and that coordination has to come from so-called, fat, bloated, top-down autocratic, bureaucratic bureaucracy. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Herkes rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I ask for your ruling on a potential conflict. My wife works for the company that does the fact track," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Finnegan rose to respond, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker, I would like to say that, a lot of these things I do agree with the former speaker, our Chair of Education. The only problem that I have with this is that yes, they shouldn't be making, the Department shouldn't be making their arguments to us. They should be making these arguments that they need this coordinated system with the schools, and when they understand where this money is being spent, they would more appreciate what they're given as well.

"I'm not saying that we shouldn't have this done. I'm just saying, 'Who do we ask?' That's all. And we should be asking the school is this a priority for them."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1860, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes to 2 noes, with Representatives Cabanilla and Finnegan voting no.

Representative Berg rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I vote with reservations on this one. This draft is a great improvement from what left our Committee. My concern is that we are still focusing in on ways to make the fishing supplies, increase our fish population. We're so focusing on strategies that have to do with fishing, and we're not talking about our activities in the waters as well, that impact like feeding fish that tour companies go in and feed the fish wheat bread and lettuce and cause the illness of fish.

"So I would hope that when this comes back, that we will look more deliberately about those kind of details. There are some phrases here in the bill that indicate that the Chair and the Committee did hear from the community that having Hawaiian traditional strategies as a means of assessment, as well as measurement should be integrated. I'm hopeful that when the DLNR reads this that they will look at the variety of methodology, not as many different majority culture strategies, but also from the existing practices that we have here in Hawaii. Thank you."

Representative Green rose in support of the measure with reservations, and asked that the remarks of Representative Berg be entered in the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Kanoho rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, in support. Mr. Speaker and Members, for the past five years we've been trying to pass legislation which would statutorily encompass a policy in our statutes to comply with the State Constitution and that would be to establish statutorily, marine managed areas through a community-based management process. Your Committee on Water, Land and Ocean Resources did conduct 13 public hearings throughout the State receiving much support for the concept, and there was also vehement opposition from the fishing community.

"Primarily because while the concept of community-based management seemed fine, it appears that the ten marine managed areas established, the ten marine life conservation districts established which represents fishing 'no take' areas, except in the two instances where fishing by pole line is permitted, that the establishment of 'no take' areas, albeit through the community-based management process, resulted in 'no take' despite severe objections from the fishing community.

"So while it seemed appropriate that we should statutorily provide for this policy, to read the Constitution, in reality it has amounted to closures without full consideration of the fishing community, which ultimately ended up with the efforts in the five previous years that the bill would not pass.

"So this at best represents the compromise between another bill, which would have prohibited the establishment of marine managed areas even through the current rule making process. Even with this bill, the Department through its Aquatic Division can still establish marine managed areas including marine life conservation districts through rulemaking process.

"This is a compromise bill, 'middle of the road' approach to help the Department to increase fishing and our depleting fish population by providing funding for additional enforcement which was promoted by both sides of the fence, as well as to look at measures such as establishing artificial reefs or fishing aggregating devices, addressing non-point source pollution, or invasive species to provide the Department with the necessary resources to accomplish these things so that we can for now and the future, increase our fish population. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2587, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MARINE RESOURCES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

"Mr. Speaker, I'm standing in support for Stand. Com. 770. Mr. Speaker, as a member of the taskforce regarding sustainability, I stand up in support regarding appropriation of funds for this measure.

"Basically the appropriation would give money to the Auditor to carry out some of the plans and ideas that were a result of this taskforce. It's not just data gathering, Mr. Speaker. The intent is to gather information from the wide variety of resources in every county and then give something back to the communities to have a long sustaining plan. This is for our future. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2806, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SUSTAINABILITY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Yamane rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I also stand in strong support. Thank you."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm standing in strong support. This bill would issue a special purpose revenue bond for your alma mater, Saint Louis. I'm just concerned with some of the other bills that we're considering that if we consider SPRBs as projects that must pay prevailing wages, I hope that this project will work for Saint Louis. Thank you."

Representative Lee rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to declare a possible conflict. My husband is a graduate of Saint Louis," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Kahikina rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 3142, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Arakaki rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I speak in strong support of HB 3142. I just want to highlight this bill because I think many people may not realize the crisis, the impending crisis that we have in trauma care. I think a lot of Members noticed at the very beginning, there were a lot of bills on emergency care and providing access to emergency care, but the question is, 'Where they end up?' They end up in emergency rooms. They end up in our trauma center. And the fact is we only have one trauma center in the State of Hawaii, and in fact in the whole Pacific region, there is only one trauma center. And unlike other states we can't go to neighboring states to access that care. Neither can we import specialists from other states to come and provide care.

"So the question is, 'Do we want to live knowing that Hawaii has less than quality care? Less than our best in the trauma center where the care is most critical?'"

"And it's not just for Queen's. I know some people may think we're trying to provide funding for Queen's and their trauma center, but actually we need to fund a whole system of trauma care throughout the State. There are plans for another trauma center on Maui and possibly on the Big Island as well.

"The important thing is access. The important thing is providing specialists care, physicians who are on-call who can provide trauma service. And also providing the right kind of equipment so that the right kind of diagnosis and treatment can be made. The problem that we want you to know is that the reimbursement that are now provided are not enough to provide compensation for the kind of critical care that is needed.

"So I want to urge everyone to read the reports that were provided during the interim by LRB and by the physicians about what needs to be done for our trauma system. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Just slight remarks in support on SCR 773. And I noted earlier talking about the trauma reports and everything; I just hope that as we move forward that we're looking at this as a plan. That we're planning it well and that we fund the priorities so we can maintain trauma care for not only this island, but all islands. Thank you. I was speaking in support, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Caldwell rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker. I would just like to disclose another potential conflict. Again, my wife serves on the board of the Queen's Health Systems and they have the highest level of trauma care in the State. I think this bill is designed to help them along with the other trauma centers, and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Marumoto rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"A ruling on potential conflict. I have a son who does a lot of surgery at Queen's," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 3142, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TRAUMA CARE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Evans voting no.

Representative Shimabukuro rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Shimabukuro's written remarks are as follows:

"I speak as the representative of the district in which Hoa 'Aina Farm and its learning center are located. But even more, I speak for the thousands of students and their teachers who, over the years, have come from all around the Island of Oahu to Makaha, where they have availed themselves of a unique and proven educational resource. By all reports, the lessons learned about plants, animals, nutrition – and, above all, respect for the 'aina – are carried over into their daily classroom work and leave life-long impressions. Their contact with farm director, Gigi Cocquio, and his dedicated staff gives a first-hand experience of aloha that they will never forget.

"In this "classroom without walls," a resource teacher paid by the DOE has provided standards-based instruction to students from dozens of schools in four DOE districts. Although the center is immediately adjacent to Makaha Elementary School, and shares common curricular interests with the school, it operates independently from the school. I emphasize this to show that HB 1884 is not a special-interest measure for a single school that happens to be in my district. This bill is about saving one position with system-wide implications that go far beyond Makaha and the Wai'anae Coast.

"One might ask why this teaching position, if it is so important, is being denied continued funding by the DOE. In speaking with school and Department administrators, I have learned that there is no single answer. But I do know that it definitely has something to do with the Weighted Student Formula, and the impact the formula has had on district-level resource teacher positions that are now unavailable to Makaha Elementary and other schools throughout the system.

"I, along with most of my colleagues in the House, have supported the WSF as a means of bringing a more equitable distribution of resources throughout the system. As theory gets translated into practice, however, it turns out that some schools, mainly our smaller, rural schools, where teacher turnover is higher, are getting short-changed. One school in my district has a young teaching staff where the majority does not come close to earning the average WSF teacher salary of $67,000. Yet the school is required to purchase positions based on this average salary, preventing the school from budgeting for other critical needs. Maybe what we need in addition to the WSF is a weighted teacher formula that will ease the budgetary burdens of impacted schools.

"Until reforms are made, it is unfortunately necessary, I believe, that we pass measures such as HB 1884 to rescue programs that will otherwise be lost. I urge all my colleagues to support this bill and give continued life to a valuable and enriching program."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, in opposition. Mr. Speaker, this is very tough for me, as you may or may not know. This is where I grew up. I went to Makaha Elementary and I'm not sure how Hoa Aina O Makaha is connected to Makaha Elementary School. But the reason why I have to vote no is because what we're trying to accomplish, and I understand that the DOE is also wanting to do this. It is not to protect programs, they're trying not to protect programs and try to lessen the categorical funds so that we can have more funds going through the Weighted Student Formula.

"With more funds through the Weighted Student Formula we will be able to have these schools prioritize what they need for their schools and maybe in conjunction with other schools, be able to pull some money together to get positions to have programs like this. But if we continue to create more programs and have these type of favored schools, or favored programs, or categorical funds, then what happens is we start to diminish our want to get those others ones. Those other categories. Those other programs out from being protected.

"Like I said, I apologize to Hoa Aina O Makaha, because this is not something that I want to vote no for, but for the bigger picture, we have to stay on course and we have to get these things like the categorical funds and these programs out from being protected. Thank you."

Representative Shimabukuro rose to respond, stating:

"I'm sorry, may I speak a brief rebuttal? Mr. Speaker, last week HSTA held a meeting at the Capitol regarding the difficulty rural schools are experiencing under this Weighted Student Formula. One of the well-recognized problems that was discussed is the difficulty that rural schools have in recruiting and retaining teachers, and this problem has plagued the Wai'anae coast for many, many years.

"The principals in my district inform me of their dismay at losing six mentors and several resource teachers in the Leeward District due to the reforms. Mentor teachers provide critical training and support services to new teachers and resource teachers, and fill needs very specific to the schools.

"One such resource teacher is the subject of this bill and this teacher services schools throughout the islands who visit Hoa Aina Farms, Makaha Farms, on field trips. Mr. Speaker, this teacher's loss means much of the farm's operations and statewide field trips will cease. Rural farming communities such as Wai'anae desperately need instruction in agriculture and hands on learning.

"I stand with the principals in my district and HSTA to urge that the Weighted Student Formula be amended to account for the unique needs of rural schools, especially the high teacher turnover. This bill is a very necessary measure towards addressing that need. And Mr. Speaker, I also have additional written comments."

Representative Finnegan rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, just a quick comment still in opposition. What's happening in this situation is exactly what I'm trying to avoid, which is replacing one position and not doing it for Molokai or some of these other rural areas where they're losing teachers and principals just the same.

"What we're doing is we're singling out, and all of us, we're all saying by voting on this bill that we rather have that one than the one over in Molokai, or the one over in Lanai, or the one over in Kauai, or whatever positions that are out there that are being lost. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1884, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Finnegan voting no.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 778-06) recommending that H.B. No. 2713, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2713, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, 778 is Relating to Special Purpose Revenue Bonds for Kawaiahao School. It's a kindergarten school over there. I'm in strong support of that. My only concern is some of the bills we have moving forward that would force Kawaiahao School, when they put that bid out to contract, to pay prevailing wages which very well might make the project unviable. Thank you."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I am strongly in favor of this measure, but have similar concerns to the Minority Floor Leader. We have repeatedly mentioned that the prevailing wage law will increase cost, and this is magnified. It's exacerbated when the projects are small which this Kawaiahao School project is. It's only $6 million. It is less apparent when the construction projects are you know, $50 million, $75 million, but we want to help small school projects like Kawaiahao and Saint Louis. And if so, we should not saddle them with the Little Davis Bacon prevailing wage law. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2713, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SPECIAL PURPOSE REVENUE BONDS FOR KAWAIAHAO SCHOOL," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

At 11:07 o'clock a.m., the Chair noted that the following bills, passed Third Reading:

H.B. No. 2987, HD 1	H.B. No. 2796, HD 1
H.B. No. 3142, HD 2	H.B. No. 1884, HD 1
H.B. No. 3258, HD 2	H.B. No. 2713, HD 1

On motion by Representative M. Oshiro, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2759, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO INVASIVE SPECIES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Arakaki being excused.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 780-06) recommending that H.B. No. 2767, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative M. Oshiro, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2767, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO AGRICULTURE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Arakaki being excused.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 781-06) recommending that H.B. No. 2774, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative M. Oshiro, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2774, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO AGRICULTURE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Arakaki being excused.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 782-06) recommending that H.B. No. 2848, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative M. Oshiro, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2848, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ENERGY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Arakaki being excused.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 783-06) recommending that H.B. No. 2877, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2877, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Harbin rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm going to be voting with very strong reservations. Unless we as a Body really get down and understand what we are doing with the gas pricing, the gas cap in the State of Hawaii, I think it's rather premature that we're talking about waiving gross excise taxes.

"Until we get some type of understanding of the devious ways that the oil companies do their pricing, it's very difficult for us to find out whether or not, all of a sudden that decrease will suddenly go into their coffers of profits.

"So until we come to an agreement, whether we're going to cap them, run them, understand their transparency, or find out what it is that they're doing, I can't support totally a measure that gives them a crack at another 2 cents. Thank you."

Representative Pine rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, this is a tax cut I definitely can support. When we combine the taxes on gas with the City and State and the federal government, having residents pay the highest gas taxes or among the highest gas taxes in the nation, so this definitely will decrease the cost of gasoline for Hawaii residents."

Representative Morita rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to this measure. Whatever savings accrued from a reduction taxes are not necessarily guaranteed to the consumer. Also one of my great concerns is that we don't know the fiscal impact of such a move. Thank you."

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. I wish to speak in favor of this measure. Some years ago when the State was in dire financial needs, the excise tax was passed by this Body here – not this same Body of course. A Body a number of years ago I believe, when I was the Finance Chairman.

"The reason we did it was that simply the State was running short of funds. The excise tax doesn't go into the State Highway Fund. It goes into the general fund. Right now we seem to have a surplus, and I think it's the right time to repeal the excise tax on gasoline. I think this will help to sever our reputation that we have one of the highest gas taxes in the nation. Also it doesn't belong there where it is right now. I believe this is the right time, Mr. Speaker. Thank you very much."

Representative Sonson rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"With strong reservations and the words of the Chair of EEP be included into the Journal as my own. Mr. Speaker, I'm very concerned that this particular measure does not have the fiscal impact study on it. There's no indication of what is going to cost the Hawaii taxpayers.

"The Speaker Emeritus said that yes, this money does not go into the Highway Fund. It goes into the general fund. That's even scarier. We have a lot of programs moving, a lot of programs maybe for the poor. A lot of measures that will help people who are in need of health care, housing, etc. That's where we want to focus any tax breaks. I'm not sure if I am clear on why we are giving tax breaks to the, I believe this is a tax break for the well-to-do. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"The purpose of this bill is to provide assistance to the people of Hawaii by suspending the collection of the general excise tax on motor vehicle gasoline for two years. Tax relief is sorely needed by the Hawaii taxpayer. I would like to see tax relief that starts with the taxing of food and medical care. Continuing a tax on these fundamental necessities is cruel and wrong, especially because of the impact on low income workers.

"Originally the idea of placing an excise tax on food and medical care was designed to tax the visitors coming to Hawaii. The resident population was given a tax credit so that the net impact would be neutral. However, the succeeding Legislatures rescinded the tax credit to place the full burden of the excise tax upon Hawaii residents."

Representative Lee rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in support with strong reservations. I really rather see this money go into increasing the number of buses on the road. In a sense, this measure rewards people who drive cars. Either big cars or poor fuel-efficient cars, and I think it would be a much better idea to put this back into solving some of our traffic problems. Thank you."

Representative Stonebraker rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, in support. It's very surprising in a year with so much surplus to see so few tax breaks and tax decreases. And then when something like this that's just pennies for the drivers on the roads, to see such kicking and screaming from some people. That this is terrible that we're cutting taxes. It's just hilarious. I wish the public could watch this."

The Chair interjected, stating:

"Representative Stonebraker, I think the public is watching this today."

Representative Stonebraker continued, stating:

"I hope they are because gas taxes and gas prices and the gas cap have been such hot issue over the past couple of years, and to directly lower the price of gas not for the well-to-do, but for everybody. Anybody who drives, for goodness sake. Let's just pass a little tax break for some of the drivers in Hawaii. Thank you."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, in strong support. I would like the words of the Representative from Hawaii Kai inserted in the Journal as if they were my own. And I think that this is the least we could do. The drivers have paid over $55 million more than they should have since the beginning of the gas cap. This begins to give a little something back and I'm in strong support. Thank you."

Representative Yamashita rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, a ruling on a potential conflict. I'm a part owner of a gas station," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Takai rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this measure. Thank you. I would like the words of the speaker from Maui, the Transportation Chairman entered into the Journal as if they were my own," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Takai continued, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, I did some research on this and asked the Tax Department, and in fact the Department of Budget and Finance, for an analysis of this, and the truth is they can't come out with it because the way the GET is for gas stations. The way the GET works, it's a total tax across all of their income derived from not only gas, but also many of them are going into convenience stores and selling drinks and food and other items. But to me it doesn't matter, Mr. Speaker, because what we're saying here in this bill is we're getting rid of the GET on gas and it's not only pennies.

"In fact if you take a look at gas, for a gallon costing about $2.50 that's actually 10 cents. That's pretty significant and I think in light of the challenges we faced over the past few months in regards to gasoline cost, I think this is a step in the right direction. I would like to urge my colleagues to support this measure. Thank you."

Representative Berg rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong opposition to this bill. Thank you. What we're talking about here in our Legislature is fiduciary responsibility to use taxes as investments in our future and improving the quality of life.

"My concern is that we're not talking about other taxes as well. Yes we are both sides of the aisle if you will. If taxes are an investment then what we really need to be talking about as an efficient government, a responsible government, is coherent tax plan. I'm really deeply concerned that as we have a philosophy that the least we can do is cut this particular tax, what are we doing more deliberately to look at curbing the gated communities. The building of gated communities. Lessening our 90% dependence on the food source supplies and imported goods and lessening our dependence on imported fossil fuels.

"We have lots of bills that are working toward these areas and what I would caution us is if this is pennies, or even if it's not pennies, that we need to be very deliberate with all of our tax cuts or all of our measures that want to reduce any of the taxes that we think would help us have a better quality of life. Thank you."

Representative Moses rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, in strong support. I wasn't going to say anything, but this is as we heard from the Vice Speaker 10 cents a gallon. So that's 20 cents a gallon for the average family in Hawaii because you have two working people, two cars going to work to different places, so it's 20 cents a gallon. Add that up, and maybe it will help them put food on the table and that's a reason why we should eliminate the GET on the food too. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2877, HD 1, entitled:

"A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO GENERAL EXCISE TAX," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes to 2 noes, with Representatives Berg and Morita voting no, and Representative Arakaki being excused.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 784-06) recommending that H.B. No. 2930, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2930, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Shimabukuro rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Shimabukuro's written remarks are as follows:

"I support HB 2930, which appropriates funds for a pilot project to establish designated areas in public parks for using plants and trees for Hawaiian traditional and customary gathering practices.

"As representative of a district in which Hawaiian practices are widely taught and cherished, I am pleased that the project will be tested in Wai'anae. But I am even more excited at the prospect of the project being duplicated throughout all islands. If this bill receives proper funding, there is no reason that this cannot happen.

"I have followed carefully the almost unanimous testimony offered in support of this bill as it made its way through two House Committees. From agencies, such as OHA, and from interested individuals, I sensed great enthusiasm for this project, which would give greater access to the cultural resources of our islands.

"It would especially help our young people to experience in a tangible way their own cultural roots. One of my constituents, a respected kupuna in the community, spoke movingly of these 'outdoor classrooms' that would enable our keiki to learn from knowledgeable practitioners.

"The Department of Land and Natural Resources, in its testimony, expressed appreciation for the concept. At this same time, it expressed certain reservations based on a false perception that the project would be restricted to 'only those of Hawaiian ancestry.' This was certainly not the intent of the bill, and nothing in the title or body of the bill would indicate such restrictions. In checking with our Majority Staff Office, the drafting agency for the bill, I was given a legal opinion that the only thing 'Hawaiian' about the bill is the practices indicated. Nowhere in the language is it indicated or inferred that the pilot project is restricted to Native Hawaiian people.

"I urge all of my colleagues to join with me in supporting a modest, but creative, project with enormous possibilities."

Representative Moses rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations on this measure. I'm all for the gathering rights and I'll explain that here. The bill proposes DLNR to cord-in special boundary areas within State public parks in the Waianae area to designate them for Hawaiian gathering practices for growing plants and trees.

"Well I support Hawaiians' rights to practice traditional gathering practices. As written the bill does not take into consideration the following legal and geographical concerns. There are limited State parks in Waianae area. There is only Makua and Kaena Point State Park. Due to the restrictive land use associated with Natural Area Reserves, the proposed project could not be implemented at Kaena.

"Considering the dry climate and social conditions in the Waianae area, there are areas that are more suitable for planting and gathering.

A good example would be Malaekahana State Park with numerous many coconuts because DLNR refrains from harvesting tress in low traffic areas within the park.

"After speaking to a DLNR division head we know there are public lands available mauka of Waianae that could be used, however irrigation and an archeological survey would be required prior to planting. Due to DLNR's mandate to protect Hawaii's resources and maintain access to a general public, DLNR is unable to cord-in an enclosed area designated for the exclusive use by Hawaiians.

"The existing free permitting process for gathering plants in our State park was established to: a) monitor whose going into a park to gather; b) how much they are taking; and c) when they accessed the area. Through this permitting process DLNR is able to manage and preserve our natural resources. Exempting one group from following this process sets a bad precedent and makes current rules unenforceable.

"Stewardship of the land is the main impetus of this bill and sets up a pilot project. Educating the Waianae community on the traditional gathering practices of Native Hawaiians can be developed in cooperation with DLNR's existing curatorship program. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Shimabukuro rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, just in brief rebuttal. I just wanted to clarify that this bill is not just intended for Hawaiians. We did get an opinion on that from the House Majority Staff Office that this is not limited to only Hawaiians.

"Secondly in Waianae in that district, both Makua and Kulailai Park have streams so there is irrigation naturally occurring in both of those state parks. Further, Section 2 of the bill does state that by 2009, this should apply to all State parks, so that would include Malaekahana and other parks across the State.

"And there are finally, several nonprofit groups in Waianae that have indicated very much interest in this program and providing the necessary manpower to make sure it works. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2930, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HAWAIIAN TRADITIONAL AND CUSTOMARY PRACTICES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Arakaki being excused.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 785-06) recommending that H.B. No. 3057, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 3057, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Karamatsu rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Karamatsu's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in support. The Hawaii small business innovation research grant program was created to encourage small businesses to develop commercially viable technologies or innovations. Prior to 1989, there were only two Hawaii small business innovation research grant program-awarded companies, but since 1989, fifty-six Hawaii companies have won two hundred forty-five small business innovation research grant program awards. These grant program awards brought approximately $56,500,000 in federal small business innovation research grant program Phase I and Phase II funds to Hawaii. In addition to these grants, $57,500,000 in Phase III small business innovation research grant program commercialization contracts have been awarded to Hawaii companies. According to the United States Department of Agriculture, Hawaii companies have won the highest number of United States Department of Agriculture small business innovation research grant program awards per capita of any state.

"Hawaii must be a strong participant in accessing matching funds from the federal small business innovation research grant program, which has $2,000,000,000 in funds. Hawaii's cumulative state investment in the Hawaii small business innovation research grant program of $3,700,000 has a return ratio of 15:1 in federal Phase I and II grants and 30:1 if the Phase III commercial contracts are included.

"The current annual general fund appropriation of approximately $260,000 for the grant program has remained relatively the same over the past sixteen years and actually decreased in some years from a high of $400,000. However, the increase in the number of participating Hawaii companies and grants awarded has caused a significant reduction in the amount of funding available from the Hawaii small business innovation research grant program for recipients of the federal program. Small business innovation research-funded, start-up projects and companies are an important part of the pipeline that feeds and increases the size and number of research and development companies seeking to commercialize technologies in Hawaii. This program, other similar programs, and the efforts of those involved result in a more stable technology-based economy in the State. Therefore, through this bill, the appropriation for the Hawaii small business innovation research grant program, and other related technology grant programs being created this legislative session within the High Technology Development Corporation will be increased to $500,000 to help foster further growth in the technology industry."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 3057, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING AN APPROPRIATION TO THE HIGH TECHNOLOGY DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Arakaki being excused.

At 11:22 o'clock a.m., the Chair noted that the following bills, passed Third Reading:

H.B. No. 2759, HD 1	H.B. No. 2877, HD 1
H.B. No. 2767, HD 2	H.B. No. 2930, HD 2
H.B. No. 2774, HD 1	H.B. No. 3057, HD 1
H.B. No. 2848, HD 2

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 786-06) recommending that H.B. No. 3237, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 3237, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Sonson rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"On 786, Mr. Speaker. In support, however with strong reservations. First I'd like to apologize for not catching the referral of this bill. As you can tell, it was actually introduced by me and the Chair of Education. I think this measure should have been actually referred to Human Services and I didn't catch that. There is a big part that Human Services plays in this because they do handle a large federal fund that does provide funding for early childhood education.

"There is a strong objection to the makeup of the working group. The working group does not include representation from the private schools. They are at this point currently, one of the biggest providers of early childhood education. I believe that they should have a voice in this because it does affect them.

"The bill goes on to say that the working group will look at how the school facilities, public school facilities that can be used by both public and private providers, so they are I believe, Mr. Speaker, an indispensable part of interest. Thank you."

Representative Berg rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, in strong support of this bill which is a work in progress. It's probably my ... I'm responsible for asking the Chair to cosign it. In my freshman year, I'm learning how it works. So perhaps I'm at fault for the mis-referral.

"I believe that the referral to the Education Committee was correct however, and this particular amendment to this bill comes out of the taskforce that we convened this summer. The original bill laid out the broad strokes for an authority and for an upcoming view of how we can create a governing structure for a new system for early childhood learning. This particular draft is looking at more specifically bringing a working group together to scope out and propose a plan for the State's responsibility for 4 year-olds. It is in no way intended to be a final product or to imply that the private providers are not included in the conversation.

"The challenge of creating an early learning system is very much like the challenge we have for a university system with a public and private partnerships. So we're having to explore at least at the beginning stages, what is the State's responsibility financially, and then bringing the other providers in to see how we can look at services, not only for 4 year-olds, but from 0 to 5.

"So I believe this is a great first step in this effort and I look forward to working with the Senate as we make sure that all of our 4 year-olds are taken care of, and all of our young children have early learning experiences. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, just in strong support. I think the many benefits of early childhood education have been documented many, many times, so this is an exciting measure. However I also would like to insert written comments and I do hope that the private schools are included in the dialogue," and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in strong support of H.B. 3237 -- Relating to Early Childhood Education. In today's society it's imperative to introduce children into early childhood educational programs that maximize current resources to pave the way for a child's healthy and successful development. Providing early childhood education access to all four year olds in the State of Hawaii is essential in today's society.

"We know research shows that the mind is shaped significantly by experiences and other stimuli in the first five years of a child's life. This period sets the foundation in which a person forms his or her behavioral, emotional, social, and decision-making skills, values, self-esteem, and lifelong learning ability. All children have the right to attend good programs that promote their development and learning. High-quality care and education programs have been documented to promote children's development and learning."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 3237, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 787-06) recommending that H.B. No. 1829, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1829, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Yamane rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

Representative Stevens rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I rise with reservations on Stand. Com. 788. Lake Wilson has this dam across it, and the dam is already classified as a high hazard. Purchasing this land will only increase the liabilities. DLNR is just not in a position, or do they have the expertise to manage this type of property and I believe that the dam should be repaired before we consider a purchase of something like this. Thank you very much."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2132, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING AN APPROPRIATION TO ACQUIRE REAL PROPERTY IN WAHIAWA, OAHU," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Kahikina rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Kahikina's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of this measure Relating To Housing.

"Act 196 provided a number of mechanisms and incentives to increase the supply of low-income rental housing. In addition, the Legislature, recognizing that more meaningful solutions to Hawaii's housing and homeless crisis were needed, established a Joint Legislative Housing and Homeless Task Force to further identify near-term solutions to Hawaii's affordable housing and homeless problem. The taskforce relied on the information collected in developing its recommendations.

"The purpose of this bill is to implement many of the recommendations of the taskforce. This measure:

1. Authorizes State Rent Supplement Program funds to be used for operating subsidies for state low-income housing units transferred to private organizations to operate and manage the units.
2. Increases the allocation of conveyance tax revenues to the Rental Housing Trust Fund.
3. Allows State-owned parcels to be leased for the development of self-help housing.
4. Provides for the transfer of public lands suitable for affordable residential development to the Hawaii Housing and Finance Development Administration.
5. Appropriates funds for homeless and transitional housing programs.
6. Appropriates funds to repair vacant public housing units. Appropriates funds for interim construction loans to develop self-help ownership homes.

"By instituting this measure, we hope to give incentives to both private and non-profit organizations to help us increase the number of newly constructed and renovated affordable housing and put an end to homelessness in Hawaii."

Representative Pine rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pine's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support. This bill will increase the conveyance tax revenues deposited into the Rental Housing Fund from 30% to 65%. The increase will allow more revenue to be focused on affordable housing. It also allows HCDCH to set, by administrative rule the amount of the State rent supplement payment. This flexibility will help numerous low-income families and increase affordable housing in Hawaii."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2176, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HOUSING," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2692, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Harbin rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to cast my very adamant vote for no as a no. I'd like to give a little background because I think maybe we're finally starting to understand some of the ramifications that bills such as this would have on some of the good things and the good works that this Legislature is attempting to do. A number of those are the SPRBs that we've been discussing the past week and many of them today.

"First of all Chapter 104, we keep calling it the fair prevailing wage law, and there are many of those who look at me and say, 'Well, what's wrong with a good living wage for employees?' That's not what it's about. What's it about is Chapter 104 is in fact the 'Baby Davis Bacon Act', and the Baby Davis Bacon is patterned after the federal Davis Bacon which is specifically for funding that comes through public works. What this bill is attempting to do is attempting to stretch the term of what a public works is into indirect types of public works, SPRBs.

"What are the implications? First of all, let me give you an implication. A school that is going to do a small public work. This is the type of reporting they will have to do. If they have a worker that performs carpentry, some painting, does some single-man work, each activity would have to be broken down into categories of classification and then they would have to submit certified payrolls on a weekly basis.

"Where do they submit them to? We don't know. We don't know that yet. Why don't we know? Because you have to have a government contracting agency to be able to do a government contracting program.

"So we have a Chapter that is so confusing. It's missing so many pieces, but what we're trying to do is slide as a public works, very important projects such as those that we're funding for Kamehameha Schools, for Maui Pine, some of the irrigation programs that we're developing, a small program for Kawaiahao Church, Saint Louis High School, these now would all be vulnerable to these additional costs of not just supplying a living wage which is what we want for our people, but the extreme, extreme burden of reporting to an agency which is still non-existent. And I have not yet seen the creator of these wonderful bills to expand Chapter 104 stand and rise and support them, including the Chair of Finance. Let's talk about this. Let's stop these Chapter 104 bills."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, can we go back to Stand. Com. Report 791? I'm rising in opposition to the bill. I don't want to repeat much of what the Representative from Kakaako has said, but I'm concerned about these indirect public works.

"I think mandating union wages for private projects will only increase the cost of construction anywhere from 30% to 50% depending on the size. As I understand it, the more expensive it is, the difference is not as great, but when you get to these small jobs it can be, because of all the burdensome requirements of payroll, who gets to work, and what positions have to be filled. It's just nothing like what contractors have to deal with in the private sector.

"My opposition to this bill does not mean I believe that hard working employees should be paid less than they are worth. Instead, I believe that during this time of impossible housing costs and construction costs and excessive taxes, Hawaii's people should come first before union demands. Consumers deserve choices and this is what a functioning market provides. Allowing businesses to pay prevalent wages or competitive wages, rather than fixed union wages creates a more competitive world where consumers have the ability to shop for the best buy.

"On the other hand, if these various entities who are coming to us for SPRBs to get lower interest loans are all forced to pay the highest possible salaries, then they really will have no choices. That's my concern. I think we are getting into an area where we're not prepared.

"As the Representative from Kakaako says, Chapter 104 is very complex. It doesn't really cover everything. I think that this opinion we heard about many times from the Attorney General, I think if it was challenged in court it will be overturned because, maybe if you look at it very narrowly you could call a SPRB a public project because the government is behind the loan. But it also says you must have a government contracting office and we don't have a government contracting office for these types of jobs that are many arm lengths away from government. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Moses rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm in opposition. I believe that this may affect GIAs also, grants-in-aid, and I know we're looking at YMCA, Goodwill, Easter Seals. Agencies like that and we're going to require them to report all of this stuff to a procurement office somewhere but we don't have one. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representatives Meyer and Moses be entered in the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2692, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC WORKS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 41 ayes to 10 noes, with Representatives Ching, Finnegan, Harbin, Marumoto, Meyer, Moses, Pine, Stevens, Stonebraker and Thielen voting no.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 792-06) recommending that H.B. No. 2964, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

At 11:35 o'clock a.m., the Chair noted that the following bills, passed Third Reading:

H.B. No. 3237, HD 2	H.B. No. 2176, HD 2
H.B. No. 1829, HD 1	H.B. No. 2692, HD 1

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 3116, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Moses rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, in support with reservations. We're all for children's health. My concern with this program is the bill is not a Medicaid program as such, and therefore there will not be any federal dollars to help the State pay for the coverage.

"The Department of Human Services is concerned that families with incomes between 251% and 300% of the FPR right now would drop Medicaid coverage. These costs between $15 to $16 per child per month for full benefit package. To enroll those children in this new proposed program, which would not require a premium. Much of this will be very limited as a benefits package, than the Medicaid 'Cadillac' coverage that they already can get. The plan will not cover newborns, and adults ages 18 to 19 years of age, or newly arrived immigrants with temporary Visas. They could become the State's new emerging uninsured gap group.

"So what I'm saying, Mr. Speaker, is we have a better program right now, and this bill is going to segregate out a portion of our population. Thank you."

Representative Arakaki rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, in strong support. Mr. Speaker, I would just like you and the others to know that this is probably a seminal moment in the history of our Legislature because we'll be the first State that can actually promise and provide healthcare for all Hawaii's children.

"And just to correct the previous speaker. In our latest negotiation, and I need to point out that this is a collaborative effort with one of the private providers, HMSA, as well as DHS. In the latest negotiations this will be a Medicaid program.

"This works wells with the Administration's proposal to cover more children. Their coverage was up to 250%, and actually up to 300%, with the portion from 215% to 300 requiring a co-pay. But with the latest negotiation the coverage from HMSA will make it free for those who are from 250% to 300%, as well as those who might be excluded because of certain conditions such as immigrant status.

"And I just want to want to mention that this measure along with the next one which is assessment of early childhood, and the early education bill, HB 3237. These are sort of the three legs that the Keiki Caucus has long been pushing and this is one way that we can ensure that all children in Hawaii will be healthy, safe, ready to learn, and succeed. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Green rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, in strong support. I'd like to add to the two previous comments to say that, one, the Hawaii Health Taskforce we passed last year as a Body made only two significant recommendations in its first report. One was to insure all children, and this will do that. The points were very well made.

"We do have an excellent program and the Medicaid Health Care Program. Our goal through these negotiations that are going on right now is to make sure there are no co-pay at all up to 300%, and in addition use the Children's Health Care Program to take care of any gap groups that still remain. Specifically immigrant children, so by the end of this Session we will be able to provide 'Cadillac' care for every child. There will be no children uninsured in the State of Hawaii. A first. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 3116, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HAWAII CHILDREN'S HEALTH CARE PROGRAM," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Waters rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, in support. The purpose of this bill is to ensure that the University of Hawaii can provide quality higher education programs in a setting conducive to learning by appropriating $84 million for repair and maintenance.

"Due to decades of deferred repair and maintenance, many buildings and other infrastructure that encompasses the University of Hawaii system have steadily deteriorated from neglect. Too often funds for repair and maintenance have been diverted to address more immediate needs such as skyrocketing cost of electricity and other utilities. As a result, many of the 10 campuses statewide suffer from leaky roofs, termite infestation, and crumbling walls and ceilings that are becoming more and more expensive to repair, and this bill I'm proud to say, takes a big chunk or big bite out of that backlog. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 3158, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING AN APPROPRIATION FOR THE UNIVERSITY OF HAWAII," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Meyer rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising in opposition to House Bill 3036, House Draft 1. The purpose of this bill is to ensure that general contractors promptly pay subcontractors once they complete their work under their contract.

"The bill is unnecessary because under current HRS, the law provides the framework for prompt payment within 10 days after receiving money, provided that the subcontractor has met all the terms and conditions of the subcontract and there are no bona fide disputes. In addition, the Department of General Services provides a complaint investigative process for contract disputes. If the complaint is found valid, DAGS can take various actions including withholding payment to the contractor or initiating a petition for debarment of the contractor for bidding on other State jobs.

"This bill I believe adds more bureaucracy to the process and would add to the cost of doing business, as well as eliminate a competitive market. The bill does not reflect the understanding of the position of the general contractors who bear the ultimate responsibility for payments to material houses, subcontractors, and labor. This bill would also require everyone in the State to pay for professional construction administration services on every contract to cover this administrative burden, which would be a costly proposal for consumers. For those reasons, I'll be voting no."

Representative Thielen rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I first would like to find out whether or not you feel I have a potential conflict. I have contractors in my family," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Thielen continued in opposition to the measure, stating:

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations on SCR 839. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Some changes were made to this bill, I forget in which Committee, but some changes were made to this bill that excludes people with disabilities, and people with children, and people over 65. But let me just tell you a story of how an exclusion or exemption like this could really affect providing housing for more families that fit within that group of people over 65 or have kids that are minors and all of that.

"One of the situations that I was told about was one of the apartment buildings in our public housing, there was an apartment that was rented out to a grandmother over 65, and against the rules of public housing, was housing a person who had some serious issues with either drugs or psychological issues, and psychiatric issues probably. But what had happened was because it was so dangerous for those who lived around that apartment, slowly by slowly as vacancies came up within the other apartment buildings, they started vacating those around this one apartment to put them into other apartments until all of the apartments surrounding this one apartment were empty. They were all empty.

"What happens with that is because of the danger they inflicted, or that grandson inflicted on the others, they couldn't rent out or provide housing for quite a few other families that needed housing. So when we talk about this eviction process, we need to take a look at how these types of laws will affect getting housing to those who need it and are on the waiting list or whatever.

"So I'm with reservations, and I'm hoping that maybe we could allow a better way to address this issue. Thank you."

Representative Kahikina rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I stand in support. Thank you, Mr. Speaker, and I just want to address the concern of the previous speaker, and I suppose that she's speaking on the exemptions that were placed in this vehicle.

"May I just first inform the Body that the whole purpose of public housing was created to provide housing for our very indigent families, and the exemptions that we had placed address those families that are in need. I do understand the circumstances that are troubling a lot of my colleagues, but the reason why we inserted the exemptions was in reaction to the evictions of single families that we saw from KPT. Two single moms with their children. And when we asked the agency, 'What are you going to do for those families?' they simply said, 'Nothing,' because when you are evicted from housing, those families are evicted from public housing for life.

"And so having that concern, we inserted the exemptions so that we could further discussions instead of just complying with what the Department wants, which we realize that that position is coming over in the Senate vehicle. We wanted to put in these exemptions because we wanted the agency to tell this Body what are they going to do with those families. Not the one that the previous speaker was speaking about, about a grandmother's son, because the grandson is not the tenant. So we wanted to address the real issue.

"Are we going to put these needy families into a homeless situation where we can never help them? Then we are defying the whole purpose of providing public housing. Public housing was for our citizens that are in dire need. So I ask the Members of this Body to support this measure so we can go into Conference to further the discussion, and hopefully the Department, the Housing Department, can better address the concerns.

"If you evict families, especially single families with children, what are we going to do, because we don't want to cause more homelessness out there. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Sonson rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you very much, Vice Speaker. I'm standing with strong reservations on this measure. I do concur with the Chair of Housing that the reason why we created public housing is to benefit those who are underprivileged, but that's because what this is. It's a privilege, not a right, to stay in public housing.

"There is a list, a growing list of homeless people who want to get into public housing. We want to ensure that the agency that's taking care of public housing is empowered with the right to evict tenants who are not conforming with the rules and the regulations that are clearly, clearly indicated in a contract when they move in into public housing.

"Outside in the private market, it takes about a month to take out a tenant. A tenant that doesn't pay rent, a tenant that doesn't comply with house rules maybe because of drugs or alcohol, whatever it may be. It takes about a month and that's a way, way long time in the private sector.

"You know how long it takes now for the agency to take a tenant that is not complying with the rules be it because of drugs, alcohol, or substance abuse, whatever it may be in violation of the rules with nonpayment of rent? It takes about a year. A year, Vice Speaker. In the way that they take these tenants out is not to punish them and to get them out and not care about them anymore. It is to provide the next people in line who also don't have a place to live, who are also disabled, who are also poor, who are also aged. The list goes on.

"It is a privilege to stay in public housing, and if you do not follow the rules, there's someone in line that's going to take your place. I think that this is a bad bill as it is right now. I hope that it can be improved as it moves on. Thank you."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, I'm going to be voting against the bill and I would like to explain why. Thank you. I was a Legal Aid attorney for five years, Mr. Speaker. There are a number of us in this Chamber who did work for Legal Aid, and I think some may still work there.

"I was in the housing section and at one point, there were people that were being evicted because they were a few days late with their rent, and they were late with their rent because their government assistance checks didn't arrive until the 5th, 6th, or 7th, sometimes the 8th of the month. So it wasn't the fact that they weren't going to pay the rent. They didn't have the funds available to do it and they were being evicted.

"I understand there was a situation that was brought to our attention at the hearing where a similar thing is occurring with a woman who works with low income and homeless people. She is employed, but she also gets her funding, her money in a manner in which it may not be quite as timely. She may not receive it quite on time to be able to pay by the 5th of the month. They're evicting her and I don't think this is right.

"I think that a bill that allows sort of a 'fast track' eviction is going to hurt people that it shouldn't hurt, as well as get those out that it should get out. But it's too comprehensive and I can't support it at this point. Thank you."

Representative Arakaki rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support. Mr. Speaker and colleagues, an expedited eviction process is like kicking somebody in the teeth when they're down. When you think about it, as the Housing Chair mentioned, our public housing was meant to provide a safety net for the most vulnerable in our population. When I asked the Director how many people, if we exempt people with families, families with young children, disabled, and the elderly? She said, 'Well, we're talking about 80% to 90% of those who are slated to be evicted.'

"Doesn't that tell us something? Where's our sense of compassion? These are people who will be thrown out into a street, and granted they're not following the rules. They can't come up with the rent. But for those who buy into this argument that we're going to have to kick them out in order to make room for others on the waiting list. You don't realize that there's a waiting list because we don't have enough low-income housing, and I don't see how it's going to solve the problem by making more people homeless. It just doesn't compute with me. And I think as policymakers we need to show that compassion.

"We need to hold our housing agency's feet to the fire. If they're charge is to find housing for the most vulnerable in our population then let them work on that, and then allow them to go through an expedited process. But not just do it because they have to meet some federal mandate. That's where our heart should be at.

"So, Mr. Speaker, this is to really force them to look at alternatives because once you're evicted that's it. You no longer qualify for public housing, and you tell me what kind of choices people have after that. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in opposition on this measure. I realize that there are kids out there that may be homeless, but however there's also kids that are now homeless. And I think in any public housing, there should be rules and procedures implemented and we, as policy makers, should support these procedures that are on the books.

"We need to expedite this process because as it stands like the Representative from Waipahu said, it is so difficult to evict somebody in public housing because of all of the rules that apply and all the drama that comes with it, all the negative publicity that comes with it, and we as legislators don't want to take a hit. But I think there's a time that we need to stand and walk the line and do our job, which is to provide housing in a fair and equitable way which also includes that if you don't follow the rules, you don't get to stay. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. I wish to speak very strongly in favor and have the speeches of both the Representative from Nanakuli and from Kalihi Valley as my own," and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Souki continued, stating:

"Mr. Speaker and Members, I used to be the director of an antipoverty program for many years, so I'm well aware of the difficulty of poor people and the problems that they have. As was mentioned by the Representatives of Nanakuli and Kalihi Valley, this is the last resort. Once they're out, they become homeless, and then we have an additional problem. We need to find homes for the homeless.

"It compounds the problem and I believe, it behooves the Administration and the Administrator of the Department to provide counseling. And possibly this can be looked into. This is where I hope that as they get into Conference on this, maybe a possible modified garnishment, where they will take some of the salary away if that's possible, or work with some agency where you can get some measure of income from these tenants to help them pay. But give them a lot of counseling. And I think this is what it is lacking in here.

"So with this in mind, I hope this bill moves forward and at the least, it will show that we're an agency with compassion, and we're knowledgeable of the problem out there. We're not going to hide in sand and throw this person out and make believe there's not a problem. There is a problem. Let's find a resolution. Thank you."

Representative Sonson rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you very much. Just some clarification. Being in support of this bill would mean that we will stay with this streamline process. Opposition to this bill would mean we'll go back to that 18-month eviction process. So I would like to clarify that I am supporting this bill to ensure that there is a streamline process. My only opposition is to the exceptions that were entered for the disabled, and the mothers, etc. that was entered into the bill.

"The reason why I don't support that as I said, as there is a waiting list. If there is a concern that these people will not have a place to live again in the future; if such a rule does exist, that can be changed. Let's change that to say that, 'Okay, you'll get a second chance, but get into the back of the line.' The back of the line is where they belong if they broke the rules. Anyway, you stayed there for a whole year despite the fact that you broke the rules and that you haven't paid your rent, whatever.

"If you want to provide more housing I would agree with that, but that's not the reality at this point. The reality is that we have similarly situated people who are waiting in line and it is also compassionate for us to ensure that they get their turn.

"That is the only thing that I'm trying to explain to this Body. That it is not that I don't have compassion for these people that are being thrown out, although they have broken the rules and they overstayed for a whole year without paying the rent. It's not that I don't feel sorry for those individuals. It's that I feel sorrier for those people who are similarly situated, waiting to get into the public housing. And so at such time as we can provide public housing for everyone, I think it's incumbent upon this Body to ensure that those who have not had their chance to have this privilege to stay in public housing will be provided for. Thank you very much."

Representative Morita rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Just wanted to register my strong reservations on this bill. I think in capturing people who break the rules or nonpayment of rent, we also heard in the hearing a lot of people who may have been chronically delinquent due to circumstances beyond their control. And these are people who are trying to make ends meet, but haven't been able to, being caught up in this unfortunate dilemma. And so I state my strong reservations."

Representative Halford rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Souki be entered in the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Pine rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Souki be entered in the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure with reservations, and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support with reservations on H.B. 2368 – Relating to Public Housing, which repeals the sunset date for expedited eviction procedures for tenants in public housing.

"This bill exempts the disabled, elderly and children from the eviction process. While it is the role of the State to assist those in need, including the disabled, elderly and children, the State must also protect and foster the stabilization of our housing sector. Reform needs to be made within the Department that respects and assists those in need while implementing appropriate repercussions for tenants who are habitually or criminally delinquent. We must not reward those who break rules, and exhibit a lack of respect for taxpayers' funds.

"We need a law that would streamline the eviction process and at the same time respect the due process rights of tenants. Serving and protecting our community is vital for Hawaii's future and residents."

Representative Finnegan rose in support of the measure with reservations, and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"The stated purpose of this bill is to find ways to improve the public housing eviction process by making permanent the expedited eviction process (Act 227, 2002) and maintain the eviction process that was in place prior to the enactment of Act 227.

"I believe the opposite to be true. The comments I made before may be seen as being lacking compassion. If there is anyone that can say they appreciate the State's public housing, it is me. Our family, including me, lived in public housing. The story I spoke of earlier gave an example of how approximately six rental units were left vacant with the inability to house additional families with minors, persons 65 or older or the disabled. Six families suffer because of the one."

At 1:15 o'clock p.m., Representative B. Oshiro requested a recess and the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 1:17 o'clock p.m.

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"My apologies, Mr. Speaker. I think that this bill needs to go forward and I have strong reservations, but I would like it to go further so we can discuss more. So I'm changing my vote from no to with reservations. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2368, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC HOUSING," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Thielen voting no.

On motion by Representative M. Oshiro, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2146, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO LAND USE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

On motion by Representative M. Oshiro, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2372, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC EMPLOYMENT," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Judiciary presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 842-06) recommending that H.B. No. 2772, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2772, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Sonson rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much, Vice Speaker. I'm standing in opposition of this bill. The bill before us, Members and Mr. Speaker, makes it a Class B felony to inflict $1,500 of damage to a plant, a bush, or an agricultural crop, and it makes it a Class C felony.

"Let me go back. A Class B felony carries the punishment of about ten years of incarceration, and a Class C felony amounts to five years of incarceration if you intentionally damage someone else's bush, plant, agricultural crop in an amount of $500. And if you intentionally step on someone's lettuce, corn, and that causes 10 cents of damage, whatever damage whatsoever, you'll go to jail for one year.

"There's no provision here for appropriations to enlarge the Halawa facilities, so I'm quite worried about what these kinds of bills will do to our penal system. It is simply a statement I guess, that we support farmers. But I think it's really throwing the Penal Code for a loop when we look at and when we value agricultural crops in such a way that it merits this kind of punishment.

"What it also does, Mr. Speaker, is that because the punishment is so high it will ensure that the public defenders, the private defenders, those in the defense bar will ensure that these complaints or these charges against their clients will be fought to the teeth. They'll go to jury trials, they'll select jury trials, they'll really saturate the system. This is something we want to avoid.

"I think that we should support the farmers and that we should ensure that we protect the rights of farmers and letting the public know that it is a serious offense to step on someone's lettuce, but I don't think that a lettuce is worth a year in jail which actually means a year's worth of support for this individual to stay in jail. And it costs us a lot of money to do so. If this is an alternative to public housing, maybe it has some merits but I don't think so. I just think it's an overkill for something that's worthwhile, and that's why I'm opposed to it. Thank you."

Representative Moses rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support. This is not a matter of stepping on lettuce. This is a matter of the farms, the large farms losing tremendous amounts of crops. Pickup trucks driving in there and loading up, and then going and selling it at Aloha Stadium. So it's a serious offence.

"Any attorney in this room will probably know the Prosecutor is not going to waste his time if you stepped on somebody's lettuce by accident so I don't think we will have a problem with the prisons. And if we do, well maybe we should build prisons. Thank you."

Representative B. Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I rise in support. I just wanted to clarify I guess some of the comments made by the first speaker. You know one of the basic tenets that we have in our judicial system is that the judge is the one that imposes the sentence. So while the statute may say there is a maximum amount of jail time that a person is subject to, ultimately, ultimately that is within the judge's discretion in which to determine. Which is why this Legislature has consistently said that what we want is judges to have the discretion to look at what sentences are appropriate, and we don't have mandatory minimums unless there is a real compelling public policy.

"So when I think the first speaker is talking about a year in jail for stepping on a piece of lettuce. I mean obviously, the judge would take a look at what is the damage that is conducted, what is the damage that is felt by that farmer, and will issue the appropriate punishment. So I really think that that is a bit of an exaggeration. Thank you."

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Just a quick rebuttal, Mr. Speaker. I think my colleague from Waipahu ... I'm in opposition. I think my colleague from Waipahu was just reiterating that putting this into law would open litigation. Litigation in which an expense incurred by the defendant. Even though we do know that a judge will have the final say in this, it will open up a new chapter in the law where it can be misused or you know cause undue duress to the people when it doesn't need to. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Kanoho rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support, Mr. Speaker. Thank you. Last year we passed a bill making agricultural theft a criminal offense. But this is much more than that because not only are we faced with theft, and pity the poor farmers who work so hard, but there's also malicious, malicious destroying and damaging of crops so that not only is the banana or the fruits being taken, but the trees are being plundered and that's terrible. We have got to do something about it because this can be, and is very serious. Thank you."

Representative Sonson rose to respond, stating:

"Quick rebuttal. Thank you very much. I'd just like to point out what is already in the statute and try to compare. For a criminal property damage in the first degree, it will require a person to break into your house intentionally, knowingly, damage your stereo, or anything that's in your house, and puts a person in danger of death or a bodily injury, and the damage has to be $20,000. A person who does that goes to jail for ten years. It's a Class B felony. But if you break into someone's farm and cause $1,500 in damage to a plant, it doesn't need to place a person in danger of death and bodily injury. The punishment is the same. Does that make sense? Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2772, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CRIMINAL PROPERTY DAMAGE TO AGRICULTURAL AND AQUACULTURAL PROPERTY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes to 2 noes, with Representatives Cabanilla and Sonson voting no.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Judiciary presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 843-06) recommending that H.B. No. 3017, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative M. Oshiro, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 3017, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TOBACCO PRODUCTS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Judiciary presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 844-06) recommending that H.B. No. 2199, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2199, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Morita rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this measure. In a letter dated March 9, 2004, Governor Linda Lingle in a unilateral action authorized the US Trade Representative to offer access to the Hawaii State government procurement market in new trade agreements that the Trade Office was currently negotiating. And please remember that CAFTA, which passed Congress by two votes was not ratified until one year after the Governor submitted this letter.

"Further, the letter also stated that Hawaii would undertake the same commitments with regard to new agreements that the Trade Office had already undertaken under the WTO agreement on government procurement.

"All the WTO agreements and regional free trade agreements have ramifications for state power. That is, the ability to usurp state laws, regulations, and preferences. Hawaii needs to carefully consider the range of existing US commitments, implications of WTO, NAFTA and CAFTA, dispute decisions and what is proposed as part of new agreements. The Trade Office has not made any good faith efforts to engage states on impacts of its negotiations on states.

"Hawaii has many special needs and vulnerabilities. Any agreement that would commit Hawaii should fully engage our export promotional people, the Attorney General, and the State Legislature in how Hawaii can best benefit from the global economy while safeguarding our sovereignty and ability to act in the public interest. This law will help preserve our State sovereignty and retain our ability to make decisions about State procurement spending that benefits our local economic development and reflects our social and environmental concerns."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker. I am in opposition to this measure. The purpose of House Bill 2199, House Draft 2, is to prohibit binding the State to federal government procurement rules contained in certain international trade agreements without legislative action.

"I am concerned about this bill. This Legislature only convenes during the months of January to the beginning of May. However, the federal government is discussing and negotiating trade agreements throughout the entire year. It would be hard for the Legislature to discuss trade agreements when we are out of Session. For example, the Federal government asked Hawaii to comment on the US Central America Free Trade Agreement, CAFTA, in November 2003. The Legislature could not respond in a timely manner if a trade agreement is enacted while the Legislature is out of Session. It would also be difficult for the Legislature to discuss trade agreements when we are in Session. It might take us from January to May to reach a decision. This bill definitely restricts not only the Governor's option to react quickly, but the State's option. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Hale rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker. Thank you. I would like to say that at the very first time we discussed this ... I'm asking for approval. I'm for it. But there were two parts to the bill. It was to say that in the future we would not allow anything unless it was passed by law that would affect the Procurement Code. And there wasn't that much confusion about that because that is a national trend that's being supported by the State Council of Legislatures. But there was another part that went back and said that any other previous trade agreements that had been approved by not only this Governor, but other Governors, would be null and void unless we pass them by law.

"So there is question as to whether or not that is possible for us to do it. However the original proposal in House Draft 2 has both sides of the question. So we're hoping that this would go into Conference so that by the time we go to Conference, we will get some more definitive information as to what our actual powers are.

"This is something that is bringing national discussion by most of the countries, most of the states in the United States. And therefore one part of the discussion will be whether or not we will have the power to rescind previous actions, or whether we will just say that from the future, we will go on with such actions by law.

"So the question is still way up in the air and therefore we will welcome all the information that you get us now and that we do hope that this goes forward so that we can further discussion. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Takumi rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. I'm in support and I wish to address the specific concerns raised by the Representative from Kahala about the timeframe because this issue has come up before.

"We only meet four months out of the year. These trade agreements happen on a different timeframe than our own legislative timeframe, and so that might result in some confusion.

"Well the fact the of the matter is, Mr. Speaker, trade agreements take years to both propose, and then ratify, and then implement. Just take CAFTA. I'm not even going to talk about the WTO, or the GATS that was embedded in the WTO.

"But let's take the latest trade agreement, CAFTA, regarding the six nations in Central America. That has been in deliberations and discussion for over four years and in fact the United States trade representatives sent letters to every governor in the country in September of '03 asking whether or not the state wanted to buy into the procurement section of that trade agreement.

"Governor Lingle signed on in March 8, 2004 as was mentioned earlier. It passed the Congress in July of 2005, and CAFTA has taken effect January 1 of this year. Just by that alone we can see the timeframe that that involved, and others can sign on today if they so desired. There is no deadline in which they can sign on to CAFTA. So we have ample time to deliberate the impact that CAFTA or other trade agreements have on our State.

"This is ultimately important when we realize currently the United States trade representatives negotiate various free trade agreements with 27 other countries, most of them are bilateral. The US-India trade agreement for example, that's currently in discussion. We could be discussing that trade agreement right now, if we had this law in place. That's point one.

"Point two is, it's really not a question about whether or not this Governor or any Governor should have the unilateral right to sign the State on to the procurement code of any specific trade agreement. I think it begs the questions whether or not we as a Legislature should at least be party to that agreement. As you well know, Mr. Speaker, anything to do with procurement codes in our State is not done by Executive Order. It is done by law.

"So when we do it by law, it means it has hearings so that the public can give input as to whether or not we should have a local buying preference for example. Not contracts. A 'buy green' kind of component in our contracts and people can see what they want and they come to a decision.

"This is the implication now that CAFTA has passed and we are party to the procurement section of it. Any one of those countries is now able to challenge our State laws as illegal barriers to trade. As I said including preferences for local companies and so on. But this also includes if we were to pass a law that says we will not do business with a country that has sweatshop labor or child labor, that is an illegal trade practice under CAFTA.

"I hope all of us here believes that we should not procure goods and services from countries that engage in child or sweatshop labor. That is a allowable under CAFTA and leaves us wide open for a challenge.

"Take gambling, I think we're all familiar with the recent ruling by the WTO. And there is a challenge about Internet gambling, and the United States lost on that. So again, this law would allow us to take a look at that and say, 'Do we want to allow Internet gambling to be legal?' Otherwise be open to a challenge by anyone in the WTO, which has 38 nations by the way.

"I think these are the questions that, whether or not we think it's in our best interest, should have legislative input. So whether it's CAFTA or NAFTA I think this is something we 'hafta' do. Otherwise we may end up getting the 'shaft'. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Karamatsu rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. Just with a little reservations. I agree with the Chair of International Affairs. For me the slightest concern I have is the retroactive part, going back in time. It could violate some backwater contract law where parties gave offers in consideration. Other than that I've been looking forward on the process in trade agreements. I totally agree with that. So we'll keep looking at some of the legal ramifications on the retroactive part of the bill. Thank you."

Representative Caldwell rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, some brief comments in support. Mr. Speaker, actually this is probably one of the most important pieces of legislation we can look at this Session, if we're looking at it in terms of separation of power both Executive and legislative, federal and State. And as we all remember at the founding of our country, there was a great debate about whether the Executive branch had the right to make treaties with any country, and they finally hammered out a Constitution where they decided that not the House, but the Senate would have the ability to ratify treaties the Executive branch entered into. And that has worked for the past 250 years, almost, Mr. Speaker, very well.

"But recently under some of the new treaties that our government has been entering into, instead of just having it dealing federal with foreign countries. They've now driven it down to the states where they're having individual governors sign onto these international treaties, and as the speaker from Aiea mentioned it binds us on things like procurement and having us have to agree that we're going to 'Buy Guatemala' when we may have 'Buy Hawaii', and somehow we're now beholden to an agreement that was set by our federal government for federal trade imposed on us at the State level.

"If that's going to happen and you're going to have Executive action being taken by the Governor of our State, then I think just like in the federal government, the Legislature has a role of advise and consent, and whether they too want to ratify this treaty. And therefore it is something that needs to be looked at very closely. It's critical to our Constitution, and our State, and our relationship with the federal government. It's something we should all take very seriously and have this legislation move on and look at it as it evolves. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure with reservations, and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise with reservations on H.B. 2199 – Relating to International Trade Agreement.

"While this measure may allow for a more careful analysis of the pros and cons on the merits of volunteering Hawaii to be bound by international trade agreements' procurement rules by prohibiting binding the State to the government procurement rules contained in an international trade agreement without legislative action, this bill may cause loss of opportunities to improve the trade relations of our State. We must be mindful of legislation that adds bureaucracy to functions of the State, as well as take into consideration that the Legislature does not convene year-round."

Representative Lee rose in support of the measure, and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Lee's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this measure.

"This bill seems rather esoteric, but it makes an important clarification to how our State agrees to international trade agreements that would impact procurement rules for State spending. There are those who mistakenly believe that this bill affects the ability of the federal government to accept a trade agreement; it does not. The Constitution has delegated the President to enter into treaties with the consent of the Senate and the will of Congress shall be to advise the President on such negotiations. This measure does not reduce or alter that authority.

"Rather, this bill gives the Hawaii Legislature the ability to look at the language of the trade agreement and see how it affects our ability to regulate the manner of procuring goods intra-state. The Federal Government, in its expansive powers, has no mandated position to dictate how State governments go about procuring various goods and services, that is the domain of the State.

"Thus, this bill intends to remind the Governor that the Legislature is the body responsible for altering the laws that govern our procurement code and provides an avenue for those concerned to voice their opinions.

"I urge my colleagues to support this measure. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Moses rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Another one I wasn't going to speak on. I had to at least register some reservations. I believe the federal government does have the right to make some treaties and when we do so, it's binding upon the states. We fought a civil war over things and there is such a thing as the US Law. And yes, in the US Congress, the Senate does ratify treaties. That doesn't mean that the state Legislatures have the right to get involved. Thank you."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I'm rising with some reservations. I just want to follow on the thought that the Representative from Makakilo had. I don't believe that the State, I don't believe has the constitutional authority to establish laws and rules that would oppose those established by the US government and the conduct of international trade. So that's the question in my mind. If we really can dictate against what the US government has already entered into. Thank you."

Representative Takumi rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm still in support and brief rebuttal to the Representative from Makakilo's comments. Absolutely, when in doubt, read the bill. The bill does not impinge one iota on the ability for the federal government to sign a treaty, an international trade agreement. But the reason why the US Trade Representative asked the 50 governors in this country to sign a letter agreeing to bind their states to the procurement section is precisely because they do not have the right to bind every single state as it relates to the Procurement Code. Otherwise why would a request for a letter be sent out to every governor? That doesn't make any sense. If the federal government had absolute total control over procurement, he or she simply would have bound every single state, flat out.

"And the second point I need to, need to make is that when this request for letters went out, 27 governors in our nation signed on to it, and since then 8 governors have receded their letters because they have come to realize the negative impacts it has on their individual state. And it's not a partisan issue. As you well know, the National Conference of State Legislatures, which is a bipartisan, nonpartisan organization, requested that the US Trade Representative give a copy to the NCSL, when the governors sign on so they can get a list. That request was denied. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2177, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support with some reservations. My reservations are that the purpose of this bill is to amend Article VII, Section 12 of the State Constitution to authorize the issuance and use of proceeds from special purpose revenue bonds to assist agricultural businesses operating on important agricultural lands.

"In Committee, the Department of Budget and Finance recommended that the authorizing language be made broader by deleting the phrase, 'operating on important agricultural lands' so it would cover more lands than the proposed amendment to provide for a less restrictive authorization. Budget and Finance also recommended changing 'agricultural businesses' to 'agricultural enterprises' to maintain consistency with existing special purpose revenue bond authorizations.

"This clarification of the language would keep the proposed amendment consistent with current statutes and widen the range of eligibility for prospective agricultural recipients. Mr. Speaker, I would like to see these changes made before final passage of this measure. Thank you."

H.B. No. 2177 passed Third Reading in the following form:

H.B. No. 2177

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF HAWAII:

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 849-06) recommending that H.B. No. 2240, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative M. Oshiro, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2240, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO AFFORDABLE HOUSING," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 850-06) recommending that H.B. No. 2670, HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2670, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Stevens rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition. Thank you. 85% of Hawaii's workers are currently covered under some form of insurance. It's uncertain how this universal system would be financed and if it would be able to accommodate the additional costs of providing healthcare for those that are not currently insured.

"Budget and Finance is unsure how the healthcare plans for the Employer Union Health Benefits Trust Fund and plans of the private employers would be combined into a single entity. A standard 'one-size-fits-all' system is likely to benefit some persons and harm others. No state has found a combined healthcare motor vehicle and workers' compensation system to be effective.

"I believe this bill would create a monopolistic government healthcare authority that would combine different types of insurance merely because they contain some form of medical coverage. So for those reason, I'll be voting no on this measure. Thank you."

Representative Moses rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, in opposition. In addition to the previous comments which I'd like incorporated in my comments as if they were my own, a healthcare taskforce was created by Act 223 in 2005. It has submitted an interim report and is awaiting an analysis by the Lewin Group comparing the single payer system with the existing system.

"A final report is expected in June of this year. We should wait for the taskforce's recommendation before we act on this type of health care and spend the taxpayer's money on creating an authority to develop plans for universal healthcare that may not be recommended by the task force.

"If this system were in place, automobile insurance would need to be changed to a pure tort system and exclude all medical coverage. Workers' compensation coverage if available, would cover only indemnity coverage at significantly high prices since there would be no control of medical treatment or return to work. Hawaii's policies would be amended to exclude any medical coverage according to the Hawaii Insurance Council. It is also uncertain how this bill addresses the federal HIPAA compliance.

"If all of that wasn't bad enough, universal healthcare, Canada's publicly financed health insurance system is frequently described as the third rail of its political system and a core value of its national identity, is gradually breaking down. Private clinics are opening around the country at an estimated one per week.

"Canada is a country where a dog can get a hip replacement in under a week, and which humans can wait two or three years. A Supreme Court ruling last June from the Quebec provincial ban on private health insurance was unconstitutional when patients were suffering and even dying on waiting lists. Canada has a national doctor shortage with 1.4 million people in the Province of Ontario alone without the services of a family doctor. Hawaii could lose many doctors if this bill passes. 'The median wait time between a referral by a family doctor and an appointment with a specialist in Canada has increased to 8.3 weeks last year, from 3.7 weeks in 1993.' That's according to a recent study by The Fraser Institute. 'Meanwhile the median wait between an appointment with a specialist and treatment has increased to 9.4 weeks, from 5.6 weeks over the same period.' The average wait times between referral by a family doctor and treatment range from 5.5 weeks for oncology and 26 weeks for a hip replacement.

"I have an article I wish to insert in the Journal, which explains all this. It's a recent New York Times article about a week ago, and it covers all this information I just gave you on Canada."

The Chair then stated:

"Representative, I'm not going to permit that since you already basically said what's in the article. We'll use your speech for that purpose."

Representative Moses continued, stating:

"Okay I'll just reference it then. It's the New York Times, February 28, 2006."

Representative Arakaki rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In very strong support. Mr. Speaker, I would admit that maybe ideals like these are slightly ahead of our time and are hard to envision for some of us. But you know, when I meet with my colleagues, other Health Chairs from across the country as we meet three or four times a year, they're looking at Hawaii and they're just hoping and even praying for our success. We need to realize that it doesn't matter whether they're Democratic or Republican. They realize that their state treasury and even our national budget may go bankrupt because of healthcare costs rising. We're going to reach what we call a perfect storm. A point where either we're going to have to decide to keep paying into the system or to start rationing healthcare.

"And I guess it's easy for us to sit here, all of us with our State paid healthcare plans. Why should we change? We've got it made. We've got probably the best kind of health plans in the State. Each one of us maybe, except for some the Session workers, but there are many others who don't have that same luxury.

"And I guess it comes down to that philosophical debate on whether healthcare should be a right or a privilege. I know some people believe it's a privilege. But when you think about it, what is life without health? What is the quality of life without health? It is something everyone should have access to because it has everything to do with a productive workforce. When it comes to providing quality healthcare for everyone, we're talking about the future, not only of our State, but our country.

"If somebody asks how we're going to pay for it. We are already paying for it. We're paying millions of dollars. We have more than enough resources. But if we're going to wait for the players to come together and come up with a solution, it's not going to happen. It's going to take political will on our part to set the policy and say this is what we should be doing. Use our resources wisely. Use it to reimburse appropriately, the providers, and use it to provide quality healthcare for everyone. That is the goal of this bill. If we're going to wait for the federal government then I think many people are going to end up dying before we realize any kind of universal healthcare.

"So, Mr. Speaker, this is just a vision maybe for now, but let's think about the future. Let's think about the future of Hawaii and how we can make it not just a health State, but a healthier State. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Green rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Just a brief additional comment. In support. I'd like to recognize Ah Quon McElrath and her vision for helping support our work on this bill. And I would say that this is work, it's a work in progress, and I commend our colleagues for supporting the concept of focusing on healthcare as a priority for the State.

"That's what this bill is about. It's about planning. I imagine a time in the future, not necessarily it'll be a single payer system. I don't know. But if we don't plan for the inevitable, which is that the healthcare system will evolve and everyone deserves and needs healthcare. If we want long term plans in place that will bring the best minds that we can find together to work on these problems, we'll find ourselves tragically behind the '8-ball' on a set of programs that we have to have for everybody.

"So again, the taskforce is doing its work. I'm happy that we have hired a good consultant to work on this problem for the State. And I would encourage our colleagues to continue to support this bill toward the end of Session to see what the results that we do come up with so we know whether or not it's something we have to begin enacting now, or we continue to look at for the future. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Moses rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you. Remaining in opposition. And I just want to make sure that everybody understands, since I'm a consumer of healthcare, that my opposition is not to the cost. It is just pointing out the fact that universal healthcare has not worked anywhere it's been tried and so we shouldn't try that. We should try something else and we should look forward to this report. Thank you."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I'm rising in opposition to this measure. We're going to spend $500,000 for this Hawaii Health Authority to explore this universal health plan as if it's a new idea when it's been going on in Britain and Canada, and Cuba and all kinds of places. We have a pretty good track record on how universal healthcare has worked, or has not worked. I just wanted to share some information that was in a recent article in a recent magazine. We are paying a lot of money, but we're getting a lot more healthcare than most people are in these socialized medicine countries.

"Here are some statistics to consider. Two measures where the quality of medical services can have a dramatic impact. Recovery rates from breast cancer for women, and prostate cancer for men. Among women diagnosed with breast cancer only 20% die of it in United States, compared to 33% in France and Germany, and nearly 50% in United Kingdom. Among men diagnosed with prostate cancer, less than 20% die of it in United States, compared to 25% in Canada, and almost 50% in France, and over 50% in United Kingdom.

"While many Americans would like our healthcare system to look more like those in Europe, what's going on now is over the course of the past decade, almost every European country with a national healthcare system has introduced market oriented reforms and turned to the private sector to reduce the cost of care and increase the availability of effective treatment. So I think there's plenty of data out there. And since another speaker mentioned in Hawaii we're kind of way ahead of a lot of the other states, almost 85% of the people here have some kind of medical coverage. So for those reason, I'm not in favor of this measure. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ching rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representatives Meyer and Moses be entered in the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2670, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HEALTH," passed Third Reading by a vote of 41 ayes to 10 noes, with Representatives Ching, Evans, Finnegan, Marumoto, Meyer, Moses, Pine, Stevens, Stonebraker and Thielen voting no.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 851-06) recommending that H.B. No. 2823, HD 1, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative M. Oshiro, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2823, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO BILL OF RIGHTS DAY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 852-06) recommending that H.B. No. 2928, HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2928, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Shimabukuro rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Shimabukuro submitted the following testimony:

"Testimony Submitted by Ianuali Kaonohiokalanikoholua
Anapuka, Hilo, Hawaii

I wish to testify in support of this bill. We are given the right as Hawaiians towards gathering resources/materials to build "hales"/"indigenous architecture." The ability to build hale is critical in the development of our culture in the use of kau hale (villages) for community cohesion. The kau hale is a series of hale all designed for a specific purpose. We have meeting and gathering houses, a women's house, a men's house and sleeping houses. Each one of these buildings, with its purpose in mind, has much meaning for the overall well-being of the community.

The current Building Codes do not allow us to employ these cultural practices. It is important for us, as Hawaiians, to be able to live in a way that has proven to work for over 2,000 years.

I have stayed in a hale in the past and never have found health and safety issues to be a problem if designed correctly. It is very rare in today's world to see hale. Even more rare is to see hale on residential properties. I have been able to see hale in public, but it seems they are being used in hotels for tourists to enjoy. Yet Hawaiians, under the current housing crisis, are unable to employ these building techniques.

It is very difficult for me to see why Hawaiians are unable to use building techniques that they have used for 2,000 years, while tourists gawk at the ingenious and simple design of these hale.

This bill would create a seamless process allowing the people of Hawaii to build their own homes without depending on very expensive imported materials. It is important to emphasize pono (proper) harvesting techniques to assure that our resources remain sustainable. Using today's technology, I believe we can look to the past—2,000 years of success—to create a progressive and sustainable future for Hawaii's people.

Ianuali Kaonohiokalanikoholua"

Representative Kahikina rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Kahikina's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this measure, relating to counties; building code; and indigenous Hawaiian architecture.

"The purpose of this bill is to allow the use of the techniques, styles, and customs of indigenous Hawaiian architecture to be employed in present-day construction in the state. This measure:

1. Protects all rights, customarily and traditionally exercised for subsistence, cultural and religious purposes by native Hawaiians.
2. Requires counties to adopt ordinances to allow buildings designed using practices, styles, customs, techniques, and materials from indigenous Hawaiian architecture.

"From the turn of the 20th century to the dawning of the 21st, Hawaiians endured a hundred years of forced assimilation into mainstream American culture and lifestyle. Despite evidence that the Hawaiian kingdom was one of the most highly literate nations in the latter half of the 19th century, the Hawaiian language was banned from the public and private school systems in 1896. It remained an unrecognized language by the government for nearly a century. The English-only legislation was among the most destructive colonial acts against Native Hawaiians – it resulted in a precipitous decline in the indigenous understandings of their own culture, history, values, spirituality, practices and identity as a people.

"This measure works toward the reestablishment of social, religious and cultural awareness and respect for Hawaiian culture and practices. Incorporating Hawaiian, architecture and styles is a way of increasing Hawaiian cultural awareness, historical significance and pride."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2928, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE COUNTIES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 853-06) recommending that H.B. No. 2961, HD 1, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative M. Oshiro, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2961, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

At 1:59 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills, passed Third Reading:

H.B. No. 1833, HD 1	H.B. No. 2823, HD 1
H.B. No. 2177	H.B. No. 2928, HD 1
H.B. No. 2240	H.B. No. 2961, HD 1
H.B. No. 2670, HD 1

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 854-06) recommending that H.B. No. 3126, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 3126, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Moses rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Just briefly. I'm not on the Health Committee, but what I understand is ... In opposition. I understand this measure is to do away with the identification bracelets, the 'do not resuscitate' bracelets. And I heard that one of the reasons is just because we don't make them here and they have to come from the mainland, but I don't know if that's the case. But what I see is now if somebody goes into an apartment to respond to a 911 call or something, and you have to look on the refrigerator to see if there's ones of these notes. This is kind of strange to me.

"And if somebody is walking through the mall and he clutches their chest and falls down. Anybody around him is going to try and resuscitate whether they know that there's a do not resuscitate order or not. So I'm just confused why we're doing this. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, just I would like to register my reservations on this bill. I recently had a personal experience with some of the pitfalls and flaws of a system that is related to this as advanced directives.

"Until someone's really experienced, what this type of advanced directive means, 'do not resuscitate,' this sort of thing, there are so many pitfalls because often times somebody they put on their identification, don't resuscitate me, don't use any "heroic efforts" and that sort of things. Things change and sometimes what some people think might be an unrevivable person, unconscious, etc., can sometimes be false. And you're talking about taking somebody's life when maybe they're going to recuperate.

"So having had this type of personal experience and situation, I have to ask that my colleagues take a better look at this. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm sorry. I'm a little slow. I'm rising in support with some reservations. I think these advanced directives, initially people might have them, no doubt, because they are concerned about when they are in a hospital, and there's no hope. They don't want their families to do heroic things to try to keep them alive. But to expect an emergency person who has been called because somebody cares about this person, I think it's better to err on the side of life. Let them do what they need to to stabilize that person and get them to the hospital.

"When their families come and are made aware by the doctor of whatever the situation is, that's where you can make a decision whether you're going to do more procedures or whatever it takes. But it seems like these bracelets are, if I pass out at the bus stop and if I got this bracelet. I mean I made out that directive thinking when I get to be 75 and have a stroke and I'm in the hospital for a week. You know I'd like to have a little lead-time before they decide let's do nothing.

"So those are my concerns with this bill, probably the whole concept of it. But I don't think there should be this onus on the emergency people that come, not to do anything, if somebody says, 'Well, I think they have an advance directive.' I think they should do whatever they need to do. Get them to the hospital and stabilize them. Then the family can come and be concerned about that do not resuscitate. Thank you.'

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to comment that being an intensive care nurse for 20 something years ... I'm standing in very strong support of the measure. Being that I am an intensive care nurse for over 20 years, I feel that we need these rules on the book. Most likely, right now, without this policy, when EMS shows up at a scene where they're being called to, they have to do a full blown type of resuscitation on that person. After a while the family members come and show up, and says, 'No. He has a living will that says so.'

"It's been very difficult for the healthcare providers to take off those measures that they have put on. Intratracheal tube, IV therapy, and do a full-blown resuscitation of this person. It is very difficult then to retrieve or retract whatever you've done. And it almost takes an act of Congress to take off that intratracheal tube that that person maybe, did not want to begin with. Yes, I strongly support this, being a player in the field that does enforce this kind of regulations. We need this. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 3126, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO RAPID IDENTIFICATION DOCUMENTS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in support of this measure. Thank you. I think probably most of you have experienced complaints from schools in your districts regarding traffic and the traffic situation around the schools. It's very common for there to be traffic congestion around many of our schools. A lot of it is a result of poor planning.

"When we visited the Neighbor Islands, we also noticed there were lots of complaints about traffic and unsafe conditions. So this bill is really important because it will enable the Department to carry on a statewide traffic study of the situations at the schools. At the same time it will bring down federal moneys available under the SAFETEA-LU federal legislation. So I urge members support."

Representative Yamane rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Lee be entered in the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1904, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TRAFFIC SAFETY AT PUBLIC SCHOOLS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Kanoho rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. This is a very important bill because for years we've been trying to address a problem of our farmers on public lands whose leases, many of which will be expiring. For years we were trying to address this problem because DLNR policy requires that the lease be put up for auction, to the consternation of our farmers.

"This finally completes the transfer of management of public agricultural leases from DLNR to the Department of Agriculture. We actually did that in 2003, but without providing the guidelines. This bill provides those guidelines, which gives the DOA flexibility in managing those leases. And this would be a great for farming and agricultural industry. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2271, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO NON-AGRICULTURAL PARK LANDS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Carroll rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in strong support of this measure and would like to insert comments," and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Carroll's written remarks are as follows:

"House Bill 3217, which proposes the creation of Kupuna Recognition Day calls for an annual holiday to commemorate the significant role that kupuna play in Hawaii's culture, history, and traditions. Though not a paid state holiday, the fourth Saturday of July would serve as Kupuna Recognition Day.

"Here in Hawaii, kupuna tradition has long been responsible for the passage of knowledge from the elders. Whether it was hula, canoe building, or la'au lapa'au, watching and learning from the kupuna was a trusted pedagogy. These teaching methods were responsible for maintaining a rich oral tradition and carrying centuries-old wisdom forward.

"Though the exchange of kupuna knowledge certainly continues in various disciplines today, it is not as widely practiced. Our kupuna have acquired lifetimes of skill and understanding; and yet, when they should be tapped as a resource, the elderly are too often overlooked or discounted as irrelevant in these modern times.

"I hope to change these kinds of attitudes against the State's elderly, which is why I ask my colleagues to please support House Bill 3217."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 3217, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO KUPUNA RECOGNITION DAY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 860-06) recommending that H.B. No. 1867, HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1867, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Harbin rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to enter my comments with reservations. Thank you. This is a big problem when you have an injured employee that really does need access to care and there is sometimes a delay and I think a lot of it is administrative, and I'm not quite too sure that we put our finger on it yet.

"This bill may be a little radical in that it allows for the continuation of care not knowing whether or not in fact, the employee is eligible for it. So I'd like to see this bill continue on because as an employer in the past, this is a concern and I encourage it to move on. Thank you."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising in opposition to this measure. This bill looks like it's intended to remove the employer's rights to approved treatment plans. It also overrides the workers' comp fee schedule and negates the 'reasonable and necessary language in current law.' It sets up a situation where if medical treatment continues and then is found to have been unnecessary, the insured worker would be responsible for paying the bill.

"This could very well increase workers' comp premiums if passed as written. There is no provision in the bill for the employer to recover treatment cost if the doctor later determines treatment was unnecessary or related to the original injury. So I can't support it as it's written right now. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Stevens rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I rise in support with some reservations. This bill changes the employee-employer balance regarding the method by which medical care can be terminated. I believe it's unnecessary as there are currently adequate safeguards in statute, administrative rules, and current practices to ensure that an individual receives the appropriate medical care for as long as the condition requires. So those are my reservations for this bill. Thank you."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to register some reservations on this measure. I think it will increase workers' comp premium cost. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations and the words from the Representative from Kakaako as my own. Thank you. I'm sorry. I just realized that in Downtown, there's Kakaako and Downtown. I'm not sure ... I actually want the Representative from Downtown," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Sonson rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In strong support, Mr. Speaker. There are no adequate safeguards out there for people who don't have other forms of insurance. Some workers' comp claimants have a claim where they cannot go back to work because of their injury. They lose, some of them do lose their regular insurance like HMSA, Kaiser, that's provided from the employer because they haven't worked for a certain period of time. When that happens at some point in time during the claim, the insurance companies would subject them to an IME. A paid professional doctor who would give an opinion that says, 'This person doesn't need any more treatment.' That would be in disagreement to another doctor that says, 'No, he needs more further treatment.'"

"More than likely the insurance carrier will take the opinion that they paid for from the insurance doctor or the independent medical examiner, whatever you call that person, that doctor, that gives the opinion that no treatment is needed. They will take that over the opinion of the treating provider who is the one that's engaged with this patient on a more regular basis.

"So this opinion then will allow the insurance company to say, 'We're going to cut off your medical. We're not going to provide you with any more medical,' and at that point, what is that person going to do for medical treatment? They can't do anything. The attorney, if that person is lucky enough to be represented, will then file a petition in the form of a WC5, request for a hearing during that administrative process, but that usually takes about three to six months, or even longer, just to get on calendar.

"So for all of that time, there's no medical treatment being given to this particular person. And if that person goes to a hearing and wins, they'll still have to wait about 60 days before they can get to the point where that person can get treatment if the Director's order is not appealed. If the Director's order is appealed, there is no treatment. So you're looking at six months maybe, plus another two months, and then it goes through the appeals process. It goes through the appeals process then you have another year, maybe longer without medical treatment.

"In the end, if the claimant is the winner on the appeal side and it stops there, you have a claimant that's going to be more difficult to put back into the workplace because of the reason that that person has not received proper medical treatment.

"This is a call of the Legislature. Who do we care about and who do we support in this particular instance when there's a difference in opinion? You know that the doctor that gives that opinion has no liability whatsoever. The person or the doctor that's hired by the insurance company, which may put out this person without medical for periods of time. There may be irreparable damage to his medical condition has no liability at all whatsoever under law. So we should err in the worker's side of the particular situation. Support this bill. Thank you."

Representative Moses rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"In opposition. This measure overrides the workers' comp medical fee schedule and negates the reasonable necessary language in current Hawaii law. I'm concerned, Mr. Speaker, because you know we're not allowed as a State to explore or investigate employees' suspected abuses even if they appear very, very evident. But we can investigate, employer irregularities. So it is already very one sided for the employee. So we have to give some balance to this. Thank you."

Representative Pine rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker, I just wanted to also note my strong reservations on this bill based on the fact that it may increase premium costs. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you. I also ask that my reservations be noted, and my concerns on the increased workers' comp."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1867, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO WORKERS' COMPENSATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes to 3 noes, with Representatives Meyer, Moses and Stonebraker voting no.

Representative Lee rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Lee's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this measure.

"Senator Hiram L. Fong's accomplishments are well known. In addition to his distinguished political career, Senator Fong was a successful businessman and community leader.

"In 2005, the Legislature established the Senator Fong Commission to research and find means to honor and recognize Senator Fong. The Commission has completed its work and its highest priority suggestion was the creation of a scholarship at the University of Hawaii in Senator Fong's name.

"HB 2040 HD1 would establish the Senator Hiram L. Fong Scholarship Program and provide initial funding for the program. This is a suitable way to honor a great man and I ask that my colleagues support this measure and send it on to the Senate. Mahalo."

Representative Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, for 864, Relating to Perinatal Care, I have remarks to insert into the Journal. I would just like to say for those who may not know what perinatal means ... I'm in support. Perinatal is relating to the period before and after childbirth. Usually the five months before and one month after birth and so this is a critical time for mother and baby.

"Establishment of this clinic at the University of Hawaii School of Medicine would be part of the war on ice and today's editorial in the paper said, 'What happened to the war on ice?' Well, I think this is something that we can do to contribute to the war on ice. Thank you."

The Chair then stated:

"Were you going to insert written comments as well?"

Representative Lee: "Yes. I can give a long speech if you like."

Vice Speaker Takai: "No thank you. Written comments are preferred. Thank you Representative."

Representative Lee's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this measure.

"Today's Advertiser asks: "What happened to the War on Ice?". Here is one answer.

"Perinatal" is defined as relating to the period before and after childbirth usually the five months before and one month after birth. Obviously this is a critical time for mother and baby. Good health habits during that period can set a keiki on the course for a happy and healthy life. Maternal drug, alcohol and tobacco use, however, can have a very negative effect on the health of a fetus.

"In 2000, Child Welfare Services received reports of 208 drug-exposed infants. Most of them had been exposed to methamphetamine. In addition, about 20% of pregnant women in Hawaii drink and about the same percentage smoke. All of these practices can have serious consequences for the keiki's health.

"Unfortunately, women who use illegal drugs are the least likely to seek perinatal care many for fear that their children will be taken from them. This measure would establish a pilot perinatal clinic at the John A. Burns School of Medicine. The clinic will provide care for women with a history of substance abuse to provide them substance use counseling and psychiatric care. The clinic will also provide case management coordinating its efforts with CWS and social service providers.

"We must do what we can to protect the innocent victims of maternal drug, alcohol and tobacco abuse. This pilot program is an important step in protecting the next generation, for as we all know, the children are our future.

"I urge my colleagues to support this measure. Mahalo."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2045, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PERINATAL CARE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 865-06) recommending that H.B. No. 2066, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker. On Standing Committee Report 867, House Bill No. 3087, I'd like to request a ruling on a potential conflict of interest. Similar to Second Reading, one of my clients is HHSC and I specifically advise them on procurement policies. I was excused on Second Reading."

The Chair then ruled:

"You're excused from the vote on that particular measure."

Representative Kawakami rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support of House Bill 3087. I'm in strong support of this measure, Mr. Speaker, Relating to Procurement. The measure seeks to raise the current procurement threshold for smaller purchases from $25,000 to $50,000.

"This measure is especially beneficial for our smaller and Neighbor Island hospitals that were often hampered by the current threshold of $25,000 enacted since 1993. By raising the level of the small purchases to $50,000, we will not only help the Neighbor Island hospitals operate a little bit more efficiently, but also it would help the Judiciary, the State, the Senate, the Legislature, the University of Hawaii and even the Department of Education. So I'm in favor of this measure. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 3087, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PROCUREMENT," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative B. Oshiro being excused.

At 2:20 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills, passed Third Reading:

H.B. No. 1021, HD 2	H.B. No. 2066, HD 2
H.B. No. 1706, HD 3	H.B. No. 2263, HD 2

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 3098, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Moses rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I thought someone else was rising, Mr. Speaker, but I have some reservations on the measure. This measure, HB 3098, HD 2, there's portions of it that I do support. It brings a civil service employees at conversion Charter Schools the same rights and benefits as civil service employees employed at the DOE, and I understand the reason for that. But I believe these rights and benefits should not be limited to just employees of conversion Charter Schools and should therefore be extended to include employees of startup Charter Schools. Thank you."

Representative Takumi rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. In support. For the edification of the previous speaker, there's another bill upcoming that takes care of that. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 3098, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CHARTER SCHOOLS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes, with Representatives Arakaki and Schatz being excused.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 869-06) recommending that H.B. No. 1886, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1886, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising to speak against this bill. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of the bill is to preserve the inventory of low-income rental housing and unfortunately it does it by a way that actually may prevent or discourage the production of lower income rental housing units.

"This bill would prohibit this sale of those units in fee simple to private persons at any time no matter how far in the future. The Housing and Community Development Corporation of Hawaii opposed the bill. The Committee Report states that the Committee notes that HCDCH expressed concern that this measure could potentially adversely affect HCDCH's housing development programs and may impact affordable for sale housing projects under HCDCH.

"I think we all know, and we've said it time and time again in this Chamber, Mr. Speaker, Hawaii is in desperate need for affordable housing. The sub part (f) of part 2 of HRS Chapter 201G includes many housing development programs. This is the area that this bill addresses. Some of the programs can be used for low income rental housing projects built on privately owned fee simple lands.

"These State-owned housing development programs would not encourage private owners to use their fee simple land for low-income rental projects if the owners are prohibited later from selling the projects.

"So what we may be doing by this well-intended bill is actually stopping the progress that we were trying to make in delivering low-income housing projects to the people that so desperately need them.

"I really ask Members to take a look at this again. HCDCH says don't do it. It's going to backfire. It won't accomplish what you want to accomplish so I think we should table this bill. I know it will go over to this Senate, but we don't have to encourage them to hear it or to come to Conference Committee or to proceed with it. Thank you."

Representative Marumoto rose in support of the measure with reservations, and asked that the remarks of Representative Thielen be entered in the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Kahikina rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support. Mr. Speaker, as the Chair of Housing, we are tasked to address the housing and homeless crisis. And this is another measure addressing the issue that a lot of our housing projects are reaching its maturity and it's going up for sale which may convert into condominiums which would put out the affordability stock. And so I know that a lot of people want fast results, and I hear the rhetoric on the floor. I really would like to see some deeds and would ask that my colleagues would help in addressing the critical issue and the crisis, and come up with solutions. And we're open and I'm hoping that this measure will go forward so we can continue the discussion on this very viable solution to a crisis."

Representative Stevens rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition with the words from the Representative from Kailua as my own. And just short additional comments. I think this would also prevent, should a developer want to do a 'rent to own' after the lease period, to the people who are currently renting as a low-income rental. And as they say home ownership is really a big part in self-sufficiency and wanting to see people in low income just basically have something of their own. I think this also prevents that so I just wanted to add those as my comments as well."

Representative Pine rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I just wanted to note my reservations based on the previous speaker's comments. Thank you."

Representative Halford rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'd like to briefly explain my no vote on this bill. I'm voting no on this version of the bill. This bill is in progress. The Chairman of the Committee is sincere in looking for some solutions and asking for suggestions, and I'm hopeful for a good outcome for this bill. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1886, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HOUSING," passed Third Reading by a vote of 43 ayes to 6 noes, with Representatives Finnegan, Halford, Meyer, Moses, Stonebraker and Thielen voting no, and Representatives Arakaki and Schatz being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1948, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I support the bill overall with one exception and that's why I'm voting with reservations. Thank you. I don't want to add the 68 ounce bottles to the bottle bill program until we can get that program operating in a way that is going to be more helpful to consumers. I don't think we should expand the types of bottles that are under that purview because right now it becomes very difficult for consumers to get their 5 cents back. Thank you."

Representative Pine rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker. I'll be voting no based on the same reasons as the previous speaker. The people in my district are really hurting. While I do support recycling, a lot of people in my district used to use that money when they recycled to buy food on the weekends for their families. So I think it's just too early with the economy in terms of the rental market the way it is, and people with low incomes suffering as it is, to add this extra expense on them at this time. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure with reservations, and asked that the remarks of Representative Pine be entered in the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1948, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SOLID WASTE MANAGEMENT," passed Third Reading by a vote of 43 ayes to 6 noes, with Representatives Finnegan, Marumoto, Meyer, Moses, Pine and Stonebraker voting no, and Representatives Arakaki and Schatz being excused.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 871-06) recommending that H.B. No. 1917, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative M. Oshiro, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1917, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO THE HAWAII CONSTITUTION RELATING TO THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A SALARY COMMISSION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes, with Representatives Arakaki and Schatz being excused.

H.B. No. 1917, HD 2 passed Third Reading in the following form:

H.B. No. 1917, HD 2

A BILL FOR AN ACT PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO THE HAWAII CONSTITUTION RELATING TO THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A SALARY COMMISSION.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF HAWAII:

SECTION 1. Representative Harbin rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would like to enter my no for Standing Committee Report 874. This deals with vocational rehab for non-permanently injured declared employees. Right now, vocational rehab is one of the fastest benefits, cost centers in work comp. I believe the number that I got after researching is something about $6 million a year. This could very easily add another million or two on, per year.

"An example of what could happen is let's say, a carpenter who hurts an arm, breaks an arm, is unable to return back to his permanent job because he's undergoing rehabilitation. Or a truck driver who hurt his back is undergoing rehabilitation. What this bill would allow them to do is to refer themselves to the vocational rehab program before he becomes permanently disabled. I think it's going very much in the wrong direction. We need to assist injured employees to get them back to work not divert them to other programs. So with that I have a very strong no. Thank you."

Representative Moses rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, support with reservations. I'm just wondering why this is necessary at this time. Current law, Section 386-25 and existing practice, already allows the Director to refer workers who are unable to return to their usual and customary job to go to vocational rehab. So it seems like we're just duplicating something that's already there. Thank you."

Representative Ito rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ito's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of Standing Committee Report 878-06, HB2994 HD2.

"Mr. Speaker, in mid-January of this year Ms. Dorothea Pale, President of the Kulana Nani Residents Association, called me complaining that the Kulana Nani Apartment complex is being sold. Investigation of the issue revealed that Kamehameha Schools is the owner of the property on which the Kulana Nani Apartments sits on and was selling the land only at an asking price of $6,800,000. The City & County of Honolulu is the owner of the apartment complex, which was built with a loan from HUD. Kamehameha Schools leases the property to the City & County of Honolulu and the lease terminates in 2048.

"Mr. Speaker, the City & County of Honolulu has stated publicly that their consultants have advised the City to sell off their assets, such as the City's low-income housings. This statement has raised fears in the residents at Kulana Nani. Their fears are justified. When the City & County of Honolulu pays off the HUD loan, the City is free to sell the Kulana Nani Apartment complex on the open real estate market. This scenario can happen well before the lease terminates in 2048. If the Kulana Nani Apartment complex is sold, what will happen to the residents if the new owners decide to raise the rent above the affordability level, convert the apartment complex to a condominium complex, or raze the complex completely and rebuild? It is a foregone conclusion that the residents will have to search for new low-income residences and many may become homeless.

"Mr. Speaker, HB 2994, HD2, directs the Hawaii Housing Finance And Development Administration to immediately initiate negotiations with Kamehameha School to ensure the State's acquisition of the Kulana Nani property. HB 2994, HD2, further provides that one hundred per cent of the housing units on the property shall be retained in perpetuity as affordable housing for households at or below the current income restrictions for rental housing units on the property.

"I want to commend Ms. Dorothea Pale and Ms. Ivey Matavale and Ms. Lorraine Soriano, Kulana Nani residents, for taking the time and effort to testify at the hearing of the Committee on Housing. These three women conveyed to the Committee the fears and concerns of the residents of Kulana Nani Apartments, as well as the residents of other low income housing projects, privately and publicly owned, that are being sold.

"Mr. Speaker, in its final report dated January 2006, the Joint Legislative Housing And Homeless Task Force expressed concern that the inventory of affordable housing rental units is at risk of being reduced. Affordable rental housing projects built in part with government subsidies have been offered for sale at market prices in anticipation of the expiration of income and regulatory restrictions encumbering the property. The taskforce is committed to ensuring that these units remain affordable to persons at lower income levels.

"Mr. Speaker, for this purpose I urge my colleagues to support Standing Committee Report 878-06, HB2994, HD2. Thank you."

Representative Pine rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, on 878. As with all the language in certain bills that includes eminent domain, I'll be voting in opposition. I do care for what's going on with the people in this area, but just as I've been hanai into a Hawaiian family many years ago, and since half my family is from the Philippines, we have a lot of experience with eminent domain. I just really believe that this is an area that we should not go into. It harbors too many hard feelings and could one day be misused as it has been on the mainland, as many of us know.

"Some people's homes were taken over by the government so that they could put a shopping mall there, and they used eminent domain. So I know there is some language in other bills that is specifying it for better uses. However, I just think it's a wording that I wish was not in this bill because I would definitely support this bill and many measures just like it. Thank you."

Representative Kahikina rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I stand in support of the measure. Mr. Speaker, nobody likes to talk about eminent domain, but the government has the power to seize property for public purposes. And I appreciate the previous speaker speaking on eminent domain and how she respects the Native Hawaiian family that hanai her.

"If anybody experienced eminent domain, it was Native Hawaiians. In fact I think they called it 'manifest destiny' and so in that respect, because of the housing crisis, I ask our Members to support this measure."

Representative Chong rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support. And I would just like to comment that presently that the land that the bill talks about purchasing is presently on the market already, and this looks to appropriate money at the market rate. I don't foresee eminent domain as being an issue. I know it is in the bill, but that's if a settlement can't necessarily be reached. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I will be voting no. I'm okay with eminent domain for different purposes, and I expect the government to use its discretion in a good way. It's just that when you put eminent domain in this, it's almost like a threat. A threat to Kamehameha Schools that if you don't sell, then we're going to utilize this eminent domain on you, and I don't like that. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2994, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO LAND ACQUISITION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes to 3 noes, with Representatives Finnegan, Pine and Stonebraker voting no.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 879-06) recommending that H.B. No. 3121, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 3121, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Yamane rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I'm standing up in strong support for Stand Com. Report 879. I would like to submit written comments, but also to express really quickly that after Katrina it took three shifts of 45 volunteers to deal with the pets that were loose after the hurricane. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Yamane's written remarks are as follows:

"It is estimated that 56% of Oahu household have pets according to a Ward research study. It is predicted that we have almost 1.5 million pets on Oahu, with over 330,000 dogs and cats.

"After Hurricane Katrina, animal volunteers in Louisiana took in 300 to 500 animals daily, who needed to get cleaned up, fed and cared for. In three shifts, at least 45 volunteers from humane societies, including from Hawaii, Colorado, Minnesota, Ohio and California, they worked round-the-clock helping to care for these victims who were lost from their family.

"But more importantly, our pets are part of our family. For many, they are like their own children. During these times of crisis, do not force people to make a choice between their safety and the safety of their family members.

"Animals left behind can be injured, lost or killed. Animals left inside a house can escape through storm-damaged areas such as a broken window. Leaving dogs tied or chained outside could endanger their lives. Animals turned loose to fend for themselves can become victims of exposure, starvation or accidents.

"This measure will result in more people seeking the safety of a shelter reducing the risk of emergency responders and the loss of life. Let's not be dogged by the issues."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 3121, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CIVIL DEFENSE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 880-06) recommending that H.B. No. 1928, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1928, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, I'm going to be voting no on this bill and I'd like to explain why. Thank you. Mr. Speaker, the provision I don't support is allowing agricultural leases to be renewed by direct negotiations instead of going out for competitive bid.

"I think that could really be a mistake if we go down that road. This would mean that an agricultural lessee who had either a 35-year lease or a 55-year lease could go in to the Board of Land and Natural Resources and say, 'We want to directly negotiate with you. Don't put it out for competitive bid. We want to extend our lease.' This would mean that they would have a term that was really a hundred years of having that State land, having the lease on that State land.

"I don't really think this is fair to the other farmers who are out there that would like very much to be able to have a operation, a farming operation on State land. And I realize that it would be difficult for existing lessees to come in and go through a competitive process, but that competitive process brings in a fair return to the State, and I think it's a much better way because it also brings a fair opportunity for the new farming community to come in and be able to apply for that land. Otherwise they're just shut out. Thank you."

Representative Kanoho rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. This bill contains several segments one of which the previous speaker alluded to. Actually, it becomes a moot point because we talked about House Bill 2271 on page 18, which transfers responsibility of the management of agricultural leases from the Department of Land and Natural Resources to the Department of Agriculture just for that reason. So that would-be farmers can be assured that they would continue with their leases because otherwise you take a farmer who has labored on a property for 10 or 20 or more years, only to lose it to someone with bigger dollars. The deserving farmer should be given the opportunity to renegotiate that lease. But in this bill it can be a moot point because of the transfer.

"I'm speaking in support of this bill because it allows hotels, resorts, to renegotiate leases with the Department of Land and Natural Resources primarily in the event that financing becomes necessary for improvements. Otherwise what might happen, say that a lessee has 10 more years on his lease. The Lessee's not going to spend money to improve that property. This is on State lands. It is to the State's benefit that the improvements on that land would be in as good shape as possible through improvements. This would enable that lessee to go ahead and recapture financing costs because the lease term has been extended. So it's really a good measure. There are two sections that provides not only for recapturing of financing, but it enables the Department when necessary, to extend the uses or the heights, or the limitations on the use of their property. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1928, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC LANDS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes to 2 noes, with Representatives Marumoto and Thielen voting no.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 881-06) recommending that H.B. No. 1938, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1938, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Kanoho rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. This is a really very important bill. For years we've been trying to address the issue. I'm in very strong support. Thank you. For years we've been trying to address the issue of luxury estates on agriculturally zoned lands.

"In essence, this bill would prevent Hokulias in the future. Some have called this bill to be overly restrictive, but at the time we encountered the bill it was just the intent to say that there would be no non-agricultural uses on agriculturally classified lands. And it doesn't mean that there could never be such development on agriculturally zoned lands. If it was the desirable and needed thing to do, then it should be reclassified to whatever the use may be, either rural or urban. And that's what this bill is all about.

"As we proceed however, because this is such a far-reaching step in how we use our lands, one of the biggest problems is that in 1976, we allowed permissible dwellings on A&B lands and that opened the door to all kinds of dwellings, including luxury estates. So we have to figure that out. We're thinking possibly that we need to have a land use working group in the interim to make that determination to get all the stakeholders to the table to make this determination. Because an important decision such as this would come under this bill, the process of arriving at that decision is probably more important than the decision itself, by having everybody participate in arriving at a solution.

"So this is something that we need to continually look at and work on because it's so far reaching and we should pass it. Thank you."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I'm rising in support, but with some strong reservations. I feel like this bill is kind of going backwards from what we did last year on the important ag land bill, where we would give the counties more say in what they would want to do with the ag land. And now in this bill we are specifically prohibiting golf related facilities, private membership facilities including hotels, resort and maybe commercial uses, time share facilities. We get very specific about what we won't allow on ag lands.

"And then another section. I mean, it's regardless of soil classification. I think for any of us who have sat in any of the hearings on important ag lands, it's clear that there are ag lands and there are ag lands. And when you take the Big Island into account, it is the biggest island with the most acreage, and probably 94% of it all zoned ag and it's not appropriate soil. It's just plain lava and rocky soil and not good ag land, and never been used as ag land. Yet because it was sort of a default, it was zoned ag. I think there are lots of people that envision this great, rich soil and think it's wonderful. And there's the argument about how coffee can grow on old lava flows and that's true, but there's so many hundreds and hundreds of acres that are zoned ag without any thought as to whether they are really viable for agricultural. And now we are passing this bill that's saying that the counties can't tend to ... What's the wording here. It repeals the county's authorization to further define accessory agricultural uses.

"I just feel like we're going backwards. I feel like we just keep chasing like a dog chasing its tail. We talk about it. We talk about it. We never get any closer to resolving the problem, and this is like taking a step back. And I respect the Chairman of Water, Land and he's been here a lot longer than I have, but I certainly see this bill differently than he does. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Hale rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. It really bothers me when we talk about important ... I'm for this because of some of the prohibitions here in this bill, but I have some reservations. I represent the district in east southeast of the Island of Hawaii. It's called Puna. About 95% of it is lava flow and yet we are a very thriving agricultural area. We raise papayas. We send them all over the world. Their best papayas are on so-called, no-good land. Lava land, that's where papaya have been thriving and have been a very successful product.

"Another big area in my area is floriculture and it's on lava land that has been smoothed out and put on racks. If you have a certified nursery you put it on a rack and it doesn't take deep soil. We're thinking in terms of only using the kind of land that they have from the area that I come from in Minnesota which is long, deep, and we used a tractor and you till it. But very profitable agriculture can be put on lava land. Macadamia nuts, papayas, bananas, floriculture and to say that that is not useful, it irritates me. I'm sorry and that gives me some concern about the definition. Thank you."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I rise in support. I just wanted to make a brief comment that the reason I was an original writer of the bill, an introducer, and it is changing as it goes along because I see this as a really good discussion about really what's happening at the local level and about home rule.

"The original intent of the bill was to really bring to people's attention that the counties have done what I call spot zoning, and they do variances. I was looking at a law to really stop that so that local politics can't stretch the meaning of what really should go on agriculture land. So it was just a really short bill, one paragraph, that said that only permitted uses that are in statutory law could actually be allowed on agricultural lands and that was it. Now as it goes forward obviously there's a lot of people that are kind of redefining it and changing it. So as it goes forward I hope it does stay with the original intent, which was to stop local politics, and stop this finding a way to spot zone. Thank you."

Representative Meyer rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Just to reply to some of the things the introducer of the bill said, that this is about home rule. Well this is not the sort of home rule. This is a bill that says the counties will have no say. You will just do what the statutes of the State of Hawaii says, and I think that's the dog chasing the tail. Here at the State level we're dictating and giving. We have given the counties some room and now we want to take it away. I don't think that's the answer to the problem. We're an island State. Every island is different. The Island of Hawaii has more land than any other island. Maui has all kinds of beaches. Every island is different and I think that the counties should have a lot more say. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Kanoho rose to respond, stating:

"A quick rebuttal, Mr. Speaker. This bill is because of the counties. It is because the counties have overstepped their boundaries and created development where it should not be. And development that should be other than agriculture, that this bill has become necessary. And so it's for all the reason that the Representative from the Windward coast, that this bill is necessary. It does not take away from what was done insofar as important agricultural lands. It would help preserve agricultural endeavors on all agricultural lands. Thank you."

At 2:52 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills, passed Third Reading:

H.B. No. 2566, HD 1	H.B. No. 3121, HD 2
H.B. No. 2598, HD 1	H.B. No. 1928, HD 2

Representative Stevens rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2399, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO INTER-ISLAND FERRY SERVICE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Cabanilla being excused.

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support with written comments, please," and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"The purpose of this bill is to allow the Department of Education to employ retired licensed teachers to teach in teacher shortage areas or serve as mentors, provided the teachers are retired for at least one calendar year prior to reemployment.

"As the teacher shortage continues, the rehiring of retired teachers will provide the "highly qualified" teacher that students need in the classroom. The continuing use of long-term substitute teachers is problematic as temporary teachers are not supposed to take over classrooms for long periods of time. This will allow schools that have a need for teachers to have more flexibility in hiring "highly qualified" educators."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1862, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Cabanilla being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2178, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, I'm rising to vote no on this bill. Thank you. It seems strange that I would oppose special purpose revenue bonds that will help Hawaii's agricultural industry by letting the industry make certain infrastructure improvements. But the problem is with this bill, it's premature. We need the instream flow standards first before we go ahead with the SPRBs.

"I would like to request, Mr. Speaker, that I am able to put the text of the Sierra Club's testimony into the Journal and it explains exactly why the bill is premature," and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Thielen submitted the following testimony of the Sierra Club, Hawaii Chapter:

"The Sierra Club, Hawai'i Chapter, with over 5000 dues paying members statewide, opposes HB 2178. This measure proposes a funding mechanism for repairing and improving irrigation systems to facilitate the diversion of free-flowing streams. While we appreciate the desire to aid farmers access to water, we believe public funding for such purposes may be inappropriate and, at the very least, premature.

Given the lack of necessary – and mandated – studies and plans for Hawaii's water, these measures put the cart before the horse.

Despite prior legislation and court ruling, scientifically-based "instream flow standards" have yet to be established for nearly all of Hawaii's natural streams. Such standards would help planners determine how much – if any – water can be diverted from a stream without impacting native stream life, cultural uses, and ecosystem balance. This information is essential, and when faced with incomplete and inconsistent scientific evidence about the proper instream flow, "precautionary principles" should be adopted to protect stream resources, as the State Supreme Court affirmed in the Waiahole case. 94 Haw. At 154-155. The state cannot plan for agricultural uses without first planning for resource protection.

At the very least, we ask that this bill be amended to make clear that any funding of an irrigation project must be conditioned on the prior establishment of proper, scientifically based instream flow standards for all streams affected by the project."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Harbin rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of this bill however I think it's time for me to make my little reminder that what the Legislature sometimes giveth, it taketh away. This is a special revenue bond therefore Chapter 104 plays into this, so perhaps we might be pricing ourselves right out of the market of doing a very good thing for agriculture. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2178, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SPECIAL PURPOSE REVENUE BONDS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Thielen voting no, and Representative Cabanilla being excused.

Representative Kahikina rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Kahikina's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of this measure Relating To Charter Schools.

"The measure provides seed money to establish the Charter Schools Facilities Fund Partnership. It provides a tax credit to landlords who rent or lease to Charter Schools. It encourages the State to enter into leases with Charter Schools at rates comparable to other State agencies. And it reimburses New Century Charter Schools for rent, lease, or mortgage payments for Charter School facilities.

"Given the State's limited resources, the lack of facilities funding is one the biggest challenges facing Hawaii's Charter Schools. This measure would help minimize the financial burden on the State for underwriting facilities, it can help to leverage scarce public resources through a partnership similar to the Hawaii 3R's program. Similar to the 3R program, the partnership would be:

- A public-private partnership;
- Initially be incubated under the fiscal agency of an existing 501(c)(3) or similar nonprofit organization; and
- Attract private investment through the use of tax credits, including federal tax credits."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2610, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CHARTER SCHOOLS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Cabanilla being excused.

Representative Harbin rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you. I'm voting with reservations. First of all, I'd like to congratulate Tradewinds Forest Products for becoming a Hawaii corporation and thereby perhaps maybe able to get a SPRB for their Big Island Construction.

"However, I have some real concerns and I've had many calls from some of the people on the Big Island regarding the issue of whether or not this is a true diversification of Hawaii's economy, or some type of a temporary measure. So I just wanted to express my concerns and also remind them that they will be impacted by Chapter 104 requirements. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2878, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SPECIAL PURPOSE REVENUE BONDS TO ASSIST TRADEWINDS FOREST PRODUCTS, LLC," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Karamatsu rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Karamatsu's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in support. Farming in Hawaii is very competitive with tight margins. This bill will provide eligible farmers an opportunity to obtain funds at favorable rates, which in turn encourages expansion, improvements, and diversification of their operations."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 3067, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO STATE FUNDS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Karamatsu rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Karamatsu's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in support. This bill authorizes up to $15,000,000 in Special Purpose Revenue Bonds to assist Rosette Steel Hawaii LLC in a manufacturing enterprise. The company will build a new facility to manufacture affordable home trusses and panels. Rosette Steel Hawaii LLC's affordable housing technology produces a superior grade steel product, which enables homes to be erected quickly and affordably. When completed, the facility will be able to produce six affordable homes per day. Finally, Rosette Steel Hawaii LLC's products and technologies can also be exported to other countries."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 3077, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE ISSUANCE OF SPECIAL PURPOSE REVENUE BONDS TO ASSIST ROSETTE STEEL HAWAII," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising in support with brief comments. For SCR 892, H.B. 2962, HD 2. Yes, thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support of this omnibus Charter School bill, which has undergone significant work in the Education Committee, but is still a work in progress and I did want to thank the Chair of the Committee for taking on this issue.

"This bill will provide Charter Schools with a more organized and thorough set of laws and a solid base to complete their innovative educational missions. One of the parts that I think still needs further review is just the part where it takes away the cap, but it replaces it with an accreditation section that is too restrictive in my opinion. And so as we move forward in this major step, I'd just like to say that there are some things that I have concerns about."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I just have strong support and I would like to have permission to insert remarks in the Journal," and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Meyer's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm rising in support of HB 2962. I have been an enthusiastic advocate for Charter Schools for many years. They provide choices for parents and students, and ultimately introduce competition in the educational arena, which I believe is very healthy.

"This bill renames the Charter School Review Panel to the Charter School Authorization Panel. No other state has a central Department of Education that serves as the ultimate authority on all public schools like Hawaii does. Most mainland states have multiple chartering authorities that are separate from their local school boards. The Charter School Authorization Panel established in this bill would be a first step in establishing an independent chartering authority in Hawaii, a positive step. This bill is very comprehensive and sure to be amended along the way. I do hope that the separate chartering authority will survive. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2962, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you. I have some reservations on this. My comment is that when I read the bill, I saw that they were asking veterinarians to go just beyond spay and neutering. I think there is really good intentions behind this bill, asking people maybe that were here on vacation three months out of the year to help the Humane Society and actually do spay and neutering. But if you look at the bill it'll actually allow veterinarians to go beyond that.

"So what I'm hoping is that that we address in the next Committee the fact if they are going to be coming here to help us, that it's voluntary, that they don't charge fees, that it's only for spay and neutering and not for other services. Thank you."

Representative Moses rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations. There's some testimony that there are many veterinarians ready, willing and able to do this, but they're not hired. I think it's like $35 an hour. And they had concerns that if veterinarians just come here and they do it while they're on vacation, there's no follow up for the pet. So I just want to point those things. Thank you."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker. On 893, the veterinarians, I don't know how many veterinarians vacation here. I'm in support of this measure. I did get a letter from one of our colleagues who was here not that long ago, Virginia Isabell, and she was very anxious for us to hear the bill. At least move it along.

"I think that the Humane Society there on the Big Island may not have the funds or an unlimited budget to hire veterinarian services on a regular, ongoing basis. And there are also fewer veterinarians on the Big Island than we have here on Oahu. And if there are, a great number of veterinarians who maybe are 'snowbirds' and go to Kona and wouldn't mind practicing what they know well, and do it for nothing, I think that will be a real 'win-win' for everybody.

"There is a real problem in this State with the proliferation of too many dogs, cats, and the strays. I know there were veterinarians that came to testify in Finance concerned that these animals wouldn't get the best care because these veterinarians are old and rusty, and kind of forgotten what they were doing, and they're not doing it on a regular basis every day.

"But on the other hand, these animals in the animal shelter there are going to be euthanized if nobody takes them, and so I think we got to weigh everything. I see this as a very possible win-win-win. Thank you."

Representative Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support and permission to insert comments in the Journal. This is another part of the ice puzzle," and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Lee's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support.

"With the popularity of synthetic drugs like crystal methamphetamine, clean up of illegal drug production facilities has become a major problem.

"Many of the chemicals used in the production of crystal meth are toxic, especially to children. These chemicals include: volatile organic chemicals like toluene, acetone, methanol, petroleum distillates and ethers, lead (depending on the manufacturing method) and mercury (also depending on the manufacturing method).

"When illegal labs are discovered, human habitation of the premises is often unsafe. To determine whether living in the building is safe and to conduct necessary clean up, it is important to adopt regulations for the testing and decontamination of property used for the production of illegal drugs.

"Hawaii is currently experiencing a severe housing shortage. We need to ensure that every available property is habitable especially for our keiki. We also need to give landlords and law enforcement officials guidance on what constitutes a thorough decontamination.

"HB 2039, HD2, would require the Department of Health to adopt interim rules establishing standards for the decontamination of property used for manufacturing of illegal drugs. This will help ensure that subsequent residents of a property are not harmed and will give landowners guidance on the goals and methods of a decontamination effort.

"The HD2 also requires the Department of Health to report back to the Legislature before the 2007 Session. The required report will give the Legislature and the residents of Hawaii a comprehensive look at the problems associated with illegal drug labs and the measures that should be taken to ameliorate the damage they do.

"I ask that my colleagues support this measure. Mahalo."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2039, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO DECONTAMINATION OF ILLEGAL DRUG MANUFACTURING SITES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2278, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in strong support. I'd like to have my comments in the Journal, please," and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Marumoto's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you to the Judiciary and Finance Committees and the entire House for advancing this emergency appropriation for:

1. The collection of DNA samples from convicted felons, and
2. Programs to prevent and treat victims of sexual violence.

"The word 'emergency' in this instance refers to the fact that this measure can be passed before the '07 supplemental budget bill and will utilize this year, '06, money.

"The victims of rape and other sexual offenses – mostly women and very often, children – thank you. Future victims should thank you too, when their perpetrators are caught. But, for sure, there will be fewer victims with an expanded DNA database that will apprehend 'bad eggs' sooner.

"Thank you, colleagues, from suspects who are exonerated if their DNA demonstrates that they are innocent.

"It is my hope that we will also have the occasion to thank Senators by the end of Session and that this money will find its way to the DNA registry special fund and to sexual assault services."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2278, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING EMERGENCY APPROPRIATIONS FOR THE DEPARTMENT OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Lee being excused.

On motion by Representative M. Oshiro, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1835, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Moses rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support with reservations, or comments at least. This requires outdoor lightings for airports, highways, and harbors to comply with county lighting ordinances when it is not in conflict with any State regulation or federal law regulation or mandate. That's good.

"The reason is some astronomers on the Big Island say that there's too much light pollution. I guess some of the boaters might think so too, and so that's fine and I say reduce the lighting whenever you can.

"My comments are really directed toward the highways. There's three kinds of streetlights that are used. The one that is most common and the older one that was used were round light bulbs and they do spread light all around. The newer ones are flat and all the new highways, all the ones we've been talking about here out in the Ewa area, and anytime they fix them on the highways or the freeways, they're using the new flat light bulbs which do not spread light. And that's good.

"The problem is to go back and do it now, for instance on the freeway, you have to dig up all the existing lights and move the new lights closer together because it's required to be closer together. And that would do serious damage to all of our freeway systems.

"So in the interim, one of the things that is done is using shielded lights. Also they have to be closer together. The shielded lights are using old, round light bulbs. This measure calls for able to use shielded lights.

"My point is first of all you can't do it on existing roads without putting lights closer together. Secondly, the shielded lights are to fix the old round lights. It's better to go to the new flat lights. So when the measure calls for shielded lights I think that's not the term we want to use. Thank you."

Representative Stevens rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. I'd just like to say that I've heard from some ship captains that coming into the various harbors around the State, these brighter lights are interfering with their navigation and they would prefer lights directed down with the shields on them around the harbors. Thank you very much."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1835, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Lee being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2778, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Abinsay rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I have written comments in strong support of this measure. I would just like to thank the Committees on Finance, Judiciary, and Labor for their hard work and support of these racial issues about language access. And if I may, Mr. Speaker, I would like to insert an editorial from a daily paper that was published on March 1st, 2006 and this is about, the title is: Work must begin on language access," and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Abinsay's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of Standing Committee Report No. 898-06, House Bill No. 2778, HD 2, Relating to Language Access.

"The purpose of this bill is to provide for effective and timely communication between all levels of government and individuals who are precluded from using public services due to language barriers.

"Mr. Speaker and colleagues, Hawaii has the sixth largest immigrant population, per capita, in the nation. According to the 2000 Census, approximately 27% of Hawaii's residents speak a language other than English at home, while 5% does not speak English well or not at all.

"Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 states that all service agencies receiving federal funds are required to make their services accessible to limited English speaking persons. This requirement includes interpretation and translation.

"In 2000, President Clinton signed Executive Order No. 13166, which reaffirmed that language access discrimination is a violation of Title VI. The President then ordered all federal departments to publish language access guidelines for all agencies that received federal funding.

"The State of Hawaii has been on notice since 2000 of its obligation to provide language access services, but it is sad to note that little has been done to comply with this requirement.

"Immigrants come to Hawaii to seek a better life for our families and children. We come here and we work hard. We are eager to participate as productive members in Hawaii's society and we are committed to do what we can do to contribute to its economy as well. Immigrants provide necessary health care services. We fuel our tourist industry, we own and operate small businesses, and pay taxes. I say 'we,' Mr. Speaker, because I am an immigrant and I have worked with a lot of immigrants over the years. I know first hand what it's like to be hindered by not being able to speak English.

"Imagine, Mr. Speaker, the horror of parents who cannot communicate with doctors or nurses in an emergency, or their frustrations when they cannot communicate with a school to help their child achieve success.

"Imagine the terror of a woman, who had just been through a domestic assault, who cannot communicate with the police and other authorities, and she is sent to a psychiatric hospital instead. Days later when provided with an interpreter, they discover that she is not suicidal, but rather she is a victim of domestic violence.

"Imagine that you had just discovered your two daughters had been sexually abused by their stepfather and immediately you left your house and sought safety in a shelter. Now you are in need badly of immediate support, but you have to wait two months for the welfare office to provide you with an interpreter to help you complete the welfare application process.

"These are just a few examples of the situations that exist right here in Hawaii – situations that severely impact our immigrant population.

"House Bill No. 2778, HD 2, will fulfill the promise that all residents of the State of Hawaii will be treated on equal terms to public services regardless of their national origin.

"House Bill No. 2778, HD 2, is about ensuring equal rights between English and limited English speaking citizens of this country and State. Our State, this island paradise has long been recognized as a place where diversity and race are celebrated – a true melting pot. And I would like to echo the words of the Chair of Finance as he writes in the Committee Report, and I quote, "As a nation of immigrants and especially here in the state known as the "melting pot of the Pacific," it is especially important that our government remain cognizant of the need to provide opportunities for all who choose to come to Hawaii," end of quote.

"Mr. Speaker and colleagues, let us continue to honor that rich tradition not only to preserve our identity across the nation and around the world as a melting pot, but also because diversity and tolerance will not flourish unless all can speak and at least be understood.

"H.B. No. 2778, HD 2, is a work in progress, but it is a very important vehicle that we can use to advance this issue. I would like to thank the Chairs of the Committee on Labor, the Committee on Judiciary, and the Finance Committee for their hard work and support of this measure. And I would like to ask of you, colleagues, to support its passage for Third Reading. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Abinsay also submitted the following editorial from the Honolulu Advertiser:

"Work must begin on language access

In a state where one out of four residents speaks something other than English at home, the barrier presented by language is difficult to overlook.

Yet local government has all but ignored the issue for six years, leaving many whose English skills are poor with little help in securing the government services they deserve and, indeed, pay for.

By law, and in fairness, this is wrong.

In some painful cases, detailed by Advertiser writer Gordon Pang this week, the lack of simple translation services lets small problems deteriorate into tragedies. This adds up to a failure to cope with the reality of Hawaii's multicultural population.

In 2000, President Clinton issued an executive order requiring all agencies receiving federal funds to comply with the Civil Rights Act by providing language assistance to those who qualify for services but have limited English proficiency.

Since then, the federal government has issued guidelines on compliance, but there's very little evidence that Hawai'i has acted. Cost is a legitimate issue, but to use cost as an excuse to postpone all action is inexcusable.

One surviving measure, House Bill 2778, encompasses both the "carrot" and "stick" approach.

The "carrot" would be creation of a language access office that would help state and county agencies develop plans for compliance with federal civil rights law.

In some cases, the costs of dealing with the language hurdle can be sizable, so lawmakers deserve a clear picture of the impact of new language policies. But in other cases, the problem may be one largely of making sure people know that services exist. That could keep expenses to a minimum.

The "stick" is a provision that could leave government agencies open to lawsuits. This element probably should be split off into a separate bill. This way, lawmakers can proceed incrementally, laying the groundwork for compliance before the lawsuits start. Otherwise, the entire process again will be paralyzed.

Making government accessible to all is the wisest course in the long run for Hawai'i. Let the work begin.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1843, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In regards to this, I just want to remain consistent and vote no in regards to the Vocational Agricultural Education Program. Again this is, like I mentioned previously, going in the opposite direction of the Weighted Student Formula so I just want to be on the record that I'm trying to be as fair as possible by making sure that these other programs aren't started up.

"The way I envision something like this working is for the schools that are in areas where they would benefit from an agricultural program, that they would be able to be able to work a partnership maybe, with a local or a nearby agriculture company or whatever. These types of things should be left so that the schools can determine if it's important for their schools. A lot of the time when we legislate things from here, we put an undue pressure on these different schools to have programs like these. Thank you."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I rise in strong support. I believe that it's the place of the Legislature to make policy statements about what we feel strongly about, the education for our children. And we are an agricultural economy in Hawaii and I think it's very appropriate for the Legislature to stand up and say we support vocational agricultural education.

"This bill came out of farmers telling me, they are very concerned that we do not have the next generation of farmers coming up. We are not culling our students, telling our children, that it is a very good job, it's a very good vocation, it's something that is very valued in Hawaii. So I strongly support it. Thank you."

Representative Moses rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. And I'd like to say many of you or most of you know that I am the Representative from Kapolei. It's very urbanized if you will. But I'm also a Representative who has much, much great farmland in my district.

"We have Aloun Farms, Larry Jeffs, Del Monte, Dole, so I'm very concerned with agriculture also. But I have to also say that we cannot micromanage once we passed Act 51 and the Weighted Student Formula. If we want the schools to do this, we're just buying special programs if you will, and why are we doing Act 51 and saying the DOE is managing your assets. It's not true. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1843, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE EDUCATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 47 ayes to 4 noes, with Representatives Finnegan, Moses, Pine and Stonebraker voting no.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 3030, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Meyer rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. On 906, House Bill 3030, House Draft 1, Relating to the Bureau of Conveyances. This bill proposes to use the Bureau of Conveyances Special Fund to add ... I'm in opposition. The bill would fund nine new full-time staff positions at the Bureau of Conveyances.

"Despite enjoying record high real estate sales, we all know what goes up must come down. Adding positions at the peak of the real estate cycle is not responsible. When the market slows down the same jobs would be in jeopardy because there will be a lot fewer documents to record.

"DLNR testified with concerns about adding unnecessary positions. And the Hawaii Association of Realtors, the professionals who rely on the services the most oppose the measure. The Hawaii Association of Realtors testified that they are aware of the political problems that exist between the regular system employees and the Land Court. This bill will only add staff, which will not solve the employment problems at the Bureau.

"Mr. Speaker, if we truly want to make the Bureau of Conveyances more efficient and better serve our constituents, we need to implement the findings from the report conducted by Hoiwe consultants completed in June of 2005. By improving the work environment at the Bureau, we can ensure consumer benefits for our taxpayers. Adding staff is the quick fix that has the potential of exacerbating the situation at a high cost without looking for the real long-term solution. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Schatz rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Briefly in support. There are two problems at the Bureau of Conveyances we need to look at. One is something in our control and the other is not.

"The thing that is in our control is the amount of resources that the Bureau has and clearly they are underfunded. For those of you who are not aware, if you send in your title recordation, the Chair of Labor probably knows the proper terminology better than anybody. But if you send it in by mail, it may not get opened. The mail may not get opened for up to six months. That is something that the Bureau of Conveyances has actually told us. So if you're going to record a title, walk it in. That is totally unacceptable. It's a very small price to pay for these nine additional positions to alleviate that problem "And the previous speaker is correct. There's another problem that has to do with the way the Bureau is managed. Unfortunately the Legislature does not manage individual divisions and departments. There's nothing we can really do about that except exercise our oversight responsibility, which is something that we're doing with audits, with hearings, with correspondence with the Deputy Director of the Department, the Director of the Department, the Division Chief. We are watching the management and the improvement of the management of the Bureau.

"But our responsibility is twofold. To oversee the improvement of management, and second of all to give them the resources and that's what this bill does."

Representative Moses rose in support of the measure with reservations, and asked that the remarks of Representative Meyer be entered in the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

noes, with Representatives Ching, Finnegan, Meyer, Pine and Stonebraker voting no.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2265, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Stevens rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, could we go back to 907. Thank you, I rise with reservations. This bill eliminates the Parole Board's ability to render their decisions without outside influence and will clearly delay the timely rendering of parole revocation decisions, which directly, negatively affect the public safety. So I'd just like to register my reservations on this bill. Thank you."

Representative Chong rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support. Thank you. Essentially what this bill, does to clarify what the previous speaker said, is the Parole Authority still remains intact. It still determines paroles for inmates. All this does is take the supervising and counseling functions and places it within the Department of Public Safety. Other states are going in this direction and have gone in this direction, and it's something that we should take a look at. Thank you."

Representative Moses rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. In Hawaii somebody who gets ten years may only serve two. We heard this on the Floor earlier tonight. Therefore it is important that the Hawaii Paroling Authority oversee the eight years the offender will be on parole.

"Our Paroling Authority believes the DPS wanted to gain supervisory counseling responsibilities because the rate of parole revocation was high. But according to the Hawaii Paroling Authority, since they have received money from the Legislature, they have been able to create new programs, and parole violations have gone down. Hawaii Paroling Authority strongly believes they should continue to oversee parolees. Thank you."

Representative Sonson rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2698, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Harbin rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand with reservations and strong support of the concept and idea behind the House Bill 2698. This bill, this measure desires to implement standardization of workers' comp forms. And I have to tell you as a former employer and as someone who has been very, very involved in work comp reform since the '90s, this could be a great step forward.

"However, with that being said, there is a lot of work that needs to be done and for that work to be done it's going to require funding from this Legislature. For us to mandate this and recommend this and require this, I think this is great, but we really, really need to step up to the plate this Session and fund DCD to be able to do this.

"Standardization is going to require cooperation between the employers' insurance carriers, and the physicians, and DCD. They are all willing to do this. One of the things that we have found is workers' comp with billing and workers' comp with any type of forms, standardization forms, we are a very unique State in the type of work comp system that we have. Plus we're very unique in the fact that we have this hidden gross excise tax on medical fees and services, so to develop the EMR and to develop the standardization is going to take cooperation, but most important funding. And I would like to see this measure go forward because it would really help to expedite payment, expedite services to the employees, but we need to fund this and fund this this year. Thank you."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in strong support. I would hope that as this bill proceeds we will look to reducing the amount of paperwork. It is quite onerous and takes a lot of time on the part of all involved. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2698, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO WORKERS' COMPENSATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 913-06) recommending that H.B. No. 2097, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2097, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Arakaki rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, in strong support of House Bill 2097. Mr. Speaker, I'm not sure if people had a chance to read an excellent editorial this past Sunday in the Advertiser by our newest colleague, the Representative from Waikiki, but if possible I'd like to have her editorial entered into our Journal," and the Chair so ordered."

Representative Arakaki continued, stating:

"And it's really great that even as the newest member, she has such a great insight into the problems of caring especially for our elderly. And I must say a lot of times it's not a matter of choice, a lot of us are forced into that situation and then we find out all the problems that come with caring for the elderly and disabled. I myself cared for my mom for over 10 years until she passed away last year. Unless, I think everyone here at one point of time either will have gone through this, is going through this, or in the future will have to go through this. And it's not something that you can really prepare for.

"But I think as policy makers it's important that we support our caregivers because here in Hawaii, in our culture I think it is so important for us to honor our elders, to care for our elders. At the same time here in Hawaii because of our economy it becomes very difficult financially to stay at home and care for a family member, but that is our choice and some people are making very difficult choices in giving up their jobs, giving up their lifestyle to care for a family member in need of care.

"So I would like to dedicate this bill not only to my mom, to the Representative from Waikiki's mom, and to all the others who are cared for by a family member in recognition of the work that goes into that and the fact that they probably save this State a lot of money. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Arakaki submitted the following editorial from the Honolulu Advertiser:

"Elder care is Hawai'i's looming crisis

Our parents gave us life. They nurtured us throughout our development from infancy through to adulthood, self-responsibility and self-reliance.

As adults, we may find ourselves in the role of parenting new and unexpected children ... our mothers or fathers.

I am caring for my mother, now in her early 80s. In November 2002, she was diagnosed with chronic progressive dementia; Alzheimer's disease. I will likely care for her for many more years. A person with Alzheimer's disease lives from eight to 20 years beyond the diagnosis.

My mother displayed many of the classic characteristics of this dreadful disease, beginning with memory loss and child-like patterns of inappropriate behavior: unreasoning fear, hiding things, losing things and — most worrying to me — wandering.

One morning, when I was about to hop in the shower before leaving for work, I told my mom it was her birthday and a large parcel was waiting for her downstairs with the security guard at our condominium.

I told her to go to the lobby and get her gift while I took my shower. There was no sign of her when I had finished my shower. She had retrieved her parcel in the lobby but instead of returning, she left the building. Fortunately, the doorman spotted her and was able to get her back on track. We found the parcel on the sidewalk, where she had left it.

Because of my experience in caring for my mother, I want to share my story so that others can be better prepared when their parent becomes their children.

Up to 70 percent of people with Alzheimer's disease will wander and may become lost, especially during the later stages of the disease. Of those who become lost, 50 percent will die if not found within 24 hours. Continual supervision, sometimes even round-the-clock, is essential.

As my mother's disease progressed, there were increasing incidents of disorientation, minor combativeness and depression. Last year, she tried to commit suicide by jumping off our 10th-floor balcony. Clearly, it was time to seek full-time supervision.

At some point, you may need to become, as I did, the financial guardian of your parent. When caring for an elder who is chronically ill, you must be vigilant about expenses and the resources available to pay for their care. Expenses are for both medical care and "social" care, which is the daily care and social interaction necessary when caring for someone who cannot care for themselves.

The patient's own resources may not cover all expenses. And the caregiver may not be able to maintain a job outside the home, considering the amount of elder care that is required of them.

Parents normally prefer to take care of themselves financially, and they usually don't want their adult children to be involved in their affairs. But as they grow older, chances are that they eventually will need some help.

Adult children should discuss this matter with their parents while the parents are still rational. Assess their available financial resources, both income and savings. Make sure the parent is getting the proper Medicare or Medicaid coverage as allowed by law. Check Social Security payments and keep track of all paperwork pertaining to health-insurance claims and prescriptions. Check over all health insurance explanations of benefits when claims are paid or refused.

This is not just a critical health issue — it's a critical social issue. Entire families may be affected by the psychological, financial and social costs of providing a parent with long-term care. As their dependency increases, caregivers frequently must reduce their work hours, adjust or abandon career or personal goals, and may need to retire earlier than intended, compromising their own financial independence.

There is a looming crisis.

One-fifth of the state's adult population is 60 years and older. By 2020, this category will account for more than 25 percent of Hawai'i's adult population. Nearly one-third of this population group is expected to have functional disabilities.

Then there are the mounting costs. When nursing-home care is required, Hawai'i's families are burdened with annual charges they are unable to afford. In the case of elderly families, these charges are sometimes double their average annual disposable income. Not only are home, community-based care and nursing-home beds currently below requisite levels, the annual average cost for nursing-home care is estimated eventually to exceed $200,000 per person. And this is only one component of an array of long-term-care services.

As a state representative with a dependent parent, I have a deep personal concern about long-term elder care. It can be horrendously expensive — particularly for nursing-home care as the estimate above indicates.

In my mother's case, her standard long-term-care policy, at a base annual premium of almost $3,000, is limited to a maximum benefit amount of around $70,000. This provides $100 per day, each, for long-term and respite-care benefits, and a care advisory services benefit of $1,000 per year.

As my mother's condition deteriorates, this presently affordable policy will quickly become inadequate. Our state government is particularly concerned about this impending long-term health crisis. The opening statement of House Bill No. 3129 states: "The Legislature finds that the future of long-term care for Hawai'i's senior and adult disabled population is one of the most critical health issues facing Hawai'i in the twenty-first century."

At the direction of the governor, the state Department of Health has established a long-term-care task force comprising the departments of health, taxation, commerce and consumer affairs — combined with people in the long-term-care insurance industry and health care sector. Working together, these governmental departments will be required to submit a report annually to the Legislature addressing the status of this act's provisions.

The purpose of the bill is to provide a tax credit to individual taxpayers and employers for premiums paid for long-term-care insurance contracts. Lawmakers need to support this bill so all of us can afford to care for the ones we love in their time of need.

State Rep. Anne V. Stevens, R-23rd (Waikiki, Ala Moana, Kaka'ako), wrote this commentary for The Advertiser."

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you. Just briefly in strong support. I think that again the benefits of people staying at home with family as they age has been well documented. And when we can make it easier for caregivers this is healthy for our families and our communities. I also would ask for additional written comments," and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in strong support of this measure. This legislation recognizes caregivers and provides a much needed tax relief.

"H.B. 2097 allows qualified caregivers to file a tax return and receive a refund if their tax commitment is less than $1000.00. This tax relief for caregivers will save the State tax dollars for having those requiring care to remain in the comfort of their home with family, as the prices of care homes continue to rise. Caregivers become incredibly invested in their recipients committing much, if not devoting all of their time and at times spending a significant amount of their own money in the process. By providing a refundable tax credit, this bill makes it financially possible for caregivers to continue their work.

"As a caregiver myself, I understand the role requires one to be 'on call.' The dedication required in taking on the responsibility of caring for a relative can be both physically and emotionally draining. It's time caregivers be recognized for their loyalty and dedication. In a society that is very family oriented, tax relief for caregivers is a way we can show our gratitude and appreciation, and aid those who aid others."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm in strong support and ask for written comments, please," and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"This bill would provide qualified caregivers with a $1,000 tax credit to every eligible caregiver providing long-term care to one or more elderly family members requiring such care at home."

Representative Meyer rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Meyer's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm in strong support of HB 2097, HD2. With our population aging as it is, more and more people find themselves caring for an elderly relative. Nursing care costs are too high for the average family and the everyday needs of the ill or infirmed are attended to by family members. These folks must take time off from work, forego vacations, often performing double-duty by maintaining their homes as well as that of their loved one. The tax credit called for in this bill would help to compensate the care-giver for lost wages and out-of-pocket costs related to taking care of their sick relative. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2097, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CAREGIVERS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 914-06) recommending that H.B. No. 2248, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2248, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Hale rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Hale's written remarks are as follows:

"It has taken five years since we begun considering the Kikala-Keokea project here in the Legislature. In 2001, we appropriated money for the infrastructure, the roads and water lines to be put in. Five years later it is still not fully completed when it was supposed to be finished in two years.

"With this bill, we fund the Housing Revolving Fund from which we can make home loans so that the families displaced from their homes in Kalapana and Kaimu due to the volcano will be able to build new homes in Kikala-Keokea so that they can return to and revitalize the area. I just hope that the infrastructure construction will be completed by the end of the year so that these families can begin to return."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2248, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO KIKALA-KEOKEA," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 915-06) recommending that H.B. No. 3060, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 3060, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Karamatsu rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Karamatsu's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in support. Through this bill, the High Technology Development Corporation will be able to extend its existing small business innovation research grant program to include a small business technology transfer program to encourage small companies and researchers at nonprofit research institutions, including research universities and colleges, to work together to move laboratory-developed technologies to the marketplace and to foster technology-based economic development. This program will strengthen Hawaii's technology industry by encouraging the partnership between small companies and researchers."

H.B. No. 2109, HD 1	H.B. No. 2097, HD 2
H.B. No. 3019, HD 1	H.B. No. 2248, HD 2
H.B. No. 3089, HD 1	H.B. No. 3060, HD 1
H.B. No. 2698, HD 1

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 916-06) recommending that H.B. No. 3202, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 3202, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Kahikina rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In strong support and I ask permission to enter written comments into the Journal," and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Kahikina's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker. The purpose of this bill is to authorize the counties to adopt inclusionary requirements in residential housing developments. This measure would ensure that families of all income groups have access to affordable housing.

"I strongly support this measure, Relating to Affordable Housing.

"The Joint Legislative Housing and Homeless Task Force spent numerous hours conducting research and meeting with various stakeholders to discuss Hawaii's housing crisis. Bold and creative steps must be taken immediately to provide the thirty-six thousand housing units needed over the next five years for affordable housing for households earning one hundred forty per cent or less of the adjusted median family income. This Measure would endorse the Joint Legislative Housing Task Force's recommendation for an adoption of a model inclusionary zoning law."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 3202, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO AFFORDABLE HOUSING," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2204, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Kanoho rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In very strong support. And this measure indicates a good faith effort to fulfill our obligations to our constitutional and statutory obligation to the Hawaiian people by providing the interim revenue that this bill would call for. Thank you."

Representative Moses rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you. On 918, in support with some comments. This measure formalizes the law where there's a recent agreement between OHA and Governor Lingle concerning the payment of public land and trust money to OHA, and that is good. It establishes OHA's prorated portion of the public land trust at $15.1 million for each year beginning each fiscal year beginning with the fiscal year 2005 to 2006. I have no problem with that.

"I have some concerns about Section 5 though because it is prohibited, problematic at least, to the extent that it places an unreasonable burden on DLNR to provide an accounting of all public trust land revenue as received by all other departments and agencies of the State of Hawaii. I don't believe DLNR can do that. I don't even know. I mean it's a tremendous burden. I don't even know if all of the departments know all the land they own. I know that we have to do that in order to pay our debt, but I don't know how to do that. And I'm sure DLNR cannot do it, at least at this time. Thank you.

"I'm in support, but I just want to bring up those comments. DLNR, I believes just cannot act in accordance with this law as passed."

Representative Chong rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support. And ask that the comments by Representative from Kauai be added as my own," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Chong continued, stating:

"And if I can also add regarding Section 5 of the bill, to truly, fairly, and justly address the issue of ceded land revenue somebody is going to have to take a look at all the land and make an inventory.

"DLNR clearly is not interested in it because of the workload. I understand that it's going to take a lot of work. At the same time, I think it's important that a body that is experienced in land management and more so, more importantly, an agency that can take a look at all lands, especially those that receive special funds and I think that is going to be the crux for this issue is taking look at lands which derive special revenues. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2204, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE OFFICE OF HAWAIIAN AFFAIRS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 919-06) recommending that H.B. No. 2440, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2440, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Moses rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, in support with some reservations. The intent of protecting student athletes in education institutions from unethical athlete agents is fine. But I'm concerned about a provision in this bill that exempts this measure from the requirement that the new regulatory measures being considered for enactment be referred to the Auditor for a sunrise analysis.

"The Legislature has never given an exemption from the requirement before. Actually this is to not make them go for the sunrise analysis. And we've never given this exemption before and I'm concerned if it passes, this bill could act as a precedent of a new regulatory measure being exempted from this needed invaluable sunrise analysis requirement."

Representative Meyer rose in support of the measure with reservations, and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Meyer's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm rising in support with reservations. HB 2440, HD2, proposes that the Legislature exempt this measure from the sunrise analysis. The exemption from this requirement that is proposed in the bill serves as a means to circumvent a valid, necessary, and statutorily required process. No compelling reason was given for exempting this measure from the statutorily required process. For that reason, I cannot give my wholehearted support to the measure."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2440, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE UNIFORM ATHLETE AGENTS ACT," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 920-06) recommending that H.B. No. 3261, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 3261, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative M. Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in strong support and permission to insert written comments in support," and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative M. Oshiro's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to speak in favor of House Bill No. 3261, House Draft 1, Relating to Ingenuity Corporation Charter.

"This bill would provide the statutory framework for the establishment of the Hawaii Ingenuity Corporation, an entity that protects intellectual property, stabilizes jobs, and promotes technology in public education. The corporation has the ability to hold intellectual property for inventors and license that property to businesses. Once the business implements the invention, the labor force becomes the ultimate user. Having inventors and labor collaborate with educators will create a win-win situation for the people of Hawaii.

I. INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY IS A CORNERSTONE OF AMERICAN SOCIETY

"Mr. Speaker, intellectual property is a cornerstone of the United States. In our schools, children are learning about Thomas Edison's incandescent light bulb, Alexander Graham Bell's remarkable telephone, and the Wright Brothers' airplane taking flight for the first time. The list is endless. The fruits of American ingenuity have produced industries and capital that expanded our economy and created a lifestyle that we all enjoy.

"The inventors of today face more difficulty in inventing from their historical counterparts. Long gone are the days where inventors tinkered in their garage or basement -- these places have turned into laboratories and factories -- places where inventors are watched under a microscope and must adhere to strict requirements and deadlines. Corporate competition has also stifled innovation. Larger companies, like Microsoft, have crushed competitive software and successfully dominated the market. We cannot allow this type of behavior to cripple innovation.

II. ESTABLISH HAWAII AS AN INNOVATIVE LEADER

"Mr. Speaker, the 2006 Legislative Session will be remembered for our commitment to Hawaii innovation. Legislation enacted this year will be geared toward promoting technology and growing our high-tech industry. As with House Bill No. 2181 House Draft 2, which creates the Hawaii Innovations Partnership Act, this will reaffirm our commitment toward high technology.

"House Bill No. 3261, House Draft 1, works hand-in-hand with high technology by creating a conduit to assist inventors with protecting intellectual property rights. With the Ingenuity Corporation in place, inventors can take their innovations to the corporation for assistance in obtaining patents, copyrights, or other intellectual property. After an inventor licenses the technology to the corporation, it can assist with marking the technology to businesses.

"Hawaii, under Governor Benjamin Cayetano, took the first step to promote intellectual property in Hawaii. In a letter to the governors of the other forty-nine states, Governor Cayetano wrote:

"Historically, innovation has led to technological advancement and that advancement has created jobs and even new industries. Independent inventors, not large corporations, have contributed the majority of this country's most important inventions. Protecting the patent rights of independent inventors is of the utmost importance to the future prosperity of states as we move into the next century."

"In a Pacific Business News opinion piece from Dr. Raymond Damadian, inventor of the MRI, he wrote:

"I conclude by expressing my gratitude to Gov. Cayetano for recognizing the importance of independent inventors to the economy and for having the foresight and courage to stand up on our behalf. I say this despite the fact that my support for Republican politics -- including President Bush -- is a matter of public record . . . Cayetano is sending a clear message to independent inventors. The result? Companies like mine -- which are built on the patented inventions of their founders -- will begin taking a serious look at Hawaii as a place to do business."

"Hawaii has gained a national following from organizations around the country interested in the Hawaii Ingenuity Corporation. John P. Connolly, President of the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists (AFTRA), provided his insight into the proposed measure:

"The Ingenuity Corporation that HB 3261 envisions, with its alliance of scientists, workers, educational institutions and the people of Hawaii, will be a major factor in restoring balance and fairness to the current jungle warfare over patents. Not only will HB 3261 help create a level playing field for the orderly administration of crucial inventions and intellectual property, it will also create a mechanism through which society -- most particularly the inventors themselves, workers, and the educational institutions of Hawaii -- will share in the benefits of the enterprises of the future."

"If Hawaii becomes the first state to create this entity, it would promote Hawaii as an innovative leader.

III. LABOR MAY CONTROL THE TECHNOLOGY THEY DEVELOP

"Under House Bill No. 3261, House Draft 1, the labor unions play a pivotal role. By having a stake in the corporation, labor will have an incentive to protect intellectual property in the workplace. Since the workers are implementing the new technology, they will have an insight into the proper use of the intellectual property license.

"The unions also have the ability to promote the use of technology in the workplace. Imagine a worker who knows of technology that could save a business thousands of dollars. Workers would be anxious to bring that technology to the business because both will benefit. Unions also have the bargaining power to promote technology in the marketplace to the benefit of all the members in the corporation.

IV. THE CORPORATION WILL ANCHOR JOBS LOCALLY

"As many of you already know, Del Monte is ceasing operations in Hawaii this year. What many of you do not know is that Del Monte owns two important pineapple patents invented in Hawaii: a special coring device and a CO2 hybrid pineapple, known as the Del Monte Gold for its low acid and sweet taste. Del Monte has taken these patents from our fertile lands of Kunia to the Philippines to cultivate pineapple. What is the result? Seven hundred of Hawaii's people are losing their jobs, their homes, and their livelihood.

"House Bill No. 3261, House Draft 1, seeks to correct these problems by teaming inventors and labor together in a collaborative partnership. The story would have unfolded differently if the patent owners placed the patents in the corporation and Del Monte only owned the license to use them in Hawaii. Del Monte could have left Hawaii this year, but their patents might have stayed here on Hawaii's shores to grow Hawaiian pineapple.

V. THE CORPORATION SUPPORTS INNOVATION IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

"Mr. Speaker, the final component of the House Bill No. 3261, House Draft 1, is public education. We have all stressed the need to provide opportunities in education to our young residents. The children of Hawaii are the inventors and the workers of tomorrow. The Ingenuity Corporation will promote innovation and technology in the classroom. This will ensure that Hawaii can continue to be a leader in innovation and a champion of intellectual property in the United States.

"For these reasons, I urge my esteemed colleagues to support this measure. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 3261, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO INGENUITY CORPORATION CHARTER," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 921-06) recommending that H.B. No. 2182, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2182, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, I'm rising to speak in support of the Relating to Education bill. Thank you. It's talking about the Fix Hawaii School Act which I hope actually that if we pass this with the appropriate money that it will at least take a step forward on that.

"I particularly would like to thank the Chair of the Education Committee for integrating into the bill my idea that I've been working on for about 3 years and that you'll find on page 4 of the bill section 10. It's the new school construction special fund.

"I worked with the Administration and with the Department of Education Superintendent to find a way that we could mirror what the military is doing to develop the new housing out at Pearl Harbor. And it's a public-private partnership where the private company develops the housing, leases it back to the military with an income stream from the rents from the projects, and at the end of a certain period of time the military owns the units.

"We worked on the same kind of a process here and I was delighted to find that provision put into the bill by the Chair of Education on page 4. So it's really a 'win-win' situation. If we look at some of our schools that are really not even viable to be repaired, but which would be better off to have them be demolished and rebuilt. We could do it with the same kind of thing that Actus Lend Lease is doing now with the military at Pearl Harbor.

"We could enter into a private-public partnership where the developer can build a real state-of-the-art school, wired, hi-fi wired and really 'up to snuff' with wonderful facilities. The Department of Education would lease the school back and at the end of a certain term whether it's 45 years or 50 years, the Department would own that school.

"The funding source is put within the bill and I really encourage my colleagues to look at that. It's been well thought out, all the players bought into the idea, and I think we should move ahead and I strongly support that specific provision. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I rise in support with some reservations. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. There are two parts, well actually there's more than two parts to this bill, but two parts that I'd like to speak on. We do appropriate money for repair and maintenance, and CIP and that part I can agree on.

"The part that I would like to see addressed though that is not addressed in this bill is just basically how we fix our schools. Right now we have priority lists and everything that comes down from detailed meetings that happen at the school level. And for some reason or another, the schools at times don't understand how that priority list comes down, or how that priority list ends up and how those priorities are made on a statewide level.

"It's been kind of confusing because I initially thought it was just what they called 'pork' projects on the Legislatures part, but from my understanding and talking to some of the schools, it happens at every level. So I think what we should be doing is aside from appropriating money, we should be looking at different ways to improve this system so that we are taking care of the buildings that are either dilapidated or the CIP projects that are really needed in our schools. And only through a better process I think that we would be able to have projects that are needed and requested at the school level.

"The other thing that I'd like to talk about is our Representative from Kailua's idea which I think is a very good one. However the only thing that I'd like to say about that is that if you are going to have this opportunity as it states in this bill, that you have that opportunity extended equally to the University of Hawaii.

"I believe last year when a similar measure went to the University of Hawaii, we capped them at a very small amount. And correct me if I'm wrong, but I think it was like $3 million. In this case it looks like we are willing to do this for the DOE without any cap. What this means is even though it has a funding mechanism in there, that it could possibly say if they do want to overextend, and they don't have the money to fund it, that it would still obligate us as a Legislature or obligate us as a State to make sure those things are funded.

"So as we move forward on this bill I appreciate this. I do want to basically give credit where credit is due and this is something that we definitely need.

"One other side moments since you know I'm a big advocate of Charter Schools and one of the main reasons why we're pushing this through is because we want to see the environment for schools be upgraded and be a good environment for learning. And I just want to let you know that this year I'm really glad that we're moving at least it seems like we're moving for Charter School facilities money. And Charter Schools if there's any type of school or education environment that had been struggling right now, it would be the Charter Schools.

"Some of these Charter Schools according to an article that was written within the last two weeks I believe reported that we've seen Charter Schools operating on buses, in chicken coop houses, in tents, in dilapidated buildings, and I'm really glad that we are taking this step to look at Charter Schools funding facilities. Thank you."

Representative Takumi rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. In support of the measure. At the risk of being accused of being part of a mutual admiration society, I would like to recognize Representative from Kailua for that idea about the certificates of participation. It's a great idea. I would think by putting it into this bill and having it move along is something that we should fully support. It just goes to show you that a good idea, is a good idea, is a good idea.

"And to respond to the Minority Leader's comments, this bill was in the intent to deal with the whole issue of privatization of CIP, but in fact in Act 51 as we all know, Mr. Speaker embedded in that Act was a delinking of certain agencies from the Executive branch to the Department of Education that included the Department of Accounting and General Services. When DAGS delinked, it gave the Department far more control, autonomy, and authority over their repair, maintenance, and CIP destiny. We really believe that by doing this, they will be able to get a far better handle on prioritizing what should be done and in what order. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising in support with some reservations. I am concerned that by allowing the DOE to enter into financing agreements without the approval of the Director of Finance, the DOE would be allowed to incur debt that would become a State obligation without regard to the statewide budget.

"Rating agencies who review the rate, the State's debt taken into consideration, the amount of debt incurred under such financing agreements and the review and management of such financing agreements. This proposal would not be viewed favorably by the rating agencies and then it could negatively impact the State's credit rating, so that's a concern with the way the bill is right now. Thank you."

Representative Stevens rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I reluctantly rise in opposition to this measure. Thank you. It's very, very important to fix Hawaii's schools, but I have concerns about the provision in this measure where it allows the DOE to enter into financial agreements without the approval of Director of Finance.

"Budget and Finance is responsible for preparing and executing the statewide budget and this proposal would allow the DOE to incur debt that is not incorporated in our budget and would possibly negatively affect and impact the State's budget.

"I'd like to give credit to the Chair of the Education Committee for coming up with this idea and it's novel to fix the schools, but I just don't believe that the DOE should be allowed to enter into any financing arrangements without Budget and Finance being involved. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support. I think that this bill is giving the flexibility needed to improve the schools and I agree with the Chair of Education; a good idea, is a good idea. However, I do want to mention that I think when we give the DOE their resources, we want to make sure there's adequate resources and then again there's responsibility. So written comments, Mr. Speaker," and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of this measure which will authorize the Department of Education to independently issue "Certificates of Participation" (COPS) when initiating the construction of new schools and establish a special fund from which lease back payments may be made to the developer. This legislation will provide alternative funding sources to supplement the traditional direct appropriation model and places resources directly where it is needed and allows the Department of Education to administer funds to improve school conditions at not only at the primary and secondary levels, but in Hawaii's post-secondary school educational system, as well.

"This measure represents one of the greatest investments we can make as a State – our youth. Clean, safe, secure, and well-maintained environments are essential to maximizing students' learning capacity. It is important that we make investments in our education facilities."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2182, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Stevens voting no.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 922-06) recommending that H.B. No. 2833, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2833, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Moses rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm in support of this idea, but I have some I think very significant comments to make. Well, let's make it reservations then. And this is in my district and I'm a co-sponsor of the measure, okay. I just want to say, we know that offenders receive programs and employment opportunities in prison prior to being released, if they do, but they have a much better chance, a greater opportunity to succeed. This is right out of the Section 1 of the measure.

"Inmates use these opportunities whether they're classified at the minimum or community custody level, are more likely to successfully return to society rather than going back to prison. These are inmates that have demonstrated that they can function with minimal supervision in a correctional setting or in the community under direct supervision. Community custody inmates are eligible to participate in community release programs such as work furlough, extended furlough, or residential transitional living centers.

"Now I signed this measure because I don't think we do this. I don't think we're currently doing this, if we're doing it, we're not doing it near enough. And we should be doing this because prisoners when they get released, most of them, and they come back to us. So what are we going to do about them? So this measure provides that the Department of Public Safety is authorized to plan to build minimum-security housing. No mention of a prison. Minimum-security housing of the type that can be erected in a fairly short amount of time.

"If you look out at Kalaeloa right now in front of Barbers Point you see giant white structures out there that look like igloos. That's this military temporary housing because it can be erected and taken down. And so the DPS is authorized to build these structures on a portion of Kalaeloa under the jurisdiction of the Hawaii Community Development Authority.

"Now HCDA doesn't own any of that land, but they do have some under their purview because they're looking at redevelopment. Department of Public Safety and HCDA shall explore the feasibility of planning, designing, and constructing a suitable minimum-security facility at Kalaeloa site using prefabricated and quick-build design housing programs.

"So I want to make the point, first of all this is housing not a prison. I may change my mind if I see a bunch of constituted wire, razor wire, barb wire, pits and trenches, rock walls, things like that. That's not what this is envisioned to be. I don't know that we've already done this before. This is maybe something of a new idea. It's something that may work and we should investigate it.

"And two, there must be community input and the Chairman of the Committee report. So we have to go to the community ask them, talk about it with them, get their input before we do anything. I liked to point that already out there at Kalaeloa we have Youth Challenge, and I think by now all of you know what Youth Challenge is. These are the kids that were going to go to prison and the judge said, 'You got one more chance.' Or maybe they even decided when they were dropping out of school that they ought to do something to get their lives back together. So these kids are one step removed. Would have been prisoners, but they're getting all this rehab and training and many of them, in fact they all will end up graduating unless they drop out. And many of them will end up with scholarships and go on to college or other careers.

"Also out there at Kalaeloa we already have the VA homeless. And they're getting rehabilitated and trained. Again if they don't want to participate they can drop out. Nobody's standing there with a gun to their head. And if they successfully stay with the program, they'll end up beneficial to the society. They end up taking care of themselves. So I think that's what we're looking at trying to do here. I don't know if it will work. I don't know if it'll fit into HCDA's plan, but I think it's worth looking into. Thank you."

Representative Chong rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support. Thank you."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I'm rising in strong support of this measure. Right now we have 2,459 inmates who qualify for reintegration programs through educational opportunities, substance abuse treatment, vocational training, employment opportunities, and workline projects in the community.

"As the bill says, we have Waiawa where prisoners are getting ready to be released. Also Kulani on the Big Island. I think this could be a real 'win-win'. I mean I think that there will have to be public hearings, but these folks are ready to leave prison, but they need to get into some kind of work furlough program.

"Kalaeloa since the military moved out, nobody's really been maintaining it. There is just scads of work to do there. The beaches are often littered, grass needs to be cut, all kinds of things and these are things that prisoners who are getting released to get out in the mainstream. They can get to work in worklines and feel like they're giving back. And there is just a number of people at Kalaeloa who see all this good work being done, everybody's going to feel good.

"The kinds of building that they're planning to erect are the types that our troops put up when they're in foreign countries or when there's any kind of catastrophe. I mean it's just a quick put up. It's not a big expensive thing. And HCDA is managing it. This may not be long term. I mean maybe we're going to make this a pilot, I don't know.

"But it's kind of exciting because we do have a problem. The Public Safety Department doesn't have enough room. And for prisoners who've been in prison for a long time, there is a lot of anxiety about getting back out there and worrying about failing and this is the step from the prison to the work furlough. And the more that they can feel good about what they're doing and get training, it's positive for all of us. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition of this matter. We in the Leeward side have been very helpful to the State. We house the dumps. We take the homeless. We take training facilities for the youth and now we're taking again inmates that are about to be released. And I agree with all the statements that have been said. I think the Leeward side has taken their share and I think it's about time that the other part of the Island should have theirs too.

"There's a lot of places here that could benefit from the services of these inmates that are about to come out. Not to mention that in Waipahu, we house halfway houses and care homes. And I think it's about time that our prisons should be located on the other islands or elsewhere besides the Leeward side. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Pine rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Cabanilla be entered in the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Sonson rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Vice Speaker. Strong support. This is a great idea. This will provide an alternative placement for those who are currently living in Waipahu in a place called 'Alcatraz.'

"What we normally do now, Mr. Speaker, is that because there is no room in the prisons, these individuals who qualify, that will be housed in facilities such as described in this bill, are housed in alternatives, transitional housing. And a lot of them are actually in Alcatraz, Waipahu. I think that's the district that belongs to the speaker who is opposing this bill. I hope that she would reconsider because this is such a great idea. It will provide vocational training, it will provide substance abuse and drug treatments. And we can prepare these individuals and integrate them into the community. Ease them into the community instead of get them running out there, right in my neighborhood, your neighborhood and say, 'You know what? It's up to you. Fend for yourself.'

"This is taking responsibility. This is not only punishing them for stepping on cabbages and destroying farm equipment and stuff, but afterwards you rehabilitate them and make sure that before they go back into a community they are ready to take on jobs that's beneficial for themselves, their families, and of course it will keep them out of trouble. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Karamatsu rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Chong be entered in the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

At 3:53 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills, passed Third Reading:

H.B. No. 3202, HD 1	H.B. No. 3261, HD 1
H.B. No. 3222, HD 2	H.B. No. 2182, HD 1
H.B. No. 2204, HD 2	H.B. No. 2833, HD 2
H.B. No. 2440, HD 2

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 923-06) recommending that H.B. No. 3080, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 3080, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Karamatsu rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Karamatsu's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in support. This bill is a collaborative refinement by State and county film offices, industry and union representatives of a similar bill that stalled in Conference during the 2005 Legislative Session. It offers significant, but reasonable incentives to stimulate the film and television industry, which experienced a $64 million drop in expenditures between 2004 and 2005.

"The bill provides a tax credit amounting to 15 percent of qualified production costs incurred on Oahu, and 20 percent on Neighbor Islands, with a cap of $8 million per production. According to film industry officials, this would make Hawaii competitive with other jurisdictions.

"The Department of Taxation submitted testimony in strong support of the measure, stating that the tax credit allows Hawaii to compete in the worldwide marketplace of filming locations and that it is budget neutral, meaning that the tax credit would not impact the state's current expenditures.

"The success of "LOST" in winning the Emmy, Golden Globe, and Screen Actors Guild Awards has brought positive attention to the film industry in Hawaii. If we can seize the moment and compete with other localities around the world, we will generate revenue and create jobs for our community."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 3080, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO DIGITAL MEDIA," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Tsuji being excused.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 924-06) recommending that H.B. No. 2746, HD 2, as amended in HD 3, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2746, HD 3, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising to speak against the bill accompanying Standing Committee Report No. 924. Thank you. Mr. Speaker, the bill will exempt aviation fuel from excise use and fuel taxes. This means that our two major airlines won't have to pay taxes on their fuel. It amounts to I believe it's approximately not sure the exact number of millions of dollars that they will be accredited with. $27 million that will be the tax loss to this State.

"I looked really hard on the bill, Mr. Speaker, to find a provision that say that if they get that tax credit they then reduce the inter-island fares proportionally. I couldn't find any such credit, any such provision. So what we're doing is handing off the airlines a big tax credit, and yet we aren't providing meaningful tax credits for our residents in this State.

"I also looked at the Order of the Day, Mr. Speaker, I didn't find any meaningful tax credits for our residents similar to this. So I would say that people that vote for this are voting for tax credits for big corporations, but they aren't voting for tax credits for our residents who are highly overtaxed. Thank you."

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I wish to speak in favor of this. This is for the local domestic airlines. The tax impact to the State of Hawaii will be approximately $3 million. What was reported in the newspaper as $10 million is incorrect. The Department of Taxation incorrectly computed the number. So I called the respective airlines and I double-checked again, and it's approximately $1.2 for Hawaiian Airlines, and approximately $1.5 for Aloha, and the balance will be from the other smaller domestic airlines. So the cost to the State will be approximately $3 million for the excise tax loss. And this will keep the airlines viable and provide for continual transport between the islands. Thank you very much."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2746, HD 3, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO AVIATION FUEL TAXES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 46 ayes to 4 noes, with Representatives Berg, Finnegan, Pine and Thielen voting no, and Representative Tsuji being excused.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 925-06) recommending that H.B. No. 2991, HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2991, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, this is one of those bills that I will ... I am in support for special purpose revenue bonds for low and moderate-income housing. This just falls into that category of other legislation that we're moving. It may actually increase the cost of projects for low and moderate-income housing and that's a concern. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2991, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SPECIAL PURPOSE REVENUE BONDS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Tsuji being excused.

Representative Lee rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in strong support and I'd like to submit written comments to the Journal," and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Lee's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to speak in favor of this measure.

"Our State already has laws against prostitution and other crimes, so why do we need an anti-trafficking law?

"According to the National Institute on State Policy on Trafficking of Women and Girls, "Until states enact comprehensive anti-trafficking laws, prosecutors use existing criminal statutes to prosecute traffickers for such crimes as: false imprisonment, kidnapping, rape and aggravated assault. But these laws are insufficient—and they do not criminalize all manifestations of exploitative trafficking into the United States and don't offer protection from prosecution for all trafficked women, girls and persons."

"Criminalizing human trafficking should bring State law into accord with the federal Trafficking Victims Protection Act of 2000, as reauthorized in 2003, and would enable local and State law enforcement to investigate and prosecute those crimes, working in partnership with federal law enforcement.

"Another aspect of trafficking is the regulation of 'international marriage brokers' that operate to bring mail order brides to our State. In 2003 our State became the second in the nation to pass such a law. Additionally, in 2004 Hawaii became the first state in the nation to regulate travel services that operate in the state to facilitate sex tourism.

"The provision of social services and victim assistance to trafficked persons is an important aspect of any trafficking legislation. The taskforce that is part of this bill will be charged with looking into this important part of the puzzle that is not addressed in the present draft.

"Not perfect legislation at this point, the passage of this bill out of the Judiciary Committee is a major milestone. It is hoped that the many important people in our community including police, prosecutors, immigrant services, public defenders, domestic violence coalitions and victim advocates will work together to determine the nature and extent of trafficking in our community, and make recommendations for legislative, policy and programmatic initiatives.

"Although most of what we read and hear concerns the horrors of trafficking of persons in other countries, the United States, and yes, Hawaii, are major 'destinations' for traffickers. We are obligated, therefore, to respond to this most appalling violation of the basic human rights of women and girls, men and boys.

"I urge my colleagues to support this measure. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2051, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PROTECTION FOR VICTIMS OF HUMAN TRAFFICKING," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Tsuji being excused.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 927-06) recommending that H.B. No. 2655, HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2655, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of this measure. This important measure will enhance investigation process and improve upon the procedures associated with investigating vehicular and pedestrian fatalities on our roads.

"To put it simply, Mr. Speaker, this bill will bring the latest technology directly to the accident scene for the purpose of documenting and recording circumstances surrounding the accident, as well as fund additional training for police officers to work this latest technology.

"Equipment such as computer-aided drawing software and digital cameras, together with survey systems and printers can be transported directly to the accident scene to expedite this investigation. This bill will open up our roads quicker, and without compromising the investigation process. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2655, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MOTOR VEHICLE ACCIDENT INVESTIGATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Tsuji being excused.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 928-06) recommending that H.B. No. 3129, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 3129, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, just in strong support and permission to insert written comments," and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of H.B. 3129. This measure provides an income tax credit to individuals and employers for purchasing a long-term care insurance program.

"Analyzing today's demographics clearly displays a massive population which lacks sufficient healthcare, or the funding to acquire it. If no assertive action is taken now, monumental and unsolvable future healthcare problems will continue to plague and burden our State. Institutionalized long-term care averages around $75,000 a year. Consequently, most care is financed through government funding. Medicaid carries most of burden. However, due to Medicaid's current and future financial situation, alternative avenues need to be investigated if the program is to survive. H.B. 3129 eases pressure on government institutions in providing long term care by encouraging individuals to purchase long-term care insurance. The bill also supports employers who purchase long-term care insurance for their employees.

"A tax credit helps lower the cost of purchasing long-term care policies. The greater the tax credit, the more incentive individuals or employers will have in taking responsibility and securing their future needs.

"H.B. 3129 is a catalyst which encourages individuals to take appropriate steps in providing for their loved ones future needs through long-term care coverage."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am in strong support of this measure."

Representative Finnegan rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"This bill provides a tax credit to individual taxpayers and employers for premiums paid for long-term care insurance contracts and requires the Department of Taxation in cooperation with the Department of Commerce and Consumer Affairs to submit a report to the Legislature.

"As written, the bill will only help those individuals who can afford to pay the premiums and can wait a year to get only a percentage of the cost back at the rate of about 6 % to 10%. It is somewhat questionable that employers who are now decreasing."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 3129, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO LONG-TERM CARE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Tsuji being excused.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 929-06) recommending that H.B. No. 3133, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

No. 3133, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO FEDERALLY QUALIFIED HEALTH CENTERS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Tsuji being excused.

H.B. No. 2051, HD 1

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2043, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Shimabukuro rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in strong support with written comments," and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Shimabukuro's written remarks are as follows:

"Speaker Say and House Colleagues, I submit these comments in support of House Bill 2043, Relating to Medicaid, which dramatically reduces the co-payments that the elderly, disabled, and indigent have to pay in the Medicaid and QUEST health insurance programs.

"Under the current system, the elderly and disabled must impoverish themselves in order to qualify for Medicaid. For example, in my work at the Legal Aid Society of Hawaii, it is very common to see the following scenario: A person is disabled and must depend on welfare to survive. The welfare office requires them to apply for federal Social Security benefits. The person applies and is approved. Sadly, if their Social Security benefits are just $21 more than the Federal poverty level, which is about $1000 per month for one person, they lose eligibility for Medicaid health insurance.

"The only option the Medicaid program offers to a person in this situation is the "Cost Share" option. Under the cost share, or "Spend Down" program, the person must pay a co-payment equal to the difference between their monthly income and the current welfare assistance amount, which is $418 for one person. This means that if your income is $1050 per month, you have to spend over $600 every month on medical expenses before you can qualify for Medicaid.

"Often my clients do not have over $600 worth of medical expenses per month, or they lack the capacity to complete the cumbersome process of gathering $600 worth of receipts, submitting them to DHS, and completing the other necessary paperwork every single month. In these situations, my client tragically loses their medical coverage.

"Losing Medicaid when you are elderly or disabled is beyond traumatic. Can you imagine the prospect of not having coverage for the medications and healthcare that are essential to your survival?

"Although the person may be eligible for Medicare health insurance through the Social Security Administration, they must wait over two years to qualify. Further, even if you are lucky enough to qualify for Medicare, the sad fact is that Medicare does not cover prescription drugs, dental, or nursing home care.

"So, our government in many ways has failed the most vulnerable in our society. The elderly and disabled are so often left in the horrible situation I just described.

"This bill is strongly supported by AARP, the Legal Aid Society of Hawaii, the Welfare And Employment Rights Coalition, and the thousands of elderly and disabled who do not have a voice. DHS estimates this bill will cost only about $800,000. It is a very small price to pay to provide hope to those among us who absolutely need it most. I urge all of my colleagues to support this crucial measure."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2043, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MEDICAID," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 931-06) recommending that H.B. No. 2551, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative M. Oshiro, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2551, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 932-06) recommending that H.B. No. 2743, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2743, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Berg rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Vice Speaker. I rise in support of this and also reassure all those who might be listening that perhaps we can look at finding criteria to enable schools to stay open in creative ways, rather than to create criteria that will categorically close them if they don't meet certain qualifications. So I appreciate working on this further. Thank you."

Representative Herkes rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support. I have some unique grounds on the Big Island. I have 40 miles distance between K-6 schools so a kindergarten student in many cases has to travel 20 miles to go to school, and that's not realistic or acceptable in this State. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2743, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 933-06) recommending that H.B. No. 1866, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1866, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Moses rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support with reservations. Last year via Act 137, the sunset date was extended another year. And originally that legislation repealed the sunset date and gave the DOE and UH permanent autonomous authority.

"It was later amended by the Senate who felt that further examination of the UH and DOE authority is needed. So it was best to extend the sunset date one year at a time. According to some, the bill's scope is extremely broad and provides no detailed justification of the changes it proposes now.

"DAGS testified that they're concerned about a sunset of the law's current provision can be addressed by extending the sunset date rather than repealing it all together. Thank you."

Representative Takumi rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, if anyone knows the history of this measure ... Yes, Mr. Speaker, in support. And this bill was passed in 1986. It's been 20 years. In my opinion, anytime we have a bill and we put a sunset in it and then we take a look at it when that sunset comes up, we make a decision what to do.

"We did that with this measure. We extended the sunset in 1987 and 88 and 93 and 97, 98 and 05. I think there comes a point either you repeal the sunset or you just repeal the law. I believe we should repeal the sunset. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1866, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 934-06) recommending that H.B. No. 2212, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2212, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Sonson rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much. In support. I'd like to take this opportunity to say something regarding the discipline of children who violate the substance abuse rules of the schools. What's been happening, according to children that came forward and said that should be changed. They said the current policy allows a school to disallow these students to come back to school. They will suspend them for a period of time. In which case according to the children said it's great because they don't have to come to school.

"Now these are kids who are supposed to be our responsibility to educate them. They have been found to have issues and problems with substance abuse, etc. And what happens is that they're actually taking a punishment and looking at it in a different way. This is like, this is great. I'll go to the mall. I'll go and spend more time with my friends, etc. and not go to school.

"Well they had suggested that the DOE should provide in-school suspension. What that actually means is that, they're suspended from regular activities, however, we put them some place in school. I don't know if that's possible at this point, but we should take a look at it anyway to incorporate treatment suspension and still have them present in school, perhaps doing alternative school work instead of being out there in the community where they can very well get into further trouble and end up at HYCF. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2212, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SUBSTANCE ABUSE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 935-06) recommending that H.B. No. 2130, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2130, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Stevens rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'd just like to note my reservations on this measure. I am in support of maritime lands. However, I just believe this bill will create an unnecessary extra layer of oversight. And it might tie the hands of Department of Transportation Harbors Division from entering into leases, or short-term leases, or other operations that might be able to enhance the maritime industry and bring much needed revenue into the program. Thank you."

Representative Harbin rose in support of the measure with reservations, and asked that the remarks of Representative Stevens be entered in the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Yamane rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Our illustrious Speaker Emeritus, Joe Souki, our Chair of Transportation, has brought to the forefront the issue of harbors. And so if you look at the current situation ... I'm standing in strong support. We have to think of this in mind. It's estimated that 98% of all our goods consumed in our State are brought through our harbors.

"This bill will establish a commission which will look into these upcoming concerns that are facing our State. It is projected that there will be an increase of 27% of volume by 2010, 66% by 2015, and 93% by 2020. Our harbors handle an average of 8,800 20-foot containers per terminal acre. We're reaching a crisis, Mr. Speaker.

"It is projected that currently there is $600 million in need and within the next four years, an additional $125 million. We need to make that commitment now. This bill will, yes, part of it will develop the commission designed to look at these needs. Also part of this commission will map out the important harbor lands so that it is used most effectively.

"In this book that was completed by the harbor users in February 21, 2006, there's a little statement in there on page 27 and it reads, 'Given the scarcity of port lands suitable for maritime use, it may be that the best long-term strategy is not diminish the available maritime land resource base, but to protect it and preserve it,' and that's what this bill does, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm going to be voting no on this measure. I think this just adds another layer of bureaucracy. I'm concerned about the broad powers being given to this commission without any real standards and criteria for identifying and designating both public and private important harbor lands.

"The bill suggests the commission will have the ability to identify and acquire private property the commission solely identifies as important harbor lands. The bill is silent on whether or not the acquisition will be by negotiation or eminent domain. If it was eminent domain, I don't think this commission will have the power to do that. So I think this bill needs a lot of work. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, please note my reservations based on some of conversation that we have had."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Moses rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2130, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HARBORS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes to 2 noes, with Representatives Meyer and Thielen voting no.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 936-06) recommending that H.B. No. 2444, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2444, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Moses rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. This measure says the DOD and DOT, and I guess anybody else that gets federal funds, has to ask the Legislature's permission to spend any of that money and what they can spend it on. And I'm concerned as are they, that it may compromise the safety and security of our facilities, and more importantly the public.

"We must understand this is an anti-public safety measure. So limiting the ability of them to spend funds in a timely manner, it will restrict their expending of funds received by the Department of Transportation Port Security Grant. Port Security Grant. And the Department of Health grants from the Center for Disease Control. It's for avian flu. These Homeland Security grants do not pass through the DOD. The delay and limitation of federally mandated safety and security improvements for our transportation facilities.

"I urge the Committee to consider the sensitivity of the Hawaii Honolulu Security Implementation Strategy. The document is considered for official use only. It addresses our capability to respond to potential terrorist threat. The point is, there is no need that is within this to try to take care of our vulnerabilities. If we go to the Legislature and say we're going to spend this money on these vulnerabilities, it's released to the public because anything released to the Legislature is a public document. Therefore all the terrorist out there or anybody trying to cause us harm knows what our vulnerabilities are. I think that we have serious concerns about this measure. Thank you."

Representative Chong rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of this measure. This is not an anti-public safety measure. This is a transparency measure. First of all to clarify in the House Committee on Finance, when we asked the people from the Department of Defense, if a report can be provided that would give the Legislature the ability to take a look at expenditures and where they went without compromising public safety or security concerns.

"Secondly, nowhere in this measure does it require legislative concurrence on the expenditure. All it asks is if we can get a report of what you spent and what are you going to plan to spend. It doesn't say that the Legislature has to appropriate, it doesn't say that the Legislature has to once it gets the report say, yes, you can spend the money. So I don't think it will impact timing either. I think this is something to foster transparency in the Homeland Security area. Thank you."

Representative Ito rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support. Mr. Speaker, this bill just requires the State to disclose a plan for Homeland Security. While it is important to ensure that Hawaii is safe from terrorists and threats of harm, the public should have a general idea of what the priorities are and how their taxpayer dollars are being spent.

"For example, Mr. Speaker, Hawaii, as my good friend from Mililani, the Representative mentioned, that 98% of the shipment is dependent on food and other goods and containers being shipped into Honolulu Harbor and Neighbor Island harbors. Protection of this transportation hub would be critical for homeland security.

"Furthermore our hospitals and other industrial manufacturers use nuclear materials that could be used to build nuclear weapons. We need to know if our Homeland Security plan addresses the safeguards of such materials. We need to know what concerns are being addressed. Thank you."

Representative Stevens rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition. I believe this bill is unneeded because the Department of Defense already submits a biannual report to the Department of Homeland Security and the Legislature has access to this report. I believe that is what we should look at and not require additional reporting. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure with reservations, and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. The proposed bill prohibits the State and counties from expending federal funds under the Homeland Security Grant Program unless the Department submits to the Legislature a detailed report on expenditures, funding strategies, target capabilities, and outcome.

"Allowing the public to know how their tax dollars contribute to homeland security may provide stronger satisfaction with our State, however we do not want to adversely impact our capability to respond to potential terrorist attacks.

"While this measure seeks to help by monitoring State and county expenditure of federal funds, we have to be careful that this bill does not inhibit our ability to spend these funds in a timely manner and that submitting agendas and plans to the Legislature concerning communications interoperability, radiological monitoring, intelligence gathering, transportation security, and infrastructure protection does not compromise public safety.

"Fiscal responsibility is a good thing, but not if it exposes our weaknesses, allowing terrorists to succeed. It is prudent to consider the sensitivity of the Hawaii Homeland Security Implementation Strategy."

Representative Moses rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, just remaining in opposition. When a report is released to the Legislature it is public it is a public documents. It must be released to the public as soon as anybody asks for it. There are things that we do for our homeland security that cannot be released because it becomes public to the terrorist also. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition with comments. Thank you, I'm reading the bill right now and it basically says here that the State or county shall expend any ... Okay so it basically says that no State or county agency, commission, corporation, or department or any other authority of this State or county shall expend any federal funds, and then it says if you don't do this. And then it basically says, 'a detailed report on past, present, and planned future expenditures.'

"I mean I'm not sure, but when I take a look at this and say if they have a problem with, I don't know, finding records or whatever it might be, and it says a detailed report on past expenditures. To me that means that they cannot spend federal funds. And if I am reading that correctly then I continue to be in opposition. Thank you."

At 4:16 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills, passed Third Reading:

H.B. No. 2043, HD 2	H.B. No. 2212, HD 2
H.B. No. 2551, HD 2	H.B. No. 2130, HD 2
H.B. No. 2743, HD 2	H.B. No. 2444, HD 2
H.B. No. 1866, HD 1

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 937-06) recommending that H.B. No. 2966, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative M. Oshiro, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2966, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HOUSING," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 938-06) recommending that H.B. No. 2256, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2256, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Moses rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I stand with reservations. Good first step. I'm very concerned about identity theft, but this one is talking about phishing and spyware, and financial data that is used in the daily theft and financial fraud. It also helps to prevent the use of programs that will slow down the computer or render the computer inoperative. Good things. Interfere with those protection programs that cause a computer to become hijacked and will spam generating network.

"The problems that I see is, according to the Attorney General the terms 'concerned and authorized user' are unclear because these terms are used interchangeably even though there are definitions for each of them to make them distinct.

"Also there's confusing referrals to the new solution software and the copying of software interchangeably. Of course installing and copying software are two separate and distinct actions.

"The Attorney General has also has requested to meet with the author of the bill to work out the changes, but the changes have not yet been adopted.

"One last thing, according to the DCCA there are questions of practicality of implementing the bill's provisions given the fact that most spyware is written on a global network, and the criminal could be in India, China, or Bangladesh, or wherever and perhaps making enforcement the problem. Thank you."

Representative Sonson rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker, in strong support. I would like to ask that this three-page speech be entered into the Journal. Yes. I like to respond to the prior previous speaker on at least one of the things that he said regarding the Attorney General.

"The Attorney General did meet with the originator of this bill, however because there was no time because of our deadlines, for the Attorney General to come up with an acceptable, I guess the acceptable language that would address their concern, they actually requested that we should go ahead and proceed with this bill and push it through.

"They like it, they want it. It's just that of course they want it perfected, and I agree with them that we should proceed that way. It has a July 1, 2020 defective date so we can work on it. Thank you."

Representative Sonson's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of Standing Committee Report 938-06, for House Bill No. 2256, Relating to Consumer Protection. This measure has come a long way in a short time towards creating a viable, working defense against cyber-threats such as viruses, 'Trojan horse' software, spyware, and other forms of malicious software infecting the computer systems of the State of Hawaii.

"Mr. Speaker, each and every single one of us standing on this floor took an oath. We swore before Almighty God Himself to support and defend the Constitution and laws of the United States of America and laws of the State of Hawaii, and that we would faithfully discharge our duties to the best of our abilities. We have an obligation to remember this oath in considering House Bill No. 2256, a bill which aims to protect our State against harm, even if it comes in the form of an electronic threat.

"I am captivated by the enormity of opportunity that history has handed us in giving us the ability to pass Hawaii's first ever anti-spyware law. It is on an occasion such as this that I am reminded of the words of the late President John F. Kennedy on his inaugural address who said, 'Let the word go forth from this time and place, to friend and foe alike, that the torch has been passed to a new generation of Americans – born in this century, tempered by war, disciplined by a hard and bitter peace, proud of our ancient heritage, and unwilling to witness or permit the slow undoing of those human rights to which this nation has always been committed, and to which we are committed today at home and around the world. Let every nation know, whether it wishes us well or ill, that we shall pay any price, bear any burden, meet any hardship, support any friend, oppose any foe, to assure the survival and the success of liberty.'

"House Bill No. 2256 is a bill whose spirit is worthy of comparison to such epic words as those. It is like unto a sentry standing guard at the gates of this State, boldly declaring to the world that we believe in protecting our citizens from all enemies, foreign and domestic, physical and digital. It is a reminder to all of us that in the Twenty-First Century, freedom means more than just guarding borders, or patrolling waterways, or even monitoring airspaces: it means keeping the Internet safe and the flow of our data protected.

"I have a son and a daughter. As Americans and more than that, as human beings, I hold these truths to be self-evident, that my son and daughter, as well as all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. I want them to grow up in a State where they are free from harm over the Internet. I want them to be able to pursue life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness without fear, because that is what the greatest freedom of all is: the ability to be free from fear. And that, Mr. Speaker, is what House Bill No. 2256 is designed to do: free our people from fear.

"Some people might ask, 'Representative Sonson, why would you care about Internet threats? What's the purpose of making a law to protect us against viruses and such?' Don't you know that hackers will always find a way to inflict harm, and that there will never be a clean Internet?"

"I'll tell you why I introduced this bill. I introduced this bill because, quite simply Mr. Speaker, I care. I care, and I am unwilling to allow our people to be harmed and misused simply because other people say that there is no way to stop that harm and misuse from taking place. We need House Bill No. 2256 to be enacted into law. We need to codify the fact that the Internet is a dangerous place to be, and danger always demands defenses.

"I'd like to share with you the story of a certain Daniel Paul de Gracia II, who in fact urged me to create Internet legislation on behalf of the people of Hawaii. In 2003, Daniel had received an e-mail from someone he trusted, and more than that, someone he loved very dearly by the name of Terie Ashom. He had been waiting for her to e-mail him for a very long time, and so, it was only logical for him to hastily open an e-mail that appeared to come from her when it arrived in his e-mail inbox. As it turned out, a virus had only hours earlier infected Terie's computer, taking control of it to turn it into a factory for sending hundreds of fake e-mails to people stored on her address book without her knowledge or permission. That same virus infected Daniel's computer, and used his computer to infect dozens of others in the span of just a few minutes from opening Terie's e-mail.

"Stories like these add real meaning to why we must make laws to protect our State against threats over the Internet. House Bill No. 2256 is the first step in that direction. It is a law that if enacted, will lead to other laws, forming the fabric of a safety net against digital harm. I now say to each and every single one of my colleagues regarding Internet legislation what Daniel said to me: 'Don't scuttle the Pacific.'

"House Bill No. 2256 has come a long way in a very short time. I hope that we will not allow our fears to dictate our future. The Senate companion of this bill SB 2869, was killed in Committee not because of a failure of democracy, but because of a failure of imagination. Fortunately, Mr. Speaker, this House has courageously brought House Bill 2256 one step closer to law. Let us hold the torch that has been passed to us, that bold, courageous, and new generation of Americans that we are, and let us place our hands to pass House Bill No. 2256.

"I urge my colleagues to support this measure and to vote in favor of House Bill No. 2256. We're going to do more than just write history by enacting this law; we're going to write the future.

"I thank you, Mr. Speaker, for this opportunity to speak in favor of such a worthy cause as this bill."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2256, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CONSUMER PROTECTION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

On motion by Representative M. Oshiro, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2606, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MOTOR VEHICLE INSURANCE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 940-06) recommending that H.B. No. 2863, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative M. Oshiro, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2863, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ESTABLISHMENT OF THE NATURAL ENERGY LABORATORY OF HAWAII AUTHORITY INNOVATION CORPORATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 941-06) recommending that H.B. No. 3056, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 3056, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Chong rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support. Thank you."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I also rise in strong support, but with some concerns. Thank you, Mr. Speaker, we have another Attorney General's opinion that we still haven't gotten the language right on this, and by this I mean the bill that is Relating to Kawai Nui Marsh and will determine which entity is responsible for which provisions of the maintenance of the marsh, and which entity, the State or the City owns which segments.

"We still have a five-foot gap that isn't clarified, and we still have concern that this provisions that says the State is under no requirement to maintain the flood control program, has been removed.

"Mr. Speaker, this has been an ongoing difficult situation. We really want to move ahead with the marsh restoration projects. We need to recognize the City and County as the housekeeper. The City and County should be doing the maintenance of this facility. They're equipped to do that. They have the person power, they have the equipment. This State needs to do the other restoration project. The wildlife section, which is the State's purview.

"The bill still is not properly drafted. I've given the copy of the Attorney General's opinion to the introducer of the legislation and also to my colleague from Waimanalo/Lanikai because we all three are very interested in making sure this bill goes through, but that it goes through correctly. My hope is that the Senate side can correct it, and that a corrected version can come back which we can then adopt. Thank you.

"Excuse me, Mr. Speaker. I'm sorry, but may I request that the brief Attorney General's opinion be placed into the Journal. It's only double spaced, two pages."

The Chair responded, stating:

"Representative, I think you made reference to it so ..."

Representative Thielen: "No, I didn't give you the language and the concerns that are in this. If you want me to I'll read it now, but I would rather have it be in the Journal so people can see the exact wording.

At 4:22 o'clock p.m., the Chair declared a recess, subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 4:24 o'clock p.m.

Representative Thielen rose to continue, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I just briefly will read a section of the memorandum from the Deputy Attorney General.

Although HD 2 retained the exclusion of the levee from the parcel of land to be transferred to the State, it did not correct the five-foot gap problem noted with HD 1. House Draft 1. HD 2 also amends the bill to include additional areas to be transferred that are described as "parcels owned by the City and County of Honolulu as part of the Oneawa Canal widening project." It is unclear from the draft which parcels are being referred to or where those parcels are located. HD 2 also removes the provision of Section 4, HD 1, that stated the State is under no requirement to maintain any flood control program relating to the Marsh.

"He concludes, 'In this regard, the draft is not free from doubt.'

"So, Mr. Speaker, there is work to be done and let's hope the Senate can do it. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 3056, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO KAWAI NUI MARSH," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 942-06) recommending that H.B. No. 3053, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative M. Oshiro, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 3053, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO RENEWABLE ENERGY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 943-06) recommending that H.B. No. 2175, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2175, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I appreciate the opportunity to speak in support of this bill, but to express major disappointment with it. A major disappointment. Thank you. I think 'major disappointment' is better than 'with reservations'.

"The bill is relating to energy and it was supposed to be really a very broad based, forward vision, energy plan for this State. It didn't end up that way. The bill has a couple of good things in it. It increases the renewable energy technology income tax credit for solar, thermal, wind power and photovoltaic energy systems. That's good. And it removes the tax credit sunset date and that's good. And then it authorizes a pilot project for schools. That's it. A pilot project to install photovoltaic systems at four schools. One on Oahu, one on the Big Island, one on Maui, one on Kauai.

"It promotes some green building practices, authorizes some general obligation bonds, and sets up a 'pay as you go' pilot project. This is supposed to be the Energy Self-Sufficiency Act of 2006.

"Now, Mr. Speaker, I would certainly think we could do better, and I certainly think we can be more visionary. I would certainly think that demonstration projects should not be used in lieu of meaningful reform.

"Mr. Speaker, you and the Members here know that we pay. Well first of all, we're the most oil dependent and energy vulnerable state in the nation. That we have the highest price of energy of all 50 states. We need integrated changes in this complex and interrelated energy field.

"Some of the things that are missing that would move us ahead, first and foremost is an energy cost adjustment clause. Mr. Speaker, I don't know if you know. When you look at your utility bill from Hawaiian Electric you see a fuel adjustment surcharge. It's about one third of your bill. Go look at your next utility bill. You will see you're getting zapped by Hawaiian Electric for the fuel adjustment surcharge.

"They don't care how much they pay for oil. They don't care how much they have to pay to bring it in here to provide the power for our islands because they put that surcharge directly through to you, and our consumers are paying one third, almost one third higher utility rates because of this surcharge.

"If we did something about this, and there was legislation that we had considered that did do it. We had it in our Energy and Environmental Protection Committee and it passed out. If we did something about that, and Hawaiian Electric could no longer pass through that fuel charge, Hawaiian Electric would be taking aggressive stances to bring forth renewable energy for the islands. If they had to suffer the price increase in fossil fuel, they would want to move away from fossil fuel.

"Mr. Speaker, I don't know if charts such as this one can be put into the Journal. You're shaking your head and you're saying no. In 1999, we barely paid anything to, why? In 1999 it was about standard. And then you can see the bars in this chart and how they're moving alarmingly upward to show you how much more that energy surcharge is because of the dependence on fossil fuel.

"No other state in the nation is using, like we are on this island, 93% of fossil fuel or coal to power the islands. No other state is doing that. They are just aghast at what we're allowing to happen here.

"You have to realize that one of the key things is Hawaiian Electric is a corporation with shareholders. It's in their best interest to provide the highest rate of return to the shareholders.

Representative Meyer rose to yield her time, and the Chair, "so ordered."

Representative Thielen continued, stating:

"Thank you so much. It's in Hawaiian Electric's best interest to provide, they must provide, the highest rate of return to their shareholders at the least risk. So what's the answer to them? They go ahead buy the fossil fuel, pass the charge on to you, you, you, everyone in this room and all of the consumers out there that are paying the highest utility rates in the nation.

"With this bill that we're considering before us, the bill in which I am so disappointed, doesn't do a thing to stop that. We don't have a provision in there saying that Hawaiian Electric is going to have to absorb that increased cost in fuel. If we had that, we would have meaningful progress in moving toward renewable energy projects here.

"We're also missing the Department of Business and Economic Development's inventory of State land and offshore areas for the citing of renewable energy projects. What would happen is they could develop subzones, they could streamline the permitting. We could get things on the move and get going.

"We're not being visionary with this bill. We're not being visionary at all. We're being pilot project like. Why are we moving to do that? Why are we not wanting to grab a hold of this and really move forward with a vision using our wind, using our ocean resources, using our solar. Why are we not doing that?

"It's also a difficulty that the general excise tax exemption for alcohol fuel blends will sunset shortly. It's not being extended in this provision, or in any provision that I'm aware of that's forward.

"Mr. Speaker, it's really sad to think that this is the best we can do and I think at the least, people will realize that if they try to go out and proclaim this as the Energy Self-Sufficiency Act of 2006, that they'll be laughed at because it's not. It's a big, big disappointment. Pilot project, but it's not getting us off that addiction to fossil fuel. Thank you."

Representative Morita rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, rise in support of this measure. I believe one of the best examples we as a state can set is an energy efficiency and conservation program for itself. Already this Body has seen emergency appropriations for the Department of Education in excess of $5 million for additional electricity cost, to meet their additional electricity cost.

"So I believe the best thing that we can do as a Body is set an example for State buildings and agencies and that's what this bill does.

"The second point that I like to make is there are certain things we can do and set in policy, but there are certain issues where it's not appropriate to be debated in this Body or mandated by this Body. For example, the fuel adjustment charge.

"Right now the utility, HECO is going for rate increases before the PUC and in that case, it will account for the increase cost of fuel. I believe one of the reasons why we're seeing this pass-through, this high pass-through, in our utility bills is because it's been a long time since a rate increase was sought before the utilities, and rightfully before the PUC.

"Again I want to emphasize there are items that are properly debated at the Legislature regarding policies, and before the regulatory agency, the PUC. It was clear in the Committee on Energy and Environmental Protection that the Governor did not want to usurp the PUC's authority through mandates.

"This was in the discussion regarding the public benefit fund. She made it clear she did not want to usurp authority in that arena. But I think this is just one bill that we are moving through. There are various vehicles that are being debated before both Bodies, and we do have a strong emphasis on energy policy this Session. Thank you."

At 4:37 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills, passed Third Reading:

H.B. No. 2966, HD 2	H.B. No. 3056, HD 2
H.B. No. 2256, HD 1	H.B. No. 3053, HD 1
H.B. No. 2606, HD 2	H.B. No. 2175, HD 2
H.B. No. 2863, HD 2

LATE INTRODUCTION

The following late introduction was made to the members of the House:

Representative Luke introduced her husband Mr. Mike Luke, and their son Logan Luke, and asked the Members to wave to them.

THIRD READING

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 944-06) recommending that H.B. No. 2181, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2181, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in I rise in favor of this measure, but I have some reservations. I think the reservations have to do more or less with the size of the appropriation. It's a $100 million, and it's a $100 million for the next 5 years. After that it's a half percent of the I think, the general revenues.

"It's an amazing amount of money just for high tech, although that's a very noble enterprise and I do believe we should appropriate some money for that cause. $100 million may appear more like tucking it away to evade the general fund spending ceiling, or tucking it away anyway so we cannot use it for other important needs.

"When we appropriate in the out years I wonder if it's appropriate because I don't think we could bind future Legislatures to specific appropriations. This particular body, the funds that we are creating will be attached to the Department of Budget and Finance. Traditionally we have had these high tech organizations or bodies attached to DBEDT, so this is a real departure. DBEDT is the department that has the expertise in high tech.

"I think $100 million should be spent where our priorities lay, and I think those priorities are in education and affordable housing and health programs and tax credits for our residents, and other issues that we are all interested in like long-term care.

"I would ask you to please maybe think in terms of paring down the amount as this bill advances to the end of Session. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose in support of the measure with reservations, and asked that the remarks of Representative Marumoto be entered in the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Karamatsu rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support. Mr. Speaker, this is a Majority Package bill that will take Hawaii's technology, our life science, and our renewable energy industries to the next level. Basically you're putting $100 million in this special fund to help with grants and also in investments.

"Right now Hawaii is in the beginning stages of developing these industries, and we don't have enough capital from the R&D, the research and development level to take it to the commercial level, which is the area we want to do so we can sell it to the world.

"Once we hit that level, we'll see more revenues being brought in to the State of Hawaii through sales, and also through those sales and also those businesses, you'll see more taxes coming into the State of Hawaii. So your ultimate goal is to create an industry to help also our existing industries, which are tourism, agricultural, military spending. When we hit that level, then you'll see new taxes being brought into the State of Hawaii. That's the ultimate goal. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I just want to support this with reservations. I have similar concerns as the Representative from Waialae, and that's all."

Representative Moses rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you support with reservations and I ask for the words of the Representative from Waialae be entered in the Journal as if my own.

"And just want to say we heard testimony in Finance that there's hundred of millions of dollars in venture capital out there, so the money is available. You might need some seed money here, but this is a lot of money. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure with reservations, and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of H.B. 2181 – Relating to Economic Development. We are seeing a wealth of research activity emanating in Hawaii, from Waimea on Kauai to Kaka'ako on Oahu. Most of these companies need additional funding to continue in their pursuit in new technological areas and remain in Hawaii. This legislation will assist researchers and R&D companies advance their science and their chances for successful commercialization of that research. It's important to assist small technology businesses to establish themselves in our state.

"Creating the Hawaii Innovations Fund will yield tremendous benefits to the State. H.B. 2181 will accelerate the continuing expansion of the technology sector in Hawaii, thus recruiting developing tech companies and capitol from outside Hawaii, creating more meaningful jobs, and increasing non-tourism tax revenues."

Representative Halford rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you. With reservations. I'd like to say that the State has, as far I know has not ever shown any genius in these kind of fiscal ventures. Perhaps more partnership and direct funding would be better."

Representative Karamatsu rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Karamatsu's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in support. This is a very historical bill that will enable Hawaii to have a diversified economy by supporting Hawaii-based businesses in the fields of technology, life sciences, and renewable energy. Currently, Hawaii is in the beginning stages of establishing a strong knowledge-based industry. Unlike other areas of the United States and world, Hawaii-based businesses in these fields lack the amount of capital investments needed to move them from product development to commercial success.

"This measure will play a huge role in solidifying a new economy in Hawaii based on technology, life sciences, and renewable energy by establishing $100,000,000 Hawaii innovations partnership special fund for the fiscal year 2006-2007 to invest in these entrepreneurial ventures through grants and capital investments. Thereafter, from 2007 to 2011, there will be an annual appropriation of one-half of one percent of the general revenues of the State into this fund."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2181, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Arakaki being excused.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 945-06) recommending that H.B. No. 3115, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 3115, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I'm rising in support with some reservations. I believe that our experiment with the gas cap has been a failure. DBEDT did a study and they had some of their partners come up with their best estimate. I think they found that from September when the gas cap started until January, consumers here in the State of Hawaii paid roughly $54 million for gasoline than they would have without the cap.

"This bill does call for repealing the cap, but not until '08 and suspending it starting in July of '07. But I have some problems with this all these requirements, additional requirements now that we're putting on the petroleum industry. We're asking them for information that we've not asked any other industry for. We're singling them out. I question whether that is constitutional.

"This bill has $2 million in it to pay for all this manager and extra people that we'll have to keep track of it. Like any business the petroleum business has proprietary information that they're not going to want to be made public. I don't know that we can keep it really confidential, so I think there are problems with this bill. I realize it's early in the process and I'm grateful that the bill does call for repeal. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Harbin rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I'm once again going to be that lone voice that is voting no. First of all I really wonder if the oil industry is a business. I have some other concepts of what they are.

"I think if we take a look at some of the graphs and some of the studies that were done and just shown I think in the Senate. I really want to first of all send my thank you to the Senate Consumer Protection Chair. He really took some time to look into what I think is some real historic understanding of what is the oil industry versus being an oil business.

"First of all I find it really unbelievable that the PUC did not use their responsibility to do the right thing for the people of Hawaii in setting the caps. We gave them the opportunity to do a job. They didn't do the job, and now we are folding under the pressure of their I think, incorrect implementation of the gas cap.

"I was quite proud to be a part of this Body that was so brave to be the first in the nation to pass a gas cap. It stumbled. They stumbled. We have stumbled, but we don't kill it. We fix it. How proud I was to have our Majority Leader standing up there when I first came into office, taking hits left and right because of the gas cap, but he took it. I think we need to continue to take it and we need to fix it.

"One of the things this gas cap did not do is to regulate and give oversight to diesel. If we were to stop and take a look at what's happening to diesel in Hawaii and the impact it's having on businesses right now in delivering foods and goods to our people, in delivering construction to the sites. Diesel has gone up higher than gas. We have the highest diesel prices in the nation. We are being raped. We need to stop this. We need to step back and do something with the gas cap, and maybe set the cap lower.

"We gave them the benefit of the doubt. They took it, they ran with it and they said, 'Ha ha to you in Hawaii.' We're going to make an example of you in the world and in the United States. Let us not do that. Let's not fade. Let's show them that we can do it. To protect our people and our future. Please don't just gut, cut and paste what's coming over here from the Senate. Let's take a look at it.

"I've been there. I've done that. I was the President of the Gas Dealer's Association for four years. I saw this confidential data. We are being given a bill of goods. Let's not do it. No."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in strong support. Just to respond to the previous speaker. I think comparing diesel to gasoline is like comparing apples to oranges. I will ask that my remarks be inserted into the Journal," and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Marumoto's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in favor of HB 3115, HD2, Standing Committee Report Number 945. This bill establishes a system for monitoring, analyzing, and reporting on the petroleum industry. More importantly, it suspends the gas cap as of the effective date of the Act and repeals the gas cap effective July 1, 2008. I have consistently opposed the gas cap and voted to delay implementation in 2004. I feel the gas cap has instituted a burden on Hawaii's citizens by driving up the price of gas even higher than it would have been without the cap law. We must repeal the gas cap as soon as possible. Monitoring the petroleum industry and instituting transparency is a better answer to our gas price problem."

Representative Moses rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, in strong support with some comments. Now there are several parts to the bill. One of the parts of course you heard is actually the repeal of the gas cap, but it doesn't happen for a while. In the meantime it suspends it, which is good. And I always voted against the gas cap so I will vote for this suspension and repeal.

"But there's another part that transfers the petroleum industry information reporting data functions to the PUC and that will disrupt the progress that DBEDT has made just 8 months after we told them to do it. So it's kind of backtracking. So I'm concerned about all those things lumped into one bill. Thank you."

Representative Sonson rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Harbin be entered in the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Morita rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. I just wanted to point out that the success of the gas cap was dependent on the implementation of the gas cap, and at this time especially with the Administration there's no political will to make it work. Thank you."

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker, I wish to speak very strongly in favor of this bill. First of all I think it has been proven along the way, very noted consultants, those that we have hired in the past. The Stillwater Associates spoke against it. Said it wasn't going to work.

"Most recently we had in the Star-Bulletin an expose again, saying there has been a loss of approximately $50 million, that's it not working. The price of oil is based on a global and not regional data. Right now the price of oil is about $62 a barrel. It doesn't matter whether it's in Singapore, or it's in New Orleans, or it is in California. It's $62 a barrel.

"Oil prices can be triggered by anything. By the market, by crisis. All these factors enter in. By having a cap it has no affect at all on this global oil prices.

"So, Mr. Speaker, I would prefer a complete repeal of it, but this bill provides for a suspension only. It provides for a transparency period and to work with the oil refinery. If the oil refineries are not cooperative and we cannot get the immediate information, the gas cap will still be alive, and then that time maybe if we wish, or I would hope we just repeal it. But we can then resurrect it and make the appropriate changes. But I am very sure that the State of Hawaii will find that during the suspension period, we will be saving on the price of gas and not be paying more. Thank you very much.

"I wish to thank the House Leadership for having the courage to make the change. I know it was very difficult, especially the Majority Leader who was in the forefront speaking for the House for the gas cap. He has the fortitude and the guts now to say, 'Let's try something else. Let's try a repeal.' Mr. Speaker, for someone who has the guts like that, I have plenty of aloha for them. So Members, thank you very much. I hope that you all support this bill."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, in support. I would like to adopt the words of the Speaker Emeritus, as well as just say that in my opinion, I do not think it is the implementation of the law, but the law itself."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 3115, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE PETROLEUM INDUSTRY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Harbin voting no, and Representative Arakaki being excused.

At 4:52 o'clock p.m., the Chair declared a recess, subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 5:03 o'clock p.m. with the Speaker presiding.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 946-06) recommending that H.B. No. 2555, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2555, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Stevens rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of this measure. Mr. Speaker, on behalf of many resident of Kakaako, I would just like to express my gratitude to the Chairs of the Water, Land, and Ocean Resources and Finance Committees for hearing this measure that's very important to the people of Kakaako. I would like to ask colleagues for their support. Thank you."

Representative Harbin rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in very strong support of this measure along with my neighbor Representative. The people of Kakaako, the grassroots, have worked very, very hard to bring this issue to the forefront at the Legislature. For a while there we thought we were going to get beaten by the timeline, but once again, what is right has prevailed. Thank you."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Excuse me, is this the Kakaako Bill? I think that for years, 30 years now the HCDA has been buying and selling lands. In support, yes, with reservations. They have been even condemning lands, realigning streets, selling property, parcels, working with easements, and I think that they should continue to be allowed to deal with property on the mauka side of Nimitz Highway.

"This bill really restricts their activity and cramps their style, so I would hope that we would give them a little more flexibility to do what is necessary to redevelop Kakaako. Thank you very much."

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker, I wish to speak for the bill with some reservations. One reservation I have on the bill is the prohibition of the selling of the land, fee simple. I believe that decision should be made with HCDA and not be made by law. HCDA should have the flexibility to determine whether they would want to sell the land by fee or by leasehold. Who knows what's going to be happening in the future and how this is going to be working out. I think it's too limiting for us to impose this on HCDA and put it into law. Thank you very much."

Representative Moses rose in support of the measure with reservations, and asked that the remarks of Representative Souki be entered in the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I too would like to support it with the same reservations as Speaker Emeritus had, and Mr. Speaker, if I may just add a word or two. There was a project that HCDA was moving ahead with and that involved the sale of a little remnant piece of land. A little roadway of some sort. I don't have the exact details before me, but it involved the Whole Foods project. Whole Foods is the incredibly wonderful market that is so sought after by states throughout the nation. They have fresh fruits, produce that they buy locally which means that our farmers would have an automatic outlet for the produce that they develop or that they grow.

"It's a wonderful operation and it's one that I'm afraid by passing this bill we may prevent HCDA from moving ahead with that. That's why sometimes with the best of intentions we can overkill. I would hate to stop the Whole Foods project from being able to come here. I think that our consumers would not be very happy with this, at least those that have had an opportunity to hear about that wonderful market, and would want that to be here in Kakaako.

"The bill has a ways to go and if there is a way to work with HCDA to make sure that the language gives them the leeway to move ahead with that project, I would feel much more comfortable. Thank you."

Representative Kahikina rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, in strong support. Thank you, Mr. Speaker, as we all know this is an attempt to try to address our housing and homeless crisis. Mr. Speaker, I'm very glad to hear the discussion on the Floor today and all the reservations that have been expressed. I just wanted to say that this Body should make the decision on all of the assets. And may I remind our Representatives in this House that we are limited in land. We're an island economy, and to hold the affordability of housing, and housing for our workforce, we're looking at not selling our State lands. I hope that you would at least be open minded to preserving the affordability and the housing stock as we go forward in negotiating this bill."

Representative Meyer rose in support of the measure with reservations, and asked that the remarks of Representative Souki be entered in the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Nishimoto rose in support of the measure with reservations, and asked that the remarks of Representative Souki be entered in the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Finnegan rose in support of the measure with reservations, and asked that the remarks of Representative Souki be entered in the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Pine rose in support of the measure with reservations, and asked that the remarks of Representative Souki be entered in the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure with reservations, and asked that the remarks of Representative Thielen be entered in the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2555, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HAWAII COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT AUTHORITY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Arakaki being excused.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 947-06) recommending that H.B. No. 1368, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1368, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Kanoho rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, in strong support. Mr. Speaker, this measure, I support strongly because it remedies a grave and very unfortunate situation. On July 9, 2003 the Third Circuit Court on the Big Island invalidated all approvals previously granted by the County of Hawaii to 1250 Oceanside Partners for its 700 plus lot residential resort, Hokuli'a Development at Hokukano, South Kona, Hawaii.

"The basis for the court's decision to halt all construction activity was that this project located on sloping, marginal agriculturally zoned lands should have been reclassified to urban. I have always and continue to agree that these lands should have been reclassified because I've always opposed nonagricultural uses on agriculturally classified lands.

"Yes, Hokuli'a land should have been reclassified not to urban, but to rural because in my opinion it does not have the urban density component. Mr. Speaker and Members, please consider these facts however.

"First, there are at least 123 residential subdivisions on agriculturally classified lands, which have been similarly approved as the Hokuli'a development. 31 of these have gone into existence after Hokuli'a was approved. Right or wrong, Hokuli'a is not an exception but represents the rule.

"The approval of residential subdivisions on ag lands has always been the accepted practice throughout the State of Hawaii including 21 subdivisions on the Big Island, 3 after Hokuli'a; 54 on Kauai, 7 after Hokulia; 43 on Maui, 19 after Hokuli'a; and 5 on Oahu, 2 after Hokuli'a.

"Most if not all should have been reclassified, but were not. The fact is that we, both the counties and the State have allowed and permitted widespread residential nonagricultural development on agriculturally classified lands. In the face of clearly established precedent, how can anyone rule that Hokuli'a, but 1 of 123, is illegal?"

"Hokuli'a was subjected to an intense five-year approval process from 1993 to 1998 requiring 32 public hearings. There was very little opposition, but the primary concern only towards the size of the development. The project was accordingly downsized from approximately 1,500 lots to slightly over 700.

"It is in September 2000, nearly two and a half years following its approval that runoff, following unearthing activity and heavy rains severely polluted the ocean at Hokuli'a. A couple of inadvertent disturbances of burial sites and incorrect boundary delineation of a sacred pool or hill by DLNR. Anger and challenges began to mount.

"It was only then that the land reclassification issue legally surfaced, apparently as a hammer with which to halt the project. Despite approvals received and that millions of dollars had already been expended. Incidentally the suit relative to the burial disturbances was dismissed by the same judge.

"Here's some other facts to ponder about."

Representative Yamane rose to yield his time, and the Chair, "so ordered."

Representative Kanoho continued, stating:

"Thank you, Representative. During the five-year period from project approval in April 1998 to September 2003 when the project was halted, over $300 million has been reportedly expended including the completion of an 18-hole golf course and clubhouse. Ground preparation and roadways were a significant part of these 700 plus lots ranging from one to three acres.

"As part of its April 1998 development agreement with Hawaii Country which permitted construction to commence, Hokuli'a almost finished the five mile, $55 million highway between the development and Keauhou. A 140-acre public beach park with access and parking valued at substantial amount and cost was also completed as part of the development agreement community benefits package. As was future employee housing and additional acreage for a Kona Senior Park.

"At the time that the project was halted 190 lots were sold in the $650,000 to $2.5 million range with at least one home under construction.

"In view of past precedent that we in fact both the County of Hawaii and the State of Hawaii allowed this project to proceed prompting the developer to expend hundreds of millions of dollars in the five year period, because of that it's appropriate that we pass this bill.

"This bill is a must also to address the liability to the County, and primarily to the State because the County of Hawaii has no money, and State is the deep pocket entity, because of the impending suits by the lot owners.

"Having said all that, it is without question that this bill has served the purpose of propelling all the parties involved the 10 opponents, 5 plaintiffs, and 5 defendants into action to settle this case. So much so that a motion was filed with the Supreme Court I believe this past Friday for a motion to remand the case back to the Circuit Court, and for a stay of proceedings.

"The motion also calls for vacating the final judgment, the previously rendered, dismissing the plaintiffs claim, dissolving the induction of the judgment which had been rendered, and to enter a fourth amended final judgment. The remanding of the case is necessary because it's been on appeal to the Supreme Court and the parties have appeared obviously before the Third Circuit to settle this case, but they cannot do so until the Supreme Court acts that motion.

"So having said that, why do we need this bill? We need this bill for two reasons. To provide the incentive for the parties to continue in towards a settlement, and secondly it only addresses what had been done. We need to move forward because this bill really provides for legalizing nonconforming dwellings on agricultural lots, but at least this bill has served a good purpose in arriving with what we feel is a certain settlement. Otherwise the parties involved jointly filing this motion before the Supreme Court would not have done so. So it looks like we'll have a good ending after all, but for all the reason cited, this bill is a very appropriate action to take. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The Chair then stated:

"Members, any further discussion. For those Members who have submitted their comments on Second Reading, the Chair will allow you at this point in time. If you are with reservations or in opposition. Is there anyone else who would like to submit written comments into the Journal?"

Representative Shimabukuro rose in opposition to the measure, and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Shimabukuro's written remarks are as follows:

"In opposition. As was stated by the Water Land Chair, all plaintiffs in the Hokulia lawsuit have agreed on a proposed settlement of this case. Therefore, this bill is unnecessary.

"It is not prudent to pass such sweeping legislation that would impact all existing agricultural subdivisions and prior land use law abuses.

"Illegally authorized subdivisions in the agricultural district should be placed in the rural district only on a case-by-case basis.

"The rural lands study and the important agricultural lands (IAL) process that we put in place last year should precede any attempt at grandfathering.

"A blanket grandfathering of agricultural subdivisions based on soil classification risks sweeping existing genuine farming areas into a residential category, circumventing the IAL process established last year.

"HB 1368, HD 2, not only grandfathers existing housing, but allows new housing if the lots are already in existence. This could literally change the landscape for tens of thousands of acres throughout Hawaii.

"Finally, grandfathering in existing illegal uses inappropriately rewards the counties and developers for violating the law, sending the wrong message to future developers and slighting those developers who played by the rules."

Representative Karamatsu rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Karamatsu's written remarks are as follows:

"I rise in support. Agricultural lands of all types were lumped together, ranging from prime agricultural land to land not suitable for agriculture. By 1976, the State classified agricultural land by soil types: A, B, C, D, E, and U. According to the Land Study Bureau, Class A lands are generally the best-suited and most productive for intensive agricultural use. Class B lands include areas that are, in general, definitely suited for intensive agricultural use. They are inferior to Class A lands for one or more reasons that may include crop productivity, less favorable rainfall or other climatic characteristics, steeper slopes, stonier, thinner, and more erosive soils. Class C lands of this classification have, in general, only fair to marginal suitability for production of intensive crops. They are inferior to Class B lands for essentially the same reasons as Class B lands are inferior to Class A areas. In spite of these limitations, some Class C tracts have been used for production of intensive crops. Class D and E lands are generally unsuited for intensive agriculture for one or more reasons that include infertility, stoniness, excessive or deficient rainfall, unfavorable temperatures, excessive cloudiness, erosiveness, and excessive slope. Finally, Class U lands are near-raw lands that are highly variable and among these areas are lava areas. These lands are stony with limited soil material, and erratic and choppy that discourages cultivation.

"The State identified agricultural land with A and B soils as prime agricultural land, thus identifying the land that Chapter 205 of the Hawaii Revised Statutes (HRS) intended to protect. For these lands, the State implemented restrictions contained in HRS §205-4.5(a), including that dwellings must qualify as "farm dwellings." In contrast, regarding C, D, E, and U agricultural lands or marginal agricultural lands, the State did not impose the same restrictions and allowed uses set forth in HRS §205-2(d). This section allows agricultural service and uses that support agricultural activities of the fee or leasehold owner of the property and accessory to agricultural activities, whether or not conducted on the same premises as the agricultural activities to which they are accessory, including but not limited to farm dwelling. Therefore, living dwellings are permissible and agricultural service and uses need only be accessory to agricultural activities. Further, the State gave the counties discretion to further define accessory agricultural uses on one-acre lots and to allow lot sizes of less than one acre if the counties find unreasonable economic hardship to the owner or lessee of the land that cannot otherwise be prevented or where land utilization is improved. As a result, counties have permitted the development of living dwellings on C, D, E, and U agricultural lands throughout the State.

"The controversy in legal interpretation is occurring today because the Land Use Commission placed uses permitted on A and B agricultural lands to C, D, E, and U agricultural lands. These rules conflicted with the statutes on what uses are permissible on A and B agricultural lands in comparison to uses permissible on C, D, E, and U agricultural lands.

"Currently, there is a case in the courts that could place thousands of single-family dwelling homes on C, D, E, and U agricultural lands in jeopardy and cost the counties millions of dollars should there be an unfavorable ruling. As a result, House Bill 1368 House Draft 1 intends to remove this legal cloud by permitting single-family dwellings on C, D, E, and U agricultural lands provided that not more than ten percent of the project area consists of soil classified as A or B. In the meantime, we must work on improvements to the statutes on agricultural lands to make it more clearly defined to avoid any future misinterpretation."

Representative Morita rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"In opposition. I would like to adopt the statements I made on Second Reading," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Berg rose in opposition to the measure, and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Berg's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in opposition to HB 1368, HD1.

"At a time when we face many long-term challenges – assuring the educational futures of our children, growing our economy to maintain our prosperity, providing housing, health care, and other most basic needs of all our people, and developing new approaches to sustainability – I regret that we are forced to focus our attention today on the past illegal actions a developer speculating that 1,500 acres of agricultural soil can be turned into a hugely profitable tropical fantasy to be marketed to mainland millionaires who already own multiple homes in other parts of the world.

"In my view, Mr. Speaker, this bill should not be before us today. This bill would retroactively authorize a development that has violated existing State laws established to preserve agricultural lands at a time when agricultural lifestyles and traditions are under sustained assault by relentless real estate speculation and development.

"This bill is special interest legislation.

"Some say this bill is not about Hokulia, but about the thousands of other residences also approved, perhaps under questionable circumstances, in agricultural districts. But the fact is that no one has challenged those other subdivisions and the opportunity for timely challenges is long since past. It is simply a scare tactic for development proponents to say that all other subdivisions on agricultural land are necessarily at risk.

"Others say it is not about Hokulia, but about traffic and the Mamalahoa bypass highway promised by the developers. While I certainly sympathize with the frustration caused by the pressures of past developments, it is ultimately unwise to allow statewide policies on such important matters to be shaped by the unusual circumstances of a situation like Hokulia.

Finally, there is no reason for the unusual haste with which this HD1 is being pushed forward. The Hokulia case is on appeal to the Hawaii Supreme Court, and the court's pending decision will tell us whether there are in fact legal ambiguities that need to be eliminated through further legislation. We should let the legal process take its course. Once the Supreme Court has ruled there will be ample time to address any outstanding issues with the care and thoroughness the public deserves.

"For these reasons, Mr. Speaker, please record my vote in strong opposition to HB 1368, HD1."

Representative Luke rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative M. Oshiro rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative M. Oshiro requested that his written remarks submitted on February 17, 2006 for Standing Committee Report No. 630-06 and H.B. No. 1368, HD 1, on Second Reading be inserted by reference for Third Reading.

Representative B. Oshiro rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask for a ruling on a potential conflict of interest, similar to what I raised on Second Reading. I work for a law firm that is involved ongoing litigation with the Hokulia," and the Chair ruled, "you are excused."

Representative Caldwell rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, a potential conflict also. The law firm of which I am a partner represents the County in this lawsuit that's driving this settlement," and the Chair ruled, "you are excused."

Representative Lee rose in support of the measure with reservations, and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Lee's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations.

"HB 1368 HD2 allows agricultural areas to be converted to non-agricultural uses. I am voting with reservations at this time because it is not clear to me that the bill before us is in the best public interest, yet the testimony shows much support for the bill. The newspapers have reported that a settlement is close and that this legislation has forced the issue. The bill should go forward for discussion; however, I would like to quote a statement from the late Speaker Richard Kawakami:

"Today, we have agricultural subdivisions within agricultural districts, which can only be viewed as subterfuge of the spirit and intent of our land-use laws ... In practice, these agricultural subdivisions are not only circumventing county zoning provisions but are being offered at prices very few can afford and becoming, in fact, agricultural estates."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I'm still opposed to this bill and Mr. Speaker, a couple of new things that I would like to state. New concerns.

"The bill that's before us today would legalize the construction of single-family dwellings on lots that exist on the effective date of this Act. That's really broad, Mr. Speaker. I mean, this is in addition to the Hokuia land fix. But the it would mean that if the lots were already in existence, then they could be used for residential purposes rather than agricultural purposes.

"I thought that this was something that we wanted the counties to look at, and the counties to look at rural classification, and whether certain lots should remain rural rather than residential. Or whether certain lots should remain in the agricultural district. This bill really takes away that ability because it's a grand slam and it just automatically says, 'You guys are all residential now even if the lot has been developed.'

"You know how I feel about giving the Hokuia the go ahead. I think the developers were scofflaws, and I think that the developers should have to go through the court process to conclude that. I don't believe that we should fix the situation for them.

"It's such a message, Mr. Speaker, to developers that don't abide by our land use law. It's just, 'Hey, if you go persevere and then you run to the Capitol and say, 'C'mon and help us.' Then you can go ahead and violate the law and the Legislature will bail you out. I think the bill deserves to be defeated."

Representative Ching rose in opposition to the measure, and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to H.B. 1368 -- Relating to Land Use.

"It appears that Oceanside ignored letters regarding Hokuia's project consistency with HRS Chapter 205, as well as advice from their own attorneys. The State Department of Agriculture, the Office of State Planning, and the Land Use Commission sent letters raising concerns over Hokuia's project consistency with HRS 205. Oceanside had express notice in 1994 that its proposed development did not comply with governing State land use laws, which preempted any apparent county authority for residential residences on agricultural land. There were also objections pointing to the fact that the bill was not referred to or heard by the Committee on Agriculture.

"The premise of H.B. 1368 appears to be flawed and the process improper. Additionally, the measure sends the wrong message."

Representative Hale rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Thielen be entered in the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

"Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of this and my comments that I'm going to give are on 648-06, as well as 645-06 because both of these have to do with sex crimes and statutes of limitations. One is for a criminal offense and the other is for civil action.

"I am actually very pleased that this is before the Body because it's basically changing the statutes of limitations I believe, from 6 years to 10 years. What I'd like to comment on is I don't think 10 years is enough, and I hope when it goes to the Senate that they understand that when people are sexually abused, that sometimes it takes years for them to get over the shame and the fear of what has happened to them. The ability to actually speak up and to deal with what happened to them. I'm really hoping that we change the 10 years and expand that out. That's my hope. Thank you."

Representative Lee rose in support of both measures and asked that the remarks of Representative Evans be entered in the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"This bill allows a person sentenced for a first-time drug offense prior to 7/1/04, who has a satisfactory record of drug treatment and abstinence and a record free of any criminal conviction to apply for re-sentencing and expungement of related records.

"There are first time drug offenders, who are multi-time criminals. In the commission of a crime they would just keep drugs in their pocket while committing an offense to get a chance to get records expunged."

Representative Moses rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, on 647. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition. I'm just concerned. This is expungement for first time drug offenses. We're having such a drug problem in the State and we're trying to crack down and be hard on drugs, and then we're going to expunge their first time drug offenses. I don't know. It just doesn't sit quite right. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative M. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 386, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising to speak against House Bill 386. It's the jury duty exemptions bill. Thank you. Mr. Speaker, if you take a look at this, you realize that the bill just frankly doesn't make sense.

"Sorry, I give due apologies to those who drafted the bill and sponsored it, but the exemptions are so narrow it would mean that people that are orthopedic surgeons, cancer surgeons, others that are in critical professions would have to go through the process of trying to get their jury duty service waived, and that takes them away from their primary profession which is life threatening and critical. So I would really prefer that we that we really just hold ... Well, it's going to be passed out. It'll go over to this Senate, but I would hope the Senate would have more wisdom than we did and not hear the bill."

Representative Sonson rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Hale rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I have very serious reservations for Standing Committee Report 651. Because I would just like to say that I really do not agree that just because somebody is 70, they should be excused."

Representative Karamatsu rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure with reservations, and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition to H.B. 0386 – Relating to Jury Duty Exemptions. This measure repeals jury service exemptions for certain professionals, while adding jury exemptions for emergency medical services, fire, and police personnel.

"There are public policy considerations behind the current list of exemptions which, it should be noted, do not require the exclusion of a listed person but merely provide persons in those positions the option of claiming an exemption. For example, the patients of doctors and dentists who have appointments for treatment would be greatly inconvenienced if their doctor or dentist was suddenly unavailable. There could even be critical care issues involving surgeons, emergency room doctors, specialists, etc. Ministers and priests have traditionally been recognized as persons who should be given the option of claiming an exemption as an integral part of their calling is not to sit in judgment of others. Obviously, there are issues with putting lawyers and judges on juries due to the very real danger that lay jurors would be overly influenced by the opinions of such persons, especially as it relates to interpretation of law.

"Finally, it seems particularly inappropriate to delete active duty military personnel exemptions at a time when our military personnel are engaged in armed conflict in more than one area of the world."

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker. I have strong, strong reservations."

H.B. No. 2233, HD 1:

Representative M. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 2233, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

H.B. No. 386, HD 1	H.B. No. 2233, HD 1
H.B. No. 1233, HD 1	H.B. No. 2404, HD 1

H.B. No. 2859, HD 1:

Representative M. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 2859, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Halford rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, on 656 I think I'm with reservations, or no. I'm not clear what the attractive nuisances might be that would draw an animal from one side of the fence to another. And I think this bill would be highly improved if it was specified exactly what would cause the animal to go over, and if I knew that then I might be for it. So I think for the moment I'm going to go no. Unless I hear otherwise in the next two minutes."

Representative Sonson rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"On 656. Mr. Speaker, this is the 'laughing cow' bill because fences and breaks and etc. You know this is actually being discussed at the UH. I'm in opposition. The bill actually says that if you have the legal use of your land and you happen to use it in such a way. For example, you hang your red dress on your fence or in your yard somewhere, and a cow on the other side, in this case maybe a big bull, happens to see it and runs across the fence. At this point you created a nuisance which created a damage to that fence because you did something that you could lawfully do on your own property, which created I guess a response from the cows and it came over."

"It could also be you planting alfalfa because you like the fresh alfalfa for your salad or something, and they see it. Can you eat alfalfa? I don't know. But the cow sees it and then goes over the fence and again, if damage occurs, according to this bill, you'll be responsible for that."

"It doesn't even state whether or not if you were there first before the ranchers came. It does not say anything other than to say that if you have a structure, a use or a condition on your own land and you knowingly creates or perpetuates or attracts animals. I don't know. I know that red makes bulls run, but does that mean that if I hang it there and the bull comes across and breaks the fence. I really don't know, Mr. Speaker."

"This is something to protect the, I guess the ranchers. I think it needs some work and I hope that the Senate would do something about this, just to clarify for those homeowners who are legally living in thousands of agricultural lots out there, especially the outer islands. Thank you."

Representative Caldwell rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Brief comments in support, Mr. Speaker. This is not a laughing matter. This bill is designed to assist the ranchers on our Neighbor Islands. They're struggling every day to make ends meet. It's a difficult tough business where the profit margin is minimal, at best."

"What we're talking about are the many subdivisions that you see springing up on the Neighbor Islands in areas that are rural, agricultural, and also conservations, where you have ranching."

"A good example is Waikoloa. It's surrounded by ranch land, and what's happening is these fences are being knocked down because of things that are happening around the ranch land by homeowners who are not practicing proper fence management. And it's to try assist our ranchers in our State to make sure that they are able to survive and continue to provide the benefit we all enjoy. That's what this bill is about, Mr. Speaker. Thank you."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I'm rising in opposition. I mean, I'm cleared that it was introduced for a good reason, but it's just the way that it reads, it's just open to arbitrary arguments and making claims, making adjoining landowners liable for damage to animals and fences, if the landowner maintains a structure, use or condition that attracts animals, and causes them to break a lawful fence."

"Who knows what this attractive situation is? You know a bull will jump over big walls to get to cows when they're you know, at the proper time of the year. Animals do these things. Sometimes it's just, I don't know how you can quantify this and really nail it down. I mean, maybe it has to be worded in a different way, but the way it is now, I have to vote no. Thank you."

Representative Halford rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Perhaps the Representative from Manoa has some further knowledge what exact, what practices have gone on adjacent lands to ranches that have caused the damage. If I had some clue what that is, I might change my vote. I am for ranching."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2859, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO FENCING," passed Third Reading by a vote of 44 ayes to 7 noes, with Representatives Finnegan, Halford, Meyer, Moses, Sonson, Stonebraker and Thielen voting no.

H.B. No. 2455, HD 1:

Representative M. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 2455, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Harbin rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'd like to enter my no vote, and I think to need to preface or follow up my no vote with a question of, 'Why now?' That's kind of a rhetorical question, but I have to keep ... Since this bill first came up on the Floor I've been asking myself that every day. Why now? And I still haven't been able to get the answer."

"I've spoken to many of my colleagues. I've spoken to other people voters and even they say, 'Why now?' Is there some type of an internal threat going on that we're concerned about who's going to be our next US Senator? Why now?"

"Again, I've got to bring some numbers to our attention, and I'm going to drill it down just a little bit more. There are about 630,000 registered voters in the State. 30,000 of them are members of the Democratic Party, maybe 10,000 of the Republican Party. I now find that this bill says that the appointment names shall be submitted by the Chair of the prevailing party, which in this case will probably be my colleagues."

"That particular Chair is voted upon and is in office at a convention of which maybe at the most, 2,000 people attend, And maybe at the most he gets 300 delegate votes. I really question that this is the right way for us to be doing this."

"We've had this process in place since the constitutional amendment. I really feel that we are in a rush to judgment. I really feel that this bill had only one hearing with four pieces of testimony. I really feel that is not a very good showing for us in the public, and I really want the whole world to know that I vote no. Thank you."

Representative Halford rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, this is 657? Mr. Speaker, just briefly, in opposition. This bill puts a Party ahead of their State and ahead of our people. So few people in Hawaii are officially partisan in the first place. To designate one of them or just a few of them to create a list of who might replace an absent US Senator, is a mistake."

"It's the current situation where our Governor is elected by a majority of the voters in the State of Hawaii has a lot more credibility in this process. So I'm opposed to this because I believe it puts Party before people, and Party before the State of Hawaii. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2455, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE UNITED STATES SENATE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 38 ayes to 13 noes, with Representatives Arakaki, Ching, Finnegan, Green, Halford, Harbin, Marumoto, Meyer, Moses, Pine, Stevens, Stonebraker and Thielen voting no.

H.B. No. 2454, HD 1:

Representative M. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 2454, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Harbin rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Once again to the world, to you, Mr. Speaker. Thank you very much, I must vote no. I'm probably the only one in this room that can really read through the underlying reasons for this particular bill and take it personally, and I do take it personally.

"With that being said, this particular type of measure continues to break down the belief of our people in what it is that we're trying to do here. I came into office with a whole bunch of hullabaloo and I tried, and I still am trying to do the best job that I can. I'm working very hard to get caught up and trying to do all that is expected of someone in my place.

"But to have a measure like this come sneaking through as a stealth bill to attempt once again, have the Chair of the Party make an appointment to the Governor, really, really flies, as I think, in the face of the democratic process. I have written letters to our Chair, who is now my Chair in Hawaii, who I respect very deeply and I encourage him to continue his good work because I had a very difficult time joining the party. I still haven't received my Party membership card.

"The problem is that we're asking a Party which is very partisan and has their own rules that they do not follow, and I have written letters asking them to explain, in making recommendations to the Governor who was elected by a majority rule. Let's not make these types of decisions hastily. Let's let the people decide who should be appointed, or who should be the appointing person, and in this case it's worked for 40 years. Let's leave it alone until the people can speak to it. My vote is no."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2454, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO LEGISLATIVE VACANCIES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 40 ayes to 11 noes, with Representatives Ching, Finnegan, Halford, Harbin, Marumoto, Meyer, Moses, Pine, Stevens, Stonebraker and Thielen voting no.

H.B. No. 767, HD 1:

Representative M. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 767, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Berg rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition. Thank you. This bill is deeply concerning to me because what it says, even though the in the House Draft 1, the Committee took away permitting camping on ag land, the ability to camp on conservation land is amazing to me. That this is actually a consideration.

"The Department, DLNR, already has and it's established in the Hawaii Revised Statutes. It's in the bill. The Department already has the rule making ability for recreational to establish permitted uses for recreational pursuits. I would think that day and overnight camps might be within that purview. My concern is that these proposals for these camping needs to go through an existing land use permitting process that the State and county levels have established.

"Our conservation land areas have four different zones. What this would imply is that a parking lot could be built, maybe not asphalt but a parking lot could be constructed on a Natural Area Reserves, on a NARS piece of land. We're so worried about pleasing visitors and giving them more of Hawaii to see that such a bill such as this would put us in jeopardy of those particular conservation areas.

"I received a letter here from a young student in the Moanalua area begging us to reconsider this because as she recognizes as a student, that there's unique plant life, insects, mammals. One of the things she brought up that I thought was interesting is that when people walk on certain areas, they leave the droppings of certain other plants will be on the shoes. When we go to the mainland we're asked whether or not we've been at farms because the other states don't want us bringing in our flora and fauna and destroying their areas.

"So I'm very concerned about this bill and I would wish that you would think more seriously, and I will be voting no. Thank you."

Representative Carroll rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I'm standing with reservations, very strong reservations. Like the previous speaker, I have the same concerns, but I would like to add that with DLNR's enforcement because of the lack of adequate services and the lack of resources, I see a potential for recreational user conflict in the near future. I know in my district I have a lot of squatters, and they would look at this as an opportunity to go and camp in these conservation districts. What's to say how the enforcement in DLNR is going to be able to control that because they already have a lack of resources. So with that I would just like to say, with reservations."

Representative Herkes rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support with some comments. I think we need to revisit the whole conservation uses because as a home built on the water on conservation land that has no business being there. Thank you"

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 767, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CAMPSITES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Berg voting no.

"I would like to take a moment to recognize the members of the committee for all their hard work and dedication:

Hon. Steven S. Alm, Chair

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 3256, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE PENAL CODE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

H.B. No. 1826, HD 1:

On motion by Representative M. Oshiro, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, H.B. No. 1826, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THEFT," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

At 5:51 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills, passed Third Reading:

H.B. No. 2330, HD 1	H.B. No. 2299, HD 1
H.B. No. 2453, HD 1	H.B. No. 3256, HD 1
H.B. No. 1844, HD 1	H.B. No. 1826, HD 1

H.B. No. 3254, HD 1:

On motion by Representative M. Oshiro, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, H.B. No. 3254, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO OATHS OF OFFICE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

H.B. No. 1936, HD 1:

Representative M. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 1936, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Cabanilla rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Cabanilla's written remarks are as follows:

"In strong support of the measure, Mr. Speaker.

"This Body has supported over the years extending particular rights and privileges to condominium association members so that greater transparency and equality between the owner and management is facilitated.

"This bill, HB 1936, HD 1, merely permits members within Planned Community Associations to have greater access to documents, and thus, be better educated on the affairs and operation pertaining to their investment – that being their own home.

"Testimony on this measure revealed that there is a void, a lack of recourse for Planned Community Association members to exercise the very basics meant to assist them in preserving their investment. This measure fills in that void.

"In addition, the measure will provide the Department of Commerce and Consumer Affairs with the guidance and ability to ensure that the very laws protecting condo owners are rightfully extended to Planned Community Association members."

"FYI: Language from Rep. Cabanilla's Planned Community Association Bills, three of them: HB 2196 – Financial statements Shared for Duration Records Kept; HB 2197 – Notice for Providing Information; and HB 2653 – Documents Accessible by Request, Expanding Methods to Receive Documents, have been incorporated in the HB 1936, HD 1. HB 1936, HD 1 will now serve as the vehicle for members within Planned Community Associations to garner some of the same rights and privileges that have been extended to condominium owners.

"I met with Rep. Evans (who introduced HB 1936) to request certain language within HB 1936 be changed so that the member making the request is responsible for the costs to accommodate the request. HB 1936 originally had it where the association was to absorb the costs. This burden upon the membership is no longer within the bill and has been removed in House Draft 1.

"In addition, HB 1936, HD 1, includes new language to resolve disputes under the direction of the Department of Commerce and Consumer Affairs, or at least provide additional resources for that purpose within a Planned Community Association. This inclusion in HB 1936, HD 1, was also in response to another bill I introduced, HB 2195 that sought to expand the Condominium Dispute Resolution Pilot Program to those within Planned Community Associations."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 1936, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PLANNED COMMUNITY ASSOCIATIONS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Morita voting no.

H.B. No. 1980, HD 1:

Representative M. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 1980, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition. The Legislature passed a 'no fee' law on Macy's-type gift cards just last year. So why are we now passing an exemption from this law for multiuse gift cards this year? Thank you very much."

Representative Meyer rose in opposition to the measure, and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Meyer's written remarks are as follows:

"In opposition. Exempting multi-use gift cards from Hawaii Revised Statutes (HRS) § 481B-13 which prohibits gift certificate issuers from charging service fees, is unfair and unwarranted. It is inequitable to bind retailers issuing single-merchant gift certificates to certain gift certificate regulations while sparing multi-use gift card issuers from those same regulations.

"This measure hurts Hawaii consumers as it subjects them to a slew of gift card-related fees including initial issuance fees, replacement fees, inactivity fees, and fees for adding value to the card or certificate, all of which will essentially reduce the face value of the card.

"This measure is particularly harmful as many consumers may be caught unawares. The multi-use gift cards are often similar in appearance and function to traditional or single-merchant gift certificates. Thus, many consumers who purchase the multi-use gift cards will be unpleasantly surprised (regardless of the disclosures) to discover that fees will be assessed for tasks as simple as adding more value to the card. Furthermore, the disclosure of initial issuance fees are easily overlooked especially in the case of electronic cards as the disclosure will be printed upon the electronic receipt rather than the face of the card.

"There is little merit to the argument raised by multi-use gift card issuers that service fees should be chargeable as these types of cards are more expensive to operate than gift certificates. Multi-use gift card issuers usually earn an interchange fee of about 1 to 2 percent from the merchant that accepts the gift card.¹ In turn, the merchant accepting the gift card reaps substantial benefits from gift card use as there is typically a reduction in merchandise returns and an increase in the sale of full-priced items as shoppers using gift cards are generally less concerned with taking advantage of discounts.² Thank you Mr. Speaker.

"If the multi-use gift card issuer claims it is not earning a profit, it should negotiate for a higher interchange fee with the merchants rather than imposing a heap of fees upon the consumer.

At 5:54 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills, passed Third Reading:

H.B. No. 3254, HD 1	H.B. No. 3100, HD 1
H.B. No. 1936, HD 1	H.B. No. 3225, HD 1

H.B. No. 2705, HD 1:

Representative M. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 2705, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Sonson rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. First I'd like to get a ruling on whether I'm in conflict. I hang a lot of signs," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Sonson continued, in support of the measure, stating:

"I'm basically in support. I think we do need to clean up the way we hang signs. It should look pretty and it should look conforming to the property we are hanging it in, but I think this bill is too restrictive in a way.

"One thing it does, Mr. Speaker, it allows only signs that are 2 feet by 4 feet. That's the largest you can get, and that particular size might not be sufficient to accomplish the intended affect which is basically to attract attention to it from the passing cars if it's in the roadways or close to the roadways.

"If the affect was to ensure that the message gets across to the people that are driving, it should be big enough so they can see it. I just don't think that 2 feet by 4 feet will be sufficient for all I guess, strategic spots, for lack of a better term.

"Second, there is a limitation that you can only put a total of 16 square feet in any residential property. Now 16 square feet; that would be like two signs. If that was the case, the person that would come after the first two signs are, because there are many candidates running for office. So if the Governor puts up two signs, then Lieutenant Governor cannot put up a sign, or if the Mayor puts up a sign, then the Councilman cannot put up a sign.

"I'm not sure if this is sufficient. I think we should work on this a bit so it's not a one-size-fits-all. I do agree with the intent. We should keep it real clean. I think that what happens is there's been some, I mean not recent, but you know the last election it was a little too much. You could drive through I guess if Kalihi, Waipahu, pick a spot where there are passionate people, who are passionate about their politics and their opinions and they'll hang signs everywhere. Sometimes there's 50 to 100 hundred signs of one candidate and I think that's an overkill and it's kind of ugly. I would disagree with those.

"But on the other hand this one is a little restrictive and I think it's sort of it has a chilling effect on free speech. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Halford rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, simply reservations. Perhaps the counties, each county has different sensibilities about this issue. Thank you."

Representative Moses rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, with reservations. I have the same concern. I think some counties would like to have some say in this. But also limiting a residential property owner to how many signs they can put in their yard, like if they want to support two different candidates like was brought up, say the mayor and the legislator, that's pretty bad I think. It might be a freedom of speech violation. Thank you."

Representative Karamatsu rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2705, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO OUTDOOR ADVERTISING," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Cabanilla voting no, and Representative Evans being excused.

H.B. No. 2897, HD 1:

On motion by Representative M. Oshiro, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, H.B. No. 2897, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO APPELLATE JURISDICTION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Evans being excused.

H.B. No. 3101, HD 1:

Representative M. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 3101, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, we're on 675? With strong reservations, please. I hope that as this bill moves along, that some changes would be made especially to the $25,000 aggregate that the contributors have right now, on this bill. Thank you."

Representative Sonson rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. Strong reservations on 675. I believe that you know, if we do what we keep on doing, which is to limit the access of poor candidates, such as Representative from Waipahu for donations etc., it really could end up so that any candidate, great candidates from other states, other districts who may want to run for higher office some day, will not be able to fund their election properly, versus a person that's wealthy who has unlimited use of his or her money or assets that they have. So it seems like it's being tilted towards the rich people to run for office, and that I don't think that's fair.

"I think there should be a policy in the State to ensure that there's participation from all walks of life. A great idea would be to have complete public spending on all races. If that would be at all possible. That would be the best thing so that we don't have to you know, look for money everywhere and worry about whether or not you're going to end up in jail because you accepted money from this entity and that entity.

"We keep making changes every single year on who we get money from. I'm sure that a lot of things we pass are great stuff and the public wants us to do that, but at the same time it is getting more and more difficult to raise funds. You know, those poor candidates like myself, Mr. Speaker, it's going to be very hard."

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in strong support of this measure. There's four things that this campaign spending limitation measure addresses, but I would like to cut down to just one item that I feel very passionate about.

"Contained in this measure is language that addresses a serious matter pertaining to the election process. When you or I receive a monthly billing statement from let's say the telephone company, gas company, or the cable company, you and I expect the material contained within the envelope to be just for the party to do the business at hand.

"However, imagine yourself instead of a billing statement, the material inside the envelope is a flyer soliciting you to vote for a particular candidate.

"Currently, when a candidate or a candidate's committee sends mailings, the envelope must be identified as containing campaign related material. In contrast, when a business conducts a mass mailing endorsing of a candidate and soliciting your vote, the business is not required to disclose on the mailing that the material contained in the mailing is campaign material.

"HB3101 HD 1 will ensure that when a business, as it is it's right, sends campaign material, that it merely identify on the envelope that the material inside is campaign related material. In this way, campaign matters may no longer be disguised as billing statements.

"This law is necessary, Mr. Speaker, because in 2002 and 2004, election of a property management companies, and there's a lot of them in possession of thousands of its clients' membership mailing lists, mailed in same envelopes it mails official association matters, campaign material related. Many thought this practice was deceptive and undermined the election process. This bill is a housecleaning measure and I ask my colleagues to support it. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, in support with slight reservations. Thank you. I just want to let people know that we're still not, well the Campaign Spending Commission is still unclear as to where we are with the last campaign spending laws that we made and it's kind of not clarified at this moment. So I think by adding more stuff on there, I think it's just going to give a lot of people just not only hesitancy, but just not having clarity at this moment. So I think we should maybe take a look at whether or not we want to add more things before we clarify on what's to be expected from the last time. Thank you."

Representative Moses rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, with reservations. Just recently the Supreme Court has dealt with the State's campaign spending laws and said they're too restrictive, and it's an abridgement of the freedom of speech. I hope we don't go there. Thank you."

Representative Stevens rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Meyer rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 3101, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CAMPAIGN SPENDING," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Evans being excused.

H.B. No. 1242, HD 1:

Representative M. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 1242, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Sonson rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, on 1242, SCR 676-06. Mr. Speaker, I would like to enter my no vote. My opposition has nothing to do with a woman's right to have an abortion done, but this bill, although it says it doesn't expand such things, it does do away with two things: the residency requirement; and operations done in hospitals only. I'm not sure if there is evidence that the hospitals are insufficient to meet the needs of abortion. And I'm not sure whether or not there's been some request of the Tourism Authority that they would like to come to Hawaii to perform an abortion, that we should remove that. There should be a need.

"If there are underserved people that want to have an abortion and cannot get it done, maybe we should change our existing laws. But I think this will just serve to, I guess, make Hawaii a place where they say you can go and stop and go. I'm not sure I would like to be associated with a State like that. Thank you."

Representative Cabanilla rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, there's three things that this bill does. I am in opposition to one part. Another part, I'm with reservations. And the other part, I am in support."

The Chair responded, stating:

"So, that's kanalua for us. What is your vote, before you proceed?"

Representative Cabanilla continued in opposition to the measure, stating:

"So if you want to know what my vote is, my vote is in opposition. The ones that I am in opposition with, let me start. The one is the part that repeals the residency requirement. Hawaii is known to be a very beautiful place. We are known for our beautiful and pristine beaches, and wholesome family vacation spots. And repealing the residency requirement would make us the 'go to for abortion' State. We're probably going to rank as one of the sin cities in the world.

"The other one that I have strong reservations going to it is that, and I can agree with the Vice Chair of Health, that it should have gone to the Health Committee because it expands the places where you can get an abortion. When this bill passes, you can now get an abortion in clinics and doctors' offices. And that will support the first thing that it asks, which is repealing that. Because we are now going to have a lot of people coming for abortions in our State, you might as well open it up to more places, and pretty soon we'll probably be doing it in the back seat of a car.

"That's why I say I'm with reservations because it feeds toward a purpose, maybe it's an evil intent, but it feeds to that.

"But I'm in support of the third thing that it does in which it allows for delivery or extraction or abortion, whatever word that you want, for stillborn pregnancies. I think that's a good health measure. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ching rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. On this particular measure, I rise in opposition. I agree with the previous speaker that the reputation of being a State that people can come here and know that they can get an abortion or termination doesn't sit well with me. Thank you."

Representative Green rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Just with reservations. But I will like to comment, I do not agree with the previous two speakers. I don't think that the bill would have that intent at all. In fact, abortion is legal in the United States of America. I do want to register my reservations just about my Health Committee concern from before. Thank you."

Representative Stonebraker rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. You know well that I will be opposing this bill for a couple reasons. As was mentioned, Mr. Speaker, this is not a mild expansion of abortion. This is one of the most significant pieces of legislation to promote abortion that we've had in recent history.

"I believe, Mr. Speaker, there is a great debate amongst those who are pro-life and pro-abortion, and this is potentially the bill to argue over it. However, even those who are in favor of abortion I think would be hard-pressed to say that abortions are good things. They're usually the last option. They're not a positive thing. Nobody looks at an abortion procedure having been done as a great thing. It's nothing to be celebrated, Mr. Speaker. And I would venture to say that even those who are in favor of the practice would be hard-pressed to say that it is a good thing to get an abortion. And so why would we promote it in such a grand way; in such a broad, wide-sweeping way where we will remove safety measures like a residency requirement; where we will expand it into clinics rather than leaving it in hospitals.

"Mr. Speaker, I think that this is much more pervasive than most of the legislation here for a couple of reasons. First of all, it deals with the issue of the respect for life. I believe that if we disregard life at its earliest stages, I believe it defines who we are as a society. And the way that we treat the innocent, and the way we treat those who are helpless and cannot help themselves will be reflected in every other decision that we make in society. And so, by making a decision like this, in general, philosophically, all of our other decisions will be tainted and warped because we've undermined the very basic principles of human life and human dignity.

"Mr. Speaker, the other reason is that I believe that this legislation was put forth primarily for ideological motives. It's a bill that deals with hospitals, it deals with clinics, it deals with life. It deals with invasive surgery, it deals with patients, and yet it did not go to the Health Committee. Mr. Speaker, this bill should have gone to the Health Committee, but I believe that the authors of the bill intentionally diverted the bill away from the Health Committee to avoid the scrutiny that it deserves, and rather brought it to their own Committee, the Judiciary Committee, so that it could be snuck through in a back-room fashion. I believe that it's disingenuous, and I believe it violates not only our rights as legislators, Mr. Speaker, but the rights of all the people of Hawaii who deserve better than that. Thank you."

Representative B. Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support. The hour is late so I will try to keep my comments very brief. First and foremost, I did want to address the fact that there are two measures that dealt with abortion as I said on Second Reading: HB 1242 and HB 1241.

"House Bill 1241 was referred to Health, but unfortunately, that bill did not move. That was the opportunity for the Health Committee to address some of these issues. However, when HB 1242 was referred to Judiciary, the primary reason that it was only referred to Judiciary is because what we are doing is making sure that current practice conforms with what is already happening through case law. For those that don't understand, let me explain what case law is. There are two ways for laws to be made. One is through statute, and one is through court cases, and this is what's happening with Roe v. Wade.

"Roe v. Wade was issued in 1973, and since that time the Supreme Court has taken up the issue numerous times and issued multiple decisions such as The City of Akron Planned Parenthood v. Casey, and Planned Parenthood Kansas City v. Ashcroft. And in all of those cases, what they set forth are the parameters under which an abortion can occur, and cannot occur. And that are the legal parameters that we have set forth in this bill. Basically to say that the statute which is outdated, should actually conform with what's going on in current practice.

"Now the second question people may have is, why do we need it if that's what is already happening out there? The reason we need that is because there is the potential that Roe v. Wade could be overturned with the new appointments to the Supreme Court. Now, that is speculation and we don't know if that's exactly going to happen. But there is a case that the Supreme Court has accepted to take up this coming term. And they could issue a decision while we are not in Session, and then what would that do? It would create a cloud of uncertainty as to what is the practice that is allowed out there.

"And why do we feel that we can go forward with a bill like this, even if the Supreme Court overturns Roe v. Wade? And that is because, in our State Constitution, we have an explicit right to privacy. Unlike the federal Constitution, where basically the Supreme Court has sort of interpreted it in a thing called a penumbra, or an implied right, they actually found it was something that was part of the liberty interest, and that's why it's been criticized. In our State Constitution, Article I, Section 6, we have an explicit right to privacy. And in formulating that right to privacy, the framers of the Constitution said, "By amending the Constitution to include a separate and distinct Privacy right, it is the intent of your Committee to insure that Privacy is treated as a fundamental right for purposes of constitutional analysis. This privacy concept encompasses the notion that in certain highly personal and intimate matters, the individual choice should be afforded freedom of choice, absent a compelling state interest." And that is why we are moving forward with this bill.

"I do agree actually with the prior speaker. This is not something that we necessarily would celebrate. But sometimes, our individual rights are something that need to be protected, whether it is a decision that we agree with or not, it is the individual's choice. Thank you."

Representative Sonson rose to respond, stating:

"Just a couple of words in rebuttal. If we say that yes, we have a Constitution that is different from the federal Constitution in that this is to implement our Constitution, I would disagree. There is no case law in the State of Hawaii that says that we cannot have a residency requirement in our laws. There is no case law in Hawaii that says we cannot limit operations of abortions in be in hospitals only. Why is this moving forward? Because someone is looking at a crystal ball and what will happen in the future. I'm not sure if this is the right thing to do at this time. Mr. Speaker, I think the laws that we have are sufficient to serve the needs of those who want to have abortions. And we should keep it there unless there is a proven need.

"Another study or another way to look at this would be, if there is proof that there is a greater need that is not served by the current law, why should we expand it? And if there is no law that says our law is illegal, why should we change it?"

Representative Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise to speak in favor of the measure.

"Mr. Speaker, more than 30 years after the Roe v. Wade decision, a woman's right to choose hangs by a thread in the U.S. Supreme Court. Some of our leaders in Washington, D.C. have chosen to attempt to eviscerate the constitutionally protected rights to reproductive freedom women currently enjoy. If you haven't read the paper, anti-choice forces continue to attack the right to privacy and a woman's right to choose.

"Hawaii was the first state in the union to decriminalize abortion. To assure the rights to privacy and choice in Hawaii, we need to update the Hawaii law that originally gave women in our State the right to choice. That law passed three years before the Roe v. Wade decision, and allowed to become law by a Catholic Governor, contains archaic and outdated provisions

"The Hawaii Legislature has never revisited this statute since it was passed in 1970, although we are clearly aware of the unconstitutional provisions.

"Section 453-16 requires that a woman be a resident of the State 90 days prior to her abortion. We know that any traveler to Hawaii can receive medical treatment in Hawaii, regardless of how long they have been here.

"The statute also says that all abortions must take place in hospitals. In fact, we know that abortions take place in clinics and physicians' offices, not just hospitals, and this is what makes abortions affordable to poor women.

"Hawaii, more than any other state, has clearly articulated the right to privacy. At a time when the U.S. Supreme Court is about to rule on a potential federal ban on abortion in Gonzales v. Carhart and when South Dakota has passed a complete ban, it is urgent that our State affirmatively declare its policy on a woman's right to choose.

"Mr. Speaker, may I also say that there was no need for this measure to be heard in the Health Committee as the changes needed are purely legal in nature. Of course, health issues cut strongly in favor of the right to choose. The blood, tears and often the lost lives of women who terminated their pregnancies illegally in the past, demonstrate that point too well. No wonder many of us who lived through the bad old times when there was no choice for safe, legal and accessible services say, 'Never again. Never again.'

"But look at what has been happening. Since 1993, anti-choice advocates have murdered three doctors, two clinic employees, a clinical escort and a security guard. They have inflicted permanent injuries including blindness upon many others. Opponents of choice have directed over 4,000 reported acts of violence against abortion providers since 1977, including bombings, arson, death threats, kidnappings and assaults. In addition, over 75,000 acts of disruption have been directed at clinics including bomb threats and harassing telephone calls.

"Mr. Speaker, reproductive rights are key to a woman's ability to control her own life and therefore central to a woman's autonomy and equality. The State must not interfere with nor deny a female's right to choose.

"Today we are carrying out our responsibilities. With our vote today, Hawaii will again lead to uphold a woman's right to decide whether and when she will be pregnant, but, most of all, we will be acknowledging that women should have an equal place at life's table and be respected as the decision-makers for their own future. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Stonebraker rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. A brief rebuttal. It's not surprising that the proponents of abortion do not want to speak about the actual procedure. I'm not surprised about that they'll want to talk about what the Constitution may or may not say. The specious right to privacy. They'll talk about what somebody may have done years ago. They won't talk about the 40 million children that have been killed by abortion.

"And they won't talk about the underlying measure which was to promote partial birth abortion. A procedure which, Mr. Speaker, is brutal and most degrading to our society and to human nature. It's a procedure where a fully viable child in the womb, who can live outside the womb ..."

Representative Takai rose to a point of order, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order. I believe this draft of the bill does not include that anymore. I think the speaker should confine his remarks to what's in the current draft."

Representative Stonebraker responded, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I gave incredible leeway to the previous speaker's recitation about abortion doctors who were murdered and so forth and so on. Let me speak to the underlying measure that was ..."

The Chair addressed Representative Stonebraker, stating:

"The Chair will, Representative Stonebraker. The Chair will allow you, but can you really try to confine your remarks in regards to the legislation that is before us because it is not, quote unquote, addressing the process or procedures of abortion, but clarifying the language."

Representative Stonebraker continued, stating:

"For the information of the Body, the original measure was meant to promote the practice of partial birth abortion. This was the impetus for the legislation, and this was the desire of the drafters of the legislation. Partial birth abortion is when a fully viable child ..."

Representative Thielen rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I take offense to that. That was not the intention of the drafters of the legislation. The intention of the drafters was merely to put the present state of the law into our statutes. It was not to enlarge that. That was clearly noted by the Vice Chair of Judiciary at the beginning of the hearing. The people who were there to testify were very glad to hear that and the proceeding went ahead.

"I believe that my colleague is going far beyond what was the intent of the drafters of the legislation. Thank you."

Speaker Say: "Representative Stonebraker, will you ... Can you confine ..."

Representative Stonebraker: "I appreciate the previous speaker's remarks being one of the authors of the original legislation. She was one of the authors and I respect the fact that she may be offended by any revelation of what the underlying measure may be."

Representative Thielen: "Mr. Speaker, I take offense to that. There should be no revelation because that was not our intention. Our intention was merely to codify to the existing law. Thank you."

Speaker Say: "Representative Thielen, you stand corrected. Representative Stonebraker, can you confine your remarks to the clarification ..."

Representative Stonebraker: "Yes, Mr. Speaker. I would love to, if ... If I was given the chance to, I would love to, Mr. Speaker. Thank you."

Speaker Say: "... and codification of the present laws that we have on the books.

Representative Stonebraker: "Thank you. I will, if I'm not interrupted again. Thank you. Partial birth abortion is when a fully viable fetus is ..."

Speaker Say: "Representative Stonebraker, you are out of order. Can you confine your remarks to the codification of the present law ..."

Representative Stonebraker: "Yes, Mr. Speaker. Please grant me the leeway to make the connection here. The point is a rebuttal to the Vice Chair of Judiciary's remarks."

Speaker Say: "He addressed his remarks in clarifying and codifying the present law in anticipation, if there is a ..."

At 6:24 o'clock p.m., Representative Souki requested a recess and the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 6:28 o'clock p.m.

Representative Stonebraker continued, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. The point is this. That much of the debate about this bill is the referral. Now the Vice Chair of Judiciary said that it didn't need to be referred to the Health Committee because of its contents now. My point is that the contents now were not the contents of the original drafted bill. The bill should have been referred to the Health Committee, without argument. It's amended now, yes. It's amended due to the immense testimony in opposition. But the underlying measure called for something completely different, and so for that reason I wonder if the Vice Chair, the Majority Floor Leader, would yield to a question at this time?"

The Chair addressed Representative B. Oshiro, stating:

"Representative Blake Oshiro, will you yield to a question?"

Representative B. Oshiro responded:

"Sure."

Speaker Say: "Representative Stonebraker, address your question to the Chair."

Representative Stonebraker: "Why was this measure not referred to the Health Committee as it was drafted for partial birth abortion?"

Speaker Say: "Representative Blake Oshiro, may I respond on behalf of this House? It has always been the Chair's policy to share the referral process with the House Majority Leadership. We have 13 members of that Committee that has a sheet that he or she writes what the Committee referral will be.

"In this particular case, it was just referred to the Committee on Judiciary, and the Chair of this Chamber takes full responsibility for the actions of the referral Committee which is made up of leadership. In prior years, it was totally different in terms of how former Speakers did their referral process. So it is the responsibility of the Chair, and I take full responsibility."

Representative Stonebraker: "In closing then, Mr. Speaker, I just appreciate you taking full responsibility. And with all due respect, Mr. Speaker, I think it was it was wrong to make that decision. Thank you."

Representative Caldwell rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. I just want to incorporate the words of the Vice Chair of Judiciary. I have to say, it confirmed for me, why we are all here. It couldn't have been stated better or clearer. And also the words of the Representative of Mililani and what she said about choice and life. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Morita rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support. I also would like to adopt the remarks of the Representative from Mililani and the Vice Chair of Judiciary as my own," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Moses rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. I just have to remark, I just heard a previous speaker talk about choice and life in the same sentence. I've said many times on this Floor, I'm pro-choice. I just choose life, and I hope everybody else does. But we found in this measure now, there is no residency requirement, and hospitals are not required. Abortions can be done in clinics. So I guess we really aren't concerned about the health of the mother because we're going to be able to do it in clinics, and I don't know what a clinic really is. I mean, how small could it be? Could it be somebody's desk in an office? I don't know.

"But I guess now we're going to be known as the 'health and abortion state', instead of the Health State. And I'd like to know, Mr. Speaker, where is this burning need? Where do we see the data that people are not getting the treatment that they request? And where are we seeing that people are flooding in to here; flying in to get abortions? I don't know, Mr. Speaker. To say that we're doing this because the Supreme Court, I hope, will overturn Roe v. Wade; I don't see that that will exempt the State from abiding by federal law. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Thank you for allowing me some comments in opposition. Thank you. You know, actually this is not an easy thing to debate. I can actually understand the feelings of the Representative from Mililani because she comes from a time when people did do these things with a hanger or vacuum or whatever it is. So listening to her comments, I can understand where she is coming from and why she feels the ways she does.

"I come from a little bit different time. I come from a time where these abortions are being done, and they're being done almost as easy as taking a birth control pill. It really does happen that way. I've met people who have come up to me and said that, 'Oh yeah. I've had seven or eight abortions.' When we get to that point, I think that, and what this measure does is, it makes it easier so that people don't have to basically struggle with this kind of decision. It does have a way of not respecting life.

"So as we move forward, I come from a different time, that wants to see a reversal of some of this stuff. These changes in the abortion law definitely don't sit well with me. Thank you."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of the measure. Mr. Speaker, I come from the same time as the Representative from Mililani. And it was a frightful time for young women; a very scary time. Some of them didn't live. Some of them were scarred permanently. Some of them never could bear children after those procedures, those illegal procedures that they had. I think it is very important that we codify our law, and that is all that we are doing.

We are not expanding it. We are not doing anything other than just putting it into our statutes. I would like to have the words of the speaker from Mililani in the Journal as if they were my own. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Hale rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I also would like the words of the Vice Chair of Judiciary and the Representative of Mililani as my own. I'm sorry, it's getting late. Putting her words as my words in the Journal. I support very, very strongly. Thank you."

Representative Cabanilla rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, just a quick rebuttal on this measure. This is in response to my colleague from Mililani. It bothers me that I have to rebut because I like her a lot. This bill doesn't ask that it repeals the right of a woman's choice. This bill doesn't repeal the right of privacy. My opposition, and the opposition of most of the people who are opposed to this measure on the Floor is the fact that it is expanding it to a lot more women that do not live in our State. It is enough that we carry our own cross, but I don't think we should carry everybody else's."

Representative Stevens rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support with just a couple of reservations. I do support a woman's right to choose because I believe women will make these difficult choices no matter what the law says. However, I am opposed to one provision in the bill. The purpose section of this measure seeks to improve the health and safety of women. But it seems to me to actually lower the standard of care by allowing these abortions to be done in clinics or offices, rather than in the safety of hospitals. That is my reservation and I hope that as it moves along that that might be corrected. Thank you."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of this measure. Recently, some of us attended a Planned Parenthood fundraiser where a video was unveiled. It was produced by the noted videographer, Tom Coffman. Most of us are familiar with him. It chronicled the making of this law; how it was passed back in 1969 and '70. The Mililani Representative mentioned that it was at the time when Governor Burns was the Governor. He was a Catholic Governor and he allowed bill to become law without his signature.

"But they also chronicled the work of some lobbyists: Representative Pat Saiki, Representative George Loo who I believe was the House Judiciary Chair, and Senator Vince Yano who I think was the Senate Judiciary Chair. The aforementioned men were all Catholics, but they fought for this law knowing that the people who wanted to undergo this procedure could do so, and those who did not, did not have to. Thank you."

Representative Luke rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, just real briefly in strong support. I just wanted to clarify that the residency requirement and the striking out that the operation be only done in a hospital, those have not been the current practices in years. The residency requirement has been struck down as unconstitutional for years. And the doctors here, in their own offices, do perform abortions so it is not just being done in hospitals. That is why I just don't understand when the opponents saying that this is expanding the current practices. This is actually codifying the current practices because doctors do not look at the residency requirements. Doctors do not just perform abortions in hospitals. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 1242, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SECTION 453-16, HAWAII REVISED STATUTES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 37 ayes to 13 noes, with Representatives Abinsay, Arakaki, Cabanilla, Carroll, Ching, Finnegan, Kahikina, Magaoay, Meyer, Moses, Pine, Sonson and Stonebraker voting no, and Representative Evans being excused.

H.B. No. 3016, HD 1:

Representative M. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 3016, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Moses rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Just briefly on 817, in opposition, Mr. Speaker. This just throws away outstanding warrants because we just can't handle them now. Why do we have laws and give people tickets, etc. Why do we bother? Why do we need the police that we talked about earlier today? Because if they arrest anybody and they don't show up for court for a long enough period of time, we just throw it out. What kind of message does this send?"

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 3016, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO UNSERVED ARREST WARRANTS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 41 ayes to 9 noes, with Representatives Ching, Finnegan, Halford, Marumoto, Meyer, Moses, Pine, Stonebraker and Thielen voting no, and Representative Herkes being excused.

H.B. No. 2412, HD 1:

On motion by Representative M. Oshiro, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, H.B. No. 2412, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CONFORMITY OF THE HAWAII INCOME TAX LAW TO THE INTERNAL REVENUE CODE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Herkes being excused.

H.B. No. 1026, HD 1:

Representative M. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 1026, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Moses rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. The bill is titled, Income Tax. The original bill was gutted and it was replaced by this present bill in front of us. What does it do? It raises the TAT on timeshares. It's a tax increase. Right now, according to this bill, they're going to be taxed on the fair market rental value. That amount was one half of a percent of the building maintenance fee. It is going to be raised to twice the percent; twice the fee. Well actually, it's zeroed-out, so it's not in the current measure. But we know what the intent was. So, it's raised four times the amount that it was. I think there's a problem there.

"Mr. Speaker, also the tourism industry is the foundation of the State's economy. This tax increase on this segment of the economy would be inadvisable I believe. Owners of timeshares enhance the economy by employing local people in jobs such as maintaining the property, property sales, call centers, etc. The increase in taxes may hurt jobs for locals. The timeshare owners are already paying their fair share of taxes, and according to a survey released by the American Resort Development Association, timeshare visitors spend about 44% more per visit, than other Hawaii visitors from the mainland. Timeshares have the potential to bring renewed investment to run-down hotels. Additionally, the timeshare industry spends its own revenue marketing the destination, adding to the State's economy. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 1026, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 42 ayes to 8 noes, with Representatives Ching, Finnegan, Marumoto, Meyer, Moses, Pine, Stevens and Stonebraker voting no, and Representative Herkes being excused.

At 6:45 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills, passed Third Reading:

H.B. No. 1984, HD 1	H.B. No. 3016, HD 1
H.B. No. 2282, HD 1	H.B. No. 2412, HD 1
H.B. No. 3014, HD 1	H.B. No. 1026, HD 1

H.B. No. 2312, HD 1:

On motion by Representative M. Oshiro, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, H.B. No. 2312, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING AN APPROPRIATION TO THE EMERGENCY BUDGET AND RESERVE FUND," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

H.B. No. 2836, HD 1:

On motion by Representative M. Oshiro, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, H.B. No. 2836, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO INFORMATION SECURITY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

H.B. No. 1466, HD 1:

Representative M. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 1466, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Moses rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support. Mr. Speaker, I rise to speak in support of this measure. The scourge of crystal methamphetamine has been with us since the 1980s. Many, many people did not recognize it for what it was back then. Hospital emergency rooms showed a great increase in the number of psychosis diagnosis in young adults. No one knew what it meant. In hindsight, this was the first signs of the epidemic we talk about now. Over the past several years, this issue has been sensationalized, humanized and politicized. We all agree that this problem required a comprehensive approach: prevention, treatment and enforcement.

"Your Members on this side of the aisle have never wavered from the belief, and have taken Majority Members to task on this Floor when we felt you were ignoring part of the comprehensive approach. But this bill before us Mr. Speaker, focuses mostly on the other aspects of the comprehensive approach: prevention and treatment.

"Mr. Speaker, we need to stay on course on this issue. It will not be solved overnight, and it will not miraculously disappear with this bill. Although many of my colleagues wish that this could happen, it just won't. It will require commitment by us and our successors, this Administration and successive administrations, and many others. These funds represent our commitment. They are necessary and they are a little step dealing with this ice epidemic. And once again Mr. Speaker, I have to commend this Body for piggy-backing on the Lt. Governor's initial eight complex project and expanding upon it. Thank you."

Representative Luke rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in strong support. Let me just let the record show that the ice initiative, I believe was the initiative of the Legislature. We are happy that the Administration actually piggy-backed on the initiative of the Legislature with the Ice Task Force that went out to all the islands. That went to pretty much all segments of the community on Oahu and came out with a comprehensive report.

"I do agree with the Representative from Makakilo that it was three-pronged approach: prevention, treatment, and also law enforcement. I believe we did that with Act 40 and Act 44. Unfortunately, the Administration didn't agree with the prevention and treatment, and we continue to struggle with trying to make sure that the funds that were appropriated by the Legislature go to those people who are in need.

"I think there is no doubt that the Legislature has taken a hard stand against manufacturers and distributors of this drug, and we continue to have this battle of making tough decisions and tough penalties against those people who really need to be in jail. At the same time, we need to continue the treatment and prevention section. So because of that, I am in strong support."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising in strong support of SCR 822. I was on the Ice Task Force and it was a real revelation. We went to all kinds of treatment places here and on the Neighbor Islands. We had all kinds of experts come talk to us, people in the Narcotics Division. This is a really tough problem to crack.

"We had a bill here earlier today that I was really pleased has passed. This was one that the law enforcement people had wanted. I think that is the section that we didn't get passed a few years ago on getting tougher on crime and not treating dealers as if they were just addicts. That's a big step in the right direction. But I'm very happy to support this. We really need to put money into prevention and pay a lot more attention to young folks, adolescents, because it's a lot easier to turn a young person around than it is somebody who's been smoking ice for 10 or 12 years.

"At the same time, we need to support prevention because when people hit the bottom and they want to do something about it, they need that kind of help and support because it's not an easy thing. We have to keep working at it. We have to be reasonable. I think that this is $14 million plus, well spent. And I hope that we can keep this going to Final Reading. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker. I just want to stand in strong support of the measure. I just want to say that I think it was referred to earlier today in the Advertiser editorial where it said, 'What happened to the war against ice?' I think we've seen on the Floor today that we are indeed working on fighting the war on ice. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support and I ask that I have written comments inserted in the Journal. One comment that I did want to make is, I have been here for two terms now and I don't recall the Administration ever not being in favor of prevention. That is my recollection. If I stand corrected, so be it. But my recollection is that the Administration has always been in strong on prevention."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of this measure which institutes and funds school programs in local anti-drug community education prevention programs.

"H.B. 1466 provides the State with a strategy which equips and allows our schools additional funding to combat the drug epidemic. Substance abuse prevention is imperative in protecting our youth. Substance abuse has proven to be extremely costly and a widespread problem among our Hawaiian youth today. H.B. 1466 allows $5,250,000 worth of funding for prevention and intervention youth programs. $3,150,000 is incorporated into neighborhood and family support education programs and $6,300,000 is allocated for continuing care assistance.

"Education is a tool we as a State can use to confront and halt the greatest threat to our youth – drug use. Expanding and funding substance abuse programs displays a strong commitment from the State of Hawaii, that substance abuse will not be tolerated.

"Immediate and mandatory action must be taken in response to Hawaii's epidemic substance abuse."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 1466, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO STATE FUNDS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

H.B. No. 1795, HD 1:

Representative M. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 1795, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Halford rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"On 823, in opposition. Mr. Speaker, this bill is asking to increase the number of Board members for the Health Systems. Mr. Speaker, I don't know why we might need any more than the number that we have now. But certainly this process, if this comes about, will dilute the influence of those Board members that are there representing a geographical area. There is no specification where the four new members might come from. And so a Board member from Maui, for example, their input would be diluted by this. And I don't see that as a favorable thing. At some point, you get too many Board members and effective decision making can be hampered.

"I think if we really want to help the Health Systems Corporation, and I presume the purpose of this is to improve the Health Systems Corporations. That this isn't a political move, a move for purposes or just for political influence. So in the favorable scenario that this is to help the Health Systems Corporation, and they do need help, that the most important thing we could do for them is to fund their unfunded mandates.

"We've asked them to keep facilities open that are certain to lose-money facilities; Lanai being one, Ka'u being another. And the losses can be computed in advance within a few percent. We do not actively seek that number and reimburse them for that. Secondly, we ask them to fund indigent care; people that could not ever pay for care, we ask them to fund that. And third, they have the burden of a collective bargaining system that does not match a hospital system. And I'm for all of those mandates, Mr. Speaker. But unless we fund them, by us not having funded them, we have diminished the quality of care in the Health Systems Corporation. If we do that, we won't need to look for excuses why we might need more Board members to make our hospital system better. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 1795, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HAWAII HEALTH SYSTEMS CORPORATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 41 ayes to 10 noes, with Representatives Ching, Finnegan, Halford, Marumoto, Meyer, Moses, Pine, Stevens, Stonebraker and Thielen voting no.

H.B. No. 1800, HD 1:

Representative M. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 1800, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Moses rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. This is a tax increase, again. Although you might say, well, but it's not on our residents, and that's correct. It started off as a 20% increase and now it's over 20% withholding. Let's not say increase. And now it's down to an 8.25% increase. I'm in opposition. Thank you.

"And we say, 'so what' because it's non-residents. Well, I need to point out that I believe this bill may be unconstitutional because we are treating non-residents differently than residents and I thought we just heard another bill that said we couldn't do that. But this is based on the sales price. Property sales price. It's not based on the price that they actually realize, the profit price. They could actually lose money but we're withholding 8.5% on their sales price and it's just withholding. We have to give it back unless they actually made a profit.

"So I don't understand what good it's doing for us, except for scaring away foreign investors, I guess. Maybe it's a protectionist measure. We don't want them to buy any real property in Hawaii. That could be. But if that's the case, I don't know if that's what we want to do either. Thank you."

Representative Souki rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I want to declare a potential conflict of interest. I am a realtor," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Souki continued in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you very much. I have strong reservations on this measure based on the possible constitutionality."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition with a few comments. Thank you. I realize that this is not a tax increase, but it is an increase to withhold the amount that say an escrow company will hold if they sell an investment property that's owned by a non-resident. The problem I have is not necessarily that we're increasing it, but what we're doing ... Well I do have a problem with it being increased.

"The problem I have with this bill is that for these non-residents, say the non-resident sells it and they need the money. We are increasing the amount whether or not there is a capital gains on that particular property being sold. We hold on to that amount until it can be clarified through their tax returns, and then maybe their tax returns will give them back their money. Basically what it is is that you're withholding money, you're increasing the withholding of money whether or not there's a capital gains. And it's based upon the sales price from my understanding and not the capital gains price.

"Again, I do understand that this is not a tax increase, however people need their money, that's probably why they sell. So for those reasons, I'm in opposition. Thank you."

Representative Pine rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Yes Mr. Speaker, in opposition. I tried to relate this situation, or what this bill would do to perhaps a local family who maybe a majority of them moved away to the mainland and no longer residents. What if their grandmother died and they had to sell the house and there's large debts looming that they had to pay? To sell this house would help them to pay those debts. For those reservations, Mr. Speaker, I'm voting no. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 1800, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SALE OF REAL PROPERTY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 42 ayes to 9 noes, with Representatives Ching, Finnegan, Halford, Marumoto, Meyer, Moses, Pine, Stevens and Stonebraker voting no.

H.B. No. 2274, HD 1:

Representative Stonebraker rose, stating:

"Yes, which bill is this?"

The Chair responded, stating:

"House Bill No. 2972, Relating to Electrical Licensing. Stand. Com. Report 828. It is a recommital."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2972, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ELECTRICAL LICENSING," was recommitted to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce.

H.B. No. 2419, HD 1:

Representative M. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 2419, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Takai rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this measure. Just briefly Mr. Speaker, I just wanted to point out to our colleagues, especially the ones across the aisle, that there are times when the State looks at the creation of a special fund as something good. And I would like to specifically ask the Representative from Makakilo to pay particular attention to this particular measure. We create special funds in certain cases to incentivize people, helping the State bring in additional revenue. In this particular case, it's the Tax Department that has asked for this measure and for this special fund because they feel it necessary to hire these businesses that would then go out and seek after these delinquent taxpayers.

"Mr. Speaker, I strongly support this measure and I would urge my colleagues to take a real good look at this and understand why we need these types of funds. And Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask also to insert written comments into the Journal," and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Takai's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker: As I mentioned earlier, I believe that our esteemed colleague from Kapolei and all our members, for that matter, need to understand the importance of special funds.

"As a point of information, I provide the following excerpts from the House Journal regarding comments made previously by our colleague from Kapolei.

HB 2609, HD 1. 2002 session, Day 23, "I have problems with special funds"

HB 2040, HD 1. 2004 session, Day 16, "I thought it was a good idea but it also creates a special fund so just because I really don't care for special funds, I just want to raise my reservations."

HB 2844, HD 1. 2004 session, Day 26, "I'm sorry Mr. Speaker, but I have reservations on this measure. And one is that it's creating a special fund of course."

SB 575, SD 1, HD 1. 2005 session, Day 39, "It's just that it's another special fund and I just have a problem with creating more and more special funds."

SB 575, SD 1, HD 1. 2005 session, Day 41, "I'm just always opposed to creating more special funds."

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Moses rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. My problem with special funds is when they lack a nexus, and when we continually raid them. I think that neither will happen or won't be raided in this case. And there is a nexus. So I support this special fund. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2419, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

H.B. No. 2835, HD 1:

Representative M. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 2835, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. Just a couple of short comments. I do see this as a very positive measure as we are increasing the low-income refundable tax credit per exemption from $35 to $75, from $25 to $50, and from $10 to $20. Let's just keep in mind that we are one of the highest states that taxes the poor and I would like to see measures that make significant improvement in that. So I do support the bill. I'm anxious to see if we're going to see more of this. Thank you."

Representative Sonson rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support of 827. I hope that when this moves forward that we could find it in the budget to ensure that it could be expanded to people with $50,000 of income and below. Maybe $100 per exemption. I believe if you do it that way, the total amount of money going forward would be $70.7 million. I don't know what this bill as written would cost, but if you were to expand it to incomes of $50,000 and below, that would cost about $70.7 million."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 2835, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO LOW-INCOME REFUNDABLE TAX CREDIT," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

H.B. No. 3193, HD 1:

On motion by Representative M. Oshiro, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, H.B. No. 3193, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE UNIVERSITY OF HAWAII," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

At 7:04 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills, passed Third Reading:

H.B. No. 2419, HD 1 H.B. No. 3193, HD 1
H.B. No. 2835, HD 1

The Chair announced:

"Members, at this time, we are at the end of the calendar. We will be taking up the items that were moved this morning to the end of the calendar. So members can we go back to page 4 of the Order of the Day, and it is Standing Committee Report No. 728-06."

END OF CALENDAR

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 728-06) recommending that H.B. No. 2696, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2696, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

At 7:05 o'clock p.m., Representative Caldwell requested a recess and the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 7:13 o'clock p.m.

The Chair announced:

"Thank you very much members of the House for your patience and indulgence. We are on Stand. Com. Report No. 728, the Chair would like to acknowledge Representative B. Oshiro."

At this time, Representative M. Oshiro withdrew his previous motion that Standing Committee Report No. 728-06 be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2696, HD 2, pass Third Reading, and Representative B. Oshiro withdrew his second.

Representative M. Oshiro then moved that notwithstanding the recommendation of Standing Committee Report No. 728-06, that H.B. No. 2696, HD 2, be recommitted to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried with Representatives Halford, Sonson and Waters being excused.

At 7:14 o'clock p.m., the Chair declared a recess, subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 7:15 o'clock p.m.

Representative Herkes, for the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 775-06) recommending that H.B. No. 2589, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2589, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Moses rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I have here a letter from the University of Hawaii at Manoa, Department of Psychology, from Elaine M. Heiby, Ph.D. I'm in opposition to the measure. She is of the UH Manoa Department of Psychology and her job is to train clinical psychologists so I guess she knows what she's talking about. Again, she is a psychologist.

"She says, 'This bill will permit licensed psychologist to prescribe medication with less medical training than any other prescribing professional. The bill requires less than half of the training of most practitioners, and less than one third the training the physicians must undergo in order to prescribe medication.'

"She says, 'The psychologists who wish to enhance access to psychoactive drugs can currently do so by completing the required and widely accepted training for advanced nurse practitioners or physicians. Psychologists have done so in many states. This solution to concerns about access requires no legislation, no new training programs that duplicate those already offered at the University of Hawaii, and no new regulatory agents. Had psychologists who've been pursuing the privilege to practice medicine for the past 15 years undergone training in nursing and medicine, there would be no access problem in the State of Hawaii.'"

Representative Green rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. It's late and I won't go over all the points just now about why we need to do this. But I would like to make one or two quick points. Colleagues, the people that we're specifically here to fight for the people that don't have a voice here at the Capitol, that don't have a voice in healthcare. They are often not registered voters. They certainly don't have the capacity to wave signs or to support us in our campaigns. That's not the reason that we're here. We're here because these people have great needs. They don't have fax machines to fax us testimony. They don't have telephones, in many cases, to call. These are people that are often very poor, or people who have very severe mental health problems.

"I've personally, colleagues, seen too many suicide attempts and too many suicides completed, in person, in the emergency department, to tell people with mental health problems that we're not going to seek new ideas to get them care. It just is not going to be okay. I'd like to devote this bill to a gentleman named Baron. And when I say that, I want to say also that we will honor the dead, because Baron is dead. He died two weeks ago. He was a gentleman, a Hawaiian, who had schizophrenia. He didn't die from his schizophrenia. He died from diabetes and heart disease at age 49.

"He was an incredibly nice person who lived in Ka'u. But because he had schizophrenia and he didn't get care, all too often he couldn't even think clearly enough to get his medications. I saw him in the emergency department almost every single time I was on call. His family couldn't take care of him. He could not get care. He couldn't get his medicines. The Ka'u Mental Health Clinic, woefully understaffed, has no providers. The Ka'u Community Health Center that has a doctor has always been in flux; often in flux since I left there as it's primary care provider a couple of years ago.

"This gentleman is the person we're looking out for. The people that don't have care. We can make every argument; we can hear every argument from people who have interests as psychiatrists, good providers of care. We can listen and read letters that come out of the blue, but we won't hear those voices that are crying out for help. We need to take care of the people that can't get it otherwise. We're here as Legislators. We're here to produce new ideas. We're here to take care of people. So colleagues, please pass this bill. Think of the gentleman named Baron who had schizophrenia and could not get any care. That is the real reason we are here colleagues. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Yamane rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm standing with reservations. I want to stand and explain my reservations on this bill. The issues that have been expressed, I've worked with both professions. I've worked with psychologists, as well as psychiatrists. I've been working with adolescents since 1990 in a number of areas. The concerns brought out about the psychologists' qualifications to be able to prescribe medications, to me, are very valid. I have strong reservations and I hope that as this measure passes through, that these issues are addressed.

"However, I've also done social work in areas in Puna, Waimea, Honokaa, Kohala; and on Waianae, Waimanalo. And I've worked in areas dealing with rural issues. The reason why I think these issues need to continue in the discussion is, as a provider we had difficulty getting the appropriate services to communities. We need to solve that problem. So that is why I think this measure should continue on for further discussion. Thank you."

Representative Kanoho rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support but with reservations. I just want to express my appreciation that the bill has narrowed the exclusionary formulary list, number one. And number two, the prescribing psychologist has to be employed or contracted, will practice the prescribing authority, at a federally qualified health center or health clinic, in a medically underserved area. And this prescribing psychologist must do so under the supervision of a psychotropic prescribing authority. Thank you."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I have reservations on this measure. We've all received a lot of testimony, but one caught my eye because this is from a Dr. Kenneth Hirsch. I noticed it because he said he has a Ph.D. in clinical psychology and an MD with board certification in psychiatry. He is opposed to this measure. He points out that although this is based on the Department of Defense Psychopharmacology Demonstration Project, that the bill before us does not even begin to come up to the standards of the Department of Defense measure. He says that it does not even approach the requirement in the very successful program by which Advanced Practice Registered Nurses may prescribe in Hawaii. So if this passes, the training for psychologists will have to be 'beefed up'.

"Where the bill requires only 450 hours of didactic training, the DOD program requires over 2,000 hours. This bill requires only 400 hours of supervised practice by a physician, and not necessarily a psychiatrist, compared to the DOD program which requires over 2,000 hours. This bill allows medications to be given to the elderly and to children, and the Department of Defense program did not allow that. This bill permits independent prescribing practice by psychologists after an additional two years supervised practice, not necessarily under the supervision of a psychiatrist. It is getting late.

"But it could be very dangerous, especially if the allowed formulary allows mood-stabilizing agents which are very dangerous. The Formulary Advisory Committee has more psychologists than doctors or psychiatrists, and there's an imbalance there.

"So this bill needs quite a bit of work. I understand the Department of Defense program was discontinued and it was not very successful. We'll have to be fed-up if we're going to pass this. Thank you very much."

Representative Arakaki rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support. I would like to start by commending my Vice Chair. This is about the fourth year that we are considering a measure like this. Last year was the first time that we seriously considered such a proposal, but rather than push it through, we decided to study it further. The Vice Chair was tasked with forming a taskforce to come up with a reasonable proposal for this Session. And true to form, I think all of us as legislators realize how important the art of compromise is. We had probably the perfect person heading this taskforce; a medical doctor who knows about prescribing, and also one who works in a rural area. So I thought he would really search for a fair and reasonable compromise.

"But obviously, like all the other prescriptive privileges, the ones giving up part of their privilege or giving up ground are not going to go quietly. They always have to be pulled in kicking and screaming. I think without this bill, there wouldn't be any compromise. Although it's been diluted quite a bit, I think it's a reasonable start, and a reasonable place to demonstrate. I believe we put in all safeguards. There is a sunset. There is a requirement for a study. So I believe we are taking a cautious approach. The real thing we have to focus on is how do we care for our people who need it the most? And how do we provide access to the care?

"Again, my kudos to the Vice Chair. I know it was a frustrating experience. Unfortunately at times, we have to take measures like this to bring people together. I believe this is a start. I hope the Members will support this and move the measure along. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising in opposition to this measure. I had a nice speech I wanted to give, but I can't find it so I guess everybody's pretty lucky. I'm just going to ask that I can insert it in the Journal," and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Meyer's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am very much opposed to House Bill 2589, which seeks to make exceptions in the rigorous standards in place for the mental health care profession. As pointed out in the testimonies accompanying this bill, it would be extremely dangerous to entrust psychologists with the ability and authority to prescribe prescription drugs to mentally ill patients. It has been compared to giving an engine mechanic the keys to an airplane full of people and wishing him good luck, or allowing someone who has read a lot about surgery to perform operations without supervision. While the bill provides some additional requirements for psychologists to be able to prescribe, and limits the drugs at their disposal, it still is a very careless way of dealing with our mentally ill population.

"Entrusting inadequately trained psychologists with limited education and no background in medicine, the responsibility of deciding what drug to prescribe for a mentally ill person is a dangerous thing to do. This could easily create a situation where the psychologist misdiagnoses the patient's condition and the drug he prescribes makes the illness worse and creates additional problems both mental and physical.

"Lowering the standards for the education and preparation for medical doctors to prescribe treatments would be scoffed at, so why are we entertaining a bill that would do the same for the mental health professional? Mr. Speaker, are minds not as important as bodies? The mind is, perhaps, more sensitive and more important than the body and deserves greater care in the treatment of its illnesses, not lesser substitutes."

Representative Schatz rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to disclose a potential conflict of interest. I'm the Executive Director of a not-for-profit that provides psychiatric services to adults with mental illness," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Harbin rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition, with a no vote. I'm very concerned when we start diluting the practice of medicine into the hands of psychologists. I fear for incidents of psychologists prescribing medications that could run counter to other medications that patients are on considering they may not themselves know what the counter reactions are.

"I've talked with numerous physicians, psychiatrists, and just regular doctors, pediatricians. They have very, very deep concerns about this type of a measure. I also wonder if we're headed down a slippery slope. What's going to be next? Are psychologists going to be able to prescribe for workers' comp people who have mental problems or are depressed? I think we need to really, really take hold of what a physician is and what they go through to become a physician before we start giving away these very dangerous drugs into the hands of non-physicians.

Representative Marumoto rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I request a ruling on a potential conflict. My daughter is a psychiatrist," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, just brief comments about my reservations on this measure. I do want to say that I sympathize with my colleague from the Big Island, that he has needs, that he needs to fill it, that he has a void of need that he needs to fill. And I appreciate the services of the psychologists. My reservations is that this is an inconvenience to the line of authority, the collaborative effort. I believe that the collaboration should be with the psychologists and psychiatrists.

"Right now, this bill states that the psychologist works with a general practice doctor. I think that the potency of psychotropics need to be addressed by a psychiatrist. We now have telemedicine. We have cell phones and what not. If a psychiatrist is not available in these underserved areas, they can be reached through telephone conferencing, or telephone conversation, or any form of telemedicine that a collaborative effort can be achieved. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Sonson rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Whew. Mr. Speaker, I wish I could change my mind. I wanted to, but I can't. I'm voting no. Here's the reasons. What makes me want to vote no is the fact that we can discuss this and say the curriculum is enough or not enough. I don't think we're in a position to make a decision on that. I think the experts themselves, who are the psychiatrists and the psychologists will have to sit down together and form a formulation that says, 'Here, this is the curriculum that you need to do to fulfill. And here, this is the formulary that you are allowed to dispense.'

"What we need to take a look at, which really makes me want to vote no on this is that federally qualified health centers, for one, have federal legislation that does not permit their funding source to pay for psychiatrists. That doesn't mean that they can't pay for it with other money. They just choose not to. That seems to be clear. Because there are three different federally qualified health centers that do have psychiatrists. At the Waimanalo federally qualified health center, that's right here. It's on the same island where a lot of psychiatrists live. Why can't they contract? It seems to me that they choose not to. If that is the reason, the access issue is not true. It's created.

"It's created by federal legislation, and created by administration of these health centers choosing not to. The clincher really is that we can debate the sufficiency of the curriculum, but at the same time we say, 'Wait a second. There are primary doctors that went to med school. There are primary physicians in federally qualified health centers. There's no shortage of that. They can prescribe this medication, why don't they?' Well, the reason seems to be Mr. Speaker, is that they don't feel qualified to do so. If they are not qualified to do so, then we basically are looking at curriculum that may not be sufficient at all. So I'm totally confused by this.

"And I think that the taskforce did not do their job. They did not come up with a recommendation. It is not something that we in the Legislature ought to do. An example or a way we should do this is that the Chair of CPC told two parties, not in this bill but in another bill, who actually says go out and make a decision and then you come back. That's what we did last Session, but they did not come back with anything. I think it is premature for us to grant them this authority this year.

"There is also two states now in the nation that allows psychologists to prescribe, but we don't know how well they are doing. I think it's a good, prudent step for us to wait at least a year to see how they turn out. Using this time, we can have these parties again, together. I don't think that the consumers, our people, should be subjected to something that we in the Legislature who have no expertise to decide, decide on a law that will allow something that may be unsafe. That's why I'm very uncomfortable.

"But Mr. Speaker, I'm standing here in opposition, but I'm not saying that psychologists should not be allowed to prescribe. That is not it. I'm just saying that the bill in its current form is not something I could support.

"Let me point out something before I forget. This is supposed to be limited to the practice ... The scope of practice this bill allows is supposed to be only for federally qualified health centers and clinics in areas where they are underserved. But the words in the bill itself have to be clarified to ensure that it is only in these areas. Right now it just says if you are a psychologist with a certificate, and you are contracted to work at federally qualified health centers or clinics, then you can prescribe. But it does not say that you cannot have your own private practice and also prescribe. So it does not actually limit it, Mr. Speaker. It is a statewide certificate that you are allowed to practice this ..."

Representative Carroll rose to yield her time, and the Chair, "so ordered."

Representative Sonson continued, stating:

"It is late. Thank you, Representative. I don't have much time left because I'm confusing myself as I stand here. But I hope that this will clarify it for me, at least. But I want the psychologist to prescribe because, Dr. Hirsch who was mentioned earlier. I respect that man. He was a psychologist, now he's a psychiatrist. He actually said his mind, 'I don't have any opposition to that. We just have to ensure that they are qualified to do so.' And I think that between these two parties, very important, intelligent parties, to come up with some kind of resolution to this. It should not be left up to us. I'm very uncomfortable. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Herkes rose to respond, stating:

"Can I please correct something that the previous speaker said? In support. I did ask both parties to try to arrive at some compromise, and we met them extensively. Members of my staff spent hours. The psychiatrists would not move even a sixteenth of an inch. They were absolutely firm. The psychologists on the other side made great movement. On my own, to educate myself on this issue, I talked to the head of Hilo Hospital who said that there are 12 psychiatrists in Hilo. Only 2 have hospital privileges; the other 10 don't want anything to do with emergency room procedures. They don't want to do it.

"So what happens in Hilo Hospital is that the nurses are making the psychiatric evaluations in the emergency rooms. In the view of the head of the Hospital, it would be much better if it were a psychologist with some limited prescriptive authority making those decisions rather than the nurses.

"I called Ka'u Hospital. Well, there's nothing. There's nothing. And so the struggle with this issue was the argument on the side of the psychiatrists that psychologists weren't trained. And then the other side, the psychologists argued about the availability of the service. And there are so many in our position that comes from a very rural district, this is a very real issue for me. I have heard the same argument when we gave prescriptive authority to advanced practice nurses. It took several years to do that, and in the mean time, the doctors said to me, 'We will make sure that there is good medical coverage in Ka'u and South Kona.' It never happened. Never happened. And then when we gave prescriptive authority to APRNs, the doctors just gave us all kinds of reasons of how drastic that would be. Nothing ever happened.

"We did the same thing with dental hygienists when we gave them block anesthesia, and all of the concerns from the dentists. Never happened. We did the same thing with optometrists and ophthalmologists. If somebody out in Kohala had something in their eye, an optometrist couldn't take it out. They would have to drive into Hilo and go to an ophthalmologist, and that didn't make any sense. So we've been through this road a number of times. We've heard all the arguments, and the sky didn't fall in. We need the coverage. Dr. Green, the Representative from the 6th District is absolutely right, and he is closer to the issue than I am. But I'm pretty close to the issue. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Yamane rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I have to ask for a ruling on a potential conflict. In my pondering of the issues, I needed to explain that my direct supervisor and Executive Director of the non-profit that I work, is a licensed Ph.D. psychologist," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Ching rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition and a few remarks. When we think about our physical being and every part of who we are, to me in comparison, what could be more complex than the mind. It is the most complex part of the body. And I've had friends who are neurosurgeons. I had friends who are psychiatrists and psychologists. It's a very intricate, interesting, fascinating part of the body; the mind.

"When I think about who I would send my family to if they were in needed of some sort of care for that part of the mind, I just know that for me and my conscience, I wouldn't want my family going to anyone but a psychiatrist for certain things, because I respect that part of the body, as a complex part. And so to me, if I cannot have my own family take a second tier in their quality of care for such an important part of the body, I cannot with conscience vote for other people to have it."

Representative Hale rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I really have very different reasons for being in favor of this bill and I do support the bill. But this is a very difficult subject for me since I have a very emotional reaction because I lost my only son less than two years ago, who was schizophrenic. Therefore, I would like to put in the Journal my written remarks. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Hale's written remarks are as follows:

"My involvement with this issue has been very emotional since the death of my only son who was schizophrenic. I went to almost every psychiatrist in Hilo to try to help him, but none of them could. After hearing the testimony in the Committee on Health, I realized that maybe psychologists could help and maybe we should give them a chance with the proper education."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition with some comments. Mr. Speaker, like many have expressed, this is not an easy decision to make. We're talking about accessibility to medication for those who need it. And the reason why I'm going no, and I've actually kind of went back and forth, with reservations and no, throughout the past couple of weeks. One of my big reasons for going reservations is because I didn't want to hinder the ability of someone who is suicidal to get their medication.

"So one of the things I did was I went and I spoke to someone I trust tremendously, a friend of mine who is a pharmacist as well as a psychologist; now a practicing psychologist. And she told me that, for one thing, she would not want the liability of it. But for the second thing, she said, 'What's your concern?' and I said, 'Well, my concern is accessibility, and that those who have these schizophrenia and other types of mental disorders, that they get their medication, especially in the times where they are suicidal.' She brought up to me, and I guess the Representative from Kona would know whether or not this is true. But she basically said, 'If they're suicidal, then immediately take them to the emergency room. And forcefully take them to the emergency room.' I'm not sure if that's the cure. I don't think that that is the cure. But I also don't think that we should be looking at psychologist as prescribing as the cure as well, because there are risks that we take in making that decision as well.

"In regards to schizophrenia, my husband's father, that he did not grow up with throughout his childhood, was schizophrenic as well. One of the things in regards to schizophrenia is it just depends too. I know that every time he gets on that phone, he asks his dad, 'Are you taking your medication?' And he has full access to medication and to services. So, even though I still go back between reservations and no, I think I'm going to have to keep my no vote for now."

Representative Green rose to respond, stating:

"I guess I'll just close with, Mr. Speaker, that I do appreciate all the opinions that have been expressed. In the case of the gentleman or gentlewoman that has schizophrenic or suicidal problems, who actually is actively suicidal. Yes, we would like them to go to see a doctor. Yes, we would like them to see a psychiatrist. Yes, we would love them to get care in the emergency department. But they don't get there too often. That's exactly the crux of the problem.

"We don't have available services. This bill's about creating available services safely, in a collaborative relationship with the doctor. Having the psychiatrist work on the formulary. Having the psychiatrists and doctors work on the training period. This is about solving a problem and not putting it off a year. Not putting it off a decade, or a generation as people go untreated. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Arakaki rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, just one final comment. Again, in support. I really feel the need to support and defend my Vice Chair because I don't agree with the point that was made that the taskforce didn't do their job. I believe they did. But if there's no sincerity and no genuine collaboration, it's really difficult to do the job properly. I think he did do his best, and I believe he was the best person to lead this taskforce. As far as no one here being able to make this kind of determination, I believe we do have someone like that. Just as I would trust the legal opinion of the Chair of Human Services, I trust the medical opinion of my Vice Chair. What he prescribes, I totally agree with. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Sonson rose to respond, stating:

"I'm compelled to stand up to clarify something. When I said the taskforce did not do its job, I just simply mean, Mr. Speaker, that the taskforce did not come up with a recommendation that they should have come up; whether or not we should allow this legislation to go forward.

"I have complete confidence in my friend from the Big Island. He's a great guy. I know he did a great job, and I know for a fact that the parties did not agree. So it's not because of his leadership that it failed. It's because the parties themselves failed to come up with recommendations for this Body. I think for them doing that, it puts us in this position where we have to choose from one side or the other. It's a very uncomfortable position, Mr. Speaker. And I hope that as this bill goes forward however, it should focus not only on the perceived access issues, but also on the safety of our consumers."

The Chair then addressed the Members, stating:

"Thank you very much, Members of this House. I think we've had a lot of debate and discussion on this particular issue. The Chair recognizes that it is a very emotional issue, but is one where we have this lively debate, you can rest assured that your vote has counted."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2589, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PSYCHOLOGISTS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 29 ayes to 21 noes, with Representatives Berg, Chang, Ching, Chong, Evans, Finnegan, Harbin, Ito, Karamatsu, Magaoay, Meyer, Moses, Pine, Sonson, Stevens, Stonebraker, Tanaka, Thielen, Tsuji, Wakai and Yamashita voting no, and Representative Halford being excused.

At 7:48 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that HB No. 2589, HD 2, passed Third Reading:

STANDING COMMITTEE REPORTS

Representative Kanoho, for the Committee on Water, Land, & Ocean Resources presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 948-06) recommending that H.C.R. No. 30, as amended in HD 1, be adopted.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.C.R. No. 30, HD 1, be adopted, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you. Mr. Speaker, I'm rising in support of the resolution, but with some serious concerns if I may express them please. Thank you. Mr. Speaker, this resolution is asking the Hawaii Community Development Authority to immediately rescind any contract or agreement awarded or commitment made to Alexander and Baldwin for the development of Kakaako Makai. Then it further asks the HCDA, I believe to just to withdraw its request for proposals as well.

"The concern I have, Mr. Speaker, is that I think it's unrealistic for us to believe that that area can be developed with a lot of the things that we were hoping to see there for public purpose, unless there's an engine driving it that will bring in the money to allow the public purpose facilities to be developed.

"We can't expect HCDA without any money to go ahead and put in all of the different things that we had wanted -- the wish list of different improvements for the public.

"Alexander and Baldwin, granted, came up first with its three towers, residential towers that it planned to sell the fee interest in those condominiums to buyers. I can understand and I fully support opposing this sale of fee interest in the land, but I think that we need to really let HCDA look at a way that a much scaled back residential component for that area could work, where there would be rentals, workforce housing rentals. Moderate-income rentals that would be available for people that certainly work in Waikiki and the downtown core.

"If you create a sterile area where there are no people living, what you do is when you turn out the lights from the restaurants or whatever other facilities are there and go away then you're going to find the drug dealers will move in and other elements that you wouldn't like to have really be on our public land.

"If you have a live, thriving community which includes people living there, then you have a much more viable section of our makai lands.

"It's something that we're now saying to HCDA basically do the impossible. Go out and figure out how you can make the improvements, but you're not going to have a way to get the money to do them. We're not going to appropriate the money.

"So what will happen is the area gets fenced off and it stays kind of a disheveled area and maybe someday people will put something up on the fence saying, 'shortsightedness', that this could have been a viable multiuse area.

"So I'm concerned about tying HCDA's hands. We created that entity, or those who were here before us created that entity for a purpose and gave them the authority to move ahead with development and renovation of that area. We're now saying we're taking it away at least for a certain section of the lands.

"I think we really should think this out more. The measure will go over to the Senate and maybe we will just step back and say, 'Wait a minute, think of the areas that you have visited yourself where you have your combinations of different uses including residential.' And there are a lot of those not just on the mainland but I've been privileged to see some of those areas in the United Kingdom and the continent.

"They're alive, they're vibrant. People are out walking. People then go up to their homes. The areas aren't taken over by drug dealers and it's a much more viable way to have our makai lands be used. Thank you."

Representative Souki rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker, I wish to speak against this particular resolution. Thank you very much, if I can I state a few words please. Mr. Speaker, I never thought this would happen in all my years in the Legislature, but I wish to incorporate the remarks of the legislator from Kailua as my own. In fact, I'm going to have I think, a very difficult time sleeping tonight because of this remark here.

"But Mr. Speaker, I just want to go on to say that I think that is a gross exaggeration of the action of the Legislature on what has happened with HCDA and supposedly A&B. I believe we should not get involved at this point. It should be the responsibility of HCDA. We gave them that responsibility, we should not take it away. Thank you very much."

Representative Takai rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of this measure. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. As one of the Representatives for the Aiea, Pearl City area otherwise known as the heart of Oahu. I also represent the border of Pearl Harbor and one of the things we looked at for our community is what could have been for our community had it not been for development on the makai side of Kam Highway. And we struggled days and nights, weeks, months, and years understanding why either the City or the State or the landowners decided years ago to make development on that side.

"We have now as an approved plan, the Pearl Harbor Historic Trail which stretches the entire border of Pearl Harbor and goes all the way out to Ewa. But one of the frustrations that we have in our community is that despite the fact that we have this beautiful easement set aside, the old Oahu rail line and also Kam Highway right next to it, there's still huge ugly edifices, buildings, concrete that mars our scenic view from Kam Highway makai.

"And I think that this measure, our hope is to preserve whatever we can for the makai property, makai of Ala Moana Boulevard in the area of Kakaako. And for the reasons that we face in our community, I recommend to our colleagues to support this and encourage HCDA to get rid of this idea of creating huge towering towers makai of Ala Moana Boulevard for that particular parcel. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Nishimoto rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Souki be entered in the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I'm going to vote for this resolution but with some grave reservations because I believe it could open us up to lawsuits big time.

"I would be much happier if the resolution was addressed to Alexander and Baldwin, asking that corporation to rescind the agreement and also asking HCDA to allow A&B to revise its plan if possible, to have shops and restaurants and park extension, cultural center, hula stage, a farmer's market. We need to find a way to pay for these amenities.

"If HCDA aborts the project unilaterally, the State will get sued. Probably not, since Alexander and Baldwin is a good, responsible corporate entity, but more importantly we will lose construction projects and a nice economic development area. We will lose many jobs and many happy places to be able to enjoy life under the Hawaiian sun.

"Colleagues, there's still time to broaden this House Concurrent Resolution so that it is not so drastic. Please think about it. Thank you."

Representative Halford rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Kanoho rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, in support with a few comments. Mr. Speaker and Members, it was not without considerable deliberation that this resolution was introduced and passed.

"Clearly, the sentiments of the public had not been served with the plans that have been issued. And there lies the problem, that the Kakaako Waterfront business plan did not engage the public. And so the public was really unaware of what it looked like and unfortunately throughout the RFP process because of the confidential nature of the RFP process the plans could not be shared until one was selected, and then there was an uproar.

"And so while this Chair is hopeful that we can have such things as the residential component, leased of course, and enabling affordability for people such as school teachers, and firemen, or policemen. This resolution is silent on that.

"The resolution asks that HCDA continue actually going back to square one and be sure that the public is engaged in all of its future plans and for all those reasons I think that this is an appropriate approach.

"Although, usurping previously given authority to any State agency is a very, very serious matter. But without this it appeared that HCDA would have continued with the issuance of accepting that response to the RFP, which clearly would not have been in the public's interest. Thank you."

Representative Moses rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. I like to have the words of the speakers from Kailua and Waialae entered as if my own," and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Moses continued, stating:

"And I just want to add, this is rescinding authority from an agency that we gave authority to but more than, we're opening ourselves up to liability, I believe. And we're not really getting anything fixed.

"If we wanted to just fix the problem, again ask A&B to voluntarily rescind, or at least delay, go back to the public, modify whatever, but don't just kick them out. We're just telling them get out and I'm just wondering if the force behind this resolution isn't really to get A&B out of the project and to open it up for somebody else to step in. Because we're not telling HCDA not to do anything there.

"We're telling them to go back to the public and then come back with another proposal with another developer. And I'm just wondering if there isn't more behind this than what we can see on the surface. Thank you."

Representative Stevens rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker. In support. I have been following this issue because I lived there for several years. And there really was not much public input in the planning process that HCDA followed prior to issuing the RFP. Actually, there was in their HCDA's own rules and regulations, it was prohibited to have residential on the makai side of Ala Moana.

"However, at a board meeting that was very sparsely attended and very poorly advertised, they changed the rules to allow residential on the makai side and that was actually after the RFP had been issued asking developers to provide plans with residential on that side.

"So the process that was followed for the RFP was difficult at best and it was difficult for the residents to understand. For that reason, I'm very much in support of taking a step back, allowing the RFP to be rescinded and revised, start again. And I don't see anything in this resolution that prohibits A&B from reapplying to the new RFP or any other plan or any other developer who would like to apply. For those reasons and many of the reasons mentioned by the Chair of the Water, Land, and Ocean Resources Committee, I stand in support of this resolution. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose in support of the measure with reservations, and asked that the remarks of Representatives Thielen and Marumoto be entered in the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pine rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representatives Marumoto and Thielen be entered in the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.C.R. No. 30, HD 1, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION URGING THE HAWAII COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT AUTHORITY TO IMMEDIATELY RESCIND BOTH ITS REQUEST FOR PROPOSALS AND ANY CONTRACT OR AGREEMENT AWARDED, OR COMMITMENT MADE, TO ALEXANDER & BALDWIN PROPERTIES, INC., FOR THE DEVELOPMENT OF KAKAAKO MAKAI," was adopted, with Representatives Halford, Moses, Nishimoto, Pine and Souki voting no, and with Representatives Cabanilla, Chang, Harbin, Meyer, Nakasone and Stonebraker being excused.

STANDING COMMITTEE REPORTS

Representative Ito, for the Committee on Public Safety & Military Affairs presented two reports:

(Stand. Com. Rep. No. 949-06) recommending that H.R. No. 9, be adopted; and (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 950-06) recommending that H.C.R. No. 15, be adopted.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the reports of the Committee be adopted, and that H.R. No. 9 and H.C.R. No. 15, be adopted, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Moses rose to speak in opposition to both measures, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, if I could I would like to take them both together. Thank you, I'm rising in opposition to both measures. I have no problem with the Legislature knowing what's going on with Homeland Security and due deference to the originators of these bills, but I'm concerned about some of the language and some of the things that are involved in it.

"Under the 'be it resolved', it says that a plan that is submitted to the Legislature must include, one, an assessment of the threat of the terrorist incident. And two, the development of plans to deal with terrorist incidents. Three, training and exercises to implement such plans. And four, the procurement of equipment, materials, and supplies essential to meet the potential threats of conventional, chemical, biological, radiological, and nuclear weapons.

"If you look at that, Mr. Speaker, what we're doing is we're telling the enemy exactly where our vulnerabilities lie, what we're trying to do to assess it, and the equipment, etc., that we're using to correct those vulnerabilities, which just tells them exactly where to attack us.

"Also the Department of Defense and I believe, that the House Resolution is unnecessary, both of them. The State Homeland Security Implementation Strategy or plan is approved by the US Department of Homeland Security as a prerequisite to obtain a Homeland Security grants, so it's already approved by somebody.

"Emergency response organizations at the State, County, and federal levels to include certain nongovernmental organizations have collaborated in developing a Hawaii Homeland Security implementation strategy or plan. The plan includes risk assessments, goals and objectives to reduce these risks, measures to implement national preparedness goals for all hazards including terrorism. The State and county programs that address training exercises and equipment acquisition.

"And from its inception initially as the domestic preparedness program of the US Department of Justice, and through this transfer and transition under the US Department of Homeland Security, the program has increasingly targeted to reduce our vulnerabilities and improve our response capabilities as the first responder or county level.

"Again, Mr. Speaker, I understand the Legislature wants to make sure that our residents are safe and looked after. And I agree with that and I agree with those concerns. But you've got to understand, if we publish this document, and we as the Legislature, and it has to be published because if it's given to us it's a public document. It's made available to anybody who asks. If we publish this document, anybody out there knows where our weaknesses are, our vulnerabilities, what we can and cannot do, how far away we are from sealing the breaches if you will, and it's just very dangerous I believe.

"I have an alternative to offer and that might be that we establish a committee in this Legislature, it could be in both bodies. And this committee would have members that seek and receive national background checks and therefore security clearances. And through then entitled to receive this information that is maybe otherwise classified. They're also then sworn to secrecy and cannot divulge it. And even the Office and Information Practices will understand the security clearance and secured information under that is not able to be given to the public.

"So that's my offer, Mr. Speaker. If you will, my suggestions how we can do this so we can get the information as a legislative body and yet keep it secure and safe from anybody who wishes us harm. Thank you."

Representative Stonebraker rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him on both measures, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her on both measures, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ito rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support. Mr. Speaker, these resolutions request the State Department of Defense to present the Homeland Security plan to the Legislature. We're not asking them to reveal any sensitive, top secret, or classified information.

"All we all are merely doing is asking them to provide us with the general knowledge of the State's priorities and how the more than $45 million in funding from the federal government is being spent. That's all we're asking.

"How can we assure Hawaii's citizens that our State is secure from the threat of terrorism without knowing that our current Homeland Security plan has addressed the unique situation as an island state?

"Our docks, harbors, utilities, airports, and even aquifers for drinking water. We need to know these essential components of our economy and well-being are being safeguarded. I urge all of you to support this resolution. Thank you."

Representative Halford rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him on both measures, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching rose in support of both measures with reservations, and asked that the remarks of Representative Moses be entered in the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Stevens rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her on both measures, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Sonson rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

"In support, Speaker. I request that the words of the Chair of Public Safety be entered in the Journal as my own also," and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Sonson continued, stating:

"And further comment. Any federal funds that come through the State do not belong to an agency or the department that it goes to. Any federal funds that go to the State of Hawaii belongs to the State of Hawaii and its people.

"An expenditure, federal funds or general funds, does belong to the Legislature; the appropriation rights by Constitution. The Constitution directly says that it is the Legislature that has oversight on all expenditures. It doesn't matter where the money comes from, Mr. Speaker. We as a Legislature have a right to make sure that this money will go to its best use no matter where it comes from. This resolution merely does that.

"It ensures that we exercise our duty as a legislative body to ensure that the funds go and purchase services or whatever it goes to, to ensure that it is, well ... So that we get the best 'bang for the buck.' Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the reports of the Committee were adopted and H.R. No. 9, entitled: "HOUSE RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE TO PRESENT A HOMELAND SECURITY PLAN TO THE LEGISLATURE," was adopted, with Representatives Finnegan and Moses voting no, and with Representatives Berg, Harbin, Luke, Meyer, Nishimoto, Saiki and Thielen being excused; and

H.C.R. No. 15, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE TO PRESENT A HOMELAND SECURITY PLAN TO THE LEGISLATURE," was adopted, with Representatives Finnegan and Moses voting no, and with Representatives Berg, Harbin, Luke, Meyer, Nishimoto, Saiki and Thielen being excused.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 952-06) recommending that H.B. No. 1900, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be placed on the calendar for Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1900, HD 1, pass Second Reading and be placed on the calendar for Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Halford rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'd like to vote in favor of this and bring up an important reservation."

The Chair then stated:

"Representative Halford, can we address your reservations on Third Reading since this is just Second Reading? This is just a voice vote at this point. Or would you like to state ... Okay, please proceed, with reservations."

Representative Halford continued, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I will defer to you if you will give me a little extra time. Thank you."

The Chair then stated:

"You'll get your minimum or five minutes. Yes."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1900, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE STATE BUDGET," passed Second Reading, and was placed on the calendar for Third Reading with Representatives Berg, Harbin, Luke, Meyer, Nishimoto, Saiki and Thielen being excused.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

H.B. No. 1900, HD 1:

Representative Takamine moved that H.B. No. 1900, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Kawakami.

Representative Takamine rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this measure.

"Mr. Speaker, the budget process has always been a collective effort. We've always acknowledged the effort of the many individuals who've worked long and hard on this product, but perhaps this year it's even more important to do so. Because there was so much demand on the resources available, it was even more critical that this budget be the result of many voices and that it could strike a good balance.

"I'd first like to thank the Leadership and all the Committee Chairs for providing the framework for this budget. All the hard work of the various interim workgroups led by your Committee Chairs as they held hearings and briefings statewide to find answers to the critical issues we face today, all have culminated in the priorities of this budget.

"I'd also like to thank the efforts of the members of the Finance Committee. Beginning last summer – in August – the Finance Committee members embarked on the site visits that would encompass all islands. These visits allowed us to see first hand the challenges faced by our various communities. Following the site visits, we began budget briefings in earnest about 3 weeks before the Session opened, Mr. Speaker. I'd like to thank the Members of the Committee for their support and for asking the tough questions during the very long budget briefings.

"Mr. Speaker, I'd like thank the Finance Committee staff for all their hard work in organizing our site visits, and for their dedicated service and long hours in analyzing the details of the budget and the other bills that affect the budget. They made a tremendous difference.

"Mr. Speaker, I would be remiss if I didn't acknowledge the hard work of your Grants-in-Aid subcommittee Chair, Representative Magaoay. Although we have not included any operating Grants-in-Aid in the budget at this time, he has a difficult task in helping us to prioritize over $45 million in Grants-in-Aid requests from across the State. I would also like to thank Representative Nakasone and his staff, Ron and Lani, for all their hard work on the CIP budget. Just to give you an idea of the challenge he faced, Mr. Speaker, we all know that the budget submitted by the Governor had over $260 million in additional CIP projects. The Grant-in-Aid requests alone, that we received this year totaled over $180 million.

"And finally, Mr. Speaker, I'd like to acknowledge and thank the tremendous contribution of Vice Chair Kawakami. Not only has she made sure that the Committee is well fed, but her insight and knowledge of the budget has been invaluable over the years. Vice Chair, thank you for all your support over the years.

"Mr. Speaker, a responsible government, like a responsible family, balances taking care of the needs of today with planning and investing in the future. We care very much about the well-being of the next generation, so investing in that future is not a luxury, it is a necessity. In many respects, Mr. Speaker, we are beneficiaries of a legacy of sacrifice that created many opportunities and a better quality of life for all of us. We owe it to our children to honor and follow in the footsteps of our parents and grandparents who sacrificed so much so that we could enjoy better lives.

"With this in mind, Mr. Speaker, we began this Session with a projected budget surplus much greater than any other year. For the first time in a long time, we didn't begin the Session wondering where we would be forced to cut the budget. However, with over a decade of pent up demand for numerous programs and projects, deciding what to fund was perhaps even more challenging.

"Mr. Speaker, the choices we make reflect our values. The choices we make reflect on the values we have learned from our parents and our kupuna.

"We value education and believe that our children deserve a safe, clean, and stimulating learning environment.

"We value lifelong learning and knowledge, and believe that investing in higher education will not only help prepare our workforce for the future, but will also inspire new ideas and new industries.

"We value people and believe that everyone should be provided with basic needs such as food, healthcare, shelter, and safety.

"We value economic strength and diversification. We believe that investing in our economic infrastructure will be the key to our ability to provide satisfying, well-paying jobs for our citizens."

Representative Takai rose to yield his time, and the Chair, "so ordered."

Representative Takamine continued, stating:

"We value our energy resources, and understand that our quality of life depends on our responsible use of those resources. Finding new ways to conserve energy, and developing the technologies that allow us to decrease our dependence on oil are important priorities.

"The extent of the projected surplus provides us with a unique chance to make substantial progress in improvements to our infrastructure, that has long suffered neglect. At the same time, we have an historic opportunity to enhance and invent a continuum of services, to ensure long-term economic growth and support the essential services and programs. Mr. Speaker, to that end, the budget before us does the following.

"It invests in the Department of Education and the University of Hawaii system not only to fix our public schools and university facilities, but to better prepare our children.

"It provides resources to assist the homeless population and ensure the availability of affordable housing now and in the future.

"It creates high quality jobs by ensuring the availability of venture capital for high technology corporations.

"It initiates and funds educational and workforce development programs to ensure our ability to fill the demands, created by a robust job market, especially as it applies to the high quality jobs.

"It increases healthcare coverage by enhancing or increasing efforts to insure more people and providing critical funding to rural health clinics and hospitals,

"And, Mr. Speaker, it protects the people of Hawaii by retrofitting public facilities to serve as emergency shelters in case of disasters.

"Mr. Speaker, our children are our most precious resource. Our first, and perhaps our greatest, single priority is to ensure them a safe and prosperous future. That future begins in a safe, clean, and productive learning environment. The Finance Committee and the Ways and Means Committee dedicated many hours traveling to various schools and colleges across the State.

"Throughout all our visits, there was one message that we heard loud and clear. "Please fix our schools."

"Mr. Speaker, we can't expect our children to learn if the roof is about ready to fall on their heads. We can't expect our children to have the best attitude about learning if the walls have holes in them. We can't expect our children to learn if they don't have supplies or textbooks. We can't expect our children to learn if the lights are going to be turned off on them.

"When we examined the Governor's budget, we found that she provided the DOE with $40 million for repair and maintenance of our schools. Mr. Speaker, that's simply not enough. The DOE has a backlog of over $520 million.

"In House Bill 1900 House Draft 1, we have provided over $230 million to fix our schools, which will be a substantial step forward. This includes $160 million that will allow whole school renovation of 96 schools statewide; and another $75 million for major repairs and maintenance.

"We also provide critical funding for basic needs such as electricity and student transportation that was significantly underfunded in the Governor's submittal. The Governor's budget, for example, only provided $5.3 million for electricity. Once again, that's not enough. The DOE needs $13.1 million to make sure the lights don't go out on our children. Mr. Speaker, the budget proposal before you, fully funds this essential need.

"The Department of Education has done a good job of getting the State out from under court oversight in the Felix consent decree. But we are not out of the woods yet. We're better at identifying those children who need additional help, and we're getting better at providing the services that these children need. The $17 million plus we're adding to the budget will serve children with special needs, those who are medically fragile, suffer from autism, or just need a little more help from an occupational therapist or a speech pathologist.

"Another category of students, the gifted and talented, have long been ignored because, during times of more limited resources, there were other students who appeared to have greater needs. This budget includes funding for those top achievers in our public schools. We know that this investment will support and assist these students in their quest for excellence.

"Mr. Speaker, on many occasions, we have talked about building a strong foundation for our future, on this House floor."

Representative Luke rose to yield her time, and the Chair, "so ordered."

Representative Takamine continued, stating:

"Today we put our money where our mouth is. When totaled up, this budget proposal invests over $350 million additional dollars in our children. Mr. Speaker, let me say that again. When we total the funding for our public schools, we are investing more than $350 million additional dollars in our children.

"This is an investment that will pay big dividends, Mr. Speaker. This is a major investment in our future quality of life.

"Mr. Speaker, we could have the best primary educational system available, but it would be wasted, if it wasn't also a door to higher learning opportunities. In the course of our statewide visits, we found that our Community College System and University System was suffering from a very similar problem - decaying infrastructure. The Governor proposed to provide the University System with just $10 million to address all of its critical repair needs. Once again, that's simply not enough.

"The UH system has a backlog of over $160 million. Our budget proposes over $80 million to take a major bite out of the repair and maintenance backlog. But this is only a beginning Mr. Speaker. After adding up the many programs and opportunities funded in this budget for higher education, we are investing over $150 million additional dollars. Again, Mr. Speaker the investment in our students, to have them be prepared for higher quality jobs, and to ensure a highly educated and skilled workforce is an additional $150 million.

"Mr. Speaker, when you add $350 million to $150 million for our public schools and University of Hawaii, this is significant and meaningful investment in our public education system. This also reflects longer term planning and investment over instant gratification.

"Mr. Speaker, all of this would matter less, if we didn't have a strong economy and challenging jobs waiting for our children when they are ready to enter the workforce. The budget before you provides long-term and short-term solutions to support various segments of our economy and create more jobs.

"The Hawaii Innovations Partnership Special Fund will provide valuable venture capital funding to fledgling technology companies that are ready to take it the next level, and in the process, create jobs that our graduates can attain without having to leave home for the mainland

"A new College of Pharmacy at UH-Hilo, and support for the John A. Burns School of Medicine, the Cancer Research Center, Centers for Disease Control facility, and Nursing School all will ensure that Hawaii has a core workforce in the health and life science industries. These are all high value segments of a diversified economy that is quickly reaching critical mass in Hawaii."

Representative Kawakami rose to yield her time, and the Chair, "so ordered."

Representative Takamine continued, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, we are at a turning point in our State's history. The many sacrifices that we have collectively made, have brought us to this point where economic diversity is no longer just a buzz-word, it is part of reality, and it is starting to blossom. We stand on the edge of a brighter future for the State that has its origins on a foundation built over a decade of visionary, steadfast, and difficult decisions.

"We have long lamented Hawaii's dependence on tourism. But after a decade of work, after a decade of supporting legislation to diversify the economy, we are finally seeing the results. I hearken back to your opening day speech, Mr. Speaker, and the talented, motivated individuals representing our fledgling high tech industry who joined us on the floor of this House that morning. The timing couldn't have been better. Technology, life sciences, diversified agriculture, construction, these are the industries that are burgeoning in Hawaii, and will sustain our State into the future.

"Mr. Speaker, in the process of building a stronger, more prosperous Hawaii, we cannot lose sight of our responsibility to the most vulnerable in our communities. If we are to invent a new future for us, we cannot afford to leave anyone behind.

"Many economists have advised us that we're too late to do anything about the affordable housing crunch. That doesn't mean that we shouldn't tackle the problem head on. Increasing the inventory of affordable housing and rentals is the goal of several initiatives in the budget as well as other bills. Hand in hand with the issue of housing is support for our homeless population. As a start, $20 million has been set aside to provide for an array of services for this population.

"In addition, this budget provides over $34 million to decrease the number of people in this State without health insurance. It provides for dental services for low-income families; and supports our rural hospitals in the delivery of efficient, high-quality healthcare services.

"Finally, Mr. Speaker, we must be able to protect and care for our citizens in times of crisis or natural disaster. This budget continues the work initiated by your Committee on Public Safety and Military Affairs last year in trying to address the issue of outdated civil defense maps and facilities. Last year we provided resources to update our maps. This year, $10 million has been included to retrofit and harden public buildings that will be needed to serve as emergency shelters.

"Mr. Speaker, you started the 2006 Session with these words:

"Most parents work hard trying to make life better for their kids - better than it was for us when we were growing up. The value of doing this is taught by almost every religion and culture on the planet. It is called stewardship. We must be good stewards today to build a better Hawaii for tomorrow."

"Mr. Speaker, H.B. 1900 H.D.1, attempts to answer your call on opening day. It is about making life better for our children and the next generation. It is about investing in and strengthening, an already strong foundation for our future. And it is about acknowledging and honoring a special set of values, about making the necessary sacrifices, to achieve the longer term collective goals.

"I urge my colleagues' support for this measure. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Moses rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker, rising in support with comments. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

"First of all, I like to thank the hard working Finance staff they put in many long hours, lot of hard work in the physical preparation of the budget.

"Mr. Speaker, our current budget surplus of $574 million with another $50 million just forecast by the Council on Revenue, reflects prosperous times brought about by past practices such as tax decreases, investment in tourism, high technology and research, the health and life sciences, entertainment and film production industries, and supported by the reduction or streamlining of fees and regulations.

"Together they do promote a Hawaii open for business. We used the surplus to invest in public safety, healthcare, human services, alternative energy, transportation, and other infrastructure, and of course in education, both lower and higher. All of these are fundamental services needed to make our State a better place to live for us and our keiki. Yet, while investing in all of these areas, a choice was apparently made to disregard the hard working families in Hawaii whose taxes help generate these very large surpluses, even those earning at or near the poverty level.

"At most this Body passed out some small tax relief measures previously, but this budget allocates almost all of the $600 million surplus, not leaving anything for meaningful tax relief. While this Body takes great pride in investing in Hawaii's future, it appears that it doesn't recognize the need to invest in Hawaii's taxpayers, who after all, Mr. Speaker, are truly the economic engine of our State.

"Now I believe we would agree that our UH system and facilities are in need of funds. Especially the Manoa campus after the flooding. However, as the Rep. for Kapolei I must add, while support for a system is obvious in this budget, I note with some concern the lack of mention of the UH West Oahu Campus in this Committee Report, and insufficient capital funds for it. This is an institution needed to serve the fastest growing urban area in the State and the area designated as the Second City.

"And while I'm talking about Kapolei, I need to point out that the Judiciary Complex is faced with cost overruns, as are most other projects, due to high petroleum prices, as well as our booming economy, and low unemployment rate, and is likewise in need of more bond funding.

"These two major projects will not only bring jobs to West Oahu and reduce commute time, they are an investment in Hawaii's future.

"Moving on to lower education, I'm not opposed to spending more money on DOE required items, nor I believe, is anyone else. There are few causes more noble. None of us can condone a lack of books or paper in the classrooms, but where is the accounting? Where does the more than $2 billion the Legislature so generously appropriated to the Department of Education each year go? Again, I ask why do we see fit to appropriate funds for a specific type of textbooks? This year it's science. Two years ago, math. We are not abiding by the laws we previously passed in allowing each School Council to determine what their individual schools need. After all, each school is unique.

"Nor do we begrudge funding needed school repairs and improvements, nevertheless, whenever a large government bureaucracy is given too much money they may be unable to spend it in a proper and timely manner. In fact, according to Board of Education member, Breene Harimoto on January 25th, over the previous three years, $557 million have been appropriated to the Department of Education and the Governor had released $344 million of that. But of that amount, the DOE had failed at that time to spend over $149 million. The specific numbers may change, but the problem it illustrates remain."

Representative Stevens rose to yield her time, and the Chair, "so ordered."

Representative Moses continued, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Time and again, DOE has proved that they have the capacity to spend just over $100 million annually on such projects. So wouldn't it make fiscal sense to appropriate an amount the DOE has the capacity to spend? Of course it would.

"However, that is not what we have done. We have included an additional $256 million in this budget. Therefore we are preventing this money from circulating through the economy. Simply put, our tax dollars should be working for us, for all of us. Not tucked away under a mattress.

"Some will say the recent transfer of some DAGS personnel to DOE will solve the problem. I say that if this proves to be true and the backlog and encumbering funds is reduced, then we can and should give more.

"Surely we could invest our budget surplus more responsibly. Surely some of the money should go to tax relief for our hard working families who in turn would circulate it back in the marketplace and make our economy even stronger. After all, as the Committee report provides, the circumstances leading to the surplus are based upon tax relief measures.

"According to the Honolulu Star-Bulletin, what Hawaii needs is to change a tax structure that takes $373 a year from a single-parent of three, with income at the federal poverty level of $15,557. It extracts $470 from a two-parent family of four with poverty level income of $19,961. It collects $185 from a two-dependent parent earning just $13,000 at a minimum wage job.

"The lack of a meaningful tax refund and tax relief initiatives for Hawaii's residents remains a tremendous disappointment in this budget."

Representative Halford rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'll speak in support of the budget with some serious reservations. Mr. Speaker, while the numbers in the budget may be the best available, the realism and practical value of the numbers are uncertain.

"This Legislature, through our Legislative Auditor has never done regular and comprehensive performance audits. Never done regular and comprehensive management audits of all State activities. Performance audits and management audits are important for many reasons. In addition to being required by the State Constitution for one, anticipated scrutiny sharpens pencils.

"Mr. Speaker, if every program, department, agency anticipated regular management and performance audits. They knew every other year that it was coming, their management practices would improve right away. Their pencils would be sharper because they know scrutiny is coming, and that would save us money.

"If we did these management and performance audits, we would identify management practices that are counterproductive. And some of those management practices, Mr. Speaker, are driven by obsolete laws that we passed many years ago for probably for very good reasons, but now no longer are useful. There's an adage, a wise adage that if we're doing things like we did five years ago, we're doing them wrong. For us to be able to identify those areas that are obsolete, we need management and performance audits.

"Another reason is to identify non-performing programs. Mr. Speaker, you recall that the storeroom at the DOE, teachers for over a decade let us know that that was a wasteful program. They weren't getting the goods delivered and it was very inefficient. It wasn't until we did a management and performance audit that we saw how poor the performance was and we eliminated that program in deference to another way to get supplies to teachers.

"The list of good reasons for implementing management and performance audits goes on and on, but the bottom line is we need these audits in order to get value for the dollars we spend. Mr. Speaker, when I came into office, 1995 our budget was in the vicinity of $4 billion a year. Now we're discussing a budget that exceeds $10 billion a year. The growth in spending exceeds any reasonable economic measure. Whether it's increased wages, gross domestic product, just name a measure. The growth in our State's spending exceeds that and I don't know that we can say that the increase in services has gone up to match that increase in spending. I think we would find, Mr. Speaker, that when doing management and performance audits that it is wasteful spending, that is causing the increase in spending.

"Mr. Speaker, every State employee can tell you of waste in their own area that they work in. I say that without exception and Mr. Speaker, we need to do management and performance audits to identify waste, identify management practices that are nonproductive, and start giving our State our taxpayers value for the taxes they pay.

"Mr. Speaker, there's no need for anyone to yield their time. I know you would have given me extra time anyway since I had deferred to you on Friday, on Second Reading. Thank you very much."

The Chair then stated:

"Members, we have had a lot of discussion. For those of you who would like to submit your written comments on the proposed House Draft of our Budget Bill, you are given the opportunity at this present time because of the time constraints we are under. I think a lot of you were invited to a luncheon this afternoon with the Office of Hawaiian Affairs and the Chair would like to have all of you attend that particular luncheon."

Representative Waters rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I'll take one minute of your time and then I'll submit the rest to the Journal. In support.

"Everyday we struggle with issues like crime, drugs, and poverty. Daily we discuss and debate various solutions to these problems and invariably, the solution I always come back to is education. Education is the anti-drug, it is the anticrime, and it is the anti-poverty. The great equalizer, it's a means to raise one standard of living. Education opens doors, fulfills dreams, and is access to opportunity, therefore we must support education. That's exactly what this House budget does.

"It is providing over $150 million to the University of Hawaii. This money is for nursing, dental hygiene, teaching, social work, a construction academy, a pharmacy school, travel industry management, an academy for creative media, the College of Tropical Agriculture, the Medical School, cancer research, extending library hours, campus security, financial aid scholars, financial aid counselors. We are also providing or funding a B+ scholarship for Hawaii high school students who maintain a B+ average, a Hawaii scholar's program providing free tuition for our top students to stay at home and study here, and over $1 million for West Oahu – more than the Board of Regents had approved and asked for, and $84 million in repair and maintenance. Thank you."

Representative Waters' written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, your Committee on Higher Education worked hard to reach out to the University community, Administration, students, professors, and staff. Your Committee traveled to UH-Manoa, UH-Hilo, Hawaii Community College, and Windward Community College to listen to hours of testimony.

"At UH Manoa's Campus Center Ballroom, over 150 testifiers showed up and we listened to five hours of testimony.

"At UH Hilo and Hawaii Community College, over 50 testifiers came out on a weekend to testify at a five hour hearing—many of them so expressive that it brought us to tears.

"At Windward Community College, we sat in their cramped, crippled, deteriorating, library and heard three hours of testimony from Windward Students, followed by another two hours of testimony via telecom from each of the other community colleges.

"We heard impressive testimony of how community colleges have changed people's lives. How one student went from living under a bridge to becoming a journalist. Another, from abused wife and mother, to attorney at law. And yet another, from cold and hungry, living under a bridge, to a successful counselor."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would really like to have my five minutes, or less. I'll try to make it as quick as possible. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm with reservations. I did want to thank everyone for working so hard on this. I know it's not easy and it's still a work in progress, however, I did want to mention a few things.

"One of the big disappointments that I didn't see in this bill Mr. Speaker, is the lack of tax relief. It's a very important issue not only for our Caucus and individually, but also for the people of Hawaii.

"I do know that just in this weekend, in talking with a few friends of mine, how in this robust economy that we are finding that there are more and more people struggling. I have a friend of mine who is married, has two kids, has a foster child that she is now taking care of because the foster child came from a neglectful and abusive home. As well as one of her cousins that also his single parent passed away so she is taking care of this other child. They have to buy a home. The rental costs were getting up there so they went out and bought the cheapest home that they could find at $300,000. They make barely over $50 – 60,000, Mr. Speaker. And they are living paycheck to paycheck. They do not have any relief in sight for them.

"These are the people we are fighting so hard for to try to get some significant tax relief, because these are the people that are on the verge of either being homeless or not having food for their kids. One of the things that I just don't get is that we take money from them in the way of taxes to give it back to them in some kind of government assistance. Let them keep their money. Have some self-respect and pride. Allow them to keep some money in their pockets. I don't understand that.

"Aside from the property values going up, rising costs in health care, we talked about rent, property taxes, electric bills. In some family homes we don't spend any more, or use up any more electricity, but our bills are rising $50, $100, $150 a month. That's huge, as well as gas. We know that for a fact that our gas budgets are going up. For people who are making $50,000, even $100,000 in combined income, it's not much in Hawaii. That tax relief that is target to those who make $50 and below for a single income or a household income of $100 below, is not that much in Hawaii.

"I'd like to go forward and also talk about our education. Actually, you know what that's way too big of a subject to go into at this point and time, and I will save that for my written comments.

"Mr. Speaker, we need to look and we need to give them encouragement, people who cannot live from day to day. This is not ... When I fight for this, it's not this oblivious ... I see faces. I see faces of people who don't know what to do in our robust economy, getting raises, but even more so not being able to make it from paycheck to paycheck. That doesn't make sense.

"One of the other things that I just like to talk about is just the ability ... I know that I found it pretty hard to go through the budget to be able to find out what the plan is and what the overall plan is, and just as a suggestion, maybe next time we could give a little bit more than the 48 hours as a courtesy to people to be able to follow the budget. It doesn't seem like that the 48 hours, especially over the weekend when we can't make those calls to people to find out, you know, what's in it and all of that, that it would be much more transparent and it will allow the community be more part of this process.

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I have a lot more to say, but I will keep that for written comments. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, regarding the Department of Education section, 24.4 million for DOE transitioning to a single school calendar, I do not necessarily disagree, however, I would like to raise some concerns. I did not have the time to check to see if my understanding of this line item is correct or not. My understanding is that not all teachers will be treated the same. It seems to all be dependent on the amount of pay periods between the school schedule a teacher currently is on and the DOE single school schedule that is to be implemented. It is possible for some teachers to be paid this differential twice if they have made transfers among schools with different calendars in the past.

"In support of Act 51's Weighted Student Formula, we should be looking at how we can infuse any new operating money into the lump sum so that the priorities of the school level community can be implemented. Creating more line items in the budget makes it even harder for us to move forward with Weighted Student Formula's intent.

"Many, if not all, of these things that we are funding in the DOE budget are worthwhile items. I have participated in school level discussions indicating that if schools had some additional funds, the discussions of priorities would be funding student assessment software or more professional training or replacing counselors. My point is, the wisdom of the WSF is to force the money to be spent on student focus measures first instead of placing the bureaucracy needs first.

"In the Department of Human Services portion of this bill, the House is handcuffing the Executive again by directing TANF block grant funds to go straight into a "cash assistance only" spending mode instead of allowing these funds to be spent with the flexibility that TANF funds have during the first year. This first year's flexibility of funds allows states to be able to spend on prevention programs. When I inquired if there were other states in the nation that restricted funds in this way, I was told that no other state restricts it like Hawaii does. Most states are pushing for the flexible use of these funds for prevention measures and the Legislature's right to decide on how to spend it. But, none want this money to go straight into reserve. Also, we currently have 140 million dollars in reserves currently that can only be used for "cash assistance" payments.

"In this draft, the House underfunded Medicaid by 12.2 million for this fiscal year, encouraging DHS to rollover these payments to the next fiscal year. I believe this is bad policy. Medicaid payments already cause healthcare providers to suffer with the low reimbursement rates, we should not try to make it even more difficult for on their businesses by negatively affecting their cash flow. Why do we want to do this now that we have a surplus? We are telling DHS to purposely pay providers late. Decisions like these give government a bad rap.

"The CIP request for the Department of Hawaiian Home Lands I believed to be quite important for Hawaiians and affordable housing. Although I haven't had the opportunity to speak with Director Micah Kane, the recent awardee for being the Housing Advocate of the Year in 2005, I'm sure this may have some negative effect on their housing plans.

"I am sure that I am missing some other very important issues, however, I will look to this supplemental budget as a "work in progress".

"The overall totals for this budget looks like the House moved some cash spending over to GO Bond spending. This indicates to me that we are not being wise in our spending. In a time of a surplus we should not be replacing cash spending with borrowed spending, this is a way to surely pass on our bad habits to our children, the future tax payers of Hawaii.

"Lastly, it is extremely difficult to understand at this point whether or not we are going to be able to pass out a balanced budget. It would be more responsible of us to share with the public the House's 6 or 8 year financial plan so that we may envision what things will look like in the out years. I hope that as the Session nears the end, I will be able to put my full stamp of approval by endorsing the budget with a 6-year financial plan."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I am rising to speak in favor of the budget, and I would like to have my remarks in the Journal with the proviso that I just explained to you that my speech that I will insert has to do with the expenditure ceiling, the constitutional spending ceiling, which has a lot to do with the budget. Everything to do with the budget that's before us.

"The rebate provision of the Constitution, and the size of the budget will perhaps determine the rebate, and the possible amendment to the rebate, which may decrease the size of it. And therefore I see the rebate being a form of tax relief for our beleaguered taxpayers and I do hope that it is will be significant by the end of Session. Thank you very much."

Representative Marumoto's written remarks are as follows:

"I am rising to speak in favor of HB 1900, HD 1 and to point out that two important constitutional measures impinge upon this bill. I am speaking as a former delegate and member of the Finance Committee of the 1978 Constitutional Convention

"This House budget, as well as the budget proposed by the Governor, exceeds the constitutional general fund expenditure ceiling that is pegged on the average increase in the total personal index for the past 3 years. We have had a stupendous increase in revenues totaling over $600 million. But, of course, it is always better to have too much money rather than not enough. It's a good problem to have.

"The general fund ceiling was designed to keep the budget in line with the growth in personal income and, hand in hand with that is the rebate provision that directs the Legislature to consider a rebate when a large surplus occurs.

"One school of thought to deal with this embarrassment of riches, is one to which I subscribe. Budget carefully within the constitutional spending ceiling, then give a substantial portion of it back to the taxpayers.

"The other is to spend it all or tuck it away into special funds so that the amount is not reflected in the general fund; therefore, not subject to the spending ceiling.

"The most important aspect of this amendment is to let legislators know when we are going to bust through the ceiling. This way we can keep increases in check to parallel the increase in the economy and total personal income – or the TPI as established by the federal government.

"Any surplus can be returned to the taxpayer. At least this was how the 1978 Constitutional Convention envisioned our State finances. It proposed, and the people ratified, the Expenditure Ceiling. Then the Tax Rebate Amendment was also enacted so that the Legislature could determine, in surplus years, how much money could be rebated to Hawaii's people.

"We are barreling though the spending ceiling, and this is easy and painless to do. All we need on Final Reading is a declaration that we are doing this, mention in each appropriation bill that it is part of the problem, then we pass the bill by a 2/3 affirmative vote in both houses.

"We must still deal with the rebate when it exceeds a certain percentage from the previous year. In the past we have returned as much as $125 to each person. In other years we have given back only a dollar. But this year, there is a bill moving to be able to put a portion of the money into the Rainy Day Fund. If this passes, I don't think the taxpayer will see any tax relief this year or any year. Taxpayers deserve tax relief. We have not passed significant and broad tax breaks last week, and we speak up now to encourage positive action before we adjourn in May.

"I think there are those that don't want to return any money to the people and instead spend it all. But please do not forget that the Expenditure Ceiling and Rebate amendments were duly passed by the '78 Con Con and then ratified by our voters. Please remember that a rebate or tax relief are investments in Hawaii's people."

Representative Wakai rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this measure. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 1900 is a responsible document and can be described with a pair of words. I call it the 'repair and prepare' budget.

"With it, we are repairing our schools, our harbors, our roads, our stadium. We are also preparing for the rising tide of housing needs. Preparing for an eminent natural disaster, preparing our students for an ever changing workforce. Mr. Speaker, lawmakers of the past were responsible in deferring maintenance of our State's infrastructure because money just wasn't available back then. To do so now, would be sheer negligence.

"Having said that there is room for a tax relief as you so eloquently mentioned. That is evident with numerous bills we have passed out of the Finance Committee. Let me mention a couple of them or an assortment of them actually. We are broadening tax brackets, we have bills to provide an earned income tax credit, we have bills to increase a low income tax credit, increase of standard deduction, increase renewable energy tax credits, and encourage people to purchase long term care insurance with a tax credit.

"I'm not sure how the Representative from Kapolei can say we are disregarding families. These are not small tax relief measures. These are significant bills that will put money in the pockets of our residents.

"And let's look at a policy that does not allow for money to circulate in Hawaii. The Administration is addicted to sending money abroad. Last year we spent $33 million to send our inmates to prisons on the mainland. This year we added that figure by the sum of $11.7 million. How in the world does spending $45 million for prison inmates being sent to the mainland, circulate in our economy?

"The public deserves responsible, fiscal policy and Mr. Speaker, the public deserves this repair and prepare budget. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. I support the initiatives of this budget which reflect efforts at increasing the efficiency of the Department of Education. The educational system has a profound impact on a student's behavioral, emotional, social, and decision-making skills, values, self-esteem, and lifelong learning ability.

"There were measures introduced within the budget that attempt to address the long awaited hopes of students, teachers, families, and most of all taxpayers to see improvement in the educational system which serves the children of our State. It's appropriate that our priority should be to maximize our students' learning capacity and use current resources to pave the way for a child's healthy and successful development. Measures such as Certificates of Participation (COPs) and debit cards for public school teachers are valuable educational tools that would provide flexibility in education.

"However introduced this Session as well, were measures which would have addressed much-needed tax relief and it is a shame that these initiatives did not receive much recognition.

"My support for this bill is based on the legislation that presents the opportunity to improve the Department of Education's infrastructure and make the most of our taxpayers' hard earned dollars."

Representative Takumi rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Takumi's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I've mentioned a number of times on the Floor that the budget is not just a bunch of numbers and words, but it truly is a moral document that defines us as a collective body. It represents in a very real sense where we believe we must invest in so that we can realize the hopes and dreams of the people we represent.

"Other Members have and will touch upon various aspects of the measure before us. But let me take a few minutes to elaborate what it does for public education.

"When the Reinventing Education Act or Act 51 was passed in 2004, all of us who were here remember that, unfortunately, it became a political and partisan battle and resulted in the Governor vetoing the bill and everyone on the other side of the aisle supporting the Governor. I clearly remember attending a town meeting after the Session ended and the Governor's Senior Policy Adviser saying that he didn't think the Legislature could come up with something that would make the public school system worse, but with Act 51, we succeeding in doing just that and described it as "fake" reform.

"Yet, here we are two years later, and neither the Governor nor the Minority Caucus has proposed legislation that will denigrate or diminish Act 51 and I would like to express my appreciation for this.

"The measure before us continues what we did two years ago. It continues to acknowledge that effective change can only come from those who are stakeholders in the system. And it continues to realize that we must remain true to one of its main tenets: giving as much authority, autonomy and flexibility to the individual schools while at the same time providing the resources necessary to get the job done.

"This is of critical importance. We must allow and enable the system from the individual schools to the Superintendent's office to implement Act 51 in a thoughtful, patient and prudent manner. We must resist the temptation to go in another direction before the system has time to embrace this new change.

"I am reminded of educator William Bagley decrying the "waves and fads and reforms that sweep through the educational system at periodic intervals." He wrote this in 1907 and it's as true today as it was then.

"It really is about the basics. About schools, about students, and about teachers.

"Schools are undergoing tremendous change. Establishing school community councils. Developing academic and financial plans. Converting to a single school calendar. All of us have heard from schools in our districts that are dealing with the impact of the weighted student formula. Based on the BOE's recommendation, 140 schools ended up with fewer dollars than they had the previous year. There are 140 reasons why this is so, but nevertheless, it is clear that the comfort level is still not there on how to make the adjustment to this innovative approach. The House budget increased the amount going to the weighted student formula by $20 million.

"Make no mistake, Mr. Speaker. These dollars are not to make the schools that lost whole. We look forward to working closely with the DOE and the BOE to best ascertain how we can apply these additional funds to all schools in a way that is fair and transparent.

"Students need a safe and clean learning environment. The Governor described the current state of our schools as "peeling paint, lack of electrical power, broken fixtures or worse." We have heard this as well. The Executive budget had $40 million for CIP. We have quadrupled that to $160 million that will be dedicated for whole school renovation that will impact 96 schools. The Executive budget had $23 million. We have doubled that to $50 million and with last year's appropriation, it's a total of $75 million.

"Students need qualified teachers. The House budget includes $500,000 for advanced placement teacher training to ensure our gifted and talented students get what they deserve. We included over $17 million for special education needs to ensure our most vulnerable students are given an opportunity to succeed. We have also included over $1 million for ESL learners to ensure their transition into our society.

"Teachers need to determine student achievement. We have put in $175,000 so that all 10th graders can take the PSAT as a necessary benchmark of achievement. There is an additional $5 million for information technology to better enable the aggregation of critical data to help the teachers in the classrooms. We have appropriated $2 million for science textbooks as an addition to what we did in Act 51 when we did the same for math textbooks.

"Teachers need assistance in the classroom for expenses that we know they take out of their own pockets. There is $2.4 million so that every classroom teacher will receive a $200 debit card to be used as they see fit to help their students in the classroom. I would like to acknowledge the role of the Representative from Liliha in raising this in the first place. As I said on another day, a good idea is a good idea. After all, when it comes to education, let's do what is best for our students.

"Lastly, Mr. Speaker, there are other competing needs on the budget. I want to thank the Chair and Vice-Chair and members of the Finance Committee for putting a priority on education.

"I firmly believe that in the long run, the solution to prisons is education. The solution to human services is education. The solution to a strong economy is education. I urge all of us to support this measure. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 1900, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE STATE BUDGET," passed Third Reading by a vote of 46 ayes, with Representatives Meyer, Morita, Saiki, Stonebraker and Thielen being excused.

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, I'm rising to speak against Senate Bill 3110. Thank you.

"Mr. Speaker, the purpose of the bill is to provide State money to purchase a beach park on the Island of Maui. The park supposedly consist of 1.6 acres, but the property is severely eroding away. It's been operated by Maui County as a beach park and it's much more appropriate that the County expend its funds to purchase that property.

"The State isn't in the business of operating county beach parks and the State primarily has areas that are much more like wilderness areas or have a different focus. The counties operate the county parks. So I don't believe it's the proper use of State funds.

"This is one where the county should step up and put its money on the table and acquire that parcel. It should be quite devalued and I believe that the corporation that owns it is not seeking an unreasonable amount of money for the property. But it has eroded to such an extent that some of the county structures, the restrooms, have been had to be demolished. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. STANDING COMMITTEE REPORTS

Representative Souki, for the Committee on Transportation presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 961-06) recommending that S.B. No. 2385, SD 1, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2385, SD 1, HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Judiciary, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Moses rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Very briefly, and I just have some concerns. Vote with reservations. I'll address most of them on Third Reading if it doesn't change, but there's just a little bit of inconsistency in the bill I think. Thank you."

Representative Sonson rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I have reservations on this measure. Page 15, line 11 refers to Section 291C-13, violation of 291C-13, shall ... and then it writes up punishment starting with $200 or imprisonment of not more than 10 days. And it's referring to page 14 where line 9, where it says rules. I don't think it's good public policy to say these sort of punishments for rules that will be promulgated by the Executive."

Representative Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I just stand in strong support and would like to put written comments in the Journal," and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Lee's written remarks are as follows:

"I speak in support. Hawaii has the unenviable distinction of having one of the highest rates of pedestrian fatalities. This bill provides increased penalties for motorists who violate the crosswalk law.

"In addition, the red light imaging program has been added to the bill. This program has the potential of saving many lives and is complementary to the crosswalk bill. We must do everything possible to make our streets safe for pedestrian crossing. The Committee Report also recommends that the DOT consider the day-glo pedestrian flag program as a pilot.

"If we save one life all of these ideas in combination will have been worthwhile."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2385, SD 1, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HIGHWAY SAFETY," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Judiciary with Representatives Souki and Takamine being excused.

Representative Chang, for the Committee on Tourism & Culture presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 962-06) recommending that S.B. No. 2974, SD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2974, SD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Judiciary, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Thielen rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm rising in opposition to this measure. The part that I have a problem with is retaining attorneys independent of the Attorney General's Office. I believe that they can already hire people with the approval of the AG's Office. The Deputy Attorneys that work in the Attorney's Office have a breadth of experience that State entities require. Including knowledge of the unique State laws that apply to State agencies' activities.

"Mr. Speaker, I believe that a small group of in-house attorneys for the Hawaii Tourism Authority could not duplicate these services. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Marumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pine rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Stevens rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Moses rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2974, SD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HAWAII TOURISM AUTHORITY," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Judiciary with Representative Meyer voting no, and with Representatives Souki and Takamine being excused.

Representative Arakaki, for the Committee on Health presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 963-06) recommending that S.B. No. 2166, SD 2, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2166, SD 2, HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Moses rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker, this bill says that minors can decide. I'm in opposition. I'll leave it to one of my colleagues to speak in length so we can move along, but definitely in opposition. It gives minors who I guess a doctor determines has the mental capacity to make medical decisions without their parent's knowledge."

Representative Stonebraker rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pine rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Meyer rose in opposition to the measure, and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Meyer's written remarks are as follows:

"There are numerous aspects of this bill that are troubling to me. While there are probably a few teenagers who are mature and responsible, most teenagers do not have the life experience to be entrusted with making serious health decisions. Moreover, the teenagers that are the supposed targets of the bill do not have either the financial or emotional support that is needed in order to make these hard decisions. Who is going to provide that support? Have we forgotten how serious and difficult these decisions can be?

"The breadth of this bill is far greater than it should be. There is no limit to the type of medical procedures that these teenagers can agree to. It could be anything from a mole removal to brain surgery. Should we trust them with making decisions that will impact the rest of their lives when they have little or no family support? Additionally, to include all minors between 14 and 17 is to deprive parents who do love and provide for their children of their right to know what is going on in their teenager's lives. This is especially true where an abortion is concerned, where it is more of a moral issue than it is a physical issue. I hope these issues are taken into account and we don't do something we will regret. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ching rose in opposition to the measure, and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition to S.B. 2166. The proposed bill allows minors to make healthcare decisions without parental consent or the expertise of a licensed physician.

"While I agree with the intention of S.B. 2166, which seeks to help minors living alone receive adequate medical care in a timely manner, the proposed bill appears to allow abortions for minors without parental notification and removes the requirement of utilizing a licensed physician.

"This legislation decreases parental involvement; thus, talking to a parent will be the exception rather than the rule."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2166, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MINORS," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce with Representatives Ching, Finnegan, Meyer, Moses, Pine and Stonebraker voting no, and with Representatives Souki and Takamine being excused.

Representative Arakaki, for the Committee on Health presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 964-06) recommending that S.B. No. 2364, SD 2, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2364, SD 2, HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm with reservations. I just am looking forward to what CPC's going to look at in their Committee because there may be an unintended consequence of raising insurance rates across the State because this bill prohibits medical health insurers from excluding coverage for injuries sustained by insured persons as a result of intoxication from alcohol or narcotics. So I have a concern what the impact is going to be on insurance.

"The other concern I have is there's going to be a two-year pilot project at two sites in the State. Basically the intent is what they call ... There's a name for it: where it's an opportunity to intervene and maybe treat someone who has an injury, and at that moment maybe you can get them to go into alcohol or substance abuse treatment. And in the bill it appropriates $1,883,987 for this. I just want to make sure that we have our priorities right, because I would rather see that money go to women who are giving birth that have substance abuse problems.

"So I just want to make sure, there's a lot of people now asking for money for us to help. And if push came to shove, I would not support this. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2364, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ALCOHOL AND SUBSTANCE ABUSE," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce with Representatives Souki and Takamine being excused.

On motion by Representative M. Oshiro, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2574, SD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SMALL BOAT HARBORS," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance with Representatives Souki and Takamine being excused.

Representative Kanoho, for the Committee on Water, Land, & Ocean Resources presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 967-06) recommending that S.B. No. 2412, SD 1, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2357, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Judiciary, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, a no vote please. Yes. Mr. Speaker, I believe this weakens our State Endangered Species Act."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2357, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SECTION 13 OF ACT 380, SESSION LAWS OF HAWAII 1997," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Judiciary with Representative Thielen voting no, and with Representatives Souki and Takamine being excused.

Representative Arakaki, for the Committee on Health presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 969-06) recommending that S.B. No. 2917, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2917, HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Harbin rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in very strong support of this measure. Just some background. In 2002, I was a small business advocate with the Chamber of Commerce and I worked with other small business entities. This was one of the greatest things the 2000 Legislature ever did for the small business community. And what this particular measure does is extend the sunset.

"Just for those of us that do not understand the impact of the rate regulation for healthcare benefits for small business, it's a very, very substantial impact. Unlike the larger businesses in the State of Hawaii, small businesses do not have the ability to negotiate their premiums. Their premiums are subject to the whim of the providers. What this bill does is continue to have a disinterested third party receive information on ratemaking, before rate regulation is passed on to small business employers.

"Small businesses, contrary to the opinion of many people, their biggest asset that they have invested in is their employees. A healthy employee is a part of their ohana. However, with that being said, small businesses do not have the ability to negotiate rate increases. Did you know the rate increase of 15 to 20% per year, that comes right off the top of your employee's potential benefits, potential raises?

"What this does is this allows the Insurance Commissioner to continue to review and okay increases in regulations. So I really request that this Body really, really look at this as an enabling statute for small businesses, all their employees because a healthy work force is a good work force. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2917, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HEALTH INSURANCE RATE REGULATION," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce with Representatives Souki and Takamine being excused.

Representative Arakaki, for the Committee on Health presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 970-06) recommending that S.B. No. 3279, SD 2, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 3279, SD 2, HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Green rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, very briefly. The Health Committee was reading a bill that had to do with ... I'm sorry, I'm in support, Mr. Speaker. The initial purpose of this bill was a medical apology bill to allow physicians to make some statement of apology so that if there was a bad outcome, a patient could kind of engage with the doctor and that health indicators could be improved. That's something I do support.

"But slightly tangentially, the bill did become a reinsertion of medical malpractice. I wanted to inform my colleagues about that. And so it is a medical tort reform bill. Again, something I think that we should consider. I hope that we'll have further dialogue in other Committees this Session."

Representative Sonson rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Strong WR. And I'll reserve comments for Third Reading if this bill continues to have certain provisions in it."

Representative Nishimoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 3279, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MEDICAL LIABILITY," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce with Representatives Souki and Takamine being excused.

Representative Evans rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"On 973, Senate Bill 2162, I vote no. The House had a version of this that we sent over to the Senate, and I see it's in the same form of requiring a foster child's natural parent to pay for a child's car insurance. Like I said on the House version, I don't believe a parent or a foster parent should be required to pay for car insurance. That I believe that parents should have the option to tell their children if they want a car, drive a car and go to work. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2162, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO FOSTER CHILDREN," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce with Representative Evans voting no, and with Representatives Souki and Takamine being excused.

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising in support with reservations. One of the things that stands out is, you know the kind of an unfair situation where if these vendors on the mainland voluntarily collect the excise tax for the State of Hawaii, there's a provision that they will be compensated for what they're doing. Representative Lee's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of SB 2132 SD2 HD1, Relating to Perinatal Care.

"Perinatal" is defined as relating to the period before and after childbirth usually the five months before and one month after birth. Obviously this is a critical time for mother and baby. Good health habits during that period can set a keiki on course for a happy and healthy life. Maternal drug, alcohol and tobacco use, however, can have a very negative effect on the health of a fetus.

"Unfortunately, women who use illegal drugs are the least likely to seek perinatal care many for fear that their children will be taken from them. SB 2132 would establish a pilot perinatal clinic at the John A. Burns School of Medicine. The clinic will provide care for women with a history of substance abuse including substance use counseling and psychiatric care. The clinic will also provide case management coordinating its efforts with CWS and social service providers.

"The potential cost savings to the State are enormous. Costs of healthcare for one baby with complications from maternal substance abuse average $500,000. The HD1 includes an appropriation of $400,000 for this pilot program. If the pilot program keeps just one Medicaid patient's baby from developing complications from maternal substance abuse, it could pay for itself in savings to taxpayers who fund Medicaid at the State and federal levels.

"I ask my colleagues to support this measure. Mahalo."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2132, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PERINATAL CARE," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Higher Education with Representatives Arakaki, Marumoto, Saiki, Stonebraker, Takamine and Thielen being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committees be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2949, SD 2, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Judiciary, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Moses rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support with reservations. This measure asks the Ombudsman to do some things that he already does, but to do them on the mainland also. But that's something he already does, and that is to investigate inmate's complaints. He can already do that, and he does do that. He either turns them over to the Department of Public Safety, or the Attorney General, or wherever they have to go, but they can always come back to him and he does look into them.

"But it also says that they will, the Ombudsman, will investigate such things as riots and deaths on the mainland in prison. I guess, here also, in prisons. And the Ombudsman believes and so do I, that that's a matter for investigators and the Attorney General. Not for the Ombudsman."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committees was adopted and S.B. "Again, Mr. Speaker, with reservations. This would call for the courts to administer some of the programs within the prisons, and it would have to be in a separate facility within the prisons. And as you know our prisons are overcrowded. There are programs now that DPS runs within the prisons. They would be duplicative, but again they all require separate spaces. Thank you."

Representative Kanoho rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this measure, but wish to talk about how we intend to proceed with this bill.

"Section 1 of this bill was added on in decision-making and perhaps inappropriately so, despite the fact that this is something that requires immediate attention. It is no longer because this appeared to be the only vehicle that we could use to accomplish this purpose. Since then it appears that we can accomplish this mission using another vehicle.

"So as this bill moves to Judiciary, we will ask that Section 1 be deleted and that we would proceed only with Section 2, which was the original contents of the bill. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Harbin rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Chair. I rise with reservations. I started with very strong support for this bill. What this bill does is, originally, what it was intended to do, was to set into play some process that we could have some type of control over our agencies being able to sell our public lands without input from the Legislature. I think we were starting off on this track because of the 'to do' that's been created in Kakaako Makai, and because of the very strong public outcry and grassroots effort that really brought this to the attention of the Legislature.

"With that being said, we had a very vibrant hearing. Many people left work, showed up with their red shirts, and testified very much in support of this. And because the bill itself created confusion for other agencies, and the real heated issue right now is that dealing with HCDA, our Chair, I think very intelligently made some very, very good changes to the bill where it dealt just with HCDA, and dealt with residential on makai only.

"Again, that bill, this whole problem was created because of lack of process with the HCDA in going about an RFP for Kakaako Makai. So when processes break, at least the people have a way to resolve those.

"Then that brings us to the next issue, which is at the end of Committee, the insertion of a completely different issue from what we started off with. I must say this caught the people who were there very much unaware, off guard, and they left rather angered and disappointed in our system. I think that the insertion really makes sense and it's something that I would really like to support because there's a whole group of people out there that are being deprived of rights.

"However, again we're here because of a mistake in the process of an agency. Now our Legislature is showing that we too, will use the process to our personal use and take away from the people, and they are very, very upset. So this is something that I think we, philosophically need to look at. Thank you."

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Yes, thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, Members, I wish to speak with strong reservations on this measure. I think I understand the purpose of this bill, but I believe it has gone, I think, beyond the original purpose of the bill. If you're to request legislative oversight for all land, I think it should be applied to all departments. The University of Hawaii and etc., etc., and not be limited to only to HCDA. It makes it very obvious as to why it is.

"Also, Mr. Speaker, it seems to be that we're intruding into the Executive area, not that I mind in many cases. But in this case, in here, if you don't mind, I'm looking at some of the areas that the Legislature would need to have oversight and approval. Disposition of land to any government agency, road improvement, remnant parcels, reserve housing program, grants of easement, Mr. Speaker, and temporary, month-to-month leases.

"Mr. Speaker, I don't think these are areas where the Legislature should be involved in. Our area is making broad, broad policies of which the desire of the Legislature, that we don't wish to have the current project that's planned for Kakaako, then we should certainly state it by a bill, and then kill it. But to go this way, I don't believe, is a right way to do it.

"I hope that we'll have further discussion in the Committee on Consumer Protection and Judiciary, and if we can further refine and return to the role that the Legislature is supposed to be doing. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Schatz rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, in support. I just wanted to clarify for the Chair of the Transportation Committee. The disposition of lands in any government agency, road improvements, remnant parcels, as defined in section 171-52 and the other 3 line items here, are specifically the areas that are exempted from this legislation.

"Further, I wanted to clarify that the original bill was very overreaching, and what we did was we decided as a Committee that if we want to say, 'no development of residential makai of Ala Moana Boulevard,' then that's what the bill should say. Instead of sort of dancing around the issue. And so I think that the Chair of Transportation may disagree with that public policy statement, but that's exactly what the bill does.

"It actually provides HCDA with sufficient authority and flexibility to, for instance, make a deal with Whole Foods or do road improvements, and sort of operate on a day-to-day operational level to do what they been doing for the last two decades in Kakaako Mauka and Kakaako Makai. But the public policy question before us that I think the Committee has resoundingly decided upon is, no residential in Kakaako Makai. Thank you."

Representative Berg rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations, and I did do that in the Committee. Thank you. My concern is even though the bill initially was very broad reaching, I felt it would allow us to have that conversation as to what kind of custody the State should have regarding our other agencies or other Executive departments, and their decisions.

"My concern, my specific concern, has to deal with the deals that HCDA does make, or the arrangements, or agreements, whatever noun we want to use. So I will be voting with reservation and hope that the Committees can clarify that if this is about Kakaako as previous speaker has mentioned, then we need to look at it from the perspective as we did with the Hoku'i'a issue."

Representative Moses rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I have reservations with this measure as it is currently written with the amendment, but I have tremendous opposition if it would ever go back to the original version where it would effect also UH, which would include the West Oahu Campus. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Souki rose to respond, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker. I was going to respond, but I'll wait until it goes to the Committee on Judiciary. Thank you very much."

Representative Harbin rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in kind of support. Support. This is such a very complicated subject and what I'd like to do if I could just take a little bit of time to explain to my colleagues what this is all about.

"Very recently our Hawaii Supreme Court in HMAA v. Baldado, took away external review rights from a certain class of healthcare employees. Those folks would be the employees of the small business community. What the external review process does, which is something that was done by this Legislature in the Patient's Bill of Rights many years ago, was gave employees the right, if they were denied their benefits, an immediate recourse to an external review board put together by the Insurance Commissioner. And this has worked really really rapidly especially for those that can't afford lawyers and going into court.

"However, HMAA took it upon itself to file a lawsuit on a very specific, ERISA issue as far as the ability for the State of Hawaii to offer an external review process. Our Supreme Court turned over our State law and took away the rights of ERISA. Small business employees, their rights to be able to appeal a decision of denial of benefits by their healthcare providers.

"However, the Supreme Court did not take away the rights to an external review of those that are non-ERISA. And if I can tell you who that class of people are, they are our federal and State government employees, retired teachers, retired government workers, and that would be all of us. Church plans, many small business owners, sole proprietors, is basically who they are, and people who purchase individual plans that are not through employers.

"So what this bill is trying to do is to bring this back to a one-track system, and to do that it's a whole take-away from this class of people. In other words, now that I am a non-ERISA person, if I was denied a benefit for whatever, I could immediately file a claim with Insurance Commissioner, and get a very rapid response, whether or not I'm entitled to that or not.

"Were I still a small business employee with the ERISA coverage, I would be barred and I would have to go through a process through federal court, which is really onerous and most people don't do it. They just end up dying.

"So this bill is very important, but I'm too sure it is so important that we need to proceed on it with a post-haste, and the reason is the Insurance Commissioner is proceeding on two-path process so that we, non-ERISA, still have access to that external review and I'm asking that we watch this very closely. My suggestion let it die. Let the system continue, until we as a Body can really look at what it is that we need to do for healthcare in the State of Hawaii. Thank you."

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition. This measure says, Relating to Health. What it is relating to sex information and I'll leave it for another Reading, but I'm opposed."

Representative Green rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, just very briefly a no vote. The bill is about medically accurate sex information right now, which is I think placing undue attention on abstinence-only programs and actually, not technically medically accurate in evidence-based medicine. I think that there's a compromise that can be worked out, so hopefully by the end of this Session we'll have a better measure. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Yes sir, I would like a no vote."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Meyer rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Sonson rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support, Mr. Speaker. Let me just explain what this bill is trying to do. There is a movement that wants a policy coming from the Legislature that says, all entities, if they receive State funds and they conduct with that funding education on sex, or sex education, they want a policy that says those entities receiving any State funds for sex education must ensure that the curriculum includes both abstinence and medically accurate information.

"What they tried in Committee is, they tried to separate out a special funding coming from the federal government which is only for abstinence. There's no way we can impact that money and people who receive that money will have to comply with the federal mandate, therefore there is no way we can affect that in the laws.

"I think that if we look at the bill now however it does limit it. Language has been inserted to ensure that it will also protect entities, nonprofits, that receive State funds. But those entities have charters that may say that we cannot conduct medically accurate sex information curriculum just because we receive State funds, we should not be forced to do so.

"The proposal came from a Catholic Charities who says, 'If we are to conduct the medically accurate curriculum, as long as we do not at the same time as the abstinence curriculum, we are okay with that.' So I hope that we can iron out some compromise so everyone will be happy at the end. Thank you so much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Kahikina rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker. A no vote, Mr. Speaker. Just a short comment because the bill really speaks about medically accurate information, and I think that all the information on abstinence is medically correct. I don't know why we are even looking at this bill. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2139, SD 1, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HEALTH," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Judiciary with Representatives Green, Kahikina and Moses voting no, and with Representatives Arakaki, Marumoto, Saiki, Stonebraker, Takamine and Thielen being excused.

"Thank you. I stand in support of all four resolutions. Thank you, I just like to encourage our Members to take a look at a website put on by the Communities for Quality Education, which is really the organization that encouraged our Chair of Education to introduce these resolutions.

"This particular website, www.qualityednow.org is their website, and at that website it explains all various legislative priorities and proposals made in all 50 states. And in fact they convened a taskforce in December of 2005 a bipartisan taskforce made up of legislators throughout the nation, and they came up with these basic principles that we as legislators throughout the nation should be encouraging Congress and the President to support as it relates to the No Child Left Behind Act. And as a result of that, Mr. Speaker, today we have these four resolutions in front of us.

"So I think before other people stand up and state some reservations, may I encourage them to take a look at this website. Also encourage them to join in, in supporting this effort and this organization by signing a statement of principles to that effect. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Finnegan rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I just want to clarify that I am in support of the resolutions at this point and time. Just because I have not taken a look at the report and haven't been able to really see what types of issues, currently that we're seeing, is my reservation. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the reports of the Committee were adopted and H.R. No. 32, entitled: "HOUSE RESOLUTION URGING THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES, UNITED STATES CONGRESS, AND UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION TO SUPPORT THE GOALS OF THE NO CHILD LEFT BEHIND ACT (NCLB) BY INCREASING FUNDS FOR FEDERAL EDUCATION INITIATIVES AND AFFORDING MORE FLEXIBILITY TO STATES IN RELATION TO NCLB," was adopted, with Representatives Arakaki, Marumoto, Saiki, Stonebraker, Takamine and Thielen being excused;

H.C.R. No. 47, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION URGING THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES AND THE UNITED STATES CONGRESS TO SUPPORT IMPROVING THE QUALITY OF THE NATION'S PUBLIC SCHOOLS BY SUBSTANTIALLY INCREASING EDUCATION FUNDING," was adopted, with Representatives Arakaki, Marumoto, Saiki, Stonebraker, Takamine and Thielen being excused.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Representative Takumi, for the Committee on Education, requested a waiver of the 48-hour advanced notice requirement to hear S.B. No. 2719 and S.B. No. 2505 today at 2:00 p.m. in Conference Room 309, stating:

"It concerns Senate Bill 2719, which was a re-referral, and also Senate Bill 2505, which is what we want to add to the agenda," and the Chair, "so ordered."

Representative Evans: "Mr. Speaker, I want to make announcement to my colleagues. We have cake and ice cream for the reception of the Hokulea crew and our guest today in Room 312, following today's session."

Representative Meyer: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In the spirit of Sunshine Week and our commitment to improving the public's access to information about government actions, the Republicans would like to offer a few suggestions on ways that we could voluntarily change our rules. Our first suggestion is lengthen the times ..."

Representative M. Oshiro: "Point of order. I believe any matter dealing with the Rules at this point and time during announcements would be out of order."

Speaker Say: "Representative Meyer, at this point there's nothing in the announcements that deal with the Rules. If you would like to address it, I believe you should have a Resolution addressing the Rules."

Representative Meyer: "Thank you. Well this is Sunshine Week and so I think this is pertinent. I think it's very important that we move to strengthen the trust relationship between the public and government. ..."

Representative M. Oshiro: "Mr. Speaker. I believe the current speaker is again out of order. This is not an appropriate time to discuss the Rules. We have already adopted the Rules. If the Member would like to propose any amendments, she should do so through a properly submitted and filed Resolution, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Meyer: "Mr. Speaker, I have just one more thing to say that I don't think will be out of order."

Speaker Say: "Okay. The Chair will allow you and override the Majority Leader. Please."

Representative Meyer: "Thank you. Mr. Speaker. I just wanted to announce that we will be objecting to any waivers of the 48-hour notice. We realize that there are legitimate reasons for needing the waiver. However, a 48-hour period is already a short frame to give the public notice, and when you waive that, there is absolutely no notice for the public. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Speaker Say: "Thank you very much. Your point is well taken."

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE

The following message from the Governor (Gov. Msg. No. 248) was received and announced by the Clerk:

Gov. Msg. No. 248, transmitting the following:

LINDA LINGLE
GOVERNOR

March 17, 2006

The Honorable Calvin K. Y. Say
Speaker of the House
Twenty-Third State Legislature
State Capitol
Honolulu, Hawaii 96813

Dear Mr. Speaker:

I am writing to ask for your consideration of various appropriations in order to address the immediate emergency costs being incurred by various departments as a result of the recent devastation on Kauai following three weeks of rain that is predicted to continue for the next few days.

After conducting an aerial reconnaissance with Adjutant General Lee and several members of the County Council and Legislature, I became convinced that it is not enough to only meet emergency expenses of the current situation. In addition, we need to do an immediate statewide structural assessment of reservoirs/dams and review various options for their continued usage, including their impact on agriculture.

In accordance with Section 9, Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am requesting your immediate consideration and passage of House Bill, No. 970, Relating to Emergency Relief for Natural Disasters, to appropriate emergency funding totaling $14,334,000. This amount includes $11,134,000 in state funds and $3,200,000 in federal funds.

Emergency funding is requested for the Departments of Agriculture, Attorney General, Defense, Land and Natural Resources, and Transportation as follows:

- Department of Agriculture - $50,000 in general funds for staff expenses and to hire consultants to assess the impact existing dams and reservoirs have on agricultural operations and the impact if existing dams and reservoirs were removed.
- Department of the Attorney General - $1,000,000 in general funds for overtime, travel and other expenses for existing staff, and to hire outside consultants and experts to review legal issues related to dam and reservoir failures and issues relating to the safety of existing dams and reservoirs. Funds may also be used for expenses related to possible litigation concerning dam and reservoir failures.

March 17, 2006

- Department of Defense - $2,000,000 in general funds for the Major Disaster Fund to cover operational expenses associated with storm recovery efforts, including State Civil Defense 24-hour emergency operations center overtime costs expended by civil defense workers, contractors that are helping to pump reservoirs to maintain safer water levels, National Guard personnel on State Active Duty status, and Blackhawk helicopter operating expenses.
- Department of Land and Natural Resources - $5,000,000 in general funds for staff expenses and to hire consultants to conduct surveys, studies and assessments of private and government owned dams and reservoirs statewide to determine their current physical integrity. Assessments will include recommendations for future structural needs and identification of potential impacts or threat to areas around and downstream of the dams and reservoirs.
- Department of Land and Natural Resources - $284,000 in general funds for staff expenses and to hire consultants to respond to and assess flood damage at state parks and on state lands.
- Department of Transportation - $2,000,000 in State Highway Funds for staff and other expenses including equipment rentals, and to hire contractors and consultants for repair of road damage and stabilization of road embankments on Kuaia Highway, Kauai.
- Department of Transportation - $4,000,000 ($800,000 in State Highway Funds and $3,200,000 in federal funds) for a capital improvement project to design and construct emergency roadway erosion remediation at various locations on Kauai damaged by the recent storms. Work includes: install temporary and permanent erosion control measures; restore roadways, shoulders and utility improvements; install guardrails and shoulder stabilization measures; install retaining walls; upgrade drainage structures; and install other miscellaneous improvements.

Attached is a proposed H.D. 1 of House Bill No. 970 that sets forth the above mentioned appropriation requirements in the emergency appropriation bill format.

We appreciate your prompt attention to this matter. The Departments of Agriculture, Attorney General, Defense, Land and Natural Resources, and Transportation will be available to answer any questions you may have on this request.

Sincerely,

LINDA LINGLE

"In strong support, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, the noise of backup beepers from delivery and garbage trucks has really been disturbing and annoying the residents of Waikiki and Kakaako areas, especially the elderly, for many years. It may seem like a little thing, but the ability to disable these beepers while still maintaining pedestrian safety will really improve the quality of life for residents of Waikiki and Kakaako areas. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising in opposition to this measure. This bill would create a State monument called Ahu o Laka in Kaneohe Bay. This monument would then be administered by the Department of Land and Natural Resources.

"The monument is described as a three-acre sand bar in Kaneohe Bay off Heeia, that is out of the waters out of the surface of the water at low tide. The monument would also include the surrounding State marine waters. It doesn't say how far out, but again the Department of Land and Natural Resources would establish rules for the activities there that would be necessary to preserve the historical, cultural, and aesthetic resources of Ahu o Laka State Monument.

"My concerns are those of the hundreds and hundreds of recreational boating people who have been going to the sand bar for at least the last 85 years. Obviously before that, the Hawaiians went there. It is such a beautiful and unusual natural resource that people throughout the ages have enjoyed this remarkable place.

"The bill that was originally introduced in the Senate had a great deal of language that would prohibit all kinds of activities. The boating community is still worried about that. They're not sure what the rules are that protect monuments. In the testimony that the Department gave, they acknowledged that this sand bar is known by a couple of names. One is Ahu o Laka, an altar to Laka. The other is Ahua o Laka, which translates to sand bank of Laka. Laka was the chief of Koolauloa. And in one of the stories he was said to have died at Ahu o Laka. His bones, some people think his bones, some of his bones were buried there. Other stories say that they were taken to Maui, where he was born. He was born in Hana. Laka is also the Goddess of Hula, and so thus he would have the name Ahu o Laka, an altar to the goddess Laka.

"I think there needs to be more research done. My concerns and my no vote are because of the many, many concerns of responsible boating persons. Many, many people I know they learned to swim there, their children have learned to swim there. There are all kinds of recreational boating activities. The fear is that if this is once is made a State monument, many of the recreational activities that people enjoy may then be prohibited. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I would like to express my serious reservations for the reasons that were just stated. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Moses rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Stonebraker rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committees was adopted and S.B. No. 2004, SD 1, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HISTORIC PRESERVATION," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance with Representatives Meyer and Stonebraker voting no, and with Representatives Karamatsu and Saiki being excused.

Representatives Sonson and Arakaki, for the Committee on Human Services and the Committee on Health presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1024-06) recommending that S.B. No. 3254, SD 2, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance.

On motion by Representative M. Oshiro, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, the report of the Committees was adopted and S.B. No. 3254, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HOME AND COMMUNITY-BASED SERVICES," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance with Representatives Karamatsu and Saiki being excused.

INTRODUCTION OF RESOLUTION

The following concurrent resolution (H.C.R. No. 329) was announced by the Clerk and the following action taken:

H.C.R. No. 329, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION AWARDED THE HAWAII MEDAL OF HONOR TO UNITED STATES MILITARY SERVICE MEMBERS WITH HAWAII CONNECTIONS KILLED IN ACTION WHILE SERVING IN DANGEROUS, VOLATILE, AND UNSTABLE AREAS OF THE WORLD, INCLUDING IRAQ AND AFGHANISTAN," was offered by Representative Say.

Representative Takai, moved that H.C.R. No. 329 be adopted, seconded by Representative Ito.

Representative Takai rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of this resolution. Thank you. Yesterday marked three years since the War on Terrorism began. While there is now much debate for and against this war, there is no debate about the tremendous sacrifices made by our service members and their families.

"As of February 28, 2006, we in Hawaii have lost 120 service members who have sacrificed their lives while in the line of duty. To pay a special tribute to these heroes and to their families, last year we passed House Bill No. 8, which became Act 21.

"House Bill No. 8 created the Hawaii Medal of Honor. This special medal is awarded on behalf of the people of the State of Hawaii to an individual who has been killed in action while serving our country as part of Operation Iraqi Freedom and Operation Enduring Freedom. Recipients of this medal include members of the United States Armed Forces, the United States Military Reserves, and the National Guard, who are residents of the State of Hawaii, attended an educational institution in Hawaii, or were stationed in Hawaii by order of the United States Department of Defense.

"The Hawaii Medal of Honor will be awarded to family representatives of these men and women at a ceremony held during a Joint Session of this Legislature, on Tuesday, April 18, 2006 at 10 a.m. in these Chambers.

"Mr. Speaker, House Bill No. 8 created a Planning Committee chaired by Representative Ken Ito, Senator Norman Sakamoto, and Major General Robert Lee. I wanted thank those three Chairmen for doing such a great job in acknowledging these families and our service members. I also wanted to recognize and thank the other members of the Planning Committee, namely you, Mr. Speaker, Senate President Robert Bunda, Representative Pono Chong, Brigadier General Gary Ishikawa, Colonel Retired Emerick Kaneshi, and also Mr. Speaker, from our various staffs, Lisa Vargas, Janis Higaki, Carole Furuya, Cherry Torres, and George White.

"While serving on active duty for six months last year, Mr. Speaker, I had the responsibility of serving as the casualty assistance officer for the family of Sergeant Deyson Cariaga, the Hawaii Army National Guards only casualty during the recent deployment of the 29th Brigade Combat Team.

"That duty, the duty as casualty assistance officer, was my most difficult challenge in my entire National Guard career. The Cariaga family and Mrs. Theresa Inouye, his mother in particular, continued to grieve for their loss. I don't wish what they have had and continue to experience on any family. This resolution and the actions that we have and will take are to honor soldiers like Sergeant Cariaga and parents like Theresa Inouye.

"In the past three years, Mr. Speaker, the war against terror has changed our world and our lives in a profound way. Ultimately, it's not about politics, it's not about money, and it's not even about winning. It's all about the families and their loved ones and what these brave men and women sacrifice to keep us safe. As we strive to find meaning behind such heartbreaking loss, I think we will find it in the small deeds we do each day if we can always remember the sense of purpose and generosity of spirit of those we honor not just on Memorial Day, but everyday. The world will be a better, safer place. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Moses rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising in support. Mr. Speaker, we have many servicemen also injured in action and it's not that we're neglecting them, but those who gave the ultimate sacrifice for the ones that we're trying to honor with this resolution and the award of the medal. And I'm sure none of them would trade the medal for their lives if they had the choice. But it's not for them anymore, it is for us to help remember them and to basically honor not only their service, but to honor their families with this small thing that we can do from the State of Hawaii. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.C.R. No. 329 was adopted with Representatives Karamatsu and Saiki being excused.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Representative Luke: "Mr. Speaker, I wanted to request a waiver of the 48-hour notice requirement for ..."

Representative Meyer: "Mr. Speaker. Well, I would hope that the speaker, the Chairman of Judiciary, will explain fully why this waiver is necessary."

Representative Luke: "Well, actually it was for the Wiretap Bill, but since the Republicans are opposed, I'm not going to post it anymore."

Representative Takamine: "Mr. Speaker, I request waiver of the 48-hour notice requirement for the purpose of hearing House Bill 970, as a House Draft 1," and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Takamine: "Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. House Bill 970, as a proposed House Draft 1 ..."

Representative Meyer: "Point of personal privilege. I did not rise to say I was opposed. I wanted the full information about the waiver in the Judiciary Committee."

Speaker Say: "The Chair has responded by her comments to the Members of this Chamber, that it was dealing with the wiretap measure and since you have risen on a point of personal privilege, at this point she has decided to withdraw that waiver and ..."

Representative Meyer: "Sounds like a setup and very convenient."

Speaker Say: "Well, we don't know. Do not get motives or intent involved at this point in time. Please proceed Representative Takamine."

Representative Takamine: "Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. House Bill 970, as proposed House Draft 1, will be heard by your Committee on Finance, tomorrow afternoon March 21, 2006 at 2 p.m. in the Finance Conference Room, Room 308. Copies of the proposed House Draft 1 are currently available in Room 306. Decision making to follow if time permits. Thank you."

At 1:08 o'clock p.m., Representative Thielen requested a recess and the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 1:18 o'clock p.m.

Representative Thielen: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, just a brief point of clarification. From my 16 years of being in the Legislature, I have recognized that there are times that a 48-hour notice waiver is necessary. It can come with a request from the community, it can come from a request from the Administration, it can come because of internal request, or other issues."

"The one thing I would like to congratulate and commend you on, is that you always are sure that the Member asking for that waiver is clear to state the bill number and the subject matter so there is advance notification at least for that. And I would respectfully ask if the Judiciary Chair would continue with her request for the request for waiver of the 48-hour notice. Thank you."

Representative Luke: "Mr. Speaker, with that clarification from last week Friday's blanket objection to all 48-hour waivers, and with the acknowledgement that the Republican Caucus now recognizes the importance of certain waivers, I request the waiver of the 48-hour requirement on Senate Bill 965 for decision making in Room 325, Tuesday, 2 p.m.," and the Chair "so ordered."

Speaker Say: "Before we continue on, Representative Shimabukuro. Chair Takamine, for clarification, would you like to clarify that particular Bill you are hearing with the proposed House Draft."

Representative Takamine: "Certainly, Mr. Speaker. As indicated on our OD today under the item number 3, messages from the Governor. Reference was made to emergency relief for natural disasters in particular on Kauai. I know that our hearts go out to those people on Kauai who have suffered as a result of the torrential rains during the past three weeks."

"The message was received on March 17, 2006, did indicate that in accordance with Section 9, Article VII, of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, the Governor was requesting immediate consideration in passage of House Bill No. 970, Relating Emergency Relief of Natural Disasters, to appropriate emergency funding totaling over $14 million, of which $3.2 million would be from federal sources."

"We appreciate the efforts of the Speaker and the Senate President, because just to consider this measure at this point in time in the Legislative calendar required a waiver by both, but it does allow us to then try to do what we can to support the people there in light of what has occurred. That was the basis for the request for tomorrow's hearing on the measure. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Shimabukuro: "I just want to invite everybody to please come and support the Create Your Own Omelet Fundraiser. It's going to take place tomorrow morning. And this is to benefit the food drive fundraiser that's been ongoing. In Room 423, from 7 a.m. to 10 a.m. The goal is to sell a hundred plates. It's going to be $5 each. I want to especially thank Majority Leader Marcus Oshiro for donating the eggs for this event and my staff, Ed Suka, who's going to be the head chef as well as Erica Miles, Naomi Uyehara, Wally Inilis, and Colleen Young, who are going to help put it on. Thank you."

Representative Ching: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'd just like to invite each and every one of our Members, including yourself, to join the Heritage Caucus across the street at Washington Place to honor the honorees that were here on the floor with some lunch from Indigos and some entertainment by Nalani Olds. Thank you."

Representative M. Oshiro: "Mr. Speaker, three years ago today, the combined forces of the United States and British forces invaded the nation of Iraq to overthrow President Saddam Hussein. Three years later, Mr. Speaker, US and British forces are continuing to defend the removal of the dictator despite spiraling violence that is sending Iraq close to a civil war."

"Mr. Speaker, as of yesterday at least 2,314 members of the United States Military have died since the beginning of the second Iraq War, three years ago, according to the Associated Press count. To honor these men and women and their families, and their supreme sacrifice that they have made, I ask that at the appropriate time, we would have a moment of silence."

Representative Souki: "Mr. Speaker, if I could add to that, that over 100,000 Iraqi civilians have died in this last three years."

Representative Halford: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I just wanted to point out that what was earlier referred to as a Caucus position, may be an exaggeration. It certainly was not my position."

At this time, the House of Representatives stood for a moment of silence in memory of those who have lost their lives in Iraq.

Representative Karamatsu, for the Committee on Economic Development & Business Concerns presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1028-06) recommending that S.B. No. 3138, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 3138, HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Harbin rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations on 1028. Mr. Speaker, as a private citizen before I had the honor of being here, the sustainability function I thought was, I still do think, it is a great, great concept. But the thing that I have constantly raised and I still see it missing is that you can't have sustainability without the economic function, which would mean defining and including the business community, both big and small, which basically supply the fuel for sustainability. You can't have it without an active economy.

"Now I see we're headed down the path and I think this is a good idea where the sustainability report is also going to be looking for a branding process of Hawaii.

Representative Caldwell rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker. Is the current speaker for or against this?"

The Chair responded, stating:

"She's speaking in favor with reservation, Representative. Please proceed, Representative Harbin."

Representative Harbin continued, stating:

"I did say that right? With reservations? Thank you. At any rate, now that my train of thought has been disrupted, let me continue.

"This report now looks to include a branding process for Hawaii. We have attempted to do this in the past and we do have a brand. The brand of Hawaii is 'sand, sea, and surf.' Come and have fun, come and play, and the other part of the brand, which is missing is that we're anti-business.

"So we can't talk about sustainability until we identify how are we going to change the brand that we are known globally for which is, anti-business, but come and have sand, surf, and have sea. So I'm just, as a person who is strongly in support sustainability because I am part of that group that suffered through 15 years of economic downturn, I'm asking that this sustainability committee, please look at encompassing the business community, especially those that are economic engines, the small business. Thank you.

Representative Yamane rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm standing in strong support. The intent of the sustainability taskforce and the plan with this appropriation bill was to give the mechanism, financial mechanism, to draw out as much participation as possible, which will include the business community, Mr. Speaker.

"The goal of this is to get and reach as many people, and as many communities, regardless of socio-economic stature, ethnicity, as well as age. So the goal with this appropriation and this plan is going to address that, and with that in combination with participation and media information, we will be able to better serve the people of Hawaii, including the business community. Thank you."

Representative Berg rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Vice Speaker, I'd like the words of the Representative from Mililani who just spoke to be entered as my own. I rise in strong support. Thank you. In addition to those words, as a member of the taskforce I'd like to also reassure our colleagues that we're moving toward an articulated collective vision in this process. And in so doing, I think it would give us as a lawmaking body, more guidance in the coherency of our bills, not only in the direction we're going, but also in the manner in which we conduct our business. So I'm very hopeful. Thank you."

Representative Harbin rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Just as a minor rebuttal and clarification. I am not in any way criticizing the sustainability process. I am saying that as a private citizen prior to being here, I attempted to articulate what I am articulating right now. I'm just not too sure that the whole concept of what I am trying to say has been readily understood. So what I am rising to say is, 'Thank you. Continue your work because this is great stuff. Sustainability is what we need to look at.' But I'm just saying, I'm going to now, and would like to insert a piece that I truly feel is missing, and that's hence my reason for my comments. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 3138, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING AN APPROPRIATION FOR THE PREPARATION OF THE 2050 SUSTAINABILITY PLAN," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance with Representatives Kahikina, Stonebraker and Takamine being excused.

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations. Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I just have reservations on this bill. We see the amount in the bill for the appropriation is blank and as we know the SEFI fund does affect this State's ability or Budget and Finance's ability to manage funds. So this similar bill that passed out of the House, I did vote no on. I will wait until the Third Reading and see what happens with this bill and ready to you know decide on whether or not to go with reservations again or no.

"But I am concerned about the ability of using this SEFI fund because through the notes that I've read in the interagency working group of Act 51, that the SEFI fund was questioned on whether or not to continue its existence. So upon those who have gone through and looked through this, I'm not sure this is the proper way to do it. Thank you."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I will also rise with reservations. Thank you very much. I have very much the same concerns as Minority Leader. The blank appropriations, I think is a questionable practice. I know that Finance will fill it out, but if the amount filled in is at the level of the expenditure ceiling, then all the excess money will go into this SEFI fund and then we will evade going over the expenditure limit. It's a convenient place to park money so that we don't have to vote to exceed the spending limit.

"If it is set very much lower then it will drain off too much money, and I just think that it's a very poor way to manage our government funds. Thank you very much."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Meyer rose in support of the measure with reservations, and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Meyer's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I have some reservations with this bill. The bill calls for an increase in GET revenues to be deposited into the State Education Facilities Improvement Special Fund (SEFI). Presently that amount is $45 million. The bill we are voting on today has only a blank amount, but in previous drafts it was as much as $140 million. That would be in addition to $220 million in general obligation bonds also deposited into the SEFI account.

"The DOE has demonstrated that they cannot manage any more than $90 million worth of contract work in a 12-month period. What is the point of having general fund money and general obligation bond money which we are paying interest on, squirreled away in the SEFI fund in amounts far greater than the DOE can manage? It is more financially sound to provide funding for public school improvements based on need, funding ability, and state-wide priorities. This bill could result in substantial revenue loss to the State general fund."

Representative Moses rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2836, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE STATE EDUCATIONAL FACILITIES IMPROVEMENT FUND," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance with Representatives Kahikina, Stonebraker and Takamine being excused.

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I will just make my comments short, with reservations. Thank you. This is really important, fixing Hawaii's schools is very important. Something that I strongly support. The process in how we fix our schools I think needs to be given a look at, so that we can be prudent and responsible with our actions. I will be voting with reservations and look toward the Final or the Third Reading version of this bill. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure with reservations, and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of this measure which will authorize the Department of Education to independently issue "Certificates of Participation" (COPs) when initiating the construction of new schools, and establish a special fund from which lease back payments may be made to the developer. This legislation will provide alternative funding sources to supplement the traditional direct appropriation model and places resources directly where it is needed, and allows the Department of Education to administer funds to improve school conditions at not only at the primary and secondary levels, but in Hawaii's post-secondary school educational system, as well.

"This measure represents one of the greatest investments we can make as a State – our youth. Clean, safe, secure, and well-maintained environments are essential to maximizing students' learning capacity. It is important that we make investments in our education facilities.

"However we must be cautious because this proposed legislation sets no budget for the Department of Education. It is essential that a fixed budget be established because without doing so, the Department of Education has the potential to incur debt that would become a State obligation without regard to the statewide budget, and could negatively impact the State's budget and credit rating."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2956, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance with Representatives Kahikina, Stonebraker and Takamine being excused.

Representative Harbin rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations on 1039. Thank you. In my past life I have consistently been opposed to Piers 1 and 2 being transferred to the Department of Transportation. I'm starting to feel a little differently about that, and I encourage that we continue the dialogue because of the horrible state of the affairs of our harbors.

"But I now have some really strong reservations with transferring the Foreign Trade Zone. Take it away, out of HCDA, which has the overall planning for Kakaako, which includes that whole makai area. I just really question starting to carve out pieces. Again, when if greater minds, greater than I, can show that this is probably the right thing for the future of Hawaii, I too will look forward to giving this a yes. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. Representative Moses rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I have reservations on this measure, 1042. Mr. Speaker, this is a bill trying to get rid of our backlog in arrest warrants. That's a noble cause. We need to do that, but I think this is the wrong way to go.

"What the measure does is authorize retired police officers and public safety officers to actively go out and try to serve arrest warrants. I have problems with it for several reasons.

"One, is the Attorney General does not have the authority to designate and regulate who may serve the arrest warrants.

"Two, the AG believes that law enforcement duties should be handled by law enforcement. I don't think we should disagree with that, but there's also no money in this measure. There's no rules set up. Of course they can set up some rules, but that doesn't say what department is going to do it. It doesn't designate that. So the AG sets up rules, but then who is going to physically be in charge of this program?

"Who's going to issue them guns? Do they buy their own? Who pays for that? Who pays for the upkeep? What about marksmanship training? Everybody who's used a weapon knows you have to go back for refresher training.

"And I think a better way to do this is just require that all people that come in for any kind of a license, whether it's a drivers license, or commercial license, a license to mow your lawn. I don't care what it is. You know, a tax implement. You know they have to pay their taxes. Anybody that comes anywhere near a computer gets a background check, and I know that computers don't all work together now, but that's what we should be working toward. So whenever you interface with any government entity at any level, they do a background check and see if there's an arrest warrant out for you. Thank you."

Representative Meyer rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising in support, but with some pretty strong reservations on this measure. Yes, 1046. This is the bill that seeks to reverse some legislation we passed a couple of years ago which would prevent criminalization of the homeless by repealing the petty misdemeanor offense of criminal trespass onto public parks and recreational grounds.

"I am very sympathetic about the problem we have with the homeless. This just seems to go a little too far. Honestly, I don't know how I would word it, but my fear is that by doing this we'll take a tool away from law enforcement. It will just open it up so that people can just openly camp at State parks, and City and County parks. They would have to get permits, they would have to move from various parks since many of the permits are restricted to one park for one month. I mean you know, you can't just get just renew the permit every week. You can stay at the park once in a month, and then you must move to another one. So I mean, it's not an easy thing, but there are people that take advantage of it.

"The time that we have to notice people when we're hearing bills it really makes it difficult for the general public. I notice at the hearing there were advocates for the homeless ..."

Representative M. Oshiro rose to a point of order, stating:

"Point of order, Mr. Speaker. I believe the current speaker is straying from the issue at hand."

The Chair responded, stating:

"I believe she is looking at the Stand. Com., so let's have her continue."

Representative Meyer continued, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am. I'm just looking at the people that did testify. There was the Public Defender, Partners in Care, a concerned individual supported the bill. There was some testimony in opposition from Kuliouou Kalani Iki Neighborhood Board and one concerned individual.

"Over the years I have heard a lot of testimony and complaints from our own Representatives with problems in their districts. Parks that have been taken over by the homeless. Park land in Ewa Beach, which was well known as a place for the homeless to just set up camp and stay permanently.

"These are the things, they are hard and real problems for our various communities, and my reservations on this bill are that I'm afraid that by passing this bill as a blanket, you know just no criminal trespass, will make it more difficult for law enforcement. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations. Likewise, I agree with the previous speaker that this is rather drastic remedy by removing petty misdemeanors. We may need it from time to time. I'd much rather attack the homeless problems by providing more housing for them, and at least some restroom facilities. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure with reservations, and asked that the remarks of Representative Marumoto be entered in the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Pine rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Just with reservations. The people of Ewa Beach, we've really embraced the homeless population and many of us, including myself, have taken in homeless families. What we are worried about is the criminal element and the ability for police officers who are aware of suspicious persons that have basically ... Well, here's an example of something that may happen.

"A person that had attacked some people at a public park. That same person goes back to the park once they get out. The people of Ewa Beach are worried that, that same person is going to do the same thing. Understand this legislation, this will not allow the police officers to kind of stand by. Maybe they'll be accused of stalking. I don't know what this could lead to, but I hope that we can help the homeless, but still find a way to create language where we'll get rid of that criminal activity. Thank you."

Representative Stevens rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Karamatsu rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I'm rising with reservations on this matter. Thank you. Mr. Speaker, my concern is we're going to prevent the government from exercising eminent domain and exempting a narrow list of projects or instances where it will be allowed, it will be possible for the government to exercise eminent domain.

"We haven't put in a comprehensive enough list, I don't think, so we're really going to be tying our own hands. And Mr. Speaker, I notice that there is nothing in there for public works projects, which I think is an omission and that should be added. The bill does go to Judiciary so I hope that the Judiciary Chair and the Committee members, of which I am one, will look at adding more categories to this or defining that in a way that won't tie our hands as a government. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. For similar concerns, I want to note my reservations."

Representative Schatz rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support. In response to the Representative from the Windward side, I just wanted to point out that the concerns that she was expressing, the Committee agreed with, and I believe those that problem with language was the Senate version of the bill.

"The House version of the bill takes a sort of converse approach which is to say, this specifically excludes certain things from use of eminent domain. So it's not necessary to list all the things that are okay from a perspective of eminent domain. What we're saying is that retail, purely economic development projects, is not allowable for eminent domain purposes. So in other words, we don't have to say, roads, hospitals, infrastructure, factory, everything else. We can just say what we as, a matter of public policy, think that is not an appropriate use of eminent domain, and that's the approach that the House is taking. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. Representative Herkes rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support with some concerns. I certainly support the concept. My concern is we have another bill passing through this House that concerns natural disaster preparedness. And as part of that we are, the attempt is to try to adopt the international building code so that our buildings will be safe for our residents. This issue came up this morning in the Energy hearings concerning the development of green buildings. I hope that in some way that we can fold these two concepts into one bill that provides safety of our buildings and still have some of these other amenities that are important. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Support with reservations."

The Chair then stated:

"Just a note, Members. The Clerk can only register an aye, a no, or an aye with reservations vote. So that's why I ask for clarification."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. Representative Harbin rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise with very strong support. Thank you. As a former small business advocate and as a small businessperson, one of the things that has always been difficult for us to access are the day-to-day hearings that occur in government.

"We have always supported, we and especially I, have always supported this Internet streaming. I would really like to see this bill continue forward because it would really add to I think, the belief which I hope is the new policy and understanding here, is that you know we are moving towards more transparency and welcoming the public into the halls of the Capitol and other government hearings. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of both measures with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support with some reservations. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I took a look at these resolutions, and I do agree with the reasons and the goals for wanting a resolution like this.

"One of my reservations is basically that this is for the Big Island, and I do realize that there are other programs that are needed or similar programs that are needed on all of our islands.

"This second reason though is more because of what we're trying to do with Act 51. And what we're trying to do with Act 51 is to kind of change things around so that the things that are priorities for the school happen. If this is a priority then we should do it through Act 51 by infusing money at the school level and having that community backup whatever their priorities are.

"For instance, some of the successes, and I can't remember the program right now, but I went on a visit to Maui and they had a community-based program that was started up by a business organization. They went and received some grants for this and then got the schools involved, and it was a real good program that the community was willing to support because they thought it was a priority for their community.

"The other example that I like to give is the Charter School that we recognized yesterday, West Hawaii Academy. And what they did was they took these very same things that did community-based programs and leadership development, and they put it within their curriculum and had the students decide on things that they want, they were interested in. How to develop these students in a very meaningful way and so I'm thinking that I really support this resolution, but what I hope is that we continue to press into Act 51 and allowing that to happen. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the reports of the Committee were adopted and H.R. No. 31, entitled: "HOUSE RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION TO ASSIST IN DEVELOPING COMMUNITY-BASED PROGRAMS ON THE BIG ISLAND THAT ENCOURAGE POSITIVE YOUTH OUTCOMES, INCLUDING LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT," was adopted with Representatives Kahikina, Stonebraker and Takamine being excused; and

H.C.R. "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, I had not planned to hear Senate Bill 2545, SD 2, Relating to Condominiums. It's a bill that extends for two years a pilot program for condominium management dispute resolution.

"I don't have a lot of condominiums in my district, but the supporters of the bill yesterday have given me some new information

"We have the Arizona Memorial, the Missouri, and the USS Bowfin, but we didn't have anything for the aviation side of the picture. So they've been working for about 10 years now to open the Aviation Museum. Today was the groundbreaking of phase I. I wanted to pass on my personal thanks to the Legislature because we did support them through grant-in-aid, and they been also getting federal money, but most of the money has been coming for the community. Thank you very much."

Representative Arakaki: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Just a reminder that Members have been invited for lunch as guest of the American Cancer Society in Conference Room 329, immediately after adjournment."

"Yes, on this measure, I rise in opposition of this bill. This has something to do with repealing the prohibition of owning a pistol that has more than 10 rounds. That means that we as citizens can now own machine guns and .50 calibers, and assault weapons and all kind of offensive weapons, Mr. Speaker, and I oppose that. Because as a civilized state, just because non-law abiding people can attain this is not a reason for us to have it.

"These are assault weapons that can be very dangerous. They can put away a lot of people in a short period of time. It will be very dangerous to have this, Mr. Speaker. I hope that my colleagues will oppose this. I will oppose this bill because this will bring us back to frontier times in which people then were allowed to do it, but times have changed, Mr. Speaker. And these weapons are a lot more deadly than they were in those times. Thank you."

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, request waiver of the 48-hour public hearing notification for the purpose of clarifying information already on notices which have been posted well ahead of the 48-hour requirement.

"The first has to do with Senate Bill 1593, SD 2, on which a proposed HD 1 was made available well ahead of the required time, to clarify that this bill is in reference to the establishment of a Kalihi-Palama District under the jurisdiction of the HCDA, the Hawaii Community Development Authority, to ensure that housing remains affordable to our people.

"The second involves Senate Bill 1015, SD 1, copies of which had been available for pick up and inspection on the part of the public. This would clarify that provisions in the initial proposed HD 1, relating to Kokee and specifically the residential recreational leases will be deleted from that measure."

Speaker Say: "Are the Members of this House satisfied with the request of Chair Kanoho for the waiver? So ordered."

Representative Moses: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I know for a number of years we've been hearing about saving Oahu's racetrack. "Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this measure. When we look at this constitutional provision, it was actually adopted back in 1959, the time that we had our Statehood and first had our Constitution enacted. And really when we look at this constitutional provision, what we need to ask ourselves is whether we should have a facially discriminatory provision in our Constitution that excludes people from being eligible to be judges after the age of 70.

"I think since that time we've seen that science has progressed, people can live longer, healthier lives, and actually be fully functioning and capable members of our society. For that reason, we should put this to the people and let them make the choice whether they believe that somebody should be automatically discriminated against merely because of their age.

"It's also important to remember that there is an ongoing process to review judges every 10 years, they come up for reappointment. And if someone is not meeting their qualifications or duties, at that time, the appropriate action can be taken. So I think for those reasons, I stand in support. Thank you."

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of SB 2141 SD2.

"Funding for services for the victims of sex assaults has been inconsistent for years due to tough economic times and other budget priorities. This bill will appropriate funds for sexual assault services and will hopefully alleviate the problems associated with underfunding in recent, revenue restricted budgets.

"Inadequate funding has resulted in a decrease in essential sex assault treatment services, underreporting of sex crimes, fragmented services, inexperienced and untrained staff due to high turnover rates, lack of coordination between government agencies and excessive reporting and grant submission costs. This bill is badly needed and I hope my colleagues will support it. Mahalo."

Representative Harbin rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in strong support. The small business community, it almost seems unfortunate that it is necessary for us to create a statutory Bill of Rights. One will assume that the small business community, who is the largest employer in the State of Hawaii, wouldn't need to have this Body give them the Bill of Rights. But unfortunately, I think we do need to signal some type of message to our business community that we at the Legislature do in fact support what they're doing for our economy.

"They're basically the risk-takers. They're the ones that lay their lives on the line to be able to employ 98% of our employment force. However, it is really unfortunate that out of probably 1 out of 50 bills, we finally pop one up that they can actually support and be proud of.

"I'm sitting here as I appear in different hearings and I see the small business owners and people that we're trying to protect under this Bill of Rights being called perpetual cheats, crooks, who don't care for their employees. I hope that this bill, will send a signal that perhaps maybe this Legislature, and this particular Body, is prepared to acknowledge what it is that they give to us so that we can continue to support the sustainability that we need after 15 years of a horrible recession. Thank you."

Representative Moses rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I have reservations on 1132-06. And basically it's a very, very restrictive non-smoking bill. I am opposed to smoking, but this prohibits smoking in many places that have private establishments where the people either have the right to work there or not to work there, and people may come there because it is a smoking establishment, nightclub, bar, etc. Thank you."

Representative Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I stand in strong support of the measure, 1132. And I have written remarks to insert in the Journal, but this bill is a very important bill. We're all affected by secondhand smoke. And it's the major legislative effort of the Coalition Against Smoking and also the American Cancer Society. Thank you."

Representative Lee's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this measure.

"This bill will protect Hawaii residents and visitors from secondhand smoke in public spaces and places of employment. As a member of the Board of the American Cancer Society in Hawaii, I would like to briefly refer members to the ACS' position paper on the secondhand smoke topic.

"Each year in the United States secondhand smoke is responsible for:

An estimated 35,000 to 40,000 deaths from heart disease in people who are not current smokers;

About 3,000 lung cancer deaths in nonsmoking adults;

Other respiratory problems in nonsmokers, including coughing, phlegm, chest discomfort, and reduced lung function;

150,000 to 300,000 lower respiratory tract infection in children which result in 7,500 to 15,000 hospitalizations; and Increases the number and severity of asthma attacks in about 200,000 to 1 million asthmatic children.

"The bill had almost unanimous support before the Health Committee, as most reasonable people agree that secondhand smoke is a public health menace. This is a Women's Caucus bill and I urge my colleagues to support it for the myriad of health benefits that will result. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I stand with reservations. Unfortunately I don't have the bill attached to the Standing Committee Report or I could get a little more clarity on this not smoking in public places. As I stood up before and said that I do believe, like at our airports, that there should be designated areas. Even at the State Capitol, I think there should be designated areas.

"I have concerns about pushing people out onto the streets, in the janitor closets, into alleyways, hiding. I think we should look at designated places. Thank you."

Representative Souki rose in support of the measure with reservations, and asked that the remarks of Representative Evans be entered in the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Green rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support. Just the most brief of statements. The more restrictive we are about smoking anywhere in the State, the more lives we'll save, both in the general public and in the working public. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, on Stand. Com. 1143-06, Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations on this matter. This bill has something to do with providing more incentives to our teachers and this time it comes with housing, financing, down payment, and low interest rates that can be as low as zero.

"I do want to say that I respect our teachers for what they provide for our children, however, we funded a big pay increase last Session, and I would like to see if that had addressed our caring to give them incentives to remain as a school teacher or become one. And I think it would be sort of irresponsible for us to keep piling up the benefits without assessing if the first one that we did, had addressed our initial intent.

"And also it's a concern for me as a taxpayer that we are giving more incentives to this type of shortage with our teachers because there's other professions that can argue as well that they are in short supply, mainly teachers, firemen, masons, whatever. They can always say that they too are in short supply. So I think that we as a Body we're opening ourselves to more claims that will result for us to be spending a lot of money. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Just short comments with reservations for SCR 1143. My short comments will be just that in regards to priorities for the teachers, just wondering where this falls. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Just for consistency, I stood up before on this. Basically it's about a certain item, specifying the persons and programs responsible for paying the motor vehicle insurance of a foster child.

"I'm still taking the position that for a minor, it's a choice of parents to either provide insurance or not for their children. This turns it into a right, not a privilege. And it takes away the choice. So if we're going to do this to foster parents, then we're going to have to do it to every parent. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Sonson rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Just reservations on this measure as it proceeds to Judiciary. I'll have a lot more to say about it if it does survive in Judiciary. However, Mr. Speaker, the issue in this particular measure has always been money. How much should we pay our doctors so that they will go work in Molokai? How much will we have to pay them so they can go to work at our underserved areas?"

"Please note, Mr. Speaker, that I spoke with my aunty who is making almost $400,000 a year as an obstetrician for Kaiser. Kaiser has done a great job in taking care of their doctors. They have no complaints regarding the issue of premiums for their insurance, malpractice insurance. That is really not an issue. That GAO, our General Accounting Office in the United States has determined that the issue of premiums, malpractice, defense of medicine, in four categories where it has been used by proponents from all over the United States. They found that only 1% of the cost of total medical care is really impacted by these four factors.

"In Hawaii, it's been found that it's a special state in which, although there is no tort reform as experienced by California, it's been found again that the premiums in Hawaii is actually lower than California's."

Representative Harbin rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of 1152. I think calling this tort reform maybe a little bit too generic. This is more medical malpractice reform. I think one of the biggest issues that we're faced with here along with housing is the implosion of our healthcare system, and one of the three components of the healthcare system is looking at medical malpractice. And I speak on behalf of the small business community and their employees of which the Prepaid Health Care Act provides them coverage.

"I just have a real issue with the fact that we cannot get our employees to doctors because doctors are not practicing medicine especially in certain fields that are described in this bill. So I encourage us to really look at this as something that the people of Hawaii need. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand in strong support."

"Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of this measure. And I just want to provide a short rebuttal about Kaiser Permanente being that their doctors are not complaining about their medical malpractice premiums.

"That is because, Mr. Speaker, their premiums are paid in-house. Kaiser Permanente covers all their doctors and they buy their coverage in bulk. Their premium is in no comparison to a small practitioner in Kalihi that he or she must pay it on her own. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In strong support. And I'd like the words of the former speaker incorporated as my own as well as additional comments. Thank you. I'm sorry, the former speaker in support, from Waipahu," and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in strong support of this measure. S.B. 3279 proposes to lower medical malpractice insurance premiums by adopting legislation that directly affects elements impacting medical malpractice insurance rates. This bill would implement both fair and appropriate reform actions that are urgently needed in Hawaii, not only to help reduce the overall costs of healthcare, but to also help hospitals to recruit and retain needed physician specialists that are in particular shortage on our Neighbor Islands.

"This bill will allow injured patients to receive compensation more quickly and be able to keep a higher percentage of the settlement awarded. A cap on all non-economic losses would improve the unpredictability and the lottery aspects of our medical tort system, at least for obstetrical and trauma care. Similar legislation in California and Texas have stabilized premium rates in the former, and have reduced premiums in the latter.

"Physicians currently practicing in Hawaii may not continue to practice here, and will relocate to the mainland if there is no reform initiative forthcoming with regard to malpractice premiums and current laws related to be addressed now, and wherever appropriate, the negative impact of those elements must be resolved. According to testimony submitted by the Hawaii Medical Association, there is an impending crisis in access to care in Hawaii today. Three of Hawaii's most qualified rheumatologists have left Hawaii. Many of Hawaii's orthopedic surgeons have left Hawaii, or have limited their practices. One of Hawaii's most skilled spinal surgeons will leave Hawaii in the next few months. Many obstetrician/gynecologists have either stopped delivering babies, or will soon do so, or have left, or are planning to leave Hawaii. Emergency Rooms and trauma centers are short staffed. JABSOM medical students are increasingly selecting lower risk specialties."

Representative Nishimoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Sonson rose to respond, stating:

"Still with reservations. Mr. Speaker, let us support our doctors. The way we can do this is to ensure that there'll be legislation to increase reimbursement in the Medicare, Medicaid, and other programs.

"The reasons why there's a lot more cases that are being brought over in Hawaii is very little as far as medical claims. It's because doctors have to, especially in Kalihi, Waipahu, where there are single practitioners that the prior speaker spoke about.

"You walk into any of these offices, there's whole lines of people waiting to go in. The reason for that is they have to treat it almost like a McDonald's practice because the reimbursements are so small. So they get to spend very little time on their patients. They don't do a sufficient job examining them and this causes problems. And it seems to be that the way that we can help doctors is to help them make more money by providing them an avenue to make money and this is what this is all about.

"I'm not against doctors, I'm just looking at the way the issues are being framed. It is not doctors against lawyers. It is actually how can we get them there and let's get to the bottom of it. It's money. Doctors that are leaving this State are looking at areas where they can make a lot more money because there's a lot more people for that specific specialty.

"My aunty works at Kaiser, yes. There's a lot of patients that she's served. A lot of babies she delivered. She's a very good obstetrician, but she would not go to Molokai and establish a private practice or in another underserved area in the Big Island because really there's just not enough babies to be delivered in Molokai. They won't be able to make the kind of money that they deserve. I think they deserve $400,000 and a complete package. Let's give it to them."

Representative Harbin rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise once again in support and in rebuttal. I think what's really interesting about this bill is that for the first time it isn't just an enabling measure to assist enabling doctors, but it's also a disabling measure for attorneys. Perhaps maybe this is a good time for us to expand our medical schools so maybe some attorneys can step into a second field versus making excessive fees off of the backs of our sick and injured people. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Just wanted to perhaps shed some light and rebut a comment made earlier. It's been my experience that the physicians that I know of always try to do their best and do not give substandard care. And I think they do work very hard. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 3279, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MEDICAL LIABILITY," was referred to the Committee on Judiciary with Representatives Carroll, Harbin, Takamine and Thielen being excused.

Representative Stonebraker rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. On SCR 1153, I have reservations. Very briefly, some egregious portions of the bill were removed which I was very pleased with. But if the members of the Judiciary and the Members in general would make note of page 8, for the next Reading it seems to indicate that those under the primary umbrella of an insurance holder can receive care and the insurance would pay for that without the consent or knowledge of the primary recipient of that insurance. Thank you."

Representative Meyer's written remarks are as follows:

"I am strongly opposed to this bill, Mr. Speaker, not only because there is no need for it as the current system does not appear to be broken, but also because of the incredible cost that will be incurred if this bill passes. There are no safeguards to prevent this new system from being abused. How do we know our insurance companies will not be paying for a previously injured worker to take a few more days off to go to the beach? Or visit relatives? Or merely stay home and do nothing as the money continues to come in? If passed, this bill will increase the cost of workers' compensation insurance. The cost is already prohibitive and businesses keep asking the legislature to reform workers' compensation laws to bring down the cost. Instead we are entertaining bills that go the other way. Everyone will end up paying for the cost of those who stay home from work, legitimately or not because businesses will have to raise their prices to cover the added costs. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The business community supports it. They have supported it for as long as I can remember. We need to standardize forms. We need to help the providers. We need to help the employees. Representative Harbin rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise with a no vote for Standing Committee Report 1178. Once again, we're going down the path of folliness. I believe that the creators of this bill perhaps maybe had a great intention in mind, which is something that we in the small business community have tried for years to do, and that is developing the process of alternative light duty.

"This is one of the most difficult things to do for the small business community. I think in fact we tried it when we passed the coordinated care bill back in the '90s. And that was one of the biggest problems we had was in small businesses, trying to determine where an employee or an injured worker could come back to work at light duty so as to rehabilitate them back to work.

"And also one of the parts of the workers' comp system is the vocational rehab. If an employee is completely unable to come back to their regular full time, type of employment, their vocational rehab is available. This system of vocational rehab has been a growing concern in that it does have its ability to be abused although it is a good service. But now what this bill is attempting to do is to say if an employee is not even permanently disabled and unable to come back to their job, they can apply for vocational rehab. In other words while they're out recovering from a knee injury, they can go to college to become an attorney.

"So I'm asking that we stop, take a deep breath because right now we're spending a little over $6 million on vocational rehab for the permanently disabled, which is a good thing. This particular measure for those that are not permanently disabled, could eventually cost your employers $52 million a year in payments. Now unless we're willing to figure out some way to subsidize workers' comp, then I suggest we hold, take a deep breath, and stop once again this folliness of not thinking through the impact on our economy. Thank you."

Representative Sonson rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much. I have a small business. The prior speaker doesn't speak for me. I support this bill. Let me repeat, I have a small business, I'm a small businessperson, I have employees and I support this bill. The prior speaker doesn't speak for me."

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise with reservations as to Standing Committee Report 1164. Excuse me, 1184. Thank you, I stand corrected. Mr. Speaker, the HCDA is under a lot of, I don't want to say attack, but I would say review because of certain events that have had happened that we have been discussing on other bills.

"I as a community member in Kakaako have worked with the HCDA on all different fronts for over 15 years. I think what this bill is trying to do is to balance the makeup of the Authority. And I have to tell you that many of us in the community do agree with that. However, I think one of the balances that is missing is input from the community as to who is appointed to the Authority.

"One of the biggest problems we had with the Authority through I would say at least three Governors that I have worked with is, the fact that the Authority is top heavy with appointments from the Governor. That is a problem and that needs to be rectified. I think it has erupted once again with this Kakaako Makai issue.

"But I think to throw in the Speaker of the House and President of the Senate into the mix with no criteria for these political elected officials, I think is just going to add more confusion to the decisions of the Authority without direct input from the community. And I will really ask that as this bill moves on, that we really look at the proper makeup so that the community does have input. And if we have to mandate that the Speaker and the President communicate or get consensus from the community then I really wish that we would somehow incorporate that language into this as we have with other agencies. Thank you."

Representative Moses rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Reservations, Mr. Speaker. The existing way it is done now with one selected by the Mayor, and one selected by the Governor has up to now, provided community members from the community with the selectees. So at least it worked in that. Thank you."

Representative Halford rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations. This bill barely got out of Committee. There were 4 yes, let's see what did we have. 4 yes, 1 with reservations, and 3 noes. So there's a lot of controversy, I voted with reservations because I know that the community members in Kakaako truly would like to see more members there, but they would like them to be from the area, community leaders. And the way the bill is written now, there's no assurance that that will happen. So hopefully it can be amended because that was the whole purpose of adding two. Not just for more friends in high places. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Stevens rose in support of the measure with reservations, and asked that the remarks of Representative Meyer be entered in the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Schatz rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support with reservations on Standing Committee Report 1185. And I just wanted to explain what the Chair of Labor, the Representative from Manoa and I, and the Chair of the Water, Land Committee are trying to accomplish here.

"It is late in the Session to find vehicles to address relief on a personal level for the recent natural disasters. And there were some really smart objections made to the bill as it was drafted, and when it was heard, in terms of fairness and there are two aspects of the fairness question to look at.

"One is the geographic aspect. Whether to provide a subsidy for victims of natural disasters that are specifically for Manoa and not for instance, for Windward residents, or Tantalus residents, or Kauai or other people.

"We're not able to solve that problem with this vehicle because the title is not sufficiently broad, but we were able to address the economic fairness question and to make it a little bit more progressive of a tax credit to establish a $75,000 income threshold, and to make it a refundable tax credit so that people who actually need this credit would be able to claim it. And people who are sufficiently wealthy that they don't need a subsidy would not be able to claim it. So I just would ask for the Members understanding and cooperation that this is a work in progress and that we will improve this. And hopefully find another vehicle to provide a more statewide assistance to those victims of natural disasters. And I don't think it's the intent of any of us to pass something that is specific to one valley or one community. Thank you."

Representative Halford rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you. Until then, with reservations."

Representative Harbin rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I too rise with reservations. And I brought this up in Committee. It seems to me if this is what the plan is, is that we need to do something with the title. Because right now what we are doing is, we as a Body are looking so specifically at one area. And I just personally have a little bit of an issue with that. Thank you."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Yes, on the same measure with reservations. I really appreciate the comments by the Water, Land Vice Chair. My concern is that as a Body, I think we're really working hard with the Housing Chair to do low income housing and homeless shelters and affordable housing. I just want to make sure that when we send this over to the Senate, that we send a strong message that we need to take care of people that don't have housing too.

"And the other thing is, I've had a lot of flooding in my district. And I know that a lot of people have damages. In fact, there's been some flooding recently, I think last week and the week before, where in terms of there's been a lot of I believe, economic damage to a lot of families on the Big Island. So I just have also some concerns about maybe this is a great vehicle for that discussion about what are we going to do as a legislative body in the long term for flood victims. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Sonson rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Just reservations, Mr. Speaker. This seems to be pointing to a special class of people who have an adjusted income of $75,000 or less. I think they make a lot of money."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. "Standing Committee Report 1197-06. Thank you. I rise with reservations on this measure. We had a lot of great testimony in Committee on this measure and the purpose of this bill was to provide public employees the opportunity to advance in the civil service system by being given first consideration when applying for civil service positions.

"One of the topics that we covered in Committee was to try to grapple with the issue of first consideration for these currently employed public servants. And we never quite were able to come up with a definition of what that means. So I note that this bill is going on to Finance, and I hope there's more discussion about that because it's an important procedure for the advancement of our employees in the system and I think we need to come to a conclusion on that. Thank you."

In our efforts to do this though, I just want to make sure that we are also taking a look at the programs that we currently spend TANF funds money on and making sure that we don't hurt those programs. Representative Ching rose in opposition to the measure, and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I strongly oppose this measure. I appreciate the intent of this bill. Protecting our State's children from harm and abandonment is a noble cause. The issue of "safe havens" is a difficult issue to address. While attractively titled, this bill is well-intended public policy that comes with unintended adverse consequences.

"Firstly, it is important to first point out that this bill is unnecessary. While the problem of newborn abandonment may be a problem in other states, that State of Hawaii has not experienced these same problems due to our strong family support systems and connectivity, known as hanai. In Hawaii, the extended family is commonly recognized as an integral part of the nuclear family, and the Hawaiian cultural practice of an open adoption called hanai is still a common practice. There is no evidence S.B. 3200 will effectively address the problem of child abandonment. Research indicates that even in states with safe haven laws, women continue to leave babies in unsafe areas. These laws undermine the rights and long-term interests of birth parents, their children, and the families. Grandparents who would be willing to raise a child may not know that their grandchild was dropped off at the fire station. Being raised with family provides children with their identity and a genealogical connection to family and ancestors. Infants abandoned through safe haven may have a complete lack of information about their heritage and ethnicity, leaving unanswered questions for them and their offspring. This proposed legislation could have an unintended adverse impact on such important support systems.

"I agree with the Department of Human Services that our focus should be on the long-term well-being of the newborn. Safe-haven measures like this one, though well-intended, fall short in that critically important respect. We believe that any good that might be accomplished by a safe-haven law is likely to be outweighed by the irreparable harm that it would cause the child who is abandoned. For example, the individual who drops off the newborn is not required to prove that he or she is the baby's parent, nor are they required to answer any of the questions that the hospitals, fire and police stations are required to ask. I greatly appreciate the inclusion in this bill to allow the Department of Human Services to reunify the newborns with their parents, as well as allowing the Department to search for relatives as a placement or permanency option. This is a goal that the Department of Human Services strives to achieve with the children in its child welfare system. However, in order to actually return a child to his or her parents or relatives, the Department of Human Services must have the child's information, which this bill does not require.

"Lastly, S.B. 3200 does not provide support and resources to the troubled mother. Efforts to prevent abandonment would include family planning information, promotion of parental care, support and counseling services to young women facing crisis pregnancies. By providing a "no hassle" route for ending parental responsibility, safe haven laws encourage mothers to conceal their pregnancies, have unsafe births and leave their children anonymously, undermining established and effective welfare and adoption policy."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committees was adopted and S.B. No. 3200, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CHILD PROTECTION," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Judiciary with Representative Ching voting no, and with Representatives Carroll, Hale, Saiki, Schatz and Takamine being excused.

"Mr. Speaker, this measure illustrates the growing recognition by the Legislature of the value of the family caregiver to the healthcare system of our state.

"Little by little, legislators have begun to support family caregivers. Some have found themselves in the position of delivering care and have been rudely awakened.

"This Committee will bring together a community group, including legislators, to help plan for our future needs."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"On Standing Committee Report 1211, with reservations. There is a part of the bill I don't agree with, the idea that when someone ends up in an emergency room because of alcohol, or some accident that that's where intervention takes place.

"I believe people who have come to the conclusion that they're broken and they need fixing, they need help, and they need services, I believe they're there for them. It's that person's decision if they're going to make a change or not so I don't believe this is a good expenditure of funds to have a pilot program in an emergency room for intervention. Thank you."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm rising in strong support on that measure. Just for the time constraints, I would just insert my remarks in the Journal."

Representative Meyer's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am rising in strong support of SB 2364, SD2, HD2. I am very happy to see that we are doing something constructive in regards to fighting our serious drug abuse problems. SB 2364 HD2 will establish an affirmative requirement that all health insurers provide coverage for an insured's injury that results from the insured's intoxication or being under the influence of any narcotic. Under current Hawaii law, healthcare providers are hesitant to link alcohol or substance abuse to an injury for fear of non-reimbursement of services rendered. The change in this bill will eliminate that fear and hesitancy. The bill will also establish a pilot program to be conducted in hospital emergency rooms. It would ask that health professionals, after treating the injuries of an obviously intoxicated person, commence to screen, conduct a briefing, suggest intervention, make a referral, or recommend treatment. This program known as SBIRT would capitalize on this "teachable moment," a time of vulnerability, when an addicted individual would be more open to intervention and dialogue.

"Our emergency medical doctors and nurses see addicts every day and this program could save the lives of countless addicted individuals. This is a very large step in the right direction in helping people overcome their destructive behaviors."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. Representative Meyer rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising in opposition to Stand Com. Report 1217, Senate Bill No. 3009. This bill is dealing with exempt employees. It would require all exempt employees to become civil service. I just think that it's not possible to make all exempt employees civil service.

"The Department of Commerce and Consumer Affairs has many, many different people that have special training and are important to the Department. And they wouldn't fit in to the civil service setup. There are many of the departments throughout the Administration that have special needs and they have the flexibility when they can keep exempt positions.

"This bill is pretty much setup to force all exempt employees with some exceptions, but overall the thrust of this bill is to eliminate most exempt positions and have them all in this civil service system. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Moses rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Caldwell rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Before we all go down with reservations, this is a point of clarification. I'm in strong support. The Representative from Laie, I think if she would read the Committee Report and the actual bill, she's a member of the Labor Committee, she would see that there are numerous exemptions for a lot of different departments including DCCA.

"We sat down, we worked with Mark Recktenwald and others. We sat down with DHRD. This is a permissive provision. It's not a mandatory conversion. And in fact, DHRD is continuing to work to see if they can't get an agreement between now and the end of Session on legislation that they can all live with.

"So I don't want it to be misrepresented to this Body that somehow this is a forced conversion that doesn't take into view the concerns of various departments. A lot of hard work has gone into this, and it is not mandatory and there are numerous, numerous exceptions in all departments. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Evans rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Moses rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, my reservation is we're adding more and more civil service employees and we're looking at a new GASB law. We've got all the unfunded mandates or unfunded liabilities with retirement system and health care, and I think it's just not the time to be adding more civil servants."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. Representative Hale rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I would like to support this bill, Standing Committee Report 1220-06, Senate Bill 2984, SD 1, HD 1, which appropriates and provides the money for the people who lost their lives, their houses, and their property, in 1984 in Kalapana with the lava flow that covered this very ancient and traditional Hawaiian community. And with the proper money that can help with self-help housing, we will be able to communicate and have again a very vital community of very few real Hawaiian villages that existed in the past. Thank you."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm in strong support of that bill."

Representative Harbin rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am rising in opposition to Standing Committee Report 1223. Mr. Speaker, I believe I have said to this Body once before that this was probably the most important measure that the 2002 Legislature passed out. This gave the opportunity for an independent third party, the Insurance Commissioner, to review the rates of healthcare premiums to our small business community, actually to all.

"But the most specific reason, I say the small business community is because prior Legislatures before us had the forethought to see that our employees needed to be guaranteed a constant ability of paying healthcare, hence the Prepaid Health Care Act.

"The Prepaid Health Care Act for those of you that do not know what it is, is a mandate by the State of Hawaii that says to a business person, thou shalt give your employees insurance if they work for 20 hours a week or more, for 4 consecutive weeks. And that pretty much takes in a very large group of our employees.

"There's been discussion in the past that perhaps maybe the Prepaid Health Care Act should go away. I as one as a small business employer in my former life have always said, 'No, we need this.' Why do we need this? Because what it does is it takes all of our small business employers and drops them into one pool of experience rating, so that the experiences crossed across the section of the entire small business community of which employs 98% of our employees.

"Now this is a mandate, you either do it or you're out of business. So now we come along and we allow a couple of nonprofits to come into business. One of which is the infamous HMSA, which insures over 700,000 employees. Employers in the State of Hawaii, the small business community pays over $2.2 billion a year in premiums of which $1.8 billion goes to HMSA. If we do not have the rate regulation in place, how do we know how they're spending this? How are they creating their administrative expenses? How do we know that they in fact are not ripping off the employers?

"If they rip off the employers, Mr. Speaker, I say to you and every one of us, you are taking away health insurance from your employees of the State of Hawaii, because as the cost goes up, 10 to 20% per year. That's $350 per employee, times 20% per year, times 10 employees. You figure that out. What does an employer do? Cut staff.

"Don't do this to us. Don't do this to your constituency. Don't do this to our citizens of the State of Hawaii. Go back, keep this rate regulation. If not, keep it in place for another four years. Don't fiddle with it. It's working. I don't see the HMSAs of the world losing coverage. I don't see them losing money, which they're by the way they're a nonprofit. So stop, let's not make this a special interest bill. Stop. Thank you."

Representative Sonson rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Strong support. I originally opposed this bill, Mr. Speaker. I thought it was pretty bad to stop the, I guess the oversight of the Commissioner. However, it was changed in a previous Committee and I thought the prior speaker was there where the Commissioner actually suggested amendments to the bill so that we can pass it out. It does not change it. On page 3, it now has a requirement that the filing be accompanied by supporting information. That wasn't there before.

"The problem was that as it was originally written, it would stop rate regulation, period. Now there is an oversight, a little bit different, however it is sufficient. And according to the Commissioner, if these amendments are there, and it's probably there now, then we are okay."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2917, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HEALTH INSURANCE RATE REGULATION," was referred to the Committee on Finance with Representative Harbin voting no, and with Representatives Carroll, Hale, Saiki, Schatz and Takamine being excused.

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 3077, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CONSERVATION," was referred to the Committee on Finance with Representative Marumoto voting no, and with Representatives Carroll, Hale, Saiki, Schatz and Takamine being excused.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Judiciary presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1225-06) recommending that S.B. No. 2156, SD 2, as amended in HD 1, be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2156, SD 2, HD 1, be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm in opposition to Stand Com. 1225, at the top of page 18. I think it would be a mistake to pass this bill that would allow the Auditor to have a full range over everyone's tax returns. The Department of Taxation said that they would be happy to provide the Auditor with any information with the identification taken out. The names, the social security numbers, the addresses, and that should provide the Auditor with enough information to do whatever studies that are necessary. But just allowing wholesale, blanket access to all the records is really an invasion of all our privacy. Thank you."

Representative Moses rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I have severe reservations also with this measure. It is going on to Finance. But I just want to point out that it does, as the previous speaker said, it provides exclusive authority to the Auditor to inspect all accounts, books, records, files, papers, and documents and all financial affairs of the Department of Taxation.

"So if you're auditing how the Department works that's one thing. But if you're inspecting all these records, you have access to everybody's personal tax information. Thank you."

Representative Stevens rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pine rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Meyer rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, I'm voting no on this measure. And Mr. Speaker, one reason in addition to those expressed by the Representative from Kahala, is that the information could be more widely disseminated. If the Auditor has this access to tax returns of our constituents and businesses, and if there's any litigation filed on that matter or something somewhat related to it, then that information would be subject to discovery.

"I know that the Chair of the Judiciary Committee said something about, well then that person could move to quash the subpoena over the discovery, but that doesn't always happen. So once we let tax information go out with a taxpayer's name, social security number, the etc. that information can get out much more broadly than is appropriate. And when we talk about our concern about identity theft, this is just really a very serious concern. I think the bill shouldn't continue to go through the process. I think that the way it is now, with the Tax Department having the ability to contain that information and if they do release it, remove the identity of the person and other things such as social security numbers. That way it is working. This other is way too invasive to our taxpayer's privacy. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representatives Marumoto and Thielen be entered in the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Halford rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Sonson rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Strong support. Mr. Speaker, I was present when the Auditor was testifying on this bill. We expect the Auditor to do a great job in making sure that she looks at everything before she represents in her statement that she looked at everything. So she said, how can I say that I looked at everything if I didn't look at everything?"

"What's being proposed by the Tax Department is, here you can look at this but we're going to cut out some. That's not proper. That's not good for the public to look at a report that says, 'Oh, here is my conclusion, but by the way, I didn't get to look at everything.' So what good is that?"

"You know what else, Mr. Speaker, this has been reviewed, this idea, this proposal has been reviewed by the Attorney General, and is actually suggested by the Attorney General for her to come to the Legislature to obtain this authority so that she can do her job properly. So let us support this very important measure."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2156, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE AUDITOR," was referred to the Committee on Finance with Representatives Ching, Marumoto, Meyer, Stevens and Thielen voting no, and with Representatives Carroll, Hale, Saiki, Schatz and Takamine being excused.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Judiciary presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1226-06) recommending that S.B. No. 2476, SD 2, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2476, SD 2, HD 2, be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Moses rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. On 1226-06, I'd like to note some reservations. Possibly as it goes through the system it will get clean and stay clean, but I'm afraid it would revert back to its original form where it restricts all State owned lands from being sold or disposed of, and that's a tremendous question for me because of UH West Oahu."

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you very much. I wish to speak with some reservations on the measure here. Although it's well intentioned, this particular bill here, Mr. Speaker and Members, I believe this is the beginning of the dismantling of HCDA. And if that is the reason then, we should simply have a bill to repeal HCDA. To provide a requirement that for any sale, exchange, lease of land, we must have legislative approval before you can proceed, will destroy the planning capabilities I believe, of HCDA."

"Mr. Speaker, with the legislative oversight and I believe we certainly should have legislative oversight, I believe that it should be exactly like they have with DLNR. Anytime the sale of conservation or any kind of land, we can veto it really, by having a concurrent resolution against the sale of land. But this bill here goes against the grain. They're even before you begin to plan, you must have the approval of the Legislature."

"I believe this probably is an overreaction to what has happened with the A&B project, and I believe it's wrong to have this overreaction."

"Mr. Speaker, this bill further provides that you will have no more residences on the makai side of Kakaako. Well, there is none to be built on the mauka side, Mr. Speaker and Members. And so what we're saying in fact is there is going to be no residences in the Kakaako area."

"So where does it put us as far as providing housing for the people of the State of Hawaii, moderate income housing. We have land that's under our control and yet we're saying there shall be no residences built there."

"Furthermore, Mr. Speaker, when a question is asked as to how much it is going to cost to provide the park that has been planned by A&B, and it doesn't have to be A&B, but providing a park for the people of this State, Oahu, it comes to about $150 million. Well Mr. Speaker and Members, are we prepared, or do we have the resources to put up a $150 million for a park?"

"The alternative to that is that this will continue to be a slum the way it is right now. Old, broken, dilapidated buildings that you wouldn't want to walk around at night in that particular area."

"So Mr. Speaker, hopefully when the Finance Committee looks at this, they begin hopefully to see that it is basically an overreaction. And if they don't wish to have A&B, that's fine. Don't have the A&B project. But at the same time, do not hamper HCDA from doing their job. Thank you very much."

Representative Pine rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Just wanted to note my reservation based on the comments from the speaker of Kapolei."

Representative Halford rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, serious reservations. And if I may have the Speaker Emeritus' remarks entered into the Journal as my own please," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Thielen continued, stating:

"I think it's a very serious step that we're taking as the Legislature. We're really dismantling HCDA, and it's a reaction to an issue that doesn't go to the fundamental purposes that HCDA has served so well. Thank you."

Representative Nishimoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Marumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Harbin rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising with a yes vote to Standing Committee Report 1229, and my infamous words of caution and advice. As this measure moves on to Finance, if I could recommend that perhaps maybe since this is a constitutional amendment and we do have some time to make some changes, perhaps this might be the appropriate time for this Legislature to signal that we're ready to look at Chapter 104 which is relating to public works, and perhaps maybe exempt these agricultural SPRBs from the requirements of Chapter 104 which as we are beginning to understand, the requirements will add a good 30% to the cost of implementing these well needed agricultural improvements. Thank you."

Representative Stevens rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"On Standing Committee Report 1234-06, Mr. Speaker, I'd like to stand in strong support. I normally don't like to vote for a tax increase, but this increase on the tax on cigarettes will help fund the Cancer Research Center of Hawaii and I am strongly in support of that. Thank you."

"No vote. I'm opposed to all tax increases."

Representative Pine rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The revenues are going to go to the Cancer Research Center, and the Governor sent down her people to support this tax increase on tobacco. The Administration strongly supports this tax increase because it's going to save lives, and it's going to help us with cancer treatment. Thank you."

Representative Moses rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I am in strong support and have written comments."

Representative Lee's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am in support of this measure, which increases the tax on cigarettes after 1/1/07 and earmarks 50% of the tax to the Cancer Research Center, 25% to Department of Health health promotions and disease prevention, and 25% to the Hawaii tobacco prevention and control trust fund.

"Mr. Speaker, 11 states increased their cigarette tax in 2005. Hawaii is not among them, nor is it among the states that taxed cigarettes the most.

"Increases in cigarette taxes are helping to motivate people to quit smoking. In New York City a significant increase in the tax, along with a smoke-free air law, brought about the most significant one-year drop in smoking ever recorded. Between 2003-2004, 180,000 people quit, representing a 15% decline.

"If the decrease in smoking was the only benefit of our proposed new law it would be good, however, this proposal opens up the possibility of a world class cancer research and treatment center for Hawaii. For this reason, I urge the members to support the bill and make Hawaii a leader in cancer care."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure, and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. The tobacco tax is paid "voluntary" only by smokers who refuse to quit. Tobacco use is the leading preventable cause of death in the United States. Smoking and tobacco use remains the single greatest cause of morbidity and mortality in Hawaii accounting for over 1,100 resident deaths and $535 million in medical care and lost productivity costs annually. Research shows that the more states spend on comprehensive tobacco control programs, the greater the reduction in smoking. Tobacco tax increases cigarette prices, but ultimately prevents and reduces smoking among all income groups and works most powerfully to prompt lower-income smokers to quit or cutback and to stop lower-income kids from starting. As a result, low-income families and communities will not be the victims of any cigarette tax increase but its biggest beneficiaries.

"However, we must be mindful of the possibility of black markets on cigarettes when taxes are raised on a product."

No. 2961, SD 1, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HEALTH," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance with Representatives Meyer, Moses, Pine and Stonebraker voting no, and with Representatives Carroll, Hale, Saiki, Schatz and Takamine being excused.

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition for Stand Com. 1235. This measure has something to do with providing licensure to dentists without taking the proper examination and this one is the American Board of Dental Examiners.

"The Hawaii Dental Association came and opposed this measure and I can understand where they're coming from. First of all, we don't have a shortage of this type of dentist that's a specialized dentist to come in to our State, not take the board exam, and practice.

"There are seven Committee members, Mr. Speaker, and let me just read their voting records. 3 voted aye, 3 voted with reservations, and I voted no. So this tells this Chamber that there's a lot of things that need to be discussed before this measure comes to pass in this House. The Hawaii Dental Association already agreed that this can happen, that they can come and practice in underserved areas, so that tells me that this body of dentists are cooperating with us.

"However there is absolutely no need to let all this specialty doctors to come and practice in our State without taking the exam. And when they opened it for this type of dentist to practice in underserved areas, about 56 dentists from other places came and applied.

"So I don't think we need to flood ourselves with dentists that are just coming in by accreditation and not taking the exam. This matter is unnecessary, Mr. Speaker. Thank you."

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm in opposition of Standing Committee Report 1236-06. This bill was originally passed through the House, or the original as went through was House Bill 3105. This is the allowing the psychotropic medication prescriptions by a psychologist and not psychiatrist. And I just want to tell the Members, this is just like you get in a major car accident and you hire a paralegal to represent you instead of hiring a lawyer. There's no difference. If you want the lawyer, you pay for a lawyer that has gone through ..."

Representative Stonebraker rose, stating:

"Can we have a brief recess, please?"

The Chair then stated:

"Can Representative Moses finish?"

Representative Stonebraker continued, stating:

"I believe he's speaking on the wrong bill, Mr. Speaker. That's my point."

Representative Lee's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am in support of this measure, which directs the Executive Office on Aging to coordinate a statewide system of family caregiver support and policies. This expansion and the additional money is necessary because our elderly population is increasing rapidly – the services of the family caregiver are critical to our State being able to deal with the mounting need for care. The economic impact of the care given at home by the family caregiver contributes greatly to the economic well-being of our health care system."

Representative Moses rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, on 1240, I have severe reservations. This is tinkering with the gas cap bill. In fact, I'm going to change it to opposition. I've always been opposed to the gas cap and this tinkering is going to do nothing but just prolong the agony, so I am in opposition of 1240."

Representative Harbin rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise with a strong no to Standing Committee Report 1242. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm going to once again try to explain what this bill does.

"Right now we have in statute, the Patient's Bill of Rights. One part of the statute was found to be unconstitutional by our Hawaii State Supreme Court in HMAA v. Baldado. However when it comes to non-ERISA patients such as those of us that are sitting in this room. All of us. We still have the benefits that this Legislature provided to us under the Patient's Bill of Rights.

"What that allows you to do is to apply directly to the Insurance Commissioner for review of a denial of a benefit. And surprisingly enough, it awards you or it provides you, the patient, to be awarded attorney fees win or lose upon the discretion of the Insurance Commissioner. Why do we do this? Because sometimes those denied benefits are only $600.

"Many of us would just pay it because we don't think we could hire a lawyer to do it for us. But if you're going as a non-ERISA, that would be us, if you go to the Insurance Commissioner and say, 'Hey, I got this disease and they say that there's an experimental drugs or there's an experimental process, and they're going against my doctor and they're denying my benefit.'

"You get to hire a lawyer and you get to go to the Insurance Commissioner to contest this. And if the Insurance Commissioner feels that you are worthy, even if you lose, he'll give you your attorney's fees.

"So what does that do? It sends a message, a consumer protection message, to the monopolistic tendencies of our health plans in the State of Hawaii. In fact as I said at a Committee meeting during the interim, trying to figure out what it is we can do here. The senior partner of the law firm that represents HMAA, HMSA, Kaiser, UHHA said that, 'Since this law firm represents all of these health care providers in our law firm, it would make it so much easier if we got into a single system. In other words let's take away the benefits from us and let's make it easier for the law firm.

"That's what this bill is all about, it's a takeaway. It's a takeaway from the people that are non-ERISA, all of your government employees, your retirees, us. That's what this is and we need to really look at why are bills like this, or why is this bill making its way through. And I sure hope once again, the Finance Committee which is our last stop, sits up and takes a look at who are the stakeholders that are benefiting from this law. Thank you."

Representative B. Oshiro rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, on this same measure, 1242, I'd like to ask for another potential ruling on a conflict. The law firm that the previous speaker was just talking about is the same law firm that I work for, but I don't do any of those cases. Thank you," and the Chair ruled "no conflict."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committees was adopted and S.B. Representative Herkes rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Herkes' written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of SB 2214, SD 2, HD 2.

"Mr. Speaker, the events of last year in the gulf coast, the tsunamis in Indonesia, and the flooding this year on Kauai, Oahu and the Big Island should be more than a wake up call for the people of this State. Our highest priorities should be the safety of our people, the structural integrity of all of our buildings occupied by people and animals, and our ability to provide shelter and relief in the event of disaster.

"To this end we offer SB 2214, SD 2, HD 2, to develop a long-range comprehensive plan to protect our people, buildings and pets from any one of the natural disasters that will impact this State and its people. We are the only state in the nation that is vulnerable to every known natural disaster. Lava, earthquakes, hurricanes, tsunamis and tornadoes – the most destructive natural forces known to man, and we have them all right here. It is only a matter of time before we are hit, and the question is: Will we be victims, or will we be prepared?

"When this bill was heard this week, there were some testifiers that said, in effect, 'butt-out'. Others, such as General Lee and Gary Chock gave very valuable testimony and we heed their comments and suggestions.

"We are in the process of drafting a proposed HD 3 for the consideration of the Finance Committee. Following the public hearing, we are making the following amendments to the HD 3.

"The Prepared Emergency Response Commission (PERP) will be advisory to the Department of Civil Defense. The Commission will encompass a spectrum of experts to advise on the varied aspects of disaster preparation, mitigation, and response. The other advisory Councils/Committees, such as the Hawaii State Earthquake Advisory Committee, and there are about eight in all, will be Subcommittees of the PERP Commission and the Chairs of these various Councils/Committees will be members of the PERP Commission. These Subcommittees will continue to use their expertise to provide valuable advice to the Commission on preparation for their specific types of natural disasters.

"What this does, Mr. Speaker, is bring all the necessary parties to the same table and to add representatives from the financial, real estate and insurance communities, as well as, experts from the University of Hawaii.

"We will accept the language offered by the Department of Health and will clarify that shelters are for people made homeless from the disaster, not to take care of Hawaii's current homeless.

"We will amend the section dealing with under-grounding of utilities and replace it with a requirement to harden all communication systems in the State.

"We will delete the section dealing with 'price gouging'. It is already current law.

"As I stated Mr. Speaker, General Lee, Gary Chock P.E. and others made a number of helpful suggestions that we will give serious consideration to in developing the proposed HD 3.

"I will quote one testifier, "We have been actively involved in disaster preparedness advocacy and legislation for nearly 10 years and have extensively studied this subject.... We could otherwise lead the nation by example on how an isolated island state can fend effectively for itself in readiness and response." This testifier opposed the bill. Tell that to the people of Kauai. Tell that to the families of the people who were swept away by torrents of water. Tell that to the families that lost their homes. Tell them that we were prepared.

"We all saw the results of the tragedy at Kilauea where homes were built downstream from a dam that had not been inspected for years and too close to an existing river. But what the Members may not know about is the flooding that impacted the Sheraton Poipu and the massive flooding to the Kauai Marriott, plus many other homes and businesses.

"The recent damage has not been limited to Kauai either. In past weeks, there has been flooding on the Windward side of Oahu and in the south Kona and Ka'u areas of Hawaii. Last fall, parts of the Manoa area suffered extensive damage from a flash flood. In the case of Ka'u's Kawa flats in my district, there has been flooding for decades, cutting people off from homes, schools and medical attention.

"If this is the damage we can expect from rainstorms, can we even begin to imagine the devastation that would come from a category 5 hurricane or a tsunami?

"Is there anyone in this Chamber who can say with any certainty that their home is immune from a natural disaster? Is there anyone in this Chamber who feels that we as a state are ready for a category 5 hurricane that hits the leeward coast of this island, or a tsunami the size of the one that demolished Indonesia, or another category 7 plus earthquake like the one that hit the Big Island in 1975?

"I do not think that we are ready.

"This is not to fault the efforts of General Lee or Ed Texeira. They are good and capable people and they need all the support and funding that we can give them.

"SB 2214, SD 2, HD 2 is a comprehensive plan to address issues such as the development of accurate natural disaster zone maps available to everyone, how to mitigate loss in each of the many natural disaster impact zones, emergency supplies on each island, shelters for those people impacted by a natural disaster, hardening of communications systems, evacuation plans, safety for patients in care homes or medical facilities, care for pets and many other issues.

"I urge those outside this Chamber who are critical of this effort and say it is not needed, to bury your egos and work together for the safety of the people of this State.

"I urge the Members to work with us to develop a plan to protect the people of this State. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative M. Oshiro moved that S.B. No. 2193, SD 1, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Lee rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support with reservations. And my reservations really are that one size doesn't fit all, and we have community associations with 30 to 40,000 members and then others that are very small. I think we have to proceed with caution when we try to regulate them."

Representative Morita rose in support of the measure with reservations, and asked that the remarks of Representative Lee be entered in the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Meyer rose in support of the measure with reservations, and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Meyer's written remarks are as follows:

"I have reservations about this bill. I am concerned about the degree to which the State government is becoming involved in dictating affairs that should be resolved on a local level. Requiring Planned Community Associations (PCAs) to keep all their records for as long as they are in existence and available for review by their members is tremendously burdensome and unreasonable. I do believe that members should have access to the records of the association to which they belong, but it might be more prudent to extend the limit by a year rather than force the PCAs to keep all of their records accessible for such a long period of time. I also object to the Legislature mandating that PCAs have an annual audit done. That is a decision the individual PCAs should be making. One size most definitely does not fit every PCA. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in very strong support of this measure. There aren't that many laws that apply to planned communities. As a matter of fact, it's only two pages. But we are growing as a State with a lot of planned communities everywhere, and it's time for us to give consumer protection to all our people that buy into this type of developments. These are simple housekeeping measure that we need to implement, a simple asking for financial records.

"They do keep them for a period of five years and seven years, and it's not an added cost to the association since they already maintain these records. And also, it provides for transparency and accountability to management companies. And also it promotes audits and everything else. I ran out of words, Mr. Speaker. I apologize. But this is good consumer protection to the planned communities and provides transparency and accountability from the managing agent. Thank you."

Representative Yamane rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pine rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and S.B. No. 2193, SD 1, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PLANNED COMMUNITY ASSOCIATIONS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 46 ayes, with Representatives Carroll, Hale, Saiki, Schatz and Takamine being excused.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGES

The following messages from the Governor (Gov. Msg. Nos. 249 and 250) were received and announced by the Clerk and were placed on file:

Gov. Msg. No. 249, dated March 15, 2006, transmitting the Department of Business and Economic Development, & Tourism's Hawaii's Sister/State/Cities Program Report.

Gov. Msg. No. 250, transmitting the following:

The Honorable Calvin K. Y. Soy
Speaker of the House of Representatives
Twenty-Third State Legislature
State Capitol
Honolulu, Hawaii 96813

Dear Mr. Speaker:

In a letter dated February 9, 2006, I had requested your immediate consideration and passage of H.B. No. 2275, Making an Emergency Appropriation for Electricity Payments Statewide, to appropriate emergency funding to address deficits in electricity payments for the Department of Accounting and General Services (DAGS) in accordance with Section 9, Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii.

I am now requesting to amend H.B. No. 2275 to add emergency funding in the amount of $6,400,000 in general funds to address deficits in electricity payments for the University of Hawaii (UH). Recently, the University brought to my attention their shortfalls in funding for electricity for the following campuses: Manoa, $3,300,000; Hilo, $600,000; and Community Colleges, $2,500,000.

Attached is a proposed S.D. 1 of H.B. No. 2275 that incorporates the requested appropriation requirements for DAGS and UH. Please note that the use of a single appropriation to distribute the emergency general fund appropriation of $7,676,000 to DAGS and UH is proper because the distribution of such amount is merely an allocation that the Legislature is making of the appropriation.

We appreciate your prompt attention to this matter. UH will be available to answer any questions you may have on this request.

Sincerely,

LINDA LINGUE

H.B. NO. 2275

Proposed S.D. 1

A BILL FOR AN ACT

MAKING AN EMERGENCY APPROPRIATION FOR ELECTRICITY PAYMENTS
STATEWIDE.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF HAWAII:

SECTION 1. This Act is recommended by the governor for immediate passage in accordance with section 9 of article VII of the Constitution of the state of Hawaii.
SECTION 2. The purpose of this Act is to make an emergency appropriation to address deficits in electricity payments of $1,276,000 for the department of accounting and general services managed facilities statewide and $6,400,000 for the university of Hawaii. Since local utility companies are dependent upon oil as the primary source of fuel, the steady rise in world oil prices has directly contributed to this shortfall. Although kilowatt per hour consumption has remained flat or decreased, increased worldwide demand and natural disasters like Hurricane Katrina have increased oil prices.
Based on a combination of actual bills paid and projected cost, the shortfall for department of accounting and general services for fiscal year 2005-2006 is as follows: Oahu, $3,000,000; Hawaii, $91,000; Maui, $85,000; and Kauai, $100,000.

H.B. NO. 2275, Proposed S.D. 1

Proposed S.D. 1

The projected shortfall for the university of Hawaii for fiscal year 2005-2006 is as follows: Manoa, $3,300,000; Hilo, $600,000; and community colleges, $2,500,000. Without an emergency appropriation, payments on electricity bills for fiscal year 2006 must be deferred.

SECTION 3. There is appropriated out of the general revenues of the State of Hawaii the sum of $7,676,000, or so much thereof as may be necessary for fiscal year 2005-2006, to be allocated to the following departments in the amounts listed below, for the purpose of paying electricity bills:

Department of accounting and general services	$1,276,000
University of Hawaii	$6,400,000

The sum appropriated shall be expended by the appropriate state

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support with brief comments. I would just like to say that the word limu and Ewa Beach are synonymous. At some point, when certain households on Oahu would like to pick limu, they say, 'Go to Ewa Beach.'

"This measure promotes the conservation of our shoreline so we can rehabilitate the growth of limu again for our future generations to enjoy. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Pine rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pine's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this measure, SB 895 SD1 HD2. For many generations the Ewa Shoreline was known for its abundant limu. In recent years, the changing environmental conditions and over-harvesting has drastically reduced the limu population and now threatens its future existence. In addition, the disappearance of limu is having a starving-effect on the surrounding aquatic habitats, making it unsuitable for fish and other ocean life. This has resulted in declining shoreline fish populations.

"Born from the urgency to protect Oahu's most diverse and abundant limu site, many community organizations, like Ewa Beach Limu Project are committed to educating students and beach users on replanting and restoration. This legislation establishes a specific limu management area and mandates harvesting regulation to be monitored by the department of land and natural resources. Such conservation efforts to restore the Ewa Shoreline's limu are critical to the preservation of the ocean's food chain and our State's environment and economy. As the Senate companion bill to the House version I introduced, this measure is the first step in protecting limu and ensuring future generation's access to harvesting on the Ewa Shoreline."

Representative Stevens rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition to Standing Committee Report 1263-06. The purpose of this bill is to enhance the enforcement of Hawaii's prevailing wage law by ensuring that a violation of Hawaii's prevailing wage law arises with each separate project in which the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations finds that a contractor has failed to comply with the law.

"However it seems to me that in reality, this measure takes away the incentive to comply with the law. The current penalty structure allows a contractor some room to learn a very complicated law pertaining to wage rate schedules that change every 6 months. If a mandatory penalty structure is imposed per project instead of per investigation, this will eliminate many viable contractors from eligibility to bid on jobs even when just the smallest perhaps, just a clerical mistake is made and each clerical mistake will count as a violation. So for those reasons, I'm opposed to this measure. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Moses rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I have reservations on both measures. I've spoken about this issue before. This is having the Department of Transportation comply with lighting ordinances. They do comply with the federal law and as they replace existing lights they will replace them with the newer lights."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the reports of the Committee were adopted and H.R. No. 39, entitled: "HOUSE RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION TO COMPLY WITH COUNTY ORDINANCES AND STANDARDS RELATING TO OUTSIDE LIGHTING AT AIRPORTS AND HARBORS, AND TO PROVIDE CUT-OFF OR FULLY SHIELDED LENS FIXTURES TO DIRECT ARTIFICIAL LIGHTING DOWNWARD TO PREVENT DIFFUSION THE LIGHT INTO THE ATMOSPHERE, ON THE ISLAND OF HAWAII AND THE ISLAND OF MAUI," was adopted, with Representatives Berg, Chang, Evans, Harbin, Meyer, Saiki, Stonebraker, Takai and Waters being excused; and

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.C.R. No. 43, be adopted, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Moses rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I have reservations on 1268-06. This is urging the Department of Transportation to increase safety signs along certain highways. I'm sure they will do that, but the fact of just placing signs doesn't take away the problems, so there's a bigger issue. This resolution also calls for creation of a divided highway and that may be the way to go. The signs only alert people that the State is ripe for suing. Thank you."

Representative Green rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In my district, two of my best friends died on that highway and so I am in support. The reason I'm calling for more signs is because we don't have enough signs. There's almost no signs there at all, and if we have to be sued, if that's people's prerogative, so be it. But really what I want is more safety there.

"There's high winds on that highway that move cars around and cause terrible collisions. There's also, as you know, and I'm very thankful to my colleagues, last year we did fund the widening of Phase I, of that highway.

"We're doing 50 different things, but I don't think we should disparage any safety measure on that highway which is very dangerous. The death rate is three times higher there. If those of us had the opportunity to read the newspaper, one person died in flames 48 hours ago on that highway, from a head-on collision. We really need more safety measures and I think that we're going to have to come together on this. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.C.R. No. 43, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION URGING THE DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION TO INCREASE THE NUMBER OF SAFETY SIGNS ALONG MAMALAHOA HIGHWAY AND QUEEN KAAHUMANU HIGHWAY AND TO EXPEDITE THE CREATION OF A DIVIDED HIGHWAY FROM KAILUA-KONA TO KAWAIIHAE," was adopted, with Representatives Berg, Chang, Evans, Harbin, Meyer, Saiki, Stonebraker, Takai and Waters being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.C.R. No. 79, be adopted, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Moses rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm with reservations on this measure. This requests that the Department of Transportation enter into a 10-year lease with one specific and named company, and I think that that is not the way to go either.

"They should be negotiating and looking at providing the ship repair facilities. They are cognizant of the fact that we need them, must have them, it's essential for the State. But to say that it has to that agreement with that particular shipyard company, I think is misguided. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.C.R. No. 79, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE HARBORS DIVISION OF THE DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION TO PROCEED WITH EXECUTING THE TEN-YEAR LEASE APPROVED BY THE DEPARTMENT OF LAND AND NATURAL RESOURCES FOR PACIFIC SHIPYARDS INTERNATIONAL TO CONTINUE TO PROVIDE VITAL SHIP REPAIR SERVICES TO THE MARITIME COMMUNITY FROM ITS EXISTING HONOLULU HARBOR FACILITY," was adopted, with Representatives Berg, Chang, Evans, Harbin, Meyer, Saiki, Stonebraker, Takai and Waters being excused.

S.B. No. 2941, SD 1, HD 1:

Representative M. Oshiro moved that S.B. No. 2941, SD 1, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Sonson rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. No, I'm not speaking on the bill relating to cruelty to animals. Actually I'm on SB No. 2941. I have a reservation on this. I'm glad that it has a defective date.

"Mr. Speaker, this is a measure that deals with arson, that creates a different felony, a class C felony. This is, so our Members know, it's a 5-year penalty, which is 5 years in jail. That's what a class C felony is.

"The concern with this bill is actually the portion that states that if you recklessly, intentionally, or knowingly set fire on your own property, on your own land, and somehow it spreads to your neighbor and causes 10,000 square feet of damage to brushfire. 10,000 square feet, Mr. Speaker, is not very big as you know. A typical size house like probably the one that you live in is about 10,000 square feet of land. So it's not that big. You can put three of those, you know. It says zero lot is 3,000 to 4,000 square feet. You take three of those lots that'll be about 9,000 square feet so it's very small. That is not the typical brushfire that we hear about that happens in Waianae and also the brush areas on other islands, etc.

"So a landowner somewhere on the Big Island in a farm sets a fire. Not the kind of agricultural fire, but a typical fire probably on their own, maybe even their kids doing so. If the kid's a minor and this is my next point, sets fire in your daddy's or mommy's own lands and somehow causes 10,000 square feet of damage to the next door neighbor. That is not only a 5-year class C felony, it is also parental responsibility of paying the damage or the cost of extinguishing the fire.

"So Mr. Speaker, that is of utmost concern and I hope that these concerns can be looked at in the Conference on this measure. I do believe that idea and the intent of this bill was to address those intentionally set fires, even reckless fires, but in someone else's land like in forest reserves and any area of government lands, etc., or someone else's land. It should not cover, because of the seriousness of the penalties, it should not really cover reckless acts done by minors on their own property. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and S.B. No. 2941, SD 1, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO BRUSH FIRES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 42 ayes, with Representatives Berg, Chang, Evans, Harbin, Meyer, Saiki, Stonebraker, Takai and Waters being excused.

S.B. No. 2283, SD 1, HD 1:

On motion by Representative M. Oshiro, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, S.B. No. 2283, SD 1, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO INSURANCE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 42 ayes, with Representatives

Berg, Chang, Evans, Harbin, Meyer, Saiki, Stonebraker, Takai and Waters being excused.

S.B. No. 2501, SD 1, HD 1:

Representative Harbin rose, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. First of all, I don't know if I'm in order or not, but would the Chair of the Labor and Public Employment Committee ... I have a question on the bill before I register my vote."

At 12:46 o'clock p.m., the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 12:47 o'clock p.m.

Representative Harbin rose, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Chair. I stand corrected. The question is, will the Chair of Labor and Public Employment yield to a question?"

The Chair then stated:

"Chair of Labor?"

Representative Caldwell responded, stating:

"No."

Representative Harbin continued in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Chair. I may now proceed. I will be voting a very strong no. It is very obvious that no one really seems to understand the impact of this bill. Perhaps maybe even the one Committee that had the ability to hear this bill.

"Mr. Chair, this bill is very destructive. It's a destructive bill to the employees of the State of Hawaii. It's a destructive bill to the businesses of Hawaii. And worse, it's a destructive bill to our economy. I think many of us know what the word 'trifecta' means and this is an exact example of what is going to happen to us.

"Let me explain why this is a very difficult bill to answer any questions for. We park our car, we get three parking tickets, you're banished for life for the next two years from driving your car or parking your car.

"This bill has absolutely no discretion in the hands of the Department of Labor. I believe I read somewhere in the testimony where it says for example, if the Department of Labor were to conduct an investigation of three Chapter 104 projects of one contractor, of which with the booming economy that we have now, one contractor could feasibly have three or four projects going at once. And they find that one of their employees, one of their payroll clerks makes a mistake. A mistake such as failing to post the wage standard requirements, which come out every six months. Just a simple clerical error, two of those, three of those. That employer is banished, off the job, banished from doing public works.

"What is going to happen to all of those employees, Mr. Speaker? I say, they're going to lose their jobs. And as we go through and we keep killing off small businesses, you're killing some of our larger contractors. We're going to be sitting here with public works, schools, affordable housing, agriculture infrastructure with no one to do the work because we have a law that says, three mistakes and you're gone.

"Mr. Speaker, if this particular law was in effect for bodies such as the Legislature, we would have been out of business when we started in Session because we failed to pay our employees on time. I'm asking when this goes upstairs to the Governor that she veto it. And when it comes back down here, those of you that really care about our economy, care about our affordable housing, care about our agriculture infrastructure, come talk to me and I will tell you how bad this bill is, and what it's going to do to our people. Thank you."

Representative Caldwell rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support. This bill, Mr. Speaker, we've heard the generalizations, we've heard the hysteria, we've heard the doom and gloom predictions. None of them are based in fact, Mr. Speaker. A lot of shibai has been stated, but let's talk about the facts here, Mr. Speaker. There are between five and eight DLIR investigators at any given time assigned to investigate prevailing wage violations, Chapter 104, Little Davis Bacon as referred to in our State, Mr. Speaker.

"These investigators cover 30,000 construction workers in our State and approximately $5 billion dollars worth of work right now, Mr. Speaker. It's a very daunting task for these hard workers, hard working DLIR people. They're completely overextended in their investigations.

"Some might say that by changing the laws as we are doing by this proposed legislation, we're giving them more work ..."

Representative Harbin rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, wrong bill. Mr. Speaker for what purpose is the speaker speaking?"

The Chair then stated:

"Representative Harbin, you're out of order, Representative Harbin. Please have a seat. Thank you. Representative Caldwell, please continue."

Representative Caldwell continued, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I appreciate it. By giving them more work. But Mr. Speaker, we're not changing the workload, we're changing how they assess the violation. That's what we're talking about here today, Mr. Speaker.

"Contractors which violate Chapter 104, three times in two years, are barred from bidding on public work projects for a period of three years. That's a correct statement. Investigations and violations take a minimum of six months and up to two years with the average taking 16 months, Mr. Speaker. So it's getting close to two years. In other words, Mr. Speaker, by the time the Department of Labor completes its investigation, the contractor will be close to passing that two-year threshold which is so critical, and therefore safe from being prohibited from bidding again even though they may have multiple violations during that two year period.

"Mr. Speaker, between the years 2001 and 2005, the Department of Labor has investigated and closed about 50 investigations of Chapter 104 violations. It's interesting, Mr. Speaker, to point out that all of these violators were non-union contractors except for one. Interesting fact, 14 of these investigations involved multiple projects ranging between 2 and 11 construction sites. So we're not talking about de minimis violations of one-time violations. We're talking about major violations on multiple projects, not only on one island but ranging across multiple islands by these contractors.

"They all resulted though, Mr. Speaker, in a single fine. One fine for these multiple violations on multiple projects. Four contractors investigated for violations were cited for multiple violations on at least five different projects.

"Some say these errors tend to be minor errors due to misunderstanding the laws. DLIR has great discretion, Mr. Speaker, now and will under this bill to determine the de minimis violations, and they do all the time. They're very business friendly, they're not looking to 'nickel and dime'. They're looking for major violations because they don't have the time to investigate the small violations."

Representative Chong rose to yield his time, and the Chair, "so ordered."

Representative Caldwell continued, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, evidence suggests that these violations vary in their nature from overtime violations; declassification violations, meaning you're classified to do one kind of job and you're doing another, but you're paying at the lower pay scale; to underpayment, straight not paying you what you're owed. Not only are these violations varied, but spread over multiple projects as already stated.

"Mr. Speaker, evidence suggest that not only is there no disincentive for violating the law, but there may in fact be an incentive to violate because once caught in the first violation, multiple violations after that are still counted as a single violation. So why not keep violating because you're going to get slapped just once? Why would we as lawmakers encourage such a system to exist?

"Opponents of this legislation suggest that this in some way targets small business, the 'mom and pop' contractors. This is bogus, Mr. Speaker, straight and simple. We're talking about large public works projects here. Projects that are too large for small business contractors. These are not BIA members. These are medium to large contractors, which have the staff and the knowledge, and should be held accountable for violations of Chapter 104.

"I'd like to share an example with you, Mr. Speaker, of an employee who worked on a public works project in 2003. I won't give you the employee's name, but he worked on a project at Honolulu Hale, subject to Chapter 104. The employee was classified as a laborer and paid at the hourly rate of a laborer, which was lower, but yet he was asked to perform functions as an operating engineer, a much higher pay category, but was only paid the laborer's wage.

"When the case was investigated, it turned up that the employee was underpaid by about $3,300 dollars. Not in a year, Mr. Speaker, but in one month. Think about that kind of pay being withheld from many of us for hard work performed.

"Now, Mr. Speaker, it's difficult for the employee to 'rat out' the employer in projects such as this so when the fine is leveled it's usually much smaller and negotiated at below the actual pay denied because the worker, the construction worker, wants to keep his or her job.

"Mr. Speaker, you've heard a lot this Session about prevailing wage. No one is talking about intentionally hurting business. I've not heard anyone say that on either side of the aisle. And anyone who says so and some have, are trying to frighten the business community. It is not a true statement of fact.

"In fact, Mr. Speaker, we're trying to protect our good corporate neighbors who do willingly comply with Chapter 104, but are invariably underbid by cheaters who bid low with the expectation that they're going to cut corners and pay their workers at a lower wage rate, at the expense of the working men and women of this State.

"The saddest thing about all of this, Mr. Speaker, is that one side is fighting for contractors that violate Chapter 104, and the other side which I believe is the side that I stand on, and the rest of us on this side of the aisle, and I think others on the other side of the aisle stand on, is fighting for the contractors who want a level playing field, who do abide by the laws, who abide by Chapter 104, do not violate Chapter 104, and the employee who is getting cheated out of the money that he or she earned fair and square.

"For me, Mr. Speaker, I think the choice is so clear and so easy, and that choice is to vote for this bill, send it up to the Governor, and I hope she signs it. If she supports the working men and women of this State and the contractors who do want a level playing field, she will not veto this bill. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising in opposition to the bill. This bill does not simply clarify the law as the description suggests, but actually changes the law from what was intended. The current penalty structure allows contractors some room to learn a very complicated law pertaining to wage rate schedules that change every six months.

"If a mandatory penalty structure is imposed per project instead of per investigation, this will eliminate many viable contractors from eligibility to bid on jobs even when just the smallest mistake is made.

"Listening to the Labor Chair, it sounds like you have these nefarious contractors that are out there to cheat their workers. There may be some of those, I'll grant you that. But I think that for contractors that are not union shops, they are not accustomed to this. It takes people to be watching. There's a lot more paperwork. I just would be a lot more comfortable if it was per investigation. I think that it's true the Department of Labor has some discretion, but this bill sets it up to be very confrontational, they're going to be slapping your hands for very small things and for those reasons, I can't support it. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Thielen rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Just a ruling on a potential conflict. I have two sons that are contractors," and the Chair ruled "no conflict."

Representative Harbin rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In rebuttal to our Labor Chair. On March 6th, in preparation for these bills, making their way through our Chambers, I wrote a letter to the Department of Labor. And one of the questions I asked was the statistics that were available for compliance review that the Department has conducted in the past year, which was last year, because I know they were doing random samplings of compliance with the prevailing wage. And I asked for it to be broken down by categories, and I also asked for it to be broken down by union versus nonunion. I'm going to read very quickly some statistics.

"They provided me a list of 143 randomly chosen employers for the purpose of compliance of Chapter 104. Of that 143, 70 of the companies employed union employees, 73 employed nonunion. And they also enclosed a copy of the compliance review statistics. But basically the specific violations that they found were, 10 of them were monetary violations noted in the company's, the nonunion company's generated reviews.

"What they found was that the prevailing wages that were due the employees ran from $6.87 to one employer at $37,915.46, that was one employer. But the median, the median violations of all of these companies that they did find was running $263.20.

"Now bear this in mind, it's not as though these are violations where the employee sort of sits there and doesn't get their day. These are violations where there were errors and the employees were all made whole. They found of the 10 monetary violations, 7 had overtime miscalculations. Again with median wage due of $381.72. One employer had an overtime wage due of $11,000. Even with this figure, the average overtime violations for nonunion complaints that were generated was about $706.

"These are errors that the employees were made whole. These are errors that are, you have to realize that certified payrolls are done on a weekly basis, weekly basis. You can have one employee that does carpentry work, and then does some painting work, and then does some traffic directing around the project, and then they may do some light clean up, and some janitorial work. Every one of those, Mr. Speaker, is a different category. And if for some reason there's a transposition in the supervisor's writing at the job site, all the way up to the clerk, these are the types of minor incidents that do happen.

"Again this is not just a small business issue. I'm a small business advocate and will be till the day I die. This is a businesses issue. This is an employment issue. We are taking jobs away from our people by taking away the ability of the risk-takers who put their lives and their finances and their homes on the line to create jobs, and go out there and build the affordable housing that we need. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and S.B. No. 3008, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC WORK PROJECTS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 34 ayes to 9 noes, with Representatives Ching, Finnegan, Harbin, Marumoto, Meyer, Moses, Pine, Stevens and Thielen voting no, and with Representative B. Oshiro: "Mr. Speaker, on behalf of my office, I just wanted to thank everyone in the House of Representatives for participating in our chili cook-off to help benefit the Hawaii Foodbank. It was a tremendous success. We actually raised over $800 that will be donated. I did want to announce the winners. In first place is Representative Berg's office. In second place is Representative Marumoto's office. And in third place, it was the House Chief Clerk's Office. So thank you all very much for participating."

Representative Arakaki: "Sorry, Mr. Speaker, I almost forgot. Today is a very important day because today is National Doctors' Day. And in honor of all those doctors who are dedicated to the healing of the mind and body, as well as continued research to better the lives and health of individuals in our community, I just want to stand and recognize, I guess since we only have one doctor in the House, we'll recognize Dr. Green and I'll give him this certificate. And he can accept it on behalf of all the doctors throughout the State of Hawaii. Thank you."

Representative Green: "I guess I shouldn't have signed this. Well, just thanks everyone. I appreciate you being understanding when my schedule is a little weird. But I think the doctors out there do really appreciate your recognition. It means a lot to people. Thank you."

Representative Lee rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

"I stand in support of 1301 and 1302. I'd like to briefly speak because I think it's important for people to understand this. Hawaii has a nursing shortage particularly in specialty areas at the university and community college level. The solution to the issue is many faceted as some of the previous resolutions have indicated. The National Council of State Boards of Nursing administers the NCLEX RN exam in the United States and in several locations abroad, and has recently has expanded the number of sites that offer the NCLEX abroad for domestic nurse licensure purposes in order to make licensure available to qualified persons abroad.

"The current sites are London, England; Seoul, South Korea; and Hong Kong and they will be joined by Australia, India, Japan, Mexico, Canada, Germany, and Taiwan, but no site has been selected in the Philippines. All the security policies and procedures currently used to administer the NCLEX examination domestically are fully implemented at the international locations.

"Prior to 1990, foreign trained nurses wishing to take the NCLEX exam in Hawaii were required to take the CGFNS examination and that is an exam that actually looks at the likelihood of a nurse passing the NCLEX RN and it was a long process. But in 1990, Hawaii through an act of the Legislature, actually got rid of that requirement. All that needs to be taken now is the CES, which is an educational evaluation.

"So by offering the NCLEX at an additional location such as Manila, Hawaii would be assured a qualified source of nurses who would have taken the NCLEX in their home country and be ready for employment in a hospital as soon as they meet VISA requirements. Thank you very much."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the reports of the Committee were adopted and H.R. No. 90, entitled: "HOUSE RESOLUTION URGING THE NATIONAL COUNCIL OF STATE BOARDS OF NURSING TO CONDUCT THE NATIONAL COUNCIL LICENSURE EXAMINATION IN THE CITY OF MANILA IN THE REPUBLIC OF THE PHILIPPINES," was referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce with Representatives Berg, Caldwell, Chang, Karamatsu, Souki, Stonebraker and Tsuji being excused; and

(Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1305-06), recommending that H.R. No. 233, as amended in HD 1, be referred to the Committee on Finance; and

Representative Evans rose to speak in opposition to both measures, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, on 1305 and 1306, I rise in opposition. This is asking to help develop a financial plan to assist Honolulu Marine with construction of facilities at Sand Island. We had discussion about Honolulu Marine moving out of Kakaako, I believe it was last year or the year before, and I believe that the State is really helping these people quite a bit in getting them moved out of Kakaako. I'm very concerned that now we're moving towards helping them financially.

"The reason I say this is because I believe we're moving them into Keehi Lagoon, into a prime area that's not in the commercial DOT Harbor. As a matter of fact it's in the small boat harbor. So we have really extended ourselves by putting an industrial use into a small boat harbor facility without requiring DLNR to go out to the public and develop a master plan for that Keehi Lagoon and make these changes.

"The Harbor Users Group at DOT Commercial Harbor is currently going through some program looking at the uses at the commercial harbor, and I believe there is opportunity at the commercial harbor, at Honolulu Harbor, to maybe accommodate them. But having said that the decision seems to be to move them into Keehi Lagoon.

"The final comment is, there is a long-range plan, I believe for Barbers Point. There was a long-range plan to move all the boat shipyards out there. I do think this is premature and I'd like to see us move forward with Barbers Point and looking at the overall shipyard. Because what we're doing by allowing Honolulu Marine at Keehi Lagoon is giving them possibly the best prime real estate location that any shipyard could ask for, because if the Harbor Users Group and DOT decides to move all the shipyards out of Honolulu Harbor, then they'll be the closest and they'll have that prime real estate access. Thank you."

Representative Stevens rose to speak in support of both measures with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise with some strong reservations, in support with strong reservations please. Thank you. The previous speaker really summed it up very well, but we're in a position here where we're taking a business that's got 15 years left on a lease and moving them out of the way for the HCDA's development around Kewalo Basin and trying to find a location for them.

"My understanding is the location out at Sand Island is a little bit tentative as well because that's a location where Tesoro has an option to put some more fuel tanks. They may exercise that option. They may already have exercised that option and that would put a crimp on the area that this shipyard is to move to.

"So here we are, taking a company with a lease, moving them out and we'll find ourselves in a position where we're asking several of our government organizations to help them with their financial plan, help them financially, help them with land and it really just points to the fact that we do need some really strong planning before we embark on these types of redevelopments. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Harbin rose to speak in opposition to both measures, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, please enter my complete opposition to these measures. Thank you."

Representative Kanoho rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. I need to make some clarification. Thank you. First of all, there will be no State funds involved. As has been pointed out, there still remains 15 years on the current lease. They would prefer to remain where they are, but that's not possible because it would be inappropriate for Honolulu Marine to continue occupying that space, whatever subsequently develops at Kakaako Makai. And for those who may not know it, Honolulu Marine is currently situated between Fisherman's Wharf and John Dominis Restaurant.

"Their location at Sand Island has pretty much been secured to the point where they've already constructed floating dry dock facilities at the current location. The materials alone have exceeded $1 million. So all we're saying is because they are being moved, the move has been initiated by government, by HCDA, that as we have done with other tenants in Kakaako who have been required to relocate, we're providing a plan, not the money, to determine which would be the best financial arrangement, whether it's a special purpose revenue bond, or whether it's revenue bonds, or general obligation bonds, or reimbursable bonds, on which Honolulu Marine would absorb the entire debt service cost. And that to me, is a very logical and needed move on the part of State government. Thank you."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of both measures with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, I would like to just register a with reservations and make a few comments. Thank you. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of moving them is to develop Kakaako Makai but there are a number of other measures moving through the Legislature this Session that are stopping that development. And I guess my question at this point is, if there isn't sufficient funding to just put in the public improvements for Kakaako Makai, which there isn't, then it seems as if nothing will be done with that area for a period of years.

"I'm questioning now whether they actually need to move out of that area. They have 15 years left on their lease, it may take that long before there's any movement actually to put some public improvements and whatever other improvements into Kakaako Makai. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her on both measures, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the reports of the Committee were adopted and H.R. No. 233, HD 1, entitled: "HOUSE RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE HAWAII COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT AUTHORITY, IN COLLABORATION WITH THE DEPARTMENT OF LAND AND NATURAL RESOURCES, THE DEPARTMENT OF BUDGET AND FINANCE, AND THE DEPARTMENT OF BUSINESS, ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT, AND TOURISM, TO DEVELOP A VIABLE FINANCIAL PLAN TO ASSIST HONOLULU MARINE WITH THE CONSTRUCTION OF ITS FACILITIES AT SAND ISLAND," was referred to the Committee on Finance with Representatives Evans and Harbin voting no, and with Representatives Berg, Caldwell, Chang, Karamatsu, Souki, Stonebraker and Tsuji being excused; and

No. 299, HD 1, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE HAWAII COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT AUTHORITY, IN COLLABORATION WITH THE DEPARTMENT OF LAND AND NATURAL RESOURCES, THE DEPARTMENT OF BUDGET AND FINANCE, AND THE DEPARTMENT OF BUSINESS, ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT, AND TOURISM, TO DEVELOP A VIABLE FINANCIAL PLAN TO ASSIST HONOLULU MARINE WITH THE CONSTRUCTION OF ITS FACILITIES AT SAND ISLAND," was referred to the Committee on Finance with Representatives Evans and Harbin voting no, and with Representatives Berg, Caldwell, Chang, Karamatsu, Souki, Stonebraker and Tsuji being excused.

No. 9, HD 1, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION URGING ALL HAWAII SCHOOLS TO IMPLEMENT STANDARDS OF CONDUCT THAT DISCOURAGE INTIMIDATION AND PROMOTE SAFE AND PEACEFUL SCHOOLS THAT ARE EFFECTIVE LEARNING ENVIRONMENTS," was adopted, with Representatives Berg, Caldwell, Chang, Karamatsu, Souki, Stonebraker and Tsuji being excused.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Representative Thielen: "Thank you. Mr. Speaker, I just wanted to announce that next Friday is Hemp Aloha Friday so I encourage Members to wear their hemp shirts or natural fiber shirts. Thank you."

Representative Green: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I just wanted to thank everyone for their participation on Wednesday's blood drive, especially the offices of Representative Tsuji, the Minority Leader, and Representative Marcus Oshiro, who coordinated the event with my office. 40 participants came, and we had 31 pints of blood. In wartime I think it's even more important to have blood donated. It's really important to our troops and to the community at large.

"I was going yield the floor to Representative Tsuji, who is unable to be here for the presentation, but he wanted to also thank the food donors who gave us a magnificent spread and arranging for food: pastries, cookies, dim sum, beef curry, and coqui frog. All cooked for the blood donors. Representatives Meyer, Marumoto, Cabanilla, Moses, Evans, Halford, Finnegan, Saiki, Chang, Souki, Waters, Nakasone, Lee, Magaoay, Abinsay, Yamashita, and Sergeant-at-Arms who also were very involved. Thanks to the entire Body and everyone who participated."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. 1317 is a resolution requesting the counties to study and consider implementing rent control. I'm going to be voting no on this. I think that rent control has been tried in New York and Los Angeles. Both come up for me. It didn't work there, and I don't think it'll work here. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure with reservations, and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise with reservations. Although I appreciate the resolution's efforts in addressing Hawaii's affordable housing crisis, I believe rent controls are not the solution.

"According to the 2005 American Bar Association Legal Guide to Affordable Housing Development, law and economic theorists generally disfavor rent control as causing more problems than it solves, or accept it only if a particular situation causes demand to rise sharply at the same time that new construction of such units has been legally restricted in order to conserve resources, as during wartime.

"I agree with the Hawaii Association of Realtors that rent control does nothing to increase the supply of rental housing, and that increasing supply is the only long-term solution to Hawaii's rental housing shortage. Furthermore, unless a rent control law permits a fair rate of return over time, landlords (including landlords of affordable rentals) will not be able to maintain their units. It's imperative that we as a Legislature concentrate on other, more progressive solutions to the rental housing shortage.

"As legislators, we must be mindful of the possibility of black markets when rent control is applied."

Representative Kahikina rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Kahikina's written remarks are as follows:

"HCR 148 requests the counties to study and to consider implementing rent control ordinances authorized under State law.

"According to ERI, Geographic Reference Report 2006, Cost of Living Analyses for Honolulu, Hawaii vs. U.S. in 2006, a family of four renting accommodations in Honolulu needs to earn $111,695 or 55% more income to maintain a lifestyle similar to a comparable family earning $72,000 in the continental United States.

"Although the 2003 median income of $71,320 for a family of four in Hawaii was higher than the national figure of $65,093, this is still below the amount required to maintain the same standard of living for a family of four in Hawaii as elsewhere in America.

"These numbers came to life as we heard the heart-wrenching testimony of a mother of four who states that her rent has increased by $400 in less than a year. She pays $2,400 in rent and her rent will increase to $2,800. She and her husband work and make good money. They are professional individuals. However, they cannot afford another arbitrary rent increase. Their household expenses already extend more than $3,400 with rent and utilities.

"Another family who complained that the rental was uninhabitable and needed to have repairs, after which the landlord raised the rent the cost of the $480 repair in order to repair the inside plumbing.

"Rent control is not new to Hawaii. It is already State law. Section 46-1.5(2) Hawaii already authorized the counties to enact rent control and therefore the resolution does not have to study the constitutionality of rent control.

"However, what we are suggesting with this resolution is that each county study and consider implementing rent control. Additionally, we are requesting the Attorney General to provide an opinion to the counties with regard to how they could implement rent control."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.C.R. No. 148, HD 1, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE COUNTIES TO STUDY AND TO CONSIDER IMPLEMENTING RENT CONTROL ORDINANCES AUTHORIZED UNDER STATE LAW," was referred to the Committee on Finance with Representative Meyer voting no, and with Representatives Harbin, Ito, Morita, Nakasone, Stonebraker and Yamane being excused.

Representative Magaoay's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker I rise in support of HR186/HCR245, Requesting Del Monte and the Campbell Estate to Allow Residents to Continue to Reside at Kunia Camp at Least Until December 2008, to Allow the Residents Time to Find Housing Solutions or Affordable Alternative Housing.

"Kunia Camp is one of two camps owned and operated by Del Monte. We heard testimony that stated that some 700 workers will be without jobs.

"Approximately 30 came to give testimony. Approximately, 500 people live in the Camp, many of whom are Del Monte employees who will be terminated from employment, and the remainder are retirees. At the end of the lease, the property must be restored to the same condition it was received, meaning that the Camp will have to be razed; and many of the residents of the Camp, particularly the retirees, cannot afford accommodations outside of the Camp. For this reason, the residents together with elected officials, are searching for options, including the formation of the Kunia Camp Association (Association), to possibly assume the lease for the Camp property at least until 2008.

"Many of these residents will not be able to find a residence anywhere else and all that we can do, to help preserve the place they call home is what we need to do. It must be said, that to date the Campbell Estate, who owns that land on which Kunia Camps sit has been open to helping the union and camp find solutions to assist the residents. However we must do all we can to ensure that the camps now in agricultural zones, can remain residential camps for them to reside there.

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, and I ask my colleagues to support me on HR 186/HCR 245. Malama Pono."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the reports of the Committee were adopted and H.R. No. 186, HD 1, entitled: "HOUSE RESOLUTION REQUESTING DEL MONTE AND THE CAMPBELL ESTATE TO ALLOW RESIDENTS TO CONTINUE TO RESIDE AT KUNIA CAMP AT LEAST UNTIL DECEMBER 2008, TO ALLOW THE RESIDENTS TIME TO FIND HOUSING SOLUTIONS OR AFFORDABLE ALTERNATIVE HOUSING," was adopted, with Representatives Ito, Morita and Stonebraker being excused; and

S.B. No. 2159, SD 2, HD 1:

Representative M. Oshiro moved that S.B. No. 2159, SD 2, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Meyer rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Meyer's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am rising in support of SB 2159, SD2, HD1. This is a very important bill because identity theft is the fastest growing crime in the United States and is very costly to the citizens of Hawaii. Increasing the protections of personal information by matching the punishment with the damage done is a necessary step to deter those who would commit identity theft. A person's identity is one of their most precious possessions, and to have it taken and misused can wreak havoc not only on the finances of the victim, but on their confidence and peace of mind. It is, I am told, a harrowing experience. It is costly, not only to the victim, but to society as a whole. Those who commit such crimes should be faced with criminal charges that befit the seriousness of the harm they bring to their victims. This bill is an important part of our efforts to stamp out identity theft. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and S.B. No. 2159, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO IDENTITY THEFT," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes, with Representatives Ito, Morita and Stonebraker being excused.

S.B. No. 2293, SD 2, HD 1:

Representative M. Oshiro moved that S.B. No. 2293, SD 2, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Meyer rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Meyer's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to say a few words in support of SB 2293 SD2 HD1. I am very grateful for the progress that we, as a Legislature, have been making in protecting the citizens of our State from identity theft. Social Security Numbers are very valuable pieces of information that, in the wrong hands, can be used to do terrible things to the person who they belong to. Whatever we can do to protect this information, to prevent criminals from getting their hands on it and using it at the expense of their victim, is well worth the effort. By limiting the usage and transferability of Social Security Numbers to those with a legitimate need or purpose to have them, we are making great strides in the right direction towards getting this problem under control. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and S.B. No. 2293, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SOCIAL SECURITY NUMBER PROTECTION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes, with Representatives Ito, Morita and Stonebraker being excused.

S.B. No. 2224:

On motion by Representative M. Oshiro, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, S.B. No. 2224, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CREDIT SALES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes, with Representatives Ito, Morita and Stonebraker being excused.

At 12:39 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills, passed Third Reading:

STANDING COMMITTEE REPORTS

Representative Caldwell, for the Committee on Labor & Public Employment presented two reports:

(Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1331-06), recommending that H.R. No. 46, be referred to the Committee on Finance; and (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1332-06), recommending that H.C.R. No. 61, be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the reports of the Committee be adopted, and that H.R. No. 46 and H.C.R. No. 61, be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Meyer rose to speak in opposition to both measures, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker. I'm rising in opposition to Stand. Com. Reports 1331 and 1332. In Committee when we heard testimony on this resolution, the Department of Labor testified against it. There was a Chief Rogers there and he's with the State Fire Council, he said he would ask that we withdraw the Resolution.

"The problem with the Resolution is you can't create new positions. This Resolution is asking for two new positions. The Department of Labor estimated that would cost about $228,000. So we really need a bill to amend Section 132-16 of the HRS. So for those reasons, I can't support this Resolution."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the reports of the Committee were adopted and H.R. No. 46, entitled: "HOUSE RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE DEPARTMENT OF LABOR AND INDUSTRIAL RELATIONS TO AUTHORIZE THE STATE FIRE COUNCIL TO EMPLOY AN ADMINISTRATOR AND AN ADMINISTRATIVE ASSISTANT," was referred to the Committee on Finance with Representative Meyer voting no, and with Representative Cabanilla being excused; and

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the reports of the Committee be adopted, and that H.R. No. 59 and H.C.R. No. 77, be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Harbin rose to speak in opposition to both measures, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. On these two Resolutions, I'd like to enter my no. And I'd like to explain why my no vote. Being a first timer here, I take everything very seriously. Bills are serious, Conference Committee is serious. And I find that resolutions should be as serious. For those that are out in the public, we look at resolutions as sort of a beginning of a smoke signal, or a signal of where the policy of this Legislature is headed.

"If this is a true belief, and this is my belief, then I feel that these Resolutions signal a very, very slippery slope of interfering in employee-employer relationships. These Resolutions are attempting to insert the Legislature into, I think, what is a very sacred relationship. A relationship with an employee and their union and that relationship with the employer. We have safeguards at the federal level. We have safeguards at the State level.

"For us to now signal that we are going to start legislating how unions behave or should behave, should they reach an impasse, I feel is somewhere where we should not go. So I will be voting no, and I really would encourage us to stick to the business at hand which is to protect our employees, our businesses, and to keep a vibrant economy, not insert ourselves into the day-to-day relationships of business and employees. Thank you."

Representative Meyer rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her on both measures, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Moses rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him on both measures, and the Chair "so ordered."

No. 105, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION URGING THE HAWAII HEALTH SYSTEMS CORPORATION TO ENTER INTO A LEASE/PURCHASE AGREEMENT FOR A PARKING STRUCTURE FOR MAUI MEMORIAL MEDICAL CENTER IN WAILUKU, MAUI TO BE FUNDED BY THE ISSUANCE OF CERTIFICATES OF PARTICIPATION," was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representative Cabanilla being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.C.R. No. 205, be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm going to vote no on this particular concurrent resolution, No. 205, Requesting the Auditor to Review Proposed Plans and Existing and Anticipated Appropriation Requests of the Stadium Authority and the Governor for the Repair, Renovation, Refurbishment, or Replacement of the Aloha Stadium.

"I'm voting no even though DAGS testified with a conditional yes on this. They appreciated the intent of this resolution and they welcomed the Auditor's opinion. However, they said that they're confident that the Auditor's study would validate a report that a team of experts came up with. They came up with the Aloha Stadium planning study.

"The study was compiled by a group of experts in various fields and they concluded, the study concluded that if repaired and refurbished, the Stadium life can be extended 20 to 30 years, but the repairs had to be done, should commence, in the next 2 to 5 years.

"The report estimated the cost of repair in 2005 dollars at $100 million. Any delays, the report concluded, will drive the cost higher because of two things. First, cost increases and inflation. And secondly and most importantly, Stadium corrosion will worsen and the amount of repair and refurbishment will increase.

"So DAGS felt that the Auditor did not need until next Legislative Session to do the review. DAGS also said that the Auditor will require additional funding to do the review if it is done at the level of quality that was put into the study that already exists. DAGS wanted to be allowed to proceed with the first phase of the proposed plans, and I believe their appropriation was about $25 million.

"A key point to understand about this DAGS view that there is no option to repairing and refurbishing the stadium except to eventually shut it down, because without the repair that they are proposing, it will become unsafe. And even if the State were to decide to build a brand new stadium, the total time that would elapse before the stadium is built would require that the existing stadium be repaired anyway. So in order to save the taxpayer dollar, repair the stadium as soon as possible. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, please note my no vote for the same reasons as the previous speaker."

Representative Meyer rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Halford rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

No. 205, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE AUDITOR TO REVIEW PROPOSED PLANS AND EXISTING AND ANTICIPATED APPROPRIATION REQUESTS OF THE STADIUM AUTHORITY AND THE GOVERNOR FOR THE REPAIR, RENOVATION, REFURBISHMENT, OR REPLACEMENT OF THE ALOHA STADIUM," was referred to the Committee on Finance with Representatives Finnegan, Marumoto, Meyer and Thielen voting no, and with Representative Cabanilla being excused.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the reports of the Committee were adopted and H.R. "Mr. Speaker, thank you. I rise with strong support on this measure. And I'd like to enter some comments, not only into the Journal, but to my colleagues and especially to HCDA.

"Coming from the Kakaako area and being involved with the HCDA through three governorship, the HCDA has made mistakes in the past, will make mistakes in the future, and has made a very big mistake recently. Also coming as a citizen-participant in the process, sometimes when you see these Auditor's reports, the first thing you think is, 'Oops, something's wrong in River City. There's something wrong with the agency.'

"I need to say publicly, there is nothing wrong with the agency. But they have stumbled hardily and I really hope that the Auditor's report is going to give us some great insight into what a great creation the HCDA is, and also perhaps maybe give us some good suggestions on how we, as the policymakers can continue to assist them to be a great Authority, especially now that we're looking at some wonderful development in Kalaeloa. Thank you."

Representative Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of Stand. Com. Report 1354, HCR 16. I will insert written comments, but I would like to say that we are suffering from a nursing shortage. And one of the big problems in nursing and also with some other healthcare workers, are injuries that are suffered by lifting of heavy objects or actually moving patients.

"So I think this is an important resolution and it puts employers on notice to provide the proper kinds of equipment and to provide the proper training and body mechanics to their employees. Thank you."

Representative Lee's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in strong support of HCR 16. We have a global nursing shortage and Hawaii is no exception.

"Nurses are at high risk for musculoskeletal injury and once injured the recovery is often lengthy or the injury is permanent.

"We cannot afford to allow the loss of nurses to unnecessary injury. Therefore, this Resolution asks employers to initiate programs, which emphasize increasing use of assistive equipment and patient handling devices. Also resolved is a request to reshape nursing education to incorporate safe patient handling. The Resolution also encourages the industry to incorporate the principles of the American Nurses Association Handle with Care campaign.

"If we can prevent injury, we will also save money for the industry and prolong the active nursing life of many in the profession."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.C.R. Representative Lee rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

"I rise in support of these Resolutions. And Mr. Speaker, this is not the first time that we've had a resolution requesting the United States Senate to ratify the Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination Against Women also known as the CEDAW Treaty. In fact, a few years ago, we became 1 of 7 states in the country to ask the Senate to do so.

"We have the dubious distinction of being amongst 3 countries, ourselves and some progressive countries like Afghanistan and Iran, have not ratified the treaty. So again, I'm happy to see this Resolution pass and I hope finally, the United States Government, the United States Senate will see the light. Thank you."

Representative Thielen rose in support of both measures and asked that the remarks of Representative Lee be entered in the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Moses rose to speak in support of both measures with reservations, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker. I am rising with some reservations. I understand the desires of the Okinawan people, and I understand the feelings behind this Resolution. I have some problems with the mechanics though.

"Foreign policy and national defense are subjects of the executive branch, and yet it asks here for Congress to be involved with the negotiations. And what Congress could do of course, is cut off the funding, but they don't have any business being involved with the negotiations. Thank you."

Representative Arakaki rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'd like to speak in strong support of the measure. Mr. Speaker, as a third generation American of Okinawan ancestry, I've been to Okinawa many times and in fact, I have an uncle who lives right next to Kadena Air Force Base. And I've actually had the experience of what it's like to constantly be interrupted by the jets' roars in just trying to carry on a conversation. You can even hear the house shaking, and feel the shaking.

"I think for those of us who know what the Okinawan people went through during and after World War II, we can empathize with their predicament. Although they want to support the US Forces, in many cases they find that the presence sometimes becomes a burden. And the fact is over 70% of the bases that are located in Japan are in Okinawa, I think, is an injustice to those people. And for us, who live in Hawaii, we're especially sensitive to the fact that military presence can be either a boon or a bane. So I think for the sake of democracy, we need to recognize the rights of the native Okinawan people. Thank you."

Representative Thielen rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her on both measures, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her on both measures, and the Chair "so ordered."

(Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1366-06) recommending that H.R. No. 246, as amended in HD 1, be adopted; and

(Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1367-06) recommending that H.C.R. No. 312, as amended in HD 1, be adopted.

Representative Stonebraker rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him on both measures, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Meyer rose in opposition to both measures, and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Meyer's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I am rising in opposition to these Resolutions. I believe that, once again, we are overreaching our boundaries. These Resolutions violate the rights of the fundamental unit of society, the family, and gives those rights to the government. Children belong to their parents, not to the government. Parents have the responsibility to raise, nurture, protect, and teach their children in the best way they know how. If parents violate that responsibility by abusing or neglecting their children, then somebody needs to step in and make sure that the parents' responsibilities are fulfilled; however, it is not within the rights of government to usurp the role of parents or to coerce them to raise their children a certain way.

"Additionally, the United Nations has admitted that many of its peacekeeping forces have violated the rights set forth in the Convention on the Rights of the Child. There have been reports of peacekeepers raping, abusing, and exploiting women and children, contrary to their declaration. What does that say to us about the people that created the document? They do not practice what they preach. Their actions show that they do not believe in the rights they are promoting. And while they are abusing children, they are taking away the right of the parents to protect their children. It is a folly to support this measure when those who wrote it cannot even support it. The situation in the UN should be an example to us of the fallacy of government sticking their nose where it does not belong.

"I hope, Mr. Speaker, that those who support these Resolutions realize the harm they are doing to our society by undermining the power and responsibility of parents and devaluing the role of families. These Resolutions will not do us any good, and will probably create more problems than it fixes. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the reports of the Committees were adopted and H.R. No. 246, HD 1, entitled: "HOUSE RESOLUTION URGING THE ADOPTION OF THE UNITED NATIONS' CONVENTION ON THE RIGHTS OF THE CHILD," was adopted, with Representatives Meyer and Stonebraker voting no; and

H.C.R. No. 312, HD 1, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION URGING THE ADOPTION OF THE UNITED NATIONS' CONVENTION ON THE RIGHTS OF THE CHILD," was adopted, with Representatives Meyer and Stonebraker voting no.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.C.R. No. 88, be adopted, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Harbin rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker. I rise with reservations and I'd like to explain why. Trauma care bill started off this Session as being one of the most important healthcare issues that we could be dealing with this Session. To see it now reduced to a resolution without any type of funding to put together a trauma system for the State of Hawaii frightens me a bit.

"In one of the first hearings we had on some of these trauma care bills, we had all of the trauma providers, the trauma care facilities, and you can hear it and see it in their voices, that they were very fearful, because of the fact that it was becoming very difficult to provide these services statewide.

"We had two reports that were done. And in the resolution itself, it talks of these reports. And these reports, I thought were extremely well done and really confronted the issue of our trauma care system in the State of Hawaii, and developed some recommendations that I thought we would eventually come to some fruition by the end of the Session.

"In the ACS report, which I thought was very well done, one of the first things they said, unconditionally, we must immediately develop a comprehensive dedicated funding source. In checking with our Health Chairs, it appears that that dedicated source is somewhere out there in limbo, but we're now 'playing tag' on what exactly that source is going to be.

"We're not really addressing what needs to be done this Session, which is a dedicated, dedicated mind you, comprehensive funding system. The Legislative Reference Bureau report goes on to give three, actually three but it states four in the resolution, three issues that need to be addressed post-haste, especially in dealing with the on-call mandated or the on-call physician problem or issue.

"Again we're not confronting any of these. We need to confront the cost of trauma care. We need to confront the ability to pay our trauma care physicians. And we also need to, as in the LRB report says, confront the rising medical malpractice premiums. And I've said it over and over and over again. People out there had said it over and over again, but it looks like now we've reduced everything into just a warm and fuzzy resolution with no funding and nowhere to go until 2007. And how many of our residents are we going to lose statewide, to an early demise because our trauma system is broken? Thank you."

Representative Green rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker. In support. I think it's a good resolution, but I did want to address comments that were made by the previous speaker. We do have a dedicated source online. It'll be from the tobacco tax that's insipient in the tobacco measure. A third of that money, I expect, by the time we emerge from Conference with the Senate, will be there. That'll be $10 million in 2006-07; $20 million plus or minus by 2007-08; and it will cap around $28 million a year that will be devoted to trauma services on call so we will be able to solve this problem. We certainly have taken care of that in the Health Committee, nonstop. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.C.R. No. 88, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE DIRECTOR OF HEALTH TO DEVELOP A TRAUMA SYSTEM PLAN FOR HAWAII," was adopted.

Representative Ito, for the Committee on Public Safety & Military Affairs presented two reports:

(Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1374-06) recommending that H.R. No. 35, as amended in HD 1, be adopted; and

(Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1375-06) recommending that H.C.R. No. 49, as amended in HD 1, be adopted.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the reports of the Committee be adopted, and that H.R. No. 35, HD 1, and H.C.R. No. 49, HD 1, be adopted, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Takai rose in support of both measures and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Takai's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, there was a question asked in Committee regarding the possibility of including the Pacific Aviation Museum into this resolution.

"The Pacific Aviation Museum does not need the same assistance from us as the USS Bowfin and the USS Missouri.

"Both USS Bowfin and the USS Missouri have direct leases from the Navy, issued from the Pacific Division, Naval Facilities Engineering Facilities Command under authority from the Assistant Secretary of the Navy for Installations and the Environment.

"The level of their lease rents is set by 10 USC 2667 and their lease rents accrue directly to the Navy.

"Pacific Aviation Museum has a 60-year lease from the major developer of Ford Island, Hunt Building Company, with a provision that investments made to the facilities improvement and restoration of the buildings to serviceable use will offset any potential lease rents that may be due.

"The three phases of the planned Pacific Aviation Museum project will more than cover any potential lease rent due.

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the reports of the Committee were adopted and H.R. No. 35, HD 1, entitled: "HOUSE RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE UNITED STATES SECRETARY OF THE NAVY TO PROVIDE RENT RELIEF TO THE USS BOWFIN SUBMARINE MUSEUM AND PARK AND USS MISSOURI MEMORIAL," was adopted; and

H.C.R. No. 49, HD 1, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE UNITED STATES SECRETARY OF THE NAVY TO PROVIDE RENT RELIEF TO THE USS BOWFIN SUBMARINE MUSEUM AND PARK AND USS MISSOURI MEMORIAL," was adopted.

Representative Ito, for the Committee on Public Safety & Military Affairs presented two reports:

(Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1376-06) recommending that H.R. No. 100, as amended in HD 1, be adopted; and

(Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1377-06) recommending that H.C.R. No. 136, as amended in HD 1, be adopted.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the reports of the Committee be adopted, and that H.R. No. 100, HD 1, and H.C.R. No. 136, HD 1, be adopted, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Moses rose to speak in opposition to both measures, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker. I'm rising in opposition to both measures. The Adjutant General reported on these things, or testified on these at the Public Safety Committee. And he said there's been many studies, the RAND study in 1999, DHS study, Agency for Toxic Substances and Disease Registry in 1999, Toxicology Profile, the Uranium, the United Kingdom study in 2001, the European Commission March 2001, the World Health Organization, this was a mission to Kosovo, and all of these studies showed no harm from depleted uranium. Additionally the Hawaii National Guard concluded no problem with uranium exposure to the troops that went over to Iraqi Freedom, and Operation Enduring Freedom.

"And finally these are matters for the United States Department of Defense, not for our local State Department of Defense, so I have to vote no on both measures. Thank you."

Representative Shimabukuro rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in strong support. I just want to point out that all the studies cited by the previous speaker predate the Iraq War in 2003. And if you look at the Resolution, I'm looking at the HR right now, it does cite to two studies. And one was in 2004, and it does talk about the laboratory reports indicating widespread military noncompliance with regulations, orders, and directives. And it cites 1993 and a 1994 study on depleted uranium.

"Mr. Speaker, I think this is a very important resolution because it's really important that we do support our troops. And I think that it's important that we avoid making the same tragic mistake that we made with Vietnam, in failing to detect Agent Orange contamination. So I really hope that the Members will support this very important resolution, in support of our troops. Thank you."

Representative Schatz rose in support of both measures and asked that the remarks of Representative Shimabukuro be entered in the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Kahikina rose in support of both measures and asked that the remarks of Representative Shimabukuro be entered in the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Caldwell rose in support of both measures and asked that the remarks of Representative Shimabukuro be entered in the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Moses rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I just wanted to comment as a disabled American Veteran myself. It's not the fact that I don't want to make sure that our troops are not in harms way, but we already have the statements that there is not a problem from depleted uranium, that's one, through many studies. And the second one is that the National Guard has already concluded that it did not pose a threat to our troops. And finally again, this is a matter for the United States Department of Defense. It's not a matter for the National Guard. So this resolution should be directed to the Department of Defense, not the State Department of Defense. Thank you."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of both measures with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I just wanted to register strong reservations on these measures. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the reports of the Committee were adopted and H.R. No. 100, HD 1, entitled: "HOUSE RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE ADJUTANT GENERAL TO PROVIDE HEALTH SCREENING FOR DEPLETED URANIUM EXPOSURE TO MEMBERS AND VETERANS OF THE HAWAII NATIONAL GUARD AND THE UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE TO REPORT ON THE SCOPE AND ADEQUACY OF DEPLETED URANIUM STORAGE AND DISPOSAL IN HAWAII," was adopted, with Representative Moses voting no; and

H.C.R. No. 136, HD 1, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE ADJUTANT GENERAL TO PROVIDE HEALTH SCREENING FOR DEPLETED URANIUM EXPOSURE TO MEMBERS AND VETERANS OF THE HAWAII NATIONAL GUARD AND THE UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE TO REPORT ON THE SCOPE AND ADEQUACY OF DEPLETED URANIUM STORAGE AND DISPOSAL IN HAWAII," was adopted, with Representative Moses voting no.

Thank you."

ANNOUNCEMENTS

"The purpose Mr. Speaker, is that we adopted the Senate version in total with a defective date, so we need to reconsider and change that date to 'on approval,'" and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Green: Thank you Mr. Speaker. I just wanted to mention to my colleagues that today at 4:00 until 6:00, the Hawaii Healthcare Task Force is meeting and it's going to be getting the product that we paid for with our bill last year, which is the Lewin Report, which will give us some idea about spending and potentials for single payer or possibilities for single payer systems in the State of Hawaii.

"And as an interesting aside, that's a little bit unconventional, the State of Massachusetts passed a bill today almost unanimously. I think there were two nay votes, to mandate health insurance for all of its citizens and they have an interesting political landscape where they have a Democratic dominated Legislature and a non-Democratic governor. So I think it's an interesting thing to note and we should all take a look at it. Thank you Mr. Speaker."

Representative Arakaki: Thank you Mr. Speaker. Magandang hapon po sa inyong lahat. On behalf of Representative Abinsay and Representative Magaoay and the rest of the Filipino Caucus, I've been asked to invite you and the rest of our colleagues to a delicious sarap lunch in Room 437 in honor of recognizing the Centennial Celebration Commission. So please come. Thank you."

Representative Schatz: "I just wanted to thank my staff for raising more than $200 for the Hawaii Foodbank by selling baked goods. Thank you."

(Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1394-06) recommending that H.C.R. No. 320, be adopted.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the reports of the Committee be adopted, and that H.R. No. 256 and H.C.R. No. 320, be adopted, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker. I rise in strong support of these two measures. Mr. Speaker, this pair of resolutions basically affirms that it is in the best interest of the State to preserve the architecture, objects, and sites of numerous cultures that make up our island community. And that preservation of the history, of our cultures, not only helps promote tourism, but helps to preserve for future generations, our cultural identity for all of the various people that call Hawaii their home.

"Mr. Speaker, historic preservation is more than buildings. The truth is that historic preservation is ultimately and always about people. It revitalizes business districts and neighborhoods. It helps our heritage tourism. It helps economic development. It reflects the people involved: small business, private citizens, bankers. Every walk of life is affected by historic preservation.

"The problem is that most people don't understand historic preservation. People are not aware and so like any issue, the first step is awareness and education because historic preservation, while it seems like it's something that is esoteric, is actually, possibly, a solution to many of our problems. Because when children are in strong and healthy communities, they know that the friendly building down the street which looks gracious and welcoming, they know they're part of a community so they're less vulnerable to youth gangs.

"Also they learn about those that came before them. And they know that when they walk into the Queen Emma Summer Palace, wow, there's stability in this community. You know there's something. I can see what my own great, great, grandfather saw, so maybe I'm part of a continuum. And when you walk through a museum like that, one is touched by the inspiration of learning about the past. So it's kind of like learning about things that came before you, even grandparents or whoever.

"So ultimately historic preservation actually is about respecting things that are older. We're all, if we're lucky, going to become older. And just because we're older does not mean they're not useful. In fact we are perhaps, more useful. What is more useful? A flower? Or that you have to squeeze an orange to make juice? No, a flower inspires, and that's what a lot of our kupuna do. They understand. They give us wisdom. So when children, and I've been there in the education field, and I've seen the light go on in children's eyes when they go into the Queen Emma Summer Palace, which I might add would have been a baseball field had it not been for the Daughters of Hawaii, a 100 years ago."

Representative Takai rose to yield his time, stating:

"Mr. Speaker. I yield 10 seconds more."

Representative Ching continued, stating:

"Thank you very much. So in summation, and thank you very much to the Representative from Pearl City. Tourism. Children. They all benefit. And what this measure will do is actually respect those of the craft of architecture, because construction and architecture are not always equal. This building is architecture, but there are a lot of things that serve as buildings that are not. And when architecture is good, it gives a message, it teaches. So historic preservation is about health, about education, and the well-being of our people. Thank you."

Representative Cabanilla rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, as the Representative of the historical Ewa Villages, I stand in strong support of this measure and I would like to add a few comments to show to my colleagues what a wonderful place the historical Ewa Villages is.

"Ewa Villages is a great historical and cultural site, and a legacy for the people of Hawaii that will remain as a constant reminder of our unique plantation life that cannot be compared to anywhere else in the world.

"Ewa Villages epitomized the frontier of plantation life and I would hope that we would like to see this preserved. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

"Thank you, I rise in strong support. I just want to add to the words of the previous speakers. What I'd like to say is, it takes a community to raise a child. It takes a community to take care of our elderly. I truly believe this is a community issue about these historical sites, and historical events that have happened in the past, and how we together as a community will have to come together. I believe, with resources to protect a lot of our history. So I think there is a strong message by having this Historic Preservation Awareness Day and that message is, is that it's going to be up to us today, as a community, to come together to protect and to continue with some of our history.

"There are a lot of bills and a lot of resolutions this year at the Legislature addressing historic preservation and I really appreciate the support that's being showed. I hope Historic Preservation Day does send a strong message to the citizens that together, we need to work together, to keep some of these historical sites and cultural history intact. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, just short comments in strong support. In my district we have the Arizona Memorial and its one of the most known historic sites in the world. I just wanted to show my support and say that every community, and every other historic site should have the same recognition. Thank you."

Representative Berg rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

"Thank you, I also rise in strong support and wish to add that if we're concerned about sustaining the culture of Hawaii and our host culture, then our part of learning about history is really important for that as well. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the reports of the Committee were adopted and H.R. No. 256, entitled: "HOUSE RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE DEPARTMENT OF LAND AND NATURAL RESOURCES TO HONOR THE FIRST MONDAY IN MAY AS HAWAII HISTORIC PRESERVATION AWARENESS DAY," was adopted, with Representatives Arakaki, Berg, Stonebraker, Takamine, Tanaka and Wakai being excused; and

Representative Herkes rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm in support, but I wish it would address areas far beyond Tantalus and Manoa. I have macadamia nut farmers who lose 30% to 40% of their crop to feral pigs, and I have them in my backyard. All we have to do is to work with the pig hunters of Hawaii, and they'll solve the problem."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.C.R. Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker. Thank you, I rise to express a reservation on this particular resolution. I'm basically for the intent of the resolution and I strongly favor helping the High Tech Development Corporation, the University of Hawaii School of Medicine, the Cancer Research Center, and other agencies mentioned in this resolution.

"The original intent was to place many of these entities on State land next to the Mother Mary Waldron Park on the mauka side of Kakaako. I voted with reservations in Committee because the site has been planned by the HCDA as a possible site for an elementary school, so I just want to point that out. I think it's also set-aside for kupuna housing or low-income housing, so I thought I would put that in mind. We should perhaps, look for other low cost land to help our high tech industry. Thank you."

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker. With reservations for similar reasons."

Representative Stevens rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm just going to vote with reservations because in the 'Be it resolved' clause, it comments that this taskforce is to look at strategizing to develop and operate the consortium on any land in Kakaako, and I would like to see that on the mauka side instead. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committees was adopted and H.C.R. No. 218, HD 1, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE HIGH TECHNOLOGY DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION, UNIVERSITY OF HAWAII JOHN A. BURNS SCHOOL OF MEDICINE, CANCER RESEARCH CENTER OF HAWAII, DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION, DEPARTMENT OF LAND AND NATURAL RESOURCES, THE HAWAII COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT AUTHORITY, AND KAMEHAMEHA SCHOOLS TO PLAN A TECHNOLOGY-BASED COLLABORATIVE PROJECT ON STATE LANDS, OR OTHER APPROPRIATE LANDS, IN KAKAOKO," was adopted, with Representatives Arakaki, Berg, Stonebraker, Takamine, Tanaka and Wakai being excused.

Representative Morita, for the Committee on Energy & Environmental Protection presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1405-06) recommending that H.C.R. No. 195, be adopted.

On motion by Representative M. Oshiro, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.C.R. Arakaki, Berg, Stonebraker, Takamine, Tanaka and Wakai being excused.

Representative Morita, for the Committee on Energy & Environmental Protection presented two reports:

(Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1406-06) recommending that H.R. No. 239, be adopted; and

(Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1407-06) recommending that H.C.R. No. 305, be adopted.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the reports of the Committee be adopted, and that H.R. No. 239 and H.C.R. No. 305, be adopted, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Meyer rose to speak in opposition to both measures, stating:

"Mr. Speaker. Thank you, I'm rising in opposition to Stand. Com. Report 1406 and 1407. This is a resolution encouraging the Governor to encourage the President to ratify the Kyoto Agreement. My concern is that the Kyoto Agreement put pretty stringent restrictions on green house gas emissions for developed countries, and no restrictions whatsoever on developing countries such as China and India.

"Having traveled to China with the Governor's group this past summer and seeing the amount of dirty air in the valley coming into ... I can't think of the name right now. But there is a tremendous amount of manufacturing going on in China, and this Kyoto Protocol would do nothing to restrict those countries. They are just pumping out all kinds of bad gases. In fact it's a big problem with the health of many of the people in the cities that are close to this manufacturing center.

"I think that many of the countries that participated in the Kyoto Protocol have had second thoughts as the years have gone by because there are no restrictions on these countries that don't have the same technology that we do as far as controlling emissions that are unhealthy.

"If we were to agree with this, it would set America up in a very uncompetitive way. There would be rules for us that wouldn't apply to many other countries. Seeing the balance of manufacturing, so much has been manufactured in China today, and so I just cannot support this resolution."

Representative Moses rose to speak in opposition to both measures, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, also in opposition for a very different reason, although the previous speaker made very good sense and I agree with her points. But just today, when many of us were in Transportation Committee and we heard from the UH Marine Center, SOEST. And one of the testifiers, I don't know if everybody had the chance to read the testimony, but the testimony said that they've been doing a lot of research on underwater volcanoes and they've determined that those volcanoes are a major contributor to the green house gases on our planet. So I think if we're going to do a resolution, maybe we ought to do one addressing volcanoes."

Representative Schatz rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in strong support. Well first of all, the debate about green house gases and the extent to which man is affecting global climate change is over. It may continue to occur on this House floor, but no credible scientific organization, no credible scientist who is not paid by the oil and gas industry claims that there's any real debate any longer about whether or not global climate change is already occurring. Not whether or not it may occur in the future, but whether or not it's already occurring. The debate is over. No scientist with any credibility is claiming that, like they did 20 years ago, like they did 10 years ago, like they did 5 years ago, that global climate change is not a real thing.

"The Union of Concerned Scientists, the United Nations Environmental Program, our own School of Ocean and Earth Science and Technology. Again nobody credible in the government, outside the government, in the private sector, other than those employed by the fossil fuel industry, credibly, can claim that global climate change doesn't occur.

"Second of all, I want to address the question of fairness between our country and others. It's a legitimate question. Here's just one statistic. We have less than 2% of the world's population, and we generate more than 50% of the world's green house gases. Less than 2% of the world's population. More than 50% of the world's green house gases. We have to lead in this area. There is just no question any longer.

"And we've got to get beyond our partisanship here. I know that there is bipartisan support for the Kyoto Protocol, both in the Congress, and even in the House Chamber. But we have got to stop digging in and pretending that any Party should be the friends of the oil and gas industry. No Party should be in opposition to moving towards renewable energy and getting a handle on global climate change. We are conducting a giant experiment on the planet and it's just not right. Thank you."

Representative Berg rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of this measure. Given the information, statistics, from the previous speaker, we have the opportunity as a State, if our Governor so chooses, to encourage the United States and take leadership. To take that leadership worldwide. We cannot force another country to change their ways, but what we can do as the most powerful nation on this planet is set the stage for the kind of conversations that make sustainability real.

"One of the things that concerns me as I sit also on the Interparliamentary Unions conversation in Geneva, where the United States is represented by Hawaii in the conversations about indigenous people's right and environmental rights, is that the United States is painfully absent in the conversations in the leadership on how to encourage, and how to have our planet be the kind of place where we can sustain life. So I rise in strong support and encourage this Body to have courage to encourage our Governor and the mayors to have that vision and integrity for Hawaii to be the leaders in this. Thank you."

Representative Caldwell rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in strong support also, and just some brief comments. Listening to the debate on the floor this afternoon. I would like to point out, one of the comments that somehow volcanoes pollute more than people. It takes me back, as you remember Mr. Speaker, to when Ronald Reagan was President, he made the famous statement that trees pollute more than people do.

"What we're talking about here is what we can do as human beings to preserve our planet for future generations, for our children and their grandchildren, and the first step is taking action ourselves. If you read the Resolution, it's not just asking the President to adopt the Treaty. His father should have by the way, and he should have. But it's asking the Governor to do so, and that can happen. The Governor can, by Executive action, adopt the treaty if she would like to. She has not done so thus far. There is legislation introduced in this Body that would mandate it, and hopefully that legislation would move in the future. It's an important issue that we must all debate.

"Finally our country being the largest polluter in terms of green house gas emissions, we should take that step. Be a leader. Be a world leader. And hopefully other countries will follow. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Herkes rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support. Mr. Speaker, our ocean temperatures have risen. Our sea levels have risen. The natural disaster events in the world in the last year and a half should be a wake-up call for all of us. I do not look forward to this coming hurricane season. I think Hawaii is very vulnerable. I think we're vulnerable to another tsunami, and I think that we need to be prepared. We need to stop global warming at any opportunity that we have because I think we're in real trouble. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, in support. I do support this measure, but I also wanted to add that, adding to the debate on the floor regarding history and the Presidential records, that Theodore Roosevelt is probably hailed in most publications as one of the most environmentally conscious Presidents in history of the US, and I think that some clarity needs to be made on positions of history and Party. Thank you."

Representative Meyer rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker. To follow on the good Representative from the Volcano area, 'And the sky is about to fall.' I mean, that's the rhetoric we're hearing here on the floor. The Vice Chair of Water and Land, talked about there's no argument. That's simply is not true. I have gone to countless legislative conferences where you hear both sides of the story. There is still a lot of debate amongst scientists. There may not be in this Chamber, but believe me, in the larger world out there, there is a great deal of disagreement so I am still in strong opposition. Thank you."

Representative Morita rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

Thank you Mr. Speaker. I rise in support. First of all, I'd like to adopt the words of the Representative from Makiki as my own. I just wanted to point out that the debate that is now occurring in the United States is a debate of opinion, and many times not based in fact, of people who do not recognize global warming as an issue, and climate change as an issue.

"I encourage this Body to read, Boiling Point by Ross Gelbspan, where there is a coordinated effort in the United States to discredit climate change issues, and this has been an effort that has been ongoing for over a decade. And it is one that's based mainly on opinion, and not fact.

"What I want to point out to this Body is what the United States is missing out on by not looking at climate change as an issue, seriously. We are missing out on economic opportunities. There are some corporations who have recognized climate change, such as General Electric. You can see it in their Eco Imagination campaign, that the environment is important. But the economics most of all, is just as important. And taking new technology, advanced technology to Third World countries to promote energy efficiency and clean energy as opportunities for our industries in the United States to reshape themselves for these kind of initiatives.

"So the environment and economy are going hand in hand, but it really takes a national effort by our national leaders to recognize this and move forward in promoting climate change as a serious issue that we need to take a lead in and all the economic opportunities in technological advancement that our brainpower should be engaged in. Thank you."

Representative Moses rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. You know, as a scientist and a historian I've spent a great deal of time reading on these things and I'd like to say to my colleagues across the aisle that nobody is arguing that there aren't global changes, global climate changes. I didn't say that there weren't. And that seems to be the argument. But the argument on the other side didn't say whether or not there are global climate changes. There are. There are also ice ages in the history of the world and there will be more. But the fact that they occur doesn't mean that its only man-made or that man is the biggest contributor.

"If you remember the eruption of Mount Pinatubo, it was shown that that eruption alone lowered the earth's temperature one degree for one whole year. That's more than man can do. We cannot stop hurricanes that we heard about. We cannot stop tidal waves. We are not that powerful. Earth is more powerful than any of us. So I'd like to say that for the other side to say that there is no credible person out there that doesn't believe the way they do, that is absolutely false.

"If you want Mr. Speaker, I'll spend hours here on the floor. I can get all the evidence that you'd like to see and show that people with credible backgrounds, not in the pocket of big oil, because I guess that is the talk that we're hearing here. That if you're not in the pocket of big oil, you would see the true light. Well that's not true.

"Nobody told me my position on this measure. I saw the measure and I thought I would tell you my beliefs on it, because I do believe there is global changes and there will be global changes, and we're not going to stop them. That doesn't mean we can't help clean up the air, clean up the water, clean up the entire environment. But earth does a lot of this damage itself and that's the history of the earth. It will cycle. It's going to get colder, and it's going to get hotter. All of these floods and things that we're seeing now, they've happened before. This is not the first time and it'll happen again no matter what we do."

Representative Marumoto rose to speak in support of both measures with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker. I would like to speak in favor of this with reservations. Thank you. I think that we are probably suffering from global warming, and you know of course things are very cyclical and we could be in a larger cycle. But I think that all nations should take steps to mitigate the effects of global warming.

"But I rise just to point out that we should proceed cautiously so as not needlessly damage our economy. I believe American Presidents and many European developed countries as well, have not signed the Kyoto Protocol because of this problem. I'd like to also point out that in particular, President Clinton who was in office for four years, never did sign the Protocol either. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the reports of the Committee were adopted and H.R. No. 239, entitled: "HOUSE RESOLUTION SUPPORTING THE KYOTO PROTOCOL ON CLIMATE CHANGE AS A SIGNIFICANT MEANS TO REDUCE GREENHOUSE GAS EMISSIONS AND STABILIZE THE GLOBAL ATMOSPHERE, AND AS A NECESSARY FIRST STEP TOWARD MAINTAINING THE HEALTH AND QUALITY OF LIFE FOR FUTURE GENERATIONS OF HAWAII RESIDENTS, AND URGING THE GOVERNOR TO REQUEST THE PRESIDENT TO PURSUE RATIFICATION OF THIS AGREEMENT," was adopted, with Representatives Meyer and Moses voting no, and with Representatives Arakaki, Berg, Stonebraker, Takamine, Tanaka and Wakai being excused; and

Representative Takai rose in support of both measures and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Takai's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to speak in support of this measure.

"The ONE Campaign is dedicated to the goal of energizing Americans to lobby Congress for an increase of ONE percent of the U.S. budget in an effort that would transform the futures and hopes of the poorest countries around the world. The ONE Campaign is a part of the international Make Poverty History movement, which works to increase awareness, and to pressure governments into taking actions towards relieving absolute poverty.

"We in Hawaii are not immune from poverty and homelessness. Our support of the ONE Campaign says that we care not only about ourselves, but we care about all people throughout the world.

"By providing ONE percent of the U.S. budget and redirecting that money to honest governments, private charities and faith-based organizations, we could provide the tools and resources they need to really make a difference.

"American support would be part of a compact with poor countries that fight corruption and use their own resources to help their people out of poverty. American leadership would be an example for rich countries in Europe and Asia to do their share to help the poorest people in the world.

"Supporting the ONE Campaign will allow us to help prevent 10 million children from becoming AIDS orphans and get 104 million children into grade school. We can also help to provide water to almost 900 million people around the globe and save almost 6.5 million children under 5 from dying of diseases that could be prevented with low-cost measures like vaccination or a well for clean water.

"The ONE Campaign encourages people of the world to unite one by one to make a better, safer, world for all. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the reports of the Committees were adopted and H.R. No. 251, entitled: "HOUSE RESOLUTION COMMENDING THE EFFORTS OF THE ONE CAMPAIGN AND INVITING ALL CITIZENS TO JOIN IN RECOGNIZING AND SUPPORTING THE ONE CAMPAIGN AS IT SPREADS ITS MESSAGE THROUGHOUT THE NATION AND THE WORLD," was adopted, with Representatives Arakaki, Berg, Stonebraker, Takamine, Tanaka and Wakai being excused; and Representative Halford rose to speak in opposition to both measures, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, in opposition. Mr. Speaker, I'm opposed to this because this is asking us to delay services to children and families in communities. The digest version is simply that the Department of Human Services has changed its management practice to allow better service to families in communities. Apparently meetings are being missed. The workers are not getting to the families. There's a problem. The management plan is being opposed by the workers themselves. They object to the changes.

"No one is saying that delaying this will in any way enhance the delivery of services, and the Department of Human Service's plan is designed to improve the delivery of services. And just briefly, the voting in Committee was 3 noes, and 2 with reservations. That far outnumbers the few ayes. Thank you."

Representative Herkes rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, in very strong support. I talked to both the providers, and I had two discussions with the Administration on this issue. I don't think that the people who put this plan together have any concept of the size of the area that they serve. The area from Ka'u to Hawi and to Honokaa is the size of this island plus Maui. And they want to take that and they want to close all of those rural offices and put them into one office in Kailua-Kona, which incidentally is next to a 'lease a lua' storage facility and a crematorium. That in itself troubles me.

"They have never fully manned the Ka'u Office, never. And with the problems that we had with the children and the ice problems in that district, the lack of services, whether it be psychologist, psychiatrist, or paying attention to children, has been a major problem in my area. How can somebody drive to an office in Kailua-Kona, and then try to service Hawi and Honokaa, or South Kona and Ka'u? 'Well maybe they can do it from their homes.' I said, 'Do you have any idea where they live?' 'Well, no.' I said, 'What if they all live in South Kona? Then how is that quote, plan, going to work?'

"Well they came back and they said, 'Well we have one person that lives in Waimea.' So you're going to service that entire Waimea, Honokaa, North Kohala, South Kohala district with one person or somebody coming out of that single office? And if they are working at home, then this argument about supervision makes no sense to me. They've got no support service. Then they say, 'Oh, we're going to give them their own cars to drive.' Well isn't that a great solution.

"Mr. Speaker, we're dealing with children. Children. And efficiency in government at the expense of children makes absolutely no sense to me. And I'm in strong support of the work that the Chairman of Human Services has done on this reso."

Representative Kahikina rose to speak in opposition to both measures, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, in opposition. Mr. Speaker, the whole reason why I oppose this measure, in my second read and investigating, when I was chosen to be the Chair of Human Services, I took a taskforce out throughout this whole State addressing the Child Protective Agency. Quite frankly, it was in these areas where we have been bombarded with a lot of these issues. Mr. Speaker, the services are still going to go into the communities. What the Department wants to do is to consolidate. In fact the operation in Ka'u will still be in operation.

"I'm afraid Mr. Speaker, a lot of the children are not getting the services and the children are not going to go to the office. We need to get the services out to children, out into their homes. I'm just feeling that, prior to us going out and investigating Child Protective Services, I've been having a lot of complaints by families since we did those investigations and made some changes in the legislation, and now we're getting complaints from social workers. And in this case, the complaints are from the workers, and that's why it convinced me that we need to support the Department in this change. Thank you."

Representative Hale rose to speak in opposition to both measures, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I changed my mind on this because at first I was for this Resolution, but in the Committee we heard that Ka'u is not going to be closed up, so this Resolution is not accurate the way it points it out.

"The other problem that convinced me is, and I do support the former Chair of Human Services and Housing, the previous speaker, that I have a lot of problems in my community with the same problems that he has pointed out. And I do believe that the Department convinced me that they are trying to improve the education and the services that are being given out to the people by giving education to some of the workers that really need this kind of work, and need this education. So for these reasons, I have changed my mind and I believe that we should let the community and the Department try to improve their services there because it's not happening right now. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am voting no."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

"I rise in strong support. The Department of Human Services had made a decision, I think, in a vacuum. They did not talk to the community about what I consider abandonment. We're talking about families that may have some problems where the principals and community leaders see problems. I got emails from pediatricians. I got emails from people in the Waimea community that were shocked that this was happening.

"I believe if people read the Resolution, we're not telling the Department of Human Services that their decision is wrong, completely wrong. What we're saying is, if you're going to abandon an office that existed for a long time, you should take it upon yourself to go out, have community meetings and talk about what you're planning on doing. Why you're planning on doing it. And what you're going to do to provide the service to a community that had it for a long time.

"The other thing is that this North Hawaii is growing by leaps and bounds. We've got like major population growth. Some people on the Big Island believe we're actually 3 distinct communities. That's the Hilo-Puna area, the Kona area and also the North Hawaii area which is Honokaa, Hawi, Waikoloa, and Waimea. The population growth is unprecedented in that area.

"When I had the Department of Human Services in my office, what I said to them was, 'Are you going to tell the community and have this discussion about what your short-term and your long-range plan is?' Because if this keeps growing at the rate it is, you're going to have to establish an office in North Hawaii. So if this is just a temporary solution because you're having problems supervising workers, tell the community you have to bring everybody back together for training, for reorganizing, to put the effort maybe for a year or two and trying to get reorganized. Tell them that, and don't let them feel like you've just abandoned them."

"I think the community is shocked by this. And I think all this resolution is doing is saying, we're urging you to delay it temporarily. Get out there and talk to the people. Thank you."

Representative Sonson rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

"In support, Mr. Speaker. This is quite a difficult situation, Mr. Speaker, because we do want to support the Department in ensuring that we comply with our program improvement plan. One of the goals that we want to accomplish Mr. Speaker, because of the audit that's been done which pointed out that the workers have not been able to accomplish client services in an effective way.

"One measure that they were looking at is face-to-face contact between the social workers from DHS with the foster families. Face to face contact with the families that are affected. So part of the strategy is to have the offices in communities to make it a lot easier for them. That works in some situations. The Department did establish fringe offices, not these, but it works toward the same goal. They've done that in other areas. But why are they doing quite the opposite in this particular region.

"Well it turns out Mr. Speaker, that further investigation into the matter, is that there is this office in Kona, in Pottery Terrace it's called, in Downtown Kona. It is simply too small for the 18 people that work there because now, in order to comply with the reporting the strict standards of reporting in the PIP, they all have to go to the office and work. And within the 5 months that they've been implementing the PIP, they're at each other's throat. Morale is really low in that they are not getting the reports in on time despite the fact that they're in the office because they're fighting for the machines, they're fighting for the computers, etc. So the decision is made to move these 18 people in Kona to a bigger office. Unfortunately a decision came also that said, 'You know what? While we're at it, maybe we can save some money.'

"Let us bring in the 6 people in Kamuela, and I forgot how many people, 12 people I believe, in Captain Cook. Put them all in Kona, and not in Downtown Kona. Let's put them in the fringes of Kona. And as it turns out, from that area it takes an hour and a half just to drive through the seven miles of road that goes from that area to a very special place where they have to report to weekly, which is the court. So now you have a problem with the workers saying, 'Wait a minute. We're supposed to be delivering services to the families that live in the communities. That's why we're here. But at the same time we have to be in Kona, by the airport, to ensure that we are doing our report and go to court."

Representative Cabanilla rose to yield her time, and the Chair, "so ordered."

Representative Sonson continued, stating:

"But thank you very much. Forgive me Mr. Speaker, Members, because this is a very controversial issue and that's why we delayed decision making on this for weeks so that the Chair and the Committees will hear from the community. And basically what I'm reporting to this Body right now is the result of those investigations. And those investigations are reflected in this measure that's before us, that's been worked on with the help of the Department of Human Services. And they have agreed to this draft and that's why it's going forward.

"Mr. Speaker, the problem is delivering services when you are very far away. So if it takes them about three hours to be on the road to get from the families in Kamuela, and then back to the office, and then to the court, the time is lessened to spend with the families where they are really needed. As the prior Chair of Human Services says, they are full in that aspect, that they should be with their families. Well that's exactly the concern from the workers.

"The workers are saying, 'How can we deliver the services that effectively if we are going to be spending most of our time on the road?' We know that the Chair of Housing who lives on the Leeward side as I do, and should know how hard it is to look at the time being spent on the road and says, 'You know, we could be at the Capitol working on this bill.' Well the feeling is the same on these individuals who want to work with families. They want to be out there working with the families and not on the road commuting.

"What we've done Mr. Speaker, because the other issue that came up is that there was no input from the community and there's no input from the workers themselves as to the feasibility of this move since it was a top-down decision. We have to be very careful also to ensure that the workers have a high morale because if we just say whether you like it or not. You work for us. You do what we say. I don't think it works, Mr. Speaker.

"What we as public policy makers, we want to make sure that we take care of the workers who are going to be delivering services to the people because the complaint from the people is usually, 'They, we have staff in these offices that are not very friendly. They're always mad. They're always not attentive to us.' And who gets the blame for that? We do. And so the intent of this measure is to delay, it's not to stop, the plan to consolidate these offices. However, it is conditioned only upon having meetings in the affected communities and having a meeting with the affected staff.

"If during those meetings they should change their mind and reconsider, then it is up to the Department, Mr. Speaker. So this does no harm. It does not delay services to the communities. It is just to ensure that the workers, who are very important to us, have a chance and opportunity to tell the Department what may happen if they do make this particular move. Thank you."

Representative Halford rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. I'll be brief because I know this is going a long time just for a short reso. But I wanted to point out something which might have missed many of us. It missed me in the first place when I first heard it. It is that the services being delivered are not delivered in the offices. The services being delivered are in the client's homes, and that's how it's intended. That's what's meant to happen, and too often that's what's not happening. So I wanted to clarify that closing an office in the community does not desert the community, because the clients aren't going to that office anyway. That's just perhaps a convenience location for the workers themselves. So the issue here really is delivering services to the community which is not sufficiently happening now, and creating an office complex that will allow more services to be delivered to the people in their homes. Thank you."

Representative Green rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising in support very briefly. This is in my community, and it is kind of an issue. A lot of the people involved have spoken to me directly and asked that we have the Department look at it. I just think this resolution will allow them to talk with the community a little bit about it.

"I would just finally add that, based on how contentious this is, it seems almost like we're trying to let someone do a development back of my district with this amount of debate, so its quite surprising. I think it's really a smaller issue. Thank you."

Representative Yamane rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

"I'm standing in strong support, Mr. Speaker. I just wanted to make a brief comment in regards to what was discussed earlier. The indication that having a centralized unit that will expedite or streamline services may not fully be accurate.

"As an individual that has worked in those kinds of programs at the Family Guidance Center, we also have to include that there's confidentiality factors in which you have to house your files. You have to have mail delivered, or to do other things. You have to have an area that you can meet families who have concerns about you as a worker coming into their home. If there are concerns about the security and safety of the child, you have to have a neutral place where those people feel comfortable. And having people travel 10, 20, 30 miles one way could be considered an unrealistic feat for some of our families out there, Mr. Speaker.

"So again this Resolution asks for them to initiate one, a minimum of one interactive public meeting. If anything in our communities were being affected like a closure of a school, or a development of some type of wastewater treatment plant, that's the minimum we would be asking. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

At 1:58 o'clock p.m., Representative Meyer requested a recess and the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 2:00 o'clock p.m.

At this time, the Chair stated:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising in opposition to this Resolution. This Resolution would ask the Auditor to conduct a management and fiscal audit of the Department of Land and Natural Resources. I think that we've seen with all of the rain, that DLNR is charged with a very large responsibility. I think at this point in time, it would take a lot of their resources and time for this audit.

"I would rather see, while we do have, we do have a bill or a resolution for an audit of the Historic Preservation Department. It probably would make more sense to have one division instead of this massive, whole department. So that's why I can't support this."

Representative Halford rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, with reservations. Mr. Speaker, I know this Resolution goes on to Finance and that otherwise, I would have voted no, because the way the way the language is written and so poorly crafted that it doesn't deserve to be passed as it is. But hopefully it's a work in progress so I voted with reservations.

"I also wanted to point out that this is a strange Resolution in how it occurred in Committee. There was only one proponent for this Resolution. That was the House Majority Leader. No one else came to testify for this Resolution. Normally with an audit bill, or quite often anyway with an audit bill, we have the Auditor come by, not to speak in favor of it, but to offer comments. But the Auditor was not there so unusual. I thought it was an unusual hearing. Thank you."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, with serious reservations. This Resolution to me seems to be politically motivated."

The Chair addressed Representative Meyer, stating:

"Representative Meyer, you're out of order because there is no motive or intent in making that statement before this Body."

Representative Meyer: "Mr. Speaker, I think there are motives in many of the resolutions. It would be almost inhuman that people have no motives."

Speaker Say: "Your point is well taken, but it is not going to be recorded, Representative Meyer. Please address the Resolution as it is, on the substance of the matter and not using political motive or intent."

Representative Meyer: "Well it's hard to be honest and to express myself if I can't say that. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Pine rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Takai rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this Resolution. I just wanted to clarify the Representative from Maui's statements regarding the supportive testimony. In fact, not only did the Majority Leader speak in support of the resolution, but we have testimony from Pacific and Asian Affairs Council that says that they welcome the legislative audit and I'll make it available for him to take a look at. In addition the Department of Business, Economic Development and Tourism in their testimony also supported the intent of the Resolution, and they also mention that they'll fully cooperate with the Auditor. I'm not too sure where the Representative got his information. I was at the same hearing that he was at, and from what I read and I still read today, no one objected to the audit. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Halford rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you. To clarify. Assuredly those two Departments if you will, groups, they're not looking to be audited. That is certain. They are being gracious and say they're going to cooperate with the audit, no problem. But assuredly, they were not there to support this. Thank you."

Representative B. Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support. Very briefly, I just wanted to explain. I don't think that actually there's any political motivation behind this. It's actually a question as to how we are to comply with the Procurement Code when people are going to be soliciting private donations. And I think that's the critical issue here, because what we have, as we saw the testimony, as from the packet of information that was provided, was indeed it asked for an exemption from the Procurement Code in order to give a specific vendor a contract.

"The State Procurement Office said, 'No.' And then, a couple of months later, they actually go through a nonprofit and then the nonprofit gave the contract to that same vendor. So all they did was circumvent the Procurement Code. And if that's really what's going on, then we need to have the Auditor take a look at it so that in the future, if there are further ventures like this, as creative as they may be, they need to comply with the law. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Meyer rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, just a point of clarification. The Minority Floor Leader used the term 'politically motivated' and there was no objection to that. The Majority Floor Leader. My point is that you made no objection to him referring to political motivation."

The Chair responded, stating:

"Well he said there was, 'no political motivation', or motive, or intent. That's what he said."

At 2:10 o'clock p.m., the Chair declared a recess, subject to the call of the Chair.

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising with very strong reservations on this bill, Relating to Taxation. While there are many sound provisions in the bill, the real poison pill is the requirement that the State Tax Office collect the half percent excise tax for the City and County of Honolulu.

"I thought it was clear from communications and articles in the newspaper last year that there was some kind of an agreement between the Governor and the leadership in the House and the Senate, that a provision would be made that the County would have to collect that, and that does not seem to be happening. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Marumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Stevens rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Moses rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you. In opposition, Mr. Speaker. As one of the previous speakers said, I mean it was quite evident when we passed this measure that we said that the State would not collect the tax. And now we are. So it's the same thing as if we passed the tax. So I hope everybody realizes that. This Body passed a half a percent increase in the State GET tax."

Representative Thielen rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Meyer be entered in the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

No. 2382, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," passed Second Reading, and was placed on the calendar for Third Reading with Representatives Finnegan, Marumoto, Moses, Pine and Thielen voting no, and with Representatives Arakaki, Stonebraker, Takamine, Tanaka and Wakai being excused.

No. 2550, SD 2, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be placed on the calendar for Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2550, SD 2, HD 1, pass Second Reading and be placed on the calendar for Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would like a no vote please, and Mr. Speaker, brief remarks. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. The description should read, as it does in the bill, that this establishes the Kakaako Central Small Business District, returns zoning and land use controls for the Kakaako Central Small Business District to the jurisdiction of the City and County of Honolulu, and places a restriction on infrastructure construction and street improvements in the Kakaako Central Small Business District by the HCDA.

"If Members were relying on what is on the Order of the Day, which kind of tracks what goes along with the bill. I'm not making a complaint to the Clerk or the Clerk's Office, but the description isn't correct. It's picked up in another way and it did not pick up the actual impact of what this bill will do.

"As Members decide what to do on this measure as it goes on to Third Reading, I wish that they would remember the Whole Foods type of situation. And Mr. Speaker, just to let you know what that operation will do for agriculture in our State. I found out they're going to devote 10,000 square feet to the produce section, and they have a commitment to obtain produce from local farmers. They don't seek to bring it in from overseas or other places of that nature. That's 10,000 square feet. That's a ready market that's available for our consumers with produce right from the fields onto our dinner table plates.

"I think if we do this and dismantle, in effect, HCDA, we're really taking a step backward. I would hope this measure would not make it through. Thank you."

Representative Harbin rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Please enter my no vote on this matter. First of all, the City and County does not want Kakaako back. They can't afford it. This is a State redevelopment area. We've invested millions of dollars, and millions of man hours. Businesses have invested their lives. And corporations have invested millions of dollars also into Kakaako. We made a decision. We need to stay the course and not tamper with returning this to the City and County of Honolulu.

"Also I'm a small business advocate, and I think as I rise here with a no, I'm probably going to be assassinated as I walk down ID-11. I'm sorry ID-11. But you know, I have owned businesses in Kakaako since the early '90s and late '80s, and on every one of those I have had to pay substantial improvement assessments and they're horrible. We have, as a business community, asked that the City step up and give us a credit on property tax because you're paying for improvements and property taxes, and I know exactly what these people are talking about.

"HCDA has done the best, and as a member of the Kakaako Improvement Association, we also reached out to the business at ID-11 because it is a very unique improvement area because there are such a minimal amount of businesses that are being impacted by the assessment. However, almost 100% of those businesses have had their problems addressed by HCDA and all but, I believe, just one.

"We need to get that street improved. More people are going to get injured on that street because it is in such an unimproved area.

So let us continue with the task at hand, with the infrastructure of Kakaako, and leave it where it is with HCDA. Thank you."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm just rising with strong reservations. I understand that a lot of the small businesses there on Queen Street are afraid that they are not going to have parking, deliveries would be very difficult, but as far as this, this is a lot of money has been spent, and you know they are trying to plan to bring things up. So it would just be like this little island in there that wouldn't be improved. I don't think that's very good planning. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Marumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Pine rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Nishimoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Moses rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations. The City said perfectly straight forward, they don't want it. So we can't just say, 'You got it,' and not do anything. Thank you."

Representative Souki rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I stand in support. Thank you. I was at the hearing on this, and there were a lot of small businesses there in strong support of this. Mainly they felt it was time to let them help in their own destiny, and that they felt they could hold their elected City and County Council members, hold them accountable on what's to be done in their small business district. They felt that Kakaako, or the HCDA, had lost touch. That their mindset was to do these tall towers, residential towers, and to develop high density urban development and they were going to displace them.

"They felt very strongly that we should support this and I think they have a legitimate argument. Being it is a small district, it is within the city limits, and that they can work with their local elected officials in determining what their destiny is, and have those community meetings and have that input. So I supported them, and I still support them. Thank you."

Representative Stevens rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, thank you. I stand in support. Thank you. I wanted to just quote one of the testifiers from that hearing and it was one of the small business owners. He said, 'With HCDA, we're doomed. With the City and County, we have hope.' Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2550, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT," passed Second Reading, and was placed on the calendar for Third Reading with Representatives Harbin and Thielen voting no, and with Representatives Arakaki, Stonebraker, Takamine, Tanaka and Wakai being excused.

MINK," passed Second Reading, and was placed on the calendar for Third Reading with Representatives Arakaki, Stonebraker, Takamine, Tanaka and Wakai being excused.

At this time, the Chair stated:

"Members, at this time, please note the 48-hour notice for Standing Committee Report Nos. 1467-06 to 1494-06, listed on pages 24 through 30 of the Order of the Day."

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2643, SD 1, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Meyer rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, I'm rising in opposition to Senate Bill 2643, House Draft 1. My real concern is that by making the changes that we're considering here, we could increase the cost for vocational rehab services because people can now start getting vocational rehab services while recovering from an injury. It will result in higher premiums. The measure could increase the cost for employers and insurance carriers from $6.1 million, which it is now annually, to about $62 million. And that's a big jump. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Harbin rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'd like to register a no vote on this measure. This measure attempts to move those that are on temporary disability into the ability to self-refer themselves into vocational rehab. This is a very bad bill, regardless of its intentions. The small business community is still reeling from the thought that we could even introduce something that would be so dramatic in the increase of benefits when it comes to workers' comp.

"I have been have received many calls, many concerns. In fact, the business community, the small business community is so concern and overwhelmed, they just didn't even show up. What's the sense? So with that being said, I promised them that I would follow this bill through Conference Committee. I will work with the Conferees, and encourage them to understand that this is a very bad bill. And I will do everything in my power to stop it, and bring home the demise of this bill. Thank you."

Representative Caldwell rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, brief comments in support. The bill that we're voting on here today that moved out of Finance, is the same bill that the Labor Committee amended after listening to testimony from the business community. In that testimony, they asked that if this bill is to go forward, at least provide a provision for light duty so that the employer can find alternative light duty for this person, instead of sending them right on to voc rehab. They would support that.

"We listened to the business community. We put that amendment in. The Finance Committee has kept it in. And it would be moving forward. I think it actually addresses their concerns and gives an alternative. It helps the injured worker who has no other alternative to at least try light duty. If it doesn't work out long term, then yes, they deserve voc rehab. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Harbin rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, a slight rebuttal. It's unfortunate that some of us here that sit on the Labor Committee have not the historic involvement in workers' comp reform as some of us have had back in the '90s. Light duty is such a wonderful concept, and I think everybody in business would love to have light duty. I know I did. But light duty, when you're a small business, becomes this very elusive thing because it is very difficult because you don't have the ability to take an employee that is making $40 an hour in a very specialized part of your business, and sit them down under a tree in a parking lot to count how many people go in and out because that would be the light duty.

"When coordinated care passed in the '90s, that was one of the biggest issues that we had in allowing for light duty was to be able to send someone in that could help a business owner understand their business sufficiently, that they could develop a light duty policy. That is a real issue. So for this Legislature to sit here and say, 'Oh well, go figure it out business people because if you don't, we're going to impose $62 million worth of benefits on you that you're just going to have to pay additional premiums on because you're not able to develop light duty.' This is another one of those making laws without understanding the ramifications, the true ramification, and it's really unfortunate that some of us weren't around in the '90s to understand what light duty is about. Thank you."

Representative Moses rose, stating:

"Brief point of information. I don't see light duty refer to in the measure at all.

At 2:29 o'clock p.m., Representative Thielen requested a recess and the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 2:31 o'clock p.m.

Representative Moses rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. That confirms my opposition to the measure."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I have serious reservations about the measure. When it applies to small businesses too, where they only have one or two or three employees, the light duty is not practical. And then, when we end up increasing the voc rehab population, I think we're going to then increase the workers' compensation payments that the small businesses will have to pay.

"I don't sit on the Labor Committee, but I just have a gut feeling that this is going to hurt our small businesses in the State. So my serious reservations have just tipped over to a no vote. Thank you."

Representative Stevens rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would like a no vote with just quick comments. I kind of believe after listening to the testimony, that this bill might actually delay services to injured workers until a determination can be made of whether or not the worker can return to his previous or is suitable for light duty.

"We heard testimony that the rehab unit is grossly understaffed and has no one that's really qualified to make such a decision. So for those reasons, I'll be voting no. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representatives Thielen and Stevens be entered in the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Pine rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2581, SD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Moses rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker. On 1511, in opposition. This is allowing retired police officers and correction officers to serve warrants to get rid of the backlog. We keep hearing about a backlog of 62,000 warrants, but there's a more realistic figure that's maybe down in the 50,000 range. Most of those are traffic warrants. Some of the other warrants the State knows perfectly where they are, out of state. And it cost a lot more to bring them back for their discretion and to leave them where they are, as long as they're out of state. So the real number of warrants comes down to a very, very small amount. It's not the 62,000 number.

"The police department said, 'We don't want these people, these retired officers out there with guns, who aren't going to go back to regular training and regular firearms training etc.' The Attorney General said they don't have the authority to designate and regulate who the individual persons who would be authorized to do this. Would these people become employees of the State? Who would pay them? Who would be responsible for their liability if the State is saying you go out and serve it? There are many, many questions, so I'm in opposition."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2581, SD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE BACKLOG IN UNSERVED ARREST WARRANTS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 43 ayes to 2 noes, with Representatives Moses and Thielen voting no, and with Representatives Arakaki, Saiki, Stonebraker, Takamine, Tanaka and Wakai being excused.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Judiciary presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1512-06) recommending that S.B. No. 2737, SD 1, HD 1, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative M. Oshiro, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. At 2:35 o'clock p.m., the Chair declared a recess, subject to the call of the Chair.

"And then on Monday we have the Easter Basket delivery to the Institute of Human Services at 3:00 at the entry to the Rotunda area. I hope that Members are putting together their Easter Baskets with usable items for the women's shelter. Thank you."

"But you know, from this seat, Mr. Speaker, and where I stand, I think Representative Yamane has done a great job in coordinating our floor presentations this year. In fact, over the past 12 years that I've been here, I think that this year has been the best. So I just wanted to recognize him, and point out to him publicly that he's done a fine job for us, and I hope he continues next year. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising in support of Senate Bill 2922, Relating to Campaign Spending. Thank you. I do have a few concerns. Really the basic concern is that we're not hearing the bill that would have prevented donations from lobbyists, but since that's not before us, I won't discuss that measure.

"Mr. Speaker, I'm a bit confused about the provision on page 2. It states that a person other than an individual, and what this means is a corporation or a union, using funds from its own treasury may make a one-time transfer during a two-year election period of an unlimited amount of money into its own non-candidate committee. That's the section that I have a question about, Mr. Speaker. I know then once the money is in the union's non-candidate committee, political action committee account, or the corporation's political action committee account, then they are limited to a specific donation per candidate. In other words, if it's the House of Representatives they can give no more than $2,000.

"What I'm asking about is this: does this one-time only mean one time only? That in other words, in 2006, the corporation or union can put the money in. Or is it a one time only per election period? And does that mean then that the union or the corporation puts the money into its political action committee account one time during the two-year election period, this two years, the next two years, etc, and onward? And if the Judiciary Committee Chair would yield to a question or if she would rather take a recess. I'm a bit confused about this one section."

The Chair then stated:

"Representative Luke, will you yield to a question?"

Representative Luke rose to respond, stating:

"I'll be happy to yield to the question, but I didn't see the distinction between her first question and the second question so maybe we better take a recess."

At 12:37 o'clock p.m., the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 12:40 o'clock p.m.

Representative Thielen continued, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker. I appreciated the Judiciary Chair's and Vice Chair's explanation on this. It does mean that a union or a corporation can select one time period during a two-year election period in which they can put money into their political action committees to then give donations to candidates. They can't later during that same two-year election period put more money into it. So it's a baby step toward campaign spending reform, but it really is not nearly as effective, Mr. Speaker, as if we could outlaw lobbyists campaign donations in totality. Thank you. And it's not on the subject matter before us, so I will not continue down that line. Thank you."

Representative M. Oshiro rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker. The speaker basically articulated my reasons for objecting, but I'll go one step further, Mr. Speaker. That those remarks that refer to that issue not before us be stricken from the Journal."

The Chair then ruled, stating:

"The Chair will make that decision as we progress."

Representative Moses rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"On the same measure, Mr. Speaker, I'm just rising in support with one minor concern. My concern is as many bills progress through the Legislature they have defective dates and this one does too. I'm just concerned that maybe it will become retroactive to last year, and affect those of us, which I'm sure is all of us here who have been abiding by the current statutes. And I don't want to see a change in the law halfway through, very close to the election. Thank you."

Representative Pine rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Just the same reservations, Mr. Speaker. I haven't really been able to pinpoint yet, but I just don't feel very good about this bill. Thank you."

Representative B. Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this bill. Very briefly, this actually is a change in the law that's necessary because the Attorney General says that there is a current conflict in Chapter 11 and they need clarification, and that's why we're doing this."

"That's why it's addressing only two issues. It's a very small bill and it's not that entirely comprehensive. But just to challenge what the speaker from Kailua said. We previously passed House Bill number 3101, and that was a campaign spending comprehensive bill that made multiple changes and already went over to the Senate and has just come back and is on our desk. So I don't know what she's talking about, 'baby steps,' because all this is, is a technical fix that the Attorney General said we needed. And that's why we're passing this."

Representative Thielen rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. The baby steps are because we're not outlawing campaign donations by lobbyists. Thank you."

The Chair then stated:

"Representative Thielen, you're out of order with that statement."

Representative Luke rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, just one clarification, in strong support. When the Legislature passed the campaign finance reform bill last year, what it did was effective January 1st of 2006, we put certain restrictions on union and corporate contributions from the treasury."

"The effect of that is any corporation and any union that wanted to stack the amount from their treasury into their PAC, they were able to do so and they were allowed to do so by the Campaign Spending Commission as long as it was done before January 1st, 2006. So those corporations and unions that are akamai in the campaign spending law and knew what was going on, they actually were able to put in whatever amount, an unlimited amount for an unlimited time from the treasury into their PAC."

"However, those corporations and unions that did not either consult with the Campaign Spending Commission or did not know that these changes were made, were kind of left out in the cold. So it's a kind of inequity that we're trying to fix for those people who actually did communicate with the Campaign Spending Commission or those people who are more in tuned with what's going on with the Legislature. But there are tons of corporations, there are tons of entities, who actually do not follow all the bills, and do not follow what's going at the Legislature. So this is trying to address the inequity for some corporations who were able to put in an unlimited amount and for those corporations that were not able to."

Representative Harbin rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations. I came to this Body with specific issues that were on my priority list, and this is a rather peripheral one. But as I sit here, again coming from my former life of being a citizen-participant, it's very disillusioning when I see bills that are as important as this, dealing with such an important subject matter being called, 'baby steps,' being called, 'cleaning up things.' We need to take more than baby steps Mr. Speaker. We need to take giant steps."

"The people that I talk to on the streets are really disillusioned with us, really disillusioned. And to say to them, don't worry, sit back, just continue to be disillusioned with us and don't go to the polls because we're taking baby steps is a terrible, terrible thing for this Body to keep saying. And I want us to take a big step if we're going to take one, this Session and send a message that we're ready for citizen participation. Thank you."

Representative Pine rose to respond, stating:

"I'm sorry, Mr. Speaker. I had reservations because of what the speaker from Kailua said but now I have even stronger reservations about this bill because of what the Chair of Judiciary said. So basically my understanding is that people who followed the law are not going to be giving any more. But we're going to make it legal for everyone else who forgot to give before January 1st, 2006 to be able to give to us now because they didn't follow the law. So anybody that gave to us from January 1st to now, we're trying to make it legal because we forgot to get donations from them before that. That's what it's sounding like and that's why I'm rising again. Thank you."

The Chair then stated:

"Members, we have had a lot of discussion on this measure. This is Second Reading and for those of us who have already spoken on Second Reading, the Chair will entertain your comments to insert it in the Journal on Third Reading, at this point and time. This is Second Reading, Members. You'll get another opportunity."

Representative Finnegan rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Meyer rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Thielen rose, stating:

"May I change my eye to a vote with reservations, please," and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2922, SD 1, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CAMPAIGN SPENDING," passed Second Reading, and was placed on the calendar for Third Reading with Representatives Stevens and Stonebraker being excused.

Representative Herkes, for the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1523-06) recommending that S.B. No. 2226, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative M. Oshiro, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2226, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO DENTISTS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes, with Representatives Stevens and Stonebraker being excused.

Representative Herkes, for the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1524-06) recommending that S.B. No. 2296, SD 1, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative M. Oshiro, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2296, SD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO NURSES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes, with Representatives Stevens and Stonebraker being excused.

At 12:48 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills, passed Third Reading:

S.B. No. 2226

S.B. No. 2296, SD 1

THIRD READING

S.B. No. 2290, SD 2, HD 1 and S.B. No. 2292, SD 2, HD 1:

Representative M. Oshiro moved that S.B. Nos. 2290, SD 2, HD 1, and 2292, SD 2, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Meyer rose in support of both measures and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Meyer's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I strongly support this S.B. No. 2290. I think it is very important that this Legislature do everything possible to protect the citizens of the State from identity theft. I am glad that the problem is being taken so seriously and that there are multiple bills moving through the Legislature. This bill is especially admirable in that it requires that businesses notify those whose information has been compromised in the event of a security breach. That will allow the potential victims to be aware of possible problems and to monitor their credit report. With that kind of advanced notice, persons will be able to take action to prevent any incident from occurring that could be very costly to them. It is very important that we attack the problem of identity theft from all angles and this bill is one that would put some more power into the potential victims' hands. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

"Mr. Speaker, I am rising in strong support of S.B. No. 2292, HD 1. Identity theft is no small problem. This Session we have been confronting the crime from multiple directions by increasing penalties for criminals, giving citizens greater control, and now by requiring businesses to be more responsible with the disposal of personal information they are entrusted with. If we are to get the problem under control, it is necessary that we approach the problem from as many sides as we can. This bill is a necessary step in eradicating identity theft from our society. Requiring businesses to destroy information rather than merely discarding it will prevent criminals from gaining easy access to other people's personal information. This is a very important step towards restricting access to identity information and thereby reducing opportunities for criminals. I am confident that we can significantly reduce the cost of identity theft to our citizens by the passage of this bill. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Moses rose to speak in support of both measures, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, I'm rising in support of both measures also, 2290 and 2292. These both deal with identity theft and a means to try to prevent that. And I think that they're bills that are very, very necessary in today's modern electronic age. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and S.B. No. 2290, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PROTECTION FROM SECURITY BREACHES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes, with Representatives Stevens and Stonebraker being excused; and

S.B. No. 2292, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO DESTRUCTION OF PERSONAL INFORMATION RECORDS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes, with Representatives Stevens and Stonebraker being excused.

S.B. No. 2602, SD 1:

On motion by Representative M. Oshiro, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, S.B. No. 2602, SD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ADULT PROBATION RECORDS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes, with Representatives Stevens and Stonebraker being excused.

S.B. No. 2608:

On motion by Representative M. Oshiro, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, S.B. No. 2608, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO GUARDIAN AND PROTECTIVE PROCEEDINGS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes, with Representatives Stevens and Stonebraker being excused.

At 12:49 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills, passed Third Reading:

S.B. No. 2602, SD 1

S.B. No. 2292, SD 2, HD 1

S.B. No. 2608

SUSPENSION OF RULES

On motion by Representative B. Oshiro, seconded by Representative Meyer and carried, the rules were suspended for the purpose of considering certain bills on Third Reading on the basis of a modified consent calendar. (Representatives Chang, Herkes, Nakasone and Tanaka were excused.)

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

Representative Herkes, for the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1467-06) recommending that S.B. No. 2454, SD 1, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative M. Oshiro, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2454, SD 1, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO OUT-OF-STATE SALES OF TIME SHARE INTERESTS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 47 ayes, with Representatives Cabanilla, Herkes, Morita and Tanaka being excused.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1468-06) recommending that S.B. No. 995, SD 1, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 995, SD 1, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, I will be voting no on this measure and I would just like to make a few brief remarks. Mr. Speaker, in addition I would like to request that my additional remarks be placed in the Journal," and Chair "so ordered."

Representative Thielen continued, stating:

"Thank you. Mr. Speaker, the year before I took the bar examination, the bar applicants to become licensed attorneys took that examination, and 100% of them passed. The real question was: What in earth was going on that had never happened ever in the history of the bar exam? And people were thinking, 'Okay, who was it that they wanted to have pass that exam?' So in other words, to make sure that that happened, they passed 100% of the applicants.

"The difficulty I have with this bill is that it somewhat smells of the same situation. That we may be trying to protect certain members of the Judiciary so let's change the age and remove the mandatory retirement age. Well as the Attorney General and others testified, that's a bad idea for a number of reasons. We don't want to have age discrimination, but we do want to encourage bright, new, young minds to look at moving up the ladder and ultimately becoming a justice of the Supreme Court. If we allow people to serve, really in perpetuity, then we're not going to have those openings. We won't have the new ideas coming in, and we won't have the change of the court the way we have the change in society.

"I don't think it's a good idea, Mr. Speaker. And the other thing is if we're truly not trying to protect the jobs of some of the Justices that are in there, then we would only make the bill effective upon the termination of the existing Justices' term of office. So for those reasons and others that will be in my remarks in the Journal, I oppose the bill. Thank you."

Representative Thielen's written remarks are as follows:

"The retirement age for judges is necessary for the spirit of rotation. Two bills working their way through the Legislature would repeal the mandatory retirement age for state judges and justices by amending the State Constitution. One bill, SB 2797, would increase the retirement age from 70 to 80; and the other, SB 995, would eliminate the retirement age for judges completely. As an older legislator, I believe any form of age discrimination is wrong and should be prevented, but in this particular case, having a retirement age is reasonable when important factors are considered. Of course, there must be legitimate reasons why almost all (49) states have mandatory retirement ages for judges. And in Hawaii, the current retirement age of 70 has been in effect since statehood and was reaffirmed in the 1978 constitutional convention.

"The main argument for having a retirement age is that there are no term limits for judges. Once a judge, or justice, is appointed to the bench, he or she can serve indefinitely. Having a retirement age serves as a term limit so that the other bright attorneys have an opportunity to be appointed through vacancies. As the Attorney General said in his testimony to the Legislature, "Regular turnover invigorates the judiciary by bringing fresh ideas and greater diversity to the bench." This goal would be greatly hindered if we eliminated the retirement age requirement. It would also impact morale, as well as upward mobility for younger judges.

"Furthermore, if this law were passed, it should not apply to the judges who are currently serving on the bench. When these judges, or justices, took their seats, they did so knowing they could retire at age 70. Passing such a retroactive law now raises red flags that there might be a hidden agenda to keep certain judges on the bench – certain liberal judges. If Governor Linda Lingle is reelected in November as predicted, she will have the opportunity to appoint 12 judges and 1 justice by the end of her second term in 2010. A total of 13 judges will be hitting the retirement age of 70 and opening up vacancies for other hopeful attorneys. Passing a retroactive law would prevent these positions from opening up, and restrict the Governor from making any appointments. Applying this law to judges who are currently on the bench would be a purely political move.

"And politics should not be an issue. Governor Lingle has already appointed judges during her time, and her selections were anything but political. Her first appointment, in 2003, was that of former Democrat federal court nominee James Duffy. Both Republicans and Democrats were happy with the Governor's selection for the state Supreme Court position. Governor Lingle made a non-partisan pick in the best interest of the Court, which needed, at the time, a candidate who could help unify sometimes-fractious justices. Before Duffy's nomination, Democrat lawmakers believed there was little chance Duffy would be appointed because he was too politically aligned with the Democrats. But Governor Lingle, in true bipartisan spirit, appointed Duffy because he would bring "a good demeanor to the court."

"In 2005, Governor Lingle appointed another judge, former Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Randal Lee, to the Circuit Court on Oahu. Both Democrats and Republicans described Lee as a fair and honest man, who was good choice for the seat. Lee had been the City's top white-collar crime prosecutor, had conducted the investigation on former Mayor Jeremy Harris for campaign spending law violations, and also prosecuted Michael Kahapea in the Ewa Villages case. Lingle's selection of Lee was not a political one, but instead based on Lee's extensive experience, both as a prosecuting attorney and as a public defender, and his broad understanding of the judicial system.

"Looking at Governor Lingle's track record, it is safe to assume that she will make fair and impartial decisions when it comes to appointing judges as seats open up during her tenure. So let's keep the mandatory retirement age, in the spirit of rotation and fresh ideas, and trust our Governor to select candidates who uphold the values of all of us. After all, we elected her to make these decisions."

Representative Moses rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am also in opposition. We heard testimony that this would just be discrimination, if we require mandatory retirement ages, but I think there are mandatory retirement ages throughout the United States for certain occupations. I mean military, police, fire come to mind. You could say those require physical abilities that might deteriorate with age. Of course, our elders are more able to maintain their mental abilities now than ever before, but still there could be limits placed. So it's not just a matter of saying you cannot discriminate based on age totally, because that's not true.

"I think that normally applies to hiring, not requiring a certain ability or whatever upon asking for retirement. So I think that's just a bogus excuse. The real purpose behind this is well-known, and it's well understood. It never was thought of before, during all the previous administrations. It's only now, and that just smells."

Representative Caldwell rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker. In strong support, Mr. Speaker. We heard some testimony about what this bill supposedly does, and I wanted to just bring some reality to it. Right now Mr. Speaker, to become a judge in our State court system, you're selected by the Judicial Selection Commission. And from that list the Governor picks someone who is then confirmed by the Senate. After ten years, you're reviewed and if you are found qualified by the Judicial Selection Commission, you can continue to serve.

"So it's not an indefinite service forever. And at the age of 70, you retire. We were told when we heard this bill by the AARP and others that it was discriminatory. And it was pointed out that for example, the federal court system that we operate under, out here in Hawaii and throughout the United States, there is no mandatory retirement age, nor is there a retirement age in the United States Supreme Court. Both those systems work very well. We have very wise jurist who have given incredible decisions through the 250 some-odd years that our countries been around.

"I think what we're proposing here actually addresses the concerns raised because it does not do away with the ten year requirement that they reevaluate whether you will continue to serve. So if someone is of an age where they feel they no longer should serve, the Judicial Selection Commission can make that determination. So it's a good amendment, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Hale rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am very much in support of this. I do believe that it is discrimination. I know that I came in, in 1998 at age 82, and maybe I have some conflict on this, but at every election, the people have put me back so far even though I'm way over 70. So I really cannot support any opposition to this because I think it is really discrimination. It's going to be up to the people to decide whether or not this is right, so I support it very strongly. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 995, SD 1, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT PROPOSING AN AMENDMENT

TO ARTICLE VI, SECTION 3, OF THE HAWAII CONSTITUTION TO REMOVE THE MANDATORY RETIREMENT AGE FOR STATE JUSTICES AND JUDGES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 38 ayes to 9 noes, with Representatives Evans, Finnegan, Halford, Meyer, Moses, Pine, Stevens, Stonebraker and Thielen voting no, and with Representatives Cabanilla, Herkes, Morita and Tanaka being excused.

S.B. No. 995, SD 1, HD 1, passed Third Reading in the following form:

S.B. No. 995, SD 1, HD 1

A BILL FOR AN ACT PROPOSING AN AMENDMENT TO ARTICLE VI, SECTION 3, OF THE HAWAII CONSTITUTION TO REMOVE THE MANDATORY RETIREMENT AGE FOR STATE JUSTICES AND JUDGES.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF HAWAII:

SECTION 1. The legislature finds that in today's society, individuals are living longer, healthier lives, as evidenced by the growing number of older individuals throughout the country as well as the world. The legislature further finds that a benefit of our aging society is the wisdom, experience, and skills that these older individuals possess, which should be both valued and respected, particularly in the workforce.

The legislature determines that the antiquated notion that all individuals are no longer mentally or physically fit to be contributing members of the workforce once they reach a certain age must be abolished. This point is particularly striking when examining the age restriction placed upon Hawaii's justices and judges, who are highly educated individuals who have served as learned members of the bar and now the bench. The wealth of knowledge and experience in interpreting Hawaii's laws that is retained by these individuals is invaluable to the residents of Hawaii.

SECTION 2. The purpose of this Act is to propose an amendment to article VI, section 3, of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii to repeal the mandatory retirement age of seventy for all state court justices and judges.

SECTION 3. Article VI, section 3, of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii is amended to read as follows:

"APPOINTMENT OF JUSTICES AND JUDGES

Section 3. The governor, with the consent of the senate, shall fill a vacancy in the office of the chief justice, supreme court, intermediate appellate court and circuit courts, by appointing a person from a list of not less than four, and not more than six, nominees for the vacancy, presented to the governor by the judicial selection commission.

If the governor fails to make any appointment within thirty days of presentation, or within ten days of the senate's rejection of any previous appointment, the appointment shall be made by the judicial selection commission from the list with the consent of the senate. If the senate fails to reject any appointment within thirty days thereof, it shall be deemed to have given its consent to ~~[such]~~ the appointment. If the senate ~~[shall reject]~~ rejects any appointment, the governor shall make another appointment from the list within ten days thereof. The same appointment and consent procedure shall be followed until a valid appointment has been made, or failing this, the commission shall make the appointment from the list, without senate consent.

The chief justice, with the consent of the senate, shall fill a vacancy in the district courts by appointing a person from a list of not less than six nominees for the vacancy presented by the judicial commission. If the chief justice fails to make the appointment within thirty days of presentation, or within ten days of the senate's rejection of any previous appointment, the appointment shall be made by the judicial selection commission from the list with the consent of the senate. The senate must hold a public hearing and vote on each appointment within thirty days of any appointment. If the senate fails to do so, the nomination shall be returned to the commission and the commission shall make the appointment from the list without senate consent. The chief justice shall appoint per diem district court judges as provided by law.

QUALIFICATIONS FOR APPOINTMENT

Justices and judges shall be residents and citizens of the State and of the United States, and licensed to practice law by the supreme court. A justice of the supreme court, a judge of the intermediate appellate court and a judge of the circuit court shall have been so licensed for a period of not less than ten years preceding nomination. A judge of the district court shall have been so licensed for a period of not less than five years preceding nomination.

No justice or judge shall, during the term of office, engage in the practice of law, or run for or hold any other office or position of profit under the United States, the State or its political subdivisions.

TENURE; COMPENSATION; RETIREMENT

The term of office of justices and judges of the supreme court, intermediate appellate court and circuit courts shall be ten years. Judges of district courts shall hold office for the periods as provided by law. At least six months prior to the expiration of a justice's or judge's term of office, every justice and judge shall petition the judicial selection commission to be retained in office or shall inform the commission of an intention to retire. If the judicial selection commission determines that the justice or judge should be retained in office, the commission shall renew the term of office of ~~[such]~~ the justice or judge for the period provided by this section or by law.

There shall be a salary commission to review and recommend salaries for justices and judges of all state courts. Justices and judges shall have salaries as provided by law. Their compensation shall not be decreased during their respective terms of office, unless by general law applying to all salaried officers of the State. ~~[They shall be retired upon attaining the age of seventy years.]~~ They shall be included in any retirement law of the State."

SECTION 4. The question to be printed on the ballot shall be as follows:

"Shall the mandatory retirement age of seventy for all state court justices and judges be repealed?"

SECTION 5. Constitutional material to be repealed is bracketed and stricken. New constitutional material is underscored.

SECTION 6. This amendment shall take effect on July 1, 2020, upon compliance with article XVII, section 3, of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2487, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Harbin, rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I will be voting no on this matter. As I have expressed in the past, the idea with the uproar that we had from the community, is the lack of community input into who is sitting on the Authority. All this does is it adds the ability for two more individuals, the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House, to have unilateral appointment to the Authority, thereby creating another 'us and them' situation, again without the community, the people who are truly impacted. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2487, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HAWAII COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT AUTHORITY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 43 ayes to 4 noes, with Representatives Halford, Harbin, Meyer and Thielen voting no, and with Representatives Cabanilla, Herkes, Morita and Tanaka being excused.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1472-06) recommending that S.B. No. 2617, SD 2, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2617, SD 2, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. This bill basically does not allow the DHS to exercise some of the flexibility that they need in order to expend the TANF funds. And one of the concerns that I have, or one of the notes that I have here is basically, being on the Health and Human Services Committee, Jack Tweety, the Legislature's National TANF Consultant, provided comments that included, but were not limited to, recommendations that the Legislature not pass a law that specifies dollar amounts or percentages of TANF funds that should be expended on specific purposes or types of services, with the exception of the transfer authorized by federal law to CCDF and the SSBG. Instead he commented that the Legislature identify outcomes and require DHS to report on the achieving of these outcomes with TANF funds.

"And when I look at the bill, it does not do that. It goes against his recommendation, Mr. Speaker. So what I would like to also talk about is that in regards to that flexibility, the Legislature didn't take a look at some of the spending that is already happened within the flexibility of DHS, the current programs that they're funding. And I'm afraid that some of those current programs could be cut because of the way the bill is written. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Finnegan be entered in the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Moses rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Just briefly, I have some concerns Mr. Speaker, on the measure. I will vote with reservations. DHS is required to establish outcomes as it is now, but after looking at this measure, it appears that the outcomes will become attributable to the Legislature instead of DHS. I guess that means that the Legislature will be liable then for any good or bad outcomes. DHS was adamant in that the bill reduces their flexibility, so again, we are managing what DHS is doing and not DHS. Thank you."

Representative Pine rose in support of the measure with reservations, and asked that the remarks of Representative Finnegan be entered in the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Sonson rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am just standing up in support of the TANF measure, SB 2617, SD 2, HD 1. I'd just like to make a couple of clarifications. We have passed in our biennium budget certain provisos regarding the TANF funds. As you know Mr. Speaker, we received about $98 million a year in federal funds, and we put about $70 million in general funds into this TANF program.

"What we did in the budget is that we ensured that the reserves that we have, which are currently at $113 million as of the end of the federal fiscal year or September 30th, I believe, for '05, $113 million. What the provisos did is ensure that out of the current funds, out of '05-'06, $35 million will not be spent on any programs, and that will go to the reserves. But at the same time, the reserves of $113 million, which can only be used for assistance, we capped it at $45 million, which means that $45 million will be taken out by the Department in order to fund assistance in '05-'06, which they have done. So essentially what we've done is made sure that it's reduced by $10 million per year.

"What happened in interim Mr. Speaker, is that now there was an over abundance of RFPs that went out and those contracts have been signed, that will spend the $35 million out of the current funds. This means, now the Department is asking this Body to release them from the proviso. Meaning, let them spend the $35 million out of the $98 million current funds. If that was done Mr. Speaker, what will eventually happen is that there will be a $45 million reduction in the reserves. In 2 years, that will be $90 million. So also in 2 years, we will only have $25 million in the reserves. The agreement or the agreed upon amount of money that should be in the reserves is around $40 million. So that will not work, Mr. Speaker.

"Now in addition to that, if we fund for two years, $45 million worth of programs that's being contemplated here by the Department, then after the reserve money is gone, what do we do? That means that we know have to find general funds, approximately $45 million, to satisfy this need that's been developed in the community. This bill Mr. Speaker, is a work in progress, but what we're trying to do is work with all the affected parties. We worked with the Department. We worked with the providers that are out there waiting for their funding for the programs in their contracts have been established. To try to ease this reduction in the reserves so it's not so drastic. So in two years, when there is no money in the reserves, it will not be such a drastic demand out there that we cannot meet with general funds. So this is a work in progress."

Representative Finnegan rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, still in opposition. Just a couple of things. Last year we passed out a bill that recommended that the Legislature go out to the community to take a look at TANF spending, and we did not follow through on that. However, DHS did and thanks to the good work of our Chairperson of the Human Services Committee, he did go along and sent representatives to participate in those meetings. The Department of Human Services is really trying their best to get out there in the community to find out what their needs are, and that is what is reflected in some of these RFPs that are going out.

"So it has a lot of community input. And on top of that, it's what we requested of ourselves that DHS did on their own, and I think that there is a lot of money in reserves and across the nation. Most Legislatures are looking at ways that we can spend that money flexibly, instead of looking at ways of how to keep it, especially when there are needs out there that can help with prevention. That's what the flexible dollars are for. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2617, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TEMPORARY ASSISTANCE FOR NEEDY FAMILIES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 44 ayes to 3 noes, with Representatives Ching, Finnegan and Kahikina voting no, and with Representatives Cabanilla, Herkes, Morita and Tanaka being excused.

On motion by Representative M. Oshiro, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2753, SD 1, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING AN APPROPRIATION FOR THE OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE OF THE EAST KAUAI IRRIGATION SYSTEM," passed Third Reading by a vote of 47 ayes, with Representatives Cabanilla, Herkes, Morita and Tanaka being excused.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1474-06) recommending that S.B. No. 2773, SD 3, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2773, SD 3, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Magaoay rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Magaoay's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in strong support of Senate Bill 2773, SD1, HD2

"Mr. Speaker, I believe that the passage of SB2773, SD1, HD2, will support some of the significant adverse effects due to the recent announcement of pending closure of Del Monte Fresh Produce. Currently, many employees, retirees, and their families live in plantation homes owned by the company at the Kunia and Poamoho camps. With the closure of Del Monte Fresh Produce, many of these families face the possibility of losing their homes.

"SB2773, SD1, HD2, will allow the above-mentioned parties to conduct joint efforts to assess and take action on housing issues and other concerns in this closure of Del Monte Fresh Produce.

"This measure would allow for establishment of supportive services such as low interest loan or grant programs for the acquisition, rehabilitation, or reconstruction of homes in the Kunia and Poamoho camps for the pineapple workers or retirees displaced by this recent closure.

"I grew up in the Mill Camp of the Waialua sugar plantation in the 1950s and '60s. Plantation camps were once a way of life that so many of Hawaii's rich cultural traditions were preserved, shared and then passed on through the generations. There was a sense of kinship, love, trust, gratitude, ethnic tolerance and pride shared among those who lived with in the camps. These are the values that make Hawaii a truly great state, and they were forged in the sugar and pineapple plantation camps. It is ironic that as we celebrate the 100th anniversary of Filipino immigration to Hawaii, we say good-bye to the plantation era that promised them a good life so many years ago. For me the loss of the way of life is as important as the end of an industry.

"We now have a serious obligation to help the workers transition to another life. We also have a responsibility to remember the plantation camps with gratitude for the values they instilled to generations of Hawaii's people.

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, and I ask my colleagues to support me on this bill. Malama Pono."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2773, SD 3, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HOUSING," passed Third Reading by a vote of 47 ayes, with Representatives Cabanilla, Herkes, Morita and Tanaka being excused.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1475-06) recommending that S.B. No. 2901, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative M. Oshiro, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2901, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HIGHWAY IMPACT FEES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 47 ayes, with Representatives Cabanilla, Herkes, Morita and Tanaka being excused.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1476-06) recommending that S.B. No. 3003, SD 2, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 3003, SD 2, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Moses rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. As was previously mentioned, many of these are works in progress so I will vote with reservations and make my comments known to the Body.

"First the pros. The bill establishes a wrap-around benefit for the Part D prescription plan designed to help fill Part D coverage gaps. Passage of the legislation will help seniors better afford their Medicare Part D insurance. That's good.

"But then we have some comments from the Attorney General. Under this current draft of the bill, if only one of those Medicare prescription drug plans provides a full coverage prescription drug benefit, then SPAP will not be available to those persons enrolled in Medicare prescription drug plans that provide less than full coverage.

"And the bill creates an additional obligation on the part of DHS to understand all aspects of all Hawaii Medicare prescription drug plans and to make recommendations to individuals on which of those plans that are most beneficial. The choice of the best plan may not be clear, particularly since the best plan for any particular individual can change from month to month as the individual's health care needs change. This could result in claims by enrollees against the DHS who are dissatisfied with their Medicare Prescription Drug Plans selected with DHS's advice. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 3003, SD 2, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE STATE PHARMACY ASSISTANCE PROGRAM.," passed Third Reading by a vote of 47 ayes, with Representatives Cabanilla, Herkes, Morita and Tanaka being excused.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1477-06) recommending that S.B. No. 3037, SD 2, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 3037, SD 2, HD 2, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising to speak against this measure. Thank you. Mr. Speaker, this bill would provide money to those people that suffered some damage in the Manoa flood a few years ago. Mr. Speaker, I can understand the Representative from that area wanting those people to be able to get some funds to help cover those damages.

"The concern I have is that the losses statewide are much more massive, from flooding that we have recently experienced. I'd like to just quote from the Star-Bulletin article that appeared on Wednesday just very briefly. "Homeowners throughout this State who suffered property damage or had to relocate because of the recent deluge of rain and flooding would be able to recoup up to 10% of their expenses in the form of a tax credit under a bill advancing in the Legislature." The article goes on to say that the proposal was originally aimed just at the victims of the 2004 Manoa floods, but it's been expanded.

"That's the way we should go, Mr. Speaker. We should make a bill, or pass a bill through that much more broadly compensates homeowners that have suffered from flooding damage. I think I mentioned briefly to you all before that where I previously lived, I went through two floods with water and mud up to two and a half feet in depth, and it was pretty devastating. No flood insurance. It just was really a problem. But anyway, the concern I have is this is just very special interest legislation, when we should be looking at a much more broader solution. The other bill with the tax credit for all flood victims is better.

"The other problem I have with this is, there's no means test whatsoever. So homes in Manoa, I doubt that they are under the average home price, which I believe is 600-and some odd thousand dollars now. I will imagine with a Manoa address and the proximity to downtown work places, those homes can be squeaking up to being a million dollars. We aren't saying there should be a means test for the money we would be giving to these people, and I don't think that's a good idea either. Thank you."

Representative Berg rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With all due respect, I rise in opposition to this bill. Thank you. With all due respect to my colleague who is looking out for his community, in the recent torrential rainfall that we had in the past few weeks. I have three 'ili: Aina Haina, Niu Valley, and Kuliouou, where residents are suffering from the same sort of situation, so I respectfully request too, that when this goes to Conference that we look at a broader conversation. Thank you."

Representative Harbin rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise with a very strong no on this measure. It gets very, policy wise, very difficult for me to support something that is so specific to an area. I think that we need in the State of Hawaii need to really, or the leaders in the Legislature, especially the introducer of this bill, the great Senator from Manoa, that we realize that these type of damages are a State issue, not a district issue. And we need to look at this from the bigger picture and make sure that we spread our resources over all of our people, not just a specific area where it's who you know, and who you are. Thank you."

Representative Caldwell rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, just brief comments in support. I think some of the concerns raised are very valid, and it's actually good to see that in the Senate there are vehicles moving. The Governor has now gotten on board and supports some form of tax relief. I just want to explain to all the Members, the reason why it generated first in Manoa is that Senator Taniguchi and myself saw that over the past year and a half, there was so much that government does for infrastructure, but very little that they can do for individuals who are impacted. So you have situations, and this is true throughout Hawaii, you have many seniors who live in homes that are well above $650,000, the average price for a home, but on a fixed income. And they're struggling to find the money to buy a new mattress, to buy carpets, to do those kinds of things, and they're looking for some type of assistance.

"$10,000, which is the amount they would get. It won't make them whole, but it tells them that somehow that government wants to try and help. The concern about income is a valid one, and therefore the Water, Land Committee very wisely did put a requirement of $75,000 income limit so it would not help those above that.

"It perhaps needs more tweaking, and I think this bill can be looked at as it goes into Conference, as a way to make sure that it's done correctly if its expanded across the State. That there is a means test. That there is no double-dipping. And I think that in the end we're going to see a bill that will come out that will be clean and benefit all the citizens for our State that have been affected by the flooding. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I'm sorry. Can I register a vote with strong reservations, and just a couple of brief comments? One of the reasons, and I'm not going no. I'm going with reservations. One, is there's a defective date on it so I know its going to Conference, but I want to point out what disturbs me is that the title is saying, Relating to the Relief of Manoa Flood Victims. What I'm hoping is that there are other vehicles on flooding in the State. This is really good to have a discussion about how people are impacted over the short-term and long-term regarding flooding, but in the end, that this particular bill does not survive. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure with reservations, and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Although a federal program under FEMA provides for individual assistance to disaster victims, the State did not meet the minimum criteria to be eligible for that program during the recovery period of the Manoa Flood Disaster of October 30, 2004. Therefore, many victims who did not possess flood insurance personally absorbed all of their property loss. A number of these victims are the elderly on fixed incomes.

"However, consideration should be given to appropriating the funds and administering the aid based on the need for reimbursement rather than handing out a flat tax credit for each flood victim."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 3037, SD 2, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO RELIEF OF MANOA FLOOD VICTIMS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 41 ayes to 6 noes, with Representatives Berg, Hale, Harbin, Kahikina, Meyer and Thielen voting no, and with Representatives Cabanilla, Herkes, Morita and Tanaka being excused.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1478-06) recommending that S.B. No. 3054, SD 2, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative M. Oshiro, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 3054, SD 2, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CHARTER SCHOOLS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 47 ayes, with Representatives Cabanilla, Herkes, Morita and Tanaka being excused.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1479-06) recommending that S.B. No. 3072, SD 1, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative M. Oshiro, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 3072, SD 1, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MOTOR VEHICLE INSURANCE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 47 ayes, with Representatives Cabanilla, Herkes, Morita and Tanaka being excused.

Representative Takamine, for the Committee on Finance presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1480-06) recommending that S.B. No. 3084, SD 2, HD 2, as amended in HD 3, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 3084, SD 2, HD 3, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Evans rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"On 1480, I want to stand up with a no on this one. The biggest problem I have with this is really giving the Chairman and the Board of Land and Natural Resources so much power. I know that it's subject to review by the Attorney General, and the Board has to go back and they confirm it, but the experience, at least as long as I've been here at the Legislature, is that the Chair of the Board of Land and Natural Resources has an awful lot of power. I just see this as extending that to him, and at this time, I would not agree with that. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. Representative B. Oshiro rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker. On Stand. Com. Report 1481, I'd like to ask for a ruling on a potential of conflict of interest. My firm does work that has involved the litigation involving substitute teachers, but I don't work on that case," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Evans rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"I wanted to speak on, if it's all right, I'll speak on 1483. I'm going to be registering a no vote. This is the bill that keeps coming back to the Legislature on child restraints, and the problem I have with this is we have a lot of families that are poor, or they have a lot of children. And until the State steps up to the plate and actually pays and can provide these families with passenger restraint seats, I think we set up a lot of our families to break the law. I have a problem with that."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. SECTION 2. Senate Bill No. 2213, Senate Draft 2, House Draft 2, is further amended by adding a new Part II, to read as follows:

"PART II

SECTION 2. Chapter 671, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is amended by adding five new sections to be appropriately designated and to read as follows:

"§671-A Limitation on noneconomic damages. Notwithstanding section 663-8.7, noneconomic damages as defined in section 663-8.5 shall be limited in medical tort actions against obstetricians, obstetrician gynecologists, and trauma care providers, to a maximum award of $500,000.

"§671-B Attorney's fees. (a) An attorney shall not contract for or collect a contingency fee for representing any person seeking damages in connection with an action for a medical tort in excess of the following limits:

(1) Forty per cent of the first $50,000 recovered;

(2) Thirty-three and one-third per cent of the next $50,000 recovered;

- (3) Twenty-five per cent of the next $500,000 recovered; and
- (4) Fifteen per cent of any amount recovered which exceeds $600,000.

The limitations shall apply regardless of whether the recovery is by settlement, arbitration, or judgment, or whether the person for whom the recovery is made is a responsible adult, an infant, or a person of unsound mind.

(b) If periodic payments are awarded to the plaintiff pursuant to section 671-E, the court shall place a total value on these payments based upon the projected life expectancy of the plaintiff and include this amount in computing the total award from which attorney's fees are calculated under this section.

(c) For the purposes of this section, "recovered" means the net sum recovered after deducting any disbursements or costs incurred in connection with prosecution or settlement of the claim. Costs of medical care incurred by the plaintiff and the attorney's office overhead costs or charges are not deductible disbursements or costs for such purpose.

§671-C Assessing percentage of negligence. Upon request of any nonsettling healthcare provider against whom a plaintiff alleges a medical tort-causing injury, the trier of fact shall consider, in assessing any percentage of negligence or other fault, the negligence or other fault of all alleged parties, including the negligence or other fault of any person or entity who has entered into a settlement with the plaintiff for the claimed damages, even when the settlement has been determined to have been made in good faith, pursuant to section 663-15.5.

§671-D Proportionate allocation of economic damages. The amount of economic damages allocated to a healthcare provider in a medical tort action shall be based upon the healthcare provider's proportionate percentage of negligence or other fault.

§671-E Noneconomic damages. (a) If the trier of fact renders a verdict for the plaintiff in a medical tort action, the court shall enter judgment of liability against each defendant healthcare provider in accordance with the percentage of negligence or other fault for compensatory damages that is attributed to the healthcare provider by the trier of fact.

(b) Joint and several liability shall apply if a healthcare provider's degree of negligence is found to be twenty-five per cent or more under section 671-C.

(c) Where a medical care provider's degree of negligence is less than twenty-five per cent, then the amount recoverable against that medical care provider for noneconomic damages shall be in direct proportion to the degree of the negligence assigned.

(d) Judgment shall not be entered against any healthcare provider who has not been named a party or has been released, dismissed, or otherwise discharged as a party pursuant to section 663-15.5."

SECTION 3. Section 663-11, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is amended to read as follows:

"§663-11 Joint tortfeasors defined. For the purpose of this part [the term], "joint tortfeasors" means two or more persons jointly or severally liable in tort for the same injury to person or property, whether or not judgment has been recovered against all or some of them[-], except as provided for healthcare providers in chapter 671."

be reenacted in the form in which they read on the day before the effective date of this Act."

Representative Finnegan moved that Floor Amendment No. 1 be adopted, seconded by Representative Ching.

Representative Finnegan rose to speak in support of the proposed amendment, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support. Thank you. This amendment adds the full contents of S.B. 3279, SD 2, HD 1, a very good bill that address medical malpractice tort reform, but only in two areas: obstetrics and trauma care. This amendment as S.B. 3279, SD 2, HD 1, passed out of the Health Committee and the Consumer Protection Committee.

"Mr. Speaker, this amendment is extremely important to access to healthcare. There's a crisis in obstetrics, especially on our Neighbor Islands. Something must be done. Medical malpractice insurance is so expensive, obstetricians are deciding not to deliver babies and they are leaving rural areas. Doctors are practicing quote unquote defensive medicine; using extra tests and referrals to prevent negligence claims, contributing to escalating costs of healthcare.

"We all know the statistics and the arguments because we passed this earlier. And Mr. Speaker, at the appropriate time I would like to call for a roll call vote," and the Chair "so ordered."

At this time, Representative Finnegan requested a roll call vote at the appropriate time.

Representative B. Oshiro rose to speak in opposition to the proposed amendment, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to this amendment. Very briefly, I'd just like to state that actually this amendment doesn't really just limit itself to obstetricians and gynecologist and trauma care providers because if you actually look at the rest of the bill, it's actually changing the way in which recovery from medical malpractice happens. It does that through changes to the joint and severable liabilities statute. And that actually has to do with the ability of a patient to collect what may be a judgment or settlement that some jury has rightfully entitled them to. This is changing it for all medical malpractice.

"But moreover, what is concerning is the change in definition to healthcare provider found on page 9. It changes it not only to medical physicians, but it changes it to a whole laundry list of people including chiropractors, marriage and family therapists, radiological technologists, speech pathologists, and audiologists. All of these people who will now come under Chapter 671. And for people that don't know what Chapter 671 is, that's our medical torts chapter.

"But first and foremost, before any claim can be brought into court, it needs to go through what's called the MCCP, the Medical Claims Conciliation Panel, under the DCCA. Now first if you do that, what they need to do is provide a report that says yes, this is something that we can move on through the process. But if the factfinder at the DCCA finds that this is a frivolous claim, that the claim has no merit, it cannot move forward. That's it. Too bad. You're out of luck. It doesn't go on into the court system.

"So first and foremost, we have to remember that these cases are not frivolous. These are cases that a lawyer and a physician sitting on this Board have deemed to be meritorious enough to go on through the process. Now the problem we have here is this will not only expand it to, as I said, medical providers. This will expand it to a whole laundry list of people. And what will happen is, and I know because my firm does some of this work, we will have a huge backlog when it comes to the MCCP. And people that need to go to court, people that need relief, people that need redress, will not get that type of redress for years and years and years, and that's the problem with the bill as its currently drafted.

"What we've done, maybe perhaps in looking to protect some certain physicians, is we actually impacted patient care in the entire industry, and that's why I am opposed to this amendment."

Representative Luke rose to speak in opposition to the proposed amendment, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. I just wanted to address the medical malpractice insurance. What this bill does is it actually takes away the recovery from patients, but at the same time provides no assurance that any savings from the insurance or as a result this bill will create, will be passed on to the doctors.

"If we really want to address medical malpractice insurance and the expense of the medical malpractice insurance, what we should be looking at is some type of provision that ties medical malpractice actions to a reduction in premiums. Otherwise how would we ever have any assurance that the premiums would hold down for doctors? What we're going to do is if we pass this amendment as is, we may be taking away some of the rights of patients, but at the same time we may never know if the premiums will go down unless there's some provision put in the law. Thank you."

Representative Moses rose to speak in support of the proposed amendment, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm in support of the amendment. Mr. Speaker, I'm very perplexed because I believe your Committee, the CPC Committee, passed this measure out. So I'm sure it got the proper scrutiny at that time and I'm just very surprised that now we're hearing these objections when we never heard them before on the floor. Thank you."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of the proposed amendment, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising in support of the amendment. I think that we could expect the malpractice insurance to go down because of the provision on page 5, the limitation on non-economic damages. It sets the maximum award at $500,000. I think that will be helpful.

"This is a problem we've all been well aware of for a long time. A couple of summers ago, we had meetings with doctors and people from the Department of Health because of the lack of obstetricians especially on the Neighbor Islands. I think Molokai now has no obstetricians. There are just midwives and expectant mothers have to be flown to Oahu. Also Kona which is a very fast-growing community, I might not have the facts right, but I think there's only one obstetrician that will take patients.

"So you know, we're at a very critical stage and that's what we're hoping to address with this amendment. Thank you. And Mr. Speaker, just want to say that at the appropriate time, I would like to have a roll call vote."

The Chair responded, stating:

"Yes, the Minority Leader made that request."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the proposed amendment, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Yes, Mr. Speaker, in opposition. Oh no, pardon me. In favor. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. You keep me on my toes. In favor of the amendment, Mr. Speaker. There is a provision too that I would ask Members to look at, and its on page 6. This would really help the injured party more. It caps attorney's fees, and I think when you take a look at some of the malpractice cases that have wound their way through the courts, sometimes you will find that actually the, I guess we might call them the injured party or whatever the terminology will be, ends up recouping very little money while the attorney's fees are quite massive and seem to keep this whole medical malpractice industry going.

"I think that it would be much better if we took this step and passed this measure. If there are a few things that need to be adjusted as it goes forward, there's certainly time. And if we take a look at the cap on attorney's fees, that would be the best thing we could do actually for the claimant. Then the claimant would have something to recover. Thank you."

Representative Halford rose to speak in support of the proposed amendment, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. I just want to point out that this amendment creates an HD 3 and will go to Conference. I'm saying that to acknowledge that some interesting points were brought up by the Majority Floor Leader and the Chair of Judiciary. Those worthwhile questions can be addressed in Conference. This bill would go to Conference in any case. Thank you."

Representative Harbin rose to speak in support of the proposed amendment, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this amendment. I have, since our particular language traveled from our Health Committee and our CPC Committee, I have stood here and encouraged this Body to really proceed with looking at this issue strongly. And the reason is, we have seen the report from the LRB and a report from Department of Health, the National Association of Orthopedics Surgeons, that say that our health care system, our trauma care system is broken. One of the three reasons is our problem with medical malpractice. And I as a member of this Caucus, begged and pleaded that we get the Judiciary hearing so that we can air the concerns that are being aired on the floor as we speak.

"This is a learning experience for me, but I don't have to learn to know that we have a problem. And running from this problem is not going to help our people, our injured people. And I believe it's about time that we bring the other stakeholders into this discussion, which are the attorney's fees. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose to speak in support of the proposed amendment, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support, and I'll be brief about it. The fact is, is that our doctors are leaving the field. Less and less people, bright people, are willing to get into the medical profession and this portends a very serious problem for our State and our people. Thank you."

Representative Hale rose to speak in opposition to the proposed amendment, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I will be against this amendment. I will be voting no. But on the other hand, I would like to point out I am very concerned about parts of it. Unfortunately it was when I finally got a chance to actually read the amendment. To me it is far too broad, and therefore if it had been limited to the first five pages, I could support it. But the way it is written now, I cannot. Thank you."

Representative Sonson rose to speak in opposition to the proposed amendment, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm standing in strong opposition to the floor amendment, Mr. Speaker. First off, I like to start by reading some numbers and mind you Mr. Speaker, these are raw numbers received by my office on March 29th, 2006 from DCCA. We requested for a report of the Insurance Commissioner on the kinds of numbers we're looking at, as far as medical malpractice premiums. It starts in year 2000 as to the amount of money that went into the system. Premiums written is about $24 million, and losses paid to claims is $10 million. In 2001, $24 million was earned in premiums by the insurance companies, and they paid $11 million. In 2002, $25 million in premiums, they paid out $15 million. In 2003, $26 million was collected in premiums, and $15 million was paid out in claims or losses. And Mr. Speaker, losses are not only claims. It covers losses in investments and cost of whatever else. In 2004 however, there was a change for one reason or another. There's $23 million in premiums and $26 in losses paid.

"But again Mr. Speaker, out of those five years, it seems that the insurance industry had suffered some losses, but it seems that the doctors had suffered a greater loss. That is, they paid too much in premiums. And why is that? We really cannot pinpoint it. There are studies upon studies on the subject. And at the national level, it's been said that malpractice insurance premiums is the greatest impediment to health care, to access their health care, specialized care from specialist. But we cannot get them to Molokai.

"You know Mr. Speaker, the conclusion of the General Accounting Office in response to Congress regarding this issue is that, look at the data, but don't listen to the hyperbole. People are using data from various sources, and these studies upon studies just shift the arguments to their side. What we're looking at in this bill is the way it's being framed, and that I really object to.

"It is really showing it as lawyers versus doctors. Now, we want doctors and we also want lawyers. There are good things in a lot of these professions. They're honorable professions, but we certainly don't want bad doctors to remain in the State of Hawaii. If the doctors commit negligence or even recklessness in the way they administer services to the patients: you, me, your parents, etc. The people we care about, the people who are faultless. The system we have in place allows recovery for those faultless people. In exchange for that, there is this negative implication that somehow we're going to get rid of that bad doctor, but is that really a bad thing? We think not.

"We should promote good practices in all professions, including doctors. In architects we demand the best. In lawyers we demand the best. In legislators we demand the best. And if there's a way that we can only weed out, besides the system we have in place, weed out these bad doctors, certainly this Legislature should support it.

"But you see Mr. Speaker, it saddens me that people are standing up and saying, 'You know, lawyers are making so much money, and lawyers should be capped.' But then we have to take a look at what kind of claims this is. This is not hourly rate. It is not like a lawyer contracts with the parents of a child that is laying in bed because his child is brain-dead for the rest of his life."

Representative Shimabukuro rose to yield her time, and the Chair, "so ordered."

Representative Sonson continued, stating:

"Thank you very much, Representative. It is not the case. The lawyer here is not contracting for a guaranteed fee. A lot of lawyers indeed never make any money out of their good work that they do, which is to represent claimants.

"There is a report, again from the DCCA, and they looked at the number of claims that were heard in our system, MCCC. 302 parties were heard, and 63 hearings were conducted. Now 12 of those, they found that their doctors were negligent. In 4 cases, it was not. So in those cases the lawyers just lost out. They spend a lot of money researching, they spent a lot of man-hours and they don't get anything. Now we believe in rewarding work, Mr. Speaker, but there is no reward for lawyers that go into the contingency fee arrangements with clients when they cannot collect the fee they contracted for. Again the claim that somehow they're making a lot of money is not true when you look at the numbers.

"The way that this bill is also drafted does not really help claimants, Mr. Speaker. Most of the cases are not huge. Most of the cases are indeed in the lower $100,000 or so. Although it cost about $100,000 or more to litigate the big, high profile cases such as the doctor that put a screwdriver part in the patient's leg. Or such as the doctor that somehow administered carbon dioxide instead of oxygen to this baby. Yes, it's a lot more expensive to do that because the insurance company, who eventually will pay for this will ensure that they have the best and brightest attorney, and that they are paid their hourly rate. Guaranteed money from the best attorneys in the State. And believe me Mr. Speaker, that's why the numbers are the way it is. A lot of them are getting away with it.

"There's no justice. If we have to err in administrating justice, Mr. Speaker, I think that the system fixes that. It allows for 12 people to look at the evidence. It does not look to the Legislature and say, 'Let's set an arbitrary number. Let's cap it at $500,000.' Whatever cap we put Mr. Speaker, it is arbitrary by definition. The best system is what we have in place. Let the person off the street who becomes a jury member, let that person along with 11 others decide who is at fault. And let those people who have firsthand look at the evidence and hear the evidence, let them decide what is appropriate. It is not for us to dis-establish a system that's been in place in our country for over 200 years.

"Mr. Speaker, we want doctors to stay, but I'm afraid that the data and data, and studies and studies, including the one done by LRB indicates that insurance premiums, malpractice tort reform, will have no impact on whether or not a doctor, a gynecologist, obstetrician won't live in Molokai, Ka'u, or any underserved area. It is merely a matter of economics. What have we done for doctors? We do for the medical profession, what we do for doctors. We subsidize them. There is a big subsidizing in the health care industry in the form of tobacco tax. We will ..."

The Chair addressed Representative Sonson, stating:

"Representative Sonson, with your passion you've gone on for almost 10 minutes. I'll give you 2 more minutes to summarize. Please continue."

Representative Sonson continued, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker and colleagues. You know, I probably could speak a lot longer, but I will not because I think we heard enough. And I think that we should continue the discussion, however Mr. Speaker, I would ask that future discussions will ensure that it's not framed, doctors against lawyers. Certainly these are not the folks we want to impact. People hate lawyers for one reason or another. I have no clue why.

"Even for us, Mr. Speaker, in my hometown, Waipahu, people come to me all the time and ask me for my help. And I'm there. And I'm sure that there are a lot of attorneys out there who continue to do good work. We deserve to make good money, big money or not. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Green rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, just a point of information. A couple points. Unfortunately, the medical mistake ... I'm rising on a point of clarification of a statement that was made. Just that it was a screwdriver in a gentleman's back."

At 2:28 o'clock p.m., Representative Takai requested a recess and the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 2:32 o'clock p.m.

Representative Green rose, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I made a procedural mistake. I'll reserve my vote for whenever it's proper."

Representative Ching rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising again in stronger support. Just wanted to make a few comments about this amendment and maybe some clarification for people who may not be exposed that much to what it takes to be a doctor, and what is the situation right now.

"There are a lot easier ways to make a living than dealing with gunshot wounds, exposure to AIDS, make your 4.0 ... There are other things that it takes to become a doctor and what we're saying right now is that there are mistakes that are made at times, but in no way does it mean that people, that the mistakes made are always completely the doctor, and that all doctors are bad doctors. Mistakes happen, and the fact is we do want to attract the best and the brightest.

"I think the only thing I can agree with, with the previous speaker is that there's no justice, but I tell you this is not, judging by results, judging by results, this is not the best system in place. Because if we don't have people interested in the medical field, and in my family's case, both my siblings qualified for medical school, passed the MCATS. After speaking with their uncles, they decided not to. If that continues, you're going to get less and less of a pool of medical students. Less and less doctors. And I think that the health and the welfare of our people comes before the concerns of how much contingency, whatever.

"Yes we want as high a standard as possible, but understanding how the medical system works makes them realize that it's much more complex than what has been expressed on the floor of this House. It's a very hard profession and I don't think all those people appreciate doctors. Thank you."

Representative Meyer rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm rising on a point of information. I would like you to make a ruling as to whether all the Representatives here that are lawyers have a conflict of interest? Or perhaps only those that are personal injury lawyers."

The Chair responded, stating:

"No conflict at this point, for all attorneys on the floor of this House."

The request for a roll call vote was put to vote by the Chair and upon a show of hands, the roll call was approved.

Roll call having been approved, the motion that Floor Amendment No. 1, amending S.B. No. 2213, SD 2, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TORT ACTIONS," be adopted, was put to vote by the Chair and failed to carry on the following show of Noes and Ayes:

Representative Moses rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise with some reservations on the measure. I hope maybe it can be fixed. The measure right now has some times that limit the purchase or sale of fireworks, and these are small things like sparklers and snakes, things like that. And one of the limitations is on New Year's Day. It stops at one minute after midnight on New Year's Day. You can no longer buy or sell these small fireworks.

"And the way I look at it, New Year's Day is a holiday. You might want to go with your kids to the park. Maybe you forgot to buy your sparklers or your snakes, and this would prohibit you from using them on New Year's Day. I suggest that this measure be amended in Committee, and that it be changed to 12 p.m. on New Year's Day versus 12 a.m., meaning New Year's morning. Thank you."

Representative Luke rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, just in support. The time limitation brought out by the Representative from Kapolei is actually the current law. This bill is at the recommendation of the Fire Council and the Hawaii County Fire Department. The current law, what this does is it's not touching the time at all. So what the practice currently is, is not being changed by this law. So if for instance the Representative of Kapolei wanted to do it now, he couldn't have done it anyway, because the time limitation is not part of this bill that has been touched. Thank you."

Representative Moses rose to respond, stating:

"Sorry Mr. Speaker, but I'm looking on page 8 of the bill, subsection c and it is underlined, which means it changed. So if that's underlined and it's a change, we can change it anyway we like. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand with reservations. S.B. 2667 would greatly assist the enforcement and regulation of the fireworks control law by clarifying firework terminology to be consistent with federal law.

"As public policymakers, it behooves us to be mindful of the power of the message legislation sends to the community. I believe we must give equal time in permissible uses of consumer fireworks to all holidays. This measure permits consumer fireworks, such as sparklers, to be set off, ignited, or otherwise caused to explode within the State for four hours in celebrating New Year's, eight hours for the Fourth of July, and twelve hours on the Chinese New Year. Fireworks should not be used to discriminate against or give preferential treatment to special groups and certain holidays. This bill, as currently drafted, is demeaning in its discrimination to the celebration of our country's birthday, which binds Hawaii to our fellow states and nation."

Representative B. Oshiro rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, very briefly in support. On page 6, section 4, is actually where we're talking about the use of fireworks. Page 8 is talking about the sale of fireworks. So that's where we're changing the law. Not in the use."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2667, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO FIREWORKS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 47 ayes, with Representatives Cabanilla, Herkes, Morita and Tanaka being excused.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Judiciary presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1492-06) recommending that S.B. No. 2687, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that S.B. No. 2687, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Waters rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Caldwell rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"With reservations also. And just explaining my vote. The article by Lee Cataluna talking about the parks being our parks, sways me that there's some need for some kind of law that deal with the homeless problem. But we also need to deal with the homeless problem, and that's finding them somewhere else to live. Thank you Mr. Speaker."

Representative Stevens rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise with some reservations on this bill. A couple quick comments. Thank you. Of course most of you have read about what happened down at Ala Moana Park with the homeless sweep that happened in the past couple weeks.

"I went down there and I observed that, and the problem had gotten pretty bad. I believe that the police do need all of the laws in order to move the homeless people out if it becomes a real problem. At Ala Moana, what did happen in that case was there were so many of the social service agencies and church groups that were there to assist the homeless in finding a place to go, as well as the City and County stepping in, the Mayor stepping in to provide them a temporary place to camp out if they wanted.

"It did bring the situation to the forefront. But if the police did not have the laws in place that allowed them to ask the homeless to leave, that it would have been very difficult. The situation in the park would have been that the park was taken over by the homeless people and our citizens would not have been able to use it as their own. So I just would like to caution my colleagues that we shouldn't really lessen the laws that the police need to in a case like this. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Pine rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Yes, just with strong reservations, Mr. Speaker. And if the homeless had a place to go, I would vote no on this measure, but I have been surprisingly educated this Session. Last year, I did vote on a similar measure that made it a misdemeanor, so it made it less worse than it was before. But I had a homeless family in my district and we found out that it would take them three years to get into public housing, and one year to get into the homeless shelter that's in my area, and so I have taken this family in because through the whole Session, I couldn't find a place for them. Not even a place for them to rent at $600.

"And so I can't in good conscience, while I want the parks for my family, I can't in good conscience vote for a measure if we ourselves are not giving an immediate alternative. But when we do give that alternative, I'd like to see the parks given back to the people. Thank you."

Representative Kahikina rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2687, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CRIMINAL TRESPASS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 43 ayes to 4 noes, with Representatives Ching, Finnegan, Meyer and Stonebraker voting no, and with Representatives Cabanilla, Herkes, Morita and Tanaka being excused.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Judiciary presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1493-06) recommending that S.B. No. 2762, SD 1, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative M. Oshiro, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2762, SD 1, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC HOUSING," passed Third Reading by a vote of 47 ayes, with Representatives Cabanilla, Herkes, Morita and Tanaka being excused.

On motion by Representative M. Oshiro, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 2986, SD 2, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EMINENT DOMAIN," passed Third Reading by a vote of 47 ayes, with Representatives Cabanilla, Herkes, Morita and Tanaka being excused.

At 2:47 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bills, passed Third Reading:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to these measures. Last Session I wasn't fortunate to be here, but believe me, I was out there watching as our gross excise tax got burdened upon our people of Oahu. This looks to me as another one of those potential exposures to our already over-strapped, over-taxed people of Oahu.

"We need to have better planning before we start marching ahead with setting policies, potential policies such as expanding mass transit or those types of expensive undertakings until the City and County themselves gets their act together and fixes things such as the sewers and so forth and so on. So I'm opposed to this. Thank you."

"Mr. Speaker. I would like to speak in briefly in support of these measures. 1539 and 1540, HR 182. The federal SAFETEA-LU legislation provides an excellent opportunity for our State to implement a comprehensive array of pedestrian and bicyclist safety measures. This Resolution encourages the DOT to hire a full-time coordinator to take on this task.

"All of the testimony was in support of this measure, but I would like to remind you and the Members of the pressing need to address the safety issues raised by the drop-off and pick-up of students. With the federal money available, Hawaii should proceed aggressively. Pedestrians and bicyclists of all ages need all the help we can muster. Walking and bicycling to school is also an excellent form of physical activity, but it must also be safe. Perhaps we should even test measures such as pedestrian crosswalk flags.

"I urge my colleagues to vote yes on this measure. Thank you."

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. On 1552 and 1553, I'm going to rise with reservations although my instinct is to say no. This has been a subject that has been bantered around, and bantered around, but I think, if we're going to keep on studying this issue, I think we should include in the title something that relates to the fact that we have development plans that are looking to move more of our planning into the Ewa Plains, and to continue to try to figure out how to get them back into town through these boondoggle type of means, I think it could possibly be just maybe a little waste of time as this has been looked at years and years and years over. Representative Evans rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Moses rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. At this time, I'm voting with reservations. Thank you Mr. Speaker. There are just so many unanswered questions. You know, we all agree, or at least most of us agree, that we need a racetrack for local racers, but this bill doesn't appear to provide that. It's for a world-class race track, bringing in mainland racers.

"But what was very interesting and disturbing was that when the person trying to get the tax credit, which is anywhere between $40 to $60 million, it depends on which version of the measure you look at, he was asked to provide his financial plan or his business plan. He wouldn't do that. He wouldn't tell us who the investors were. He also is supposed to be using that money to purchase some land in exchange for a parcel at Kalaeloa or Barber's Point. He wouldn't tell us the location of the land that he wishes to swap.

"And if we start looking at the parcel that's at Kalaeloa, it's at the intersection of runways so it's dangerous to aircraft. An argument could be made that, yah it's a general aviation airport there now, yes. Those are very small and light and slow-moving airplanes, but if we're going to have racers and spectators at the intersection runway which seems to me it would be very dangerous, especially if we have the airwing come in here from a carrier. Those are very fast movers and there would be distraction from lights, and there would be a lot of danger to the people at the racetrack.

"Let's look at another aspect of it. The land that is at that parcel is supposed to be swapped for land elsewhere. It's supposed to be swapped because right now it's owned by the Department of Hawaiian Homelands and we can't build homes on that parcel, so they want land elsewhere. Well the Department of Hawaiian Homelands not only yesterday, but again today, confirms that the person wanting that tax credit does not have site control.

"So you have all those things added up, and then when asked if this person wanting the tax credit would provide the dirt track, that's needed by about one-third of the local racers, he will not say, 'Yes.' He doesn't say, 'We'll try.' He just says that he cannot commit for the owners or the promoters. So when we ask who is that, so we can allow the racers that want that kind of track to at least talk to these folks and see if they work out a deal. 'No, can't be done.'

"With that and about 14,000 other questions I have, and let me put it this way. I'm not opposed to tax credits for worthy causes. I'm not opposed to a racetrack. We need a racetrack. I just need some answers before I can support this. Thank you."

Representative Takai rose, stating:

"Point of information. I'm a little bit confused. Was the previous speaker speaking with reservations, or against? Because at the very end he said that he can't support this."

The Chair responded, stating:

"He said he was with reservations at this point."

Representative Wakai rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Schatz rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, in opposition. As briefly as I can, it is not the government's job to subsidize racetracks. That's the first point to be made and it feels a little bit funny to say this on the House floor. It should be obvious to us all that it's not the government's job to subsidize racetracks.

"I just want to be clear about what this does. It's actually a 100% subsidy for the development of this racetrack. The tax credit shall be equal to the qualified investment made by the taxpayer and the project for any one or more years than the 6 consecutive years beginning after December 2004.

"So whatever they spend, they get money back from the government to build a racetrack. It's just a waste of money. Thank you."

Representative Berg rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Thielen rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Stevens rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition. Thank you. I do support a racetrack. I learned a lot about motor sports in the past couple of hearings, and especially last night when we had a tremendous amount of testimony about racetracks and motor sports. But one piece of testimony from the Department of Taxation really was interesting to me. They claim that this is not the best funding method for it. It did occur to me that just having one person applying for this tax credit where there may be other people, other entities that could provide and build a racetrack facility that could serve more of the racers on Oahu. I think they should be given an opportunity too. I do note that the bill doesn't limit it to this one person, but it seemed like he was the only one there and present to testify, so I'd like to vote no on this measure. Thank you."

Representative Chong rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, I rise with reservations. I have some concern regarding the tax implications and fiscal implications, but would like to see the discussion move forward. Thank you."

Representative Kahikina rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"With grave reservations."

Representative Meyer rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, with reservations. I just wanted to respond to something that was said about the government subsidizing a racetrack or a racing facility. Actually some of the other counties do provide racetracks on State land, and they are used for all kinds of racing venues. I do think a racetrack does have a public interest. There are many people that enjoy racing and it certainly would be safer on the streets if these people had a place to try their cars out, drag racing and wheel-to-wheel racing.

"I don't know that a tax credit is the way to go, but I think that the racing industry is a huge business. From the testimony heard last night in Finance, we are talking local folks who have been racing for years and years. This particular bill may not create the kind of racing facility that they want, but we, as a public policy body should not discount the fact that providing a place to race safely is in the public interest. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The Chair then addressed Representative Meyer, stating:

"So Representative Meyer, your position was a no vote? The Chair just wants to clarify your position."

Representative Meyer responded, stating:

"No, I'm with reservations. I'm sort of between a rock and a hard place because of the fact that we have closed down the only racing facility that we have."

Representative Ching rose in support of the measure with reservations, and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ching's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Tax credits should always be subject to scrutiny and debate, and should always determine whether the proposed activity is justified. However, tax credits have the ability to diversify, as well as stimulate the economy and give new industries opportunities. In considering new taxes, we must make sure local citizens benefit, and I would continue to support this measure only if that condition is met."

Representative Saiki rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 1734, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," passed Second Reading, and was placed on the calendar for Third Reading with Representatives Berg, Caldwell, Carroll, Evans, Finnegan, Hale, Saiki, Schatz, Shimabukuro, Stevens, Thielen and Wakai voting no, with Representatives Cabanilla, Herkes, Kanoho, Morita and Tanaka being excused.

Representative Caldwell's written remarks are as follows:

"When animals and pets are subject to cruel and inhumane treatment, we are grateful to public and private agencies that intervene, remove the animals from the abusive situation, and house and care for their recovery in a safe and healthy environment. In these cases, the cost for animal care and sheltering should rightly fall on the shoulders of the abuser. SB 2930 HD1 would make this happen. The bill would also revoke the abuser's ownership and custodial rights of the abused animal and any other animals in his or her possession. This is policy that would protect our animal population from further abuse by an already identified perpetrator."

Representative Meyer rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and S.B. No. 2930, SD 1, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CRUELTY TO ANIMALS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 45 ayes, with Representatives Cabanilla, Carroll, Hale, Herkes, Morita and Tanaka being excused.

Representative M. Oshiro moved that S.B. No. 2382, SD 2, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Moses rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you Mr. Speaker, I'm rising in opposition. I believe this is a tax increase bill Mr. Speaker, and I'll tell you why. We had an agreement with the Governor and the House and the Senate and the leaders of both houses that we the Legislature and the State would not collect the half percent surcharge. This bill basically says we're going to collect the half percent surcharge, so in my estimation it now becomes a State tax versus a county tax, so we just voted, with the passage of this measure, we're voting for a half a percent increase in the GET tax for the State.

"In addition, it basically sets up the mechanism for the Department of Taxation to start taxing Internet sales. That will be a giant increase in taxes on the people of the State of Hawaii. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and S.B. No. 2382, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 38 ayes to 7 noes, with Representatives Finnegan, Marumoto, Meyer, Moses, Pine, Stevens and Stonebraker voting no, and with Representatives Cabanilla, Carroll, Hale, Herkes, Morita and Tanaka being excused.

S.B. No. 2550, SD 2, HD 1:

Representative M. Oshiro moved that S.B. No. 2550, SD 2, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro.

Representative Harbin rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'm rising in opposition to this measure. Actually I have a couple of reasons, but what the first thing I'd really like to address is that the contents of this bill is to try to take Kakaako and put it back into the hands of the City and County of Honolulu. The City and County of Honolulu has consistently said through the process, as long as I've been here this year, that they don't want Kakaako back. They can't afford it. I think that perhaps the testifier that came out in support of this bill, perhaps maybe doesn't quite understand what happens when you turn something over to the City especially to a City as in disrepair as our City is.

"We have a valuable asset in Kakaako, a valuable economic asset and valuable land asset. And we have beautiful parks and beaches. The City can't even maintain and take care of the parks that they have in their possession now, much less that beautiful asset at Kakaako makai. The City, we're an international embarrassment because our beaches are contaminated because the City can't take care of their sewers. How can we take this asset and give it back to the City and County of Honolulu? So I think that perhaps maybe the businesses and the groups that supported this measure in Finance, perhaps maybe didn't quite understand that they were reacting a little too strongly.

"The other reason I'm in opposition to this is I'm very disappointed that as a member of Water, Land, Ocean, I didn't have a chance to hear this bill because for some strange reason, it went straight to Finance. And that's a process issue that I keep bringing up on this floor, that if we're going to play by certain rules, let's play them in general and continually, the same game. Thank you."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I spoke rather extensively on this the other day, and I believe so did Speaker Emeritus and I think for many of the same reasons. I can't say if he's still opposing it, and I hope he is, but I certainly am opposing this bill.

"Mr. Speaker, the City doesn't have the money to do the infrastructure. It seems as if the Legislature has overreacted to a situation that basically involves whether we should sell public lands on the makai side in Kakaako, and then all of a sudden it escalated into this huge thing and now we're saying we're going to carve out this one segment of Kakaako and turn it over to the City and County. Well the City and County can't even pick up our trash and our green waste on this island. They certainly don't have the funds to do the infrastructure, which means that we have a pod left in Kakaako that will flood and where roadways won't go through and be part of the redesign and envisioned district renewal project.

"The other thing I keep bringing up is the produce and the Whole Foods store that will buy the produce from our local farmers. And we want to be very careful that we don't do something that derails that. The City wouldn't be able to do that kind of action. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and S.B. No. 2550, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT," passed Third Reading by a vote of 36 ayes to 9 noes, with Representatives Finnegan, Harbin, Marumoto, Meyer, Moses, Nishimoto, Pine, Souki and Thielen voting no, and with Representatives Cabanilla, Carroll, Hale, Herkes, Morita and Tanaka being excused.

S.B. No. 3051, SD 2, HD 1:

On motion by Representative M. Oshiro, seconded by Representative B. Oshiro and carried, S.B. No. 3051, SD 2, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO COUNTY FISCAL ADMINISTRATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 45 ayes, with Representatives Cabanilla, Carroll, Hale, Herkes, Morita and Tanaka being excused.
