UNFINISHED BUSINESS

H.B. 1436, HD 1:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 1436, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I waited until the appropriate time, I hope. Mr. Speaker, I'm rising with reservations on this. I know it's Third Reading, but the Bill still has to go over to the Senate and be considered by them.

"A couple of things concern me. We are saying that we are opening up the agricultural district to educational facilities. The first thing I would think about there is, the wisdom of placing an educational facility in an agricultural district, where you're going to have some chemicals applied to the agricultural crops. So, what you're doing is putting students, really, in proximity to some substances that could cause some serious ramifications for the students.

"The other concern I have is, just because years ago I represented a client in a case involving the attempt to put a slaughter house near a residential project on Maui, and the concern is that if you're going to open this up to appurtenances that are handling livestock, then you could end up with some uses that maybe should go through a special permit process, instead of just being allowed as of right.

"And I would hope that the Senate would take a look at those concerns and consider it as they look at this bill. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support. Mr. Speaker, my apologies for failing your pop-quiz, because I was thinking about what I was going to say, anticipating that she was going to speak. A good excuse, right?"

"I was actually preoccupied, because this is a bill which hits very close to home in the farmlands of Hawaii Kai, where the Kamilo Nui Valley has nurseries. That is Kamehameha Schools Bishop Estate land, and they want to integrate some of their educational classes with that land, and to get them down on the farm, so it's not abstract classroom, but here's really nurseries, here's real coqui frog dangers, etc. And also, the Malama o Maunaloa Bay wants to show how the runoff from that valley really contributes to the pollution in Maunaloa Bay. So, Ag. and education can go hand in hand. And for the edification of my colleague, I hope she would take that to heart. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 1436, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO AGRICULTURE," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes, with Representatives Berg, Finnegan and Takai being excused.

Representative Ching rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition of Stand. Com. Rep. 665, Relating to Buildings. Thank you, very much. This bill seeks to completely repeal a law that was passed last year, which was passed through both Chambers, House and Senate, went up to the Fifth Floor, and was signed into law. And I think that the Founding Fathers, who created the process of the Legislature, understood that bills would be vetted and that everyone should have a chance to improve and hone bills. And occasionally, yes, like a little manini fish, somehow some mistake gets through a hole in the net. But that does not mean to me that, because a manini fish got through the hole in the net, that somehow it didn't work.

"It's a bill that had a reason why it was voted on and passed into law. Because it was some kind of an idea that said that, 'Maybe this might work. Maybe this might be important.' Because we're knocking down a ton of buildings that are actually, like the plate lunch, a unique part of Hawaii. Hawaii is so unique in the sense that it can blend many different diverse elements. It doesn't stop at food. It doesn't stop at music. And it doesn't stop in architecture. What happens with architecture in Hawaii, when nobody really notices, 'cause look old, so knock 'um down. It's old fashioned. Like any kind of art, it has a message. It reveals our history, and it reveals our heritage. And in unique cases, such as certain plantation homes, it is a unique blend, the hapa haole blend of Asian plus European, in the architecture.

"So, when people look at that, and you can explain it to a child, he's going to say, 'Wow, that's pretty cool.' It also expresses the graciousness of our time before, when you sat on your veranda and you looked out. These are ways to teach children.

"The thing is, we're knocking down buildings. Sometimes, they need to be knocked down. Go for it. What this bill initially intended, was merely to say, 'If the guy's dying, can we give him a funeral?' That's all we wanted. All the bill initially said was, take a photograph, and to go for it. So at least, later, we can recreate the building. It's not 'zippo,' gone forever. Like a person, gone forever. You never can learn from them again.

"So, what I'm just saying is that I understand. It was the intention, and it got a life of its own. It went on, and there were mistakes made. The implementation was not in accordance with what this House and the Senate passed. But do we 'throw the baby out with the bath water?' To me, that is no more rash than the rash implementation of the bill. So you're kind of like doing the same thing, and then you're saying, oh, somehow it made it through two houses, and it's a wrong bill.

"So, with all due respect, and I do respect very much the opponents of what's going on, and I empathize deeply. I know it has to be fixed. I cannot, in good conscience, vote in support."

Representative B. Oshiro rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative B. Oshiro's written remarks are as follows:

"In support of HB 520 HD1, which aims to modify Act 228 (2008) that was originally aimed at strengthening aspects of the State's Historic Preservation Office (SHPO) by requiring structures over fifty years old to be documented through archive quality photographs; the intent of this Act was consistent with best practices for historic preservation – and should be implemented in the future with the proper coordination with City and State officials.

"If our intention is to strengthen the State's current historic preservation practices then we should have a holistic approach and work to strengthen the State Historic Preservation Office both statutorily and financially.

"The introducers of this measure correctly identify the inability of City and State departments to effectively carry out the intent of Act 228. If we want real change as to how historic preservation protocol is carried out, then we need to adequately fund and staff the State Historic Preservation Office. This office is consistently underfunded, understaffed, and the support services to effectively carry out this office's mission are lacking (storage facilities, museum support, etc.).

"In the future, I hope that improving our State's Historic Preservation Office, and its mission, will include: adequate funding and staffing of the SHPO; improved research and conservation capabilities; appropriate recruiting of the SHPO director - requiring that the individual has some background in historic preservation; adoption and implementation of the International Existing Buildings Code (IEBC); convening a task force to identify ways to improve the Department's overall mission; and expanding the technological capabilities of the SHPO."

Representative Pine rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I just want to stand with support with reservations for this particular measure, Stand. Com. Rep. 671. Originally, this bill increased the minimum value of stolen property of services constituting theft in the second degree, from $300 to $1000. But now in the recent amendment, it leaves it blank, and so it's a little easier for me to vote with reservations. I think my concern is that in 2005, the Penal Code Review Committee fully considered to increase this. However, they rejected it, saying it was unnecessary.

"And, my second concern is that I think we should stop veering, as a Body, to be more lenient to criminals, and instead, have them serve their time, or pay the price for their criminal actions."

Representative Tokioka rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

According to the Humane Society of the United States, in a national ranking of dog fighting laws in the states and the District of Columbia, Hawaii ranked 50th in part, because it is one of two states with no penalties for paying admission or wagering on an organized dogfight or for breeding, selling or possessing dogs with the intent to fight them in a dogfight.

"The Michael Vick case sadly exposed the truth that no community is immune from dogfighting. Comprehensive laws, such as the contents contained in this measure, will properly equip Hawaii's law enforcement sector to successfully charge and convict those involved in dogfighting in Hawaii.

"Dogfighting is also associated with other crimes such as illegal gambling, drug distribution, and gang violence.

"Bait animals are also used, such as smaller dogs, cats, or even rabbits, to determine a dog's propensity to fight. These "bait animals" are also used in ring practice to sharpen the dogs killing skills for their matches.

"Dogs used in the actual dogfight are subject to extreme injuries and often die because of blood loss, dehydration, exhaustion, or infection hours or days after the fight."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. A 'no' vote, please, for me on this, and just a few comments. Thank you. Mr. Speaker, there is a process underway right now, where there is a comprehensive review of the Environmental Impact Statement procedures in the statutes. Some of us have been contacted for personal interviews by the group that's doing the comprehensive review.

"There is a process in place whereby the Department of Transportation or other entities can request an exemption. They have a list, in fact, of exemptions and should be able to refer to those to exempt certain things that will not have an environmental impact, or a cumulative impact. I don't think it's a good idea to step in the middle of this process and do a piecemeal fix. I don't think it's necessary at this point. Thank you."

Representative Morita rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support of the measure, and just some additional information regarding this bill. This bill really wouldn't be necessary if certain agencies were doing their job. But unfortunately, the Department of Transportation is not using its exemption list, and they're requiring projects to go through the Chapter 343 process unnecessarily. As a result, there's a backlog of over 400 construction projects, and at some point the Legislature has to step in, because this kind of situation, which is really unnecessary if the laws were interpreted properly, and the exemption list, which actually exists right now, was used as it should be.

"So, in order to clear up this backlog, unfortunately, the Legislature needs to step in. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 640, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACT STATEMENTS," passed Second Reading, and was placed on the calendar for Third Reading with Representative Thielen voting no, and with Representatives Berg, Finnegan and Takai being excused.

Representative Carroll rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Wooley rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Wooley's written remarks are as follows:

"This GMO-industry supported bill raises serious questions about regulation in the State of Hawaii that need to be addressed. However, our legislative response should not be a preemptive law that would eliminate nearly all county and State authority to regulate GMO.

"Currently, anyone can buy, grow, sell, or research GMO in Hawaii with very limited exception. In addition, GMO need not be labeled anywhere in the process. As a result, we actually have a lack of oversight, particularly as research has shown GMO can cross over and infiltrate crops on farms that are trying not to grow GMO and is associated with significant, but as yet unknown, human health risks. Also, many developed countries prohibit GMOs, which means we may jeopardize our ability to export crops in the future. My biggest concern is this bill, if law, would handcuff our State and county agencies and put our farmers and consumers at serious risk. Before moving forward with a GMO bill that would prohibit our State and county agencies from taking any regulatory action, we must make sure we have a system in place to protect our local economy and the health and safety of our people."

Representative Tsuji rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support. This is a very good bill. Thank you very much for your nodding in compliance. I believe that bio-technology will play an increasing and vital role for our future. We therefore need science. We depend upon science, but also we respect culture. And we need legal protection for genetic engineering for plant organisms, and their use is therefore necessary.

"This bill tries to address both sides. Science and technology, and also respecting culture and heritage. If carried out, and I believe in a responsible manner in compliance with federal requirements, genetic engineering will be conducted safely, without endangering public safety, and also disrupting our heritage and culture in Hawaii. Thank you, very much."

Representative Tokioka rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support, and may I ask that the words from the speaker from the Big Island be inserted as if they were my own? And I'd like to thank him for all the hard work he has done over the past year and a half on this measure. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Karamatsu rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Tsuji be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support with a brief comment. As we talk about a global economy, it's a genetically modified economy. For those of us who worked a lot in overseas development, literally 80 percent of the cornmeal and the corn-fed people of the world have genetically modified corn. There's no turning back, and I know there's precautions about it. Taro is exempted in this one. Wheat has, maybe, 10 or 20 percent already. With genetically modified rice, it's maybe a little bit less. But in order to feed the world, this has been a blessing, and not the curse that I think some people may be possibly mistaking it as being.

"It's science, it's a little more sophisticated than we can truly understand. But, it's something that's here, and it's something that I think we have to protect as we proceed. Thank you."

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Yes, Mr. Speaker. I want to speak in support of the bill. And I would like the remarks from the Chairman of Agriculture to be entered as my own. I just want to add that this is one of the best drafted bills that I've seen in a very long time. The language is very substantive, and it provides a balance for agriculture. Thank you, very much."

Representative B. Oshiro rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'd like a ruling on a potential conflict. At my law firm, I represent the Hawaii Crop Improvement Association, but nothing related to this bill. Thank you," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would like a vote with reservations, and a few remarks. Thank you. Mr. Speaker, I would ask Members to look at page 5 of this bill. The thing that is causing me trouble is found on lines 13 to 15. The bill states that in the establishment of boundaries for rural districts, the 'Land Use Commission shall include,' and then it goes on to this provision that I find to be troubling, 'low density, residential lots, and residential subdivisions on agricultural lands existing before January 1st, 2009.' This could go out and catch some of those developments, including the one on the Big Island that was such a controversy a couple of years ago. I think it deserves further analysis, and I think the bill could go forward without that provision. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1048, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO LAND USE," passed Second Reading, and was placed on the calendar for Third Reading with Representatives Berg, Finnegan and Takai being excused.

Mr. Speaker, first of all, I want to thank the Chairs of the Transportation and Judiciary Committees for hearing and passing out this measure, because I truly believe that this bill will, in fact, provide traffic relief for the residents of West Oahu and Central Oahu.

"Mr. Speaker, may I request permission to submit written comments into the Journal for my further comments? Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in strong support of Standing Committee Report No. 698, House Bill 866, House Draft 1, Relating to High Occupancy Vehicle Lanes. This bill would allow all motor vehicles, regardless of number of persons on board, to use high occupancy vehicle lanes or zipper lanes when one or more lanes of traffic have been shut down by law enforcement officers or emergency services personnel. It would also require the Department of Transportation to develop protocols for the use of HOV or zipper lanes.

"As commuters from the Leeward side know, many long hours that could be better spent at work or with family are spent commuting. Adding to the commute is the issue of accidents or other incidents on the freeway. For every minute that an incident (i.e. stall, blown out tire, car accident) is allowed to stay on the freeway, that incident causes 10 minutes of backlog in traffic. This adds to additional time wasted in traffic. Currently, the HOV/zipper lanes are overly restrictive and underutilized. As such, there must be more flexible use of the HOV and zipper lanes, particularly when incidents cause a lane to be closed. We must make full use of all lanes, mitigate traffic and reduce time on the road. For these reasons, Mr. Speaker, I stand in strong support. Thank you."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. In support. At first when I saw this bill, I had to admit, I thought it was another toll road special, but it obviously isn't. What's great about this bill is that it keeps traffic moving, and anything that keeps traffic moving is music to my ears. Thank you, very much."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 866, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HIGH OCCUPANCY VEHICLE LANES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes, with Representatives Berg, Finnegan and Takai being excused.

Representative Keith-Agaran's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise to speak to express my continued reservations with HB 1165.

"The Department of Transportation in the bill is asking for authority to create rules for the various commercial harbors, ostensibly based on the need to address safety concerns. I certainly understand the need for safety rules; however, the Maui community's long-established shared use of certain commercial harbors for recreational and cultural purposes should be recognized and preserved. The Department of Transportation's recent strained relations and record of indifference to local residents using Kahului Harbor for canoe racing and practices, and for fishing and surfing, raises some concern that perhaps the rules proposed ostensibly for safety are primarily aimed at limiting or even displacing longtime community use of our harbor and other nearshore waters for commercial interests. I certainly hope this is not the case and that this is not primarily another example of commercial and business interests trumping local community concerns.

"I believe appropriate safety rules can be crafted through creativity and improved strategic planning in the state's master plan, including the use of better technology for business and recreational activities that will foster rather than inhibit joint use of the available space. Existing residents who gather for traditional and cultural practices should be taken into consideration when planning for the future so that they may continue to carry out their customs. Access and use of our nearshore waters are an important aspect of the Public Trust. As this bill moves forward, I hope there will be practical, open and frank dialogue between traditional and cultural practitioners, government agencies and the business community about the goals of this bill.

"Please record my vote with reservations."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to this bill. I rise after quoting the Majority Leader who says, 'Read the bill, and then speak to the bill.' And I want you to know that I've read, I've re-read, then re-read the bill, and I've even talked to the Chair. Well, we exchanged an email about this. Does this have condominiums in it? And, as I indicated on Second Reading, I have a substantial concern in my district in that regard.

"Mr. Speaker, what I'd like to do is to walk through the bill, particularly where there seems to be a convolution, or a contradiction.

"Page 1 is very clear. It's a great bill. It has great intention. But on the purpose, it states that it is with single family dwellings in mind, except when you go down to the bottom of page 2, line 17. Every private entity is then mentioned, where it cannot prohibit or restrict clotheslines. And if you go to page 3, where it says what is a private entity, private entities include condominium associations.

"So Mr. Speaker, the intention is to exempt them out. Let us be clear, let us tweak it and tighten it, but the way it reads now, it's too 'loosey goosey' to really say that these guys in my district are not going to be brought in by this. Thank you."

Representative Ching rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 1273, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ENERGY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 47 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Ward voting no, and with Representatives Berg, Finnegan and Takai being excused.

H.B. No. 365, HD 1:

Representative B. Oshiro moved that H.B. No. 365, HD 1, pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Evans.

Representative Har rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, may I have ruling on a potential conflict? At my law firm, I represent contractors. Thank you," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 365, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CONTRACTORS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes, with Representatives Berg, Finnegan and Takai being excused.
