Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to 785, and actually the remarks will probably cover 784, 783, because they're all small business killers. The umbrella categories, they're all small business killers because they're highly unaffordable. But let me speak to the last one, which is regarding to workers' comp.

"Mr. Speaker, there are 3,500 physicians in the State of Hawaii. Sixty, repeat, 60, are total physicians that give workers' comp services. In other words, all the other doctors decided not to do it. This bill will even make that less, if it passes. Therefore, if we want to have no more doctors for workers' compensation, this is a great bill. But if we want to keep our doctors who do workers' comp, because their charges are a little bit different than Longs and all the other pharmacies, there's a difference. Particularly those people who live in the rural areas, and the accessibility is the issue, not the cost.

"So, Mr. Speaker, I think this bill needs a lot of re-thinking, and particularly for small business, particularly for rural areas that have workers' comp claims. Thank you."

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Just reservations. I'd like to see the DLIR's report and recommendation this summer. They're going to be looking at workers' comp reimbursements as I understand it, which certainly plays a key role in the prices that are charged, exorbitant or not, for dispensing medicines.

"I would just personally like to see the outcome of that report, what their recommendations are for addressing workers' compensation for those few doctors who take those cases, and then look at this issue again. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. A no vote, and just some brief remarks. Thank you. Mr. Speaker, the bill provides that the court can appoint one qualified examiner instead of three to evaluate a criminal defendant's fitness to proceed, or regaining fitness to proceed.

"The concern with this is that Hawaii has really had, I think, the best record of any state in the nation by requiring three examiners, and it's worked well. There've been no civil lawsuits over any erroneous court decisions with regard to forensic mental health evaluations, and Hawaii's, I guess model, is recommended as the best practice for the nation. I don't like to see us change that and go down to just one examiner, because there can be some difficulties and misinterpretations that three examiners prevent that from happening. Thank you."

"With reservations, Mr. Speaker. Representative McDermott rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Afternoon, Mr. Speaker. I stand in support of this measure. I think it doesn't go far enough. The bill talks about transparency. Some might say it's a cheap political shot, but I would never say that. I think that this is just to provide transparency.

"If you look at line 13, it says the highest. The Legislature finds that to ensure transparency, a presidential candidate once demanded that the State of Hawaii produce a birth certificate. Well, it was more than one candidate, it was many candidates, and the State of Hawaii never did produce a birth certificate. Next sentence, it's a non sequitur. The State of Hawaii will now require presidential candidates to produce tax returns. That makes no sense.

"But, in the spirit of transparency, I would like to see this bill beefed up. I'd like to see college transcripts. I'd like to see college financial aid applications to see if a potential candidate got money as a foreign student. I'd like to see their passport. Where did these people go in their high school and college years? Did they go to the Middle East? I'd like to see that, of course, for transparency purposes, not political purposes, Mr. Speaker. Let's do a background check. Let's go all the way to high school. See if they used drugs or even sold drugs. Maybe a member of the Choom Gang. Who knows?

"But we need transparency, Mr. Speaker. That's why this is such a wonderful bill. It has my full and whole-hearted support, and I thank you for your time, sir."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I have a no vote. As my colleague has just indicated, he forgot a transcript for the health of the person, or the religion of the person. But that brings me to the reason why I'm standing, because there's no constitutional test of religion. There shall be no religious test for any office holder. That's the U.S. Constitution.

"So when we start piling on things such as tax returns, condition of their health, even with tongue in cheek, where they've traveled, what are some of the things that they've done in the past, did they do drugs, are they of psychiatric. The point is, this is a slippery slope, it probably only pokes the fingers in a particular individual's eyes.

"Having said that, Mr. Speaker, I would suggest that we become a little more user-friendly with our administration, because we're going to have at least four years, if not eight years, of the administration. This is not going to go over well in Washington, D.C. Having said that, Mr. Speaker, a no vote, please. Thank you."
