On motion by Representative Belatti, seconded by Representative Tupola and carried, H.R. No. 3 was adopted.

H.C.R. No. 1, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION RELATING TO RECESS DAYS FOR THE REGULAR SESSION OF 2018," was jointly offered by Representatives Saiki and Nakashima.

On motion by Representative Belatti, seconded by Representative Tupola and carried, H.C.R. No. 1 was adopted.

H.C.R. No. 2, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE GOVERNOR TO ADDRESS THE LEGISLATURE ASSEMBLED IN JOINT SESSION," was jointly offered by Representatives Saiki and Nakashima.

On motion by Representative Belatti, seconded by Representative Tupola and carried, H.C.R. No. 2 was adopted.

At this time, the Speaker delivered his address, stating:

"Members, these are tumultuous times. This year, we must step up to the plate. The State of Hawaii requires leadership now, and the House of Representatives can and should provide that leadership.

"Unfortunately, one need only look to the past weekend to see a glaring instance of the inability of government at various levels to manage major issues facing our state.

"Saturday's events reinforce the importance of the role of government. It also shines light on the role of the Legislature as the policymaker and as the check on the other branches of government. It is our duty to ensure that the three branches abide by their respective constitutional duties so that we all do our jobs well.

"We rely on the executive branch to competently and efficiently implement our laws and to administer programs. This begins with basic functions. Some of these functions must be carried out without mistakes because, when mistakes happen, the public loses confidence in all of us.

"We also rely on the Judiciary to fairly adjudicate and dispense justice. It is not the role of judges to make policy decisions from the bench. It is the Legislature's duty to set policy, and we do this with the benefit of broader public input and context.

"The legislative branch, and particularly we as the House of Representatives, begin this session with a renewed sense of purpose. The House is in a unique position to provide leadership. Part of the reason is our composition. Our 51 members are diverse, experienced and energetic. We represent some of the smallest units of government. Our members have a pulse on what real people actually think, what they do, and what they want.

"This collective insight is very powerful and should not be taken lightly. We should use this insight to be bold and creative. We should always be thinking of how to make things better.

"There are two painfully obvious challenges that confront our state. The lack of affordable housing and the increasing homeless population. They are full of complexity and competing interests that make them hard to solve. They will require commitment and courageous action, sustained over several years. But, the time to start is now.

"There is a shortage of 65,000 housing units in Hawaii. The State has set a goal of building 22,500 affordable rental units by the year 2026, and encouraging the development of housing for all income levels.

"There is a huge gap between what our working families are able to pay and the cost of building new housing in Hawaii. The State and counties must continue to partner with private and nonprofit developers to add to the affordable housing inventory and make these projects pencil out.

"To address the financing gap, we should consider increases to programs such as the Rental Housing Revolving Fund, Dwelling Unit Revolving Fund, and the Rental Assistance Revolving Fund. These programs will subsidize rents, infrastructure, and construction costs.

"For the very low income, elderly and disabled, we should upgrade our public housing inventory. We should also invest in infrastructure in areas that are conducive to such housing, including areas near the proposed rail stations.

"There are now over 7,000 homeless persons throughout the state, including 667 families. The approach to homelessness is multifaceted and requires short and long-term action. But there is a model that we can adopt. That model is Kahauiki Village.

"Kahauiki Village is an example of a successful public-private partnership that included the combined work of the State, the City, nonprofits and the private sector, some of whom had not interfaced before.

"It is a self-contained community that is comprised of 153 transitional homes, a preschool, a market, and a police meeting room. It also operates from a PV-generated battery system and is off the electric grid. This model can be extended to homeless populations with substance abuse and mental health conditions.

"One important takeaway is that Kahauiki Village represents what is possible if people and agencies at different levels work towards a common goal.

"And even as we develop more transitional housing, we must also increase law enforcement to avoid encroachment into public spaces. This encroachment affects the quality of life for all, and we must find ways to divert it.

"These are the kinds of issues that our residents are counting on us to solve. But leadership is more than solving issues.

"A year ago, President Obama said something in his farewell address to the nation that reminds me of Hawaii's situation today. He spoke of the youth, diversity and drive of Americans, and the potential that these traits offered to our country.

"But the President also offered this warning, 'that potential will be realized,' he said, 'only if our democracy works. Only if our politics reflects the decency of our people. Only if all of us, regardless of our party affiliation or particular interest, help restore the sense of common purpose that we so badly need right now.'

"The people of Hawaii are looking to us for more than problem solving. They are also looking to us to articulate and demonstrate a sense of shared purpose that calls others, calls on everyone, to join in.

"The House will play a critical role in calling people together in common purpose, but to do it, I believe that each of us must embrace three things.

"First, let's be open to reform and to challenge the status quo. We can still honor the past, but build upon the foundation that was left for us. It is okay to do things differently.

"Second, let's view challenges through the lens of those who are impacted by them. Some of the most contentious issues in Hawaii arise when people believe that government does not consider their perspective or history. We need to do better at reconciling these differences by drawing on the knowledge of all our people, including those impacted by the policies we create, to shape the path forward.

"Third, let's take a global approach to decision-making. Sometimes government is too focused on jurisdiction and turf. We need to move beyond that.

"Members, we are at a moment in history where we cannot just be stewards. This legislative session is a call to broader involvement and decisive action. We must be courageous activists because the issues facing our state are too urgent to wait. But I know that we are up to the challenge.

"This year, we will rebuild a foundation that will help many residents throughout our state. And by doing so, we will advance Hawaii's tradition of pioneering justice, fairness, and opportunity for all.

"Members, thank you and best wishes for a productive session."

The Chair then recognized Representative Tupola, the Minority Leader, to deliver remarks on behalf of the Minority Caucus:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, for allowing me to give some opening day remarks. Good morning, aloha, to all of the House Members as well as to our friends, our families, and those members of the public that came to join us today, maybe some people who are connected via 'Olelo or live on social media, thank you for being with us.

"I want to thank my caucus members first and foremost, Representatives Ward, McDermott, Thielen and Matsumoto, for their continued support and collaboration. And I want to thank all of the people who have made what we do possible.

"With the events of this past weekend, it really made everyone stop and think how disconnected we are. And the events of today can help us to remember how to reconnect to our history, to our people, and to this place that we call home.

"My hope is that for the 2018 Legislature, that we can find new ways to connect. We need to find ways to connect to our committee members, to our communities, and to a lot of concerns that plague our community and affect our quality of life.

"We represent geographic areas throughout the State of Hawaii. Fifty-one of us represent these geographic areas. And it was made that way so that we could feel the everyday needs of the people at a very personal level. The connection that I'm suggesting is an energy that is made and exists between us when people's voices are heard and their opinions are valued.

"As the Minority Caucus, we are proposing to reconnect better with our communities, our counties, and our keiki.

"First off, we think that we could do a much better job at connecting with our communities by having more live broadcasts of our session hearings, allowing remote testimony and access to everything we do, so that people can participate. We saw this as one of the biggest needs during the special session, when people wanted to voice their concerns but yet were too far to have their voices be heard.

"This feedback that we get from people in the communities can help us make better decisions because it will help us to see things that we currently don't understand or may not be aware of.

"Two examples of this is, in Kona, they already allow remote testimony from multiple areas on the island for their city council hearings. And I know that we can do that here too. If they can do it on Hawaii Island, we can do it here to allow neighbor islanders and even people who live in far areas on this island to participate.

"The second example I can think of, increasing our communication and our connection, just last night, the director of transportation called me up, asked me to get community feedback about the contraflow that happened yesterday. Immediately I jumped on social media and we got hundreds of great comments that we're going to implement today. And that's how fast it was.

"Some of the solutions to allow remote testimony or community involvement can be free or of little cost, and it can actually happen today. And that's what we're suggesting as a caucus, is to open up these connections so that we can better serve our community members. Because the most basic, powerful way to connect to somebody is to listen. And I definitely think we can improve equal access for all the people in Hawaii.

"The second thing that we believe that we need to do is connect better to our counties. One of the things we talk about with affordable housing is the fact that it takes an exorbitant amount of time to get a permit. And people have brought it up many times that the days, the months, and the years that it takes to get a permit increase the prices of the housing inventory that we have on this island and throughout the state.

"And one of the things that we need to do is better support our counties. Because some of these vital procedures that the counties provide for us can actually improve our whole entire state. We believe that the counties have been crying out for our help, our support. And the 2015 report to the Legislature by the State-County Working Group is a great way for us to start, to read through their suggestions and implement it now. Because we believe that if we actually strengthen our counties, that these vital resources, and things as simple as a permit and the time it takes to get one, will actually improve our whole entire state.

"Lastly, we need to better connect to our keiki. We see that there is a changing desire to have diversity in school choice, but yet we're still lagging far behind equally funding all of our public school students. The Minority Caucus made it a priority to propose equal public school funding because it's our responsibility to make sure that we help our keiki to connect to future solutions and ways to embrace education.

"We have some schools that have closed down. We have other schools that are desperately looking for space. And as some of you guys are aware, just last year an under-enrolled public school partnered with a charter school that had no facilities, and now they're sharing space. But that's because we don't equally fund CIP for all public schools. And we need to, so that these public school students can have spaces. But we have all of these resources right in front of us, but if one principal didn't connect to one charter school principal and make that happen, these kids would still be without classroom spaces. I have no doubt that if we start to equally fund all of public school students, that we will see that creativity truly is from making connections.

"A true community is not just about being geographically connected to one another, it is actually feeling responsible for what happens in our community. 'Auamo kuleana, which means to shoulder our burden and take a responsibility that is ours. And it's my hope that we can do that, shoulder the burden of our communities by better connecting to them, hearing what their needs are.

"We cannot keep doing the same thing and expect different results. In fact, we cannot keep doing the same thing 10 times, 20 times, 30 times harder and expect something else. We actually have to do something different. And by doing something different, reconnecting, allowing people remote access to us, actually jumping on social media, getting people's input so we can implement things in the state right now. Strengthening our counties, supporting them through the vital procedures and resources that they provide for us. And strengthening our keiki, connecting them to the resources that they need so that they can get quality education. This is going to make all the difference for our state.

"If we decide to increase these connections, we're going to see an increase in resources, we're going to see an increase in public involvement. And in events like the ones of this past weekend, it could even mean saving lives because we're better connected, and we know and we feel what happens in our communities. And then we don't react, we initiate something different.

"Our generation is tasked with creating a new vision for Hawaii, built on some of our oldest values. And we can't make this vision without our whole community, we can't do it. We may not and we should not demand unreasonable things of ourselves, but we should always demand improvement. And that's what we hope to see this session.

"Mr. Speaker, these are my thoughts. And I'm grateful for this day and hope that this session will indeed yield the reconnection that we need, not just in this House, in our body, but in our communities. Thank you."

The Chair then recognized Representative Belatti, the Majority Leader, to deliver remarks on behalf of the Majority Caucus:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, for allowing me to make some opening remarks. Mr. Speaker, members, members of the public, indulge me to speak from the heart on this historic day of a new legislative session.

"Two recent events shocked me to the core. Earlier this month, two reports came out, one in the Washington Post and one in Civil Beat, reporting on the Aloha United Way report. These reports didn't tell us anything new. The Washington Post reports told us despite record low unemployment, Hawaii's population fell for just the third time since statehood in 1959.

"Civil Beat, in the Aloha United Way report, explained to us that the biggest challenge for Hawaii residents is to find a well-paying job and affordable housing in this great state. This is not new to us. We know this in our core. Many of us know and fear the day that our children may not be able to return.

"I'm happy to report, Mr. Speaker and to the members, that we are taking action though, to these very specific issues. In 2014, this legislature initiated the Early College High School Grant Program that graduated for the first time this year a student in both high school and an associates college degree within our community college system. Eleven more students are in the pipeline.

"Last year, Mr. Speaker, this legislature, the members in this body, passed the Hawaii Promise Program, a scholarship program to provide free in-state tuition for qualified University of Hawaii Community College students. This semester, 1,000 students across the state have been awarded scholarships for the 2017 fall semester. That is 1,000 students, that is 1,000 families, that is access to better paying jobs.

"Mr. Speaker, you spoke about what we will be doing on affordable housing, and I hope we will move the needle on that. So I think we are responding to the challenges ahead.

"The second event that rocked me to the core, that rocked everyone to the core, was this Saturday's events. Where were you. Did you know what you were going to do. In those 38 minutes, did you reach out to the people that you love. In those 38 minutes, Mr. Speaker, I thought about the job ahead of us. I thought about what we do, the basic functions of government, as you spoke about.

"You're right, Mr. Speaker. People are looking at us to do the important work of this state. As you said, we are a diverse, experienced and energetic group. I would also add that we are a passionate group. We have strong opinions. We have strong viewpoints, sometimes conflicting viewpoints.

"But on this day, when you have called us to demonstrate a shared purpose, I leave you with a thought and a motto that we might live by. The words of Queen Liliuokalani, e 'onipa'a kākou, to be steadfast, established, firm, resolute and determined. It means for me, let us put aside our differences, our party differences, our geographical differences, our age differences, and yes, even our faction differences, members. We must work and do the work of the people. E 'onipa'a kākou. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Representative Ward: "Mr. Speaker, I'd like to thank you for acknowledging with a moment of silence the 125th anniversary of the Hawaiian overthrow. I don't think it's accidental that today happens to be the exact day of January 17, 1893. The announcement, Mr. Speaker, is the beginning of 'onipa'a is just now. And I want to encourage members to listen to the Hawaiian people, what they have to say today and the following weeks, as the voice of 125 years is still fresh and we need to listen, as many of the leaders have spoken out earlier, so we can connect with the Hawaiian people. 125 years of waiting. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

RECESS

At this time, the Chair stated:

"Members, please note that tomorrow is a recess day. We will convene again on Wednesday, January 24, at noon. For today, the House will stand in recess for the purpose of convening in joint session at 10 a.m. for the Governor's State of the State Address."

At 9:09 o'clock a.m., the Chair declared a recess and the House of Representatives stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair, and in accordance with House Concurrent Resolution No. 2 met in Joint Session with the Senate to receive the Governor's State of the State Address.

JOINT SESSION

The Joint Session of the House of Representatives and the Senate of the Twenty-Ninth Legislature, Regular Session of 2018, was called to order at 10:04 o'clock a.m. by the Honorable Scott K. Saiki, Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Speaker Saiki then stated:

"Members, this morning we are gathered for the Governor's State of the State Address. Although the State of the State Address is not constitutionally required, it is a tradition in our state. It is also one of the occurrences when all three branches of government assemble in the same room. This gathering is not symbolic. Rather, it is a reaffirmation of the framework of our constitutional form of government, and specifically the distribution of power between the three branches.

"The Hawaii Supreme Court has described this distribution as follows. 'While the object was to divide and allocate the sovereign power among three co-equal branches, the separate powers were not intended to operate with absolute independence.' The Constitution 'contemplates that practice will integrate the dispersed powers into a workable government. It enjoins upon its branches separateness but interdependence, autonomy but reciprocity.'

"In the Hawaii Supreme Court's own words, the constitutional framework rests upon the principle that the branches will not overstep their bounds. Each branch's respect for the others ensures a government that is workable, and therefore able, to advance the well-being of the entire state."

The Speaker then welcomed and recognized the following honored and distinguished guests:

Kalani English and Brickwood Galuteria on behalf of the Senate, to escort the Honorable David Y. Ige, Governor of the State of Hawaii, to the rostrum.

The Governor was presented with lei by Representative Joy A. San Buenaventura on behalf of the House of Representatives, and Senator Rosalyn H. Baker on behalf of the Senate.

The Speaker then presented to the Members of the Twenty-Ninth Legislature and the audience, the Honorable David Y. Ige, Governor of the State of Hawaii.

The Governor then addressed the Joint Session as follows:

"Speaker Saiki, President Kouchi, former governors, distinguished justices of the courts, representatives of our congressional delegation, members of the Hawaii State Legislature, elected officials, military leaders, honored guests, family and friends, good morning and aloha. As a new legislative session opens, I want you to know I am ready to work with you on the issues that affect us all. The state of our state is strong. We are a resilient people and the future is bright.

"As I stand before you today, I am struck by the beautiful and often challenging complexity that makes Hawaii our home. We really are the most beautiful place on earth. We are of many cultures and faiths, and we live together in greater harmony than any place in the world. People from all over the planet come here to enjoy our environment, our host culture and their gifts to all of us. The gifts of aloha, tolerance and respect, and the celebration of each other and our differences.

"We often need to be reminded of what makes us so special. We are one of the healthiest states in the nation. People here live longer than anywhere else in the country. We have led the nation in health insurance for decades, and in the current chaos, we stand firm in caring for each other. We have the lowest unemployment rate in the nation. We are strong financially. Our bond rating is the highest it's ever been in our history, making it possible for us to get the most bang for our buck when we borrow money. This saves the State tens of millions of dollars, allowing us to make critical investments in our schools, housing and highways.

"And we have made our voice clear. Hawaii will not stand for the hateful and hurtful policies of the Trump White House. We are doing more than any other state to stand up for what is right, such as DACA and the Paris Climate Accord, and to stop what is wrong, such as the travel ban and stopping transgender members of the military from defending our flag and our freedoms.

"And yet, so many of us are living paycheck to paycheck, relying heavily on our extended families to make ends meet. Owning a home is out of reach for many families, with housing costs rising faster than wages. Too much of our time is spent in traffic, affecting our families and quality of life. The growing gap between those doing well and those who are not should concern all of us.

"We depend too heavily on imported food and fuel, and we must find a just place in our relationship with our own history and with the people of the first nation of Hawaii. And the challenges to our island environment, such as global climate change, stare us in the face every single day.

"I honor my predecessors, former governors, and I have built on what they have done. In doing so, I affirm three truths about Hawaii and the way we govern. First, I see Hawaii as a place and a people that cherish our children, celebrate our diversity, and want a better life for the next generation. Second, I see Hawaii as a place and a people where we believe in 'ohana, we respect our kūpuna and understand that our 'āina and our ocean are critical to our quality of life. And finally, I see Hawaii as a place and a people where we still believe in the promise of Hawaii and the prospect of limitless opportunities.

"This is the legacy of our host culture, the cultures of our immigrant families, and all those who choose to call Hawaii home. We have put these values and beliefs into action to chart the course to our collective future.

"It is one thing to say our children matter. It is quite another to do something about it. We have invested more widely in classrooms than in previous years. We promised to cool 1,000 of Hawaii's hottest classrooms where soaring temperatures have hindered learning for years. I'm proud to report, with the Legislature's support, that we exceeded our original goal, and we're at 1,200 classrooms and counting.

"I also promised to empower our schools so they can focus on 21st century skills and critical learning. In meetings around the state, community members, teachers, staff and principals expressed frustration about the top-down mandates and one-size-fits-all approach to schools. And so, with more than 3,000 parents, teachers and community members from around the state, we created a new blueprint for education. This blueprint for change is now in the hands of new DOE leadership.

"I also recognized that it is not enough to say to our teachers, 'we respect how hard you work.' That's why we've given our educators the pay raises that they have long deserved.

"Now, let's talk about housing. When we say 'ohana, we truly mean nobody gets left behind. For those who want to live in Hawaii, probably no issue is more challenging than finding a decent, affordable place to live. And probably no issue challenges us as a society more than the daily sight of those who are now living on our streets and in our parks.

"We have dedicated more money to mental health treatment and services, including to our homeless population. We have initiated the largest annual increase in production of affordable housing with thousands of new units coming to market. We're on track to meet our goal of 10,000 new housing units by 2020, with at least 40% affordable. And this session, I'm requesting $100 million to maintain the momentum and produce more affordable homes across the state.

"It has been my firm belief that the State must remain committed to developing and delivering Hawaiian home lands to beneficiaries. In 2016, we provided $24 million in funding to the Department of Hawaiian Home Lands. This was the highest level of funding in the department's 95-year history, and more than double what had been set aside previously. For its part, Hawaiian Home Lands has been ramping up development of vacant and turn-key lots. More than 220 lots were awarded in 2017, and that number will more than double in 2018.

"We have also worked hard with the department to spend down federal funds and identify alternative sources of revenue that can be used to sustain the agency over time. Our Housing First policy focuses on transitional housing as a way to get people into permanent housing. The New Kakaako Family Assessment Center moves families off the streets and into permanent housing in less than 90 days. A special team at public housing reduced the vacant turnaround time from 267 days to just 7 days. And our landlord summits increased the number of landlords willing to rent to families transitioning out of homelessness. Even in the tragedy that is homelessness, there are significant signs that these policies are starting to make a difference. Homelessness is down 9% statewide, the first decline in eight years.

"There's more to be done for sure. We continue our efforts to offer services to those who have so far refused to leave the streets, to move into a better life. We have set aside monies in this year's budget to support more progress on the homelessness front. Our budget request also includes $15 million in additional funding for Housing First initiatives, outreach services, and maintaining safety in our public places.

"We also know how important community partners have been in tackling this challenge. Take Kahauiki Village, a permanent housing project for homeless families launched by local businessman and philanthropist Duane Kurisu. Duane brought together the City, State, nonprofits and businesses to make the village a reality in record time. The first 30 families moved in recently. Duane, please stand to be recognized.

"Ohana also means that you should be able to put food on the table and be home with your family to eat it. That means jobs that pay well and commutes that work. Even though tourism is up and unemployment is low, many of our residents are living paycheck to paycheck, one health emergency or car repair away from crisis. Some people may have two or three jobs to make ends meet. The challenge is not just about creating jobs, it's about creating quality jobs and the training that go with them. I understand the frustration of many. And that's why I'm working to transform our economy to give residents a diversity of employment opportunities that pay higher wages and lead to a better quality of life for all.

"We're tackling another quality of life issue, and that's traffic, traffic congestion. I have three goals. Get projects done quickly, get them done inexpensively, and get them done with minimum impact on the environment, and we are making progress. From zipper and shoulder lanes and other contraflow lanes, to safety around our public schools and truck-only routes, we are going to where the problems are. We're reducing back-ups and bottlenecks in West and Windward Oahu, Kahului, Lahaina, Lihue, Hilo, Kona, and other communities all across the state. We want commute times to be shorter.

"We must create a better life for the next generation, it is what we all want. We all dream of our children succeeding here in Hawaii. With my three children on the mainland, I know firsthand how hard it is to have them an ocean away. My personal goal, the goal to which I have dedicated my service as governor, is creating a Hawaii that gives all of our children the choice to live and call Hawaii home.

"My grandparents came to Hawaii in search of opportunities. It is not acceptable to me that many of our kids are essentially becoming immigrants in other places because we don't have the opportunities here in Hawaii.

"While there is more to do, I am proud of what we have accomplished together. We have more early college programs so high school students can earn college credits, saving families money and making it easier to graduate with degrees. We expanded campuses and offer more courses at UH West Oahu and Palamanui. The creation of Hawaii's Promise scholarships helps to pay for the costs of attending UH community colleges. The Entrepreneur's Sandbox in Kakaako brings start-ups together in one shared space and helps with loans and grants. And we also founded the annual hackathon competition, which enlists hundreds of professionals and amateur code writers to develop solutions for the state's biggest information technology challenges.

"We must prepare our young people for jobs in this sector, and that means supporting STEM education, focusing on science, technology, engineering and math.

"The good news is that it is expanding at all levels. The University of Hawaii is one of the leaders in this work, with the Manoa campus increasing its STEM graduates by more than a third in recent years, and the community colleges leading the way, tripling their numbers.

"Also helping to train students in our schools are partners like DevLeague, a computer programming and coding academy founded by two local software engineers. They are working with the DOE and private foundations. Together, they are teaching high school students advanced coding and cybersecurity skills. We'd like to recognize DevLeague's founders, Jason Sewell and Russel Cheng. Jason and Russel. He's up in the back.

"To be sure that workers in Hawaii's existing industries aren't left behind, we've made available a wide variety of vocational training opportunities through the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations. These programs match training with current job openings in fields ranging from computer science and shipyard welding to banking and food safety. And within state government, as we ride the wave of modernization, we remain fully committed to retraining every worker to use the new computer systems and technology tools. Technology helps us be more responsive to serve the public.

"We have always been a state that cares about the elderly. We are making good on that. I am proud that together we were able to pass Kupuna Care legislation that provides assistance for full-time family caregivers who also have full-time jobs. This is a win for Hawaii's families.

"We also worked to make sure those who have served our state get to retire with the dignity they were promised and deserve. With the Legislature's support, we took aggressive steps that will save us $1.6 billion over the next 20 years.

"As our kūpuna have taught us, paying our bills, honoring our obligations, and saving for the future is how we build a brighter future, and we have done that.

"One value that has guided this administration is to not simply pass on our debts to our kids and grandkids. Together we have made tremendous strides in this task. Rebuilding our rainy day fund to $310 million. We have gone after tax cheats and collected millions from those who were not paying their fair share. And we are working to modernize our tax collection system to make it easier and fairer for the people of Hawaii. We made needed changes to improve the system so we can collect the tax revenues we rely on to deliver state services. I believe we're on the right track to accomplish this major task.

"We're also making great strides in protecting our 'āina and ocean resources. To date, we have protected over 40,000 acres of watershed forests on Kauai, Oahu, Molokai and Hawaii islands. We helped preserve Turtle Bay lands from further development. A joint agreement with the US Navy is helping us reach our renewable energy goals. And together, we've established guidelines to use recycled water on food crops. Working with all of you here in the Legislature, we were able to provide tax credits for organic farmers, which means a healthier people and healthier lands. And you passed and I signed a law to abide by the Paris Climate Accord, the first state in the nation to do so.

"We understand deeply and fully what the future requires of us. I also fought to give Native Hawaiians a seat at the table when it comes to the management of Papahānaumokuākea, a national marine monument. The Office of Hawaiian Affairs is now co-trustee of the monument.

"Our goal of increasing local food production is another golden opportunity for Hawaii. We are blessed with four growing seasons and a land-grant university with a college of tropical agriculture that has a long history of cutting-edge work. With all of these factors, Hawaii can and must become the premiere center for new agricultural technologies.

"We already have ag-tech startups going strong in Hawaii. One company that comes to mind is Smart Yields. They help small and medium farmers to increase their production with data analytics and other technology tools. The company received international attention when it was chosen to be part of the Vatican's very first tech accelerator focused on global food production. At this time, I'd like to recognize Smart Yields CEO Vincent Kimura and his mentor, Hawaii Island farmer Richard Ha.

"What we need now is the driver to make greater local food production possible. There is no better way than through our schools. I applaud the new leadership in the DOE's Farm to School program, the leadership provided by Lieutenant Governor Shan Tsutsui, and the great cooperation of the Department of Agriculture and the State's Procurement Office. Shan, please stand to be recognized.

"Clean energy is not only critical to air and water quality, it is important to our economy and our wallets as we work to reduce our reliance on imported fossil fuels. Working with the Legislature, I was the first governor to sign into law a bill requiring 100% of Hawaii's electricity to come from renewable sources by 2045. This demonstrates what we can accomplish when we work together.

"We want hydropower, seawater air conditioning, solar and wind energy, biomass and the fullest possible use of our waste streams. We celebrate the Hu Honua Power Plant on the Big Island as well as the new solar farms on other islands, and this week we will join NRG Energy, Hawaiian Electric, and Kamehameha Schools in celebrating three utility-scale solar projects here on Oahu.

"As a next step, we will grow a carbon market here in Hawaii. This way, carbon polluters around the world can invest in restoring Hawaii's koa and 'ōhi'a trees and forests to offset their carbon emissions, whatever that is.

"We want the brainpower and the imagination of the world to continue to come here. They can help us find our way to 100% renewable energy sources for electricity, and in doing so, help the world find its way to 100%. Let us take the billions we export for fossil fuels and spend it here, and then export the energy systems we develop. We are dreaming big and creating the promise of limitless opportunities. Anything less means we are letting down the next generation.

"Hawaii has so much potential in this new globally connected world. We are already viewed as the ideal research base and testing ground for innovative, globally significant technologies such as telemedicine, smart cities, and autonomous driverless vehicles. Hawaii is a leader in solving the issues of our time. Much of what we do here in Hawaii is groundbreaking. Hawaii is home to many talented individuals breaking new ground every single day. Hawaii is full of stories of business innovators blazing the trail to create new products and services.

"The Big Island's Tina Fitch turned her start-up Switchfly into a global software platform used by almost every major travel and hospitality company in the world. Now, she's returned home and started a second company, HobNob, which we hope achieves equal success. Tina, who flew in to be with us this morning, Tina can you rise to be recognized.

"In our own state government, employees are helping us improve the services to the public every day. One example is a team of young millennials known as 'The Three Amigos,' Jodie Nakamura, Ryan Mercado and Liam Tobin. The wait time for workers' comp hearings has been cut in half because of their efforts. This 2017 Team of the Year from the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations launched a project to digitize mountains of paperwork from some 20,000 claims a year. And there are many more dedicated workers just like them all around the state. Jodie, Ryan and Liam, please stand to be recognized. They're just a sampling of our homegrown talent. We just need to do more to create the supportive environment around them that will launch and sustain their careers here in the islands.

"I hope you'll leave today knowing that we have laid important groundwork and that Hawaii is on the edge of something exciting. At the beginning of my speech, I said Hawaii is a beautiful and complex place. I believe that is our gift to our children and to the future.

"Imagine a future economy for Hawaii that isn't reliant solely on tourism and the military. Imagine a future where local entrepreneurs are inventing useful products and services that are sold across the globe. Imagine that we use our temperate weather and four growing seasons to develop new high-tech agricultural tools that increase yields for farmers from Hawaii to India. Imagine that we farm our nearshore ocean waters to feed our own communities and the growing global demand for seafood. And with these businesses, there's new demand for scientists, technicians and marketing professionals.

"And what does this mean for the people of Hawaii? It means a healthier economy with quality jobs that enable us to improve our schools, take care of our kūpuna, and provide more affordable housing. This future Hawaii isn't as far off as it seems. We've already set things in motion. We've put stakes in the ground and we're making progress. To face the challenges of the future, Hawaii must seize the opportunities, embrace change, and identify the game-changing steps that we need to take. Together, the possibilities are limitless. I believe the qualities we treasure most about Hawaii are what will draw our children back to us.

"When I ran for Governor four years ago, I wanted to take my lifetime of public service and fundamentally change the path we were taking. I have committed my life to the people of the State of Hawaii. No matter what challenges we face, no matter what frustrations or issues we have with one another, I find my strength and courage in our shared sense of unity. We must work together. Mahalo and aloha."

President Kouchi then rose and stated:

"Mahalo, Governor Ige. I too share your vision, your aspirations and hopes for this state and the people who reside here, the guests who we welcome here. I would reiterate in that vision of the Hawaii in the future, again, that it is with the 100% renewable energy that we're providing to the citizens of this state. I want to restate that because the island of Kauai and the Kauai Island Utility Cooperative, with two of those solar battery storage facilities and the recently agreed hydro project using, or a partnership with the Department of Hawaiian Home Lands, DLNR, and ADC, Kauai is driving through 60% and will be heading to 70% renewable within the next 18 months, and at one point last year for about five minutes, Kauai Island Utility Cooperative ran with 100% renewable energy on the grid.

"So, like the Governor, I'm not here to talk about dreams, I'm here to say what we are doing and how we're going to continue to do it, and how we're going to do it better. I commit to the Governor on behalf of the Hawaii State Senate, and to the Speaker of the House, that the Hawaii Senate stands ready to work with your branches of government to ensure that we get the results that we desire for the people of Hawaii.

"And I want to read a speech in closing. Only kidding, big font. I'd like to close with a quote from Yehuda Berg. 'Hurt people hurt people. That's how pain patterns gets passed on, generation after generation after generation. Break the chain today. Meet anger with sympathy, contempt with compassion, cruelty with kindness. Greet grimaces with smiles. Forgive and forget about finding fault. Love is the weapon of the future.'

"Mahalo, and this joint session is adjourned."

At 10:58 o'clock a.m., President Kouchi declared the Joint Session of the House of Representatives and the Senate of the Twenty-Ninth Legislature, Regular Session of 2018, adjourned.

Representative Tokioka rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'd like to record a no vote to H.R. No. 9. I'm not going to prolong the debate or the discussion, but I would like to say that I served as the vice chair for the VMI Chair and I've been his friend for 12 years now. And this is a man of honor, this is a man that has served his country, and who else better to lead a committee like military and veteran affairs? And I feel so bad for the VMI Chair, and I'd like to ask to insert additional comments into the Journal. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker."

Tourism:

Richard H.K. Onishi	Chair
Beth Fukumoto	Vice Chair
Romy M. Cachola
Isaac W. Choy
Ken Ito
Matthew S. LoPresti
Takashi Ohno
Justin H. Woodson
Gene Ward

Representative Tokioka's written remarks are as follows:

"I am disappointed by the decision of the Representative from District 26 to remove the current VMI Chair. Throughout his 23 years in the House, the current Chair has set a high standard of leadership and service. It has been my honor to serve as his vice chair, and I believe that I have performed admirably in that capacity. Based on the current Chair's qualifications and performance, I believe that this resolution is unjustifiable.

"Removing the current VMI Chair is an insult to him and the years of his life that he has dedicated to his service both in the military and in the House. With all due respect to the Representative from District 41, the current Chair is the most qualified individual to lead this committee. This move does little to hurt the current Chair, but it is detrimental to the hundreds of veterans whom he represents.

"In my opinion, this resolution is uncalled for. I find the decision to remove the current Chair unfortunate. In the future, I hope for greater transparency regarding decisions of this nature."

Representative Souki rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I want to record a no vote. And I, for my good friend here who I've known over 30 years, and I wish him well, and I wish the members remember this. A reward for working for the State for 30 years. Thank you very much."

Representative DeCoite rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in light of the resolution and so forth, likewise I'd like to record a no vote, for all the years of service that the VMI Chair has served, and in light of the discussion that we just had. Thank you."

Representative Har rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Please have the Clerk register a no vote for me, and just brief comments. First of all, I want to thank the VMI Chair for his service, not only to the people of the State of Hawaii, but to the people of the United States, as a veteran. I could think of nobody better to lead this committee, and it has been an honor for me to know the VMI Chair, as this is his last year with us in the House.

"I'm reminded of a saying, what's right is right, even if everybody's doing it, what's wrong is wrong, even if nobody's doing it.

"First and foremost, members, we have to remember to respect the institution. Personal differences aside, we should always put the institution first, besides personal differences and petty politics. Unfortunately, I don't think that this resolution embodies that, and for these reasons I will be voting no. Thank you."

Representative Creagan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. When I came here, the VMI Chair came to me and supported me. He was my mentor, he was my friend. I am voting no, please record a no vote. And that's, I can't sit here in silence and disrespect my friend, a veteran, who served in this so honorably for how many years. I can't sit here in silence, so I have to record a no vote. Thank you."

Representative Belatti moved that H.R. No. 9 be adopted, seconded by Representative Morikawa.

Representative Say rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Choy rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Please record a no vote for me. I do not believe this is the correct path for this body, I think we're just going down the wrong direction."

At 1:03 o'clock p.m., the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 1:03 o'clock p.m.

Representative Belatti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. I too share and extend my thanks to the good Representative from Kaneohe. I do also, however, support this measure, as it will help this House move forward. We all can still contribute as members of the committee, as members of this body on this floor. But this leadership team that's represented by this resolution has the confidence and the support of this body, I believe a majority of this body. We have worked hard to be inclusive, we have worked hard to listen to the members. And while, as I said on the opening day, we are a body that has many differences, we can continue to move forward with this resolution. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ohno rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. While I have the greatest respect for the former Chair of VML, I do think it's important to note out that the hopeful new Chair, the Representative from Ewa Beach, has been in front of many issues, most notably the issue that happened two weekends ago. I think he certainly has the experience and the interest in taking this committee even further. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and H.R. No. 9 was adopted, with Representatives Choy, Creagan, DeCoite, Har, Say, Souki and Tokioka voting no, and with Representatives Cachola, Hashem, Kong, Lee, McDermott, Tupola and Ward being excused.

By unanimous consent, the following resolution (H.R. No. 7) and concurrent resolutions (H.C.R. Nos. 5 through 12) were referred to Printing and further action was deferred:

No. 7, entitled: "HOUSE RESOLUTION URGING THE CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES TO CALL A CONVENTION FOR PROPOSING AMENDMENTS PURSUANT TO ARTICLE V OF THE UNITED STATES CONSTITUTION LIMITED TO PROPOSING AMENDMENTS THAT IMPOSE FISCAL RESTRAINTS ON THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT, LIMIT THE POWER AND JURISDICTION OF THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT, AND LIMIT THE TERMS OF OFFICE FOR ITS OFFICIALS AND FOR MEMBERS OF CONGRESS," was jointly offered by Representatives Kong, Brower, Cachola, Evans, Say, Tupola, Yamane, Creagan, Hashem, Ito, Mizuno, Tokioka and Ward.

"Mr. Speaker, it's probably political suicide for me to speak out on this bill, and I know it's second reading, but I just want us to be very careful about Class A felonies because it costs money, not just for bail, OCCC as well as. But defendants will fight to the death for, to not have to defend against these. And what I want to point out is that during the Women's Legislative Caucus in the interim, we found out that the victims would rather not have the delays which is going to be engendered with Class A felonies because, like I said, every defendant is going to pull whatever they can to try to fight these things. So I am going to be voting with reservations on this measure. Thank you."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations. We've had this bill in the past, and my three comments, one is that usually for pharmacists, it's about a 20-minute period that they're able to fill prescriptions or even administer this, which doesn't also account for if there's a chance that there is adverse effects.

"Secondly is that, the APHA training is an online 20 hours training to help them prepare to administer immunizations, but it doesn't talk about how to handle adverse effects, especially if it happens in a commercial setting.

"The last thing is that, because pharmacists are not required to know the patients' history, we wouldn't know if they're getting it for the second time or if they have allergies or other things that they should be aware of before administering it, and one of our lead healthcare providers did actually suggest in the hearing to defer the bill. So I think we should just proceed with those cautions in mind for the safety of the public. Thank you."

Representative Nakamura rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"With reservations and comments. Mr. Speaker, I'm concerned about the impact that this bill will have on the ability of local financial institutions to access the secondary mortgage market, specifically Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac. I think that will further make it more difficult to reach the goal of homeownership in Hawaii. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, no vote with a brief comment. Mr. Speaker, $1 on the mainland is worth 65 cents here, because of the cost of living. We have the highest cost of living in the nation. This is one of those drivers to even increase it.

"The irony is that most of these local banks that this bill is trying to encourage literally end up selling all of their, probably 95% to 100% of their mortgages to mainland bankers, Fannie Mae, et cetera. This bill might possibly do that, so it's going to hurt our mortgage industry.

"Secondly, Mr. Speaker, this bill is very provincial and does not have the wide future of what commerce is. Commerce is not a brick and mortar phenomenon any longer, it's online, and to prevent our people from doing that is to curse to even further higher costs of living than they have now.

"This is unfair, it's not a good bill, and I would hope all of us would realize our constituents would not want a bill like this, especially those who don't have housing, because right now we're one of the lowest housing ownership states in the nation, most of our people are renters. So, let's give them a chance to get a mortgage, but let's get them cheaper, because the rates are cheaper by going online. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Thielen rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tupola rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Please note my reservations. While I have the utmost respect for the introducer of this measure, I'd please like to incorporate the comments of the Vice Chair of Housing, and I will await to see what comes out of this bill after the next committee. Thank you."

Representative Brower rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. The Legislature and the term that we're serving serves as a conversation. And there actually is some good information to propel this bill forward. And the committee that it enters now is the author of the bill, and I think we should give that committee one last chance to correct this bill, and then, if not, it may die a quiet death. Thank you."

Representative Takumi rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. Based on what the Housing Chair said, your Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce may be inclined to amend the bill back to its original language because obviously it was a great bill to begin with.

"Mr. Speaker, in all seriousness, this bill has come about because we all know when you sign up to get a mortgage from a financial institution or refinance your house, buried in that contract, for those of us who have gone through it, you have to initial these pages many, many times, and most of us don't go over it with a fine-tooth comb. Well, buried in that fine print, it says that the financial institution reserves the right to sell your mortgage, and unbeknownst to you, many times they will sell that mortgage to someone not in the state.

"So, this is the dilemma, Mr. Speaker. This is a pro-consumer bill at its core. Now, whether or not the implementation side of it will be onerous, it remains to be seen, but here's the rationale behind it. Your mortgage gets sold to a bank on the mainland, so from that point on you have to deal with that mainland bank. So, take for example you have homeowner's insurance, just a what-if. You have homeowner's insurance with State Farm, something happens to your roof, your roof gets damaged, State Farm agrees to pay for the roof, and then State Farm will send you a check. Now, you may not know this, but you can't deposit that check unless the person who has the lien, in other words that financial institution, cosigns that check. Then you have to deal with someone on the mainland instead of being able to walk into a local bank and say, hey, I got this check, can you cosign it so that I can deposit it?"

"Now, I don't know about everybody on this floor, but many people in our community will say, oh my goodness, that's just a lot of obstacles you have to go through. They would much prefer that they can walk into a local financial institution. By the way, Mr. Speaker, it may very well be that financial institution that sold your mortgage to that mainland institution. It seems to me, the burden on that local bank to merely cosign that check is not that burdensome, and besides, that financial institution that sold that mortgage made money off of it. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm in strong support of this bill, and I'm really glad we're forwarding it, and I wanted to add additional comments to the previous speaker, the Chair of Consumer Protection & Commerce.

"This last summer and fall, I had many people come to me very concerned about their residential loan, fighting with the fact that their residential loan had been sold multiple times. There may be some language needs to be worked out, I get that, but I think it's important we forward this.

"Eventually, they bundle it and they sell it to someone else, who then bundles it and sells it to someone else, those people hire someone to service it, and before you know it, when you call to find out what's going on with your mortgage, all of a sudden you find it's been transferred several times. And you ask, well, did you have the authorization from me to do that? Aren't you required to inform me when you do that kind of stuff? And it can get really quite complicated.

"I even got on a phone call, a three-way phone call, because, one thing is, these end up getting sold a lot of times to the government, Freddie Mac I believe is still around. And so, ever since the foreclosure, and we've done a lot of work in this body trying to deal with mortgage foreclosures and how the paperwork was all messed up. In the old days, there wasn't computers, and people would lose files, it was really hard on people here in Hawaii. So I think we still have a problem, it's getting better all the time, but it's one of those things I think we have to stay focused on. Thank you."

Representative Thielen rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I was wondering if the chair of the subsequent committee could look into possibly amending the bill to say that in the event of a sale from a local institution to an out-of-state financial institution, a local person must be designated who could accept service of process and could execute documents related to the loan. That could take care of that problem that's been identified by the Big Island Representative, but keep us from preventing them, instead of limiting the sale of residential mortgage loans, let's modify the way in which they can be done, to protect the local consumers. Thank you."

Representative San Buenaventura rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I stand in support. Basically, I agree with the two prior speakers. I just want to point out on the Big Island, where there's a lot of foreclosures, after it's been sold, a number of times, the mortgage gets sold to Deutsche Bank, Germany. So, it's very difficult for foreclosure homes, for the homeowners' association or neighbors to get ahold of this German bank for them to take care of the vacant foreclosed lot.

"But as an attorney, I think there are supremacy clause problems with this. So, I stand in support, but I don't know about enforcement. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, two additional footnotes in not-support of this bill. First, a reality check. The US government owns the mortgage business. Number two, no bank in Hawaii's going to agree to forego selling their mortgages, it's in the 90th percentile rate. This is not about mortgages. It's about cost of living, it's about the interest which we're going to punish the people of Hawaii with if this bill passes. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1619, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce, with Representatives Har, McDermott, Nakamura, Thielen and Tupola voting aye with reservations, with Representative Ward voting no, and with Representatives Souki and Todd being excused.

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"I have reservations, Mr. Speaker. I know that the drafter of the bill is trying to solve a problem that's a very serious problem, and I credit him with his attempt at that. But my concern about the bill, number one, the bill uses 'shall' instead of 'may,' taking away any Land Use Commission discretion when they see the facts in the particular land use case before them.

"Second one is that the requirement of the subdivision to be kept for ag purposes is only for 20 years. That's a very brief time and, in my opinion, doesn't protect the agricultural land as much as it should. The use of the word 'primarily' as ag use is a little bit waffly, and I think it needs a much tighter definition. And then I believe it needs redrafting so it does not allow condominium regimes to circumvent the ag requirement.

"I think the bill needs some serious work. I applaud the intent, but before it goes through to the Senate, I'd like to see some amendments made to it. Thank you."

Representative DeCoite rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations, brief comment. I'd just like to address the fact that while we're trying to grow food and trying to address buffer zones and pesticides and pesticide drifts and noise that these farmers and ranchers make trying to conduct business, I would like us to be real careful about subdivisions in those areas, as urban sprawl out seems to be pushing out important ag lands and lands that we are using to grow food on, to double up food production in the upcoming years. So, I'd just like to add that, with my reservations. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Matsumoto rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Matsumoto's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to vote aye with reservations on this measure. A large portion of my district is comprised of ag land, and we need to be very careful about the implications of this bill. We must work together to keep land designated for agricultural purposes to be used for agriculture. The measure needs revisions: uses 'shall' approve instead of 'may' approve, requirement of the subdivision to be kept for ag purposes for only 20 years, while the Land Use Commission agrees with 'in perpetuity' language, use of the word 'primarily' as ag use needs better clarification. Mahalo for the opportunity to speak on this measure."

"Mr. Speaker, ruling for a possible conflict. I own condos for rent," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Cachola continued to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"This bill is still a work in progress, and that's why I'll be voting with reservations. There's a lot of questions about this bill, and there's a lot of expense and things to be done before we can implement anything. But for the sake of this body looking at this, I'll be willing to vote at this time with reservations rather than a no vote. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to the sanctuary state bill, 1994, with a few comments. Mr. Speaker, this bill is as myopic as it is partisan, political and polemical. But who doesn't like immigration? Who doesn't like immigrants? My wife is from Malaysia. My daughter is from China. The key, Mr. Speaker, is that they're all legal.

"This bill legitimizes, protects and otherwise disguises illegal immigration, therefore promoting it. The territory that we are entering on calls all of us into question. Every two years, we raise our hands to protect, obey, and otherwise enforce the US Constitution and the State Constitution. This bill pushes us to say that, hey if you at the federal level want to do something, we are going to exempt ourselves from the US Constitution. Mr. Speaker, that's a dangerous proposition.

"I would also say how this is a bill that is going to hurt us rather than help us, even though it's supposedly going to hurt us. We're getting on a territory that's going to hurt us more than it's going to help us. Not because I'm a member of the Finance Committee, but everybody here knows that our budget is federally funded up to the point of 25% and growing.

"Mr. Speaker, we have already not endeared ourselves to the Federal Government. And to do something like this is going to make us even all the more marginal. I'm not going to note how many times our federal congressional delegation has poked their fingers into the President's eye, but this is going to be a bigger one than even in the past.

"This is going to hurt us fiscally, financially, and on the margins of being a full participant in the Federal Government in all the things that we do. Can you imagine if PACOM says, well, HI-EMA, we're not going to help you because you guys have got it all on your own, we're not going to give you federal assistance because of this disaster on January 13th where you didn't know what you were doing when you created trauma for 1.4 million people and our visitors. The feds are going to pull us out of this. Should we say, well, if the feds do a reciprocal, it's okay? No, Mr. Speaker. But we're tempting the hand of that. You know, what goes around comes around, what comes around goes around.

"So we're playing with fire in the same way that many of us would not wish that the feds would pull back in so many areas, not just the defense of the country, but our human services, our transportation, the majority of our funding. And the idiosyncrasies of some personalities in Washington can earmark stuff and take money away.

"So why do we want to do this? We don't have an immigration problem, per se."

At 12:31 o'clock p.m., Representative Belatti requested a recess and the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 12:31 o'clock p.m.

Representative Ward continued, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, I think the bottom line is, the costs outweigh the benefits. If there's any benefits, I need to know them. And that is not to demean anything or anybody, but other than this, if there's a problem where we have huge immigrants, if we want to talk about immigrants who really need help, what about the Indonesians down at the harbor? They're captive right on our shores. What have we done for them?"

"We already have a sanctuary state for the homeless. We have the highest homeless in the whole nation. The state of Hawaii has the highest homeless. What kind of sanctuary are we giving the homeless?"

"So where are the priorities here? And also, I should note that this morning we passed a bill, 2091, which is for a Homeland Security fusion center, which states, by continually staffing itself to monitor all crimes, hazards, and shall be the focus for sharing local, national, and international information. So we've already got a bill that says the national level intelligence community, we are going to cooperate with this fine bill passed this morning--"

Representative LoPresti rose to a point of order, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, point of order. Ask that he speaks to the measure at hand, which hasn't even been done yet."

The Chair addressed Representative Ward, stating:

"Representative Ward, please confine your remarks to the bill before us."

Representative Ward continued, stating:

"I'm sorry, it's relevant to me when we pass a bill that's contrary to what we are passing now. The bottom line, Mr. Speaker, this bill is going to hurt us more than it's going to help us. It causes our loyalty, which is a virtue of this state, to be put aside. And it's got a kapakahi emphasis on, more for illegitimate migration rather than legal migration, which is what this country is founded on and it's all about because we are all immigrants. Thank you."

Representative McDermott rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, I am, after a lot of thought, I am going to be voting no on this. I come from a family of immigrants that came over to this, it wasn't a country then, in fact, one of my ancestors helped with the revolution and stood up to the ruling party there.

"The concern I have, Mr. Speaker, it's going to put a spotlight on Hawaii. It's going to put a spotlight on those people who are here that aren't documented but they've been part of our communities for decades. They're our friends, they help out with things in the neighborhood, they might be a little league coach, soccer coach, whatever. But it's going to bring down the wrath and the attention of the Federal Government on Hawaii, and we don't need to do that. We may feel noble in here, that we're protecting these people who are undocumented residents, but we're putting the spotlight on them, and I think it can end up with some very brutal consequences.

"The other thing, I understand in Chicago, which went out and said, look at us, we're a sanctuary city, I understand that ICE agents are now going into the courts and questioning people, and finding some of the undocumented residents of Chicago and arresting them and deporting them. That's pretty darned intrusive, but the Federal Government has that power, and Chicago put itself in the spotlight. We don't need to do that with Hawaii.

"I know it's a bill that makes people feel, isn't this great, but I don't think anyone in here is an undocumented immigrant. It's going to focus it on them, it's going to harm them. And I would encourage members to think about this a lot more seriously.

"You also have the political rhetoric on page 2 of the bill, lines 9 through 13, and that'll be a message back to Washington, D.C. And the federal administration is powerful, they do have huge resources, and we're hurting the very people we're trying to help. So I'm voting no."

Representative Matsumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations and a few comments. I understand why this bill was introduced and why it's moving forward, but I was compelled to speak because of the former speaker from the other side of Oahu, sorry I can't remember your district.

"I think I had pointed out some issues, and that is some of the purpose language may be a little inflammatory and unnecessary. But also, based on what we do here at the Legislature, this may be more appropriate as a resolution instead of a bill, because if it does move forward, it will be a Hawaii Revised Statute in our statutes, and I think it may be more appropriate as a resolution from this body. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Har rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Evans be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

"On 195, Mr. Speaker, this is amending the county zoning power for single-family and multi-family residential dwelling units. Mr. Speaker, I'm going to be casting a no vote. The city council already is addressing this issue, and there is something, I believe, in this measure before us, where it's saying, you have to have one parking space per each bedroom. That really doesn't make that much sense. When a family that has eight children and maybe they have four bedrooms, or possibly five, they're going to have to have five parking spaces, and that's going to be physically impossible within our smaller residential lots. I don't think we need to get into this kind of management. It is before the city council, and why don't we leave it there. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. Representative Belatti moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2109, HD 1 pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce, seconded by Representative Morikawa.

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you. Mr. Speaker, I'm standing up to speak against a bill that I cosponsored. Actually, you could say that I learned belatedly, and I should've learned earlier and should have known this, the bill is making certain mandates, assuming that all residential homes will have solar water. Well, our technology has improved, and the gas company, which is a competitor, small competitor, but they're out there doing some excellent things, small competitor to Hawaiian Electric.

"Gas company has gas water heaters that are on demand. They're extremely well designed. You turn on your tap when you want hot water, bingo, the gas device, the gas water heater instantly gives you that hot water. It's very different in a, say a larger home or a more sprawled out home, you can have your bathroom over in this area with a gas water heater, you don't have to heat the water from the big electric water tank, which is clear over in this side of the house, heat that water in that big tank, heat more water than you're ever going to need for a shower, and then run that water all the way across the house to the other bedroom. That's costly, and it uses a lot of electricity, once your solar system depletes with its hot water and you have to rely upon electricity to fill up that tank, and then the hot water in the tank stays unused.

"So what I'm saying is, the gas water heaters make sense, and they're instantaneous, they're inexpensive, and they can be site-located, and only need to heat the water when you're using it in that particular location. This adds to the cost of housing and the plans for homes that won't ever need to use a solar device. So, we're taking sides in a competitive environment where the gas company has a better product, and we should be encouraging them rather than assuming everyone's going to have to have solar on their homes, and therefore if you want an exemption, you have to go through this more expensive process. So, I am a cosponsor and I oppose the bill. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, without explaining why, I would just have the words of the previous speaker entered into the Journal as my own, as a no vote, with one exception. Mr. Speaker, having lived in the third world a number of years, they not only have gas on demand water heaters, they have electrical, and my family used that in East Timor time and time again. Even the electrical are quick and efficient. So, for those reasons, I think we should offer choice, and with this bill it's basically saying it's solar or nothing. In some places, Big Island or otherwise, Kauai where it's very wooded, you're not going to get solar. So hopefully this will, through discussion, make more sense than it does right now. Thank you."

Representative Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, just briefly, in support. I would just note for my colleague from Kailua as well as Hawaii Kai, between whom my district is sandwiched, that this bill in no way prohibits gas water heaters. In fact, it opens up consumer protections that will reduce costs in the long run. Because the automatic installation of a gas water heater automatically passes costs on to the homeowner or prospective homeowner if they're buying a new home. When, by and large, solar hot water heaters are significantly cheaper and have a lower payback rating and minimal operating costs. If a gas water heater or any other technology is in fact cheaper than that, then that is permitted under this bill. Thank you very much."

No. 2109, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SOLAR WATER HEATERS," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce, with Representatives Thielen and Ward voting no, and with Representatives Har, McDermott, Souki, Tupola and Woodson being excused.

Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce, seconded by Representative Morikawa.

Representative Cachola rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, Standing Committee Report Number 208, this is a very good bill. We will be saving a lot of money if we are going to do self-insurance against property and casualty risk. This is not my bill, but it's just like what we did on the hurricane relief fund as well as others, that when we went self-insured, we save a lot of money. And that's why another bill that is on the pipeline is to be self-insured that will save us about half a billion dollars each year, for the next 30 years or more. That concept that is in the bill will save us a lot of money, practically $19 million each year. And the way I look at it, let's pass it out. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2603, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO STATE SELF-INSURANCE AGAINST PROPERTY AND CASUALTY RISKS," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce, with Representatives Har, McDermott, Souki, Tupola and Woodson being excused.

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, at the first glance of this I'm not convinced that this is the best thing to do, to put an automatic restraining order on couples who would like to part peaceful. Even though I know it's for real estate and other kinds of things, I want to study this further before I would vote for it, so with reservations, please."

Representative San Buenaventura rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Just, really short, I've been practicing family court for 30 years. In support, in strong support. And basically, these are the kind of orders that automatically occur anyway, should the party be represented and they actually go to court and seek these types of orders. If this protects and creates a level playing field for the unrepresented, it helps, usually, the woman, who is usually in a lesser financial status or ability than her spouse, from having to go to court and seek financial orders just to keep their child on their life insurance, on their medical insurance, just to keep status quo. This is long time, this is needed, occurs regularly in California, Massachusetts, and in Kauai, and it's about time it happens here in Hawaii. Thank you."

"There's no conflict and that'll remain in effect through sine die."

Representative Cachola continued to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"And with that, I will be voting no on this bill."

Representative Matsumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, no vote, brief comment. Mr. Speaker, this bill has come up probably five, six, seven, eight times. Many, many, many, many times. And each time that it comes up, the evidence gets increasingly against the bill, so maybe a time out will be better than having to go through it again, because I know it's a very intense, emotionally charged bill.

"But the bottom line is, for the safety and security of those who are in need, in need of it, I know the rural areas have said we've got to get somebody out there, and the data says that the psychologists are not actually going out there, so what the bill purports to do, exactly, is not happening, and it's, I'm sure, something that will go through third reading and conference committee and on and on. But we've been around that block, and I think the way we've decided in the past, is the best way we can decide in the future. Thank you."

Representative Mizuno rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, in support. I agree with the good Representative from Hawaii Kai, we need a time out on this bill, and that's what exactly that we did when we heard it. We passed it as a study group, and it was a psychologist that came out and said that they wanted to help with the homeless, help with mental services. In fact, they want to engage with the psychiatrists together, work together to address the concerns of our homeless, over 7,200 homeless, and over 3,000 with mental conditions.

"So I'm a little perplexed, and the Minority Leader, who was in our committee, voted up. We all voted up on this, this is just a study, so it is a timeout. So I appreciate the comments, we'll see how this goes, but it's just a study. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Creagan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support with some reservations. I think that, I thank the Chair of the Committee for Health & Human Services for converting this to a study group. I think that going forward we should look at adding some psychiatrists to that study group, and going forward, and possibly from the medical school, to ensure that it's a balanced look at this going forward, because in the other states, most of the programs that have been looked at have a balance of psychiatrists and psychologists, shaping whatever program they're going to come up with. So I think that, while this is a good idea, I think it should be doctored or shaped a little bit. Doctored, yes. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2734, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PRESCRIPTIVE AUTHORITY FOR CERTAIN CLINICAL PSYCHOLOGISTS," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce, with Representatives Creagan and Matsumoto voting aye with reservations, with Representatives Cachola, Thielen and Ward voting no, and with Representatives Har, McDermott, Souki, Tupola and Woodson being excused.

Representative Cachola rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to speak in support of Standing Committee Report 225. As you all know, we now have about over 700 short of doctors in the State of Hawaii. Some reports stated that most of the medical practitioners in 10 years will be aged 65, average. And if we don't do anything about addressing the doctor shortage, in 10 years there will be about 1,500 doctors short in the State of Hawaii. And that's why I came up with this bill, to see if there's a way we can possibly address the doctor shortage. Otherwise, the State of Hawaii and our constituents will be having a hard time having a primary care provider.

"And not only that, if we send, this is only a pilot program to allow our residents here in the State of Hawaii to study abroad because the costs of medical education in other countries, like for example the Philippines, the equivalent of tuition per semester is only about $500, comparing it with here in the United States, it's tons of money. So by coming up with that, we should at least look at ways to address the doctor shortage. Thank you."

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. On 264, relating to public lands, I am rising with reservations, and not on the amended substance of the bill, which I think is a very good attempt to clean up an area and restore an area on the Big Island, it makes sense. But my concern is, we all know how bills can start through in a broad application, get narrowed down to what they really should be, and then when conference committee comes, all of a sudden it's again enlarged. So, my reservations is more to watch this bill that it doesn't morph back into the broad application. Thank you."

"Okay, here we go again. Mr. Speaker, with reservations, please, on 265. And my concern on this is that we are taking away city and county's authority to be able to make appointments to this body. I think that's not really fair, and not a good idea. And the other thing is, the language appears to allow the small business representative to be from a bigger business on the Hawaii Community Development Authority, and I don't like that. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2122, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HAWAII COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT AUTHORITY," passed Second Reading and was

Representative DeCoite's written remarks are as follows:

"By prohibiting neonics and glyphosate will remove a tool for farmers; for the state and county agencies, it will hinder them in getting their jobs done safely. Proper application of these insecticides and herbicides is totally OK. Improper application causes the problem. I do not support removing the pest control groups from this bill. Mahalo."

No. 1756, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce.

Representative Belatti moved that the report of the Committees be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1756, HD 1 pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce, seconded by Representative Morikawa.

Representative DeCoite rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations, long comment. Mr. Speaker, pesticides don't kill, it's ignorance, stupidity, and a lack of education that kills. I'm a third-generation Native Hawaiian homestead farmer and rancher on the island of Molokai, and proud of it. I'm a mother, a grandmother, a wife, a community person, and yes, somebody that will tell you like it is.

"I'm not going to stand here to try and convince people of the forces outside of our control have targeted big corporations that decisionmakers like myself are going to wipe out the small farmers. Big business farms across the state are and have shutdown. I cannot believe some of the testimony being given by people who know nothing what to do if the so-called should hit you on the head. Farmer's deal with so many issues from weather, to bugs and pests, to vandals, to thieves, and now they have to justify a noble profession that people would not give a second chance to look at.

"Chlorpyrifos, or scientific name organophosphate, is found in insecticides, bug sprays, termite killers, lawn and garden to control pests. People use it to treat their homes for pests. It's used on golf courses. All of where the bulk of people live, play and sleep in. Yes, it is known to cause neurological disorders if you're ingesting it. Then why aren't these over-the-counter products also being removed?

"Chlorpyrifos is a widely used broad-spectrum insecticide, first registered in 1965 for ag use and pest control. Before regulatory action by the EPA phased out the residential use in 2001, applications were heavily used in urban areas where exposed populations included pregnant women. I could not believe while the biggest issue is that the insecticide affects the woman's fetus and unborn child, that we would ignore the obvious. It has been known that a woman had ingested from this product being used in her home and caused deformities, abnormalities, autism, and yet this measure is being moved forward removing out fumigating businesses that treat our houses, and allows people to continue to use the many over-the-counter bug sprays of which over 17 of these are easily purchased in our stores, and sprays and so on, the list goes on, all of which have been misused by every one of us.

"Mr. Speaker, when you use this product for cockroaches, you are to point and then shoot to the target pests. As a young child growing up, I would always recall my mom never ever hitting her intended prey, the cockroach. With one shot she would literally take the can and drown the heck out of this cockroach, knowing that one shot would have killed it.

"Housewives are the number one misusers of all insecticides purchased over-the-shelf. These insecticides are aerosols and they become, as we say, airborne, or in the words of many that have said this, drift.

"In my sardine can, or shall I say my apartment that I live in now while working here on Oahu, when I go home, the many different smells as I walk to my apartment from cooking to smoking and in some cases, yes, the bug spray. So many different smells that pass my neighbors' rooms, we can smell it. This is really what is happening. Those are the cases that has been proven to be accurate in the residential areas of all kinds of the surroundings in these areas, with the heaviest usage of the so called chlorpyrifos or organophosphate, yet not one word of taking this off the shelf. This is what was found on record of a woman's fetus and unborn babies that had levels of chlorpyrifos.

"Don't blame the farmer. Poor farmers, they take all the cracks, the innocent punished while the culprit goes free. Amazing. Well there was over 900 testimonies with the three most important bills of pesticide being heard yesterday that could change the whole scope of our farming industry, right here in Hawaii. If we're so concerned and devastated about what is happening to our children, our families, and our friends, of a dangerous, dangerous, I say again, dangerous insecticide, then allow the Department of Agriculture to continue its work, and fund them adequately so we can get to the root of the problem. Let's not forget that the regulating body here is the EPA. Oh, yeah, but they're not doing their job, according to many."

Representative Tokioka rose to yield his time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative DeCoite continued, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, as we would say, I no understand. Farmers have not been the problem, it's the lack of education on using products safely and understanding what they are used for. I never try to punish my child that does nothing wrong, I punish the one that does wrong. And isn't that the correct thing to do, Mr. Speaker? Punish them by educating them. And yes, by all means, we need to look at what else in the surrounding environment that could also contribute to the neurological disorders, the so-called drugs, ice, cocaine, smoking, alcohol, exhaust from our cars, those are the things that are also in our environment, and the secondhand smoke. If it's a fact it causes cancer and it kills, making impulse decisions on emotion without a fair hearing or looking at the facts is not cool. If it does kill, get it off of our shelves, by all means, I would support it."

"Invasive species, the influx of fire ants and coqui frogs, are spreading. MISC has asked to spray the fire ants in Nahiku of where I represent in District 13 to stop the spread of our fire ants. They also use these tools as listed. They're used to protect our watersheds, they're also used to take care of the brush alongside of the roads. We do not have the manpower nor the funds to maintain our roads, and when one of the biggest complaints my office receives is that people cannot safely turn onto Hana Highway with all the brush leaning over the roads. A lot of these issues need to be addressed, Mr. Speaker."

"I urge you to look at the scientific data. It's not the farmer who has caused many of these problems here. Let's educate ourselves on what is right. Don't let the smoke in front of you blur your vision so bad that you get lost and never find your way back to doing what is right because you're not looking at the facts."

"You can hate the company, as many mentioned so many times, but don't hate the practice. Done the right way, this product does not kill you. So I ask that you hold all offenders of misuse to the highest level of penalties and fines, but do not remove a tool that most farmers need to use as a last resort. And if you remove the tools of a surgeon, he would not be able to perform his surgery. So I ask you, Mr. Speaker, don't be a hater, be a sweet potato. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support. With due respect to my colleague who just went before me, the refutation of that argument is embarrassingly simple. Domestic product use of this chemical is to kill bugs in your house. How many people in here eat cockroaches? That's a serious question. Because we don't eat cockroaches, we use this chemical to put it on them and get rid of them. Certain agriculture, especially large ag, puts the chemical on our food, it's that simple."

Representative DeCoite rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with all due respect to my colleague from Ewa Beach, I'm not saying we're eating the cockroaches, unless you're in Thailand or some other foreign country. What I'm saying is, the release of the spray of which we are allowed to purchase over-the-counter, and it's aerosol, is what is being ingested, as we so had said earlier in the case of the woman out of New York. So, thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Creagan rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'll try and be brief. I'm rising in support for this. The chemical companies come up with wonderful chemicals to kill things. And when they first start using them, they seem wonderful, like DDT did. It was, it actually was very useful, it wiped out malaria, the malaria mosquito. We had malaria in our country, which was very prevalent in the south, southern United States and California. So it was very useful that it eradicated in the '80s mosquito here. But then the unintended consequences, all the complications of using it, so now it's banned by the WHO, except for some limited uses against malaria in South Africa and in adjoining countries."

"So we learn from experience that some of these poisons are just too poisonous to use. Europe, the EU, has banned this chemical for all uses except in greenhouses to treat brassica seedlings with a robot. So, we learn by experience, and we've learned that this, unfortunately, that this is not safe to use and that's the conclusion of the EU, is that there's no way to make this used safely without banning it. Our EPA made the same conclusion that there's no way to use this on food crops without banning it. But then our president appointed Scott Pruitt to run the EPA, and the EPA, he contravened 10,000 pages of testimony supporting the position to ban it."

"Now, in our state, because he did that, the food that comes into our state has chlorpyrifos on it. Almost all of vegetables, or many of them, and ones that're imported from Mexico are even worse. But they come in here. If we ban it here, at least the food grown here will be safe to eat. If we ban it here, our pregnant women will not be necessarily exposed."

"Now, the other problem of course is that pregnant women don't know they're pregnant until too late, and there's no guidelines currently in place by these companies to prevent pregnant women or warn pregnant women from going into the fields where this is sprayed, and it can affect their fetuses and damage their brains permanently. So the precautionary principle which our EPA was taking said that this should be banned, the EU has banned it, it's on proposition 65 listed in California. And I think we just need to protect our people by banning this. There are other options, and the chemical companies that have them, I'm sure they'll be happy to sell them to people. They work as well, they may be a little more expensive at this time, but the more they make, the less the costs, the lower costs will come. So, anyway, I just strongly support this bill."

Representative Tokioka rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative DeCoite be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ing rose, stating:

"I was just going to say, with all due respect to all my colleagues, this is second reading, there's two more committees, so I call the question."

Representative Keohokalole rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, reservations, brief comment. I think it's pretty clear that there's a lot of discussion that needs to be had when it comes to management of our nearshore marine ecosystems. Because of the complexity of that conversation and the need for broad public dialogue when it comes to that conversation, I have reservations with the measure as is written. Thank you."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Reservations, please, very serious ones, and I'd just like the comments of the previous speaker entered into the Journal as if they were my own. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ing rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support. Usually don't do this measure, but we're the only state without permits for non-commercial fishing. Literally the only state. And if you look at the fish that are the most threatened, uhu, kumu and the like, it isn't really the commercial guys, it's the hobbyists and the subsistence folks, and people that just go and use your three prongs.

"And just like hunting where you take your son, your daughter, get their license, it's like a fun thing, and it's a responsible thing, and allows us to get data on our fish stocks. And actually, if you go and talk to people who are out fishing and who do these things, they support this, because they're seeing less and less fish, and they want to be able to pass down their practices to their kids. And I advise, it's a very, very popular issue, especially for those of you who live in coastal areas where there's a lot fisher folks. Just a caveat, thank you."

Representative Thielen rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Onishi rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations and a few comments. The Committee on Water & Land, prior to this Committee on Ocean, Marine Resources, has heard this idea for many, many years. I think what the problem really is, is we just have no confidence in, right now the, what the former speaker said about having public dialogue and actually engaging the community that's impacted by it.

"We have to be careful because if we do move this forward, the department may end up passing fees and putting stuff in administrative rule that's totally not acceptable to the general public, and that has been a continuing problem within the department. So I think we need to have reservations just to send a strong message to the department, we still don't have confidence in your ability to have public dialogue. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Yamane rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, reservations. And just a note that, being an island state surrounded by water, there's very few free activities you can do with your children, and part of the fishing experience is also teaching them to take care of the 'āina. So I understand the concern that we're trying to address, however, I think there's a lot of families that would be impacted or reduce their ability to do wholesome family-oriented activities that would be supported in the community. Thank you."

Representative Fukumoto rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Yamane be entered into the Journal as her own, and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Fukumoto's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in opposition to this bill because I believe further outreach and discussion with the public is warranted before we jump into a new licensing system for non-commercial fishing. While we certainly need to preserve the limited resources of our state and protect marine life, we can do so in a way that doesn't alienate the community that will feel the impact of this measure the most. Fishing is a part of Hawaii's culture and tradition, and our local fishing community should be a part of the conversations surrounding marine sustainability and any potential licensing system.

"The report referenced in HB 1752 conducted by Conservation International and the Western Pacific Regional Fishery Management Council affirms community engagement as a key step to effectively establishing a registry, permit, or licensing (RPL) system. In fact, the study group assessed different possible RPL systems, and it did not choose one in particular due to the intricacies of the issue and the need to include stakeholders. In addition, the report offered a page and a half of issues to be carefully considered prior to establishing a system which have not yet been addressed. These issues include outreach, additional research and information gathering, funds, advisory boards, native Hawaiian rights, and enforcement.

"As a body, we have seen our fishing community in this building a great deal over the past few years as different measures were introduced that directly affected their way of life. It is a community that is involved and willing to collaborate; we should be honoring to them by including them in the process of finding solutions to marine resource problems and in creating a possible RPL system. This measure is premature, Mr. Speaker, let's talk to our community before imposing a drastic change like this one."

Representative Choy rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I want to change my reservation to a no vote. And I have a brief comment. Being that as someone said, there are very few things that are free and there are very few things that the government has got its nose in, and I think fishing should be a rite of passage that everyone should have. And it would appear that we should all have a vetting in our community before we really vote for something like this.

"I know there's a propensity now for some to say it keeps the fish stock. I think it's a bit more sophisticated than keeping the fish stock supplied properly, but I would say this one needs a lot of study, a lot of dialogue, a lot of feedback from those who not only have a vested interest in it, but for those who live in the surrounding ocean community that we call our home. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Lowen rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. Reefs across the globe, not just in Hawaii, are in serious peril right now with climate change and global warming. We had a huge bleaching event in Hawaii in 2014 that had almost 50% mortality rate. A fishing permit, keeping fish on the reef and protecting our resources, a fishing permit is a large part of this.

"The intent and the effect, I don't believe would be to limit, would not be to limit access to fishing, or to make it really costly so that people could not participate, it's to preserve the ability to continue doing it into the future. Without a fishing permit, there's no opportunity to educate people about how to fish responsibly. There's no opportunity to collect data so that we have a better understanding of our resources and how to protect them.

"We have a choice to make here. We can take the view that people are going to react poorly to this and not take any action, and the consequence of that in the future could be that there's not fishing at all. It sounds dramatic, but I think the science is there, and there's serious threats to the resource, so that needs to be considered when we look at this."

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Strong support. I'd like the words of the previous speaker entered into the Journal as if they were my own," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative LoPresti continued, stating:

"I'd also like to share, I've spoken with the fishermen in my community, and especially the old timers are strongly in support of this. Because when they're fishing and they see some of these younger guys come out, and they try to ask them, hey, don't take that fish, they're breeding, they're in breeding season. The younger fishermen don't care and they say they don't know and they don't care.

"Now, I know that's not true for everybody, but this is a prime opportunity to help educate people for a nominal fee. It's been mentioned before, we're the only state in the country that has no basic fee for fishing. I grew up in the Midwest. I was not prevented from having wonderful experiences with my father and my uncle and my grandpa because we had to get a $10 fishing license. Rather, we were educated about fish, and we helped them record fishing takes.

"It's been noted also, that the largest depletion of our nearshore reefs of the fishes are from those doing it recreationally. And this, again, will help educate, and help take that data. So, it's beyond important that we do this. Thank you."

Representative Ing rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Lowen be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1752, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO AQUATIC LIFE," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Judiciary, with Representatives DeCoite,

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations with a brief comment. This is a good bill because it says new construction should have a category 3 hurricane shelter. My difficulty with it is that it cut the heart out of what the actual original bill was, and that was what a nuclear fallout was added to it. The point is, it was a good wakeup call bill, now it's just another vanilla ice cream bill. Because of that, it's with reservations."

"Strong support, Mr. Speaker. We know we funded the Filipino burial assistance last year, but it's only good for one year, that's July 1, 2017 to June 30, 2018. So, this bill is to create a special fund so that it will continue to be funded. And I'd like to request written remarks inserted in the Journal. Thank you."

Representative Cachola's written remarks are as follows:

"The sacrifices of Filipino soldiers played a vital role in the Allied victory in the Pacific as their numerous guerrilla actions provided United States forces with time to build and prepare for the Allied counterattack. Filipino soldiers fought side-by-side with United States forces to secure their island nation as the strategic base from which the Allied forces launched their final effort to bring an end to World War II.

"Due to their efforts, Act 105 was established to provide burial assistance to Filipino veterans living in Hawaii. This Act began on July 1, 2017 and will remain in effect until June 30, 2018. After such time, funding will discontinue. To avoid reintroducing this bill every two years, a special fund will be created through H.B. 1944, HD 1. Current funding does not meet the veterans' basic burial obligations for repatriation of remains and other funeral expenses, hence funding must then be determined by the Legislature with the help of the Department of Veterans Affairs.

"I stand in strong support of this bill."

"Premiums under Medicare are taken from retirees' Social Security checks. There's no regulation or standards for that at all, as far as I know. So maybe that's something that majority could look at, but I'm against the measure as it is. Thank you, sir"

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations with brief comments. Three brief points, Mr. Speaker. We should not pass bills that are not enforceable, there's no way we're going to enforce this. Secondly, should we be the ones saying what can and cannot be bought on the internet? I don't think so. And thirdly, this asks for big brother. How are you going to enforce something when somebody's on their internet and they say, hey we're ordering cigarettes? Other than the NSA or other kinds of abusive government agencies, how are you going to enforce this, unless you really spy on the citizens? This is a slippery slope on which we should not venture. Thank you."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"With reservations, brief comment. We've seen this bill multiple times, and we know that it's good so that we protect our children. However, one of the things we don't take into consideration is that fines are enforced by police officers, and we never give any more funding to more officers in our district. Despite the huge population boom, we've had the same amount of officers in our sector. We only have two patrol officers on every shift. Which means that adding on more things, same officers, either one, we won't enforce it, or two, they'll be doing things that we definitely need them to be focusing on other things that are more pressing. So those are my concerns, and obviously, it has a little ways to go. Thank you."

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising in support of the measure as it's been amended and I just wanted to thank the chair for narrowing the focus of the bill. Originally, it would have said anyone that had like a six pack of beer that was going out to fish in a boat would have been committing an illegal act, and I thought that was pretty broad overreach, but this is much better. It's saying if you're, it's prohibiting liquor consumption for bathers, swimmers within 1,000 yards of any beach, and what it's aimed at is the flotillas that end up being kind of drunken. So, I think the bill is much better put together at this point. Thank you."

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising with a reservation on 376. It's relating to urban redevelopment. I am very pleased that the bill has been narrowly focused to the area that needs this to take place on the Big Island in an industrial park area, but my reservation is, I have seen bills go through this body, go over to the Senate, and come back here, end up in conference committee, and bingo it's back, broadly applying to everywhere. So I'm just doing the reservation to say, until that final measure comes before us on the final day for vote, I'm concerned. Don't broaden it. Keep it focused on this special project, and that does make sense then. Thanks."

Representative Har rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support with slight, slight reservations. I want to be very clear, I support the intent of this measure, I think it is absolutely laudable. This is a Women's Legislative Caucus measure. I think my biggest concern though is, we always talk about the devil is in the details.

"I would draw the body's attention specifically to Walgreens's opposition. The fact of the matter here is that here in Hawaii we do not have any drug enforcement agent sanctioned facilities, which would dispose of these medications. Pharmaceutical waste that is generated by pharmacies cannot be destroyed in any other way. In addition, it would be against federal law for Walgreens to ship pharmaceutical waste for disposal.

"So, as this bill moves on to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce, I hope that we can find some resolution to this, because I think this is a wonderful measure. Many of us know that twice a year the Attorney General's Office has the take back drug initiative. So this would be very convenient for many of our residents, including our, most importantly, our kūpuna. But right now I think, again, we just have an issue with how we're going to get there with respect to enforcing this bill. So for those reasons, I'm with very slight reservations. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

ORDER OF THE DAY

REPORTS OF STANDING COMMITTEES

Representative Lee, for the Committee on Energy & Environmental Protection, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 446-18) recommending that H.B. No. 1714, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative Belatti moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1714, HD 1 pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Morikawa.

Representative Har rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support with reservations, please. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of the bill was to clarify the parking fee exemption for EVs parked in non-metered parking stalls by specifying that electric vehicles shall be exempt from parking fees for no longer than 24 hours. I don't have an issue with that.

"My concern arises from the amendments that were made. Specifically, now the bill authorizes DOT to adopt rules for registration and license plates for electric vehicles, and exempts electric vehicles from parking fees and HOV lane restrictions.

"As someone who lives on the west side, the point of the HOV lanes is to incentivize people to carpool so that they are taking cars off of the freeway and they're not exacerbating the traffic problems that we have. If you have a person in an EV who only has one person in that car, that defeats the whole purpose of the HOV lane. So for those reasons, Mr. Speaker, I stand with reservations. Thank you."

Representative LoPresti rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Ruling on a potential conflict. I have an electric car and it's awesome," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative LoPresti continued to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Strong support. I just want to say, we've incentivized the fossil fuel industry for more than 100 years. It's going to take a little bit of incentive, and this is very modest, to try to incentivize people to move off of that.

"Furthermore, as somebody who lives on the west side and uses the HOV with an electric car, I can attest that there is lots and lots and lots of room in the HOV for lots of people to still carpool and to continue this incentive. It is working. There's still a lot more room to go, and there's a lot of room in the HOV lane for people to carpool or get electric cars. Thanks."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations. I think there's new data that says we should disincentivize this, at least, it's suggested so far. As we had with the research into ethanol, the amount of energy it took to produce the ethanol was not worth the amount of energy that was being saved by using ethanol. And some of the more recent studies have indicated that the amount of energy for the battery production and the use of the electric car, the actual building and the operation of an electrical car actually equals more than the electrical car is saving for the environment. So, Mr. Speaker, I think we should be contemplative and research-oriented as we proceed with these favorite vehicle legislation, such as this. Thank you."

Representative Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"I recognize it's second reading, Mr. Speaker. In support. I'd just like to clarify something, and for anyone who understandably raises concerns about electric vehicles beginning to drive in HOV lanes or park around the city, I just note that those rules were adopted back in 2012 and that's been the case already for six years, and this bill doesn't enable them to do anything more. Thank you."

Representative Har rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Second time. Again, I appreciate the comments that have been made by the previous speakers and I realize that the HOV exemption has been in place, but again, that defeats the whole purpose of the HOV lanes. It's to get people out of their cars to carpool so that we can have less traffic on the freeway.

"Again, as somebody from the west side, and a previous speaker from Ewa Beach had noted that that lane is empty, that's not the point. The point is that the HOV lane is to be used for people with two or more in their cars, because we are trying to incentivize people to get out, instead of single people driving in their cars alone, we're trying to incentivize people to carpool so there are less cars on the freeway, so that we can deal with the traffic problem that we have, specifically from the west side. So for those reasons, I continue to stand with reservations. Thank you."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Just with reservations. Appreciate the conversation and look forward to more of it in Finance. Mahalo."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you. We've had this bill multiple times and I'm going reservations for the same reasons. Obviously, one of the school impact districts is the Leeward District, and that includes Aiea complex, Campbell complex, Kapolei complex, Pearl City, Waipahu. So, we've always thought about this as something that would help affordable housing, but again, our schools need a lot of help as well. Mahalo."

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Reservations. I'd like the words of the previous speaker adopted as if they were my own," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative LoPresti continued, stating:

"In Ewa Beach and the west side, we're seeing so much development with so little infrastructure put in. People are moving there because it's where the affordable houses are, but this pattern of putting the cart before the horse has to end. We need to make sure we have infrastructure for transportation and infrastructure for education there at least concurrently with, if not before we put in the housing.

"Every day I'm getting letters from my constituents complaining that we're still building more houses, more houses and more houses, and there's been very little of anything done to mitigate traffic. We just approved, not we, but the State had approved, Hoopili going in there, and the DOT allowed them to do that without putting in the traffic mitigation measures, and now we're living through that, and it's getting worse every day. And we need these fees to help have the infrastructure for the families buying the houses. Otherwise, there's no point in having houses there. Thank you."

Representative Gates rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations. May I please adopt the words of the Minority Leader as well as the Chair of VMI into the record as if they were my own," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Har continued, stating:

"And I would just note for the record that, currently the amount of school impact fees that are being collected are not even enough. So, again, as a previous speaker had noted, that affordable housing is where all the houses are being built on the west side, that's why people are moving out to the west side, because that's where the affordable housing is going. And so, currently the school impact fees are not even enough to build the infrastructure required to assist all of the housing, to accommodate all of the housing that we're building. And so to pass this bill out would further degrade the quality of life for the folks living on the west side, given the fact that their infrastructure is not even appropriate at this time. So for those reasons, I'm with reservations. Thank you."

Representative Tupola rose to respond, stating:

"Still with reservations, and I just want to thank the previous two speakers and insert into the record that the current school impact fee for single-family units is $3,359, and for multi-family dwellings $1,796. And I'm in strong agreement that there, maybe we should have a bill to increase those so that we can actually get the sufficient amount of schools and capacity that we need out there. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1804, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SCHOOL IMPACT FEES," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Gates, Har, LoPresti and Tupola voting aye with reservations, and with Representatives DeCoite, Ing, McDermott, Nakamura, Souki and Todd being excused.

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support, quick comment. In the hearing, two of the issues that were brought up by public safety was not the lack of a visitation center, but that we don't have an ongoing program to make sure that the inmates who do reach the level that they can have those visits, have ongoing and consistent visits with the family.

"The second part was, which is a good suggestion, for those who have graduated to the appropriate level to have a visitation center that is outside of the prison walls, outside of the facility, so that they can interact with their family members appropriately.

"In the women's facility, they have a visitation center that was built by the community, but also, they use Fernhurst, which is a work furlough area, where they can interact with family members away from the confinements of the facility.

"So I think those two suggestions should be taken into consideration since it wasn't just the lack of a visitation center, but more things that we should be looking into to make sure that incarcerated families can interact with their loved ones. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations, brief comment. Mr. Speaker, this may be a needed effort, but to create another office, we're talking about the Office of Medical Cannabis. Appropriately named, but in terms of what it needs to do, we assumed when this legislation passed the measure, that that would be in the Department of Health. To create another office, and I see it's got an appropriation, means it's going to increase the cost government. And some of us believe there should be an office of international relations more so than an office of cannabis. So with those reservations, Mr. Speaker, I will wait to see what happens to this bill. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, 515 I have a no vote for. The reason, if I may proceed, is quite simple. As you know, in Waikiki and other places in other states, there's a resort fee that's attached to either your towel or your participation in various parts of the building, which generally are put on the bill, and unless you contest it, you have to pay it.

"To me, the bill the way it's written, it says if the resort fee is mandatory, you've got to pay the TAT. Right now, they don't pay the TAT, and if you're a hotel, what you're going to do is simply say, look it's not mandatory, but they're still going to stick it on the bill, and unless the customer contests it, they're going to pay it, and then the hotelier will not have to pay the TAT.

"So I'm not sure if the wording really gets at what the problem is. The problem has been that this resort fee has escaped the TAT tax, and this one is to make it happen, and I'm not sure if it's going to work. So until the wording comes clear to me or is changed, I am no on this issue. Thank you."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Just reservations, looking forward to discussion in Finance. Thank you."

Representative Har rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tokioka rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Strong support. I wanted to clarify my perspective on the bill, which is rather different than what was previously mentioned. Currently, there's no legal definition of a resort fee, and therefore you can have hoteliers 'lower their rates,' quote, unquote, to $50 a night and then charge you a mandatory $200 resort fee, and that allows them to avoid the TAT taxes. The only way that those resort fees are really practically ever taken off is if you gnash your teeth and stamp your feet at the front desk and make a scene, and then they'll remove it for you, maybe. And this helps to close the loophole that I think is being abused. Thank you."

No. 2432, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE TRANSIENT ACCOMMODATIONS TAX," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Har, Tokioka and Tupola voting aye with reservations, with Representative Ward voting no, and Representatives DeCoite, Ing, McDermott, Nakamura, Souki and Todd being excused

Thank you."

"Mr. Speaker, I'm rising to speak on Standing Committee Report 593, and I'm, at this point, going to cast a no vote. I'm hoping that the sponsor of the measure will give some insight to those of us that do not sit on the Labor Committee.

"What this is doing is taking the law enforcement divisions within all of the different departments where they are presently embedded and know those department's functions, and it's putting them all into the Office of the Attorney General. I can't see how this is going to provide for more knowledgeable and better law enforcement on the different measures. I'm thinking particularly, Department of Land and Natural Resources, for their enforcement division is right within the department and knows very well all of the different rules for that department, and then uprooting them and putting them in Office of the Attorney General, I don't think it's going to be more effective for preservation and protection of our environmental natural resources.

"So, I hope to learn more about this. It is going on to Finance, it will come back to us for, I assume, for another vote if Finance decides that this makes sense. And at this point, I'm a no vote. Thank you."

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations, quick comment. Thank you. Same concerns as the Representative from Kailua, but specifically in regards to DLNR, we've had issues with not understanding, one, the community, and two, within the department, and I feel like putting them even farther away from it, that's my main concern. It's just those interactions that those officers have had and making sure that we keep them as close to the situation and department as possible so they can be more knowledgeable about it, rather than more distant and not sure why they're at certain incidents and arresting people that they're not even sure what's going on. So, that's my concern, obviously it has a ways to go. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, reservations with a brief comment. This bill comes up for graduate students year after year, after year, after year. And having been a graduate assistant, okay, you don't get paid very much money, but you do well academically, as well as given priorities to learn how to teach and to do things.

"Why the heck do we unionize it, unless there's really a super grievance, I'm not sure whether we're just doing this to increase the cost of the University of Hawaii, which already is a concern, because everybody says that tuition is going through the roof.

"So, Mr. Speaker, I hope as we have done in the past, think very seriously about this, and why the students need to be unionized is still questionable. Thank you."

Representative Choy rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. The point of this bill is to allow the graduate students to collectively bargain. I believe everybody has the right to collectively bargain, and I think this bill does that. So, I'm in strong support. Thank you."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. There were actually five issues that the graduate students had with the college, and specifically with the office of graduate assistants. We've been trying to work on two of the five, which one was as simple as there was no manual telling them what the procedure was as far as when you're a graduate assistant, what the payrate is, when you get paid, how recent or late they give you notice that you're going to continue on to the next semester, so that part's been resolved.

"The other part was that the notice that they gave students when they actually had maybe not decided to continue them on for the next semester was too short for them, and a lot of them didn't have that tuition figured out before that they were cut off.

"So, again, I think that whatever happens with this, is what happens. But we really should get into the nitty gritty of what those issues were and just start to solve it with the university, because they can start to do some of that stuff now. So, thank you."

"Mr. Speaker, I rise with a no vote with a very brief comment. In its present form, this is a hit against the small business community, the mom and pop, the guys who fix cars under trees or under Quonset huts or otherwise. The reason why I voted no, and I'll say exactly what I said in the committee, RICO, who is the progenitor of this bill, has no data that we have been shown for any citations.

"When you do something like this where you're going to fine people for not having their license displayed, like a restaurant doesn't have their pass displayed, and the guy's got to have something in his pocket also that says that he's kosher. Why we want to go after these small guys I would agree with if we have, 2017 we had so many pirate mechanics. There's no evidence that RICO knew, in the hearing. So, I would suggest for those who are going to hear this bill in the future, if RICO doesn't come up with some reason, this is simply just a premeditated attack on the small guys who are trying to make a living by being mechanics.

"And with that, Mr. Speaker, I would hope everybody would pursue this so we don't pinch the small business community more than they already are being done so. Thank you."

Representative McDermott rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, 670, I stand in support. Very briefly, I'd like to thank the committee chair for hearing the measure. He always makes me feel like a fully enfranchised member of the committee and cares about the input that I'm giving, and asks for it.

"I'd also like to thank my colleague from Ewa Beach. We had a town hall meeting, it was in my district, but I invited him out to hear the concerns of the residents regarding this road. He took two, two and a half hours out of his night, a very busy individual, but he saw the concerns of these folks, because it's a safety issue.

"Very briefly, the road, the City owns one third of the road, then the golf course owns a third of the road, then the Navy owns the final third. Well, as you can imagine, the only part of the road that's not maintained is the part that the golf course owns. So that's when cars get dumped there, or refrigerators, or tires, or trash. The golf course is less than receptive to pick it up. And it's only about 800 meters, but it's 800 meters right in the middle of the road. So it creates quite a problem for the elected officials, because we get all the phone calls, and we call the City, and they say it's private property, we can't do anything about it.

"To that regard, the golf course has said they will give us the road, previously. I went over there this morning, as a matter of fact, trying to get it for a dollar. We can worry about improvements down the road, but if we can get this, we can be in the process of bringing this up to snuff, because there're 1,400 families that live in Iroquois Point, and this is a problem for them.

"So, that being said, I'd like to thank the chair and my colleague from Ewa Beach for taking the time out to come out there and hear the concerns of people that weren't in his district. I found that truly remarkable. Thank you, sir."

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, in strong support. This is extremely important for the Ewa Beach community. This is a road that has brush overflowing on it that children are walking down at 4:00 in the morning, 5:00 in the morning, to get to the school or get to the bus, and walking back at 7:00 p.m. or later, just to get home, along a very dark road with speeding cars and no sidewalks and dumped cars, it's a mess. And we really owe it to the people in the Iroquois Point community to do this. So, very, very strong support, and thanks to my colleague for taking the lead on this."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, I'm rising to speak against Standing Committee Report 696. This is relating to transient accommodations, or TVUs as they're known in the community. Evidently, the neighbor islands, Mr. Speaker, have special use permits to allow these kinds of short-term rentals on the neighbor islands. Oahu does not, and so I'm speaking against the bill as an Oahu Representative, and one on the Windward side, an area that is so badly hit by the illegal short-term rentals. Those short-term rentals take away housing from our local folks in the community. They can't find rentals because they're all on this short-term basis.

"So this bill, I understand the proponents are trying to come up with something that's going to help solve this. Well, it won't help solve it for Oahu, and I'll tell you why. What it's doing, it's developing a process, it's telling the City and County of Honolulu, among the others, to develop a process to expediently issue special use permits, and that's for the short-term rentals. So it's saying, City and County, we'll give you $1 million from the State, $1 million, and you have to in return develop a special use permit for short-term rentals.

"And then on top of that, Mr. Speaker, we put in a process that says all of those illegal operators now that are going to be first in the door to try to get the short-term rental permits, all those illegal operators then are granted a speedy, expedited process for addressing an appeal to the City that would be filed by any of the short-term operators that were denied a special use permit.

"So, number one, we've got the $1 million on Oahu. We tell the City, put in a special use permit system, which they haven't had, for good reason, and the special use permit is for issuing short-term rental permits in our Windward side and other areas of the island where these short-term rentals, the illegal operators, have been operating. Then we say, okay, you illegal operators, if you're denied the permit, you get an expedited appeal process.

"So what do you think that's going to do, I mean what message is that, to these illegal operators? Number one, be first in the door, tell the City you want the $1 million from the State, get going, let us have our special use permit, we want to make this something that we can go ahead and do all the time in our neighborhoods.

"Number two, you denied it to me? I'm going to be 9,486th in line behind all these others that are appealing your denial of my special use permit. So we'll flood the City and we will get what we want, which is to be able to turn our residential areas into resort destinations, taking away the housing from our kids, our local folks, giving it out to the tourists in residential areas, and degrading the integrity of those residential areas.

"I know the bill was well intentioned, but as it applies to Oahu, it's a terrible, terrible bill, Mr. Speaker, and it will destroy the integrity of our neighborhoods. A lot of us are fighting back against this, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Matsumoto rose to yield her time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Thielen continued, stating:

"Thank you very much. A lot of us are fighting back against this, and we're saying. A lot of us as we go door to door, Mr. Speaker, you can tell when there's a dead street, where they're all the illegal rentals, no slippers outside the door, and those lock things that you punch in a code that those operators give to someone calling from the mainland or from overseas. You punch in the code and then you go in. The places are sterile, no bicycles in the garage, everything locked up until the short-term renter appears. And then those maybe further down the street don't have a community, the communities that we've always loved and treasured.

"When my family was young, Mr. Speaker, we never locked our front door, we had a hook and eye on it. That was our evening lock. You don't have that anymore, particularly when you have strangers from all over the world coming in for two, three, four nights. You have the mess of the trash they leave behind, because they don't care, they don't pick it up, they don't put the blue bin out, the green bin out, the grey bin out, none of that.

"And this bill is creating, with $1 million, creating a process for the City and County to go ahead and just open up our neighborhoods to become tourist destinations for short-term stays. And then it's doing the other thing, Mr. Speaker, it will erode away a large part of their $1 million to have to handle the multitude of contested case proceedings that they have, if they ever do deny any of these short-term rental permits.

"So I really would ask Oahu members in sensitive areas, Windward side certainly, other areas where they've been hit, I would ask them to rethink their support for this bill, and I would hope that the bill does not survive to make it over to the Senate side. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I'd like to commend my colleague from Kailua, and with that, a no vote. Thank you."

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I have some reservations with this item. Historically, I had something to do in developing tourist accommodation tax, and throughout the years I've seen that the tax has been raided, so to speak, by different types of function other than the purpose of marketing.

"The tourist accommodation tax was developed for marketing purposes, and to provide assistance to the counties in the pursuit of tourism. And I see that we're beginning to move away from these things here. The language in the bill here, as far as mitigating types of problems that they have because of tourism, I don't know how you can define mitigation, it's such a general term, you can say the whole state is mitigated by tourism. So to get a particular area that's going to claim that they're mitigated is going to lead to a lot of litigation and a lot of problems, besides, again, taking money away from tourism where it should be used for two items. One is for marketing, one is to assist the counties in the pursuit of tourism. Thank you very much."

Representative Ward rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I wasn't clear whether the previous speaker was for or against the bill."

Speaker Saiki then stated:

"He was with reservations."

Representative Souki rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I believe I said with reservations because I want to see as this bill proceeds how it's going to effect, but at this moment I have some grave reservations."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in strong support. I want to thank the introducer, thank all of those who put it together. It's definitely an issue, not just in our community, across the island as well as across the state. One clarification I wanted to bring up is that on line six and seven of the last page, it says that if there's no current registration it should be considered derelict.

"I just wanted to share with the members, since a lot of us have been going back and forth on how to help out with this issue, that currently in the law, in 298, derelict is already defined as this. So there's five things that make a car derelict, which means that you can just haul it whenever you want. One, is that the registered owner doesn't live at the address anymore. Two, is that the registered owner says that's not my car. Three, if the license plate and the VIN number are scratched out, it's derelict. Four, if it hasn't been registered in that period or previous years. And five, if it's not registered in that county, it's considered derelict and you can haul it.

"So as far as those people who are trying to solve the issue, this helps us. This bill helps and as well knowing what derelict helps, so that we can all be active and help out in our communities, since it's a growing epidemic everywhere now. So, thank you."

Representative Gates rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in strong support. This measure is very important to my District 44. Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, thank you. In support. I just wanted to share a little bit, because I did actually interface with the county clerks in Oregon that do the all mail-in voting across the state. They've seen in the regular elections about a 70% to 80% turnout, which is really high. And I asked them how they detect for fraud, and it's actually a really, really strong, I think, tight-knit system where they actually check five different points in the signature matched up with the ballot, so they've actually been able to do away with a lot of those skepticisms that it'd be fraudulent, and they showed me how they do it, so I kind of sort of became a believer once I saw that. And I think that if we can try to embrace it, even as a pilot, it could be a good idea, especially if we model it after states that have gone through all of those issues and worked them out. Thank you."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising to speak against this bill, and I voted against it in committee hearing as well. Mr. Speaker, I would like to thank the chair for removing the political rhetoric in the bill that was, I think, very inappropriate to be in a measure before this body. But the difficulty is that the entire bill is political. And what it is doing, I'm afraid, it's going to put Hawaii in the, whatever you call those things on a rifle, the crosshairs, in the crosshairs of the Federal Government.

"We can take the example in Chicago, which is a sanctuary city, and the Federal Government has come down pretty hard on undocumented residents back there. So, in a bill that we're trying to put forward to be a feel-good bill to protect our undocumented residents, what we're actually doing, I believe, is putting them at significant harm. These are people that are in our communities that some of us know personally, some of us know of them, some of us see them, maybe they're coaches of our athletic teams, maybe they're volunteers on beach cleanups, you name it, what they are, they're part of our communities.

"And the way to protect them is not by passing this bill, because this bill is saying to Washington D.C., to the administration, come get them. Look what we're doing, we're saying you can't, we're picking a fight with you. Well, they're a heck of a lot bigger than we are, they have a heck of a lot more resources, and they're going to then come after the very people that we should be trying to protect. It's a feel-good bill, Mr. Speaker, but it doesn't do good for the undocumented residents in our communities.

"I hope people will think hard about this. It's a pretty dramatic step to say we're going to be the sanctuary state in the Pacific. And that's, I think, going to have a very sad backlash against the people that we would like to protect in our communities. Thank you."

Representative McDermott rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"No vote, brief comment. To summarize, having spoken rather lengthily on third reading, I would just summarize by saying, this bill is going to cost us money and our reputation.

"Money, I noted that 25% of our budget is actually federal money, why should we want to jeopardize that? Let's be like Mayor Caldwell, he saw $1.5 billion coming out of the feds for the rail. And anybody on this floor who voted for rail should think twice, because $750 million is still sitting with the Federal Government. Why do we want to poke our fingers in the eyes of the administration?

"And then the reputation is, we have been known to do that, I think this will even make it more intensive, like sharpen our fingernails so when we poke the next time it'll hurt even all the more.

"Mr. Speaker, we don't need to do that, this is a nation of 51. I would just put it this way. We are part of a bigger entity called the Federal Government, where 50 states of which we are one of those, and to say that we're not going to cooperate with the mothership just doesn't make any sense.

"And as my colleague from Kailua said, this is more of a political statement. Mr. Speaker, political statements belong in resolutions, not in law, bills like this. So let's get over it and get on with it, and let this thing go on the wayside the way it did with, it came up in the City and County and they realized that, hey we don't want to cut our nose to spite our face for economic reasons and for reputational reasons. For those reasons, Mr. Speaker, let us all contemplate what we're doing here. Thank you."

Representative Choy rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tokioka rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Thielen be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Har rose in opposition to the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to Standing Committee Report number 748-18, HB 1994, HD 2, Relating to Law Enforcement. This bill would prohibit state law enforcement agencies from complying with federal immigration detainers or honoring requests for 'non-public information.' I oppose this measure for the following reasons: HB 1994 contravenes federal law and could result in the loss of federal funds, it is unconstitutional, and it opens-up our law enforcement agencies to liability.

"First, HB 1994 may cause the loss of federal funding because it contravenes federal law. As stated by the Department of the Attorney General, 'it is the position of federal authorities that when federal grantees commit to following all relevant federal laws when they sign for their grant awards, it includes compliance with section 1373.' Title 8 U.S.C., section 1373, subsection (b) reads:

... no person or agency may prohibit, or in any way restrict, a Federal, State, or local government entity from doing any of the following with respect to information regarding the immigration status...

Thus, noncompliance with title 8 U.S.C., section 1373 could result in the loss or delay of federal funding.

"Secondly, HB 1994 is unconstitutional. As the ACLU testified, 'the non-warrant exceptions to the prohibition against honoring immigration detainers are contrary to the 4th Amendment and therefore, unconstitutional.' The exceptions made in section 4(b)(2) of HB 1994 states that a Hawaii law enforcement agency would allow for an ICE detainer request under certain conditions, even without a judge's signature or a warrant. It is this section specifically that is unconstitutional.

"Finally, HB 1994 leaves our law enforcement agencies open to liability. The Maui Department of the Prosecuting Attorney testified that 'this measure does not protect state and county law enforcement agencies from liability if a person who should have been held on an immigration detainer is released pursuant to this measure and the person victimizes members of the public.' We should be considering the protection of our local and state law enforcement. We should not be setting them up for possible lawsuits.

"It is for these reasons, Mr. Speaker, that I rise in opposition to this measure."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. No vote, quick comment. When it came up last year, my vote was in the same regards, which is, us dictating through state law what law enforcement officers should do, which at the time of incidence, giving them the autonomy to decide and as an agency determine if it's a safety issue or if they should comply, I think we should leave it at that level so that there's no interference from the state side, and issues that may or may not regard safety of the citizens. So, thank you very much."

Representative Matsumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, on 754 and 755, for expeditious sake, please note my reservations and comments to the Journal."

Representative McKelvey's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker I stand with strong reservations on both HB 2471 and HB 2727 which seek in essence to make all video games gambling and pay public monies to create another level of bureaucracy to oversee the content of all video games and labeling.

"Despite the claims that this is to protect the keiki, the average gamer today is 35 years old with 20% percent of Americans over the age of 50 playing video games at least once per week. Additionally, Mr. Speaker, 67% of parents play video games with their children at least once per week.

"The assertions in the preambles quite frankly are sensationalist opinions rather than scientific facts.

"It would be helpful for the chair of the committee to have a comprehensive understanding of the in-game mechanisms this legislation is seeking to address before advancing something so overboard and draconian it will not only be unenforceable but create economic harm to our current diversification efforts.

"While both measures inaccurately compare the reward system of 'loot boxes' which are in-game mechanisms to gambling and being similar to slot machines, HB 2471 legally includes all reward-based games and video game loot boxes gambling. Loot boxes do not constitute gambling. In general, for an activity to constitute gambling, it must meet three elements: staking something of value (consideration) for a chance to win something of value (prize) and something of value is given to the 'House' which gets a cut for the chance to play. Loot boxes do not satisfy those elements.

"Like opening a package of baseball cards, customers might not know exactly what they are getting until they open the loot box, but they are guaranteed to get something. Loot boxes may reward the gamer with a sought-after virtual item (e.g., a hard-to-find object) or a more pedestrian item, often a combination of both. However, players always get something for use within the game, not outside the game. All loot boxes contain virtual items.

"There is no 'prize' because you cannot win something of value in the real world. Whatever worth those virtual items have, it is limited to within a virtual universe. Nor can one cash them out legally as the terms of service prohibit it. So, the virtual items found in loot boxes have no 'value' in the real world.

"If it is the keiki the proponents seek to protect, in my humble opinion the most effective tool available to consumers today in limiting unwanted content are the parental control features available on all devices used for playing video games.

"More to the point—why is this legislation aimed at video games while ignoring, for instance, sports cards? Who will be responsible for monitoring games with 'random rewards'? How often will they audit game publishers? Who will they audit? Who will do the auditing? Who will bear that expense? What is to prevent a publisher from offering 'clean' code up to an auditor and then going right back to the 'exploitive' code after the audit completes?

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker." [Note: See Stand. Com. Rep. No. 755-18, H.B. No. 2727, HD 1, for further remarks.]

Representative Har rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2471, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CONSUMER PROTECTION," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives McKelvey and Say voting aye with reservations, with Representatives Har and Tokioka voting no, and with Representatives DeCoite, Ing, Nakamura, Onishi and Woodson being excused.

Representative Takumi, for the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 755-18) recommending that H.B. No. 2727, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance.

Representative Belatti moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2727, HD 1 pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance, seconded by Representative Morikawa.

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, on 754 and 755, for expeditious sake, please note my reservations and comments to the Journal."

Representative McKelvey's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker I also stand with very strong reservations on HB 2727 which seeks to require all video games sold that feature a system of further purchasing to 'prominently disclose and publish to the consumer the probability rates of receiving each type of randomized reward' and further labeling requirements.

"HB 2727 inaccurately states that video games allow players to 'purchase changes at wining rewards within games, like a slot machine.'

"'Randomized reward' can mean anything. When I play a RPG like Lord of the Rings Online and my team defeats the Watcher, say; the Watcher will drop some 'loot.' That is, a random piece of in-game equipment; perhaps several such including rare legacy items.

"Does this mean that I and my teammates are in danger of being harmed?"

"Rather than having the state mandating its own warning labels that video games are gambling, which I believe violates federal law, this body should lobby to strengthen ESRB ratings. These established ratings, when conspicuously placed with its recognizable and trusted icons and other descriptors, allow parents to quickly and easily identify in-game features they may not want their children to access, including digital purchases.

"That Lord of the Rings Online should have a big red sticker that warns purchases of the dangers of gambling addiction? That when we enter a 'dungeon' to fight the Balrog, that a big alert should pop up that details every possible bit of loot the dragon might ward and the odds of receiving each one?"

"Again, why is this measure also only targeting video games? If a warning is required on Madden Football or Star Wars Battlefront II, then surely every product on a store shelf that offers a 'random reward' should likewise be labeled as potentially harmful and addictive? Magic the Gathering? Harmful? Fleer Football Stars 2018? Harmful. Chocolate Kinder Joy. Addictive! Delicious, but harmful to our youth!

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker." [Note: See Stand. Com. Rep. No. 754-18, H.B. No. 2471, HD 1, for further remarks.]

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising in strong support of the measure, and I want to applaud the sponsors of this measure. I wasn't aware, Mr. Speaker, that embedded in some of the video games is a device that really encourages gambling and gambling addiction, and these are games that our kids are using.

"So, it's something that has kind of gone under the radar, and I am very pleased that these three sponsors are bringing it out into the open so we can really take a look at this more seriously, because we're enabling gambling addiction in our youth, and I'm glad we're going to take some steps to reverse that. Thank you."

Representative Say rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Once more, I'll change my vote that I was a no from the committee, as a with reservations, thanks to a member who educated me on this issue. Thank you."

Representative Tokioka rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Same request, Mr. Speaker. I was a no vote in the CPC Committee and I'd like to change that on this vote today for reservations. Thank you."

Representative Takayama's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to support, with reservations, H.B. 1774, HD 1, relating to collection of restitution for crime victims. As the title implies, this measure is a well-intended proposal to assist crime victims in receiving court-ordered restitution.

"My concerns arise from the legal burden this measure places on employers of former offenders to collect and monitor their restitution payments. This may result in employers choosing to fire or simply not hire someone because of the burden of becoming a collection agent for the State. This will add to the many obstacles already faced by former offenders trying to become productive citizens.

"Last year the Legislature enacted Act 77, giving court-ordered restitution the same legal status as child support payments, enforceable as civil judgements. This law allows cash bail and state income tax returns to be applied towards restitution payments. We should fully implement these new enforcement tools before enacting a measure with potential to adversely affect employers.

"Also, the Attorney General's Office has expressed concerns over the added personnel and resources that would be needed to implement this measure, and over the coordination required with the Judiciary to enforce withholding orders. Prior versions of this measure would have placed responsibility with the Judiciary, which currently has primary responsibility for collecting and distributing restitution.

"For these reasons, I am voting with reservations on H.B. 1774, HD 1."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. That's all, thank you."

The fresh, clear, clean water of our streams supports so many aspects of the environment, including the watershed areas, rainforest, dams, reservoirs, intakes, ditches, and irrigation systems for agricultural industries. A study like this will provide the State with the tools to address global warming and climate change, and other issues with similar environmental impact.

"For these above reasons, I strongly support this measure. Mahalo."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations, brief comment. The bumper sticker version is, it's a usurpation of county jurisdiction. Home rule is still alive, and I'm not sure why we'd want to do this, because who knows better than those who are within that county jurisdiction. So, I would hope if this moves, and looks like it's going to move, we would know what the rationale is, other than what looks like a usurpation on the part of the State over the counties. Thank you."

Representative Belatti moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1665, HD 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Morikawa.

Representative Souki rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"I wish to speak against Stand. Com. Report No. 793. I speak against this measure because this measure here sends a terrible message to the counties, of which we all belong to, by the way, that we are repealing the original language in the sharing of the TAT.

"So now it will not be by a sharing of the TAT, but it will be with the counties getting tax credits, and I have no idea how they're going to get the tax credits. And also, by the fact is that this is only reimbursement for work done, and I don't know how you're going to qualify work done for tourism or work done for the County of Maui. There's going to be a fine line going to call in between. And if you hire more policemen, will then that be considered because of tourism or not? So we're going to have a huge debate on it. What it means in the end is the counties are going to take years before they get the reimbursement.

"Now, this may be just to send a message and not how it's going to end. But it's still a very bad, bad message that this county is showing to the counties, which we all, by the way, are members of. It's not a different country, it's something that you live in, and you need the tourists and all the services that it has to offer. Police and fire for your protection. Water for your safety. All of this you need. So please don't short-change the counties with this bill. I ask you to defer action on this bill, so I vote no on this bill."

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. I just wanted to give my reasoning, which is a little bit different than, I think, others. I was reservations in committee on this bill, and my reservations stem from a more philosophical perspective, that the TAT was originally created not to deal with mitigation of tourism impact. I strongly support any, I shouldn't say any, I strongly support the idea and the principle of trying to mitigate tourism impact on our communities.

"I'm not convinced this is the right measure to do that, because it then creates a nexus that I think doesn't exist right now, linking TAT to tourism impact. And if we give in with this kind of foot-in-the-door technique to allow that, we may find ourselves bleeding tens, if not hundreds of millions of dollars on the future of TAT with that argument that can then be brought before us time and time again, as it has been brought to us time and time again, that TAT should be used for this. This creates the precedent that it will, and that's why I'm opposed to it. Thank you."

Representative Choy rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"With reservations, Mr. Speaker. Thank you. My comments are more mechanical than anything else. And the reasons for my reservation is, as I read the bill, under Chapter 235, it's just totally untenable, it just can't be done. So I'd like to incorporate the comments or testimonies from the Attorney General's Office, the Tax Foundation, and of course DOTAX as the reasons for my reservations. Thank you, Mr. Speaker," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative DeCoite rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative DeCoite's written remarks are as follows:

"With reservations. I think that we should return to the original intent of this bill that would give our counties a specific portion of the TAT. The current draft was called a 'bureaucratic nightmare' by Mayor Harry Kim since it would require the counties to request reimbursement for expenses and justify each request to receive any TAT. I don't think we should be burdening our counties with this kind of requirement. The Tax Department and the Attorney General also expressed concerns on HD 1 that we need to take a closer look at as we move forward with this bill. Mahalo."

Representative Say rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations, but with the caveat that the statements made or the written testimony made by the three respective departments, Department of Taxation, the Tax Foundation, and the Attorney General, that the Senate would consider it as part of their corrections to this bill that goes over. Thank you."

Representative Matsumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tokioka rose in opposition to the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tokioka's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I would like to incorporate the words of the Representative from District 23 in opposition to HB 1665. I am disappointed that, in my opinion, we as a body seem to constantly exploit counties with such unfair and detrimental legislation. As this bill moves forward, I hope to see the language changed to better reflect the original purpose of ensuring fair distribution of the Transient Accommodations Tax revenue by removing the $103,000,000 cap on the counties' share so that we can assist them in managing the services that they provide to visitors and residents alike."

Representative Har rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representatives Souki and Choy be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, no vote, and a comment that I think the messaging is as follows. Every year we beg, steal and borrow in order to make all the county budgets balance. You, the State, have not given us this money, therefore, this is another way to shoot a message across your bow to say, look we need your help. So, Mr. Speaker, this is simply the counties crying out that we haven't given them a fair deal, and they want a fair deal, and this is not a fair deal. Thank you."

Representative San Buenaventura rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support. I would like to point out that this is part of the Hawaii Council of Mayors package. So I'm assuming that they vetted this out, that it would be in favor of the various counties, otherwise they would not have introduced this bill. And as such, I agree with the prior speakers, and I am in support."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations. I think the conversation has to continue. The TAT was originally implemented in 1986, but, however, in 2014, Act 174 did establish the state-county working group that studied the TAT, and they did it per a mandate by this body, to look at how to better distribute it. And this report is, it's fairly long, I think it was 170-something pages, but it's a good read. And within the report of the year that it took everyone to look through how to better allocate the TAT funds, it actually has proposed legislation, and it's actually pretty good, I think it's a good way forward. It's not like this though, it's not a reimbursement system.

"And so I'm thinking that we should read through this working group report that took them a year to figure out what was the best way forward, and try to glean some pearls of knowledge, since it took them a year to come to the conclusion of where the split should be, how it can happen, where is the mechanism that it needs to happen in. Because that's the conversations we're having here, is everything that's written in there. It's a good starting place for all of us to read, start from there and try to get the best mechanism method.

"I realize that all the counties need more money, and that's why Honolulu County actually opposed this one, is because, I don't know if he thought the mechanism was good, but there's a discrepancy because everyone wants more money, but it's, how do we get more money to the counties? Well, here we have it, a document mandated, Act 174, the Legislature in 2014 asked them to do it, we should read it, maybe implement parts of it. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Just to cite the data and the vote, or let's say, the sponsorship on this particular bill. The good member from Puna mentioned that, hey this was by the Council of Mayors. The councilmember representing District 4 of the Hawaii County Council is for this bill, but who is against it? The Office of the Mayor of the City and County, the councilmember of the City and County, the councilmember of the Maui County, Hawaii State Association of Counties is against it, and the Maui County Chamber of Commerce. So Mr. Speaker, this is not a very popular bill, other than saying that it's behind one of these bigger organizations. If you look at the numbers and the votes, no one really likes this bill. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1665, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE TRANSIENT ACCOMMODATIONS TAX," passed Third Reading by a vote of 45 ayes to 5 noes, with Representatives Choy, DeCoite, Har, Matsumoto, Say and Tupola voting aye with reservations, with Representatives Evans, LoPresti, Souki, Tokioka and Ward voting no, and with Representative Yamane being excused.

Representative Belatti moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2009, HD 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Morikawa.

Representative Thielen rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising, first of all, I'd like to make a disclosure and see whether there's a conflict. A couple of years ago, I built an ADU, which I only rent for a minimum of a year or longer," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict."

Representative Thielen continued to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising to speak against the measure, and this is the bill that's House Bill 2009. It stated in the committee report, Mr. Speaker, 'the purpose of the measure is to expressly include single family homes, multi-family homes, and accessory dwellings as property types which may be used as transient accommodations.' So, it's enlarging or putting into statute that all of these can be used as transient vacation units, or TVUs, as they're known. This means, again, single family homes, multi-family homes, and accessory dwellings, or ADUs, then by state law they'll be able to be used as TVUs.

"So the problem is, here we go again on the island of Oahu, and it's a real difficult situation. Expedia is thrilled, the short-term rental platform, Expedia, their vice president for government and corporate affairs says that, 'these amendments validate the Legislature's efforts to recognize the value of the vacation rental business to Hawaii's lodging capacity.' That's just great, but what does that do to our local people?

"Well, you go to what OHA is saying, and they're stating that, 'unfortunately, the unaddressed proliferation of illegal vacation rentals may exacerbate the rise in Hawaii's rental housing costs,' and then directly remove much-needed housing units from the residential rental market. That's absolutely correct, that they will. And then, the growing use of our limited housing supply for illegal TVUs will only continue to worsen our housing crisis, and I'm paraphrasing what they wrote in their testimony there.

"The interesting thing, Mr. Speaker, does this affect our local homeowners? No. The data shows that 70% of properties listed as vacation rentals in Hawaii are owned by out-of-state property owners who do not reside in the islands. So we have another crisis, that our housing stock is being bought up, 70% of it is owned by out-of-state owners, and they're operating these TVUs, the illegal short-term rentals, particularly over on Oahu, I think we have the majority of them.

"There's not really an economic benefit. San Francisco has found a negative economic impact of $300,000 for each housing unit used as a vacation rental. So, we're not really making money for the State.

"I really would ask members to, I know it's on third reading, I know it's going to pass and it's going to go over to the Senate, but you have an opportunity to take a harder look at that, and to say, do we want to do that? What we're doing is legalizing short-term rentals in our housing market, for the tax money, but think of what we're doing to the people that live here, that really, someday, want to have a home, but 70% of those illegal operators are from out-of-state, because they're making so much money, and we're letting it go on. So, I'm a no vote on this. Thank you."

Representative Quinlan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"In opposition, Mr. Speaker. I don't think there is any ill intent in this bill, and indeed, some may see it as a more of a housekeeping measure, but my fear is that it sends a message to the counties that the State of Hawaii condones transient accommodations in residential areas, and that's why I'm a no vote. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Kong rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition. As you know, I'm working with many homeless projects and I have a very comprehensive plan, and part of this is working with the homeless being within, hopefully, 80 units and being housed within properties throughout the community, and this may actually put a little bit of crick in my comprehensive plan. So, with that, I rise in opposition. Thank you, sir."

Representative Holt rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representative Quinlan be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative DeCoite rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative DeCoite's written remarks are as follows:

"With reservations. I don't believe that this new tax on accessory dwelling units, single family homes, and multi-family homes is necessary. We may end up taxing people that we don't really want to burden with any more taxes. The Department of Taxation has stated that the current definition of transient accommodations is already broad enough to cover accessory dwelling units. The Tax Foundation stated that letting out a spare room or vacation home may trigger a tax liability when the taxpayer is not even running a business. Mahalo."

Representative Say rose, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I believe the Majority Floor Leader has my green slip, so members, you don't have to stand up to say no when you have submit your green slip."

Representative Evans rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with strong reservations."

At this time, Representative Tupola offered Floor Amendment No. 1, amending H.B. No. 2739, HD 1, as follows:

SECTION 1. House Bill No. 2739, H.D. 1 is amended to add additional safeguards and clarity as follows:

- H. On page 20, requiring the Department of Health to make rules to govern lawful means of disposal of unused medication, and inserting an unspecified felony criminal penalty for failure to lawfully dispose of unused medication;
- I. On pages 22 through 24, following the recommendations of the Department of the Attorney General by deleting each instance of the term "good faith";
- J. On page 23, following the recommendations of the Department of the Attorney General by clarifying that health care providers are not required to inform a patient about the option to obtain life-ending medication or refer a qualified patient to another provider if they are unable or unwilling to participate; and

2. By making conforming technical amendments and renumbering sections of the bill accordingly.

Representative Tupola moved that Floor Amendment No. 1 be adopted, seconded by Representative McDermott.

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Thank you for allowing us this time to just discuss real quick. So, everyone has a copy of the amendments. And yesterday and the prior days when we had the hearing, there's a lot of good, good discourse, lots of good conversations, lots of respect in the room, and we want to keep it that way. So the amendments that were laid down are outlining some concerns that I raised in my questions, but also some concerns that were raised in the testimony of the Attorney General.

"So, briefly, the first part of the amendment raises the age, and as you know, we've been a state that's been very proud about making sure that our tobacco and our alcohol sales are at the age of 21. So that's the first part of the amendment. The second part, letter 'B' as well as 'F,' it talks about making sure that the healthcare provider is licensed in our state. On letter

'F,' it talks about deleting evidence that the patient owns or leases property in Hawaii. I had brought that up in my questioning, just with the concern that many people who aren't residents of Hawaii own and lease property, and currently in the bill, it allows for the identification of a resident to be if they own or lease property in Hawaii. And as you heard, on HB 2009, my colleague from Kailua eloquently described how many out-of-state owners we have. So we want to make sure to close that puka, because we don't want to allow and open ourselves up for anything that's not having to do with residents of our own state.

"As well, letter 'C,' in the definition of prescription, I had brought up that it said 'may,' and we just wanted to tighten that up to 'shall' self-administer, as brought up by the testifier from Oregon, who did describe that in order for us to kind of walk that line of medical aid in dying, that we need to make sure that it's always self-administer and always that the patient makes all the decisions. We are definitely a state that prides ourself on making sure that we curb elder abuse, so we wanted to make sure that was in there. As well, on letter 'D,' one of the conversations had, in other states as well as ours, was in regards to the length of time, which at this point would be that it's determinate that the person will be ending their life, or dying, or having a disease that will have them die within six months, but didn't take into consideration medication. So in there it actually says, produce death within six months without reasonable or ordinary medical treatment. So all that means is that there are diseases like diabetes, where if you don't take, if you don't do dialysis, that you could possibly pass away that week, that day. So with treatment, people's lives are prolonged.

"On the last page, on page 18 and 19, it deletes language that would limit disclosure of information in criminal and civil malpractice proceedings, and this is really important, because we want to make sure that there is no malpractice here, and of course we talked about it throughout the hearing, and it's been one of the things that will prohibit us from being able to ensure that, if they're actually not able to look into those.

"On letter 'H,' it talks about the gathering of medicine. Now, we've talked about opioid abuse here, we've talked about the fact that overdose is one of the things we're trying to stop in our state and in our nation. So, in our that section it talks about the unused medication. Brought up by the Attorney General was the fact that there is no penalty. So there is no consequence if someone does not return it, and in a lot of the testimonies, they actually describe that some people will start off the procedure, but actually never ingest the medication, because maybe they got hope, they got a cure for it. So we are trying to write into our law to make sure that the medication is collected back up again, but currently we do not have a procedure for that in this state. There is no pharmacy that will collect back up your medication if you don't use it. We just need the Department of Health to actually make those rules, make those guidelines, to make sure that the recollection of cyclobarbitol, which we don't want anyone to have access to this if they're not actually going to apply this act, and I know that in my community, even in one of the testifier's testimonies on the day of the hearing, we're concerned that we don't want anyone to have this in their bag where young children can grab it and ingest it. So, simply suggesting that the Department of Health look into making rules of how we would recollect it, and that there be a consequence or a penalty.

"Second to the last is good faith. In the Attorney General's testimony, it says for us to strike out on page 21 and 22, lines 8 and 12, line 8, in order to establish a clearer, objective standard for liability. Good faith compliance is difficult to disprove as one could simply claim that he or she was 'acting in good faith compliance' without additional evidence. It's a word, it just needs to be stricken out so that there can be some clear penalties in there. Clearly, we don't use good faith in criminal proceedings because it is guessing somebody's state of mind when it happens, and of course, the Attorney General is just suggesting that we tighten that down."

Representative McDermott rose to yield his time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tupola continued, stating:

"Lastly, page 23, there was in recommendation by the Attorney General that read as such, 'including informing a patient about the option to obtain medication for the purpose of ending the patient's life.' Now, the reason why the Attorney General had put it in here was because there needed to be a provision in there allowing for the choice for our providers, and that was the discussion we had in the hearing. Basically, what they're saying is, if they don't feel comfortable suggesting it to people, they don't want to be forced to, and we all agreed on that. So all it is, is clarifying the language, making sure that it's in there. We talked about it in the hearing, making sure that this was giving the right to life to the right people, making sure nobody else is making the decision, and making sure we don't have medication that's lethal out there where other people can ingest it, and that stems from where these amendments come from. So with that, I end, and I thank you for allowing us to share that."

Representative LoPresti rose, stating:

"Point of personal privilege. Will the introducer yield to a question?"

Representative Tupola: "Yes."

Representative LoPresti continued, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. My question is simple yes or no, and it is that, if we adopt these amendments, will you then vote for euthanasia?"

At 1:34 o'clock p.m., the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 1:35 o'clock p.m.

Representative Tupola rose to respond, stating:

"Just real quick. In the hearing, we were very clear that we were not saying that word. We are trying to stray away from it. In the Oregon testifier's testimony, she said medical aid in dying is not euthanasia if one, it is self-administered, and two, the person makes all their own decisions. So all we're doing is we're trying to walk that fine line and we're trying to make sure that what we implement is actually what we intend. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I have a request to submit comments to the Journal, and with my no vote, basically summarizing. Sorry, we're not at the final bill yet. In support, support of the amendment, that is. And for the record, the summary of the findings of the Oregon 1997-2017, I would like to submit to the Journal for the record on, basically, they've been around the block on this, we're the new kids on the block, and I think we need to learn from them, therefore, I request it be put in the Journal. Thank you."

The motion that Floor Amendment No. 1, amending H.B. No. 2739, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HEALTH," be adopted, was put to vote by the Chair and upon a voice vote, failed to carry, with Representatives McKelvey, Tokioka and Yamane being excused.

(Main Motion)

Representative McDermott rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to the underlying bill. Mr. Speaker, I rise as a friend of all the folks who put the hard work into this, they spent many hours, we all know that. This is the most important bill of the session, clearly. It deals with human life. In fact, they worked all night, worked up till 15 minutes before the committee hearing. That was what they told me. We were working 15 minutes until before the committee hearing. Sixteen amendments were made to a 40-page bill. Yet the members of the committee were not given anything to read. There was no House bill before us.

"Here, I have it today. Why have you given it to me, Mr. Speaker? So I could read it, so I could review it, so I can make an informed decision. In fact, Mr. Speaker, if they finished 15 minutes before the hearing, no House draft 1 actually existed, it was just thought, ether in the air. Now, we were read the amendments, 16 of them to a 40-page bill, and I dare say it would take the intellect of Albert Einstein or Stephen Hawking to collate those amendments and put them in the underlying measure in context and make sense out of it in the three minutes before we had to vote. The point is, Mr. Speaker, we had no House draft in front of us. The most important legislation of this session, that's sloppy work. If I did that in my real estate practice, I would be fired. Fired.

"Mr. Speaker, you've mentioned before, process and tradition. We are handed House drafts in committee before we vote on it. Now, there's an occasional minor one where it's, okay, I'm going to make some technical amendments, members, but the underlying message stays the same. But these were 16 substantive amendments. And so I think a disservice was done to the members of the committee. They were put in jeopardy because they had to vote on something that didn't exist. I stood there, all I had was my pen in my hand. I'm on the committee, I had nothing to review. How can I make an informed decision if I have nothing to review? Even the amendments weren't handed out to us. How long does it take to print 20 copies of a single sheet of paper and hand them out to the members? They weren't available.

"Mr. Speaker, you pride yourself, sir, on transparency. This was not a transparent operation. I would still vote no, and I think everybody who voted yes would still vote yes, but that's not the point. The point is, the process. Mr. Speaker, how many times over the years have you scolded me about process? How many times over the years has our good friend from Wahiawa, who's no longer here, scolded me about process? That's not the process. Representative, you've got to follow the process. Today, customs and traditions, you don't do this on second reading. Customs and traditions. Custom and traditions are, you're given a document to review. We weren't given the opportunity to review this, let alone make a cogent decision on the measure. Now, as I said, I don't think it would change any votes, certainly wouldn't change mine, but it's the process.

"Mr. Speaker, I think because members didn't vote on a bill, an actual bill, there was nothing there, and it didn't exist, and I'd be happy to be corrected, because the copy machine keeps records of who makes copies when. So you could pull up House draft 1, 2739, and see when it was actually copied, but at the time of the hearing, House draft 1 didn't exist. There were amendments that were come to an agreement and articulated to the members, but there was no document in front of us to vote on. We voted on nothing. We voted on thoughts in the air, ether and trust. That's no way to run a railroad, sir, and if I was in the majority and some of my colleagues over there, they would be on me all day long and twice on Sunday for doing something like that. As I said, I think it opens us up to legal jeopardy because we didn't do it right. The most important bill of the session, you don't bring to committee, literally, you don't bring it to committee, there's nothing there. You're voting on space, you're voting on air, ether, and we're told, okay this is House draft 1, please pass it.

"So there was nothing for us to vote on, Mr. Speaker. That was sloppily done. It wasn't transparent, and for those reasons, sir, I make a motion to recommit this to committee and do it right, have a revote."

Representative McDermott moved to recommit Stand. Com. Rep. No. 902-18 and H.B. No. 2739, HD 1 to committee, seconded by Representative Ward.

At 1:42 o'clock p.m., the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 1:44 o'clock p.m.

At this time, the Chair stated:

"There has been a motion to recommit this measure. Is there any discussion?"

Representative McDermott rose to speak in support of the motion to recommit, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, thank you. My colleague to the left from Kailua said, Representative McDermott, I think your measure's going to fail. I said, of course it is, I'm captain of the lost cause. But Mr. Speaker, the point here today is, I wanted to document and get it in the record that there was no physical amendment before us, there was nothing before us to vote on. There were no physical amendments before us. We were read some amendments, but as I said, it would take the intellect of Albert Einstein or Stephen Hawking to take those amendments and put them in the underlying bill and formulate the context, and how they affected the context, before or after the amendments, sir. Again, if I did this in my private sector job, I would be fired, there's no question.

"So, this is not transparent. The people who came to hear it, some of them wanted to see the bill, they couldn't because there was nothing to give them. And I suggest to you, sir, that House draft 1 didn't exist at that time, only in the minds of the committee chairman. The amendments were written, but they weren't put into paper in context, or else we would have been given copies. I would suggest in the future that an important measure like this, hey, we're going to postpone decision-making for two hours so members can be given copies of the amendment, House draft 1, to read and digest and go over.

"This is very important, Mr. Speaker. This is, this is not the transparency that we have been sold, sir, and I just don't see this as the way to run a railroad. The most important bill of the session goes to committee, and you have a House draft, and it's not available for members to read because it doesn't exist. As I said, I don't think it would change one vote, clearly. That's not the point. The point is the process. Now, I expect after this exercise today, when we have House drafts on important measures like this, certainly, that we will have a House draft in front of us before we vote on it. But I wanted to state for the record that there was nothing in front of us to vote on yesterday but air. Air, Mr. Speaker, and I'm surprised that more people aren't upset about that than I am. Thank you, sir."

Representative San Buenaventura rose to speak in opposition to the motion to recommit, stating:

"In opposition. So we all have, in our ability, to print out the actual bill before the amendments, and it is custom and practice, and I admit, I've only been in this House for three years, but it is, I've never seen, it's very uncommon for us to have a House draft that was drafted prior to a vote in committee. What I do, personally, and I suspect a lot of other legislators do, is we have the draft that's about to be amended, and when the oral amendments come along and is being said, we go through it. And that's what I did, that's what has been done, that has been common, and that has been the practice for the three years I've been in the House. And as such, I'm in opposition."

Representative McDermott rose to respond, stating:

"Second time, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, for routine housekeeping, yes, that's the case. But we recessed the day before, and we were told, these are important amendments, we want to get them right, we want to get them in, this is a very important bill, we want to make no mistakes, et cetera, et cetera. They worked all night, I appreciate their hard work, came in the next morning, continued to work. This is the most important bill of the session. It's not a housekeeping measure, it's not moving a stop sign 10 feet or the width of a bicycle lane. We're talking about human life here, Mr. Speaker.

"And the document should have been in front of members, and the amendments were read so fast that my colleague here to the right couldn't even write them all down. So to say that you had the opportunity to write them down, put them in, and go over them, all in three minutes, I salute you, because you're a better speed writer than I am, and you're much smarter than I am, and your ability to cognitively embed these and then figure out the context of how they create, affect one another and affect the whole totality of the bill is amazing. As I said, Stephen Hawking or Albert Einstein are the only two people I know who could have done this. So with that, sir, I just, I will rest."

The motion was put to a vote by the Chair and upon a voice vote, failed to carry, with Representatives McKelvey, Tokioka and Yamane being excused.

(Main Motion)

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition. Mr. Speaker, according to the polls, this bill gives the people of Hawaii what they want, but it should not be given without our precautionary measures, and I have four precautionary measures that I'd like to note as the reasons why I'm voting no.

"The first precaution is, follow the money, or follow the insurance company, or follow the insurance company money. One thing this bill doesn't cover or attempt to manage are the insurance companies who pay for our healthcare system and play a pivotal role. There are live examples in testimonies of cancer patients in Oregon and in California who are being denied lifesaving treatments and are instead being offered suicide pills as an alternative. Mr. Speaker, the point is, whatever is cheaper appears to be a de facto motto of many of the insurance companies, where assisted suicide becomes another marketing tool, rather than saving lives.

"But this greed is not limited just to the private sector. Let me provide a personal example. My sister-in-law, who lives in London with her South African husband, had to go to the dentist for a toothache. The National Health Service dentist said the tooth was really bad and it should be pulled. Wanting to get it over with, she agreed, they pulled the tooth, but then when she got home her husband railed against her saying, why did you get your tooth pulled? Nobody pulls teeth anymore, they just do crowns. He then researched what had happened. The British National Health Service insurance reimburses a dentist for pulling a tooth, $75. For grinding and fitting a crown, $125. So, pulling a tooth takes about 10 minutes, and doing the grinding and fitting the crown may take a root canal, hours and many possible appointments.

"So, Mr. Speaker, follow the money. The dentist goes to choose the quicker and the cheaper. Likewise, a physician or an insurance company who says, look, your cancer is really something that's going to be too costly, why don't you consider this? This is live videos from patients in California and Oregon who are speaking, it's not me speaking, Mr. Speaker. So, it makes it look like destroying life is cheap and repairing our lives is expensive, and this bill has a downside and a cheap side to it.

"The second precaution, Mr. Speaker, the Oregon study says, the primary reasons patients choose suicide is not pain and suffering, but lifestyle and other considerations, lifestyle considerations, inconveniences, et cetera. This is important because everybody who goes to hospice, and we assume if someone is in hospice they're going to die, hospice has, for all terminally ill, their own morphine tube and morphine flow control button. Pain is up, the button gets open, and more morphine to the patient. But if they really open the patient too wide and for too long, morphine can slow the breathing to the point of death. My point is, Mr. Speaker, this is already happening, and it's already legal, and it also says, well, why do we want to go beyond that, because it's already there, in terms of what people are doing to their lives?

"The third precaution, Mr. Speaker, this sends the wrong message to family members, and especially to our youth. Hey, aunty ended her life when she was feeling miserable, I'm a depressed teenager, why can't I do that? The message is, it's going to be an accepted habit, or let's say, an acceptable exit, to which, Mr. Speaker, already we have a suicide crisis among our youth in Hawaii. We're one of the, probably in the nation, the largest per capita suicide rate here. The bill will give a quick way out for the hopeless and the depressed, and maybe not with pills, but using the multitude of other options that teenagers are using now. This bill is a blinking red light for teenagers when they hate their life, they just want to end it. It seems to take away the hopes and the dreams, and as they see family members and friends, they say, look, I'm out of here, and they choose suicide.

"My fourth and final point, Mr. Speaker, is about Michael Tada. Michael has cerebral palsy and has difficulty breathing and talking, and he's testified in these committees for this floor many, many times, and he's disabled, and he speaks out for the disabled. This bill says to him that life is cheap and expendable, and if you're disabled and can't talk, he murmurs mostly, even though he's got the guts to testify, as he did last week in the Health Committee, in the Finance Committee, it's likely those who are disabled like Michael, could have those who are unfavorable in their family or associations--"

Representative McDermott rose to yield his time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward continued, stating:

"Thank you. So, Mr. Speaker, for those disabled out there, they're not excited about this bill. Lastly, Mr. Speaker, how many on this floor chose to be born a man, or chose to be born a woman, or Japanese, or Caucasian, or Filipino, or Hawaiian? The bottom line, the point is, Mr. Speaker, we have no control over such decisions, nor should the State of Hawaii or insurance companies decide who should be allowed to live or who should be allowed to die. Assisted suicide is government giving a death license to doctors and patients and insurance companies. It sends the wrong message to our people, particularly our youth, and I would hope that as this goes on to other committees, they will consider these precautions, and particularly some of the amendments that we have discussed earlier. For those reasons, Mr. Speaker, I thank you for listening."

Representative Todd rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Briefly, in support. I just wanted to point out that Hawaii actually has a relatively low suicide rate and it's significantly below the national average. Thank you."

Representative Choy rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Quinlan rose in opposition to the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Quinlan's written remarks are as follows:

"I am in opposition because I believe that the safeguards contained in the bill are still inadequate. If a person chooses not to end their life after being prescribed the medication, there is no system to track what becomes of those lethal pills. Simply adding a line that says you shall dispose of it by lawful means is insufficient. If we are going to pass a law with such potential consequences, we must eliminate as much risk as possible, and this bill fails to do that."

Representative Woodson rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Woodson's written remarks are as follows:

"My concerns are multifaceted. To me, I believe we are interconnected, and although the decision to end one's life is personal, it's a decision that could negatively impact those who are left behind. Within the community that I have the privilege of representing, a significant number of people do support this proposal. However, the majority of individuals in my community do not support this proposal and concept. Where would we be as a society if people like Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. decided to end their life for whatever reason? Would we even have a Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. as we now know him and the impact he made on lives in this country and around the world? I do not begrudge anyone who believes in death with dignity, nor do I begrudge their communities. Fundamentally, this decision is one that needs to be made by the individual. My understanding is this proposal has sufficient support to survive the legislative process, and ultimately, whatever is the larger will of the people will come into fruition."

Representative Johanson rose in opposition to the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Johanson's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise respectfully in opposition to this measure. This is a difficult vote for me as I witnessed firsthand how difficult it can be for our loved ones to struggle with a terminal illness. I moved back to Hawaii to be my grandmother's full-time caregiver when she was diagnosed with terminal pancreatic cancer and given four months to live. I grew up living with my grandmother and she was more like a second mother. Although it was an honor and a privilege to care for her, it was difficult to see her suffer in the last two months of her life. It was equally difficult to see the cancer take away the dignity that so characterized her entire life. It still remains the most painful and difficult time of my life. Because of this experience, I do empathize with those who are suffering and wish to have control over their own end. I also empathize with the people who do not wish to see their loved ones suffer. I have the utmost respect for the many who have advocated for HB 2739 and those who may ultimately avail themselves of the option to end their life should this measure become law. Although I empathize with those who support this measure and those who wish to have the choice to determine their ultimate health decision, I still have some unresolved bioethical concerns over the precedent set by this bill and the long-term implications of this policy if it were to be altered. I do not necessarily wish to negate this measure with a no vote, but at this time, I cannot fully affirm the measure and support it with a yes vote either."

Representative Har rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Cachola rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, no vote for me, and the simple reason is this, I still believe in miracles. Thank you."

Representative Matsumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative DeCoite rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative DeCoite's written remarks are as follows:

"With reservations. I personally believe that we should give people choices in how they want to live and how they want to die. I am not sure if this bill has covered all the bases to ensure that we do this right the first time. I would like to see what information would be given to physicians, patients, and other healthcare providers that have roles covered by this law; and by whom. The entire process needs to be explained in simple to understand and follow instructions, so everyone can comply with the requirements spelled out in the law. If those affected by this law are unclear on what is required, then we will see confusion and other possible negative consequences.

"As this bill moves forward, I hope that we gain more consensus rather than split our constituents on one side versus the other. Mahalo."

Representative Kong rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Aquino rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Cullen rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tupola rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative McDermott rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committees was adopted and H.B. No. 2739, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HEALTH," passed Second Reading and was placed on the calendar for Third Reading, with Representatives DeCoite, Har, Matsumoto and Woodson voting aye with reservations, with Representatives Aquino, Cachola, Choy, Cullen, Johanson, Kong, McDermott, Quinlan, Tupola and Ward voting no, and with Representatives McKelvey, Tokioka and Yamane being excused.

TWENTY-FOURTH DAY

Friday, March 2, 2018

The House of Representatives of the Twenty-Ninth Legislature of the State of Hawaii, Regular Session of 2018, convened at 12:11 o'clock p.m., with Vice Speaker Nakashima presiding.

The invocation was delivered by Representative Chris Lee, after which the Roll was called showing all Members present with the exception of Representatives Ing, San Buenaventura, Say and Yamane, who were excused.

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations, one brief comment. Everything looks to be fine in the bill except the reciprocity issue. There was a lot of testimony in Finance as to how it would be enforced, how it would be verified, and how people coming into the state would be able to bring it into the state, and then how to verify that they in effect have medical cards. And because there's no national database, it looks like it would be a patchwork, which right now, for many of the administration didn't think was too viable or feasible at this stage. Thank you."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"With reservations, similar concerns about the reciprocity program. Looking forward to further conversation at is moves. Thank you."

Representative DeCoite's written remarks are as follows:

"With reservations. The Department of Health had serious concerns with this bill and testified that dispensaries would be placed in a conflict of interest position of self-validating patients to whom they would sell products. It also stated that a reciprocity program is complex and requires discipline of more independent and objective verification processes. Reciprocity could also jeopardize Hawaii patients' access to medical cannabis. The Attorney General also raised concerns regarding this bill. I suggest caution as we move forward with this bill. Mahalo."

Representative Har rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har rose in opposition to the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to Standing Committee Report Number 928-18, H.B. 71, HD 1, Relating to Ethics. This bill makes it unlawful for any governor or county mayor, while serving in their respective capacities as governor or county mayor, to maintain any other employment or receive any emolument. I am in opposition to this measure because if the Legislature is to pass such a bill for the executive branch, we should also pass the same measure for the legislative branch. Doing so would exemplify good government and transparency, in that we would remove any purported conflicts from either branch of government.

"Mr. Speaker, while there is no preamble to HB 71, HD 1 explaining the legislative intent of this measure, I can only surmise that the intent is to ensure that any such conflicts of interests the executives of the State or county may have by holding private sector employment, would be avoided should this bill become law. While I wholeheartedly support that intent, the fact of the matter is that we in the Legislature have the same conflicts as the governor and mayors and perhaps even a heightened conflict of interest. What exacerbates our conflicts in the Legislature is that we have the power to appropriate funds, whereas the executives have only the power to release the funds we have appropriated. As such, members of the Legislature who hold outside private sector positions have the ability to influence funds to any private sector interest that would benefit that member. While we in the Legislature requests rulings on potential conflicts, it is rare that the Speaker has ever found an actual conflict, notwithstanding the fact that some members may benefit in a pecuniary manner (i.e. a member who is an attorney and votes on the 'claims against the State' bill which would provide settlement monies to that member). Accordingly, I stand in opposition to this measure insofar as it should apply not only to the executive branches, but to the Legislature and councils as well. For these reasons, I sadly remain in opposition to this measure as it fails to ensure that all conflicts of government officials are averted. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 71, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ETHICS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 40 ayes to 6 noes, with Representatives Choy, Har, Ito, Kong, Souki and Tokioka voting no, and with Representatives Cachola, Ing, San Buenaventura, Say and Yamane being excused.

Representative DeCoite rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative DeCoite's written remarks are as follows:

"With reservations. My concern with this bill is that this bill will increase costs for employers. Employers will not have much of a choice if they have to choose between establishing a sick leave program as spelled out in this bill or increasing their employees' wages to $15 by 2021. Mahalo."

Representative Tokioka rose in opposition to the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tokioka's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I oppose this bill because it would certainly affect small businesses, many of which cannot afford another financial burden of fees and taxes imposed by the government."

Representative Har rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

dependent care deduction, I believe that it should be targeted to families with lower incomes. Thank you."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in strong support and a few comments on this. This is the nonrefundable tax credit for eligible taxpayers for childcare costs for children up to four years of age. I think it's really critical in a time and age where we have, people have to work two jobs, people have to basically make sure their children are well taken care. There's a lot of initiatives this year on early childhood learning and understanding the importance of having our children up to four to five in preschool. I think this will go a long ways to helping us. Nowadays we really need to support working families. I'm the chair of Economic Development, and I believe this is really supporting us in our workforce today. So, I strongly support this bill. Thank you."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support. I just also wanted to add to the same comment made by one of the previous speakers that actually I've taken advantage of the child tax credit already, because all of my preschool payments for my children were all, we got deductions for that, and currently, for all of my after school care, there's also a deduction for that, currently. So, again, if we're expanding it even more so, then great, but we actually do have that tax credit right now for children. Thank you."

"I have a no vote on this, but I just wanted to explain real quick. I personally stood up and said that Oregon has a really good system, which I'm hoping that we can follow a little bit. What they do is, they go through the signatures when somebody actually says that they're going to vote, they compare that signature to the signature that's sent in with the ballot, they do five different points of the signature to verify that it's actually the same person. However, we've had so many issues with our Office of Elections in the past that it leads us for concern, because we need to actually fix that problem first, which is making sure that our Office of Elections is, I guess, broad enough and adept enough that they can actually implement something of this size, and making all mail-in ballots. So those are my concerns, but again, there's good models we can follow, I hope we do, but in our state, we should probably fix our Office of Election problem first. Thank you."

Representative LoPresti rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative LoPresti's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in strong support of this measure, which would regulate for-profit universities by requiring them to identify themselves as a for-profit business on all promotional materials, ending a deceptive behavior that can have serious negative consequences for students. The integrity of the diploma received from an institution is of prime importance to the individual who invests years of their life and tens of thousands of dollars—often in the form of state and federal loans or grants. People seeking a higher education should not have to investigate whether an institution is a business that's trying to make a profit versus a non-profit or government institution. This should be stated plainly by the business on all of its promotional materials.

"Those who seek to become students want to enroll at institutions that put students' needs first. Unfortunately, they have too often found themselves to be merely customers who are being bilked for the bottom line of a publicly traded company whose primary incentive is to minimize spending on actual education so that they can maximize profit from their customers' tuition. Genuine higher education nurtures relationships between professors and students conducive to opening minds, instilling knowledge and awakening wonder; it has never been about employees serving customers. It is important that prospective students know which sort of institution they are considering to dedicate years of their life and future earnings towards and this information is so important that it should be in the name of the institution itself.

"National for-profit institutions such as ITT Tech., Trump University, and Heald College locally have failed catastrophically, nullifying the credibility of diploma holders and displacing students. According to a U.S. Senate committee report, 96% of all students in these types of institutions take out loans to pay for their education and have a 22% chance of defaulting on their loans in the first few years of their education. Due to the previous presidential administration's tightening of rules on for-profit institutions, more than 28 institutions, including some of the largest and most popular ones, have been charged with false advertising by the Securities and Exchange Commission.

"According to The Century Foundation, a nationally recognized non-partisan think tank, for-profit institutions, particularly when financed by third parties such as government grants and loans, disproportionately lead to decreased student earnings, growing debt balances, unmanageable debt loads, loan default, and student deception.

"The Century Foundation has further indicated in testimony that across Hawaii, over 2,000 students are enrolled in for-profit colleges. Hawaii students at for-profit colleges are half as likely to graduate and more than twice as likely to default on student loans compared to their counterparts at not-for-profit colleges. In the past, state policymakers may have assumed that, because for-profit colleges receive up to 90% of their funds through the U.S. Department of Education and additional funds for serving military and veteran students, overseeing them is primarily a federal responsibility. But in fact, federal oversight has been demonstrated to be inadequate, and the Trump administration is in the process of rolling back the protections that do exist."

"Mr. Speaker, in strong support of this measure. In an ever-increasing and complicated technology-driven world, we need measures such as HB 2173 to protect our citizens' online personal accounts. This measure would give protections to employees and students, and prospective employees and students, allowing them to decide who has access to accounts and not the other way around. This is increasingly important when you take into account firewalls and networks that collect data and information from those who use them. Citizens should feel comfortable utilizing the internet to interact without facing consequences or judgements; they should also feel confident that their account information and data is being kept secure and not utilized for any unauthorized reason. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative LoPresti's written comments in support of the measure are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, in strong support of this measure. One of the biggest challenges for homeless persons to get off the street is not having an ID. The birth certificate is a cornerstone document for obtaining official identification which is often needed to get things such as medical coverage, food stamps, social security disability benefits, passing a background check to get into a shelter, employment, a bank account—or cashing a check, finding a legal residence or even getting a P.O. box. A $10 fee to get a birth certificate may not sound like much to many, but to someone on the streets, it might mean everything. Since homeless people by definition have no residence, they cannot safely and securely store their items like most people, and they are at greater risk of losing their identification, or someone stealing it off their person as they sleep. This principle applies to the money in their pockets as well. As a state that has taken responsibility for the homeless crisis, it makes no sense for the State to continue to have monetary barriers in place that could deter homeless people from their path to getting off the streets. In this instance, let's be practical and make an exception to the rule for the people who have the most to benefit—our homeless who we are always talking about helping but not doing enough for. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative LoPresti's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, in strong support of this measure. On November 11 of this year, the United States will see the 100th anniversary of the end of World War I. This legislation would serve to recognize the more than 10,000 soldiers and civilians from Hawaii who served and sacrificed in the Great War. The National World War One Centennial Commemoration, which was established by an Act of the U.S. Congress in 2013, relies on each state and territory to plan and carry out its own commemoration programs. Hawaii's Governor formed the Hawaii World War One Centennial Task Force to lead the State's efforts. The commemoration effort cannot accomplish its assigned mission without funding. If Hawaii is to have a commemoration worthy of the sacrifices and service of the people who served either in uniform or civilian capacity, it must be funded by the State. This legislation will allow the people of Hawaii to express their respect, admiration, and gratitude to the generation who served during the Great War. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations, brief comment. My reservations are three part. This is creating an Office of Sustainability within DBEDT and it's appropriated $2 million for one director, six staff positions, which in one of the testifiers testimonies kind of pointed out that there is, this is a huge appropriation for that many positions, and of course, with the amount of need that we have in our state right now for homelessness, for other things, I'd be remiss to not point out that that was high. And of course, blanking it out and making sure the conversation continues is important.

"However, in the Attorney General's testimony they also pointed out that many of these responsibilities within this new Office of Sustainability is duplicative of that of the Office of Planning, and that there was no differentiation, meaning that there will be increased inefficiency. Secondly is that it's also going to allow the office to solicit and accept donations while they're giving advice to the Governor and the Legislature, which seems against ethics.

"And I think my last concern with the Office of Sustainability is that there's no clear funding source. So although I love sustainability, I don't know if I can vote for a new office that's not going to be sustainable because there's no clear source, it's going to be accepting donations, and many of the services are duplicative. So those are my reservations. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2547, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SUSTAINABILITY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Tupola voting aye with reservations, and with Representative Woodson being excused.

Representative Belatti moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2021, HD 2 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Morikawa.

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. My brief comment about this was that it was in regards to the Hawaii Youth Correctional Facility, which ends up that our youth are doing much better. So there's a lot of space in there, they want to start using the facility. However, as we have in our HRS right now, that severe mental illness, meaning people that need that type of support, need to go to a psychiatric hospital. So they're not allowed to go to a community center or a non-profit, because you actually need a lot of those services. And those are my two concerns.

"Of course I support homelessness, but sending any severe mental patient to a place that isn't a hospital is actually against what we have in our current guidelines. And secondly is making sure that these new support places, say for example Hawaii Youth Correctional Facility, has enough support staff to handle this kind of severe mental illness. The pilot projects suggest that we start with 10 people, which, maybe that's not a lot, but you never know what kind of illnesses they have. So 10 people could be a lot for them to handle, we don't know. And then, after they are given that treatment, where do they go? Back out to the street? And that's where that other part of it really needs to be thought through. Because as we start a pilot program that doesn't have a clear, I guess, direction of where they go, we could be making it worse and maybe not helping where we want to. So those are my concerns. It's still in support. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In strong support. I personally have a friend whose daughter has been mentally ill, and I've learned from that experience that people go into the hospital and they get treated, but according to the federal law and insurance and payment schedule, they can only offer services for a limited amount of time, and then they release them and then they go back on the street again. And of course we have Mental Health Kokua and other providers, Hope Services on Hawaii Island, that try to provide housing for them, but, but we give the right to mentally ill patients to have their own choice, their freedom of where they want to go.

"But I think what this bill is doing is really moving us in the right direction. Number one, it's a pilot, but more importantly what it's saying is, some people are very, very severe, and they are out on the streets, and they really need to be in an environment that's very supportive for them, and it really is going to take a specialty and certain people that can work with those type of folks. I believe there is going to be due process in this bill, and I think it's an unmet need that's long overdue.

"I'm looking forward to seeing how this pilot project gets rolled out, because it's been really a sad situation to see this person that I know sleeping on the doorways every night in Kona, and really needing to be in a home that can provide services. More than just, again, Hope Services and Mental Health Kokua that provides these group homes, but really don't have that staffing, and that mandate or that vision or mission of really helping these people that are severely in trouble. So thank you, and I strongly urge everyone to support this. Thank you."

Representative Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, strong support."

"Mr. Speaker, in strong support, request to insert written comments, and just brief remarks. Mr. Speaker, this is a work in progress, a priority of the Women's Legislative Caucus, and I would like to commend the Labor Committee and its chair for putting work into this as this continues to move forward. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Belatti's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in strong support of House Bill 2598, House Draft 2.

"Paid family leave has long been a policy that many in our community have worked towards. Indeed, in a community that prides itself in placing a high priority on 'ohana and coming together to take care of those who are sick, frail, and elderly within one's family, paid family leave is a policy that supports our community's core values surrounding 'ohana.

"The intent of House Bill 2598, House Draft 2 is to establish a paid family leave program into statute and provide a reasonable timeline in which to work out the complex details in setting up such a program that can broadly help the 247,000 people who serve as family caregivers throughout the state.

"Some may criticize that this approach does not go far enough. However, any system and program that seeks to provide the types of benefits that will have as broad an impact as this policy may have on workers, businesses, and society-at-large should be done carefully. Time will be needed to determine the appropriate balance of funding for paid family leave, capitalize any system that will pay out family leave payments, and build out the staff needed to manage such a system.

"Because a benefit such as paid family leave can have such broad impacts on our community, I support the approach being taken in this measure to carefully craft a paid family leave program that will work for Hawaii's people."

Representative DeCoite rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative DeCoite's written remarks are as follows:

"I have reservations on this bill because I have heard from many in my district who may be negatively affected by this bill because it will increase their costs of doing business. This bill will affect all employers, large or small, and will also impact all employees because they will have to make payments into this new Paid Family Leave Special Fund. Most benefits such as this are entirely employer paid and I believe that paid family leave may eventually have to be borne only by employers. One negative consequence if this bill passes is that employers may end up reducing their staff to pay for this additional cost. That is not what we want or need. I also recognize the need that employees have in taking care of their families, so I hope that as this bill moves forward, we will be able to find the right balance that we can all live with. Mahalo."

Representative Har rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Strong support, permission to enter comments."

Representative LoPresti's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, in strong support of this measure. It is time to catch up with the rest of the civilized world which treats their employees with compassion, empathy, caring, and humanity. Family members are born. Family members can become ill. Why do we continue to go on as if these things shouldn't affect us and that employees must be expected to choose work over family? I propose that not having paid family leave is a knowing and deliberate regressive policy that we have allowed to exist all this time. The people that this regressive policy hurts the most are people at the lowest income levels, while the people at higher income levels can rely on paid leave, employer perks, or personal savings and other financial assets. Let's acknowledge that someone who has a new baby is not always a stay-at-home mom, but could be a working single mom (or dad) or a part of a family that is barely making ends meet. Let's acknowledge that Hawaii is a special place where we want to personally care for our 'ohana during the hour of their greatest need. Let's end the nonsense and finally adopt a progressive policy of paid family leave for all employees. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Tokioka rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

No. 1632, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO BICYCLES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes to 1 no, with Representatives LoPresti and Tupola voting aye with reservations, with Representative Lowen voting no, and with Representative Woodson being excused.

Representative Nishimoto, for the Committee on Judiciary, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1066-18) recommending that H.B. No. 1851, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative Belatti moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1851, HD 2 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Morikawa.

Representative McDermott rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. I'd just briefly like to thank the Judiciary Committee Chair for taking the time out during the hearing to explain to us what exactly this measure was. It's sort of confusing for non-attorneys, but he was creating a tool to get tough on people who show pornography to children. So it was a very confusing matter, but we thank him, and thank you for giving the time, Chair. Took us aside and spent some time with us. He didn't have to do that, and I'm grateful he did. Thank you."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise with slight reservations and a few comments. My only concern is the language about the person voluntarily performs duties that are parental in nature to generally provide for the minor. To put it in context, it's a pornography bill, and it's defining the definition of in loco parentis, a situation in which a person who is a non-parent or legal guardian of a minor stands in place of a parent. My slight reservation is I know that in state libraries and schools, many times there's opportunities, possibly, a minor may be in the building or in their presence and there may be some situation, exposure to pornography, and I don't want to inadvertently have created a situation where parents or other people may file a complaint against them. So I was just slight hoping that I want to make sure in the end that there is protections in place for staff. Thank you."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With slight reservations as well, brief comment. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. My concern was similar to the prior speaker in referencing the Attorney General's testimony as well as sitting down with the prosecutors, is trying to wrap my head around if it expands the protection for those who might be with a child for any extended period of time, whether that's a coach, whether that's a babysitter, whether that's a sleepover. So those are concerns, obviously it has some ways to go, hoping that it gets clarified, but of course, applauding those who are trying to take this and do the right thing to prosecute in a situation that happened that needs to be addressed. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations, brief comment. Mr. Speaker, this bill clearly fits the definition of being a conundrum. The best lawyers in this building, the AG and all the others, have two different sides to the issue. On the floor, it's not clear, and if you're a member of the public, how are you going to decide on something that even we can't decide on. Even though it's likely to pass, it's not really clear-cut when you have the top lawyer in this building saying, this is going to spread pornography more easily because of the way that it covers so many people, which otherwise would not be. So for those reasons, Mr. Speaker, I'm with reservations for this conundrum bill. Thank you."

Representative Har rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In strong support, brief comments. First and foremost, Mr. Speaker, I want to thank the Judiciary Chair for having the fortitude to hear this bill. If you actually understand the issues, where this case arose from, the Judiciary Chair took the bold move of tightening up a loophole that we have in the law. And so, as a previous speaker from Ewa Beach had noted, if you actually understood the genesis of this bill and why the Judiciary Chair heard this bill, you would understand why this is passing as it is. So for these reasons, Mr. Speaker, I'm in strong support."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1851, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PORNOGRAPHY," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representatives Evans, Tupola and Ward voting aye with reservations, and with Representative Woodson being excused.

Representative Thielen's written remarks are as follows:

"I stand in support of this bill in the fight against the deadliest drug crisis to ever hit America—spreading faster than the HIV epidemic & killing more in 2016 alone than the total U.S. troops killed in the 20-year Vietnam War.

"I declare that our nation treat opioid drug makers and distributors the same way we did tobacco companies—like pariahs. In the 1990s, American including Hawaii legislators used multipronged strategies and tactics against the biggest cigarette makers due to unrelenting pressure by citizens. Eventually, smoking was banned in public.

"This week, the New York Times stated that the Sackler family—who invented OxyContin, led a marketing campaign that deceived doctors, is worth some $14 billion and ranked as one of the 20 wealthiest families in America: ' . . . bear a large share of responsibility for the opioid epidemic through their pharmaceutical company's production and fervid promotion of OxyContin. Having facilitated one of the biggest public health crises in modern American history, they need a new profile. The art world should not help them achieve it.'

"HB 1602 will alert consumers that these products are addictive and can cause death."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support, and just wanted to thank the introducer as well as those working on this, as this issue is very severe, and I'm grateful that we're taking a measure to address that. So, thank you very much."

Representative DeCoite rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative DeCoite's written remarks are as follows:

"With reservations. I believe that this bill may be premature because cannabis is still illegal under federal law. Until the States and the Congress can reconcile this problem, working on insurance reimbursements is premature. There are many other medications that are not reimbursable by insurance because they are still in the experimental stage and not approved by the FDA. I believe medical cannabis is in a similar boat, so I am voting on this bill with reservations. Mahalo."

Representative Tokioka rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative DeCoite's written remarks are as follows:

Both the IAC and CPC Committees made numerous changes to the bill, and as it moves to the Senate, I hope any further changes will result in improvements to that policy framework establishing a robust, reliable, and technologically advanced wireless broadband network. Mahalo."

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"With reservations. I'm watching it, it's a very complicated issue. There's still a lot for me to learn about it, and for now I just want to express my reservations. Thank you."

Representative Belatti moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2617, HD 2 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Morikawa.

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support. I wanted to thank the introducer, and just a quick comment. Last year on Fourth of July, we had over 10,000 people at Waikiki on these flotillas, and last year Memorial Day, which both of those holidays are coming up, the same Instagram flotilla phenomenon happened at Waimea Bay, and it was horrible. I mean, there was thousands of people out there, minors included, all over the area, and it wasn't just for HPD, HFD got out there, DLNR got out there, all the lifeguards were out there trying to man and police this incident. So I think that it's definitely a step in the right direction as we have these holidays coming up this summer. People love being outdoors, but we should always be safe. Thank you."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. While I appreciate the intent and support of this measure, I have to stand with some reservations. My concerns stem from page 3, starting at line 19, where they define a floatation device to include a surfboard. However, further down, it says it's not included if it's propelled by mechanical means, and as somebody who surfs and paddleboards quite a bit, as many of my constituents do, the fact that mechanical propulsion exempts this very same craft from a floatation device, and you inadvertently have surfers who could fall into this law who are just surfing. And anyway, I hope when the Senate looks at this, they will address the situation as to whether an exemption exists for just regular old surfing after a few cold ones. Thank you."

Representative Quinlan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"In opposition, Mr. Speaker. I like to drink beer in the ocean. I think a lot of people like to drink beer in the ocean. I don't think there's, again, any ill-intent in this measure. I think it's an overreaction to a couple of incidents, and there are far better ways to address this issue. And quite frankly, my police officers on the North Shore of Oahu have far better things to do than to write tickets for people drinking beer in the ocean. Thank you."

Representative Ing rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support. So, I kind of want to talk about the problem. Since July, there was about 200 rescues outside of Waikiki. Our emergency, our first responders that we all say we all would support, were very, very much overwhelmed. There's 12 ambulances for the south side of Oahu, 10 were used in that one spot. So if something was going on with your family or you had like some emergency, there's a chance that there would be a huge delay in emergency services getting there. So this was actually prompted by first responders, the police officers who have better things to do, and they came to me and said, we should do a bill about this. So it is about enforcement.

"Right now, it's impossible to enforce these underage drinking laws in the water, so there's no way to card people. During that event, there was a 17-year-old woman, or girl, a 17 year-old-girl who was hospitalized in critical condition, had to get her stomach pumped for alcohol poisoning. There was 10 people, actually, that got rushed to the hospital that day.

"And lastly, the media interviewed Sustainable Coastlines, who talked about the extreme litter that transpires from these events, and how these floatation devices break open, and there's these little Styrofoam balls that look like fish eggs, and these fish will bite them, and then float at the top, and they can't dive down to get food and they die. So it's one of the most heavily causes of littering out of any event in the water.

"And currently, you can't drink on the beach, but as soon as you walk into the water you can, and it's a loophole, really. And I don't know, I just find it disappointing that people in this body are trying to drink while swimming. Most surfers I know, I grew up surfing, don't do that, and they're actually really concerned about litter in the water. And look, I'm a young guy, I'm all about having fun, but we've got to do it responsibly. Like, people are dying, our reefs are getting destroyed. Thank you. Not dying, getting really close to dying, critical condition. Thank you. Don't want to exaggerate."

Representative Brower rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I was just going to reaffirm that I'm in strong support of this bill, and it's ironic that we don't have a law, swimming under the influence. Thank you."

Representative San Buenaventura rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tupola rose to respond, stating:

"Second time, still in support, Mr. Speaker. I just wanted to commend the introducer, again, because, again, speaking from somebody who actually understood the day that it happened last year, on Memorial Day, and it actually started the night before, the amount of minors that were getting this Instagram post about what was going to go down, what you should bring, what was going to happen while we're there, maybe we do some alcohol, maybe some drugs. It was, I actually saw the posts, I got to see what happened that day with the amount of responders that were out there, and how they didn't have a mechanism whereby to handle the situation, and that's what we're talking about. Not for just regular, every day, they're not going to go out there and bust guys that are just swimming around. We're actually specifically making a mechanism for days like this, when thousands of people are out there.

"The emergency medical services couldn't handle it, the police couldn't handle it, the HFD was out there trying to handle it. There was a bunch of minors whose parents didn't even know they were out there that day, and they started the night before, camping out on the road, waiting for this event to happen. So again, it's not for the overall enjoyment of the water, it's so that in the event of events like this, that we have a way to actually have a mechanism so that they can do something about it. Thank you."

Representative Souki rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I wish to have a nay vote on this measure here. Historically, families have always gathered and sometimes consumed a little bit of beer, drinking, and I think it's unrealistic to say that you can't drink on the shoreline. And I hope as we go along this bill will be put into sleep, and if I can use the term, drowned a little bit. Thank you."

Representative San Buenaventura rose to respond, stating:

"Second time in reservations, and I just want to point out. I understand Oahu's problem with this flotilla, I'm just concerned that it casts a wide net, that it will affect neighbor island fishermen who are innocently drinking while fishing or diving, and I understand that it refers to bathers. I also do understand that it doesn't refer to the thousands of bathers that prior speakers were referring to, it talks about individuals, and that's what I'm concerned about. Thank you."

Representative Tokioka rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ing rose to respond, stating:

"Still in support, but I also have a point of information. This doesn't ban drinking on the shorelines, that's already law. Second, when it comes to like drinking and diving, people probably shouldn't be doing that, either. It's like you have a spear gun and dude, whoa! It's kind of crazy to think about. So, but I am open, if this does go over to conference, that we can broaden it after hearing everybody to maybe five or more bathers in one area, something like that, that might make more sense to quell some of the concerns. Thank you."

Representative Keohokalole rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. I do want to note that it's not an over exaggeration to talk about deaths. There was a death in Kaneohe as a result of one of these flotilla events that took place on the Kaneohe Sandbar, and this Legislature took action to impose strict regulations on allowing these types of events to happen out on the Kaneohe Sandbar. And so, what happened? It spilled over into Waikiki, it spilled over into the North Shore.

"Also, if you speak with the DLNR about these types of events, what they will tell you is that these sorts of random boat parties, floatation parties, pop up across the state, including on Niihau, right offshore. Because, while they're not allowed to trespass on the private property, they are allowed to go on the beach, and they do participate in these types of parties right off shore. So taking a broader statewide approach to this type of activity, I think is the right direction to go.

"Now, should fisherman on boats hooking akule be prohibited or come in contact with criminal liability for having a few while they're fishing? No, I don't think so, and I think that a reasonable attempt was made in the various committees to make sure that we're drawing the line in the proper way, and if the Senate has disagreements with how to properly define that line, I think then that's a discussion that we can have. I agree with the Representative from Kihei. Wielding a spear gun in the water, diving is an inherently dangerous activity, I don't know if those folks should be exempt from the prohibition on consuming alcohol on the water.

"But again, it's illegal to drink on the beach. It's illegal. So to allow thousands of folks to just venture out into the water and drink, and then congregate in these manners, so you have thousands of pounds of rubbish that wash up the next day on the shoreline, broken floatation devices, bottles, Styrofoam coolers, it's a problem. And we saw it in our community, and so because it was the first incident of its kind, oh and by the way, yes, there was a gentleman who was heavily intoxicated when he got back to Heeia Kea Pier, got into a fight, got punched, fell, hit his head on the cement, and died. And so that's the type of unforeseen circumstances that come from allowing these huge congregations of people to act in an inappropriate manner.

"We have lots of regulations and rules about these types of events while they're on land, and I don't see why we shouldn't take a look at this stuff from a broader perspective across the state, instead of having people die in different locations, after these events pop up across the state, and then reacting the way we did in Kaneohe, by just banning the activity in one specific area, one at a time. So for those reasons, I stand in support. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, with reservations and a brief comment that, in today's opioid and drug culture, eliminating alcohol is symptomatic, maybe of that subculture, but with the drugs and the opioids that are around, I think we're going to be scratching the surface if this passes. Thank you."

Representative Nakamura rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations. Just concerned about the overreach on the neighbor islands where, on Kauai, drinking at public parks is allowed during certain hours of the day. So, just concerned about the sensitivities to recreational users on the neighbor islands. Thank you."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations, a slight comment. I haven't heard anybody say this, but I was thinking about, we have laws on drinking while driving a car, so it may be that we should be looking at drinking and driving the boats, and making the person, the owner of the boat, responsible for the behavior of the people driving it. So if somebody is harmed, just like if someone's drinking while driving in a car, there is some penalty for that. So I'd like to see it advance, I think it's good discussion, and it is a problem that has to be addressed. Thank you."

Representative DeCoite rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, reservations. I also, on the neighbor islands, we actually had a case where a person was given a ticket for drinking while riding on horse, and I would just like to kind of reflect on that. He lost his beer and his ukulele in the process, and the horse was guiding him home, but he did have to appear in court, and of course it was thrown out of court. But reservations, Mr. Speaker. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2617, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO OCEAN WATERS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 47 ayes to 4 noes, with Representatives DeCoite, Evans, McKelvey, Nakamura, San Buenaventura, Tokioka and Ward voting aye with reservations, and with Representatives Gates, Holt, Quinlan and Souki voting no.

On motion by Representative Belatti, seconded by Representative Morikawa and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2454, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HAWAII CORRECTIONAL INDUSTRIES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1100-18) recommending that H.B. No. 1676, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative Belatti moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1676, HD 2 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Morikawa.

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. We've seen similar bills to this for the past four years I've been here, and I just really support expanding these. Gosh, I wish I could just buy an EMS or an ambulance for some of these areas that have been without for years, decades for some areas. Puna. I mean, I appreciate my colleagues from the neighbor islands bringing up how long, how many years it's been without, and in some areas that were brought up in the hearing, over an hour before you get an ambulance coming to you. So we're definitely spoiled here on this island, and of course I support expanding this in areas where they desperately need it. Thank you."

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Strong support. I just wanted to draw attention to the nexus between this bill and the bill previously on consuming alcohol in the water. One of the major problems with both of these is, we don't have enough ambulances. And when we have Panama City beach-style spring break fiestas, which we don't want the reputation of, that takes away resources of our ambulances to actually help people in need elsewhere in the community, and so we definitely need this. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Strong, strong, strong support. Mr. Speaker, this bill kind of catches Oahu off guard, and as my colleague said, thanks to the neighbor islands, particularly Kauai and the Big Island, and hey we've got an emergency ambulance situation that's nearing a crisis. Some of our ambulances have over 400,000 miles on them, and I wonder why. Well, Kauai got its last new ambulance in 1992, Maui got its last new ambulance in 2004, the Big Island 2005, and Honolulu in 2012. Every year there's about a 3% increase in calls, that's about 4,400. In 2012, there were 125,000 calls, and 2017, 146,000 calls. And, Mr. Speaker, this is not to mention what came out in the hearing that probably 5% to 10% of these increases, or 10% of the calls, are from the homeless population. One individual was cited as having 195 calls in one year. And it's not to blame on them, but the point is, everybody is getting more calls to the ambulance, for various and sundry reasons. The projected increase of the 65 and older population who use the EMS is going to be 17% in 2016 to 23.5% by 2030.

"The point is, Mr. Speaker, there's a real need for this bill, and by increasing the number of ambulances, our state will be able to reach those requiring EMS services in a timely manner. So the point is not just having access to an ambulance, it's having access in a timely manner, Mr. Speaker. If it's a stroke, you've got to be really, really quick. If you get there too late, the paralysis may not be correctionable.

"The point is that Honolulu City and County has only 18 ambulances, or 20 ambulances to serve 1 million people, and in the hearing, it was said we need at least double that amount, just for Honolulu, Mr. Speaker. At the Hawaii Kai neighborhood board, the EMT employee stated that an ambulance from Hawaii Kai drove to Makakilo due to a lack of ambulances in that area. In fact, he said that probably 48% of sometimes of the East Honolulu ambulances were moving into the urban areas and beyond, even sometimes as far as Nanakuli.

"This is not to play favorite geographical reasons, but it's a wakeup call that we have not given this entity, EMS through the City and County, enough funds, and even the city council members who were at the neighborhood board meetings said, what? This is what we've got as the state of the art of EMS service? That's the difficulty, Mr. Speaker. Again, as I said earlier, a stroke, odds of survival drastically decrease after you get beyond so many minutes. Drugs, odds are less than 50% if it's beyond 18 minutes. There's a lot of overdoses, as you know. And drowning needs to be rescued within nine minutes, after nine minutes they're really, really in trouble.

"The point is, Mr. Speaker, as we are charged to first secure the safety and the security and the health of the people of the State of Hawaii, this bill needs to be taken very seriously, and hopefully increase. And there's one way to increase it without taking money out of the coffers, and that was in the testimony it said that the majority of ambulance services in the mainland do an a la carte service, which means, when you have an ambulance, depending on what services or what medical medicines or drugs that you get, you pay for those individually, the same way that when you go to the hospital. Hawaii has, at least the City and County of Honolulu, a $1,200 flat fee. Whether you get all kinds of adrenaline or other kinds of anti-stroke or whatever medicine, charge is all the same. Forty million dollars are raised by just that flat fee, but what was brought on in the Finance Committee is if we did an a la carte, we would be able to raise that, and hopefully buy a few more ambulances that wouldn't have mileage, and that wouldn't have pick up times so great.

"So Mr. Speaker, this is kind of a wake-up call for all of us, all of our districts are affected by this, and I think, even though it's through the City and County, we have been the ones that pony up the money, and I hope with this bill, we will continue to do so. Thank you."

Representative Tokioka rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support, and I'd like to thank you, Mr. Speaker, for introducing this bill for all the men and women at EMS that struggle every day to get to their patients on time, and people who are suffering and need the service, and I would like to adopt the words from the Representative from Kahala, and that will be my longest floor speech of this session. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative San Buenaventura rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support. Thank you. I would like to point out that although the Big Island has had ambulance in 2005, Puna has grown almost exponentially since then, and we have substandard roads, and the only thing I'm a little bit irritated about is that Oahu has co-opted our emergencies, whereas we have been in dire need for a long time. I understand that there's a need everywhere, and I do understand that, but we have been requesting for a Puna ambulance bill for long time, and it was a top priority, and this bill kind of co-opted our need. And for that reason, little bit irritated, but I am in support. Thank you."

Representative Todd rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Briefly, in support. I just kind of wanted to echo some of the prior comments. My brother actually started his fire career in Puna, and there's one ambulance to serve an area that's roughly the size of Oahu. I spoke with him this weekend about this bill specifically, and he told me that the average medical call is about two to two and a half hours, when you count the commute time. You're talking about basically a two-lane road, and it's 25 to 30 miles out of Hilo, which is the only hospital that services the region.

"So this will literally save lives, and I wanted to thank the Finance Chair for finding kind of a creative solution to some of the squabbling that happened in our committee with various EMS services by appropriating this funding to the state EMS, where they can then prioritize instead of allocating it specifically to an area. Thank you."

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you. I rise in support, and I just want to point out that in West Hawaii, we've had a request for several years now to try to get this ambulance unit because we have, again, the same issue of not adequate response time. The community really stepped up and built a fire station, but we need to get it outfitted with this emergency ambulance.

"And I really want to shout-out to the Finance Chair for moving this forward, because this has been a problem on how we're going to really find the funding to address all these issues. The more roads we build, the more traffic we get, the less response time. And so we have to address the fact that just like the previous speaker from Kahala said, with strokes and heart attacks, you have to get to people in a timely manner or they will be brain dead. And that's not acceptable nowadays in these day and age. So, thank you everybody, and I hope we get everybody supporting this. Thank you."

Representative Hashem rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Ward be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1676, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EMERGENCY MEDICAL SERVICES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1102-18) recommending that H.B. No. 2014, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

On motion by Representative Belatti, seconded by Representative Morikawa and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2014, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HOMELESSNESS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

On motion by Representative Belatti, seconded by Representative Morikawa and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2724, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO STATE ENERGY AGENCIES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1112-18) recommending that H.B. No. 2176, HD 2 pass Third Reading.

Representative Belatti moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2176, HD 2 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Morikawa.

Representative Tupola rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2176, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR

AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes to 1 no, with Representative Tupola voting aye with reservations, and with Representative Ward voting no.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1117-18) recommending that H.B. No. 2653, HD 1 pass Third Reading.

Representative Belatti moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2653, HD 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Morikawa.

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support, brief comment. This is a real issue, one of my own constituents has contacted me about it. It's in regards to when the waterline comes up. So the waterline comes up, that part of your property is not yours anymore. And so the issue is that those areas are not being repaired, because whose property is it? Does DLNR come out and rebuild it? No, they don't. But there are concerns with people giving away public land, and I can understand both sides of it, but in the event that somebody's house is crumbling and they don't have the right to fix it, because it's not theirs anymore, that's what this seeks to try to address. Thank you."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm rising with reservations, and I'd like to give a few comments as to why. Thank you. I know the introducer of this measure is trying to help when we're set in a situation where we are having sea level rise. Hawaii's shorelines are public lands up to the high wash of the waves, and we all know that, Mr. Speaker. Under this bill, the Department of Land and Natural Resources can set up short duration easements to enable these shoreline landowners to consider alternatives to ultimately relocate those private structures that now are landward of the shoreline setback land. In other words, they originally had maybe revetment seawalls, whatever, on the shoreline, legally permitted and legally cited, and then with sea level rise and other environmental developments, those lands became mauka of the shoreline setback line. And the idea is, under this bill, to say to DLNR, you can grant easements for up to 35 years for those structures. It's a 10 year, and then renewals, and they total 35 years.

"My concern is that it's not in the best interest of properly managing our shorelines, as we're faced with the sea level rise in the islands. So there's a way to, I think, to fix it, and that's if you turn to page 3 of the bill, and it's the first paragraph that's running over from the prior page, it's talking about short-duration term easements to enable these landowners to consider alternatives to ultimately relocate these private structures landward of the shoreline setback line. Well, don't just let them consider it. If we're giving them up to a 35-year lease on those properties, at a very nominal fee, by the way, do it to enable these landowners to promptly pursue relocation of these private structures. Then, there's some emphasis on the landowner to go ahead and act, to move the structures back out of what is public land, back onto a proper section of their property. The other way we're, in essence, saying to existing landowners, hey you've got 35 years, all you have to do is consider it, you don't have to act, you don't have to do anything.

"So I think the bill could be corrected, and I would hope that if the bill's sponsor agrees with this analysis, that the bill's sponsor would notify the Senate to take a look at page 3 and let's get some action in there so we achieve what we're trying to achieve. Thank you."

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. I think the Representative from Kailua makes a great point, I'd like to enter the comments from her as if they were my own," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative LoPresti continued, stating:

"My other additional concerns are, though I'm in support I do have concerns and I'll watch it closely, and maybe this is an unfounded concern, but if they get these easements, I would hope that the bill clearly states that under no circumstances can they build sea walls to continue the preservation of those buildings, and instead they should be encouraged, not encouraged, but maybe perhaps required to move those. Then my other concern with it is, in essence, what we'll be doing, say at the end of the century, is we'll end up losing our beaches to wealthy people who own beachfront properties, and now the beach is their property, because they got a house, basically, or a structure right within that area.

"And so it's not an easy problem to deal with, I'm glad we're wrestling with it, but I think we all need to begin to imagine what that future's going to look like where we have extremely wealthy, sometimes extremely powerful people, who will begin to literally own our beaches with this kind of exemption. Thank you."

Representative Matsumoto rose in support of the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Thielen be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Ward rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Thielen rose to respond, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Just little bit of a follow up. Mr. Speaker, people should also note, members should also note that the bill applies retroactively back to 2012. So we're taking a very serious step, we're going back retroactively to allow people to get an easement up until the year 2053, where they just simply have to consider alternatives. So I think we need to do better. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2653, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SPECIAL SHORELINE ENCROACHMENT EASEMENTS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 49 ayes to 2 noes, with Representatives Thielen and Ward voting aye with reservations, and with Representatives Gates and Har voting no.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1119-18) recommending that H.B. No. 2593, HD 1 pass Third Reading.

Representative Belatti moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2593, HD 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Morikawa.

Representative Tupola rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Keohokalole rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ward rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Creagan rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in reservations. I'm concerned about potential predation of our endangered native bird species. Thank you."

Representative Cullen rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Nakamura rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Please register a no vote, with comments. Mr. Speaker, there are two national wildlife refuges in my district, the Kilauea Point Wildlife Refuge and the Hanalei Wildlife Refuge. Both are sanctuary for endangered birds and plants. Between 2012 and 2015, the Hanalei National Wildlife Refuge attributed the deaths of 252 endangered water birds to feral cats. These include the Hawaiian common gallinule, Hawaiian coot, Hawaiian stilt, Koloa duck, and Pacific golden-plover. Nesting birds are also at risk. Feral cats are suspected in the death of 22 Laysan albatross chicks during a three-week period in 2015.

"According to the DLNR, cats are the only known reproductive hosts of the toxoplasmosis parasite. Toxoplasmosis reproduces in the feline digestive system, and a single cat can excrete 145 billion eggs per year in its feces. Once released into the environment, these eggs can infect other animals including humans, both on land and in the ocean. In Hawaii, NOAA has recorded at least eight endangered Hawaiian monk seal deaths that are attributable to toxoplasmosis infection. In humans, toxoplasmosis can result in severe damage to the unborn child, miscarriage, stillbirth, or substantial birth defects. It should be noted, Mr. Speaker, that spaying and neutering does not prevent cats from releasing toxoplasma cells into the environment. Once released, these eggs can live in the soil and water for months and even years.

"HB 2593 makes trap, neuter, return, a statewide policy. It does not make exceptions for culturally sensitive areas such as salt ponds in Hanapepe, it does not take into account sensitive seabird nesting areas, and does not avoid areas where our monk seals haul out. It does not recognize the one to three-mile roaming distance of feral cats. In fact, HB 2593 exempts registered caretakers from state and county ordinances that prohibit or tries to regulate feral cat colonies. Again, it exempts these caretakers from these laws.

"Our federal, state and county governments are doing many things to save our native birds. The County of Kauai has spent millions of dollars installing shielded lights at county parks, and pays the state government $10,000 for every downed Newell's shearwater. For over four years, night football games were canceled to protect our birds from light disorientation during fledging season. Our Kauai Island Utility Company, cruise ships, resort properties along the coast, County of Kauai, are all working on habitat conservation plans and are implementing measures to reduce endangered bird takes on Kauai. Passage of HB 2593 will undo many of the efforts to address endangered birds on Kauai.

"Mr. Speaker, we all acknowledge the need to control feral cat colonies. Because this is a polarizing issue, we must bring together stakeholders to have the needed conversation on how to reduce feral cat populations. We need the humane societies, wildlife advocates, feral cat caretakers, federal, state and county governments, OHA, cultural practitioners, and aquatic resource managers at the table to find some common ground. I believe the common ground is that cat abandonment has to stop, because it perpetuates this vicious cycle.

"This is a difficult and complex discussion that will require professional facilitation to help build consensus and come up with future recommendations. The Feral Cat Task Force on Kauai generated solid recommendations that should be a starting point for statewide discussions. Mr. Speaker, this bill is premature and will have dire consequences for Hawaii's native birds and aquatic species, expose the State to liability under the Endangered Species Act, and negatively impact human health. Thank you."

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"In strong opposition. First, I'd like the words of the previous speaker adopted as if they were my own," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative LoPresti continued, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, trap, neuter and release is not working in Hawaii, it's not working. These cat colonies and those who support these cat colonies are actually increasing the suffering of animals in Hawaii, they're increasing the suffering of cats, and they're certainly increasing the suffering of those species that these feral cats are decimating. They are decimating endemic species here. There is no shortage of cute kitty cats on the planet, there's none. But, and I love cats, I grew up with cats, but because they're so awesome, and I admire them because of their great hunting prowess, it's that which makes them so dangerous. It's that which means we need to check our own emotions about how much we like kitty cats, and set that aside so that we can protect those endemic native species in Hawaii, because they're killing them. There's a lot more I'd like to say, and I'll just put it in written comments. This is a horrible bill."

Representative LoPresti's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I stand in strong opposition to this measure. Invasive, free-roaming cats are among the most severe threats to our endangered native bird populations, and they transmit diseases like ringworm, pinkeye, parasitic worms, Lyme disease, and a toxic parasite Toxoplasma gondii which has killed sea otters, spinner dolphins, kangaroos, and even humans. Even when fed, cats continue to hunt ruthlessly, and our native species are running out of time. We cannot afford to let more species needlessly go extinct while we waste time and taxpayer resources to implement expensive, ineffective 'Trap-neuter-release' (TNR) programs on all the Hawaiian Islands.

"In over 30 years of practice around the world, there is not one scientifically verified instance of TNR ever eliminating a cat colony anywhere. Contrarily, multiple peer-reviewed scientific studies have deemed TNR programs 'ineffective' after a decade of study, and often show that cat colonies actually increase or stay the same, because the practice encourages 'dumping' of unwanted pets and attracts nearby strays. In essence, objective reporting shows that TNR is dangerous to both cats and other species alike.

"The situation is becoming dire for native species, who have no natural defenses to protect themselves from predation by invasive cats. More than half the state's 130 native bird species are gone, and most of those that remain have been listed as endangered. We openly, rightly, and unashamedly spend time, money, and resources to fight invasive species in these islands (eg. Albizia, frogs, ants, trees, weeds, etc.) but for some reason, cats—one of the MOST destructive species—are allowed to flourish, and special laws are proposed to unjustly excuse and protect a small number of individuals who encourage the growth and perpetuation of destructive feral cat colonies.

"Scientists everywhere agree that feral cats are a huge problem for biodiversity, but unlike global climate change, deforestation, or other complex threats to wildlife, the feral cat dilemma is actually a fairly easy problem to solve. We owe it to our native species to protect them from this imminent threat of extinction, instead of wasting time and money on costly, futile TNR programs that merely prolong the problem. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Yamane rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, standing in support. So Mr. Speaker, I wasn't planning to stand, but I'll explain the nexus behind this bill. Again, I've been serving another community on behalf of the State of Hawaii, so I'm glad to be back. Mr. Speaker, the reason this bill was generated was at the request of non-profits who actually service many of the communities highlighted in previous testimony.

"Mr. Speaker, the system on currently dealing with feral cats is broken, it's only increasing. Mr. Speaker, it is not true to say that trap and neuter, return release programs are ineffective, it's how you implement it, Mr. Speaker. Currently, TNR programs are being used at the University of Hawaii, Manoa, Magic Island, Ala Moana Beach Park, Diamond Head Beach Park, and many other communities across the islands. Mr. Speaker, this program is successfully used on places like Disneyland and Stanford University. The reason for success is resulting in not only the program being implemented and the use of education to support those who feed these feral cats, but also on the counties and states that implement it.

"Mr. Speaker, currently, these feral cats are attacking indigenous native birds, but turning a blind eye to the problem is not a solution. Mr. Speaker, this bill was an attempt to try to bring people together to finally come up with a program that will address both sides of the problem. Not only the cats being left by former owners, but also by those who feed them. Mr. Speaker, if you talk with them, they understand it is an ongoing problem to have 300 cat colonies running through Central Oahu and other places. However, Mr. Speaker, for them it is a passion of theirs not to have these cats die from starvation. And Mr. Speaker, the last point I want to make in the rationale behind this bill was that we are trying to address a problem that has been plaguing out state and city parks for decades. It's about time that we try to do something about it in a humane and constructive way, by looking at the implementation of a scientifically proven program called TNRs. Thank you."

Representative Kobayashi rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition. I believe that one of our biggest jobs here is to prioritize. Do we prioritize feral cats over wildlife, endangered birds, which our state is protecting through state tax dollars? Feral cats are a huge problem that I think cannot be adequately addressed by a bill which essentially delegates that responsibility of feral cats to a private non-profit organization.

"This bill says that the State shall contract with a private non-profit organization which meets the following qualifications, and I won't read them all, but those qualifications are very suspiciously targeting a well-known existing group or groups within the islands. When that rescue organization is selected, that rescue organization then can exempt caretakers from current law. In other words, a non-profit organization has the power of exempting someone from statute, and then that registered caretaker of cats is not limited to the number of animals, not limited to the confinement of animals. So this is a very dangerous kind of delegation of authority.

"In addition, I think we should be mindful of the fact that once we delegate this authority, because of the shall language, this is a perpetual, long-term obligation that we will have to fund through state taxpayer dollars. And so for these reasons and many others, I oppose this bill. Thank you."

Representative Holt rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative Kobayashi be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative DeCoite rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative DeCoite's written remarks are as follows:

"With reservations. As the DLNR pointed out, the feral cat problem is a major threat to both wildlife and humans in Hawaii. The cats are a major predator of native wildlife, including threatened or endangered species. A major problem DLNR pointed out with this bill is that any realistic approach to the feral cat problem must include euthanasia for animals that cannot be placed into homes or sanctuaries. A trap-sterilize-return (TNR) program would only increase the feral cat problem and exposes the State to potential lawsuits under the Endangered Species Act (ESA). The Department of Health opposed this bill and stated that the counties have ordinances that addressed the management of feral cats. Another concern was that this bill exempted caregivers from state law and county ordinances. For these reasons, I vote on this bill with reservations. Mahalo."

Representative Har rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Gates rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Matsumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative LoPresti rose to respond, stating:

"Second time in opposition, I just wanted to correct some facts. You know, trap, neuter and release does work in certain parts of the mainland. It's scientifically not working here. I'm all for moving according to science. I also wanted to note that even PETA, the People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals, cite that feral cats trap, neuter and return is considered an inhumane approach for cats themselves. So even that organization that's radically in favor of protecting animals, sometimes even above humans, says that these programs actually hurt cats. So if you care about it, you don't support it. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2593, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO FERAL CATS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 40 ayes to 11 noes, with Representatives Creagan, DeCoite, Gates, Har, Keohokalole, Matsumoto, Tupola and Ward voting aye with reservations, and with Representatives Choy, Cullen, Evans, Hashem, Holt, Kobayashi, Learmont, LoPresti, Nakamura, Ohno and Takayama voting no.

Representative Nishimoto, for the Committee on Judiciary, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1120-18) recommending that H.B. No. 2072, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative Belatti moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2072, HD 2 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Morikawa.

Representative Keohokalole rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Unfortunately, I can't support this bill right now, and I'd just like to publicly explain why, because I don't want people to think that I'm not opposed to cruelty against animals. And quite the opposite, I have a conflict of interest, actually, I have to share with the members if I may, that I own a dog."

The Chair addressed Representative McKelvey, stating:

"There's no conflict."

Representative McKelvey continued, stating:

"Thank you so much. My concern with this measure, like so many other dog owners around here and dog lovers, is that while very well intended, the current version has a lot of problems, a lot of problems. It basically, what worries me about this measure is that it's criminalizing behavior under very subjective enforcement regimes, and things that regular dog owners do, dog trainers do, according to this bill, could now subject somebody to an animal cruelty charge, and any criminal charge warrants going to the criminal court system, getting a defense attorney. And a charge of animal cruelty also carries a lot of social stigma with it, too.

"So when I read the measure, and looking at some of the restraints on tethers, trolley wheel systems, 10 feet of leash or less. I could easily construe situations whereby innocent dog owners, especially those going to work, or perhaps in different parts of the house, or doing training or other things could be exposed to criminal liability.

"And so while I do not support animal cruelty, obviously, in any way, shape or form, as a dog lover my concern is that, with so many other things, the road to hell is sometimes paved with good intentions. And I think a lot of good dog owners, because of the way the statute is written, could find themselves being charged with a very serious offense, which ironically, they would never want to be associated with in any way, shape or form. Thank you."

Representative Gates rose in opposition to the measure and asked that the remarks of Representative McKelvey be entered into the Journal as his own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Evans rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand in support. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. There's a lot of vulnerable children and adults, and now we're talking about vulnerable dogs. This bill has been around for several years, we're trying to get it right. It's with good intention, the intention being, there is the right way and the wrong to tether and chain dogs. If you saw what happened here, what, last week or the week before, it was on the television and the paper about someone who had chained a dog and the chain grew into its neck, and it was just horrible. The dog could not eat, it was really a nasty situation.

"And the intent of this is, we know people are going to chain and tether, but there is the right way and the wrong way, and the best analogy that I can have is, here, years ago, we decided that you're supposed to seat belt your children in a car, but we all know that if you don't have booster seats and if you don't do it the right way, you could actually harm that child.

"I think that's what the intent of this bill is, is we know you're going to do it, but there's a right way and a wrong way. Because, inadvertently, you could actually harm the dog, and what will happen is, is what they've discovered in studies, is that if you really hurt a dog like that, leave them improperly on a chain all day long when you're gone, they end up turning into being barkers, potentially, they end up being biters, they're angry, they're upset, and it turns them. It's a behavioral thing. So I encourage us to keep it moving, and if there's some concerns, to keep working on it and try to make it right. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2072, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SECTION 711-1109, HAWAII REVISED STATUTES," passed Third Reading by a vote of 48 ayes to 3 noes, with Representative Keohokalole voting aye with reservations, and with Representatives Gates, McKelvey and San Buenaventura voting no.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1130-18) recommending that H.B. No. 1828, HD 2, as amended in HD 3, pass Third Reading.

Representative Belatti moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 1828, HD 3 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Morikawa.

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. I would speak with very, very strong reservations in as much as it's going into the Senate and going to come back into conference, possibly, so it's a long way, but my concern with this, again, has to do with the share of the counties and the tourist tax, tourist accommodation tax. I would prefer that this money be used for mitigation of tourism, is very general and probably impossible to make it operable. How do you measure mitigation? How do you measure how much a county gets? Honolulu County, which is the largest, Oahu county, which is the largest, we could use that in a couple hours.

"So it's very difficult, and I understand you want to give some money back to the respective counties, but this is not the way to do it. The way to do it as an, also in 2605 also is to provide to increase the share of the tourist accommodation tax and to make it permanent with an increase every year, so they can take care of their own. We don't have to worry about the county, we got enough things to do on the State without telling the counties what to do.

"So with this measure, I would hope that as we go along, we look a little more closely, I know the intent is good, but I believe, again, it's wrong. We should be giving it to the counties and let them do with the dollars as they see fit. Thank you very much."

Representative Kobayashi rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support with a slight reservation. My concern has to do with the following language. Initiatives that mitigate negative impacts on communities caused by tourist activity. The idea of this bill is that perhaps as much as $10 million, per the original drafts of this bill, might be spent to mitigate negative impacts, but negative impacts are not defined. Now, tourism causes all kinds of negative impacts, and the prioritization of these negative impacts could very well decide how $10 million might be spent.

"For instance, would you want to mitigate the negative impacts of transient accommodations, short-term transient accommodations, like Airbnb or crime in tourist areas, or environmental quality, or beach safety, or homeless in tourist areas and other places? All those choices are left up to an agency who is named, the Hawaii Lodging and Tourism Association. I think that unless we further define negative impacts, some of this $10,000 in taxpayer money will be spent on things that perhaps some people in the community would not like to see. I would like to see concern placed on negative impacts that are of widespread concern.

"I would note that tourism has grown so big that it has negative impacts that we did not originally contemplate, for instance, environmental quality. The Office of Environmental Quality Control was of such concern back in the '70s, during the Governor Burns administration, that OEQC, Office of Environmental Quality Control, was actually in the Governor's Office, and that had to do with Governor Burns's concerns about the growth of tourism and what he called the necessity for quality control policies, quality control policies. And the idea there was that we wanted tourism, but we wanted quality tourism, and we wanted tourism that did not impact, negatively, our communities. So for these reasons, I have some concerns and I hope that the term 'negative impacts' can be further defined later. Thank you."

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"With reservations, Mr. Speaker. Some interesting concerns raised by the previous speakers. My concern is quite different, and I've mentioned it before. My concern is about setting a precedent that we will continually have to mitigate and fight back against, of creating a nexus between the TAT and tourism impacts. So we're creating a nexus where it didn't exist before, and to quote my colleague in front of me, that creates a very slippery slope that endangers tax dollars for the State. Thank you."

Representative Tokioka rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 1828, HD 3, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TOURISM," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes to 1 no, with Representatives Har, Kobayashi, LoPresti, Souki and Tokioka voting aye with reservations, and with Representative Say voting no.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1131-18) recommending that H.B. No. 2010, as amended in HD 1, pass Third Reading.

Representative Belatti moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2010, HD 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Morikawa.

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am with reservations on 1131 because of forgiving the loan, the debt."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in mild support. It's mild support because it's a good bill, but it needs to be made known in the record that this bill is wiping off the books $191 million, which some of us on this floor voted for years ago, because it was a quick payback of a location was the best thing since sliced bread, and it's been very disappointing, Mr. Speaker. So I wanted to go on record that this is $191 million for the mortgage of which they otherwise said they were going to pay off very quickly. Now it's, what, 27 years later and we still owe $191 million, and we're erasing it.

"My point is, to make known for the record, that we're erasing it, but to say what is at least good on the horizon, they've almost broken even, in fact, got a very small, how would you say, in the black this last year, but they still haven't, because of the past years, been able to pay it off. And, let's be very honest about it, other funds, other departments needed the funds, and instead of paying off the mortgage, they ended up using the Convention Center's funds. For those reasons, Mr. Speaker, I feel very mildly about this bill. Thank you."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"With reservations, same concern as my previous two colleagues. It's a huge amount of debt to forgive. Obviously, we don't want it to continue. However, we have priorities, we have other things that we've talked about in this body about things that we need to prioritize. So the reservation is the $191 million of forgiveness of debt, with no clear plan of how we should have mitigated that and come at it. So those are my reservations. Thank you."

Representative Matsumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2010, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TOURISM," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes to 1 no, with Representatives Matsumoto, Thielen and Tupola voting aye with reservations, and with Representative Say voting no.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1132-18) recommending that H.B. No. 2605, HD 1, as amended in HD 2, pass Third Reading.

Representative Belatti moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2605, HD 2 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Morikawa.

Representative Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Strong opposition to Standing Committee Report 1132, House Bill 2605, relating to transient accommodations, and if I may say a few words, please. Thank you. Mr. Speaker, the bill originally had a one, I'm talking about Oahu, by the way, neighbor islands have different setups, and neighbor islands seem to have really done a pretty good job with their transient vacationers, Oahu has not. It's been abysmal. And this bill had a $1 million incentive in it to begin with for the County of Oahu. It's been, I guess, lined out, and now it's a blank incentive, but if the bill makes it to final reading, there will be a monetary incentive for the County of Oahu to create fast track special use permits for short-term vacation rentals, and these are the ones that are tearing apart our communities.

"A special use permit would grant exemptions from the existing residential zoning code, and it would mean that thousands of short-term vacation rental units could be allowed to operate inside residential zoning areas, areas that, up till now, have been reserved for our homes, our schools, and community parks.

"And then, in addition to the special use permits, the SUPs, the bill mandates the County of Oahu to set up a contested case process for any person who wants to have an SUP and is denied that. So then they're going to get a contested case. Number one, they're going to get to apply for the SUP. Number two, if they're denied, they get to apply and be granted a contested case proceeding.

"A 2016 study by SMS found that vacation rental units exacerbate the affordable housing problem by reducing our housing stock and driving up rents. And then in 2016, University of Hawaii's UHERO said, there're roughly 17,000 individually advertised units in Hawaii. Those are only the advertised ones, but we're talking 17,000. And another consulting firm, JLL, estimates if we don't do something to stop them, the number of vacation rentals in Hawaii are slated to grow by 3% every year.

"Mr. Speaker, 80% of these are owned by people that live outside of Hawaii. These are not local owners, 80% owned by people that live outside of Hawaii. And every new vacation rental is a home that your family, your children, my grandchildren won't be able to live in, because they're going to be churned on a short-term basis at this much higher revenue stream that these 80% owners, out-of-state owners, are benefitting from, and harming our local communities.

"The City and County has continually told us that they're unable to enforce the law for the few legal short-term rental units they already have, and I'd like to say loudly and clearly, the City has proven themselves incompetent and unwilling to enforce the ordinances that they already have on the books. How do we think this bill will cause them to be any different? It won't. What the bill will do is, the City will say, gee we have to grant special use permits, SUPs, and the City will then go ahead and be inundated with contested case requests, because they've denied some of those SUPs, and then the City will cave and say, we don't have the person power to be able to handle this, so we're going to grant all of these. This is 80% out-of-state owners. My grandchildren won't be able to find a place to rent, other members' children or grandchildren won't be able to find a place to rent."

Representative Quinlan rose to yield his time, and the Chair "so ordered."

"Thank you. And we're going to be faced with the situation where the majority of people in our state won't be people who reside in our neighborhoods. I've told you before, Mr. Speaker. When I go door to door, I can tell which streets, which beachside streets in Kailua, are just vacation renters. They're dead, or else they're loaded with beach equipment, et cetera, but there's no neighborhood left. No one looking out for another neighbor. And the owners? There's a lockbox there, the owners aren't around. They're somewhere in New York, maybe even overseas. So what we're doing with this bill, it may have been well intentioned, but it's devastating because it incentivizes City and County, an entity that can't handle things anyway, they're just inept at handling what's going on now.

"There're two places in Kailua, Mr. Speaker, that have been featured on television that have a half a million dollars in fines, and they've been operating for 4 to 5 years, and the City hasn't even been able to shut them down or collect the money. They come to us for rail money, tell them to collect their fines that they have from the illegal operators, operating these Airbnb type of operations.

"So we're saying to the City, here's your incentive, you get more money, don't use it for rail, use it to set up a special use permit process, and then a contested case process. And when you plow through the money, because of the thousands of people that are operating illegally that are demanding to be having a legal permit, when you plow through that money and then you end up granting them all, what are we left with? Shells of former residential areas, places that none of us can call home, and then we say to our kids, sorry you can't afford to live here, because those places are owned by people that don't live in Hawaii, and they're not going to be available to you, to set up your family and live in Hawaii.

"It's something that, in my belief, is a wrong and devastatingly wrong policy. I'm sorry to see this bill reach third reading. I hope we never see it on final reading, Mr. Speaker. Let's keep our homes for our local people. This bill does exactly the opposite for Oahu. Thank you."

Representative Quinlan rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Second time, I'll be brief. Just a couple points I want to make. On the North Shore, last time we counted, and this is probably a low number, there are over 2,000 vacation rentals listed on Airbnb, VRBO. Last time I did a district-wide mailer, that was 9,000 postal addresses. So you do the math on that. Another point I wanted to make is that we live in an era of cheap financing. The world is awash with capital, like a butterfly searching for its mate, and Oahu is the biggest, most beautiful butterfly out there. Thank you."

Representative Matsumoto rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, in opposition. Same, I represent the North Shore and our communities are overrun with illegal vacation rentals. It's turning our communities into resort areas, and it's a big problem, and I think we really need to look carefully at this bill as it moves through, and I would just like permission to insert further comments."

Representative Matsumoto's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. At this time, I rise in opposition. My fear is that this bill, although it attempts to address the pervasive issue of illegal vacation rentals, may potentially increase the number of illegal vacation rentals, or transient vacation units (TVUs), when counties already have a hard time regulating illegal TVUs.

"Currently, our communities are being overrun by illegal vacation rentals, which are turning our local communities essentially into resort areas. I am very much against these illegal vacation units transforming our communities beyond recognition and pushing out our local residents.

"These illegal vacation rentals are also removing housing options from our residents. In 2016, the Hawaii Tourism Authority found that 70% of properties listed as vacation rentals in Hawaii are owned by out-of-state property owners. By legitimizing these illegal vacation rentals, this bill is incentivizing homeowners to create more vacation rentals, as opposed to creating housing options for our local residents.

"If we do not address the continued proliferation of illegal vacation rentals, we will continue to see a drastic rise in rental housing costs. This is simply not an option for our residents, who are already struggling with our residential rental market.

"I believe that we need better enforcement of these illegal vacation rentals. The Department of Planning and Permitting (DPP) already does not enforce or address this issue affecting so many of our communities. However, just blindly throwing funds towards enforcement efforts may continue to fail to bring us results and does not directly address the issue of illegal vacation rentals.

"Furthermore, I am opposed to the way this bill expedites the permitting process for illegal rentals. By requiring the counties to establish processes to expediently issue special use permits, and to establish an expedited process for addressing appeals of denied special use permits, this bill is essentially creating a process to quickly legalize these illegal vacation rentals. This bill is legalizing and legitimizing these rentals that we don't want taking over our communities in the first place.

"I think we need to re-evaluate our approach to reducing the negative impacts of these illegal vacation rentals, but expediting the process to legalize and legitimize these rentals is not the solution. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Har rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 2605, HD 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TRANSIENT ACCOMMODATIONS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 43 ayes to 8 noes, with Representative Har voting aye with reservations, and with Representatives Ing, Matsumoto, Quinlan, Say, Souki, Thielen, Tupola and Ward voting no.

Representative Luke, for the Committee on Finance, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1133-18) recommending that H.B. No. 2471, HD 1 pass Third Reading.

Representative Belatti moved that the report of the Committee be adopted, and that H.B. No. 2471, HD 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Morikawa.

Representative Lee rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, in support, Mr. Speaker. I just, because this is the first time this issue has come to this body, at least to my knowledge, I did want to say just a few words. The issue this bill tries to address is something which is being discussed worldwide right now in gambling commissions, in countries in Europe, in Asia, and so forth, and including right here in the United States. The issue deals with the expansion of predatory and exploitive mechanisms in video games, which specifically target kids, which are unregulated, and which are having extreme and adverse consequences, so much so that the UK Gambling Commission recently found that 11% of all 11 to 16-year-olds in that country have been actively betting and cashing out these kinds of online products through these kinds of mechanisms in video games.

"The Gambling Commission in the State of Washington recently ordered the shutdown of sites which helped promote this sort of thing and enable people, including youth, to be able to gamble and cash out these sorts of online items.

"The concern is not whether, ultimately, we as elected officials or bodies, whether regulatory, statutory, or any of the sort around the country define these kinds of in-game gambling-like mechanisms as legitimate gambling. The industry tends to say that because some of these mechanisms tend to give out something, even if it's nearly worthless, because of that, the money that people are spending and committing and gambling on, means that this isn't technically gambling. But by that definition, Mr. Speaker, if we were to walk in and place $1,000 on a roulette wheel in Vegas, and we were to get even a penny back from the casino, we would then exempt the entire organization from the definition of gambling, which is just silly.

"No, Mr. Speaker, the concern here is about ultimately the outcomes that we're seeing, concerns with cognitive development, with growing addiction, particularly among youth, and ultimately the financial harm which has befallen thousands or tens of thousands of families around the country, and right here in Hawaii, many of whom we've recently heard from.

"A recent study here in the United States found that about 90% of all kids between 8 and 18 play video games, and I think by and large that's reflected in society and in our families, and it's everywhere, on your phone, on your PCs, on Xboxes and PlayStations. But what's concerning is that another study done just recently found that, of all those kids, of that 90% that play games, 9% of those kids age 8 to 18, of everybody, were found to exhibit multiple signs of behavioral addiction, which the addition and proliferation of these kinds of gambling mechanisms throughout the video game industry is certainly compounding.

"The American Psychological Association, the World Health Organization, local psychologists, child psychologists, pediatric mental health experts and others have all raised red flags about the growing impact that we're starting to see with this issue, and numerous colleagues in states around the country are currently starting the same debate in their own chambers. But what's really important to note is that this falls to us because the industry has failed to self-regulate and failed to take action to avert the kinds of consequences and impacts that we're seeing today.

"Parents today have no ability to meaningfully protect their kids, because there is no disclosure in any of these games that these kinds of mechanisms are included. There is no distinguishing being able to buy something in a game from the kinds of addictive, exploitive and predatory mechanisms, which any game could present. There's no way to know, and that has to change.

"So, Mr. Speaker, this bill establishes a group to start monitoring the situation, and in the future, make recommendations. It is absolutely the least that we can do to start to address the situation, which some mental health experts have already compared in scale and scope to the opioid crisis, except that while it does affect many adults, in this case a huge majority of them are our kids. Thank you very much."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. On this and the next measure, I'm just going to take it as one, if I may, just cause it's a thematic thing. I have reservations on these measures. I appreciate what the author is trying to do with this bill. You know what, you're right, the video game industry has not self-regulated, despite promises to do so. There has become a wild wild west with developers, but like so many of my concerns on other measures today, it's not with the public policy aim, it's with how it's trying to get there. I mean, I'm sorry, but I just can't see how video games and opioids are in the same category, Mr. Speaker. If we're going to do that, if they're that dangerous, we should ban all video games in the State of Hawaii. I guess all of us who have them on our phone, and there's many people here, both in the Chamber and elsewhere, who do.

"We need to protect our kids, but at the end of the day, these devices allow parents to do exactly that, to protect their kids. And I think that to say that video games in and of themselves are automatically gambling opens up a huge Pandora's box. And again, it's criminalizing behavior, it's a criminal offense. It could not have the intended consequences, and I think also what it does is, it opens up the door for other activities, baseball cards, for instance. Baseball cards would be considered gambling. You'd get a pack of cards, you don't know what cards are in there, but you know you're going to get something. It may not be a Barry Bonds, but you know you're going to get players.

"So we do need to hold the video game industry accountable, and I agree with the author of that, I see where he's going with this measure. And the public policy aim of trying to make sure they disclose openly to parents and consumers that they're not being used in ways to entice people to go down the road of gambling, I support him on that. I just worry that it's overreaching on behalf of the State, and I also worry that it's taking a huge leap into an area of gambling that may not necessarily exist. There may be other ways to get to this aim of trying to protect our kids and inform consumers without criminalizing inadvertent behavior. So those are my only concerns, and comments to the Journal, if I may. Thank you, appreciate it."

Representative McKelvey's written remarks are as follows:

"I have reservations on these measures and would like to reference my comments previously submitted on the 20th Legislative Day, February 16, 2018 on Stand. Com. Rep. No. 755-18, H.B. No. 2727, HD 1, and Stand. Com. Rep. No. 754-18, H.B. No. 2471, HD 1."

Representative Holt rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. If I may have the words of the previous speaker entered into the Journal as if they were my own. And just to note some of the testimony from the Office of Consumer Protection, some of the things that they regulate are mortgage rescue fraud, data breaches, gift certificates, refunds and exchanges, complex litigation involving alleged unfair or deceptive marketing practices by pharmaceutical companies, and motor vehicle manufacturers, and now we want to add video games. Thank you," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"With reservations on both measures, this and the other one as previously stated by the speaker from Maui, brief comment. If I could have the words of the Representative from Maui inserted as if they were my own," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Tupola continued, stating:

"And I think as a parent of children and of nieces and nephews, I would say that there is a mechanism for parents. Check your kids, look at what they're doing, watch them as they play the games, put on the parental controls, open their phone, make sure that you have that on.

"So again, the overreach of the State is that we feel like, of course, of course we're against gambling, we don't want addictive behaviors, we don't want this starting young, but also, there is a part to play on the parents' role of making sure that you're a part of it, it didn't accidentally happen to you. You let it happen because you didn't check, you're a parent, you're supposed to do that. And so I feel like it's a good intent to start to push that way, but again, with a board and commission, which it's going to establish a commission, and two of the members are going to have regular and broad experience playing mobile digital games, that could be anybody. That could be my nephew, that could be my niece, and he's pretty good, he's five years old and he can kill it, I mean he's good.

"But again, when we talk about the root of the issue and regulating something that's not in our state, so we're trying to regulate an industry that's not here, they don't produce their video games here, then we really are reaching into a round that I think needs further discussion, definitely advocacy. Let's make sure to get out there that all parents know that we should be aware of gambling mechanisms in video games and on our phones, but that we should encourage parents to play that role in their kids life, to be more aware and more involved. Thank you."

Representative Tokioka rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations, Mr. Speaker. In the committee, I voted no, and I've learned more about it since that time. But I would like to adopt the words from the Representative from District 29 as if they were my own, because they include the words from the Representative from Lahaina, and as well as the Representative from Nanakuli, because it is up to parents to make sure that their kids don't have their credit card on the machines and don't have the access to buying the things that the parents don't want them to buy. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker," and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Onishi rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Har rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representatives McKelvey and Holt be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative DeCoite rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that the remarks of Representatives McKelvey and Holt be entered into the Journal as her own, and the Chair "so ordered." (By reference only.)

Representative Quinlan rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support, Mr. Speaker, both measures. I'm not sure necessarily that it would be a good thing for either of these two measures to actually pass and become law, although I am in support of both of them. However, I think it does send a very strong signal to the industry that it is time to self-regulate, and for that reason, I am in support. Thank you."

Representative Ohno rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

THIRD READING

H.B. No. 2588, HD 1:

Representative Belatti moved that H.B. No. 2588, HD 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Morikawa.

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. I wanted to thank the introducer and, of course, share my gratitude for putting forth a measure that's actually been talked about a lot in our community. So this is highlighting something that happened to one of my own constituents, and so I wanted to be real clear that I feel that it's so appropriate for it to be named after this family, because they've extended their reach to many other families that have had the same incident happen. Even within the last year, it's happened over and over and over again.

"And so we just wanted to show my gratitude because the Werner family has been in pain not being able to see somebody who afflicted so much pain to their family not have any jail time. And so, of course that's their intent, is that there be a mandatory prison sentence for people who fail to render aid in the event of negligent homicide. And of course, recently, they've also extended their hand to the Kahoolihala family, who had the same incident happen, and then recently to Jonah Ragsdale and Daniel Mole, who his funeral is in two weeks on Saturday, as well.

"And so even though it's brought our community a lot of hurt, it's also brought us all together to be more aware, to be more mindful. And then for families who this has happened to, to extend an arm of support, because some of these families have no idea what to do, they have no idea what to feel, they're having problems with the Prosecutor's Office, they still have no type of closure of what happened.

"So I'm grateful to see this addressed, and of course I'm very grateful for the introducer, and grateful that my community members were able to come forward and work together with organizations who curb driving under the influence to address this issue. Thank you."

Representative Gates rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In strong support, permission to enter written comments into the Journal and make brief comments now. I would like to also thank the introducer and the committees for passing this bill out. As many of you may know, we had an incident in my district recently where two lives were taken. And this bill will send a loud message to the community that drinking and driving is not acceptable, and that taking the life of another will be met with severe punishment. So, with that, I would like to insert written comments to continue. Mahalo."

Representative Gates's written remarks are as follows:

"On April 24th, 2016, Kaulana Werner's life was tragically ended in front of his family home when he was struck by a drunk driver in Nānākuli. The driver fled the scene, showing no remorse and a callous heart. Kaulana was 19 years old and was said to bring joy to all that encountered him. The driver is still free and any punishment she is likely to face will hardly provide solace to the survivors.

"This past President's Day weekend, the Wai'anae community lost two young residents that were loved by many to a hit and run incident in Mākaha. My heartfelt condolences go out to the Ragsdale and Mole 'ohana for their tragic loss of Jonah and Daniel.

"The Werner, Ragsdale and Mole families deserve better. Our community deserves better. We demand safe streets for our residents and punishments that not only fit the crime, but serve to deter future criminals.

"On this almost second anniversary of the death of Kaulana Werner, let us honor these victims and their families by passing House Bill 2588, offered by the Werner family. This measure will increase the maximum prison sentence for any felony that results in the death or serious injury of another while acting with reckless disregard for others' safety. This bill will help bring justice to community members who have lost loved ones through hit and run incidents and serve as a warning to others by showing that harsh consequences do exist when the life of another is taken so needlessly. Mahalo."

Representative Lowen rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 2588, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EXTENDED TERMS OF IMPRISONMENT," passed Third Reading by a vote of 51 ayes, with Representative Lowen voting aye with reservations.

H.B. No. 2074, HD 1:

Representative Belatti moved that H.B. No. 2074, HD 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Morikawa.

Representative Takayama rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Takayama's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support, with reservations, of H.B. 2074, HD 1, which proposes to increase sentences for offenders convicted of committing property crimes against nonprofit organizations.

"I believe in punishing those who commit crimes, but our system of criminal justice must be fair. In this case, I have reservations about the fairness of arbitrarily elevating penalties for property crimes against nonprofits. Nowhere in the bill nor in the testimony has there been any reason given for the need to implement this new sentencing category.

"There already exist criminal sanctions for theft, embezzlement, and other offenses against nonprofits, just like those against any other business.

"Mr. Speaker, this measure unfortunately opens the door to seeking enhanced sentencing for every other category of entity that is the victim of crime. We should not allow emotional anger over a single incident to determine our sentencing laws, because that does not lead to a fair criminal justice system.

"For these reasons, I have reservations over the wisdom of passing H.B. 2074, HD 1."

Representative San Buenaventura rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Souki rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker and members, I wish to vote no on this measure. I did not submit a slip, but I will. Anyway, I've always been opposed to extended sentences, I believe in rehabilitation, and a lot of times there are circumstances that we don't see when there is such a situation as ugly as it is, but there may be certain situations, and we certainly don't want to see anyone, especially our family, get caught in a situation where they be in for an extended time. I think everybody eventually will come out, and we will prefer they come out of prison well and sooner than later. Thank you."

Representative LoPresti rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tupola rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Lowen rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ing rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative McKelvey rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations and just a brief note. My concern is creating different kinds of criminal liability based upon one's tax status. Thank you very much."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 2074, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO OFFENSES AGAINST PROPERTY RIGHTS," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes to 1 no, with Representatives Ing, LoPresti, Lowen, McKelvey, San Buenaventura, Takayama and Tupola voting aye with reservations, and with Representative Souki voting no.

H.B. No. 2739, HD 1:

Representative Belatti moved that H.B. No. 2739, HD 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Morikawa.

At this time, Representative Tupola offered Floor Amendment No. 2, amending H.B. No. 2739, HD 1, as follows:

SECTION 1. Providers. House Bill No. 2739, H.D. 1, is amended with regard to health care providers by amending section 3 of the bill as follows:

1. To ensure that a rigorous psychological screening for mental health issues occurs, and to better align with proven policy in other states like Oregon, amending the definitions of "capable" and "counseling" to strike references to clinical social workers;
2. To ensure that all health care providers involved in this process meet the high professional standards required for medical treatment by the State of Hawaii, amending the definition of "health care provider" to clarify that the person must be licensed or certified by the law of this State;
3. To ensure that health care providers are given a clear standard for what is required to fully inform a patient of the relevant facts, amending the definition of "informed decision" to clarify that the phrase "informed consent" is synonymous;
4. To ensure that patients receive the best possible medical advice regarding their full range of end-of-life options, including palliative care, on pages 11 and 14, adding a requirement that the attending provider refer the patient to a physician specializing in palliative care for a consultation regarding alternative options;
5. To ensure that health care providers retain the right to conscientiously object to this process and to decline to participate in any part of it, on pages 23 and 24, following the recommendations of the Department of the Attorney General by clarifying that health care providers are not required to inform a patient about the option to obtain life-ending medication or refer a qualified patient to another provider if they are unable or unwilling to participate; and
6. To ensure that life-saving professionals are not inadvertently punished for doing their jobs, on page 24, providing that emergency medical services and nursing care providers shall not be subject to civil or criminal liability for unknowingly rendering medical assistance to a qualified patient who has self-administered the prescribed medication to end the patient's life.

SECTION 2. Patients. House Bill No. 2739, H.D. 1, is amended with regard to patients by amending section 3 of the bill as follows:

1. To ensure that teenagers cannot access life-ending medication at an earlier age than society entrusts them with the decision to use alcohol or tobacco, amending the definition of "adult" to raise the age requirement from eighteen to twenty-one years of age or older;
2. To ensure this does not legalize "euthanasia", amending the definition of "prescription" to clarify that the qualified patient must either self-administer, if the patient chooses to do so, or otherwise dispose of the medication properly;
3. To ensure that manageable diseases or conditions do not qualify, amending the definition of "terminal disease" to clarify that the disease must be one that will, within reasonable medical judgment, produce death within six months even with reasonable and ordinary medical treatment; and
4. To ensure that qualified patients are truly residents of the State of Hawaii, on page 17, deleting "evidence that the patient owns or leases property in Hawaii" as a factor that may demonstrate state residency.

SECTION 3. Enforcement. House Bill No. 2739, H.D. 1, is amended with regard to enforcement of the law by amending sections 3 and 12 of the bill as follows:

1. To ensure accurate medical records, on page 13, restoring the requirement that both the terminal disease and self-administration of the medication shall be listed on the death certificate as the immediate causes of death;
2. To ensure that malpractice is discovered and punished if it occurs, on pages 18 and 19, deleting language that would limit the disclosure of information in criminal and civil malpractice proceedings;
3. To protect minors and the general public from accidental ingestion of lethal drugs, on page 20, following the suggestion of the Department of the Attorney General by requiring the Department of Health to make rules to govern lawful means of disposal of unused medication, and inserting an unspecified felony criminal penalty for failure to lawfully dispose of unused medication;
4. Because the term "good faith" is not an objective standard that would allow for clear-cut and consistent prosecution of wrongdoers, on pages 22 through 24, following the recommendations of the Department of the Attorney General by deleting each instance of the term "good faith"; and
5. To ensure that the law will be revisited by a future legislature for the implementation of any improvements shown by experience to be necessary or desirable, on page 39, adding a sunset provision that will repeal the Act after three years, on December 31, 2021.

SECTION 4. House Bill No. 2739, H.D. 1 is amended by, in section 3 of the bill, making conforming technical amendments and renumbering sections of the bill accordingly.

Representative Tupola moved that Floor Amendment No. 2 be adopted, seconded by Representative McDermott.

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Everyone has the copy of the amendments, and I'm just going to highlight additional portions that were added. As we left the floor last week, we, of course, continued conversations with people on both sides of the issue to make sure that we incorporated and heard out all the parts of the testimony. So I organized it a little bit better, it has a section for providers, section for patients, and a section for enforcement, so that it's easier to explain through it. So I'll just highlight the parts that were newly added.

"So under providers, now again, we're talking about safeguards for providers that were brought up in testimony, as well as from doctors, as well as from people that were actually proponents of the bill from Oregon that were guiding us along. So number one, it says, to ensure a rigorous psychological screening for mental health issue occurs, and to better align with the proven policy in other states like Oregon, amending the definitions of 'capable' and 'counseling' to strike references to clinical social workers.

"So right now, it actually says, psychiatrists, psychologists, and clinical social workers. And it's nothing against clinical social workers, because we actually have a great clinical social worker member in our body that does amazing things for many communities, but this is just to make sure that the counseling reference is only for doctors and psychologists as written in the same Oregon law, that they didn't allow clinical social workers.

"We also added number four, and in number four it's basically, the chair did a great thing by saying to mandatorily have the capability or a psych eval before somebody is allowed to proceed. But also, we're suggesting a number four, to mandatorily allow or put there, for the patients, a consultation with a palliative care specialist, so that nobody feels like this is their only option, but yet one of other options they can consider.

"The last one under providers that's new is under number six. And this one was brought up to me and actually got lots of calls from EMT, nurses, saying that they didn't want to be held liable if they didn't know that somebody was actually in process of applying the act. So in number six it says, to ensure that life-saving professionals are not inadvertently punished for doing their jobs, on page 24, providing that emergency medical services and nursing care providers shall not be subject to civil or criminal liability for unknowingly rendering medical assistance to qualified patients who has self-administered the prescribed medication to end the patient's life.

"This is a really sensitive subject for a lot of the nurses who came forward, as well as EMT, because there's no 'no resuscitate' band that you'll have on your wrist. They wouldn't know, upon arriving on scene, whether or not they would be interfering with the act. So it was suggested in the hearing, and now it's written in this amendment, offered so that people can consider it.

"Secondly, under patients, the four parts of patients are all similar to what I had expressed on second reading. I just want to emphasize number four. To ensure that qualified patients are truly residents of the State of Hawaii, on page 17, deleting 'evidence that the patient owns or leases property in Hawaii' should not be part of a residency requirement. We just went through a long discussion about Airbnbs and how 80% of them are owned by people who are not from this state, so we want to make sure that this only applies to residents. So striking out those references would make sure that we're not opening the door for people to come vacation out here or come out here and own property and then apply the act, because they wouldn't be residents.

"Lastly, on enforcement, I just wanted to highlight number three. So, of course, I've read through one, two, three, four, five last week, as far as the suggestions from the Attorney General, and these are ones that we should take very seriously, because these are the ones that are going to make it possible to enforce malpractice, to enforce whether or not people are bringing back the medication.

"In the opioid crisis, when people talk about abuse and that doctors are overprescribing, they always allude to the fact that there is no budget and there is no means or funding for compliance. So we can't force people to comply if there's not a law, or if there's not a mechanism to enforce or aid, fund, compliance officers. So in number three it says, to protect minors and the general public from accidental ingestion of lethal drugs, the following suggestion is that the Department of Health, with the Attorney General, make rules to govern the lawful means of disposal of unused medication, and inserting an unspecified felony criminal penalty. And again, this is a suggestion by the Attorney General that there be a penalty so that there is a way for us to enforce that.

"And so in this section, I just wanted to highlight that this part is so important for us to consider, when we know that there's going to be medication there, maybe a lot of it, we're not even sure how many pills it would take, actually, for somebody to be able to actually apply this act."

Representative Tupola continued, stating:

"And so in this portion of the act, we've had incidents in my own district happen, I actually saw, a one-and-a-half-year-old child ingest pills from her grandma's purse, accidentally eat it, and I watched at the hospital as they could do nothing for her. She didn't die, but she basically went on the high, crashed from the high, because they couldn't do anything for this young child that accidentally ingested it, and then the grandmother got thrown in jail for having that kind of illegal drug in her purse.

"And now, we're making sure that through this, and I'm suggesting that we consider this, is that because there's no penalty, we wouldn't know if there's extra medication hanging out in someone's bag, or in the medicine cabinet, or somewhere else, that it's not going to be tampered or touched by other people, who may or may not have any intention to apply this act. And bear in mind that in the hearing, many of the proponents of the bill said a lot of the people who start this act don't end up using the pills. They change their mind, they say, hey I don't want to do it, and that's their discretion, they can do that.

"But how are we going to make sure to recoup all that medication when we don't have pharmacies that recollect medicine? We don't have a method whereby we can actually make sure that X amount of pills went back, and now we have them back in our possession and nobody else can actually ingest them, no minor can be subject to them, and it won't be in a place where people can access it.

"And so those are concerns. Obviously, there's many amendments in here, because our deepest concern, and with respect to our chairs who have worked very diligently on it, our deepest concern is to make sure that we guard against malpractice, that we make sure that no elder, no kupuna in our community feels like they're forced into it. And that's the point of this, right? Is that no one should feel forced into it. And secondly, that nobody else gets ahold of medication that's not intended for them. As we know with the opioid crisis, that's what's happening. And we don't want to open the door for younger, or even older people, who might decide that, yup, I want to apply this too, that there's access to that type of medication out there. So those are my comments, and we offer these amendments with respect."

At this time, the Chair stated:

"The Chair would like to ask the members of the public to please refrain from applauding during the floor debate. We make the same request to the Members of the House. Thank you very much."

Representative LoPresti rose, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Point of personal privilege. Will the introducer yield to a question, to wit, will the introducer even vote for this version of the bill?"

At 11:45 o'clock a.m., the Chair declared a recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The House of Representatives reconvened at 11:46 o'clock a.m.

Representative Belatti rose to speak in opposition to the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, really brief comments in opposition. These proposed floor amendments do not strike the proper balance before patient choice and access versus the safeguards that have been contemplated by the underlying bill. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Matsumoto rose to speak in support of the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. At this time, I rise in support of the amendment. Something I wanted to highlight was that this amendment includes a provision that requires an attending provider to refer a patient to a palliative care specialist. This can help patients improve their quality of life and reach their best possible functioning in their daily physical activities and self-care.

It can also assist in the difficult decision-making, not just for the patient, but it can also provide emotional support for families.

"By speaking with experts in palliative care instead of just having a psychological evaluation, a patient can make a fully informed decision. And I feel that it's crucial that all individuals suffering from terminal illness understand all options that are available to them, in all stages of the process. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the proposed floor amendment, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support. Specifically, one issue that was not in the previous discussion of the amendment last week, and that is a measurement mechanism. Mr. Speaker, in my past I've taught goal setting often, and the key is, if the goal can't be measured, it's not a goal. And generally, you can't tell the efficacy of a bill unless it has a sunset date.

"Following the example of California, there's a three year sunset date that I think is one of the things in this bill that will help it, because how many times do we pass bills on this floor that have unintended consequences, and this is a way that we can measure it, we can evaluate it, and we can make it better. For those reasons, Mr. Speaker, I'm in support of this amendment."

The motion that Floor Amendment No. 2, amending H.B. No. 2739, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HEALTH," be adopted, was put to vote by the Chair and upon a voice vote, failed to carry.

(Main Motion)

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I know it's too late for a late introduction, but I wanted to acknowledge the participation in the democratic process of the blue and the yellow shirts that are here. I want to thank each one of them individually, for here we can't have them stand up, but at least we can acknowledge that they are here because of their concern for this bill. In all due respect, regardless of which side. In opposition.

"Having acknowledged that this is something where we agree to disagree, I think there's something that needs to be said. One is that, as life is a sacred thing, so is the act of dying, and I think it has to be both given the same respect. What's missing in both the existing bill as well as the amendment is that fact that this can be a public phenomenon. It doesn't specify in the bill that this will be in a hospital or will be in a home. It discourages people from doing it in public, but I think there's enough difficulty out there with what people are doing in public now to say that it probably should meet with some specificity. So as it moves on, I would hope that that would be the case. Lastly, Mr. Speaker, I would request additional comments into the Journal."

Representative Ward's written remarks are as follows:

"I am in opposition to HB 2739, 'Our Care, Our Choice' Act, which establishes a regulated process under which an adult resident of the state with a medically confirmed terminal disease and less than six months to live may choose to obtain a prescription for medication to end the patient's life.

"I am against this measure because of inadequate safeguards present within the legislation. I have attached an editorial published in the Star Advertiser as a reference. Many of my concerns, such as the sunset clause, are addressed within this article. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Ward also submitted the following Honolulu Star-Advertiser editorial:

EDITORIAL | OUR VIEW

Closely monitor 'aid in dying'

March 11, 2018 Updated March 11, 2018 12:05am

House Health and Human Services and Judiciary Committees holds a public hearing on the so-called Death with Dignity bill that would allow terminally ill adults to end their lives with a lethal dose of prescription medication. Rep.

Scott Nishimoto, left, judiciary chairman, and Rep. John Mizuno, chair of committee, listen during hearing.

This must not be the end of the discussion — even one that has gone on for as long as this one.

It now appears likely House Bill 2739, which would legalize medical aid in dying, will become law. Last week the House passed it, 39-12, and that has been the chamber where the proposal has met its stiffest opposition in recent years. Further, Gov. David Ige has indicated he would sign the bill.

It surely would bring great relief to many to allow a terminally ill patient a prescribed drug for ending his or her life without suffering. However, even if lawmakers and the governor enact this measure, their duty to monitor its consequences must continue.

The legislative process has not ended, of course. Opponents have offered amendments in an effort to improve the bill. One, to add a "sunset clause" enabling lawmakers to take another look in three years, should be considered.

This has been one of the most hotly debated issues ever confronted by lawmakers, in Hawaii or anywhere else. Nearly two-thirds of states have contemplated it, but only five have legalized it: Oregon was the first, in 1994, with Washington, Montana, Vermont and California following suit.

Every aspect of this provision is filled with controversy, including its name. It used to be commonly known as "physician-assisted suicide"; now "medical aid in dying" is preferred.

The rationale is that bills such as HB 2739 limit this optional path to those found by a medical practitioner to be within six months of death from a terminal illness. This is not suicide, they argue, because death is shortly to be inevitable, and the drug merely eases that end.

Others will counter that a finding of "suicide" will nullify insurance claims by the survivors, among other unintended consequences. They add that this is why the term is avoided at all costs.

They also posit that there is no way to know for certain when death will come. Even one of the bill's most ardent supporters — retired lobbyist John Radcliffe, still under treatment for cancer considered terminal — has exceeded what doctors projected as his life expectancy by something approaching two years.

But supporters are also correct to assert that for many, many terminal patients, death will come as forecast, and it can be unendurable. Wishing and hoping for a miracle, they say, does not negate the very real suffering that can afflict terminal patients in their last days.

The House measure currently under review includes hoped-for safeguards against abuse. Among these: a waiting period of 20 days from the time the patient files a written request for the prescription; and steps to prevent coercion by someone in the patient's circle of family and friends.

There are two witnesses required to attest to the patient's sound mind in making the decision to seek the life-ending prescription. One of them must not be a relative, and one must not be someone entitled to a portion of the patient's estate at their death.

Whether or not this is enough protection should be the focus of further discussion as the bill moves through the Senate.

There are plainly defensible arguments that weigh in favor of HB 2739, not the least of which is simple compassion for the dying and their loved ones. Compassion & Choices, a nonprofit advocacy group, has testified that there have been no abuses documented in the states enabling medical aid in dying.

Organization officials have cited Oregon, which has tracked the program the longest, as having maintained palliative care — provision of pain relief and comfort to a dying patient, without a life-ending drug — as a choice; hospice referrals are up.

Still, Hawaii is not Oregon, and it behooves this state to make sure that no horror-story scenarios play out here. HB 2739, if it becomes law, should be followed by state health officials with an eye on possible coercion of the terminal patient.

Among the criteria they should check is the approach taken by health insurers, which could set coverage rates to encourage medical aid-in-dying over other clinical or end-of-life treatment options.

And if lawmakers are as inclined to enact the measure as it now seems, there should be discussion about whether alternative options are sufficiently supported by this legislation. Critics have pointed to the requirement for one or more counseling sessions to be provided "as necessary." This may not be strong enough, as mandates go.

The end of life can be an exquisitely difficult time for a dying patient and his or her loved ones. It also can be exquisitely precious, if pain can be managed properly. These final days have value, and each individual deserves his or her life to be lived in full measure.

Ultimately, it is compassion that is driving measures such as HB 2739 through the life-or-death gauntlet. But ensuring that someone is not deprived of their chance at life — that's compassion, as well.

Representative Kong rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In opposition. So, I may not be deemed terminal. Many people view this bill as being towards being old and decrepit. But I'm not sure if you remember, back in November of 2014 when we first met, I was just released from the hospital and out of major surgery. And I barely made it, and if you recall, the first time we met, in fact, the first time I met the majority of you, I had a tube coming out of my stomach connected to a bag, which was tied to my leg. And oddly enough, I'm still suffering from that operation today.

"It's been a long go, and I'm not sure if any of you recall, but in March of 2016, I was rushed from this building by ambulance to Queen's Hospital. And thank you, everyone here, you've all sent me a very beautiful get well card. And from then on, it's been a very tough go for me. I suffer every day. I suffer so much that, of all people, I have to log my pain in a health journal. In fact, everyone here, free to look. In February, of my pain level that is recorded, I actually used one of these tools, Mr. Speaker, and the minimum number recorded in February is a four. And if anyone wants to look at this little chart here, a four, the smiley face, there's no smile on this, and that's the minimum. And the worst days goes up to an eight. It's a very difficult life I live. It's a different world I live.

"So what happens is, I see the doctor a lot. In fact, tomorrow I have to take a blood test. On Saturday, I have to go for an MRI. And in doing so, in the life I live, I get to meet a lot of other patients who live a similar life. And it's not that we're not deemed terminal, it's just that it's a very different world we live in, Mr. Speaker. And what we do is, we try to encourage one another to make it through the day. People don't understand that this encouragement, the message this House is, we should send to the people of Hawaii, is to try to just to survive. Suicide is not something we take lightly. It's a struggle each and every moment.

"You're not going to believe this but, in this bill, the process to commit this act of compassion is almost a little bit crazier, because each morning, when I pack this little pillbox, the pills in this little pillbox could kill me if I was to take it all at one time. I have to be very careful each morning, because if for some reason I was to be in so much pain, and for some reason if I forget if I took a pill or not and I double up, I'm out like a light."

Representative Kong continued, stating:

"And if it's a worse day and I overdose, I'm gone. This is the life we live. We don't need, when it comes down to suicide, why would I go through the process of this bill. You folks have to understand, we don't want to send a message of suicide. We want to send from the House, we want to send a message of hope. I wish I could push this idea of aloha to the members. I don't want to hear from you saying, oh, give it up Sam. I want to hear a message saying, please, make it one more day. It's so difficult for us, and there's many more like me. I speak to them as we wait in the doctors' office. It's a daily struggle for us.

"So, please, when you think about voting for this bill, please think about us that are suffering. We may not be terminal, and who knows, I'm not sure if you read the story about the story about Colin Nishida from Side Street Inn. I suffered, his story is my story. He died at a young age. I don't know how much longer I have, but this is the life we live. So, please, my friends, you have to understand, this is not just about the old and decrepit. This is about our lives. Thank you very much."

Representative Mizuno rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. First, I wanted to thank you, Mr. Speaker, for allowing your Committee on Health & Human Services as well as your Committee on Judiciary the latitude to hear a bill of this nature, of this magnitude, in an election year. You told your chairs to be bold, and that's what we did. Your decision to allow your chairs of the Health & Human Services Committee as well as Judiciary Committee allowed us to do government right. We listen to the voices of the people. I believe this displays the strength of the open democratic process for the people of Hawaii.

"I'd like to thank the Judiciary Chair, who is steadfast and focused on the strongest safeguards in this bill. The Judiciary Chair was our foundation as we went through the various discussions on this measure. I'd like to thank the Majority Leader, who was outstanding. She did a superb job at working with the advocates as well as the opponents, with working with both chairs, with working with all the members. She did a great job in crafting the strongest language that any state has on this subject. I have the highest admiration for our Majority Leader.

"Mr. Speaker, I also wanted to thank our Sergeant-at-Arms. We knew this would be a contentious issue at the hearing. He was so kind as to give me a script on the rules of decorum, which I promptly read. We had a five-hour hearing, and it was without incident. A lot of that was due to him, his outstanding staff, the sheriffs, our staff, all of our members. I also wanted to thank LRB, HMSO, Ian Ross, House Minority Staff Office, the Clerk's Office, and the Chairs and the Vice Chairs of both the Health & Human Services Committee and Judiciary Committee, for their fine work. We displayed public service in its finest form.

"Mr. Speaker, Our Care, Our Choice addresses an issue that we've been grappling before the Legislature for the past two decades. We as a people, we as elected representatives, must decide if we will recognize a person's freedom of choice. It's a very difficult decision when we're dealing with a person who has a terminal illness, who is in excruciating pain. We have to make that determination. Oregon recognized this and provided a state law that's called Death with Dignity back in 1994. Since then, four states and the District of Columbia has followed the Oregon example. One state, Montana, has done this by state supreme court ruling.

"I sincerely respect the values and choices and religions of all people. Mr. Speaker, I've felt that this issue, a magnitude of this issue needed at least a public hearing. We did not force any members to vote up or down, that's not us, and you know that. I just thought at the very least, we needed a public hearing on this issue, and the fact that it's an election year, even more so, to show transparency and accountability and public trust. This is what we did. I thank you for allowing us to do that.

"Mr. Speaker, nationally this has been an ongoing debate. In fact, it's risen up to the defining civil rights struggle of our time. Our Care, Our Choice follows a long history of landmark court rulings and legislative accomplishments recognizing our common humanity, our personal liberty, and our fundamental rights."

Representative DeCoite rose to yield her time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Mizuno continued, stating:

"Thank you, Representative, thank you very much. In 1954, you had Brown v. Board of Education, which confirmed the rights of education, equal education to all. The Voting Rights Act of 1965 ensured fair voting right to the ballot boxes for everyone, regardless of race. In 1973, Roe v. Wade confirmed a woman's right to reproductive organs as well as a procedure on her body. And in 2015, the United States Supreme Court recognized marriage as a fundamental right between same-sex couples.

"Hawaii has often found itself on the right side of history during these previous civil rights struggles, and this hasn't been by accident, Mr. Speaker. It is because matters of this nature and magnitude are voted upon and by past legislatures. Today, this Chamber will have that opportunity. We will have the ability to determine the fundamental rights and the civil rights of our people.

"Mr. Speaker, I want to make this clear. This is about fundamental civil rights. It's about the right to dignity. It's about the right to privacy. It's about the right to bodily autonomy. It's about the right to liberty. It's the right for patients to seek treatment of their choice from their physician without government infringement or interference. Mr. Speaker, additionally, as spiritual leaders and religious members have often shared with me, it is a religious right as well. Strongly protected by the first amendment, I, along with many others who hold a faith and as some who may not have a faith, believe that there is a spiritual and sacred side to life.

"Government should tread carefully in matters relating to personal relations between people and their creator, their god, their religion. Few issues are more personal or of more spiritual significance than one's choice on their life and their creator.

"I believe democracy represents the government of the people, by the people, for the people. This must include a person's fundamental right to pursue her or his civil rights.

"I'm going to end it on this, Mr. Speaker. The faith and dignity of a person's fundamental and civil rights, to have the freedom of choice, lies in the hands of this body today. House Bill 2739, House Draft 1, Our Care, Our Choice, will afford an adult of sound mind, who is a resident of our state with less than six months to live in prolonged, excruciating and unbearable pain, the ability to exercise their freedom of choice. The freedom from the bondage of excruciating pain and suffering. For those reasons, Mr. Speaker, I support this bill. Thank you, thank you members."

Representative Cachola rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to this bill. But before stating my reasons, I'd like to state that I respect all Members of this House, whether they are for or against this bill. My main reasons, there are two, why I have to speak in opposition of this bill is because I believe that it's against God's law. One of the ten commandments states, thou shall not kill. It's not about, you can kill with dignity or suicide, it just plainly states, thou shall not kill. As a Christian, I follow that.

"Number two reason, Mr. Speaker, I still believe in miracles. There's a lot of miracles happening, not only in Hawaii, but worldwide. If we have this bill, longtime, we will have a lot of people dying or dead. I know that our good friend, a lobbyist, has been maybe stage IV terminal cancer. If we had that bill way back, he's no longer with us now. That's one of the miracles of life. And of course, as we go through the process, I hope and pray that there will be a miracle happening before we do final reading that will convince us that this bill is not a good bill. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. Aloha."

Representative Creagan rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in strong support. As a legislator and as a physician that may one day be called upon to prescribe a life-ending medication, I welcome that potential opportunity because I think it's the right thing to do. We are now, finally, willing to provide for our human loved ones what we have long been able to provide for our animal loved ones. I think it is ironic we've been able to provide a humane death for animals, but not always for humans. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Keohokalole rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support. Mr. Speaker, as representatives, we each hold these positions of stature in our representative communities because of our titles. And as a result, we're often the beneficiary of certain benefits as a function of our community's respect for us and for the position, and we're also afforded certain responsibilities as a result of our duties. I've often said that I think difficult decisions should be debated before this body because that's our responsibility, to ask and debate and find solutions to difficult issues.

"Two years ago, I was afforded a significant responsibility among my own family. I was asked to do the eulogy for my first cousin, Jeanine Keohokalole. I'm a younger, as far as the adults go in my family, I'm on the younger end, and I was genuinely nervous when I was asked, because I didn't want to do it. And I knew that, being a younger member of the family, I knew why I was being asked. I was being asked because I was a person of stature in the community and in the family, and I didn't want to be asked because I knew I would have to say yes, and I knew that I had to. It made me think about death in a different way. I had to encapsulate the life of a person in a speech.

"And as a result of that experience, I've come to realize that we don't talk about death in our society, in our local community. We just don't deal with this issue well. Even for those of us who believe that there is life after death. But you know what, Mr. Speaker? No one is immune to this issue, no matter how much we ignore it, and if we cannot talk about something within this body, it limits our ability to address it in a meaningful way.

"Many families today, many of us on this floor, are impacted by the slow and often painful fade of a loved one. As an adult, I've personally experienced the slow decline of my grandmother, my wife's grandmother, and my cousin, whose eulogy I did. She died of cancer, pancreatic cancer, which was discovered because she was suffering from lingering back pain over a period of about a year, which she initially tried to ignore, and eventually, because of the pain, sought the assistance of a doctor for.

"In the spring of 2015, the doctors discovered a tumor on her pancreas that had not only spread to her adjacent organs, but was also pressing on a nerve in her back, which was the source of that excruciating pain. She underwent successive rounds of chemotherapy that ultimately proved unsuccessful. In April of 2016, she passed away. She was 47 years old. She had two children. She was in pain from that entire year, from her diagnosis until she passed, she was in pain. That year was defined by pain. The tumor pressed upon the nerve in her back and left her in constant pain, and the side effects from the medication made it difficult for her to eat.

"I remember sitting in church with her and she had a hard time sitting, because of the pain, but she was too wiped out from the chemotherapy to stand, so she'd sit there and suffer. The sitting made it difficult for her to ride in vehicles, which made it hard for her to go over the mountain from Kaneohe into town to undergo chemotherapy, to try and save her life. Toward the end, she came home. And for the last several weeks of her life at home, eating was so painful that the only sustenance she could receive was water or juice soaked in a small sponge attached to the tip of a lollipop. So that she wouldn't die of dehydration, that's how she spent the last several weeks of her life. Suffering."

Representative Keohokalole continued, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, these are terrible details to have to hear. I myself was uncomfortable with this issue, again having to relive this situation, but I wasn't the one suffering, I was only a family member. I spoke with her family, I spoke with her daughter, just to make sure that they were comfortable with me bringing this up because, again, we don't talk about this issue in Hawaii, from a cultural standpoint, the local culture. But these things happen, they happen every day to people, and those are the people that we are considering in this legislation.

"We, as leaders, are duly designated by our committees, need to hear these stories and understand the consequences of our action or our inaction as a legislature. Mr. Speaker, I can appreciate the concerns with this bill. I agree that we should be vigilant in our efforts to ensure that this proposal is not misused, and I believe that the approach laid out in this bill appropriately accounts for those concerns.

"Ultimately, I support this legislation because of the issues brought up by the Chair of Human Services. I believe this is a constitutional issue, a civil rights issue. Mr. Speaker, we have, each of us, a constitutional right to refuse medical treatment. If any of us today, heaven forbid, were to get into an accident, and the ambulance were to come to try to provide service for us, we have a constitutional right to refuse their care. Even if we are bleeding out on the sidewalk, we can say, no, let me go, and they are duty-bound to abide. In light of that right, I just cannot see how, at the same time, we can continue to stand by a policy that acknowledges your civil right to refuse medical service but requires people like my cousin to suffer at the end of their lives.

"Because I believe it is a civil right, I also believe that the government should, as it does with all other civil rights, recognize that the assertion of that right comes at the age of majority. You have no civil right to smoke cigarettes or drink alcohol. You do have the right to privacy from government interference in medical decisions, though. I believe that, again, this is a right of personal liberty. Individuals should have that freedom, and this bill gets the government out of the way by no longer forcing these people to suffer.

"Where in the constitution, Mr. Speaker, does it say that the people have empowered the government to force this type of suffering, that I previously described, on their citizenry? I don't think that the founders accounted for this, I really don't. Not when they drafted a bill in a time where we didn't have even the most basic of medical treatment options that we have today.

"So Mr. Speaker, my cousin and I, we never had this discussion before she passed away. I don't know what she would have decided, had she been given the chance. But that's the point. She never had the choice. People deserve a choice, and for those reasons I stand in support of this bill. Thank you."

Representative LoPresti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Strong support. Mr. Speaker, I actually did not plan on speaking on this, but I owe my constituents an explanation for my vote. As a scholar, I've spent a fair amount of time studying medical ethics. I've taught, many times, a course that's entitled 'On Death and Dying.' Currently, I'm teaching a directed studies class, and the title of the class is 'On the Philosophy of Death.' Mr. Speaker, I don't talk much about it, but I've spent a lifetime studying this issue. But I'm not going to pontificate to my colleagues, my friends, my constituents.

"The best explanation is a personal one. Because those in my life whom I've spoken with about this and who've come to me to speak about this support it. From whatever background, from whatever religion, from whatever political views. The conservatives in my family are some of the strongest supporters of a measure like this, to have this choice. And just to try to be brief about it, I believe we should have, each have, that free and unfettered choice.

"We are a death-denying culture, Mr. Speaker. We don't like to talk about it. We hide it away in hospitals and hospices, and it makes us uncomfortable to think about it. Of course it does, it's our mortality. But we do have that duty to consider that here today, and I know that you each are, as I am. And I believe we, in the end, need to err on the side of freedom in our democracy in unfettered choice, and therefore I am strongly in favor. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, may I add a historical footnote to this debate. Two questions. Where do civil rights come from? Where does life come from? The answer is simple, it's from Providence, not this body. Thank you."

Representative Nakamura rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in support. Both my father and my brother had terminal illnesses. My father had supranuclear palsy, and my 59-year-old brother had ALS, or Lou Gehrig's disease. Both lived full and active lives. In the end, when they could no longer walk and take care of themselves, both wanted the choice to die with dignity.

"This bill is about giving people a choice. If you're terminally ill, this bill gives you an option. If you're morally against this bill, you have a choice not to proceed down this path.

"I would like to thank the Majority Leader from Makiki for her hard work in crafting this bill, and I would like to acknowledge the Health & Human Services and Judiciary Committees for amending this bill to include strong safeguards. Your work is very much appreciated."

Representative Ing rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In strong support. We've heard a lot of great speeches about the mechanisms and protections in this bill, and it's clear that we created a sound and just legislation. So I just want to speak at the core of its intent to address some concerns about morality that have been raised.

"Indeed, our humanity tells us that our lives are all sacred and should be cherished, but we are all intelligent, critical thinking, and empathetic adults in this Chamber, and surely we can understand that the quality and dignity of life are essential to our humanity as well. I trust that we have the ability to understand, at certain times, the decision to end your life is not wrong, but merciful. Just for a second, envision your spouse, parent, son, daughter, like we heard. If that loved one fell upon enduring intolerable suffering, is it moral to force them to continue on that way, or should that person be given a compassionate choice, to seek medical help to end his or her pain and leave us with dignity?

"My partner's uncle was a gregarious man, everyone loved this guy, a self-made immigrant from the Philippines, a true American story, a doctor. But upon his twilight years, he fell into extreme ill health, contracted a cancer, where he was in constant pain and dizziness all day. His mental faculties were intact, but he felt his essence slipping away. All his loved ones felt it too. And at a certain point it became unbearable and he knew he wanted to go but had no dignified way to do so, so he attempted to take his life over a balcony. He shattered most of his bones but remained alive in a cast on a hospital bed, suffering even worse for months until the day he left us just last year. No one wants to, no one should be remembered that way.

"I'll conclude with something current. Two days ago, I watched the Oscars. One scene from one of those movies, one letter read out loud, really captures the humanity and spirit of this bill. I won't tell you the movie, because, spoiler alert, but here's the letter.

"My darling Anne. There's a longer letter in the dresser drawer I've been writing for the last week or so, that one covers us, and my memories of us, and how much I've always loved you. This one just covers tonight, and more importantly, today. Tonight I have gone out to the horses to end it. I cannot say sorry for the act itself, although I know for a short time you will be angry at me, or even hate me for it. Please don't. This is not a case of, I came in this world alone and I'm going out of it alone, or anything dumb like that. I did not come in this world alone, my mom was there. And I am not going out of it alone, because you were there, drunk on the couch, making Oscar Wilde jokes. No, this is a case, in some senses, of bravery. Not the bravery of facing a bullet down. The next few months of pain would be far harder than that small flash. No, it's the bravery of weighing up the next few months of still being with you, still waking up with you, of playing with the kids, against the next few months of seeing in your eyes how much my pain is killing you. How my weakened body, as it ebbs away, and you tend to it, are your final and lasting memories of me. I won't have that. Your final memories of me will be us at the riverside, and that dumb fishing game, which I think they cheated at. And me beside you, and you beside me. And barely a fleeting thought of the darkness yet to come. That was the best Anne. A whole day of not thinking about it. Dwell on this day, baby, because it was the best day of my life. Kiss the girls for me, and know that I've always loved you. And maybe I'll see you again if there's another place.

"That's the spirit of all this, of this bill, and unfortunately this individual, albeit in theater, didn't get a chance to go peacefully because he was not provided an act of compassion like we are considering today. But to me, this letter captures the dilemma people who are suffering face. But that decision should ultimately be in their hands. It's about humanity, and now more than ever, in these uncertain times, we need to act to restore and base our decisions in humanity. So Mr. Speaker, let's finally pass this bill, and give our kūpuna and all loved ones the love and mercy they deserve, and empower them with the chance to carry on and carry out with dignity and pride. Thank you."

Representative Belatti rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support, in strong support. House Bill 2739, House Draft 1 establishes a regulated process under which an adult resident of the state with a medically confirmed terminal disease and less than six months to live may choose to obtain a prescription for medication to achieve a peaceful death from suffering.

"Mr. Speaker, the theme of my comments is conversation. This is a decades-long conversation we have been having in our state, as noted by the Chair of the Health & Human Services Committee. It is a conversation among policymakers in this body, and passionate, wise and committed people on all sides of this issue.

"In 1998, then Governor Cayetano's Blue Ribbon Panel was deeply divided on the issue of physician-assisted suicide. Of the 18 panel members, 11 were in support, 6 were in opposition, and 1 chose to abstain. Among the noes, expert leaders in the medical field, a psychiatrist, a gerontological nurse practitioner, the Hawaii Nurses Association, a cancer researcher, an elder law expert, and religious leaders. Since that time, in 2002, 2004, 2007, 2011, 2017, different committees within this body have argued and debated and examined the issue. So these conversations have not stopped, but what has changed is the opinions of the public, of medical practitioners, and another thing that has changed is that we have seen more evidence.

"So last year I had the opportunity to attend a conference following the one-year anniversary of the passage of California's aid in dying bill. There, the conversation was continuing. Leading palliative care specialists from around the country, ethicists, some of the greatest medical minds within the University of California system, were still struggling with the same questions that we are struggling with here today.

"But what we know from the experience of California, and what we know from over 18 years of experience in Oregon, to address the concerns of my very wise colleagues from across the aisle, the concerns about where these choices are being made and exercised, whether or not palliative care is being accessed. We know from the data that in Oregon, over 94% of the people exercising this are using this in their homes in the presence of family and friends. In their home, where they are loved. We know from just six months of data in California that people who've exercised this option are in fact receiving quality palliative care, hospice care. So we know that this choice is one that is being exercised with deep care and deep thought to what is happening.

"So what did we do, learning all of this? We responded in our committees to the critiques that mental health assessments were not being done in Oregon, and the strongest safeguard that I stand by in this bill, Mr. Speaker, is the one that requires a conversation. Again, another conversation with a counselor, a psychiatrist, a psychologist, a licensed clinical social worker, the people who are trained to have these conversations and to know if their decision is informed. We responded to that critique. We made this bill for the residents of Hawaii. We recognize that there's access issues, so we said, for that counselor position, we can allow for telehealth. This is a bill for Hawaii that was made in response.

"I'll leave one last thing, Mr. Speaker. The good Representative from Kahaluu talked about the fact that we don't have these conversations enough. And I would leave you with a book to read called The Conversation: A Revolutionary Plan for End-of-Life Care by Dr. Angelo E. Volandes. The last chapter of this book actually talks about the excellent palliative care that is occurring and the excellent conversations that are beginning to happen throughout our community. But this doctor who looks at palliative care issues says the first, necessary step toward a remedy lies with a return to the oldest tool in medicine's proverbial black bag, talking with patients about their wishes for how they want to live their remaining time.

"That is what this bill is about. It is to offer that end-of-life option for individuals with a terminal illness, to talk about how they want to live in their remaining days. Thank you, Mr. Speaker, for the opportunity to work on this bill, and thank you for allowing us to have this conversation."

Representative Matsumoto rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for her, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tokioka rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Tokioka's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I know that this is a contentious issue. Some people cannot reconcile their morals with the idea of any life being ended intentionally, regardless of the situation. However, I believe that people have a choice to end their own lives in situations where the alternative is a lengthy, painful death.

"My father was bedridden for the last 18 months of his life, and my family watched him lose his health and happiness. It broke our hearts to see him suffer. These types of situations are tragically common because the reality is that when people die of natural causes, they often die in terrible pain.

"I have concerns with the current version of this bill. I support the amendments suggested by the Attorney General's Office to minimize ambiguity in the language. Additionally, I am in favor of raising the age requirement from 18 to 21-years-old.

"I am not in favor of people dying. However, when death is practically inevitable, I do not want anyone to suffer more than necessary. I hope that this bill will provide peace of mind to people battling terminal illnesses and make the process easier on their families."

Representative Ichiyama rose in support of the measure and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Ichiyama's written remarks are as follows:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of HB 2739, HD 1. The Our Care Our Choice Act provides a comprehensive framework for a terminally ill patient to decide, in consultation with a qualified medical team, whether to endure significant pain and suffering or to receive a prescription medication that would allow the patient to die in a peaceful manner.

"The bill also contains strong safeguards to ensure that this process cannot be abused and that patients suffering from depression or an untreated mental illness cannot receive a life-ending prescription. The patient also retains the right to rescind their request for a prescription at any time.

"After talking with community members, stakeholders, friends and family, I realize that this is a personal choice that each individual needs to make for themselves. I will continue to support comprehensive end-of-life care and services, including hospice and palliative care, to ensure that every Hawaii resident has a full range of options available, should they ever have to make this difficult decision. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Yamane rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, in reservations, brief comments. Mr. Speaker, as a social worker who's actually worked in the hospitals, had to work with families, actually had to counsel people regarding their next steps, have talked to many families who have addressed the issue of pain and suffering. Mr. Speaker, I support the underlying understanding of having the discussion about death and dying.

"Mr. Speaker, some of my concerns still remain in the bill, is the issue of the protections to the healthcare workers as well as addressing some of the directives regarding ensuring that these individuals are making the decisions without undue pressures and influence, as well as the encouragement that they also seek the guidance, not only medically, but also spiritually. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Takayama rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, strong support, permission to insert written comments."

Representative Takayama's written remarks are as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong support of H.B. 2739, the so-called death with dignity bill.

"I believe it should ultimately be the patient's personal decision to choose the option of ending one's own life. I know it is an option I would want for myself, and I do not feel that I should deny it to others.

"H.B. 2739 can only be used by terminally ill patients with six months or less to live and mentally capable of making decisions. It requires the patient to make at least two requests verbally plus one in writing, the diagnosis of a terminal illness must be verified by two physicians, and the patient must undergo a mental health counseling session.

"At every step of the way, the patient must affirm his or her decision to seek this path. Finally, the medication must be self-administered by the patient. These safeguards are intended to prevent against abuse or misuse of the law, and are more stringent than those of any other state that has enacted a 'death with dignity' law.

"The use of this law is purely voluntary by patients and doctors. Religious groups who feel this goes against their beliefs can decline to participate.

"Mr. Speaker, as for those who contend that this is just another form of suicide, I respectfully disagree. I know what it is like to lose a close friend to suicide, and this is far different. Persons who commit suicide often suffer from mental depression or other illness, or are under the influence of drugs or alcohol. H.B. 2739 requires that patients be fully capable of making an informed decision, and requires confirmation by physicians and counselors.

"For these reasons, I ask my colleagues to join me in supporting this important measure."

Representative DeCoite rose in support of the measure with reservations and asked that her written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative DeCoite's written remarks are as follows:

"With reservations. I personally believe that we should give people choices in how they want to live and how they want to die. I am not sure if this bill has covered all the bases to ensure that we do this right the first time. I would like to see what information would be given to physicians, patients, and other healthcare providers that have roles covered by this law; and by whom. The entire process needs to be explained in simple to understand and follow instructions, so everyone can comply with the requirements spelled out in the law. If those affected by this law are unclear on what is required, then we will see confusion and other possible negative consequences.

"As this bill moves forward, I hope that we gain more consensus rather than split our constituents on one side versus the other. Mahalo."

Representative Mizuno rose to respond, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, still in support. I just want to submit something to the Journal from Governor Abercrombie. RE: HB2739-HD1

Dear John,

Having begun my elected political career in 1974 I have been an observer of and participant in the legislative process for hundreds of issues and thousands of votes over the last five (5) decades. I write to you today to state with some justified degree of authority that I believe HB2739-HD1 – The Our Care, Our Choice Act – is a textbook case study in how the legislative process should work and that it represents a high point of Representative democracy in action. I believe it will serve as a standard for the conduct of how a bill transforms itself into a law.

HB2739 addresses issues that are profound in their implications; issues difficult if not impossible to reconcile in that the positions taken are held by many who espouse them to be absent of compromise. The principles referenced in support of one view or another are thought to be immutable by many who sincerely put them forward. The consequences of legislative action are thought to be deeply personal and passionately believed.

In such a context, what is demanded of legislative leadership is unwavering respect for the process and for those participating in it. Calm oversight of hearings, abiding patience with and respectful attention to those whose views are being shared is fundamental. And perhaps most importantly what is required is a clear understanding that the decision makers who ask the voters to put their faith in the good judgment of their elected representatives cannot run away from the responsibility to make those decisions; that they forthrightly and resolutely exercise their best thoughts and conclusions in the legislation before them and take action.

HB2739 is the very definition of what I've outlined. It will be seen in time to come as a masterpiece of transparent deliberation leading to the vote to be taken today. I am well aware that many will be disappointed in the final version up for consideration, their opposition will not alter nor will their reasoning and convictions be swayed.

But what the Legislation has provided in the steps taken to this point is a lesson plan in showing how everyone's views can be heard, considered, respected and acknowledged.

Approval may not be universal, but this Legislature will have done its duty openly and thoroughly and HB2739 will be adjudged a tribute to its integrity and fidelity to democratic legislative tradition.

Well done!!

ORDER OF THE DAY

SUSPENSION OF RULES

On motion by Representative Morikawa, seconded by Representative Ward and carried, the rules were suspended for the purpose of considering a certain House Bill for Third Reading by consent calendar. (Representatives Fukumoto, LoPresti and Yamashita were excused.)

THIRD READING

H.B. No. 1900, HD 1:

Representative Belatti moved that H.B. No. 1900, HD 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Representative Morikawa.

Representative Luke rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise to speak in favor of House Bill 1900, House Draft 1. First and foremost, I wanted to thank the Finance staff who are here, and if I could recognize them at this time, and if the members could hold your applause until I recognize everyone who is up there. First up is Albert Vargas, who is the budget chief, Julie Yang, the budget supervisor, Riley Fujisaki, who is the special assistant to the deputy decision-maker, that's what he wants to be known as, Melanie Carlile, Jordan Alonzo, Katey Peck, Lexie Leventis, and in the front office it's Suhyeon Burns, Kai Kojimoto, Victoria Tyrell, and Nandana Kalupahana, who is hiding in the back. Stand up, Nan. So, if we could thank them for their hard work. Thank you, you may be seated.

"Mr. Speaker, I rise to speak in favor, and I want to thank the subject-matter chairs for looking into the budget this year, and also the committee members. We spent a lot of time going through the line items in the budget, and they are very thorough and ask a lot of questions, and through our internal discussion, we have made additional decisions on what to do with the budget. And so, I really want to thank the members of the Finance Committee, if you could give yourselves a hand. And of course, Vice Chair, my trusted companion. He keeps me stable and grounded, and we have a lot of discussion on what to do with not just the budget, but the bills as well. So, special mahalo to the Vice Chair.

"Mr. Speaker, when the Governor submitted his budget this year, there were two troubling things. First is the fact that there was a $48 million miscalculation for the unfunded liability, and we are thankful that he has caught the mistake and sent us a Governor's message in mid-February, correcting a $48 million mistake. In addition to that, the Governor's budget and the financial plan depends on annual new taxes collected from short-term rentals, including Airbnb and VRBO, in the amount of $67 million.

"But there is no bill currently in the Legislature which would collect $67 million worth of new taxes, and in spite of the claim by the administration that they are working with us on a bill, that is not true. We are not working on, the House and the Senate and the administration is not working on any bill. So I don't want people to come to us and the Finance members and say, okay, what bill are you working on? So I just wanted to dispel those issues.

"And because of that, the Finance Committee, in dealing with this budget and the various bills, first had the challenge of trying to balance a six-year budget plan, in spite of the over $100 million worth of puka in the administration's financial plan. So because of that, we made some changes and tweaks and made sure that the House sent over to the Senate a budget that balances that for the next six years, and I'm thankful for the members and their understanding for them to recognize this and then make those difficult choices. Can somebody yield their time?"

"Thank you very much. And so, even with that, we are hopeful that when the Council on Revenues meet again tomorrow, because we have also been tracking the tax collections, that they will be looking at the positive impact of various activities going on in our economy. So I'm hopeful that the Council on Revenues will increase their projection, which will put the Senate in a good position receiving this budget and hopefully working with the new Council on Revenues' projections.

"So I wanted to just quickly go through some of the things that are in the budget today, which were not part of the Governor's request. So these are important to highlight, because these are some of the things that the various Finance members picked up, or various chairs have requested. And through the budget, this is really setting the vision of the Legislature. So I wanted to highlight that the PISCES funding, this is something that we need to continue to look forward to, and I know the Hawaii Kai Representative is a strong supporter of PISCES and aerospace. So it was important that the Finance Committee recognize that, and put in $150,000 for PISCES aerospace program, which was not in the Governor's budget.

"Also, in the Governor's budget, they had requested $500,000 for what's known as small business innovation research grants, but instead of the $500,000, we have put in $2 million, because if there's anywhere we can help the high-tech industry to increase and grow, it's this program, and $500,000 is not going to be sufficient. So we felt $2 million would continue to support the high-tech industry for the future of the State.

"For Department of Education, Teach For America and Alternative Teacher Route is an important program which supports teachers in tough-to-fill and rural areas. And in the base budget it was only $200,000, which was increased by the Legislature to $870,000. That in itself is still not enough, because we still have a teacher shortage, especially in the rural areas. So this budget includes $1.3 million in Alternative Teacher Route Program.

"In addition to that, we have looked at the various needs of our hospitals, and we felt that the Hilo Medical Center needed additional assistance to ensure that people who have heart problems need a cardiac care unit in Hilo so they don't have to fly to Oahu, especially in these life and death situations. So the House committee has decided to put an additional $1.5 million for the Hilo Medical Center.

"For parks, the Finance Committee has visited the needs that are in the Kauai state parks, especially, and the needs of all the parks around the state. So as opposed to the two positions requested in the Governor's budget, we felt that was not sufficient, so in this budget we will be allocating 10 positions for state parks across the state in the amount of $188,000.

"In addition to that, Rapid 'Ōhi'a Death has been a huge negative impact on the island of Hawaii, and so in order to combat that, an additional $800,000 to combat the spread of Rapid 'Ōhi'a Death. And I also wanted to highlight some of the capital improvement projects for ohana zones, $30 million has been allotted in this bill, and whether it's called ohana zones, I know members have caught this too, whether it's called ohana zones or Pu'uohonua Village, we are trying to make sure that through this bill we recognize the importance of providing these infrastructure for homeless individuals, and this budget provides that funding, in addition to that $35 million additional for affordable housing."

Representative Luke continued, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, as you know, because the State of Hawaii is one of the only states where the State has jurisdiction over various schools, it's not the counties. So the counties provide permitting and building permits to build all these homes and subdivisions, and what do they forget? They forget to build schools, and that's why we have overcrowding in Campbell, we have big problems on the neighbor islands, we have problems in Ewa side. So this is what we get, because there is very little coordination between what's the need for the schools versus building new homes. So because of that, every year we're always doing catchup.

"I'm happy to announce that this budget bill provides $13 million for phase two construction of new East Kapolei Middle School, $10 million for design and construction of a new intermediate school at Kahului, Maui, $20 million for phase one of new classroom building at Waipahu High School, $2 million for design of new classroom at Paia Elementary, $60 million for Pohukaina Elementary. In addition to that, it provides substantial funds for various libraries, including $2.5 million for a new library at Kapaa Elementary, $300,000 for a new library at Keaau and Mountainview, and $1.9 million for land acquisition for Waikaloa Library.

"One of the things that the Finance Committee has tackled for the last six years is the vacancy. The number of vacancies still in state government is not something that we would like. This year, we have cut, through this budget, 203 vacancies, and these vacant positions have been vacant for over a year and a half. So 203 positions would yield about $10 million. This is $10 million that should be spent to hire important personnel, including healthcare personnel, invasive species personnel, and we want to continue to work with the departments to fill these vacancies.

"The other trend that we need to be watchful of is various programs that are supported by special funds that need to be converted through general funds. So, as an example, a few years ago we have converted the Environmental Health Administration Division in Department of Health, because they were running out of barrel fund. The worst that we can do is say, okay, we're running out of barrel fund for this agency, so we're going to increase barrel, and that wouldn't be a good approach. So we converted that whole agency to general funds. So we've seen that over the years.

"So campaign spending, campaign spending was running out of money, and we don't want campaign spending to go and say, okay we're going to fine a bunch of people and then so we're going to support our program. So instead of that, we made an effort to convert campaign spending from special funds to general funds.

"Well, we're seeing that again. So with HTDC, HTDC is being kicked out of Manoa Innovation, so what happens? They said, okay, we're going to come in for general funds. And so the Governor's message has contemplated that, but that's something that the Finance Committee members and the Finance staff has known and anticipated. And so what we would like to urge the administration is to be proactive. When you know these things are coming up, don't do it when it's too late.

"So I can give you another example, the Energy Office, there was an audit from the Energy Office saying that they're going to run out of money next year. Well, if you're going to run out of money, what's going to happen next year? They're going to come down with something similar like this again. Well, the request to the administration is look at restructuring the Energy Office and look at some of the things that they're doing. The Auditor's Office criticized them for being too active on the dockets. Well, restructure that and do it as an opportunity to figure out what service the Energy Office is going to provide, as opposed to waiting and giving us no choice but to just give them general funds. So that is going to be something in the future."

"Another example would be cigarette tax. Because the State has done a good job in cutting or reducing cigarette smoking, okay, all these programs that are attached to cigarette tax and tobacco tax, the result cannot be, we want to tax cigarettes more to support these programs. We have to change that mentality. The approach should be, well if we're doing a good job in preventing people from smoking, then we should use that and then turn them into general funds, as opposed to the initial knee-jerk reaction to be, okay we're going to raise more cigarette tax so that we can support these programs.

"It's almost as if the way we do business is backwards thinking. We need to change this approach. We need to be proactive. We have to seek out opportunities where we can restructure government as opposed to doing the same ole, same ole way.

"So with that I would like to close and thank you again for all your support, and thank you again for the Finance Committee staff and for the members for giving me this opportunity to speak on the budget in support. Thank you."

Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, I rise in support. Mr. Speaker, you've heard a very, very, very comprehensive overview of the budget. I've never seen the Chair speak as long as she has just completed. And in some ways, I'm going to be redundant as if I looked over at her speech and I adopted a few of the things, and maybe I've added a couple of things in addition to her not mentioning it.

"But what we did in the Finance Committee is what the people of Hawaii do at the kitchen table, Mr. Speaker, they balance the budget. Even though sometimes there are mistakes, and I think the Finance Chair pointed out very astutely, the Governor messed up in a couple of places where there's $67 million and $45 million that were out of place. So that was a corrective measure that made sense, but let me focus on what I find the most interesting and that I think we need to highlight.

"First on the economic diversification, Mr. Speaker. For decades, this floor, the Senate floor has talked about diversification. We are on the precipice of doing that. And I thank the Chair for the $150,000 and the mention of PISCES, because right now, Mr. Speaker, space travel is going to be a new industry, and it's going to be privatized. The $150,000 that the Chair restored in PISCES reinvigorates an industry which, now with the head of PISCES, Henk Rogers, we have a really strong possibility of getting into the fast lane.

"Henk Rogers hangs around with Jeff Bezos, he hangs around with the Gates, and all the big wheelers who are going to get into space big time, Elon Musk for example. But as I mentioned in the Finance Committee, I will mention here so my colleagues know. Henk Rogers is the chair of PISCES. He's not going to put up with a lot of bureaucratic, slow lane nonsense, Mr. Speaker. We need to let him calibrate his vehicle at a pace that makes sense with what's going on in the private sector. He just came back from Tokyo, he was at the European Space Agency presenting the Hawaii case just a few weeks ago. He knows what's going on, but DBEDT needs to get in step with them. It's not a warning, but it's saying that if we lose the space race, because we are the most ideally situated in the world, we will have really lost a big diversification of the economy. And space exploration is going to be big time, Mr. Speaker.

"The other thing I would point out that the Chair didn't is that the people of Hawaii saved $39 million by taking the DOT tram out of the airport, so when you come to the arrivals and then you go to get your rental car, which is only about 300 yards away, they were going to put in a tram. Mr. Speaker, that is not wise use of taxpayers' money. So I commend the Chair for that, and I think it's astute, balancing the budget, or an issue that is very astute to keep the finances used properly.

"Mr. Speaker, I would also note that the Chair had mentioned the $2 million for the Small Business Innovation Research. This is based on the sound principle that without entrepreneurs, there are no job creation, without job creation, there's no economic development. So this budget pays attention to that entrepreneurial principle and fact of life. No entrepreneurs, no development. You can only have a centralized economy go so far and then it's got to go down to the individual, and that's where China is going to be limited in its development, because it's still a centralized economy.

"Mr. Speaker, the Chair mentioned the hiring of teachers for DOE. There's $3 million to get the hiring of teachers. But at the same time, notice that she said that we have saved $10 million, actually my figures are $10.7 million, by cutting 203 positions for people who haven't filled their empty spots, the people that they need to hire to get the job done. They left them vacant for over a year and a half. I think that's a great rule of thumb. If you don't hire, well you're going to lose the money. So Mr. Speaker, that was a great shot across the bow of a lot of the executive departments.

"Another point I wanted to bring out was that the Department of Education also has funds now to do a lot of repair and maintenance. Mr. Speaker, as you know, it's been rather embarrassing with the University of Hawaii and other buildings. We build them, but we don't maintain them."

Representative Ward continued, stating:

"Thank you, Speaker. And most importantly, Mr. Speaker, as you at a number of public occasions said, that we're going to concentrate in this session on housing and homelessness. I'm really proud to say that the $39 million that this budget has for homelessness is really putting our money where our mouth is. Thirty-nine million dollars for homelessness plus $30 million of which $15 million, as indicated earlier by the Finance Chair, is for Oahu, puts together a total package of which, whether you call it Ohana or Pu'uhonua Villages, gives us a running chance to get away from what otherwise is a pipe dream to be able to do housing first. The brick and mortar, Mr. Speaker, is not going to work. Those are $250,000 to $400,000 a pop. Even the great philanthropist, Mr. Kurisu, at the airport, where we all toured, those are $120,000 minimal, those were the shelters from Japan that he reconstructed here.

"So Mr. Speaker, those are the points I wish to highlight. It's, in a way, it's a very brief discussion of what is otherwise a very robust budget. But I want to make one final statement with some good news and some bad news. First the bad news, Mr. Speaker, lest we forget. The people of Hawaii are the highest taxed in the nation, we have the second highest tax rates in the nation. The good news, Mr. Speaker, is that with the tax cuts and jobs act, on the average, according to the Tax Foundation, every one of our constituents who filed taxes will get an $800 savings or rebate, or not having to pay taxes. Mr. Speaker, may I encourage all of us to do as we did in 1987 when the Reagan tax cuts came in, let those rates slide, let them go down, let the savings accrue to the people of Hawaii, Mr. Speaker. With those remarks, Mr. Speaker, I vote in favor of this bill. Thank you."

Representative Thielen rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, I'm rising to speak in support of the budget, but I wanted to point out something to the Finance Chair, which I think might be interesting to pursue as we go to final reading on the budget. Mr. Speaker, I think that we can take some funds from the Transportation Department, and I think it would be justified. When I entered the Legislature, Mr. Speaker, I was told Department of Transportation doesn't really care what we say in the Legislature, because they get so much funding from the federal government. That percentage has declined over the years, but the attitude of Department of Transportation has not changed.

"I find, let's say, particularly with the Highways Division, there is an arrogance that ignores the needs of our constituents, many of whom are trying to generate the general excise tax that keeps our government running. I wanted to just read from a constituent, and it speaks really to those of us on the Windward side, the Representative from District 51, I'm from District 50, Representative from Districts 49 and 48, who have constituents that need to use the Pali.

"And here, the constituent says, 'I'm just providing a "fun" report on my observations on my "favorite" Pali Hwy improvement project. This is strictly FYI observations. I've been leaving at 8:15 p.m. to arrive in Waikiki at 10 p.m. and having a lot of free/wasted time in Waikiki. Thank you, State of Hawaii and Goodfellows, for the new rest period. I came back over the Pali at 10:30 p.m. Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, and want to share by observations on all the work being done that clearly does justify closing a major island connecting highway for a third of a day, five days a week.

"Monday, down by the exit to Old Pali Road by the religious center, two guys with flashlights looking at the sidewalk on the Kailua-bound side of the road. That's the side that's not being closed. One-fourth mile up, three guys with flashlights standing in the road in front of a pickup truck looking at the roadway. At basecamp Ige, four to five guys lifting steel frames with a device and moving them far off the road. That's it.' That's what caused the highway to be closed.

"Tuesday, two men with flashlights 1/4 mile up just standing there, halfway between tunnel and basecamp Ige. Two men with a light and a torch burning something on the road. That's it.

"Wednesday, a flurry of activity, five to six people in the basecamp moving the forms around off the roadway. That's it.

"Thursday, surprised to see cars headed town-bound at 10:40 p.m. When I dashed to the Pali at 8:25 p.m. to head to town, the sign that said 'road closed' was up and flashing. When I got back it was off and the road open. I guess they got so much done on Monday to Wednesday that they took Thursday off. Maybe the pace had been too intense. I think I now am better able to comprehend how it takes nearly two years to redo eight miles of already installed road.

"By the way, I like the addition of the extra lanes from three to four in the lower town side part of the road, just before it comes to the two-lane bridge underpass."

Representative Thielen continued, stating:

"Thank you, Representative. I pray I'm missing something there that as a non-civil engineer I can't yet see. In fairness, I may have missed work later in the night, but virtually nothing was being done at 10:30-10:45 p.m. each night.

"As I'm sure you notice going in the morning, perhaps/probably you are much earlier than I am, they do a lot of work with hundreds of nice orange cones deployed every day on the town-bound lanes in the day time. Just keeps me building increased confidence in the government of Hawaii."

"And then I look at Highways Division on highway safety, page 18 of the budget. They're getting $754,000-plus for that, and I think that's a section that could be slashed.

"I refer to the Mokapu Saddle Road, which runs from Oneawa or Mokapu Boulevard, past Kalaheo High School, up to let motorists get onto H-3 to head town-bound. No notice of a reduction in speed, down to 25 miles per hour. Police ticketing motorists at $250 a ticket. That hurts. No construction. For weeks and weeks and weeks, no construction, and after much pressure, and having to go up to the Governor's Chief of Staff to demand a meeting with Highway's chief, then finally there's a flashing sign up there, letting only half of the motorists know that there's going to be a change in speed limit, but do you think it tells them what the change is? No. Just blink, blink, blink, reduce speed ahead. Any construction? No.

"And then the people coming from Oneawa, which is from District 51, they have no advanced notice. Begging, this is Grace Pacific, a subsidiary of Alexander & Baldwin, after begging Grace Pacific to put up signs saying what is the speed limit so people don't keep getting $250 tickets, finally they put up a two-foot by two-foot, on a tripod, sign on the side of the road, letting half of the motorists know the speed's going to be 25 miles per hour.

"So I would say that this figure of nearly $800,000 for highway safety operations could be slashed a lot, because they obviously aren't spending it on putting up signs, they obviously aren't helping the motoring public, and it's something that is showing the ineptitude of our state government. It reflects very poorly on all of us in state government, but it's brought to you by Department of Transportation.

"So I hope when the budget goes to conference committee that the Finance Chair and others can ratchet down that money for Department of Transportation, and try, at least a little bit, to change the arrogant attitude that they will do it the way they want to do and the public be damned. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Representative Tupola rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. I just wanted to commend the Chair, of course, for being meticulous. As stated previously, there was a lot of discrepancies as well as miscalculations that all of us were looking through and wondering, and all of that was kind of cleared up. As well as, over the years, talking about sweeping the vacant positions so we can actually save money if over a year there hasn't been a filling of that position. And as well, at the Hawaii Youth Correctional Facility, we have only 20 youth left, but 73 guards. And so, paying attention to that and making sure that that was converted into social worker positions, which is what we need.

"We, of course, are grateful for the funds appropriated for libraries, for the Wiki Wiki Shuttle, for the teacher incentive program, for Rapid 'Ōhi'a Death, and for repairs much needed at Hawaii Public Housing Authority. And I hope and look forward to the reinstatement of the $4 million needed for adult dental Medicaid services.

"And so we've had the conversation in our committee as well as last week, it came up in a resolution again. And I just wanted to highlight it for the members that in our state, 52% of low-income adults have not even seen a dentist, and 51% of those adults actually have been to the emergency room for severe, for dental disease. And so when we talked about it in the committee, something that's brought up to me by our community health centers was the fact that some of our issues in the high cost of emergency services are due to people going to the emergency room for dental services, because since 2008 we haven't reinstated that money that's needed for adult Medicaid dental services. As well as it affects people who are trying to transition out of homelessness, and can't get that, so that they can actually have the confidence, eat correctly, and get a job, because they don't have teeth.

"And so it seems like something that maybe we take for granted, but it's something that definitely needs to be addressed, and I look forward to seeing that reinstated so that we can support in that way and truly help all the different portions of homelessness that are affecting us, not just where they live, but also the services they need to thrive and to succeed. Thank you."

Representative San Buenaventura rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Short comments in support. I would just like to point out that not all Representatives agree with cutting the Department of Transportation's budget. We love the Department of Transportation in my district. Thank you very much."

Representative Souki rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, thank you for recognizing me. And first of all, I will be voting with this, for one of the few times, with reservations on the budget, and let me explain why. First of all, before I get into explanation, I want to thank the Chairman, the committee members, the staff, for doing a wonderful job. Being a former chairman myself, I know that it's a very difficult job, and we have an excellent chairman that's doing the best she can under the circumstances.

"My disagreement in the little parts on this budget, it has to do, and go back to a contractual relationship between the State of Hawaii and Kaiser in putting up the Maui quasi-government hospital, private nonprofit hospital, what is now the Maui Health System. I know that there are some discussions that have been going on. My concern is that there should have at least have some money in to show a commitment by this body here, the House.

"What I'm talking about is that, there's different figures, but the figure that comes to my mind is $30 million a year for three years, and at the end of three years, they would be on their own in order to carry on the hospital and its expenses, and in the long term, after three years, and in the long term, they would be saving the State a lot of money.

"My concern is that there was no money put in. I know there was discussions given in, talking, but some commitment should have been shown, and putting some money in for the Maui Health System.

"So all I ask is that, in fact, we're losing an advantage when you allow the Senate to come in with the money and not us, we lose the advantage. The advantage you have by being the first party to submit a budget is that you can craft the budget as you would want and let the Senate react to it, but in this case here we didn't put any money at all for the Maui Health System.

"And I know the Chairman will be putting some money later on, but again, there was a lack of commitment as I've seen at this point here. So this is my mana'o with the budget here. But I'd like to add, I admire the Committee Chairman, I admire the staff for the hard work they do, and the committee members, but please don't forget the contractual agreements that we had some years ago. Thank you very much."

Representative Cullen rose in support of the measure and asked that his written remarks be inserted in the Journal, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Cullen's written remarks are as follows:

"As stated earlier, Mr. Speaker, I stand in strong support of HB 1900, HD 1. I would like to thank the Finance Chair for all the work she put into the budget and being fiscally conservative with the State's finances. I would like to thank the budget staff for all the time they have put into providing the members with the most knowledgeable information, so that we can make informed decisions.

"Even in this conservative and detailed budget we were able to include funding for Kaleiopuu Elementary School's cafeteria renovation and expansion that would create better opportunities at the school. As we have continued to address the track school issue, this budget includes additional funding necessary to plan, design, and construct 'Phase 2' of the new East Kapolei Middle School. Finally, we have also included funding to redesign the Kunia eastbound on-ramp that would work to address concerns with the current congestion situation, which I can personally attest to as it is part of my daily route as I head to work.

"These proposed CIP appropriations in HB 1900, HD 1 should significantly contribute to the essential day-to-day commute and family's quality of life, teacher's work environment, and student's learning potential in our communities."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 1900, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE STATE BUDGET," passed Third Reading by a vote of 50 ayes, with Representative Souki voting aye with reservations, and with Representative Fukumoto being excused.

At 1:11 o'clock p.m., the Chair noted that the following bill passed Third Reading:

H.B. No. 1900, HD 1

TWENTY-NINTH DAY

Tuesday, March 13, 2018

The House of Representatives of the Twenty-Ninth Legislature of the State of Hawaii, Regular Session of 2018, convened at 12:04 o'clock p.m., with Vice Speaker Nakashima presiding.

The invocation was delivered by Representative Gene Ward, after which the Roll was called showing all Members present with the exception of Representatives Gates, McDermott and Quinlan, who were excused.

By unanimous consent, reading and approval of the Journal of the House of Representatives of the Twenty-Eighth Day was deferred.

ORDER OF THE DAY

REPORTS OF STANDING COMMITTEES

Representative Takayama, for the Committee on Public Safety, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1137-18) recommending that H.R. No. 14 be referred to the Committee on Finance.

On motion by Representative Belatti, seconded by Representative Morikawa and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.R. No. 14, entitled: "HOUSE RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES, IN CONSULTATION WITH THE DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SAFETY, TO WORK WITH THE FAMILY REUNIFICATION WORKING GROUP AND OTHER COMMUNITY STAKEHOLDERS TO DEVELOP A PLAN TO ESTABLISH VISITATION CENTERS AT ALL STATE CORRECTIONAL FACILITIES AND JAILS," was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Gates, McDermott, Quinlan and Thielen being excused.

Representative Takayama, for the Committee on Public Safety, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1138-18) recommending that H.C.R. No. 17 be referred to the Committee on Finance.

On motion by Representative Belatti, seconded by Representative Morikawa and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.C.R. No. 17, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES, IN CONSULTATION WITH THE DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SAFETY, TO WORK WITH THE FAMILY REUNIFICATION WORKING GROUP AND OTHER COMMUNITY STAKEHOLDERS TO DEVELOP A PLAN TO ESTABLISH VISITATION CENTERS AT ALL STATE CORRECTIONAL FACILITIES AND JAILS," was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Gates, McDermott, Quinlan and Thielen being excused.

Representative Takayama, for the Committee on Public Safety, presented two reports:

(Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1139) recommending that H.R. No. 29 be referred to the Committee on Judiciary; and (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1140) recommending that H.C.R. No. 37 be referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

Representative Belatti moved that the reports of the Committee be adopted, and that H.R. No. 29; and H.C.R. No. 37 be referred to the Committee on Judiciary, seconded by Representative Morikawa.

Representative Ward rose to speak in opposition to both measures, stating:

"Mr. Speaker, this is the concealed carry resolution, correct? Mr. Speaker, no vote with a brief comment. Prior to the concealed carry information, I was really a very staunch gun control advocate, contrary to some impressions that people may have. Having been in the army and fired a number of weapons, I thought, well we don't need these things, but then I saw the data on concealed carry, Mr. Speaker. This is to explain why there's a no vote that's relevant here, because those states that have implemented concealed carry have less murder rates than those who don't.

"That was, to me, an empirical statistical fact that was rather amazing. Which means, when you have a crook who sees somebody, if they're going to harm them, may actually get harmed themselves. I think it's a precautionary measure. Look, nobody likes guns, nobody wants to revel in what's been going on in the nation and the number of school shootings that we've had. But concealed to carry has a protective measure against those criminal elements that do run and do wild things in our nation. For those reasons, Mr. Speaker, a no vote, please. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the reports of the Committee were adopted and H.R. No. 29, entitled: "HOUSE RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE CONGRESSIONAL DELEGATION OF HAWAII AND THE UNITED STATES CONGRESS TO OPPOSE "CONCEALED CARRY RECIPROCITY" LEGISLATION," was referred to the Committee on Judiciary, with Representative Ward voting no, and with Representatives Gates, McDermott, Quinlan and Thielen being excused; and

H.C.R. No. 37, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE CONGRESSIONAL DELEGATION OF HAWAII AND THE UNITED STATES CONGRESS TO OPPOSE "CONCEALED CARRY RECIPROCITY" LEGISLATION," was referred to the Committee on Judiciary, with Representative Ward voting no, and with Representatives Gates, McDermott, Quinlan and Thielen being excused.

Representative Evans, for the Committee on Economic Development & Business, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1141-18) recommending that S.B. No. 1156, as amended in HD 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Finance.

On motion by Representative Belatti, seconded by Representative Morikawa and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and S.B. No. 1156, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MOVIE THEATERS," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Finance, with Representatives Gates, McDermott, Quinlan and Thielen being excused.
