ANNOUNCEMENTS

Representative San Buenaventura: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Today is National Wear Red Day, I see not many people were aware of that. But today was designated by the American Heart Association, designated the first Friday in February, which is heart health month, as a day to raise awareness around heart disease and the impacts it has on women in the United States. I think they need to do a better job, frankly.

"But anyway, according to the FDA, heart disease is the number one cause of death in women, in one in four of those deaths nationally. Nearly 90% of cardiac events can be prevented through exercise and a diet low in sodium and trans fats. So, check out the American Heart Association website on heart healthy tips and to know the signs of a heart attack. So, wear red please next time for women's health. Thank you."

Representative Quinlan: "Mr. Speaker, Sunday is a very special day for a lot of us, it's the Super Bowl, but it's made even more special by the fact that it's also Chris Todd's birthday. So, can you join me in wishing Chris Todd a happy birthday? Is he not here?"
