Representative Ward rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I have a reservation vote and a very, very brief comment. I'm not sure how we're going to enforce this. I mean, it sounds logical. This is about having, if you charge too much on your shipping, this says you are having a deceptive practice. Which is good. It's kind of a slap on the wrist. But how do we know that the price that they're charging for shipping is too high?

"The second concern is, I have a lot of products I want to buy and they say, oh we don't ship to Alaska or Hawai'i. I'm afraid that this may even make it worse, if we're going to say, hey guys, if you've got an extra 5 or 10 cents or $5 or $1 on it, it may cut down that service to Hawai'i. We're already kind of a bit isolated because of our distance. So, hopefully we can handle this gingerly. It's effective in shooting a shot across the bow. But in terms of denying our people here because of this shipping, whether it's a couple of bucks that we're going to be able to take advantage of is fine. The intent is good, I'm not sure about the implementation or if it's going to cut some of our supply lines. Thank you."

Representative Garcia rose and asked that the Clerk record a no vote for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. With reservations and just a brief comment. I appreciate the intent to protect our economy. But I think when we have Ag Day up there, today, to think about what this could potentially do to our manufacturers, to our farmers, to our producers. I think what's important is, is now the time to be doing this? And there is an interesting statement made from UHERO, Hawai'i is currently experiencing high inflation and anemic economic growth. With that sobering scenario, state lawmakers have an excuse to delay enactment of a carbon tax, or implement with a lower tax rate, in the upcoming legislative session. Thank you."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. "Mr. Speaker, with reservations because this creates a tire police in the Office of the Attorney General. I don't think it's needed. We got to get rid of the tires, but to make the penalty as high as it is, I think some of the communities are going to be shocked about what that is. We've got to get the tires off of the dump, side of the road, but to make a tire police inside of the AG's Office rather than say, DLNR or the Department of Health, I think is a bit of an overkill and the cost of government goes up, therefore, the cost of living goes up. Thank you."

Representative Kapela rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. No vote and a brief comment. I appreciate the intent and the introducer's intent of this measure, but unfortunately, I can't support a measure where we would be the only state in the entire nation that would subsidize paid sick or family leave for businesses when we don't actually provide it for workers. Workers deserve 16 weeks of at least paid family leave. And until we can do that, and until we can even take up the measure and talk about it as a body, I can't support a measure like this. Thank you."

Representative Hussey-Burdick rose to disclose a potential conflict of interest, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would like to rule out a potential conflict. I was born at home under the expert care of a traditionally trained birth attendant, and if and when I become pregnant, I would prefer the same type of birth attendant to help me bring my child into the world," and the Chair ruled, "no conflict," and that the ruling would extend through sine die.

Representative Hussey-Burdick continued to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support. So, first I want to be very clear about the two things that this bill, HB 955, is doing. So, the original version eliminated what's been known as the drop-dead date in the current law that's scheduled to make traditional birth attendants illegal on July 1st of this year. The HD 1 version changes that drop dead date to 2025, which matches the sunset date of the whole statute. At that time, we will have a sunset analysis and we'll be back here again deciding the fate of the midwifery licensure law. So, this is currently just a temporary extension so that nobody becomes illegal while we figure out the details of licensure.

"The second part of this bill allows all certified professional midwives, or CPMs, to be eligible for licensure because our current law only allows certain CPMs to be licensed. Both of these elements are in alignment with Oregon's midwifery law, and many other states either have similar provisions or don't regulate midwifery at all.

"I want to thank the Health Committee Chair for moving this bill forward and writing into the committee report, 'your committee finds that traditionally-trained birth attendants of all cultures are valued and preferred by some consumers, and that the type of birth attendant utilized at a birth should be the birthing person's choice. Your committee further finds that Act 32, Session Laws of Hawai'i 2019, inadvertently omitted a category of professional midwives who have completed the North American Registry of Midwives portfolio evaluation process.'

"Mr. Speaker, 33 years ago, my mother intentionally chose a traditionally-trained birth attendant to help her give birth to me at home in our little house in Kapaa Street, in Kailua. That birth attendant's name was Medra. She had already attended over 1,000 births before mine, and she had been practicing since long before any of these certifications or licenses ever existed. Just two years later, my little brother was born in the same room, in the same home, with the same birth attendant.

"For both of those births, Mr. Speaker, that choice that my mother made was criminal, because just before I was born in 1989, the people in this very same square building that we stand in today, with all their good intentions, had passed a law making Medra's traditional knowledge illegal. And I'm so grateful that she was willing to care for my family anyway. Because when my baby brother was born, he came out with his cord wrapped around his neck, his face was blue, and he wasn't breathing. But Medra, with her years of traditional training, gave him the breath of life.

"Now, my mother is highly educated, an attorney who many other attorneys and members of this room probably know from her years of advocating for women's rights. She did her research. She knew who she was choosing. And she carefully weighed those risks against the risks of an impersonal, uncomfortable hospital birth filled with the pressure of unnecessary medical interventions. She felt so strongly that she wanted a non-certified non-medicalized birth attendant that she told me she probably would have given birth unassisted if she couldn't find a traditionally trained midwife to care for her.

"Unfortunately, mothers on Moloka'i or Lāna'i or the more rural areas of our neighbor islands literally don't have that luxury of choosing whether or not to go to a birth center up the street like my mother did. They don't have access to a nearby hospital. There are simply not enough licensed midwives practicing on their island. So, unless this law passes, their only chance will be to either fly to O'ahu for the last month of their pregnancy, give birth unassisted, which will almost certainly happen if it's premature before they have that chance to fly, or illegally enlist the services of the traditionally trained birth attendants who have been serving their communities for decades.

"Mr. Speaker, I encourage everyone in this room to go on YouTube and watch the Health Committee hearing from last Friday, February 3rd, and read all the testimony on HB 955. In my six years of working here, I have never seen so much overwhelming support on any other bill. One thousand two hundred and thirty-one people took time out of their day to give passionate, moving testimonies in support. Only 39 opposed, but the vast majority of that opposition made comments indicating they actually support the bill's intent by stating things like, I oppose this bill because I should be allowed to choose my traditional birth attendant. In comparison, Mr. Speaker, death with dignity had between 800 to 900 testimonies and they were very mixed in terms of support."

Representative Kobayashi rose to yield his time, and the Chair "so ordered."

Representative Hussey-Burdick continued, stating:

"I'm sure you'll remember that with death with dignity, members of the medical community stood on both sides of that issue, as they do now with this bill. The only bill I've been able to find that had more testimony was same sex marriage. But again, those were very mixed in terms of support. Mr. Speaker, in both of those instances, this body was brave enough to pass laws that gave people the right to make decisions about their own lives. And that's all I ask of you again today. Mahalo."

Representative Marten rose to speak in opposition to the measure, stating:

"Thank you, I'm registering a no vote and with brief comments. I understand this is a work in progress, and I appreciate the efforts of the Health Chair to address the issue. The reason for my no vote is that I think that everybody should be licensed when providing this kind of very important health care and that standards should be met. And I understand that three years ago, when the deadline was given, that was a time period to resolve some of the issues and agree on a path forward. And I'd hate to just keep kicking the can down the road while people are still practicing, taking money for a service in our state, without any set of standards.

"In my mid-twenties, I worked in Guatemala. I ran a child and infant nutrition program. And there in very traditional Mayan villages, almost everybody was attended by traditional midwives with no particular certification. The only people that were not were the people that could afford to go to the hospital. We did have relatively high maternal mortality. And I saw the consequences of that among the children that I cared for when they were orphaned. So anyways, I believe that everybody probably has the talents and skills and ability to learn to become licensed. But we should have that standard in our state. Thank you."

Representative Pierick rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support. My mom had four home births. My sister had four home births. Based on experience and in observation, I support."

Representative Garcia rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support. I rarely say this but, my body, my choice."

Representative Amato rose to speak in support of the measure, stating:

"In support. Choice should be absolute."

Representative Tam rose and asked that the Clerk record an aye vote with reservations for him, and the Chair "so ordered."

The motion was put to vote by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and H.B. No. 955, HD 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CHAPTER 457J, HAWAII REVISED STATUTES," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Consumer Protection & Commerce, with Representative Tam voting aye with reservations, with Representative Marten voting no, and with Representatives Kila and Lamosao being excused.
