INTRODUCTION OF RESOLUTIONS

The following concurrent resolutions (H.C.R. Nos. 1 and 2) were announced by the Clerk and the following action taken:

H.C.R. No. 1, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION RELATING TO RECESS DAYS FOR THE REGULAR SESSION OF 2024," resolving that the dates of the mandatory recess for the Regular Session of 2024 are hereby determined to be the 22nd, 23rd, 26th, 27th, and 28th days of February, on which dates the Regular Session of 2024 shall be recessed; and that the dates of the recesses other than the dates of the mandatory recess for the Regular Session of 2024 are hereby determined to be the 23rd and 25th days of January, the 4th and 6th days of March, the 8th, 10th, 24th, 29th, and 30th days of April, and the 2nd day of May, on which dates the Regular Session of 2024 shall be recessed, was jointly offered by Representatives Saiki and Ilagan.

On motion by Representative Nakamura, seconded by Representative Matsumoto and carried, H.C.R. No. 1 was adopted.

H.C.R. No. 2, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE GOVERNOR TO ADDRESS THE LEGISLATURE ASSEMBLED IN JOINT SESSION," resolving that the two Houses of the Legislature assemble in Joint Session in the Chambers of the House of Representatives at 10:00 a.m. on Monday, January 22, 2024, for the purpose of receiving such address or greetings from the Governor of Hawai'i as he should be pleased to make, was jointly offered by Representatives Saiki and Ilagan.

On motion by Representative Nakamura, seconded by Representative Matsumoto and carried, H.C.R. No. 2 was adopted.

At this time, the Speaker delivered his address, stating:

"Good morning, aloha, and Happy New Year. I would like to begin by welcoming and introducing our two newest House members, Representative Miyake and Representative Mizuno.

"So, Representative Tyson Miyake from District 10 previously served as the chief of staff and deputy county managing director with Maui County. He brings with him a fresh perspective and county level experience which will be invaluable as he works alongside the Maui delegation to deliver much-needed relief and leadership to Maui in the upcoming session. So, Representative Miyake, I didn't know this, but he is actually a trained linguist and he is fluent in six languages. Congratulations.

"Next, we have Representative May Mizuno of District 29. So, Representative Mizuno has deep roots in her community, as well as here at the State Capitol, working alongside her husband, former Representative John Mizuno. Representative Mizuno is a dedicated member of the Kalihi Valley Neighborhood Board No. 16. Her dedication to her constituents will continue in her role as a member of the House. So, I didn't know this about Representative Mizuno, but she is a skilled outdoorsperson. Recently, she was in Alaska where she successfully reeled in a 157-pound halibut. Which is kind of the same weight and size of her husband, John. Fortunately, only the fish went to the taxidermist.

"So, with both Representative Miyake and Representative Mizuno here, we have a modern historical composition of 20 House freshmen members. So, congratulations to all of the freshmen.

"So, the third Wednesday in January is close enough that we can, at the beginning of every legislative session, say Happy New Year and mean it. It positions us to both reflect on the previous year, and to be thoughtful about what we are resolved to do now and in the future. This year, we begin somberly, with gratitude, and determination.

"It has been 162 days since the Maui wildfires, and the shockwaves have not yet subsided. To quote Archie Kalepa, Lahaina is bearing the burden and all of Hawai'i is feeling the pain. We are thankful and indebted to the many people who were indeed the very first responders, whether that was their job or not, and continue to this day to listen to, provide for, and advocate.

"We have a few of those individuals here today. Members, please join me in greeting, first, Mish Shishido, who is representing Mayor Rick Bissen. Community members of the Lahaina Advisory Team, Laurie Lei DeGama, Rick Nava, and Archie Kalepa. There are three additional members of the advisory team who are unable to attend today and they are Kaliko Storer, Kim Ball, and Nestor Ugale.

"So, this advisory team will envision the future of Lahaina, and in many respects, the future of our entire state. As we acknowledge these individuals and the communities they belong to, we are brought to an essential question. As Lahaina continues to bear the burden, and all of Hawai'i continues to feel the pain, what will we do about it?

"History provides lessons. One hundred five years ago in 1919, another large-scale fire devastated Lahaina. No lives were lost. The town was mostly built on the same footprint, with a few infrastructure improvements, mostly led by individual property owners who had the means to do so. We could follow this model, modernizing it a bit. And in doing so, perhaps resetting the clock for another, more horrific disaster a century from now. Or with climate change, much sooner.

"More than 250 years ago, Native Hawaiians figured out how to manage their needs in relationship to place. There are no entries in the Wehewehe Hawaiian online dictionary for the word sustainable, let alone self-sustaining. But that is exactly how decisions were made, food cultivated, population distributed, natural resources managed. They had to have a circular economy because, as far as they knew, they were the only people. And as it turned out, many of the folks who came to the islands over the centuries were Pacific people with similar values.

"There are now many people, and many interests outside of Hawai'i who make decisions independently that profoundly impact us. We have encouraged and become more dependent on economies that deplete our resources. The many conflicts in the world affect us, even if they are far away. And the acceleration of climate change alters every place and all things. None of this means we don't have agency over our future. It means we must exercise agency and not let things drift or compromise the present at the expense of the future.

"One of the things I am proud of is the work that this House engaged in since we adjourned since sine die eight months ago. The House had planned an interim agenda that was appropriately and abruptly changed in August. But throughout, the House worked, asked hard questions, and pursued better solutions. The House brought meaning to the need for us to work beyond our own members and engage with people in our community.

"Two of these efforts in particular will help guide, not only legislation, but also how we think about these issues. The first is the working groups for Maui: Food, Water, and Other Supplies; Shelter; Environmental Remediation; Jobs and Business; Schools; and Wildfire Prevention. These are issues laid bare by the Maui fires, but they also have application in many other places across the state. Thank you to our co-chairs, Representatives Greggor Ilagan, Terez Amato, Luke Evslin, Nicole Lowen, Elle Cochran, Daniel Holt, Andrew Garrett, Justin Woodson, Jenna Takenouchi, Linda Ichiyama, and Darius Kila. And thank you to all of the House members who served as working group members and participated in this comprehensive work.

"The second interim effort focused on water. Thanks to Chair Linda Ichiyama, Chair Nicole Lowen, and Senator Jarrett Keohokalole, the Legislature worked with state agencies, the Board of Water Supply, City Council, the Governor, and Mayor Blangiardi in an unprecedented multiple jurisdiction effort. The Red Hill WAI, which means Water Alliance Initiative, report charts a proactive course of remediation so that decades, and perhaps even a century from now, future residents aren't poisoned by the nearly two million gallons of fuel in the ground that is slowly making its way to the water table.

"This work on the Lahaina wildfire, water, and many other topics aren't just interrogations of issues. We are fundamentally asserting that not only do we have agency and the responsibility to act, we are also questioning the how and the why and for whom. This, I think, is part of what Kumu Hina Wong told me recently. She said she would like to have all of us center Hawai'i. Members, to center Hawai'i is to center values that make sense for island communities and for our responsibilities as stewards of the public trust. We will need to remind ourselves of these values frequently, especially in a time of urgent decisions, and uncertain economic prospects.

"I've been pondering what it means for us, as legislators, to center Hawai'i. Is it to put the present and future well-being of this unique place, and the people of this place, at the center of our actions and decisions? It would mean, for example, to say that among the many needs and wants presenting themselves in the wake of the fires, that the needs and the well-being of local people of Maui and the residents of Lahaina come first.

"To center Hawai'i would require us to acknowledge that land is no longer the limiting factor of what we do. Because if we don't center the well-being of our water as a fundamental public trust responsibility, all of our affordable housing and economic development, and even our conservation efforts won't matter. And centering Hawai'i is to center aloha and the working principles of aloha, as did many in the days and weeks following the great fire.

"Some of us are newer to this chamber, and some of us are veterans. However short or long our tenure, our responsibilities take on even greater consequence if we are to not only represent the districts we are individually elected from, not only the state as a whole, but also to center Hawai'i and truly be the stewards in the public's trust, now and for the future.

"I would urge all of us to internalize the lessons of the wildfire, of the threatened water, of the pain and courage and aloha of our fellow residents in the face of unprecedented challenges. Hawai'i requires much of us, and we can, together, do our part. Thank you very much."

The Chair then recognized Representative Matsumoto, the Minority Leader, to deliver remarks on behalf of the Minority Caucus:

"Thank you. Mr. Speaker, Majority Leader Nakamura, friends, colleagues, and members of the public, good morning and aloha. This year, I had the honor to be part of the Rodel Fellowship, a group that brings together 12 Democrats and 12 Republicans from across the country, creating a cohort with the purpose of learning how to lead despite our differences. One of the takeaways from our conversations was that our nation and our states continue to be more polarized on many issues. But more importantly, how we conduct our state's business is often also divisive. We can do better.

"I encourage my fellow House members to rise above the noise. It is our job as legislators to model what civil discourse looks like. If we cannot discuss difficult issues with decency and respect in this chamber, how do we expect it to happen in our communities? That doesn't mean that we always have to agree, and actually we shouldn't. But it means that we're willing to truly listen and hear what our colleagues, the departments, advocates, and what our communities have to say. I believe Hawai'i and our House can lead the way.

"Mr. Speaker, as you mentioned in your speech, this year our state was rocked by the horrific tragedy in Maui. The crisis should not be a partisan issue or even a political issue. I respect your leadership and commitment to the State of Hawai'i, and I appreciate that when we met about Maui, you agreed to create these six bipartisan working groups and began addressing the needs of the many residents in Maui that were affected. And I am proud that we took it a step further. And for the first time in the history of Hawai'i, we have a bipartisan bill package, and we will be supporting the residents of Maui with these 12 bills to start.

"The Republican caucus visited Maui together to see firsthand the important issues that we need to address this year. We met with relief groups, with business owners, schools, and residents who lost their homes. My hope is this bipartisan legislation will send a clear message to the residents of Maui that we are putting their needs over politics.

"Additionally, this past year the Republican caucus worked together and for the very first time hosted a series of events called the Listening Tour, where our caucus went to four locations on O'ahu: Kāne'ohe, Mililani, Hawai'i Kai, and Kapolei, and listened to the needs and concerns of the community members. And we look forward to the possibility of expanding that to neighbor islands in the future.

"The Listening Tour flipped the script on the traditional town hall. It was a community-led forum, where we had an interactive survey that tracked and displayed different issues as they were raised. It allowed our caucus to shape our bill package with the data that we got back from these meetings. Our Republican Caucus came away with a better understanding of the priorities of the people in Hawai'i, and that information has allowed us to respond with action.

"The primary concerns brought up in these meetings included cost of living, housing, crime, Hawaiian homes, and government transparency. I would like to take the time to thank our House Minority Research Office and all of the caucus staff for the hard work that they put into making this tour happen.

"The 2024 Republican Caucus package was created for the Hawai'i we know and love. Our Hawai'i. So our legislation focuses on six main priorities. First, we need to keep our kama'āina home, with legislation that will make it more affordable for residents to stay on islands and thrive. We are focused on bills to eliminate the income tax, create an exemption for food and medical services, and also to provide greater opportunities for families to start saving for a home that they can call their own.

"Second, we need to grow our job market to create more high paying jobs and more economic opportunities for residents. These bills grow our job market by making Hawai'i a friendlier place to start a business, preparing our students for the real world with job experience, and injecting new life into our very important film industry.

"Third, we need to strengthen our 'ohana. Hawai'i family values are woven into the culture of our state. These bills give greater access to paid family leave, ensure parents know what's happening with their children, and create local school boards for education to be more in tune with the community's specific needs.

"Fourth, we need to invest in our homelands. We need to truly make the needs of Native Hawaiian families a priority. These bills will financially empower Hawaiians by making Hawaiian home land leases eligible for federal lending programs, designate Hawaiian home lands as state enterprise zones, and uphold the constitutional obligation to allocate revenue for OHA.

"Fifth, we need to protect our communities. Everyone should feel safe in their communities. This bill addresses rising crime with harsher penalties for organized theft, empower citizens with the right to protect themselves, and ensure access to treatment for Hawai'i's most vulnerable population.

"Finally, sixth, we need to improve our government. Our state needs greater accountability and transparency. These bills impose checks and balances on emergency powers, demand greater election integrity, and tackle government corruption through term limits. With such pressing needs for Maui, and for that matter, every island in our state, it is imperative that we lead with both kindness and respect. Let's be mindful how we interact with each other in this building and out in public. If we are truly able to rise above polarization and the noise, I know we can accomplish much for this session and for our entire state. Mahalo."

The Chair then recognized Representative Nakamura, the Majority Leader, to deliver remarks on behalf of the Majority Caucus:

"On behalf of the Majority Caucus, Mr. Speaker, we only have one question to ask you. When we left this chamber at the end of last session, did you really mean it when you told us to have a great interim? Yes, we returned to our island homes. We spent time with family and friends. We reengaged with our communities, worked on critical projects, and helped our constituents navigate the state bureaucracy.

"In between all of this, you pressed us to closely monitor the defueling of Red Hill fuel tanks and remediation efforts, and monitor the $600 million in funds to the Department of Hawaiian Home Lands. You also encouraged us to get out and about. We learned about Waipahu High School's incredible career pathway curriculum and on and off campus learning opportunities.

"We drove and walked through Pu'u Maka'ala Natural Area Reserve above Hilo to learn about native ecosystem restoration efforts. We visited prisons and jails to see firsthand the poor physical conditions of our facilities, personnel challenges, and need for rehab programs. We saw destination management and regenerative tourism at work in Hā'ena State Park. We drove and walked through the Lahaina burn zone to fully understand the magnitude of the wildfire devastation and the critical work ahead.

"These are just a few highlights of the many site visits that we made during the interim. What gives us so much hope is the commitment of state and county employees and community leaders who told us their stories, shared their dreams and vision, and explained their challenges and opportunities. We are all better legislators for this.

"But, Mr. Speaker, going back to the first question, did you really mean it when you told us to have a great interim? Because after the Maui wildfire, you created not one or two, but six bipartisan working groups to address concerns and to answer two critical questions. What can we learn from the Maui wildfires? And how can we prepare ourselves for future disasters?

"The Wildfire Prevention Working Group prioritized bills to fund DLNR's wildfire prevention and response, increase fines for fire protection law violations, and establish the office of State Fire Marshal. We are the only state in the nation that doesn't have one. The Environmental Remediation Working Group proposed bills to fund long term air and water quality monitoring for communities directly impacted by the Maui wildfires.

"What happens when the disproportionate number of homes are vacation rentals instead of housing local residents? The Shelter Working Group proposed a bill to phase out non-conforming short-term vacation rentals by closing this current omission in state law and giving counties the explicit authority to do so. The Food, Water and Other Supplies Working Group proposed bills mandating a comprehensive distribution plan and allowing pharmacists to provide medication to patients without interruption during emergencies. The Schools Working Group proposed a bill requiring DOE schools to have a comprehensive school evacuation plan that includes wildfires and a communication plan for use during these emergencies.

"And how do we create a pipeline of skilled workers in the construction industry to build the needed housing on Maui? The Jobs and Business Working Group proposed funding the University of Hawai'i Maui College to hire adjunct faculty positions to meet this immediate need. Mr. Speaker, we would be remiss in not acknowledging the incredible work of our House Majority Research Office, led by Casey Hines, for meeting the very tight deadlines that you set to get reports written and bills drafted, and our Communications Office, led by Cathy Lee, who informed the public every step of the way. Mahalo, Casey and Cathy.

"Then, in addition to the bipartisan wildfire package, Mr. Speaker, you were determined to have a majority package of bills. I would personally like to thank the 23 members of the Policy Committee who worked during the interim to identify key areas of concern, listen to experts, and identify bills that will lay critical foundations for a stronger Hawai'i. The majority package addresses affordable housing and homelessness head on by providing funding for affordable rental housing for a group that has been largely ignored, our working families.

"The package also includes a bill to increase the base budget for homelessness programs that have not been increased for the past 10 years, while needs have continued to escalate. Mahalo to Health & Homelessness Chair Della Au Belatti for your work on this bill.

"Mental health is top of mind. And creating an associate level licensure process with insurance reimbursements for marriage and family therapists, mental health counselors and psychologists, and establishing a 24-hour Behavioral Health Crisis Center pilot program will help increase access to mental health services. Mahalo to Representative Cory Chun and Health Chair Belatti for working on these two bills.

"The most cost-effective way to meet our renewable energy and decarbonization goals is through energy efficiency. Extending the state's energy efficiency portfolio standards from 2030 to 2045 and requiring all future state buildings parking to be 25% electric vehicle charger ready will help the state lead by example. Mahalo to Energy & Environmental Protection Chair Nicole Lowen for championing these two bills.

"With the shortage of 4,000 healthcare workers in the state, we need to support current healthcare workforce development programs that are working. Funding the public high school Healthcare Workforce Certificate and Glidepath programs, and giving Windward Community College the resources to train mental health care workers, will help our healthcare workforce throughout the state. Mahalo to Healthcare Association of Hawai'i and our new Human Resources Chair Lisa Marten for crafting these bills.

"Finally, with the state government employee vacancy rate of 23% and the three to six months it takes to conduct a minimum qualification review, we include in the majority package a bill authorizing state departments, divisions, and agencies to conduct this review on their own. Mahalo to Labor & Government Operations Chair Scot Matayoshi for your work on and advocacy for this bill.

"So going back to the original question, Mr. Speaker, as I received your phone calls directing this and that during our family vacations, zoomed into meetings from mainland conferences, and spent holidays working on these bills, did you mean it, to have a great interim? Because, Mr. Speaker, quite frankly, you worked us.

"But we know that our hard work over the interim will create a more resilient Hawai'i, address pressing problems, and help Hawai'i's residents thrive. At the end of the day, we thank you, Mr. Speaker, for your leadership in galvanizing us, seizing the moment, and producing some solid bills for the people of Hawai'i. Thank you."
