STANDING COMMITTEE REPORT

Senator Yamasaki, for the Committee on Legislative Management, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1), informing the Senate that Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 1 and Senate Resolution Nos. 1 to 3 have been printed and are ready for distribution.

On motion by Senator Yamasaki, seconded by Senator Henderson and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted.

At this time, the President extended congratulations to Senator O'Connor on the occasion of his birthday.

At 10:56 o'clock a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair to meet in joint session with the House of Representatives in accordance with House Concurrent Resolution No. 1.

JOINT SESSION

The Joint Session of the Senate and the House of Representatives was called to order at 11:07 o'clock a.m., by the Honorable James Wakatsuki, Speaker of the House of Representatives.

At this time, the Speaker introduced the following to the members of the Joint Session: the First Lady of Hawaii, Mrs. George R. Ariyoshi, who was presented with a lei by Representative Peters on behalf of the Senate and the House of Representatives; Lt. Governor Nelson K. Doi; and Chief Justice William S. Richardson.

The Speaker then appointed the Committee from the Senate, composed of Senators Kawasaki, Ching, Taira, Anderson and Yee, and the Committee from the House, composed of Representatives Kihano, Kondo, Yuen, Ajifu and Stanley, to escort the Honorable George R. Ariyoshi, Governor of the State of Hawaii, to the dais.

Representative Stanley presented Governor Ariyoshi with a lei on behalf of the Senate and the House of Representatives.

The Speaker then presented the Governor of the State of Hawaii, the Honorable George R. Ariyoshi.

Governor Ariyoshi then addressed the Joint Session as follows:

"While I was waiting for the session to convene here this morning, I was escorted to the office of the Clerk where I saw some of the old photographs going back to the Second Legislature of the State of Hawaii; I had a chance to reminisce a little bit. And as I stand here before you this morning, looking out, I must confess that many of you have changed considerably over the years.

Mr. Speaker, Mr. President, Mr. Chief Justice, Mr. Lieutenant Governor, members of the State Legislature, very distinguished ladies and gentlemen and my fellow Hawaiians:

I am indeed very happy to be here this morning to discuss the state of our State and to give my assessment of where we are now and where we are going in this new year - a year that although only twenty-five days old has seen a new national administration come to office in Washington carrying hope and promise for our nation.

I have just returned from the inauguration of Jimmy Carter as our 39th President, full of hope and expectation for the months that lie ahead.

Twelve months ago, I stood before you in this chamber and enumerated some of our hopes and our dreams for Hawaii. At the same time, I offered a catalogue of some of our problems and our shortcomings.

I am glad to report today that a significant number of our hopes and our dreams are coming to pass. I am not happy to report that some of our problems and our shortcomings remain, in some cases aggravated since we last met.

By almost unanimous agreement, our number one problem area as we begin 1977 is the economy, our heartbreakingly high unemployment rate and the lack of tax revenues to allow us to fund all the programs that you and I would like to see come to fruition.

Our economy was our number one problem a year ago, and despite extensive and persistent efforts, I must candidly acknowledge we have made precious little headway, at least statistically.

Our efforts to maintain and stimulate the economy in the past year have been many and varied.

They range from SCET and CETA programs to tourism promotion; from major capital improvement projects to new farmer loans; from marine research to low-interest loans and subsidies to private employers who hire unemployed and underemployed individuals; from unemployment insurance to a product promotion program; from providing support to the local military commands in their pursuit of a more realistic construction budget to water development programs.

In other words, we have been all over the lot in guiding, prodding and shaping our economy.

State bond issuances have increased markedly over previous years and represent a substantial investment in our economy. By way of illustration, bond issuances in 1975-76 were $225 million, compared to $125 million the year before and $110 million the year before that. In two years, we have doubled the annual figure.

CIP spending correspondingly has been on the rise as we attempt to stimulate a construction industry that has dragged our economy deeper and deeper into unemployment.

We intend to continue borrowing money on a prudent basis to put into construction projects to create jobs.

But as the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House observed here last week, government cannot do it all.

As President Ushijima said, 'The government alone cannot become a major hiring hall.' And Speaker Wakatsuki noted, 'I am under no illusion that our State Government alone can dramatically reverse the present economic and unemployment trend.'

I agree with both the President and the Speaker. In our form of society, the ultimate and enduring solutions must be found in the private sector, and it is up to us to give direction, to give support, and at times, to give guidance in this area.

Government and private business must work together for the common good. In the past, particularly in times of stress, I feel there has been too little communication between these two basic elements of our society. With that deficiency in mind, I convened last September the Hawaii State Conference on Employment.

The conclusions reached at this conference were neither startling nor unexpected, but they did give a thorough insight into some of our problems.

One of the recommendations coming from the conference was that government must explore methods of improving the coordination of job placement services and must encourage the listing of all job openings with the State Employment Service.

I am disturbed, for instance, that during a period of high unemployment, many job vacancies in the private sector in our State are not listed with the State agency which is designed to get employers and the employees together.

I am disturbed, too, just as many of you must be, when I read stories that the Federal Government has to bring in auto mechanics from a foreign country to work in a State with our unemployment rate. I am convinced that in this case, there are extenuating circumstances, but that cannot make those in the unemployment lines feel any better.

I feel that it is absolutely essential that Hawaii's jobs be reserved for Hawaii's residents and I intend to address myself to this area in the months to come.

Toward that end, I am going to ask for help from our leading business establishments and labor unions in the very near future. I might add that the offer to assist the State came from management and labor representatives during meetings with them at which the plight of the construction industry was being discussed.

I am also very confident that you members of the Legislature, in this session, will address yourselves creatively and effectively to this problem. We all know there are no easy solutions. But working together, you and I, and with the added dimensions of business and labor, we will bring to bear all our forces to seek solutions and answers.

Another area of very, very deep concern to us all is the crisis in the sugar industry.

With the death of the Sugar Act in Congress in 1974, forces were set in motion that sent prices on a dizzy roller coaster ride, first to the heights and then down to the depths.

In 1974, prices soared outlandishly and unrealistically in grocery stores around the country. Our sugar producers were reaping profits that they themselves admitted were excessive and that they knew could not last. They didn't for long.

Suddenly, as foreign sugar entered the market because of the absence of effective quota restraints, the prices began to drop, plunging in less than 24 months from $1,200 a ton to $180 a ton, which was far below production costs.

Obviously, no industry, particularly one that has to make growing commitments several years in advance of harvest, can long endure such fluctuations and such depressed prices.

Immediate action is needed and I am confident that help is on the way.

We have testified before the U. S. International Trade Commission, and we have had supportive resolutions adopted by the Governors' Conference, by State Agriculture Directors' Conference, and by the American Farm Bureau.

We have a new Carter Administration sympathetic to our plight, and a new Secretary of Agriculture who, in a recent meeting in Washington, expressed strong concern for our sugar industry.

Another concern that I have is the unjustifiably negative image Hawaii has in certain areas of the investment market.

In a recent article in Forbes Magazine, Hawaii was rated as the poorest State - number 50 out of 50 - in which to invest.

Many of us feel that the article was unfair and untrue in certain respects, resulting in some erroneous conclusion. But however we feel, the article, I fear, does represent a widespread misunderstanding.

We need to take countermeasures.

We need to tell the story of Hawaii, and tell it more effectively, and we need to demonstrate in deeds, as well as words, that Hawaii is in truth an attractive investment market.

I am calling upon the Legislature, and upon our business and labor communities again to join me in this effort. It is important for the future of this State.

It comes as no secret, that we do not have all the money that we need to fund all the programs that we want.

Some have suggested that we raise taxes, or impose new taxes, to alleviate our financial problems.

I am definitely opposed to that except in the area of transportation.

I feel that our citizens already are heavily enough burdened and should not be called upon to provide more money.

This financial crunch is not just the Governor's problem or the Legislature's problem. It is everyone's problem.

That means, therefore, that it is incumbent upon all of us to make the best possible use of the monies that we do have available, to further efficiency, and to establish priorities on programs. I ask for the cooperation and the understanding of everyone, from those of you in the Legislature, to the members of our public employment unions, to the public at large, I want to stress the public at large because no matter what we attempt to do, it is the demand for services by the public that results in the mushrooming of and the growing obligations of government.

I would like to also take a minute to explain what might appear to be a certain contradiction in my fiscal policies.

On the one hand, we are being very hard-nosed on operating expenses, making every division of government and every agency justify their expenditures.

On the other hand, we are borrowing substantial sums of money for capital improvements in this State.

Actually, there is no contradiction. The money we spend on day-to-day operations is for direct and immediate benefits for our present day citizens. It is, therefore, appropriate that only revenues that are currently available be expended for operating purposes. Capital improvement projects, on the other hand, will be available for the benefit of present and future citizens. Thus, there is basis to prudently borrow funds to finance capital projects with the repayment cost being absorbed by present and future beneficiaries.

We are a young State and as such have a need for many new facilities. If we can provide these facilities now, we are not only creating needed jobs but also constructing needed facilities at a much lower cost. That, to me, is a desirable course to pursue and I plan to continue this fiscal policy in 1977.

This year, our society faces, as possibly never before, basic and fundamental challenges to established land uses and control, ranging in scope and diversity from Waiahole-Waikane Valley, to Kahala to Kilauea.

The issues are complex, the answers will not come easily, and the decisions that are made will have a profound impact on this State for years to come. We must try and do everything possible to find the solutions to these problems.

The vexing leasehold problem needs to be continually reviewed and evaluated within the framework of reasonable balancing of equities of both sides.

Long and expensive litigation does not seem to be the answer. By the recent enactment of leasehold reform legislation, we seem to be coming to a reasonable consensus of accommodation in resolving this problem by good faith negotiation. This Administration will assist with persuasion and cooperation, and the force of law, if necessary, to effectuate conversion from leasehold to fee ownership.

To this point, I have dwelled on some of our problems and some of our inadequacies. We have our share of them. But at the same time, since I last reported to you, our State Government has had many good days, moving ahead impressively on a broad front.

I will not dwell on the accomplishments here today, but reports being submitted to you by my cabinet officers will give a more detailed look at the progress we have made.

These include the acquisition of irreplaceable acres of lands for parks and improvements to others, cheaper telecommunication rates, a full-time PUC, welfare reform, a successful campaign for the retention of the Federal Cost of Living Allowance for a majority of Federal workers in Hawaii, a Hawaiian Home Lands building program, an improved tsunami warning system, significant improvements in our schools, establishment of an affirmative action office, and many, many more.

And now, just briefly, I would like to share with you still another side of the equation - our hopes, our plans and, in some cases, our dreams for this beautiful land of ours.

For the first time last year, Hawaii's visitor total exceeded three million persons. This is a significant milestone for our economy.

Recent studies and reports, including the findings of my Economic Advisory Task Force, have indicated that the careful expansion of the tourist industry promises the greatest potential for more employment and economic stability. If tourism continues to flourish, there will be a commensurate increase in related benefits to our community.

Therefore, I cannot emphasize too strongly the importance of this industry to our State and the need to protect it from any damaging influences.

In another area, the diversification of our economy, including agriculture, occupies a prime priority with me. We need to diversify in many areas but agriculture offers our most immediate hope.

I want to see us develop a diversification of agriculture that in years to come will enable our State not only to be more self-sufficient in many of the farm products we now import but also to develop export potential in a number of commodities. As I met, on my recent appearance in Washington, with some of my colleagues from the other states, and as they talked to me about the terrible weather problems that they were facing this year, crops being eliminated, it brought to me the concern that we ought to have in Hawaii of trying to produce more and more of the things that we consume and to export more of the things that we can produce.

No one wants or expects diversified agriculture to replace the two main agricultural pursuits of our State - sugar and pineapple. It is not an either/or situation, but rather in addition to. We have only begun to contemplate our potential in diversified agriculture, let alone realize it.

I also foresee a tremendous economic future in Hawaii's aquaculture industry, where we will grow prawns and clams and oysters much as today's farmers raise pigs and cattle, and market them throughout the world.

During my first two years in office, I have put great emphasis on the development in Hawaii of alternate energy resources - renewable energy resources.

Last spring, a geothermal well was drilled in the Puna district of the Big Island, reaching a depth of more than 6,000 feet. It turned out to be one of the hottest in the United States, and if present indications hold up, this one well will be capable of producing 10 per cent of the Big Island's electrical needs - a startling figure and an exciting prospect for all our islands where scientists feel that geothermal potential exists.

Imagine for a moment what abundant and cheap power would mean to these islands. On the Big Island, for instance, there are miles and miles of seaside lava lands, unfit for any kind of agriculture. But with cheap power, ponds could be scooped out, rich water from the sea could be pumped in, and an aquaculture industry could flourish where now there is only jagged lava.

With our abundant sunshine and reliable tradewinds, Hawaii offers great potential in solar and wind energy as well. I truly feel that Hawaii can take the lead among the States in striving for renewable energy resources.

Movie and television shows for national showing continue to increase with resulting exposure for Hawaii and a boost for our economy.

Forestry offers hope for a new industry within our State and my Administration is pursuing these possibilities.

I envision an International Trade Center in Hawaii where goods from the world would be offered for sale to our residents and visitors, but more importantly where our State becomes the logistic, information, finance and contact point for this trade.

I believe also that the time has come for us to consider the feasibility of Major League sports teams occupying our Major League sports stadium. To that end, I am going to name a Governor's Committee on Major Leagues to consider its feasibility and to actively pursue such franchises as may be deemed desirable. The competition will be sharp but I am convinced that we offer an unbeatable combination of climate, glamour and facilities.

There are many more plans and dreams for Hawaii. I have enumerated just a few.

We have looked at our problems, we have looked at our dreams, now let me focus on some of the legislation which I will be proposing. Although

I am submitting for your consideration a wide-ranging portfolio of legislation, my presentation to you today will be very brief. You will be hearing more from us as the session continues.

As you are already aware, we will propose legislation this session to provide limited protection to public investors in industrial loan companies.

The legislation will call for an industry-financed insurance program, guaranteeing individual deposits up to $10,000.

We feel that this legislation is vital to preserve the integrity, vitality and public confidence in a financial industry in which the public has invested $450 million, or about 13 per cent of the total public savings in all financial institutions in this State.

A special message on this proposal will accompany the legislation.

We have recently completed a statewide housing study whose objectives were to address housing problems, trends, and future housing needs.

Not surprisingly, the study finds that adequate and affordable housing continues to be out of reach for too many of our people - particularly the young and the old.

However, it also indicates that the public sector objectives, identified six years ago in a similar study, have been met and surpassed.

The study suggests a continuing commitment to and improvements on our housing delivery system. It also recommends specific program activities that might be implemented. We are prepared to make several proposals to you shortly in this regard.

In the area of Hawaiian Home Lands, we are going to offer you legislation that will overhaul the present Act, providing for a consolidation of funds and accounts for the Department, increasing the allowable interest rates on the loan fund, and lowering the percentage of Hawaiian blood needed for successors and transferees of Homestead land from 50 per cent to 25 per cent.

We will submit a proposal to lower the development costs of agricultural park projects by exempting them from existing zoning and subdivision standards. This proposal provides for county input and approval in order that a project will have the concurrence of both the State and the County.

We are going to submit 'sunset' legislation that will call for the periodic in-depth review of numerous licensing laws now on the books. It will also provide for the automatic repeal of licensing laws which cannot be satisfactorily justified.

We are going to offer an anti-litter bill in this session which I believe, if enacted, will be a turning point in our fight against the despoilment of our environment.

I am convinced that the legislation will provide us with the vehicle for a cleaner Hawaii. But, at the same time, we need to launch a massive anti-litter educational campaign. Laws can go only so far in reducing litter. We must also instill a 'Clean Hawaii' ethic among our people and our visitors, and make it an anti-social act, as well as an unlawful one, to litter.

Another important piece of legislation we are sending to you is a proposal to authorize the implementation of a Hawaii Coastal Zone Management program.

Citizen committees from all the islands, as well as Federal, State, and County agency representatives, have worked diligently during the past year and a half to explore coastal resources, problems, and issues; they have studied alternative arrangements for better management, policies to protect and wisely use coastal resources, and the necessary legal authorizations to achieve coastal zone management objectives. I am proposing that the legal boundaries as designated in the legislation be limited and should not encompass the entire State.

The legislation is being sent to you for action this session prior to submitting it to the U. S. Secretary of Commerce for approval. Such approval will make Hawaii eligible for Federal grants to implement this important program.

There are several plans and studies that we either will submit to you this session or give you progress reports on.

As you may recall, we have been preparing a regional plan for Windward Oahu during the past year. The report will be completed shortly and will contain policy recommendations to guide urban and rural settlement patterns for the Windward side.

The study also explores preliminary options for State regional planning policies and should serve as a prototype document for other areas throughout the State. I want to add here that our efforts in the preparation of this plan is our desire to get a preferred future on the Windward area. The Windward coast happens to be the last relatively undeveloped coast on this Island. We are beginning to feel that we ought to get the kind of Windward coast that we prefer rather than a coast that is going to be developed valley by valley because we didn't take the time to make the plans for the entire Windward area. Hence, the development of this policy.

We have submitted to you a progress report on the Hawaii State Plan. As you know, the enabling legislation calls for the final product to be submitted to you in 1978.

The report contains draft goals, objectives and policy statements which address statewide concerns and more specifically, the needs and aspirations of our people. We are looking forward to working with you in refining the plan which, once adopted, will serve as the primary policy document for this State.

The Department of Planning and Economic Development is in the process of developing a 10-year master plan for the growth of the tourist industry in Hawaii. A progress report will be submitted to you shortly and the final product will be ready for presentation during the 1978 session.

I have previously mentioned the importance of aquaculture and you will receive an interim report which will bring you up to date on potential sites, on permit procedures and the kinds of support facilities needed to make this economic potential a reality. I want to add that I am extremely pleased with some of the work that I see coming out of the Legislature in this area.

The time I spent in Washington last week convinced me more than ever that our State Government needs to build an even closer working relationship with the Federal Government and with our Congressional delegation.

With this in mind, I am very seriously considering filling the position of Federal Coordinator for this State. The Coordinator, if filled, would be headquartered in Washington and would be responsible for keeping a close watch on programs affecting Hawaii.

In these days of tight finances, we must make sure that we receive all of the benefits that we are entitled to in the way of Federal funding for construction projects and for other programs of benefit to our citizens.

This has been a quick run through of some of the legislation and materials that we plan to submit to you this session. It by no means is complete. As I said, you will be hearing many more details of our legislative package as the session continues.

And now, I would like to discuss with you what I consider to be Hawaii's single most important issue - our future. To my thinking, there is no subject of more transcending importance.

I realize that I am not unique in expressing my concern about our future. Many of our best thinkers have addressed themselves to it in a variety of ways in recent years. Thousands of words have been written about it, hundreds of meetings have been held on it, and many studies have been made of it.

The conclusions have been many and varied, but they can be distilled into one principal concern: If we are not careful, over-population, over-building and over-development will destroy the Hawaii that we know.

Until now, our concern for the future of these Islands has been expressed mostly in words.

From this day forward, the concern of my Administration is going to be expressed in action, involving you members of this Legislature and continuing into the Congress of the United States and undoubtedly into the courts of this nation.

The problem of excessive population seems to be central to nearly every problem in our State.

Too many people means too few jobs and too much competition for them; too many people means too little land for agriculture and parks and scenic vistas; too many people means too much crime and too much erosion of possibly our single most important commodity, the Aloha Spirit; too many people means too much pressure on all our governmental and private institutions.

In short, too many people can spell disaster for this State.

Hawaii is a national treasure, but it is a very fragile treasure, one which can be easily destroyed by over-population and excessive demands on its resources.

There is no reason why we must endure what an uncontrolled and an unregulated future holds for us. We must shape our own future, not have it thrust upon us by forces over which we have little or no control.

I am of the belief that we truly can and must be the masters of our own destiny, rather than the victims.

What I am going to propose here today may sound radical to some, and unworkable to others. But I am convinced that we need bold and innovative ideas and actions now if we are to achieve what we must achieve.

The course I am charting for this Administration and this State is not an easy one. It will require years of effort. At times the programs I am proposing will put this State in direct confrontation with the present laws of this land and possibly even the Constitution of the United States.

But I have every confidence of eventual success. I am ready this day to join the fight, with whatever forces may oppose us, for the survival of our Hawaii.

I am sure that our program will become a landmark effort amongst the States, that it will attract national attention, and I hope will obtain the support of other States facing similar problems.

I have not embarked on this program lightly or with the expectation that it will be easy. There will be long and protracted legal challenges. There will be long and sometimes discouraging works in the Congress. Without question we will receive setbacks along the way.

But succeed we will. Succeed we must.

For years now, we have been standing helplessly on the sidelines whenever the question of in-migration from the rest of the United States or immigration from the rest of the world has been mentioned.

We are going to stand on the sidelines no longer. At least I'm not.

I intend to propose:

1. Federal legislation that will achieve a more equitable distribution of immigrant amongst our States.

2. Federal assistance programs for those States with a disproportionate number of immigrants in relationship to total population.

3. A Constitutional amendment permitting States to establish residency requirements for new arrivals for publicly supported programs such as welfare assistance, public employment, housing and many more.

I want to emphasize that I am not trying to separate families, and I am not trying to shut out all immigration to Hawaii.

It has been immigration, the blending together of people of various ethnic backgrounds and cultures, that has set Hawaii apart from all the other States and made it a beacon for the world in areas of human dignity, opportunity and justice.

We must continue our immigration - whether it be from the mainland or foreign countries - because it has been and continues to be our life blood and our source of uniqueness. But at the same time we must be given the tools to manage our future and shape it for the benefit of our present residents.

I would hope some of our sister states such as California, New York and Florida which attract a large number of migrants would join us in this effort.

I feel that other steps can and must be taken with respect to our needs.

We need to discourage the continued concentration of population on Oahu by providing the right kinds of housing, jobs and economy for our Neighbor Islanders and their offsprings. Unless I be misunderstood here, I want to reiterate that I'm not talking about lock, stock and barrel moving large numbers of people from Oahu to the Neighbor Islands. What I am talking about is the opportunity for a person who grows up on the Neighbor Islands to begin to feel that they have a right and they have a chance to live on the Neighbor Islands. It hurts me very much when I hear a young person saying that they are moving to Hawaii, or have moved to Oahu, not because they wanted to but because they felt there were no job opportunities on each of the Neighbor Islands. This is what we are talking about when we speak of the equal opportunities that we now have for education, health services, social services, and we ought to have for employment opportunities also.

We must direct and encourage compact urban growth patterns to preserve existing open space, conservation areas and agricultural lands for the future.

None of what I have just said should be construed to mean that this Administration is anti-growth or that we intend to put clamps on economic expansion that will have a chilling effect on our economy.

I feel the result of what I am proposing here today will have just the opposite effect.

If we truly become masters of our future, as regards population control, population and density regulation, and a slowdown in the draining away of our public assistance money, I feel we will have created a climate in this State that will attract expansion capital and cause businesses to move ahead with far greater confidence in the future than they now have.

I fully realize that our economy cannot stagnate as a result of the policies I have outlined today. I fully realize, too, that there is a thin line to be walked between selective growth and no growth. Selective growth is essential. No growth is intolerable.

I have to believe that a well-run State, on top of its future and in control of its destiny, in an infinitely more attractive investment market than one which is buffeted about by economic and social forces over which it has no control.

If we have no say over who comes here and in what numbers, we might as well abandon any thoughts of a Hawaiian tomorrow. Of course, Hawaii will continue to exist, and will still be called Hawaii, but it will have ceased to be the Hawaii that we know.

So it is imperative that we move now, boldly and decisively along the course that I have outlined. I am convinced it is not yet too late. But I am convinced also that we cannot tarry, we cannot allow ourselves to be bogged down in endless discussions leading nowhere. We must begin now the admittedly long struggle to become masters of our own destiny.

I do not promise early or easy success. But I do promise that we will devote great energy and total dedication to the program that I have spelled out today. I feel that we have no other choice.

I want our people to speak to us on this very vital issue. I think our people need to become involved in decisions that will affect them so profoundly in the future.

And certainly I need your help and your wise counsel. I think we share a common dream for Hawaii, a dream of programmed expansion and a better life for all.

To do this, we must be masters of our fate. Then, we can forge ahead, with the confidence of success that is so essential to achieving the dream all of us have for our beloved Hawaii.

This, then, brings us to the end of this report on the state of the State, the third that I have delivered to this Legislature.

Despite our problems, some of them very vexing, some very frustrating, some very heartbreaking, we - you and I - have compiled an enviable record.

We have moved this State forward on the guidelines of the goodness of man and of opportunities and justice for all.

We have made many decisions, most of them right, I feel, but some of them wrong. We have not eliminated all of our problems and probably never will. There always will be problems to tax our courage and our determination to move this State forward along prudent paths, to reject the simple and the expedient solutions, in favor of what will be best for our people in the years to come.

We have come so far, my friends, in such a short time that sometimes we lose sight of our progress and tend too much to dwell on our problems. Problems we have. Of that there can be no doubt.

But none of them are unsolvable. Working together, we will arrive at the solutions. Of that, I have no doubt.

The first two years of this Administration have been a time of planning and programming, laying the foundation for a new structure.

We have a solid structure abuilding, and I anticipate and predict considerable progress in many areas as we start 1977.

I am deeply appreciative of your help, your guidance and your cooperation in the past two years. I look forward to working with you in the years to come as we move rapidly, but with sure steps, toward a better Hawaii.

Aloha and Mahalo."

President Ushijima then rose and stated:

"Thank you, Mr. Governor, for your fine message. Admittedly, the problems facing Hawaii are many, grave, varied and very complex. They can be solved only by working together - the executive and the legislative branch. You have offered the cooperation of the executive branch and we offer the cooperation from the legislative branch to solve all of these problems for a better Hawaii.

Again, thank you, Mr. Governor."

At 11:54 o'clock a.m., the President declared the Joint Session adjourned.

The Senate reconvened at 12:05 o'clock p.m.

ADJOURNMENT

At 12:06 o'clock p.m., on motion by Senator Taira, seconded by Senator Anderson and carried, the Senate adjourned until 11:30 o'clock a.m., Wednesday, January 26, 1977.
