SENATE RESOLUTIONS

The following resolutions (S.R. Nos. 2 to 4) were read by the Clerk and were disposed of as follows:

A resolution (S.R. No. 2), entitled: "SENATE RESOLUTION COMMENDING THE M. OKADA INTERNATIONAL CULTURAL SERVICES ASSOCIATION FOR ITS TIRELESS EFFORTS AS THE PRIME MOVER OF THE EXHIBITION OF JAPANESE GENRE PAINTINGS AT THE HONOLULU ACADEMY OF ARTS, JANUARY 23RD TO FEBRUARY 22ND 1981; AND COMMENDING THE KYUSEI ATAMI ART MUSEUM AND THE HONOLULU ACADEMY OF ARTS FOR CO-SPONSORING THIS RARE ART DISPLAY," was offered by Senators Kuroda, Mizuguchi, Holt, Machida, Abercrombie, Campbell, Ushijima, O'Connor, Toyofuku, Uwaine, Yamasaki, Ajifu, Cayetano, Kawasaki, Young, Cobb, Carpenter, Yee, Saiki, Wong, Kobayashi, Anderson, Henderson, Soares and George.

On motion by Senator Kuroda, seconded by Senator Holt and carried, S.R. No. 2 was adopted.

Senator Kuroda then introduced to the members of the Senate the chairman of the Okada International Cultural Services Association and president of the Church of World Messianity from Atami, Japan, Rev. Teruaki Kawai; executive director of the Association and vice president of the Church of World Messianity, Rev. Yukio Ishihara; managing director of the Association, Rev. Naoyuki Kawai; Rev. Tadao Nishigaki, director of the Association and head minister of the Kanto Headquarters in Tokyo; and Rev. Ikuo Harazawa, head minister of the Shikoku Regional Headquarters. Senator Kuroda remarked that the gentlemen are here in Hawaii for the opening ceremonies of the exhibition.

At this time, Senators Kobayashi, Young, George and Saiki presented leis to the dignitaries and Senator Kuroda presented the resolution.

Senator Kuroda also introduced Mr. Noboru Furuya, former owner and operator of the Nippon Theater, Rev. Noboru Yamada and Rev. Teruhisa Takeda who accompanied the group and who were sitting the gallery.

At 11:39 o'clock a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 11:44 o'clock a.m.

At this time, Senator Abercrombie asked Senator Kuroda to convey his thanks and the thanks of all the members of the Senate to the Okada International Cultural Services Association for the marvelous and very wonderful publication on Japanese genre paintings that has been made available to all Senators.

A resolution (S.R. No. 3), entitled: "SENATE RESOLUTION EXTENDING ALOHA AND BEST WISHES TO THE HONOLULU JAPANESE JUNIOR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ON THE OCCASION OF ITS CHERRY BLOSSOM FESTIVAL," was offered by Senators Uwaine, Kawasaki, Kuroda and Young.

On motion by Senator Abercrombie, seconded by Senator Kawasaki and carried, S.R. No. 3 was adopted.

A resolution (S.R. No. 4), entitled: "SENATE RESOLUTION HONORING THE MEMORY OF THE LATE RICHARD SHOJI 'DICK' KITAMURA, ONE OF HAWAII'S BASEBALL GREATS, AND EXTENDING THE DEEPEST CONDOLENCES OF THE HAWAII STATE SENATE TO HIS WIDOW, CHILDREN, AND MOTHER," was offered by Senators Ajifu, Kuroda and Uwaine.

On motion by Senator Ajifu, seconded by Senator George and carried, S.R. No. 4 was adopted.

RECONSIDERATION OF ACTION TAKEN

Senator Kuroda moved that the Senate reconsider its action taken on H.C.R. No. 1, seconded by Senator Yee.

Senator Kuroda then stated that the reason for the request for reconsideration is because the Governor will not be able to address the Joint Session on Monday, January 26th, due to illness.

The motion to reconsider the action was put by the Chair and carried.

On motion by Senator Kuroda, seconded by Senator Yee and carried, the Senate reconsidered its action to adopt H.C.R. No. 1, and H.C.R. No. 1, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE GOVERNOR TO ADDRESS THE LEGISLATURE ASSEMBLED IN JOINT SESSION," was placed on the Clerk's desk.

At 11:46 o'clock a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 11:47 o'clock a.m.

Senator Yee then rose to state as follows:

"Mr. President, the Minority would like to present to the Clerk of the Senate seven additional bills to lay on the Clerk's desk so that we could have them docketed, and when we are properly organized they become official documents of the Senate. Thank you."

The President ordered the Clerk to receive the bills.

Senator Cobb rose on a point of information as follows:

"Mr. President, have we designated yet the day for introduction of bills, as well as the cut-off date of bill introduction?"

The President replied that we have not.

Senator Kawasaki then rose to state that he also wanted to rise to that point of information and requested further clarification as follows:

"Mr. President, a further clarification of the information you just imparted to us.

"Inasmuch as the day of introduction of bills has not yet been designated, I take it then the fact that the few (Minority) bills that we have on the Clerk's desk means nothing in the way of priority being established?

"I do realize that there are literally hundreds of bills already prepared by the Democratic Majority here which we have not seen fit to put into storekeeping as yet."

The President replied: "Senator Kawasaki, we will decide that issue when the Senate is organized."

At this time, Senator Abercrombie rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

"Mr. President, I would like to commend, for the record, the entertainment that we were fortunate to have or privileged to have here on Opening Day.

"I understand at least one member of the Legislature saw fit to disparage the people that were here providing the entertainment and I must admit that I am somewhat biased because some of the people are personal friends of long-standing, but, nonetheless, I think that not only should we be grateful to them as Senators, but I'm sure every member of the audience who was here appreciated their professionalism and the tremendous opportunity that we have to be grateful to them as they are ambassadors, not just to everyone in Hawaii but as our ambassadors to the world.

"The people that were here, in particular, I have personal knowledge of, are not only very fine individuals in their own right, in terms of their personalities and their families, but they are among the hardest working people in the entire state in respect of making Hawaii a place that everyone wants to come to and return to. Thank you."

The President then remarked as follows:

"Members of the Senate, I would like to beg your indulgence for just a minute.

"Today is a kind of a sad yet happy day for me personally. One of my secretaries who has been with me for 14 years has accepted a position with the City...and I might add, at a much higher rate of pay. But, all in all, it saddens me to see her leave.

"I would like to recognize Cynthia Murata who is leaving us. Today is her last day and I wish her well."

The President then asked Cynthia Murata to stand and be recognized.

ADJOURNMENT

At 11:52 o'clock a.m., on motion by Senator Kuroda, seconded by Senator Yee and carried, the Senate adjourned until 11:30 o'clock a.m., Monday, January 26, 1981.

FOURTH DAY

Monday, January 26, 1981

The Senate of the Eleventh Legislature of the State of Hawaii, Regular Session of 1981, convened at 11:30 o'clock a.m. with the President in the Chair.

The Divine Blessing was invoked by Reverend Kim On Chong, retired Chaplain of Mid-Pacific Institute, after which the Roll was called showing all Senators present, with the exception of Senator Kobayashi who was excused.

The President announced that he had read and approved the Journal of the Third Day.

HOUSE COMMUNICATION

A communication from the House (Hse. Com. No. 2), transmitting House Concurrent Resolution No. 2, which was adopted in the House of Representatives on January 23, 1981, was read by the Clerk and was placed on file.

On motion by Senator Mizuguchi, seconded by Senator Anderson and carried, H.C.R. No. 2, pertaining to the Governor's address to the Legislature assembled in joint session, was adopted.

Senator Anderson then rose to state as follows:

"Mr. President, if I may, the Republicans have seven more bills we'd like to lay on the Clerk's desk--two from Senator Yee, three from Senator Ajifu and two from Senator George--under the same conditions, if I may."

The President so ordered.

At this time Senator Anderson rose on a point of information as follows:

"We're now approaching the second week of this somewhat disorganized eleventh session and it's more than embarrassing, really, to have the public out there, once we adjourn, continually ask us 'what's happening,' 'what's going on,' 'can we have some meetings,' 'can we introduce some bills,' 'can we come and testify.' The senior citizens want to move, the teachers want to move, we have some educational problems. It's embarrassing as Senators, Mr. President, to sit here everyday to be part of the electoral process, so to speak, and not be able to give the constituencies any answers.

"Now it appears that what we know--most of us anyway--is what we read in the papers and most of that is hearsay, gossip and innuendos. We would like to be informed, Mr. President, if somebody can inform us in this body, just what the hell is going on. Is somebody talking to somebody; are the 17 Democrats meeting; are there any caucuses--open door, closed door? What do I tell my constituency on the Windward side when they want to come down and testify on the bills or want some bills introduced? When is the Governor coming down with his budget and his presentation?

"Gentlemen, it isn't just a Democrat process or a Democrat problem. The problem is that we are all Senators and we are all being criticized. The people on the street aren't saying, 'those damn Democrats,' they're saying, 'you damn politicians' and we're all getting some of the rub-off, Mr. President. This isn't only to you on the Majority side; we're all paying a price for this; we all have to go back to our constituencies sooner or later and we really want to get going.

"Now I saw five interesting faces on TV last night being interviewed and if I were to take away the subtitle of anti-Wong or pro-Wong, they sounded like five sensible, reasonable men. If I read the Hilo Tribune, statements attributed to various Senators, you wouldn't believe that there's a problem here; it's for the people, by the people and everything is motherhood. You get into these halls, and it's entirely different.

"Now I really suggest, Mr. President, that if there are not five Democrats in this body who want to come across the hall in a responsible manner and join forces with us to get going, then I would really urge that the 17 of you, if you want to assume the responsibility, go into a room and close the door and get down to business.

"We just cannot continually accept and explain to the public that we're spending the taxpayers' hard-earned dollars when there's crime, education, unemployment, economy and all kinds of problems that we have to get to. We cannot continually ignore them. The responsibility is yours and you have said any number of times that it is the Majority party and you want to resolve it among the 17 of you. Then please, Mr. President, resolve it."

The President then answered as follows:

"Senator Anderson, for the public's information and your information, the Democrats are trying to resolve the problems. It's very difficult and all of us seated in this chamber understand what some of the problems are. They are not something that is simply resolved and I ask patience from the Minority; I ask patience from the general public.

"It's always been my philosophy that since the people of Hawaii elected the Democrats as the Majority here in the State Senate, it is our responsibility to organize the Senate. What is more important is that as we are responsible for organizing the Senate, we should be held accountable for whatever action takes place in this body. This will be reflected in the elections forthcoming two years from now. We understand what the consequences are if we don't resolve our problems and I think we should be willing to suffer those consequences when the will of the people is made known to us two years from now.

"We are trying, Senator Anderson. I hope that we can resolve our differences and we will keep the Minority informed."

Senator Anderson then stated:

"Mr. President, to correct a misnomer, I haven't liked it for years and I don't like it today. I don't sit here as a Minority member, Mr. President. I don't have the mentality of a minority member. I sit here equal as a Senator and while your designation may be as a Minority party, I happen to feel that I and my colleagues, those behind me and alongside of me, are as equal... to participating equally to any of the Majority. Many of our members on the Republican side out-pollled many Democrats in their own particular district, so while we have had this old fantasy of Majority, Minority, Republican, Democrat, I'd like to think that maybe for the first time under the title or subtitle of 'new politics,' Mr. President, that you might redefine your thinking and your definition."

At this time, Senator Abercrombie rose on a point of information as follows:

"Mr. President, does Senator Anderson, the previous speaker, mean that he is releasing each of the Republicans to go his own way?"

Senator Anderson then replied:

"I don't have any Republicans to release, Senator. The Republicans caucused together, organized and have directed me to do certain things on their behalf. The Republicans stand free to break, run, be independent, any time they so desire."

Senator Kuroda then stated:

"Mr. President, I'm one of those five reasonable Senators who appeared on TV but I'm not reasonable enough to accept Senator Anderson's invitation to join in their group. But I do have a pleasant announcement to make, Mr. President, and that is, it was Senator O'Connor's birthday, yesterday, and it was Super Bowl Day, so after we adjourn I'd like to invite my colleagues to extend a 'Happy Birthday' to Senator O'Connor. With this pleasantry, I'm sure that Senator O'Connor and I, although on opposing sides, would gladly join the negotiation team so that we can get the act together. Thank you."

The President then remarked:

"Of course, the Chair would entertain any more discussion but I would like to put this matter to rest by just answering Senator Anderson in terms of definition of the 'new politics.' It's very simple. Under my presidency, it's been trying to treat everyone fairly. That's the essence of the new politics and I would like to continue in that particular spirit. I think the Senate should be a body in which each individual senator--his decisions or his comments--is treated fairly. That's all we can ask of any bipartisan type of arrangement here in the Senate.

"As most of you know, as president for the past two years, I have tried to attain that particular goal of being fair to each and every member of this Senate. And if you agree that being fair is the essence, then I would want to be able to continue as president and I hope you keep me in the job."

ADJOURNMENT

At 11:47 o'clock a.m., on motion by Senator Mizuguchi, seconded by Senator Anderson and carried, the Senate adjourned until 11:30 o'clock a.m., Tuesday, January 27, 1981.

FIFTH DAY

Tuesday, January 27, 1981

The Senate of the Eleventh Legislature of the State of Hawaii, Regular Session of 1981, convened at 11:30 o'clock a.m., with the President in the Chair.

The Divine Blessing was invoked by Reverend James W. Drew, Kanaana Hou, United Church of Christ of Kalaupapa, Molokai, after which the Roll was called showing all Senators present, with the exception of Senators Kobayashi and Ushijima who were excused.

The President announced that he had read and approved the Journal of the Fourth Day.

SENATE RESOLUTIONS

The following resolutions (S.R. Nos. 5 and 6) were read by the Clerk and were disposed of as follows:

A resolution (S.R. No. 5), entitled: "SENATE RESOLUTION HONORING MR. FORTUNATO TEHO UPON THE CELEBRATION OF HIS 25TH CONSECUTIVE YEAR OF RADIO BROADCASTING IN HAWAII," was offered by Senators Yee, Anderson, Kawasaki, Yamasaki, Kuroda, Machida, Saiki, Kobayashi, Young, Carpenter, O'Connor, Campbell, George, Abercrombie, Uwayne, Ajifu, Cayetano and Cobb.

On motion by Senator Yee, seconded by Senator Anderson and carried, S.R. No. 5 was adopted.

A resolution (S.R. No. 6), entitled: "SENATE RESOLUTION HONORING AND COMMENDING NOBUO YAMAUCHI FOR OVER 30 YEARS OF DEDICATED COMMUNITY SERVICE TO THE YOUNG PEOPLE OF HAWAII COUNTY," was offered by Senators Henderson, Carpenter, Ushijima, George, Yamasaki, Soares, Kobayashi, Saiki, Ajifu, Campbell, Machida, Kuroda, Holt, Kawasaki and Yee.

On motion by Senator Henderson, seconded by Senator Carpenter and carried, S.R. No. 6 was adopted.

At this time, Senator Anderson rose to state: "Mr. President, we have six or seven bills that the Republicans would like to have lay on the Clerk's desk."

And the President so ordered.

Senator Anderson then requested that the proceeding be interrupted in order that Senators George and Saiki be allowed to make a presentation; thereupon, the President and Senator Toyofuku were each presented with a bouquet of flowers.

Senator Anderson then continued his remarks as follows:

"Mr. President, Senator Yee for the last week has been sitting here like a waiting bride... waiting for a bouquet to be tossed to him from one group or another.

"We've given out two bouquets to be tossed, hopefully, by tomorrow to Senator Yee to get the Senate organized and moving... so that might be your symbol of willing to get down to work. If one of you will toss it to Senator Yee he'll be very happy to receive it.

"Apart from that, Mr. President, I've been talking on the floor daily now trying to bring this body to a position of zero... to get going and get down to work.

"Yesterday, we had some discussions on the floor. I notice in today's paper that maybe it's doing some good.

"I would like to quote the headline which says, 'Five of Wong's Allies Consider Coalition' and it says, 'Yesterday, five of the pro-Wong Senators...' and I won't name them because you know who you are... 'said they are willing to wait only until tomorrow before they would join the eight-member G.O.P. caucus.'

"While there has been some, as we say in Hawaii, 'huki huki' for the last couple of days and there's been some charade amongst you believing that you are going to spin-off one Senator here or two there from each and everybody's camp, including ours, I really think, Mr. President, that the day of believing that one group or another is going to spin-off a Senator or two Senators for the magic 13 is strictly nonsense and not realistic. I think the camps are firm, there are three groups, we're having a difficult time getting together to form that magic 13.

"I see that your group is giving you till tomorrow; otherwise, it says they are coming over to our camp to organize the Senate.

"Mr. President, you said yesterday, you would like to be President of this Senate. You have but to walk into our caucus room or we'll walk into yours after this session. We believe that this body can get down to work and end this nonsense and go to work. We've wasted a week or so now. By the time this body gets organized and committee assignments made, it will be another week. No matter what happens we're going to lose two to three weeks in this session. We don't sit here cheap; we get a good salary; the staffs are on board and the printshop is ready to go to work.

"Mr. President, we say again, be it your group or the other group or any five in between, we're serious when we say that the people's work is more important than ego trips and factionalism, and we'd really like to go to work."

Senator Abercrombie then rose to inquire as follows:

"Mr. President, I would like to inquire of the previous speaker if he believes everything he reads in the paper?"

Senator Anderson replied:

"Mr. President, most times, yes. And if I may... I have to lend some credibility to the reporter and to the paper... and I think it would be a disservice, Senator, if the Senators think they can say one thing for public consumption and then come back to the floor and vote a hundred and eighty degrees from what they have said publicly. I don't think we can have it two ways much longer."

At 11: 40 o'clock a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 11: 41 o'clock a.m.

At this time, Senator Uwaine rose on a point of personal privilege and stated as follows:

"Mr. President, I think I need to set the record straight on the article that was written by the Star-Bulletin reporter as was quoted by the Minority Leader. It is an inaccurate statement, that is, my name being associated with it as far as the deadline is concerned. I just want to set the record straight."

Senator Cobb also rose on a point of personal privilege and remarked as follows:

"Mr. President, I think my name is one of those mentioned and I've indicated a growing impatience with the delay that has taken place relative to the Senate organization. I've also stated many times to not only individual Senators, but to members of the media that I would prefer that the Senate organization be resolved among Democrats. But, if that is not possible, then we have to consider the alternative, and there are many qualified Republicans in the Senate, qualified to be chairmen of committees... and I for one do not have personal reservations... if it becomes necessary to organize this body to share that power, because I think we do have an obligation to organize to do the public's business.

"I'd also like to state for the record, Mr. President, it's far more than a matter of just personalities or factionalism, or desire for power that has divided this body. It is basically and fundamentally a struggle for independence--either to keep this body independent or to see it controlled by forces from the outside.

"We've had previous struggles for independence, Mr. President, both in our country's history and in our state. This is just another example of it. I'm sure that as time goes on and if legislation hits the floor of this body that reflects on that question of independence, we're going to have ample opportunity to comment in greater detail on the need to keep the Senate the sole remaining independent legislative body in the State of Hawaii."

The President then announced as follows:

"On behalf of Senator Toyofuku and myself, Senator Anderson, we would like to thank you for the bouquets. We will examine it... and maybe later we'll talk to you about the tossing ceremony, if one will occur. So, on behalf of Senator Toyofuku, who is part of the other faction, and myself, we thank you very much."

ADJOURNMENT

At 11: 45 o'clock a.m., on motion by Senator Mizuguchi, seconded by Senator Anderson and carried, the Senate adjourned until 11: 30 o'clock a.m., Wednesday, January 28, 1981.

SIXTH DAY

Wednesday, January 28, 1981

The Senate of the Eleventh Legislature of the State of Hawaii, Regular Session of 1981, convened at 11:30 o'clock a.m., with the President in the Chair.

The Divine Blessing was invoked by Reverend Roland Tatsuguchi, Shinshu Kyokai Mission, after which the Roll was called showing all Senators present, with the exception of Senators Abercrombie, Kobayashi and Toyofuku who were excused.

The President announced that he had read and approved the Journal of the Fifth Day.

ADJOURNMENT

At 11:35 o'clock a.m., on motion by Senator Mizuguchi, seconded by Senator Anderson and carried, the Senate adjourned until 10:15 o'clock a.m., Thursday, January 29, 1981.

SEVENTH DAY

Thursday, January 29, 1981

The Senate of the Eleventh Legislature of the State of Hawaii, Regular Session of 1981, convened at 10:15 o'clock a.m., with the President in the Chair.

The Divine Blessing was invoked by Reverend J. Sargent Edwards, Rector of Calvary Episcopal Church, after which the Roll was called showing all Senators present, with the exception of Senators Abercrombie and Kobayashi who were excused.

The President announced that he had read and approved the Journal of the Sixth Day.

At 10:25 o'clock a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 10:26 o'clock a.m.

At 10:27 o'clock a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair to meet in joint session with the House of Representatives in accordance with House Concurrent Resolution No. 2.

JOINT SESSION

The Joint Session of the Senate and House of Representatives was called to order at 10:40 o'clock a.m., by the Honorable Henry H. Peters, Speaker of the House of Representatives.

At this time, the Speaker introduced to the members of the Joint Session the First Lady of Hawaii, Mrs. Jean Ariyoshi, who was presented with a lei by Representative Dennis Yamada, on behalf of the Senate and the House of Representatives.

The Speaker also introduced to the members of the Joint Session Lieutenant Governor Jean King. Representative Daniel Kihano then presented Lt. Governor King with a lei, on behalf of the Senate and the House of Representatives.

The Speaker then appointed the Committee from the Senate, composed of Senators Kawasaki, Kuroda, Mizuguchi, Yee and Anderson, and the Committee from the House, composed of Representatives Kihano, Yamada, Stanley, Hashimoto, Waihee, Kamali'i and Rohlfing, to escort the Honorable George R. Ariyoshi, Governor of the State of Hawaii, to the rostrum.

Representative Stanley then presented Governor Ariyoshi with a lei, on behalf of the Senate and the House of Representatives.

The Speaker presented to the members of the Eleventh Legislature, the Honorable George R. Ariyoshi, stating:

"Members, ladies and gentlemen, it gives me a personal privilege to introduce to all of you the Governor of the State of Hawaii, the Honorable George Ariyoshi."

Governor Ariyoshi addressed the Joint Session as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, Mr. President, Lieutenant Governor King, Mayor Anderson, Members of the Eleventh Legislature, my fellow citizens:

"I feel privileged to come before you to discuss the affairs of our State of Hawaii on this very special day when, happily, our nation offers thanks for the return of our fellow citizens from their captivity in Iran.

"Perhaps no other event in recent years has rekindled our nation's awareness of the meaning of freedom as did the imprisonment of our fellow American citizens in a country that does not share our heritage or sense of fairness or reason.

"Through the hostages' experience, we better appreciate our cherished freedom to express our thoughts; our freedom to act upon our convictions; and our freedom to influence our own destiny.

"Through our nation's efforts to secure their release, we have all been reminded of the responsibilities of those who seek to establish or maintain freedom.

"Freedom is born in strength and its restrained use.

"Freedom is nurtured by compassion, and by consideration for others.

"Freedom is given substance by the participation of those willing to work together for the public good.

"Freedom endures through the development of wisdom and patience.

"Our citizens are finding renewed strength to address other challenges to freedom, represented by the inflation weakening our economy, and the political instability found abroad. We realize now, as perhaps we have not before, that we must improve our productivity and we must expand our influence for peace and prosperity throughout the globe.

"And while it is important that America maintain its close relations with the nations of Europe, we must increasingly focus greater attention on the Pacific-Asian region. It is in this region --so much nearer Hawaii--that great change and development is occurring, and enormous potential exists.

"Japan has become an economic giant in our world. China is opening itself up for the first time in decades. Taiwan and Korea grow stronger, the ASEAN countries are developing, and the Pacific Islands are beginning to play a global role. America and these nations have much to share with one another, and this must occur in a way beneficial to all parties.

"In the past, Hawaii served logically as an intermediary point geographically for travel between the Mainland and the Pacific-Asian region. In the future, we have the opportunity to serve as the dynamic trade and cultural intermediary for these same lands.

"It is a great opportunity, and a unique one. It is not, however, one that can easily be achieved.

"We must demonstrate that we can draw upon the values of many cultures in the creation of a vital society. We must show respect to all whom we come into contact with, and above all, we must show that the spirit of cooperation is a greater force than that of dissension and strict self-interest.

"The specific topics I wish to discuss with you today deal with the challenges of Hawaii's future and problems we face now.

"The census figures for 1980 have shown that many more people now live in Hawaii than in 1970.

"While other States may have experienced a higher rate of growth, few of them share our problems of limited land and natural resources.

"We are fortunate that we have addressed our growth problems and have begun to come to grips with them. I always have believed that one of the great strengths of our State and County governments has been in the area of planning. Due to our size and associated problems, we have had little choice but to excel in this field. But we can do even better.

"I have said, and I truly believe, that our Hawaii State Plan, which was enacted into law by this body, represents the second most important document in our State, subordinate only to the Constitution.

"The Hawaii State Plan offers a blueprint for our future unparalleled by that of any other State.

"Now the time has come to implement the specifics of this plan as we submit for your consideration the 12 State Functional Plans which will advance the process of making our State Plan a reality. These 12 plans are in the areas of tourism, energy, water resources, conservation lands, historic preservation, recreation, education, higher education, health, housing, agriculture, and transportation.

"It would be naive to expect every detail of every plan to please every legislator, county official, or citizen. But I do feel it is imperative that you adopt these Functional Plans, with modifications you may deem appropriate, so that we can confidently move ahead with programs to help us achieve our preferred future.

"Already, in many areas, we have waited too long.

"Already, things have been done that cannot be feasibly undone.

"Already, growth has occurred where growth may not have been appropriate.

"Already we have waited too long to safeguard properly some of the lands for our people today and for those who will follow us.

"In my State-of-the-State address to this body four years ago, I said that Hawaii is a national treasure, but a very fragile treasure, one that can be easily destroyed.

"This was not mere rhetoric.

"In the ensuing four years, much has been proposed, and much has been accomplished, related to that awareness of our State's beauty.

"In agriculture, through our agricultural parks programs, we are beginning to set aside more land for farmers.

"We now have an extensive State Parks System which complements the recreational efforts of the Counties.

"We have accomplished much in preserving our historic sites, our conservation lands, our coastal zones, and our water resources.

"We have had an aggressive land acquisition program.

"We are working on an extensive planning effort for Kakaako, an underutilized area near Honolulu's waterfront which has been allowed to fall into decay.

"These achievements are significant, and we believe the Hawaii State Plan is the cornerstone of our efforts to manage our growth in the future. Your adoption of the 12 State Functional Plans will further these efforts and will create a structure for the future of Hawaii based upon sound planning.

"In addition to the Functional Plans, we will be sending to you several proposals dealing with our concern over the preservation of our land and water resources.

"Article Eleven of the State Constitution mandates the Legislature to establish standards and criteria for the reclassification and rezoning of important agricultural lands by the State and Counties. We are recommending legislation which will update our land use statutes on agricultural land classifications, and also make certain that activities on such lands be primarily agricultural.

"Article Eleven also calls for the establishment of a water resource agency that shall set overall water conservation, quality and use policies. We are submitting three proposals to fulfill this mandate.

"The first authorizes the Department of Land and Natural Resources to begin formulating a State Water Code over a three-year period.

"The other proposals would empower the Board of Land and Natural Resources to assume the Statewide regulation of our water resources, including surface water, and control of in-stream uses.

"Presently, the Land Board is limited to regulation of ground water development and use only in areas where water supplies are critical, or are near a critical stage.

"We feel that this proposal will eliminate the overlapping and conflicting duties of the various agencies responsible for water resource management and control. In addition to fulfilling the constitutional mandate, we feel the intent of the proposal is consistent with our overall State planning efforts.

"Last year, I followed with great interest the first election of the Board of Trustees for the Office of Hawaiian Affairs. I believed then, as I do now, that this instrument of the Hawaiian people will be put to use in a positive and constructive way and will foster a better understanding by all our people of the needs, the desires, and aspirations of our Hawaiian community.

"I am sure the Trustees share with me the belief that we are stewards over this land and its bounties. It is our responsibility to serve the collective will of our people. Inherent in this stewardship is our common obligation to preserve and nurture the dignity of our people and our land so that one day, we may hand down to those who follow us, a richer more rewarding life than that which was passed on to us by our predecessors.

"In another vein, I hope that the Trustees of the Office of Hawaiian Affairs will--at some time in the future--look at what role the Hawaiian people might play in the development of Hawaii's relations with other Pacific nations, and what we might learn from their cultures.

"In regard to our activities in the Pacific, there have been several exciting developments during the past year in our effort to enhance our relations with the countries and territories of the Pacific.

"Following a successful conference early last year, Hawaii, American Samoa, Guam and the Commonwealth of the Northern Marianas entered into a partnership to form the Pacific Basin Development Council. The Council has established an office in Honolulu and is now working on a priority list of mutual concerns which include fisheries development, alternate energy development, and small business assistance programs.

"Hawaii and the Council also have become participants in a newly formed organization called the Pacific Island Conference which includes in its membership nearly all of the Pacific Island nations and territories. We believe that Hawaii will establish important links with these South and Central Pacific nations through this organization.

"We must take careful steps to work on programs of mutual concern and to help one another. Hawaii has much to offer in technical expertise, education and market opportunities. Others, in turn, can offer us much in cultural enrichment and reciprocal trade opportunities.

"Because of our limited lands, one of our major concerns is the issue of Federal ownership, or control of lands, within our State. It is one I intend to deal with immediately, and vigorously.

"I will request that all Federal surplus lands either be turned over to the State, to the Counties, or to the Office of Hawaiian Affairs, for the long-term benefit of our people.

"On ceded lands, I will continue to seek the speedy return by the Federal Government of unrequired lands they now hold.

"I also intend to renegotiate some of the agreements that we entered into during our Territorial-status days and in the early years of Statehood.

"In this regard, I will seek a clearer agreement on the Island of Kahoolawe.

"I fully understand, and support, the present needs of the Navy, but just as surely I support the proposition that when these needs cease, this land will be returned to the State of Hawaii.

"The holding by the United States Government of lands and facilities, beyond original needs and intents, has occurred in certain areas at Piers 39 and 40, and I intend to pursue the matter of their return as vigorously as possible.

"I believe very strongly in our national defense effort, and the obvious need for it. Many times, in answer to critics of my policies regarding the military, I point out that every citizen, and every State, must make sacrifices for the protection and well-being of this nation.

"Because of our geographic location, we may be called upon to make disproportional efforts on behalf of our nation's defense, and to endure disproportional inconveniences. I think every citizen of this State realizes this and is willing to make these sacrifices.

"At the same time, I think the pride of our citizens, and their heritage, must be jealously guarded, and it is for this reason that I want to insure the return of such Federal lands and properties to the jurisdiction of the State of Hawaii at the appropriate times.

"In another land matter, our consultants for the Aloha Tower Plaza project will soon complete their feasibility study. As you review this document, you will find that we have a genuine opportunity to create a project that will transform underutilized and valuable Honolulu waterfront property into a showcase for international trade and public-use activities.

"Based on the findings, we are seeking your authorization to proceed on this important project.

"We are proposing the creation of a development corporation, to direct redevelopment activities for the area. The corporation would be charged with the responsibility of supervising the development of an international trade center, modernizing the area's maritime facilities, enhancing the beautification of the downtown waterfront, and providing public access to this area.

"During this session, I will submit a concurrent resolution for your consideration which would permit us to enter into discussions with private enterprises for the development of an industrial park in the Keehi Lagoon area. It would be located in the vicinity of the Airport's reef runway.

"Obviously, prime considerations in any such proposal are not confined to economics, but also encompass environmental and social concerns.

"The development concept, if it proves feasible, would assist greatly in strengthening our overseas trade, since it would be strategically positioned close to ocean and air transportation facilities.

"In the field of alternate energy, I am happy to report that Hawaii has made considerable progress in developing electrical energy from several sources--biomass, direct solar, wind, ocean, as well as the earth's heat--some of these are on line now or will be shortly. This has been due largely to your efforts and the efforts of many State agencies including the University of Hawaii, the Counties, and the private sector to come up with workable, economical solutions.

"In order to provide greater support for these efforts, I am proposing that an Energy Division be created in the Department of Planning and Economic Development. This new division can offer better coordination for the various State energy programs than is now available.

"I have spoken of our preferred future, of our desire to determine our own destiny through cooperation and planning, not by leaving it to chance.

"I wish to speak to you now about some special problems we face in Hawaii today, and to offer you proposals to deal with those problems.

"While we may not be in total agreement about the specifics of each issue, I ask that we all bear in mind that we share a common responsibility to provide a future for Hawaii that is as sustaining, as hopeful, and as free as any we have known.

"Meeting these responsibilities will not be easy, but the tasks ahead of us can be facilitated through mutual respect and through cooperation.

"In the critical area of crime, I met recently with the Mayors, Prosecutors and Chiefs of Police of our four Counties, representatives of the Judiciary, and other officials involved in our criminal justice system.

"The meeting lasted many hours, and I was tremendously encouraged by its accomplishments and by the recommendations emerging from it.

"I said that I did not expect that a one-day meeting would provide all the solutions to crime in Hawaii. But we did make a start, and a very significant start, in this essential fight against elements and situations that greatly concern our people.

"We must address this problem with all the resources and innovativeness at our disposal.

"My Administration, the Counties, and the Judiciary are all committed to doing what is necessary, in all areas of criminal justice, to make our Islands once again a safe place to live, a safe place to raise children, and a safe place to visit.

"Significant as the proposals emerging from the conference were, the greatest importance, I feel, rested in the fact that at long last, most of the people involved in criminal justice in this State finally were conferring with one another. You should expect greater coordination of effort. And I earnestly request that you give utmost consideration to the crime bills to be presented to you by public and private agencies so deeply involved in and knowledgeable about these issues.

"Another concern of importance to our people is the availability of affordable housing.

"Through your past authorizations, we have been able to construct thousands of low and moderate income units for sale throughout the State. We also have built many rental units for those--including the elderly--who could not afford to purchase a home.

"While we will continue these efforts, we are recommending an expansion of one of the more successful programs, the mortgage revenue bond program known as HULA MAE.

"Since the first bonds were sold last year, nearly 1,300 families and individuals--who otherwise would not have qualified for conventional mortgage loans--were able to purchase their own homes.

"We have sent you a status report on this program and, based on its success and effectiveness, we are requesting an additional authorization of 250 million dollars. We will submit a proposal which will allow more potential homeowners on the Neighbor Islands to participate in this program.

"Another area of considerable importance, and considerable concern to everyone in our State is our visitor industry.

"With tourism to our Islands levelling off, and with airline fares continuing to spiral because of ever-increasing energy costs, it is imperative that we take action now to improve our Island visitor attractions and properties if we are to maintain, and enhance, this essential business.

"A number of tourist areas--particularly Waikiki--have been allowed to fall into discouraging neglect. I am sure all of us are ashamed of the tawdry appearance, of the lack of cleanliness, of the smut peddlers, the traffic, the hawkers, and the general atmosphere from which millions of persons each year form their opinions of Hawaii and its people.

"It is important that government work cooperatively with the private sector to safeguard and enhance this immense resource.

"Therefore, I am asking for your favorable consideration of 5 million dollars for improvements to Waikiki.

"In addition to the 5 million dollars in improvements, there are other steps we need to take to strengthen the visitor industry throughout our State.

"Several months ago, along with tourist industry leaders, I proposed the creation of a program to promote Hawaii's tourism. This program, called 'Hawaii '82,' is a 4 million dollar promotion effort aimed at revitalizing our softening visitor market. Except for $200,000, all the funds will come from the private sector. However, this is a one-time promotional effort and we must find a way of better promoting Hawaii in the future on a more systematic basis.

"Tourism is one of the fastest growing industries in the world today. Each year, competition for the international and domestic tourist dollar becomes keener. We strongly believe that this promotional effort, along with the needed and long overdue improvements to our visitor destination areas, will go far to safeguard and enhance this vital Island industry.

"Last year, the Legislature authorized the expenditure of cash to acquire land for historical, agricultural and recreational purposes.

"This was a major step in preserving open spaces for the economic and esthetic benefit of all our citizens and visitors. I now propose a new permanent program of land acquisition--that each year we set aside a portion of our capital funds to acquire important parcels of land.

"On another land matter of critical importance, I urge you once again to take definitive action on establishing the site of another airport on the island of Oahu.

"I pray that it will not take a major air disaster to produce action to relieve the potentially lethal mix of airliners and private planes at Honolulu International Airport.

"I have suggested an area at Poamoho as the most feasible one for an alternate airport. This decision was not easily arrived at, nor was it accomplished without discussion, dissension, and some discord.

"No one wants an airport in their area, and I have not been immune from the protests of those now in the Poamoho area. I am certainly not unsympathetic to those protests. Some speak eloquently of their concern.

"But the persistent question remains, if not Poamoho, then where?

"I cannot believe anyone in this Legislative body doubts the daily danger existing at Honolulu Airport. I cannot believe that anyone in this body can conscientiously deny the imperative need for another airport.

"So let us move this session to resolve this question. It is a difficult issue, one that never will be resolved with universal acceptance, but one that cries out for solution by you. I have made a difficult decision in selecting a site. I ask all of you, in the name of millions of people who use our International Airport, to accept the challenge of reality and make a decision.

"Now, I do not pretend that the solutions to these persistent and troublesome problems are easy. But we must, jointly, share in the responsibility to make Hawaii a better and safer place to live.

"Since we share in the responsibility of resolving society's problems, so may we share in society's accomplishments.

"For example, the test scores of our students, on a national scale, show significant improvement. This is heartening in light of the ever-increasing budget allotted to the Department of Education, and the dedication of thousands of educators determined to give our youngsters a superior education and the motivation for a successful life.

"Both the Department of Education and the University system play an important role in the development of our community. They require and merit our support, our understanding and our encouragement.

"In other fields, Hawaii continues to be an innovator and a leader--especially in alternate energy, diversified agriculture, and aquaculture.

"Our Administration has tried to be an Administration of the people, sensitive to their needs and to their desires.

"I am very proud of what has been accomplished, with your assistance, in upgrading our hospitals and general health care; in strengthening the welfare system to provide for those truly in need, but denying benefits to those who would cheat the system; in providing a more humane system under which those who formerly would have been placed in care institutions--probably for life--now have the opportunity for a more normal and happy life in a community environment; and in more and better programs for our elderly, so that they can live with greater comfort and dignity and purpose.

"I could go on and on enumerating programs which have benefitted our people. Never, I suggest, have any of us spent dollars more wisely, or more productively, than in helping people to help themselves.

"I do take considerable pride in that we, working together, have succeeded in maintaining a strong financial foundation for this State. We only have to look around us to judge, by comparison, just how well we have succeeded.

"As of today, we have a surplus of $179 million.

"The accumulation of this surplus from $2.4 million at the end of the 1977-1978 fiscal year is due both to our responsible fiscal policies and to an unanticipated rise in revenues.

"The State Constitution requires that you in our Legislature establish an expenditure ceiling which limits appropriations to the estimated rate of growth in our economy. This ceiling was enacted by you last year, and provides that expenditures be limited to the average three-year growth rate of State personal income, to appropriations starting with the 1978-1979 fiscal year.

"Faced with this ceiling, we prepared a balanced budget for your consideration. This was not an easy task, and difficult choices had to be made. While it was not possible to recommend funding for all programs, we believe this budget does provide for the improvement of programs and services essential to the growth and prosperity of our economy and the health and well-being of our citizens.

"All of us can take considerable pride that a surplus exists, because it represents successful stewardship of our taxpayers' money.

"It has obviously been very important that our State exercise prudence in its expenditures. It has been important, too, to define, and to redefine, the priorities of our government, if we are to maintain this sound fiscal management and responsibility.

"To follow such frugal policies was not a happy task, either personally or politically, but it was one I accepted in the name of financial solvency for this State.

"Now, we have the task of how best to return the fruits of our efforts to the taxpayers.

"I will send proposals to this legislative body to enact a permanent tax credit of $50 for each resident of this State.

This would mean an additional $200 annually for an average family of four, not just this year, but every year. It is designed to return most of the taxes paid on food and drugs.

"I feel this program is most equitable and will do the most good for those in the greatest need of assistance, namely, the elderly and others on fixed incomes.

"I strongly recommend such a plan as being the most prudent and progressive of all the alternatives.

"Certainly, there are other proposals.

"One is the elimination of the excise tax on food and drugs.

"I do not consider this to be the best, or the fairest, solution because those who are not residents of Hawaii, and who are not subject to our income taxes, but yet who reside here for long periods, would be freed from paying one of the few taxes they now pay.

"The tax credit, to bona fide residents of Hawaii, is the fairest, most equitable, way to return our surplus dollars.

"In closing, I would like to note that two significant inaugural ceremonies have taken place during this past month.

"One occurred on the lawn of Honolulu Hale.

"The other, on the steps of the Capitol in Washington, D. C.

"I attended both, and was moved by both.

"In Washington, Ronald Reagan was inaugurated as our 40th President.

"He is a man dedicated to change. He comes into office with an overwhelming mandate from the American people who have expressed a desire for new directions.

"President Reagan is not a member of my party, and indeed did not receive the majority of votes from the citizens of Hawaii. But I think all of us, regardless of ideology or party affiliation, can pray for the success of this man and his Administration, as he assumes the world's most difficult job.

"I am an American first, and a Democrat second, and I have pledged to President Reagan my support as all of us work toward common goals.

"In Honolulu, Mayor Eileen Anderson, in her inaugural address, called the City and County of Honolulu a very special place.

"I think many of us would expand that description to encompass all of Hawaii, for this, truly, is a very special place of all places in our world.

"It is a place where diverse cultures, and ethnic heritages, and different values, have come together to create a people with a common understanding and a common purpose.

"Hawaii is a place where the dignity of every human being, regardless of ancestry or economic status, has been raised to possibly the highest level in the history of man.

"Hawaii is unique in this world, not just because of our sun, and beaches, mountains and valleys, but most importantly, because of our people, and what they stand for, and what they represent.

"This society has come to us through the dedication, the understanding, and the sacrifices of those who preceded us. Let those of us now in a position of leadership accept the challenges of the present, along with the promise of the future, and make certain that this very special place called Hawaii will endure, and with God's help, will prosper in freedom, and in righteousness.

"Mahalo and Aloha."

Senate President Wong then rose and stated:

"Governor, you have outlined for us your goals and aspirations for a better Hawaii. We of the Eleventh State Legislature commit ourselves in a spirit of cooperation in attaining a better life for our people here in Hawaii.

"Thank you very much, Governor.

"There being no further business, I adjourn this Joint Session of the Eleventh State Legislature."

At 11:15 o'clock a.m., the President declared the Joint Session adjourned.

The Senate reconvened at 11:25 o'clock a.m.

The President addressed the members as follows:

"Before announcing the committees and chairmen, I would like to say a few words.

"I am grateful for the honor and trust which you have placed in me by electing me as your President. I promise to do my best to serve you well.

"The organization of the Senate has been a long and arduous one. What has finally emerged is a bipartisan coalition--a free and open one between Democrats and Republicans. All the details have still to be worked out.

"I will be working hard with my friend, the Minority Leader, to make this Senate organization a success. All of us involved have a stake in making this legislative session a productive and a creative one.

"I ask you all for your support."

Senator O'Connor then made the following remarks:

"Mr. President, I rise in response to the introductory remarks which you made earlier.

"In every legislative body, there is obviously a Majority, and you have described the Majority of this legislative body as a free and open bipartisan coalition. Every Majority deserves a cheerful but striving Minority and I am pleased to check in with you this morning as your cheerful, striving Minority.

"Your Minority will this year consist of the Democrats who have not joined you this morning. We will be putting our own Democratic legislative package before this body and acting as a firm but inquisitive Democratic Minority to the free and open bipartisan coalition which we have cheerfully dubbed the Andy-Wong party. We will keep you straight and do those things necessary in order to have a Minority voice in your Majority group. Thank you."

Senator Ushijima then stated:

"Mr. President, I too would like to respond to your short acceptance speech.

"Being in these chambers for over 20 years, to me this is a historic moment, so I thought I'd take the floor just to offer my congratulations to the proper parties.

"Before I do that, will the President yield to several questions?"

The President replied that he would.

"You announced the committee makeup and I see that the former Minority Party, now part of the Majority, has six committee chairmanships. I also heard, that insofar as the committee membership is concerned, it is going to be on a 5-5-1 basis--five for you, five for them, one for us. Is that correct?"

The President replied that that was correct.

"Well, if that is correct, then, I would like to offer my congratulations to the former members of the Minority, especially to Senator Anderson. For over 20 years that I've been in these chambers, I think this is one of the greatest things that has happened to the Minority--one of the great robberies. I congratulate you. I think you did well.

"Now, we've heard a great deal about the 'hostages' being released not too long ago. Yesterday, I think we wore yellow ribbons. I think the former Minority Party, now, are the 'captors' and the group of Democrats that joined in the coalition, to me, are the 'hostages.' So all I ask right now, in order that we have a very smooth sailing as far as the session is concerned, is that the 'captors' will treat the 'hostages' considerately. Don't exert any kind of physical punishment so that we can see the end of the session. I hope that you will treat your 'hostages' pretty well.

"To you, Mr. President, I sincerely hope, with the kind of arrangement that we have, that as an elected Senator, I truly hope this coalition will be productive and at the end we can be very proud of the accomplishments here.

"I think this is a sincere wish on my part, and I think I also express the sentiments of the seven that I belong to. Henceforth, it seems as if we are going to be the loyal, I hope, opposition. I wish you well.

"In closing, again Andy, congratulations, you did a great job. I think you did very well for the members of your party. Please treat your 'hostages' well. Thank you."

Senator Cayetano then remarked as follows:

"Mr. President, I would like to add a few remarks to this occasion--this very historic occasion.

"I thank the previous speaker for his remarks. I think, however, if the attitude he displayed continues through the session we will continue to have these historic occasions every two years.

"I think the people of this State are less concerned today about party lines and party loyalties than they are about their elected officials getting to work and getting the job done. No Senator here, on our side, Mr. President, is a 'hostage' of any organization or party.

In fact, I think, if there was one common thread running through the coalition, it was that this Senate be kept independent and free and that this Senate operate as a check on the other two branches of government.

"I hope the Minority, in this case, will step back and reflect about what has happened and join us in a very constructive approach to doing the best we can for our people."

Senator Holt then rose and stated as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to respond to your acceptance speech.

"Earlier this week, the meaning of being an American was driven home to many of us in the nationwide celebration of the return of the former hostages held by Iran.

"If this is Friday, can we be in America?

"Coalitions are routine in parliamentary governments, where several political parties exist and none has a clear-cut majority. It then becomes necessary for two or more parties to coalesce to form a government and begin work. But our two-party system evolves to pinpoint responsibility so that the electorate can make a clear distinction between two sets of programs and policies.

"I mean nothing personal in opposing what has happened today. I have a lot of Aloha for the Minority members. I expect to continue the personal friendships I enjoy with them. And I can only congratulate them for pulling off the biggest political hold-up of modern times. Their leaders have made Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid look like pikers.

"Coming from a family deeply rooted in the history of Hawaii's Democratic Party, I cannot accept the kind of organization proposed before us today.

"To the Majority members of this coalition, I pose some questions. Do you realize what you have given away?

"Under what banner will you seek re-election--Republicrat, Demopublican? Did you seek office under our party's banner merely as a label of convenience? How will you present yourselves to your constituents the next time you seek office?

"How will you account for your obligation to party responsibility when you attend the next party convention? Perhaps you may find it easier to switch than to fight.

"Will we next repeal our progressive income tax law, for example, and replace it with the good old Republican 2 percent compensation tax?

"How about a poll tax based on wealth? The wealthier you are the bigger your vote.

"Will we re-impose certain unwritten policies on home ownership or in some club memberships?

"Will we be passing a 'right-to-work' law, or perhaps take away the right of workers to organize at all?

"A coalition vote to organize is one thing, so long as the Majority retains leadership and chairmanships of all committees. Responsibility remains fixed with one party. But a true coalition such as this which we have put together today completely obscures party lines and party responsibility. Where, oh where, is the 'loyal opposition'?"

"This organizational set up will render our party affiliations meaningless. If that is the intent--and I can appreciate the Minority's role in this--then the proposed coalition organization will have achieved it.

"For my part, having sought office as a Democrat--a true Democrat, and proudly so--I cannot be party to it."

At this time, Senator Kuroda rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

"Mr. President, I'd like to explain my absence. I felt it was important for the titular head of this Democratic Party, the Governor, to be informed about the formation procedure of this coalition. He didn't have time other than just before the session--that's the reason I was absent.

"I explained to him the movement resulting in this coalition and that although I am a Democrat and tried to get the Democrats together to organize, that I support the coalition.

"I realize that I am too late for the vote, but I want you to know, Mr. President, that my vote would have been 'aye,' for the coalition.

"This is the explanation for my absence. Thank you very much."

Senator Cobb then stated:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in response to some of the remarks made today.

"The decision to combine two parties and two groups of people was indeed a very historic one. I find it ironic that those who have not prevailed today would complain about such a coalition, after negotiating themselves for almost two and a half months to achieve exactly the same thing. But they happened to be short of votes and therefore we hear complaints.

"I find it ironic that individuals will complain about party loyalty or party label when in the most recent election many Democrats, including Democratic Party officials, openly supported people and candidates of the opposite party, and yet no action was taken. I find it ironic that some people would place the party above the interest of the people in getting the business of this State done. We have made a conscious decision today, albeit a historic one, to put people above party and to get on with the business of the State.

"I think, Mr. President, we're all aware of the long negotiations that have taken place over the past few months where both sides have attempted to put together a coalition. The difference may be, perhaps, in degree, but both sides have made a conscious effort.

"I think, however, there is one fitting epitaph to this entire episode that might be added as a postscript to history, and that is, after months of arduous struggle in an effort to retain the independence of this body, statesmanship finally prevailed over gamesmanship."

Senator Abercrombie then stated:

"In respect of some of the previous remarks, I think it is important for the benefit of the public who have observed the proceedings up to this point--in many instances finding it difficult to understand why it is that 25, presumably reasonable people, found it so difficult to put together a combination that will allow the Senate to be organized and to conduct business--that they know the reasoning behind it. This has been referred to so often this morning and on other occasions.

"The reason, Mr. President, is a simple one. All of us have special interests; every man and woman on this floor has a special interest. The difference is that when that special interest becomes a private interest at the expense of the public interest, and all the high-flying rhetoric about parties and people's business cannot obscure for a moment that when power-brokers gather together to try to turn their special interest into private interest at the expense of the public interest, it is the public that loses.

"It is far better to go 60 hours, 60 days, 60 years to protect and defend one's fidelity to the Constitution that requires us to conduct ourselves in a manner befitting public policy, than it is to compromise to the point where that public policy in turn finds itself in a disastrous situation.

"We have succeeded with this coalition in protecting the public interest. Each of us with our special interest has subsumed those special interests to the public interest. It is no secret that many of us would have preferred one committee to another committee, but we were asked to look at the big picture--look at the broader consequences; to consider making moves and sharing committee assignments in order that we be able to protect the independence of this body from the power-brokers that seek to subvert that independence.

"The people of this State benefit, therefore, by having a legislative body which is issue-oriented and where the particular desires of individual Senators are submerged in a picture that allows us to see what the public interest is. That's what we're striving to do.

"To that extent, a message has gone forward today and it will require the talent of all of us because this is just the beginning. A message has gone forward that as far as this Senate organization is concerned, each and every group will have to present its point of view and trust that it can prevail on its merits. That is what we are striving to do. If we are able to assume fidelity to that purpose and carry through on it to the end of the 60 days, we will have succeeded.

"I for one will be more than happy, in the upcoming election, to explain my role and to defend my role, which in turn has defended the independence of this body so that the taxpayers and citizens of this State can be assured that constitutional government, on their behalf, has taken place rather than a sell-out to power-brokers who would subvert and destroy everything that the people of our State have worked so hard to put together for their lives. Thank you."

Senator Toyofuku then rose to offer the President congratulations and best wishes.

The President thanked Senator Toyofuku and remarked as follows:

"In response to all the discussion that has taken place involving this particular coalition, 'a rose is a rose, is a rose,' and I seek not to run away from that term.

"I think we will have a productive Senate, and I hope the general public, outside of all the rhetoric that was heard this morning about party and other considerations, will judge this Senate by its final product. I am willing to assume the consequences of my particular involvement in this coalition and I will not, in the future days, ever feel that it is a bad deal.

"I think you will be very surprised with the amount of cooperation and talent in this coalition. The word talent was often heard in the negotiations.

"Again, I mention to you, the final product will be the basis of judgment as to whether or not we have done the right thing. As far as elections are concerned, the people have the final say and they will determine whether or not the action taken in this body is proper and correct for the good of all the people of this State."

Senator Young then rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

"Mr. President, yesterday's Star-Bulletin contained an article, 'Isle Senate Fight Is Near Solution' written by Gregg K. Kakesako. Of course, the cliché or saying at the Capitol is--don't believe all you read in the paper.

"Although I was very upset on reading that article, I intended to shrug it off as irresponsible journalism, but upon returning home I got numerous calls from my campaign workers and constituents regarding this article which stated that I had expressed a willingness to join a coalition between the Toyofuku faction and the Republicans. I did not make such statement.

"I saw Mr. Kakesako on the second floor yesterday. He could have easily checked with me about my position. He chose not to do so. Instead, what he did was write false statements about me which raised questions about me and my credibility among my Senate colleagues and the general public.

"I don't think this is fair. This type of irresponsible reporting only serves to create misunderstanding and ill-feelings among us senators, especially at this time.

"Mr. President, I for one do not appreciate it."

At this time, Senator Holt offered the President his congratulations.

ADJOURNMENT

At 12:09 o'clock p.m., on motion by Senator Cobb, seconded by Senator Anderson and carried, the Senate adjourned until 11:30 o'clock a.m., Monday, February 2, 1981.

NINTH DAY

Monday, February 2, 1981

The Senate of the Eleventh Legislature of the State of Hawaii, Regular Session of 1981, convened at 11: 30 o'clock a.m., with the President in the Chair.

The Divine Blessing was invoked by Reverend Robert P. Shuler, III, Pastor of Aiea United Methodist Church, after which the Roll was called showing all Senators present, with the exception of Senator Yee who was excused.

The President announced that he had read and approved the Journal of the Eighth Day.

At this time, Senator Abercrombie introduced to the members of the Senate the Middleweight Boxing Champion of the World "Marvelous" Marvin Hagler, "the reigning undisputed champion of the world--someone we hope is going to be fighting here in Hawaii and perhaps visiting more and more, as often as he can...a tremendous individual, perhaps the strongest pound-for-pound fighter in the world today." Also introduced, accompanying the champion, were Mr. Kent Thompson and Mr. Richard Miyano, his hosts, Mr. Pat Patraoelli, his manager; and Mr. Steve Wainwright, his attorney.

Mr. Hagler and his entourage were then presented with leis by Senators George, Kobayashi, Saiki and Young, and Mrs. Gwen Joseph of the President's staff.

At 11: 36 o'clock a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 11: 40 o'clock a.m.

SENATE RESOLUTION

A resolution (S.R. No. 8), entitled: "SENATE RESOLUTION COMMENDING THE GOVERNOR AND MAYORS FOR SPONSORING THE SECOND ANNUAL PRAYER BREAKFAST AND ENCOURAGING PUBLIC PARTICIPATION IN THE GOVERNOR'S/MAYORS' PRAYER BREAKFAST," was offered by Senators Kuroda, Carpenter, Wong, Cayetano, O'Connor, George, Yamasaki, Uwayne, Henderson, Campbell and Machida, and was read by the Clerk.

On motion by Senator Kuroda, seconded by Senator Carpenter and carried, S.R. No. 8 was adopted.

At this time, Senator Kuroda introduced to the members of the Senate the Honorable

Albert H. Quie, Governor of Minnesota, the keynote speaker of the Governor's/ Mayors' prayer breakfast. Senator Kuroda remarked that Governor Quie "...is a champion in helping people find themselves in this world. He is credited as the person who made a 'born-again' Christian of Chuck Colson of the Nixon administration."

Governor Quie was then presented with a lei by Senator Young.

The President invited Governor Quie to address the Senate; he thereupon remarked as follows:

"Thank you.

"President Wong, members of the Senate and friends, it's a pleasure for my wife Gretchen and me to be in Hawaii to enjoy your sunshine. As you may know, it was five degrees below zero when we left Minnesota on Friday. You can understand why we enjoy Hawaii so much.

"I will have a little difficulty to get my wife to leave again; but, I recognize that if everybody who came to Hawaii stayed here your problems will be much greater than that which you have right now.

"Thank you, also, for the opportunity to share with you the message that I will deliver tomorrow morning.

"I'm thrilled by the people that I've met from Hawaii. Since I've served in the United States Congress for 21 years, I know many of the people who have served you in the Congress and the Senate throughout those years. They are really fine, outstanding people that we enjoyed through those years. And in October of 1979, your Governor Ariyoshi, his wife Jean, my wife Gretchen and I, together with four other governors and their wives, visited Mainland China and at that time became well-acquainted.

"I am an admirer of your Governor, as well. So, it is with that warm feeling toward you and your people that we come here.

"I recognize that there are differences between people who have different political philosophies. These are the differences that divide people. Unity is then God himself.

"Let me leave with you this morning the words that have meant a great deal in my life. It's from the Book of Micah, 6th Chapter, the verse:

'What does the Lord require of you but to act justly, to love mercy, and to walk humbly with your God.'"

At 11:45 o'clock a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 11:47 o'clock a.m.

Senator Anderson then requested that all bills that were submitted to the Clerk by the Republican group be withdrawn at this time; and the President so ordered.

The Chair then stated that a formal announcement would be made tomorrow as to assignment of members to the respective standing committees of the Senate.

ADJOURNMENT

At 11:50 o'clock a.m., on motion
by Senator Cobb, seconded by Senator
Anderson and carried, the Senate adjourned until 11:30 o'clock a.m.,
Tuesday, February 3, 1981.

Senator W. Buddy Soares

At this time, Senator O'Connor rose and stated:

"Mr. President, I'd like to announce that your Minority has also elected some leaders as follows:

Minority Leader
Senator John T. Ushijima

Minority Floor Leader
Senator Dennis O'Connor

Minority Policy Leader
Senator Charles M. Campbell"

The President then remarked:

"I wish to remind my distinguished colleague from the Seventh District that the appointments to these positions are made by the President.

"I feel that the so-called 'Minority' are still Democrats and that if this group chooses to be outside of the Democrat Majority, that is their choice to make. As far as acknowledging these individuals, the Chair does not recognize the existence of this particular group within the Democrat Majority."

Senator O'Connor then stated:

"Mr. President, we appreciate the fact that you do not recognize the group; however, the facts of the matter are that there is a Majority in this body which is a bipartisan coalition and there is a Minority which is a group of Democratic Senators. As I most cheerfully indicated the other day, that group of Democratic Senators is the 'Minority,' and must act as a Minority, and therefore we have designated and organized to do so.

"I would further point out at this time, Mr. President, and I think this is the appropriate time since I am responding to your comment, something to be entered into the Journal for future reading, which I think is appropriate. The Majority of this body consists of 18 people who are a bipartisan coalition. The Minority, as I indicated earlier, is a group of seven Democrats. The media has taken to calling the Majority by several names--I will not refer to any of them--however, the media universally has called the group I represent, the 'Minority.'

"There are obviously going to be different political philosophies between these two groups. The group of seven is not a splinter group. It is not a splintering-off of a majority from one party which organized this body. It is organized and has its own officers; and in the basic parliamentary process, which we all depend upon for the running of any legislative body, it is mandatory that there be a Minority.

"Therefore, Mr. President, the group of seven constitutes your Minority. There are no absolute rules or laws that govern in this particular instance. There's no written rule concerning staff, or offices, or caucus rooms; however, by Senate rule, the Minority has always had proportionate representation on committees. This is probably the only standing rule in existence.

"The 'minority' according to Webster-- and there are very few references to this matter--is 'that group having less than the number of votes necessary to control a body.' I submit, Mr. President, that the group of seven is the group that does not have the votes necessary to control the body.

"There are some necessary tools which are required by a Minority and we will, of course, be discussing some of these tools. It will be necessary to have staffing; it will be necessary to have office space adequate for the staff. It will be nice, but not necessary, that the Minority sit together on the floor. It will be nice, but not absolutely necessary, that there be a caucus room available to this Minority; and it would be nice, but not absolutely necessary, that there be office space with conference facilities, as our Minority has enjoyed in this building for many years.

"I make these statements, Mr. President, because over the years the Minority of this body has been given more than adequate treatment. Staffing for the Minority has been magnanimous. The staff offices for the Minority have been equal to the Majority staff offices--the caucus room, the same.

"All of those things have been provided. This year, maybe, it will be a little different, but some year I trust that someone will look back at this page in the Journal and say to a Minority of that year, 'Yes, you're the Minority, but let me tell you what happened in 1981 when we discuss your staffing, your offices, your caucus room and where you are sitting on the floor.' Thank you, Mr. President."

The President then responded as follows:

"Senator O'Connor, might I just set the record straight...I want to assure this self-created group that you have a Democratic President; you have a Democratic Majority Leader, and therefore the services that are offered to all Majority members of the Democratic Party are available to your group; the attorneys are available to your group, and the research staff is available to your group. As a Democratic President for the Senate, I make this offer to the self-chosen Minority Democrats, that the facilities here in the building will be handled in a manner which is democratic.

"I repeat, and I want to make it very clear, the Majority research staff is available to you and your group; the caucus room--the Majority Democratic caucus room--is available. When it behooves the Chair to call a meeting of the Majority members, we will give you sufficient notification. If you choose to request a room, please contact your Majority Leader and he will see whether or not that can be accomplished.

"Again, I want to tell you that I feel you people have chosen your way to go and I may disagree with that way; however, I respect your decision as a Democrat to factionalize the Democratic Party--that's your choice and I respect your decision."

At this time, Senator Ushijima commented as follows:

"Mr. President, a rose is not a rose. Thank you."

Senator Cobb then stated:

Mr. President, just as a reflection for the Journal, since it will be read in future years in discussing the role of the Minority...history has reversed itself today as a result of the vote taken last Thursday.

"I recall, in the 1973 Session of the House of Representatives when I was part of the Minority and privileged to be so with you, that there were no separate office space, caucus rooms or other research facilities made available to the then Minority Democrats. We were not even permitted to use the Majority research office or even sit on major committees. This is a far cry and a step greater than what happened back in 1973 and I think that too should be reflected in the Journal for all time."

Senator Carpenter then rose on a point of clarification as follows:

"Mr. President, we have been using the word 'democratic' very loosely here. I recognize that the Chair is indeed democratic. I also recognize that my other colleagues in this hall--23 in addition to you and myself--are also democratic. I thought I belonged to the Democrat Party and I believe that whether we be dissidents or in the majority of the present coalition that we are Democrats--those of us who have flown under that flag.

"Therefore, Mr. President, I would like to suggest that in the conduct of the Chair, knowing that you are democratic and that all of us here are also democratic, that there will be fair treatment for all parties involved and that there is a definite distinction between party and coalition.

Thank you."

Senator Cayetano rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

"Mr. President, last week the Minority Democrats criticized the Majority Democrats who had joined in the coalition with the Republicans of the Senate. Saturday, I read in the Honolulu Star-Bulletin, and I was very disappointed by similar remarks that were made by the chairman of the Democratic Party.

"The chairman's comments cause me concern, Mr. President, because they indicate that he may not understand or appreciate what is happening to our Party, that he does not see that this coalition is yet one more symptom that the Party is sick and strong measures must be taken to revive it, if that is at all possible at this late stage.

"In his remarks, Mr. President, the chairman dwelled on the issue of Party loyalty. Our modern day political parties have been sterilized by its own ideas. There have been passed down from generation to generation a collection of concepts which are so hallowed and so dense that their only use is to excite emotions and to obscure reason and insight. How many of us really know what we are talking about when we use words like the State, democracy, Republican, party, liberty and loyalty?

"Very few of us could define these terms under strong questioning. And yet we say them frequently and write about them a lot. These terms have ceased to be intellectual instruments for apprehending the facts we have to deal with and have become push buttons which are used to touch off knee-jerk emotional responses which can be destructive.

"Mr. President, some philosopher-- I forgot who he was--once said that in matters of political debate 'Patriotism is the last refuge of every scoundrel.' Well, I submit to you, the question of Party loyalty must rate a close second.

"If the chairman truly wishes to revive the Democratic Party, I suggest he put aside all of his rhetoric about Party loyalty and reflect on what the Party is truly all about.

"Mr. President, the Democratic Party of Hawaii was born out of factionalism. In the late 40s and early 50s, Hawaii's Democrats split themselves asunder over a variety of issues. Yet from that very diversity of ideas and philosophies the Party grew in strength, attained majority status and guided our State through difficult times.

"Our Party has thrived on diversity. That diversity produced some of the most fertile minds in our political history--Burns, Gill, Yoshinaga, Doi, Mink, Cravalho, Inouye, Fasi--all great leaders of our Party who were often at odds with each other.

"Democrats became the Majority Party because the old Republican Party governed for too long in the name of a few select special interest groups.

"Democrats became the Majority Party because the old Republican Party preferred a select membership in which too many people from too many diverse groups were left out.

"These are the lessons which all Democrats should never forget if they want our Party to continue to be the Majority Party in this State.

"Unfortunately, there are too many Democrats who are in positions of influence with the Party who appear to have forgotten these lessons. The order of the day for the Party is conformity. Conformists control the Party. They view honest criticism of the executive as a form of disloyalty which must be stamped out. Their actions in the recent elections of the 1st, 5th and 6th Senatorial Districts show that they are willing to act accordingly. If this trend is allowed to continue, the illness now afflicting the Party may become terminal.

"It appears to me that there are three courses of action left to the chairman.

"First, he can pursue the status quo and do nothing. In that case, the Party will continue to deteriorate as it is now doing.

"Second, he can attempt to bring disciplinary action against us for our alleged breach of Party loyalty. In which case, there will be some serious problems.

"Assuming a belief in due process and equal protection is still a cherished principle of our Party, the question arises, Mr. President, which Democrats are to be disciplined. Starting with this Senate, all 17 Democrats participated in negotiating a coalition. Are all 17 to be disciplined or only the winners?

"Next, will the disciplinary action extend to those highly placed officers of the Democratic Party who openly endorsed Republicans in the 1st and 6th Senatorial Districts in the 1980 general election? How far back will it go? To the 1972 Honolulu Mayor's race where highly placed Democratic Party officials and legislators openly endorsed the Republican candidate for mayor? Fortunately he didn't win, otherwise there may be no coalition today. What about the 1970 coalition between Democrats and Republicans to organize the House of Representatives? How far do we go back? I'm informed that we can go back to 1947.

"Of course, Mr. President, all of these questions become moot if the real reason for the chairman's ire is that the wrong group of Democrats won.

"And finally, the third course of action, which I--and I'm certain my Democratic colleagues--favor, is for the chairman to take positive action to bring all of the factions of the Party together. This can be done only if the titular head of our Party takes charge of the situation and if all concerned recognize that the greatness of the Party lies in its diversity. Thank you."

At this time, Senator Carpenter rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

"Mr. President, in the last few days this Senate coalition has been labeled 'the greatest robbery ever' and we have been asked if we realize just what it is we have given away.

"Mr. President, I submit that there has indeed been a robbery and we have indeed given away something--something that never belonged to us in the first place. We have stolen from those who have usurped the power of government and have returned it to its rightful owners--the citizens of the State of Hawaii.

"We have taken away certain aspects of the existing one party rule and have replaced it with a purer form of democracy. Each citizen now has equal representation in government, irrespective of party lines. Never before in the history of our Hawaii has there been a form of government like ours this day, where the power is no longer held only by the major political party, but rather by the joining of individual ideals and goals on an equal basis.

"Mr. President, I think that we have come one step closer to the original intent of our United States Constitution and approach more closely a government 'of the people, for the people and by the people.' Douglas L. Edmonds, a noted juror, once stated,

'How many of us are waiting for the opportunity to do some great thing for the betterment of our community, forgetting that the solution of the problem requires only the active intelligent fulfillment of individual civic duty. The only things which are wrong about our government are the things which are wrong with you and me. Democracy is never a thing done; it is and always will be a goal to be achieved. It means action, not passive acquiescence in things as they are; it requires alertness to duty, a dynamic faith, a willingness to give for the good of all. It can live only as a result of loyalty and devotion to its principles expressed by daily deeds.'

"Mr. President, ours is certainly a new era where the people will now be represented by individuals and not only by special interest groups.

"And, Mr. President, now that I approach the responsibility of the Judiciary Committee I shall bring to the people new ideas and goals more representative to them than to the special groups who have in the past dominated this area.

"As a marine/mechanical engineer and former County Councilman, I am open to all ideas. I will place above all, the people's desires second to none, and 'where justice is for all.'

"I ask the people of this State not to prejudge any of our actions until the facts are in and the deeds are done.

"I commence my assignment, Mr. President, with relish and I start on the words of that great American Admiral David G. Farragut, 'damn the torpedoes, full speed ahead.' Thank you very much."

Senator Abercrombie then remarked:

"Mr. President, might I bring some perspective to bear? Mr. President, Viscount Bryce, the noted British Ambassador and scholar who came to the United States some 40 years after Alexis de Tocqueville, enumerated for us our own national character and democracy in America. He was fortunate in having that book before him and was particularly fortunate to enter the United States, as an observer, during the era now designated as progressive.

"As a result, when he went back to England, he reflected on the differences between political parties in a great book of history, which I commend to anyone interested in the study of America, whether it be in our high schools or in our colleges, called 'The American Commonwealth.'

"I would like to bring to the attention of the body and for the record his enumeration in this area. It cannot be charged on the American parties that they have drawn toward one another by forsaking their old principles. It is time that has changed the circumstances of the country and made those old principles inapplicable.

"An eminent journalist remarked to Lord Bryce that the two great parties were like two bottles--each bore labels denoting the kind of liquor it contained but each was empty.

"It may be said that the parties may have seemed to have erred rather by having clung too long to out-worn issues and by neglecting to discover and work out new principles capable of solving the problems which now perplex the country.

"In a country so full of change and movement as America, new questions are always coming up and must be answered. New troubles surround a government and a way must be found to escape from them. New diseases attack the nation and have to be cured.

"The duty of a great party is to face these, to find answers and remedies applying to the facts of the hour, the doctrines it has lived by so far as they are still applicable, and when they have ceased to be applicable, thinking of new doctrines comfortable and conformable to the main principles and tendencies which it represents.

"I think that this coalition which we have formed is in the best tradition of that sentiment. Thank you."

Senator Uwaine then remarked:

"Mr. President, I may be one of the younger members of this body and I may be relatively new in the Senate, but I know one thing, Mr. President, that when you go for the brass ring and you fall on your face, don't be a cry-baby. Thank you."

Senator Holt stated:

"Mr. President, I would like to say, in response to the previous speaker's comment about the Democratic Party being sick and needing strong measures to remedy it, coalition as a remedy is like telling me to drink a beer to get over my hangover. Thank you."

Senator Carpenter responded:

"In response to the previous speaker,

I just want to say that I've tried it many times and believe me it works."

At this time, the President stated:

"The Chair would like to announce committee assignments for the various standing committees of the Senate. The assignments have been made by myself for the Majority Party--for the Democratic Senators--and the Minority assignments have been made by the Minority or Republican Senators.

"I want to insert, in the record, that I have been requested, and have gotten approval from Senator Anderson, to make the announcements on behalf of the Republicans.

"Pursuant to my powers as President under the Temporary Rules of the Senate, I would like to call to the members' attention the fact that the former Committee on Government Operations and Efficiency and Committee on Intergovernmental Relations have been consolidated into a single committee, the Committee on Government Operations and Intergovernmental Relations."

The President then announced the following committee assignments:

Senator O'Connor then rose on a point of parliamentary inquiry as follows:

"First, it's a question to the Chair-- for the purposes of setting up these committees, how did the Chair handle Rule 12, Section 1, which states as follows:

"The Minority Party shall be represented on all standing committees on the basis of proportional representation,' and then it goes on from there. Who is the Minority Party for the purposes of that rule?"

The President responded that it is the

"Republican Party--therefore, I take it the Chair has violated that rule in setting up, for example, the Ways and Means Committee, where the Republicans have substantially more than proportional representation in that committee. Is that correct?"

The President replied that that was correct and that it was the arrangement made with the coalition.

Senator O'Connor then questioned further:

"Has the Chair checked with the attorneys for the Senate to see what the legal situation is when you establish committees that are in violation of the Senate Rules? They have no validity, do they?"

The President answered as follows:

"I have no question that if challenged, it will be upheld by this body; that the arrangement that we have in the Senate is a coalition and that any arrangement to reach that goal was attempted and agreed to by a majority of the members of this body."

Senator O'Connor added:

"And is in direct violation of the Senate Rules."

In answer thereto, the President stated that the Rules would be looked into.

At this time, Senator Anderson rose and remarked as follows:

"Mr. President, our interpretation of the Rules has always been that the Minority members share a proportionate share as a minimum, and never does it disqualify our negotiating for a higher level."

Senator Kawasaki then remarked:

"Mr. President, I'm in complete agreement with Senator Anderson from the Third District in his opinion on that point.

"Further, I think that at any time the so-called Minority of seven Democrats would want to challenge your designations, I think, by two-thirds vote of this body, we could even change the Senate Rules. If you want to put that to a test, I certainly welcome the test."

At this time, Senator Ushijima stated that he disagreed with the interpretation by the two previous speakers.

Senator Cobb then noted:

"Mr. President, first of all, the Senate Rules can be amended by a majority rather than two-thirds. We only have temporary Senate Rules at this time and I would have to agree with the interpretation of the Senior Senator from the Third District relative to the minimum representation on the committees."

The President then stated:

"I would suggest to the so-called Minority Democrats, if they choose to have input on the Rules, please submit them for the permanent Rules which will be drafted."

Senator O'Connor then remarked:

"Mr. President, it is usual to change the Rules before you violate them; therefore, I would suggest to the Chair that the appropriate method of handling this today should have been to adopt a new set of Rules that didn't include a provision which mandates the number of Minority people on a committee...mandates. Then, we could have had a debate on that before the committees were established in conformance with a different rule than that which we adopted the other day."

The President replied as follows:

"That only applies, Senator O'Connor, if you are a true Minority in the sense of the Rules.

"As far as I am concerned, you are Democrats of the Majority Party and the President has the power from the podium to make appointments--and he has done that--and it's been supported by the majority of this body. My feeling on the matter is that the designation of Minority by certain Democrats is truly out of order because you are part of the Majority and the appointment of committee members is vested in the President of the Senate."

Senator O'Connor added:

"Yes, Mr. President, I understand your desire to make us part of the Majority, but we are not part of the bipartisan Majority, and I would suggest that any legislative body that operates without a Minority is a legislative body which is simply a rubber-stamp of whatever comes before it. Therefore, every legislative body in a parliamentary fashion should have a minority to keep the majority straight. I would suggest that we are starting that today."

At this time, Senator Abercrombie noted:

"It is always good to examine the English language when it's being utilized in order to make a point.

"I have before me, my Webster's Seventh New Collegiate Dictionary. I have examined the word 'proportion.' There's the word proportion, proportioning, proportionable, proportionably, proportionate and proportional parts.

"If you will examine it, you will find that a proportionate representation means 'a proper or equal share, a quota, a percentage, a size, a desire to make the parts harmonious and symmetrical.'

"I submit to you, Mr. President, that an examination of the documents that you have just read to us will show that, if not harmonious, it is certainly symmetrical."

Senator Kawasaki remarked:

"Mr. President, I noted the term 'rubber stamp' was used by a previous speaker, Senator O'Connor. I find it rather unpalatable to have any such appellation applied to this body. This is the reason why I think 18 of us Senators here organized the Senate in the fashion that we did to certainly obviate the necessity of the media calling this a rubber-stamp, outside power-broker controlled Senate. This is the reason for the Senate organization as it took place.

"I also would like to rise on a point of inquiry. I notice that other than the Ways and Means committee, the vice-chairman of the other committees have not as yet been designated. Do we have any reason for this?"

In answer thereto, the President stated:

"Yes, the reason is that we're still trying to go through the whole list of who wants to be vice-chairmen and there doesn't seem to be enough vice-chairmanships available, so we have to proportionately figure this particular problem out."

At this time, Senator Anderson remarked:

"I was hoping not to get into the fray this morning, but I wouldn't want the press to report, or anyone to believe, that the coming together of the two groups to get the people's business going and the Senate organized in any way put the Republicans in a Minority position here, or disenfranchised us from taking a position in opposition to the Majority from time to time. No way, gentlemen and ladies, have the Republicans given up their independence, and at times I'm sure, Mr. President, instead of being the Andy-Wong committee, we're going to be at odds with one another on whether we agree on legislation, whether it should pass or not.

"We have agreed that we would try, for the first time in a long time, to put together a strong Senate package, a bipartisan package--pieces of legislation that will solve the problems--and get it through this body. If we can get at least 15 out of the 18 to buy this package, this package would receive the utmost priority and urgency and hopefully support and move from this body to the one across the hall where it will be considered on its merits."

"Anything else, any other legislation, outside of this package, will be judged on its merit and we have the right to vote aye or nay as Republicans. My group, of course, is independent also and they can split 14 different ways. There is no commitment on our part to rubber-stamp anything.

"The coalition doesn't mean that the Republicans are going to roll over and play dead. We expect to be very vocal and argue and participate and offer amendments outside the package where we think it beneficial to the people of the State of Hawaii.

"I want the press and the people never to think that we have given up our independence and our right to oppose and offer amendments as the days go by."

Senator Holt then queried:

"Mr. President, yesterday on the floor I was handed a memo from your office which informed me that my staff allotment had been reduced from $158.00 to $105.00. I am wondering if you can tell me if it's true that this amount is what the Republicans, as a Minority with no chairmanship, received last year?"

The President replied as follows:

"The answer is yes, Senator Holt, and may I also say that the memo indicated very clearly, very precisely, that the reason for this was the fact that members that were assigned to committee, who were not committee chairmen, would have received this allotment.

"In the past, it has always been Democrats who have been chairmen of committees, therefore, the $158.00 allotments were made. For those members that were not chairmen of committees, the allotment was minimal and was given to the members who were not committee chairmen and also to the Minority."

TWELFTH DAY

Thursday, February 5, 1981

"I'd like to make reference to the resolution where it describes the success of this young man who was born in 1948 and who became a professional sumo grand champion in 1973, within a very short time.

"At this time, I'd like to present to you Mr. Hiroshi Wajima, professional sumo grand champion of Japan, who is accompanied by Mr. Charlie Higa of Y. Higa Trucking Co."

On motion by Senator Young, seconded by Senator George and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted.

ORDER OF THE DAY

THIRD READING

Senate Bill No. 233, S.D. 1:

Senator Yamasaki moved that S.B. No. 233, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Anderson.

At this time, Senator O'Connor rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against this measure.

"This measure increases the allowance for the legislators from a sum of $1,500 to a sum of $2,500. Article III, Section 9, of our State Constitution allows that members of the Legislature may receive allowances reasonably related to expenses, and it goes on to provide that a salary may also be provided in a format pursuant to a new section adopted in 1978. In this year, this Legislature has received an increase in salary, pursuant to that formula, to the sum of $13,650.

"In addition to that increase in salary, today, we have before us a measure which would increase our allowances by a sum of $1,000. The constitutional mandate is that these allowances must be reasonably related to expenses.

"Mr. President, I find nothing in the committee report appended to this bill or in the findings, which are involved with this measure, which would lead an objective and reasonable person to believe that the $1,000 increase has anything to do with a reasonable relation to the expenses of the members of this body.

"It appears to me that that $1,000 is simply an additional sum of money which is by way of a salary and does not in any way amount to any kind of reasonable allowance.

"I am reminded, Mr. President, of a similar measure which was debated in this body in 1975. I am reminded of the debate on that measure and I know that there will be certain people in this body who will vote with me against this bill today because of the remarks they made in 1975. I would like to repeat one of those remarks by a current member of this body.

"In that year, we were suggesting whether that measure should go from $750 to $1,500 and many people felt that reasonable expenses at that time would include that amount. One of the members of this body said, and I quote from page 196 of the Senate Journal of 1975, 'Mr. President, we're cutting fine hairs with whether it's $12,000 for income, $750 for expenses. I have been around these halls for as long as many of you, not as long as some of you. I don't spend $1,500 a year in incidental expenses. I buy as many lunches, tickets for various benefits as any of you. It is income. It may be in a different column for the sake of making it legal, but it is income. It is tax deductible because it is in that column when it's paid to a legislator. We are already the highest paid part-time Legislature in the entire country, the highest. I don't care whether you call it expenses, salary, pin-money, call it what you want. Andy Anderson and his twenty-four colleagues will be $750 wealthier once this bill passes.'

"Mr. President, I urge all to vote against this measure."

Senator Campbell also rose to speak against the measure and remarked as follows:

"Mr. President, members of the Senate, I intend to vote against Senate Bill 233. I did not expect, Mr. President, to be the only member of the Ways and Means Committee to sign the committee report 'I do not concur.' It is of some consolation to me, nevertheless, that the former chairman of the Ways and Means Committee did sign the committee report 'with reservation.'

"Mr. President, for the record, I want to make it clear that I am not opposed to the objective of some of our Senators whose idea is to address the problem of inflation which is plaguing many of our legislators. The escalating cost of living is a serious threat to the health and welfare of many Americans, and this particularly is true of Hawaii. There is no question about it, many of our legislators are hurting economically, particularly those of us who have no outside income. But, Mr. President, this is the price we legislators have to pay until our economy returns to normal.

"We must not let ourselves get into the situation that Congress finds itself in today. Congress has been telling us, the American people, to tighten our belts, don't ask for pay increases, it only contributes to inflation; then Congress proceeded to vote themselves a hefty pay raise.

"Mr. President, as legislators, we must be sure that we do not use our authority to address our own economical problem before we address the economic plight of a host of Hawaii's people--the elderly, the sick, the poor, the handicapped, the middle-income.

"As mentioned by a previous speaker, our body has been referred to as being a part-time legislature. I think, Mr. President, that this issue before us today brings to dramatic focus the need to address the issue of a full-time legislature, where legislators devote full-time in addressing the problems of the people of this state--escalating crime, runaway inflation, school violence and vandalism, pollution, traffic, safety, and the list goes on and on. If we were full-time legislators, it would be reasonable, in my judgment, to pay us a salary which would take into account the present economic climate.

"Let me rush to a close, Mr. President.

"For this Senate to support a thousand dollar increase for incidental expenses for this year could give the people of our state the impression that we have abandoned our commitment as a legislative body to what is reasonable and what is prudent; therefore, I urge defeat of this measure. Thank you."

At 11:53 o'clock a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 11: 58 o'clock a.m.

Senator Abercrombie in rebuttal stated as follows:

"Mr. President, in rebuttal, please.

"Mr. President, the Senators here are welcomed to see my books which I keep meticulously on a daily basis. The IRS has seen them for ever since I've come in to the Legislature--as well as the State Tax Department.

"If anyone believes that this is a part-time legislature, then that is a reflection on the kind of work that they do, not me and a good many other Senators in this Senate. If anyone believes that the people of the state do not contact our offices on a full-time basis, on a twelve-months-a-year basis, then I would suggest that they don't pay much attention to their constituency and they are not in their offices very often and that they don't have a good message service. I have to dip into the little salary that I do get in order to take care of these office expenses.

"I don't apologize for one cent of what I earn; I earn every single penny in this legislative hall.

"This is not a pay raise; this is to take care of expenses that we are already paying--any of us who are doing a half-way decent job. Now, if someone wants to look at it as a pay raise, then presumably, that money should be able to be taxed, and if any of this money is sitting in my bank account at the end of the year, not fully accounted for to the last cent, then I'm liable for taxation on it. And with the tax system the way it is in this state at the moment, you can rest assured that I won't keep it. So it doesn't bother me one bit to vote for this. The only thing that I regret is that it's not $500 higher. I'll work on that next year.

"Thank you."

Senator Anderson then rose to ask if Senator O'Connor would yield to a question and Senator O'Connor replied that he would.

Senator Anderson asked: "Senator O'Connor, was that dissertation, that quote, attributable to me? You mentioned my name in the end, and I was wondering if that was a quote I made back in those days?"

Senator O'Connor replied: "Yes, it was. It's on page 196 of the Senate Journal of 1975."

Senator Anderson thanked Senator O'Connor and continued as follows:

"Mr. President, I sat here and listened to it; I made sense then and I guess I make sense now. It was very good.

"Mr. President, the bill before us, the thousand dollars is an increase. I take issue a little bit to the question of a pay raise because Senator Yamasaki and myself and the Ways and Means Committee in the week of discussions on this bill and the actual $12,000 salary that we are entitled to...the Senator mentioned a pay raise of thirteen thousand some odd dollars, but you all know the rather fouled-up way it was done, it was actually a pay decrease.

"I think the taxation on the $40,000 income took more dollars away from the legislator than he got in the so-called pay increase. So, the thousand dollars is in fact going to help that category a little bit. I might add, Senator, that the compromise, you might call it, that is before us doesn't take into consideration only wealthy attorneys or restaurant owners like myself. There are people in the Legislature who in fact need the money, as you heard Senator Abercrombie say.

"So, in looking for a common ground, Mr. President, one that helps the young ones, one that is fixed on $12,000...like Jimmy Wong who was on our staff last year and got elected to the House...he is now unemployed, except for the $12,000. It helps him get going; it helps him find a job.

"It isn't really a pay increase in the true sense. There are some of us who don't need the thousand dollars, and it isn't a question of individuals, it's all 76 legislators combined, and I might add that the bill before us truly does represent legitimate expenses.

"I've been conducting a program for the senior citizens that come to these halls for many years now and that runs me far in excess of the $2,000 and I would do that whether I got this increase or whether you retract it to the $750 or if there was no expense money.

"We do conduct our offices all year round; we do have all kinds of expenses that vary from legislator to legislator; and I don't think you can look at this as a pay increase, Mr. President."

At this time, Senator Cobb rose to speak in favor of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, rising to speak in favor of the measure, first, with relationship to the expenses which have occurred since 1975--there was a 30% postal increase in 1976, a 27% postal increase in 1978, and now we see that today before the Postal Rate Commission of the United States there is another 20 to 30% postal increase, in effect, a compounded increase of over 80% just within the last five and a half years.

"Mr. President, if my memory serves me correctly, I believe that it was my distinguished colleague from the Seventh Senatorial District who in 1975 voted for a 100% pay increase from $750 to $1,500 while a member of the Senate. I can recall sitting in the gallery and watching that happen. He was on the winning side and he had few, if any, reservations about the 100% increase that was voted in 1975, only five and half years after the last such increase had gone through from the 1968 Constitutional Convention in 1970 when the $750 increment became effective. But, now we're looking at a 66% increase in a six-year period, and suddenly the vote is 'no.'

"I'd also like to ask, Mr. President, of each of the individuals who have spoken against the pay raise, as they call it, or the increase in allowance, whether or not those individuals would be willing to forgo the allowance and return it to the Senate or to be donated to charity."

The Chair then remarked: "I don't think, Senator Cobb, that the people need to answer that particular question. It's left to their own discretion as to how they wish to accept this increase should it pass both the Senate and the House."

Senator Yamasaki, at this time, rose to speak in favor of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, in speaking for the bill, as chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, I would like to take this body back to 1969 when Act 5, Senate Bill 3, established the allowance of $750. Then in 1975 to House Bill 171, we doubled that amount to $1,500, a 100% increase.

"Because the dollar is not worth the dollar it was back in 1969 and also in 1975, I believe that the approximately 66-2/3 percent increase in our allowance is justified; therefore, I urge this body to vote for this bill. Thank you."

Senator Cayetano also rose to speak in favor of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of the measure, with some reservations.

"One of the previous speakers pointed out that I had signed the committee report 'with reservations' so I'd like to explain because I think he may not have the right reason in mind.

"As a practical matter, Mr. President, it is really unfair for each Senator to get the same amount in incidental expenses. All of us here know that some chairmen work harder than others, mostly by reason of the subject matter of the committee that they chair. For example, I've always felt that the president, the chairman of the Ways and Means Committee and the chairman of the Judiciary Committee should, especially, get a higher allowance than all other Senators.

"Additionally, not all Senators work as hard--this is a personal matter. For example, if I remember correctly, last night at the Senate Higher Education Committee we finished at about 1:00 o'clock in the morning. During the hearings I would go to the men's room and I noticed that most of the doors were closed and the lights were off. The other day, the chairman of the Judiciary Committee was late for a breakfast meeting because he had been working up till 4:30 in the morning with his staff.

"Now, it is difficult to judge the merits or the worthiness of this expense to each Senator because arguments can be made on both sides of the fence, Mr. President. I suppose, if we argue that a Senator who burns the midnight oil is working harder and contributing more to the welfare of the people of this state, the argument can be made for the Senator who is not there --he is saving the state electricity, maintenance on the typewriters, etc.

"If we argue that the Senators who are here working diligently, trying to address their responsibilities as committee chairmen and committee members, are more worthy of this expense allowance than those who spend time on the golf course, I guess it can be argued that those who spend time on the golf course are really contributing to support the city's program of maintaining and operating the golf course by contributing in green fees, etc. So, it's very, very difficult to judge.

"And those are the reasons why I signed the committee report 'with reservations,' Mr. President. It's really because I would like to see the law amended, and Senator Cobb and I had an amendment which I guess we are not going to offer in deference to you.

"The amendment would have allowed each Senator to be his own judge. For each Senator the allowance would be optional and each Senator could refuse or accept the allowance and be accountable to his constituents, which in the end is the only judge that counts. Unfortunately, it seems we have some problems with the amendment so I will defer to your wish.

"I would like, however, to ask of those who are going to vote against this bill, I would like to ask them, if they feel so strongly about it, to return the money to the Senate or to give it to a charity of their choosing, and I would like the press to follow-up by making it public to the members of our community—who are the people who put their money where their mouths are."

Senator Kawasaki then remarked as follows:

"Mr. President, I too was an advocate of the amendment that had already been prepared at taxpayers' expense... that we vote the amendment up or down... but in deference to you as the presiding officer of this body, I too will defer to your wishes.

"I think, perhaps, this matter of whether we accept this increase in our allowance should be put in its proper perspective. Now, it is true that there are various degrees of incidental expenses expended by members of this body. It all depends on the person and how much he pays attention to his social amenity requirements because of the fact that he holds an office as a Senator in the State of Hawaii.

"It is true also that whether the incidental expenses increase can be justified depends upon the work that each Senator contributes here, and we know only too well that not everybody contributes the same amount of public good as a member of the Senate holding his office. We know too that there is a variety of degree in the amount of time that a Senator spends in his office here over and above the 60-day session or the 75-day session. Some of us here spend a great deal of time in our offices, though not required... not required. We do that only because we want to attend to some of the problems besetting the people of this state.

"To put this in a proper perspective, let us examine what has happened. With this increase in incidental expenses of a thousand dollars for a total of $2,500 added to what is our basic salary, our basic salary, as you know, back in 1968 was $12,000, and it remained $12,000 for a total of almost 13 years. There was never any category of employees in this state, either in private or in public office, whose salaries remained the same for a total of 13 years when inflation was rampant. Only this year on January 1st, the compensation for the legislators had increased for the total of 13 years, a magnificent sum, an additional $1,650 to bring it up to $13,650. I calculated by simple arithmetic that with this increase in incidental expenses the total compensation actually, when you add both of them together, amounts to $16,150.

"Now, for a body in any entity, any corporate entity, a body like ours of 76 people, if you will, the board of directors of the entity (State Government) which spends about $3.5 billion almost every year, I think this is not too big a compensation.

"I am a little concerned, I am a little appalled at the fact that some of our competent people are leaving office. Representative Richard Garcia, a very capable man... we didn't always agree on some of the issues that were involved here, but a very capable man... he decided not to run for office and he is very successful in private enterprise. We lost Representative Charles Ushijima, the former majority leader of the House of Representatives. Very competent people.

"There are others here who are saying, who are talking, right in this body, that at the end of two years when they fulfill their term they can no longer stay in office. I regret to hear statements like this because some of these people are very competent people. The very fact of their presence here, the very fact of their presence in committee sessions have literally saved the taxpayers of this state millions upon millions of dollars. I think this happened over the years, during the 15 years of my being in this Senate. I would hate, for the welfare of the people of this state, to lose these kinds of people.

"It has been my pleasure to observe a refreshing change in the Senate with the entrance and presence of Senator Abercrombie as (former) chairman of the Higher Education Committee. I've watched this man's work. I would hate to see Senator Abercrombie, who is trying to make ends meet on his present salary, leave office because he was offered something like a 30-, 40-, $50,000 a year job outside because this man has the talent, the intelligence, the commitment to do a good job in whatever he does. I always told him, 'Neil, I think you're a damn fool, why don't you go back to the University to teach and you'd start with at least $35,000 a year--three times what you're making around here.' And, I'm glad that this man's commitment to the public dictates that he stay here--rock the boat a little for the good of the people. I think this is the kind of judgment, this is the kind of factors you've got to consider--$16,150 for a man who does a good job is cheap, cheap for the taxpayers.

"On the other hand, there are some of us in the Legislature who don't do very much, who don't give a damn, who don't spend too much time, the time that's required to do a good job because this is indeed, notwithstanding what the law says, a full-time job, if you want to do a good job.

"Every member of the Ways and Means Committee or the Finance Committee of the House, every member on the Judiciary Committee, if he really wants to do a good job and could afford to spend the time, would be here almost every working day of the year, because this is the kind of time that's required for us to very intelligently oversee and monitor how $3 billion of taxpayers' funds are spent. We don't do this, primarily because most of us cannot spend the time to do this. We've got to earn a living outside in order to support a family of two people, four people, whatever it may be.

"So, again, as I said, let's put this in the proper perspective. The total compensation, including the incidental expenses, of $16,510 is not a gigantic salary for people who do a good job. Now, if you don't do a good job, and you're honest about it, then I would suggest as two other speakers have suggested previously, why don't you just refund that amount to the taxpayers--they'd appreciate that.

"Thank you."

Senator Cayetano added as follows:

"Mr. President, I'd just like to add something for the record.

"Last session, Mr. President, I polled many members of the Democratic Majority at that time about this matter of increasing the incidental allowances and the figure of $2,500, even $3,000 came up. And I recall the answer of one of the previous speakers; he was all for it. He believed that as chairman of the Judiciary Committee at that time that such an expense was justified. Of course, Mr. President, I suppose maybe his judgment was poor at that time because as the chairman of the Judiciary Committee he stayed up long hours; I'm sure he was tired; I'm sure he may have forgotten that part of the allowance went to buy no-doze for his hardworking staff, some of them who stayed up all night. I remember one of his attorneys worked without sleep for two days and two nights in a row.

"Now, refreshed, having not as much to do, he is able to think this matter over more clearly and I see now he has made a decision completely opposite to what he said last year."

Senator Abercrombie then remarked as follows:

"Mr. President, I'm forced to rise again on this issue because of a colleague's very kind remarks in respect to my work record here. I'm very, very appreciative but I must admit to this body that I have received a $35,000 offer from the University. The only difference is that it is to stay away from it instead of to come up to it."

Senator Uwaine rose to inquire as follows:

"Mr. President, just a parliamentary inquiry.

"On third reading votes, is there going to be a roll call vote?"

The President replied: "Yes, the Chair will instruct the Clerk on the roll call."

Senator Cobb then stated: "Mr. President, since the amendment that was pending was issued, I'd just like to read it for the benefit of..."

The President interrupted and stated: "Senator Cobb, the amendment is not before this body. I appreciate you and Senator Cayetano and Senator Kawasaki not proposing the amendment. I think that it would be improper and out of order at this particular time to discuss it."

"Understanding then, Mr. President, your desire to move on the bill expeditiously, I'd just like to state for the record that ten days after we receive our checks, I'm going to make a public inquiry as to who, if anyone, has returned the money that we voted on, particularly those who voted in the negative, because in the entertainment industry, Mr. President, that kind of practice is called 'grandstanding,' and I think the time has come to separate rhetoric from reality today."

At this time, Senator Carpenter rose to comment as follows:

"Mr. President, recognizing that the option to return money is with each of us, I would like to suggest that if the money is returned to your purview that you would perhaps consider redirecting some of that to my committee and I make a guarantee and a commitment not only to you, but to my colleagues here in the Senate and the House, to all of the people of this State of Hawaii, that it will indeed be put to use in a most judicious way. Thank you, very much."

Senator Holt then rose to speak against the measure and stated as follows:

"Mr. President, I would like to speak against this bill.

"Mr. President, I can't remember hearing anyone campaign, going door-to-door or putting stuff in their brochures, for a Senate seat on a platform of more money for incidental expenses.

"Mr. President, Hawaii's Legislature already is the highest paid, one of the highest paid legislatures in the country, and just this year we received a pay raise from the Legislative Salary Commission.

"Contrary to what some of the earlier speakers have said, this bill before us is nothing more than a dubious device of giving ourselves a pay raise on top of a pay raise, and this bill, as a matter of fact, is only the second bill before us for action this year. I'm wondering what the rush is, whether the checks are all ready for distribution.

"There's a stack of bills on my desk; there are thousands of more bills in the printshop being printed that are more important than the bill before us.

"All I'm saying is that by voting 'aye' and passing this bill, you're putting your own priorities ahead of the public good. I urge all of my colleagues to vote against this bill."

Senator O'Connor rose to speak in response to various remarks as follows:

"Mr. President, I think that it's necessary that I rise to respond to a few personal remarks that might have been made earlier this morning.

"First of all, I endorse what the previous speaker just said. It is, I think, inappropriate that this body act on its first two measures, both having to do with expenses of this body, both having to do with increases in this body's amount of money for both its staff and personal allowances.

"Secondly, in response to some of the personal comments made, I would challenge anyone in this body, over the years that we have been here together, as to whose office is open more and is more accessible to the public. Year in and year out, in between sessions, I have a secretary in my office every day. I pay her salary out of my pocket, out of my salary as a legislator, and I've done this every single year since I've been here. She handles the inquiries day in and day out for the entire Senate because on most other days most other offices are closed, with a couple of exceptions. Of course, those are all expenses, and I handle them willingly out of my salary as a legislator because I believe that's where the money should come from for such a service.

"Now, this year we had a commission to look at our salaries. I agree with most of the other comments made by the members of this body concerning the inadequacy of monies paid to the individuals here. That inadequacy is not one which we should take care of by voting ourselves an increase in allowance. It is one which the Constitution mandates should be handled by the commission which was established under the Constitution for that purpose. The brilliant speeches made on this floor today should have been made to that commission.

"That commission decided that we were, unfortunately, a part-time legislature and decided that we would be paid a substantially larger amount for the three months we were in session and essentially nothing in the period of time that we were not in session.

"I believe that if some of the comments made on this floor today had been made to that commission they might have changed their minds. But that is not what's before us today. What's before us today is the subject of our allowances, and I would suggest that an increase of this amount, at this time, with the other matters that we are faced with, when it is an increase in taxpayers' dollars, is inappropriate. Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Uwaine then asked if Senator

O'Connor would yield to a question and Senator O'Connor replied that he would.

Senator Uwaine asked: "Mr. President, it's public record and it's on file already, but I just thought I'd like to ask the good Senator, to save me the time from walking over to the Ethics Commission, but I'm just curious...what's his gross salary per year as a private attorney and as a legislator?"

The Chair then interjected as follows: "Senator O'Connor, you need not answer that question."

Senator O'Connor replied: "I'm not going to answer that entire question, Mr. President, but I'll say that my salary as a legislator is spent in this building serving the public."

Senator Uwaine then inquired: "Mr. President, is that a no?"

The President replied: "Yes, the Chair has informed the previous speaker that he need not answer the question."

"Just let me say this, Mr. President, that in comparison to the previous speaker, I entered politics not so much for the salary but to serve people, and just to show the good Senator from the Seventh District that there are people who need some kind of additional money for the operation of their offices...thank God, the Salary Commission gave us a raise...there are people in this body that need additional funds. For an example, Mr. President, this year we had a raise to bring our salaries up to $13,650. For myself, this is a full-time job; I have a young daughter who was born four months ago, and I have a wife who is full-time at home, and if you asked what my net take-home pay is and how I'm doing it...I'm wondering about it myself.

"I'd just like to remind the good Senator from the Seventh District that many of us here need the additional increase for expenses in the office and not for take-home pay. Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Cobb again rose to remark as follows:

"Yes, Mr. President, I think the time has come to put to rest the idea that the net result of the recent Salary Commission's action was a pay raise. The basic decision, in deference to my colleague from the Seventh District, the basic decision is to whether or not have a full-time or part-time legislature was actually made in the 1978 Con-Con again when they opted to keep the body part-time and bicameral and the Salary Commission concurred in that decision in the salary structure.

"I did a little figuring on what the actual impact of the salary structure is, as it applies now during our session period, and, in effect, this has been a net loss in pay because the IRS has ruled that during the session we are in the 60% tax bracket and we will be taxed accordingly. I'm sure this came as a surprise to many members of this body as well as many members of the House. So, for three months we're in a 60% tax bracket and for nine months, if we're full-time, we could qualify for food stamps.

"The calculations that some of the other legislators and I have done show that the net take-home pay of a legislator today, with that kind of 60% tax bracket classification, is somewhere between $4,700 and $5,100 per year, net take-home pay. I hardly consider that a pay raise.

"In addition, Mr. President, I think it's only fair to point out that when you're dealing with the subject of your expense allowance, it behooves every member of this body and the House to keep a separate expense or separate legislative account for tax purposes because if the money is spent either improperly or for personal matters it's considered ordinary income. The only way a tax deduction can be taken is if it is a legitimate office related expense to your official duties."

Then, Senator Kuroda rose to speak in favor of the measure and stated as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this measure; however, I'm not going to spend time explaining why I stood up to speak in favor of it. I would like to just say that there are people who are going to vote on this measure, for, on the basis of their conviction, and those who are going to vote 'no,' on the basis of their conviction.

"I think there has been enough debate on this matter, Mr. President, and I would suggest to my colleagues who are going to vote 'yes' to just leave things be, and then I would suggest to those who are going to vote 'no' to hang on to your money.

"I don't think that there is any need to spend any more time with the personal batherings that's going on right now. Let's get on with the business. We've got many more days ahead of us and I think that every time somebody stands up to speak on this measure there's more aggravation, so let's get on with it, ladies and gentlemen. Thank you."

Senator Uwaine, at this time, rose on a point of information as follows:

"Mr. President, just on a point of information on the ruling of the Chair on the previous speaker's remarks-- if the Chair is in agreement with the previous speaker's remarks as far as what's been said on this floor, as far as, I guess, the indication as far as being personal, as far as getting on with the workings of the Senate and that debate is secondary. I'd just like to get an indication from the President."

The President replied as follows:

"The indication from the Chair is that I too feel that there is now a need to vote. We've heard both sides of the issue. I may not be in total agreement with the Majority Leader in terms of aggravation. I think any issue should be discussed freely here in the Senate.

"It's been my policy as president that whether the issue is controversial or not that the Chair would allow the maximum hours necessary for any issue to be brought out to the public, and that's what I've tried to do this morning...to air the issues. I know the stands are very hard; there are varying reasons why members will vote the way they are going to vote. So be it.

"If there is no further discussion, I would like the vote to be taken on this measure at this time."

The motion was put by the Chair, and Roll Call vote having been requested, S.B. No. 233, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ALLOWANCES FOR LEGISLATORS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 18. Noes, 7 (Campbell, Holt, Machida, Mizuguchi, O'Connor, Toyofuku and Ushijima).

- No. 794 Committee on Judiciary
- No. 795 Committee on Consumer Protection and Commerce
- No. 796 Committee on Consumer Protection and Commerce, then to the Committee on Judiciary

By unanimous consent, consideration of Senate Bill Nos. 797 to 883 and Senate Bill Nos. 884 to 2131 were deferred until Friday, February 20, 1981.

The Chair then made the following announcement:

"Members of the Senate, the Chair would like to make this announcement. Referral of bills is being handled as expeditiously as possible to get the lists to you. Because of the backlog of bills in the printshop, we estimate the time for final printing of all bills introduced in the Senate to be around 1:00 o'clock this morning.

"I ask the members' patience in getting the referrals to your committees, which will probably be tomorrow. Hopefully, tomorrow afternoon it will be placed on each Senator's desk.

"Secondly, I cannot help but express some dissatisfaction with the number of bills that have been introduced here in the Senate. I do not want the Senate or the Senators to have the dubious honor of out-stripping the House in the introduction of bills. I know the cutoff has arrived; I know we must proceed with the work. There are many chairmen who are new, who feel that vehicles are needed to be placed into committee, and I can fully understand that; but, I hope that on the next go-around we will be more deliberate in our introduction of bills. Perhaps, the volume this year was because of the organizational delays this session. We can live with that, but, I must say that, personally, for me and my staff it's been very frustrating to try to keep up with the amount of bills that have been introduced. I felt I had to say that."

Senator Anderson rose to respond as follows:

"Mr. President, if I may respond to that.

"I heard a comment this morning on the morning commentator's report on the Legislature about the number of bills... I think the number of bills, of course, are heavy, Mr. President, but I think also the media and the public have to realize that in the hopper of the 2,000 bills, give or plus, are an awful lot of short form bills that were put in this year because we're trying to have a vehicle.

"Under the parliamentary procedure, you have to have a bill introduced with a broad title and we have many, many bills of short form in the hopper, not knowing what the Federal Government may do in their budgetary cuts. So, Mr. President, as a precaution, the committee chairman can have as many as five or ten short form bills with broad titles, one covering airports, one covering the highways, one covering whatever, so that if and when, down the road, a federal cut or a federal program is implemented where it affects Hawaii we do have a vehicle to amend and, hopefully, resolve that problem.

"I think we also have to remember that these bills are for two years. There's a carryover provision which means that next year there should be very, very few bills; so, I don't think it's all a question of irresponsible action on the legislators in throwing in bills."

In response to Senator Anderson, the Chair remarked as follows:

"Senator Anderson, in very brief response, I represent my own feeling on this particular matter, and I am aware also that the short form and all other bills do have a carryover effect. However, it is my hope that in the next go-around we will not have this happen.

"What you said is true. I'm just merely venting my own frustration with what has occurred and I'm not that sensitive to what is being said in the press--it's a sensitivity which deals with personnel that have to crank out the work. I feel for them but I don't think in some cases it was necessary, but, because of the shortness of time, I understand what had occurred.

"I don't want to make any apologies. This is how I feel and if I have offended anyone in this honorable body, I'm sorry. That's the way I feel."

Senator Kawasaki then rose to state as follows:

"Mr. President, I must rise in complete concurrence with what had been said by the good Senator from the Third District. I think you might console your frustrations by just realizing that perhaps the number of bills introduced anyway is an indication of the commitment and the interest that the Senators have about the problems of this state.

"It's not a negative indication, as such; there is some advantage to having a lot of bills introduced. Let's just hope that these bills make sense. I am more concerned about the introduction--sometimes rampant introduction--of silly resolutions that we've been voting on. That, I think, is more waste of taxpayers' money."

Senator Abercrombie added his comments as follows:

"Mr. President, as you can see deference is already ended. I hope you can comfort yourself with the following: 'Virtue is its own punishment.'"

"Mr. President, yesterday my colleague from the Sixth Senatorial District, Senator Uwayne, posed a question to the Chair whether or not it is a policy of the Senate to handle all third reading bills on a roll call vote. The answer from the Chair was yes. I stand corrected because in the past, Mr. President, we have by unanimous consent generally voted by the consent calendar method. This is a much more expeditious way of voting, especially when there are a large number of matters pending before the Senate. I want to make the record very clear that this practice will be continued, providing we get unanimous consent of the Senate."

The President noted that the clarification was understood.

ADJOURNMENT

At 12:25 o'clock p.m., on motion by Senator Cobb, seconded by Senator Anderson and carried, the Senate adjourned and will remain in recess until 11:30 o'clock a.m., on Monday, March 2, 1981.

TWENTY-THIRD DAY

Monday, March 2, 1981

The Senate of the Eleventh Legislature of the State of Hawaii, Regular Session of 1981, convened at 11:30 o'clock a.m., with the President in the Chair.

The Divine Blessing was invoked by Reverend James West, Pastor of the Trinity Missionary Baptist Church, after which the Roll was called showing all Senators present.

The President announced that he had read and approved the Journal of the Twenty-Second Day.

The following introductions were then made to the members of the Senate:

Senator Ushijima introduced a group of Key Club members of Hilo High School of the Big Island, accompanied by their advisor Ms. Sharlene Masuhara. Senator Ushijima remarked that the students and their advisor attended a statewide conference of Key Clubs over the weekend. They were recognized as follows: Dylan Mabuni as the Most Outstanding Key Club Member of the State of Hawaii; Jean Kihara as the Division Sweetheart; Hilo High Key Club as the Most Outstanding Club in Division "A"; and Ms. Sharlene Masuhara as the Outstanding Key Club Advisor.

Senator Kawasaki then made the following introduction:

"Mr. President, it's my great pleasure this morning to introduce the internationally respected and followed economic and investment advisor-counselor who publishes the 'Dines Letter', Mr. James Dines.

"Mr. Dines has just returned from seminars and speaking engagements involving investment advice and economic projection subjects in the Asian area. He has been the principal speaker at many of these seminars throughout the world and this nation. It is too bad that past Washington administrations did not use the wisdom of this gentleman as advisor to the Treasury Department. He has been responsible for many people becoming wealthy because of his sage investment advice to them. Instead of having appointed nitwits--fiscal nitwits like William Simon, the past Treasury Secretary and now chairman of the Federal Reserve Board Mr. Paul Volcker, had our country the wisdom to appoint this gentleman, America would be in a better fiscal condition today!"

At this time, Senator Anderson introduced 50 senior citizens from Kahuku who are on a tour of the Capitol.

ORDER OF THE DAY

MATTER DEFERRED
FROM FEBRUARY 20, 1981

Standing Committee Report No. 13
(H.C.R. No. 3, H.D. 1):

Senator Ajifu moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 13 be adopted and that H.C.R. No. 3, H.D. 1, be adopted, seconded by Senator Kobayashi.

At this time, Senator Abercrombie rose to speak against the resolution as follows:

"Mr. President, I oppose the passage of this concurrent resolution. Perhaps, it might be more useful in presenting my opposition if the chairman would answer some of the questions that he knows are involved, that is to say, I would prefer if the chairman would speak to the approval before I give my denunciation of it. It's up to him; I can do it but it will probably necessitate a rebuttal situation. I wonder what the chairman's pleasure is."

At 11:50 o'clock a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 11:51 o'clock a.m.

Senator Abercrombie then continued as follows:

"Mr. President, I discussed the situation with the chairman and I think I'll register my objections and if anyone cares to pursue it further, why, so be it.

"Mr. Chairman, rather, Mr. President, on the surface this may seem to some of the other members perhaps almost amusing, probably it does to the band outside. But, there's a very serious issue involved here, and perhaps it behooves us to pay close attention in the future to what it is we're trying to pass or not pass in terms of resolutions. What we are in effect saying here, and I find it interesting that people in corporate life would take this attitude, is we're against free trade.

"Now, the United States of America is faced with serious economic problems; the State of Hawaii is faced with serious economic problems; but I hardly think that we provide an atmosphere conducive to either our own prosperity or the prosperity of other nations by setting protectionist policies into place.

"It has been my conclusion, after paying more than passing attention to this issue over the years, that those who argue for in behalf of free trade are correct; that the prosperity not only of ourselves, but of the people of the rest of the world is depended upon a faith and action based on that faith in free trade. What this in effect says is we're going to set up the equivalent, or we should take an attitude, rather, of that immediately in existence after the completion of the Manhattan Project with the Atomic Energy Commission, is that there are secrets in the scientific world, secrets in the world of agriculture, and in this instance techniques which some people may keep to themselves and not allow other people to have.

"It is my understanding that in respect to macadamia nuts that some of the activity there in Malawi, which is the nation referred to here, comes as a direct result of the contact with macadamia nut producers in the United States and, I believe, in the State of Hawaii.

"When we talk about unfair competition, are we really saying that we want to deal with one of the poorest nations on the continent of Africa in a way that says we want to continue to see to it that your people remain poor; that we want to see to it that what attempts you are making to become a bit more self-sufficient or to create capital formation in your own country in terms of agriculture should be discouraged; and that the people of the State of Hawaii are taking such an attitude?

"Are we really saying that our own industry is so shaky, is so inept, is so incapable of competition that we must try to prevent people in the rest of the world from engaging in it in trying to better their lives? Because, if this is the case, maybe we'd better take a very serious look in our own state about the support we have for various agricultural activities. It seems to me the height of hypocrisy that we're going to subsidize agricultural areas here because it cannot succeed on its own and then have our own taxpayers bear that burden, and then turn around and have the Congress try to discriminate against other countries in the rest of the world.

"The argument that other countries may discriminate against us in terms of their trade policies is not an argument for restrictive trade. It's an argument for us to try to break down those barriers. We're engaged in exactly the same kind of dialogue right now with the nation of Japan in respect of its imports and exports, and I have not heard any significant commentary in the United States, to my knowledge, and, as I say, I've taken more than a passing interest in it; I've not read any dialogue or philosophy, economic philosophy of the United States which does not urge the nation of Japan to reduce or eliminate such trade barriers as exist in Japan in respect of imports and exports, whether it has to do with agriculture or anything else.

"I think when we have a phrase in one of the 'whereas' clauses on page 2, 'WHEREAS, in addition these foreign nations often do not need to invest financial resources in research and development activities since much of the work in this area has already been done by Hawaii, thus, giving these foreign producers tremendous economic and other advantages.' What's tremendous economic advantage to a nation like Malawi? It's absolutely ridiculous!

"Does anybody pay any attention to the journals that are published, both by the, for example, the Sugar Planters Association, and in all the scholarly journals in which research that is done in all kinds of areas, like nitrogen fixation for example that's being done at the University of Hawaii right now, which can have tremendous implications for nations around the world that find themselves in terrible circumstances trying to pay for fertilizer? Are we really saying by this that if we develop something in the area of nitrogen fixation improvement for plants in Hawaii that we will keep it here in Hawaii and deny the people of the rest of the world the opportunity to put into effect an agricultural system that reflects that improvement; that we would actually ask people to starve so that we can maintain some kind of so-called agricultural secret?

"It seems to me that what we should be doing is urging the Congress to deal with other nations in such a way as to encourage free trade and not to become exemplars of restrictive trade such as this would imply--not only imply, but that such as this would urge. I think that this is antithetical to the interests of the State of Hawaii, to those of the United States, and is a clear refutation of the policy of free trade which has been the hallmark of the economic life of this country and of the philosophy of this country."

Senator Kawasaki then remarked as follows:

"Mr. President, I signed the committee report in concurrence, hoping to vote for this resolution. I think the case made by the good Senator from the Sixth District so eloquently is entirely logical and I support his point of view. I will vote 'no' on this resolution."

At this time, Senator Carpenter rose to request a ruling of the Chair as to a possible conflict of interest on his part and the Chair ruled that he was not in conflict.

The motion was put by the Chair and Standing Committee Report No. 13 was adopted and, Roll Call vote having been requested, H.C.R. If there is anybody in the professional world, in the academic world, who is more loved than John Fry by those who work with him, I don't think that person can be found in the State of Hawaii.

ORDER OF THE DAY

RE-REFERRAL OF SENATE BILLS

The President made the following re-referral of bills that were introduced on Wednesday, February 18, 1981:

Senate Bill Referred to:

No. 1150 Committee on Judiciary

No. 1161 Committee on Judiciary

At this time, Senator Carpenter, Chairman of the Committee on Judiciary, requested a waiver of the 48-hour notice of Public Hearing on the aforementioned measures:

S.B. No. 1150, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CHAPTER 237, HAWAII REVISED STATUTES"; and

and the President granted the waiver.

Senator Campbell then rose on a point of personal privilege and stated as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

"Mr. President, I would like to respond to an article by a newspaper reporter found in the Sunday Star-Bulletin and Advertiser, dated March 8, 1981. The article was entitled, 'House Press Coverage Diminished.'

"Mr. President, the article refers to a new rule in the State House barring news reporters on the floor during break in a daily session, and I have some comments on this article but I would not like to have my remarks interpreted to mean that I'm trying to speak for the members of the House. I think they are fully capable of speaking for themselves. But, with reference to access to lawmakers on the floor, I would like to just make a passing comment.

"There is very serious doubt in my mind, Mr. President, and, as a former newsman myself, I make that statement--that a productive and conclusive interview can be accomplished on the floor at the time there is a caucus break--certainly, an interview that gives both reporter and lawmaker ample opportunity to explore the subject matter of the interview.

"Now, if the legislators make themselves available on the floor before and after session; in their offices, in the corridors of the State Capitol, in the committee rooms, by holding press conferences, in my judgment, the opportunity of the press to gather the news would not be adversely affected.

"Now, Mr. President, I'd like to move on to another issue which was raised by the reporter in his news commentary. The newsman made a very important point when he said, and I'm quoting his statement, 'The public puts up a hefty sum of its own money each year to have 76 individuals sort through the state's problems and come up with a slate of solutions. For their money taxpayers are entitled to know what went into the process of making new law, as well as being informed about the final product. As a practical matter, this information comes through the news media. It is impossible for 800,000 citizens to come down to the Legislature each day and ask what's going on. Those who are interested spend a little money to buy a newspaper or use television or radio to get their information, and that information has to come from conversation with individual lawmakers.'

"In other words, the reporter is saying that the public has really paid a hefty sum to learn what their 76 legislators are doing, and the only way to get that information is through the press, and the only way the press can get that information is by talking to individual legislators.

"Now, Mr. President, the question is, if the press limits its information gathering to a few lawmakers, will their responsibility to the 800,000 citizens of Hawaii be adequately and justly carried out. The power of the press is awesome. If they choose not to cover a story, to the majority of the 800,000 citizens it is as though that story never happened. It is the hope of many of us, Mr. President, that the responsibility of the press to be fair and equitable will continue to be the benchmark which made our democracy a laudable process.

"Thank you."

Senator Abercrombie then added as follows:

"Mr. President, just in reflection of the prior speaker's remarks, I'm pleased to have that quotation that it is the obligation of the media to inform the public about the final product of legislation. That gives me great hope that Mr. Twigg-Smith will now alter his testimony and support your bill for full disclosure of the Hawaii Newspaper Preservation Act in terms of informing the public about the final product of that bill."

Senator Cobb then responded as follows:

"Mr. President, in brief response, I do not speak for the House nor do I presume any members of this body to do so, but I want to make it perfectly clear that the right of the press to uninterrupted access to any legislator on the floor of the Senate shall remain inviolate, and that we cannot claim to have a free or open body if that right were ever interfered with.

"I further maintain that the press can get very significant information by one or two questions to any legislator on the floor of this body, and they should have the absolute, untrampled right to do so when we are not in session.

"Secondly, I would not presume ever to tell a reporter how to do a story, how to write it, or who to see. They have their own methods of getting a story, and speaking as an ex-newspaperman myself, I recognize the divergent methods of gathering a story and reporting the news. If we have any complaints about the fairness or objectivity of that news, we always have the right of personal privilege on the floor of the Senate.

"Thank you."

Senator Kuroda also rose to speak on the issue as follows:

"Mr. President, I also rise to speak on the issue mentioned by Senator Campbell. What the House chooses to do, it has chosen, and it has taken into consideration many factors, but I don't think that we are here to cast any disparaging...cast any shadow on what they have done.

"Let us remember that there have been moments in these halls, among us, who have given thought to the need for the reporters to give us some privacy, when during recess we have discussed many personal matters. And the Senate has in caucus agreed not to prohibit the press from visiting with the Senators on the floor during recess. However, I think it very important that press members do honor the need for some privacy during the time that we do discuss certain things in private during recess.

"Thank you."

At 11:56 o'clock a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 11:58 o'clock a.m.

ADJOURNMENT

At 12:00 o'clock noon, on motion by Senator Cobb, seconded by Senator Anderson and carried, the Senate adjourned until 11:30 o'clock a.m., Wednesday, March 11, 1981.

"The state has taken the lead with the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations coordinating a campaign to publicize the skills and ability of older workers. This campaign promotes employment of aging veterans and older workers. It also reminds the employers of the many related skills and experiences among the unemployed and underemployed older workers and informs middle-aged and older job seekers of year-round assistance available through the State Employment Service Office network.

"This is also the time to recognize employers who have served as models of exemplary service to seniors in the community. This year the American Legion Employer Citation Award will be presented to American Savings.

"Evidence shows that seniors want to be productive through the many jobs that they hold in the senior community service employment program and the senior companion and respite service program, the foster-grandparent program, as well as in many other volunteer efforts through groups such as the Retired Senior Volunteer Program.

"Although this week highlights employers who have hired and retained older workers, we urge that these efforts be continued through the years and in recognition of the passage of this resolution, Mr. President, I would like to read a list of some of the groups who are represented in the gallery today and ask them to stand for our recognition: the Senior Community Service Employment Program, the Hawaii State Senior Center, Kokua Council, the Kauai County Senior Legislative Delegation, the Senior Companion Program, Retired Senior Volunteer Program, the Honolulu Committee on Aging, the Kaneohe Senior Center, the American Association of Retired Persons, the National Retired Teachers Association, the Honolulu Area Agency of the Aging, and the Policy Advisory Board on Elderly Affairs."

At 11:49 o'clock a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 11:50 o'clock a.m.

At this time, Senator Ushijima rose to request that the Chairman of the Consumer Protection and Commerce yield to a question and the Chairman replied in the affirmative.

Senator Ushijima asked: "According to the committee report, this is a repeal of the requirement of having a license to sell medicine by itinerant vendors of medicine, is that correct?"

Senator Cobb replied: "That is correct."

Senator Ushijima continued: "So, if the bill passes then, would I be able to sell...could I become an itinerant vendor of medicine without any requirement of license from the Department of Health?"

Senator Cobb answered: "No, there are many other federal as well as state requirements that would govern your conduct in that field."

Senator Ushijima further inquired: "Now, this is what I want to get to. According to the committee report, there are other controlling factors, federal and state. What are the controls on this, if I want to become an itinerant vendor of medicine?"

Senator Cobb answered: "You would have to pass a number of examinations as well as meet very stringent federal and state requirements concerning your ability and knowledge within the field. This was testified to by the Office of Consumer Protection at the time we had the hearing on this bill."

Senator Ushijima then thanked the Chairman.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, and S.B. No. 659, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE LICENSING OF ITINERANT VENDORS OF MEDICINES," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and

On motion by Senator George, seconded by Senator Cobb and carried, S.B. No. 571, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PEDESTRIAN CONTROL SIGNALS," was recommitted to the Committee on Transportation.

Senate Bill No. 1335:

Senator Cobb moved that S.B. No. 1335, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Uwaine.

At this time, Senator Kawasaki rose to speak against the bill, stating as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against passage of this bill. I feel that the inclusion of the new language in this particular bill where a property owner, his own residence, if he wants to make some repairs, some alterations, some additions that might well cost, in this inflation era, $5,000 or a little more, for him to be required to record that fact and the cost information on that to the Bureau of Conveyance, I think, is a needless imposition on the property owner doing what he wants to do in the way of alterations or repairs to his property.

"I think that language should be deleted; it's not necessary.

"For that reason, I wish to object to passage of this bill."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, and S.B. No. 1335, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ENGINEERS, ARCHITECTS, AND SURVEYORS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 16. Noes, 8 (Anderson, Cayetano, Henderson, Kawasaki, Kobayashi, O'Connor, Saiki and Soares). Excused, 1 (Abercrombie).

At 5:23 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

Tuesday, March 17, 1981

The Divine Blessing was invoked by the Reverend Ronald F.K. Ching, Pastor, Kaimuki Evangelical Church, after which the Roll was called showing all Senators present, with the exception of Senators Cayetano and Yee who were excused.

The President announced that he had read and approved the Journal of the Thirty-Third Day.

At this time, Senator Kuroda made the following introduction to the members of the Senate:

"Ladies and gentlemen, this Senate adopted Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 37 on March 3rd, which reads 'Extending Aloha and welcome to the former American hostages and commending Hawaii's public and private agencies for their hospitality proposed for the hostages and their families.'

"We are privileged this morning to have visiting with us the oldest former hostage, and I'd like to give a little background before I make the introduction.

"Mr. Robert Ode, who retired from the State Department after 29 years of service--retired five years ago and was on temporary duty in Iran to assist with visas and after a month he became a captive. Mr. Ode served in ten different posts in nine different countries, all with the State Department, mostly as a consular officer. A consular officer is one who has responsibility for citizen protection and welfare, issuing of visas, and also providing assistance to Americans abroad.

"He is a guest of this State, of the various county governments and of the generous hospitality of the visitor industry here. He is staying at the Hilton Hawaiian Village as its guest. He goes on to Kauai on March 19th for five days and to Maui for five days.

"He is the sixteenth former hostage to visit Hawaii--the first to take the opportunity to come and visit with us. At this time we can publicly recognize him as he represents all the former hostages. There are five more scheduled to come to Hawaii and any one of them is welcome to visit with us as we have invited them in Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 37.

"I'd like to read three 'resolves': 'Be It Resolved by the Senate of the Eleventh Legislature of the State of Hawaii, . . . that the legislature extends aloha and welcome to the former American hostages and commends Hawaii's public and private agencies for the hospitality program extended to the hostages and their families; and Be It Further Resolved that the legislature encourage all the people of Hawaii to extend their hands and hearts of aloha to the visiting hostages and families. . . ; and Be It Further Resolved that the Senate extends its invitation to the freed hostages and families to visit this body in session if they so choose, during this "quiet vacation".'

"Mr. President, it's my honor to introduce to you and to this body Mr. Robert Ode and his wife Rita."

By unanimous consent, S.R. No. 133 was referred to the Committee on Transportation, then to the Committee on Legislative Management.

STANDING COMMITTEE REPORTS

Senator Young, for the Committee on Legislative Management, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 619) informing the Senate that Senate Resolution No. 132 and Standing Committee Report Nos. 373 to 618 have been printed and are ready for distribution.

On motion by Senator Young, seconded by Senator George and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted.

Senators Kobayashi and Soares, for the majority of the Committee on Ecology, Environment and Recreation and the Committee on Public Utilities, presented a joint report (Stand. Com. 620) recommending that House Concurrent Resolution No. 79, H.D. 1, as amended in S.D. 1, be adopted.

Senator Kobayashi moved that the joint report of the majority of the Committees be adopted and that H.C.R. No. 79, H.D. 1, S.D. 1 be adopted, seconded by Senator Soares.

Senator Young then spoke against the resolution as follows:

"Mr. President, the purpose of House Concurrent Resolution No. 79, H.D. 1, is to request the permission of both the federal and state governments to burn a higher sulfur content fuel at Kahe electric generating plant. This plant is located in the Waianae area. It was found that between 1977 and 1978 the amount of sulfur dioxide in the air around the Kahe area exceeded the air quality standard of the Clean Air Act. To comply with the federal standard, the company converted to burning lower sulfur content oil. Now they're asking to resume the burning of the higher sulfur oil to the maximum extent possible without affecting the health of the people.

"It was pointed out in committee that Hawaii residents have a high rate of respiratory illness. The people suffering from these afflictions mostly reside in the central and leeward Oahu area, and of this group the highest cases are found in the Waianae area.

"Mr. President, our environment is a source of pride and continuing concern. We should not settle for less than the minimum standard, especially when it comes to the very air that we breathe. Please cast a 'no' for Young."

Senator Abercrombie then rose to inquire as follows:

"Mr. President, I would like to ask the chairman of the respective committees a question. I don't care which one answers it. My question has a bearing on how I am going to vote because my inclination is to vote for the resolution if I can resolve it.

"I don't quite understand, from the committee report, whether or not there has been a determination that by burning the higher sulfur content oil that there has been sufficient changes in the manner in which it is burned. That is to say, they speak about high stacks in the mechanisms by which filtration takes place of the pollutants. The impression is that there has been sufficient advancement to reduce the content of pollution as a result of the burning. If that is in fact the case, then burning a higher sulfur content oil may not prove to be a detrimental aspect in terms of public health, but if that has not been accomplished, then it would continue to be.

"I wonder if either chairmen could enlighten me as to the circumstances of the advancement or standing-still of the technology involved in the burning."

Senator Soares answered as follows:

"Mr. President, actually the present status of the Kahe plant, basically from Kahe 1 to Kahe 5, is with the tall stacks. Looking at the model, it is questionable as to whether there is a detrimental effect. The reason for the resolution is to--as you notice on page 2--make sure that they are going to be within the National Primary Ambient Air Quality Standards to maintain that technique.

"There is also a model being studied that would further identify the degree of pollutants, if necessary, and that is to look at the possibility of a mixture during trade winds, which blow out toward the sea and a lower mixture when blowing back in during Kona weather--back in toward the mountain area. Both the Department of Health and the company are working on this model, and the thrust of the resolution is to continue to assure that there would not be any detrimental effect as we go through this process.

"The possibility of the Federal Government relaxing the Ambient Air Quality Standards will only be predicated upon the guarantee that there will be no health hazards from the burning of the high sulfur content oil."

Senator Abercrombie then questioned further:

"Just one further point, is it my understanding then that such burning of higher sulfur content fuel will not take place until the process that the chairman has outlined has taken place?"

Senator Soares answered in the affirmative.

ORDER OF THE DAY

SECOND READING

Senate Bill No. 1298, S.D. 1:

On motion by Senator Yamasaki, seconded by Senator Anderson and carried, S.B. No. 1298, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TRAVEL EXPENSES," passed Second Reading and was placed on the calendar for Third Reading on Wednesday, March 18, 1981.

Senator O'Connor then stated:

"Mr. President, I rise to make a very specific announcement that today is St. Patrick's Day, and I ask that all members of this body join me in celebrating St. Patrick's Day by wearing a bit of the green. I've provided to each a small boutonniere which at least will demonstrate that in your soul you're Irish, whether or not you feel that way generally or display those wonderful attributes that the Irish have, namely, joviality, wit, and sometimes intelligence.

"Therefore, I ask that we all celebrate today with a bit of joviality on this day when there are no other major issues before us, and I wish you all a Happy St. Patrick's Day."

Senator George stated:

"It's something of a disappointment, Mr. President, that my learned colleague who has just asked us all to join him in the celebration of St. Patrick's Day did not prepare a resolution because normally it's a source of considerable amusement and merriment for me to dissect, to destroy the resolution, if possible. In this particular case, I've only his spoken words to address myself to, but I think perhaps I can do that too.

"I do thank my colleagues for their patience, and for their indulgence in submitting to this annual, tedious ritual. It's a good thing that there are only two Irishpersons in this body. If there were any more than that it would be more than just an annual ritual; it would probably be a full-scale rebellion. After all, Donnybrook is an Irish place, and an Irish cane is called a 'shillelagh.'

"Somehow this whole ritual has become identified with colors. The worse Irish trouble anybody can remember was called the 'Black and Tan.' We have not only the greens and the oranges; we have the black and tans. Of this, in the green point of view, the oranges are the worst. Now, if we'd been Scotchpersons, a long time ago we'd have put the orange and green together and made a plaid. Thank you."

Senator Kuroda then noted:

"Mr. President, visiting with us are other people of the greens, such as Mrs. Peterson and Mrs. Smithe who represent Leilehua High School, green and yellow. They want to preserve Poamoho green. Visiting also, are students and Mr. Suyama from Aiea High School, green and white."

At 11:31 o'clock a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 11:32 o'clock a.m.

"Mr. President, I'm going to vote against this bill.

"The stated purpose of the bill is to limit ownership to people who are 18 years and older. There is an American tradition that a boy should have a dog, and I find it very difficult to go back on that tradition and to say that the bill itself, I believe, is somewhat defective since the definition of owner has been changed to include every person who is at least 18 years of age. However, that situation does not go to the licensure situation, and there is no prohibition stated in the bill at all which would effect the purpose of the bill precisely to have someone who is 18 years of age or over to be the only owners of dogs in this jurisdiction."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, S.B. No. 334, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO DOGS AND OTHER DOMESTIC ANIMALS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Carpenter moved that S.B. No. 2041, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Cayetano.

At this time, Senator Abercrombie rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I speak against this bill.

"I believe that the Hawaii State Correctional Master Plan is utterly hopeless; that any furtherance of it under the present circumstances, or anything which would tend to further it under the present circumstances, in terms of giving it approbation by way of legislation is a disservice to the justice system in this state. It's already in sufficient disarray as to require it to be completely overhauled and anything which would exclude the Judiciary Probation Division from the definition of criminal justice agency, from my point of view, is another step towards removing the courts and the Probation Divisions from the necessary requirement to see to it that justice in terms of criminal activity is carried forward.

"Anything which diminishes the role at this time of the control of the courts will tend, in my estimation, to diminish as well the capacity that we have to control criminal activity in our community.

"Therefore, I think that until such time as we are able to completely revamp our view of what constitutes what may euphemistically be referred to as the State Correctional Master Plan, anything of the nature of this bill which moves toward implementing it is ill-advised at this time."

Senator Carpenter then rose to speak in favor of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this bill.

"This bill gives the responsibility to coordinate the implementation of the Correctional Master Plan to the Director of Social Services and Housing.

"At the present time, there are obviously several functions being shared by both the Judiciary and the DSSH. This bill attempts to rectify that situation by placing it under one agency, but with the full understanding that the continuation of services presently rendered by the Judiciary, in conjunction with the Corrections Division of the Department of Social Services will continue.

"I believe the bill should go forward. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried and S.B. No. 2041, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HAWAII STATE CORRECTIONAL MASTER PLAN," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Carpenter moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 431 be adopted and S.B. No. 569, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Cobb.

At this time, Senator O'Connor rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against this bill. If this bill passes, essentially, our entire drunken driving program in this state is going to go down the drain.

"Our present program is established on a series of presumptions based upon blood test or breath test, which are laid out in Section 291-5. That series of presumptions is that where there is five-hundredths percent or less by weight of alcohol in a person's blood he is presumed not to be under the influence of alcohol. If there's an excess of five-hundredths percent the presumption is that, taken with other evidence, it might put him under the influence of alcohol. And if there is a presumption of ten-hundredths percent or more he is presumed to be under the influence of alcohol.

"All of these presumptions are not dealt with by this bill and all the bill does is say that where a person has ten-hundredths percent or more by weight he is under the influence and he is guilty of driving under the influence of alcohol.

"Statistics and facts have shown that many people in the range between three-hundredths and ten-hundredths are in fact intoxicated and too drunk to drive. Facts demonstrated by witnesses showing cars weaving on the road and other situations certainly should be taken into consideration in these cases.

"And to say that a person, where there is a wide variety between individual people on how much alcohol one can consume before he gets under the influence of that alcohol, to say that a person is automatically in that situation at ten-hundredths percent is not, and there is no law against anyone driving up to that point, is just putting all the people of this state in jeopardy.

"I would strongly urge everybody to vote against this bill as it completely changes the entire law on drunken driving in this state."

Senator Carpenter then rose to speak in favor of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this measure.

"Recognizing the arguments advanced by the learned Senator from the Seventh District, this bill essentially does somewhat what the Senator indicated; it does indeed say that an individual who tests out with a blood count of .10 is guilty of driving under the influence of alcohol.

"Approximately half of the traffic fatalities of that occur throughout the State of Hawaii involve drinking drivers and the findings have indicated a level of at least .10 content of alcohol in the blood of drivers and/or participants in accidents on our highways.

"This bill will address that question head-on, hopefully, to avert other kinds of head-on collisions which have killed a number of our citizens."

Senator Abercrombie also rose to speak in favor of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, speaking in favor of the bill, I think it should be pointed out that the bill states that there shall be a guilty situation when driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor. Would anyone care to argue that you are not under the influence of the liquor? That's what the object of this bill is.

"It says quite simply to everyone who is drinking and gets into an automobile, you better make sure that when you are in this situation you should take a cab.

"We shouldn't have a situation where we have anybody on the road who is under the slightest...who has the slightest inclination to get into an automobile if they are not capable of driving. They shouldn't be making that decision at the time that they had any kind of alcoholic consumption in respect of what the last speaker said.

"It doesn't say that you're drunk, it says that you're driving under the influence of alcohol, and you're not allowed to do it beyond this point. Now, if someone can seriously stand up and make an argument that you should be allowed to drive under the influence of alcohol at this point, then I think they should do so.

"What we're saying here quite definitely, and as was stated by the previous Senator to me, is sending a message to the whole community that this will not be tolerated.

"I see that we pass laws with no compunction, no one stands up to speak about so-called harmful drugs where our young people are involved with marijuana, but when it comes to alcohol people seem to want to stand up and rush to the defense of people who are killing and maiming our citizens. They are causing our insurance rates to go sky-high because of wrecking their cars, and acting wholly irresponsible as a result of being under the influence of alcohol; that's what this bill says.

"It doesn't bother me one bit that anybody can be presumed to be guilty for having this amount of alcohol in his system. Anybody that does and is in an automobile should be arrested. If I had my way, the penalty for the violation would be considerably higher than it is in this bill."

Senator O'Connor, in response, stated as follows:

"Mr. President, I agree with everything that the good Senator from Manoa just said. Unfortunately, that portion of the bill he was referring to is the portion that was taken out by this bill. The portion having to do with 'while under the influence of intoxicating liquor' has been removed and replaced, as I indicated earlier, by a test which only has to do with ten-hundredths percent by weight. Therefore, everything that the good Senator from Manoa said is correct and the bill, therefore, is fallacious."

Senator Cayetano then expressed his opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I'm opposed to this bill for a very simple reason. What this bill does is to take the determination of guilt or innocence out of the hands of the trier-of-fact and leaves it to a machine, a machine that does the blood test."

At 1:11 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

At this time, Senator Kawasaki rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, while this may seem a good idea to help some of our elderly and senior citizens, the problem is that we have no assurance that retail merchants will pass along this tax exemption to the consumers, and not just absorb it into their prices. If we can find some mechanism where the 4% tax savings, is indeed passed on to the consumer then I most heartily endorse this bill; otherwise, I think this bill is defective.

"I urge a 'no' vote."

Senator Campbell then rose to speak in favor of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of the bill.

"As the previous speaker stated, this bill is designed primarily to aid the elderly who are on fixed income and that is my reason for strongly supporting the bill, but I don't think it goes far enough as far as senior citizens are concerned. I think it ought to include not only prescription drugs, but food as well.

"Mr. President, Senate Bill 1990, entitled, 'Inflation Certificate Program,' was designed to meet the shortcomings of this bill, Senate Bill 46, that we are now considering.

"For the senior citizens, S.B. 1990 was written to insulate the dollar against inflationary erosion. It's unfortunate that that bill will not be heard at this session and we just hope that it will have a chance in 1982, but I urge support of Senate Bill 46."

Senator Yamasaki moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 513 be adopted and S.B. No. 637, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Anderson.

Senator O'Connor spoke against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against this bill.

"This bill is one which would only encourage conglomerates and large business organizations in this town and encourage take-overs of businesses because this is the bill which would eliminate payment of excise tax between the various subsidiary corporations of the large corporations.

"I find it indeed curious in a state such as ours, such a bill finds its way for favorable or any kind of consideration before a body such as this. I would urge people to consider the monopolistic tendencies which this bill would obviously create in the community, to consider carefully what this will do in the future in the corporate structures in this state which can only encourage the continued existence and future existence of larger and bigger monopolistic corporations.

"I would urge all members to vote against this bill."

Senator Kawasaki also spoke against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I think the comments made by the good Senator from the Seventh District is very well taken. I do oppose this bill on those same grounds. I think it behooves this body to very carefully think of the impact of what this bill is going to do.

"I urge members of this body to vote against this bill."

Then, Senator Cobb spoke in favor of the bill and stated as follows:

"Mr. President, right now we have a rather strange situation where we have a corporation with many divisions, including some of the largest corporations in the country such as General Motors or some of the larger Hawaii corporations. As long as they have separate divisions but not subsidiary corporations and then do business among themselves they are taxed. And the only difference on the tax is that it is imposed, based on the makeup of the particular corporation. I find that ironic, discriminatory and unfair.

"Furthermore, Mr. President, on the subsidiary ramifications of this bill, as it came to the Ways and Means Committee, a maximum--at least from the estimate given to my committee--there would be a loss of $1.2 million.

"As I understand it, that now has been raised to somewhere in the neighborhood of $2 million to the state. Yet, I find it strange that we would tax a corporation based just on its structure, but if it creates divisions within a corporation, regardless of how large, there is no tax; yet, if there are separate subsidiary corporations outlined then they are all taxed the 4%.

"I would urge members to approve this bill."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried and Stand. Com. Rep. No. 513 was adopted and S.B. No. 637, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE TAXATION OF AFFILIATED CORPORATIONS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Kawasaki then rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I urge defeat of this bill because this bill, as it emerged from the committee, turns out to be quite a different creature from what was introduced. This senate bill was a bill to forego the requirement of preparing impact statements for all land purchases and all property purchases, both improved and unimproved, when the city and county or counties in the outlying islands or the state was to purchase property from a private entity.

"We had found that because the preparation of impact statements required under the previous law took so much time that the price the government entities have had to pay for these acquisitions just ballooned astronomically.

"I have felt that exempting the impact statement requirement for lands, properties, both improved and unimproved, purchased by government entities should not require impact statements.

"After the government acquires these properties and want to develop it for some governmental use, whatever it may be, at that time, I think, impact statements should be required. But, just for the acquisition, I don't think impact statements should be required, particularly because the impact statements and their preparation require so much time. And in the interim, the owner of the property just takes advantage of the delay which enhances the appreciation of the property; the government, of necessity, has to pay the great increase in the price of the property to be acquired. This is an additional burden to the taxpayers. I feel that this impact statement exemption should be required, but what has emerged from the committee still requires preparation of the impact statement for the acquisition of property by government agencies and so I think this amended bill completely nullifies the original intent of the bill. I urge defeat of this bill."

Senator Carpenter moved that S.B. No. 997, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Cayetano.

Senator Abercrombie then rose to speak against the bill as follows:

"Mr. President, the purpose of this bill is to clarify definitions of 'pornographic' and 'pornographic for minors.' It does not succeed in doing so. All the bill will do will create another opportunity for certain friends of mine in town who are engaged in the legal profession and who specialize in this area to make even more money than they have made before when they go into court and contest this.

"The reason for this is that the additions, as involved in the bill, the additions that will occur in the making of our laws in respect to selling of explicit sexual materials to minors will not succeed because the bill does not take into account, sufficiently, serious literary, artistic, political or scientific value. I can see where, in respect of the political angle, we might want to use the word 'obscene,' but in respect to literary, artistic or scientific, we have a much more difficult time. In certain ways it may seem that I'm taking a rather light-hearted view of it; I actually am not. I'm really speaking to the absurdity of it.

"We have never been able, in this country, to come to a satisfactory conclusion in respect to censorship because it is generally anathema, our understanding rather, of the values that we have in this country, that it is anathema to them to engage in censorship.

"My own belief is that if we engage ourselves in raising our children in an atmosphere in which they are able to deal forthrightly and directly in matters that are of sexual concern, we need have no fear in the area which is generally assumed to be pornographic.

"I think that the so-called dangers that are involved in this circumstance are more than adequately taken care of in our laws where we prevent the sexual abuse of minors or deal with people who are utilizing the results of the abuse of minors in terms of materials, whether photographic or otherwise. And under these conditions it is possible to have a successful prosecution.

"One of the principal reasons that I oppose this bill and opposed bills of this nature in the past is that they do not succeed in accomplishing the essential tasks here. What we really need to do is to protect children from actual abuse and we have laws written now to be able to do that.

"The idea of trying to write a definition of 'obscenity' or of 'pornography' is to engage in an exercise of legal futility and to give the people of our state the illusion that something has been done in this area that will make it more palatable in terms of the values that they'd like to see existing in their children and in the community as a whole.

"These attempts at law have always failed in the past and they will continue to fail in the future. We need to direct our attention towards creating a wholesome and intellectual atmosphere in our young people, creating a proper learning environment for them. Under these circumstances, I think we need have no fear of the corruption of that which has been termed by some people, 'pornographic.'"

Senator O'Connor rose to speak against the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I'm going to vote against this bill also, not because I don't agree with the intent of the bill, but, unfortunately, it does not contain the language from the most recent United States Supreme Court case having to do with pornography or pornographic material.

"We do have such a bill before us; it's just come over from the House and the definitions of the material which would be excluded or banned under such a measure are defined in that bill. It has to do with contemporary standards in the community and not with specifically outlining certain things that this bill does, which statutorily would become pornographic. Therefore, I'm going to vote against it and will support a measure of this nature if it adopts the new Supreme Court language."

Senator Carpenter then spoke in favor of the bill as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this bill.

"The language of the latest Supreme Court ruling defines pornography as 'that which taken as a whole, lacks serious literary, artistic, political or scientific value.'

"Mr. President, the language contained in this bill is indeed explicit and therefore the three sections speaking to explicit sexual material does meet the criteria advanced by the latest Supreme Court rulings and explicitly so, if I may be redundant.

"The bill coming over from the House has similar language to that advanced by the Supreme Court; however, it does not get to the heart of what actually might be interpreted as the community standard. It merely alludes to a community standard, but does not set one forth. This bill does."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried and S.B. No. 997, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PORNOGRAPHY," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Carpenter moved that S.B. No. 1684, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Cayetano.

At this time, Senator O'Connor rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against this measure.

"This bill ends many of the measures which we have had in the campaign spending law in this jurisdiction for many years. It removes entirely restrictions on fund-raisers which have been part of our law for over eight years and puts us back in a circumstance where one who is in a powerful political position in the community can hold $100 or $500-a-plate dinners, one after another, ad infinitum, at his desire, without any restriction.

"Further, it goes on to remove entirely any limit on the amount of contribution which an individual may make to a candidate. Unfortunately, it ignores entirely our State Constitution which in 1978 was amended, in Article II, Section 6, to mandate that there be limits on campaign contributions.

"This bill flies on the face of that constitutional mandate and lifts all limits on elections, therefore, making our campaign spending law, should this ever come to pass, contrary to the Constitution.

"Further, it goes on and removes all limits on contributions to a candidate from a political party, creating a situation where a political party could emphasize on one candidate and finance that candidate entirely, rather than have that financing come from the public. And this, of course, is terribly important because our campaign spending law has in it a provision for public financing which would go to make up that amount required of a candidate in order to get into the public financing.

"The reporting part of it is changed with new language inserted in Section 11-213. That language is ambiguous as the word 'person' is now used instead of the former language of the candidate--'person' in the case of a party or campaign treasurer, in the case of a committee.

"Also, there is deleted certain provisions having to do with final reports and supplemental reports, all of which that make that section rather confusing.

"The section having to do with public funding has been altered so as to throw open the amounts of public funding for all candidates. This section which is 11-221 will conflict with the new Section 11-218, which only allowed for certain candidates for certain offices--namely, the governor, lieutenant governor and mayor, to receive up to 20% of the expenditure limit; for all other offices, up to $100; $500 under this new proposal.

"Obviously, under this new section a qualifying candidate for any office could receive up to 50% of the expenditure limit in public funds. I don't find an appropriation in this bill, anywhere, regarding that matter, and this bill would cost a substantial amount of money if passed in the present form.

"There are other provisions having to do with shifting campaign funds from the general to the primary, and from the primary to the general, so that under this bill a candidate can apportion public funds any way he chooses and not limit them to use in certain elections as has been the law in the past.

"Basically, these changes taken altogether create a situation where there is no limit on the amount of contributions. There are changes in definition which allow an individual to spend as much of his own money as he pleases on a candidate and yet is restricted in many other ways, creating a circumstance where individuals or corporations or organizations who make campaign contributions will not know or have any knowledge whether they should report or not report. It creates an ambiguous and vague situation which can only lead to people running into sanctions, and the sanctions which are included in this particular law are severe.

"I would urge all to vote against this bill."

Senator Carpenter, speaking in favor of the measure, stated:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak for the measure.

"Mr. President, the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, as amended in 1978, in Article II, Section 5, regarding campaign fund spending limit says this: 'The Legislature shall establish a campaign fund to be used for partial public financing of campaigns for public offices of the state and its political subdivisions as provided by law. The Legislature shall provide a limit on the campaign spending of candidates.'

"Mr. President, the committee reviewed a measure which indeed did just that. Several members of the committee, including the previous speaker, spoke against that measure because they contended that it was unconstitutional. Subsequently, that measure was filed.

"Mr. President, in Section 6, regarding campaign contribution limits, the Constitution reads thusly, 'Limitations on campaign contributions to any political candidate or authorized political campaign organization for such candidate for any elective office within the state shall be provided by law.' It neither sets nor mandates campaign contribution limits.

"Mr. President, the bill before us is perfectly legal; it's perfectly legitimate; it addresses many concerns iterated to by the Common Cause and other groups. Thank you very much."

"Mr. President, I urge unanimous approval of this bill.

"If there is any proposal before this session of the Legislature that I think will help taxpayers save some money it is this bill. What it does is to screen out very carefully all the private grant requests that come to the Legislature annually. It sets certain standards by which these requesting organizations will qualify for grants from the state and make it mandatory for some of these requesting agencies to justify their claims, their requests. It allows the relevant department...the Department of Social Services, the Department of Health...to monitor very carefully the program for which these appropriations are granted. This does, indeed, help to clean up the myriad of requests coming to our legislative sessions. I urge unanimous approval."

Senator Abercrombie moved that S.B. No. 1699, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Carpenter.

Senator O'Connor then rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I'm going to vote against this bill because it sets up a standard for teachers, students, officers and employees of the Department of Education, which if they violate not only will a criminal sanction be in existence, but also a civil penalty because if they do violate these sanctions there will be evidence of negligence in a tort action.

"I just can't see why we should put our teachers, our officers and employees of the Department of Education in such a situation where they individually will become liable under such a circumstance, potentially for large money damages."

Senator Abercrombie spoke in favor of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, speaking in favor of this bill, if there is anybody in these chambers who has the slightest idea of what's going on on our campuses today, if they will talk to parents, and students and teachers, principals, officials, policemen, probation officers, parole officers, judges, anybody who has any knowledge whatsoever of what's going on on the campuses today, they can't vote against this bill.

"The idea that any teacher or any principal is unwilling to do his duty in respect of reporting these violations, has to do with the violence, the vandalism, the fear, the intimidation that is taking place on our campuses every day.

"Last week, I had a report of a child's toys being hijacked on campus grounds. I have parents coming to me telling me that they can't have their children go to school with their lunch money because they are consistently hijacked of that money. I have teachers telling me that they are afraid to report to the parents, parents afraid to report to the principal, afraid to report to the proper authorities, because they have been intimidated, because they have been made to fear for their lives, made to fear for their property, because they are not able to effectively have the law enforcement agencies and the courts of this state move against the punks and the vandals who are infesting our campuses.

"Now, one of the reasons why we have to have this is that we have plenty of laws on the books that will deal with these people if we can get them to the prosecutor, in front of the courts. In the absence of being able to do it, we will continue to have a situation where people are being put into fear, into harm's way on the campuses.

"Any teacher or any principal who is unwilling to back up everybody else on the campus is letting (us) down on the side. It is significant to me that teacher after teacher, principal after principal, official after official in DOE has said that they need precisely this kind of sanction to see to it that people will carry through on their duties.

"If one examines the guts of this bill, he will see that anyone who interferes with that reporting duty, anyone who acts in a manner which intentionally compels or induces this officer, this employee, this principal or the principal's designee not to report it by threatening by word or conduct or any of the acts that's set forth in here, respect of assault, respect of terroristic threatening, respect of extortion, that person will find himself or herself facing a Class C felony and rightfully so. And if they bring a weapon, a dangerous weapon on to the campus they are going to face a Class C felony and rightly so.

"If we want to end violence on our campuses, and if we want to make a very clear statement from this Legislature that it will not be tolerated, then everybody is going to have to put their oars in the water and row and that's what this bill sees to.

"It's time to stop talking about violence on the campuses; it's time to stop talking about vandalism on the campuses; it's time to start doing something about it, and it's time to see that everybody does his share and does his duty, and that's what this bill does."

Senator Kuroda, then rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against this measure.

"Although I agree with the previous speaker, the chairman of the Education Committee with whom I serve as vice-chairman, I have stated my disagreement with this bill not with the intent but with the penalty that has been included in Senate Bill 1699, S.D. 1.

"It reads that 'Any officer, employee, principal, or designee who fails to make the reports described herein shall be guilty of a violation and subject to a fine of not more than $250.'

"I say that this is not necessary and I think that if the principals and teachers are convinced to voluntarily make these reports and through an educational process urge everyone to report these violences and these facts, perhaps we can bring about the kind of situation that the chairman of the Education Committee talks about.

"I urge my colleagues to vote against this bill."

Senator Kawasaki also rose to speak in favor of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I speak in favor of this bill and I want to respond to the response of the Senator from the Fourth District.

"Unfortunately, to require that faculty members report voluntarily any violence in their schools is not going to work out. Unfortunately, the mass of humanity are cowards, generally speaking, and if it wasn't so, then we wouldn't have had this problem, we wouldn't have the necessity to have this bill acted upon tonight.

"I think requiring these faculty members and the principals by a threat, perhaps, of a fine is the only answer to making sure that these incidents of violence are duly brought to the attention of the people responsible for doing something about it. I think it's about time that we enact a statute like this.

"I have not as yet seen any other proposal or any other alternative that is as effective introduced in the sessions of the Legislature in the past. This perhaps is the first dramatic step to do something about the problem we all are concerned about--the problem everybody speaks out against, the problem of violence in the schools. This is a concrete step in the right direction and I think the language of the bill is the necessity that we are going to find will have some impact on this problem."

Senator Abercrombie then added as follows:

"Mr. President, just in furtherance of that point. Perhaps I have not made it clear in my previous remarks and perhaps I can resolve some doubts in some members' minds.

"The problem that teachers have had is that if they do the reporting or the principals do the reporting, they put themselves in harm's way. They then become subject to intimidation and fear because the perpetrators of the crime feel that if they can get to the teachers or get to the principal, that they will be able to keep this from going forward any further, and so they try to strike fear into the people and they have been able to succeed because many teachers have been attacked, for example, physically; and other teachers find out about that; they know about that and they don't want to get into that kind of situation.

"Under the circumstances of this bill what the teacher or the principal does is merely make the report. The decision on whether to carry forward any criminal action is made by the prosecutor and the police and the courts, so that the people at the school grounds and those associated with those who are committing these crimes will very rapidly find out that it is not up to the teacher or up to the principal to make a decision as to whether there is a criminal action, but merely that they must make a report. Therefore, anyone who interferes with the report will be committing the crime. This takes the teachers and the principals off the hook they have been on. This is the reason that the teachers and the principals have not been put into the position of being the arbiters of whether or not a proceeding will carry forward or not.

"So, what we do with this bill is actually relieve the teachers and the principals of the burden of making that decision. Their duty is merely to report under this circumstance and they will be able to say to these people, 'Look, don't take it out on me; I'm not the one that's going to be making the decision; I'm required by law to make this report; your problem is going to be with the authorities who will be making the decision.'"

Senate Bill No. 1579, S.D. 1:

The Chair ruled that S.B. No. 1579, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO NEWSPAPERS," is recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary.

Senator Kawasaki asked: "Mr. President, is discussion permitted on your ruling to recommit this measure?" and the Chair permitted Senator Kawasaki to proceed.

Senator Kawasaki stated: "Mr. President, I speak against recommitting to committee primarily because I think we have a responsibility to the public to require the newspapers that came to us back in 1972 and told us, 'if you don't pass this bill for us, allowing us to jointly use the printing facilities, the plant over at Kapiolani Blvd. for the Star-Bulletin and the Advertiser, that the morning paper is likely to go under.' We believed that statement.

"At that time, incidentally, the newspapers asked us to look at their books to show that indeed they were in dire circumstances, financially. Unfortunately, the members of this body did not take up that proposition to really examine their books carefully, because I find during the course of testimonies to the House of Representatives, over on the other side of the rotunda, they did indeed ask some penetrating questions.

"When Senator O'Connor from the Seventh District, was chairman of the Judiciary Committee, Representative Kenneth Lee of that body asked the principal owner of the Honolulu Advertiser what was the Twigg-Smith family investment in the business, the Honolulu Advertiser Publishing Corporation, the answer was 'some $800,000.

"Then another question was asked, what did you make last year as your net profit--and the answer was, $450,000, which amounts to more than 50% return on the initial investment, which gives me some impression that apparently they were not in dire circumstances; they were not even a failing newspaper. But all of that is water under the bridge. We did, at the request of the two newspapers, grant the Newspaper Preservation Act to be put on the state books.

"Incidentally, Hawaii is the only state, the only state out of 22 states allowing this joint newspaper operation, the only state that has a state statute in addition to the national statutes.

"I think, requiring the newspapers today to show how they are doing financially is a must, from the standpoint of all our actions here at the Senate. Why do I say this? It is because we granted only these two entities, the Star-Bulletin and the Advertiser, a special immunity legislation, if you will, a type of legislation we do not grant to the television industry and the radio industry, and what did this do? What we said in this statute was that the Attorney General in the State of Hawaii is forbidden to even examine complaints about predatory practices, trade abuses, as perpetrated by these two newspapers.

"Additionally, we find in the last few years the newspapers have done tremendously well. I don't begrudge private entrepreneurs making money, but when they do that because of a statute that we provided for them, that we provide no other industry in the media, then I think we have a responsibility really to examine what they are doing.

"To give you an idea of what kind of profits the two newspapers are making today, the Honolulu Advertiser in the year 1978 declared a $2 million cash dividend. I estimate that today on their gross revenue of about $27 million (and they claim a profit margin of anywhere between 10½% to 14%) I calculated that figure and on a 14% return on a $27 million gross business, that amounts to about $3,740,000, using 10% of the gross, it still gives the newspapers $2,700,000. The newspapers are embarrassed to have the public know that. As a matter of fact, in all of the sessions that we've had they were very reluctant to even give us reports of this kind in a very generalized way. They are embarrassed to have the public know what they are making today because just as long as we don't know, we very quietly, both as a legislature, and as consumers, acquiesce to the kind of profit-making they are enjoying.

"Now, what has happened since 1972, since we enacted, since we were conned into enacting that statute back in 1972? The newspapers have raised their advertising rates thirteen times during the period. These raises are not absorbed by the retail merchants, the supermarkets, they pass it on to the consumers of the state by way of higher food prices, in the way of higher commodity prices on goods that they sell.

"This is where I get concerned, Mr. President, because I think one of the reasons for Hawaii being the highest food cost state, next only to Alaska, is because of high advertising costs to the retail merchants who of necessity have to use the two newspapers as perhaps the most effective way of getting exposure for their sales, they have to use these two newspapers.

"As I said, I don't mind these people making money, but I do mind allowing these papers to have the advantage of statute that specifically prohibits the Attorney General from even examining some of their operations, and the small businessman will tell you that there are abuses that they are unhappy with.

"There was a time when businesses were afraid to even come to testify in our legislative committees simply because, as they say, 'we get on the bad guy list of the newspapers and services get bad for us.' Interestingly enough, there are businesses coming today to testify in favor of these bills.

"All of the proponents, all of the testifiers in the committees that we've had considering these measures are for the three proposals we introduced. And I'll go into the three proposals because they have a relevancy to what we are voting on today.

"There was a bill introduced to completely repeal the state statute as being unneeded because we have the federal statutes that preempt us to begin with. There was a proposal to delete some language that the anti-trust division of the Justice Department, (when this measure was being debated in the Congress of the United States when the National Preservation Act was being debated) testified against, the language that was proposed and which is today in the statute...language allowing these two newspapers to jointly solicit ads, jointly solicit subscriptions, jointly set prices, jointly share in the profits, of profit pooling, as it were. This language, had it been applied to any other industry, will clearly have been a violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust Act and the Justice Department would very swiftly act to stop such actions. But in the Newspaper Preservation Act, interestingly enough, we allow this.

"We ask the newspapers to make public their earnings, their income. Incidentally, my original proposal had a requirement that they also list the top executives salaries and the reason we did this is because if the public knew what the top executives make in the way of salaries, they'll raise their eyebrows, to be sure.

"The bill that emerged from committee deleted the requirement to have the top executives' salaries reported. This, I don't object to too much, but I think we owe it to the public to require newspapers to give us information so we know the results of what we did back in 1972.

"Unlike any other state in the Union we gave them special exemptions under the state statute which in my judgment is not needed. Short of that, since I was not privy to the 'dear John' type of letter Mr. Chaplin wrote to some of the members here who apparently are going to vote against this bill, I think, (I'll just cut it short, I see a frown on your forehead there) generally, I think to require the newspapers to report what is today being reported as a matter of course by the Gannett Corporation that owns the Honolulu Star-Bulletin is good public policy. The Advertiser doesn't do this because it's a privately held corporation and the profitability of the company is attested to by the very fact that while at one time you could have bought Advertiser stock on the over-the-counter market, today there is nothing available.

"It's a matter of record that while the Advertiser stock sold over-the-counter for $6 a share at one time, today you can't even buy it. And the last sale that was on record was two shares of stock that the Advertiser owners bought from the former Mayor of the City and County of Honolulu for $1500 a share. Prior to that, former Representative Ike Sutton was forced to sell his share and he received about $397 per share. The point being, I have yet to see any stock that has enjoyed this kind of appreciation in price, of any stock listed on the New York Exchange, the American Exchange, or over-the-counter market nationally. There has not been the kind of appreciation as was enjoyed by the Honolulu Advertiser stock; all of which attest to the fact that today it's a very profitable operation, so much so that the owners of the newspapers find it embarrassing for the Legislature or the public to know what they are making.

"Now, 10% to 14% return, which they consider to be normal and in keeping with what other corporations make around here...using that formula to a gross business of $27 million for a small business like the Honolulu Advertiser amounts to quite a bit. It amounts to such a huge figure that I feel that those people should be required to make public their financial condition. Perhaps then we would be encouraged to delete or to repeal what was passed back in 1972, because just as long as that repeal is not effectuated here, the newspapers I know, will continue to raise their advertising rates, all of which, as I said, is passed on to the consumers of this state in the way of higher food prices.

"This is where I come from. I think it's about time that we find out what we did back in 1972. This is all in the public interest."

Senator Abercrombie added his remarks as follows:

"Mr. President, speaking against recommitment, some people have asked me why I support Senator Kawasaki in what can only be termed a crusade in this particular regard, saying why do you want to get on the bad side of the newspapers, which should tell you a little bit about what freedom of the press is all about.

"When you have access to the public press and the kind of money that's involved in it, the kind of publishing power that exists for the Hawaii Newspaper Agency, those who enjoy its benefits, you obviously have access to a great number of people. Part of my reply has been to be the object of scorn or ridicule or public censure in the editorial pages of the Advertiser and the Star-Bulletin should be a badge of public honor.

"I consider an attack from those quarters a benchmark on whether or not I'm doing a good job in the Legislature. If I find that the Advertiser and the Star-Bulletin is praising me, it is quite obviously a conspiracy on their part to discredit me, as far as I am concerned.

"Having talked to some of the people who write some of the editorials for these papers, I realize why the salaries of these people are kept a secret. One does not generally have people who have moronic mentalities making that kind of money, but in this particular instance there's apparently some secret conspiracy to take care of someone. I don't know what they have on the publisher that put them into that particular situation; it may be the protection of this law. The facts of the matter have never hindered either the Advertiser or the Star-Bulletin from plunging ahead with whatever opinions they care to foist off on the public in their editorial columns.

"Be that as it may, the fact also remains that we are constantly regaled by the two newspapers in the Legislature to account for ourselves. We are told that when we pass laws, and this moves me to the second reason why I support Senator Kawasaki's approach and why I beg the members of this body to vote against recommitment and for this bill...it's always been and probably will continue to be the position of the newspapers that whatever this body does that it account for itself. One of the ways that we do that is to examine the results of the laws that we pass.

"Interestingly enough in this particular instance, the recipient of the benefits of the law which was passed, the Honolulu Advertiser and the Honolulu Star-Bulletin, and particularly the Advertiser, are unwilling to show the public exactly the same kind of things it demands of anyone else who benefits from legislation in this Legislature. Rest assured that some of the bills which passed tonight, if they become law, you will find people at the Honolulu Advertiser searching around what the results of them are, whether it happens to be economic development, whether it happens to be in education. If the bills we just debated on school violence is passed, rest assured that the Advertiser will be out there trying to see whether violence declines, to see whether vandalism declines, and they will hold members of the Education Committee and the Legislature as a whole accountable for that which they passed, but they want to exempt themselves. And so it's the hypocrisy that's involved. It's the fact that they assume, in particular, Mr. Twigg-Smith assumes that the editorial voices of the community are restricted to him and his hirelings at the Advertiser.

"I notice that the Sun Press, for example, does not enjoy these benefits. The Sun Press has to compete in a marketplace against these monopolistic practices.

"One acts, rather Mr. Twigg-Smith acts as if the only people capable of having an independent editorial voice are the people associated with him at the Honolulu Advertiser, but the Sun Press people don't feel that way.

"One final point, there has been tremendous changes in the technology involved in the producing of newspapers. We now find the aging and honorable tradition of printing as exemplified in fable in our society, the front page stories of this kind, the romantic visions of the old newspaper people that work, stop the presses and so forth. We don't have that kind of situation anymore. Invention and steady improvement of high technology in the industry has completely altered the basis upon which newspapers are published. Yet, we do not examine whether or not these changes in the cost factors of producing a newspaper should result in some change in the kind of law that we passed almost a decade ago.

"I can't think of an instance where the Consumer Protection chairman, for example, is not required by virtue of our sunset provisions to examine whether the laws that we have passed in respect to boards and commissions still are doing what they are supposed to do. We routinely examine the result of our legislation in instance after instance, sometimes as a matter of law and almost always as a matter of common sense.

"So, it's a question of principal with me. I think that we should pass this bill; we should vote against the recommitment and I would request a roll call on the recommitment. I think we should vote against it and vote this bill up to show the people of this state that we are not afraid to emphasize our responsibility as legislators."

Senator Anderson then rose to state as follows:

"Mr. President, I've supported this bill. I'll support the Chair to recommit the bill but I would like to say, apart from the discussions earlier, I have no ax to grind. I like Mr. Twigg-Smith as I like many gentlemen there.

"I think the bill in the form it's in today with all the personalities taken out, with all of the secret documents wanted and the figures wanted that were taken out, should call for nothing more than having a straight corporate type annual report.

"Senator Yee tells our caucus that in the hearings, I think, Mr. Twigg-Smith stated that once a lawsuit was put to rest there would be no objection to coming forth with these figures on some sort of annual basis. I, personally and philosophically, disagree with government getting involved in the private sector whatsoever. It bothers me as an individual and as a businessman. But when business comes to government and asks for controls to help profits, when they ask for regulations to guarantee profits or to guarantee competition for themselves, then I think also they should be held accountable.

"Some years ago, I voted against the Hawaii Newspaper Act and I have been consistent and as an alternative, I guess it's been nine years, I came forward with this very idea, only to see it emerge again this year, that as an alternative to defeating the Hawaii Newspaper Act, that we would ask the Attorney General, on behalf of the people, to evaluate and update and keep the people and the government informed as to the impact of this measure.

"I do not think that this bill, in the form that it is in, asking for a simple corporate filing at the end of the year is unreasonable.

"I'll not go against the President's wish to recommit, but I think this bill should emerge again some day once the suit is filed."

Senator Yamasaki then rose on a point of information and asked: "Mr. President, has a motion been made to recommit?"

The President replied: "There is no motion on the floor for recommitment. The Chair ruled on the recommitment; the discussion was allowed to Senator Kawasaki. There is no pending motion on the floor. The Chair ruled that said bill will be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary."

Senator Kawasaki asked: "Is there a roll call to be taken?" and the Chair replied: "There is no motion before this body; said bill has been recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary."

Senator Uwayne asked: "Mr. President, will the Republican Floor Leader yield to a question?" and the President replied: "No, the matter is closed."

Senator Abercrombie then rose to appeal the ruling of the Chair and asked for a roll call on it.

At 7:52 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 7:53 o'clock p.m.

Senator Abercrombie then stated: "In the spirit of generosity and having been informed that I was self-misinformed as to the procedure here involved, I would like to withdraw my appealing of the rule of the Chair.

The Chair thanked Senator Abercrombie.

Senator Kawasaki also rose to state: "Mr. President, in realizing the move to recommit to the committee to keep the bill alive for next session and perhaps even making stiffer language in the bill, I gladly acquiesce to the move to recommit."

The Chair also thanked Senator Kawasaki.

Senator Uwayne then rose to make a parliamentary inquiry and asked: "Mr. President, is it the prerogative of the chairman of the committee or the President of the Senate to recommit bills?"

The Chair replied: "Senator Uwayne, I have discussed the matter with the chairman of the Judiciary Committee. I have asked him to allow me to recommit the bill for there are insufficient votes for passage on Third Reading. I received that permission; therefore, I made that ruling from the Chair."

Senator Uwayne then said: "So, actually it is the chairman's prerogative." and the Chair replied that it was.

Senator Kawasaki added: "Mr. President, one comment with regard to the recommitment. I think, as a result of your move to recommit this to committee, I can almost guarantee that at least for the next year, up until the session ends next year, the Advertiser will not raise its advertising rates for a period of one whole year."

Standing Committee Report No. 618

(S.B. No. 4, S.D. 2):

Senator Carpenter moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 618 be adopted and S.B. No. 4, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Cobb.

Senator Carpenter rose to speak in favor of the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this measure.

"Mr. President, the United States Supreme Court has held that the death penalty does not constitute cruel and unusual punishment in all cases, rather the Constitution will be complied with so long as these types of statutes assure that the sentencing authority is given adequate guidance in terms of determining when the death penalty will be imposed.

"The Committee finds that this bill does not conflict with any of the death penalty cases decided by the United States Supreme Court in recent years for the following reasons:

"1. This bill provides for non-mandatory death penalty;

"2. The death penalty will be imposed for carefully defined categories of murder;

"3. The sentencing authority is given limited and carefully controlled discretion in determining the imposition of the death penalty; and

"4. The bill allows for considerations of mitigating factors in the defendant's favor.

"Mr. President, the basic tenet in the American system of justice is that the punishment should fit the crime.

"Since the founding of this country, its citizens have tried to perfect a system under which the inhabitants of this great land can live free from fear and in harmony with each other.

"Unfortunately, we have, in Hawaii, been witness to an alarming increase in the number of murders and other types of violent crime.

"The crime of murder, which results in the elimination of a human life forever from this earth, is a particularly heinous offense.

"To assure that certain types of individuals who commit murder receive the punishment the crime deserves and to provide a deterrent to individuals who would contemplate the commission of such a heinous crime, your Committee on Judiciary has passed out of committee Senate Bill 4, Senate Draft 2, (Relating to Capital Crimes), and recommends that it be passed by this body.

"This bill provides for the reinstitution of the death penalty as a possible sentence for certain types of murderers and for the establishment of a procedure to determine whether such a penalty should be imposed.

"The court would conduct a separate sentencing proceeding, after a finding of guilt of the accused for the crime of murder, to determine whether the defendant should be sentenced to death or to life imprisonment.

"During the proceeding, evidence would be presented to the jury relating to whether certain aggravating or mitigating circumstances, which are enumerated in the bill, existed at the time of the commission of the murder.

"After hearing all the evidence, the jury would deliberate and then render an advisory sentence to the court. The court would then impose a sentence on the defendant.

"Mr. President, your Committee on Judiciary has concluded that in murders where the sufficiency and extent of the aggravating circumstances mentioned above exist, a sentence less than death would depreciate from the seriousness of the offense, and would not serve as adequate punishment in our American system of justice.

"Mr. President, this issue is deserving of the most serious consideration by this honorable body--it is a tough decision, but it is a responsibility that each of us owes to the people of Hawaii, first. Mr. President and members of this august body --the decision is yours!"

Senator Kawasaki added his remarks as follows:

"Mr. President, I believe that society's first and foremost responsibility is to protect its citizens, and consonant with this view, like President Ronald Reagan, like former Presidents Gerald Ford and Jimmy Carter, like the former Attorney Generals and many members of Congress, I think that the time has now come, unfortunately, that the reinstatement of the death penalty statute is an absolute must because we want to save human lives. The innocent human life of a rape victim who is not only raped, but is killed by the offender because he wants to remove evidence; the life of an armed robbery victim who is also murdered because the offender wants to remove evidence. Because we want to make the daily job environment of the policemen, of the staff of the penal institution safer. We want to make the life of a judge presiding over a murder trial, or members of the trial or witnesses to that particular trial safer. We want to protect all of them.

"I think this question of whether to reinstate the death penalty actually hinges on what are the results of the reinstatement of the death penalty. It's more than a coincidence, Mr. President, that with the existence of death penalty statutes during the years of 1935 to 1955, the two decade period, while the population of this country was increasing dramatically and because there were more and more states enacting statutes of the death penalty, the rate of homicides decreased, and conversely from the years 1955 up until 1968 when state after state started abolishing death penalty statutes, the rate of homicides increased markedly.

"There's much said about whether the imposition of the death penalty is a deterrent, and there are many who say that there is no proof that it is. There are others who very vehemently say that there is no deterrent factor to which I say, perhaps you have not examined the issue very closely.

"It seems to me that the whole spectrum of laws that we have, frown upon certain transgressions of society's laws and we have penalties to provide for the transgressions, is based on the deterrent issue...if you fail to file your income tax on time or if you fraudulently file your income tax, you pay a penalty...either pay a heavy fine or go to jail. That's a deterrent, because most of the citizens do file their taxes honestly as best they can. Had it not been for the fact of a deterrent factor of a penalty imposed, I don't think many citizens would willingly and voluntarily file their income taxes.

"The whole spectrum of society's laws, as I said, is based on the deterrent factor, human beings being what they are...not in every case but more often than not. If a penalty is provided and the penalty is sure and swift, it is indeed a deterrent factor, and if the penalty happens to be the forfeiture of your life by means of an execution for certain types of heinous crimes, then most certainly that penalty of losing your life is going to be a deterrent.

"Assuming then that it is indeed a deterrent for death penalty to be imposed upon an offender, then not executing certain types, certain categories of offenders, the worst of the lot, not executing them is tantamount to not saving the lives of humans, decent, innocent human beings. That, in my judgment, is completely immoral.

"Apparently sharing this view, the following states have very reluctantly re-enacted the death penalty. Incidentally, of this list of states re-enacting death penalty statutes, four of the states are judged by a citizen commission as the outstanding states in terms of liberal legislation, in terms of the output of their legislatures. These four states, the States of New York, Illinois, California and Florida, each of these top four states, so adjudged, have reinstated the death penalty, and as I said, they have all gone through this agony of debating this question, and they have decided, reluctantly, that indeed the time has come to reinstate capital punishment.

"Let me, just for the record, recite you the list of states that have reinstated the death penalty, much to their reluctance: the State of Alabama, the State of Arizona, the State of Arkansas, the State of California, the State of Colorado, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Massachusetts, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Oregon, the State of Pennsylvania, the State of Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Vermont, Virginia, Washington, Wyoming. Thirty-seven out of the 50 states with only 13 states not as yet having re-enacted the death penalty and several of these states, incidentally, out of the 13 are considering right today the reinstatement of the statute that we want to adopt tonight.

"It is about time that we do something, indeed, to save human lives. I urge the passage of this bill."

Senator Yee also rose to speak in favor of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this bill.

"I'd like to say for the record that, I think, ever since I've been in the State Senate, I have introduced the re-establishment of the death penalty.

"I believe we have given our state a great opportunity in trying to rehabilitate criminals since the early or the middle fifties when the death penalty bill was repealed. I believe we all tried to do what we could to protect the majority of our people by rehabilitating the weak, the sick, and the criminal. Evidently, rehabilitation of the criminal has not worked; it has not worked in the United States...it is not working here in Hawaii.

"All we have to do is look at the other countries, not just at ourselves, because I think we're the most permissive country in the world and we have the highest rate of crime in the world. We have the most sophisticated system for economic well-being, the highest standard of living; and in crime, we're so far ahead of the other countries, it's shameful.

"Let us look at the countries that are dictatorial, communistic, socialistic, and the way that they treat their criminals. It's a matter of hours, days, weeks, not months or years and years before they put away a person. They have quick justice, fast execution. As a result, you find very, very little crime in those countries.

"Many of you have travelled in those countries that I've talked about. You can walk the streets safely. Here in our own state we don't dare walk in the parks; we don't dare walk certain alleys or streets, and it's very shameful when our people have to live in fear of someone else. It's time that we take a hard stand and reinstate the death penalty. Thank you."

Senator Kuroda also rose to speak for the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this bill.

"Ten years ago, I was elected to this august body in a special election to fill a vacancy caused by the murder of a state senator. Senator Larry Kuriyama was shot to death in his carport by a hired killer with the use of six bullets.

"I support the sentence of death penalty for a hired killer and one who hires the killer. I am certain that it will help deter the potential killer from accepting a contract and for a distraught person to hire a killer. Thank you."

Senator Cobb then added his remarks as follows:

"Mr. President, one brief observation in favor of the bill, and that is the argument that I've heard advanced by many who oppose it on philosophical grounds that the predominant number of people executed will be minorities.

"I asked the Legislative Reference Bureau to research with my office how many people have been executed in the United States since the death penalty was reinstated, and this is the answer that I've received. I would like to share it with this body.

"It says, since 1976 four persons have been executed. Gary Gilmore was executed on January 7, 1977, in Utah, the first person to be executed in ten years. The others were John Spenkelink on May 25, 1979, in Florida; Jesse Bishop on October 22, 1979, in Nevada; and Steven Judy on March 9, 1981 in Indiana. All four, Mr. President, were white.

"I think, if we consider this bill in terms of the agony that it not only causes us tonight, but the future agony that the Governor, our Judicial system, and everyone else involved with crime will go through, we have to ask ourselves one rather fundamental question, and that is, is the collective agony worth it? My answer, Mr. President, is that if it saves the life of one innocent victim, it's worth it. Thank you."

Senator Uwaine then spoke against the bill as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against this bill.

"Mr. President, I have been elected to this Legislature for the past four years. When I was first elected, Mr. President, during my first year, I had an experience where I had to sit on the House Judiciary Committee and I sat through a hearing for about four to six hours listening to testimony on the death penalty, a bill the House received from the Senate. The good Senator from the Fifth Senatorial District was at that hearing and he was present at that time. It was a long hearing; there were many people who came to testify for the bill and against the bill; there were people who brought statistics and used statistics in pro and con.

"The thing about it, Mr. President, was that there was this one young lady at that hearing. She sat very patiently throughout the hearing, waiting for her chance. Her turn came about fifteen minutes before we adjourned, which was about 10:00 p.m. Then, Mr. President, she came up and gave a very short presentation, and I remember her distinctly saying, 'Why do we kill someone to show others that killing is wrong?'

"For that reason, Mr. President, I voted 'no' at that time and I shall vote 'no' tonight. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried and Stand. Com. Rep. No. 618 was adopted, and, Roll Call vote having been requested, S.B. No. 4, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CAPITAL CRIMES," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

At this time, Senator Campbell rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against this bill.

"I think that in reading the committee report the purpose of the bill is to prevent the spread of venereal disease, and according to the committee report 'an unwanted pregnancy.' I'm not sure that's mentioned in the bill, but it is mentioned in the committee report.

"Mr. President, I feel that the bill has a good intention, but I think it's vague in many respects. I think the bill does not clearly indicate where these vending machines are going to be located. The bill specifically prohibits locating these vending machines on school grounds, but it doesn't say exactly where it will be located. I think the bill is also considerably vague as to how it's going to accomplish its stated purpose, and that is to prevent venereal disease and unwanted pregnancy.

"Mr. President, without belaboring the point, I think the bill erroneously assumes that contraceptive devices would be widely used by male teenagers if they were available. I simply feel that an objective study should be made before the state invests in such a program, and I urge defeat of the measure. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried and, Roll Call vote having been requested, S.B. No. 354, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE SALE OF PROPHYLACTICS IN VENDING MACHINES," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

(S.B. No. 1767, S.D. 2):

By unanimous consent, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 514 and S.B. No. 1767, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXES ON LIQUID FUEL SOLD OR USED FOR OPERATING MOTOR VEHICLES," were recommitted to the Committee on Ways and Means.

Standing Committee Report No. 515
(S.B. No. 397, S.D. 2):

Senator Yamasaki moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 515 be adopted and S.B. No. 397, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Anderson.

Senator Kawasaki rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I really have a difficult time speaking against this bill, much as I am against it, because the spokesman, the primary proponent of this bill, is such a likeable gentleman. As a matter of fact, I think we are doing him a favor by defeating this bill. Just as soon as this is passed I envision that he will be assigned to a new job category, transferring luggage from plane to plane.

"What concerns me most is that you, Mr. President, as Ways and Means chairman in the past and the predecessor to the present Ways and Means chairman, Senator Cayetano, both objected to this bill. As a matter of fact, I'm informed that the Governor himself vetoed this bill on the grounds that, first of all, it's a tremendous tax loss to the state, in this particular case, amounting to about $6.5 million and that's a sizeable amount of money.

"The company has been in existence for many years, doing well on a very sound financial basis; as a matter of fact, in a business that is apparently attractive to a point where a third competitor, as of the last few days, has entered into competition with them.

"I believe that to give away this amount of money at a time when we are short-changed by lack of funds for other needed programs, perhaps, it's not the wisest thing to do. In any case, to me a company that's willing to program out the purchase of new plane equipment amounting to some $70 million in this purchase plan certainly could afford to continue paying this 4% tax.

"I just read in this morning's paper where the Police Department is short of some $418,000 to implement its programs so that adequate public protection could be provided at the insistence of the public.

"Revenues in this amount, $6.5 million, could certainly be put to better use providing for the human services that may have to be curtailed as a result of the appropriate belt tightening that is advocated by the President of the United States.

"I feel that this measure is a sort of a give-away at this point. $6.5 million is more than we can afford. I urge the body here to vote against this bill."

Senator Cayetano also rose to speak against the bill as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against this bill.

"According to the committee report, the purpose of this bill is to exempt from the use tax, lease or rented aircraft in intra-state operations. I find that the logic of this bill, or justification for this bill, which is stated in the third paragraph of the committee report—namely, '...to provide equal treatment for local airline companies' and the report goes on to say, 'and that it is in accord with the purpose of the use tax statute in that aircraft and flight equipment purchased abroad does not compete with locally manufactured products.' I find that logic a bit shaky, Mr. President, and I think that if we are going to do a company a favor, we should just come out and say it.

"That logic is shaky because if we want to apply it equally, if equal treatment is the purpose of this bill, what we want to do is apply such treatment to equipment purchased abroad which does not compete with locally manufactured products, then we can apply this exemption to Hertz, the rent-a-cars, to Mack trucks and what have you.

"The bill is going to cost $6.5 million, as stated by Senator Kawasaki. The Senate has killed this bill for six years. I hope we can add Number 7 to it tonight."

Senator Soares then rose to ask: "Mr. President, I am a director of marketing for one of the airlines and I'd like to know whether I'm in conflict or not?"

The Chair ruled that Senator Soares was not in conflict and that he will vote on the measure.

Senator Soares then remarked: "Mr. President, if I'm going to be forced to vote I should speak for the bill. And that is that I think it's a matter of record that for six years the bill has fallen by the wayside. I think that it's not fair for my predecessor...Senator Kawasaki, to be specific, to indicate that the airlines are 'fat' because right now we're 'bare bones' and barely making it."

Senator Saiki then rose to inquire: "Mr. President, I sit on the Board of Directors of one of the airlines, Hawaiian. I'd like to know if I'll be in conflict by voting on this bill?"

The Chair ruled that Senator Saiki would be in conflict and will be excused from voting.

At this time, Senator Abercrombie rose to inquire:

"Mr. President, I'd like to know if it would be cheaper for me to go to Kona, if the bill passes? I'm quite serious. I wonder if anybody can answer that question?"

Senator Soares remarked: "I'd be happy to be his host to go to Kona."

Senator Abercrombie continued: "The question really was quite serious, and I think the answer was probably serious too, and I'll take Senator Soares up on that...but I don't think I go quite that cheap.

"If I had some idea that as a result of the passage of this bill there would...it would benefit the consumer, including all the people who fly interisland, not only ourselves, but our guests in the state, I think that I might be more inclined to consider it, but I think what will happen here is that if we pass this legislation there will be a windfall to the companies that are involved which will not in turn provide for the consumers that I have mentioned, anything in the way of relief, I don't think that passing tax relief in this particular form is in the public interest."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried and Stand. Com. Rep. No. 515 was adopted and, Roll Call vote having been requested, S.B. No. 397, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

ORDER OF THE DAY

RE-REFERRAL OF HOUSE BILLS

The President made the following re-referral of House bills that were received on Wednesday, March 18, 1981:

House Bills Referred to:

No. 742 Committee on Human Resources

No. 920 Committee on Human Resources, then to the Committee on Ways and Means

No. 1871 Committee on Human Resources, then to the Committee on Ways and Means

At this time, Senator Ushijima rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

"I was shocked and distressed, this morning, when I read in the paper that I was one of those who cast an aye vote in favor of the capital punishment bill. That certainly is far from the truth. In order to set the record straight, I would like to again cast my vote, 'no.' Thank you."

Senator Soares also rose on a point of personal privilege:

"I rise on a point of personal privilege because I am the other half of that mistake in the morning Advertiser.

"Mr. President, I have been an advocate and supporter of the capital punishment bill for as long as I've been in these halls. I'm a very strong proponent for it. I wish to cast my vote again, 'aye.'"

Senator Abercrombie rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

"Mr. President, I noticed in the same paper to which previous senators have referred this morning, that there was a story concerning the recommittal of the bill to have newspapers make a public disclosure (A Bill for an Act Relating to Newspapers), a bill which we heard, rather we did not hear last night in terms of the vote, rather which was recommitted.

"I noticed that while the publisher of that paper's commentary on the issue was well reported this morning, the paper neglected to put one bit of information into the paper, and I hope it will be corrected today, namely that with this bill staying alive in committee by virtue of its recommittal, that perhaps the Advertiser might not raise its advertising rates for the next year.

"That little piece of information was left out of the paper, and I would like to inform the public that the Vice-President, Senator Kawasaki, put them on notice and it's too bad they didn't see fit to report it. Maybe that's because they contemplate doing exactly that same thing."

The Chair then commented:

"The morning paper has a reputation of being very consistent in not putting out things that may prove embarrassing to them so this is par for the course, so to speak."

Senator Carpenter rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

"Mr. President, this morning on one of the local radio stations there was a minor media uproar regarding a bill which passed this house last night, S.B. 334, S.D. 1 (A Bill for an Act Relating to Dogs and Other Domestic Animals). Some of the commentary went that we are making it a crime for young people to own pets, in particular dogs and cats, and that the assertion further went that we don't want our children to have the love and care of man and woman's best friend.

"Mr. President, this couldn't be further from the truth. The bill, S.B. 334, S.D. 1, the purpose of which is to limit the ownership of dogs and cats to persons 18 years of age and older is to protect the neglected dogs and domestic animals and to provide authority to any county to execute contracts for a program for the identification of dogs and cats with any society or organization for the prevention of cruelty to animals.

"Ownership can be separated into two categories--ownership in principal and ownership in fact. In principal, the children of our state still own their dogs and cats, but in fact, it is the adult brother, sister, parent or guardian who is the legal owner of the pet and who is responsible for the action of the pet. This measure speaks to fixing the accountability and responsibility to adults.

"It would appear that some people have short memories. In October of 1979, the Honolulu Advertiser commented on the fact that large dogs attacking children are a menace in our city and should be controlled and they called for a stronger law--dog laws. Owners not leashing their dogs impose pets upon innocent bystanders and people who fear large animals, and believe it or not, some of our citizens are deathly afraid of many pets.

"On Oahu there are over 40,000 dogs as of 1979 and roughly half of these animals are unlicensed. Laws which penalize owners of dogs that attack people are the legal recourse for dog victims. If a child under 18 years of age owns the dog then he or she more than likely would not be sued and cannot be prosecuted. On the other hand, neglected animals are a pitiful sight. Dogs and cats left to roam to fend for themselves often starve and turn vicious because of the lack of care and attention that a well-loved pet deserves.

"Mr. President, the City and County of Honolulu has four ordinances presently in effect relating to dogs. One is dog licensing; the second is a dog leash law; the third is a barking dog ordinance; and the fourth is an anti-litter law.

"Mr. President, I'd just like to suggest that perhaps the individuals in the media who would like to comment ought to perhaps appear at some of our hearings and the discussions that we have held in the full light of day and night and if they want to make some comments that would speak to the genuine issue they are more than welcome to do so. Thank you very much."

Senator Ajifu then noted:

"Mr. President, just a reminder to the Senators that we have passed a resolution and the Governor has declared today as Agricultural Day, and the beautiful flowers that you have on the rostrum there are in commemoration of Agricultural Day."

The Chair thanked Senator Ajifu.

On motion by Senator Abercrombie, seconded by Senator Young and carried, S.R. No. 161 was adopted.

At this time, Senator Abercrombie remarked as follows:

"If a sport is a physical activity that human beings train for in order to compete at, then bodybuilding is certainly a sport, and yet as Sigmund Kline, one of the founders of modern bodybuilding, indicated at one time, bodybuilding as such really is not a sport at all; it is a very serious performance of art, I believe.

"One of the things that bother millions who don't know how to look in terms of bodybuilding is the confusion over how and where these two meet, that is sport and art. Since very few people have ever been to a body contest, they have no way to understand how having muscles can be a competitive thing, since they live in a time when physical features are generally not regarded very highly unless there are circumstances that have the approval of the community in general. Then they are practically never regarded in aesthetic terms, so it is difficult to imagine how bodybuilding can be an artistic thing.

"We are used to sports where body is a means, not an end in itself, and it seems a feat to a lot of us for a sport to require nothing more of the body than just to be presented for viewing. What are all those muscles good for, I mean what can those guys do with them are the sort of practical questions that you hear. The fact is that they can usually do a lot of things with them.

"The gentleman who is with us today is not only an exponent of bodybuilding, but probably one of the best representatives this United States of America has ever had in world terms, in international terms, as far as meeting and greeting of people is concerned and being a representative of this country. But that fact is not the point; the point is that the nature of bodybuilding competition is aesthetic, rather than athletic. There are other sports where artistic judgments determine competition like diving, show-riding, figure skating, free-style skiing. And there are still others like tournament fly-casting or skeet-shooting where skills are tested as divorced in the practical application. Bodybuilding is a little like those sports; in its stylization of movement and concern with ritual, it is little like bull fighting. But largely, it's unlike anything else, and really to be able to enjoy it, to learn how to look, to learn how to compete, it's helpful to begin with just these basic suppositions.

"First, for anyone who would like one, here is a definition. Contest bodybuilding is athletic training of the body for artistic competition; to enjoy or understand it, you need to suppose, first, that the body is a beautiful thing capable of being worked and perfected like a piece of sculpture; and second, the product of that work can be a serious subject for contemplation and visual enjoyment.

"If there is any embodiment of someone who is among the most pleasant individuals that one could meet, someone who is kindhearted, courteous, someone who exemplifies self-discipline and willpower, it is our guest here today. He started in Newark, New Jersey, worked his way across the country to California, set goals for himself to become eventually, Mr. Universe, which he accomplished in 1979. He works for Mayor Bradley in Los Angeles with various juvenile delinquent gangs and, needless to say, has a great deal of respect among all of the people in the City of Los Angeles.

"Mr. Vice-President, before we recess to meet our guest, Mr. Dave Johns, Mr. Universe, I wonder if we might have the opportunity to have him say a few words to us this morning?"

The Chair answered: "In view of the light calendar this morning, we will make an exception to our very restrictive rule about having people address this body. I will grant the gentleman the opportunity to address this body at this time."

Mr. Dave Johns then addressed the Senate as follows:

"Ladies and gentlemen and members of the Senate, it gives me great pleasure and honor to speak to you today. I am just going to say a few words.

"It's a pleasure to visit this great State of Hawaii. I come here every year, I enjoy coming back and I'm going to continue to come back because I think you have a great state here. Thank you very much."

Senator Saiki then rose to remark as follows:

"Mr. President, as you are a true advocate of women's rights I'm so glad to know that one of the whereas clauses in this resolution salutes Dave Johns who will be promoting the First Women's International Powerlifting Meet and Bodybuilding Exhibition at the Sheraton-Waikiki Hotel. I would like to recommend that you be there to watch how women can excel in this area just as well."

At this time, Senator Young presented Mr. Johns with a lei. Miss Hoffman, who is hosting Mr. Johns during his stay in Hawaii, was also presented with leis by Senators Carpenter and Cayetano.

At 11:53 o'clock a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

"My point is in connection with the press conference that was held in the Lieutenant Governor's office this morning to which, I understand, only women legislators were invited.

"My point is that that is a form of reverse sexism at its worst, because as far as I am concerned, there are many of us men that were equally outraged at what happened recently with all the publicity and the attendant pressure for a change in Hawaii's rape law.

"I don't feel that rape is strictly a women's issue because it happens in prisons, as well, to men. Regardless of the sex of the victim or the sex of the perpetrator, it is a crime and I think to issue an invitation to women only to express concern on this is just as sexist a form of discrimination as is the old adage that 'a woman's place is in the home.'

"I would remind my colleagues, both male and female, that it takes a majority to pass something and those who are in support of a change of this law have the support of us men in this chamber who have advocated change for years, and that we change laws by persuasion, not by pressure or by sexism."

On motion by Senator Young, seconded by Senator George and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted.

Senator Cobb then moved that Standing Committee Report Nos. 632 through 686, with the exception of Standing Committee Report No. 636, be adopted and the respective measures pass Second Reading and be referred to Committee, and the Journal reflect the proper chairman and vice-chairman of the respective committees making the motion, seconded by Senator Anderson and carried.

Senator Abercrombie then rose to inquire: "Mr. President, maybe you can give me a ruling as to how I should proceed. I'd like to ask you a question first. Has there been an exception made? Is my understanding correct that at least one of the standing committee reports has been exempted from this motion to pass?"

At 12:03 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:04 o'clock p.m.

Senator Abercrombie continued: "I'm not sure I'm acting in the proper procedure. I'll make the request and ask for your ruling. I'd like to request that Standing Committee Report No. 675 and House Bill No. 629, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, be excepted from the motion that was just made and be considered separately."

Senator Cobb interjected: "Mr. President, it's entirely a proper request and can be done if a single Senator so requests it."

The Chair agreed and ruled that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 675 and H.B. No.

629, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, be excepted from the previous motion.

Senator O'Connor then remarked: "Mr. President, I'm in favor of your ruling but I'd like the record to reflect that these standing committee reports and bills have been before us for only approximately 10 minutes, and there's been no opportunity to read them; and, therefore, any vote in favor of this rule certainly would not reflect the ability of the members to carefully weigh and look through each of the measures in order to make an intelligent decision concerning that vote."

The Chair replied: "That point is well taken; I will note that exception. The motion does not infer carte blanche approval of all of the bills."

Senator Cobb added: "I'd like to point out, in connection with the previous remarks, Mr. President, that these are for referral to subsequent committees, that is, the second committee will be given an opportunity to look at it. This is a matter of passage on second reading. To third reading, it would be quite a different matter."

The Chair replied:

"I think the objectors are fully cognizant of that situation. All your comments are so noted. There's nothing in the Rules to prevent discussion on second reading."

Senator Abercrombie then rose to speak against passage of the measure on Second Reading as follows:

"Mr. Vice-President, I realize that it is not often that there is discussion on second reading, especially with the movement to another committee, but perhaps then it is appropriate that such discussion takes place when there is a particularly important point to be referenced with respect to such a discussion at the second reading, emerging that we vote 'no' on this bill at this time before it moves to Ways and Means, as a clear signal to the people who are seeking raises this year, whether it is in the Judiciary or in the Executive and in other areas, that we will not do so. The reason for that is not that I oppose such raises. I do not. I oppose them at this time. I think I oppose them for a very good reason.

"I have done, in the course of legislative activity this session, examining not only the budget that I have responsibility for in education, but other budgets as well, as they come to the Ways and Means Committee, and in discussions with other chairmen and members of committees, and it is apparent to me that we are involved in a virtually schizophrenic situation--almost publicly schizophrenic.

"We ostensibly have a surplus in our treasury. We are preliminarily passing numerous bills granting tax relief of one form or another to individuals, to corporations, to institutions, to groups. We find ourselves, at the same time, taking a public posture in some instances of having to cut budgets because of spending limitations required in the Constitution, or at least this is to what we refer when we discuss it.

"We find the Executive cutting budgets right and left--in my own particular Committee on Education, a $45 million cut...a cut of 135 teachers. We find committees being formed and hailed in the press; for example, in the foreign language area where the Governor is appointing committees and getting headlines for it while the Governor is cutting every single penny for foreign language study out of the school budget, which I find just short of absolutely amazing. I am looking forward to the day that the committee that the Governor has appointed will teach its first class in foreign languages. I don't know where the money is going to come from.

"The Health Chairman finds himself in a position of having to deal with numerous private grant requests and as Culture and Arts Chairman I have numerous grants and requests in the private area to deal with. All of the individual groups involved making good cases. All of whom I must tell and I know the Health Chairman has to tell and maybe there are other chairmen, as well, who have various private grant funding involved in their committees... all of whom have to be told that they may not be funded, or funded to the degree that they would like or that they deserve, because of our spending limitation.

"So, here we have this schizophrenic situation. We have a surplus, and how is it that we cannot fund even in current services.

"I want to remind the members of this body that in my own committee the school children of this state face a substantial cut in the millions of dollars, in the tens of millions of dollars, in their current service budget. I'm not even reaching any expansion item for current services and yet we are to give raises.

"Now, I am in sympathy with giving raises especially in the area of the Judiciary because I think that we want to attract qualified people who have not only a sense of public service, but not have that public service utilized as an excuse to pay them poorly in the Judiciary. But everybody has to make sacrifices I am told, according to the executive orientation, and that our school children must make sacrifices too. Quite frankly, the adults in the Judiciary are not sacrificing too awfully much at the moment. They are earning a pretty good salary; they have secretaries; they have clerks; they have libraries; they have offices; they have access to materiel and personnel that they would otherwise have to be paying for in private practice. They have accepted a public service role just as we have here in the Legislature. They deserve to have some attention paid to their salary situation, but not at the expense of the fundamental expenditures necessary to provide for the public good at this time, and until and unless this Legislature comes to terms with fundamental funding and financing of basic programs in this state, I think it is immoral and clearly not in the public interest to pass pay raises for officials either in the Judiciary or the Executive.

"That's why I'm urging that we vote 'no' now, and then take up the proper business of funding the necessary programs and individuals in our state; and once that is accomplished and once we see what the effects of all our tax cuts are, our tax cut proposals, then we can determine whether we have sufficient funds to go ahead with raises which I would then be happy to vote for next session. But, in lieu of that and prior to us coming to that conclusion which can only take place at the end of the legislative session, to vote now even to move to Ways and Means pay raises for the Judiciary or anyone else seems to me to fly in the face of common sense and a decent regard for the people of the State of Hawaii."

Senator Carpenter then rose to speak for the passage of the measure on Second Reading as follows:

"Mr. President, in moving for the bill to go forward to Ways and Means, the idea is to put it before the proper committee, the Committee on Ways and Means. The Judiciary contemplated pay increases should be evaluated by Ways and Means, along with the Executive pay raise contemplations, and along with the University of Hawaii pay raise contemplations.

"Mr. President, the numbers indicated in this bill reflect a maximum of 10% which, prorated over the last five years, would indicate that the maximum increase per year would be no more than 2%. I understand that the bill for the Executive pay raises would speak to the order of magnitude of approximately 7%.

"I believe that there are several philosophical differences as well as economic considerations that may exist between pay raises for the Judiciary, the Executive, and, i.e., the university types and, I believe, these are more properly the purview of the money committee, Ways and Means. We'll certainly abide by their recommendations to this entire body.

"Thank you."

Senator Cayetano added his remarks as follows:

"Mr. President, I understand the concern of the previous speaker regarding the education budget, but I would hope that instead of pinpointing one section of our government, such as the Judiciary, if we are serious about approaching budgeting as he suggests, that even if we granted or did not grant the raises proposed for the Judiciary, or for that matter for the Executive, which comes up to a small amount of money...if we really want to make some waves here, we'd better look at the entire collective bargaining package that comes along, because that's where the big money is.

"Let's not be selective when we talk about these things...I mean, if we want to ask our judges and executives to make sacrifices, then maybe we should go down a little lower and talk to the teachers also."

The Chair then remarked: "I think the point you make is well taken, but some of us fully hope to vote against all pay increases for all categories of employees."

Senator Cobb also added his remarks as follows:

"Mr. President, in view of that encouraging remark, I'd just like to stand up and point out that the bill contains a new concept in it, as far as executive level pay raises go, and it's something that is attempting to address a long-range solution to the problem--namely, that if we fail to devise a mechanism to address future pay raises, we'll find ourselves in precisely the same boat four to six years down the road that we found ourselves in the 1975 session, and that is, having to address substantial executive level pay raises in a highly controversial manner and voting them in a lump sum.

"The language in the bill basically addresses the question of judicial pay raises and ties them to the same level of increase as the general wage of the private sector or all workers in Hawaii, not just government workers. This a new concept, I recognize, but I think it's one that will begin to address the question of how the man in the street reacts to these kinds of pay raises, in saying, 'Hey, let's wait a minute; let's take a look at this and see if the overall wage increase is 5%, maybe we ought to limit our executives to the same thing. And if we have a good year and our overall wage increase in the state is 10% over a two-year period, then that's fair and reasonable too.'

"I think the Ways and Means Committee is the proper committee to look at this and I urge them to do so because it is a new concept, but, also, it is a serious attempt on the part of the chairman and the committee to address this problem so that we won't find ourselves in the same situation again. It also provides for legislative oversight, and I commend this to the attention of the committee members in Ways and Means. Thank you."

The Chair remarked: "This is one day I'd like not to be presiding here so I could join the good Senator from the Sixth District in his very cogent remarks against passage (Second Reading) of this bill. I might suggest to the members of this body to make available to themselves copies of President Reagan's inaugural address, as well as his address on his budget presentation to the Congress. Perhaps then some of these issues will be settled very easily."

The motion was put by the Chair and Stand. Com. Rep. No. 675 was adopted, and H.B. No. 629, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE JUDICIARY," passed Second Reading and was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Yee then rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege, for all of us, in regard to what has happened today in Washington, D.C. to the President, his staff and other people.

"I think it grieves all of us to hear, by radio, that someone again has taken a bold, crazy attempt to shoot, with purpose to kill, the highest elected official of this country. It's very sinful. We've already lost two great men, President Kennedy and his brother

Bobby Kennedy, and now this is another attempt. I think this is a disgrace to our people.

"An elected official's position is difficult because he or she must make decisions that are going to hurt some people and benefit others. All we can say at this particular point in time is that everyone of us in this country should reassess, re-evaluate ourselves and respect the leaders of our country for what they are trying to do.

"I think the age of permissiveness should be over, and it's high time justice deals a quick and fast blow, so that this can be a lesson in the direction that our country will go in treating people who have wanton disregard for the lives of others.

"I would like to ask that this body adjourn today with wishes for the speedy recovery of these people. Thank you."

"The Guam Legislature is a unicameral body consisting of 21 senators and, according to party affiliation, there are 11 Republicans and 10 Democrats.

"Senator Tanaka and Senator Quan are visiting Hawaii and observing the proceedings of government in operation here in Hawaii.

"Mr. President, it is my pleasure to introduce Senator Tom Tanaka, Speaker of the Guam Legislature, and Senator John Quan, Assistant Minority Leader."

Senators George and Young presented the gentlemen with leis.

At 11:48 o'clock a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 11:50 o'clock a.m.

At this time, the Chair invited Speaker Tanaka to address the Senate.

Speaker Tanaka addressed the members of the Senate as follows:

"Thank You. Mr. President, Honorable Senators, it is really quite an honor for my colleague, Senator Quan, and me to be invited to witness your session today. A very special thanks to you, President Wong.

"We bring with us the warmest greetings from the people of Guam to the people of Hawaii and it now gives me the opportunity to publicly thank you for the many, many support we have been receiving not only from this Senate, but from your Senator Inouye whom I visited in Washington last week, and Senator Matsunaga, and, also, Representative Akaka, for coming to the support and assistance of Guam when we've requested for their help.

"As I mentioned, I come from an extended trip to Washington and the Virgin Islands. In Washington, I was able to touch base with the new Administration, to at least bring to bear the economic recovery plan which Guam intends to pursue in light of a possible cut in our budget.

"We have severe limitations in being a territory, unlike a state, where we don't have many options open to us. We have decided to pursue the positive approach in addressing some of the federal constraints, legislative constraints which prevent Guam from any viable economic progress.

"We've met very possibly with the new Director... Secretary of Agriculture to pursue a public law mandate to find once and for all the viability of agricultural development on Guam. We have been away from the land for forty-some odd years. We have lost the technical knowledge, and although we have been told time and time again, 'agriculture is a viable alternative' we've never really fully pursued it.

"Prior to the war, the Island of Saipan and the Northern Marianas Commonwealth used to provide Japan with all of their sugar needs, developed to the extent that they had put in railroads and other port facilities.

"We're also here on the invitation of Senator Inouye to look at your tax-free zone to see whether this is a viable option for Guam. We have to pursue these areas right now because, unlike a state, we don't have the powers to try to make up for the lost revenues in increased taxes. We only have one tax-making authority and it's the 10% surtax which we can immediately implement.

"We're also pursuing the idea, and I'd like to maybe invite the Senate to pursue the idea of joining with us and the new emerging island nations of the Pacific towards the creation of a Congress of the Pacific.

"As many of you know, we now have the new Republic of Palau, the Federated States of Micronesia, the Commonwealth of Northern Marianas, and they have a new association with the U.S. For the new Republic they have a free association in which they can on their own enter into new economic associations with foreign countries, an association not shared by the Island of Guam. Guam will pursue this, and I will pursue this in writing, personally writing to your President Wong, to set up a meeting for sometime this summer.

"Again, I'd like to thank you for the very warm Aloha spirit shown to my colleague and me today. I thank you for the opportunity and the privilege of addressing this Senate. Thank you very much."

ORDER OF THE DAY

THIRD READING

H.B. No. 770, S.D. 1:

on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Yee).

Senator Abercrombie rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

"Mr. President, I note on the communication sheet today--boards, commissions and committees--there are no nominations for the Board of Regents. In light of the management audit, in light of the various controversies concerning the capacity of the regents to do the job at the University, it's extremely disappointing to me that the Governor has not seen fit to nominate members to the Board of Regents even at this late date. We will be faced with a situation which has existed in the past, which I've commented upon previously, of having to deal, in a very short time, with nominations for the Board. In all likelihood, it will be extremely difficult to have the kind of hearings that are necessary to bring the University back into shape. And at this particular juncture, I'm quite concerned that we'll be unable to do the job in examining the qualifications of whoever is nominated in this short period of time.

"I can assure you, when the list does come down, that if this delay in bringing the names is meant to somehow try to force names through without a searching examination of the qualifications, it is indeed a mistaken tactic, or strategy, or whatever is involved in it. I think it is a clear disregard of the public interest to delay the nomination of regents to this time."

Senator Saiki then stated:

"Mr. President, I certainly would like to assure the good Senator from the Sixth Senatorial District that no one is going to shove anything through my committee."

At 11:58 o'clock a.m., on motion by Senator Cobb, seconded by Senator Anderson and carried, the Senate stood in recess until 3:00 o'clock p.m., this afternoon.

Thursday, April 2, 1981

The Senate of the Eleventh Legislature of the State of Hawaii, Regular Session of 1981, convened at 11:30 o'clock a.m., with the President in the Chair.

The Divine Blessing was invoked by Mrs. Patricia Herlinger of the First Church of Christ Scientist, after which the Roll was called showing all Senators present.

The President announced that he had read and approved the Journal of the Forty-Fourth Day.

The following introductions were then made to the members of the Senate:

Senator Anderson introduced a group of 45 members of the Senior Citizens Nutrition Program from the Waikiki area who are on a visit to the State Capitol and Washington Place.

At this time, Senator Saiki rose on a point of personal privilege and stated as follows:

"Mr. President, I believe the ladies and gentlemen who are with us today from Waikiki will be the last group which will visit the Capitol as part of Andy Anderson's senior citizens program. I think it is very important for us to know that when our state, five years ago, dropped the senior citizens visitation program, our colleague Andy Anderson decided to continue the program with his own energy and his own funds.

"The program has allowed thousands and thousands of senior citizens the opportunity to visit the Capitol, Washington Place, and Iolani Palace, and to come and watch this Senate in action. You have heard him every morning of the session introduce his group.

"I think that it is very important that over the past five years of the existence of this program, Andy Anderson has very generously, out of his own pocket, put out over $15,000 of his own funds, and more than 7,000 senior citizens have come here under his auspices.

"On behalf of the Senate, Mr. President, I would like all of us to salute our colleague, Andy Anderson, for giving our senior citizens a most worthwhile experience, and I certainly hope... and I'm sure you will join me in hoping... that this spirit of generosity will continue for many more years, because you see, Mr. President, there really is a Santa Claus."

The members of the Senate acknowledged Senator Anderson with a round of applause.

Senator Holt then introduced, on behalf of the Senators from the Fifth Senatorial District, 26 fourth grade students from the Hongwanji Mission School and their teacher Mrs. Dulcie Oshiro.

House Bill No. 150:

By unanimous consent, action on H.B. No. 150, entitled: "A BILL FOR

AN ACT PROPOSING AN AMENDMENT TO ARTICLE I, SECTION 10, OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF HAWAII TO PERMIT FELONY TRIALS AFTER PRELIMINARY HEARINGS," was deferred until Friday, April 3, 1981.

Senator Carpenter moved that H.B. No. 174, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Cayetano.

At this time, Senator O'Connor rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I'd just like to say a brief word about this. This is a bill which would take the plea of nolo contendere in an antitrust case where it is given by a defendant, and prevent it from being used in later civil antitrust action.

"The purpose of this law as it presently exists is plain and that is to deter antitrust. We are requested to do this both by the Attorney General's office and the business community as it benefits each. The Attorney General's office will be able to get more people to plead guilty in its criminal side, and the business community will therefore benefit.

"I suggest that the purpose of this law is to deter antitrust across-the-board.

"Pleas of nolo contendere are taken as pleas of guilty in court and treated as such by the court. There's no reason in the world why they shouldn't be used later in a civil action in order to ensure that antitrust is deterred in the future.

"I would vote 'no' against this bill."

Senator Cobb briefly stated: "Mr. President, I am going to vote 'no' for precisely the same reason."

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against this bill. This bill will give the police officer the right to arrest anyone at any time for a crime without probable cause.

"We've come a long way in our judicial system, in our legal system and, generally, over the years it has been required, first of all, that for misdemeanor cases a police officer witness the crime before he is able to arrest. We changed this law just last year, and we allowed arrest for misdemeanors, where the police officer had probable cause to make the arrest when the facts and circumstances within the officer's knowledge or where he had reasonable, trustworthy information in order to make the arrest.

"With this change, we essentially go back to what could be a police state. I urge all members to vote against this measure."

At 12:04 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:05 o'clock p.m.

"I would like to request that the Chair adopt some other method of handling these bills that are recommitted to preclude members that are not privy of the fact that they are going to be recommitted from going through an awful lot of work and research in looking at the bills, determining whether or not they are meritorious or have demerits, and coming to the floor ready to argue for or against them, only to have the bill recommitted at the twenty-third and three-quarters hour. There must be a better way of running a railroad."

Senator Cobb responded: "Mr. President, in direct rebuttal to that, a lot of the decisions to recommit are not made until the caucus meets and a discussion is held on the bill, and then if there is agreement in the caucus either to a recommitment or a deferment of one day, it is made; so it is not until the perusal of the bill by the majority of members of the Senate is conducted that any such decision is made."

Senator Anderson added: "Mr. President, I might add that for 18 years I've had the same thing happen to me."

Senator Cobb responded: "Welcome to the majority."

Senator O'Connor then asked:

"Mr. President, could you have those caucuses a little bit earlier than immediately before the third reading; maybe if you had them one day earlier the rest of us don't have to go through so much effort."

ORDER OF THE DAY

THIRD READING

House Bill No. 66, H.D. 2, S.D. 1:

Senator Yamasaki moved that H.B. No. 66, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Anderson.

At this time, Senator Kawasaki rose to inquire as follows:

"Mr. President, may I direct an inquiry to the chairman of the committee, please?"

The Chair answered in the affirmative.

"The language in the committee report says that while we make a $5,000 appropriation for the protocol fund, this will be matched on a one-to-one basis by the Office of Hawaiian Affairs from revenues derived from the Public Land Trust proceeds. Does that mean a total of $10,000 for the protocol fund?"

Senator Young replied:

"No, my understanding is that this $5,000 will be limited to the protocol fund and that the rest would be matching funds."

Senator Kawasaki added:

"For a total of no more than $5,000 for the protocol fund?"

Senator Young answered: "Yes."

Senator Kawasaki then expressed his concerns as follows:

"Mr. President, I wish to speak against the passage of this bill.

"I'm a little concerned about the almost carte blanche approval of 32 positions for an office that is not quite in one year of existence. I don't know that we could give this kind of carte blanche approach to a request for staffing. If they find out, after one or two years' experience, that this number of positions are required, that is one thing; but right at the outset, at the inception of this particular agency's operation, for us to say, 'okay, you've got some 32 positions,'... I don't know if they even know how to use these 32 positions.

"I think perhaps this is a relinquishment of some legislative control... some reasonable control. For that reason and the protocol fund, again, I think we are setting a bad precedent in designating, by statute, a provision for a certain amount of money for a protocol fund.

"We have the Governor's budget for his own Washington Place operation, which of course takes into consideration a lot of the requirements for the Governor to have certain protocol funds. We don't call it protocol funds. We give him a $250,000 allotment for his incidental expenses and a contingency fund, but we don't designate anything as a protocol fund. Once we start doing this, using this kind of a term, then perhaps other agencies will be coming to us with a specific statutory designation of a fund called protocol fund; and I don't think the taxpayers, in this era of inflation and high cost of living for them, are going to take too kindly to us establishing a protocol fund.

"These are some of the reasons I have and for these reasons I wish to vote against the passage of this bill."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 66, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE OFFICE OF HAWAIIAN AFFAIRS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

1. By amending page 1 in its entirety to read:

'SECTION 1. Sections 445-41, 445-42, and 445-43, Hawaii Revised Statutes, are amended to read as follows:

'§445-41 Annual license.
No person shall operate or permit to be operated on any premises under his control, for profit any video or electronic game or any machine or device used as a game or sport in which balls or marbles are projected against obstacles governing their course toward or away from various slots or receptacles, without first having obtained from the treasurer of the county an annual license therefor, for which shall be charged, and collected as a county realization, the sum of $5 for each machine or device.

'Nothing herein shall be deemed to authorize the licensing of any gambling device.'

'§445-42 Penalty. Any person violating section 445-41 shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than one year, or both, and any such video or electronic game or

2. By amending line 4 on page 2 to read:

'to play video or electronic games or machines; penalty. It shall be unlawful for any:

3. By amending lines 5 and 6 on page 2 to read:

'person operating or in charge of the operation of any video or electronic game or ball or'

Senator Anderson moved that the amendment be adopted, seconded by Senator Cobb.

Senator Ushijima then asked:

"What does the amendment do? Will the Senator explain?"

In answer thereto, Senator Anderson replied:

"The amendment would make the playing of video or electronic game machines by minors, a penalty, as it is with pinball machines."

Senator Ushijima questioned further:

"What is a video machine?"

Senator Anderson answered as follows:

"A video machine is a machine that you will find in some of these commercial houses of television screen types; a video is a television electronic game played by electronics."

Senator Ushijima then asked:

"Is it bad for minors?"

Senator Anderson replied:

"Yes, I think it's bad for minors, Senator, as is a pinball machine; I think the playing of these games by children throughout the state is bad; I think school lunch money is spent on the machines; I think it's a place for loitering; I think it adds to truancy; I think it adds and contributes to possibly school hijacking of lunch money from one student by another. I personally feel very strongly about this."

Senator Ushijima then remarked:

"I had the impression that it was very educational."

Senator Anderson stated:

"That could be your judgment."

Senator Kawasaki then rose and remarked as follows:

"I, too, oppose passage of this bill, primarily because I think the playing of these video machines by kids is quite a common practice. Unfortunately, not all kids have families opulent enough to be able to afford these little attachments that they use on their home TV sets. I know certain friends of mine who have these things and they cost a good deal of money; and for kids who are this fortunate, that's fine, but I think a lot of kids do not have this kind of home environment, and perhaps just precluding the ability to spend a quarter to play one of these games may not be really fair to some of these kids whose families can't afford it. I just wonder if we're not getting a little too restrictive by passing this kind of a bill."

Senator Anderson noted:

"Mr. President, just to clarify that briefly. These so-called video games for home utilization are as low as $19.95. That's not too many quarters, compared to what these kids are spending all day long in these amusement parlors."

Senator O'Connor remarked:

"Mr. President, this is a bad year for children. We've taken away their dogs; we've taken away their cats; and now we're going to take away their Star War games. The momentous things before this body are astounding."

Senator Abercrombie then stated:

"Mr. President, I too would be as amused as the previous speaker and some others, if some of the points raised by Senator Anderson were not so serious. The plain fact of the matter is that, again, with respect to the previous speaker's commentary, we've obviously not taken anybody's dog away from them or cat. On the contrary, what we did is on behalf of those who are trying to stop cruelty to animals.

"In this particular bill--on the surface it might seem to those who have taken only a superficial glance--that we are unduly restricting or unfairly preventing young people from having some source of amusement. On the contrary, if one is privy to the reports that I have been getting recently since becoming chairman of the education committee, you will find that the points briefly but incisively stated by Senator Anderson are in fact true. The fact that we have not had sufficient coverage in terms of truancy, sufficient reporting in terms of criminal activity on campuses, people concerned about what's happening to young people on the basis of the kind of profit they are able to derive from their activity; the fact that all these things have occurred is not an excuse to continue to either allow it to occur or to encourage it. If we are to deal with truancy, if we are to deal with the real problem of hijacking on the campuses, if we are to deal with the problem of juvenile delinquency associated with it, I think that it's only right that we do it at this time.

"I don't see that there's any harm coming from anything that we have done previously in association with liquor, in association with cigarettes, in association with preventing or causing laws to come into existence to protect minors from exposure to adult films. All of these actions are taken on behalf of people, who be definition, unless they are emancipated by law, are assumed to be under the care of responsible adults.

"The situation we find right now is that we have simply acquiesced to allow these things to come into existence where minors are concerned, and have not taken into account deliterious effects that have taken place. They're not simple amusement in many instances, quite the opposite, and the points raised by Senator Anderson in defense of his amendment are such that they should be taken and regarded with the seriousness of the propositions that were put forward, that are inherent in the propositions that were put forward by him."

Senator Kawasaki then noted:

"Mr. President, just to clarify some information that was articulated by the good Senator from the Third District. These adapters for home use are supplementary to using your TV set. These adapters cost on the average of $179 and each of these cassettes with different types of video games cost about $21 apiece, so it's not $19.91 as has been stated by the good Senator."

Senator Anderson remarked:

"Mr. President, as one who has been in the business for a long time in these kinds of machines, they are as low as $19.91. Now, if you have a Cadillac taste, I guess you can buy it like you buy a Cadillac, but there are machines on the market, very, very low and very, very reasonable. There are, of course, the more elaborate ones which you spend $149, $159 for, but this type of game allows you to buy an ongoing type of cassette where you can have a trillion different games as the years go by, like razor blades, but there is a range, and there is a limitation. To stand up and say there is no inexpensive game is ridiculous, and I might say, also, Mr. President, that maybe this is an extreme position, but in conference there is common ground.

"We aren't trying to deny children access to these machines; maybe accompanied by an adult is a reasonable ground that we can arrive at in conference. I do not believe that, as it stands today, it is reasonable or fair. I think these children, in their lack of wisdom and knowledge, need guidance. We have a hundred laws in which we prohibit children from making everyday decisions in his or her life; but putting these machines next to schools and in places where temptation is very, very great, where they spend their lunch money, and where they spend money that they can hijack from other children and where they pump their entire allowance is ridiculous. I think there is common ground on which to bring these under control and to allow the police and the parents some control of kids loitering and gathering and spending all of their allowance.

"I think it's a good amendment and hopefully, in conference, we can find common ground."

Senator Cobb then rose and stated as follows:

"Mr. President, I think it might help to put in legal context--the purpose of this bill as it came from the House--what we're trying to address in the floor amendment.

"This bill, as it came from the House, would have repealed Sections 445-41, -42 and -43 of the Hawaii Revised Statutes to comply with the recent State Supreme Court decision. The court ruled that the law's prohibition against the operation of pinball machines by minors has 'the effect of singling out an activity which is not inherently different from those which are legally permissible.' The court found that the playing of electronic and video games by minors, which is not prohibited by the law, was not inherently different from the playing of ball or marble machines.

"The effect of this amendment then is to make the law consistent and to address the problem raised and judged upon by the court--namely, to eliminate any distinction from the playing of ball and marble machines and the playing of video games.

"For that reason, Mr. President, I think the amendment should be adopted."

Senator O'Connor then commented:

"I guess poor old Kane Fernandez loses all of his games too, because the kids have a terrible time with their lunch money at Kane Fernandez' games at all the school carnivals."

The motion to adopt the amendment was put by the Chair and carried.

In accordance with Article III, Section 15, of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, the 48-hour notice was given on H.B. No. 185, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO BALL OR MARBLE MACHINES."

ORDER OF THE DAY

THIRD READING

House Bill No. 1, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

Senator Yamasaki moved that H.B. No. 1, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Anderson.

At this time, Senator O'Connor remarked:

"Mr. President, before we get to the amendment, I note that pages 45 and 46 of the bill that is before us are different from pages 45 and 46 of the bill which was placed on deck for us two days ago, to wit and more specifically, on page 45 at line 21, there has been an insertion and paragraph 12a, which appears on page 45, has been shifted to page 46, and the whole matter has been retyped.

"I raise the question, procedural question, whether or not the bill, which we are acting upon--which is on our desk--is the bill which was laying for 48 hours on the desk of this body."

The Chair, therefore, asked the Clerk to explain what took place.

The Clerk then stated:

"A typographical error was made on pages 45 and 46. Paragraph 12 should have continued, and 12a was inserted in between. The wording is all right, except that we put 12a in the wrong place."

"Mr. President, has the Chair received an opinion as to whether or not this conforms with the constitutional requirement--the bill isn't identical."

The Chair replied:

"As far as the Chair is concerned, the error was a mechanical one and the bill stands as corrected. The reasons are technical and the Chair finds no defects in the bill, in meeting the 48-hour requirement."

Senator O'Connor then offered the following amendment:

SECTION 1. House Bill 1, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, Section 63, is amended to read as follows:

Senator O'Connor moved that the amendment be adopted, seconded by Senator Campbell.

Senator O'Connor then stated as follows:

"Mr. President, the amendment before us has to do with the grants-in-aid which are contained in Section 6 of the budget document. In reviewing the grants-in-aid, which are contained in the Senate version of the House bill, one finds that there are approximately $2 million which has been cut from the grants-in-aid which were proposed by the House. A few of the grants-in-aid were increased, but the vast majority of them were cut.

"In looking through some of these programs, which were terminated and/or substantially cut, one finds many, many deserving and worthwhile programs in this community for which there are no comparable state programs. For that reason, this particular amendment has been generated and the total dollar figure for the amendment is approximately $2 million.

"As I read it in the newspaper, the entire budget, which is before us, is approximately $2 million below the ceiling established by the statutory formula, therefore, there is no reason why these programs cannot be returned to the amounts as suggested in the House. These amounts generally are not the amounts each of the programs would want, but nevertheless, they are amounts which would allow them to proceed and operate."

"I'm sure each of the individual members of this body, as they go through this document, will find specific programs which have to do with their individual districts. I was appalled, personally, to discover that in my district, something that many of us had worked assiduously for, the Kapahulu Senior Center, was cut out entirely from a proposed amount of some $75,000 by the House, down to zero. Other areas of concern in the community, particularly in the area of drug and alcohol related care facilities, have been cut so badly that they would be incapable of continuing if this budget, in fact, is enacted and put into operation over the next year.

"I received a call this morning from a facility which has operated on Sand Island for at least 20 years that I know of and which has provided maximum alcoholic care for certain people in this community. The particular budget for that facility has been cut to a point where they will not be able to operate if this becomes law. And on and on. . . .

"Our telephones have been buzzing with these items, Mr. President, because the money is there; because it would be cruel not to utilize it for these people. Therefore, we offer this amendment which reinstates, for each of the organizations outlined, the amounts suggested by the House. Thank you."

Senator Kawasaki rose to speak against the amendment as follows:

"Mr. President, I am in support of a resounding defeat of the amendment proposed by the Senator who just spoke. I can't seriously believe that the insertions that are contained in this amendment, substantially what the House proposed, is something that the good Senator from the Seventh District, as well as other proponents of the amendment, really examined closely.

"I don't think any member supporting the amendment has given the time and the scrutiny that some of us have to these grants-in-aid requests. If I had my way, I'd have more agencies contained in the bill and some of the other amounts cut even further. Some would be restored like that of the Kapahulu Senior Center that the Senator mentioned because I believe that over on the House side, the vice chairman of the Finance Committee happens to be a strong supporter of the bill, and after the conference committee deliberations, some inclusions will be put in the final conference bill. I support funding of that program.

"In regard to other programs that he mentioned, particularly in the drug and alcohol rehabilitation program, we find that there's more boondoggle in this category of human services programs than in any other that you can think of in the grants-in-aid entire spectrum of programs, and I can't believe that the proponents of the amendment put in the kind of time, the kind of effort in scrutinizing some of the budget requests relative to staff salary increases, staff increases, travel allowances--some of these things.

"Had the grants-in-aid standards bill, which we passed over to the House last year, that we again passed over to the House this year, had that been enacted into statute, a lot of these requests and a large portion of the numbers that are contained in the amendment here would be reduced drastically, very drastically, because they would not be able to stand up to the scrutiny of a well designed grants-in-aid standards bill that we sent over to the House.

"So, I am asking that the amendment be defeated in a resounding way, as I put it, because I think what is reflected in the budget bill is somewhat of a compromise, but we hope to refine it further. I can't believe, seriously, that they want to adopt the House position because the House position is reflective of some programs, some appropriations that are totally unjustified in terms of spending taxpayers' money wisely."

Senator Uwaine then rose to ask:

"Would the good Senator from the Seventh District yield to a question?"

Senator O'Connor answered in the affirmative.

At 5:25 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 5:29 o'clock p.m.

Senator Uwaine continued:

"Mr. President, if the good Senator from the Seventh District can refer to page 5, the third item, Hana Like Home Visitor Program. The present bill, as it stands now, appropriates $70,000; the good Senator's amendment offers a change to $75,600; a difference of $5,600. Could the Senator explain to me his justification for this difference of $5,600?"

In answer thereto, Senator O'Connor noted:

"The reason is obvious. In its wisdom, logic, knowledge and thought process, the Finance Committee of the House decided that $75,600 was necessary for this program and in our review of the matter, it's obvious that the additional money can well be used. As a matter of fact, it appalls me that one would not go along with the additional $5,600 for this worthwhile organization."

Senator Uwaine then added:

"Please thank the good Senator for his great wisdom. Thank you."

Senator Anderson then rose on a point of information as follows:

"I'm a little mixed up. Would the Senator from the Seventh District answer a question, please, on the amendment? In your amendment, sir, to H.B. No. 1, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, it states: 'Section 63 is amended to read as follows:' and then you amend Section 85. Section 63 has to do with $100,000 for litigated tax claims. Could that be a typographical error?"

Senator O'Connor replied:

"That's the same type of typographical error, Mr. President, that occurred on the original bill when we had the two pages screwed up."

Senator Cayetano then remarked:

"Mr. President, I note the amendment covers a great deal of the grants-in-aid in the health area, and I'd like to ask the Senator from the Seventh District whether he had the opportunity to go through each grant application."

Senator O'Connor answered:

"No, I have not gone through every-one, but most of these speak for themselves. The context, the organization, the request for the monies, all these matters have been before this body many times, and I would suggest that they are well known to all people who have been here for any length of time."

Senator Cayetano questioned further:

"Mr. President, the good Senator from the Seventh District mentioned an alcohol treatment facility on Sand Island, and I notice that his amendment would increase the appropriation from $15,522 to $77,618. Can he state for us the reasons for this difference?"

In answer thereto, Senator O'Connor noted:

"Yes, that half-way house on Sand Island functions primarily as a facility for holding businessmen, labor people, a variety of people from the community who are inflicted, unfortunately, with the disease of alcoholism. The capacity at the facility is approximately 25; the in-house stay is anywhere from 10 to 20. This includes these unfortunates who are victims of alcoholism and in addition certain staff people who are required to come and aid them."

"The amount which is suggested in the Senate budget is totally inadequate for that house to function; totally inadequate for the professional aid that is necessary for the poor people that are there. The amount that is suggested by the House is less than adequate but sufficient to keep them going, and that's why the change is suggested."

"Mr. President, the fact of the matter is that this particular organization, if my memory serves me right, was not even funded by the Legislature last year. As a matter of fact, one of the reasons it was not funded was because it was a very inefficient organization. It got a lot of money from the federal government, and finally the federal government wised up and the money has dried up this year."

"So, for us here in the Senate, the question was--when we considered their appropriation--should they go into the private sector and try to raise more money for themselves, which they had not done with any degree of effort because they had the federal government to go to, they had the State to go to, or should we make up the loss in federal funds?"

"It's very, very simple. Last year we didn't fund this organization. It's a very wasteful organization. My recollection is that the salaries are quite high, double in fact to that of an organization called Liliha House in which the people running the place were working for about half the money. Their travel costs were high. My recollection is that they had a bill of about $4,000 or $5,000 for repairs and gas for one car."

"These things are all just coming from the top of my head, but this particular organization which Senator O'Connor happened to single out made such an impression on us in Ways and Means (committee) last year that we deleted the funding for it. Now, this year they're getting $15,000. I consider them lucky."

Senator O'Connor then noted:

"Mr. President, that particular organization is the oldest alcoholic control organization in Hawaii, founded by the Acoholics Annonymous organization, and seven years ago that particular house saved the life of one of my law partners."

Senator Uwaine then rose to ask:

"Will the good Senator from the Fifth Senatorial District, who seconded the motion for this amendment, yield to a question?"

Senator Campbell answered in the affirmative.

"Mr. President, if the good Senator could answer for me, why--on page 7, the fourth item--Kaneohe Community Senior Citizens Council--there's a zero appropriation as proposed by the original bill and this amendment offers $6,000 increase from zero. Will the Senator justify that for me?"

At 5:36 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 5:45 o'clock p.m.

Senator Campbell then stated:

"Mr. President, I served with the good Senator on the House side. I was vice chairman of the Youth and Elderly Committee and I had an opportunity to learn first-hand what happens in the senior citizens' centers around the state. When the Senator suggests why restore $6,000 for this senior citizen center in Kaneohe, I'm inclined to say, really, why not much more, but I'm more concerned about getting on with the voting, therefore, I will not ask the Senator, why zero.

"I will say, in closing, simply that the senior citizens of this state are facing a tremendous problem, which includes inflation, and any help that we can give them, they deserve. Thank you very much."

Senator Uwaine remarked:

"Mr. President, although the Senator from the Fifth Senatorial District did not ask me that question, I'll be more than happy to answer it.

"I also believe in the senior citizens program, Mr. President, but I do draw lines in distinguishing between helping the program and providing funds for things that are unnecessary, and things that could be used by other programs.

"For example, the Kaneohe Community Senior Citizens Council, through their $6,000 application for grant money, was requesting the money for a chain-link fence and for building an additional room to the building for the live-in caretaker. Because of the distinction between providing for a chain-link fence and providing services that are needed by all the agencies, your Committee on Human Resources decided to give zero funding. Thank you."

Senator Yamasaki rose to speak against the amendment as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against the amendment for this reason. The staff and members of the Ways and Means Committee have reviewed the requests of the various special agencies that have come before the committee for funding. The committee and also the staff have not compared the requests of the agencies with what the House has given; therefore, we have made an independent review of the requests by the agencies and in the judgment of the committee, we felt that it was best to go into conference with the figures that appear in H.B. No. 1, on these grants-in-aid proposals. Therefore, I urge the members of this body to vote down the amendment."

Senator Abercrombie inquired as follows:

"Mr. President, I have a question for the chairman of the Public Utilities Committee. If you will have him refer to page 7 of the amendment, the fifth item from the top, I wonder if he could give me an opinion as to whether he agrees with the new figure for that particular item."

Senator Soares answered:

"Page 7, Senator Abercrombie? Item five you say? I was just about to speak to that. I was delighted and at the same time concerned as to whether I should vote for or against the amendment because when I see $1,600 more for the Hawaii Council on Portuguese Heritage, I begin to realize that there has to have been a lot of research done by members of the minority of this body to come up with this difference in figures. I will have a difficult time making a decision either for or against the amendment, to tell you the truth, Senator Abercrombie, because it does indicate the talent and the foresightedness that we have in this body."

"Mr. President, on a more serious note, my question was directed not entirely for the purpose of diversion. It illustrates the difficulties that are involved here. I'm speaking against the amendment. Everyone is quite aware that we now face a conference in the Legislature between the Senate and the House. Everyone is quite aware that these figures can be fluid. One need only refer on the same page, for example, to an organization under formal education, of which I have a particular interest. There is an $800 difference between the figure put forward by the Ways and Means Committee and that suggested in the amendment for an organization on the Island of Maui, which is the home island of the chairman of the Ways and Means Committee.

"I don't think this is the time for disputing these figures with these kinds of differentiation, but rather it should be stated for the public record that we are passing this budget with the clear understanding that we have a conference to attend to, and that we have put these figures forward in good conscience and in good faith and that the members of the committee who voted on these were not entirely in agreement on every single item that went in. Some of us were disappointed; some of us were elated; this is part of the legislative process.

"We have to take these grants-in-aid in context of the overall state budget. I could stand here and lecture somewhat at length on the difficulties involved in trying to arrive at a reasonable conclusion in terms of the education budget. I could make an emotional plea, if you will, which would resonate in the community, probably to my benefit, in the sense of the approbation of the citizenry where education is concerned. But, at this particular juncture, it would be a rhetorical device; it would not serve the function of the passage, it would not serve the function of dealing properly in terms of legislation at this stage of considering the budget.

"So, I urge that this amendment, at this time, be voted down because the budget before us is a well considered result of many, many days and nights of consideration, and that it forms a solid basis for negotiation with the House, and a position for the Senate from which we may conclude our deliberations somewhere around the 23rd of April, in a manner which will do not only this Senate proud, but make sure that the citizens of this state can be rest assured that they have been well served by the budget process."

Senator Anderson stated:

"Mr. President, I'd like to add to that serious vein of discussion because I think it's important and I speak to voting down the amendment. We don't vote down the subject matter or the details in dollars. Nobody wins, as has been said for many, many years, in a budget; nobody is ever totally happy.

"We spent the other night in the Ways and Means Committee from 1:30 in the afternoon until 8:30 the next morning--a nonstop marathon--on the budget and many hours were spent in discussing the grants-in-aid.

"The good Senator said earlier, for the proponents of the amendment, that there's a $2 million margin, therefore fill it. Well, we do have a ceiling put on us by the people and I don't think it will be very prudent, even though my learned colleague thinks different, to spend the $2 million at this point. We have no idea, as we sit here today, how many dollars are going to be approved by the House and the Senate for those dozens and dozens of appropriation bills floating around on subject matters that we are unfamiliar with at this point--whether the House and the Senate are going to agree on how much it's going to cost. We don't know, as we sit here tonight, the differences between the House and the Senate budget and their potential in proposed cuts because the worksheets haven't been exchanged between the two bodies at this point, and therefore we may find ourselves above the ceiling if those worksheets don't overlay more accurately.

"So, at this time, while it's publicly very wise, of course, to offer amendments of this type, these agencies will have another go-around in the conference. When we better understand the worksheets and the differences between the House and the Senate, when the bills before us begin to fall into place that have appropriations in it, when we see what the Governor may or may not do with the collective bargaining, when all of the other figures are put to the table, Mr. President, we will be in a better position to possibly up these grants-in-aid. So, at this time, I don't think it's lost. I think the amendment and the proponents are sincere in their concerns for these agencies. I can only say, for one, that I hope that we take another round on them."

Senator George then remarked:

"Mr. President, I would like a ruling from the Chair. I am a director of the Hawaii Planned Parenthood whose budgetary request appears on page 6 of the amendment and also within the bill."

The Chair replied: "No conflict."

Senator O'Connor stated:

"Mr. President, I would reply in a serious vein to those senators who just spoke concerning this amendment.

"This amendment is not offered in a political nature. It is offered seriously; it is offered because some of the programs contained in the amendment do need the funds which are stated there. I appreciate some of the comments concerning conference and concerning positioning, but I do not believe that the programs that are stated in this amendment and in Part 6 of this budget are political animals nor should they be positioned politically for any sort of conference situation. There are some of these items which I trust and hope my colleagues, who will be in the conference committee, will look at and do something about because some of them desperately need funding.

"I would point out that it is appalling to, for example, cut back the Salvation Army Addiction Treatment Facility by a half a million dollars. It is appalling, also, to me that the Neighborhood Justice Facility at Makiki, which is serving a tremendously worthwhile situation in this community, taking a load off the courts and simultaneously taking care of hundreds of cases, does not get the $100,000 that was asked for.

"I could go on and on through each of these items. I will not do that, but I am sincere and serious in offering this particular amendment. If we have the money to do it, then these particular programs, in areas where the State offers nothing, offers no comparable service, should get State help."

Senator Cobb then asked:

"Will my colleague from the Seventh District yield to a question? Does my colleague from the Seventh District feel that we should, if necessary, exceed the State spending limit in order to take care of these grants?"

In answer thereto, Senator O'Connor noted:

"Mr. President, there's no requirement to exceed the State spending limit if we're keeping a cushion of $2 million and the proposal before us comes within that cushion, which it does. That's why the amendment is offered, and at this juncture I offer it because there is that money and it can be expended for these worthwhile causes."

"Mr. President, in recognizing that in conference items are probably going to be added from both sides,

I would repeat, whether or not the Senator favors, if in conference it becomes necessary to exceed the State spending ceiling in order to grant full funding to all of these projects."

Senator O'Connor replied:

"My personal position at this juncture is no. I do not personally favor exceeding the limit, and as I understand this bill and the House bill, neither go that route. I would hope that our conferees come back from that budget conference with a bill which is within the spending limit."

Senator Holt then rose and stated:

"Mr. President, I've been receiving a lot of phone calls today from people in my district and outside my district, concerning this budget--the cuts that were made. As one glaring example of particular interest to me--I'm not sure which one of you individuals who stayed up from 1:30 in the afternoon until 8:30 the next morning is responsible for it--it has something to do with the Palama Interchurch Council, page 7. I'm wondering if someone here could explain why they wiped the whole program out."

Senator Yamasaki replied:

"Yes, Mr. President, it is our information that the Palama Settlement..."

Senator Holt continued:

"Excuse me, it's not that one, it's the Palama Interchurch Council--the appropriation of $62,000--our budget doesn't have any money at all."

Senator Yamasaki commented:

"It is our information that the Palama Interchurch Council has adequate funds in their budget, and therefore it was the feeling of the committee that we could proceed to the conference with zero."

Senator Holt added:

"Mr. President, the $62,000 is for the immigrant-youth program of the Palama Interchurch Council. It is the only program which has Visayan and Ilocano speaking workers in the Honolulu area. What this essentially does is wipe them out. They do not have funds available for these workers. Thank you."

The motion to adopt the amendment was put by the Chair and Roll Call vote having been requested, failed to carry on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 7. Noes, 18 (Abercrombie, Ajifu, Anderson, Carpenter, Cayetano, Cobb, George, Henderson, Kawasaki, Kobayashi, Kuroda, Saiki, Soares, Uwaine, Yamasaki, Yee, Young and Wong).

Senator Yamasaki moved that H.B. No. 1, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, having been read throughout pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Anderson.

At this time, Senator Yamasaki rose to speak in favor of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of H.B. No. 1, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, 'Relating to the State Budget and Making Appropriations for the Fiscal Biennium, 1981 to 1983.'

"Mr. President, your Committee on Ways and Means has attempted, in this budget, to adhere to funding basic government operations and for programs and projects determined to be urgent and necessary, which directly affect the people of this state.

"The budget before us provides for an expenditure of $2.3 billion in the biennium, in general funds. As the committee report indicates, the state budget is normally looked upon as the instrument for routine provision of government goods and services. However, it is also the proper place for the development of needed new policies and programs which address the state's most urgent problems.

"Crime and Delinquency in Hawaii, Prospectives for the '80s' a paper prepared by the Youth Development and Research Center, School of Social Work, University of Hawaii, clearly identified crime and delinquency as the major social problem throughout our nation and Hawaii. Social and economic costs of delinquency are increasing rapidly at an alarming rate. Seriousness and urgency of the problem is reflected in current over-crowded institutions and its corresponding problems.

"The Center for Law and Justice of the University of Washington, after studying 600 or more delinquency and control programs, concluded that specific strategies and approaches have the most promise for delinquency prevention. Judge David L. Bazelon, Senior Circuit Judge for the U.S. Court of Appeals in Washington, D.C., on February 28, 1981, in his comments on Chief Justice Warren Burger's recent call for 'swift and certain consequences' against criminals said: 'It is a short-term solution that would not end street crime. The real roots of crime are associated with a constellation of suffering so hideous that, as a society, we cannot bear to look it in the face.' He continued on to say that 'The threat of prison may be a meaningless deterrent to one whose urban environment is itself a prison.'

"Therefore, in addressing this problem, your committee has included a sum of $1,400,000 for a major pilot project to be installed at the Castle High School complex covering approximately 4,500 students in eight elementary, one intermediate and one high school, with grades 6 to 12 being in the target population. The alternative education program, with various components, is designed in accordance with specifications of the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention, Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, U.S. Department of Justice.

"Other supplemental appropriations for programs in the prevention of crime efforts are contained in the budget document. A brief description of other programs in the budget are elaborated in the committee report, and the programs of the Senate for the people of this state are embodied in the budget as well as in separate legislation emanating from the various subject committees.

"Mr. President, I urge the unanimous vote of this body on the budget before us, and I would like to, at this time, take this opportunity to thank the members of the Ways and Means Committee for their participation in the many deliberations and to the subject committee chairmen for their recommendations and cooperation--last, but not least, to the entire staff of the Ways and Means Committee for a job well done within our allocated time frame. Thank you."

Senator Campbell rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against the budget which is before us today.

"This budget has many good points, and as the previous speaker has indicated and I know that other senators are going to emphasize the good points of this budget, therefore, I would not take up the time of the Senate to enumerate some of those points. I feel I'm called upon to point out some of the problems.

"Mr. President, when you read the budget statement on crime, and the previous speaker has emphasized the crime prevention aspects of the budget, but when you read that budget statement, one is bound to get a good feeling concerning the prospects of getting on with the business of seriously fighting crime in this state.

"This is the way it reads in part: 'In recognizing that the budget can and should be used as an instrument to develop and execute policy to address the most urgent problems, your committee has focused on what must certainly be the most urgent and critical problem in Hawaii: the problem of crime and delinquency.' The budget statement continues: 'The urgency of the problem suggests the need for action....'

"When one notes, Mr. President, the optimism which exudes from this budget statement concerning crime prevention, and when one reads the press accounts which convey that optimism to the people of this state, one is bound to conclude that our people are going to get their hopes up a little too high. I think our people have been plagued with the most serious rash of crimes recently, and I think this makes them ready prey for 'pie-in-the-sky' proposals. This, I think, we should avoid at all cost.

"Mr. President, let's have a brief but closer look at what this budget proposes to accomplish in the area of crime prevention. I know that the previous speaker emphasized this, but let's have a close look at what the budget has to say in this area, which is not being done at the present time. In other words, what new or innovative programs for crime prevention are provided in this budget? In addition to adding considerable funds to ongoing programs, the budget provides, as the chairman just mentioned, one pilot program at one high school complex. This seems to be the extent of programs in the budget designed to depart from the abominable status quo. To throw money at old programs has not worked in the past. I doubt it would work in the future, and when I say this, I refer to money in the budget which is going to programs that are ongoing.

"Mr. President, I think at this point, I might want to digress for a moment to say something about the pilot program funded by this Legislature since there's been such emphasis on that by the previous speaker. Pilot programs are limited in scope, geographically, as well as persons they are designed to help. Pilot programs are almost always funded for too long a period of time. This three-year Castle program is funded for two years, but Mr. President, I predict that the Legislature will be positioned, in two years, to extend this pilot so that the pilot becomes not an exploratory tool, as it should be, but an ongoing program, and if it is successful, slow to be applied to the rest of the community.

"I think most of us senators here remember the school health aide program was a pilot program for ten long years; at least it was a pilot until some of us insisted that we had learned enough about the simple need for a health aide to be on duty in a health room at all schools at the time school was in session.

"So much for that digression. Now, in my judgment, one of the major flaws in the budget strategy was to cut spending for some of the effective programs designed to curb juvenile delinquency and juvenile crime, and we've talked about it quite a bit in a discussion on the amendment. What has happened is that we have applied a large part of those funds to the Department of Education. But what this has done is of some concern. It has left the Department of Education without some critically needed support services in the community to help it prevent youth crime. Large sums were cut from some private agencies, as we mentioned before, whose programs in the area of crime prevention are well known. I had planned to list some of these programs but I think we've listed most of the programs that have been cut and I think that it's an unnecessary waste of your time to do that--that list goes on and on.

"Now, it's been pointed out that this budget is going to conference. This does give us an opportunity to make some important changes related to the crime prevention area.

"Mr. President and members of the Senate, I have some suggestions which I would hope the Senate conferees on the budget will take into account.

"The first suggestion--along with the increases in the DOE budget for school violence and vandalism, by proviso, I think, we should mandate that the DOE come back with a timetable indicating when the people of this state can expect the rate of violence on our campuses and vandalism to school property will begin to take a downward turn. There is something seriously wrong with the fact that a youngster can enter a school system in the kindergarten or first grade and by the time that youngster gets to the upper grades in high school, he or she has a string of arrests for criminal activity. Without a doubt we lost track of that youngster on his way to an education.

"The DOE has the capability of keeping this youngster on track. It has diagnostic services capable of identifying a troubled youngster as early as kindergarten. It has referral services and alternative programs to meet that youngster's needs. The only thing that seems to be lacking or missing is the proper coordination of the resource capability of the DOE. With some program revision, with some personnel shifts, and probably additions in personnel, the current referral and alternative program of the DOE can meet the needs of our teenagers.

"Mr. President, these are some considerations which must be made if we are to avoid the tragic incidents that are getting us worldwide negative attention, and I refer to such incidents as the hijacking of a tour bus during school hours by two teenage boys.

"The second suggestion--it goes without saying that much of the teenage crime is drug related. Here is a report which should make my point. According to the Hawaii State Survey on Substance Abuse, Hawaii has a significantly greater percentage of persons who have used cocaine and heroin than the Mainland. This Senate, in conference, should give serious consideration to this problem.

"The third suggestion--this budget has supplied well over $2 million to expand the child abuse program. We learned that after a child abuse report is made, it could be two weeks before it is responded to. The budget statement should mandate that this situation be corrected.

"The fourth suggestion--the budget gives a substantial amount of money to counties to fight crime and rightfully so. When the counties appeared before the Ways and Means Committee, I asked Mayor Tavares of Maui, 'what kind of flexible timetable for turning the corner on crime can the people of our state expect from our counties?' The Mayor replied, 'Maui County will turn the corner in fighting crime by 1983 or 1984, and if not, I would feel that somewhere along the line I have failed.' The Mayor of Maui supports a position I have held for a long time, Mr. President, and that position is that the people of this state deserve to know when the crime rate is going to take a downward trend. I think the budget statement should request, of our counties, a flexible timetable, nothing etched in granite, but a flexible timetable related to the problem of crime.

"My concluding statement on school violence has to do with the appearance of the Department of Education before the Ways and Means Committee. Mr. President, when they came before the Committee they said school violence and vandalism was on the decline. I was surprised at the statement, but I had to take the word of the Department. I picked up the newspaper a day or so later and was shocked to read the headline 'Violence Rampant in State Schools.' In the future, I hope greater emphasis will be placed on responsible reporting to all committees of this Legislature on the part of the Department of Education.

"In closing, may I simply say this, and this is in a different vein. As reflected in the language of the committee report, the Ways and Means Committee was under great strain in trying to fund needed programs and at the same time staying within the spending limits. It is difficult for the people of this state to understand why this Legislature does not adequately fund needed programs when we have a hefty surplus. This is a case where the surplus is not a surplus. This Legislature must address the problem of this synthetic surplus, and we should do it as soon as possible. Thank you very much."

Senator Kawasaki rose to speak in favor of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of the bill. I am at a loss to understand the position taken by the previous speaker, because if he had his way and this bill is defeated, then there'd be no basis upon which the Senate can get into conference to improve the bill in the manner he suggests.

"I am in somewhat the same type of dilemma. I reflected, in the last 48 hours, on how I was going to vote for this bill because to say that I am unhappy with this budget bill is putting it very mildly, but voting it down or voting 'no' for it would not particularly enhance the probability of my serving on the conference committee to sincerely try to improve the bill. I will vote for the bill. However, I do have very definite reservations that I hope could be resolved in the conference committee with hopefully very rational people on the other side of the rotunda.

"My reservations, just to enumerate the more important ones, are that this budget does not reflect any change in helping to bring about some equity to the taxpayers of this island in the way we apportion our grants-in-aid. We've known for decades now that the bulk of the revenues raised by our state treasury is derived from the Island of Oahu; roughly about 85% of the total revenue derived by the state comes from the Island of Oahu. However, in the reapportionment of the grants-in-aid monies, Oahu has been receiving roughly in the neighborhood of 42% of the total appropriations. This is a gross inequity. This results in the taxpayers of Oahu, who already bear the very high burden of living in the county that has the highest cost of living, the county that has the highest priced residential lots--these people have to bear the cost in addition of helping to subsidize the cost of operating the outside county governments. I've tried my earnest best for a decade now, and particularly in this session, to have language put into the grants-in-aid portion of the bill that will bring about some equity.

"The counties, meeting among themselves, also came about with some resolution to this problem. They have come up with a formula that improves a bit this inequitable apportionment of the grants-in-aid funds to the counties. These efforts on the part of the counties and the efforts of my committee, apparently went for naught because I see that there's nothing reflected in the budget that brings about a little more equity to bring some relief to the Oahu taxpayers. Hopefully, in the conference committee some of these concerns could be understood, and then shared by the conferees both from the Senate and the House.

"I find it rather hard to accept a budget bill that appropriates, as I have mentioned in the caucus, some $110,000 for a program that's been going on for many, many years called 'Ethnic Studies Oral History Project.' This is merely a project that tape-records some old-timers so that we can get a bit of history perspective from these people. This program has probably been going on for years and in the budget bill we allocate $110,000 for it. Someone from the caucus room talked to me right afterward, saying: 'You know, I did a program like this for Governor Burns when he was alive, and it only cost me $2,500, and I think I did a rather good, complete job.' $110,000 is appropriated for this ongoing program--of many years--another $110,000 for next year. I asked the person who is involved in this project, Chad Taniguchi, 'how long would it take you to complete this project,' and very seriously he told me, about two years ago, he thinks about 15 years. I said: '15 years...this is nonsense. What kind of projects are involved in it; how many people are you taping?' In any case, this is the kind of waste of money, which I think is reflected in this bill.

"I find also, much to my unhappiness, an appropriation of almost a million dollars, $907,000 to be exact, for the Legal Aid Society. Again, I feel this little program that started out with about a $65,000 appropriation a number of years back, now getting a million and another million next year. It's getting out of hand. I would like to see some changes made in the apportionment of taxpayers funds for this program so that we would allow monies to be spent from the taxpayers' funds for programs trying to provide legal counsel for the poor, only for the family services type of cases, not the class action type of suits that cost enormous amounts of money according to the breakdown of figures I obtained from the Attorney General's office.

"Other projects have been either misappropriated, over-appropriated, or under-appropriated. In regard to grants-in-aid that was alluded to a while back, I'm very unhappy with the very superficial, very arbitrary kind of allocation that's been granted to these requesting agencies, some over-appropriated, some under-appropriated, some not funded at all, as I said before.

"I would hope that all of these things could be resolved in the grueling hours that we know we're going to experience in the conference committee between the House and the Senate. For this reason, as I said, to enhance the possibility by my serving on the conference committee I will have to vote 'aye' for this bill very reluctantly. Thank you."

Senator Abercrombie commented:

"In very brief rebuttal to some of the principal thrusts of the speaker just previous to the last, the principal element lacking in public education, as far as the Legislature is concerned, has been leadership. That has been remedied with my chairmanship."

Senator Mizuguchi then rose to speak against the measure:

"Mr. President, I speak against the bill before us and I object in the strongest possible terms to the shameful deceit which is being perpetrated through this bill in the guise of seemingly selecting a general aviation site at Wheeler Air Force Base. This eleventh-hour sham will do nothing for aviation safety. Nothing even remotely suggests that Wheeler Air Force Base will be available for general aviation use. Even if Wheeler were available it is the wrong site to pursue.

"In the only comparative site analysis that has been done, 'The Oahu General Aviation Master Plan Study of 1978,' Wheeler's overall ranking was 12th out of 16 sites. It ranked 15th in air safety, 13th in environmental noise impact; 15th in the environmental safety impact. It ranked 11th in the key measure as to whether it could provide any relief for Honolulu International Airport. If joint use of a military airfield were a policy this body seriously wants to pursue, why should it be limited to one field which is flatly unavailable and unsuitable; why not Kaneohe Marine Air Corps Station; why not Bellows, which at least was once offered to the state and ranked much higher.

"I can only conclude that this is a smoke-screen for what the State Administration is determined to do. It is a disguise for the construction of an airport at Poamoho and for which this body has been sucked in as a shameful partner. How else can there be an explanation for the curious proviso which appears on page 46 of this budget?

"Take a look at what the proviso says in Section 12a, a section which wasn't in the House draft or even in the bill as introduced by the State Administration. I quote from the proviso on page 46: 'Provided that the funds expended for Airport Planning Statewide (TRN 195/F04) shall include the ongoing Environmental Impact process for a general aviation airport on Oahu.'

"I ask these questions of whomever wants to take credit for that proviso. Where else has there been an environmental impact statement going on except at Poamoho; why has this proviso been slipped in against the statewide planning program when it is properly chargeable against the general aviation program? I can only read this as a signal to the Administration that it can continue to proceed with the preliminaries at Poamoho while making the futile gestures toward Wheeler.

"This is deceitful, Mr. President, and I cannot abide by it; neither would the communities of Mililani, Wahiawa, Waipio, Waialua, Haleiwa, who deserve, from their senators, a lot better than this piece of trickery.

"Mr. President, I will vote 'no' on this bill because I will not be a party to any action which will break faith with the people that I represent, and I will not be a party to any action which will bring shame to the Senate. Thank you."

Senator Uwaine rose to inquire as follows:

"Mr. President, will the previous speaker yield to a question? Mr. President, if you could ask the previous speaker where does he favor putting the second general aviation airport."

In answer thereto, Senator Mizuguchi noted:

"In my district, Dillingham."

Senator George remarked as follows:

"Mr. President, I wonder if I might respond to the good Senator from the Fourth District in his concerns about this proviso, which appears on page 46 of this bill.

"The language is there as an explanation of an ongoing process. As the good Senator is probably aware, given his previous responsibilities in the area of transportation, the Department of Transportation has undertaken its environmental impact discussions and searches for an appropriate site given this particular budgetary number. This Transportation 195 designation refers to statewide planning, and that's the way they've conducted these studies previously.

"Given this selection, in the wisdom of the Ways and Means Committee of a renewed exploration of joint use of Wheeler Air Force Base, it seemed important to me that this not be construed as a signal to the Department to stop all work in progress while the new exploration was being made. Therefore, the proviso simply enables the Department, quite explicitly, to keep on doing what they already have the capability of doing. It's just a signal that they don't have to stop, given the new direction toward Wheeler. Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Cayetano responded:

"Mr. President, in response to my colleague from the Fourth District, first of all I find it regrettable that he uses words like trickery, deceit. I really find it regrettable that the same mouth that uttered these words, uttered the word Poamoho last year or the year before, I forget when.

"Let me say to all members of the Senate, and I think I speak for my two other colleagues from the Fourth Senatorial District, that Poamoho will not be in the final version of this Legislature's budget."

Senator Yamasaki stated:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak on the subject of the general aviation field which appears in the budget--namely, Wheeler Field, as the Oahu general aviation airport.

"Mr. President, the Senate draft of the budget names the site of the general aviation airport on this island as Wheeler. The State Administration's proposal to construct the airport at Poamoho has been thoroughly debated. The financial plan for the development of Poamoho anticipates federal participation of over $3.5 million over the next three fiscal years to assist in the financing of the airport. However, the recently enunciated national policy makes the assumption of federal participation extremely tenuous. The President's program for economic recovery calls for the elimination of subsidies for airports and will propose an increase in aviation use taxes beginning in 1982. Therefore, subsidy for the construction of an entirely new airport that will cost more than $20 million will never become a reality.

"On the other hand, with the emphasis of the new National Administration on shifting control and responsibilities to local state control, the possibility of joint use of Wheeler Field should be actively pursued with a plan of construction with state funds only.

"I realize that the military has consistently said, in their communications, that a military airfield in no way can be jointly used with civilian aircraft. The state should continue to pursue it as did the Hawaiians and the fishermen on the use of the Island of Kahoolawe.

"The Navy was just as tough in 1964, Mr. President, when Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 8 and House Concurrent Resolution No. 13 were introduced in the Senate and the House in which Congress was requested to enact legislation for the transfer of Kahoolawe to the State of Hawaii. The result of the fishermen's request was granted to allow fishing to be conducted in surrounding waters of Kahoolawe during certain open periods, and this arrangement is working well. Also, you are aware that the entire Island of Kahoolawe has been included as an archeological and historical site although the military bombing is still continuing.

"A case in point is also made of Puerto Rico's defeat of the U.S. Navy in the battle over Culebra Islands, a 6,000 acre island on the east coast of Puerto Rico. A spokesman for the Navy had told Congress that this island is essential to American security and a fitting target for bombing and shelling. Sixteen-inch shells and thousand-pound bombs shook the inhabitants of Culebra, but since national security is at stake, such things had to be accepted. The Puerto Ricans didn't buy this, and in about 1971, the Navy agreed to surrender control over the eastern two-thirds of the island and to halt firing of missiles near inhabited areas, and also to cease efforts to acquire more territory on the island.

"In addition, Mr. President, it is my preliminary calculation that the land use burden placed by the military on the people of this State of Hawaii, as compared to the people of the other 49 states, appears to be much greater. We are not asking that these lands be returned to the state. We are only requesting that joint use of our former state land be allowed for the safety of aircraft at Honolulu International Airport. Therefore, Mr. President, there is precedent established by the military, represented by the Department of Defense, and the request for joint use of Wheeler Field is not an unreasonable representation to be made in behalf of the people of this State of Hawaii.

"It is recommended to the State Administration that the specific proposal for the proposed development of Wheeler Field be developed for presentation to the National Administration and to secure Congressional support at the earliest date possible. Thank you very much."

Senator O'Connor then remarked:

"Mr. President, at the resounding comments of our Ways and Means chairman, the eagle upon the standard of the United States flag is turned around and sails off in the opposite direction, as opposed to the eagle upon the Hawaiian flag which flies forward, indicating obviously that Wheeler Field will be ours in the future, except I would have one other statement for the good and learned chairman. Just last year we lost the battle of Barbers Point. In the battle of Barbers Point, fought by the good chairman sitting directly in front of me at this time, the Navy wiped us out and we don't have Barbers Point. So, rather than getting into this wrangle in the Fourth District, I would address some other things.

"I rise to speak against the bill. I had a series of clever questions I was going to ask the chairman. Rather than asking them, in the essence of time, I will simply comment on some things I feel are very important in this measure.

"First of all--and I'm sure there'll be some comments on my comments--I will point out, in this bill, that there is a sterling comment on the top of page 2 of the committee report which says: '...the creation of various new special funds which would allow state spending to be pushed to higher levels...' and talks about loopholes in these funds. Mr. President, I would point out that on page 16 of the measure, in the operating budget, we create a new special fund for the emergency medical services organization and we push $1.2 million into it this year, and $2.4 million into it next year. That special fund, therefore, is not counted against the budget total.

"I will go on.

"I am very concerned, and I will speak at some length on this eye-wash having to do with crime and crime prevention. I am very concerned and I would ask the chairman to take note of the provision on grants to the counties in this measure, where there is contained the anti-crime provision of $1.2 million for prosecutors and police officers. I direct the chairman's attention to Article VIII, Section 5, of the Constitution which says: 'If any new program or increase in the level of services under an existing program shall be mandated to the political subdivision by the Legislature, it shall provide the state's share in the cost.'

The provision in this measure, cleverly drafted, mandates that the police and prosecutors not use this money for established programs; not use the money for anything that is in the county budget, but use the money for new programs--obviously, a county mandate pursuant to the Constitution. It will not take much, I'm sure, for the drafter of the final measure to change that and at least the state's share should be set out and the counties' share should be set out so that in ensuing years we're not stuck with putting this money year after year after year, into whatever programs the prosecutors and police decide they desire to establish with it.

"Further, I am concerned about the program at Castle High School--the $1.4 million. A small check at the University of Hawaii indicates, in the School of Sociology, this is a brand new, flat-off-the-rack measure, never been really debated in this body, not advocated by any committee that I know of, except the Ways and Means Committee. The $1.4 million is for essentially 4,500 students. It doesn't take a clever mathematician to figure out that that's $310 per student, and if that program works out, we are looking at $310 times 200,000 equalling $62 million per year for such a program, statewide.

"I would suggest that we really, carefully look at that, and we really, carefully look at some of these concepts and ideas that the School of Sociology is putting out because, as opposed to the idea that crime might be prevented by this program, it might be a crime to have the program in the school system.

"We learned our lesson, I hope, with the 3-on-2 program. We learned that the Legislature was not the proper body to put this kind of program into the schools without a lot of work, debate, effort and expert advice by those in the field, and I don't consider those necessarily, I may be wrong, that the advocates of this program, the School of Sociology, today are ready to implement this, even as a pilot program.

"I was tickled pink to hear the chairman of Ways and Means quote good Judge Bazelon in his initial comments. Judge Bazelon is an outstanding jurist; he was a moot court judge for our class when I went to law school. But the quote of Chief Justice Burger, I think, is apt. Chief Justice Burger has this year advocated the swift and certain conclusion of criminal actions as being the keynote, the keynote of any kind of criminal justice system or approach to handling the crime problem in the United States.

"There's nothing in this budget that even begins to address that problem.

There's nothing concerning speedy trials; there's nothing to beef up the system. As a matter of fact, the budget puts down that part of the system, and does not address it at all in any way. I cannot believe that athletic directors, that alternative learning centers, that additional vice principals in the schools are really going to turn this criminal problem around.

"In the particular situation that we are in right now in this state... we are faced with major problems that this budget simply doesn't address in the area of crime. Last year we passed a Juvenile Justice Master Plan--a great effort. In that plan, we advocated the establishment of child shelters, the renovation of the Koolau facilities, wayward youth correctional facility, the study for a new correctional facility at Koolau, intake service centers for the juveniles, and a new detention home.

"We are in violation of the federal law--we were then and we are today--in the detention home area, where we mix status offenders with hardcore juvenile criminals. Last year we advocated $3.5 million for Koolau, $900,000 for the study for a new Koolau, $365,000 for child shelters, more money for the intake service centers and the detention home.

"Last year, in its wisdom, the then Ways and Means Committee decided not to fund any of these things. Again, this year, we have but one cottage at Koolau funded in the budget. We need money for the other three cottages that are not only in need of repair and maintenance; they're in such disrepair that most people wouldn't use them for a garage. It's not in the budget. We need additional classrooms because the money in the budget is to renovate the Maunawili cottage which is today the school facility for that school, and there's no money for classrooms, temporary class buildings to handle the situation when that cottage is renovated. That amounts to an awful lot of money required in the juvenile area.

"In the adult area, there's been work going on in this community for the last year and a half in the corrections area; a lot of it by a committee of the Chamber of Commerce on crime, some of it by myself and others, having to do with what should be done at the various prisons.

"In the budget, we have two items--

$3.3 million for the acquisition of land in Halawa, potentially to be used for a prison site, and simultaneously on page 4-38, for the chairman, a request for a study to determine where that site should be.

"Now I say, Mr. President, it's kind of ridiculous to pinpoint the money for a particular site and simultaneously still study where that site would be. In actuality, the only place on this island that is available for a continued corrections facility enlargement is Halawa Valley, and there's land available there. There should be at least $8 million to $12 million in this budget for that. It's not here.

"Basically, it is simply discouraging that more specific crime prevention measures aren't in this budget. I don't deny that it is encouraging to see those specific programs outlined that are labelled crime prevention. They are going to do a lot for the Department of Education.

"I know that my good friend, the Senator from Manoa, will be just tickled pink to have additional school counselors, school securities, student activities, athletic directors and vice principals. All of those things have been advocated for several years and the school system needs them badly. However, I take issue, and I think the community will be deluded to believe, that those items are anti-crime measures when we so desperately need money and programs in other areas, and we so desperately need to follow up on the work that's been done over the last year and a half by many people in this community, in this area.

"In toto, the budget needs a lot of work. There are areas that simply cry out for more things.

"For example, I do take issue with my good friend, the Senator from Manoa, after saying that he's gotten many of the things that he wanted, I disagree entirely with the proviso that he put into the budget, or someone put into the budget, moving the whole DAGS repair and maintenance system from DAGS into the Department of Education. I know that some would raise their hands and shout and yell with joy on this measure. Some feel that perhaps DAGS should be kicked a little bit and made to do their job, and that would solve whatever problems existed in the past. I can't help but believe that this is going to cost us an awful lot more money in duplicated people, machines, effort, and work over the years, when we take away from DAGS and put into other government agencies, the duties that DAGS has carried out for many, many years.

"I take issue with the fact that in order to balance the budget, somehow more than a million dollars has been taken from that area which addresses safety from criminal actions and crime involvement outside the criminal justice system. I refer specifically to page II-31 and all of the programs listed thereon--a million dollars has been taken from that. I would urge that the chairman look at that and hopefully put some of it back. There are some good programs that have been cut in that area.

"All in all, we could go on page by page through the budget. Each of us has our own pros and cons, each one of us has the areas we've been concerned about, fought over, and worried about. Taking the whole matter together and particularly the cuts in grants-in-aid, which this budget presents, unfortunately I'm going to have to vote against it."

Senator Yamasaki responded as follows:

"Mr. President, I'd like to respond to the previous speaker.

"The previous speaker did say that in the appropriations made to the various counties, that we have a state mandate and therefore we may be saddled with additional costs as the result of the appropriation. However, I would like to refer the previous speaker to page 130 of the budget, to Section 93 which states: 'No appropriation authorized in this Act shall be considered to be a mandate, under Article VIII, Section 5 of the State Constitution, for a political subdivision to undertake new programs to increase the level of services under existing programs of that political subdivision.' So this is the catch-all phrase which saves us."

Senator O'Connor remarked:

"I appreciate, dramatically, the prior speaker's comments, but I need not be saved.

"I would suggest that it's not going to take any of the Corporation Counsels of any of the counties very long to disregard that entirely and look at the actual wording on page 68, which I know can be changed, but does set up a new program, does mandate the counties to use these funds in special ways, and does track right down the line with Article VIII, Section 5, of the Constitution.

"You can't say something is an elephant, and I use that word advisedly, and disregard the fact that it has a trunk."

Senator Yamasaki then stated:

"I would also like to point out that during the years we have spent money in our efforts to reduce crime in Hawaii, we have been spending millions and millions of dollars to apprehend, to adjudicate, to build facilities, and this cost is going to grow from year to year. The rate of crime is going to increase unless we have preventive programs in our school system and in the family structure, to see whether or not we can change the attitudes of the family, as well as our children, toward prevention so that these children will become law abiding citizens of tomorrow.

"The pilot project that we have referred to in the budget is not a project that we have dreamed up. It is a project that has been submitted to the U.S. Department of Justice with the invitation of LEAA, competing for funds with nationwide school districts and states. However, Hawaii was not granted federal funds for this project. We felt that if we are to reduce the cost of government in building more facilities--which will continue to grow somewhere, some day--we ought to have the beginning to reduce the incidents of crime, and the only way we can do it is to teach our children good behavior, within their school instruction so that they will become better citizens for tomorrow.

"It is in this vein that we have appropriated funds to prevent crime in Hawaii. We know that it's not going to be an instant answer to the prevention of crime. It is a pilot project; it's going to continue for two or three years at the most, and we are going to evaluate this program with community input to find out whether this program in the Castle complex is going to work or not. If it does, then, we hope that we can, with your assistance, be able to expand further.

"I think that we have to reach the 160,000 school children in the State of Hawaii, and make some beginning, make some start in teaching these kids, these youngsters, who will be the citizens of tomorrow and who may become the statistics in the newspapers 10 or 15 years from now. It is in this vein that we have attempted to try and pilot a program in the prevention of crime.

"Also, for your information, we have an appropriation of $20,000 to have the Governor of the State of Hawaii call a conference of not only school people, not only the police, not only the mayors, but also community people so that they can all participate and place their input in our efforts, in our try to see whether we can approach the problem of crime by really going after the youngsters to see that they are trained properly.

"As the previous speaker has said, we have provided for 32 additional athletic directors in our public school system. When these public school athletic directors came before the committee, we said to them that we are interested not only in having a first class team or building all-star teams or having all-star individuals, but we are interested in the boys and girls who are not able to make the first string or the second string in all sports activities in the schools or in the community. We want to have all of the youngsters participate in some sports so that we can have everyone busy attending to something after their school hours. We hope that with this kind of approach, we will be able to have the youngsters become useful citizens of tomorrow.

"I think that the approach that we have taken is a correct one. It's going to take a long while before we see any results, and the payoff is going to come when we may no longer be around and I'm sure that the youngsters who are going to benefit from such an approach are going to appreciate that we have done our best to reduce the incidents of crime in the State of Hawaii."

Senator Abercrombie commented:

"Mr. President, just in the interest of the record, for the good Senator from the Seventh District, the disaster that he anticipates from the pilot project at the Castle complex will be the result of work done by the School of Social Work, not by the Department of Sociology where I hold a masters degree."

At this time, Senator Toyofuku rose to speak against the measure:

"Mr. President, I speak against the bill. In doing so, I'd like to bring to the attention of the Senators that there is an item in the budget providing for monies for administrative operational expenses for the Division of Disability Compensation from the Special Compensation Fund rather than from the General Fund. This amounts to $8 million for the first year and $9 million for the second year, a total of $17 million for two years.

"The Special Compensation Fund is revenues derived from special assessment to insurers of employers and the self-insured. The self-insured includes all of the plantations and the large companies. The Special Compensation Fund is used to pay for second injuries.

"If the desire is to have this Special Fund pay for administrative operational costs, there must be specific legislation. This legislation must be passed to permit the Special Fund to pay for administrative operational cost. Of course, the cost to employers will be increased and this cost will naturally be passed on to the consuming public.

"Also, Mr. President, there are several hospitals that have been cut drastically in their operations. Hilo has been cut $542,000; Kona has been cut $474,000; Maui Memorial has been cut $310,000; Kauai has been cut some $107,000. Some of these hospitals recently completed extensions to their facilities and in order to continue operation these funds must be restored, otherwise they will not be able to open their facilities and provide the additional health care services to our communities. Thank you very much."

Senator Ushijima asked:

"Will the previous speaker yield to a question? What was the cost to Hilo Hospital?"

Senator Toyofuku replied:

"Hilo Hospital, $542,000."

Senator Ushijima then questioned further:

"In the Senate budget?"

Senator Toyofuku replied in the affirmative.

Senator Ushijima thanked Senator Toyofuku for his answers.

Senator Holt rose to inquire as follows:

"Mr. President, since I believe that maybe someone was sleeping when we were passing out grants-in-aid money to Palama Interchurch Council, I have a question as to whether the funding designation for emergency medical services is correct, where it provides for special funding.

"Can someone answer that question, perhaps the chairman--on page 16."

The Chair called upon Senator Cayetano as subject matter chairman to answer the inquiry.

Senator Cayetano replied:

"Mr. President, the funding designation was put in there in anticipation of a bill which provides for an emergency medical services special fund to be enacted this year.

"Very briefly, we're doing this to provide an emphasis to the Department of Health to pass the regulations which are necessary to permit charges for services performed by the emergency medical services. B&F informs us that the state, to date, has lost approximately $4 million over the past two years, and so we have approached it in this way to try to get them to move along."

Senator Holt questioned further:

"Can I then ask a follow-up question--what happens if the enabling legislation for the special fund should die, then what?"

Senator Cayetano replied:

"Well, Mr. President, if that happens, I think the idea is eminently a reasonable one. I think my contacts with the subject matter committee chairman on the House side seems to indicate that he also feels that it's a good idea and that the idea will be well received in the House. But, if that happens, then obviously we may have to make some adjustments in the budget in conference. Certainly, before such adjustments are made, we're going to feel out the House as to their thoughts on the passage of the bill which sets up the special funds for those services."

Senator Holt then remarked:

"Thank you, Senator Cayetano.

"Now, Mr. President, I'd like to make my point. The creation of new special funds this year subverts the intent and purpose of the expenditure ceiling. When the Committee on Taxation and Finance of the 1978 Con Con met to establish some form of limitation on state government spending, it was in response to a genuine concern of taxpayers that the cost of government should not consume an increasing proportion of their income. They felt that discipline was needed in the development and execution of spending policies and thus expressed wide support for a ceiling that would prevent state spending to be pushed to higher levels.

"The committee report of this bill states that the committee has followed several principles in developing the budget, including one which I quote: '...those constitutional provisions adopted by the people in 1978 which impose limitations on state expenditures from the general fund or through long-term borrowing are to be faithfully respected. Although loopholes exist, such as the creation of various new special funds which would allow state spending to be pushed to higher levels, there will be no circumvention of the restrictions directed by the Constitution.'

"Mr. President, your Ways and Means Committee has just utilized one of these so-called loopholes with the creation of this EMS special fund just to stay within the spending ceiling. They have done so at the expense of many other needed social programs. The establishment of this special fund has, in effect, set up a pick-and-choose funding precedence with no rationale for which people-oriented programs will be saved and which will be abandoned.

"The expenditure of general fund monies derived from general excise tax revenues count for the constitutionally established expenditure ceiling. Special funds, by definition, exist on monies earned by the program as it relates to fees charged, or a formula of earmarking general fund monies, or tax imposed on persons affected by and who use services provided under the special fund program.

"While special fund expenditures would not count against the expenditure ceiling, the impact upon users, especially for the first time, is a fee assessment. Without this we are not talking about a special fund. It must derive income from a source other than the general fund, although what most people also fail to mention is oftentimes special funds are supplemented by general fund appropriations, like what we are trying to do with our highway fund.

"It seems that the first thing that must be done for the EMS special fund, to be self-sufficient, is the development of a fee schedule, and as we have heard from the previous speaker, the Department of Health has not established that fee schedule as yet. I assume that the Department of Health is aware that the users of EMS services will have to be charged for services if we adopt this budget. EMS is a service that can hit any of us indiscriminately; it is not confined to any particular classification of people--rich or poor, we will be paying higher fees for emergency services.

"Mr. President, the same logic applied to the establishment of an EMS special fund can be applied to other needed social programs. These could be placed as special funds so that needed services can be continued.

"For example, there's no reason why a program like the Progressive Neighborhoods Program should be cut a total of $1.3 million for fiscal year 1982-83, as they provide a very important, necessary service, such as...well, we know we have the Waianae Community Service Center, Kam-Kaahumanu Community Service Center, Waimanalo Community Service Center, Molokai Community Service Center. I can go on and on, and all these agencies will be affected by this $1.3 million cut. Perhaps we should create a special PNP special fund and start charging fees and save the program. At the same time, Mr. President, other ongoing programs which receive income and collect fees for services rendered could be established in special funds, such as traffic fines.

"If the true special funds are established, a good $100 million in general fund revenues could be realized to fund the several social programs which were left out of this budget and the expenditure ceiling could be maintained. In other words, either convert all programs which don't fit the expenditure ceiling into special funds like this EMS example, or convert all state programs which truly fit special funds status, because of income generated to special funds. We're either going to subvert the ceiling all the way, or not subvert it at all by setting up special programs which truly qualify as such. However, Mr. President, your Ways and Means Committee has decided to take the pick-and-choose approach just to stay within the expenditure ceiling. It's unfortunate for the many people who worked so hard to develop their proposals for a fair, consistent review by the committee.

"I am not afraid to exceed the expenditure ceiling. People's needs are more important than trying to maintain an arbitrary limit. The Constitutional Convention took this into consideration by allowing for such an alternative through a two-thirds vote of the Legislature.

Too many individuals and groups have expressed preference for programs and services, rather than a rebate or a tax credit, if a choice comes out to this and it has, people of this state are much smarter, more compassionate, and willing to sacrifice for the programs which are being cut out.

"It makes no sense to take pride in remaining under an arbitrary expenditure ceiling at the price of cutting out too many people programs. We exist to serve, not to impose additional hardship on our constituents by cutting off human services, and even worse, imposing additional assessments on the users of needed services.

"Therefore, Mr. President, I strongly urge all my colleagues to vote 'no' on this bill."

Senator Saiki then stated:

"Mr. President, I'd like to address some of the comments made by the previous speaker.

"First of all it's most unfortunate that he used the EMS special fund as an example, or called it a sort of loop-hole, catch-all special fund that we were creating, because if the good Senator will check the statutes, back in 1978 this Legislature enacted Act 148 which set up a statewide emergency medical services system. Within that same law, we included a mandate that thereafter the state shall be able to charge individuals for their ambulance calls. The reason we did it, of course, is that no one would really have to put out-of-pocket costs for these ambulance calls.

"We learned that 96% of the people in this state have private or group medical insurance. We were appalled that the state, heretofore, was not able to collect from third party payors for the ambulance calls that were being made. Of course, we know that this must be corrected; it's money that should have been coming into the state in the first place. So, by creating this special fund, we allow for the calls to be charged to the third party payors, and then this money will go into the special fund and help to relieve the cost for the emergency medical services system that we want to develop.

"Now, it is true that the Department of Health, since the law was enacted in 1978, has not as yet developed or adopted, rules and regulations with the specific fees involved, so that we do not know yet, exactly how we are going to implement this. The chairman of the Committee on Health is absolutely correct, and I support him wholeheartedly, in that perhaps the creation of this fund will spur the administration to do what they should have done back in 1979.

"We are losing some $2.3 to $3 million a year from the third party payors whose medical charges could be recouped by the state for which, of course, all of us who are participants in medical plans are actually paying. Therefore, this special fund that the good Senator is discussing is not at all a loophole kind of fund, nor is it going to cost our people any extra money, nor is it going to deplete the state general fund, because it's money that's out there that we should have been collecting all these years.

"Therefore, Mr. President, I would say that the special fund for emergency medical services is especially needed; it is desirable and it is one of those kinds of areas that should have been on the books a long time ago, and I'm glad we are pursuing it this year. Thank you."

Senator Holt responded as follows:

"Mr. President, I'd just like to respond to the previous speaker. I believe also that our law says that we are charged for marriage licenses, but that doesn't necessarily mean the revenues or income that we collect says for us to create a special fund."

Senator Saiki commented:

"Mr. President, I'm sorry he picked on marriage...it's the most unfortunate analogy, Senator; however, I would like to respond to that.

"When you get married you're going to pay for the license. Begrudgingly so, maybe, but you would have to pay it out of out-of-pocket costs, your own cost, and I think the investment is very much worthwhile, Senator Holt, and I would recommend it highly.

"However, I think the analogy here with the EMS fund is not true because the monies for the EMS fund are being paid by us as medical participants in insurance plans anyway, therefore, it would not involve out-of-pocket costs. But, I would recommend that you try marriage."

Senator Holt noted:

"I would just say, Mr. President, that we are setting a precedent that we will be able to use as an example from now on when we decide to go out and create special funds."

Senator Cayetano stated:

"Mr. President, Senator Saiki is right. This is truly a very poor example of special funds used to create a loophole. Actually, this idea of a special fund was dreamed up, if you will, for want of a better term, to try to save general funds for use for other projects.

"For example, if this bill passes and if we are successful in enacting a law which establishes this special fund, then the programs talked about by Senator O'Connor and Senator Holt--maybe we can fund them fully. Perhaps a better example of the kind of special fund, the pick-and-choose special fund talked about, is the $10 million OHA Trust Fund.

"Mr. President, there is a special fund that truly gets around the expenditure limit. But, as was stated in the committee report, I think that there were overriding considerations which this Senate, as I recall, voted something like 23 to 2 to pass that bill and create that $10 million special fund, and my recollection is that the Senator who is talking about this emergency medical services special fund voted for that special fund.

"So, it's true we have to pick and choose, but when we pick and choose I think we take into consideration factors which perhaps outweigh the problem of creating a special fund to get around the expenditure ceiling."

At this time, Senator O'Connor asked:

"Mr. President, I'd like to direct a question to the chairman of the Committee on Economic Development. The question has to do with water.

"In looking at the executive budget, it was obvious that water was one of the major items of consideration this year. Wells were proposed in that budget for Haena, at Honokaa, Laupahoehoe, at Piihonua, the Waimea Water System, Koloa Water System, Lihue, Wailua-Kapaa--none of these emerged in the Senate budget.

"I wonder if the good chairman could enlighten us, since we don't seem to have much water legislation floating around this year, as to what happened to the water budget."

Senator Henderson asked:

"I'd like to ask the Senator from the Seventh District what page he is referring to in the budget?"

Senator O'Connor replied:

"I'm looking at the Governor's proposed budget on pages Roman IV - 4, Et. Seq., and I'm looking at our budget which doesn't have any of those pages in it, and it refers to... maybe I should be addressing this question to the good chairman on Agriculture, except that the headnote in this area is Economic Development."

Senator Yamasaki, then rose on a point of information as follows:

"Is the Senator's question directed to the 1981-82 budget, or is it in the 1982-83 column?"

Senator Henderson then stated:

"Mr. President, we took it out of the Governor's budget for our own reasons and we intend to address the problem in conference. Thank you."

Senator O'Connor commented:

"That's a superb answer."

Senator Holt stated:

"Mr. President, I would like to respond to Senator Cayetano's comment about the $10 million special fund for OHA."

"I believe that if that bill was under consideration with this budget and all these cuts had been made to some needed programs in the community, I believe I might have voted against that special fund creation."

Senator Yamasaki stated:

"Mr. President, I believe that we have debated extensively on the budget, I move for the previous question."

The Chair remarked:

"It's the policy of the Chair to allow every member of the Senate to speak as long and as eloquently on issues before this body. I would like to entertain discussion on the motion. If anyone else cares to address the budget at this time, please inform the Chair. If not, the Chair will ask for a roll call."

Senator O'Connor rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I'd like to speak briefly against this bill. This bill is so heavily weighted, particularly in the areas where there's going to be repairs. We debated this at the time the Landlord-Tenant Code was passed. One of the areas of debate that raged most furiously was how many days, logically, could a landlord have within which time the landlord could logically complete some of these repairs that a tenant would demand; and we made the ability to the tenant to demand them under the code.

"To take some of these repairs and reduce them to a period of three business days, just doesn't make common sense. There's no way in this town that you can get a plumber to your house and have something done within three days, or an electrician, or some of these things that this bill mandates. It's just simply impossible.

"For that reason, I'm going to vote against the bill."

Senator Cobb remarked:

"Mr. President, on page 5, line 11, of the bill it says: '...the landlord shall commence affirmative good faith efforts to make repairs within three business days of receiving oral or written notification.'

"We had a discussion in the committee of approximately an hour and a half on this very point; and if the landlord picks up the telephone or makes any effort at all to commence those repairs, that constitutes a good faith effort."

Senator O'Connor commented:

"Mr. President, I agree with the good chairman except that he doesn't read the next part of the sentence which says: '...provided further that any case involving repairs....,' and it goes on to say: '...electrical, plumbing, or other facilities, including major appliances....'

"My wife's been trying to get Sears & Roebuck to come out and fix our refrigerator for weeks, and the bill only gives three days. The sanctions for this are tremendous. The landlord gets the sanctions when the electrician or the plumber, or Sears or Penny's or somebody else can't get there within three days; it is irrational."

Senator Cobb noted:

"He must be reading from a different version of the bill because page 5 ends there and goes on to Section 4."

SECTION 3. Section 478-11, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is amended to read as follows:

"§478-11 Interest; credit cards. Notwithstanding any other provision to the contrary, the maximum rate of interest chargeable on indebtedness incurred under a credit card agreement shall not exceed [eighteen] twenty-one per cent per year. For purposes of this section, credit card means any instrument or device, whether known as a credit card, credit plate, or by any other name, issued with or without fee by an issuer for the use of the cardholder in obtaining money, goods, services, or anything else of value, on credit. Nothwithstanding any other provision to the contrary, the maximum rate of interest chargeable on indebtedness incurred under a credit card agreement shall not exceed twenty-one per cent a year. For purposes of this section, credit card means any device, whether known as a credit card, credit plate, or by any other name issued with or without fee by an issuer for the use of the cardholder in obtaining money, goods, services, or anything else of value, on credit. This section shall remain in effect until June 30, 1984."

"SECTION 5. This Act shall take effect upon its approval, provided that SECTIONS 1 and 2 of this Act shall not affect any rights and duties that matured, penalties that were incurred, and proceedings that were begun, before the effective date of this Act. This Act shall not increase the maximum legal rate of interest, discount, charges or other consideration permissible under Hawaii or federal law on any indebtedness agreed to before the effective date of this Act. This Act shall not increase the rate of interest, discount, charges, or other consideration agreed to in any commitment entered into before the effective date of this Act; provided that if any commitment for a wraparound loan entered into before the effective date of this Act was conditioned in effect on the fact that the interest, discount, charges, or other consideration agreed to would not be usurious at the time of closing of the loan then the provisions of this Act will apply if the loan so committed to is closed after the effective date of this Act."

Senator Anderson moved that the amendment be adopted, seconded by Senator Cobb.

The motion to adopt the amendment was put by the Chair and carried.

Senator Cobb moved that H.B. No. 1511, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, pass Second Reading and be placed on the calendar for Third Reading, seconded by Senator Anderson.

At this time, Senator Kawasaki rose to speak in favor of the measure:

"Mr. President, I will support the amended bill. I would like, in conference if possible, some language to be incorporated into this newly amended bill so that lending institutions, while they have a ceiling of 21% ostensibly to take care of their high cost of borrowing money to carry on the credit card program, when the interest rates come down and the costs to the bank are decreased, that same reduction in the cost of borrowed monies to the banks, that same lowering of the cost, will also be passed on to the card holder, or the consumer.

"I would like some language to that effect incorporated in the final version of the bill."

Senator Cobb noted:

"One final observation in response to that, Mr. President.

"The amendment has a 'drop dead' clause of 1984 on it, and I can assure you that if I don't see that kind of practice and competition taking place, this will drop 'deader' than a doornail."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 1151, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO INTEREST AND USURY," passed Second Reading and was placed on the calendar for Third Reading on Monday, April 6, 1981, on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 17. Noes, 1 (Abercrombie). Excused, 7 (Holt, Machida, Mizuguchi, O'Connor, Toyofuku, Ushijima and Yee).

In accordance with Article III, Section 15, of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, the 48-hour notice was given on H.B. No. 1151, H.D. 1, S.D. 2.

Standing Committee Report No. 872 (H.B. No. 733, S.D. 1):

On motion by Senator Anderson, seconded by Senator Cobb and carried, H.B. No. 733, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EMERGENCY MEDICAL SERVICES," passed Second Reading and was placed on the calendar for Third Reading on Monday, April 6, 1981.

In accordance with Article III, Section 15, of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, the 48-hour notice was given on H.B. No. 733, S.D. 1.

At 9:26 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 9:27 o'clock p.m.

At this time, Senator Anderson rose on a point of personal privilege:

"Mr. President, I'd like to make an observation, if I may.

"At this point, the budget has moved two days early, which I think is very significant. It gives the staff--the Ways and Means and House Finance--the weekend to exchange worksheets.

"I think the Senate, if you check the bills which we passed today and are clocking for Monday, are House bills, many of them without Senate drafts. I think the Senate here demonstrated and will continue to demonstrate a good faith with the House. There has been no shenanigans, and there has been no games in holding House bills back deliberately or for strategy purposes. Many of these bills will go back to the House and straight to the Governor.

"In closing, I would just like to say that I'm really happy to be in this house."

ADJOURNMENT

At 9:29 o'clock p.m., on motion by Senator Cobb, seconded by Senator Anderson and carried, the Senate adjourned until 11:00 o'clock a.m., Monday, April 6, 1981.

The Divine Blessing was invoked by Reverend Robert Howard of the Kilohana United Methodist Church, after which the Roll called showing all Senators present.

No. 904) informing that Senate that Senate Concurrent Resolution Nos. 63 and 64, Senate Resolution Nos. 194 to 198, and Standing Committee Report Nos. 816 to 904 have been printed and are ready for distribution.

On motion by Senator Young, seconded by Senator George and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted.

ORDER OF THE DAY

House Bill No. 1469, S.D. 1:

On motion by Senator Henderson, seconded by Senator Carpenter and carried, H.B. No. 1469, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE STATEWIDE FISH AGGREGATING SYSTEM," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Noes, none. Excused, 3 (Abercrombie, Anderson and Yee).

House Bill No. 212, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

On motion by Senator Carpenter, seconded by Senator Cayetano and carried, H.B. No. 212, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PORNOGRAPHY," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, 1 (Toyofuku). Excused, 3 (Abercrombie, Anderson and Yee).

House Bill No. 461, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

Senator Carpenter moved that H.B. No. 461, H.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Cayetano.

Senator O'Connor then rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I'm going to vote against this bill.

"The contents of the bill, as it applies to drivers, mainly prohibiting drivers from having alcohol in their possession while operating a vehicle and drinking in a vehicle, is good. And that was the content of a similar senate bill which we earlier had before this body and voted upon, but the balance of this bill has to do with receptacles and containers of alcohol in vehicles and it is in some ways ridiculous. It has no real definition to it; it is vague and ambiguous and I can see every person going to a picnic or to something at the Waikiki Shell, and I was reminded of this by being at the Waikiki Shell the other night, or at any other place with this kind of receptacle in the vehicle being subject to a crime where none really need be.

"As I understood it, the action of the Senate Judiciary Committee was to 'x' out everything except that pertaining to the driver. That has not occurred in this particular bill; therefore, I would have to vote against the bill."

Senator Carpenter then rose to speak for the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, recognizing that the good Senator from the 7th Senatorial District did correctly suggest that in the initial bill sent over by the Senate Judiciary Committee to the House, we had indeed spoken only to the driver and the prohibition of the driver consuming intoxicating liquor while operating the vehicle, we have, in the House Bill before us, added a section which essentially says, and it would include individuals like myself who use intoxicating liquor from time to time, the prohibition of that use by placing it in a place more secure, that is, the trunk of an automobile or in the rear seat of a jeep or the recreational-type vehicle so that it would be essentially out of the initial reach of a person driving that vehicle."

"Mr. President, this bill basically hopes to speak to the reduction of traffic accidents, the reduction of allowances by the community for consumption of alcoholic beverages which tends to increase the loss of life throughout the State of Hawaii on an annual basis."

Senator O'Connor then asked if the previous speaker would yield to a question and Senator Carpenter replied in the affirmative.

Senator O'Connor asked: "Mr. President, on page 2 of the bill it says, 'No person shall possess, while a passenger (and the same language is contained later about 'in the vehicle') in a motor vehicle upon any public street, road...' and so forth, several different things, and it says, '...or other receptacle containing any intoxicating liquor which has been opened...' Does this, Mr. President, refer to a case of beer, where the case has been opened and some cans removed?"

Senator Carpenter replied: "Mr. President, my understanding is we are talking here about the items that contain the liquid. So, if we're talking about the case as compared to the can and bottle or other container for liquid, we would be essentially speaking to the item."

Senator O'Connor further asked: "Where then, Mr. President, in the law may I find that so that the court may be guided by the statement of law?"

Senator Cobb then rose to state: "Mr. President, you'll find it in the Senate Journal as reflected in today's proceedings, based on the question that the Judiciary chairman just answered."

Senator Holt rose to inquire: "Mr. President, I wonder if the Judiciary chairman would define recreational vehicle for me?"

Senator Carpenter replied: "Mr. President, recreational vehicle in my mind is a vehicle that is normally used such as a jeep or similar types of conveyances, primarily used for off highway purposes. The bill per se does not speak to recreational vehicles; however, speaks to vehicles that do not come equipped with trunks."

Senator Ushijima then asked if the chairman would yield to a question and Senator Carpenter replied in the affirmative.

Senator Ushijima asked: "Referring to Section 291, receptacle containing intoxicating liquor, etc., now if we have a wine bottle that has been opened and half consumed, you can't keep it in the car unless you put it in the trunk?"

Senator Carpenter stated: "Mr. President, I'm not sure I got the question?"

Senator Ushijima rephrased his question as follows: "Mr. President, assuming that I have a bottle of wine which has been opened, or the seal broken, and let's say it's half filled, now, that bottle of wine then would have to be put in the trunk of the car instead of the back seat or any part of the car, is that it? Otherwise, it would be a violation?"

Senator Carpenter answered: "That is correct. It would have to be put in the trunk of the vehicle if equipped with a trunk or it would have to be put in the back seat if your vehicle is not equipped with a trunk."

The motion was put by the Chair and H.B. No. 461, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO INTOXICATING LIQUORS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 18. Noes, 7 (Campell, Holt, Machida, Mizuguchi, O'Connor, Toyofuku and Ushijima).

House Bill No. 1745, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

By unanimous consent, H.B. No. 1745, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL

FOR AN ACT RELATING TO RESISTING AN ORDER TO STOP A MOTOR VEHICLE," was recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary.

House Bill No. 241, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

On motion by Senator Yamasaki, seconded by Senator Anderson and carried, H.B. No. 241, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE EXCISE TAX CREDIT," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

House Bill No. 538, H.D. 2, S.D. 1:

On motion by Senator Yamasaki, seconded by Senator Anderson and carried, H.B. No. 538, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT AUTHORIZING THE ISSUANCE OF SPECIAL PURPOSE REVENUE BONDS TO SECURE LONG-TERM MORTGAGE REFINANCING FOR THE POHAI NANI GOOD SAMARITAN KAUHALE HEALTH CARE FACILITY," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading by not less than two-thirds vote of all the members to which the Senate is entitled, on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, 1 (Kawasaki).

House Bill No. 694:

Senator Yamasaki moved that H.B. No. 694, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Anderson.

At this time, Senator O'Connor asked if the chairman of the Ways and Means Committee would yield to a question and Senator Yamasaki replied that he would.

Senator O'Connor asked: "In reading House Bill No. 694, Mr. President, I note that the petty cash in question goes from $5,000 to $25,000. In the committee report it says that the petty cash fund in question goes from $5,000 to $50,000. I just wondered, which was the intent of the Ways and Means Committee?"

At 11:29 o'clock a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 11:30 o'clock a.m.

Senator Yamasaki then replied to the previous question:

"Mr. President, I would like to have the Journal reflect that the committee report should read: $25,000."

The Chair then stated that the Journal will so note the correction.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried and H.B. No. 694, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PETTY CASH FUNDS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

House Bill No. 721, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

On motion by Senator Yamasaki, seconded by Senator Anderson and carried, H.B. No. 721, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PACIFIC WAR MEMORIALS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

No. 805, H.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE TRANSFER OF ALL FUNCTIONS, POWERS AND DUTIES INVOLVING THE TAXATION OF REAL PROPERTY TO THE COUNTIES," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

House Bill No. 1060:

On motion by Senator Yamasaki, seconded by Senator Anderson and carried, H.B. No. 1060, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO URBAN RENEWAL," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

House Bill No. 1100, H.D. 1:

By unanimous consent, H.B. No. 1100, H.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO FEE FOR CIVIL IDENTIFICATION CERTIFICATE," was recommitted to the Committee on Ways and Means.

House Bill No. 1103, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

Senator Yamasaki moved that H.B. No. 1103, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Anderson.

Senator Abercrombie then rose to speak against the bill as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against this bill. I rise regularly on this floor where these kinds of bills occur.

"I would be very happy if someone would stand up and tell me what bulk dextropropoxyphene in the nondosage form means.

"I would be happy if someone would stand up and tell me what phenylacetone, P2P, means.

"I would be very happy if someone would tell me what the practical consequences of the various proscriptions for prescriptions are starting on page 3 and running on page after page after page until page 6.

"I suppose in certain respects I might seem obstreperous about these kinds of bills but my reasoning, I assure you, Mr. President, is sound, and the basis for my complaints about these constant additions to the Uniform Controlled Substances Act is sound.

"They continue to add drugs helter skelter and I ask those original questions somewhat rhetorically because I don't intend to really embarrass anyone on the floor but I sincerely doubt that many people here, unless they have some pharmaceutical background or have taken special time to do so can tell us much, if anything, about any of the some 22 drugs that are listed under this Uniform Controlled Substances Act; can tell us whether they are being abused; can tell us what the circumstances are around them as to why, for example, number 4, the bulk dextropropoxyphene has to be added.

"What happens here is that the narcotics people, this new sub-culture, this new species of law enforcement officers that we have, continues to press for additions to the Uniform Controlled Substances Act. Legislatures continue to add them with little or no study as to whether they really need to be added. The whole idea being that it creates further opportunities for these drug enforcement people to justify their existence.

"In addition, we are making a new section, creating a drug control and enforcement special fund to finance enforcement of this Act. I would direct the members' attention to page 14, and you will find that if we confiscate this property, and I am not opposed to the confiscation of property as such from the so-called big time pushers, although I would be delighted someday to actually find one actually being caught, other than on Kojak...it says it relates to 'costs incident to accounting, personnel, travel, equipment, supplies, contracting, subcontracting, or any purpose deemed necessary for the enforcement of this chapter by the director.' If that's not an invitation to abuse, pardon the pun, I don't know what is.

"Personnel, travel, subcontracting...I remember one time being at a meeting of the narcotics officers association where the principal item of business consisted of two things, besides drinking. In fact, drinking to the point where some of the people had difficulty expressing exactly what the drugs were they wanted to add to the Uniform Controlled Substances Act because they were rapidly becoming intoxicated. They were trying to decide whether they should hold their convention in the Caribbean or whether they should hold it in some other...it wasn't Hawaii at the time, it's too bad it wasn't Hawaii...but, anyway, some sunny clime was where the convention was to be held.

"The other part was how many drugs they could get on the list so that they could add to their swag, if you will, in terms of what they deal with. Believe me, there will be plenty of travel put in here.

"Has it occurred to anybody that maybe it would have been a good idea if you are going to set up one of these special funds to have the money that's derived from the confiscation of property go to drug abuse programs rather than to the people who are making the arrests?

"Has it occurred to anybody that maybe now the people making the arrests are going to have a vested interest in trying to bust people even if it's on somewhat negligible grounds in order to try and get at this property, because they are going to be the direct beneficiaries of it?

"I know I have argued this before but this is the first time they've gone so brazenly into the open and actually tried to set up a special fund for themselves. If legislators were doing this kind of thing we'd all be run out. If any other department of government was trying to do this kind of thing they'd all be run out, but, because we have drugs, put that word drugs in front of anything and it's an automatic license to these people to accuse you of being pro-drugs or I suppose anti-American or pro-addict or some kind of pejorative phrase and they use this on us and the public all the time.

"Now, we face a situation that was alluded to the other day by some Senators on the floor that we are not able necessarily to fully fund all of the various programs that some of us in one degree or another find useful in terms of drug abuse whether it's alcohol or whether it's some other kind of ingestion of drugs. Why don't we take the money for this and put it in that? Why not a special fund for drug abuse programs?

"Now, if my experience is the same as it was before, I'm not going to prevail today, but I can assure you that this special fund idea is a bad idea. That continuing to add drugs ad infinitum to this Controlled Substances Act is a bad idea. It's a bad way to conduct legislation.

"If such a fund is in fact enacted and if we do pass this bill I can assure you I'm going to be back here trying to get this special fund redirected towards those who are the real victims.

"If this Legislature truly believes that these drugs should be added to this list and truly believes that enforcement should take place, then, as a matter of public interest, we should fund the enforcement officials and the necessary expenses ourselves. We should not be going to this particular kind of funding in order to carry out, in order to fund what we say is a necessary enforcement function of laws that we pass.

"It's one thing to try and fund an airport or a highway or a harbor because under those circumstances you have direct control over the kinds of projects that may or may not be forthcoming. In this particular instance, what we're doing is inviting the people who are doing the enforcing to enhance their own positions personally in the very act of enforcement without any of those control procedures. And at the same time, we then neglect the people who are the real victims of the people who are trafficking in drugs.

"For that reason, this bill should be defeated. At the very least, it should be recommitted for further consideration in terms of whether the special fund provision is in fact directed in the proper direction.

"Thank you very much."

Senator O'Connor rose to state:

"Mr. President, I rise in singular agreement with my brother from Manoa.

"As I recall the budget document which we passed in this body on Friday of last week, there is a very positive statement in that document that there would be no special funds created, as special funds subverted the basic financial scheme put upon us by the new constitutional outlines and requirements and, yet, here we find another special fund, and I agree with every single thing that Senator Abercrombie has said about that special fund. It is directed at the drug enforcement agency, presently housed in the Department of Health.

"We have argued in this body and in these chambers for years as to whether that's the best place, the proper place for that agency, arguing that it should be in the Attorney General's office.

"That agency has had singular success over the last two years in taking a string of one doctor after another to court on drug charges and yet, it has had a singular lack of success in taking any other pushers, I use other pushers advisedly because I'm not sure that any of those gentlemen or ladies that were charged by the drug enforcement agency were in fact pushers, but taking actual pushers to court and here we set up a fund which in fact makes that agency autonomous, operating on its own without restrictions.

"If this fund grows to any size, which it certainly can in the framework that it's set up, we will have another police agency, police state actively going on unchecked and unsupervised as far as budget control is concerned. For that reason and that reason only I urge that this bill be defeated."

Senator Cayetano, at this time, asked if Senator O'Connor would yield to a question and Senator O'Connor replied in the affirmative.

Senator Cayetano asked: "Giving his criticisms on the establishing of a special fund, Mr. President, I'd like to know why he didn't express such comments and vote against the $10 million OHA trust fund?"

Senator O'Connor replied: "The $10 million OHA trust fund, Mr. President, is a funding of a fiduciary trust, as I understood the bill, which was a one-shot situation which was not an ongoing special fund with revenues continuously attributed to it. We have such other fiduciary funds in this state which are not regularly enlarged or changed by a regular contribution of income per statute. There was nothing like that in the OHA trust fund and the OHA trust fund would have been set up, established, and thereafter used.

"For those reasons, I voted for that and I would vote against this and the EMS special fund and any other special fund not required for specific bond debt funding, as we find in our transportation special funds."

Senator Cayetano responded: "Mr. President, as one of the authors of the OHA trust fund, I appreciate the good Senator's comments, but like the proverbial rose, 'a special fund is a special fund.'"

Senator Yamasaki rose to remark as follows:

"Mr. President, I'd like to explain that the purpose of this special fund is, as the committee report indicates, to help control drugs and to finance the enforcement of the Uniform Controlled Substances Act and this is the overall intention of the committee in our efforts to round out a package on our fight against crime in the State of Hawaii."

Then, Senator Abercrombie rose in rebuttal as follows:

"Mr. President, I feel compelled to rebut that.

"If we want to round out our package on stopping crime and, it seems to me, that unless this body is saying that it wants to move into a kind of situation that the University of Hawaii has with certain of its educational programs where unless it can fund itself it cannot move ahead, then it stands to reason that when you have such enforcement activities based on public policy, this is a public investment, you do not require it to fund itself. What you do, if you want to deal with this kind of thing in the way that the chairman of Ways and Means has suggested is that you then direct yourself to the victims.

"I thought that one of the reasons that we were trying to so-called round out a crime package was to direct our attention towards those people who are being victimized by the crime. There's no drug enforcement officer being victimized by anything except by being overpaid. But, believe me, they're not losing any benefits.

"Now, we've got victim funds we're dealing with here; we're trying to create situations where people can have a chance for rehabilitation of themselves and I don't mean in jail, I'm talking about people trying to reconstruct their social lives or economic lives, family lives. If you're going to do that kind of thing, that's fine, but to take and say that the special fund is to offset expenses for people who are now going to have a vested interest in increasing those expenses, and if there is any showing that can be made by the Ways and Means chairman that this is going to significantly reduce the request of the Department of Health, then maybe we could talk about it. But, how on earth can somebody say that it's rounding out our crime package if the fact of the matter is that we're directing our attention away from those people who are victimized by the crime.

"This bill should be recommitted, and the special fund side of it should be looked at once again to see to it that we come up with something sensible, to direct itself to those we really want to try to assist."

Senator O'Connor added: "Mr. President, just a brief rebuttal. It certainly is no way to fight crime to create a special, uncontrolled slush fund for the Director of Health."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried and H.B. No. 1103, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE UNIFORM CONTROLLED SUBSTANCES ACT," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Kawasaki then rose to ask: "Mr. President, I have a question directed to the chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, if he would yield to a question." And Senator Yamasaki replied that he would.

Senator Kawasaki inquired: "Mr. President, may I inquire as to whether people who purchase these bonds, assuming they are Hawaii people, Hawaii entities, is the income received from the interest payment on these bonds exempt from local (state) taxes?"

Senator Yamasaki answered: "Mr. President, I'm not sure whether the income received from the sale of the bonds is tax exempt."

Senator Kawasaki further asked: "That is, the interest, interest payments made on these revenue bonds, are they tax exempt? Could anyone here apprise me of this question?"

At 11:50 o'clock a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 11:52 o'clock a.m., and resumed consideration of Stand. Com. Rep. No. 812 and H.B. No. 1680, H.D. 1, S.D. 2.

Senator Campbell then rose in support of the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this bill.

"When and if the Governor signs this bill, it will mark the close of a long struggle and a sometimes bitter struggle on the part of some of us to place the public library system directly under the supervision of the Board of Education, removing it from the direct supervision of the Department of Education. This move gives the public libraries the flexibility to better serve Hawaii's young and old.

"Mr. President, my interest in the problems of the public library has been deep and abiding. This interest was accented when former President Carter appointed me to serve as an at-large delegate to the White House Conference on Library and Information Services, being the only state legislator serving in that capacity. I was able to bring to national focus the unique structure of the Hawaii public library (system) by virtue of the at-large delegates choosing me as chairman of the national caucus of at-large delegates.

"Mr. President, it might be of some interest to this body of the fact that the Education Commission of the States, in cooperation with the Kellogg Foundation, is in the second year of a pilot program that could benefit Hawaii public libraries considerably, and as one of the two legislators from around the country on the National Planning Board, I intend to see to it that Hawaii is equally benefitted.

"The passage of the bill before us today gives the public libraries and the Board of Education a golden opportunity. It is my fervent hope that the public libraries and the Board will lose no time in taking advantage of this new structure to institute some innovative programs to serve not only our children, whose formal education should not stop at 2:30 or 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon, but also serve the crying need of life-long learning. I urge support of the bill.

"Thank you."

At this time, Senator O'Connor spoke against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against this bill. I signed the bill 'I do not concur' and I've already made this speech once before so I'll abbreviate it somewhat. However, there are some dazzling new matters in this draft which I would bring to the members' attention.

"On page 8 of the bill, there's an attempt to limit campaign contributions. I might say, first, that's probably the only constitutional area that we are soundly working in in campaign spending, that is, the limit of campaign contributions.

"In the new draft it says, 'Campaign contributions; limits as to' and 'persons' has been taken out and 'individuals' put in so that a new concept is that 'No individual shall make contributions to a candidate in an aggregate amount greater than fifty per cent of the campaign expenditure limit provided in' another section. This creates, Mr. President, an absolute 'Catch 22' for people running for office because the person running for office is also an individual.

"Therefore, if this becomes law, anyone running for office is going to be able to contribute exactly fifty per cent of the amount necessary to elect himself or herself, and any amount over that goes to the Hawaii Election Campaign Fund.

"We have had candidates pride themselves in the past on taking no money from other people and running entirely on their own funds or on their family's funds. If that happens in the future, the individual, the minute he starts spending over fifty per cent of his total expenditure, is going to have to, instead of putting the money into his campaign, put it into the campaign fund.

"I would suggest this could have been obviated somewhat by some other draftsmanship, but I would go on to point out that in the same Section 11-204, as newly drafted, that first prohibition refers to individuals but when you get down into the new Section (b), which talks in terms of what happens if someone goes over the fifty per cent. The word 'individual' is not used in that section, but the old word 'person' is left and that word 'person' refers to committees, corporations, political parties, and so forth under the definition section, which means that in this draftsmanship we have eliminated the ability--and maybe this is good--of any entity including an individual and including the candidate from spending more than fifty per cent in the pursuit of any single election, and any amount over that amount will go to the Hawaii Election Campaign Fund.

"I believe that there was an intent to change the word 'person' to 'individual' in that section, but, of course, that is not demonstrated. Those are some new things in this draft. All of the other comments which I spoke to earlier, when this measure was previously before us I would reiterate and incorporate for the record.

"Thank you, Mr. President. I am going to vote 'no' on this bill."

Senator Abercrombie rose to speak in favor of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, speaking in favor of the bill, to the degree that Senator O'Connor's comments are true about the fifty per cent figure and the individual is a great step forward because at last now we have an opportunity to nail the rich along with the poor. We are now in a position to address that old admonition that was given to us that the rich and the poor are just equal, they are both forbidden to sleep under bridges in ancient France.

"Now, I think that if someone can only contribute half of their campaign to themselves then perhaps one day I will be able to look forward to that happy state where I'll be able to contribute half of everything I'm entitled to spend to myself. As it stands right now I'll have a difficult time contributing half of what I would like to think I'm worth to my campaign.

"Now, I don't think I'm worth very much compared to the work everybody else does in my campaign. I certainly have never been able to contribute very much in terms of what I think the effort of all those people has been worth to me, but anything which will put the burden on the candidate to depend at least one-half of his or her support on being able to address the goodwill, both in terms of contributions in dollar terms and contributions in terms of work to the campaign from other people, is most definitely not only a step in the right direction but a major policy step in terms of some kind of equity in making sure that our democracy takes some stride forward rather than sideways or backwards."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 1337, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CAMPAIGN CONTRIBUTIONS AND EXPENDITURES," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 17. Noes, 7 (Campbell, Holt, Machida, Mizuguchi, O'Connor, Toyofuku and Ushijima). Excused, 1 (Yee).

House Bill No. 204, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

Senator Carpenter moved that H.B. No. 204, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, passed Third Reading, seconded by Senator Cayetano.

Senator O'Connor, then rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I speak against this bill. This bill runs contrary to the system used for identifying evidence in a criminal trial which has been in existence for at least 200 years that I know of. It creates a situation in a statute which, if followed by one relying on it, may well lead that individual into a trap which could cause a prosecution not to be successful.

"There is nothing today in the law of evidence that prohibits photographing a piece of evidence and attempting to use that photograph in trial. The problem is that, unfortunately, we have in the criminal law a thing called the 'chain-of-title' which requires the prosecutor to prove from its collection at the scene of the crime to the time that it is presented to the court or the jury, who had the piece of evidence in his possession and what was done to it to preserve it in the same situation that it was in at the scene of the crime.

"This bill does not address that at all, and would lead one who knows nothing of that requirement, a young lawyer I trust, into a circumstance where he might take a picture of something and believe he could rely entirely on that picture in court. This is a deception, to say the least.

"I will vote against this bill."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 204, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE PENAL CODE," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 15. Noes, 9 (Abercrombie, Campbell, Holt, Machida, Mizuguchi, O'Connor, Saiki, Toyofuku and Ushijima). Excused, 1 (Yee).

Standing Committee Report No. 840 (H.B. No. 567, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

Senator Carpenter moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 840 be adopted and H.B. No. 567, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Cayetano.

At this time, Senator Abercrombie inquired if the chairman of the Judiciary Committee would yield to a question and the chairman replied in the affirmative.

Senator Abercrombie asked: "Mr. President, it is my interpretation of this bill, if it passes, referring to the top of the bill, 'Prostitution. A person commits the offense of prostitution if' in the new language is the 'person' as opposed to the bracketed designation 'he'... 'if the person engages in, or agrees or offers to engage in, sexual conduct with another person in return for a fee.'... my interpretation, I want to know if my interpretation is correct.

"My interpretation is that both parties agree, or two or three or four depending on how lucky you are, that everybody connected with the transaction will be prosecutable under this definition. I want to know whether that is correct. If it is correct, I think I can vote for it; if it's incorrect, I think I must vote against."

Senator Carpenter replied: "My interpretation is that the person who receives the fee, irrespective of whether male or female, is the person who is alluded to as the prostitute. I'm not sure that that answers your question."

Senator Abercrombie remarked: "I believe that that's a good safe attempt to answer my question, but the phrase preceding it says, 'prostitution,' not 'prostitute.' In other words, it's not the individual, it's the act; it's the activity called prostitution; and my interpretation, I think, is a reasonable interpretation of the English language when we are talking about prostitution, if we abide by the language which follows the word prostitution, underlined there, 712-1200.

"I am convinced, unless told otherwise, that unless convinced otherwise, I should say, that both parties will be subject to the penalty which follows for having engaged in an act of prostitution."

Senator Carpenter then said: "Mr. President, I understand the question now. The answer to that question, Mr. President, is yes."

Senator Abercrombie continued: "Yes, then I will (support the measure). I suppose everyone needs to have an exception in order to find themselves truly human. I have spoken many times on this floor and in the other House against mandatory sentencing. I find that in this particular instance there will be a mandatory sentence, so I find myself in a dilemma as to whether I should be consistent with my principle that mandatory sentencing is something that should be avoided in general, as opposed to finally finding a situation where if you have the act of prostitution taking place that at least both people are going to be subject to it.

"If I understood the chairman correctly, this means anyone who is involved with a prostitute in terms of paying that prostitute, male or female, will find themselves arrested for prostitution, as well. I want it very clear now in everybody's mind that if we vote this bill through that means that if somebody is down in Waikiki and is solicited by a prostitute and agrees to abide by the terms and conditions set by that prostitute for his or her sexual favors that the person who agrees to that is also going to be subject to arrest and to the penalties involved here. That was the answer that I received, if I am not mistaken, from the chairman."

Senator O'Connor then stated: "Mr. President, this doesn't change the existing law on prostitution. All it does is change 'he' to 'the person.' 'The person' still refers to the same individual that 'she' referred to. Therefore, the..."

Senator Abercrombie remarked that he was being interrupted and added: "I'd be happy to yield to the Senator if he wants to make a point provided I can maintain the floor, then."

The Chair stated: "There was no attempt to take the floor. The Chair was in error in allowing Senator O'Connor to speak. I thought you were at the conclusion of your presentation. The floor remains with you."

Senator Abercrombie continued: "Thank you. In defense of what I am saying, and I do believe I am reflecting what the chairman of Judiciary said, both people are going to be involved. The good Senator from the Seventh District may disagree with that but the intent of the chairman of Judiciary is clear in his comment. I would direct the members' attention to it.

"A person commits the offense of prostitution; we're talking about the offense now; we have bracketed out the word 'he'; we're talking about the offense of prostitution, 'if the person engages in or agrees or offers to engage in, sexual conduct with another person in return for a fee.'... 'in return for a fee' almost definitely refers to a second party that accepts the fee, but there's no question then the person engaging in or agreeing to the conduct which results in the payment of that fee is involved in this as well. The changing of the 'he' to 'person' refers back to the offense of prostitution. That means any person that's involved in the offense of prostitution.

"If the intent was to separate the so-called 'John' from the so-called 'prostitute' then the language should have been written quite differently, or I should say that there should have been another definition associated with what constitutes a prostitute, as opposed to the offense of prostitution. So I want it clear in everybody's mind when you vote on this that you are voting to have both parties subject to arrest and mandatory jail.

"Now, I notice heads are shaking back and forth here, but the chairman has agreed with my position, and if you do not believe this is the case, perhaps you should consider to recommit it because you may very well find the judge agreeing with my position and that of the Judiciary chairman, unless I have misunderstood his answer to my question. If so, I am willing to stand corrected."

At 12:20 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:26 o'clock p.m., and resumed consideration of H.B. No. 567, H.D. 1, S.D. 2.

By unanimous consent, action on H.B. No. 567, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, was deferred to the end of the calendar.

House Bill No. 924, H.D. 2, S.D. 1:

Senator Cayetano moved that H.B. No. 924, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Carpenter.

Senator O'Connor rose to inquire: "Mr. President, how much will inclusion of hearing in this screening process cost in this overall program?"

Senator Cayetano replied: "Mr. President, as I understand it, the cost, I don't have the exact figures in front of me, but as I understand it, the cost would not be very much. Maybe the Ways and Means chairman can answer it. I don't have the figures in front of me. If you want to take a short recess we can get the information for you."

Senator O'Connor further asked: "Mr. President, the other question of course was why don't we have an appropriation for this bill, for the cost. I don't think it was included in the budget."

The Chair, at this time, ruled that, if there be no objection, H.B. No. 924, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, is deferred to the end of the calendar.

Standing Committee Report No. 842 (H.B. No. 338, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

No. 338, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO VOTER REGISTRATION," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, none. Excused, 2 (Kawasaki and Yee).

House Bill No. 84, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

House Bill No. 300, S.D. 1:

House Bill No. 760, S.D. 1:

On motion by Senator Kobayashi, seconded by Senator George and carried, H.B. No. 760, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC LANDS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Noes, 1 (O'Connor). Excused, 2 (Kawasaki and Yee).

House Bill No. 293, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

Senator Carpenter moved that H.B. No. 293, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, passed Third Reading, seconded by Senator Cayetano.

Senator Ushijima rose to inquire: "Mr. President, I just want answers to a few questions from the chairman of the Judiciary Committee.

"On page 6 of the bill, way down at the bottom, about the ballistics checks, it says, 'Within ten days after a permit is issued, the person shall submit the pistol or revolver to the chief of police for a ballistics check.' And 'The chief of police shall maintain records of the ballistics checks together with the file copies of the permits issued.' and so forth.

"Now, is there any kind of cost implication to this?"

Senator Carpenter replied: "There is no cost implication, Senator. No charge."

Senator Ushijima continued: "To the ballistics checks, etc., no charge. That's very nice.

"On page 7, right on the top, '134-2 Registration, mandatory.' you changed 'person' to include 'citizen of the United States of the age of eighteen years or older arriving in the State' etc., then will they be subject to a felony or misdemeanor. Does this mean that citizens below 18 can bring in those restricted things as stated in the chapter?"

Senator Carpenter replied: "It would appear that that is so, but that is not the intent of the language here because this calls for registration in accordance with Section 134-2."

Senator Ushijima further continued: "That's right. It says that every person coming in to the United States who is a United States citizen less than 18 years old would not be subject to this particular section. I think you answered it, stating that citizens below 18 would not be subject to this section, is that correct?"

Senator Carpenter replied: "You may be correct, Senator. The intent of this language change here was to disallow aliens who would, under the present statute, be allowed to bring in firearms into the United States."

Senator Ushijima further inquired: "One other question that I had is on page 10.

"You set forth all these persons 'under treatment for addiction' etc., who would not be able to own firearms. Under this section then, before any of the authorizing agent or the police chief of the counties would issue a permit they have to check with all the state agencies and they cooperate with the inquiry that is made; is that correct, that is, whether these people come under that category?"

Senator Carpenter replied that that is correct.

Senator Ushijima continued: "Now, knowing the bureaucracy involved in government, I notice that in another section of this bill it says that the chief of police would make an inquiry, then 30 days after an application is made a denial or issuance of a permit will have to be made. Now, I was just wondering as to whether 30 days would be sufficient time for the issuing authority to receive the kind of information that it needs to make a determination as to whether that person should or should not be allowed a permit."

Senator Carpenter replied: "Within the state agencies, we would assume that that 30-day limitation would be adequate time. There are indications that the fingerprint check or the federal criminal history check of results might take longer."

Senator Ushijima then thanked Senator Carpenter for his responses.

At this time, Senator O'Connor rose to speak on the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I think that in this day and age we are all in favor of gun control and we're all in favor of a measure which would tighten that gun control and make tragic situations such as occurred recently less likely. However, I'm concerned about this bill, concerned enough that I'll probably vote against it this morning because it creates situations that make it completely difficult for agencies involved to clear people who are potential gun owners.

"For example, in this state, it is absolutely impossible to find out whether or not a person is under treatment for addiction of a drug or intoxicating liquor, unless one goes through a myriad of agencies which have no connection with the state. There is no rapid, quick way that a police agency can run through all of those agencies to find out who is under treatment for addiction of a drug or intoxicating liquor. It can be rather quickly ascertained from our computer system as to who has been found guilty of a felony. That isn't always completely up-to-date but is sufficient for this particular purpose, but many of the other items here, for example, 'who is currently under treatment for mental disease, disorder or defect...' We have thousands of people in this community who are regularly being treated by psychiatrists and psychologists as private patients. It is essentially impossible, and what concerns me is that we put this burden on the police departments to make this check. The police departments are faced with an impossible 'Catch 22' situation. They must make a cursory check and if they do, and if it turns out that one acquires a pistol or firearm and that person is in fact a private patient of a psychiatrist and the police didn't find out about it and issued the permit in any event, I would interpret this as being negligence on the part of the police department. In other words, we are creating a burden for the police department which cannot, under our present system of information, computerized knowledge, and ability to check, find out.

"I don't even build into it the problem of the physician-patient privilege, which exists elsewhere in our law. I just believe that we are attempting to do too much in a certain area of this law, which otherwise would be an excellent step in the right direction."

Senator Carpenter, in response, stated: "Mr. President, the police department supported a much broader section related to those who might have mental problems, or those who might be seeking help from professionals in the mental health field. In fact, this bill essentially speaks to those who have by reason of either mental disease, disorder or defect are considered dangerous to himself or others or their property which is a category more specifically defined, therefore, information ought to be more readily available on those individuals."

Senator Kawasaki, in support of the measure, stated:

"Mr. President, I speak in favor of this bill. I think this is about as reasonable a gun control law as we have been able to devise. In regard to the 10 days minimum, 30 days maximum time specified in this bill before a permit will be issued, I think this is a compromise the Judiciary chairman has had to develop primarily because there was vehement opposition to even a 10 days waiting period requirement.

"I don't recall, as I sat in the Judiciary Committee hearing on this bill in the State Capitol auditorium, the good Senator from the Seventh District even responding to these vehement objections by the anti-gun control people to the 10-day minimum, 30-day maximum waiting period which is about as workable a compromise as the Judiciary Committee has been out with.

"I would like to see this law enacted and if we find that 30 days indeed does not permit the state agencies to clearly check out some concerns that they have, concerns the police department has, then we can amend the bill next year. But, I would say that it behooves this body today at least to pass this bill out because I consider this to be a reasonably acceptable gun control law and I speak in favor of it."

Senator O'Connor responded as follows:

"Mr. President, in brief response to the good Senator, I did not take issue with the 10 days and 30 days period situation. I took issue with what the police department had to do in that time.

"If, for example, this bill required the police department to check with the State Hospital at Kaneohe and with the other private hospitals in the community for the public knowledge available as to who has been a patient, and for what they have been patients, in the drug, alcohol, or mental disorder area, I would have no quarrel; but the bill doesn't do that. It sets up a different set of criteria for the police department to meet which they cannot. It's an impossible set of criteria. That's what I take issue with, and that's why I have some difficulty with this bill."

Senator Abercrombie then spoke for the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, speaking in favor, I don't care what the difficulties are involved. I refer you to today's paper right now 'Reagan's X-rays Reveal Persistent Problem.'"

"Now, I don't care whether the police department has to put in all kinds of extra personnel, or whether we have to fund something extra on the state level or whatever it is. You just have an example of something which has gone so far into absurdity in terms of so-called protection of our rights that we now have a situation where a man who is so unstable that he's kicked out of the Nazi Party and arrested in Memphis, Tennessee, in possession of three guns on the day that President Carter was in Memphis, is able, two days later, to walk into a Dallas pawnshop and buy guns which he uses to murder the President of the United States.

"I don't care if somebody is under some kind of psychiatric help because of emotional problems with their family or anything else...that person should not have a gun.

"Anyone who studies the statistics of murder in this country knows that the majority of them are committed in precisely such circumstances, where people have emotional difficulties in respect to their family or friends and end up, because of their capacity to get their hands on a handgun, especially, and commits murder.

"Half of the crimes in this country, half of the felony crimes in this country are committed with stolen guns; and 70% of those crimes are committed by people using handguns.

"Now, it's only common sense that at this stage of the game to make a differentiation between those people who are law-abiding citizens who have no problems, in terms of wanting to use or being likely to use handguns in a way that's going to cause him to commit murder or some other kind of crime, and separating those people from the people who obviously should not have them in the first place. Now, how can we possibly argue that there are logistical difficulties involved that we should allow the kind of thing which we cannot get any better example of.

"Does anybody here doubt for a second that the only reason that the President is alive is dumb luck, complete luck, nothing else. The bullet didn't explode as it should have; it probably ricocheted off the car; it probably then ricocheted off his rib and failed to enter his heart or he would be dead.

"Now, this is the kind of person that this bill is aimed at. Anybody experiencing emotional difficulties should not be allowed to have a gun, period. If someone wants to stand up and say that that somehow runs against the constitutional right to bear arms, I think they've moved into a kind of absurdity that is better served... by the way, when I hear such talk about communism coming in and all the rest of it...that would be better served in Russia. That's the kind of lunatic reasoning that goes on in the courtroom in the Soviet Union when they want to commit people to psychiatric hospitals for holding political views that aren't associated with the ruling clique.

"We should set up this procedure as quickly as possible. If there are any difficulties involved in it, we should know what they are and they should be treated strictly in terms of what's logistical, and any doctor that doesn't want to report that someone is under their care for psychiatric or emotional problems should be arrested because they are contributing to a circumstance in which they may find that person, because of the emotional difficulties they have and having easy access to a handgun, using it with tragic consequences.

"That's why we should pass this bill and pass it right away."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried and H.B. No. 293, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO FIREARMS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 15. Noes, 9 (Henderson, Holt, Kobayashi, Machida, Mizuguchi, O'Connor, Soares, Toyofuku and Ushijima). Excused, 1 (Yee).

House Bill No. 1511, H.D. 1, S.D. 2:

Senator Cobb moved that H.B. No. 1511, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Uwaine.

Senator Kawasaki spoke in favor of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, while I speak in favor of this bill, I would hope that the conferees, if there is a conference to be held between the House and Senate, will put in some language in this bill so that while banks may be allowed to charge 21% to credit card holders, when the banks' costs are such that it justifies this interest rate of 21%, in the event interest rate costs to the banks come down, the reduction in the interest rate cost also be recognized in the interest payments that the card holders will have to pay to the banks. I do not want the banks and lending institutions to take advantage of the 21% limit and when interest rates to them come down they do not pass this along.

"I would like to see some language incorporated in conference committee so that indeed when the rates or the costs to the banks do come down the banks legitimately bring down the charges to the customers so that in effect the 21% won't be the rate they'd be using permanently to their advantage."

Senator O'Connor then remarked as follows:

"Mr. President, I'm not opposed to the content of this bill personally, but I'm opposed to the method in which it arrived upon the floor before us today for action.

"I believe that when something as important as the change in percentage of the interest allowed on credit cards which are universally used in this community is to be brought before us for a vote, that matter should be thoroughly and completely debated and be the subject of a bill out of committee in an orderly fashion so that people in the community would have knowledge that such a thing is occurring.

"I am going to vote in favor of this bill. I believe the content of the amendment is appropriate on a personal basis; however, I do not believe that the method used where you piggyback on to an existing bill a completely different concept at the 23rd hour, so to speak, and bring it straight for a vote on the floor is appropriate and correct and I hope that we don't engage in this new coalition government of ours in that type of activity too often."

The Chair responded as follows:

"Senator O'Connor, with reference to the manner in which the bill arrived here on the Senate floor, as we are all aware of, the amendment was proposed, it was discussed and was adopted and the final version of the bill is what you see before you. I, for one, as presiding officer would never try to attempt a process by which any member of the Senate proposes an amendment on the floor at the 23rd hour.

"It is acceptable by the Constitution and is a right of every Senator in this particular body to offer amendments if he or she feels that it fits within the scope of the title of the bill and honestly feels that it should be part of the legislation leaving this particular body. I would be personally opposed to any attempt by anyone to prevent any member of this body from offering a floor amendment or a typed out amendment as part of the procedure here at the Senate.

"I want to make it very clear that the opportunity is for all members of this Senate to participate and also to initiate changes that they themselves feel are important for whatever their reasons might be."

Senator Anderson then remarked as follows:

"Mr. President, as the author of the amendment, I would like to clarify very quickly that I don't consider an amendment to a bill piggybacking. I think the piggybacking concept is one where a bill comes out of conference and there's a new version or a second idea or concept attached to it. That's where the word piggybacking came from. An amendment that fits into the broad title or a specific title as in this instance is not in fact at all piggybacking.

"This subject, while it was not heard in the Senate this year, was heard in exhaustive hearings last year in every detail. The bill before us, the amendment is not changed, it is not apart from the hearings or discussions of last year. It was our understanding that it was coming from the House but because of an internal problem it did not come over. It is not a new idea or a new problem. It is one that sort of fell through the cracks last year, and if the Senator feels very strongly about it, I'll talk to the chairman and recommit it."

The Chair, in response, stated:

"I think the response of the previous speaker, Senator Anderson, was that he favors the bill but he raised some procedural questions on how the matter came before this body. Am I correct, Senator O'Connor?"

Senator O'Connor replied as follows:

"That is correct, Mr. President. I might add that the good Senator who just spoke is absolutely wrong in that this particular measure constitutes an area which was not thoroughly discussed last year because what was discussed were the interest and usury requirements initiated by a change in federal law. This particular area was not covered and this was gone into in committee at great length, up one side and down the other, and this area was not gone into because it was not covered by the federal law. And I would just say that the matter was not covered last year; it is my understanding that it was not covered this year in the Consumer Protection Committee and it is indeed strange to have it pop out at the last minute."

Senator Uwayne then remarked: "Mr. President, in response to the question that was posed to the good Senator from the Seventh District by the Senator from the Third District, I'd just like to offer that if he feels so strongly that he make a motion for recommitment and I'd be more than happy to second that motion."

Senator Cobb added: "Mr. President, there was a hearing on this matter last year in which the Senator from the Third District attended and asked questions for well over two hours because we heard this matter in connection with about 15 other usury bills during the course of our decision-making last year. Not only that, but we had rather exhaustive discussions in our conference committee on this. However, if he feels so strongly about the procedure, I will be more than happy to, one, either recommit the bill, or two, take the floor remarks to the conference committee and recommend that the subject of credit cards be deleted, and I intend to do exactly that."

The Chair responded: "Before there are any further discussions on conference committees, if we are to pass this bill on it will be left to the discretion of the House whether or not this measure goes into conference."

The motion was put by the Chair and H.B. No. 1511, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO INTEREST AND USURY," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, 1 (Abercrombie). Excused, 1 (Yee).

House Bill No. 1769, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

Senator Cobb moved that H.B. No. 1769, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Uwaine.

Senator O'Connor then inquired: "Mr. President, I wonder if the good chairman would yield to a question? I really don't know the answer to this. I wonder why the salesmen's licenses in this rather important area of trust funds are being done away with. I have considered these as sort of a safeguard in the past and I just wonder why we're doing away with the salesmen's licenses and all control of the salesmen in that same situation."

Senator Cobb replied: "Mr. President, because the salesmen come under specific companies which have a bonding and licensure requirement, and the committee felt that it was important to have the authority and responsibility and the chain of responsibility go to the company via the bonding requirement."

Senator O'Connor further inquired: "Mr. President, on the same vein, why are we doing away with those safeguards suggested by the House which sort of follow the Auditor's report in this area of the trust funds?"

Senator Cobb responded: "Mr. President, we had several trust companies come in and testify as to the unworkability of some of the Auditor's recommendations, and I would further remind the good Senator from my district that the Legislative Auditor is the auditor and not the Legislature. We are not bound to agree with him in every case in point nor do we."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 1769, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CEMETERIES AND MORTUARIES," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 17. Noes, 7 (Campbell, Holt, Machida, Mizuguchi, O'Connor, Toyofuku and Ushijima). Excused, 1 (Yee).

House Bill No. 1870, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

By unanimous consent, action on H.B. No. 1870, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, was deferred to the end of the calendar.

At 12:55 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 1:02 o'clock p.m.

House Bill No. 511, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

On motion by Senator Henderson, seconded by Senator Kobayashi and carried, H.B. No. 511, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC LANDS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 20. Noes, none. Excused, 5 (Anderson, Cobb, Kuroda, O'Connor and Yee).

House Bill No. 754, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

On motion by Senator Henderson, seconded by Senator Carpenter and carried, H.B. No. 754, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO COMMERCIAL FISH CATCH REPORTS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, none. Excused, 4 (Anderson, Cobb, Kuroda and Yee).

House Bill No. 822, S.D. 1:

On motion by Senator Henderson, seconded by Senator Carpenter and carried, H.B. No. 822, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO NOTICE OF BREACH OR DEFAULT OF AGREEMENTS FOR USE OF STATE LAND," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, none. Excused, 4 (Anderson, Cobb, Kuroda and Yee).

Standing Committee Report No. 854 (H.B. No. 1590, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

Senator Henderson moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 854 be adopted and H.B. No. 1590, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Carpenter.

Senator Kawasaki rose to ask: "Mr. President, I have a question directed to the chairman of the committee from which this committee report and the bill emanate, if he will yield to a question."

Senator Henderson replied that he would.

"Mr. President, I find this bill a little confusing. I had some discussions with the staff attorneys and they are equally confused about the intent of the bill. I will try to qualify a point for the record here because the bill might be subject to controversy in future years.

"The question I have for the chairman of the Economic Development Committee specifically is this, will this bill in its amended form guarantee to us that the filling of the 300 acres of what is now submerged lands in Keehi Lagoon...will this bill prevent the development and the filling of these lands and the development of that into industrial lots? Will that development, first of all, require legislative approval?

"In reading the bill, it doesn't seem to guarantee this. On the one hand the bill, I think it was Section 171-60, does preclude the leasing of these lands, but under subsection 153, developers may, under the very broad language, be allowed to lease these lands and in effect fill up this land in Keehi Lagoon, submerged land, and use it for industrial lots.

"I'd like to make sure that this bill guarantees that before such a development is attempted that legislative approval is going to be required."

Senator Henderson responded:

"Mr. President, the present law, and there are two sections that apply; one, the Governor and the Land Board can approve the development of submerged lands; the other requires the approval of both Houses of the Legislature in addition to the approval of the Governor and the Land Board.

"What this bill does in effect is to make the law that, if it's going to be a development, if the land is going to be put out for private development, then it has to come to the Legislature by way of a concurrent resolution. It cannot be done arbitrarily by the Governor."

"Mr. President, Section 171-53 (c) reads, 'The board may, with the prior approval of the governor,' ...just the governor...'lease submerged lands, and lands beneath tidal waters which it deems are suitable for reclamation,' and so forth. This language does not indicate to me that legislative approval is required."

Senator Henderson answered:

"Mr. President, that language is there in order to accommodate situations where you might have a person that wants to come in and put a little pier in front of his private residence. If the person is going to be involved in commercial development like the Keehi Lagoon situation, then they would have to come to the Legislature for approval with a concurrent resolution."

Senator Kawasaki responded:

"Mr. President, I am very happy at that response. I would like to have the chairman's (Economic Development) comments and guarantee, if you will, be entered into the record of the Senate Journal."

The Chair replied: "Senator Kawasaki, the statements made by Senators on the floor are part of the record."

At this time, Senator Holt spoke against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, in response to the previous speaker's comment, the chairman of the Economic Development, I would like to speak in opposition to this bill because I believe that it would allow Keehi Lagoon to be developed. It would allow the Executive Branch to bypass this Legislative Branch and issue leases for these kinds of development.

"If you look at the language, it says, 'No lease shall be granted under this subsection for any development project subject to the provisions of section 171-60.' What this means in effect is that we have to determine which section is applicable to Keehi Lagoon, either 171-53 or 171-60. This would allow the Executive Branch, through the Attorney General's office, to look at Keehi Lagoon and they may, in fact, determine that Keehi Lagoon is 'land beneath tidal waters' which is a definition in 171-53 that is not included in 171-60. If that is such, Keehi Lagoon would be subject to the provisions of 171-53, which only needs approval of the Governor, and not the Legislature.

"I think that if you look at the words in this bill you will find that it does not protect the submerged lands that we're trying to save, but it does in fact breathe life into developments, like the Hadley-Prunyn proposal, and I urge all of my colleagues to vote against this bill."

Senator Kawasaki responded as follows:

"Mr. President, I am caught between the horns of a dilemma here because the present statute does in effect allow the Governor himself to give approval for these Hadley-Prunyn type of developments. But with this bill passing, and I have some reservations about this bill myself, but with the statements made by the chairman of the Economic Development Committee very clearly defining what is the legislative intent here, which is going to be on the record, which departments like the Land and Natural Resources will have to give close attention to, I think it will perhaps guarantee that legislative approval is going to be required."

"Without the bill, on the other hand, as I said, the present statute would allow just the Governor to give approval, so as I said, I'm kind of caught in between the horns of a dilemma. Perhaps passage of this bill would enhance the probability of maintaining Keehi Lagoon as 300 acres of water recreation facilities, which is quite unique in this state."

Senator O'Connor then asked if the chairman of the Economic Development Committee would yield to a question and Senator Henderson replied in the affirmative.

Senator O'Connor asked:

"Mr. President, one of the key parts of the committee report which will be looked to to resolve the dilemma, earlier referred to, as to whether or not Keehi Lagoon is tidal water or submerged land is on the second page of the committee report, the second paragraph to the end. In that, section 1 of the earlier bill clearly required the Legislature's approval by concurrent resolution, actually in the bill.

"Now, the committee report says that 'As the bill has been amended by the previous committee, the original purpose as stated in section 1, of the the bill has become otiose.' I wonder if the chairman could tell us what that word means, as it might become terribly important in court if this ever boils up into a fight, o-t-i-o-s-e."

Senator Henderson answered as follows:

"Mr. President, it means that it's without substance; without meaning; the purpose is no longer required as far as the committee report, as far as the bill is concerned."

"I think that what we're trying to get at here is that we're trying to simplify or make the law more comprehensive and understanding."

"The problem right now is that there are two ways that somebody could go if they wanted to develop Keehi Lagoon. The intent of this law right now, the form that it's in, as far as what we were able to determine in our committee hearings and by the testimonies that we received is that it now clearly provides that you cannot put submerged lands out for private development without getting the concurrent approval from both Houses of the Legislature."

"Now, if it's a case where a homeowner wants to put a pier in front of his house, then you don't have to come to the Legislature."

"We're trying to make sense where sense should be. It means that when you have a major project that's going to affect a lot of interest in the state, then you come to the Legislature; if you don't have it, you don't need to. That's the full intent of this change in the law."

"Thank you."

Senator O'Connor then rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, if that is the intent of the bill, it should be specifically and clearly stated in the bill. It is not."

"There is nothing to differentiate between the little wharf and a large development. There's nothing that differentiates between a major thing or a minor thing. None of that is in the bill or in the law, and the point raised by the good Senator Holt earlier is clear and that is that Section 171-53 refers, and you can see it very plainly by looking at the first page of the bill, it refers to any submerged public land or land beneath tidal waters.

"Section 171-60 to which the amendment would have us refer does not have any provision in it concerning land beneath tidal waters. It only refers to submerged land. Therefore, the Executive Branch of government can make a determination that the flats of Keehi Lagoon are 'land beneath tidal waters' and apply Section 171-53 and the Governor can go ahead and authorize that development without the approval of the Legislature. Therefore, I would vote against this measure."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, and Stand. Com. Rep. No. 854 was adopted and H.B. No. 1590, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE ENVIRONMENT," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 18. Noes, 7 (Campbell, Holt, Machida, Mizuguchi, O'Connor, Toyofuku and Ushijima).

Standing Committee Report No. 855 (H.B. No. 781, S.D. 2):

Senator Cobb moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 855 be adopted and H.B. No. 781, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Uwaine.

Senator O'Connor spoke against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, this bill would give the Department of Regulatory Agencies subpoena powers over documents, subpoena powers over witnesses, and the ability to take depositions of witnesses under oath prior to any action being filed in court.

"The Attorney General came to this body back in 1973 and sought the same powers, and we granted those powers with a key phrase, 'subject to the rules of court,' included so that any time there was an instigation of an action or the instigation of any sort of investigation, at least there would be public notice to the individual against whom that was being directed that such a matter was going on.

"This bill before us today gives carte blanche powers to the Department of Regulatory Agencies in the areas of depositions, both oral and written interrogatories of documents, and the ability to subpoena documents...something the Attorney General doesn't even have at this juncture...and the ability, as I understand it, to allow the Department of Regulatory Agencies to run through every business in town willy-nilly and do anything they desire in order to pick up material having to do with their regulatory function.

"Mr. President, I do not object to giving them certain powers, but those powers should certainly be no greater than the Attorney General's and should certainly be no greater than any other attorney in town would have under similar circumstances. They should be required to go to court so that the sanctions and protections that the rules of court provide might be implemented, if necessary, by those people against whom investigations are launched. This is going to be a very difficult bill, if passed."

Senator Cobb remarked as follows:

"Mr. President, one bit of observation, Mr. President, and that is the Office of Consumer Protection also has the power that's outlined in this bill, and rather than grant it on a carte blanche basis we imposed a two-year 'drop-dead' clause and limited it to subpoena, and not police power to see how it works and if there is an abuse or not."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, and Stand. Com. Rep. No. 855 was adopted and H.B. No. 781, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE DEPARTMENT OF REGULATORY AGENCIES," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 18. Noes, 7 (Campbell, Holt, Machida, Mizuguchi, O'Connor, Toyofuku and Ushijima).

House Bill No. 2, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

On motion by Senator Yamasaki, seconded by Senator Anderson and carried, H.B. No. 2, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE JUDICIARY BUDGET," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

Standing Committee Report No. 857 (H.B. No. 125, H.D. 2, S.D. 1):

Senator Yamasaki moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 857 be adopted and H.B. No. 125, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Anderson.

Senator Kawasaki rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against passage of this bill and, in effect, the next two bills (H.B. No. 126, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, and H.B. No. 127, H.D. 2, S.D. 1) because they are similar types of bills permitting the floating of special revenue bonds to help industries such as manufacturing, processing, and industrial, somewhat relevant to this bill. My concerns are about the same on the bill that was put to the end of the calendar for hospital facilities.

"The concern that I have is that contrary to what is the general assumption around here that these bills do not in any way impact upon the state revenues, contrary to that, the only reason special purpose revenue bonds are attractive to investors is that these bills, the income earned from the interest of holders of these bonds is not subject to state tax.

"In the case of the hospital bill, the total number of projects involved is some $163 million. That's at the end of the calendar but I think it's relevant so that's the reason why I bring it up.

"In these bills, the manufacturing, processing, and industrial companies are also the beneficiaries of special purpose revenue bonds and we don't even have a limit.

"Supposing some industrial company in one of these three categories wanted to have the state use its good name and float $100 million worth of bonds and the bonds would require interest payments of something conservative, in the way of 10%, that would mean $10 million of income earned on the interest on these bonds to the bond holders, that are not subject to state taxes. This is a considerable amount of money and if we really use our imagination and realize that these categories, the next two bills included, may just involve literally millions of dollars of these revenue bonds being floated for the benefit of these private entrepreneurs. The resulting loss of tax revenue to the State of Hawaii is going to be tremendous... tremendous amount of money involved here. And for this reason, I think, we should be a little more concerned about the end effects of this particular bill and the next two bills.

"I made a comment two years ago when the Hawaiian Electric Company came to us to float some special revenue bonds in their behalf, and I predicted at that time that there would be other organizations coming to us to request for benefits of these types of special revenue bonds.

"The only reason, as I said, that these bonds are attractive to buyers of these bonds is that the income earned from the interest on these bonds is not subject to taxes, and for all practical purposes, the net result to the holders of these bonds is going to be much greater than what the interest indicates-- 10% interest. That doesn't mean that the holders of these bonds are going to save income taxes on 10% of the interest earnings because depending on the tax position of each individual or each company that buys these bonds, it's a tremendous tax advantage, and this is the reason why these bonds are attractive. This is all right, except that it's going to cost the state a good sum of money. For this reason, I speak against all of these bills."

Senator Cayetano then briefly added: "Mr. President, just a point of clarification on Senator Kawasaki's remarks. It is my recollection that the interest on these bonds are certainly exempt from federal taxes; in some cases they are exempt from state taxes. However, the key thing to remember about this is that the exemption only applies to Hawaii residents or Hawaii corporations. Therefore, if a New York resident buys these bonds, there's no problem."

Senator Kawasaki further remarked as follows:

"Mr. President, just one added point of information. About an hour ago I had the occasion to inquire of the Tax Department whether these special revenue bonds, all of these categories of bonds, were indeed exempt from state taxes and they replied in the affirmative, they are, and they involve big money."

Senator O'Connor then remarked as follows:

"Mr. President, I would just like to amplify on Senator Cayetano's remarks.

"Generally, these types of bond issues are floated nationally. We do float several types of bond issues in the state government today. They are purchased by large brokerage houses across the United States by investors. Those people would not be subject to paying Hawaiian taxes in any event. They would pay taxes if they were incurred in their own state. The federal exemption generally is picked up by most states. I believe we have picked it up, as the good Senator just indicated, and most other states would also. But these are the kinds of bonds that are traded across the United States and probably very few of them would be sold in Hawaii to investors."

Senator Kawasaki rose to respond as follows:

"Mr. President, just in response to the good Senator from the Seventh District. Last week's Wall Street Journal had a front page article saying that the Congress of the United States is now very much concerned about the loss of revenue to the federal government because of these special purpose revenue bonds. It was in last week Thursday's Wall Street Journal, as I recall.

"The Congress too is very concerned about the results of these bonds."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried and Stand. Com. Rep. No. 857 was adopted and H.B. No. 125, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MANUFACTURING ENTERPRISES," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading by not less than two-thirds vote of all the members to which the Senate is entitled, on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, 1 (Kawasaki).

"Mr. President, can I ask the chairman of the Ways and Means Committee whether this rental assistance program is a fund created as a special fund?"

Senator Yamasaki replied: "Yes, the $12 million originally in the bill was taken out. This is just the enabling legislation."

Senator Holt then commented: "The enabling legislation for the rental assistance without the money. Thank you."

Then, Senator O'Connor inquired: "Mr. President, an additional question to the chairman. Is that money in the budget?"

Senator Yamasaki replied that it was not in the budget.

House Bill No. 733, S.D. 1:

Senator Yamasaki moved that H.B. No. 733, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Anderson.

Senator Holt, at this time, requested that his remarks on this measure, found in the Journal, 46th Day, Friday, April 3, 1981, be incorporated herewith.

Senator Saiki then rose to state as follows:

"Mr. President, I am going to cast a very reluctant 'aye' on this measure. I did make some remarks the other evening about wholeheartedly endorsing the special funds for emergency medical services. My concern is with the other sections of the bill.

"I feel very strongly that paramedic training and the constant evaluation of the Emergency Medical Services System in our state should always remain firmly in the hands of professional medical experts, and not left to the lowest bidder, whoever they may be. This bill seems to imply an opening up to bidders who may not be necessarily qualified to provide our people with the quality of emergency care that they would need. However, I have every hope that my concern would be taken care of in conference committee, providing this bill does go into conference committee, and this recognition of leaving people who are caught in dire emergencies on our highways and in our homes...these people will be assured of qualified paramedics who have been trained by medical people. Thank you."

Senator O'Connor rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I'm going to vote against this bill, both for reasons of special funds which I won't go into any more, but because it does put the whole matter up for contract.

"I think that sometimes in this body, in this Legislature, we forget too soon, and we forget why we went into this program in the first place. We forget that the City and County of Honolulu had gotten to a point where its ambulance services were in fact contracted out to private bidders and we forget that that private bidder had done such a miserable, rotten situation with the ambulance service that people were simply not getting from accident situations into the hospitals. It was from there that we started several years ago and the prior speaker was one of the main instigators of this situation in going to the EMS program. Today, we take the first step back in the same direction. I hate to see this happen. I would vote against it."

Senator Cayetano added his remarks as follows:

"Mr. President, I appreciate the remarks of the previous speakers, certainly the opinion and expertise of Senator Saiki is highly valued in this area and will be taken into account if this bill should go to conference.

"The changes made in the bill were made for a couple of reasons. First, the Ethics Commission did issue an opinion which was critical of the way the training, not the training per se but the setup in terms of who was to provide training and the built-in conflicts because of the law, that was one concern.

"Another concern was a memorandum from the Attorney General's office raising grave concerns about the present law surviving legal scrutiny in terms of the sole source provider provisions of the law. So this is what those amendments were meant to address.

"The program has come a long way, Mr. President. Development of the emergency medical services program is now, I think, of high quality. I had the occasion of going to the school itself and looking at what they are doing. I also had the occasion to ride the ambulance one night and I am very satisfied with the present level of training. However, the existing law provides or is structured so that training really can be done only by one organization.

"The amendment as proposed in this bill is meant to open it up; for example, during the discussions on this bill the question of opening up the training possibly to the University's Medical School was entertained. Those are some of the considerations that were taken into account when this bill was amended."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 733, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EMERGENCY MEDICAL SERVICES," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 17. Noes, 8 (Campbell, Holt, Kobayashi, Machida, Mizuguchi, O'Connor, Toyofuku and Ushijima).

Senator Yamasaki moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 875 be adopted and H.B. No. 788, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Anderson.

At this time, Senator Cobb spoke against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, speaking for myself, I'm going to vote against this bill because it does not delineate between a veteran who has received a dishonorable discharge, an undesirable discharge, or a special discharge. In the individual cases that I am familiar with in the general court martial jurisdiction of the Army, where an individual who receives a dishonorable discharge would have to be convicted of a major felony or a violent crime. I think this would run counter for the purpose of the veterans' benefits for such people."

House Bill No. 808, H.D. 2, S.D. 1:

Senator Yamasaki moved that H.B. No. 808, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Anderson.

Senator Cayetano rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I'm going to vote against this bill. First of all, this bill is not needed at this time. During the hearings, the testimony presented to us by the Department of Transportation (DOT) indicated that with some imagination they will be able to continue the highway programs without deficit up to 1983, I believe it was.

"The problem that the department has, at the present time, is using cash for CIP; for example, in this budget they requested $5 million cash CIP. My contention is that we should permit them to use GO reimbursables, allowing that cash to stay in the highway fund and to be used to meet the deficit. Moreover, previous testimony given by the department the last biennium indicated that there was a contradiction in their financial forecast. My recollection is that, for example, in the special maintenance program what they are forecasting in the outyears in this budget is about double what they forecasted when it came to the Ways and Means Committee in 1979. What we have to be, I think, cognizant of is that the diversion of the 4% general excise tax revenues into the highway fund, if we are not careful, will lead to further reduction of our general fund revenues into the outyears.

"Now, I know that this bill provides for a 'drop dead' clause of about three years. My contention is that we should wait at least another year because it's not going to hurt anyone, least of all the Department of Transportation, until we can find maybe some other answer to this problem, including reassessing some of the spending in the highway department and also considering an increase in the fuel tax itself."

Senator Abercrombie also rose to speak against the bill as follows:

"Mr. President, I would reiterate one point in respect of the debt question which Senator Cayetano alluded to which I think is one of the most important points to keep in mind; and secondly, I don't believe that this is addressing the situation correctly.

"We have here a State Highway Fund.

Now, if we want to put more in the State Highway Fund, the honest way of doing it, the direct way of doing it, is increase the gasoline tax. To take this excise tax situation and to transfer it is worse than deception; it's setting ourselves up to do the same kind of thing should we have to deal with it in the future. It's letting these people continue to have, I believe, a blank check operation over there, and we shouldn't be doing it. This is the wrong time, the wrong way, the wrong place, and the wrong thing to be doing."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried and H.B. No. 808, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXES ON LIQUID FUEL SOLD OR USED FOR OPERATING MOTOR VEHICLES," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 20. Noes, 5 (Abercrombie, Cayetano, Kawasaki, Uwaine and Young).

Standing Committee Report No. 878 (H.B. No. 824, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

Ayes, 24. Noes, 1 (Cobb).

At 1:43 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 1:50 o'clock p.m.

Standing Committee Report No. 879 (H.B. No. 919, S.D. 1):

Senator Yamasaki moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 879 be adopted and H.B. No. 919, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Anderson.

At this time, Senator O'Connor rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I'm going to vote against this bill and I will admit in doing so that I am second-guessing other attorneys. However, in this matter we are paying $4.1 million in a stipulated judgment settlement to a young lady who is a quadriplegic. The dollar amount is based upon her life expectancy of 55 years and a yearly expenditure for her care based upon statements made to our attorney by the other side.

"As I understand it, we, the state, never hired an expert to determine what the minimum amount might have been for the care and sustenance of Sylvia Gamino over her life expectancy, nor did we determine what her minimal life expectancy might be, which might have substantially made this amount less.

"I am in a quandary in this matter because I believe that we should be paying something about half of what we're paying, but, unfortunately, because there was no work done in the area that I've indicated on our side it is impossible to put a dollar figure on the lower amount which should be considered in this case. However, I am absolutely sure that the lower amount would be in the range of $2 to $2.5 million; therefore, I am going to vote against this measure."

Senator Uwaine rose to remark on the matter as follows:

"Mr. President, maybe I can help enlighten the good Senator from the Seventh District as to how we arrived at this $4.1 million, and that, in fact, the state did have an economist look into the life expectancy and earned income of Miss Gamino.

"As background information, before I proceed, Mr. President, the determination right now is not a matter of whether the state is at fault or not but rather that last year in May the state was found guilty and at fault. Today, the issue is how much do we pay for that negligence.

"This is background information again, Mr. President, the information as far as this individual being paralyzed from the neck down, which is a more simple term than the medical term, quadriplegic.

"Mr. President, Miss Gamino was earning a salary of $17,000 a year; she was 23 years old at the time. Her medical care for 1980 was $90,000 and her hospital care for 20 days was $4,600 in 1980 for a grand total of $112,152. Given that as a base, we hired our own economist, Dr. Moss, from the mainland and the plaintiff hired her own attorney as well as an economist, Dr. Schultz.

"The difference in the amount is that Dr. Schultz found it as $4.8 million and our economist found it as $2.8 million.

"The vast difference, Mr. President, is in two areas--one, as far as her lost earning capacity for her life expectancy, which is 56 years, as well as the fact that another major difference was the medical care for her life expectancy...again on that particular issue it was the matter of the type of nurses that she needed.

"Our economist and our attorney felt that she may need just two, what we call licensed vocational nurses and one personal care attendant during the time that she is asleep. However, her attorney and doctors felt that she needed three licensed vocational nurses, 24 hours. The difference in the hourly rate is about $10.50 for licensed vocational nurse versus $6.10 for a personal care attendant. This big difference, Mr. President, was the reason why there was the vast difference in the amount that was arrived at, the $4.8 million of her economist versus the $2.8 million of our economist.

"Mr. President, it's not a matter of who was at fault. Right now we're trying to determine how much we were at fault.

"Another area of concern that was raised by several members of our caucus was how much we are paying for pain and suffering. Pain and suffering is estimated conservatively at $1.5 million and this is based on the previous case of a young lady in Hilo, I believe an intermediate school student, who was in an accident and was paralyzed from the neck down. For her pain and suffering the court in Hilo, the jury in Hilo awarded her $750,000, and this was four years ago.

"Another fact is that we need to reimburse the federal government for money that was put in for workmen's comp.

"Right now, Mr. President, the total difference is between the $6.3 million versus the $4.3 million which our economist and attorneys feel is reasonable. Our attorneys advise us that, based on the projection of our economist, that is going to be the bottom line because whoever they put on the witness stand is not going to justify her economist, but rather put her economist at a disadvantage in the fact that our economist is very conservative. In fact, the state doesn't have any witnesses that they can put on the stand to justify why she would need two licensed vocational nurses versus three.

"Every doctor, every mainland expert that they could find from New York to Sacramento to Los Angeles to San Francisco all have said that if they are put on the stand they are going to say that she needs three licensed vocational nurses.

"Mr. President, it comes down to a matter of credibility. If we have people that we can put on the stand to justify the cost that it should be at the point of $4.3 million versus the fact their economist and attorneys say should be about $6.3 million.

"My question to our attorneys was that why would she not want to go to court if she could arrive at something like $6.3 million. Their answer was, and it's perfectly normal, that she's been through enough pain and suffering that she wants to just resolve this case because in all likelihood, because of the huge amount, this case would drag on for a period of about two years.

"I think it's important to remember also that again it's a matter of who is at fault--that's already determined. Judge Fong in his decision last year stated that the only recourse that the state has was to sue Mr. Yamamoto who was the driver of the other vehicle that collided with the state vehicle. The state is going to try and sue him for 10% of the damages because the state feels that he should have braked about five to ten feet earlier.

"Right now, Mr. President, it's a matter of if we have to pay, we have to pay. It's a matter of how much, and I think this is more than reasonable, this $4.1 million appropriation.

"Thank you."

Senator Kawasaki then rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, while I certainly favor a compensation to the very unfortunate victim of this accident, I'm just not in agreement, notwithstanding the very detailed, very good explanation given by the chairman of the Human Resources Committee.

"It just seems to me that compensation of $4.1 million is much too excessive. I'm afraid that we are going to set a precedent in the way of compensation for these kinds of cases that may be a burden that will come to haunt us in the future. Hopefully, we would not have cases like this involving the state, but it just seems to me the settlement amount of $4,100,000 for this quadriplegic person is going to be a precedent that we are going to have to live by in future settlements of this kind, and I am just afraid that this excessive amount is going to incur a great burden to the state in the years to come. For that reason, I vote against this bill."

Senator Campbell added his remarks as follows:

"Mr. President, previous speakers have touched on some of the points that I wanted to raise related to this issue. I feel that this is certainly a very large sum of money to be paid out by this Legislature without being involved in any way in the process we call the decision-making process. I'm not a legal person, therefore, I'm in no position to say what the nature of that participation ought to be, but there seems to be something basically wrong with a process by which this Legislature is asked to rubber-stamp a judgment, and it doesn't really make any difference how large that judgment is. This one happens to certainly accent the necessity of looking at the process.

"At recess time, I talked with the chairmen of the Judiciary Committee and the Ways and Means Committee because at the Ways and Means Committee it was suggested that there was a bill in the hopper which might at least address a segment of this problem and that relates to whether or not it was necessary for the Legislature to pay a judgment in lump sum. And if this bill is to address that issue, certainly it will help.

"At this point, Mr. President, I wonder if I'm in order to ask the chairman of the Judiciary Committee if knows what the status of that bill is."

The Chair allowed Senator Campbell to proceed.

Senator Campbell continued: "Mr. President, the question is, what is the status of a bill in the hopper at the present time which addresses the question of whether or not this Legislature is required to pay in lump sum a judgment of this description?"

Senator Carpenter replied: "Mr. President, in answer to the good Senator's question, we did have in the Judiciary Committee a bill which would essentially have structured payments for tort claims of this type. The bill, having passed third reading, was forwarded to the House of Representatives. My understanding is that they have not acted upon it at this time."

Senator Campbell thanked Senator Carpenter for his reply and continued as follows:

"Mr. President, my last statement relates to a comment in the Ways and Means Committee that certain legislators informally were contacted to at least express an opinion prior to an agreement made for the judgment that we are talking about today.

"Now, I'm not going to insist on who those legislators were, but I want to go on record at this time that I strongly oppose to legislators being informally involved in this kind of process. I do feel that this Legislature, if it cannot do it at this session, come back at a subsequent session to deal with the question of involvement in the decision-making process when it comes to this kind of an issue. Thank you."

Senator Uwaine, on a point of clarification stated as follows:

"Mr. President, may I try to clarify a point that I made earlier to make it more distinct as far as what we are talking about, our economist versus their economist.

"As far as the difference between what their economist projected and ours, and I want to give it a little more detail. For example, their economist, based on Miss Gamino's life expectancy, on just her three licensed vocational nurses, to pay them $10.50 an hour on a 24-hour shift was $3.7 million. Our economist, with two licensed vocational nurses and a personal care attendant arrived at a cost of about $2 million for a difference of $1.7 million savings, if, we could get a personal attendant rather than three licensed vocational nurses.

"Another vast difference, Mr. President, is the fact that on her future earnings, in 1979 she was at a GS-5 rating of $17,000 a year; she was a young lady who was up and coming; her supervisor said that she was in line for promotion to a supervisor's position. Based on her earnings, her life expectancy, if she remained in the federal government, would have been about $689,000 which their economist based it on. Our economist based it on $461,000 and there was a vast difference of about $250,000 because our economist felt that irrespective of the fact that she is paralyzed from the neck down, she still could get married and have children.

"Another difference was the fact that her hospital care for the future, based on the 20 days, our economist based it at 20 days for the rest of her life for skin care, for urine infection problems, etc., based it on $191,000. Their economist increased it to $307,000 because of the fact, and it sounds very reasonable to me, that if anything, it's going to get worse.

"These three areas, Mr. President, were the reasons for this vast difference between $6.3 million and $4.3 million, and again, I say, Mr. President, that the bottom line that our economist, our attorneys, our Attorney General's deputies, all mentioned together, collectively, arrived at the $4.3 million figure.

And, if we're very lucky in suing Mr. Yamamoto, which I hope we're not very successful, we may get back some more money into the state. Thank you."

Senator Cobb then remarked as follows:

"Mr. President, just one brief observation. I think the bill, if passed, and I believe it got into the subject of annuities, what it prevented...in the case in point, if the victim in this bill lives less than her full life expectancy, there is a tremendous windfall to the relatives.

"I'm hopeful that someday this house will address that, either this session or next, otherwise, we'll find ourselves in this same kind of procedural and monetary box again."

Senator Abercrombie added his remarks as follows:

"Mr. President, speaking for this bill, but referring to comments by the chairman of Human Resources and Senator Campbell's comments, I was also in the Ways and Means hearings that day. It is quite obvious to me that we already have in law, in our Constitution, a remedy for preventing this kind of situation.

"Mr. President, any Senator may stop me if I am wrong, but I am under the impression that we have here what is called a stipulated judgment. Again, I am not an attorney either but the explanation given to me and I have no reason to doubt that it was given to me in all honesty was that that means the state has now committed itself.

"Now, the Governor had a briefing for whatever the wisdom or unwisdom of the process, some Senators here apparently were briefed on it...but what we should have is a special session and this is already provided in law; we don't need any special bills or any special law.

"If the government, that is to say, the Attorney General as the attorney for the state becomes convinced in any case that a judgment should be rendered, stipulated or whatever, seems to me that the evidence should be accumulated and presentation made to the appropriate committees of both Houses in special session, and that if those committees agree with the evidence as presented by the different sides that we propose the correct bills and the sums and go ahead. Otherwise, Mr. President, you will find the situation in which the Executive will make the determination as to what the Legislature is going to be bound to do.

"When I inquired as to what would happen if we refused to go along with the money because we're after all not a party to the decision to stipulate to the judgment on behalf of the state, I was told that because the stipulation already exists the attorneys for Miss Gamino would then sue the state for their money and would get it. The difference would be that she would be deprived for such length of time as it takes for her attorneys to secure from the state the funds she is entitled to. I don't think that's fair. It's not fair to her. Why should we make her, who is already a victim after all, a further victim because the Legislature has been done in by the Executive.

"Now this is just another example, it seems to me, of the kind of indifference that takes place, not just in this particular subject but over and over again where the Legislature is concerned with the Executive.

"We commit ourselves into various phases of contracts. We faced the same situation with the Law School at the University where the state decided to get into a contract and then figures it can lasso the Legislature into paying for the rest of it because it's under way.

"The attitude of the Executive has been, get things rolling and then the Legislature will just have to go along.

"In this particular instance, as I understand it from my Ways and Means experience, we are committed by virtue of having a signed, sealed, and delivered judgment that commits the state to paying this money.

"Now, Mr. President, I submit then the conclusion that we have the proper remedy.

"I'm going to insist and I want it in the record that the Attorney General inform us and a decision be made by you or your successor and the Speaker of the House, whoever that may be, as to whether or not a special session is in order to consider whether we should stipulate the separate judgment in the first place. We do not need any further legislation in this area. What we need is to have the Constitution as it already exists implement it."

Senator Cayetano then rose to speak in favor of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I am in favor of this bill. I think, with respect to the bill itself, the key question for members of the Ways and Means Committee and the Judiciary Committee was whether the amount, the settlement was fair. My review, my personal opinion is that, under the circumstances, the amount is fair and that this bill should pass. However, I believe Senator Abercrombie brings out some good points. This is not the first time that the Legislature has been faced with a stipulated judgment, a judgment entered into by the Executive without any kind of approval by the Legislature.

"Senators may recall about two years ago there was a stipulated judgment for roughly $3 million in the Mark Construction case. In that case the Legislature balked at paying the $3 million and the plaintiff, Mark Construction, in that case agreed to settle for I believe $2.5 million. However, in that case, there was a question as to whether the amount of the settlement was fair, and I believe the Legislature at that time was ready to have the matter determined in court as to whether a stipulated judgment of that kind could be enforced against the state if the Legislature decided not to pay. My opinion is that the Legislature would prevail in such a lawsuit.

"Last year we had the Montague case, $40,000, again a stipulated judgment by the Attorney General, again without approval of the Legislature. Despite some misgivings by some Senators we ended up paying that.

"So, now we have this Gamino judgment. As I said earlier, it should be paid. However, for the future, especially with an eye to future or pending cases on which the state is the defendant in which lives have been lost and if damages forthcoming will be great, I suggest that we consider very seriously passing legislation which would authorize the state to impose structured settlements.

"In this Gamino case, if we take as a given premise that the $4.1 million is fair, actually the state, had we a law which allowed us to do this, we could have imposed a structured settlement where the state would pay roughly $2.5 million or so to purchase an annuity, resulting in a savings of $1.5 million. However, in fairness to Miss Gamino, I think that question is passed and I think we should pay.

"Looking to the future, we'd better consider doing something like that...and just to mention, for example, the Holo Holo case which is coming down in which several people were killed. I believe this will make a good interim project for the Judiciary Committee if the bill which is now in the House does not pass."

Senator Abercrombie added his remarks as follows:

"Mr. President, I did not raise the Holo Holo issue, but I must comment on it further because it has been raised.

"The remarks of the previous Senator are not just in passing, believe me. I can tell you that unless we take very seriously the discussion we're having today as to how to deal with this we are going to find ourselves, Mr. President, in all likelihood, facing a judgment stipulated or otherwise that may go into the hundreds of millions of dollars, and I am repeating that for the record and for everybody's attention...not tens of million, I'm talking about hundreds of millions of dollars. Under those circumstances, especially in relation to the Holo Holo case, I tell you in as much vigor as I can put forward to you that we had better have a very thorough discussion in special session of this Legislature before anything goes further with that case in terms of trying it or not trying it. I guarantee you if we do not do that we may very well find ourselves in a situation that is virtually astronomical in the cost implications."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, and Stand. Com. Rep. No. 879 was adopted and H.B. Senator Kawasaki rose to remark on the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I am a little at loss to understand the need for this bill. I had assumed that the DPED was doing this kind of work. The bill does not specify the number of employees, how many staff people that's involved here, where it's going to be located, and so forth. It seems to me that the Department of Economic Development could well assume this task along with others that it has and not have to have a statute enacted in this regard. I'll vote for this particular bill; however, I just wonder if we even need this bill."

At this time, Senator Kawasaki rose to state: "Mr. President, I am voting against this bill primarily because the conversion plan will reduce the number of salary steps involved for these collective bargaining units. Senator Kawasaki then rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I speak against passage of this bill primarily because I think the language needs drastic improvement, one of which is that the seven members on the Development Corporation, three of whom will be from the public sector to be appointed by the Governor, do not require Senate confirmation.

"It seems to me that if this Development Corporation is going to spend the kind of money we're talking about, perhaps we should try to assure ourselves that the best qualified people and the most objective people be appointed to this three public member commission. I would like to see Senate confirmation incorporated there.

"Further, on page 16 of the bill there is no language that specifically guarantees that these concessions in the development are going to be subject to competitive process. There's one language that says that people will draw for this; that's fine and dandy for someone to be fortunate enough to have drawn the opportunity to operate one of these concessions, but no language is incorporated in the bill that requires competitive bidding so it would be an open competition kind of a thing. It might be just a private negotiation which might be very detrimental to the public interest. We've had cases like this in airport concessions and so forth. I'd like to see language much more specific incorporated in this bill. Short of that, I will vote 'no' on this bill."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried and H.B. No. 1874, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE ALOHA TOWER DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Yamasaki moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 903 be adopted and H.B. No. 1470, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Anderson.

At this time, Senator O'Connor rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against this bill. This bill is one which would allow the establishment of a monopoly at the Honolulu Airport in the area of duty-free shopping. It provides that two concessionaires and only two concessionaires be allowed to handle the entire matter at the airport.

"I'm concerned about the bill for several reasons. I have carefully studied legal memoranda; I have carefully studied opinions; I've listened to the oral arguments of some very learned attorneys in this area; and I'm still concerned. I'm concerned because I believe that passage of the bill, rather than alleviate the situation, which is the urging of certain of these attorneys, we are simply buying a bigger problem. And the bigger problem we're buying, I am sure, is a major lawsuit at least by the excluded permittee and maybe by others, both in antitrust and in the area having to do with the violation of the commerce and export/import clauses in the United States Constitution.

"Directing my attention first to the antitrust area, it is obvious, on the face of the reported action, that we are creating a monopoly. A monopoly is being created for the benefit of the state, supposedly so that the state can continue to have the revenues from these two organizations...earlier had from one of them and currently by contract has from each of them.

"We have had some decisions in this jurisdiction, one of them being a decision by Judge Weigel, called Lear vs. Photo Management, and there have been decisions in other areas which condemn this kind of law and this kind of situation as a monopoly in violation of the Antitrust Act.

"The people who are the proponents of this measure in large part are basing arguments on decisions in other jurisdictions which have to do with state involvement and have to do with the state's ability to get in and regulate and physically involve itself with the operation at hand. There is a case which allows such physical involvement and says that that physical involvement of the state, therefore, removes the operations from the Antitrust Act.

"Rather than go on at great length and cite cases and things of that nature, I would simply say that having read that case and the string of cases that run from it, commonly called the Parker Doctrines, they are not convincing and, essentially, in this situation all we are doing is creating a monopoly with the state as a party to it where two organizations will benefit from a circumstance and they will only benefit. I might say that this is the single largest retail operation in this state with hundreds of millions of dollars at stake and that there certainly is room in that kind of monopolistic situation for competition.

"Further on that point, when the contracts were let to the two existing concessionaires, in the contract documents it was specified that there would be additional permittees allowed to take goods to the individual planes at the airport and that those permittees would be able to operate from bonded warehouses in the community without concession facilities available to them at the airport. Therefore, there was knowledge in these concessionaires that that situation would occur, when that situation was attempted to be placed into existence by the Department of Transportation.

"As I understand it, the two concessionaires brought this bill to the Legislature for introduction and action upon it. This is a situation where I think we are establishing a dangerous precedent. We are setting up a monopolistic circumstance in our community with government intervention.

"I certainly am not convinced that allowing permittees to come into the area would not enhance the dollars that would come to the state from this overall operation. There is nothing that I've seen that would not allow or require the state to charge the same amount to the permittees as is charged the concessionaires for the services that are involved.

"I believe firmly that in this situation we are running afoul of the Federal Antitrust Act and the bottom line of the matter is we are creating a circumstance where there shall be, I'm sure, major litigation brought against these two individual concessionaires and the State of Hawaii, all acting in concert charging that we are in violation of the Antitrust Act.

"I believe, in this circumstance, that there is an awful lot more exposure to the state and we've just acted on a $4 million matter for poor Sylvia Gamino. In this circumstance, we're talking about hundreds of millions of dollars. There's a lot more exposure to the state in this circumstance from this potential litigation than there is in simply not acting in this matter in allowing the free flow of trade to take its place and allowing additional permittees, as many as the Department of Transportation believes should be allowed, to go ahead and get into this business out at the airport.

"I am going to vote 'no' on this bill."

Senator Cayetano then rose in favor of the measure and stated as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in favor of this bill. First, I think the previous speaker kind of over-simplified this whole situation.

"If the Senators will look at the bill, the bill has a one year 'drop dead' clause. The reason for that is to protect the state. Let me explain.

"What is involved here is the integrity of the Airport Special Fund. As everyone here knows, the Airport Special Fund is funded primarily by the landing fees paid by the airlines and also the revenues derived from the duty-free operations.

"Last year, bids were asked for the concessions at the Honolulu International Airport of the duty-free concessions there. I believe there were three bidders; two bids were let and contracts entered into. The third party, the only permittee applicant so far, chose not to bid.

"In order to understand the situation, keep in mind that the contracts into which the two concessionaires entered with the state provided that the state would be guaranteed about $52 million per year, or 20% of the gross revenue, whichever is greater. On the other hand, permittees or organizations or businesses which were not successful in obtaining the concession will be charged a 20% permittee fee on their gross revenue. The problem, Mr. President is that there is a grave question as to whether the 20% permittee fee is constitutional. Judge Fong in a decision a year or so ago ruled that a 7½% fee on pineapple, non-duty-free goods, was unreasonable. It is, I think, not unreasonable to assume that a 20% fee might face some problems in court.

"Now, what does all of this mean? Well, unfortunately for the state the lawyers for the two duty-free concessionaires were successful in getting the state to agree that if the 20% permittee fee was challenged and reduced by the court that the revenues which the two concessionaires were required to pay under the contract would be reduced accordingly. That will mean a loss of about $30 million a year for the Airport Special Fund and this is the problem.

"I disagree with Senator O'Connor when he says that we were opening up ourselves to a federal antitrust lawsuit. The fact of the matter is that exposure without this law is greater because the U.S. Supreme Court has held that the antitrust laws do not apply to state action. State action means action by the Legislature.

"Now, I would agree with Senator O'Connor that the kind of state action called for has certain requirements, if you refer to the Parker vs. Bond Doctrines.

I don't want to go into that right now; it's quite involved; but it's my understanding that the provisions for state action, which means in this case, regulations in the bill are sufficient to meet the Parker test. So, what we're doing, Mr. President, is buying time. That's what we're doing; we're just buying time till the State Attorney General's office, Department of Transportation and everyone else concerned can decide what they are going to do down the road.

"If what we are going to do is to give the two concessionaires who are now doing business at the airport, a monopoly so to speak, well it may come as a surprise to some of the lay people here, but not as a surprise to a lawyer, that the state is empowered to do that. If what we are going to do is try to open it up, we can do that also. We're just buying time; there's a one year 'drop dead' clause."

Senator Kawasaki also rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of the bill primarily because I was concerned over the fact that the permittee involved here had every opportunity to bid along with the other two successful concessionaires at the airport. They did not see fit to bid, primarily because perhaps they figured the permit system of entry into the business is much more economical. It doesn't require an outlay of investment of millions of dollars, literally, as have been the investment on the part of the two successful airport concessionaires.

"Perhaps we might reflect on the possibility of really creating a monopoly. A monopoly for the people of this state in that at the conclusion of the seven and a half year contract, perhaps the state itself, like many jurisdictions in the world, should operate this largest retail business in the State of Hawaii. Let the people of Hawaii operate this so that revenues would be incurred to the benefit of the state. We as legislators should consider this possibility at the conclusion of this seven-year contract. Let the people operate this monopoly."

Senator O'Connor in further response stated as follows:

"Mr. President, I am in sympathy with the previous speaker; however, I would point out that by adopting this bill we will adopt a situation where only this type of corporation, and these are both foreign corporations that are involved in this bidding, can possibly get into the bidding and win as against our local corporations.

"If we are not in a situation where we can have permittees who can provide certain kinds of goods and manufactured items, particularly local items, to those planes from custom bonded warehouses we are never going to get local people into this business.

"The bidding and the situation for duty-free operations have grown to a point where we're talking about $500 million, something in that nature, over the next seven years for this bid. It is impossible for local people to get into that; impossible for local people to get into the operation. But for small items...one of the earlier speakers talked about the pineapple situation...you can have local people and we should have permittees in this area; we should allow for permittees. This bill goes contrary to that and will essentially ice out local people from ever getting into this business over the next seven and a half years because we are doing away with the permittee system.

"Further, I would point out that in the statements made by Senator Cayetano, he referred to the two tests that the string of cases we have each referred to in the Parker Doctrines have adopted. The first of those tests is that the state clearly articulates and affirmatively expresses the state policy that would displace competition with regulation or monopoly public service.

"If we pass this bill today, we may, and I say may, carry that test. I say may because in our instance the state is in essential partnership with the two individual concessionaires that have the business. But, moreover, more important, the second tier of that test is that the state or one of its agencies actively supervise the organization.

"Unless we get into it, Mr. President, to a degree not contemplated by this bill and certainly not contemplated by the DOT, that part of the test will never be met. And that's the part of the test that concerns me in future litigation."

Senator Abercrombie asked if the chairman of the Transportation Committee would yield to a question and Senator George replied in the affirmative.

Senator Abercrombie then asked: "Mr. President, if my understanding is correct, the Transportation Committee intends to bring forward a resolution that will address this bill further and, if so, what will that resolution entail?"

Senator George replied as follows:

"Mr. President, it is the intent of the Committee on Transportation to report out the two resolutions which are presently in that committee, Senate Resolution 133 and Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 46.

"Basically, if I may, Mr. President, in response to the previous speaker, if I may indicate what those resolutions contain. Basically, it is a homework assignment to respond to the various concerns that have been raised on this floor today and that have been earlier raised in testimony before the Committee on Transportation. There are unanswered questions. There are two opposing camps, as it were, of people of good reputation and of considerable authority who take diametrically opposing views on this whole matter. Not only is the financial impact to the state absolutely enormous, as indicated by the previous speaker, but there are constitutional questions and legal questions of wide variety.

"I believe the sensible indication to this body is to spend a year achieving proper answers to these in order that we may proceed in a manner that's commensurate with our responsibilities in this area, and that, Mr. President, is what these resolutions will in effect do. Thank you."

Senator Abercrombie thanked the previous speaker and remarked as follows:

"Mr. President, on that basis then I would like to speak in favor of this bill. The reason for that is that my opposition to this monopoly, if you will...that's the way it's in use so I'll use the word for conversation's sake today...proposition has been manifested to various Senators here.

"I found it unfortunate that the kind of emotions generated over this bill took on proportions that they did, but it probably did for precisely the reasons that had been ably argued by Senators O'Connor and Cayetano, because of the enormous amount of money involved.

"My particular reasons for having a demurrer entered, prior to the resolutions that are forthcoming from the Transportation Committee, was that as I read the various proposals the outfit that was asking to have permission to operate as a permittee was entitled to do so. The fact that they did or did not bid for the concession at that time, in my judgment, was not to be taken as something to be against them.

"Whether the Department of Transportation had put together the proper procedure ahead of time really was in my mind, not to be debated because they didn't do it, and I quite agree with something that Senator Cayetano had made clear to me in various of our conversations that, because something had been done by the Department of Transportation that wasn't in the interest of the state, that was no reason for the Legislature to go along with it. We had several examples and instances already today, and in previous days' discussions, to indicate that this Legislature should take an independent view.

"Therefore, given the fact that proponents of this measure have stated that they believe that the one year grace period will give us the opportunity to answer questions, and the chairman of the Transportation Committee has indicated that's precisely what she intends to do, I think it is in all of our interest then to vote affirmatively on this bill today. In one year's time then come to a conclusion as to the direction of the duty-free concession problem."

Senator Cobb added his remarks as follows:

"Mr. President, I'd like to express the reservations that I have on this bill. Perhaps, to go to what my colleague expressed from the Seventh District--namely, the lack of a provision for a permittee. But because the bill has a one year 'drop dead' clause and is linked very directly to the two resolutions the chairman of the Transportation Committee has indicated are coming out, I would like to address the point, though a permittee is allowed to come in by the state should come in under exactly the same conditions and contract stipulations that a concessionaire does, both as to percentages as well as to dollar amount, not only from the standpoint of consistency but to insure the preservation and protection of the Airport Special Fund.

"I, personally, would not object to permittees coming in, if granted by the state and enacted in future legislation, and it's obvious we're going to be addressing this question next year, but at the consistence of both percentage and dollar amounts obtained; otherwise, I think we would find ourselves in a box discriminating against a permittee as opposed to being in favor of a concessionaire. Thank you."

Senator O'Connor stated, in response, as follows:

"Mr. President, one brief point in response to the good Senator's comments. It should be pointed out that the Airport Special Fund in no way would be deprived because of any problems with the duty-free shop. If there is a loss in revenue with the duty-free shop income at the airport, Host or Duty-Free or some new permittee, that loss in income must be made up through the landing fees, and the integrity of the fund will continue. It is the airline people who would stand the problems if the duty-free revenues dip; their landing fees would increase."

Senator Cobb thereby responded as follows:

"Mr. President, in direct response to that, the integrity of the fund would be maintained, but I'm not so sure about the integrity of our tourism trade and the number of tourists coming over here if airport fees...if cost of coming over here on airplanes dramatically increased. That would have a definite and deleterious effect."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, and Stand. Com. Rep. No. 903 was adopted and H.B. No. 1470, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TRANSPORTATION," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, 2 (Campbell and O'Connor).

MATTERS DEFERRED FROM APRIL 3, 1981

House Bill No. 185, S.D. 1:

By unanimous consent, action on H.B. No. 185, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO BALL OR MARBLE MACHINES," was deferred to Tuesday, April 7, 1981.

At 2:48 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 2:49 o'clock p.m.

House Bill No. 1310, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

Senator Carpenter moved that H.B. No. 1310, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Cobb.

Senator O'Connor rose to speak against the measure and stated as follows:

"Mr. President, I'm going to vote against this bill. The problem with this measure is that it invades the distinctly difficult area of domestic relations. It goes directly to the circumstance where husband and wife have stood up with children, are divorced, and there is an argument between husband and wife over the children. These arguments are terribly vicious sometimes, emotions run high; they are difficult to cope with; they rage in Family Court hour after hour in much involvement. And because emotions run so high, people tend to do unusual things when they are in this circumstance.

"This bill will place a very harsh penalty on the noncustodial parent who takes the children, his or her children, and keeps them. It goes maybe to a good end, and, that is, there are people who take children and essentially kidnap them, never to return them to the other parent, but, simultaneously, it strikes at all of those parents who get into the regular, usual family court squabble that we see week in and week out in our courthouse. In other words, it takes care of the 'baby and the bath water.'

"Because of the circumstances that we see so often, I would urge the people who are voting on this bill to carefully reflect on their vote because it will create a tremendous burden in the domestic relations area and will create sanctions for parents who desire and honestly feel that they should have their children and take them, acting in good faith where their actions are beyond the usual feelings that people have in their normal, everyday, common, and usual life.

"I urge a 'no' on this measure."

Senator Cayetano also rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I oppose this bill and join Senator O'Connor in his comments.

"Having read the testimonies on this bill, I can see the good end toward which this bill is directed; however, in the 11 years that I've been practicing law I've come to the conclusion that when it comes to the welfare and best interests of children, a law like this will not stop the parent. This bill does not cover, for example, the cases in which the child or the minor agrees to go with the parent; and this has happened. It certainly happened in my experience where although the court had made a determination in ordering custody for all kinds of reasons to, for example, the mother, the child nevertheless wants to stay with the father. And the bill doesn't speak to that question, so you could have the very harsh results of the FBI tracking down parents, whether it be the father or the mother, bringing him back in chains with the child who agreed to go with him.

"The committee report states that there's a traumatic impact on children who have been kidnapped, if you will, in this fashion. However, there is the other side of the coin, and I think that when we fashion laws which impose a penalty, especially felonies, which are very, very harsh on people we should always go on the principle that it's better to let nine guilty men go free so that one innocent will not be convicted, and I don't see that in this bill."

Senator Abercrombie then spoke for the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I speak in favor of this bill, recognizing the realities as stated by the two previous speakers. There are also other realities I bring to the members' attention.

"We are an island state. We are a considerable distance from the mainland as well as other foreign countries, and I think you'll find that the felony situation is necessary if we are to deal realistically with what constitutes kidnapping, child-snatching in this state.

"Many of these activities that are taking place now are under circumstances which are also protected by the Constitution which is freedom of religion. Unfortunately, because of certain religious differences or falling out among parents we have now seen a rash of cases not just in this state but nationwide where children have been taken because one parent or relatives of the children are upset over a change in religious persuasion and religious grounds which then become the basis upon which the children are taken.

"There are certainly circumstances where a child prefers perhaps to go with one parent or another. One must presume that where the courts are concerned there was good reason for awarding a child to one of the parents. It may be that the child may find it attractive to be with one of the parents but it may not be in the child's interest to be with that parent. Sad to say, and I'm sorry to say that there are instances where one parent is trying to do a good job raising a child in a one-parent situation and then the other parent gets to have the child; the child may have a good time, if you will, because the child is catered to but not necessarily being raised in a manner that's going to be in his/her interest. So, the preference of the child is not necessarily a reason to see that that child goes with the person who is unable to convince the decision-makers where the authority is involved, that being with that person full-time is in the child's interest.

"It seems to me, especially where emotions are concerned, this Legislature has been passing, in my judgment, very, very harsh bills right and left for the last couple of years on the basis that the people better be made aware by their attorneys or other agencies of government and/or the public press, etc., that there's going to be consequences to their action. And if it's going to be a highly emotional situation, I guess then, what's going to happen now is that clients of attorneys are going to have to be informed as to what the consequences are if they take the law into their own hands where children are concerned.

"When I have to balance my judgment, or when I have to make a judgment and try and balance these factors, it seems to me that the realities of child-snatching resulting in children being taken from this state and then not returned to the person who has custody and has been carrying out his or her duties in respect to that child, the realities are such that I feel an affirmative vote is necessary at this time."

MATTERS DEFERRED FROM EARLIER ON THE CALENDAR

Standing Committee Report No. 812 (H.B. No. 1680, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

Senator Yamasaki moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 812 be adopted and H.B. No. 1680, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Anderson.

Senator Kawasaki rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I speak against passage of this bill primarily because it will involve special revenue bonds for the funding of some $163 million worth of hospital and medical facilities, and it will mean a substantial loss of revenue to this state as interest earned by local owners of these bonds would be exempt from state taxes. For this reason I wish to vote against this bill."

Senator Mizuguchi then rose to request for a ruling of the Chair as to a possible conflict of interest as he is serving as an officer of one of the health care facilities mentioned in the measure, and the Chair ruled that he is not in conflict.

Senator O'Connor also requested for a ruling of the Chair as he too serves as an officer of one of the health care facilities, and the Chair ruled that he is not in conflict.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, and Stand. Com. Rep. No. 812 was adopted and H.B. No. 1680, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SPECIAL PURPOSE REVENUE BONDS FOR HEALTH CARE FACILITIES," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading by not less than two-thirds vote of all the members to which the Senate is entitled, on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, 2 (Abercrombie and Kawasaki).

House Bill No. 1108, S.D. 1:

On motion by Senator Cayetano, seconded by Senator Carpenter and carried, H.B. No. 1108, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO LEAHI HOSPITAL," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, 2 (Abercrombie and Cobb).

Standing Committee Report No. 840 (H.B. No. 567, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

Senator Carpenter moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 840 be adopted and H.B. No. 567, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Cayetano.

At this time, Senator Carpenter rose to speak in favor of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, this bill essentially would provide two possible conclusions for a first offense for prostitution, and that would be for a fine of $500 or a term of imprisonment of 15 days without possibility of suspension, coupled with, for a subsequent or second offense, a fine of $500 and imprisonment of 30 days without possibility of suspension or probation.

"Mr. President, the bill essentially hopes to reduce the proliferation of prostitution, particularly, in the area of Waikiki. Ancillary to that, a discussion to which we entered initially before the bill was referred to the end of the calendar speaks to de-gendering the word 'he' and substituting 'the person' on line 4. Essentially, that section ought to be interpreted as has been interpreted prior to the change of 'the person' for the word 'he.'

"I'm sure that there would be some discussion as to whether or not that accomplishes a change in the meaning somewhat. It is the intent of the committee to essentially just change the language so that we would be in conformance with the present interpretation by the court."

Senator Abercrombie then rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I'll speak against the bill then, both on the grounds that this mandatory sentence will not do anything other than possibly increase the price slightly because the stable of prostitutes that will be coming in should have to be slightly larger, provided that we are able to successfully prosecute under the statute. But I reiterate my earlier position that this means that you can prosecute both people involved. And if one really wants to get rid of prostitution you should prosecute both people involved, but that's really the intent.

"Personally, I'm not so sure that it's all that important an issue other than perhaps for the prosecutor to be able to run for reelection, but I really don't have a whole lot of sympathy with people around the streets at 4:30 in the morning who run into ladies who ask them if they'd like to have a date and it's going to cost him something. I believe that most people who are not at a stage of being certified morons are under a clear understanding of what that involves.

"I think we already have plenty of laws in the books in respect of harrassment, thievery, etc., assault, if someone tries to knock somebody down and take their money on the street, as has been associated with this prostitution activity, but there is no doubt in my mind that when you say 'a person commits the offense of prostitution' and then you say that 'the person engages in or agrees or offers to engage in with another person in return for a fee'...now I'm perfectly cognizant that 'another person in return for a fee' refers to in common parlance previously known as the 'John,' the person who is to pay the money. But when you put the word 'person' in there as a substitute for 'he' and then leave in language 'or agrees or offers to engage in' it does not matter if only one of the people, one of the persons involved, is being referred to when you utilize the phrase 'return for a fee.'

"By the act of agreeing or offering to engage in the activity, you have committed the offense of prostitution, whether or not you happen to be the person receiving the fee. By offering the fee or agreeing to the fee, you are committing an offense of prostitution. Whether you are in fact the prostitute is immaterial to the definition of prostitution and that's what the sentence involves.

"With all deference to my good friend, the chairman of the Judiciary Committee, I maintain that if this law passes that the police will be perfectly entitled to arrest both parties for the offense of prostitution even though if only one of them may be a prostitute."

Senator Carpenter responded: "Mr. President, I would just like to say that if the courts interpret it that way, then so be it. I have no objection."

Senator O'Connor rose to remark as follows:

"Mr. President, to clarify this issue, if we can at this juncture.

"The purpose of this bill is not make the customer of the prostitute responsible under the law for the crime of prostitution. The purpose of the bill is to create a mandatory minimum sentence for prostitution as it has been historically defined in our law. Changing 'he' to 'the person' does not change a thing, and though Senator Abercrombie would want that and desires it and twists it and turns it, it still doesn't change the way the law has been drafted nor the way the law reads today.

"I would make two comments on the bill as proposed. First of all, I'm in favor of the measure because I do believe that this is probably the only way we're going to clean prostitution up in Waikiki--namely, having mandatory sentences for those engaged in prostitution. But first of all, directing the chairman and anyone else who gets involved, hopefully, in the conference committee on this matter, that that section starting with Section 4 and going to the end of the bill should really be in Chapter 706 of the Penal Code, which has to do with sentencing, and not in 712 which has to do with definitions of crimes.

"Secondly, if this bill becomes law some of the things that I talked about on Friday when we were discussing the budget concerning additional facilities in our corrections institutions are going to have to be accomplished.

"More precisely, I would suggest that we're going to have to have at least one structure on the Koolau grounds of large size, preferably one of the buildings already in existence renovated, to handle all of the people that are going to be incarcerated under this bill."

Senator Abercrombie then rose to remark as follows:

"Mr. President, I'm afraid that I must belabor this a bit because I find this rather a strange procedure we're involved in now. The argument being made to me that it's not the intent of the bill to do the things that I say it does. I would submit to you, Mr. President, that the purpose and what it does are two different things. I understand that you are supposed to write legislations in order to accomplish the purpose, not stand up and say, 'Well, this is the purpose we intended even if the language doesn't read that way.'

"Now, I assume that when you pass a law, you pass a law in order to have it mean what it says. And I am saying to you that it means exactly as I said it means and any judge who can read the English language should agree to it. And I would submit to you further that if you are indeed serious about ending prostitution...and I think what this really comes down to is an exercise for the editorial pages of the paper...we've done something about prostitution; we're going to see all the prostitutes go away' kind of routine...go to jail...it should be at Koolau by the way because there'll be a lot of teenagers involved. It will be an interesting thing to see how that works. But if you really mean it, what you do is you arrest the customer. The prostitute can't operate without the customer and if a little sign put in all hotel rooms just reminding people that if they engage in an offense of prostitution that they are going to be arrested and put into jail, you will see it disappear fast enough.

"In the absence of it, what you are going to do is to tell the public that somehow prostitution is going to disappear or lessen, is the fond hope here, that it's going to lessen in degree. It will not lessen in degree; it will have no effect whatsoever other than as I say, is to cause a lot more importation.

"The only people who will be helped out will be the airlines who will have a few more people coming that might not otherwise in order to pick up the slack, and we will have, as Senator O'Connor has indicated, a financial problem because we will have to guarantee the care and feeding of men and women who will be mandatorily sentenced under this law. So I look forward to the time, if this passes, that some good judge in the State of Hawaii agrees that I do, in fact, understand the English language which puts the customer in jail, and then watch the stories in Time magazine."

Senator O'Connor, in response, said: "Mr. President, I'm certainly happy to hear my colleague label this anti-crime bill a pro-tourism bill because all of the pro-education bills have been labeled anti-crime bills."

Senator Cobb then rose to remark: "Mr. President, just one on parliamentary procedure... if the committee had intended, as the Senator from the Sixth District had stated, I think it would have been in the committee report. In this case, I must agree with the comments of the Senator from the Seventh District relative to his interpretation."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, and Stand. Com. Rep. No. 840 was adopted and H.B. No. 567, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PROSTITUTION," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, 1 (Abercrombie).

House Bill No. 924, H.D. 2, S.D. 1:

Senator Cayetano moved that H.B. No. 924, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Carpenter.

Senator Cayetano then rose to state as follows:

"Mr. President, this bill was put to the end of the calendar so we could answer a question posed by Senator O'Connor.

"As I recall, the question was whether the money, whether this bill would cost anything, and the answer to that is that the Department of Health is currently following the procedure as outlined in the bill and the funds are in the budget. This change was just to reflect what the Department of Health is already doing."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 924, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO VISION AND HEARING SCREENING," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

House Bill No. 300, S.D. 1:

Senator Carpenter moved that H.B. No. 300, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Carpenter.

Senator Carpenter then rose to speak on the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this measure.

"Mr. President, as the members of the Senate may recall, H.B. 300 came over with a change to a definition of a 'dangerous instrument.' At that time, under consideration but on the back burner was consideration of S.B. 610, 'Relating to Offenses against the Person.' Subsequent to a hearing which was held, wherein several items were brought to the fore--namely, discussions of redefinition of 'forcible compulsion,' the contemplated elimination of the 12-month amorous interlude section under the first degree and the discussion of reduction, that is, the increase of reporting in time were all taken under advisement and discussed in the Judiciary Committee. It was determined that we would look at the entire section relating to rape, and those subsequently relating to sodomy, and ensuing discussion produced this document before us this afternoon.

"This document essentially redefines 'forcible compulsion' and essentially increases the penalty for rape and sodomy in the first degree, increases the penalty for rape and sodomy in the second degree, and changes the reporting time to six months from the present three months.

"Mr. President, in 1978 there were 231 rape offenses reported in the State of Hawaii; in 1979 there were 296; in 1980 there were 334 offenses reported; and 1981 protends more.

"Mr. President, I believe the bill as represented is a fair measure. It has been reviewed by many individuals-- namely, the Attorney General, the Public Defender, the Hawaii Crime Commission, representatives from the Prosecuting Attorney's office, as well as staff and members of the Senate.

"Mr. President, I believe it strikes at the core of the definition by eliminating the term and use of 'resistance' so as to eliminate that from consideration in this, Mr. President, I believe that it is a fair measure.

"I have had the opportunity to discuss this measure briefly with the chairman of the House Judiciary Committee and if indeed there are areas of question, we would sit down in conference and work them out. Thank you."

Senator O'Connor then rose to remark on the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I'm terribly torn by this measure because due to recent developments there appears to be some things in our rape law which could be changed for the better. However, I believe that this measure before us is not a change for the better, it is a step backwards.

"I would point out to the members that on the first page of this bill there's a definition of the words 'forcible compulsion.' 'Forcible compulsion' is and has been an element of the crime of rape in the first and second degree in this state. This bill does not intend to change that. It does intend to change the definition of 'forcible compulsion.'

"One of the matters raised in deliberations on this bill was whether or not resistance should be continued as an element of 'forcible compulsion.' The intent of this measure is to remove resistance as an element of 'forcible compulsion,' but the difficulty and the terrible problem of the bill is in taking out the element of resistance, a new element has been added, and that element is that which is cited in both sections 11a and b where the person is required to submit or caused to submit and the word 'cause' is an important word.

"The precise word 'forcible compulsion' means, first of all, 'the use of physical force or physical violence which causes the person to submit; or the use of a threat, express or implied, against the person or any other, which causes a person to submit.' This is a brand new element; but I would suggest, Mr. President, in fact, I'd state flat out that there isn't any change in this law because it is obvious that the word 'submit' is nothing more than an anonym or the opposite of the word

'resist,' and the word 'resist' is the anonym of the word 'submit.' It's a classic case of black and white when you try to choose between them.

"When you say one of the elements of this situation is to prove the matter is black, and then you try to change it and say, 'No, that's not the way we're going to have it; one of the elements of this matter is to prove that it is not white'... black and white beingonyms. We've just changed the matter around, but the real difficulty with this drafting and the real problem with this section is the next sentence because in going into the proof of black and white, we then say in the next sentence, 'physical or verbal resistance by the person is not an element of forcible compulsion.'

"In other words, we take out of the trial and out of the matter any comment, any proof on the word 'resistance.' So, we are stuck in a situation where we have to prove that the force caused the person to submit, but we can't talk about resistance. The intent of trying to take resistance out of this law was an attempt to try to get the victim out of the situation where the victim had to prove something. That doesn't change a bit because the victim still must be the person who testifies, if this ever becomes law, that the physical force of violence caused the victim to submit or that the threat, expressed or implied, caused the victim to submit. It can be proved no other way.

"So, the bill by its very structure, creates a perfect 'Catch 22' where we set up an element of a crime and then essentially say that some of the matters which must be gone into to prove the elements are not an element and are probably irrelevant and immaterial, and to those who are versed in this matter the jury would then be instructed to disregard physical or verbal resistance by the person as it is not an element of 'forcible compulsion.'

"Mr. President, I would suggest that if this ever became a law we could never convict a person in this jurisdiction of rape in the first degree.

"Let's go on on the bill because unfortunately we don't stop there. In the bill we then go to changing rape in the first degree to a Class A felony, rape in the second degree becomes a Class A felony, and rape in the third degree becomes a Class B felony, as does sodomy in the same way. And then curiously there is no page 7 of the bill, a new sentence of imprisonment section, and this sentence of imprisonment section says that where you have rape in the first degree, or sodomy in the first degree, for those crimes only the sentence shall be 'to an indeterminate term of imprisonment.' And 'the court shall impose a sentence of life imprisonment with possibility of parole or twenty years as the court determines in all other cases.'

"Today in our law is a measure passed in 1980, just last year. We made Class A felonies crimes which have mandatory sentences, and already Class A felonies have the mandatory sentence to an indeterminate term of imprisonment of 20 years without possibility of suspension of sentence or probation. So, basically this section runs contradictory to a section which we have already passed last year in this body.

"Basically, Mr. President, I think that this measure runs afoul of the old adage 'when you once add something which requires much thought and much care, oftentimes you over-react and get something that is more than you bargained for.' And I think in this situation we will be better off if this measure were considered at some great length and considered for a longer time than that we've had to look at the bill.

"The reason that I say that, more importantly, is that there were rather significant changes made to the rape law last year. The definition of 'forcible compulsion' was amended with an eye to make it more simple and easy for the jury to understand. That more simple and easy definition was not the one used in the celebrated Nanakuli rape case. In the Nanakuli rape case they were tried under the old law where the definition is much more cumbersome and more difficult to understand.

"Since the advent of the new law and the advent of crimes charged under the new law, there have been but two rape trials and in those rape trials there was one conviction and one was found innocent. So, as yet, we still don't have a track record on the changes we made last year in this area to know whether or not they were significant, whether or not they might really change the jury trials in the rape area.

"For all these reasons, Mr. President, I would urge a vote of 'no' on this measure."

Senator Young then rose to speak in favor of the bill as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this bill. At this time, I would like to commend the Judiciary chairman and the committee members for the sensitivity and time given to this measure.

"Laws are enacted to govern society, and I would like to quote former Attorney General Ed Levi who said: 'Law is not everything in society. The law is only one of a number of institutions through which we express ourselves and which in turn influence us, maintain our customs and change our habits, so that law takes a place along with family structure, religious belief, the expressions of art, and the explanation of science. The public, the press, the academic community, the artist, all by their assertions and conduct inform and develop the law.'

"Lastly, he states that 'Of course, the law is imperfect. It is made by man. It reflects his failings, his human weakness, but it also reflects his powers and wisdom.' Thank you."

Senator O'Connor, in response, stated: "Mr. President, I rise in response to the last speaker's comments. I agree entirely with that.

"The Governor of the state submitted to the Legislature a proposed definition of 'forcible compulsion,' which included the measures which are in the old law, took out the 'element of resistance' and added 'use of dangerous weapon' and the fact that other persons were present during the alleged rape as 'elements of forcible compulsion.'

"It was my understanding before this bill was circulated that the committee decision was to adopt the Governor's or the Attorney General's definition of 'forcible compulsion,' which I didn't have a great deal of joy with, but by the same token was not as opposed to as I am to the version which is actually in this bill. Therefore, I agree entirely with the prior Senator and agree that something should be done, but not this."

Senator Carpenter then rose to state as follows:

"Mr. President, I'd like to speak to two comments made by the previous speaker. One speaks to the sentencing of imprisonment, rape in the first degree.

"Mr. President, as is more than evident to all the Senators here reading this, this is a new section so we would not be countermanding the section which was adopted last year. This is a new section which would speak to sentence of imprisonment as regards rape in the first degree and sodomy in the first degree.

"Secondly, Mr. President, I'd like to say that if we need to, I think as legislators, develop a track record for every change that we make in legislation and have a determining factor of whether or not the change ought to come about, Mr. President, I suggest that we are in the wrong business."

Senator Cayetano spoke against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against this bill. As some of the previous comments indicate, this bill, Mr. President, is the result of the sensational case referred to as the Nanakuli rape case.

"The atmosphere and the circumstances under which this bill was considered and developed is nothing short of sensational, and for that I have to credit the press.

"Reflecting on what has happened, I'm really at a loss to wonder why the press made so much and gave so much coverage to this case. I believe the press itself had some questions as to whether their coverage of this case was fair and reasonable. And in Sunday's Advertiser/Star-Bulletin, I read some statements which show that hearings, if you want to call it that, by the press on the Nanakuli rape case coverage resulted in nothing but rationalizations.

"Why was this case given more coverage than if the victim had been a local female? Why is more coverage given to visitors than to local females? I wonder if the press realizes the power it has. Perhaps this case would be the best recent example of the power of the press, the specter of 2,000 demonstrators coming to an emotion-packed hearing at the State Capitol auditorium, hardly conducive to good legislation.

"I wonder if the press realizes not only its power, but its responsibility to the community, because the coverage on this case, Mr. President, which has now extended nationwide, if not worldwide... I think probably worldwide is a better description because it has gone to Canada and Finland, and recently there was an article in Time magazine about this case and in my opinion it parallels the Massie case of 50 years or so ago. It has a very ugly theme because the so-called perpetrators of the crime in this case are of one ethnic group and the victim is of another. That is an ugly theme, no matter where it is talked about, and I submit to you that it's probably the major cause of lynching and miscarriages of justice in the southern part of our United States.

"I hope that in the future our press corps will reflect a bit on this case because I can tell you, as far as I am concerned, it will only serve to divide our community, if our community is in fact not divided now.

"Sensational reporting, moreover, seems to put the hangman's noose, if you want to put it that way, around the wrong neck... putting the noose around the neck of the Legislature when it should have been around the neck of the prosecutor. Most attorneys will tell you that you are in deep trouble when you present all of the evidence, when you ask all the questions, and the other side rests without presenting any evidence and questions.

"I submit to you, Mr. President, that this is a case where the prosecutor lost because of mistakes that were made in the trial, and it doesn't do the community any good to hear a recently elected prosecutor make excuses that the defendants' attorneys brain-washed the jury. What nonsense!

"All of this, I think, has led to a hurried piece of legislation which has some major failings and which Senator O'Connor pointed out correctly.

"If this bill should go to conference, which I hope it will, I hope that the chairman would take those failings under consideration. Whenever we pass laws, Mr. President, we have a duty, I believe, we have a higher duty in being a little more careful and judicious when we pass laws which affect the individual liberties in terms of criminal offenses of our citizens. Although laws always should be drafted on the premise that the defendant is innocent until proven guilty, this bill is the result of fever-pitched emotionalism. I never had an experience like this in my life and those who took part in the hearing, I think, will agree with me.

"What are we accomplishing? The Nanakuli rape case, as Senator O'Connor pointed out, was tried under the old law, and the very questions which some of the speakers who are speaking for this bill address or have attempted to address were considered when we passed the rape law or amendments to the rape law last year. I submit that the premise or statement by Senator O'Connor that that law does not have a track record or history is a very, very relevant one because that law was passed, was drafted, was developed under circumstances far less emotional than this bill.

"I don't think this bill can pass constitutional muster. The provisions stated, which defines 'forcible compulsion' contain in my opinion a non sequitur that has already been discussed in some degree by Senator O'Connor. This is on lines 14 and 15 which states: 'Physical or verbal resistance by the person is not an element of "forcible compulsion."'"

"Senators may argue about what that phrase means. I submit to you that if there is a question, the court would probably declare this law unconstitutional, in which case you would have a very unfavorable result because this law repeals the old law, and in the meanwhile if this law is declared unconstitutional you may have people who are truly guilty of committing rape being let off.

"The other aspect of this bill which really troubles me is the increase in penalties. Our present rape law, as set forth in the Penal Code, followed a deliberate scheme. If one reads the comments to the Penal Code you'll see that the scheme entails taking into consideration how people act socially, historically, etc.

"This bill would increase the penalty for rape in the third degree from a Class C felony to a Class B felony. That is an increase in penalty of 5 to 10 years. Now, rape in the third degree is rape under the following circumstances: (a) the other person is mentally defective, mentally incapacitated, or physically helpless; (b) the other person is less than 14 years old.

"I submit to you, Mr. President, and this body, the reason the Penal Code made that a Class C felony is because it recognized that there are certain social situations; for example, where a woman or person may drink too much and then become the victim of a rape as defined under Class C, but we also recognize that under those circumstances the penalty should not be as harsh as a rape in the first degree or rape in the second degree. That's why we had it set out like this.

"The other section, section b, which provides that the other person is less than 14 years old, again, we made that a Class C felony. And let me state that to be convicted under that section all the prosecution has to prove is (1) there was intercourse, and (2) the person with whom intercourse was had was less than 14 years old, and that's it. The fact that the person may have consented is immaterial. In today's society, with our youngsters being more sexually aggressive than they were in the past, I think it is a terrible thing to make this a Class B felony.

"Again, the drafters of the Penal Code recognized that mistakes may be made in terms of identification, in terms of age...that's why we made it a Class C felony.

"This bill, Mr. President, is a reaction to hysteria, and that is not what we were elected and paid for."

Senator Abercrombie rose to speak in favor of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I speak in favor of this bill on the grounds that it is my considered judgment that while the points made by the previous two speakers are very well taken indeed, that it is within our purview to deal with most especially the area in regard to the definition of resistance and from my point of view more particularly the voluntary social companion/stranger distinction.

"However, I do believe that the changes in various degrees in penalties are totally unwarranted and will in fact make convictions more difficult to achieve and that, in particular, where third degree and physical helplessness are concerned. It fails to recognize obvious social situations that could take place and create even more tragic circumstances in that the accusation and/or conviction of rape itself if it were seen in isolation was to be considered. Therefore, it is my hope that those parts of this bill which address what I believe to be necessary changes will survive and those parts of the bill which reflect penalty and definition of degree elements will be substantially rearranged or eliminated when this bill goes to conference."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 300, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO OFFENSES AGAINST THE PERSON," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 16. Noes, 9 (Campbell, Cayetano, Holt, Machida, Mizuguchi, O'Connor, Toyofuku, Ushijima and Wong).

House Bill No. 1870, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

By unanimous consent, action on H.B. No. 1870, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, was deferred to the end of the calendar.

Standing Committee Report No. 866

(H.B. No. 629, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

By unanimous consent, action on Stand. Com. Rep. No. 866 and H.B. No. 629, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, was deferred to the end of the calendar.

Standing Committee Report No. 871
(H.B. No. 709, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

On motion by Senator Yamasaki, seconded by Senator Anderson and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 871 was adopted and H.B. No. 709, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING APPROPRIATIONS FOR COLLECTIVE BARGAINING COST ITEMS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, 1 (Kawasaki).

Standing Committee Report No. 883
(H.B. No. 1233, S.D. 2):

Senator Yamasaki moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 883 be adopted and H.B. No. 1223, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Anderson.

At this time, Senator Cayetano rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, this matter came up last year and I'm going to be consistent and vote 'no' again on this bill even though I have supported the Office of Hawaiian Affairs in other matters.

"The bill basically would allow the board the discretion of doing something we don't allow any other board and, that is, to set the salary of that office's administrator. My basic premise on this matter has been to allow the board to have some history for us to be able to determine the scope of its responsibilities, look at its programs, and then if the salary is justified I would have no qualms paying this administrator at a director's level, if the situation so warrants. At this time, I think this bill is premature."

Senator Kawasaki also spoke against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, in reference to the remarks made by the good Senator from the Fourth District, I believe there are other bills here completely relinquishing the Legislature's right to have some control over the setting of salary ranges. We have this in a bill that allows the directors of the Reference Bureau, the Legislative Auditor, the Ethics Commission and the Ombudsman's office to set salaries, so perhaps this is comparable in that respect. Perhaps the reservations that he had should be recognized on how similar some of the provisions are in another bill that we are about to discuss very shortly."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, and Stand. Com. Rep. No. 883 was adopted and, Roll Call vote having been requested, H.B. No. 1233, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE OFFICE OF HAWAIIAN AFFAIRS ADMINISTRATOR," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 20. Noes, 5 (Ajifu, Cayetano, Kawasaki, Kuroda and Uwayne).

MATTERS DEFERRED FROM EARLIER ON THE CALENDAR

House Bill No. 1870, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

Senator Uwayne moved that H.B. No. 1870, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Yamasaki.

Senator Kawasaki then rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against passage of this bill because, in my judgment, if there is any act of legislative conduct that is thoroughly and utterly unworthy of this honorable body, the Senate of the State of Hawaii, I think it's the affirmative passage of this bill. I think that if there's any act of legislative conduct that is a reprehensible defiance of the plea, the urgent, fervent plea made by the President of our country I think it is the affirmative passage of this bill.

"The President of the United States in his campaigns, in his inaugural address, in his budgetary address to the nation, and, very recently, in an address before union officials and from which convention he emerged only to be wounded by a would-be assassin's bullet and he today lies wounded in the hospital... the urgent message that the President had is being completely disregarded by those of us who would bring ourselves to vote for this bill.

"The urgent message was, in essence, that never in the history of the United States of America has our country gotten into such terrible fiscal bind. He pointed out that our total indebtedness today, the total number of IOU's scattered throughout the remote corners of this world amounts to literally $1 trillion and the indebtedness, the interest that we have to pay on this tremendous amount of IOU's, according to the Department of U.S. Treasury, amounts to $90 billion yearly, just for the debt servicing of this tremendous deficit.

"A trillion dollars is a figure incomprehensible to us, and I think the President very aptly illustrated what it amounts to.

"Mr. President, if you were to have in your possession a million dollars worth of thousand dollar bills, you'd have a stack four inches tall. A trillion dollars amounts to a stack of thousand dollar bills sixty-seven miles high. This graphically illustrates the extent to which our country has gone into fiscal morass.

"At a time in the nation when we have eight million people willing and able to work without jobs, when we have in this state of ours 24,000 people willing, able, but unable to find jobs, I think it's a height of sheer folly for us to pass a bill that would increase the salaries of our top level, our highest paid government officials out of the 30,000 government employees that we have.

"We have no dearth of people seeking the office of the governor, seeking the office of the lieutenant governor, seeking positions to be appointed to cabinet positions paying $42,000 a year. We have a lot of people very willing and able to hold these jobs or to make themselves available to these jobs.

"We are not providing in this bill compensation for the lower levels of government employees, the poor custodian who undoubtedly finds himself in difficulty because of the high cost of inflation.

"By passage of this bill we are completely disregarding the pleas of the citizens of this state and the union. Citizens of this state would say that our standard of living today is much lower than it was a year ago, greatly lower than two years ago, five years ago, because our cost of utilities has gone up, electric bills have gone up, the cost of telephones has gone up; the food prices are the second highest in the union, second only to Alaska; that if we are forced to by necessity borrow money from lending institutions, we are forced to pay the highest rate of interest in the history of this nation.

"Just today we passed a bill that will enable the lending institutions to charge on credit cards an unprecedented 21% interest. In five years' time the interest that you pay on these credit cards will amount to more than the total cost of the principal. This high interest rate, unprecedented prime rates... the fact that Chrysler Corporation is bankrupt and needed the help of government to stay in business; that General Motors has lost $1.25 billion in the last quarter; that Ford Motor Company has lost almost half a billion dollars; that the Korvette Company, a big department store chain in dire circumstances needing help from the government; that some of our utility companies are having some trouble... all of this, I think, is indicative of the fact that we are in bad, bad financial straits.

"The President who is privy to confidential information from the Department of Treasury, from the leading economists in our government, knows all of this, and this is why he had of necessity to go to the Congress of the United States and go before the people of this country on TV and radio to plead that every citizen in this country, this great country of ours, to help him to somehow turn from the direction that our country is heading, the direction of bankruptcy!

"This is the reason why he had to plead with the Congress of the United States that he needs a $41 billion reduction in federal expenditures. This is the reason why he has had of necessity to cut down needed human services, so much so that we in this Legislature are now confronted with the problem of trying to make up for some of that deficit.

"In the face of all of these situations, I simply can't bring myself to realize how we can in good conscience vote for salary increases for people at the top levels of government employees, top wage earners in this state in terms of government employment. I think this is not the time, certainly, for pay increases when we have cut drastically from needed human services.

"To vote for this bill now and to pass this bill is an insult to the intelligence of not only the President of these United States who has such a desperate message to all of us, but it's an insult to the people of this state. I will not belabor this point any more, but I ask you not to vote for this bill which I said is utterly unworthy of this body."

Senator Yee then rose to speak for the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I wasn't going to speak, but I rise to speak in favor of this bill in answer to some of the comments by the learned colleague from across the floor.

"I think President Reagan is under mandate by the people because the federal government is broke. He had to do something.

"Here in the State of Hawaii, we're in a little different situation. We have a surplus. We continually complain about the type of people we have in government...ordinary, incompetent not capable of doing the job. Then where is this talent going to come from? The talent must come from the business sector, the professionals, who make a lot more, much more money than what we're paying the department heads. They have greater incentive because they don't have to go through the political ramifications of each session to justify their budget, justify their compensation, justify their activities. They don't have to worry about meeting political campaign fund raisers. They're free to do what they are capable of doing and they're judged by their peers. This is what we want in our cabinet heads, our governor, lieutenant governor, judges...we want quality people, capable people from the outside to join government service.

"If we keep running down people like this, no way are they going to come in. We're going to have only average judges, average executives, and I'm sure that's not what we want. We want top-flight people.

"We're talking about a 7% increase, 8%...and you talk about the janitor, maybe they're entitled to a 10% increase to keep up with inflation but you just can't knock top-level people down because we need them to serve the government in terms of service to the people of the state."

Senator Abercrombie also rose to speak against the bill as follows:

"Mr. President, I want to speak against the bill for many of the reasons stated by Senator Kawasaki.

"If you look at the contents of the bill, Mr. President, you will see that many of the people the previous speaker refers to are left out; only certain people are put in. Why are some people left out? I don't know, maybe the director of the Office of Children and Youth is worth less than some of these other people, or the Hawaii Paroling Authority, the Consumer Protector, the Public Defender...and we've been talking a lot about crime and all that...why are all these people left out?

"There's only a few people being taken care of, and I think that given the fact that we have yet to determine whether a lot of our programs are going to be able to deal with their fiscal problem, I think we have to be against it.

"The previous speaker tossed in the judges...that's a separate bill. The Judiciary is a separate bill, and perhaps it will warm the cockles of Senator Yee's heart to know that I have reconsidered the issue since my vote on second reading. I am going to vote for the judiciary raises this time.

"On the whole then, inasmuch as I've made this sacrifice on behalf of Judge Wakatsuki and others, I urge that we vote this one down and the next one up."

Senator Cobb added his comments on the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I'd like to express a basic reservation that I have about this bill as well as the next one coming up on judicial salaries, and if possible have my remarks incorporated in the Journal for both bills, and that is, we're in the same box, ladies and gentlemen, that this body and the House of Representatives found ourselves in in 1975, and that is, having to address either percentage as expressed in here or possibly a larger percentage salary adjustment for the top paid officials of our state.

"What we lack, even to this day, after the hell that we went through six years ago is the basic mechanism to address this question in the future.

"I personally feel that what the City and County of Honolulu has is fundamentally wrong when they tie the mayor's salary to the level of collective bargaining increase they negotiated, because that does not provide an incentive at all for the mayor of the City and County of Honolulu to hold down negotiated pay raises. Instead, what I would like to see us develop is a mechanism to link these kinds of top level salaries to the same level of percentage increase that the average worker in the private sector of Hawaii gets, so that we have some means of tying these pay raises to the pay raises of the man in the street. And further, if the level of pay for the private sector of Hawaii goes down over a two-year period, then the Governor and everybody else associated with him should take a pay cut; and if it goes up, so be it, even if it means that we have to provide for a biannual legislative review and we have to take a look at it every two years. If we fail to do this, Mr. President, we're going to be exactly in the same box four or six years down the road from now.

"That's my basic reservation about this and the judges' pay raises. We're going to have to come in every four to six years and ask to vote a lump sum for these individuals without looking back at what the track record is in the private sector. Thank you."

Senator Uwaine also rose to remark on the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I would just like to thank the good Senator from the Fifth Senatorial District for his very fiscally responsible remarks and that it will be in consideration if this bill goes into conference.

"I would also like to mention to my colleagues that, as far as this particular bill, I would like to see it passed this afternoon, on the floor, by at least a majority of 13 votes. Should this bill die on the floor I want to assure my colleagues that it won't embarrass me, although I'll be one of those people voting in the majority, hopefully.

"And a word to my good colleague Senator O'Connor from the Seventh District. If he finds it in his heart that the people's concerns and people's issues come first...the other minority Democrats as well who feel that social problems, for example, like the points they brought up on Friday about the grants-in-aid...should they feel that they would like to vote down this bill because of the fact that we have not addressed many of the social problems and here today we're passing a bill giving a 7% increase to the Executive, then I would say to them, be my guest, no hard feelings, and in fact, if they feel so strongly I encourage them to vote 'no.' Thank you."

Senator O'Connor then asked if the last speaker would yield to a question and Senator Uwaine replied, "Why, certainly...not."

Senator O'Connor continued: "Mr. President, I would just say, then, it's very difficult for me to vote this bill down because I don't know how many millions of dollars a year we're going to save if this bill doesn't pass."

Senator Kawasaki further remarked as follows:

"Mr. President, since the good Senator, chairman of the Human Resources Committee, just stated that he will take into account some of the cogent arguments that I made, I just want to give him a few more bits of statistics.

"On our total indebtedness, the interest payments that the State of Hawaii pays annually on all the loans we have outstanding, the bonded indebtedness, amounts to $132 million a year. This is the interest cost on our indebtedness in this state, all borne by the taxpayers of this state.

"And I forgot to mention that the President, as soon as he took office, immediately froze salary increases for most federal jobs as you know. As a matter of fact, he completely eliminated a number of bureaus. He stated that he's yet to cut down the federal spending some $30 to $40 billion, he was greeted with a lot of skeptical cries, but in the course of congressional hearings, most surprisingly, the very Senate Democrats who were opposed to his initial messages of cutting, because of necessity, supported him. As a matter of fact, they went him one better. The amount of budgetary cuts that they passed from the Senate was in excess of what the President asked. This apparently is the result of their getting a better fiscal picture about the straits that our country is in.

"Now, someone had mentioned, the good Senator from the Sixth District had mentioned the fact of the budget surplus, and I have a suggestion. If we have a budget surplus as it is stated, then perhaps we should bring some relief to the 24,000 people in this state who don't have jobs...the man who is the breadwinner of the family who sits down at dinner with his family and has to face his family with a dismal thought that tomorrow morning he hasn't got a job to look forward to. Perhaps we should make some make-work programs to spend some of the fiscal budgetary surplus that the good Senator from the Sixth District alludes to.

"In any case, Mr. President, if we have money, let's give the taxpayers the benefit. Perhaps, we should increase the tax refund or tax credits; but certainly this is not the time for salary increases for the governor who gets paid $50,000 a year, who's got a quarter million dollar contingency fund, who's got a staff and servants, who's got two chauffeurs, chauffeuring his wife to the shopping center if that's necessary, who's got two bodyguards accompanying him, and a whole lot of department heads who I charge at this point...the majority of whom will not in private enterprise earn what they're earning today, with the kind of fringe benefits they're getting, and they know it. This is the reason why they eagerly stay in their positions and I said we have no dearth of candidates wanting these positions, so the argument about how we are not going to attract good people at $42,500 has no validity as far as I am concerned.

"I think that people generally serving in high cabinet positions should do so with a reasonable salary but with a strong sense of public service indoctrinated in their intellectual makeup. This is the kind of people we want and I maintain that this is not the time to raise executive salaries."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried and, Roll Call vote having been requested, H.B. No. 1870, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE COMPENSATION OF PUBLIC OFFICERS OF THE STATE AND MAKING APPROPRIATIONS THEREFOR," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 15. Noes, 10 (Abercrombie, Ajifu, Anderson, Carpenter, Cobb, George, Henderson, Kawasaki, Kobayashi and Soares).

At 4:11 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 4:14 o'clock p.m.

Standing Committee Report No. 866 (H.B. No. 629, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

Senator Yamasaki moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 866 be adopted and H.B. No. 629, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Abercrombie.

At this time, Senator Kawasaki rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, a number of years ago when we raised the salaries of the judiciary, I had the occasion to speak to many private lawyers in the field, particularly regarding the compensation of the judges who serve the district courts, and, unanimously, the opinion was $40,000 designated at that time by the Salary Commission was much too high for those positions, recognizing the scope of their responsibilities, their workload and so forth. This bill raises that even to a higher figure of $42,500.

"Again, as I said, we have no lack of candidates who want to be judges. Apparently, there are more candidates than we can fill positions for and, again, as I said, this is not that segment of government employees who are hit hardest by inflation or high cost of living. It seems to me prudence dictates that we should withhold the raising of salaries for the judiciary.

"You know, when a person serves as a judge, the some $42,500 that he makes is a considerably lot of money because were he in private practice he probably would have to earn in the neighborhood of between $65,000 to $70,000, in view of the fact that he will have to pay for his library, he has to pay for his secretary, utilities, and other costs, all of which is not something he has to worry about being a judge with clerks under him, with a secretary, with chambers and offices provided for him. My point is that judges in this state are doing reasonably well.

"I had compared the judicial salaries of other states with ours and we're not doing too badly by our judges.

"Again, as I said, for this category of employees, this is not the time for us to raise salaries. Let's worry a little more about how the average citizen on the street is going to make out. In this high inflation era and this high cost of government era that we are concerned about, I would say that by passage of this bill we are completely ignoring the plight of many, many people in this state who are less fortunate."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, and Stand. Com. Rep. No. 866 was adopted and H.B. No. 629, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE JUDICIARY," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 17. Noes, 8 (Ajifu, Anderson, Cobb, George, Kawasaki, Kobayashi, Saiki and Soares).

At this time, the Chair made the following remark:

"Members of the Senate, we've been here for about five and a half hours. I would like to take this opportunity to commend all the Senators for the manner in which they have conducted their discussions on the various issues before the Senate. Decisions have been reached, personalities have been avoided, and for that the Chair is most grateful. Thank you."

ORDER OF THE DAY

MATTERS DEFERRED
FROM APRIL 6, 1981

THIRD READING

House Bill No. 1232:

Senator Kobayashi moved that H.B. No. 1232 having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator George.

At this time, Senator Kuroda stated:

"Mr. President, I'm voting yes on this bill with reservations. It was my original intent to speak and vote against it until I learned about the need for this amendment to our state litter control law.

"I have brought props along with me. This is a 16-ounce plastic bottle here. My fear is that the small plastic containers will litter the highways.

"Six years ago when this Legislature enacted the state litter control law, I expressed some concern about these plastic containers, smaller than 32 ounces. At that time, we considered to include the use of the plastic containers as long as they were not smaller than 32 ounces; the reason being that passengers in vehicles would not be taking large containers with beverages, consuming the beverage and throwing the containers out. However, the decision at that time was to prohibit plastic containers altogether.

"Today, beverages in plastic containers are being sold... according to the information I've received and upon inquiry, I have learned that the local producers of fruit juices will make attempts to recycle the plastic containers. On that basis, I am voting 'yes.'

"I understand the chairman of the Ecology, Environment and Recreation Committee, after the session, will experience joining the Joe Kuroda's litter pickers on the highway. We ask for other volunteers. Thank you."

Senator Abercrombie rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, speaking against this bill. I have long sought to have a bottle bill in this state. When I was working in other areas, and I refer to that distant past when I was a child--I was not always the mature, articulate individual you see before you today--I once assumed that if my brother and I got out on the weekends and after school and collected all the bottles that we could find, we would have enough money to go to the movies and perhaps give ourselves a little treat, because in those days we had an incentive to do so as there was a deposit return on bottles.

"Of course, this was in World War II, and we assumed that conservation was something that was of national necessity. Now, I understand from both the previous President and this President as well, that conservation is something that we should be practicing as a matter of course on our own and in our own communities, and yet we don't seem to take the same kind of attitude that we were able to take more than 30 years ago. It seems to me that that's retrogressing, rather than being progressive in our attitude.

"I don't see any reason why we should not be encouraging the use of bottles with deposit so that we can in turn encourage a little responsibility and even a chance, as I say from my own experience, to earn a little money yourself by seeing that the bottles are returned to the stores. When I hear some people from stores arguing that the return of bottles is inconvenient, it certainly wasn't an inconvenience 30 years ago. It does not make any difference to me that so-called convenience is involved when the convenience is going to end up with what the previous speaker has indicated as clearly being a litter problem on our roads.

"The two bottles that he has on his desk are examples of the kind of things we're going to see all over the place. Plastic is a petroleum based product. I understand that there are certain expenses involved in making glass, but there was a time in our country when the Coca Cola bottle, for example, was seen as almost symbolic of recreational activity in our country and these bottles were returned enmass, nationwide, for reuse. It's a real commentary of our time, I think, when people, as strapped as they are for the necessities, operate a segment of our economy, which is clearly demonstrated and is clearly oriented, toward conspicuous waste.

"I think we should have a bottle bill; I think we should be using bottles; I think we should be recycling the bottles; and I think we should institute a system that encourages utilization of bottles and reuse. And so for that reason I'm voting against the bill."

Senator Kobayashi commented:

"Mr. President, this bill merely states that part of the law has been declared unconstitutional, and the head of our state litter control program did testify in favor of this bill. And I'll be glad to join Senator Kuroda's litter pickers if he will vote for the bill. Thank you."

Senator Abercrombie noted:

"I neglected to mention the reason and I'm glad the previous speaker reminded me. When the head of the litter control program testified in favor of it, it was a guarantee for me to go the other way."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 1232, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO LITTER CONTROL," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

By unanimous consent, action on S.B. No. 1628, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MOTOR VEHICLE ACCIDENT REPARATIONS," was deferred until April 8, 1981.

At this time, Senator Anderson rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

"I rise on a point of personal privilege.

"I was somewhat interested in reading an article in the morning paper. We've been sitting here now for the last two or three days discussing the budget that we just passed and prior to that we spent a week, almost around the clock in Ways and Means, trying to balance the budget and find money necessary to keep this government rolling.

"We had discussions the other night on having to cut out of the budget a $6,000 appropriation for the Kaneohe Senior Citizens. I think the Senator from the Seventh District talked about a cut of the alcohol program on Sand Island, all legitimate concerns. But, I note in this morning's paper, that an item entitled 'Interim Accord Reached in Hilo Airport Dispute,' and it's a dispute I really don't wish to get involved in, except this one part that bothers me where the Administration says: 'For the first three months $36,000 will come out of the Airport Special Fund, after that the state will come up with the money, one way or another, if a permanent settlement has not been reached.'

"I'm not certain where the Governor has found the money machine, but sitting here yesterday passing a rather hefty duty-free bill, which protected our special fund out there, which in fact helps the airlines, I will not, and I speak strictly for myself at this point, I will not stand by and see the taxpayers of this state underwrite $324,000, possibly, for keeping the special fund so sacred. I think that special fund, if the airport in Hilo is in dispute, then that fund and the airlines are the ones responsible, with the Administration, for keeping that accord rolling and not the taxpayers of this state.

"I say here and now that I'm going to do all I can, as one senator, to make sure that a proviso or language is in the ultimate budget denying the Governor the spending of some $324,000 of the taxpayers' money for settling a dispute that the taxpayer is not involved in."

The Chair commented:

"It never ceases to amaze me, since you mentioned it, in view of all the consternation expressed in having to cut human services in the state here, that these very same people did vote for the, in my judgment, unjustified pay increases for executives."

At 11:33 o'clock a.m., on motion by Senator Cobb, seconded by Senator Anderson and carried, the Senate adjourned until 11:30 o'clock a.m., Wednesday, April 8, 1981.

STANDING COMMITTEE REPORTS

Senator Young, for the Committee on Legislative Management, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 921) informing the Senate that Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 67, Senate Resolution Nos. 207 to 214 and Standing Committee Report Nos. 907 to 920 have been printed and are ready for distribution.

On motion by Senator Young, seconded by Senator George and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted.

Senator George, for the Committee on Transportation, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 922) recommending the Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 46, as amended in S.D. 1, be adopted.

Senator George moved that the report of the Committee be adopted and that S.C.R. No. 46, S.D. 1, be adopted, seconded by Senator Cobb.

Senator Cayetano then rose and stated:

"Mr. President, I favor this resolution, however, in reading the resolution itself, I think the record should be made clear that the 'whereas' clauses in the resolution make certain assumptions which are not entirely correct.

"For example, on page 1, the 'whereas' clause which reads: 'Whereas, the Antitrust Division of the U.S. Department of Justice issued a "business letter"...;' the paragraph is quite lengthy and it goes on to state some other things.

"Let me say that in my opinion the 'whereas' clause and what it states is taken out of context. The U.S. Department of Justice, I think, subsequently clarified the business review letter and I think it became clear, or it's clear to me anyway, that that business review letter was never intended to prohibit the state from taking the kind of action that it took in the House Bill relating to the two duty-free concessionaires at the airport which we recently passed, H.B. No. 1470 (Relating to Transportation).

"I think also, that on page 2 of the resolution, in the fourth 'whereas' clause which states: 'Whereas, at the time concessionaire bids were solicited, the Department of Transportation's pre-bid specification notices informed all potential bidders for concessions that it contemplated issuing delivery permits to off-airport businesses;'

"That 'whereas' clause, taken by itself, would seem to indicate that the Department of Transportation was all but committed to issuing the delivery permits. However, the contract itself states that the Department is contemplating issuing the delivery permits, so the bottom line would be whether or not the issuing of such permits is in the best interest of the state.

"I have similar concerns regarding other 'whereas' clauses which I think make some assumptions of fact which are not entirely correct, and I am going to support this resolution with those reservations in mind."

Senator George rose in response as follows:

"Mr. President, in brief response to the good Senator from the Fourth District, this resolution was not the easiest one we've had to write this session, and I would simply like to say that the 'whereas' clauses have been through a very fine screen, indeed, and have suffered from the blue pencil and eagle-eye perception of both the antitrust people and the Department of the Attorney General, the Department of Transportation, your Committee on Transportation, and every other eye that wanted to look at them.

"This is the best we can do and I believe they are factually, absolutely correct. Any impression that they tilt one way or the other is to be regretted. We had hoped this would not be the case. Thank you."

Senator Cobb then stated:

"One additional observation, Mr. President. The fourth 'whereas' clause on page 2 is a continuing problem in the Department of Transportation. It surfaced during the public hearing we had on the subject bill in question, and that is their contemplating the issue of delivery permits to off-airport businesses.

"It seems to be very clearly a case of overt, orchestrated obfuscation of the worse sort; namely, that they are thinking about doing it but make no commitment one way or the other to do it, and I hope this review that's going to be conducted in the interim will get them off the dime so that they make a decision one way or the other."

Senator O'Connor rose to speak in favor of the measure:

"Mr. President, I'm in favor of this resolution and of Senate Resolution No. 133 and would incorporate these remarks in support of each.

"The content of these resolutions support thoroughly the comments which I made in opposition to the House Bill which we passed on the subject matter of two concessionaires having a monopoly with the state at the airport, and I believe that I therefore would have incorporated, with my remarks on that House Bill, the content of these resolutions."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.C.R. No. 46, S.D. 1, entitled: "SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING A STUDY AND REPORT ON THE SALE AND DELIVERY OF DUTY-FREE MERCHANDISE AT THE HONOLULU INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT," was adopted.

Senator George, for the Committee on Transportation, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 923) recommending that Senate Resolution No. 133, as amended in S.D. 1, be referred to the Committee on Legislative Management.

On motion by Senator George, seconded by Senator Cobb and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and S.R. No. 133, S.D. 1, entitled: "SENATE RESOLUTION REQUESTING A STUDY AND REPORT ON THE SALE AND DELIVERY OF DUTY-FREE MERCHANDISE AT THE HONOLULU INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT," was referred to the Committee on Legislative Management.

on the subject matter thereof, seconded by Senator Anderson.

Senator Cayetano stated:

"Mr. President, this is the so-called 'pork' bill. When we go to conference on this matter, I would hope that the conferees would take into account certain things. For example, it contained 'pork,' if you want to call it that, for hospitals, and yet a few days ago we passed a special purpose revenue bond for hospitals. It contains numerous items for repairs and maintenance. Last session, we gave $25 million for repairs and maintenance.

"All of these things have to be taken into consideration. I suspect there's a lot of duplication here. I think that we have to wrestle with the basic policy question of whether we want to do this kind of thing in light of the bond authorization limit and the bond debt limit, as imposed upon us by the Constitutional Convention and the subsequent ratification of the proposed amendments by the voters in 1978."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, and the Senate disagreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 734, S.D. 1, and requested a conference on the subject matter thereof.

No. 788, and in accordance with Article III, Section 15, of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, the 48-hour notice was given on the Final Reading of S.B. Senator Abercrombie then stated:

"Is the motion, as I understand it, is to agree, is that correct?"

The Chair answered in the affirmative.

Senator Abercrombie then questioned further:

"Now it's to be $30?"

The Chair again replied in the affirmative.

Senator Abercrombie then asked:

"And we are moving to agree?"

The Chair replied that "that is the motion made by the chairman."

Senator Abercrombie then stated:

"I can't support that. We haven't had any discussion as to why we should drop $20 from the figure of the Senate and simply set it at $30 at this stage, without any further discussion with the House.

"This is unacceptable to me and I wonder if the chairman would like to reconsider his position."

At 12:20 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

Senator Abercrombie remarked:

"Are we now going to vote on the motion to disagree?"

The Chair answered in the affirmative.

"Before we do, I have been informed that I should declare a conflict because I am a renter. I don't think it's a conflict, I think in this instance I've been blinded by necessity."

The Chair ruled that Senator Abercrombie could vote.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, and the Senate disagreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 815, S.D. 2, and requested a conference on the subject matter thereof.

to speak in favor of the measure:

"I rise to speak in support of Senate Resolution No. 90, S.D. 1. I would like to express appreciation for the expeditious manner in which the chairman of the subject committee dealt with the resolution.

"Mr. President, and members of the Senate, I'm bound to ask the question, what does it take to get government concerned enough to prepare for one of the most insidious, natural enemies of mankind, the earthquake.

"In 1979, I introduced Senate Resolution No. 225 which had as its purpose, natural hazard evaluation and earthquake prediction, which is the same purpose as this resolution. The resolution passed the Senate on April 17, 1979. The state was requested to make a report to this body before the 1980 session, but such a report was never made. Based on the state's findings, I had planned to introduce legislation in the 1980 session dealing with the problem of earthquake prediction. Now, and this is 1981, I find it necessary to introduce still another resolution so that proper legislation could follow.

"Mr. President, an article in yesterday's Sunday Star-Bulletin/Advertiser, I guess by way of the Associated Press, underscores the problem this way, and I'm quoting a section of that article: 'Every year San Francisco faces a one percent chance that the earth will heave a momentous sigh and rip open like the gaping jaws of a killer shark. If the quake is as powerful as the jolt of 1906, it could cause 11,000 deaths and $36 billion in property damage.' And the article goes on: 'Phillip Day, of the San Francisco Emergency Services Office says, "Apathy reigns supreme and the only thing that would change it is a nice earthquake.'"

"Mr. President, the purpose of this resolution is to contribute to Hawaii's not falling into the apathy which could spell disaster for a number of Hawaii's people. And the fact that this resolution could lead to improvement of earthquake prediction, in my judgment, is reason enough to support it. Therefore, I strongly urge unanimous support for the resolution."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.R. No. 90, S.D. 1, entitled: "SENATE RESOLUTION RELATING TO NATURAL HAZARD EVALUATION AND EARTHQUAKE PREDICTION," was adopted.

At this time, Senator Campbell rose

At this time, Senator Cayetano remarked:

"Mr. President, I'd like to welcome back a colleague, Senator Abercrombie. I didn't know he was ill. Friday there was a strange calm about this house. I looked back and his seat was empty.

"As most of us know, our good colleague was hospitalized because of some food that you served at your fund raiser, Mr. President. Apparently, some of it got lodged in his esophagus and was necessary for him to go to the hospital. He is totally helpless at this minute; he cannot speak, which may be a good thing for all of us. The few words I was able to get out of him, Mr. President, he did inform me that the doctors who inspected his esophagus and his throat claimed that it was one of the biggest voice boxes he had seen.

"And finally, I guess, all of us can be grateful and certainly the medical community can be grateful for Senator Abercrombie's contribution to medicine. I think what happened to him is conclusive proof, Mr. President, that one cannot shout and eat at the same time."

Senator Abercrombie replied:

"Mr. President, that's not quite accurate as to what happened. The doctor informed me that the reason I had my problem is that I've been forced to wear a tie for almost two years."

At this time, Senator Saiki, Chairman of the Committee on Higher Education, requested a waiver of the 48-hour notice of a Public Hearing on the following:

Governor's Message No. 295, submitting for consideration and confirmation to the Board of Directors, Research Corporation, University of Hawaii, the nomination of J.W.A. Buyers, and the President granted the waiver.

At 11:45 o'clock a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 11:47 o'clock p.m.

At this time, Senator Soares, Chairman of the Committee on Public Utilities, requested a waiver of the 48-hour notice of a Public Hearing on the following:

Governor's Message No. 304, submitting for consideration and confirmation to the Public Utilities Commission, the nomination of Clyde S. DuPont.

and the President granted the waiver.

Then, Senator Young, Chairman of the Committee on Housing and Hawaiian Homes, requested a waiver of the 48-hour notice of a Public Hearing on the following:

Governor's Message No. 296, submitting for consideration and confirmation to the Advisory Council for Housing and Construction Industry, the nomination of Sheldon S.H. Zane; and

Senate Resolution No. 278, entitled: "SENATE RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE HAWAII HOUSING AUTHORITY TO PROVIDE LOW COST HOUSING PROJECTS ON STATE LANDS IN WEST HAWAII," and the President granted the waiver.

At this time, Senator Campbell rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

"Mr. President, I have in my hand a report which is entitled, 'Symposium on School Violence and Vandalism,' which should be on your desk and the desk of the other Senators sometime today or tomorrow. This symposium met on December 5, 1980, in Washington, D.C.

"Before going into a discussion of that report, I think that at this point I would like to stress appreciation to the Education Commission of the States for their cooperation in setting up this symposium. Mr. President, the Washington conference was set up to give Hawaii additional information concerning the problems plaguing our schools today, and I have reference to school violence and vandalism.

"As I feel, it is imperative that this Legislature concern itself with a comprehensive program for early identification and treatment of troubled students. Some of us had some hope last year when Senate Bill 1933 passed the Senate and passed the House Education Committee, but got stopped in the House Finance Committee. In writing the bill some of us felt that the biggest loophole in the fight against violent crime was losing track of students who exhibit problems in the early years, or students who identify those problems but no action was taken to solve the problem.

"A dramatic example of this point that I'm trying to make is the assault on a school teacher in the classroom last Friday. Mr. President, it is incredible that the same youngster could commit the same kind of violent crime in the same general manner and place without having been referred to a program which would have prevented the second offense. Furthermore, it is difficult to understand why this 17-year old was not identified earlier in his school career and preventive action taken. The fact that this high school junior could come on campus and repeat the same crime is an indication that there is something wrong with our preventive system.

"It is my hope that this report of the Symposium on School Violence and Vandalism will be used as a basis for seriously addressing this problem. I'm submitting a copy to the Board of Education and to the Department of Education.

"And in a kind of closing statement, Mr. President, may I call for the implementation of an effective program to combat school violence and vandalism. Time is not on our side. Thank you very much."

Senator Uwaine then rose to inquire "if the Senator from the Fifth District will yield to a question" and Senator Campbell replied: "Yes, if it's prudent and germane."

Senator Uwaine asked: "Mr. President, is the young man that he refers to, I guess the 17-year old, a repeat offender, was he found guilty yet?"

Senator Campbell answered: "Mr. President, no, I don't think he's been found guilty yet. He was found guilty a year ago of assaulting a custodian, and I think the point that the Senator is making is a very technical one. I don't know whether it relates to the comments that I made on school violence and vandalism or not, but in direct answer to the Senator, no, he hasn't been convicted yet of the crime, but I think we have a number of students in the same category who have not been convicted yet, but the problem remains. Thank you."

Senator Uwaine responded: "Mr. President, I just think that it's very important that we remember that our laws are based on the fact that a person is innocent until proven guilty."

Senator O'Connor then remarked: "Mr. President, juveniles are never convicted."

At this time, Senator Kuroda, Chairman of the Committee on Tourism, requested a waiver of the 48-hour notice of a Public Hearing on the following measure:

Senate Bill No. 271, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HOTELS," and the President granted the waiver.

The Chair then made the following announcement:

"The Chair would like to inform the members of the Senate that the House has taken formal action on the naming of its conferees. Transmittal of the final documents to the Senate will be some time this afternoon. As soon as those documents have arrived from the House naming the House conferees, distribution will be made to the members of the Senate."

On motion by Senator Ushijima, seconded by Senator Kuroda and carried, the Senate agreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. At 11:58 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 11:59 o'clock p.m.

"Mr. President, on behalf of the Senate and as a Vietnam veteran myself, it's a great honor to introduce three individuals who are recipients of the highest award for valor that this nation can bestow, the Congressional Medal of Honor.

"This medal is awarded only rarely for extreme valor and it's usually a posthumous award, that is, the individual receiving it is killed in action. The criteria for the award is so stringent that very often the award itself, or the deeds done by the individual cannot be verified, but it normally must involve repeated acts of heroism, witnessed and verified on the battlefield --a series of heroic acts under intense enemy fire, most often while the individual soldier has been wounded or otherwise incapacitated.

"Mr. President, the three Medal of Honor recipients who are here today are now stationed in Hawaii. The gentlemen are wearing the blue and white ribbon with the Medal of Honor, signifying their acts of heroism, therefore, protocol precludes us from presenting them with leis.

"You will also note that the recipients are wearing the Purple Heart Award signifying wounds received in action. It was my unfortunate occurrence to receive four Purple Hearts in Vietnam, as well. These individuals not only received the medal, but kept on functioning after they had been wounded, and that is one of the essential criteria for the award of the Medal of Honor.

"Mr. President, it my pleasure and honor to introduce Sergeant John F. Baker, Jr., Staff Sergeant Franklin D. Miller and Sergeant Robert M. Patterson."

Senator Cobb presented the gentlemen with certified copies of the resolution and introduced them to each member of the Senate. Senators George, Saiki and Young handed them leis.

At this time, Senator Abercrombie rose to ask if the chairman of the Conference Committee would yield to a question and Senator Carpenter replied in the affirmative.

Senator Abercrombie asked: "Could the chairman explain how the changes made will make convictions, with respect to the definition of what is pornographic, more likely to occur and to withstand judicial challenge?"

Senator Carpenter answered: "Mr. President, the bill basically is in agreement with the United States Supreme Court ruling. The language in the bill essentially is an extension of the language offered in the United States Supreme Court's ruling, in essence, duplicating that language. The bill also sets the contemporary standard to be a statewide standard to be determined by the adjudication process within the State of Hawaii's present resources."

Senator Abercrombie then rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I oppose the bill on the grounds that to extend to the law the idea of a definition under the general aegis of 'community standard' is to do violence to that in the Constitution which protects due process for the individual. I do not feel that I should be subject, with respect to what has generally been termed pornographic which I take to be in all likelihood a definition which revolves around the dehumanization of the species with respect especially to matters being sexual, I do not deem it due process for myself or any other individual under the Constitution of the United States to have the community set a standard with respect to what I think.

"It's one thing to set a standard as we have just done with respect to the consumption of alcohol and driving an automobile. It has been noted in discussion that driving an automobile is a privilege granted by the state and, as such, that one's 'rights' with respect to that automobile in respect to the consumption of alcohol are subject to a degree of community sanction. Even that degree of community sanction is subject to widespread discussion and concern as to whether or not the inherent rights of the individual under the Constitution are protected.

"In this particular instance, I do not believe where one is involving oneself with the consumption of literature or the consumption of one's view of a philosophy, whether by virtue of words or pictures, that due process is being observed. It's not that I'm unconcerned with what constitutes a community standard. I think that any reasonable individual takes into account his or her neighbors or fellows in terms of their opinions, good or bad, especially those opinions which reflect upon their philosophy of life or one's moral standards and views. They are subject to discussion in the press; they are subject to discussion, one individual to another and in various groups. But in this country we have always tried to defend the right of the individual to stand against, if you will, the opinions and views of others with respect to philosophy, with respect to the First Amendment and freedom of speech.

"By definition, if you will, in the area of freedom of speech, we have tried to go as far as one can in defending the right of someone to hold views quite the opposite of oneself in the area of speech because to inhibit anyone in this area is to stand the chance of inhibiting oneself at some future time, when perhaps the community is not with you.

"In this particular area of sexual violence or sexual dehumanization we have more than adequate statutes, I believe, in the area of abuse. Take for example the most notorious aspect of what generally is considered in the realm of the pornographic, the abuse of children, so-called child pornography. I held for sometime and I believe that current litigation is making clear that the view that I've held is an adequate one to deal with this area, in fact, a correct one. That rather than concentrating on the so-called pornographic nature of the depiction of the abuse of children sexually, it is more proper, as well as more effective, to cause changes to be brought against people who in fact have contributed or are taking advantage of the sexual abuse of children, and to charge them with that rather than with pornography, because when you move from the area of notorious with respect to child pornography into extending that to what I may read or not read of what I may view or not view as such, then you've taken away my volition in this area where I would not dispute the right of the state or the community to bring charges against me or anyone else that I participated in acts which have caused the sexual abuse of children to take place. I do not think it is difficult to extend this line of reasoning to the whole area of pornography.

"The historical examination of suppression, censorship, is replete with examples where pornography or obscenity was utilized as a disguise or a guise for a plain censorship of views not being worthy to be held by the individuals or groups who were bringing such charges against other individuals or groups, especially where publications were concerned, either pictorial or verbal.

"I feel that this bill is yet another extension of an attempt to do violence to the First Amendment with respect to freedom of speech and I would urge that my colleagues here consider that we approach the area of pornography from the viewpoint of charging those people who have committed sexual violence, who have committed actions which may clearly be seen to constitute assault to an individual sexually as the way to deal with this matter and to leave those matters of choice of literature, in particular, to the individual, as is required under the Constitution.

"Thank you."

At this time, Senator O'Connor rose to ask if the chairman of the Conference Committee would yield to a question and Senator Cobb replied in the affirmative.

Senator O'Connor then inquired: "Mr. President, first of all, section 9 of this bill attempts to clarify time-share property and to constitute it as real estate under certain sections of the law. Is it the intent of this measure to take time-sharing out of the potential of being security under our Securities Act?"

Senator Cobb answered: "Mr. President, no, there is no determination made by the conferees on either side that we were excluding the consideration that time-sharing, might, in the future, be classified as a security. We did recognize, however, that based on the law we passed last year where we said that the simple division of property shall not affect its status as real property, that it was a logical extension to classify time-sharing sales as real estate."

Senator O'Connor responded: "Do I understand, Mr. President, that the answer to that question to be that the Securities Act will still apply?"

Senator Cobb answered: "Mr. President, if it can be applied, relative to the circumstances of the sale, the answer would be in the affirmative. If the Federal Securities Act would not apply in the circumstances of the sale, the answer would be in the negative."

Senator O'Connor further inquired: "Mr. President, secondly, there are a series of items laid out in this proposed measure having to do with deceptive trade practices. I think there are about 12 of them, referring the matter to Chapter 480 which is our Antitrust and Deceptive Trade Practices Act. Can I understand, Mr. President, that any time-sharing matter which has existed up to now can be prosecuted under Chapter 480, despite the fact that we may enact this measure today?"

Senator Cobb answered: "That question may well be in litigation before the courts, Mr. President. The intent of this bill is to make that authority clear for the future."

Senator O'Connor then remarked: "I have no further question, Mr. President. I would just like to make a brief statement on this measure."

"I am going to vote in favor of this bill, Mr. President, because, I think, it clarifies some problems and takes care of some of the situations presently existing in time-sharing. However, I am concerned with the lack of clear-cut delineation as to time-sharing as it has existed up to now and my 'aye' vote for this anticipates that if there is any litigation brought under Chapter 480 concerning time-sharing for deceptive trade practices which have existed prior to this time, and I know there have been lots of them, that the passage of this bill should not inhibit that litigation and should not inhibit the use of Chapter 480 up to this time."

"Further, if any time-sharing program runs afoul of our state or Federal Securities Exchange Commission rules or law, I would anticipate that litigation in that area certainly may proceed despite the contents of section 9 of the bill."

Senator Abercrombie added his remarks as follows:

"Mr. President, speaking in favor of this bill, I want to state what might be considered obvious, but, nonetheless, I think for the record needs to be stated, that in voting for the measures contained in this bill, it is by no means to be construed as approval of time-sharing as a practice."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, and Conf. Com. Rep. No. 21 was adopted and S.B. No. 67, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TIME SHARING SALES," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Kawasaki rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, generally, I support giving tax exemption to new industries, particularly regarding the manufacture of Hawaiian liquor, but I have some doubts about an arbitrary five-year exemption that we are providing this particular industry. I'd like to allow them the exemption as long as they need it but a blanket five years without showing cause for it might not be the wisest thing. For that reason, I'd like to vote against this bill."

Senator Henderson remarked:

"Mr. President, we have consistently given five-year exemptions, in the initial periods, to these alcohol industries."

Senator Cayetano added his remarks as follows:

"Mr. President, voting with reservations for the bill, my concern is that with respect to new industries, it seems that we have taken a very selective approach. There's really no rationale for us to give one new industry tax exemption status over another. I suggest that when we come into session next year we consider a more comprehensive approach."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, and Conf. Com. Rep. No. 29 was adopted and H.B. No. 247, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO INTOXICATING LIQUOR," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

At this time, Senator O'Connor rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I'm going to vote against this bill. This bill is an attempt to extend the claims conciliation panel approach which is presently being used for doctors to architects, engineers and surveyors. Litigation involving architects, engineers and surveyors also invariably involves owners, because it is the owner of course that is erecting the building, and contractors. We have found in the use of the panels with doctors that if all parties are not involved in the panel as all parties would be involved in litigation in court, it is impossible to reach a conclusion in any matter.

"In this particular situation, invariably, key parties are not going to be involved the way this bill is drafted and the way it was proposed by the advocates of the architects and engineers. This is going to lead to an immense expense on the part of the state and an immense amount of time spent and very little conclusion reached in a litigation situation that can lead to settlement, which is the basic reason for establishing these panels.

"I'm opposed to setting something up that is not going to have the effect of doing away with additional litigation in court which we should do with this. Therefore, I am going to vote against it and would urge others to do the same."

Senator Abercrombie also rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, speaking against this bill, if I thought that this bill was going to reduce the amount of activity in terms of cost to all parties and reduce the amount of time that would be involved in making a settlement and increase the opportunity to get a fair settlement, then I would vote for it. This is the basis for the panel as far as medical malpractice is concerned. But I do not think that this is going to take place under the circumstances as outlined in the bill.

"Further, I think that it is probably inadvertent, but nonetheless without question in my mind, stacked in favor of the engineers, architects and surveyors. And in particular, I have reservations because I believe while there may be problems for the private sector, individuals and firms who might be involved in contesting this list of professional engineers, architects and surveyors, I haven't the slightest doubt that it is public projects, capital improvement projects that will be involved where the state is concerned and the taxpayers of this state are much more likely to be the losers under this particular setup, and I for one don't want to put any further burden on them than already exists, given the history of many of the public projects that the taxpayers of this state have had to suffer."

Senator Cayetano also rose to speak against the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I oppose this bill and I would like the Journal to reflect or to incorporate the remarks of Senators Abercrombie and O'Connor as being my own. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, and Conf. Com. Rep. No. 33 was adopted and S.B. No. 1681, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TORT ACTIONS," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

"Mr. President, I urge the unanimous passage of this bill, primarily, because at last now we have closed a loophole that will enable the leasing of submerged lands, like the Keehi Lagoon submerged lands, to private entities for development or other purposes. Senator Cobb moved that S.B. No. 1050, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Uwaine.

At this time, Senator Abercrombie rose to speak on the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, speaking in favor of this, I just want to note, unfortunately, the bitterness I feel over the situation we find ourselves in agreeing in this bill.

"This bill was intended and does have the effect of giving recognition to those elements in our society, those people in our society, who have great difficulty in finding suitable living quarters. I don't think that there's anything that frightens an individual quite so much, with the possible exception of an utter loss of income to sustain oneself with the fundamentals of life -- food, as there is when one contemplates the loss of shelter. Most particularly, I emphasize this when an individual's in a position of having to rent, and is an elderly and/or handicapped citizen or individual resident alien subject to our constitutional protection.

"Again, I cite most particularly the present state of economic affairs, both in our state and in our country as a whole. Nothing is so fraught with anxiety as having to move, most particularly, when one is living in an apartment situation as a senior citizen.

"This bill was very carefully drafted at the beginning with a very careful purpose involved to provide a measure of protection for our senior and handicapped citizens. The nature of the problem that I've outlined was recognized by members of the Senate who are not only interested but participate as landlords and developers. They recognized the problem; they recognized the weight of evidence from other states, other cities, other jurisdictions across the country who are also dealing with this problem...and this is not unique to Hawaii...and who have granted the kinds of extensions and in some instances even moving to the point of what is termed life-long leases where condominium conversions are taking place for senior citizens.

"It was my hope, and I know the hope of the chairman of the Consumer Protection Committee that, having achieved a broad consensus among those who are concerned for senior citizens and who at the same time were directing their attention and had expertise in the area of development and condominium conversion and construction, that the provisions that we had outlined here for nine months were a fair and equitable solution, if only temporary, to those problems facing senior citizens.

"It is absolutely beyond me how when this bill moved to the House that we could not achieve a consensus with the House. And I started my remarks by saying that I have to agree to this bill and ask for its passage with more than some degree of bitterness over it, and I would hope that the chairman of the Youth and Elderly Affairs Committee in the opposite House can give some kind of explanation to the people of this state in respect to his attitude.

"I don't think I've stood in this chamber or in the other chamber when I was privileged to serve there and felt it necessary to stand and question the judgment of the leadership of a committee, to question the outcome of a bill after all the discussion back and forth and so on in trying to make a decision. In this particular instance, the arguments raised against it are so unworthy, are so devoid of any kind of logic or reason, are so utterly without compassion or understanding for the situation involved, that it is beyond my capacity to forgive or forget what happened to the bill."

Senator Cobb then remarked: "Mr. President, just one brief comment in passing. There is a political science theory that says the House that is elected every two years is theoretically closer to the people. Unfortunately, in this case, Mr. President, it was most far removed."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, and S.B. No. 1050, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CONDOMINIUM CONVERSIONS," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

SENATE RESOLUTIONS

The following resolutions (S.R. Nos. 325 to 335) were read by the Clerk and were disposed of as follows:

A resolution (S.R. No. 325), entitled: "SENATE RESOLUTION EXTENDING RECOGNITION TO THE LATE PROFESSOR ANNE H. ADAMS," was offered by Senators Campbell, Machida, O'Connor, Cobb, Ushijima, Mizuguchi, Holt, Kuroda, Ajifu, Carpenter, Cayetano, Yee, Henderson, Uwaine, Yamasaki, Anderson, Wong, Soares, Young, Abercrombie, Kawasaki, George, Kobayashi, Saiki and Toyofuku.

Senator Campbell moved that S.R. No. 325 be adopted, seconded by Senator Machida.

At this time, Senator Campbell rose to speak in favor of the resolution as follows:

"I rise to speak in favor of Senate Resolution No. 325, 'Extending Recognition to the Late Professor Anne H. Adams.'

"Dr. Adams, who passed away last November 1980, was one of the most outstanding professors of basic education in America. She developed an effective reading and writing technique called 'Success in Beginning Reading and Writing,' which was introduced to Hawaii's schools. I am proud to have played a role in bringing this phenomenal program to Hawaii's children.

"I got to know Anne as a sensitive, dedicated and highly intelligent individual. I hope her untimely death will not stop the important work she started.

"Mr. President, when I was a member of the Hawaii State House of Representatives, I became very much interested in the fact that basic skills of our high school graduates were lacking in many crucial respects.

"The summer of 1977, as vice-chairman of the Education Committee and chairman of the Higher Education Subcommittee on the numbering system and the transferability of credits, and at my own expense, I went to several cities on the mainland in search of proven, effective methods for teaching basic reading, writing and math.

"This trip was a follow-up of House Resolution No. 243, which I introduced in the Legislature on February 3, 1977. The resolution requested that the Department of Education conduct a study to determine the feasibility of establishing a statewide qualifying examination for students seeking high school certification of graduation. I was prompted to introduce this resolution because many students were graduating from public schools without the ability to read, write, or do simple mathematical computation necessary to function in our society.

"A month after the resolution was introduced, the Department of Education activated a task force on graduation requirements. I was elated to see a resurfacing of efforts to set graduation requirements, but my major concern remained unaddressed, that is, a timetable for full implementation of a Department of Education program which prepares students, upon graduation, to function in our society. I felt, in order to set a reasonable timetable, it was necessary to start effective programs of reading, writing and basic computation at the earliest possible date.

"The trip I referred to earlier, was designed to find such effective programs. On the trip, I conferred with educational specialists in the following cities: Los Angeles, California; Atlanta, Georgia; Durham, North Carolina; Washington, D.C.; and Boston, Massachusetts. As a result of these series of meetings, I was convinced that functional skills in reading, writing, spelling and math are possible, in spite of television distractions, little encouragement at home and the socio-economic background of the student.

"There is no satisfactory explanation for the Hawaii school system turning out graduates who cannot read, write, spell nor do acceptable basic computation necessary to function in our competitive society. This is particularly true when one realizes that our school system, more so than any other school system of its size in the country, gets very strong support from the public and the Legislature.

"Mr. President, soon after my return from the mainland trip in 1977, I noted a stir in the Honolulu Star-Bulletin, which reported that many 9th graders in Hawaii were unable to spell most of the words in the pledge of allegiance to the flag. My concern was accentuated when this story was carried over a major national network radio station.

"Hawaii, with the only statewide supported statewide public school system in the country, should be turning out the largest percentage of the best prepared public school students in the country. As an effective vehicle for hastening this process, I found the Anne Adams Program--'Success in Beginning Reading and Writing.'

"As a guest of President Terry Sanford, on the campus of Duke University, I had the occasion to express to him, my interest in talking with some knowledgeable people in the field of basic education--reading, writing and arithmetic--somebody who knows of, or has developed an effective program in the basic skills. President Sanford said to me, and I quote: 'I have the very person you ought to talk to. It is Dr. Anne Adams, who is a professor of education here at the University.' President Sanford then proceeded to set up an appointment to see and talk with Anne Adams.

"I met with Dr. Adams, with my mini-tape recorder in operation. In the two hour session that we had, I was spellbound at the revelation of new and better techniques for teaching kindergarten and first grade students how to read, write and spell. My interest in her method was accentuated when she said: 'This method can be effective with students, no matter what their socio-economic background may be.'

"Mr. President, upon returning to Hawaii from my trip, I got in touch with the Board of Education, urging that they look into the merits of this program because it had great potential for Hawaii.

"The Anne Adams program was introduced into Hawaii's school system. According to principals, teachers and other school administrators, the success of the Anne Adams program is phenomenal.

"Mr. President, I would like to read into the record, some pertinent communication. A letter from Mr. Charles Clark, Superintendent of Education, dated October 19, 1977; a letter from Mr. Noboru Yonamine, Chairman of the Board of Education, dated October 13, 1977; a letter from Dr. Richard S. Alm, President of Ka Hui Heluhelu, and a letter from Dr. Adams.

Dear Representative Campbell:

Thank you for your letter dated October 6, 1977 informing us of the reading demonstration project in the Durham, North Carolina School System developed by Dr. Anne Adams of Duke University. We are always glad to receive information about programs which can help us to improve education in Hawaii.

The State language arts team, composed of language arts program specialists, has been in touch with Dr. Adams. Her basic philosophy and approach to reading seem to be in consonance with the present thinking of the Department of Education. For students not performing adequately, the Durham project which stresses phonics, language experience, and the reading of magazines, newspapers, and library books seems like a viable approach.

Because of your observations of this project, my staff in the Office of Instructional Services is planning a meeting with Dr. Adams to review the project materials in conjunction with a Washington, D.C. conference arranged by the USOE. Thank you for your continuing interest in quality education for our Hawaii youngsters.

Sincerely,

/s/ Charles G. Clark

At this time, Senator Yee made the following introduction:

"Mr. President, in adopting the resolution, I'd like to say a little bit about the wonderful lady who is being honored this afternoon. Mrs. Barbara McKaughan came to Hawaii in 1963 and settled here. Prior to that time, her travels had taken her to Mexico, New Guinea, the Philippines and around the Pacific area. Wherever she went, she dedicated herself to the children and we're happy that she has been selected as the 'Mother of the Year' for Hawaii.

"She leaves very shortly for New York City where she will be competing for the 'American Mother' nationally. So, at this time, I'd like to introduce Mrs. Barbara Jean McKaughan. With her, her husband, Mr. Howard McKaughan and Mrs. Anita Moepono, President of the American Mother's Committee of Hawaii."

Senator Abercrombie then commented:

"May I please Mr. President, as we all know, behind every good woman stands a good man, and rather than just have the introduction of certainly not the better half but the other half of the McKaughan family, I want to acknowledge, in Dean Howard McKaughan, that we have one of the finest administrators, one of the most exemplary examples of the best in teaching and research at the University of Hawaii in his person.

"We hear a lot of criticism and I certainly am no stranger to making criticism, hopefully constructively, in terms of the University of Hawaii, but if there is one person that I know of over the years at the University of Hawaii for whom criticism is entirely lacking and for whom all honor is due in terms of his contribution to this community and to the University and obviously to the well-being and happiness of Mrs. McKaughan, it is the Dean.

"Howard, it is a pleasure to see you here today."

Senator Yee then presented the honoree with a lei.

At this time, Senator Campbell remarked as follows:

"According to a report by the Hawaii Natural Energy Institute, University of Hawaii, Hawaii spent approximately $800 million in 1978 for imported petroleum. One estimate, based on a 10% annual price increase, is that by 1990, Hawaii will be spending over $2 billion for oil. The state, however, has the potential to achieve 100% electrical energy self-sufficiency by 1990.

"The Hawaii taxpayer, for 1980-81, will be spending approximately one million three hundred thousand dollars for gasoline for cars operated by the state.

"These are reasons enough to search for an alternative, but there is more.

"In Hawaii we have the cleanest air of any state in the union, and it's being threatened, largely by the number of cars on the road emitting pollution.

"I introduced Senate Resolution No. 20, primarily because our congressional delegation, the executive and our legislators, in spite of much effort, have not succeeded in persuading Washington to store 10 million barrels of oil in Hawaii for emergency purposes. On March 8, 1977, I introduced House Resolution No. 459, which urged the federal energy agency to stockpile 10 million barrels of crude oil in Hawaii so that our state could contend with an emergency caused by an oil embargo.

"Since that time, I was able to get over two-thirds of the state legislative leaders to join our congressional delegation and the Governor in trying to get Washington to act. At this point, no results.

"Unlike House Resolution No. 459, which highlighted our dependency on oil, the resolution before us today emphasizes our need for self-sufficiency.

"Before the United States Senate Committee on Energy and Natural Resources last year, I made the following statement: 'Hawaii's critical dependence upon imported oil and the fact that Hawaii has the cleanest air of any state in the union, underscore the need to develop, for our state, alternative energy resources that are clean, dependable and reasonable in cost. One of the most promising of alternatives in the field of transportation is the electric car.' That's the subject of this resolution.

"Since most of the senators were not privy to the testimony submitted, related to the resolution, I feel it only fair, as a matter of fact, necessary, to point out that the Departments of Transportation and Accounting and General Services are opposed to the resolution. DAGS said this: 'As a participant in the Transportation Committee of the Hawaii Conservation Council and the Advisory Committee of the Energy Functional Plan, DAGS supported the proposal to utilize electric motor vehicles in their operation whenever feasible. We concur with the Department of Transportation that it is premature to conduct a study of the possibility of converting our present gasoline-powered vehicles at this time.'

"The Department of Transportation had this to say: 'The Department agrees that Hawaii has the cleanest air of any state in the union, and that the use of energy sources emitting a minimum of environmental pollutants would result in maintaining the cleanliness of Hawaii's air. The Department does not agree, however, that the use of electric vehicles in Hawaii would reduce petroleum consumption, since Hawaii's electrical power plants continue to be dependent upon petroleum, and based on today's fuel prices in Hawaii, there is no significant saving to the consumer between gasoline and electricity to travel a given distance.'

"In response to DOT's major contention that the use of electric vehicles in Hawaii would not reduce oil consumption since Hawaii's electrical plants continue to be dependent upon petroleum, let me share with you a report from the Hawaii Natural Energy Institute Electric Vehicle Demonstration Project. It says, in part: 'For a given unit of petroleum, an electric engine produces more power than a comparable internal combustion engine. Studies have shown that for every gallon of gasoline used to power an internal combustion engine, only 15% is used to actually set a car in motion. The remaining 85% of a gallon of gas providing power to an internal combustion engine, is transformed into heat. On the other hand, an electric engine, using one gallon of gasoline to provide electricity uses 30% of its inputted energy to set a car in motion. Thus, an electric engine is two times more efficient than an internal combustion engine.'

"Relative to the battery problem, Donald Hanson said this: 'Speaking as a member of the Hawaii Energy Conservation Council, I support this resolution, which recommends the greater use of electric vehicles by the state and counties. Hawaii seems to be ideally suited for conversion to electric vehicles. Distances are relatively short, making battery operation, even today, feasible.'

"The Department of Transportation said there was no important saving to the consumer between gasoline and electric-powered cars. According to Alex Hirota, who is the chief of the automotive division of the Department of Accounting and General Services, operational costs for state vehicles average approximately 18¢ to 19¢ per mile.

"The Electric Vehicle Project of the University of Hawaii says: 'The electric vehicle costs about 10.5¢ per mile to operate.'

"So much for the departments' positions related to the electric car. Now for some concluding statements.

"(1) According to DAGS, state vehicles travel 22.5 miles per day. The electric vehicles can travel up to 50 miles before recharging, thereby being a viable replacement for the gas-powered car.

"(2) According to an article in the Advertiser, dated September 7, 1980: 'The city of Berkeley, California, and Amctran Inc., of Dallas, Texas, have announced plans to mass produce what a spokesman termed the world's first high-performance electric car. Operating costs, including depreciation and battery replacement, are estimated at five cents per mile.'

"(3) Here is an interesting headline in the Advertiser, May 10, 1979: 'Postal Service Triples Electric Fleet.' The article goes on to say: 'The Postal Board of Governors yesterday approved one major energy saving step, the purchase of 750 more battery-powered mail delivery vehicles to cut gasoline use.' The article continues: 'The Board was told that the use of electric vehicles has shown they produce energy savings and low noise.'

"(4) As pointed out by the Hawaii Natural Energy Institute, compared to the gasoline-powered vehicles, electric-powered vehicles require less maintenance, thereby costing less to operate. The reason behind lower maintenance costs is that electric engines have fewer moving parts. Unlike a gasoline engine, an electric engine does not have pistons, a water pump, oil pump, fuel pump, or a carburetor. In addition, an electric engine does not require engine oil, radiator, air cleaner, exhaust system, nor a gas tank. In years to come, with the utilization of longer lasting batteries, the need for battery replacement will be eliminated. With further development, electric engines could possibly be virtually maintenance free.

"(5) Some of the advantages of the electric car:

A. Electric vehicles use energy that can be provided by resources other than imported oil. Solar, wind, biomass, etc.

B. The net energy required for electric vehicles is less than that of gasoline-powered internal combustion engine vehicles, even if oil fired electrical generation is used, as currently in Hawaii.

C. Electric vehicles create very little environmental pollution compared with gasoline engines.

D. No energy is expended or pollutants expelled when an electric vehicle is coasting or stopped.

"The Hawaii Natural Energy Institute of the University of Hawaii, in direct contradiction to the Department of Transportation, says: 'The popular use of electric vehicles in Hawaii may be a practical solution for the oil shortage and air pollution problems in this state.'

"An editorial in the Advertiser, dated Monday, April 20, 1981, focuses on the problem in this way: 'Here in Hawaii, we continue to believe that alternative energy sources should not be left on the back burner as something that will not become important for a decade or more.'

"I think a strong case exists for the state to simply conduct a study of the possibility of converting our present gasoline-powered state and county vehicles into electric-powered vehicles."

C.D. 1):

Senator Abercrombie moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 48 be adopted and S.B. No. 1699, S.D. 1, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Cayetano.

At this time, Senator Abercrombie rose to speak in favor of the measure:

"Mr. President, I am speaking in favor of this bill. I believe that this bill is virtually a textbook example of how a concern can be articulated into ideas, transposed into bill form in a very general way, then as a result of public discussion and intense effort on the part of legislators in both houses, up to and including the conference, arrive at a conclusion which very easily serves the intention, in this particular instance, to end violence and vandalism in our public schools.

"I think that this bill most particularly addresses the constitutional amendment concerning the policy-making functions of the Board of Education and is an ideal example of the kinds of results that can come from the cooperation of many groups and individuals in the community, including the Prosecutor's Office, the Hawaii Crime Commission, the Parents, Teachers and Students Association, the collective bargaining agent for the teachers, the collective bargaining agent for the educational officers and the United Public Workers, the DOE itself and the Board.

"In particular, I want to thank the members of the Education Committee and most especially, in the House, Representative Charles Toguchi, chairman of the Education Committee, Representative John Waihee on the Conference Committee and Representative Dennis Yamada, for recognizing that this area of confidence has been lacking in our public school system and that to regain control over the schools, to re-establish discipline in the schools, for the benefit not only of the children and teachers, but for the benefit of the tax paying public which expects to see that our school system is in proper running order. The result of all this, is that we can be proud of this bill and utilize it as a stepping stone, if not a foundation stone, for turning the public school system around in this most crucial area of violence and vandalism.

"No doubt, Mr. President, with your many duties in the past couple of weeks, you have not had time to peruse much of the news magazines, but nonetheless, I want to bring to your attention that the Newsweek magazine, in particular, is now in the second part of a three-part series on public school education in the United States. It considers the area of public education so important that it has, in unprecedented fashion, taken upon itself an analysis on a nationwide basis of the public school system covering three parts.

"It was interesting to note that on a nationwide basis discipline in the schools was the major concern of parents throughout the nation in every school district. It took the No. 1 priority. In our state, I think this bill is not only recognition of that concern here in Hawaii, but is an ideal example of what can be done by legislators who put their minds to work, and their talents to work, and their energy to work on behalf of good public policy.

"I would be most grateful for unanimous passage of this bill as an indication of our will and determination and intent to see to it that violence and vandalism in our public schools are ended."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, and Conf. Com. Rep. No. 48 was adopted and S.B. At this time, Senator Kawasaki remarked:

"Mr. President, while I will vote for this bill, I trust that the land board would not allow themselves to be used in subsidizing entrepreneurs in the agricultural field who want sort of a subsidy by having the state charge them, in the way of water rates, less than what it costs the state to provide the water.

"I think this bill was advocated by the Department of Land and Natural Resources primarily to take care of some Waimanalo water rate situations, which is a little different because of extenuating circumstances. However, the law will now allow the charging of water rates below what it costs the state. As I said, I would hope the land board very judiciously exercises what's allowed in this law right now and not provide water rates cheaper than what it costs the state to provide the same for agricultural activities."

Standing Committee Report No. 1081 (Gov. Msg. No. 313):

Senator Cobb moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1081 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Kuroda and carried.

Senator Cobb then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of Robert M. Lee to the Boxing Commission, term to expire December 31, 1982, seconded by Senator Kuroda.

At this time, Senator Kuroda rose to speak in favor of the appointment as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of the appointment of Robert M. Lee to the Boxing Commission. Mr. Lee did well in the Committee on Consumer Protection and Commerce public hearing and in spite of all the accusations made against him, he has come out with flying colors and I believe that the proper vote for this man is an 'aye' vote. Thank you."

Senator O'Connor remarked:

"Mr. President, I am going to vote in favor of Mr. Lee, but I rise to speak on another related issue and that is the handling of Mr. Lee in the committee. I've already talked to the chairman of the committee concerning the matter."

"I believe it would be an improper precedent for us in the Senate to establish, when we handle advise and consent matters, sanctions against individuals seemingly in return for the advise and consent in a favorable fashion.

"I believe that whether Mr. Lee did correctly or incorrectly use monies, evidently for a testimonial, should have been considered but I do not believe it is our function to require that monies be paid back, or retribution, or any sort of a sanction where such a matter is being considered. I would hate to see that established as any kind of precedent in this body for the future handling of matters on advise and consent."

Senator Kuroda rose to speak in rebuttal as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in rebuttal of the statement made by the critic of the chairman's action.

"I serve on the committee; I was at the hearings and it was my motion with regard to following a recommendation and I suggested that the possible solution is for restitution to be made back into the fund from which the money had come six years ago.

"It was in no way a mandatory request on the appointee. It was a matter of 'we'd like to suggest this, and if you will do that, then we will take further action on this matter,' but it was not a mandatory request."

Senator Abercrombie then remarked:

"Mr. President, I've been thinking about this nomination right to this moment, as to whether to vote for or against. I had been inclined, after reading Mr. Easterwood's editorial in the Star-Bulletin last night, to vote for the nomination, but in considering all the factors, I rise to speak against this nomination.

"I will not vote for Mr. Lee. I can't dispute the qualifications, especially as outlined to me very kindly by Senator Kuroda. I will not speak against the character of Mr. Lee. I believe this business of the check was done in good faith, on his part, and I don't consider that there was any wrong-doing.

"I have spoken with the chairman about this matter, as well, the other night, and I indicated to him that I was interested to see what Mr. Lee would do with the request because I know what I would do with the request--that has to do with my own views and not Mr. Lee's, but it gives me an indication that my original concerns are in order. My concern is the World Boxing Association and the World Boxing Council.

"I have had occasion, in recent days, to read extensively in two magazines devoted to sports activities, 'Sports Magazine' and 'Sports Illustrated,' articles making a critical examination, in-depth examinations, of the World Boxing Council and the World Boxing Association. I had indicated to the chairman that I would be most interested in whether or not any of the nominees would want to withdraw the State of Hawaii from participation with the World Boxing Council and the World Boxing Association.

"I think we have every reason to believe that these two organizations are as corrupt and derogatory a force in boxing as that which existed in the late 40's and early 50's in the United States at the time the International Boxing Club was under Frankie Carbo and the Mafia associations. The people who run these organizations are at best susceptible to corruption and at worse they are outright crooks and thieves.

"The rankings in the World Boxing Council and World Boxing Association are up for sale; they are subject to prejudice and discrimination; they are arbitrary, capricious; they do more harm to people who are engaged in boxing than any possible good that they might do; and it is disgraceful for this state to be associated with these two organizations in any respect.

"As it is my understanding that Mr. Lee would be the chairman of the Boxing Commission, and there apparently is no indication on his part that he will try to take the Commission out of these two organizations or refuse to recognize their validity in the State of Hawaii, I don't think that I can vote for him, and I would ask the other members of the Senate to consider that if we are going to have a Boxing Commission which participates in these two organizations, then it is my conclusion that we are directly contributing to the corruption and subversion of the welfare of boxing both on a national and international basis, as well as in our state."

Senator Cobb stated:

"Mr. President, I would like to address, in rebuttal, a couple of points raised.

"First of all, that the nomination was contingent on the repayment. We started circulating a committee report well over an hour before we received any communication, check or letter from Mr. Lee or his associates.

"Secondly, that if I had been convinced that this individual had been an instigator of the check, or done so knowingly with malice that it was wrong, there's no way that even a million dollars would have bought him this nomination and I don't view this as a buying of the nomination, but a repayment of money that was wrongfully expended in contravention of the rules or purpose clause of the Hawaii Association Welfare Boxers' Fund. As such, I view it as an expungement of the record because I could not and would not ask the Senate to pass in judgment on the check if that remained an item of controversy.

"So it became very clear, in the course of the hearing, that not only was Mr. Lee not the instigator of the check, but that he was a reluctant participant in its signing, and that those individuals, including Mr. Minn and Mr. Tomihara, who were the instigators for the writing of the check, were to contribute equally in its reimbursement, thus involving a sharing of the parties and the sharing of the responsibility. And the point was made, I think, in validity, that it was a request, not a demand.

"I would further point out that one of the complaining witnesses, who brought up the matter of the check, himself had written a $36 check on the same welfare fund as an expenditure for a dinner to revise the bylaws of that very fund and that too was determined to be improper upon rather lengthy questioning. He agreed that it would be a good idea to also reimburse the fund. So the reimbursements are not limited to the nominee by any means. It goes to those who were involved in it on both sides.

"I think finally, Mr. President, the points raised by Senator Abercrombie do deserve some examination. I'm going to be watching what happens on the Boxing Commission and I'm going to be watching, very closely, what happens to the welfare fund, in the months to come. Thank you."

Senator Cayetano rose to speak in favor of the appointment:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this confirmation.

"In response to Senator Abercrombie's comments, let me say that I too have read the articles on the World Boxing Association and the other boxing association. I think it is premature, at this time, to label, as crooks, corrupt, etc., people associated with those organizations based on an article in 'Sports Illustrated.'

"I think it is contrary to our system of due process and justice; I think it's also unfair to hold against a nominee like Mr. Lee, a position which was, from my understanding, never explored at the committee hearing. I don't know if anyone asked him how he felt about the boxing associations. I do know this though, our own Sergeant-at-Arms, Ben Villafior, once held the title of Junior Lightweight Champion of the World, the World Boxing Association version.

"Every champion today, whether it's Larry Holmes or Mike Weaver, holds a title with either the World Boxing Association or the World Boxing Council. It's really unrealistic, I think, and even unfair to expect that one man, chairman of the committee, under those circumstances in which world title fights are sanctioned by either the World Boxing Association or the Council... to place on his shoulders the burden of getting the Hawaii Boxing Commission to withdraw, if you will, recognition of boxers who fight under those banners, it's an impossible situation.

"If we're going to do anything about it, and I think this is pointed out in the article in 'Sports Illustrated,' the remedy has to be done on a federal basis. The United States of America has to create, simply, a Federal Boxing Commission. That's the only way it can be done; otherwise, we here in Hawaii, will not be getting fights, title fights, because all of the world champions, as I said, 'Sugar' Ray Leonard, Larry Holmes, etc., all fight for one council or the other."

Senator Abercrombie then stated:

"Mr. President, on the basis of the representation of the chairman about considering the points raised regarding the World Boxing Council and the World Boxing Association, I would point out that Mr. Lee was president of the World Boxing Association prior to this time.

"In consideration of the remarks by Senator Cayetano, which I think I need to respond to briefly, I'm quite aware of the fact that boxers do not have much in the way of choice, these days, because of the World Boxing Association and the World Boxing Council and the promotions that are associated with these two organizations--self-created, by the way. These associations are self-appointed; that's why I brought up the point that boxers can be victimized in the sense of having to court, if you will, the approval of these two associations. But I do recognize the point raised by Senator Cayetano about the idea of a possible Federal Boxing Commission or federal law in this area.

"As I indicated, I was thinking, right up until this time, about what I might do. I had not heard of the Committee on Consumer Protection and Commerce chairman's concern until he enunciated it at this time. So with those things in mind, I would withdraw my objection to Mr. Lee on the grounds that I would follow the same route as the chairman and watch very closely to see what happens in this area and urge that we do, indeed, withdraw from these organizations in terms of recognizing their validity."

Senator Kuroda commented:

"Mr. President, on the possibility that we may win another vote or more votes, I'd like to share with the people present that when Herbert Minn gave testimony at the hearing, he showed us two editions of 'Sports Illustrated' which talked about the corruption that goes on in boxing throughout the nation and specifically noted that no mention was made of Bobby Lee in a negative way. We look upon that as positive support for Bobby Lee."

Roll Call vote having been ordered, the motion to advise and consent to the nomination of Robert M. Lee to the Boxing Commission, term to expire December 31, 1982, was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 16. Noes, 4 (George, Kawasaki, Saiki and Uwaine). Excused, 5 (Anderson, Ajifu, Campbell, Carpenter and Yamasaki).

At 12:54 o'clock p.m., on motion by Senator Cobb, seconded by Senator Yee and carried, the Senate stood in recess until 7:00 o'clock p.m. or subject to the call of the Chair.

ORDER OF THE DAY

MATTERS DEFERRED FROM EARLIER ON THE CALENDAR

Standing Committee Report No. 1092 (S.R. No. 245, S.D. 1):

Senator Henderson moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1092 and S.R. No. 245, S.D. 1, be adopted, seconded by Senator Yee.

At this time, Senator Kuroda remarked:

"Mr. President, it was my intention to speak against and vote against this resolution; however, I have met with the chairman and he has explained some things to me and I am going to vote for it. However, I'd like to make these statements.

"The functional plans have been before us for several sessions and each time they have been deferred by this Senate for another year, and the reason being that the Senate has not had sufficient time to study these plans. I believe that one or more of these plans are ready and they have been ready for adoption. The reasons especially given have been that there are conflicts among plans.

"The original Senate Resolution No. 245, as submitted, makes certain statements that we questioned during the public hearing that was conducted. However, the committee report makes statements that the Economic Development Committee will conduct interim studies and will meet with the experts in the various fields. This has satisfied me as far as it is the intent of this Senate to now make some interim studies and devote attention to these plans. I don't think that we can ask the departments to continue making studies and making reports without the senators involving ourselves with time and effort.

"Again, as I say, I am satisfied now with the chairman's explanation and look forward to the interim studies so that we can adopt the functional plans in the next session. Thank you."

Senator Henderson rose to speak in favor of the measure:

"Mr. President, the Senate Economic Development Committee recommends passage of this resolution so that there may be an extensive effort during the interim to improve the plans. The objective of the resolution is not to delay the plans; it is an honest and sincere effort to resolve the conflicts, impose fiscal responsibility and increase the input of private sector expertise.

"I urge a vote in favor of Senate Resolution No. 245."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, and the report of the Committee was adopted and S.R. No. 245, S.D. 1, entitled: "SENATE RESOLUTION DIRECTING THE POLICY COUNCIL AND THE DEPARTMENT OF PLANNING AND ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT TO TRANSMIT A REPORT ON THE FUNCTIONAL PLANS," was adopted.

FINAL READING

Conference Committee Report No. 47 (H.B. No. 1267, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Yamasaki moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 47 be adopted and H.B. No. 1267, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Uwiane.

At this time, Senator Kawasaki remarked:

"Mr. President, I am voting for this bill with the very distinct understanding that the Senate Committee on Human Resources will expend some earnest effort to improve the statute that this bill will become, upon the Governor's signing of this bill. Improve it in the following manner.

"First of all, to look into the possibilities of including other handicapped people, other physically handicapped people in addition to the blind, so that these people, other than the blind, could also qualify for these vendor locations.

"Secondly, I'd like to make sure that the standards established, as to who among the visually blind, be very definite so that, in effect, only people who are without the use of their sight would qualify.

"Thirdly, I'd like to see some mechanism worked out so that a small percentage or proportion of the income received by these people fortunate enough to obtain these locations, because we may have a number of blind people or physically retarded people who may not be fortunate enough to get these locations, that a portion of the revenue derived by these vendors be set aside in a fund to be administered, perhaps by Ho'Opono, or other agencies like that, so that all physically handicapped people will somehow benefit by the expending of these funds for programs catering to the needs of the physically handicapped and not only to the blind.

"With these improvements and with the understanding that these considerations will be given great thought, I will vote for this bill."

Senator Uwiane thanked the Senator from the Fifth Senatorial District and assured him that his concerns would be addressed in the coming session.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, and Conf. Com. Rep. No. 47 was adopted and H.B. No.

1267, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE USE OF PUBLIC BUILDINGS BY BLIND OR VISUALLY HANDICAPPED PERSONS," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Anderson).

Conference Committee Report No. 49 (H.B. No. 293, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1):

By unanimous consent, action on Conf. Com. Rep. No. 49 and H.B. No. 293, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, was deferred to the end of the calendar.

Conference Committee Report No. 50 (H.B. No. 300, S.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Carpenter moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 50 be adopted and H.B. No. 300, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Anderson.

At this time, Senator Carpenter rose to speak in favor of the measure:

"Mr. President, I'd like to speak in favor of this bill.

"Just as much as law is to protect human life, a law must also protect human dignity. The heinous offense of rape, which often threatens life and certainly always mutilates human dignity, must be adequately proscribed by our penal statutes.

"Mr. President, our current rape laws must be changed to reflect our concern for the priority of our right to life and the dignity of the victim. I suggest that such changes are a message to the courts that the citizenry believes the victim of the ordeal of rape should never be allowed to suffer an added ordeal in the courtroom where such person must defend the failure to have forcibly resisted an attacker.

"In 1980, the Legislature made certain changes to the definitions of sexual intercourse and forcible compulsion. This Legislature reviewed the Hawaii Crime Commission's recommendations to replace the rape statutes with similar sexual assault offenses in Senate Bill No. 610. This review was chronologically followed by public outcry--I believe the culmination of years of frustration--with a march on the Capitol.

"The Senate held a hearing where the public came to voice their many concerns and suggestions for amendments to these laws. Your Committee on Judiciary,

Mr. President, reviewed House Bill No. 300 on offenses against the person and decided to use it as a vehicle to address these concerns.

"An ad hoc committee involving the Attorney General's Office, the Crime Commission, the Honolulu Prosecutor's Office, attorneys from the Senate staff and from the private sector, and numerous private interest groups concerned with needed changes to the rape laws, concentrated on three major areas of concern. First, the definition of forcible compulsion; second, the social companion subsection of first degree rape; and third, the prompt complaint regarding the reporting of rape and its occurrence.

"Mr. President, your Committee on Judiciary formulated a Senate draft to the bill addressing these three major concerns. House Bill No. 300, Senate Draft 1, passed the Senate and was returned to the House with the House subsequently disagreeing to some of the new amendments, thereby requiring further review and resolution of differences by both House and Senate conferees.

"Mr. President, your conferees, with the House, reviewed again the entire statute on rape with participation from the public as well as participation from the House attorneys. I ought to point out here that five of the House conferees are also practicing attorneys in the State of Hawaii. Both conference committees ultimately agreed on this draft now before you.

"This bill redefines forcible compulsion which now means 'the use of or attempt to use one or more of the following to overcome a person: (a) a threat, express or implied, that places a person in fear of bodily injury to the individual or another person, or in fear that the person or another person will be kidnapped; (b) a dangerous instrument; or (c) physical force.'

"This bill also modifies the provision of social companion in rape in the first degree. The retention and modification of this provision was made at the request of the Honolulu Prosecutor's Office. Mr. Charles Marsland recommended temporary retention of this provision until the Legislature is able to further study all sections regarding the laws on rape and sodomy. He also suggested the amendment to this provision.

"All conferees agreed that a continuing review and revision are still needed to more fairly address the crimes of rape and sodomy.

"Mr. President, I believe the time has come for the Legislature to seriously analyze the entire rape statute so that every provision, included in these statutes, conforms to the seriousness of the crime so that prosecution and justice may be forwarded.

"We have also repealed Section 707-740 on prompt complaint. That section limited prosecution of a rape occurrence by mandating that notice of the occurrence be brought forward within three months of the rape or no prosecution could be instituted or maintained. By repealing this section, the law aligns the statute of limitations of rape to those of other violent crimes. Existing limitations for a Class A felony allows prosecution to be instituted or maintained for a period of six years from the date of occurrence. For Class B and C felonies, equivalent to second and third degree rape, the period is three years.

"This is a reasonable and rational bill, Mr. President, that the Legislature has prudently drafted after first going through many steps and analysis of the present rape statutes. Many professional people, including lawyers, social workers and others who are well versed in the prosecution of rape and the treatment of rape and for some the experience of rape, helped to generate the revisions as set forth in this bill. This bill is definitely a concerted effort by many and one in which we all feel a step in the right direction which will lead us to more complete revision of the rape laws that will finally allow our statutes to reflect reality.

"Mr. President, I strongly urge all of my colleagues to vote for passage of this bill. Thank you."

Senator George then remarked:

"Mr. President, I rise as a somewhat reluctant voice in support of the bill. My Conference Committee chairman has spoken most eloquently about all the provisions of it.

"I think we have all heard a good bit of somewhat persuasive testimony that the statute we have only recently amended should be given a chance to settle in; we should find out whether or not it's going to work.

"I do not find this persuasive because the present statute has three elements in it which I find in common with most of the women who have testified on behalf of change. These three things are totally insupportable as far as this particular statute is concerned. One is the element of resistance. The crime of rape is the only one, under present statute, which requires that the victims are obliged to furnish testimony in proof of resistance. The other one is prompt complaint, which means that this is the only crime where there is a necessity to report, within three months, that a rape has happened and that the statute of limitations, which is normal to other criminal activities, will not be effective.

"These two dreadful deficiencies are corrected in the measure to which the Conference Committee chairman has just alluded, and for that reason, I will support the bill because if we can get rid of these two totally dreadful aspects of it, we've got something going for ourselves.

"However, there's still some things to which I take great exception and that is the fact that there is a requirement in this measure that provides that if a prior social companion commits the offense of rape, he is eligible for second degree rape; if someone who is not a prior social companion, who is a stranger rapist, he is then eligible for a first degree rape. This is, I think, a totally insupportable, a totally ludicrous criterion that will distinguish one rapist from another rapist.

"I, however, am persuaded that all the members of the Conference Committee, both House and Senate, made the commitment that they believe that this was an unsatisfactory, insupportable, criterion and that every effort would be made to amend the law next year; that we would work during the interim as a House committee, as a Senate committee and if necessary, as a committee of the whole between the two, to get rid of this factor which doesn't belong in the law.

"On that basis, Mr. President, I will reluctantly ask my colleagues to support House Bill No. 300. Thank you."

Senator Soares then rose to speak in favor of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of House Bill No. 300. I believe that this bill represents a major change, not just in the law, but in the attitudes of the community, as they are reflected by the Legislature, toward the crime of rape.

"Mr. President, I am saddened that it took such a shocking series of events to cause this transformation but I am heartened by the permanent changes that have occurred because of these events.

"I saw these changes begin during the course of the lengthy hearing that we held, as person after person expressed long, unspoken anger about the state of our laws. I saw my fellow Senators learn the depths of a problem that we simply had not confronted and become committed to resolving it. I saw these changes continue to occur, in private, away from the public eye, as we tried to write an adequate law.

"I saw old, unconsciously held positions surface and fade in the new environment:

'Rape is not a crime of passion--it is a crime of violence.'

'Women do not invite rape--they are assaulted with it.'

'Rape is not a crime that women claim without merit.'

'Police records show that it is a crime that women will rarely claim--no matter how grievous.'

"We have learned that these statements are false. We must express our education by the passage of this bill.

"Less than three months ago, the Hawaii Court of Appeals restated the 70-year-old requirement in our law, that a woman must try and physically fend off her attacker, or lose a rape case. We have required a woman to show 'actual' and 'real' physical resistance. A woman has only been excused from this if her life or health was being threatened.

"No other crime in Hawaii requires the victim to resist. Thirty other states have long ago dropped resistance. Now is our opportunity to remove this unfair burden and slander against women.

"I am proud of this bill and proud of my fellow colleagues. We saw a need and we made a sincere attempt to meet it. The result is one of the most important laws regarding the rights of women that we have ever enacted. Such a bill deserves unanimous consent and I urge all my colleagues to support this bill."

Senator Cobb remarked:

"Mr. President, very briefly. As one of the conferees, I must express a reservation similar, if not identical, to that expressed by Senator Mary George.

"During the course of the hearing, it became clear that the retention of even a one-day social companion provision was repugnant to women. I share that; I agree with that. The only reason it is being retained, even temporarily, is that the prosecutor, in his testimony, stated that without that kind of provision, most of the rapes that are prosecuted as first degree rape will in fact be prosecuted as second degree.

"I look forward to the work that the Senate and House committees, in the interim, will be doing to remove this provision because I consider it nothing more than a 30-day license for lechery."

Senator Uwaine then commented:

"Mr. President, I was one of the conferees on this bill and I will be voting in favor of this bill. However, I would also like to say that it is important that we remember that our laws are not to be changed for the convenience of the prosecutor, but to protect the innocent. Thank you."

THIRD READING

Standing Committee Report No. 955 (H.B. No. 114, H.D. 1):

By unanimous consent, action on Stand. Com. Rep. No. 955 and H.B. No. 114, H.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE COMPENSATION OF CERTAIN PERSONS UNDER THE CRIMINAL INJURIES COMPENSATION ACT AND PROVIDING APPROPRIATIONS THEREFOR," was deferred until Monday, April 27, 1981.

House Bill No. 1339, H.D. 1:

Senator Carpenter moved that H.B. No. 1339, H.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Cayetano.

At this time, Senator Carpenter rose to speak in favor of the measure:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this measure.

"Mr. President, the bill before us today amends the definition of committee in Section 11-191 for election campaign contributions and expenditures. A similar campaign spending bill, which had gone through conference, included the same provisions that are in this bill and both the House and Senate conferees agreed, in principle, that the campaign spending law should not be discriminatory, especially concerning these provisions. It should either include all of the organizations presently exempted by law or none of them. The bill now conforms to this principle, and we have adopted the principle, that all of the organizations presently excluded from the present law be included in this bill.

"The change now mandates all committees, including unions and corporations as defined in this section, making expenditures in the aggregate of more than $1,000 per election to influence the nomination and election of candidates or ballot questions on issues, to file reports as required by law. This bill exempts committees, however, making expenditures in the aggregate of less than $1,000, from filing reports to preclude the necessity for a horrendous task which would be assigned ultimately to the Campaign Spending Commission. In addition, Mr. President, the bill excludes individuals, that is, individual people, from the definition of committee.

"The purpose of this bill is to encourage active participation in the elective process without unduly burdening organizations, who make small expenditures, with the task of filing a report. It also ensures that organizations spending in excess of $1,000 per election will still be subject to the reporting provisions of this chapter.

"Mr. President, both Common Cause and Campaign Spending Commission Director, Jack Gonzales, testified that these changes would allow more accurate records to be compiled by that Commission, while at the same time allowing the Commission to monitor those committees making significant contributions for expenditures in behalf of or against candidates and or ballot issues.

"Mr. President, this sometimes has been called the HGEA loophole law, or loophole provision, but it impacts more than a particular union; it impacts all unions and corporations.

"Mr. President, I think it is a fair bill and I strongly urge passage of it. Thank you."

Senator O'Connor rose and inquired as follows:

"Mr. President, I wonder if the chairman of the committee would yield to a question."

The chairman, Senator Carpenter, replied that he would.

Senator O'Connor then asked:

"Mr. President, I'm somewhat confused by this bill in that the Section (D) proposed in the bill requires certain reports of a committee which falls under Section (A). As I understand this overall Section 11-191 (6), it's the definition section. Do I understand, Mr. President, that the (D) portion which refers to committee reports is an exclusive reporting section and only refers to those committees which are outlined in Section (A) of the bill?"

Senator Carpenter replied that that was correct.

"Therefore, do I understand, Mr. President, if I vote in favor of this measure, that is the only report required of committees hereafter under Chapter 11?"

In answer thereto, Senator Carpenter noted:

"Under the entire chapter, the other sections pertaining to campaign contributions will apply in accordance with those provisions in the other portions of Chapter 11."

Senator O'Connor questioned further:

"Therefore, if I vote in favor of this bill, committees, as redefined, will not only have to comport with the reporting requirements outlined in (D) of the definition of committees, but also they will have to comport with those reporting requirements which are contained elsewhere in Chapter 11 for committees. Is that correct?"

Senator Carpenter answered in the affirmative.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, and H.B. No. 1339, H.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ELECTION CAMPAIGN CONTRIBUTIONS AND EXPENDITURES," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 17. Noes, 8 (Campbell, Holt, Machida, Mizuguchi, O'Connor, Toyofuku, Ushijima and Yee).

MATTERS DEFERRED TO THE END OF THE CALENDAR

Conference Committee Report No. 49 (H.B. No. 293, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Carpenter moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 49 be adopted and H.B. No. 293, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Anderson.

At this time, Senator Carpenter rose to speak in favor of the measure:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of House Bill No. 293, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, on firearms.

"Mr. President, your Conference Committee, with the House conferees, worked diligently, many hours, and deliberated on many drafts, before finally reaching agreement on the bill before you.

"I want to thank both the House and Senate conferees for their concerted efforts, and especially Lt. Carl Wong of the Honolulu Police Department for lending his expertise during every conference hearing held on this bill. His participation helped to generate a bill on firearms which I believe is both workable and fair legislation which the police can enforce within its existing system.

"This bill addresses the issue of insuring safety in our communities and enables our police departments to review the mental health history of everyone desiring to possess a firearm in this state. Your conferees have developed standards and requirements which speak to the issue of preventing ownership of firearms for those who may be a potential threat to our society.

"These same standards and requirements have been designed to help guarantee protection to all of our citizens and at the same time does not place undue hardship on anyone wishing to acquire a firearm. The bill now requires a permit, under a section called 'Permits to Acquire,' for all firearms obtained or brought into this state.

"We've instituted a ten-day waiting period for anyone applying for a permit to acquire to enable the police to make a thorough check on the applicant. We've only waived the ten-day waiting period for firearm dealers, law enforcement officers and persons applying for a license to carry a concealed weapon under emergency situations to conform to existing statutes and present police practice.

"One of the items we did not resolve to everyone's satisfaction, but a policy decision was agreed to by the conferees, not to provide an exemption for the ten-day waiting period until we see what kind of need develops. This will be certainly readdressed next session.

"The bill also now prohibits, Mr. President, ownership and possession of any firearm by persons who have had a significant emotional, behavioral, or mental disorder as defined by the most current manual of the American Psychiatric Association. Included in this group are persons who have also been civilly committed to psychiatric institutions and those acquitted of a crime on grounds of mental disorder, defect, or disease. This prohibition is valid unless the person has been medically documented to be cured of such an affliction.

"The bill, I believe, is a positive step toward the prevention of future incidents like the 'pali sniper,' the 'Waikiki sniper,' the 'Kawaiaho Plaza sniper,' and recent shootings perpetuated by those who had been acquitted of crimes on grounds of insanity.

"We have further amended these statutes by also excluding from ownership persons who are under indictment for having committed a felony or any crime of violence. In addition, the violation for a felon in possession of firearms has been increased from a Class C felony to a Class B felony.

"The bill also clarifies Chapter 134 on firearms by relocating specific subsections to sections which are more pertinent to that particular subject. This will make the chapter easier to read and easier to understand.

"Mr. President, this bill is not, I repeat, is not a panacea for what may ail certain members of our society, but represents the best efforts toward the protection of our community from persons who should not possess firearms.

"I urge all of my colleagues to vote in favor of the passage of this bill. Thank you."

Senator Abercrombie then rose to speak in favor of the measure:

"Mr. President, I'd like to speak in favor of this bill.

"Mr. President, as you are well aware, this bill is a controversial one and represents a controversial issue and I know, from discussions with many colleagues, that there are minds being made up at this moment as to whether or not passage is in order. I merely ask that we reflect for a moment on the reality of what we are about to do in voting yes or no.

"We get so used to being in these chambers for the sixty days--the sixty working days are actually just about four months--that sometimes I wonder if there is another world, another life somewhere other than being here in the halls of the legislature, stumbling home sometimes. In the last week, it's been difficult even to do that.

"The reason I raise that point is that sometimes our sense of reality and our sense of closeness to one another might even prevent us, once in a while, from realizing that we're actually doing things that affect everybody in the state. We know that we affect one another and that we are sometimes infected, I suppose, with one another, but nonetheless it is a cold fact of not just political life, but of the legislative life of the state that what we do has an impact on the lives of everyone around us, all of the citizens and others living under the jurisdiction of the state.

"For that reason, I ask us to think very, very hard, especially those who may still be making up their minds about this bill, as to whether or not this is the right thing to do because in the end that's what it's going to come down to, I believe, in this vote.

"I would ask that we vote in the affirmative for some of the following reasons. I won't reiterate the various provisions as enunciated by the chairman, but ask you to consider a couple of things in terms of implication.

"I look at this bill as someone who has never fired a gun and someone who does not possess a gun, and I try to think, would this bill be fair in terms of myself. Is there something in this which is onerous to me as, I hope, a civil libertarian, someone who is conscious of the Constitution, who respects the Constitution, who respects individual rights? Would I want to be treated in this fashion in respect to the use of firearms? And I concluded, yes; I concluded yes in every issue.

"I looked on this not as a gun control law as such, but rather as a gun licensing law; and I looked upon this as I would any other licensing procedure, and I asked, given the potential for possible societal harm as well as individual harm, is this licensing procedure a fair one? Is it something that would cause any individual who is presumed--and I emphasize presumed--not to be a criminal, not to be intent upon a criminal act, but rather an individual in good standing in the community who desires a firearm for sporting purposes, for protection, or any other legitimate purpose. Is this a measure then that a person would find to be repugnant in terms of constitutional fairness, constitutional right? Again, I concluded that this bill meets the test on every count.

"There, to be sure, is a degree of regulation involved, applications need to be made. Frankly, the applications aren't much different than the kinds of applications you make for loans and probably could be less than that. I only had an opportunity to make those latter applications lately, but I don't think I'm eligible. I'm probably more eligible for a gun than for a loan, although with the cost going up, I might have to get a loan to get a gun. But nonetheless, in looking at the provisions, I think that none of us would find them unreasonable.

"In concluding, I want to focus on just one or two aspects which I mentioned when the bill first came up, before it was revised, and that is to make an honest and good faith attempt to deal with those people who are mentally disturbed or emotionally disturbed in our society.

"I would ask you to consider that many of the killings that take place--I won't use the word murder because unfortunately even though we define it in terms of law as murder--most of the killings take place in highly emotional circumstances between people who know each other very well. The notorious aspects of robbery, armed robbery and assault, etc. make the headlines and constitute a criminal element, but so much of the killing is done by individuals who know one another.

"As a probation officer myself, I was called upon, one day, to try to assist the police in disarming a man who was emotionally disturbed over separation from his wife and I recall, very vividly, the trepidation I felt walking to that house, knowing that man had a shotgun, and that I was being asked to help disarm him of that shotgun under those circumstances.

"This bill reaches that question in a way that I probably would not have believed possible, going in to the original hearings on the bill and most certainly in the conference. The conferees are to be congratulated for dealing with that very difficult area. If for no other reason than that this bill covers the area of the mentally disordered and emotionally disturbed so well, I think that it deserves passage.

"On that basis, I ask that we take the lead in this area and have the courage to pass a gun licensing bill which will not do any harm, constitutionally, to those who wish to possess firearms."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, and Conf. Com. Rep. No. 49 was adopted and H.B. No. 293, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO FIREARMS," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 14. Noes, 11 (Campbell, Henderson, Holt, Kobayashi, Machida, Mizuguchi, O'Connor, Soares, Toyofuku, Ushijima and Yamasaki).

At 11:27 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 11:50 o'clock p.m.

RECONSIDERATION OF ACTION TAKEN

Senator Yamasaki moved that the Senate reconsider its action on Senate Bill No. 2099, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, seconded by Senator Anderson and carried.

On motion by Senator Yamasaki, seconded by Senator Anderson and carried, the Senate agreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 2099, S.D. 2, and in accordance with Article III, Section 15, of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, the 48-hour notice was given on S.B. No. 2099, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE OFFICE OF HAWAIIAN AFFAIRS."

In accordance therewith, the President discharged the Managers who were appointed on the part of the Senate.

At 11:51 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 11:52 o'clock p.m.

At this time, Senator Yee rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

"Mr. President, our conferees on the budget have worked especially hard, and I'd like to read a statement in their behalf.

"The Senate coalition has completed its negotiations on the state budget. It is our position that conferees for both the Senate and the House agreed, today, to all items essential to a responsible and fiscally sound budget. Therefore, we find it unfortunate that the House is now insisting that the taxes and the state budget be contingent upon the passing of the executive bill, which would grant increases up to 20%, a pay raise significantly greater than those negotiated for public employees. The significant achievements of the Conference Committee on the state budget have been placed in jeopardy by the disagreement over the executive salary bill.

"We, the members of the Senate coalition, stand united in stating that this is one issue that's surely not worth destroying the hard work and good will embodied in our budget agreement; and we also urge the House to act accordingly. Thank you."

Senator O'Connor also rose on a point of personal privilege:

"Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

"Mr. President, there are many of us who are not conferees on the budget. We have sat patiently waiting for the conferees, on the budget, to conclude their work.

"Three weeks ago, there was a hurried budget passed through this body with some imperfections that were discussed at the time. The reason that it was rushed through was so that it could quickly go into conference.

"Worksheets were supposed to be exchanged immediately.

"We were informed a week or so ago that leaders of the coalition anticipated that this session would end two days early because of the crisp, precise, outstanding negotiations which were going forward on the budget and the other money matters. And then, we were informed that the budget would be decked on Wednesday in order that we could conclude tonight.

"The open conference, which was held between the Finance Committee and the Ways and Means Committee, went on for four days and failed, publicly. Then there were secret conferences that went on for two days of which we know naught, except that we hear a statement tonight, something about a blow up over the pay raise bill, but we still don't see a budget on deck.

"There's no budget for us to look at and the crisp and clear negotiations have evidently come to naught.

"In sum and substance, Mr. President, it appears to some of us that our negotiators just haven't done the job and since it appears also that the Governor is going to extend us, I would please ask you, as the administrative officer of this organization, to urge our negotiating team to get back at it and do a job, or else let's have some different negotiators."

The Chair then asked Senator Yee if he would like to respond to the good Senator.

Senator Yee replied as follows:

"Yes, I would like to respond to the Senator from the Seventh Senatorial District.

"They have done an excellent job and they worked hard. There are times that, because of late hours, members get a little bit edgy and it's a lot easier to sit down in a quiet room with a few people, rather than about twenty individuals expressing their own desires; otherwise we would be here forever.

"Now, my understanding is that everything has been put to bed; everything has been agreed to; and unfortunately, there's this one particular issue that's holding the Senate from adjourning this evening. I think this is part of the democratic negotiating process and I think both sides are sincere in their desire to come out with a good budget.

"Remember, also, that this year we have a ceiling we have to work under and it's difficult trying to satisfy everybody's needs and desires without exceeding the spending limit. This is what took long hours and tedious days.

"As I said, they got everything basically agreed to and there's only one little thing left. We're going to ask for only one day's extension and if it doesn't happen, 'sayonara.'"

Senator Uwayne noted:

"Mr. President, just a point of clarification, the Senate did not ask for the extension."

The Chair remarked:

"That is correct.

"Just to set the record straight, it's been the Chair's opinion that we should not have asked the Governor for an extension. I did not ask the Governor for an extension. However, in his wisdom, he felt that we should have another day. I can assure the Senators that if by 5:00 o'clock p.m. on Monday, there is no decking of the conference draft of the budget, you can rest assured that we will adjourn and go home."

"Insofar as the pay raises for the Executive and the Judiciary are concerned, conference drafts of these bills will be decked tonight. There have been a lot of controversy and speculation about these two bills. To set the record straight, these pay raise bills are not packaged together for final reading with the budget or any other bills. They will be considered strictly on their own merits. This is the understanding we have with the House.

STANDING COMMITTEE REPORTS

Senator Cobb, for the Committee on Consumer Protection and Commerce, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1115) recommending that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of Thomas S. Shimabuku to the Boxing Commission, in accordance with Gov. Msg. No. 319.

Senator Cobb moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1115 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Anderson and carried.

Senator Cobb then requested that Rule No. 33 of the Rules of the Senate be waived in order to consider the nomination of the candidate as presented in Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1115 and, by unanimous consent, the waiver was granted.

Senator Cobb then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of Thomas S. Shimabuku to the Boxing Commission, term to expire December 31, 1984, seconded by Senator Anderson.

At this time, Senator Holt asked if the chairman of the Consumer Protection Committee would yield to a question and Senator Cobb replied in the affirmative.

Senator Holt asked: "Senator Cobb, did you not tell me yesterday afternoon on this very floor that neither nominations for the Boxing Commission, George Kaahanui or Tom Shimabuku, were going to move out of committee because you were opposed to both nominations?"

Senator Cobb answered: "No, I indicated that there was only one name that other senators and I have had difficulty with."

Senator Holt further asked: "And that's the reason why Thomas Shimabuku's name is on the agenda for floor action this evening?"

Senator Cobb answered: "That and the committee's decision, based on the circulation of the committee report."

Senator Holt then rose to speak on the appointment as follows:

"Thank you, Senator Cobb.

"Mr. President, I rise to speak on the appointment because I feel that I have been personally aggrieved by the action taken on the nominations to the Boxing Commission by the Senate Committee on Consumer Protection.

"Mr. President, on March 24, 1981, the Governor submitted the names of George Kaahanui and Tom Shimabuku for consideration and confirmation to the State Boxing Commission. For the record, Mr. President, I did not submit Mr. Kaahanui's name to the Governor for appointment to this commission. I heard about this contemplated appointment from various constituents in my district who contacted me and asked me to support his nomination because they felt he really deserved the job.

"Mr. President, I have known Mr. Kaahanui for many years as an avid supporter of youth boxing in the Puuhale area. His participation in the boxing community began even before I was conceived and long before I sought elective office.

"Mr. President, I watched the Senate committee's handling of the Bobby Lee appointment and quietly waited to see what they would do with Mr. Kaahanui's name. I did not approach any committee members because I felt Mr. Kaahanui was very qualified for the position and would receive a fair hearing by the committee during which they could evaluate his ability to be a boxing commissioner and come to a decision based on merit.

"Mr. President, the committee did not hold any formal confirmation hearing on the nomination of Mr. Kaahanui and up until yesterday I had hoped that the committee would move this name to the floor for our advice and consent, especially since the chairman in the Bobby Lee hearing publicly stated there were no real problems with either Mr. Kaahanui or the other nominee to the commission, Thomas Shimabuku.

"Mr. President, yesterday was the last day to deck any nominations for our advice and consent in order to meet the 24-hour requirement to vote this evening. The Senate Committee on Consumer Protection did not move either of the two earlier mentioned names to the floor, which I interpreted as an action to kill the nominations.

"As I said, I approached the chairman yesterday and when I asked him why he did not move the nomination of Mr. Kaahanui out of committee I expected him to give me a logical explanation as to why he held up the nomination. It was then I found out that Mr. Kaahanui was a victim of a personal vendetta directed at me by some senators and outsiders.

"Mr. President, I would not be upset if there was some other reason why Mr. Kaahanui was not confirmed, but to tell me that his nomination was held up because other senators and outsiders did not want Mr. Kaahanui on the Boxing Commission because he helped me in my campaign is unconscionable. I refuse to accept that as a reason to hold up the nomination. Since when do we play personal politics with nominations? Whatever happened to merit? I don't know who the other senators and outsiders are, but let me tell you something...there's going to be a lot of rumbling in the community and you'll know why.

"The irony of this entire matter, Mr. President, is that poor Mr. Kaahanui is caught between this political hogwash. It's more ironic because there are a few senators here in this coalition who know him personally as a fair, honest, and hard working person. He also helped one of you in one of your campaigns. Yet, there seems to be no support for him from members of the coalition; no one speaking out nor any questions asked either. It's a sad day in the Senate when we support the killing of a nomination purely on politics.

"I know a lot of people out there who would testify on behalf of Mr. Kaahanui, if given the chance, and I'm just going to have to tell them that he got shelved, not because he wasn't qualified, but because he knew me. Thank you."

Senator Cobb then responded and said: "Mr. President, I think a brief response is in order. I did not indicate to Senator Holt that there was any kind of personal vendetta or anything like that. I did indicate that there were some problems raised with the name. I've indicated also to the Governor that if an interim appointment is desired that that can always be made. As I understood it, the name was withdrawn. The Governor does have the option of an interim appointment and if such is made there will be a full hearing in the future."

The motion was put by the Chair and, Roll Call having been ordered, was carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

At 11:49 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 11:50 o'clock p.m.

Senator Young, for the Committee on Legislative Management, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1116), recommending that Senate Resolution No. 41, as amended in S.D. 1, be adopted.

On motion by Senator Young, seconded by Senator George and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and S.R. No. 41, S.D. 1, entitled: "SENATE RESOLUTION REQUESTING AN INTERIM COMMITTEE TO DETERMINE WHETHER A LIMITATION ON THE NUMBER OF BILLS WHICH MAY BE INTRODUCED DURING A REGULAR SESSION SHOULD BE ESTABLISHED," was adopted.

Senator Yamasaki then announced that there will be a public decision-making hearing on the aforementioned recommitted bills at 12:30 o'clock a.m., April 30, 1981, in Conference Room 310.

Senator Abercrombie then asked: "Mr. President, does my 'no' vote preclude me from participating in the conference?" and the Chair replied: "That is correct."

Senator Carpenter rose to remark as follows:

"Mr. President, I can assume that my 'no' vote will also preclude me from participating in this conference. I'd just like to say that I think this is an unnecessary maneuver that we're going through at this time. I think that the Senate has conducted its business in the full light of what might be considered constitutionally prudent and I only regret at this time that Governor's Message 161 is not before us, that is, for the approval of the appointment of the Attorney General."

ADJOURNMENT

At 12:00 o'clock midnight, on motion
by Senator Cobb, seconded by Senator
Anderson and carried, the Senate adjourned until 1:30 o'clock a.m.,
Thursday, April 30, 1981.

SIXTY-FOURTH DAY

Thursday, April 30, 1981

The Senate of the Eleventh Legislature of the State of Hawaii, Regular Session of 1981, convened at 1:30 o'clock a.m., with the President in the Chair.

The Divine Blessing was invoked by Senator Patsy K. Young, after which the Roll was called showing all Senators present.

SENATE RESOLUTION

A resolution (S.R. No. 348), entitled: "SENATE RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING THE PRESIDENT TO APPROVE THE JOURNAL OF THIS SENATE FOR THE SIXTY-THIRD DAY," was offered by Senators Cobb and Yee.

On motion by Senator Cobb, seconded by Senator Anderson and carried, S.R. No. 348 was adopted.

The President then announced that he had read and approved the Journal of the Sixty-Third Day.

ORDER OF THE DAY

RECONSIDERATION OF ACTION TAKEN

Senator Yamasaki moved that the Senate reconsider its action on the following:

House Bill No. 241, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1;

Senate Bill No. 454, H.D. 1, C.D. 1;

House Bill No. 1716, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1;

House Bill No. 1879, S.D. 1, C.D. 1;

House Bill No. 1724, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1;

House Bill No. 1239, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1;

House Bill No. 1, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1;

House Bill No. 2, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1;

House Bill No. 629, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1;

House Bill No. 1870, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1; and

House Bill No. 1167, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, seconded by Senator Anderson.

Senator Yamasaki then stated as follows:

"Mr. President, the Conference Committee has considered the bills enumerated and the decision-making meeting was held from 12:35 a.m. to 12:55 a.m. (April 30, 1981) to comply with the requirements of the State Constitution. The conferees have found nothing wrong with the conference drafts on each of the bills."

Senator Abercrombie then stated as follows:

"Mr. President, I appreciate the chairman's remarks and I understand his concern that there'll be no question as far as he's concerned, as far as you're concerned, in respect of the proprieties.

"I state, for the record, that it is my considered judgment that all aspects of constitutional procedures were met regardless of whether or not this particular hearing was held and I feel that my contention is shared by many in this body. I recognize, on the other hand, your concern that nothing goes awry, and I respect it. But, I, in turn, most respectfully submit for purposes of the record that I believe that we have acted in good order in terms of the Constitution up to this point and including this hour."

Senator Henderson then asked: "Mr. President, are these bills in the same form as have been laid on the table for 48 hours?"

The Chair replied: "That is correct."

Senator Carpenter then remarked and inquired as follows:

"Mr. President, I have a question.

"If indeed the Conference Committee adjourned at 12:55 a.m., a few minutes ago, and if indeed the action taken by this body, prior to recommitment of the bills, was not within the purview of our charge by the people of State of Hawaii, then I'm not clear in my mind if the bills have laid on our desks for the required 48 hours after the decision was reached in open caucus as to whether or not we now meet the constitutional test that was spoken to earlier. Will you answer that for me, please?"

The Chair answered: "Yes, Senator Carpenter, the constitutional requirement is that the bills to be passed are in final form and have been on the members' desks for 48 hours. This is the ruling of the Chair, with respect to your question."

Senator Carpenter further inquired: "So then the bills need not rest in their final form after the formal decisions were made in opening hearing, is that what you're saying?"

The Chair answered: "That's correct. The reconsideration is on the action taken to recommit the bills. Each of the bills carry a Conference Draft 1 on it and is back to its original form when it was laid on the desks for 48 hours."

The motion to reconsider the action was put by the Chair and carried, and the aforementioned bills were replaced on the calendar for Final Reading.

FINAL READING

Conference Committee Report No. 67 (H.B. No. 1, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Yamasaki moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 67 be adopted and H.B. No. 1, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Anderson.

At this time Senator Campbell rose to speak on the measure and the Chair asked: "Senator Campbell, are you speaking in favor or against the bill?"

Senator Campbell replied: "Mr. President, at this point, I haven't really made up my mind."

The Chair responded: "Senator Campbell, if you choose to debate the measure, you will have to state your position whether you are for or against the measure before the body."

Senator Campbell answered as follows:

"Well, as I understand it, I can change my mind later on. At this present time, I'm speaking against the budget."

"Mr. President, I have some favorable things to say about the budget. I'm very delighted that additional funding has been granted to the film office. The service that this office can render in promoting our state and providing additional jobs for people can be considerable.

Hawaii has the potential of becoming the second film capital of the world, and I want to congratulate those responsible for insisting that this office be expanded and that it be given the kind of support which this budget reflects.

"I'm also happy that there is an increase in the funding to prevent child abuse. We learned in the committee hearings that some reported cases of child abuse were not responded to until a week or two had lapsed. Along with the increased funding should go a mandate that this deficient practice be terminated without delay.

"And, Mr. President, when it comes to grants-in-aid, I'm pleased to note that the budget document restores well over a million and a half dollars to grants-in-aid funds. These grants are so important for support programs of our various state agencies.

"I applaud additional funding which provides a new division of energy in the Department of Planning and Economic Development. This increases my hope that the state will seriously consider the possibility of converting its gasoline-powered engines to electric, where feasible.

"According to a report by the Hawaii Natural Energy Institute, University of Hawaii, Hawaii spent approximately $800 million dollars in 1978 for imported petroleum. One estimate, based on a 10% annual price increase, is that by 1990, Hawaii will be spending over $2 billion dollars for oil. The state, however, has the potential to achieve 100% electrical energy self-sufficiency by 1990.

"The Hawaii taxpayer, for 1980-81 will be spending approximately one million three hundred thousand dollars for gasoline for cars operated by the state.

"According to the chief of the Automotive Division of the Department of Accounting and General Services (DAGS), operational costs for state vehicles average approximately 18¢ - 19¢ per mile.

"The electric vehicle project of the University of Hawaii says, 'The electric vehicle cost about 10.5¢ per mile to operate.'

"According to DAGS, state vehicles travel on the average, 22.5 miles per day. The electric vehicles can travel up to 50 miles before recharging, thereby, being a viable replacement for the gas-powered car.

"Let's hope that the request of this Senate to the state administration, through Senate Resolution No. 20 will result in many electric cars replacing gasoline-powered vehicles operated by the state and counties.

"Hawaii has the cleanest air of any state in the union, let's keep it that way."

"Now, Mr. President and members of the Senate, I come to that aspect of the budget which may be put in the category of so-called sad news.

"Mr. President, in 1977, as chairman of an interim subcommittee on school violence and vandalism of the State House of Representatives, we found a very serious problem in our schools. School violence was threatening the educational process. Vandalism was taking much needed funds from the education of our school children. Based on our findings, this interim committee made many recommendations to the Department of Education, designed to alleviate the problem. Today, less than four years later, we're faced with the same problem. The main difference is that the problem is bigger and it's costing us more. The funding committee report which is before us this morning underscores this point by referring to the problem as 'the rising tide of violence and crime in our public schools.'

"This Legislature should not continue the hit-and-miss approach to the most serious problem facing our schools today-- school violence and vandalism. And here's an example of what I mean. Let's take the alternative education program. Now, this is what the committee report says: 'Your Committee has provided additional funds for the Comprehensive School Alienation Program. However, your Committee recognizes that there are numerous individual alternative education programs, funded through the DOE budget, for which coordination by the department seems to be lacking. It is the intent of your Committee that the DOE report to the next Legislature with a plan for integrating these individual programs under the Comprehensive School Alienation Program.'

"Now, Mr. President, it's incredible that this Legislature is increasing the funding for programs which are in need of coordination and direction. Would it not have been the better part of wisdom to have required the Department of Education to come in with a well organized program for alternative education before getting increased funding? Well, I for one would think so.

"Mr. President, when the Senate draft of the budget was before us, it sounded very optimistic as it related to crime prevention and the reduction of school violence and vandalism. Those who supported that budget pointed with pride to the only innovative program of that budget designed to prevent school violence and vandalism. That was the Castle Complex Alternative Education Program. Because this project was limited in scope, as all pilot programs are, in reality, it offered rather limited relief from the school crime and vandalism problem plaguing our schools today. But, as limited as this program was, it did offer a source of hope. It did offer a departure from a much criticized posture of this Legislature to throw money at all programs in schools which have not proven themselves particularly effective. Mr. President, what happened to that little glimmer of hope called the Castle Complex Alternative Education Program? It goes without saying that it was abandoned.

"With the loss of that program this budget before us this morning provides no new approach to crime prevention and curbing school violence and vandalism. As a matter of fact, this conference draft of the budget is well over $8 million less for school programs voted by this Senate some weeks ago.

"Now, Mr. President, I've stated this before and I'll say it again, this Legislature has the responsibility, in my judgment, to require the Department of Education to come up with an effective program to combat crime and vandalism on school campuses of this state which threaten the education of Hawaii's children. Such a program has to place emphasis on early identification and referral. The program will also have to emphasize alternative programs for hard-core, troubled students and until this bold and innovative step is taken this Legislature must share the responsibility of not providing the people of this state with an effective crime prevention program.

"Now, Mr. President, in concluding my remarks, I want to make reference to what happened an hour or so ago. There was a joint meeting of the Senate and House conferees on all bills that did not meet the sunshine law requirement. This meeting was called to let in sunshine, after the fact. Mr. President, I made some comments on this floor about a year ago concerning this process. I would like to read some pertinent excerpts from those comments.

"This is what was said: 'Finally, let's turn our attention to the process by which the Senate and the House reached the final compromise on measures where there was disagreement. The House and Senate conferees met for days, many times working around the clock, to seek an acceptable compromise. These conference are a tug-of-war. No conference leader wants it said that he or she gave in. This is the reason, in my judgment, for legislative extensions. Nobody wants to give in. In this kind of process, the merits of issues suffer tremendously. The merits of issues before the conferees get lost in the tug-of-war. When I think that this is the process by which we arrive at the most important legislation which passes this Legislature, I cringe. The process is, in my judgment, the best boost for a unicameral legislature I have seen or heard of in many, many years.

"Now, let me close by making just one or two observations. The first one is, in spite of the fact that the full House and the full Senate have final approval authority, we all know that much of the most important legislation which passes both houses is shaped and tailored by just a handful of representatives and senators. This approach, in my opinion, is hostile to the democratic legislative process.

"The second observation, and I think it relates to the first...this handful of powerful decision-makers in the House and the Senate, in most instances, get locked into battle where the deciding factor in most cases is not the merits, as I mentioned earlier, not the merits of the issue at hand, but the physical endurance of the participants.

"Now, Mr. President, in the interest of the people of this state, this folly must come to a halt, and I call upon you to start the ball rolling. After the close of this session, Mr. President, convene a House-Senate committee whose purpose would be to seriously consider an alternative to our present process of reaching agreement with the House related to proposed legislation where there is some difference of opinion."

"And that, Mr. President, end those remarks that I made a year ago. Those remarks made a year ago today, or approximately today, are painfully applicable this morning. The process which brought this present budget before us this morning has not changed from one year ago and, if anything, it's gotten worse.

"I was on 16 conference committees but called to serve on two and a half. The half refers to the conference committee on the Executive pay bill which met and adjourned so that the House could make a counteroffer, but the committee never reconvened.

"There must be a change, Mr. President, in the Senate-House negotiation process which is responsible for major legislation which is so important to the people of this state. The process should allow for the following: (1) Adequate participation on the part of all elected representatives and senators in the process; (2) Public access to conference committee deliberations and decision-making; and (3) Strict adherence to time frames which prevent around-the-clock sessions and physical endurance contests.

"Now, Mr. President, I call upon you again to take the initiative with the Speaker of the House to setting up a joint Senate-House interim committee to devise alternatives to our present Senate-House negotiation process.

"Thank you very much."

Senator Abercrombie then remarked as follows:

"Mr. President, I speak in favor of the budget and in rebuttal of some of the remarks of the previous speaker.

"Mr. President, the previous speaker may be more familiar with the hit-and-miss approach than I am. As the former chairman of Education he tried for a hit with his remarks and missed very badly. He has used, as an example, the Comprehensive School Alienation Program. If he will examine the contents of the program as outlined in our discussions in the Education Committee of both the House and the Senate...and I might add, Mr. President, that the cooperation between the House and the Senate has been excellent, it has been continuous since the Legislature was organized...we've been in constant communication with one another, both in terms of the two chairmen involved and in terms of the staff. We have had the excellent cooperation of the Finance Committee in the House and the Ways and Means Committee in the Senate. You will find that the Comprehensive School Alienation Program is organized. That's precisely the effect of this budget where we're asking for, in terms of a report, the effect of the program which we have now organized in terms of an analysis by the DOE as to its successes and where its weaknesses might be so that we might strengthen it further.

"As to indicating that the only program in connection with school violence and vandalism was the Castle program is nothing short of nonsense. As a matter of fact, that was an add-on to the integrated program that we have established in this budget for education. That there is no new approach is again nonsense. We have an integrated approach, especially in terms of school violence and vandalism. If this is seen as an ineffective approach by the previous speaker perhaps he has more experience with that kind of activity than I do.

"This is a budget which is a successful budget for the people of the State of Hawaii in terms of public education. Contrary to the remarks of the previous speaker, if you will examine the budget that was put forward, recommended by the Executive, you will find that the members of the House and the Senate have agreed to put back some $5.6 million into this budget over the next biennium, an increase of almost $6 million.

"You will find that the priorities of the Board of Education have been addressed in every respect. You will find that the workload increases have been respected by both of our houses in every respect. You will find that the current services cuts which were envisioned in the recommended budget to us have been addressed in every respect. At the same time, the budget committees and your subject matter committees have judiciously pruned the budget proposal where necessary and feasible. You will find expansion in this budget in the area of special needs, in the area of warm body teacher positions, for the first time, Mr. President.

"The Superintendent of Education will have available more than fifty positions in each of the fiscal years which the Superintendent may assign as needed so that noschool need suffer any longer from a strictly numerical approach in terms of a formula which involve a decline in enrollment so that in some programs and some classes students lose out with teachers. The flexibility is now there for the Superintendent. This is a great triumph of reason over the logic of numbers. The reason that is involved considers the fact that we are dealing with human beings. We are dealing with the life-blood of this state and it behooves us to pay attention to the fact that if we are to mold the minds of our school children in a way conducive to good citizenship and a progressive attitude in this state, then we had better put together the kind of fiscal support for the school system that not only will warrant respect, renewed respect, on the part of the public, but see to it that confidence can be regained by the public in our public education system.

"We have seen to it that we will have professional improvement costs taken care of for our teachers. Intensive basic skills have not been funded. Job programs like Project Holomua and others have been instituted. Grants-in-aid for programs like the LAMP program on the Big Island have been re-funded with the hope that the record that's established there may find itself being implemented in other islands, including Oahu, in the near future.

"The Hawaiian Studies program...if there is any program which offers us an opportunity to see to it that respect and discipline are put back into our school system, especially the elementary school level, it is the Hawaiian Studies program. We have funded that program fully in this budget. The Hawaiian Studies program was a pilot program. So often we see these things get underway and then the Legislature doesn't follow through. We followed through in this budget.

"Asian-Pacific and European languages...we put money and positions into this budget. We have special education teachers; we increased the position count for the deaf and blind students of limited language proficiency; we've put in vice-principals; we've put in security aids; we've put in counselors; we've put in these extra teachers; all of which constitutes an integrated and comprehensive program in respect of violence, vandalism, discipline and a good learning atmosphere in the schools.

"We've addressed the question of the gifted and talented; we've addressed the question of athletic directors because we see student activities in athletics and other activities as being an integral part in getting our students to think of school as a place where they want to be, as a place where they can not only gain academic knowledge, but knowledge of themselves as a community. We have increased funding for adult education. I won't read all the numbers involved I'll just refer the members to pages 8 and 9 of the Conference Committee report for the kind of money that we put behind these positions.

"You will find, Mr. President, that for the first time in more than a decade public education has made a turnaround. We now have a situation where the Board, the Superintendent, the chairman of both legislative committees, the DOE, the teachers, the parent-teacher-student organizations, and other interested parties are all working in concert, cooperating with one another on behalf of education.

"I'm proud of that record in the brief time that I have had the honor to be chairman of the Education Committee and I pledge to you and other members, in asking for their vote for this budget, that that kind of cooperation is going to continue to exist, and that we will take this foundation and this budget, carry forward with it so that people of our state can be proud of their education system.

"Thank you."

Senator Cayetano spoke on the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against this bill.

"Mr. President, I'm very disappointed that the appropriation for the Vineyard Street garage was restored after the conferees for both the House and the Senate had agreed in open conference before the public and the press to delete it. I recall that there was little debate on the merits of the appropriation because the chairman of the House Finance Committee quickly accepted the Senate's recommendation to delete the project, stating in the process that he and the House conferees agreed that the garage was a bad project which did not merit further appropriation. Naturally, I was shocked to find that the appropriation was restored in the conferences between the House and Senate subcommittees.

"The restoration of the $3.5 million to finish construction of this crazy project...one of the all-time great bureaucratic boondoggles in our state's history...is not only a waste of the taxpayers' money, but a slap in the face of all members of this Senate. There is not one legislator in this building who would dare to publicly defend this project on its merits.

"When I asked the chairman of the Ways and Means Committee why the money had been restored he said it was because the conferees for the House requested it. When I asked the chairman of the House Finance Committee why he asked to restore the appropriation he admitted that he was still opposed to the project but that someone, and I quote 'someone higher up' ordered him to restore the project.

"Mr. President, who is running the House Finance Committee? Does the committee system still exist in the House? Why wasn't the chairman of the Senate Committee on Government Operations and Intergovernmental Relations, Senator Kawasaki, who had deleted the appropriation, consulted before agreement was made to restore it?

"We are now faced with a parking garage which will cost $20,000 per stall; amortized over 20 years the cost per stall, per month, is $156. Current parking fees are $30 per month. This means that there will have to be a subsidy from somewhere of $126 per month. The tragedy of all this is that because of the limitations on bonded indebtedness, some other worthwhile project will either be delayed or never built.

"There's another item in this budget bill which concerns me and this is the so-called 'general improvement projects.' Last year, we funded 'community input projects.' The year before, I guess, we called it something else. Maybe next year we will call it the 'people's tonkatsu.' When I first got into the Legislature, we called it, Mr. President, 'pork.'

"I realize that this is a two-house Legislature, but I truly believe that the Senate must provide stronger action in phasing out 'pork.' The present leadership in the House seems totally oblivious to the constitutional limitations on bonded indebtedness. This Senate must show the way.

"All the so-called 'general improvement projects' in the budget was put there by the House...to our credit I know of no Senate 'pork' in the budget...and most of it is ridiculous. For example, after giving hundreds of thousands of dollars away in grants-in-aid to hospitals and passing laws for special purpose revenue bonds for hospitals, we still allow 'pork' items in the budget such as $275,000 for Wilcox Memorial Hospital--I say it with apologies to Senator Toyofuku; $200,000 GO bonds for equipment for Kapiolani Children's Hospital. We have appropriated millions of dollars in the Executive CIP budget for schools, and yet in 'pork' we allow, for example, nine separate $5,000 appropriations for something called 'general education purposes.' What the hell is that?

"I can tell you, Mr. President, from what I know about the guidelines set by Budget and Finance, this certainly does not qualify under our CIP guidelines. When will we put a stop to this nonsense? Maybe you can answer that question next year.

"Mr. President, even though I am disappointed about the budget, there are many good items in the budget. I still may have voted for this bill, but I think it suffers from a fatal flaw. You see, Mr. President, what we're looking at in House Bill No. 1 are two bills, really. One is the general appropriations act for fiscal biennium, 1981-83, otherwise called the State Budget. The other is the proviso buried in the bill which appropriates $5.8 million cash for asbestos repair, effective for the current fiscal year. I understand we took this approach because there was no bill or vehicle available. I'm told that there's been past precedent for this very unique approach. Perhaps one day someone will test it in the courts. But my greatest concern is that this $5.8 million appropriation for the asbestos which becomes current, not for fiscal 82-83 but for this fiscal year, along with the $4.1 million for the Gamino case; the $598,000 for criminal injuries compensation; the $724,000 for claims against the state; the $10,000 for the Silver Jubilee celebration; and the legislative expense bill for $4.7 million, all of which were appropriated in this session and all of which will be effective upon approval, which means that they should be counted against the expenditure ceiling for fiscal 1981, do not have the declarations that are required.

"The 1980 Legislature exceeded the expenditure ceiling for fiscal 1981 by $67 million. At the time the Legislature passed those appropriations, the expenditure ceiling was self-imposed because Sections 37-91 through 94 became effective and Section 37-91, subsection 4, sets an expenditure ceiling for fiscal 1981. What this means, Mr. President, is that any appropriations made for fiscal year 1981, after July 1, 1980, which exceeds the expenditure ceiling set by 37-94-4 for the fiscal year must contain a declaration as set forth in 37-93.

"What all of this means, as I have tried to repeatedly point out from the very beginning of this session to people in charge in the Senate, either verbally or by written memorandum, as early as February, is that unless the appropriations mentioned above contain a declaration, I believe their legality is subject to challenge in court.

"I understand that the House has obtained an Attorney General's Opinion, in the last day or so, which disputes my interpretation. I read that Opinion, and let me state that I consider that Opinion an opinion which appears to have been hurriedly written and reasoned from a pre-determined conclusion. It's too bad the Attorney General, or the deputy who wrote that Opinion, did not have the time to consult me on this matter. After all, Mr. President, I wrote that law last year. I think I know what it should mean.

"Let me state that in drafting that law last year to establish the expenditure ceiling, my staff and I spent many hours trying to draft the law which would prevent future legislatures from circumventing it. We considered all kinds of possibilities and finally we came up with the present law...the sections I mentioned...and the law is designed to specifically prevent the Legislature from circumventing the expenditure limits by making the kind of post-biennium appropriations that we are making now, such as the $5.8 million for asbestos, $4.1 million for Gamino, and others.

"All the appropriations effective this fiscal year, in my opinion, require such a declaration. Without such declarations, the appropriations are illegal. For me, it is absolutely clear, and for these reasons I would vote against the budget. Had this appropriation been separated from the budget, I would vote for the budget, but it is not. I will vote against the budget. I will vote against Gamino and the other appropriations which I favor because they have no declarations and, I believe, are illegal."

Senator O'Connor also spoke against the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against the budget and I'm going to vote against it. I join Senator Cayetano in his remarks just made concerning the expenditure limit and the failure to make the appropriate declarations in the other bills which contain major appropriations. I join with him in the belief that those bills may have difficulty setting, particularly the Gamino measure in which there are several opponents in this jurisdiction, and, if there is any technical flaw in it, I'm sure that it will have a lot of difficulty.

"Mr. President, I am more opposed to the budget because of the procedural manner in which it was handled. I believe, despite protestations to the contrary made on this floor tonight, that Article III, Section 12, of the State Constitution, as amended in 1978, was not conformed with in this particular budget situation. The section which is pertinent reads as follows: 'Every meeting of a committee in either house or of a committee comprised of a member or members from both houses held for the purpose of making decision on matters referred to the committee shall be open to the public.'

"The history of the budget negotiations are common knowledge and have been carried in all of the television stations. After four days of open negotiations, subcommittees were appointed which met privately, away from the public, and worked out the more difficult decisions which had to be made or which were made in the budget. Those meetings were for the purpose of making decisions on those difficult matters, and when the decisions were made the document which is before us, House Bill No. 1, C.D. 1, was drafted, circulated, and put together. Some of the other bills before us also came from the same genesis.

"The State Constitution provision is a mandatory provision. The word, the operative word in it, is the word 'shall.' Our Supreme Court has ruled in 58 Hawaii on page 31 that where there is a mandatory provision such as this one and there is a violation of it, such a violation would render legislation which is the result of the violation, a nullity. The word the Supreme Court uses is, it would render the enactment 'nugatory.'

"Tonight, as I understand it, based upon recommendations of the Governor and the Attorney General, this process that we are involved in was continued and the bills were recommitted to the Ways and Means and Finance conference committee where, for a very brief period, the eleven bills which went back to committee were considered and the conference committee voted to agree with the recommendations of the subcommittee.

"Now, the problem with that process, Mr. President, is obvious because the bill which we are about to vote on is the same bill which came from the decisions made in those secret meetings. There's just no way that the action this evening can change the fact that we have before us a measure which violates, or the contents and the decisions that were made to form the content, violates Article III, Section 12, of the Constitution. It is unfortunate that in our administrative efforts in this body some thought wasn't given to that particular provision, and it is unfortunate that the meetings which were held to work out those particular provisions weren't open meetings; but, that's over and done with.

"I believe that there could have been a way to rescue this problem, had the committees actually gone back into conference tonight or over the next couple of days and deliberated again on each of the measures and actually made decisions. This was not done. I believe, therefore, that this bill is subject and might very well be subject to attack in court and I understand that one of our foremost organizations in the community is presently considering legal action on this measure and other measures which were handled in the way that I've indicated in order to render them a nullity. It will indeed be unfortunate in this state if this budget is rendered a nullity, particularly, if the court debates go on for any length of time and we get past July where nothing can be done to straighten it out.

"For these reasons, Mr. President, I, simply on a matter of procedure and administration, will vote against this bill.

"I'd like to make some other brief comments concerning the content of the measure.

"As the previous speaker indicated, there are some very fine items in this bill; there are also some that aren't so very fine. My problems with the measure are that in the area of corrections and in the area of our prison system it doesn't go far enough. We simply are not putting enough money in this measure, into our overall prison system, and into our criminal justice system as it exists in that area. I made remarks concerning this when the bill left the Senate and I find that not much has been done on it in the conference committee.

"I thank God that our land banking program, at least, has a little bit of money put aside for acquisition of a prison site at Halawa. The $3.5 million there would be well spent. Unfortunately, as I indicated earlier, there's not the flexibility in this measure for the Corrections Division of the Department of Social Services and Housing to choose among several decent parcels in Halawa for this contemplated 500-bed medium security prison because the bill pinpoints a mauka portion which may or may not be acclimated for this particular facility. That's unfortunate, but, still, it's there and thank goodness for it.

"On the Hawaii Youth Correctional Facility at Koolau, last year we passed a Juvenile Master Plan and this measure still doesn't have enough money in it to handle the content of that plan. In the measure are the conversions of the Maunawili cottage, which is good...it should have been converted a long time ago...but all the other cottages badly need repair and the funds for those cottages are left out. There are other facilities over there that we talked about now for several years and requested money for and there simply isn't any money for them, including the roof of Hilltop House which should have been done a long time ago.

"In addition, there's no money and there was no intent, evidently, to try to provide any for intake holding facilities, shelter facilities, and other matters that were called for in the Juvenile Justice Master Plan. I don't know if we're ever going to get those. I pray to God that in some year we'll get them into the budget.

"In a situation for a state such as ours which has, unfortunately, a well publicized crime situation, this budget demonstrates a spending of only 2 per cent of the entire budget amount on public safety against criminal action. That tiny expenditure is a crime in itself.

"There are many other items in the budget that I would comment on...the hour is late... I would simply say that it is unfortunate that it doesn't go a lot further in many of those areas. Thank you, Mr. President."

The Chair then remarked as follows:

"Senator O'Connor, if I might just make one correction. The procedure offered this evening to get into the conference committee was not suggested nor recommended by the Governor and the Attorney General. I want to set that record straight."

At this time, Senator Holt rose to speak against the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I just want to briefly say that I'm going to oppose this budget for a number of reasons.

"First, I am in agreement with Senator O'Connor that the secret, closed-door negotiations were clearly in violation of the State Constitution and I strongly believe that the 20-minute hearing that was held earlier this morning was nothing more than to make a mockery of our Constitution.

"Secondly, in the selection of Wheeler Air Force Base as the site for a general aviation airport, it's giving false hope to the community that we are addressing this potentially tragic situation.

"Thirdly, the choice of Dole Street for the Law School, I believe, is penny-wise and pound-foolish. We've waited long enough and we shouldn't delay construction any longer.

"Thank you."

Senator Cobb then stated: "Mr. President, just one brief observation in response to the remarks of my colleague from the Seventh District relative to the closed negotiations via the subcommittee route. I guess the reaction and the interpretation of it depends on one's perspective because I recall last year there was a good deal of so-called behind the doors negotiations, but I did not hear a single complaint last year that the constitutional provision that he alludes to which was adopted by the voters in 1978."

Senator Yamasaki rose to respond to prior questions raised and stated:

"Mr. President, in response to the questions raised by the Senator from the Fourth District on the requirement to make declarations as far as the expenditure ceiling is concerned on certain bills that we have before us, we have received a letter from the Attorney General's office, dated April 18, 1981, which reads as follows:

"This is in response to your oral inquiry as to whether the 1981 Legislature is required to secure a two-thirds vote of each house before making appropriations for the 1980-81 fiscal year which would exceed the general fund expenditure ceiling established by Act 277, Session Laws of Hawaii 1980.

"We answer in the negative.

"We note that Article VII, Section 9 of the State Constitution, as added by the 1978 Constitutional Convention, provides in part that:

"Notwithstanding any other provision to the contrary, the legislature shall establish a general fund expenditure ceiling which shall limit the rate of growth of general fund appropriations, excluding federal funds received by the general fund, to the estimated rate of growth of the State's economy as provided by law. No appropriations in excess of such ceiling shall be authorized during any legislative session unless the legislature shall, by a two-thirds vote of the members to which each house of the legislature is entitled, set forth the dollar amount and the rate by which the ceiling will be exceeded and the reasons therefor."

"We observe that nothing in the above language indicates the date by which the Legislature is to establish the general fund expenditure ceiling nor the means by which such ceiling is to be established. By Act 277, Session Laws of Hawaii 1980, however, the 1980 Legislature formally established by law the formula for determining the general fund expenditure ceiling. Section 5 of Act 277 specifically provides:

"This Act shall take effect on July 1, 1980 and shall be repealed as of June 30, 1984."

"In discussing the reason for the effective date provision, the Conference Committee stated:

"Your Committee has also changed the effective date of this Act to July 1, 1980 rather than upon its approval. Thus, the first state budget which the provisions of this bill would legally impact would be the budget for fiscal biennium 1981-83. [Emphasis added]. House Com. Rep. No. 95-80 on S.B. No. 2795-80, 1980 House Journal at 1153; Senate Conf. Rep. No. 94-80 on S.B. No. 2795-80, 1980 Senate Journal at 1014.

"The above language thus seems to indicate a clear legislative intent to impose the general fund expenditure ceiling for appropriations beginning with the 1981-82 fiscal year and not for appropriations for the 1980-81 fiscal year. Further evidence of this intent is the fact that supplemental appropriations made by the 1980 Legislature for the 1980-81 fiscal year exceeded by $57 million, the expenditure ceiling for fiscal year 1980-81 (under the formula established by Act 277); however, the 1980 Legislature did not secure a two-thirds vote of each house before making such appropriations.

"In view of the above, we conclude that the general fund expenditure ceiling, and the requirements that must be followed before exceeding the ceiling, should be applicable only to appropriations commencing with the 1981-82 fiscal year.

"Please feel free to call us, if you have any question on the above."

signed by Corinne K.A. Watanabe, Deputy Attorney General, and approved by Tany S. Hong, Attorney General.

"Therefore, Mr. President, we feel confident that in regard to the bills that we have before us this morning that were referred to by the Senator from the Fourth District in claiming that we should make a declaration to the expenditure ceiling, there is no need to make the declaration, in view of the letter that we have before us.

"Also, I would like to state, in reply to the question on the Vineyard Street garage by the Senator from the Fourth District that this subject matter was considered by the open conference, as the Senator has said, that is true. However, those decisions were tentative decisions and when the subcommittee of the conference met we had several subject matters before us... the matter of the general aviation field, whether to go back to Poamoho or whether to stick to our position on Wheeler Airfield; the subject of the Law School; and the subject of the Ruger/Kapiolani Community College school site.

"After we had made the decision on the general aviation airfield, to go along with the Senate position on Wheeler Airfield and also on the Law School and Fort Ruger site for the Kapiolani Community College, the House requested that we reconsider the action taken by both sides on the Vineyard Street garage. This is when the decision was made to reconsider our action and concede to the House on the subject.

"I'd like to point out that as far back as in 1967 and also in 1976 when the present Senator from the Fourth District, representing the 19th District of the House Representatives, in Act 226 covered by House Bill 2100, there was an appropriation of $148,000 for the design of the parking facility on the mauka portion of the State Capitol Complex and when the conference report was voted on there were 49 ayes, 1 no (Rep. Sutton), and 1 member was excused.

"Also, in 1977, the same item was in House Bill No. 1, Vineyard Street garage, to appropriate $3,022,000 for construction of Phase I of the parking facility. In the vote taken in the House the Senator participated as a House member from the 19th District and there were 46 ayes, 1 no, and 4 excused, and I didn't note any opposition from the Senator.

"Then, also, in 1978, the supplemental budget year, the same item appeared in House Bill 3039 and the Senator was still a Representative from the 19th District. The same budget amount of $3,022,000 for the construction of the Vineyard Street garage appeared in the budget and the vote was unanimous with 51 ayes. Therefore, the position of the Senator taken on this subject to disagree with the action taken to restore the second phase of the parking structure is inconsistent with the previous actions taken when he was a member of the House.

"I believe that the second phase of the parking structure should be constructed with a roof so that we would have at least 500 parking stalls instead of the 159 or 169 parking stalls as we have now in the first phase. I believe that this was an area of concern expressed by individual Senators on House Bill No. 1.

"Thank you very much."

Senator Cayetano then responded as follows:

"Mr. President, I thank the chairman of the Ways and Means Committee for his meticulous homework. It's too bad he stopped at the year 1978 because when I became chairman of the Ways and Means Committee in 1979 and '80, monies for the project was deleted because I finally learned what a crazy project it was. The years that he mentioned my voting for the project I suspect that the project was included in the budget bill and, as you know, it's a take it or leave it situation in that case.

"In any event, the present feeling or belief is that this project, in view of the priority of other projects that we have, is no longer a worthwhile project. I notice there was no defense of the project on its merits, but rather a litany of my voting history. That'll be good if he had continued to the last two years up to the present. However, I'd like to address the Attorney General's Opinion.

"Mr. President, I have had the privilege of being a member of the Committee of Bar Examiners and I've participated in examining bar examination papers on three different bar exams, and if I had to correct or grade the research that was put into the Attorney General's Opinion, I think I would have to give it a 'D.'"

"Mr. President, it seems to me that the Attorney General makes a point about the conference committee report which states that the first budget the expenditure ceiling will impact on is the budget for the fiscal '82 and '83 biennium, and that is correct; but we are talking about budgets. The expenditure ceiling also applies to appropriations and that includes post-budget appropriations.

"I want to read into the record Section 37-91, subsection 4, and this is the definition of expenditure ceiling:

"Expenditure ceiling" means the maximum general funding appropriations allowed in any year. The expenditure ceiling shall be determined by considering the fiscal year 1978-79 general fund appropriations as the expenditure ceiling. The expenditure ceiling for succeeding fiscal years' ...it doesn't say after 1981; it says that 'succeeding fiscal year shall be computed by adjusting the immediate prior fiscal year expenditure ceiling by the applicable state growth.'

"Now, regarding succeeding fiscal years, you take '78 and '79 as the base and what is the year after '79? It's '80; and what's the year after '80, it's '81, and '81 is the year that I'm talking about. Now, everybody catch on? Kind of easy after a while.

"So, what I'm saying is that the Attorney General, unfortunately, probably didn't read this law or maybe he read the conference committee report but didn't read the law. Also, apparently, the Attorney General has difficulty counting.

"The Attorney General states that the 1980 Legislature made supplemental appropriations for fiscal '81 which were in excess of the expenditure ceiling and that the 1980 Legislature did not secure a two-thirds vote before making such appropriations. Without going to the Journal, I ask the members of the Senate to search their memories about what the vote was on the budget, on the supplemental budget, because the Attorney General is wrong on two counts. First, the vote in the House was 50 to 0, I excused, and the vote in the Senate was 20 to 4. Now, maybe if the Attorney General needs a calculator to figure out if that's two-thirds we can get him one from the Ways and Means office. It seems to me that's clearly a two-thirds vote.

"Mr. President, this idea of the expenditure ceiling and the declaration having to be made for the Gamino bill and the asbestos appropriation, I didn't dream up. As I said, I helped draft the law and I really think that the appropriations without a declaration are in violation of the law and, therefore, illegal. I stand by my words. I think the Attorney General's Opinion is wrong for the reasons stated, and I think we made a terrible mistake in not amending those bills to provide for a declaration.

"Notwithstanding the fact there was a political problem because we couldn't go back and amend the legislative pay bill, the fact that we did one thing wrong does not mean we have to continue to do other things wrong, especially when those appropriations impact on private parties who are not members of the Legislature."

Senator O'Connor then rose to ask if the chairman of the Ways and Means Committee would yield to a question and the chairman replied in the affirmative.

Senator O'Connor asked: "Mr. President, are we, in our general fund expenditure, in excess of $2.6 million in toto, and if we are, what is the total amount of our general fund expenditures, including everything... legislative expenditures, the Gamino thing and everything else?"

Senator Yamasaki inquired: "For fiscal year 1982?"

Senator O'Connor said: "The entire situation, Mr. President, the entire fiscal biennium."

Senator Yamasaki replied: "Mr. President, for the fiscal biennium we are below the expenditure ceiling. I don't have the figures right off the bat right now, but..."

Senator O'Connor further inquired: "Are we for the fiscal year 1981-82 above or below $1.233 million?"

Senator Yamasaki replied: "Below."

Senator O'Connor asked: "And for '82-'83 above or below $1.371 million?"

Senator Yamasaki again replied: "Below."

Senator O'Connor then said: "Mr. President, I understand it to be for all general fund expenditures."

The Chair answered: "That's what the chairman responded to."

Senator Yamasaki added: "Mr. President, we are only above for the fiscal year 1980-1981."

At this time, Senator Abercrombie rose to remark as follows:

"Mr. President, I really want to speak for the budget but I think it is important to amplify very briefly some of the remarks of the Senator from the Fourth District with respect to what is commonly known as 'pork.'"

"I want to disassociate myself as chairman of Education from the items that appear there including those items in my own district. The Education Committee in the Senate did not recommend these things. They may be worthy. There may be other items in there. I looked through them. I'm sure there are items that are worthy. They should have come out under conditions that do not allow these things to be seen as items of district importance or that one district competes against another for educational improvement. This is one of the real problems that we have in the state right now where legislators can try to use influence with the Executive in order to try and get special favors for their district. It undercuts and undermines the Board of Education and undermines and undercuts the Department of Education in an attempt for equitable treatment for the entire school system and it most certainly undermines and undercuts the single school district system and the funding system that we have in this state. It is anathema to the proper conduct of our school system to have these 'pork' items.

"I might indicate one step further as we consider the idea that the committee report indicates that there is a facility to be built at Fort Ruger. I draw the members' attention to page 155 of the document, and in there you will find the nose of the camel stepping into the giant Fort Ruger tent when you find a somewhat on the surface innocuous item stating 'to be expended by the City and County of Honolulu, widening of Makapu Avenue, Kilauea Avenue, and Eighteenth Avenue.'"

"Widening of Makapu Avenue, Kilauea Avenue and Eighteenth Avenue, bordering the proposed Kapiolani Community College at Fort Ruger is something like taking the Virgin Mary into the Greek Orthodox Church somewhere. We now have Kapiolani move to Fort Ruger, presumably by osmosis, using land already set aside for the college, $70,000. The $70,000, believe me, Mr. President, is just a minute trickle in a flood of dollars that will be required to take on this most unworthy of projects. What we have now, from my point of view, as a CIP project is rather innocuous.

"We have almost $2 million for site development alone; no buildings, no teachers, no books, no equipment, no drainage system, no improvements offsite, no new parking lot that's required. This is but the first step in the expenditure of tens of millions of dollars. None of this appears in the expenditure forecast of the University of Hawaii when it considered this unworthy project.

"I state again for the record, as I have in the past, I have no objection to an educational facility of reasonable size and dimension in terms of program at the Fort Ruger area. I do, however, object to a situation where the taxpayers are suckered into tens of millions of dollars for an utterly useless and worthless educational project in the name of taking care of certain contractors in the state. So I refer you again to page 155 and invite you to pay close attention to the continuing drama of 'will the taxpayers be totally shafted at Fort Ruger or will the good guys win.'"

Senator Henderson then remarked as follows:

"Mr. President, in an effort to diversify Hawaii's economic base through the development of new industry, the budget has provided for a High-Technology Strategic Development Program. The program will emphasize the promotion of Hawaii as a center of high-technology electronics industry. Much of the current high-technology which we will be fervently pursuing involves microelectronics and computers. The types of products which are most suitable for Hawaii to develop and manufacture are more industry oriented rather than consumer oriented--if you will: telecommunications, computers, business machines, and other 'office of the future' equipment, rather than T.V. sets, stereos, and clock radios.

"Of all the possible new industries to stimulate Hawaii's economy, high-tech emerged as the Economic Development Committee's champion. Among the numerous virtues of high-tech industries, those which we found to be of special merit were:

"1) High Value Per Weight and Volume. The products of the micro-electronics industry exhibit a very high value per unit weight and volume. Thus, Hawaii suffers no penalty because of our location.

"2) Natural Resources. Electronics requires a few natural resources except for people. Simply translated, this means jobs. The University of Hawaii graduates about 75 electrical engineers every year. There is a market in Hawaii for perhaps 20. The balance either take jobs on the mainland or find employment outside of their career.

"3) Growth. This is a new industry which is still in its infancy. Nearly every issue of the leading business and financial publications covers some aspect of the microcomputer. Furthermore, the computer industry has proven itself to be recession proof because it increases government and business efficiency.

"4) A Clean Industry. Electronics is a non-polluting industry.

"5) We Have Local Companies which Are Involved in Hi-Tech. One such company, Intellect, Inc. shipped approximately a half million dollar's worth of communications equipment to Korea last year under a Sperry Univac contract. This equipment was manufactured in Kapalama. Similar equipment also manufactured in Kapalama has been installed in every U.S. Air Force base in the world and in the air control towers in Taiwan, Honduras, Guatemala, Jamaica, Hong Kong, Taipei, and Venezuela. All of the Intellect's employees are local.

"Your Committee on Economic Development will take an active role to ensure that high-technology becomes a part of the state's economy. This strategic program is but a start, but it will demonstrate the strength of viability of an industry that has tremendous potential."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, and Conf. Com. Rep. No. 67 was adopted and, Roll Call vote having been requested, H.B. No. 1, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE STATE BUDGET," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 15. Noes, 10 (Campbell, Cayetano, Holt, Kawasaki, Machida, Mizuguchi, O'Connor, Toyofuku, Ushijima and Uwaine).

At 2:58 o'clock a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 3:04 o'clock a.m.

MATTERS DEFERRED FROM APRIL 27, 1981

FINAL READING

Conference Committee Report No. 60 (H.B. No. 241, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1):

By unanimous consent, action on Conf. Com. Rep. No. 60 and H.B. No. 241, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, was deferred to the end of the calendar.

Conference Committee Report No. 64 (H.B. No. 1724, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1):

On motion by Senator Yamasaki, seconded by Senator Ajifu and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 64 was adopted and H.B. No. 1724, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE EMPLOYEE'S RETIREMENT SYSTEM OF THE STATE OF HAWAII," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

Conference Committee Report No. 65 (H.B. No. 1239, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Yamasaki moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 65 be adopted and H.B. No. 1239, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Abercrombie.

At this time, Senator Cayetano rose to speak for the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I'm going to vote for this bill but I think there is a mistake in the bill which I'd like to point out for the record.

"The purpose of this bill is to authorize the issuance of general obligation bonds to finance projects authorized in House Bill 1, the budget bill just passed.

"In past years, Mr. President, the authorization which is contained in this bill was also contained in a paragraph in the budget but because the Constitution now requires us to make a declaration it was put in a separate bill.

"I had my staff add up all the CIP in the budget which require general obligation bond funding and I found that the figure used in this bill, $157,903,000, is less than the total amount appropriated in the budget which is $161,311,000. This means that of the $161,311,000 there seems to be a shortage of about $3.4 million. Whether this is a typographical error, I don't know, but it seems to me that they may have forgotten to put in the appropriation for the Vineyard Street garage which is about $3.5 million, Mr. President. I don't know what this means because the bond council, as I understand it, is required to certify, when preparing the bond covenants in the bonds for sale, that the Legislature has complied with the requirements of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii. Whether this kind of small error is going to make a difference, I don't know, but, I'd like to point it out for the record."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, and Conf. Com. Rep. No. 65 was adopted and H.B. No. 1239, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO STATE BONDS," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

Conference Committee Report No. 66 (H.B. No. 1470, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1):

At this time, Senator Kawasaki spoke against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against passage of this bill, providing for an increase in salary for top echelon, highest paid group of employees at this time.

"The two primary arguments advanced by proponents of this bill are: first, these officials haven't had an increase in pay for four years since 1976; , second, that defects in the collective bargaining law have resulted in a compression of the salary ranges and that we are going to have situations in which department heads and their deputies will be getting paid at a lower level than some of their subordinates.

"As to the first argument, I submit that no one, least of all the administration, commiserated over the fact that from 1968 thru 1981 a full 13 years, members of the Legislature have had no salary increases, notwithstanding the ravages of inflation, on their $12,000 per year salaries. It was only on January 1 of this year (after 13 years of getting by and making do on a gross salary of $1,000 per month) did legislators receive any consideration over the fact that they too have families to support.

And on January 1st their salaries were increased to $13,500 - a total of $9.63 per month increase in the span of 13 years. I don't recall that the morning newspaper shedded any tears (as they did this morning in regard to the Executive salary increase bill) over the plight of the legislators in all the years we made the best of our situation.

"I'm sure the employees considered in this bill--employees ranging from $20,000 to $50,000 in salary range--can make do for awhile in this era of great concern over our economic situation, both nationally and locally."

"In regard to the second argument about the compression of salary ranges, if provisions of the collecting bargaining law created certain untenable problems, then the solution it seems to me, is to either repeal the law, which in my opinion has created a monstrous government employee salary cost situation, or to amend the defects in the bargaining law.

"The answer is not as it is proposed here to continue increasing top level salaries to absurd levels.

"Everything considered, including fringe benefits, our high level employees in Hawaii are very well provided for and they know it. I don't see any dearth of applicants for the very jobs increases are advocated. Neither do I see any perceptible exodus of people among our highest paid officials, including cabinet officials, judges and university officials.

"I just want to digress for a moment because the subject is relevant, to quote from a newspaper article of President Reagan's speech this morning, and I quote: 'Thanks to some very fine people, my health is much improved.' He further went to say, 'I'd like to be able to say the same thing with regard to the health of our economy. But the fundamental nature of our economic mess' in the United States 'has not changed.'"

"It has been six months since he defeated President Carter, Reagan reminded the Congress... 'inflation, mortgage and unemployment rates have not come down. The average worker's hourly earnings are lower than they were six months ago, and more than 6,000 businesses have failed,' he said. 'Six months is long enough. The American people now want us to act, and not in half measures. They demand and they have earned a full and comprehensive effort to clean up our economic mess, President Reagan said.'

"With the election of President Reagan, apparently, there was a message, a message Democrats unfortunately have not understood. That message was very simple. With his election, people in the non-government sector say, 'our government is too big and it spends too much.'

"What bothers me most, Mr. President, in passing this bill, is that with its passage (and over the objections of our citizens, when I alluded to the objections I point out to last night's Star-Bulletin poll; I must commend the Star-Bulletin for being rather timely in this concern of public issues. In that poll, as you know, it was almost unanimous among the non-government employees section of our population that they're not very happy over the proposed salary increases for our top officials.)

"Notwithstanding the objections of our citizens, we indicate to our resident population that this Senate appears to overlook the fact that Hawaii is very much an integral part of the United States, of this great country. With passage of this bill we seem to indicate that we have forgotten what plagues America. The problem of inflation, record high interest rates, unemployment, 6,000 business failures and bankruptcies over the six-month period, problems resulting in United States' indebtedness of over $1,000 billion or a trillion dollars, and the annual cost of the interest to pay for this indebtedness is over $90 billion per year. These problems also plague Hawaii and affect Hawaii.

"Should we not join our national administration in addressing these problems? Should we not respond responsively to President Reagan's fervent plea to reduce the cost of government and place a check on the growth and expansion of government expenditures? Should we not show a greater concern for the 21,000 here in Hawaii who want to work but who do not have jobs? Should we not have some concern for the 800,000 non-government employee citizens of this state who are trying to make ends meet in this high inflation era?

"I think, with passage of this bill, we'd be slapping the President in his face for in effect we would be saying that, notwithstanding all of President Reagan's pleas, Hawaii is going its own way; that we're not too concerned about getting America back to its conomic feet again.

"Passage of this bill is saying, in effect, to our President, 'to hell with you, Mr. President, we are going our merry way, and never mind the objections of our non-government employee citizens, we are raising salaries of our top officials because we have a defect in the collective bargaining law.'

"Mr. President, I urge this body to resoundingly defeat, at this time, this bill raising executive salaries in the higher paid categories of public employees."

Senator Anderson also added his remarks as follows:

"Mr. President, I'll vote no on this measure, but I'd like to state for the record that I don't think we can continually bury our heads in the sand. It's kind of ironic to have a leading Democrat preach Republicanism to me and blame the non-passage of the bill on Reagan. The truth of the matter, Mr. President, is the problem in the state government among the employees and the deputies, and the compression is one that is very, very real. And I think this Legislature next year, and it's going to be difficult because it's an election year, but it's a problem that this Legislature is going to have to confront. It's a question of morale; it's a question of drawing high caliber people in a very competitive market to bring people into government.

"I don't think that the Governor perse as an individual really needs or wants this pay raise, but it's the people around him that have been stymied for many, many years. Their counterparts across in the city here, a person who is director of the Blaisdell Arena makes more than our director of DSSH. Our director gets $42,500, and that is a lot of money by some standards, but morale-wise, their counterparts get $46,000 and they'll be at $50,000 next year and $55,000 the following year because the county is tied into collective bargaining. I think here at the state level where you have the problems, the burden, the workload, to have their counterpart of the county making $10,000 to $15,000 more is somewhat ironic.

"On the Big Island, Mayor Matayoshi and the council, they've just passed a raise. A county that comes continually looking for grants-in-aid; a county very small in size as far as responsibility, the mayor makes $8 less than the Governor of the state who has total responsibility. Gentlemen, something is wrong.

"Educational officers are making more than their Superintendent. The University, the compression under the President, they're all grouped there and cannot move anymore. It's a mess, and I guess you can sit here politically and vote this down year after year or take a public and political stand and ignore it. But the problem is not going to go away. I think you have to address it; I think you have to open up the commission or change the law, but total review is needed and needed very desperately.

"While we're not going to get it through this year, I would urge that in the interim, the chairman of Human Resources, possibly with his counterpart in the House, sit down with a private group or a legislative group or a government group, but come back next year with some recommendation to relieve and confront the problem that appears to be in the state.

"Thank you."

Senator Cayetano then rose to state:

"Mr. President, I had hoped to be here tonight voting for this bill which would give a raise of some kind to these employees. I just want to state for the record, apart from what Senator Kawasaki said, people think that no votes are cast for the reasons he stated. I'm voting no for this bill primarily because the House knew that the amounts asked for in this bill would be unacceptable, and this will be proven by the vote tonight, to a majority of the Senators here in this chamber. And, yet, the House has insisted that the matter be brought to the floor for a vote and that vote will materialize and this bill will be defeated."

Then, Senator O'Connor rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I hadn't really made up my mind on this bill until I heard the sterling speech of the Republican Floor Leader and spoken as a good Democrat, I might add, and I think I'm going to vote in favor of this matter based upon that speech.

"I find it very curious, of course, we've had lots of curious things this year, but I find it very curious that we have conference committees that bring measures out of conference to the floor of this body simply to have them voted down. I would hope that future conference committees that represent the Senate confer and negotiate with and come to resolutions that the Senate can support rather than a resolution that is predestined to defeat."

Senator Abercrombie spoke against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, speaking against this bill, and perhaps to enlighten the previous speaker and to bring some perspective I hope to bear, perhaps elaborate a bit upon Senator Cayetano's remarks.

"It was not the intention of the negotiators for the Senate to bring forth a bill that they could not get votes for on the floor of the Senate. It was a situation in which negotiation was no longer possible because the House indicated that it would take this figure, no other figure, and had no desire to have this bill voted through other than to have the bill voted on.

"They were told, and I was present when the chairman of the Ways and Means Committee said over and over again and the vice-chairman of the Ways and Means Committee said over and over again to the Speaker that this bill could not pass under these circumstances with these figures, and would they not like to try for something else, should we not continue to negotiate. The answer was no. Therefore, not only was the answer no, but a specific request was made to simply take it to the floor and see how the vote will go. I don't see what more the negotiators for the Senate could have done other than what they did, carrying through on their word to the House and bringing it on the floor for a vote. If it fails, the failure will rest entirely with the desires of the House to have a vote on the Senate floor which they know is going to fail on the basis of the representations made to them over and over again by the negotiators for the Senate.

"Before all the rhetoric flies and there are crocodile tears all over the newspaper print, let's just have it straight. The intention of the House in bringing this bill forward was to kill it. Now, why all the ins and outs and the intrigue that's involved in that I leave to the historians and the psychiatrists."

Senator Cobb added his remarks against the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, very briefly, speaking in elaboration of the Senator from the Sixth District. I was informed that twice the House turned down an offer of 7 and 8 percent or a total of 15 percent. Once with the chairman of the Human Resources Committee and once with the chairman and vice-chairman of the Ways and Committee. They first insisted on 20 and later on an immutable 18 percent to be voted on. There was no commitment relative to the passage of the 18 percent, but they insisted on a vote at that figure.

"I am going to be voting no for several additional reasons. One is the linkage of these pay bills to the budget as a package, and this linkage or packaging is not something new. It happened last year and caused an extension on other bills; now it's happening again this year. This is the second extension in a row where we have failed to show an adherence to or fundamental respect for legislative deadlines that had been mutually agreed upon in advance. I blame that primarily on the stalemate situation and the packaging of bills--take it or leave it--not only on one bill but on a whole series of bills that has existed, primarily as a result of the negotiations with the House. I think our negotiators did a commendable job and they have told the members of the House and the negotiators on the part of the House the difficulty that this bill with this kind of figure would face in the Senate.

"I certainly feel, Mr. President, that there is a definite need to establish a comparative relationship of pay hikes in the public sector to those in the private sector, and as yet we have not addressed that. I do feel and agree with some of the previous remarks made that we are to look at the question of compression or change the law and I am hopeful that the chairman of Human Resources Committee would be doing that in the interim.

"Thank you."

At this time, Senator Kuroda rose to speak for the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of the bill. A previous speaker who is against the bill referred to President Reagan's cost control program and that Hawaii should follow this program and that therefore this measure granting pay raises to the executive branch should not be passed. The cost to our state government for this bill is $892,138. If we are serious about voting down bills that increase government expenditure, we should have voted down the collective bargaining bill we just passed granting raises totalling over $100 million.

"The Minority Floor Leader, although voting against this bill, shared an accurate assessment that next year is an election year and that the Legislature may not grant a pay raise. Unfortunately, he is correct; and that is one of the reasons why we should grant the pay raise this year. If this bill fails this year, I hope there is another bill next year; I am not afraid to vote for it.

"I urge a favorable vote on this bill. If this bill is defeated, it means that hundreds of state employees excluded from collective bargaining will receive no pay raises. Whether the increase is 8% this year and 10% next year; 7% and 7% or 2% and 2%, in answer to the question I am asked as to why I am voting for the bill, my answer is 'I am voting for it because it is here before me and I believe it is right.' I think the matter of whether it is 8% to 10% or 2% or 7% is immaterial at this stage.

"There will be 'noes' cast on this bill, some 'noes' are from Senators who truly are against more expenditure; however, some 'noes' are because they feel that they are committed to a group decision. I was committed to a group decision six years ago, and I voted 'aye' for a pay bill then. I told myself then that I will not do that again. I am now faced with a similar decision. This time the group decision is a 'no.' I vote my conscience today, and I will vote a 'yes.' Thank you."

Senator Yamasaki also rose to speak against the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, the conference report was essentially signed by the conferees on this subject and as chairman of the managers on the part of the Senate I signed it free and clear at the request of the Speaker of the House and the House conferees. The request was to place this subject matter on the floor of the House and the Senate so that the House will have a day in court. We said that we probably did not have the sufficient number of votes to pass this bill on a 8 and 10 percent pay raise for the Executive Branch of our state government. The only request made of us was that we place this measure on the floor to be voted on by the entire body. This is where we are and I am voting against this bill. Thank you."

Senator Carpenter then stated:

"Mr. President, just briefly. We have a million and a half to two million dollars between the budget appropriation and the spending ceiling limit, and that exists because we had allocated that amount of money in anticipation of a possible pay increase. Because we didn't act on those measures, there are now a number of crucial private programs which are heavily relied upon by the people of this state which have had to take cuts in their funding requests so that this Legislature could stay within the ceiling limit.

"Mr. President, I submit that this policy of giving increases is really not a legislative policy but is really an administrative policy. If the administration wants an increase in pay, then I think the Governor and the Judiciary should come forth and place these costs into the budget so that they can set their priorities before they submit it to us even though the technical portion of the language and the finality of decision rests with the Legislature so that, indeed, priorities can be determined by the Governor in proposing his budget to us. I think in that way we can have a better feel and direction of what actually is important in the eyes of the leaders of this state.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair, and Roll Call vote having been requested, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 70 and H.B. Ayes, 8. Noes, 17 (Abercrombie, Ajifu, Anderson, Carpenter, Cayetano, Cobb, George, Henderson, Kawasaki, Kobayashi, Saiki, Soares, Uwaine, Yamasaki, Yee, Young and Wong).

Senator Yamasaki moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 57 be adopted and H.B. No. 1167, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading.

Senator Kawasaki then spoke against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I'm voting no on this bill because I really don't see any need for a $150,000 appropriation over a two-year period to provide a fund for venture capital.

"First of all, I think if information regarding the availability of venture capital is required then I think the staff of the Department of Planning and Economic Development could very well provide this service. I don't object to a $5,000 appropriation for the additional work imposed upon them, but I don't think there is a dearth of people wanting to invest in some novel invention that seems to have some profit potential. I think there are many people who'd be very willing to invest in inventions of any merit and think that providing $150,000 for a fund which, first of all, is not a big enough fund, I don't think is required in the first place. For that reason, I think this is a needless appropriation measure and I urge the vote against this bill."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, and Conf. Com. Rep. No. 57 was adopted and H.B. No. 1167, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE ESTABLISHMENT OF THE VENTURE CAPITAL INFORMATION CENTER," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Yamasaki moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 52 be adopted and H.B. No. 919, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Anderson.

At this time, Senator Campbell rose to speak against the bill and stated:

"Mr. President, I'm going to vote against this bill.

"As I said on the floor of this Senate a few days ago, this is a very large sum of money for the state to have to pay out in one lump sum for a judgment.

"I was told at the Ways and Means Committee hearing that there was a bill making its way through the Legislature which was designed to address the problem, but I found to my dismay that there was no such a bill. I'm going to vote against this measure as a protest. I know, at this point there's not very much that can be done but I'm going to vote against it as a protest and a reminder to this body and to the Legislature, generally, to pass legislation next year designed to remedy this problem. Thank you."

Senator Cayetano added his remarks as follows:

"Mr. President, it really troubles me to cast a no vote against this bill because I believe that the judgment embodied in this bill is totally justified. But, again, I'm going to vote no because I believe this bill which is effective for this current fiscal year needs a declaration, and while I'm at it, I might as well say that I'm going to vote against House Bill No. 769 which also needs a declaration, and House Bill No. 114 on page 5 for the same reason."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, and Conf. Com. Rep. No. 52 was adopted and, Roll Call vote having been requested, H.B. No. 919, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING AN APPROPRIATION FOR PAYMENT OF A JUDGMENT BETWEEN THE STATE OF HAWAII AND SYLVIA GAMINO," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

At this time, Senator Abercrombie stated:

"Mr. President, it grieves me to have to vote against my bill, especially since it's Conference Committee Report No. 2 which as you know has been carried over day after day as people anxiously awaited the Silver Jubilee appropriation, celebrating my 25 years in the State of Hawaii, but I honestly believe that it needs a declaration. I'm sorry that I do myself in."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, and Conf. Com. Rep. No. 2 was adopted and H.B. No. 769, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE 1984 SILVER JUBILEE OF HAWAII'S STATEHOOD AND MAKING AN APPROPRIATION THEREFOR," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

At this time, Senator Young rose to state as follows:

"Mr. President, H.B. No. 50, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, is the popular Hula Mae bill.

"The Legislature has appropriated another $200 million for this program, reassuring our community that we in the Legislature reaffirm our faith to bring more affordable housing to low and moderate income families. I ask all to vote for the measure."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, and Conf. Com. Rep. No. 18 was adopted and H.B. No. 50; H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HAWAII HOUSING AUTHORITY," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

The Senate reconvened at 3:46 o'clock a.m.

ADVISE AND CONSENT

Standing Committee Report No. 1111 (Gov. Msg. Nos. 129 and 226):

By unanimous consent, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1111 and Gov. Msg. Nos. 129 and 226 were recommitted to the Committee on Economic Development.

Standing Committee Report No. 1112 (Gov. Msg. Nos. 225 and 128):

Senator Henderson moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1112 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Yee and carried.

Senator Henderson then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the following nominations to the Commission on Population and the Hawaiian Future:

David M. Murata, George L. Butterfield, and Franklin Ty Kudo, terms to expire December 31, 1984; and

Bailey R. Center and Paul T. Tajima, terms to expire December 31, 1983, seconded by Senator Yee.

Senator Abercrombie then to rose to ask as follows:

"Mr. President, I would like to ask the chairman of the committee if he would be so kind as to explain why he's recommending that these people be named to this commission. My understanding is that there is an item in the budget; however, it was my understanding that we had in open conference and without changing it, subsequently, voted to abolish this commission. It doesn't make any difference to me whether there's money in there or not; it seems to me that we should carry through on it. I would like some explanation."

Senator Henderson answered as follows:

"Mr. President, the reason we are approving these nominees is that the recommendations of the Senate, that is, the Senate's position was that we not fund the Commission on Population and the Hawaiian Future.

"As the results of the conference committee came back to the Senate, it was passed in the budget. The money was provided in the budget and the Commission's work has to proceed. Because that is the mandate from the conference committee and from the action that was taken by this body we feel that it's only proper that these nominees be appointed to serve in the positions that the Governor has appointed them to."

Senator Abercrombie replied and stated:

"Then I'll speak against it, Mr. President. I cannot buy that reasoning. It, in effect, says that if we make a decision, but just go to the budget, go to the budget conference and put some money in, then you'll be able to continue these commissions.

"This commission, to my knowledge, is already in existence and what would happen merely is that you would have a carry-over of those who are presently nominated and when the expenditure of the money is finished, that would be the end of it. It doesn't seem to me that we are following anything in a way of rational conduct here to say that because something appears in the budget, then, therefore, we are going to have to revise something in which we'd all taken a view to the idea that this commission should suffer a demise. If this is the way we're going to do it, then why do we bother to even discuss whether these commissions should continue to exist or not. Why don't we just wait for the conference committee to see whether they want to put money for it and then make a decision. It seems to me a strange way of doing business.

"It seems to me that one would first decide whether or not a commission was worthwhile, in terms of its existence, and then decide whether you're going to put money in it. You put money in it and then go find a commission that fits the money, that's exactly what we're doing right now. There's money in the budget so let's go find a commission to fit it.

"Now, if that's the case I would like the permission of the people on the floor to put forward an amount of money next year, say, a quarter of a million dollars, and I'll let you know later on what I want to use it for, and I'll figure out some kind of commission that can use it. That, in effect, is what we are doing.

"I think the nominee should be voted down on the basis not of any individual characteristic which makes them unworthy, but rather on the basis that this commission has been determined in open conference not to be worthy of continuance or that in the sense that its work has been completed to a degree that it is no longer sufficient in terms of public policy for it to continue its work, and let the appropriation sit there.

"It won't be the first amount of money that has gone into a budget that sat there. Sometimes we even have lapsing of funds because they haven't been spent. Now, if the Governor chooses to spend this money because it's in the budget this time, let the Governor do so, but why should we turn around then and acquiesce to this because the money is first and then we figure out something to do with it after. I think it's an asinine way to do public business."

The motion was put by the Chair and Roll Call vote having been ordered, was carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Noes, 3 (Abercrombie, Anderson and Kawasaki).

MATTER DEFERRED FROM EARLIER ON THE CALENDAR

Conference Committee Report No. 60
(H.B. No. 241, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Yamasaki moved that Conf.

Com. Rep. No. 60 be adopted and H.B. No. 241, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Abercrombie.

Senator Cayetano then rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, it is with great regret that I rise to speak against this bill. The purpose of this bill as outlined in the committee report is to and I quote, 'to provide financial relief to all taxpayers to the extent that the sum total of credits will approximate the state's revenues from the excise tax on food and drugs.'

"This section of the law, Mr. President, started back in 1965 and was meant to reimburse certain segments of our community for the amounts of money that they paid in excise tax on food and drugs. Although this purpose is quite laudable, I think the bill is a bit misleading.

"The committee report, in my opinion, gives lip service to the problems of low and middle income persons. It does relatively little to provide real relief.

"I read in the newspaper where this bill is being categorized as a Robin Hood bill. This is not a Robin Hood bill which takes from the rich and gives to the deserving poor. If you want to use Robin Hood, actually Robin Hood in this case is stealing from Little John and the Friar.

"Actually, this bill discriminates against low income families. As an example, a single person with an income of just under $5,000 will receive $189 as an excise tax credit to offset the excise tax on food and drugs. That very same person in actuality or in reality would have paid less than $50 in excise tax on food and drugs; therefore, he would receive almost four times more, or $189.

"This bill if passed and enacted into law would have some curious and, I think, not intended results. This bill would give welfare recipients, prisoners, according to Mr. Freitas, and other non-working, free spirits who have no income a maximum of $289 apiece. This means, for example...and I don't mean to pick on welfare recipients but they would be an example of a party without any taxable income...a welfare recipient with 10 children would be entitled to $1,890. Mr. President, there is no way a family of that size could ever hope to consume enough food which would generate that kind of excise tax amount. What I'm trying to say is that there seems to be no correlation or no reasonable relationship between the tax credit schedule here and the amount of food and drugs consumed by the different families.

"Let's take another example; let's take some working people. A low income family of four, and this is taken from the Bureau of Labor statistics, with an adjusted gross income of about $16,500 presently pays about $45 per person in excise tax on food and drugs. Now, under this bill this low income family will be entitled to $32 per person. It doesn't make sense to me because a single person with a per capita income of about $5,000 gets $189 in excise tax credit.

"Let's take other examples. Our state laws do not consider pension income as taxable income; therefore, if this bill passes we'll find, for example, that retired admirals, legislators, judges, university presidents, deans, etc. with pension incomes of $20,000 and $30,000 will be eligible for the $189 tax credit. These people who have no taxable income and their spouses are over 65 years in age will receive double credit, $378 per person or a total of $756. Again, transposing this to consumption of food, in order to justify this kind of tax credit, this elderly couple will have to spend $18,900 for food. The average consumption, from information I get, per person for food yearly is about $2,000. Again, you see, there's no reasonable relationship.

"If we really want a negative income tax, and that seems to be the approach in this bill, I think we should sit down and design one properly. We shouldn't hide it under the guise of an excise tax credit that is supposed to make up for the tax on food and drugs.

"This tax bill actually will refund more than excise taxes paid on the entire income of many of the specific families mentioned. This bill, as I said earlier, will penalize working people."

At this time, the Chair requested that Senator Cayetano, if there be no objections, limit his remarks to allow the Chair sufficient time for adjournment proceedings.

Senator Cayetano agreed to conclude his remarks and stated:

"Finally, Mr. President, this bill will cause a $41.5 million loss in revenues each year and this would result in the state collecting about $20 million less in revenues than the expenditure limit in fiscal '82. What I'm saying is that on surface this seems like a good bill, but, upon inspection, it really is a very poorly planned one."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, and Conf. Com. Rep. No. 60 was adopted and H.B. No. 241, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE EXCISE TAX CREDIT," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 16. Noes, 9 (Abercrombie, Ajifu, Cayetano, Cobb, George, Henderson, Kawasaki, Kobayashi and Soares).

The President, then addressed the members of the Senate as follows:

"Members of the Senate, if there be no objections, because of the limited time, closing remarks of the Chair will be inserted into the record.

"At this time, very quickly, I would like to take this opportunity to thank all the members of the Senate for their hard work, their staff members who have contributed immensely to the work product and, in particular, I would like to thank the minority Democrats, Senators Toyofuku, O'Connor, Holt, Machida, Mizuguchi, Ushijima and Campbell, for the manner in which they conducted themselves on the floor in not trying to be obstructionists in the operation of the Senate. The Chair appreciates that very much."

A message from the Governor (Gov. Msg. No. 341), returning Senate Bill No. 646 without his approval, together with his statement of objections relating to the measure which reads as follows:

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU, HAWAII

April 29, 1981

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 646

Honorable Members
Eleventh Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith Senate Bill No. 646 entitled, 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Residential Group Living.'

The purpose of this bill is to permit group living in areas zoned for residential use. Under the provisions of the bill, no more than a total of seven unrelated adults may reside together on any real property zoned for residential use. Residential group living will be allowed provided the facility is licensed as such and meets applicable licensing requirements.

While this Administration is not opposed to the concept of group living in residential areas, this bill lacks specific definitions, licensing criteria, specific target group, designated licensing agency and a clear process for implementation. It is unclear as to whether the provisions apply to existing types of licensed group living facilities, or is intended to apply to a facility distinct from the existing facilities. If it is intended that the bill apply to existing facilities, then existing statutes providing for certain types of group living will be superseded by this bill. As a direct result, this bill will have the effect of increasing the number of residents allowed in adult care homes and boarding homes and decreasing the number allowed in independent living facilities, necessitating revisions to the licensing requirements for these facilities. If it is intended to address group living facilities distinct from existing facilities, then licensing criteria and the designation of the state agency responsible for licensing should be specified before the bill is enacted. In addition, the lack of a specifically defined target group raises a number of questions about the public purpose to be served by this bill and the possible ramifications this measure may have upon local zoning ordinances.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 646 without my approval as provided by Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

Respectfully submitted,

/s/ George R. Ariyoshi

GEORGE R. ARIYOSHI

was placed on file.

Remarks of Senate President Richard S.H. Wong on the closing of the Eleventh Legislature, Regular Session of 1981, as follows:

"Members of the Senate, at this time and with your indulgence, I would like to say a few words.

"The work of this 1981 Legislature is over. I think we've had a most productive session. You are to be commended for all the long hours and hard work that you've put in over the last three months. Thank you all.

"I think we can be excused for a little pardonable pride in the results of our labors this year.

"These include:

- Keeping state spending - in the budget and related bills - within the constitutionally mandated general fund expenditure ceiling for the coming fiscal biennium. This, despite strong pressures to exceed the ceiling. I think this speaks well of our sense of fiscal prudence and restraint.

- Providing a most comprehensive tax relief package for the people of Hawaii. This package includes a $100 one-time tax credit per personal exemption, a quadrupling of the general excise tax credit program, expanded renters and child care tax credits, as well as various tax incentive bills to private enterprises to help stimulate the economy. The tax relief package totals some $130 million.

- Addressing the problem of crime and violence in our community with a full package of legislation including measures to strengthen controls on the ownership of guns, tighten the laws on rape and pornography, control violence and vandalism in our schools.

- Providing additional funds for the highly successful Hula Mae Program; regulating time sharing sales practices to protect consumers.

"This is only a brief highlight, the list goes on, numerous worthwhile pieces of legislation have been developed and passed this year.

"Despite some delays and a slow start at the beginning of the session, I think we in the Senate -- working together with our House colleagues -- have finished with a creditable package. This is in large measure a result of the hard work of all the Senate chairmen and committee members, Democrats and Republicans alike. I would also like to acknowledge the cooperation, contributions and constructive criticisms of the minority faction of the Democrats. Every member of the Senate made a positive contribution.

"I would be remiss if I did not recognize and thank the Senate staff for all their hard work to make us senators look good. Usually we can manage to look bad on our own.

"It has been a privilege for me to serve as your president this session. You have my respect and Aloha. I look forward to working with you again next year."

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith House Bill No. 432, entitled: 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Public Lands.'

The purpose of this bill is to amend Section 171-64, Hawaii Revised Statutes, by adding the word 'sex' to the list of prohibitions against discrimination by any person or activity where public land is involved.

Although the purpose of this bill is not objectionable, this bill does address the same subject matter covered in House Bill No. 760, which was also enacted by the 1981 legislative session.

In House Bill No. 760, Section 171-64, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is addressed more comprehensively as it is part of an overall review and revision of Chapter 171, Hawaii Revised Statutes, proposed by the Department of Land and Natural Resources.

For the foregoing reason, I am returning House Bill No. 432 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 467

Honorable Members
Eleventh Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith House Bill No. 467, entitled, 'A Bill for an Act Relating to the Fish and Wildlife Advisory Committees.'

The purpose of this bill is to amend Section 187-1.3, Hawaii Revised Statutes, to extend the term of office of those members, appointed to the Fish and Wildlife Advisory Committees, from two years to four years. Secondly, this bill expands the Committees' advisory role to that of making recommendations to all divisions within the Department of Land and Natural Resources, instead of solely to the Division of Fish and Game.

Although the purposes of this bill are not objectionable, this bill does address the same subject matter covered in Senate Bill No. 508, which was also enacted by the legislature during the 1981 legislative session.

In Senate Bill No. 508, Section 187-1.3, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is addressed more specifically and comprehensively, as the revisions were part of an overall review and revision of Title 12 laws of the Hawaii Revised Statutes, proposed by the Department of Land and Natural Resources. Further, the language of House Bill No. 467 varies from Senate Bill No. 508; consequently, for ease in administration, the language contained in Senate Bill No. 508 is preferred.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 467 without my approval.

Gov. Msg. No. 359 returning Senate Bill No. 113 without his approval, together with his statement of objections relating to the measure which reads as follows:

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS

HONOLULU, HAWAII

June 10, 1981

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO
SENATE BILL NO. 113

Honorable Members
Eleventh Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 113, entitled, 'A Bill for an Act Relating to the Custody and Treatment of Prisoners.'

The purpose of this bill is to amend Chapter 706, H.R.S., by adding a new section which would do two separate things. Subsection (1) would eliminate a criminal court's jurisdiction after sentencing, except for habeas corpus matters, appeals, and correcting illegal sentences. Subsection (2) would allow the Director of Social Services and Housing complete discretion as to programs for and treatment of convicted prison inmates and would specifically allow those prisoners with mandatory minimum sentences to be eligible for furlough programs before the expiration of their minimum terms.

I have no objection to subsection (2), which would not in any event affect the present state of the law, for present sentencing laws do not limit the programmatic discretion of the Department of Social Services and Housing.

Subsection (1), on the other hand, would have considerable impact on present post-conviction law, and I believe that the proposed changes make the bill objectionable for both policy and constitutional reasons.

S.B. No. 113 would eliminate much of the substance of Rules 35 and 40, Hawaii Rules of Penal Procedure, pertaining to corrections and reduction of sentence and post-conviction remedies. These rules were promulgated by the Supreme Court to streamline and simplify post-conviction proceedings. I note that none of the committee reports on this bill discusses the possible consequences to the Rules of Penal Procedure, and the bill appears to have a much greater policy effect on post-conviction court procedures than the legislature contemplated. Passage of this bill into law would cause much confusion in this area.

In addition, it appears likely that S.B. No. 113 would conflict with the due process provisions of both the United States and Hawaii Constitutions in that it unduly restricts the ways in which a criminal defendant can test his conviction and denies access to the courts regarding conditions of confinement. For example, Rule 40 allows a prisoner to raise questions about the conditions of his confinement in terms of constitutional provisions guaranteeing protection against cruel and unusual punishment. This issue is not properly raised on appeal or by habeas corpus, nor would it flow from an illegal sentence. S.B. No. 113 would deny a court jurisdiction over such a question, but recent U.S. Supreme Court decisions make it clear that an inmate has a right under the Due Process clause to raise such claims. Similarly, Rule 40 allows a prisoner to challenge the judgment of conviction on grounds of newly discovered evidence. S.B. No. 113 would eliminate this possibility, and I believe that such restriction would also be a denial of due process.

It is also probable that the bill could raise separation of powers issues, for Article VI, Section 7 of the Hawaii Constitution gives the Supreme Court the power to promulgate rules relating to procedure and appeals.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning S.B. No. 113 without my approval.

Respectfully,

/s/ George R. Ariyoshi

Honorable Members

State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 979, entitled, 'A Bill For an Act Relating to the Hawaii Youth Correctional Facilities.'

The purpose of this bill is to amend Chapter 352, H.R.S., to provide for the termination of the Director of Social Services and Housing's authority to supervise committed minors once they have been waived to and convicted by an adult criminal court for any subsequent offense. Although I have no objection to the purpose or form of Senate Bill No. 979, it appears that the bill is virtually identical to House Bill No. 1126, which I propose to sign.

Because of this duplication, I am returning Senate Bill No. 979 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO

Honorable Members
Eleventh Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith House Bill No. 630, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to the Judiciary.'

The purpose of this bill is to add one additional judge to the Third Circuit Court of the State of Hawaii beginning on July 1, 1981. Presently there are two judges serving this circuit.

The Administration notes that Senate Bill No. 1096, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Circuit Courts', would accomplish the identical purpose and effectuate the identical statutory language changes as would House Bill No. 630. In my opinion, the approval of both bills would be redundant and unnecessary.

For the foregoing reason, I am returning House Bill No. 630 without my approval, as provided by Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 1122

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith without my approval House Bill No. 1122, entitled, 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Reports by Agencies Receiving Special Moneys.'

House Bill No. 1122 extends the quarterly accounting report requirement of Hawaii Revised Statutes, Section 40-81 specifically to the Office of Hawaiian Affairs and the Hawaii Housing Authority.

However, the Legislature has also passed Senate Bill No. 656 which is substantially the same as House Bill No. 1122. Since I have already signed Senate Bill No. 656 into law, House Bill No. 1122 is not necessary and approval thereof would serve no useful purpose.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 1239

Honorable Members
Eleventh Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii,
I am returning herewith House Bill No.
1239, entitled, 'A Bill for an Act Relating to State Bonds.'

The purpose of this bill is to authorize the issuance of general obligation bonds to finance projects authorized in House Bill No. 1, relating to the State Budget, and House Bill No. 2, relating to the Judiciary Budget.

However, the amount of general obligation bonds authorized differs from the amount of appropriations authorized for capital projects. The legislature now proposes to re-enact the provisions of House Bill No. 1239 to assure that the bond authorization will equal the amount of appropriations authorized for capital projects. The passage of the new bill authorizing the issuance of general obligation bonds will render House Bill No. 1239 unnecessary. Moreover, the existence of two separate bills authorizing the issuance of general obligation bonds for the same projects would only lead to confusion.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 1239 without my approval, as provided by Section
16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

Respectfully,

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

June 19, 1981

Honorable Members
Eleventh State Legislature

I have been advised by the Attorney General of the State of Hawaii that H. B. No. 1, Relating to the State Budget, which was passed by the Legislature during the 1981 legislative session may be constitutionally defective, and that other appropriation measures passed during the 1981 legislative session may also be constitutionally suspect. Because of the questionable validity of such bills, I am returning the appropriation measures without my approval by separate transmittal. Please note that in addition to the bills I am returning without my approval, there are two appropriation measures which have already been signed into law. These bills are H. B. H.B. No. 1716, Relating to the Public Employees Health Fund;

H.B. No. 1879, Relating to State Officers and Employees Excluded from Collective Bargaining and Making Appropriations and Other Adjustments;

S.B. No. 1472, Relating to Medical Claim Conciliation Panels; and

S.B. No. 1507, Relating to Counsel and Other Services for Indigent Defendants in Criminal and Related Cases.

The Attorney General of the State of Hawaii has rendered an opinion that House Bill No. 1, relating to the State Budget, may be constitutionally defective and may not have passed the legislature. If House Bill No. 1 did not pass the legislature, it could not have been transmitted to the Governor. Without the transmittal of House Bill No. 1 to the Governor, the passage of the foregoing appropriation bills is constitutionally questionable under Article VII, Section 9 of the State Constitution.

I have no objection to the bills listed above, but I believe that the constitutional defect should be corrected to avoid any judicial contest of said bills. Moreover, the possible existence of duplicate bills, upon correction of the constitutional defect, would only lead to confusion.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning said bills without my approval, as provided by Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith Senate Bill No. 253, entitled, 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Regulation of Employment

Agencies.¹

The purpose of this bill is to strengthen the regulation and professionalism of commercial employment agencies.

While this Administration is not opposed to the concept of the regulation of employment agencies, this bill would create undue hardship for a certain segment of the employment agency industry. Item 6 of §373-11.5 provides in effect that an employment agency shall not be entitled to a service fee until the applicant is employed by an employer. This provision would have an adverse impact upon those agencies which specialize in executive recruitment because they rely upon the retainers paid to them by employers to cover their expenses while they conduct their searches.

For the foregoing reason, I am returning Senate Bill No. 253 without my approval as provided by Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith House Bill No. 754, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Commercial Fish Catch Reports.'

The purpose of this bill is to amend Section 189-3, Hawaii Revised Statutes, to protect trade secrets and other confidential information of individual licensed commercial fishers who are required to submit information to the Department of Land and Natural Resources through the 'monthly fish catch reports.' Secondly, this bill is in consonance with existing Federal law on the matter and will facilitate entry into cooperative arrangements for the gathering of commercial fish catch information between the State of Hawaii and the Federal government.

Although the purposes of this bill are not objectionable, this bill does address the same subject matter covered in Senate Bill No. 508, which was also enacted by the legislature during the 1981 session.

In Senate Bill No. 508, Section 189-3, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is addressed more specifically and comprehensively, as the revisions were part of an overall review and revision of Title 12 laws of the Hawaii Revised Statutes, proposed by the Department of Land and Natural Resources.

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1880, entitled

'A Bill for an Act Relating to Public Schools.'

One of the purposes of this bill is to provide that special fees and charges collected from public school students for co-curricular activities be deposited into insured checking and savings accounts by schools and expended by them under such rules as the department of education may prescribe.

However, all funds of a state agency, whose records are maintained by employees of the State, should be deposited into a fund of the State Treasury. This would allow the close monitoring of the funds by providing a more uniform coding of transactions and by assuring the proper classification of accounting entries. This would also allow the assessment for central services expenses and departmental administrative expenses, such as costs for the maintenance of the funds and for the periodic audits by the department of accounting and general services.

as follows:

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU, HAWAII

June 22, 1981

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO
SENATE BILL NO. 1324

Honorable Members
Eleventh Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article
III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith Senate Bill No. 1324, entitled, 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Government Organization and Administration.'

The purpose of this bill is to have counties establish procedures for notifying applicants of the completeness or incompleteness of applications submitted for amendment to a county general plan, approval of a development plan, change in zoning, special management area permit, and other permits for land development projects within the county. Such notification of completeness or incompleteness must be issued within thirty days after the filing of an application. In the event the notice indicates incompleteness, the notice must also indicate the specific requirements necessary to complete the application.

Although the concept of establishing a time limit for advising applicants as to completeness of any application is desirable, the proposed legislation lacks specific definitions, shifts the burden for preparation of an adequately prepared application from the applicant to the county, imposes unrealistic time constraints, results in significant financial and administrative problems for the county, and possibly poses an unnecessary intrusion upon traditional principles of home rule. Further, the scope of the bill is unclear. While it purports to add a new section related to zoning, neither the bill's purpose clause nor the language of the provision seems limited to matters directly involving zoning. In addition to the nonzoning implementation tools, such as general and development plan amendments, for example, the bill refers to 'other permits for land development projects' which could be interpreted as including building permits and subdivision approvals.

Despite differing methods of county implementation, the bill fails to take into account the reasonableness of the thirty-day compliance requirement.
For example, the City and County of Honolulu is preparing new procedures for processing amendments to the General Plan and Development Plans.
Such amendments will be filed at one time during a particular calendar year.
In this regard, the thirty-day compliance requirement is unrealistic, since all amendments would be reviewed at one point in time, rather than spread out over a given calendar year. Moreover, the bill overlooks the complexity of the review process, as there are inputs by other agencies as they review the impact of the proposed amendment which lengthen processing time.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 1324 without my approval, as provided by Section
16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

Gov. Msg. No. 378 transmitting his statement of objections to House Bill No. 241 which he has returned to the House without his approval and which reads as follows:

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU, HAWAII

June 22, 1981

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 241

Honorable Members
Eleventh Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to section 16, Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 241, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating To The Excise Tax Credit.'

The primary purpose of this bill is to amend the existing excise tax credit schedule by (1) increasing the amounts of credits, (2) making the credits available to all taxpayers, and (3) deleting the requirement of physical presence in the State for more than nine months of the year.

When the provision relating to the excise tax credit was originally enacted, it was intended to provide relief to low income taxpayers to offset the increase in the excise tax rate from 3-1/2% to 4%. Moreover, to qualify for the credit, the measure required that the taxpayer or dependent reside in the State for more than nine months of the year. To further ease the tax burden on senior citizens, the Legislature in 1976 authorized double credits to taxpayers who attained age 65 or older.

House Bill No. 241 proposes to return to taxpayers of this State the sum total of revenues collected from the general excise tax levied on food and drugs. In so doing, the proposal would almost quadruple the amount of credits to be granted to taxpayers with a disproportionate amount of taxes being returned to those in the lower income group, and to the elderly. For example, using $20,635 as the middle income in Hawaii for a family of four, the basic data on costs per person per year is as follows: $1,365 for food; $25 for drugs (under 65 years old); $90 for drugs (over 65 years old). Based on the above data, a husband in a maintenance position and wife in a clerical position (both under 65 years) with 2 dependent children, with an adjusted gross income of $20,000, would receive a tax credit of $88, as compared to general excise taxes paid in the sum of $222, resulting in an excess of taxes paid over credits received equal to $134. On the other hand, an unmarried individual (over 65 years) with the same adjusted gross income of $20,000 from pensions would be entitled to receive $378 in tax credits, as compared to excise taxes paid in the sum of $58, resulting in an excess of credits over excise taxes paid equal to $320. The foregoing examples clearly illustrate that this bill does not provide for the equitable refund of the general excise tax on food and drugs. Furthermore, the elimination of the nine-month residency requirement will result in the allowance of the credit to those who reside out of the State and who, as a result, have not paid any tax on food and drugs.

While I deeply sympathize with the objectives of the proposal to provide our citizens with some form of tax relief, it is my opinion that House Bill No. 241 will not serve the best interests of the people of this State. In view thereof, it is my desire that the legislature in some future session reconsider this proposal to provide tax relief to our citizens but ensuring a fair and equitable distribution of revenues derived from the excise tax on food and drugs.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 241 without my approval.

Respectfully,

Gov. Msg. No. 379 transmitting his statement of objections to House Bill No. 1428 which he has returned to the House without his approval and which reads as follows:

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU, HAWAII

June 22, 1981

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 1428

Honorable Members
Eleventh Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1428, entitled, 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Pre-Judgment Interest.'

The purpose of this bill is to provide for pre-judgment interest at the rate of ten percent (10%) from the date of accrual of the cause of action to the date of satisfaction of the judgment.

I have no objection to that part of the bill which raises the rate of interest on any judgment from 8 to 10 percent a year. However, the bill appears to mandate that pre-judgment interest be allowed in all cases, inasmuch as the bill states that pre-judgment interest 'shall' be allowed.

The mandatory nature of this bill would seem to require pre-judgment interest on special damages, such as medical bills, even in those cases when the claimant has not incurred such a loss. An example would be where no fault benefits were paid for the medical bills. Further, such interest is to be computed, not from the date the claimant first became responsible for it, but from the date of the accrual of the cause of action. This fact is clear evidence that the effect of the bill is punitive rather than compensatory in nature. Thus, it would appear to conflict with the Hawaii Supreme Court decision in Lucas v. Liggett & Meyers Tobacco Company, 51 Haw. 346 (1969) which holds that interest is compensatory in nature, not punitive.

In addition, to provide for mandatory pre-judgment interest, irrespective of its compensatory character, is abrasive to our system of justice which allows legitimate disputes to be litigated without punitive measures being taken against the non-prevailing party. An example of such a policy is that in the absence of the statute or contract provision allowing it, attorney's fees will not be allowed to the prevailing party under the so-called American rule. The purposes behind such a rule are salutary and well established, including protecting the parties from undue coercion and opening our courts to those claimants who otherwise may not be able to bear the risk of such fees being awarded against them.

In addition, it appears that the language of the bill is vague and ambiguous. The bill provides that 'pre-judgment interest shall be allowed on only that portion of the judgment which is attainable to damages which are actually incurred, . . .'. It is unclear whether the bill provides that interest be paid on general damages, such as pain and suffering and mental anguish, or only special damages, such as medical bills, repair bills, etc. And it is further unclear when the damages are to be considered 'actually incurred'?

The bill is also inconsistent with §636-16, H.R.S., to the extent that it requires prejudgment interest to be 'computed from the date the cause of action accrued.' Section 636-16, H.R.S., permits the court to determine the date from which prejudgment interest should be computed. Finally, the amendment is inconsistent with §636-16, H.R.S., in that it permits prejudgment interest 'on only that portion of the judgment which is attributable to damages which are actually incurred.' Whatever is meant by 'damages which are actually incurred,' it is clear that it is something less than the entire judgment. However, §636-16, H.R.S., permits prejudgment interest on the entire judgment.

I believe that the present statute being amended by this bill, as interpreted by the Hawaii Supreme Court in Lucas v. Liggett & Meyers Tobacco Company, supra, permits compensatory prejudgment interest and is adequate in its present form. At any rate, it appears preferable to House Bill No. 1428 because of its punitive effect and vague and ambiguous language.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 1428 without my approval.

Respectfully,

/s/ George R. Ariyoshi

GEORGE R. ARIYOSHI
Governor of Hawaii"

which motions shall have precedence in the order named.

The first two motions shall be decided without debate and shall be put as soon as made.

When any of the motions shall be decided in the negative, they shall not be revived the same day relative to the main question under discussion. If all are negative as aforesaid, the only remaining question shall be as to the adoption of the bill, resolution or other main question.

Rule 62. Matters Postponed Indefinitely

When a question is postponed indefinitely, the same shall not be acted upon again during the session in which it was introduced.

Rule 63. Motion for Previous Question

(3) When a bill or resolution or other matter upon which a vote has been taken shall have gone out of the possession of the Senate, and shall have been transmitted to the House of Representatives, a motion to reconsider shall be deemed to include a request to the House to return the same. If not complied with by the House, then the vote on the motion to reconsider shall be set aside. If such motion shall pass, the Clerk shall promptly communicate to the House the request for return of the matter to be reconsidered.

- (2) Whenever the Senate is ready to vote on any question, the President shall rise, and after stating the question, shall request all those in favor of the affirmative of the question to vote "Aye." The President shall then call upon all voting in the negative of the question to vote "No." The President shall then announce the result to the Senate.
- (3) If any member shall doubt the result, as announced, the President shall again state the question and call upon the members to vote by rising in their places, and they shall remain standing until counted, and the result shall be again announced.
- (4) The method of voting by ballot shall be as customary. The President shall appoint one or more tellers, or direct the Messengers to collect the ballots, which shall be counted by the Clerk, and the results announced by the President. The Senate may,

The Clerk shall record each vote and such record shall become a part of the Journal of the Senate. The President shall announce the results as above set forth.

(6) With the unanimous consent of the Senate, the President may direct the Clerk to record an "Aye" vote for each member of the Senate. If there is no objection, the Clerk shall so record the vote. If there is objection, the President shall ask for the names of the members voting "No" and order the Clerk to record no votes for them.

Rule 69. Voting: Rights of Members

(1) No member shall, on any account, refrain from voting unless excused by the President. A member may vote "Kanalua" the first time the member's name is called by the Clerk on any vote, but if the member votes "Kanalua" on the next call of the member's name, the member's vote shall be recorded as "Aye."

(2) The President may excuse a member who has a monetary interest in the question, or whose right to a seat in the Senate will be affected by the question, or whose official conduct is involved in the question. If a member thinks there may be a personal interest in the question, the member shall rise and disclose the interest to the President. The President then shall rule whether the member has a conflict of interest. If so, the member shall be excused from voting.

(3) Whenever the Ayes and Noes are called, no one, without unanimous consent, shall be permitted to explain a vote.
