At this time, Senator Levin rose to speak on a point of personal privilege as follows:

"Mr. President, this morning's Advertiser lead story was entitled 'The last days of Kalapana.' Unfortunately, I think that's an accurate headline and we truly are experiencing a human tragedy in the Puna area on the Big Island.

"I want to rise to thank Senator Yamasaki, his Ways and Means staff, and all the members of the budget conference. Because of their sensitivity and their compassion, they have been able to find some funds to try to start dealing with this terrible tragedy that is occurring. I know that the people in this community who are experiencing this unfortunate situation are going to be very grateful, indeed, for this effort on their behalf. Thank you."

Senator Cobb also rose to speak on a point of personal privilege and said:

"Mr. President, two items. First of all, I understand a copy of a rebuttal to a letter I wrote, dated April 23rd, on the subject of proposed rapid transit funding was delivered to Senators today. Unfortunately, the author of that particular letter didn't bother delivering a copy to my office, so if any Senator has an extra copy or doesn't have time to read it we'd certainly like to request it because a response will be forthcoming.

"Second, Mr. President, I note in this morning's Honolulu Advertiser an article with the title 'Waihee eases rail-tax pain.' It's a banner headline, and contained in that story were a number of statements which I would like to address briefly on the floor today.

"First of all, I am personally gratified the governor now admits that the excise tax is regressive. That's a major step. But, I note there were no specific figures or details, either in the story or in the proposal by our chief executive. He did say that it was 'a wash,' in terms of the cost, if the increased tax credit had come forward. My point is, Mr. President, it is simply not 'a wash' and I would like to detail why.

"It is not an offset but rather an increase in the tax burden for small businesses, who buy from other business, and who sell. There is an increase in the excise tax for all those who sell on commission, particularly those who cannot pass on the increase in the tax in their selling price. And, Mr. President, there is an increase for those taxpayers who cannot figure out how to claim the tax credit on a very complicated tax form, which is a substantial number of people. In addition, Mr. President, this would result in a bigger loss of the daily disposable income available to each taxpayer, many of whom are living on the borderline of poverty right now.

"Unfortunately, to date, there has been no serious consideration of other alternatives. We keep hearing words to the effect that we should increase the excise tax, increase the tax credit. In that way, the tourist would end up paying more of the freight.

"Mr. President, I think we ought to be a bit more direct. If we want to increase the tax burden on tourists, then we should go about increasing the tourist tax from 9 percent to 10 percent or whatever it takes to fund the transit system, if that's the goal.

"In addition, Mr. President, the city's EIS has acknowledged that this proposed tax increase is not temporary; it is permanent. They use the word 'perpetual' and I never cease to admire government bureaucrats and other who can dream up fancy words such as, 'revenue adjustment for a tax increase' or 'perpetual' for what is permanent. This is going to be a permanent tax increase.

"Frankly, Mr. President, I expected more in a way of a white knight on a white horse coming forward. I was not surprised with the Advertiser editorial that said the top need is to save the transit tax. But I agree with what the Speaker said, Mr. President, 'A tax increase is a tax, is a tax,' just like 'a rose by any other color is a rose, is a rose.' Thank you."

Senator Koki, also on a point of personal, rose to state:

"Mr. President, a survey shows that voters favor land use initiative. I believe they favor initiative because they do not trust the planning and approval process that we have. The Board of Land and Natural Resources and Roger Evans, administrator of conservation and environmental affairs is a good case in point of this mistrust of our planning and approval process. I'm speaking of a residential development on Mt. Olomana requested by Mr. and Mrs. Fazendin.

"Please allow me to acquaint you with the history of this case.

"On March 20, 1987, the Fazendin's applied to develop a residential dwelling upon conservation land on Mt. Olomana. July 10 of 1987, the meeting of the Board of Land and Natural Resources gave conditional approval. It stated that 'any construction, alteration, moving, demolition and repair of any building or other improvements of land within the conservation district authorized by the board shall be subject to the building and grading codes of the respective counties provided thereof prior to the commencement of any construction. Four copies of each of the final location map, plans, specifications shall be submitted to the chairperson.'

"One year goes by, he does not submit any further plans so that they may get a closer look at it, and, so, he is sent a letter stating that the approval is now null and void.

"On October 11, 1988, the Fazendin's again apply for residential development on that conservation use property. On March 14 of 1989, a letter was sent out by the Department of Land and Natural Resources to Mr. Fazendin. It says, 'We wish to inform you that your conservation district use application for single-family residential use and for after-the-fact approval of an existing driveway, extensive clearing, grading and excavation work at Kailua was approved on February 14, 1989, subject to the following ....'

"Mr. President, during the interim the owners, without approval or permit, built a 350-foot driveway, a large concrete slab for a garage, with extensive grading and clearing and excavation work, and put in utilities.

"It says regarding the violations, 'Unless landscaping and construction plans for existing driveway, utilities, clearing and grading for the proposed improvements are approved by this board at its next Oahu meeting, subsequent to applicant's submittal of such plans, the applicant shall dismantle and remove the existing driveway above the 250-foot elevation such that the property is both returned to its original state and landscaped to prevent further erosion, according to a grading, landscaping and construction plan to be submitted to the department for approval within 60 days. The applicant shall restore and supplement the natural grade destroyed at the ridge line of the property, according to a grading line to be submitted within 90 days. Applicant shall restore and supplement the natural vegetation destroyed at the ridge line of the property, according to a landscaping plan to be submitted within 90 days. The presently existing upper driveway and garage building pad shall be demolished and removed from the property. A single family dwelling for which authorization is hereby given is to be located so that the highest part of the roof is below the crest of the ridge line between the two properties.'

"On April 28, 1989, they sent another letter to Mr. Fazendin. 'We are writing to acknowledge receiving certain plans and other materials. Thank you for your cooperation. However, the materials you have submitted are not yet sufficient to comply with the terms and conditions of your conservation district use application.' (He still hasn't corrected the driveway problem.) 'Unless landscaping and construction plans are approved by this board, you shall dismantle the existing driveway above the 250-foot elevation. The conservation district use application that you submitted which the board approved specified a combination of concrete slab and modified pier and post foundation.' (In other words, a pole house type of concept rather than a concrete slab.)

"The plans you submitted show no sign of the pier and post foundation. The board approved a modified pier and post foundation as you proposed, subject to the final plan review. Your conformance to that pier and post concept and to our board approval is especially important, given the high slope characteristics and unstable soil conditions in the subject area and given the exceptionally high weight characteristics of the building described in the plan you submitted.' (In other words, 2-foot thick walls, reinforced concrete throughout, slab on grade foundation, etc.)

"Soils are described by the United States Department of Agriculture Soil Conservation Service 'as very sticky and very plastic with a high-shrink-swell potential. Such soils are characterized as having low sheer strength and are said to have the following characteristics: high-shrink-swell potential, low sheer strength, slope as much as 70 percent, susceptible to sliding where slopes are more than 15 percent.' The proposed site is much more than 15 percent.

"You are especially reminded in your statement that the exteriors will be finished in the natural color so as to blend with the environment. We respectfully request your cooperation with both the letter of the law and the spirit of the law."

"Mr. President, on March 26, 1989, the board met to review the plans that he had submitted and they noted that the conservation district use application which he submitted show no sign of the pier and post foundation. As stated in the application, '... such a pier and post foundation or a pole house would minimize disturbance of natural ground contours. Your conformance to that pier and post concept and to our board approval is especially important given the high slope characteristic and unstable soil conditions.'

"They go on and reiterate throughout the hearing about the pier and post concept. The plans fail to place the proposed house so that the highest point of the roof is below the crest of the ridge line. Mr. President, it's very important on Mt. Olomana at this ridge line that the proposed location of the dwelling would make it a part of the skyline. It would protrude beyond the ridge, and so they are telling him that the roof can be no higher than the ridge line. 'Staffers inspected the site personally and notes the existence of attractive alternatives available.' In other words, they're telling him to move the house.

"The decision on the May 26, 1989 meeting unanimously voted to reject this proposed development. Mr. Fazendin then received a letter stating that his request has been disapproved specifically on the following items: the site of the house lot; the style and three-story nature of the house. The house is going to be three stories high, 35 feet in height, made of 2-foot thick walls of concrete and a stucco finish, not-at-all conforming to the spirit and intent of the law.

"The board deferred action on requiring you to remove the existing driveway from the 250-foot elevation. You are reminded that you need to comply with the above conditions within 90 days. Applicant shall restore and supplement the natural grade destroyed at the ridge line of the property' where he has illegally started excavation. 'Applicant shall restore and supplement the natural vegetation destroyed at the ridge line of the property. ... You are reminded that the 90 days has expired and the landscaping plan you submitted was rejected along with other plans submitted, putting you in technical violation of these conditions.' Fines can be up to $500 a day.

"The single family dwelling for which authorization hereby is given is to be located so that the highest point of the roof is below the crest of the ridge line ... That was June 23, 1989. In between that time, he goes and reapplies again with essentially the same plans that were rejected a year ago. The staff report indicates that the original plans were rejected by the board at the meeting on May 26, 1989. 'The applicant's current request is for the board to review and approve the "Landscape Development Plan" submitted on January 22, 1990,' showing the original site for the residential use, and his original plans, rejected by the board on May 26, 1989.

"There is also indication that he has illegally graded into another piece of property that he does not own.

"The board approved a "modified pier and post foundation," as you proposed, subject to the final plan review. Your conformance to that pier and post concept, and to our Board approval, including the location of the house, is especially important given the high slope characteristics and unstable soil conditions in the subject area, and given the exceptionally high weight characteristics of the building described in the plans you submitted.' He's continuously submitting the same plans throughout even though it's being rejected.

"The plans submitted fail to place the proposed house so that the highest point of the roof is below the crest of the ridge line."

"Mr. President, the final conclusion of the staff report during this meeting is that 'the plans submitted do conflict with the objectives of the subzone and the plans are inconsistent with public health, safety and welfare of the public. Deadlines for compliance with board sanctions have passed as early May 25, 1989.' Therefore, the staff recommends the following: 'The Board denies this current request for plan approval. Enforcement of sanctions is to be turned over immediately to the Department of Attorney General.'

"Mr. President, that's the brief history of the project.

"In spite of the recommendations of Mr. Evans' staff that the board not only deny the request but enforce sanctions which were placed by the previous board decision to have Mr. Fazendin remove the illegal driveway from above the 250-foot elevation; remove the illegal garage pad poured right on the crest of the ridge line on Mt. Olomana; restore natural grade caused by illegal excavation of building site; and restore natural vegetation removed illegally by illegal grading and construction, Mr. Evans ignored the staff recommendation and proceeded to present testimony to the board that, in the words of community observers, seemed as if Mr. Evans was an agent for Mr. Fazendin rather than an agent of the state, whose board is charged with, in the words of the Attorney General, 'the authority and responsibility to ensure that all development within the conservation district is compatible with locality; that the natural beauty and open space shall be preserved or improved upon; and that all building shall harmonize with physical and environmental conditions.'

"The outcome, Mr. President, of the board decision, in spite of the staff recommendations, was to allow the house to be built on the proposed site which was rejected by the board a year ago. The board decision specifically denied the location because they wanted the roof line to be no higher than the crest of the ridge line. At the proposed site, the floor of the house will be at the crest of the ridge line so the roof will protrude above the ridge and be a part of the skyline.

"The board decision would allow a massive concrete structure 35 feet in height which was earlier rejected because it was conspicuous and obtrusive and run counter to the spirit of allowable structures in the conservation district.

"The board decision allowed a slab on grade foundation. In earlier discussions and recommendations, the board was insistent on a post and pier foundation because a slab on grade foundation required extensive excavation, and the severe slope and soil conditions with low shear strength would possibly present a dangerous, unstable soil condition.

"Allow an illegal driveway which has a slope of 25 percent with one run of 130 feet with a slope of 38 percent. Both slope figures are in excess of City and County allowable percent slope of 20 percent, or nearly double the allowable slope in some areas. Allow an illegal garage slab to remain but rejected plans for the proposed garage. The garage roof would be the highest point of the structure were it permitted to be built.

"I am willing to venture that after the home is built the owners will come back and apply for a garage because the slab is already there and it would be unreasonable to have a house but not a garage.

"Upon the decision of the board, Councilman Felix filed a contested hearing petition."

Senator Blair interjected:

"Point of parliamentary inquiry, Mr. President.

"Mr. President, when members rise on a point of personal privilege, is it a requirement that the subject of their remarks have some relationship to proceedings of the Senate?"

The Chair answered:

"No. The Chair has been very liberal in its interpretation of ...."

"Thank you, Mr. President.

"Upon the decision of the board, Councilman Felix filed a contested hearing petition. He did this within the 10-day requirement. However, a little known rule may be used to deny the hearing. The rule is that a verbal notice must be given on the day of the hearing. Mr. President, nearly a dozen community members were present to lodge a verbal protest.

"The amount of time allowed the Fazendins to correct violations and in the end not requiring them to comply seems hypocritical in contrast to deny a contested hearing on a technicality.

"Mr. President, an agency of the government should not be able to 'willy-nilly' interpret its own rules. They make a decision one year and the opposite the next. This case has been followed on television and the newspaper. There has been considerable community interest in this development. To seemingly violate their own rules and to ignore their own staff recommendations to reject the application, and to do the opposite by approving it is one of the reasons why the public does not trust our planning and approval process.

"Mr. President, we need to restore that trust. I urge you to direct the appropriate committee to see to it that Councilman Felix's contested hearing petition be heard and the recommendations of the staff planners be followed since they are the experts on whom the board depends to make their decisions.

"Mr. President, I also ask you to instruct the appropriate committee to look into the conduct and behavior of Mr. Roger Evans who presented testimony that was in contradiction to his staff's recommendations; that he acted, in the words of community observers, as an agent for the Fazendins rather than as the administrator of the Office of Conservation and Environmental Affairs; that he also appeared unfamiliar with his staff's report in his presentation to the Board of Land and Natural Resources when, in fact, he should have been very familiar with it; and that the action of the board be investigated. They were familiar with the project and its problems, given its long history, and they still made a decision that seems totally inappropriate, given the facts of the case and its prior decision to reject a similar building plan.

"Thank you."

At this time, Senator McMurdo introduced Councilman Neil Abercrombie, former member of the Senate and former congressman, who was seated in the gallery.

Senator Crozier rose to speak on a point of personal privilege as follows:

"Mr. President, I would like to also refer to the headlines of this morning's newspaper, 'Waihee eases rail-tax pain.' In the article, I quote: 'In an 11th-hour effort to make an excise tax increase more palatable to state lawmakers, Gov. John Waihee late yesterday proposed offsetting the increase with tax credits or other measures. ... Waihee said his proposed relief could be added to legislation for some $40 million in income tax relief he had proposed earlier, and is now before the Legislature. Waihee said all of those reforms, with the approval of the additional excise tax, could result in "a wash" -- no net increase in taxes, he said.'

"Mr. President, I applaud Governor Waihee for coming up with the proposal. I know where he got the proposal from, Mr. President. He got it from this very body. Many of us in this Senate chamber have been talking about if we have to have a general excise tax increase, we should use the personal income tax relief so that we could get as close as possible to revenue neutral as we can.

"I would like to quote a very astute senator who said on March 7th, the 26th session day, and I'll just read the part that's very important. That Senator said, 'If we increase this regressive tax, we can give back to the people the monies through the personal income tax, which is a progressive tax. That way it would become revenue neutral.'

"Mr. President, I'm that astute ... (Chair: 'I thought I was the guy.') No, that was me. (Laughter.)

"Mr. President, I talked with other Senators along the way, like Senator Kobayashi, and we talked quite a bit about finding ways to make this palatable to the people. This is the way it can happen.

"Right now the city needs $93 million in capital costs for the mass transit system. The excise tax of half percent from across-the-state would bring in $125 million in revenues. Mr. President, of that, $44 million will come from the residents and $81 million from other sources. If we can give the $44 million back to the residents, we still have $81 million from the military, the tourists, the construction industry, and what have you. We can make mass transit a reality.

"The people in my area want mass transit. The people in the Leeward side of the island and Mililani Town, because we have to use H-1 and it takes an hour and a half to get to town when, normally, it should only take around 35 minutes. We've put up with that for years and years, and as Kapolei, as West Loch and as many other developments coming in our area continue to grow, we are going to need mass transit.

"Some of my colleagues who represent other parts of the island may not have the same degree or passion for mass transit. I would suggest to them that they understand ... the students that will graduate from the different schools throughout this island, when it's their time to buy a home, they will be coming to live on the Leeward side of the island. They will be coming and they will be joining the traffic that we now have to fight and contend with. So, as they ponder the question, I would like for them to not look at today and tomorrow, but look ten years down the line when their constituents' children become the next generation that have to be in the traffic. We need mass transit.

"Mr. President, in 1983 through 1985, I worked in Waikiki and I was fortunate enough that I had to catch the bus. I had to. People would tell me when they see me on the bus, and I was a Representative, at the time, they'd say, 'Oh, Representative, I'm so impressed to see you riding on the bus. You're just like us guys. You wanna be one of us.' And I told them straight up, 'Look, I'm not here because I want to be here. This is all I can afford.' So, I'd be on the bus, and I'd come here then I'd be working down in Waikiki. I had to transfer at Aala Park and there would be mornings when when 8 or 9 busses coming out of Kalihi would pass us by because those busses were jam-packed with people living in Kalihi getting to Waikiki.

"There is a need right now in the inner city to create a mass transit system so that we can relieve the pressures.

"I applaud Governor Waihee for coming down at this point and time. We need his strength to send a message both to my colleagues in this house and the colleagues on the other side. It's important to understand that often those ideas that the governor eventually expounds starts here. The representatives of the people come up with ideas and we debate these ideas and as the ideas develop or progress, eventually the executive branch takes hold of the idea and runs with it. A good example of that, Mr. President, is, a few years ago I was trying to push for a public safety department, and the whole executive branch came down on me and said, 'Representative Crozier, no, we don't want that.' Now, what do we have? They only wanted the Department of Corrections. That's what we got. What do we have today? We have a Department of Public Safety.

"It's important that my colleagues understand that once the governor gets involved, he believes that there is community support to a position. I ask my colleagues to take his words seriously, ponder the thought, and, hopefully, you can support getting a mass transit system and, if necessary, we have to have a general excise tax increase. Thank you."

Senator Matsuura also rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

"Mr. President, I just want to make a few comments in response to the previous speakers.

"I support the rapid transit system, and if the Senator from Makakilo were to pass a few words from the Journal, I would have said all the nice things about his being the astute and star wars Senator in this body.

"I want to remind the body that when he spoke about the 90 cents bag of ties, the tie that he is wearing today is worth more than 90 cents, I can assure you of that.

"On a more serious note, in regards to the comments made by the Windward Senator, I would like to assure him that being the chairman of the land use and natural resources committee, I will look into some of the concerns that he has expressed on the floor today. I would like to request the Senator to let me have copies of whatever he has presented. It seems like quite a voluminous document, but I will look into the matter and report back to you, Mr. President."

Senator Reed also rose to speak on a point of personal privilege and stated:

"Mr. President, I would offer a friendly urging of caution to those Senate sages who would rush in to claim credit for the governor's proposal. I feel that the people of Hawaii will end up concluding that the proposal to increase our taxes and then give us back a tax credit is nothing more than 'voodoo economics.' We need rapid transit but we do not need a tax increase."

Senator Cobb then rose on a point of parliamentary privilege and said:

"Mr. President, I want to make clear that I'm not objecting to the governor presenting his proposal. In fact, I appreciate it because it lays something out on the table, and it's something to respond to. And I appreciate the Senator from Makakilo raising the points he did about mass transit because, ladies and gentlemen, believe it or not, this is about the first time we have had any serious discussion of transit proposals on the floor of this Senate in this entire session. Everyone has always assumed that rapid transit is a 'given.'

"Tomorrow, with your permission Mr. President, I'm going to present a brief slide show on the floor of the Senate, raising some questions not only about mass transit but why we find ourselves in the situation we do today because of a series of monopolies involving a bus, involving prohibition of airport shuttle, involving prohibition of jitneys in Honolulu that used to be very popular before 1940. I think all of these things ought to be looked at as a part of the transit picture.

"So I appreciate the concerns that my colleagues have on the subject of rapid transit, and I appreciate very much the fact that now we're finally beginning to debate the details of the issue which we have not done so far this session. It's always been an assumed, a given.

"Now, I think, Mr. President, it's time to take a serious, if belated look at some of the details and I look forward to doing that. Thank you."

Senator Holt also rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

"Mr. President, I'm a supporter of mass transit and I support the governor's proposal.

"According to the news reports we're going to go ahead with the new arena at $32 million. I'd just like to strongly urge the Ways and Means chairman that if we're going to go ahead with that proposal that we seriously consider amending that definition so we can have the mass transit run right next to the arena like Boston Garden. Thank you."

At 12:40 o'clock p.m., on motion by Senator Blair, seconded by Senator Reed and carried, the Senate stood in recess until 10:00 o'clock p.m.
