Senator Sakamoto rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

"Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

"You know, we read the paper -- Senate budget cuts, you know, cuts -- and we all know this is a problem. I guess a problem I have, coming from small business, is that time is very important. And on many issues this body seems to think a study or let's talk some more ... and I'm not here to talk about adding to the obituary list that was read yesterday.

"I'm here to talk about, just as there were students here a few minutes ago, where will our 12,000 graduates go, Mr. President? Where will they go come June and July? How will they stay in Hawaii? There's much talent that graduate each year, much talent, you know. Some of you have younger children. Where will the Senators' children from Manoa go? Will they go to Seattle?

"So I think many of the issues before us -- small business caucus issues -- they're not all major issues. Yet, they have merit. And I think time is very important. In three weeks we can do a lot, and I guess I ask for my colleagues not to say, 'well, let's study; let's look at.' Let's do it! Things can be done and there are solutions. I guess one solution -- I'm not going to elaborate with the body -- but there are solutions that some you know of and I hope we can at least make steps forward on some of the ideas that are put forward, whether in private or in public, Mr. President. Thank you."

Senator Anderson also rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

"Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege, if I may.

"Mr. President, I think we do a lot of good here and I know that we do, at times, a lot of bad things that people chastise us for, and I can't blame them. But one of the good things that I didn't read in the paper and I believe should have been brought forth because of all of the failing restaurants that are going on right now is that there was a bill last night to add not just the 50 percent tax credit on meals that the federal government allows us and the state government, but also to add another 30 percent state tax credit on business meals. And our director of taxation didn't think that was very much and that we should look at the federal level. But 30 percent added on might save a business because the business people are the ones that go out and buy luncheons or dinners and keep these restaurants and private clubs going.

"One of the things that disturbed me that we're not doing and we're trying to jump-start the state, Mr. President, is finish the Lab School that Senator Malama said that when she was chairman had asked about an $11 million building. The design and planning was over, and yet we're not going to construct that building. And that would jump-start the state, but that's not going to be done at the University.

"What we are going to do, Mr. President, is charge a tuition fee to the Lab School students. And they get no new buildings. Not only that, but in order to try to save a few dollars and put some money in the general fund, what we're going to do is take the University Lab and penalize them. And I say penalize because, Mr. President, it costs us as taxpayers -- every one of us across the state -- $5,000 roughly, per student, per year. At the lab school when we were checking yesterday, it costs $3800. So I think it's being penalized because they want to charge a tuition fee for students to go to the lab school. Now, why get penalized when you're doing a good job, costing us less money than the average public school.

"I have stood on this floor and said, if we need money in our general fund, then tax every student across the state, every school student that can afford to pay, either 200, 400, 500, whatever you need. But you're not going to make shortfalls on one little school with 300 and some odd students. It just doesn't make sense. It's not the way to go if you're looking for dollars. I heard one person across the hall who told me that only the elite go to that school. Another said only haoles go to that school. I think the people better look at what the student body is made up of. It's all nationalities and all economic backgrounds of people across the state. It's not just the high and mighty and the rich. And that's the problem. I know a lot of people that went to that school, but all of a sudden now that they're gone, they don't much care if the school gets closed.

"I had my mo'opuna who went to Kamehameha Schools from kindergarten to the 6th grade, and then he went to the University Lab for two years. I would have loved to have had him stay, but he decided to go back to Kamehameha to graduate. That's how I happen to know about the lab school and I was concerned because the children are more or less guinea pigs. You take teachers that have not yet been certified and they teach the type of programs that are needed. They do books that they can sell to other schools and across the nation. So we want to penalize them for doing a good job. They get over $300,000 for the teacher grant in federal grants. They use 200-and-some-odd-thousand and the rest goes into the general fund -- but we're going to penalize them.

"These are some of the concerns that I have, Mr. President. If we want to put money into the general fund, then charge every student that can afford to pay, and those that cannot afford, we take care of. That's our job. That's the safety net.

"Thank you very much for listening to me, Mr. President and my colleagues."

Senator Taniguchi, for the Committee on Economic Development, requested a waiver of the 72-hour Notice of a Public Hearing, pursuant to Senate Rule 20, on H.B. No. 1575 as follows:

"Mr. President, I'd like to request a waiver of the 72-hour notice requirement pursuant to Senate Rule 20.

"The reason for this request is to allow your Committee on Economic Development to hold a public hearing on H.B. No. 1575, entitled, 'Relating to Milk.' We had initially heard the companion Senate bill and decided to hold that bill. However, during the past two weeks there has been some activity in the milk industry, and we'd like to at least review a bill this afternoon, if possible, to hopefully keep a vehicle alive in case we need to act to help the milk industry."

The Chair granted the waiver.

Senator Slom rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

"Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

"Mr. President, something happened yesterday that shocked me, and you know that I'm not easily shocked, Mr. President. We're used to problems all around the world in Bosnia and Zaire, but, Mr. President, across the courtyard in the House of Representatives where the Minority Leader was forcibly restrained and then ejected for exercising free speech, Mr. President, I was saddened all evening.

"I was trying to think of two things. First of all, I wanted to thank the President and my colleagues here who have not yet forcibly tried to restrain me from speaking. (Laughter.) And secondly, I was trying to think how could we overcome the prejudice and the difficulties across the way. The only thing I could think of, Mr. President, I did understand that there is an election coming up next year and possibly if some of my colleagues here could find it in their hearts to move aside to allow more of the minority members to come possibly into this body and make room for them, I think it would be a good gesture.

"Thank you, Mr. President." (Laughter.)

Senator Anderson then added:

"I would just like to clarify what he's saying. I think it's called 'kokua.'"
