ORDER OF THE DAY

ADVISE AND CONSENT

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1010 (Gov. Msg. No. 2):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1010 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Kokubun and carried.

Senator Taniguchi then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of GEORGINA KAWAMURA as Director of the Department of Budget and Finance, term to expire December 4, 2006, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Taniguchi rose to speak in favor of the nominee and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this nomination.

"Mr. President and members, your Committee on Ways and Means held a very thorough hearing on this nominee and found her credentials and character to be of high standards. Her colleagues, both past and present, hold her in very high regard.

"Mr. President, we grilled her, and we grilled her, and she didn't break. (Laughter.)

"I have found Ms. Kawamura to be very open, approachable, and sensitive to the many perspectives of those she works with. She was also an award-winning budget director for the county of Maui, which is a talent that is being put to the test early and often in her current role as acting budget director. Thus far, she has demonstrated that she has a good working knowledge of government budgeting, and that she is capable of handling what I predict will be an immense task in the weeks and years to come.

"Members, I believe Ms. Georgina Kawamura is an excellent candidate to lead our Department of Budget and Finance, and I urge you to support her nomination.

"Thank you."

Senator Baker rose to speak in support of the nomination as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of this nomination.

"Mr. President, when the nominee was the budget director for the county of Maui, I know that she exhibited grace under fire; she was very forthcoming with council members; she worked well with all of her departments, and she had, and still does have, a wonderful personality. I know that she will serve not only this administration, but our body well by giving the information in a timely fashion and in a way that is both understandable and accessible and is willing to work with us.

"I'm pleased to stand in support of this nomination."

Senator English also rose in support of the nominee and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of the nomination.

"Mr. President, Georgina is a resident of Lana'i in my district and I have worked with her as a council member when she was the budget director for the county of Maui. I can attest to her forthrightness and to her ability to cut to the chase, give us accurate numbers in a timely manner, and when we asked to lay out possible scenarios – what if we did this – she’d say, ‘okay, if you did this, this and this and this will happen. If you do that, these other things will follow.’ And that was very much appreciated by me.

“She has exhibited, in the few weeks that we have worked with her, an ability to do the same here and an ability to communicate some very difficult messages to not only the Legislature, but also to take our responses back to the Governor.

“So, I stand in support of the nomination based on my working experience with her in Maui County and ask my fellow members to support her nomination to this position. Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Slom rose to support the nominee and said:

“Mr. President, on behalf of the Minority, I stand in very strong support for the confirmation of Georgina Kawamura.

“We all know about her qualifications and about her experience, but I think what my colleagues have just spoken about is much more important – her sensitivity and her people skills and her communication skills, particularly as this time. It’s a very critical time in our State’s history and our legislative history. And it takes a very special person to be able to do the things that are required, while at the same time understanding that we’re dealing with the public’s money and accountability is extremely important. And we can’t say ‘yes’ to everybody and that means we have to have good reasons to prioritize, but ultimately, we have to make those decisions – those tough decisions.

“In order to make those tough decisions, the nominee has sought, throughout her career, a buy in from the community for as many of the stakeholders as possible. She is open. She is above board. She answers questions. She seeks alternatives and options, and that’s a very good sign.

“I think that we are all agreed, particularly after seeing her so many times before so many Committees this year delivering a message that is very difficult yet very necessary, that Georgina Kawamura is the right woman at the right time for this job. No, Mr. President, she is the right person for this position at this time, and we urge your unanimous confirmation of Georgina Kawamura.

“Aloha.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Noes, none. Excused, 3 (Fukunaga, Ige, Ihara).

At this time, Senator Taniguchi introduced and congratulated Georgina Kawamura who was seated in the gallery.

At 12:05 o’clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:09 o’clock p.m.

No. 36 Jointly to the Committee on Human Services and the Committee on Health, then to the Committee on Transportation, Military Affairs, and Government Operations

Senator Slom rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

“We have just completed one-half of the Legislative Session as of yesterday. We have half to go, and that’s significant. It’s significant in the work that we have yet to do. We still have a very full agenda and a full plate of things to do.

“Today we are also noting that this is the 100th day of the administration of the new Governor. I think it’s important to note that in those first 100 days, this administration, which is different from any administration in anyone’s memory, has distinguished itself by the promises that have been kept, the things that have been accomplished thus far. The people may argue back and forth as to what was done, what was not done.

“One of the things that I said right after the election was that the people are going to have higher expectations and less patience than they’ve had in the past. And that’s a good thing. I think that we should hold all of our elected officials responsible and accountable for things that they say, promises that they make, and things that they say that they’re going to do.

“In the case of the Governor and her administration, I think probably the number one thing that will rank as an achievement are the quality individuals that she has appointed to cabinet level positions, such as the budget director whom we just confirmed at this point. Nearly all of those people came from areas where they had expertise, they had qualifications that were impeccable, they worked with people, they were open and accessible, but they weren’t known in government. And some people have said that’s a negative thing; that we should only deal with people that have great experience in the halls of government. I, for one, disagree, and I think that it’s important and it’s a sign to show people in the community that we really want to have your input and your expertise.

“The Governor promised that she would choose people not on the basis of who they knew or what their political party was, and I think she’s demonstrated that by the individuals that this body has already confirmed and are still holding hearings on.

“In addition to that, she made a promise to resume the payments to OHA that have been suspended by the previous administration, and that promise has been kept. In addition to that, she made a promise that she would personally lobby for the Akaka bill and for Native Hawaiian rights. She went to Congress, to the Executive Branch, to people in the federal cabinet and she did that very vigorously. She kept that promise as well.

“She made a promise during the campaign that the injustice that was done to an engineer that was with the state Department of Transportation for 57 years would be reversed – Mr. Tetsuo Harano – and his name would be placed back on the tunnel at the H-3 – something that the daughter of the late Governor John Burns had urged; something that 8,000 people who signed a petition had urged but that the last administration ignored. That was done as well.

“She is keeping a promise in terms of keeping all live bodies in the difficult task of trying to balance this budget, trying to retain funds where they’re supposed to be, such as in the hurricane relief fund, getting rid of special funds where they’re not supposed to be. She has been visible. She has been accessible. She has gone to schools. She has gone to medical facilities. She has gone to Lake Wilson, and she came back alive. These are all achievements that we can applaud.

“She also had the vision and advanced a program from prescription drugs that was criticized because it would not take care of all the people but it would take care of several thousand, nearly 20,000 to 25,000 people right now. She also advanced a plan for long-term care insurance tax credits that would help thousands of people right now.

“She also tries daily to improve our business climate. When she was in Washington, we all had a laugh about her trying to sell Kona coffee to the White House and to the halls of government, and yet that indicates that her focus is always on Hawaii, always on Hawaii’s products and on Hawaii’s people.

And if it's something as small, seemingly small, as one product, Hawaiian coffee, it shows that that's where the emphasis is.

"She's well known by the business community nationally and internationally. She has met with business and investment advisors. She's also met with, successfully, people that rate the bonds of our state government, and she, I think, did quite well on CNN and Fox News and is becoming a national personality. That is not a partisan thing because her emphasis continues to be Hawaii and the improvement. And she realizes the difficulties and the crisis that we all face now and one which may become even more difficult in the days ahead.

"She said that she was opening the 'open for business' sign in Hawaii and immediately the new head of the DCCA cut regulations, red tape, and actual fees for the first time in anyone's memories. People now are talking about the business-friendly attitude of the same public employees who have been here and who have been dedicated for years but did not have incentive and did not have the leadership and the management to encourage them to do their best and to recognize them for doing their best.

"So, for these and other reasons, I think that we can all take note of this first 100 days, and that's all it is – it's the first 100 days. There will be many more days and hopefully we can all work together to get these policies passed, to get good legislation passed to help the people of Hawaii in the long term.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

STANDING COMMITTEE REPORT

Senator Menor, for the Committee on Commerce, Consumer Protection and Housing, presented a report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1016) recommending that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of MARK RECKTENWALD as Director of the Department of Commerce and Consumer Affairs, in accordance with Gov. Msg. No. 4.

In accordance with Senate Rule 37(6), action on Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1016 and Gov. Msg. No. 4 was deferred until Friday, March 14, 2003.

By unanimous consent, action on Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1016 and Gov. Msg. No. 4 was deferred until Monday, March 17, 2003.

ORDER OF THE DAY

ADVISE AND CONSENT

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1011 (Jud. Com. No. 1):

Senator Hanabusa moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1011 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland and carried.

Senator Hanabusa then moved that the Senate consent to the nomination of MATTHEW S.K. PYUN as Judge of the District Court of the Third Circuit, for a term of six years, in accordance with the provisions of Article VI, Section 3, of the Hawaii State Constitution, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland.

Senator Hanabusa rose to speak in support of the nominee and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of Jud. Com. No. 1, submitting for study and consideration the nomination of Matthew S.K. Pyun to the District Court of the Third Circuit.

"First of all, Mr. President, I think there are many lawyers who owe Mr. Pyun an apology. We have gone through 38 years of his legal career probably referring to him as Matt Pyun. And as Matt Pyun, many of you know him – he has been an exemplary member of the Bar Association and everyone knows that his talents have primarily been in the criminal defense area and he is not a stranger to the media, as well as very difficult cases.

"When Mr. Pyun came before us and I saw him as Jud. Com. No. 1, Mr. President, I was wondering why. Here is somebody who has served 38 years in the Bar Association and he has decided to not only become a district court judge, but a district court judge on the third circuit. And by that, I mean no offense to my colleagues from the Big Island, but I couldn't figure out why someone who has practiced law at the level that he has, would move to the Big Island. No offense, but . . . (Laughter.) Not quite as bad as Waianae, as my colleague to my left has pointed out. (More laughter.)

"To his credit and to the Big Island's credit and gain, he informed me that he has enjoyed the years that he has spent there. He has been like a gentleman farmer, going there on weekends. He has developed a nice healthy tan that many of his colleagues feel has developed at Waiālae Country Club playing golf, but in actuality it's in the farm fields of the Big Island.

“When I asked him why district court, Mr. President, he said because he has come to believe that the district court is the first line of the judiciary – that is where most of the people of this State meet a judge and that is their experience of court. And he enjoys that. He believes that he can best serve people at that level because he can explain to them, having been part of the judiciary for so long, having heard and probably said everything that you could possibly hear and say to a judge. He knows how to handle them and he believes that he can serve them as you would serve any kind of consumer, any kind of customer, he can best serve them. And that is why by choice – by choice, Mr. President – he has chosen to be a district court judge in the third circuit on the Big Island.

“There’s no question about his credentials. He received his Bachelors degree from the University of Hawaii, his Juris Doctorate degree from Drake University. He has served as the law clerk for the infamous Judge Martin Pence – that, in and of itself, should be a badge of honor, especially since he survived it. He has also worked for the Legal Aid Society. He’s been a Deputy Corporation Counsel for the City and County of Honolulu. And of course, he has been in private practice.

“Mr. President, I believe that Matthew Pyun will be a great addition to the judiciary and I would like to tell my colleagues from the Big Island that Honolulu’s loss is truly your gain. I ask that you all vote to confirm Matthew Pyun.

“Thank you very much.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Ihara).

At this time, Senator Hanabusa introduced Judge Pyun to the members of the Senate. (Judge Pyun, who was seated in the gallery, rose to be recognized.)

At 12:13 o’clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:15 o’clock p.m.

ADVISE AND CONSENT

MATTER DEFERRED FROM
THURSDAY, MARCH 13, 2003

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1016 (Gov. Msg. No. 4):

Senator Menor moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1016 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Baker and carried.

Senator Menor then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of MARK RECKTENWALD as Director of the Department of Commerce and Consumer Affairs, term to expire December 4, 2006, seconded by Senator Baker.

Senator Menor rose to speak in support of the nominee and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of Gov. Msg. No. 4.

“It is indeed an honor and a privilege for me to speak in support of the confirmation of Mark Recktenwald as Director of the Department of Commerce and Consumer Affairs. Mr. President, when a newspaper reporter asked me what I thought about Mark Recktenwald’s appointment as DCCA director shortly after Governor Lingle nominated him for the position, I must confess that in one of the rare moments in my dealing with the news media, I didn’t have much to say. I had never met Mark, I didn’t know much about his background, and I took the position that I would reserve judgment and keep an open mind about his nomination over the coming weeks.

“However, in the time that I have had to work with him in his capacity as the Acting Director of DCCA, he has made a very favorable impression, and I am confident he will provide effective leadership for the department.

“His educational and professional backgrounds are quite impressive. He graduated magna cum laude from Harvard University in 1978 and in 1986 received his J.D. degree with honors from the University of Chicago Law School. His legal experience includes a clerkship with Chief United States District Judge Harold Fong, five years in private practice, and nine years with the Office of the United States Attorney where he received the Inspector General’s Integrity Award.

“As an attorney in private practice, he handled a variety of business and antitrust matters normally assigned to more senior attorneys. As a Deputy United States Attorney, Mr. Recktenwald successfully prosecuted cases involving financial and regulatory crimes, including cases of health care fraud.

“Mr. President, numerous supporters attested to his outstanding administrative skills, which enabled him to coordinate and lead a variety of task forces and working groups that included a large and diverse cross section of individuals from county, state, and federal agencies, as well as the private sector.

“Your Committee received unanimous and unequivocal testimony in support of Mr. Recktenwald’s professional skills and personal qualities. Time and time again, he was described as intelligent, hardworking, honest, ethical, fair, and compassionate. In fact, one colleague, who has known the nominee for almost twenty years, stated, ‘Mark treats everyone with dignity and respect. He listens carefully to all viewpoints and is prudent in making decisions. He will not yield to improper influences and is committed to doing what is right, rather than what is expedient. I am also confident that he will bring a balanced perspective as DCCA director, focusing on the concerns of business and at the same time protecting the interests of consumers in carrying out his regulatory duties and responsibilities.’

“In addition to his impressive credentials, Mark is also a genuinely nice person. It has been said that ‘nice guys finish last,’ but not so today, Mr. President. Accordingly, I ask my colleagues to join me in confirming Mark Recktenwald to the position of the Department of Commerce and Consumer Affairs Director.

“Thank you.”

Senator Hemmings rose to speak in favor of the nominee and said:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of Gov. Msg. No. 4, the nomination of Mark Recktenwald to head the DCCA.

“The previous speaker, the good Senator from Mililani, has done an excellent job, as all your Committee Chairs have done through the advice and consent process, in articulating these individuals and their qualifications to be in office. And it’s difficult to add to it, but I think there’s a perspective that’s quite a breath of fresh air that should be brought to bear in voting on this nomination.

“Mark Recktenwald, I think, represents a new breed of leaders in the executive branch of government. Recently in the good Senator from Manoa’s Ways and Means Committee hearing, Mark appeared to testify on legislation concerning special funds. And as we well know, most of the DCCA is a special fund to a certain extent and we also know that they have had a lot of excessive money collected by what some of us agree are excessive fees. Mark unilaterally expressed the opinion that some money can be restored from DCCA into the general fund to help the taxpayers of this State out, and further, to help the consumers out, which this agency is supposed to protect, that possibly in the future, fees could be reduced.

“This is the type of leadership and innovation that I think this State can really rely on and I guarantee that leadership like this, working in partnership with the Legislature, is indeed going to change the direction this State goes in.

“It’s with great pleasure that I add, along with my colleagues, the endorsement and support of Mark Recktenwald for this office. Thank you, Mr. President.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Kanno).

At this time, Senator Menor introduced Mr. Recktenwald and his family to the members of the Senate.

At 11:59 o’clock a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:13 o’clock p.m.

ADVISE AND CONSENT

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1022 (Gov. Msg. No. 9):

Senator Baker moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1022 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland and carried.

Senator Baker then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of CHIYOME L. FUKINO, MD, as Director of the Department of Health, term to expire December 4, 2006, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland.

Senator Baker rose to speak in support of the nominee and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of Gov. Msg. No. 9, nominating Dr. Chiyome Leina'ala Fukino, as Director of the Department of Health, the first woman and the first native Hawaiian ever to serve in this important post.

"Before she was nominated to serve as Director of the Department of Health, I did not know Chiyome Fukino. Her resume looked impressive but I was concerned about her seeming lack of administrative and public health experience. However, soon after her nomination was announced, I began receiving additional information that allayed those concerns. The information your Committee received about Dr. Fukino was very positive, almost glowing.

"First, her resume or as one testifier called it, her impeccable credentials: Dr. Fukino is a Kamehameha Schools graduate, received a Bachelor of Arts in Psychology from Brandeis University, is a graduate of the John A. Burns School of Medicine and since 1982 has been licensed to practice medicine in our State. Those who have followed her career note that Dr. Fukino has distinguished herself as a primary care internist, a general consultant, medical director and health care administrator. Her colleagues praise her compassion and professionalism. She was described during our committee hearings, as diligent, smart, fair, focused, objective, ethical, caring and pragmatic – what a role model for young women to follow. Patients expressed their regret that they would no longer have the benefit of her listening ear, sage advice and compassionate care. She will be greatly missed in private practice they said, but hope she will give the state's health care system the same attention that they received from this gentle, soft-spoken physician.

"Dr. Fukino is also well known for her passion about her work. Many testifiers emphasized her leadership and experience with native Hawaiian health issues and programs. Supporters from Ahahui o na Kauka (Association of Native Hawaiian Physicians) and Papa Ola Lokahi spoke of her exemplary advocacy for native Hawaiian health issues. They noted that Dr. Fukino is one of the founders of E Ola Mau, the first non-profit organization of native Hawaiian health care professionals dedicated to addressing the health care needs of native Hawaiians. In addition to leading this organization as president, she has coordinated many statewide programs and workshops on improving the health of native Hawaiians. In that capacity, one testifier wrote she demonstrated the 'value of partnering with others and utilizing a team approach,' a quality, I contend, that will serve her well in government. Some of her prospective staff told me confidentially how she brought together, for the first time, parts of the Department that should have been working together but hadn't been – she brought them together to begin an important dialog of collaboration for problem solving, efficiency and improved program delivery.

"She's been described by a colleague as a big picture person, who doesn't overlook the fine print. I am hopeful that this same dedication and thoroughness will be applied to the three priority areas she has identified: long-term care, substance abuse, and mental health. In addition, Dr. Fukino has acknowledged the importance of devoting resources, time and attention to long term strategies for prevention and wellness programs, areas that always seem to get cut when the budget crunches.

"Whether in meetings with stakeholder groups, testifying before the Health Committee, on a site visit to Kalaupapa or in personal conversations, I have found Dr. Fukino open and direct, a quality her professional colleagues commented on as well. But equally important, she has a profound commitment to serve the most vulnerable among our citizens and a strong sense of urgency for improving the public's health.

"All of Dr. Fukino's professional colleagues attested that she has the management experience and breadth of knowledge to be an effective Director of Health. She has an understanding of numerous issues within the health care industry as well as the requisite analytical and problem-solving skills to tackle the tough issues that will come before her Department. She is also known for her quick and creative mind and understands the importance of valid information in making wise decisions. Finally, her supporters believe she will bring a fresh perspective to a system with deficiencies to be addressed at a time of decreasing fiscal resources and court mandates. Her colleagues praised her ability to think on her feet, and her willingness to 'go outside the box,' even in the complex environment of health care, resource allocation and regulatory compliance. Expectations for this nominee are very high, indeed, regarding her ability to examine the Department of Health from a new perspective and devise original solutions to systemic problems.

"Mr. President, your Committee has performed its due diligence with regards to Gov. Msg. No. 9. We believe that the nominee has the qualities, skills and talents to be an effective leader of this varied and complex department. She will be ably assisted by a seasoned knowledgeable administrator and public health professional Dr. Jane Kadohiro. From my observation, they make a good team and it is truly a delight, Mr. President, to see this department headed up by two such capable women.

"Dr. Fukino has an awesome task ahead – to be an advocate and a leader in a time of increasing demands and dwindling resources. However, Mr. President, your Committee believes she's up to the challenge. As one testifier stated, 'In a world filled with cynicism about how the political process works, you (meaning us Senators) have the opportunity to confirm a woman who brings an integrity and freshness of spirit and focus' to her job.

"Mr. President, I am pleased to stand in strong support of Dr. Chiyome Leina`ala Fukino as the Director of Health and urge my colleagues to join me to advise and consent to this nomination.

"Mahalo."

Senator Hogue rose in support of the nominee and said:

"Mr. President, on behalf of the Minority, I rise in support of Dr. Fukino, and I guess maybe I rise on behalf of the other sex here. So I rise on behalf of the men who are also impressed with this woman, Dr. Fukino, who has done a terrific, terrific job.

"Like so many of the Governor's nominees, we have seen Dr. Fukino show openness, a willingness to discuss controversial issues and see both sides of these issues. And like so many of the accolades that were given and hoisted upon her by the good Senator from Maui, besides the fact that she is intelligent and focused, Dr. Fukino has also shown that she is animated and enthusiastic. When you get into a personal conversation with her, you can feel that excitement. Colleagues, I must tell you that when you feel that excitement from her, you feel excited about that issue as well.

"So, truly she will bring a positive breath of fresh air to the Department of Health and should be and I believe will be a great director of the Department of Health in this healthy State of Hawaii. So, Dr. Fukino, we'll be voting 'yes.' Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

At this time, Senator Baker introduced Dr. Fukino, who was seated in the gallery with members of her family.

At 12:04 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:15 o'clock p.m.

ADVISE AND CONSENT

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1032 (Gov. Msg. No. 11):

Senator Chun Oakland moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1032 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Inouye and carried.

Senator Chun Oakland then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of LILLIAN KOLLER as Director of the Department of Human Services, term to expire December 4, 2006, seconded by Senator Inouye.

Senator Chun Oakland rose to speak in favor of the nominee as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of Gov. Msg. No. 11, the confirmation of Lillian Koller as Director of the Department of Human Services.

"DHS is one of the largest state departments and serves a critical purpose focusing on taking care of our families, our children, our elders, and others in our community when they need help. With the state's challenging economic climate and on the brink of war, it is especially important that the safety net of programs be maintained and even expanded despite the state budgets being tighter than ever before. In these challenging times, we need a strong leader with proven administrative skills, someone who is open to new ideas and new approaches in order to maintain our safety net of programs for our people. Lillian Koller is such a person.

"The testifiers who filled our conference room and those that could not attend overwhelmingly expressed their support for Lillian as well. She graduated with highest honors from UCLA with a philosophy major and a psychology minor and was an editor of the Law Review at Martin Luther King, Jr., School of Law at UC Davis. She has worked as an attorney in private practice in both California and in Hawaii. She has served as deputy prosecuting attorney and as deputy corporation counsel for Maui County and was named the County of Maui's Managerial Employee of the Year in 1994.

"Mayor Alan Arakawa and fellow colleagues all praise Lillian's honesty, responsibility and professionalism, and her compassion, commitment and dedication to public service. In 1999, she was selected to head the newly established Maui Drug Court program, and in just three years she developed the Maui Drug Court into a nationally award-winning program that is a community standard and a model for other states. The Maui police chief praised Lillian's ability to 'coordinate a collaborative effort by many county, state and private agencies, some of which did not historically work well together' to provide drug treatment and rehabilitation for nonviolent drug users.

"Lillian created a nonprofit organization called the Friends of the Maui Drug Court that raises funds to support the program. With what one provider called 'her unrelenting drive,' Lillian personally went out into the community and asked for their support initiating fund-raisers, grant awards and donations from the community. Lillian's personal commitment and drive helped the Maui Drug Court and even expand, despite government budget cuts.

"Perhaps most importantly, Lillian never forgot that the Maui Drug Court was about the clients. She took personal interest in the success of each client. She made them a part of her life by celebrating the drug-free babies that were born, taking a personal interest in each client's health and well being, and fighting for as many ways and opportunities as possible to make the Drug Court a place where people could regain their life, dignity and family and become a responsible and productive member of the community.

"In the few weeks that she's been on the job, Lillian Koller has already impressed many with her energy, her quick intelligence, and her willingness to work with all involved parties to craft a workable, reasonable solution.

"Within the first week as director, Lillian was faced with the crisis involving problems with the new Medicaid payment and billing system which caused significant delays in payments to service providers. Lillian 'immediately went to work' to resolve these problems and in a very short period of time was able to handle the acute situation to the satisfaction of most of the service providers. She has scheduled regular working meetings with the director of health to address mutual concerns and is working on a more permanent solution to the Medicaid payment problems.

"Perhaps the highest praise for Lillian Koller came from a service provider from Kauai who asked, 'What do I know about this woman? Not much. I've never even met her.' But this provider was so impressed with Lillian's handling of the Medicaid payment problem that she got on a plane and came to Honolulu to testify in support of her nomination. This provider said, 'I am so grateful that Lillian got it. She was willing to take immediate action, to think creatively to meet our needs as contractors and to balance it with the legal obligations of our state agency to come up with a response. I am also impressed that she did not just simply accept a proposal to fix the system within four to six months but continued to push for a better solution.'

"Finally, Lillian brings a deep personal commitment to public service. She has been cared for by her parents who were the sole survivors of their families killed in the Auschwitz concentration camp. As a mother, Lillian can understand the issues facing Hawaii's families and is committed to their well being.

"In closing, Lillian has promised that she will not balance the budget on the backs of those least able to care for themselves. Instead, as she stated, 'we will, because we must, find new ways to provide the essential services to help those in need get back on their feet and stay there.' Compassionate leadership and the ability to get things done, that's what we need at DHS to ensure that there is a safety net for our families, children, elders and others who may need our help. That's what Lillian Koller brings to the state.

"Mr. President and colleagues, I urge your favorable vote to confirm the Governor's nominee for Director of the Department of Human Services, Lillian Koller."

Senator Baker also rose in support of the nominee and said:

"Mr. President, I, too, rise in support of this nomination.

"Mr. President, another capable, bright, intelligent woman is being elevated to one of our most difficult and complex departments and we on Maui are happy to share this intelligent, articulate, caring, resourceful and creative person, Lillian Koller, who I believe is well up to the challenge of the Department of Human Services. I am pleased to support this nomination and encourage all my colleagues to do so as well."

Senator English rose to speak in support of the nomination as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of the nomination.

"Mr. President, members of the Senate, Lillian Koller comes from Maui, as you know, and is part of the wonderful team that we've exported to the Capitol for service to the greater State of Hawai'i.

"I just want to comment on Lillian's 'can do' attitude and ability to think 'outside of the box,' and in her job – in this particular job – you're going to have to do that quite a bit. I want to lend my support and ask my colleagues to support her nomination because I know Lillian and I've worked with her when she was Corp Counsel in Maui. She worked with the council, when I was on the council, very closely and always provided us with very clear and concise advice, and sometimes that was hard to get. So, she was always there to do that for us and I think that her ability to think through complex problems and come up with innovative and creative ideas will serve the State of Hawai'i well.

"I also would like to comment that Lillian and I share the same ancestry. And so, with that, we can know that our people are well served.

"Members, I ask for your support of this nomination. Thank you."

Senator Trimble rose to speak in favor of the nominee and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to support the confirmation and speak in favor of the confirmation of Lillian Koller.

"Unlike some of my colleagues, I am occasionally at a loss for words. If I were to search for one word that came closest to conveying my feelings, the word would be awesome. Senator Chun Oakland has left me very little to say.

"I guess the brightest moment of sitting and serving on her Committee was when Lillian Koller walked into the room and started to give testimony. She is engaging and she certainly is engaged. She is very bright, but she's also very committed.

"One trait stands out above the rest, and that is the sense of compassion that she conveys when she testifies.

"I urge my colleagues to unanimously support her confirmation. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, none. Excused, 2 (Ihara, Taniguchi).

At this time, Senator Chun Oakland introduced Lillian Koller to the members of the Senate. (Ms. Koller, who was seated in the gallery, rose to be recognized.)

At 12:01 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:06 o'clock p.m.

RE-REFERRAL OF HOUSE BILL

The Chair re-referred the following House bill that was received:

House Bill Referred to:

No. 500, H.D. 1 Committee on Judiciary and Hawaiian Affairs, then to the Committee on Ways and Means

Senator Chun Oakland, Chair of the Committee on Human Services, requested a waiver of the notice requirement pursuant to Senate Rule 21 for H.B. No. 1272.

Senator Chun Oakland noted:

“Mr. President, this bill provides legal assistance and funding for certain children with special needs, disabled children, and the elderly. Your Committee held a hearing on this bill on March 12 and would like to hold decision making in order to meet today’s lateral deadline.”

The Chair granted the waiver.

Senator Hogue rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak on a point of personal privilege.

“Today, colleagues, out in the rotunda there is a rally being held to talk about support for what is being called the three strikes law and I’m sure that many of you have seen the story in the news recently. I would like to speak just briefly about why we should enact the three strikes law here in Hawaii.

“By enacting the three strikes law we would be making a policy choice to protect the public from individuals who, time after time, engage in serious or violent criminal activity.

“I’m sure all of you were deeply saddened by the recent murder of police officer Glen Gaspar. I attended his burial ceremony in Kaneohe and it was a very, very touching ceremony. I was also saddened not just because of the heinous nature of the offense, but because Officer Gaspar’s alleged assailant has a lengthy criminal history that includes over 60 charges against him and 14 prior convictions, including four felonies, and our justice system was still not effective in protecting our police officers from him. Unfortunately, Officer Gaspar’s death was only one example of heinous crimes committed by career criminals. We need to send a message to those who are career criminals . . . criminals who are obviously not deterred by our current sentencing laws.

“The infestation of crime and drug addiction is eating away at our islands. Hawaii is now facing epidemic ice use, and along with the ice we may see increases in crime on a level that has never occurred in our islands before. Among adults arrested in Honolulu, more than 40 percent test positive for ice. In addition, the U.S. Sentencing Commission found that federal drug traffic convictions in Hawaii far exceeded those on the mainland. On the mainland, it’s just 14 percent, which is still pretty high – in Hawaii, 51 percent. The bottom line is – our state is facing increasing drug related violence and violent crimes in general, and we need to do something about it!

“A California Department of Justice study showed that, after enacting the three strikes law, recidivism dropped 25 percent in four years. The three strikes law holds great promise for our State.

“The three strikes amendment that I would have presented today would allow us to obtain an immediate term of life imprisonment, or at least 25 years, in cases involving habitual criminal offenders. As you may have already heard, a recent study in California showed that nearly 60 percent of the crimes in the state were committed by about 6 percent of criminal offenders – those 6 percent are the criminal offenders we need to get out of our communities.

“It has been said that the three strikes law has the potential for injustice because of some disproportionately harsh sentences for relatively minor crimes, and I’m sure you’ve seen those on the news. However, a three strikes bill can be written which would allow for discretion in its implementation. The prosecutors would be able to exercise discretion to assure proportionality and consistency.

“Finally, colleagues, it is time that Hawaii seriously considers the three strikes law. We need to come down hard on career criminals and I urge all of my colleagues to support a resolution, which I understand is going forward, to stand behind the three strikes law.

“Thank you very much, Mr. President.”

Senator Hanabusa rose on a point of personal privilege and stated:

“Mr. President, I’d like to thank my good colleague from Kaneohe for plugging the resolution that is going through. It is S.C.R. No. 86 or S.R. No. 60, and that is the convening of a task force to determine whether Hawaii should enact a three strikes law.

“Mr. President, this is a serious issue and one that we must give full debate to and have the public participate in. That is why as Chair of your Judiciary Committee, it was decided that we could not rush into a three strikes law.

“Mr. President, as I reviewed, for example, what was placed on our desks this morning, one possible violent crime is an assault against a police officer. Mr. President, it is this year that this body, the Senate, has actually passed over a bill for the House consideration to make that not a misdemeanor but, in fact, a class C felony. It is not even a felony today. We have to look at all of the various crimes, whether we call them violent or otherwise.

“As my good colleague from Kaneohe says, we must look at violent crimes. And the question is – What are violent crimes? We have already in the statutes that a killing of a police officer is first degree murder. Mr. President, that is life in prison without the parole. And it is not only for police officers, it is also for judges and it is also for prosecutors who are acting in their ‘line of duty.’ In addition, if someone is determined to be a habitual type of criminal or a murder for hire type of person, that person also can be convicted of murder in the first degree.

“In addition, we have enhanced sentencing already on the books. Enhanced sentencing so that, for example, if someone were to do three class C felonies . . . and class C felonies that we have identified, this Legislature have identified, includes, for example, the theft of livestock. If you do that three times, the fourth time you are going to go to jail for no less than five years – for theft of livestock. More importantly than that, Mr. President, it is also the attempt to do it that will put you in the same category. That’s how our laws are written. The attempt carries the same penalty as the crime itself – the attempt.

“We have also made decisions as a legislative body about drugs – whether as a society we will look upon drugs as an incarcerated event or whether we will look at it upon treatment. If we define drugs as something that will mandatorily require sentencing in prison, then Mr. President, we’ve got to build prisons.

“Recidivism is an interesting concept, and it’s one that we all look to. But if we are throwing people into prisons, then logically, the recidivism rates will not increase because they’re behind bars. And maybe that is what society wants. That is what we should hear from our communities – how they want us to look on this issue of recidivism, of three strikes, but let’s get detailed, well thought out with people who are experts in the area advising us.

“So I thank my colleague from Kaneohe for saying that we should get behind the Senate resolutions because that will give us the information we need. Let’s hear from the U.S. Attorney; let’s hear from the police chiefs; let’s hear from the public defenders; let’s hear from the judiciary; let’s hear from the bar members – because they know this area way better than we do and they can tell us, if we’re going to do three strikes, what is it that should rise to the level of violent crimes.

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

RE-REFERRAL OF SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

The Chair re-referred the following Senate concurrent resolution that was offered:

Senate Concurrent Resolution	Referred to:
------------------------------------	--------------

No. 130	Jointly to the Committee on Human Services and the Committee on Labor
---------	---

Senator Ihara rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise on two points of personal privilege.

"Mr. President, the first point relates to my absence on Friday. I was recovering from a cold and I wanted to register my objection to 74 bills that were passed on second reading in abstentia. I've objected to this before and voted against the motion enabling these second readings.

"My objection is basically that the Hawaii constitution gives the Legislature the sole power to adopt laws. And our power to cast votes is given to us by the constitution and not by state law or statute. The constitution also requires three separate readings on separate days. And I believe the people, when they adopted the constitution, did not intend that second reading votes be a mere formality. Instead I believe that the voters of our state intended that when we cast second reading votes, that we be aware of what we are voting on.

"This past Friday, 74 bills were passed on second reading after the Senate recessed for the day. And before any of the members knew what those bills were, though some of the members might have known some of the bills if you are on a Committee, you pass the bills. But for most of us, most of the Senators did not know the identity or the contents of the bills that were to be voted on, which all passed second reading.

"I'm going to say something kind of strong now, Mr. President, so members, kind of brace yourself. I do have high respect for each Senator and I believe that voting on a bill without knowing the identity or contents is a misuse of our constitutional right to vote for adopting state laws.

"My second point, Mr. President, has to do with an article in this morning's paper. The heading is, 'Leasehold bill passes second reading in the House.' This is regarding S.B. No. 1468. Basically, a House Committee took a Senate bill and took out its contents in its entirety and put in completely unrelated contents into the bill. This was without giving notice of a House draft. Sometimes, although I still object to it, at least for some committees, if you're going to do that, you post a notice saying you're going to accept testimony on a proposed Senate draft. In this case, it would have been a proposed House draft. That was not done. So the Committee took testimony on a completely different subject, did not even discuss the amendments prior to decision making and the Committee voted to insert, as I said, completely unrelated contents into the bill.

“With all due respect to the House Majority and their view that this was not unusual – I hope it is unusual and if it isn't, shame on us. And they called it an appropriate action. Mr. President, with all due respect to the House, I believe that this is a misdemeanor against democracy. It is not an unforgivable act, but it's an act, an action, legislative action, that should be avoided if at all possible. If it's used too much, I believe the danger of this gut and replace maneuver . . . it also is a stealth way to operate in the Legislature . . . the danger, I believe, is that it can lead to one of the houses having to vote on a bill that a Conference Committee may have agreed to as a result of an agreement on a completely unrelated bill.

“This kind of horse trading, as it's sometimes called, I believe is what contributes to public cynicism, and I encourage all of our Chairs to refrain from this kind of practice and hope that the House stops this type of activity as well.

“Thank you.”

The President then said:

“Senator Ihara, your objection is noted on those bills moving from Second Reading to Third Reading. We have discussed it in leadership and I believe we have an argument contrary to your belief. Nevertheless, I will be discussing this matter with the Attorney General this afternoon and I will report to you the results of that meeting.”

Senator Hemmings rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

“With all due respect to the intent of the good Senator from Kaimuki, I must say that I have not misused my vote ever in this body. I take my constitutional duty very seriously, as I know my colleagues do. This Senate has complied with the constitution. There is no specific mandate in the constitution of when and how you vote on these issues. If the logic of the prior speaker was applied consistently, we would all be in serious trouble because we all vote for over a thousand bills on first reading without knowing the content at all since we have not heard them at all.

“Secondly, many of us, out of courtesy, sign bills, oftentimes, to show support with the intent, without necessarily agreeing with the content of that legislation. So I think our actions are wholly consistent with the constitution and the record should reflect that.

“The second item that the good Senator brought up, I happen to concur with. There is an abuse of power oftentimes, and it's an abuse by the Majority Party, I might note. It went on last year with the gas cap bill, which I thought was a political ploy and turned out to be just that. But that is something, Mr. President, I would suggest to the good speaker not to label us all with, here in the Legislature, because there are those of us from both sides of the aisle that object to this procedure. In fact, I do recall the good Senator from God's promised land objecting last year when the gas cap bill was passed in such a last minute and somewhat deceptive manner. But I would suggest to the good Senator that he handle these problems within his own caucus.

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

ADJOURNMENT

At 12:31 o'clock p.m., on motion by Senator Kawamoto, seconded by Senator Hogue and carried, the Senate adjourned until 11:30 o'clock a.m., Thursday, March 27, 2003.

President of the Senate

FORTY-FIRST DAY

Thursday, March 27, 2003

The Senate of the Twenty-Second Legislature of the State of Hawaii, Regular Session of 2003, convened at 11:40 o'clock a.m. with the President in the Chair.

The Divine Blessing was invoked by the Reverend Frank Chong, United Church of Christ, after which the Roll was called showing all Senators present with the exception of Senator Whalen who was excused.

The President announced that he had read and approved the Journal of the Fortieth Day.

At this time, the following introductions were made to the members of the Senate:

Senator Baker introduced the following individuals who are the American Cancer Society's Relay for Life Community Ambassadors for Hawaii and commended them for their dedication to the cause of reducing cancer deaths in Hawaii: Angella Brandt, Cynthia Campbell, Frank Chong, David Espinda, Beth Freitas, Bob Hansen, Chris Pablo and Virginia Seng.

Senator Kawamoto then introduced Admiral Walter F. Dorin, who assumed duties as Commander of the US Pacific Fleet on May 4, 2002. Accompanying the Admiral was his wife, Jinny.

At this time, President Bunda invited Admiral Dorin to the podium to the address the members of the Senate. Admiral Dorin addressed the members of the Senate as follows:

"Thank you, Senator Kawamoto, for your generous invitation to be here today and for your very kind introduction. Let me also thank Senator Bunda and all the members of the Hawaii State Senate for taking time out of what I know are your very busy schedules and time from what I know is a very hectic Legislative Session. Jinny and I are truly honored to be here this morning.

"Late last week, as you know, the President launched operation Iraqi Freedom. We're in the early stages of combat and there is much yet to be accomplished. Our men and our women are taking the fight to the Iraqi military and there is no doubt that we will prevail.

"We are witnessing, thanks in large part to the continuous and often live media reporting from our ships and along the front lines, a military that is ready to fight and win this global war on terrorism. We have much to be proud of.

"This Senate is well aware that the United States Navy has a significant presence in Hawaii. However, if you visited the waterfront this morning, you wouldn't see many ships or submarines at the piers. That's because we've deployed five Hawaii-based submarines and five surface ships to the central command, with several others deployed today to the Western Pacific.

"As you can tell, the Pacific Fleet is heavily engaged in this global war on terrorism. Three of the six Pacific Fleet aircraft carrier battle groups are currently in the Arabian Gulf, and a fourth, the USS Nimitz, which stopped here in Hawaii just a few days ago, is on its way to the fight. A fifth carrier battle group, the USS Carl Vinson, is underway in the Western Pacific, keeping a watchful eye on that strategically important part of the world.

"My message to you this morning is a simple one – the military would not be winning this war on terrorism without the support of the American people and the Congress. But perhaps more important are the strong relationships we have with state and local governments that host our military personnel and their families.

"Here in Hawaii, that relationship is resilient and enduring. We share a history that dates back many decades, a history that provides a painful reminder to this nation of the cost of war and the price we pay for our freedom. The people of Hawaii have embraced the military as their own family. We are indeed blessed by the richness of our relationship and we're proud to share in the ohana of Hawaii.

"Once again, I want to express my sincere appreciation for the privilege of visiting the Senate this morning, and most importantly, for all of your continued support of our military men and women who live and work here in Hawaii.

"God bless and mahalo. Thank you."

At 11:58 o'clock a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:32 o'clock p.m.

ORDER OF THE DAY

REFERRAL OF
HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONMATTER DEFERRED FROM
THURSDAY, MARCH 27, 2003

The President made the following committee assignment of a House concurrent resolution that was received on Tuesday, March 25, 2003:

House Concurrent Resolution	Referred to:
-----------------------------------	--------------

No. 64 Committee on Transportation, Military Affairs, and Government Operations

ADVISE AND CONSENT

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1214 (Gov. Msg. No. 228):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1214 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Kokubun and carried.

Senator Taniguchi then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of KURT K. KAWAFUCHI as Director of the Department of Taxation, term to expire December 4, 2006, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Taniguchi rose to speak in support of the nominee and said:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this nomination.

“Mr. President and members, Mr. Kawafuchi is well qualified for the position of Director of Taxation. He received his Juris Doctorate and Masters in Business Administration degree from Santa Clara University. He also holds a Master of Laws in Taxation degree from Georgetown University. Additionally, Mr. Kawafuchi is licensed to practice law in Hawaii and California and holds Certified Public Accountant status in both states.

“The Committee on Ways and Means held a thorough hearing on this nominee. Mr. Kawafuchi received wholehearted endorsements from both the legal and accountancy communities, including a judge from the United States Tax Court, the Hawaii Society of Certified Public Accountants, the former head of the Department of Taxation and the Hawaii State Bar Association. All cited Mr. Kawafuchi’s intelligence, thorough knowledge of the law, and leadership ability. They also commented on his high ethics, enthusiasm and sense of humor.

“Members, I believe that Mr. Kurt Kawafuchi will serve the State and the people of Hawaii well in his role as Director of Taxation. I urge you to support his nomination today.

“Thank you.”

Senator Slom also rose in support as follows:

“Mr. President, on behalf of your Minority Caucus, we, too, give our total support to Mr. Kawafuchi’s advise and consent.

“I echo the statements made by the Ways and Means Committee Chair. Also, we’d like to say that even though he’s not as attractive as the beauty queens that we just had the honor of meeting, his beauty is an inner beauty, and what can you say about somebody that is an attorney, is a CPA, and is going to do our taxes as well.

“You know that your Minority Caucus has been very hard on tax measures and on tax professionals, but we feel that Mr. Kawafuchi has not only the background and the experience, but as the Ways and Means Chair said and as people said at his confirmation hearing, the ethics and the integrity. And to me, we can look at a person’s qualifications and all of their degrees and everything else, but I think, to me, the telling point was people that came forward to spend some time in our committee hearing to tell us about the other side of Kurt Kawafuchi. We can talk about your expertise and your technical abilities, but they talked about his humanity, his sensitivity, his leadership, and his availability in the community, and the fact that he is somebody that always volunteers to do things but is not out in front to get the credit or anything else.

“These are the kinds of people that reflect positively on all of us in government today. These are the kinds of people that we wholeheartedly support. And for those and other reasons, we wholeheartedly support Mr. Kawafuchi.

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, none. Excused, 4 (Ihara, Inouye, Kawamoto, Kim).

At this time, Senator Taniguchi introduced Mr. Kawafuchi to the members of the Senate. (Mr. Kawafuchi, who was seated in the gallery with family and friends, rose to be recognized.)

At 12:13 o’clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:17 o’clock p.m.

No. 41, S.D. 1, entitled: “SENATE RESOLUTION REQUESTING A STUDY ON RENOVATION AND RECONSTRUCTION OPTIONS AND THE FORMULATION OF A MASTER PLAN FOR ALOHA STADIUM,” was adopted.

MISCELLANEOUS COMMUNICATION

Misc. Com. No. 7, from the 2002 Legislative Salary Commission dated March 25, 2003, transmitting the Commission’s salary recommendations for the 2005 and future members of the Hawaii State Legislature, was read by the Clerk and was placed on file.

Senator Hemmings rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

“One of the great luxuries we have in this country is our First Amendment rights to speak out on the issues, and I’m going to exercise that right today because, unfortunately, oftentimes the media does not get the entire story and misleads the general public. And that is my opinion of what happened in this morning’s Advertiser in their article regarding long-term care. My colleagues may have read it.

"I won't belabor the particulars on it and why most of the Minority opposition here at the Legislature stands against the long-term care plan as it is now presented, but what I will tell you is that the story did misrepresent, I think, the insurance industry.

"How so, you say? It reported my comments regarding the long-term care monopoly that this bill would create for state government in the business. It secondly reported that I felt that the legislation in favor of long-term care by state government was being held hostage by the long-term health care tax credit being included in the bill. That's true; that's exactly what I said. But what is misleading is, following that portion of the article, the reporter went on to say that the insurance industry spokesperson they had talked to supported the legislation also.

"I took the liberty of calling that individual, and after talking to him for quite a while, found out that he was very unaware of the particulars of the legislation and, quite frankly, was misinformed on the impact that it may have. At the end of the conversation, he did volunteer to me that he did get the association endorsement of part of the legislation. That led me to ask him, well, what are they supporting? And he said they're supporting the tax credit. I asked him then, well, how do they feel about the legislation to start a state funded and operated long-term health care insurance program? And he said the industry was opposed to it, and hence, my point of personal privilege.

"The story was extremely misleading in that the individual's support of the legislation did not reflect the industry's opposition along with most insurance agents. And I want the record to be perfectly clear on this issue because I do think that this Senate was very responsible in handling this issue last year. We must be very, very clear that the industry, as a whole, is prepared to address the problem of long-term care and it is opposing the section of the bill that is in front of us now that would allow for government to set up its own insurance program. I think this is very important for the purposes of decision-making based on accurate information.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Baker also rose and said:

"Mr. President, in the interest of full disclosure and accuracy, let me just correct one of the points that the good Senator just made. The proposal that's before your Ways and Means Committee and was before your Health and Human Services Committees that the Senate voted on previously, doesn't set up a government program. It is a program that is clearly paid for through the income tax that people file, but it will be administered, it will be created, it will be run by a third party administrator. It's not going to be run by a state bureaucracy. It is going to be in the private sector and I think that makes it very different than what the Senator just described.

"Thank you."

Senator Hemmings rose in rebuttal and said:

"Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege in rebuttal.

"I do not want to get into a debate on the Floor of the Senate regarding the particulars of this issue, especially when it comes to semantics, but when I give my money to somebody, they control where it's spent. And that's exactly what this legislation does.

"This law also mandates how this would be operated and how it would be paid for, which is through the taxpayers' pocket – to government and by government. Therefore, it is controlled by government, even though it can be administered by the private sector.

"There's nothing in the future that this government would not control this program, could come in and change the rules, up the fees, change the terms on who it would apply to and who it would not apply to. Therefore, follow the money, follow the control, and clearly it's a government program.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Sakamoto rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

"Mr. President, may I make a point on personal privilege?"

"I agree with the Senator from Waimanalo on the global point that many times the media doesn't give the correct picture. I am dismayed sometimes that we don't have the opportunity or a good opportunity to correct what is misconstrued. And not on the specific points of this issue, which is a very important issue, but many times I would hope the media would really verify what they're saying, as opposed to putting something out as fact when many times it's half a fact.

"Thank you."

ADOPTION OF RESOLUTIONS

MATTERS DEFERRED FROM FRIDAY, MARCH 28, 2003

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1216 (S.C.R. No. 33, S.D. 1):

Senator Kawamoto moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1216 and S.C.R. No. 33, S.D. 1, be adopted, seconded by Senator Hogue.

Senator Menor rose to speak in support of the measures and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to offer some brief remarks in support of Stand. Com. Rep. Nos. 1216 and 1217.

"Mr. President, I believe that the testimony received by your Committee on Commerce, Consumer Protection and Housing with respect to these resolutions has made it abundantly clear that legal action against Chevron/Texaco is necessary if the State of Hawaii is to stand any chance of recovering millions of dollars in back taxes that the oil company has apparently failed to pay. During the hearings that the CPH Committee conducted on this issue, the Committee heard from a nationally recognized accounting and tax expert, Professor James E. Wheeler of the University of Michigan and the University of Hawaii, who explained in detail the complex and elaborate tax evasion scheme that Chevron and Texaco may have entered into with their joint venture, Caltex, and the government of Indonesia.

"Mr. President, the specifics of this tax evasion scheme are summarized in the resolutions that are before all of you. So in the interest of time, I will not revisit them at this time. However, I would like to point out that according to Professor Wheeler, the State of Hawaii may be owed over $470 million in back taxes. Moreover, I would like to emphasize that it is especially important for Hawaii to proceed with litigation since it appears that the oil company not only avoided paying the State of Hawaii millions of dollars in taxes at prior years, but that the company continues to pursue this practice of tax evasion, according to Professor Wheeler.

"Mr. President, there are several compelling reasons why I believe the State should proceed with legal action immediately. First of all, our State faces difficult economic times and we need the millions of dollars that the oil company may owe Hawaii, to fund important programs and services. We also need to stop any tax fraud that may be occurring and start receiving the unpaid taxes that the oil company owes the people of Hawaii. There also exists a likelihood that Hawaii's consumers overpaid and continue to overpay for gasoline, since the State imports a significant percentage of its crude oil from Indonesia where the oil company is accused of conspiring to purchase crude oil at deliberately inflated prices as part of a tax evasion scheme.

"The State also cannot look the other way if laws are being broken, and there is substantial evidence pointing to the oil company's potential involvement in unlawful activities, including accepting kickbacks, filing false income tax returns, and falsely reporting business transactions. The government also has a basic obligation to enforce the law, not only as a matter of principle, but also in fairness to the honest taxpayers of our State who have to pay more than their share to cover the shortfall of those who do not.

"The State must enforce the laws that we have on the books if it wants to maintain the public's faith in our government institutions. At this time when many Hawaii families are struggling to make ends meet, we cannot let one of the wealthiest companies in Hawaii, and in the world, break our laws with impunity and leave the taxpayers of Hawaii holding the bag.

"Finally, I believe that there is much to gain if legal action is successful, and little to lose, since the Chicago-based Winston & Strawn, one of the largest and most highly respected law firms in the nation on tax issues, is willing to take on this case at no cost to the State.

"For these reasons, Mr. President, I ask my colleagues in the Senate to vote in favor of these resolutions so that they may serve as a catalyst to initiate a legal process which I think ultimately will benefit the people of Hawaii.

"Thank you."

Senator Hemmings rose to speak against the resolutions as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against S.C.R. No. 33, S.D. 1, and its companion, S.R. No. 21, S.D. 1.

"I would suspect a law firm willing to take this issue on is not doing it pro bono. I would suspect they're more than likely doing it on a contingency, which is often the case in situations like this.

"There are many things that could be said about this issue because they have been discussed for well over 10 years. I can remember as far back as the Waihee administration – a great man, a knight of the people riding into this issue on his steed, fighting the big bad oil companies on behalf of the consumers of Hawaii.

"Well, after years of litigation, as we know for a matter of record, that litigation amounted to a settlement that probably barely covered lawyer's costs on the issue, especially the cost to the taxpayers' in pursuing the litigation.

"Mr. President and colleagues, this year we have tried, as we said in the early days of the Session and the opening day, that we have tried to be bipartisan, and oftentimes, nonpartisan in addressing many of the issues that face us. And I think we've been very successful in the Senate. We've done many wonderful things that in the past would not have been done simply for partisan reasons . . . which leads me to have to wonder not what we're doing here, but why we're doing it.

"Last year we saw, in the waning days of the Session, another issue concerning the price of gasoline in the State of Hawaii – hence, the infamous gas cap bill. That ties right in to this movement here, in my estimation. This is nothing more than an ongoing effort on a witch-hunt against big ugly oil companies that are gauging the consumers. Well, the facts speak otherwise. Gas prices in Hawaii, for instance, are currently less than they are in the states and areas on the mainland that were indexing our alleged gas cap legislation too.

“This resolution completely ignores the fact that there has been federal review of this issue, and the local pursuit of it judicially resulted in little or nothing. If there is indeed a reason to pursue this, it certainly should not be a partisan effort on the part of political entities that hope to make election assets out of it, as was done this last election.

“I’m hoping that we would defer these resolutions and do what’s prudent and allow the IRS and the State Attorney General’s Office to make a fair determination on what’s best to protect the taxpayers’ interest.

“Maybe if we’re really interested in the taxpayers here, we can look into ways to reduce the cost of gas in the State of Hawaii. I think the previous speaker knows, as we all do, the single biggest cost in a gallon of gas in the State of Hawaii is taxes – the highest tax in the nation for gas here in Hawaii.

“In speaking against this, I not only challenge what it is doing, but I want you to ask yourselves what is the real intent here. Quite frankly, I was ashamed at the gas cap legislation last year and the result of political deception that came about as a result, where voters that were supposed to make informed decisions on who would represent them were sent lies about their voting record.

“So I’m hoping the motives of this are not such, but unfortunately, prior experience dictates otherwise. The prudent thing to do is send this back to Committee.

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Baker rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of these resolutions.

“When corporations shirk their responsibilities as part of our society, they must be taken to task, and that’s what these resolutions address. During the Consumer Protection Committee hearing of March 10, significant testimony was presented that pointed to an ongoing complex and fraudulent transfer pricing scheme perpetrated for more than three decades by Chevron and Texaco. This scheme involved the purchase of Indonesian crude oil at inflated prices and kickbacks in the form of price rebates and free oil from the Indonesian state-owned oil company. The net result is a loss of millions of dollars in taxes that should have been paid to the State of Hawaii and others.

“Preliminary public documents from a federal IRS case have indicated that such a scheme did in fact exist and resulted in significant tax loss to the US as well. Tax fraud, most probably, was also committed. Subsequently to this investigation, Chevron and Texaco have merged, which means that over time it will become even more difficult to track this fraudulent practice if it is not brought to light and stopped now. As long as Chevron Texaco continues this transfer pricing scheme, Hawaii will continue to lose tax revenue and suffer inflated prices at the pump. Hawaii consumers already pay among the highest gas prices in the country, even if you take out the amount of tax that we pay.

“Through these transactions, the oil companies could be still evading the payment of billions of dollars in federal taxes, in addition to the millions in State taxes, by overstating their costs of doing business and taking a credit on foreign taxes paid on overstated revenue. Oil was sold to Chevron’s and Texaco’s domestic subsidiaries at inflated prices, and gasoline made from that oil was likely sold at inflated prices as well. Because more than one-third of our imported oil came from Indonesia during the period in question from 1990 to 1997, it is highly likely that Hawaii consumers paid, and are still paying, these inflated prices at the pump.

“This Administration has an opportunity and I believe an obligation to Hawaii’s consumers to continue to pursue this litigation, not just because it will help our budget shortfall, which a recovery would, but because it is the right thing to do. We have an obligation to our constituents who expect us to protect them from fraud and dishonest practices. We also have an obligation to ensure that questionable business practices of this company are thoroughly investigated and any illegal activities stopped. I would also point out that there is no financial risk to our State. The law firm contracted by the previous administration to pursue this matter has undertaken this case at no cost to the State of Hawaii. It’s a win-win situation for our taxpayers. The State stands to gain millions of lost tax revenue and there is no negative impact on our budget!

“We know all too well about the so-called creative accounting that was done for companies like Enron and Tyco. It is of no comfort to me that Chevron Texaco’s auditor was Arthur Andersen, and I’m sure that our constituents probably feel the same way. If the business practices of Chevron Texaco were not questionable, why then did the Internal Revenue Service have to ask the federal court to make Chevron produce documents important to its investigation of the foreign tax credits received as a result of its ‘creative’ accounting practice? And why did Chevron insist that the court seal these documents? Wasn’t it just to prevent State’s like Hawaii from pursuing additional litigation and additional recovery? The documents in the public domain are quite damaging; it is likely that additional documents produced in the course of the litigation will be even more so.

“I believe, Mr. President and colleagues, that this litigation against Chevron Texaco must go forward. To do less would be to knuckle under to the special interests and large corporations. We have a duty to protect our citizens from possible fraudulent practices and to recover lost tax revenue on their behalf. Taxpayers of this State should not be subsidizing huge profits of big oil. I urge my colleagues to join me to support this important measure.

“Thank you.”

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the resolutions and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to the Senate concurrent resolution and resolution.

“I’ve never been known as one to knuckle under to anybody or anything, and I see these resolutions as just another attempt at wealth envy by some in our State. The period of time of three decades was mentioned and I can recall, during those three decades, going to many hearings, sitting in on hearings, hearing charges and allegations. And that was during a period of time when the Majority Party, actually four decades, controlled this State lock, stock, and barrel – the executive branch, the judicial branch, the legislative branch.

“I can remember two former attorney generals who were very active in the courts, and they came up empty. I can remember tax directors never saying a word about any kind tax problem. And when we read the resolution, we’re struck by the terms – may have, apparently, if, allegedly, potentially, probably, could have – and yet we’re urging further litigation.

“Well, isn’t it wonderful that the law firm from Chicago has stepped forward as a pro bono effort to help the State. I haven’t seen too many of these law firms that have ever come forward to help this State or certainly to help the people. And when the statement is made ‘there’s no financial risk; there’s no expenditure,’ that’s just not true. We may cover up our expenditure in terms of the time and the personnel that are involved. And we’ve seen this over the last couple of years when the past attorneys general were involved in these and other exploits. Those of us in the Senate saw hearing after hearing where people came from departments, and they’re still coming, saying we couldn’t get any relief or any help or any assistance from the attorney general’s office, so give us the power and more expenditure to hire our own attorneys.

“If the resolution sought to provide new information or to urge that the new administration pursue any evidence which has been forthcoming, then I don’t think there’d be any problem because we can all support this. And you know what? The good news is the administration is doing just that. The attorney general is doing just that. But that’s a far cry from saying, ‘let’s have litigation based on suppositions and allegations. Let’s go after the company because it is large, because it is successful, because it is a primary energy producer in this State. Let’s go after them.’

“The fact that we have a study – the Gramlich and Wheeler study – well that’s reassuring. We’re the study capital of the free world! This body authorizes more studies than any other place on the face of the earth. We have a study which will show just about anything you want. But show hard evidence! Show evidence that will stand up in court, because that’s the bottom line if you want successful litigation. And that’s what our attorneys are doing right now, seeing if in fact there are any additional evidence or charges that will hold up in a court of law. We had all kinds of promises before of fraud, of wrongdoing, and none of them were substantiated in court.

“And now we have crocodile tears for the taxpayers and consumers of this State. Isn’t it nice that individuals in this body are worried about being overtaxed and yet they continue to advocate and introduce higher taxes, newer taxes, increased fees. You want to help the consumers and the taxpayers, cut the taxes, reduce the taxes, eliminate the taxes. We have the power to do that.

“And by the way, just in case anything is found by the oil companies or anyone else, that they in fact added to the cost of consumers, there’s nothing in the resolution, there’s nothing in past actions that gives anything back to the consumers. It would go back to the State.

“So Mr. President and colleagues, all I see here is a chumming expedition, which is all the more interesting since we had the Majority Attorneys, the Majority Party, the Majority tax directors, everyone else looking into this situation for 10 years. It’s not a question that the merger between the two companies at this point, several years ago, is going to hide anything. It’s just that when you talk about the may’s, and the if’s, and the would be’s, and the could be’s, there’s nothing there.

“We should prioritize our efforts. We should be concerned about consumers. We should also be concerned about those people within our midst in our community that are well documented and well known that do owe taxes to the State, but for some reason have been given a pass up to this point and not been taken to task for the taxes that they owe.

“It’s fun to talk about the billions of dollars and millions of dollars that may be out there, but our job is to deal with the realities that we have, including balancing our budget and making sure that we don’t add to the discomfort and burdens of individual family and small business consumers in this State. And so far, we haven’t done that and these resolutions would not help in any way.

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Trimble rose in opposition and said:

“Thank you, Mr. President. Ain’t witch-hunts grand. A lot of words have been spread on this . . . what do I call it . . . it’s not really a feel-good resolution, but it gives us a sense that we’re really doing something.

“We had the opportunity, as a body, several weeks ago when this Session started, to look at a couple pieces of legislation that really would have reduced the cost of gasoline in this State. We chose not to hear them. We could have reexamined the divorce law. We chose not to do that. We could have reduced the price of gasoline taxes in Hawaii. We chose not to do that. But in the last month or the last six weeks of the Legislature, we needed something to feel good about, so let’s have a witch-hunt and blame the oil companies for the high price of gasoline.

“I think this is the wrong approach at the wrong time. I will be voting ‘no’ on these resolutions. Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Menor rose in response and said:

“Mr. President, I just want to offer some brief responses to some of the comments made by the previous speakers.

“I think that the comments about witch-hunt really mischaracterize the intent and important purpose of these resolutions and ignore the fact that there is, again, substantial evidence to indicate that a tax evasion scheme was being perpetrated by the oil company, resulting in millions of dollars being deprived and lost to the State of Hawaii.

“I’ll note some of those items of evidence or documents for this body’s consideration. As already mentioned, Professor Wheeler together with Professor Jeffrey Gramlich put together a very comprehensive and impressive report. And I would suggest that those who criticize these resolutions take a close look at this report because it’s impressive coming from two nationally recognized accounting and tax professors. But in addition, it’s very detailed, not only in terms of the statements and conclusions and findings that they reached, but also in citing specific documentation already in the public domain, which I believe offers enough evidence for the State to proceed against this oil company for bilking taxpayers and the residents of this State out of millions of dollars.

“In addition to this report, I would also note, and my Vice-Chair has discussed this previously, that there was ongoing litigation initiated by the Internal Revenue Service against Chevron Texaco for tax evasion. This was in connection with an IRS audit that was conducted of Chevron and Texaco back in the 1980s and 1990s. And the litigation needed to proceed because of the fact that Chevron and Texaco were stonewalling the IRS requests for the production of important documents and information to verify one way or the other whether a tax evasion scheme was being entered into. In connection with that litigation to force Chevron and Texaco to produce documents, some important pieces of information and documentation were generated and produced which support the State moving ahead with its case.

“For example, I note for my colleagues’ reference, an affidavit that was submitted by a Brian Halm, who at the time of the IRS audit was the branch chief in the examination division of the Internal Revenue Service in San Francisco, California. This affidavit indicates that there appears to have been some tax evasion by the oil companies at the time of the audit in preceding years. In addition to Brian Halm’s affidavit, I also would direct my colleagues’ attention to a technical advice memorandum issued by the IRS in connection with that litigation. There is also a report entitled, ‘The Economics of Lifting Sumatran Crude,’ which is a confidential Chevron and Texaco document of about 30 pages in length that is in the public domain, and which again I think offers some additional compelling evidence for the State to proceed with its litigation.

“But the most damning, Mr. President and my fellow colleagues, the most damning comments and evidence came from the federal magistrate who conducted hearings on the IRS’s request for production of documents. The name of the magistrate is Judge Langford. And in a hearing on the issue of IRS access to these documents, Judge Langford states, and I quote verbatim, ‘This Court has thoroughly and carefully reviewed both the Governor’s proffer in support of probable cause and the documents themselves submitted for in-camera review. The Court concludes that the proffer, along with the documents themselves, adequately supports a finding to believe that (a) one or more crimes or frauds have been committed or attempted; and (b) that the attorney client communications at issue were created in furtherance of those crimes or frauds, including a showing of the clients (in this case, Chevron’s) intent.’

“So again, I think all of the previous comments saying that this is a witch-hunt, that we don’t have enough evidence, that’s not true. And for those who say that we ought to let the Attorney General’s Office continue to review and study the issue, I think we’ve got enough studies and reviews. It’s time to take decisive action for the consumers of Hawaii. Let’s proceed with this litigation against the oil company in the future.

“Thank you.”

ADVISE AND CONSENT

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1219 (Gov. Msg. No. 14):

Senator Fukunaga moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1219 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Kim and carried.

Senator Fukunaga then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of TED LIU as Director of the Department of Business, Economic Development, and Tourism, term to expire December 4, 2006, seconded by Senator Kim.

Senator Fukunaga rose to speak in support of the nominee as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of Gov. Msg. No. 14.

"Your Committees on Economic Development and Tourism, to which was referred Gov. Msg. No. 14, held two joint hearings and questioned Mr. Liu on his qualifications for this position. Ted Liu brings a great deal of international business experience to the position of Director of the Department of Business and Economic Development. He is the co-founder of Pacific Gap Group, a Hawaii-based private equity firm focused on venture capital investment. He was formerly managing director of Morgan Stanley & Company, Inc.; a Senior Associate and head of the China Practice Group for a Wall Street law firm; Chief Executive Officer of Public International Investments Ltd./First Shanghai Investments Ltd.; advisor to the New York Stock Exchange on financial markets in China; and part of the founding staff of China Daily, the first English language newspaper in China.

"Mr. Liu talked about his formative sales experiences as a newspaper boy, hawking newspapers on a street corner and waiting tables in a Chinese restaurant. In these early jobs, he quickly determined that exceptional customer service was the key component to success in sales and marketing.

"His goals and objections for DBEDT similarly emphasize a customer service orientation, such as returning phone calls and e-mails with dispatch, efficiency and accountability, coupled with relevant data and analysis. He has proposed to restructure the department to engage DBEDT's constituencies, build the department's internal capacity, facilitate solutions, and provide leadership.

"Ted is also pursuing ideas on how to make Hawaii truly competitive and to produce products or services that can be effectively marketed to the widest possible audience. Thinking outside the box to generate ideas for Hawaii's future business development, he plans to utilize his contacts in China, Taiwan and Japan to promote deals and markets for Hawaii.

"As he has pointed out, economic growth becomes the primary measure for success and we should all collaborate to ensure that our marketing and promotional programs attract visitors that contribute to the economic well being of the industry and the State. DBEDT will work with the business community on tourism infrastructure to remain competitive as well.

"For all of the foregoing reasons, I support Mr. Liu's devoting his considerable talent, energies, and enthusiasm to business creation and development here in the State of Hawaii. I therefore urge your support for Ted Liu's nomination as Director of the Department of Business and Economic Development.

"Thank you."

Senator Hemmings rose to speak in favor of the nomination as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of Gov. Msg. No. 14, the nomination and confirmation of Ted Liu to head the Department of Business, Economic Development and Tourism.

"Oftentimes, there are different ways to measure leadership, and certainly, measuring one's leadership abilities in times of duress or stress are a good indicator of the character of the person. In recent past, we have seen on numerous occasions, scathing audits by Marion Higa of various departments. And quite frankly, the reaction by the departments have uniformly been, she's wrong and other ways to deflect the criticism.

"What is really refreshing is the attitude of Mr. Liu. In a recent audit, the DBEDT was . . . not attacked, but criticized for the way it had done things in the past. And unlike others who have tried to deny the audit, the reaction of Ted Liu reflects the character of this man, and I'd like to quote the Advertiser, 'DBEDT director Ted Liu said he plans to work with the Auditor's Office to address the concerns raised. 'It's got the type of information that will be very useful to us,' he said of the audit.' And this is the kind of attitude that is really refreshing and it's going to bring the dramatic changes that this State so desperately needs in the executive branch of government to have the people's needs served better.

"Therefore, I think it's incumbent upon us to all join in unanimously supporting this nomination in its vote today. Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Slom rose to support the nominee and said:

"Mr. President, I rise, also, in support of Gov. Msg. No. 14, Ted Liu.

"On behalf of the Minority Caucus, I want to add a few remarks because truly if there's any individual that has been appointed in recent years that is overqualified, it certainly is Mr. Liu. When everybody is talking about 'you only get what you pay for,' and they call for raising salaries, we are getting a real bargain. We're getting much more than we paid for in Mr. Liu's appointment.

"There was only one negative thing, however, that the Caucus had to go over. In his resume he stressed that he speaks fluent Mandarin but his Portuguese was only passable. But we were able to huddle on that, and with the concurrence of the Minority Leader, we were able to overlook that at this time, if he works on that. (Laughter.)

"As one who has been critical and skeptical of the Department of Business in the past because of its seemingly blind and deaf ear, oftentimes, to small business needs and issues in this community, I'm very heartened and very encouraged by the approach that Mr. Liu has taken. He's already on the job. He has been doing a good job. He's been trying to be more inclusive and get people in the community involved. I have not seen of any of the candidates in recent years, a more complete vision statement of what he intends to do with that department. I think he's got the energy, he's got the focus, he's got the leadership abilities to make these things happen.

"So we certainly listen as he listens and we will be watching to see and help him in any way to make this department a very positive department in our State's economic future. So we're very happy to support the nomination of Mr. Liu and encourage all of our colleagues to do likewise. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Ige).

At this time, Senator Fukunaga introduced Mr. Liu and his family to the members of the Senate. (Mr. Liu, who was seated in the gallery, rose to be recognized.)

At 12:25 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:30 o'clock p.m.

| House Concurrent Resolution | Referred to: |
| No. 62, H.D. 1 | Jointly to the Committee on Human Services, the Committee on Health and the Committee on Education, then to the Committee on Transportation, Military Affairs, and Government Operations |

Senator Inouye, Chair of the Committee on Water, Land, and Agriculture, requested a waiver of the notice requirement pursuant to Senate Rule 21 for S.C.R. No. 153.

Senator Inouye noted:

"Mr. President, the purpose of this resolution is to request an investigation on the state and counties' land use policies related to solid waste management programs. The hearing notice was filed yesterday and we were several hours short of the 72-hour notice requirement."

The Chair then granted the waiver.

Senator Sakamoto, Chair of the Committee on Education, requested a waiver of the notice requirement pursuant to Senate Rule 21 for S.C.R. No. 146 and S.R. No. 98.

Senator Sakamoto noted:

"Mr. President, the purpose of these resolutions is to request the formation of a long-range plan to address the future of public and school libraries. The hearing notice was filed yesterday and we were a few hours short of the 72-hour notice requirement."

The Chair granted the waiver.

Senator Kawamoto, Chair of the Committee on Transportation, Military Affairs, and Government Operations, requested a waiver of the notice requirement pursuant to Senate Rule 21 for H.B. No. 1253.

Senator Kawamoto noted:

"Mr. President, this bill clarifies the procurement requirements for small purchases and is similar to S.B. No. 686, which was already heard by your Committee."

The Chair granted the waiver.

Senator Ihara rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

"Mr. President, I would like to state for the record my objection to the 2003 Conference Committee Procedures delivered to my office yesterday, namely chair veto rule number 8-b. These procedures were delivered to my office without a transmittal memo, so I'm going to presume that they are in effect.

"Rule 8-b of these Conference rules require a majority of Conference Committee Chairs of each house to vote in favor of a bill in order to report a bill out of that Conference Committee. As you recall, two years ago we had a rule, a simple chair veto rule. And last Session that rule was amended to allow a method of overriding a chair veto. Under the current rule, only in situations where there are three chairs can two chairs override an objection of one chair. So if there are three chairs and one chair says 'I don't want to move the bill out,' the only way for the bill to move out would be for the two other chairs to override that chair veto. That's why I still call it a chair veto rule.

"My problem is, of course, that well over half of the bills in Conference have two chairs or less. And so the veto power still lives, is alive and well in our Conference rules. I believe that the chair veto rule violates a fundamental principle of democracy – that is equality among members of an organization, and particularly the equality of votes among Senators.

"This rule makes my vote of lesser value than a Committee chair and I believe that is simply unfair. Here's an example: let's say there are five chairs – five House and five Senate Conference Committee chairs – and each Conference Committee in the House and Senate have two chairs each. So there is a total of ten members on the Conference Committee – five House, five Senate. When a vote on a bill is made on a conference draft, let's say all House members vote 'aye' and all Senate Conference Committee members vote 'aye' except one chair, where you have two chairs. In that situation, you have the single chair who objects. That Senator's vote is worth four votes because that one Senator can override four other votes. So the vote in Conference is four to one – three members vote 'aye,' one of the chairs vote 'aye,' so that one Senate chair can trump, can veto and override the other four Senate Conference Committee members. So that one chair's 'no' vote is equal to four votes. I believe that in most people's eyes, that is unfair.

"Mr. President, I don't know how many other Senators oppose this chair veto rule, but if there were enough, and there hasn't been in the last two years, if there were enough, I would submit a resolution to prohibit this rule, which I believe is a violation of my voting rights as a Senator.

"Thank you."

The Chair responded:

"Your remarks are so noted."

ADJOURNMENT

Senator Hanabusa moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1226 be adopted and H.B. No. 373, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland.

Senator Hogue rose in opposition to the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in opposition to this bill.

“Mr. President, I do believe in the freedom of speech. I’m sure all of us do. However, there are certain limitations that we already currently have – for example, our staffers cannot come down here to this building and work at the State Capitol with ‘vote for Hanabusa’ or ‘vote for Shan Tsutsui,’ even if that’s what they would like to do, but they cannot do it. You cannot go into the voting booth and have ‘vote for Ron Menor’ all over your T-shirt while you’re voting in Mililani, even if you do love the UCLA Bruins where Ron Menor went to school, but you cannot do that. So there are certain restrictions in freedom of speech.

“This particular bill, on page 4, takes away the fundamental property right by stating ‘a landlord shall not prohibit a tenant from displaying an otherwise legal sign,’ and it goes on to talk about election purposes, etc., etc. I’m sure that all of you have run into this along the way on the campaign trail, and you’ve gone over and you’ve seen a particular corner that you really want to put your sign up, and you go up and you talk to the people who say ‘well, we’re renters here and our landlord doesn’t want us to have political signs put up there.’ Well, that’s for good reason, because the landlord does not want to change the culture, if you will, of that particular corner. They want to stay free from controversy. They believe that they have that right, and inherently they do.

“Landlords should be able to maintain their property as they see fit. For example, as a tenant, you wouldn’t be able to knock down a wall, you wouldn’t be able to change other things on the property, and landlords should be given that right.

“So for these reasons, even though I believe in the freedom of speech, I will be voting ‘no’ on this particular measure because, essentially, it does take away a landlord’s fundamental property rights.

“Thank you very much, Mr. President.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1226 was adopted and H.B. No. 373, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO POLITICAL SPEECH,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Noes, 3 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1227 (H.B. No. 385, H.D. 2, S.D. 2):

On motion by Senator Hanabusa, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1227 was adopted and H.B. No. 385, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE PREVENTION OF WORKPLACE VIOLENCE,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1228 (H.B. No. 651, H.D. 2, S.D. 1):

No. 651, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO INFORMED CONSENT,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Hanabusa moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1229 be adopted and H.B. No. 914, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland.

Senator Hogue rose to speak in opposition to the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in opposition to this particular measure.

“Essentially, what has happened here, members, is that there has been a big change as the wording from H.D. 2 to H.D. 2, S.D. 1 has been changed. Originally, in the original draft it said the Department of Health may conduct unannounced annual inspections, and I believe the Department of Health was in favor of that and we can certainly see that this would probably be good practice, allowing them, through administrative rules, to go through with unannounced visits to these particular adult residential care homes.

“However, now the wording says shall conduct unannounced visits to every licensed adult residential care home. And that’s where we run into major, major problems. Because we have mandated that they must conduct unannounced visits, we are putting major restrictions upon the administration of the Department of Health for a well-intended idea.

“I can certainly say that all of us want to have our elderly safe. None of us here is for elder abuse in any way. However, by putting the caveat in there – shall conduct unannounced visits – really puts a major damper on the administration of the Department of Health, and for those reasons, I’ll be voting ‘no.’

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Baker rose to speak in support of the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of this measure.

“With all due respect to the previous remarks of the speaker from the Kaneohe side of the Island of Oahu, in discussions that we’ve had with the Department of Health, they have every intention of doing unannounced inspections. This bill is very clear that these are the more random types of unannounced inspections. It still provides that the annual inspection may be conducted unannounced or done in the fashion that the Department of Health currently uses, which is, they select a month, a day of the week within that month, and they tell the care home operator that’s when they’re going to come to do their licensing exam. Right now, the Department of Health does not have the authority to go in, except on a complaint, to take a look at the conditions in the home – to take a look at the residents, to take a look at any activity that may be happening there.

“This bill has come from lots of concern in the community about how we treat our elders. We have unannounced inspections for liquor establishments. We have unannounced inspections for all other kinds of long-term care facilities. We have unannounced inspections for child care facilities. Our adult, frail elderly deserve no less than the ability of the agency that is charged with protecting and preserving their care, to allow that agency to go in on an unannounced basis to take a look and to make sure that everything is proceeding appropriately.

"I am convinced, based on the conversations that I've had with the Department of Health and with testimony that they presented to the Committee on Health, that they support the unannounced nature of this bill. There may be some concerns about some of the items in statutory language that might easily be put into rules, but we're working that through with them.

"This is a very good bill. It's a bill that helps to protect our elderly, and it's one that I encourage all of my colleagues to vote in favor of.

"Thank you."

Senator Espero rose in support with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, I'd like to rise in support of this measure with reservations.

"My only concern has to do with the unannounced inspections regarding the annual license renewal and I'd like to insert some comments into the Journal."

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Espero's remarks read as follows:

"Unannounced inspections 365 days of the year is fine. I have spoken with individuals in the care home industry, and the need to protect our elderly and frail is not in question. However, unannounced inspections which deal with the annual license renewal is a problem. Care homes should be able to schedule the annual license renewal because of the importance of the subject matter. Knowledge of the annual license renewal date does not impact unannounced inspections, which can happen any day of the year. But like other institutions (banks, pharmacies, colleges, schools, hospitals), announced inspections or examinations for the purpose of license renewal or accreditation is not unusual and should be allowed. If money is an issue, the Legislature should provide the necessary funds to allow unannounced inspections and announced annual license renewal inspections. Unannounced inspections with announced license renewals is workable."

Senator Menor rose in favor with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, I just want the Clerk to note my vote in favor with reservations."

The Chair so ordered.

Senator Kawamoto requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Aduja rose and said:

"Mr. President, I'd like to also lodge my reservations on this measure. Thank you."

The Chair so ordered.

Senators Kim and Sakamoto requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to the measure.

"I think what we've just seen, in terms of everyone jumping up with reservations, shows that the proposed legislation is not as clear as the proponents would like us to believe that it is.

And in fact, changing the word from 'may' to 'shall' always has an undesired impact.

"But let me state very clearly for those of us that are going to be voting 'no' on this measure – we are absolutely opposed to elder abuse or any kind of abuse whatsoever. And that's not what this bill is about, and that's not what the inspections are about. And anybody that's ever gone through one of these inspections, or a HIOSH inspection, or other Department of Labor inspection, or all the others, know that in many cases, what this does is go far beyond what the issue is supposed to be and what the protection is supposed to be. And that's the case here as well.

"If there in fact is a complaint, if there is an allegation, if there is any evidence whatsoever to have one believe that there is any kind of abuse or wrongdoing going on, then absolutely not only should there be inspections, but there should be indictments and prosecutions. That goes without saying.

"However, what these inspections do is go far beyond any issue of personal safety or personal care. And what they do is disrupt the businesses, cause additional time concerns and constraints, and additional costs as well. And that, when we say and here that we're going to be working these things out, these should all be worked out beforehand so that we know exactly what we're working for and what we're voting for.

"As it is right now, we're voting for something that goes far beyond what the proponents say. Thank you."

Senator Slom rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

"Several days ago we had a very lively discussion on a resolution here about litigation, and a number of my colleagues raised the issue about the consumers and taxpayers being overcharged in our State and I saw a lot of crocodile tears. Today in Ways and Means, we passed through several bills that will add more than $300 million in new taxes to those consumers who are already overburdened. That, with another bill, the long-term care tax bill, is another $100 million. That's $400 million in new taxes.

"In addition to that, we have additional bills that would raise taxes, such as the conveyance tax, a lot of new fees, a lot of additional public employees, so that the consumers – the overcharged consumers – will pay even more.

"So I think we should get it straight, Mr. President, and I think we should learn that if we really want to help the consumers, we should be cutting their taxes, reducing regulations and fees and doing everything that we can instead of trying to add to their burden, which we did today and apparently we're going to do next Tuesday.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

ADVISE AND CONSENT

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1276 (Jud. Com. No. 2):

Senator Hanabusa moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1276 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland and carried.

Senator Hanabusa then moved that the Senate consent to the nomination of BERT I. AYABE as Judge of the District Court of the First Circuit, for a term of six years, in accordance with the provisions of Article VI, Section 3, of the Hawaii State Constitution, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland.

Senator Hanabusa rose in support of the nominee and said:

"Mr. President, I stand to speak in favor of Jud. Com. No. 2, submitting for study and consideration the nomination of Bert I. Ayabe to the District Court of the First Circuit.

"Mr. President, let me first begin by saying that we had two of these judiciary communications – Bert Ayabe and Michael Broderick – on April Fools' Day. And I don't know whether it was the day, but it was one of the most enjoyable hearings we've had.

"Let me first begin by saying that the Hawaii State Bar Association came forward and testified for the first time and I would just like to explain to yourself, Mr. President, and the members of this body as to how they now process the nominees. They said that in the past, they haven't had the sufficient amount of time to really look at the nominees. But now they're asking us for 10 to 14 days. During that time, they review the resume questionnaire, they e-mail solicitation from all Bar members, and they have the candidates appear before the board. They believe that they are now following the same criteria the American Bar Association does, and they are actually ranking the various nominees on the following points: integrity, legal knowledge and ability, professional experience, judicial temperament, diligence, financial responsibility, public service, collegiality, and writing ability. Based upon their very detailed analysis, they have found Jud. Com. No. 2, Bert Ayabe, to be highly qualified.

"Mr. President, what we learned in the testimony that we received in the Judiciary Committee is as follows: Mr. Ayabe is the ultimate local boy – a Kaimuki High School graduate only because he turned down a Punahou scholarship to stay with his friends and to play football at Kaimuki; he went to the University of Hawaii and he graduated from the Hastings College of Law. His legal career has primarily been in the private sector, being primarily in insurance defense but has moved over to actually doing things like mediations and arbitrations.

"The testimony we received said unanimously that they believe he is the perfect candidate for judgeship and primarily basing it upon his characteristics and his temperament, a very important necessary element when one serves on the district court level.

"There's one testimony which I believe warrants sharing, and that was by his mentor, his teacher, his football coach, and who later was, I guess, the athletic director at Kaimuki High School, and his name is Charlie Miyashiro. Mr. Miyashiro said, 'I liken him (meaning Bert Ayabe) to be like Jack Armstrong, the all-American boy.' Mr. President, I didn't want to sound totally ignorant to Mr. Ayabe's mentor, but I had no idea who Jack Armstrong was. So, of course being the resourceful person that I am, I asked one of the members from across the way there, who is a lot wiser – if wisdom is associated with age – who told me about Jack Armstrong. So, thanks to the good Senator from Hawaii Kai, I know that this is a high complement. He was so excited, Mr. Miyashiro was, to speak in favor of Bert Ayabe that he ended it by saying, 'I know he will make an excellent coach,' then he stood up and then sat down again and said, 'I mean, judge.' But when you think about it, members, that is the ultimate respect that someone can give you – to say that you are like him and you can be his successor. That is the tenor of the types of testimony we received.

"One funny vignette came from his friend, a Hastings lawyer from Gardena, who moved to Hawaii because of Mr. Ayabe. He explained Mr. Ayabe's very special skill of taking A-type personalities, physically challenged only because they were local boys and boys from Gardena who were going to play football against the mainland guys at Hastings and managed to bring them in as the winning team. Of course we didn't ask how many games they played or anything like that. But he did say that Mr. Ayabe always comes to the point and keeps telling him, 'you must always remember, you are going to be a Katonk no matter how long you think you're in Hawaii.' This is Bert Ayabe.

"All of these stories aside, Mr. President, let's not forget that he is to be confirmed for the district court, and the reason why you need someone with his characteristics is because the district court is the first court that most people see. And for many, it is the only court that you have and that's their whole image of the judiciary system.

"So, Bert Ayabe will bring that kind of very reserved sense of humor, leadership, and a perfect temperament for that position. That is why, Mr. President, I ask that you and all the other members of this body to join me in consenting to Mr. Ayabe, Jud. Com. No. 2.

"Thank you."

Senator Hemmings also rose to speak in support as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of the nominee, Bert Ayabe.

"We're very concerned in your Minority Caucus about judicial temperament. We believe that any judge in any court should have a balanced outlook, politically, on the laws they will be asked to judge. In talking with Bert, I'm convinced that his temperament is extremely balanced. He has no agenda. He has no blind ideology. I am convinced by his credentials, which were stated by the previous speaker, that he's eminently qualified, but more importantly, he has the character to be an evenhanded, balanced judge of the laws of the State of Hawaii. He also is not going to be, from what we have observed from talking with him, a judicial activist. I think he recognizes that the role of making law comes from the Legislature.

“There is one thing I have to do, though, now in endorsing this nomination – I have to apologize to the nominee because I am a local boy who played football at Punahou and we kicked Kaimuki’s butt. (Laughter.) I’m sorry, I couldn’t let it slide.

“Anyway, we’re very, very happy to lend our support to this nominee and I urge unanimous support of his nomination. Thank you, Mr. President.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, none. Excused, 4 (Baker, Hogue, Kawamoto, Menor).

At this time, Senator Hanabusa introduced and congratulated Judge Ayabe, who was seated in the gallery with family and friends.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1277 (Jud. Com. No. 3):

Senator Hanabusa moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1277 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland and carried.

Senator Hanabusa then moved that the Senate consent to the nomination of MICHAEL F. BRODERICK as Judge of the District Family Court of the First Circuit, for a term of six years, in accordance with the provisions of Article VI, Section 3, of the Hawaii State Constitution, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland.

Senator Hanabusa rose to speak in favor of the nominee and said:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of Jud. Com. No. 3, submitting for study and consideration the nomination of Michael F. Broderick, to the District Family Court of the First Circuit.

“Mr. President, I will not repeat the criteria of the Hawaii Bar Association and how it’s process has been explained to us now, but of course Mr. Broderick comes with highly qualified recommendations. And of course Mr. Broderick is no stranger to any of us and I won’t go into all of his experiences with the judiciary, because we’re all very well aware of that.

“However, let me go over his credentials. Mr. Broderick is a Stanford University graduate with a Bachelor of Arts, Phi Beta Kappa. He went to UCLA Law School and he graduated Order of the Coif, which is the top 10 percent of that law school. When you read his resume, he has a whole list of scholarships and honors that he received – unquestionably a very competent and a very well schooled individual.

“His career is just as diverse. He has, of course, been in private practice. He was the legal counsel for Mayor Bradley in Los Angeles. He did the policy and research analysis for the DOE. He was the Administrative Director of the Courts, the executive director of the Hawaii Justice Foundation, and he’s served on many boards, with me, for example, in gender equity in athletics, among others. He is, and I think this is one of his first and probably his major love, he is a mediator and an arbitrator and that’s very clear in all that he has done.

“He was complemented throughout the hearing. One interesting description of him came from Debbie Hartman who called him or said that he had a Hegelian dialectic approach to matters. I thought that was really interesting. Luckily, I didn’t have to research that. He was also called, by Tom Crowley, Atticus Finch. Now, that person I knew; I didn’t have to ask the good Senator from Hawaii Kai. But of course the good Senator from Hawaii Kai would probably say that’s an oxymoron because you cannot find a moral, ethical lawyer, because in his mind, that just can’t be in one person. But I believe truly, with Mr. Broderick, he is an Atticus Finch.

“He stands before us, members, for confirmation for the family court, where you need to be, I believe, a very special kind of person. My classmate from law school, and she, since 1993, has been considered one of Hawaii’s best lawyers in the family court area, said that he is well tempered, well prepared, disciplined, respected, and again the word mediator comes to be. Now, Stephanie Rezens is her name and she met Michael Broderick over the very controversial issue of the movement of the family court to Kapolei. As you can imagine, Stephanie did not want to do that and Michael had to meet her under those circumstances, and he probably had a handful.

“Tom Crowley, who is somebody who has concentrated on the mediation and arbitration area, says that Michael Broderick is the best. And the reason why, as you hear the testimony received, is that Mr. Broderick is a good listener. That is probably the necessary trait that you need for a family court judge. It’s probably at the most critical stage in anyone’s life – the divorce, for example. And all that many people want to have is the opportunity to be heard and feeling that they are getting justice, some form of justice.

“Mr. President, there is no doubt in my mind that Michael Broderick will do exactly that. He will serve very well as a family court judge. And for that reason, I ask that you and the others join me in consenting to Mr. Michael Broderick.

“Thank you.”

Senator Slom rose to support the nomination and said:

“Mr. President, I rise on behalf of the Senate Minority in strong support of the candidate.

“First, Mr. President, let me make sure that the earlier remarks from the good Senator Chairman of the Judiciary Committee about the wisdom of this Republican be published widely and distributed in every street corner and every telephone pole.

“Secondly, her later remarks, however, as she sunk down into the lower depths, that I would not find a lawyer that had good ethics and good integrity, that being an oxymoron – there are good attorneys. However, they start out, first and foremost, as good men or good women, and that is the case with Michael Broderick.

“He is an outstanding individual. And while he confesses to being neither artistic, spontaneous, creative, nor a visionary, he is a good listener and he’s a problem solver. Many of us have known Michael over the years in different capacities. I remember a business situation that we were involved with that had to do with the Kaikoo Mall over in Hilo on the Big Island and he very graciously met with the people that were involved there, tried to reach resolution, and talk to people. I think his willingness to sit down with every individual and to try to find solutions is his strongest point. That, in my mind, goes far beyond being artistic or anything else.

"I do think he's a visionary because he sees what the needs are for the judiciary in the future. It is men and women such as Michael Broderick, particularly in the highly charged and emotional area of family court, where not only do you need a good listener, but you need a fair arbitrator and mediator, and all people, all people, have agreed that that is Michael Broderick.

"I always, as you know, Mr. President, always sneak into the Judiciary Chairman's hearings when I can to see how good hearings are run, and I did hear all of that testimony that day. And even though I was a little scared, with all of those suited lawyers in one room at one time, it was amazing how people came forth with stories of how this man has given of himself, has never turned anyone down, goes the extra mile, stays the extra hour, and that's what we can expect from him on the bench.

"So, we look forward to doing that and your Minority very strongly supports him. Thank you."

Senator Kim rose to support the nominee as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this nominee.

"Mr. President, I did not meet with Mr. Broderick for his nomination interview and that's because I know Mr. Broderick on a personal level and I would be remiss not to stand up and speak.

"I met Michael and Maile and Emma and Drew when we moved into our house at Ala Amoamo Street and I got to know him and I found him to be fair, compassionate, and thoughtful, and I think that he's going to make an excellent judge in this court. So I ask my colleagues to join us all in supporting Mr. Broderick.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, none. Excused, 4 (Baker, Hogue, Kawamoto, Menor).

Senator Hanabusa then introduced Judge Broderick to the members of the Senate. (Judge Broderick, who was seated in the gallery with his family, rose to be recognized.)

At 12:08 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:16 o'clock p.m.

RE-REFERRAL OF SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

The Chair re-referred the following Senate concurrent resolution that was offered:

Senate
Concurrent
Resolution Referred to:

No. 158 Jointly to the Committee on Energy and Environment and the Committee on Transportation, Military Affairs, and Government Operations

Senator Taniguchi, Chair of the Committee on Ways and Means, requested a waiver of the notice requirement pursuant to Senate Rule 21 for H.B. Nos. 297 and 298.

Senator Taniguchi noted:

"Mr. President, H.B. No. 297 relates to drugs and H.B. No. 298 relates to the siting of a new prison facility."

The Chair then granted the waiver.

STANDING COMMITTEE REPORTS

Senator Tsutsui made the following motion:

"Mr. President, I move that the Senate stands in recess, leaving the journal open until 10:00 p.m. this evening for receipt of standing committee reports for House bills, and may the journal reflect the proper motions made and the appropriate actions taken by this body, consistent with the reports of the standing committees. I further move that the senate reconvene at 10:00 a.m. on Tuesday, April 8."

Senator Whalen then seconded the motion.

Senator Tsutsui moved that the Senate authorize the adoption of standing committee reports recommending that Senate bills pass Second Reading and be placed on the calendar for Third Reading, seconded by Senator Whalen.

Senator Ihara rose on point of information and said:

"Mr. President, I rise on a point of information. I'd like to ask the movant, the Senator who made the motion, a question, and that is, is the identity and contents of the bills that are to receive Second Reading known at this time?"

At 12:21 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:28 o'clock p.m.

Senator Tsutsui rose in response and said:

"Mr. President, in response to the previous speaker's question, I would suppose that some members may know, some members may not. However, the bills will be available in the Clerk's Office by 10:00 p.m. this evening."

Senator Ihara rose and said:

“Mr. President, so I take it that the answer to the question – is the identity and contents of bills that are to receive Second Readings by this motion known at this time? – the answer is no.”

The Chair replied:

“Therefore, I rise on a point of order. I’m saying that the motion is out of order because the bills’ identities and contents are not known, and the constitution does not allow the Senate to delegate Second Reading bills to the Clerk.”

At 12:29 o’clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:32 o’clock p.m.

The President then stated:

“Senator Ihara, the motion before us is in order.”

Senator Ihara then said:

“Mr. President, I appeal the ruling of the Chair.”

At 12:32 o’clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:33 o’clock p.m.

The President made the following observation:

“The motion is to uphold the ruling of the Chair. I just ruled that the motion is in order.”

Senator Ihara rose in opposition to the motion:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in opposition to sustaining the ruling of the Chair.

“Mr. President, I would like to cite an attorney general opinion dated March 28. While the opinion is not definitive as to whether the motion that I’m challenging is in order or not, I do want to say that I do agree with two of its conclusions. One is, Can the Senate adopt a bill without knowledge of its identity or content? The answer is no. Question No. 5, Can the Senate pass a bill in abstentia? The answer is no. And this is for good reason, because without knowing the contents . . . well, I don’t have to get into fundamental parliamentary procedure.

“I want to mention one other thing and that is, without knowledge of the identity or contents of the bills that this motion applies to, it cannot be valid. Therefore, because we will go in recess and then bills are decked in the Clerk’s Office up until 10:00 p.m., the identity and contents of these bills will be known only then. Then you’d have to argue that, well, who cast the votes? I am saying that the constitution does not allow the Senate to delegate, to delegate its Second Reading votes to anyone, including the Clerk who’s receiving these bills, which I believe must be the case because the Senate cannot adopt a bill in abstentia.

“Therefore, I ask my colleagues to vote ‘no’ on this motion and I ask for a Roll Call vote.”

Senator Kim then rose and said:

“Mr. President, to add to the discussion and perhaps ask the Senator from Kaimuki whether or not this objection is also one that he raised during the First Reading of bills?”

Senator Ihara replied:

“No, I did not.”

Senator Kim then inquired:

“Mr. President, a follow-up question then – are these arguments that you’re making not pertinent to First Reading bills and only pertinent to Second and Third Reading?”

Senator Ihara responded:

“I haven’t studied the issue on First Reading bills. I believe that they are considered purely ministerial, and I am arguing that Second Reading bills are not a purely ministerial act. And even if they were, I would argue that the Senate must know the identity and contents of the bills, and if I thought of this earlier, I might have objected to the First Reading bills.”

Senator Kim then rose and said:

“Mr. President, I guess I’m not aware of anything in the constitution that distinguishes First Reading, Second Reading, or Third Reading bills. Thank you.”

At 12:38 o’clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:42 o’clock p.m.

The motion was put by the Chair and, Roll Call vote having been requested, carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 9. Noes, 6 (Chun Oakland, Hemmings, Hooser, Ihara, Slom, Trimble). Excused, 10 (Aduja, Baker, English, Fukunaga, Hogue, Ige, Inouye, Kawamoto, Menor, Whalen).

Senator Ihara rose and said:

“Mr. President, having disposed of that motion, I move to postpone this motion until 10:00 p.m. this evening.”

Senator Trimble said:

“I second that motion.”

Senator Ihara moved that the motion to authorize the adoption of standing committee reports recommending that Senate bills pass Second Reading and be placed on the calendar for Third Reading be postponed until 10:00 o’clock p.m., seconded by Senator Trimble.

Senator Ihara rose in support of the motion and said:

“Mr. President, I’d like to just note in support of postponing this motion, the motion to adopt in abstentia, because that is what the original motion does. It’s a motion that allows the Senate to adopt bills on Second Reading while we are not present, which the attorney general’s opinion also says is not permissible.

“By postponing it until 10:00 p.m., at that time this evening, we will know the identity and contents of the bills for which the Second Reading action of this body will be taken.

“I also request a Roll Call vote on this motion as well.”

At 12:44 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:47 o'clock p.m.

The President then said:

"Senator Ihara, could you restate your motion."

Senator Ihara replied:

"Well, there is a main motion on the Floor which is what was stated. It's a long motion. But in effect, the main motion is to adopt the committee reports that will be filed until 10:00 p.m. this evening and to have the actions recommended in those committee reports be effectuated by the Senate. And my motion that applies to this main motion is a motion to postpone definitely . . . in Mason's terms. It's a motion to postpone till 10:00 p.m. tonight, which is the time when the bills will be known."

The President then stated:

"It's been moved. Is there a second?"

Senator Trimble replied:

"I second the motion."

President Bunda announced:

"It's been moved and seconded, any discussion?"

Senator Hemmings rose and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak to the motion, not necessarily in favor of it either.

"Mr. President, there's a lot to consider in what's going on here today but there's some points that in think are worthy of consideration from our perspective. I read the attorney general's opinion and probably the word that occurs most in it is probably."

Senator Hanabusa interjected:

"Mr. President, point of order. I don't believe the speaker is speaking to the motion. The motion is to postpone, not the attorney general's opinion."

The President then stated:

"Senator Hemmings, could you keep your remarks germane."

Senator Hemmings replied:

"Yes, I will certainly rephrase my remarks so that the good Senator from Waianae will accommodate them.

"In speaking to the motion to postpone, I think it's extremely germane to take in consideration the issue at hand – and that is, where this effort to delay these precedings is applicable under the state constitution. And in speaking to the motion, I would like the good Senator from Kaimuki, I'd like to ask him to yield to a question. And the question is, This issue is a long standing practice that has never been adjudicated and I'm wondering why in his years of leadership, in many years of being a member of the Legislature and the State Senate, why this is coming up now?"

President Bunda posed the question and Senator Ihara answered as follows:

"I certainly would. I guess the answer to your question is we take one fight for democracy at a time. The constitution required open committee voting in 1978. It took 15 years before the House of Representatives started to vote in public to follow the constitution. It took another five years for the Senate to vote in public, and just three years ago, the Senate . . . well, the Legislature finally started to comply and vote in public for the first time in Conference Committees, which the constitution required since 1978. And as I recall, that was not an easy battle to win, although, I believe any person who reads the constitution would have concluded that Conference Committees, even Conference Committees have to vote in public.

"Then as to this issue, there's a long list and there's many others. And as we get the basic constitutional requirements settled and finally be in compliance, then my plan is then to begin to take on other issues.

"I was talking to the media and they and I recall that the Senate used to, in the past, vote on Second Reading knowing the contents and identity of the bills. When I was in the House as Majority Floor Leader, we did have a big debate and began to have voting on Second Reading while the House was in Session.

"And so, the answer to the question is this is what's up at bat now and I'm trying to have us be in compliance on this issue and there are other issues, once this is settled, that I will certainly get to as well.

"Thank you."

At 12:53 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:57 o'clock p.m.

Senator Chun Oakland rose to support the motion and said:

"Mr. President, sorry to belabor the issue, but I appreciate you taking the time, and the rest of my colleagues taking the time to discuss this.

"I do support the motion and just in terms of historical background, when I served as staff with a Senator quite a number of years ago, there were a number of things that I observed and I've shared with you previously that really needed to change to allow more public input and consideration. I know that all of you have been a part of the change towards that. I feel that the actual decision making or Second Reading activity to occur when we do have the bills before us would be appropriate. I know this issue was taken up in the House several years ago, and as a result of that, the House does meet on Second Reading upon the receipt of the bills.

"So I hope that our body will be able to practice similarly. Thank you."

Senator Hemmings rose to speak to the motion and said:

"Mr. President, I rise, too, to speak to the motion. I observed, with great interest, that the prior speaker did not speak to the motion, just a matter of record.

"Number two, Mr. President, in addressing this issue, I'm hoping that the Majority Caucus can get this resolved. This has been, quite frankly, a good exercise for us and I really appreciate, as the previous speaker has enunciated, your ability to judiciously handle this situation. With that in mind, we'll vote accordingly.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Hooser rose to speak in support of the motion and said:

"Mr. President, I'd like to rise and speak in support of the motion.

"I also would like the body to resolve the issue, and I would say it's the entire body's purpose or job to resolve it, not just one segment. I think the motion, many would acknowledge, is a pain in the okole to implement. It may be seen as a hassle and as a way to slow things down, the process, and the process getting in the way of expedient decision making, but I'm supporting the motion because I think, fundamentally, the good Senator from Kaimuki is right and correct that the constitution calls for three readings and not one reading.

"In my experience in the process, things go far too fast. We have far too many bills. So, for the fundamental reason that I think that the interpretation of the constitution is right and correct, I'll be supporting the motion.

"Thank you."

Senator Ihara rose again in favor of the motion and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak, again, in favor of the motion to postpone till 10 p.m.

"There's another, I think, fundamental reason to take Second Reading votes with the bills in front of us, and that is, what I believe is a constitutional requirement, that all votes of the Senate be done in public. And the method of voting on Second Reading that has been used over the last few years, I believe, is a breach and a violation of that requirement. Because right now, if we do not postpone the motion, but we recess for the day, and after we are gone and not in this Chamber, somehow, mysteriously, all of those bills get voted on Second Reading. And at the point and time at which those Second Reading bills' votes are cast, no one and the public is around – it does not occur in public.

"So, for that reason, I urge my colleagues to vote for the motion to postpone this motion till 10 p.m."

Senator Kim rose and said:

"Mr. President, I'd like to move to amend the motion further to say that all bills not on the Clerk's desk as of the adjournment of today do not pass Second Reading. Thank you."

Senator Ihara rose and said:

"I don't believe you can amend . . . can we have a recess?"

At 1:02 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 1:05 o'clock p.m.

Senator Kim then stated:

"Mr. President, I'll withdraw my motion, but I think the point is that if Committee Chairmen have not had their bills passed by now, then I think that those bills shouldn't pass if this is the point that we're trying to make.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and, Roll Call vote having been requested, failed to carry on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 6. Noes, 9 (Bunda, Espero, Hanabusa, Kanno, Kim, Kokubun, Sakamoto, Taniguchi, Tsutsui). Excused, 10 (Aduja, Baker, English, Fukunaga, Hogue, Ige, Inouye, Kawamoto, Menor, Whalen).

The President made the following observation:

"The motion does not carry.

"If there are no objections from the members, the Senate will stand in recess . . ."

Senator Ihara interjected:

"Mr. President, we have to vote on the main motion. We are left with the main motion, I believe."

The President having recognized Senator Hanabusa, she then stated:

"Mr. President, I call for the question on the main motion."

Senator Ihara stated:

"Mr. President, I had the Floor.

"I just want to say that I believe that this motion is improper because we do not know the identity or contents of the bills for which we are about to vote on Second Reading. In effect, what we'll be doing is cast votes in absentia while we're in recess, and these votes, Second Reading votes, would be also cast not in the public eye.

"I have a point of parliamentary inquiry. Mr. President, because these are Second Reading votes, does it require 13 votes to adopt this motion?"

The President answered:

"No, it requires a majority of the quorum."

Senator Ihara inquired further:

"Even on Second Reading?"

The President replied:

"We have been advised."

Senator Ihara replied: "Thank you."

Senator Sakamoto rose and said:

"I speak in favor of the motion.

"Regarding the issue of not voting in public, I think, if indeed we vote now, that is in public. And I think as far as the contents of the measure are concerned, certainly many measures, for the most part, have been voted on in public in Committee, so at least for the vast majority of issues under consideration, those are known because they are voted on in public, Mr. President."

Senator Ihara rose and said:

“Mr. President, I must stand to rebut the previous speaker.

“I think the problem goes deeper than just that. I believe that we should vote in public on a particular bill. I can’t think of one now, but let’s pick a bill – a House bill that will be filed in the Clerk’s Office after we recess today, in a few minutes. Not only am I concerned that that Second Reading vote will be cast without anyone here, my greater concern has to do with when is that vote cast? See, I will bring an objection to the Journal because the Journal states that . . . it will state in the future that Senator Tsutsui made the motion and seconded by, I’m not sure who . . .”

“Senator Whalen, and I will challenge that because that, in fact, did not happen, because they did not have knowledge of the bill and the Journal will reflect that they had knowledge. So I think that is a deeper question which I will be raising later on.

“So not only is it a concern about voting in public, but it is . . . bottom line to me, to me our actions need to be in consonance with the constitution and with what the public expects.

“Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, the Senate authorized the adoption of standing committee reports recommending that Senate bills pass Second Reading and be placed on the calendar for Third Reading. The Clerk was further authorized to receive standing committee reports recommending that House bills be placed on the calendar for Third Reading. MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

The following messages from the Governor (Gov. Msg. Nos. 267 to 272) were read by the Clerk and were placed on file:

Gov. Msg. No. 267, dated April 4, 2003, transmitting her statement of objections to Senate Bill No. 460 which she has returned to the Senate without her approval and which reads as follows:

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

April 4, 2003

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 460

Honorable Members
Twenty-Second Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith without my approval, Senate Bill No. 460, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Dune Buggies.'

The purpose of Senate Bill No. 460 is to include dune buggy replica vehicles within the special interest vehicle registration requirements of section 286-26.5, Hawaii Revised Statutes, thereby removing such vehicles from the reconstructed vehicle registration law and eliminating the perceived disparity under the law between dune buggies and other vehicles currently classified as special interest vehicles.

This bill would allow one more category of vehicles to be used on Hawaii roads without compliance with Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standards or the State's reconstructed vehicle law. These vehicles, for example, would not be required to be equipped with important safety equipment such as seat belts. This bill provides that '[s]eatbelts, bumpers, hoods, door handles, and fenders shall be optional equipment on dune buggy replica vehicles manufactured before 1969, and on dune buggy replica vehicles manufactured after 1968 to resemble a [sic] dune buggy replica vehicles manufactured before 1969.'

Furthermore, unlike other special interest vehicles in the current statute, the definition of 'dune buggy replica vehicle' in the bill does not require that a dune buggy be modified 'in a manner that does not adversely affect its safe performance as a motor vehicle or render the vehicle unlawful for use on the public highways.' The public's safety should not be sacrificed simply for the sake of eliminating a perceived disparity between these different types of vehicles.

Dune buggies generally are less expensive than most special interest vehicles and are more likely to be driven by young people. For the safety of these young people and the public generally, another category of unsafe vehicles on the public roads should not be permitted.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 460 without my approval.

Respectfully,

/s/ Linda Lingle
LINDA LINGLE

"Mr. President, I stand in support of H.B. No. 292, H.D. 2, S.D. 1.

"This measure will give the schools and complexes the much needed flexibility to obtain educational supplies, such as textbooks and instructional equipment based on priority of needs rather than on availability of funds. Mr. President, I have heard on numerous occasions while visiting the schools and I am sure many of my colleagues have heard the same thing that public school teachers have been using their own money to buy school supplies because funds were not available. The providing of discretionary funding to the schools and the complexes is not only fair to the teachers, but will also facilitate quality education.

"The effective date of the measure has been defected to facilitate further discussions."

Senator Sakamoto rose and said:

"I'd like to insert remarks on Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1342."

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Sakamoto's remarks read as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of this measure.

"In pursuit of greater efficiency and accountability, H.B. No. 281 purposes to streamline the manner in which the sizable repair and maintenance backlog of our schools is managed. Currently, the DOE and DAGS are responsible for school facilities management under a memorandum agreement. However, it is clear that communications between the departments is in great need of improvement. No one seems to know exactly what the repair and maintenance backlog is. The original estimate provided to the legislature was $240 million. That grew to over $640 million in less than one year. After investing millions in repairs, we expected to be told that the backlog had been significantly reduced. We have asked for an accounting of expenditures, savings created by promised efficiencies, savings created by the 3 Rs program, and of course the specific projects on the backlog that have been completed, what they cost, and how many projects remain to be worked on and what they will cost. It has caused great concern that the answers we receive are not consistent and change frequently. We were told that the backlog had been reduced to about $400 million but have been unable to substantiate that number. In order for us to effectively eliminate the backlog and maintain schools properly the DOE and DAGS must communicate clearly and effectively.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1342 was adopted and H.B. THIRD READING

MATTERS DEFERRED FROM FRIDAY, APRIL 4, 2003

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1264 (H.B. No. 133, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

Senator Hanabusa moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1264 be adopted and H.B. No. 133, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland.

Senator Chun Oakland then offered the following amendment (Floor Amendment No. 7) to H.B. No. 133, H.D. 1, S.D. 2:

SECTION 1. H.B. No. 133, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, is amended by designating Sections 1, 2, and 3 of the measure as Part I.

SECTION 2. H.B. No. 133, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, is amended by amending Section 1 to read as follows:

"PART I

SECTION 1. Current law allows for the prosecution of parents who abandon their newborn infants. These parents are often young mothers who are unable to deal with the harsh reality of parenthood. Their solution is leaving the newborn in a populated area with the hope that someone will find and care for the child. Although the possibility of prosecution was intended to deter mothers from taking such a careless approach, newborn infants have suffered and died as the result of abandonment in life-threatening situations.

"Baby drop-off" laws take a different approach by placing the immediate concern on the child's needs rather than focusing on the mother's liability. The goal is to create a system where parents can safely leave their newborns without fear of being prosecuted for child abandonment. Anonymity, confidentiality, and freedom from prosecution for parents may encourage them to leave a newborn infant safely, and thus save the newborn infant's life.

The purpose of this [Aet] part is to:

- (1) Provide immunity from prosecution for leaving an unharmed newborn at a hospital; and
- (2) Provide immunity from liability for hospitals and their personnel for receiving a newborn."

SECTION 3. H.B. No. 133, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, is amended by adding a Part II, to read as follows:

"PART II

SECTION 4. The legislature finds that public safety officers, sheriffs, and deputy sheriffs have occasion to witness child abuse on a daily basis in the course of their work in serving arrest warrants or providing security at the State's airports. Under current law, public safety officers, sheriffs, and deputy sheriffs are not mandated to report child abuse to the department of human services or the police, and lack authority to assume protective custody of the child. The legislature further finds that the safety and welfare of the child would be protected if public safety officers, sheriffs, and deputy sheriffs were conferred with the same statutory authority as exists for law enforcement agencies and police officers in child abuse cases.

The purpose of this part is to clarify that public safety officers, sheriffs, and deputy sheriffs shall report child abuse cases and be conferred with the authority to take the child victim into protective custody."

SECTION 5. Section 350-1.1, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is amended as follows:

1. By amending subsection (a) to read:

"(a) Notwithstanding any other state law concerning confidentiality to the contrary, the following persons who, in their professional or official capacity, have reason to believe that child abuse or neglect has occurred or that there exists a substantial risk that child abuse or neglect may occur in the reasonably foreseeable future, shall immediately report the matter orally to the department or to the police department:

- (1) Any licensed or registered professional of the healing arts and any health-related occupation who examines, attends, treats, or provides other professional or specialized services, including but not limited to physicians, including physicians in training, psychologists, dentists, nurses, osteopathic physicians and surgeons, optometrists, chiropractors, podiatrists, pharmacists, and other health-related professionals;
- (2) Employees or officers of any public or private school;
- (3) Employees or officers of any public or private agency or institution, or other individuals, providing social, medical, hospital, or mental health services, including financial assistance;
- (4) Employees or officers of any law enforcement agency, including but not limited to the courts, police departments, public safety officers appointed under section 353C-4, including sheriffs and deputy sheriffs, correctional institutions, and parole or probation offices;
- (5) Individual providers of child care, or employees or officers of any licensed or registered child care facility, foster home, or similar institution;
- (6) Medical examiners or coroners; and
- (7) Employees of any public or private agency providing recreational or sports activities.

2. By amending subsection (c) to read:

"(c) The initial oral report shall be followed as soon as possible by a report in writing to the department. If a police department or the department of public safety is the initiating agency, a written report shall be filed with the department for cases that the police or the department of public safety take further action on or for active cases in the department under this chapter. All written reports shall contain the name and address of the child and the child's parents or other persons responsible for the child's care, if known, the child's age, the nature and extent of the child's injuries, and any other information that the reporter believes might be helpful or relevant to the investigation of the child abuse or neglect. This subsection shall not be construed to serve as a cause of action against the department [or], the police[-], or department of public safety."

SECTION 6. Section 587-2, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is amended by amending the definition of "police officer" to read as follows:

"“Police officer” means a person employed by any county in this State, or public safety officer appointed under section 353C-4, including sheriffs and deputy sheriffs, to enforce the laws and ordinances for preserving the peace, safety, and good order of the community.”

SECTION 7. Section 587-22, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is amended by amending subsection (a) to read as follows:

“(a) A police officer who witnesses child abuse or neglect while in the course of duty, shall assume protective custody of the child without a court order and without the consent of the child's family regardless of whether the child's family is absent, if in the discretion of the police officer, the child is in such circumstance or condition that the child's continuing in the custody or care of the child's family presents a situation of imminent harm to the child.

A police officer may assume protective custody of the child without a court order and without the consent of the child's family regardless of whether the child's family is absent, if in the discretion of the police officer:

- (1) The child has no legal custodian who is willing and able to provide a safe family home for the child; or
- (2) There is evidence that the parent or legal guardian of the child has subjected the child to harm or threatened harm and that the parent or legal guardian is likely to flee the jurisdiction of the court with the child.”

SECTION 3. H.B. No. 133, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, is amended by renumbering Sections 4 and 5 of the measure to Sections 8 and 9, and designating those sections as part III.

Senator Chun Oakland moved that Floor Amendment No. 7 be adopted, seconded by Senator Hanabusa.

Senator Chun Oakland noted:

“Mr. President, the floor amendment before you adds the content of S.B. No. 881, S.D. 1, which makes clear that state law enforcement officers are authorized to take protective custody of a child abuse victim, and to report incidents of suspected child abuse. The Senate bill was previously unanimously supported by this Senate.”

The motion to adopt Floor Amendment No. 7 was put by the Chair and carried.

Senator Chun Oakland moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1264 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Hanabusa and carried.

Senator Trimble moved that Floor Amendment No. 8 be adopted, seconded by Senator Slom.

Senator Trimble rose and said:

"Mr. President, if we look at debtors and debtor rights, over history we will find that it is a mixed bag. If we go back a few hundred years to jolly old England, which probably wasn't all that jolly, you could be thrown into prison, your children and wife could be thrown into prison, until you repaid your debt. When our country was established, we looked at the rights of individuals and we were mindful of excessive exercise of power by a central government.

"A few short years ago, we liberalized the reasons why people could file for bankruptcy, and after that was done, we noticed that many people did indeed exercise their right and filed for bankruptcy and discharged debts. However, more recently, bankruptcy laws have been amended. You can no longer discharge debt for a college loan by filing for bankruptcy, but the last step that the state took last year was uncalled-for. You cannot excuse your actions by merely saying that the federal government would like that we do it.

"Education is a worthwhile objective, and when people borrow money to go to school, we as a society have suggested that that is a good purpose. But when we got the state into the collection business and only one step away from the repo business, saying that a person's source of livelihood could be denied by pulling his license merely for the fact that they did not pay their college loan without a full and complete understanding of the circumstance, we as a body, we as a government extended what in an earlier time would have been considered just a dispute between two individual people.

"Why have we inserted the power of government on the side of the lender? There are sufficient remedies that exist without having passed that bill last year. So I ask my colleagues to look deep into your heart and consider that perhaps last year you made a mistake. That is why I've offered this floor amendment, which would repeal last year's action.

"Thank you."

The motion to adopt Floor Amendment No. 8 was put by the Chair and, Roll Call vote having been requested, failed on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Taniguchi then moved that H.B. No. 1225, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Hanabusa then offered the following amendment (Floor Amendment No. 9) to H.B. No. 1225, S.D. 1:

SECTION 1. H.B. No. 1225, S.D. 1, is amended by designating part III as part IV, and renumbering sections 4 and 5, to sections 9 and 10, respectively.

SECTION 2. H.B. No. 1225, S.D. 1, is amended by adding a part III to the measure to read as follows:

"PART III.

SECTION 4. Section 235-110.91, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is amended as follows:

1. By amending its title and subsection (a) to read:

"§235-110.91 Tax credit for increasing research activities. (a) Section 41 (with respect to the credit for increasing research activities) and section 280C(c) (with respect to certain expenses for which the credit for increasing research activities are allowable) of the Internal Revenue Code shall be operative for the purposes of this chapter as provided in this section[~~— except that references to the base amount shall not apply and credit for all qualified research expenses may be taken without regard to the amount of expenses for previous years~~]. If section 41 of the Internal Revenue Code is repealed or terminated prior to January 1, 2006, its provisions shall remain in effect for purposes of the income tax law of the State [~~as modified by this section,~~] as provided for in subsection (h)."

2. By amending subsection (c) to read:

"(c) There shall be allowed to each taxpayer, subject to the tax imposed by this chapter, an income tax credit for qualified research activities equal to the credit for research activities provided by section 41 of the Internal Revenue Code [~~and as modified by this section~~]. The credit shall be deductible from the taxpayer's net income tax liability, if any, imposed by this chapter for the taxable year in which the credit is properly claimed."

3. By amending subsection (e) to read:

"(e) If the tax credit for qualified research activities claimed by a taxpayer exceeds the amount of income tax payment due from the taxpayer, the excess of the tax credit over payments due [~~shall be refunded to the taxpayer; provided that no refund on account of the tax credit allowed by this section shall be made for amounts less than $1-~~] may be used as a credit against the taxpayer's income tax liability in subsequent years until exhausted."

4. By amending subsection (h) to read:

"(h) This section shall apply to taxable years beginning after December 31, 2000, but not to taxable years beginning after December 31, 2005[~~;~~]; provided that research conducted after June 30, 2003, shall be subject to the amendments made by Act , Session Laws of Hawaii 2003."

SECTION 5. Act 221, Session Laws of Hawaii 2001, is amended by amending section 13 to read as follows:

"SECTION 13. It is the intention of the legislature that the amendments in this Act [~~be liberally construed;~~] encourage increased expenditures in Hawaii, promote long-term benefits to Hawaii and its economy, raise new capital, increase spending to accelerate research projects, create new jobs in Hawaii, and encourage the continued growth and development of high technology and certain performing arts ventures. The department of taxation is [further] given latitude to interpret these amendments in light of industry developments. The legislature does not intend by the amendments in this Act to opine on the interpretation taken by any taxpayer or the department of taxation on any issue arising under prior law.”

SECTION 6. Act 297, Session Laws of Hawaii 2000, is amended by amending section 10 to read as follows:

“SECTION 10. It is the intention of the legislature in making amendments in this [Part] part to sections 235-7.3, 235-9.5, 235-110.9, and 235-110.91, Hawaii Revised Statutes, that the amendments ~~[be liberally construed, and in this regard, the]~~ encourage increased expenditures in Hawaii, promote long-term benefits to Hawaii and its economy, raise new capital, increase spending to accelerate research projects, create new jobs in Hawaii, and encourage the continued growth and development of high technology and certain performing arts ventures. The department of taxation is given latitude to interpret those amendments in light of current industry standards. The amendments made in this [Part] part to sections 235-7.3, 235-9.5, 235-110.9, and 235-110.91, Hawaii Revised Statutes, shall not be construed to disqualify any taxpayer who has received a favorable written determination from the department of taxation under the original provisions of those sections as enacted by Act 178, Session Laws of Hawaii, 1999.”

SECTION 7. To prevent abuse and promote efficient administration of taxes, the department of taxation is authorized to prescribe rules, as may be necessary or appropriate, to carry out the purposes of sections 235-7.3, 235-9.5, 235-110.9, and 235-110.91, Hawaii Revised Statutes. The department of taxation may also provide guidance through various publications regarding the types of transactions that do not qualify for the high technology business investment tax credit, including:

- (1) Investments that lack economic substance or a business purpose;
- (2) Related party transactions that minimize the amount of actual investment or “new money”;
- (3) Certain restructuring and reorganizations that lack economic substance or a business purpose; and
- (4) Investments in commercial television and film products and businesses that lack the long-term potential that this Act is intended to promote.

SECTION 8. Upon enactment, the revisor of statutes shall insert the number of this Act into section 235-110.91, Hawaii Revised Statutes, where indicated in section 4 of this Act.”

Senator Hanabusa moved that Floor Amendment No. 9 be adopted, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Hanabusa noted:

“There is no question, Mr. President, that Act 221 has had a significant and beneficial impact on the state, especially the state’s high-tech industry. Companies have used Act 221 as a tax incentive to attract outside investment, expand their operations, hire new employees, and to contribute to the growth of the technology industry. Companies will continue to reap benefits under Act 221 even with the amendments proposed. However, what has become evident, Mr. President, is the fact that Act 221 needs to be amended.

“We all recall that the Governor of this State voiced her complete support for Act 221 and has now, upon review, said that Act 221 has loopholes that need to be closed. Before the Ways and Means Committee on April 2, 2003, the tax director, Kurt Kawafuchi . . . I can’t remember, Mr. President, if he was already confirmed by that day, but anyway, the tax director or acting tax director testified and asked for, basically, the similar amendments that we are proposing in Floor Amendment No. 9. Basically, we are saying that the term ‘liberally construed’ will be stricken from the law and instead be clarified to the point the tax incentives are to encourage long-term business growth.

“Mr. President, we are all aware of the fact that whether you call it the surfer girl movie or Blue Crush came into town, about $14 million of tax credits were given to the particular movie itself. And no one believes that that was the intent of Act 221.

“Tax credits for research will conform to the federal tax code and be restricted to investments that increase research activities. And the Department of Taxation will be given the latitude to interpret these amendments and ensure that credits are granted only to those investments that demonstrate economic substance.

“Now Mr. President, we’re not hiding anything by this amendment. A lot of it is driven by the fact that we do have a difficult budget situation. The closing of these loopholes, as we refer to it in Act 221, will result with about $55 million in savings – $55 million that is very necessary, $55 million, Mr. President, that the education budget really, really needs. That is why I ask that the members of the Senate please support us in Floor Amendment No. 9 to H.B. No. 1225, S.D. 1.

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Fukunaga rose to speak in opposition to the amendment and said:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in opposition to Floor Amendment No. 9 to H.B. No. 1225, S.D. 1.

“This amendment proposes to eliminate the refundable research and development credit in Act 221 as well as remove the legislative purpose clause calling for liberal interpretation of the high-tech tax incentives which were adopted between 1999 and 2001.

“I can well appreciate the gravity of the state’s fiscal condition and the need to correct abuses of Act 221 that have occurred up through 2002. However, this route is not the way to achieve it. Even the Advertiser’s John Duchemin, who has often been among the most vocal of Act 221 critics, has said:

‘Lingle administration officials claim that curtailing the section of Act 221 that lets companies take a 20 percent refundable credit on high-tech research expenses will add $68 million to tax revenues over the next three fiscal years, wiping out a sizable part of the projected shortfalls.

‘This argument, however, is not only ironic — six months ago, Lingle vowed to protect Act 221 from changes — but also based on questionable math.

‘Administration officials project that high-tech companies would claim at least $26 million in research tax credits in fiscal year 2004 and $20 million the next year.

‘Officials base this projection on 2001, when companies claimed $9.8 million of the credits. Since that was the act’s first year, the administration assumes the amount of tax credits would increase in subsequent years. By 2004, Lingle officials predict, the amount of research tax credits claimed under Act 221 will be almost triple the amount claimed that first year.

'If that's the case, then Hawai'i has a far larger research community than anyone realizes. To walk through the math: Lingle expects Act 221 will generate at least $26 million in research tax credits in fiscal 2004. Because those are 20 percent tax credits, at least $130 million of research will have to be done in 2004 to generate that much money ($130 million times 20 percent = $26 million).

'Where is this money going to come from? The Hawai'i high-tech community would be hard-pressed to find five companies whose total revenues add up to $130 million, let alone produce $130 million in R&D.

'What's more, the Act 221 research tax credits can only be claimed on "qualified" research expenses, a strictly demarcated definition that even excludes many types of scientific expenses. Hawai'i Biotech president David Watumull asserts that if the Hawai'i economy is producing $130 million in qualified research per year, the actual amount of research could be nearly double that — about $250 million per year.

'If the high-tech community in Hawai'i was investing $250 million in research and development per year, we wouldn't be having this discussion. There would be no need for Act 221.'

"For these reasons, colleagues, I strongly urge you to vote against Floor Amendment No. 9 to this measure. Thank you."

Senator Hooser rose for a conflict ruling as follows:

"Mr. President, I wish to disclose a possible conflict of interest. My business, H&S Publishing, Best Places.com, is a qualified high-technology company and we're in receipt of a comfort letter from the tax office and may be possible beneficiaries of this legislation."

The Chair ruled that Senator Hooser was not in conflict.

Senator Trimble rose to speak against the floor amendment and stated:

"Mr. President, in the spirit of bipartisanship, which is not always showing in this body, I wish to rise and speak in opposition to this amendment.

"If we had really been interested in addressing the fundamental problems of economic development, we could have, several years ago, done several things — one of them would have been to look at our tax structure and its recessive impact on businesses when we repeatedly tax business to business transaction. We have not done that. We could have looked at our transportation infrastructure that is a severe impediment to the shipment of goods for small businesses between the neighbor islands. We chose not to do that. This body, instead, looked at another approach, and that was an approach that did not rely upon the physical movement of goods, but instead had as its basis, brain power, creativity, finding jobs, creating jobs here in Hawaii for a significant sector of our economy that left Hawaii to get jobs elsewhere.

"I did not support Act 221 when I ran for office, but now that I'm in office, I would like to suggest that when it has fulfilled its purpose as a five-year experiment, we take a second look and see what it has done.

"So number one, it is too soon to piddle with it. Number two, the credibility of this body is at stake. You cannot, one year, pass a law and then when it demonstrates that it is doing exactly what you wanted it to do, can you step back and say, 'oh, I didn't intend that.' And to change Act 221, with respect to the 20 percent credit for research, would be doing exactly that.

"With that minor exception, I do support the Governor in her efforts to correct what she properly classified as abuse. And in these areas, the tax department has already issued a ruling that will make major steps in minimizing the abuse that has been brought to public light. So let us not assume that there is abuse for the research tax credit. That has not been demonstrated.

"So, in summary: (1) Act 221 is doing exactly what this body intended it to do; (2) to change it now would be to send a signal to the world that they indeed cannot trust Hawaii lawmakers because they certainly are a fickle body — on Mondays they vote yes and on Tuesdays they vote no.

"Thank you."

Senator Fukunaga rose and said:

"Mr. President, I'd like to request a Roll Call vote."

The Chair so ordered.

Senator Taniguchi rose in opposition and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to oppose this amendment.

"Mr. President, I appreciate the fact that this amendment provides much needed revenue to our financial plan. However, after hearing the testimony regarding the Governor's amendment and weighing the pros and cons, I made a personal commitment — Mr. President, a promise — not to support any changes to Act 221. Mr. President, I need to keep that promise, and therefore ask that the members join me in voting against this amendment.

"Thank you."

Senator Baker rose to speak in opposition and stated:

"Mr. President, I, too, rise in opposition to Floor Amendment No. 9.

"I have the Maui Research and Technology Park in my district. I've worked with a lot of high-tech companies over the past several years trying to educate them on the value of Act 221 and it has been very valuable in bringing businesses to Maui and having businesses on Maui expand and grow.

"There are at least a dozen companies on Maui that would not be in the development and research industry that they are — providing good jobs, jobs for kamaaina to come back to — if it were not for Act 221. It is a big deal. It's been a big deal for Hawaii's economy. It's the only significant incentive that the state provides to attract businesses to our state.

"The effect of these amendments, if they are finally adopted, would be, in effect, to gut this Act. The Act has created jobs; it's allowed kamaaina to come home to Hawaii to live here; it's allowed businesses to flourish, and for the companies that I'm familiar with, they've reinvested here in Hawaii. I think the Act that the 1999 and subsequent Legislatures had the foresight to enact should remain on our books unamended.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Ige rose to speak in opposition to the amendment and said:

“Mr. President, I also rise in opposition to this floor amendment.

“I would like to request that the words of the Senator from Manoa be inserted into the Journal as if they were my own.

“I just wanted to offer a couple of other observations. I do believe that this action really circumvents the legislative process. And another reason to vote against this floor amendment is that it really, really circumvents the legislative process.

“These amendments will be offered and voted upon without a public hearing. As you are aware, the administration, in testimony on various unrelated bills – totally unrelated bills – had proposed that the Legislature accept these amendments and we have not had the benefit of taking it to public hearing and really hearing what the people have to say. In addition, your Committees on Economic Development and Science, Arts, and Technology scheduled and heard and had public hearings on every single bill introduced in this body to amend Act 221 and there never was any testimony in support of making any amendments to Act 221. And therefore, I really believe that this floor amendment circumvents the public process and further enhances the public perception that the Legislature is a game and that rules are made to be broken and that we don’t follow our own rules.

“Thank you.”

Senator Hooser rose to speak against the floor amendment and said:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in opposition.

“I’d like the good words of the Senator from Pearl City to be entered into the Journal as if they were my own. (The Chair so ordered.)

“I would also like to say, briefly, that in my district, one of the centers of economic activity is the Pacific Missile Range facility and the West Kauai Technology Center, and we’ve spent much, much money and much energy to build the technology industry on Kauai. This supports the diversification of our economy. It supports the creation of good jobs.

“I believe the abuses of the past can be handled in an administrative function, and I say, let the bill run its course. For these reasons, I will not be able to support the amendment.

“Thank you.”

Senator Menor rose with reservations and said:

“Mr. President, I just wanted the Clerk to note my vote with reservations.”

The motion to adopt Floor Amendment No. 9 was put by the Chair and, Roll Call vote having been requested, carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 17. Noes, 8 (Baker, Chun Oakland, Fukunaga, Hooser, Ige, Ihara, Taniguchi, Trimble).

By unanimous consent, H.B. No. 1225, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE ADMINISTRATION OF TAXES.” was placed on the calendar for Third Reading on Thursday, April 10, 2003.

THIRD READING

MATTER DEFERRED FROM THURSDAY, APRIL 3, 2003

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1231 (H.B. No. 1214, H.D. 2, S.D. 2):

Senator Hanabusa moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1231 be adopted and H.B. No. 1214, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland.

Senator Kanno rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in opposition.

“Mr. President, the bill provides to the state and counties a blanket waiver of liability on public lands. I have a number of concerns about the bill language.

“The bill states on page 2, lines 8 and 9, that it’s to provide protection from liability on improved public lands. Yet, on page 4, lines 13 and 14, it states that the state and counties shall not have a duty to warn for dangerous natural conditions on unimproved public lands.

“The bill states that it shall be conclusively presumed that the public is warned if signs are placed and the signs are approved by the Board of Land and Natural Resources. The bill establishes a risk assessment working group that is to be consulted to approve the warning signs. The Risk Assessment Working Group is required to have a person knowledgeable in warning sign design. I believe the group should also include independent experts in recreational hazards, parks, hiking and geology, and a representative from the visitor industry.

“If the sign is stolen, vandalized or illegible, this conclusive presumption extends 30 days from the date the vandalism or removal is discovered, or 7 days if the sign is at the entrance. This could mean the sign could be down for 6 months to a year or longer, and if it is not ‘discovered’ by the state and county, the state and county is still not liable. If we’re talking about a blanket waiver of liability, the state and counties should be required to periodically check the warning signs. To protect against liability from slips and falls, stores like WalMart are required to conduct periodic inspections for possible spills in the store.

“The purpose section states that an equitable balance is needed. I couldn’t agree more. Unfortunately, the blanket waiver of liability for the state and counties go too far.

“The bill implies that what we’re addressing are individuals who participate in hazardous recreational activities who choose to ignore warning signs. Unfortunately, the bill affects all people and on all public lands, improved and unimproved.

“What if there was a boulder on unimproved state land and the state received a report that the boulder was at risk of dislodging and falling down a hillside and had a high probability of doing so. The bill states that the state or county shall not have a duty to warn for dangerous natural conditions on unimproved public lands.

“I am not speaking for individuals who ignore warning signs, whose behavior contributes substantially to injuries. I am speaking out for all others who I believe deserve to hold someone responsible for injuries that may have happened through no fault of their own. I'm not talking about a blank check. I am speaking about someone having their day in court to make a case that is to be decided by an independent party.

"I urge my colleagues to vote 'no.' Thank you."

Senator Inouye rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President and fellow colleagues, I wish to rise in support on H.B. No. 1214, Relating to Public Land Liability.

"Mr. President, H.B. No. 1214 establishes a process to provide the state and counties with protection from the liability that arises from dangerous natural conditions on improved and unimproved lands under their jurisdiction.

"If this was a perfect world, we would all be free to enjoy nature without fear of injury. However, this is not a perfect world and dangerous conditions do exist. It's an unfortunate fact that people have been injured in the past and more will be injured in the future while trying to enjoy our beautiful natural environment. The question we have to ask ourselves as Legislators is, How much liability belongs to government and how much liability belongs to individuals when injury occurs from recreational use of state lands?

"I believe, Mr. President, this measure strikes an equitable balance between the personal responsibility of people engaged in recreational pursuits and the duty of government to adequately warn of potential dangers. If we leave the system as it is now, the ambiguity of how much legal care needed to prevent costly lawsuits may result in public recreational assets being closed.

"I urge my colleagues' support for H.B. No. 1214. Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator English rose in support of the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of the measure.

"Mr. President, when I was on the Maui County Council, we dealt with many liability issues from recreational activities. And if you looked at it, one of the key elements in it was personal responsibility. The assumption that often ran with many of these claims was that government was supposed to be responsible for acts of what's termed an 'act of God' or 'an act of nature.'

"I think this bill is good and I urge my colleagues to support it because it returns an element of common sense into our system; that if something looks dangerous, it probably is. If something feels dangerous, it probably is. And the idea that someone else is responsible for your personal safety when on public lands has created some really outrageous situations.

"So I ask my colleagues to support this measure. It's good for the long-term benefit of Hawaii and it's also good for the individuals to realize that common sense may prevail.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Menor requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

Ayes, 24. Noes, 1 (Kanno).

THIRD READING

There being no objections, the Senate took the following action out of order from the sequence printed on the Order of the Day.

H.B. No. 200, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

Senator Taniguchi moved that H.B. No. 200, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Taniguchi rose to speak in favor of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this bill.

"I would like to start today by acknowledging a few people who have helped me meet the many challenges of this Session. I first want to thank my hardworking staff. They remained committed to producing a quality product in the work of your Ways and Means Committee. I'm always impressed by their comprehension of issues and am proud of their dedication to the Senate. I would also like to thank the members of the Ways and Means Committee and you, Mr. President, for your support and leadership.

"With the magnitude of challenges facing us, I have come to rely on the members for their input, insight, and flexibility. I have tried to be open to their ideas, which has been very instructive for me, Mr. President. I guess that even after 23 years in the Legislature, I still have much to learn.

"I also want to thank my Vice Chairman, the Senator from the Big Island, for taking on the traditional responsibility of taking the blame for all the bad parts of the bill. His predecessor, the Senator from Waianae, has gone on to bigger and better things, but as the Ways and Means Vice Chair emeritus, we still call on her to take the blame for many other things. (Laughter.)

"Last, but not least, I again want to take this opportunity to acknowledge the support and guidance of my family, especially my wife Jan. My son Daniel and my daughter Karli are both public school products of whom I'm very proud. Much of why I support public education so much is with them in mind.

"I kind of wanted to talk today a little bit about the budget and really impress upon the members that this budget is only part of the Senate's financial plan. If you only look at this budget bill, you will see increased funding only for our fixed or mandated costs, and you will see many, many cuts. This is not the whole picture as to how the Senate intends on restoring the devastating cuts to education as proposed by the Governor and to the community health and human service needs that are not even addressed at all by her ever changing budget proposals.

"We cannot proceed with this bill without passing three other bills, Mr. President – H.B. No. 510, which increases our general excise tax by a half percent, provides our public schools with critically needed resources; H.B. No. 512, which provides crucially needed assistance to our community health centers throughout the state with rainy day money; and H.B. No. 668 provides badly needed resources to our human services safety net, also with rainy day money.

"Mr. President, I pledge to you that I am committed to seeing these three areas funded in some way, or we will not go home.

The bottom line is that a large number of people in this state have told us that we must provide adequate resources for our public schools and that they are willing to pay a little more for it. This budget bill only goes part of the way in fulfilling this request. We need to do more if we want to claim that education is our top priority.

"By now, it should be apparent that the Governor does not believe that education is her priority. She is turning her back on our children. She has made an outright across-the-board cut of $3 million per year, starting in the current fiscal year. She has retracted and $8 million request destined for charter schools and school security. She's moving $9 million in general funds out of food services, hoping to supplant it with special and federal funds that may not be there. She has also slashed general funds of $2.7 million per year for adult education, hoping to supplant that through a fee increase. This sounds like a tax increase to me and a tax increase on those struggling to get their GEDs and citizenship.

"Lastly, she has asked the DOE to give up $8 million per year in anticipation of the state receiving more federal impact aid. This is a terrible time to base your budget on increased federal impact aid to the states.

"Mr. President, while I sincerely believe the Governor is trying her best, I cannot agree with her approach to the budget. She needs to stop trying to legislate through the media. Let's sit down and work on a long-term plan that recognizes the needs of our people and provides adequate resources for them.

"I urge my colleagues to support this bill, as well as those that provide for our most pressing needs. Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Baker rose to speak in favor of the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of H.B. No. 200, S.D. 1.

"I want to thank the Chair and Vice Chair of the Ways and Means Committee for all their efforts to craft a budget bill that we can support. Perhaps it's not exactly a silk purse out of a sow's ear, but pretty close.

"During this period of budget shortfalls, theirs is an extremely difficult job – many competing and worthy projects, few resources, mostly unpleasant alternatives – and I commend the Chair and Vice Chair for the time and effort they put together in this measure. I also want to extend my appreciation to the members of the Ways and Means Committee and to the hard-working staff who spent many long hours trying to find ways to balance this year's budget.

"The Department of Health took a huge hit in the executive biennium budget request, and I appreciate the willingness of Ways and Means to restore some of those cuts and to work with your Committee on Health to pursue other funding strategies for additional baseline services. Preserving and protecting our citizenry's health, safety and welfare are government's core functions. By putting needed resources into the community mental health plan and Hawaii State Hospital remedial plan, Ways and Means has helped the adult mental health division move forward a prudent, cost-effective plan to improve services and comply with court decrees.

"The restoration of funding of positions for developmental disabilities service branch is equally as important. This Legislature, several years ago, made a commitment to the well being of our developmentally disabled citizens in a client centered community setting. These funds and positions will help fulfill that commitment.

"Additionally, I applaud the Committee's decision to restore the general practice dental residency program for disabled patients to access care and provide much needed equipment for the emergency medical services division. Insuring that our primary and secondary responders are prepared to deliver critical, necessary care while on duty will only serve the interest of the state in the long run. And as everyone knows, adequate dental care still remains a concern in our state and, unfortunately, will not be fully addressed in this resource challenged environment.

"H.B. No. 200, S.D. 1, along with H.B. No. 512, S.D. 2, H.B. No. 1182, S.D. 2, and previously passed related Senate measures, provide the minimum resources necessary to ensure the viability and vitality of our healthcare safety net here in Hawaii.

"I appreciate the work of the Committee on Ways and Means to address the vital services needed by our state, and I urge my colleagues to join me in supporting this important measure and the others mentioned by the Chair of Ways and Means.

"Thank you."

Senator Hemmings rose to speak in favor of the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this budget and this legislation.

"This bill does represent a change of attitude on the part of the Majority Party in certain areas. Your Minority Party introduced legislation to eliminate many of the vacant positions that seem to plague honesty in the budget process. We also called out for eliminating many special funds that oftentimes have a margin or float in it. And recognizing the accuracy of this position, the Chairman of the Senate Ways and Means Committee and his Committee members have indeed incorporated into this budget eliminating vacant positions and eliminating some special funds through this and other legislation.

"I have to stand up and challenge the Majority Party on their position on education, and most especially the broadside levied against the Governor by the Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee. We know, beyond a doubt, that business as usual has failed the children of Hawaii. I find it almost incredible that certain members of certain union's leadership come to the Ways and Means Committee and chastise those who challenge the performance of our public education system. Their logic is – how dare you criticize us; how dare you advocate change; how dare you advocate reform; we're doing a good job. And after they're finished saying that, they turn around and ask us for more money. If they're doing a good job, why do we need more programs, more money?

"I've gone over this before. Since 1990, the education budget has gone up to include Felix consent decree almost a billion dollars, far exceeding the growth of any other department in state government. For the record, the enrollment of public schools has pretty much remained static, and for the incredible amount of money the good taxpayers have put into the system, we're not getting what we're paying for. The problem is not money; it is indeed governance, and I applaud the Governor for saying, enough already, we cannot throw more money at a broken program – we have to fix it. I'm hoping that the Majority Party will see the wisdom in doing that.

"I find it quite ironic that the Governor is trying to do what the previous administrations failed to do – collect adequate funding for mandated programs from the federal government for the State of Hawaii. It's no secret that the prior administrations failed to collect adequate money for Felix mandated programs and cost overruns. And speaking about the Department of Health and other programs, it's no secret that the prior administrations did a miserable job on collecting Medicaid funding for assistance with QUEST eligible patients and others. So I find the duplicity on this issue somewhat disingenuous.

"I also find that we just had a floor debate about the positive effects of tax credits, which are tantamount to tax reduction to increase economic activity in Hawaii. And I think it's been proved out to be true and you all have pretty much endorsed the concept, first by those who voted against amending Act 221 by saying these tax credits have been wonderful in bringing new business and more economic activity to Hawaii. Everyone is unanimous on that idea, but to then turn around and say, in order to support this budget, we're going to need some increased taxes, is once again disingenuous and contradictory.

"Adam Smith, in The Wealth of Nations, said over 200 years ago that oftentimes, tax increases result in less revenue to government because they stifle the very economic development and activity that creates taxes in the first place. So I'd say to the Majority Party, you can't have it both ways – you cannot stand up and say tax reduction in the form of tax credits is an economic stimulus but in turn we have to increase taxes other ways to support this budget.

"This budget is headed in the right direction. It does reduce spending by approximately 2 percent from the proposed executive budget that originated in the Cayetano administration. And I would suggest to the Majority Party that we continue to find ways to make government more efficient, more accountable so that we can balance this budget without putting more hardship on the poor taxpayers of Hawaii.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Sakamoto rose in support of the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of the measure.

"In part, I agree with some of the points made by the previous speaker. Certainly, I agree with the Chair of Ways and Means that this budget, in addition to other measures, in particular in education, are needed. I think for too long some people have claimed our education system has failed and paints every school, every teacher, every principal, and every student with the same brush.

"Mr. President, there are different colors on this chart that represent some schools in blue that are indeed doing well, some schools that are in green that are indeed doing okay, some schools in yellow that certainly are in need of improvement, but certainly there are schools in red that really need to be improved. I think it's unfair to our school administrators, to our teachers, to our students, to our community to claim that system has failed, to say everybody's red and we ought to go somewhere else. It's unfair to say that it's not just a problem of money. Certainly, money isn't the only problem, perhaps decentralization and getting money to the school complexes is part of the solution. An expert came to town a few weeks ago and made that plea.

"I think that this measure, as far as getting money to the schools, is an initiative that your Senator from Pearl City and previous education people have looked at, and perhaps its time has come again.

"It's unfair to say that we haven't tried to get more money from the federal government for Felix, more than the 11 or 12 percent that we're getting, but in spite of the scarce resources, our school complexes, our teachers, our administrators, our parents, our students have pulled together to move us a long way with the money they have. But certainly, more resources would help that effort.

"On one hand, I agree. I think I was standing here speaking to the Senator from Lanikai saying you can't have it both ways, and I agree it's difficult to have it both ways. With education, though, or with tax incentives, if you picture a vehicle, Mr. President, an automobile, on one hand you can say let's inflate the tires a few more PSI. Let's give some incentives by inflating tires so the vehicle can have balance and actually if you inflate your tires, you save mileage – assuming you inflate it a few pounds, Mr. President. On the other hand, perhaps you also need fuel. So, perhaps taxes, and additional resources to put in the fuel tank, will help that measure as well.

"So, in both cases, inflating the tires of the education system to have it move more efficiently, the tax incentive is for businesses so they can move more efficiently, as well as fuel for the much needed things in schools can help our educators and our students move forward better.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Slom rose in support and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of the budget bill.

"While not perfect and just beginning a journey, it's something that I will support. But I take great umbrage at some of the statements and misinformation that's been shared on the Senate Floor in the last several minutes.

"First of all, to the good Senator from Moanalua who always gives us many anecdotes and many examples – bridges and cars and ex-lax and things like that – what I got out of this last anecdote about the automobile was the inflation. And I think that expectations have been inflated, and I think that numbers have been inflated, and I think that demands have been inflated by those who are in the educational bureaucracy.

"And I like the Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, especially when he wears a baseball cap and he provides snacks for us on those lonely Saturday closed-door sessions all day. And I'm going to give him the benefit of the doubt, because when he says that education is not the Governor's priority, he knows better than that. And when he says that the Governor has turned her back on Hawaii's children, he knows better than that. Funny things happen, though, when we get down in this Chamber and we look at the numbers of people and the bipartisanship that we've all talked about seems to disappear. Maybe that was inflated as well.

"Let's talk about the reality – the reality is that the Governor's budget for education was larger than what is included in this budget right now. Let's talk fact – the Governor's original proposals for education increased the educational budget by more than 8 percent, and that is without any tax increases or more burdens on Hawaii's families. And we'll get into that in just a little while.

"The point is that the budget is a process, as we keep hearing over, and over, and over again, and we've got a long journey to go. But to make these kinds of statements about the Governor's intent, when it really is our responsibility to make the hard decisions, are unfair, unwarranted, and untrue. If, for example, the House did not like the budget as modified, they would have refused to pass it over. If in fact the Majority did not like the budget and wanted to do something entirely differently, they would not have proposed it for adoption today.

"I think that it is important to realize that this budget is something that we're all going to have to deal with, as the Senator from Kailua said earlier, in a different manner. We have been use to spending without regard to the future. We have been use to increasing taxes without regard to the present. And like a parent, I, like the good Senator from Manoa, have public school aged children, and the problem is that you are the bad guy whenever you say no. As long as you say yes to whatever the children want or whatever special interests want, hey, nobody can fault you, at least from those communities. But leadership and parenthood exerts an awesome responsibility, and sometimes, Mr. President, you have to say no to excesses because you know that in the long term, what that's going to do is going to destroy opportunities for everyone.

"So it is a careful balancing act, an act that puts the highest regard for children and for real education, but at the same time, to keep us cognizant that we don't have unlimited resources and also to remember where those resources come from. They come from the people that are targeted as the fourth highest taxed people in the United States. And we're going to debate in just a little while to try to add to that tax burden.

"So, to say that the Governor doesn't care about children, to say that the Governor has turned her back on education is unfair. I will be supporting this budget today. I will be participating in whatever way I can in the Conference process, and we'll take a look at the final document that we have.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Kanno rose to speak in support as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support.

"The Ways and Means Committee had the near impossible task of determining a balanced budget. Under the Chairs' leadership and through the hard work of the Ways and Means staff, Ways and Means has supported key priorities that are important to our community. At the same time, Ways and Means has also supported important priorities for Hawaii's retirees.

"I urge my colleagues to vote aye."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 200, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE STATE BUDGET," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

MATTERS DEFERRED FROM FRIDAY, APRIL 4, 2003

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1265 (H.B. No. 135, H.D. 1, S.D. 1):

Senator Hanabusa moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1265 be adopted and H.B. No. 135, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland.

Senator Hogue rose to speak in favor of the measure with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this bill with reservations.

"Colleagues, I want you to know that I firmly support this measure's intent. Women who use international matchmaking organizations do need to be protected from blindly entering into abusive relationships, and this bill in, its present form, stands to protect women in potentially abusive relationships.

"However, as drafted here with S.D. 1 to this particular bill, the attorney general has noted a couple of points and I think they are of concern and potentially could be vetoed by the Governor unless these points are addressed in Conference Committed. And that is, this bill excludes organizations of a religious or traditional nature. And what it means is that inappropriately it will force the government into defining what is of a religious nature based on other countries' laws, and possibly create a loophole for matchmaking organizations that portray themselves as traditional or religious. Hopefully, these matters can be corrected in Conference Committee.

"Thank you very much, Mr. President."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1265 was adopted and H.B. No. 135, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO INTERNATIONAL MATCHMAKING ORGANIZATIONS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

H.B. No. 123, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

Senator Menor moved that H.B. No. 123, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Baker.

Senator Whalen rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition.

"I won't repeat everything I said before, but I'm still greatly concerned over our lack of care or concern about the significant impacts giving this powerful drug to a woman without any sort of medical examination. Like I said before, doctors will refuse to do it because of their liability and concern over the patient, but we're going to allow pharmacists to do it. I just cannot understand why we are allowing pharmacists to hand out powerful drugs that not only endanger the life of the woman, but if taken too late, it often causes severe deformities in the child which is later born.

"I just cannot understand why we're doing this, so I will be voting 'no.'"

Senator Baker rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of this measure.

"I have some prepared remarks that I'd like submitted but I need to address the concerns raised by the previous speaker from the Big Island.

"This measure allows appropriately trained pharmacists to dispense emergency contraception in accordance with approved collaborative agreements with the physician. In the intensive hearings we've had twice now, before both the Health and Consumer Protection and Housing Committees, we've had overwhelming testimony in support from pharmacists, from the folks that license pharmacists, from physicians and the folks that license physicians, the board of medical examiners. Everyone has been in support of this measure because it provides some additional access to woman who may not have a regular physician.

"Emergency contraception is approved by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration as a safe and effective way to prevent unwanted pregnancy. It is not without its safeguards and it's not without its restrictions.

"In 2001, Hawaii had more than 17,000 births and 53 percent of those were unintended. Women do not have appropriate access to the kind of services and medications that are contemplated under this measure that are so needed to help prevent unwanted pregnancies. It does not harm a fetus that is already formed. It will not abort one that has already started to take shape. It prevents the implantation.

"This measure is something that's very needed in our community. It's been endorsed by the very medical professionals that the Senator from the Big Island was concerned about. It's been endorsed by women's groups. It's been endorsed by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration. I urge my colleagues to support this measure.

"Thank you."

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Baker's inserted remarks read as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of H.B. No. 123, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, which allows appropriately trained pharmacists to dispense of emergency contraceptives, in accordance with an approved collaborative agreement with a physician. To be effective, emergency contraceptives must be taken during the critical seventy-two hours after unprotected sex. In order for the contraceptives to work properly it is vital that a woman be able to access this medical option in a timely manner to prevent an unwanted pregnancy.

"Emergency contraception is approved by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) as a safe and effective way to prevent unwanted pregnancies. Emergency contraceptives will work only if dispensed within the limited time frame after sexual intercourse. Under the current system emergency contraceptives must be administered by a physician, which can limit accessibility for women who do not have an established provider whom they may call upon. In addition, some facilities are unwilling to see or 'squeeze-in' a client if she is not an established patient, due to their limited schedules or number of physicians. And, if emergency contraceptives are needed during the evening, weekend or on a holiday it can be equally difficult for a woman to reach her doctor, and secure prescription within the critical seventy-two hours.

"In 2001, Hawaii had more than 17,000 births and 53 percent of those pregnancies were unintended. Of those 8,500 unintended pregnancies 78 percent were to girls aged 15-19 years old. Health Mothers, Healthy Babies Coalition of Hawaii concluded, in 2002, in a survey on the accessibility of emergency contraception in Hawaii, that there were significant barriers in obtaining emergency contraception. The survey concluded that fifty-six per cent of family planning clinics and none of the fourteen private pregnancy/counseling organizations were able to provide EC within the seventy-two hour time frame. In addition, only ten per cent of emergency rooms were able provide access to EC within that time frame.

"Expanding the practice of pharmacy under the pharmacist licensing law, to include the dispensing of emergency contraceptives, will allow women to have adequate, and timely access to the medical treatment they need, especially on nights and weekends when a physician may not be available. By permitting appropriately trained pharmacists to dispense emergency contraceptives women will have the medical options they need to make decisions that effect themselves and the lives of others. Additionally, it will reduce health care costs, reduce unwanted pregnancy and provide options to women who may have been abused or assaulted.

"I urge my colleagues to join me in supporting this important measure which is a part of the women's coalition legislative package. Mahalo."

Senator Kawamoto requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Sakamoto rose with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, I'd like to note my W/R as well as request comments be inserted in the Journal."

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Sakamoto's remarks read as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise with reservations on this bill.

"My concern is that women who would opt to use emergency contraception should be fully informed that this drug is effective by preventing an already fertilized egg from embedding in the womb. I feel that women who may believe that life begins at conception should have the knowledge that this course of action could run contrary to their beliefs.

"I also have concerns about the health risks of repeated use of emergency contraception."

Senator Whalen rose in rebuttal as follows:

"Mr. President, just a brief rebuttal.

"I won't go through it point by point, but all the testimony has not been in support of this. I went through numerous hearings of this, as well, over the time that we've been examining this issue, and yes, it can cause deformities for a child that's already been implanted. It is dangerous to a woman who takes it too late once the baby is there. There are dangers with this drug. That's why doctors will not prescribe it without examining a woman first.

"The government had approved lead in paint for years, until we found out that it was dangerous. So, just because a government agency says this is a good idea, doesn't necessarily mean that it is. We are a government agency or a body and we make all kinds of decisions that later on we figure out that maybe we shouldn't have done that. So, just because there's a stamp of approval from a government, it doesn't mean it's the right thing to do.

"I said I won't go on, so I won't. My concerns have not been dealt with, and I think we're going down the wrong road when we're allowing people to prescribe medicine who don't even examine the patient first to make sure whatever being claimed is the situation.

"Thank you."

Senator Kim requested her vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 123, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE PRACTICE OF PHARMACY," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

H.B. No. 1165, H.D. 2, S.D. 1:

On motion by Senator Menor, seconded by Senator Baker and carried, H.B. No. 1165, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO BUSINESS REGISTRATION," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, 1 (Hogue). Excused, 1 (Taniguchi).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1314 (H.B. No. 714, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

Senator Hanabusa moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1314 be adopted and H.B. No. 714, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"We had a lively discussion in Ways and Means and there was, I think, an honest attempt to make this bill better, but the bottom line is this – those of us that believe in educational reform and educational decentralization also believe in the individuals in our community, particularly the parents of school-age children. The very simple idea was to put a question on the ballot and let the people decide whether or not they want to make changes to the present system of a state bureaucratic board of education that makes all decisions from about 200 yards away from this building here for all places around the state. That was really the question – will the public get to decide whether or not they want decentralization? And it was a very specific proposal made for seven decentralized regional elected boards of education.

"The discussion that ensued, as I said, was I think a good faith attempt to try to reach a compromise. But unfortunately, it has fallen short, because this bill, the way it's written right now, amounts to no more than an advisory referendum by the public. In other words, the public can vote 'yes, we want to have decentralization; yes, we want to do away with the state school board at a bureaucratic centralized position.' But all this bill does then, with that question, is to advise the legislature of what that opinion is. The legislature then may or may not authorize the decentralization. So, the question is only half complete. It doesn't do the job and does not allow for choice.

"What it also does is provide for additional bureaucracy if the legislature, in ignoring the people, assuming that the people say they want that decentralization, decides to continue on with what we have or to add to more bureaucracy as we'll see in additional bills.

"So therefore, I urge a 'no' vote on this bill, Mr. President. Thank you."

Senator Sakamoto rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, members, I rise in support of this bill.

"This bill does propose a constitutional amendment authorizing the Legislature to establish regional boards of education and administration. It also establishes a committee to design and implement a smooth transition for all stakeholders and outlines the process and timeline to reach that goal. This measure, along with the Senate draft of H.B. No. 289 represents our efforts to make our educational system more responsive and responsible to the distinct communities that they serve.

"The intent of the Legislature is that thoughtful planning be a prerequisite to restructuring the public school system, to minimize disruptions to the educational process and the delivery of educational services, and to facilitate an informed, timely, and good transition for all educational personnel, parents, and students.

"Mr. President, following up on the speaker from Hawaii Kai, let us not equate decentralization to elected or some form of school board organization. Decentralization is a broader word – school governance, per pupil waiting. There are other ways, including school/community-based management, which is already in place in most schools. There are many ways to decentralize. I think people want decentralization. They want schools, school principals, local communities to have more involvement.

"This measure does say we need to work on this, and I think my hope would be that the administration, the House and Senate would agree that question is possible this Session, a question is possible next Session prior to the voters voting. But certainly, all parties should agree that we need to really determine if indeed we can have a specific question and work to get the best question, Mr. President.

"Thank you."

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"Three points: (1) the committee that is appointed appears to represent those that would tend to keep the status quo in effect; (2) the measure that would be put on the ballot does not specifically call for elected local school boards; and (3) it's still not giving the people the choice. It boils down to what the Senator to my right said – the voters get to say yes, they want something, but then the Legislature decides whether they in fact wanted it or not.

"Thank you."

Senator Hogue rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations and said:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of this measure with reservations.

“I applaud the Senator from Moanalua for bringing forward this question. I do believe that it has to be brought forward to the people. Unfortunately, we’ve not gone far enough with this particular question, and this question has taken many forms along the way.

“Mr. President, I believe strongly in the people, and I believe that the people should make a decision with this particular matter. I ask that the question be: Shall there be established multiple school districts with executive authority of those districts governed, as provided by law, by locally-elected school boards? This would mean that it would be established by purview of the vote of the people that we have locally elected school boards with executive authority. As the question now stands, that is not the case.

“As noted by the good Senator from the Waikiki area, if this particular advisory board or transition board goes forward, the status quo could in fact determine whether or not the Legislature would follow the will of the people.

“Mr. President, I believe in the people. I believe that the people should make this decision and the Legislature should just get out of the way. Thank you.”

Senator Hooser rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

“I rise in support of this measure, Mr. President.

“I’d like to briefly speak in support of this measure. I think it’s an important measure, and I think it does offer the people the opportunity to choose.

“Now, the question as to how many school boards, whether we have a main school board, whether we have seven school boards – there are many, many questions left unresolved. And even amongst this body, there are many people that can’t agree on that issue. There are people here who feel that we should have seven school boards without a state school board as a central school board. The Governor’s own original proposal in fact included a state school board with seven underlying school boards.

“There are many, many options and this will allow the people to choose if this measure goes forward. Equally, if not more important, the bill also sets up a process. There are many, many unanswered questions, not just how many boards, but how the funding will happen and what powers those boards would have, if in fact we do set up boards. This commission will not direct or control that decision. This commission, which is proposed to be made up of a wide cross section of members in the educational community, will merely make suggestions to this body, to the Governor, and to the board of education for their action, because that action will ultimately lie with this body.

“So, for those reasons, I encourage my colleagues to vote in support of this measure. Thank you.”

Senator Menor rose and said:

“Mr. President, please note that I’m voting with reservations.”

Senators Hanabusa, Taniguchi, Kokubun, Aduja, English and Ige requested their votes be cast “aye, with reservations,” and the Chair so ordered.

At 12:07 o’clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:08 o’clock p.m.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1314 was adopted and H.B. No. 714, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, 2 (Slom, Trimble).

At 12:09 o’clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:52 o’clock p.m.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1315 (H.B. No. 1285, H.D. 1, S.D. 1):

Senator Hanabusa moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1315 be adopted and H.B. No. 1285, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland.

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

“Today we’ll be reviewing four types of law. Probably the most important and of which there’s been the least amount of discussion is the law of unintended consequence. But in addition to that, there’s bad law, unnecessary law, and, occasionally, good law.

“This measure was supported in Committee and in the committee report in that it closed a loophole. I had a hard time believing that because it’s been my impression that it has been against the law for a great number of years to disturb or otherwise cover over or construct over burial sites. I can understand why there maybe have been a case where somebody lost a case and in his own defense, couldn’t have been his own incompetence, it must have been a loophole in the law. And the loophole that was decided was that somehow private property was exempted. So I went back to the original copy of the Hawaii Revised Statutes and I looked at Section 6E-11(b): ‘It shall be unlawful for any person, natural or corporate, to knowingly take, appropriate, excavate, injure, destroy, or alter any burial site or the contents thereof, located on private lands or lands owned or controlled by the State.’ Get to penalties – any person who violates this section shall be fined not more than $10,000 per day for every separate offense.

“It is already in the law, so why are we trying to make it illegal a second time? I urge my colleagues to vote against this unnecessary law.

“Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1315 was adopted and H.B. No. 1285, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HISTORIC SITES,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 20. Noes, 1 (Trimble). Excused, 4 (Menor, Sakamoto, Taniguchi, Whalen).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1316 (H.B. No. 993, S.D. 1):

Senator Kawamoto moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1316 be adopted and H.B. No. 993, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Espero.

Senator Hooser rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

“The purpose of this measure is to apply the state reconstructed vehicle laws to counties with populations of less than 500,000. I’m very concerned of this bill’s impact on my district, the rural district of Kauai. My district is a rural community – we have no freeways; we don’t have that many roads, period, and the speed limits certainly aren’t very fast. We have many, many off-road vehicles, pickup trucks and other reconstructed type vehicles, and I’m afraid unless this bill is radically altered in Conference Committee, that it’s going to instantly cause most of those vehicles to become illegal and be subject to fines and penalties.

“I think this is more of a home rule issue, and for those reasons, I’ll be voting in opposition. Thank you.”

Senator Kawamoto rose to speak in favor of the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of the bill.

“Mr. President, we defected the date on this bill to go to Conference. I also talked to the House introducer of the bill and expressed our concerns about incident violations, and we’re going to look at that.

“Basically, the basis of this law is to have the neighboring counties and the emergency people that brought out the bill, they’re concerned about the vehicles and not only the fact that they run their highways, but different roadways with big trucks, big wheels, and those kinds of things that they’re concerned about.

“So, the emergency people on the neighbor islands supported the bill and wanted the bill. So I ask all my colleagues to vote ‘aye’ on this bill.

“Thank you.”

Senator Tsutsui rose and said:

“Mr. President, I’d like the Clerk to reflect my ‘no’ vote on this measure. Thank you.”

The Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1316 was adopted and H.B. No. 993, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO RECONSTRUCTED VEHICLES,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 13. Noes, 9 (English, Fukunaga, Hemmings, Hogue, Hooser, Ige, Ihara, Trimble, Tsutsui). Excused, 3 (Sakamoto, Taniguchi, Whalen).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1320 (H.B. No. 640, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1320 be adopted and H.B. No. 640, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to the bill.

“While I certainly support efforts for a loss mitigation, we’ve discussed this issue many times before. The only problem is, with this bill now, the conference report, I think, is incorrect. It refers to taking the $6 million for this out of the interest of the hurricane relief fund. But the bill itself is very clear – it takes it from the corpus or the body of the hurricane relief fund, further, I think, minimizing the impact that the fund can have and the purposes for which it was created.

“So I think that a ‘no’ vote is in store. Thank you.”

Senator Chun Oakland rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I stand in support of this measure.

“This makes an appropriation for loss mitigation grant program. The bill before you today allows the use of up to 3 percent of the Hawaii Hurricane Relief Fund, $3.5 million in fiscal year 2003-2004 and $2.5 million in fiscal year 2004-2005, to be used for this important program. Under the loss mitigation grant program, the State would match 50 percent of the single- or multi-family homeowner’s cost to install wind-resistive devices, up to a maximum of $2,100 per dwelling.

“Last year, the Legislature passed Act 179, which established the loss mitigation grant program as a 3-year pilot project. The intent of the Legislature was to use a portion of the interest generated by the inactive Hawaii Hurricane Relief Fund to give matching grants to Hawaii homeowners to make their homes less vulnerable to hurricane-strength winds. Strengthening single-family or multi-family homes against hurricane-strength winds now, will ultimately reduce the potential damage from a hurricane, and the resulting losses to homeowners and the insurance industry, in the future.

“This bill appropriates $6 million over the next two fiscal years. According to the State Civil Defense Director, that $6 million, together with homeowners’ investments in hurricane mitigation devices for their homes, could be used to obtain pre-disaster mitigation funds from the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), on a 75 percent federal to 25 percent state match basis. That means that by expending $6 million, the State could obtain up to $33 million in new federal funding for mitigation efforts by homeowners and the State and counties.

owners must match the State's share, dollar-for-dollar, it motivates consumers to invest during uncertain times and keeps that money circulating in our State.

"The loss mitigation grant program can generate up to six times its funding in reduced hurricane damage losses and could potentially cut the State's post-disaster costs in half. It can help an estimated 4,000 families a year to strengthen their investment in their homes, reduce their insurance premiums, and help hold the line on hurricane deductibles. Moreover, this program can help create up to 100 small business jobs throughout the State, and help generate between $480,000 and $2 million in new tax revenues, depending on the actual level of federal grants awarded.

"In today's difficult economic climate, we need to make the best possible use of all available resources, including the Hawaii Hurricane Relief Fund interest. Looking at the facts, this bill makes good economic sense. I urge your support for H.B. No. 640, H.D. 1, S.D. 2.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Hogue rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in opposition to this bill.

"I think whether or not this actually makes good economic sense is a dubious argument. It certainly makes bad policy sense.

"I think everyone knows the history of the hurricane relief fund and it would certainly seem that those who paid into it should be the beneficiaries. And one of the obvious drawbacks to this besides the fact that we're going into the corpus rather than the interest is that those who will benefit from this fund are not those who paid into it, or at least may not be.

"For these reasons and the fact that certainly the number one thing that we should do is to give the people their money back, I'll be voting 'no.' Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1320 was adopted and H.B. No. 640, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING AN APPROPRIATION FOR THE LOSS MITIGATION GRANT PROGRAM," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 19. Noes, 4 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Trimble). Excused, 2 (Sakamoto, Whalen).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1323 (H.B. No. 1412, H.D. 2, S.D. 2):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1323 be adopted and H.B. No. 1412, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"What we have here, and I want to address a little bit larger issues, is yet another group that seeks to establish their credibility by being able to say that they are licensed and that is tantamount to being approved by the State of Hawaii. It is the wrong direction. I think that we need to ask DCCA or the legislative auditor to look at all such license groups and make recommendations so that we can go toward a society which gets the state out of the licensing business.

"Thank you."

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I, too, rise in opposition to this bill.

"In addition to the comments made by the good Senator from Waikiki, I think it's important to know that this bill also adds new fees, new charges, exempts government employees from the provisions of the bill, and uses the Felix consent decree as an excuse for more bureaucracy.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1323 was adopted and H.B. No. 1412, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PROFESSIONAL COUNSELORS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 19. Noes, 4 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Trimble). Excused, 2 (Sakamoto, Whalen).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1326 (H.B. No. 21, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1326 be adopted and H.B. No. 21, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"The intent is good, but I don't think that anyone has stopped to think and look at the bureaucracy that this unfunded mandate will necessarily result in. And because of this increased bureaucracy and perhaps the chilling effect that it may have when people seek to apply for tax credits, I oppose and I urge my colleagues to oppose this measure.

"Thank you."

Senator Fukunaga rose to speak in favor of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of H.B. No. 21, S.D. 2.

"This bill authorizes the Department of Taxation to report on tax benefits for development assistance programs, disclose development assistance, and recapture of assistance from recipients who fail to achieve jobs, wage and benefit gains. It also would appropriate funds for the Department of Taxation to fulfill the objectives of this measure.

"I agree with the prior speaker that this bill is currently a work in progress. During the past eight years, tax incentives for businesses have increased dramatically. Yet, we have not determined whether businesses that use these tax credits have actually been successful in creating more jobs.

"When businesses receive tax breaks to grow the economy, the Legislature should require Department of Taxation to compile and collect data to show whether or not the benefits that we achieve are consistent with the credits being utilized. At the same time, it is not practical to ask the Department of Taxation to collect all of the requested information immediately.

“By giving the proponents of this measure an opportunity to focus on the more critical areas of reporting first, and by providing the tax department with staff and resources to do a credible job, we as policy-makers can accurately weigh the cost benefits of tax breaks to stimulate Hawaii’s economy.”

“For these reasons, I urge my colleagues to vote ‘yes.’”

Senator Ihara rose and said:

“Mr. President, please not my reservations on this bill.”

The Chair so ordered.

Senator Espero rose and said:

“Mr. President, please note my support with reservations.”

The Chair so ordered.

Senators Ige, Hanabusa, Hooser and Aduja requested their votes be cast “aye, with reservations,” and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1326 was adopted and H.B. No. 21, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CORPORATE DISCLOSURE,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 19. Noes, 4 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Trimble). Excused, 2 (Sakamoto, Whalen).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1327 (H.B. No. 1579, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1327 be adopted and H.B. No. 1579, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.”

“If we choose to look at the Hawaii Revised Statutes and see how many pages DBEDT goes on, and on, and on, and on, one might wonder why we have a need to add this particular piece of legislation. The definition of economic development is the broadening of human options. A subset of that is economic diversification. It is in Chapter 201 in the beginning, in the middle, and in the end.

“This is yet another example of unnecessary legislation. Thank you.”

Senator Fukunaga rose to speak in favor of the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this measure.”

“This bill requires DBEDT to develop and implement plans, programs, and initiatives to diversify Hawaii’s economy and it spells out specific performance targets to measure our progress. DBEDT’s mission to oversee the growth and development of Hawaii’s economy has been unchanged under Chapter 201 for the past 30 years. With the current administration, we have an opportunity to chart a new course of action and to pursue it aggressively.

“Your Economic Development Committee therefore directed DBEDT to specifically identify and implement actions to in fact achieve the diversification of Hawaii’s economy that we seek. This includes creating a vision and a long-range plan for diversification, a permanent strong focus on the marketing and promotion of Hawaii as a competitive business climate, coordinating whatever agencies are necessary to achieve specific targeted results, and utilizing other educational training and marketing tools to create high quality jobs.

“Hawaii can no longer be content with business as usual. DBEDT must take the lead in stimulating our economy with vigor and specific actions. Therefore, S.B. No. 1579, S.D. 2, will help us get there.

“Thank you.”

Senator Trimble then responded.

“Mr. President, I think that all DBEDT needs is to have some of their attached agencies removed so that they can focus on the job at hand, and perhaps an appropriation so that they can begin the work that is already in the Hawaii Revised Statutes.

“Thank you.”

Senator Ihara rose with reservations and said:

“Mr. President, please note my support of this bill with reservations. I believe it’s too little too late.”

The Chair so ordered.

Senator Kim requested her vote be cast “aye, with reservations,” and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1327 was adopted and H.B. No. 1579, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE ECONOMIC DIVERSIFICATION AUTHORITY,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 19. Noes, 5 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Trimble, Whalen). Excused, 1 (Sakamoto).

At 1:11 o’clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 1:13 o’clock p.m., with the Vice President in the Chair.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1328 (H.B. No. 1628, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1328 be adopted and H.B. No. 1628, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“Madame Chair, I rise in opposition to this measure.”

“This is an interesting piece if we can couple it back to a bill that we talked about earlier today. First, this appears to be encouraging people to go out to rural areas in the State of Hawaii, and if they do that, then we will give them a deduction for the interest on their student loans. But they should be ever mindful that if they fail to repay those loans, we’ll pull their license.

“Now, my opposition to this bill is a little bit simpler. We are creating a privileged class narrowly defined, and for that, I must oppose the measure.”

“Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1328 was adopted and H.B. No. 1628, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATIONAL LOANS,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Noes, 1 (Trimble). Excused, 2 (Bunda, Sakamoto).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1329 (H.B. No. 32, H.D. 2, S.D. 2):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1329 be adopted and H.B. No. 32, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

“Madame President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

“There are several good features to this bill, but there is still the troubling question of the kindergarten age and the march, I think, to universal kindergarten, and now we’re adding a new idea of junior kindergarten.

“I certainly support the idea of collecting fees for those that misuse or misabuse property, including textbooks, but do not support the idea of a $20 textbook fee, so I’ll be voting ‘no.’ Thank you.”

Senator Kanno rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations and said:

“Madame President, I rise to speak with reservations in support of the measure.

“I’d like to acknowledge the work that the Chair of the Education Committee has done to make improvements on the bill. There are two particular items. One is on page 5, line 4, the bill now requires the department to provide pre-kindergarten programs for those children who are affected by the bill. Secondly, on page 4, line 5, it requires the department to establish procedures and criteria to determine the psychological and physiological readiness of children for public school kindergarten.

“I have some concerns about the measure still. I think it’s very important for us to look at the words ‘shall’ and ‘may,’ and in this sentence, it’s the ‘may’ that really creates a problem. The sentence continues – and may grant an exception in the case of a child who is found to be ready for kindergarten. My concern that even though the department does go through the process of setting up procedures and criteria, they could in effect put them on the shelf and not grant any child an exception. So, I wanted the Chair to be aware of that, that the language may need to be reworked to assure that the department is implementing these procedures on the criteria.

“My other concern comes on page 5 where it reads: ‘The department may offer pre-kindergarten services to families at public schools not within the school district in which a family resides, provided that the public school pre-kindergarten services are not available or not offered within the school district in which a family resides, and provided further that the family provides transportation of the child to and from the public school pre-kindergarten that the child attends.’ My concern is on an island like Oahu, if the department were to designate only one school to offer pre-kindergarten services, let’s say it were in Honolulu, children out in the Waianae Coast, on the North Shore, and for Windward Oahu it probably would not be feasible for them to attend that one school. So we asked the Chair to look at this issue.

“I know some have requested that at every school there be provided pre-kindergarten programs because I know access is going to be a difficult issue. We’ve struggled with that in the past with the immersion schools.

“So I really do want to extend my appreciation to the Chair of the Education Committee for the improvements on the bill and ask that he look at these items as the measure goes to Conference.

“Thank you.”

Senator Hogue rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations and said:

“Madame President, I want to speak in support of this bill with reservations.

“I, too, want to applaud the Chair for some of the work that has gone on with regards to the kindergarten age. I strongly believe that children should be ready before they actually enter kindergarten. So I think that the age is appropriate here and I know that we have done that with our own family.

“I also think that junior kindergarten, or whatever you call it, is really a good idea and I know that it’s been very beneficial to a couple of the children in my own family. So, those areas of the bill I applaud.

“I don’t like, however, what has happened here on page 14 of the bill in which it says, beginning with the 2005-2006 school year, the department, at the beginning of each school year shall assess and collect from each student or the student’s parent or guardian, a textbook and instructions material fee not to exceed $20 per student. We need to provide free and appropriate education, and a $20 fee, or whatever you call it, is not.

“So I’ll be supporting it and hoping that that part can get nixed along the process. Thank you.”

Senator Sakamoto rose and said:

“Madame President, I’d like some comments inserted in the Journal so I don’t have to go over some ground that we have gone over before. We hope to continue to improve this bill. I appreciate the awareness and the concerns brought forth.

“I’d like to address the concern about the free and appropriate education. We did ask the attorney general because constitutionality is a concern that we wouldn’t want to tread on and that we shouldn’t tread on. Their response in a letter dated April 7 in response to our letter requesting an opinion on whether the $20 book fee and $20 book deposit would violate the obligation of the State of Hawaii to provide a free education to public school students, and they wrote that ‘the proposed amendments in sections,’ and they listed some section, ‘permit the Department of Education to charge students for equipment and material. In as much as textbooks can be considered equipment or material, there appears to be no legal objection to the assessment of deposits or fees for books.’ But certainly, it is a concern that we recognize.

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Sakamoto's remarks read as follows:

"Madame, President, I rise today to enthusiastically support of H.B. No. 32, which does two things. It will raise the entrance age for Kindergarten from 4½ to 5 years of age, and assist schools in procuring and retaining textbooks.

"First I will address the need to raise the Kindergarten age. Advancing the kindergarten cutoff date is the only way for Hawaii's public school students to come to the academic starting line at or ahead of mainland students when it comes to competing on nationally normed tests such as the Stanford Achievement Test (which is used for our Statewide testing), the Scholastic Aptitude Test (which is used for college entrance) and for those tests used to assess progress in the Federally mandated 'No Child Left Behind program.'

"Results from our own Statewide testing for all grades in school years 1994, 1995, 1999, and 2001 show younger students, those born during the latter half of the year, July through December, scored significantly lower than older students in both reading and math.

"Other evidence of a needed change is the disproportionate number of Specific Learning Disability (SLD) students born during the latter half of the year. The SLD criteria is not supposed to be based on age, yet there is a weighted count of 24 percent more students born between July and December. That means there are about 1,200 more children in the SLD program than would be reasonable to expect. They are simply too young when they start school and because they can't do the work they are misidentified as learning disabled. At conservatively $10,000 per student, that's about $12 million a year that can be better spent on other needs in education.

"The Test Development Section and Special Education Branch of the DOE affirms that changing the cutoff date will bring about higher test scores and significantly decrease the number of SLD students. Such a change will minimize the costs that will continue to be incurred complying with the 'No Child Left Behind' mandate. Once our students are on par with those in most other states, we can more effectively address other problems afflicting our schools.

"Most mainland schools have a September 1 cutoff date. Hawaii public school students as a group are currently four months behind in social, emotional and intellectual maturity as they start their academic careers. Advancing the cutoff date to August 1 puts us out in front of the majority of mainland schools but not outside the window of others. Why August 1? August 1 splits the difference between the private schools cutoff date for boys, June 30 and the cutoff date for girls, September 1. These private school students are the main competition for our public school students. In addition, for school year 2003-2004, over 60 percent of our public schools in Hawaii will begin on or before July 31.

"The National Education Association, in a resolution regarding early childhood education said, 'The Association supports regulations requiring children starting kindergarten to have reached age five at the beginning of a kindergarten program.'

"Before you cast your vote ask yourself what else could account for the statistical differences between the older and younger groups? And why are there 24 percent more SLD students born during the latter half of the year? And why is Hawaii the only state in which girls outscore boys in math? If starting school earlier is supposed to benefit our children, why are these very children who are younger lagging behind throughout their school career? Test results show that the great majority of younger students never catch up when they start too early. We must stop handicapping our students.

"Advancing the kindergarten cutoff date will bring about higher test scores but more importantly many more Hawaii public school students will become successful adults.

"This bill also provides a solution to our school's textbook crisis. H.B. No. 32 implements measures to assure that we are getting the greatest value for our textbook dollar, by consolidating purchases or conducting purchasing in partnership with entities such as the DOD; allows parents to purchase textbooks for home use; and provides for a system of Textbook deposits and fees to ensure that DOE can provide current textbooks.

"Many other jurisdictions use textbook fees and deposits to support textbook purchasing and replacement. The bill asks for a very small contribution – $20 – for every child in the DOE system, with a waiver for the 59,999 students that are eligible for free lunch and the 19,292 students that are eligible for reduced fee lunch. This translates into a small contribution from families that can afford it, but a big infusion of resources for essential materials in the schools, estimated at just over $2 million.

"Many may ask how implementing a textbook fee interferes with Free and Appropriate Education. My response is that because we exempt those who cannot afford the fee are not required to make it, but still get the benefit of up to date textbooks, a fee can certainly be required for "Free and Appropriate" education, just as lunch fees are.

"Providing and retaining up to date textbooks has been a long term struggle for our schools, this measure will go a long way towards remedying the problem."

Senator Trimble rose and said:

"Madame President, interesting comment – I don't think that anyone here is questioning whether schools or the board of education can levy fees. We're not questioning the legality of that, but we are talking about the moral obligation of the state to provide free public education. And the way that we are starting on today is going in the direction of a fee public educational system.

"Thank you."

Senator Espero requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Inouye rose and said:

"Madame President, please note my reservations, and I'd like to ask the Clerk that the comments of the Senator from Kapolei be submitted into the Journal as if it were my own. Thank you."

The Chair so ordered.

Senator Ihara rose with reservations and said:

"Madame President, I have reservations on the contents, the substance of this bill. Also, I have concerns about this bill. This is, I think, one of the first major gut and replace bills. And my concern is that this gut and replace action was not necessary because the Senate's position on this matter is assured, or virtually assured, because the House is poised to adopt S.B. No. 17, which contains the Senate's position.

"And so, my concern is that if Chairs are going to gut and replace, that they think it through and do it when necessary. I believe there are times when it may be necessary, and in this case, the casualty is the House draft contents which are separate and completely different from the subject matter.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1329 was adopted and H.B. No. 32, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 20. Noes, 4 (Hemmings, Slom, Trimble, Whalen). Excused, 1 (Bunda).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1330 (H.B. No. 289, H.D. 2, S.D. 2):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1330 be adopted and H.B. No. 289, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Madame Chair, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"This is another one of those bills about automobiles and inflated tires, I think . . . oh no, I'm sorry, this is about education.

"If there was any question in H.B. No. 714 as to what would happen if we didn't allow people the choice for decentralization and allowed it up to the Legislature, then this bill removes all doubt. Because what the Legislature would do here is absolutely make sure that the bureaucratic and bungling state board of education remains in tact, the State Department of Education with its accountability problems remains in tact, and then we'll have some additional appointed boards and regional boards and then maybe we'll have some elected boards down below.

"But it was interesting to me and I raised this question several times in Ways and Means, when the Governor made the proposal for decentralization and seven regional boards, there was a figure that came up immediately as to added cost, a figure of $6 million. It was traced back to the Department of Education but nobody could verify where that figure actually came from and what the justification was. Now what we're seeing is an over duplication, over bureaucracy, and nobody seems to have any clue as to what the additional cost would be. Independent estimates that my office made indicates that the estimates for additional cost would be anywhere from $20 million or more.

"So, it's bad in terms of fiscal responsibility; it's bad in terms of not allowing people the choice for decentralization; and it's bad because it parades as something that's going to make a change when in fact it absolutely protects the status quo.

"Thank you."

Senator Sakamoto rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

"Madame President, I rise in support of the measure.

"H.B. No. 289, S.D. 2, establishes seven education agencies and regional superintendents within the public school system.

This bill will give communities input into their school systems immediately by establishing regional boards as governing bodies of the regional education agencies and provides authorities and responsibilities of the state superintendent and regional superintendents. In addition, it establishes principal advisory committees and school complex-based management.

"Studies of successful schools and high student achievement reveal that schools in control of their own decision-making and resources attain higher outcomes in student achievement. This measure seeks to quickly move these authorities closer to the communities that they serve and to empower individual schools and complexes. It also establishes appointed councils that will begin to train and give experience to those community members who may wish to one day run for a local school board office, should those opportunities become available.

"This measure maintains the Superintendent of Education to ensure that implementation of statewide policy as adopted by the Board of Education is in compliance with state and federal laws, and the preparation and execution of the statewide budget and financial management system.

"The Responsibility of daily management of the schools, including the personnel, procurement of goods and services, and management of state and federal resources allocated to each region are assigned to the regional superintendents, who are appointed and evaluated by the regional boards proposed in this measure.

"So Madame President, I'm not sure where our Hawaii Kai speaker got $20 million. I believe the boards guesstimate for elected school boards and the electoral system was in the neighborhood of $6 million. This is an appointed system and certainly if the Senator from Hawaii Kai is willing to wait for the people to vote, perhaps in 2004, perhaps for elected school boards which they will not be able to vote for until 2006, I wonder why the urgency to have the question now. This mechanism would propose immediate relief now and would mimic the elected boards and, in fact, to me, bring governance closer to the people.

"So I'm a little curious about some of their agendas."

Senator Slom then responded.

"Madame President, let me answer the good Senator's plea.

"I've been patient for a long time cause I have a 46-year-old son and a grandson, as well as my current crop of children. I think a lot of people here have been very patient too. They've been waiting for 40, 50 years to see changes in our public education system. And as the good Senator said, what we're doing here is having agencies, as he refers to them, and more advisory groups.

"If you really want to do something now, then you would let people vote now to make the changes now – that's what we can do – and to give the people the guarantee that this Legislature will abide by what they want to do. But what we're doing is we're playing a shell game and we're trying to fool the people into thinking that they can make a decision when really the Legislature continues to have the decision making power and continues to support a statewide, single bureaucratic, autocratic Department of Education and board of education.

"Thank you, Madame President."

Senators Menor and Aduja requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1330 was adopted and H.B. No. 289, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 20. Noes, 5 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Trimble, Whalen).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1332 (H.B. No. 314, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1332 be adopted and H.B. No. 314, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Madame President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"The Department of Education has an obligation to see that all people that it employs are adequately trained. There's not question about that. Why is it the responsibility of the Legislature to pass a bill? Why not hold the Department of Education accountable for performance? By micromanagement measures such as these, we are keeping them from accepting their obligation to ensure that everyone in their employ is adequately trained for the task they are to perform.

"Thank you, Madame President."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1332 was adopted and H.B. No. 314, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING AN APPROPRIATION FOR SCHOOL SECURITY GUARDS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, 2 (Hemmings, Trimble).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1333 (H.B. No. 320, H.D. 2, S.D. 1):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1333 be adopted and H.B. No. 320, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Madame President, I rise in opposition to the bill.

"While I absolutely support more autonomy for the University of Hawaii, this bill creates yet another new special fund – the university risk management special fund. And we don't know whether it's going to guarantee additional annual appropriations or not, so it does not go along with fiscal accountability.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1333 was adopted and H.B. No. 320, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO RISK MANAGEMENT," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1334 (H.B. No. 418, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1334 be adopted and H.B. No. 418, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Trimble rose to speak against the measure and said:

"Madame President, if we look at this measure, what it does is provide a special appropriation for the University of Hawaii. I wonder why the University of Hawaii did not provide in its own budget adequate personnel and funding to ensure that they educate the proper number of people to supply our public schools with teachers. Why is it our responsibility to tell them what they need to do?

"On one hand, they ask for autonomy. They say they're going to create a world-class university. We give them $150 million for a new medical school in Kaka'ako, but when will they be responsible for figuring out what the needs are for the greater community in terms of educating students to become teachers.

"For those reasons, I'm voting against this measure."

Senator Sakamoto rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

"Madame Chair, I rise in support and would like to insert some comments.

"A brief response that I believe the Legislature and issues of statewide concern such as teachers need action."

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Sakamoto's remarks read as follows:

"Senate President and members of the Senate, I rise to support H.B. No. 418, H.D. 1, S.D. 1.

"This measure is critical for providing teacher trainers at the University of Hawaii, College of Education to address the increasing number of teacher vacancies in the public schools of Hawaii. The Department of Education's office of Human Resources (personnel), indicates that 2,453 teachers in the age group 50-54, and 1,996 in the age group 55-59, are eligible to retire. That is roughly 4,449 teachers who could leave the system in the next 2-5 years. Large numbers have already retired or terminated, which is why there is a critical need for teachers. This crisis is not only a problem for Hawaii, but throughout the nation's schools. Therefore, competition for teachers is another factor to consider.

"Plans for recruitment and retention are already in progress by the DOE, which includes instituting programs like Teacher Cadets in the high schools for encouraging seniors to consider Teaching as a Career. Another exciting program is focused on recruiting retiring military personnel into education careers. Colonel William Kinoshita is the newly-hired liaison between the military and DOE to recruit and train potential retired military personnel into education. So far that initiative is progressing.

"On March 14, 2003 in his testimony to the Senate Committee on Education, Dean Randy Hitz of the University of Hawaii College of Education stated that they have turned away up to 40 secondary and special education teacher candidates a year, because of their faculty shortage.

"Appropriating funds to hire 34.5 instructional faculty for the UH College of Education will provide the critical component for teacher training and certification, and allow the University of Hawaii to accept more teacher candidates than they are now able to accommodate.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1334 was adopted and H.B. No. 418, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING AN APPROPRIATION FOR THE UNIVERSITY OF HAWAII,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, 1 (Trimble).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1335 (H.B. No. 620, H.D. 1, S.D. 1):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1335 be adopted and H.B. No. 620, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator English requested his vote be cast “aye, with reservations,” and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1335 was adopted and H.B. No. 620, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE JUNIOR RESERVE OFFICERS’ TRAINING CORPS,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1337 (H.B. No. 1362, S.D. 1):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1337 be adopted and H.B. No. 1362, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Trimble rose to speak with reservations on the measure and said:

“Madame President, I’m going to be voting for this and all subsequent special purpose revenue bonds with reservations for the following reasons.

“We have been told that it will not affect the state in any way. It will not affect collection of revenue. It will not affect our tax base. I disagree. It will cost the state revenue because the bonds that will be issued are tax exempt.

“Number two, we have been told that the state has no legal liability. This may be true, but so was the case when Manoa Finance failed. And what did the Legislature do in response? So I think that if one of these investments or one of these bond issuances turn sour, I will notice my colleagues suddenly rising and saying we need to make the investors whole.

“The third thing is, and I just want to note in passing, is that the interest the people will receive from the special purpose revenue bonds is probably going to be quite a bit different than the amount of money that the bond issuers pay. And I don’t think that we, as a body, have ever looked and examined how this system will actually work in practice.

“Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1337 was adopted and H.B. No. 1362, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE ISSUANCE OF SPECIAL PURPOSE REVENUE BONDS FOR ST. PATRICK SCHOOL,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, 4 (Baker, English, Hooser, Tsutsui).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1338 (H.B. No. 1506, H.D. 1, S.D. 1):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1338 be adopted and H.B. No. 1506, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

“Madame President, I rise in opposition to the bill.

“The bill continues to move along. The appropriation now is only $2, but the basis for the bill is still the same – it would add 313 new personnel to the Department of Education. And while it is true that some of the teachers absolutely need additional help because of Felix and other related matters, we cannot justify the addition of 313 ISPED technicians, database people.

“Aloha.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1338 was adopted and H.B. No. 1506, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING AN APPROPRIATION FOR ISPED CLERK TYPISTS,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, 4 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Trimble).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1339 (H.B. No. 73, S.D. 1):

Senator Hanabusa moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1339 be adopted and H.B. No. 73, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland.

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

“Madame President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

“Earlier I talked about good law, bad law, unnecessary law, law of unintended consequences. I don’t know how to categorize this one. On one hand, it may be unnecessary. Public employees, and I was one for many years, are free to act without fear of criminal or civil penalties as long as they follow their ministerial duties. So in that regard, if that’s all that this bill is talking about, it is unnecessary.

“If it seeks to provide immunity from criminal or civil matters or persecution when they go beyond their ministerial duties, then it is bad law. And I can’t figure out which one it is, but I’ll be voting ‘no.’”

Senator Ihara rose to speak in favor of the measure with reservations and said:

“Madame President, I rise to speak in favor of H.B. No. 73, S.D. 1, with reservations.

“My first reservation is that this is a gut and replace bill. It did have a hearing and so the public did have an opportunity to testify on the S.D. 1. The concern I have is that the House draft contained language that would have extended the core government functions advisory commission and additional year. And because that’s not before us, I don’t really know whether that’s a good idea or not. Offhand, it sounds like it may be; I don’t know.

"But the scene in Conference will be that on one side of the table you will have House members seeking to extend the core government functions advisory commission, and on the other side of the table you'll have Senators wanting to exempt law enforcement officers from criminal acts. And I'm not sure what kind of conversation will occur, and I'm not sure how that Conference Committee will decide which of those . . . it's more than an apples and oranges difference here.

"The other concern I have . . . so that concern is I'm not sure how you're going to decide which of the two very, very different pieces of legislation to proceed in a conference draft, if there is a conference draft.

"The other concern I have is that this draft would allow Hawaii law enforcement officers who are assigned to civil defense duties to have immunity from Hawaii criminal laws. And I'm not sure if that was intended. I understand that may not have been intended and that's why I am in favor with reservations because I hope that this bill will be fixed in Conference Committee, otherwise I'll be voting 'no.'

"The other persons that are already covered by the criminal immunity section of this law – members of the United States army, air force, navy, and other state national guards – I understand that they are currently . . . without this amendment they are currently immune from civil and criminal liability. But I understand that they are subject, however, to the uniform code of military justice, which in many cases has more severe punishment for criminal acts. And for our law enforcement officers who are subject only to the Hawaii laws, by exempting them from Hawaii laws, they could theoretically, under this bill which I hope will be fixed, rape and pillage and rob and steal and so forth and be immune while wearing their uniform.

"I don't believe that was the intent and I have received some assurance that this bill will be improved in Conference Committee and that's why I vote in support with reservations on this bill.

"Thank you."

Senator English rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations and said:

"Madame Chair, I rise in . . . well, after what I just heard, I rise in support with extreme reservations.

"Madame Chair, the previous speaker outlined a lot of my objections to this. I'd like to insert into the record a letter from Professor Richard Miller, outlining some of the objections.

"I'm hoping that we can fix this because I think it is an unintended outcome of the bill. But to grant immunity from civil and criminal conduct to military personnel and to other personnel while they're engaged in civil defense functions is way out of line with the basic concept of rule of law. I think that if we go down this path, we're creating a very, very dangerous precedent.

"But with the assurances that it will be fixed in Committee, I'll vote yes with extreme reservations. Thank you."

The Chair having so ordered, Senator English's letter from Professor Miller reads as follows:

"Richard S. Miller
Professor of Law, Emeritus

April 7, 2003

Dear Senator:

This is an urgent matter: HB73 SD1, a bill which would grant state and local law enforcement agencies and personnel immunity from all civil and criminal conduct under Hawai'i law in the event the unlawful acts were committed while engaging in civil defense functions, is a very reckless and dangerous bill which must not be passed!

HB73 started out as an innocent bill about protecting 'Core Government Functions.' However, the original bill has been 'gutted and replaced,' evidently by the Senate Committee covering Military Affairs, into an entirely different and dangerous animal.

Existing law, § 128-18(a), HRS, gives immunity from only civil liability to the States, counties, public utilities, private agencies and persons, including state and local law enforcement officers, engaged in civil defense functions except in cases of willful misconduct. This law leaves those officers and agencies subject to liability for violations of criminal law and to civil liability for intentional wrongdoing. It relieves the officers and agencies of civil liability for negligent misconduct or other wrongs that are not intentional.

Members of the United States armed services on duty and members of the National Guard from other states who have been ordered into service in Hawai'i 'to assist civil authorities engaged in civil defense functions' are also granted immunity by § 128-18(c). They are entirely immunized, both civilly and criminally, but only under Hawai'i law, for any act done or caused by them in pursuance of duty involving civil defense functions.

Unlike state and local law enforcement officers, they are subject to punishment – indeed very serious punishment in some cases up to and including the death penalty – under the Uniform Code of Military Justice (UCMJ) for wrongful acts done in the line of duty. Among many other crimes, the UCMJ covers such common crimes as murder, manslaughter, rape, larceny, robbery, forgery, arson, assault and battery, housebreaking, and even unlawful detention or arrest. Thus, members of the armed services cannot get away scot-free with these crimes committed while they are engaged in civil defense functions. For them, therefore, there is a strong set of laws designed to deter wrongful conduct.

By contrast, in the case of state and local law enforcement personnel, if HB73 becomes law then aside from the limited application of federal laws which prohibit violation of civil rights under color of state law, there is no external code of justice to deal with them if they engage in willful wrongdoing, such as use of excessive force, even killing innocent people, or wrongfully destroying property, in the course of their civil defense duties.

The Senate Judiciary Committee, in approving this bill, said: 'Because law enforcement officers' duties during civil emergencies are comparable to that of other organizations such as the militia or National Guard, your Committee agrees that law enforcement officers should receive the same immunity from liability while engaged in civil defense functions that are enjoyed by other civil defense organizations.'

But the plain fact is that this bill gives Hawai'i law enforcement officials far greater immunity and protection for their wrongful acts than that available to members of the armed services engaged in the same activities. There is no justification whatsoever for granting this huge chunk of immunity.

While law enforcement officers deserve the strong support of the public, there is no group or individual in our democratic society, not even the President of the United States, who should be left free to commit serious crimes without fear of liability or punishment. The risk of harm to citizens is just too great.

The Legislature by passing this ill-advised bill will expose the people of this state to an unnecessary and excessive risk of unregulated lawless conduct during a civil defense emergency, and take away any redress that citizens who suffer harm may have against the offending law officers.

This bill is unnecessary, it is dangerous, and it must not be passed. It has the potential to create a police state in Hawai'i where the traditional rights of the people to be protected from wrongs and crimes of law enforcement officers at times of civil emergency – when the public is often most vulnerable – can be trampled.”

Senator Baker rose with reservations and said:

“Madame President, please note my reservations as well.”

The Chair so ordered.

Senators Hooser, Tsutsui, Menor and Aduja requested their votes be cast “aye, with reservations,” and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Sakamoto rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

“Madame President, I rise in support of this measure.

“I’m sure you all understand the numerous reasons why. Simply put, if there is a place that should be smoke free, it is our schools.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 248, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SMOKING IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS BY PUBLIC EMPLOYEES,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Trimble rose to speak on the measure as follows:

“Madame President, I don’t think anybody here opposes having money given to the libraries. It’s a worthwhile . . . oh, I’m sorry, there may be a little bit. What we are doing, I think, is setting a bad precedent and following a wrong process. There are many reasons and many organizations which perhaps . . .”

Senator Baker interjected:

“Point of order. Is the speaker for or against the measure?”

The Chair posed the question and Senator Trimble replied as follows:

“I oppose this measure and I’m sorry I took so long to get to the point.

“There are many worthwhile projects. I think, as a body, we should consider all those that are potentially worth including, including the fund for the widow of the Unknown Soldier. Once we have a list, we can decide which we want to put on income taxes. But until we go through that process, I would hate to go through one issue at a time each year to add to the necessary burden of reprinting tax forms and changing it one at a time.

“Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1343 was adopted and H.B. No. 638, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HAWAII STATE PUBLIC LIBRARY SYSTEM,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Menor moved that H.B. No. 140, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Baker.

Senator English rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“Madame Chair, I rise in opposition.

“The bill is presumptive in that it is presuming another bill will pass allowing county sales taxes to go on. And if it does go, then it will allow motor vehicle rental industries to pass this on to customers.

“I thought about this quite a bit, Madame President, and it sets a bad precedent for us, because if we’re assuming that other bills will pass and we have other bills moving to anticipate other bills, it just becomes unwieldy for the legislative process. So, I will oppose this on principle because we have not passed a bill dealing with county sales tax as of yet and has not become law and it’s premature to be dealing with this right now.

“Thank you.”

Senator Baker rose to speak with reservations and said:

“Madame President, I rise to speak on this measure with reservations.

“I believe that the measure is premature. It belongs in another bill and should not be considered at this time.

“Thank you.”

Senator Slom rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations and said:

“Madame President, I rise in support of the measure with reservations.

“I think we’re all in support of incentives for alternative fuels. This bill, however, very narrowly construes the incentive only for government contracts and only where biofuel is used and then the biofuel is very narrowly determined.

“The bill, of course, is another one of the famous Majority Party ‘works in progress’ because there is a blank amount for preference to be given to the low bidder. There’s also a 3003 defective date. And I think the other part about this is that we’re leaving ourselves wide open because while we say we want the lowest bidder and the preference will be given to the people with the biofuels, as defined in this bill, that low bid for that particular type of fuel may be extremely high and extremely costly to the state.

“So, we’re asked to buy this bill and to support it without having 90 percent of the basic ingredients in it. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1350 was adopted and H.B. No. 1405, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO BIOFUEL,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

“Madame President, I rise in opposition to a portion of this measure.

“Part of the problem is our transportation or lack thereof, and in particular, back haul rates to the U.S. mainland and the Far East. If we had competition in ocean freight we would notice that some of our manufacturers of water and beverage products would be exporting to the Far East and the U.S. mainland in much greater quantities than they do today. In fact, it could have been one of our leading exports.

“I oppose that portion of this bill which seeks to tax or place a beverage container tax on manufacturers of these products. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1351 was adopted and H.B. No. 1456, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE DEPOSIT BEVERAGE CONTAINER PROGRAM,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Madame President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"I think we all agree there's a nursing shortage. We all agree that we want to help recruit and educate nurses, but this is not the way to do it.

"This bill here, interestingly enough, creates a new $40 fee for the center for nursing. I don't know how that's going to encourage new nurses. In addition to that, it creates another special fund for the state, so I'll be voting 'no.'

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1354 was adopted and H.B. No. 422, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO A CENTER FOR NURSING," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1359 (H.B. No. 1616, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1359 be adopted and H.B. No. 1616, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Madame President, I would advise my colleagues, perhaps what we really should do is rename this bill the lifetime tax for one year of care bill, because that's what it accurately depicts.

"The only good thing about this bill is the long-term care income tax credit which was a separate bill before, which is still a better idea, and which is an incentive and doesn't create a tax which would provide a $100 million raid on individuals' income.

"This bill does a lot of things but it doesn't do what the supporters want it to do. It does not provide for long-term care. It does not provide for people to have choices. It does not provide for people to be responsible for their own health and welfare.

"What it does do is institute a tax, institute the state in the middle of this tax. It starts at what everybody talks about, $10, but already in the bill it goes up to $23 in a very short period of time. And we know by past experience and looking at other fees and taxes and other government programs that that is a very conservative estimate.

"In addition to that, it takes a 10-year period in which to vest to yield $70 per day for long-term care for a period of up to one year. There are so many fallacies with this bill. There was an analysis that was done last year, which I believe is still current. It shows that it is not economically viable and it's not honest because it is a tax; it is not long-term care.

"Thank you."

Senator Baker rose to speak in favor of the measure and stated:

"Madame President, I rise to speak in favor of this measure.

"Had the good Senator from Hawaii Kai kept his remarks brief, I would have just inserted mine in the Journal. But since he has made some erroneous statements, I feel that as one of the proponents of this measure, it's my duty to correct the record.

"The long-term care plan before us this Session is indeed sound fiscal and social policy. It's simple, effective, market-oriented, and consumer driven. It is a defined benefit program that simply uses the mechanism of the income tax to collect the premiums for this benefit.

"It provides affordable long-term care and is cost efficient. It is the beginning of a move towards privatization of long-term care, while reducing our reliance on the state Medicaid program to pay for this care. It provides a stimulus to the private insurance market to develop new and more affordable supplemental plans.

"It will put money into the hands of those who need the care, providing the frail elderly and their families with some degree of control and choice in caring for their loved ones. It will allow people to stay at home longer than might otherwise be possible, simply because they are not able to purchase services or products that will enable them to stay at home. Most long-term care programs, even the limited option that Medicare provides after a hospital stay, do not provide for in-home services.

"This proposal will provide some efficiency in that lower cost care will be delivered in the lowest cost setting at home. The plan's actuaries estimate that a one-year program will address 75 percent of all home and community care requirements. Overall, that is a tremendous cost avoidance for our Medicaid system and our taxpayers.

"Just a note, three out of four people over the age of 65 will need some type of long-term care services during our lifetime. Currently, only about 6 percent of the nation's population has long-term care. In Hawaii, with the tremendous reliance that our frail elderly have on Medicaid, we're only paying for about 2½ percent of the elderly who need care. And yet, people complain about this being a tax and a tremendous burden.

“Let me add this to the record, each taxpayer in Hawaii contributes more than $400 per year towards the Medicaid program that only 2.5 percent of our frail elderly population who need care will ever benefit from it. Hawaii’s elderly population is growing faster than most other states. In just a matter of a few years, one out of every five people in Hawaii will be over age 60. As their needs for long-term care services grow, the pressure on the Medicaid budget will increase dramatically. And if we note some of what we had to do this year, we had to pass an emergency appropriation for $90 million just to keep our Medicaid programs solvent.

“With the wave of additional elderly those of us baby-boomers will create in a few short years, the demands on Medicaid are going to be tremendous if we don’t stem the tide now. That’s why it is important that we act on this measure, we act on it this Session, and we provide a program that is a public/private partnership that is universal, consumer driven, portable, low cost, simple, effective, and efficient.

“Thank you, Madame President.”

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“Madame President, I’m rising in opposition to this measure.

“When it was before Ways and Means, I voted with reservations simply because I wanted to have a chance to read what had been done to the bill. Having read it, I wish to offer the following comments.

“If you strip away the title, if you look at what’s actually there, it is a mandated savings account. And I chose to see how it would work, compare it to the social security system. With the social security system, if you have a parent that dies and you’re a child, you get something, or when you get to be 65, you qualify, you get something. The social security system has, for most of what it pays out, some very clear dividing lines. Once you cross that line, you qualify.

“Where there is greater cost of administration, where there is less certainty is when you get into the area of disability. And I learned on the Committee on Human Services and I would hope after I’m finished, she would get up and confirm my remarks . . . in the spirit of cooperation and collaboration.

“This is a bill where essentially whenever you feel you need to dip into this forced savings account, you will find a reason why you need the money and you’ll be able to find a doctor, an osteopath, or a nurse who will agree that you are indeed in need. The problem is twofold – it probably isn’t going to be around when they really need it because they want to use it up, because there is no clear cut criteria – it’s not whether you’re 65; it’s not if you died – it’s when you feel that you want it. Second, there is going to be a lot of unanticipated administrative costs.

“When you factor these two things in, you will discover that again we are talking about not the healthcare bill, but the law of unintended consequences. Thank you.”

Senator Hemmings rose to speak against the measure and said:

“Madame President, I rise to speak against this legislation.

“This bill, as it was last year, is a tremendously cruel hoax on the people of Hawaii, most especially our elderly and those who need care. We heard some nice rhetorical support for this, number one, that it’s sound fiscal policy. Well, those who are not socialists amongst us, like Lowell Kalapa from the Tax Foundation, clearly pointed out that this is a huge tax increase that is going to have a tremendously detrimental effect on the economy of Hawaii.

“We heard that this is going to be market driven. Nothing could be further from the truth. In spite of what the Honolulu Advertiser reported last week, the insurance companies that are the market currently for affordable long-term health care, oppose this measure. We were told that this is going to lead to privatization – just the opposite. This is, by every definition of the word, a monopoly. Most people, especially those who least can afford it, are going to pay twice for health care. They’re not going to pay the $10 a month as it will start and then pay for private sector coverage additionally.

“We heard the word choice – just the opposite. This does not allow choice in the marketplace. This mandates you pay the money to a government agency and then turn around and spend the money under the terms by which the agency dictates. We don’t even know those terms. We heard talk about Medicaid, Medicare costs. That is the very reason to vote against this legislation. As well intended as Medicaid and Medicare have been, they resulted in tremendous problems at the national level and tremendous problems at the local level where their inability to provide adequate coverage so much so, that many doctors are refusing to take those cases.

“This is indeed a hoax. This Legislature was wise enough not to pass it last year. In this bill, though, is a tax credit that we had discussed earlier this morning when we so wisely voted in favor of a tax credit for economic development. Why can’t the same principle apply to medical assistance development and encourage the private sector, through credits, to provide a broad range of medical services that are so desperately needed, and then people indeed will have sound fiscal policy, market driven initiatives, privatization, and choice.

“I urge my colleagues to do the sensible thing. Do not vote for this cruel hoax. Vote ‘no.’”

Senator Sakamoto rose and said:

“Madame President, please note my vote with reservations.

The Chair so ordered.

Senator Hogue rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“Madame President, I rise to speak in opposition to this bill.

“One thing that has not been talked about is this essentially is a Ponzi scheme. There’s no doubt it’s a Ponzi scheme and I think that should be noted.

“We’ve also, as this bill has progressed, added two new classes of people who can choose whether or not to participate in this Ponzi scheme, including:

1. People who receive insufficient income to be required to file income taxes; and
2. People who have no income subject to state taxes because their income is strictly from pensions.

This, colleagues, in insurance circles is called adverse selection, because it means you take on most of the risk of that class of people, but only get revenue from the handful of people who know good and well that they'll use the benefits. Not only that, we've exempted very low-income workers from participating. Low-income workers tend to be young workers, so this change strips away revenue while not greatly reducing our risk. The net result of all these changes is that the original actuarial projections of needed premiums is no longer valid. In other words, the Ponzi scheme won't work. This program would be grossly underfunded and be a huge drain on the general fund unless the stated premiums were greatly increased.

"Of course, all this, frankly, could be moot because who really believes that the Legislature can keep their mitts off such what is essentially a huge special fund for ten years, for ten years as it is building up hundreds of millions of dollars and taking it right out of the taxpayers' pockets. We're voting on bills today proposing raids on the hurricane fund, the rainy day fund – why on earth would this one be any different?"

"Finally, the biggest reason why this is a bad idea is because it is a disincentive to go out and purchase your own private long-term care insurance. This gives the illusion that the state is going to handle your long-term care for you, and that is not the case. We should have a long-term care tax credit. That part of the bill, I can endorse, but the other one – the Ponzi scheme – and all the bad side effects are many of the reasons to vote 'no.'"

"Thank you, Madame President."

Senator Espero rose and said:

"Madame President, please note my support with reservations. Thank you."

The Chair so ordered.

Senators Aduja, Menor and Kim requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Chun Oakland rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

"Madame President, I stand in support of this measure. I wasn't going to say anything, but I think I will speak on this matter because I believe a number of us have worked for many years on this issue of long-term care and we would like to share our findings with you.

"In 2002, the Legislature enacted Act 245, to establish the long-term care financing program, which created a temporary board of trustees to design a tax-based plan. H.B. No. 1616, S.D. 2, is an outgrowth of the board's work.

"Madame President, we all know that an increasing number of Hawaii residents will need long-term care services. According to the University of Hawaii's Department of Political Science, nearly a quarter of Hawaii residents will be 65 years of age or older by the year 2020, with the first wave of baby boomers turning 65 years old in 2011. Hawaii's elderly population is growing faster than most states. In just a matter of a few years, one out of five people in Hawaii will be over the age of 60. It has been estimated that three out of four people over age 65 will need some type of long-term care service during their lifetime. But, the cost of long-term care is out of reach for most people as the Executive Office on Aging estimates that only 6 percent of Hawaii residents have long-term care private insurance. Private day health care costs $65 a day. Expanded care adult residential care homes charge up to $3,000 or more per month for private pay residents. Nursing home costs average between $5,000 and $7,000 per month, while skilled home care visits cost on average about $85 per visit.

"Medicaid, the state program for the poor, now pays for three out of four people in Hawaii who receive long-term residential care. Medicaid is supported about equally by state and federal dollars. It is estimated that each taxpayer in Hawaii, as noted by the Chair of the Health Committee, contributes more than $400 every year towards this Medicaid program.

"This Session is a glimpse of what is to come. The state Medicaid program has asked the Legislature to approve $90,125,084 in emergency appropriations for increases in health care costs and increased number of people served by the Medicaid program to make up for an anticipated shortfall just for this period until June 30 of this year. The State's Medicaid budget totals each year more than $800 million. The State cannot keep pace with paying these huge, quickly increasing Medicaid budget costs. Hawaii needs to develop a permanent and dedicated revenue stream to finance basic long-term care services and slow down the number of people who are entering the Medicaid system due to the anticipated growth in demand for long-term care services by the 'baby boom' generation.

"Let's put these statistics into perspective using the Senate as an example. If the estimates are accurate, Madame President, we all hopefully will live beyond 65 years of age, 18 out of 25 of us will need some sort of long-term care. Now, if only 6 percent of us have long-term care insurance, that means less than two of us will not rely on either Medicaid or our financial resources to pay for these costs. Less than two of us, Madame President, and we're supposed to be examples for our constituents.

"I'd like to insert the additional remarks into the Journal, Madame President.

"I would like to close by saying that this measure, as well as Act 245, has been carefully and meticulously crafted in collaboration with experts in long-term care actuarial science and long-term care plan administrators and providers. All other states are struggling with the same problem of financing long-term care, so we are not alone, but we are now taking the lead in the nation, as Hawaii has a proud tradition of so doing, in this matter of national importance. It is NOT a piece of flighty and frivolous legislation. It IS serious and sound legislation that we as Legislators should be proud to support because it is the right thing to do.

"I urge my colleagues to support this measure. Thank you, Madame President."

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Chun Oakland's additional remarks read as follows:

"Madame President, the State's existing long-term care system is not consumer friendly. It lacks choice of individualized service that fits the individual, and it is very expensive. It is not a vibrant sector of the health care marketplace, and there are few incentives in place to attract providers who would develop new and innovative programs.

"H.B. No. 1616, S.D. 2, is the latest and best effort of the Hawaii State Legislature to design a long-term care plan that is simple, effective, market-oriented, affordable, cost-efficient, consumer driven, and fair. It is the beginning of a move towards privatization of long-term care while reducing our reliance on the state Medicaid program to provide that care. It also acts as a stimulus for the private insurance market to sell more policies and to develop new and affordable supplemental plans.

“This measure establishes a long-term care income tax of $10 per month, collected through withholding and estimated tax filings, beginning after December 31, 2004. There will be a process by which pensioners, low income, and the unemployed can participate in the program. Vesting occurs after ten years of contributions and the benefits are portable for persons who leave the State.

“Defined benefits of $70 per day up to a cumulative period of 365 days are paid to the taxpayer before insurance and Medicaid benefits are paid. A person becomes eligible for defined benefits if the person needs assistance with two or more activities of daily living or is afflicted with Alzheimer’s disease or dementia.

“The defined benefit can be used for any long-term care services, whether at home or in a facility. The services could even be provided by a family member in the home. Any balance of charges would be paid out-of-pocket by the person unless the person has private long-term care insurance. For Medicaid eligible persons, although the state Medicaid program has not committed to paying the balance because this is a new program, the Department of Human Services has not ruled it out. If Medicaid does pay the balance, the State would still save money as this program would encourage in-home care instead of at a costly facility.

“This measure also provides for a ten-year long-term care tax credit for persons who have purchased long-term care insurance and paid the long-term care income tax. The amount of credit is $10 per month up to $120 for each of the first five years, and increasing to $15 per month up to $180 per month for each of the remaining five years. This is intended to provide an incentive to purchase long-term care insurance, as well as to offset the effect of the tax. The tax would hold down the cost of long-term care, making the tax plan cost-effective over a period of time.

“The tax proposed by this measure is a necessary solution to a problem that has been growing over time with no end in sight. Although the tax could be considered regressive, the tax is extremely modest and is in the best interest of the State. Think about it, Madame President: For the cost of a movie and popcorn, or two plate lunches per month, we could have a long-term care plan.

“This measure would also facilitate the growth of the home care industry in Hawaii. It is anticipated that the demand for home care services would be stimulated. People would have cash to pay for a variety of home care services. In effect, the industry would become market driven.

“The insurance industry naysayers should realize that this measure calls attention to the problem of paying for long-term care, and the importance of having more than the defined benefit to pay for it such as long-term care insurance. This measure is intended to supplement, not supplant, the coverage provided by long-term care insurance. Coverage under this measure is very basic yet it would meet 75 percent of people’s needs.

“Although this measure will not solve all of the State’s long-term care issues, it will add another prong to work alongside Medicaid to facilitate the State’s strategy of implementing a fully functional and flexible multi-pronged approach that ensures that citizens of our State receive the long-term care they need without inordinately placing the cost burden on one particular financing mechanism.”

Senator Hemmings rose again to speak against the measure as follows:

“For the record, Madame President, I’m rising to speak against this.

Ayes, 19. Noes, 6 (Hemmings, Hogue, Ige, Slom, Trimble, Whalen).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1360 (H.B. No. 122, S.D. 2):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1360 be adopted and H.B. No. 122, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

“Madame President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

“There used to be a problem, and there seems to be a lag in the length of time it takes for the perception to disappear and reality to appear. In the testimony in the Human Services Committee, Lillian Koller, the Director of Human Services said that on the form, pregnant women are given priority. They are given expedited processing and that in most cases, they can be told in one week and no more than two weeks whether they qualify for QUEST. Given the change in the length of processing that it now takes, this measure is no longer necessary.

“Thank you.”

Senator Baker rose to speak in support of the measure and said:

“Madame President, I rise to speak in support of H.B. No. 122, S.D. 2.

“Unfortunately, the reality simply is that this bill is still needed. There is still a huge wait for people to be determined to be eligible for QUEST. And it’s very important that women get very early and continuous prenatal care. It lowers the cost of births; it lowers the costs of care down the road. And since Medicaid now pays one quarter of the cost of all births, the lower we can keep the cost of those births, the less costly it is to the system.

“Providing early and continuous care for pregnant women is the sensible way to ensure better outcomes during childbirth. It makes sound economic sense for the state to provide these early services without delay, rather than footing the bill later for complications during pregnancy and birth. It’s a measure that does make sense. It is still needed despite the preliminary testimony of the Director of Human Services. When we’ve done a check out in the field with the providers, we find that there is a tremendous lag and people are not getting services, they're not being qualified.

"We need to move this measure forward. Thank you."

Senator Kanno rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

"Madame President, I rise to speak in support.

"Delays in Medicaid eligibility determination mean that women may delay seeking care until approved, or providers may delay or deny some prenatal services until the woman is insured. These delays in women seeking prenatal care translates to an increase in low birth weight babies.

"Infants born to mothers with late or no prenatal care are two times more likely to be born low birth weight. For every low birth weight delivery prevented, there is an estimated savings of $14,000-$30,000 per child in health care costs.

"With presumptive eligibility, federal Medicaid will pay their share of all prenatal ambulatory costs, even if the woman is ultimately found to be ineligible for QUEST. At least 28 states plus Washington, D.C., and the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands already offer presumptive eligibility for pregnant women.

"To quote from the testimony of the March of Dimes Hawaii Chapter:

'The State of Hawaii needs to send pregnant women a clear and consistent message that early and continuous prenatal care is in the best health interests of mother and baby.

Eliminating barriers created by the need for predetermination of Medicaid eligibility will go a long way in reinforcing this message to our entire population.'

"In December of 2002, Healthy Mothers Healthy Babies conducted a survey of all Department of Health perinatal providers serving at-risk pregnant women statewide. The purpose of the survey was to determine if the new simplified Department of Human Services application (DHS form 1100), which was implemented in September 2002, has reduced Medicaid eligibility processing time for pregnant women or not.

"Of 12 DOH perinatal providers who were sent the survey, a total of nine responded. That represents 75 percent. Geographical responses included Lanai, Maui, Big Island, and on Oahu there were two providers in Kalihi, a provider in Kahuku, Waianae, Honolulu, and Mililani.

"Clinics responding indicated that they had served a total of 1,107 pregnant women between September 2002 and January 2003. The average response estimated by providers for Medicaid eligibility determination processing for pregnant women during this time was 20-39 days, roughly 3-6 weeks.

"I urge my colleagues to vote 'aye.' Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1360 was adopted and H.B. No. 122, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PRESUMPTIVE MEDICAID ELIGIBILITY FOR PREGNANT WOMEN," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Madame President, I rise in opposition to the bill.

"I rise in opposition because what this bill does is to take money directly from the so-called rainy day or emergency fund to appropriate various and sundry human service projects. I don't think that's proper use of that fund.

Senator Trimble rose to speak against the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I'm speaking against this measure.

"The only basis that makes sense to me that I can support is waiving fees if there is a needs test, and what I mean by a needs test is whether it's based on income or assets or a combination of the two. To do otherwise, I think, is fiscally irresponsible.

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"What we are doing in effect is essentially creating a special fund. We are saying that the administrative costs used for the disposal of property will be deducted. That is sort of like saying that the cost involved is like that of the Department of Taxation, the administrative costs of the Department of Taxation will be subtracted from the amount of revenue they collect.

"I do not accept the principle on which the argument is based and therefore urge my colleagues not to support this measure. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1375 was adopted and H.B. No. 1154, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO UNCLAIMED PROPERTY," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"It's a seemingly innocuous bill – provide meal breaks for employees – but what it really does is show the heavy hand of government involved in the workplace, even greater than it is right now, requiring employers to do certain things regardless of what the requirements are for work and what flexibility is allowed between employer and employee.

"We haven't had any testimony that show that there's any abuses or that people are denied breaks. We have had testimony, however, how difficult it is because of certain kinds of occupations and certain kinds of businesses. The answer to that was to create certain exemptions for individuals, but what we're saying is that it's really bad for them but it's all right for the rest of businesses and employers. And in fact, Mr. President, it is not.

"I'm opposed to the bill. Thank you."

Senator Sakamoto rose to speak with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, I rise with reservations on this bill.

"I don't believe that state government should be imposing this level of regulation on our employers. Certainly, while I appreciate that, exceptions to that rule have been granted to the common carriers of passengers to continuously operated facilities that are regulated by environmental permits. But I feel that certain other classes of employers also have special needs and circumstances that will adversely be affected by this measure.

"So, I believe that freeing our employers of unnecessary regulation will free them to create more jobs and better working conditions for their employees."

Senators Kim, Aduja, Ihara and Fukunaga requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1378 was adopted and H.B. No. 29, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MEAL BREAKS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"Employers across the state within the last two weeks all received notices of increased unemployment compensation taxes. It's interesting because the unemployment rate, at least by the figures published, seems to continue to go down. Part of that is because people have moved away or people have given up on trying to get employment in some cases.

"In any event, the unemployment compensation tax has increased. This bill would extend benefits and would increase that tax further, and I reiterate to my colleagues and to the public again – no employee pays any part of unemployment compensation tax. It is a tax on employers only.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1381 was adopted and H.B. No. 290, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO UNEMPLOYMENT," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to the bill.

"We're talking about additional costs that are going to be paid by both employers and by the taxpayers as a whole, and we're providing a solution for a problem that in fact does not exist at this time.

"Thank you."

Senator Sakamoto rose with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, I rise with reservations on this measure.

"It needs more thought and refining. For example, Section 2, part 3, of the measure indicates that the uninsured would be given insurance once they 'agree to pay for the costs of the person's coverage premium.' I'm concerned that this promise to pay is not money in the hand, and ask that the measure provide coverage only once the individual has provided payment for it."

Senators Aduja and Ihara requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1382 was adopted and H.B. No. 294, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TEMPORARY HEALTH INSURANCE FOR UNEMPLOYED PERSONS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"Our needs are great. Our resources are few. We can always find reasons why we should give a little bit more, but it is fiscally irresponsible at a time when the employee retirement system is significantly underfunded to expand the pay out, the burn rate, the benefits that are paid out.

"I urge my colleagues to vote against this measure. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1387 was adopted and H.B. No. 986, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO DEATH BENEFITS OF SURVIVING CHILDREN OF PUBLIC EMPLOYEES," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Noes, 3 (Hemmings, Slom, Trimble).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1388 (H.B. No. 1013, H.D. 3, S.D. 2):

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"This bill would add additional cost to the workers' compensation system, which again is born entirely by the employer. Workers' compensation costs and premiums have continued to escalate, and it is a situation where the employer makes the choice today, pays for all of the costs, and therefore, in terms of selecting a physician, if the employee wants to select an additional physician on his or her own, he or she should be allowed to do that. But as long as the employer is paying for it, it should not be part of the overall decision.

"Thank you."

Senator Sakamoto rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"H.B. No. 1013 proposes to add unnecessary steps to the worker's compensation process. These additions will delay treatment and services to the employee, increase costs to the system, and most importantly, creates imbalance and unfairness in the system. The existing system is already fair and balanced for the most part and allows the injured employees to choose their physician of choice in the determination process.

"Very rarely do disagreements occur between employees and their employer. However, when they do, the current system has proven to be self-corrective by allowing the employer to choose the physician for the second referral.

"This bill attempts to correct a working and balanced system that does not require correction. It is no wonder that the Department of Labor, Hawaii Medical Association, Chamber of Commerce and many other organizations testified in opposition. Passage of this bill would result in further complicating and further prolonging the worker's compensation process. In short, this bill attempts to fix an entity that is not broken; therefore I will be voting 'no.'"

Senators Aduja, Inouye and Ihara requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

At 2:44 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

Senator Hemmings rose to speak against the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against H.B. No. 1041, S.D. 1.

"Mr. President, to make a long story short, the State of Hawaii cannot afford to give a pay raise to anybody."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1389 was adopted and H.B. No. 1041, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO STATE OFFICERS AND EMPLOYEES EXCLUDED FROM COLLECTIVE BARGAINING AND MAKING APPROPRIATIONS AND OTHER ADJUSTMENTS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, 4 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Trimble).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1390 (H.B. No. 1042, S.D. 1):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1390 be adopted and H.B. No. 1042, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Hemmings rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against this proposal to make appropriations for collective bargaining costs and I will be entering remarks similar for the remainder of collective bargaining authorization.

"Number one, the State of Hawaii is not in the position to give a pay raise to anybody, as I previously announced.

"Secondly, the State of Hawaii has more public employees on a per capita basis than most any other state in the nation. That is one of the problems with paying for state government with excessive taxes.

"Number three, the fringe benefits for our public employees is by far and away the most generous in the nation. We are paying for, on the average, three or four more days off every year than any other state pays for. Our other fringe benefit packages including health care and retirement health care for those employees who stay in the system over ten years is incredible alongside what other states do and it costs so much money that the State of Hawaii even circumvents its own laws and hires people through temporary hires and hides the funding of it oftentimes in funded vacant positions in the state budget. That's how disingenuous this system is.

"And lastly, this is incredibly unfair to the employees in the private sector who are struggling paying high taxes and look at their counterparts in the public sector getting pay raises year in and year out no matter what the state of the economy is.

"Now, I know many people in this august body owe quite a lot to organized labor, politically, but now is the time to do what's best for them and for the entire State of Hawaii. We cannot afford pay raises and I'm very proud to stand and speak against appropriations for collective bargaining pay raises. And we can all do our best to curb the cost of government by voting 'no' on this and similar legislation.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1390 was adopted and H.B. No. 1042, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING APPROPRIATIONS FOR COLLECTIVE BARGAINING COST ITEMS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Menor moved that H.B. No. 96, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Baker.

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"I noticed that the consumer advocate and the public utilities commission testified against this measure. It's my sense that if we continue forward and pass this measure, it will mean higher telephone rates. I stand opposed to this measure and I ask my colleagues to join me.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 96, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC UTILITIES," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Sakamoto rose to speak with reservations on the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise with reservations on this bill.

"By raising the limits of the check amount and maximum fee, individuals would end up paying and being charged a lot more. The existing law is $300 at 15 percent, which is $45. This measure would almost triple that to charging $120 for a $600 check.

"So I feel this is certainly getting usurious and unconscionable. I urge more reasonable limits be set."

Senator Ihara rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, I have reservations in support.

"I support this bill with reservations because the percentage that a check cashier may charge went up from 15 percent to 20 percent for a 32-day period and did not have the opportunity to have anyone testify on this provision. I hope the Conference Committee will solicit and allow at least written testimony on this section that increases the percentage that can be charged. It's getting into the slightly loan shark kind of concern.

"Thank you."

"Thank you."

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"We have a process . . . we have a process when people want to receive money such as this, and I believe they have, in the past, approached the Hawaii Tourism Authority. I think that we would certainly continue a bad precedent if we today were to approve this, and every other organization like the 'Aloha Week' would then come directly to the Legislature for an appropriation.

"Thank you."

Senator Hogue rose and said:

"Please note my reservations, Mr. President. Thank you."

Senators English and Tsutsui requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"There are three points I'd like to bring to your attention. First, this extends the credit one year. If you look at the planning horizon for construction projects, they are much longer than one year. So, the tax credit, in and of itself, is not going to generate more activity than would occur in its absence.

"Second, if you look at the 10 percent of retail space devoted for the promotion and sale of Hawaii products, certainly a laudable objective, but in terms of enforcement, it is a bureaucratic nightmare and we'll be rift with lining the pockets of attorneys that will argue on both sides.

"Third, given the world's current outlook, I do not think that a tax credit in this area is going to be as an important factor as other considerations, so I don't think that it, in and of itself, will generate more economic activity, and thus will just serve to reduce our already short tax supply.

"Thank you."

Senator Sakamoto rose to speak in support as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in support, not to address the previous speaker, but to please insert comments into the Journal."

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Sakamoto's remarks read as follows:

"Mr. President I rise in support of H.B. No. 1400, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, Relating to Hotel Construction and Remodeling Tax Credit. I feel it is very important that during these difficult economic times, we focus on and support the building and tourism industries.

"Providing these tax credits helps us maintain and restore our tourism infrastructure to ensure that we continue to occupy our status as a premier resort location in the world.

"This bill will also extend the tax credit to hotels that dedicate 10 percent of their occupied space to promotion and sale of Hawaii products, which extends the local economic multiplier effect even further."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1405 was adopted and H.B. No. 1400, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HOTEL

CONSTRUCTION AND REMODELING TAX CREDIT," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1406 (H.B. No. 704, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1406 be adopted and H.B. No. 704, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Ihara rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of this bill with reservations.

"While there are many positive sections in this bill, H.B. No. 704, S.D. 1, I am opposed to Section 4, part of Section 4, which is on page 4, lines 12-14. These three lines would eliminate the use of request for proposals, RFPs, in the procurement of professional services contracts. Currently, contracts for architects and engineers are now procured by non-bid and RFP processes, although there are just a minority of contracts that use the RFP process.

"This bill would require only nonbid contracts for professional services. I understand that there may be some concerns about RFPs but the state procurement officer says that even after asking, no one has come forward with any example of the concern about RFP abuse.

"There was testimony on this bill in opposition by all of the various procurement officers because they want to retain the option to use RFPs. For example, an agency may want to install, let's say, a community kitchen for use to train nonprofit organizations to train chefs. And instead of selecting an architect based only on qualifications, they may want to seek an RFP so that they can get ideas from an architect on the various types of kitchens, or a proposal on a kitchen design. And this would help them to develop and integrate their chef training program, for example, to integrate with the kitchen. It would also give them ideas about pricing.

"Also, with an RFP and a proposal, the agency would have a better idea about, rather than just on qualifications, they would have a better idea if the architect kind of fits in with their philosophy and what they intend to accomplish in their project. An RFP would also provide pricing information to help the agencies scale the kitchen to their program needs and also pricing needs.

"I believe we should not restrict agencies from seeking RFPs, otherwise, the example I gave where you have a community kitchen agency, they would have to select a kitchen architect or planner only on qualifications, and after selection, then at that point, they could start discussions and negotiations on the kind of kitchen designs and the needs, as well as pricing.

"In certain situations, Mr. President, I believe it may be a better practice to use RFP, like the example I gave, and therefore I ask that this RFP ban be deleted in Conference Committee. That's why I support this bill with these reservations."

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to the bill.

"The good Senator from Kaimuki did point out that there are a number of good things in this bill, but a number of questionable items as well. He talked about the RFP process, which is very troubling, but in addition to that, there is another part in Section 3, item no. 6, page 3, which establishes and maintains a Hawaii Procurement Institute in cooperation with the Richardson School of Law. It also creates a procurement library. It gives various tasks, employment and training, but there's no appropriation and there's no idea as to what the cost will be for this, how long it will be, or actually how it will be governed, and I don't think that it's necessary.

"Thank you."

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I also rise in opposition to this measure.

"As a former administrator for a division for the State of Hawaii, I always held pre-bid conferences. I found it effective, and I held it when it was appropriate. And one observation is that when I held pre-bid conferences, I suddenly observed that it was an opportunity for potential bidders to find out who was going to bid and it did raise levels of concern that they might have at the back of their mind the potential for collusion.

"There are situations where a pre-bid conference may not be a good situation. I will vote 'no' for the reasons mentioned by the Senator from Hawaii Kai, the Senator from Kaimuki, and also because I think it gets the Legislature deeper into the realm of micromanagement.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1406 was adopted and H.B. No. 704, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PROCUREMENT CODE," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, 4 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Trimble).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1407 (H.B. No. 1230, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

On motion by Senator Taniguchi, seconded by Senator Kokubun and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1407 was adopted and H.B. No. 1230, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TRANSPORTATION," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1408 (H.B. No. 1247, S.D. 1):

On motion by Senator Taniguchi, seconded by Senator Kokubun and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1408 was adopted and H.B. No. 1247, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING AN APPROPRIATION FOR THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A CONTRAFLOW LANE ON FARRINGTON HIGHWAY ALONG THE WAIANAE COAST FROM MOHIHI STREET TO PILIOKAHI AVENUE," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1409 (H.B. No. 1363, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1409 be adopted and H.B. No. 1363, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

“We have Enchanted Lake waterway. We have Salt Lake waterway. We could generalize and include all waterways on the island of Oahu. I just feel that it’s inappropriate to identify one specific example for which to make a grant-in-aid.

“Thank you.”

Senator Sakamoto rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of the measure.

“I have comments to insert in the Journal, but just briefly, this is an effort where the neighborhood has already worked with the federal government, the state government, the city and county to move thing forward. In fact, things are moving forward and this is an effort to have the state participate in really helping the residents of that whole community.”

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Sakamoto’s remarks read as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of H.B. No. 1363, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, to appropriate funds as a grant-in-aid to the City and County of Honolulu to clean up Salt Lake Waterway.

“The Salt Lake is filthy and stagnant and releases noxious odors that are both bothersome and could be harmful to the health of my constituents.

“The Salt Lake Waterway cleanup has been going on for mote than 5 years now through efforts made by the City and County of Honolulu, the Department of Health, and numerous community-based projects. While the Honolulu Country Club owns all the land under the waterways the waters that are stagnant in the lake belong to the State. This measure demonstrates a commitment from the State, in partnership with the City and County of Honolulu and private landowners to do our part in cleaning up the Salt Lake Waterway.”

Senator Hogue rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations and said:

“Mr. President, I rise to support this measure with reservations.

“I want to note that similar to what is going on in the Salt Lake community, we’ve had similar efforts on the Windward side in Kailua with regards to Enchanted Lake and the Kailua waterway system. And what I find to be very distressing, and this the reason why I have the reservations, is that similar to Salt Lake, the community has gotten together and tried to work with the city and county, and the federal government and the state, etc., etc. And year in and year out, since I’ve been here, I’ve submitted a grant-in-aid bill to try to help clean up the Kailua waterways and my bill goes nowhere. I’m assuming that it has to do with the fact that I have an R next to my name instead of a D.

“So, I find that very, very distressing and I think that if we were really, really genuine and we wanted to clean up the waterways, and I think that we all support the environment, we would not look to see who is in command of that district and would just go and clean up the waterway.

“Thank you.”

Senator Kim rose to speak in favor of the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of the measure.

“Mr. President, when I was on the city council, we started the initiation, the measures to clean up the waterway, to work with the Salt Lake Elementary school to teach the students about all the runoff and residents throwing things into the waterway. And for years we’ve been trying to get this grant-in-aid, and for years we haven’t been getting it. And so, I urge our colleague across the way to keep trying and perhaps one day you too may see your grant-in-aid sitting before you.

“Thank you.”

Senator Hogue rose and said:

“Mr. President, I will keep trying. You can count on me.”

Senator Chun Oakland rose to speak in support of the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I also speak in support of this measure.

“I’m happy to see that something is moving in this area. Similarly, the Senator from Waikiki and I share Kapalama Canal and I know that the Senator from Moanalua is very aware of this as well. It would be very good if we had a combination of waterway grant-in-aid projects, and the Senator from Kaneohe, maybe we can do that together.

“Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1409 was adopted and H.B. No. 1363, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING AN APPROPRIATION FOR A GRANT-IN-AID TO THE CITY AND COUNTY OF HONOLULU TO CLEAN SALT LAKE WATERWAY,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, 1 (Trimble).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1410 (H.B. No. 1554, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1410 be adopted and H.B. No. 1554, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“Mr. President, I rise in strong opposition to this bill.

“Some people have incorrectly classified this bill as a home rule bill, but in fact, it is not a home rule bill. What it is it’s a tax bill, an additional $120 million potentially, or more, on the taxpayers, primarily the city and county of Honolulu.

“It started out to give an option to the counties. It was narrowed down to the county with more than 200,000 population, and then it was set to set the rate at 1 percent, then it set the dates, then it takes away and changes the formula for the transient accommodations tax for the neighbor islands. And there is some residue from that TAT under this proposal and that surplus amount would go back to the state.

“So, one could argue, I think, very accurately that this is a backdoor tax increase for this state as well. But here we would be imposing a retail sales tax on top of the general excise tax, on top of the general excise tax which you intend to try to increase in a few minutes. And all these crocodile tears earlier about our consumers and about the families and about how much money we’re going to save, we’re not going to save anything if we’re continually increasing taxes.

“So if we want home rule, then let’s in fact truly have home rule and let each of the counties decide what they want to do in terms of their taxes and also in terms of providing services and all of that. Then we’ll have home rule, and we’ll have autonomy, and accountability, but we’re not doing that in this bill. This is, again, a naked tax increase.

“Thank you.”

Senators Ihara, Hooser, Chun Oakland, Fukunaga, Ige and Espero requested their votes be cast “aye, with reservations,” and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Menor rose and said:

“Strong reservations.”

The Chair so ordered.

Senator Hogue rose and said:

“Mr. President, I want the record to note that this tax increase is fully clothed, and I’ll be voting ‘no.’ Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1410 was adopted and H.B. No. 1554, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO COUNTY TAXES,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 19. Noes, 6 (Aduja, Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Trimble, Whalen).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1413 (H.B. No. 293, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1413 be adopted and H.B. No. 293, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to the bill.

“It’s back again. It’s been here before. It would create a world-class farmers’ market, whatever that is. Of course, we never create anything here at the state level that’s not world class – we have world-class education, world-class transportation, world-class ethics in government – every thing is world class.

“The point is we don’t need this bill. We don’t need an appropriation which is blanked out here, or a defective date. The farmers have been doing a very good job. The farmers’ markets have been doing an excellent job. We have them in all sectors of the state. In fact, in my areas of Hawaii Kai, we’re increasing the number of days an hours for farmers’ markets.

“So, the farmers seem to be doing just fine without government intervention. Thank you.”

Senator Inouye having requested her remarks be inserted into the Journal and the Chair having so ordered, her remarks read as follows:

“Mr. President and fellow Senators, I rise to speak in support of H.B. No. 293, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, Relating to the Farmers’ Market.

“The purpose of this measure is to appropriate funds for the Department of Agriculture to assess the economic feasibility of establishing a world-class farmers’ market in Hawaii.

“As our state’s economic and cultural history is deeply rooted in agriculture, the perpetuation and continued growth of this industry is essential in ensuring prosperity for the people of Hawaii. The establishment of a farmers’ market would thus prove to be a great multi-faceted enhancement to our state. Local agricultural producers would be afforded with a centralized outlet to market and promote their produce and value-added products to both commercial and private consumers. Furthermore, this venue holds the promise of promoting economic growth as an attraction to tourists and residents alike, while simultaneously fostering a rise in employment and business opportunities for Hawaii residents working at the market.

“Seattle’s Pike Place Market is a prime example of a farmers’ market that is world renown not only for the quality and diversity of its produce, but also for its local distinctiveness. Hence, while the market is a strong contributor to the Washington economy, it is also a cherished historical landmark and boasts strong cultural ties to the state. A world-class farmers’ market of our own, one that showcases Hawaii’s strong and proud agricultural industry, holds such potential for our own state for many years to come.

“I therefore ask you all to support this measure.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1413 was adopted and H.B. No. 293, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE FARMERS’ MARKET,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, 4 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Trimble).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1414 (H.B. No. 426, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1414 be adopted and H.B. No. 426, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Hemmings rose to speak against the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak against H.B. No. 426.

“Mr. President, this is a bad precedent for the state to set where the Legislature intervenes on contracts by the DLNR. I really want to point out, the most important thing is if you look over the list of the leases in Kokee, the beneficiaries of this special treatment are among the wealthiest people of Kauai, including many of the wealthiest people in Hawaii who have seemed to have gotten, for a number of years, some of Hawaii’s most pristine land at a favorable rate. And now they’re asking for lease extensions.

“There’s another problem with this bill coming over from the House that shows a tremendous conflict of interest – the Kawakami family is one of the beneficiaries of this special treatment. I don’t think anybody should get treatment like this, and it sets a bad precedence. I'm asking that we all vote 'no' or send this bill back to Committee so the ethical thing can be done."

Senators Ihara and Ige requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Inouye having requested her remarks be inserted into the Journal and the Chair having so ordered, her remarks read as follows:

"Mr. President and fellow colleagues, I wish to rise in support of H.B. No. 426, Relating to Public Lands.

"This measure is to direct the Department of Land and Natural Resources to issue new long-term leases for certain parcels of the public lands on Kauai.

"The state is currently experiencing an economic downturn caused by some recent and not so recent events and as a result we must do what we can to encourage and support measures to stimulate the economy. Certain lessees of public lands used for hotels on Kauai have never fully recovered from the devastating results of Hurricane Iniki and the September 11th tragedy and now face the current economic downturn. In the face of all this those lessees are still surviving, however they need our help. Many of them struggling along find that they need to reinvest in their properties to help stimulate economic growth to save their businesses but to their dismay they find that they are unable to find financing. They are stuck between a rock and a hard place, they need to reinvest into their properties, but are unable to because they are having difficulties finding financing for capital improvements when their leases are for fewer than thirty years. This measure will allow them to receive new leases and help them finance much needed capital improvements to their businesses, while providing an economic benefit to the state.

"I urge you all to support this measure, by helping them we will also be helping ourselves."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1414 was adopted and H.B. No. 426, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC LANDS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, 4 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Trimble).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1416 (H.B. No. 1613, H.D. 2, S.D. 1):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1416 be adopted and H.B. No. 1613, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I stand in opposition to this measure.

"I think that there are costs associated with implementation. It is an unfunded mandate. We say that we have no money. A worthwhile project it is, but I think we can delay it by one year.

"Thank you."

Senator Inouye having requested her remarks be inserted into the Journal and the Chair having so ordered, her remarks read as follows:

"Mr. President and fellow colleagues I wish to rise in support of H.B. No. 1613, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, Relating to North Kohala.

"This measure authorizes the Department of Land and Natural Resources to preserve historical sites in North Kohala by condemning the land adjacent to the Kohala Historical Sites State Monument and to allow the Mo'okini Luakini Corporation to protect and care for the Mo'okini Heiau.

"The land when acquired will be used as a buffer and to provide access for the Kohala Historic Monument that includes the Kamehameha birth site, Kukuipahu Heiau, and the Mo'okini Luakini.

"Act 166, Session Laws of Hawaii 1992, codified as Section 6E-38.5, HRS, sought to preserve and protect the Kohala Historical Sites State Monument and mandated that certain lands be acquired to preserve and protect the monument by adding buffers and to provide additional public access. The property was to be acquired by gifts and land exchanges, however attempts to acquire the lands via land exchange or purchase has been unsuccessful.

"To complete the intent of Act 166 and protect the Kohala Historical Sites State Monument I urge you to support of H.B. No. 1613."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1416 was adopted and H.B. No. 1613, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO NORTH KOHALA," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

No. 1175, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1418 (H.B. No. 512, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1418 be adopted and H.B. No. 512, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to the bill.

"Among other flaws in the bill, again it is a raid on the rainy day fund for specific appropriations.

"Thank you."

Senator Baker rose to speak in support of the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I have remarks in support of this measure I'd like inserted in the Journal."

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Baker's remarks read as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of H.B. No. 512, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, which would mitigate unintended problems when federal requirements under the Health Insurance

Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPAA) go into effect this year. H.B. No. 512, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, also makes appropriations from the rainy day fund for programs and services which are essential to the public's health, safety, and welfare and repeals the sunset date for Act 121 regarding mental health parity.

"It was brought to the Health Committee's attention that due to implementation of the privacy provisions of the federal Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPAA) the State must make appropriate changes to State law in order to avoid future problems in accessing medical records. Originally, a next-of-kin provision was inserted into S.B. No. 1356, Relating to Vital Statistics, but due to a title problem it was taken out. Thus, the provision was inserted into H.B. No. 512 under the more appropriate title of Relating to Health. The provision provides for a patient's next of kin to have access to their medical records if the patient or the patient's attorney is unable to do so. Currently, Hawaii has no next-of-kin law, to allow family members of the deceased to have access to the deceased's medical records, except those who have some form of legal designation. This will pose a severe problem when HIPAA's privacy provisions take effect. Under HIPAA, providers will be prohibited from allowing families to access or authorize the release of the deceased patient's records. Thus, when a surviving spouse requests that their deceased spouses' records be sent to a life insurance company, their request would be denied due to HIPAA regulations.

"H.B. No. 512, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, also contains an amendment to allow the disclosure of a mental health patient's medical records for insurance reimbursement claim purposes. Hospitals are frequently unable to obtain payment for services rendered to mental health patients because they are required to obtain specific consent from the patient prior to the release of the patients mental health records. There is no exception to this rule such as in the HIV law (HRS 325-101), which allow the release of information after the patient has been afforded the opportunity to make the reimbursement but choose not to.

"The bill also repeals the sunset date of Act 121, as amended by Act 243, section 8 paragraph 2, Session Laws of Hawaii 2000, which provides for mental health parity. The repeal protects the mental health patients from having to pay additional rates, terms or conditions on serious mental illness benefits, if similar rates, terms or conditions are not applied to services for other medical or surgical conditions. Patients with serious mental illness deserve to have equal access to medical treatment and should not have to pay additional costs for that treatment.

"This measure also appropriates the funds necessary to maintain the State's healthcare safety-net system and other non-state healthcare providers, which are an indispensable part of our healthcare foundation. Appropriations to Molokai General Hospital, which is the only hospital on the island of Molokai, and to Kahuku and Wahiawa General hospitals, are essential to insure the health and well-being of our rural communities. In addition, appropriations to community health centers such as the Hana Community Health Clinic and the Waianae District Comprehensive Health Center are fundamental in providing a healthcare safety net.

"Many of the programs and facilities, which would be appropriated funds through this measure provide a crucial service to their communities. If these programs do not receive assistance from the State they will be forced to reduce their services and in some cases close completely. Programs such as the poison center and the sex abuse treatment center provide statewide services that are vital to the public's welfare. Without additional funding from the State these programs will be forced to reduce their services which will immediate and serious consequences which will jeopardize the health and safety of the public.

"H.B. No. 512, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, is an important and necessary measure which provides for a next-of-kin provision would help healthcare providers and the Department of Health avoid problems related to the privacy provisions in the federal HIPAA regulations. The death of a loved one is a very difficult event. Without the provisions of this bill that time of grief may be even more traumatic. Also by allowing for the disclosure of a mental health patient's records for reimbursement purposes the State is permitting hospital to collect fees and continue to provide services. Furthermore, the repeal of the sunset of Act 121 as amended by Act 243, prevents mental health patients from being subject to unnecessary and discriminatory fees for treatment. This bill also provides the much-needed funds to the State's healthcare safety net and other non-state providers that the public depends on. Mr. President, I urge the members of this body to support this measure by voting Aye on H.B. No. 512, H.D. 1, S.D. 2.

"Mahalo."

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I stand in opposition to this measure.

"This measure specifies a solution, dictates a particular solution, and kind of designates how it will be undertaken. For those reasons, I oppose the measure.

"Thank you."

Senator Sakamoto rose and said:

"Mr. President, may I insert comments, please, into the Journal."

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Sakamoto's remarks read as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of this measure. I support the development of the Halawa facility because I believe the time has come to have OCCC become a useful and productive part of our community. My hope is that with the development of this new facility, the site at OCCC can become a useful part of the Kalihi neighborhood. I also expect, Mr. President, that the Kalihi community be consulted and involved in the redevelopment of OCCC."

Senators Kim and Chun Oakland requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1424 was adopted and H.B. No. 298, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CORRECTIONAL FACILITIES," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Hanabusa requested her vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Ihara rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of this bill with reservations.

"I'd like to just note that this is another gut and replace bill. The subject matter Committee amended the House draft, which dealt with public employee health benefits, and inserted the contents of the bill now, that has S.D. 2, which is repeal of the privatization law which I note was done without a hearing. Actually, this provision repealing the privatization law was in another bill. Actually it's the following bill, H.B. No. 510, and it was displaced, so I guess this is the new home. So this is the third home of the current language in this bill.

"Thank you."

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to the bill.

"I'm trying to find where the bills go and where the guts and the intestines are. It's really difficult. It's difficult for the public; it's difficult for some of the Legislators. But this bill is pure and simple, an attempt to roll back the option of privatization, which had still been little used in this State because the people that opposed it are fighting against it.

"Managed competition is not privatization. Managed competition is not an option that the state needs for budgetary and performance standards.

"Thank you."

Senators Kokubun, Kim, Ige and Sakamoto requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1425 was adopted and H.B. No. 391, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO COLLECTIVE BARGAINING," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"This is a tax increase, the worst possible form of tax increase that we could take. It increases hidden tax. It increases indirect taxes. It increases business-to-business taxes. And if we're trying to shrink the economy by what we do here today, then we're on the wrong track.

"I urge my colleagues to oppose the increase to the general excise tax. Thank you."

Senator Taniguchi rose to speak in favor of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this bill.

"Mr. President, this bill is the 'Invest In Our Children Act' of 2003. This bill is very similar to a Senate bill that we passed earlier in the Session, so I won't repeat the arguments along those lines.

"I do believe that S.B. No. 510 is an improvement over our previous version. It would provide additional funds for education. Mr. President, this is the Senate's only vehicle to provide much needed additional resources to our public schools. I realize that this is a tax increase and it will have an impact. However, I believe that providing adequate resources for public education is so important, that I'm fully prepared to accept whatever criticism of me that may follow.

"Mr. President, there's no good time for a tax increase, but there couldn't be a better or more necessary time to invest in our children. I would ask that members support this bill.

"Thank you."

Senator Hogue rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"If we truly want to invest in our children, we should vote against raising taxes. It only makes sense. It's the worst thing that we could do to an economy that is already in danger.

"Here's an analogy, just a few short days ago, there was an article in the sports section - I do have a tendency to read the sports pages, still, these days - and it talked about the University of Hawaii Men's Volleyball program. They, too, felt that they needed to raise money. They had pretty good attendance there for awhile, so they wanted to raise the revenue. So what'd they do? They increased ticket prices . . . just like increasing taxes. And what was the net benefit? Their revenues went down, their revenues went down. That's essentially what could happen to the State of Hawaii if we raise taxes – the net benefit would be that our revenues could go down because our economy would go down.

“And if we want to actually invest in our children, we are doing just the opposite with this particular measure because we are providing for them a poor economy and not giving them the opportunity to stay here and live here and raise their families here. Instead of raising taxes, we should be doing just the opposite – we should be cutting taxes to invigorate our economy so that revenues increase and then more money will flow to our public schools and our education system can improve.

“This is a very, very bad idea and I encourage all the members to vote ‘no.’ Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Sakamoto rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of the measure, and I have comments to insert similar to what I've stated earlier on a similar measure.

“I want to add, that to get a broader understanding, not just us talking to each other, I sent a survey to the schools to ask the principals, the staff, the teachers, the parents, and asked the school to get responses from the parents, and let me share some of the results with you now. When asked the question, would they (and this is obviously not the population in general but the people involved with the school) support a ½ percent general excise tax increase for education, from this survey, 89 percent said yes, 11 percent said no. When asked how significant a factor the lack of resources for students' success was, 53 percent said it's the most significant; 44 percent said significant but not the most; and 3 percent said not significant.

“We've asked elementary, middle, and high school students, what should the resources be used for? And the different role groups gave their comments and we did list a whole slew of different things, as well as leaving a blank for other. Some of the things they reported back, at least in this survey, were repair and maintenance, professional development, textbooks, computers, supplemental tutoring, curriculum, consumables, teacher retention, and it goes on and on.

“My point being, Mr. President, certainly our schools need these things and we, I'm sure, here concur that these things that were mentioned by the people in the school system are things that we could fund more. Our hope and our prayers are that we can fund more of these things. Certainly, if we could, through the budget as it existed, that would be a good thing. But at this point the economy and education are so intertwined. We need to do more and we believe the people in the schools, believe people in the community, as they have stated, will support this, provided we target specific supports for education. And we can do that, and we will do that.”

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Sakamoto's remarks read as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise today in support of H.B. No. 510 which would raise the General Excise Tax by ½ a percent to support education and a food tax credit.

“Mr. President, Our schools are struggling.

“We have proposed many solutions and many new programs to assist our schools this session, but none of these changes are free. Most people would agree that in spite of the notion that the BOE and the DOE are not using all of the dollars they currently receive as efficiently as they could, there needs to be more funding directed to education.

“This Session, your Education Committee has seen many problems:

- The repair and maintenance backlog is still at $400 - $500 million.
- Each child does not have a textbook solely for his or her own use.
- Teachers continue to take money out of their own pockets to purchase needed supplies for the students.
- The Federal government has not sent enough dollars to Hawaii to cover the costs that will be incurred by the ‘No Child Left Behind’ legislation.
- Money for tutoring and supplemental programs is woefully lacking.
- School complexes do not have their curriculums aligned and even for those that have a plan to do so there is a lack of resources to purchase the textbooks, curriculum and consumables such as workbooks to fully implement what is best for our keiki.
- New communities cry out for new schools for their children before their children graduate with memories of portables and PE class without showers or lockers.

“We have not seen the resources to implement progressive programming to address these problems:

- Where are the resources to assess student progress on an 8-week cycle as opposed to a 24 or 12 month cycle?
- Where are the resources to improve on the personal educational plan for each child? Yes, special needs and the Felix class children as well as the ‘regular education’ kids and the GT – gifted and talented.
- Where are the resources for implementing the best practices envisioned by High Schools that would ‘Break Ranks’ and the move to smaller learning communities and project-based learning?
- Where are the resources to purchase and utilize research based curriculum packages such as Direct Instruction, Core Knowledge, Success for All, or America's Choice?
- Who will train the new principals and new teachers who are scurrying to fill the shoes of retirees?

“We've struggled with these problems and solutions during the Session:

- The Senate has moved many proposals to the House for their consideration.
- The Governor has proposed several reforms including seven or more Local School Boards.
- The House has moved many proposals to the Senate for our consideration.

“Of course more money is not the whole solution, we also must use these resources wisely, and get the resources closer to the classroom.

“Finally, this proposal is not only crucial to the success of our keiki, it is imminently fair to our residents, the food tax credit would return much of the additional expenditure to them in the form of a food tax credit.”

Senator Kawamoto rose to speak in favor of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this bill.

"First of all, I'd like to congratulate the Ways and Means Committee and their efforts to focus on education and try to make a greater percentage of our revenues going to education. We hope that if and when we are in Conference that we can further get more money for education. Basically, we'd like to see some physical structures out there that we could use the monies for, and again, something that's tangible that we can touch and say this money went to that activity.

"Thank you."

Senator Menor rose to speak in favor of the measure with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, I just wanted the record to note the fact that I will be voting in favor of this measure, but with strong reservations.

"I am concerned about the potential regressiveness of the excise tax. I'm also concerned about the potential negative impact on consumers and businesses during these difficult economic times. Nevertheless, I will be voting in favor of this measure because it raises important issues and calls for additional funding for our public schools, which is badly needed by our school system.

"All measures that offer the prospect of providing much-needed funds for important programs and services, including public education, should be given the opportunity to be considered in a free and open discussion. It is only to ensure that such discussion continues that I am voting to keep this measure alive and not because I agree with the funding mechanisms House Bill No. 510 proposes. I would also like to emphasize that, in passing this measure at this stage of the session, the Senate is not giving this bill final approval, but only moving out the measure for further consideration and review by the House.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in strong opposition to this bill.

"We've heard about a number of polls that have been conducted recently, one of which I talked about earlier when we first discussed this bill, when the Honolulu Advertiser was even forced to say that the way that their poll and the question was being used was out of context.

"The good Senator from Moanalua is telling us that people support an increase in their taxes for targeted projects and specific projects. But we don't have any targeted projects or specific projects in this bill. We have a tax increase.

"The good Senator from God's country wants to see something rise into the sunset, something we can touch, something we can feel, something we can allow to become rundown like the other buildings that we've allowed around town and around our state.

"The fact of the matter is the people outside this building have gotten the message. They want a change in the way we've done things. They want a change in throwing money at the problems. They want a change in the past lack of leadership. They want a change in the fact that we've had a few people that dominate the public education system from the top and don't include parents, don't include taxpayers, don't include a large part of this community, but that all they ask for all the time is more money, more money, more money.

"If this Senate passes this bill, which is likely right now, those members that have supported all of these measures can congratulate themselves because they've completed the trifecta today – three major tax bills that have added $400 million to the consumers and taxpayers and parents of this state, $400 million, which takes from them the ability to make their own choices.

"We talk all the time about investment. That's funny, the last time I checked, an investment is something that you voluntarily make and some people choose to invest in one thing and other people choose to invest in something else or not to invest at all. But all of these programs that this Senate is voting on today does not give choice, does not give investment. It says that this state, this state, is better situated to make these choices for individuals – $400 million worth.

"We're not talking about the children; we're not talking about education. We use them as excuses for everything we do – from laptop computers to higher legislative salaries, we use the children in this state. But we're really not concerned about them because we don't listen to the parents; we don't include them; we don't demand accountability; we don't demand changes and improvement and leadership. We just say, give us more money, give us more money, give us more money. And that's what this bill is doing.

"And it's not a half a percent. I remind you again, it is a 12½ percent increase from 4 to 4½ percent. And it is across the board because in our wisdom, we still remain the only state ever to institute or maintain a general excise gross income tax – the most regressive, the most harmful tax on individuals, poor families, businesses and anyone that we can look at.

"This bill also creates another special fund. This bill also, at one time, was supposed to balance the equities between those people that paid for the high cost of food, because far be it for our colleagues here to exempt food cost from the general excise tax, even though almost everyone campaigns on that issue and everyone says that they'll do it until it comes time to vote. Instead, we're going to raise the taxes, raise the taxes, raise the taxes. And initially, we talked about offsetting that with a food tax credit, and the food tax credit started at $100 and got down to $80 and is still going down, has more limitations, more exclusions, more restrictions.

"We're not interested in helping the consumers of this state, because if we were, we would cut the taxes, whether we're talking about tax on food, on shelter, on clothing, on healthcare services, on gasoline. Instead, we're raising the taxes, raising the taxes, raising the taxes. That was the old way of doing things, and the public voted against that. They voted for a change, and yet a lot of people in this building still have not gotten that message.

"This will not help improve education, will not help children, will not help their parents, will not help businesses, will not help single moms. It will further penalize them by taxing them, taking away their choices, taking away any discretionary income, and taking away the investment possibilities they might have had.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Hemmings rose to speak against the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against this bill.

"In doing so, I wish to say that I'm by no means criticizing or speaking against the Chairman of the Senate Ways and Means Committee and one of the proponents of this tax increase. But I am saying, with all good intentions, the path to economic hell is paved with good intentions. A wise man said in the Federalist Papers, James Madison, 'experience is the oracle of truth.'

"What's very fortunate with us here today in debating these issues, is that we have a long history of experience with tax increases. The truth of the matter is that we're amongst the highest taxed people in the nation. And the experience is, and the truth of the matter is, that Hawaii, for the most part, has been in the economic doldrums since at least 1990. The truth of the matter is that our economic plight is largely due to the policies of state government, not the least of which as we've created one of the most onerous business environments, by excess taxation, in the nation.

"The second truth is that for years, as we've spoken before on this issue, we have poured huge amounts of money into public education. And if the experience was that if more money was going to improve education, we would have improved the education system, but we haven't.

"This is a failed formula for the economy, and it's a failed formula for education. We cannot afford to continue to make these mistakes because Hawaii will continue to suffer as we have economically and educationally. It's time to break the failed formula. Vote 'no' against this tax increase."

Senator Hooser rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of the measure.

"I'd like to say, as I said earlier, that the polls that are referred to are important in some ways as an indicator of the public's intention, but the poll that matters to me is the poll that elected me to this office just a short time ago. When I ran for office and campaigned door to door in my community, I pledged to support education. I pledged to make education my number one priority, and I'm standing here today to do so.

"When I served on the county council, I learned a couple of things, Mr. President and colleagues. I learned that when government tells you there is no money, when people come to government and ask them for money and ask them for support and government says there's no money, what they are really saying is that it is not a priority. We have money for our priorities. And what some of us are saying now is that we don't have money for education, and education is not a priority. But I'm here to stand today to say that education is my priority and ask my colleagues to vote in support of this.

"Yes, yes, yes, raising the GE tax will raise the cost of living. There's no question about that. The cost of a plate lunch will go up about 2 cents. But no, businesses will not flee our shores and they will not shut their doors and they will not run off to some other place. Business will go on. The economy will improve, just like it always does.

"I wish we were not raising the general excise tax, but however, in my opinion, the long term impacts of not doing so, the alternatives are much, much worse. We cannot and must not allow budget education cuts to continue. We must make a commitment today to invest in the education of our children. We must make a commitment today to invest in the future of our community.

"Raising the GE tax one-half percent will indeed increase the cost of living – 2 cents on a plate lunch, about $250 on a Lexus, and I have to say, the owners of the Lexuses are the ones that have been complaining the most in my e-mail.

"Our economy in time will recover and will grow, tax increase or no tax increase, but our children only get one shot. Our kids will only go to kindergarten one time. Our young people will only get one chance at a good high school education, and we owe them the very best experience that we can afford.

"Yes, there may be negative impacts of raising this tax by one-half percent, but it is my sincere belief that the long term negative impacts of continuing to under-fund our schools is far greater.

"Right now, as we speak, as I stand here today, we have elementary schools in my district without playground equipment. They haven't had a playground in four years. There are kids there that have been going to school for four years and haven't been able to swing on a swing set. Imagine, young children going to school if it were your children, not even having a swing set or a jungle gym.

"We have high school students who don't have books to take home to do their homework. Many of our high schools are woefully short of school counselors, technology programs and gifted and talented programs. At Kilauea Elementary School on the North Shore of Kauai, we have a cafeteria that's so old and so small, the kids cannot even eat lunch together at the same time or meet together as a group on a rainy day.

"Our libraries, our adult education programs and even the A-Plus program, have been cut so severely that their core missions are at risk. While these programs may not seem important to some, to many of us in our community, these programs fall under the category of essential.

"In my opinion, supporting and improving our public school system from Kindergarten through the University is the single most important thing we can do as a community. The potential long term benefits from building and maintaining a high quality public education system extend to all parts of our daily lives. There is a direct correlation between the quality of our schools, the quality of our lives, and the strength of our economy. We must invest in and aggressively support our public education system and we must do so today.

"The Governor has gone on record stating publicly that she will not spend money from the hurricane fund or the rainy day funds (estimated to exceed $200 million), nor will she lay off any government workers to achieve savings.

"This legislative body has already voted in support of hundreds of millions of dollars of giveaways in tax credits to a wide variety of interests. We've given money to hotels for reconstruction, to aquariums, to high-tech industry, to biofuel – millions, hundreds of millions of taxpayer dollars – in the hopes that they might stimulate our economy. Yet, we are hesitant to invest in our own children's future.

"There is always talk about cutting fat, lots of talk about cutting fat, lots of talk about increasing efficiency and reforming the government structure to bring decision making closer to the local level. The fact is, colleagues, while fixed costs and federal mandates continue to escalate, we spend less and less on our public education system, and even to stay even, let alone improve or expand the programs offered.

"To my knowledge, no one, including the Governor, has been able to clearly identify any more significant areas of fat that can be cut today, and I emphasize the word today."

"While many are quick to throw rocks at the much ballyhooed 'bloated bureaucracy,' the fact is that Hawaii is ranked 13 in the nation for the percent of the education budget spent on actual instruction. Of the 21,220 total employees working for the Department of Education, 95 percent work directly at the school level, only 507 work in the state office."

"Yes we can, and we must, increase efficiency and improve administrative performance. And yes, with proper management and a solid commitment, significant savings can be achieved over time. Empowering local communities and bringing meaningful decision making closer to the individual school level are laudable goals, and I support these goals 100 percent."

"This effort is extremely beneficial and worthwhile, but again will take years, years, to produce tangible benefits to our schools. Our kids need our help now. They need our help today. Our children and our schools cannot afford to wait another two or ten years. Our community cannot afford another round of budget cuts to our schools."

"We must step up to the plate, make a sincere investment and begin building the quality public education system our children deserve. If not, the long term cost and negative impacts to our community will far exceed those that might result from adding two cents more to the cost of a plate lunch, or even $250 to that Lexus."

"I ask my colleagues to vote 'yes' on this measure and send a strong message to our children and our community – that education is indeed our most important priority."

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Whalen rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition."

"Obviously, today I haven't said much, and I wasn't planning on saying anything on this bill as well, but there are so many misstatements and misunderstandings in the last speech, that I got inspired."

"First of all, this bill is not about education. Any of you who followed the gambling issue across the mainland, etc., when these issues first came up, we were going to do a lottery and all the money goes to education. In every single state, the other funding that used to be there, dries up and it becomes a sole source funding issue."

"I agree with the Senator from Kauai that we do need to make our commitment. We have money right now in the budget that we could not just cut the fat, but cut unessential services that we're involved with and put more money in schools, if that's what we wanted to do. But where is the commitment? Raising taxes to bloat our coffers further is not a commitment to education; it's a commitment just to spend more money."

"And getting to the issue of that, all of us received, or we should have received, something in the mail that California is one of the highest ranked states when it comes to per pupil spending, yet they're one of the lowest when it comes to graduation rates and dropouts and everything else. Their system is very poor. A very extensive study was put on by the Legislature there and they found out that more money is definitely not the solution to the problem to improve education."

It is an important factor, but it is not the thing that gives you a quality education."

"I am a product of a very small private school that spent far less than what the public school was spending on its students. My kids right now receive an excellent education at a private school which is far, far less than what we're spending on public school students right now."

"It's not just money, Mr. President. It's not just about a commitment to spending every dime we have into education because that will make it better – NO! There are other issues we've talked about today. There are other bills that have come and died that would improve education. We talk about accountability, etc."

"But now I'm diverging off the subject, because the subject is a tax hike, period. It's not about education. It's about raising our taxes further."

"The two cents for a plate lunch shows the misunderstanding of just how the general excise tax works, and I know somebody will correct me if I'm wrong, but it's my understanding that the GE tax is our one major source of income into the state. Okay, I'm correct . . . okay, I got it. So, our one major source we're not just pushing up half a percent, we are increasing that one major source by 12.5 percent. And it's not just the guy who walks up to the window and orders a plate lunch. It's every single step along the way the GE tax is tacked on there. So it's not even just a 12.5 on the very end, but I'm not sure this half a percent, as it said, or 12.5 percent will bring in another $180 million. Multiply that by whatever and you can see what a huge amount of money we're talking about sucking out of our economy right now."

"So, to put it in any other light that it's just two cents on a plate lunch, whatever else, shows very misconceived assumptions about what this tax is going to do to our economy. I won't ramble on, but I would encourage us as we go forward in this discussion to please stick to the issue. The issue is a tax hike. It's not about better education. It's not about our commitment to education, because if you really had that commitment, we could put the whole budget into education if we wanted to, if that was really our commitment. We don't need to raise taxes to give education more money – we just cut areas that we don't want to fund because they're not the priority."

"So again, the question isn't priorities, the question is, Is this really the time or the place in our economy . . . which, by the way, I don't know if it always does bounce back; we've been in a very dire straits for a long time now. It's just creeping and struggling. In fact, the revenue guys who said they had us at 6 and now we're down at 4.1. I don't think we're always going to be able to come back, Mr. President. We can't count on an economy that you just continue to suck all the blood and life out of it, that it will somehow resurrect itself one day."

"For those reasons, and as I stated, there's just no way in the world that I could support a tax hike at this time."

Senator Ihara rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill."

"Mr. President, I'm opposed to this bill because it's the wrong time and wrong tax, and without a real plan to improve education in Hawaii."

"Also, Mr. President, this is the mother of all gut and replace bills. You knew I'd get to that, right? (Laughter.) This is a double gut and replace bill. The subject matter Committees gutted the House draft, which would have established a system of managed competition for state services. And if it stopped there, then that may actually be a good gut and replace. What was put in place of it was a repeal of the privatization law, which was displaced by the next Committee. I'll explain that later on.

"It gets very, very confusing. You have several bills involved here and if the subject matter Committee's gut and replace stayed, actually that might have not been too bad, because you would have had two versions – the House version, which would be a managed competition legislation, and the Senate version, which is no privatization in the state.

"What happened in the last Committee, the Ways and Means Committee, is it gutted what was previously inserted. It gutted the repeal of the privatization law and inserted this general excise tax increase for education legislation. The House has never had a hearing on this legislation, and in Conference, sitting on one side of the table would be the House conferees. I understand they're against this legislation, but they would be arguing for their legislation, which is the managed competition system, and you'd have the Senators on the other side trying to get the House to talk about the GET increase for education legislation. I'm not sure how you'd resolve this.

"I believe it is not appropriate for the Senate to expect the House to pass this legislation, because the House conferees would have to agree to the Senate proposal that they have not previously handled. There was no bill introduced in the House to increase the general excise tax. There was no hearing in any of the Committees on this idea, and they had publicly stated over and over, they're opposed.

"If by chance, and I don't believe there's a chance, but if by chance our conferees convince the House conferees to agree to accept this general excise tax increase for education, these conferees would be asking their colleagues in the House to pass major legislation on Third Reading without passing it on First or Second Reading, because the substance of the GET increase for education legislation was never passed on First Reading or Second Reading in the House. That's part of the problem about gut and replace bills. The Senate did pass a general excise tax increase for education bill over to the House, and they filed it.

"In addition, the House members who would be voting on major legislation without having received much public input, I'm sure they would have a lot of opposition from e-mails and letters. But because there was no public hearing, the House members would have to decide on this major legislation without a hearing.

"I'm not voting against it because of the gut and replace concerns. I just wanted to point out that in addition to my disagreement with the substance of the bill, this is a very good illustration of how we make the bicameral system not work, if this bill passes.

"Thank you."

Senator Fukunaga rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of this bill with strong reservations.

"Generally, I do not support tax increases at all. In fact, in this instance, I do not support a tax increase. However, I do think it would be hypocritical of me to speak in opposition to the amendment this morning and not to stand in support of a bill which actually represents the Ways and Means Committee's best efforts to try and resolve some of the financial difficulties which we face. And although I do not support a tax increase, I do note that the title, Relating to Government, does reflect a vehicle which I hope the Ways and Means Committee will use to reflect the various concerns which have been expressed today, and to find a way to balance the budget to address our financial difficulties without taking the steps outlined in this measure.

"Thank you."

Senator Sakamoto rose to speak in support as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise again in support

"I want to address, at least in part, some of the issues raised. One in particular talked about having enough money, and we can pontificate, we can suggest, we can assume.

"One national publication, Education Week, which publishes nationwide, did a survey called Quality Counts 2003. Hawaii's not first in terms of resources adequacy, and we're not last. Many times people say we're last in everything, but sadly, we're in the middle of the pack, 26. So if people think being in the middle of the pack is fine at this time, in this state, so be that. I don't think because of adequacy of resources we ought to be in the middle of the pack. I think we ought to move forward, and this measure helps to do that.

"And with the money directed to the schools and the school complexes, with input from the constituents, from the parents, I think we can use these resources wisely. In spite of other parts of government having, perhaps, difficulty in using their resources, these resources need to be used wisely for our kids.

"If the Senator from Kauai didn't speak so long, I would like those words added as mine, but I don't say that much and he said it very well." (Laughter.)

Senator Aduja rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, I would also like to rise in support, however, with strong reservations.

"The comments of the Senator from Kauai was very, very compelling and I feel very strongly against any tax increase. I don't want to go into a long discussion at this time, so I'm requesting permission to place in the Journal my comments.

"Thank you."

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Aduja's remarks read as follows:

"Mr. President, H.B. No. 510, S.D. 2, proposes an increase of one-half percent to the State's general excise tax, with two-thirds of the money raised to go to education-related programs. Though I am generally opposed to increasing taxes, especially in times of fiscal austerity, I have decided to vote 'YES, with strong reservations'. It was a difficult decision to make. Though a newspaper survey indicated that 70 percent of Hawaii's people would pay more in taxes if it were dedicated to improving our schools, a survey that my office conducted in my district indicated an almost 50/50 split regarding the bill. I ultimately let my commitment to improving the education of our children be the deciding factor. I feel very strongly that the fate of our State is directly impacted by the quality of education we provide our children. For our collective well-being, it is an investment we should and must make.”

Senator Baker rose to speak in support as follows:

“Mr. President, may I have some comments in support of this measure inserted into the Journal?”

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Baker’s remarks read as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of H.B. No. 510, S.D. 2. This measure would provide a mechanism to fund both lower and higher education by raising the General Excise Tax an additional one-half percent.

“Mr. President, none of us want to resort to increasing the General Excise Tax. But without this measure, public education would be severely impacted because of the budget crisis we now face. It is vital that we maintain funding for education, because a well-funded education system contributes to our quality of life.

“Maintaining or improving the education of Hawaii’s school children is an important a factor to ensuring that our State remains viable and attractive to those who seek to do business here. During the past four years, I have spoken with industry representatives, particularly from the technology sector, exploring the possibility of setting up shop in the County of Maui. The availability of an educated workforce was as important to them as the local tax structure.

“The proposed GET increase would restore nearly all of the reductions in education funding made by the Governor this year. In addition, $45 million would be allocated on a per-student basis directly to our local public schools. We would also be able to restore some of the funds for the school repair and maintenance program, and fund programs to improve teacher training and retention, among others. Finally, the increase is only temporary. The measure imposes a sunset on the one-half percent increase in ten years.

“Some would argue that putting additional money into education will not solve the problems of our educational system, and to some degree they would be right. We do need to improve our efficiency of education service delivery. However, the fact remains that the basic costs of education – salaries, resources and infrastructure – are not fixed costs, but will continue to rise. To ignore that would be a disservice to those who serve us in our State’s education system.

“H.B. No. 510, S.D. 2 will not be a popular measure. But we need this measure to restore core education services and to provide our schools with the resources they deserve. I want to thank the Ways and Means committee for having the vision and courage to pass out this measure, and I urge my colleagues to join me in support.

“Mahalo.”

Senator Hemmings rose and said:

“Mr. President, I’d like to call for a Roll Call. This is such a serious bill with such major implications and we’ve heard so much dialogue on it today.

“I think it’s important, especially when we have so many reservations and so many people off the reservation that we have a Roll Call on this so we see exactly where we stand on this incredible tax increase.”

The Chair so ordered.

Senator Tsutsui rose and said:

“Mr. President, could I also insert some comments into the Journal as well? Thank you.”

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Tsutsui’s remarks read as follows:

“During this Session, we have heard testimony about the deteriorating condition of school infrastructure, the need to construct new classrooms, students who are without textbooks, and other bare essentials. These needs cannot be cured under the current school budget nor can they wait until the economy improves. As citizens, we all share the responsibility for ensuring that our children have a fair and equal opportunity to learn and grow under our educational system.

“In the absence of other sources of revenues, we must make the difficult choice to support education through the current tax proposal contained in H.B. No. 510. The revenues generated will be directed to our public education systems and by its own terms is of limited duration. This measure will afford the Legislature an opportunity to work with the Department of Education in improving the efficiency and effectiveness of the present education system.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1426 was adopted and H.B. No. 510, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO GOVERNMENT,” having been read throughout, and Roll Call vote having been requested, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 18. Noes, 7 (Hemmings, Hogue, Ige, Ihara, Slom, Trimble, Whalen).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1427 (H.B. No. 659):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1427 be adopted and H.B. No. 659, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

“This is a very strange bill. I don’t recall seeing any testimony about the bill. I don’t know why it’s being presented at this time. For the longest period of time, the Lieutenant Governor’s Office has handled the sale of the Journals, the sale of Hawaii Revised Statutes, the sale of census maps, and all other matters. They’ve had prices that were affordable. They gave copies away free. They made them in a timely manner, and I just have not seen anyone show me why, all of a sudden with the change in administration, we need to take it out of the Lieutenant Governor’s Office.

“Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1427 was adopted and H.B. No. 659, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE LEGISLATIVE JOURNALS,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, 2 (Slom, Trimble).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1428 (H.B. No. 1182, H.D. 2, S.D. 2):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1428 be adopted and H.B. No. 1182, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator English rose to speak in support as follows:

“Mr. President, I’d like to have comments inserted into the Journal in support.”

The Chair having so ordered, Senator English’s remarks read as follows:

“The County of Maui residents and visitors need – and deserve – an emergency air medical services system that assures timely transport of the most seriously ill or injured persons to Maui Memorial Medical Center or to a tertiary hospital in Honolulu.

“This measure is about saving lives. You cannot put a dollar amount on a life.

“The County of Maui has only one full service acute care hospital located on the island of Maui-Maui Memorial Medical Center. Although in many cases persons who are injured can be appropriately treated and stabilized at Maui Memorial Medical Center, others with head trauma or severely injured or ill patients who will need treatment at tertiary hospitals in Honolulu will need rapid transport if the life of a patient is threatened and medical attention is needed within an hour of the incident. We call this the ‘golden hour.’

“This measure is a vehicle for the Department of Health to integrate emergency aeromedical services into statewide emergency medical services. The DOH will have oversight on any aeromedical services in the State.

“The County of Maui is a unique county unlike the other counties. We are made up of four islands, Maui, Moloka`i, Lana`i, and Kaho`olawe. We are separated by water. It is for this reason that the residents and visitors of Maui County are going to need a twin-engine helicopter because it needs to have the capacity to fly over water.

“Hawaii Air Ambulance currently provides air ambulance service on its fixed-wing airplanes. The company services the whole State of Hawaii. There is language in this bill that will assure Hawaii Air Ambulance that this emergency medical helicopter service will not compete with its services.

“Mayor Alan Arakawa from the County of Maui has made this emergency medical helicopter service his top priority and has committed in his budget $550,000 as the County of Maui’s match for the emergency medical helicopter service. This amount was based on $1.35M which is 40 percent and asking the State to subsidize 60 percent which the Big Island’s emergency medical helicopter services has set a precedence. The County of Hawaii has an emergency medical helicopter services which they pay 40 percent of the cost and the State subsidizes 60 percent.

“In regards to the Wailea Ground Ambulance and Kula Ground Ambulance, we need to provide 24-hour services in these areas and we intend to utilize their MICT to staff the medical helicopter when its service is needed. Wailea ground ambulance staff will be the first to respond and jump on the helicopter when appropriate. The Kula ground ambulance staff will be used as a back up for Wailea ground ambulance service. We are showing dual usage of staff so we are not just paying for a full-time qualified staff to wait around for the helicopter to respond to emergencies.

“This measure is vital for my district and for the County of Maui.”

Senator Tsutsui rose and said:

“Mr. President, I’d like to have comments inserted into the Journal.”

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Tsutsui’s remarks read as follows:

“For many of us living on the neighbor islands, timely access to medical service remains a major concern. It affects our decision about where we live, where we send our children to school, and how we plan for our growing families. House Bill 1182 offers to address some of our concerns by providing funds for immediate critical care and transportation of a patient requiring specialized medical care to an appropriate facility by rotary-winged aircraft.

“I can speak from personal experience about the need for emergency aeromedical service on Maui. A few years ago, my grandmother suffered a heart attack. After she was stabilized, the attending medical technician evaluated her condition and determined she required immediate medical care that was only available in Honolulu. With a helicopter on standby, my grandmother was immediately transported from her home to the doorsteps of a critical care unit of a Honolulu hospital. I am positive that the timeliness of the medical care she received is why she is still with us today.

“Based on my experience, as well as upon discussions with medical professionals and beneficiaries of emergency aeromedical services, I strongly support passage of H.B. No. 1182.”

Senator Baker rose as follows:

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Baker’s remarks read as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of H.B. No. 1182, S.D. 2, which provides a mechanism for funding critically needed emergency medical services. To ensure that these necessary medical transport services are funded, this measure establishes an additional motor vehicle registration fee to help pay for these critical services. Many jurisdictions on the mainland use such fees for their EMS systems as well.

“Ensuring the health, safety and well-being of our citizens should be one of our government’s top priorities. When citizens are in need of emergency medical care, it is our responsibility to ensure that these services exist to save lives. When critical services require funding, we must examine all sensible methods for providing that funding. A significant amount of resources for emergency medical services are spent attending to persons injured on our roads. Thus it is reasonable to utilize the motor vehicle registration fee as a means to help pay for those services. The fees will be collected by the counties and will be used for critical EMS services.

“As I’ve noted previously, Maui County has been without emergency medical helicopter service since 1997. Since then, we on Maui, Molokai and Lanai have been trying to find a way to restore viable emergency medical helicopter service to our county. For the county’s four islands, emergency medical helicopter transport is a key component of an effective medical rapid response and transport system for our county. Yet Maui County with a clear need for emergency medical helicopter service is without such service. This measure will re-establish that vital service, integrating ground, fixed and rotor transport services with our 911 system.

“In addition to the helicopter and ground ambulance needs we identified for Maui County, Oahu, particularly the Waianae Coast, and Hawaiian Ocean View Estates on the Big Island are in desperate need of additional ground ambulance services. Your Committees are aware that communities which merit an increase in services are growing. Vast distances, increased population, overcrowded roads, and outdated roads all contribute to a greater need for service, throughout the State.

“I want to thank the Ways and Means Committee, especially your Chair and Vice Chair, for assisting your Committee on Health to find a viable and prudent means of funding these crucial emergency services.

“H.B. No. 1182, S.D. 2 will enable us to take steps to address some very serious emergency medical service needs across our State. It carries the hopes of communities on Oahu, the Big Island, and Maui for adequate emergency medical service delivery. I urge my colleagues to join me to support this important measure.

“Mahalo.”

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I have to rise in opposition.

“The reason I have to rise in opposition is this bill establishes a new special fund. If we’re keeping count, this is about the eleventh one today – the emergency medical services special fund.

“I support the purposes of the bill. I support the appropriations, but I will not support the non-accountability of another special fund.

“Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1428 was adopted and H.B. No. 1182, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EMERGENCY MEDICAL SERVICES,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 20. Noes, 5 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Trimble, Whalen).

H.B. No. 133, H.D. 1, S.D. 3:

On motion by Senator Hanabusa, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland and carried, H.B. No. 133, H.D. 1, S.D. 3, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CHILD PROTECTION," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

H.B. No. 1225, S.D. 2:

Senator Taniguchi moved that H.B. No. 1225, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Fukunaga rose to speak in opposition to the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in opposition to this bill.

“Colleagues, we talked a little bit about the impact of this bill as it related to the amendment that was put forward on Tuesday. I would like to point out one other thing that wasn’t covered in the floor discussions on Tuesday, and that is that Act 221 is very generous to R&D companies. Because the credit is refundable, businesses don’t even need a tax bill for the government to pay them 1/5 of their research credits. But the Governor has not made any kind of public attempt to weigh the benefits of trying to stimulate high tech research.

“Tech advocates have argued, with some logic on their side, that the money the government pays out in R&D credits could help generate additional high tech spending, therefore generating more income and perhaps even more excise taxes. These amounts may even be enough to break even on the research tax credit.

“At this point, we really don’t know. So, to wipe out something that potentially has such a potentially large impact in growing Hawaii’s business, seems to be really a very foolhardy step to take. Unfortunately, we don’t have the facts before us, and so, for those reasons, I urge you to vote ‘no’ on this measure.

“Thank you.”

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition and said:

“Mr. President, I also rise in opposition to this measure.

“The second point that needs to be considered is that when we adopt a policy, we should adopt and take a continuous position in support of that policy until we have sufficient time to let it run its course. When we adopted or (actually, it was before I was in this body) when you adopted Act 221, you set up an experiment that was designed to run five years. It has not run its course. I think it’s important that we continue the experiment before we walk away and say it’s not something we want to do.

“I really wanted to rise and speak against this bill twice and in favor of it once.

“The second reason for voting against this bill is the types of people that we want to attract to move to Hawaii and to continue living in Hawaii are the types of people that would look at this law and say, when we de-couple the inheritance tax of the state and the federal government and no longer continue forward, then you will be taxing people that are more affluent more than other states would do. These are the types of people that would seek to make the investments that Act 221 is seeking to encourage them to do.

“So, for those two reasons, I urge my colleagues to oppose this measure. Thank you.”

Senator Ige rose in opposition to the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I also rise to speak in opposition to this measure.

“In addition to all of the other comments I’ve made, I’d just would like to reiterate that there are several significant portions of this measure that have not received a single public hearing in either the House or the Senate. And as you are aware, we are two-thirds way through the process and there are no opportunities for any more public hearings from this point on.

“So, if in fact these provisions are successful in being included in something that is presented for Final Reading, these significant tax changes will not have had a single public hearing in either the House or the Senate, and yet they will be adopted.

“For those reasons, I urge my colleagues to vote in opposition to this measure.”

Senator Taniguchi rose and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in favor of this bill with reservations and just wanted to note my reservations to parts of this bill. Thank you.”

Senator Hogue rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations and said:

“Mr. President, I rise, also, in support of this bill with reservations.

“I think that there are some good things about this particular bill because it closes a loophole. We’ve talked a lot about unintended consequences, and that is obviously what has happened here, that this body wanted the intended consequences of helping a part of our economy to stimulate that part of the economy, and it’s been well documented that there have been unintended consequences. This will close that particular loophole because the law will not be so liberally interpreted.

“My reservations have to do with the fact that it has been put forward in a particular bill which, although not onerous, is not a bill that I would have supported. I am dismayed that it has been put forward in this kind of a vehicle. So I will vote right now support with reservations.

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Espero rose and said:

“Mr. President, please note my vote with reservations. Thank you.”

The Chair so ordered.

Senators Menor, Aduja, Slom and Kokubun requested their votes be cast “aye, with reservations,” and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 1225, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE ADMINISTRATION OF TAXES,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 17. Noes, 8 (Baker, Chun Oakland, Fukunaga, Hooser, Ige, Ihara, Trimble, Whalen).

FINAL READING

S.B. No. 1353, H.D. 1:

On motion by Senator Chun Oakland, seconded by Senator Taniguchi and carried, the Senate agreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 1353, and S.B. No. 1353, H.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING AN EMERGENCY APPROPRIATION FOR MEDICAID," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Just the appearance of the potential for fraud when it comes to elections by mail, that's why we don't have elections by mail in all of our elections at this time. I don't think that we should single out special elections. Just the appearance to the voters that some special interest group can get a handle on this thing and actually tip the election one way or the other . . . so I'll be voting 'no.'

"Thank you."

RECONSIDERATION OF ACTIONS TAKEN

S.B. No. 363, (H.D. 1):

Senator Kanno moved that the Senate reconsider its action taken on April 2, 2003, in disagreeing to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 363, seconded by Senator Kawamoto and carried.

Senator Kanno moved that the Senate agree to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 363, seconded by Senator Kawamoto.

Senator Kanno noted:

"Mr. President, the House made a couple of amendments. One is replacing the requirement that the director of the Board of Water Supply consult with employees and instead require that the director consult with the exclusive collective bargaining representative, and also requiring that the project comply with Chapter 89. The bill was also reformatted to a different section in the HRS."

Senator Ihara rose on a point of inquiry and said:

"Point of inquiry, Mr. President.

"I don't see this action we're about to take on the Order of the Day. Did it come in after the supplemental calendar was printed?"

The President replied:

"We didn't have the item under miscellaneous business, so we're taking it up under announcements."

Senator Ihara continued:

"I'd like to request that if we're going to take action on an agreed item, that we put it on the Order of the Day like the other reconsiderations were."

The President responded:

"We are also giving one day's notice for the actual Final Reading of this bill."

Senator Ihara then said:

"So, right now we are voting to agree . . . we are voting to accept the House's amendments to the Senate bill and I would appreciate some notice so that I can get the bills so that I can decide whether to vote for or against agreeing to what the House did to the . . . especially if it's a gut and replace. It's probably not a gut and replace bill but . . ."

The President interjected:

"If you wish, you may vote 'no' on this particular item."

Senator Ihara responded:

"No, I would like to see the bill so that I can determine whether I can vote 'no' or not, but at least as a compromise, if we can get it on the Order of the Day since the Order of the Day was printed and if we knew at the time, then at least then I can't be faulted."

The Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, the Senate agreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 363, and S.B. No. 363, H.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EXPERIMENTAL MODERNIZATION PROJECTS FOR COUNTY BOARDS OF WATER SUPPLY," was placed on the calendar for Final Reading on Friday, April 11, 2003.

Senator Baker noted:

"Mr. President, this resolution was heard and reported out of your Committees on Health and Human Services, but it was inadvertently re-referred back to our Committees. So we're requesting this waiver so we can move the resolution to the Floor for adoption."

The Chair then granted the waiver.

REFERRAL OF HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

MATTER DEFERRED FROM THURSDAY, APRIL 10, 2003

The President made the following committee assignment of a House concurrent resolution that was received on Thursday, April 3, 2003:

House Concurrent Resolution	Referred to:
No. 216	Committee on Water, Land, and Agriculture

ADVISE AND CONSENT

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1546 (Gov. Msg. No. 227):

Senator Hanabusa moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1546 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland and carried.

Senator Hanabusa then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of JOHN F. PEYTON JR. as Director of the Department of Public Safety, term to expire December 4, 2006, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland.

Senator Hanabusa rose to speak in support of the nominee and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of Gov. Msg. No. 227, submitting for consideration and confirmation as Director of the Department of Public Safety, gubernatorial nominee John F. Peyton, Jr.

"Mr. President, first, on behalf of Mr. Peyton, I would like to thank yourself and the members of this Senate for the accommodation. As we all know, Mr. Peyton flew in from Bosnia for this confirmation hearing and it was only with the assistance of everyone that we were able to move his confirmation so that he is before us today. So, on his behalf, I'd like to express his gratitude.

"Mr. President, I don't know whether it's the temperature or what, but the Judiciary Committee has been having rather interesting and exciting confirmation hearings, and Mr. Peyton was no exception. Mr. Peyton comes very qualified. His juris doctorate is from the University of Cincinnati with an LLM in law from the George Washington University. His resume is what should have fascinated everyone. He has things like military intelligence, war college, chief litigation, division head for the CIA, member of the Senior Intelligence Service. In other words, Mr. Peyton would be James Bond's lawyer if he needed one. (Laughter.)

"From 1981 to the present, for 22 years, Mr. Peyton served and the US Attorney in the United States Department of Justice. The last two years he has been on loan, I guess, for lack of a better description, to Bosnia. He has served as the legal advisor for the Organized Crime and Anti-Fraud Department of the High Representative. He's the vice president of the High Judicial and Prosecutorial Councils.

"What he basically does is he advises the ambassador, and he's been involved in drafting of laws, including the criminal code, criminal procedure, and witness protection. They are really tasked with the implementation of the Dayton Peace Agreement, which, in essence, ended the war in Bosnia.

"Mr. President, members, he is before us for confirmation as the Director of the Department of Public Safety. This is probably one of the departments that is the most troubled in this State. We have just gotten out of a consent decree with the justice department. We had a prison breakout in his honor because he came back. (Laughter) But before he leaves, of course, we have caught all of them. There are concerns over divisions. We've passed out of Ways and Means a resolution to look at one of his divisions. There's just a whole bunch of problems, especially one where we have most of our prison population of state. And it looks like that's the trend that we're going to follow.

"So when we look at a department like that, Mr. President, we must look at the characteristics of the person that we need – we need a leader; we need somebody who is competent; we need somebody who is obviously intelligent; but we need someone who is straight forward, no nonsense, and hardworking. All of these adjectives describe Mr. Peyton, and the person who said that was the attorney general, Mark Bennett. The attorney general came to testify. He had a standard type of testimony but he sat before the Committee and gave a very heartwarming story. He said, the night before, he was sitting at his desk looking at all of these settlements that he has to review, many of them with the Department of Public Safety. And he said he knew as he sat before us that day that if John Peyton were the head of the Department of Public Safety, none of that would happen.

"Dan Bent came before us. He's like a proud father this Session. Dan Bent has got three US Attorneys that may all be part or will also be part, we hope, of the Lingle Administration, and he takes full credit in recruiting all of them. So he comes forward and tells us how he found each and every one of them.

"Then, there's a gentleman who comes every time, and I think I have to mention him, and that's Sumner Howard of GET. He just wanted to come forward and tell us that what you need is an outsider, and that's why he was there to support Mr. Peyton.

"There is one testimony that came all the way from Germany, and that's Dr. Manfred Dulster, presiding judge at the Regional Court of Munich. He was the former head of the anti-fraud department of the Office of the High Representative in Bosnia. Let me share with you what he said. I don't know if he writes English this well or it was translated for him, but he said, 'As John Peyton has a native political instinct, he was and is able to assess the risk of each of the projects he was involved with. The capacity was of significant help in downsizing over-ambitious projects of the international community and thereby enabling them to be implemented. I personally experienced Mr. Peyton as a loyal colleague who was always at my disposal when case-related discussions required this or legal reform processes needed through brainstorming. Another part of his character shall be pointed out. If senior authorities made a decision, he loyally implements and defends it regardless of criticism. In this context, he could show necessary professional aggression, but never forget the requirements of political and social conduct. Whenever required, he was available during weekends. He was always available when needed.' With the state of Halawa prison, he will probably be called upon again to be available at all hours.

"For us in Hawaii, drugs is what we are most concerned with. The Judiciary Committee has seen almost every conceivable form of legislation. Here, in Mr. Peyton, we have the person who's credited with the institution of the weed portion of 'weed and seed' and HIDTA project.

"The person that I thought was an interesting addition to our testifier list was Lowell Kalapa. He did not submit testimony because, as you know, Lowell Kalapa can only comment. And it's easy for him because all he comments usually is 'no, you can't do it.' But he came forward and he said that with all due respect to the attorney general, he believes that Mr. Peyton will be the best of the Lingle Administration. He said that Mr. Peyton is as straightforward as he is. But I hope Mr. Peyton just doesn't say 'no' like Lowell Kalapa does for us. (Laughter.)

"For me, we have someone here in Mr. Peyton who is without a doubt overly qualified, maybe, for this position. When he was asked the difficult question about what does he feel is the view of the future if, for example, PSD were to be separated into law enforcement and corrections, without hesitation he said, 'we must begin by first asking the necessary questions. We must say, how are we going to professionalize the department? We must defy what law enforcement, on the state level, should be.' And interestingly, he added, 'we've got to understand what we can afford.' Now that's a practical person.

"Mr. President, I'm sure my good colleague from Hawaii Kai, where Mr. Peyton lives, is going to be stepping forth very shortly to voice his support. I think the most difficult thing that he will have to deal with is that Mr. Peyton is a lawyer, but he will be unable to disagree with me that Mr. Peyton represents the honesty, the integrity, the talent, and all that we need to head the Department of Public Safety.

"Mr. President, I ask that you and my colleagues join with me to advise and consent to Mr. Peyton as the Director of Public Safety. Thank you very much."

Senator Slom rose to speak in support of the nominee as follows:

"Mr. President, on behalf of your loyal, energetic, and hardworking Minority, we are very happy to support the Governor's nomination of Mr. John Peyton.

"I couldn't have said it any better than the Judiciary Chair. She's gotten so much smarter, I noticed, in the last year-and-a-half. (Laughter.)

"You know, just when we thought that we had the best and the brightest in terms of appointees, they keep getting better and brighter all along the way. And what a pleasure it is for us in the Senate, who have to advise and consent, and what a great treat it is for the people in the community to say, 'wow, that person is better than the last person; that person is fantastic.' And that's what we have in John Peyton.

"We have a big man for a big job. There is no bigger job and no more important responsibility of government than public safety. And as was alluded to by the Judiciary Chair, we have problems in that area, a multitude of problems. But we can't think of any one individual who is capable of tackling those problems and, more importantly, solving them, than the Governor's nominee.

"As was said, his credentials were impeccable and truly remarkable and outstanding, particularly during this Session when we've been discussing the possibility of pay raises for everyone under the sun. And the question always comes up and people always say, 'well, you only get what you pay for.' Gee, in this case, we're getting five bonuses. We couldn't afford to hire a man or a woman with the capabilities and the experience – the proven experience – of John Peyton.

"I asked him why would he do this? And he said, 'because of public service, because of the challenge, because the people of Hawaii are worth it.'

"Mr. President, we have great expectations and great demands of this individual, but we know that he's going to fulfill each and every one of them. He's going to succeed. My gosh, if you can succeed in Bosnia, you surely should be able to succeed in Hawaii.

"We know that, as the Judiciary Chair said, sometimes it's important to be able to say 'no' after you have listened. And John Peyton is a good listener, but he's got an analytical mind and his experience is in corrections and in public safety. We know that we expect a lot of this nominee, but we know that he will deliver and we're proud to support him.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Whalen).

At this time, Senator Hanabusa introduced Mr. Peyton to the members of the Senate. (Mr. Peyton, who was seated in the gallery, rose to be recognized.)

At 12:26 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:30 o'clock p.m.

Senator Slom rose to speak against the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to the bill.

"I have several problems with the bill. One is that this fee, the surcharge, used to be voluntary, and now it's going to be mandatory. The fee also is being increased. In the past, the fee was split equally between the parties. At one point it was given to just one party. Now it's given to the discretion of the judge, but still does not allow for the splitting of the fee.

"I think a number of people have had questions of the effectiveness of the parent education program within family court, so I'll be registering a 'no' vote.

"Thank you."

S.R. No. 146:

Senator Baker moved that S.R. No. 146 be adopted, seconded by Senator Trimble.

Senator Baker rose to speak in support of the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of this measure

"Colleagues, the measure before us asks us to amend the process we use to determine the fate of bills in Conference. In the old days, only the Committee Chairs had any real say. Over the years through procedural reforms, first in the House and then in the Senate, we've brought about a more democratic process – a fairer, more just, deliberative Committee process.

"The adoption of this resolution will return us to a democratic process for Conference Committee decision making, ensuring that all votes on the Committee, Chair and member alike, count and are equal. Perhaps it seems strange that someone who is a Committee Chair, and has and will manage bills in Conference for the Majority, who's been a part of leadership, and I suppose, by virtue of my Chairmanship, is still a part of extended leadership, would support a process that some might assume would diminish my power as a Chair. I guess I don't see it that way.

"I've been a student of this institution, the legislative deliberative body, for more years than I've been in office. It's the rules of procedure which govern us that ensure that our deliberative process will be open, fair, and inclusive of a wide range of opinion. Our rules must enable us to problem-solve and address issues before us in the best possible way, ultimately doing the people's business.

"Ours is a democratic process in which the majority decision is the decision that moves forward. Our work is largely done in Committee and the majority principle is our guiding principle for Committee deliberations. We have procedures to discharge the Committee if the majority doesn't agree with the actions of the Chair, and we've seen measures move out of Committee even when the Chair disagreed with the majority and ultimately voted no.

"Conference Committees are simply another level of committee work. The Chairs are there to convene the discussions, guide the negotiations, advocate for the Senate position, craft agreements, if that's possible, but not to block or subvert the will of the majority.

"Mason's Manual, which is our parliamentary authority, notes that conference committees are not a joint committee, but rather a joint meeting of two separate committees.

"I would hope the House would concur with this resolution and the policy it represents. But even if they don't, we should pass this resolution to amend our policy, simply because it is the right thing to do.

“Mr. President, we are all duly elected representatives of our constituents – a body of equals. When it comes to Final Reading, each of our votes is counted the same – chair, non-chair, Republican, Democrat. The process leading to those final votes, the Conference Committee, must have the same principle of equality imbedded in it.

“I urge my colleagues to vote ‘yes’ on this measure. Thank you.”

Senator Hooser also rose to support the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in support.

“To me, this boils down to being about principle. It’s a simple, fundamental principle of democracy that the leader of a group, speaking and/or acting on behalf of the group, should do so only with concurrence approval and vote of that group. It seems a pretty basic principle of democracy. The leader of the group – the Committee Chair – should not be able to make major decisions unilaterally. It seems so basic a principle it is hard for me to understand the resistance to the measure.

“In my brief experience here at the Senate, it is clear that the Committee members almost always support their Chairs anyway. In addition, the selection of the Committee members is basically determined by leadership, by the Chairs, by the President, so the reality is that there’s very tight control of the process and would be highly unusual and highly unlikely for Committee members to override or vote contrary to the recommendation of the Chair.

“However, we all know the history of the Legislature does include more examples than we would all like to admit, of strong Committee Chairs whose exercise of power does not always reflect the will or desire of the members, the body, or the community at large. It is therefore the responsibility of Committee members to guard against this type of abuse. But without the authority to exercise the majority vote, Committee members are, in effect, powerless to stop a veto.

“The principle seems pretty basic – majority rules. All actions of the Committee Chairs must be sanctioned, authorized, and voted upon by the Committee members. To me, this is the basic principle, which in my opinion, this resolution is a strong positive step in that direction of a more democratic process. Yes, it may reduce the power of Committee Chairs, but 90 percent of the time, it won’t matter because the Chairs will, 95 percent of the time, only be making decisions with the Committee’s concurrence anyway. It is the other 5 percent of the time that this measure will affect, and this is why we need it – that, and because it is the right thing to do.

“Why would we not want to pass this resolution? I’ve given it a lot of thought, and there’s only two reasons I can think of not to pass it. One is because it will give up power, and quite honestly, I can’t really think that that’s the reason, knowing the people that I’ve worked with here at this Legislature. I don’t really think that is the reason. Perhaps it’s 5 percent of the reason, but it’s not the 95 percent. The other reason that I could come to a conclusion is that some might think that this principle of majority rule is a good one, but yet it’s going to get in the way of our relationship with the House; it’s going to impede the Conference Committee process; it’s going to jam things up at this final important time period that we’re approaching.

“But after looking at it and talking to various members, it’s my conclusion that this would not do that, that basically, even if the House doesn’t agree, we should be able and empowered to set our own rules for the Senate. So, if our Senate Chairs follow the majority rule and only act under the vote of the membership, then that is separate from what the House does. We would hope the House would concur, but if they did not, it would not stop the system or jam it up, in my opinion.

“So, for these reasons, and many others, I’m supporting this. We’re talking about agreeing as Senators that we will operate by democratic principles and our Chairs will not act unilaterally. What the House does, in my opinion again, will have no effect on the process. So, for these reasons again, I respectfully request that this body unanimously embrace these principles and vote in support.

“Thank you.”

Senator Hanabusa rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in opposition to S.R. No. 146.

“Mr. President, when I originally looked at S.R. No. 145 and S.R. No. 146, I was struck by the fact that either the near majority, or probably the majority of my Judiciary Committee has signed on to this resolution. Mr. President, I must say that the Judiciary Committee has been a wonderful Committee for me to Chair, so I take it very seriously when I see most of the members who have come and religiously attended all my hearings and voted on this resolution. So, I looked upon it with a very careful eye.

“Mr. President, the Judiciary Committee has really looked to open government. We have established our own sort of rules as to how we operated to make sure that everyone, including the public, was part of our process. In addition, we made it a point to hear open government types of legislation. So I looked upon this as if it was one of those that would come before us.

“The reason that I cannot support this, originally, was because of the fact that the Ways and Means and Finance Committee did not have what I call the ‘trumping’ powers. S.R. No. 146 takes care of it. But, Mr. President, you hear in the discussions here today about the concept of vote. Look at S.R. No. 146 and look at what it intends to amend. It amends Rule 24(3) of the Senate Rules, and that of course refers to committee reports.

“Mr. President, there’s no question, when you look at the Organic Act, Section 20; the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, Article III, Section 12; you look at the doctrine set forward in the case of Schwab v Ariyoshi, our Rules take precedent as long as we do not violate the Constitution. So when we look to amending our Rules, it is done correctly. Because when we amend the Rules, then no subsequent agreement, whether it’s Conference Committee rules or whatever, can violate our Senate Rules.

“But look at what we are saying in this resolution. We are saying, ‘a Conference Committee shall report upon the matter referred when a majority of the members of each house, appointed by their respective presiding officers, have concurred in the report. Any Conference Committee procedure that adds or detracts from this requirement shall be void.’

“Mr. President, it brought back an interesting thing for me. As many of you know, I am presently in the Supreme Court on an issue of a constitutional read, and the one thing that I will share with everyone is that when you look at the constitution, you look at our Rules, you must give it as plain, ordinary reading. You must also look at the document in totality if you have any questions about any parts of it.

“Mr. President, Rule 22 refers to decision making by committee, Rule 24 refers to committee reports, and Rule 25 speaks to what are the fact finding and contents of the report. Twenty-four is committee reports. This brought back thoughts about when I was first elected, and this is in the 1999 and 2000 Legislative Session, and I took out all those rules. I only have three because that’s the only time frame that I’ve been here. I can tell you that Rule 20, what was then Rule 23, subsection 3, is identical in 1999 and 2000, and the 2001-2002 Session. It says basically the same thing. And it’s almost the same in this year’s Rules, except that we talk about presiding officers versus the president.

“What it brings back, or should bring back memories for everyone, is the fact that what you’re talking about when you talk about reports, remember the mad rush right before that infamous 12:00 deadline when we’re going around getting our reports signed – not voting, getting reports signed.

“Now, this Senate resolution amends the report. It says a conference committee shall report upon the matter referred when a majority of the members of each house appointed by their respective presiding officer has concurred in the report. No other conference committee can detract from that or no other rule can detract from that. When you read Rule 25 – the report of the committee shall state findings of fact and conclusions based thereon, together with a distinct recommendation as to the disposal of that matter. A report on a bill . . . and it goes on. And what I’m saying is that if you are looking at a document and you’re trying to interpret what the intent is, that is what you’re talking about. When you amend Rule 24(3) about a conference committee and you refer to a report and you look at what is defined as a report in our Rules, we’re back to going around with these little pieces of paper, some of us holding on to it for dear life because we know how reports disappeared in the old days.

“We talk about the ability of one committee chair having then the right to simply over-vote for everybody. What you do with this is you potentially give one, any individual the right to do that when you go back to the report system.

“More importantly than that, let me share with you when an issue came before our Committee, the Judiciary Committee, and this was a proposal that was supported by our Clerk, as well as the Clerk of the House, and it was the ability to recall, once a bill is enrolled with the Governor, the ability to recall it by the Legislature. My recommendation to my Committee was to hold that. And the reason why was, I thought it was best stated in a case called King v Cuomo, a 1993 New York Supreme Court case, and this applies here. They said the recall provision really works completely against open government. And I think that’s the reason why I am objecting to these for the same reasons. It’s because it affords interest groups another opportunity to amend or kill certain bills. It shields from the public scrutiny, which accompanies the initial consideration of passage of the bill. This does not promote public confidence in the Legislature as an institution because of the fact that it gives you a second bite of the apple.

“You’re talking here about amending a process. If you’re talking about a vote, and the majority of the vote, then Mr. President, amend decision making. But when you amend the report section and you make that section take precedence over everything else, you are not talking about open voting. To me, you’re talking about going back to 1999 and 2000. You are giving people who may say, ‘yeah, I think we can agree to that,’ the opportunity to then say, ‘oh, I changed my mind,’ or not even have the nerve to say you changed your mind by simply not being around so we can’t get your signature.

“Mr. President, that is a total affront to what we have move towards. We have moved towards open government. We have moved so that everybody votes in public. By making the report take precedence, you are moving towards the ability for people to change their mind, nothing being final until possibly 12:00. And what happens if Ways and Means and Finance doesn’t agree? We’re not going to be able to get that. Remember the days of being down in the Chambers or being in 309 and everyone with their bills hoping, God, I hope everybody is here. That is how decision making is going to be. This is what this Rule provides. It does not talk about decision making.

“If you’re going to talk about decision making, you’re going to talk about voting, then please amend the right Rule, the right Senate Rule. And this is not it.

“For this reason, Mr. President, and with all due respect to the members of my Committee who have been great to work with, I cannot support their effort because I think we are going to go backwards, not forward.

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

At 12:50 o’clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:54 o’clock p.m.

Senator Hemmings rose in favor of the measure and stated:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of the resolution.

“In spite of the very erudite, yet extremely circuitous leaps of logic of the prior speaker, the good Senator from Waianae, I’d like to submit to this body that this is not as complicated as some would have it be. Simply put, what we’re trying to do is, in Committee, in Conference, a decision in the will of the majority will prevail over one Committee Chair. It’s just not that complicated.

“And I would suggest to the opponents to this measure that this Legislature in the last several years has made great strides to having a more open and honest process, and this is another logical step in that direction.

“I guess you could circle the wagons around business as usual, but I think the people of Hawaii, quite frankly, are sick and tired of it. I’m hoping that this Session this Senate will see the wisdom of amending these Rules so that decisions are made by the majority, rather than one recalcitrant individual.

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Ihara rose to speak in favor and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in favor of S.R. No. 146.

“Mr. President, first, I’d like to thank you for allowing Senator Baker to request a filing of S.R. No. 145 so that we can take up S.R. No. 146.

“As you know, four paragraphs were added to this resolution. The Judiciary Chair mentioned that it resolves the issue regarding allowing the continuation of the veto power of the Ways and Means Chair. And the other paragraphs that were added, I should note, says in the sixth whereas, ‘WHEREAS, it is the purpose of this Resolution to withdraw Senate support for the chair veto power as provided in Rule 8-b of the Joint Conference Procedures.’ And the purpose also is to have Senate Committees, as the Minority Leader said, to conduct our Senate Conference Committees' decision making by majority vote.

"The seventh whereas, also, I'll read it because it's pretty straight forward and it's saying that, 'WHEREAS, adoption of this resolution would result in conference committee procedures comparable to those used in the 2000 Legislative Session.' Some people have thought that this Chair veto rule was in effect for a long time. We conducted our 2000 Legislative Session without this Chair veto rule, and in fact, the 2001 Conference Committee Procedures, when they were adopted and signed by the President and the Speaker, did not include the Chair veto rule for the 2001 Legislative Session. Only after the 2001 procedures were adopted, did a request come in from the Senate requesting that the House agree to an amendment. And on April 12, 2001, the Speaker approved the amendment, and from that day forward, April 12, 2001, the Legislature, including the Senate, started the veto power by vote.

"I'll address the Judiciary Chair's argument later, but I want to first explain why this is a veto. It doesn't really say in the conference procedures that it's an actual veto, but I'll explain why it's a veto. It's because the Rule allows the Chair to only stop, has the super powers to stop legislation. A Chair does not have a super power to pass legislation. The Chair only has a super power to stop legislation. That's similar to a veto.

"Also, the Chair's voting power expands with the size of the Committee. For example, let's say we are all one Conference Committee, which is theoretically possible, and there are two Chairs. One Chair of the two Chairs could be opposed to a conference bill, and all 24 of us could vote 'yes.' With this Chair veto, that one Senator's vote is equal to 24 votes. Now, in the House, one Chair's vote is equal to 50 votes. That illustrates, I think, the reason why this is truly a veto.

"Mr. President, I believe that constituents in each and every Senate district are entitled to equal representation at the table, and in this case, at the Conference Committee table. Standing Committee Chair's do not have this veto power. This veto power is conferred only on Conference Committee Chairs.

"There have been instances where a Chair, let's say, of two Committees, one voted 'no,' but that Chair's vote did not veto the legislation when all the other members of the Committee or a majority of the Committee voted for a particular legislation.

"So when the vote comes at the table, I believe no one Senator should be given greater powers than others. Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure, which is the rules, supplemental rules of the House and Senate, says in section 52, and I quote, 'In public bodies, the equality of members if presumed. It would seem that, for any democratic group to be able to operate, acceptance of the principle of equality of members is essential. Equality seems essential also to secure the acceptance of good faith of decisions of the group.'

"The Chair veto issue, this issue, I think, is a symbol of what people believe is wrong with the Legislature, which is basically unfair treatment of citizens' rights in the legislative process.

"A consumer advocate sent me a letter, and I quote, 'I and other ordinary citizens invest dozens of hours of our time to provide testimony on matters we think are important. If this testimony has been convincing enough that bills go into conference committee, then those bills have survived plenty of scrutiny. The job of the conference committee is to iron out differences between House and Senate versions, not to overturn the work of countless concerned citizens through a veto power.'

"A Windward resident wrote to me and said about the Chair veto rule, 'This is the kind of rule that allows people to accuse Legislators of all kinds of acts, which are acts that are not in the interest of the voters.'

"Mr. President, I believe we need to take Senate action to stop the Chair veto rule because I don't believe that there'll be examples, or if there will be, there'll be very few examples of a situation where a committee would actually vote and have the veto exercise as a vote. The reason I say that is that if there are two Chairs, one Chair can say we will not agree, the House and Senate will not agree, in fact does not agree because I carry all the votes in this Committee to kill a bill. And that would be true. No matter what the size that a Conference Committee is, and there are two Chairs, one Chair can speak to oppose a bill in Conference and could accurately, and by Rule, say that I represent all the no votes, in fact I am all the no votes in this Conference Committee. And therefore, if you do not agree to what I want, the bill is dead, and in fact, the bill would be dead.

"As the consumer advocate said in what I quoted earlier, the Conference Committee's purpose is to resolve differences, and I believe the Conference Chair veto rule would undermine that purpose.

"The situations and the kind of legislation that I am most concerned about that could be affected by the Chair veto rule are those types of legislation where you have broad public support. One Senator or House member, for that matter, has a contrary position and that happens from time to time. So if you can imagine those pieces of legislation where there's broad based support, one Senator's views could prevail over the public's views and the views of the entire Senate by killing a bill in Conference and therefore not letting it get to the Senate Floor.

"There was a question about whether conference rules will be voided. I think it was addressed by saying, not necessarily because Conference Committees in the House and Senate meet separately. In fact, I understand that years ago there were no joint conference committee rules because it is the prerogative of each body to determine how it will come to agreement on differences of legislation in Conference Committee. So it really is not the business of the Senate to dictate to the House how it shall make its decisions in Conference Committee and vice versa.

"If this resolution were to pass, I believe a way to proceed might be for the President to inform the House that Senate Conference Committee Chairs will not be utilizing the Chair veto powers. Although, I think the preferable way would be to simply amend the Joint Conference Rules.

"Regarding the Judiciary Chair's argument, which I think effectively confuses a lot of people, my response is that the current rule as it stands today, as it stood last year, and as it stood the year before, says that a conference committee shall not report upon a matter unless a majority of members of each house, and of the Chairs as well, have concurred in the report. It is established that concurrence in a report has to be done . . . concurrence as decision making concurrence . . . when we're talking about concurrence, we're saying you concur as a matter of decision making. And it is established that all decision making must be made in public and committee reports cannot be used for the purpose of decision making because the constitution specifically requires that decision making, in committees in particular, must be made in public.

"When, now Congressman Ed Case and I were both Majority Leaders, we unfortunately had to disagree with our presiding officers and called for public voting in Conference Committees.

And unfortunately, one of the political parties, unfortunately not my party, but one of the political parties had to file suit to require the Legislature to comply with the constitution 22 years after its adoption in 1978 that required explicitly that Conference Committee decisions must be made in public. So it took quite a while and we finally did comply in the year 2000.

“So, in the use of the word concurrence, it’s a concurrence that’s made in public. You cannot use a committee report to concur and it is concurrence in the report. That really means with the report, not inside of the report and not by vote.

“Connected to that – I’m not sure how many Senators caught it last year, I didn’t – last year for the first time, the Joint Conference Committee Rules were added and added this language: that no conference committee report concerning the measure with fiscal implications shall be reported out of a Conference Committee without the signatures of the Chairs or designees of the fiscal committees of each chamber. What this does, I believe, is violate the constitution because it allows a decision making act by refusing to sign a conference committee report. A fiscal Chair can essentially veto by taking a decision making action that would kill a bill, not in public but in private.

“I am in support of the Ways and Means and the fiscal Chair’s ability to veto fiscal bills and I believe it is necessary because that Chair is responsible for presenting a balanced budget to the Senate, and that, as the Judiciary Chair mentioned, is not an issue in this resolution because we are, in this resolution, explicitly saying that the Chair may continue its long practice of utilizing a veto power. And for the freshman Senators, I should note that past practice is a rule. The Senate Rule says that past practice is a rule, so whatever we’ve done in the past, that in effect is an unwritten rule and it is a rule.

“So, I am saying that there is a section of Rule 8(b) in conference committee procedures that I believe is unconstitutional and it somehow slipped in last year while we were seeking to again stop the use of the Chair veto rule. This is the third year that a Chair veto rule has been sought and the third year that pro-democracy Legislators have attempted to stop the use of Chair vetoes.

“As many of you know, last year I had not planned to return to the Senate. In fact, it was not until about a week before the filing deadline did I decide to seek election to the Senate. And in deciding to return to the Senate, I made a promise that I would devote part of my four-year Senate term to advance the cause of democracy in the Legislature. So I can tell you, speaking for myself, that I will continue to fight the use of the Chair veto as long as I’m a Senator, and you can count that as a promise. And this does not in any way mean – I don’t mean to add disrespect to those who will be voting against this resolution. I think that there is an honest difference of opinion and I know that this resolution may have made some Senators a little uncomfortable. I think that is unfortunate and I respect that everyone and all Senators in this Chamber today will vote the way that they believe they must vote in their own integrity as a Senator.

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Kawamoto rose to speak against the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak against this resolution.

“Mr. President, I’m just a simple man. I take my job very seriously. My job is, as Chair, to forward any Senate positions we have that we have the process. We have the process of committees. We have the process of public hearings. We have the process of voting. We have the process of testimony. We have the process.

“Once a bill passes this Senate body, this is the Senate’s position. We have to do whatever we can to pass the Senate’s position, because this is how we feel and this is why we support the bills we send over to the House. Some bills don’t go over because the Senate doesn’t want that bill. That’s the time to stop that bill. Now we’re in Conference. It’s a new game. It’s overtime, and you’ve got to strategize with the House.

“I believe, with this resolution, we’re going to tie one or two hands behind our backs and we’re going to try to compete with the House. They’re as smart as we are. If we tie our hands behind our backs to go into Conference, it’s like playing golf without your sticks. How can you play golf without a stick? You can throw the ball over there, but you’re going to be highly disadvantaged.

“So, I urge my colleagues, if we want to forward Senate positions, do not tie the Chairs’ hands to do whatever they can to provide the Senate position. This resolution would take away some of the tools that you need to forward Senate positions.

“Thank you.”

Senator Hemmings rose and said:

“Roll Call vote, Mr. President.”

The Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and, Roll Call vote having been requested, S.R. No. 146, entitled: “SENATE RESOLUTION AMENDING SENATE RULE 24(3) TO REQUIRE A CONFERENCE COMMITTEE TO REPORT ON A MEASURE WHEN A MAJORITY OF COMMITTEE MEMBERS OF BOTH CHAMBERS CONCUR IN THE REPORT,” failed to be adopted on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Trimble rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise for my first point of personal privilege.

“Last Tuesday, we were discussing H.B. No. 73. I thought it was important. We have the rights of the individual. We have the powers of the State, and the relationship between the two is important. I thought that our Floor debate on H.B. No. 73 would last for hours. It didn’t. And when it was over and I sat down, I suddenly realized, you know, when there’s a forest and a tree falls, and if no one is there to hear it, does it make a noise? And I remembered that. And the Session went on for about three or four more hours and then my esteemed colleague, the Senator from Kauai, got up and said, ‘since you guys all voted for the giveaways and the tax credits, it’s only appropriate that we raise the general excise tax by half a percent.’

“I take umbrage at that remark because I voted ‘no’ against every special interest piece of legislation. I voted ‘no’ against every tax increase. I voted ‘no’ against everything that would increase the cost and size of government. But sometimes, mere words do not seem to make an impression.

“Most of us think in terms of ‘gimmies’ instead of give backs. So, in a symbolic gesture, I will be returning this afternoon my laptop computer, not because it is not useful to me, but I think it is of symbolic importance.

“Thank you.”

Senator Slom rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

“Mr. President, I, too, rise on a point of personal privilege.

“I would like to elaborate on some of the comments just made by the good Senator from Downtown, particularly as it relates to the computers.

“You know, we have so many symbols in our legislative duties, and we may perceive them in one way and yet our constituents and the public perceive them in an entirely different way. Some of us who have been voting ‘no’ on increased taxes over the years, voting ‘no’ on increased compensation and pay, voting ‘no’ on increased benefits, and voting ‘no’ on those bills and those acts that further separate us or public employees or other classes from those people that pay for everything that we do here, that support us, that create different classes and divisions, those of us that vote ‘no’ have to in fact be consistent in everything that we do.

“Several weeks ago, nearly all of us received these computers as did, I think, all members of the House of Representatives. And while the intent certainly is good – to move us all along in terms of technology to make things easier – I think there have been some problems with that, the first of which is that the computers are not fully functional in terms of what they allow us to do within the system itself here in the Legislature. Hopefully, we’ll be moving to the day when we have truly electronic voting and we can do that, but at the present time, we’re not able to do that.

“And for the public, they see a symbol again of us gifting ourselves with expensive technology. They come to our offices, particularly those in small business who are struggling with used copy machines and maybe a computer that is four generations old, and they see that we have the most up-to-date copiers, the most up-to-date faxes, the most up-to-date computers. They come through our halls and they see lines and lines of former equipment that would be brand new and technologically advanced to them, but we just getting yet another upgrade for us. If all this technology produced better legislation and more of a response to the public, that would be a good thing, but many people, including myself, do not perceive that as such.

“In addition, when we received these computers, the instructions were that the computers were for our use entirely and alone. We could not allow our staff to use them. If we had a constituent that came in, the constituent couldn’t use them. If we had a school in our area or a nonprofit organization that might have been able to benefit from the use of these computers – which are paid for entirely by the taxpayers – they could not use them, as well.

“And so, as was said earlier on another subject, actually not utilizing these computers and giving them back at this time, particularly when we’re hassling over budgets and pay raises and the cost of things, is really the right thing to do. And so, I join my colleague from Waikiki and I encourage other colleagues to do the same. We’d like to give back our laptop computers. We’ll give it to the custody of the Clerk to see what he would like to do with them.

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

The President stated:

“Thank you, Senator Slom, and please give it to us right away. Thank you.”

Senator Sakamoto rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

“Some people find it easy to vote a certain way – ‘no taxes for anything,’ whether it’s meritorious or not – and that’s fine. People can choose to do that. Other people choose to say what is more meritorious, and what, perhaps, is worthy in spite of fear of people in their electorate saying bad idea. But I think we’re judged here based on what we do on balance, not on formula, not on ‘no taxes for anything’ whether it’s good, bad or uncertain.

“I think, Mr. President, we’re here and the laptops are an example, actually, a good example of efficiency in government, Mr. President. At a certain point when we talked about public input, with the public wanting instant input, I think the laptops provide an excellent example of how we’re attempting to get public input.

“And in my case, Mr. President, I apologize to those who were e-mailing me yesterday and the day before because there was so much input that I reached my maximum, Mr. President. So, perhaps we can do something about that for some of us who have more in our e-mail than the system is able to hold.

“I think part of the efficiency in government is in fact moving ahead with some things that cost money, some things like technology, because at the end of the day, these things will save money. It’s disappointing that government hasn’t been able to spend money to save money.

Senator Hemmings also rose on a point of personal privilege and stated:

“Mr. President, I, too, rise on a point of personal privilege.

“Mr. President and colleagues, your loyal Minority is not unified in this effort. I’m keeping my computer and I want to share some reasons why in order for my constituents to understand why I’m keeping it.

“First, we have to look at the context of the Senate and House budget. What it costs to operate the Legislature, I think, is the first bill we pass. I’m quite proud that the growth of the operating budget of the State Legislature has been rather modest, if anything at all. We are an incredibly efficient organization.

“Secondly, Mr. President, I don’t do things for the sake of public perception. Hopefully, we make decisions based on what is right. What a mess we’d be in if we did things for the sake of public perception. That’s exactly why we have a republic.

“Third, I want to echo the sentiments of the good Senator from Moanalua. This is about productivity. I wasn’t given a gift, Mr. President. I was given a tool. It’s like giving a laborer a shovel. This is a tool that’s going to increase the productivity of everyone who chooses to use it. It’s especially going to be a tool that’s going to be most beneficial to the neighbor island legislators who work extra hard, who commute, and oftentimes have to take their work home with them.

“Mr. President, Majority Party members, I recognize this is a sincere effort on the part of you to bring this body into the twenty-first century with technology. I recognize that efforts like this take time. I recognize in the future that we will be voting electronically, that we will have access to the Internet and information here on the Floor, and that ultimately this will save money and ultimately this may even save trees because we won’t have to deal with the mounds of paper that we now deal with.

“So Mr. President, I thought it was important for me to stand up and state the position that I share along with Republican colleagues in the House of Representatives who likewise are using their computers for the benefit of the people who elected us.

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Hogue rose on a point of personal privilege and added:

“Mr. President, I also rise on a point of personal privilege.

“I really respect our Minority Leader and, Mr. President, I respect you as well and I realize that that there are a lot of difficult decisions that have to be made down here at the Legislature. But colleagues, I maintain that this body has a credibility problem and it is because there is a perception that Legislators get something, that we receive some perks. Of course, all of us that live on this very scanty salary know that there’s not much of a perk going on there. Unfortunately, the laptops represent a perk. It’s a perceived perk that we are so special that we are going to get this special piece of equipment.

“There was some discussion the other day from the good Senator from Kauai about people having a Lexus. Well, I can’t afford a Lexus and I also can’t afford a laptop, and I am going to join some of my other colleagues in turning this laptop back in. I realize that it is a symbolic gesture. I really do believe that

I represent my constituents. I want to bring the credibility back to this body to prove to them that we are working very hard for them and to give them the perception that we don’t receive something special just because we are legislators. That’s why I also will be voting against a salary increase when the salary commission actually comes forward.

“I couldn’t live with myself knowing that I was put in office, knowing that it was public service, and feeling that somehow I could vote myself a raise. So, I am saying, symbolically, ‘no’ to the laptop, ‘no’ to the raises, and I’ll take a little further step, ‘no’ to new taxes as well.

“Thank you very much, Mr. President.”

Senator English rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

“Mr. President, this is a rather fascinating debate here and I just have to say that I’ve not received a new computer. So now that we have three coming back, may I please have one.” (Laughter.)

President Bunda answered: “Yes, you can. (Laughter.) You can have an extra one if you want it, as well.” (More laughter.)

“Thank you. Because, Mr. President, my office operates on Windows 95 and Windows 97. The productivity that I need to communicate with my constituents on Moloka’i, Lana’i, and Maui, I cannot do it with that technology. I am bouncing back e-mails continually to people in my district, who then call and say, ‘you know, we’re getting a bounceback that you cannot receive our e-mails.’ I do 80 percent of my communications electronically. I need this technology so that my constituents can better work with me so that I can respond to them.

“Frankly, Mr. President, the good Senator from Kaneohe hit it right on the head – the average salary for our people here is about $3.00 an hour if you add up the hours that we put in and the amount of remuneration we get. Now, for us to then reduce the amount of the ability that we have to effectively streamline the amount of hours that we put into work by reducing the amount of paperwork, by communicating with mass communications on e-mail, by being able to produce documents in our offices using current technology, you know, at $3.00 an hour, Mr. President, it’s not worth it. But I have to say that if I have a machine that can help me make that work easier and save me a few hours, I want it. Because in the end, it helps me more effectively be a legislator and it helps me more effectively communicate with my constituents.

“Now, Mr. President, you know that the neighbor island members have to fly, and those computers get checked every single time we go through. In fact, I tell the guys at the security, ‘please, if you’re going to wipe one spot, wipe the whole thing down and clean it for me.’ So, we have the extra burden of carrying another 20 pounds back home with us so that we can continue to work on the weekends, in the nights, as we fly, as we travel because the workload is so great.

“Now, frankly, the symbols – or what is trying to be painted here – is that there’s something that we shouldn’t get. But in the end, Mr. President, I think that this is not a symbol of excess. It is actually a prudent move to make sure that the legislators have the ability to do their work in a timely fashion and to respond and to communicate with their constituents.

“So please, Mr. President, may I have one of those computers. Thank you.”

The Chair responded:

“You may.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, the Senate agreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 42, S.D. 1, and S.B. No. 42, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO WATERCRAFT," was placed on the calendar for Final Reading on Wednesday, April 16, 2003.

Senator Hanabusa moved that the Senate agree to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 1075, S.D. 1, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland.

Senator Hanabusa noted:

"Mr. President, there are about four differences in the bill. Three of them are just more technical and drafting in matter. The major difference is found in the fact that the Senate version said, 'an agency may require the parties' and the House version says, 'an agency may encourage the party.'"

"The testimony that we received, people did not want to have a mandatory mediation. However, they wanted to have it as a tool, therefore, I believe that we can concur with the House version.

"Thank you."

Senator Ihara rose and said:

"Mr. President, could I have a 'no' vote cast on this vote for me."

The President so ordered.

The motion was then put by the Chair and carried with Senator Ihara voting "No," the Senate agreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 1075, S.D. 1, and S.B. Senator Hanabusa noted:

"Mr. President, in this case, the House amendments are better. What happened is that the definition that the Senate Committee struggled with regarding definition of undergarments – this is the infamous escalator voyeur bill – they moved it into the definition section and we agree that that's probably where it should be.

"There's also a comma and there's also the insertion of the word covertly, before record and broadcast.

"Mr. President, we believe that we can agree to those changes.

"Thank you."

Senator Ihara rose and said:

"Mr. President, are we on S.B. No. 1361?"

Senator Baker moved that the Senate agree to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 1361, S.D. 2, seconded by Senator Menor.

Senator Baker noted:

"Mr. President, the amendments made by the House are largely technical and nonsubstantive. However, they did make one amendment made at the request of both the Department of Health and DHS that the Committees on Health and Consumer Protection and Housing support that merely insures that the state law does not override federal statute with regard to Medicaid. We couldn't do it anyway, so it seemed like a worthy amendment."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, the Senate agreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 1361, S.D. 2, and S.B. No. 1361, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PRESCRIPTION DRUGS," was placed on the calendar for Final Reading on Wednesday, April 16, 2003.

Senator Hanabusa moved that S.B. No. 1156, H.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to S.B. No. 1156.

"In this particular measure, I must speak up because: (1) Hawaii Revised Statutes is sufficiently broad to allow the Office of Hawaiian Affairs to do this; (2) it is my impression that they're already doing it; (3) what really bothers me is that the Office of Hawaiian Affairs has an elected board of trustees and I think it's inappropriate for us to be dictating to them that they shall do something, when in fact they are able to decide if they wish to do it and do it when and as they wish.

"For those reasons, I oppose this measure. Thank you."

Senator English rose in support as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in support. I'd like to insert some comments into the Journal on this.

"Thank you."

The Chair having so ordered, Senator English's remarks read as follows:

"Mr. President, the idea behind this registry is to find, record and track persons of Hawaiian ancestry worldwide. The Office of Hawaiian Affairs (OHA) has already begun this task, yet needs to have a more solid legal basis to continue. OHA can move forward without this legislation, and I am sure they would if this measure does not pass. However, with all the lawsuits in the federal courts challenging any native Hawaiian benefits, OHA – rightly so – must be able to show a statutory framework for the native Hawaiian Registry. This measure would provide those assurances. As I am the only native Hawaiian in the Senate, I strongly support this bill."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, the Senate agreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 1156, and S.B. No. 1156, H.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE OFFICE OF HAWAIIAN AFFAIRS," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 16. Noes, 4 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Trimble). Excused, 5 (Ihara, Inouye, Kanno, Sakamoto, Whalen).

S.B. No. 1361, S.D. 2, H.D. 1:

On motion by Senator Baker, seconded by Senator Menor and carried, the Senate agreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 1361, S.D. 2, and S.B. No. 1361, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PRESCRIPTION DRUGS," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 19. Noes, none. Excused, 6 (Ihara, Inouye, Kanno, Sakamoto, Taniguchi, Whalen).

ADVISE AND CONSENT

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1575 (Jud. Com. No. 4):

Senator Hanabusa moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1575 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland and carried.

Senator Hanabusa then moved that the Senate consent to the nomination of FAYE KOYANAGI as Judge of the District Court of the First Circuit, for a term of six years, in accordance with the provisions of Article VI, Section 3, of the Hawaii State Constitution, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland.

Senator Hanabusa rose to speak in support of the nominee as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of Jud. Com. No. 4, submitting for communication and confirmation to the District Court of the First Circuit, State of Hawaii, judicial nominee Faye Koyanagi.

“Mr. President, Faye Koyanagi is truly a local girl. She’s a Kaimuki High School grad and, Mr. President, we all know that where you went to high school is what’s important in this state. She’s a Kaimuki High School graduate with a Bachelor of Arts from UCLA, teaching credentials from the University of California, Berkeley, and she actually taught for five years on the mainland. She has a law degree from Hastings where she served as student note author for the very prestigious ‘Hastings Constitutional Law Quarterly.’

“The Hawaii State Bar Association said that Ms. Koyanagi is highly qualified. Mr. President, I did ask whether the fact that she served as a director affected that rating, and they assured me that it did not. Mr. President, I also must disclose that when Ms. Koyanagi was up for the various positions that she’s held with the Hawaii State Bar Association, that in my other life as a lawyer I have supported her in her elections to those various positions.

“Ms. Koyanagi is before us for the district court. The issue that we always face when we’re looking at these confirmations is what are the characteristics of the person to fill that job. Ms. Koyanagi comes with all the necessary experience to meet those characteristics. First of all, she has served as a prosecutor, a Corporation Counsel, and at the same time, her latter career was in insurance defense.

“About, oh, maybe 10, 15 years ago, insurance companies made a decision that they would take key lawyers and make them in-house counsels. In other words, they kind of form their own law firms. Ms. Koyanagi was one that one of the largest ones selected, and that was Fireman’s Fund. She has served for the past 10 years as their main counsel in this state.

“She has the necessary experience that will be facing anyone who serves in the district court. Now, when you think about the district court, and we’ve asked this of every single nominee, why the district court? The district court is – remember the old TV program Night Court – where almost every conceivable type of dispute comes before you. So why, why district court? Ms. Koyanagi said it best – she said that’s where the real people of Hawaii are and she feels that it’s an obligation to make sure that when people come to the court, the district court, which is where most people really experience the judiciary system, that their first impression is a positive one.

“Ms. Koyanagi comes before you and believes that the role of a court is to be a jurist, to have civility in treating those before her, and of course she must do a good job in dispensing justice and she must work to have people trust in the judicial system. She has been described as somebody who is calm but decisive, and she is very, very conscious of the fact that she can provide or she will have a sense of the first impression that many have of the court system.

“We are all very well aware of the recent criticisms that our judiciary has been faced with, and someone like Ms. Koyanagi will bring to that system credibility, confidence, and she will have the necessary traits to treat the people who go to the judiciary with the kind of respect and honor that they each deserve.

“So Mr. President, I ask that you and my colleagues join me in consenting to Jud. Com. No. 4, Faye Koyanagi for the District Court of the First Circuit, State of Hawaii.

“Thank you.”

Senator Hemmings rose in favor of the nominee and said:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of the nomination of Faye Koyanagi to the judicial district court.

“Mr. President and colleagues, speaking on behalf of your loyal opposition, the Minority Party, we do believe that it’s important that all judicial nominees have a broad and firm foundation of support, and this includes bipartisan support. So with these brief, short words, I’d like to advise our colleagues that the Senate Minority, in a bipartisan manner, are behind this nomination and give our full support to it.

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Whalen).

At this time, Senator Hanabusa introduced Judge Koyanagi to the members of the Senate. (Judge Koyanagi, who was seated in the gallery with family and friends, rose to be recognized.)

At 11:57 o’clock a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:10 o’clock p.m.

ORDER OF THE DAY

APPROVAL OF JOURNAL

MATTER DEFERRED FROM MONDAY, APRIL 21, 2003

The President announced that he had read and approved the Journal of the Forty-Seventh Day.

At this time, Senator Ihara rose and said:

"Mr. President, instead of making motions and asking for floor votes to object to the Journal for the 47th Session Day, I would like to make a statement of objections on this matter.

"Mr. President, as you know, this Session I've objected several times to the Senate's practice of passing bills on Second Reading while the Senate was in recess – in effect, casting votes in absentia. In attorney general's opinion dated March 28, which all members received, it stated two fundamental principles of parliamentary law: (1) that the Senate cannot adopt a bill on Second Reading without knowledge of its content or identity; and (2) that the Senate cannot pass a bill in absentia.

“On the second decking deadline of Friday, April 4, the Senate passed 16 bills in absentia. I would like to point out, in the Senate Journal on the 47th day, evidence for my claim that the bills were in fact passed in absentia. I hope to be persuasive so that the Senate Leadership will adopt an easy and practical solution that is now available to avoid requiring the Senate to ever again vote for bills in absentia.

“I call the Senators’ attention to materials on your desk. I passed out the Journal for the 47th day and also a one-page handout called Senate Journal excerpts, April 4, 2003, 47th session day. I’d like to walk you through a few entries in the Journal for that day. There’s a notation on page six where the Senate Majority Caucus Leader said, or actually made the following motion: that the Senate stands in recess, leaving the Journal open until 10:00 p.m. this evening for receipt of standing committee reports for House bills, and may the Journal reflect the proper motions made and appropriate actions taken by this body, etc. . . . consistent with reports of those standing committees that were to have been received by the Clerk by 10:00 p.m.

“This motion . . . the use of the word ‘reflect,’ I’m contending that this motion authorizes the Clerk to enter into the Journal certain motions and actions that did not actually occur. And I will explain – further down after Senator Whalen seconded the motion, it goes on and says, Senator Tsutsui moved that Senate authorize the adoption of standing committee reports recommending that Senate bills pass Second Reading, etc. And you notice here that in this restatement of the motion, it says that the Senate authorizes the adoption of standing committee reports. There is no explicit authorization for passing bills on Second Reading, but I will assume that it is implied, because it is not necessarily the case that when you authorize adoption of standing committee reports, that the bills referenced in the recommendation are also adopted, but I will assume that it is implied that the authorization was actually made.

“As you recall, the Journal reflects it, and for those here, the Majority Caucus Leader indicated at the time of the motion that he did not know the identity of all of the bills that were to pass on Second Reading, and that’s noted on page six and seven.

“Now, jump to page eight, and this is all on the advance copy that you have in front of you. Page eight, and I’ll read the bolded section, it says, in consequence thereof and subsequent to the recessing at 1:10 o’clock p.m., the Senate took the following actions. The key word here is ‘subsequent to recessing,’ because this means that the actions that are listed in the Journal were made subsequent to the recess. This says that while the Senate was in recess, it took actions listed in the Journal.

“Mr. President, I believe that this proves, unless the Journal is corrected, that the Senate passed bills on Second Reading in absentia, which the attorney general said in his March 28 letter that these motions are improper.

“Also, on the bottom of the page on this one page handout, still on page eight, it says, on motion by Senator Tsutsui and seconded by Senator Whalen and carried, the committee adopted H.B. No. 1253. This is the fourth paragraph from the bottom on page eight, and I have provided the excerpts there for you. When it said on motion by Senator Tsutsui, Senator Tsutsui did not actually make this motion, because this motion was actually done subsequent to the recess. The Senate was in recess during the time that this motion was allegedly made.

“Since the Senator is not a member of TMG, he did not know the identity of the bill, in this case, H.B. No. 1253, H.D. 1, S.D. 1. There are 15 other such bills but I’m just giving you the example of the first bill. So, the Senator could not have made this motion as stated in the Journal. Also, it says, seconded by Senator Whalen and carried. It said, ‘and carried.’ The Journal says that this vote was carried, although this vote actually did not happen because the Senate was in recess at the moment this vote could have taken place.

“At the bottom, it says at the very end, page 17, at 10:00 p.m. the Senate adjourned. So, between 1:10 p.m. and 10:00 p.m., the Senate was in recess, and at 10:00 p.m. the Senate adjourned. So those actions all occurred during a recess.

“Mr. President, that’s my statement. I want to thank you for allowing me to outline my case. I hope that we can work out appropriate arrangements to address the concerns raised here today.

“Thank you.”

“In addition to making some technical and nonsubstantive amendments, the House version would also provide that the lender may require the association of apartment owners to provide at no charge a notice of the association’s intent to claim a lien.

“In addition to making some technical and nonsubstantive amendments, the House version also makes reference to investments and investment provisions as opposed to other permitted investment provisions.

“The Department of Commerce and Consumer Affairs felt that the House version was clearer in regards to the types of investments being referenced, and accordingly, your Committee Chair has recommended that we agree to the House version.

“The House made a number of other amendments to incorporate that language.

“Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, the Senate agreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 773, and S.B. No. 773, H.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE,” was placed on the calendar for Final Reading on Wednesday, April 23, 2003.

"Mr. President, with your indulgence, I wanted to offer some brief remarks in support of Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1602.

"Mr. President, it's a pleasure for me to be able to recommend to this distinguished body the confirmation of Carlito Caliboso to the important of chairmanship of the Public Utilities Commission. There is no question that Carlito possesses the necessary intellect and qualifications to be able to grasp and to analyze the kinds of complex issues that the Public Utilities Commission is responsible for reviewing and deciding upon.

"He really will bring with him an impressive educational and professional background. Carlito earned a Bachelor of Business Administration degree in Finance and Management from the College of Business Administration of the University of Hawaii in 1984. He earned his law degree from the William S. Richardson School of Law at the University of Hawaii in 1991, where he was the articles editor for University of Hawaii Law Review. As an attorney, Mr. President, I can tell you that selection to the Law Review represents one of the highest honors that a law student can attain.

"In terms of his professional career, he has been employed as a systems analyst with Bank of Hawaii and Central Pacific Bank, and has been a partner in the law firm of Catalani Nakanishi and Caliboso where he has specialized in real estate and commercial finance law.

"Another positive aspect of Carlito's nomination to the PUC is that he has stated that his first order of business will be to improve public access to the agency. He has also pledged to provide a balanced perspective as he seeks to reconcile the various issues that will come before him as the commissioner.

"Finally, as someone who immigrated from the Philippines with his family when he was just two years old, Carlito, to me, is a shining example of how someone in this country can rise to a position of prominence and success through hard work and dedication. And with all due respect to the Senator from Waipahu, Senator Kawamoto, one of Carlito's other assets is the fact that he is currently a resident in God's country, Mililani Mauka.

"For the reasons that I've stated, I ask my colleagues to join me in confirming Carlito Caliboso as chairman of the Public Utilities Commission.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Noes, none. Excused, 3 (Hanabusa, Ige, Kanno).

The Senate reconvened at 12:23 o'clock p.m.

FINAL READING

S.B. No. 78, S.D. 2, H.D. 1:

Senator Chun Oakland moved that S.B. No. 78, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator English.

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in opposition to this measure.

"Colleagues, all of us are opposed to elder abuse. I think all of us recognize that it is a problem in Hawaii and it is a problem that needs to be addressed.

"In this measure, when we pass this measure, we will be doing several things, either intended or unintended, and please join me for a couple moments and reflect before we cast a vote on what we're actually doing. We are defining abuse as physical or psychological. We're setting up civil penalties where the judge's discretion is limited. We're setting a floor at $500 a day. My first problem is that I don't think that we should be limiting the judge to a minimum penalty of $500 a day. I think the judge should have more discretion.

"If this measure is passed by this body, the first result will be, I anticipate, and if I'm wrong, please correct me, that those caretakers providing this service will see an increase in their insurance rates. As a cost to business, this will be passed on to those that use the care facilities or the people that send them there, and in many cases, the payment comes from the State of Hawaii. So, the taxpayers of the State of Hawaii will be paying the insurance that will be used perhaps to defend in terms of legal fees or civil remedies, and I'm just not sure that this is the right approach for us to be taking.

"I have voted for and I do support unannounced visits. I think perhaps a better alternative will be to have more unannounced visits. And because I differ in the approach that I think is most appropriate, I will be voting against this measure and I urge you to do likewise.

"Thank you."

Senator Chun Oakland then rose in support of the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in strong support of this measure.

"Abuse and neglect of the elderly has been called Hawaii's 'hidden epidemic.' Elder abuse is physical or mental mistreatment or injury that harms or threatens an elderly person. It includes physical, sexual, emotional, and financial abuse, as well as neglect or abandonment. Abuse can happen in institutions like nursing homes, as well as at home. Most of the reported cases involve abuse by a family member or other relative.

"The sad truth is that many elders do not report abuse. Some are physically or mentally impaired. Many dependent elders put up with the abuse due to fear of losing whatever support the abuser may be providing, such as a place to live or personal care, or are unable to notify anyone else.

"Hawaii already provides for extended sentences for criminals who commit crimes against elders. S.B. No. 78 would provide for enhanced civil penalties for caregivers who abuse or neglect elders.

"S.B. No. 78 authorizes the Attorney General to seek civil penalties on behalf of the State in cases where an elder has been abused or neglected by a caregiver. A caregiver who is found to have abused or neglected an elder will be fined up to $1,000 for each day that the abuse occurred, and must pay for the costs of the Attorney General's investigation.

"This measure does not bar the criminal prosecution of an abusive caregiver and the elderly victim (or the victim's estate) may also pursue private legal action, including obtaining a temporary restraining order against the abuser or suing for breach of contract, tort, or civil fraud.

"With regards to the previous speaker's concern about increasing costs, we worked very diligently with a number of the organizations that were concerned about premiums going up as a result of the original bill. And as a result, that is why the Senate has taken the position and accepted the position of the House, which takes away the private cause of action. So, here before us is a civil remedy only.

"Mr. President, this bill, for the first time, imposes civil penalties against abusive caregivers, and sends a very strong message that we will not tolerate the abuse or neglect of our elders. By passing this measure, Hawaii will join seven other states that have enacted enhanced civil penalties for elder abuse. It is an important measure and I urge your support.

“Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, the Senate agreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 78, S.D. 2, and S.B. Senator Hogue rose to speak in opposition to the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure. Colleagues, I will be brief.

“This bill authorizes the PUC to have flexibility to establish a surcharge for providing TRS services. Essentially, it could lead to higher costs for consumers. All of us receive our bills in the mail. Essentially, many of us may not realize why surcharges seem to be added from time to time, and it’s because we vote for measures such as this. And potentially, when you get your next wireless bill, if we vote for this thing you’ll have a surcharge on their and you’ll be paying a little bit more.

“So, I urge you to vote ‘no.’ Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, the Senate agreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 1306, and S.B. S.B. No. 773, H.D. 2:

Senator Kanno moved that S.B. No. 773, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to the bill.

“The bill says that what it really seeks to do is to give flexibility to the Department of Labor, but it does not. What it really does is to open up new avenues for claimants to get unemployment compensation that they would not normally be entitled to. It sets up an alternative base period, allows them the option in which to get additional payments.

“The Committee cited 12 states in which similar type legislation has been enacted and said that the rates in the reserve fund and the benefits only went up between 4 and 6 percent. I would remind my colleagues again that Hawaii has one of the highest unemployment compensation tax rates in the United States, that the unemployment compensation tax on all employers just went up in March, that if this bill is enacted it will increase unemployment compensation rates again, and again, the final reminder is that only employers pay unemployment compensation tax – no employee ever pays any part of UI.

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, the Senate agreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 773, and S.B. No. 773, H.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 18. Noes, 5 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Trimble, Whalen). Excused, 2 (Hanabusa, Taniguchi).

S.B. No. 1373, S.D. 1, H.D. 1:

“Mr. President, the amendments that are contained in the House bill that are not contained in the Senate bill are basically for the purposes of clarifying some important terms pertaining to this measure. For example, one amendment in the House bill would specify that the measure refers to power of sale foreclosure under Section 667-5, Hawaii Revised Statutes, as opposed to the rarely used alternate power of sale foreclosure process under Part II of Chapter 667, Hawaii Revised Statutes.

“It also makes some technical, nonsubstantive changes for clarity and style.”

“Mr. President, the House has amended this resolution by having the Legislative Reference Bureau do the study in a manner which would focus the resolution more closely on specific areas, and we believe it’s a good amendment.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, the Senate agreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.C.R. No. 6, S.D. 1, and S.C.R. No. 6, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, entitled: “SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING A STUDY ON THE EFFECTS OF BIG BOX RETAILERS ON LOCAL SMALL AND MEDIUM RETAIL BUSINESSES,” was placed on the calendar for Final Adoption on Thursday, April 24, 2003.

Senator Ihara rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

“Mr. President, I’d like to enter in the Journal, for the Record, my objection to a specific section of this Session’s Conference Committee Rules. I mentioned this objection in our debate on S.C.R. No. 146 on the Chair veto. I noted in that debate that I had a greater objection to another section in the Conference Rules, and this is Rule 8(b) and I’ll quote, ‘no Conference Committee Report concerning a measure with fiscal implications shall be reported out of a Conference Committee without the signatures of the chairs (or their designee) of the fiscal committees of each chamber.’ Mr. President, this is an after-the-fact veto. The Committee majority of all of the Chairs and all of the members can adopt a conference draft at a duly held meeting, but instead of the committee report reporting the actions of that Committee, this Rule would allow the report to be withheld by an after-the-fact action, which is a veto not exercised at a public meeting.

“Mr. President, this section, I believe, violates Article III, Section 12, of the State Constitution. This section requires that all decisions of legislative committees, including conference committees, must be made in public. Mr. President, this issue was addressed twice – once in a January 1999 opinion by the House Majority Attorney, and a March 7, 2000, opinion by the Attorney General. Both of these opinions agree to two items that I’ll note in the opinions – that the constitutional convention delegates, and I’ll quote, ‘contemplated that all actions and decisions of a committee of the Legislature shall be carried out at committee meetings open to the public, and the committee report on a bill, which the committee recommends for passage, shall only be a reflection and record of the committee’s actions and decisions at the committee meetings.’

“They also continue and say that ‘in the contemplation of the Constitutional Convention, a committee report recommending the bill for passage and circulated after the committee meeting is a record of the decisions and actions already taken on the bill by the committee at its decision making meeting. And since the report itself is neither the instrument nor the forum for decision making, decisions making cannot be determined by or be dependent upon the signatures of the committee members individually solicited and obtained outside of the committee meeting.’

“Mr. President, I also note that in Mason’s Manual of Legislative Procedure, which is the parliamentary rules for both the House and Senate, Section 663 says, ‘The chair is never justified in making a report that has not been approved by the committee.’ Section 664-2 says, and I quote, ‘A committee should report only such recommendations as have been agreed upon by a majority vote at a meeting to which all members were invited, and at which a quorum was present.’ Section 665-1 says, ‘Committee reports must be authorized by a majority of a quorum meeting as a committee, but it is not necessary that the report be signed by all members agreeing to it.’ And finally, in section 4 it says the signing of a committee report is the action of the committee itself and not of the members.

“So, Mr. President, for the record, these are my reasons why I believe that using conference committee reports for a decision making purpose violates not only Mason’s Legislative Manual, in the sections I quoted, but also Article III, Section 12, of the State Constitution.

“Thank you.”

ORDER OF THE DAY

FINAL READING

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 1 (H.B. No. 993, S.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Kawamoto moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 1 be adopted and H.B. No. 993, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Aduja.

Senator Hooser rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition.

"This bill basically requires counties, small counties like the one that I represent, the County of Kauai, basically it requires that they adopt regulations for the enforcement of ordinances regulating the inspection and certification of reconstructed vehicles. I believe this is a home rule issue and will be voting 'no' on this issue.

"Thank you."

Senators Tsutsui and English requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 1 was adopted and H.B. No. 993, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO RECONSTRUCTED VEHICLES," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 15. Noes, 6 (Hemmings, Hogue, Hooser, Ihara, Slom, Trimble). Excused, 4 (Ige, Kokubun, Sakamoto, Taniguchi).

S.B. No. 373, S.D. 1, H.D. 2:

On motion by Senator Menor, seconded by Senator Espero and carried, the Senate agreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 373, S.D. 1, and S.B. No. 373, S.D. 1, H.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CONDOMINIUM PROPERTY REGIMES," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, none. Excused, 2 (Ige, Sakamoto).

S.B. No. 658, S.D. 1, H.D. 3:

Senator Baker moved that S.B. No. 658, S.D. 1, H.D. 3, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Hanabusa.

Senator Whalen rose to speak in opposition and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"Mr. President, the other day when we moved to reconsider, it was my understanding that we were going back to our original Senate position. But this bill goes back to the original draft altogether, not the one we voted on at Third Reading and passed over to the House. There are four points I want to make, and I'll try to do it quickly.

"First of all, the findings in section 1 are in error. At the bottom it says that emergency contraception cannot and does not cause abortion. Again, I don't understand why we're trying to convince anyone who reads this that what we're doing isn't, basically, inducing an abortion. Because if you look at the definitions in the dictionary – not the ones we create such as on page 3, but the ones in the dictionary – it defines conception as the union, and I might not get the scientific names right, but the zygote and the gametes, basically the sperm and the egg, when they unite, that's when you have conception. Emergency contraception by its very name would indicate that you are preventing that . . . preventing that from occurring. There's no one that would say that these pills prevent that from occurring. What it does is it prevents, hopefully, the impregnated egg from attaching to the uterine wall to complete the pregnancy. The idea is to cause an artificial miscarriage through, usually, a high dosage of hormones into a woman. That is an abortion.

"There are natural abortions, such as a miscarriage, and there are those that are induced to terminate the pregnancy, and that's what this is all about, which brings me to my third point – that there are many people who have very strongly, firmly held convictions that life begins at conception, yet this version we have does not allow for those people to express or hold those beliefs.

“What I keep hearing about is tolerance, yet in this bill is a great example of our intolerance of those people who do not have the same belief system that some of us have here in charge of this bill. And to point to that, I’d like to go to page 5 in the penalty section.

“As you know, there are a number of religious hospitals in this state and some of them of the Catholic order firmly oppose abortion and will not do it at their facilities. In this particular case, we are going to fine them $5,000 per person who goes in there who they do not provide these abortion pills to. And worst of all, after two violations, the department is to suspend or revoke the license to operate their hospital. So, because of their firmly held beliefs that don’t correspond with some of those that we have here, we’re going to shut down a hospital. And in this bill, there’s nothing anywhere that says how you get your license back again. We took out the religious exemption. We took out everything that is fair play for the various hospitals and we basically said you have to give abortion pills to anyone who comes in here under the circumstances of being a sex assault victim. Before, it was provide information etc. Now we’re saying, no, not only that, you have to provide it.

“So, even for some people, doing a voluntary abortion is akin to murder, we’re telling them you have to do that because this is what we believe and we don’t care what your belief systems are.

“Mr. President, I just don’t understand why we continue to force this kind of stuff down the people of Hawaii’s throat. No pun intended.”

Senator Baker rose in support of the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of this measure.

“It’s unfortunate that the good Senator from the West Side of the Big Island continues to perpetuate the myth that emergency contraceptives cause abortion. There is considerable confusion about the difference between emergency contraception and medical abortion because of misinformation that some individuals continue to put out.

“Emergency contraception prevents pregnancy. Medical abortion terminates pregnancy. According to general medical definitions of pregnancy that have been endorsed by many organizations, including the American College of Obstetrics and Gynecologists and the United States Department of Health and Human Services, pregnancy begins when a pre-embryo completes implantation into the lining of the uterus.

“Methods of contraception, including emergency contraception, prevent pregnancy by inhibiting ovulation, fertilization and/or implantation. Medical abortion terminates a pregnancy without surgery. By helping women prevent pregnancy after a rape, and that’s what we’re talking about – people who have been sexually assaulted – emergency contraception has the great potential to decrease the rate of abortion, thereby reducing the negative impact to an already traumatized woman.

“Emergency contraceptives do not cause deformities to unborn fetuses, they do not induce an abortion in a woman who is already pregnant, nor will it have any effect on a developing pre-embryo or embryo.

“The purpose of this measure is to provide some measure of relief to a woman who has been severely traumatized by being a victim of sex assault and comes to an emergency room seeking that assistance. Mr. President, I think it’s unconscionable that we would have healthcare systems and healthcare practitioners unnecessarily place woman who have been sexually abused, at risk of even additional trauma by forcing her to carry an unwanted pregnancy. EC has the benefit of preventing that from happening so there’s not additional trauma down the road. EC has shown to be safe, effective, and I think it’s unethical to withhold it for any reason from a woman who has been raped.

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Hogue rose to speak in opposition to the measure and stated:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

“Mr. President, I’m pro-choice. Originally, I would have voted for this measure. I think that we do need to find ways to protect victims of sexual assault. So, with that, I will agree with the former speaker.

“However, what is unconscionable is that we are going to force – that we are going to force – those who do not believe in the use of contraceptives, specifically, Catholic hospitals like St. Francis and others, force them to provide this kind of information and these kinds of pills to those that they don’t believe that they should be even involved in.

“So, for those reasons, I will be voting ‘no,’ despite the fact that I am pro-choice. Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Whalen rose again in opposition as follows:

“I wouldn’t have risen again, still in opposition, Mr. President, but the impassioned speech by the Senator from Maui, I felt, if anything, there was the myth, because she quoted groups who a few years ago described homosexuality as a mental disorder in need of treatment, institutionalized in some cases. These are the same experts that she’s saying that we need to base our decisions upon as well.

“The myth that I stated, I’m not sure, unless the dictionary is a book of mythology, I’m not sure. I quoted from the dictionary. These pills that are called emergency contraceptive pills or medical treatment, by its very straight on definition, prevents contraception. They don’t just merely . . . they can prevent contraception if there hasn’t been a union yet, but once there has been, the egg is fertilized, there is conception, and these pills will induce an abortion because it terminates the beginnings of that pregnancy.

“As the Senator from the Windward side indicated, our own personal belief systems are how we live our life. But it’s not for us to put a blanket coat out there that everyone has to live by one set of values that we set up. And there are people that will be just as impassioned as the Senator from Maui in their opposition to being forced to provide what in their strongly held convictions is basically forcing them to provide for an abortion.

“For those reasons again, I would urge our colleagues who do view themselves as being tolerant and accepting of people with viewpoints other than their own, to vote this down.

“It’s one thing to provide information; it’s another thing to force them to provide the actual medical services. Again, I point to the egregious nature of this where a hospital could lose its license because of two incidences which might even be by mistake. It just says two incidents where it happened. You might have a nurse or a doctor who doesn't do it but the hospital's protocol is to provide it. They just didn't do it. Now, the whole hospital loses its license and there's nothing in here that says you have a right to appeal it or anything else. It says you lose your license. We lose a hospital because of two mistakes by maybe two different people. I think we've just gone way overboard, Mr. President."

At 6:58 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 7:01 o'clock p.m.

Senator Baker rose and said:

"Mr. President, I think I should point out a couple of things. The new standard of care for emergency rooms, with regard to sexual assault victims, is to provide emergency contraceptives. And if I could direct members attention to the US Catholic Hospitals' encyclical, which directs them under ethical and religious directives for Catholic healthcare services established by the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops, it states in regards to EC access for sexual assault survivors, the directive says as follows: 'Compassionate and understanding care should be given to a person who is the victim of sexual assault. . . . A female who has been raped should be able to defend herself against a potential conception from the sexual assault. If, after appropriate testing, there is no evidence that conception has occurred already, she may be treated with medications that would prevent ovulation, sperm capacitation, or fertilization.'

"So, I believe there is definitely room in this area not to be concerned about impending on someone's religious freedoms in this regard. As a matter of fact, there are Catholic hospitals all across the country that provide EC for sex assault survivors even though they would not perform abortions in their facilities.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"We've been talking all Session long about processes, and if my information is correct, there are 22 emergency rooms where a victim of a rape may be taken. At least 21 of these, emergency contraceptives and advice is given either in the emergency room or by the Sex Abuse Treatment Center people or people associated with them. And among the 21 hospital emergency rooms, the only one where it is not consistently done within the time period is on the island of Oahu. So, we're not talking about an unserved need on the neighbor islands. We are talking about the island of Oahu where several choices of where to go are available.

"So, is this measure really to get St. Francis or is it to provide a need that is not already being taken care of? I'm in somewhat of a quandary. It seems to me that it's the former not the latter. And for that reason, I'll be voting against the measure."

Senator Whalen rose and said:

"Mr. President, I was not sure of what the Rules are for the Senate. I just wanted to address one point that the Senator from Maui spoke on that, in essence, fortified my position . . ."

Senator Hanabusa interjected:

"Mr. President, point of order. He's already spoken twice to this measure."

Senator Whalen then said:

"All right, that answers the question. Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Sakamoto rose and said:

"Mr. President, I don't know if I'm going 'no' or W/R. I guess I'll rise with reservations, Mr. President.

"I think it's unfortunate that this bill doesn't allow hospitals or others like St. Francis . . . and perhaps in St. Francis' specific case, they may be in opposition, but perhaps through contract arrangements, other provisions are provided. But measures like this go forward until changed, and I think, should a new religious hospital come up, and perhaps there are services adequate for people who need help nearby and they choose not to provide these services for reasons important to them, that's a real difficulty for me, Mr. President. But perhaps this might work today in light of information that the Senator from Maui and others have given.

"I think we need to give full disclosure as well as we need to give opportunity for people to understand what the treatment will do, as well as giving care providers opportunities to still maintain their moral convictions as well as being compassionate caregivers. So, Mr. President, with reservations."

Senator Kawamoto requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, the Senate agreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 658, S.D. 1, and S.B. No. 658, S.D. 1, H.D. 3, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EMERGENCY CONTRACEPTIVES FOR SEX ASSAULT SURVIVORS IN EMERGENCY ROOMS," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 18. Noes, 6 (Aduja, Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Trimble, Whalen). Excused, 1 (Kanno).

At 7:07 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 7:18 o'clock p.m.

ADVISE AND CONSENT

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1606 (Gov. Msg. No. 287):

Senator Kawamoto moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1606 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Espero and carried.

Senator Kawamoto then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of CAPTAIN GERALD L. COFFEE to the Civil Defense Advisory Council, term to expire June 30, 2007, seconded by Senator Espero.

Senator Slom rose to speak in favor of the nominee and said:

"Mr. President, we would like to support Gov. Msg. No. 287 for the confirmation for Civil Defense Advisory Council, the gubernatorial nominee of Captain Gerry Coffee.

"Captain Gerry Coffee is truly an American legend, and American hero. We are very fortunate to have him in our community and to be so active in our community – a 28-year veteran of the United States Navy, a pilot, like our own God's country pilot, a prisoner of war in Hanoi, someone who has been very inspirational and motivational, and someone who has been named as one of the top speakers on the speaking circuit in the United States – our very own Gerry Coffee.

“So, we'd like to add our support for all of these and the other nominees. Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Kawamoto rose in favor of the nominee and said:

“Mr. President, I'd just like to add to the words of the good Senator and classmate of mine from Hawaii Kai. I'd just like to say a few words for the Navy Captain Gerald Coffee. Not only did he serve 28 years, but he was highly decorated. Also, not only was he a fighter pilot, but he was a Naval officer carrier fighter pilot. So, that's a big, big difference.

“Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Kokubun).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1607 (Gov. Msg. No. 304):

Senator Hanabusa moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1607 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland and carried.

Senator Hanabusa then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of TRISH MORIKAWA to the Hawaiian Homes Commission, term to expire June 30, 2007, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland.

Senator Hanabusa rose in support of the nominee and said:

“Mr. President, I'd also like to speak to Gov. Msg. No. 304, submitting for study and consideration the nomination of Trish Morikawa also for the Hawaiian Homes Commission.

“Trish Morikawa is an attorney. She received her Bachelor's of Arts degree from the University of Pennsylvania. She is an athlete. She played varsity volleyball, and they apparently won the Ivy League championship and she was captain of this team during her senior year. This competitive and athletic nature continued when she attended the William S. Richardson School of Law.

“I raise these points because I think these are very important characteristics as she sits on this board for the DHHL.

“During her law school career, she mentioned in her resume that she participated in the e'te bowl flag football. For those of us who are graduates of the University of Hawaii Law School, we know what that means. See, the guys just couldn't do it right. They were getting hurt, so they turned it over to the women and they wanted to coach, but the women have carried the banner and did the football for the UH Law School. That's a pretty not well known fact, but it tells you a lot about this candidate.

“When asked why she wanted to serve, she said it is because it's time for her to give back. She is a deputy prosecutor and she feels that in her service, she has looked not only at the victims, but also the defendants, and she wants people to work together.

“She, unfortunately, does fit the criteria. She's also a Kamehameha School graduate, but we can't hold that against her either. She says that it is really the vision and the generosity of the Princess that wants her to serve in this capacity. I believe she will also make an excellent commissioner and I ask that my colleagues join in consenting to her, as well.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Kokubun).

Senator Slom rose in support of the nominee and said:

“Mr. President, Gov. Msg. No. 351, Theodore Jung, who is the senior vice president of Solomon, also has worked in the past for Smith Barney and Merrill Lynch, and he is being appointed to the Correctional Industries Advisory Committee. I think this is fine for somebody so active in the securities and investment field to put them next to the prisoners and helping them develop in investment opportunities with the correctional industries.

“Ted is also the president of the Honolulu Stock Exchange. That's a position he's held since 1977. He'll do a good job.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Kokubun).

Senator Hanabusa moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1614 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland and carried.

Senator Hanabusa then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of COLIN KAALELE to the Hawaiian Homes Commission, term to expire June 30, 2007, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland.

Senator Hanabusa rose in support of the nominee as follows:

“Mr. President, I’d like to speak to four of the governor’s messages. I’d like to begin first with Gov. Msg. No. 302, submitting for study and consideration Colin Kaalele to the Hawaiian Homes Commission.

“Mr. President, Mr. Kaalele is eminently qualified. First and foremost, he is a homesteader in Waimanalo. He has been in construction for at least 15 years, both as an environmental safety manager, most recently for a construction company, and for eight years as the district representative for the operating engineers. He knows both sides of the issue.

“He has served on Trust-Hartley Trust Funds and in his testimonies we received about him, there were praises of him from both sides of the fence, so to speak. He will bring with him the knowledge of construction and we all know that that is DHHL’s mandate.

“What is really important about Colin, it’s sort of humorous, is that we asked Micah Kane and somehow he slipped because Colin Kaalele brings balance to the DHHL Board because he’s a Punahou grad. So, somehow he slipped through the cracks. He’s not St. Louis and he’s not Kamehameha – he’s Punahou. But we won’t hold that against him. The administration hasn’t held that against him.

“So, I ask that my colleagues join with me and confirm Colin Kaalele to the Hawaiian Homes Commission.”

Senator Hemmings rose to speak in support of the nominee as follows:

“Mr. President, I’d like to speak in favor of Gov. Msg. No. 302, the nomination and confirmation of Colin Kaalele.

“This gentleman’s heritage goes deep into the soil of Hawaii. He’s a native son of Waimanalo. I’d like to, by speaking to the nomination, reinforce the recognition that the good Senator of Waiaanae has given regarding the balance he’ll bring to the commission in regards to his education. Obviously she recognizes in her wisdom the superior intellect of Punahou graduates that stands in stark contrast to the other ones who definitely need the balance. (Laughter.)

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Kokubun).

Correctional Industries Advisory Committee, term to expire June 30, 2007, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland.

Senator Hanabusa rose to speak in support of the nominee as follows:

“Mr. President, the third nominee is Clarice Cornett. She is Gov. Msg. No. 349 and she is being considered for the Correctional Industries Advisory Committee.

“Ms. Cornett is an interesting person and one who is very well suited. She is a University of Hawaii graduate and she has served as a general contractor since 1986. She does business as Wahine Builders.

“When asked why she wanted to serve, she said because she’s worked with the Governor to develop the building women pre-apprentice training program, which is really for those in prison. She says that we have not serviced the women especially in transition and she has dedicated herself to that. She has worked with the Department of Public Safety and believes that it is that partnership that is so necessary.

“I think she is an excellent choice and very well qualified to serve on the Correctional Industries Advisory Committee, and I ask that my colleagues also join in consenting to her nomination.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Kokubun).

Senator Hanabusa rose to speak in support of the nominee and said:

“Mr. President, Gov. Msg. No. 425 is submitting for study and consideration the nomination of Ken Hideshi Takayama to the Commission to Promote Uniform Legislation. Ken Takayama is no stranger to any of us.

“His credentials are well known, but maybe it’s never been in this record before so I’ll repeat it. He is a University High School grad – not Punahou, not St. Louis, not Kamehameha – but it’s okay. He went to Occidental College and he received his law degree from Boalt Hall, which is UC Berkeley.

“This is a reappointment for him. He has served on this commission since 1995. I kind of wondered why anybody would want to be on a commission to promote uniform legislation. It sounds awfully boring. All you’re trying to do is make sure all the laws look alike and sound alike across the United States. But he’s really excited about it. And the reason why he wants this appointment is because he says he’s in the middle now of some exciting new things about uniform legislation.

“Mr. President, anybody who gets excited about uniformity in laws deserves to be confirmed to this position. (Laughter.) So with that, Mr. President, I ask that you and all my colleagues consent to this nominee as well as the other nominees who have been put forth by the Judiciary and Hawaiian Affairs Committee.

“Thank you very much.”

Senator Slom rose to speak in support of the nominee and stated:

“Mr. President, on behalf of the Minority, I, too, rise in support of these nominees and I would also like to make a couple of remarks following up on the Judiciary Chairman for Gov. Msg. No. 425, Ken Takayama.

“Besides his exploits at Longs Drugs, he has been most kind to the Minority. He has been truly bipartisan in providing good information, bill drafting, and courtesy, and we would support him on his reappointment.

“In addition to that, the Legislative Reference Bureau has been recognized nationally for all of its efforts, and a large degree of the credit goes to Mr. Takayama and his staff. So, we’re very happy to support him.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Kokubun).

SHAD S. KANE, term to expire June 30, 2004 (Gov. Msg. No. 301); and

DAVID S. BYLUND, term to expire June 30, 2007 (Gov. Msg. No. 360), seconded by Senator Baker.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Kokubun).

“Mr. President, please record a ‘no’ vote for me on S.C.R. No. 6, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, requesting a study on the effects of big box retailers and local small and medium retail businesses. This is an unnecessary incursion into the business world, and so I’ll be voting ‘no.’

“Thank you.”

Senator Slom rose in opposition and said:

“Mr. President, please also register a ‘no’ vote for me on S.C.R. No. 6, S.D. 1.

“It’s interesting to note that here we all honored Macy’s a week or so ago and how wonderful they were as a big retailer nationally and how they’ve given to our community, and then we use this to strike out against one other retailer. It doesn’t make sense and it doesn’t show good business sense.

“Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, the Senate agreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.C.R. No. 6, S.D. 1, and S.C.R. “Mr. President, the House version follows preferred drafting procedures and what they did was they added the required quotation mark at the start of a cited section. So, I think that’s a minor change.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, the Senate agreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 538, S.D. 1, and S.B. At this time, Senator Ihara rose and said:

“Mr. President, I just checked my office and these committee reports are not in our office yet, and yet they’re on the OD. So, could I ask that when we have an item on the Order of the Day, that they be in our office or on our desk?”

At 7:40 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 7:42 o'clock p.m.

The President then stated:

"Senator Ihara, the printshop is hurrying and you should get it in your office shortly."

Senator Hemmings rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

"Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

"You might have to indulge me. I've given a lot of thought about this and how to posture in such a way that we can maintain some dignity in this forum and not get partisan. Something happened today in the Education Committee and members voted, I guess, their conscience and on I guess what they figure is good reason not to approve the advice and consent on two of the Governor's nominees to the Board of Regents of the University of Hawaii. I don't think we're going to debate that issue. It's on the agenda for tomorrow.

"One of the individuals, Shelton G.W. Jim On, sat with Senator Hogue and I, and this man's heart has been ripped out. He's a friend of mine. I don't know how to put this, but sometimes people do things on principle, and it has to be in the context in which it happens. I'm not going to mention names because I don't want to throw gasoline on a bad situation, but there are those in this Chamber who have told me personally and told some of my colleagues that they have received e-mails and letters impugning the integrity of my friend. This has been held out to us as reasons why, quote/unquote, 'we don't want to drag Mr. Shelton G.W. Jim On through the mud.' Well, I hope this request will let you know what kind of man Mr. Shelton Jim On is.

"It's a great American tradition that we all have a right to address those who indict us. It is also a great responsibility for us as Senators not to vote on a man's integrity based on innuendo, hearsay, or anonymous indictments. Sometimes, men and women of great moral courage will stand their ground rather than slink away from the battle at hand, and this is Mr. Shelton Jim On.

"So, I'm requesting those of you who spoke to me personally, those of you who likewise informed my colleague on the Education Committee that there were letters and e-mails indicting Mr. Shelton Jim On, to please produce them so this man can confront his accusers in a dignified and honorable manner.

"Tomorrow night we'll debate these two GM nominees and the merits and their qualifications and I know this Senate will vote according to each person's conscience and dictates. What I would like to see before we have that vote is those who have this information, and who told me to my face they have e-mails and letters of indictment, to please produce them so this man can defend himself.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Sakamoto then rose and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in part to respond to the previous speaker.

"Mr. President, there is no second chance to make a good first impression. For many of us who were sitting in the Education Committee, our first impression was what we saw and the dialogue we heard. And in that first impression for me, because the nominee did not come to see me prior as some others did, or that we would hope they would have done, was not a good first impression. I think in part of the questioning process, there were answers that were not forthcoming. They appeared to be legalistic, etc.

"Upon conclusion of the hearing, in my mind and some other's minds, there were some negative feelings, not a good feeling. Subsequently though, someone shared with me an e-mail. At this point, the Senator from Maunawili, prior to today, did request if I could share with him a copy, and I informed him that it wasn't e-mailed to me, but I would request from where I got it if that was permissible. And obviously, I didn't feel it was appropriate to share something like that openly, because it doesn't help anyone. I have made that request, and if there's permission granted, Mr. President, I will attempt to share what I can, but obviously, I don't like to add gasoline to any fire, and we're where we're at.

"Should I be authorized to share, I shall do that, Mr. President. I would like to share it privately as opposed to publicly, though. Thank you."

Senator Hogue rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

"Mr. President, I also rise on a point of personal privilege.

"I want to say publicly, thank you to the Education Chair for making that offer. I would hope that we would not debate the merits or demerits of these particular governor's messages tonight. We just believe that these nominees who will go around and get an opportunity to speak to all of my Senate colleagues that they just get an opportunity to answer any anonymous letters or e-mails.

"So, thank you very much, Education Chair, for making that offer. Hopefully, these gentlemen will get this information in their hands.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Kim rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

"Mr. President, after the hearing of the GMs for the Board of Regents and obviously the press writing in the newspaper comments, the next day I got an e-mail that's been talked about. It was not an anonymous e-mail. It was an e-mail from an attorney in this town. I have not been able to reach that individual to ask whether or not I could in fact release that, and I would hold that as something that I need to get released because I think we all receive information from people and many times, including in the travel and visitor industry, people come to your office and tell you things and request that their names not be revealed for fear of retribution.

"I also received telephone calls and the Education Chair happened to come to my office at that time and asked the individual if they would share that information. Another individual asked in what form, and I said I happen to have the Education Chair walk into my office at this moment and can I put you on the speaker box, and that dialogue took place at that time. And that is not something that I can share with anybody, but certainly I believe that each and every one of you have had phone calls in your own area and constituency and whatever, and I'm not privy to any of that information.

"But certainly, I would like to state for the record that there was no plan, there was no agreement, there was no previous or fraught out plan to target these individuals. The fact that you happened to be in the hearing and I happened to come into the hearing for another GM that was on there, and happened to be not happy with some of the answers and questions and was provoked to asked more pointed questions, was actually a coincidence happening.

"So, I take issue to the fact that this was something that was planned and I think it's an insult to the members of the Committee, as well as the general caucus, to think that this was something that was pre-orchestrated, because it was not. I did not know this individual. I did not get a phone call from him, do not know them previously, and obviously, did not have any kind of plan to do that. So, I would hope in the future that my colleagues obviously know that I did not go around previously, nor did you, Mr. President, to get anybody to orchestrate what has happened. It's taken on a life of its own.

"Thank you."

Senator Hemmings rose again and said:

"Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

"Mr. President, I'm quite surprised about the good Senator from Kalihi's statements. I don't believe in my request I made any accusations for the denials that she made. But there are some great literary quotes about people protesting too much.

"I am quite pleased that the good Senator from Moanalua has acknowledged that she is the recipient of phone calls and e-mails. Our request remains quite simple. This information was used against this man and that word of it was circulated. I, myself, was a recipient of that information. This man, a dignified man, deserves the opportunity not to be indicted and convicted on hearsay, innuendo, and anonymous phone calls. Now, it might have been a signed e-mail, but as far as we know, it was anonymous.

"Our request remains quite simple – give this man the dignity and the opportunity to confront his accusers whose words were used against him."

Senator Kim rose in rebuttal and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in rebuttal.

"First of all, let me state to the Senator across the way that I was not insinuating anything. I think it was another incident that I was talking about, and I'm not sure about what denials, but to set the record straight, I don't believe that the e-mail or phone call, for me, is what my concern is. It was based on what took place in the hearing.

"I'm also aware that some members have not seen the e-mail, but it's not the e-mail that raises concern. It was something that was brought up and I believe everyone has received calls, in some manner, on many issues and may not use that to make their final decision, and some people may have used it in bills and any kinds of other matters that may be before us.

"Thank you."

At 7:58 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 8:18 o'clock p.m.

At this time, the President made the following observation:

"Members, we need to make a correction on a previous Senate bill that we took action on.

"Notwithstanding the previous action of this body, S.B. No. 528, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, is recommitted to the Committee on Conference.

"Members, there are several tax map keys that were left out and the bill needs to go back to Committee to have it corrected."

At 8:18 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 8:20 o'clock p.m.

RECOMMITAL OF SENATE BILL

CONFERENCE COMMITTEE REPORTS

At this time, Senator Kawamoto made the following motion:

"I move that the Senate stands in recess, leaving the Journal open until 12:00 midnight for receipt of conference committee reports and standing committee reports, and may the Journal reflect the appropriate actions taken by this body consistent with the reports of the Committees, and I further move that the Senate reconvene at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow evening."

Senator Hogue stated: "I second the motion."

Senator Kawamoto moved that the Senate authorize the Clerk to receive Conference Committee Reports on Senate and House bills for Final Reading, seconded by Senator Hogue.

Senator Ihara rose and stated:

"Mr. President, this is the same motion that was done two weeks ago. And so, are we, tonight, passing . . . when we accept the bills and take the appropriate motions and the committee reports recommend passage on Final Reading, is this vote passing on Final Reading? “Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

“Rates for towing, currently, are already high. If I remember correctly, the maximum level set is $65 for a normal tow, $85 if it has a little caddy thing that you can put the wheels on, then it’s $6.50 a mile. That starts adding up, plus they raised the storage charge from $15 a day to $20 a day. That’s a 33 percent increase for the first seven days, and then after the first seven days, it increased 50 percent from $10 to $15.

"I don't see any reason why we should be allowing those rates to increase. Thank you."

Senator Trimble rose to speak against the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against this measure.

"I'd like to ask my colleagues to reflect a couple moments on the precise language of the bill and not its intended purpose, but actually how it will play out. Specifically on page 2, there's the expression, 'on more than one occasion without legitimate purpose.' I think that when definitions are clearly defined, we have no problem. But I have problem with how long attorneys can argue about whether the purpose is legitimate or not.

"The second part of the bill that I have some problems with is nonconsensual consent means any contact that occurs without that individuals consent. Now, that's kind of obvious, but if I understand the law previously, this would be new language. Our court's calendars are full. We do not have speedy justice as it is. This measure will further burden our courts at a time that my colleagues do not seem prepared to increase funding for the judiciary. So, I see the calendar getting further clogged and I also see that friends of my Senator from Hawaii Kai attorneys will be the major beneficiaries of this act.

"For these reasons, I will be voting 'nay.' Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 54 was adopted and S.B. No. 933, S.D. 1, H.D. 1,

Senator Ihara rose to speak in favor of the measure with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this bill with one reservation.

"Mr. President, in this bill, S.B. No. 1460, C.D. 1, I have a concern about a provision that says, the authority, this is the tourism authority, shall include in each of its contracts that exceed $6 million, or if they are of a certain level of complexity, a provision dealing with restraining criticism or disparagement of the policies of the state or the authority. My concern is that, to get a contract, a contractor may feel it necessary to give up some of its freedom of speech by agreeing to restrain criticism of a policy of the state, even if it's unrelated to the contract.

"Now, I note that the tourism authority can waive this provision if it so chooses. It says in another section, if it appears in the course of the negotiations of a contract that inclusion of this or other provisions might prevent agreement on the contract for a legitimate purpose or legitimate reason, the authority may suspend this provision that I'm mentioning. And, I think that allows the authority to weigh that provision, but my concern is that if a contractor or vendor would like to have a large contract, they might feel that it's wise on their part to give up their freedom of speech in criticizing the state. And I feel it may cause them to have a sense of intimidation in the course of the contract.

“So, that’s just a concern I wanted to express. Thank you.”

Senator Kim rose in support of the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in support.

“As to that provision, we cannot contract away the freedom of speech, and that is expressed and understood that this provision, when the state gives an entity money, that these policies of that entity are supported. And like the Senator brought up, there is the section where the HTA can in fact waive that. But that was the intent and the intent is not to prohibit free speech, and I’m told by law that you cannot put anything in a contract that would in fact prohibit any of the items that we are given by the Constitution of the United States of America.

“Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 57 was adopted and S.B. No. 1460, S.D. 1, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CONTRACTS ENTERED INTO BY THE HAWAII TOURISM AUTHORITY,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Taniguchi).

S.B. No. 337, S.D. 1, H.D. 1:

Senator Sakamoto moved that S.B. No. 337, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

“This is a very unique bill in that it only takes 22 words to talk about the bill. It talks about business assistant positions in the Department of Education, a position and a philosophy that many of us have supported over the years. We want business assistants within the Department of Education.

“The only problem is we have not had an opportunity to effectively evaluate and analyze just how good these business assistants have been, whether they have saved money, they’ve made the DOE more effective, or so forth, because it’s been a very short time.

“What this bill proposes to do is to take 42 of these business assistants who are now part-time temporary employees and make them full-time employees. That has several consequences. First of all, the bill says the DOE shall make them full-time, which means that it takes away the choice of the Department of Education and the schools and the individuals themselves, thus again moving us farther away from decentralization.

“Secondly, the bill does not include any dollar appropriation so we don’t know what the cost is going to be in changing from the temporary to full-time positions.

“Thirdly, we do know that any full-time position in the state government, whether it’s Department of Education or any of the other departments, has a hefty bill attached to it with compensation and also benefits which last long after the retirement of that particular position.

“Interesting in the comments and the testimony that the Department of Education was fine with being told what to do. The HGEA also liked the bill, but the teacher’s union, the HSTA, opposed this bill.

“So, for these and other reasons, Mr. President, I urge a ‘no’ vote on this bill. Thank you.”

At 7:38 o’clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 7:41 o’clock p.m.

Senator Inouye requested her vote be cast “aye, with reservations,” and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Hemmings rose to speak against the measure and stated:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak against this legislation.

“In the interest of always offering a viable alternative to the continued unchecked growth in the size and cost of government even in the face of austere fiscal conditions, I would have liked to suggest, as I have done before, that these positions not be converted from part-time employees, but that we take full-time existing employees, who number in the hundreds in DAGS and the DOE, that already deal with these problems, thus cutting the added cost that taxpayers will have to assume by doing this job that could be done by workers that are already there.

“In every instance when we hire new people, we’re adding to the long-term debt and cost. It’s also ironic to note that many of our employees right now have been juggled in the employment process to keep them off benefits, which the private sector, oftentimes, is mandated to pay and the state somehow escapes. I’m sure that wasn’t the case with these employees that are now being transferred to full-time. But nevertheless, the alternative is they are to use existing resources to pay for this work and I was hoping that the Legislature would have seen the wisdom of it.

“I will be voting ‘no.’ Thank you.”

Senator Sakamoto rose to speak in support of the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of this measure.

“Just to clarify, Mr. President, these are full-time employees exempt. The measure proposes to have them permanent because some of these employees were indeed school personnel and some were not. But this job, Mr. President, is one that deals with repair and maintenance, other issues relating to helping the administrator. Certainly, the shortage of principals is because they’re beleaguered with many of the tasks that these, one in each complex, can help them accomplish.

“Mr. President, they are full-time, and certainly, as far as the cost issue, perhaps with longevity they will have ERS and those deals. I think this will help keep a stable workforce, and we can have better people in these jobs, and for people who are wondering if every time the Legislature meets, that their job is in jeopardy, the purpose was to bring stability.

“I did have a thick packet of responses from the various principals and people in the complex who have submitted support that these positions are really helping the administrators and the staff in the schools.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, the Senate agreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 337, S.D. 1, and S.B. On motion by Senator Inouye, seconded by Senator Espero and carried, the Senate agreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 538, S.D. 1, and S.B. Senator Trimble rose in opposition and said:

"Mr. President, let's see if I can make these issues as simple as possible.

"I think it's bad policy to pass this bill. I think we need to understand the concept of public land and how that land is transferred. I agree that the Legislature has the authority to do it, but normally, and the process that I'm most familiar with, is that when property is transferred from one division to another or one department to another or one function to another, it's not done by state law. It's done by executive order.

"This bill, if we pass it, would take land, and I don't know how the land was acquired because it doesn't say it in the bill or in the committee reports, but remove it from the area that is considered public land and over which the Governor would have the power to designate as conditions or times change from one department or function to another. If you look at the bill and you go to page 2 and you look at the definition of public lands, it's a good statement, and you get to the end and it exempts certain activities or departments. The first three or four there's good reason for, but as you start getting to the end of the list, and most of these transfers occurred after or changes occurred after the Ariyoshi years, then perhaps it was because we had newer people in government or different people in government and they didn't understand the process that already existed. But some of these I believe were mistakes and I think it would be a mistake to add the high technology development corporation as number 11 at the end.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, the Senate agreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 1281, S.D. 1, and S.B. Senator Menor moved that S.B. No. 1077, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Baker.

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in opposition to this measure.

"It's conceptual in nature. I don't think that continuing education is the only way that people learn and mature in a profession. I do see it as a way of subsidizing educational institutions. Its impact, over time, is to have fewer in the profession, meaning more income for those that remain. It also tends to produce, over time, higher rates, because if you have fewer people providing this service, they can raise their rates, which mean higher costs to the consumer. And the third thing is that if we want to ensure that they're actually up to date and learning, then we should do exactly what we do with automobile drivers and give them a new test every once in awhile.

"For that, I oppose this measure. Thank you, Mr. President."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, the Senate agreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 1077, S.D. 1, and S.B. No. 1077, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CONTINUING EDUCATION FOR INSURANCE LICENSEES," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Hanabusa rose to speak in support of the nominee and said:

"Mr. President, I stand in support of Gov. Msg. No. 427, submitting for consideration and confirmation to the Circuit Court of the First Circuit, 10th Division, gubernatorial nominee, Rhonda Akemi Nishimura.

"Mr. President, members, Rhonda Nishimura is a Roosevelt High School grad, so that should make Senator Taniguchi very pleased, and also a graduate of the University of Hawaii and the University of Hawaii Law School. She has been rated highly qualified by the Hawaii Bar Association and she has spent the past six years in the district court serving as a judge.

"Someone that we all know, Barbara Kim Stanton, came forward to testify and she said every thing is right when a person of her, meaning Judge Nishimura, caliber is nominated and selected for this position.

"Judge Nishimura may not remember me, but I have appeared in her court. And I will tell you, Mr. President, I've been impressed with the manner in which she runs that court and her professionalism. And as you all know, and my colleagues know, praise like that does not come very easily for me.

"Judge Nishimura said a very telling thing. When asked about her view of being part of the judiciary – and remember, colleagues, she's nominated for a circuit court position, a trial court judge – she said that it has been her policy for the past six years to resolve cases expeditiously. She can honestly say she has no backlog and she treats people who come before her with courtesy and respect. And just as importantly, she, as a judge, expects those who comes before her to treat the court and its staff with the same courtesy and respect.

"She also shared with the Committee her interview with the Governor, and she was very amazed and very candid about the fact that the Governor actually interviewed her twice and had a sensitivity towards what was going on in the court system.

"Mr. President and colleagues, to take the words from my good colleague from Maui, I would have to say that I ask that you consent to this judicial nominee and let's put another good woman in a position.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

At this time, Senator Hanabusa introduced Judge Nishimura to the members of the Senate. (Judge Nishimura, who was seated in the gallery with her family, rose to be recognized.)

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1646 (Gov. Msg. No. 426):

Senator Hanabusa moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1646 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland and carried.

Senator Hanabusa then moved that the Senate consent to the nomination of JAMES E. DUFFY JR. to the office of Associate Justice, State Supreme Court, in accordance with the provisions of Article VI, Section 3, of the Hawaii State Constitution, for a term of ten years, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland.

Senator Hanabusa rose to speak in support of the nominee as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of Gov. Msg. No. 426, submitting for consideration and confirmation as Associate Justice of the Hawaii Supreme Court, gubernatorial nominee James E. Duffy.

“Mr. President, Mr. Duffy is a name that is probably household for many of us. He received his Juris Doctorate from Marquette University Law School and he came to Hawaii in 1968. From that time forward, he has just had an exemplary career and his reputation is phenomenal.

“He has served as the president of the Hawaii State Bar Association. He has represented the Hawaii Bar to the American Bar Association and he’s been the Lawyer Representative to the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals. If you have the opportunity to review his resume, you will see that his publications, articles as well as various types of seminars that he’s participated in, go four pages, almost single space.

“We asked this gubernatorial nominee why, why do you want to serve? And he said it is time to pay back. Hawaii has been good to him.

“The attorney general came forward – and I had to say this because it’s always interesting how lawyers try to tell other lawyers a word that you probably have to go to the dictionary for – and he said he’s an archetypal judicial temperament. So, I had to go look it up. Basically, it means it’s the best type of judicial temperament you can have. He described him as someone without fear, without prejudice, and without favor.

“He is also an equestrian, Mr. President. Dan Bent used the words intellectual horsepower and I think he chose those words specifically because he was talking about James Duffy. What’s important is to know what his agenda is, and you know what? He has no legal agenda. He was very candid before the Committee. He said he has no legal agenda. When he was asked about the Governor’s recent criticism of the Supreme Court, he said he believes that he can bring collegiality to the court, because after all, he knows each and every one of them and he respects them. And I think, Mr. President, more importantly than that, they respect him.

“He also made it very clear that he does not believe that it is the purpose of the judiciary to legislate from the bench. I think at that point, the good Senator from Kaneohe rose up and started to applaud, but it was something that the Committee was very interested in hearing.

“Mr. President, the common description of James Duffy is that he is a lawyer’s lawyer. There was not one person in that room that would disagree with that. And when you see someone of Mr. Duffy’s qualifications and that legal career that he’s had, and you see that he wants to pay back – he said he is 60 years of age now and he can do the ten years with the Supreme Court and this is what he considers to be the best way he can think of to end out his legal career – we are all beneficiaries of that.

“One of the interesting statements was that it is a true, I guess, coup on the part of the Governor to have selected him. We had many people come forward who say that the selection of James Duffy has restored their faith in the political system. And with lawyers, that’s really accomplishing something.

“I’d like to make this last statement – James Duffy’s success is because he listened to his former partner, somebody else who was a household name in this state, and that is Wally Fujiyama. Wally Fujiyama said, ‘If you want to be a good lawyer, remember the law is a jealous mistress; everyone must sacrifice, especially your family.’

“Mr. President, colleagues, I ask that you join me in consenting to James Duffy as the new Associate Justice to the Hawaii Supreme Court. Thank you.”

Senator Hemmings rose to speak in favor of the nominee and said:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this nominee for the Supreme Court of the State of Hawaii.

“Mr. President and colleagues, it’s with great pleasure representing the Minority Party, the Republicans, that I stand and lend my testimony and endorsement on behalf of my colleagues to this great nominee. I also want to offer him not condolences but tremendous consideration for his courage in taking on this job. We know you sat there patiently watching laws being made tonight, and you can surmise that your job will be most difficult in seeing what a task it is to unravel some of the things we do here on the Floor of the Legislature.

“I think the good Senator from Waianae expressed all of our admiration for you as a jurist, a legal scholar, and a human being. But I’d also like to say that we’re tremendously proud of your nomination by the Governor of the State of Hawaii. It was done so based on your merit and your talent, and we wish you well.

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

Senator Hanabusa introduced Judge Duffy who was seated in the gallery with members of his family.

At 8:06 o’clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 8:16 o’clock p.m.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1647 (Gov. Msg. No. 274):

Senator Sakamoto moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1647 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Hooser and carried.

Senator Sakamoto then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of BYRON W. BENDER to the Board of Regents of the University of Hawai’i, term to expire June 30, 2007, seconded by Senator Hooser.

Senator Sakamoto rose to speak in support of the nominee as follows:

“Mr. President, I speak in support, but I’d first like to give some background on the process. Mr. President, your Committee on Education has been tasked with hearing all measures related to public education in our state. This includes early education, kindergarten through twelfth grade, continuing education, public libraries, and the University of Hawaii system of higher education.

“While we have concentrated much of our efforts on lower education because of the many issues and concerns related to the ‘no child left behind’ act, and also our schools providing adequate resources to support our students and teachers, reducing the repair and maintenance backlog, improving charter schools, and enhancing public school governance, your Committee did not lose sight of the importance of the University of Hawaii system. In fact, Mr. President, the well being of the university is of primary concern and responsibility of your Education Committee and this entire body.

“The University of Hawaii is the manifestation of our collective hopes for a brighter future for our children and this State. It includes 10 campuses spread across the state, over 8,300 employees serving over 48,000 students enrolled annually. Its expenditures are put at over $766 million, and this is put into our economy every year generating nearly $789 million in revenues.

“Mr. President, this body has been asked to advise and consent to the appointment of six new regents to the Board of Regents. They set the policy and govern this very important system. Your Committee on Education has therefore deliberated with due care and diligence before making its recommendations to this body.

“Each nominee was sent a questionnaire that we hoped would help prepare them for the kinds of questions the Committee might ask, and at the same time, give the members better understanding of each nominee’s views. Every member of this body was given a copy of their responses along with the nominee’s resume. A letter accompanying the questionnaire requested that each nominee make an effort to visit the members of the Senate Education Committee and as many Legislators as possible. The letter specifically stated that ‘the purpose of these visits is to allow members of the Legislature to become familiar with you as a potential member of the important University of Hawaii Board of Regents.’ At the time of the hearings, many members had not had an opportunity to meet with some of the nominees.

“Concerns center around the perception of the limited knowledge of the university system, the community colleges, the West Oahu Campus, and some of the other major public issues involving the university, such as the impact of the state auditor’s recent report on the university and the University of Hawaii Foundation. Other concerns expressed by members include lack of geographic representation of the entire board where the preponderance of trustees would be from Oahu. Especially noted was the loss of one representative from the Big Island, the home of the University of Hawaii at Hilo. West Hawaii has continuously represented by a member for the last 35 years, and East Hawaii by a member continuously for the last 24 years.

“So Mr. President, I would like to thank each member of your Education Committee for their efforts, their forthrightness and their contribution to upholding the process and meeting their responsibilities during this confirmation process. Accordingly, Mr. President, I’ve asked members to present the results of the Committee’s findings and recommendations for four of the committee reports. I’ve asked the Senator from Mililani for Gov. Msg. No. 274, the Senator from Maui for

Gov. Msg. No. 276, the Senator from Enchanted Lakes on Gov. Msg. No. 277, and the Senator from Alewa/Liliha on Gov. Msg. No. 279, Mr. President.

“Thank you for this opportunity.”

Senator Menor rose to speak in support of the nominee and stated:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of the gubernatorial nominee Byron W. Bender.

“Mr. President, Dr. Bender is eminently qualified to serve as a member of the University of Hawaii Board of Regents. I have known him since he served in the positions as president of the University of Hawaii Professional Assembly, and also as a member of its board of directors and I really have the utmost respect for Dr. Bender.

“Dr. Bender holds a BA degree in English, MA and Ph.D. degrees in Linguistics, and presently holds the position of Professor Emeritus with the Department of Linguistics at the University of Hawaii. Dr. Bender has also been an active member of many professional and community organizations, including the University of Hawaii Faculty Senate, the University of Hawaii Professional Assembly, the Hawaii Public Employees Health Fund, and the Linguistic Society of America, among others.

“Mr. President, your Committee on Education, of which I serve as a member, after full consideration of the background, character, experience, and qualifications of the nominee, has found Dr. Bender to be qualified for the position to which he has been nominated, as a member of the University of Hawaii Board of Regents, and I strongly recommend his confirmation.

“Thank you.”

Senator Kokubun rose to speak in opposition and said:

“Mr. President, I rise to disagree with the governor’s message.

“Mr. President, I disagree with the governor’s message, because in my mind, the message conveys that the University of Hawaii at Hilo is not significant enough as a component of the university system to warrant a member on the Board of Regents.

“I want to make it very clear that my opposition to all the Governor’s nominees is neither a personal attack nor a partisan statement. I just strongly believe that the perspective of the University of Hawaii at Hilo is necessary on the Board of Regents. The University of Hawaii at Hilo has matured into an outstanding educational institution through many actions, including support from the Legislature, which are extremely appreciated by all its students, faculty and administration, and the Big Island community in general.

“The University of Hawaii at Hilo continues to consistently energize the city of Hilo and the County of Hawaii economically, culturally and socially. Since the inception of the University of Hawaii at Hilo, there has been a member on the Board of Regents from East Hawaii. That member has always served ably as a communication link between the university and the community, as that central advocate for the university on the board and as the respected and recognized representative for East Hawaii in the statewide university system.

“I am certain that the Governor, as a former chief executive of a neighbor island community, can appreciate the significance of a neighbor island perspective in a statewide system. So when reviewing the governor's messages regarding nominees to the Board of Regents, I was disappointed to discover that the critical past practice of providing the voice for the University of Hawaii at Hilo on the Board of Regents was absent.

"I have expressed my strong concern to the administration, to the Chairman of the Senate Education Committee, and with those nominees with whom I have met. I have made it clear in those discussions that my opposition is to the governor's message and to the prospect of not having the University of Hawaii at Hilo represented on the Board of Regents. It was never a personal statement about the qualifications of the individual nominees.

"So Mr. President and colleagues, I rise in opposition to this governor's message, and I will carry that position forward tonight with respect to all of the nominees for the Board of Regents. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, 1 (Kokubun).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1648 (Gov. Msg. No. 276):

Senator Sakamoto moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1648 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Hooser and carried.

Senator Sakamoto then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of TRENT K. KAKUDA to the Board of Regents of the University of Hawai'i, term to expire June 30, 2005, seconded by Senator Hooser.

Senator Tsutsui rose to support the nominee and said:

"Mr. President, I stand in support of Gov. Msg. No. 276, gubernatorial nominee Trent K. Kakuda.

"Mr. President and members of the Senate, Trent Kakuda is a young man who grew up on Kauai, attended the University of Washington, which I might note may be the one flaw in his resume, and returned home to earn his Bachelor's degree in political science and Japanese from the University of Hawaii, and that's where he made it up. He has taught English in Japan before returning to the Manoa campus to seek his Juris Doctorate at the Richardson School of Law.

"His work experience included service as a legislative aide in this house which has given him the perspective on the process of the Legislature. He also has worked in the office of the Board of Regents, making him familiar with the issues affecting higher education in our State.

"His service as a regent, therefore, will be based on his solid foundation and experience and knowledge. Here is a nominee who will not only serve as a capable and articulate student member, but as a lifelong Hawaii resident who believes in the university and who wants to build it on the legacy and service to the people of Hawaii.

"Ladies and gentlemen of the Senate, after a thorough consideration of character, qualifications, and the background of the nominee Trent K. Kakuda, I urge you in joining me in confirming him as a member of the University of Hawaii Board of Regents.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Hogue rose in support of the nominee as follows:

"Mr. President, I proudly rise in support of this nominee, Trent Kakuda.

"Mr. President, I want to point out something that you already know, Trent Kakuda works in your office. There are those who might say that this would be a conflict of interest and there are those who might say that you might be able to put some undue pressure on this young man, but I believe, after talking to him and listening to him – he's a very articulate, very well-qualified young man – that he will maintain his independence, that he will maintain his integrity, and that he will do a very, very good job.

"So, I am proud to stand here and support this young man to the University of Hawaii Board of Regents. Congratulations, Trent Kakuda.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, 1 (Kokubun).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1649 (Gov. Msg. No. 277):

Senator Sakamoto moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1649 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Hooser and carried.

Senator Sakamoto then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of CATHERINE LAGARETA to the Board of Regents of the University of Hawai'i, term to expire June 30, 2007, seconded by Senator Hooser.

Senator Hogue rose to speak in support of the nomination and said:

"Mr. President, I also proudly stand in support of this nominee.

"On behalf of the Education Committee, I want to say some very great things about Catherine Lagareta. Many people wondered. She opined to us in testimony. They didn't even know who Catherine Lagareta was because they had never heard the name Catherine . . . that it went with Lagareta. They had always heard Kitty Lagareta, because Kitty Lagareta is a very important person in our community.

"She holds numerous awards. She's on numerous committees. She has been the president and chief executive officer of Communications Pacific for many, many years. She is just a dynamic, dynamic force in our community, so dynamic, in fact, that I attest to you that you've all heard of the energizer bunny, but she is the energizer Kitty because she just keeps on going and going and going and she never stops, not at all. She's that kind of a dynamo, well respected, a leader, and a remarkable person.

"And probably a testament to her remarkable achievement is the fact that after the time that she had already become a mother and a housewife, she decided to go back to school and get her degree from (you guessed it) the University of Hawaii.

"She will be a leader on the Board of Regents. She will be a great, great leader on the Board of Regents and a credit to the University of Hawaii. So I hope that you all support Catherine 'Kitty' Lagareta, the energizer Kitty.

“Thank you very much, Mr. President.”

Senator Baker rose to speak in support with reservations and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of this nomination with reservations.

“My reservations have to do with this and several other nominees who did not avail themselves of the opportunity to stop by many of the Senator’s offices to introduce themselves and give us an opportunity to ask them about their qualifications and about their commitment to the university. This was one such nominee and that’s why I’m supporting it, but with reservations.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, 1 (Kokubun). Excused, 1 (Taniguchi).

At 8:31 o’clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 8:36 o’clock p.m.

The President then made the following observation:

“Members, for Gov. Msg. No. 278 on the Order of the Day, I’d like to make the correction that the O.D. has it as Gov. Msg. No. 279 and it should be Gov. Msg. No. 278.”

At 8:37 o’clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 8:38 o’clock p.m.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1650 (Gov. Msg. No. 279):

Senator Sakamoto moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1650 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Hooser and carried.

Senator Sakamoto then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of ALVIN TANAKA to the Board of Regents of the University of Hawai’i, term to expire June 30, 2007, seconded by Senator Hooser.

Senator Chun Oakland rose to speak in support of the nominee and said:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of Gov. Msg. No. 279, Alvin Tanaka.

“Mr. President and colleagues, Alvin Tanaka holds a Bachelors and Masters degree in Business Administration, and presently serves as president and manager of Pacific Transfer LLC. Mr. Tanaka has been active with the Hawaii Stevedores, Inc. and the Aloha Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

“During the Senate Education Committee hearing, the Committee received testimony in support of the nominee from the council member from District VIII of the City and County of Honolulu and two individuals.

“Committee members then diligently questioned the nominee regarding his qualifications and his ability to exercise judgment and make decisions independent of political affiliation on issues of mutual concern related to the University of Hawaii.

“Mr. President and members, we believe this appointment is well deserved. I am confident that Mr. Tanaka has the necessary character, experience, and qualifications to serve on the Board of Regents of the University of Hawaii. And although he couldn’t be here this evening, I believe that we should recognize what he has contributed to our community and what he can contribute to the Board of Regents.

“I urge all of my colleagues to consent to this nomination. Thank you.”

Senator Baker rose with reservations and said

“Mr. President, I’d like to support this nomination with reservations.

“This is another instance where the nominee for this very important post did not make himself available to members of the Senate.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, 1 (Kokubun).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1651 (Gov. Msg. No. 275):

Senator Sakamoto moved that the Senate not consent to the nomination of SHELTON G.W. JIM ON to the Board of Regents of the University of Hawai’i, term to expire June 30, 2007, seconded by Senator Hooser.

Senator Hemmings rose to speak against the Committee’s recommendation as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise to vote against the Committee’s recommendation and therefore vote in favor of placing Shelton G.W. Jim On on the Board of Regents of the University of Hawaii. I want to share some remarks and perspectives on this issue that I think will be salient to the ensuing discussion tonight on this and Gov. Msg. No. 279.

“Several days ago, this nomination was relatively a non-contentious issue. Unfortunately, efforts to resolve the ensuing debate on this matter failed and it has become extremely contentious. For me personally, it’s now become a matter of principle, honor, and dignity.

“Sometimes, in the course of human events, good people value principle and honor over their own convenience and well being. Sometimes, people, in the face of overwhelming adversity, stand their ground. We have an example of that in our Senate Chambers. There’s a Senator who has stood tall in the face of adversity on matters of principle on several occasions. We know the practice of this Legislature is that when you don’t have enough votes to support a bill, the Majority Party simply takes the bill back into caucus. Well, the Senator I’m referring to, on several occasions, has chosen to stand his ground on the Floor in the face of defeat because he’s a man of principle. You know who he is and you know how much we respect him for his principles.

“In this context, I would suggest to you that there are two other men with us this evening of principle and honor that could have walked away from this nomination and saved themselves and the good Governor of this State much pain and anguish. Those men are in the gallery tonight to stand tall in their quest and to face their foes in a dignified manner.

“I support the Governor’s nominees Shelton G.W. Jim On and Edward Sultan for many reasons. And I’m sure my colleagues from both sides of the aisle will listen closely to the debate and vote with conscience on these matters.

“Last night, I requested copies of letters or e-mails that I was told were being circulated that besmirches the character of one of these nominees. I was led to believe there were many. I asked for copies of these documents and the good Chairman of the Education Committee, I might say with concerns in his eyes, brought me the copy of one e-mail.

“The author of the scurrilous letter is only known to the recipient and the deliverer of the letter, but was not divulged to me. The nominee attacked in this e-mail does not have the opportunity to face his accuser. Hence, this e-mail is nothing more than a soiled parchment not worthy of our recognition, and the author of it should hang his head in shame for attacking a good man and not having the courage to stand by his attack.

“I hope that my colleagues will not succumb to any hearsay or accusations in which the accuser does not have the courage to stand up and be accountable.

“The record will show that the legitimate testimony in the Committee on this nominee and the subsequent nominee was supportive. There was no negative testimony. The record will also show that this nominee is eminently qualified both as a lawyer, a CPA, and a man of great integrity.

“I might note just parenthetically it might be wonderful to have a CPA on the Board of Regents, as the university is constantly down at this Legislature pounding on our desks demanding more money. I happened to notice they’ve just spent $81 million to get a logo that probably their art department could have produced for free.

“It’s interesting to note that several Senators reiterated to me on numerous occasions that their opposition was not political. It’s quite a surprise to see the committee report, unbelievably to me, said just the opposite. Let me quote: ‘concerns expressed by several members about the nominee’s responses’ to a number of other things, and ‘his political affiliation as reflected in his testimony.’ I cannot believe you put it in writing, and you tell the public and you tell us this is not political and you put it in the committee report that you were concerned about his political affiliation.

“Another Senator who is most cerebral, in spite of her high school deficiencies (I was trying to interject some humor there, Mr. President, very little or it might have gone over someone’s head), said and let me quote, that she would ‘follow the lead of her Chairman.’ I pray not. I hope we, as we have done before, will vote with our intellect and our good conscience and our hearts, and not, as we’ve done before and as sometimes we have not done, rubber-stamp the edicts of a Committee Chairman.

“In closing, one of the finest hours of this Senate occurred last year on Second Reading of the physician assisted suicide bill, which passed with a 13/12 vote. The bill, after the most emotional and sincere debate I’ve ever experienced, was defeated on Final Reading 1411. That tells me that this body is made up of good people, of people that have compassion, people that can change their mind and do what is ethical and right.

“The right thing to do tonight is to vote ‘no’ on this committee report and thus put this gentleman on the Board of Regents. I hope that you do that. Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Ihara rose and said:

“Mr. President, I have a point of order.

“Rule 37 of the Senate Rules, No. 5, says that rather than voting on the recommendation of the Committee to not consent, Rule 37 (5) says, ‘The final question on appointments made by the Governor which require the confirmation or consent of the Senate shall be: “Will the Senate confirm (or consent) to this appointment?”’

“So I believe the question is to be made in a positive and then those who want to confirm would vote ‘aye’ and those who want to reject would vote ‘no.’

At 8:53 o’clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 9:04 o’clock p.m.

The President then stated:

“Senator Ihara, your point has been well taken. I will now call on Senator Hemmings to positively restate that motion.

“The Clerk is directed to file Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1651.”

By unanimous consent, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1651 was received and placed on file.

Pursuant to Senate Rule 37(5), Senator Hemmings moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of SHELTON G.W. JIM ON to the Board of Regents of the University of Hawai’i, term to expire June 30, 2007, seconded by Senator Hogue.

Senator Hemmings rose to speak in favor as follows:

“Mr. President, in light of my view of my previous remarks speaking against the committee report, I have to amend them to now have my remarks entered into the Journal speaking in the affirmative to the nomination to the Board of Regents.

“I also have to inform my colleagues that I’m on the Ways and Means Committee and I made a slight dollar error. I referred to the cost of the logo as $81 million when in fact it came at the bargain price of $81,000. But a million here, a million there, pretty soon it’s real money. (Laughter.)

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Hogue rose to speak in favor of the nominee and said:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this nominee, Shelton Jim On.

“Mr. President, I’m asking all my colleagues to think about three Ps, not three peas in a pod. One is politics. The other two are professional, and the third one is person. I’m asking you to consider not the politics, but consider the professional and the person.

“Colleagues, I have several letters here in support of the professional Shelton Jim On. Many of them are from attorneys, attorneys just like the scurrilous e-mail that we heard about that was passed around that said some things that were not positive about Shelton Jim On. These letters, which were signed by his colleagues in the legal profession, speak very highly of Shelton Jim On. This one that was signed my Mark Recktenwald, whom I think you all know and respect very greatly, talked about Shelton Jim On’s excellent reputation. It talked about the fact that he is a tireless worker. Here’s another one signed by a colleague, Henry Bereman who talks about Shelton being highly motivated and energetic and that he has long expressed an interest to become more actively involved in the University of Hawaii. Here's another one from Russell Yamashita, he says, 'As you may already know, Shelton is a practicing attorney and a licensed CPA. There are not many people who have the ability and perseverance to make such an achievement,' and Russell Yamashita ought to know because he too is an attorney and a CPA and he knows how difficult it is.

"I want read you an entire letter from a gentleman named Kevin Sumida because it sums up, colleagues, the way that many of Shelton Jim On's professional colleagues feel about him:

'For the past 24 years, I have been practicing as an attorney in Hawaii. I have known Mr. Jim On in a professional capacity for some 15 of those years. More often than not, he is representing a party adverse to my client. I have no social relationship with him.

'In my years of practice, I have known Mr. Jim On to be a very sharp, very competent, and a very aggressive litigator. I have found myself to be very challenged when he is on the other side, and while I will confess that at those times I do not very much care for him when he is pounding the flesh of my clients or myself, I do appreciate that he is only doing his job and doing it very well.

'More importantly, Mr. Jim On has always acted professionally, honorably, and yes, courteously. He has always kept his word and has always stayed within the bounds of his ethical obligations. He is one of the few attorneys in town with whom I am comfortable making agreements on a handshake.

'I am satisfied that Governor Lingle is interested in appointing people who are qualified, regardless of their political affiliations. Her recent judicial appointments of James Duffy and Rhonda Nishimura, both of whom have strong connections to the Democratic Party, are proof of her intent. I believe that Mr. Jim On's nomination to the Board of Regents is similarly based upon the Governor's desire to appoint the most qualified individuals.

'Mr. Jim On is an excellent choice for the Board of Regents. If my experience with him across the table is any indication, he is willing and able to ask the hard questions and will quickly focus in on the key issues. He is a licensed CPA and a lawyer and can bring all of his training and experience to bear upon the tough problems which face the University of Hawaii.

'He is unfazed by complex matters, especially financial matters. He is a hard and dedicated worker and is unafraid to put in the time necessary to get the job done. I know this from personal experience because I have been on the receiving end of his work effort.

'Mr. Jim On is not a bureaucrat. He is a problem solver. I think you need more people like him on the Board of Regents.'

And it is signed, very truly yours, Kevin P.H. Sumida, and it is an example, colleagues, of the professional respect that Shelton Jim On enjoys as an attorney.

"Finally, as you consider the professional Shelton Jim On, I hope that you will consider the person Shelton Jim On.

"There's been much talk about the lack of neighbor island representation. Shelton Jim On was born on a neighbor island.

He was born in the little community of Paia on Maui. In fact, he lived there for the first 11 years of his life – going to the beach, running around town. His parents, interestingly enough, were public school teachers. He lived in a plantation home. Sound like anybody that you might know?

"When he was 11 years old, he move to Wahiawa on the island of Oahu. Here, out on the North Shore, he began his love affair for the culture of Hawaii and the public school system for Hawaii. He went to Leilehua High School. In fact, he was a classmate of the Bunda family. In fact, I believe that some of the Senate President's brothers went to school with Shelton Jim On. Shelton then went on to the University of Hawaii and he continued this rise from the plantation, from the local boy, from the little Maui boy, to reach out and become the best that he could possibly be, graduating with high honors – high honors – from the university. That wasn't enough, then he went on to get a law degree, to pass the CPA exam, which is extremely, extremely hard. But more than that, this was a man who wanted to be a part of Hawaii.

"This son of two public school teachers, this young local boy from the island of Maui, he met a young lady by the name of Portia and he made that lady his wife and they had two children, Shelby and Spencer, and he loves, he loves those children so much. And he loves the children of Hawaii. Does this person sound like anyone that you know? Does this person sound like, perhaps, you? Does this person sound like someone who has reached up and tried to do the best that they possibly can for themselves, for their families, and for the State of Hawaii?

"Consider, colleagues, as you make your vote, consider what you are voting on. I think, as you look at this nominee, that you should consider yourselves in his place, consider your love for the islands, your love for the University of Hawaii, your love for your family . . . consider that. Consider the person, consider Shelton Jim On who will do a fantastic job representing you and your family on the University of Hawaii Board of Regents.

"Thank you very much, Mr. President."

Senator Hooser rose in opposition to the nomination and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to the motion.

"I'd like to preface my remarks to say that I respect and honor the statements made by my Senate colleagues preceding me. I truly do and know that their testimony is heartfelt and sincere. I believe and I was raised to think and to know that good people, good, honest people of high integrity and high morals can look at the same set of facts, the same situation, the same series of events, and come to different conclusions. And that's what we have here, in my opinion, and I appreciate the professionalism of the debate and the tone of the conversation and mutual respect.

"As a member of the Education Committee who voted with the Majority not to recommend advise and consent, I feel compelled to speak on this issue.

"On Tuesday, April 22, at 3:00 p.m., just a few days ago, the Senate Committee on Education held a public hearing to review the nominations of six individuals to the University of Hawaii Board of Regents. In my opinion, this is, if not the most important nomination that I will be voting on and reviewing, certainly one of the most. It's a very large $700 million organization. It's perhaps the most important institution to our state and to our future, to our education.

“At the end of that day, after hearing all the testimony, listening to the questions and answers provided by a wide variety of people on topics and issues related to the University of Hawaii, in speaking directly with the nominees, at the end of that day when all the information was combined and filtered through my brain, my heart, and my conscience, at the end of that day I found myself unable to support the nomination of two nominees. Since that time, I’ve had individual meetings with both nominees and have spoken with numerous individuals, some who have expressed support and some who have not.

“You know, speaking and voting in opposition to nominees is one of the most difficult things that we as Legislators have to do. Issues, oftentimes, aren’t personal, but here we have two individuals, try as we may, and the arguments tend to be interpreted as personal. And it’s uncomfortable and it’s difficult, but I will not shirk my responsibility and vote in a manner contrary to what I sincerely believe is in the best interest of the people of this state simply because it’s a difficult and uncomfortable vote.

“The day following the original public hearing, the Chairman of our Education Committee informed the administration and the public that the public hearing had not gone well and that the inclination of the Committee members was not to confirm, and the administration was encouraged to withdraw that nomination. Unfortunately, the administration chose not to take this action, and so we are here today on the Floor engaging in what could become contentious and ugly debate over the issue. Thankfully, so far it has not become ugly.

“The situation presents an uncomfortable no-win dilemma for myself and many of us here. For those of us unwilling to support the appointments, we need to defend our decision. It means we must publicly criticize, at the minimum, the ability and the commitment of these people. If we choose to stay silent on our reason and defer the possibility of adding further insult to injury, we will get accused, as has already been done, of the action being a purely partisan effort orchestrated against our Governor. In effect, the better I present my argument, the harder it is on the people. And that’s a hard thing to do and I choose not to do that, though I need to do it to a point.

“Mr. President and colleagues, members of the public, regent nominees, for what it’s worth, in my opinion based on my personal experience with this issue as it’s developed over the past few days, this simply is not a partisan issue intended to embarrass or offend the Governor. The honest truth of the matter, Mr. President, is that on April 23 at the end of the nominees public hearing, after hearing all the testimony, after listening to the questions and answers provided on a wide range of topics, after speaking directly with the nominees, at the end of that day, a majority of the Committee members – a majority of the Committee members – left that room all with the same thought and they’ve come to the same conclusion. And that conclusion was that they were unable to support these nominations. I see that hearing as I would see a job interview. And for whatever reason, in my opinion, the applicants, the nominees, flunked the job interview for whatever reason.

“I’m not here at all one little bit to question their integrity, to question their character, or to question their ability and success in their own lines of work and their own professions. I’m here to say that after that meeting and after discussing the issues personally with these individuals, I do not have the confidence that I need to appoint to this very important position.

“It’s been argued that we need a compelling argument to vote against them. I need a compelling argument to vote in support and the nominees, for whatever reason, were unsuccessful. I think anyone who attended that meeting, anyone who attended that meeting and is honest with themselves will say that there was a problem. That meeting did not go well and subsequent meetings did not reassure me any further.

“There is no conspiracy. I was there. I was there and I was very disappointed. Anyone who was there, again in my opinion, would acknowledge that there was some serious problems. I’m not questioning the integrity of the candidates. I certainly am not questioning the character nor, again, the success in their chosen fields of work. However, Mr. President, I do question their judgment, and a question of judgment leaves inevitably to a question about their ability and qualifications.

“Essentially, yes, the interview went badly. Questions were not answered. Some of them there was apparent lack of preparedness. It just did not go well. Underlying this was an issue mentioned earlier about politics and the political question in the committee report. That comment in the committee report is attributed to me, and I take full responsibility for that. I’m the one that raised those comments. I don’t believe any other Senator in this room raised that at the meeting.

“I want to say that ten years ago, I came over to the Senate and met with the late Senator Matsuura and talked to him about cronyism in the Democratic Party. I talked to him about his efforts fighting and investigating that. And as a result of those discussions, I became active in government and politics. It’s a reality of the business that we’re in, and underlying the bad interviews, underlying the bad interviews is a thread of political . . . it’s a perception, Mr. President, of political insiders. After all, four of the six nominees had direct political connections to the Governor. Three are clearly high-powered, campaign, big-money fund raisers, some of whose spouses are also appointed to high and powerful positions in this government.

“I think we have to deal with perceptions. Sure, maybe it happens a lot. It doesn’t question their integrity. It doesn’t question their qualifications, but I think it’s important to the people of this state that we go out of our way to avoid perceptions that are being presented here. And that was my concern. I expressed that concern. My vote is not based totally on this but this is part of the package. There is no question about it.

“There’s talk of a new beginning, and I said at the Committee hearing that I believe in that stuff. I believe that we should not be doing this. We should be going out of our way to find good and qualified people who are out there in the community to fill these positions, and those people are out there. Again, it’s a question of perception.

“I believe that we should not reward our friends and punish our enemies. I truly believe that. Again, perceptions led me to not be comfortable with this. Looking at the totality of the issue, looking at the interview process, looking at my own personal concerns and I say these are my concerns, I did not feel comfortable voting for this.

“In closing, I’d like to say, a couple hours ago . . . all day long the last few days, people have been clearly lobbying or trying to educate or trying to convince us one way or the other how to vote on these issues. A few hours ago I received a call from a senior policy advisor of the Governor who spoke to me at length trying to convince me to change my mind. I honor and respect that and it’s great. However, when it became clear that I wasn’t agreeing readily to the arguments presented, the conversation turned to this partisan political accusation that this is why we’re doing this. And I told this individual, I said are you telling me that you believe I’m voting this way for the only reason to embarrass the Governor? And the answer was yes.

And I was insulted then; I'm insulted now – my intelligence and my integrity. It's downright insulting and it makes me angry. That is not the reason. I vote my heart and my conscience, and no one tells me how to vote.

“Furthermore, at the end of that conversation, it was made clear to me that if I voted in the wrong way, if I voted the way I'm going to vote tonight, there would be a price to pay. It was clearly stated to me that they would go to my district and go speak to rotary clubs and lions clubs and chambers of commerce and tell them about my vote and there would be a price to pay. I do not take well to political threats, intimidation, or bullying. I'll give everybody a pointer here, if you want to convince me of your point of view, I suggest an honorable and professional mutual respect – don't try to push me.

“Thank you.”

Senator Slom rose to speak in support of the nominee and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in strong support of the nominee, Shelton Jim On.

“While I'm not on the Education Committee, I was on the Committee for four years. I am, however, a graduate, a proud graduate of the University of Hawaii, and I've managed to keep active with the University of Hawaii, its events and activities, for many decades now, and I'm very concerned about what direction this discussion has taken and what's happened in the last couple of days.

“When the last speaker says that everyone left the room with the same feeling, the speaker is wrong and he knows he's wrong. If everybody had left the room with the same feeling, we wouldn't be having this long debate tonight.

“The question was asked, why didn't the Governor withdraw the nominations or why didn't the nominees just withdraw themselves? The answer is – why should they. They have nothing to withdraw from. The question has been asked, what is the basis for denial of these candidates? And those in opposition to them have said it's not their character; it's not their integrity; it's not their experience; it's not their background; it's not their success – then what is it? And now we've just heard about supposed and alleged political threats. Well, this is a political body and decisions are made politically in this body.

“In the six years that I have served in this State Senate, I have had the opportunity to review those candidates who had been nominated for various offices by the former Governor, and I can tell you with absolute honesty and certainty – and those of you that have been here that period of time or longer know it's true – many of them had far fewer qualifications and experience than does Shelton Jim On. And yet they were passed. And I supported them because I believed that if this were the Governor's choice, and barring any negative reasons for those areas that were so clearly elucidated – integrity, character, experience, background, actions – barring any hard evidence to the contrary, my political decisions, my political opposition should not be important.

“There have been some very interesting statements that have been made in the last couple of days and this evening. For example, the issue of the famous report done by the legislative auditor – the woman who I probably respect more than any other individual in this state other than the Governor of this state – who was a classmate of mine at the University of Hawaii, every year we give lip service to the wonderful work that our state auditor does. We praise her. We do everything.

We say how wonderful these reports are and then we let them languish on the shelf cause we don't implement them, because in order to implement them, we'd have to make changes. In order to implement them, we would have to understand that there have been failures on individual's watches up till now. So, for somebody to say I can't vote for that individual because he wasn't familiar with that report is hypocritical.

“There's one individual in this Senate that's spoken tonight that I greatly respect. The position was enunciated first by the Education Chairman. He said that we need someone representing the neighbor islands, or the Big Island, specifically. And you heard the Minority Floor Leader describe the background of our nominee who was born on a neighbor island, who has neighbor island roots. But I respect the Senator from East Hawaii who has voted 'no' on every one of these nominations, because to him, it was a matter of principle that there should be someone from the neighbor islands. He felt that they weren't recognized and he voted 'no' on very one of them. That was not personal; that was not political.

“So one must then ask, Why Shelton Jim On? Why was Shelton Jim On singled out, if in fact the Committee, the Education Committee, were unanimous – and they were not, the vote was four to three – if the Committee were unanimous and that were a major problem of not having neighbor island representation, then they should have turned down all of the nominees.

“And then there was the issue raised about the West Oahu campus, and yet we know that there were a number of nominees who either were not asked that question or whose answer was already known, that they do not support the construction and start of an additional campus until we accept our responsibility and take care of our main campuses at Manoa and Hilo . . . not that we don't like West Oahu, but that's a business-like and fiscally responsible position to take.

“And then the question comes up and it's written in both reports, the committee reports, that several of the committee members questioned whether or not the nominee can exercise judgment and make decisions independent of political affiliation. I don't remember hearing that question asked specifically to the nominees, and I don't remember the nominees saying, 'No, gee I really can't. I'm so beholden to the political situation that I won't be able to exercise independent judgment.' And if we look at the background of these two individuals, and particularly Mr. Jim On, over 25 years we see an independence of judgment. We see that from his peers. We see it from people in the community.

“Now maybe he is not a household name like certain other individuals. I recall at the beginning of this Session, certain Legislators had problems because the nominees that had come forth from a very elaborate process from the Governor, where she got so many people in this community involved and so many people came forward to volunteer, the problem was that the nominees were not household names. They weren't the sons of, the fathers of, the brothers of, or the old recycled politicians that we normally have had here filling all of the vacancies. These were new people with new ideas and new visions. And yes, people can look at a situation or an individual and come up with a different idea, and there's nothing wrong with that at all. But maybe some of the things that have been said tonight reflect more on the speakers and their inadequacies and their lack of judgment, because it is our responsibility as Senators to go that extra mile and find out if we're going to turn somebody down, we better have a good reason for doing it.

“And, oh yes, this idea about I guess some people's feelings are hurt because they didn't have personal visitations from the nominees. We have been rushing this process in the last couple of weeks trying to get nominees appointed. I, for one, was not contacted by the nominee who has now been confirmed as the Associate Justice of the Supreme Court and I know several of my other colleagues were not contacted either, and he is a very prominent, very visible, very well known member of the Majority Party. But that didn't stop me from supporting him because of his experience, and his background, and his integrity, and his character. It didn't stop the Minority Leader from representing our support for this gentleman, because he's qualified, and yet what we're seeing tonight is character assassination.

"What we're seeing is people trying to scramble to find reasons to turn down perfectly qualified individuals who the Governor – the same Governor that appointed that Associate Justice, the same Governor that appointed 16 cabinet level people that were unanimously approved here, that same Governor through that same process of community involvement supports and has faith and confidence in these individuals. And now, all of a sudden, we're questioning her judgment? Can we be selective about it? Can we talk about politics? If we want to talk about politics, particularly at my alma mater at the University of Hawaii, let's go to the top. Let's go to the president. If we want to talk politics and political affiliation, let's go to the president. But oh, wait a minute, we don't confirm the president of the University of Hawaii.

"And if we want to talk about a $700 million institution, which we should because the auditor's reports and other reports have been very critical about financial questions and inaccuracies at the University of Hawaii, one would think one would demand that we would have independent individuals particularly trained in law, in finance, in business. And to say that this individual does not have a commitment to the university or to the community, who are we trying to fool here? It's a commitment to volunteer to serve and to go through this process. That's why so many people don't want to do it. They're not doing it for the high salaries; they're not doing it for the prestige. They're doing it for the public service. Shelton Jim On has shown his commitment to public service over more than a quarter of a decade, most recently serving on the reapportionment commission.

"No one has had any problems up to this point, so one must ask why this individual? Why these two individuals? You don't like their vision, then we should have allowances for different visions. You have concerns, then bring those concerns here and let's put them on the table, not just Felix. If we're talking about a job interview, those of us that hire people regularly know that oftentimes people don't answer the question the way you would like it to be answered, but you go beyond that. That's your responsibility as an employer; that's our responsibility as Senators. Some people are trying to duck their responsibilities.

"So I ask again, What is the basis for denial for these individuals? I can't find any. Nothing has been put on the record. As has been said, there was no negative testimony, only one scurrilous e-mail, which everybody says doesn't make a difference, but they can't give us anything that does make a difference. And again, that's our responsibility.

"The university is a treasure, but the university has been in trouble. The university needs independent judgment, and these candidates have not been proven to lack that judgment, that experience, that passion, that commitment, and for us to say otherwise is hypocritical.

"So I urge my colleagues to think about all of these things and put them in proper perspective, especially considering confirmations that have already been made tonight, and to vote in favor of these qualified gentlemen.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Sakamoto rose to speak in opposition as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to the motion.

"Mr. President, first, there were some remarks made that are perhaps sincere on the part of the people making them, but let me, at least for the record, correct some of the misperceptions or perhaps improve the communication on some issues.

"I think people are dragging and crying and saying no negative testimony, etc. In our humanness, Mr. President, it's not about a public place to really bring out a person's fault. And I've said that and it was reported in the paper accurately that I did not want to list the problems that were there, and I don't want to. And I'm afraid if this debate goes on, someone will indeed read some of the things that have been said or get into things that are personally hurtful, and I don't want to go there.

"On the next point about some political concerns raised, I think the good Senator from Enchanted Lakes did raise those concerns as well because it is, as the Senator from Kauai said, a problem of perception. It isn't one party or the other. I think it's concerns that are valid, and I think the good Senator raised the issue because it needed to be raised. I think the candidates answered that particular question to say no, we wouldn't be this or that. And one candidate, not this particular one, said in fact, 'I have opposed the Governor on issues, and that's how I intend to act as a regent.' And that candidate has already been confirmed. So, on that issue, this is not that. And yes, it was part of the discussion by both sides here, Mr. President.

"On another issue, Mr. President, tireless, energetic, works hard, diligent, competent – I have people like that working for me, Mr. President, and indeed they do pound, and they're tireless, and they're energetic, and they're sincere, and they do a good job. But I wouldn't recommend them, based on those qualities, to be one of the wise men and women on the Board of Regents.

"Some of the accusations are, 'are we accusing these people that are on the Board of Regents to have poor qualities?' We're not talking about energy. We're talking about – do these candidates, in their job interview, rise to that point. And perhaps in golf, Mr. President, maybe your good Senator from Waipahu will say, 'Well, give me a mulligan; let me try again.' And I think in fact that was allowable in this case. We deferred the vote and people were allowed to advance the ball, obviously not by kicking it forward by attempting to win the day with second or third chances perhaps. And perhaps they've won the day with some members, and I think it's to their credit that they attempted to win the day on their behalf.

"But certainly for me, Mr. President, there are misstatements, not made on this floor today, but certainly in the paper with the previous Governor – one saying, gee, the Governor appointed Charlie Toguchi to be the superintendent of education. Will this Governor appoint the superintendent of education? I think not. I think that's the duty of the board of education. So it's easy to make statements, but I'd like to at least correct, sometimes, the misstatements out there, because unaddressed, people perceive them to be true.

"Normally in this process, we don't have a whole lot of discussion like this, although we've had with Ms. Bronster and several others prior, just as the Governor has on other appointments, gracefully decided let's take another option than this option we have here. And I've asked her, through her staff and just before this floor, to try and short circuit this. I informed the nominees that at least in my perception, it was not going in their favor, and they have an opportunity, but here we are, Mr. President.

"I don't think it's fair to accuse those who speak against, perhaps, our inadequacies. I think this isn't about just hard work. These positions are sort of like, well, will you be on the board of the Bank of Hawaii or on the board of a major corporation, and that's not taken lightly. In fact, this corporation, this university is very important.

"A comment was made about the auditor's report. There's a bill before this very Legislature, and Mr. President, I'm not clear if we've done it yet, but the goal was to address the auditor's report and the UH Foundation to request more reporting to allow the auditor to indeed get better access to their records. There are times, perhaps, when we do not take action, as the Senator from Hawaii Kai has pointed out, but there are times when we do. It's not all this, all that, never this, never that. Many times it's things are drawn to the extreme.

"Mr. President, at least for me, after the hearing, especially the proceedings asking for forthright answers to questions and it didn't seem to be coming, that wouldn't be a person that I would like to be on the board of my Lion's Club, on the board at the Boy Scouts, at the board that I would be working with at some other level. Perhaps he would be competent on the board at the CPAs, at the board with the legal society, perhaps, but I'm not trying to malign him. I'm just saying that was the way I looked at this particular candidate. Certainly, the Board of Regents is a very major board, and perhaps the standards are higher for me than it may be of others, but I do have high standards in this regard. Perhaps the independent thinker runs contrary to my thinking. I think they need to be a smart person but a 'work together' person, because it's very important for us to work in harmony in this State.

"And there may be other remarks, Mr. President, but let me not belabor the point. Thank you."

Senator Inouye rose to speak against the nominee and said:

"Mr. President, I speak in opposition to the motion.

"Mr. President, like my colleague from the second district of Puna and Ka'u, I am disappointed as well that the Governor has not appointed a person from East Hawaii. I have raised this issue to the Education Chair, expressing my disappointment of a void in my district. Without the assistance from this and previous Legislatures, UH Hilo would not be the most popular small university in our country, its student population ever increasing annually, popular with students from many other countries. They love our small town community. I have asked Mr. Randy Roth if the Governor will consider appointing a regent for East Hawaii. He said he will relay the message to the Governor and she could consider one in the future.

"Mr. President, UH Hilo has come a long way from being a stepchild to Manoa and I will not allow an absence of representation from East Hawaii on the Board of Regents. I have no personal objections to the capabilities of the nominees.

"My predecessors from my island have worked long and hard to make UH Hilo what it is today. I made a commitment to continue their efforts when I ran for office for the Senate in 1998. Mr. President, I have no choice, I will vote 'no' on this measure, as well as Gov. Msg. No. 278.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Kim rose in opposition and stated:

"Mr. President, I also rise in opposition to the nomination.

"Mr. President, our good Senator from Kauai had many words and articulated many of the things that I also agree with and feel that he spoke very well about. In addition to those things, I feel that I need to speak to this nomination.

"Mr. President, not often do non-committee members of a committee get to attend another committee's hearings, especially in confirmation hearings. We are all in other meetings and hearings, and so, many times when we're not able to be in these confirmation hearings, we rely on the nominees to come and meet with us so we have an opportunity that when we reach the floor we can vote with some knowledge. Many times when we're unable to do that, we do in fact follow the lead and the recommendation of the Committee.

"In this case, Mr. President, I did make it a point to stop into the Education hearing for the confirmation, and I did so for a couple of reasons. The first reason was because I did have the opportunity to speak with one nominee. One nominee in fact did call and ask for an appointment and I was very pleased to be able to meet with that nominee. Kitty Lagaretta met with me in my office and I was very impressed with her. I had heard many things. I had heard that she was a political appointee and I had heard that there were some concerns about her, and so I took that opportunity to get to know Kitty. I was impressed with her straightforwardness, with her opinions, with her knowledge. She had obviously done her homework. She had read the minutes, very much like I had read all of the minutes from the HTA so I could relate to that. She had done the homework like I do my homework, and I certainly related to her and to her appointment. So I did attend the meeting because I wanted to observe her confirmation.

"Since none of the other five, none of them did call my office and ask to meet with me, I also attended because I wanted an opportunity to hear what these nominees had to say for this very important position with the Board of Regents. As you know, I have not always agreed with some of the things that have happened at the University of Hawaii. I've questioned our president in length and have not often agreed with some of the direction that they were taking. So I believe it is important that our regents are knowledgeable, willing to speak up, willing to ask questions, willing to do their homework, and to oftentimes have to ask and probe and even grill to get the information that we need.

"Mr. President, six appointees to the Board of Regents, six out of twelve – that's a huge number. That is half of the Board of Regents. This group of six, collectively as a group, can certainly change the direction and policies of the university. So it is very important, not individually, necessarily, but collectively as a group would certainly make a change. I'm not here today to say whether or not that change or any change should occur. That is something that the board collectively will decide.

"Mr. President, this is not partisan for me. This is not personal for me, although it's been said and insinuated. And I certainly take issue when I receive a copy of an e-mail from, apparently, the Republican Party (because it says on the bottom, paid for by the Hawaii Republican Party), when they state in this e-mail that the 'Democrats are ready to vote them down in a pure partisan effort. They do not want to see the Governor succeed and are willing to sacrifice good people to sabotage her efforts.' I certainly take issue to receiving this kind of e-mail that was sent, I believe, to a large number of people of the Republican Party, with our phone numbers.

"I have supported every nominee that the Governor has sent down prior to now. And it's not easy, as some of my colleagues have said, to stand up and speak in opposition. And I have supported four of the other regents that have been sent down. So, to state because you may not agree with one or two or a few that all of a sudden you're partisan, all of a sudden it's political, and all of a sudden it's personal.

"Mr. President, it was the answers and the way Mr. Jim On responded to my particular questions that prompted me to ask even more questions. It was the fact that Mr. Jim On would not even state an opinion when I challenged him and told him that this was not a court of law, I was not going to hold him to an opinion, and yes, you can change your mind once you get on to the regents, once you speak to the other colleagues, once you speak to the administration. I just want to get an insight of the individual, the values.

"Mr. President, I was not so interested in even knowing whether or not Mr. Jim On agreed with any of my positions. It was not important whether he was for or against something. I just wanted to get from him a sense, a sense of where he would be on issues at the university, what kind of values you hold, his ethics. And many times, it is from these questions that we are able to arrive at how we feel on their philosophies, their backgrounds, their beliefs.

"I also agree, Mr. President, that there needs to be adequate neighbor island representation. I believe we need to have a broad representation of different individuals, not just on this board but all of our boards and commissions. But the bottom line is that the public confirmation hearing, members, the only time, as you know, that some of us have the opportunity, and also for the public, to judge these nominees.

"And yes, Mr. President, after the hearing, the next day, because of the news reports in the paper, I did receive an e-mail. And based on what was said today, you can know why the individual would not want to come forward and say their name when it's in the negative. I believe there was a conversation in the Governor's Office where we talked about fear. The public may have a fear to come before us and disagree with us, a fear that people within their own industry do not want to speak out and say anything negative for fear that they're going to have retribution. And certainly this individual told me that there may be some retribution, but because this individual felt very strongly, when I finally was able to reach him today, he said he would stand by his word; he would stand by his letter; and that I could certainly reveal his name.

"I did not want to release the letter or the e-mail, Mr. President, because it was negative. I did not want to circulate it, but I was pushed to do that on the Floor last night. This individual is an attorney who I believe is very reputable. I have worked with this individual when I was on the City Council with the Natatorium issue. His name is Jim Bickerton. Both his parents, he tells me, are faculty members of the University of Hawaii, and he himself is a University of Hawaii graduate and he felt very strongly about his statements. I respect what he said. Did I use that as my sole reason? No, I believe that my decision and my feelings about this nominee was actually arrived upon at the day of the confirmation hearing. This e-mail only confirmed some of the things that I might have suspected.

"We often get testimony, e-mails, phone calls from different individuals. Each of us holds different people that we know, trust, believe in and their opinions in different degrees.

"In addition, Mr. President, I also received several phone calls. One phone call in particular, the individual agreed that I may also say his name on the Floor tonight and it is a nonpartisan. This individual happens to be a Republican. He said he also helped out in the headquarters of Governor Lingle. He had worked with Mr. Jim On, and he had shared with me and said many of the things that was in Mr. Bickerton's e-mail. When that phone call came in, it just so happened that in the middle of that conversation, the Education Chair came into my office, so I asked if I could put him on the speaker box and he did in fact say I could. So the Education Chair got to hear the statements of this individual. I have not met this individual before. His name is Mr. Jim Marn from the McCully Associates, and he, too, felt that there would be retribution, but he felt very strongly and said that I could say his name.

"I did not want to do this, Mr. President. In fact, as I sat here contemplating what I was going to say, I actually crossed off that part and said perhaps I would not raise these names. But of course my colleagues across the way talked about scurrilous e-mails and these kinds of things only to emphasize why people do not want to come forward and have their names said out in public. But I respect these two individuals, despite what they might have to face tomorrow.

"Let me again reiterate, Mr. President, that these two testimonies in itself did not make up my mind. It only served to confirm my first impression on which I had based my decision.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Taniguchi rose to speak in favor of the nominee and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this nomination.

"Mr. President, I went to college with Shelton Jim On. I know his family. His children and my children participated in youth sports in Manoa. He has always been courteous and civil to me. And because he lives in Manoa, I believe he will play a unique role. I believe he will be an advocate for the surrounding community. I believe that as a regent, he will look at the impact that the university decisions have on the surrounding communities of Manoa, McCully, and Moiliili, and he'll take that into consideration when he makes his decisions.

"That is why I will be supporting Mr. Jim On's nomination."

Senator Kawamoto rose to speak in opposition as follows:

"Mr. President, what I'm about to say will be difficult. I rise in opposition to the motion and to try to debate with my classmate and colleague who was the captain of the debate team of our university.

"I'd like to thank the Senator from Waimanalo if he was mentioning me as the stalwart Senator. (Laughter.)

"Mr. President, to me this is a nonpartisan issue. Thus far, I have been very impressed with the Governor's nominees. I was very fortunate to be able to confirm General Lee, Mr. Haraga, and Mr. Saito – outstanding individuals as we have seen them work throughout the Session. I've always mentioned, I even mentioned to the Governor, that I was totally impressed with the background and active research that they've done of all their nominees. In fact, we have confirmed over 130 governmental nominees to serve as directors, commissioners, and board members.

"However, these two nominees that are up next, Gov. Msg. No. 275 and Gov. Msg. No. 278, maybe it was unfortunate but I was able to sit in on four of the nominees as they testified. All four I've asked the question about the University at West Oahu and Mr. Bender said only about maybe not more than 12 words about the University at West Oahu. Mr. Trent said maybe less because he was coerced by my colleague and friend, the Senator from Maui, trying to compete.

"But the reason why I'm so passionate about West Oahu is because I've spent so much time advocating for West Oahu. I spent 30 years advocating for West Oahu. I started with them in 1970 when I first came back from leave with the military. I also supported that activity because we told them at that time that this area is going to be the fastest growing area in this State, and it has come to fruition. We have over 300,000 people from Kahuku, to Pearl City, to Waianae, to Aiea, which will be all probably serving the West Oahu campus. We have 81,000 students going to school there. We have seven high school feeder schools that have over 2,000 students right now. And to deprive these students and future students this opportunity for higher education is indeed my job as I represent them, I feel.

"The questions and answers that were asked of these two nominees, the answers were the same answers when I questioned nominees and directors 25 years ago. This body cannot take another 25 years of being a Senator. This body can push as far as I can to make this happen, and I will.

"Maybe this will be a message to the University of Hawaii that we think it is very important. We think a commitment, as far as the University at West Oahu, is of the highest priority. And like the paper said, and I believe the Governor when she said that it would be irresponsible of Mr. Jim On to say he supported West Oahu just to please myself. I believe the Governor is right. He shouldn't say it just to please me, but he should say it to be committed to the students and all the students of this State. And to have the fastest growing area being erected for a campus that has been on the books for so long, it's been on the books since 1965. It's been in the books five governors ago.

"So Mr. President, it is important. It is important not to me, but to the students, the people in the area of West Oahu, North Shore, Central Oahu, and the Leeward Coast. So Mr. President, I will be voting 'no' on both of the nominees that are up tonight.

"Thank you."

Senator Trimble rose to speak in favor of the nomination as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in favor of the nominee.

"As long as we're talking about not the regents but the University of Hawaii, and I am kind of curious why that keeps coming up, why is it that this body doesn't hold those who make decisions accountable? If we looked at the amount of money that HCDA squandered or the University of Hawaii squandered to get the medical school going in Kakaako, we could have paid for many of the social programs that we've spent so much time looking to find money for.

"The Legislature committed, was it tobacco money for the medical school, and this Legislature was promised by no less a person than the president of the University of Hawaii that he would match that money, that he would raise $150 million. And I was impressed when I read that in the newspaper. And I somewhere had the sense that construction of the medical school was not going to start until that $150 million was on the books. But somehow that didn't happen and once we started down that course, we're not going to see West Oahu College for quite a few years to come, and it's not the current Governor's fault.

"You know, my brother once gave me some advice many years ago. He said, before you take a job, always have a good exit strategy. And when the president of the University of Hawaii came out, was it what, ten days before the election and endorsed the candidate, the thought that immediately went through my mind was that he was exercising that exit strategy.

"But what we are here to talk about tonight isn't what has happened in the past. It isn't that members of this body did not oppose nominations for the Board of Regents in the past. Before I entered politics, I spent 27, 28, 29 years working for the State of Hawaii in various capacities. I didn't think about politics. I just tried to be the best civil servant that I could. And part of the criticism that was levied tonight about the number of candidates that have a particular party affiliation, well, in one case it's my fault because when I decided to enter politics, and it happened to be in a different party than the Majority here, I went around and started recruiting people, and one of the people that was nominated tonight, I got to fill out a party card about a year ago. That doesn't seem to me to indicate that he was a political insider or had been in the party for a long period of time. And I don't understand why politics keeps coming up.

"I've met regents before. I've met college presidents before. When I look at Shelton Jim On, I look at an individual that would be a credit to the University of Hawaii. And for that reason, I will be voting 'yes' for his nomination as regent.

"Thank you."

Senator Hogue rose and said:

"May we get a Roll Call vote, please."

At 10:13 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 10:17 o'clock p.m.

Senator English rose and said:

"Mr. President, I'd like to insert comments into the record, please, in opposition."

The Chair having so ordered, Senator English's remarks read as follows:

"Mr. President, I am inserting into this Journal a copy of an e-mail sent-out by the chairman of the Republican Party of Hawaii, Brennon Morioka, to his party members regarding the confirmation of Mr. Jim On to the Board of Regents of the University of Hawaii. I want this on the record to highlight the misinformation and pure untruth that was circulated on this nomination by his own political party.

"Mr. Morioka had no way to know my intentions on this vote. I did not decide on how to vote on this nomination, and, until I received this e-mail, was prepared to vote in favor of Mr. Jim On's nomination.

"However, after seeing this email, I changed my vote from 'yes' to 'no' because I was outraged at the utter lack of integrity perpetuated in this e-mail. With the fabrication of fact and the twisting of reality, Mr. Jim On's own party set him up to fail. They created their own self-fulfilling prophecy.

"I therefore oppose this nomination, and vote 'no' on his confirmation.

Senator English's e-mail is identified as ATTACHMENT "I" to the Journal of this day.

At 10:17 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 10:18 o'clock p.m.

Senator Fukunaga requested her vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and, Roll Call vote having been requested, failed to carry on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 11. Noes, 14 (Aduja, Baker, Bunda, English, Espero, Hanabusa, Hooser, Inouye, Kanno, Kawamoto, Kim, Kokubun, Sakamoto, Tsutsui).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1652 (Gov. Msg. No. 278):

By unanimous consent, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1652 was received and placed on file.

Pursuant to Senate Rule 37(5), Senator Hemmings moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of EDWARD D. SULTAN to the Board of Regents of the University of Hawai'i, term to expire June 30, 2007, seconded by Senator Hogue.

Senator Hogue rose to speak in support of the nominee and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of this nominee.

"Mr. President, I'm deeply saddened by what occurred here just moments ago and that an eminently qualified nominee was turned down, and I'd hate to see the same thing happen here in the next few minutes. I'm very, very deeply saddened. We're talking about people here and I'm sorry, but you're just not thinking like good people.

"I respect what the Senator from Hawaii did. I think it's marvelous what he did, but what some of the others of you have done here is just . . . it's . . . I'm sorry, it sucks. It really does. And I don't know how you can look at yourself in the mirror."

The President interjected:

"Senator Hogue, I think you're out of order."

Senator Hogue responded:

"I apologize, Mr. President. I'm just telling you personally how I feel."

President Bunda stated:

"Please, Senator Hogue, keep to the subject."

"Nothing I probably say here will change any minds at all, but I do want to say that the next nominee is eminently qualified. What he has done . . . and I stand here and look you right in the eye and I say, you are a good man. Colleagues, that is a very good man right there.

"Do you know what he has done with a business in the last ten years? He has doubled that business. Isn't that the kind of person that we want to have on the Board of Regents of the University of Hawaii? I think that's exactly the kind of person that we want to have on the Board of Regents of the University of Hawaii because the University of Hawaii is a $700 million business. Don't we want someone like this nominee there to help us with those business decisions?"

"Look at this individual. He's a person, a very highly qualified person, a professional, a good, good man, and he deserves your support. I'm proud to stand here and say I support this man. I bow to you sir. I really, really respect you. I hope I can respect my colleagues after their vote.

"Thank you very much, Mr. President."

Senator Hemmings rose to speak in favor of the nomination and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this governor's message and the nomination of Edward D. Sultan.

"It's been a long debate, and in talking to this nomination I do wish to reflect on some of the comments made on the prior nominee, because I think they are relevant here.

"I stand here in disbelief that some people could stand up tonight and claim politics had nothing to do with this issue when it says just that in your Majority Party committee report. It's insulting that you would claim politics have nothing to do with this.

"People have stood up tonight and said that they're making their decision based on qualifications. We have not heard – other than, I will reiterate, a scurrilous personal attack on one individual – any logical reason why Mr. Jim On or Mr. Sultan are not qualified. In fact, I would submit, if we were being honest, we could probably say that these two individuals are the most qualified of the nominees tonight. In the case of Mr. Sultan, it could be said if success is the measure of any human's capabilities, then certainly he would qualify as one of the most worthy of the nominees.

"Things were said about the Governor making partisan nominations. How sad and how contradictory and how hypocritical those statements have been. This is the Governor who just appointed two prominent Democrats – one Democrat who's eminently qualified that was Senator Dan Inouye's hand-picked nominee for the Ninth Circuit Federal Court of Appeals. To imply or say, as has been said on this Floor tonight, that this Governor has made these nominations based on politics is indeed insulting.

"Someone on this Floor, I think without much thought, brought up the Bronster vote. And I would submit to you that the last time this Senate stooped into the gutter to make a political decision on a nomination was the Bronster vote. And the results speak for themselves.

"This has been a sad episode. It was a night that we could have risen to heights of greatness, and we have fallen. I hope that when this evening is finished, we can put this sad episode behind us. But I will promise you, I, for one, will not forget it.

"I support Mr. Sultan because he's qualified. Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Baker rose in support of the nominee as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of this nomination although I take great exception to some of the statements made by the two previous speakers.

"I support this nomination because I had an opportunity to meet with Mr. Sultan and believe that he has the requisite skill sets that will serve him well as a regent of the University of Hawaii. I was impressed with his business acumen and his commitment to the fact that he continues to keep a manufacturing business here in this state and doesn't take it offshore.

"I was impressed with his candor and with his interest in the university, and it is based on those qualifications that I'm supporting this nominee."

Senator Hooser rose to speak in opposition to the nominee and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition. I'll keep my comments brief. The comments I made earlier, in general, address both nominations.

"I do want to repeat one statement, though, that I think is important for all of us to remember and I believe in wholeheartedly – that is the statement that good people of good character can look at the same issues, the same events, the same people, and come to contrary conclusions. And I think that's okay. That's what makes the world go round. It doesn't mean, either parties' character, that they're lying or whatever, they come to different conclusions. And so I just want to preface my remarks with that.

"I also want to add, and repeat what I said earlier, that in the committee reports they refer to political questions. I believe I am the member who talked most about that subject, but I'd also like to repeat what another Senator had said, that the Minority Party also asked those questions, a member of the Minority on the Committee. Everyone shared concerns. It's a valid question to ask – does your political background affiliation's concerns affect your decision-making? Okay, that's a valid question. It's a valid point and it's valid to be in the committee report.

"I believe I also talked about some of the Governor's nominations, and I don't believe I said, in fact I'm sure I didn't say that the Governor made these nominations based on politics. I said the perception, which to me, personally, the perception was important, and the perception sends a message to the community and the perception is something that is real and a valid point. And I just want to reemphasize that my comments were based on the public's perception, which I think is important.

"Most of my comments stand as made earlier, and I just want to emphasize again that my vote does not question this man's goodness, nor his character, nor his abilities as a businessman. I wish him and his family and all the nominees well in the future.

"Thank you."

Senator Slom rose in support of the nomination and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise in strong support of the nominee.

"Many of my comments that I made previously for Mr. Jim On I think are applicable here, but I'm having a very difficult time, Mr. President. We hear talk that it's not political, that it's not personal, and yet this candidate, nothing again has come forward as to why he would not be qualified. Everybody salutes his success. They recognize how he has built a business, how he has worked with people, how he has contributed to this community, including the University of Hawaii.

"I think far too many people forget or are led to believe that it is the university that gets its support from the Legislature. Just like the public schools, it is not the Legislature that gives its support to education, it is the taxpayers of this State, including men and women business owners. They give their support in terms of taxes and earnings. They give their support in terms of jobs that they have created like Mr. Sultan. They give their support in terms of volunteering and the many things that they do where they neither seek nor are given credit publicly for what they do. And yet those people that know them, particularly in the business community, have a high regard and respect for what they do. They serve as a role model. They serve as the very best in our community because they don't just talk about things and they don't give away other people's money and vote other people's rights. They have to take the jerk themselves. They have to take the risk. They have to reach into their own pockets and do that.

"Such an individual is Edward Sultan. He's made many major contributions to this community over several decades, and many people know of that, but he's not the kind of person that would ask people to come forward and support him. And one would think that if this were not a frontal attack on the Governor, then one would look entirely on the individual and on his or her achievements or questions or failings. But we hear over and over again in coded language it really is the Governor's appointment, and so we'll disregard the individual, and disregard his contributions, and disregard his integrity and his character and his experience and his ability and his contributions, which people say are not in question. Of course they're not in question, they have not been questioned. No one questioned them. No one testified in opposition – not even a scurrilous e-mail this time. Yet, this body is prepared to vote this gentleman down as well.

"One has to wonder, if one talks about agendas, what the agenda really is. Is it the well being of the University of Hawaii? Because if it is, again I submit that what we really need are truly independent people independent of the inbred political structure, people who know how to make an honest dollar, who know how to create jobs, who know how to deal with all kinds of people, who know how to look at profit and loss sheets, who know how to deal with the problems that two regents found so overwhelming and disturbing that they resigned their positions and publicly said that the reasons were the financial disarray of the university.

"And now we have another candidate eminently qualified with experience who is willing to sacrifice and share his knowledge and his time and his energy with not only the University of Hawaii, but also the State and all of its people. And if we turn our backs on him, what are we really saying about change and improving the business climate and trying to welcome people and encourage those people that stand on their own, reach in their own pockets?

"A statement was made earlier by my colleague from Kalihī that my goodness, six out of the twelve regents are being proposed, and that can have profound changes. I would suggest that it's long overdue that we have profound changes. That's what the November election was all about – profound changes. We don't want business as usual; we don't want politics as usual. And if you turn down this individual, you want to talk about perceptions, then you will continue the perception that in Hawaii it is who you know rather than what you know that gets you success.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Sakamoto rose to speak against the nominee and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this candidate.

“Perhaps the Senator from Hawaii Kai would make an excellent regent. I think he’s perceptive in many of the things he’s saying about the university. He talked about the financial disarray. This candidate, who on his questionnaire, in response to the question. Have you reviewed the state audit report no. 03-04, Review of Selected University of Hawaii Non-General Funds and Accounts, and what are your comments if you have any? A very important question, as the Senator clearly points out. Answer: ‘I have not reviewed the report, but I plan to do so. It is my understanding that this report has identified deficiencies of certain management practices at the university. I expect that the administration is addressing these issues.’ Point, counterpoint, sir, this type of answer does not rise to the person we need; who’s going to deal with important issues such as raised by the Senator from Hawaii Kai?

“There are other answers that were insufficient. Perhaps it is because he’s such a successful businessman, maybe that’s what took his attention. Nobody’s maligning him in his businesses or his other activities, but the issue at hand was the importance of this position. The questionnaire was given out, and we expected good responses. Perhaps preparation, perhaps, perhaps, perhaps.

“How can the university attract and retain the best and brightest graduates for Hawaii, or should this even be part of the vision? ‘The university can attract the best and brightest graduates by hiring distinguished faculty who will develop strong academic programs.’ Not an incorrect statement, but that’s as far as it went. I would, in my estimation, hope that regents, perhaps, again yourself might be a good one, would say a lot more and would be able to indeed, quote, ‘job interview,’ indeed make the best impression, indeed, indeed, do better than this candidate.

“The point being you don’t have a second chance to make a good first impression. And unfortunately, the impression wasn’t to the standard of my expectation for the Board of Regents.”

Senator Slom rose in rebuttal and said:

“Mr. President, just a brief rebuttal and a thank you to the Education Chairman for his nomination of me for the regents position. (Laughter.) I will expect his full support committee vote.

“You know, we’re often asked down here why business people don’t come down here and challenge tax increases or mandate increases or changes in labor laws that affect them. I’ve had many of my colleagues say, well, if it’s so important to you business people, why don’t they show up? Why don’t they come down here? Why don’t they read this report? Why don’t they know how important we are? The answer is, because they’re running their business day to day with all of the barriers that we have put in front of them. That is their first responsibility, because if they don’t keep that business operating and operating profitably, then an awful lot of people don’t have employment, income, and discretionary choices.

“I, for one, would rather have someone that does that and puts that priority first and be honest enough to say no, I haven’t read that report but I will read that report. Let’s not embarrass ourselves and ask our members how many in this body have actually read that full report and understand it. Let’s not embarrass members in this body to ask how many read every single bill, resolution, and certificate that they affix their name to. Certainly it is conceivable that people would expect different answers or would think that someone would answer questions differently. That’s not the issue. The issue is, is this man qualified? Or conversely, are there things in his background or experience that are lacking that shows that he does not have independence of judgment, that he could not do a good job, that he doesn’t have the university at heart.

“Again, I go back to the point that if he wasn’t concerned about the university and he didn’t think that he could do a good job, and if he didn’t think that he could make the time, and if he didn’t think he would find a way of reading the reports and doing the things that we want him to do, then he wouldn’t have even submitted to this process. Thank God that he did, but shame on us if we turn him down.

“Thank you.”

Senator English rose to speak in opposition and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition.

“I’d like to insert comments into the Journal.”

The Chair having so ordered, Senator English’s remarks read as follows:

“Mr. President, as I did with the nomination of Shelton Jim On, I am inserting into this Journal a copy of an e-mail sent-out by the chairman of the Republican Party of Hawaii, Brennon Morioka, to his party supporters on this nomination.

“I had intended to vote ‘yes’ on this nomination, however, two events changed my position. The first is the fact that Mr. Sultan never bothered to meet with me. Since he did not avail himself of the opportunity to present himself to me, I felt that he would not be receptive to the people of Hawaii – the people he would be working for – and would therefore not represent their interest at the University of Hawaii. The second event occurred when I received a copy of this e-mail. Its blatant untruth and distortion of reality was simply offensive to decency.

“The fact of the matter is that we have provided our advice and consent to almost all of this Governor’s nominees – more than we did for the previous Governor. There is no way anyone could have known my intentions on this matter because I never told anyone. Thus, I am voting ‘no’ on the nomination of Mr. Sultan.”

Senator English’s e-mail is identified as ATTACHMENT “I” to the Journal of this day.

Senator Hogue rose and said:

“Roll Call vote, Mr. President.”

At 10:43 o’clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 10:49 o’clock p.m.

Senator Aduja rose in support and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of Gov. Msg. No. 278, Edward D. Sultan.

“Mr. President, I would like to offer my endorsement and confirmation of Mr. Sultan.

“Thank you.”

At 10:51 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

Subject: Urgent Request from Brennon Morioka

To all our Members and Supporters, I would like to ask you respond to an urgent plea from our Governor. Mr. Shelton Jim On and Mr. Ed Sultan are the Governor's nominees for the University of Hawaii Board of Regents and they are facing an uphill battle in the Democrat controlled Senate. These two men are solid community leaders and supporters of our Governor's agenda for our future. They were nominated to serve on the Board of Regents because of their qualifications and because they would serve our State and our University well. the people of Hawaii can only benefit from the service these two would provide. The Democrats are ready to vote them down in a purely partisan effort. They do not want to see the Governor succeed and are willing to sacrifice good people to sabotage her efforts. I would like to ask all of you to call your Senator or any of the ones below and voice your displeasure of their behavior and ask that they support the Governor and her nominees. They have no other reason to deny these people a position on the Board of Regents except for purely political motives.

Please call the following Senators who oppose the nominees:

Kalani English 586-7225
 Gary Hooser 586-6030
 Cal Kawamoto 586-6970
 Donna Kim 587-7200
 Norman Sakamoto 586-8585
 Shan Tsutsui 586-7344

These Senators are currently undecided. Please help them find in favor of the Shelton and Ed.

Melody Aduja 586-7330
 Rosalyn Baker 586-6070
 Robert Bunda 586-6090
 Willie Espero 586-6360
 Carol Fuknaga 586-6890
 Colleen Hanabusa 586-7793
 David Ige 586-6230
 Les Ihara 586-6250
 Lorraine Inouye 586-7335
 Brian Kanno 586-6830
 Russell Kokubun 586-6760
 Brian Taniguchi 586-6460

I urge you to call to help support our Governor.

ORDER OF THE DAY

FINAL READING

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 88 (S.B. No. 1462, H.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Kim moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 88 be adopted and S.B. No. 1462, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senator Kim then offered the following amendment (Floor Amendment No. 10) to S.B. No. 1462, H.D. 2, C.D. 1:

SECTION 1, Senate Bill No. 1462, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, is amended by amending Section 9 to read:

“SECTION 9. There is appropriated out of the tourism special fund the sum of $8,000,000, or so much thereof as may be necessary for fiscal year 2003-2004, for purposes stated in section 8 of this Act and to improve the operational efficiency of the Hawaii tourism authority; provided that the sum appropriated shall be in addition to sums appropriated out of the tourism special fund in the general appropriations Act or any other Act.

The sum appropriated shall be expended by the Hawaii tourism authority for the purposes of this part.”

Senator Kim moved that Floor Amendment No. 10 be adopted, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senator Kim noted:

“Mr. President, the floor amendment corrects the error that was inadvertently made when the conference draft of S.B. No. 1462 was prepared. On page 19, lines 13 to 14 of the C.D. 1, the appropriation to the HTA to respond to the adverse effects of the world conflicts, and etc., the intention was made to come out of the tourism special fund. Inadvertently, the general fund was placed instead.

“Also, on line 16 the reference for the use of the fund to Section 7 is an error. The proper reference is to Section 8.

“Thank you.”

The motion to adopt Floor Amendment No. 10 was put by the Chair and carried.

At 10:35 o'clock a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 10:36 o'clock a.m.

Senator Kim then moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 88 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Taniguchi and carried.

By unanimous consent, S.B. No. 1462, H.D. 2, C.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HAWAII TOURISM AUTHORITY,” was placed on the calendar for Final Reading on Thursday, May 1, 2003.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 89 (S.B. No. 44, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Kawamoto moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 89 be adopted and S.B. No. 44, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senator Trimble then offered the following amendment (Floor Amendment No. 11) to S.B. No. 44, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1:

SECTION 1. The language in Senate Bill No. 44, Senate Draft 2, House Draft 2, Conference Draft 1, is deleted and replaced with the following language to read as follows:

“SECTION 1. The September 11, 2001, terrorist attacks on the United States have severely impacted Hawaii's economy. Business experience catastrophic revenue losses as a result of decreases in the number of visitors to Hawaii. The nation has been engaged in a war against terrorism on a global scale, including the conflict with Iraq. The war on terrorism is expected to continue for some time. With the increased risk of further terrorist attacks around the world, the economic welfare of the State is further threatened.

Airport concessions depend in large part on passengers and visitors traveling through Hawaii's airports. Precipitous declines in the number of visitors to Hawaii can have immediate and drastic impact on these airport concessions. The purpose of this Act is to confer upon the governor certain powers to provide immediate relief to airport concessionaires during a period of economic emergency.

SECTION 2. Notwithstanding any law to the contrary, the governor may, in the event of an economic emergency, grant rent relief to some or all airport concession lessees in amounts and upon such terms and conditions as determined by the governor, in the governor's sole discretion. As part of the authority granted to the governor hereunder, the governor may, or may permit the department of transportation to: (1) negotiate changes to the airport concession leases with the lessees and modify the airport concession leases to implement the grant of relief and (2) waive, suspend, or defer any contract obligation owed to the State during the economic emergency period, upon such terms and conditions as the governor shall deem necessary to minimize losses that are attributable to the economic emergency.

SECTION 3. If deemed necessary by the governor to implement the grant of rent relief in section 2, the governor may suspend the effect of section 171-13 as it applies to airport concession leases that are terminated during the economic emergency period.

SECTION 4. An economic emergency is an event that satisfies the following conditions:

(1) the airport concession lessees at a state airport, collectively suffer a fifteen per cent reduction in gross receipts for a period of sixty (60) days or more, computed on their collective average monthly gross receipts for the eighteen (18) months just prior to the date from which the initial request for relief is received from an airport concession lessee or lessees at the state airport; and

(2) either of the following two conditions:

(a) the occurrence of an event that is sudden, extraordinary, and generates relatively immediate severe adverse economic impacts for the State of Hawaii such as a natural disaster, civil defense emergency (as determined by the governor pursuant to chapter 128, HRS), or acts of terrorism similar to the events of September 11, 2001; or

(b) the governor finds that from and after the date the initial airport concession lessee or lessees at a state airport request relief, there has been a significant decrease in airline passenger departures (hereinafter 'enplanements') from the state airport of twenty per cent or more for a period of sixty days or more, computed on that state airport's average monthly enplanements for the eighteen (18) months just prior to the date from which initial request for relief is received from an airport concession lessee or lessees at the state airport.

SECTION 5. The period of economic emergency shall remain in effect for only so long as the governor determines, in the governor's sole discretion, to be appropriate to grant the necessary rent relief to some or all of the airport concession leases.

SECTION 6. This Act shall take effect upon its approval."

Senator Trimble then moved that Floor Amendment No. 11 be adopted, seconded by Senator Hogue.

At 10:37 o'clock a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 11:02 o'clock a.m.

Senator Trimble rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, some of my colleagues think of me as Dr. No. I would like to change my image and become Dr. Yes.

"I think all of us have had a chance to read the floor amendment. I'm not loquacious; I'm not elegant, but what it does is instead of mandating, instead of invalidating contracts, it allows the Governor, and the Governor through her representatives, to negotiate. And this amendment meets the concerns of the attorney general with the previous bill 44.

"Since we've all had a chance to read it and review it, unfortunately most of you didn't do it on the Floor, I will ask for your support and conclude my remarks.

"Thank you."

Senator Kawamoto rose in opposition and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition of the amendment.

"Mr. President, these amendments were received by your Conference Committee on April 24 and we reviewed it and both Conference Committee Chairs and members felt that at this time we would go with the current S.B. No. 44.

"For example, in Section 2(a) there is no assurance that the reasonable levels of relief will be provided. Thus, a concession may not be able to afford the rents demanded. If the concessionaire cannot afford the rent due to the limited relief, it will then be forced to give up its performance bond and be barred from doing business with the State for five years as required under these present laws.

"In section b, Section 171-13 of the HRS, provides that you are barred from doing business with the State for five years if you default on your state contract. Under this proposed section of the bill, the Governor may terminate your contract but only suspend the provisions of the law. Plus, there is no guarantee that you will not be barred from doing business with the State for five years if your contract is terminated.

"Many questions were made about the 15 percent in Caucus. Again, this 15 percent is not something new. It's something that we have established and had precedence when we equated this after the 9/11 tragedy in 2001.

"So therefore, also in paragraph 3, it says that the Governor can provide relief in accordance with her soul discretion. It could be only for a 30-day period. After the bill becomes law, or perhaps not at all, still further it provides that the Governor does not have to grant relief to all concessionaires who may qualify for relief, but only through some airport concession leases. There is no assurance that everyone will be treated fairly since the Governor may only give some relief to some.

"Mr. President, I request a Roll Call vote."

The motion to adopt Floor Amendment No. 11 was put by the Chair and, Roll Call vote having been requested, failed to carry on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 11. Noes, 14 (Aduja, Baker, Bunda, Chun Oakland, Espero, Fukunaga, Ige, Inouye, Kanno, Kawamoto, Kokubun, Menor, Sakamoto, Taniguchi).

At 11:07 o'clock a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 11:08 o'clock a.m.

Senator Kawamoto rose to speak in favor of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in favor of this bill.

"Mr. President, this bill is all about fairness. This is all about providing the people that have provided the airports and the concessionaires and the airports the opportunity to run the airports as efficient as possible. It provided the opportunity where we can run the airports and receive our visitors in a timely and efficient manner.

"It's time for us to help those that have helped us for a long time, and this is what this bill is about. Thank you."

Senator Hogue rose and said:

"Mr. President, Roll Call vote."

At 11:09 o'clock a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 11:12 o'clock a.m.

Senator Kim rose in opposition and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in opposition to this bill.

"Mr. President, while I would like to support the concessionaires and I believe they need to have some help, I have a number of concerns with this bill. There seems to be a lot of pukas in it.

"The bill would allow any airport concessionaire to terminate their contract if there is 15 percent reduction in gross receipts during a 60-day period for a myriad of reasons including strikes, boycotts, labor disputes. I believe this sets a bad precedence for unions the reasons that they do strike is to give the employer economic problems so that they can come to some resolution. And I believe if we set this precedent, then we're saying that unions certainly, one, can terminate their contract should their receipts go below 15 percent.

"It also says they can walk from their contract for hostilities (I don't know what that means), acts of public enemy. So if their receipts drop 15 percent, they can get out of the contract for acts of public enemy. They can get out for actions of superior government authority. I'm not sure what that means, actions of superior government authority. Are we a superior government authority, this body? Also, for whether conditions, so if there happens to be a storm or something and their receipts drop, then they can walk from the contract, and when they walk from the contract, there is no penalty. They can bid again for the very same contract when they terminate the contract.

"I think, Mr. President, this has serious connotations, more than I think what was anticipated when the negotiations began for the relief for the concessionaires. And for these reasons, Mr. President, I will be voting 'no.'

"Thank you."

Senator English rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition.

"Like the previous speaker, Mr. President, I'm having a difficult time with the bill as it is because it does allow for an unfair set of circumstances. We didn't define what a 15 percent drop of revenue is, and what happens if a business, through bad management, loses 15 percent of its business? Under this bill, they can simply walk away and then come back and re-bid without any penalties.

"Now, I really believe that we should be fair to all businesses across the board and this sets up a very unfair business practice for concessionaires only. And if we're going to do this, I can predict that other businesses with contracts with the State of Hawaii will come and ask for the exact same type of consideration and they'll be right to do so because we granted it to one class of business.

"So, without the amendments, Mr. President, I cannot support this measure. It goes against value-based decision making as we talked about earlier, and I just cannot support it.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Kawamoto rose to speak in favor and said:

"Mr. President, we can 'what if' everything to death if we wanted to – what if this, what if that, what if this, what if that. What has set the precedence? Precedence is that 9/11 came and the business went down. How would you like to have a business where you control the people that come to your market? How would you like to have guards outside controlling that market? That's the reason why we asked for this bill.

"The small business people, you know, think about it. Think, if you had a business and you had guards and people coming out controlling your market and with recourse for yourself or someone else. It wasn't your fault that somebody attacked and the fact that we decided that we need security and we're going to control your market to 50 percent or less. The requirement is there. Yes, we can what if the thing to death, and have we done nothing. We haven't done anything, because of the fact that other forces control over 50 percent of the market. We set the precedent for assistance during 9/11, which continue to be a good precedence for small business.

"Thank you."

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"Unfortunately, I will continue to be known as Dr. No. The problem . . . I must . . . Since when is pestilence and war a new occurrence?

"What this bill does is essentially invalidate the meaning of the term contract when it comes to airport concessionaires – pure and simple. The contract no longer has any meaning. The businesses are no longer taking a risk. For this, I must vote 'no.'"

Senator Espero rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I’d like to rise in support of this measure.

“This bill is not a handout, Mr. President. It’s not a sweetheart deal to help certain individuals. A time happened where one of the greatest tragedies to our country occurred and many people and businesses were impacted. Here at the Legislature, part of our job is to help businesses, to help individuals, to help organizations that need assistance and at times need relief.

“The concessionaires have played a major role at our airports. I’m sure many of them have made money and have prospered, and at that time, our State has also prospered and we have benefited. But right now, they come to us asking for assistance. They’re asking us for some help in these hard difficult times because right now they are having problems. And we can turn our backs on these airport concessionaires who’ve been there for many, many years, decades for some of them.

“This is a bill that’s been negotiated many, many months. We discussed it last Session in many meetings and I’m not certain there is language here that says that they can get out of this for bad management. I don’t think that’s one of the issues that was mentioned earlier, but it is an opportunity for us to help stabilize the airport small businesses, and big business, for that matter. But this is a bill which will help the people. It will help all of the employees that are employed there. It will help get these people on their feet, and that’s what we are here to do.

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Sakamoto rose to speak in support of the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of the measure.

“It’s a sad day when we need to be here debating this measure. These businesses, or any others, did not have control of the events that occurred and which could have been resolved and should have been resolved. The ‘Governor may,’ but didn’t. The kind of amendment we voted down was that the ‘Governor may’ but didn’t. The ‘Governor should have’; she could have . . .

“Mr. President, many contracts do have a force majeure. Many contracts do have a provision for fairness by the bigger party, be it the landlord, be it the state, be it the county. Perhaps these contracts didn’t, and perhaps this isn’t the right measure. However, Mr. President, it’s out of frustration that this measure still exists on this Floor today.

“For me, I am in support of those who have been frustrated with trying to deal with an unfair situation thrust upon them. I’m voting in favor because of their frustration that said let this measure go forward in the frustration that we’d like the state to deal with us in a fair and more equitable way.”

Senator Hanabusa rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

“Mr. President, I agree with my colleague from Moanalua that yes, it is a sad day. It is a sad day when we do have a measure like this before us. It is also a sad day when we fail to look at exactly what this measure provides.

“The amendment, which I had supported, speaks to an emergency situation. We all looked at this in 2001 during the emergency situation and we passed appropriate legislation at that time. The question now is, what is before us and is this a measure that’s going to address that emergency situation that we want to assist the concessionaires with? And Mr. President, we assisted them in the past.

“Now, however, look at what we have. We have a situation like my good colleague to my left, the Senator from Kalihi Valley, has said that talks about other situations. Look at the reference to strikes, boycotts, and labor disputes. Mr. President, just by analogy, we have in our statutes 383-4, which talks about unemployment benefits in the event of a labor dispute and what is considered to be a substantial curtailment of a business operation. Let’s at least be consistent.

“Under that law and the case law that has developed in the Hawaii Supreme Court, a substantial curtailment does not occur unless there’s a 20 percent drop in a business. Mr. President, this gives it to you for 15 percent – 15 percent. And what is a labor dispute? It doesn’t only mean when you have labor unions, but that’s, of course, the easiest way of looking at it.

“When you look at the national labor relations acts, when you act in a concerted matter, meaning two people getting together and saying, hey, we’ve got some kind of a dispute here, that’s really all that you need. So you can claim a strike; you can claim a boycott; you can claim a labor dispute for a 15 percent reduction for the prior 60 days measured against a one-year period.

“Mr. President, when we look at whether businesses have to pay striking employees, we look to 20 percent and we do not simply say whether it’s 20 percent for the prior 60 days or the prior year. We look at a history because we’re looking at what the trends are. This bill doesn’t do it.

“At the very minimum, if we’re going to do this, understand the consequences. Understand the consequences of what it means. It means a lot of these people can lose their jobs. It means for ulterior motives, things can happen because this bill, as it now stands, is not well written.

“Think about who we’re trying to protect. Yes, we are concerned about the concessionaires, but we are just as much concerned about those employees who work for them. We do not want to have a situation where for 15 percent reduction for indicia that are not clear enough under this bill that we can, in essence, terminate operations, have them re-bid with no consequence. That is not what we want to do and set as a priority for this state.

“We have an obligation to look at the revenues. People enter contracts, and yes, unfortunate situations may arise, but this bill is not going to cure that.

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Hemmings rose to speak in favor of the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this legislation.

“Mr. President, there are members of your Minority Party that voted in favor of the amendment and will likewise be voting in favor of this legislation, and it bears explanation. It is indeed unfortunate that this particular problem has reached a point in the waning moments of this Legislative Session that we have to consider this relief. It is all our hope that something could have been done earlier to resolve this matter.

“We believe the most important thing that should have been done that could have been done through the amendment, or hopefully through the passage of this bill is that both parties sit down and sincerely negotiate, resolving this dilemma.

“Those speaking against this bill mentioned employees. If these businesses go under, which they’re threatened with, all the employees lose everything, therefore the State of Hawaii loses something.

“There was talk about fairness. All these concessionaires entered into a contract in a situation where not only were passengers going to the gate, but non-passenger family members and others were going to the gate. It is a tremendous occurrence that 9/11 changed that situation and they immediately, because of security reasons and only passengers being allowed past the security point, lost a huge portion of their customer base.

“If you enter into a contract, let’s say Ala Moana Center, to rent retail space, and when you entered into that contract you assumed that 20,000 people walk by your door everyday, you think that’s a pretty good deal because you speculate, through good business and marketing advertising, the customer base is there to make income to pay your rent, pay your employees, and make a profit. If all of a sudden, for reasons beyond your control, Ala Moana Center or whomever you’re leasing the property from says okay, we’re going to stop 30, 40 percent of your customers from going by your front door, that’s unfair. And that’s exactly what happened to these concessionaires.

“There’s another point that’s extremely relevant and I find somewhat befuddling, and that is, when you look at the airport fund, it’s my understanding there’s approximately $550 million in it – a lot of money. I think it’s enough money to sustain the airport through this difficult time in negotiating a settlement with these people, which this bill will allow to happen.

“But what is really befuddling is the fact that no one has blinked an eye at the fact that the airlines who pay into this fund have gotten tremendous relief both federally and through the state. Federally, they’ve literally gotten billions of dollars in direct financial relief. They’ve also gotten relief in landing fee waivers. When you measure that against the fact that the majority of the money, and I think it was 60 percent, in the airport fund was put in by the concessionaires, not the airlines, I think the least we can do is provide them relief.

“It’s my hope that by passing this bill today, that we’ll bring both parties to the table in earnest – the executive branch of government and the concessionaires – and work out a solution where everybody can win, rather than having a situation where everyone loses, as we have now. So I’m urging my colleagues to please vote in favor of this bill.”

Senators Baker, Ige, and Kokubun requested their votes be cast “aye, with reservations,” and the Chair so ordered

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 89 was adopted and S.B. No. 44, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TRANSPORTATION,” having been read throughout, and Roll Call vote having been requested, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 18. Noes, 7 (English, Hanabusa, Hooser, Ihara, Kim, Trimble, Tsutsui).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 133 (H.B. No. 512, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Baker moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 133 be adopted and H.B. No. 512, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senator Baker then offered the following amendment (Floor Amendment No. 12) to H.B. No. 512, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1:

SECTION 1. H.B. No. 512, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, is amended by replacing the contents of PART II with PART II of H.B. No. 512, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, to read as follows:

“PART II

SECTION 7. The legislature finds that the continued provision of mental health services is vital to the community. It is essential that providers be able to efficiently submit and collect available insurance reimbursements for such services. Insurance reimbursement claims typically require information on the patient treated. Therefore, any statutory authorization for the release of patient medical records must be limited in scope and ensure the privacy of the patient.

Accordingly, the purpose of this part is to permit mental health service providers to release records for billing purposes under limited circumstances while preserving a patient’s right to confidentiality.

SECTION 8. Section 334-5, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is amended to read as follows:

§334-5 Confidentiality of records. All certificates, applications, records, and reports made for the purposes of this chapter and directly or indirectly identifying a person subject hereto shall be kept confidential and shall not be disclosed by any person except so far (1) as the person identified, or the person’s legal guardian, consents, or (2) as disclosure may be deemed necessary by the director of health or by the administrator of a private psychiatric or special treatment facility to carry out this chapter, or (3) as a court may direct upon its determination that disclosure is necessary for the conduct ~~[of]~~ proceedings before it and that failure to make the disclosure would be contrary to the public interest, or (4) as disclosure may be deemed necessary under the federal Protection and Advocacy for Mentally Ill Individuals Act of 1986, Public Law 99-319, to protect and advocate the rights of persons with mental illness who reside in facilities providing treatment or care~~[-]~~, or (5) as disclosure is made to the person’s health care insurer to obtain reimbursement for services rendered to the person, except for records subject to Title 42 Code of Federal Regulations Part 2, confidentiality of alcohol and drug abuse patient records; provided that disclosure shall be made only if the insurer informs the person that a reimbursement claim will be made to the person’s insurer, the person is afforded an opportunity to pay the reimbursement claim directly, and the person does not pay. For the purposes of this section, ‘facilities’ shall include, but not be limited to, hospitals, nursing homes, community facilities for mentally ill individuals, boarding homes, and care homes.

Nothing in this section shall preclude disclosure, upon proper inquiry, of any information relating to a particular patient and not clearly adverse to the interests of the patient, to the patient, the patient’s family, legal guardian, or relatives, nor, except as provided above, affect the application of any other rule or statute of confidentiality. The use of the information disclosed shall be limited to the purpose for which the information was furnished.”

SECTION 2. H.B. No. 512, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, is amended by adding a new section to read as follows:

“SECTION 9. If any provision of this Act, or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the invalidity does not affect other provisions or applications of the Act, which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this Act are severable.”

SECTION 3. H.B. No. 512, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, is amended by re-numbering the sections to conform to drafting convention.

Senator Baker then moved that Floor Amendment No. 12 be adopted, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senator Baker noted:

“Mr. President, colleagues, the floor amendment for H.B. No. 512, C.D. 1, inserts language that was agreed to in Conference and deletes language (the next of kin language in Part II of the Conference draft) that was not agreed to.

“The substance of this floor amendment will allow the disclosure of a mental health patient’s medical records for insurance reimbursement claim purposes. Hospitals are frequently unable to obtain payment for services rendered to mental health patients because they are required to obtain specific consent from the patient prior to the release of the patient’s mental health records. There is no exception to this rule such as in the HIV law, which is HRS 325-101, which allows for the release of information after the patient has been afforded the opportunity to make the reimbursement but chooses not to.

“It is extremely difficult to obtain consent from certain patients. As a result, hospitals are frequently unable to receive payment for service even though a patient has insurance. Queen’s hospital for example has been unable over the past two year to bill approximately $500,000 for services rendered because Queen’s was unable to release records containing mental health diagnoses to the patient’s insurance company. Likewise, the Hawaii Health Systems Corporation Hospitals report similar losses.

“The floor amendment to H.B. No. 512, C.D. 1, will again insert the language that was agreed to in Conference but inadvertently omitted and delete language that was inserted that was not agreed to in Conference. This substance of this provision will enable the hospitals to bill for services while protecting the confidentiality of the patient. I ask my colleagues to vote ‘yes’ on this amendment.

“Thank you.”

The motion to adopt Floor Amendment No. 12 was put by the Chair and carried.

Senator Baker moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 133 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Taniguchi and carried.

By unanimous consent, H.B. No. 512, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HEALTH,” was placed on the calendar for Final Reading on Thursday, May 1, 2003.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 140 (H.B. No. 1152, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 140 be adopted and H.B. No. 1152, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Taniguchi then offered the following amendment (Floor Amendment No. 13) to H.B. No. 1152, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1:

SECTION 1. H.B. No. 1152, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, is amended by amending section 55 to read as follows:

“SECTION 55. The legislature determines that there is in the special land and development fund at least $3,000,000 in excess of the requirements of the fund. On July 1, 2004, the director of finance is authorized to transfer from the special land and development fund to the general fund the sum of $3,000,000 or so much thereof as may be necessary for fiscal year 2004-2005.”

SECTION 2. H.B. No. 1152, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, is amended by amending section 66 to read as follows:

“SECTION 66. This Act shall take effect on July 1, 2003, provided that:

- (1) Sections 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6 shall take effect on June 29, 2003;
- (2) Sections 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, and 16 shall take effect on June 30, 2003; and
- (3) Sections 7 and 8 shall take effect on July 1, 2004; provided further that any remaining balances in the Hawaii capital loan revolving fund and the Hawaii strategic development corporation revolving fund shall lapse to the general fund.”

Senator Taniguchi then moved that Floor Amendment No. 13 be adopted, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Taniguchi noted:

“Mr. President, this floor amendment will make two basically technical amendments to the bill. One, we had the wrong fiscal year, and the other was to eliminate a double repeal date.”

The motion to adopt Floor Amendment No. 13 was put by the Chair and carried.

Senator Taniguchi moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 140 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Kokubun and carried.

By unanimous consent, H.B. No. 1152, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO STATE FUNDS,” was placed on the calendar for Final Reading on Thursday, May 1, 2003.

At 11:34 o’clock a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 11:50 o’clock a.m.

RECOMMITTAL OF HOUSE BILL

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 141 (H.B. No. 1400, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 141 and H.B. No. 1400, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, be recommitted to the Committee on Conference, seconded by Senator Kim.

Senator Taniguchi noted:

“Mr. President, just for the record, we did get the correspondence this morning indicating that the impact of this tax credit would be very significant and would impact our financial plan. That's why we're asking for this recommittal."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 141 and H.B. No. 1400, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HOTEL CONSTRUCTION AND REMODELING TAX CREDIT," were recommitted to the Committee on Conference.

FINAL READING

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 142 (H.B. No. 200, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 142 be adopted and H.B. No. 200, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator K Kobun.

Senator Taniguchi rose to speak in favor of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this bill.

"Mr. President and colleagues, H.B. No. 200, C.D. 1, is the executive budget. It will be our financial guide for the next two years. Before I begin my comments on the bill, which will be brief, I need to acknowledge a few people who were integral in the making of this bill. My staff deserves my deepest appreciation. They worked extremely hard and in a very professional manner. Mr. President and colleagues, you can be proud of these people and the high quality of the budget bill before you. This is the result of the tremendous job done by the Ways and Means Committee staff.

"I would also like to thank the House, Speaker Say, the members of the Finance Committee, the Finance staff, and especially Chair Dwight Takamine. It was a real honor and pleasure to work with him these past three years. I also want to acknowledge you, Mr. President, the Senate Leadership, the Committee Chairs, and the members of the Ways and Means Committee. You all deserve credit for this bill and our entire financial plan being balanced. I especially want to thank my hardworking Vice Chair for sitting through hours and hours of hearings, briefings, and meetings, and meetings, and meetings. I appreciate his loyalty and work on a number of bills that are up for vote today.

"Finally, I would like to again acknowledge the love and support of my family, especially my wife Jan. She, more than anyone, keeps me balanced, like the budget, and able to do my best.

"Mr. President, I'm glad to report to you that your conferees for this bill have unanimously approved this bill, something that has not happened in my tenure as Ways and Means Chair. I must be slipping, Mr. President.

"In broad terms, because of our economic situation, the Senate adopted many of the cuts recommended by the administration. If anyone says that this budget represents an increase in spending, they would be wrong. Much of what was added to the budget bill are collective bargaining increases that were approved two years ago and are being included in our budget base for the first time this year. This is an accounting update, not an increase in the size of government, or in government spending.

"I'm most proud of the fact that we were successful in convincing our House colleagues to restore cuts recommended by the administration to our public schools. Education has always been my top priority. It's been a top priority of many of us here, and I'm glad we were able to do that.

"We have done our job, Mr. President. We have a balanced budget, and I ask all members to vote in support. Thank you."

Senator Hemmings rose to speak in favor and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of Conf. Com. Rep. No. 142, H.B. No. 200, the state budget.

"I do want to recognize that the good Chairman of the Senate Ways and Means Committee has slipped, and he's slipped into a good area, an area where good Legislators work with the executive branch of government to try to solve some of our problems. But likewise, in many areas I think your loyal Minority would say we haven't done enough to moderate and cut state spending. But the good news is that we're definitely headed in the right direction, as opposed to the left direction. (Another try at humor that missed the mark.)

"This legislation does balance the state budget without the threat in tax increases. This is a huge victory for the economy, the workers, and businesses, and most importantly, the laborers of Hawaii. This budget does moderate spending. This budget does work with the executive branch of government, the Governor and her staff, in making cuts. This budget does acknowledge and subsequent bills do acknowledge that special funds need to be re-examined. This budget does acknowledge that there are a number of vacant positions and the funding of which has been unaccountable in the past. And when you measure it in its totality, it is going to make a difference.

"I do think it's important that when we recognize that the actual expenditures by state government are going up, and we do acknowledge the good Senator from Manoa's point that this is because of collective bargaining agreements negotiated two years ago that have to be put in the budget, that this sends a message to us, because we'll have additional collective bargaining bills to act on today. And I hope we consider very, very closely the impact of these bargaining increases. Even though they may not be salary increases, they are indeed tremendous increases.

"As we measure the economic impact, we're coming to the point where the state has to make difficult decisions, and under the leadership of the Senate Ways and Means Chairman, we have started to make those decisions. But we cannot pay for everybody all the time and everything they want, and this budget definitely is a step in the right direction of moderation and we support it.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Kawamoto rose to speak in favor of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, as the senior member of the Ways and Means Committee, nine years, I rise in favor of the budget bill. I just want to say that I've never seen the Ways and Means process go as smoothly as we have seen it done this year.

"Again, congratulations on the leadership of the Chair. And of course, I echo his comments about his staff – outstanding people. I just want to say that nine years ago we were in this body and I was a member of the Ways and Means, and this year has been the smoothest that I've seen in a long time.

"Thank you, I urge my colleagues to vote 'aye' on this bill."

Senator Kim rose to speak in favor and said:

“Mr. President, I also rise in favor of H.B. No. 200, C.D. 1.

“Mr. President, as a junior member of the Ways and Means Committee, I’d like to add to the sentiments that my esteemed colleague from Waipahu had to say.

“This was not an easy budget, Mr. President. There were many cuts that had to be made. I want to commend the Ways and Means Chair for his sensitivity to the member’s needs in also having to balance the cuts and balance the needs of the members on this Floor.

“He worked with Leadership; he worked with the executive branch, and I certainly take my hat off to him and to the Vice Chair. I had the opportunity to come in on the weekends and see the working of the staff behind the scenes and after hours, and I can attest to the amount of hours that they put into it. So, I really want to thank the Ways and Means staff and our Chairman and Vice Chairman.

“Thank you.”

Senator Kokubun rose in support of the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I stand in support of H.B. No. 200, C.D. 1.

“There have been many accolades delivered this morning, and I also want to add to that by acknowledging the stellar leadership demonstrated by the Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee.

“Serving as Vice-Chair of the Ways and Means Committee has been a tremendous educational experience for me, and I am very grateful for that opportunity and am very appreciative of the many qualities and skills that Chairman Taniguchi demonstrated. The Chairman is generous in terms of sharing his wealth of knowledge gained over many years of service. He is fair in terms of attempting to meet the various needs of all of you and your constituents as well as government services in general in the face of lean economic resources. He is very courageous in terms of proposing measures to generate more resources that obviously were very forward thinking but not necessarily acceptable to all parties. And most of all, I want to thank him for demonstrating his ability to work in a cooperative manner. Chairman Taniguchi did mention in his comments that he worked well with the House Finance Committee Chairman, and I would attest to that having been included in many of their meetings. I think that that cooperative working relationship was really the basis for us having such a relatively smooth time this year in deliberating on some of the more difficult budgetary issues.

“Lastly, I would also like to share my acknowledgment and deep appreciation for the dedication and forthrightness demonstrated by the staff of the Ways and Means Committee. They are very outstanding, excellent and dedicated workers. I also want to thank the Chairman for those good times after our serious meetings, because it is also in those opportunities that we learn more about and appreciate each other’s individual perspectives and philosophies. Those were the real learning experiences for me.

“Mr. President, thank you.”

Senator Kanno rose to speak in favor of the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this measure.

“Mr. President, I’d like to commend the Ways and Means Chair, Vice Chair, and Ways and Means staff. During uncertain times, our priorities have not wavered. We can be proud of the support provided for education, human services, and for our retirees.

“I urge my colleagues to vote ‘aye.’ Thank you.”

Senator Baker rose to speak in support as follows:

“Mr. President, I, too, rise to speak in support of this measure.

“Mr. President, not having served on Ways and Means this year, I wanted to say how much I appreciate the information, the support, the communication from both the Chair and the Vice Chair, as well as the staff. It’s difficult sometimes when you’re not sitting on the Committee to understand the workings, understand all the nuances that are going in, but because of the openness and commitment to communication that we had from the Chair and Vice Chair, it made being on the outside a lot less frustrating.

“I have some additional written remarks in support of the budget I’d like inserted in the Journal. Thank you.”

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Baker’s remarks read as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of H.B. No. 200, C.D. 1, the executive budget bill.

“Although this is one of the smallest budget bills I’ve seen during my extended tenure, I believe that this is a budget bill we can support, and I want to thank the Chair and Vice Chair of the Ways and Means Committee and their staff for all of their efforts.

“I commend the Chair and Vice Chair for the time and effort they have put into developing a balanced financial plan and this biennium budget. During this period of budget shortfalls, theirs is an extremely difficult job: many competing and worthy projects; few resources; and mostly unpleasant alternatives. I also want to extend my appreciation to the members of the Ways and Means Committee, and to the hard-working committee staff who have spent many long hours trying to find ways to balance this year’s budget.

“I appreciate the willingness of WAM to restore some of the cuts made to the Department of Health in the Executive Budget request and to find room in the financial plan for emergency and vital health and human services programs. I also appreciate the collaborative manner in which WAM worked with your Committee on Health to explore other funding strategies for additional baseline services. Theirs was a difficult balancing act, and they did it well, despite the enormous constraints placed upon them.

“This measure continues to preserve and protect our citizenry’s health, safety and welfare, as part of our government’s core functions. By providing needed resources for the Community Mental Health Plan and the Hawai’i State Hospital Remedial Plan, WAM has helped the Adult Mental Health Division move forward a prudent, cost-effective plan to improve services and comply with court decrees.

“The restoration of funding and positions for Developmental Disabilities Services Branch is equally as important. This Legislature several years ago made a commitment to the well being of our developmentally disabled citizens in a client-centered community setting. These funds and positions help fulfill that commitment.

"I applaud the Committee's decision to restore the general practice dental residency program for disabled patients to access care, and provide equipment for Emergency Medical Services. Ensuring that our primary and secondary responders are prepared to deliver necessary critical care while on duty will only serve the best interests of the State in the long run. Adequate dental care still remains a concern in our State and, unfortunately, will not be fully addressed in this resource challenged environment, although this appropriation together with the oral health funding in Senate Bill 1305 is a positive start.

"I also want to thank WAM for understanding the importance of the Hawai'i Health Systems Corporation to the neighbor island healthcare system. Without the general fund subsidy provided in this measure, our community hospitals would be hard-pressed to provide adequate health care services to our citizens on the neighbor islands.

"H.B. No. 200, C.D. 1, along with S.B. No. 1305 and related previously passed Senate bills, provide the minimum resources necessary to ensure the viability of our health care safety net in Hawai'i. I appreciate the work of the Committee on Ways and Means to address the vital service needs of our State, and I urge my colleagues to join me to support this important measure and other measures mentioned by the WAM Chair.

"Mahalo."

Senator English rose to speak in support of the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of the bill.

"I'd like to add my aloha and thanks to the Chairman, the Vice Chairman, and members of the Committee who crafted this budget and point out that besides having to draft this particular bill, the Committee and the Chair, especially, had to take into account all the various other bills that contain money – things like emergency medical services and helicopters for Maui County, things like funding Moloka'i General Hospital, Hana Community Health Center, and a very important one, Mr. President, is the extension of the solar tax credits. And all of these had to be considered in the budget deliberations even though they were not in the budget bill and there were allowances made for these very important items in our community.

"So, in recognition of that, I extend my thanks to the Chair, the Vice Chair, the members of the Committee, as well as the members of the House Finance Committee, and Leadership in both houses.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Hogue rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of this measure.

"Mr. President, I also want to give accolades to the Chair and the Vice Chair of Ways and Means. Their easy-going demeanor is a breath of fresh air and they are truly balanced in their personality as well as in the budget. So I appreciate the way that they've worked very hard on this.

"I also want to give accolades, though, and I think we would be remiss if we did not in the fact that the Ways and Means

Chair and the people that worked on it also got some information from our Minority Research and I know that I appreciate that as they looked at ways to tackle issues like special funds and also vacant positions. So, thank you very much for working with the Minority Research. I think it's very important that we can be very helpful in this particular process.

"I also want to follow up on the comments made by the Majority Floor Leader talking about this being one of the easiest sessions as far as the budget is concerned. I think that's a reflection on the executive branch of our government. I think the department heads worked very hard, feverishly to provide the information that in some past sessions has not been provided. I think that we need to give accolades to the Budget and Finance Director as well as these department heads. So I think we would be remiss if we did not give accolades to that as well.

"I encourage all of my colleagues to vote 'yes.' Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Slom rose to speak in support of the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I, too, rise in support of the measure.

"I do offer my apologies to the Chair of Ways and Means, however. When I spoke in favor of his retaining his position eight months ago before the start of this Session, I said he was fair and open, and he would do everything possible. In the past, he's always made it possible for me to either vote 'no' on the budget or to at least vote with very strong reservations, but he failed this year and I am voting straight up. So I know he is very sad about this as well. (Laughter.)

"I, too, offer my congratulations to the Senate Chair of the Committee, the Vice Chair, and both the Majority and Minority staffs who did a yeoman's task.

"And as the Minority Floor Leader just pointed out, I think one of the reasons that things went differently and smoothly this year is because you had a Governor in the executive branch that was cooperative and collaborative. And what a refreshing change that was – someone that was actually involved and someone who set a vision and a course from the very beginning. And that vision was fiscal restraint – the idea that we want to take care of people but we must prioritize and we must live within our means. I think we cooperated better in that Committee and as a bipartisan group than at any other time during the Legislature and on any other issue. And since it's the biggest issue, I think that there's enough praise to go around.

"Just a couple of points, however, good points. I think that the budget picked up on something that a number of us had been arguing for years and that is to do away with the vacant positions that have been there, many of them vacant for eight, nine, ten years while still drawing funds for other purposes unrelated to the positions; dealing with the very knotty and thorny problem of overtime, particularly in the area of public safety. I think the Committee and the leaders of the Committee did an excellent job in dealing with those areas.

"I'm not absolutely sure that this budget is balanced. I know that the numbers seem to indicate that the revenues and the expenditures match, but they depend on a number of other bills, and a number of other measures, and a number of other things happening as well. But I'm secure and I sleep well at night knowing that we have a strong new Governor with a very sharp pen and ability to use the line item veto. So, I'm sure that that will be taken care of.

“Also this question of whether or not this budget is larger or smaller or whatever, our figures indicate that in fact it is 4.8 percent larger for fiscal year '04 and 7.9 percent larger for fiscal year '05. I was amused by the new term ‘accounting update.’ It’s not an increase; it’s an accounting update. I think that came from the Enron book of lexicon. I’m not sure. But any way you look at it, we’re spending a great deal of the people’s money – $7.5 billion – and that’s just in the budget bill; we have other appropriations as well.

“But I, like other speakers, am proud to have been part of the process. And again, the Chairman gets a great deal of respect and admiration for the openness. I think the best discussions and best debates during this entire Session were held within the confines of the open Ways and Means Committee. However, I am a little disappointed. The Vice Chairman mentioned off-hours social events, and we in the Minority must have missed those memos or e-mails. Maybe Senator Kim has those e-mails. (Laughter.) We can check later.

“So, thank you, Mr. President. I urge all my colleagues to strongly support this budget.”

Senator Hooser rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

“First of all, Mr. President, I wanted to thank you and the members for the privilege and opportunity to serve on the Ways and Means Committee. As one of a small group of freshman, I found the experience to be a positive one and interesting, and I’d like to offer my kudos and compliments and aloha to the Chair and the Vice Chair and the Ways and Means staff who’ve done an excellent job and have not become impatient with the questions of a freshman and newcomers trying to learn the process. I really appreciate that, the ease of communication and the accessibility of the Chairman and the Vice Chair and the staff.

“I really admire the ability to hang on to the small items. We’re dealing with billions of dollars, and to many people in our community, small items of $50,000 or $100,000 or $20,000 are critical to certain programs. I was afraid that some of these details might get lost with all the big boys, but the Chairman and his staff managed to hold on to those items, and I appreciate that.

“I think, number one, is I appreciate the Chairman’s commitment to education. I think it’s a sincere and committed dedication to education. I appreciate that. I appreciate the fact that through that perseverance and commitment we were able to restore the previous cuts to education, preserve adult education and many other good programs.

“So, I want to thank the Chairman for that and look forward to increasing our support of public education in the State of Hawaii. Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"When you look at the committee report, it says that this measure is necessary to level the playing field. It's kind of difficult to level the playing field when there is only one person in town. The issue here, when they talked about making it equal to other states, the last time I checked, you couldn't cash a check on the Internet. You couldn't get in your car to drive to another state, let alone in Hawaii to another county.

"Voting for this measure will be a vote for increased poverty, increased gambling, increased drug use, more hungry children. By allowing them to issue a check for 32 days, they can then issue a check to pay off the last check that's coming due. And we're raising the amount that they can owe or pay for the service from $45 to $90. Ninety dollars for 32 days for a check of $600, that's 180 percent per year.

"I know it is difficult to protect people from themselves, but on the other hand, I see no reason to line the pockets of those that, can we say, prey on the least fortunate in our society. Thank you."

Senator Sakamoto rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in support with reservations and just briefly acknowledge that the Chair did retain the 15 percent as opposed to increasing that to 20 percent. That did improve the measure.

"Thank you."

Senator Ihara rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, please note my reservations for this in support of this bill."

Senators Inouye, English, Kim and Chun Oakland requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 3 was adopted and H.B. No. 595, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CHECK CASHING," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Madame Chair, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"This bill has had a very checkered and storied past. In the past we've had versions of this bill that sought to require when employers must give a meal break or other break. There have been indications of trying to require that the breaks be paid breaks. Now we have breast-feeding included in this bill, although we have breast-feeding as a separate law of public policy. At the present time, this version does not require paid meal breaks.

"I don't know of any small business that does not give meal breaks to its employees. I don't know of any problem that has required additional regulatory legislation by this state. There was no testimony from employees that were attesting to a problem. There was opposition by a number of different employers, employer groups, and the Department of Labor.

"As the bill finally went through the Conference process, Madame President, I noticed that there have been exclusions for common carriers of passengers, power generating utility companies, operators of continuously operational facilities with an environmental permit, and those businesses covered by collective bargaining agreements. However, there is no exemption for retail businesses or for the flexibility of employers.

"So, I would call on my colleagues who earlier today made such wonderful statements about this Legislature's role in supporting small businesses and standing behind small businesses because small businesses do not want, do not need more mandating and more requiring, particularly when a problem does not exist. So, I urge all my colleagues to vote 'no' on this bill.

"Thank you."

Senator Ihara rose and said:

"Please not my reservations in support of this bill."

The Chair so ordered.

Senators Aduja, Fukunaga and English requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 4 was adopted and H.B. No. 29, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MEAL BREAKS," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Madame President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"On April 8, I read to this body that portion from the Hawaii Revised Statutes that dealt with the crime of disturbing historic and burial grounds. The penalty at that time still remains $10,000 a day per occurrence. I see no reason why we should be introducing more law when it is already against the law. And if you read the bill carefully, what we are trying to put into the Hawaii Revised Statutes is that which more properly be considered rules or regulations.

"So, I ask that you vote against this measure."

Senator Hogue requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 6 was adopted and H.B. No. 1285, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HISTORIC SITES," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Madame President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"In this case, we are conveying on three lessees a selected benefit. If it is a worthwhile idea, then we should apply it to all state leases, but to single three out and treat them differently than all others, I feel is inappropriate.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 7 was adopted and H.B. No. 426, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC LANDS," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Hanabusa moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 8 be adopted and H.B. No. 564, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland.

Senator Hooser rose to speak with reservations and said:

"Madame Chair, I rise with reservations.

"My reservations are concerning the broadness of this bill. I think we all concur that drugs are bad; drugs are very, very bad. They ruin families. They ruin lives. They destroy much in our community. They have the potential.

"I want to say it's better than it was when I last saw it because the focus has narrowed it. It makes possession of any controlled substance of any amount with the intent to distribute in schools, a class C felony and at parks. And I agree 100 percent that drugs have no place in our schools, and anyone foolish enough to bring them in with the intent to sell should be a class C felony.

"However, I do think that expanding it to public parks and keeping it any amount of any substance is too broad. The record shows that 40 percent or more of our young people experiment with marijuana. This bill considers marijuana and heroine in the same breath and we risk a class C felony for young people making foolish mistakes in parks. A class C felony could cost a young person who makes a stupid mistake in a park, a prison term of up to five years.

"For those reasons, I have reservations on the bill."

Senator Ihara requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 8 was adopted and H.B. No. 564, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PROMOTION OF CONTROLLED SUBSTANCES," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Bunda).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 11 (H.B. No. 135, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Menor moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 11 be adopted and H.B. No. 135, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Hanabusa.

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Madame President, I speak in opposition to this measure.

"I remember reading about a divorce that was granted in 1913 or thereabouts. I think it was in Wyoming or Montana where mail-order brides were not uncommon. The issue in question related to the age of the bride. The groom had reason to be convinced on statements made by the bride that she was 25. The reason for the divorce was that the day after the wedding, her 20-year-old daughter showed up to move in.

"What specifically bothers me about this piece of legislation is that it's one way. It provides that there be disclosure from the person in the United States, but not disclosure from the person coming from abroad.

"The other thing that bothers me is that if we start going down this path, where does the responsibility of government end? We will need government oversight to ensure that this really is being done, and that will lead to further government involvement and a higher cost of that involvement.

"So, for this reason and the reason stated before that, I oppose this measure."

Senator Baker rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

"Madame President, I rise to speak in support of this measure.

"This measure allows persons living abroad who use for-profit matchmaking services to access criminal conviction and marital history information about prospective spouses residing in the United States.

"The Immigration and Naturalization Service estimates that as many as 6000 United States citizens marry persons who were introduced to them through a for-profit international matchmaking organization. Currently, about 2700 international matchmaking organizations operate worldwide, approximately 500 in the United States alone, and at least a dozen operating in Hawaii. Many foreign women from poor economic conditions are recruited by these organizations. The language barrier, isolation from family and friends, and unfamiliarity with the law put these women at an extreme disadvantage if forced to deal with an abusive new spouse.

"Requiring the prospective Hawaii spouse to provide criminal and marital history information, and requiring that the matchmaking organization inform recruits of the availability of this information, will allow a more open matchmaking process and will allow recruits to make informed decisions about a prospective marriage.

"It seems to me that good relationships are based on open communication. This measure promotes that sort of communication. I urge my colleagues to support this important measure.

"Mahalo."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 11 was adopted and H.B. No. 135, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO INTERNATIONAL MATCHMAKING ORGANIZATIONS," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Hogue rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Madame President, I rise to speak in opposition to this matter.

"Colleagues, this is squarely a freedom of speech versus property rights issue just going head to head. Because I believe in property rights and landowner's rights to set the parameters of what should and should not be on their property, I believe that when it comes to political signs, that goes over the line.

"For those reasons, plus the problems that this will also create with condominium associations with regards to posting of signs in common areas, I will be voting 'no.' Thank you, Madame President."

Senator Ihara requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 12 was adopted and H.B. No. 373, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO POLITICAL SPEECH," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 14 (H.B. No. 1214, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Kanno rose and said:

"Madame President, I have remarks that I'd like inserted into the Journal. Thank you."

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Kanno's remarks read as follows:

"Madame President, the bill provides to the state and counties a blanket waiver of liability on public lands. I have a number of concerns about the bill language.

"The bill states that it shall be conclusively presumed that the public is warned if signs are placed and the signs are approved by the Board of Land and Natural Resources. The bill establishes a risk assessment working group that is to be consulted to approve the warning signs. The Risk Assessment Working Group is required to have a person knowledgeable in warning sign design. I believe the group should also include independent experts in recreational hazards, parks, hiking and geology, and a representative from the visitor industry.

"The bill was amended in conference to require the state and counties to periodically inspect the warning signs. However, if the sign is stolen, vandalized or illegible, this conclusive presumption extends 120 days from the date of the last inspection. This means the sign could be down for as long as 119 days or nearly 4 months, if it is not 'discovered' by the state and county, and the state and county is still not liable. If we're talking about a blanket waiver of liability, the state and counties should be held to a higher standard. To protect against liability from slips and falls, stores like WalMart are required to conduct periodic inspections for possible spills in the store.

"The purpose section states that an equitable balance is needed. I couldn't agree more. Unfortunately, the blanket waiver of liability for the state and counties goes too far.

"The bill implies that what we're addressing are individuals who participate in hazardous recreational activities who choose to ignore warning signs. Unfortunately, the bill affects all people and on all public lands, improved and unimproved.

"What if there was a boulder on unimproved state land and the state received a report that the boulder was at risk of dislodging and falling down a hillside and had a high probability of doing so. The bill states that the state or county shall not have a duty to warn for dangerous natural conditions on unimproved public lands.

"I am not speaking for individuals who ignore warning signs, whose behavior contributes substantially to injuries. I am speaking out for all others who I believe deserve to hold someone responsible for injuries that may have happened through no fault of their own. I'm not talking about a blank check. I am speaking about someone having their day in court to make a case that is to be decided by an independent party.

"I urge my colleagues to vote 'no.' Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 14 was adopted and H.B. No. 1214, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC LAND LIABILITY," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, 1 (Kanno). Excused, 1 (Bunda).

Senator Aduja rose and said:

"Madame President, please note my reservations."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 17 was adopted and H.B. No. 324, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO DRIVER LICENSING," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Bunda).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 19 (H.B. No. 298, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Hanabusa moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 19 be adopted and H.B. No. 298, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senator Hogue rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Madame President, I rise to speak in opposition to this bill.

"Colleagues, obviously there is a pressing need for additional correctional facilities, however, this is not the correct way to go about it. This bill: (1) inappropriately puts a mandate on the executive branch. In its testimony, the administration has already stated that it intends to consider the remaining Halawa property, as well as several other sites; (2) the Department of Public Safety should be able to explore options without being directed to a particular place, which this bill does. They should be able to decide what location will most appropriately meet Hawaii's needs and how to best address the inmate population growth; and (3) the statutes that we currently have, already provide adequate direction for the Department of Public Safety to accomplish this task – in other words, this bill is unnecessary.

"Thank you very much, Madame President. I'll be voting 'no' and I urge all my colleagues to do so as well."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 19 was adopted and H.B. No. 298, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CORRECTIONAL FACILITIES," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 17. Noes, 7 (Fukunaga, Hemmings, Hogue, Ige, Slom, Trimble, Whalen). Excused, 1 (Bunda).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 20 (H.B. No. 736, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Menor moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 20 be adopted and H.B. No. 736, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Hanabusa.

Senator Trimble rose to speak with reservations and said:

"Madame President, I rise to express reservations.

"The fact that we are considering this measure this year indicates that we did not do a very good job last year. When we consider the process of how it works and how it doesn't work, I would like you to think between now and next year's Session about repealing the bill that this act seeks to amend.

"I think that if we reflect for a moment, perhaps some of the difficulties that the Senator from Waipahu is going through, concentrating power to influence lives and people's profession into increasing numbers of groups, is bad policy. So, in the next 10 months, let's figure out how we can correct these types of problems.

"I will be voting for this bill, but with reservations."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 20 was adopted and H.B. No. 736, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PROFESSIONAL AND VOCATIONAL LICENSES," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Bunda).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 21 (H.B. No. 133, H.D. 1, S.D. 3, C.D. 1):

Senator Chun Oakland moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 21 be adopted and H.B. No. 133, H.D. 1, S.D. 3, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Hanabusa.

Senator Trimble rose to speak in favor of the measure and said:

“Madame President, I rise to make a statement in favor of this bill.

“It’s an interesting bill. It’s, in a sense, creating new law and a new direction because the aim is protection of the child. If I am correct in assuming that anonymity is granted to the person dropping off the child, it does raise questions as we go forward as to the rights of the biological father and whether in the future we should consider that.

“Thank you.”

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“Madame President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

“I was fully intending to support the bill as we had the first drafts and as we discussed it, the idea being that the welfare of the child is more important than liability of the parents. But several things had happened by the time we got to the final conference draft. First of all, there was a very real issue about the power and authority of the sheriffs. And they were involved in child abandonment cases and child custody cases and yet they don’t have authority to handle these and to expedite for the safety of the children. And so, up until the conference draft, they were conferred that authority. The conference draft took that away from them and left the law as it is. I see that as a problem, particularly in incidents that have occurred on state property, notably at the airports.

“Secondly, the idea of putting the child first of course is what we’re all about here in the Legislature, or at least what we espouse, but there’s another issue, and that issue is, whether we call it liability or responsibility, certainly accountability. And if we’re not going to hold anybody accountable, it has many ramifications socially as well as fiscally because we have to take care of these children. Oftentimes they have very serious medical problems and so forth. There may have been abuse, even for newborns. And what we’re doing here is giving a blanket authorization of non-responsibility, non-accountability.

“So, for all the people that say that they always put the keiki first, I think that this sends the wrong message. We certainly can craft a bill that will say that under certain circumstances or under every issue, the child comes first, but there’s got to be some accountability if there is either wrongdoing or there are long-term fiscal implications, and this bill just doesn’t do that.

“Thank you.”

Senator Chun Oakland rose in support to the measure as follows:

“Madame President, I wasn’t planning to speak on this bill, but I did want to respond to the previous speaker.

“I was hopeful that part II of the bill would have also been in, but we could not get agreement with the House. However, to the point that you brought up, this bill only covers unharmed newborns. If there has been harm to the child, this particular law would not apply. I just wanted to let you know.

“I do support this measure. Thank you, Madame President.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 21 was adopted and H.B. No. 133, H.D. 1, S.D. 3, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CHILD PROTECTION,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Noes, 2 (Hogue, Slom). Excused, 1 (Bunda).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 22 (H.B. No. 562, S.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Hanabusa moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 22 be adopted and H.B. No. 562, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator English.

Senator Slom rose to speak in support to the measure and said:

“Madame President, I rise in strong support of this measure.

“Several years ago in a culmination of more than a decade of public outcry, this Legislature did the right thing and passed an age of consent bill. At the time, Hawaii had the lowest age of consent in all of the United States and it was an outrage for many of us. The Governor subsequently vetoed that bill after we had all of the hearings, after we had all of the public input, after we had conferences, after we made changes. After we did all that, the Governor vetoed the bill, and for the first time in 37 years, this Legislature overrode a governor’s veto. But the act was only made temporary.

“So, for all of the efforts, there were a lot of the public that were cynical and they questioned our real commitment to protecting our young people, in particular, young women in this community. With this bill, I think we’ve finished the job and I’m very happy to support it.

“Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 22 was adopted and H.B. No. 562, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SEXUAL ASSAULT,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 28 (H.B. No. 968, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Kanno moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 28 be adopted and H.B. No. 968, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

“Madame President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

“As I’ve mentioned before, colleagues, earlier this year, every employer in the state got a notice of an increase in their unemployment compensation tax. Even though it says contributions, I’ve never contributed to unemployment taxation in my life. No employee pays for unemployment compensation tax. The State of Hawaii has either the first or the second highest rate of unemployment compensation tax in the nation. It particularly harms the smallest of businesses with one or more employees.

“And what this bill will do is to increase benefits and thus the potential for increasing unemployment compensation tax on small businesses. I urge a ‘no’ vote.

“Thank you.”

Senator Aduja requested her vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 28 was adopted and H.B. No. 968, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO UNEMPLOYMENT BENEFITS," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 17. Noes, 7 (Hemmings, Hogue, Ige, Sakamoto, Slom, Trimble, Whalen). Excused, 1 (Bunda).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 29 (H.B. No. 1303, S.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Hanabusa moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 29 be adopted and H.B. No. 1303, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator English.

Senator Hemmings rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Madame President, I rise to speak against this legislation.

"OHA is going to have to come to grips sooner or later with its destiny concerning sovereignty. As recently as the Rice decision, it was argued by some in OHA that OHA indeed was a quasi state agency. It's continued to be argued that the Hawaiians at the national level need protection so that they eventually can become independent and sovereign.

"In contradiction to that whole movement is this bill and others that further tie OHA to the state government and further increase their dependency and also management by state government. Therefore, I think this bill is a step in the wrong direction. The eventual solution for the Hawaiians is to become independent with their own trust, such as the Alii Trust, and this bill represents a step towards dependency, not independence.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 29 was adopted and H.B. No. 1303, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE OFFICE OF HAWAIIAN AFFAIRS," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Madame President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"My question is, where's the beef? We talk about economic development. We talk about economic diversification, but from what we have done in the last three months, it has not been a priority. We cannot achieve economic development or diversification with mere words alone.

"So I will be voting against these words not because I dislike them, but there is nothing behind it in terms of dollars, in terms of appropriation so that we can begin the process of furthering economic diversification.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 37 was adopted and H.B. No. 1579, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE ECONOMIC DIVERSIFICATION AUTHORITY," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 18. Noes, 4 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Trimble). Excused, 3 (Bunda, Hanabusa, Menor).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 38 (H.B. No. 317, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Kanno moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 38 be adopted and H.B. No. 317, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Sakamoto.

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Madame President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"What we have here is the University of Hawaii making its own law, and then they come to us and ask us to make them whole. I think that before we accept their mere statements, we need to have a good audit of what they've actually been doing. Marion Higa has provided us with the rationale for believing that we should do this. We were told it was not a cost item, but until we check, we don't know it. And I really don't like the University of Hawaii going out on its own and making its own law.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 38 was adopted and H.B. No. 317, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE EMPLOYEES' RETIREMENT SYSTEM," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, 1 (Trimble). Excused, 3 (Bunda, Hanabusa, Menor).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 42 (H.B. No. 914, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Chun Oakland moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 42 be adopted and H.B. No. 914, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Baker.

Senator Baker rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

"Madame President, I rise to speak in support of H.B. No. 914, C.D. 1.

"This measure mandates the Department of Health to conduct unannounced visits of all adult residential care homes and expanded adult residential care homes. I would like to commend the Chair of your Committee on Human Services for her success in bringing both sides together to support this conference draft. I would also like to acknowledge AARP for their tireless efforts on behalf of elders, especially the frail and most vulnerable of our seniors.

“According to the State Long-Term Care Ombudsman, there are 8,400 elders living in licensed nursing homes, assisted living facilities and adult residential care homes. These homes and facilities provide care and services for some of our frailest elderly who are no longer capable of caring for themselves. While these caregivers provide a much-needed service for our elderly, we must continue to do everything we can to ensure a quality standard of care.

“Last year there were 155 complaints received and investigated and after further examination of the complaints, three adult residential care homes were closed by the Department of Health. Although the majority of adult residential care homes are run by reputable caring individuals, there are some individuals that are taking advantage of our seniors and must be more closely monitored and inspected. H.B. No. 914, C.D. 1, gives the Department of Health the tools necessary to ensure the health, safety and welfare of all of our seniors in adult residential care home settings.

“This bill is not intended to cast aspersions on the care home industry, nor is it the intent of this measure to make care home management more onerous. Rather, it’s purpose is to ensure that all care homes are providing the level of care and the quality of care they have promised to their residents. Furthermore, this measure is an important step forward to maintain proper oversight and protection of our frail elderly, who may have no family to look out for them and may not be able to access the Ombudsman or other advocate groups should abuse or neglect occur.

“Hawaii’s senior citizens have greatly contributed to the success of this State. We must assure them that we will see to it that their well being in their later years and their most vulnerable years is taken care of. Unannounced inspections of adult residential care homes and expanded adult residential care homes, like the unannounced inspections in our other long-term care facilities, will help ensure that our elders receive the quality of care they so rightfully deserve.

“For these reasons, I urge my colleagues to join me in voting ‘yes’ on this bill.

Senator Espero rose to speak in support of the measure and said:

“Madame President, I’d like to rise in support of this measure.

“I’d also like to congratulate the Chairs of the Health Committee and Human Services Committee for working with our House counterparts to come up with a compromise which everybody can live with and support.

“Of course, the controversy on this issue was not on the unannounced inspections, but rather on the annual license renewal. Nobody doubts that we need to protect our elderly, and no one disagrees to that statement, and of course we are going to do that with this bill. However, the care home operators had some concerns regarding their annual license renewal which basically deals with their livelihood. I believe a compromise was worked out that everyone can live with and I’d like to acknowledge that on all parties involved.

“Thank you very much.”

Senator Slom rose to speak in support to the measure as follows:

“Madame President, I, too rise in support of this measure.

“As one of the outspoken spokespeople for the elderly caucus here in the Senate, and one who voted against this bill earlier, I, too, am very happy that we were able to reach a compromise – a reasonable and rational compromise. The issue was never to overlook abuse, or to overlook health and safety violations, or to overlook the responsibility for care. The issue always was whether or not there would be reasonable inspections related to the health and safety of those residents and occupants of the care facilities.

“This shows that we are capable of reaching these compromise conclusions so I, too, want to thank the Chairs of the various Committees. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 42 was adopted and H.B. No. 914, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ADULT RESIDENTIAL CARE HOMES,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, none. Excused, 2 (Bunda, Hanabusa).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 43 (H.B. No. 32, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Sakamoto moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 43 be adopted and H.B. No. 32, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland.

Senator Hogue rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“Madame President, I rise to speak in opposition to this particular matter.

“There are a couple of problems with this particular bill, colleagues. The first one is somewhat manini, but I want to point it out – and that is, in section 4 of the bill it says each school shall provide a copy of the current list of textbooks and instructional materials upon the request of a student or a parent or a guardian of a student attending the school. The list shall be available not later than the first day of class in each school year. Well, as a former teacher myself, I realize that you need to have flexibility as a teacher. In most cases, the attempt is made to have that list. But for us to mandate that that list be available on the first day of school kind of oversteps those particular bounds.

“There are going to be times when textbooks are going to be made available after the first day of the school year, and sometimes books are going to come to mind after the first day. So, that’s one section of this particular bill that should not be here.

“The most onerous part of this bill is a change in policy, and that is in section b of section 4 it says that each school may assess and collect from each student or the student’s parent or guardian, a textbook and instructional materials fee not to exceed $20 per student per school year. This means we are going to charge students, or we may charge students, a fee for a textbook. That’s a step in the wrong direction. It’s a user fee for going to school.

“I realize that these are very difficult times that we live in, but this is definitely a step in the wrong direction. We cannot be starting this practice and setting up user fees for items that must be inherent in anyone’s education. I know that the Senator from Hawaii Kai will argue the point that school is free. I know he brings up that point over and over again that we as taxpayers obviously pay for our school. But a free and appropriate education means that students who go to school should not have to pay for the most elementary items, including their textbooks.

"Now, I know that there is a carve out in the bill which talks about particular poor students and that they wouldn't have to pay this fee, but for all others they would. So it's a step in the wrong direction. For these reasons, I'll be voting 'no.'

"Thank you, very much."

Senator Sakamoto rose to speak in support of the measure and said:

"Madame President, I rise in support of this measure.

"This measure does authorize schools to collect fees on textbooks up to $20. It also clarifies the process for restitution for lost, stolen, or damaged books. Also, yes, it does require the schools to compile the annual list of textbooks from which parents and students are allowed to purchase their own book.

"I think in regard to the previous speaker, certainly, if at the beginning of school, whatever that teacher has available would be the list, and if subsequently, additional items are added, I think those would be welcomed additions.

"Research has shown that millions of dollars have been lost over the years due to textbooks and other instructional materials which have been lost or damaged by students, in which cases the restitution for the loss has been generally minimal. As recently as March of 2003, I received a board of education report that stated that the department had a deficit of approximately 134,000 textbooks. If we say perhaps at $50 a book, that's over $6 million.

"By charging a fee, this minimal fee, the school would be able to perhaps at least stay ahead or keep up with the funds they need for textbooks, workbooks, and those similar types of materials. Hopefully, the students will be more responsible because of the dollars that they or their parents are putting in, and they'd be more aware of the cost of these textbooks and other instructional materials, therefore, they would hopefully be more accountable.

"I think all of us remember early on in the year there was a survey by one of the papers stating that 77 percent of people would pay more to aid schools. I've distributed to members a survey that we did to the school community where in essence a higher percentage said they would be willing to pay the half percent tax for schools. Certainly the population in the school, in order to improve their own school and directly benefit their child, would be higher than this general public 77 percent. I have no doubt that people want a better education, and I have no doubt that people would be willing to assist in that effort.

"In regards to the point about the free and appropriate education, which is in the IDEA (Individuals with Disabilities Educational Act) legislation, we did check with the attorney general on whether that meant a fee, such as textbooks, would not be appropriate. Their response was that, just as in other things, a fee would not be disallowed in the terms of it would not conflict with that particular measure. And we tried to accommodate the children for free and reduced lunch, but certainly my hope, Madame President, is that we would see fit to move this measure forward and have people at least help us with a system that needs help and certainly help address the textbook shortage that we have.

"Thank you."

Senator Trimble rose to speak against the measure and stated:

"Madame President, I rise to speak against this measure.

"I wasn't going to say anything, but after the last remarks I just had to get up and say something about good taxes and bad taxes, good fees and bad fees.

"No discussion so far has been directed to who was going to collect this fee. Is it going to be the teacher? Who is going to account for the money and deposit it? Is it going to be the teacher? How much it's going to cost for every $20 bill to account for it and keep records. And if we're going to start down this process, why don't we be consistent with what we did last year and keep records of those who paid or did not pay. And if they became a doctor or a licensed technical or professional worker, remind them that in addition to their college loans, there were some school fees.

"It's not only a bad direction. It is not only inefficient, but if we need to fund the schools, then let's get our economy going so we can do it properly."

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Madame President, as unaccustomed as I am to stand and speak (laughter), I want to register my opposition to this bill too.

"I think probably it's a microcosm of so many of our problems. And as the last fine speaker, Dr. No, had pointed out, here we are, we're addressing a problem but we're not really addressing the problem and we've got a mechanism but we don't spell it out. We have no accountability. We don't know where the money is going to go. We don't know who's going to watch it. We don't know what's going to happen to it. It'll probably wind up in a special fund and then it will be raided in a couple of years anyway.

"There were two points that the good Senator from Moanalua brought up and one is about the lack of textbooks themselves. This has been a 30 year problem, which neither the past state administration, the current DOE, nor the Legislature has addressed. Everybody has complained about it (the lack of textbooks) but we just didn't make that a priority. We didn't want a priority for textbooks. Instead, we wanted computers and we wanted other things. So now we're talking about textbooks.

"The second issue was of the up to $6 million loss for damaged and misplaced and lost and (I don't think anybody really steals a textbook, but) books that did not return. This is government's response: not to seek restitution, not to seek accountability from the people that didn't have the textbooks, but to tax everyone else and to make everyone else pay for it. That's fine. The good Senator said that the average cost of the textbook is $50, probably that or more, although we are going more and more to the Internet and to wireless textbooks. But the point is even $20 we would still have a net loss and you would be penalizing a lot of people, the majority of people, that are responsible and accountable and take care of their things. And so, as always in society, the government says it's too difficult to make people be responsible or to hold them accountable so we'll tax everyone else.

"And I'm sure the good Senator doesn't want to go into an argument on the half percent increase and the fallacious use of the Advertiser 77 percent survey.

“Thank you, Madame President.”

Senator Hooser rose in support to the measure and stated:

“Madame President, I rise in support.

“I’m not sure if everyone’s reading the same bill that I’m reading. I want to make sure we’re on . . . is it H.B. No. 32, S.D. 1? Is that the bill?”

The Chair replied: “That’s correct, Senator.”

“Okay. A brief read of this bill simply says that public schools may assess up to $20 per student, per year. It’s not government doing anything other than that – empowering local schools and local principals. Isn’t that what we’ve been talking about. As long as I can remember, anyway, it’s empowering local schools to make their decisions on a local level. This is not the DOE; it’s not the Legislature. This is saying this school can look at its population, look at its needs, and if it determines that it wants to charge $20 per student, per year to have better books or more books, then it may do so. It doesn’t say they have to do it.

“I just fail to see the downside of that. It’s about empowering local schools, local principals to make those decisions working with their local school communities. So, I urge my colleagues to vote in support.

“Thank you.”

Senator Sakamoto rose and said:

“Madame President, I’m rising in response to some of the comments made.

“First, schools do collect lunch fees, bus fees, other fees, so there are mechanisms currently in place. And if this measure does go through and the school does choose, we’re not setting up a whole new mechanism to do this.

“In regard to the $6 million, those are not only lost or stolen or misplaced books. Certainly, books get old; some schools have complained about books that are over a decade old. So we’re trying to address, we the Legislature are trying to address, the problem that perhaps, as the Senator from Hawaii Kai said, could have, should have been resolved. I suggest that this is our attempt to help to resolve it.

“And certainly, people can say that the use of a poll result in a targeted manner may be fallacious. I think, certainly, some people who portray to put out truthful information fallaciously misrepresent or other things, but I don’t believe this poll or my commenting on it would be fallacious use. I’m attempting to show how people intend to support schools, and if the general public intends to say we’re willing to put dollars out, I think certainly the people directly at hand would be as well.

“Thank you.”

Senator Hogue rose in rebuttal and said:

“Madame President, I rise in rebuttal.

“I just wanted to bring up a couple of the points here. I know that we’ve had some of these discussions in our Education Committee, and it has been brought up that this textbook fee is somewhat analogous to lunch fees or bus fees. Maybe that wasn’t exactly the point but at least the point was brought up here. Certainly, there’s nothing in the way that we run our schools that says that schools have to provide a lunch. So, I think that textbooks are totally a different animal than lunches or bus transportation, or even athletics, which I think the point can be made that they are or should be paid for by the users that actually utilize them.

“As far as the point that was made about whether this is local empowerment, well, it is local empowerment of the principal, but only the principal is going to decide whether or not the $20 fee should be charged. There is nothing in this bill that says that he’s going to get input from the community, which is what we’ve been talking about, what we mean local empowerment.

“Then the other part of the bill that is problematical and the biggest reason that I have a problem with it, Madame President, is the fact that it sets up the policy of user fees for standard items such as textbooks – this year, $20; next year, $25, $30, $50? I mean, we’ve seen over the years, colleagues, how things are put in motion, and then when we run into problematical times, that those numbers increase. And we have no idea what future legislative bodies will do.

“So, it’s a bad policy to get started with this and in encourage all of my colleagues to vote ‘no.’ Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 43 was adopted and H.B. No. 32, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 15. Noes, 7 (Espero, Hemmings, Hogue, Ige, Slom, Trimble, Whalen). Excused, 3 (Bunda, Hanabusa, Taniguchi).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 44 (H.B. No. 130, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Kanno moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 44 be adopted and H.B. No. 130, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Kawamoto.

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure and stated:

“Madame President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

“What’s interesting is that this bill started out as a spousal consent bill. It is no longer spousal consent, it’s spousal notification. I am somewhat curious how many people here have actually retired from the State of Hawaii and gone through the process . . . oh, I’m sorry, I must be the only one. It was a painful experience. It’s something that I shared with my wife. I wouldn’t want to do it again. We had to make decisions over which we had no knowledge – like who would live longer. But every effort by the employee retirement system was to include the spouse in the process. Codifying, making this into law of a practice they already attempt to do, I think, will have some consequences that may not be desirable at this particular time.

“The employee retirement system is significantly underfunded. They are working as hard as they can with the existing staff. I’m not sure that I want them to devote more staff time, which may result in less money available for the benefits to be paid out. And there is also a liability question if somebody, somehow should make a mistake, and believe it or not, that always happens.

"I don't urge my colleagues to vote 'no.' It's not really that important. I just think that at the present moment, it's not necessary.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 44 was adopted and H.B. No. 130, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PENSION AND RETIREMENT SYSTEMS," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 20. Noes, 2 (Slom, Trimble). Excused, 3 (Bunda, Hanabusa, Taniguchi).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 46 (H.B. No. 531, S.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Kanno moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 46 be adopted and H.B. No. 531, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Kawamoto.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Madame President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"This bill seeks to undermine the changes to the collective bargaining and civil service reform acts, specifically Act 253 two years ago. What it says is that excluded employees should be treated exactly as everyone else and be paid exactly the same amount and given the same benefits. Well, if they were, they would not be excluded employees. That was the whole basis. There are classifications of employees. There are good reasons for doing so and it is both a fiscal and managerial decision, and it's one that should be recognized and honored.

"So I urge my colleagues a 'no' vote on this bill. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 46 was adopted and H.B. No. 531, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC EMPLOYEES," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Kawamoto rose to speak in favor of the measure as follows:

"Madame President, I rise to speak in favor of this bill.

"This bill is an extension of the wheelchair. It allows people like me a great deal of freedom. It provides the opportunity to travel here and there without the need of an automobile. We've had testimony and e-mails in support of this bill from as far away as Kona and other counties that they support the bill.

"So Madame Chair, I urge all my colleagues to vote 'aye.'"

Senator Trimble rose to speak in favor of the measure and said:

"Madame President, I rise in favor of this measure.

"I would be wearing sneakers on the Senate Floor if it weren't for the Senate Clerk. (Laughter.) If you had to give up your driver's license for a week, maybe you could see the reason why having alternatives for people that don't drive is important in our society.

"I'm not as eloquent as the previous speaker, but I would like to cast my vote on giving the residents of our community more choices. It's particularly important as those of you continue to age and get as old as I. It is also important that we recognize that approving this type of measure of reducing reliability on the automobile will have important long-term consequences for our society.

"So when you approve this measure, I also suggest that you think about also increasing appropriations to expand sidewalks and make them wider.

"Thank you."

Senator Hogue rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

"Madame President, I also rise to speak in support of this particular measure but I just want to oppose one last bit of testimony, and that is that I think, Senator from Waikiki, you are every bit as eloquent as the speaker that spoke before you.

"Thank you very much, Madame President." (Laughter.)

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 59 was adopted and S.B. No. 1051, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PERSONAL TRANSPORTATION," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Kawamoto moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 65 be adopted and S.B. No. 1201, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Menor.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Madame President, I rise in opposition to the bill.

"The bill would seek to add or restore additional regulation by the state over motor vehicle franchisees and manufacturers. And in addition, it sets up the possibility of additional fees and does include two new fees – a $1,000 fee and a $500 registration fee.

"So, I'll be voting 'no.' Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 65 was adopted and S.B. No. 1201, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MOTOR VEHICLE FRANCHISES," having been read

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“Madame President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

“Good government policy has broad categories. In this case, instead of picking out one characteristic at a time and saying it is worthwhile doing it for this reason, this reason, this reason, this reason, why don’t we just have one category – paid time off. Since every family’s or every person’s needs are different, he can allocate among that which is available his own personal time off for whatever reason he or she needs.

“I ask my colleagues to oppose this measure. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 66 was adopted and S.B. No. 931, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HAWAII VICTIMS LEAVE ACT,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 15. Noes, 6 (Hemmings, Hogue, Sakamoto, Slom, Trimble, Whalen). Excused, 4 (Bunda, Hanabusa, Hooser, Taniguchi).

Senator Chun Oakland moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 70 be adopted and S.B. No. 1492, S.D. 1, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Menor.

Senator Whalen rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“Madame President, I speak in opposition to this bill.

“I’m a little bit surprised about the moratorium. I know that there has been problems trying to figure out a way to regulate or, to phrase it another way, to ensure the safety of different ones. But I don’t see a need to put a moratorium. Although theoretically it’s short, it certainly sends a message through the industry or those who are interested in doing this type of housing project that they could be on shaky ground.

“We have a number of them in Kona that are very successful. Some are quite expensive, others aren’t, but everyone that I’ve talked to says that this is a tremendous gap group type filler thing that keeps our elderly out of homes or hospitals and allows them to stay in an environment, usually where they lived anyway.

“So I’m not sure why we’re putting a moratorium on there and I think it sends a bad message at a time when we’re trying to increase and encourage these types of options within the state.

“Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 70 was adopted and S.B. No. 1492, S.D. 1, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ASSISTED LIVING FACILITIES,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 18. Noes, 4 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Whalen). Excused, 3 (Bunda, Hanabusa, Taniguchi).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 72 (S.B. No. 975, H.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Kawamoto moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 72 be adopted and S.B. No. 975, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Fukunaga.

Senator Kanno rose and said:

“Madame President, I have remarks that I’d like to have inserted into the Journal. Thank you.”

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Kanno’s remarks read as follows:

“Madame President and Colleagues, I rise to speak against S.B. No. 975, C.D. 1, Relating to Government.

“This bill provides for tort immunity from claims arising from the use of public skateboard parks. It provides for limited liability for the state and counties when they are engaged in the designing, building and operation of a skateboard park. I am voting against this bill because it absolves the government from possible negligent action on its part in an activity primarily engaged in by our youth.

“Although I recognize the argument, especially of the county of Hawaii, that this bill is needed to encourage the establishment of skateboard parks, on balance, I cannot accept the fact that it leaves our youth at risk if there is negligence on the part of the county or state. The bill takes away certain rights enjoyed by our citizens to recover compensation from a government entity when it may be negligent in constructing or operating a skateboard facility and where that negligence was the cause of a person’s injury.

“Whenever the legislature makes a major change in existing concepts of law, whether it be tort law or some other area of law, I feel that it is our duty to examine all the facts to make a deliberate and reasoned decision. In this case there was no testimony or factual information of any law suits filed against the state or any county for injuries arising out of the use of any public skateboard park. I interpret this as an indication that the situation that this bill is attempting to address is based on incorrect assumptions or based only on the fear that someone may sue the county because of an injury.

“The civil justice system takes into consideration the fact that the activity may be a ‘dangerous’ activity and that the participant and potential injured person assumes responsibility and may be partially liable for his or her injury thereby resulting in no recovery or at least a reduction in any possible award.

“Although the state or counties would be held to the same standard of negligence for its failure to repair or maintain a skateboard park, I feel that government should be held to a standard of care where they would be responsible for the design and construction of any recreational facility that especially caters to the youth of our state.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 72 was adopted and S.B. No. 975, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO GOVERNMENT," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, 1 (Kanno). Excused, 3 (Bunda, Hanabusa, Taniguchi).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 73 (S.B. No. 740, H.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Baker moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 73 be adopted and S.B. No. 740, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Madame President, reading the committee report we noticed that since 1923, or for the last 80 years, this activity has been occurring within the territory and the State of Hawaii. If we've managed to get along for 80 years, I don't see any reason to change the law now.

"Thank you."

Senator Baker rose to speak in support of the measure and stated:

"Madame President, I have remarks in support of this measure I'd like to have inserted into the Journal."

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Baker's remarks read as follows:

"Madame President, I rise to speak in support of S.B. No. 740, C.D. 1, which establishes in statute the Public Health Nursing Services Program within the Department of Health. This measure formally recognizes the important roles and functions that public health nurses have been providing to Hawaii's people.

"The public health nursing program was established by the department of health in 1923 to provide services in the areas of communicable disease control, infant welfare and nutrition. Public health nurses perform home visitations to monitor and follow up on health conditions, and to identify, screen and assess children for early intervention programs. These nurses continue to play a prominent role in prevention and control of communicable diseases and immunization activities, and also provide an immediate response to epidemics and other catastrophic disasters and traumatic emergency events affecting the community. They are also heavily involved in Felix-related services and breast and cervical cancer prevention programs, among others. Clearly, PHN has become an indispensable program for the State.

"By establishing the Public Health Nursing Services Program within the Department of Health, we recognize the importance of the program as part of the State's infrastructure to protect the health of Hawaii's citizens. S.B. No. 740, C.D. 1 assures PHN's continued existence and the continued provision of nursing services to thousands around Hawaii. I urge my colleagues to join me to support this important measure.

"Mahalo."

Senator Hogue rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

"Madame President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

"I noticed that the good Senator who is a Minority colleague of mine seems to have great personal knowledge about occurred in 1913 and 1923. So, I was just wondering if he has any other further comments about what happened early in the twentieth century.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 73 was adopted and S.B. No. 740, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HEALTH," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, 1 (Trimble). Excused, 3 (Bunda, Hanabusa, Taniguchi).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 74 (S.B. No. 38, H.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Kim moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 74 be adopted and S.B. No. 38, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Madame President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"Attorneys, attorneys, attorneys – God must love attorneys; he's created so many of them. The discussion in this bill originally was to allow the Hawaii Tourism Authority to hire its own legal counsel because the complaint was that under the prior administration and the prior attorney general, the HTA, like other departments, including the Department of Education, did not get prompt, efficient, talented legal assistance. The new attorney general made a personal commitment that that would change, and the HTA brought up the issue that their contracts somehow were so specialized and unique that the nearly 200 deputy attorney generals in our state attorney general's office would not have the knowledge to work with those kinds of specialized contracts.

"However, in our most recent hearings, which you conducted, Madame President, so well you conducted those hearings, a questioning of the executive director of HTA said that he is very satisfied with the legal services he's getting, that he is very confident that they have the competency to take care of all of the specialized legal contracts like turf grass, and how much you pay for a hot dog down at the stadium, and things like that. So therefore, I don't think we need any additional attorneys at taxpayer expense.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 74 was adopted and S.B. No. 38, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HAWAII TOURISM AUTHORITY," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 17. Noes, 5 (Hemmings, Hogue, Ige, Slom, Whalen). Excused, 3 (Bunda, Hanabusa, Taniguchi).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 76 (S.B. No. 1423, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Chun Oakland moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 76 be adopted and S.B. No. 1423, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Hooser.

Senator Hogue rose to speak in opposition of the measure as follows:

“Madame President, I rise in opposition to this.

“I’m a father. I’m a proud father of four. I certainly don’t need a commission telling me how to be a father. We don’t need to have a commission on fatherhood. This is a ridiculous intrusion of government into the home. I’m proud to be a father and I certainly don’t need the government telling me how to be one.

“So, for these reasons, it seems like a ridiculous bill. I’ll be voting ‘no.’ Thank you.”

Senator Kanno rose to speak in support of the measure and said:

“Madame President, I rise to speak in support of the measure.

“I am offended that my colleague finds this legislation to be ridiculous. The Commission on Fatherhood is very important. Recent research proves the active involvement of fathers in the upbringing of their children results in children doing better health-wise, as well as in school, and it keeps them out of trouble.

“This is important because government funds a large number of services provided to children and families, and if you think about those services, most of those services get provided only through the mother. So part of the Commission on Fatherhood, as stated in the bill, is to promote and encourage the active involvement of fathers, which would result in better outcomes for their children.

“The commission is set up as a temporary two-year commission attached to the Office of the Lieutenant Governor. I think there has been a lot of misunderstanding about the bill and that maybe the commission is about telling people how to be fathers, rather it’s about how government can better serve families by involving fathers in the services they already provide.

“Thank you very much.”

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition of the measure as follows:

“Madame President, I, too, rise in opposition to this bill.

“I think we’ve got it backwards here. As a father who admits at least to four sons that I know of, none of whom look that much like me, the point should not be government involvement. Government involvement has never made a better father or a better mother. If government wants to help fathers and mothers, it can reduce taxes and regulations so people don’t have to spend so much time working and away from their children to provide for the upkeep of government.

“A good father, a responsible father, like a good mother, is one who takes their responsibility seriously, loves their children and understands that it’s a lifetime commitment, and no government body or commission is going to make that something that they’re required to do.

“So, we can talk about this; it may be ‘feel good legislation.’ I don’t know whether it’s ridiculous or not, but in the grand scheme of things, if the government really wants to help fathers and mothers and families and children, then it should reduce its impact on their daily lives, not increase it.

“Thank you.”

Senator Chun Oakland rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations and said:

“Madame President, I speak in favor of this measure.

“I am in support of this measure because, like the Senator from Kapolei, I feel that we need to raise the awareness of our community about how important fathers are in a child’s life. I’m glad that these dads here speaking acknowledge that important role that you play. There are no public funds that will be involved in this. The Lieutenant Governor has graciously allowed us to attach it to his office so that we can raise the awareness in the community.

“So, I do support this measure. Thank you.”

Senator Hogue rose and said:

“Madame President, I’m just kind of curious, could I . . .”

The Chair interjected:

“For what reason do you rise?”

Senator Hogue replied:

“For a question. For a question, seriously. And I didn’t mean to impugn your integrity when I called the bill ridiculous, but the point here is that it seems that we are getting involved here, government involvement with fathers. I’m curious why you didn’t just call this relating to a commission on families or something like that because that seems to be the intent that you’ve expressed and also the good Senator from Kalihi. I could support something like that, but actually to have a commission on fatherhood, that’s the part that I have problems with.

“So, why was that?”

Senator Kanno responded:

“Actually, Hawaii is slow on the uptake. There is a fatherhood movement sweeping the country. A number of states have established commissions on fatherhood for exactly the same reasons we are.

“Although we’re not trying to focus on fathers at the exclusion of mothers, we really do believe it’s important to put a focus on fathers. As I said earlier, the government programs that are provided through the Department of Health and the Department of Human Services are mostly provided directly to the mother. For our generation, our primary caregiver as children were our mothers. For today’s generation, we expect our fathers today to do so many other things. Fathers today are expected to be in the delivery room; that’s different. We are really asking fathers today to be something different than our own fathers were.

“If you think about all the services government provides, even with our schools and the bill that’s up next on the agenda, it all impacts us as well. We want parents involved in the education of our children. We have to make sure that we’re able to involve fathers as well as mothers. We are not trying to exclude the mother in any way, but unless we put a special focus on fathers, fathers will be excluded, and they do play a critical role in the lives of their children.

“The multitude of services that government provides, whether it be WIC (Women, Infants and Children), or the Department of Health maternal child health branch, what happens to the fathers in the equation? Across the country, states are looking at welfare reform, as well as reforms to their child support law because they recognize the need to involve fathers in a positive way. One of those ways is helping fathers to get back to work. That will help fathers in the area of welfare as well as child support.

“There are many areas for us to tackle. Hawaii is really behind the ball. If you look at the legislation that’s evolving across the country, in Congress, as well as being generated by our President, they are all looking at father-specific legislation because it’s been lacking in these areas.

“Thank you.”

Senator Hemmings rose to speak against the measure and said:

“Madame President, I rise to speak against this legislation. I wasn’t going to do it. (Laughter.)

“I find it quite ironic that the rationale for this bill is to involve fathers in the welfare of their children. But quite ironically, earlier in this Session we passed a bill that allows, for the purposes of convenience, a mother to abandon her child without involvement of the father. So, along with the many other contradictions that government has put into the relationship between men and women, this is especially contradictory, especially with these two bills coming to the Floor today to be voted upon.

“With this bill, we’re asking fathers to be held accountable and to get involved in their children’s lives. And with another bill, we’re telling a mother, for the most part, leave your child on the doorstep of some stranger and you’re totally without liability, and quite frankly, we don’t care what the father thinks. This is the kind of contradiction and kind of government involvement that drives most fathers and most mothers somewhat crazy.

“Anyway, I hope we can ruminate on this, and after doing so, vote ‘no.’”

Senator Trimble rose to speak with reservations and said:

“Madame President, I speak with reservations on this matter. I was just curious what ruminating meant. Is that something a cow did? (Laughter.)

“Anyway, I take umbrage at the sexist remarks made by the gentleman from over there. Men are not whiners. Men realize that we live in a sexist society and we’re the brunt of many comments, many jokes, and discrimination in the law. But that’s all right. We have broad shoulders; we can stand up and take it.

“What bothers me is that we continue to try and divide society into little interest groups. Why don’t we try and look at it from the whole? We are a body of diverse people. Our strength is in our diversity. We do not need commissions for this group – women; this group – the aged. Each commission we set up does have a cost. They print a report, and the next thing they’re going to want to do is change the law and increase government involvement.

“I will be voting for this measure with reservations this year only.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 76 was adopted and S.B. No. 1423, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO A COMMISSION ON FATHERHOOD,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 19. Noes, 3 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom). Excused, 3 (Bunda, Hanabusa, Taniguchi).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 77 (S.B. No. 205, S.D. 3, H.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Kanno moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 77 be adopted and S.B. No. 205, S.D. 3, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Kawamoto.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

“Madame President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

“This actually is a continuation, in many respects, to what we just did, although what this does is to require paid parental leave for public employees for up to two hours per semester to attend either a conference with a teacher or with a caregiver. Now, I sat through the hearings in the Labor Committee and there was not one person who came forward and said there was a problem. There was not one person that said that there was not flexibility in either the public or private sector workplaces. So why do we always think of more government? And that’s what that last argument was about; that’s what this argument is about – getting the government involved – government services, government programs, government intervention.

“There’s another point to this little story here as well, and the people that testified said, basically they are doing this already. I don’t know of any private employers that if there is an issue where a parent, mother or father, wants to be involved with their children, has an important conference, that they can’t have the flexibility to work it out. That’s what people do, particularly in small businesses.

“Also, however, employees today, if they go to a doctor they are generally required to provide a doctor’s note since they’re paid for that time off. If they vote or when they vote while they’re given time off, they’re still asked to bring in the stub that they have actually voted. This bill doesn’t require anything. It sets up the time that they’re off, ostensibly, to go to one of these conferences but does not require any proof that in fact they did, that they just had the time off.

“And the bottom line on all this is, it does not improve parenting. Good parents are involved. Good employers recognize good employees and provide for the flexibility. We do not need additional bills like this.”

Senator Kanno rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

“Madame President, I rise to speak in support of the measure.

“I was at the same hearing as the Senator from Hawaii Kai and I heard something different. One of the testifiers got up and said that S.B. No. 205 will provide a needed and welcomed benefit for working dads so that they can balance their role as provider and nurturing father. Dads will be able to take needed time off for important events in their children’s lives such as parent-teacher conferences.

“While many of us believe employers should value their employees needs to attend to the health and education of their children, the reality is that parents are often unable or unwilling to ask their employers for leave to attend to such important matters.

“The bill is actually codifying a practice that’s currently underway for state employees as well as employees of the County of Maui and the County of Kauai. For state employees, it was an administrative directive back in 1993. It’s been in place since then. The bill, one, puts it in statute, codifying that practice as well as expanding the privilege to employees of the City and County of Honolulu as well as Hawaii County. That’s why the measure is important.

“Thank you.”

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“Madame President, as a government employee, former government employee, I wish to speak to confirm what the . . . I’m sorry, I’m rising in opposition to this measure.

“As a former government employee, I want to confirm that it is a practice to give time off, that a note is required signed by the teacher, that you may have as many times off as you need. The first two hours and the second two hours per semester was generally done by a memo I think from Budget and Finance, but supervisors and managers, as a matter of course, provided it whenever it was needed.

“But this gets back to a bigger issue – what are a person’s responsibilities? We continue to say and look at time off, paid time off, in this category, that category – giving blood is good, give him time off for it; going to a parent-teachers conference is good, give him time off for it. In one sense we’re talking about fringe benefits, and that should be negotiated by the union. From another sense we’re talking about trying to direct other people’s lives. I think that the role of government in some senses should be limited and that the people have to be responsible for what they’re supposed to do.

“So, I continue to oppose creating additional or codifying additional small ingredients here, there, and there until after a while it really is going to add up to real money, a higher cost of doing government.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 77 was adopted and S.B. No. 205, S.D. 3, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EMPLOYMENT,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Hogue rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

“Madame President, I rise in opposition to this particular measure.

“Madame President, I know that there has been much discussion about the fact that judges deserve raises because we need to get the highest level of potential judge in this particular position. However, I stand before you today in opposition to increases for any of the branches of our government, whether they be the judiciary, legislative, or the executive branch of government.

“We live in austere times, colleagues, and I think that we as Legislators need to take the lead and say ‘no’ to salary increases now or in the near future, and this goes for judges as well. It is not prudent to be discussing raises at this time, not for the judiciary, the legislature, or any other state employees. Above all, the judiciary, legislature, and the executive branch all stand in public service and they are public servants and so they should not be looking at this at an opportunity to make great money. Would I love to make more money than I make right now? You bet I would. Would judges like to make more money? You bet they would. But we are and they are all public servants.

“For these reasons, I encourage all of my colleagues, especially in these austere times, to vote ‘no’ on this measure. Thank you, Madame President.”

Senator Ihara rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations and said:

"Madame President, I still have the same concerns that I raised at the second crossover vote so I'd like to just mention that those are my reservations."

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Madame Chair, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"Procurement is a people problem. It's more than a process problem. In my 27 years working for state government, even though there were problems in other divisions and other departments, it worked well when I tried to execute it because the people involved had good intentions and were held accountable for their actions.

"What bothers me most about this is that we continue to change procurement code. It doesn't seem to make it any better, and we still don't hold people accountable. This measure also increases the future cost of government by creating a body at the UH Law School (I've forgotten its name). Even though it may be no cost in the beginning, it will, after the first year running, be a cost to all of us, and having another body looking at procurement will not in and of itself produce results.

"I urge my colleagues to vote 'no' on this measure. Thank you."

Senator Kawamoto rose to speak in favor of the measure and said:

"Madame President, I rise to speak in favor of the bill.

"Madame President, the basis of this bill was an administration bill and her desire to change the procurement code to best fit small business, contractors, unions, and all those involved with the state procurement. The desire is to level the playing field. The desire is to try to do something that is going to be different from what we had in the past.

"In the past we had contracts that were awarded, and one month down the line you had a protest and the project would stop, and that would add cost to everything, to everybody. This bill was a bill in the making as it started out to be. We got the small contractors. We got the specialty license people. We got the crafts. We got the unions. We even got Mr. Saito. Mr. Saito spent about 15 hours in my office just hammering away to get a bill drafted. This is a bill both the administration and our Committee worked hard for and wants very much. This is a bill I think the Governor . . . I talked to her yesterday as we went to the change of command ceremony at Hickam and she talked about the procurement bill and she talks about it as something that she would like to see happen.

"This bill is a bill that's going to be changing our procurement code. It's going to bring back some integrity. Again, I believe that there's no physical impact. I ask all my colleagues to vote 'aye' on this bill."

Senator Slom rose in support of the measure and stated:

"Madame President, I rise in support of this measure.

"I'd like to echo many of the statements by my good friend and colleague and older classmate from the University of Hawaii. This was a process bringing in a number of different individuals and groups to try to make a better procurement law. We don't have a perfect procurement law. I doubt that we ever will. What we can do is continue to improve it and to try, as the Governor says, to make it more transparent.

"One of the added benefits from this procurement law as drafted right now is that it will solve a number of the problems in the campaign spending area because it will make reforms that will make giving to government officials a lot less lucrative since it changes the decision making process and again makes it more open and visible to the general public before, during, and after the actual bidding or procurement process.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 92 was adopted and S.B. No. 1262, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PROCUREMENT," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 96 (S.B. No. 1403, H.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Inouye moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 96 be adopted and S.B. No. 1403, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Kawamoto.

Senator Trimble rose in favor of the measure and stated:

"Madame President, I rise to speak in favor of this issue.

"It's a worthy bill. It's long overdue, and when we pass this bill, maybe we should revisit it next year and transfer lands that have been removed from the jurisdiction of the harbors division back to them. Specifically, I'm talking about piers 1 and 2, and piers 8 and 9 around the Aloha Tower, so that the agency that is responsible for insuring that our life blood to Hawaii is developed in a manner that takes care of the long term interest of the state, as well as any commercial development interest.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 96 was adopted and S.B. No. 1403, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION'S MARITIME-RELATED USES," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 100 (S.B. No. 1332, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Kanno moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 100 be adopted and S.B. No. 1332, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Madame President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"In adding to the words of the Senate Minority Leader from Kaneohe, the Floor Leader, earlier, this is a time that those of us in public office are trying to tell everybody else you have to tighten your belt and you have to do with what you have, and so I urge a 'no' vote on this commission to adjust salaries for the executive branch. Now, a lot of people argue that we're not really voting here to raise salaries; we are authorizing a salary commission in the case of the judiciary, the executive, and the legislative branches. However, a review of history since we have enacted the commission laws shows that in each and every case, the commission comes up with an increase. And the onerous part is that the Legislature has to vote no, otherwise, the increases become law.

“The other part about this, the executive branch, which is pretty interesting, even though the executive branch is supporting this and they had people attending hearings saying that you get what you pay for and that they need bigger salaries, better salaries, we could not ask for a better group of cabinet appointees in the 16 people that have been assembled and confirmed by the Senate, assembled by the Governor. All of them seem to be overqualified. All of them we know can do better in the private sector in terms of salary and compensation, but it was that extra component that the Senator from Kaneohe was talking about – public service. And that should not be lost, particularly at this time when we’re asking people to make cuts and do without.

“Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 100 was adopted and S.B. No. 1332, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE COMPENSATION OF OFFICIALS IN THE EXECUTIVE BRANCH OF STATE GOVERNMENT,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 16. Noes, 4 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Trimble). Excused, 5 (Bunda, Hanabusa, Kawamoto, Taniguchi, Whalen).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 110 (S.B. No. 748, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Baker moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 110 be adopted and S.B. No. 748, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Sakamoto.

Senator Trimble rose to speak against the measure and said:

“Madame President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

“Colleagues, consider this – an aye vote is the same as a vote of no confidence to the Board of Regents and the University of Hawaii. What good is it to talk about a world class university if the most essential needs of our community go unmet? Specifically I’m talking about the failure of the nursing education program at the University of Hawaii and the college of education. In both regards, they are not turning out a sufficient number of employees to fill the current amount of jobs that are now available.

“We would be remiss if we thought that we could solve the problem of bad management by adding to the bureaucracy by creating a loan program. I think that we need to hold people accountable to get them to make the proper choices, to set the right priorities, and I urge you that if you don’t vote ‘no,’ at least consider what I’ve been saying.

“Thank you.”

Senator Baker rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

“Madame President, I rise to speak in support of this measure.

“Madame President, I’m not certain that the Senator from Waikiki was looking at the same bill that I’m looking at when I look at the conference draft on S.B. No. 748. This measure is not about management at the university. It’s about a nursing shortage that looms before us.

“The bill, as we originally passed it across to the House and as we considered it in Conference, had both a nursing loan program and additional funding for faculty staff. The problem that we sought to address with this measure was the fact that there are individuals in our community who would like to pursue a nursing career and are perhaps older students. They are looking for a career change and cannot, without some financial assistance, go forward into that career option.

“Unfortunately, because of the financial crisis that our own budget was facing, we were unable to fund faculty positions which would have allowed more entrants into the nursing program, and we were unable to put dollars into the program. We’ve setup the framework hoping that in the near future, and looking to the private sector, we may be able to provide additional funds for this important endeavor.

“It’s not a slap at the university; it’s acknowledging a need, particularly called to our attention after the nursing strike this year, that we need to pay attention to this very important area in our community. And although it’s imperfect, I ask all my colleagues to vote in favor of this measure.

“Thank you.”

Senator Hogue rose to speak in support of the measure and said:

“Madame President, I rise in support of this particular measure.

“Colleagues, as all of us have seen, there is a severe nursing shortage that exists not only in the State of Hawaii, but all over the country, just as there is a teacher shortage that exists here in the State of Hawaii and all over the country. I think it is good public policy to look to ways to encourage those people to get into these much needed fields.

“So this is a step in the right direction and I encourage all of my colleagues to vote ‘yes.’ Thank you.”

Senator Trimble rose in rebuttal as follows:

“Madame President, I rise in rebuttal.

“The last time I looked, the budget at the University of Hawaii was what, $700 million? The support provided by the State of Hawaii was in the hundreds of millions of dollars. They may say that they do not have enough money, but I question whether in that $700 million or the hundreds of millions of dollars the state is providing them, they could not find the money necessary to expand the college of education and the nursing program to handle those that are able and willing to go to the University of Hawaii for a quality education.

“Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 110 was adopted and S.B. No. 748, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO NURSING EDUCATION,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 20. Noes, 1 (Trimble). Excused, 4 (Aduja, Bunda, Hanabusa, Taniguchi).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 113 (S.B. No. 1321, H.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Baker moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 113 be adopted and S.B. No. 1321, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Menor.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition of the measure and said:

“Madame President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

“This measure has been part of the prepaid healthcare act and mandated policies for a number of years and was scheduled to sunset. This bill in this version does a number of things. First of all, it eliminates the sunset provision. Secondly, it expands the definition of serious mental illness. Thirdly, I add new mandated health benefits which would be covered.

“Madame President, I know that mental illness has been a growing concern in our community and nationally as well, and certainly there are reasons to provide medical or insurance care. However, up to this point, the definition has been narrowed and been specific enough that doctors have been able to prescribe treatment and to have some way of accounting for the results.

“What this bill does, really, is take out all restrictions, all limitations, and allows for, as I said, additional definitions and additional benefits. This would be seen as a major cost driver, particularly for those in the small business community that have to foot the bill for the prepaid healthcare act.

“So, we’re doing a number of different things. We’re not really looking at the problems that prepaid healthcare has caused us because a lot of people are finding it very expensive or almost impossible to get basic medical health. And what we keep doing is loading up on additional mandates, which may be sought and may be needed for certain people, but they come at a greater cost.

“I also point to items in our budget, which we all passed unanimously this morning, that cover appropriations for adult mental health. And I caution that while we are looking right now at amounts of money to add to these different kinds of programs, that we should be very cautious and we should be aware that this can be the next area that will develop into a Felix area where the juveniles who have been treated for special education and now become adults are going to need continuing medical services, and it seems that the definitions continue to increase on a monthly basis.

“So, I think we have a number of concerns here, not the least of which is the cost driver effect, but also the part of accountability for these services and also the rationale for trying to measure any kind of acceptable response.

“So, for these and other reasons, I urge a ‘no’ vote on this bill. Thank you.”

Senator Baker rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

“Madame President, I rise to speak in support of this measure.

“I actually wish that I could stand here and say that what the Senator from Hawaii Kai said was true, because if what he said were true, we would be close to full parity. Unfortunately, this bill is very narrow. It doesn’t add any new definitions. It clarifies that bipolar mood disorder is bipolar types I and II. It takes out all of the additional mental health illnesses that the administration had requested and that this Senate had passed over to the House and had hoped to restore in this particular measure.

“This bill is very limited. It makes the limited parity that was passed in previous legislation permanent, but it does not expand the definition. As a matter of fact, this measure just takes a baby step towards making mental health benefits equal to benefits for physical illnesses and injuries.

“There have been two studies done in recent history. One in 1997, we had a sunrise review but that wasn’t enough for the House to go forward with additional mental illness identification. We had one done at the request of the Legislature in 2000 by Session Laws Act 243, and that measure said that approximately 2.2 percent of overall health insurance costs are costs associated with mental health and substance abuse – 2.2 percent. Mental health benefits are hardly a cost driver. Prescription drugs, now that’s a cost driver . . . but for the overall system, but not mental health benefits.

“Of the plan members that use both mental health and substance abuse, there’s approximately 4.1 percent – 1.1 percent of that is for serious mental illness, 2.8 percent for other mental illness. We’re not talking about a huge amount, and this bill doesn’t even expand to a whole range of serious mental illness. We’ve taken out depression, major depression. We’ve taken out dissociative disorder, compulsive disorder. The items that are listed in the bill are already the ones that are on the books. All this measure does is to make this particular baby step towards parity permanent.

“This measure falls short of full and comprehensive parity for the treatment of mental illness, that has been the goal of your Health Committee and this Senate. But S.B. No. 1321, C.D. 1, preserves previous gains and takes an important step forward in providing nondiscriminatory coverage for all illnesses that affect many members of our community. It does help to reduce the stigma for persons that need mental health services.

“In addition, a recommendation at the close of this Session will be made that the Senate agree with the House amendments to S.C.R. No. 116 to continue to demonstrate that parity is not a costly benefit. S.C.R. No. 116 requests a sunrise study of mandatory health insurance coverage for mental health, alcohol, and drug abuse treatment. We expect this study to confirm the 1997 auditor’s report and the 2000 report of the Insurance Task Force on Mental Health that mental health services originally outlined in this measure will not add significantly to the cost of providing such coverage. We already know that the coverage of this bill, its limited coverage, does not add to the cost. Perhaps armed with that supplemental information, we’ll be able to allay the fears articulated by our House colleagues and bring full parity to final action next year.

“For now, I ask that my colleagues join me in supporting this measure which will bring a small step of treatment parity to those with serious mental illness.

“Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 113 was adopted and S.B. No. 1321, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MENTAL HEALTH,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 20. Noes, 2 (Hogue, Slom). Excused, 3 (Bunda, Hanabusa, Taniguchi).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 114 (S.B. No. 1446, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Baker moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 114 be adopted and S.B. No. 1446, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Ige.

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“Madame President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

“We should be judged by not what we say we want to do but what we actually do. This year, this Session, we create a special fund. Next year, maybe there’ll be some money in it . . . then we can take it out and move it into the general fund.

“It has been our practice, our standing practice, for the last several years, and there is no reason to believe that our behavior is going to change this time. So, instead of saying take money from A and put it in B and then into C, why don’t we just eliminate some of the bureaucracy and move the funds directly from A to C.

“Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 114 was adopted and S.B. No. 1446, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TECHNOLOGY,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, 1 (Trimble). Excused, 3 (Bunda, Hanabusa, Taniguchi).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 120 (S.B. No. 576, H.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Sakamoto moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 120 be adopted and S.B. No. 576, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Kawamoto.

Senator Trimble rose to speak on the measure as follows:

“Madame President, students pay tuition because they think it’s going to go towards their cost . . .”

Senator Baker interjected:

“Point of order. For what purpose does the Senator rise?”

Senator Trimble replied:

“I rise to speak against this measure.

“This is an inappropriate use of money – to take money from the tuition fund and use it for the alumni association. I’ve risen on several previous occasions and said that the priorities of the University of Hawaii are not what they should be. We talked about nursing. We talked about education. And here we have another example of those misplaced priorities seeking to use money in the tuition fund, tuition paid by students for their education for an activity that is not immediate and direct to that education.

“Thank you.”

Senator Sakamoto rose to speak in support of the measure and said:

“Madame President, I speak in support of the measure, and in part to clarify the previous comment.

“At one point in the progress of this measure, it did include the alumni activities. And as I note in the summary, it’s stated there, but in Conference we removed that contribution from this measure. The foundation remains, as well as was added, reports and the auditor’s ability to access the records of the foundation. So, I’m in agreement with the previous speaker that perhaps the alumni activities would find more appropriate funding. But that is not in this measure.”

Senator Trimble noted:

“Madame President, can I change my ‘no’ vote?”

The Chair responded:

“You just did.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 120 was adopted and S.B. No. 576, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE UNIVERSITY OF HAWAII,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Noes, none. Excused, 3 (Bunda, Hanabusa, Taniguchi).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 123 (S.B. No. 1237, S.D. 1, H.D. 2, C.D. 1):

On motion by Senator Sakamoto, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 123 was adopted and S.B. No. 1237, S.D. 1, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Noes, none. Excused, 3 (Bunda, Hanabusa, Taniguchi).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 125 (S.B. No. 17, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Sakamoto moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 125 be adopted and S.B. No. 17, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senator Kanno rose for a conflict ruling as follows:

“Madame President, I would like to request a ruling on a possible conflict. I have a daughter whose fifth birthday will be on October 13, 2005 and will be included in the first group of ‘gap group children’ affected by the legislation.”

The Chair ruled that Senator Kanno was not in conflict.

Senator Kanno then rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations as follows:

“Madame President, I rise to speak in support with reservations.

“I would like to commend the Education Chair for his hard work on this legislation. There are strong points to this bill. I would also like to share some concerns.

“The bill says that in 2005, the DOE shall offer appropriate educational programs, including but not limited to junior kindergarten or pre-kindergarten for ‘gap group children’ born between August 2nd and January 1st. The bill then directs DOE to conduct a feasibility study on these programs.

“Conducting a feasibility study implies that one option is that it is not feasible. Is the Legislature giving the DOE the choice of whether it wants to implement this? If not, it may have been appropriate to direct the DOE to develop an implementation plan instead of a feasibility study.

“The legislation directs the DOE to assess whether pre-kindergarten should be permanent or transitional. We are committed to offering pre-kindergarten, but why would we offer it for only a limited time. Children for years to come will need these services and we should not be providing a back door to the DOE to escape from these commitments. I ask my colleagues to remember that we are restricting children from entering kindergarten. We need to provide an educational alternative to the children we turn away – and not only for the first year; this will affect children every year.

“The feasibility study does not address curriculum. I contend that curriculum is one of the most important items to address and yet it is not.

“I would also suggest that DOE develop a recommendation on whether pre-kindergarten programs should be offered by public employees or by the private sector.

“The bill allows for privately-operated pre-kindergartens on school campuses. Unfortunately, it does not allow the DOE to access private programs that are on DOE campuses.

“I urge my colleagues to support the measure. Thank you.”

Senator Chun Oakland rose to speak in support to the measure as follows:

“Madame President, I also stand in support of this.

“I appreciate what the Chair of Education has done to make this bill better. I do share some of the concerns of the previous speaker and am glad to see that there is a mandatory provision to require that preschool opportunities be provided to the children that will not be able to enter kindergarten who are born after, I believe it’s August 1st.

“I do hope that for any school that does not have the facilities to provide that preschool option, that we have some kind of process in place that will allow the child to attend a school within that school complex. I don’t believe that we should be requiring the families to have to travel very far to be able to provide that preschool opportunity for their children. It should be within their neighborhood.

“I also am very grateful, I believe, that the Chair and Vice Chair of the Ways and Means have placed in the budget a position for the pre-plus coordinator within the Department of Human Services. This is a critical piece in order to have preschool options on school campuses in our elementary schools.

“So with that, again, Chairman of Education, our Committee, and all of you, thank you very much.”

Senator Sakamoto rose to speak in support as follows:

“Madame President, I rise in support of the measure.

“I appreciate the comments of the previous two speakers. And in regard to the comments from the speaker from Royal Kunia and other areas, certainly the intention is that we go ahead. I think there are concerns in the House regarding cost concerns; therefore, they wanted the measure to at least allow the department and others to come back on cost concerns, and the House continues to have some concerns.

“However, I think we in the Senate feel that it’s important that these children get age appropriate education, not be left on the streets. The Senator from Alewa’s concerns of no one being left out are certainly our concerns as a Senate, and we hope the measure can survive, but certainly we’d like these children to have age appropriate education.

“Thank you.”

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition of the measure and said:

“Madame President, I rise in opposition to the bill.

“This is a troubled bill, and it’s not just between the Senate and the House. There are so many different things that have been put into this bill and so many things that it has come along from the initial version. At one time, this bill was going to make kindergarten mandatory.

“We’re basing an awful lot on age. We’re basing an awful lot on studies. We’re basing it a lot on theories of age appropriateness and so forth. What we’re leaving out are the parents and flexibility, and I think what this shows once again, instead of really going for educational reform and decentralization, we’re tinkering with the deck chairs as to how to require more people and more of the bureaucracy. We are adding at least one more position.

“Initially, this bill was supposed to be a cost-saving device. There’s not going to be any cost savings in this bill. There’s going to be cost additions, and that’s clear. But the greatest troubling factor to me is the lack of flexibility and choice inherent in this bill.

“Thank you.”

Senator Hogue rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

“Madame President, I rise in support of this particular measure.

“I want to talk specifically about parental choice and flexibility. I am one parent who has made the choice to enter my children who have late (latter part of the year) birthdays, and so I entered them in kindergarten, ironically, a junior kindergarten a year later. And I’m glad that they did because they advanced in schooling. They’ve become academically proficient leaders in their classes, doing well socially, athletically, and academically. So I’m really proud that I have been able to have that flexibility and to do that.

“I think that this bill actually does give flexibility. There is actually a part of this particular bill that will allow individual schools to grant exceptions for those children whose parents feel that the children should be enrolled at an early time. So, I really believe that parents should have this right if they feel that they have an exceptional child and should be given that right, and I think the bill does grant that.

“I think that we will, through the course of this particular bill, by allowing parents to make that choice and also by following the lead of our counterparts on the mainland, we will give our children an age-appropriate education. We should not put them in harm's way by starting them late.

"My late wife was a teacher at Kaneohe Elementary School and she was a kindergarten teacher at the lowest level. And she came home one day (she taught half-day kindergarten) and she said, 'You know Bob, I can tell, as I look around the room and I can just actually look at the way that the children act, whether or not their birthdays are after July 1st,' because the children that squirmed, that were immature and really had trouble in her particular classroom, virtually every single one of those were after July 1st birthdays. Studies have proven that, so I think that that does back up with . . . I realize that it's anecdotal evidence, but I think it speaks to the studies that many kindergarten teachers and first grade teachers and elementary teachers have seen throughout time.

"There are some problems with this particular bill, and I think that the Senator from Kunia and that part of the island has spoken to it about the feasibility study. I know that there are some concerns in the Governor's Office about that particular portion of the bill. I would hope that the Governor would still allow this bill to go forward and those questions of the bill could be answered in the coming year.

"So, for these reasons, I encourage all of my colleagues to vote 'yes.' Thank you."

Senator Hooser rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

"Madame President, I rise in support.

"The difference of a year, when you're four and five years old, developmentally is huge. A child born on January 1st compared to the child born a year later, that difference is developmentally just really, really big.

"Research clearly shows . . . and I'm glad that we're basing our decisions on research and studies and not just flying by the seat of our pants here. This has been studied and the research overwhelmingly shows that students who are in the older half of their class are typically able to cope with the class course better. The students are more engaged and focused. They are emotionally more mature and less prone to stress. They are able to deal with teachers and peers in a more comfortable manner, and by teaching a more homogeneous group that is more socially, emotionally, and academically ready to learn, teachers are prone to be more effective by teaching to classes that are appropriately mature for their grade level.

"Most mainland schools have September 1st for a cutoff date. Hawaii public school students are currently four months behind when measured against mainland schools in social, emotional, and intellectual maturity as they start their academic careers.

"SAT scores of non-special education students born in the second half of the year are statistically significantly below those students who were born in the first half of the year. A significant amount of younger children of non-special education students are classified as having learning disorders. By making sure our students are prepared for the grade level they are entering, we can avoid classifying our children as having those learning disorders when in fact in most cases they are just not ready and they will perform much better if held back that one extra year.

"For these reasons, and also on the flexibility point, it says clearly in the bill, 'the department shall establish procedures and criteria to determine the readiness of children for public school kindergarten. Parents and guardians may request an assessment of the child and the department may grant an exception in the case of a child who is found to be ready for kindergarten.' I believe this is essentially the same process that's followed in private schools.

"I just believe in my heart . . . a lot has been said that we're not doing much for education, we're not doing much for education. This is a systemic change. This is a fundamental change that will affect every grade level from now on. The class of 2018 will benefit and the class of 2019 and beyond.

"This is real stuff. It's real important, and I encourage my colleagues to vote in support. Thank you."

Senator Menor rose and said:

"Madame President, please have the Clerk note that I'll be voting in favor of this bill but with reservations."

The Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 125 was adopted and S.B. No. 17, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, 1 (Slom).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 127 (S.B. No. 789, S.D. 1, H.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Kanno moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 127 be adopted and S.B. No. 789, S.D. 1, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Madame President, I rise in opposition to the bill.

"The bill will add significant cost. This bill specifically does not have an appropriation, but the appropriated amount which is found in the budget is $12.5 million and places cost implications on the employer for future contributions in Medicare part B.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 127 was adopted and S.B. No. 789, S.D. 1, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC EMPLOYEE HEALTH BENEFITS," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 20. Noes, 4 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Trimble). Excused, 1 (Sakamoto).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 128 (S.B. No. 1393, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1):

On motion by Senator Hanabusa, seconded by Senator Kawamoto and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 128 was adopted and S.B. No. 1393, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENTS OF STATE GOVERNMENT," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 20. Noes, 4 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Trimble). Excused, 1 (Sakamoto).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 132 (H.B. No. 1456, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator English moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 132 be adopted and H.B. No. 1456, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Menor.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure as follows:

“Madame President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

“While this bill does make certain changes that are applicable to I think the soft drink part of the industry, it does not make changes to the entire industry or to the bill itself. Since I voted against the imposition of the bill last year and still believe that the bill should be abolished, I’ll be voting ‘no.’

“I also note that in the bill some of the dates have been changed and part of it is retroactive to October of last year. Thank you.”

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure and stated:

“Madame President, I also rise in opposition to this measure.

“I agree that waste and litter is a significant issue. What disturbs me about this bill is that it was changed as it went along so that manufacturers in Hawaii who produced beverages and or water products would pay the deposit or the tax even though their product was exported. I consider this a significant burden to a potential future industry that has no corresponding benefit to reducing litter in the State of Hawaii.

“Thank you.”

Senator Whalen rose and said:

“Madame President, actually, I have a point of inquiry for the Chair.

“I was a little bit confused reading the bill. If he would submit to the question, it appears to me that the manufacturers here in Hawaii would have to start paying the deposit fee but people cannot collect the deposit on those containers until . . . well, they start paying in 2002 and they won’t start collecting until 2005. Is that a correct reading of the bill?”

The Chair then inquired:

“Is there a response? No response.”

Senator Whalen continued:

“No, I don’t want to recess. I’ll just be in opposition, then. If he doesn’t know, then I don’t know why we’re voting for it.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 132 was adopted and H.B. No. 1456, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE DEPOSIT BEVERAGE CONTAINER PROGRAM,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, 3 (Slom, Trimble, Whalen). Excused, 1 (Sakamoto).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 135 (H.B. No. 281, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Sakamoto moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 135 be adopted and H.B. No. 281, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Kawamoto.

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

“Madame President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

“This is an amazing bill. If you read it, we can eliminate the backlog of $540 million worth of school repairs just by writing reports and attending meetings. I contend that you can either do work or attend meetings, but you can’t do both at the same time, and that by adding further meetings and reports to the bureaucracy will make it increasingly bureaucratic.

“Finally, I think that our action today by voting yes by my colleagues that vote yes, we are in a sense giving a vote of no confidence to the board of education and the way they run the school system.

“Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 135 was adopted and H.B. No. 281, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO STATE EDUCATIONAL FACILITIES REPAIR AND MAINTENANCE,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 20. Noes, 2 (Slom, Trimble). Excused, 3 (Hanabusa, Menor, Taniguchi).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 136 (H.B. No. 638, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Sakamoto moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 136 be adopted and H.B. No. 638, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland.

Senator Trimble rose to speak against the measure as follows:

“Madame President, I spoke against this on April 8, so I rise to speak again.

“I suggested on April 8 that . . .”

The Chair interjected:

“To what reason do you rise?”

Senator Trimble responded:

“I am speaking in opposition to this measure.

“On April 8, I said that there are many worthy causes in Hawaii, including the fund for the widow of the Unknown Soldier. I suggest that as a body we decide how many we want to include. In California, I think the check off box is number 30. So instead of piecemealing it out one at a time and dealing with a different bill every year, why don’t we just consolidate and figure out how many we want and do it all at one time.

“So in the name of efficiency and keeping the cost of government in check, I urge you to vote ‘no.’

“Thank you.”

Senator English rose in support of the measure and stated:

“Madame President, I rise in support.

“I’d like to point out that there is no such thing as a fund for the widow of the Unknown Soldier because if it’s an unknown soldier, how do you know if the soldier is male or female? First, do you know if they have a widow? Second, how do you know if they’re married? So, we have to be very clear that there is no such thing as a fund for the widow of the Unknown Soldier.

“Thank you.” (Laughter.)

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 136 was adopted and H.B. No. 638, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HAWAII STATE PUBLIC LIBRARY SYSTEM,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 17. Noes, 4 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Trimble). Excused, 4 (Bunda, Hanabusa, Menor, Taniguchi).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 137 (H.B. No. 289, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Sakamoto moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 137 be adopted and H.B. No. 289, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Hooser.

Senator Hogue rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“Madame President, I rise in opposition to this particular measure.

“A couple of concerns that I have, one is a mandate which will take away flexibility, the other is that the question has been taken out of this particular measure.

“Essentially, colleagues, the Conference Committee has stripped this bill of any major school reform mandates. The bill’s only accomplishment is conforming statutes to reflect the new complex area structure. What we are doing is we are mandating 15 complex areas that already exist. Not only is this legislation unnecessary, but it takes away from any future flexibility of the Board of Education to make changes to school governance.

“Just think about it. It was just a couple of years ago that we went from seven districts to these 15 area complexes. So, if some future state board, if we decided to continue with centralization, came along, we would not be able to make changes because we’ve mandated it to be 15 area complexes.

“We in the Legislature are always looking to reform the school system year after year. Why stall any chance for future reform in the form of governance by passing this particular legislation.

“More importantly, rather than just that particular point, it’s just the fact that once again the people have not been given the opportunity to decide. The constitutional question was put into this particular measure. I know that the Senate debated this over and over again. While I was not in accord with the final question, I did appreciate the Senate’s stand.

“I wish that rather than passing this particular legislation, we pass nothing at all and work very, very hard in the interim to allowing the people to decide. We need to allow the people to decide if in fact we should have decentralization. We need to put that particular question on the ballot so that the people can decide whether or not we should have a constitutional amendment. That is our job as an elected representative to work very hard for what our people want, and that, I believe, is local autonomy.

“For those reasons, I urge you vote ‘no.’ Thank you.

Senator Sakamoto rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

“Madame President, I rise in support of the measure.

“I think rather than mandate, as the previous speaker perhaps has suggested, it does, yes, codify in statute, and the bill does establish complex-based management units, which are comprised of a high school, middle school or intermediate, and the feeder elementary schools. And the 15, yes, are in place, so we’re not mandating the department to do that, but sort of affirming that to correct what was in statute as formerly being districts. We’re correcting the statute in that regard.

“What I think, members and the Senator from Enchanted Lakes, the operative part in this measure, because we could put into statutes the complex, the part that I feel is very important, and we will move ahead on or should move ahead on is the part that says the complex areas shall insure that curricula within each school complex and as practicable within each complex area are aligned with statewide performance standards pursuant to Section 302A and demonstrate a coherent progression through all grade levels. So, by putting the complex in here, then we can start to get to the heart of the matter in the alignment within a complex. The individual schools, ideally I guess, would then organize curriculum calendars, etc., to accommodate the best use of alignment in the programs as well as professional development training and move forward as a K-12 unit.

“The systemic organization of complex-based management structures is essential, in a sense, to line up statewide content and performance standards. This management system would accommodate complex planning. We haven’t done some of the other measures, but I guess I’d like to assure the previous speaker that it is not my intention, nor do I believe it’s our Senate’s intention, to say this is in lieu of or in place of any other reform. I think we were hopeful to get some sort of question if indeed we could come upon one. Let’s hope next year that can be the case. But I think having the complex unit defined and hopefully pressing on the curricula alignment would be a step forward, and we can still do other reforms, government reforms, in the future.

“Thank you.”

Senator Ige rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations and said:

“Madame President, I stand in support with reservations.

“I support the concept that complex areas should be responsible for curriculum. My concern is that there are lots of bodies and resources in the state office that are assigned to curriculum, and although this measure gives the responsibility for curriculum to the complex, it doesn’t transfer any resources.

“Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 137 was adopted and H.B. No. 289, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 19. Noes, 4 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Trimble). Excused, 2 (Bunda, Taniguchi).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 138 (H.B. No. 1175, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Sakamoto moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 138 be adopted and H.B. No. 1175, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Hooser.

Senator Hogue rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“Madame President, I rise to speak in opposition to this particular measure.

“Madame President, if we were just changing references from administrative superintendent to complex areas superintendent, I wouldn’t have much of a problem. They are always obviously all decided that even though I voted no, that we are going to support the area complexes.

“But what we are doing with this particular measure is we are allowing the DOE to increase administrative costs by increasing the salaries of what would be complex area superintendents and adding the positions of deputy and assistant superintendents.

“If you look in Section 8, page 13 of the particular bill, essentially, what would be allowed is a 50 percent increase for certain employees – a raise of up to $40,000. In a budget crisis year when we are voting to charge student textbook fees, why are we spending money, big money, for administrative positions and raises?”

“Let us, as responsible Legislators, prioritize educational needs and wants and vote ‘no’ on this particular measure.

“Thank you, Madame President.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 138 was adopted and H.B. No. 1175, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 17. Noes, 5 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Trimble, Whalen). Excused, 3 (Bunda, Hanabusa, Taniguchi).

At 3:54 o’clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 4:49 o’clock p.m., with the President in the Chair.

The President then made the following announcement:

“Members, we deferred some matters and we want to go back to page 38 to take up S.B. No. 459, campaign spending. Following that bill, we will go to page 26 to do H.B. No. 1400, and after that we will come back to page 38 to do S.B. No. 464, relating to the fixed rail.”

FINAL READING

MATTER DEFERRED FROM EARLIER ON THE CALENDAR

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 84 (S.B. No. 459, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Hanabusa moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 84 be adopted and S.B. No. 459, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Kawamoto.

Senator Hanabusa then offered the following amendment (Floor Amendment No. 15) to S.B. No. 459, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1:

SECTION 1. Senate Bill No. 459, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, is amended by amending subsection (a) of section 11-204, Hawaii Revised Statutes, as amended by section 7 of the bill to read as follows:

“(a) (1) No person [~~or any other entity~~] shall make contributions to:

(A) ~~A candidate seeking nomination or election to a two-year office or to the candidate’s committee in an aggregate amount greater than $2,000 during an election period;~~

~~(B)~~ (A) A candidate seeking nomination or election to a four-year statewide office or to the candidate’s committee in an aggregate amount greater than $6,000 during an election period; [and]

~~(C) A candidate seeking nomination or election to a four-year nonstatewide office or to the candidate’s committee in an aggregate amount greater than $4,000 during an election period.]~~

(B) A candidate seeking nomination or election to a four-year term of a nonstatewide office, or the candidate’s committee, of an amount greater than $4,000 in the aggregate, for that election in which the candidate seeks office; or

(C) A candidate seeking nomination or election to a two-year term of office, or the candidate’s committee, of an amount greater than $2,000 in the aggregate, for that election in which the candidate seeks office.

These limits shall not apply to a loan made to a candidate by a financial institution in the ordinary course of business.

(2) For purposes of this section, the length of term of an office shall be the usual length of term of the office as unaffected by reapportionment, a special election to fill a vacancy, or any other factor causing the term of the office the candidate is seeking to be less than the usual length of term of that office.”

Senator Ihara rose and said:

“Mr. President, I assume we’re waiving the Senate Rule that requires floor amendments by 9:30 this morning, because I just got it about an hour ago . . . which is fine with me. Is that right?”

The President replied:

“Yes.”

Senator Hanabusa moved that Floor Amendment No. 15 be adopted, seconded by Senator Kawamoto.

Senator Hanabusa noted:

“Mr. President, Floor Amendment No. 15 speaks to an error in the C.D. 1. The C.D. 1 had in it an amendment which we do statewide election contributions to $4,000 for the election period. What Floor Amendment No. 15 does is restore statewide election to the $6,000 amount.”

The motion to adopt Floor Amendment No. 15 was put by the Chair and carried.

Senator Hanabusa moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 84 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Kawamoto and carried.

By unanimous consent, S.B. No. 459, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CAMPAIGN SPENDING,” was placed on the calendar for Final Reading on Thursday, May 1, 2003.

RECONSIDERATION OF ACTION TAKEN EARLIER ON THE CALENDAR

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 141 (H.B. No. 1400, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Kim moved that the Senate reconsider its action taken earlier on the calendar in recommitting Conf. Com. Rep. No. 141 and H.B. No. 1400, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, to the Committee on Conference, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senator Kim noted:

“Mr. President, as you know, we had laying on our desk a floor amendment 14 for this particular bill and there were some concerns about the tax impact. We have been in discussion with the tax department and there is some reconsideration of that, and we believe that we need more time and this item has to lay over until Thursday.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried.

Senator Kim then moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 141 be adopted and H.B. No. 1400, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Fukunaga.

Senator Kim then offered the following amendment (Floor Amendment No. 14) to H.B. No. 1400, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1:

SECTION 1. H.B. No. 1400, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, is amended by deleting the contents of the bill and substituting the following:

“SECTION 1. In October of 2001, the legislature met in special session to approve legislation designed to ameliorate the negative effects that the September 11, 2001, terrorist attacks had on Hawaii’s economy. Act 10, Third Special Session 2001, raised the percentage of the tax credit for construction and remodeling of hotels from four to ten per cent for costs incurred prior to July 1, 2003, to assist the tourism industry in its efforts to attract more visitors to Hawaii. The legislature finds that this tax credit is an excellent means to boost Hawaii’s tourism and construction industries, and that extension of this tax credit is warranted.

SECTION 2. Section 235-110.4, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is amended to read as follows:

“§235-110.4 Hotel construction and remodeling tax credit. (a) There shall be allowed to each taxpayer subject to the taxes imposed by this chapter and chapter 237D, an income tax credit, which shall be deductible from the taxpayer’s net

Failure to comply with the foregoing provision shall constitute a waiver of the right to claim the credit.

Senator Kim moved that Floor Amendment No. 14 be adopted, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senator Kim noted:

“Mr. President, H.B. No. 1400 in Conference was agreed to that it would be an 8 percent tax credit nonrefundable for three years, and 4 percent for four years thereafter. What actually came out of the final draft was 8 percent for four years. So, we needed to fix that and amend it on the Floor, which is what this bill is actually doing.”

The motion to adopt Floor Amendment No. 14 was put by the Chair and carried.

Senator Kim moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 141 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Taniguchi and carried.

By unanimous consent, H.B. No. 1400, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HOTEL CONSTRUCTION AND REMODELING TAX CREDIT,” was placed on the calendar for Final Reading on Thursday, May 1, 2003.

FINAL READING

MATTER DEFERRED FROM EARLIER ON THE CALENDAR

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 90 (S.B. No. 464, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Kawamoto moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 90 be adopted and S.B. No. 464, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senator Kawamoto rose to speak in favor of the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of the bill.

“Mr. President, this bill was again, as we promised, reduced to just a study. In fact the Governor has already started part of the study and is informally meeting with members of this body, members of the House body, and members of the City Council and the DTS person. We’re all working together trying to resolve the concerns about fixed rail or some alternative means of transportation to address the commute concerns of the Leeward communities.

“I ask all my colleagues to vote ‘aye’ on this bill. Thank you.”

Senator Espero rose to speak in support of the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I’d also like to rise in support of this measure.

“Twenty years ago the city and county had an opportunity to build a light rail. Unfortunately, in the ‘80s with a new administration, the project was killed. In the ‘90s there was also an opportunity for a light rail fixed system, and again the City Council made the decision and it killed it.

“Now is the time to re-look at that. The situation out in Leeward, West Oahu, and other parts of the island is getting worse. This is an option that we have to seriously consider because we have let opportunities slip through our fingers. Now is the time for these sets of politicians within this body, within the state and city and county to take a hard look and make some hard decisions that will allow the commuters to avoid traffic jams, stalls, congestion, even the rain. A light rail fixed system will do that, and I hope my colleagues will support this.

“Thank you.”

Senator Hemmings rose to speak against the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak against S.B. No. 464.

“Mr. President and colleagues, it’s been acknowledged already on this Floor that the Governor has put together a number of people that are looking at the vast alternatives that are available in the urban corridor of Honolulu to solve the problem of transit and traffic congestion. It’s way premature at this time to single out a fixed rail transit system as the only solution. The prudent thing to do is to wait until after additional information has been gathered by all the people involved and possibly move on this next Session if it is the prudent and the number one choice.

"In short, fixed rail may be a long-term solution but the real issue is it may not be, and it is premature at this time to make this commitment.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Kim rose to speak in favor of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of the measure.

"Mr. President, I was on that City Council 10, 15 years ago when, actually, fixed rail got voted down, and I want to go on record to say that I was in support of it. So I was not one that voted against it.

"Back then, Mr. President, I said 10 years from now, 20 years from now, we're going to need fixed rail or some kind of rail system. Our traffic problems are not going to lessen. And of course the opponents said, oh, we can do bus transit, and we can do dedicated lanes, and we can do all these zipper lanes. And we've done it, but we still have a bad traffic problem. And as I said back then, and I think it's still true today, that in the future it's only going to get worse. It's not going to get better, and we need to look at fixed rail or some kind of rail system in order to move our people in an efficient manner.

"So I urge my colleagues to support this. Thank you."

Senator Ihara rose and said:

"Mr. President, please note my reservations in support of this bill."

The Chair so ordered.

"Ten percent of the tobacco settlement moneys received by the Health Department is transferred to the department of human services to provide health care coverage to children under nineteen who are eligible under its children's health insurance program. However, during FY 01 and FY 02, portions of the tobacco settlement moneys meant for this purpose were unexpended. The funds remain in the Hawaii tobacco settlement special fund and may be used for payments to health care providers programs administered by the department of human services.

"This measure will allow the Department of Human Services to utilize surplus tobacco settlement moneys in FY 03. DHS understands that this is a one-time emergency appropriation. Given the extraordinary circumstances, this emergency appropriation is an acceptable approach. Senate Bill 585, C.D. 1, will enable us to provide vital and needed health care coverage to children under nineteen eligible for medical assistance programs. I urge my colleagues to join me in supporting this important measure.

"Mahalo."

Senator Baker rose and said:

"Mr. President, I have remarks I'd like to have inserted into the Journal."

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Baker's remarks read as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of S.B. No. 1279, C.D. 1, which consolidates the Cigarette Tax Stamp Enforcement Special Fund into the Tobacco Enforcement Special Fund. This measure provides the Department of the Attorney General with the necessary funding to carry out its mandate to enforce the cigarette tax stamp, in addition to enforcing the Master Settlement Agreement and administering tobacco prevention programs.

"Additionally, this measure assures our compliance with the Master Settlement Agreement by synchronizing timing of receipt of settlement moneys to match the timing of revenues and expenses utilized. This will ensure that settlement moneys to fund the activities of the tobacco enforcement unit will remain available when the schedule of payments changes in 2004.

"Senate Bill 1279, C.D. 1, will ensure that the State will continue to receive its share of the MSA settlement moneys and receives all of the cigarette tax stamp revenues to which it is entitled. I urge my colleagues to join me to support this important measure.

"Mahalo."

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"This is an omnibus bill that ostensibly talks about security for airports, harbors, transportation systems in all. In effect, it is a tax and fee increase bill. It introduces the passenger facility charge revenue fund, a thinly disguised special fund, and a new charge, the passenger revenue facility charge.

"In order to be consistent, Mr. President, I voted against this during a Democrat governor's administration and I'm going to vote against it during a Republican governor's administration. The plain fact is that it is going to be an additional charge, and in the guise of security, it is a revenue enhancement measure.

"There has been discussion that interisland flights are exempted from this new tax and that may be true, but anyone leaving for the mainland from international terminals from the neighbor islands or coming through Honolulu will still be taxed at an estimated $4.50 per person per ticket.

"Thank you."

Senator Kawamoto rose to speak in favor of the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of the bill.

"Mr. President, it's true that the departing Hawaii passengers going to the mainland would be charged this fee. It could be as high as $4.50. But this fee, because we haven't charged this fee in the past, is being charged right now to our people and they allow two departures to charge this fee if you're taking a trip to the mainland.

"What this fee does is provides us the opportunity to charge that initial fee here in Hawaii. And the reason why we didn't do that before is because of the fact that we didn't have the waiver in which we would be waived from interisland flights because of the fact that we are an island state. So now we have the waiver. In October, 2001 we did receive the waiver to not charge the interisland people on interisland flights.

"So, it's an opportune time for us to receive about $15 million for airport special funds. The other funds that are needed to get the federal funds that we have are to secure our ports. These monies will be used with the federal funds to secure our ports and for improvements to the harbors."

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"From a broader policy position, this is going in the wrong direction. We are isolated. We are an isolated community, and we're making it more expensive to leave here. From a social perspective, our attitude should be that anyone that wants to leave Hawaii we should facilitate that even if it were free.

"Think, Mr. President, if in the past you provided free exit visas and transportation for all dissident Republicans, what a nicer place this might have become. (Laughter.)

"On a more serious note, people come to Hawaii with the best of intentions. They run out of money. Some of them turn to crime to support themselves. From a social perspective, we should be looking at not raising the cost of leaving Hawaii but lowering it to enable people that wanted to leave for whatever reason to do so.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 24 was adopted and H.B. No. 1230, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TRANSPORTATION," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, this is my third time this Session to talk about this bill. I rise in opposition to this measure.

“If this is good policy then why don’t we do the same thing for the Department of Taxation? What this bill does is say that budget and finance may write off all of their costs associating with the disposal of property, as a cost. It sort of ignores the scrutiny of this Legislature. It sort of fits the criteria that my colleague from the Diamond Head Crater normally speaks against.

“It is, essentially, a special fund. It is a special fund that does not get the scrutiny of this body with the same regard as every other fund. It is bad policy and I’m voting against it.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 25 was adopted and H.B. No. 1154, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO UNCLAIMED PROPERTY,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

“Thank you.”

Senator Baker rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of this measure.

“In addition to the fact that this is a program that was asked for by the nurses to help them address future problems facing nursing, they requested the fees. They’re all in support of it. I believe our colleagues should vote for it as well.

“Thank you.”

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition of the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

“The statement that all supported this tax, that all nurses supported this tax, I have not seen verified, and I truly question whether all nurses wish to be so assessed.

“Thank you.”

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

“This measure, pure and simply, is empire building by the Legislature. It does not include the judiciary in its audits. And third, I believe there is room for both legislative and executive audits and I believe it is better policy to keep the two separate.

“For those reasons, I urge my colleagues to vote against this measure.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 30 was adopted and H.B. No. 282, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE AUDITOR,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

“Actually, I’ve risen in opposition against this bill or similar bills for seven years now. We don’t seem to read the details about these bills, and we seem to be willing to payoff. I doubt that very many of my colleagues know what the total tab is on this bill right now because it’s not shown in either the committee report or in the summary, but it’s over $14 million.

“It’s very interesting when you look at some of the claims. Some of the claims for malfeasance by public employees are being settled. We had a situation where $7 million was being settled dating back to 1994 arising out of the QUEST program. But I like some of the individual settlements that are included, and I just have one that our research staff brought to my attention. It’s a $30,000 settlement, and let me just give you the facts of the case here. It was a trip and fall case at an elementary school at parent/teacher night. The mother tripped in a hole that is 1½ inches deep and 1½ to 2 feet wide on a sidewalk between classrooms while carrying her baby. She landed on her knees and elbows to protect her baby. She sustained approximately $7,400 in medical and rehab costs due to injuries. She sued the Department of Education for carpal tunnel syndrome; injuries to the back, neck and shoulders; headache; pain and suffering; ill effects on her activities as wife and mother (she was a housewife); and then the husband sued for loss of consortium because, quote, ‘he had to do more around the house,’ unquote. The injury occurred in August 2001. The suit was filed in May 2002. The state is willing to settle for $30,000. This is just one example.

“I would suggest that what we should really do – and I’ve asked for this for seven years now, to no avail – is to look at each and every one of these individual cases and tell the Attorney General’s Office we do not want to settle. We do not want to continue to be taxpayer patsies. People view us, attorneys and others, as deep pockets. But it’s not us because no one in this room paying out the money. It’s the hardworking taxpayers of this state, and 14 million bucks is a big chunk of change.

“So I’m voting ‘no’ on this as a message. Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“Mr. President, I also rise in opposition to this measure.

“Colleagues, there probably is not a nexus but was it on April 8th that we talked about, I think, H.B. No. 73 that would provide immunity from prosecution for civil or criminal penalties for law enforcement officials. And I’m sure that there is no connection to this bill, which also shows a settlement to Faith Evans who was employed, I believe, at the Department of Public Safety.

“The issue is deeper than who’s paying the taxpayer. The issue is when are we going to hold our public employees accountable for their actions or their misactions. And when we start doing that, claims against the state will go down.

“Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 33 was adopted and H.B. No. 1111, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING APPROPRIATIONS FOR CLAIMS AGAINST THE STATE, ITS OFFICERS, OR ITS EMPLOYEES,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 19. Noes, 4 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Trimble). Excused, 2 (Kim, Menor).

Senator Inouye moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 36 be adopted and H.B. No. 293, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Espero.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise again in opposition to this bill.

“Again, this is a bill that’s been bouncing around for several years. What it would establish is a world class farmer’s market established by the state government. There is an appropriation now at $7,000 in the final draft of this bill.

“I note that we don’t do anything in Hawaii unless it’s ‘world class.’ Everything we do is ‘world class.’

“We don’t need a study, nor do we need an appropriation of taxpayer funds for a farmer’s market. We have dozens of farmer’s markets that are operating at world class levels in most regional and community neighborhoods throughout our state. They’ve done quite well without any government or public support.

“So again, this is a situation where the government need not apply. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 36 was adopted and H.B. No. 293, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE FARMERS’ MARKET,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

On motion by Senator Kanno, seconded by Senator Taniguchi and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 45 was adopted and H.B. No. 290, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO UNEMPLOYMENT,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 19. Noes, 5 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Trimble, Whalen). Excused, 1 (Kim).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 47 (H.B. No. 1362, S.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Sakamoto moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 47 be adopted and H.B. No. 1362, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senator Trimble rose to speak with reservations and said:

“Mr. President, I rise with reservations on this measure.

“Several things should be considered as we look at this again. The first statement was it won’t cost us anything. I believe that statement to be false. We are giving the consumers in Hawaii more choices in what to invest their money in, and as a result of this and measures like this, things that people in this community probably support. There will be purchases of these tax-free bonds by individuals that not normally would be purchasing tax-free or as many tax-free bonds. This will affect the amount of income taxes they pay to the State of Hawaii.

“The second statement in regard to these is that the state has no liability. I suggest, colleagues, that regardless of whether the state has liability or not, if one of these loans or bond issuances goes south, that this body will be so concerned about the widows and orphans that lost money that we will make their corpus whole just as we did with Manoa Finance three decades ago.

“Third, I have not seen any study that indicates how much these institutions will wind up paying in interest because there will be a fairly substantial difference between the interest that investors get on the bonds and what these institutions pay. And I think this body may regard this form of assistance less desirable when they know the true cost to the institution issuing the bonds.

“So, I must vote on this measure with reservations, and all similar spurs in the future. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 47 was adopted and H.B. No. 1362, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE ISSUANCE OF SPECIAL PURPOSE REVENUE BONDS FOR ST. PATRICK SCHOOL,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, 4 (Baker, English, Hooser, Tsutsui).

At 5:23 o’clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 5:26 o’clock p.m.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 50 (H.B. No. 1652, S.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Menor moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 50 be adopted and H.B. No. 1652, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

“This is very curious. We are appropriating $500,000 in this bill for activities associated with, quote, ‘securing approval for the waiver from the centers for Medicare and Medicaid services for the expansion of prescription drug benefits under the Medicaid program,’ unquote. There has never been, in the history of the center, a waiver to any state or locality. We did apply for such a waiver, and that waiver was denied. I think all of my colleagues received notification of that within the last couple of weeks that it was denied. So why we would spend another $500,000 chasing a waiver which is not going to be given, boggles my mind.

“In addition to that, a number of my colleagues were invited on a bipartisan basis to meet with the Governor a couple of weeks ago along with the Department of Health head, the Department of Human Services, and so forth to discuss this very issue. And what the administration and the executive branch is doing, since the waiver has been denied, they are collaboratively and collectively working, both here and with other states, trying to find other means of bringing meaningful prescription drug reform.

“But to pass a bill like this and to waste a half a million dollars chasing a waiver, which has been denied and which will not be given, is fiscally irresponsible.

“Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 50 was adopted and H.B. No. 1652, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING AN APPROPRIATION TO THE MEDICAID PRESCRIPTION DRUG REBATE SPECIAL FUND,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, 3 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom). Excused, 1 (Ige).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 78 (S.B. No. 1443, H.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Kanno moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 78 be adopted and S.B. No. 1443, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senator Hemmings rose to speak in favor of the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, for the record, I want to speak in favor of S.B. No. 1443 making this appropriation.

“Briefly and to the point, the Minority members of the Senate are very concerned about future costs of labor, with the exception of firefighters and police. We believe that these two public organizations deserve all the support we can give them, especially when there is no private sector alternative to fill in the void in case of an emergency, and therefore will be supporting this initiative in contrast to the other collective bargaining benefits being handed out.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 78 was adopted and S.B. No. 1443, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING APPROPRIATIONS FOR COLLECTIVE BARGAINING COST ITEMS,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 79 (S.B. No. 1444, H.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Kanno moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 79 be adopted and S.B. No. 1444, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senator Hemmings rose to speak against the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak against this appropriation.

"We all know that the state finances are extremely tight and we saw this morning in passing the budget the very astute Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee said that the growth in the budget, which is about 4.8 percent this year, is due in most part to previously negotiated collective bargaining increases.

"Though we're not getting actual money out in some of these collective bargaining increases, we're giving out a tremendous amount of assistance that's going to cost the taxpayers a lot of money in the future regarding benefits. It's important to note that the entire state is tightening their belts both in private sector employment with unions and non-union employees so much so that there is threatened job security for many people in the state of Hawaii. Nevertheless, we're continuing to give out these benefits. Come collective bargaining, it's going to cost all of us more money than we have in the future.

"It's also important to note that the benefit package for the employees of the State of Hawaii is one of the most benevolent in the nation. For instance, with our 14 paid days of holidays, we are number one in the nation for that. Every year there are 14 days off that are paid for by the taxpayers that most other states do not get anywhere near that number. It usually averages around 10 or 11, looking over the list. Sick leave is one of the most attractive in the nation. We just earlier in the day passed formalizing a procedure where employees can leave state employ to go to conferences regarding their school and children's school programs, and the list goes on, and on, and on. I think it is extremely unfair to the working men and women in Hawaii that continue to pay for this alleged public service while they themselves are suffering.

"Second, and more importantly, is that I think the labor union leaders really have to start looking at the bigger picture here. How much longer are they going to be able to get these benefits and expect job security to exist. I think all of us don't want to see anybody laid off, but there may be a day when we cannot afford to have everybody in employ and continue to pay these benefits that are not enjoyed by their counterparts in the private sector.

"So, for this reason and others, some of us will be voting consistently against appropriations for collective bargaining cost items.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 79 was adopted and S.B. No. 1444, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING APPROPRIATIONS FOR COLLECTIVE BARGAINING COST ITEMS," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, 4 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Trimble).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 81 (S.B. No. 1040, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Kim moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 81 be adopted and S.B. No. 1040, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senator Slom rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I'll be voting 'no' on this bill.

"The bill basically mandates that 10 percent, after a certain limit, of the TAT go to the special fund for statewide trail and access. Certainly, tourist and our visitors use trails and accesses. Certainly, we should maintain them, but I think the larger issue here is, as we've seen before, different departments, different individuals, different special interest come in and want to take chunks of the transient accommodation tax for either niche marketing, as is the case here, or for repairs and maintenance of existing facilities that should be done by other departments and have not been done.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 81 was adopted and S.B. No. 1040, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TRANSIENT ACCOMMODATIONS TAX," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Hogue rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I'll be extremely brief in opposition.

"Two new fees . . . I can only have one vote, and I'll make it 'no.'

"Thank you."

Senator Hemmings rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I, likewise, will be very brief speaking against S.B. No. 254.

"Mr. President, this sets a bad precedence. Pretty soon we'll be building bridges for private owners throughout this state because everyone who needs a bridge over some public stream is going to claim that it was done in this particular area and why can't they do it in ours, and we can't afford it.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 93 was adopted and S.B. No. 254, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO

Senator Trimble rose to speak with reservations and said:

“Mr. President, I rise with reservations.

“This is another in a series of bills that we should not have to consider. An aye vote here would be, again, a vote of no confidence in the administration and the board of regents of the University of Hawaii. There are certain things that are so fundamental and so important to our community that they should prioritize those items and fund them without us coming in, and for that, I will be voting with reservations.

“Thank you.”

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 99 (S.B. No. 1441, H.D. 1, C.D. 1):

On motion by Senator Kanno, seconded by Senator Taniguchi and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 99 was adopted and S.B. No. 1441, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING APPROPRIATIONS FOR COLLECTIVE BARGAINING COST ITEMS,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, 4 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Trimble).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 109 (S.B. No. 745, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Baker moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 109 be adopted and S.B. No. 745, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

“Emergency ambulance service or emergency medical service is a statewide problem. This bill is limited to a very narrow area. It specifies a very narrow type of equipment and it specifies a very narrow set of procedures. I think that it’s more appropriate to examine funding all communities, all rural communities, equal with this regard and treating everyone in our state equally.

“Thank you.”

Senator Baker rose to speak in support of the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of this measure.

“Actually, this measure does just that because Maui County is the last of the rural areas without this particular type of emergency services, and I have remarks I’d like to have included in the Journal.

“Thank you.”

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Baker’s remarks read as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of S.B. No. 745, C.D. 1, which requires the Department of Health to integrate emergency aeromedical services into statewide emergency medical services. Ensuring the health, safety and well-being of our citizens should be one of our government’s top priorities. When citizens are in need of emergency medical care, it is our responsibility to ensure that services exist to save lives.

“As I’ve noted previously, Maui County has been without emergency medical helicopter service since 1997. Since then, we on Maui, Molokai and Lanai have been trying to find a way to restore viable emergency medical helicopter service to our county. For the county’s four islands, emergency medical helicopter transport is a key component of an effective medical rapid response and transport system for our county. Yet Maui County with a clear need for emergency medical helicopter service is without such service. This measure will assist in reestablishing that vital service, integrating ground, fixed and rotor transport services with our 911 system.

“This measure appropriates $611,500 for fiscal year 2004-2005 to fund the provision of emergency aeromedical helicopter services for the county of Maui. We have asked the county of Maui for a one-to-one match before the funds are made available, and the Maui County Council has already responded favorably with a matching sum.

“Additionally, $388,500 has been appropriated to integrate additional ground ambulance services with the emergency aeromedical helicopter services. These funds will be used to provide emergency medical service personnel to crew the helicopter. These personnel will also provide additional staffing for ground ambulance service, serving to extend hours for areas currently with less-than-24-hour service.

“This measure also requires emergency helicopter aeromedical services to use triage protocols and national aeromedical, triage, and transport guidelines established by the Association of Air Medical Services, the American College of Surgeons, and the National Association of Emergency Medical Services Physicians. This will ensure that such services will be used in an efficient and appropriate manner.

"I want to thank the Ways and Means Committee, especially your Chair and Vice Chair, for assisting your Committee on Health in funding this crucial emergency service appropriation. The Ways and Means committee has been very supportive of restoring aeromedical helicopter services for Maui County, and I appreciate all that they have been able to do for Maui's citizens. My only regret is that we were unable to fund the ground ambulances for the other areas of our State in much need of these services. Future legislatures must find a way to address this growing need in our State.

"Senate Bill 745, C.D. 1, will enable us to take steps to address some very serious emergency medical service needs. I ask my colleagues to join me in supporting this measure.

"Mahalo."

Senator Kokubun then rose and said:

"Mr. President, I'd like to insert comments into the Journal."

The chair having so ordered, Senator Kokubun's remarks read as follows:

"Mr. President, I strongly support the passage of S.B. 745 because it will provide critical and essential health and safety services for Maui County. The provision of an emergency aeromedical helicopter for the four islands of Maui County is obviously necessary to address the geographical circumstances faced by residents and visitors alike. As an intra-county emergency health and safety program, this measure has received unanimous support from the general community, Maui's emergency medical services personnel, Maui County government officials and Maui's medical provider community. In fact, Maui County has agreed to participate as a cost-sharing partner with the state to accomplish the purpose of this measure. Clearly, this demonstrates a truly collaborative and united effort.

"It is also necessary for me to acknowledge the strong leadership of the Health Committee Chair. She was able to gather dedicated support from all segments of her community to design a program to provide essential services that is practical and achievable in terms of implementation. In fact, Maui Senators effectively worked together as a well coordinated team to bring this critical measure forward. It has been a pleasure to assist them in this endeavor."

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator English rose and stated:

"I'd like to insert comments, please."

"The chair having so ordered, Senator English's remarks read as follows:

"Mr. President, as one of the author's of this bill, I am asking for your support of its passage here today. I live in Hana, Maui and represent the islands of Molokai, Lanai and Kaho'olawe as well as East and Upcountry Maui. My constituency – these islands – desperately needs this service.

"Some would argue that establishing an aeromedical service for Maui County would open the state to liability and lawsuits from other citizens residing in the other three counties (Kalawao county would be serviced along with Maui County under this bill). This is simply untrue.

"First, the state has sovereign immunity, and thus is not open to any lawsuits. Second, the other three counties all have some form of aeromedical services. Maui County and Kalawao County are the only counties without access to these types of services. If the first argument were to hold, then the citizens of Maui and Kalawao counties should have the right to sue the state right now for not providing equal services. The absurdity of this argument is apparent.

"This is an innovative, collaborative program that deserves your support. I ask, in the name of all the residents on Maui, Molokai and Lanai, for your affirmative vote on this bill."

Senator Kim rose and stated:

"Mr. President, I have reservations. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 109 was adopted and S.B. No. 745, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EMERGENCY MEDICAL SERVICES," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, 4 (Hemmings, Hogue, Slom, Trimble).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 111 (S.B. No. 1088, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Baker moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 111 be adopted and S.B. No. 1088, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland.

Senator Hemmings rose to speak against the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against this bill. I'm pleased to have the opportunity to speak against S.B. No. 1088, and I'll make my comments hopefully brief and succinct and to the point.

"Number one, and it's been said before, this bill is extremely sad for the senior citizens who think they're going to get relief sometime in the near future if this bill passes, because nothing could be further from the truth. As you well know, it takes a while to vest and get benefits, and when they do come, they're not benefits that are nowhere near going to take care of the needs of senior citizens that do have to be placed into full-time care situations. They will only last a year.

"The second point, and therefore that this bill providing relief is basically a hoax. It pays about half the full-time care cost and it also will only last year. So it's going to be a sad surprise for the senior citizens who think they're going to be taken care of.

"The other thin is that this bill is a lifetime of paying for young people that are going to be forced to start paying now, a lifetime of paying for one year of partial assistance in the future. It is particularly onerous for some young person entering the marketplace here in Hawaii for jobs and trying to make a living. To pay for a lifetime with the hopes that maybe they're going to get a little bit of support for one year is a terrible, terrible choice. Because as we all know, for most insurance programs, what makes them work and the magic of the marketplace is choice and price competition, which this does not provide for.

It just provides for a government monopoly in spite of the alleged tax credits that may or may not be available.

“The last thing, and this is the most important thing, we’ve done such a wonderful job and we lauded the Chairman of the Senate Ways and Means Committee and everybody including the executive branch of government for controlling spending and therefore preempting the need for a tax increase. This, at the bare minimum, is going to take $100 million out of the marketplace and out of the pockets of the citizens of this State. It will be an economic disaster; it will set up a state monopoly, and will further erode Hawaii’s reputation as a place where we can do competitive progressive business.

“I might hearken back to another brilliant medical service program that was started in 1974 called the prepaid healthcare act, and we’ve heard the good Senator from East Oahu tell us about the promises made back then on how well that was going to work for the benefit of the people of Hawaii and how everybody will be doing similar legislation throughout this nation. And we all know, as a matter of history, that is not true, that we’re the only state stuck with the onerous provisions of this good concept. But more importantly, the concept of the prepaid healthcare act is so bad that the State of Hawaii avoids it through temporary hires, vacant position funding, overtime, and a number of other initiatives.

“I would suggest that this bill is going to be equally as detrimental to the marketplace of opportunity in Hawaii and will sadly not provide for the real long term care that will be needed for the elderly.

“I seriously implore you, the members of the Majority Party, to vote ‘no’ on this and I know that subsequent speakers are going to stand up and make an attempt to rebut everything I’ve said, but the facts are the facts, the history is the history, and the impact of this will be very serious on the marketplace. Please vote ‘no.’”

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“Mr. President, I, too, rise in opposition to this bill.

“We’ve been debating various forms of this bill for several years now. It is a cruel hoax on the elderly and the infirmed. It is also a cruel proposition to those people that want to be responsible and take care of themselves and have choices.

“This is a tax, let there be no mistake about that. For years, people have argued and tried to call it everything else, and even today we get letters, we get e-mails, we get phone calls – please vote for this, but don’t call it a tax. It is a tax. It has to be a tax in order to extract that money forcibly from every wage earner age 25 to 99 in this State. That’s what it is.

“People talk about it as being only $10 per month. It starts out as only $10 per month. It rapidly rises to $23 per month, per person working in a household. What this does is deny them the opportunity and the choice to put their money into other free market plans of their choice. It gives them the belief that they will have this coverage, and yet there’s a 10-year vesting period. The benefits cannot be paid out until, in this bill in this form right now, January 1st of 2008. It says that you can earn up to 1/10 of your vesting per year but doesn’t say anything about you taking out 1/10 per year before that 10-year vesting period.

“The measure also states that benefit disbursement shall begin after three years of the start of the tax, but there’s no mechanism for which an individual can claim partial benefit before that 10 years, and no one will be eligible for any money until 2015.

“In addition to that, should you already have private insurance or be trying to take advantage of one of the expanding alternatives in private insurance, too bad, you don’t have a choice. You’ll pay it because it’s a tax. At the end of 10 years, this tax will have accumulated nearly $1 billion in a new special fund. There is no guarantee in this bill, there is no earmarking, there is no language that this money must be used for the purposes to which it is collected. Is there anyone here who honestly does not think that after 10 years, when someone sees $1 billion sitting in a fund that there won’t be many, many wonderful things that we can spend that money on rather than what the purpose was for.

“In addition, there is a nearly $1 million appropriation to set up the operation in the first place. There is a lack of accountability, a lack of responsibility. There is no fiscal integrity in this bill, and the analyses that were done last year, which is still on the basic intent of this bill, shows that it is not economically sound.

“For all of these reasons, I urge my colleagues to consider if you truly want to take care of those in need of long term care – and long term care is a major issue, many of us are facing it; some of us are facing it closer every day than others – this is not the way to go. This would represent the largest single tax increase in Hawaii’s history, and that’s what it is. It looks like a tax; it feels like a tax, because it is a tax.

“Thank you.”

Senator Baker rose to speak in support of the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of this measure.

“When the previous speakers have done so much to muddy the waters, it’s very hard to figure out where to start. But since we’ve had a lot of debate on this topic, I sent around to all of our colleagues some questions and answers, some additional information on this measure. I, too, will try to be brief because I know many people here have heard me speak before and heard others talk about the benefits of this measure.

“Let me just say that the measure is actuarially sound, that there is yearly reporting, that the trustees can only spend this money or the money can only be used for the purpose for which it was collected, and that according to the actuary, one of the very best in the country, this program will meet 75 percent of the need. No, it’s not going to pay 100 percent of the cost, but it will go a long way to making sure that seniors or others, who may have two deficiencies of daily living and need to access the benefit, will have a choice of care.

“Many of the long term care insurance products right now simply don’t have home and community based services in them, and that’s clearly what more and more of us seniors want. Only 6 percent of Hawaii’s residents have any kind of long term care insurance. It’s expensive and it doesn’t provide significant coverage. So what happens? People who can’t afford long term care end up on Medicaid if they’re the 2 or 3 percent who are lucky enough to be the first to go after those funds.

“Long term care insurance is like any other insurance, such as collision, fire, homeowners. We hope we never have to have need for it but we’re very happy to have it if we are in an accident or are robbed.

“Presently, all taxpayers, including the very young wage earners, pay approximately $400 per year in taxes that go to fund the state’s portion of the Medicaid program. This burden will grow in the years to come because of the aging of our population. By 2020, it’s estimated that the percentage of people age 65 and older will have risen from 12.7 percent to 20 percent. If we do nothing, taxpayers will be called upon to pay more and more in taxes to care for the elderly.

“The long term care financing mechanism in this bill will slow the growth in our Medicaid program merely because 75 percent of the demand for home and community-based care will be met. Very importantly, this program does provide choice for people, something our current system simply doesn’t allow.

“And for those who are concerned about the financing mechanism – yes, it’s collected through the income tax, so you could call it a tax – if you look at it carefully, it really is very nominal for the benefit, considering that it’s going to address 75 percent of the need. You’re looking at the cost of a plate lunch, a movie. It’s a very, very modest investment in the future.

“Mr. President, we’ve heard from seniors. We’ve been looking at this issue since I was in the Legislature back in the late ’80s. As a matter of fact, we’ve been studying this thing for a long time, almost studying it to death. And every proposal, every study group, every task force, every working group that’s looked at this comes back to the fact that if you want to have a successful program, if you want to have a program that’s going to help people stay in their home and access community services, it’s got to be universal and it’s got to be done in this fashion if it’s going to be actuarially sound.

“Mr. President, I would like to submit for the record an editorial in the Honolulu Advertiser, Monday, March 31, that talks about the merits of this measure that’s before us. I would also like to submit for the record, a number of questions and answers that further expand on the positive points in this measure and how we can counter some of the arguments by the speakers before us, but I don’t want to read them all and take up the time of this body.

“But I ask my colleagues to consider all of our futures. It’s important that we take this action now to ensure that elderly and others who have need of long term care services have appropriate services and have it when they need it.

“Thank you.”

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Baker’s inserts are identified as ATTACHMENT “A” (Honolulu Advertiser editorial) and ATTACHMENT “B” (long term care financing plan questions and answers) to the Journal of this day.

Senator Hogue rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this particular measure and also to rebut some of the previous comments.

“First off, I realize that the working group that got this bill together did support this particular tax, but I really doubt that every single working group would support a tax. I think other states have had other long term care measures and they have not had to go to a universal tax.

“Is this truly actuarially sound? That’s a mouthful, and is it true? Well, they said that at the beginning when they introduced this bill, and yet as they went through the process this year, colleagues, they delayed the start of benefit payments from January 1, 2007, to January 1, 2008, quote, ‘in the interest of actuarial soundness.’ So is it truly actuarially sound? Then the previous speaker said that the actuary, a noted, eminently qualified actuary says that this payment will meet 75 percent of the need. Is that true? This will meet approximately $2,100 a month. In the committee report, the committee report says that long term care costs between $5,000 and $7,000 a month. Well, unless this is the new math, that’s not 75 percent.

“Then as to the point that somehow this is insurance, long term care insurance, colleagues, this is not insurance.

“This is a memo that was sent to me by someone who has been previously an underwriter in the insurance industry who has looked over this thing, and he says any competent insurance underwriter or actuary will tell you something’s not insurance if (1) people with virtually no chance of using the benefits are forced to participate; (2) the tax charge bears no relation to the person’s risks; (3) the tax starts immediately but no one is eligible for any coverage whatsoever for at least three years and perhaps even ten; (4) the directors running the program, in this case the Legislators, have no fiduciary duty to the recipients; (5) the directors can raise the taxes or change the terms or amount of coverage at any time; and (6) the directors are legally entitled to raid the accumulated money ostensibly earmarked for benefit payments and spend the money on anything they want. This is not insurance.

“So what should we do? What should we do, because this is one point that I absolutely agree with the previous speaker and this is a point that I absolutely agree with the Honolulu Advertiser. We should care about long term care. What can we do? We can help people purchase long term care insurance through tax credits. That part is in the bill. That bill was put forward by the Governor. The Governor supports that bill. People in the business community support that bill, and people out in the community should support that because it encourages people to buy long term care insurance.

“Unfortunately, the unintended consequence of . . . I’m going to just call it a well-intended idea. This idea that this particular working group has put forward here is to try to help people who are seniors. Unfortunately, they have created a disincentive. There is the feeling, there is the feeling out there that if you pay this tax, that you have long term care. What if you need long term care for a longer period of time? What if you need to go into a nursing home? The committee report already says $5,000 to $7,000 a month. Why don’t we encourage people as a public policy to purchase long term care insurance with a credit? That’s what absolutely makes sense, using a tax credit.

“I wish that this bill had been put forward with the way that the Governor had intended it, and that is a long term care tax credit. That is a very, very good policy and it meets the needs of the community and it meets the needs of the aging population.

“For all of these reasons, I encourage my colleagues to vote ‘no.’”

Senator Hemmings rose again and said:

“Mr. President, in speaking against this bill I would like to rise in rebuttal to some previously stated remarks. The remarks having to do with muddying the water, I would suggest that those remarks actually turn the muddy water into chocolate pudding.

“Equating this to the cost of a plate lunch every month is off the Richter scale ludicrous. We’re not talking about the cost of a plate lunch; we’re talking about $100 million. That’s a lot of plate lunches, a lot of money coming out of people’s pockets.

“We’re not even means testing this. The wealthiest of the wealthy are going to be able to get a bargain at the cost of the poorest of the poor, who will have to pay for this also.

“Third, there’s nothing in this bill at all that is going to preempt on an ongoing basis the eligibility for the medically indigent to collect Medicaid. That’s an outright fallacy.

“And lastly, I would hate to think that this body would use as a rationale to vote for any legislation the endorsement of the editorials of the Honolulu Advertiser. I might suggest that there might be another paper that might not think this is a great idea for the reasons stated by previous opponents to this legislation. For the record, the editorials of the Advertiser, God bless them, they’re entitled to their editorial opinion, but they’ve supported every budget and tax increase in recent history that’s taken this State to the brink of bankruptcy. And now we’re supposed to push us over the edge because the editors of the Advertiser think it’s a good idea.

“Think about it. Let’s do what is prudent. Let’s encourage competition in the marketplace. Let’s find very focused legislation that can help those few who are in limbo between medical solvency to take care of themselves and the Medicaid fund, which we really should be addressing. This does not do it. It is a hoax on the taxpayers, and more importantly, it is a cruel, cruel hoax on many senior citizens that think tomorrow or sometime in the future that they would get coverage if this bill passed and was signed into law by the Governor.

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Chun Oakland rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of this measure.

“This measure establishes the funding mechanism to implement the long term care financing act that we passed last session and I would like the words of the Health Chair and the documents that she’s presenting to be inserted into the Journal as if they were my own.

“Mr. President, approximately 80 percent of the long term care expenses are currently paid for by Medicaid, and most individuals spend down their assets within a few months of needing long term care services because they are so expensive. Currently, every taxpayer contributes, as the Health Chair had mentioned, $400 per year towards Medicaid, and this amount is expected to rise exponentially unless we reduce reliance on Medicaid for long term care as is proposed by S.B. No. 1088.

“This state is experiencing a Medicaid funding crisis with a growing budget of $800 million and an additional deficit of $90 million in this current fiscal year. Medicaid payment for long term care is a major contributor to this crisis. In the year 2011, when the first of the baby boomers will become 65 years old, it is anticipated that the demand for long term care services will skyrocket and potentially consume a huge portion of the state budget.

“We need to stem the rising cost by providing for universal basic protection for those needing care in the future. This measure will make basic long term care services affordable to the vast majority of our population. The long term care contribution operates like insurance in that the affordable rates are made possible by a large risk pool and everyone has some degree of protection.

“The long term care contributions are to be deposited into a separate and dedicated trust fund that cannot be raided or diverted. The fund will be used strictly to pay for long term care benefits for those who have made contributions to this fund.

“This measure will serve as an economic stimulus to the state for the creation of new businesses that provide a range of long term care services and the expansion of long term care insurance products, leading to the creation of many new jobs in Hawaii.

“Let’s continue Hawaii’s strong tradition of caring for our elderly and disabled and commit to support families and friends in their efforts to take care of their loved ones. I urge my colleagues to adopt this measure with a sense of honor and pride in doing the right thing.

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Kim rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations and said:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in support, but with strong, strong reservations.

“Mr. President, I support providing a means for long term care and I also support the tax credits provided in the bill. But I have looked over this proposal very carefully and I have a number of concerns, Mr. President.

“While long term care is important and we all need a plan for it, the realities of life dictate that families today often live from paycheck to paycheck. Mr. President, I received an e-mail from an individual who said, ‘I have long term care insurance. I am willing to pay an additional $10 a month if this means that others will have some protection.’ Mr. President, this is not just $10 a month. It will continue to escalate every year – from $10 per month in 2005 to $23 per month in 2012, or $120 a year to $276 a year. This is a tax that more than doubles in eight years.

“So what about those who cannot pay, Mr. President? As a Legislator, I have the responsibility to consider those who may not be able to pay, and this tax mandate does not consider the hardships of a young family; it does not consider the hardships of the poor. Anyone making at least $10,000 a year would be required to pay this tax. If you earn at least $10,000 a year, this would equate to roughly taking home approximately $830 a month. After taxes and other deductions, Mr. President, an individual could take home maybe $600 a month. So, figure in rent, utilities, clothes, possibly children, and there is not a whole lot left over to pay for this tax.

“On page 2, line 6, it states: A taxpayer who files a joint return under, and the taxpayer’s spouse together with whom the taxpayer jointly files a return, shall each pay the amount of the tax. Whether your spouse is working or not, you both have to pay.

“By the year 2012, Mr. President, a couple could be required to pay $46 a month, $552 a year, and if they happen to have elderly parents living with them with no income, that amount doubles. And what is the benefit? As you’ve heard earlier, it’s just one year – 365 days. That is all the benefit you get, $70 a day. Surely it goes up a little bit to $83 a day after the 10-year vesting period. What do you think the cost of long term care is going to be in 10 years in 2012?

“Also, in 2012, we have no idea beyond that what that tax is going to be. According to the bill, the board of trustees will be the ones to recommend to the Legislature any adjustment to the amount of the long term care tax.

“On page 5, line 4, it states: Any individual who has paid the long-term care income tax for ten years, shall be fully vested to receive the defined benefit, but shall continue to be subject to pay the income tax. So, Mr. President, if for some reason you were to lose your job, or your pay drops below $10,000 and you cannot make any payments, you would lose 1/10 of your benefit each year that you do not pay. So in 10 years, say you’ve vested in 10 years and the following 10 years you do not make any payments because of hardship, because your pay drops below $10,000 or because you don’t have any job, you would lose your vested right. You would lose all 10 years of your vested right – 1/10 every year. So, unlike retirement, you do not have any protected vested rights.

“Again, an individual who has paid in for 10 years could ultimately lose their 10 years. Vesting only counts only if you continue to pay up until the time you need the benefit. And that is stated in the bill.

“This mandatory tax, or insurance as some have termed it, has been like to automobile insurance. Yet, there is no vesting in auto insurance and you’re not mandated to pay for auto insurance prior to or in anticipation of driving a car. This is exactly what this bill is – it’s in anticipation to and prior to possibly needing long-term care insurance.

“Also, Mr. President, there is a number of concerns that were raised by the tax department. They point out in this memo: ‘Employers will have to modify their payroll systems to withhold the proposed tax from employees. For many small businesses, this may be a substantial burden. The imposition of an additional income tax will be a burden on lower income employees or individuals who work part time. The department does not have the resources to collect and enforce the tax on self employed individuals. The department estimates it will cost $6.9 million to set up the program in the first year and more than $2.4 million to administrate the program each year. It is a brand new tax. It requires a new system to account for long-term care tax payments for 700,000 taxpayers. The department must apply any tax payment to the payment of delinquent long-term tax payments before applying the payment to income taxes. This requirement complicates the tax administration because the department must determine if a taxpayer is current on their long-term care tax payments before applying any payment to the payment of income taxes.’ And they go on with other concerns, Mr. President.

“Finally, I want to say that this measure will take money immediately out of the local economy. It will set aside money that could be part of the economy and it totally just takes it out of the economy, puts it into a fund and will not be part of that economy. For those reasons, Mr. President, I have strong reservations and I hope that this measure will be fixed or amended or somehow taken into consideration a number of these issues that have been raised.

“Thank you.”

Senator Baker rose again and said:

“Mr. President, I wasn’t going to speak again, but since our Vice President was quoting from an old tax memo, I thought it was necessary to correct the record.

“The tax department did have those concerns prior to meeting with my Co-Chair on this particular measure, and our consultant, to go over their misunderstandings of how the bill was to operate. They understand now that it’s not going to take

$6 million to set up. As a matter of fact, the monies that are incorporated into this measure are based on their refined recommendation, which I will also have inserted into the Journal and will share with the Vice President at the conclusion of this Session.

“The funds that are being used to start up will be paid back. So the general fund will be reimbursed. It is not creating a new set of taxpayers but the current taxpayers. And when the tax department understood how the program would be set up, that the third party administrator would be responsible for much of the paperwork, they were able to revise their estimates. Also, they were able to admit that it’s not going to be a burden on small business, it’s not going to cause the employer to have to make any manipulations. It will be built into their tables.

“So, with those particular caveats in mind, the administration of this measure is not going to be onerous to the tax department and we have provided for start-up costs for them as well. I would contend that yes, there is going to be a cost to each and every one of us, but without this program, the cost will be far greater to all of our families, as well as individuals, and the cost to the state will be even a greater burden as a result.

“Thank you.”

The Chair having so ordered, the memo from the Tax Department is identified as ATTACHMENT “C” to the Journal of this day.

Senator Hogue rose and said:

“Mr. President, will I be allowed to ask a couple of speakers questions and then make a statement afterwards?”

The Chair having answered in the affirmative, Senator Hogue continued:

“The first question is to the Senate Vice President, who I thought gave a very, very eloquent speech. I’m just wondering, Senate Vice President, after you gave that speech if you convinced yourself to vote ‘no?’”

“I guess she reserved comment this time. I’ve had other interviewees who have also reserved comment.

“The second question has to go to the Health Chair, and I understand, Health Chair, that the $6 million number that we heard in testimony before us in the Health Committee has been revised. I’ve just curious what the new number is from the Department of Tax. You said that that number had been lowered, and since I didn’t receive the testimony, do you know what that number now is?”

Senator Baker answered:

“Mr. President, the amount for start-up is what’s provided for in this measure. I believe we provided them with $500,000 in each year of the biennium. And they have told us that administration on a going forward basis is about $350,000.”

Senator Hogue rose and questioned:

“Will that in any way change the actuarial estimates?”

Senator Baker replied:

“No, because that was about the amount that was factored in.”

“Thank you very much for those answers.

“My statement, Mr. President, that I wanted to make had to do with the comment made by another previous speaker that the funds cannot be raided or diverted because they’re set in law. As we will see in a future measure in which we will vote on, which has to do with the hurricane fund, all the Legislature has to do is change the law and funds can be raided and diverted. So, I want to point that out, that we cannot make that absolute statement because we have no idea what legislative bodies will do in the future.

“I also wanted to point out one other thing too, because there’s been a lot of talk about how much this is going to cost us in the future. I realize that long term care will cost us a lot in the future, but if you look at research and what long term care insurance costs, for example, I’m 49 years old, I will turn 50 years old in September. On my 50th birthday, I can go down and I can become a member of AARP and I can purchase long term care insurance at a cost that is very near this $10 a month figure. In fact, I can purchase that for about $12 a month. That $12 a month figure is, on this particular tax scale, near the bottom because it increases from $10 a month or $120 a year to $12 a month, $144 a year, in the second year, all the way up to $23 a month, $276 or so a year by the end of the measure.

“So the point is that individuals have the opportunity to go out and buy affordable insurance. Now, I realize that there are people who are older, who are in more of a risk category that the insurance will be higher, and while I feel badly for them, they should have, before this period, purchased their long term care insurance. So why are we trying to cover for them.

“As for the concern about losing assets, we could also, Mr. President, pass legislation like other states have, and I believe six states have, to protect the loss of assets. That would be good public policy. This isn’t.

“Thank you.”

Senator Chun Oakland rose on a point of inquiry as follows:

“Mr. President, I have a point of inquiry to the previous speaker.

“I wanted to ask the Senator from Kaneohe, in any purchase of long term care, and I’m not too sure if you have that long term care product, what does the cost or the amount that you’re paying equate in terms of benefit?”

Senator Hogue replied:

“I don’t have the policy here in front of me. It is my understanding that that particular policy that I spoke to does not count for in-home care but would actually benefit me at a greater amount than the benefits that are actually derived in this particular measure.

“So, I would get an opportunity to either purchase that, or if I wanted in-home care, I could perhaps pay a little bit more than that $12 a month cost. Perhaps I could pay $20 a month or $25. I’d have to check the marketplace. But I believe that I could find something for a reasonable cost. And with long term care tax credits, I believe that I could actually benefit more than this particular measure.

“Thank you.”

Senator Chun Oakland further inquired:

“I believe also that if it’s out-of-home care, do you have a benefit that would pay more than a year’s worth of a nursing care home?”

Senator Hogue answered:

“I’d have to go and look into the particular policies, but I understand your point.”

Senator Chun Oakland then said:

“It would not, I think in most cases, purchase more than that. I also wanted to ask you the question, does such a long term care policy allow for a person to stop paying without losing the benefits?”

Senator Hogue replied:

“I’ll be real honest with you. I cannot answer that question.”

Senator Chun Oakland continued:

“My understanding is, with long term care insurance, private long term care insurance, you need to continue paying. You don’t have that incremental 10 percent reduction over 10 years as this policy or this insurance program is providing.”

Senator Slom rose again and said:

“Mr. President, as long as we’re playing truth or dare, I’d like to add some remarks of my own.

“I would . . . first of all, I’m stupefied by the wonderful testimony made by the Senate Vice President who could only bring herself to serious, very serious, very extremely serious reservations. I think she laid out the case very accurately.

“But I want to go back to some of the things that the good Senator from Maui, the Chair of the Health Committee said, because I would like to believe her and the things that she said. If I believed her, then everything would be all right. We wouldn’t have any concerns. Unfortunately, I can’t because a lot of the things she said are just not true.

“First of all, when she mentioned that no working group has ever come up with any other alternative than attacks, that’s incorrect. I was part of a two-year bipartisan working group in this Senate, and we came up with all kinds of alternatives and options. As a matter of fact, the only reason I got on that working group was because the stated mission and purpose was to find private, non-government, non-tax options. However, those people that have been pushing for more than a decade now to have the state take over this function and the state tax, they rule the day. And the final product that came out of there, disregarding all of the other options and alternatives, was it’s got to be done by the state; it’s got to be a tax.

“Secondly, the point that this is just like automobile insurance or life insurance is totally untrue. The speaker knows that. As was said by the Minority Floor Leader, first of all you’re not forced to buy these types of insurance and there is such a wide array of different products that people buy for their own individual customized needs which differ, whether we’re talking about life or casualty or fire or anything else.

“The main thing is that it is insurance and this is a tax. And as much as the proponents would like us not to mention that word, it is a tax. It is forced.

“As was pointed out by the good Senator from Kalihi, the Vice President, if you are filing a joint return, your spouse will pay this as well, every working person from the age of 25 years on.

“The good Senator from Maui pointed out that only 6 percent of the people in Hawaii have long term care insurance. I don’t doubt that figure. It probably is true. I haven’t checked it but I can tell you why, if that is the figure. Because for a dozen years now, we’ve been promising everybody, don’t worry about it, the state’s going to take care of it. We’re going to pay for it, like we promise everything else.

“And another thing – no other state has ventured into this area and no other state probably will. And the reason is the cost and the reason that we’ve been talking about this for more than a dozen years. The more you examine it, the more you get through the machinations and the miscommunications and the misstatements of fact made by the proponents, you find out how little you actually pay. And that’s fact.

“As far as the actuarial study, maybe the good Chair and I can get together because the actuarial study that I read last year is entirely opposite from what she told this body.

“And as far as the Tax Department, I think it will be a surprise to the new tax director in the Tax Department that they just didn’t understand all this and that now they can be enlightened as to what the real figures and what the real workings are. I think they do understand it. I think they understand the consequences, they understand the cost, they understand the impact.

“And if you are paying into this and suppose you were deciding to leave Hawaii, you would take nothing with you . . . Oh, except the new passenger departure tax, you’d get to take that with you. But you wouldn’t get anything from this long term care tax, cause you leave, it’s over; you die, it’s over. You want to transfer it to something else, you can’t do it. There is no choice, no flexibility. That’s why it is not insurance.

“We talk about the $400 per taxpayer right now for Medicaid and the hope that that might go down because if we have this new tax scheme, that will take some of the pressure off of Medicaid. There’s nothing in the bill that indicates that. There’s no promises that can be made. There’s no substantiation of that. They’ll pay the $400 and maybe next year it will be up to $500 and then it will go to $600 because of the other needs of the elderly and others. But in addition, they’ll now be paying this tax as well.

“So what we’re trying to do here is to fool the public. Mr. Ponzi would be proud. And if we do this, we are embarking in the wrong direction and we are diverting focus, funds and resources from really helping the elderly and helping those that want to take care of themselves. We hope that we can get the message down to young people that it’s in their best interest to take care of themselves and their families later on.

“The industry has changed in the last dozen years in response to the recognition that not only is this more of a need, but that there is more of a demand for this type of product, and therefore they have been offering additional products.

“And to the good Senator from Kalihi, I would say that there are products on the market right now that will allow for home care, will allow for a combination of home and nursing home, and most of us absolutely believe in home care where and when it is possible. But those of us that have had family, loved ones who we have taken care of in long term care situations, as I mentioned previously, it is an agonizing chore. It is physically, financially, and emotionally draining. There’s no question about that. And sometimes, people just can’t keep their loved ones at home and so they look for other alternatives. We’re not going to be putting everybody in nursing homes because we don’t have the nursing homes, and we don’t have the staff, and we don’t have the money to take care of all those things.

“So what we should be doing collaboratively and collectively is looking over the alternatives that we have right now, maximizing the choices and flexibility for individuals, taking a look at needs test and identifying those people that through no fault of their own cannot take care of themselves and need help and help those people. That’s what we have to do. That’s our mandate, and we can do that, and I hope that we will.”

Senator Hooser rose to speak in support of the measure and said.

“Mr. President, I rise in support.

“I want to say that I rise in support, and I would ask my colleagues to choose their words carefully when addressing fellow Senators on the Floor. I take offense when one questions the integrity . . .”

Senator Whalen interjected:

“Point of order, Mr. President. I don’t think he’s addressing the motion on the Floor right now or the bill.”

The President then said:

“Senator Hooser, please keep germane to the subject.”

Senator Hooser continued:

“A prior speaker questioned the facts. Okay, I’ll move forward. Anyway, I was offended by the previous speaker.

“When you call this a hoax, what you’re saying is there’s an intent to deceive, and I don’t believe that is true. When you say the intent is to fool the people, I find that offensive. I know that’s not true also.

“This is about doing the right thing. People elected us here as government leaders to be responsible – socially and morally responsible – for those who cannot look after themselves. They elected us to be responsible to plan for, to protect, and when possible, to provide a social safety net for the sick, the very young, the frail, and our kupuna, the elderly. Social security, Medicaid, Medicare, and one of the greatest achievements of this Hawaii State Legislature, the prepaid healthcare act, are all the results of forward-thinking elected Legislators who made those very tough but very right decisions a long time ago. You can bet these very same arguments were made at those times, and you can trust that the free market would not have taken care of those and that our parents and our grandparents and some of us are very, very happy that those programs are in place.

“This is one small step, and it will be improved over the years, just like these other programs have been over the years. One very small step to do the right thing. What else are we going to do? We know the problem is out there. It’s been debated. It’s been discussed. It’s been studied for years and years and years. This bill is ready and it is the right thing to do, and I encourage my colleagues to vote in support.

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator English rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, I rise, I guess, with reluctant support with extreme reservations. And I also reserve the right to maybe vote 'no' on this.

"Mr. President, in listening to this debate, I'm compelled to stand and speak because we are in a very strange point here. On the one hand we're trying to deal with a major social program, and that is long term care. Now, a lot of the speakers have brought up many different points and many different arguments for and against it, and a lot of it, most of it, holds a lot of validity. I think, though, for us, the moment is here that we have to consider just what it means. Because on the one hand, we're saying let the free market take care of this.

"As one speaker said, the Senator from Kaneohe, 'when I turn 50, I will purchase this insurance.' You may need to use it next year. You may need to use this type of long term care. God forbid if one of us were in an accident or something that you need this type of care, why is it that our society is saying when I get older I will purchase this. That is one of the questions. Why not do it now?

"So, one of the problems is that we're saying let the free market take care of it, but yet we're not doing it ourselves. We're not encouraging people to do it, and that becomes a social problem. Because in the end, towards the end, the year 2011 is the year when those that are 50 will be hitting the retirement age, will be starting to look at these things, and they have not put in the social infrastructure, built the long term care homes, built the skilled nursing care facilities, put in the infrastructure to take care of themselves.

"Now, the issue before us is whether or not we should move forward with a mechanism to provide a minimum standard of care for all of the citizens of Hawaii and spread that cost amongst everybody. Many of my friends who are in their 30s and 40s and 20s and upwards are saying, 'look where they're working, they're making money,' this is difficult for them. I've been getting a lot of those calls. A lot of the people that are older have been calling and have been saying, 'hey, we think this may be a good idea. It's a supplement. We understand it's a supplement. We understand that it provides for in-home care, which long term care insurance does not.' So, it's a quandary. It's contradictions of what we're trying to do, and it's also different points of views.

"I'm at a strange point mainly because I spent a good part of my adult life caring for both of my grandparents. And I understand very much what it means to be a caregiver for two elderly grandparents. Both have recently passed, but I learned a lot through that process. I learned about human compassion, about what it is and what it means to allow someone to remain in their home as long as possible, and to provide the care that's needed for them. So the compassionate part of me is saying that I should support this bill. The other side of me is saying that, well, hey, we're adding to the cost of living in Hawaii. We're adding to the amount that people have to pay every year just to live here.

"Now, if we were to take this out one step farther, how much will society pay if we don't enact something like this when all of you and all of us reach a certain age and we didn't purchase our long term care insurance policies and we're depending on society to cover our expenses.

"I went back and I looked at the medical bills for my grandfather. It was over $1 million. I looked at the medical bills for my grandmother, over $500,000. I would have not been able to afford that had it been for insurance that they had.

"So, yes, there are many financial issues, Mr. President. There are many social issues involved with this, but really, this vote is one of compassion and one of conscience and how do we reconcile all of these differences right here right now.

"I'm right on the edge. I'm going to make up my mind in the next few minutes, and unfortunately, or fortunately, I guess, is the way to phrase it, as Senators, the only option that we have is that we have to vote on all the issues. Now, many people will debate it and take a side and say they should do this or they should do that. The 25 of us have to make a vote of conscience now, and we have to weigh all of this in the next few minutes. What do we think is the best interest of all of the people of Hawaii? Do we spread the cost amongst everybody, our million-plus population, and in the end hope that we have accumulated enough wealth to cover the minimum needs of most of these people. Do we say 'no,' let the free market take this, and those that decide to purchase insurance, long term care insurance, will get some care. What do we do? That's the question.

"So in the next few minutes, Mr. President, I will make up my mind on how I'm going to vote. This is what's been going through my mind as this debate has been happening, and I think that whatever choice we make here, if we move forward with the bill or if we do not pass it, we will still be dealing with the long term care issue in the future, and we still have to build the facilities, the homes, and put in place the infrastructure to deal with this with or without this bill.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"Much discussion has taken place today. We've talked about being elected to do the right thing. When I think of what the right thing to me means, it means being honest with myself. It means being honest with the people that elected me. And sometimes it means telling them that if something sounds too good to be true, it probably is.

"I imagine many of you were at the vocational rehab luncheon that was held earlier this year. What impressed me being there was the accomplishments of the recipients of the awards in terms of their ability to lead better lives because they had the determination to succeed.

"When we look at how benefits are paid out, it's not a precise number like social security - when you're 65, you get it. Rather, it is when two life functions are impaired. This is not a precise number. It is open to discretion. It is open to whether a person wants to succeed or not and their ability to find somebody that will certify that a life function has been affected. My sense is that what will happen to this fund is something akin to what happened to banks in 1929. When there was a fear of insolvency, there was a run on the bank. The same potential for use of discretion exists in this act.

"In closing, I would like you to look at the numbers 10, 10, 70 and 75. I know that statistics is a science and we have had the best in actuarial science that money can buy. My past experience is that you cannot find anyone that practices that science that will always come up with round numbers - $10 a month, 10 years, pay out is $70 for 75 percent of the cost.

"I want to do the right thing. I would like to say yes, today we can solve the problem. But doing so would be as likely as this body passing a law preventing those of us that are over 55 from aging another day for at least one year. It is not in our power to do all the good that we would like to do, and sometimes we need to be honest with ourselves and we need to be honest with our constituents. This is still work in progress.

“Thank you.”

Senator Espero rose to speak against the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I’d like to rise against this measure also.

“Both sides do have some very compelling arguments on why this should be passed, however, my own gut feeling at this point in time is that there is still some work to be done. I realize that many people have put a lot of effort into this, however, I just don’t feel that this is the time to be passing this measure.

“Thank you.”

Senator Hogue rose and said:

“Roll Call vote, Mr. President.”

Senators Bunda, Kawamoto, and Sakamoto requested their votes be cast “aye with reservations,” and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 111 was adopted and S.B. No. 1088, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO LONG-TERM CARE,” having been read throughout, and Roll Call vote having been requested, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 16. Noes, 9 (Aduja, Espero, Hemmings, Hogue, Ige, Slom, Trimble, Tsutsui, Whalen).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 118 (S.B. No. 377, S.D. 1, H.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Kim moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 118 be adopted and S.B. No. 377, S.D. 1, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senator Hanabusa rose to speak in favor of the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of S.B. No. 377.

“Mr. President, I was having a conversation recently with one of my colleagues who told me, though I am viewed as the proponent of this Ko Olina tax credit, they have never really heard me speak to it. And I thought about it and I said that’s absolutely correct. So I believe that it is time for me to speak to the infamous Ko Olina tax credit, which was S.B. No. 2907 last year, vetoed by Governor Cayetano, and now is S.B. No. 377.

“Mr. President, before I begin, I would like to thank the Chairs of the Tourism and Ways and Means Committees because this is like sending your child off to school, I think – you proposed a bill but it’s completely out of your hands. Maybe if I was as good as the Senator from Waipahu, I would figure out how to opihī my bills, but I haven’t learned that from him yet. (Laughter.) Are you awake? (More laughter.) Just checking.

“Mr. President, the irony of this bill is that when I was a law student about 25 years ago, I clerked in the legal aide office in Waianae, and my whole summer’s project was to work in opposition to the development of what’s called West Beach, which we now know as Ko Olina. It was Horita’s West Beach project.

“About ten years later as a lawyer, I literally stumbled into labor law, representing the infamous and notorious Arthur Rutledge. And it is through Arthur Rutledge that I became the labor lawyer that I am known for as today. And Arthur Rutledge had very few people that he respected. One such person was Harry Weinberg, and I cut my teeth in labor negotiations over the bus, Harry Weinberg’s pride and joy in Hawaii.

“Today I stand before you in support of the Ko Olina tax credit, in support of the development of the area that I so strenuously opposed as a law student. And a lot of it also it gives me great pride now because this Harry Weinberg that was really this picture on the wall – and literally, Arthur Rutledge had his picture on the wall – has come almost full circle for me in that he is now an integral part of this tax credit.

“Mr. President, much has been said about this tax credit and I would like to address that, and I hope that my colleagues here today will be able to vote in favor of it with my comments.

“First of all, let there be no mistake. This is a tax credit which I authored and proposed. It is not a tax credit, as some say, that is for a developer or a particular person. In fact, I believe that as it now stands, the ultimate beneficiary of most of this tax credit will probably be the Weinberg Foundation. And for areas such as mine, Mr. President, the Weinberg Foundation has done a lot. It has, for example, already given in excess of $1 million to the homeless project. And as you know, Waianae is the dumping grounds of many things and we also take all the homeless as well.

“This tax credit came about when the Governor, then Governor Cayetano, decided that gambling should come to this island, but he wanted it contained, and the site that he selected was none other than Ko Olina. I was in strong opposition to that, Mr. President, because Ko Olina is the entryway to the Waianae Coast and it is the only entryway. Everyone knows about the problems that we have when there’s a major traffic jam, hostage situation, water main break. You can’t get into Waianae, but you will be in front of Ko Olina. I believed that such a development, a gambling establishment, would be terrible for an area that has such low social economic status – people who are without jobs, and the kinds of problems that we have in the area.

“What I did believe, Mr. President, is the fact that we need an economic engine to revitalize that whole area, and Legislators before myself have decided that Kapolei would be the second city and that we would have a second city on the island of Oahu. They also decided that we needed something other than Waikiki, that we needed a second resort destination. And that’s a debate that I listened to very carefully because one other place being considered was Makaha and of course Kuilima (what was then Kuilima) or Turtle Bay on the Windward side, and West Beach. And West Beach, now Ko Olina, won out. However, as you sit back and you look at the developments, Kapolei is becoming a suburbia. It is becoming a commuter population base. That was not the vision. That was not the intent. The idea was we would have a true second city. Ko Olina has only one hotel. We have a timeshare, but at this point this seems to be where it’s going to end unless something can be done to revitalize it.

“With all due respect to the Senator from Kahuku, what I don’t want to see is great plans like Turtle Bay was, and to have only a hotel and a lot of townhouses and a golf course. That is not what I’d like to see for this community base.

“So this tax credit brings us a different opportunity, and this is a different tax credit. It is a tax credit that says shall develop, basically, the aquarium to act as the attraction for the area. It also has in it the training facility. It was amended to include Makaha because the other problem we have is that Makaha Inn, whether it was called Sheraton Makaha, run by ANA, the Japanese airlines, it has gone up and down. And it’s now down again, Mr. President.

“We can have another project there, vacant and subject to vandals. And the Weinberg Foundation is looking at and is in negotiations at this present time to purchase that and to put forth the training facility – a training facility which can be used by not only the youth of the Waianae Coast, but for all youth, because this is envisioned to be something that is a total facility. It has kitchens already there. You can have culinary type classes, but it gives the students the opportunity to actually run a hotel, something that they do not have anywhere else. And this is also being made possible by this tax credit.

“One person came up to me and said, ‘You know, Senator Hanabusa, why don’t you just say you want a $7.5 million subsidy for the Waianae Coast? Isn’t that basically what this is?’ And I told this person, ‘this is not an issue of subsidy. I do not want to have the Waianae Coast become an area where everyone feels it’s just the haven for human service type projects.’

“As a matter of fact, in a discussion I had with some people there who talked about why don’t we benchmark success for the Waianae Coast, and they came to me and they said, ‘How would you measure the benchmark of success? Don’t you think if we had people who had a rise in their median income or homes were selling at a higher rate, isn’t that a great benchmark?’ And I looked at them, and you know, they were social service providers and I said I have the perfect benchmark – and that is when the people of Waianae can no longer qualify for your services. That’s my benchmark. Of course, they didn’t like what I was saying because social services is a major industry in Waianae. It’s a major industry, because you have to take care of a lot of our needs. I don’t want to see that. I want to see opportunity. I want to see the ability for the people to bootstrap themselves, and I see that with this simple tax credit.

“This is a different tax credit. This is a tax credit with a cap. This is a tax credit that before it came before you, it had dynamic impacts calculated – the only one that I know of – and it was done by none other than Dr. Seiji Naya who said 186 million will be generated for the 75 million. How many tax credits do we know of that has had that analysis, that we can before you and say this tax credit will give us 186 million and 75 million will be the cost. This tax credit does that.

“The other thing that I’d like to say is, people say to me, ‘this is a tax credit that only affects a particular area. Tax credits shouldn’t be used for a particular area.’ My response is, why not? One reason this tax credit should be considered is because when you want to stimulate an economic base, why not focus it in a particular area. If you look at the Ko Olina area and you can develop not only the aquarium . . . and as a result of Governor Cayetano, and I credit him for this, he said to the developers ‘I may consider not vetoing this bill if you can bring forth people who will say we will do this; we will invest in the area.’ And people came forth and they have appeared before various Ways and Means and Finance Committees. Ritz Carlton has come forward. Intrawest has come forward. You have all these various other entities who said they have come forward, and Weinberg – Weinberg who will donate the land underneath that aquarium and put its resources, not only for the training facility, but also, also, for the development of that aquarium. This is what we’re talking about. Why not?

“Let me tell you another reason why not. When you take your rubbish out in the morning, for those of you who are on Oahu and for those of you who are staying over, do you ever wonder where it goes? Let me tell you where it goes. It goes to my area – Waimanalo Gulch, the only municipal solid waste landfill in this state. And if it manages to get burned, it goes to Campbell Industrial Park. Now the area of the good Senator from Kapolei, it was my area as well. When you turn on your electricity, do you know where most of that electricity is generated? In our area, Kahe Power Plant. If it’s not Kahe, it’s Kalaeloa or AES, Campbell Industrial Park. And as Hawaiian Electric looks to expand electricity on this island, where are they going to go? Campbell Industrial Park. As you look at alternative disposal facilities, where are they looking for? H-Power is in Campbell Industrial Park. The Plasma Park Technology, where is that? Kalaeloa, many of you may know it as Barber’s Point, all part of this region.

“And as we look at Iraq, where do you think the Schofield Barracks soldiers train? Makua, the other end of my senatorial district. So I say, why not?

“An issue that I’ve had and fought way before I even considered running for office is the 138 kV lines. This is before it was popular in Manoa, before it became known on Waiiahila Ridge. Because when Malama Manoa became an entity, they came to see me. And they asked me what do you have to say about this. Can you help us? And I said, I will tell you, when we were fighting this on the Leeward Coast, when these 138 kV lines were being planned from Campbell Industrial Park to Waiao Power Park, no one else was there to fight for the people of our region. And I said, but I don’t have any ill feelings about that and sure I will. But let me tell you something, all of those lines, most of your electricity are actually traveled on these 138 kV lines, because the 138 kV lines are the only ones that can complete that grid, that grid that is necessary to ensure that your computers don’t blitz and so forth. And where do they come from? Basically, this particular area. This is the area.

“By the way, did I tell you we have all the illegal landfills as well. And in addition to that, when you do construction, infamous construction, where do you think the only legal landfill is? It’s in Nanakuli. By the Way, Waimanalo Gulch is not in the good Senator from Waimanalo’s district. It is in none other than Nanakuli. They just called it that so that we would believe that it was somewhere else. And you what, it worked. We did. (Laughter.) We did believe it, and we thought great, we’re going to support Waimanalo Gulch because it’s out of our area. Even Waimanalo Gulch we were promised, our community was promised, 15 years and it would be gone. No way, no way. It’s not going to be gone.

“And in addition to that, where is the largest percentage of Native Hawaiians in this state? Nanakuli and Waianae, my area. Who’s got the lowest social economic status? My area. Whose got the most problems? My area. I don’t say it with pride. I’m just saying that to make this case, because with this tax credit, with the training facilities, I believe that this area can take off. And for those of you who say, well, what about my area? You know, I tell you get on this bandwagon. Let’s see. If this is successful, I see no reason why we can’t repeat it elsewhere and take care of other areas that are in need of this specific help.

“Believe it or not, I actually do have a vision about what we’re going to do. What a lot of people did not know is that as the controversy with Ewa Villages started, and we are all very familiar with that, how many people actually knew that Ewa Villages was being developed by the City and County of Honolulu as a point where you would drop tourist off so that they could what a real plantation town looked like. What does Ewa Villages have? Ewa Villages has ORNL, an actual railroad. That railroad goes through Ko Olina and where does it end on the other side? It ends at Kahe Power Plant now, but it can actually go into Nanakuli.

"I feel that we have the masses, the number of people. Whether they come to that region by ship, because we also have the deep draft harbor too, or they come to stay in the Ko Olina resort areas because that aquarium will attract them there, that this railroad can bring people into Nanakuli. We don't want them on our roads. We've got bad roads. So they would go by railroad and it would drop them off at Nanaikapono School, which is being moved. And in that area, Nanaikapono and Camp Andrews, I can see the people of Nanakuli, then doing true eco-tourism. If it's true that Japanese tourist and other tourist want to see real Hawaii, real Hawaiians, then you know what, let them come to Nanakuli. Let the people of Nanakuli have their lifestyle, and let the tourist come in by train and go out by train.

"Think about what that would mean for this whole state. Think about what that would represent in terms of revitalizing not only our area and giving the people in my area hope and a future, but for the whole state.

"So, Mr. President, with that, I hope that my colleagues will support the passage of S.B. No. 377. And I apologize because I hadn't realized that I've never spoken to this measure to this body. Thank you very much."

Senator Kawamoto rose to speak in support of the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of the bill.

"Mr. President, I don't claim to be in that area. We're just in the outskirts of that area, but we support this bill primarily because of the fact that we support the idea of the second city when it came about. We support the fact that we need to develop, as a job creation area, we need to develop that area because of the fact that it's going to cost us big money to get some kind of transit, some kind of alternative means because the traffic is bad, really bad. If we can divert the traffic coming down H-2 or having people from downtown Honolulu come out to this area, then the traffic may be even.

"I'm concerned because, as the Transportation Chair, you pointed me to be there and this is one area that we want to develop. And hopefully next year or the year after we can again finish this complete vision with the University of West Oahu campus. (Laughter.)

"Thank you very much, support this project and maybe this is going to be the impetus of getting the whole area developed. Thank you."

Senator Hooser rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise somewhat reluctantly in opposition.

"I'm reluctant for several reasons. One is to follow the eloquence of the Senators from Waianae and Waipahu, and especially the Senator from Waianae that spoke so eloquently about her community. I'm not speaking today to convince my colleagues to vote against the measure. I'm speaking today to explain my reasons and motivations so the good Senators understand that I've thought this through.

"I'd very much like to vote in support just to support my colleagues on a good project, but after looking at the bill and giving it much thought, I can't bring myself to do so. This is a $75 million tax credit and I have many concerns. One concern clearly is that we're targeting one area, one primary developer. More serious concerns than that, though, involve that there seems to be no guarantees. We don't seem to be asking enough from the people who are the beneficiaries of the $75 million. Though there are references to building an educational facility, there seems to be no real clear guidance or guarantees on how the educational program would run, who would actually do it, and how it would work.

"More importantly, even though it will be generating jobs, there seems to be no assurances that the jobs will be good jobs, high paying jobs. I would prefer to have a prevailing wage clause guaranteeing there would be union jobs paying a good wage. There are many concerns. As a neighbor islander, I would prefer a tax credit that would apply to the entire state. With there being some question about whether or not the hotel construction and remodeling tax credit will be able to squeeze into this budget and the tightness of the budget, I'm afraid perhaps that the rest of the islands, in terms of this type of tax credit, will be left out.

"Jobs are important, but I think more important than just generating jobs we need to look at diversifying our economy, especially at this time. The unemployment rate for the City and County of Honolulu for the island that we're on right now is at 2.7 percent. This is the time I believe we should be spending $75 million on diversifying the economy instead of focusing on more of the same – hotel construction, resort construction . . . 2.75 percent. On the Big Island, it 4.2 percent. On my island, it's .8, and on Molokai it's 6.1. On these islands the residents can't drive to where the jobs are, so I believe we have a statewide problem and I would prefer the credits be distributed statewide.

"Again, it's not simply more jobs. We need to look at raising the people up, diversifying the economy. I wonder what would happen if we spent $75 million on schools for the Leeward Coast or $75 million on UH West Oahu, or $75 million on diversified agriculture, or other efforts in job diversification, in economic diversification.

"So these are some of the reasons, and I fully understand the passion and the need to serve your district and I reluctantly am speaking in opposition. Thank you."

Senator Kim rose to speak in favor of the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of S.B. No. 377.

"Mr. President, if I wasn't already in support of this measure, I certainly would have been convinced by the words of our Majority Leader. Certainly she spoke eloquently, and I agree with her. I also understand where she's coming from because my district of Kalihi is often the dumping grounds and certainly we need economic viability in that area. And that is why I've been so strong as far as the prison being relocated and having that area have some economic viability.

"I certainly support our Senator from Waianae and the Waianae Coast for its long neglect of that area and the fact that we depend upon that area for so many of our negative things that we don't want in our own back yard. So, certainly, Mr. President, I am not just a newcomer to the support of that area. I've supported the so-called West Beach, and I hate to age myself by bringing up where I've been in the past, but when I was on the city council back in 1985 we rezoned that area. We rezoned West Beach, which is now, as we've heard, Ko Olina. We rezoned the area and we also designated Kapolei as the second city, and we were supposed to move all the government buildings and we're supposed to put in businesses there to make it the second city. And here we are 18 years later still looking for the second city, trying to develop the second city, and also trying to develop this resort area of Ko Olina.

"Certainly, a tax credit of this nature will help to do that, will help to revitalize West Oahu, Mr. President. It will create multi-resort island model, like the one that we have on Maui and Kauai and the Big Island. It will complement Waikiki. It will diversify the Oahu visitor base by bringing in new hotels. It will also provide an incentive to create the world-class attraction that we need. The visitors come to Hawaii on their second and third visit and they have no new attractions.

"I have said time and time again, Mr. President, in the Tourism Committee that we need to look at our product. We need to look at renewing our product, refreshing our product, because it's getting old. And if we're not going to encourage these kinds of developments, then we're not going to get new visitors or return visitors coming back.

"Mr. President, this project is going to create 10,000 new construction jobs; 2,100 new permanent jobs. It's going to be $750 million of new construction, not state construction, mind you. It would be private construction monies. The only monies involved is a tax credit. In order to get the tax credit you have to show that you've expended the cost and the monies.

"Weinberg Foundation, who has helped so many on this island, so many people in the whole state, has committed the lands and the resources to make this a reality. They have committed the training facility. I spoke with the developer yesterday to the issue on the training programs and they have assured me that they will be doing the training programs. They're going to be doing the training center as well as the training programs. I believe it's also a commitment to the Senator of Waianae as well.

"The Leeward Coast is long overdue for this kind of incentive, Mr. President. The residents of the Leeward Coast so deserve some attention from this Legislature, and I urge all of my colleagues to support this measure.

"Thank you."

Senator Slom rose to speak in support of the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise in strong support of this measure.

"I've talked about this before. I supported this. People in my own district in East Honolulu ask me why would you in Hawaii Kai support something in Waianae? And I said because I am a State Senator. We are all State Senators. We should take the position that most important for us and for the state is anything that is going to benefit any portion of our state.

"When we look at the situation at Ko Olina, as very specifically detailed by the Majority Leader, we want to reiterate again this is not a subsidy. I don't vote for subsidies. This is not a government project. This is private investment. As I've said on previous occasions in sitting through all of the hearings for the last couple of years, I have never, before I came to the Legislature or since, ever seen any developers come down to this Legislature, sit through hearings, answer every question posed to them specifically, made every change that was asked of them, jumped through every hoop, did everything that was required without whining, without complaint, without excuse. I've never seen it, Mr. President, and I doubt that any of my colleagues have either.

"Let's get this straight, this is not for one specific project or one developer. Hey, anybody that had the ability, the vision, and the risk potential to come forward could qualify and would have been welcomed for a project like this. But the fact of the matter is there's no great desire to do that or to invest in Hawaii. Why? Because of some of the trashy bills and increased taxes and regulations that we passed over the last seven hours sitting in room. We still remain an anti-business state and we send that message all the time, and some of the arguments against this bill reinforce that.

"Well what about the jobs? They may not be the right kind of jobs. They may not be good enough jobs. They may not pay enough. I say to my colleagues, then you start a business, and you provide the jobs, and you provide the investment, and you provide the diversification. Because the fact of the matter is Hawaii has been and continues to be passed over. We are not taken seriously as a business or investment center. In fact, we used to have a chief of state who used to deride publications like the Wall Street Journal, Investor's Business Daily, Fortune, The Economist, Financial World. His comments were, 'Nobody reads them; nobody pays attention to them anyway. They're just right wing publications.' That attitude has got to change.

"What this project, what this development gives us an opportunity to do is to be a beacon to attract other developments in other parts of our state. Because if investors see that in fact we are serious about wanting people to do business and to invest here, they will then overcome their reluctance and they will take us more seriously.

"Now, about the $75 million, some people would have you believe that we're just going to hand somebody $75 million. You know, like in case they made a surf movie or something like that. That's not the case here. As the good Senator from Waianae pointed out, the previous study under the last administration by the head of the Department of Business and Economic Development said, the returns expected conservatively on the $75 million were $186 million. And they were very specific and very detailed, but here's the most important thing – this project and this development is dependent on meeting certain criteria and certain schedules, and certain developments and actually performing. They don't perform, they don't get the credits. They don't do it in a timely manner, there is penalties for that. There's no guarantee. This is not a refundable credit that they can take to the bank. And it's not for the attorneys or for the CPAs. It's for some people that will actually utilize the risk and sweat capital.

"I'm a very strong proponent of economic diversification. I think we have muffed many opportunities in the past. I see this as a project and an opportunity for that diversification. The fact of the matter is, however, that tourism happens to be the engine that is driving our economy, the only primary engine at this point. But still, what are we talking about? Here we're talking about economic diversification within the resort and recreational market. But the important thing here is that it is on the private developer's nickel. They have to perform, and nobody will be watching this project and demanding more than those of us that support it. Because as has been pointed out for the second city and for other projects, we've watched them languish for 5, 10, 15, 20 years. But this bill and this credit is very specific. And this developer and this project is under scrutiny and under a microscope like never before. And if he fails, which would be a shame and I don't think he will, but if he fails, it's his failure, not the taxpayers of this state.

“That’s why the Governor didn’t like it, the past Governor. Even though everything he required – additional investors, additional people, people like Weinberg came forward; they showed their faith and confidence in this – he didn’t like it. He liked projects that the taxpayers had to support. He wanted another aquarium that the taxpayers would support. What we want are projects that private risk-takers will support themselves, that will help diversify the economy, that will attract investment, that will create jobs which will help an area or areas that not only has been known for dumping and for third class citizenship, but for people without hope, people without something to look forward to.

“Sure, we could take $75 million and we could build all kinds of things. We’re even taking some of it. We’re talking about building world class farmer’s markets. We’re talking about other things that we can construct, and yes, we can construct schools as well. We might not be able to maintain them, though, since we still have a $640 million backlog on existing schools. We could build another campus of the University of Hawaii, even though we don’t take care of the campus at Manoa properly, or Hilo. We can educate the people, and then after they get their degrees, we can wave goodbye to them at the airport as they go to seek other places where there are economic opportunities.

“We have an opportunity here and a chance to do something positive. And as State Senators, it is a situation where we have to look at the state as a whole and not say why did that district get it and my district didn’t get it. You got somebody in your district, have them come forward. Have them come forward with the plan, the vision, the energy, the resources, the guarantee, and the risk taking, and then we can have multiple Ko Olinas.

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Hogue rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise in strong support of this particular measure.

“I appreciate the good words of the Majority Leader and her passion for her district. I believe this is a very worthy project. I’ve seen some of the designs and I appreciate the vision of the people who have been behind this particular project.

“But I want to talk about an issue that has come up in the press, because I do believe that from time to time the press has a tendency to characterize things without fully understanding that this somehow is a $75 million tax loss or a $75 million tax subsidy. As the good Senator from Waianae already mentioned, past studies have indicated that the state will net approximately $186 million in future tax revenues from this very worthy project. That means that this is not a $75 million tax loss but it is at least a $111 million windfall. Now that’s a great return on investment.

“There was a question of how could we spend $75 million in tax money. I think that we should be looking at ways that we’ll be able to spend this extra $111 million in tax money. We can improve our public schools. We can go a long way to getting into that repair and maintenance backlog. We can improve our universities. We can maybe even get the good Senator from Waipahu’s university built out there. We can talk about other ways to diversify our economy.

“This is a great investment for the entire State of Hawaii, a great return on investment, and I urge you to vote ‘yes.’ Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Ige rose to speak in opposition to the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in opposition to this measure.

“Mr. President, when tax credits are given for any reason, we are asking other taxpayers to sacrifice to shoulder the burden of taxation. It is very important, therefore, that we remain fiscally responsible and target tax incentives for specific purposes.

“It is clear that this tax measure before us will benefit a single taxpayer, and clearly I acknowledge the fact that it would impact the region and it may help to stimulate other activity in the Ko Olina area. But let’s look at the bill that’s before us specifically and not talk about smoke and mirrors and other kinds of benefits that may or may not occur.

“This tax credit before us, members, is a super tax credit. There is no other tax credit like this tax credit that is before us that is currently offered to any other taxpayer in the state. This tax credit can be claimed against GET taxes; this tax credit can be claimed against TAT taxes; this tax credit can be claimed against timeshare taxes; this tax credit can be claimed against public service company taxes; in fact, this tax credit can be claimed against virtually every single tax that the State has. I was trying to identify a tax that can’t be claimed, and the only tax that I can find that can’t be claimed is a rent-a-car tax. So, let’s just be very, very specific about this. This tax credit that we’re about to vote on is unlike any other tax credit that we’ve ever adopted.

“Not only is this a super tax credit that we’re offering, but there is very little that’s required. There’s been talk about the developer being held to a very specific timetable. I don’t see any timetable in this bill. I don’t see any requirement that the developer has that would trigger him default and not be able to claim the credit.

“This bill is very, very specific. The taxpayer has to do only two things – one is to spend the money for a world class aquarium or other attractions, and the second is to commit, 17 years down the road, to commit 50 percent of any profits that this project may generate. These are the only two things that this bill requires in order for the taxpayer to claim this super tax credit. And again, as I said, this is the only tax credit that I know of that really can be applied against all taxes that the State implements.

“The definitions in this bill are very vague. People talk about being specific and being very limited, but there’s no definition what a world class aquarium is. I’m not certain what that means or what cost would be qualified. There is no definition of attractions. Attractions could mean facilities that the drafters of the bill never intended. Attractions could be a water park; attractions could be an amusement park; attractions could be a shopping center; attractions could be a movie theater. In fact, if you go to Webster’s, the definition of attraction is: a feature or characteristic that attracts; a person, place, thing, or event intended to attract.

“So clearly, this bill can be, and the tax credits can be, applied for virtually anything that occurs in these parcels.

“There’s been much said about the economic impact of the project, but this bill doesn’t require any additional investment. There are absolutely no criteria. There is no requirement that training programs be offered, only that funds spent to acquire a resort can be claimed as a credit. There’s no requirement that they hire local people. There’s no requirement, in fact, that the aquarium ever be completed or operational. The only requirement is that the developer spends the money.

“There’s been lot’s of discussions about developers standing up and willing to commit to go forward with the project. This bill doesn’t specify that anybody else is going to be investing in Ko Olina. There’s absolutely no requirement in this bill. In fact, if you refer to Governor Cayetano’s veto message explicitly, he says, and I’m quoting, ‘it provides little promise of additional economic benefits to the taxpayers because many of the businesses involved here were already committed to building their developments.’ The Marriott Corporation, for example, has informed me that it will build its 750 timeshare unit project at Ko Olina regardless of whether this tax credit moves forward.

“Prior to September 11, 2001, several Ko Olina developers publicly announced their intent to build their projects on the site and some are moving forward when and if the funds are available.

“I did also want to talk about two other things, and we’ve talked about it a lot. The Senator from Kauai talked about the fact that unemployment on Oahu is at 2.7 percent. When you talk to economists, their view is that 2.5 percent is essentially full employment.

“I also would like to quote for the members the statistics from the Hawaii State Department of Labor. The lowest average wage industries in the State of Hawaii – I guess this is based on the 2001 payroll – the lowest average wages were in the arts, entertainment, and recreation industry, and the average annual wage was $19,261. The second lowest industry average annual wages is in the accommodation and food services industry at $19,964 annual average wages.

“Now, I guess the problem that I have is that we’ve been focusing our tax credits at diversifying our economy. We’ve made a conscious decision that the challenge before us is not job creation for the sake of job creation. The challenge before us is really quality job creation. It’s the high paying jobs that we want to create. The salaries in those industries that we’ve targeted, based on the Department of Labor’s same statistics, are: professional services, $45,500 annual average salary; scientific research, $51,000; computers and information technology, $49,000 average annual salary; project management and consulting, $50,000 average annual salary.

“I truly can relate to the Senator from Waianae, and I really do want to see a better future for the Waianae Coast. In fact, last week we spent two hours at Searider Productions at Waianae High School, and let me tell you, members, by far, Searider Productions is the best video and digital media production in the State, bar none, public or private school. There were 200 students in that program, fully engaged, producing a print newspaper, producing an electronic newsletter, producing a Website, producing a video magazine, learning all of the technology skills to compete and win. In fact, their production had just returned from a national conference on the West Coast where they took first place amongst 32 teams from across the country.

“Members, I really truly believe that the people of Waianae deserve a better future and I believe that we need to be judicious about our tax credits and focus and really give them the future that they deserve. For this and all other reasons, I’ll be voting ‘no.’”

Senator Espero rose to speak in support as follows:

“Mr. President, I’d also like to rise in support of this measure.

“I’d like to point out that the good Senator from the Waianae Coast also forgot to mention that we also have an oil refinery, a sewage plant, and the Kalaeloa Airport in West Oahu. But with these put aside, there are some very good things happening in West Oahu from Ko Olina to Kapolei, the Ewa Marina, the future UH West Oahu, and this is just going to help boost what’s currently happening.

“Now, the good thing, as has been stated, is it is a private developer. There are no government bonds involved. There are no grants-in-aid. There are no loan guarantees, no subsidies. And looking at what’s been happening out there and looking at the plans, the Senator from Pearl City had some concerns but I have no doubt that this is going to be a world class aquarium in a world class resort. I have no doubt that in time the Ko Olina resort may become the finest resort in the State of Hawaii. I have no doubt that thousands of jobs are going to be generated – construction jobs as well as visitor industry jobs. And I have no doubt that local people will be hired, and not only local people from the Waianae Coast and from Ewa Beach and from Waipahu, but people from the whole island.

“It was commented that this is targeted for one area. This is not targeted for one area. The majority of the people live on Oahu. We don’t have a resort that’s going to be the caliber of Ko Olina once it’s done. But once it is completed, people throughout the world are going to stay at Ko Olina resort and know that it is a five-star quality resort and it is going to help our visitor destination and visitor industry.

“We need this bill because the future of Oahu is West Oahu. In five to ten years, that is going to be the best place to live on this island. We will have everything and more that this island and this population currently needs. We’re going to move the traffic out west. We’re not going to double-deck the freeway. Maybe we’ll get our light rail and many, many good things are going to happen. And with the state’s assistance, the tax benefits as was stated from the Senator from Kaneohe will definitely no doubt outweigh the $75 million.

“In the long term, this is going to be a fantastic investment for the State of Hawaii. And just like now where people from Waianae, Kahuku, Waimanalo drive into town to Waikiki to work, people from Waikiki, Kahuku, Waimanalo may drive west to work. And maybe one day they’ll be living out there because of all the good things that we are doing.

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Kanno rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of the bill.

“Mr. President, I’d like to start off by commending the Senator from Waianae for her leadership on this bill.

“Years ago, it was determined that the Kapolei region would be the secondary urban center for the Island of Oahu. The target of tens of thousands of new homes. We’d be able to preserve Windward Oahu and the North Shore and to keep the country, country, by targeting all of this growth into one community. Together with that came the promise of a full complement of services that a city offers – most importantly jobs. The hope is that traffic heading into town during rush hour will be lessened by cars heading to Kapolei.

"The pieces were in place. A visitor destination which came with brand new beaches. A deep draft harbor. When Barbers Point closed in 1999, the State and City received a 2,000-acre parcel.

"The development of a thriving new city takes time. The potential is there.

"I was born and raised in Leeward Oahu, and I've seen the growth in our area. We do have thousands of new homes. We do have a lot of traffic still fighting rush hour. We do have overcrowded schools. We do have all of the heavy industrial facilities for our island.

"Now is the time for the state to follow through with the commitments made to the people of Leeward Oahu. This proposal represents that hope and opportunity. I urge my colleagues to vote 'aye.'"

Senator Trimble rose to speak with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, I rise with reservations.

"I have voted no on I think almost every tax credit that I've heard so far this year. I fully intended to vote no today. I was impressed by the remarks from the Senator from Waianae. I saw no reason to . . . what was it that Emerson said, 'A foolish consistency is the hobgoblin of little minds.'

"listening to the speeches, I can agree with some of those that spoke against that maybe this won't happen or maybe that won't happen. But what I got was it has a very good chance of moving jobs closer to the very people that need those jobs most. Maybe it will work, maybe it won't work, but we haven't done anything else so far this year.

"So, I will be casting an 'aye' vote when the vote is taken. Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Hanabusa rose and said:

"Mr. President, I appreciate the comments of the Senator from Aiea, and it unfortunate that this tax credit is almost viewed something like an either/or. I accept the fact that he feels very vehemently about the fact that we want to do different quality or higher quality jobs. Mr. President, we are not all created equal.

"I am dealing with a district where many just want jobs. The Searider production the good Senator from Aiea mentioned it. Mr. President, that is a passion of mine as well. I have dedicated a lot of time in securing resources. When the good Senator of Aiea went on and was able to compliment them, it is because of a HUD grant that we secured. A HUD grant that when the opening was held, Shawn Lester from Maui came over and looked at it. I'm sorry, it wasn't Shawn Lester, it was Shawn McLaughlin from Maui came over and looked at it and said can we use this model and bring it to Molokai, because it is an exciting model.

"But Mr. President, Candy Suiso is the teacher at Waianae High School who I fully credit for this success. One of the things she and I sit back and talk about all the time is what next? What next? These students who graduate from the Waianae High School and who have had the training in the Searider productions come out as good as, and maybe better than, many of the people who go through the media programs at Leeward Community College.

"But we sit there and we say, what's their future? There's only so many camera-person type jobs around. There's only so many of these jobs. So we were saying maybe what we have to do is go out and promo this. Maybe one of them will become the new George Lucas and bring a whole industry back. Those are the dreams that we have.

"But Mr. President, we have a more practical problem. We have 2,000-plus students at Waianae High School. Only 200 can avail themselves of this media program. We were fortunate enough to break ground, finally, for the media center, which under the good leadership of the Senator from Makiki when she was Ways and Means Chair she managed to put in and save even after Governor Cayetano line item vetoed it or tried to take it out of the budget. And we have broken ground on that, but we still sit there and we say, God, they do great work, but what next? What about the others?"

"I would love to know that every single child in Waianae can move on and become a high tech person or can move on and actually get a $50,000 a year job or a higher paying job. But the reality is, Mr. President, many of them just want jobs, and they're not students who are bad. They're students that as I went to Makaha the other day, somebody that I thought was heading off for college was working there and said to me something like, I'd like to work for Ko Olina. And I looked at him and I said, I thought you were heading off for college. Certain circumstances didn't work out so he couldn't go.

"Mr. President, if the Ko Olina tax credit goes through and if we're able to see these hotels, the training program is so critical because what it does is gives everyone the opportunity to learn how to manage. Middle management we are low on, we don't have that. This training program will bring that forth. And yes, it does give the kids in my area, or the kids in anybody's area the opportunity to make this a career.

"And if this area goes, then maybe the high tech types of jobs will be there. Maybe biotech jobs will be there too. But I have the cold reality that not every single one of them is going to be able to move on and become the next George Lucas or whoever. The reality is I've got an area that is a problem, and I'm not ignoring that fact. I want high tech. I put everything into that as well. But Mr. President, it can only afford in that one school 200 students and that's it. What happens to the rest? And what happens to those who can't do that? What about those who have to go into construction? What about those who may make great groundskeepers? What about those who may play well with dolphins? We need that opportunity, Mr. President, and that is what this tax credit poses for us.

"And let me just end by saying this, if the developer doesn't do what is required for qualified tax credits, Mr. President, there is no tax credit. He doesn't get the money. This is not a refundable tax credit. This is nonrefundable. They have got to earn it. If they don't earn it and they don't do it, they don't get it. It's as simple as that.

"Thank you very much, Mr. President."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 118 was adopted and S.B. No. 377, S.D. 1, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 20. Noes, 3 (Hooser, Ige, Ihara). Excused, 2 (Fukunaga, Tsutsui).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 119 (S.B. No. 1305, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 119 be adopted and S.B. No. 1305, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Kim.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I’ll be voting ‘no’ on this bill.

“The reason for that is that it takes money from the emergency and budget reserve fund, the so-called rainy day fund, and I don’t think that’s appropriate.

“Thank you.”

Senator Baker rose in support of the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I have remarks in support of this measure I’d like inserted into the Journal.”

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Baker’s remarks read as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of S.B. No. 1305, C.D. 1, which appropriates funds from the emergency and budget reserve fund for vital health and human services programs which are necessary to maintain our State’s social service safety net.

“On the health side, appropriations to Molokai General Hospital, the only hospital on the island of Molokai, and to Kahuku and Wahiawa General Hospitals, will ensure essential health services remain available in our rural communities. Appropriations to community health centers who regularly provide healthcare to our State’s uninsured and operating subsidies to the Waianae Coast Comprehensive Health Center and the Hana Community Health Center will ensure our healthcare safety net will remain in place for rural and isolated communities. Once again with this measure, we are trying to get the Department of Health to pay attention to the oral health needs of our children. By utilizing our community health centers, more of Hawaii’s underserved keiki will receive vital dental services.

“Additionally, this measure provides funding to leverage private sector support for programs delivering statewide services such as the St. Francis Medical Center’s bone marrow registry and the Poison Center at the Kapiolani Medical Center for Women and Children Sex Abuse Treatment Center. Programs which give support to victims of sex abuse and domestic violence are continued with funding in this measure.

“Two other appropriations will leverage federal funds to establish an adolescent residential treatment center to treat poly-drug abuse, and fund community anti-drug efforts aimed at preventing crystal methamphetamine use on the Big Island. The island of Hawaii has suffered a disproportionate share of the effects of crystal meth use, and these programs are essential to assist Hawaii County in fighting crystal meth use and the host of problems that it creates.

“Lastly, this measure appropriates general funds to implement the Hawaii Rx program. Hawaii Rx is an important step to address the ever-increasing cost of prescription medication, a significant contributor to the rising cost of health care. Without programs like Hawaii Rx in place, we will see more and more citizens, seniors in particular, forced to go without other necessities in order to cover the cost of their life-saving prescription drugs.

“Senate Bill 1305, C.D. 1, will provide our citizens with vital health and human services. Without these services, our health services safety net would be irreparably damaged for some communities and severely compromised for others. These appropriations are a necessary and proper use of the emergency and budget reserve fund. I urge my colleagues to join me to support this important measure. Mahalo.”

Senator English rose to speak in support of the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of the measure.

“Mr. President, this is a very important bill for the neighbor islands. I want to commend the Chair of the Health Committee for guiding this very important bill through.

“This bill holds many very important measures for my district and for the community health centers. Moloka’i General Hospital’s funding is within this measure – Hana Community Health Center, Hale Mahaolu, Maui AIDS Foundation, Lamalama Ka `Ili program on Moloka’i and many, many others for the state.

“This is one of those bills that is attached to the budget in that we use it as a vehicle to take care of the medical, some of the human services, and community health centers. It’s a very important bill, and I want to again extend my thanks to the Chair and to the Vice Chair of the Health Committee for making this bill go through and also to the members of the WAM Committee for allowing this to move forward.

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Chun Oakland rose to speak in favor of the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I just wanted to speak in favor of this measure and insert remarks into the Journal and to also express my appreciation to the Chair of Health, to our counterparts in the House, the House Health Chair as well as the House Human Services Chairman, and particularly to the money Committee Chairs and Vice Chairs for their support, and all of you.

“Thank you.”

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Chun Oakland’s remarks read as follows:

“Mr. President and Colleagues, I rise to speak in strong support of S.B. 1305, which appropriates funds for essential health and human services programs and services.

“I wish to express my deep appreciation to my staff, the Chairs, Vice Chairs and members of the Ways and Means and Finance Committees, the House Health and Human Services Committees, all of the members of the Legislature, and the members of the public who worked with the Senate Health Committee Chair, the House Health Chair, the House Human Services and Housing Chair and me to develop the contents of this bill.

“I also wish to thank my colleagues for funding these essential services and programs that are so necessary to so many people, and for once again demonstrating the Legislature’s commitment to maintaining the safety net of programs and services for our community.

“In closing, I urge your support for the important programs and services in S.B. 1305.

“Mr. President, I have a list of the programs and services funded through this measure that I would like to be read into the record.

read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Sakamoto rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in support.

"I know the hour is late but this is a very important measure so please bear with me while I actually say remarks as opposed to just putting it in the Journal.

"This measure is a result of a tremendous amount of work and collaboration between the charter schools, the conversion charter schools, Kamehameha Schools, the Department of Education, and obviously the House and Senate. Your Education Committees and your money Committees worked very hard. The Senator from Ka'u on the Big Island, in particular, worked hard to help bring this forward.

"This is a major step forward in providing support to the charter school movement by clarifying the funding levels for charter schools and providing charter schools with the administrative support structure separate from the regular administration's structure.

"This measure seeks to create fairness for all public school students by using a published per pupil cost as a basis for funding. From this, we have subtracted federal funds, which charters will receive or can receive based on if it's a grant or some form for them to access it, just as other public schools can.

"We also deleted special education, and for this service the charters will be able to collaborate and work with the DOE to get those services provided.

"In this first year, next school year, the per pupil allocation was calculated by the budget director at the department to come out to $5,355. All students receive this amount. Special education students receive additional SPED funding, which is not calculated into the base formula. This allocation, just for clarification, does include all fringe benefits because we took the total amount less federal, less SPED, divided, so that's all their funds. And since the Department of Education pays fringe benefits from another account, it's anticipated that this reimbursement process will be worked out with the DOE for any fringe benefits the charter schools would like the state to provide.

"This also provides choice for the charters in allowing them to seek economies of scale, and the ways in which they get resources to help them run their school. This measure seeks to foster independence and accountability, as well as provide for a basis for financial and administrative planning.

"It has been difficult to draft a measure to meet the needs of such independent and diverse group of schools such as the charters. As problematic as the process has been, I believe that much of what we've learned along the way will benefit our entire school system. Perhaps it's a model that will enable us to observe the governance at a school level. In part, the per pupil weighted formula, which this is sort of one example of, and various combinations of administration and management.

"So I would like to thank those of you who suggested improvements as the bill went along, came with ideas based on your charter schools wherever they are, and hopefully we can continue to improve charters and indeed all of education statewide as we go forward. So, thank you for your support, and I ask for your support on this measure."

Senator Hogue rose to speak in support of the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I also rise in support of this very important measure, and I appreciate the hard work of the Senate Education Chair, also the Vice Chair of Ways and Means, and others.

“This is a very important matter to level the playing field, especially with regards to funding for the charter schools. The charter schools are virtually unanimous in their support of this bill and they have definitely been looking forward to the increase in their funding.

“There are some concerns regarding the authority of a separate administrative arm. Some of those concerns have been addressed by a representative in Washington, Dean Kern, who heads the charter school movement. Hopefully he can be helpful as this bill moves along and hopefully the state’s charter schools and this administrative arm will be willing to listen to him because he represents quite a bit of money with regards to federal funding.

“So, this is a step in the right direction. It’s a great improvement and hopefully we’ll have some very healthy charter schools because of it.

“Thank you very much, Mr. President.”

Senator Ige rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations and said:

“Mr. President, I just would like to speak in support of this measure with reservations.

“I did want to congratulate the Chair of Education. I do agree that this is a good step forward.

“I am very much concerned in one area. Right now the funding formula includes funding for special needs children in the basic funding. And essentially, the schools would be required to implement the IEPs for special needs children within the normal allocation that they get for the regular student. If in fact more services are required, then the charter school has to go back to the department and get them to bless the individualized education program and seek funds through the department in order to provide services for the special needs children. I really do believe that that funding will be inadequate for special needs children.

“One of the big problem areas that we’ve had with special needs children is whenever you have an arbitrary barrier where you have two organizations responsible for the education of the child, and this is what I see. In one case the state would be responsible for providing funding but then they take control. They develop the IEP and they’ll develop the program. Or the school has to live within its own means.

“I’m just very much concerned. I hope that we can continue to monitor the special needs funding and the way that it’s set up in this bill and really make an effort to give the charter school total responsibility and total funding for special needs children.

“Thank you.”

Senator Kokubun rose to speak in support of the measure and stated:

“Mr. President, I stand in strong support of this bill.

“As a co-introducer of this measure, it is extremely gratifying to participate in legislative action that improves the capabilities of charter schools and, in turn, the Department of Education as well. This measure provides a formula for more equitable funding for charter schools and for more independence in terms of administrative matters for charter schools.

“I also want to commend the Chairman of the Education Committee on a job well done. He was very tenacious in pulling this effort together, and certainly through the collaborative group that he assembled, I think, was able to gain general agreement.

“I just wanted to mention, for the record, that I think the good Senator from Moanalua has now fixed his car; he’s built a bridge; and he’s driven the car over the bridge. So, congratulations.” (Laughter.)

Senator Sakamoto rose and said:

“Just to clarify part of the Senator from Aiea’s comment.

“Again, on the per pupil cost we took the total cost, subtracted the fed, subtracted special ed. That means the special ed dollars are not in the 5,355. They remain with the department and the charters are to negotiate.

“I agree there’s some concern of who has the IEP and how they control it, but the dollars are currently with the DOE and they have to negotiate either services or dollars. So, just to clarify.

“Thank you.”

Senator Hogue rose to speak in opposition to the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I also rise in opposition.

"I also want to make this point once again. I get asked this over and over again. When is the state going to return my hurricane fund money? I do believe that the best public interest for the state would be to return at least a portion of that money. They can keep some of it around for future hurricanes, but return the money to the people who paid into it.

At this time, Senator Hogue moved that the referral of H.C.R. No. 41, H.D. 1, to the Committee on Transportation, Military Affairs, and Government Operations be waived, seconded by Senator Hemmings.

Senator Hogue noted:

“Mr. President, I’m asking my colleagues to allow a floor vote on this particular measure which is urging the Department of Accounting and General Services to establish an intergovernmental community task force to plan for the development of an alternative access road to Kailua High School in Kailua Oahu.

“Colleagues, this measure has been long asked for by the community, just asking that the DAGS people and the executive branch help out the community. It has been passed unanimously by the House and I realize there was a backlog in the Committee and therefore it didn’t get a chance to be heard over here in the Senate. So I’m hopeful that we can get the waiver and get a chance to vote on it on, I guess, Thursday.

“Thank you very much, Mr. President.”

Senator Kawamoto rose in opposition to the motion and said:

“Mr. President, I oppose the request.

“Primarily, Mr. President, DAGS does not have the equipment or the people to access the road. I think DOT, Department of Transportation, has the people and the people to look into this matter and it should go to the DOT versus DAGS.”

Senator Hogue rose in rebuttal as follows:

“Mr. President, I just rise in rebuttal.

“Conversations with the executive branch have indicated that there are a number of executive branches that would need to be involved here – DOT, Department of Public Safety, Department of Education – and all we’re asking DAGS to do is to be the spearhead so that we can get all of the different aspects, including federal monies and city monies together and work with the community. So that’s why DAGS is actually spearheading it here.

“So as I’ve said, we’ve had full support from the House and just hopeful that we can just have this go forward for a long suffering community.

“Thank you very much, Mr. President.”

Senator Kawamoto responded as follows:

“Again, Mr. President, the money is going to come through highway funds, special highway funds. And the people that look into these kinds of matters are from DOT and they need to insure the coordination and lead the investigation or the survey.

“So I ask that this be tabled and be left for next year’s consideration.”

The motion was then put by the Chair and failed to carry.

Senator Hemmings rose and said:

“Mr. President, I think the proper request would be a division of the house, please.”

At 8:35 o’clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 8:37 o’clock p.m.

Senator Ihara rose and said:

“Mr. President, could you repeat what’s the effect of the vote? Is this the vote? This is not a vote on the resolution I believe. It’s a vote on . . .”

The President interjected:

“That’s right. This is a vote on the referral of the resolution.”

Senator Ihara then inquired:

“So what’s the effect of the vote?”

The President replied:

“If members vote down on it, then it stands and there is no referral to DAGS or . . .”

At 8:38 o’clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 8:39 o’clock p.m.

The President then stated:

“Senator Ihara, a ‘no’ vote means that the referral stays with the Committee on TMG.”

Senator Ihara the inquired:

“What does a ‘yes’ vote mean?”

The President replied:

“A ‘yes’ vote means that we urge the Committee, urge the department . . .”

At 8:39 o’clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 8:40 o’clock p.m.

Senator Hemmings rose and said:

“A point of clarification. It’s my belief, Mr. President and colleagues, that if you vote ‘no’ on the motion, you’re keeping the resolution in Committee. If you vote 'yes,' you're waiving the referral of the Committee and the resolution goes directly to the Floor for Final vote for one-day notice on Thursday."

The motion was then put by the Chair and, Roll Call vote having been requested, failed to carry on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 7. Noes, 17 (Aduja, Baker, Bunda, English, Espero, Fukunaga, Hanabusa, Ige, Inouye, Kanno, Kawamoto, Kim, Kokubun, Menor, Sakamoto, Taniguchi, Tsutsui). Excused, 1 (Whalen).

At 8:42 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 8:43 o'clock p.m.

SENATE RESOLUTION

The following resolution (S.R. No. 147) was read by the Clerk and was disposed of as follows:

Senate Resolution

No. 147 "SENATE RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE SENATE COMMITTEE ON JUDICIARY AND HAWAIIAN AFFAIRS AND TWO MEMBERS OF SENATE LEADERSHIP TO CONDUCT AN INTERIM STUDY OF THE SENATE RULES REGARDING DECISION-MAKING BY STANDING COMMITTEES AND CONFERENCE PROCEDURES REGARDING DECISION-MAKING BY CONFERENCE COMMITTEES."

Offered by: Senator Hanabusa.

By unanimous consent, action on S.R. No. 147 was deferred until Thursday, May 1, 2003.

At this time, Senator Hogue moved that the deadline for the introduction of substantive resolutions on the 2003 Senate internal legislative timetable be waived, seconded by Senator Hemmings.

Senator Hogue noted:

"Mr. President, this is S.C.R. No. 207 rejecting the recommendation of the Legislative Salary Commission to raise legislative salaries. So what I'm asking you to do is to follow the lead that we have set here on the Floor today recognizing that these are austere times and that it is not prudent to raise salaries in the judiciary branch, the executive branch or the legislative branch.

"Thank you."

Senator Baker rose on a point of order as follows:

"Point of Order, Mr. President.

"I believe the motion and the discussion ought to be on the point of waiving the Rules, not on the substance of the resolution."

Senator Hogue responded:

"Mr. President, point very well taken. I appreciate that.

"Because a similar waiver was granted on another measure earlier today, I think a precedent has been set, so I'm asking for you to follow through on the precedent you already set with regards to waiving the internal calendar. I'm asking you to do it again.

"Thank you."

Senator Ihara rose in favor of the motion and said:

"Mr. President, I speak in favor of the motion to waive the Senate Rule.

"If this goes to a vote, I will actually be voting against it but I believe that the Senate should waive its Rule and take this matter up because the Legislative Salary Commission is in the constitution and the constitution says that the Legislature may reject the Legislative Salary Commission's plan submitted to the Legislature, which they did, by the constitutional deadline. Therefore, I think that this matter should be voted up or down on the substance as permitted by the constitution.

"Thank you."

At 8:46 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 8:51 o'clock p.m.

Senator Hanabusa rose and said:

"Will the movant submit to a question?"

The President posed the question and Senator Hogue having answered in the affirmative, Senator Hanabusa inquired:

"You made a reference in your statement in favor of your motion that we had waived the conference calendar for some other measure and we're just curious as to what measure were you referring to?"

Senator Hogue responded:

"Well, I was here earlier and I recall that specifically being done. I don't recall whether it was at a time when you were out of the room or not, but I do recall because the Senator, Senator Ihara, actually asked if we had waived it and the answer from the dais was yes."

At 8:52 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 8:52 o'clock p.m.

Senator Hanabusa rose and said:

"Mr. President, I'd like to follow up on that discussion.

"Senator Hogue, I believe what you're referring to is the floor amendment that referred to the amendment to S.B. No. 459, which is regarding the campaign spending bill."

Senator Hogue then stated:

"I don't believe that that was the one. I believe it was a measure that was . . . I believe, if memory serves me correctly because I didn't note it in my journal, that it had to do with the recommitment and we had to take it out of recommitting. I believe that was the one that we were talking about, but I could be corrected on that."

Senator Hanabusa then said:

"Mr. President, if I may proceed.

“Mr. President, to take a motion and to make a motion to reconsider prior action is not the same as what Senator Hogue is requesting now, which is to waive the Senate internal Rules and calendar. I believe that we’re talking about two very different situations.

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Hogue responded:

“Mr. President, my memory is that we did have to waive the internal calendar on some measure that went forward earlier today, and so because that precedent was set, it may not have been in the exact situation but my memory is usually pretty good. I just can’t remember exactly where that happened but I do remember that the answer was yes.

“Thank you.”

Senator Ihara rose and said:

“Mr. President, maybe I’ll stand in support of the motion to waive just by pointing out a couple of facts.

“I mentioned that the Legislative Salary Commission is established by the constitution, and it is required to submit its salary increase plan by the 40th session day, which was submitted on the 39th day, actually, March 25, I think because the 40th day was a holiday. No, they submitted it on the 40th day which is March 27.

“My point is that even if those who might want to reject the salary plan submitted the resolution that same day, they would have to have had the legislative time table waived because the deadline for the introduction of substantive resolutions was on the 31st day. So I believe because the constitution gives the Legislature the right to reject, I don’t think that the legislative timetable should be the reason why the question of rejecting the salary plan . . . I don’t believe that the calendar should be the reason why the legislative salary plan consideration should be rejected.

“Thank you.”

Senator Hanabusa rose and said:

“Mr. President, I was remiss in on looking very carefully at the supplement number two, which is S.C.R. No. 207. Mr. President, this is an SCR, it’s a concurrent resolution, so by its nature, we need to have, if we’re going to try to pass a concurrent resolution, the concurrence of the House. And as far as I’m aware, in the capacity of the Majority Leader, the House has not concurred to entertain any further concurrent resolutions. If this was simply an SR then I believe procedurally it can be brought up at any time.

“However, this is not simply waiving an internal calendar on our side, meaning on the Senate side. This needs the concurrence of the House. We do not have the concurrence of the House, Mr. President, and as a result I believe that this is out of order and we should vote it down.

“Thank you.”

Senator Hemmings rose and said:

“In order to be consistent, I think it was accurately pointed out – I’m speaking in favor of the motion, Mr. President – by our constitutional expert that it appears that the Senate Rules are in contradiction to the state constitution. I would suggest that the constitution would take precedence over Senate Rules regarding waivers on this particular issue.

“Second to that, the good Senator from Waianae, the area of Waimanalo Gulch, did point out accurately that this is a concurrent resolution and that the House would have to waive their Rule likewise in order to pass this concurrent resolution on Thursday, which is something they could do.”

Senator Hogue rose and said:

“Roll Call vote.”

The President then announced:

“An ‘aye’ vote is to approve the waiver to consider S.C.R. No. 207, rejecting the salary commission’s recommendations. A ‘no’ vote is of course to deny the waiver.”

The motion was put by the Chair and, Roll Call vote having been requested, failed to carry on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 5. Noes, 19 (Aduja, Baker, Bunda, Chun Oakland, English, Espero, Fukunaga, Hanabusa, Hooser, Ige, Inouye, Kanno, Kawamoto, Kim, Kokubun, Menor, Sakamoto, Taniguchi, Tsutsui). Excused, 1 (Whalen).

Senator Baker, Chair of the Committee on Health, requested a waiver of the notice requirement pursuant to Senate Rule 21 for S.R. No. 42, and the Chair granted the waiver.

ADJOURNMENT

At 9:00 o’clock p.m., on motion by Senator Kawamoto, seconded by Senator Hogue and carried, the Senate adjourned until 3:00 o’clock p.m., Thursday, May 1, 2003.

Cover all the bases for long-term care

The latest long-term-care bill to emerge from the Senate seems to combine the best of both worlds.

Each taxpayer would pay $120 a year to create a long-term-care 'supplementary' fund to offer at least partial relief for those who cannot afford private insurance. Meanwhile, those who can afford such private long-term-care insurance would receive a tax credit under the measure.

Sen. Fred Hemmings, who supports Gov. Linda Lingle's tax-break-only solution to long-term healthcare, says the combined program is 'holding a good issue hostage to keep a bad initiative alive.' We would argue the opposite, that the payroll tax for long-term care is the stronger initiative keeping the weaker tax break alternative afloat.

Time and again, retirees have written to us about the obstacles to being approved for — let alone afford — private long-term-care insurance. Many insurers are simply not eager to take on anyone at risk for geriatric illnesses such as Alzheimer's disease.

And some of them, too, can see the merits of offering alternatives. According to a report by Advertiser Capitol Bureau writer Lynda Arakawa, one long-term-care specialist for John Hancock says the tax credit would provide an incentive for middle-class folks to buy coverage while the state long-term-care payroll tax could cover people without the resources.

Assuming that this bill is not a Machiavellian means to kill either one or the other long-term-care proposal, we support this two-pronged approach because, as we've repeatedly stressed, Hawai'i must do all it can to prepare for the gray revolution.

Only 6 percent of Hawai'i residents have long-term-care insurance, according to the state Executive Office on Aging. Plus, a 2002 study by MetLife found that Hawai'i patients pay above the national average per-diem price for a private room in a nursing home, and also pay more for home healthcare aides.

In a nutshell, a long-term-care safety net is going to require more than private insurance tax breaks."

ATTACHMENT "B"LONG TERM CARE FINANCING PLAN
QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS*A. Target Populations

1. What is the income level of our target group?
All taxpayers above the federal poverty level.
2. Should the program exempt those below the poverty level?
Consider recommending that DHS pay the premium for these individuals.
3. Should a tax based on age be considered?
No, it is not really practical to tax on age, since age is generally not collected or updated in tax systems. A strong argument can be made that everyone suffering a given level of ADL deficits has similar needs for care and assistance.
4. Will federal employees be enrolled in or exempted from this plan?
All those filing a Hawaii Resident Tax Return will be enrolled.
5. How will part-time residents be dealt with?
If the individual files a Hawaii Resident Tax Return, he or she will be enrolled.
6. How will the tax be collected from retirees who don't file Hawaii state taxes?
They must file a Hawaii Resident Tax Return on taxable income to be enrolled. If a person is not required to file a return because all income comes from pension benefits, the Trustees will provide a means for them to pay the program cost voluntarily.
7. Will a non-resident paying Hawaii state taxes be given a choice to participate or not?
Residents will be enrolled on the basis of their tax filing. The Trustees will provide a means for vested persons who leave the state to continue their payments to guarantee portability of the benefits.

8. Will we require pensioners who do not file Hawaii state taxes to file a return and pay into the plan?
No, but they will have an opportunity to pay the program cost through a voluntary enrollment.

B. Computation of Tax

9. Will the qualifying income level (over the poverty line) be computed on AGI or taxable income?
It was suggested that it be computed on AGI.
10. What does HIPAA qualified or non-qualified mean in the context of Hawaii's proposed LTC Insurance Program?
HIPAA gives some guidelines that offer special tax treatment for LTC coverage that is guaranteed renewable, portable, covers only long-term problems, and does not supplant Medicare. The Trustees are committed to keeping the terms of the program consistent with the conditions for receiving federal tax benefits.
11. Specifically then, would the $70 day benefit be taxed by the state or federal government?
The benefit is exempted from Hawaii income tax in the law; exemption from federal income tax will be handled in the same way that private LTC insurance is handled.
12. Would receiving the benefit make a person who is otherwise eligible for Medicaid benefits ineligible because it increases their "income" above the threshold?
If they were/are eligible for Medicaid they did not pay into the program, so the question is moot? If they paid into the program and then became eligible for Medicaid, they should be able to receive the benefit (as persons receiving 55 benefits do presently) but it would supplant the Medicaid payment if it was in excess until the benefit expired or; if the LTCI benefit is lower than what Medicaid would have paid, Medicaid pays the difference. The benefit, like other LTC policy benefits, is not intended to be counted as income.

C. Means of Collection

13. Will the tax be through payroll deduction?
Yes. Employers will use the Withholding Table to determine the amount as they do currently. There will be no added work. Sole proprietors will use the Estimated Income Table to estimate their quarterly withholding.

14. Will non-working taxpayers pay annually when filing HI State Taxes?

Yes.

15. How should the issue of carry back losses be addressed?

If the individual's income computations generate an AGI of zero, than after a one-year grace period, the individual would be de-vested for a year. For example, a one-year loss carry-over would have no effect, but the second year would trigger the de-vesting process until the income again comes over the floor that has been set.

16. How will tax refunds be handled in the case of carry back or carry forward losses?

Both will be off set by the LTC tax or refund owed.

17. How can we ensure the LTCI fund will receive priority?

This has been written into the law.

18. Will the LTC fund collect penalties for late payment?

The Fund will collect only the tax and any late interest due. Penalties will be kept by the Department of Taxation, as one of the costs of general tax enforcement.

D. Vesting and De-Vesting

19. How will the taxes collected be credited to the individual?

The TPA must keep track of all enrollees.

20. How will taxpayers track their vesting?

The TPA will be required to send notification of vesting status to each enrollee annually.

21. If taxes are collected from an employee but not submitted by the employer, how will this be handled?

The same way the tax department handles this situation presently.

22. If a person is vested, then moves out of state, must they continue to pay into the fund regardless of where they reside?

Yes, if the person wishes to remain fully vested in the program.

23. How will the fund be notified of a beneficiary's death?

The Trustees will Ask the Death Registry at DOH to notify the TPA.

24. When does de-vesting start? Should it be after one month of non-payment or a year?
Since taxes are reconciled only when the annual return is file, the grace period will run for a whole year.
25. Will the taxpayer be considered a tax delinquent if they miss a payment?
Like any other tax, the LTC tax must be paid. In the United States and in Hawaii we do not exempt someone from paying a tax that everyone else pays.
26. Will the Tax Department use their Due Process procedures to resolve disputes regarding non-payment of the LTC tax?
The State Tax Department could use their existing adjudication procedures for appeals, or could establish a separate procedure because the basic rules differ from those used in other tax issues. For example, when you are delinquent a year in taxes you are delinquent, but when you are late a year in LTC payment, you are in a grace period. When you are late two years, you are in de-vesting status. The Trustees can establish appropriate rules for handling disputes involving vesting issues.

E. Start Up

1. When should the program begin?
Two years after the legislation has passed and been signed into law.
27. Will money be appropriated to the Tax department for start-up?
Yes, the Tax Department will have to make some revisions to its forms and instructions.
28. Will there be any startup costs for the Trustees' Office?
A general fund appropriation will be needed to pay for the costs of setting up the TPA contract, communications and other expenditures. The office itself is expected to have four paid employees and two or three specialized advisory contracts. The Trustees will be required to repay this appropriation to the general fund.
29. Will money be appropriated to educate the public about the new tax?
This will be included in the start up and continuing administrative funding.

30. How will the Trustees be sure the fund is adequate from year to year?
The Trustees must file an annual public actuarial report which presents all solvency and other financial issues.
31. How will the trustees manage the Trust Fund?
The Trustees must hire appropriate investment advisors to be sure that funds earn adequate yields, are invested in appropriately secure instruments, and are sufficiently liquid to pay benefits as needed.
32. Won't the Trustees have to set up a complete accounting system, member record system, and the like from scratch?
No, when the Trustees hire a Third Party Administrator (TPA), they will be using the same basic record keeping software and systems that the TPA uses to track payments and benefits for purchasers of private LTC insurance for the national insurers that the TPA services. The bulk of these costs have already been invested in tested, working software and systems.
33. Is care advocacy/management/coordination a service to be incorporated in this program?
Yes. The TPA shall provide care coordinators to help beneficiaries find and arrange the services they need. The TPA will also be required to monitor for potential fraud or abuse. This does not reduce the benefit to the beneficiary.
34. What does it mean to say that a person must "fail" an ADL to qualify for benefits?
The federal HIPAA act defined some qualifications for LTC insurance benefits. These have been widely adopted by the industry. These are the standards the TPA will use in assessing benefit status.
35. Is the benefit portable?
Yes. Like any insurance benefit, eligibility depends on paying a premium. If it is not possible to collect the LTC insurance tax from former residents of Hawaii using one of the standard tax forms, the trustees shall provide for a payment system so that beneficiaries can continue their coverage after leaving the state. Persons who need the benefits may qualify for them wherever they live.
36. Multiple jobs—will people pay twice?
If someone has more than one job, the LTC tax would be built into the standard withholding table. Taxes would be withheld for the income from each job and the amount due, the amount owed or the amount of refund will be calculated on the annual tax return.

37. What will this cost the employer?

There should be no action required of the employer beyond complying with the existing income tax withholding provisions. Therefore there will be no added cost.

38. What is the cost of the bureaucracy for keeping track of payments made?

The record keeping system is part of the normal operating duties of the third party administrator. The cost of keeping the records has already been priced into the system.

39. What is the Tax Department's obligation?

The Tax Department participates in four steps:

- 1. Revise tax returns to collect the LTC tax from all those required to pay it;*
- 2. Calculate the total tax paid for LTC insurance by each taxpayer;*
- 3. Transmit this record to the Board of Directors; and*
- 4. Transfer appropriate monies to the fund as accrued.*

It is useful to note that the Tax Department generally revises some feature of the tax return, the instructions and the calculating software each year.

40. Is the insurance guaranteed renewable?

What guaranteed renewable means is that a holder of an insurance policy cannot be excluded from further coverage except for nonpayment of premium. For almost all of society, the LTC tax is a guaranteed payment of premium and additional collection mechanisms can be extended to assure that everyone has a guaranteed way of paying the premium. Thus, it is clearly guaranteed renewable.

41. What happens to workers who only stay a short time in Hawaii i.e. Military wives?

We must ask the same question about state tax dollars collected and spent on schools, highways, airports, and similar services which the short term resident must also pay and is unlikely to use. This is the cost of living and working in any state.

We don't really talk about excusing childless couples from paying for schools that they don't use. This tax benefits everyone whether they use it or not because it helps keep people at home in less costly surroundings and delays or avoids dependence on Medicaid.

42. Can we exempt people who already have LTC insurance from paying the tax?

The current bill incorporates a tax credit for those who hold a long term care insurance policy in about the amount of the tax, $120 a year.

43. Won't the program someday get to where very few workers are supporting many who are not working?
No, the program is income-based and participants pay most of their lives, just like a private long-term care insurance policy. The number of beneficiaries to people paying in will always be a very small ratio.
44. Why should everyone be burdened with a tax when not everyone will need it?
Everyone is now burdened with taxes to pay for Medicaid. The estimated average cost per taxpayer in Hawaii is $ 400. Unless we can slow the growth rate of Medicaid, we have no control over the money the state is forced to spend on those services. Today, Medicaid is the payer of first resort, not the last resort, which is different from every other component of the system. It was never intended by Congress to have Medicaid be anything other than a safety net for the poor and indigent or those on hard times -- not to pay for every three out of four people receiving LTC in the state.
45. Is it fair to burden the young?
We are burdening them now with approximately $400 per year in taxes that go to the Medicaid program, regardless of their potential to use it. This cost goes up every year. The state is mandated by federal law to pay for the care of certain categories of the population, such as the indigent needing long term care. The young are already burdened by paying for care for their parents and grandparents. Families' pay enormous out of pocket costs.
46. Can the state control the Medicaid costs?
No, the state must pay for the care of the indigent for services that are mandated and the legislature has to find the money to cover these mandated costs. At the rate of increase in the Medicaid program for long term care, the state budget will be overwhelmed by the pressures placed on it by the aging baby boomers.
47. Will benefits increase after the first ten years?
The tax rate and benefits have been set more or less within the range of vision we have now. The Trustees must come to the Legislature in 2011 to propose continuing inflation adjustment of benefits and appropriate tax rates. As the Fund develops experience, it will be possible to take "longer looks" into the future and limit rate increases.
48. Why do rates go up over time, is it only inflation?
Inflation and benefit increases are part of the story. All long term care insurance programs, private and public, must deal with the fact that people are living longer and have more chances to require LTC in the future. The expected use rate in the near future is about 2.7% or so—in 2078 it is near 7.5%. We simply must all recognize that people are living longer and will require longer periods of care several decades from now. And, because the program promises benefits, it has to fund those benefits -- even those six and seven decades away.

49. Usually insurance programs are put together by insurance experts. Who are the experts involved in this program?

The Temporary Trustees consulted officers of some of the largest long term care administrative organizations in the United States. These include the following national experts who are continually engaged in helping insurance companies manage their LTC business:

Administrative Load/Bureaucracy

LTCGroup – Peter Goldstein

CTHC – Gary Jacob

LTC Insurance Management Consultant – Margaret

Hottinger

Coverage Implications for State

The Lewin Group, Div. of Quantiles, Inc. – Lisa Alecxih, VP

Effects on Private LTC Insurance

Milliman & Robertson – Dawn Helwig

50. If I have the social insurance LTC coverage and I want to buy additional coverage can I do that?
- A number of reputable private LTC insurers have policy forms filed in Hawaii that offer a 365 day waiting period, and are about 30% cheaper than policies that offer a 30 day waiting period. If you have coverage from the social insurance policy, you could consider buying a private policy with a longer exclusion time -- 365 days is the number of days of LTC service in the social insurance policy.*
51. Don't all government programs cost more to administer than private programs?
1. There is no private medical insurer with a lower cost per dollar of service than Medicaid and Medicare.
 2. The cost of administration of the CALPERS employee program has declined from about 8% of premium to less than 5% of premium by judicious use of a third-party administrator to do the back-office work.

3. The administration of LTC programs is so specialized that very few commercial insurance companies perform this task themselves – they, too, hire TPA (Third Party Administration) firms to do this work.

52. Won't future legislatures or administrations be tempted to raid the LTC Fund?

The bill provides that the funds may not be spent for any other purpose than paying benefits and administering the LTC system. The Trustees are obligated to observe this provision by law, under language that requires their prudent representation of the fund's and its beneficiaries' interests.

RE: H.B. No. 1616, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, Relating to Long Term Care

Dear Chair Baker:

This responds to your telephone call to Grant Tanimoto requesting a further breakdown of the costs to administer H.B. No. 1616, H.D. 1, S. D. 2.

We estimate that the total start up costs for changes to the computer system to administer the long-term tax and to set up programs to answer questions from taxpayers about this new tax will be approximately $1,020,000¹. We estimate the annual cost of administration at $320,000.²

The costs for the 2004 and 2005 fiscal years are as follows:

Fiscal Year 2004 Total Cost: $430,000.

- $250,000 would be needed for system start up costs.
- $20,000 for start up costs for Taxation Services to prepare to answer taxpayer questions about the tax. This does not include the cost of printing and mailing of new tax forms.
- $160,000 (½ year) would be required for employees to administer the program.

² Wayne Kinoshita, the Acting Compliance Division Administrator, estimates that the annual costs are approximately $250,000 for wages, equipment and operating expenses for four additional employees to collect the long term care income tax from approximately 3,000 delinquent employers. Jerry Ebesu, the Acting Taxation Services Administrator estimates that the annual cost for additional staffing to handle inquiries and other resources is $70,000.

The Honorable Rosalyn H. Baker

Page 2

Fiscal year 2005 Total Cost: $1,070,000.

- $750,000 would be required for system start up costs.
- $320,000 would be required for employees to administer this program.

Fiscal year 2006 and later Total Cost: $320,000 for employees to administer this program.

If you have questions or need additional information, please call me at 587-1510 or your staff may call Grant Tanimoto at 587-1569.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

The following messages from the Governor (Gov. Msg. Nos. 475 to 477) were read by the Clerk and were placed on file:

Gov. Msg. No. 475, dated April 29, 2003, transmitting her statement of objections to Senate Bill No. 1426 which she has returned to the Senate without her approval and which reads as follows:

“EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

April 29, 2003

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO.
1426 SD1

Honorable Members
Twenty-Second Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 1426, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to Collective Bargaining in Public Employment.’

The reported purpose of this bill is to establish a separate collective bargaining unit for substitute teachers and to provide for impasse resolution for members of the new collective bargaining unit. Objections to this bill are as follows:

1. This bill conflicts directly and irreconcilably with existing statutes. It would require the State and the Department of Education to negotiate wages and amounts of contributions for a public employees’ health benefits plan, yet the wage rate for substitute teachers already is set by statute, and casual and part-time employees who work less than half time are excluded by another statute from participating in a public employee’ health benefits plan.

2. While proponents of this bill have repeatedly described it as a bill to allow substitute teachers to form a union, the Department of the Attorney General, the Department of Budget and Finance, and the Department of Education all believe that the unclear definition of collective bargaining unit 14 would also apply to casual and part-time employees in the Department of Education. Currently, there are approximately 5,179 substitute teachers and approximately 54,954 casual and part-time employees in the Department of Education. If the goal was to include casual and part-time employees’, it should have been made clearer.

3. These casual and part-time employees fall within wide and varied job classes, ranging from cafeteria helpers to grounds maintenance workers, many of whom would not have the same labor interests as would substitute teachers. If coverage of casual and part-time employees was intended, then the basis for extending bargaining rights to such workers in the Department of Education and not to such workers in other departments of state government should have been addressed.

4. The administration and grievance procedures of a bargaining unit consisting only of substitute teachers would still be problematic given the varied qualifications, status, possible work-locations, and actual time on the job among its proposed members.

5. The Department of Education presently employs part-time teachers who are excluded from Bargaining Unit 5 and are assigned to Unit 5’s excluded counterpart Unit 55. These employees are paid from the same pay schedule as teachers and serve as state office and district teachers, secondary teachers, elementary teachers, and counselors. Senate Bill No. 1426 would appear to reassign teachers, who are excluded for Unit 5 by virtue of their part-time status, to the new unit 14. This would cause them to lose existing benefits that are tied to Unit 5.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 1426 without my approval.

Respectfully,

/s/ Linda Lingle
LINDA LINGLE
Governor of Hawaii”

"Ms. Timson has volunteered for a myriad of community projects, has served on and chaired the neighborhood board, and served eight years as the community representative on the Barbers Point Redevelopment Commission. Ms. Timson is also a keen business leader and assistant vice-president at First Hawaiian Bank.

"In recognition of Ms. Timson's dedication and commitment to the community, she has been honored with the Makakilo Mahalo Award, the Kapolei Outstanding Achievement (KOA) award for lifetime service and the KOA community service award.

"In addition to her familiarity with the community, Ms. Timson understands the process of land development. She participated in the base reuse and closure process of the former Barbers Point Naval Air Station, as well as the City and County of Honolulu's community-based planning process for creation of the Ewa Development Plan.

"Given the HCDA's new responsibility for implementation of the redevelopment plans for Kalaeloa (formerly Barbers Point Naval Air Station), Ms. Timson's institutional knowledge of Kalaeloa and her tenacious nature will serve as great assets to the HCDA.

"Mr. President, I will be casting a 'no' vote on Gov. Msg. No. 404. Mr. President, with your indulgence I rise to speak in opposition to this governor's message.

"Mr. President, Stephanie Whalen is currently the president and director of the Hawaii Agricultural Research Center, also known as HARC, and president of the Kunia Water Cooperative. HARC is a not-for-profit privately owned research institution organized in advance to improve agriculture in Hawaii. The organization has served the agricultural community for over 120 years and continues in that role with the private sector.

"Mr. President, colleagues, given the important mandate of the state water commission to safeguard Hawaii's water resources, a balance on the commission is essential. Currently, the commission lacks such balance. The commission already has several representatives of businesses, agribusiness and ranching – all big water users of this state. No one represents the environment or the public at large. The confirmation of Stephanie Whalen will further this imbalance.

"Currently, the appointed members on the commission include Meredith Ching, vice president of Alexander and Baldwin, the largest private water user in the state; Clayton Dela Cruz, director of Kauai ILWU; Brian Nishida, vice president of Del Monte Hawaii; and Monty Richards, president of Kuhia Ranch.

"The 1987 Legislature did not intend that the water commission be dominated with those with the primary background to exploit water supplies. Rather, it is designed to be more neutral with members having water resources management experience. State law requires that water commissioners have substantial experience in the area of water resource management.

"As with the case of Ms. Ching, Ms. Whalen's substantial experience appears primarily the fall in the category of water use. She has testified in the hearings regarding the Waiahole Ditch combined contested case, which falls within my district and I have very strong constituents that have dealt very strongly with the Waiahole Ditch case and in support of greater stream diversion. She also regularly lobbies at the Legislature and elsewhere for large scale agriculture and has worked with the Kunia Water Cooperative.

"Ms. Whalen's nomination will exacerbate the serious problem of the commission in satisfying the quorum requirement since many of the interests that Ms. Whalen has worked for or expressed positions in support of will be appearing before the water commission. The water commission is clearly stacked against large water users.

"Mr. President and colleagues, please reject the confirmation of yet another business interest. Our resources deserve balanced decision makers. And for the record, also, Mr. President, I am a member of Water, Land, and Agriculture, so I feel very divided. I do support agriculture as well, however, we do need to have fairness with water distribution and it's just that my district feels very strongly that the Waiahole water should remain in Waiahole and we're afraid that her presence on the commission may jeopardize that decision.

"Thank you."

Senator Inouye rose in support as follows:

"Mr. President, I speak in support of Gov. Msg. No. 404.

"Mr. President and fellow colleagues, I wish to rise in support of Gov. Msg. No. 404, submitting for study and consideration the nomination of Stephanie A. Whalen for the Commission On Water Resource Management for a term to expire on June 30, 2007.

"As Chair of the Water, Land, and Agriculture Committee, I wish to offer these comments. The Commission on Water Resource Management is a little different than other commissions in the sense that it requires its members by statute to have substantial experience in the area of water resource management. Although that may limit the amount of candidates for a position, it ensures that whomever is confirmed has the technical knowledge to do the job correctly. Aside from the technical knowledge, the candidates must also possess the proper qualities to succeed.

"I believe Stephanie Whalen has the proper attributes and knowledge that will be a benefit to Hawaii's people if she's confirmed to the Commission on Water Resource Management. Stephanie, or Stevie, as we all know her, brings with her an extensive background and understanding about the agricultural community gained over the course of 30 years. Accusations that she works for big business are unfounded.

"During the last nine years she has been the director of HARC, or the Hawaii Agriculture Research Center, where she worked intensively in helping Hawaii's agriculture. Under her direction, HARC has conducted research for various diversified farming efforts including but certainly not limited to taro, coffee, mango, ginger, papayas and bananas.

"I'd like to add, in our discussions on her nomination, I'd like to quote some of what she had to offer the Committee: 'Because I do not represent any one company, I do not believe that I will have to recuse myself for commission decision making on general agricultural issues. In fact, I will be a good resource for information regarding agriculture. However, I will certainly obtain a legal opinion if there is a perceived conflict of interest. Regarding resource management, I am especially proud of the ecological work our organization did for Hawaii before the term watershed was a household word. Perhaps our members are unaware of the reforestation work that HARC did at the turn of the century to ensure that the islands would continue to have healthy watersheds.' She also goes on to say, 'We understood early on that without massive planting of trees in the mauka areas, recharge of the aquifers would not be possible.'

"So she feels personally that she'd like to continue in the role of trustee of Hawaii's water resources for the benefit of present and future generations. So I urge my colleagues to vote in support.

"Thank you."

Senator Ihara rose in opposition and said:

"Mr. President, note my 'no' vote for Gov. Msg. No. 404 for the same reasons as stated by the Senator from Kahaluu/Kaneohe."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, 4 (Aduja, English, Fukunaga, Ihara).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1723 (Gov. Msg. No. 399):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1723 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Kokubun and carried.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1724 (Gov. Msg. No. 400):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1724 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Kokubun and carried.

Senator Taniguchi then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of MATT H. TAKATA to the Board of Taxation Review, 4th Taxation District (Kauai), term to expire June 30, 2007, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1725 (Jud. Com. No. 5):

Senator Hanabusa moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1725 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland and carried.

Senator Hanabusa then moved that the Senate consent to the nomination of LONO J. LEE to the Office of Judge, District Court of the First Circuit, for a term of six years, in accordance with the provisions of Article VI, Section 3, of the Hawaii State Constitution, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland.

Senator Hanabusa rose in support of the nominee and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in support of Jud. Com. No. 5, submitting for study and consideration the nomination of Lono J. Lee to the District Court of the First Circuit.

“Mr. President, I beg your short indulgence. I’d like to say that the Judiciary and Hawaiian Affairs Committee has gone out their way this Session. Mr. Lee will be the seventh judge. We have in addition to that confirmed 15 commissioners and board members and three directors. And with the tight schedule that we’ve had, the good Senators from Alewa Heights, Upcountry Maui, Makiki, Kaimuki, Kaneohe, and Waipahu really have gone out of their way and I would like to thank all of them. And I did have an eighth member, Lauren Oakland, and she was a wonderful addition, sat quietly and listened probably better than most of my other Committee members.

“Mr. President, Mr. Lee is the local boy from the Windward side. He received his Bachelor of Arts from Chaminade in criminal justice, his Masters in social work, and his law degree from the University of Hawaii, William Richardson School of Law. The Hawaii State Bar Association came forward and said that he is qualified to sit as a district court judge.

“It is his experience they most commented on. He has worked as a prosecutor, a corporation counsel, in private practice. He has served as a staff attorney for Finance under Chair Takamine, and he serves as a per diem judge today for the district court. He represents right now the ILWU. We received no negative testimony.

“He has been described as someone who is flexible, quick to respond, and with the necessary experience to handle all of the issues which will be appearing before him at the district court.

“What the Committee was most struck by, Mr. President, is the personal testimony that we received on behalf of Mr. Lee. Aunty Ola, who works in the good Senator from Kaimuki’s office who happens to be my constituent, came running up and said, ‘you know, he’s somebody that I watched grow up and I have to come just to wish him luck.’ And he had a woman appear by the name of Jackie Chong and she said she came all the way to speak on behalf of her Lono boy. Mr. President, this is what she said, ‘it is my honor to speak on behalf of Lono Lee. I believe him to be another outstanding member of our community. This becomes even more critical because he is Hawaiian. In this day and age when we Hawaiians hang our heads in shame because the local polls show so many Hawaiians as school dropouts and incarcerated, a young Hawaiian like Lono really shows and proves that with education and a determination, Hawaiians can overcome the affects of oppression. I see Lono as a role model. He has the professional training and experience to maintain the requisite judicial demeanor as he exercises the duties of a judge. He is a young man of high ethics, honest, caring, and most of all, fair.’

“Mr. President, the words of Jackie Chong summed it all up. Lono Lee represents not only someone who would make a good district judge, he’s already proved that by serving in a per diem capacity. He represents hope – hope that people who have watched him grow up want to share with all other Native Hawaiians in particular.

“Mr. President, I ask that you and my fellow colleagues join in confirming Lono J. Lee.

“Thank you very much.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

At this time, Senator Hanabusa introduced Judge Lee, who was seated in the gallery with his family.

At 3:58 o’clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 4:06 o’clock p.m.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"This bill is a step backwards from the major collective bargaining and civil service reform enacted by this Legislature two years ago. Basically, while the bill says that arbitration will prohibit a disruption in services, that absolutely is correct, but it will not prohibit an increase in cost to the taxpayers and a win/win situation for the public worker union bargaining units.

"If you are in a dispute, everyone has to take a risk when they are sitting down and honestly bargaining. The binding arbitration has shown that in fact there is no risk at all because the parties that are seeking increases have always gotten increases, substantial increases out of the bargaining process. If we go back to the situation where the unions in fact have a right to strike and have that decision that they can make and that tool in their arsenal, they still have to give very careful consideration as to what the overall impact will be, what the pay back period will be for their members, and that all helps in the negotiation process.

"This binding arbitration, other than for police and fire is negative for the taxpayers and for the process of reforming civil service.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 146 was adopted and S.B. No. 768, S.D. 1, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO COLLECTIVE BARGAINING," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

H.B. No. 1152, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 2:

On motion by Senator Taniguchi, seconded by Senator Kokubun and carried, H.B. No. 1152, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO STATE FUNDS," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

H.B. No. 1400, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 2:

Senator Kim moved that H.B. No. 1400, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Fukunaga.

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, during this Session when measures on tax credits have been before us . . . I rise in opposition to this measure.

"When we have had the issue of tax credits come up before, I have been reasonably consistent in voting against them and I've said that tax credits are bad policy. It's too late to come up with a different policy for this year so let's look at the merits of this particular tax credit and where tax credits are effective.

"Tax credits are most effective when they're new tax credits. This is not a new tax credit. The evidence given to us applied for a different set of circumstances. In the last two years we've had 9/11. We've had a war in Iraq. We've had SARS. Each of these have affected the demand for travel. Given our current environment, even though we are less adversely affected than other major visitor destination areas, the same things apply.

"The truth of the matter is that decisions to improve one's plant and facility will be made regardless of whether this tax credit is here or not. So it suddenly becomes a giveaway program that does not generate economic activity that would have resulted if this measure had gone forward. And because of our fiscal conditions, I think it is prudent for all of us to vote 'no' on this measure.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

At 4:12 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 4:14 o'clock p.m.

The President made the following announcement:

"Members, is there any further discussion on Floor Amendment No. 14? We would like to proceed on to Floor Amendment No. 15 so we can get the debate out of the way. Then we need to vote on these two measures at about 4:50 p.m."

By unanimous consent, action on H.B. No. 1400, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HOTEL CONSTRUCTION AND REMODELING TAX CREDIT," was deferred until later on the calendar.

S.B. No. 459, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 2:

Senator Hanabusa moved that S.B. No. 459, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Kawamoto.

Senator Kawamoto rose to speak in favor of the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of S.B. No. 459, campaign spending.

"Mr. President, I apologize to you and my fellow friends and colleagues of this body for requesting this vote. We realize that the House has recommitted this bill and made this vote not binding legislation. But Mr. President, your Committee on Judiciary and TMG worked very hard to put this bill together. Also, your lead Chairs from both houses put together the S.D. 1 and the C.D. 1.

"Mr. President, this is a good bill for a campaign reform foundation. It's a good start. We have here 80 percent of the Governor's bill and 20 percent input from your Committee and your members of both houses to protect you, my fellow colleagues and friends in this body, protect you from an overzealous executive director who wants to be like us. He wants to be the Legislator, who wants to write policies and make laws, but he can't do this because he is an employee of the state and his job is to make rules from the policies we make, not what he has decided to be the policy.

"Mr. President, in this bill we say that the campaign fines would go to the general fund versus the campaign fund. Again, to avoid the outcry of bounty hunting, as we heard when the van cams were here last year, the outcry because of the fact that DOT wrote a contract to allow the people enforcing tickets to have a portion of the tickets. Again, the outcry of bounty hunting.

"Mr. President, we also defined. We defined what is bundling. Mr. President, again, the executive director of the campaign spending has been defining bundling primarily to scare off possible donors to ourselves to run for office.

"Finally, Mr. President, this bill will not help me in the situation that I'm in. And I bring this up because many of the people have sent letters saying that this campaign bill is about me. It's not about me, Mr. President. It's about doing what's right. For me, I still am in kim chee because of the fact that I'm under the old law and they're charging me with exceeding the campaign seeding. What the charge is, although, it's for adding campaign expense, which I'll call apples, campaign seeding, which I'll call oranges, and they put all those things together, mix it all up and they come out with a formula of what campaign seeding is. And of course, I went over $11,000 worth of campaign seeding. These were expenses, Mr. President.

"However, I have to prove this in court. It's going to cost me time. It's going to cost me money. It's going to cost me the possibility of over $80,000 to prove a problem that we have interpreting the law.

"Mr. President, ever since we had the current executive director, the tone of campaign violations has gone from occasionally reporting violations to a punitive type activity, which look like Gestapo activities, and fighting criminal actions forcing yourself or anyone else who he wishes to pick on to expend an extensive number of money beyond what we are being charged for, again to just clear our name. If we let this continue, the $32,000 to do the people's work, to do as best we can to do the people's work, truly may not be enough.

"What's most disappointing was Tuesday night. And I bring it up because it was brought up in the papers. Tuesday night the House brought in personalities involved with this thing. It was not a matter of the merits of the bill, but it was on merits of myself. I was asked if they would pass the bill and the Governor vetoed the bill, would I step away from further campaign spending bills next year. I thought about it and I have full confidence in my Vice Chair, the Senator from Ewa, I have full faith in the Governor's judgment, and my desire to have this bill move forward. I said I would.

"But a second meeting was held and brought back the agreement, the handshake we made that we've always honored here in this body and here in both houses was reneged. And then the second meeting came with further conditions. The further conditions were that I would step down from any campaign spending and campaign elections if the bill was vetoed or passed regardless.

"Mr. President, I was elected to this body to serve my district and the state. I was selected by you to head the Transportation, Military Affairs, and Government Operations, under which the purview of elections and campaign spending falls. I will continue to do my duty to the best of my ability, so help me God. Mr. President, I will serve this body again until such time as this body rejects my work and my sincere understanding of what is right for the people of Hawaii.

"Therefore, I'm asking, Mr. President, for a vote from you, my colleagues, my friends from both sides of the aisle, to say 'aye' or even 'aye, with reservations' so that we can send a message to the other body, send a message to the do-gooders who send all these letters blaming me for the failure of campaign spending, the press, all those involved and interested in campaign spending, that we, the Senate, are ready to pass reform bills of campaign spending, that we, the Senate, want to do what's right, what's fair for everyone, the elected officials who sacrifice every year for the type of pay we get, for the hours we put in, and to challenge our integrity. We want to send a message to those folks that we truly want to do what's right and what's good for the people and what's good and protect the individual members of this body.

"I urge my colleagues again for your vote. Thank you."

Senator Menor rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against this measure.

"Mr. President, I oppose this measure for several reasons. First of all, I don't even know why we're even voting on this measure instead of recommitting it back to Committee. I think that voting on this measure really represents, at best, a useless exercise, because as the previous speaker has mentioned, the House has already voted to recommit the bill in that respective legislative body. So in that regard, passage of this bill will not result in any meaningful campaign spending reform this Session.

"In addition, I'd like to emphasize that the supporters of this bill feel that the measure is seriously flawed and contains so many holes in it that you can drive a Mac truck through it. Given the concerns that have been expressed about this bill, I think that we owe it to the people of Hawaii to go back to the drawing boards and try again next year to come up with more effective and meaningful campaign spending reform.

“Accordingly, I will be voting against this measure. Thank you.”

Senator Hogue rose to speak against the measure as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak in opposition to this particular measure.

“I think that the message that we send to the people of Hawaii is that we are absolutely beyond reproach. Campaign spending reform should be about returning integrity to this body and should be without flaws. This measure may have some good points in it, but it is seriously flawed – seriously flawed.

“I propose to you that we could probably not only drive a big truck through it, but some SUVs and probably the entire army through it as well. There are so many holes in the particular measure.

“But about another measure that was brought up here, and that is the reputation of the good Senator from God’s country. I respect him tremendously. He is a good man. I disagreed with him on many, many measures. So this really isn’t about him at all. However, to the people of Hawaii, they have to believe that there is no conflict of interest in actually drawing up this particular bill. And because of the good Senator’s battle with this particular office and this particular director, there is that appearance of the conflict of interest.

“So, for those reasons, I believe that we unfortunately cannot have the good Senator going forward with this, and I appreciate the fact that he was willing to at least step away from this particular measure.

“We must be beyond reproach. We must have tremendous integrity. The campaign spending reform should be a bill without flaws. And for these measures, and I say once again, I really do respect the good Majority Floor Leader. He’s a good man, but I will be voting ‘no.’

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Ihara rose to speak in opposition to the measure and said:

“Mr. President, I rise in opposition to S.B. No. 459.

“Mr. President, this bill does not qualify as campaign reform. It creates a net increase in the size and number of loopholes in the campaign laws. It does too good a job of protecting Legislators. And it helps incumbents more than the public, which I believe is cynical about the Legislature’s ability to self regulate our campaign behavior and adopt campaign laws to regulate our challengers. The bill also invites citizens to violate Hawaii’s election fraud law, which I’ll explain later.

“I’d like to now list the specific reasons why I believe this bill should be defeated. First, the bill contains no ban on donations from corporations and unions, which was in last year’s highly touted campaign reform bill, which, if I recall right, the press conferences of supporters of that bill said that we would definitely pass that bill again, and there is no ban on donations from corporations and unions in this bill. Instead, this bill contains a provision that diverts fines and penalties from violators of campaign laws from the campaign election fund to the general fund.

“The campaign spending staff’s salaries do not benefit at all from being successful in their jobs as watchdogs and enforcers of Hawaii’s campaign laws. This provision will also hurt candidates who would like to be competitors in elections to level the playing field by participating in the partial public funding program.

“This bill excludes government contractors that are not non-bid, procured through non-bid processes, including low-bid procurements. So there’s a whole range of state and local government contracts whose contractors can donate freely to candidates, particularly executive branch candidates, in attempts to seek favorable treatment in getting low-bid contracts.

“This bill also allows most employees of non-bid government contractors to still donate to the Governor or Mayor unless that person owns 25 percent or more of the company. So you may have ‘business as usual’ for successful non-bid contractors, government contractors. They’re, as it should be, intelligent people who can read the law and can find ways to get around the law. And this is one of the large Mac truck loopholes . . . that a company that gets a non-bid contract can have all of its employees donate, except for the few that own 25 percent or more of the company. This is one of the large loopholes.

“Another large loophole is that there is no ban on subcontractors. So there may be a large non-bid contract, millions of dollars, and in order to accomplish the job, the main contractor would subcontract and in some of the violations that have been reported, a number of these violators were subcontractors. And I believe that subcontractors of a non-bid government contractor should also be prohibited from donating to the authorities that award these non-bid contracts.

“I also believe that contractors who get contracts where the Legislature approves or appropriates funds for these contracts should also be banned from giving to Legislators in those instances where we appropriate funds where they get a contract that is dependent upon our action. There are maybe some cases like that.

“In this bill there is a change in the definition of expenditures and it makes legitimate donations to nonprofit organizations if that donation is accompanied by a statement that says the donation is intended to influence the election of the person who’s making the donation. And for these donations, they are, by this bill, legitimate expenditures. And as we know, there is no limit for legitimate expenditures, unless you are participating in the public financing program, which most of the winning candidates do not. So theoretically, someone could give all of their hundreds of thousands of dollars away. There is no limit or cap on the amount of donations that can be made as long as this statement is attached to the check that says that the donation is made to influence the election for the candidate.

“But I believe one of the largest and major problems I have with this bill is it invites citizens to violate Hawaii’s election fraud law. This is Hawaii Revised Statute Section 19-3, and I’ll read it to you. It has a lot of legalese so I’m going to just read it to you in sequence without some of the legalese as I quote. This is quoting from Section 19-3, ‘every person who gives any money to any person in order to induce any elector to vote for any particular person shall be deemed guilty of election fraud.’ I’m not making this up. This is Hawaii Revised Statutes 19-3 – that it is a crime, although I believe it’s a misdemeanor. I believe it’s a crime ‘for every person who gives any money to any person in order to induce any electorate vote for a particular person shall be deemed guilty of an election fraud,’ and that was subsection 1.

“Subsection 3 of 19-3 is where I’m saying that this law would invite citizens to break the law. It would invite citizens to be guilty of an election fraud, and this is the section: ‘Every elector who receives any money for oneself or any other person for voting for any particular person or party shall be deemed guilty of election fraud.' I have more than a slight problem with that, and I think if people receive money in exchange or with an understanding that they may vote for the person who gave them money, they will indeed be in deep kim chee.

"Another problem I have is that although I support the deletion of the penalty for violations of the code of campaign practices, I oppose repeal of this code because I think the penalty should be public opinion. The court struck down the penalty section of the code but it is legal and proper to have a code that is voluntary and for which there is no penalty. I believe we should maintain that code and let the public decide whether candidates are campaigning and competing in elections in a fair and honest way.

"I also oppose deletion of the disclosure requirement for fund raisers that are above $25. I do not oppose removing the two fund raiser limit on the law, but I believe that the disclosure requirement should remain.

"In conclusion, I know that this bill is, thankfully, dead for this Session. I hope that genuine campaign reform with be passed, and I believe must be passed, next Session. And it should involve the public in the deliberations and crafting of next year's bill. And the public's interest should be equal, or should I say solely, the basis for crafting the bill without regard to the protection of those of us already in office.

"As to the House asking our transportation Chair to not be involved in future deliberations on the bill, I will defend our Chair's right to participate in this matter because I think that it is the Senate's responsibility on how we organize ourselves. However, I do think the public has a right to ask for changes in Leadership Committee or Committee Chairs. I believe that it is improper for the House to make that request, but I believe that it is proper for the public to make that kind of a request which I have not heard yet.

"For those of you who are thinking of voting with reservations, I urge you to vote against the bill – vote 'no.' I believe this campaign bill is worse not better for the public. I think we should go back to the drawing table and get it right next time.

"Thank you."

At 4:43 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 4:50 o'clock p.m.

The President then made the following observation:

"Members, on Floor Amendment No. 14, just to clarify my previous remarks, the motion to pass H.B. No. 1400, C.D. 2, on Final Reading is deferred until 4:55 p.m. or the end of the Final Reading calendar."

Senator Hanabusa moved that the motion to pass S.B. No. 459, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 2, on Final Reading be withdrawn, seconded by Senator Kim.

Senator Ihara rose to inquire:

"Mr. President, on what basis is this motion made?"

Senator Hanabusa answered:

"Mr. President, this is a moot issue. As has been stated by all the various speakers on this motion. And I believe that as one of the Chairs on the matter, that we should first move to withdraw the motion to pass this matter on Final Reading, and then move to recommit."

Senator Ihara rose on a point of order as follows:

"Then on a point of order, I believe the proper motion is to recommit the bill rather than to withdraw the bill."

The President stated:

"We will withdraw then recommit."

Senator Ihara then said:

"But a point of order takes precedent over the motion."

At 4:52 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 4:53 o'clock p.m.

The motion was then put by the Chair and carried.

On motion by Senator Hanabusa, seconded by Senator Kim and carried, S.B. No. 459, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CAMPAIGN SPENDING," was recommitted to the Committee on Conference.

Senator Taniguchi moved that S.B. No. 1311, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Chun Oakland rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I stand in opposition of this bill.

"On Tuesday I had asked the Chair of Ways and Means if he could please clarify whether or not the healthy Hawaii initiative funds would be touched in any way by this measure, and he did inform me that it would be taking monies from the tobacco settlement special fund, and for that reason, I cannot support this measure.

"Thank you."

MISCELLANEOUS COMMUNICATION

Misc. Com. No. 10, from the Hawaii Health Systems Corporation dated April 8, 2003, transmitting the Annual Report for the Program of All-Inclusive Care for the Elderly (PACE) for the Fiscal Year Ending June 30, 2002, was read by the Clerk and was placed on file.

SENATE RESOLUTIONS

The following resolutions (S.R. Nos. 148 to 155) were read by the Clerk and were disposed of as follows:

Senate Resolution

No. 148 “SENATE RESOLUTION RECOGNIZING WITH GRATITUDE EACH OF THE INDIVIDUALS WHO OPENED A DAY OF THE SENATE, TWENTY-SECOND LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF HAWAII, REGULAR SESSION OF 2003, WITH AN INSPIRATIONAL INVOCATION.”

Offered by: Senators Hanabusa, Hemmings.

At 4:59 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 5:00 o'clock p.m.

On motion by Senator Kawamoto, seconded by Senator Hogue and carried, S.R. No. 148 was adopted.

No. 149 “SENATE RESOLUTION EXPRESSING DEEPEST APPRECIATION TO THE MEMBERS OF THE VARIOUS MEDIA FOR THEIR COVERAGE OF THE ACTIVITIES OF THE TWENTY-SECOND LEGISLATURE, REGULAR SESSION OF 2003.”

Offered by: Senators Hanabusa, Hemmings.

Senator Kawamoto moved that S.R. No. 149 be adopted, seconded by Senator Hogue.

Senator Slom rose to speak against the resolution as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise to speak against S.R. No. 149.

“You know, we pass these resolutions each year and we made a big point this time about people that don't read things and don't read audit reports and things like that. This is a resolution, a harmless resolution congratulating the media in our community for their objectivity, their professionalism, for the long hours that they put in, and for the wonderful news that they bring to our constituents.

“Mr. President, I have to vote against this because of the misinformation and the sloppy workmanship done by a number of the people in the fourth estate. While I support, absolutely, freedom of speech and I support the independence of the media, I think that in many cases they have done a great disservice to this community by reporting on things which they don't recognize, for example, as further taxation, increased costs, increased regulation.

“Those of us that stand up here and make speeches all the time seem to be ignored by the media. They seem to report the status quo on a regular and continuing basis. They seek to curry favor with those people that represent the status quo. They do not inform the constituents of what many of the issues really are about that have been plainly talked about both in Committee and on this Senate Floor.

“And so, Mr. President, I would suggest that we might amend the resolution to send them all to training so that they can learn how to properly listen and to take notes and to report both sides or three sides or four sides, as the case may be.

“For example, our good colleague from the underdeveloped area of Kaimuki stands up here regularly and talks about procedure and rules and how we violate our own rules, and I never see anything reported in the media about that. Either it’s not important or the idea of restoring trust in government is just a ho-hum thing to the media.

“So my message to the media is, yeah we appreciate you being here; yeah we appreciate you reporting things, but if you think that this is the height of professionalism, then all of you that talk about the media behind their backs when we’re not in Session is completely wrong.

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Trimble rose in support of the resolution and said:

“Mr. President, I would like to rise to speak in favor of this measure.

“The problem and the observation made by the good Senator from Diamond Head crater is correct, but the problem is not the media, particularly the newspaper print media that come to the Capitol. They write the stories. The decision to print the stories and how much of the story to print is in the hands of the editors of those newspapers.

“So if we were and if the Senator from Diamond Head crater had suggested that we amend the amendment to ask to send the editors to training, I think that suggestion was made by President Dobbelle yesterday, then I might be able to support it. And it really did have a real consequence. There was so much coverage of events happening around the world, particularly half way around the world, that most of what this body did, did not receive coverage. We probably would have had a good campaign spending reform law if there had been good coverage.

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, S.R. No. 149, entitled: “SENATE RESOLUTION EXPRESSING DEEPEST APPRECIATION TO THE MEMBERS OF THE VARIOUS MEDIA FOR THEIR COVERAGE OF THE ACTIVITIES OF THE TWENTY-SECOND LEGISLATURE, REGULAR SESSION OF 2003,” was adopted, with Senator Slom voting “No.”

No. 150 “SENATE RESOLUTION RETURNING ALL BILLS, CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS, AND RESOLUTIONS TO THE CLERK’S DESK.”

Offered by: Senators Hanabusa, Hemmings.

On motion by Senator Kawamoto, seconded by Senator Hogue and carried, S.R. No. 150 was adopted.

No. 151 “SENATE RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING THE PRESIDENT TO APPROVE THE JOURNAL OF THIS SENATE FOR THE SIXTIETH DAY.”

Offered by: Senators Hanabusa, Hemmings.

On motion by Senator Kawamoto, seconded by Senator Hogue and carried, S.R. No. 151 was adopted.

No. 152 “SENATE RESOLUTION RELATING TO THE PRINTING OF THE JOURNAL OF THE SENATE.”

Offered by: Senators Hanabusa, Hemmings.

On motion by Senator Kawamoto, seconded by Senator Hogue and carried, S.R. No. 152 was adopted.

No. 153 “SENATE RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING THE PRESIDENT TO DESIGNATE THE EMPLOYEES WHO WILL WORK AFTER ADJOURNMENT.”

Offered by: Senators Hanabusa, Hemmings.

On motion by Senator Kawamoto, seconded by Senator Hogue and carried, S.R. No. 153 was adopted.

No. 154 “SENATE RESOLUTION REGARDING COMPLETION OF THE WORK OF THE TWENTY-SECOND LEGISLATURE SUBSEQUENT TO THE ADJOURNMENT THEREOF.”

Offered by: Senators Hanabusa, Hemmings.

On motion by Senator Kawamoto, seconded by Senator Hogue and carried, S.R. No. 154 was adopted.

No. 155 “SENATE RESOLUTION INFORMING THE HOUSE AND GOVERNOR THAT THE SENATE IS READY TO ADJOURN SINE DIE.”

Offered by: Senators Hanabusa, Hemmings.

On motion by Senator Kawamoto, seconded by Senator Hogue and carried, S.R. No. 155 was adopted.

Senator Aduja rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

“Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

“Mr. President, it is very gratifying to see how much our Kahaluu/Laie communities really care about fighting back against drug use by coordinating a massive anti-drug sign waving campaign tomorrow afternoon along Kamehameha Highway.

“Mr. President, there are very few families that have not been negatively impacted in some way by the growing proliferation of drug use, particularly crystal meth or ice. The Honolulu Police Department reports that over 50 percent of all individuals arrested test positive for ice, a statistic that places us first among cities in the United States in this category.

“As we all know, Mr. President, the drug issue affects not only the Windward side. The impact of drug use affects all of us, no matter where in the state it occurs.

“Consequently, Mr. President and I, with the support of the Lt. Governor, will be focusing our coordinated efforts on a new anti-drug legislation during the off season with the formation of a new legislative anti-drug caucus. We will be working with other Legislators, law enforcement, various city and state agencies, schools and communities to form a consensus on legislation to be drafted and introduced in the next Session. By starting early, we can approach next year’s Session with an agenda that will have broad support and much greater chance of passage.

“We will be looking at all facets of the problem, including prevention, education, enforcement, treatment, and corrections as a comprehensive package. There is no single solution to this problem. It must be attacked at all levels if we are to succeed. And we must continue to work together to form a strong coalition in the interim period before the next Session.

“Colleagues, I ask all of you to join us in our efforts to achieve a drug-free Hawaii state.

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

At 5:07 o’clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 5:09 o’clock p.m.

Senator English rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

“Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

“Mr. President, we’ve had a very interesting Session and one that has been very smooth in many ways, very different from what we’ve experienced in the past. I want to just take a very brief moment to express my gratitude to the members of the Senate, of this body, for making this a very fulfilling experience for me, and for moving forward with many good ideas and many good pieces of legislation. We’ve worked hard together. I think we’ve moved forward an agenda that’s very good for the people of Hawaii and we’ve done something very different, and that is, in this particular year, because of the split in the party control of the Legislature and the party control of the executive, we’ve had to actually compromise on many different measures which I think strengthened the measures and made things stronger.

“So, to all of you, I want to say thank you for making this a very special Session for me, and I also want to take a brief moment, Mr. President, to extend my appreciation to my office staff – Beth McKeen, my office manager; En Young, the committee clerk; Jodie Holloway, my scientific advisor; Chris Martelles, Niq Occhipinti, both legislative aides; and of course Auntie Libby Kimball, who cooked for us and kept us all well fed throughout the Session.

“Thank you, members, aloha.”

Senator Sakamoto rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

“Mr. President, point of personal privilege.

“I’d like to echo what our pastor from Kauai said this afternoon about how Senate administration is working together on education. I know that’s something that each of us in our districts have concerns with, and if you look at one of the publications, they list the various schools saying top five, bottom five, and certainly that is the reality. But I’d like, as your Chair of Education, to work with our body, hopefully with the House, hopefully with the administration and continue to work to what’s best for all of our children.

“As you know, Mr. President, interim, some people rest, but education deserves no rest. We need to work through the summer on this one, Mr. President. So I ask for everybody to give their ideas on how we can best work together.

“Thank you.”

Senator Hogue rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

“Mr. President, I also rise on a point of personal privilege and I want to pick up on the thought about working throughout the interim.

“I appreciate how hard everyone worked here during this particular Session. I know some of the arguments got emotional. Words were flung out there, and I just want to let all of you know that I respect you even if I disagree with you vehemently on those particular issues in which sometimes I got very emotional on.

“Interim is a time to work for our constituents. I know that the Senate President and others have worked very hard to rid the waterways of Salvinia molesta, and I can tell you, Mr. President, I know Lake Wilson looks a lot better, so does Kawai Nui Marsh, but the problem still does exist and I hope that we can work together with the administration to get our waterways clean.

“Then there is another measure that many of you may have seen and I know that I will fight very hard for my constituents on the Windward side, and these are these evil rumble strips that suddenly have appeared on the Pali Highway that are just absolutely ripping apart my car and other drivers as well. So hopefully, we can get these rumble strips off of Pali Highway. Goodness sakes, it almost appears that they’re worse than the van cams. So we’re going to start up a fight here against these rumble strips. I don’t know what the DOT is thinking here. We’ll work with the administration and hopefully we can get that policy reduced. Certainly we want to protect pedestrians. I believe in that, but I’m not sure that rumble strips is really the way to go.

“So, with that in mind, we’ll work for the constituents during the interim and thank you very much for all of your attention and your hard work throughout this Session, colleagues.

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

Senator Hooser rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

“Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

“I just wanted to briefly offer my thanks and aloha to all the members. As a freshman Senator . . . I don’t know, how long are you a freshman? Next Session am I still a freshman?”

The President replied:

“No, you’re a sophomore.” (Laughter.)

“As a person new to this body and not having known very many of you at all before this, I want to say that it’s an honor and a privilege to have served with all of you. I’m impressed and will take that message home. When people talk about the people serving here, I know firsthand that it’s good people that serve.

“I want to especially thank the Chairpersons of the four Committees that I sat on – the Chairman of Education, I appreciate the help and support; the Chairman of Ways and Means, the Energy and Environment, and I have to say my favorite Chair, the Chair of Human Services. It’s again an honor to serve with people as dedicated to service as these people.

“I look forward to working with all of you in the interim and working with you next Session, so, thank you.”

Senator Hemmings rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege. I think it may be appropriate for me to share a few remarks on behalf of your Minority before you close the Session.

“On behalf of your loyal opposition, your Minority Republicans, we do recognize the work of the talented people that serve us here at the Legislature, certainly the Senate Clerk’s Office, the Sergeant-at-Arms, the Legislative Reference Bureau, our research offices. We all know they’re not here strictly for the pay because when you add up the total amount of work they do as compared to their pay, they work almost at minimum wage. And we do want to appreciate and send our thank you to all of them for this Session and for the work they do for all the people of Hawaii.

“Obviously, people who spoke before me had some personal points and some strategic, tactical points to make. I’d like to just address the bigger picture – what did the people of Hawaii get out of this Legislature? And I think it’s important for us to assess what we’ve done so that we can improve on it in the future.

“On opening day we expressed a great concern for the single biggest issue facing the State of Hawaii, and in my opening remarks I pointed out that, in our opinion, was the budget. There was a dark cloud hanging over the State of Hawaii. Some may say that the silver lining of that dark cloud was that the Legislature didn’t have any money to institute new programs so the people of Hawaii were relatively safe.

“Nevertheless, this Legislature, to its credit, did show some restraint. Some could question, was it by desire or was it by desperation? But we did show restraint and we did reduce the projected increase in spending, although the budget is going up. But it was noted intelligently the other night it’s going up because of previously agreed upon collective bargaining costs.

“The Senate had some real bright spots that I think all of us can be proud of and they were bright spots in the bipartisan cooperation that we had on several initiatives. Probably the brightest was that the Governor sent down an effort which we supported to amend Act 221 to take away the exploitation of certain tax credits. I really lament that the House did not follow our leadership on that issue.

“Nevertheless, we did balance the budget without increasing taxes on the working men and women of Hawaii and this does represent a slight change in business as usual. It can be told to the people of Hawaii that the ship of state that has been steaming in one direction of tax and spend for over 40 years now is starting to slow down and possibly turning in a new direction.

“In the area of education reform, we all recognized it was supposed to be our number one priority. But the truth of the matter is there was no substantive change to the way that the people of Hawaii are forced to educate their children in the public education system. The mantra remains the same – let’s give education more money and it will get better – when the evidence is quite to the contrary.

“A bright spot in which I do want to extend accolades on behalf of our caucus to the Majority Party and the Education Committee Chair was that they did recognize the need to strengthen chartered schools and our charter school bill is a modest step in that direction.

“The people of Hawaii wanted to have more confidence in us. They wanted true campaign reform. They wanted to believe that the prior sad instances of people being indicted and sent to jail for abuse was going to be put to a stop by strong and workable laws. Unfortunately, we’ve just seen that has failed.

“We had a number of initiatives that your loyal opposition wished to address this Session. Some of which we think are important, like amending the way the PUC does business so that we no longer have government induced monopolies that plague the consumers of Hawaii. We generally think the day will come when we can use the concept we do with tax credits with taxes in general. We’ll come back every year, Mr. President, and hope that we can stop taxing the sick and the hungry. Those initiatives obviously have fallen by the wayside.

“A bright spot, and something we can all be proud of in spite of the sad debate the other night, is that we have put in place tremendous leaders in the executive branch of government, people that got bipartisan support that I personally was extremely proud of. I was extremely proud of your Committee Chairmen who stood up and heaped praise on these people. I’m also extremely proud of the Governor for nominating them and, more importantly, for those individuals who stepped forward in many cases and took a tremendous pay cut to serve the people of this State. Their integrity, their knowledge, and their abilities to get the job done, I believe, will serve us all well.

“In closing, Mr. President, people could say that this Legislature was faced with a daunting task. In certain instances we met it. Others will say we failed to make major reform. I, you, or any one individual will not be the judge of that over the next year. The experience and the impact of what we’ve done and failed to do will speak louder than my words. But we, your Republicans, are optimistic. We’ve enjoyed working with you, Mr. President, and each one of your Committee Chairs in honestly trying to do the best we can for those who toil in the private sector and in the public sector to try to make Hawaii a better place.

“I do want to say, on behalf of myself, that at times when we had to disagree, sometimes vehemently, on certain principles and issues, that it was nothing personal. It has to do with what we believe in our heart and our intellect to be the best for those who we serve.

“We see the sun always coming up on a better day and we wish to extend to the Majority Party our aloha and we hope to work with you in the interim and we hope to come back next year and continue down the path of a new beginning.

“Thank you, Mr. President.”

The President then delivered his closing remarks as follows:

“Fellow Senators, from my position at this podium, I think I’ve had an opportunity to hear it all. But thankfully I have not had much opportunity to add to the discussions as the rest of you have, but my contribution to you and to this body was of a different nature. I chose not to limit the debate, not to cut short discussions, not to use rules as tools of censorship. I truly believe in giving everyone a chance to speak their mind. But to be honest with you, I must say that there were times when I felt otherwise. (Laughter.)

“It’s been an eventful 60 days, almost more for what’s been happening outside these Chambers than within, and since we’ve convened in January, the nation has gone to war with Iraq and now faces the difficult task of rebuilding. We’re in the midst of an epidemic, the spread of which may be slowing but is still causing fear and apprehension among our Asian and Pacific neighbors, not to mention our own Chinatown just a few blocks away.

“While the full impacts of war and SARS on Hawaii are still unknown and won’t be known until the Council of Revenues meets later on this month, our deliberations this year were greatly influenced by continuing uncertainty over the future of our economy, and more specifically our tax revenues.

“The budget situation really loomed at large this year, as did last year, and seemed to dominate much of what we did or couldn’t do. But despite nagging financial concerns, I think we managed to balance the budget while preserving vital support for public education and human services.

“I’d like to thank Chair Taniguchi for his support of Leadership’s agenda, which was to focus in on education. Our need for fiscal restraint meant disappointment for many, including those of us here today. Everything from education to school repairs to grants-in-aids, long awaited capital improvements were sort of left out of the budget.

“Time constraints, on the other hand, enabled us to consider only a few hundred of the 1,700 bills we introduced in the Senate and to approve at Session’s end maybe about 250 of those. Those of us who have been in office for awhile have come to the realization that progress is slow and incremental, rather than immediate and sweeping. I know some of the freshman really wanted it right now.

“For example, in my opening day speech I had called for us to consider replacing our aging Aloha Stadium with something that would enable us to stimulate and support the sports industry. That was before we learned that the stadium needed $40 million in repairs and another $3 million in annual maintenance. While we won’t be breaking ground here shortly or tomorrow, we have approved $300,000 for a thorough examination of the stadium and the feasibility for repairing or replacing it and hope the university, as the major tenant, will help in this effort.

“Also, I called for us to revisit mass transit options for Oahu. This is really out of frustration of the rush hour gridlock that we all experience out that way. The Legislature has approved a bill to have the state, city, and OMPO to work together on evaluating the potential of a system linking major population centers on this island. Governor Lingle has also been meeting regularly – I’ve been a part of it and Senator Kawamoto has been part of it – to look at these solutions to the traffic problems. I hope that their combined effort with ours will keep the idea alive and eventually result in some realistic solutions to our traffic and commuting needs.

“We will also begin to prepare for the 2004 legislative agenda to support and stimulate the continued growth of agriculture in the State of Hawaii. As I said on opening day, agriculture must remain a vital part of our economy and our economic development goals.

“You may also recall my controversial call for mandatory drug testing of students. Well, no legislation really resulted, but the idea continues to draw attention and not a week goes by without having a report of a crystal meth arrest or another outraged community like Kahaluu rising in protest. A recent Department of Health survey revealed that ice use is declining among high school seniors, but ecstasy use has increased in that 11,000 students from grades 6-12 – and you know that’s one in ten – are in need of treatment for substance abuse problems.

“The Senate will soon begin interim work with the Office of the Lt. Governor and law enforcement, public education and health officials on plans to really try to tackle this critical problem. The same goes for education, as Senator Sakamoto indicated.

“The House and Senate entertained many proposals for educational governance this year and Governor Lingle had her own recommendations. We worked long and hard to come up with a mutually accepted answer to the question, including whether the solution was a constitutional amendment for seven districts, as the Governor had really proposed.

“Midway through the Session we heard from William Ouchi who was invited to Hawaii by the Governor and who told us that spending per pupil was a far more influential factor in educational success than local school boards. So rather than prove a hastily drawn proposal or pass out a constitutional amendment that neglected to provide any details on how this revamped system could work, we actually erred on the side of caution and hope that the Education Committee Chairs and Governor, school administrators, and others will hammer out the details during the interim. In the meantime, we’ve approved a plan to apportion funding by school complex areas in keeping with the current goals of the superintendent and the board of education.

“We succeeded in crafting a number of important bills in the two-year budget that will meet the needs of the people of the State of Hawaii. And yes, by the way, we also were experiencing the growing pains of working with our new Governor and her cabinet. I really commend the Chairs on holding confirmation hearings for the 161 cabinet and board and commission nominees, nearly all of them during the most hectic time of the Session. We managed to confirm 159 appointments. This is an outstanding record, thanks to your diligence, your thoroughness, and abiding belief in the advise and consent process that was entrusted to you.

“I would like to express my gratitude to the Senate Leadership and to the Committee Chairs who have the unenviable task of identifying bills that touch issues of concerns to all of the constituencies. Here in the Senate we saw an unprecedented degree of cooperation among members and between parties. This is an accomplishment I really attribute to all of you.

“I would also like to acknowledge the contributions of the Senate support staff. Paul, thank you very much, and Carol. I’d like to thank Susan Claveria and her staff – they really did a fantastic job this Session.

“Much work really awaits us in the months before we reconvene next January. What we began this year should inspire us to build on our ideas, strengthen our networks and alliances, and plan for the future of our State.

“Thanks for listening. Thanks again for the privilege of leading the Senate through another exciting and successful 60 days.

“Mahalo and aloha.”

At 5:33 o’clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 5:53 o’clock p.m.

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

June 6, 2003

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 44

Honorable Members
Twenty-Second Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 44, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Transportation.'

The purpose of Senate Bill No. 44 is to ensure that economic relief is provided to airport concessionaires, either in an amount agreed to in negotiations between the State Department of Transportation (the 'State') and the concessionaires or as mandated by this bill.

This bill is fiscally irresponsible and philosophically objectionable for a number of reasons. First, it implies that each and every concessionaire is deserving of more relief than is likely to be agreed to by the State in separate arms-length negotiations with each concessionaire. While it is true and proper that the State will always put the interests of the public ahead of those of concessionaires, this does not mean that the State would be unreasonable or shortsighted in negotiating agreements. This bill implies the opposite.

Second, this bill essentially mandates open-ended relief that could easily exceed $100 million, with the bulk of that relief going to a single airport concessionaire, DFS Group L.P. ('DFS'), who holds the statewide in-bond concession and the retail concessions at Honolulu International Airport and Kona International Airport at Keahole. It is relevant that the State has a lawsuit pending against DFS, alleging that DFS fraudulently transferred significant sums of moneys to its corporate parent at a time when DFS owed the State tens of millions of dollars. Such a transfer to its controlling shareholder is highly relevant because DFS subsequently claimed to be financially unable to pay amounts due to the State, and then threatened to declare bankruptcy if the State attempted to enforce its contract with DFS.

The State and DFS are presently discussing a possible settlement of this lawsuit. A few weeks ago, DFS made a $25 million payment, meeting one of the preconditions for these discussions. If Senate Bill No. 44 were to become law, it would dramatically and adversely affect these discussions. Based on DFS' original position, the State anticipates that DFS would, at a minimum, either demand return of the $25 million payment, or insist that the State forgive most of DFS' back rent obligation, as if the State had guaranteed that DFS would never lose money.

Third, the mandated open-ended relief required by this bill poses an unacceptable threat to the continued viability of the State's airport system. It would make it impossible for the State to guarantee the financial integrity of the airport revenue fund. This, in turn, could result in sanctions by the Federal Aviation Administration and in potential violations of agreements with the State's bondholders.

Fourth, this bill singles out a tiny number of businesses for an unprecedented amount of economic relief. While the events of September 11, 2001, and resulting changes in our society certainly have had a big impact on airport concessionaires, they are not alone. It would be inherently unfair for the State to provide tens of millions of dollars, or more, in relief to such a narrow group of affected businesses.

Fifth, this bill would have the airport system's primary mission be one of serving the concessionaires rather than serving the public. While the State has no desire to put any existing concessionaire out of business, it would be wrong to make that the primary goal of negotiations. That is exactly what this bill would do.

Sixth, many of the terms of this bill are vague, ambiguous, or even inconsistent. Deciphering the rights and entitlements of the airport concessionaires and ensuring that all of the relief mechanisms are properly followed would be an administrative nightmare. For example, it is difficult to understand and harmonize the subsections within section 4 of the bill, as well as discern how section 4 would be applied in conjunction with other sections such as section 5. It appears that under section 4 of the bill, those concessions that receive relief under section 5 of the bill could potentially receive substantial additional relief over and above the relief mandated under section 5.

Section 4 of the bill provides that, if cancellation or modification of the contract cannot be agreed to within sixty days, 'a party may seek relief through the courts.' But this bill also states, '[t]he concessionaire shall have no right to make any claims against the State due to such cancellation.' Inconsistencies like this one would virtually guarantee the need for expensive litigation to sort out the controlling rule.

Further, under sections 1 and 4 of this bill, the State would have to negotiate relief with any concessionaires that had contracts as of January 1, 2003, which would include at least two concessionaires whose contracts have since been terminated and are no longer airport tenants.

Also of note is that under section 5 of this bill, one concession could potentially continue receiving mandated 'break-even no profit' relief through 2008.

While section 7 seems to be intended to prevent concessionaires receiving relief under section 5 from receiving duplicate relief or benefits, it is unclear what such concessionaires could receive or what the State would be required to do or negotiate if an event similar to September 11, 2001, were to occur in the future.

Based on sections 3, 4, and 5 of the bill, the State could easily find itself caught in an unending cycle of renegotiations with no ability to determine whether and to what extent relief should be granted.

Seventh, under section 5 of the bill, if, for example, the State is unable to reach agreement with a concessionaire who had previously received relief under Act 15, Third Special Session Laws of Hawaii 2001, the State must either: (1) terminate the contract, give up any right to claim the concessionaire's performance bond, and give up the right to collect most (if not all) of any back rent amounts or (2) permit a court-appointed certified public accountant to determine the amount of relief the State must provide to the airport concession.

Preventing the State from calling upon the very security it obtained to ensure that each concessionaire completed performance under each respective contract would be unwise and extremely detrimental to the State. For example, the performance bonds provided by DFS alone to secure its performance add up to approximately $50 million.

Eighth, as a property owner and lessor, the State should have the discretion to determine if relief is warranted and at what level. These rights are basic to any property owner or lessor. The bill denies these rights to the State.

Ninth, and particularly troubling, is the tenor of distrust that runs through this bill. Without having given this administration a meaningful opportunity to work with the concessionaires, some legislators may have assumed or already concluded that this administration cannot be trusted to negotiate settlements that are fair and reasonable, and in the best interests of all of the people of Hawaii.

Tenth, and most troubling of all, is the possibility that this bill was motivated by a fear that the administration would indeed put the best interests of all of the people of this State ahead of all other interests. Under this bill, the airport concessions seemingly are guaranteed relief regardless of the impact on the public or the State's ability to operate the state airport system. To the extent that this bill reflects narrow-minded favoritism of a single special-interest group over the interests of the public, that alone is reason enough to veto it.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 44 without my approval.

Respectfully,

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 38

Honorable Members
Twenty-Second Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning without my approval, Senate

Bill No. 38, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to the Hawaii Tourism Authority.'

The purpose of this bill is to authorize the Hawaii Tourism Authority (HTA) to hire attorneys independent of the Attorney General. At present, the HTA's legal services are provided through the Department of the Attorney General.

This bill is unnecessary because the Attorney General is capable of providing the services needed by the HTA either through regular or special deputy attorneys general. Furthermore, existing statutes provide for the contracting of private attorneys with special expertise when needed for specific projects, and the Attorney General has never denied a request from the HTA for an attorney with special expertise.

If the HTA were authorized to hire or retain attorneys independent of the Attorney General, the advice of private counsel may conflict with the advice given to other state agencies by the Attorney General and result in litigation that could have been avoided if the advice had been coordinated and reviewed by the Attorney General.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 38 without my approval.

Respectfully,

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 41

Honorable Members
Twenty-Second Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 41, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Public Contracts.'

The purpose of this bill is to require the Hawaii Tourism Authority (HTA) to disclose its publicly funded contracts and subcontracts by specifically subjecting them to the disclosure requirements of the Uniform Information Practices Act (UIPA), chapter 92F, Hawaii Revised Statutes, except for any information deemed proprietary by the person providing the information to the HTA.

This bill is objectionable because it invites confusion and accomplishes the opposite of the intent of disclosure and openness that was articulated by the Legislature in its committee reports.

The HTA is already subject to the disclosure requirements of the UIPA. Instead of requiring full disclosure, this bill provides an exemption from disclosure. Under this bill, this exemption would be invoked by persons providing information to the HTA.

Whether or not information is proprietary should be determined by the Office of Information Practices (OIP) under the provisions of chapter 92F, and not by the provider of the information.

This bill needs to be reworked by changing who determines whether information is proprietary from the provider of the information to the OIP. So changed, it could receive my enthusiastic support.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 41 without my approval.

Respectfully,

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 44

Honorable Members
Twenty-Second Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 44, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Transportation.'

The purpose of Senate Bill No. 44 is to ensure that economic relief is provided to airport concessionaires, either in an amount agreed to in negotiations between the State Department of Transportation (the 'State') and the concessionaires or as mandated by this bill.

This bill is fiscally irresponsible and philosophically objectionable for a number of reasons. First, it implies that each and every concessionaire is deserving of more relief than is likely to be agreed to by the State in separate arms-length negotiations with each concessionaire. While it is true and proper that the State will always put the interests of the public ahead of those of concessionaires, this does not mean that the State would be unreasonable or shortsighted in negotiating agreements. This bill implies the opposite.

Second, this bill essentially mandates open-ended relief that could easily exceed $100 million, with the bulk of that relief going to a single airport concessionaire, DFS Group L.P. ('DFS'), who holds the statewide in-bond concession and the retail concessions at Honolulu International Airport and Kona International Airport at Keahole. It is relevant that the State has a lawsuit pending against DFS, alleging that DFS fraudulently transferred significant sums of moneys to its corporate parent at a time when DFS owed the State tens of millions of dollars. Such a transfer to its controlling shareholder is highly relevant because DFS subsequently claimed to be financially unable to pay amounts due to the State, and then threatened to declare bankruptcy if the State attempted to enforce its contract with DFS.

The State and DFS are presently discussing a possible settlement of this lawsuit. A few weeks ago, DFS made a $25 million payment, meeting one of the preconditions for these discussions. If Senate Bill No. 44 were to become law, it would dramatically and adversely affect these discussions. Based on DFS' original position, the State anticipates that DFS would, at a minimum, either demand return of the $25 million payment, or insist that the State forgive most of DFS' back rent obligation, as if the State had guaranteed that DFS would never lose money.

Third, the mandated open-ended relief required by this bill poses an unacceptable threat to the continued viability of the State's airport system. It would make it impossible for the State to guarantee the financial integrity of the airport revenue fund. This, in turn, could result in sanctions by the Federal Aviation Administration and in potential violations of agreements with the State's bondholders.

Fourth, this bill singles out a tiny number of businesses for an unprecedented amount of economic relief. While the events of September 11, 2001, and resulting changes in our society certainly have had a big impact on airport concessionaires, they are not alone. It would be inherently unfair for the State to provide tens of millions of dollars, or more, in relief to such a narrow group of affected businesses.

Fifth, this bill would have the airport system's primary mission be one of serving the concessionaires rather than serving the public. While the State has no desire to put any existing concessionaire out of business, it would be wrong to make that the primary goal of negotiations. That is exactly what this bill would do.

Sixth, many of the terms of this bill are vague, ambiguous, or even inconsistent. Deciphering the rights and entitlements of the airport concessionaires and ensuring that all of the relief mechanisms are properly followed would be an administrative nightmare. For example, it is difficult to understand and harmonize the subsections within section 4 of the bill, as well as discern how section 4 would be applied in conjunction with other sections such as section 5. It appears that under section 4 of the bill, those concessions that receive relief under section 5 of the bill could potentially receive substantial additional relief over and above the relief mandated under section 5.

Section 4 of the bill provides that, if cancellation or modification of the contract cannot be agreed to within sixty days, 'a party may seek relief through the courts.' But this bill also states, '[t]he concessionaire shall have no right to make any claims against the State due to such cancellation.' Inconsistencies like this one would virtually guarantee the need for expensive litigation to sort out the controlling rule.

Further, under sections 1 and 4 of this bill, the State would have to negotiate relief with any concessionaires that had contracts as of January 1, 2003, which would include at least two concessionaires whose contracts have since been terminated and are no longer airport tenants.

Also of note is that under section 5 of this bill, one concession could potentially continue receiving mandated 'break-even no profit' relief through 2008.

While section 7 seems to be intended to prevent concessionaires receiving relief under section 5 from receiving duplicate relief or benefits, it is unclear what such concessionaires could receive or what the State would be required to do or negotiate if an event similar to September 11, 2001, were to occur in the future.

Based on sections 3, 4, and 5 of the bill, the State could easily find itself caught in an unending cycle of renegotiations with no ability to determine whether and to what extent relief should be granted.

Seventh, under section 5 of the bill, if, for example, the State is unable to reach agreement with a concessionaire who had previously received relief under Act 15, Third Special Session

Laws of Hawaii 2001, the State must either: (1) terminate the contract, give up any right to claim the concessionaire's performance bond, and give up the right to collect most (if not all) of any back rent amounts or (2) permit a court-appointed certified public accountant to determine the amount of relief the State must provide to the airport concession.

Preventing the State from calling upon the very security it obtained to ensure that each concessionaire completed performance under each respective contract would be unwise and extremely detrimental to the State. For example, the performance bonds provided by DFS alone to secure its performance add up to approximately $50 million.

Eighth, as a property owner and lessor, the State should have the discretion to determine if relief is warranted and at what level. These rights are basic to any property owner or lessor. The bill denies these rights to the State.

Ninth, and particularly troubling, is the tenor of distrust that runs through this bill. Without having given this administration a meaningful opportunity to work with the concessionaires, some legislators may have assumed or already concluded that this administration cannot be trusted to negotiate settlements that are fair and reasonable, and in the best interests of all of the people of Hawaii.

Tenth, and most troubling of all, is the possibility that this bill was motivated by a fear that the administration would indeed put the best interests of all of the people of this State ahead of all other interests. Under this bill, the airport concessions seemingly are guaranteed relief regardless of the impact on the public or the State's ability to operate the state airport system. To the extent that this bill reflects narrow-minded favoritism of a single special-interest group over the interests of the public, that alone is reason enough to veto it.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 44 without my approval.

Respectfully,

/s/ Linda Lingle

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 209

Honorable Members
Twenty-Second Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 209, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Public Employment.'

The purpose of this bill is to appropriate $60,000 for fiscal year 2003-2004 to the Department of Education to convert ten-month certificated positions to twelve-month certificated positions to provide services for multi-track year-round schools within the State of Hawaii.

While I believe that services are needed for multi-track schools, I also believe that the Department of Education already has existing capacity within its budget to provide the additional services that are required by the four schools in question. It would not be fiscally prudent to fund these services with a new appropriation from the general fund at a time when the State is facing a projected budget deficit of more than $230 million.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 209 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 255

Honorable Members
Twenty-Second Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 255, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Agriculture.'

The purpose of this bill is to amend chapter 205 (land use) of the Hawaii Revised Statutes by adding a new section to prohibit private restrictions on agricultural uses and activities on lands classified as agricultural by the Land Use Commission, except for restrictions intended to protect environmental or cultural resources.

This bill was introduced to address concerns regarding the proliferation of agricultural lands of residential subdivisions, gentleman farmer estates, and gated communities. Such developments often restrict agricultural activities by covenants or other types of servitudes.

I wholeheartedly support agriculture, which is a vital component of our economy, and I believe that most restrictive covenants against agricultural uses are contrary to the public good. This bill, however, is too far-reaching, and would prohibit landowners from placing any restrictions on agricultural uses of their agricultural lands.

I believe that the problems this bill attempted to remedy should be addressed in a fashion that will ensure the ability to use agricultural lands for agricultural activities, while allowing for reasonable restrictions where appropriate. My administration intends to work with all stakeholders to draft a bill for the next legislative regular session that accommodates the interests of both agriculture and private property owners.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 255 without my approval.

State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 317, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Making an Appropriation for the Fiftieth Anniversary Commemoration of the Korean War Commission.'

The purpose of this bill is to appropriate $30,000 additional funds to allow the Fiftieth Anniversary Commemoration of the Korean War Commission to complete its activities commemorating the fiftieth anniversary of the end of the Korean War.

While I believe this project to be worthwhile, the State's current fiscal condition cannot be ignored. The two-year budget recently passed by the Legislature is not balanced. The Legislature failed to include funding for the Hawaii Health Systems Corporation for the second year of the biennium. Such action would make sense only if one assumed that all state hospitals would be shut down one year from now. Because this assumption is not realistic, the budget passed by the Legislature is not fiscally sound.

The challenge presented by this budget increased after the Legislature adjourned when the Council on Revenues on May 16 reduced the revenue projection for the current year and the upcoming biennium by $186.7 million. The combined impact of lower revenue projections and unrealistic assumptions by the Legislature has resulted in a budget deficit of more than $230 million.

The State must now make the hard choices to restrict spending and resist tax increases in order to create a healthy business climate that will lead to more and better-paying jobs and a quality standard of living for Hawaii's families. In short, we must begin to put our financial house back in order by doing all that we can to match recurring expenses with recurring revenues.

Decisions like the one to veto this bill are not easy, but they are necessary. Without fiscal discipline and prudent management of the budget now, it will be impossible to restore trust and integrity in government and expand and diversify the economy in the years ahead. This kind of tough decision is needed in order to achieve a true New Beginning for the people of Hawaii.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 317 without my approval.

Honorable Members
Twenty-Second Legislature

State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 319, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Counties.'

The purpose of this bill is to reduce solid waste in the State of Hawaii by requiring counties with a population of at least 500,000 to establish a food waste recycling program. The program would require the owners or operators of certain food establishments to arrange for the collection, and delivery to a recycling facility, of a minimum of fifty percent of the establishments' food waste.

The bill is objectionable because it is unnecessary and goes against the concept of home rule.

According to the 2000 census, the City and County of Honolulu is the only county that would be required to comply with this bill. Yet, Honolulu is also the only county that currently has a mandatory food waste recycling program, pursuant to section 9-3.5, Revised Ordinances of Honolulu.

Regulation of food waste removal is best left to the counties so that the people most directly affected by such regulation can determine for themselves how best to implement it. The City and County of Honolulu testified against this bill because it prefers its own food waste recycling program to the one that would be forced upon it by this bill.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 319 without my approval.

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 464, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Implementation of a Fixed Rail Transit System.'

The purpose of this bill is to address growing traffic congestion problems by requiring the State Department of Transportation, in conjunction with both the Oahu Metropolitan Planning Organization (OMPO) and the City and County of Honolulu, to develop an action plan for the implementation of a fixed rail transit system for Oahu.

This bill is objectionable because I have already created a task force that includes representatives of the Legislature, the Honolulu City Council, the Mayor, OMPO, the Federal Highway Administration, the Federal Transit Administration, and both state and city transportation departments to study all possible transportation options that could help alleviate the traffic congestion problem on Oahu. This task force is taking a broad view of the transportation options available, and is looking at a variety of alternatives, including but not limited to rail transit, as a means of addressing this pressing issue that is of tremendous concern to our residents and families on Oahu.

Additionally, I note that the development of the action plan required by this bill would be a large undertaking for which no funding has been provided.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 474

Honorable Members
Twenty-Second Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 474, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to the Auditor.'

The purpose of Senate Bill No. 474 is to facilitate the acquisition of FERPA-protected information by making the Legislative Auditor an 'authorized representative' of the Department of Education (DOE) and of the Department of Health (DOH).

The Federal Family Educational and Privacy Rights Act, 20 U.S.C. § 1232g (FERPA), generally prohibits the disclosure of personally identifiable information about students. There are, however, exceptions. The DOE may disclose such records pursuant to a subpoena together with prior notification to the students' parents, or to a recipient who is an 'authorized representative' of the DOE. FERPA sometimes slows down the work of the Hawaii State Legislative Auditor ('Legislative Auditor') when auditing programs within the DOE and DOH by necessitating the issuance of a subpoena and notification to parents.

According to the Department of the Attorney General, enactment of Senate Bill No. 474 would subject the State to a significant risk of lawsuits. Specifically, the disclosure of education records without prior parental notification or issuance of a subpoena would probably result in expensive lawsuits filed by parents challenging this bill as an invalid attempt to circumvent federal law. In my opinion, this potential liability clearly exceeds any possible benefit that might result from this bill.

It should be noted that auditors in some states are automatically considered authorized representatives of educational agencies for purposes of FERPA compliance. These are states in which the person or organization conducting the audit is hired by the educational agency and conducts a single audit of federal funds received by the educational agency, which is clearly not the case with the Legislative Auditor in Hawaii.

The Family Policy Compliance Office ('Compliance Office'), U.S. Department of Education, which is the federal agency authorized to administer FERPA, contends that the FERPA exception in question applies only when the 'authorized representative' is an executive branch auditor or an outside auditor hired by the educational agency or the state to conduct a single audit of federal funds received by the educational agency or the state. Hawaii's Legislative Auditor does not conduct the type of single audit that falls within the FERPA exception. Therefore, under the Compliance Office's interpretation of FERPA, the DOE would not be allowed to disclose education records to the Legislative Auditor even after enactment of Senate Bill No. 474, and so this bill would not accomplish its intended goal in any event.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 474 without my approval.

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 534, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Agriculture.'

The amount of $800,000 is appropriated to the Department of Agriculture as a grant to the Hawaii Farm Bureau Federation with the requirements that the money be disbursed to the Hawaii Agriculture Research Center and that $500,000 of the money be used for sugar research. STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 576

Honorable Members
Twenty-Second Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 576, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to the University of Hawaii.'

Current law, section 304-16.5, Hawaii Revised Statutes, authorizes expenditures from the University of Hawaii (UH) tuition and fees special fund in order to generate private donations for deposit into the UH Foundation. The purpose of Senate Bill No. 576 is to provide that any expenditure from the UH tuition and fees special fund shall be subject to section 42F-103(a)(4), Hawaii Revised Statutes, which gives the UH and legislative committees and their staff, as well as the legislative auditor (Auditor), full access to the records, reports, and files of the individual or organization receiving the funds, such as the UH Foundation.

This bill is objectionable because it would make it impossible for the UH Foundation to assure prospective donors that their privacy rights would be protected, and would thereby jeopardize the UH Foundation's ability to raise money for UH's needs.

While the bill does subject the Auditor to the same restrictions on disclosure of records as currently apply to the UH Foundation, and provides that upon written request from a private donor the Auditor would be prohibited from disclosing that donor's name and personal information, it does not place these limitations on legislative committees and members of their staff. This would have a chilling effect on private donors not wanting the public to know information about their personal assets, business plan, estate plan, or in some cases their identity.

If there is a perceived need for greater accountability by the UH Foundation, I am confident it can be achieved without the adverse consequences that surely would flow from enactment of this bill.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 576 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 658

Honorable Members
Twenty-Second Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 658, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Emergency Contraceptives for Sex Assault Survivors in Emergency Rooms.'

The purpose of this bill is to require hospitals that provide emergency care to sexual assault survivors, to provide information on emergency contraceptives, and to offer and provide emergency contraceptives to sexual assault survivors.

This bill is objectionable because it would not withstand a legal challenge. According to the Department of the Attorney General, this bill violates the constitutional right to the free exercise of religion.

Individuals and religious institutions, such as St. Francis Hospital (St. Francis), have a constitutional right to the free exercise of religion. Citing religious beliefs, St. Francis does not allow its medical personnel to dispense emergency contraception drugs while carrying out their duties at St. Francis.

This bill directly interferes with the constitutional right to the free exercise of religion by requiring hospital personnel to administer emergency contraception drugs even if such an act is in contravention of religious beliefs and hospital policies which reflect those beliefs, as is the case at St. Francis.

When the State interferes with an individual's or an institution's right to the free exercise of religion, the State must show not only that the limitation in question furthers a compelling state interest, but also that the desired result is accomplished in a reasonable and least-restrictive manner.

The penalty provisions of this bill are unusually severe. After the first two violations, this bill would require the Department of Health to suspend or revoke the license of a hospital violating the bill.

This bill would not have been objectionable if the Legislature had included an 'opt-out' provision for religious hospitals. During the legislative session, I indicated that I would sign an emergency contraception bill only if it included an 'opt out' provision for religious hospitals. For whatever reason, the Legislature chose not to include such a provision.

Another possible alternative would be the approach taken by the State of Illinois. In 2001, Illinois enacted a bill that requires all hospitals to provide emergency contraception information to sexual assault victims. This law does not require the hospital to actually administer the drug if requested, but only requires that the hospital provide the victim with 'a description of how and when victims may be provided emergency contraception upon the written order of a physician.' Like an 'opt out' provision, such a requirement would not force the religious hospital to administer emergency contraception drugs in contravention of its religious beliefs.

The current practice at St. Francis is to do what the Illinois law requires, and also to arrange for transportation of the victim to another hospital that does not have an objection to providing emergency contraception drugs.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 658 without my approval.

Honorable Members
Twenty-Second Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 740, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Health.'

The purpose of this bill is to establish statutorily within the Department of Health the public health nursing (PHN) services program. The bill enumerates specific services that the program shall provide.

This attempt to codify the PHN program, which has been in existence since 1923, is commendable to the extent that it recognizes the importance and value of the services that have been provided to the community for the last eighty years. The PHN program provides essential services to some of the State's most vulnerable populations including special needs infants, the elderly, and victims of natural disasters. Although I believe it is a vital program, this bill is objectionable for a number of reasons.

First, the bill creates an overly broad mandate. For instance, it provides that the PHN program 'shall' provide health care services when no other resources are available in the community. There is no limitation that the services will be provided only to the extent that staff and other resources are available. Without some explicitly stated restrictions, the mandate could result in community demands that far exceed the program's current abilities to respond.

Second, the broad mandatory language may result in excessive financial liability. If the needs of the community exceed the program's ability to respond, there is potential legal liability from assuming an obligation that we know cannot be met. In this time of fiscal austerity, there is no guarantee of increased resources to meet the increased demands. It would not be fiscally prudent to expand services at a time when funding is scarce and the prospect of increasing funding is unlikely.

Third, the mandatory language in this bill would unnecessarily restrict the flexibility of the program to adapt to changing community needs. As the program currently operates and, presumably, will continue to operate, it is not restricted to providing a limited set of services. If the bill becomes law, however, the statute would need to be amended before the program could discontinue one of the enumerated services, or before adding a service not enumerated, which would be an inefficient use of time and resources.

I envision a bill being crafted in the future that would not only recognize the immense value of the PHN program, but would also be tailored to limit unnecessary liability and allow for the flexibility the program currently has to meet the changing needs of the community. This bill does not satisfy those requirements.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 740 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 745

Honorable Members
Twenty-Second Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 745, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Emergency Medical Services.'

The purposes of this bill are to require the State to provide emergency aeromedical helicopter services statewide and to appropriate $611,500 for fiscal year 2004-2005 to the Emergency Medical Services System of the Department of Health for emergency aeromedical helicopter services for the County of Maui, with matching funds to be provided by the County of Maui. This bill further appropriates $388,500 for fiscal year 2004-2005 to the Emergency Medical Services System for the integration of additional ground ambulance services with the emergency aeromedical helicopter services.

This bill is objectionable because it requires the State through the Department of Health to establish emergency aeromedical helicopter services statewide, but without statewide funding. The State would be open to liability if emergency aeromedical helicopter services were not available to a person who needed them in a county other than Maui.

Through its appropriations, this bill also would impose a substantial financial burden on the State during a fiscally challenging time. While it truly would be wonderful to have emergency aeromedical helicopter services statewide, the State cannot spend money that it does not have.

The two-year budget recently passed by the Legislature is not balanced. The Legislature failed to include funding for the Hawaii Health Systems Corporation for the second year of the biennium. Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 748, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Nursing Education.'

The purpose of this bill is to establish a nursing education loan program, administered by the University of Hawaii, to provide loans to qualified nursing students who agree to later secure employment as a nurse in Hawaii. Repayment of the principal and interest will be waived in an amount dependent upon the student's length of employment in Hawaii.

This bill is objectionable because it is questionable whether the partial and total waivers on the principal and interest of the student loans will actually alleviate the nursing shortage in Hawaii enough to justify the cost. Representatives of the School of Nursing testified that qualified applicants for the program have to be turned away because of limitations placed on the number of students that can be admitted to the school. There also is an insufficient number of clinical sites where students can be provided with clinical training and experience.

Furthermore, the bill establishes a special fund to provide loans to qualified nursing students but does not appropriate any moneys into the fund. It is not good policy to establish a special fund without any appropriation or dedicated funding source.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 768

Honorable Members
Twenty-Second Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 768, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Collective Bargaining.'

The purpose of this bill is to amend section 89-11(d), Hawaii Revised Statutes, to restore binding arbitration as the impasse resolution mechanism in labor contract disputes involving government workers in bargaining units 2, 3, 4, 6, 8, and 13.

If enacted, this bill would repeal these workers' right to strike, which had been reinstated as the impasse resolution mechanism by Act 90, Session Laws of Hawaii 2001, after six years of experience with binding arbitration.

Public worker strikes inconvenience the public, and are hard on public workers and their families. Elected officials and labor leaders all have a strong incentive to avoid them. In short, public worker strikes are a no-win proposition.

Because binding arbitration is one way to avoid even the possibility of a public worker strike, it has some appeal as an impasse resolution mechanism. Experience has demonstrated, however, that binding arbitration does not work as well in practice. We have learned that having binding arbitration to fall back on tends to lessen the incentive public worker union leaders and government employers otherwise have to engage in meaningful negotiation and good faith collective bargaining. One apparent reason is a universal expectation that arbitrators will 'split the baby,' choosing a number somewhere between the last offers of the two sides. This has had the perverse effect of encouraging both sides to take extreme positions, making negotiated settlements the exception rather than the rule.

Under a system of binding arbitration, recent negotiations often have been effectively replaced by decisions of third-party arbitrators. This has dramatically reduced accountability of union leaders and public officials.

Not having the safety net of binding arbitration forces both sides to get serious, stay focused, and negotiate in good faith. It also forces them to be accountable for positions taken, and for end results.

Reasonable settlements seem more likely to result when the alternative is a strike. Public officials must balance the ability to maintain a well-paid workforce against other government priorities and public resources. Unlike outside arbitrators, the Governor and mayors must keep all these interests in mind and then be accountable to the public. With binding arbitration, arbitrators make what amounts to the final call, and they do so with virtually no accountability.

The Legislature's concern regarding the impact a strike would have on the provision of necessary governmental services is alleviated by the fact that most employees involved in public safety services (i.e., health care, police protection, firefighting, and corrections) maintain their rights to binding arbitration.

Assuming appropriate modifications and limitations could be agreed upon by myself and the four county mayors, binding arbitration perhaps could be extended to other government workers in a way that would prove beneficial to the affected workers, their government employers, and the public. Binding arbitration as provided for in this bill, however, would not be in the best interests of the State, the counties, or the public.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 768 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 1088

Honorable Members
Twenty-Second Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 1088, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Long-Term Care.'

The purpose of Senate Bill No. 1088 is to establish a long-term care tax and provide long-term care benefits.

This bill is objectionable for the following reasons:

First, it does not adequately address the needs for long-term care for the people of Hawaii. In exchange for taxes paid over a lifetime, individuals would qualify for only 365 days of benefits too small to cover the current average daily cost of long-term care, much less what such costs might be at the time benefits were actually paid. Some individuals who would otherwise plan for their own long-term care needs might instead rely entirely on this program and end up much worse off as a result.

Second, the bill is fundamentally unfair and regressive. It would be disproportionately burdensome on low-income and middle-income taxpayers. The percentage of income that would have to be paid under this bill by a person earning $20,000 is five times greater than the rate on someone earning $100,000.

Third, the bill imposes unreasonable financial and administrative burdens on the State and private employers. The Department of Taxation estimates that it would cost the State approximately $1 million to set up this program, and approximately $320,000 each year for administration.

More funds would be needed to ensure compliance, but compliance costs for the collection of a $120 tax would be an inefficient use of resources in any event.

The bill creates additional complications in the administration of taxes because of a mismatching of funds -- the tax would be deposited into a special fund while a partial credit for the cost of long-term care insurance would be awarded from the general fund.

All employers would need to modify their payroll systems to account for the collection of the tax from their employees.

The cost of keeping track of the program itself, as opposed to just tax administration, is unknown at this time.

Fourth, the long-term care tax provided for by this bill would drain financial resources from Hawaii's economy. This loss is estimated to be approximately $100 million per year.

Finally, I am concerned that the long-term care special fund, which is projected to grow to approximately $1.2 billion over the next ten years, might not be used for the intended purpose. Given relatively recent raids on the state retirement fund and other special funds, I am concerned that the Legislature might be tempted to use this fund for other worthwhile purposes, leaving the State with yet another unfunded liability and taxpayers in doubt of whether they would ever receive the benefits that they had already paid for.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 1088 without my approval.

Honorable Members
Twenty-Second Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 1135, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Court Fees.'

The purpose of this bill is to authorize certain district court fees to be deposited in the judiciary computer system special fund and to appropriate $3.5 million from that fund in each year of the biennium to implement the judiciary information management system.

This bill is objectionable because it takes amounts that would have been deposited into the general fund and deposits those funds in a special fund instead. This has a negative impact on the State's limited resources.

While I believe this project to be worthwhile, I am confident that there are other, more appropriate financing mechanisms available to the Judiciary. Meanwhile, the State's current fiscal condition cannot be ignored.

The two-year budget recently passed by the Legislature is not balanced. The Legislature failed to include funding for the Hawaii Health Systems Corporation for the second year of the biennium. Such action would make sense only if one assumed that all state hospitals would be shut down one year from now. Because this assumption is not realistic, the budget passed by the Legislature is not fiscally sound.

The challenge presented by this budget increased after the Legislature adjourned when the Council on Revenues on May 16 reduced the revenue projection for the current year and the upcoming biennium by $186.7 million. The combined impact of lower revenue projections and unrealistic assumptions by the Legislature has resulted in a budget deficit of more than $230 million.

This kind of tough decision is needed in order to achieve a true New Beginning for the people of Hawaii.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 1237

Honorable Members
Twenty-Second Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 1237, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Education.'

The purposes of this bill are to define 'out of field teacher' to mean an individual who is teaching outside the teacher's authorized licensing field as indicated on the individual's license issued by the Hawaii Teacher Standards Board; define 'teaching out of field' and 'out of field teaching' to mean teaching outside the teacher's authorized licensing field as indicated on a teacher's license issued by the Board; require that the Department of Education's report on teachers and emergency hires to the Board be posted on the Department's Internet website; establish provisions relating to reporting violations of teacher licensing or credentialing; require any licensed teacher, employees, or officers of the Department of Education, and employees or officers of any teacher preparation institution to report violations to the Hawaii Teacher Standards Board; establish petty misdemeanor non-reporting penalties, provisions for reports by other people, confidentiality, and action on reporting; authorize the Board to fund its currently established positions without having to reestablish them and authorize the positions to be made permanent.

This bill is objectionable because it makes it a petty misdemeanor crime for any licensed teacher, employee, or officer of the Department of Education, or employee or officer of any teacher preparation institution, to fail to report to the Board of Education the identity of any person who they have reason to believe is teaching outside of that person's area of certification. This imposes the burden of monitoring proper licensing of teachers on an overly broad group.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 1237 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 1460

Honorable Members
Twenty-Second Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 1460, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Contracts Entered Into by the Hawaii Tourism Authority.'

This bill requires the Hawaii Tourism Authority (HTA) to put certain provisions into its contracts that exceed $6,000,000 or those that are of a level of complexity (as determined by the Executive Director of the HTA) that a reasonably prudent person would expect of a complex contract. Such contract provisions would include language on intellectual property, loyalty to and in support of the HTA, subcontracting only with prior consent, no subcontracting beyond the term of the contract, standards of conduct, confidentiality, best efforts, payments related to deliverables, and performance standards with detailed goals and timelines.

The HTA's Executive Director may suspend these required provisions if the Executive Director notes the reasons for the suspension in a memorandum attached to the contract, and forwards it to the Legislature within ten days.

This bill violates the fundamental government principal of separation of powers, under which the legislative branch of government enacts laws that are then carried out by the executive branch in its discretion. This bill mandates, in minute detail, what provisions must be included in a contract. Such legislative micromanagement of an executive function is inappropriate, especially where there has been no showing of need and the Legislature has acknowledged that 'the current executive director of the HTA has strived to include these provisions in all HTA contracts.'

Although this bill allows for the suspension of a required provision under certain circumstances, it could still unnecessarily limit HTA's contracting options. Such discretion should properly rest with the executive branch. Moreover, the bill's requirement that all such suspensions be reported to the Legislature within ten days is a further example of legislative micromanagement.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 1460 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 1462

Honorable Members
Twenty-Second Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning without my approval, Senate Bill No. 1462, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to the Hawaii Tourism Authority.'

This bill contains many provisions affecting the Hawaii Tourism Authority (HTA). One major change would provide HTA with complete autonomy with regard to the expenditure of tourism special funds and convention center enterprise special funds by exempting it from chapters 38 and 40, Hawaii Revised Statutes. These chapters govern deposits of public funds and audit and accounting procedures. The bill would also allow disbursements from the tourism special fund and convention center enterprise special fund to be drawn upon checks prepared and signed as approved by the HTA Executive Director and a member of the HTA board.

This bill is objectionable because, by exempting HTA from chapters 38 and 40, there would be no controls to ensure the proper expenditure and protection of HTA funds, which are public funds. Presently the Department of Accounting and General Services (DAGS) supervises and pre-audits HTA expenditures to make certain that amounts appropriated are not exceeded, and that there is full compliance with executive orders and rules. If this bill were to become law, HTA would have to implement a system of internal controls and cash management procedures to replace those currently provided by DAGS and the Department of Budget and Finance. Hiring its own staff to ensure such fiscal accountability would be duplicative and wasteful.

Moreover, HTA's financial transactions are an integral part of the State's Comprehensive Annual Financial Report (CAFR), which is used to determine the State's bond rating. Reporting HTA's transactions after-the-fact, as this bill allows, could negatively impact the CAFR, and thereby damage state interests.

HTA's contracting issues can be addressed without adding more people and systems to government. Our Administration has worked, and will continue to work, with HTA to streamline the contracting process and expedite payment to vendors, while still ensuring efficiency, accountability, and responsible use of public funds. Even now, HTA is in the process of scrutinizing its past performance, and clarifying its proper roles and functions.

This bill would also appropriate $8,000,000 out of the tourism special fund for fiscal year 2003-2004 to respond to any adverse effects due to world conflicts, terrorist threats, and SARs, and to strengthen the programs and operations of the HTA. I am not opposed to this appropriation and would support it if appropriate next session.

Some other provisions of this bill, such as the establishment of a tourism registry, the appointment of a sports coordinator, and the performing of an annual financial audit, are being done administratively.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 1462 without my approval.

Respectfully,

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 1647

Honorable Members
Twenty-Second Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 1647, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Services for Individuals Who Are Blind or Visually Impaired.'

The purposes of this bill are to appropriate $43,000 for fiscal year 2003-2004 to the Public Utilities Commission for a telephone reading system that provides individuals who are blind or visually impaired with toll-free statewide telephone access to time-sensitive information for one year, and to authorize the Public Utilities Commission to contract with a qualified private nonprofit organization to provide these services.

While I believe this project to be worthwhile, releasing these funds would mean spending money that we do not have.

The two-year budget recently passed by the Legislature is not balanced. The Legislature failed to include funding for the Hawaii Health Systems Corporation for the second year of the biennium. Such action would make sense only if one assumed that all state hospitals would be shut down one year from now. Because this assumption is not realistic, the budget passed by the Legislature is not fiscally sound.

The challenge presented by this budget increased after the Legislature adjourned when the Council on Revenues on May 16 reduced the revenue projection for the current year and the upcoming biennium by $186.7 million. The combined impact of lower revenue projections and unrealistic assumptions by the Legislature has resulted in a budget deficit of more than $230 million.

The State must now make the hard choices to restrict spending and resist tax increases in order to create a healthy business climate that will lead to more and better-paying jobs and a quality standard of living for Hawaii's families. In short, we must begin to put our financial house back in order by doing all that we can to match recurring expenses with recurring revenues.

Decisions like the one to veto this bill are not easy, but they are necessary. Without fiscal discipline and prudent management of the budget now, it will be impossible to restore trust and integrity in government and expand and diversify the economy in the years ahead. This kind of tough decision is needed in order to achieve a true New Beginning for the people of Hawaii.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 1647 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 1661

Honorable Members

State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 1661, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to the Housing and Community Development Corporation of Hawaii.'

The purpose of this bill is to require the Housing and Community Development Corporation of Hawaii (HCDCH) to complete construction of the Villages of Kapolei by June 30, 2011, and to to collaborate and coordinate with the State Department of Transportation (DOT) and the City and County of Honolulu (City) in implementing the recommendations of the private traffic study for the Villages of Kapolei prepared by Walkable Communities, Inc.

This bill is objectionable because it requires the HCDCH to complete the construction of the Villages of Kapolei by a specific date without consideration of factors beyond the HCDCH's control that could make it impossible to comply with the law. For example, the HCDCH has little or no control over fluctuating real estate market conditions and the City's ability to complete water and sewer infrastructure.

This bill further requires the HCDCH to collaborate and coordinate with the City and the DOT to implement the recommendations of the traffic study. However, some recommendations may negatively impact the larger Kapolei region or the Ewa Transportation Master Plan and jeopardize the dedication of the roadway infrastructure to the City.

Even without this bill, completion of the Villages of Kapolei remains one of the HCDCH's top priorities. Approximately 2,600 housing units, three schools -- the Kapolei Elementary, Middle, and High Schools -- and the Kapolei Recreation Center have been built. The remainder will be completed as soon as practicable, consistent with community concerns and financial and engineering realities.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 1661 without my approval.

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

June 20, 2003

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 29

Honorable Members
Twenty-Second Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 29, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Meal Breaks.'

The purpose of this bill is to require employers to provide employees with at least a thirty-minute meal break after more than eight hours of work, except when the employer is: (1) subject to a collective bargaining agreement that expressly provides for employee meal breaks; (2) a carrier of passengers or property by motor vehicle or a power generating utility regulated under chapter 269, Hawaii Revised Statutes (HRS); or (3) the operator of a continuously operating facility that is regulated by environmental permits.

The impetus for the bill was the Hawaii Civil Rights Commission's concern that, because state law does not require a meal period or other break, enforcing section 378-10, HRS, would be problematic. This law, enacted in 1999, prohibits an employer from preventing an employee from expressing breast milk during any meal or other break period required by law or by a collective bargaining agreement. The Commission, however, has never received a complaint on this issue.

This bill also provides that no employer shall prohibit an employee from expressing breast milk during any meal break or other break that is required by law, required by a collective bargaining agreement, or provided by the employer on a voluntary basis. In addition, an employer is prohibited from discriminating against an employee for expressing milk during the meal break or any other break.

This bill is objectionable because it applies only to small businesses that do not engage in business outside of Hawaii. Chapter 387, Hawaii Revised Statutes, which this bill would amend, does not cover employers subject to the federal Fair Labor Standards Acts (i.e., employers with gross receipts of $500,000 or more and those engaged in interstate commerce).

In short, there has been no demonstrated need for this bill. In those cases where employees work more than eight hours at a time, the employee and employer should have the flexibility to structure meal and other breaks in ways that make sense under the circumstances, rather than to have breaks mandated by law.

In sum, it makes no sense to burden businesses in Hawaii with a new regulation of this kind in the absence of a demonstrated need. It makes even less sense to target only small, local businesses.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 29 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 32

Honorable Members
Twenty-Second Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 32, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Education.'

The purposes of this bill are to authorize schools to assess and collect annual fees for textbooks and to require schools to provide a copy of the current list of textbooks and instructional materials upon the request of a student or parent or guardian of a student attending the school. The bill also exempts publishers of library books from the requirement that the publisher furnish the State with computer diskettes from which Braille versions can be produced.

This bill is objectionable on philosophical grounds, and also because it is legally flawed.

The Department of Education (DOE) annual budget is in excess of $1.3 billion, and is scheduled to increase significantly over each year of the biennium. If more books and instructional materials are needed in our public schools, and I believe they are, then the DOE should pay for them with funds from its existing budget and not place further financial burden on parents and guardians of school children.

The fundamental problem that prompted this bill is not a shortage of textbooks and instructional materials. This is a symptom of the real problem, which is that Hawaii's totally unique, single-district statewide school system, including its overly centralized DOE, is poorly structured and is not getting enough of its $1.3 billion annual budget into classrooms.

Bills like this one distract the public from the obvious need to decentralize control and build in greater accountability.

Our focus must remain fixed on real solutions, such as establishing clear lines responsibility and accountability for performance, decentralizing control, empowering principals and holding them accountable through performance contracts, and redirecting to classrooms up to fifty percent of the funds currently spent on administration.

There also are internal inconsistencies and ambiguities in this bill. For example, the bill does not contain an appropriation provision authorizing the expenditure of moneys collected as fees for instructional materials and textbooks. As a result, it is legally questionable whether any such moneys could actually be expended. It would make no sense to collect fees solely for the sake of collecting fees.

The bill also appears to have inadvertently limited the DOE's ability to hold students accountable for losing or destroying books. At a minimum, there is unnecessary ambiguity in the bill that would cause administrative difficulties and could result in legal challenge to the statute itself.

Without the authority to collect restitution from students who negligently lose or destroy textbooks, the ability of teachers and principals to deter such actions and to hold students accountable would be compromised.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 32 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 133

Honorable Members
Twenty-Second Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 133, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Child Protection.'

The purpose of this bill is to grant full immunity from prosecution for leaving an unharmed newborn at a hospital and provide immunity from liability for the hospitals and their personnel for receiving such a newborn.

This is a so-called safe-haven measure, intended to protect newborns from being killed by a mother who is unable or unwilling to care for the child.

My first reaction to this bill was mixed, but mostly positive. While questioning the need for such a law, I thought to myself, 'but if it saves just one life it will be a good law.' This mostly positive reaction seemed to be validated when I learned that forty-two other states have already enacted similar laws, and that the first to do so was Texas in 1999 under then-Governor George Bush.

However, additional research and lively discussions with people on both sides of the issue have caused me to reassess my initial thinking. In fact, I now believe that any good that might be accomplished by this bill is likely to be outweighed by the harm that it would cause.

I am concerned, for example, that the individual dropping off the newborn would not be required to prove that she is the baby's parent, or have to provide even minimal information about the baby. This could jeopardize the child's health and make it exceedingly difficult for the extended families, or the child's father, to learn of the baby's whereabouts and to assert their interests in caring for the child. The abandoned baby would be prevented from ever learning about its medical and genealogical history.

In Hawaii, the extended family is commonly recognized as an integral part of the nuclear family, and the Hawaiian cultural practice of open adoption called 'hanai' is still common practice. This bill could have an adverse impact on such support systems.

I believe that our focus should be on the long-term well being of the newborn, and that safe-haven measures like this one fall short in that critically important respect. Experts around the country are increasingly critical of such laws.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 133 without my approval.

Honorable Members

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 282, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to the Auditor.'

The purposes of this bill are to enable the Legislative Auditor to be reimbursed for all or part of the costs of an audit the Auditor conducts, when moneys for such costs have been appropriated or generated by any department, office, or agency of the State or its political subdivision, and to establish a revolving fund in which to deposit such moneys and legislative appropriations.

While this bill has a commendable intent, to provide funds to enable the Legislative Auditor to conduct audits, the mechanism selected to achieve that intent is unduly cumbersome and potentially wasteful. By allowing the Legislative Auditor to decide unilaterally when to conduct or contract for financial audits of executive branch agencies, and then to claim reimbursement for the cost of all such audits, this bill invites duplication and waste of limited resources for the many departments, offices, agencies, and political subdivisions that must budget for and schedule their own audits. If the Legislature wants the Legislative Auditor to conduct more audits of executive branch agencies, it should appropriate sufficient funds directly to the Legislative Auditor for that purpose.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 282 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 285

Honorable Members
Twenty-Second Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 285, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Administrative Procedure.'

The purpose of this bill is to require that administrative rules conform to enabling statutes, to provide for the automatic repeal of administrative rules when the enabling statute or ordinance is repealed, and to require the Small Business Regulatory Review Board to include in its report to the Legislature recommendations as to whether a rule is an appropriate function of state government and whether its goal can be implemented as cost-effectively by the private sector as by state government.

This bill is objectionable because it is unnecessary to accomplish its goals, and it could result in confusion and wasteful litigation over the legal status of certain rules.

Although under current law, administrative rules could theoretically remain 'on the books' indefinitely after repeal of the underlying statute, such rules would cease to be enforceable upon such repeal, without some other statutory authority. Our administration will periodically review existing rules to determine if they continue to serve a valid purpose, and section 91-3(f), Hawaii Revised Statutes, already provides a relatively simple process for the repeal of rules that are null and void or unnecessary, while ensuring that the public is notified and that any interested person may petition the agency seeking to repeal rules.

The automatic repeal of rules as mandated by this bill may or may not result in the repeal of rules that were implemented under, or relate to, more than one statute. This uncertainty would invite litigation.

Other provisions of this bill, such as the requirement to conform to federal mandates, already are part of existing policy.

The requirement that the Small Business Regulatory Review Board review rules and recommend whether the private sector can more cost-effectively provide the same goal can also be implemented through an administrative directive.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 285 without my approval.

Honorable Members
Twenty-Second Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 289, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Education.'

The stated purpose of this bill is to establish fifteen complex areas comprised of multiple school complexes as determined by the Superintendent of Education (Superintendent) in consultation with the Board of Education (BOE).

In truth, this bill would simply codify an internal reorganization that was proposed by the Superintendent in December of 2001 and approved by the BOE on January 10, 2002, and already has been implemented by the Department of Education (DOE).

This bill is objectionable because it pretends to be education reform when in reality it is the opposite. It would 'etch into stone' the latest of the DOE's many reorganizations, and make it that much more difficult not just to achieve real reform, but also to manage the system. For example, if the Superintendent were to determine at some future point in time that it made more sense to have 16 complex areas, or 14, such a change would require another act of the Legislature. That would be an intolerable situation.

The Superintendent should have a reasonable degree of managerial freedom to do her job, and should not be required to get bills passed in the legislature any and every time she wants to exercise her managerial prerogative. The BOE has the authority and responsibility to provide oversight and to hold the Superintendent accountable.

The Legislature's penchant to micromanage has not led to better schools in the past, nor will it in the future. This bill is yet another example of such micromanagement.

The time has come for the Legislature to release its stranglehold on public education. It should let the people decide the issue of local school boards, and stop offering do-nothing bills in the guise of education reform.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 289 without my approval.

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 290, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Unemployment.'

The primary purpose of this bill is to create a temporary state program to extend unemployment insurance benefits for an additional thirteen weeks for unemployed workers who had claims for unemployment benefits on or after September 11, 2001, and have exhausted their right to collect state, federal, and other unemployment benefits. Eligibility is conditioned on the federal Temporary Extended Unemployment Compensation (TEUC) program not being extended after May 31, 2003.

This bill is objectionable because it is unnecessary. On May 28, 2003, President George W. Bush signed federal legislation, Public Law No. 108-26, to extend the federal TEUC program until December 31, 2003. Because an individual would be eligible for the additional benefits under this bill only if the federal TEUC program was not extended and because that program has been extended, no individual can qualify for the additional benefits under this bill.

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 293, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to the Farmers' Market.'

The purpose of this bill is to appropriate $7,000 for the Department of Agriculture to assess the economic feasibility of establishing a world-class farmers' market in Hawaii.

This bill is objectionable because this appropriation would result only in a feasibility study for something that goes beyond essential or core services. In fiscally challenging time like these, we must exercise fiscal discipline and stay focused on the core functions of government.

The two-year budget recently passed by the Legislature is not balanced. The Legislature failed to include funding for the Hawaii Health Systems Corporation for the second year of the biennium. Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 426, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Public Lands.'

The purpose of this bill is to authorize the Department of Land and Natural Resources (DLNR) to issue new leases to the Kauai Beachfront Hotel (now known as the Aloha Beach Resort Kauai), the existing state lessee of resort properties at Wailua, Lihue, Kauai (Kauai Beachfront Leases).

This bill raises a serious policy question because it provides a special benefit to one entity that is not available to similarly situated entities. The State has a general policy, stated in section 171-14, Hawaii Revised Statutes, to award leases through public auction, thereby providing a fair opportunity for the public to bid on the lease and for the State to obtain the best deal possible.

This bill also is unnecessary in order to issue new leases on this property. Under section 171-61, Hawaii Revised Statutes, leases can be canceled and re-auctioned by the Board of Land and Natural Resources (BLNR) whenever land can be re-leased for a higher or better use or for an existing use to a greater economic benefit to the State. In fact, the BLNR took action at its meeting held on May 24, 2002, to approve the cancellation and re-auction of the Kauai Beachfront Leases.

Finally, there is a serious concern that this bill may be unconstitutional pursuant to Section 5 of Article XI of the State Constitution, which provides that the legislative power over the lands owned by the State and its political subdivisions shall be exercised only by general law.

Honorable Members
Twenty-Second Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 531, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Public Employees.'

This bill amends provisions relating to compensation and benefit adjustments for excluded managerial civil service employees. The bill provides that, in formulating recommendations to the appropriate authority, the respective director shall ensure that proposed adjustments are consistent with civil service laws and equivalent or not less than adjustments provided for counterpart included civil service employees within the employer's jurisdiction.

This bill is objectionable and poor public policy, because the compensation and benefits packages for high-level excluded managerial employees will be linked to benefits obtained by the Unions through negotiation. This creates a conflict of interest for excluded managers, it reduces management's flexibility in employing excluded personnel, and it is contrary to the underlying rationale for creating excluded positions that are not subject to collective bargaining. In addition, the establishment of a compensation 'floor' that is no less than the compensation negotiated for counterpart included civil service employees undermines the effort to establish pay for performance. Poor excluded performers receive the same as included counterparts, leaving less resources available to reward outstanding performers.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 531 without my approval.

Respectfully,

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 640

Honorable Members
Twenty-Second Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 640, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Making an Appropriation for the Loss Mitigation Grant Program.'

The purpose of this bill is to use $500,000 from the Hawaii Hurricane Relief Fund for fiscal year 2003-2004 and another $500,000 in fiscal year 2004-2005 to develop and implement the grant program established under Act 179, Session Laws of Hawaii 2002.

This bill is objectionable because it would take money from the Hawaii Hurricane Relief Fund to fund a relatively small program that would involve significant administration costs.

Although there is a logical relationship between the Hurricane Relief Fund and the purpose of this bill since the grants funded under this bill should reduce hurricane losses, too few property owners would benefit from this bill to justify the use of the moneys in the Hawaii Hurricane Relief Fund. There are administrative costs that would be incurred in operating this program, including costs for providing notice of the availability of the grant program, processing applications, and other staffing functions that are not funded in this bill. These administrative costs would reasonably be expected to consume a significant portion of the funds provided by this bill.

This bill also has a fiscal impact on the State. The State's general fund financial plan assumes a transfer of interest income of $9 million annually from the principal balance of the Hurricane Relief Fund. Reducing that principal will reduce general fund revenues.

It should be noted that hurricane mitigation is a worthwhile concept, and the potential to use money provided by this bill as matching funds to qualify for additional federal money is attractive. Even so, the State must resist the urge to dip into the Hurricane Relief Fund so that the principal of this fund will be available to provide coverage for future hurricane losses. This bill represents the kind of 'painless' decision that led to the current fiscal challenge. Faced now with a projected budget deficit of more than $230 million, the State must make the hard choices necessary to put our financial house back in order.

Decisions like the one to veto this bill are not easy, but they are necessary. Without fiscal discipline and prudent management of the budget, it would be impossible to restore trust and integrity in government and expand and diversify the economy. These are things that we must do to achieve a true New Beginning for the people of Hawaii. Too much is at stake for us to lose our focus or our resolve.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 640 without my approval.

Respectfully,

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 968

Honorable Members
Twenty-Second Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 968, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Unemployment Benefits.'

The purpose of this bill is to allow unemployment insurance (UI) claimants to receive their weekly benefit amount without regard to earnings received from current employment.

This bill is objectionable because the unemployment system was established to provide jobless workers with a means of getting through a temporary period of unemployment and not as an entitlement that should continue to be paid in full even after a job has been found.

This bill also is objectionable because it would apply retroactively to weeks beginning January 1, 2003 and cost approximately $800,000 per month in benefits expended from the UI trust fund, or a seven percent increase from current levels. Employers in Hawaii have already been subject to higher tax assessments because the contribution rate schedule increased from Schedule C in 2002 to Schedule D in 2003, due to a lower trust fund balance. By permanently drawing from trust fund reserves, this measure would put upward pressure on the unemployment tax rate and thereby make it more difficult to hold down the costs of doing business in Hawaii.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 968 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 993

Honorable Members
Twenty-Second Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 993, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Reconstructed Vehicles.'

The purpose of this bill is to make the state law relating to reconstructed vehicles applicable beginning on July 1, 2004, in counties with a population of less than 500,000, unless a county decides to adopt ordinances regulating reconstructed vehicles.

Currently, the City and County of Honolulu is the only county administering the Director of Transportation's rules relating to the inspection and certification of reconstructed vehicles. Thus, a reconstructed vehicle that may be operating in the counties of Maui, Kauai, and Hawaii may not be legally operated in the City and County of Honolulu unless it is inspected and certified by Honolulu, and a reconstructed vehicle permit is obtained.

This bill is objectionable because it would force counties to either enact their own ordinances regarding the specifications and requirements governing reconstructed vehicles by July 1, 2004, or be subject to state provisions. Counties should be able to choose whether to regulate reconstructed vehicles, and if they do, have the ability to structure the regulation to meet their own particular needs.

The mayors of all four counties requested that I veto this bill.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 993 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 1003

Honorable Members
Twenty-Second Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1003, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Crime Victim Compensation.'

The purpose of this bill is to assist the Crime Victim Compensation Commission (CVCC) by doing the following: (1) allowing the CVCC to transfer a minor's compensation award to an appropriate custodian for the minor's benefit under the Uniform Transfers to Minors Act; (2) allowing compensation (a) for mental health services to children or elderly individuals who witness a crime, and (b) to surviving relatives of victims of sexual assault and death; (3) renaming the award for 'pain and suffering' as the award for an 'acknowledgment of harm'; (4) authorizing the CVCC to hire new employees without regard to civil service; (5) requiring the Judiciary to provide information demonstrating compliance with section 351-62.6, Hawaii Revised Statutes; and (6) escheating any unclaimed victim restitution moneys to the CVCC special fund after public notice.

Although there are several positive aspects to this bill, the bill is objectionable because the removal of civil service protection is unnecessary and because funds should not escheat to the CVCC when the CVCC is the organization currently responsible for locating victims.

This bill removes civil service protections from new staff at the CVCC. No sufficient justification has been provided to demonstrate the need for these workers to be exempt from the civil service.

Furthermore, the CVCC is currently responsible for locating and paying victims. Under this bill, if the CVCC does not locate the victim, the restitution funds escheat to the CVCC special fund. Accordingly, this bill would appear to create a financial incentive for the CVCC when victims are not found. Laws that create such perceptions of government do not serve to restore trust and integrity in government.

The positive parts of this bill may and should be passed next year.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 1003 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 1013

Honorable Members
Twenty-Second Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1013, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Examinations for the Determination of Permanent Impairment.'

The purpose of this bill is to require an employer and an employee in a workers' compensation case to mutually agree upon a physician to conduct an examination for the determination of permanent impairment when an employer requests the examination. If no agreement is reached, the Director of Labor and Industrial Relations ('Director') is required to appoint a physician from a list of duly qualified physicians that the Director is required to compile and maintain. The Director is required to appoint the physicians in the order they appear on the list. The employer is required to pay for the cost of any examination it requests.

This bill is objectionable because there has been no demonstrated need for a change in the present system. Currently, the employer and employee either agree on a physician and the employer usually pays for the examination and report, or the employer and the employee each obtain and pay for their own examinations and reports. If the employee will not voluntarily attend an examination requested by the employer, the employer may ask the Director or the Labor and Industrial Relations Appeals Board for an order requiring the employee to attend the examination. The employer pays the physician it selects to do the examination and report. Under House Bill No. 1013, however, the employer might have no say in selection of the physician who would conduct the examination, but still be required to pay the cost of that examination.

This bill is also objectionable because it may make the system more adversarial and lengthy, and may increase workers' compensation costs for employers, including the State. Additionally, no appropriation was included to implement this bill.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 1013 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 1400

Honorable Members
Twenty-Second Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1400, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Hotel Construction and Remodeling Tax Credit.'

The purposes of this bill are to: (1) extend the period during which the Hotel Construction and Remodeling Tax Credit ('Credit') may be claimed; (2) implement a phased-in decrease in the amount of the Credit; and (3) expand the types of costs that may be included in the calculation of the Credit.

This bill is objectionable because it: (1) greatly expands the types of costs eligible for the Credit; (2) does not provide an overall cap on the amount of the Credit claimed; and (3) places too much of a burden on general fund revenue.

The provisions of this bill expand the definition of 'qualified hotel facility' to include commercial facilities in a 'qualified resort area.' Virtually any construction costs incurred by a hotel operator or owner would be eligible for the Credit. This broad expansion of the credit could dramatically increase claims for the Credit in unpredictable ways.

Lack of an overall cap on Credits claimed, combined with the greatly expanded eligible costs, make it exceptionally difficult to predict the fiscal impact of this bill. While such unpredictability might be tolerable under different fiscal circumstances, it could be disastrous at a time when the State is facing a projected budget deficit of more than $230 million.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 1400 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 1456

Honorable Members
Twenty-Second Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1456, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to the Deposit Beverage Container Program.'

The purpose of this bill is to amend statutes pertaining to the deposit beverage container program, part VIII of chapter 342G, Hawaii Revised Statutes (HRS), the so-called 'bottle law,' to clarify various ambiguities.

Since enactment of the bottle law, there has been uncertainty and disagreement over the meaning of various provisions, including the effective date of the provision requiring distributors to pay a per-container fee. According to a report of the Senate Committee on Ways and Means, the Legislature intended that this bill would provide an effective date of January 1, 2005. The bill itself, however, does not do this, at least not clearly. In fact, in one section there is language calling for a retroactive effective date: 'Beginning October 1, 2002, payment of the deposit beverage container fee and deposits as described in section 342G-110 shall be made monthly based on sale reports of the deposit beverage distributors.'

Another provision of this bill makes it possible for dealers under certain conditions to charge customers for deposits on containers prior to January 1, 2005, but the bill leaves customers with no way to get back their deposits until after that date. Therefore, this bill would require such customers to bear the cost of the deposit and store the deposit beverage container until it could be redeemed on or after January 1, 2005.

This bill is objectionable because at best it fails to clarify existing confusion over the effective date for the payment of deposits. Such uncertainty invites wasteful litigation. At worst, the bill establishes a retroactive effective date of October 1, 2002, which would be unfair.

I called for repeal of the bottle law this past session, and I intend to do so again next session. I am convinced that the bottle law, once implemented, would be costly and bureaucratic, providing minimal benefit for our environment while hindering the adoption of more effective and efficient alternatives. The bottle law makes little sense under the best of fiscal circumstances. Faced with a projected budget deficit of more than $230 million, and knowing that there are more effective ways to deal with the litter and landfill problems, it makes no sense to spend millions of dollars creating a new Bottle Division within the Department of Health, and mandating costly and cumbersome regulations.

Beverage containers account for only 7.3 percent of litter in Hawaii, and less than 2 percent of all solid waste. The bottle law ignores all but a tiny percentage of the problem. It would make far more sense to provide funding and other forms of support to community-based litter programs and county efforts to develop curbside and drop-off recycling.

Hawaii's Community Workday Program was thriving and highly successful before being largely dismantled in the mid-1990s. That community-based litter control program involved the public and private sectors plus thousands of volunteers in a campaign of education, anti-litter publicity, volunteer cleanup programs including adopt-a-highway and a litter hotline. At that time, Hawaii's litter rate was substantially lower than the average in states with bottle laws.

Clearly, bottle laws are not the wave of the future, they are a relic of the past. Actual experience in the 10 states that have bottle laws is telling: overall litter has not been substantially reduced, bottle laws contribute little to overall recycling levels, container return rates are at record low levels, and costs to operate and administer the programs are high. It has been more than 17 years since another state has enacted a bottle law.

One reason for the lack of new bottle laws is the development of infrastructure to provide recycling services to homes and apartments. These comprehensive recycling programs handle many other types of materials in addition to beverage containers. When California passed the last bottle law in 1986, curbside recycling was still a new idea. Today there are nearly 10,000 curbside programs in the US.

Bottle laws compete with these comprehensive programs — both provide the infrastructure to handle the same containers, but bottle laws pull the most valuable commodities out of the curbside programs, making them less efficient. This conflict spurred the repeal of Columbia, Missouri's deposit ordinance in April 2002 and underlies bottle bill repeal legislation that has been filed and/or heard in Iowa, Connecticut, New York, and Massachusetts.

We in Hawaii have a special pride in our environment, as well as an unusually strong economic incentive to protect it. The bottle law hastily enacted in Hawaii in anticipation of the last elections is a poorly thought-out, unnecessarily expensive, big-government program that would achieve relatively little. A non-bureaucratic, consumer-friendly recycling and litter-control plan would protect the environment better.

Last session, I proposed that substantial funding be appropriated to restart the Community Workday Program and to assist the counties in developing recycling programs. Both of these proposals were rejected by the Legislature. Next session, I will propose that the bottle law be repealed, and that we make major investments in litter control and recycling efforts. Without doubt, such initiatives would accomplish more for less.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 1456 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 1579

Twenty-Second Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1579, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to the Economic Diversification Authority.'

The purpose of this bill is to explicitly and specifically enumerate the duties of the Department of Business, Economic Development, and Tourism (DBEDT) to identify and implement ways to diversify Hawaii's economy. The bill requires DBEDT to develop and implement plans, programs, and initiatives to facilitate economic diversification.

This bill is objectionable because it is unnecessary. The enumerated duties already fall within the general objectives, functions, and duties of DBEDT. Section 201-2, Hawaii Revised Statutes, states that DBEDT's function is to 'make broad policy determinations with respect to economic development in the State and to stimulate through research and demonstration projects those industrial and economic development efforts which offer the most immediate promise of expanding the economy of the State.'

DBEDT has already accomplished what this bill intends to achieve, and continues to update its plans on an ongoing basis. Legislative micromanagement of the methods that DBEDT employs to achieve its objectives is inappropriate and reduces the DBEDT's flexibility to use its resources in the most efficient and productive way possible. Such flexibility is especially important in these lean fiscal times.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 1579 without my approval.

Twenty-Second Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1613, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to North Kohala.'

The purpose of this bill is to encourage the Department of Land and Natural Resources (DLNR) to renew its efforts to acquire, through land exchanges, lands necessary to provide additional protection of, and public access to, the Kohala Historical Sites State Monument, and to name a specific entity as caretaker for the Mo'okini Heiau.

This bill is unnecessary because the DLNR is already required by Act 166, Session Laws of Hawaii 1992, to acquire such lands. In fact, the DLNR is currently engaged in a number of actions relative to this matter. These have included discussions regarding land exchanges for buffer zones and easements for public access. The DLNR also will be seeking a commitment from the adjoining landowner to refrain from selling potential buffer parcels of land to others while these discussions continue. Finally, the DLNR is planning a community meeting to seek input regarding the care of Mo'okini Heiau.

This bill inappropriately designates a specific entity to serve as caretaker of the Mo'okini Heiau. To ensure fairness and accountability, management decisions such as this one should be made by the DLNR, consistent with established practice and in accordance with all applicable law and administrative rules. In any event, the DLNR will continue to consult with the Kahuna Nui of the Mo'okini Heiau, as required by the deed to the property.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 1613 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 1652

Honorable Members
Twenty-Second Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1652, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Making an Appropriation to the Medicaid Prescription Drug Rebate Special Fund.'

The purpose of this bill is to appropriate $500,000 to the Department of Human Services' Medicaid prescription drug rebate special fund for the development of a prescription drug benefits expansion program and for obtaining a waiver for the program from the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services.

This bill is objectionable because it is flawed legally. While the bill contains an appropriation making it possible to put money into the Medicaid prescription drug rebate special fund, the bill lacks an appropriation of money for expending out of this fund. Without additional legislation, the $500,000 could not be used for anything, including the intended purpose.

In this time of pressing needs and budgetary constraints, it would make no sense to sign this bill under the circumstances. I believe that this money should remain in the general fund where it will be available for general fund appropriations made for other purposes.

This veto should not be seen as a criticism of the ultimate goal of this bill, which is to help make the cost of pharmaceuticals affordable to the people of this State. I am determined to do all that I can to accomplish this goal within the context of the State's fiscal situation.

The two-year budget recently passed by the Legislature is not balanced. The Legislature failed to include funding for the Hawaii Health Systems Corporation for the second year of the biennium. Such action would make sense only if one assumed that all state hospitals would be shut down one year from now. Because this assumption is not realistic, the budget passed by the Legislature is not fiscally sound.

The challenge presented by this budget increased after the Legislature adjourned when the Council on Revenues on May 16 reduced the revenue projection for the current year and the upcoming biennium by $186.7 million. The combined impact of lower revenue projections and unrealistic assumptions by the Legislature has resulted in a budget deficit of more than $230 million.

The State must now make the hard choices to restrict spending and resist tax increases in order to create a healthy business climate that will lead to more and better-paying jobs and a quality standard of living for Hawaii's families. In short, we must begin to put our financial house back in order by doing all that we can to match recurring expenses with recurring revenues.

Decisions like the one to veto this bill are not easy, but they are necessary. Without fiscal discipline and prudent management of the budget now, it will be impossible to restore trust and integrity in government and expand and diversify the economy in the years ahead. This kind of tough decision is needed in order to achieve a true New Beginning for the people of Hawaii.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 58

Honorable Members
 Twenty-Second Legislature
 State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 58, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to School Repair and Maintenance.'

The purpose of this bill is to appropriate moneys for fiscal year 2003-2004 to support Hawaii 3R's, a Hawaii nonprofit organization, in its program to assist in the public and private efforts to repair and maintain Hawaii's public schools.

I strongly support the efforts and accomplishments of Hawaii 3R's and intend to approve the general fund appropriation in this bill of $148,688 for fiscal year 2003-2004 as a grant for Hawaii 3R's. Given the State's critical fiscal condition, this amount represents a significant commitment by the State to Hawaii 3R's and reflects our belief in the effectiveness of our partnership to improve Hawaii's public schools.

However, I object to the $51,312 general fund appropriation for fiscal year 2003-2004 to pay for a position in the Department of Accounting and General Services to coordinate the public and private efforts to repair and maintain public schools, designated in section 4 on pages 11-12 of the bill. I believe that we can assist Hawaii 3R's in a fiscally prudent manner by using existing resources to provide the needed coordination services.

Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution provides that, '[e]xcept for items appropriated to be expended by the judicial and legislative branches, the governor may veto any specific item or items in any bill which appropriates money for specific purposes by striking out or reducing the same.' Because of the foregoing objection, pursuant to my line item veto authority, I have reduced the $51,312 general fund appropriation for fiscal year 2003-2004 to pay for a position in the Department of Accounting and General Services to coordinate the public and private efforts to repair and maintain public schools (on pages 11-12) and changed it to $0.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 1305

Honorable Members
 Twenty-Second Legislature
 State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 1305, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to State Funds.'

The purpose of this bill is to appropriate moneys out of the Emergency and Budget Reserve Fund, established under section 328L-3, Hawaii Revised Statutes (HRS), to maintain levels of programs that the Legislature has determined to be essential to the public health, safety, and welfare. The bill also appropriates general revenues to develop a plan to implement the Hawaii Rx program.

While I believe many of the programs funded by this bill are worthwhile, the State's current fiscal condition cannot be ignored. The two-year budget recently passed by the Legislature is not balanced. The Legislature failed to include funding for the Hawaii Health System Corporation for the second year of the biennium. Such action would make sense only if one assumed that all state hospitals would be shut down one year from now. Because this assumption is not realistic, the budget passed by the Legislature is not fiscally sound.

The challenge presented by this budget increased after the Legislature adjourned when the Council on Revenues on May 16 reduced the revenue projection for the current year and the upcoming biennium by $186.7 million. The combined impact of lower revenue projections and unrealistic assumptions by the Legislature has resulted in a budget deficit of more than $230 million.

The State must now make the hard choices to restrict spending and resist tax increases in order to create a healthy business climate that will lead to more and better-paying jobs and a quality standard of living for Hawaii's families. In short, we must begin to put our financial house back in order by doing all that we can to match recurring expenses with recurring revenues.

Use of the Emergency Budget and Reserve Fund bypasses the normal budget process and avoids the fiscal discipline of matching recurring expenses with recurring revenues. While the State is facing an unexpected reduction in revenues, prudent management of the State's budget requires that funds in the Emergency Budget and Reserve Fund be saved as much as possible for future needs. As such, there should be only sparing and judicious use of the Emergency Budget and Reserve Fund.

Under section 328L-3, HRS, the Emergency Budget and Reserve Fund shall be used as a 'temporary' source of funding, and the Legislature may make appropriations from the Fund to 'maintain levels of programs' determined to be 'essential to public health, safety, welfare, and education.'

For the reasons stated above, I object to the following appropriations in this bill:

1. $150,000 appropriated pursuant to chapter 103F, HRS, for forensic medical examinations of children in foster custody placements in section 4, pages 2-3 of the bill.
 2. $100,000 appropriated as a grant to the Hawaii Youth Services Network in section 5, page 3 of the bill.
 3. $300,000 appropriated as a grant for the bridge to hope program in section 9, pages 4-5 of the bill.
 4. $200,000 appropriated as a grant to Volunteer Legal Services Hawaii in section 10, page 5 of the bill.
 5. $100,000 appropriated as a grant to fund the continuation of the Kaneohe Community Family Center's core services in section 11, pages 5-6 of the bill.
 6. $100,000 appropriated as a grant to fund the continuation of the Kuhio Park Terrace Family Center's core services in section 12, pages 6-7 of the bill.
 7. $300,000 appropriated as a grant for the operation of the Waipahu Community Adult Day Health Center and Youth Day Care Center pilot project in section 13, page 7 of the bill.
 8. $500,000 appropriated as a grant for existing Kalihi area youth service centers and other youth service centers in the State in section 17, page 9 of the bill. It should be noted that this appropriation violates section 42F-101, HRS, because the appropriation is not to a specified recipient.
 9. $750,000 appropriated as a subsidy to Molokai General Hospital in section 18, page 9 of the bill.
 10. $50,000 appropriated as a grant to Molokai General Hospital in section 19, page 9 of the bill.
 11. $750,000 appropriated as a subsidy to Waianae Coast Comprehensive Health and Hospital Board, Inc. in section 21, page 10 of the bill.
 12. $500,000 appropriated as a subsidy to Wahiawa General Hospital in section 22, page 10 of the bill.
 13. $50,000 appropriated as a subsidy to St. Francis Medical Center in section 23, pages 10-11 of the bill.
 14. $75,000 appropriated as a grant to the Maui AIDS Foundation in section 25, page 11 of the bill.
 15. $1,450,000 appropriated to the Department of Health to provide resources to nonprofit, community-based health-care providers to care for the uninsured in section 27, page 11-12 of the bill.
 16. $300,000 appropriated as a subsidy for the Kapiolani Medical Center for Women and Children Sex Abuse Treatment Center master contract in section 28, page 12 of the bill.
 17. $450,000 appropriated pursuant to chapter 103F, HRS, for the Department of Health to contract for comprehensive oral health services to underserved children in section 31, page 13 of the bill.
- Because of the foregoing objections, I have taken the following actions:
1. Stricken the appropriation of $150,000 for fiscal year 2003-2004 in section 4 of the bill (page 2, line 17) and changed it to zero.
 2. Stricken the appropriation of $100,000 for fiscal year 2003-2004 in section 5 of the bill (page 3, line 4) and changed it to zero.
 3. Reduced the appropriation of $300,000 for fiscal year 2003-2004 in section 9 of the bill (page 4, line 18) and changed it to $150,000.
 4. Stricken the appropriation of $200,000 for fiscal year 2003-2004 in section 10 of the bill (page 5, line 10) and changed it to zero.
 5. Reduced the appropriation of $100,000 for fiscal year 2003-2004 in section 11 of the bill (page 5, line 20) and changed it to $50,000.

Decisions like the one to veto many of the appropriations made under this bill are not easy, but they are necessary. Without fiscal discipline and prudent management of the budget, it would be impossible to restore trust and integrity in government and expand and diversify the economy. These are things that we must do to achieve a true New Beginning for the people of Hawaii. Too much is at stake for us to lose our focus or our resolve.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 1305 with the appropriations stricken or reduced as described above totaling $2,850,000.

Respectfully,

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 1230

Honorable Members
Twenty-Second Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1230, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Transportation.'

The purposes of this bill are to appropriate moneys to fund heightened security measures throughout the State's airports and harbor systems, create a special fund for passenger facility charges, and make other appropriations.

While the first parts of this bill have merit, I object to the appropriations contained in sections 5 to 10, inclusive, because the appropriations for operating and capital improvement projects funds for the Department of Transportation for fiscal year 2003-2004 are already contained in the general appropriations bill (House Bill No. 200).

Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution provides that, '[e]xcept for items appropriated to be expended by the judicial and legislative branches, the governor may veto any specific item or items in any bill which appropriates money for specific purposes by striking out or reducing the same.'

Because of the foregoing objections, I have taken the following actions pursuant to my line item veto authority:

1. Section 5, pages 3-4. Striking out by drawing a line through the $350,000 and the $8,191,000 special fund appropriations out of the harbor special fund for fiscal year 2003-2004 for capital improvement projects, and changing them to $0.

2. Section 6, pages 4-6. (a) Striking out by drawing a line through the $12,250,000 appropriation, and its total funding source breakdown amounts of $2,450,000 and $9,800,000, out of the highway revenue bond fund and federal funds for fiscal year 2003-2004 for capital improvement projects, and changing them to $0; (b) striking out by drawing a line through the $6,500,000 appropriation, and its total funding source breakdown amounts of $1,300,000 and $5,200,000, out of the highway revenue bond fund and federal funds for fiscal year 2003-2004 for capital improvement projects, and changing them to $0; (c) striking out by drawing a line through the $2,500,000 appropriation, and its total funding source breakdown amounts of $500,000 and $2,000,000, out of the highway revenue bond fund and federal funds for fiscal year 2003-2004 for capital improvement projects, and changing them to $0; (d) striking out by drawing a line through the $15,000,000 appropriation, and its total funding source breakdown amounts of $3,000,000 and $12,000,000, out of the highway revenue bond fund and federal funds for fiscal year 2003-2004 for capital improvement projects, and changing them to $0; (e) striking out by drawing a line through the $350,000, $2,000,000, and $10,250,000 appropriations, and their total funding source breakdown amounts of $2,520,000 and $10,080,000, out of the highway revenue bond fund and federal funds for fiscal year 2003-2004 for capital improvement projects, and changing them to $0.

3. Section 7, page 7. Striking out by drawing a line through the $2,700,000 special fund appropriation out of the highway other funds for fiscal year 2003-2004 for capital improvement projects, and changing it to $0.

4. Section 8, pages 7-8. Striking out by drawing a line through all of the $20,885,201 of the special fund appropriations out of the airports special fund for fiscal year 2003-2004 for additional positions, security services, equipment, rental, and supplies at state airports, and changing them to $0.

5. Section 9, pages 8-9. Striking out by drawing a line through the $5,981,676 of the special fund appropriations out of the harbors special fund for fiscal year 2003-2004 for security services and fringe benefits throughout the various state harbor locations, and changing it to $0.

6. Section 10, page 9. Striking out by drawing a line through the $4,067,783 of the reduce debt service payments for highways division for fiscal year 2003-2004, and changing it to $0.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 1230 with the appropriations in sections 5 to 10 stricken as set forth above totaling $91,025,660 in special fund appropriations for fiscal year 2003-2004.

Respectfully,

To the extent practicable, the Committee on Ways and Means shall make available to members of the Senate the contents of the General Appropriations Bill or the Supplemental Appropriations Bill during the 48-hour period prior to the passage of such bills on third and final reading.

Concerning all other bills requiring appropriations, it shall be the duty of the Committee on Ways and Means to inform the Standing Committee responsible for the program area to which the appropriation relates of the amount and type of financial resources available, and it shall review the expenditure recommendation of the Standing Committee to determine that the recommendation is consistent with the resources available.

In determining the amount and type of resources available for a bill requiring an appropriation and in reviewing the expenditure recommendation of the Standing Committee, the Committee on Ways and Means shall invite the recommendation of the chair of the Standing Committee responsible for the program area to which the appropriation relates.

A leadership Committee on Legislative Management, upon consultation and agreement with the Majority and Minority Leaders, may be appointed by the President to perform the duties and responsibilities of the Committee as may be provided by law, or to make recommendations to the President on issues of Senate policy. Because Leadership Committees have jurisdiction over issues of organizational and institutional interest to the Senate, their membership shall include members drawn from the ranks of the Senate Leadership, thus assuring high-level consideration of these issues.

Rule 21. Meetings of Committees

Meetings, including decision-making sessions, of leadership committees appointed by the President, and Standing Committees shall be public provided that meetings in executive session may be allowed in such exceptional circumstances when committee discussion could unfairly damage the reputation of individuals or where there is a legal question concerning a bill.

Notice of meetings and decision-making sessions shall include the number and title of the bills or resolutions, and brief descriptions and committee referrals of each of the subject matters to be covered, and shall be publicly posted by first referral committees at least 72 hours before their meetings and by subsequent referral committees at least 48 hours before their meetings, no later than 4:00 pm on the last work day of the week, provided that these notice requirements may be waived with the approval of the President upon good cause shown. The 72 hour notice requirement is waived for the initial decision-making meeting for short form bills.

No committee shall sit during the time when the Senate is actually in session without first securing the approval of the President, except Conference Committees that may sit at any time.

As practicable, committees shall schedule their meetings at times and at places as are convenient for attendance by the general public, and in coordination with other committees of the House or Senate, shall endeavor to hold joint meetings and public hearings on matters of mutual interest.

The meetings of a Conference Committee shall be conducted as agreed upon by the members of the Conference Committee. Conference Committee meetings and decision-making sessions shall be public. Public notice of Conference Committee meetings shall be given to the extent practicable.

Rule 22. Decision-Making by Committee

A quorum shall be a majority of the membership of the committee.

(2) A favorable vote of a majority of the members present at a decision-making meeting duly constituted with a quorum is required to report a matter out of committee. A member voting "with reservations" shall be counted as a favorable vote.

(3) The presence of a quorum and the final vote of each member who is present at the decision-making meeting of a standing committee shall be recorded by the chair or by a member of the committee designated by the chair. This record shall be attached to and shall be a part of the report of the standing committee.

Rule 23. Public Hearings on Bills

(1) Subject to this rule, the selection and scheduling of a bill for public hearing shall be at the discretion of the chair of the committee having jurisdiction over the bill.

(2) The chair's determination that a bill will have a public hearing shall be final notwithstanding the opposition of a majority of the members of the committee.

(3) At the written request of a majority of the members of the committee, the chair shall schedule a bill for public hearing.

Rule 24. Committee Reports

(1) The leadership committees as may be appointed by the President and Standing Committees shall report from time to time upon all matters referred to them.

(2) Special Committees shall report upon matters referred to them within the time permitted in the appointment of the Special Committee unless further time is given by vote of the Senate.

(3) A Conference Committee shall not report upon the matter referred unless a majority of the members of each house appointed by their respective presiding officer have concurred in the report.

Rule 25. Committees: Factfinding and Content of Reports

(1) Whenever any matter shall be referred to a committee it shall be the duty of the committee to make diligent inquiry into all of the facts and circumstances connected with the matter. If necessary, witnesses shall be summoned or subpoenaed, and everything shall be done to bring all facts pertaining to the matter before the Senate in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 21 of the Hawaii Revised Statutes. The President may exercise such powers authorized under Chapter 21, relating to the issuance of subpoenas, and the President, committee chair and other duly delegated members of the Senate may exercise such powers authorized under Chapter 21 aforesaid, relating to the administering of oaths, and the compelling of witnesses who have been subpoenaed to testify. All committee meetings held on matters referred to it by the Senate shall be open to the public unless otherwise ordered by the Senate or otherwise provided by these Rules.

(2) The report of the committee shall state findings of fact and conclusions based thereon, together with a distinct recommendation as to the disposal of that matter.

(3) A report upon a bill shall state clearly the amendments, if any, proposed. If a substitute bill for one or more referred to the committee shall be reported, such substitute bill shall agree with the subject of the bill or bills referred to the committee.

(4) The committee shall report whenever a majority of the members present at the decision-making meeting duly constituted with a quorum is in favor of reporting the bill or resolution out of the committee. The report, after being made available, for review by the members of the committee, and after subsequent revisions thereto, if any, shall be the final report of the committee. The final report of the committee shall be attested to by the signature of the chair on behalf of the members of the committee. The action of the committee on the bill or resolution or any amendments thereto, if any, and the final vote of each member of the committee recorded by the chair or the chair's designee at a decision-making meeting shall not be changed in the review of the report, unless the change is made at an open decision-making meeting conducted with a quorum of the committee present. The minority of the members present at any decision-making meeting duly constituted with a quorum may report.

Rule 26. Committee of the Whole

(1) The Senate from time to time may resolve itself into a Committee of the Whole. Whenever any matter shall be referred to such committee upon the adoption of a motion to that effect, the President shall call some member to take the Chair (unless the Senate shall nominate a chair), which being done, the Senate then shall be in committee.

(2) The Clerk of the Senate shall act as Clerk of the Committee of the Whole without extra compensation, and shall make a careful record of the proceedings, which shall be filed as one of the records of the Senate.

(3) The committee, on motion, may rise and ask leave to sit at any future time.

(4) When a bill shall be referred to the Committee of the Whole, the bill shall be first read throughout by the Clerk, and then again read and debated by sections, leaving the preamble to be the last. All amendments, noting the page and line, shall be duly entered by the Clerk on a separate paper, as the same shall be agreed to by the committee, and so reported. When a bill is ordered into Committee of the Whole, such order may dispense with the reading of the whole bill before considering it section by section.

(5) In Committee of the Whole, the rules of procedure in the Senate shall be observed except that any member may speak more than once on the same subject, but no person shall speak a second or further time until others desiring to speak shall have had an opportunity, nor shall the motion for the previous question be allowed. A time limit for debate may be fixed by vote.

The Senate may decide whether the matter communicated shall be kept secret.

All questions relating to the priority of business to be acted upon shall be decided without debate.

PART V. BILLS; RESOLUTIONSRule 45. Bills: Introduction

Any bill may be introduced on the report of the committee or by any member, except appropriation bills subject to the next paragraph and except short form bills which may only be introduced by the majority leaders or the minority leader after appropriate consultation with committee chairs and other members of the Senate.

The Executive Budget, Judiciary Budget, Legislative Budget, General Appropriations Bill, Supplemental Appropriations Bill, Office of Hawaiian Affairs Budget, and bills for criminal injuries compensation, for claims against the State and for funding of collective bargaining agreements may be introduced only by the President. Each member may introduce only one bill appropriating money for capital improvements projects in the member's district. The majority leaders and the minority leader shall develop a policy governing introduction by individual members of bills intended to appropriate money or to authorize the issuance of state bonds.

All bills shall be introduced under the order of resolutions.

Bills which shall carry over from a regular session in an odd-numbered year to the next regular session shall retain the numbers assigned to them. The Clerk shall keep a record of the status of all bills in possession of the Senate at the end of the odd-numbered year session and shall publish the record of the status of all such bills prior to the convening of the next regular session.

Every bill introduced or reported out of any committee, which amends an existing section or subsection of the Hawaii Revised Statutes or Session Laws of Hawaii, shall set forth the section or subsection in full, and the matter to be deleted shall be enclosed in brackets and stricken and any new matter added to the section or subsection shall be underscored. However, a Supplemental Appropriations Bill need not conform to this rule, nor an amending bill where the intent and effect of the amending bill can be clearly identified and understood without repeating the entire section or subsection, in which case only the paragraphs, subparagraphs, clauses or items to be amended need be set forth as the President may allow. The President may allow additional exceptions to this rule.

Co-sponsors may be added to bills up until the bill introduction deadline and with the consent of the primary sponsor.

Rule 46. Bills: Referral to Committee

The President shall decide the request for reconsideration within a reasonable time, which decision shall be final. No request for reconsideration shall be considered if the timing of the request would have the effect of killing a bill or resolution.

(5) Each Leadership and Standing Committee shall consider the bills and other matters referred to it as expeditiously as may be possible.

Rule 47. Bills: Required Readings

No bill shall pass the Senate unless it shall have passed three readings in the Senate on separate days. The President shall give notice in each instance whether it be the first, second or third reading.

Rule 48. Bills: First Reading

(1) The first reading of a bill shall be for information. If opposition be made to it, the question shall be: "Shall this bill be rejected?" which question may be debated. But no one shall speak more than once upon such question, except the introducer of the bill, who may close the debate.

(2) If the question to reject be negative, the bill shall go to its second reading without question.

Rule 49. Bills: Second Reading

A bill upon its second reading may be read by its title only. It then shall be subject to a motion to commit. If it is not referred to a Leadership Committee, Standing Committee, or Special Committee, but is ordered to be considered in Committee of the Whole, a day for such consideration shall be determined by the chair of such committee. When the bill is reported from committee it shall take its place in the order of business for future consideration.

(2) A bill on its third or final reading may be read by its title only, and the President then shall ask the Senate: "Shall this bill pass its third reading?" or "Shall this bill pass its final reading?" as the case may be. Upon the final passage of any bill, the Ayes and Noes shall be called. Such passage shall require the affirmative vote of a majority of all the members of the Senate and the Ayes and Noes shall be entered on the Journal.

(3) All bills, except on first reading, shall be printed by title on the Order of the Day before consideration by the members unless waived by the President.

Rule 51. Bills: Property of Senate

All bills introduced in the Senate shall be deemed the property of the Senate and under its control unless they shall become law, subject however to the right of the House of Representatives to amend or to refuse to agree with the bills.

Any bill pending at the final adjournment of a regular session in an odd-numbered year shall carry over with the same status to the next regular session; provided that if such bill shall have passed third reading in the Senate in an odd-numbered session, it shall pass at least one reading in the Senate in the next regular session upon its return to the Senate from the House.

Rule 52. Bills: Recall from Committee

Twenty days after a bill has been referred to a committee, the same may be recalled from such committee by the affirmative vote of one-third of the members of the Senate.

Rule 53. Matters Tabled

When a bill or resolution or other matter has been laid upon the table, it shall not thereafter be taken from the table and be considered or restored to a place upon the calendar of the Senate without the consent of a majority.

Rule 54. Bills: Amendments

(1) All amendments proposed to any bill shall be in writing, unless otherwise ordered by the Senate, and shall be sent to the Clerk's desk to be filed with the bill.

(2) No floor amendment to a bill shall be voted upon unless a copy of the amendment, together with a copy of the complete bill in a form that incorporates the floor amendment, shall have been presented to the Clerk no later than 2 hours prior to the scheduled convening time of the session on the day of the session at which the amendment is to be offered. The Clerk shall prepare and distribute copies of the floor amendment to each member of the Senate present.

(3) A floor amendment shall be deemed pending only after its proponent has been recognized by the President and its adoption has been properly moved and seconded.

(4) A floor amendment that relates to a different subject, is intended to accomplish a different purpose, incorporates any other bill pending before the Senate, or would alter the nature of the bill as reported, is not germane and shall not be considered by the Senate.

(5) An amendment to a floor amendment that is not germane to both the floor amendment and the bill as reported shall not be considered by the Senate.

Rule 55. Bills: Certification

When a bill is passed it shall be certified by the Clerk who shall note the day of its passage in the journal along with a record of the ayes and noes.

Rule 56. Bills: Received from House of Representatives

Whenever a House bill which has passed Third Reading in the House of Representatives shall be certified to the Senate for its action, such bill shall be read three times before final passage, in accordance with the provision of the rules for the passage of bills introduced in the Senate.

Rule 57. Bills: Transmittal to House of Representatives

When a bill originating in the Senate shall have passed its third reading, or when a bill originating in the House which has been received from the House shall have been amended, or when a carry-over bill from an odd-numbered year originating in the House passes its third reading in the Senate in an even-numbered year session, such bill or such amended bill shall immediately be certified by the President and Clerk and sent to the House of Representatives for its consideration.

Rule 58. Bills: Correction of Errors

When a bill has passed both the Senate and the House of Representatives and an error in it is discovered prior to its having received the approval of the Governor, the bill may be returned by Concurrent Resolution to the house last considering the bill for proper correction.

Rule 59. Bills: Order of Consideration

(1) The Clerk shall send bills that have passed first reading to be printed immediately. When they have been printed and circulated to the members of the Senate, the Majority Leadership shall refer them to the various committees. When the committees have considered them and reported on them, the committees shall return them to the Clerk, and the Clerk shall place them in the Second Reading File. The Senate shall consider them in the order in which they appear in the Second Reading File.

(2) The Clerk shall arrange bills that have passed second reading in the order of their passage on second reading, regardless of the date of their reference to committee or the date of the committee report on them. The Clerk shall place them on the Third Reading File in the order in which they passed second reading and the Senate shall consider them on third reading in that same order. However, if the third reading of a bill is set for some particular date, that bill shall be removed from the Third Reading File.

Rule 60. Bills: Special Order of Consideration

All bills and other matters set for consideration on particular dates, shall be arranged in the order of the several votes making such assignments. A list shall be made of such special orders, and when the time for consideration arrives, such bills and other matters shall be considered in the order of assignment. If an adjournment shall be had before all of such special orders are disposed of, the remainder shall go over and come under the head of unfinished business on the following day, unless otherwise ordered.

PART VI. RESOLUTIONS; MOTIONSRule 61. Resolutions and Motions: Form

All resolutions shall be typewritten, dated and signed by the introducer, otherwise they shall not be considered. The Senate shall not introduce any congratulatory, commemorative or memorial resolution but shall express the sentiment contained in such resolutions by means of a suitable certificate. Motions and amendments may be verbal but shall be reduced to writing if requested by the President, and shall be read from the desk if so ordered.

Rule 62. Motions: Second Required

No motion shall be received and considered by the Senate until the motion is seconded.

Rule 63. Motions: Disposition

After a motion is stated or read by the President, it shall be deemed to be in the possession of the Senate, and shall be disposed of by vote of the Senate; however, it may be withdrawn by the mover at any time before an amendment has been adopted or before the decision on the motion if not amended.

Rule 64. Motions Applicable to Pending Matters

Whenever any bill or resolution or other matter shall be under discussion, the only motions relative thereto shall be:

- (1) To lay upon the table,
- (2) To postpone to a certain time,
- (3) To postpone indefinitely,
- (4) To commit, and

(5) To amend, which motions shall have precedence in the order named.

The first two motions shall be decided without debate and shall be put as soon as made.

When any of the motions shall be decided in the negative, they shall not be revived the same day relative to the main question under discussion. If all are negative as aforesaid, the only remaining question shall be as to the adoption of the bill, resolution or other main question.

Rule 65. Matters Postponed Indefinitely

When a question is postponed indefinitely, the question shall not be acted upon again during the session in which it was introduced.

Rule 66. Motion for Previous Question

The object of the motion for the previous question is to cut off debate. It shall always be in order. It shall require a three-fifths vote to carry it.

Whenever the motion shall be carried, the author of the resolution or introducer of the bill under discussion shall be permitted to close the debate, after which the main question, subject to Rule 64, shall be put. The author or introducer may delegate to another such right to close.

Rule 67. Motion for Reconsideration

(1) When a motion has been once made and carried in the affirmative or negative, it shall not be in order for any member who voted in the minority to move for a reconsideration thereof; but any member who voted with the majority may move to reconsider it on the same or the succeeding day of session, or, with the consent of the Senate, on any subsequent day and such motion shall take precedence of all other questions, except a motion to adjourn.

(2) When a motion for reconsideration has been decided by vote, that vote shall not be reconsidered.

(3) When a bill or resolution or other matter upon which a vote has been taken shall have gone out of the possession of the Senate, and shall have been transmitted to the House of Representatives, a motion to reconsider shall be deemed to include a request to the House to return the same. If not complied with by the House, then the vote on the motion to reconsider shall be set aside. If such motion shall pass, the Clerk shall promptly communicate to the House the request for return of the matter to be reconsidered.

PART VII. PETITIONS AND COMMUNICATIONS

Rule 68. Petitions, Memorials, and Miscellaneous Communications

(1) Any person may petition the Senate. Petitions and other memorials, except as provided in Rule 61, shall be in writing, signed by the petitioners.

(3) A brief statement of the contents of such petitions, memorials or other papers shall be made orally by the Clerk.

(4) Every such petition, memorial or other paper shall be ordered filed or referred to a committee, as of course, by the President, unless such action is objected to by a member at the time such petition, memorial or other paper is presented.

(5) No such petition, memorial or other paper shall be debated on the day it is presented, except with the consent of the Senate.

PART VIII. ORDER; DEBATE; VOTING

Rule 69. Questions of Order

(1) A question of order may be raised at any stage of the proceedings, except during the calling of the roll when the Ayes and Noes are called for. Unless submitted to the Senate, such questions shall be decided without debate by the presiding officer, subject to an appeal to the Senate. Laying such appeal on the table shall be held as sustaining the ruling of the presiding officer.

(2) Any question of order may be submitted to the Senate for its decision.

Rule 70. Debate: General Limitation

No member shall speak more than twice, unless such member be the mover of the matter pending, in which case such member shall not be permitted to speak in reply until every member choosing to speak shall have spoken.

Rule 71. Voting: Methods

There shall be five methods of ascertaining the decision of the Senate upon any matter.

(1) First, by voice or raising of hands; Second, by rising; Third, by ballot; Fourth, by call of the roll of the members and a record of the Clerk of the vote of each; and Fifth, by unanimous consent.

(2) Whenever the Senate is ready to vote on any question, the President shall rise, and after stating the question, shall request all those in favor of the affirmative of the question to vote "Aye." The President then shall call upon all voting in the negative of the question to vote "No." The President then shall announce the result to the Senate.

(3) If any member shall doubt the result, as announced, the President again shall state the question and call upon the members to vote by rising in their places, and they shall remain standing until counted, and the result again shall be announced.
