Senator Baker, Chair of the Committee on Health, requested a waiver of the notice requirement pursuant to Senate Rule 21 for H.B. No. 2814.

Senator Baker noted:

“Mr. President, this bill requires the Department of Health to track Kalaupapa Settlement patient and non-patient costs separately whenever possible, and to submit an annual report to the Legislature to report initiatives and improvements. Your Committee previously held a public hearing on the Senate companion, S.B. No. 3114.”

The Chair then granted the waiver.

Senator Hemmings rose to speak on a point of personal privilege as follows:

“Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

“I would like to say for the record that I think there have been times in the last several years that this Senate has done itself great justice and credit by dropping the partisanship that normally involves itself in debate and doing things based on our conscience and our good judgement.

“Certainly one of the best debates I’ve ever heard in my lifetime in the Senate was several years ago when we all spoke from our hearts on the physician assisted suicide debate. It had no partisanship in it. It was good people standing up and speaking their conscience. Even though we availed politics in last week’s debate regarding Ted Hong, I think this Senate did itself justice by openly and honestly debating the issue without the partisanship and the problems that go along with it.

“Last year, under Majority Party Leadership, this Senate joined with your Minority in amending Act 221. It was clear to the Leadership of this Senate that Act 221 had, in the interpretation of certain clauses of it, the opportunity for massive abuse. Unfortunately, when the bill went to Conference from the Senate, the House Majority Party chose to oppose the changes. At that time, I pointed out that there may have been ulterior motives, such as the e-mail I held up for everybody to look at and go on record with, that one of the beneficiaries was asking everybody at one of the house-packed fundraisers that they needed a hundred dollars so that they should go to show their support for saying no changes to Act 221. It’s right here in the e-mail.

“Subsequently in the news, we have found out that organizations, some of which with close ties to the House

Majority and other Majority interests, such as Royal State Insurance Company headed by, among other people, former union director Gary Rodrigues who's now been convicted of fraud in his own union, was beneficiary to these tax credits. The long and short of it is, we're now finding out that what this Senate said and stood for last year was exactly correct. But what is really sad, really sad, is that last year the tax director said that the open door on these tax credits could cause up to $50 million worth of ill-conceived tax credits being given out. And that's proven to be true, and we had to take that money off our books and we had to cut funding to human service programs. We had to cut funding to many numerous programs, which we debated in Special Session, because the House of Representatives' Majority Party failed to act on amendments to Act 221.

Respectfully submitted,

Clerk of the Senate

Approved:

President of the Senate

"My message is today, let's not let this partisanship and special interest thwart this from happening again. Hopefully, this Senate can lead the way in having Act 221 amended so we can stop the hemorrhaging of taxpayer's money to ill-conceived plans to exploit Act 221.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Sakamoto rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

"Mr. President, point of personal privilege.

"I respect the concerns raised by our colleague from Lanikai. But it's unfortunate that our House colleagues cannot defend themselves, cannot address some of the concerns raised. So I would ask that he address some of those questions posed to them, or perhaps suggest amendments that would perhaps correct the issue. I think the opportunity for the House to address the issues in their Body and we in our Body would be more appropriate than trying to address House issues in this Body, Mr. President.

"Thank you."

Senator Chun Oakland, Chair of the Committee on Human Services, requested a waiver of the notice requirement pursuant to Senate Rule 21 for H.B. No. 2458.

Senator Chun Oakland noted:

"Mr. President, this bill relates to child welfare services and recognizes the local custom of caregiving outside the family home as an alternative to foster custody."

The Chair then granted the waiver.
