ORDER OF THE DAY

THIRD READING

S.B. No. 1702, S.D. 2:

Senator Menor moved that S.B. No. 1702, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Hooser.

Senator Menor rose to speak in favor of the measure and said:

"Madam President, I rise to speak in favor of this particular measure.

"Madam President, I'll keep my remarks brief given the fact that the issues raised by this bill were discussed during Floor Session this past Tuesday. This bill of course contains provisions that will increase the recycling of beverage containers by making redemption fairer and more convenient for consumers. The key provision of this measure that has garnered the most attention is of course the requirement that big box retailers, large stores, and supermarkets set up redemption centers for beverage containers on the dealers' premises unless the retailers fall under certain exemptions. But while that's meaningful change, I just wanted to also bring to the attention of the members that there are other provisions in this bill which are also important and will significantly improve our deposit beverage container program.

"This bill specifies minimum hours of operation of redemption centers that will make it even more convenient for consumers to return recyclable containers. In addition, this bill will require redemption centers to count rather than weigh up to 200 containers when consumers ask. This will address the concerns that have been expressed by many consumers who feel that they are being shortchanged when the redemption centers weigh the returned containers to calculate the amount of the deposits to be returned. All of these provisions will help to make our recycling program more consumer-friendly, increase redemptions, and benefit the community. In fact, in a recent editorial entitled, 'Grocery Stores Should Take Back Drink Containers,' the Honolulu Star-Bulletin endorsed and expressed its support for this particular measure.

"In conclusion, I believe that the passage of this bill is important because while we've made significant strides in addressing the problem of the disposal of beverage containers in Hawai'i, there's much more that we can do. I want to reiterate again a statistic that I shared with my colleagues during the Floor Session this past Tuesday, which is that every year there are at least one-quarter-of-a-billion bottles and cans that are not being recycled and which eventually enter the waste stream. Imagine 250 million bottles and cans wasted. Therefore, I respectfully ask my colleagues to support this measure so that we can live up to our responsibility as elected officials to promote a healthy and clean environment for this and future generations of Hawai'i citizens.

"Thank you."

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Madam President, I rise in opposition to S.B. No. 1702.

"Colleagues, on Tuesday I supported the amendment. I thought it was going in the right direction, and I thought, before I cast my vote today, I would talk to those organizations that represent the retail grocer, not necessarily the 'big box' store, but the retail grocer. If they supported the bill, I would have voted for it today. They do not support the bill and I will offer two things for your consideration.

"The first one is that the grocery store today is very much different than the 1950's when bottle bills first came into vogue in the United States. The difference is that there is fresh prepared food that is served at retail grocery stores. That was not a common occurrence 40 years ago. When we look at how society deals with fresh product streams and waste streams, societies try to keep these streams separate. That's why we have fresh water pipes and black water pipes. The concern is one of public safety and health.

"The second thing is that retail grocers probably only make a penny or so for every dollar worth of goods they sell. So, if you increase their costs, they have to sell literally thousands and tens of thousands of dollars of more merchandise before they make up for that cost. If they oppose this bill, what it's going to mean is that their cost go up and the price of food to the consumer will increase accordingly.

"No numbers have been supplied as to how much this food increase cost is going to be. I think we should wait until we have some good numbers as responsible elected officials so we can tell our constituents how much prices are going to go up as a result. I grant you that not all containers are being recycled, but if recycling each and every bottle to the last bottle is what we aim to do, it is going to be incredibly expensive. Let's look at the cost before we decide what is the right thing to do.

"Thank you."

Senator Slom rose to oppose the measure and said:

"Madam President, I, too, rise in opposition to this bill, S.B. No. 1702.

"I'll summarize my remarks that I made, basically, on Tuesday, but I think when we talk about the responsibility of Legislators, I don't think one of our responsibilities is to force people to do things that ordinarily they wouldn't do or that cost them money or provides unintended consequences, and that's what we're doing with this bill. We are forcing stores, and the argument has been, on Tuesday it was that we're only going after the 'big box' retailers, which somehow is seen as a good thing. But the reality is that we're not just going after the 'big box' retailers – we're going to make medium size stores suffer along with other retailers.

"As the good Senator from Waikiki said, the industry is opposed to it not because they're opposed to recycling, because actually this bill and this law has nothing to do with recycling. This is a tax. It is a money bill. The fact that no other state in the Union – no other state in the Union – has a program like this where the State benefits and has a balance in excess of $24 million right now. That's what this is about – it's about money.

"We have not seen any appreciable relief for the landfills. We heard the arguments years ago about how this was going to reduce landfills because how much damage the bottles and cans do. And as we all know, that is not true. The real and genuine percentage of contents in the landfill from these kinds of containers averages between 2 and 3 percent. At the high mark, some environmentalists would have us believe it's 7 percent, but even so, it is a small percentage and has not been alleviated.

"In addition to that, we're telling what stores have to do what. We're also telling them what hours they have to be available. We're telling them, 'Oh yeah, you can go out and you can subcontract if you want, you don't have to do it yourself – you can subcontract.' But, as the good Senator from Waikiki said, there's a cost for all of this, and ultimately, the consumers will pay for this cost.

"So, I think the amendment is not helpful. I think that the problem here really is that we don't look at cost and we don't look at these other consequences. And ultimately, as the people of this State and particularly this county have indicated, what they really want, what they desire, what they support, is county curbside recycling without the State getting a cut of the action and raising the prices further.

"Thank you."

Senator Hooser rose to support the measure and stated:

"Madam President, I rise in support of this measure. I'll keep my remarks brief.

"I'd like to commend the Chair for the amendments that were included in this which provide many provisions which will help the retailers who perhaps might struggle with some of the requirements, including one of which I should remind everyone that there is an exemption process so if any retailer feels that this is something they just cannot do, would be too expensive, or be a hardship, there is an exemption process.

"The bill, as everyone will acknowledge, is a work in progress. It still has many committees to go through, but the intent of the measure, I think, supports overwhelming public sentiment as evidenced in the recent election and in communications I had with constituents all over the State. People overwhelmingly want to recycle. They love to recycle. It makes people happy when they can recycle. But, it has to be convenient, and that is the reoccurring theme that comes over and over again. Recycling must be convenient, and there're many other states that require retailers to take back bottles and this, while providing exceptions to the rule, provide a much greater level of convenience for consumers.

"It's obvious and clear and it's a given that industry is going to be opposed to this. As was stated earlier, for industry, it will increase their cost, but I believe industry has a responsibility. After all, who's bringing all this garbage into our State? It's industry. They're the ones bringing it in on containers and selling thousands and thousands of bottles and I, for one, believe industry should take responsibility for their actions and this is a small step in the right direction. I would hope that industry, in all sectors of the retail business, would start looking at packaging, looking at their responsibility, and helping to minimize the waste and recycle whatever they can that comes into our community.

"For these reasons, and others, I'm encouraging my colleagues to vote in support. Thank you."

Senator Hemmings rose to speak against the measure and said:

"Madam President, I rise to speak against this legislation.

"Madam President, I voted several years ago to enact the bottle bill, and now I'm going to vote against this amendment because this is a double-cross of the people in the marketplace and of, most especially, the industry.

"The bottle bill was unique, as the previous speaker said, because it allowed the State to collect the revenue and also be in charge of collecting the bottles. Now we're telling the marketplace, the people that are bringing in what the previous speaker referred to as 'rubbish' or 'garbage,' actually it's beverages and food and nourishment that we ingest that's being brought in – not rubbish. But having said that, we're now putting the onus of this whole project back on the retailers without giving them the benefit of the float – the State's keeping the money.

"The reason why the container program worked in the 50's is because the small 'mom and pop' stores and the large stores, wherever they were back then, collected the money and kept it, and refunded the money when it came in – so they were allowed to keep the float. So, it worked. The system worked well because they did the work and they were the beneficiaries of it and of course the environment was the beneficiary because all the bottles were taken off, or most of the bottles were taken out of the marketplace.

"But what the State's now asking to do with this bill is asking the private sector retailers to do the work – and by the way, the cost will be passed onto the consumer for additional cost of product – and the State is keeping the float, and it's just not fair. And I would urge my colleagues to consider this bill further when it goes through the process to find a way to return to the system that does work and allow the retailers who are doing the work to keep the margin and the float on the deposit.

"Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Menor rose and said:

"Madam President, just a very brief point of clarification with respect to comments made by the previous speaker.

"I want to clarify that if retailers set up redemption centers, they would be turning over deposits collected to the State which would then be deposited into the deposit beverage container special fund and those moneys could be utilized, would be utilized by the Department of Health to reimburse retailers, such as the 'big box' retailers and other large food chains for their costs in implementing and operating these redemption centers. So, in that regard, the costs would be defrayed.

"Secondly, I would point out for my colleagues' information that last Session we passed Act 231 under which the Department of Health has set up a rebate program under which redemption centers can apply for rebates or subsidies that would enable them to purchase reverse vending machines to meet the redemption requirements under the law. That rebate program would also be available to retailers when and if they participate under the program as mandated by this particular bill.

“So, I just wanted to clarify that point because I think there was a misperception that the deposits, which would be turned over to the State by retailers, would not be utilized to reimburse the retailers for their costs of operating these redemption facilities or centers.

“Thank you.”

Senator Trimble rose in rebuttal and stated:

“Colleagues, I think the good Senator from Kauai misspoke. Times, Foodland, Star Markets do not bring in and sell garbage to consumers. Garbage, generically, is what we call products after use, not before use. If we are to talk about the responsibility of the business sector, it is to provide the best product to the consumer at the lowest price. It should not be their responsibility to try and mix fresh produce with garbage. But if the law, as proposed, did provide them with a sufficient monetary incentive to be able to do it without raising their cost, they would leap at the opportunity and support this legislation. They do not. Therefore, I urge you to carefully consider the arguments before asking consumers to pay higher prices for their food.

“Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, S.B. No. 1702, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE DEPOSIT BEVERAGE CONTAINER PROGRAM,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Menor requested his vote be cast “aye, with reservations,” and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, S.B. No. 96, S.D. 3, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Ayes with Reservations, 1 (Menor). Noes, none. Excused, 3 (Fukunaga, Ihara, Taniguchi).

S.B. No. 1307, S.D. 3:

Senator Baker moved that S.B. No. 1307, S.D. 3, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Slom rose to speak in support with reservations as follows:

“We all know that local agricultural industries are suffering a great deal. In fact, we’ve seen some of them disappear; we see several others on the precipice, and yet in the Legislature, we’re always dealing with symptoms rather than the cause of the problem. The cause of the problem for our agricultural community has been and remains the cost of feed, the cost of imported products that they have to use, and the cost of transportation. And this bill, as well-intentioned as it is, is really a harbinger of things to come. We are not going to save our local dairy industry by subsidy and makeshift amounts of money year by year. We’re not going to save our local poultry and egg industry by state subsidy and money from year to year.

“I noticed that the bill had been amended to include beef, along with pork, along with milk, along with eggs. I think, possibly, we should amend it again and add some hash brown potatoes and Spam as well, because we have a problem with all of our food products and we’re seeing that it’s more and more of a struggle for local companies to not only compete, but also to remain here.

“We have to learn that if we’re going to solve something, it’s not a question of throwing good money after bad, and not a question of just trying to prop someone up. It is to look at the economics from a reality standpoint, a pragmatic standpoint, and a business standpoint, and are there things that we can do? If so, those are the things that we should do rather than just subsidy, if we want a positive outlook. There are things that we could have done in this State in the past, but we did not. And we chose legislative policies that actually have brought these agricultural commodities to the state that they’re in right now.

“So, I will support this bill, with reservations, but with the knowledge that we are not going to save any of these businesses with subsidies, and we should be looking realistically at what we can actually save and enhance and help, and what industries we are going to lose.

S.B. No. 1792, S.D. 3:

Senator Ige moved that S.B. No. 1792, S.D. 3, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Baker.

Senator Hemmings rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"In a word, this bill is a ruse, and I suspect it is being put forth to tell the people of Maui that they don't need the Mahulani Hospital because we're going to fix Maui Memorial. And Maui Memorial's problems are the same that all the other state hospital system's problems are – they're broad and many causes bring about this system losing tens of millions of dollars every year, and more acutely, excuse the play on words, it is putting at risk some people's lives because of the unavailability of medical services. Maybe that's one of the reasons why Maui was so desperate in its need for its air ambulance service – because the people truly injured on Maui could not get the services on their island.

"This bill is akin to the captain of the Titanic, after striking the iceberg, telling the passengers, 'I relinquish control, take over' because the whole system is sinking and this will do nothing to relieve Maui Memorial's real problems other than turning them over to the people of Maui. But more importantly, this may be an excuse to tell the people of Maui, 'Guess what, we've solved your problems – you now have control of Maui Memorial, so you can fix it and you don't need the private sector hospital being built for free for the taxpayers to the tune of $200 million.'

"We're one of the only states in the Nation, Madam President, that does something you would understand with your law background – we have a state agency protecting its own monopoly. The CON process allows Maui Memorial to operate without competition. And that's just what happened on Maui when the CON process, or certificate of need, administered by the State, would not grant a permit for private sector to build a $200 million hospital at no cost to the taxpayers . . ."

Senator Baker interjected:

"Point of order, Madam President. The item on the Floor has nothing to do with Malulani or with the certificate of need. I would request that the speaker keep his remarks to S.B. 1792, S.D. 3."

The President stated:

"I am, Madam President. That's exactly what I'm addressing – Maui Memorial's acute problems and the real solution to them. And this bill is not it. This bill is a ruse, Madam President, and it is going to result in a great number of people not receiving the medical care they need and being told that their problems are solved because we gave you a stewardship of a hospital system that is in critical care and is dying while we stand by and watch it and not do anything of substance to change the system.

"I'd urge my colleagues, if you're really interested in the patients and the availability of medical service and the cost, you'd fix the system. This is another Trojan horse piece of legislation like reinventing education was in 2004. The real issue is the failure of Maui Memorial and the state hospital system and its monopoly practices because of the CON process, which is extremely germane to this bill. So, I'd urge my colleagues to really do what's best for the people we serve and not what's best for the status quo on Maui and the other islands. Our citizens deserve better.

"I might add, Madam President, that one of the things that is being said to defend Maui Memorial's failures is that we don't want another hospital to provide an alternative because it would be a hospital for the rich. And how sad it is . . ."

Senator Baker interjected again:

"Point of order, Madam President. The topic the speaker is addressing is not part of S.B. 1792, S.D. 3."

The President said:

"The point is well-taken. There is no reference to a hospital for the rich in this bill, Senator Hemmings."

Senator Hemmings responded:

"Maui Memorial is a hospital that serves all the people of Maui, as any other hospital would have to be, and I hope that the good people of this Senate recognize that and address the needs of the people rather than special interest groups that have a vested interest in sustaining this failing hospital.

"Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Baker rose to speak in support of the measure and said:

"Madam President, I rise in strong support of S.B. No. 1792, S.D. 3.

"I take great exception to some of the remarks of the previous speaker who, living on this island, has no real appreciation or no real sense of the situation either on Maui or with any of the other neighbor islands that make up the bulk of the Hawai'i Health Systems Corporation. The Hawai'i Health Systems Corporation came into existence in 1996 to remove the community hospitals from state bureaucracy as a division within the Department of Health. It was a breath of fresh air and the system has served the neighbor islands quite well. They've been in operation a little over 10 years and it's time to take another look at how that system functions, and that's really what this bill is designed to do.

"Although Maui is mentioned as the first of the regional affiliate corporations, the rest of the bill talks about how the regions would function in a more decentralized fashion so that the facility's control is at the local level. The operational control of the facilities is managed locally. The bill talks about the process that the regions could utilize to become regional affiliate corporations. In fact, this measure actually brings to fruition the original proposal which the Blue Ribbon Task Force envisioned for the Hawai'i Health Systems Corporation. In that vision, functions that were appropriate for system-wide activities to be done at the corporation level and the day-to-day operational activities, more appropriately accomplished region level or the facility level, would be the responsibility of the regions.

"Although there are still some items that need to be tweaked and worked out, as every complicated bill does at this stage of the legislative process, this measure before us is intended to live up to the original vision of the Blue Ribbon Task Force and their recommendations for a system of public hospitals in this State. There are other measures that can look at, discuss, act upon some of the concerns that the previous speaker mentioned. I think the important thing to note about this measure is that it's not just about one hospital – it's about improving the system; it's about empowering the management, the communities, and the doctors in those systems to be the very best that they can be.

"This is a measure that is gaining support amongst all of the regions. I spent two hours yesterday meeting with the regional CEOs of all of the other regions to talk about some of their issues and concerns, and they came away saying, 'Yes, we need change. This is moving in the right direction.' They asked us to take a look at some other items, which I'm going to convey to our House counterparts, so as the measure continues to move forward, we can improve it and we can perfect it. I would ask all of my colleagues to work with us so that the neighbor island system can be the very best that it can be – that it can help us take care of the needs that are on the neighbor islands so we don't have to transport so many people to Honolulu and we don't overburden the system here.

"Health care is a very emotional and a very important issue. If we can keep the rhetoric on the high plane, we can solve some of the problems, make sure that our people have adequate, accessible health care, and we can do it in a responsible and prudent manner.

"I urge all of my colleagues to support this measure. Thank you."

Senator Hemmings rose in rebuttal as follows:

"Madam President, I rise as permitted by Rule 69, I believe, as you quoted, for the second time to rebut the previous remarks.

"I don't have to live on Maui to know what Maui's problems are with their hospital system. I was born and raised in these islands and know them all quite intimately, and I resent the implication that I have to live on Maui to know something about Maui. I happened to be on Maui last night talking to a lot of desperate people who have had their actual health care imperiled by the lack of service in a timely manner on Maui. But I'll tell you what I do know for sure, living on Oahu, and I do know that this island of 850,000-plus people does not have a public hospital – a large one. We have some rural ones that are in deep trouble along with Maui Memorial and the people get their health care serviced much better here. That's why the people of Maui, when they're in dire straights, come to Oahu.

"So, who are we doing this for? Are we doing it for the people of Maui or are we doing it for the special interests that want to maintain the status quo on Maui within the Maui Memorial Hospital system? I'm hoping that all of us, as this bill moves forward, will do what's best, and what's best is to free the hospital system and maybe even get rid of the state hospital system on Maui by allowing private sector hospitals to provide the services that Maui Memorial's not providing which is being done amply so, here on the island of Oahu.

"Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Hooser rose to speak in support and said:

"Madam President, I rise in support of this measure.

"My support is not without concerns, but I'm voting straight up on this measure today because I'm confident in the process, I'm confident that the people pushing this measure forward understand the issues with rural health care. This is a serious subject and I find it, quite frankly, objectionable that the Minority Leader used the reference to the Titanic – so obviously showboating to the media, playing on the fears, playing on the media, playing on the misinformation. And with all due respect, the previous speaker knows nothing about rural health care, in my opinion, Madam President.

"I have a private hospital in my district as well as a HHSC hospital and both do fine work in our community. And to disparage the doctors and the administration of our community hospitals, I find objectionable. This bill is not about Maui – it's about making our system better, it's about making health care better in the rural communities – and I encourage my colleagues to vote in support.

"Thank you."

Senator Tsutsui rose in support as follows:

"Madam President, I rise in support.

"I just want to make a comment, since obviously the Minority Leader is such an expert in terms of rural health care. I'd like to recommend that at least he use the correct term in describing the proposed second hospital. It is 'Malulani' not 'Mahulani.'

"Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Ige rose to support the measure and said:

"Madam President, I also rise to speak in support of this measure.

"Madam President, I would like to make a couple comments. Clearly, the new wing at Maui Memorial Hospital is first class and state of the art. The new bi-plane imaging system is better than any imaging system throughout the State. I had the privilege to visit the facility and see it in operation, and I would like to note that there are very unique implementations at Maui Memorial Hospital which embraces the 'ohana' concepts. The intensive care units are designed as family suites. As we all know, when we have a loved one in intensive care, we always would like to be there and they've made accommodations for family members to be with their family loved ones during these intensive times of needs.

"In addition, I would like to note that the stroke center at Maui Memorial is amongst the best in the State, and in fact, Queen's Hospital is referring appropriate stroke victims to Maui Memorial for care because they believe that the services offered there is better than anywhere else in the State.

"So, I urge all my colleagues to vote in support."

Senator English rose in support as follows:

"Madam President, I rise in support of the measure.

"Members, colleagues, this is important for my district in particular because the Health Systems Corporation and Maui Memorial service Lanai and Upcountry Maui, and many people forget in this debate that the system – Maui Memorial and the health care system – make sure that Lanai gets service, makes sure that Upcountry Maui gets service. And often, what is forgotten in this entire debate is that these remote and rural parts of our system need the attention, need the resources, and need the subsidies that come with this system.

"What I'm afraid of, under the current setup which is one size fits all, is that my constituents – these two areas in particular – are often neglected. In fact, this year in my CIP request, I've requested a lot of resources for both Lanai and for Kula for their health systems because they have been neglected all these years. I think that under the regional subsidiaries that will be created out of this bill, Maui would actually be better, and there'll be room for much improvement in the future.

"So, I ask for all of your support on this measure. Thank you."

Senators Bunda and Gabbard requested their votes be cast “aye, with reservations,” and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, S.B. No. 1792, S.D. 3, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HAWAII HEALTH SYSTEMS CORPORATION,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Ayes with Reservations, 2 (Bunda, Gabbard). Noes, 2 (Hemmings, Slom). Excused, 1 (Fukunaga).

S.B. No. 1276, S.D. 3:

Senator Ige moved that S.B. No. 1276, S.D. 3, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Sakamoto.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition as follows:

“We had a discussion on the amendment the other day and a lot of people would like to believe that this amendment is moving towards a middle ground. As I said the other day and as I maintain today, this bill with this amendment still does not remove the opposition from various groups for various reasons against the Superferry, does not do anything to guarantee that the Superferry will start operation on July 1st. We do know that the ownership and management of the Superferry has jumped through the hoops that the Legislature has proposed for the last two years, has responded positively to questions and issues which were raised having to do with invasive species, having to do with traffic, having to do with humpback whales, having to do with a number of other items.

“The fact of the matter is, by transferring and still requiring an environmental impact statement by the State Department of Transportation, Harbors Division, as I mentioned the other day, you still allow for the possibility of lawsuits and to either slow, disable, or stop the Superferry and that remains the objective of a number of individuals.

“There was a poll, unscientific of course, but a poll nonetheless, in Pacific Business News which I think most members of the Body received today which showed overwhelmingly the population by more than three-to-one not only wants the Superferry but does not want the imposition of additional requirements that have not been placed on other carriers.

“So, if we want truly an option for individuals, including small businesses, including families, uniting the neighbor islands, then we should be applauding the fact that it is private interest, private investment, private risk capital that is putting itself forth for this option for our people and we should embrace it instead of trying to stop it or slow it down by using different euphemisms, and that’s what this bill does.

“Thank you.”

Senator English rose in support of the measure as follows:

“With the amendments made on the Floor, this is no longer a Superferry bill. In fact, it’s an EIS bill for our harbors. And what this does is say that the Department of Transportation will do an EIS for the state harbors and they will pay for it. Our harbors need this. In fact, this will be the base for us moving forward in the future in doing the infrastructure renewal and infrastructure expansion in all of our harbors in Hawai‘i so that we can accommodate the movement of goods and the movement of people.

“Now, it’s up to the department how they move ahead with figuring out how to pay for this, figuring out how to implement the mitigating factors that came forward out of this, but what we’ve done in our compromise, which I think is quite reasonable, is say, ‘Go ahead and do an environmental impact statement for all the users.’ That’s what this does.

“Now, the previous speaker makes some comments about preventing lawsuits. Well, if we were to predicate everything we did on the possibility of a lawsuit or the prevention of a lawsuit, then well, we wouldn’t do anything.

“Members, I ask you to support this because we have been through this with many industries. If you remember a few years ago, this was the exact same thing that I dealt with – and all of us dealt with – with the cruise ships. If you go back farther, we’ve dealt with this with the expansion of movement of goods in our harbors. So, we have to bite the bullet. We have to make sure that the environmental impact statement, which is the base document for all future improvements in the harbors, is done.

“I was hoping to begin this process next year with the Department of Transportation, and I’m most grateful that we’re moving it forward this year, because next year we can look at how much it’s going to cost. We’re going to look at what are the mitigating factors, and then we can look at the expansion of harbors in Kahului, Honolulu, Nawiliwili, Kona, Kawaihae, Hilo – all of the harbors that need to expand.

“So we have to change our thinking on this. It is no longer a Superferry bill. It is an EIS bill for our harbor system in the State of Hawai‘i. Thank you.”

Senator Hooser rose to speak in support and stated:

“Madam President, I rise in support of this measure, and I’ll keep my remarks brief. (Laughter.)

“I’ll briefly rebut some of the earlier comments first of all. This is not about private business, private money, private investment. This is about powerful, political, and business figures using $40 million of state money, guaranteeing hundreds of millions of dollars with federal guarantees for their ships, forcing, pushing through a process and bypassing the protections that are set up to protect our environment.

“The purpose of this bill from the very beginning, I might add, was to require an environmental impact statement, and I am very pleased to be here today in support of doing just that – requiring an environmental impact statement. And yes, it will impact the Hawai‘i Superferry. There’s no question about that, but it will not impede their business. It will not prevent them from starting up in June. It merely will do what the law already requires. Each and every other operator, new and old – the Hawai‘i Superferry, Young Brothers, Matson – everyone has to comply with the environmental impact statement law, Chapter 343.

“In this particular case, the improvements put forward, the public money spent in the improvements proposed should have triggered an environmental impact statement. The bottom line is the Department of Transportation made a mistake – they did not do their job properly; they messed up. I think that’s very clear. The Environmental Council – the appointed commission of citizens appointed by the Governor whose job it is to interpret and to help write the rules and to advise the State on environmental impact statement issues – they’ve come out publicly, as most everyone here should know, and said the same – the Department of Transportation erred.

“There’s a lot of misinformation, members, about this. Repeatedly, people say the courts ruled that they didn’t have to do an environmental impact statement. Well, the courts did not rule that. No court has ruled on the merits of this issue. No court has ruled on the merits of this issue and even the Attorney General, Mark Bennett, on KGMB-TV said no court has ruled against the argument that an EIS was required, on February 6th.

“We have a responsibility to our constituents to look into this. It’s really clear the Department of Transportation made a mistake. It’s clear an EIS should have been required. We cannot simply with a wink and a nod ignore the facts.

“The community response has been overwhelming. Those of you that attended the hearings in Transportation, Energy and the Environment will know this, and you’ll know also that it’s not a fringe element. This is not just a bunch of wild-eyed environmentalists. Every county council on the neighbor islands passed a resolution. And these resolutions started a long time ago. This is not last-minute actions to stop the Superferry. These resolutions were passed, in some cases, a year-and-a-half or more ago. Every county council – the Kauai County Council, the Maui County Council, the Big Island County Council – said, ‘We want an EIS.’ At the hearings, it was unanimous on Maui, and there were two people on Kauai out of 150 people who thought perhaps that an EIS was not necessary. The Office of the Mayor on Maui testified in support of an EIS. The Vice-chair of the Maui Planning Commission and numerous people in the community representing a wide range of interest testified in support. And I might add that I’ve never gotten a call, this has come up, I’ve never gotten a call from Young Brothers, or unions, or airlines, or rental cars, advocating for this position – none whatsoever, not one. To those who think this is driven by special interests – this is our constituents. And the community response, again, is overwhelming.

“It’s interesting that Pacific Business News’ unofficial and unscientific poll shows 35 percent or so of the people responding, the last time I checked, said that ‘Yes, an EIS should be considered or should be required.’ And I would argue that the neighbor islands, representing a similar amount of the population that are going to be most impacted by this, perhaps, yes, they feel differently from the residents here in Honolulu.

“The potential impacts are huge. People say, ‘Well what about everybody else? What about Matson, what about Young Brothers.’ The Superferry is larger than a Young Brothers’ barge and travels at five times the speed. It travels much, much faster also than a Matson container ship. It carries cars and passengers, and when it arrives at the harbors in Nawiliwili and in Kahului and elsewhere in the State, 560 cars could converge on the harbor at one time, up to 1,720 passengers. Okay, I would suggest that Young Brothers doesn’t do this, Go Airlines doesn’t do this, Matson Navigation doesn’t do this. The impacts are significant when you take into consideration the facilities and the communities these are going to be impacting. This is equivalent to 18 Go flights – on Kauai we have six Go flights a day right now – five 757s – five 757 aircrafts landing and unloading their passengers at one time. And they’re not just carrying roll-off, roll-on baggage with maybe a box of manapua – they’re driving their trucks, their cars, they’re bringing boats, ATVs, guns for hunting, surfboards, fishing coolers, you name it.

“This business will start in July. There’s nothing we’re doing right now that will prevent that from happening. And with all the talk about all the things that Superferry is doing – jumping through hoops – I say they’re doing little, if anything. There are no terminals on the neighbor islands. There’s no place to wash down or no requirement to wash down your cars. There are no highway improvements. There are no bathrooms. There’s no parking – and this is a business that’s going to discharge 1,700-some passengers in my community and others throughout the State just a few months from now.

“They’re allowed, by our Department of Transportation and state authorities, to do this with a tent and Port-o-potties. Okay, if you build a 7-Eleven in my community, you have to have parking; you have to have highway improvements; you have to have lighting, you have to have . . . there are requirements, but there are little, if any, requirements being required of the Hawai’i Superferry.

“All the hype we have from the Hawai’i Superferry, all the environmental work – I found out today, last week was the first time the Hawai’i Superferry has spoken to the Department of Land and Natural Resources, people on the ground – the Aquatics Division, the Forestry Division, the Land Division. They had a conference call last week asking these people what they thought about the Superferry and what impacts. Okay, this is how many years now after they’ve been working on it, when supposedly all these problems have been resolved. Okay, and the answers they were given . . . so these people are concerned – the people on the ground in charge of protecting the forests, aquatic resources, and others are very concerned. They’re asking questions like what about manpower? We don’t have enough DOCARE officers to enforce the fishing and the hunting and the ATV riding in our natural resources today. What happens when that is dramatically increased. What about fishing? What about picking maile in the forest? There are many, many impacts and they’ve only just begun, and only because the pressure from the public and the community is on them.

“The Department of Transportation, the State of Hawai’i, have dropped the ball hugely on this measure. And I can go on and on and on, but I will not. (Laughter.) There’s no question in my mind that an EIS, which simply discloses impacts and recommends mitigation, is the least we can do in this situation.

“So, I urge my colleagues to vote in support. Thank you.”

Senator Trimble rose in favor of the measure and said:

“Madam President, I rise in favor of S.B. No. 1276, as amended. Colleagues, I’ll keep my remarks brief. (Laughter.)

“You know, this is a lot bigger than Hawai’i Superferry. This is a lot more important than an environmental impact statement. But let’s talk a little bit about some of the concerns that I think are misplaced about Hawai’i Superferry. You look at the maximum number of passengers they could carry – it’s no bigger than a cruise ship. You look at the number of vehicles, and then you raise the specter, well, you have trucks and cars. Well, the more trucks you have, the fewer cars you have. And quite frankly, looking around the world at how vehicular ferry systems are used, it’s probably about 40 percent commercial and most of that commercial is from the island that is having the service – the smaller island – and it is benefiting their businesses and their citizens by giving them opportunity to larger markets which would be on Oahu.

“My concern, quite frankly, is Hawai’i Superferry going to guarantee enough slots for people from the neighbor islands wishing to get to Oahu, for businesses from Kauai and Maui wanting to get to Oahu. Every ferry system I’ve been on, when they came or saw an eagle or a whale, slowed down so that the passengers could have the opportunity to photograph the experience. I think we'll find out that when Hawai'i Superferry is in operation, and there are whales, that people will take it because they know the operator will slow the ship down so they can have a better look.

"And quite frankly, Hawai'i Superferry is important, but 10 years from now we're going to be looking back and we're going to say, gee, we not only have Hawai'i Superferry, but we have mono-haul service, drive-on, drive-off going to Hilo, and we also have hovercraft that are serving the smaller islands in Maui – all because Hawai'i Superferry ushered in a new era.

"Quite frankly, if the environmental impact statement is about Hawai'i Superferry, it's too late. When I read the bill – and you know, this might be somewhat akin to . . . how many blind men was it around an elephant? I'm sorry – in this case we'll make it a donkey. We're all looking at different aspects and trying to figure out what's going to happen. The environmental impact statement, quite frankly, is too late.

"What is needed, because our harbor system has been neglected for decades, is expansion of our neighbor island harbors. To do that, an environmental impact statement is needed. We are doing an environmental impact statement not about Hawai'i Superferry, but to satisfy the existing needs of these harbors so that we can properly accommodate our transportation needs going forward. This is an environmental impact statement about the future. Next year, we're going to come back here and, as a group, help to decide with the administration how many tens of millions of dollars need to be spent on the neighbor islands to improve their port system. That's how important this bill is, and that's why I encourage my colleague to rethink their position.

"Thank you."

Senator Kim rose in support of the measure as follows:

"Madam President, I rise to speak in support.

"Madam President, I have always been a supporter of the Superferry and I have to say that when I first saw this bill in its original form, I could not support it. I believe that this is a good compromise. It's a win-win situation for everyone concerned.

"It's been said that it was DOT that made a mistake on the EIS, and I certainly agree that somebody made a mistake here, but the big question that should be asked is, Who really made the decision? We learned that the Director of DOT was not making any of the decisions for over a year, so who made this decision to exempt them from the EIS? I think that's a question that we should ask and we should find out, and that individual or individuals should be held accountable at this point in time.

"Thank you."

Senator Whalen rose in opposition and said:

"Madam President, I rise to make brief comments about my decision-making process here.

President Hanabusa queried:

"Are you rising in support or in opposition?"

"In opposition.

"The Senator from Maui made a very eloquent speech about the need for an EIS for the future of our harbors. However, your Majority Leader clearly pointed out that this is totally about stopping the Superferry or at least impeding it. He said, according to the bill, it says it can't delay the opening of the Superferry, but his entire extensive brief comments were all about how bad the Superferry is going to be. So that clearly set out in my mind that this is all about the Superferry, and I appreciate his speech. It totally settled in my mind what this whole purpose of this bill is, so thank you very much."

Senators Espero and Gabbard requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, S.B. No. 1276, S.D. 3, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE ENVIRONMENT," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Ayes with Reservations, 2 (Espero, Gabbard). Noes, 4 (Bunda, Hemmings, Sлом, Whalen).

General Brown addressed the Senate as follows:

"President Hanabusa, distinguished members of the Senate, fellow guests here in the Chamber, I first want to personally thank Senator Lorraine Inouye for sponsoring this Resolution recognizing 100 years of service by American soldiers in the Asia Pacific.

"We are five very humble representatives of tens of thousands of American soldiers – tens of thousands this morning that are serving on the front line of our nation's war on terrorism; several thousand others who are journeying home as we speak from Japan and from the Philippines where they have been training and exercising alongside our vital allies in those two nations; several thousand more that will depart in just days to train and exercise with the armed forces of India, the largest democracy in the world, and with Indonesia, the largest Muslim nation in the world. That's what American soldiers in the Pacific have done for decades and decades; that is our purpose and we proudly serve our nation and we proudly serve here in the beautiful State of Hawaii.

"Mahalo."

“Madam President and Colleagues, I just wanted to bring to your attention a court ruling this morning that should be of some interest to many of us. The U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia struck down the handgun ban that has been in existence in the District of Columbia for 31 years. The ruling came in a case Parker v. District of Columbia and the senior judge was Lawrence Silberman who wrote the opinion. In his ruling, Judge Silberman wrote, quote: ‘In sum, the phrase “the right of the people” when read intratextually and in the light of the Supreme Court precedent, leads us to conclude that the right in question is individual.’ He also noted that the Second Amendment, quote, ‘acknowledges . . . a right that pre-existed the Constitution like “the freedom of speech.” Because the right to arms existed prior to the formation of the new government, the Second Amendment only guarantees that the right “shall not be infringed.”’

“I just thought that you would like to know that. Thank you, Madam President.”

ORDER OF THE DAY

ADVISE AND CONSENT

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1030 (Gov. Msg. No. 268):

Senator Baker moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1030 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Tsutsui and carried.

Senator Baker then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of GEORGINA K. KAWAMURA as Director of the Department of Budget and Finance, term to expire December 6, 2010, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Baker rose to speak in support of the nominee as follows:

"Madam President, I rise in strong support of this nomination.

"Madam President, when your Committee decided to hold a hearing on this Governor's Message and take testimony from various members of the public on whether the Senate should advise and consent, the things that we looked at were what kind of leadership this nominee had provided in her current position? What was her management style? Did she have the background and the skills necessary to perform the task well and what had been her performance? I'm pleased to report, Madam President, that your Committee found that the nominee, Georgina K. Kawamura, excelled in all of these areas.

"I guess, for me, the thing that was most instructive was to listen to the words of her staff, many of whom are civil service and didn't have to come forward to the Legislature to say nice things about their boss. I have the feeling that it was more than just saying nice things about her, but that it really came from a commitment and dedication that they had observed in her – that she evoked the best in them and they wanted to share that with us.

"Let me read just a few of their comments into the record: 'She has made right decisions when the choices are difficult and has earned our respect in the process. Despite the multitude of demands placed upon her time and energy, she has maintained an open-door policy. She has led by example, encouraging us to respond in a timely and effective manner in all our endeavors. She provides direction and encouragement when we are frustrated, and supports us as a part of her team.'

"To me that says volumes about the ability of this woman to continue to lead this department in a way that would provide the kind of leadership we would expect from all of the Governor's nominees.

"Another set of staff members pointed out that 'she's a quick study in learning the intricacies of state government and its finances. She has a remarkable ability to absorb details of the operating and CIP budget and displays a thorough understanding of budgeting principles and practices. She has brought graciousness, composure, and level-headedness to the position, along with her sense of humor and energy. All very admirable qualities.'

"I think when we look at performance, this comment came from a private sector individual who said: 'Under Ms. Kawamura's leadership at B&F, the State's budgetary documents have been made fully available online.' Another staff pointed out that 'not only are they available online, but in a much more user friendly manner,' and I must admit that the budget in brief that was presented for this year's biennium budget certainly made it easy for many people who do not have an opportunity to delve into some of the intricacies of the budget to understand what the moving parts are.

"After hearing from her staff and others about the exemplary nature of her ability to lead and manage, we also asked her what her goals were. She talked about now being in a position to pursue a broader agenda to safeguard and strengthen our fiscal integrity, and she outlined several items that I will have included in the record for future reference. But I was most intrigued by somebody who had worked with her on the county level and had observed her at the state level, and this was a message from the Maui Mayor, Mayor Charmaine Tavares, who noted that she had an opportunity to work with Georgina when Mayor Tavares was the Director of Parks and Recreation and also had observed her from her years as a member of the Maui County Council. She noted that 'Georgina's sound judgment, diligence, fair-mindedness, diplomacy, perseverance, and professionalism have been demonstrated consistently throughout the years. She's a distinguished alum from Maui Community College and has a wealth of background and experience that have served her well thus far.'

"Madam President, your Committee believes that these qualities, as enumerated by her staff and others, will continue to serve her and I urge all my colleagues to vote to advise and consent to the nomination of Georgina Kawamura for the Director of Budget and Finance."

Senator Slom rose to support the nomination and stated:

"Madam President, on behalf of your Senate Minority, we want to urge our very strong support for the Governor's Message and for the advice and consent for our Budget Director, Ms. Kawamura.

"Who would want to be Budget Director? Who would want to take on that responsibility? Who would want to take the slings and arrows? Well, Georgina did, and as the Ways and Means Chair so aptly explained, she has done an exemplary job. She is the best of the best and she has taken all of the requests for changes and for implementation and for transparency and she's made them happen.

"Her first four years in many respects were as good as 10 or 12 years for previous Administrations. She has shown a willingness, because of the ability to work with different kinds of people, to not only grasp a problem, but to get a solution quickly. And so, we're very happy to add our support.

"It was mentioned that she has a sense of humor. Anyone that has had an opportunity to talk with her has seen that sense of humor and obviously, if you don't have a sense of humor when you're doing the state budget, you're going to be in very difficult shape. Not bad for a local gal that came from Lanai. She has done everyone proud—she'll do even better in the next four years, and so we urge all our colleagues to support Georgina Kawamura.

"Thank you, Madam President."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, none. Excused, 2 (Ihara, Menor).

At this time, Senator Baker introduced Ms. Kawamura and her family to the members of the Senate.

At 11:53 o'clock a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 11:56 o'clock a.m.

ORDER OF THE DAY

ADVISE AND CONSENT

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1058 (Gov. Msg. No. 405):

Senator Hee moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1058 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Kokubun and carried.

Senator Hee then moved that the Senate consent to the nomination of MARK E. RECKTENWALD to the office of Chief Judge, Intermediate Court of Appeals, for a term of ten years, in accordance with the provisions of Article VI, Section 3, of the Hawaii State Constitution, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Hee rose to support the nominee as follows:

"Madam President, members, I rise in support and that this Body advise and consent to Mark Recktenwald as Chief Judge to the Intermediate Court of Appeals.

"Members, and those who have gathered in these Chambers, it is a great privilege to encourage you to advise and consent on the nominee. Mr. Recktenwald, throughout the process, has been very dignified in his responses and will be, I believe, one of the finest judges to sit on the Intermediate Court of Appeals in his capacity as Chief Judge of the ICA.

“We received unanimous testimony in support of the confirmation. The comments made in support were 100 percent, without exception. I received two anonymous notes in non-support, but they were not identifiable – they were simply anonymous. They were not people who wished to remain anonymous; they simply were without identification.

“Mr. Recktenwald is a graduate of the University of Chicago Law School. He is also a graduate of Harvard University. Mr. Recktenwald moved to Hawaii and has immersed himself in public service, having served a brief part of his career in the Office of the U.S. Attorney. More recently, Mr. Recktenwald, as the Director of DCCA, has been someone who has elicited unanimous support in his ability to administer a very difficult department. We had, at the most recent hearing, one individual who came forward with reservations, but even that individual admitted that Mr. Recktenwald’s administering of DCCA was excellent.

“There had been some comments that Mr. Recktenwald as the Chairman of the Board of the EUTF was not doing a good job. That suggestion was not buttressed by information that the Committee could consider. A point of fact – the EUTF, although not without its problems, is on the cusp of becoming self-insured, and has been making great strides to provide the active and the retirees with the funding source that in particular the retirees will enjoy going forward.

“Members, it is with great pleasure and great honor that I ask you to vote ‘yes’ on the confirmation of Mark Recktenwald as Chief Judge for the Intermediate Court of Appeals.

“Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Gabbard rose in support and stated:

“Colleagues, Mr. Recktenwald obviously has outstanding credentials. He’s extremely intelligent, has solid work experience, but most importantly as the testimony pointed out, Mr. Recktenwald is a good and decent person who is known for his fairness and he will serve us all well on the bench. Therefore, I urge you to vote up on Mr. Recktenwald.

“Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Hemmings rose to speak in support of the nomination as follows:

“Madam President, Colleagues, the Senate Minority is most pleased and proud to add our overwhelming support of this proven leader and judicious nominee, Mark Recktenwald.”

Senator Slom rose to add his support for the nominee and said:

“From a business perspective, and particularly a small business perspective, Mark Recktenwald was the right man at the right time for the right job. He took a department, the Department of Commerce and Consumer Affairs, which had probably the worst rating of any of the governmental departments, turned it around, made it customer friendly, made it user friendly. He was able to cut fees and cut taxes and improve the online usage of business registration and other services, and for that, we will be eternally grateful.

“So it’s with mixed emotions that I congratulate him and support him, because we hate to see him leave DCCA, but we know that he has an able and efficient staff that is going to carry on his tradition. He will make an outstanding and excellent judge.

“Thank you, Madam President.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

At this time, Senator Hee introduced Judge Recktenwald to the members of the Senate.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1059 (Gov. Msg. No. 404):

At this time, the President made the following announcement:

“Members, pursuant to Senate Rule 37(5), the final question on appointments by the Governor which require the confirmation or consent of the Senate must be stated in the affirmative. Therefore, those casting ‘Aye’ votes are voting to confirm, and those casting ‘No’ votes are voting to reject the nomination.

“The recommendation of the Committee on Judiciary and Labor on Gov. Msg. No. 404 is that the Senate not consent to the nomination of Glenn Kim to the Circuit Court of the First Circuit. Therefore, the Chair will first entertain a motion to file Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1059, then we will move on to the final vote on this matter.”

Senator Ige moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1059 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Whalen and carried.

Pursuant to Senate Rule 37(5), Senator Inouye then moved that the Senate consent to the nomination of GLENN J. KIM to the office of Judge, Circuit Court of the First Circuit, for a term of ten years, in accordance with the provisions of Article VI, Section 3, of the Hawaii State Constitution, seconded by Senator Gabbard.

Senator Inouye rose to speak in support of the nomination as follows:

“Madam President and colleagues, I rise in strong support of Gov. Msg. No. 404, gubernatorial nominee, Glenn J. Kim, for consideration and confirmation to the Circuit Court of the First Circuit, State of Hawaii.

“I speak in support because I firmly believe that he is highly qualified to serve as a judge in terms of courtroom experience and legal knowledge. I also believe he has the judicial temperament, demeanor, and moral character to make him an excellent judge.

“During the lengthy confirmation hearings before the Committee on Judiciary and Labor, there were certain questions raised as to Mr. Kim’s lack of public service. But, this is a man who has served in the U.S. Army in Vietnam and who was awarded the Bronze Star medal for his service. I am hard-pressed to think of anything else that could be considered of greater public service than putting one's life on the line to serve our country in times of war.

"In addition to his military service, Mr. Kim served on the board of advisors for a program here in Hawaii called CARE, or Child at Risk Evaluation. The program provides forensic medical services for child victims of abuse. Dr. Victoria Schneider, CARE's Medical Director, wrote in her letter of support that, and I quote: 'Mr. Kim has displayed tremendous moral courage. He has been unafraid to proceed with cases that need a champion for the truth. Mr. Kim is a gifted attorney who has devoted his career to the protection of individuals' rights under the law. He has consistently displayed fairness, honesty, intelligence, organization, and decisiveness. He will be a wise and thoughtful judge,' unquote.

"Dr. Schneider's letter was typical of the many received by our offices. There were also some concerns that his conduct towards attorneys under his supervision may have been less than respectful, that his behavior was demeaning. I do not seek to question the integrity of the two individuals who spoke out against Mr. Kim in these terms. In fact, I salute them for having the courage to come forward. However, I would like to point out that there is always a context, or circumstances that may unduly contribute to the shaping of an opinion of another person. While we are not privy to all of the details of those circumstances, we must, nevertheless, take them into consideration.

"Colleagues, we are all human, and retribution, unfortunately, is often an ugly part of our human nature. I would also like to point out, colleagues, that there were only two individuals who spoke out against Mr. Kim – just two. Their testimony was quite unflattering, to say the least, but their testimony must also be weighed against the dozens of letters of support for Mr. Kim from both supervisors and subordinates, as well as from former and present colleagues. These letters describe Mr. Kim as courageous, level-headed, fair, knowledgeable, and professional. In fact, I think we all received the letter signed by 12 attorneys who were under Mr. Kim's supervision. They wrote that they collectively saw no signs of the negative conduct attributed to Mr. Kim, even though they all worked in the same vicinity where some of the alleged misconduct took place.

"Colleagues, I believe that a judge should be fair, honest, and even. I am convinced that Mr. Kim is the right person for this job and I ask you, my colleagues, to also be fair, honest, and even and vote to advise and consent to his nomination.

"Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Gabbard rose in support also and said:

"Madam President, I rise in support of the nomination of Glenn Kim.

"Madam President and colleagues, after weighing both the positive and negative things that were said about Mr. Kim's nomination, I've come to the conclusion that Mr. Kim has all the necessary qualities and professional background to assume this important role. But what impressed me most about Mr. Kim were two things: Number one, at the Judiciary Committee hearing, was seeing the defense attorneys and the prosecuting attorneys agreeing – prominent defense attorneys who had been against Mr. Kim in the courtroom – agreeing on his qualifications. That stuck in my mind very deeply. And the second thing I wanted to mention was referred to by the previous speaker, and that was that coming from a military family myself and having a daughter in the military, when I learned that Mr. Kim had received the Bronze Star in Vietnam, it was at one of these hearings and what astonished me was that many of his colleagues, many prosecuting attorneys, had no knowledge that he had even earned this award. And as you know, the Bronze Star is a high honor that is awarded for acts of heroism and meritorious service.

"So, with that in mind, I am asking you to please vote up on Mr. Kim's nomination. Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Slom rose to support the nomination and stated:

"Madam President, I rise in strong support of the nominee.

"First of all, I want to thank the Chair of the Judiciary Committee for making available to every Senator, the complete text of all of the testimony that was made both for and against. I think that was very important for transparency. And for those of us who took the time to watch the hearings, to attend the hearings, or to read the testimony, I think we came away from the hearings puzzled as to why there would be any question or any discussion for this individual's support and advise and consent.

"The support for Glenn Kim came from Republicans and Democrats and people that have no party affiliation; came from liberals and conservatives and people in the middle of the road. It came from prosecutors and public defenders – nearly unanimous. It was amazing. So, for some of us, it was really troubling when an issue is raised about two individuals. And we could question their motives, but there's no sense trying to figure out the motives of other people except to say there was such overwhelming support for this man and what he has already accomplished and what he can accomplish on the bench.

"We know that we have a perception problem with the Judiciary in this State, with the kinds of punishment that have been meted out or not meted out. We heard complaints that the nominee would want to go to trial and to prosecute even without all of the facts, and yet that flies in the face of the evidence and the overwhelming statements made by people. And to a man, to a woman, they said that this nominee was very deliberative, very focused, very intense, and very passionate about representing the people in this community.

"Madam President, yesterday I took it upon myself to call two individuals that I've known for some time, judges – Judge Michael Town, who I think has been on the bench for more than 25 years, I think he's the senior trial judge in this State; and also Judge Richard Pollack, who comes from a public defender's background. I called them; I initiated the conversation, and I asked them for their permission if they would allow me to share their remarks with you today, and both agreed. And both of them, interestingly enough, in individual conversations – both of them – used the word 'integrity,' used the word 'prepared,' used the word 'fair,' used the word 'balance,' used the word and term 'concerned particularly about families, women, and children.' To me that was extremely important and impressive.

"Now, some people, I know, did not like the demeanor of the nominee because it didn't fit their perception of how somebody should answer questions, particularly criticism. And we're used to all kinds of people in hearings and also in confirmation investigations, and some people are very gregarious, and some people are very shy, and some people are very private, and I think that's what the nominee is – extremely private. He's extremely dedicated, though. He has dedicated his life to community service – from the military, to academia, to protecting individuals – and I think that speaks louder than anything else.

"And for a while, Madam President, I was concerned that this Senate was going to go down a road it had been down before, sully the background and the integrity of an individual. But I'm not concerned about that today because I know the Senate is going to do the right thing in this vote coming up. And one of the reasons the Senate is going to do the right thing is because we recognize it is so extremely difficult to get people to give up their lives to support and defend weaker individuals in this community. And so when people come forward, when they volunteer, when they say 'Yes, I'll do it' no matter how busy they are, no matter how concerned, no matter what their situation is at home with family members or children or other things that they have, when they volunteer to come forward it is our duty, it is our responsibility to give them the benefit of the doubt and not to worry about what the motivations may be of two individuals and have a difficult time saying, 'Well, gee, are they telling the truth or not?'"

"We don't have any problem with knowing that this nominee is telling the truth. And when this nominee says that he never did something and is very specific about it, I guess, being a political body, we're used to people who equivocate or that don't remember certain things. But when you can stand in the dock and say, 'I can tell you, without reservation, I did not do this. I would not do this. This is not in my character or my integrity.' And when you have dozens upon dozens of people saying the same thing, it's an important message."

"I think that we are very fortunate to have an individual like this. I don't remember anyone that's had qualifications like this, a background like this. We are very fortunate to have someone who has come forward, and he's gone through the process, and he has answered every single question, and he's provided every bit of information. And I think that it's real easy to determine priorities and who is telling the truth and who has integrity."

"So I think the process will be strengthened today. And I hope that it does send a clear message to people that are thinking of volunteering or who are asked to volunteer that they will be treated fairly, and that in the end, reason and rationality will prevail."

"So I strongly urge all my colleagues to enthusiastically support, endorse, and vote for the nomination of Glenn Kim, and Madam President, I would request a Roll Call vote. Thank you."

Senator Hee rose to oppose the nomination and stated:

"Madam President, with all due respect to the nominee and with all due respect to his strong supporters, with all due respect to the members on this Floor, with all due respect to the Minority Party, with all due respect to the Attorney General and the Prosecutor, and with all due respect to the Governor of the State of Hawaii, respectfully I rise to oppose the confirmation of Glenn Kim to the Circuit Court of the First Circuit."

"Let me start out by saying this is by far the most difficult confirmation that I have been involved in. This is by far a very difficult conclusion to which I have reached over this time, and I have been involved with many confirmations. And let me state at the outset that this Governor has appointed for our consideration, very worthy jurists, not the least of which is James E. Duffy, Associate Justice of the Hawaii Supreme Court, Elizabeth Strance, Circuit Court Judge to Kona. Having said that, let me say that the difficulty today is because, Mr. Kim, a local boy who graduated from Kalani High School, who served this country with great distinction in Vietnam, who earned a Bronze Star for valor and courage in defense of this country, who went on to earn an undergraduate degree with highest honors at the University of Hawaii, who earned an M.A. at Harvard University and a Ph.D. in Literature at Harvard and spent some time as an instructor at Harvard University, are accomplishments that by any standard all of us are humbled by and could only wish we could be measured by that standard. Mr. Kim, truly, a native son of Hawaii, has made great accomplishments and is a tremendous asset by which this State can be proud."

"Colleagues, what troubles me most about this confirmation is that despite these sterling credentials, there were times where Mr. Kim's responses were very difficult to acknowledge, let alone understand."

"I would like to say to all of you that the confirmation authority, which is part of our duties as Senators, is probably the most difficult and one of the greatest challenges that we are charged with as a responsibility. And, I certainly feel that the responsibility to Chair the Judiciary Committee to conduct these hearings is a tremendous honor and privilege to serve this Body. And to that extent, to the Senators who have previously spoken and to the other members who sit as members on this Committee, I am deeply grateful and honored that you folks have allowed this process and have attended virtually every second of this process involving the nominee."

"I have much respect for the Judiciary, which is our third branch of government, and the men and women who serve the public as judges. They have a huge responsibility because they directly affect the lives of the people who appear before them, whether in civil, criminal, or family law. This is why I take this duty and this process so seriously. We all know this is not an easy task because our decisions affect the person, and his family, who has chosen to put his name up to be evaluated publicly and with full transparency. But the Hawaii Constitution makes it clear that the Senate is to consent or disapprove the nominee. This is why the guidelines to determine whether a person should serve as a judge involve the consideration of qualities far beyond a person's academic credentials. There is not a single soul that I can think of who would challenge the academic credentials of this native son. Far more difficult than Mr. Kim's intelligence is to measure and evaluate other areas which cannot be objectively proven or disproven, such as an admonishment, a criticism, a reversal. That is what makes this process so difficult."

"Like Mark Recktenwald before this Body, Mr. Kim is also, as I said earlier, a graduate of Harvard University. And although Mr. Recktenwald during his process was fairly expediently decided upon, there was a reason and difference that made this one so difficult. And it speaks to judicial temperament – a quality which cannot be proven or disproven – indeed, a quality that is subjective. That is what makes this process such a difficult one."

"In an article by the Institute for Judicial Studies, entitled 'Defending Independence and Demanding Accountability; The Moral Compass, Relative Ethics,' it says in part: 'One requirement that the code fails to mention explicitly is judicial temperament. A criterion almost universally regarded as the important consideration in judicial selection. Interestingly, recent international law includes judicial temperament as the requirement for the ethical conduct of judges. These principles specifically provide that a judge shall be patient, dignified, and courteous in the relation to litigants, jurors, witnesses, lawyers, and all others who appear before them in an official capacity. It is perhaps the most important in the Code of Ethics and the most difficult because of its subjectivity. While judicial temperament encompasses a variety of qualities, including fair-mindedness, patience, the avoidance of arrogance and tyranny, requiring such a temperament as a matter of judicial ethics might be difficult to prove. While demeanor on the bench is easy to observe, it is so much harder to define, and what one person considers fair and patient, another might find cruel and brusque.'

"Members, as we have discussed, we live in a culture in this Chamber where all of us must make our decisions according to our conscience. It is also apparent to me, having spent time as the Chairman of the Judiciary Committee in 1987 and 1988, 20 years ago, that the culture of fear is pervasive with lawyers and the business of dispensing law. It is far easier to stand as a colleague in support of someone, particularly when you feel that someone is very likely to be confirmed. That is the situation here.

"When one looks at Mr. Kim's credentials, as I did, it was so easy to conclude that this confirmation would be easy and done over in a relatively short period of time. And in fact, as a matter of record, I felt so strongly about Mr. Kim that he was put on the original calendar at 9:00 and Mr. Recktenwald at 10:00 because I felt strongly that Mr. Kim would be dispensed of by this Body within an hour. I also, however, advised the nominee that we should not be surprised that things will, and I used the phrase 'bubble up,' although I could not imagine then that such criticism would follow. And as a matter of record, it was not an hour later, after our initial interview in my office, that Liza Tom's letter came to rest in my computer and addressed to Jeff Portnoy, President of the Hawaii State Bar Association, and myself in my capacity as Chairman of the Judiciary Committee. That is what started the odyssey of finding judicial temperament in Mr. Kim, because the letter, which all of you have, speaks to temperament, at least through the eyes of one deputy prosecuting attorney.

"But before minimizing the one deputy prosecuting attorney, it should be noted that she is a recipient of the top gun award given by Prosecutor Peter Carlisle as one of the attorneys in his office who received the most victories in trials that are resolved by juries. So, if we choose to minimize Liza Tom, let us do it in the context of what apparently the Prosecutor, through his own rules, awarded her as a litigant who received the most jury trial victories for a particular year.

"In Ms. Tom's letter to me, and as a prosecuting attorney in Los Angeles, she invited Jeff Portnoy and myself to call her. I do not know if Mr. Portnoy called her, but I did. She said to me things which were disparaging about the nominee, but she said to me there were others who would corroborate his behavior. And she said that she would speak to them and ask them if it was appropriate for me to call them. She did and she supplied me with names and numbers of former deputy prosecuting attorneys who worked with Mr. Kim. And I called them. They did then and do so now, wish to remain anonymous and confidential because they fear reprisals, true or imagined, by the nominee should he become a judge. I have honored that confidentiality, and as opposed to the anonymous letters received at Mr. Recktenwald's, these individuals I spoke to directly.

"One individual in particular said to me that they knew that I was a friend of another deputy prosecutor and if I would call that deputy, she would also corroborate. And she is the one who I know personally and corroborated the incidents of abuse - office abuse. But she said there was another attorney who was a supervisor who would also corroborate, but she could not remember the name. And a day later she left a message for me that that person is Lynn McGivern. And that is how the name of Lynn McGivern has come to light before this Chamber. Lynn McGivern would not come public during our telephone conversation. She was head, at one time, of the Domestic Violence Misdemeanor and Domestic Violence Felony Sections. She would not come forward. So I asked her if she would consider speaking to the Senate President as well as myself, so that there could at least be someone else who could hear what was being spoken. She agreed, and we met on a Sunday. At the end of the conversation on Sunday, she said, 'I will not come forward.' And to put it in as blunt a language as the Senate President can be and with her right finger pointed, the President said, 'If you lawyers don't come forward, do not bitch if he becomes a bad judge.' And that's where we left it.

"On Monday of this week, Ms. McGivern called me and she said: 'I bet you thought you'd never hear from me,' and I said, 'Yes.' And she said: 'I will come forward if the Senate compels me with a subpoena.' And that is how she came forward on Wednesday.

"Members, as you know, a lawyer testifying under oath faces grave consequences of losing his or her license if she lies. That standard is not a standard that is required of others, but it is required of lawyers. And, therefore, whether I agree or disagree with Ms. McGivern, I agree that her testimony, as far as she was concerned, was the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth. And I respect that.

"What is so difficult for the Committee and so difficult for me is not whether it was the whole truth, but how Mr. Kim would respond to what Ms. McGivern, under oath, testified. I was disappointed when Mr. Kim said, 'I never did that, and I categorically deny what she said.' It would have been so much easier for me if Mr. Kim, an intellect, said, 'Mr. Chairman and members, I can understand that she may feel this way; I can understand that she in fact believes that she is telling the truth because of the standard lawyers are held to under subpoena, but respectfully, Mr. Chairman and members, I disagree. She may feel this way, but with all due respect, I see it a little differently.'

"I was stunned when he said, 'I never, ever engaged.' I was stunned when he said, 'I categorically deny.' Because, in essence, he was saying to the Committee that Ms. McGivern had perjured herself as a lawyer before this Body. That is the difficulty of trying to understand an intellect and trying to reconcile judicial temperament.

"There are some of you who have said to me that there are worse judges presently presiding on the bench. And I agree. There are judges in disagreement to the arguments of the lawyer who turn their back to the lawyer in utter contempt of the lawyer's efforts to advocate for the lawyer's client. I agree. There was one public defender who said to me, 'You must confirm him because the other five are worse.' That's not the reason to confirm him. That is to say that some of the directors some of you may be confirming must be confirmed because the next nominee will be worse. That's not the basis of rational decision making.

"This has been a most difficult process for me personally, and I'm sure for many of you. I know some of you have called him privately in your office, and I know some of you have been given the same response that we were given on the Judiciary Committee as late as this morning. I know that because you have shared that with us. But, I want to recall with you what Vickie Viotti of the Honolulu Advertiser said to me at approximately 5:30 last night. She said to me, 'Isn't there a reasonable doubt that in fact Mr. Kim would be a good judge?' My answer was this: 'When such reasonable doubt exists, we have a duty and an obligation to err on the side of the people. We are elected by the people. We are here to serve the people.'

“Such reasonable doubt exists with me, and I’m sure exists with many of you. It becomes a question that when such reasonable doubt exists, regardless that he is an intellect and scholar, regardless that many have come in support of Mr. Kim, and regardless that some have come with the courage to be identified in opposition of Mr. Kim, regardless of the reason, if such doubt exists, we must err on the side of the people who charged us with the duty to represent them. The process of confirmation is not to disprove his worthiness to serve; it is for the nominee to prove to the Senate his worthiness to move on. That’s the troubling aspect of a native son who is truly an intellectual, accomplished hero of Vietnam. That is what makes this process so difficult.

“That is why, with all due respect to Mr. Kim, his family, his friends, I rise to oppose the nomination because of the remaining reasonable doubt that exists. Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Hemmings rose in favor of the nominee and said:

“Madam President, I rise to speak in favor of the nominee, Glenn J. Kim for the First Circuit Court, State of Hawaii.

“Madam President, colleagues, this in so many ways is a test for who we are and what we are doing as our constitutional duty is to advise and consent on behalf of those whom we are elected to serve. This is an opportunity, we the members of the Senate, to demonstrate the attributes of wisdom and integrity and nobility that we rightfully demand from the nominees to the judicial branch of government. I would suggest our virtues will likewise be judged by what we do here today. I ask my colleagues to make this a proud day for the Senate and to vote in the affirmative for this imminently qualified, respected, and deserving nominee, Glenn J. Kim.

“Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Nishihara rose and said:

“Madam President, I ask that my comments be inserted into the journal.”

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Nishihara’s remarks read as follows:

“Madam President and Colleagues, I rise in support of the nomination of Mr. Glenn Kim to the First Circuit Court. Two days ago I was one of the members of the Judiciary and Labor Committee that voted not to recommend Advise and Consent of Mr. Kim. I did so with a great deal of angst and inner conflict. To have to vote against someone who came with tremendous support of his peers and superiors was not easy. Mr. Kim’s answers, in questioning by others as well as myself, made the duty of deciding on his confirmation even more difficult and troubling. However, I was unsatisfied even after I voted.

“I had resolved to speak to Mr. Kim the next day, to give him another opportunity to satisfy my concerns. We met yesterday afternoon. When he left, I was faced with the uncomfortable conclusion that I might have to reconsider my previous vote.

“Colleagues, I feel that one of the hardest things for anyone to do is to face up to reevaluating and reconsidering the actions one has taken. It is even more problematic when it has to be in an environment of political scrutiny.

“Mr. Kim, to many, has in their sense, measured up to what they believe are the requisite qualities to make him an excellent judge. Following my discussion yesterday with Mr. Kim which addressed my concerns, I am now confident that he does possess those qualities; therefore, I will vote in favor of the nominee, in opposition to the recommendation that I myself was a part of two days ago.

“I do not ask others to follow my lead. I only ask that you follow your own sense of justice in deciding your vote today.

Senator Sakamoto rose to speak in opposition of the nomination as follows:

“I believe judges need to be able to see all sides of an issue, and when a case comes before him or her, they need to keep an open mind and to see the faults of others and to understand how to fairly deal with people. In hearing and reading part of the testimony, I believe the candidate holds a strong image of himself and doesn’t see the faults perhaps others see in him, and I believe a judge needs to be able to see his or her own faults to better deal fairly to those that come before him or her.”

Senator Trimble rose in favor of the nominee and said:

“Colleagues, you may have noticed that my staff is of a different generation and a different gender than I. My challenge to them yesterday was not what remarks I should say on the Floor, but what remarks would they say if they had the opportunity. And so, I would like to read a couple of excerpts they gave me so perhaps you could share my experience in hearing from a different generation and a different gender.

“How can the Senate bear to deny this incredibly qualified, scrupulously honest, genuinely caring, extremely intelligent, well-meaning individual, a judicial position? It is ridiculously superficial to deny someone a judicial position based upon their use of a four-letter word. His actions surely show him to be a caring individual. The theme of the testimony has been actions which show him to care for others, particularly those in positions that are less important and less able to defend themselves. Furthermore, his intent to serve must be apparent by his choice to serve a government agency rather than work for a lucrative law firm and the endless testimony as to his honesty to the point of scrupulousness, as well as his willingness and availability to help others to his own detriment, in spite of his own heavy case load. He definitely has not only the character and judicial temperament to be a judge, but the keen analytical mind, comprehensive understanding of law, as well as the excellent discernment to some immature women’s displeasure. He is certainly one of the most highly qualified judicial nominees and it would be a disservice to deny him a judicial position in the First Circuit.”

“Thank you, Madam President.”

The motion was put by the Chair and, Roll Call vote having been requested, carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

ORDER OF THE DAY

RE-REFERRAL OF HOUSE BILLS

The Chair re-referred the following House bills that were received:

- | | |
|------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| House Bill | Referred to: |
| No. 154, H.D. 1 | Committee on Judiciary and Labor |
| No. 1003, H.D. 3 | Jointly to the Committee on Energy and Environment and the Committee on Education, then to the Committee on Ways and Means |

No. 1140, H.D. 1 Committee on Tourism and Government Operations, then to the Committee on Ways and Means

No. 1171, H.D. 1 Jointly to the Committee on Tourism and Government Operations and the Committee on Judiciary and Labor, then to the Committee on Ways and Means

No. 1440, H.D. 3 Committee on Public Safety, then jointly to the Committee on Judiciary and Labor and the Committee on Ways and Means

No. 1750, H.D. 2 Committee on Judiciary and Labor

Senator Fukunaga, Chair of the Committee on Economic Development and Taxation, requested a waiver of the notice requirement pursuant to Senate Rule 21 for the following House Bills:

- H.B. No. 317;
- H.B. No. 1277; and
- H.B. No. 1755.

Senator Fukunaga noted:

“Madam President, the hearing notice for these measures was prepared on Friday afternoon, and in the hustle-and-bustle of the day, they were not able to be filed in time before the Clerk’s Office closed.”

The Chair then granted the waiver.

Senator Hemmings rose on a point of personal privilege and stated:

“Madam President, colleagues, one of the great blessings bestowed upon us by our predecessors generations ago is the freedoms of democracy, and one of the great geniuses of our system is that we can reinvent ourselves to our betterment. Our ability to recognize our shortcomings and make the amendments and changes necessary to do that is so important to our success. I was so proud of this Senate Body on Friday the way things happened here on the Floor and the way that we arrived at our conclusions on that vote for Glenn Kim. But we cannot let, as happened in Committee, anyone’s pursuits, biases, or vindictiveness damage the reputation of this Senate.

“This same situation happened in Congress over 50 years ago at the national level. Particulars were revealed in a 2003 document sequestered for 50 years. The document indicted a U.S. Congressman for flouting the rights of individuals, smearing their reputations, as well as other legislative improprieties, including the misuse of subpoena process and hearsay testimony. That incident in Congress spawned a new term in the vernacular of politics – it’s called ‘McCarthyism.’

“Here in Hawaii under the current system, some could say we recently experienced shopping for adverse testimony and possibly the misuse of the subpoena process. Madam President, I only offer these comments because I sincerely want us to be better than what we just experienced, and I think we can, Madam President. And so, what I’d like to do is offer two rule changes for the Majority to consider, and that number one rule would be that we issue subpoenas with the approval of the Committee that’s seeking it. And then with your consent, Madam President, I think this would help protect the democratic process, but also protect your office Madam President; and that secondly, we institute a rule that would simply preempt anonymous testimony. If something needs to be pursued, it should not be pursued publicly based on anonymous testimony. I offer these rule changes in the spirit of cooperation and in hopes that we can improve the process for the benefit of everybody concerned.

“I want to close on a very positive note. I think this Senate can stand very proud under your leadership, Madam President, because of what happened Friday. We debated on the Floor, openly and honestly, an issue and everybody voted their conscience, and when that’s done, as it was done Friday, no matter which way you voted, I think we all can be proud.

“Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Hooser rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

“Madam President, I want to also compliment you on your leadership on Friday, and I think the process went well. It was open, fair, and deliberative, and I’d like to just offer a few comments, a few remarks about the subpoena process and make it clear that the way the process is now is within our Rules, and though our fundamental constitutional responsibility is to offer advise and consent – and that is our obligation, it’s our responsibility – we need to do that in the manner that our constituents expect of us. We need to dig deep on these matters, but we also have a responsibility, I think, Madam President, to protect those that would like to offer testimony on these issues but are afraid.

“I believe that that’s really why we’re here today, and I think that’s a fundamental question why we’re here today – that people are afraid to offer testimony critical of the Governor’s nominees. And when members, committee chairmen, and others receive anonymous testimony or anonymous phone calls, faxes, or personal communications – I know in my personal situation when I receive those kinds of communications, especially when they’re people known to me, and when those allegations or those communications are credible, or when many, many people come with the same allegations, the same charges, the same concerns – I believe that puts us in a dilemma as public policymakers. How are we to do our jobs when we’re faced with this information from credible sources, but people are afraid to come forward and testify? I think that’s really the issue – how do we do our jobs properly in the face of this fear? And I have to add, too, that there are many, many nominations that pass through without question or with minimal question, minimal opposition. But in a few cases, yes, there seems to be repeated concerns, repeated allegations, both anonymous and not.

“I think the Committee Chairs and some members of the committee often receive these same anonymous telephone calls. Fortunately, though, when asked, some of these witnesses are willing to testify before the Committee and to do so openly, but only if they receive the protection of the Senate. To protect these people that want to testify but are afraid to do so, the Senate Rules allow the Senate President to issue subpoenas. If this was done otherwise in Committee, the reality is that there would be much additional pressure on these people to change their mind or to pull back. It would be exposing them to undue pressure.

“Our existing Rules allow the Senate President to issue subpoenas in a way that would provide the needed protection from witnesses from repercussions and reprisals and prevent the witness from being unduly pressured into withdrawing or changing his or her mind, and to allow the Senate to properly perform its constitutional duties to advise and consent. It’s clear that we’re within our legal purview and the big question of concern again is not about our authority to subpoena, but it’s why we’re even having this discussion. People are afraid to come forward unless we offer them the protection and I believe that when the allegations are serious and credible, it is our responsibility and our duty to follow-up to offer these protections and to investigate and to do our due diligence properly prior to offering advise and consent.

Senator Sakamoto rose and said:

“Madam President, I’d just like a clarification from the previous speaker. He has used the term ‘anonymous’ as perhaps the speaker before him. At least for myself, I received two types of sometimes ‘negative’ or ‘with concerns’ testimony. One type is that there is no signature, there is no return address, and there is no way to know who sent it, which I, myself, would say that was anonymous. We do receive other types where the person wishes their name, or their identification, or their position not to be revealed for fear of retaliation either by the nominee or by others who seem to be advocating. So, I wanted clarification in your use of the word ‘anonymous.’ Was it the former where nothing is said, or was it where people fear the retaliation either by the nominee or by other parties who seem to be supporting the nominee?”

Senator Hooser rose to respond as follows:

“Madam President, a brief response. My response is the second one – it’s people that are afraid and fearful, but who are perhaps known to me or known to other people, but just afraid of retribution or consequences as a result of that testimony. Thank you.”

Senator Hemmings rose in response as follows:

“I think both are problematic in the fact that the accused – in this case, some innocent person that wants to give up much in their private life to serve the public – is being accosted anonymously without the opportunity to face their accuser. And unfortunately in the criminal justice system or even in the civil system, in the court of law, that is one of the fundamental rights of an American, and I think it should be a fundamental right of anyone standing before this Committee for advise and consent to know who their accusers are and have the right for their testimony against them to be weighted and have an opportunity for them to rebuke that testimony if need be. And so, anonymous testimony should not be tolerated under either circumstance.

“Thank you, Madam President.”

No. 1108, H.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO STATUTORY REVISION: AMENDING OR REPEALING VARIOUS PROVISIONS OF THE HAWAII REVISED STATUTES AND THE SESSION LAWS OF HAWAII FOR THE PURPOSE OF CORRECTING ERRORS AND REFERENCES, CLARIFYING LANGUAGE, AND DELETING OBSOLETE OR UNNECESSARY PROVISIONS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, none. Excused, 2 (Kim, Whalen).

H.B. No. 1393:

Senator Hee moved that H.B. No. 1393, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Trimble rose in opposition and said:

"Madam President, I rise to speak against this bill.

"Colleagues, the hour is late; the crowd has left, but before we change law, public discussion that has not occurred in the Committee hearings is important. This bill seeks to eliminate home addresses from the public record as it relates to certain payroll records. Is this good? Is it bad? Have you thought about why it was part of the public domain previously?

"If you looked at when the Legislature passed the original legislation to open up the executive branch for public scrutiny, there was a process, and I happened to be in the executive branch when we went through this time-consuming process of looking at everything we had in the file and trying to decide whether disclosure to the public was in the public interest or whether we were disclosing private information. Every record we had, we carefully went through, and if we thought that a bit of data was personal and did not have a public purpose, we made an argument for keeping it confidential. The executive branch went through this process.

"Now, I'm not privy to know, in any other division other than the division I served in, how they concluded that in this particular record regarding payroll records that disclosure of home address was significant, but I am aware of what have occurred with public contracts and payroll records in other cities across the United States, which would make one wonder whether this was a similar consideration in Hawaii. If somebody is an employee, I think it's important that we know whether he lives in Wahiawa, Hilo, or Boston. If I were an employer in Colorado and I saw that some name I was familiar with – and we no longer have social security numbers so I can't check that – had a home address that I was familiar with, maybe there might be more public disclosure that how can somebody have two jobs paid by two different parties, and this is easier to determine if the home address is public.

"We do not have the institutional knowledge to know why 15 years ago, or so, this was considered part of the public record. Until we know why it was originally there, I don't think it's a good idea to unilaterally say no, the public interest will no longer be served by having this in the public domain.

"For that reason, I will vote against this bill. Thank you."

Senator Hee rose on the measure and said:

"Madam President, this measure is brought to protect the privacy . . ."

The Chair interjected:

"For what purpose do you rise?"

Senator Hee responded:

"To support the bill, Madam President.

"This measure is to protect the privacy of authorizing agencies to withhold from public disclosure individuals' home addresses because it was supported by the Office of Information Practices and is not generally required to be disclosed under the personal privacy exemption of Chapter 92F. This measure extends to home addresses the same protection currently provided to individuals' social security numbers in payroll records, of public work contracts, and other government records concerning public hires and consultants.

"I urge my colleagues to vote 'yes.'"

Senator Ihara rose and said:

"Madam President, could I ask the Judiciary Chair a question on a point of information?"

The President then inquired:

"Senator Hee, will you accept the point of information?"

Senator Hee replied:

"No."

Senator Ihara then requested a recess.

At 12:15 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:16 o'clock p.m.

Senator Ihara rose on the measure and said:

"Madam President, my question to myself or to the Senate, and I'll answer it, is would this bill, if passed, prohibit agencies from releasing the city and state of the employees? And the answer is no. So, that information is still available to the public.

"Thank you."

Senator Trimble rose in rebuttal and said:

"Madam President, I stand in brief rebuttal.

"Colleagues, and I think it was before the Chair of the Judiciary was in this elected Body, I think it was either four or five years ago . . . and again, we had some changes in the Office of Information Practices in terms of personnel and we had an individual that lived on the Big Island that delighted in the habit of sending faxes. And first, the Office of Information Practices wanted us to or sought to require each of us, if we received a fax from somebody that was not in our district that didn't relate to anything we did – in this particular case it was a memorandum of the Governor to the executive branch – the Office of Information Practices sought to convince us that that particular record, because we received it on a fax, that particular piece of paper should become part of our official record as a Senator. And later in the Session, after some thinking, they decided to introduce a bill that allowed them, or allowed us to request them to designate a particular individual as a vexatious requestor, and only one Senator, at that moment, stood up and on the Floor of the Senate opposed that bill. Fortunately, that bill did not become law.

"I do not doubt that the current people in the Office of Information Practices say or said what the Judiciary Chair said they did, but it does not relate to what I gave you as a description of the process that the executive branch went through over 15 years ago to decide what should be in the public domain and what should not. No one has answered that question. What we are trying to do is not prevent government from examining the public record. Honesty in this community is the responsibility of every citizen. That is the intent behind having information public – not public for other government entities, but public for individuals.

"The Chair of the Judiciary Committee has not addressed that. We, as individuals, should have the right to examine records and if we see one individual that is receiving income for three or four different sources and lives at a single address, maybe that's important; maybe that should be public information and maybe the press ought to report it.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 1393, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE UNIFORM INFORMATION PRACTICES ACT (MODIFIED)," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, 1 (Trimble). Excused, 3 (Bunda, Kim, Whalen).

H.B. No. 1158:

Senator Hee moved that H.B. No. 1158, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Trimble rose in opposition and said:

"Madam President, I rise in opposition to H.B. No. 1158.

"Colleagues, the bill tries to do two things. One is it seeks to increase penalties. The other thing is that it seeks to change the commonly understood meaning of the word arson. The meaning that most of us grew up with is intentionally using fire to destroy property and/or life. The bill, as currently written, changes that definition to talk about fire that resulted in loss of property or life that occurred in a reckless manner.

"I would like each of you to reexamine your life, because I believe that common sense is experienced based and we acquire this common sense by doing things that perhaps in some occasion our parents, or our colleagues, or our friends, or our playmates consider as reckless. Fortunately, and almost all, well, in all of the cases where I grew up, this type of behavior perhaps did not result in unpleasant consequences to anyone other than myself.

"I would hate to see society change its nature to think in terms of criminality in terms of reckless behavior. We do not, as a basis of law, have recklessness in the first degree, second degree, or third. We look at what happens, usually not what it was intended, not whether it was careless, but what actually resulted. That should be the basis for our desire to punish people. And so, when we change, we morph the definition of the word arson to include behavior that may be reckless, I think it's wrong.

"Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Hee rose in favor of the measure and said:

"Madam President, I rise to speak in favor of the bill.

"It's real simple – this bill is because of people who throw a cigarette butt or kids who play under the kiawe tree and end up burning in excess of 10,000 acres. This bill amends it because the bill was flawed and it had 10,000 . . . I beg your pardon, 10,000 square feet. It didn't say 'or more,' so it had to be 10,000 square feet. It was an oversight on the Legislature last year.

“The Governor has asked us to consider, and we have considered the Governor’s request. The Governor has asked us to also consider that ‘recklessly’ be measured to the extent that it is an offense of arson in the fourth degree for any fires or causes property to be burned.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 1158, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ARSON,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, 1 (Trimble). Excused, 3 (Bunda, Kim, Whalen).

H.B. No. 1427:

On motion by Senator English, seconded by Senator Inouye and carried, H.B. No. 1427, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MOTOR VEHICLES,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Noes, none. Excused, 3 (Bunda, Kim, Whalen).

Senator Kokubun rose in support of the nominee and said:

"Madam President, I rise in strong support to advise and consent to Gov. Msg. No. 272, confirming Micah A. Kane as Chairman of the Hawaiian Homes Commission for another four years.

"Madam President, let me start first by telling all of you about a story that I have about three individuals, actually, who were serving on the Hawaiian Homes Commission prior to Mr. Kane first assuming the Chairmanship of that Commission. These are kind of mentors and kupuna to me. Two are from the Big Island – one, Mr. Henry Cho from South Kona; the other is Mr. Herring Kalua from Keaukaha Panaewa. The other is Tommy Contrades from the Island of Kauai. They were all appointed by the previous Governor, Governor Cayetano, and are very strong Democrats. They told the story that when they first met Mr. Kane and met with him as commissioners, they expressed to him their strong hope that partisanship would not be included in his directorship for the department and the commission and that always the goal would be to further the people of Native Hawaiian ancestry and the beneficiaries of the trust.

"It was very, very pleasing for me to note that in our confirmation hearing Mr. Kane also mentioned those three individuals and informed the Committee that in fact they had had a strong influence on his decision making. Now, you have to understand that people like Henry Cho and Herring Kalua are kind of crusty, tough guys. They're the 'old school.' They're the kind of guys that when they greet you, they give the head nod and expect you to pay deference to them. All of their reports in serving on the commission and being off the commission, to me personally, has been exactly that – that Mr. Kane has not taken into account the partisanship issue, that he has really worked hard for the beneficiaries of the trust. So I wanted to just share that with all of you.

"Let me also tell you that I think one of the major issues that Mr. Kane has initiated in his job has been the concept of creating hope for the beneficiaries of the trust, and he has done that by creating a program, a new program called 'HOAP' but the acronym is H-O-A-P for Home Ownership Assistance Program. This program teaches financial practices to improve credit, reduce debt, and accumulate savings for the beneficiaries. The ultimate goal of HOAP is to empower beneficiaries to qualify and purchase or construct homes on Hawaiian Home Lands. Over the past two years, the Hawaiian Homes Commission has invested more than $1.3 million into this program and is currently serving more than 1,700 beneficiary families through home ownership counseling and education.

"I think this really kind of epitomizes the creative ability of Mr. Kane in terms of putting together new programs to benefit the people of Native Hawaiian ancestry.

"Also, one of the major concerns that have been expressed previously was the responsiveness of the department and the commission to concerns raised by individual communities. I wanted to just share with you a quote from another good friend from the Big Island, Craig 'Bo' Kahui, who is President of the Kaniohale Community Association of the Villages of Lai'opua. Bo said in his comments at the confirmation hearing that 'Micah has a commitment to grassroots initiatives within communities, including a multipurpose community center that provides social, educational, recreational, cultural, medical, and dental services to the people of Lai'opua.'

"In my district, in the Second District, there is also a group in a homestead area called Maku'u and they have a farmers' association there and they have taken the initiative on their own to create a farmers' market that provides a venue for not only Native Hawaiians in that area, but others in the community to sell produce and other products, and that has become very successful. It's become so successful, in fact, that it was creating a traffic hazard on Highway 130, a state highway. They brought that to my attention and I worked both with Micah as well as Ben Henderson on trying to resolve that issue, and through their perseverance in working with the Department of Transportation and working with the Legislature to get the appropriation approved, that we are now able to provide and address the concerns of the Maku'u farmers as well.

"In Mr. Kane's comments to us, he always emphasizes the fact that the strength of the department is with the staff and the beneficiaries, but he always emphasizes the aspect of teamwork. I know that he's always very, very complimentary to not only his current team but the work that previous administrators have done with the department. Let me just tell you what he had to say about the department's strengths: 'The strength of our department lies with our staff and beneficiaries. There is a synergy between our team at the Department of Hawaiian Home Lands and our beneficiary group – those on the land and those we are trying to get on the land. I do not believe this synergy existed at this high level at any time in the history of our trust. This is a very powerful asset to possess.' I think he certainly brings that ability to coalesce people to the table.

"Mr. Kane also has a willingness and the courage to place controversial issues on the table to address not only current concerns but future concerns as well. He's been very consistent in that approach, I think, and he's always solution-driven, and he's not just trying to satisfy constituencies but really to come up with solutions that address the broad needs of the community.

"Many of you know Tony Sang, Anthony Sang. He's the Chairman of the State Council of Hawaiian Homestead Associations. Mr. Sang had this to say in our confirmation hearing: 'Reassuring communities that there is a workable solution to addressing legal challenges to the very existence of the Hawaiian Homes Commission is a major asset of Micah Kane. Micah has been loyal in word and action on every island of the state and in Washington DC in defending and supporting the Hawaiian Homes Commission.'

"Randy Perreira, Deputy Executive Director for the HGEA had this to say about the different initiatives that Micah has put forward: 'Micah has the ability to take an entrepreneurial approach to developing existing parcels as well as to work with other landowners to leverage favorable considerations for the lands under his management and has greatly improved the effectiveness of the agency.'

"This idea about the ability of the commission and the trust to exist into the future is something that I know we're all very aware of. Micah had this to say in his confirmation hearing and he characterizes this as, I guess, a weakness, but not necessarily a weakness of the department but the fact that the department must always defend itself in terms of its right to exist: 'We spend much of our time defending the trust from legal challenges. It is the reason we have supported and lobbied for the passage of the Akaka Bill. We will continue to seek passage of this important measure that will help keep the Hawaiian Homes Trust healthy for the benefit of Native Hawaiians in the State of Hawai'i.' I thought this was also very telling about Micah's foresight.

"I asked him to talk about his vision and what he ultimately wanted to see the commission do and where the department should be in the future. As you all know, we're trying to focus on our sustainability effort ourselves and what does that mean 50 years from today. I'm not sure if this is the 50-year timeframe, but let me just tell you what he mentioned to us in his written remarks. He said, 'Ultimately, I envision a department that is so successful that we will succeed in working ourselves out of a job – there will not be a need for the Department of Hawaiian Home Lands, our Native people, as defined in the Hawaiian Homes Commission Act of 1920, will have been fully realized.' I think that's quite a statement in terms of our future and his goal for the future.

"Let me just end, colleagues, by reading you what I think is a very telling statement about Micah Kane and these are in his own words again. He did an excellent job, by the way, in terms of responding to our questions leading up to his confirmation hearing. I'll end with this quote, 'It has been an honor serving the State of Hawai'i and the beneficiaries of the Hawaiian Homes Commission. Being given the opportunity to play a part in Prince Jonah Kuhio Kalaniana'ole's dream has been an experience of a lifetime. I have been given the opportunity to work for good people and with good people and there is not a day that I wake up not looking forward to the challenges ahead.'

"Colleagues, for these reasons, I ask for your support in confirming Micah Kane as the Chairman of the Hawaiian Homes Commission. Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Baker rose to support the nominee as follows:

"Madam President, I, too, rise in strong support of this nominee.

"One of the things that has been demonstrated concerns this nominee's innovation and concern for getting people on the land. For housing, his passion has to do with finding a solution to bring the Villages of Leiali'i out of the ashes and use the infrastructure that was just rotting on the land after we had spent almost $40 million for it. Securing the land to Hawaiian Home Lands, the Governor EOD the land over to DHHL, then Director Kane made sure that it was a good project. It's a quality project, and I know that the residents in Maui who will have an opportunity to live in those beautiful lots in Kaanapali owe a great debt of gratitude to Mr. Kane. That project was just stalled and nothing was happening with it, until Mr. Kane took charge.

"I want to applaud his leadership and his vision and we look forward to other projects that will come forward as a result of the leadership after we confirm him for another four years.

"Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Slom rose in support of the nomination and said:

"Madam President, as a member of the Water, Land Committee and a member of the Minority, I, too, rise in strong support of Micah Kane's reconfirmation.

"Those of us that know Micah Kane and have always respected him knew that there was never a question that partisanship would enter into his administration. We also knew that he is results oriented and that when he sets a goal and when he says he's going to do something, he does it. And so, we can have all the words that we want to, but the simple answer is that Micah Kane has performed and he's produced and we can measure the results of his actions.

"And as the previous speakers have indicated, he has put the people on the land. He has provided them with opportunities. And while we've talked about the difficulties and the challenges in the past, he probably has more difficulties and more challenges but he's overcome them. And despite those difficulties, he has given us a record of accomplishment and he's so passionate about what he's doing. He's the best friend that Native Hawaiians have in this state, but he's also the best friend that all citizens and taxpayers have in this state, because he's able to look at issues and judge them on their merit, not on any partisanship or political basis.

“He has a work ethic unequalled. He never asks anyone in his department to do anything that he himself is not willing to do or capable of doing. He has set lofty goals. He’s accomplished them but he looks forward to even greater accomplishments in the next four years. It was true, as the Chairman of the Committee has said, there was an overwhelming outpouring of support for this man and there was a genuine warmth and appreciation in the room from many disparate individuals as to what he’s accomplished.

“And yes, there are still many challenges ahead; and yes, there are disagreements on some things. I know that I have had a disagreement with Mr. Kane on the issue of the Akaka Bill legislation, for example, but he has always been fair-minded, open, and a gentleman. We happen to share the same position as it relates to Hawaiian Home Lands and Kamehameha Schools and the sanctity of wills and so we’re able to work together.

“I think that he is the best that we can offer to solve the many challenges and problems that we have because we don’t lose sight of what the real goal and objective is – and that is to allow people more autonomy for themselves and to allow them free choice and decision-making on their own lands.

“It is a pleasure to heartily support Micah Kane. Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Gabbard rose in support of the nominee and said:

“Madam President, as you know, a couple of months ago we were out at Kapolei for the dedication, the blessing of the Department of Hawaiian Home Lands’ new offices which will be coming up. I live in Kalaheo and I’ll be a neighbor to the offices out there. At the dedication, as you remember, it started raining and we all kind of looked at each other and said, ‘Oh, what a wonderful blessing.’ Well, the blessing started turning into more of a windy, sideways kind of blessing, and I got a chance to talk to a couple who have been waiting for a home. They’d been on the list for many, many years, and with tears in their eyes they’re going to be having a home there out in Kaupea. It was just an amazing situation, the gratitude and the appreciation they had for the work that this man is doing for Hawaiians.

“So, I would urge my colleagues to vote in favor. Thank you.”

Senator Hemmings rose to speak in favor of the nomination as follows:

“Madam President and colleagues, I’d like to enter into the record a point that has not been made this morning. I’m quite pleased with the words of the Chairman of the Water, Land, Agriculture, and Hawaiian Affairs Committee. He chose to focus on the politics of this process in recognizing that this Chairman of Hawaiian Home Lands has served his constituency void of politics. And I would suggest to the Chairman and to all of us that in his recognition of that, he’s indeed the Chairman of the Committee, recognized why this is such a wonderful day for us, because he has set a standard to confirm the Chair, or reconfirm him, based on what the individual has done and what he has done as a keiki o ka aina for the beneficiaries of this trust. And that standard is a standard this Senate should be very proud of and it should be an example for us in future considerations in this very important process of advice and consent. I think it’s a proud standard that we can all recognize.

“In speaking to the qualifications to the nominee, I’d also like to enter into the record a point that needs to be underscored that this Chairman, like some of the others, has done an absolutely wonderful job in reaching beyond the shores of these beautiful islands for resources that could benefit the people of Hawai’i – in this case, our Hawaiian culture and race. He’s worked closely with federal authorities – Dirk Kempthorne, Department of the Interior – and others at the national level to bring new resources to the State of Hawai’i. He’s worked closely with the private sector with building industry people and others in very innovative ways to develop resources for the beneficiaries. He’s brought the Hawaiian community together and given them hope for a better future for themselves where they can control their destiny.

“For all of these reasons, I’m very pleased to add our support of this nominee. I might add, Madam President and colleagues, that we stand up to make these endorsements because it’s important, I think, for the nominee and for the people of Hawai’i to recognize that we can collectively work together for the common good and that decisions aren’t made strictly on political labels or who they know but what they know. This is one of those days that we can be proud not only of the nominee but of ourselves in the process by which we reached these conclusions today.

“So, I’m very proud to add our support for this nominee in advice and consent.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Whalen).

At this time, Senator Kokubun introduced Mr. Kane and his family to the members of the Senate.

At 12:11 o’clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:18 o’clock p.m.

THIRD READING

MATTERS DEFERRED FROM FRIDAY, MARCH 16, 2007

H.B. No. 853, H.D. 2:

Senator Hee moved that H.B. No. 853, H.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Sakamoto rose in opposition to the measure and said:

“Public works projects are very important. Wage and hour on documentation is very important. Many of the contractors and contractor associations have testified in opposition to this matter. And at least in simple reading, a payroll clerk could error in a person’s classification or pay rate and perhaps that worker worked in a given week on three different jobs that could result, perhaps, in a contractor not being allowed to bid on or perform state work for several years. I feel if it’s an inadvertent mistake or easily rectified one, the punishment shouldn’t be that severe.

“So, I would ask my colleagues to vote in opposition to this measure. Thank you very much.”

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure as follows:

“I echo many of the statements made by the previous speaker but would just like to add also that the present law allows for the Department of Labor with the mandatory and progressive penalty process to actually solve and eliminate any problems. We’re talking about problems right now that may have been inadvertent. They are not a result of state of mind that has decided to violate the law and we’re talking about a situation where there is no differentiation between a minor offense or minor infraction versus something that is very serious. But the main thing is that the present law, the present conduct of the contractor is under scrutiny and the Department of Labor has full opportunities to do this.

“As the previous speaker mentioned, this may diminish the ability of contractors to willingly apply for state projects and this would result in hardship to not only the state, but to the state taxpayers because it would diminish competition and the number of people actually bidding on projects.

“We’ve seen this legislation before. We have not in the last year heard of any serious infractions or any reasons why this legislation is necessary or why the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations cannot under the present law take care of the situation.

“So, in the interest of a fair and equitable business climate, I would urge my colleagues to vote ‘no’ on this bill as well. Thank you.”

Senator Ihara rose and said:

“Madam President, could you note my support of this bill with reservations.”

The Chair so ordered.

Senators Nishihara, Baker, Fukunaga, Inouye, Gabbard and Bunda requested their votes be cast “aye, with reservations,” and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 853, H.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC WORK PROJECTS,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 16. Ayes with Reservations, 7 (Baker, Bunda, Fukunaga, Ihara, Inouye, Nishihara, Gabbard). Noes, 8 (Chun Oakland, Espero, Hemmings, Ige, Menor, Sakamoto, Slom, Trimble). Excused, 1 (Whalen).

H.B. No. 25, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

Senator Sakamoto moved that H.B. No. 25, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tokuda.

Senator Hemmings rose to speak against the measure as follows:

“Colleagues, I wish I were standing in favor of reciprocity here but as so often happens in our profession, this bill appears to be a triumph of appearances over substance. This is not a new issue and it appears that the Hawai‘i Teacher Standards Board for years has implemented a methodology that has created a teacher shortage in Hawai‘i. No doubt about that because we’ve been talking about it for many years. It’s important for us to ask what their motives are, because in declining teachers from being able to come here through genuine reciprocity to teach, they’re often turning around or turning back to the other 49 states teachers who have taught in jurisdictions that are generally and excessively outperforming our public education system here.

“So it begs the question, if they’re qualified to teach in all these other states and jurisdictions that by every measure are doing a better job of educating their young people, why aren’t they qualified here?

“This legislation was designed to be addressing that issue by establishing reciprocity. But I’d like to read from the committee report why it doesn’t, because accordingly, your committee has amended this measure by, one, requiring the Hawai‘i Teacher Standards Board to adopt policies for the issuance of licenses to teachers with out-of-state licenses who have passed similar testing requirements to those required in Hawai‘i, provided that upon adoption, administrative rules for that purpose would supersede the statutory requirement. So basically, this bill is a classic in what we’ve often referred to as Trojan horse legislation, similar to ‘no child left behind’ or ‘reinventing education.’ It’s not what it appears to be.

“If we really want to have good teachers come to Hawai‘i and teach here, especially teachers coming from jurisdictions with performances much better than Hawai‘i’s in the realm of educating our kids, let’s just give them reciprocity. This bill does not, and I would suggest that you should vote ‘no’ against it and come up with legislation that is going to allow good teachers to come to Hawai‘i and teach in our state.

“Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Sakamoto rose in support of the measure and said:

“For clarification, if we talk about reciprocity, that means that if California accepts ours and we accept theirs and everything being equal, that’s reciprocity. That is a component of the standards board to work to reciprocity and if indeed there are states that have that working together and they accept each other, that’s fine. That is not the main part of the bill.

“The bill started off saying that certain states – California, Colorado, Michigan, etc. – would be automatically given . . . the teachers with licenses in those states without reciprocity would be licensed here. Myself and others on the Committee for several years have been pressing the Teacher Standards Board to stop forcing other teachers to take our test, stop forcing teachers – many of them with 18, 30 years of experience who don’t have a license in Hawai‘i – to start at the bottom, take the Praxis.

“I believe this measure does address not having to be higher than Hawai‘i or equal to Hawai‘i but to have similar tests. And at least from the standards board, my understanding is those states that we were going to name, as well as many other states, have similar rigor in the test, but we’re not asking them to be better than or higher than Hawai‘i. At least in my understanding, this will accomplish the goal that we’re both addressing which is how to allow more teachers from out-of-state with licenses, and not 'Mickey Mouse' licenses but with valid high standard licenses, to enter Hawai'i.

"So I hope as we look at the issue, we're on the same page. We want teachers with valid licenses to be able to teach here. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 25, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TEACHER LICENSING," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Noes, 2 (Hemmings, Slom). Excused, 1 (Whalen).

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Whalen).

H.B. No. 1081:

Senator Hee moved that H.B. No. 1081, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Slom rose in opposition and said:

"Madam President, I rise in opposition to H.B. No. 1081.

"The purpose of this bill, allegedly, is to provide a voice for workers in wage disputes. But in fact, workers – and we're talking about unionized, organized workers – they already have a voice. This would have more interference from the government in setting up a legislative joint management union committee. But it would interfere with it and instead of reducing the possibility of lawsuits and allowing for the amicable settling of any disputes within the Department of Labor, it would actually encourage both additional lawsuits and probably bring in the national Labor Relations Board.

"It is a bill that is seeking a problem that in fact does not exist. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 1081, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC WORKS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, 3 (Hemmings, Slom, Trimble). Excused, 1 (Whalen).

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Whalen).

H.B. No. 657, H.D. 1:

On motion by Senator English, seconded by Senator Inouye and carried, H.B. No. 657, H.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO WAIVER OF ABANDONED VEHICLE PUBLIC AUCTION REQUIREMENTS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

ORDER OF THE DAY

ADVISE AND CONSENT

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1337 (Gov. Msg. No. 279):

Senator English moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1337 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Inouye and carried.

Senator English then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of BARRY A. FUKUNAGA as Director of the Department of Transportation, term to expire December 6, 2010, seconded by Senator Inouye.

Senator English rose in support of the nominee and said:

"Madam President, members of the Senate, I'd like to ask for your support in confirming Mr. Fukunaga as the Director of Transportation.

"Since the beginning of this year, I've gotten to know Mr. Fukunaga quite well and he's been very responsive to the inquiries by myself and by members of the Legislature, very forthcoming with information, and very enthusiastic about his future role as director.

"I'd like to quote from his committee report because I think this sums up the feelings of the people. And by the way, we had 50 testifiers and no opposition. 'Mr. Fukunaga's guiding vision as Director of Transportation is to recognize a sense of urgency in the way the DOT does its work; to be open and communicative to the public concerning DOT projects; to deliver DOT projects sooner and to do them well; to strive for excellence in the work of the DOT; and to give professional support to DOT employees. Your Committee believes that the nominee's vast experience in all aspects of transportation; his managerial experience and education; unanimous support from testifiers; ready responses to legislators' inquiries; and provision of complete information to the Legislature qualifies him to be the Director of Transportation.'

"Members, I ask for your support, as I feel that he will be a great asset to the people of Hawaii. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Whalen).

At this time, Senator English introduced Mr. Fukunaga and his family to the members of the Senate.

At 12:01 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:06 o'clock p.m.

THIRD READING

H.B. No. 1248, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

On motion by Senator Hee, seconded by Senator Kokubun and carried, H.B. No. 1248, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO NAME CHANGES," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Whalen).

H.B. No. 931, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

Senator English moved that H.B. No. 931, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Inouye.

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and said:

"Madam President, I rise in opposition to H.B. No. 931.

"Colleagues, thank you for the opportunity to speak against essentially the same bill twice. Last time I rose I said that three-wheeled mopeds are too wide for the bicycle lanes that they are expected to ride in. We can expect that the people that will be driving them are in many cases people that do not have driver's licenses, and the roads that they will be driving on are already congested.

"We have just confirmed the new director of DOT and at the hearings it was DOT that stood in opposition to this law change. I think we should consider the consequences of the new laws that we make. If this bill is enacted into law, then what we will be doing is making it easier for people to use three-wheeled mopeds on the streets of Honolulu and the City and County of Honolulu. To the extent that this becomes more and more popular and that there is that increase in the number and usage of vehicles in our state and in the county, then we will see congestion increase by that segment of our society that knows the least about driving – those that are young and those that are visitors to our islands.

"This is a safety issue. I hope that you consider it when you cast your vote. Thank you."

Senator English rose in support of the measure as follows:

"Madam President, I rise in support of the measure.

"Madam President, it appears that the previous speaker failed to read the current version of the bill that's before us because it's agreed upon by both the Department of Transportation and the proponents of this measure. It also restricts the mopeds to roadways with speed limits of 35 miles per hour or less.

"The language was well crafted by the Department of Transportation after they sat down and worked it out with the proponents. So now they have the full support of the DOT.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 931, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MOPEDES," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, 1 (Trimble). Excused, 1 (Whalen).

H.B. No. 1104, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

On motion by Senator Kokubun, seconded by Senator Tokuda and carried, H.B. No. 1104, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HISTORIC PRESERVATION," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Whalen).

H.B. No. 272, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

On motion by Senator Taniguchi, seconded by Senator Ige and carried, H.B. No. 272, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CAPTIVE INSURANCE COMPANIES," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Whalen).

H.B. No. 349, S.D. 1:

On motion by Senator Inouye, seconded by Senator English and carried, H.B. No. 349, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO COUNTY REGULATION OF COMMERCIAL BICYCLE TOURS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Whalen).

H.B. No. 1756:

On motion by Senator Inouye, seconded by Senator Tsutsui and carried, H.B. No. 1756, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO COUNTY CONCESSIONS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Whalen).

H.B. No. 1672:

Senator Baker moved that H.B. No. 1672, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Madam President, I rise in opposition to H.B. No. 1672. Again I get to speak against essentially the same bill.

"This provides for setting the salaries of certain positions in legislative services agencies to that in the executive branch. I feel that it is inappropriate on one hand to set legislative salaries of services agencies attached to us to that of the executive branch.

"Second, I want to note that it does represent a cost increase that will automatically go into effect over time without us considering whether that salary increase is merited by the facts.

"Thank you."

Senator Baker rose to speak in support and said:

"Madam President, I rise in support of this measure.

"Madam President, colleagues, the best benchmark that we have to peg salaries of our staff that do comparable work is the executive branch or to look at the counties. The executive branch is the most closely related to the kind of work that some of our service agency deputies, heads, and others undertake. If we want to continue to have capable and competent employees and attract individuals when some of our service agency personnel retire, we need to have competitive salaries.

"I believe this is an appropriate measure and I urge all my colleagues to support it. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 1672, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO LEGISLATIVE SERVICE AGENCIES," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Noes, 2 (Slom, Trimble). Excused, 1 (Whalen).

H.B. No. 1226, H.D. 1:

On motion by Senator Baker, seconded by Senator Tsutsui and carried, H.B. No. 1226, H.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING AN EMERGENCY APPROPRIATION FOR ELECTRICITY PAYMENTS STATEWIDE," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Whalen).

ADOPTION OF RESOLUTIONSMATTERS DEFERRED FROM TUESDAY, MARCH 27, 2007

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1348 (S.R. No. 21):

Senator Ige moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1348 and S.R. No. 21 be adopted, seconded by Senator Whalen.

Senator Hemmings rose to speak in favor of the resolution and said:

"Madam President, I rise to speak in favor of S.R. No. 21.

"I think it's very important for this Body to note what Congress and the Executive Branch have done in failing the legal immigrants of this nation. This resolution addresses that through implication, but it also underscores the problem.

"This resolution condemns the federal government through the citizen and immigration services for increasing fees on legal immigrants. It is an incredible hypocrisy on the part of our national government to reward the law breakers who are sneaking into this country and punish the law-abiding citizens and law-abiding immigrants who are trying to come into this country legally by increasing their fees. This is especially true in Hawaii where there is a very long backlog of immigrants trying to legally come into this country while the southern borders of the United States of America, especially along the Mexican border, are hemorrhaging illegal immigrants, many of whom could threaten the security of this nation and also the health and welfare regarding all the benefits they are automatically entitled to.

“So what kind of country are we that we keep legal immigrants off our citizenship rosters but extend all the benefits to all the illegals coming in? This is especially disastrous for the legal immigrants who are trying to come from the Philippines to join their families here in Hawaii.

“So I urge my colleagues to not only vote in favor of this resolution, but also to be acutely aware of the larger problem we face in this nation with illegal immigrants.

“Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Inouye requested remarks on S.R. No. 21 be inserted into the Journal. The Chair having so ordered, the remarks read as follows:

“I rise in support of S.R. No. 21, condemning the U.S. citizenship and immigration services fee increase. I did so because I believe that the fee increase from $400 to $675 will place a significant financial burden on immigrants who are legally going through the process of naturalization. I think it sends the wrong message to those applying for citizenship – that yes, there is a legal way to gain citizenship, but you will have to pay. Many may not be able to pay – limiting their options.

“I urge my colleagues to vote in favor of this measure.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and S.R. No. 21, entitled: “SENATE RESOLUTION CONDEMNING THE UNITED STATES CITIZENSHIP AND IMMIGRATION SERVICES’ FEE INCREASE,” was adopted.

Senator Ige moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1349 and S.R. No. 34 be adopted, seconded by Senator Whalen.

Senator Inouye requested remarks on S.R. No. 34 be inserted into the Journal. The Chair having so ordered, the remarks read as follows:

“Colleagues, I rise in support of S.R. No. 34, which urges the Civil Defense Division of the State Department of Defense to designate a lead staff to address the needs of individuals with disabilities and special health needs. The IGM and Health committees received considerable support for this measure. In the event of a natural or man-made disaster, our state needs to be prepared to service our residents and visitors, many of whom have special needs. Their needs are best understood and addressed by someone who is designated to this task.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, the joint report of the Committees was adopted and S.R. No. 34, entitled: “SENATE RESOLUTION URGING THE CIVIL DEFENSE DIVISION OF THE STATE DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE TO DESIGNATE A LEAD STAFF TO ADDRESS THE NEEDS OF INDIVIDUALS WITH DISABILITIES AND SPECIAL HEALTH NEEDS,” was adopted.

No. 58, which urges the Civil Defense Division of the State Department of Defense to designate a lead staff to address the needs of individuals with disabilities and special health needs. “Madam President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

“I wanted to acknowledge the freshman, but intimidating, Senator from the Windward side who has done a great job in putting together our Foodbank effort this year. Senator Tokuda has encouraged all of us to participate as best we can. Today, through her initiation and guidance, we actually were able to pull together the farmers as well as doing a farmers’ market as a benefit for the Foodbank. So I appreciate her initiative in moving us in that direction.

“She is such an intimidator. My understanding is that she has challenged the House to a number of competitions with respect to the Foodbank. They have declined them all. (Laughter.) So, I think that speaks very highly of her. She will continue her efforts in that regard and heaven help us with all the other efforts that she’s going to put here before all of our colleagues.

“Really, on behalf of all of us, Senator Tokuda, thank you very much for your efforts.”

ORDER OF THE DAY

ADVISE AND CONSENT

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1354 (Gov. Msg. No. 266):

Senator Kokubun moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1354 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Tokuda and carried.

Senator Kokubun then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of SANDRA LEE KUNIMOTO as Chairperson of the Board of Agriculture, term to expire December 31, 2010, seconded by Senator Tokuda.

Senator Kokubun rose in support of the nominee and said:

"Madam President, I rise to support Gov. Msg. No. 266, confirming as Chairperson of the Board of Agriculture, gubernatorial nominee Sandra Lee Kunimoto.

"Let me start by first saying the confirmation hearing was sort of like putting together a fan club for Sandra Kunimoto because there were over 60 testimonies that were submitted all in support, including eight from within her department. On top of that, there were no testimonies in opposition, and that is just phenomenal, in my consideration. But perhaps it's understandable when you listen to some of the sectors that were providing input on this nominee.

"Let me start by reading into the Journal testimony from Andy Hashimoto who is the Dean of the University of Hawaii's College of Tropical Agriculture and Human Resources. He really spoke to her broad experience before becoming Chair of the Board of Agriculture. He said in his testimony, 'During her first term as the Board of Agriculture's Chairperson, Ms. Kunimoto has been instrumental in promoting collaboration among various agriculture organizations, including CTAHR, the College of Tropical Ag; the Hawai'i Farm Bureau Federation; the Hawai'i Agricultural Research Center; the US Department of Agriculture's Pacific Basin Agricultural Research Center; and the Hawai'i Department of Agriculture. Her diverse employment experience in private sector agricultural firms, at CTAHR, at HARC, and in government administration is reflected in her effectiveness in bringing different stakeholder groups together to work as a team and find equitable solutions to difficult problems.'

"It's significant to also note, and I want you to understand how her staff feels about Sandy. Earl Yamamoto, staff planner, who's been with the department for many, many years had this to say: 'She has a unique management style, and one outstanding attribute is her willingness to consider all options then acting to bring a concept to reality and make changes later to improve the law. The struggle to pass important agricultural land legislation spanned a generation and brought together, or at least within spitting distance of one another, deeply entrenched adversaries. Many compromises had to be made, but what resulted is a law with policy and guidance that is fundamentally sound to identify and protect important agricultural lands and increase the likelihood of their productive agricultural use.'

"I think we all want to hear from the users, if you will, or the people who are served by the Department of Agriculture so I think it's appropriate that I quote Dean Okimoto who is now the president of the Hawai'i Farm Bureau Federation. He says, 'We have had a good working relationship with Ms. Kunimoto as she has always kept an open-door policy with our organization to address the many issues facing the industry. We always felt that we could call her anytime we had a concern or just wanted to talk about different ideas or issues. Under her leadership, she has made positive changes within the department as well as improved interagency collaboration. We appreciate Ms. Kunimoto's efforts and willingness to work with the Farm Bureau and the agriculture industry throughout her last tenure and we look forward to a continuing productive relationship with her over the next four years.'

"I think all of these really speak to the broad depth of Sandy's ability to reach people and to advocate for the industry, and that has resulted, I think, in a very sound direction for our ag industry. As many of you know, yesterday we had Ag Awareness Day and it was an opportunity for many vendors, many people who advocate for various aspects of the industry to be here with us at the capitol, and all of them in unanimity support Sandy and her reconfirmation as the board Chair for the Board of Agriculture.

"Lastly, let me just quote a former employee of hers, a good friend of mine, actually, from the Big Island who served as her deputy for two years. She said, and this is a very simple quote, 'I will simply say that there is only one candidate for the post, and that is Sandy Kunimoto.'

"Colleagues, I really think that all of this testimony speaks to her abilities. You all know her personally, and it's my real pleasure to ask all of you to support her nomination as Chair for the Board of Agriculture.

"Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Slom rose to support the nominee as follows:

"Madam President, as a member of the Agriculture Committee and on behalf of the Minority I offer my strong support for Gov. Msg. No. 266 for Ms. Kunimoto.

"As the Chairman said, the testimony was overwhelming and it was unanimous. It came from a diverse group of participants in agriculture. One thing we've seen over the past four years because of the Senate and because of the leadership in this department, agricultural issues are once again on the front burner, as they should be. Agricultural issues show the importance of our food gathering and all of the people that are involved and the issues that are involved. The difference is that we have tremendous issues that have developed – emergency issues with food security, terrorism, water usage and so forth – and Sandra Kunimoto has shown an ability not only to tackle these issues, but as the Chairman said, to bring many people together to the table – people that have different interests, different concerns. It's not to say that these issues have been solved, because they have not. They're going to go on, but she is the right person for this job.

"She does have leadership ability that she has exercised every day on the job and we've seen dramatic changes take place during the past four years. The quarantine changes themselves, after 90 years of stubborn status quo non-change we saw major changes take place in that area.

"We still are debating water usage and we have competing interest for that. We still are concerned about the security of our food and food supplies. All of these issues are extremely important, but she has shown the ability to go to where the problem is, to meet with the farmers, to get her hands dirty, to know what the issues really are.

"Her background – her academic background, her business background, her agricultural background – all are pluses that have helped all of the people and will continue to do that. She is a listener, but most importantly, she is someone who is action oriented, and once she has heard from disparate groups and individuals, she makes up her mind and she makes the tough choices. Again, not everyone is in agreement with all of the choices, but they are in agreement with her fairness and her ability to bring people together. They are confident that she is the person that can do the best job in this area which is going to continue to be most important.

"So it is with great pleasure that we offer our support to Ms. Kunimoto and ask all of our colleagues to do the same. Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Trimble rose with reservations and said:

"Madam President, I am now standing in front of you to offer reservations and those of my constituents.

"Colleagues, you may wonder why the Senator that represents Waikiki, the State Capitol, Kakaako rises in front with reservations about the Department of Agriculture because I represent a very urban district. I want to remind you that on March 6th there was much emotion on this Floor about GMO for taro. Genetically modified coffee was a hot issue. We as a body stand to appropriate tens of millions of dollars to confront evasive species. That was discussed on March 6th.

"I want to take you back another six weeks in time to January 23rd for a hearing at the Board of Agriculture that related to a request to import avian bird flu virus. The Board of Agriculture at the end of the hearing approved the University of Hawai'i Manoa to import avian influenza virus for laboratory research and animal inoculation studies involving laboratory mice. Avian influenza virus is not only foreign to our islands but it is also a deadly agent. Why are we even considering inviting a virus that we want to avoid? The research will be conducted in a biohazard laboratory III, level three, at the University of Hawai'i Medical School in Kakaako. The campus itself is fraught with the threat of tsunamis and harbor security issues. Moreover, Kakaako is a gateway to our economic engine, Waikiki. It is neighbor to our harbors downtown and home to many residents.

“During the January 23rd Board of Agriculture hearing, the University of Hawai‘i and the Department of Health testified in concert for virus samples for rapid field identification purposes. Their oral testimony did not reflect the true nature of the request for animal inoculation studies. Rapid identification is important. The Department of Health should assume that responsibility. The Board of Agriculture wants to allow the University of Hawai‘i to import, study and destroy the virus and the mice that they infect with it. The importation request for animal inoculation studies is not drive by health or public safety but rather by grant money for the pockets of transplant researchers. As Board Chair, she made the recommendation to the Board in a six-to-one vote in favor of that importation.

“Colleagues, that sums up my reservation. I think the issue merits your close attention both today and in the remaining days of this Session.

“Thank you, Madam President.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Ayes with Reservations, 1 (Trimble). Noes, none.

At this time, Senator Kokubun introduced Ms. Kunimoto and her family to the members of the Senate.

At 12:18 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:23 o'clock p.m.

FINAL READING

S.B. No. 14, S.D. 1, H.D. 1:

Senator Sakamoto moved that S.B. No. 14, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Tokuda.

Senator Hemmings rose to speak against the measure as follows:

“I guess there are a number of questions we could ask ourselves as a public policy body, a group of 25 Senators that are supposed to ruminate on issues and look them over and do our homework and make decisions that benefit the people of Hawai‘i through the system by which they govern themselves. What we’re doing here is quite obvious – we’re changing the methodology of having nominees come for selection to the Board of Regents for the University of Hawai‘i. But there are some questions that we should ask ourselves in voting on this bill today – why? And then once the bill will pass, which I’m sure it will, how it will be done.

“Why are we making the change? Well, I would suggest that it was not too long ago in the dark days of the recent past that there were some very serious problems in the University of Hawai‘i. And I would suggest they were indeed political, but it was not a problem induced by the system. It was a problem induced by the selector of the regents and the rubber stamping, oftentimes, given to those nominees.

“What were the problems of the not-too-distant past? The Board of Regents having a vested interest in student housing, which was a bloody mess, and profiteering from it. Selection of a UH President that bypassed the selection commission set up to find an eligible candidate and basically acquiesced to what appears to be to the wishes of a certain downtown businessman and a United States Senator. To the credit of the current Board of Regents, that individual was fired. And also, it should be entered into the record once again that a good Senator on the Floor of this Senate was very instrumental in pointing out the unbelievable exploitation of the people of Hawai‘i’s resources by that prior regents’ selected President of the University of Hawai‘i. What else? Our university professors were amongst the worst paid in the nation under prior regents.

“So we finally get a breath of fresh air in this process and we have a bipartisan system rather than a monopoly, rubberstamped regent selection process and we have a Governor who selects people based on the merit of their qualifications. And yes, some are Republican; and yes, some are Democrat. But first and foremost, they’re qualified. And what do these regents do? They elevate our university to a status of greatness that it has not seen for many, many years. Who can deny the facts?

“The great thing we have on the Floor of this Senate and in a free society is that we have the oracle of truth that Madison referred to – that is experience. We know what happened in prior administrations and we know what’s happening now. And what we have is a university with a wonderful President, David McClain, selected by this bipartisan qualified Board of Regents. What we have are university professors that are getting paid competitive salaries and are excited about the future of this state. What we have is a university that is now achieving cutting edge development and technologies that are going to benefit the economy and bring to the State of Hawai‘i research dollars that were scarce in years gone by. What we have is a university Board of Regents that’s fixing the student housing problem without trying to line their pockets in the process. What we have is a Board of Regents that sees a vision for the future of a West Oahu campus that some of the Legislators on this Floor I join in supporting very much.

“In fact, Madam President, about four years ago a very wise Legislator said to me that one of the real solutions to the problem with traffic is take the destinations to the people rather than trying to take the people to the UH. And you know what? I agree with that brilliant remark.

“We know what’s happened. So we ask ourselves, well, why this piece of legislation? What problem are we solving? And what are we doing? I’ll tell you what I think and possibly what the editors of the newspapers have editorialized against it in spite of the . . . by the way, because I know there’ll be a pop up soon to say that people voted on this through the amendment to the constitution. That doesn’t mean we have to pass this legislation the way it’s being passed. This is politics, barebones politics that take the whole process back to the dark days of the not-too-distant past where certain political elements and certain political interests are going to control the selection process to an advisory council controlled politically. And for what purpose? And for what purpose?

“I would appeal to your political consciences on this and ask you to make a decision of what’s best for the university and what’s best for the system. Certainly the people that are running the university know what’s best for them, including the University of Hawai‘i President and, I might add, the Association of Governing Boards of Universities and Colleges who oppose this blatant attempt at politics.

“You know what? I disagree with the Governor sometimes, but she’s not the problem. In this particular case, the evidence is overwhelming that she and her nominees to the Board of Regents have been part of the solution and this legislation takes us backwards to the university in the way it used to be run, or that’s where it will take us.

“So I just wanted to enter my perspective on this on the record, Madam President. I’d ask my colleagues to vote their conscience, but this is a political vote and I know how it will turn out. I, for one, am voting ‘no.’

“Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Sakamoto rose in support of the measure and stated:

“Just for everyone’s reminder, yes, the people did vote and they did not vote in a vacuum. The proposed measure very similar to the one that we’re voting on today was debated in the public forum by the Board Chair and one of the prominent members of our community, so the people did understand what they were voting on. The people don’t just vote yes on every constitutional amendment, so they understand. I trust the people’s vote.

“This measure will increase the Board of Regents. This measure will create an advisory committee of individuals that are very vital parts to our system – alumni; emeritus regents who’ve been former regents; the student leaders; the student caucuses; faculty caucuses; as well as the Governor; you, Madam President; and the Speaker of the House – to appoint people. The people appointed will have the responsibility of nominating or giving pools of nominees to the Governor for her selection, and these appointees that will be on this advisory committee shall be individuals who are widely viewed as having placed broad public interest ahead of special interest, of having achieved a high level of prominence in their respective professions, and being respected members of the community.

“Now, the previous speaker talked about the accomplishments of the current Board of Regents, and I’m not sure if he’s having a ‘senior moment’ like our other speaker here, but just as a reminder, on this very Floor of the Senate, there were nominees from the current Governor that were rejected on this Floor, and in some cases, testimony against them was because they were of a political appointment not necessarily for the benefit of the university system. So change is needed.

“This isn’t an amendment to the constitution only for this Governor. This is for the betterment of the whole system. I believe people can spout about oracles of truth, past experience, but certainly this measure moves our university away from the politics of a governor, any governor, being able to steer the university exclusively by the nominees, because the screening committee will look broadly and widely and come up with names for better people so the university system indeed can rise from where it’s at to a higher potential. Certainly, we all want to support our university system.

“Finally, I really trust the people of Hawai‘i knew what they were voting on and they do not want the system run the way it was. This isn’t a disparaging comment against any specific regent, sitting or previous, but they’ve seen times when this doesn’t sit right. Let’s do it a better way, and this bill does provide a better way.

“Thank you.”

Senator Hemmings rose in rebuttal and said:

“Madam President, I don’t have any syntax or cognitive problems. I’m not having a ‘senior moment.’ And I certainly know what I’m talking about because I’ve experienced it here on this Floor of the Senate and on the Floor of the Legislature as far back as the 80’s. I know exactly what this is all about, and the previous speaker is exactly right. There have been times in the past – not so distant past in this case – that good nominees that happen to be Republicans were rejected on this Floor in what I consider to be advice and consent inquisitions where they are hung out to dry simply because of their political affiliation. And that’s exactly why people should vote against this bill because this thing reeks of politics.

“This isn’t making the system more open and bipartisan. It’s making it closed in the very bill. You’ll have no sunshine access to the decision-making process. Who are we kidding? This is a step back in the politics. Yes, there won’t be anymore rejection of nominees on the Floor because they’re coming from the very political entity that is passing judgment of them on this Floor. To imply that prior nominees were not qualified because they were a member of a political party is an insult. And I do know about the oracle of truth, and the truth is these regents are doing a good job despite the politicization in the nominee process by this Legislature and this Senate advise and consent.

“So please, if you’re going to stand up and rebut my comments, I would ask the Majority Party please have some semblance of courtesy where they’re not trying to insult me with ‘senior moments.’ I’m not having one, Madam President.

“Thank you.”

Senator Hooser rose to support the measure as follows:

“Madam President, this bill fundamentally implements the constitutional amendment that the voters overwhelmingly supported. The words on that amendment are very clear. The voters knew what they were doing. The question, ‘Shall the Governor be required to select board of regent candidates from a pool of qualified candidates screened and proposed by a candidate advisory council for the Board of Regents of the University of Hawai‘i as provided by law?’ It’s very clear what the voters were voting on. It’s very clear the strength of their vote.

“In regards to the Minority Leader’s memory loss, I’m not quite sure what’s causing it, but I believe in fact that there’s a significant lapse of memory, lapse of recognition. I remember the moment clearly, Madam President and colleagues. It was my very first Legislative Session and I was new, had never been to the Senate before, never been to the Floor, and sitting as Vice Chair of Education having, I believe it was, six candidates, it might have been five, looking at their resumes and doing some homework on them and finding that five of the six had been major contributors to various political campaigns. One of the candidates actually on their resume – about half the resume, maybe more – was talking about the various political campaigns that person had worked on. And I thought to myself, what poor judgment to put that on your resume because it had nothing to do whatsoever with their qualifications as a regent.

“After further investigation, it came that all of these people were prominent, connected, active in the political process, several of them had their spouses, their husbands and wives, also appointed to high level important boards and commissions. I remember thinking to myself what happened to the 'new beginning'? What happened to reaching out into the community, to letting regular people on the street apply and be considered? It was really clear to me that this 'new beginning' had not lasted more than a month or two.

"Then after the hearings it became very clear also that not only was this process very heavily politicized, but a majority, or a significant number of those candidates had not done their homework, were not prepared, and in my opinion, not qualified to serve as regents. Consequently, this Body did not confirm several of them.

"After that Session was over with, a few months later in my mail, as many of us get these things in the mail, I got a policy brief – state policy brief number one – in September of 2003 from the American Association of Governing Boards of Universities and Colleges. Basically, this policy brief makes an argument for the very same thing we're voting on today. I'll read just a moment from it because I think it's important to realize this policy is grounded on best practices by the organization, again, that governs boards of universities and colleges. It says, 'This paper makes a case for establishing recruitment and screening panels to help governors appoint college and university trustees. In most states, governors have the responsibility and privilege to make appointments to many boards and commissions, but pressures from campaign donors and special interest groups sometimes compromise efforts to identify the most deserving and experienced citizens for higher education trusteeships.' And then it goes on to talk about how important these were and how important it is to rid the process of these political pressures. And it says, 'No selection process is perfect, but a rigorous process sends a message to the public and to those being considered for trusteeships that the work of these citizen boards matter and is important to the public's welfare, the quality of life in the state, and to economic development.' These are not my words. These are the words of the Association of Governing Boards of Universities and Colleges.

"If you look at this measure, you look at the recommendations that are being made in the bill that we're voting on today, they contain many of these recommendations. And for those and many, many other reasons, I urge me colleagues to vote in support.

"Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Slom rose to speak against the measure and said:

"Madam President, I was going to sit here nicely and just watch the vote roll in and all that, but things have been said that I just can't sit still for.

"When we're talking about 'senior moments,' why, I'm the king of 'senior moments' here. Every moment for me is senior. But there's nothing wrong with my memory either. I remember things that were said. I remember things that were done.

"Where to start, where to start . . . well, let's start with the people voting for the constitutional amendment proposal. It was not because the people demanded that we change the rules and the constitution. They weren't outside with bullhorns and red shirts like the rodeo Senator's friends today. It was us here in the Senate. We decided what we wanted to do – well at least the Majority did – decided what we wanted to do. And yes, the people voted for it, and I don't have any qualms about that. I don't want to argue. I will accept what the people did, just as they voted to require that those on the court retire at the age that the constitution said despite a great deal of lobbying and a great deal of discussion from here.

"I also remember a Senator in this very Body talking numerous times about how he didn't mind raising taxes if it would go for the poor and for the keiki, and then we found out he didn't pay his own taxes. But that's another 'senior moment.'

"When we say here that this has got nothing to with politics or that we're going to turn away from politics, come on! Don't insult us seniors. Don't insult anybody in the public. This is all about politics, and more importantly, it's all about power. It is the power the Legislature, and particularly the Senate, wresting power from the evil fifth floor. And the best news is that it doesn't even have to be a Republican all the time, although for 40 years all of these policies were fine. And those of us, again, that are senior that have memories remember voting for the candidates and the nominees of the then Democrat Governor. And we also remember voting and looking at the sheets – the qualification sheets – that always listed down at the bottom political party. And you know, in the 11 years that I was here or to the seven years prior to this administration's taking that off the form, I very rarely ever saw anybody that had the guts enough to put down 'I'm a Republican.' Everybody was a Democrat – everybody was a Democrat. But it didn't matter. It didn't matter for several reasons because if the individual was qualified and if the Governor appointed that person, then if we really believe in separation of powers and we really believe in accountability then we hold that Governor accountable for the people that he or she appoints. And we don't want to go into those prior hearings, which did get good television ratings and good attendance ratings, but besmirched the characters of very good individuals who were volunteering to help out in our state.

"I find it so interesting in all of the ramifications of this bill – number one, we're going to improve the university by increasing the number of regents. Why? How? And why do we increase it just by three? Why not by five, or by ten, or by fifteen? What's the magic of that number? What's the magic in the number that says that the advisory council can only provide a list of two to four names? Why not six, or eight, or ten, or twelve names? Where's the magic in that?

"And the fact that here we are celebrating the 100th anniversary of our university, my university, and our university said, 'We don't want this bill. We don't want this change.' But we don't care because we're the Senate.

"And as far as the Association of Governing Boards of Universities and Colleges, yes, the good Senator from the Garden Island mentioned some of the things that they would like to see done, but the bottom line is their opposition to this bill and to this change. That's what they said; they didn't change. It's kind of like when we go to a hearing and somebody says, 'well, I don't like the bill but if you're going to really do it anyway, I would prefer if at least you made these kinds of amendments and modifications.' And that's what we do.

"Two more things that I find really interesting – I've been here 11 years now, and for each of the 11 years I've introduced a bill on term limits for us, and for each of those 11 years, we never got a hearing on that bill for us. We can tell the Governor to have term limits. We applaud the Mayor's term limits and the City Council's term limits, and now in this bill we're going to have term limits for the regents but not for us. Why? Because we're the Senate.

"Oh, and one more thing – there is a provision in this bill that exempts the advisory members from the sunshine law. Hey, didn't we just celebrate sunshine week a week ago? It was hard to do it because it was kind of overcast and cloudy, and the news media are having trouble getting information from our various state departments like Department of Transportation. And we pass these things and we exempt ourselves and now we're exempting this group.

"So is the population really going to be better served when they don't know what these deliberations are all about? I don't think so. But if you want to continue to believe that this is going to take politics out of this process then of course you have the votes to do it and you will do it. Will it make for a better university? No. Will it make for better quality regents? No. Will it limit individuals who are willing to serve and qualified to serve? Absolutely. And that's what this bill is all about and that's what this process is all about.

"So, we will vote. The good Minority Leader said vote our conscience. I wish that were always the case, but unfortunately we don't vote our conscience. We have kind of a herd mentality here and we kind of take a position and a trend, and that trend is we are the Senate. We're going to take the power wherever we can get it, and then we wonder why people on the outside say we're becoming more and more irrelevant. We're not listening to the people who demand real changes and who demand transparency and accountability. So think about that when you vote.

"Thank you, Madam President."

At 12:54 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:59 o'clock p.m.

Senator Inouye requested her vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Sakamoto rose and said:

"May I have additional comments inserted into the Journal, please?"

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Sakamoto's additional remarks read as follows:

Real change is needed in selection process for UH regents EDUCATION MATTERS

"DURING the past few years, we in the Legislature have heard a growing chorus of concern about appointments to the University of Hawai'i Board of Regents. In particular, we face questions regarding conflicts of interest and issues with sitting regents. There have been hints of appointments being made for political payback instead of vision and advocacy. Seats on the Board of Regents have become political plums, instead of positions with a singular focus on elevating our state university system to great heights. It seems that the main qualification for a position on the board has become what you have done for a political insider, and not what you will do for the future of our university.

"And yet we legislators have long made it our goal to support our university. One example is the greater autonomy that has been granted to the UH system over the years, including giving the UH control over its tuition rates.

"We have come to a greater awareness of the connection of the university to our workforce. We recognize that the economic well-being of our state and our Asia Pacific neighbors will be greatly affected by the ability of the Board of Regents to fuel inspiration, prioritize the myriad possibilities and reward the dedication of those who are committed to advanced education in our state.

"Your elected members of the Legislature want the University of Hawai'i to excel, thrive and soar.

"Based on those concerns, and after much deliberation, the people of Hawai'i were asked whether to amend the state Constitution to allow an advisory council to assist in naming the members of the Board of Regents. The proposed council would present to the governor a list of nominees qualified to help navigate our educational fleet from the realm of great ideas, through the challenges of planning and implementation, to the success we should find reflected in our system, our state and our students.

"The proposal was the subject of a great deal of public debate. The current chairwoman of the Board of Regents took the lead in defending the current structure. The exchange of ideas was vigorous, and both sides honed their messages and presented their positions clearly and professionally.

"IN THE end, the voters said 'Yes.' The people chose change, not the status quo. But the question remained: What would the new council look like?

"We attempted to answer this question last session. The Legislature passed Senate Bill 1256 in 2006, but the governor vetoed that measure, calling it premature. The measure was reintroduced this year based on the voters' call for change.

"We want to respect and honor the voters' choice and we indeed have no other option. We have a responsibility to bring life to the express wishes of Hawai'i's voters. The Constitution was amended to change the process. We have an obligation to act as agents for that change.

"The Senate Committee on Education provided an opportunity for all interested parties to present concerns regarding our proposed advisory council, as set forth in Senate Bill 14. When the administration did not submit written testimony at the hearing on this bill, we contacted the governor's education point person, her senior policy adviser. We asked for the governor's input on SB14.

"INSTEAD, we received comments on Senate Bill 617, which had been introduced at the governor's request, stating that the governor should choose the council and appoint its chairman. It was clear that they felt the governor's wish to maintain control superseded the people's unequivocal call to remove politics from the equation. They denied the need for change, ignored the call for change and fought our efforts to bring about change.

"The governor's bill called for a council appointed by the governor, and whose terms would run with that of the governor. In essence, the governor's proposal would replace one hand-picked board with another. It would allow a committee of surrogates to do for the governor what the public has said she should not be able to do for herself. The public has called for real change. We cannot in good conscience allow the formality of a council of surrogates to stand in for the reality of a council of outstanding individuals who share a commitment to rising above partisan politics and provincial concerns. The public has called for real change, and we will deliver real change."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, the Senate agreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 14, S.D. 1, and S.B. No. 14, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE UNIVERSITY OF "The recommendation of the Committee on Public Safety on Gov. Msg. No. 277 is that the Senate not advise and consent to the nomination of Iwalani D. White as Director of the Department of Public Safety. Therefore, the Chair will first entertain a motion to file Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1370, then we will move on to the final vote on this matter."

Senator Ige moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1370 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Whalen and carried.

Pursuant to Senate Rule 37(5), Senator Whalen then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of IWALANI D. WHITE as Director of the Department of Public Safety, term to expire December 6, 2010, seconded by Senator Inouye.

Senator Whalen rose in favor of the nominee and said:

"Madam President, I rise to speak in favor of the motion.

"Madam President, being on the Committee I read through most of the testimony, if not all, and I spent a lot of time reviewing the opinions and statements made by people in this matter. Overall, something concerns me very greatly in the way the Senate is heading these last two years in particular. I find it odd that the Chairmen are putting more and more effort into they themselves digging up negative information on a nominee. This happened before and it's happened this time.

"I'm not confusing that with the Committee's responsibility to thoroughly investigate a nominee to make sure that the information is before the committee members and this Body before a decision is made. However, in this particular case it jumps out so overwhelmingly that the issues brought forth before the Committee in the negative were primarily leadership style, personality complaints. There was nothing there substantively that reflected poorly on her record or as a person in her ability to lead the department.

“As all of us know, that department is a very difficult department to head at any rate. It’s been through many difficult challenges over the years and Ms. White has been doing an excellent job in trying to right that ship.

“I don’t see anything on the record that would give any reason for any of us not to support her in this position. Our role is to consent to a governor’s nominee unless we find some serious flaw or incompetence to do the job. It’s not for us to micromanage or to figure out who we want in that position and try to somehow arrange things for that to work.

“I’m sure there’ll be many more comments on this matter and I will save further comment for later. Thank you.”

Senator Hemmings rose to support the nominee and said:

“Madam President, I rise to speak in favor of the nominee, Iwalani White to the Department of Public Safety.

“I must ask the question, excuse the explicitness of the question, but I think it bears repeating – Who the hell would want this job anyway? – was the question, Madam President and colleagues. And I think it begs another question, Who are the people that stepped forward out of the private sector to take on these jobs in the 16 separate departments of the executive branch of government that we give advice and consent on? For the most part they’re good people who if they remained in the private sector could probably make more money and have an easier job doing so. But they’re good people. They step forward and they’re willing to go through the advice and consent process to get affirmed to do the job which they’ve applied to do.

“I would suggest much more is at stake than just this nominee today. I would suggest if without foundation or if for motives beyond the ability of the person that we’re passing judgment on, for instance politics, if that becomes one of the criteria for receiving the approval of this Senate, then maybe good people are not going to step forward because it just ain’t worth it.

“We’re asking this lady to continue on as director of an incredibly tough department, maybe the toughest in state government. Who are the clients? A lot of them are behind bars and they’re the worst of the worst of society. They’re put in jail for heinous crimes. Who are the employees that the leader of this department has to lead? They are people that have one of the toughest jobs in all of state government, going everyday to institutions that have to deal with these people who’ve been put behind bars to protect our society. Those employees, they have to be strong for the work they’re doing and they have to have a strong leader.

“In looking at the system by which we’ve come up with these conclusions, I would say the silver lining to the dark clouds that have been addressed by the process of advice and consent hearings is that maybe in our wisdom on this Senate Floor, Madam President and colleagues, we will improve the system by which we advise and consent. For the most part, I’d have to say that the Committee Chairman has conducted fair and what I hope would be impartial hearings void of soliciting negative testimony, void of hopefully leveraging the subpoena process to get that testimony, void of hearsay.

“But I do think one thing we should consider because we may be hearing about the testimony is that if there are 50 pieces of testimony from one source, one fax number – they’re basically what I call template testimony – does that really represent 50 points of view, 50 aggrieved people, or is it just a contest between competing forces? Does that testimony really address the issues that the previous speaker spoke about – the qualifications and the performance of the individual we’re being asked to advise and consent on?

“I would suggest that we have to weigh the credibility of the testimony and the source of it. If it’s a discontented employee, which I’m sure there are discontented employees throughout state government – there might even be some discontented Legislators on this Floor – it bears scrutiny and consideration. But this is a tough job that demands a tough leader, and I would suggest that the nominee is just the person for the job at the right time and the right place because this department of government certainly needs a strong, tough leader who will not cower at the task in front of her.

“So what do the real experts say? What do the law enforcement officials of the State of Hawai‘i say? What do the prosecutors say? What does the attorney general say? What do the people who are involved in this business on a day-to-day basis say? They say that Iwalani White is the right person at the right time for the right job. This is so very important when we weigh the credibility of testimony and whose opinion will prevail by our vote here today.

“But most importantly, what are we saying about ourselves in this vote? Are we really doing what is best for the system? Are we doing what’s best for the employees? Are we doing what’s best for the people of Hawai‘i, or are there other motives that play a part in our vote here today? I would say that if we are going to vote for what is best for the people that sent us here, that we vote in the affirmative and we vote for making this lady the department head. It’s a tough job and a lot more is at stake on just this one advice and consent when it comes to having people step forward from their private lives to serve the public in probably one of the toughest jobs in the State of Hawai‘i.

“So I urge my colleagues, please give due consideration to this nominee and vote in the affirmative. She’s the right lady at the right time for the right job. I would like to request at the conclusion of the discussion this morning a Roll Call vote, Madam President.

“Thank you.”

Senator Espero rose to speak against the nominee as follows:

“I’m aware that some Senators and others feel the decision of the Public Safety Committee to reject Iwalani White as the head of the Department of Public Safety is political. This is not true. Since this Session, the Senate has approved several department heads and judges appointed by Governor Lingle. And when this process began for the Department of Public Safety, our intention was and still is to treat the nominee with fairness, respect, and a professional manner.

“Some have said that our task or job should be about checking if the nominee is qualified to be department head. Reviewing one’s qualifications is important and I acknowledge that Iwalani White’s background as a family court judge and a deputy prosecuting attorney is valuable and helpful in her role as department head. No one is questioning her qualifications. If our decision is to be based just on qualifications, she should be confirmed. However, Ms. White has been interim director for eight months and it is this time period and decisions she made in this period that we are reviewing and questioning.

“Since this is the Governor’s second term, remember, colleagues, that the performance of directors and interims is a key part of our confirmation process we are now undertaking. Future nominees in the coming weeks will also be judged on their performance and their actions.

“Iwalani White has made mistakes and shown bad judgment as interim director. The opposition against her has come from many sectors, including mental health staff in the Department of Public Safety, guards and ACOs, top and middle management in the Department of Public Safety, and mental health advocates in the general public. I have given the testimonies received as of the March 22nd public hearing the greatest weight even though both sides have continued to send in comments as you all know. Up to March 22nd, an unprecedented 21 individuals had presented testimony to your Committee on Public Safety in opposition to Ms. White. This significantly high figure in a confirmation hearing demanded our utmost review and analysis. Indeed, there were 78 testimonies in support of Ms. White as of March 22nd, and I acknowledge the diversity of support from government officials, former colleagues, current Department of Public Safety employees, friends and peers, but the opposition’s testimonies could not be ignored and I have concluded Ms. White is not the right person to provide the leadership needed by the Department of Public Safety.

“Many people believe Ms. White’s actions to bring change to the department and weed out corrupt and underperforming Department of Public Safety staff is behind the opposition to her. I do not believe this is the case, and I believe the opposition is due to wrong decisions, bad judgment, and unfair treatment initiated by Ms. White thus questioning her leadership abilities and management skills. Moreover, criticism of Ms. White, which I found to be valid, include making decisions in haste without careful thought and all the necessary facts, not consulting with key staff or management on important matters, not following certain procedures and violating collective bargaining unit agreements, and creating a climate of distrust, fear and uncertainty in some segments of the department.

“At the March 22nd public hearing, her testimony on some issues was weak and raised further doubts. For example, her comments about shredding an internal investigative report which exonerated a deputy director was troubling; her decision not to send a letter exonerating the deputy director; her decision not to notify employees that they have been cleared of criminal charges even though they were cleared by the attorney general’s office of allegations over four months ago; her implication that an administrative investigation was almost completed when in fact it has yet to be started, and as of the hearing she did not know what it will cost or when it will begin; the decision to have the same administrative investigation done by an outside neutral party adding potential costs of tens-of-thousands of dollars when the internal affairs division could complete the investigation at no added cost to the department; her decision to ban the state’s mental health branch administrator from OCCC for a period of time and yet again at Halawa Correctional Facility, knowing the state is under federal monitoring of its mental health services and programs for offenders; her strong comments that the mental health branch administrator does not treat prisoners in a clinical sense when follow-up research with documentation contradicts her statement; her comments at the public hearing that a personnel evaluation was done of an employee then later advising me last week that no personnel evaluation was done of a certain staff member directly involved in a deputy director’s administrative investigation – I am still investigating this matter because I was informed by one of Ms. White’s employees over the weekend that he is 99 percent certain he saw the evaluation; and her hasty decision without the proper input from key staff to change policy and procedures to handle departmental complaints.

“I have no doubt Ms. White has been working to improve the Department of Public Safety, but the bad decisions and wrong judgment in the eight months she has been interim director makes me conclude her lack of public safety or a corrections background has been a factor in her performance. Being a family court judge and working as a deputy prosecuting attorney are much different than being in charge of a 2,400-person state department.

“Some individuals have asked me to support Iwalani White, reasoning that no one else wants the position and the department has been leaderless for some time. My answer is department heads should not be selected based on this premise and we do not advise and consent by default.

“An editorial in the morning paper today stated we should be cautious and be aware of the ramifications our decision will have today. The public and Department of Safety should be assured that your Legislature has taken action this Session where the administration has not. S.B. No. 932 creates and supports comprehensive reentry and rehabilitation programs for our inmates. S.B. No. 914 provides funding for mental health programs and initiatives, an area which needed more support. S.B. No. 917 develops a plan to bring our woman prisoners home by 2009 and consider the possibility of leasing or selling the property at OCCC in order to build a new minimum security prison with an emphasis on drug treatment and reentry. These are senatorial initiatives and your Legislature will take a proactive position and help the administration where improvements are needed.

“In closing, I regret I must vote against this nomination knowing Iwalani White is committed to public service. I know this time period has been difficult for the nominee both professionally and personally. I ask my colleagues for your support of my recommendation based on a thorough and fair confirmation process and the recommendation of the Committee on Public Safety.

“Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Slom rose in support of the nominee and stated:

“You know, until this year, many people in the public weren’t even aware of our advise and consent procedure. They weren’t aware of the importance of having hearings and examining the character of individuals who want to serve either as paid members of a particular department or the vast majority who are non-paid volunteers to the many boards and commissions. The public didn’t realize how important it is for us to really give scrutiny and full advantage to all voices in determining whether or not we advise and consent. Those of us in the Senate understand that this is an awesome responsibility and should not be taken lightly.

“I watched the two hearings and I have no criticism of the Chairman of the Committee, but I think he and the two members of the Committee that voted against the nomination are flat out wrong. I say that for a number of reasons. It is true that this is a difficult position that I doubt any of us in this Body or anyone in the gallery would want to take on. In fact, look at the record. Look at how many people have been in this position and have left the position without any changes or the situation getting worse. In fact, we had one of the top judicial people in the world who was for a brief period of time in charge of what I would refer to as a 'snake pit,' and no changes were made.

"And now comes a woman with an impeccable background, experience, academics, and a willingness and a passion to make changes. How long has she been on the job? Eight months, as was said. It's a very short time, and yet we know that in this community, in this state, those that want to change the status quo are pushing strings uphill because there is always opposition to making those changes and to doing things differently even if it can be substantiated that it's for the benefit of the agency, the institution, and more importantly the public. And in fact, let us not forget the name of this department is the Department of Public Safety, and what we really have to insure in all of our procedures, in all of our hearings and all of our investigations is that the public will remain safe. And who is or who are the best people to insure that?"

"I agree with the Committee Chairman that just because no one would like to take this job or no one has succeeded in the past, that in and of itself is not a reason to approve the nominee. This nominee should be approved for what she has done in a very short period of time and in many ways for the criticism that has emerged. I know that the Chairman will agree with me that it's not a question of numbers, and the fact that there were 15 people that initially testified against the nominee out of a total, I believe, of 100 testimonies, while much greater than the previous judicial nominee that we approved several weeks ago, is not as important as the depth of the criticism and the analysis of the investigation. The fact that the Chairman says he still is getting alleged criticisms from people who are not under oath, people who have not been subpoenaed, people who have not been seen by any other members of the Senate, I think again is significant that this nominee in a short period of time is rattling cages and making changes that need to be made.

"For the last several administrations there have been problems – problems of crime, problems of corruption, problems of overtime and cost, problems of drugs – in these very institutions. Are we concerned about the criminals behind bars? Sure we are. Are we concerned about their mental health? Yes, indeed. But we should be more concerned about the victims of crime and about the community and the public whose safety we have sworn to protect. And in that regard, all of the criticisms taken in total have not suggested that Iwalani White is incapable or has made the wrong decisions in those areas. The criticism is that she's not good with some personnel. Obviously she's good with the majority of personnel because they testified on behalf of her. The criticism is that she's not a good communicator. I've heard that complaint. I never got the chance to meet with her. I don't know her from before; all I know of her is about her background and what I watched in the two days of hearings. I've got to tell you that the criticism is criticism that maybe all of us could share in – not communicating all the time properly, not doing things exactly the way that some other people would like them done, making mistakes, I think we're all guilty of that.

"But let's look at some of the other specifics that were mentioned. One was that the nominee allegedly violated certain collective bargaining agreements. You know one of the most interesting things to me in watching those two days of hearings was the fact that members' leaders of two of the largest unions in this state came forward and testified in solid support. Now, if Ms. White had been violating collective bargaining agreements, if she had not been doing what the unionized corrections officials were expecting in terms of managerial treatment and the conditions of that collective bargaining agreement, you would not have heard from the United Public Workers head; you would not have heard from AFL-CIO AFSCME in support of this nominee. So I'm really confused as to what kind of collective bargaining agreement violations were taking place that the unions would not raise a raucous over.

"Then there was the concern that we have to be very careful with the people that are testifying against her because otherwise, as the committee report says, we could put careers in jeopardy. What about the career of Iwalani White? What about the experiences that she's had? What about the dedication? What about the service? What about the accomplishments she has had? Are we not saying it's okay to put her career in jeopardy, but to people, some of whom have been under investigation, some of whom have been convicted, we are more concerned about their careers?"

"I think that when we go through the process of advise and consent we certainly need to balance all of the things, all of the things that we hear. Yes, we have to go beyond just the qualifications of the job, but we have to be smart enough, intelligent enough to discern the difference between someone who has a vested interest in being disgruntled and someone who is desperately trying to make a change for the public's benefit.

"The term micromanaging has been used. Can I recall just a few days ago on this very Senate Floor I stood up in opposition to a bill, one of several bills trying to wrest power from the executive branch, in this case having to do with the selection process for Board of Regents at the University of Hawai'i, and what was one of the criticisms of the Board of Regents? That they were too involved with the university and they were micromanaging. So that seems to be a common theme.

"We also have heard that this nominee considered shredding a document and the Chairman was troubled by this. I think all of us are told to shred certain documents everyday. And there may have been a discussion and a decision as to whether you or I would have shredded the document, but let's make it clear, that item was brought up by the nominee herself in full disclosure and full honesty of everything that went on in her department, and her final decision in fact was not to shred the document. She indicated she had good reasons for doing so but in the end decided not to shred the document. So, to bring that up now and talk about that I think does an injustice to the nominee.

"We also heard that there is a climate of fear, although the Chairman was honest enough to put in the adjective in some sectors of the department. Well, some people may fear or feel that they fear. We heard the same argument against the judicial nominee. I was bemused by the fact that lawyers were afraid. God loves the lawyers because he's created so many of them, particularly in our town. I don't see a lawyer being afraid of anything unless it's nonpayment for his bills.

"We really have to look at the full person and we have to understand that if you're going to take on this job, you're going to take on criticism and you're going to take on people that don't like you, and you're going to make decisions that people will not like. All of us do that. We do that everyday. That's not to say that the decisions are wrong; it's just to say that some people do not subscribe to those decisions. And that's fine, and that's the way it should be, and that should all be part of the record as it is. But when the day is finished and when all of the testimony is laid out side by side, and when all of the considerations for changing this department and changing this process are made, the question then becomes, Is the nominee capable, experienced, passionate, consistent enough to handle this job? And the answer has got to be 'Yes, she is.'

process is an important one. I believe that we do, generally, a good job in providing the information, but I think where we fall short is after we have all the information for ourselves to be in a position to say with this information and with this criticism and with these unhappy people, we should then dis the nominee. I don't think that the criticism, or the alleged mistakes, or the problems rise to the level of saying 'no.'

"One final comment, in the committee report and in the Floor remarks today it was mentioned how the nominee has asked for an outside investigation of certain policies and certain procedures. And the criticism was made that first of all we have the talent and the capability of doing that inside that department, and secondly, my goodness, it might cost up to $25,000. That's chump change in this Body. We spend millions of dollars. We waste tens-of-millions of dollars on projects that don't come to fruition. And if Ms. White had not called for an independent outside investigation, these same critics would have then said, 'Aha, she should have somebody independent. She's not capable of making the decision herself.' How do I know that? Because the same charge was leveled against our attorney general and we forced that department to go to outside investigators when it had to do with Kauai and the Kaloko Dam. Did we have enough deputy attorney generals? Did we have enough brain power? Did we have enough resources? Yes, but this Body said we needed something independent and outside, and that's what Ms. White did and now she's being criticized for it.

"We can't have it both ways, colleagues. And so I urge you – I urge you – to keep asking questions whenever we have a candidate, to go beyond just the qualifications, but then when all is said and done, take a moment and think about those ramifications and think about the public – the public that depends on us to make the right decisions. And sometimes, like in the past, we have made the wrong decisions, just as some people have accused the nominee of making wrong decisions.

"I trust that this morning we'll put differences aside, we won't even talk about politics, but we'll decide to do the right thing and confirm Iwalani White.

"Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Whalen rose again in support of the nominee as follows:

"Madam President, I rise in support, still.

"For all my colleagues, I know generally in this Body we tend to give deference to the Chairman. It's their Committee; they put the time and the research into what's going on with the issues. And as a Body, we tend, not always, but tend to go along with the recommendations. In this particular case, I just want to summarize the thinking process of the Chair of Public Safety as he just gave in his speech. He mentioned that there were a number of areas where there was negative testimony from the mental health middle management and some workers in the department. Then he mentioned that there was far more input from people who were in favor of the nominee coming from the same body including others. In the testimony there were inmates, but basically across the board the testimony was in favor of the nominee. Then finally, well not finally, but then he said that he decided, I forgot the word he used, but basically he believed the antis. You've got 'yes'; you've got 'no.' He decided to go with the 'no,' because at the very beginning of his speech he said that if we were just looking at this on her qualifications, she is qualified and we should advise and consent her to the department.

"So it comes down to you, then. Are you going to listen to a few bad apples who have negative things to say and yet the person in the very next cubicle says that Iwalani White is a great director and urging us to confirm her? It's a question you're going to have to call for yourself, because in this particular case, in all due deference to the Chair, you know, I went along with the people who supported her. Whose decision is right, whose is wrong? You make the call. If we're just doing numbers like in a high school popularity contest, the ayes have it. If you're looking for reasons to dump somebody or something to hang your hat on, it's a pretty wobbly peg."

Senator Gabbard rose in favor and said:

"Madam President, I'd like to have my comments in favor of Ms. Iwalani White's confirmation inserted into the Senate Journal. Mahalo."

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Gabbard's remarks read as follows:

"Madame President, I rise in support of the nomination of Ms. Iwalani White as the Director of the Department of Public Safety.

"It's true that some employees at the Department of Public Safety have questioned Ms. White's management style – calling her 'iron fisted.' But this shouldn't be surprising considering that Ms. White is trying to make needed changes at the Department. As we all know, the Department of Public Safety has very serious problems that have to be addressed. Ms. White has done her best, but she's only been on the job for eight months, so we can't lay all the blame at her doorstep. What I can say is Ms. White has been an excellent judge and prosecutor and that she had the courage and determination to step forward to take on this very tough job.

"Colleagues, Ms. White deserves our support and the opportunity to make things better at the Department of Public Safety. I urge you to vote to confirm Iwalani White. Thank you."

Senator Espero rose and stated:

"Madam President, I'd like to comment on some of the comments.

"It's interesting that whenever we approve or vote for a nominee unanimously everything is fine, our decision is right. However, when there is someone who is opposed and there is debate and controversy, then suddenly we're making wrong decisions; we don't know what we're talking about; we're looking at things in the wrong vein.

"This is not a popularity contest. I expect every nominee that comes forward to be able to generate anywhere from 50 to 250 letters in support. Having people show their support to you, whether they are current employees, former colleagues, friends, and neighbors is not a difficult task to do. However, what is more difficult is to step forward to come and oppose an individual, to oppose an individual that you may work with, to oppose an individual you may have done some past work with. That's what, up to our March 22nd hearing, 21 individuals did, with the majority of them from the Department of Public Safety. In the context of a confirmation hearing, this is extremely unprecedented.

"We have had nominees this Session that have gone through this process with zero complaints. So it is important that we have to look at the quality of the opposition, which we did, looking at it very thoroughly, in my opinion, very fairly, giving people the benefit of the doubt where we could, making phone calls and looking at other documents to substantiate the claims.

“The nominee has only been in office for eight months and yet she has generated a plethora of opposition of people who have concerns, of individuals who question her abilities. I believe, as I said, that in her heart she is a good person who values public service. But if I have to look at it from the context of what is best for the department, what is best for the people of Hawai‘i as was stated, I believe that she is not the right leader for the Department of Public Safety and I ask for your support of your Committee’s recommendation.

“Thank you.”

Senator Baker rose in opposition to the nominee and said:

“For those of my colleagues who know, when there are women in leadership positions, I always try to support them. In looking at this nominee, I find that the women’s community is split. There are people that I respect and admire who are supporting her nomination. There are people that I respect and admire who have said that she is not in the right position at this time for this job.

“When I met with her early this year, I was impressed with her commitment to rehabilitation, and yet I find that those who are in the reintegration and rehab community are split on this nominee. People that I respect and who work with folks who have finished their service to the community and are being reintegrated into the community have supported her. Others have said despite her knowledge because she often works on emotion, she’s not really the right person to lead that kind of change needed in the department.

“It is with reluctance that I rise to oppose her because I think that she does have some fine qualities, but I suspect in the final analysis, those qualities are best suited in other positions and not as the director of Public Safety. So I will be joining some of my other colleagues in voting ‘no.’

“Thank you.”

Senator Trimble rose to support the nomination as follows:

“Colleagues, if we are considering what is best for the Department of Public Safety, what is best is not leaving it without a head. When I first started work for state government – gosh, 1974 – the prison system was considered the worst department in state government. The Department of Public Safety is a troubled department. Whether it’s a snake pit or whether it is a bureaucracy run amok, it is not clear. What is clear is that with Ms. White we had determination to bring the department back under control.

“Were mistakes made? Sure, we all make mistakes. Were enemies created? Sure, enemies were created. But if we took these to heart, then none of us would ever run for reelection.

“The fact that we have an individual that is committed to public service, that has the credentials that she has and that she is showing that she is willing to take the department back again under control, I think should be considered before you cast your vote in favor of her nomination.

“Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and, Roll Call vote having been requested, failed to carry on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 9. Ayes with Reservations, 3 (Chun Oakland, Fukunaga, Taniguchi). Noes, 16 (Baker, Bunda, English, Espero, Hanabusa, Hee, Hooser, Ige, Ihara, Kim, Kokubun, Menor, Nishihara, Sakamoto, Tokuda, Tsutsui).

ORDER OF THE DAY

ADVISE AND CONSENT

MATTER DEFERRED FROM MONDAY, APRIL 2, 2007

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1367 (Gov. Msg. No. 278):

Senator Fukunaga moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1367 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Baker and carried.

Senator Fukunaga then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of KURT K. KAWAFUCHI as Director of the Department of Taxation, term to expire December 6, 2010, seconded by Senator Baker.

Senator Fukunaga rose in support of the nominee as follows:

"Madam President, I rise to speak in support of the reappointment of Kurt Kawafuchi as Director of Taxation.

"It's especially gratifying to vote on this governor's message today as we celebrate Science and Technology Day in the Capitol, since Mr. Kawafuchi has played a pivotal role in helping these tech businesses grow and expand Hawaii's economic future. He has served as Director of Taxation since February 2003 and is responsible for all aspects of tax administration including audits, collections, criminal tax investigations, legislation, administrative guidance, operations, taxpayer services, and research and planning. He has brought to this job a strong tax background both in government and in the private sector. He supervised the tax division in the Department of the Attorney General before Governor Lingle appointed him to this position and he has extensive experience as a tax attorney with two Hawaii law firms. He has also served as a trial attorney with the tax division of the United States Department of Justice in Washington, D.C.

"Mr. Kawafuchi has an LL.M. in Taxation from Georgetown University Law Center, and a J.D. and M.B.A. from Santa Clara University. Not only is he licensed to practice as an attorney, but he is also a certified public accountant in both Hawaii and California and serves as a Certified Specialist in Taxation Law in California.

"In our joint hearing with members of the Committees on Economic Development and Taxation and Ways and Means, we received testimony in strong support of Kurt's professional qualifications from dozens of Hawaii tax practitioners. They stressed his commitment, his integrity, and his willingness to work with them in implementing new or revised tax law provisions. We also heard many favorable comments from former and current employees about his role as a mentor, educator, and 'cheerleader' for staff who work under stressful conditions with an often unhappy taxpaying public.

"I might add that Kurt recently provided me and our Senate Majority Tax Consultant, Rick Kahle, with a personal tour of his department. We began in the mailroom where we saw literally tons of paper being manually handled in an effort to keep up with tax filing deadlines this month. If I was not a proponent of electronic filing before, I certainly am now, and I hope that my colleagues will embrace technology to this extent.

"While Senator Baker and I may not always agree with Kurt on some of the tax policies that he advocates, we do commend him for his accessibility and his commitment to the collaborative process of crafting tax laws for the benefit of all Hawaii taxpayers.

"Madam President, I urge my colleagues to advise and consent to the reappointment of Kurt Kawafuchi as our Tax Director. Thank you."

Senator Baker rose to speak in support of the nomination and said:

"Madam President, I, too, rise in support of this nominee.

"As a taxman he's certainly not your typical, gruff, unapproachable, hard-to-get-along-with individual. He is eminently qualified to continue in this position as well as an individual who really takes his customers to heart and tries very much to make tax policy human, understandable, and easy to implement.

"I wanted to let him know that my dad was one of those tax assessor/collectors and it seems that for a select few, they do have compassion, a caring heart, and a jovial personality.

"For all of those reasons, in addition to his high degree of intelligence and commitment and training in this area, I urge all my colleagues to join me in supporting him. Thank you."

Senator Slom rose in support and stated:

"Madam President, as a member of the EDT Committee and on behalf of the Minority, I, too, rise in very strong support of Gov. Msg. No. 278.

"As the two Chairs just attested, not only does the nominee have the background, the experience, not only is he able to communicate effectively to solve problems that have long been standing, but he does a wonderful job of supporting his employees and his department. That's why in his spare time we know that he'll be able to take over the Department of Public Safety as well and take care of those duties. (Laughter.)

"I never thought I would stand, Madam President, and say how can you love the taxman, but this man is truly lovable. He's like the energizer bunny – he keeps going, and going, and going. He works hard. He is the perfect example for the work ethic. He instills that in his department and in customer service as the good Chair of Ways and Means said.

"It is a thankless job but he has gotten kudos and he's gotten unanimous support because of the way he conducts himself. He is a humble man. He is a responsible man. He is a creative man, and he goes the extra mile. There is the running joke that he gives out his personal cell phone number and people use it at all hours of the day and night, on holidays and everything else.

"I understand that the good Tax Director will soon engage in nuptials, having completed the audit of his fiancé so that will go through. And we're just wondering whether she will agree to allow him to continue to be the man of the people and to answer all of the questions that we have.

"He has been a real inspiration. But more than that, he has been very effective. He has closed the gaps for revenue loss within the state. He has modernized the technology, and he is always open to new ideas. His accessibility, I think, amazes and confounds all of us. We are truly grateful to have an individual like this in public service, so I, too, urge all my colleagues to support Kurt Kawafuchi.

"Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Gabbard rose to support the nominee as follows:

"Madam President, I rise in support of the nomination of Mr. Kawafuchi.

"I've been especially impressed, colleagues, with Mr. Kawafuchi's leadership in collecting taxes that are owed to the state. Just this last year the state brought in an additional $263 million through the efforts of his department. So I'm hopeful that Mr. Kawafuchi will continue using innovative ways to make sure that Hawaii's citizens and businesses pay their fair share of taxes.

"Thank you very much, Madam President."

Senator Ige rose in support and said:

"Madam President, I also rise to speak in support of the nominee.

"I just wanted to add on a personal note. For all of the times that Senator Fukunaga and Senator Baker and I beat up on the tax department to get more and more information, the thing that always impressed me about Mr. Kawafuchi is he always stood up for his staff and the people working for him and always pushed back on us to make sure that we either provided for them or allowed some additional time so that they could do their work in a professional manner. That always reflected well on him. Thank you."

Senator Kim rose to support the nominee as follows:

"Madam President, I, too, rise in support of Mr. Kawafuchi.

"I just have to say that he is one of the few directors that live in my district in Kalihi, and that's why he is so humble. (Laughter.) So I urge everyone to support him.

"Thank you."

Senator Taniguchi rose in support of the nominee and said:

"Madam President, I rise in support.

"I guess I just wanted to add my support to Kurt. He is very accessible. He's worked hard. He's supportive of his staff, and I think he's always trying to work on solutions to problems that we face. In the four years in my previous Chairmanship, I will always remember the day he first came in to be confirmed. It was, I think, in the high 50s in the Ways and Means conference room, but Kurt was sweating profusely and everybody else had frostbite. (Laughter.) I'll always remember that, and again, I urge the members to support his nomination."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Tsutsui).

At this time, Senator Fukunaga introduced Mr. Kawafuchi and his family to the members of the Senate.

ADOPTION OF RESOLUTIONS

MATTERS DEFERRED FROM MONDAY, APRIL 2, 2007

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1410 (S.C.R. No. 56, S.D. 1):

On motion by Senator Ige, seconded by Senator Whalen and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and S.C.R. No. 56, S.D. 1, entitled: "SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE HAWAII EDUCATIONAL POLICY CENTER TO REPORT ON THE RETENTION AND CHANGE IN ASSIGNMENT OF TEACHERS WITHIN THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION," was adopted.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1411 (S.R. No. 32, S.D. 1):

On motion by Senator Ige, seconded by Senator Whalen and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and S.R. No. 32, S.D. 1, entitled: "SENATE RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE HAWAII EDUCATIONAL POLICY CENTER TO REPORT ON THE RETENTION AND CHANGE IN ASSIGNMENT OF TEACHERS WITHIN THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION," was adopted.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1412 (S.C.R. No. 95, S.D. 1):

Senator Ige moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1412 and S.C.R. No. 95, S.D. 1, be adopted, seconded by Senator Whalen.

Senator Hemmings rose in opposition to the resolution as follows:

"Madam President, I rise to speak against S.C.R. No. 95.

"I think it's very important to recognize the sincere attempt of this resolution to preserve a culturally sensitive crop here in Hawaii. But I wonder if we really think it through, if we're really doing the right thing for protecting the crop, protecting taro, the Hawaiian variety, and protecting the future welfare of taro in the State of Hawaii. I would suggest that we genetically modify all forms of life through something called evolution. In many times when modern science can step in and enhance the process to the betterment of all, it might make sense, in this particular case, that the genetically modified taro would preserve this native plant for future use rather than have it be destroyed because of blight or unknown biological problems it may face in the future.

"We know, for instance, that races with small gene pools oftentimes are subject to terrible problems because of their lack of genetic diversity. Genetic diversity is the hallmark of strength in an ever-changing genetic world, and gene modification through science is leading to untold benefits for the poor, the wretched, the disease laden peoples of the world. I might suggest that in the future, taro that has been genetically modified may stand a chance to survive in Hawaii from the blight that, for instance, has destroyed papayas and other crops that otherwise would have been thriving more prolifically here.

"So with all good intent of this legislation, I suggest it may do just the opposite of what it's intended to do, and I would further suggest that we should certainly keep an open mind and look to see if we can marry the great traditions of the past culturally with the great opportunities of the scientific future to see if we can get the best of both worlds. This does not, so I would urge my colleagues to give it a second thought and vote 'no.'

"Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Kokubun rose in support of the measure and said:

"Madam President, I stand in support of this measure, specifically S.C.R. No. 95.

"I want to point out that in the committee report certain amendments were made to this measure. Specifically, it does provide for the continuing research through genetic modification on non-Hawaiian varieties of taro. I think currently the experimentation is going on with Chinese taro. So this resolution does provide an opportunity for the university to continue that work. It also just really asks the university to refrain from doing any sort of GMO work on just the Hawaiian varieties of taro.

"I would also like to point out to the members that we have a subsequent Senate concurrent resolution No. 206 that also talks about requesting the Department of Agriculture to develop a taro security and purity research program. This really stemmed from input from the Department of Agriculture that said what we really need to do is prevent any sort of disease from coming into Hawaii that would negatively affect our taro production.

"So I think putting these two measures together really gives us the best safeguard in trying to protect not only our native Hawaiian taros, but our taro industry in general.

"Thank you, Madam President."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, the joint report of the majority of the Committees was adopted and S.C.R. No. 95, S.D. 1, entitled: "SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE COLLEGE OF TROPICAL AGRICULTURE AND HUMAN RESOURCES AT THE UNIVERSITY OF HAWAII AND THE HAWAII AGRICULTURE RESEARCH CENTER TO REFRAIN FROM DEVELOPING, TESTING, PROPAGATING, CULTIVATING, RAISING, OR GROWING GENETICALLY MODIFIED TRADITIONAL HAWAIIAN TARO VARIETIES IN THE STATE OR CONDUCTING ANY TYPE OF RESEARCH THAT WOULD SIGNIFICANTLY IMPACT TRADITIONAL HAWAIIAN TARO VARIETIES," was adopted with Senators Hemmings, Slom, Trimble and Whalen voting "No."

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and said:

“Colleagues, this is a wonderful old measure. Unfortunately, it doesn’t merit becoming law. It does three things. First, it provides that weighted student formulas could be developed at least every two years, which sort of implies that it could be done every year which is under the current statute. Second, it says the when they change the formula they have to have a rationale. It seems kind of silly that if we created the original law and if we looked at the original law it seems pretty obvious that to come to a conclusion they have to have a reason, so it’s already being done. And the third thing that this does is it says they’ve got to tell us what they do, as if we couldn’t find it out anyway.

“It’s a nice measure but it truly doesn’t merit becoming law, and for that reason, I will vote against it.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 17, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

“Colleagues, in today bills, for SPRBs we have a total of $725 million, and they’re all for good and worthy causes. I just wanted to repeat something I said five years ago and that was that I think that there is a limit in terms of the demand for tax-free state bonds. And so, if we keep expanding the use of SPRBs, sooner or later we might find that the people out there that wish to buy real State of Hawai‘i bonds to fund our general obligation indebtedness because there is a substitution effect, we will find if we keep expanding this that the demand for our bonds that we need to send will somehow be affected by the SPRBs.

“For that I’m voting with reservations.”

Senator Hemmings rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Madam President, I rise to speak against H.B. No. 506.

"Madam President, colleagues, I'm rising today hopefully planting the seed of thought with you all regarding the future of energy in these islands. I've done so before in speaking against ethanol legislation and it seems in ensuing years since we last spoke on this issue, much has happened in the world of energy. I will point out what was said last year on the ethanol legislation – that ethanol is labor, land and water intensive, draining resources that could be used for other more beneficial purposes such as food and housing.

"I would also like to say that in the world of energy right now, people are pointing to the wonder of Brazil where most of the propulsion of their cars is by ethanol engine fuel produced by sugarcane ethanol. It sounds great. They're growing energy. But what they're not telling you is that a lot of it comes from sugar, and the sugar has to grow, though a water-intensive crop, on drier land. It cannot grow in the wetlands of the Amazon jungle. So the Amazon jungle is being clear cut so they can grow soybeans and other food sources there and timber so they will have enough of the other land to produce sugar for ethanol.

"In third-world countries they're making terrible choices between growing crops for food or for energy and it just does not make sense for Hawai'i to start down the road of building an ethanol-based fuel system for some additional reasons.

"One of the reasons we're having a difficult time weaning ourselves from coal and oil is because Hawaiian Electric has been allowed over the years to invest huge amounts of money into infrastructure for burning of coal and fossil fuels. And the result is there's a great vested commitment to infrastructure for fossil fuels which is hard to wean from. I would like to suggest if we get in place infrastructure for manufacturing, growing, production and distribution of ethanol, and at some future date when we want to convert to a more renewable, cleaner burning energy source for propulsion of our cars, we'll have a difficult time doing so because we'd have to abandon multi-million dollar commitments to the ethanol infrastructure.

"There's no doubt in anybody's mind that the fuel for propulsion of cars in the future is hydrogen. It's tremendously ironic that we're giving a tax credit to an energy source here when we put so many barriers in front of some of our other natural energy sources such as geothermal, which had to go through over 50 permits and are literally paying a royalty to produce an energy that could supply the entire Big Island and the spillover energy could be used to produce hydrogen, which could be shipped here to Oahu.

"Ethanol sounds wonderful for the short term, but for the long term I would like to caution the Senate that it is not the best choice for the State of Hawai'i, and therefore I would urge my colleagues, as this bill goes to Conference Committee, to consider the long term ramifications and consider investing more in the future rather than in this labor, water and land intensive product.

"I can stand up and safely say these things about the future of hydrogen because there is a jurisdiction in the world that is using it quite effectively. They're producing it from geothermal wells and propelling their ground transportation with hydrogen, and that is Iceland. There also is a hydrogen experiment going on at the military bases, so it is a technology that's within our reaches and if we invest in ethanol now, it will just further delay the development of a cleaner renewable resource that we could have in abundance and protect our crops for future use for food and other beneficial programs.

"Thank you, Madam President and colleagues, I hope that when this bill does pass when it gets to Conference Committee, that some of what I had to say today will be taken into consideration."

Senator Slom rose in opposition and said:

"Madam President, I, too, rise in opposition to this bill.

"I continue consistently to be in opposition to ethanol. As the good Minority Leader has said, we've had more time now to see some of the things that have occurred and it occurs to me it's very difficult for those that believe in agriculture as a food source would support this bill or a continuation of ethanol subsidy. Those that call themselves environmentalists I think have a hard time justifying the continued subsidy of ethanol.

"We were sold a bill of goods that this was going to be good for Hawai'i, was going to be good for Hawai'i's sugar industry, and yet the fact of the matter is we are still importing ethanol from foreign countries and we are still years away from having any local crops and they will be competing for land use and also for food use. I think that what we've seen over the last couple of years are the unintended consequences of ethanol use. Specifically, those that are in the maritime industry or pleasure boats they find that they cannot in fact use ethanol-based fuels. We have found with cars that there is lower efficiency, lower productivity, lower miles per gallon and higher cost, thus defeating the whole purpose of saving energy and saving cost. We have also seen that there has been damage, physical damage to automobiles, so it's raised the cost to consumers in this state.

"So basically, we're looking at a situation where we are asking to subsidize this one form of alternative energy and when we look at all of the cost together we find that really, and rationally, and practically, the costs are higher than what we have been doing. So we should be looking at other sources of energy. We should certainly be encouraging that, but ethanol is not all that is has been cracked up to be.

"Thank you."

Senator Hooser rose to support the measure and stated:

"Madam President, I rise in support of this measure.

"Many of the comments made by the previous speaker certainly have relevance in the big picture, but I think the reality of our energy usage in our state and in the nation is going to be a portfolio of solutions. Some of it is going to be ethanol, some is going to be bio-diesel, some is going to be wind, hydrogen certainly is going to play a role as well as fossil fuels. I believe it's important that we support this variety. In fact, I think ethanol is not unique in terms of receiving subsidies. I think if we look at all of our energy development, there's one form of subsidy or another in just about every form of energy.

"Certainly in my district, district seven, and in many rural communities where sugarcane is still a very important part of our community and agriculture in general is an important part, this measure and other similar measures that support bio-fuel crops like ethanol are very important. There are projects underway currently being developed and various stages of funding and development that will be utilizing this. I believe that it's important to keep the country green, keep it green, not to extent where we squeeze out food crops. I would agree with the previous speakers.

"But again, this is important to increasing energy dependence so in fact we can grow our own ethanol and other fuels here, and I urge my colleagues to vote in support.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1444 was adopted and H.B. No. 506, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ETHANOL," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom rose to speak in favor with reservations and said:

"Madam President, I rise to speak in favor with reservations.

"Some of my colleagues are tired of hearing me say the same old thing all the time about this bill year after year. We talk about conformity with the internal revenue code and yet there is no conformity. When we look at the amount that's given for personal exemption, the person in Hawai'i is worth 1/3 of what the person is when filing our federal income taxes.

"So I think if we're genuinely talking about conformity, if we're concerned about being ranked number one in taxation of the poor, if we want to raise the standard of living, if we want to talk about equality, then conformity should mean just that - we conform with the IRS code and a person, a human being in Hawai'i is worth the same amount as he or she is with the federal tax code.

"Thank you."

Senator Hemmings rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Madam President, I rise to speak against this legislation.

"Briefly and to the point, colleagues, you've heard it before and you're going to hear it many times in the future, education is funded extremely generously by the taxpayers of this state. We do know the budget it approaching $2.5 billion a year; enrollment is down; the numbers translate to roughly $12,400 per child. The problem is not lack of money. It's the system is broken.

"I could make the metaphor it's like a farmer going out to the cow every morning and milking the cow and bringing the milk in to feed his children but the bucket he has it in has holes in it.

So he gets in there and decides, well, I'll just go out and squeeze the cow more and see if I can get more milk out of it. What we really need to do is fix the holes in the bucket of public education.

"Public education has not been accountable appropriately. The Department of Education should be audited to find out where the holes are so that we can make more efficient use of taxpayers' money when it comes to educating our children. I think the teachers and children are ultimately the ones losing in a classroom because of the high cost of education as reflected in the cost of the bureaucracy. Preliminarily, when you look at the numbers you can see that that logic may apply.

"So, throwing good money after bad and saying 'yes, we've improved or we've reinvented education, we've reinvented it so well that we have to throw more money at it' just doesn't add up. Madam President and colleagues, sooner or later we have to hold the system accountable. I would say the sooner the better and throwing more money as this bill does under the guise of professional development for teachers is money not well spent.

"Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Trimble rose in opposition and said:

"Madam President, I stand to speak against H.B. No. 1014 but for slightly different reasons.

"Colleagues, this is another wonderful bill. In fact, the only similarity it has with the way it was introduced is its title, relating to education. And by the time it got to Ways and Means, no one submitted comment either for or against it. So we have to go backward in time and see what happened when it was at the Education Committee.

"In the Education Committee, after the hearing, they made eight substantive changes to the bill – number two, removing language, removing the appropriation, removing change to, removing the appropriation, removing amendments to. And so, by the end of the day what you had in this wonderful bill was something that should already be in the Department of Education's budget, which is money for training. So why in God's green earth are we ripping up trees to make paper to have hearings about a bill that should already be in the budget?

"Now if I were as suspicious as my colleague to my right, I would think that the intent is that when it comes back from Conference Committee, it will bear no resemblance to what it is in its current form, but that we'll be lulled into a sense that it is a good bill and we'll all vote in favor of it. And so, to give me a signal that it may not be a good bill, I'm going to vote 'no' now.

"Thank you."

Senator Sakamoto rose in support of the measure as follows:

"Madam President, I rise in support of the measure.

"Whether we're chewing cud and recycling paper or shooting the bull, I believe this measure does help fill some of the holes so we can maintain a qualified teaching force for the students of Hawai'i.

"Thank you."

THIRD READING

MATTERS DEFERRED FROM WEDNESDAY, APRIL 4, 2007

Senator Espero moved that H.B. No. 1358, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, be recommitted jointly to the Committee on Public Safety and the Committee on Human Services and Public Housing, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland.

Senator Espero noted:

"Madam President, we will be recommitting this measure because we do intend to move to agree with the companion S.B. No. 1444, S.D. 1, H.D. 1."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 1358, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE PURPOSE OF THE HAWAII YOUTH CORRECTIONAL FACILITY," was recommitted jointly to the Committee on Public Safety and the Committee on Human Services and Public Housing.

H.B. No. 987, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

Senator Hee moved that H.B. No. 987, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Hee then offered the following amendment (Floor Amendment No. 8) to H.B. No. 987, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

SECTION 1. H.B. No. 987, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, Section 1, is amended by amending page 2, lines 1 to 5 to read:

"(2) Any action performed by an off-duty police officer while effecting an arrest or performing any other police duty; or

(3) Any action performed by the police officer while on special duty status."

SECTION 2. H.B. No. 987, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, Section 1, is amended by deleting paragraph (4) on page 2, lines 6 to 8.

SECTION 3. H.B. No. 987, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, Section 2, is amended by underscoring the period on page 3, line 9, as follows:

"judicial review."

Senator Hee moved that Floor Amendment No. 8 be adopted, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Hee rose in favor of the amendment and said:

"Madam President, after persuasive argument from my colleague to my left, there was no question in my mind when he was done that this amendment had to be made, that any action done by a police officer when it is alleged that the police officer was acting while under the color of law was too broad a description and that it overreached itself into the 1983 civil rights action. For those reasons, Madam President, I wish to support it."

The motion to adopt Floor Amendment No. 8 was put by the Chair and carried.

By unanimous consent, H.B. No. 987, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO POLICE OFFICERS," was placed on the calendar for Third Reading on Tuesday, April 10, 2007.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1446 (H.B. No. 1414, H.D. 1, S.D. 1):

Senator Baker moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1446 be adopted and H.B. No. 1414, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Baker then offered the following amendment (Floor Amendment No. 9) to H.B. No. 1414, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

SECTION 1. H.B. No. 1414, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, Section 4, page 4, line 8, is amended by changing the amount listed from $4,500,000 to $5,041,691 and the percentage listed from 0.084 per cent to 0.094 per cent.

SECTION 2. H.B. No. 1414, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, Section 5, page 4, line 16, is amended by changing the amount listed from $4,500,000 to $5,041,691.

Senator Baker moved that Floor Amendment No. 9 be adopted, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Baker rose in favor of the amendment and said:

"Madam President, colleagues, the amendment would add an additional $541,000 and change to this emergency appropriation requested by the Governor. After this measure was considered and decked by your Committee on Ways and Means, we received additional information verifying that an additional amount is required. If we can make this amendment, perhaps the House can agree and it would save us one item in Conference.

"These are all items that have been verified as being required to be reimbursed to or spent for the Department of Taxation in their collection efforts on the county surcharge of the general excise tax."

Senator Slom rose in opposition and stated:

"Madam President, I rise in opposition to the amendment.

"I oppose the bill and I oppose the amendment. We're raising the amount now to $5,041,000. This is for the State Department of Taxation as a reimbursement for the cost for collecting the .5 percent surcharge at the county level. Colleagues, you may recall that the State Department of Taxation testified against the collection process all along two years ago. The Governor in allowing the bill to become law stated over and over again that this was because of county home rule.

"The county initially said that they would take on the responsibility of collecting this tax. This is not supposed to have anything to do with the state whatsoever, yet what we know is this 12½ percent tax increase that started January 1st has increased the tax burden to all of our taxpayers. And the fact that the state wants $5 million to help collect this tax is ludicrous in knowing that first of all 10 percent of the collection already goes to the state and the 10 percent is now estimated to be between $15 and $20 million. We don't know what's going to happen to that $15 or $20 million. Apparently it will go to the general fund, but now we're asking for another $5 million and we don't know why the State Department of Taxation or the state requires this money. It certainly is not an emergency because the city and county has been collecting the money since January 1st and if anything, the city and county should pay the money and not the taxpayers of this state.

"So, we've not been told how much the actual cost of administration will be. It's supposed to be a home rule issue with the City and County of Honolulu and I think it is wrong for us to continue to provide money for this increased tax surcharge.

"Thank you."

Senator Baker rose in support and said:

"Madam President, I rise in support of this measure because we do have the information.

"When the measure was passed and an agreement was reached with the City and County of Honolulu, they guaranteed $5 million to provide this. We gave no additional resources to DOTAX for FY07. They've worked within the guarantee given by the city and county. Due to space, time, and resource constraints, they deferred some of the compliance to 2008 and after, but these are the items that have to do with taxpayer education and outreach, posting and printing, notifying the GE taxpayers of the changeover. This is some one-time operational charges. It is some staffing charges. It's to help with the system modification that's going to ultimately benefit other taxpayers as well.

"So these are actually very appropriate charges that need to be provided. They came as a request from the administration. We are actually fulfilling our duties in this regard and I urge my colleagues to vote for the amendment as well as the bill to follows.

"Thank you."

The motion to adopt Floor Amendment No. 9 was put by the Chair and carried.

Senator Baker then moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1446 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Tsutsui and carried.

By unanimous consent, H.B. No. 1414, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING AN EMERGENCY APPROPRIATION FOR DEPARTMENT OF TAXATION COUNTY SURCHARGE IMPLEMENTATION COSTS," was placed on the calendar for Third Reading on Tuesday, April 10, 2007.

Senator Trimble rose with reservations and said:

"Madam President, I rise with reservations.

"This measure has good intentions. Unfortunately, it doesn't get to the crux of the issue. The amount of transportation you need is dependent upon your zoning laws, the way land is used, the model you have for your urban city, and unless these are specifically address, then most of the effort that will go into this will be wasted energy.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1474 was adopted and H.B. No. 869, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING AN APPROPRIATION FOR A STUDY ON ENERGY EFFICIENT TRANSPORTATION STRATEGIES," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Baker moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1475 be adopted and H.B. No. 18, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Trimble rose in opposition as follows:

"Madam President, I rise in opposition.

"Colleagues, if we pass this measure then the certification of teachers will be done by exception and not by the rule. It will turn into at least the suspicion of it's who you know, not what you know. If we're going to go in this direction, why don't we at least say that each Senator can have a 'get out of jail free' card every year and we can make sure that we allocate this right to the best and highest possible use.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1475 was adopted and H.B. No. 18, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom rose to oppose the measure and stated:

"Madam President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"Again, this is yet another special fund that's being created this Session. This is the Felix stipend program special fund in which monies from students who have breached their contractual obligations are supposed to be deposited, plus an unknown amount of state appropriations."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1476 was adopted and H.B. No. 15, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Hemmings rose to speak against the measure as follows:

“This sounds like a compassionate thing to do with people that have incurred damage to their home because of the earthquake of October 15th last year. But analyzing it further I think we have to look at what this may in fact be doing over the long run. This is turning the state into a de facto insurer or underwriter of protection of people’s homes. It’s a laudable cause, but in fact is this going to be an entitlement in the future? Are taxpayers throughout this state who have not fulfilled their own personal responsibility to protect their own property with adequate insurance going to be turning to the state every time their home is damaged?”

“There’s another problem with this legislation. Though the payout method is indexed and it would help the working poor, the benefits are not indexed, so in many cases the working poor or the poor in this state will be underwriting repairing homes of some very wealthy people that otherwise should be doing it under their own recognizance.

“For these two reasons I think we’re headed down a bad path with legislation that is going to provide insurance or de facto insurance for homeowners that suffer damage who otherwise should have prepared and taken care of themselves. I’d urge my colleagues to consider this perspective in the future consideration of this legislation and I will be voting ‘no’ today.

“Thank you, Madam President.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1479 was adopted and H.B. No. 149, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO DISASTER RELIEF,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and said:

“I do not question the need to restructure. I do question the level of specificity in the bill when you get down to talk about specific job titles. I think we’re going beyond what the Legislature should do in terms of crafting law. I think we should set the broad general overtone and leave it to the executive branch to actually come forward and determine the specific jobs that exist.

“The reason why this is important is over time, conditions change and we should not have to continually come back to the Legislature to change job titles or positions every time there’s a change in circumstance.

“Thank you.”

Senator Baker rose to support the measure and stated:

“Just for the members’ note, a number of these positions are already in the statute. The request from B&F, DCCA and the PUC is to continue the positions but to clarify that some of them are exempt, some of them are not. That’s why you find this language as it is, and I urge my colleagues to support it.

“Thank you.”

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Madam President, I rise in opposition to H.B. No. 1931.

"Colleagues, I think it is appropriate if this special purpose revenue bonds extension is heard or considered by the Senate that it at least have been referred to the Energy Committee because it deals with a cogeneration facility. It was not heard by the Energy Committee. There was not a determination that the project is still in the public interest and that is the importance of the legislative process – to hear a SPRB and determine that it is in the public interest.

"Since the time that this project was first announced, the conditions on the Big Island have changed dramatically in terms of where people live. And so what might have been appropriate 10 years ago or 12 years ago may not be appropriate today. Also, the fuel consumed to generate electricity and how we view that fuel may be very different today than it was 15 years ago.

"Now, my memory is probably not as good as your's, but when the project was originally proposed, I thought it was going to burn coal. I have seen nothing to indicate that it will not burn coal. And if it is true, I would at least think that before you vote 'yes,' you would determine what fuel was going to be used to fire this cogeneration unit. Without this kind of information, how can we say the project is still in the public interest?"

"Thank you."

Senator Baker moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1520 be adopted and H.B. No. 1452, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Hemmings rose to speak against the measure as follows:

“Madam President, I rise to speak against this legislation, H.B. No. 1452.

“In doing so, I want to commend the Chairman of the IGM Committee for her moderation on this legislation; nevertheless, it is on the Floor today to be voted upon and must become commented upon for the purposes of entering into the record some accurate information regarding this legislation. It should be noted that with the exception of General Lee, testifiers in favor of this costly and possibly uncalled for testing of uranium were predominately made up of anti-war and anti-military protestors exercising their First Amendment rights.

“This begs the question, though, who is representing the people they claim they want to protect, especially the military men and women who were supposedly victimized by the military’s use of depleted uranium. Obviously, the majority of testifiers, from my perspective, were more interested in bashing the military than protecting the health and welfare of the people in this state. The record speaks for itself. If you want to look at their testimony, it’s available I’m sure.

“The second point I want us all to consider in addressing this is what is the credibility of the testimony offered? There were a lot of scientific facts bantered around at the hearing. Let’s take a look at the credibility of just one testifier. You know, a picture says a thousand words and a picture was held up of a deformed child. It really rips at one’s heart to see it. But extrapolated from that terrible picture by a testifier was the fact that this was a birth defect caused by depleted uranium and its effect on Persian Gulf war fighters. This particular testifier we did some research on and she continues to spread falsehoods about the connection between depleted uranium and birth defects. As recently as August 9, 2005, she wrote the following in an article in the Battle Creek Enquirer and she said, ‘In some studies of soldiers who had normal babies before the war, 67 percent of the post-war babies are born with severe birth defects – missing brains, eyes, organs, legs and arms, and blood diseases.’ It’s a pretty strong statement, Madam President and colleagues, but was it true? According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, it wasn’t. If you go to their website you’ll see they contradict that statement with saying the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) in conjunction with the Mississippi State Department of Health showed no increase in birth defects or illnesses among children born to Persian Gulf veterans in the two National Guard units.

“So it really begs for the credibility of those people that were testifying, especially when the poster girl for their testimony has some credibility problems within her own right. It should be noted that she went on to talk about depleted uranium and radioactive isotopes being detected in Pohakuloa on the Big Island. Once again, outright false.

“Our own General Lee, upon hearing that testimony, sent out a test which was conducted on March 7th. I’ll read from the report, the 93rd WMD CST’s 22nd, March 7th radiological survey on the Big Island – I won’t go into technology here – ‘to include vehicle air filters in 25-mile stretch of the Saddle Road through PTA surveys conducted in one mile increments has been completed. None of the irradiation readings were above normal background levels. The radiological instruments used were set at the most sensitive settings. Given the information, recommends no further action.’

“This lady also represents herself to be an expert in this area yet will supply no documentation of her background to claim to be an expert in this area. She’s a graduate of a college and holds a degree in behavioral psychology.

“So I would suggest this is politically correct hysteria at work. The only person that really was there to testify on behalf of our military and on behalf of the men and women who oftentimes will sacrifice their lives to defend these people’s rights to bash them testified just the opposite saying that these tests are not needed. So the lies and misrepresentations and the bashing of armed military men and women warrants us to take a real close look as to what the real purpose of this bill is.

“I’d urge my colleagues to reconsider voting ‘yes’ in favor. Save the money that our state would spend on doing this testing and maybe we can spend it on helping some kids that really have birth defect problems because of other causes. It should be noted that this is an expensive endeavor. Also, there’s a little bit of lunacy in it. We were told time and time again by the protestors, who had no expertise in science or in documentation or a record of knowing anything about this, who kept telling us that the life of these radioactive isotopes was four billion years, and yet they want us to test year in and year out. They originally wanted us to test once every three months throughout every military base in the state.

“I don’t think the military nor the taxpayers of this state need this type of harassment. It’s time we start doing what is right for the taxpayers rather than what’s politically correct for a handful of radical, radical dissenters who seem more interested in blaming America for the world’s problems than helping our military fight the enemies who would otherwise eradicate us.

“So I’d urge my colleagues to vote ‘no’ against this legislation.”

Senator Hooser rose in support of the measure and stated:

“Madam President, this measure’s intent is to actually protect the health and safety of our fine men and women in the military, and I, for one, don’t believe we should spare expense in this area, especially since this is merely to test. If the test proves that there’s no depleted uranium and there’s no health risk, then that would be a good thing. But if the tests show otherwise then I think it certainly warrants us to do what we can to insure, again, the health and safety of our troops.

“I don’t think there’s any debate whatsoever in the scientific or health community that depleted uranium poses significant health risks to our troops. And I don’t think there’s any debate that depleted uranium has been used on military bases here in Hawai’i, and I certainly hope there’s no debate on whether or not we should do everything we can, again, to look after the health and safety of our men, women, and troops.

“So, I urge my colleagues to vote in support of this measure. Thank you.”

Senator Hemmings rose to respond as follows:

“Madam President, I should enter into the record, since I’ve poured so much of my effort into this, that the military testified against this bill. They’re interested in the health and safety first and foremost of their people. Quite frankly, the military leaders I spoke to were quite insulted by the onslaught of attack on them personally and their integrity. I might mention, too, that the flag officers who spoke against this legislation that I spoke to were once themselves rank and file military people.

“The military is a meritocracy. The generals, the admirals, and the leaders of the military are not an elite people. They’re appointed to be there for any other reason than they earned their way to leadership, many of them starting out in the field as armed infantrymen, in this particular instance.

“There’s much discussion about depleted uranium and the number of rads that it would emit. From the information we’ve received from the experts, including General Lee who is the only one who testified that has the background on it – General Lee was once involved in Pearl Harbor’s nuclear fission programs with the submarines – they say that depleted uranium does not indeed have the disastrous effect, in fact no more disastrous effect than some x-rays may have.

“So I would suggest that the bashing of the military and the misinformation that was put out was for some ulterior motives other than protecting the military, because the military itself has testified and gone on record against this through the good words of General Lee.

“I will also let you know that depleted uranium now, according to the general in charge of the Pacific for the army, is not being utilized in munitions and it’s a Department of Defense order that it not be. This was last used in 1961 when the United States was in a cold war with Russia and was trying to deter a confrontation with the communist empire of the Soviet Union by being strong. It’s called peace through strength; the same people that advocated for this bill to pass were bashing that concept back then. The record will show that we won the cold war for being strong and this bill is nothing more than an attempt to further badmouth the military and the leaders that testified against it.

“Thank you, Madam President.”

SECTION 4. House Bill 1018, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, is amended by renumbering Sections 8 and 9 as Sections 10 and 11, respectively.

Senator Slom moved that Floor Amendment No. 16 be adopted, seconded by Senator Trimble.

Senator Slom noted:

“Madam President, in our rush last year to pass the very comprehensive smoking bill and ban, there were a number of intended and unintended consequences, and one of the major unintended consequences was to harm a number of small businesses in our community statewide, and also deny adults choices for which they could utilize a lawful activity. This amendment seeks to remedy that by establishing a new classification of establishment. It would require that bars and/or restaurants would go through this process in order to get that classification but that the smoking ban, the total smoking ban would then not be affected in these areas that have this class of license.

“I think it’s very important, colleagues, that we realize that to protect one’s health is one thing, but to destroy a business or an entire industry is something else. I think that what we’ve seen over the last several months is that there are certain choices that can be made by adults freely and that we should not inhibit those choices.

“It’s also ludicrous to me, colleagues, that we still, in that bill that we passed last year and enacted into law, allowed only one classification of people to be exempt – and that is convicted criminals incarcerated in Hawai‘i penal institutions. If we don’t make some changes in this bill for a lawful activity, we are creating criminals out of law-abiding citizens. And Madam Chair, this bill is so important that it would become effective upon approval.

“Thank you.”

Senator Nishihara rose to speak against the floor amendment and said:

“The Senate Health heard this and decided to hold this measure to allow smoking in establishments operating under a class 16 license. Their objections were that there was a change in policy on January 1st, which was effective January 1st of 2007, and this would be a rush to judgment, so claims of financial hardship may be premature because in other jurisdictions where smoking bans were enacted, the initial outcome may have been a diminishment of business, but over the succeeding periods, a recovery had occurred.

“Secondly, the issue of secondhand smoke and its health hazards impacts workers who may not have a choice over their conditions of their employment. In light of our opening invocation as to the affirmation of Ha, the breath of life, this amendment may be contradictory.

“I ask you to oppose the amendment. Thank you.”

Senator Slom rose in rebuttal as follows:

“If there was any rush to judgment, the rush to judgment was last year when we passed this bill. We passed it against testimony that was offered. If we need to see any evidence of hardship or loss of income from individual businesses, we have seen that all this Session. Colleagues, I know that you have been visited by bar owners and small businesspeople who, unlike their opponents, reach in their own pocket, pay their own expenses, pay their own transportation, including a group that’s come from the Big Island today, from Kona, to be here with you.

“So, for us to say that it does not affect them, I think is very degrading and very patronizing. And for us to say ‘well, in other jurisdictions,’ hey, we’re in this jurisdiction, we’re in Hawai‘i. We have the power to make the choices here. We made the wrong choice in terms of banning a lawful activity and a lawful substance for those people that given the God-given right and Ha, the breath of life, to make choices, are denied those choices. And as far as employees in any activity, no employee is forced to continue or to start in that activity, especially when we have the lowest unemployment rate in the entire nation. There are plenty of jobs that go begging.

“So, if anybody feels that it is in their best interest not to work in this atmosphere, then they are free to do it and they will suffer no penalty for it. So I would urge my colleagues to think about the businesses and the individuals that we have harmed with this legislation.

“Thank you.”

Senator Baker rose in opposition to the floor amendment and stated:

“Madam President, when your colleagues and committees deliberated on this matter last year, the overwhelming sentiment in the community was then and remains that Hawai‘i needs to be smoke free. It’s good public policy; it’s good health policy and, quite frankly, it’s good economic policy. There were a number of establishments who had great concerns when initial policies in some of our counties were enacted. However, they learned after a brief period of time, how it actually improved their business and made it a better atmosphere for owners, for patrons, and for workers.

“There can be no denial that secondhand smoke is as bad as smoking itself. It’s about the health of our community; it’s about the health of our economy, and it’s about making sure that our workers have an opportunity to engage in a smoke-free workplace. Some of them may not have other choices, particularly if they’re working two or three jobs.

"I know that there are a few individuals who have very much expressed their concern about this measure, but I think the recent poll that was done by the Coalition for a Tobacco Free Hawai'i continues to demonstrate that the overwhelming support in our State is to be smoke free.

"Thank you very much."

The motion to adopt Floor Amendment No. 16 was put by the Chair and failed to carry.

The motion to adopt Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1663 and pass H.B. No. 1018, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, on Third Reading was then put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1663 was adopted and H.B. No. 1018, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO LIQUOR," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1673 (H.B. No. 1757, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

Senator Hee moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1673 be adopted and H.B. No. 1757, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator English then offered the following amendment (Floor Amendment No. 17) to H.B. No. 1757, H.D. 1, S.D. 2:

SECTION 1. House Bill No. 1757, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, is amended as follows:

1. By designating section 1 as part I.

2. By adding a new part II to read as follows:

"PART II

SECTION 2. Chapter 237, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is amended by adding a new section to be appropriately designated and to read as follows:

"§237- Exemption of sale of liquid fuels and alcohol fuels. (a) There shall be exempted from and excluded from the measure of the taxes imposed by this chapter all of the gross income or proceeds arising from the sale of liquid fuels, as defined in section 243-1, and alcohol fuels, as defined in subsection (b), for consumption or use by the purchaser and not for resale.

(b) For the purposes of this section, "alcohol fuels" means neat biomass-derived alcohol liquid fuel or a petroleum-derived fuel and alcohol liquid fuel mixture consisting of at least ten volume per cent denatured biomass-derived alcohol commercially usable as a fuel to power aircraft, seacraft, spacecraft, motor vehicles, or other motorized vehicles.

(c) The director of taxation shall adopt rules pursuant to chapter 91 necessary to administer this section."

SECTION 3. Section 243-4, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is amended by amending subsections (a) and (b) to read as follows:

"(a) Every distributor ~~shall~~, in addition to any other taxes provided by law, shall pay a license tax to the department of taxation for each gallon of liquid fuel refined, manufactured, produced, or compounded by the distributor and sold or used by the distributor in the State or imported by the distributor, or acquired by the distributor from persons who are not licensed distributors, and sold or used by the distributor in the State. Any person who sells or uses any liquid fuel knowing that the distributor from whom it was originally purchased has not paid and is not paying the tax thereon shall pay such tax as would have applied to such sale or use by the distributor. The rates of tax hereby imposed are as follows:

- (1) For each gallon of diesel oil, ~~[1-cent;]~~ 2 cents;
- (2) For each gallon of gasoline or other aviation fuel sold for use in or used for airplanes, ~~[1-cent;]~~ 2 cents;
- (3) For each gallon of liquid fuel other than fuel mentioned in paragraphs (1) and (2), and other than an alternative fuel, sold or used in the city and county of Honolulu, or sold in any county for ultimate use in the city and county of Honolulu, ~~[16]~~ 17 cents state tax, and in addition thereto such amount, to be known as the "city and county of Honolulu fuel tax", as shall be levied pursuant to section 243-5;
- (4) For each gallon of liquid fuel other than fuel mentioned in paragraphs (1) and (2), and other than an alternative fuel, sold or used in the county of Hawaii, or sold in any county for ultimate use in the county of Hawaii, ~~[16]~~ 17 cents state tax, and in addition thereto such amount, to be known as the "county of Hawaii fuel tax", as shall be levied pursuant to section 243-5;
- (5) For each gallon of liquid fuel other than fuel mentioned in paragraphs (1) and (2), and other than an alternative fuel, sold or used in the county of Maui, or sold in any county for ultimate use in the county of Maui, ~~[16]~~ 17 cents state tax, and in addition thereto such amount, to be known as the "county of Maui fuel tax", as shall be levied pursuant to section 243-5; and
- (6) For each gallon of liquid fuel other than fuel mentioned in paragraphs (1) and (2), and other than an alternative fuel, sold or used in the county of Kauai, or sold in any county for ultimate use in the county of Kauai, ~~[16]~~ 17 cents state tax, and in addition thereto such amount, to be known as the "county of Kauai fuel tax", as shall be levied pursuant to section 243-5.

If it is shown to the satisfaction of the department, based upon proper records and from such other evidence as the department may require, that liquid fuel other than fuel mentioned in paragraphs (1) and (2) is used for agricultural equipment that does not operate upon the public highways of the State, the user thereof may obtain a refund of all taxes thereon imposed by this section in excess of 1 cent per gallon. The department shall adopt rules to administer such refunds.

(b) Every distributor of diesel oil, in addition to the tax required by subsection (a), shall pay a license tax to the department for each gallon of such diesel oil sold or used by the distributor for operating a motor vehicle or motor vehicles upon public highways of the State. The rates of the additional tax hereby imposed are as follows:

- (1) For each gallon of diesel oil sold or used in the city and county of Honolulu, or sold in any other county for ultimate use in the city and county of Honolulu, ~~[15]~~ 16 cents state tax, and in addition thereto such amount, to be known as the "city and county of Honolulu fuel tax", as shall be levied pursuant to section 243-5;

- (4) For each gallon of diesel oil sold or used in the county of Kauai, or sold in any other county for ultimate use in the county of Kauai, ~~[15]~~ 16 cents state tax, and in addition thereto such amount, to be known as the

If any user of diesel oil furnishes a certificate, in such form as the department shall prescribe, to the distributor, or the distributor who uses diesel oil signs such certificate, certifying that the diesel oil is for use in operating a motor vehicle or motor vehicles in areas other than upon the public highways of the State, the tax as provided in paragraphs (1) to (4) shall not be applicable. In the event a certificate is not or cannot be furnished and the diesel oil is in fact for use for operating a motor vehicle or motor vehicles in areas other than upon public highways of the State, the user thereof may obtain a refund of all taxes thereon imposed by the foregoing paragraphs. The department shall adopt rules to administer the refunding of such taxes.”

3. By renumbering section 2 as section 4, section 3 as section 5; and section 4 as section 6, and designating those sections as part III.

Senator English moved that Floor Amendment No. 17 be adopted, seconded by Senator Inouye.

Senator English noted:

“Madam President, this exempts the 10 cents and 1 cent into the highway special fund. This was a separate measure that was not heard in the House so it’s being added in here.”

Senator Menor rose in favor of the floor amendment and said:

“First of all, I wanted to thank the chairs of the Transportation and Ways and Means Committees for accommodating my request to include in this amendment, provisions to continue the general excise tax exemption on the sale of gasoline in Hawai‘i. As the Senate Transportation Chair has indicated, this amendment is necessary because the House, or more specifically the House Transportation Committee, has refused to hear S.B. 1285, S.D. 1, introduced by the Senate Ways and Means Chair and which this Body passed out previously in order to address a very important consumer issue.

“I believe that it’s incumbent upon the Legislature to move out a tax relief measure that would apply to the sale of gasoline as part of our ongoing effort to provide relief to consumers from high gas prices in Hawai‘i. While the evidence is overwhelming that the high gas prices are primarily attributable to the massive profits earned by the oil companies, taxes also contribute to the cost of gasoline and therefore is a cost factor that should be addressed by the Legislature.

“If this measure is passed, it would reduce taxes by as much as 10 cents per gallon or more that could be passed on to consumers as savings at the pump. It’s been estimated that the enactment of this bill into law could save consumers over $30 million annually.

“Madam President, the one concern that I continue to have about this measure, is that it does not contain a mechanism to ensure that the reduction in taxes will be passed on to consumers in the form of lower pump prices. However, this is an issue that can be addressed and discussed further in Conference Committee.

“Finally, a few of my colleagues might try to focus attention on the 1 cent per gallon fuel tax enhancement provision that’s contained in this amendment; however, it should be emphasized that any enhancement in the fuel tax could be substantially offset by the significant tax savings that will result from the reinstatement of the excise tax exemption which would be in the neighborhood of around 11 cents per gallon or more. It should also be emphasized that if this amendment is not approved that consumers would get no relief from high gas prices.

“So, for all of these reasons, I respectfully ask my colleagues to support this floor amendment today. Thank you.”

The motion to adopt Floor Amendment No. 17 was put by the Chair and carried.

Senator English then moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1673 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Inouye and carried.

By unanimous consent, H.B. No. 1757, H.D. 1, S.D. 3, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TRANSPORTATION,” was placed on the calendar for Third Reading on Thursday, April 12, 2007.

Senator English then offered the following amendment (Floor Amendment No. 18) to H.B. No. 1608, S.D. 2:

SECTION 1. House Bill No. 1608, S.D. 2, is amended by amending Section 1, subsection (b) (1), on page 2, lines 13-14, by deleting the words, “pursuant to section 103D-307” and inserting the words “without regard to chapter 103D” and to read as follows:

“(1) State or county highway or street improvements, including but not limited to new construction, reconstruction, preservation, resurfacing, restoration, or rehabilitation of any highway, bridge, principal and minor arterial roads, collector and local roads, or streets, may be undertaken without regard to chapter 103D;”

Senator English moved that Floor Amendment No. 18 be adopted, seconded by Senator Inouye.

Senator English noted:

“Madam President, this measure moves back to some of the language in S.D. 1 that was inadvertently changed and wasn’t moved to the next Committee.”

Senator Ihara rose and said:

“Madam President, could you note my reservations on this amendment.”

The Chair so ordered.

The motion to adopt Floor Amendment No. 18 was put by the Chair and carried with Senator Ihara voting “Aye, with Reservations.”

Senator English then moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1674 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Inouye and carried.

The sums appropriated shall be expended by the department of land and natural resources for the purposes of this Act.”

SECTION 2. House Bill No. 1848, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, is amended by amending section 6 to read as follows:

“SECTION 6. This Act shall take effect on July 1, [~~2007~~] 2050.”

Senator Baker moved that Floor Amendment No. 19 be adopted, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Baker noted:

“Madam President, colleagues, this bill escaped Ways and Means with real dollars in it, and therefore the amendment is to blank them out for the purposes of continued discussion on this matter.”

THIRD READING

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1457 (H.B. No. 338, H.D. 2, S.D. 1):

By unanimous consent, action on Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1457 and H.B. No. 338, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT," was deferred to the end of the calendar.

H.B. No. 1414, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

Senator Baker moved that H.B. No. 1414, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Madam President, I rise in opposition to the bill.

"As I've said previously about this bill, first of all, the State really should have no obligation or requirement to collect the county tax because we were sold a bill of goods that the 12.5 percent tax increase was a home rule county matter, and so the county was supposed to take care of it. Now the State is going to have to collect and the State is asking, originally it was $4.5 million, now the bill has been amended to over $5 million in advance funds for this collection process.

"And as I pointed out previously, one of the most despicable parts of this tax increase that's supposed to be for home rule and supposed to be for transportation is that the State of Hawai'i gets 10 percent skimmed right off the top. That 10 percent is currently estimated at between $15 and $20 million. So you take the $15 to $20 million, add another $5 million, that's $20 to $25 million in cost for a one-time set up to collect the surcharge for the City and County of Honolulu. And you have to ask yourselves, Where is the money going to go? And in testimony by the Tax Director, the estimated cost for the actual collection of the tax was in the neighborhood of $3 to $4 million.

"So, I think that this is a tremendous waste and misuse of funds and I urge my colleagues to vote against it. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 1414, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING AN EMERGENCY APPROPRIATION FOR DEPARTMENT OF TAXATION COUNTY SURCHARGE IMPLEMENTATION COSTS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Noes, 3 (Hemmings, Slom, Whalen).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1504 (H.B. No. 275, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

Senator Hee moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1504 be adopted and H.B. No. 275, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition and said:

"Madam President, I rise in opposition to H.B. No. 275.

"As a member of the CPH Committee, we heard a lot of testimony but we didn't hear any need for this legislation, nor did we hear of a problem. The testimony was given that this could occur sometime in the future, although it's not occurred in the past, and then we need to have legislation.

"The Legislative Auditor also did a report on this area and said that in fact there was no need for this legislation. I agree with the Auditor and I think that we should shelve this bill.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1504 was adopted and H.B. No. 275, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE UNIFORM ATHLETE AGENTS ACT," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom rose in support with reservations as follows:

"Madam President, I rise to support the bill with reservations.

"As again I have mentioned previously, I find it interesting that the state government has not had any official recognition of Admissions Day or Statehood Day in the last eight years, and as a matter of fact has not supported citizen efforts to have such a celebration. Now we're planning a commission with a task force larger than the Senate, to have a 50th anniversary, and already people are criticizing it and saying that it is insensitive and is controversial.

"The initial bill from the administration called for $250,000 in taxpayer expenditures for this commission and for the work of the commission, and I question whether or not we need any amount approaching that and I'd like to see what the amounts are going to be for, what the commission is going to do, and I guess most importantly, I'd like to see that the people of Hawai'i really do want to observe a 50th anniversary of statehood in two years.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1510 was adopted and H.B. No. 1352, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT ESTABLISHING A COMMISSION TO PLAN FOR THE FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF HAWAII STATEHOOD," having been

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1515 (H.B. No. 1659, H.D. 2, S.D. 1):

Senator Menor moved that H.B. No. 639, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Hooser.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition and said:

"Madam President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"H.B. No. 639, again, is an infringement on business and is part of the failed bottle tax bill. We are seeing that the city may start to do what it was supposed to do five years ago, and that is curbside recycling. If there is curbside recycling, then taxpayers will get banded twice. We'll be paying the deposit tax for the bottles and cans and won't get them back, and we'll be paying for the increased cost for curbside recycling at the city.

"If we really are talking about recycling, if that's our issue, then we should be supporting those efforts to have curbside recycling, which is the most convenient way of taking care of this problem. But if, as I suppose, the real issue is money, and again more money for the state government in the guise of recycling, then I'm opposed to it.

“Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 639, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SOLID WASTE,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

H.B. No. 122, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

Senator Baker moved that H.B. No. 122, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Slom rose to speak against the measure as follows:

“I think the idea of the bill is terrific – that we would have full disclosure on the use of state funds, either directly or indirectly, but I find it kind of hypocritical because we don’t have disclosure on funds for various tax credits that amount to many more millions of dollars than envisioned in this bill.

“Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 122, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO STATE FUNDS,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

H.B. No. 1264, S.D. 1:

Senator Taniguchi moved that H.B. No. 1264, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Ige.

Senator Trimble rose in opposition and said:

“The justification we heard for passage is that with the passage, the person that had the right to live in the house, that owned the house, and if it went back for affordable housing and needed to be sold to another family that qualified for it, that an occupant of the house might be displaced, and this would provide that a family member of the person that died would be afforded the opportunity to purchase the house.

“The problem with the bill is that it doesn’t provide that the family member given the right to purchase the house is the person living in the house or the one that would be displaced. And it doesn’t provide that after the house is purchased by a family member that the family member that would be evicted would not be evicted. So, I don’t think it accomplishes the intent to which it was written to accomplish or the justification that was given that this would solve.

“Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 1264, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HOUSING,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Inouye moved that H.B. No. 895, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator English.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition as follows:

“The original version of this bill was going to raise all kinds of fees, but in the final amendment, S.D. 1, the towing and storage fees have been removed but the increase in registration fees still remains, and there’s no limit or no cap on the amount of registration fees. I’ve asked people before to take a look at their automobile registration costs because they have gone up tremendously. They’ve increased more than 50 percent in the last couple of years in the City and County of Honolulu alone. But, we have both state fees, county fees; we have beautification fees; we have weight fees; we have all kinds of things in registration, and it’s approaching now, for the family car, $250 to $300 just on registration.

“This would be an unlimited fee increase. The public would not get to vote on it or have any way of saying “no.” Thank you.”

Senator Gabbard rose in opposition and said:

“I can sympathize with the counties that have the responsibility of making sure that we get the abandoned vehicles off the road. While I was a City Councilman, we basically had a full-time person who was dealing with abandoned vehicles day in and day out. However, I cannot support punishing our law-abiding residents by allowing vehicle registration fees to be increased. What we should really be doing is passing legislation to make the people who abandon these cars foot the bill.

“Mahalo.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 895, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MOTOR VEHICLES,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 20. Noes, 5 (Gabbard, Hemmings, Slom, Trimble, Whalen).

H.B. No. 854, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

Senator Hee moved that H.B. No. 854, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Slom rose to speak against the measure and stated:

“At first it would appear that this is a compassionate bill and that it’s just doing the right thing to allow a worker to continue to get benefits, but the real issue is whether or not the employee is entitled to those benefits in the first place. The bill could have made it fair and a level playing field, but it does not. Because if it’s found later on that in fact the benefits were not needed or not required or not necessary, there is no way for the employer to recover those fees. So, it’s a ‘lose/lose’ situation for small business.

“Thank you.”

Senator Sakamoto rose in support with reservations as follows:

“In the past, workers’ comp had been plagued by contentiousness and certainly litigation as well as practitioners such as chiropractors doing treatments, and treatments, and treatments, and employees feeling better but not necessarily getting healed by treatments. I think when the measure is supported heavily by chiropractors and opposed by the Society of Human Resource Managers, the retail merchants, the National Federation of Independent Business, the Chamber, I hope as the measure goes forward, if it does go forward, that it improves so we can work better. Employers do want injured workers back, light duty and otherwise, but certainly prolonging treatment and to the certain extent where the Department of Labor has sometimes a lengthy time before the cases can even come up, unduly burdens getting the workers back to work as quickly as possible.

“Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 854, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CONTINUED TEMPORARY TOTAL DISABILITY BENEFITS TO INJURED EMPLOYEES,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Ayes with Reservations, 1 (Sakamoto). Noes, 4 (Hemmings, Slom, Trimble, Whalen).

Ayes, 21. Noes, 4 (Hemmings, Slom, Trimble, Whalen).

H.B. No. 1034, S.D. 1:

Senator Fukunaga moved that H.B. No. 1034, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Baker.

Senator Fukunaga rose in support of the measure as follows:

“Madam President, I have remarks in support of this measure that I’d like to request be inserted into the Journal. Thank you.”

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Fukunaga’s remarks read as follows:

“The purpose of the measure is to improve the Department of Taxation’s collection capabilities through the efficient allocation of resources, simplified taxpayer filings, and a more user-friendly interface with the public. The bill does this by:

Establishing the Integrated Tax Services and Management Special Fund to improve customer services, improve taxpayer fairness, and increase cost savings, with an emphasis on electronic filing.

- Moneys in the special fund are revenues from integrated tax services and management systems post-implementation revenue-generating initiatives and will be used to pay for the integrated tax services and management systems.
- The 2007-2008 appropriation in the bill comes with a proviso that the Department of Taxation must repay the general fund for the appropriation to the Integrated Tax Services and Management Special Fund no later than June 30, 2008.
- Beginning with the 2008 legislative session, the Department must report detailed information on the costs, benefits, and features of implementing the integrated tax services and management system post-implementation revenue-generating initiatives; the amount of increased tax, interest, and penalties collected attributable to the initiatives; and the amount paid to the vendor or vendors.

Increasing electronic filing of Hawaii taxes to decrease paperwork and increase efficiencies at the Department.

- The Department of Taxation, by rule, shall require the electronic, telephonic, or optical filing of tax returns for taxpayers who must file their taxes electronically with the Internal Revenue Service.

- The Department will increase voluntary electronic filing through integrated tax services and management, free software, and software upgrades; with the emphasis of voluntary electronic filing on withholding taxes, general excise taxes, and transient accommodations taxes.
- A service fee will not be required for either mandatory or voluntary electronic filing, with the costs now paid by the taxpayer to be paid out of the Integrated Tax Services and Management Special Fund to the eHawaii.gov vendor for the costs of electronic filing.

“Electronic filing of Hawaii taxes is abysmally low – in 2006, only 27 percent of all individual income tax returns and only 4 percent of business returns were filed electronically. During tax season, it is not unusual for the department of taxation to receive literally a ton of mail a day. In the case of business returns, many businesses are also required to file further income tax withholding and general excise and transient accommodations tax payments, resulting in over 1.5 million filings by businesses in Hawaii, with 96 percent being processed manually.

“Overall, only 15 percent of Hawaii tax returns are filed electronically, and the $2.50 ‘convenience’ fee imposed by the eHawaii.gov portal has posed a significant barrier to people who might consider filing electronically.

“Furthermore, the last audit of the Department of Taxation stated that the Department was not processing checks quickly enough – that the 30-45 day processing time was far too long. This is not a recent criticism – it was in 1996, when the Auditor submitted a follow-up report to her full audit of 1994. Has it improved in the past 10 years? I wish I could say it has, but when I asked the Department that question, I received no information that assured me it had – and that the Department had adequately addressed the Auditor’s concerns.

“Madame President, paying taxes is never pleasant, but we can at least make it easier for taxpayers and more efficient for the Department. I urge my colleagues to approve this bill and bring the paying of taxes in Hawaii into the 21st century.”

Senator Slom rose in opposition and said:

“It’s a good bill. It’s a very good bill. It’s a good purpose. There’s only one problem – it creates yet another state special fund, so I’m voting against it.

“Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 1034, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXES,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, 2 (Slom, Trimble).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1550 (H.B. No. 1306, H.D. 2, S.D. 1):

Senator Hee moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1550 be adopted and H.B. No. 1306, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Trimble rose against the measure and said:

“Madam President, I rise in opposition to give Senator Slom a pause to catch his breath. (Laughter.)

“Again, we’re dividing up society based on artificial classifications, in this one, age. I know it’s to benefit Sam Slom, I mean Senator Slom, but quite frankly we’re talking about diminished capacity and not age as what we should be deciding. The reason why we should be seeking to protect people shouldn’t be based on age. It should be based on diminished capacity, and this doesn’t do that. People don’t walk around carrying signs saying how old they are.

So, number one, I don’t think it’s going to accomplish the intended purpose. Number two, if you’re really interested in deterring crime, the most effective way of doing that is the certainty of being caught. This doesn’t do that. And the third thing is not only the certainty of being arrested, but the certainty of being convicted. It has very little to do with penalties. It is the certainty of being arrested and the certainty of being brought to trial. So, it is not going to accomplish its intended purpose.

“Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1550 was adopted and H.B. No. 1306, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ENHANCED PENALTIES FOR SECURITIES VIOLATIONS COMMITTED AGAINST ELDERS,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, 1 (Trimble).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1556 (H.B. No. 436, H.D. 1, S.D. 1):

On motion by Senator Baker, seconded by Senator Tsutsui and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1556 was adopted and H.B. No. 436, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HUMAN SERVICES,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Hee moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1558 be adopted and H.B. No. 1721, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Trimble rose in favor of the measure with reservations as follows:

“Colleagues, let’s be honest with ourselves – this bill is a retribution bill; it’s not a prevention bill. No one in their right mind is going to interfere or assault an emergency worker. So, what we’re talking about is conduct that is irrational. And to the extent that emergency response personnel feel that this law will make them safer, it does place them in additional danger.

“So, I suggest that frequently in our attempts to do good, we do not accomplish that end result because we don’t realize the mind of the people that we are seeking to influence. And for that reason, I’m voting in favor of this bill, but with reservation.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1558 was adopted and H.B. No. 1721, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO VIOLENCE AGAINST EMERGENCY MEDICAL SERVICES PERSONNEL,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom rose in opposition and said:

“I think we all want to see a thriving Kahuku Hospital. We want the residents and citizens in that area to be taken care of. But to have the HHSC acquire Kahuku Hospital with their record of financial troubles – we have bailed out the corporation and will continue to do it this Session. We already had an emergency appropriation for Kahuku Hospital. To add another state hospital into this mix without really looking at the financial implications in trying to solve a problem rather than the symptoms I think is wrong and is going to do a disservice not only to the people in the North Shore but also to the taxpayers.

“Thank you.”

Senator Hee rose in favor of the measure and stated:

“I would like to thank the Committees for moving the bill forward. This is a bill that, quite frankly, by definition, is to assist hospitals that cannot take care of themselves. This is not an epiphany and should not be an epiphany to anyone seated in the Chamber.

“The fact of the matter is healthcare costs are rising; they are not decreasing, and the healthcare needs of the people increase and do not decrease. This is policy. It’s good policy, because if for no other reason, it sends a strong signal not only to the people in Kahuku, but the people statewide, that this government cares about them, and that this government will look to the needs of healthcare, regardless of where you might be, isolated or otherwise.

“Thank you, Madam President.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1564 was adopted and H.B. No. 843, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO KAHUKU HOSPITAL,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Baker moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1568 be adopted and H.B. No. 600, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Trimble rose to speak against the measure and said:

“Wonderful intentions. Those that are not familiar with English, it is important that there are interpreters so that they realize what is being said that they need to respond to. The problem is the bill doesn’t talk about what the cost is; it doesn’t talk about how many languages we’re seeking to deal with; and it doesn’t even address the need of an individual to understand it in his own native tongue.

“When we pass this legislation, what we are seeking to do is to have certain translators that are certified. The number of languages that we are dealing with does not guarantee that the person they will be translating for is their own native language. So, by passage of this bill, I do not think that we’re accomplishing its intent. All we did was hear testimony from a certain group that would benefit from the passage of this bill, not the larger population that we were seeking to serve.

“Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1568 was adopted and H.B. No. 600, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO COURT INTERPRETERS,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1569 (H.B. No. 1133, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

Senator Baker moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1569 be adopted and H.B. No. 1133, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Slom rose in opposition and stated:

“One of our goals and one of our policies certainly is to encourage more people to vote. We went from being the number one state in the Nation to number 50 in the Nation in terms of voter turnout as related to registration. But I don’t think that the reason for the low turnout is because people can’t vote or are not registered right up to election day.

“As a matter of fact, there are a number of problems associated with this bill. There’s no discussion about additional cost. We also know that every year, or every election year, we have a problem filling all of the vacant positions. We’re now calling on election people to do more, and we’re simply saying that you can bring an ID and we have a variety of IDs, but we’ve been dealing with the issue of identity theft for years and we know that no document is safe and secure from that.

“So, if the objective is to get more people voting, then maybe we should do more in terms of the legislation that we pass in the Legislature and not require registration at the last minute. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1569 was adopted and H.B. No. 1133, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ELECTION DAY REGISTRATION,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1571 (H.B. No. 1211, H.D. 2, S.D. 2):

Senator Baker moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1571 be adopted and H.B. No. 1211, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Trimble rose in opposition as follows:

“Colleagues, one of the most important changes that this measure does is that it wipes away the distinction between compensation to an attorney that is provided in court as opposed to the number of hours put in out of court. I think that these are vastly different cost items and should be separately addressed in terms of a compensation number.

“If you just go through and figure that an attorney only works as hard as everybody else works, and we know that’s probably false, the amount of compensation that they can receive from the court system amounts to about $180,000 a year. Some people might consider this more than a living wage, and if you feel that it might be, even for an attorney, excessive, then I would suggest you err on the side of caution and vote ‘no.’

“Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1571 was adopted and H.B. No. 1211, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO FAMILY COURT,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Baker moved that H.B. No. 500, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Baker rose to speak in favor of the measure and said:

“Madam President, I rise to speak in favor of this measure, which is the Senate’s version of the executive budget for the next biennium.

“I introduced WAM’s hardworking staff earlier, but I want to again publicly thank them for their hard work and diligence in pulling together this document and for helping the Committee with all of its work thus far. They endured a computer virus that caused our system to crash losing valuable data and requiring reentry and more line-by-line reviews, and of course, all of the last minute questions and requests that they fielded with patience and good humor. For the record, Madam President, this year’s staff is led by the individuals that I introduced – Gordon Arakaki, Committee Clerk; Aaron Nyuha, Budget Chief; Chad Taniguchi, Bills Chief; Jennifer Chow, Capital Improvement Program Specialist; Budget Analysts: Serene Chew, Christopher Delaunay, Jeffrey Lam, Alan Sarhan, Susan Sweeney, Gregory Yukumoto; Bills Researchers: Eric Arquero, Alden Lum, Sharon Matutino, Greg Wigger; Lisa Espero, WAM Clerk; and Alison Kato, WAM Clerk.

“Secondly, I’d like to personally thank my colleagues on the Ways and Means Committee, particularly my Vice Chair who developed the CIP portion of the budget and provided valuable perspective on other matters before the Committee. Mahalo, too, to all of my colleagues on the Committee for sharing their wisdom and experience with me. I also want to thank them for their patience and support through the first and second decking and the development of the budget bills. Mahalo, too, to my predecessor, the Senator from Manoa, for his stewardship and sage advice.

“Finally, I’d like to thank you, Madam President, and all of the Senate subject matter Committee Chairs for sharing your perspectives and priorities with the Ways and Means Committee.

“I’m sure we didn’t include every item members hoped to see in the Senate Draft. We did try to accommodate subject matter priorities either in the budget document itself or in the financial plan for bills that are still moving through the process. You helped the Committee by providing priorities for the bills, feedback on the Executive’s priorities, and your personal and subject matter CIP and GIA wish lists. Your input made the Committee's job easier.

"Colleagues, it's a truism to note that Hawai'i has many legitimate yet competing interests vying for state resources. This year in the GIA arena alone, we had over 300 requests totaling over $330 million. Not in the too distant past, our GIA budget totaled only a few million dollars.

"Madam President, your Committee truly listened to everyone and then made the necessary and sometimes hard decisions in order to craft a budget that reflects our shared goals, principles, and priorities that you so eloquently outlined on Opening Day. We've stayed within the ceiling established by the Executive and within her bond expenditure plan. I believe we've provided a balanced budget that, coupled with the bills we're still working on, will address the pressing challenges in our State.

"As you know, Madam President, the fundamental policy document of the State of Hawai'i is the executive budget. Through this document, your Committee has laid the groundwork for the creation of a sustainable Hawai'i with strong families and communities, a healthy economy and environment, and a literate, competent workforce able to compete in the global marketplace.

"In crafting the Senate version of the executive budget, your Committee was guided by four principles and priorities in developing state budgetary policy – to help strengthen our families and communities; to sustain a healthy and diversified economy; by among other things, but perhaps most importantly, investing in public education, both higher and lower; also to shape a Hawai'i that is a great place to visit because, first and foremost, it is a great place to live. And we sought to provide a state budgetary policy to promote a fiscally prudent, transparent, and sustainable state government.

"Colleagues, the Senate version of the executive branch budget carries out our stated goals, principles, and priorities. In support of strengthening our families and communities, your Committee allocated approximately 27 percent of the new general fund appropriations to health and human services, amounting to an additional $120.4 million in FY 08 and an additional $145 million in FY 09.

"In support of sustaining a healthy and diversified economy through properly educated workforce, your Committee allocated approximately 53 percent of the new general fund appropriations to lower and higher education, amounting to an additional $155.4 million in FY 08 and an additional $181.5 million in FY 09 for lower education; and an additional $73.3 million in FY 08 and $100.9 million in FY 09 for higher education.

"In total, looking at all sources of funding, the Senate's version of the executive budget appropriates $10.360 billion in FY 08 and $10.547 billion in FY 09. Specifically regarding general fund appropriations, this budget appropriates, $5.185 billion in FY 08 and $5.283 billion in FY 09. Compared with the budget submitted by the Governor in December of 2006, as adjusted by her various Governor's Messages throughout this Legislative Session, this budget represents a decrease in $2.3 million in FY 08 and another $1.8 million in FY 09 in general fund appropriations.

"Finally, Madam President, we must take note that Hawaii's economy is slowing and inflation is eating up much of the State's current growth in general fund revenues. This reflected in the most recent forecast of the Council on Revenues which decided to keep unchanged its December forecast of the general fund revenues for fiscal year 2007-2008 through fiscal year 2012-2013. Essentially, the forecast on Council on Revenues underscores the need for us to adopt a fiscally prudent, sustainable budget for the State of Hawai'i as there are no significant increases in the revenues being forecast.

"Madam President, colleagues, the budget is in process and it is not complete. We will head into Conference with the House next week to finish the task. Budget worksheets are being uploaded as we speak, and I anticipate we'll receive additional valuable feedback from affected agencies, advocates, our colleagues, and the general public as we work with our House colleagues and the administration to finalize the executive budget for the upcoming biennium.

"As we move into the Conference phase, I respectfully ask my colleagues to continue to work with us to refine the budget and other bills so at the end of the day we have the policy documents needed to continue moving Hawai'i forward in support of strong families and communities, a healthy and vibrant economy, and a Hawai'i that is a great place to visit because it is a great place to live.

"I ask my colleagues for your continued support of WAM's effort and to vote favorably on this measure. Mahalo."

Senator Hemmings rose to support the measure and said:

"Madam President, I rise to speak in favor of the budget.

"I, too, would like to add my accolades and thank you to the Senate Majority Ways and Means Committee for the fine work they did on this, and I'd like to add specifically the Chairman into that thank you for the transparency and the openness in which she conducts the meetings and decision making, especially where we do have worksheets and are able to recall on short notice how everybody testified on those various sundry measures going through the process.

"I'd like to also thank our own Senate Minority staff for producing this incredible digest of the budget that really ferrets out exactly where the money is being spent, what departments are increasing, and what others are being held in abeyance.

"I might want to point out for the purposes of information for the public and for the colleagues today that, yes, this budget does appear to cut spending marginally out of the billions being spent from the executive budget. It's not the entire picture. The off-budget spending that is not in this bill but in other bills moving through the Legislature, last year added close to $400 million of additional spending, eating up most of the surplus. There are a number of bills this year that are moving through the legislative process that will have a similar impact on the total amount of money the State has to spend.

"I would also like to comment on the fact that this budget is oftentimes utilized to take credit for the strong economy, for helping serve the cause of having more literacy, and other aspects of our living here in Hawai'i. I might offer into evidence just the opposite is true. Our economy is strong because of tourism, the one industry the economy has, but when you look at the big picture, we're incredibly over dependent on one industry and business has a hard time getting a foothold here – so hard a time that one business that got a tax credit to this process several years ago decided to build their multi-million dollar facility in another state where it was more reasonable to do business.

"I might also add that literacy is a problem. We continue to throw more money at it every year, year in and year out, and it doesn't seem to improve that much.

"I will take exception with the term that this budget is 'prudent and conservative' because every year, regardless of what the economy is doing, the state's spending increases sometimes two times or three times more than the growth in the private sector economy. Sooner or later, that will have a dire effect on the people of Hawaii's ability to pay for and live in this state.

"In closing I'd like to just remind the Majority Party that when it comes to collecting money to pay for these budgets, Hawai'i is the worst state in the nation for taxing its poor – something you should not be very proud of.

"Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Tsutsui rose in support of the measure and said:

"Madam President, I rise in support of H.B. No. 500, S.D. 1.

"Madam President, let me begin by first commending Chair Baker for her leadership in crafting the Senate draft of the state budget. I would also like to thank the Ways and Means staff for their diligent work and long hours, many of which were at nights and over the weekends. And I would also like to thank the committee members for their contributions and input into the budget. And of course I'd be remiss if I didn't thank the former Chair and my good friend sitting to my immediate right for allowing me to pop in and out of his office to get advice on many of the CIP and grant-in-aid related items.

"Madam President, your Committee has evaluated the priorities of the administration, the Board of Education, the Board of Regents, and most importantly, the communities throughout the state to develop the Senate's CIP budget. I'm proud to say that this budget has prioritized both projects that would repair and improve our aging state facilities as well as new projects that would support expanding programs in our increasing population.

"The Committee has continued to make education a high priority, and as such, the CIP budget devotes significant resources towards public education facilities. This budget has included over $500 million for the Department of Education's capital improvement program over the next biennium. In addition, it includes a significant capital commitment to the University of Hawai'i – over $250 million for repair and deferred maintenance as well as new projects for all its existing campuses statewide.

"In addition, Madam President, we included $20 million for the repair and maintenance of public housing units; $10 million to incorporate green building design elements for energy conservation and efficiency; $15 million for HHSC to deal with repair and maintenance issues; over $20 million for dam assessment, maintenance, and remediation; close to $8 million for state irrigation systems and reservoir safety improvements; $2.6 million for civil defense sirens, especially in rural areas; as well as over $6 million to improve critical communications in case of emergencies and natural disasters.

"Madam President, these are just a few of the many CIP projects that were included in H.B. No. 500, S.D. 1, and I urge my colleagues to support it as we head into Conference.

"Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Slom rose in support with reservations and stated:

"Madam President, I rise to support the budget bill with reservations.

"There's no question that there are many good things within this budget and there's no question about the hard work on both sides to craft this budget, but the fact remains that $20 billion, more than $20 billion is a lot of change. And it's not our money; it's the public's money; it's the taxpayers' money. We see that not only is the budget and the expenditures in the budget rising faster than the economy but also in the ability of people to pay for additional increases as measured by personal income growth.

"So, I will keep an open mind and watch this through the Conference process, but I would caution our colleagues that it certainly is a lot easier to spend other people's money and lots of times when we're working with figures where it's a billion here, a billion there, pretty soon it adds up to real money.

"Thank you."

Senator Trimble rose with reservations on the measure and said:

"Madam President, I also rise with slightly different reservations.

"An island community is different than a continent in one important respect and that is that when hard times come, communities on the mainland tend to reduce the size of their government workforce. Island communities tend not to do that because the person that they would be rifting is their neighbor, or their cousin, or their uncle.

"If I have a problem with this budget, it is because we're not seeking to reduce the size of our government labor force. I favor the pay raises that were announced for the HGEA. I believe that government workers deserve better pay. My concern is the warm body count – the number of government workers. And I think that the only time it is palatable to look at the size of government is when unemployment is low, when your auntie, or your uncle, or your neighbor has an alternative – another place to work. We should be going through that process now – now that we're in the good times – and not defer it until the bad times that surely will follow good.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 500, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE STATE BUDGET," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Ayes with Reservations, 2 (Slom, Trimble). Noes, none.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1587 (H.B. No. 1200, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

Senator Baker moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1587 be adopted and H.B. No. 1200, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and said:

"Madam President, I rise in opposition.

"Colleagues, I have two concerns. They're pretty short. One of them is part of Section 12 of the budget which says the Office of Hawaiian Affairs is authorized to designate or delegate to another state agency or county agencies, the planning, acquisition of land, design, construction, and equipment of any capital improvement project. The reason why

I'm standing in opposition is because it did not specifically exclude HCDA, or what could be considered by some an incestuous relationship between the two agencies.

"The second reason I'm standing in opposition is because of the location of their announced headquarters at the site of what is now Container Freight Station No. 3 in Honolulu Harbor. From the point of OHA, I question whether the site is suitable. There is a forced sewer main going through the property. Its position with a drainage canal on one side means the property will continue to be subject to flooding. It is also next to where the research laboratories of the Medical School will be ingesting mice with avian flu virus and gosh knows what else. It is also a site that is well within the tsunami zone. But if they choose to go with that – fine and dandy. From my perspective as a Senator for this region, Container Freight Station No. 3 and the land that it surrounds has utility to Honolulu Harbor which is the 14th busiest container port in North America, and which is just as congested as the neighbor island ports on Maui and Kauai that have given rise to much dissension this Session.

"The cost of duplicating Pier 2 runs in the hundreds of millions of dollars. OHA has many alternatives where they could build their headquarters. It does not need to be in Honolulu Harbor – land that is used as our lifeline for over 90 percent of our products.

"For the two reasons I've just articulated – the inappropriateness for putting their headquarters in Honolulu Harbor and because of the potential incestuous relationship between HCDA and OHA where funds from OHA will be used to fund an agency that has, I guess, run out of money, which is HCDA. And I call to mind the actions that we have taken this year and last year with respect to HCDA and their current inability to carry forward projects that appear to be in the broad public interest.

"So, thank you for the opportunity to stand and offer comments in opposition to this bill."

Senator Slom requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Kokubun rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

"Madam President, I stand in support of H.B. No. 1200, S.D. 2.

"As we discussed the budget before the Water, Land, Agriculture and Hawaiian Affairs Committee, it became evident to us that the Office of Hawaiian Affairs has worked closely with HCDA in coming up with the site where they intend to build their new administrative building. I'm not sure I would characterize the relationship as incestuous. It appeared to me that it was an agency-to-agency relationship. There will be a lease. There will be the approval by the HCDA with respect to the design characteristics of that area.

"So, in my opinion, I think this is something that state agencies are working out. Whether or not it's the most appropriate place, I will not comment on that. But obviously, it's something that the Office of Hawaiian Affairs and HCDA are working on.

"With respect to the harbor facilities at Piers 1 and 2, as you know, last Session we worked hard to carve out adequate space at Piers 1 and 2 for the future growth in the area. Obviously, we cannot accommodate all the growth at Piers 1 and 2. The necessary harbor improvements will proceed in the Ewa direction going to Kapalama and that area. So I believe that the Department of Transportation, Harbors Division in particular, is very aware of the needs of the harbor facilities and they are working hard to address that. As all of you know, we have a measure before us that will allow the Aloha Tower Development Corporation to work with the Department of Transportation to in fact plan that area of harbor improvement.

"Whether or not OHA will finally settle on this site or not is something again I think that the two agencies need to work out. I would like to say, though, that I believe it's a great anchor for the Kakaako Park. I think what the Office of Hawaiian Affairs intends to do with respect to cultural interpretation, cultural sites, having their building also used by the community in general in terms of meeting places, is going to be a very, very good improvement for the Kakaako area.

"So for those reasons, Madam President, I would urge my colleagues to support H.B. No. 1200, S.D. 2.

"Thank you."

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition and said:

“This bill was heard in Commerce and Consumer Protection but there’s no real consumer protection with this bill. This bill is to allow banks and charge card companies to have fees. The bill was amended. At one point there was a possibility of frontloaded fees, back loaded fees, storage fees, maintenance fees, replacement fees, all kinds of fees on a simple gift card. The person’s already paying for the gift card. The recipient, be it a bank or charge company already has the surplus. It is certainly told that every year there are a number of these cards that are never cashed or used either in part or in whole. So I don’t see that adding additional fees is going to help anyone other than the providers.

“Thank you.”

“Madam President, I stand in opposition.

“Colleagues, it’s already a crime. What is it that we expect to accomplish today by suddenly putting the name ‘copper’ in it. And quite frankly, copper still gets stolen even after somebody got ‘fried.’ And if that is not a deterrent, what we do today certainly will not be either. Again, it is the probability, the likelihood of getting caught that deters crime, not making it a crime a second or a third time. Criminal property damage is already a felony. We are not accomplishing anything by passing this law today.

“Thank you.”

Senator Trimble rose in opposition as follows:

“Madam President, I rise in opposition to a very small portion of H.B. No. 451.

“The function of this legislation is to try and deter graffiti. Most of it, the bill, would actually serve to do that purpose. The portion of the bill that would not is the leaving up of graffiti until somebody is caught, and then brought to a court, and then given 60 days to eradicate it, to erase it, to remove it. The number one thing that can be done to reduce graffiti is by its removal, not by waiting to have it removed.

“So, if you’re trying to encourage graffiti, then pass this bill. If you’re trying to discourage it, then at least remove that portion of it where you seek to be ‘Mommy’ and punish a kid by washing his mouth out with soap, or in this case leaving it up so that he will have the time to remove it, because you will not be making our walls and our buildings free of graffiti. What you will do is actually increase the incident and help the neighborhood deteriorate.

“That is my reason for opposing this bill in its present form. Thank you.”

Senator Trimble rose to speak in opposition to the measure and said:

“Madam President, I rise in opposition to this measure as currently written.

“Much of the conversation we’ve had this Legislature has been the use of the Hawaiian language. So, if we’re really interested in this plant being the State Plant, then shouldn’t we call it ‘kalo’ instead of ‘taro’?”

“The second thing has to do with the purpose clause, and it has to do with the origin of kalo. And, I think some discussion on the Floor is significant in terms of how you view the creation, how the rest of society views it, and how you think future generations will view it. Is this a simple story, a myth, or is it the center of a core belief system. The extent to which it is more than a myth, I think, deserves some discussion on this Floor before we make this law.

“Thank you.”

“Colleagues, this is really wacky. Take a look at it. It truly is whacky! Who is it that we are trying to create a job for? I mean, this is amazing. We’re setting up a for-profit corporation and we’re going to do it with the people’s money – an amazing concept.

"Madam President, I rise in opposition to this matter, just briefly.

"I believe certain things are management rights and management has opportunity in some of the issues to deal best with employees – their placement, promotion, transfer, etc. This bill deals with public employees, however if a measure like this does become law, we're on a very slippery slope in terms of management being able to efficiently run their company whether it's the state company or a private company."

Senator Hemmings rose to speak against the measure and said:

"Madam President, I rise to speak against this legislation.

"In doing so, I'd like to ask the question, 'Are we yielding our constitutional duty to labor negotiators?' I think so with this bill. I would no longer put us in the driver's seat when it comes to the laws that affect the people of Hawai'i, most especially public labor which far and away is the biggest element of our budget and most expensive thing the taxpayers of Hawai'i pay for.

"Controlling labor and its destiny in relationship to the people that are paying for it is the most important thing I would suggest we do as a result. Yielding our ability to do so to the collective bargaining process in contracts I believe is unconstitutional, and I believe this bill should not merit our support as a result.

"Thank you, Madam President."

"Madam President, I rise in opposition to H.B. No. 250.

"Colleagues, when our Harbors Division of the Department of Transportation is in such dire straits that it cannot plan the orderly expansion of our harbor system, we are truly in desperate straits. The fact that this bill is needed, I don't question it. I think Sandy Pfund is a very capable individual. She runs a good organization. The larger picture is that we need within our Department of Transportation personnel that can plan and execute those plans in the development of our harbor system – a harbor system that has been neglected for almost two decades.

"We've discussed what overcrowding of our harbors do on the neighbor islands. The situation is also true in Honolulu. We don't accomplish this by simply giving that responsibility to a quasi-public agency. So maybe it's okay to vote 'yes' now, but when we move forward to the future, our state departments should have the in-house capability of planning the expansion of our infrastructure system.

"Thank you."

"Madam President, I rise to support the bill with reservations.

"We could title this bill 'The Old McDonald had a Farm' bill and we could all say, 'e-i-e-i-e-i-o,' because we started out trying to help the dairy industry, then we had the cattle industry, and then we have the hog industry, and we've got all the other industries. The problem is this is not a revitalization bill. This is a stop-gap measure for subsidy for the next two years. We're not getting at the root cause of the problems – the increased cost of feed and increased cost of operation, including taxes – on our farms.

"So, with one hand we say we want to help the farmers, we want to revitalize these industries, on another we still make the business climate a hostile one here. So anybody that's voting for this because they think it's a revitalization bill is sadly mistaken.

"We need to get at the root cause of our problems to help agriculture, and that means that some agricultural entities will fail, just as they have in the past, but we need to help those that will succeed and also to help those that are transforming themselves from what they did before into something new.

"So, I'll support the bill through Conference with reservations. Thank you."

"The bill is being sold as a bill that's going to expedite housing and the process to help affordable housing. But you know, if you really read the bill closely, it's not going to do either. It's actually going to take longer than the 45 days now, and it's not going to help affordable housing. So, if that's what we really want to do, and I think we all do, this is not the vehicle to do it.

“Colleagues, what this measure does is exempt or provide that premium gasoline in this community will not be blended with ethanol. The decision to enact this law was probably made on the testimony of perhaps 1 to 2 percent of our population that were adversely affected by this legislation that was created by Democrats in a Democratic Administration many years ago.

“The problem with coming in at the last moment and changing the rules is that it does not give the private sector a sufficient amount of time so that they can solve the problem. Current law provides that 15 percent of the fuel that is sold in Hawai‘i does not have to be blended with Ethanol. By changing the rules at this late date, without adequate hearings and without finding out how it is going to be accommodated, we may be creating a situation where we’re increasing the cost to everyone to benefit the 1 to 2 percent.

“I suggest that not all gasoline stations are the same. Some of them do not have separate tanks for the mid-level of gasoline. They blend the high and the low octane gas together once it’s at the station, to have the medium grade blend. They could not do this if the premium grade blend did not have ethanol in it.

“Before we change the law, we have to be assured that we’re improving it, not making it worse. We have not done that. We have not gotten the input from the gasoline stations and from the distributors and from the refineries. To change the law at this late date without the input of the industry that is going to be implementing the law makes no sense and could wind up causing more uncertainty in the marketplace, higher prices, and less people getting the products that they need.

“Thank you.”

“Colleagues, there’re many levels of FDA approval and this bill does not require the use of an FDA-approved product. The second reason for suggesting that you look at the language of this bill very carefully is that many people think that it does infringe on privacy rights.

“So, before we go down and decide that where management and unions agree for a program, I think we should at least consider what is the probability, what is its statistics, what is the data on false positives, what is the reliability of what we’re introducing or allowing to be used? And I would think that our standard should be, at the very least, an FDA-approved product.

“We should also look at if in our own mind the process that is described can have the detrimental impact of infringing upon privacy. We haven’t gotten into a larger discussion of competency. Maybe that is appropriate for a later date. But we should at least look at privacy rights and whether it is an FDA-approved product.

“Similarly to H.B. No. 1950, this talks about an expedited process for rental housing, but it really is not going to accomplish that. It’s interesting to note also that it only applies to the City and County of Honolulu. We’ve raised the stakes. We used to say, ‘to counties with 500,000 and above,’ but we’re scared to death that Maui is catching up so now we say, ‘750,000 and above.’

“I believe that they have problems with the lack of rental housing on Maui, on Molokai, on Lanai, on Kauai, on the Big Island, and yet we reserve this only for Honolulu.

“I’ll be voting against it. Thank you.”

It provides for not a small amount of space, but 100,000 square feet – 100,000 square feet of incubator space for an unknown number of years. It used to be five years, and the last time a similar bill came before us I asked how much were we willing to commit to this incubator space? Is it $1 million? Is it $10 million? Is it $40 million?

“I think it is important for us as the Legislature to control the upper limit to how much we are willing to spend to subsidize such an incubator facility.

Senator Inouye rose and said:

“Madam President, I rise to register my ‘no’ vote. I have comments I’d like to be entered into the Journal.”

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Inouye’s remarks read as follows:

“Madam President, five years ago, the original purpose of this bill was to build a world-class aquarium at Ko Olina and support economic momentum for West Oahu.

“Earlier this year, Ko Olina agreed to return the credit unused and wholly intact. At the time, Ko Olina developer Jeff Stone was quoted in the media as saying it was no longer necessary and that the credit had done its job by just being there, as a statement of faith in the future of West Oahu.

“Madam President, in your Opening Day speech you also noted that you had asked Mr. Stone to permit us to redirect and reallocate the Ko Olina aquarium tax credit for larger ends and broader initiatives. I have a number of concerns regarding these events and the subsequent direction this bill has taken.

“First of all, we need to be cautious about any tax credit that is aimed exclusively at any single group or entity. And I certainly object to any impression that we need to ask permission to redirect a tax credit because it was not used for the purpose for which it was created.

“$75 million is a lot of money by anyone’s standards. Ko Olina has had sufficient time in which to take advantage of that generosity. Instead, what Mr. Stone found was that the construction of an aquarium was not necessary to accomplish larger ends, in his words, ‘driving attention and economic momentum to the West side.’ He added, ‘The tax credit’s done its job.’

“I would like to remind this body that the $75 million in tax credits belongs to the people of this state, from whom it was taken in the first place, and that it is not Mr. Stone’s or Ko Olina’s to return or reallocate.

“And here’s the rub. This bill, as it has now been amended, directs $75 million exclusively to the West side for affordable rental housing; educational and training facilities for the visitor industry; and for media, film and music educational facilities. These are all admirable and worthwhile goals.

“And certainly, the Leeward side needs continued economic stimulation and incentives. But so does other economically struggling areas not only on Oahu, but on our neighbor islands as well. The homeless suffer on all islands. The visitor industry does not just drive the economy on Leeward Oahu, and there is a need for visitor industry programs for all of our resort destinations.

“The original purpose of the bill was to build an aquarium, other attractions and educational facilities within the Ko Olina Resort. According to Ko Olina itself, that need no longer exists, or at least the tax credit to support that end no longer is necessary for Ko Olina.

“While that may be good and well for Ko Olina, it’s clear that the greater community of West Oahu still needs that kind of support. And I’m all in favor of providing it. But $75 million is also a lot of money. And in all fairness to all of our communities and citizens, that support should also be made available to other struggling areas as well.

“I find the focus of the amended bill to be too narrow to fulfill this goal, and I would suggest we rewrite it or table the bill until we can more fully outline the best and most fair use of this needed tax credit.”

Senator Menor rose and said:

“Madam President, reservations.”

The Chair so ordered.

"Madame President, I rise in support of H.B. No. 652, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, 'RELATING TO DAM SAFETY.'

"This bill before us arose out of the tragic circumstances on March 14, 2006 when Kaloko Dam on Kauai breached, claiming the lives of seven people. These lives may not have been lost if timely action had been taken by the Department of Land and Natural Resources. Warnings were given, but not heeded. A joint state-federal report issued in 1984 identified structural stability problems at Kaloko Reservoir (Honolulu Advertiser May 11, 2006). The Honolulu Advertiser reported that the American Society of Civil Engineers, in 2001 and 2005, gave Hawaii's state-regulated dams a D grade (Honolulu Advertiser March 15, 2006). The State was not unaware of the potential for dam failure. The Honolulu Advertiser in an October 23, 2005 article cited state engineer Edwin Matsuda: 'We've been very fortunate we haven't had any major dam failure here.' (A chronology of events is identified as "ATTACHMENT A" to the Journal of this day.) This measure before us will help ensure that our State agencies will take timely action to prevent further loss of lives due to dam failure."

Senator Espero moved that S.B. No. 1444, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition and stated:

"Madam President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"You know, I think if we really were concerned about crime prevention, we would understand that individuals and families in this community expects punishment for violation of crimes. What this bill does is to semantically change the words so that we don't have to use 'punishment' and we don't have to use 'incarceration.' Instead we use 'custody' and we use 'rehabilitation.'

"Madam President, I would have no problem if the bill were the way it was – 'incarceration, punishment' and we added 'and rehabilitation.' But I think that again we are doing a disservice in turning a blind eye and a deaf ear to the community. They expect punishment. We have punishment within families. It doesn't mean it has to be harsh punishment or violent punishment, but there has to be an accountability for breaking rules, violations, or the law. And what this bill does is really thumb its nose at that premise.

"Madam President, I checked again with my good friend Mr. Dostoevsky and he still has not changed the title of his book. It still is Crime and Punishment, not Crime and Rehabilitation.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, the Senate agreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 1444, S.D. 1, and S.B. Therefore, we are requesting that the House return these bills to the Senate so we can take appropriate final action upon transmittal of the budget bill to the Governor."

Senator Espero rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

“I rise, Madam President, regarding a column in this week’s Midweek written by Mr. Larry Price. It’s entitled, ‘Political Correctness Local Style.’ I believe it should have been titled, ‘Price’s Folly.’ This is in reference to the vote on Iwalani White and her rejection. He writes, ‘Ironically, with all of the “ohana” preaching at the Legislature, she was most likely denied acceptance by the legislators because she is a true Native Hawaiian and a minority.’ He continues to write, ‘In today’s Hawai’i, apparently there is no room for Native Hawaiians in upper management,’ and he continues, ‘She was rejected because it is not yet politically correct to have a female Native Hawaiian as a director.’

“What makes this whole situation a little more unfortunate and sad is that Mr. Price has been using his radio show and his columns in Midweek to state his opinion, and I do realize it’s the First Amendment. However, he has not publicly disclosed, as far as I’m aware, that his spouse is an employee of Iwalani White, and she is directly involved in one of the investigations which included a former deputy director of public safety who is no longer working with them.

“So with disclosure, I’d like everybody to know – since Mr. Price has not disclosed it – for the record, he does have conflict of interest, in my opinion, and he should so state it in his columns or on his radio station.

“Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Baker rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

“Late last week, two more soldiers with Hawai’i ties were killed in the fighting in Iraq. One of those soldiers is a constituent of mine in Lahaina. Private First Class Jay S. Cajimat was 20 years old and a 2005 graduate of Lahainaluna High School. He was with the 2nd Battalion, 16th Infantry Regiment, 4th Infantry Brigade Combat Team, 1st Infantry Division, stationed at Fort Riley, Kansas.

“The second soldier with Hawai’i ties was Sgt. Forrest D. Cauthorn, 22, of Midlothian, Virginia. He was also killed in Iraq in the fighting last week. Sgt. Cauthorn was with the 2nd Battalion, 27th Infantry Regiment, 3rd Brigade Combat Team, 25th Infantry Division, at Schofield Barracks.

“Madam President and colleagues, to honor these brave young men, I respectfully request that when we adjourn our Session this morning that we do so on a rising vote to pay tribute to our fallen soldiers.

“Thank you.”

ADJOURNMENT

At 2:42 o’clock p.m., on motion by Senator Ige, seconded by Senator Gabbard and carried, the Senate adjourned until 11:30 o’clock a.m., Thursday, April 12, 2007, on a rising vote, observing a moment of silence in memory of Private First Class Jay S. Cajimat and Sgt. Forrest D. Cauthorn who were killed in Iraq.

ORDER OF THE DAY

ADVISE AND CONSENT

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1702 (Gov. Msg. No. 265):

Senator Nishihara moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1702 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Kim and carried.

Senator Nishihara then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of RUSS K. SAITO as Comptroller of the Department of Accounting and General Services, term to expire December 6, 2010, seconded by Senator Kim.

Senator Trimble rose in support of the nominee and said:

“DAGS has an awful lot of wonderful, dedicated state employees. They’ve got computer types, they’ve got accountants, they’ve got surveyors, they’ve got engineers, they’ve got architects, but best of all they have Faye who helps take care of the second floor at the State Capitol.

“The Governor, when she appointed Russ Saito for the first term, appointed somebody that is truly humble. I could read the three pages of laudatory remarks prepared by my staff, but I don’t want to see him blush. He brought to the job a wonderful work ethic, a desire to have consumer satisfaction, and those consumers were other state agencies and state Legislators. He has lead by example, and he has come a long way to encouraging his employees in a very diverse and complex department to continue to do a good job and to strive to do better.

“For this, I am grateful that he is willing to serve another four years. Thank you.”

Senator Nishihara rose to support the nominee and stated:

“Madam President and colleagues, I rise to speak and ask that the Senate support the Committee on Tourism and Government Operations’ recommendation to advise and consent in favor of Russ K. Saito as the Comptroller of the Department of Accounting and General Services.

“Our Committee received over 45 testimonies in support of Mr. Saito which included the Department of Human Resources Development, the Automotive Division of DAGS, the State Procurement Office, the Campaign Spending Commission, the BIA, the General Contractors Association, as well as many individuals representing the various architectural and engineering companies in our state.

“Mr. Saito’s accomplishments in his tenure as Comptroller include:

In procurement, increased openness and fairness in the awarding of state contracts, bringing greater efficiency, integrity, and transparency to the state procurement process;

In financial reporting, receiving on behalf of the state the Certificate of Achievement for Excellence in Financial Reporting for the Department of Accounting and General Services Comprehensive Annual Financial Report, for every report since 2003;

Speeding the process to contractors and paying vendors for goods and services in a timelier manner with optimized financial management effected by the Accounting and Audit Review Committee, which he created;

Improved citizen access by offering electronic newsletters, webcast events, and news conferences, and online applications for services on boards and commissions;

Promoting small business by setting aside smaller contracts for award to small businesses and requiring that large contractors be evaluated in part on their use of small businesses as subcontractors on larger contracts;

Facilitated a program to enable state buildings to withstand the effects of natural and manmade disasters;

Enhancing land management by digitizing the land court and file plan map collection, as well as shoreline maps and photographs;

Oversaw the transfer of school repair and maintenance and construction programs to the Department of Education, resulting in more accountability and responsibility in the management of our public school facilities; and finally,

Expediting the creation of transitional housing and shelter space for our growing homeless population.

“Mr. Saito, in his interactions with the Legislature, has given straightforward answers, clear rational reasons supported by background information and documentation. In his testimony before this Committee, he stated that he has tried to perform his duty responsibly and with integrity, treating all people with respect and fairness. I believe that his supporters would agree with his statements.

“In closing, I leave with you the DAGS mission, which states: ‘To help agencies better serve the public by providing, at best value and with integrity: superior public facilities, expert technology solution and services, operational support, fiscal guidance, oversight of administrative services and preservation and promotion of cultural heritage.’ Our Committee believes that Mr. Saito has thus accomplished, and will continue to do so, meeting the mission of DAGS.

“For all those reasons so stated, I encourage my colleagues to vote in favor of confirming Russ K. Saito as the Comptroller of the Department of Accounting and General Services. Thank you, Madam President.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

At this time, Senator Nishihara introduced Mr. Saito to the members of the Senate.

At 12:03 o’clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:15 o’clock p.m.

ADOPTION OF RESOLUTION

Senator Ige moved that S.C.R. No. 212, S.D. 2, be adopted, seconded by Senator Whalen.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure as follows:

“It’s interesting that we’re going to start a taskforce to examine the strategies for why doctors are leaving this state, but we specifically mention in this resolution that we will not examine medical malpractice liability, which every doctor has told us for years is the primary reason. And even in the body of the resolution itself, it says how important this is as an issue, but then we completely disregard it. How can we have a taskforce, how can we have a resolution that specifically excludes a primary reason for the problem that we’re complaining of and we actually know about that problem.

“So I’ll be voting ‘no.’ Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, S.C.R. No. 212, S.D. 2, entitled: “SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE DIRECTOR OF HEALTH AND THE DEPARTMENT OF LABOR AND INDUSTRIAL RELATIONS WORKFORCE DEVELOPMENT COUNCIL TO CONVENE A TEMPORARY TASK FORCE TO EXAMINE STRATEGIES, OTHER THAN THOSE HAVING TO DO WITH MEDICAL MALPRACTICE LIABILITY AND INSURANCE PREMIUMS, THAT MAY PREVENT THE EXODUS OF PHYSICIANS FROM THE STATE,” was adopted with Senators Hemmings, Slom and Trimble voting “No.”

THIRD READINGMATTERS DEFERRED FROM TUESDAY, APRIL 10, 2007

H.B. No. 676, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

Senator Hee moved that H.B. No. 676, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Slom rose in support with reservations and said:

“Madam President, I rise in support of this measure with reservations.

“I’m a little concerned about the definitions used in the bill itself, and I’m also concerned about the phrase that keeps popping up – overdriving of animals. Now, I have three cats and if I tried to overdrive any one of them they would turn on me and we wouldn’t need a class C felony.

“So I support the idea of very reckless and life-threatening actions, but I think that some of these other descriptions may be very difficult to substantiate. Thank you.”

Senator Trimble requested his vote be cast “aye, with reservations,” and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 676, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ANIMALS,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

“Madam President, I rise to state my reservations on H.B. No. 1909, relating to standards of conduct.

“Madam President, the entire contents of the House draft of this bill have been removed. These include provisions establishing House and Senate legislative committees and the complaint process. In its place was inserted limiting the employment and lobbying activities of Legislator’s spouses and requiring all elected officials to take drug tests after their election but prior to taking the oath of office.

"I will be voting for this bill with reservations to allow further consideration by Conference Committee, and I hope that the Senate Conference managers will consider agreeing to and improving the House's legislative ethics provisions, specifically by giving the House and Senate Ethics Committees more independence, an equal bipartisan composition, as well as freedom to investigate complaints submitted by Legislators of both political parties.

"Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Hooser requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Hee rose in favor of the measure and stated:

"Madam President, I rise to speak in favor of the bill.

"Duly noting the comments by the previous speaker, it is the intent of the Senate Conference Committee, to the extent that I may be able to lead the Committee, to engage a discussion on precisely the issues he raised as a matter of Conference. So, the preclusion of any such issue should be laid to rest, to the extent that the final product has already been determined is presumptuous, and we'll try to do the best that we can under the circumstances.

"Thank you."

Senator Slom rose in opposition as follows:

"Madam President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"This bill would eliminate the GE tax on biomass fuels but it would also impose a new tax of an additional one cent per gallon on gasoline. You know, we all sat through last year when there were crocodile tears about the exemption, the GET exemption on ethanol fuels – it was going to run out in December of last year. We had an opportunity to do something about it. We didn't do anything about it, including the administration. And so the exemption ran out December 31st, and the next day we woke up with an 11 cent per gallon increase in our gasoline. And there still have been crocodile tears for the last four months and nothing has been done about it.

"Now this bill, and with this amendment, proposes to try to alleviate some of that problem, but in trying to take away the burden of the general excise tax, it adds another one penny tax to the special fund. And why is the money going to the highway special fund? Because the supporters argue that the fund doesn't have enough money to take care of its responsibilities. And why doesn't the special fund have enough money? Because the special fund was raided by this very Legislature over and over again.

"So while I would like to see the general excise exemption eliminated, or the exemption restated and the tax eliminated, I don't want to do it at the cost of having another backdoor tax increase.

"Thank you."

FINAL READING

S.B. No. 1063, S.D. 1, H.D. 1:

Senator Hee moved that S.B. No. 1063, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Ihara rose to speak in support of the measure and said:

"Madam President, I rise in support of S.B. No. 1063, Relating to Legislative Vacancies.

"Madam President, the principle behind this measure is that Republicans should have significant input in filling vacancies of Republican legislative seats. And Democratic vacancies should be filled with significant input by Democrats. This applies to the other parties if they ever have seats as well.

"I believe this bill establishes a reasonable method for filling legislative vacancies, particularly in situations when the Governor and vacating Legislator are from different political parties. If all we had were same-party legislative appointments, I don't think there would be a need for this bill. But in the last two decades, several opposite-party appointments have led to turnovers in party control of those legislative seats. I don't know if this was intended or not, but I think the examples I will cite may cause one to wonder.

"I believe this measure should have been adopted years ago, as well as other reforms that seek more political fairness and increase checks and balances. I also acknowledge the difficulty of adopting reforms in an environment of single-party dominance.

"In the last 20 years, there have been seven opposite-party appointments to fill legislative vacancies. Our Republican Governor has appointed two Democratic Legislators resulting in no changes in party control. On the other hand, Democratic governors filled five Republican vacancies, and three of these appointments resulted in Democratic takeovers of these Republican seats.

"In 1993, after winning four straight elections against Democrats, House Republican Leader Mike O'Kieffe, who beat a Democrat, stayed in office until his death in 1993. The Democratic governor appointed a Republican who did not seek election, and the Democrats took back the seat in the 1994 election.

"Republican Representative Donna Ikeda held her seat for 12 years until she resigned in 1986. The Democratic governor filled the vacancy with a Republican . . . who switched parties before the next election. In that 1988 election, the Democrats began a 12-year control of that House seat.

"After ten years in the Senate, Republican Buddy Soares resigned his seat in 1986. The Democratic governor selected a Republican replacement, but this appointed Legislator switched parties and won the 1988 election. This allowed the Republican seat to be taken over by Democrats for a span of eight years following that.

"One can only speculate whether Republicans would have retained these 3 legislative seats if S.B. No. 1063 was already law. Back then, what if the Democratic governor had to choose from nominees submitted by the Republican Party? I would imagine at least there might have been less likelihood of the new Republican Legislators switching parties after their appointment.

"I believe there is an even and probably better chance for the return of a Democratic governor. So my Republican colleagues might want to look to the long term, and vote for this measure to ensure that they can nominate replacements for Republican nominees.

"Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Hemmings rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Madam President, I rise to speak against this legislation.

"You know, we Republicans do like to look to the long term, but we're no fools. We can also look back on the 20-year history which just was so clearly enunciated by the previous speaker that clearly shows the unbelievable partisanship and exploitation of the process for political gain by the Majority Party. Yes, we look to the future with hopes that we could walk hand-in-hand together and do things in a nonpartisan or bipartisan way for the betterment of the people, but what we experience here in this Legislature is political abuse year in and year out – our bills are shelved; we're given rotten excuses for not hearing our measures; they're oftentimes copied and incremented in other parts of law because the people demand it. The partisanship of the Majority Party is unprecedented, as pointed out by the previous speaker.

"We're not going to go along with the 'shibai,' and say, oh yes, all of sudden after 40 years of abuse we're going to become ecumenical and we're going to share the power and we're going to make sure that we protect the poor Republicans in the future. I'd like to believe it, Madam President, but the record is unbelievable of the partisanship of this Legislature and the way they handle everything from appointments, to filling vacancies, to just the mere passage of legislation.

"I counted last election the total number of constituents we represent here, and though our numbers are small in the Legislature because of close elections, we represent close to 40 percent of the people of the State of Hawai'i who quite frankly are fed up with the partisanship, and fed up with the 'shibai,' and fed up with the self-righteous standing up after 40 years of abuse of this system and saying, 'Oh my, we're going to be bipartisan now.' Yeah, we'll be bipartisan until there is a Democrat governor and then we'll go back to the old system.

"Madam President, this bill is too little, too late, and it amounts to nothing more than a 'shibai.' I urge my colleagues to vote 'no' against it if you have any kind of conscience at all."

Senator Trimble rose in opposition also and stated:

"Madam President, I stand in opposition to this measure but for slightly different reasons.

"Colleagues, I can remember after my first Session in the State Senate being asked to go to the fifth floor and review bills that were up for possible veto, and the occupant of the fifth floor, who's still occupying it today, asked what she should do. And my advice to the Governor was, 'You represent all the people; do what is in the best interest of all the people.'

"When we have an election, and leading up to that election we have two or more parties vying for the mind, and the soul, and the vote of the electorate, it makes a lot of sense, because we're trying to distinguish between what is Republican and what is Democrat, what is Green, and what is whatever. But after the election is over and in the interim between elections, it makes sense to appoint that individual that will best represent the people of that district, whether it's Republican, Democrat, or in the case of most of the constituents of that district, independent.

"I think that the Governor should have the option, and we do have a Governor that truly does think in the best interest of the people, unlike the alleged partisanship which has been advertised or assumed on the part of the other party.

"So I oppose this measure because I think the Governor should have the flexibility of giving the people the person that would best represent their interest, whether it be Republican, Democrat, or Independent. Thank you.”

RECONSIDERATION OF ACTIONS TAKEN

H.B. No. 581, H.D. 1:

Pursuant to Senate Rule 66(3), Senator Ige moved that the Senate reconsider its action taken on April 10, 2007, in passing H.B. No. 581, H.D. 1, on Third Reading, seconded by Senator Hooser.

Senator Ige noted:

“Madam President, this bill authorizes the issuance of special purpose revenue bonds for Hanalani Schools and passed Third Reading in the Senate unamended on April 10, 2007. Article VII, Section 9 of the Hawai‘i State Constitution prohibits final passage of any appropriation bill until after the State budget bill has been transmitted to the Governor. Therefore, we are requesting that the House return this bill to the Senate.”

The motion was then put by the Chair and carried, and the Clerk was directed to inform the House of the Senate’s request to return H.B. No. 581, H.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE ISSUANCE OF SPECIAL PURPOSE REVENUE BONDS FOR HANALANI SCHOOLS,” to the Senate.

S.B. No. 870, S.D. 1 (H.D. 2):

Senator Fukunaga moved that the Senate reconsider its action taken earlier on the calendar in agreeing to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 870, S.D. 1, seconded by Senator Espero.

Senator Fukunaga noted:

“Madam President, we discovered a minor defect in the bill that requires correction; therefore, we would like to disagree on this measure.”

The motion to reconsider agreeing to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 870, S.D. 1, was then put by the Chair and carried.

On motion by Senator Fukunaga, seconded by Senator Espero and carried, the Senate disagreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 870, S.D. 1, and requested a conference on the subject matter thereof.

Senator Hee rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

“Beginning immediately, all active army soldiers in Iraq and Afghanistan will serve 15-month tours – three months longer than the usual standard – the Defense Secretary Robert Gates said today. For Hawai‘i-based soldiers that means more than 7,000 Schofield Barracks Soldiers who left Oahu in July will spend longer time there, thinking that they’d be back in two months. Officials on Monday said 13,000 national guard troops are receiving orders alerting them to prepare for possible deployment to Iraq, meaning a second tour for several thousand of them. Officials said a final decision would be made shortly.

“Word also has emerged from the defense department officials that they’re considering a plan to extend up to four months the tours of duty for as many as 15,000 US troops already in Iraq as a way to maintain the buildup past the summer. Currently, there are 145,000 US troops in Iraq, and when the buildup is completed by June, there will be more than 160,000, officials are calculating.

“The last time we were on this Session Floor we rose to honor a native son, Jay Cajimat of Maui.

“The British have reported so far that 140 of theirs have died; 33 of Italy; 18 of Ukraine; 19 from Poland; 13 from Bulgaria; 11 from Spain; 6 from Denmark; 5 from El Salvador; 4 from Slovakia; 3 from Latvia; 2 from Estonia, the Netherlands and Thailand; and 1 from Australia, Hungary, Kazakhstan and Romania. In the United States, there have been 3,292 deaths as of Wednesday, April 11th. At least 2,674 of those have been a result of hostile action according to the military. There have been 24,314 wounded out of 26,188 who have been medivacked.

“I have been receiving calls, and I’m grateful for the calls of concern, to impeach the President by resolution. This morning one person called to ask why the Senate was not scheduling S.C.R. No. 83 to impeach the President. ‘It must be,’ the caller said, ‘that you think Bush is not doing anything wrong.’ I have given approximately 30,000 reasons why I think the Chief Executive of the United States of America bears some responsibility for the deaths and wounded of not only the American soldiers, but all others who have been impacted. And I cannot imagine how a parent must feel, and I’m grateful for that privilege.

“The Senate will not hear the resolution to impeach Bush because although symbolic, there have been 30,000 symbols of his responsibility. And if there is a measure to impeach the President, it is my belief that measure should be properly held in the Congress of the United States.

“Bush will be gone in a year – God save America. Thank you.”

Senator Hemmings rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

“I’m truly sorry I have to do so. Yes, it’s indeed unfortunate that our country has had war declared against us – not on 9/11 but in years before by religious extremists who want to cut our heads off and eradicate us because of the freedoms we practice and for the beliefs we have as a people. Those people have waged unbelievable war without borders, without nations, without uniforms, without flags – the most insidious war, I think, ever fought in the history of civilization, and the most dishonorable war certainly.

“Yes, our resources are stretched very taut but they’re especially stretched taut because the previous administration, under the guise of the alleged peace dividend, because America did achieve world peace against the dominion of the Soviet empire through strength, the Clinton Administration built our resources down to very perilous capacities and now we’re paying the price.

“What the previous speaker failed to mention is the numerous attacks on this country and our interest in the prior administration – the bombing of the World Trade Center; two embassies bombed in Africa; a US war ship bombed in Kuwait – with literally no response other than rhetorical response on the part of the previous administration.

“A rhetorical question was asked, what about the parents, how do they feel, of the young men and women who volunteered to fight this war for us? Volunteered, I might add – no one is there because of a draft. I would say the vast majority of those who I’ve talked to and the vast number of men and women in uniform feel, in a word, proud – proud that they can wear the uniform with the stars and stripes of the United States of America on their shoulder and defend not just this country, but freedom-seeking people around the world from the abuses of a very satanic, almost cult, of extremist theocracies who want to take women who maybe do not dress appropriately, out to the town square and stone them to death like the Taliban was doing in Afghanistan; or want to cut reporters’ heads off on television as an example of the strength they have in wielding the sword for what they believe.

“I am so proud that this country, unlike any country in the history of human kind, not only has men and women defending our borders and our sovereignty, but defending the rights and freedoms of other people around the world. We don’t have a choice. We didn’t declare this war. This war was declared on us. It is a war against terror.

“And regarding Iraq – yes, the President did lead us into Iraq, but not without the vote of the United States Congress and many of the double-faced Janus’s politicians who are now speaking out against it and voting against it.

“Madam President, now is not the time to measure our success or failures by body counts, but by what we do as a nation and the courage we have to defend our freedom and the freedom of people around this world in this epic battle that, I would say, has been waged since the 7th century. What kind of world are we going to live in? – the world that they want or the world that we have? I’d say now is the time for us to stand united and support those who are willing to fight the treachery and evilness of the people that have declare war on us and want to eradicate us.

“Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Hooser rose on a point of personal privilege and stated:

“I’m standing here today to support my friend and colleague, the Judiciary Chair, and the remarks he made and applaud his willingness to stand up and speak what I believe is truth to power. This is not about pride and our troops. Each of us, each of our families are connected somehow to people in the military. My father was in the military, retired from the military, fought in Vietnam. I have many friends who fight and I’m proud of them – young men and women all around. This is not about whether or not we’re patriotic or how proud we are of our troops.

“I wish I could be just as proud in our President, but I cannot be. There is not one doubt in my mind, and I think not many doubts in the American people’s minds, that we’re at war today because the President, President Bush, and his associates misled the American people and the international community and convinced us at that time that it was the right thing to do. And I’m firmly convinced that history will show that this is true – that we were lied to. And people die today, every day – young American men and women, Iraqis, people from all over the world die every single day because of the decisions and choices made by our President and his associates that have led us down this path.

“I applaud those in Congress and elsewhere now who are willing to speak out and try to reverse this trend. Every day, people die. Every day when I watch television, watch the news, read the paper, I become angry and wish, in retrospect, that our President had been impeached and was not there. But time is passing and he will be gone. Every day, people die; every day, corporations grow rich from selling the bombs and bullets.

“It is not unpatriotic to be against the war or unpatriotic to be against this President. In fact, I would say the reverse is true – the greater patriots are willing to stand up and speak the truth and at the same time support Americans all over the world who are in the pursuit of peace. It’s just unfortunate where we’re at today, and it’s just a sad, sad time for America.

“Thank you.”

Senator Menor, Chair of the Committee on Energy and Environment, requested a waiver of the notice requirement pursuant to Senate Rule 21 for S.C.R. No. 118 and S.R. No. 74.

Senator Menor noted:

“Madam President, the waiver is being requested in order to accommodate a recent request by one of our colleagues to have these resolutions heard.”

The Chair then granted the waiver.

STANDING COMMITTEE REPORTS

The President made the following observation:

“Members, today is the First Crossover deadline for concurrent resolutions. At this time, the Chair will entertain a motion to adopt Stand. Com. Rep. Nos. 1735-1819 in order to meet this deadline.”

Senators Sakamoto and Inouye, for the Committee on Education and the Committee on Intergovernmental and Military Affairs, presented a joint report (Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1735) recommending that S.C.R. No. 57, as amended in S.D. 1, be adopted.

Senator Ige moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1735 and S.C.R. No. 57, S.D. 1, be adopted., seconded by Senator Whalen.

Senator Hemmings rose in opposition to the measure as follows:

“Madam President, I rise to speak against Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1735 and Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1736, resolutions concerning requesting the United States Congress to propose amendments to the No Child Left Behind Act.

“In the very well thought out, excessively, profusely written resolution full of inaccuracies and misrepresentations, I’ll direct the Floor’s attention to the committee report: ‘Your Committees find that the Department of Education has been subject to several mandates that have drained resources and taken the focus away from various programs and objectives under the No Child Left Behind Act.’ I won’t go into the details about the $2.3 billion the public education system siphons away without much accountability. If we’re going to examine everything, maybe we should examine and audit the DOE’s mismanagement of funds.

“But on that particular issue, our research shows that the DOE did not spend the federal No Child Left Behind money that was given for the years 2003-2006. The Governor’s report to the Legislature dated January 26, 2007, on the adequacy of federal funding for the No Child Left Behind Act noted in the reports, pages 16 and 17, the DOE only spent an average of 52 percent of the federal money given to them in these years. In other words, they have received money from the federal government and they’re complaining about not having enough money when they’re not even spending what they’re getting.

“This is the very reason why we really should be passing a resolution to audit the DOE which consumes approximately 20 percent of the total budget, and of course close to 40 percent of the A-funds or direct funds.

“Thank you, Madam President.”

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

The following messages from the Governor (Gov. Msg. Nos. 743 to 747) were read by the Clerk and were placed on file:

Gov. Msg. No. 743, informing the Senate that on April 13, 2007, she signed into law House Bill No. 1756 as Act 15, entitled: "RELATING TO COUNTY CONCESSIONS."

Gov. Msg. No. 744, dated April 13, 2007, transmitting her statement of objections to Senate Bill No. 776 which she has returned to the Senate without her approval and which reads as follows:

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

April 13, 2007

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 776

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fourth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 776, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Fire Protection.'

The purpose of this bill is to clarify that the State, and not the individual county fire departments, is responsible for the fire inspection of State-owned airport facilities required by law.

A substantially identical bill, House Bill No. 1138, was also passed by the Legislature. Because I approved House Bill No. 1138, as Act 10 of 2007, which accomplished the same purpose as this bill, there is no necessity to also approve this bill.

For the foregoing reason, I am returning Senate Bill No. 776 without my approval.

Respectfully,

/s/ Linda Lingle
LINDA LINGLE

Gov. Msg. No. 745, dated April 13, 2007, transmitting her statement of objections to Senate Bill No. 1513 which she has returned to the Senate without her approval and which reads as follows:

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS

April 13, 2007

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 1513

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fourth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 1513, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Motor Vehicles.'

The purpose of this bill is to conform State motor vehicle equipment specifications to the federal and automobile manufacturers' specifications by: (1) changing the minimum headlamp height requirement from twenty-four inches to twenty-two inches above the road surface and (2) deleting the requirement that a license plate be attached no lower than twelve inches above ground.

An identical bill, H.B. No. 1427, was also passed by the Legislature. Because I approved House Bill No. 1427, as Act 7 on April 9, 2007, which accomplished the purpose of this bill, there is no necessity to also approve this measure.

For the foregoing reason, I am returning Senate Bill No. 1513 without my approval.

Gov. Msg. No. 746, dated April 13, 2007, transmitting her statement of objections to House Bill No. 853 which she has returned to the House of Representatives without her approval and which reads as follows:

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

April 13, 2007

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 853

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fourth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 853, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Public Work Projects.'

This bill is objectionable because it would require the State to cite a contractor for each individual construction project for which work is performed, no matter how minor the infraction and whether the violation was committed knowingly or not. If violations were discovered in one investigation involving multiple construction projects, the contractor would receive multiple citations.

Upon the receipt of a third violation, a contractor would be precluded from performing any new public work construction for a three-year period. Considering the complexity of the law and the difficulties it poses for a contractor to successfully navigate, this result is too harsh. This rigid violation structure fails to take into account the severity of the violations found and the willfulness of the contractor in committing the violation.

The mandatory, progressive penalty structure in current law allows firms to correct errors as soon as they are identified and ensures that the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations is able to work with affected contractors to provide fair wages pursuant to the wage schedules, benefit formula, and applicable overtime rules in place.

The changing of the manner of issuing violations from one based on investigations to one based on projects will likely result in potential litigation. Further, the number of firms bidding on and accepting State and county projects is likely to diminish if the rigid penalty structure imposed by this bill is enacted.

Diminishing the number of firms that can bid on State and county projects, and passing measures that further discourage qualified firms from bidding, will inevitably result in higher costs for public works projects. This will adversely impact the State's ability to fund and execute construction and repair of schools, highways, parks, harbors, and the entire spectrum of public facilities operated by the State of Hawaii. It will also negatively impact the ability of the counties to repair and rebuild our sewer systems, upgrade wastewater treatment plants, and expand police and fire facilities and similar local government structures.

The prevailing wage should be paid when applicable and no contractor should be allowed to ignore the law. However, this bill is unreasonable in imposing a rigid approach that fails to take into account the severity of violations found and the willfulness of the contractor in committing the violation.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 853 without my approval.

Respectfully,

/s/ Linda Lingle
LINDA LINGLE
Governor of Hawaii"

Gov. Msg. No. 747, informing the Senate that on April 13, 2007, she permitted the following measure to become law without her signature:

House Bill No. 1081 as Act 16, entitled: "RELATING TO PUBLIC WORKS."

"Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: House Bill No. 1081

On April 13, 2007, House Bill No. 1081, entitled 'Relating to Public Works' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii.

This bill allows a joint labor-management committee established under the federal Labor Management Cooperation Act of 1978 to file a lawsuit against an employer who fails to pay the prevailing wage required by chapter 104, Hawaii Revised Statutes. This is Hawaii's law on Wages and Hours of Employees on Public Works. It covers laborers and mechanics working on a governmental construction project.

The Department of Labor and Industrial Relations currently conducts both complaint-generated and random routine investigations of public works projects for compliance with chapter 104. In addition, the Department's improved educational and outreach programs have decreased the number of violations. Thus, there is no demonstrable need for the enforcement of chapter 104 by labor-management committees. Lawsuits against certain contractors may delay existing public works projects and deter contractors from bidding on such projects, increasing potential costs to governmental contracting agencies and the taxpayers of the State.

Joint labor-management committees were created under federal Labor Management Cooperation Act of 1978 to negotiate and resolve disputes between labor and management. This is a legitimate and important role for them to play. It is not wise to turn these committees into enforcement vehicles. This turns over to an outside party functions handled by the State under chapter 104, Hawaii Revised Statutes, and may adversely impact the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations' ability to control proper enforcement of State statutes.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed House Bill No. 1081 to become law as Act 16 effective April 13, 2007 without my signature.

Sincerely,

/s/ Linda Lingle
LINDA LINGLE"

JOINT SESSION

The Joint Session of the Senate and the House of Representatives of the Twenty-Fourth Legislature of the State of Hawaii, Regular Session of 2007, was called to order at 10:11 o'clock a.m. by the Honorable Colleen Hanabusa, President of the Senate.

The President then stated:

"This is indeed a momentous occasion. We honor members of the Armed Forces of the United States, with ties to Hawai'i, who fought and died bravely, in a combat zone designated by presidential order.

"On behalf of the House Speaker and all of the members of the Hawai'i State Legislature, I convey our deepest condolences to our very special guests – the family, friends and colleagues of loved ones who have lost their lives overseas in the Middle East. Our prayers are with you, and we are honored by your presence."

At this time, the members of the Twenty-Fourth Legislature and special guests rose for the Posting of the Colors by the Joint Service Color Guard and the Hawaii Air National Guard, Royal Guard.

The members of the Legislature and guests remained standing for the singing of the National Anthem and "Hawai'i Pono'i" by the Reverend and Mrs. Randall Hongo, and Mr. Andrew Hongo.

The Divine Blessing was then invoked by Mr. Ray Ganotise.

At this time, the President thanked the Joint Service Color Guard, Royal Guard, the Reverend and Mrs. Randall Hongo, Mr. Andrew Hongo, and Mr. Ray Ganotise for their participation in today's ceremony.

The President then addressed the members of the Legislature and guests as follows:

"Courage . . . that rare and indefinable character that propels a few among us to do what is difficult and dangerous, to take on challenges that so many among us find beyond our grasp.

"Duty . . . the drive to serve country, community, and family that will carry a daughter from Washington, a son from Delaware, or a husband from Hilo across the world to stand for their nation in a time of war.

"Honor . . . the result when that uncommon valor and unshakable duty combine in action that awes us, inspires us, humbles us, and shows us the heights to which human endeavor can aspire.

"Today, we gather in Joint Session to honor those who have made a sacrifice for which we cannot ask, and we shall not forget. We honor the family, friends and colleagues who have also sacrificed . . . who have themselves paid a price . . . and who helped make today's honorees the brave, strong individuals that we called on and counted on to serve our nation.

"We offer this honor as a small token that can never in itself repay the honor that has been given us. An honor borne of courage, driven by duty, and paid for in loss – the highest price ever.

"The roll of heroes that we call today is more than a list of names. It is an acknowledgement of community.

"The Hawai'i Medal of Honor is reserved for those who have touched our islands, and have felt the touch of our people. And in offering it to those gathered here, in memory of those who have fallen, we recognize that they are a part of us. For each and every one of you, your tears are our tears. Your loss, our loss. Your pride, our pride. Wherever each of these medals finds its final home, a piece of our hearts goes with it. You will always be a part of our ohana, our family, because you have brought us honor, and allowed us to share these lives.

"These medals symbolize our aloha – our farewell to those we have lost – but also our love for those who have lived among us, touched us, and sacrificed for us, and our enduring welcome for all represented here today – the fallen and their families – who will be counted among us forever.

"Mahalo."

At this time, the President welcomed and introduced the following distinguished guests to the members of the Twenty-Fourth Legislature:

Major General Robert G.F. Lee, representing Governor Linda Lingle and the Hawai'i National Guard;

Lieutenant General Dan Leaf, U.S. Pacific Command;

Lieutenant General John M. Brown, III, U.S. Army and the U.S. Army Pacific;

Lieutenant General John Goodman, U.S. Marine Corps and Marine Forces Pacific, and Mrs. Gayle Goodman;

Mr. Kekoa Kaluhiwa, representing the Honorable Daniel K. Akaka, United States Senate; and

Mr. Carl Takamura, representing the Honorable Mazie Hirono, United States House of Representatives.

The President then said:

“Let us again acknowledge these fine military and congressional leaders and all other military personnel here today.”

At this time, the President presented Major General Robert Lee to the members of the Twenty-Fourth Legislature and special guests.

General Lee addressed the Joint Session and guests as follows:

“I want to thank everyone for coming to this Medal of Honor ceremony today. Your presence here is strong testimony to the support Hawai‘i has for our military personnel, our veterans, and their families.

“We are once again involved in hostilities in foreign lands. Our Armed Forces are once again fighting and dying for the ideals that our nation holds so dear. America’s sons and daughters bravely go into harm’s way to protect us and to defend our way of life.

“Losing a loved one is never easy. It is difficult to say goodbye to a parent or grandparent who has lived a long and fruitful life. But it is so much more difficult to witness the passing of a loved one who was in the prime of life and whose full potential did not yet have an opportunity to blossom. Such is the case of our heroes from the Armed Forces who we lost too soon. We will lament the missed birthdays, anniversaries, holidays, and really thousands of other daily events that could have been. We will continue to mourn this premature passing of our brothers and sisters in arms.

The State Medal of Honor is Hawai‘i’s way in which we can remember that ultimate sacrifice, to show our appreciation to the families, and to assure them that they will always be part of the State’s ohana or family.

“A circle of kalo, or taro leaves, is part of the Hawai‘i Medal of Honor. The word ohana was derived from kalo. And the circle is emblematic of the embrace of the people of Hawai‘i. Whether a fallen soldier, marine, or sailor grew up in Hawai‘i or were members of units based in Hawai‘i, he is still embraced as part of our ohana.

“The star in the coat of arms of the medal represents the 50th State star on the American flag and also represents the person who is being honored. But the star also evokes a symbol of America’s past. During World Wars I and II, families that had a member serving in the Armed Forces would display a blue star on a banner or flag in front of their home. If a service member from that family was killed in action, a gold star was often displayed in a window facing the street to let the neighborhood know that the life of a hero who had grown up there had been taken.

“Today this Medal is a token of our gratitude from the State of Hawai‘i, proclaiming to all that this is a family of a fallen hero. There is no greater sacrifice a family can make than the loss of a soldier, sailor, marine or airman while in service to our nation. And there is no greater honor which we, the people of Hawai‘i, can bestow upon them to symbolize that sacrifice.

“There’s an attachment device, in the middle of the red and yellow ribbon, which is a rendering of the ancient puela or flag, and this was raised at sea above the sail of their canoes. All who saw the puela from afar knew that a person of the highest rank or honor was coming. Today this service ribbon and its puela will remind us that these families are of the highest rank and honor.

“We appreciate even more President Abraham Lincoln’s humble wisdom at Gettysburg: ‘When brave men die, it is their deeds and not our words that are remembered. It is their sacrifice and not our brief recollection that offers everlasting testimony to their love for others and their love for us.’

“So to the families of our fallen heroes, I humbly ask that you accept this Hawai‘i Medal of Honor on behalf of the people of Hawai‘i who are today and forever shall be your devoted ohana. May God bless all of you, and may God continue to bless the United States of America.”

The President then said:

“Thank you, General Lee, for your leadership.

“Madam Clerk, please begin the announcement of the Hawai‘i Medal of Honor recipients.”

At this time, the Senate Clerk proceeded to read the names of the following individuals who were represented by family members, friends and colleagues to receive their medals and certificates:

“Members of the Senate and members of the House, please afford the Speaker and myself this bit of indulgence.

“Many of you are not at the vantage point that we are in looking up at the gallery, and we see many people in uniform – predominantly from the Marines and the Army – and I’ve learned from General Lee that they have just returned from Iraq. Will you please join us in applauding those who are here today to honor their fallen fellow servicemen.”

“Members of the House and Senate, and special guests, please rise and turn your attention to the rotunda level for the 21-gun Salute and the playing of Taps. Following this will be a moment of silence. Members of the United States Air Force, please proceed.”

A 21-gun Salute and Taps were then carried out by the U.S. Air Force.

The Speaker then gave his closing remarks.

“We have all just participated in a most somber and touching ceremony. We – family and friends, colleagues and strangers – all mourn together. And we all have an abundance of thoughts and emotions to contemplate and put to rest.

“We should not, however, consider this day as a completely somber occasion. There are some very positive lessons to be derived from this ceremony.

“First, we have honored 67 young men and women for the ultimate sacrifice one can give to his or her country. The Medals awarded today will help us here – and this generation – to remember these courageous individuals. More importantly, by placing these names in the permanent record of Hawai‘i’s legislative history, we are assured that these warriors will be remembered in perpetuity, by generations to follow.

“Second, this ceremony has brought us together. Family members and friends of the fallen have come from locations across the state, and across the nation, to participate in this ceremony, and commemorate the memory of their loved ones and comrades in arms. We, the participants from Hawai‘i, welcome the opportunity to make new friends – to reminisce with our honored families and to listen to their stories – and to share our aloha.

“Third, this ceremony reminds us of the importance of dignity and tradition, and the strength and resolve of America’s armed forces. Without the protection of our uniformed men and women, we civilians would probably not be able to reap the benefits of a free and democratic society. The military is the unseen force that protects us from threats near and far, and allows us to exercise our democratic rights of speech, liberty and peace. As civilians, we should show our appreciation to our military personnel more often.

“And finally, this ceremony reminds us that we must be deserving of the sacrifices of these brave men and women honored today. For them, we must live our lives honorably. For them, we must be unselfish, and willing to serve and share with others. And for them, we must work towards progress for the betterment of society and mankind – not for personal award or acclaim. In sum, we must live in a manner that proves that we are worthy of their sacrifice.

“Joint Service Color Guard and Royal Guard, please retire the colors.”

At this time, the members of the Twenty-Fourth Legislature and special guests rose for the Retiring of the Colors by the Joint Service Color Guard and the Hawaii Air National Guard, Royal Guard.

“There being no further business, I declare this Joint Session adjourned.”

At 11:10 o’clock a.m., Speaker Say declared the Joint Session adjourned.

At 11:10 o'clock a.m., the Senate adjourned until 11:30 o'clock a.m., Tuesday, April 17, 2007.

Gov. Msg. No. 758, dated April 16, 2007, transmitting her statement of objections to House Bill No. 1672 which she has returned to the House of Representatives without her approval and which reads as follows:

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

April 16, 2007

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 1672

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fourth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1672, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Legislative Service Agencies.'

This bill increases the maximum salary of the Deputy Auditor, the First Assistant to the Ombudsman, and the First Assistant to the Director of the Legislative Reference Bureau (LRB) from 87% to 92% of the pay of the Directors of these three organizations.

This will raise the maximum salary of the Deputy Auditor, the First Assistant to the Ombudsman, and the First Assistant to the Director of the Legislative Reference Bureau from $90,514 to $97,631 on July 1, 2007. This is the second significant pay increase for legislative attached agency personnel in two years.

This bill is objectionable because it increases the inequity in compensation levels for these three legislative agencies as compared to other positions in State government.

Under this bill, the Legislative Branch second-in-command positions will be allowed to earn more than the Directors of the Department of Hawaiian Home Lands (DHHL), the Department of Public Safety (PSD), the Department of Human Resources Development (DHRD), and the Chairperson of the Department of Agriculture (DOA). These Directors are responsible for millions of dollars of public funds; hundreds and, in some cases, thousands of employees spread across the State; the stewardship for hundreds of thousands of acres of land held in trust for the native Hawaiian people; the survival of our agricultural sector; and the management of our prison system, which includes multiple facilities on four islands. Yet they are compensated less than a First Assistant in the Ombudsman's Office that supervises eight investigators, a First Assistant in the Legislative Reference Bureau that supervises nine individuals, and the Deputy Auditor responsible for fifteen personnel.

If the 2007 recommendations of the Commission on Salaries are adopted, this bill will raise the maximum salary of the Deputy Auditor, the First Assistant to the Ombudsman, and the First Assistant to the Director of the Legislative Reference Bureau (LRB) from $90,514 to $100,508 on July 1, 2007. The four Directors listed above would earn several thousand dollars less.

It should also be pointed out that a number of key positions in the Executive Branch with significant managerial and public policy responsibilities have not had compensation adjustments that allow the Administration to attract and retain personnel. These include, but are not limited to, the Public Utilities Commissioners ($77,390), Executive Director of the Hawaii Public Housing Authority ($79,590), Executive Director of the Hawaii Housing Finance and Development Corporation ($79,590), and the Vice Director of the Civil Defense ($81,463). A full list of these positions is attached to this Statement of Objections.

These positions have significant responsibilities, such as managing almost 6,000 public housing units, coordinating statewide responses to natural disasters, and setting tariffs and rate in complex utility cases.

This Administration introduced bills this year, House Bill No. 1367 and Senate Bill No. 1453, to de-link the salary levels for Executive Branch senior staff members who were adversely affected by Act 226 SLH 2005. Despite the inequity that existed prior to this legislative session due to Acts 226 and Acts 225 of 2005, the Legislature failed to pass the Administration's proposal that would have brought parity in pay for Executive Branch employees and recognized the importance of treating all State employees fairly and equitably.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 1672 without my approval.

Respectfully,

/s/ Linda Lingle
LINDA LINGLE
Governor of Hawai'i,"

was placed on file.

Senator Chun Oakland then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of LILLIAN B. KOLLER as Director of the Department of Human Services, term to expire December 6, 2010, seconded by Senator Ihara.

Senator Chun Oakland rose in support of the nominee as follows:

"Madame President, I rise in support of Gov. Msg. No. 275, requesting the confirmation of Ms. Lillian Koller for a second term as Director of Human Services.

"Your Committee on Human Services and Public Housing conducted a thorough examination of the nominee, including the review of public and written testimony and questioning of the nominee and others at public hearings. I, as Chair of the Committee, met privately with many past and present employees of the Department of Human Services and members of the community who expressed concerns but wished to remain anonymous. Additionally, my Vice Chair and I met with the nominee after the hearings with follow-up questions and further discussion.

"Your Committee on Human Services and Public Housing received a great deal of testimony in support of the nominee's confirmation from government agencies, nonprofit service providers, community organizations, and individuals from a variety of backgrounds. The nature of the testimony focused on the positive departmental achievements realized under the nominee's direction. Examples include:

- Procuring hundreds of millions of previously untapped federal revenue for social service programs;
- Meeting the federally required Program Improvement Plan for the Child Welfare Services Branch;
- Establishing new initiatives to increase and enhance the self-sufficiency of Hawaii's most vulnerable population;
- Decreasing caseloads – benefiting both employees and clients of the Department; and
- Increasing the transparency and openness of the Department.

"Your Committee was concerned by reports that the nominee has a difficult management style and less than positive relationships with employees. Your Committee was also concerned about reports relating to her use of departmental funds and outside consultants. These reports were explored at great length. Throughout the hearings, Ms. Koller expressed a willingness to address the concerns that were raised and was open to suggestions for improvement. She expressed her desire for employees to feel comfortable with coming forward with their concerns, and in an effort to further employee comfort and participation, she indicated that she is willing to consider establishing an Ombuds office within the department to mediate and problem solve with personnel and to open dialogue with personnel regarding the reasoning of policy changes and to hear their ideas and concerns. The nominee has also expressed that she recognizes the talent and knowledge of departmental employees and individuals in private sector nonprofits as well as the community who have a wealth of experience in their fields of expertise. The nominee reiterated her appreciation for their contributions throughout the hearing process.

"Subsequent to the public hearings, I spoke with the nominee in greater detail about these management concerns. In these discussions, Ms. Koller made commitments to work more collaboratively with staff and to ensure that the fair treatment of the employees, clients, service providers, and community partners of the Department of Human Services would be assured.

"The nominee is aware of and ready for some major challenges facing the Department in the next four years. These include:

- Improving the stability of children in foster care;
- Preparing for Hawaii's aging population;
- Completing negotiations with the federal government for the maximization of support for the State's new QUEST Expanded Access Program; and
- Complying with the federal Deficit Reduction Act.

"I believe the nominee has the vision and leadership needed to meet these challenges and that she will live up to the commitments she made throughout the hearing process to your Committee. I also believe that in her second term as Director of Human Services, Ms. Koller will serve the public interest by continually improving the management of the department and the services it renders to its clients.

"As the person that said our opening prayer today mentioned, 'treat the earth well,' there is urgent need to treat people well. For the sake of Hawaii's residents and for the sake of our generations to come, I think we have expressed that message to Director Koller, and she is committed to doing this.

"For these reasons, Madame President, I urge my colleagues to join me in voting to confirm Ms. Koller to a second term as Director of Human Services. Thank you."

Senator Hemmings rose to speak in favor of the nomination as follows:

"Madam President, I rise to speak in favor of Gov. Msg. No. 275 the re-nomination of Lillian Koller to be the Director of the Department of Human Services.

"Madam President and colleagues, it's with great pleasure I stand here today to speak in favor of this nomination for the simple reason that when the Governor sent down the re-nomination of Lillian Koller to head the second largest department in state government, there was some consternation and there were questions. I wish at this time to give credit to my Chairman, the Chairman of the Human Services Committee, for the conducting of the public hearing on this process.

"In fact, if you look at the committee report, it is almost as long as Lillian is loquacious. It details everything that was done, and it's quite a report. I will say that the Chairman did express that there were off-the-record concerns about management style and the Chairman did an excellent job, as she previously reiterated, on addressing those issues with the Director. I can honestly say that two very intelligent, passionate women came to a meeting of the minds on these issues and they will be dealt with and resolved to the benefit of all concerned.

"In speaking to this nominee, I would say she's one of the shining stars of the human service programs across this Nation. So much so that she's been nationally recognized by the United States Department of Health and Human Services for her treatment programs for abused and neglected children. As the previous speaker said, she's brought in hundreds of millions of dollars of federal funding for various programs, including uninsured children programs, prevention of family problems and abuse and neglect. But there's a subtle thing that's happened, and I saw it in the eyes, in the testimony – the six hours of testimony – of the people that came in. I really believe in my heart that people that are in the human service occupation aren't there for fame and fortune. They're there because they truly have a passion for helping the less fortunate in our society. And I will say that what I saw in those people testifying, for the first time in my tenure here in the Senate, is a sense of true pride in what they're doing and how they have affected those less fortunate in their lives.

"Lillian Koller has not been a person who has sustained the status quo. She's done something that's really difficult in life. She's brought about change in the culture of human service. Change is difficult. They say, oftentimes, even abused spouses, even though they're being abused, have a difficult time coming to grips with the change in their situation personally that is necessary to maybe even save their lives. But change has come. There was once a measure of the success of human service programs by the number of people that we are helping. The change now is being measured by the number of people we've liberated, who've gotten jobs through the SEE Hawai'i Work program. The change has come from the people. I can remember very vividly the passion the good Senator from Kauai had about our dental program doing nothing to help people when they needed to save their teeth and they were simply pulling their teeth when they were rotting and falling out of their mouths. That program has been changed. Federal money is now being used and state money for preventative dental care. Across the board in the area of human services, this culture of change has resulted in people no longer being snared in a government safety net, but people jumping off a springboard into new opportunity and living independent lives and productive lives. And this is because of the intelligence and courageous leadership of Lillian Koller.

"So we ask ourselves in voting today, 'Are we endorsing this?' And I say, 'Yes, we are.' I'd also like to recognize, as I said at the beginning of my remarks in favor of this nominee, that we have a wonderful partnership, I think – a partnership that does respect the separations of power between the legislative and executive branch of government, but a partnership that sees a common goal of reaching out together to try to help those of us who through no fault of our own need the help of our fellow citizens, the human programs. And I think under the leadership of the Committee Chairman and the leadership of Lillian Koller, we have some good years in front of us in the Department of Human Services to the benefit of all of us and something we can be very proud of as we are of this nominee today.

"Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Sakamoto rose to speak in support of the nominee with reservations and stated:

"Madam President, I rise in support with reservations. I don't have a long speech, but I'll give a few comments.

"I think the bottom line question in my mind, which I asked the Director, was, Do the ends justify the means? Because people can give off a long litany of here's where we've changed. And she didn't answer 'yes' – she didn't answer 'the ends justify the means'; but neither did she answer 'no' – she did not say 'the ends don't justify the means.' In summary, at least in my hearing, it seemed to be, 'it's a matter of communication.'

"One of the issues raised was the consultant or consultants. And in my mind, part of the issue was the free consultants. In the hearing it was made clear to us that there were free consultants, but I don't believe it was clear to the employees, or clients, or others involved that this person or people had or did not have certain authority to make decisions, to force other people to make decisions. So I don't believe, in this case, having a free consultant having reign in the department or with clients, I don't believe that the ends justified the means, even if good results could have come out of it. I believe there should have been a different way.

"I think on the creative use of TANF funds certainly some people got help, some people got art lessons, etc., but I don't believe some of the use was the best use for those funds, and I believe the discussion should have been broader. Just to say we've helped people and we've got more money, I don't believe the ends justify the means.

"On the issue of ideally people working 40 hours, certainly we want take people off welfare; we want them to have better lives; we want them to understand what a 40-hour work week looked like. But, if indeed the law was 30 hours, to what extent should the people in our department force the people who are trying to get out of some hole, stretch, even though it may have been better for them, to the 40-hour requirement if that was not our state law and it was not the federal law? I believe it wasn't clear to employees, it wasn't clear to people in the system if indeed that was a mandate and what retribution or what they would lose. So, I don't believe the ends justified the means.

"Whether there were any other issues, and we can go down many other issues, many employees, as Senator Chun Oakland said, did contact her directly or contact others, and whether it's fear, warranted or unwarranted, whether it's intimidation, real or unreal, when people in the department have that feeling, I don't believe the ends justify the means.

"So, Madam President, I encourage my members – if you choose to vote in support, I ask you to vote with reservations, hoping that as the Senator to my left, the Chair of the Committee, has worked with the employees and with the Department that things will be better. But based on the performance at this time, I encourage everyone to vote with reservations if indeed you choose to vote in favor.

"Thank you."

Senator Slom rose to support the nominee and said:

"Madam President, I rise in full support with no reservations for the nominee.

"While I am not on that Committee I watched the hearings, almost all of them, and I was struck by the willingness of the nominee to take suggestions, to take ideas, and even to take criticism from unknown and unseen people. But I think the most important thing here is not a debate on ends and means, but results. And the result, as the good Senator from Kailua has mentioned, is that we have in fact given choices to people that for such a long period of time were simply wards of the State, simply marks on a data track. They have independence; they have choices; and in getting jobs and getting self-sufficiency, they have respect, they have dignity, and they have opportunities that they didn't realize before.

"Madam President, there is a difference in philosophy, not only in this Body, but across the country in government, that it is government's role to take care of people and to take care of their children and to take care of their children's children. But there's another philosophy that says encourage people to take care of themselves. Remove the barriers, remove the obstacles and allow them to do that. And no one in recent memory in this area has done a better job in doing that than Lillian Koller. She has reached out to individuals that were ignored in the past; she sought and received partnerships and people that volunteered to help other people less fortunate than themselves – not asking for any recompense, not asking for any special favors or recognition from government – just to help, because this was the first time that somebody had actually reached out. And yes, there was consultation. But ultimately, the decisions were made by the Director, Lillian Koller. She was willing then, as she's willing now, to take suggestions and consultation from others, but the responsibility is hers and she acknowledges that.

"In looking at what we've seen in terms of those decisions over the past four years, we'd say those were good decisions that she made. And so I think we're very fortunate to have someone like this, as the Minority Leader said, that has the passion, the drive, the desire. And if somebody talks about management style being difficult, that may be another term for effective leadership. Leadership isn't easy. It's a lot easier to go along or to compromise with the rules, the principles, and the things that are necessary to bring about change – to bring about change for individuals to control their own lives, their own families, their own destinies. And that's why I give full support to this nominee and urge all my colleagues to do so without reservation because Lillian Koller has emphasized the humanity in the Department of Human Services.

"Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Hooser rose with reservations and stated:

"Madam President, please note my reservations and could you enter the words of the Education Chair and the Senator from Moanalua into the record as if they were my own. Thank you."

The Chair so ordered.

Senator Hee rose and said:

"Madam President, please note my reservations and enter the words of the Chair on Education as my own. Thank you."

The Chair so ordered.

Senators Kokubun, Ige, Fukunaga, Espero, Nishihara, English, Tokuda, Sakamoto, Ihara, Hee, Tsutsui, Kim and Hooser requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Ayes with Reservations, 13 (English, Espero, Fukunaga, Hee, Ige, Ihara, Hooser, Kim, Kokubun, Nishihara, Sakamoto, Tokuda, Tsutsui). Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Taniguchi).

At this time, Senator Chun Oakland introduced Ms. Koller to the members of the Senate.

At 12:11 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:15 o'clock p.m.

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

April 18, 2007

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 14

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fourth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 14, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to the University of Hawaii.'

This bill attempts to implement the provisions of Article X, Section 6 of the State Constitution, approved in 2006. It establishes a seven-member Candidate Advisory Council, exempts this Council from the open meeting provisions of Chapter 92, Hawaii Revised Statutes, increases from twelve to fifteen the number of University of Hawaii Regents, and establishes geographic criteria for 12 of the Regent positions.

This bill is objectionable because it contradicts what public citizen trusteeship should be – that is, citizens who are independent in their individual and collective judgment and who serve the people of Hawaii, not special interest groups. Instead, Senate Bill No. 14 establishes a narrowly focused constituency-based selection council with each member appointed by seven separate interests, including the All Campus Council of Faculty Senate Chairs, the Executive Council of the University of Hawaii Student Caucus, the Association of Regents Emeritus, and the President of the Alumni Association.

These individuals can recommend as few as only two names to fill a vacancy on the Board of Regents, further contributing to the partisan and narrow focus of potential Regent candidates.

Three nationally recognized and well-respected organizations have expressed serious concerns about the selection process proposed in Senate Bill No. 14 – the Association of Governing Boards of Universities and Colleges (AGB), the Western Association of Schools and Colleges (WASC), and the Accrediting Commission of Community and Junior Colleges (ACCJC). They have, on several occasions, pointed out that the process contained in this bill runs counter to national best practices in university governance.

I do not believe any governor, regardless of party, would agree to a process that is opposed by the President of the University of Hawaii and those very organizations that judge whether to accredit the State's premier institution of higher learning.

I am also troubled by the exemption of the selection council from Part 1, Chapter 92, of the Hawaii Revised Statutes covering open meetings, also known as the Sunshine Law. This blanket exemption would allow this council to conduct its proceedings behind closed doors away from public scrutiny. This increases the possibility of political or partisan overtones in the selection process being hidden from public view. Further, it makes it difficult for the selection council members to be held accountable for the recommendations they make since the public will be unable to observe how certain persons were selected, what qualifications were applied, and what screening process was used.

I affirmatively state that I respect the decision of the electorate in amending the State Constitution to change the method for selecting the Board of Regents. I have demonstrated my commitment to implement this Constitutional change by recommending legislation (House Bill No. 1431/Senate Bill No. 1517) to establish an advisory council to screen and propose candidates for appointment to the Board of Regents. This Administration bill does not create the kind of narrow, constituent approach that Senate Bill No. 14 creates and respects the importance of an open selection process.

Should the Legislature send me a bill that incorporates the unbiased and open approach embodied in House Bill No. 1431/Senate Bill No. 1517, then I would be able to sign that measure without hesitation.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 14 in its present form without my approval.

Respectfully,

/s/ Linda Lingle
LINDA LINGLE
Governor of Hawaii,"

MILTON M. ARAKAWA, in accordance with Gov. Msg. No. 421; and

"Madam President, members, I rise to speak in strong support of the nominee, Harry P. Freitas for District Court of the Third Circuit in Hilo.

"Members, Mr. Freitas is, in my view, a true local boy from the standpoint of his work experiences, and if you will allow me some indulgence, I would like to express some of the strong points of Mr. Freitas's career and what brought him to this place before the Honorable Body of the Senate.

"Mr. Freitas is a graduate of Damien High School. He was at one time a member of HPD, and he was at one time a member of HFD as a firefighter. Mr. Freitas went on to graduate from law school, and, typically, he served as a former member of the Public Defender's Office and has served as a Prosecutor. He has dedicated his life to those in need, those like him, and to the State of Hawaii. He is, I learned, a son of Windward Oahu, and in particular, Kahalu'u. Actually, his father lives down the road from me. His father sees me from time to time when I run in the morning and he picks up his morning paper. Just as an aside, his father said that he hasn't seen me running lately, and I said the business of being a part of Senator Hanabusa's team precludes the running. (Laughter.) He indicated that he has at times thought of throwing the newspaper at me when I ran . . . to get me to go faster, no doubt.

"Mr. Freitas received all supporting testimony. He is a true son of Hawaii, someone who has represented his community with great pride and great distinction, and someone who will serve in the people's court in Hilo with honor. So, members, I urge you to strongly support Harry Freitas as the next District Court Judge for Hilo.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

At this time, Senator Hee introduced Judge Freitas and his family to the members of the Senate.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1867 (Gov. Msg. No. 681):

Senator Hee moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1867 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Kokubun and carried.

Senator Hee then moved that the Senate consent to the nomination of RANDAL VALENCIANO to the office of Judge, Circuit Court of the Fifth Circuit, for a term of ten years, in accordance with the provisions of Article VI, Section 3, of the Hawaii State Constitution, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Hee rose in support and stated:

"Madam President and members, I rise to speak in strong support of Randal Valenciano as Circuit Court Judge for the Island of Kauai.

"Like Judge Freitas, Randal Valenciano is a son of Hawaii, is someone who has dedicated his life to public service. Like all of you, he has served in elected office. He, like Judge Freitas, was at one time a member of the Public Defender's Office, was also a Prosecuting Attorney, was also in private practice, and is unanimously endorsed by the Island of Kauai. I am privileged to stand in support of Judge-to-be Randal Valenciano and I would now yield the mike, with your permission, Madam President, to the Senator from the Island of Kauai who wishes to make a few remarks."

Senator Hooser rose to support the nominee as follows:

"Madam President, I rise in great support with great pleasure in support of Gov. Msg. No. 681.

"There's no better person, in my opinion, than Randal Grant Bolosan Valenciano to fill the vacancy in the Fifth Circuit Court left by the retirement of a respected Kauai Judge, George Masuoka. Randal was born in 1958 and is the youngest of six children of Placido and Maria Valenciano. I would say today that this is more than a confirmation of a judge; this is in effect the confirmation of a dream – the dream of Randal's father and mother, Placido and Maria Valenciano, a dream of hard work, perseverance, and one might say, 'the American Dream.'

"Placido, who turned 90 in March, could not be with us today because his health is not well, but he is a proud member of the Sakada generation who immigrated at age 10 from Ilocos Norte in the Philippines in 1928 with his father and brother. Placido's first job was to deliver lunches to lunas at Olokele Sugar Plantation and remained at Olokele for all of his working career, retiring as a journeyman welder in 1980. Randal's mother, Maria, was a nurse at Waimea Hospital, and the two of them put six children through college.

"Immigrating in 1928 to work on the sugar plantations, they worked hard and were able to put all six of their children through college. The values of hard work and education are engrained in each and every one of them – Patricia Pablo works in public health on Kauai; Glenda Miyazaki is a principal at Waimea High School, or Canyon School; Marilyn Billingsley is a speech therapist in Honolulu; Crystal Rowe is a special education teacher at Kapaa Middle School; Placido, Jr. is a physical therapist at Mahelona Hospital; and the youngest is the one we have here today, Randal Grant Bolosan Valenciano.

"I'm very proud to stand here and support Mr. Valenciano, a graduate of Waimea High School, the University of Oregon, and the University of Washington Law School. He served as a Deputy Public Defender and as a Deputy Prosecutor. He has had his own practice, and I had the pleasure of serving with him on the Kauai County Council. He is a man with a diverse and qualified background. He is a member of a wide variety of organizations – president of the Friends of Kauai Drug Court; he coaches mock trial, football, the list goes on and on.

"Placido and Maria Valenciano not only taught their children the value of hard work and education, they also stressed devotion to family and an unwavering love of God. Randal has learned these lessons well and remains a dedicated family man as well as a loyal church member and central figure in the Kauai community.

"The letters that poured into the Judiciary Committee praising Mr. Valenciano consistently used words like fair, compassionate, sincere, honest and ethical. Lifelong Kauai resident Barbara Bulatao-Franklin reflected the thoughts of many supporters when she wrote that 'Randal Valenciano is an honorable person and a devoted husband to his wife and father to his children. He is a role model to our youth, our community, and our Filipino culture.'

"Brian Fujiuchi, retired Kauai Chief of Police, testified that 'Randal Valenciano is respected within the island community and is always involved with the activities of his children – two daughters and a son. He gives unselfishly of himself in community volunteer events.'

"Don Heacock, Kauai District Aquatic Biologist, wrote that 'Randal Valenciano is a man of the highest ethical standards, a critical thinker who can analyze complex issues quickly and reach fair and equitable decisions.'

"I've known this man for many years. I've served with him on the Kauai County Council. I've watched his children grow up, and I'm 100 percent confident that Randal Grant Bolosan Valenciano will serve with distinction, and I urge all of my colleagues to vote enthusiastically in favor of his appointment to Kauai Circuit Court of the Fifth Circuit, State of Hawaii. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

At this time, Senator Hee introduced Judge Valenciano and his family to the members of the Senate.

At 11:57 o'clock a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:06 o'clock p.m.

Senator Hee then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of MARIE C. LADERTA as Director of the Department of Human Resources Development, term to expire December 6, 2010, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Hee rose to support the nominee as follows:

"Madam President, I am rising to speak in strong support of Marie Laderta with respect to Gov. Msg. No. 274 to serve a second term as the Director of the Department of Human Resources Development, also known as DHRD.

“Marie Laderta, in my view, is one of a kind. I thought Kurt Kawafuchi was one of a kind, but he pales in comparison to Marie Laderta. I was thanked by Ms. Laderta recently for encouraging the Committee to confirm her, and in the commission of thanking me, she offered to write the Committee Report. I accepted. (Laughter.) And I offered to her to write her Floor speech, and she has accepted. So as you can see, this is a bipartisan, unilateral effort between Marie and me this morning.

“So if you allow the indulgence of Marie and me, I would like to proceed by saying to you first of all that as Deputy Director for Taxation with Kurt Kawafuchi, it should be not unnoticed that both of them became famous as a result of being appointed as Deputy Attorney Generals by none other than Earl Anzai, which might explain Kurt Kawafuchi’s coif.

“She has, according to her Floor speech for me, received from state colleagues, county colleagues, union leaders, and family and friends all attesting to the positive qualities possessed by Marie and necessary to be an effective DHRD Director and public servant. She’s an excellent leader, according to Marie. She’s honest and forthright, unafraid to make tough decisions, able to focus and build on staff strengths, invests in our youth, and to the extent some of you may wish to have a speech writer, obviously, generous with the ability to communicate with individuals on all different levels, and she goes over and beyond the call of duty. And that’s the first sentence, members, to which I am pleased to read for her. (Laughter.)

“Her accomplishments – she first was appointed in ’05, and in less than a two-year period, here are but a few. She implemented the Kama’aina Stay Home High School Outreach Recruitment program which showcases the many state government job opportunities that may be available to our youth. She has implemented a new pilot web-based recruitment process, led all parties toward settling the recent HGEA collective bargaining negotiations as the State’s Chief Negotiator, and I might add that this is one of those rare occasions where binding arbitration is not part of the equation this year. And to that, seriously, she deserves a tremendous amount of proper congratulations.

“She has a goal to streamline the recruitment process to allow state agencies to fill vacancies quickly with qualified people. And I might add that she is aware and fully cognizant that one of the greatest challenges as the DHRD Director is to deal with the impending retirement that most of the baby boomers are now entering in and the obvious vacuum that will be created as a result.

“I have two (I can’t remember what you call that; I’ve been so long out of school) visual aids! (Laughter.) The first is . . . I think it’s a cock-a-roach or something; it might be a lady bug or a spider, but anyway, it’s a gift to Ms. Laderta and Mrs. Sumida from second graders at a school on the Windward side where she has participated in – as well as to show you that as a state worker she goes beyond the call – ‘How the B-52 cock-a-roach learned to fly.’ And so she spends quite a bit of her time in schools as a volunteer.

“Members, when I first met Marie, I must admit there was wonderment about her because she seems to always be ‘plugged in’ to me. She’s very active and she talks very quickly. I think it’s the result of being from Hong Kong, but I’m not sure, or Taiwan, but definitely from the East. But I’ve never met any department director, and I’ve been around a long time, who’s had nothing but nice things to say about everybody and always had a smile on her face even though I must admit there were times I wondered why. But that is Marie Laderta and I’m very proud and very privileged at this time to encourage all my colleagues to support Marie Laderta for a second term as the Director of the Department of Human Resources Development.

“Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Gabbard rose to speak in support of the nomination and said:

“Madam Vice President, I rise in support of the confirmation of Ms. Marie Laderta as the Director of the Department of Human Resources.

“On behalf of the Minority, colleagues, we know that Marie has done a good job in managing the department. She has received overwhelming testimony in her support. She has the respect of the employees in her department, and quite frankly, she’s the best person on the job. So I would urge you to vote ‘yes’ on her confirmation.

“Thank you, Madam President.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, none. Excused, 2 (Hanabusa, Taniguchi).

At this time, Senator Hee introduced Ms. Laderta and her family to the members of the Senate.

At 11:17 o’clock a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 11:25 o’clock a.m.

APPOINTMENT OF CONFEREES

S.B. No. 870, S.D. 1 (H.D. 2):

In accordance with the disagreement of the Senate to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. “Madam President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

“Colleagues, all of us are aware of the tragic events at Virginia Tech University in the Commonwealth of Virginia earlier this week. Our colleagues in the Virginia Commonwealth have declared that today is a day of mourning, and our Governor responded with a similar proclamation. So in that vein, as we adjourn our Session today, I ask that we do so on a rising vote to express our solidarity with our colleagues in the Commonwealth, and in offering prayers for the families of those who were slaughtered and for the healing in that community and in our country.

“Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Sakamoto rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

“Following up on our Maui Senator’s comment, I believe people like Mr. Cho could have been helped. Sadly, I’m not here to blame who could have helped, but I believe many of our educators, many of our counselors are people who have prevented such tragedies here and we want to honor those who do that. Many people in this room have mentored or are able to mentor people, and I think we all – us here, the educators, all of the general public – need to look to people who are struggling, look to people who need help, and do our part, our small grain of sand, to keep tragedies such as this from happening.

“Thank you.”

Senator Ige moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1891 and H.C.R. No. 82 be adopted, seconded by Senator Whalen.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Madam President, I rise to speak in opposition to H.C.R. No. 82.

"As I had indicated in our Committee meeting last week, I was very troubled by this resolution because in its five pages it tries to go in several different directions. It calls for a Hawaiian Restoration Day, and those that supported this resolution said that basically it was a time to bring people together, a time to recognize historic facts and to honor Grover Cleveland.

"Madam President, if the resolution in fact were designed to honor President Grover Cleveland, that would be one thing and I'd be all for it. If in fact the resolution were designed to bring people together and use Restoration Day as a time to move on, I would support that also. But Madam President, in reading the five pages of this resolution, I'm troubled because it keeps bringing up divisive arguments about 'intrigue, subterfuge, betrayal, incomparable alliances, conspiracy, deception, imperialism, and expansion.' Nowhere does this resolution really seek to restore or to have people move on, and I've been very troubled over the last several years of the growing divisiveness between our peoples in terms of looking at historical facts with the overthrow and some of the generalities and flat out misconceptions and misstatements that have been made about it.

"So, for these reasons, Madam President, I'm casting a 'no' vote and I urge members to consider carefully what it is that they are agreeing to. Grover Cleveland, for example, as I say, if the resolution would have been aimed about saying he was a great man and he supported the Hawaiian Monarch, that would have been fine, except Grover Cleveland, the President, also made three specific pledges to the Hawaiian Kingdom and none of those pledges were ever kept by President Grover Cleveland.

"So, thank you for the opportunity, Madam President."

Senators Taniguchi, Sakamoto and Baker requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was then put by the Chair and carried, the report of the majority of the Committee was adopted and H.C.R. "EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

April 23, 2007

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO.
1956

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fourth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 1956, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to the Agreement Among the States to Elect the President by National Popular Vote.'

The purpose of this bill is to add a new chapter to the Hawaii Revised Statutes that will cause Hawaii to join an interstate compact or agreement among the member states to award their electoral votes to the national popular vote winner regardless of the popular vote winner in each member state.

Under this bill, Hawaii's four electoral votes would be awarded to the presidential slate that receives the most votes as determined by the national popular vote regardless of which candidates won the popular vote in Hawaii. Given the potential under the interstate compact that Hawaii's electoral votes would be awarded in a manner that may not reflect the will of the majority of the voters in Hawaii, I believe that this bill is not in the best interest of the citizens of the State of Hawaii.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 1956 without my approval.

Respectfully,

/s/ Linda Lingle
LINDA LINGLE
Governor of Hawaii,"

was placed on file.

Senator Hee then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of MARK J. BENNETT as Attorney General of the State of Hawai'i, term to expire December 6, 2010, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Hee rose in support of the nominee and said:

"Madam President, I rise in support of the confirmation of Mark J. Bennett as Hawaii Attorney General.

"One of the byproducts of having a Session move as quickly as we do, and in particular in this year, is that many people may not have had the opportunity to read the committee report, including some of the members of the committee.

"Madam President and members, I would like to read a short portion of the committee report regarding the confirmation of Mark J. Bennett:

'Upon review of the resume, written statement of the nominee, and testimony, your Committee finds that the nominee holds a B.A. degree in Political Science, summa cum laude, from Union College, and a J.D. degree, magna cum laude, from Cornell Law School. He was a partner at McCorriston Miho Miller Mukai MacKinnon, LLP, and previously served as Assistant United States District Attorney in Hawai'i and as Special Assistant Prosecuting Attorney, City and County of Honolulu. He was a law clerk to the Honorable Samuel P. King, Chief Judge, United States District Court, District of Hawai'i, and an Adjunct Professor of Law at the William S. Richardson School of Law. The nominee has served as the Attorney General for the State of Hawai'i for the last four years.

'Your Committee received testimony in support of the nominee from United States District Court Judges Samuel King and David Ezra, United States Senator Daniel Akaka, United States Representative Neil Abercrombie, the Prosecutor's Office of Honolulu, Hawai'i, Maui, and Kaua'i, State of Hawai'i Organization of Police Officers, Hawai'i Government Employees Association, the United Public Workers, the Honolulu Police Department, the Hawai'i County Police Department, Maui County Police Department, The Hawai'i Family Forum, the Sex Abuse Treatment Center, the Hawai'i Medical Association, the Office of Hawaiian Affairs, the Native Hawaiian Bar Association, the Hawai'i State Bar Association, the State Department of Public Safety, the Department of Hawaiian Homes Lands, the Department of Transportation, the Department of Human Resources, the Department of Education, the Catholic Diocese of Honolulu, and approximately 140 individuals, most of whom are lawyers.

'Your Committee notes that the testimony in support of the nominee credited him with implementing Megan's Law, passed by the Legislature and the nominee's support and implementation of policies relating to sex offenders, sexual and spousal abusers and his governance of an office of over 700 employees. Furthermore, your Committee received numerous testimonies praising the nominee for his intellect and his ability to simplify complex legal cases quickly and act upon them immediately.'

"I also note, Madam President and members, unlike any other Attorney General that I'm aware of in the State of Hawai'i, this Attorney General has argued before the United States Supreme Court. Clearly, without question, he is a brilliant legal mind and is qualified on nearly every landscape that legal officers of the State preside upon.

"Madam President and members, I would like to make a few remarks with respect to the committee report, which I have read in part. It is my understanding and I acknowledge that the members of the Committee, because of the nature of how quickly we must act, could not and did not have the benefit of reading the committee report prior to the public hearing and that is the reason that I read verbatim the committee report during the discussion to confirm the nominee. Notwithstanding that, I understand that there are some who are concerned about the committee report regarding this nominee. Let me state at the outset that all of the issues articulated within the body of the report are issues that were raised at the Committee with one exception, and that is the appearance of impropriety regarding the employment of Mr. Bennett's spouse at the Office of the Attorney General.

"This is not a new issue and is one that was brought before the Senate four years ago. In the Committee's checking with the State's Ethics Commission, we were advised of the absence of a law governing nepotism, and we accept that as fact as lawmakers. We also accept as fact that there are some who find the relationship troubling. Any time taxpayers are paying for the services of government, they are entitled to an explanation, and the committee report properly comments on the absence of a law governing nepotism, thus allowing for the relationship to exist.

"Your committee report also properly notes that the spouse of the nominee predated the nominee's appointment four years ago as Attorney General. Your Committee does not disagree and further understands that she in fact is a fine attorney. It may have been easier to avoid this issue altogether, but to do so may lead others to believe that the Committee is unaware that such a situation exists, that the Committee did not properly investigate the legality of the situation, and that the Committee condones such a relationship without first researching the public concern or without making comment. To the extent that the Attorney General or his spouse feel the concerns expressed are personal attacks on them, I offer a personal apology to them, both of them. I also offer a personal apology to any member of this august body who may feel similarly and have not had the benefit of understanding the Committee's research into the issue once a member of the public brought this to the Committee, not like the other issues in the report such as the arrearages in child support enforcement agency payments or matters relating to the Attorney General's role with substitute teachers.

"As we will find out later today and in the future, our work oftentimes is challenging and sometimes can become personal when confirmations of individuals held to the highest standards are evaluated by us as required by the State Constitution. Again, I offer a personal and public apology to the Attorney General and his wife if they believe the comments were meant as a personal criticism of them. They were not.

"Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Hanabusa rose in support of the nominee and stated:

"Madam President, I rise in support of G.M. No. 267.

"I'm standing, Madam President and my fellow colleagues, in a very unique situation having what some may believe to be abdicating the Chair's position to speak for this nominee, but I felt compelled that it was necessary for me to step down from the podium because this is a confirmation that when I came before you four years ago as the Chair of Judiciary and Hawaiian Affairs, I asked all of my colleagues to trust in my judgment, and the President Emeritus was one of those that I asked to trust. Now, four years later, I can stand before all of you, and say I didn't lead you astray. Four years ago we confirmed Attorney General Mark Bennett by a 25 to 0 vote, and it was not an easy 25 to 0 vote because we didn't know very much about Mark Bennett other than his reputation as an attorney. But now, we have the opportunity to reflect upon four years of his service as the Attorney General and to make that assessment. And that's exactly what I want you to do here.

"For those four years, I had the honor and the privilege of serving as your Judiciary and Hawaiian Affairs Chair, and let me just briefly go over what we have done. The Attorney General in that period of time did, of course, many major pieces of legislation with the Legislature because, as we all know, it is really the Legislature that enacts the laws. It is the Attorney General that's there for us to help us frame it so it withstands a veto or help us make sure that it's implemented so it's written correctly. This Attorney General tackled major pieces of legislation with us. You've heard about Megan's, which we had to do twice. We had Rabago, which was of course the constitutional amendment. And there was an interesting Supreme Court case called Peseti, which we may not talk about so much but which was very critical for victims because it gave a privileged communication to many that needed it – counselors and psychologists and those who aided abused victims.

"One of the most important pieces of legislation was the nuisance abatement unit. You see, when drug houses come up in an area, the people that are most affected are those who are living by those drug houses. It was the House that did the nuisance abatement unit, but it was the Attorney General and his office that began to enforce it because they knew the frustration that people had – their homes, their most valued asset – to have a drug house down the street, and they were frustrated by the fact that the Prosecutor's Office didn't prosecute because they were developing a criminal case. But for those cases that could be expeditiously moved, the Attorney General's abatement unit did it. And I have received more comments from people who have been served by that Act than probably any other piece of legislation.

"We passed the enhanced sentencing law. Some call it 'three strikes,' but what many forgot was it is the function of a task force that we mandated and asked them to study, and it was the Attorney General that helped us formulate that law and we moved it forward.

"There was a new penal code chaired by Judge Alm which also went through. I've never seen such supportive testimony from everyone, including the Public Defender, on that piece of legislation. But I think the highlight for Mark Bennett was Chevron vs. Lingle. It was a position that I honestly believed that the Administration didn't necessarily agree with, but Attorney General Mark Bennett putting on his Attorney General hat saying that it was a piece of legislation from this Legislature and it was his obligation to go and defend it in the Supreme Court, irrespective of how he may personally have felt about it. And he did an exemplary job, because he was able not only to win that argument but to reverse precedent.

"But in that four-year time I am here to also share another part of Mark Bennett – Mark Bennett the person. And believe it or not, in those four years, I've come to learn a very important thing about him – he's really a rather funny guy – he really is. He may have a quirky sense about him – he has these funny hand movements – but he's really a funny guy. When I first came before you four years ago and asked for your support, one of the concerns I had deep inside was whether Mark Bennett could work with people. Because Mark Bennett the lawyer, no question – as a fellow attorney, no question. But Mark Bennett running the largest law firm in the State of Hawaii – is he really going to be able to work with people? I've got to tell you – he can. And for me, the barometer is my staff. My staff, they adore Mark Bennett. They think he's the funniest guy around. I don't think he's that funny, but they really do.

"Recently, both Mark and I were at the funeral services of a mutual friend that we share and his name is John Peyton, and some of us may remember him – he was the Director of Public Safety for a while. I was one of those who gave the eulogy and one of the things that I said there is very applicable to Mark. I said, 'Look at the spouse, because the spouse is the best indicator of who that person is.' And you know, Pat, Mark's wife, is exactly that. She is about as different from Mark as you can get. She's a wonderful person, a very thoughtful person. (Laughter.) Did that come out right? I think it did. She's really a very wonderful person and we've been able to get to know Pat in the process as well.

"But, I do want to say something, since this issue has come up, when I first met Mark and talked to him about why do you want to be the Attorney General. I don't know if people remember, there was a Susan Gochros from the Attorney General's Office who made an interesting statement that after 9/11, Mark wanted to do public service. We all thought he was a bit crazy, but he wanted to do public service. And when you really think about it, there is probably no public service best suited for him than being the Attorney General of the State of Hawaii. But when he came to see me, he said, 'You know, my wife is an Attorney General, she's had that position for about 20 years, and she loves her job. I will not do anything or take a position that in any way, any way, takes her away from that job that she loves.' We checked. There was no conflict of interest; there was no ethics. And I said, 'Mark, if you're willing to do this job, which I think after you take it you'll wonder why you did it, then fine.’ So, the disclosure of Pat was well known to all of us, especially those of use who were part of that Judiciary Committee.

“I can’t stop speaking about Mark without mentioning another person – and that’s Joanie. Joanie is his right hand person who came with him, is his secretary in the Attorney General’s Office, was with him at the McCarriston firm, and I have never met anyone who has covered anyone’s backside the way Joanie does. Whenever she gets wind that for some reason voices somehow rose a bit high in our conversation, Joanie is there with my staff as I walk in the next day, smiling and saying, ‘Hi, Senator, is everything all right?’ And at that point I know I’ve lost already. Joanie’s taken care of him.

“There’s something that we must all know and we must all appreciate. One of the reasons why Mark’s confirmation is down today – and I don’t want the good Senator from Hawaii Kai to change his vote because of this – is because people on this side, our Democrat Congressional Delegation, have asked Mark to testify in favor of the Akaka Bill because he is that kind of an advocate, and we need to get him confirmed and off to Washington as quickly as we can so he can do that, on the condition that the good Senator from Hawaii Kai doesn’t change his vote.

“I’m honored, Madam President and my colleagues, to stand before you again and to ask that you confirm Mark Bennett. There are few lawyers who have the skill, the talent, and the ability that he has – no question. People describe him as one of the brightest, the most skilled, and the most competent Attorney General we will ever have. But I must admit, the question that I had for him four years ago, I still have for him today – which is, there’s something about his character that I’m missing, because I still don’t understand why he wants this job. He could be making probably five times the amount of money he makes as Attorney General; he would have less headaches, and he wouldn’t have to deal with everyone – because the one thing he has turned out to be is a very good administrator and someone who not only empowers challenges, but gets the best out of those who work for him.

“So, Madam President, colleagues, I ask that you vote to confirm Mark Bennett as the Attorney General of the State of Hawaii.”

Senator Gabbard rose to speak in support of the nominee as follows:

“I first met Mark many years ago and I was impressed with his dedication, his intelligence, his integrity, and also his tenacity. And as the previous two speakers have said, as Attorney General he’s been an important advocate for protecting our children. He’s been a leader in getting Megan’s law passed, mandating a minimum one-year sentence for electronic enticement of a child, and also making it easier for a jury to convict someone for sexually abusing a child. He’s also done good work for our Native Hawaiian community, and he’s helped clean our communities of drug houses.

“Mark has the support of labor, law enforcement, members of our Congressional Delegation, legal organizations, and many members of the public, including, and I hope some of them are present this morning, the Mama Bear Caucus. I met them at the committee hearing the other day and the Mama Bear Caucus is made up of moms who are – actually when they testified it brought tears to many of our eyes – who are just happy to have

Mark at the helm as the Attorney General because he’s doing a great job in protecting our kids.

“As far as the previous speaker’s remarks about Mr. Bennett’s sense of humor, as I sat through that six-hour committee meeting on Saturday, anybody that can smile when the Yankees are getting beaten badly by the Boston Red Socks, proves to me that he’s got a good sense of humor. So, I would ask my colleagues to join with me in supporting Mr. Bennett.

“Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Kokubun rose to speak in favor of the nominee as follows:

“Madam President, I stand in support of G.M. No. 267.

“Madam President, I was lucky enough to serve as the Vice-Chair for the Committee on Judiciary and Labor and had the opportunity to sit through that confirmation hearing for Mark Bennett on Saturday. It was very inspirational to me to hear so many people coming forward and praising the work of the Attorney General. I think it can best be characterized by statements from an attorney in private practice who characterized Mark in three words—brains, heart, and guts. And what he meant by that, as he explained, is that Mark really has the intellect and his legal knowledge is far superior to many, maybe with the exception of one here in the chamber today. And certainly, his heart—he has great compassion for people and he wants to do the best for the people of Hawaii. And lastly, the courage that it takes to make tough decisions in the face of all kinds of different positions. And so, for me, this really forms his decision-making foundation, and I think this certainly engenders confidence from the public in terms of the actions that the Attorney General takes.

“I wanted to comment, and it’s been brought up here today, with respect to the committee report that was submitted asking this Body to advise and consent to this Governor’s Message. I want to just say it for the record that I am not in complete agreement with the committee report because the process was such that we didn’t really have the full opportunity to discuss that committee report prior to taking the vote at the committee level. I will say, though, that the only part that I’m really in true disagreement with is with respect to the section that reflects, I think, negatively on Mrs. Bennett. I do not know her. I know, though, that this was not part of the discussion at the hearing. I also know that this was previously addressed when he came before this Senate four years ago for confirmation. So, I want to just put on the record that with respect to that particular section, I am not in agreement.

“Lastly, I want to say that I think the most telling comment, or maybe it was my conclusion based on all the supporting testimony, was that Mark Bennett raises the play of everyone he comes in contact with. And for him being someone who is so interested in athletics, I think it really is a tremendous compliment because he makes everyone perform at a much higher standard. And I think for the people of Hawaii, this is an excellent person to have.

“I ask all my colleagues to support his nomination.”

Senator Hemmings rose in support of the nomination and said:

“Madam President, I rise to speak in favor of the nominee to G.M. No. 267, Mark J. Bennett for Attorney General of the State of Hawaii.

“Much to say, I, too, read the committee report and I first want to do something we do often on the Floor – separate the committee report from the committee. I also want to acknowledge gratefully the words of the Senate President and the words of the Water, Land, Agriculture and Hawaiian Affairs Committee Chairman on behalf of the nominee. Yes, I read this committee report. I would counsel the Attorney General, if I was a barrister, to plead not guilty because it really is an indictment in so many ways that are unfair to the process, to you the members of the Majority Party, to the public we serve, and most especially to the man we’re standing in judgment to today.

“It’s quite busy since yesterday receiving this on the Floor and researching these remarks today. There’s much that could be said and there’s much that has to be said because this report is part of the record of our institution – the Senate of the State of Hawaii – and it’s shameful, it’s shameful. And, unfortunately, the Chairman of the Water, Land, Agriculture Committee is exactly right. These reports are produced by the chairmen with little or almost no oversight of committee members. This committee report indicts the nominee for child support enforcement agency problems. I could read the long rebuttal to that that we’ve produced, but I will tell you that the State of Hawaii on population basis compared to other states is doing about average – a lot better than it ever was doing before this Attorney General took office. I could also tell you the committee report doesn’t tell you that the method the Feds use to calculate it is individual collections whether it be a penny or much more, so it is a skewed result.

“I can tell you that this committee report indicts the nominee for political campaign activities unfairly. Quite ironically, it cites a ballot initiative concerning retirement of judges, something the writer of the report was an advocate of. This is something that’s been done by previous Attorneys General, including Earl Anzai and others. I will not give you the details of the rebuttal to it, but I can tell you there’s nothing illegal, or improper, or unethical about it. The Attorney General can be an advocate just like the Chairman of the Committee has been.

“We’ve heard the apology regarding the Attorney General’s wife, appointed by George Ariyoshi in the Michael Lilly administration to be a Deputy Attorney General. A laudable career. There’s no place in this committee report for this. Madam President, you yourself pointed out four years ago that this Attorney General did the honorable and right thing, but you’d never know it if you read this committee report.

“This committee report says the Kalima case, Hawaiian Home Lands is problematic and would lead a naive reader to believe that there is some incompetence and impropriety. If the Committee had asked the Attorney General during this hearing, it would have learned that the facts were the appeal was filed in late 2001 and the case was fully briefed by the Summer of 2002 – all before this Attorney General took office. This committee report doesn’t say it.

“I’m speaking in favor of the Attorney General, and like you, Madam President, I’m perplexed too. What a noble man to be subject to this and still stand there proudly and accept this job as the Attorney General of Hawaii. If for no other reason, we should have unanimous advise and consent on him today for agreeing to do a very hard job and doing it so well.

“Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Nishihara rose and said:

“Madam President, I ask that the comments from the good Senator from Puna in referencing the part on the comment in the committee report reflecting on Mrs. Bennett, also do not reflect my view, and I would like that so noted. Thank you.”

Senator Baker rose to support the nominee and said:

“Madam President, I’d like to add my voice in strong support of the confirmation of Mark Bennett to remain as our Attorney General.

“Madam President and colleagues, it’s been my privilege to serve in a couple of capacities as Committee Chair during my return to the Senate after the 2002 election, and I have had the opportunity to work with Attorney General Bennett on a number of issues, some of them directly affecting bills in this Chamber, some of them previous legislation that he was defending in various venues throughout our Nation, and I’ve always found him to be very forthright, very helpful. If I had a question – I’m not an attorney and sometimes I look at something and come to a different conclusion than somebody who is well steeped in the law – but he has never been condescending, never said, ‘That’s a frivolous question, why are you asking such a dumb thing?’ He’s always been very helpful and guided me, and if we needed an example of how to do something so that it passes constitutional muster so it might get by a governor’s veto, he’s been very free with his advice.

“He’s offered up deputies to follow-up in areas that were more appropriate for them to comment and assist the committee or the chair, and I appreciate that. I appreciate his willingness to work with us, to offer advice, to offer counsel, to be a sounding board, and to help us work through some very difficult issues, even some that might not be supported by the Governor. But, as Legislators we’re sort of his boss, too, since he functions as the Attorney General for the whole State. He’s executed his duties with good humor, as has been referenced, and with deep compassion for the work that we’re all about – the public service that we have all taken an oath to follow – and I appreciate his diligence, his good humor, and his assistance, and I just wanted to add that for the record and ask my colleagues to join me in voting to confirm Mark Bennett.

“Thank you.”

Senator Chun Oakland rose in favor of the nomination as follows:

“Madam President, I stand in strong support of G.M. No. 267.

“I was honored to serve on the Senate Judiciary and Hawaiian Affairs Committee with the Senate President, two years of which I served as Vice-Chair. Mark is very compassionate and has responded to community concerns just admirably, and I’m very proud that he lives in my district, and I’m very proud to call him my friend.

“Thank you very much.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (English).

At this time, Senator Hee introduced Mr. Bennett and his family to the members of the Senate.

At 12:25 o’clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:35 o’clock p.m.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1897 (Gov. Msg. No. 276):

At this time, the Chair made the following observation:

“Members, pursuant to Senate Rule 37(5), the final question on appointments by the Governor which require the confirmation or consent of the Senate must be stated in the affirmative; therefore, those casting ‘Aye’ votes are voting to confirm, and those casting ‘No’ votes are voting to reject the nomination.

“The recommendation of the Committee on Water, Land, Agriculture and Hawaiian Affairs on Gov. Msg. No. 276 is that the Senate not advise and consent to the nomination of Peter Young as Chairperson of the Board of Land and Natural Resources. Therefore, the Chair will first entertain a motion to file Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1897, then we will move on to the final vote on this matter.”

Senator Ige moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1897 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Whalen.

At 12:36 o’clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:37 o’clock p.m.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1897 was received and placed on file.

Pursuant to Senate Rule 37(5), Senator Slom then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of PETER T. YOUNG as Chairperson of the Board of Land and Natural Resources, term to expire December 31, 2010, seconded by Senator Whalen.

Senator Hanabusa rose for a conflict ruling as follows:

“Madam President, I’m asking for a ruling by the Chair pursuant to Rule 85, Conflicts of Interest, of the Senate Rules. Madam President, though I have checked this matter with the Ethics Commission and I have discussed it with members of both sides of the aisle, I believe that in the abundance of caution, I would like to ask the Chair’s ruling on this matter as well.

“There has been an issue raised – the fact that I have represented an entity called Pilaa 400, which is controlled, well not controlled, but the manager under the LLC provision is James Pflueger, and there is some belief that because Mr. Pflueger has a relationship to Pilaa that somehow it reflects on the Kaloko Dam issue which is what has been discussed before this Body. Based on that, and as I have stated earlier, I have already disclosed the Pilaa representation. It’s been over a period of years. It is presently pending in the Hawaii Supreme Court, and I am asking the Chair to make a rule on this conflict.”

At 12:39 o’clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:41 o’clock p.m.

The Chair made the following ruling:

“Upon consultation, the Chair rules no conflict.”

Senator Slom rose to support the nominee and stated:

“I think first of all we’d like to review a little bit about the Chairperson’s background. Mr. Young is a graduate of Hawaii Preparatory Academy. He received his Bachelor of Business Administration degree in real estate from the University of Hawaii at Manoa, and prior to his appointment as Chairperson of the Board of Land and Natural Resources, he was the Deputy Managing Director for the County of Hawaii. From his station in Kona, he assisted in the supervision of the administration functions of agencies, departments, and boards and commissions in Hawaii County, with particular emphasis on services in West Hawaii.

“He also has extensive professional experience in real estate services, including appraisal, market analysis, consulting, arbitration, land use planning, project management, and feasibility studies. Mr. Young has been active in a long list of professional and community organizations, including boards and commissions. Included are the Natural Energy Laboratory of Hawaii Authority; the American Red Cross, Hawaii State Chapter; the Hawaii Island United Way; the Hawaii Association of Realtors; the Ironman Triathlon; the Waimea Community Association – just to name a few.

“He’s also taught business courses at the University of Hawaii at Manoa as a lecturer and at Parker High School in science and business math, where he has also served as the boys’ and girls’ soccer coach and the boys’ baseball coach.

“Mr. Young was appointed as the Chairperson of the Board of Land and Natural Resources in 2003, and the Governor has nominated him for reappointment for another four years.

“Madam President, colleagues, let me offer a few brief remarks at this point and I’ll reserve other remarks for later on. First of all, what you see on the top of my desk right here, this stack of dead trees, represents only 85 percent of the confirmation hearing of Peter Young – unprecedented in time and quantity. What you don’t see here are subpoenaed statements and documents which were available to Senate members but are not included in this pile. Five days and nights we spent on the nominee. Well, that’s not quite accurate, because most of the time was behind closed doors talking to disgruntled former and current employees, and individuals who had been prior subjects of disciplinary action.

“I know that 20 of my colleagues, out of 25, were not in these hearings. I attended nearly every minute of the five days, listened to every person’s suggestions, comments, and criticisms. But for most of you, you got it secondhand or third-hand at best. You were told what went on behind closed doors. You couldn’t have gotten it from the nominee because he was not permitted behind the closed doors and was not permitted to see the documents. You could not have gotten it from some of the administrators who support him, because likewise, they were not given the opportunity to testify. You certainly couldn’t have received any information directly from the Governor of the State of Hawaii, because she, too, was denied the opportunity to testify.

“Saying this, I will also say that being a part of this Committee, I do not find any premeditated intent by either the Chairman or members of the Committee. Since four out of the five voted against the nominee, I would say that I listened to their reasons and their concerns and I believe that they are sincere concerns. But what we have done in this process of confirmation this year, like no other time in the past, is, in my opinion, going far, far, far above and beyond what the Constitution requires and what our duties require –and that is to give an accurate, fair, and balanced evaluation and analysis of the background, character, qualifications, and experience of the candidate.

“By the way, I want to thank the Committee and the Committee staff. This is the most rapid publication of a 14-page committee report that I’ve ever seen. It came out hours after the decision of the Committee yesterday. And further, since we’re running out of time in this Session, the confirmation process was put right on the fast track so that we had about 24 hours since yesterday until today for this process.

“There had been a lot of questions and criticism about how the Committee and how the Senate operates in terms of its advise and consent process. First of all, it is very important to all of us. It is a responsibility that we don’t share with anyone else – not the House, not the Executive Branch, not the Judiciary. It is the sole purview of the State Senate – the 25 of us. It is an awesome responsibility. To do a job fairly, we must concentrate on the candidate, we must listen to all persons who come before us, but at the end of the day, we must use our qualifications and our character and our experiences to weigh the evidence and weigh the information and come to the right decision.

“Now, some people got the wrong idea early on, I guess because this is the first year that subpoenas were issued – not once in a Committee, not twice in another Committee, but three times. The subpoenas were issued; the process was clear; it was transparent. Everyone knew that the Senate President was actually going to be the ultimate issuer of those subpoenas, and that’s the process, and that’s what happened.

“However, some people wanted to know why we were serving as an investigating committee. And some people remember that a number of us, including the Chairman of the Committee, the Senate President and myself, served on a genuine bipartisan House and Senate investigating committee a number of years ago. It was called the Felix Investigating Committee. And there we had powers through the Legislative Auditor to issue subpoenas. We had staff, and we did investigating. We did that only after there was a Senate/House joint resolution to establish this Body as an investigating committee. There was no resolution to establish this Committee – Water Land Agriculture and Hawaiian Affairs – as an investigating committee. And therefore, a lot of people were really concerned and upset with the manner in which some of the Committee hearing was conducted – in that subpoenaed witnesses went behind closed doors and yet the person who was the subject of the testimony was not allowed to hear or face his accusers. There was no time for actual rebuttal, and not everyone that wanted to speak got an opportunity to speak, but that, too, should have been taken into consideration by the Committee. And I’m asking you, because you will hear from those that oppose this nomination, I ask you today to weigh the thoughts and the ideas and the criticisms that are made so that in the end when we take our vote – and I would like to request a Roll Call vote at this time, Madam President – when we take that vote, you will know exactly what you’re voting for and what the consequences are.

“There were a lot of allegations made by different people, and they did create concerns. I had concerns. I voiced those concerns. I asked tough questions of the nominee. I was not always happy with the answers from the nominee, but those were the answers. And taken on balance, and looking at and giving respect for all of the individuals, organizations, diverse groups, three former leaders of this department who all testified in strong support of this candidate, this Senate cannot deny the reconfirmation of this nominee. The questions that came up, the issues that concern my committee colleagues and myself were issues that predated this nominee – issues that are the subject of two separate investigations, one by the Attorney General who we just confirmed unanimously, one by the State Ethics Commission. These investigations were initiated and launched by the current Chairperson and nominee of this department. This Chairperson is not the subject of any investigation, any charges or anything else, and yet we have concerns about some of the things he may have done or not done that we may have liked to have done differently.

“The term ‘management style’ has come up during this Legislative Session time and time again, and nominees are now lectured on how they should talk to other people, other employees, union representatives, whoever, and what tone of voice they should have, and how they should look, and how they should carry themselves. I would suggest this might be important to several people, but it’s not the important consideration in the bottom line for running one of the most dysfunctional departments in the State of Hawaii.

“This Department of Land and Natural Resources – with its 11 divisions and nearly 900 employees and decades of destructive infighting – is resisting change, resisting improvement. And that’s what this battle really is all about – because the current Chairperson tried to bring change, tried, I think, naively to think that people did not have their own agendas and that they would get together, sing ‘kumbaya’ and work as a team. Well, guess what? They didn’t, and they’re not doing it now. And the investigations, which have nothing to do with the director but everything to do with some of these disparate employees, will continue much to the dismay of these employees that sought out this Legislative Committee, this Senate Committee, behind closed doors to vent and to attack not only the director, but also other individuals in management within the department.

“More than 55 union grievances have been filed. And that’s fine because there’s a process to adjudicate them, and that’s the way it should be. If an employee has a grievance, then let’s see it to the end. Most of them are still pending right now, as are the two investigations. They are pending.

“I said yesterday in Committee, there is no smoking gun. There is nothing linking this director to mismanagement, malfeasance in office, an inability to take care of the job, qualifications, or anything else. But we still have concerns, and concerns are fine. And all those that had the most concerns, they had ample opportunity to discuss those concerns and bring them about, but that was the side that we heard – one side. One side – their side. It may be true; it may be partially true, or it may be false, but there was no fairness shown to the nominee.

“And by the way, this nominee was put under oath to tell the truth. No other nominee in previous hearings, this year or in the past, was subjected to being put under oath. And several people that did testify did not testify under oath, but we did this to the nominee.

“It came up yesterday in the decision that the nominee, to be balanced, in fact had a few accomplishments. Let me read into the record a few of the accomplishments during the last four years of the administration of Peter Young: (1) the most important perhaps, the adoption of the Northwestern Hawaiian Refuge Rules – the most significant marine resource protection measure in the history of Hawaii; (2) establishment of the instream flow standards with community, government, and professional planners; (3) making state lands available to address many of Hawaii’s concerns – land for affordable housing, for new roads, schools, parks, and other community needs; the completion of a streamlined, multi-agency permit process to expedite small scale beach nourishment projects and a demonstration beach replacement project that we’re all familiar with at Kuhio Beach in Waikiki; the establishment of the Mauka-Makai Watch Program patterned after the very successful national and local neighborhood watch program; seeking $5 million in added funding for enforcement to provide adequate staffing, equipment, and technology tools for enforcement efforts statewide; the initiation of a new hotline, an enforcement hotline, 643-DLNR, an easy-to-remember single seven-digit statewide, toll-free number that's now part of a 24-hour live answering system; the implementation of the first major reconstruction of state parks facilities and restrooms in over 40 years – and aren't we ashamed of how our restrooms and parks have been, and there was a major increase in maintenance funding for the operations and maintenance of our state parks, well long overdue, but they were done on this watch; implementation of a park ranger program and developing partnerships with community groups in the protection of many of Hawaii's natural and cultural resources.

"This department, this director, made the fight against invasive species job-number-one priority within the department. He initiated an integrated multi-year program to prevent invasive species from entering Hawai'i, and there was response and control of invasive species that are already here, as well as him targeting research and outreach.

"This department recognized the decade-old, inconsistent and insufficient fee structure to support reasonable repairs of our small boat harbors, and he took a lot of heat for this but he stood by it. He made the decision after listening to all parties and he made the decision. Reasonable and consistent fees added $1.5 million for needed maintenance, and the department continues to seek additional revenue sources.

"Under his watch, the nominee formed a special task force that completed the processing of the mail backlog in the Bureau of Conveyances, probably the most troubled single division of the 11 in this department. He also established the Bureau of Conveyances leadership meetings to work together and address ways to do an even better job. He conducted an extensive outreach program to develop a nomination criteria for the selection process of the very controversial Hawaiian Burial Councils. He provided a statewide training program to new and existing Burial Council members, addressing responsibilities of the Councils as well as meeting management. He formed the Architecture and Archaeology working groups to assist our Historic Preservation Division in addressing these important concerns. He also put emphasis on endangered species recovery and implemented a comprehensive wildlife conservation strategy.

"Watershed partnerships expansion is probably the best untold story of this troubled department because it is resource protection in Hawaii. Our watershed partnerships in this State are protecting approximately 1 million acres of mauka land, one quarter of the land area of this State. There's been a continuation of the protection of streams and marine resources. He's worked with fishers and other constituency groups to fulfill the common goal of making sure that the resources can be used, but that they are protected and available for our keiki in the future.

"And finally on this, a short list, this department and this director expanded our educational opportunities as DLNR can provide some of the best classrooms on educational and environmental education."

At this time, the audience in the gallery erupted with applause. The Chair then called for order in the Chamber.

"The nominee did not do everything, perhaps, that he should or that he could, but no one can fault him for his integrity, his passion, and his energy. These problems that existed before Peter Young and exist now, as I say, are really the result of a struggle between individuals, personalities, and various groups that seek to undermine the ability of this leader. One of the testifiers in opposition to the nominee said that, for example, the Bureau of Conveyances – and we keep coming back to that, because there is a major investigation of that department, that very, very troubled division – said that the sides that were chosen in that department, those employees represented, quote, 'the same as the Shiites and the Sunni.'

"If I were seeking to work somewhere, it would not be in that division or not be in that department. I couldn't handle it, quite frankly, and I can handle a lot. But Peter Young showed up every day. Peter Young was there. Peter Young has been here. Peter Young answered all the questions that were posed to him.

"And yes, there were serious allegations – and again I repeat, allegations – not affecting him directly but affecting him as the head of the department – involving mysterious checks, lack of cash management, and a rogue computer that had been put into the Bureau of Conveyances in 1998 by a private title company. And probably the threat and the concern for all of us on the Committee was the possibility that was raised that someone could interfere with and tap into our very, very important personal transfer title records within this department. It had tremendous negative impact as a possibility, as an allegation. To date, there is no proof that either this had happened, had come close to it happening, and again, when Peter Young was informed of these things, what did he do? He ceased the internal investigation and said, 'It must be conducted externally and independently' and called on the Attorney General, and that's where we are today.

"Probably the most troubling thing of all that took place in the five days and nights of this hearing was allowing the attorney for the Kaloko Dam owner to appear subpoenaed, that he requested, and under oath and then to have this attorney make a mockery of this Senate Committee and this Senate Body and this State to use us and abuse us to deflect attention away from his client who faces more serious charges in the days ahead.

"I have received a number of e-mails, as I know all of you have, and particularly the Majority Leader, because they came from the Island of Kauai and they were signed. They were signed by people like Teresa Tico, an attorney representing the victims, Amy Marvin and the victims themselves. And they cried out for justice and they could not understand why this Body would let William McCorriston come here and try to blame everyone else to deflect attention from his client who owns Kaloko Dam, and then, to rub salt into the wound, to refuse to answer questions under oath before this Committee! What were we thinking? Why did we allow this? We can talk about Ethics Commission rulings and decisions, but the public are pretty smart, and when they see something, and it doesn't look good, and it doesn't smell good, and they know it's not good, we should be listening more to the public!"

The audience responded with a disorderly ovation, and the Chair made the following announcement:

"I'm going to caution the audience to refrain from vocal expressions at this time, please. Thank you."

Senator Slom continued:

"Thank you, Madam President.

"I was here eight years ago when the confirmation of Margery Bronster came to the Senate Floor. The Margery Bronster confirmation, like the Peter Young confirmation, is not a partisan issue. It's not Republicans vs. Democrats, but it is an issue where people took their personal opinions, including me, because for two years, as most people know, I was publicly opposed to the reconfirmation of Margery Bronster. And why was I publicly opposed? Well, very few people wanted to listen to my reasons, and those that did, disregarded them anyway. But you know what? It was basically because of management style or lack of management – the fact that at that time the then Attorney General, in the opinion of many people including myself, was spending too much time on things like the Chevron case, the tobacco case, and not doing the responsibilities within every department. And how did we know that? Because every department came before different committees saying, 'Hey, the Attorney General's supposed to represent us but she's not, so will you give us the authority and the money to go outside and hire outside attorneys.' I felt very strongly about that, but it was not a philosophical or ideological or principled decision. It was my view of what this person was or was not doing, and I knew I could do a better job. I would have done things differently. But guess what, I heard from 900 people – constituents, non-constituents, Republicans, Democrats – and they said, 'We believe in this person. We believe this is the only person that can do the job.' And two days before the final hearing, I announced to everybody, 'Hey, I was convinced. I listened to my constituents and to the people outside. I'm going to vote for her. It's against my idea, but I'm listening to the public.'

"So what's happened nine years later, eight years later? We're not listening to the public. We're listening to a few people behind closed doors, primarily. We're listening to our fears about what could happen, what might happen, and all that, and yet we know that that nominee was on the job everyday. That nominee didn't turn people away. That nominee tackled some of the most difficult problems, and we got more difficult problems coming up in the years ahead.

"Many of my constituents and many of my colleagues are concerned about the vacancy rate in this department. And it is a concern, and it is a problem. Although I would say, after listening to all the people I listened to, thank God some of them left. (Laughter.) Vacancies are a problem in state government. This Senate this year has created vacancies in the Department of Public Safety that nobody's rushing forward to, created a vacancy in the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations and nobody's rushing forward to, and if you do the wrong thing and turn this man down today, you will create another vacancy in one of the largest departments, and who are you going to have to step in to take care of these mounting problems – current problems and new problems? And that's what we have to think about.

"But we've got to think about all these people. We've got to think about all these organizations, many of whom have told us four years ago they were totally opposed to the nominee. A year after that, they were calling with petitions for his firing or resignation. And now their telling us, 'Wait a minute, now we've seen what he's done. And while he doesn't do everything and he doesn't do all the things that we like and we don't agree with him on all things, he's the best man to do this. He's the only one that's going to tackle all of these issues and he's not going to back away from them.'

"And that is why we have to confirm Peter Young today – not because of our individual or collective concerns which have not been factually proven, and if they were, they do not point to the nominee, they point to employees within this troubled and dysfunctional department.

"So I would ask my colleagues, you've gotten all the material; you've gotten stacks probably almost as high as this; you've heard from these people; you've heard from these organizations. They still reserve the right to criticize or disagree. And if an investigation proves that in fact there was any real wrongdoing that goes up to the commander in chief of that department, then he should and will be dealt with, and I'll be the first one to take this Senate Floor and call for that. But absent that, I grew up old time with the idea that a person is innocent until proven guilty. And this individual has been proven guilty of nothing except dedication and the idea of trying to ride 11 horses at one time. My brother from another mother over there who's the cowboy, I think he can only ride four horses at one time. They're all from the apocalypse.

"We can have our concerns. We can continue to ask questions. We can have requirements and restrictions. But we must understand in the end, a manager, an executive must make those decisions and then we hold them accountable for those decisions. And that's what we have to do.

"And in sum, Madam President, I think it would be a big mistake if in fact we just follow like sheep, one way or the other. We need to exercise our independence. I don't think that some of my colleagues recognize the breadth and the depth of the distrust and concern about us in this Body and what we're doing. We say that we represent the people. The people have spoken loudly and clearly and specifically, and what they've said is they want Peter Young reconfirmed. Many of these questions and many of these problems were not asked four years ago at his nomination hearing. They weren't asked of the previous three or four or five past DLNR directors, and issues of his qualifications for certain specific titles within that department, again, were not asked and not questioned previously. So we are faced with the situation right now to make our final decision today and stand up for that decision.

"There may be some people that think that if the nominee is not confirmed, it will hurt the Governor of this State. . . I don't care about that. Some people might think that it might hurt Peter Young . . . I don't care about that. He's probably got a great career ahead as a baseball coach for young people if he has to. But what I do care about are the unintended consequences – the fact that we hurt the people; we hurt the public that relies upon us, that comes to hearings, that watches them on television, that sends in the emails, the faxes, the telephone calls, the messages, and talks to us in the corridor. We will hurt the Native Hawaiians that we say we want to protect. We will hurt the keiki that we say we want to protect. We will hurt the natural environment that we say we want to protect. Because who knows better? Us, from information behind closed doors, or the people that are on the front line every single day, and every single day hold this nominee and this department accountable?

"We have an opportunity to think for ourselves and to be independent today, and I'm urging you – all of my colleagues – do the right thing not based on second- or third-hand information, not based on allegations, not based on the testimony of some employees when the vast majority of employees support this manager. Do the right thing. Don't disgrace this Senate Body.

"Thank you, Madam President."

At 1:17 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 1:20 o'clock p.m.

At this time, the Chair made the following announcement:

“We are currently in Conference and there are Conference Committees that have conference times that need to be opened and postponed, so we will be allowing Chairmen, if your time comes up for your Committee, to please go ahead and convene your Conference, then postpone and come back so that we can take the vote.

“In the meantime, just to let the public know, we’d like to keep the audience applause down so we can proceed in a timely manner so that we can be sure that none of the bills that you also might be concerned about do not fall by the wayside. In trying to accommodate this, we will not take a vote if a member happens to be out of the Chamber. We will recess when that time comes, but we will continue on with the discussion at this time.

“So with that, is there any further discussion?”

Senator Kokubun rose to speak in opposition to the nominee and said:

“Madam President, I stand in opposition to the motion to advise and consent to Gov. Msg. No. 276.

“This is not an easy position to take, and I want to acknowledge the fact that there are many supporters for Peter Young. I also would like to acknowledge the fact that the good Senator from Hawaii Kai was paying attention during our committee hearings, and I want to thank him, actually, and all the members of our Committee because they were very diligent in terms of attending all the hearings, asking the good questions, and also wanting to ensure that however the process moved forward, it was done in a manner that would not disparage the Senate. I took all that advice to heart and hope that I accommodated all of their concerns with respect because it is not my goal here to make any kind of a mockery, if you will, of this process or of this Body. I have great respect for what we’re doing. I also have great respect for the responsibilities that we have to undertake as Senators here in our confirmation process.

“So along those lines, let me first again acknowledge and I want to thank, frankly, all the many, many people, individuals, organizations who have participated by testifying or who have communicated by e-mail, phone, fax, and in fact continue to communicate to this day with all Senators.

“Obviously, this has been an issue of high import to many, but I would like to, just for the record, state that as in any tough decision that we have to make, not all of that testimony is consistently in one direction. There is not necessarily unanimous support for Mr. Young in his position. Opposition does come from employees who feel that their concerns have not been addressed or who may feel that the department could be run in a more efficient and proficient manner. I’d also like to acknowledge that I take exception to the good Senator from Hawaii Kai when he made the comment ‘Thank God they left,’ in terms of the vacancies, because I think this is at the heart of this issue. Not only is it a matter of the protection of our resources, which I think we all agree on and there’s no doubt about that in my mind, but it’s the fact that how we accomplish that goal is really through the rank and file – the people who serve on the front lines of DLNR in carrying out the policies and the directions for that department. They need to be acknowledged. They need to be thanked, because they take their job seriously. I think to cast them aside with a comment as cavalier as ‘Thank God they left’ is disrespectful to them and the job that they try to do.

“I would also like to thank Peter, Mr. Young, his Deputy Bob Masuda, and all the other administrators and staff who participated in our process for their patience. I know that it wasn’t an easy task to do. This was really, as the good Senator from Hawaii Kai indicated, kind of a unique situation for the Senate. Not only did we take an unprecedented five days, but we did incorporate the use of subpoenas and executive sessions, and I will get to that with further clarification.

“I also, though, want to specifically acknowledge and thank the witnesses who were subpoenaed, particularly the departmental staff, because they demonstrated their courage and willingness to express their concerns sometimes in the face of criticism. This was not an easy task for them, but I again acknowledge and thank them for their good work.

“Much has been said about the executive sessions which were conducted in a confidential manner, but I want to make clear again for the record, and I know that many of you understand this, but the reason for going into executive session was at the request of the Attorney General, and at the request of the executive director and legal counsel of the State Ethics Commission. With the ongoing investigations, it was their responsibility to protect people who may have been affected by the investigation, and they needed to protect the manner in which they were going about their investigation. The Committee respected that and acknowledged that it is an ongoing situation, and we would not want to jeopardize those investigations unless allowed to do so by the Attorney General and the Ethics Commission.

“I would agree that up to this point Mr. Young is not the target or the focus of the investigation, but we acknowledged the fact that they are occurring at this point in time during his tenure. Much has been said about previous problems of the department. I don’t have intimate knowledge of that but I will acknowledge that in fact there have been troubles with DLNR, probably because of the huge responsibilities that they have to bear. But the fact is that we are talking now about what occurred in the past four years, and that is the difference. Today – we have a track record to look at with respect to Mr. Young.

“While I’m on the topic of thanking people, I also do want to thank the Attorney General and the First Deputy to the Attorney General and also the Executive Director of the Ethics Commission for providing us with their assistance as we move forward in this confirmation hearing.

“Much has been said about the accomplishments, and I certainly do not want to detract from those at all. I think the Senator from Hawaii Kai indicated, particularly with respect to the Northwest Hawaiian Islands being designated as a Marine National Monument, it’s an unprecedented action which provides tremendous protection for a resource that we all consider important. He also brought up the issue about invasive species and certainly they’ve been the focus of legislative policy for a number of years. In fact the Hawaii Invasive Species Council was developed through legislative initiative. The Legacy Land Conservation Commission is also another very positive step that has moved forward for the State of Hawaii. And again, I think the Legislature felt good about working with the department and those in the environmental community about promoting that sort of very, very positive program for the future of Hawaii.

“But at the same time, there are other issues that also brought to bear some of the inconsistencies with respect to the leadership of DLNR during these past four years. Now, we have mentioned the fact that at Mr. Young’s initial confirmation hearing there was objection from some groups, and in fact I will acknowledge as well as agree with the good Senator from Hawaii Kai that two years after his confirmation many of these organizations, including Native Hawaiian groups and environmental groups, were calling for his resignation. What I think that points out to me is that this really kind of represents the style of leadership that has been demonstrated by Mr. Young. In a way, it has been an experiment in on-the-job training. Things change only after a crisis develops, or only after a major issue is raised. Prior to the call for his resignation there was no change in the direction, so it would take something like calling directly for his resignation to force any kind of change. I will get back to this issue about on-the-job training as we move along.

“Given the fact that we did go through five days, there was lots of information – I will acknowledge that – but the conclusions that we reached were not just based on allegations. There were some very, very serious concerns raised, and they really led to the conclusion by the Committee that there was a lack of accountability on the part of Mr. Young. There was mismanagement on his part. And again, it goes back to this concept of ‘it takes a crisis to change management practices.’ This is troubling. That is not the way, in my opinion and I think in the opinion of the Committee, that this department should move forward.

“There were issues with workers, not just grievances as was mentioned earlier, but in fact prohibitive practice complaints that were filed with the Hawaii Labor Relations Board. These are serious allegations because they raise the fact that union contracts and the provisions of those contracts were not being adhered to. This is particularly with respect to reorganization, and there are a number of examples of that taking place.

“The other problematic areas that were important to consider was what was occurring at the Division of Boating and Ocean Recreation – the fact that the Boating Special Fund was being used to pay for the hiring of additional DOCARE officers or at least to fund those positions. It was revealed during that discussion that in fact there were no bodies in those vacancies, and so these funds were being taken from the Division of Boating and Ocean Recreation Special Fund and used for other purposes. Part of the result was that the division experienced a loss in federal grants because we could not account for the actual enforcement practices that were being conducted for those positions. And hence, grants from the United States Coast Guard Recreation Boating Safety Program have been held in abeyance until these concerns can be addressed. It’s no secret that the facilities for our small boat harbors are in dire need of help, and if you will talk to some of those users, there is much dissatisfaction with how this program is moving forward, or in fact, not moving at all.

“The other area that was of very, very grave concern for us had to do with the State Historic Preservation Division. This is the division that is charged with the responsibility of overseeing our precious historic and cultural resources, not just burial sites themselves or the Burial Councils, but also artifacts that may not necessarily be connected with burials. This division in particular has experienced tremendous vacancy rates. I think out of the 27 positions that are assigned to this division, there have been changes in 20 of them. Staff members have either moved laterally, moved to the private sector, or resigned. This does not speak well for employee morale, and if we go back to the premise that what makes the department successful is the dedication and commitment of staff, then this I think is a prime example of where this is not occurring.

“Much was made of the fact that in our confirmation hearing and the use of subpoenas, Mr. McCorrison was subpoenaed to appear before our Committee. Let me give you a little bit of background on why. That decision was mine after discussing my decision with the Senate President. The reason for this decision is based on the legislation this year, as you all know, for the dam safety law which was based on the proposed legislation from Mr. Godbey, the Special Deputy Attorney General. When that legislation was heard by the Judiciary and Labor Committee, I was there as a committee member and heard Mr. McCorrison raise some issues. I will also say that on the record I thought he embellished that particular presentation.

“So, when realizing that the dam safety issue was so important for us to determine and get the facts on, I utilized the subpoena to have Mr. McCorrison come forward under oath, realizing that as an attorney, he holds, at least I hope he holds, himself to an even higher degree of integrity based on the fact that he’s under oath knowing full well that if he breached his responsibility to his client it could jeopardize his case. So the idea was to really bring forth as much information as we could about that issue. So, I will take full responsibility for that. I asked Mr. McCorrison, under oath, to come and provide information to the Committee, but I think it’s important information and we’ll get to that as well.

“Finally, I want to speak to the Bureau of Conveyances. This is a very, very troubling division, and not only is it the focus of both the criminal and the ethics investigations, but just receiving knowledge about the security or lack thereof that is provided for our data with respect to title is very, very disturbing. The Bureau of Conveyances is the repository for all of the title documents in the State of Hawaii – for land, for our homes. I can’t think of a single more important asset that the citizens of Hawaii have in terms of wanting to be sure that that asset is protected. The manner in which data is kept there, the fact that questions were raised, the fact that the Attorney General took action on his own – not at the request of the Committee, but on his own – after hearing information in the executive sessions, to take control of certain computers at the Bureau of Conveyances indicates to me that there is a serious concern about data security at the Bureau of Conveyances. While it is true that the investigation is ongoing, I think the fact that these kinds of steps were taken indicate that we should be concerned about the security of our data.

“Let me just conclude this portion of my thoughts by saying this – in my mind, there is not a smoking gun, if that’s what people are looking for. I don’t think there is a need for a smoking gun because while no single event or issue is enough on its own, taken altogether, all of these issues that have been raised are cause for grave concerns. We cannot simply sit and wait for the next crisis to bring about a change in management of that department.

“I will quote the good Senator from Hawaii Kai who said during our confirmation decision making yesterday that, ‘Perhaps the problem with Peter is that he was trusting others too much or that he was simply naïve in how he was going about expecting to make change.’ But even more telling for me was the response that Mr. Young had to the good Senator from Hawaii Kai, who asked a key question about accountability. I think all of us in these positions of decision making and responsibility ask ourselves the same question, so I would like to quote for you verbatim the question that was asked and the response from Mr. Young.

Question: ‘Would you acknowledge that ultimately the buck stops with the director?’

Response: ‘I firmly believe we each share responsibility. We are responsible to ourselves to do the best that we can, to be fair with others, to work our hardest, and to focus on the mission, the common mission. Ultimately, as the director, I mean, I’m the Chair, I’m the lightning rod for the department. I have trouble with the specific reference that

“the buck stops here.” In part, because it implies a micromanaging prospect. That means that the director is doing everything and because he feels responsible for it. I feel it’s appropriate to delegate. It’s appropriate to hold others responsible for their actions. As the director, though, I am not only the figurehead, but I am the leader. But “the buck stops here” context for me can be viewed and used by some as a copout.’

“It’s difficult for me to support someone who will not take responsibility for the actions of the department, albeit a very large, large responsibility. So, Madam President, it’s difficult and I cannot have four more years of this type of on-the-job-training. The department needs accountable leadership.

“Thank you very much.”

Senator Hemmings rose in favor of the nomination and stated:

“Madam President, I rise to speak in favor of Gov. Msg. No. 276, the re-nomination of Peter T. Young to head the Department of Land and Natural Resources.

“This can be one of this Senate’s better moments. We’ll know at the end of the Roll Call today. I’d like to suggest that this open and free debate on this nominee is healthy and we’re going to make an informed decision by what’s said today. But I’d like to further suggest that we’re also voting on the integrity of this Body and the integrity of the process.

“We’ve already heard much about Mr. Young and I’m sure the previous speaker’s conclusions will be adequately rebutted, but I’d like to talk about the process. Subpoenas. Interesting. Was this Body in the course of these hearings acting as a grand jury indicting the nominee, or was this Body acting in a fair and open manner to conduct a hearing to reach reasonable conclusions based on fact?

“A reporter I respect asked me just this morning, ‘Doesn’t the Senate have the right to conduct their hearings in the way they see fit?’ And I said, ‘They sure do, but that doesn’t necessarily make it fair and responsible.’

“Madam President, I suggested to you – when you want to talk about where the buck stops – to change the subpoena process, if indeed it is required that we need the testimony of someone, that the request should come as it does in Congress from the majority vote of the Committee who’s seeking the subpoena, not the ‘behind closed doors’ conclusions reached by you and the Committee Chair. In the course of reaching these conclusions on advice and consent, I’d like to ask now, why was Mr. McCorriston subpoenaed? I’ve heard two answers already. Maybe there’s more. One, that he asked to be subpoenaed, and just now the Committee Chairman said he asked him to be subpoenaed.

“Did the Committee Chairman tell us what Mr. McCorriston’s motives are? Was the Committee Chair and the Committee complicit in the process? I’d say what we’re doing today is voting on not only this nominee but on the integrity of this Body. On that one particular case, not only does the State of Hawaii have a huge liability, but we’re talking about playing politics with people’s lives. I don’t understand it. I just don’t understand it.

“Regarding the closed door hearings, because of the request of the Attorney General, that might be necessary to protect the Attorney General’s investigations, but in this case, was Peter Young given the opportunity to specifically address the issues and specifically have the opportunity to rebut what was said behind closed doors in an effort to indict him? I don’t think so.

“Much has been said today regarding no smoking gun, low employee morale, mismanagement, long-standing problems, but it’s just a matter of opinion as to who’s responsible for it. A huge fishing expedition went on regarding the Bureau of Conveyances’ problems. Who asked that the Bureau of Conveyances be investigated? Mr. Young.

“So I’m hoping that when this is all said and done, that this will be a fine moment for the Senate, that we will vote on what is fair and just for the nominee, that we will vote in favor of what’s best for the immediate future of the Department of Land and Natural Resources for the land, the ocean, and this environment, that we also will vote for what’s best for the integrity of this Body because I would suggest to each of us that there’s much more at stake than this nominee. I would suggest that the public does know what’s going on, and the public has spoken pretty loud on this issue, and pretty clearly. I’m hoping that this good Body, after the continued open and free debate, will vote in favor of Peter Young’s re-nomination and also vote in favor of the integrity of this Body to do what’s right, fair, and ultimately what’s in the best interest of the people who sent us here to do their bidding.

“I urge my colleagues to vote in favor of Peter Young. It’s the right thing to do. Thank you Madam President.”

At this time, the Chair made the following observation:

“Members, for the record, we are voting on Gov. Msg. No. 276, and that is all we are voting on today. Thank you.”

Senator Tokuda rose to speak against the nomination as follows:

“Madam President, at this time I would like to rise in opposition to the reconfirmation of Peter Young to serve a second term as Director of the Department of Land and Natural Resources.

“Before I begin, I would sincerely like to thank Mr. Young for his service and to acknowledge the work that he has done on behalf of our natural and cultural resources. In particular, I would like to thank him for joining me and coming to the table in good faith efforts these last few months to finally reach a longstanding agreement over Kawaiui Marsh. No matter what is said today by myself or others, this is an accomplishment that he should be very proud of, and I would sincerely like to thank him for working with us to protect and preserve one of Hawaii’s finest ecological treasures.

“Like many others, like the good Senator from Hawaii Kai, I have spent an amazing amount of time going through testimony, documents, listening to hours of verbal testimony presented by hundreds of individuals from across the State during this confirmation process. And, as I was going through these documents and this testimony and I was reading through Mr. Young’s questionnaire that he provided to us, one phrase really stuck with me and has stayed with me through this entire process – ‘Hoookuleana.’ Adopted by the Land Board in 2005 as their guiding principle of sorts, it means ‘to take responsibility.’ It challenges the department and its leadership to participate rather than ignore, to prevent rather than react, and to preserve rather than degrade. Like Mr. Young and the Department of Land and Natural Resources, we as the Senate also have a very important obligation and responsibility, and we should also adopt this principle as something that guides us through this process. In my deliberations, this was the principle, this was the guide that I used when looking at the totality of Mr. Young's term.

"While there have been many significant accomplishments, as highlighted by the good Senator from Hawaii Kai, during Mr. Young's tenure, there have also been many indications that responsibility has not been taken by Mr. Young as Director of DLNR. Two years ago, as mentioned by the Chairperson of our Committee, as a result of controversy over Hokulia, the proposed abolishment of the Water Commission, and problems with Burial Councils, groups and community activists focused on the protection and preservation of our natural and cultural resources came together and called for Mr. Young to address their concerns in two months or resign.

"Seeing many of these groups that once called for his resignation, now coming forward to support him in his reconfirmation, I felt it incumbent upon myself to research exactly what those concerns were and if in fact they had made a complete turnaround so as to justify this new found support. Among those demands were calls to fill vacancies within the department's upper ranks, including deputy and administrator positions, and to adequately staff the department's enforcement, historic preservation, and burial site programs. They also came out very strong calling for an audit of the department as a result of questions raised about staff shortages, low morale, and backlogs in the re-interring of Hawaiian remains. It was a way for them to see clearly just how the department was being run under Mr. Young's leadership.

"Based on the information that was provided us during the hearing and through the State Auditor's many reports completed during the last four years, it is clear that these issues are still prevalent problems within the department and the audits themselves raise serious questions as to the management of DLNR under Director Young and the oversight of its divisions.

"In terms of vacancies, as I pointed out yesterday during our decision making process, in the top ranks of DLNR and amongst their frontline staff, DLNR still has a 13.9 percent vacancy rate. That's 116 vacant positions, more than one in 10 of every seat that should be filled, that should be there to protect our natural and cultural resources are empty. Even if a portion of these positions had been filled or could be filled, I can only imagine the amazing amount of work that they would do to protect and preserve our most precious resources.

"Since taking office in 2003, 11 out of 29 appointed positions and division managers who directly report and are supervised by Mr. Young have resigned, including four deputy directors. While Mr. Young has cited private sector competition and retirement as causes, testimony received and public statements made through the media in the past four years point to problems at the highest level of management within the department.

"Inadequately staffing the department's enforcement, historic preservation, and burial sites program, Mr. Young's appointment of the State Historic Preservation Division's Administrator and his ability to take responsibility for the current state of things within the division are questionable. Mr. Young himself recognizes the importance of this division. In his testimony he equated it to taking care of someone's relative. I agree with him. It is an extremely important responsibility that we all bear. And in the last two years, as noted by our Chairperson, SHPD has seen 20 individuals resign – in the last two years alone – and this is a small division of 27 employees. This serious problem in any of our departments should be taken seriously by any director. And to date, not even an exit interview has been conducted to try and get to the root of what is nothing less than a mass exodus of employees in this very important division.

"Given the important work of SHPD, it was also incumbent upon Mr. Young to take responsibility to ensure that the administrator of this division had the background and experience necessary to lead this division. As the State Historic Preservation Officer, or SHPO, for Hawaii and given his own lack of personal qualifications as stated in HRS 6E-5, and also based upon federal standards requiring knowledge in the fields of archaeology, architecture, and history, it was essential for Mr. Young to enlist the services of a deputy SHPO and SHPD administrator that could not only motivate their professional staff to tackle the immense challenge, but understand the technical and culturally sensitive nature of the work that they do. Mr. Young made a conscious decision to forgo the professional background needed for SHPD, and instead chose to hire an administrator with a management background because these were issues raised in the audit this same individual conducted in 2002.

"While there have been reported 50 percent increases in completed investigations, I have very grave concerns over the increase in projects that were rushed through the process and were endangered or desecrated in the process. We've heard incidences of Ki'i Cave, the Wal-Mart site, Pua'a'a on the Big Island and many others over the course of our discussions and over the years. While Mr. Young meets with his SHPD administrator weekly, his ability to take responsibility to stem the flow of resignations, significant vacancy rates and concerns over the Division's ability to take responsibility for the protection of our most sacred sites over the past two years still remains questionable.

"I truly believe that our laws and our regulations are only as good as our ability to enforce them. That is why the DOCARE division is so critical to what the Department of Land and Natural Resources does. The use of DOCARE officers and how they have been paid has been called into question numerous times during our deliberations. Mr. Young has the responsibility as set forth in our Constitution to ensure that resources are used in a manner consistent with their conservation.

"As stated by our State Auditor just last year in her audit of DOCARE, Hawaii's natural and cultural resources will continue to deteriorate unless the DLNR and its DOCARE division aggressively address many of weaknesses noted in this report. During the one-year time period of the audit, almost 19 work years of effort expended performing missions only loosely controlled or connected with the division's primary mission were identified. This was time that was not spent protecting our 410,000 acres of coral reefs, our 11 marine life conservation districts, our 19 fishery management areas, our 9 fishery replenishment areas, our 2 wildlife sanctuaries, our 18 bottom fish restricted areas, and our 1.3 million acres of state lands, beaches, and coastal waters.

"I, too, care about our marine life, our endemic and endangered birds and species, and the preservation of our natural resources. I want to see our laws, and our regulations, and our policies enforced, and that is where DOCARE becomes essential.

"When Mr. Young himself states in his response to us in regards to coastal policy enforcement that his preference is to foster voluntary compliance, this concerns me – knowing that each day endangered birds are taken for their feathers, nets are laid and left there, fish is taken unscrupulously, and land is marked and scarred permanently, all the while our DOCARE officers are out conducting thousands, tens of thousands of hours of missions only loosely connected to the mission of the department.

“As our Chairperson also mentioned, there were concerns about the ghost employees within DOBOR. One grave concern that I had was that through the progression of questioning between Senator Slom and then to the Chairperson, Mr. Young went from claiming that there were no ghost employees and in fact they were all filled, to they are partially filled with a few vacancies – and by the time he got to the center of the table – to telling the Committee that the $250,000 in funds were used for equipment purchases. While this might be true, those $250,000 could have been used to improve our small boat harbors and provide services to our boaters.

“Mr. Young has a fiduciary and management responsibility to ensure that all divisions within DLNR are able to function and to move the mission of the department forward. For a division like DOBOR, which is having difficulties making payroll or even buying janitorial supplies as a result of the reduced funds in their special fund, a number of serious concerns have been raised not only by the DOBOR staff but also the federal government.

“As mentioned by the Chairperson, the Coast Guard has ceased providing us with reimbursements through their reimbursable federal grants program since fiscal year 2005. It’s impossible for us to actually calculate how many dollars we’ve lost, but estimates are over a million dollars in reimbursable grants that could have gone towards our small boat harbors and our boating programs, and more importantly, to provide support for the people of Hawaii and those who enjoy water recreation.

“It’s not only the fact that they cannot adequately identify or account for law enforcement hours on the use of DOCARE positions for enforcement actions at the small boat harbors and on the waters, but the Coast Guard has also recently received information and stated in correspondences that they had with Mr. Young during 2006 that leads them to believe that there exists a possibility of misuse of federal funds provided for this program in the State of Hawaii. These questions raised by the Coast Guard as to the accounting for DOCARE services paid by DOBOR funds is not limited to the federal government. DOBOR and its leaders have been calling into question Mr. Young’s inability to take responsibility for adequately accounting for the $1.5 million annually going to DOCARE payments from the Boating Special Fund, as well as assuming responsibility to provide much needed funds to improve our harbors and services to boaters by fairly increasing fees.

“The Legislature last year also asked for a report of how many hours were actually spent providing enforcement to our small harbors and on the water, to which Mr. Young pointed me to two sets of reports. One, I would have you note, is about 600-plus pages per month of timesheets, and in order for you to actually account for how much money or how much time was spent on the water, you would have to decode every handwritten, some typed, timesheets for every island, and then you would have to go and request the actual amount or salary for each individual.

“He also told me about the weekly reports that have started as of January 5, 2007, that are on the website for DLNR. On these, there are no listing of hours spent on the water or looking in enforcement areas. It is simply a tally of citations given for various divisions. This, I would argue, is not what the Legislature asked for when they wanted a proper accounting of exactly how much time DOCARE spent enforcing our laws and our regulations on our waterways and at our small boat harbors.

“While I do not want to go into detail too much over the Bureau of Conveyances, although it has already been brought up numerous times on this Floor, I do have concerns as a result of the discussions that we heard both in executive session, but mostly also outside of executive session when we were talking with Mr. Young. In my questioning of Mr. Young under oath, he stated very clearly that he had no involvement with the very large title company in Hawaii as Director of DLNR. Within five minutes shortly thereafter, I read to him notes from daily meetings held at the bureau that directly referenced Mr. Young specifically engaging in conversations and negotiations with the CEO of this company and discussing the possibility of a business relationship.

“Mr. Young then went on to contradict his earlier statement under oath and said that he had engaged in discussions with this individual. He had explored the possibility of bringing in the bureau’s largest private sector client into the inner workings of the department to handle and index documents received from the public and from other title companies. While Mr. Young may argue that other companies were approached, it should be noted that according to BOC notes, the other companies and the title association met with the BOC team and that negotiations with this one particular title company that dominates the business of the BOC was the direct responsibility of Mr. Young himself.

“While the agreement never materialized, we have a responsibility, actually, to look at the ethicality of his decision-making process. In government, we have a responsibility to support all companies – small companies, large companies, those in between – regardless of the percentage of the business that they may do with our departments or with this bureau in particular.

“Colleagues, these islands know all too well about land rightfully owned being taken away from them. The Bureau of Conveyances is the keeper of our titles, the witnesses to our ownership of property and of land. Through the BOC’s notes and reports from their fiscal division dated as early as last October, months before the actual investigation began, in reports from the Auditor’s Office and even news accounts of the Bureau, there’re enough statements, there’re enough signs, there’re enough things written on paper coming from internal sources, coming from external sources, coming from the public, that said something was wrong with the Bureau of Conveyances – the system is in jeopardy, security is compromised.

“To allow these things to continue, to not so much as take a second look at why undocumented donated computers – which I would argue while it was stated that it came from the 1990’s, a flat screen Dell, last I saw, was pretty recently introduced – and not only that, but technical support donated by individuals within our title community – one particular company within this community, the presence of personnel from this particular title company present in the bureau, and the lack of any contracts or agreements or records of payments for services or products provided – raised serious concerns for me as to the integrity of the system that is accountable for tracking all of our land transactions. It is responsible for ensuring that if you own land, it is rightfully yours.

“Yesterday, Senator Slom said, ‘Mr. Young, if he’s guilty of anything,’ and I’m quoting this again for the second time today, ‘if he’s guilty of anything, it is that he is too trusting of people and of being naïve.’ Mr. Young himself during his testimony said that, ‘I assume too much.’ Colleagues, this is one division, this is one department where being naïve and making assumptions could cost you something very valuable, and it could cost you your land.

“Like Mr. Young, we have a very important responsibility to take a look at the big picture – the total department and its functions – and his ability to move DLNR and its employees forward during good times and difficult years. While he has done good work as we have all stated, it is our job to hold any and every director accountable for their actions or inactions of their department. The Department of Land and Natural Resources holds in its hands our most sacred trust – our land, our oceans, our sacred and cultural resources. That is why choosing a steward for this department that has the ability to motivate not only the public but the people he leads is absolutely critical.

“Please know – to everyone here, to all that have testified, to everyone who’s called our offices or e-mailed – that I absolutely respect and I acknowledge every single voice, the hundreds of voices, maybe thousands at this point, who have called or written or come forward to offer support or to raise questions, and that I have taken every single one of them into account, and I take everyone very seriously. And it is through going over these documents and listening to these voices that I made my decision. That is why I would also ask you that while you will not and may not, some of you, agree with my decision, I would humbly ask that you respect the decision that I made, and I hope you know that the conclusion I came to only came about after giving serious and open-minded consideration to every viewpoint and to every voice.

“I was not here four years ago when this director came forward for confirmation. I wasn’t here two years ago when people started to raise questions about his ability to lead. But I’m here today, and I take my advise and consent responsibilities very seriously. This is the responsibility that I think we have – to ask all the questions, to leave no stone unturned, and to remember that this is not about a temperature check or looking at what percentage of the testimonies are for or against – it’s about taking the information that we have, it’s about looking at what’s best for not only the department, but our State, and making a sound decision. And as a result of what I have seen and what I have known, it is truly with great sadness that I cannot support the re-nomination of Director Young.

“Thank you, Madam Chair.”

Senator Trimble rose in favor of the nominee and stated:

“Madam Vice President, I rise to speak in favor of Peter Young, the integrity of the confirmation process, and what is good for the State of Hawai‘i.

“Colleagues, spectral evidence has not been allowed in a court of law in the United States or a colony thereof in more than 300 years. It seems strange that we would not hold ourselves to the same standard. But let me go on for a moment, if the confirmation process were about Peter Young, we would look at his accomplishments, we would look at what his constituents say. And if we did that, if we looked at it, we would say, ‘By golly, how in the heck did that guy accomplish so much with so little resources.’ And I think it is only fair, since we determine how much is appropriated along with the House, what he has had to work with. From the very first budget session he has asked for more money for the small boating program. It is unfair for some of us to stand up and criticize him when in fact we didn’t approve the request in the budget he made. In fact, we eliminated the second dam inspector position. Most of the things that we criticize Director Young for not doing could have been done if we had seen fit to give this department that we say is so important some more resources to accomplish its goals.

“If this Body were truly concerned about employee turnover as significant in determining good management practices from bad, we have to look no further than the Legislative Auditor’s Office. If you compare the numbers of employee turnover at the Legislative Auditor’s Office, you might be surprised that DLNR does not look so bad by direct comparison.

“You know, you can talk about the diversion of money from the small boating program to DOCARE – a practice that has been going on for more than 10 years, probably closer to 15 years – and you’ll probably find out in the committee report that when the small boating harbor was moved from the Department of Transportation to DLNR and the marine officers of the DOT were moved to DLNR, that an agreement was struck with full knowledge of the Legislature that money from the small boating program would go to fund enforcement positions. This is not new for members of the Senate. It was not new for me working for DBEDT. So I find it surprising that you are surprised.

“If you looked at the revenue of the small boating division, which you say you’re familiar with, I find it surprising that you don’t separate out revenue from places like the Prince Hotel. And if you did that and you compared the volume of that to what is going to DOCARE, maybe your criticism of Peter Young would be somewhat muted, because the transfers from the payments made by the owners of the small boats is not as significant as you would like people to believe. It is not a new practice. It’s one that Ways and Means staff has known about for over a decade. It is unfair and unjust for you to lay burdens like this at Peter Young’s feet.

“I’m deeply troubled by something that was brought up three times before, but let me go back to part of something that was referred to four or five times but nobody really got up and before his colleagues said what was actually in the committee report, where attorneys should be held to a higher standard than ordinary folk. It is relevant to this discussion as I will show. And I find it interesting that it was penned by the Chair of the Judiciary Committee, who in fact is not an attorney, because it might have some relevance to some people in this Chamber who are attorneys. So, whenever you see or hear the word ‘attorney,’ think Senator or Senate President. ‘Public confidence in law and lawyers must not be eroded by irresponsible and improper conduct of a lawyer. It has been noted in the past and continues to hold true today that when explicit ethical guidance does not exist, a lawyer should determine his conduct by acting in a manner that promotes public confidence in the integrity, efficacy and efficiency of the legal system and the legal profession. A consequent obligation of lawyers to maintain the highest standards of ethical conduct. Your Committee finds that a lawyer should strive to avoid not only professional impropriety, but as important, also the appearance of impropriety.’

“The reason why I bring this to our collective attention is that when Peter Young was put under oath, you know you might find that somebody is trying to figure out before he gives an answer to your question, why you’re fishing and what you intend to use it for. And when you authorize, or the Senate President authorized, the subpoena of somebody who probably would have been willing to come down and testify anyway because it allowed him to lay out his case and shift the blame to DLNR from his client, you kind of have to wonder what in the heck was going through their mind?

“You know, this truly troubles my constituents. They feel that the confirmation process was not a confirmation process but was akin to the use of spectral evidence just as they did in 1692 in Salem and they called it the ‘Salem witch hunts.’ It’s not about performance; it’s about levying blame. I think that is sad. I think the process has been misused. I think when you look to confirm or not to confirm, employee morale is important; but in any department which is undergoing change, there will always be among a portion of that bureaucracy, resistance to change.

“The most important thing that we can look at in confirming Peter Young is his list of accomplishments. That is what the people expect. That is what the editorials in both daily newspapers refer to. How can we dismiss it? What is going through our minds?”

“We exist to serve the people that elected us to do what is best for Hawaii. And what is best for Hawaii – one has to consider the bottom line, regardless of the rhetoric – is what is the list of accomplishments? When you look at that, colleagues, I think you have to come to the conclusion that Peter Young does merit your vote.

“Thank you.”

Senator Fukunaga rose to speak in opposition as follows:

“Madam President, I rise to speak in opposition to Gov. Msg. No. 276.

“Others have spoken to various problems within various divisions. When I met with the candidate, I did let him know that I had concerns regarding some of the issues involving the department’s DOBOR division and said I was prepared to maintain an open mind during the Committee’s deliberations. We had extensive testimony and lengthy hearings. However, one thing that was truly shocking to me was some of the information that I learned as a result of some of the subpoenaed documents and the testimonies from subpoenaed employees of the department’s Bureau of Conveyances.

“My biggest concerns revolve around the installation, implementation, and development of the so-called new computer system that was really going to be designed to bring the bureau into the 21st century. What we learned during the discussions that we had with those witnesses is that, first, questions were raised last Fall indicating that the bureau’s database could be accessed remotely by unauthorized users. Second, if the bureau’s database contained any features which could thoroughly document and track all users and transactions, then the bureau’s own employees were unaware of such a feature. This is the kind of feature that most financial institutions and others who maintain large databases of information would find almost impossible to conceive of not having. It’s especially important when you consider the importance of accuracy and assuring that the State of Hawai‘i’s electronic records cannot be tampered with by any unauthorized users.

“Third, we found that computers belonging to private sector companies had been attached to the Bureau’s network, raising the question for me, ‘What purposes do these devices serve, and for whose benefit?’

“Based on information that we received in executive session (unlike what has been characterized as our not providing the nominee with an opportunity to respond to these questions), I did pose questions to the nominee asking whether or not he had responded to recommendations made in conjunction with an internal investigation that his own department had conducted in October 2006. I asked specifically whether or not the department had begun amending its administrative rules to ensure that proper rules were in place to govern the use of this database system. I asked whether or not the department had replaced the old fee schedule in place for use of its microfilm records accessed by individual private sector and individual citizens prior to the installation of the new database. I also asked whether or not the department had executed written contracts with those who were authorized to use the new system. Finally, I asked whether or not the software vendor for this system had been asked to take a look at the system’s ability to provide data and image transfers and whether or not the programming services, that had been either donated or provided on a pro bono basis by an external private sector company, were in fact fulfilling the uses of the system that had originally been designed.

“Unfortunately, at that time, the nominee’s responses were less than satisfactory. He was unable to respond to those questions. Following that, the Chair of the WLA Committee submitted to the Department of Land and Natural Resources a request for documents that would otherwise respond to the questions that the nominee was unable to answer during the confirmation hearing. This was on Wednesday, April 18th. The department responded with a series of documents on Friday, April 20th. We reviewed the documents and found that many of the questions we had could not be answered by the documents provided. The Chair submitted a further request to the department for documents which would help us answer the questions that had been posed during the hearing. To date, no further documents have been received from the department.

“I think that this really raises a very troubling set of circumstances. When questions are posed, I would normally think that if there are answers that can be obtained from the production of documents, which anyone would assume – whether they are contracts, whether they are fee schedules, whether there are any other kind of administrative procedures – that these should be forthcoming immediately. Certainly, they would lay to rest many of my questions.

“What is troubling is the absence of any further information. At this point, when I look at the state’s responsibility to safeguard the sanctity and the security of electronic records that we are accountable for, which unlike the land, the water, or other kinds of natural resources that you can see in physical form, it seems to me that we owe a higher duty to be responsive in maintaining the security of those electronic records. And so, I would say in response to one of the prior speakers, we really should do the right thing and we should call for a proper accounting of the use of state assets for which the state is ultimately responsible.

“Having not received any information that I can otherwise base my decision upon, to come to a favorable conclusion, I must regretfully say that at this time I cannot support the nomination of the nominee for another term. Thank you.”

Senator Slom rose in rebuttal and stated:

“Colleagues, focus . . . focus . . . focus. You’ve heard from those that say they cannot and will not support the nominee, but what is it that you heard? You heard their concerns. You heard questions that were raised, assertions that have been made, allegations unproven, and questions. And yes, we all have questions and the longer we keep any individual here, the more questions we would have, if that was our objective.

“Couple of things that I have to respond to, though. First of all, I thank the Chairman and members of the Committee for quoting me so frequently. I just wish they’d quote me more accurately. For example, when I said about the vacancies that some of the people that left – and I said ‘some of the people,’ I think the record will show – it may be a good thing. And I’ll stand by that. But you know, when we’re talking about the rank and file, who is the rank and file? Is the rank and file just those people that came to testify against the nominee or does the rank and file include the many hundreds of employees that support the nominee, many of whom were not allowed to speak. I would suggest that they're all the rank and file. And this idea of trying to divide people up, as we have seen in other bills, I don't think really serves a positive purpose.

"And by the way, I just wish that we would spend as much time on poorly drafted erroneous and questionable bills that we pass out of this Body because questions are raised, issues are presented, troubling, troubling ideas are brought before the Body, and then we usually vote, and it's 23 to 2 in favor. On a good day, it's 21 to 4. And then we find out a couple weeks later, or months later, oh my gosh, the bill was defective! What a surprise! So maybe when we're going through this process of how we're going to do things differently, let's apply it to legislation as well, because I think that's important.

"The management style of this nominee has been debated most of this whole time. And I, for one, said that may be a legitimate concern or something that we can talk about but should not be the basis for whether or not that individual is confirmed. I would say, and again my words were used to say that the director, possibly if he is guilty of anything, was naïveté and relying upon others. That's because, as he stated to us many times, he is not a micromanager. He believes in the integrity of other individuals and gives them an opportunity to take responsibility themselves and to do what needs to be done. What I suggested was maybe he should have paid a little bit more attention to those individuals he thought were going to join the team and really had the idea of improvement to this department at heart, rather than their own agenda.

"And so, I never said that there was no legitimate concern or differences with his management style, but overwhelmingly he has moved this department ahead, and no one has challenged the accomplishments that he's made. All they've said simply is, 'Well he should have done more,' and these unanswered problems for 20, 30 years, 'He should have solved them.' That's what they've said. Why didn't he do that? Why didn't he take care of the vacancies?

"If we want to look at vacancies in state government, to be fair maybe we should look at other departments in state government and see what the vacancies are there, and see what the problem with turnover is there, and see why people don't want to work when they have to go through a colostomy to be approved. For all the boards and commissions, we're really lucky that we get 400, 500 people to serve in these non-paid voluntary positions, because sometimes we talk not only about their character and their shortcomings, but we bring their families into it. Thank God we haven't brought their dogs into it, because that would be a real serious situation.

"The statement was made that as a criticism and as part of his management, that, quote, 'He fosters voluntary compliance,' unquote. My God! Fostering voluntary compliance! Oh, wait a minute! Wait a minute! Isn't that the whole basis of the Internal Revenue System? Voluntary compliance, but if you don't do it then they come after you? And if people didn't do what was supposed to be done and didn't follow the laws, Peter Young came after them. That shows by the administrative action and legal action that was taken. I would much rather have somebody there that believes in voluntary compliance than someone who is dictatorial and says, 'You will do this; you will do that.'

"And how about on-the-job-training? That was another criticism. Well, first of all, I guess there're several of us in this Body that haven't had any on-the-job-training – we haven't learned anything, we haven't changed anything. Because what was the criticism? The criticism was that four years ago, a lot of these individuals and organizations, probably some of you sitting up in the gallery, did not trust, did not believe, did not want this guy. So the statement was made, 'Only because there was a threat, he changed.' Well, that may or may not be true. The bottom line and the most important thing is he changed! He responded! He listened! He did things! Is that worse than not changing and not doing anything and not being flexible? I think not.

"I would want someone, in any position, including the Governor of this State, to say to us, 'You know, I just learned something the other day. I went out to Waianae and I learned something there. I went to Maui and I thought I knew all the things, and I learned something there. I went to the Next Step Shelter and I learned something there. That's on-the-job-training. Why should that be a negative thing? As far as his responsibilities, though, he knew what they were and he did them. Our criticism is we just didn't like some of the things that he did and we didn't like the ways that he did them.

"So I see this negative opposition as grasping at straws – as looking for something. We couldn't find a smoking gun. Now we all agree on that. There is no smoking gun. He's not the subject of any investigation. We all agree on that. He initiated the investigations outside. We all agree on that.

"And one good thing that did come from our behind-the-scenes discussions and all, we all – all five of us – agree that there was not a sense of urgency at present in the investigation that was ongoing by the Attorney General's Office, but when the Attorney General himself came to that hearing and he heard about our concerns, particularly about security and computers, what did he do? He immediately . . . that was on a Friday when he came to see us, and by Saturday those computers were in the custody of the Attorney General's Office. He acted too. He listened to us as a Committee. That was a good thing that we did. We expressed a concern, there was immediate action taken. At no time did the director ever try to block, slowdown, change, or divert any investigation into his department. Quite the contrary – he called for it; he supported it; he still supports it.

"We're also in agreement that these investigations are ongoing, so we have nothing at this moment that has been defined or been proven except allegations and assertions, troubling questions, and other things that we think about in our mind.

"By the way, some people didn't like the answers that the nominee gave. And as I've said, I'd probably answer some of the things differently. He was under oath, so what he spoke was absolutely the truth. And he was given a standard that no other conferee has been given, before or since. But he was under oath. And there's been no evidence that what he said was not true. There was evidence that we would have liked, perhaps, documents in a different format, and that is true. But that's not a knock against the nominee, I don't think. I may be wrong.

"The good Senator from Waikiki talked about the funds in the boating special fund. And again, focus, and let's remember that the expenditure of those funds, first of all the creation of the special fund, came from this Body. The expenditure of those funds came from this Body. The things that were done, the budgets that were denied, the extra personnel sought, the money for enforcement was denied by this Body! He made the effort. One of the witnesses said, 'If he was so good, he would have achieved what he wanted to do.' Even the Governor doesn't achieve all the things she wants to do, and I think we all agree she's pretty effective.

"It takes three to tango – the Executive Branch, the Judicial Branch, and the Legislative Branch – and this year we're seeing a struggle for power. Are we all going to be co-equal? I don't think so, because the Legislative Branch is trying to take more power, make more decisions, and in so doing has done the very thing that we have criticized others – and that is micromanage. We want to get into each department. We want to get into each director. We want to tell them, 'Well, you should have done this, and you should have done that. And this is the kind of meeting you should have and this is what you should do for every employee, and anybody that complains about anything, you should take care of them.' That's what this is all about.

"And so at the end of all this discourse, and I don't know if there's anybody else going to stand up, but so far I ask, 'Where's the beef?' And I'm reminded of the old jazzy song, 'Is that all there is?' Because if that's all there is, folks, there is no reason for you to vote down this nominee. Have your concerns, have your displeasure with some of the decisions that were made or not made, as do his supporters, but do not disrespect these people that say, 'We want him. We believe in him.'

"And finally, again, Mr. McCorriston. I do not doubt my Chairman's explanation or his beliefs, but I will tell you this. One of the explanations was because this Body has been trying to pass good, stronger dam safety legislation. It was thought that Mr. McCorriston could add something to that discussion. That's like saying, when we talk about child molestation, let's bring in the attorney for the child molester because he can add something to the discussion, too. You mean to tell me there are no other attorneys in this state, there are no other people that we could have brought in to talk about dam safety? Only the one man who has a client who's up to his eyebrows and beyond in complicity, and who is trying to make this state pay for his client's mistakes and errors, and who will use, if you vote down this man today, will use that, sure as I'm standing here before you, to say, 'See, the director was incompetent, even the Senate says so.' And you will be handing something to this attorney and you will be taking something away from the victims on Kauai, and you will disrespect not only Native Hawaiians and children and environmentalists, but the victims on Kauai. That's what you'll do if you vote him down now because that's what it's come down to. Mr. McCorriston and his client have become major players and they should not have been. Shame on us! Shame on us! We should not have done it.

"Now, if after all this you still decide to vote 'no,' that's your conscience, that's your prerogative. I'll still joke with you tomorrow. I'll still sit next to you in Conference Committee. I won't think anymore ill . . . oh, but wait a minute – I do remember after the Margery Bronster incident, the next year, which was an election year like next year, seven Senators were defeated, three decided to pursue other careers and vocations. The public is watching. They are waiting.

"So yes, let's do the right thing. Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Sakamoto rose in opposition to the nominee and said:

"Madam President, I rise in opposition to the nominee.

"The previous speaker talked about focus. My primary focus will be on the dam safety issue, specifically the Kaloko Dam breach in 2006. I believe the people of this state want to sleep safely at night. I believe the people of this state – whether they live by a dam, a stream, an ocean, or any natural resource – want to sleep safely at night . . . people died. People don't want insecurity. I believe people of this state in the past, today, and tomorrow, expect there to be proper inspections, proper classifications of dams, proper mitigation . . . people died. People have an expectation of state government. The Dam Safety Act of 1987 gives the Department of Land and Natural Resources the responsibility of inspecting dams. Obviously, this does not mean Peter Young himself has to walk out to every dam, or inspect every stream, inspect every burial site, inspect everything, but people do expect the leader of the Department of Land and Natural Resources to protect them when they sleep at night . . . and people died.

"This wasn't an old issue from 40 years ago, but it is an old issue and there's no question resources are part of the picture, and in no way am I absolving others of any culpability in what happened, but certainly the American Society of Civil Engineers in March 2001 did issue Hawaii a D grade for our state regulated dams and that continued. In December of 2001, the DLNR engineers sent a certified letter to Mr. Pflueger related to Kaloko Dam Reservoir, but that wasn't the first issue. Way back in 1984 there was a documented report relating to the Kaloko Dam issue. The department knew. The leader of the department either knew or should have known.

"People talk about the nominee's accomplishments. But this isn't about somebody standing in front of an orchestra, or behind an orchestra, or being in a parade and taking credit for the parades either before him or after him. This is about taking responsibility for parts of the parade that he either orchestrated or, perhaps in this case, failed to orchestrate.

"In March 2005, again the American Society of Civil Engineers issued a D grade for Hawaii's regulated dams. In October 2005, and thanks to our local media, they brought the issue before us. They presented the bigger picture – '22 structures in dire need of repairs.' They published big pictures and maps, a full page of them. No one should have ignored this. Certainly all of the people in affected areas were saying, 'Am I safe; does this affect me?' People died . . . people died.

"It's reported that the dam safety engineer said in October 2005, 'We have been very fortunate we haven't had any major dam failure here.' And who is responsible? Those in the department can all say, 'not me.' It's been also reported in the media, 'State got dam complaint three weeks before it burst.' And I'm not here to say if this is right or wrong, but if it is indeed right, apparently a Sierra Club conservation manager had reported a problem with the Kaloko Dam leaking . . . people died.

"People want to be safe. People expect our state government to assure their safety . . . people died.

"An expert in the Report of the Independent Civil Investigation (Vol.1, p. 160) that was commissioned says, 'In my opinion, it is likely that a visual inspection of Kaloko Dam and its appurtenant facilities by qualified persons would have identified the lack of a spillway in the reservoir. Furthermore, because of the limited etc., etc. The lack of funding' – yes, it's an issue – 'apparently had led to difficulties in management of the program and in implementation and enforcement of the program's requirements. But,' he concludes, 'Notwithstanding the above questions, in my opinion, a more aggressive program of dam inspections under HRS 179D that would have included regular dam safety inspections of Kaloko Dam, would probably have allowed for early identification of the potential failure of the dam and allowed correction of the deficiencies leading to such failure.'

"My focus – even with all of the other things people say, is there a smoking gun? – perhaps because I'm a civil engineer, perhaps I'm more sensitive to these issues, but I believe the people of Hawaii feel like this indeed was a water cannon blast that created a canyon where it didn't have to be. This is not to say the state is culpable in itself, but that the state could have prevented this . . . people died.

"We need to do better and I believe, sadly, Mr. Young, who was our leader, perhaps not everything was in his control, didn't do everything he should have . . . people died."

Senator Ihara rose with reservations and said:

"Madam President, I rise to express my reservations on the nomination of Peter Young.

"Madam President, I want to explain the process I used in deciding how I would vote on this confirmation. My vote turns on the scope and totality of the information I used to base my vote. I've reviewed the public testimony submitted to the Water Land Committee written and oral. I have reviewed much of the video tape of the hearing, those five days. I've also read all the transcripts of executive session testimony taken under oath, and I've listened to the audio tape, which is the only source of testimony submitted in the executive session by the Ethics Commission investigator. I have also met with and have spent many hours discussing with several key subpoenaed and other key individuals who are privy to the situation at the Bureau of Conveyances.

"One approach we could use in deciding whether Mr. Young should be reconfirmed is a weighing or balancing approach which the Governor is suggesting – take all of Peter's accomplishments and all of his shortcomings and weigh all of this together to see whether in totality Mr. Young has done more good than bad. I believe, however, that there are certain management qualities and actions that must be considered outside of a balancing approach. For example, this might include failure to meet core requirements, core management standards fundamental to the job of the Director of the Department of Land and Natural Resources, such as managerial malfeasance or nonfeasance.

"There is also the matter of public vs. confidential information. I have made a clear distinction between information that is public – written or oral testimony submitted to the Senate Committee – and sworn testimony submitted in closed executive sessions, including written materials distributed there and subsequent conversations held on these closed door subjects.

"Before the confirmation hearing started, I decided to base my vote only on public information available to the public. I would allow the confidential, off-the-record information to inform me and provide valuable background information for viewing the confirmation process, but not be used to base my vote. This is not an easy thing to do. It's like being on a jury, having heard all the testimony and the judge says, 'Strike the following information and disregard it when making your decision.' It's not an easy thing to do, but approaching the confirmation process from the beginning with this public vs. confidential distinction has made it easier for me to separate those two kinds of information. I believe that choosing to exclude confidential information from my decision making is in part a public policy decision, but this to me is essentially a political decision – political in the large and publicly responsible sense.

"Madam President, I have long been concerned about the health of our system of politics and representative form of government. I believe our democracy is in jeopardy – in particular the disconnect between the public and their elected representatives. I believe the public has too much distrust of their own government. I have sought to increase public transparency and accountability in government. I believe serious consequences can result if decisions are made based on secret information. Sometimes it is necessary, but I think it does get dangerous. It's most easily seen on the national level, where I often question executive decisions and why they are made, because many of those decisions are said to be in our best interests but are based on private information.

"Having chosen to use only public information in making my decision, I have decided that there is not enough public information that will allow me to vote to reject the nomination. I have weighed the significant accomplishments of Peter Young and his commitment to resolve remaining issues in the department. Balanced with these accomplishments are the significant shortcomings and his inability to resolve major ongoing problems that have hindered the progress in the department.

"Based on public information alone, it's a close call for me, and I have decided to reluctantly support Peter's nomination. On public information alone, I believe others can come to a different conclusion, and I will defend the reasonableness of a vote to reject. The truth of the matter, however, that there is much important information in possession of Senators that is not available to the public, this is confidential and off-the-record information. Much of this confidential information is sworn testimony given under oath as required by the Attorney General and the Ethics Commission to protect ongoing criminal and ethics investigations.

"Madam President, I could have chosen to include confidential information in my decision making, but I did not. However, based on all the information, including sworn confidential testimony and other off-the-record information, I could have decided that Peter Young should not be confirmed. The confidential information allows me to conclude that Peter Young has mismanaged certain areas of his department – in particular, the confidential information when added to the public information leads me to make conclusions regarding Peter's actions and non actions regarding the Bureau of Conveyances. I believe Peter Young is responsible for allowing improprieties and corruption to continue at the bureau. If all the confidential information was available to the public, I would surely vote to reject the confirmation of Peter Young. However, I have chosen to constrain the information I used for deciding my vote.

"Based solely on public information, I reluctantly support Peter Young's confirmation. Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Hooser rose to speak against the nomination and stated:

"Madam President, I rise in opposition to Gov. Msg. No. 276.

"Much has been said here today about this very serious discussion or decision we're making. People have talked about meetings behind closed doors, about disgruntled employees, about the impact of unions and labor, about smoking guns, and about investigations. Contrary to what the prior speaker said, the good Senator from Kaimuki, and the conclusions he came to, I've looked at the same information and decided to base my decision purely on public information, and I firmly believe like many of our friends here in the audience and the Floor here today that good people, people of high integrity, credible people can look at the same facts and information and come to different conclusions.

"I decided that I don't need a smoking gun. I don't need an investigation. I don't need to participate in the closed door hearings, though I respect the reason for them. I've spoken to no disgruntled employees, no unions have come lobbying me for my decision, and yet I've come to the conclusion that I cannot support the nomination of Peter Young to this position. And I've come to that conclusion as many people here earlier today said we should – that we should base our decision on our constituents and the residents in our state and our community. Leading up to this meeting today, I've spoken to many, many people, Mr. Young and others who've come by the office, like all of us, asking for support. My response has been consistent in that if my decision whether or not to support Mr. Young was to be based on the conduct of the Department of Land and Natural Resources and my community, I would be unable to do so.

"Kauai has been mentioned frequently in today's discussions, and I think if people look at the testimony that has come in – the hundreds, if not more, testimonies in support – you'll find the leaders in the community of Kauai, the environmental leaders, the people I work with and know and have been friends with for years, you'll find that generally speaking there is not the support that there might be in the rest of the state. And the reasons are many, but basically it comes down to the conduct of the department and Mr. Young, as the leader of the department, I hold him accountable for that conduct.

"Yes, there have been years and years and years of problems. Yes, perhaps the resources have not been sufficient to meet the needs. Nevertheless, Mr. Young has had four years, and still the department, in my opinion, in many ways is dysfunctional. As I experience personally on a weekly basis, I'm in contact as a result of complaints from constituents. I have a constituent who lives on the North Shore of Kauai who for years, without exaggeration, for years has been trying to get the department to enforce the certification of the shoreline laws as they're written, in my opinion, clearly in the law today. For years the department has resisted this and this person recently won a Supreme Court decision supporting her position, and still to this day the department does not follow the spirit and intent of that court decision, according to my friends and colleagues who are on the North Shore of Kauai.

"I got a call a few days ago from this person who said she recently got a letter signed by Mr. Young stating that she and a handful of residents did not qualify to appeal another shoreline certification decision. And that, in and of itself, is not unusual, but this letter took almost a year-and-a-half from the time the request was made for that decision to be made. And that's not a year-and-a-half to settle an appeal – that's a year-and-a-half to decide whether or not they had standing, if you would, to appeal.

"If you head around my island and you go to Hanalei Bay, you'll see surf schools that dominate the coastline. For at least two years, residents of the community and myself included have been asking the department to please do something about this illegal commercial use of our natural resources. The answers we get is, 'We're working on it, we're working on rules,' and in the meanwhile, these surf schools dominate the coastline and disrupt activity from others – local residents.

"Kaloko . . . the tragedy at Kaloko has been raised on numerous occasions here today, and it was alleged that Mr. McCorrison used this as an opportunity to deflect attention from his client, Mr. James Pflueger, and the responsibility that he may have in this situation toward the state. And as the Senator representing District 7, Kauai and Niihau, I'd like to say clearly that it is my clear opinion that the State of Hawaii, the County of Kauai, and Mr. Pflueger share significantly in the responsibility for the tragedy at Kaloko and all should pay a price for the actions or inactions that they participated in which resulted in this tragedy.

"As I go around the island, we can talk about Waiiaka Canal where boaters, recreational boaters, have to get out of their boats and push it across the sand because the state has been unable to clear the canal for the boats. Again, years of complaints, years of asking, and the funds for this have been made available but still the work does not get done.

"Kikiaola Boat Harbor and Kokee, and I had spoken to Mr. Young about this on many, many occasions. The Kokee master plan has dragged out for years, and years, and years – the controversy with the cabins. But really, in my opinion, the Kokee master plan is the tipping point in terms of the department and its action and inaction, and after speaking with Mr. Young directly and after many, many public hearings, meetings where hundreds of residents showed up, Mr. Young and the department did make efforts to respond and to meet community needs. And I was happy to see that, only to have the department drop the ball seemingly entirely after that point.

"To me, I don't need a smoking gun. I don't need an investigation. The other evidence, if you will, the other testimony I think is meaningful, but I look at it strictly from my perspective as the Senator representing District 7, and I suspect other rural communities who were dramatically affected by the Department of Land and Natural Resources that the response from the department is the same. I'm 100 percent convinced that the Department of Land and Natural Resources is not being managed properly, and Mr. Young is in charge. He's been in charge for four years. Four years ago we gave every nominee, every cabinet nominee from the Governor's Office, a pass to do their job. He has had four years to do it. Is it his fault? We can blame it on history, we can blame it on resources, we can blame it on the size of the department, but Mr. Young has been on the job for four years.

"This is a difficult decision – I like Peter Young. I don't doubt, whatsoever, that he works very, very hard. I have no doubts whatsoever that he cares deeply about our natural resources and about our community. And I have no doubt that he is doing his very best. But, in fact, that is not enough. Again, if I were to base my decision on my experience with the department in my community, I would be unable to support the nomination and that is why I'm speaking so today.

"Thank you."

Senator Kokubun rose in rebuttal as follows:

"Madam President, just a short rebuttal if I could.

"After hearing different pronouncements today, I want to really just assure everyone about some terms thrown around – 'Was this a grand jury indictment?' or 'Was this an investigative committee?' or even more provocative, 'Was this a witch hunt?' Let me assure all of you that the Committee did not conduct itself in this manner – not at all in this way. Again, the idea or the goal of the Committee was to conduct this in the most efficient and respectful manner possible, and I think we accomplished that. We disagree on some of the points and I think that's what this Body needs to resolve.

"Let me also say that with respect to the fact about the nominee testifying under oath, that was really a choice that was provided to him and he decided to go under oath, which I respect completely and I honor him for that because that was not something that he had to do.

“Many people have talked about weighing the facts and I completely agree. As a member of the Committee, we did have access to the executive sessions. It’s very, very difficult for me to discount the information that was brought forward, particularly with respect to the investigations. And yes, they are not concluded, and yes, they will go on, but I think those were very troubling in the sense that it really opened a can of worms in the sense that this goes very, very far and wide with respect to our security of data.

“So, like all of you, I’m weighing the facts and I have come again to the conclusion that we must have a change at the Department of Land and Natural Resources for the betterment and the future of Hawaii. So, I ask that you not support the motion.

“Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Hemmings rose in rebuttal and said:

“It’s been a long afternoon; it’s been a good afternoon. We’ve all put our conscience on the table and we’re going to make a decision soon.

“In regards to the assertion that the hearing process was not an indictment of sorts, well, the last time I looked at the Judicial Branch of government, indictments and grand juries are conducted behind closed doors, there is unilateral evidence gathering, and there is an inability of the proposed defendant, in this case the nominee, to defend himself. So, I would suggest to the previous speaker that everything he said is false, and the public is not going to be fooled. This process has been marred and it has not been a fair and just hearing process, but rather an indictment or sorts.

“The second point I think is incredibly interesting is that we gave the nominee a choice to be under oath or not. Was that a choice, Mr. Chairman? It’s like saying, ‘Well, we’re going to let you tell the truth or tell a lie. How do you want to do it?’ It wasn’t much of a choice. I think the nominee did the thing he had to do under those circumstances, and if that fact indeed is true that you gave him a choice, that unto itself is unfair.

“Thank you, Madam President.”

The Chair then announced:

“If there is no further discussion, we are going to recess to get the members who are not present and then we will resume taking the vote.”

At 3:12 o’clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 3:23 o’clock p.m.

The Chair then made the following observation:

“We have given all the members who want to be here adequate notice. We have paged the members who are not here and therefore we will begin. It’s been a long afternoon, a long morning, and we will proceed.

“Members, an ‘aye’ vote is a vote to advise and consent to the nomination. A ‘no’ vote is a vote to reject the nomination. A Roll Call has been requested, so Madam Clerk will you call the roll.”

The motion was put by the Chair and, Roll Call vote having been requested, failed to carry on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 8. Ayes with Reservations, 1 (Ihara). Noes, 15 (Baker, Chun Oakland, Espero, Fukunaga, Hanabusa, Hee, Hooser, Ige, Kim, Kokubun, Nishihara, Sakamoto, Taniguchi, Tokuda, Tsutsui). Excused, 2 (English, Menor).

At 3:25 o’clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 3:26 o’clock p.m., with the President in the Chair.

FINAL READING

S.B. No. 1947, S.D. 1, H.D. 1:

Senator Menor moved that S.B. No. 1947, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Baker.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and said:

“While I understand this is an administration bill, I am still opposed to it. We have some very serious problems with this beverage deposit tax bill and the way it’s being run – the fact that the state profits from it; the state has over $25 million in excess revenues right now. People still are complaining that they’re not getting their money back as we promised them, five cents per container; instead, the recyclers are weighing the containers and giving the consumers far less.

“The administration has hired additional people, has run up the expenses on this bill. We should have abandoned this bill and support real recycling, and force the City and County of Honolulu and the Mayor of Honolulu to institute curbside recycling as soon as possible without any additional penalties or charges.

“So, based on all of this information, Madam President, I cannot support this so-called emergency appropriation for an expansion of this tax. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, the Senate agreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 1947, S.D. 1, and S.B. No. 1947, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING AN EMERGENCY APPROPRIATION FOR THE DEPOSIT BEVERAGE CONTAINER PROGRAM,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, 1 (Slom). Excused, 3 (Bunda, English, Nishihara).

At 3:28 o’clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 3:30 o’clock p.m.

Senator Ige moved that the Senate agree to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 1457, S.D. 2, seconded by Senator Baker.

Senator Ige noted:

“Madam President, the only discrepancy in the two versions of the bill was the amount to be appropriated for the Developmental Disabilities Division, and upon further review, we agreed with the House amount.”

“H.C.R. No. 315, expressing support for international education, passed unamended in the Senate as well as the House, so we would propose that it’s what we’ve agreed to in the past.”

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

April 24, 2007

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 863

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fourth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 863, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Public Work Projects.'

The purpose of this bill is to mandate that a private construction project will be considered a public work project subject to chapter 104, Hawaii Revised Statutes, Hawaii's Wages and Hours of Employees on Public Works law, if the State or a political subdivision leases or is assigned more than fifty percent of the project. Copies of the lease agreement must be filed with the Department of Accounting and General Services and the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations.

Additionally, this bill requires the construction project owner submit weekly certified payrolls to the leasing governmental agency or the governmental agency using the leased or assigned space which, for the purposes of chapter 104, shall be deemed the governmental contracting agency.

Finally, this bill requires that prior to the start of construction, the construction project owner sign an agreement with the leasing governmental entity agreeing to pay the prevailing wage to the laborers and mechanics working on this project and to otherwise comply with the requirements of chapter 104.

This bill is objectionable because it is an unwarranted expansion of the types of projects that could be subject to public works projects rules and statutes. Currently, section 12-22-1 of the Hawaii Administrative Rules defines a public work to encompass a private construction project when the State or a political subdivision leases the entire building or structure and where: (1) the lease was entered into prior to construction of the structure or building; and (2) the construction work was performed according to plans, specifications, or criteria of the leasing governmental entity.

Expanding public works coverage to mixed public-private structures may inject confusion and needlessly increase the associated building costs of a private construction project. Smaller owners in particular may not want to develop commercial space for lease to the government because of the additional burden of complying with unfamiliar labor laws. It is anticipated that this bill will also probably limit or reduce the number of office buildings that will be available for lease to government agencies. This bill may likewise impede the development of mixed use housing projects, wherein some of the units were for market sale or rental and others were leased to a public housing corporation for elderly, Section 8, or transitional housing.

Finally, because this bill directs that certified payrolls be submitted to either the governmental leasing entity or the governmental agency accepting the construction project and not to the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations, this data will go to entities that have no authority to audit or enforce these payrolls, thereby inhibiting the enforcement of wage laws this bill attempts to impose on private projects.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 863 without my approval.

Respectfully,

/s/ Linda Lingle
LINDA LINGLE
Governor of Hawaii"

Gov. Msg. No. 793, dated April 24, 2007, transmitting her statement of objections to Senate Bill No. 1642 which she has returned to the Senate without her approval and which reads as follows:

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

April 24, 2007

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 1642

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fourth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 1642, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Labor.'

The reported purpose of Senate Bill No. 1642 is to establish clear distinctions between mandatory, excluded, and permissive subjects of collective bargaining by (1) allowing negotiations over the procedures and criteria on promotions, transfers, assignments, demotions, discharges, or other disciplinary actions and (2) subjecting violations of negotiated and agreed upon procedures and criteria to the grievance procedure contained in a collective bargaining agreement.

Rather than providing clarity, this bill would blur the delineation provided by existing law between matters that are subject to collective bargaining and matters that have been excluded from collective bargaining; including certain 'management rights' such as determining criteria on promotions, transfers, assignments, demotions, layoffs, suspensions, termination, discharge or other disciplinary actions.

This bill is objectionable because it constitutes an unacceptable infringement upon management rights currently protected under section 89-9(d), Hawaii Revised Statutes. It attempts to overturn the case of United Public Workers, AFSCME, Local 646, AFL-CIO v. Hanneman, 106 Hawaii 359 (2005), the Supreme Court of Hawaii case that held that the City and County of Honolulu's decision to transfer refuse workers from the Pearl City baseyard to the Honolulu baseyard was not subject to collective bargaining. The Hanneman case reaffirmed management rights as set forth in section 89-9(d).

This bill erodes management rights and, by allowing negotiations on the criteria management uses to act on matters such as layoffs, transfers, and assignments, it involves labor in the fundamental decision-making process of management. In permitting negotiations over assignments, this bill would adversely impact the employer's ability to make assignments of specific employees and groups of employees and hinder the delivery of services to the public.

This bill does not achieve its reported purposes, and only obfuscates the clear distinctions that currently exist between management rights and items that may be negotiable under collective bargaining. The provision added to section 89-9(d) by the bill stating that section 89-9(d) shall not be used to invalidate provisions of collective bargaining agreements in effect on and after June 30, 2007, could be interpreted to mean that the areas specifically excluded from collective bargaining pursuant to section 89-9(d) and the Hanneman case may be subject to negotiations by the parties to a collective bargaining agreement.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 1642 without my approval.

Respectfully,

/s/ Linda Lingle
LINDA LINGLE
Governor of Hawaii"

Senator Hee rose to speak in favor of the nomination as follows:

"Madam President, I ask this Body to confirm Lloyd Van De Car for the District Court of the Third Circuit.

“Your Committee on Judiciary and Labor met with Mr. Van De Car and had a hearing on his nomination by the Judicial Selection Commission. One of the concerns raised with Mr. Van De Car was echoed in some of the comments we received from the personnel of the court, and we dealt with that. I would like to, however, mention some of the attributes on the application that we received of the nominee.

“He is a graduate of the Kamehameha Schools. He has received his Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Hawai‘i, his JD from William Richardson School of Law, where he counts you as one of his favored classmates of the same school. He, like you, was in the second class of graduates which included many others, I am told, who distinguished themselves in Hawai‘i’s legal and political fields from the William S. Richardson School of Law. He clerked for the Hawai‘i Supreme Court and also worked for a time with the Public Defender’s Office, and for 15 years with the Legal Aid Society of Hawai‘i. The nominee spent some time in private practice and then more recently has been working in the Family Court System of the Attorney General’s Office in the Family Law Division in Hilo.

“He is, without question, someone who has dedicated his life to public service, and his life to helping those who could not afford to help themselves as a Public Defender and also as a staff attorney with the Legal Aid Society of Hawai‘i.

“With regard to the concerns received by the Committee, it had to do with judicial temperament, as that seems to be an issue that we’ve spent more than our fair share of time in the Committee on Judiciary. Having had a fairly long and lengthy discussion with many of the witnesses who came forward, having had discussions with the judges of the Third Circuit, and the personnel of the court who have firsthand observation of those who serve before them, your Committee is convinced that given the opportunity, this nominee will perform in a manner which befits someone who sits in judgment of others in the Family Court system.

“Your Committee is aware, however, that there may be times, because of his service as an Attorney General in Family Court, that he may need to recuse himself, which may cause others to pick up the load which may be carried on by per diem judges and his fellow judges in the Family Court. That said, however, we remain convinced that Mr. Lloyd Van De Car will prove himself to be someone who will serve the judiciary and the people of Hawai‘i and indeed the State of Hawai‘i with great honor, with great dignity that befits someone who sits in judgment of others.

“Members, I urge all of you to vote ‘yes’ to the confirmation of Mr. Lloyd Xavier Van De Car to be the next Family Court Judge for the Third Circuit.

“Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Gabbard rose in support of the nominee and said:

“Madam President, on behalf of the Minority, I rise in support of Mr. Lloyd Van De Car’s confirmation as a District Court Judge of the Third Circuit.

“Colleagues, I first met Mr. Van De Car a few weeks ago. At that time we talked openly and freely about the concerns expressed about judicial temperament. I was impressed with his openness and candor. After hearing testimony and learning more about Mr. Van De Car, I’m confident that he’ll make a good judge. He has extensive legal experience. He’s known for his fairness and also for his compassion in representing low income and vulnerable clients at the Legal Aid Society of Hawai‘i.

“Therefore, I urge my colleagues to join me in supporting his nomination. Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Kokubun rose to speak in support and stated:

“I want to just put a little different spin on Lloyd Van De Car, if you will, with just my own personal perspective. Lloyd is a neighbor and friend in Volcano. Many of you know that community is very small, very intimate. We have opportunities to run across each other in many different venues – from the Post Office to one of only two stores that supply services in the area, and also through the National Park, which is our neighboring recreational resource. And I want to just assure all of you that as long as I’ve known Lloyd, in all the years that I’ve grown up in Volcano or been in Volcano, close to 30 years, that he has been an outstanding member of that community. I’ve watched his children grow. I know his family personally, and I think in terms of being a Family Court Judge, this is a man with the right set of values to serve admirably in that court, and I’m proud to support him today as a friend as well as a Senator.

“Thank you very much, Madam President.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1905 (Gov. Msg. No. 672):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1905 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Ige and carried.

Senator Taniguchi then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of LAWRENCE M. REIFURTH as Director of the Department of Commerce and Consumer Affairs, term to expire December 6, 2010, seconded by Senator Ige.

Senator Taniguchi rose to support the nominee as follows:

“Your Committee on Commerce, Consumer Protection and Affordable Housing held a public hearing on this nomination on April 19th. After receiving entirely supportive testimony concerning the nominee who has served as a Deputy Director of DCCA since January 2003, and the Committee’s direct examination of Mr. Reifurth, your Committee voted to recommend that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of Mr. Reifurth to serve as the Director of Department of Commerce and Consumer Affairs.

“As a lawyer admitted to the Bar in both Hawai‘i and California, Larry has extensive experience in both private and public practice, and in public administration and legislative affairs. He has had particular interest in the fields of regulatory economics and government law for many years. For the State of Hawai‘i, Larry has served with the Department of the Attorney General, served as Insurance Commissioner, and presently serves as the DCCA Deputy Director. Larry Reifurth has developed a well-earned reputation for his intellect, inclusiveness, and responsiveness toward his colleagues, his employees, the Legislature, and the public.

“Your Committee found Mr. Reifurth to be well-qualified to serve as the DCCA Director, and I ask my Senate colleagues to confirm his nomination.”

Senator Slom rose in support as follows:

“Madam President, I rise as a member of the Committee and also on behalf of the Minority to support Gov. Msg. No. 672.

“As the Chairman just outlined, Mr. Reifurth has had a tremendous amount of experience. You could refer to him as the ‘Man for All Seasons’ because he’s done a lot of different things. Along the way, he’s garnered a great deal of support in those different capacities, particularly from employees, past and present. He also is a person that seeks the input of individuals. He is someone who is able to quickly and efficiently put policies into action.

“I have a personal interest in the Department of Commerce and Consumer Affairs. Many of us remember that at one time it was described as the worst department in the state, and during the last four-and-a-half years, that department was turned around so that most people now say it is one of the best examples of government here in this state. It’s no small accomplishment by the former Director, Mark Recktenwald, now a judge, and his Deputy, Mr. Reifurth.

“Mr. Reifurth also was concerned with legislative matters and he was the one that made sure that changes got made. So, I think that we’re all very happy and honored that we have a man with this much experience.

“And one thing more, Madam President. It was on his wedding day anniversary that he brought his beautiful bride to his confirmation hearing. What a guy! Other people would just take their bride to dinner by candlelight or something like that, but he brought her to the confirmation hearing, and that’s why I urge all my colleagues to vote for Mr. Reifurth.

“Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (English).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1906 (Gov. Msg. No. 273):

Senator Ige moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1906 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Fukunaga and carried.

Senator Ige then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of CHIYOME L. FUKINO, M.D. as Director of the Department of Health, term to expire December 6, 2010, seconded by Senator Fukunaga.

Senator Ige rose to support the nominee and said:

“Madam President, I rise to speak in support of the confirmation of Dr. Chiyome Leinaala Fukino as Director of the Department of Health.

“Madam President, upon review of the statements submitted by the nominee, I’m proud to be able to stand in full support of the reappointment of Dr. Fukino as Director of the Department of Health. I am convinced that she will work with compassion and commitment to assist in administering the government functions related to health. I would note, as a symbol of her integrity in carrying out her duties and responsibilities, that all of those Department of Health employees who appeared before the Committee to testify did so on their own time on either vacation or leave.

“Dr. Fukino is a graduate of the Kamehameha Schools. She has a B.A. in psychology from Brandeis University before returning to the University of Hawai‘i. She attended and graduated from the University of Hawai‘i John A. Burns School of Medicine in 1979 and then went on to complete her residency in internal medicine at the University of Hawai‘i Integrated Medical Residency Program.

“Dr. Fukino has worked as a physician in Hawai‘i since 1982, and through her dedication, compassion, professionalism, and understanding of the health care issues that face Hawai‘i, she has gained the respect and admiration of her colleagues, employees, and many of the constituencies that deal with the Department.

“I just wanted to read a couple of testimonies submitted in support, and I would also note that all testimonies submitted to the Committee were in support of confirmation. U.S. Senator Daniel K. Akaka wrote: ‘Since being appointed to her post in December 2002, Dr. Fukino has made it a point to keep me apprised of issues of mutual concerns so that the state and federal governments can work in concert to provide our mutual constituencies with the best possible health services and a safe and sound environment. Being apprised personally by the Director about state concerns and state actions complemented by staff contact, as appropriate, has made it possible for me to be sure that Hawaii’s health and environmental causes are supported to the fullest extent possible. We have an excellent working and personal relationship.’

“We also received testimony in support of the nominee from Duane Gubler of the University of Hawai‘i: ‘Dr. Fukino has been a visionary leader in public health preparedness. In a time when Hawai‘i is highly vulnerable to the importation of exotic emerging infectious diseases, including avian influenza and a multitude of other exotic pathogens, Dr. Fukino has provided exemplary leadership in preparing contingency and emergency response plans and testing these plans to make sure they work. An example of the high quality of this public health preparedness was the recent evaluation of state plans for pandemic influenza by the U.S. Centers for Disease Control. They found that Hawai‘i was among the top states in emergency preparedness. This can be directly attributed to Dr. Fukino’s leadership and her ability to pick highly qualified persons to direct the various state health department programs.’

“And finally, I just wanted to read one more testimony from Don Olden from Wahiawa General Hospital: ‘It is not often that we are blessed with an opportunity to work with such an outstanding, caring, committed, and professionally competent person. Dr. Fukino brings a balance to the position that includes excellent knowledge of medical and organizational issues, a commitment to the multi-cultural needs of Hawai‘i, concern and respect for the political process, and a strong desire to make the health care system in Hawai‘i better. She is also one of the finest examples of a wonderful person that I have had the occasion to meet in my life.’

“Members, these are just a few of the many, many testimonies that your Committee has received in support of this nomination. And on a piece of unfinished business to the Committee, I just wanted the members to know that she did finish her homework and submitted her written responses to all of the questions asked at her confirmation hearings.

"I just wanted to conclude my remarks with, so what can we expect if we vote in support of her confirmation? This is a piece of her presentation to the Health Committee: 'Healthy people, healthy communities, healthy islands. The vision of the Department of Health stated so simply may seem inane rather than profound, but ponder for the moment what it takes for you to be healthy, what it will take for our entire state population to be healthy, what a healthy community looks like and what it will take to get there, what it means for the land to be healthy as it hosts an ever increasing number of people and sprawling communities. Health, for many, means simply the absence of disease or pain. As envisioned by the Department, it is flourishing, vibrant condition of being the healthy harmony of mind, body, and spirit for individuals within families, and families within communities, all responsive to the rhythms of the aina.'

"Over the past four years, the Department has focused on services for the mentally ill, long-term care, substance abuse, and all hazard preparedness. During her tenure, she has successfully brought closure to federal oversight of the Child and Adolescent Mental Health Division in 2005 and the Adult Mental Health Division in 2006. These are just a few of the many, many accomplishments that she has brought into this position.

"And finally, in my dealings with her in the short time that I have served as Health Chair, I just wanted to close on this bit of testimony on her management style that has come up often in our confirmation hearings. 'Dr. Fukino's management style is impressive. She is collaborative, well-informed, does not micromanage, articulates desired results without prescribing the process, trusts that her team will carry out their responsibilities, and will be 100 percent with any bad news that needs to be addressed. Her quiet soft-spoken leadership style, her ability to listen to many points of view, her mana, not only within the health care community but within the business community, has restored the Department of Health's credibility and has resulted in strong public-private partnerships to advance health, safety, and welfare of the people of Hawai'i.'

"I did want to close with this quote. I've heard the comment that perhaps Dr. Fukino is too nice. There is a wonderful new book, The Power of Nice, written by Linda Kaplan Thaler and Robin Koval and with their permission, I quote from this book on management. 'In our business culture, nice has an image problem. To be nice is to be considered pollyanna and passive, wimpy, milk-toast. Let us be clear, nice is not naïve; nice does not mean smiling blandly while others walk all over you; nice does not mean being a doormat. In fact, we would argue that nice is the toughest four-letter word you'll ever hear. It means moving forward with a clear confidence that comes from knowing that being very nice, placing other people's needs on the same level as your own will get you everything you want.'

"Dr. Fukino practices the power of nice naturally. Members and colleagues, I urge all of you to vote in confirmation of Dr. Fukino."

Senator Baker rose to speak in favor of the nominee and stated:

"Madam President, I, too, rise in support, in strong support of the confirmation of Dr. Chiyome Fukino as our Director of Health, and I would certainly like to have by association, the words of the current Senate Health Chair in the Journal as my own.

"I did have the privilege for the past four sessions of serving as Health Chair and the privilege of working closely with Dr. Fukino. I can say without hesitation that she tackles the very tough problems presented to the department, and they're wide-ranging. She works collaboratively with all of the stakeholder groups and she works well with the Legislature. She has indeed assembled a fine team that is moving the Department forward, but more importantly tackling some of the tough issues in public health and bringing back to the State a very clear focus in what it means to be an advocate for public health. It's one thing to be a clinician and have that side of the house covered as well, but it is her ability to help the departmental employees focus on the public health aspects and bring that to public policy makers that I think is admirable.

"So, I would urge all of my colleagues to support the nice doctor who heads up the Department of Health, not because she's just a nice individual – she's competent, she's capable, she has a vision and strong leadership. We're very fortunate to have taken her from the clinical side to the public health side. Thank you, Dr. Fukino."

Senator Hemmings rose in favor of the nomination and said:

"Madam President, I rise to speak in favor of Gov. Msg. No. 273, Chiyome Fukino being nominated to head the Department of Health.

"I, first of all, want to thank the Majority Party for their very succinct and kind-spirited words regarding this nominee. It's much deserved; she is a nice lady. I'd like to underscore some things that were not mentioned by the two articulate previous speakers. The institution of medicine is changing profoundly as technology and knowledge add to our awareness of what needs to be done to keep our people healthy. One of the things that this Director has done in the last four years is made a transition from curative medicine to preventative medicine. She's led the way in helping tobacco-free Hawai'i, in pointing out the self-induced health problems concerning obesity or substance abuse, and how refreshing it is to cure a disease before it takes its hold on the human body.

"This Department of Health leader has also done things that have not been done before in the area of prevention of disease and preempting it. We're in a global economy now and we also have another global threat, and that is global viruses. This Director is nationally recognized, as previous speakers pointed out, for her work with the CDC and other organizations in preempting diseases before they could get to our people. Many people don't realize in 1918, a flu virus that went around the world became one of the greatest killers of humanity in the 20th Century. Because of this Chairman's leadership, we are going to intercept, hopefully, viruses at the airport and deal with them before they become an epidemic in our State. Her leadership has also brought the attention of CDC in headquartering some of their resources here in Hawai'i.

"This Director also inherited some problems—some long-standing problems—in the Mental Health Division, and I'd like the record to reflect that under her 'nice' leadership, many of those problems have been solved.

"This is a woman, a child of Hawai'i, who stepped forward to serve the public and has done so, well. The health and the welfare of the people of Hawai'i are much better off because of the work of Chiyome Fukino and the Department of Health, and we're pleased to have the Minority's wholehearted endorsement of her re-nomination.

“Thank you.”

Senator Hee rose to speak in support of the nominee as follows:

“Madam President, I would like to also offer a few words in support of the nominee.

“I have known her, perhaps longer than most anyone on the Floor, as her classmate at the Kamehameha Schools, and the side of her that has not been spoken about is her artistic talent. If anyone is ever fortunate enough to hear her either sing or play the piano, or any other instrument, it is indeed a rare and momentous occasion. She has many accolades, but being a musician and artist are not commonly known about Chiyome Fukino.

“To me it’s particularly gratifying that with her help this year, Kahuku Hospital doors will stay open. And if anyone deserves the credit for keeping the hospital open, it is Chiyome Fukino who led the way. Quietly she led the way, but it should be known that Kahuku Hospital and the people of the North Shore are very fortunate to have a quiet leader who is artistic, scholarly, and a Kamehameha graduate like your classmate Lloyd Van De Car and me.

“Thank you, Madam Chair.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (English).

At this time, Senator Ige introduced Dr. Fukino and her family to the members of the Senate.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1907 (Gov. Msg. No. 269):

Senator Fukunaga moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1907 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Nishihara and carried.

Senator Fukunaga then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of THEODORE E. LIU as Director of the Department of Business, Economic Development and Tourism, term to expire December 6, 2010, seconded by Senator Nishihara.

Senator Fukunaga rose to support the nominee as follows:

“Madam President, I rise to speak in favor of the confirmation of Ted Liu for a second term as the Director of the Department of Business, Economic Development and Tourism.

“Ted Liu has served as Director of DBEDT since 2003, and I’m sure he would definitely agree that in those four years he and I often have not seen eye-to-eye on all the details of creating economic development opportunities in Hawai’i, but he definitely approaches his job with enthusiasm in leading his department and its seven agencies.

“He brings a wealth of experience to this role, and members, if you look at the vast array of individuals and businesses who have submitted testimony in support of his nomination in our committee report, they are indeed numerous and diverse.

“In addition to many of the salutary financial positions he has held, he has served as a CEO with Public International Investments, Ltd., First Shanghai Investments, Ltd., in Shanghai. He holds a Juris Doctorate degree from New York University School of Law, as well as an undergraduate degree in Economics and Political Science from the University of Michigan.

“Equally important, Ted Liu has an international perspective that I think Hawai’i really needs as we pursue economic diversification and new opportunities for our talented workforce. This was illustrated during his hearing before the Committees on Economic Development and Taxation and Tourism and Government Operations. A young woman testified that she asked to meet with the Director of DBEDT to help her decide whether Hawai’i was the place that she should consider relocating to. Not only did she get an appointment, she testified that she came away with some very good advice, options to consider, and that Ted asked how she was doing a few months later when he happened to see her at a voter registration drive in Chinatown. She was very startled and equally pleased that one person could have mattered a great deal in his eyes.

“DBEDT has a challenging agenda as Ted outlined in his statement to the Committees – bringing about a ‘soft landing’ and sustaining the recent economic growth, as well as evening out the boom-and-bust economic cycles to create a more diversified and innovative economy. How this is achieved is not without controversy. A number of critics opposed Mr. Liu’s nomination. The Committees also raised questions regarding department programs and initiatives such as the development plans for Kakaako and Kalaeloa under Hawai’i Community Development Authority, the effectiveness and costs of foreign trade missions and the overseas offices, the community-based economic development program, accountability in use of federal grant funds, and a number of other programs. However, Ted responded both in writing and through further discussion with the Committee members. Most importantly, in my view, he stated that the questions identified a number of issues that he will consider fully in future decisions related to DBEDT activities.

“It is his willingness to rethink, redo, and recommit that leads me to ask you to confirm Ted Liu for a second four-year term as Director of the Department of Business and Economic Development. Thank you.”

Senator Trimble rose to speak in support of the nominee and said:

“Madam President, I’m pleased to rise on behalf of the Minority to offer words in support of Gov. Msg. No. 269 for the reconfirmation of Ted Liu.

“Intelligent, energetic, focused, big picture. Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Kim rose in support with reservations and stated:

“Madam President, In preparation for the confirmation hearing and in keeping with out oversight responsibilities, I was troubled that DBEDT’s responses regarding the budget items were inconsistent from day to day. We would get numbers on one day and two days later when asked to clarify their submission, the numbers would change, and often these numbers even varied from the annual report.

“It was especially troubling to find that the CBED, the Community-Based Economic Fund, according to staff has depleted down to approximately $2,000, but according to Mr. Liu in Committee, it is down to $1,000. Despite the fact that Act 192, HRS 210D-4, Hawai'i community-based economic development revolving fund; established, says in part, and I quote: 'The department may use all appropriations and other moneys in the revolving fund not appropriated for a designated purpose to make grants or loans, provided that at no time shall the department reallocate funds from the loan program to the grant program so that insufficient funds remain available to make loans.' But according to Director Liu, no loans have been made in recent years, and no funds remain to make these loans. There have been no delineation of grant and loan funds, which is clearly contrary to the law.

"I questioned why this fund is so lacking in funds when in 2001 the Legislature budgeted $50,000 specifically to the CBED revolving fund. Since the Legislature never backed out that amount in subsequent years, the CBED revolving base budget is $50,000 a year, yet there have been no allocation of these funds after 2003 into the revolving fund. During the hearing we learned that DBEDT has been using these funds elsewhere. Where? We're really not sure since the responses we received were not specific. Mr. Liu admitted that they were not aware that these funds were specifically to the revolving fund. If the funds were used for anything other than the revolving fund, then there has been a clear violation of the budget. Mr. Liu took full responsibility for this mistake.

"However, what does that say about our policy for not reviewing base budgets? If we want transparency, Madam President, the current policy of not reviewing each budget's base budget creates a fog. It is my understanding that the Ways and Means Committee relies on the departments to tell us what their base budget is, and if we get faulty information, how do we keep the departments and programs accountable?

"This may be just $50,000 and, I quote, 'too small,' according to Ways and Means staff to track, but I believe that this is just the tip of the iceberg. Just imagine how many $50,000 to $100,000 allocations are currently being misspent or misallocated. If one $50,000 allocation is misused in 17 departments, that would be $850,000 – nothing to sneeze at. And if out the hundreds and hundreds of programs and revolving funds that exist in every single department, if just 50 programs were allocating their funds in ways contrary to the intent of the Legislature, that would be $42 million.

"CBED is just one small program out of BED 100 and this just reinforces my call for the zero-based budgeting, and I will be asking that in next year's budget submissions that the base budget for all programs be provided and reviewed.

"Another budget discrepancy brought to my attention was the budget for the out-of-state offices. Every year the amount budgeted is $100,000 for both offices in Taipei and Beijing, yet every year since 2002 according to the records we received, the expenditures have exceeded the budget by a minimum of 70 percent. In 2005, the year of the China missions, their budget remained at $100,000, but expenditures ballooned to $286,000. If, as Mr. Liu states, the budget is a plan, then one has to question the quality of their planning. When you show a history of being consistently over budget, it questions the validity of the planning. It is still unclear to me where the excess funds for these overages came from or where it is coming from.

"Mr. Liu mentioned that some of it came from the federal grant, yet when closely scrutinized, we found that very little of the grant money was even spent, so it couldn't have come from the federal grant. The grant I am referring to is the Market Development Cooperator Federal Grant, $399,000 for the period of 2003 to 2006. According to DBEDT's records, they spent only $59,000 of this money within that period of time, of which $29,000 was spent on a website. I questioned these funds and its purpose. On Monday, this past Monday, April 23rd, Madam President, we received a response from the Grants Management Division of the Department of Commerce that the recipient, the State of Hawai'i Department of Business and Economic Development and Tourism, is delinquent in the submission of their financial status report for the period ending 12/31/06 for this grant.

"And while I'm on the topic of delinquency, Madam President, on April 4, 2007, the department received a notice of intent to terminate the designation of Hawai'i's Department of Business, Economic Development and Tourism as a regional center under the Immigration Investor Pilot Program for the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services. Apparently, the state has had this designation since October of 1995, and according to this letter from the Immigrant Services, DBEDT submitted a letter dated August 30, 2006, of which the Immigrant Services were highly critical. U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services stated, and I quote: 'A review of documentation that DBEDT has posted on its websites raises serious concerns regarding the lack of program oversight by DBEDT.' And they conclude in their letter, and I quote: 'The documentation reviewed indicates that DBEDT is merely engaged in providing broad-stroke certifications regarding the job creating efficacy of capital investments in a given industry with no consideration as to whether the actual capital investment is feasible. This lack of analysis by DBEDT regarding the viability of individual regional center affiliated investment projects, coupled with the complete lack of monitoring, oversight, or follow-up of the capital investments of individual EB-5 alien investors, casts serious doubt that the capital investment vehicles to be undertaken by alleged DBEDT regional center affiliated commercial enterprises can reasonably be expected to provide the requisite permanent full-time job creation and positive economic impact.'

"If Mr. Liu had reservations about the program, why was the program allowed to linger half implemented for four years until the federal government terminated just recently in April. This cannot be considered good management, Madam President, and it is for these reasons and those that I have not articulated that I will be voting with reservations.

"Thank you."

Senator Slom rose to support the nominee as follows:

"Madam President, energetic, intelligent, focused, big-picture . . ."

President Hanabusa interjected:

"Senator Slom, for what purpose do you rise?"

Senator Slom responded:

"To support the nominee and encourage all of my colleagues to do so, Madam President."

The President stated:

"Please proceed."

Senator Slom replied:

"I have proceeded. Thank you."

Senator Hooser rose in support with reservations and said:

"Madam President, please note my support with reservations."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Ayes with Reservations, 2 (Hooser, Kim). Noes, none. Excused, 1 (English).

Senator Trimble rose to speak against the measure and said:

"Madam President, this represents a second rising to speak against S.B. No. 1709.

"Colleagues, I've spoken against this bill before. I've spoken against H.B. No. 931. After yesterday, I'm not sure what could be said to persuade you. After speaking against it twice, I decided that perhaps I had erred in my judgment, so I asked my wife if she would rent one of these vehicles. I asked her twice, I asked her three times. Then I went to the Department of Transportation. I know a couple people there. I asked them if they would care to rent one. They declined the opportunity. They thought I was crazy.

"On Good Friday, I gave my staff a choice – did they want to digest bills or would they like to ride around in a scooter, not a moped but a scooter – something that rents for $30 an hour. When I put it to them in those terms, they were happy at the opportunity to go to Waikiki. The only question was who was going to drive it. After selecting straws, one of them volunteered.

"The point is that if you vote for it, you might find it on your highway – a vehicle that is underpowered, a vehicle that does not match in size or weight the vehicles they would be mixing with. This is probably the single most dangerous thing that you can do – try and mix vehicles that are incapable of doing different speeds. You're permitting it on roads where vehicles are permitted to go up to 35 miles an hour and yet mopeds are not permitted to go over 30. If you're concerned about the safety of people, if you're concerned about reducing traffic congestion – and I think this is getting to the point of the matter – then you will vote 'no.'

"In my district of Waikiki, they fit in quite well, but the people that rent these vehicles do not tell you which lane you're supposed to drive them in, and upon questioning they said,

'Well, please don't take it to the North Shore.' But most of the people that rent it are women with children, and they seek to go to Hanauma Bay. If the maximum speed that this will do going up and around Diamond Head is 16 miles an hour, imagine what it will do in your district when it has two people in it.

"The bill seeks to change the definition of a moped, which is currently described as a vehicle in which a rider – not riders, a rider – can stand astride, to something that only relates to the size of the engine. I can remember in developing countries in the '70s and '80s where developing countries were trying to get rid of mopeds on the highway because they impeded traffic flow and were not considered safe. So, what is this Body thinking today to make these vehicles legal on our roads?"

"Colleagues, I think that the matter is so serious and you dismiss it so trivially or with such triviality that it merits a Role Call vote, so that in November of 2008 there will be two reasons that people can go to the polls. And the second reason for Roll Call vote is that since we decided yesterday that attorneys were held to a higher standard, that I would like the President of the Senate to weigh in and hear how she casts her vote.

"Thank you."

At 1:00 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 1:04 o'clock p.m.

On motion by Senator Ige, seconded by Senator Gabbard and carried, action on Conf. Com. Rep. No. 2 and S.B. No. 1709, S.D. 1, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MOPEDES," was deferred until Thursday, April 26, 2007.

Senator Slom rose to oppose the measure and said:

"Madam President, I rise in opposition to the bill.

"I can't figure out this bill, Madam President. It says that if your driver's license has been revoked for life though warranted, that we're now going to set up a procedure and an amount that you can pay, $50, and you can find out that you can get your license back. Now, my question is and my problem is, is this talking about the same life or is this going to be in the afterlife? See, I don't know, and again it diminishes any kind of punishment and judicial determination as the bill says 'though warranted.'

"So, we're making a mockery of it and I'm going to be voting 'no.' Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 3 was adopted and S.B. No. 946, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ADMINISTRATIVE LICENSE REVOCATION," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

The following messages from the Governor (Gov. Msg. Nos. 794 to 803) were read by the Clerk and were disposed of as follows:

Gov. Msg. No. 794, dated April 25, 2007, transmitting her statement of objections to Senate Bill No. 1063 which she has returned to the Senate without her approval and which reads as follows:

“EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

April 25, 2007

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 1063

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fourth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 1063, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to Legislative Vacancies.’

The purpose of this bill is to require the Governor, in filling vacancies in the State Legislature and United States Senate, to select from a list of three names submitted by the political party of the former incumbent. Prospective appointees must have been members of the incumbent's party for at least six months prior to appointment, and incumbents who were not members of any political party could only be replaced by other non-party members.

The goal of the present law is to fill vacancies in the State Legislature and the United States Senate in a timely manner when such vacancies occur. These vacancies in elective office are appropriately filled by the Governor, who is elected by the public at large, and, as such, is accountable to the public. The process for filling vacancies in the United States Senate and the Hawaii State Legislature has been in place since 1970 and has not been shown to have compromised the integrity of the election process.

This bill places the ability for determining who may be appointed by the Governor with the political party leadership of the vacating office holder. This is in spite of the fact that these individuals are not elected by the public and, as such, are not accountable to them.

Additionally, the bill, without any stated rationale, narrows the field of qualified candidates that the political party can consider to those who have been registered members of that party for at least six months prior to the appointment. Such a provision fails to recognize that this may unreasonably restrict the pool of potential candidates as the majority of people who personally and philosophically associate themselves with a political party and vote along party lines may not meet this requirement.

The Governor's ability and responsibility to select the most qualified person to fill a vacancy should not be so narrowly restricted.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 1063 without my approval.

Respectfully,

/s/ Linda Lingle
LINDA LINGLE
Governor of Hawaii,”

was placed on file.

Gov. Msg. No. 795, advising the Senate of the withdrawal of the nomination of ELIZABETH G. FLETCHER to the Statewide Health Coordinating Council, under Gov. Msg. No. 693, dated March 30, 2007, was placed on file.

In compliance with Gov. Msg. No. 795, the nomination listed under Gov. Msg. No. 693 was returned.

In compliance with Gov. Msg. No. 796, the nomination listed under Gov. Msg. No. 717 was returned.

Gov. Msg. No. 797, informing the Senate that on April 25, 2007, she signed into law House Bill No. 426 as Act 39, entitled: “RELATING TO PSYCHOTROPIC MEDICATION,” was placed on file.

Gov. Msg. No. 798, informing the Senate that on April 25, 2006, she permitted the following measure to become law without her signature:

Senate Bill No. 820 as Act 40, entitled: “RELATING TO DEVELOPMENTAL DISABILITIES.”

“Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: Senate Bill No. 820 SD 1

On April 25, 2007, Senate Bill No. 820 SD 1 entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to Developmental Disabilities’ became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

The purpose of this bill is to extend the repeal date of Act 303, Session Laws of Hawaii 2006. Act 303 established a pilot project to expand the residential options of individuals with developmental disabilities or mental retardation to allow them to live in a setting of the person's choice if it is determined that ‘the person can be sustained with supports, the supports are attached to the person, and adequate consideration and recognition is given to the person's safety and well-being.' Act 303 is scheduled to sunset on June 30, 2008. Senate Bill No. 820 SD 1 extends this sunset date to June 30, 2009.

In Governor's Message 861 (2006), I expressed concerns with regard to Act 303. These concerns have not been addressed, and Senate Bill No. 820 SD 1 further extends the date of Act 303. Therefore, my concerns with Act 303 are applicable to this bill.

First, Act 303 does not state how the person's choice of residential setting is to be made and how the Department of Health (DOH) is to support the choice. Under the current system employed by the Developmental Disabilities Division (DDD) of the DOH, DDD assists clients to locate licensed or certified homes. This program creates uncertainty over the DOH's role in selection of these residential alternative even though State money is spent supporting the individual.

Second, Act 303 does not specify how to determine whether 'adequate consideration and recognition' has been given to the person's safety and well-being. Act 303 does not mention licensing or certification requirements, an omission that could lead to an interpretation that the program allows placement in unlicensed or uncertified homes. Allowing placement in unlicensed or uncertified homes poses a risk for the safety and well-being of persons with developmental disabilities or mental retardation because it is only through licensing or certification requirements that safety standards such as criminal history background checks of the home operator and periodic monitoring or unannounced home visits are maintained. Any program that purports to assist persons with developmental disabilities under the care of the State must include a degree of accountability within the system.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed Senate Bill No. 820 SD 1 to become law as Act 40 effective April 25, 2007 without my signature.

Sincerely,

/s/ Linda Lingle
LINDA LINGLE,"

was placed on file.

Gov. Msg. No. 799, informing the Senate that on April 25, 2007, she permitted the following measure to become law without her signature:

Senate Bill No. 95 as Act 41, entitled: "RELATING TO VACANT POSITIONS IN THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION."

"Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: Senate Bill No. 95 SD1

On April 25, 2007, Senate Bill No. 95 entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Vacant Positions in the Department of Education' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

Senate Bill No. 95 repeals Section 302A-1115, Hawaii Revised Statutes, which promoted decentralization and facilitates restructuring of the Department of Education. The Legislature granted the department this flexibility to reallocate existing vacant positions and resources in the State and district offices to the school level via Act 89, Session Laws of Hawaii 1996. Senate Bill No. 95 repeals this language with the justification that the implementation of Act 51, Session Laws of Hawaii 2004, as amended by Act 225, Session Laws of Hawaii 2006, and the weighted student formula makes 302A-1115 unnecessary.

There are two concerns with this bill. First, the weighted student formula has not truly been implemented, in terms of dollars and discretion reaching the school level. In school year 2006-2007 only 10% of the weighted student formula has been implemented. In school year 2007-2008, only 15% of the formula will be implemented. For fiscal year 2007-2008 the Department of Education requested an additional $20 million in funding to supplement 'shortfalls' experienced by schools due to the 10% implementation of weighted student formula. Therefore, the argument that weighted student formula has rendered the decentralization and reallocation of vacant State or district office positions to the school level unnecessary is inaccurate because the weighted student formula has not been fully implemented. With the formula implemented only at 10%, there is no way to determine that this decentralization requirement is unnecessary.

Second, and more importantly, repealing this language allows the State and district Department of Education offices to keep their vacant positions and, in some cases, funding because the weighted student formula and Act 51 do not require the decentralization and reallocation of vacant State and district positions to the school level. On the contrary, under weighted student formula the school would be funding additional positions on their own through the per-pupil allocation, not by taking positions reallocated from State and district offices. Further, at this time the weighted student formula does not include State and district program funds, so none of this money currently goes to the school level. The Department of Education should not be allowed to keep vacant positions at the State and district office level, as well as the funding for these positions; these resources should be placed at the school level.

Therefore, for the foregoing reasons, I allowed Senate Bill No. 95 to become law as Act 41 effective April 25, 2007, without my signature.

Sincerely,

/s/ Linda Lingle
LINDA LINGLE,"

was placed on file.

Gov. Msg. No. 800, informing the Senate that on April 26, 2007, she signed into law Senate Bill No. 1509 as Act 42, entitled: "RELATING TO HIGH OCCUPANCY VEHICLE (HOV) LANES," was placed on file.

Gov. Msg. No. 801, informing the Senate that on April 26, 2007, she signed into law Senate Bill No. 1287 as Act 43, entitled: "RELATING TO HIGHWAY SAFETY," was placed on file.

Gov. Msg. No. 802, informing the Senate that on April 26, 2007, she signed into law Senate Bill No. 1370 as Act 44, entitled: "RELATING TO SPECIAL PURPOSE REVENUE BONDS," was placed on file.

Gov. Msg. No. 803, dated April 26, 2007, transmitting her statement of objections to Senate Bill No. 1816 which she has returned to the Senate without her approval and which reads as follows:

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

April 26, 2007

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO.
1816

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fourth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 1816, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Historic Preservation.'

The purpose of this bill is to require consultation with the Kahuna Nui of the Mo'okini Heiau before any alteration, improvement, or organized profit-making venture involving the Kohala Historic Sites State Monument can occur.

This bill is objectionable because it grants the exclusive right of consultation to only a single entity. This bill does not require consultation with other Kohala community groups such as the Kohala Hawaiian Civic Club, or other land owners and interested parties within the monument, including Kamehameha Schools and the Luhiau family, who has ancestral ties to the Kukuipahu Heiau. Neither does this bill provide for consultation with the Office of Hawaiian Affairs. The Kahuna Nui of the Mo'okini Heiau should not be given absolute consultation authority over the entire monument.

Generally, it is unnecessary to mandate consultation through legislation for historic sites. Currently, the Department of Land and Natural Resources consults with the Kahuna Nui of the Mo'okini Heiau for any alterations or improvements to this specific heiau. Additionally, the Department consults with interested community members and groups prior to alterations or improvements to the monument and any other State-managed historic sites.

Furthermore, the specific mandates in this bill are not clearly defined and may result in allegations of violations of the law. It is unclear what authority that the Kahuna Nui shall have with the consultations, there is no defined process for determining succeeding Kahuna Nui, or a contingency plan if a Kahuna Nui is not named or is not accessible for consultation, there is no process for dispute resolution, there is no clear definition of the properties involved under the purview of this bill, and there is no definition of 'organized profit-making venture involving the monument.'

Finally, this bill may be construed as special interest legislation for the Kahuna Nui of the Mo'okini Heiau on the island of Hawaii. This legislation could set precedent causing Kahuna Nui or other parties to seek legislation specific to other historic or culturally important properties. Consultation between the State and community interest should take place under existing laws and rules rather than be legislatively mandated on a case-by-case or an interest-by-interest basis.

The Department of Land and Natural Resources, the Office of Hawaiian Affairs, the Kohala Hawaiian Civic Club, and Kamehameha Schools expressed concerns with this bill and recommended the bill be amended to include other organizations in the consultation process, limit the consultation with the Kahuna Nui of the Mo'okini Heiau, and better define the vague language of this bill. Unfortunately, none of the proposed amendments were adopted in this bill.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 1816 without my approval.

Respectfully,

/s/ Linda Lingle
LINDA LINGLE
Governor of Hawaii,"

We no longer have pedicabs in Waikiki because their economic costs outweigh the recreational value. For the same reason, colleagues, I urge you not to change the moped law to permit something that operates more like a vehicle that has three wheels, a gas pedal, and a brake on our highways, whether it's to Hana or Hanalei, whether it is to Haleakala or Hanauma Bay. I urge you to vote this bill down.

"Thank you."

Senator Slom rose in opposition and stated:

"I've heard the remarks of the good Senator to my left, but I hold in my hand the result of an investigation, and this investigation shows this is a report printed by this very same Legislator. It's dated April. It's got pictures in here of scooters – one, two, three, four pictures of scooters. It shows someone driving a scooter, Madam President, that looks exactly like the Senator to my left. And you know what? I've heard an awful rumor on this Floor that this bill may actually be voted down, and I beg you and I implore you, even though I'm voting 'no' against it, he has already printed his report that said you voted 'yes' on it, so please don't listen to me. Vote 'yes' on the bill.

"Thank you, Madam President." (Laughter.)

“I favor labeling for honey, but I favor consistent labeling for all agricultural products in Hawai‘i. I further think that good legislation should recognize that products like this that are of Hawai‘i would qualify for the Department of Agriculture’s good safekeeping seal – the seal of approval. That in itself is probably more meaningful than state law regarding the labeling.

“Thank you.”

Senator Slom rose to speak against the measure as follows:

“First of all, I believe that we probably have the finest honey in the world produced in Hawai‘i. And unlike problems with Hawaiian coffee, Kona coffee, and so forth, where there is a deliberate attempt to mislead through labeling, I don’t think that that is the case in the labeling here. I think it is a question of trying in this bill to tell us that people in the other 49 states really don’t know what they’re buying and know what they’re getting in terms of honey, so therefore our labels have to be different and not in the federal standards or even in state standards for other labels.

“I call your attention, for example, to page 3. A lot has been said about micromanaging this year and page 3, section 4, of the bill says, quote, ‘Each word or character in the identity statement shall be of the same type size and shall be contiguous. The smallest letter or character of the identity statement on packages of sixteen ounces or less net weight shall be at least one and one-half times the type size required under federal law for the statement of net weight, or three-sixteenths of an inch in height, whichever is smaller. The smallest letter or character of the identity statement on packages of greater than sixteen ounces net weight shall be at least one and one-half times the type size required under federal law for the statement of net weight. The identity statement shall be conspicuously displayed without any intervening material in a position above the statement of net weight. Upper and lower case letters may be used interchangeably in the identity statement.’ And it goes on and on talking about all the things that have to be on this label which we really don’t need and I don’t think anybody will be misled, and it is not a consumer protection issue.

“I think with the problems we have with the bee mites and all of that right now, I think it demeans the product rather than enhances it. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, the Senate agreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 1988, S.D. 1, and S.B. Senator Hee moved that the Senate reconsider its action taken on April 10, 2007, in disagreeing to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 784, S.D. 1, seconded by Senator Kokubun and carried.

In accordance with the Conference Committee Procedures agreed upon by the Senate and the House of Representatives, the managers on the part of the Senate recommended that the Senate agree to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 784, S.D. 1, on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 2 (Hee, Gabbard). Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Kokubun).

Senator Hee moved that the Senate agree to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 784, S.D. 1, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Hee noted:

"Madam President, in reviewing the bill, the Senate position was effective July 1, 2007, and the House position was effective upon approval. The House strenuously argued if the Senate would consider yielding to the House because they worked so hard in coming up with the conclusion 'effective upon approval.' In the abundance of caution, I asked my colleague to my left and he begrudgingly said okay. And that's the reason we're reconsidering and I would ask my colleagues to please support the House's plea for their position 'upon approval.'

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, the Senate agreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 784, S.D. 1, and S.B. No. 784, S.D. 1, H.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO DRIVER LICENSING," was placed on the calendar for Final Reading on Friday, April 27, 2007.

Senator Kokubun moved that the Senate reconsider its action taken on April 25, 2007, in disagreeing to the amendments proposed by the House to S.C.R. No. 102, S.D. 1, seconded by Senator Tokuda and carried.

Senator Kokubun moved that the Senate agree to the amendments proposed by the House to S.C.R. No. 102, S.D. 1, seconded by Senator Tokuda.

Senator Kokubun noted:

"Madam President, the House just added two additional whereas clauses that further clarified the resolvable clauses."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, the Senate agreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.C.R. No. 102, S.D. 1, and S.C.R. No. 102, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, entitled: "SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE TO STUDY LABELING REQUIREMENTS RELATING TO THE USE OF HAWAII-GROWN COFFEE NAMES AND STUDY THE EFFECTIVENESS OF THE ADMINISTRATIVE RULES RELATING TO INSPECTION, CERTIFICATION, AND AUDIT REQUIREMENTS FOR HAWAII-GROWN COFFEE," was placed on the calendar for Final Adoption on Friday, April 27, 2007.

Senator Taniguchi, Chair of the Committee on Commerce, Consumer Protection and Affordable Housing, requested that the referral of H.C.R. No. 46 to the Committee on Commerce, Consumer Protection and Affordable Housing be waived.

Senator Taniguchi noted:

"Madam President, we had a very similar Senate concurrent resolution and we would like to proceed to vote on this sunrise review."

The Chair then granted the waiver.

By unanimous consent, the following concurrent resolution was placed on the calendar for Adoption on Friday, April 27, 2007:

H.C.R. No. 46, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING A SUNRISE REVIEW ON THE REGISTRATION OF PROVIDERS OF DEBT-MANAGEMENT SERVICES."

Senator English, Chair of the Committee on Transportation and International Affairs, requested that the referral of H.C.R. Nos. 28 and 81 to the Committee on Transportation and International Affairs be waived.

Senator English noted:

"Madam President, I'm requesting a waiver for both of these because we did not have the time to hear them in Committee, but they are good resolutions. The first requires a study to consider the vehicle ignition interlock devices for convicted drunk drivers and this is requested by MADD and the Department of Transportation. The other one is requesting the Governor to approve a sister state-province relationship with Cagayan in the Republic of the Philippines and there's been a lot of work that went into this by House members. I'd like to move these two measures out."

The Chair then granted the waiver.

By unanimous consent, the following concurrent resolutions were placed on the calendar for Adoption on Friday, April 27, 2007:

H.C.R. No. 28, H.D. 1, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION TO STUDY THE FEASIBILITY OF REQUIRING VEHICLE IGNITION INTERLOCK DEVICES FOR CONVICTED DRUNK DRIVING OFFENDERS"; and

H.C.R. No. 81, H.D. 1, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE GOVERNOR TO APPROVE AND AUTHORIZE THE ESTABLISHMENT OF STATE-PROVINCE RELATIONS OF FRIENDSHIP BETWEEN THE STATE OF HAWAII OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA AND THE PROVINCE OF CAGAYAN OF THE REPUBLIC OF THE PHILIPPINES."

Senator Chun Oakland, Chair of the Committee on Human Services and Public Housing, requested that the joint referral of H.C.R. No. 69 to the Committee on Human Services and Public Housing and the Committee on Transportation and International Affairs be waived. She also requested that the referral of H.C.R. Nos. 187 and 188 to the Committee on Human Services and Public Housing be waived.

Senator Chun Oakland noted:

“Madam President, this is in order to meet the resolution deadlines.”

The Chair then granted the waiver.

By unanimous consent, the following concurrent resolutions were placed on the calendar for Adoption on Friday, April 27, 2007:

H.C.R. No. 69, H.D. 2, entitled: “HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION URGING THE ADOPTION OF THE UNITED NATIONS’ CONVENTION ON THE RIGHTS OF THE CHILD”;

H.C.R. No. 188, H.D. 2, entitled: “HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE LEGISLATIVE REFERENCE BUREAU TO STUDY OTHER STATES’ ADULT PROTECTIVE SERVICES AND COMPARE THEM TO HAWAII’S ADULT PROTECTIVE SERVICES.”

Senator Hemmings rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

“Madam President, I do this with the best of intentions to clear the reputation of a good woman who has withdrawn her nomination to the Statewide Health Coordinating Council, and also, Madam President, to try to protect the integrity of the Senate by correcting some outright misinformation that led to the conclusions of the Health Committee not to agree to advice and consent.

“The Chairman stated that the reasons for recommending not to advise and consent to the nomination were because (1) the nominee stated that she would have voted for the certificate of need for Malulani if the certificate of need application was resubmitted; and (2) she did not address the 12 elements that are considered when deciding a certificate of need application and did consider the desires of the public and elected representatives which was inappropriate consideration. Astounding. The considerations of the tri-area council; the considerations of the Mayor, past and present; the consideration of the Governor of the State of Hawai‘i; and the consideration of the overwhelming testifiers on that issue, according to the Chairman of the Health Committee and this document – criteria by which certificate of need application must be judged – was not to be considered.

“I would suggest, Madam President and colleagues, with the best of intentions, we better address this issue.

“Following the assertions of the Chairman, a respected leader in the Committee said that she expressed disappointment in the response because the nominee was an attorney. It appears now that neither of the lawmakers bothered to look at the actual law before they accused the nominee of disregarding it, because it’s not in the law. It is not in Chapter 323D, Health planning and resources development, in the HRS. It isn’t even in Hawai‘i Health Planning Development Agency’s Chapter 186 rules.

What this is, believe it or not, is something off the website – 12 considerations – with no rule of law, not a rules and regulations. It’s just something some minion of the status quo made up.

“In addition, it didn’t appear that the Chairman was aware that the Statewide Health Coordinating Council is merely an advisory body to the Health Planning and Development Agency, SHPDA, and the council does not have a vote on the CON process but merely makes recommendations.

“I hope that we can genuinely reform the way we’re having advice and consent hearings and listening to special interest groups, rather than the overwhelming testimony of those people that are directly affected by such decisions as this.

“This has not only impugned the integrity of a good woman, an attorney, but has also belied the fact that the Chairman of the Committee and his voters had not done their homework on the actual law. But worse than that, this is just a small part of a much larger issue regarding the use of the monopolistic CON process to protect a failing state monopoly that costs the taxpayers over $40 million a year in subsidies, and that’s Hawai‘i Healthcare Systems Corporation. I know we’ll be hearing a lot more of this issue as legislation comes through to try to protect that failing monopoly from competition.

“The people of Maui deserve healthy alternatives and choices in the marketplace of health, and this is just another misuse of our ability to try to accommodate the wishes and best interest of the people who we’re allegedly supposed to serve.

“Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Chun Oakland, Chair of the Committee on Human Services and Public Housing, requested a waiver of the notice requirement pursuant to Senate Rule 21 for S.R. No. 10.

Senator Chun Oakland noted:

“Madam President, I’m requesting this waiver in order to meet the deadline. Thank you.”

The Chair then granted the waiver.

Senator Ige rose on a point of personal privilege and stated:

“I would just note for the record that per the Hawai‘i Revised Statutes in the Hawai‘i Administrative Rules there are very specific criteria that the State Health Planning and Development Agency and its committee members must follow in reviewing certificate of need applications. These criteria ask for information and data that can be verified and that are in line with health industry standards. Together the criteria create a level playing field for all applicants, regardless of their political affiliation or perceived popularity. Every single certificate of need application presented to the State Health Planning and Development Agency is measured against this criteria in an evaluation of whether they should or should not be approved.

“The certificate of need for Triad Malulani was deficient in at least four of these applications, as explicitly identified in the decision and order on this application, and we believe that the Committee was justified in rejecting this nomination.

“I would also like to note that I hope that it’s not the Governor’s intention to make this nomination on an interim basis, which is the reason for the governor’s message withdrawing the nomination of this person to the Statewide Health Planning Agency, as they’ve tried that in the past to circumvent the advise and consent process in the Senate, and we obviously would respond in a bad manner to that move anyway.

“Thank you.”

Senator Hemmings rose in rebuttal as follows:

“As I said, the criteria by which the certificate of need applications must be judged, these 12 criteria are not part of HRS, nor are they part of the rules and regulations of the Department of Health. Also, the area council that took in the testimony, it’s absolutely true that the tri-area council’s considerations and recommendations are totally disregarded. The past and present Mayor’s recommendations were totally disregarded. The majority of the people that testified and the Governor’s opinions were all ignored.

“This is a one-man show, a dictatorship on the CON process and it does not serve democracy and the will of the people. It serves the interest of those that have put those people in these positions without the force of law as quoted by the Chairman of the Committee. What he just said regarding HRS may or may not be specifically true, but regarding the criteria by which the director can make a decision is not part of statute. It’s just a website.

“Thank you.”

Senator English rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

“Madam President and members of the Senate, this past Tuesday and Wednesday, the 24th and 25th, His Holiness the 14th Dalai Lama was on Maui, and I feel obliged to put on the record and explain to you my absence because we had some very important votes here. But this was very important for Maui in that the Dalai Lama came to Pā‘ia, part of my district, and consecrated a Stupa, one of the very few that has been built outside of Tibet. And this was a very large event for all of Maui, but especially in my district.

“The estimates are coming in now, but we had upwards of about 25,000 people coming to hear the Dalai Lama speak and hear his message. I think it had a wonderful effect on Maui. It really helped start seeing the need for us to be nice to each other. That was his core message – respect each other, be nice to each other, and accept other’s other points of views.

“So my absence for those two days was because of the Dalai Lama’s visit to Maui and it was very important to me and also to my constituency to be in Maui to receive him and to welcome him there. The people of Maui were blessed, and in fact all of Hawai‘i was very blessed to have such a person as the Dalai Lama visit us.

“Thank you.”

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1958 (Gov. Msg. No. 349):

At this time, the President made the following announcement:

"Members, pursuant to Senate Rule 37(5), the final question on appointments by the Governor which require the confirmation or consent of the Senate must be stated in the affirmative; therefore, those casting 'Aye' votes are voting to confirm, and those casting 'No' votes are voting to reject the nomination.

"The recommendation of the Committee on Economic Development and Taxation on Gov. Msg. No. 349 is that the Senate not advise and consent to the nomination of Orion Kopelman, gubernatorial nominee to the Board of Directors of the High Technology Development Corporation. Therefore, the Chair will first entertain a motion to file Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1958, then we will move on to the final vote on this matter."

Senator Ige moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1958 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Whalen and carried.

Pursuant to Senate Rule 37(5), Senator Slom moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of ORION KOPELMAN to the Board of Directors of the High Technology Development Corporation, term to expire June 30, 2011, seconded by Senator Gabbard.

Senator Slom rose in support of the nominee and said:

"Madam President, Ori Kopelman was an interim appointee to the High Technology Development Corporation Board and was first appointed in August of last year. He was nominated for a four-year term this year and appeared before the Committee on Economic Development and Taxation in early March. At that time, your Committee received testimony in support of Mr. Kopelman from the Department of Business, Economic Development and Tourism, from the High Technology Development Corporation, from the Hawaii Small Business Development Center Network, from the Maui Center, the former mayor of Maui County, and one individual. In fact, there was no negative testimony received at that time.

"The decision of the Committee, though, on March 8th was to defer any action on Mr. Kopelman and there was no action again until yesterday when the Committee met and the recommendation was made that the Committee deny the confirmation. It was very troubling to me as member of the Committee, as I shared with the Chair, since there was no negative testimony prior to this and the information that was brought before the Committee yesterday indicated that the Chair had discussed the matter subsequently with certain members of the board and certain members of the high technology community. I asked who the members of the board were and the response was that the members of the board did not feel comfortable in having their names released. I asked who the members of the high technology community were and the response was similarly the same.

"I asked specifically what the problems were and revolved around, and one incident was mentioned and that was an incident involving Mr. Kopelman's attending a board meeting Honolulu from Maui and staying over an additional day to attend a function upon request by the Governor. And the inference was that he had no permission to do so or that this was not part of the business of the corporation. His response was that in fact he had asked permission of the board and that he was given that permission to attend.

"There also was a statement that in returning his rental car to the airport at the end of the second day, he was involved in a minor traffic accident and failed to report that accident in a timely manner. My questions were, was he under financial liability to take care of the accident? – there was no argument about whether an accident occurred; and was he under any obligation to financially be responsible for the accident himself through insurance or through payment? And initially he said the decision was yes, he was liable, but then the board had said that because of the state's use of the high risk agency to take care of such matters, he subsequently was not held liable. I asked if at any time since that period was he asked to pay anything or do anything or be responsible in any way? And the answer was no, he was not.

"I was very concerned that we were receiving anonymous testimony from allegedly both the board and from the community, particularly at this late date – a month-and-a-half after the initial confirmation hearing. I asked if there were any other incidents, because the allegation was that he did not know and subscribe to the procurement code that every board member must know and follow. But in fact there was nothing offered to show that there was any other incident other than this additional night stay over and the incident with the rental car.

"The executive director of the board was present in the committee hearing room and I asked that she be allowed to testify and answer these and other questions, and the response was that we are under time constraints and that we could not spare the time to ask her those questions. Subsequently, I received a memo today that went to the Chair and the Committee members elaborating a little bit more about the overnight stay and about the rental car.

"There were also allegations made that Mr. Kopelman may not have the requisite background for this committee and that he did not achieve any activities or any positive actions in the period of time that he was on the committee. Mr. Kopelman is the President of Global Brain, Inc., which is a California-based company that he founded in 1991. He previously held senior management positions with Mountain Computer and Cherry Valley Computer Systems in California. He has a Bachelor of Science in Electrical Engineering from Stanford University. He is the author of the book, Projects at Warp-Speed with QRPD. And he is, as mentioned, currently serving as an interim appointment to the board.

"I'm very concerned about this, particularly as I said, because we had the hearing and there was no negative testimony, no question of his qualifications or his background or his experience or anything else, and then a month-and-a-half later we get this information.

"This is a little bit different from a cabinet appointee or someone that's on salary. He's doing this as part of volunteering leadership and community service. I've talked to people also that know him and that have worked with him and they found him to be quite capable and quite energetic. He answered all the questions, written and oral, that the Committee had asked of him, so I'm really at a loss to explain why we would turn down a person of this background and experience.

"So I urge my members to support Mr. Kopelman's confirmation. Thank you."

Senator Fukunaga rose in opposition to the nominee and said:

"Madam President, I rise to speak in opposition to Gov. Msg. No. 349, nominating Orion Kopelman for a term to expire June 30, 2011.

"The Committee did hold a hearing earlier in March, and at that time, all of the written testimonies that were submitted were positive. However, during questions posed to the nominee during the hearing, the responses were quite vague in reference to his involvement and direct experience of many of the issues and concerns faced by businesses in Hawaii's tech community.

At that hearing, the Chair deferred two nominees from the High Technology Development Corporation Board. We submitted additional questions to those nominees. We also furnished copies of the written questions to the executive director. When Mr. Kopelman submitted his responses, his responses were fine from a general standpoint but did not indicate any strong involvement in or contribution to Hawaii's tech community.

"The reason that the Chair asked both nominees additional questions, and then met further with the executive director, is that this agency is one that has been facing declining general fund and administration support over the last five years. In fact, High Tech Development Corporation's only increases in general fund support have been funding and resources authorized and approved by the Legislature over these last several years.

"During this past session, the administration proposed a number of proposals in which High Tech Development Corporation was to take the lead in providing management and oversight for a high tech incubator in Kakaako, as well as for a digital media hub in and around the Honolulu/Kakaako area. However, it is without question that High Tech Development Corporation's revenue sources have dwindled to almost zero. This year, we are faced with having to review DBEDT legislation which asks us to fund the administrative positions out of general funds rather than taking even more revenues out of the special fund, thereby reducing services to the tenants in the High Tech Development Corporation's facilities.

"The Chair asked both nominees to respond to the concerns regarding their ability to adequately meet the needs of High Tech Development Corporation for additional resources, and the needs of the Hawaii high tech community that HTDC services. In reviewing their responses, Mr. Kopelman's experiences and involvement directly in Hawaii tech businesses appeared to be relatively limited.

"With respect to some of the concerns that were raised privately by members of the board, I received a number of responses in which members questioned whether or not Mr. Kopelman's involvement on the board really added to or contributed to High Tech Development Corporation's ability to move forward in generating additional funding support both from the administration and from the Legislature. This would be to help High Tech Development Corporation remain a viable entity in promoting and expanding technology opportunities.

"When I reviewed some of the difficulties that Mr. Kopelman encountered in his use of state travel coupons and other arrangements that are made in monthly time periods for attendance at board meetings, I learned that there were two incidents involving irregularities in his use of travel coupons for the High Tech Development Corp Board meeting. He also failed to notify the High Tech Development Corporation of a car accident that he had been involved in, using a rental vehicle provided for the date on which the meeting was held. The accident occurred on a date beyond the original board meeting date. The Chair felt that although well-intentioned, Mr. Kopelman's experiences both in the Hawaii tech community and some of the unfortunate incidents he has been involved with as an HTDC board member during his short tenure do not reflect positively on his ability to perform in advancing the mission of the High Tech Development Corporation. His membership on the board really places a burden upon the High Tech Development Board at a time when the board needed to galvanize and move forward.

"For those reasons, members, I urge you not to advise and consent on this nomination. Thank you.

"I also would like to request, in response to the prior speaker's comments, that we enter the letter of explanation from the High Tech Development Corp Director into the record as part of my remarks."

The Chair having so ordered, the letter from the Director of the High Technology Development Corporation reads as follows:

"HIGH TECHNOLOGY

MEMORANDUM

To: The Honorable Carol Fukunaga
The Honorable Will Espero
The Honorable J. Kalani English
Honorable David Y. Ige
The Honorable Sam Slam

From: Yuka Nagashima
Executive Director & CEO

Subject: GM 349, Mr. Orion Kopelman

Thank you for your consideration today relating to GM 349, Mr. Orion Kopelman, to the Board of Directors of the High Technology Development Corporation (HTDC).

As I sat through the confirmation meeting listening to responses provided by Mr. Kopelman, I thought it would be best to address your questions in a memorandum. Therefore, we respectfully submit this memorandum as further information for clarification purposes only, as the committee's decision is already made, concerning today's confirmation hearing of Mr. Orion Kopelman. Specifically, there was discussion relating to state travel policies and procedures between Mr. Kopelman and members of the Committee on Economic Development and Taxation that we would like to provide additional information on what information was submitted when by whom.

First, Mr. Kopelman resides on Maui and has been attending HTDC board meetings in Honolulu. To avoid inconveniencing neighbor island board members, Mr. Kopelman is provided in advance with single-day car rental coupons for state business travel to attend the board meetings, which is surrendered at the time of pickup. Before one such trip to Honolulu in January, he was specifically informed that HTDC would not be covering for extra expenses for him to attend a non-HTDC state event the following day. Mr. Kopelman flew in one day before the January 11 Board meeting for personal reasons, and submitted two car rental coupons furnished by HTDC rather than paying for the first day's fees personally and using the State car coupon for the board meeting day. In lieu of returning to Maui on the day of the board meeting after the meeting, as previously scheduled and approved, he extended his stay another day to attend the separate, non-HTDC state function. On the third day of his stay, he was involved in a car accident at the airport as he was returning the car, sustaining physical damages to the rental vehicle. HTDC was not notified of this accident until February 24, when Mr. Kopelman contacted HTDC to request travel arrangements for the March 1st board meeting, requesting HTDC to follow up (as the car rental contract for the trip was with the state). He, thereafter, forwarded two letters and an invoice for repair costs from the car rental company, which was sent to him for damages sustained by the collision of his rental car. The paperwork and bill for the collision is currently with the Dept. of Accounting and General Services, Risk Management Office. The misuse of the coupon was addressed by Mr. Kopelman paying for the rental car for the subsequent board meeting.

Second, all new board members are provided with written procedures relating to reimbursement and travel. I believe Mr. Kopelman did confirm this in his response. In addition to written procedures, a board member who travels for board business is provided additional assistance by the executive director's secretary for each travel date in advance.

Again, thank you for your time. Please let me know if there are questions concerning the above information."

Senator Slom rose in rebuttal and stated:

"Madam President, just a brief rebuttal.

"Again, if we look at the facts, really there is no dispute that this gentleman is well qualified to serve on the board, that in fact he has served on the board. To be accurate, he has attended all meetings that were held. I brought up the issue of the possible dispute of the one time staying overnight for a function that he was requested by the Governor. There was no other information that was brought up at the Committee, so when we say 'travel coupons,' we're talking about one event, which I mentioned. When we talk about the accident, the rental car, it was fully disclosed, fully discussed.

"But again, let's remember there was no negative testimony in March. There was nothing between March 8th and yesterday. The information yesterday was between certain Committee members and not all Committee members. We were using anonymous statements by anonymous members of the High Tech Board, anonymous statements allegedly by certain people within the high tech community. No one came forward. No written statements were used. I thought that as a Body we decided we were no longer going to use anonymous statements, but apparently we are not.

"As far as the criticism of the Governor and whether it's justified or not into her funding of high technology projects and this board, I don't think that is a responsibility of one of the nominees, and particularly Mr. Kopelman. He did address the concerns, however, about problems with funding and about what the board can do.

"I would hate to think that ultimately the real decision on this candidate was because in his off time he was involved in a political campaign with the opponent of one of the members of this Committee from the Island of Maui. I would hate to think that he was being judged on his free and open right of political action and activity rather than on his background, experience, qualifications, and service to the board.

"So again, I urge people, in terms of fairness and not in using anonymous people with no written testimony, to confirm Ori Kopelman.

"Thank you."

At this time, the Chair made the following observation:

"Members, an 'Aye' vote is a vote to advise and consent to the nomination; a 'No' vote is a vote to reject the nomination."

Senator Slom rose and said:

"Madam President, Roll Call, please."

The Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and, Roll Call vote having been requested, failed to carry on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 4. Noes, 17 (Bunda, Chun Oakland, English, Espero, Fukunaga, Hanabusa, Hee, Hooser, Ige, Ihara, Inouye, Kim, Kokubun, Menor, Nishihara, Sakamoto, Tokuda). Excused, 4 (Baker, Hemmings, Taniguchi, Tsutsui).

ADOPTION OF RESOLUTIONS

S.C.R. No. 226:

Senator Ige moved that S.C.R. No. 226 be adopted, seconded by Senator Gabbard.

Senator Trimble rose in opposition and said:

“Madam President, this has to do with an investigative Senate committee. It is my understanding that there are two investigations currently going on – one associated with the Executive Branch, the Attorney General; the other is a branch or an office attached to the Legislature which is the Ethics Commission. The Ethics Commission, if they find something beyond the specific scope that they’re looking at, will refer those matters to appropriate other agencies.

“So, in terms of redundancy, I do not see a need for a special Senate committee. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, S.C.R. No. 226, entitled: “SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION ESTABLISHING A JOINT SENATE-HOUSE INVESTIGATIVE COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE THE SECURITY OF RECORDED DOCUMENTS, PRIVATE COMPUTER ACCESS AND TAMPERING OF SUCH DOCUMENTS, AND THE OPERATIONS AND MANAGEMENT OF THE BUREAU OF CONVEYANCES,” was adopted with Senators Slom and Trimble voting “No.”

Senator Slom rose and said:

“Madam President, would you please have the Clerk indicate a ‘no’ vote for me on H.C.R. No. 69, H.D. 2, urging the adoption of the United Nations convention on the rights of the child. I’ll stand with parents and not the United Nations, which should move out of the United States.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.C.R. No. 69, H.D. 2, entitled: “HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION URGING THE ADOPTION OF THE UNITED NATIONS’ CONVENTION ON THE RIGHTS OF THE CHILD,” was adopted with Senators Gabbard, Inouye, Sakamoto and Slom voting “No.”

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

Gov. Msg. No. 807, dated April 27, 2007, transmitting her statement of objections to House Bill No. 10 which she has returned to the House of Representatives without her approval and which reads as follows:

“EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

April 27, 2007

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 10

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fourth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 10.

This bill would mandate that pharmaceutical companies, which voluntarily participate in the Hawaii Rx Plus program, provide rebates in addition to the discounted prescription prices that the manufacturers already provide to enrollees in the Hawaii Rx Plus program. It also requires the Department of Human Services to disclose information on drug manufacturing costs.

This bill is objectionable because its enactment will likely cause voluntary participation in the Hawaii Rx Plus program by prescription drug manufacturers to end. Approximately 112,000 Hawaii residents participate in the Hawaii Rx Plus program. Low-income uninsured and underinsured residents who are enrolled in the Hawaii Rx Plus program and need prescription medications would be hurt by enactment of this legislation.

Second, this bill sets no mandatory level for the rebate. Thus, firms could make token offers and still be in compliance. Nor does the bill seem to recognize that the major reason why the rebates have not been successful is the limited volume of prescriptions written on a monthly basis under Hawaii Rx Plus.

Finally, the bill does not recognize the role the federal Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services play in securing rebates for government-approved drug programs. Without the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services' approval, the Department of Human Services does not have the ability to impose a meaningful penalty on the prescription drug manufacturers that do not provide rebates.

My Administration supports the requirement of rebates from drug manufacturers but believes the rebates must be implemented in an appropriate and effective manner. My office proposed House Bill No. 1359, which is currently being considered in conference committee. This bill consolidates the current Medicare Part D State Pharmacy Assistance program and the Hawaii Rx Plus program under a single comprehensive Hawaii State Pharmacy Assistance Program. Once the Department obtains approval from the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services as a federally qualified state pharmaceutical assistance program, prescriptions purchased by Hawaii Rx Plus program enrollees will qualify for the same mandatory and supplemental rebates received by the Medicaid program. In addition, the market size of this consolidated program would be larger by the integration of the Hawaii Rx program into the State Pharmacy Assistance Program.

Should the Legislature send me a bill that incorporates a comprehensive approach such as that embodied in House Bill No. 1359, ensuring that the State has appropriate authority to secure pharmaceutical rebates and which will not discourage manufacturer participation in the Hawaii Rx Plus program, then I would be able to sign that measure.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 10 without my approval.

Respectfully,

/s/ Linda Lingle
LINDA LINGLE
Governor of Hawaii,”

Senator Chun Oakland moved that Floor Amendment No. 29 be adopted, seconded by Senator Baker.

Senator Chun Oakland rose in support of the amendment as follows:

"Madam President, the floor amendment was done in response to a clarification from the Social Security Administration regarding allowable language. H.B. No. 928 was only meant to be the vehicle to increase the state supplemental payment. The legislative intent in this bill is clear about how the personal needs allowance is to be spent so that the sentence being deleted is not necessary. Thank you."

The motion to adopt Floor Amendment No. 29 was put by the Chair and carried.

Senator Chun Oakland moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 96 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Baker and carried.

By unanimous consent, H.B. No. 928, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SOCIAL SERVICES," was placed on the calendar for Final Reading on Thursday, May 3, 2007.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 100 (H.B. No. 1004, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 100 be adopted and H.B. No. 1004, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Baker.

Senator Taniguchi then offered the following amendment (Floor Amendment No. 30) to H.B. No. 1004, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, C.D. 1:

SECTION 1. House Bill No. 1004, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, is amended by amending section 6 to read as follows:

"SECTION 6. There is appropriated out of the public utilities commission special fund the sum of $30,000 for fiscal year 2007-2008 and the sum of $30,000 for fiscal year 2008-2009 to be deposited into the compliance resolution fund."

SECTION 2. House Bill No. 1004, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, is amended by amending section 9 to read as follows:

"SECTION 9. There is appropriated out of the general revenues of the State of Hawaii the sum of $100,000 or so much thereof as may be necessary for fiscal year 2007-2008 for research and support services necessary to protect Hawaii consumers by developing additional deterrents for identity theft, and in particular those related to the compromise of electronic data and information, and social security numbers in public records.

The sum appropriated shall be expended by the office of the auditor for the purposes of this part."

Senator Taniguchi moved that Floor Amendment No. 30 be adopted, seconded by Senator Baker.

Senator Taniguchi rose in support of the floor amendment and said:

"Madam President, the floor amendment would do two things: one, it would correct a misdescription of the special fund; and secondly, it would also appropriate monies out of the general revenues as opposed to the Compliance Resolution Fund."

The motion to adopt Floor Amendment No. 30 was put by the Chair and carried.

Senator Taniguchi moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 100 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Baker and carried.

FINAL READING

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 93 (H.B. No. 500, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Baker moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 93 be adopted and H.B. No. 500, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland.

Senator Baker rose in support of the measure and said:

“Madam President, colleagues, H.B. 500, C.D. 1, is the Executive Branch budget bill for the next fiscal biennium. It contains both the operating and capital improvement appropriations for fiscal years 2008 and 2009.

"Before I offer some brief remarks about the bill itself, I would again like to acknowledge some people who were instrumental in the development and crafting of this measure.

"First, I'd like to send a heartfelt mahalo to my talented and extremely hardworking staff at Ways and Means, as well as their counterparts in House Finance.

"Second, I'd like to personally thank all of my colleagues who serve diligently and with great faithfulness on the Ways and Means Committee – particularly my Committee Vice Chair, my colleague from Central Maui, who developed the CIP portion of the budget and provided valuable perspective on other matters before the Committee. I also want to acknowledge and again thank my predecessor, Senator Taniguchi, for his wise counsel during the entire, often grueling, process of re-shaping the Executive Branch's budget, and to all of the Senate subject matter Committee Chairs for sharing their perspectives and priorities with the Ways and Means Committee. I'd also like to thank the two Minority members who served on the Committee who provided important input and support as we moved this measure through the process.

"Third, mahalo to House Finance Chair, Marcus Oshiro, for his good humor and thoughtful, cooperative approach to negotiating the differences between the House and Senate versions of the Executive Budget. He and Vice Chair Lee and their staff were a pleasure to work with.

"Finally, I'd like to thank you, Madam President, and the House Speaker for your patience and support throughout this Legislative Session. It's been greatly and deeply appreciated.

"As previously noted, it is a truism that Hawai'i has many legitimate, yet competing, interests vying for state resources. Your Conference Committee made the hard decisions necessary to craft a budget that reflects our shared goals, principles, and priorities, and invests in our state's greatest resource – its people.

"The Executive Branch budget is the fundamental policy document of the State of Hawai'i. Through this document, your Conference Committee has laid the groundwork for the creation of a sustainable Hawai'i, with strong families and communities, a workforce prepared to compete in the global marketplace, and a healthy economy and environment.

"In crafting the Executive Branch budget, your Conference Committee was guided by four principles and priorities:

- (1) State budgetary policy should help strengthen our families and communities;
- (2) State budgetary policy should help sustain a healthy and diversified economy by, among other things but perhaps most importantly, supporting public education both higher and lower;
- (3) State budgetary policy should help shape a Hawai'i that is a great place to visit because, first and foremost, it is a great place to live; and finally
- (4) State budgetary policy should promote a fiscally prudent, transparent and sustainable state government.

"Madam President, your Conference Committee's conference draft of this budget carries out our shared goals, principles, and priorities. In support of strengthening our families and communities, your Conference Committee allocated approximately 28 percent of the new general fund appropriations to health and human services, amounting to an additional $124.2 million in FY08 and an additional $138.4 million in FY09. And in support of sustaining a healthy and diversified economy through a properly educated workforce, your Committee allocated approximately 35 percent of the new general fund appropriations to lower education, amounting to an additional $156.5 million in FY08 and an additional $185.4 million in FY09, as well as an additional 13 percent (amounting to $55.6 million) in FY08 and an additional 19 percent (amounting to $99.6 million) in FY09 for higher education, taking care of some important infrastructure as well as programmatic needs.

"In total, with all sources of funding, the conference draft of the Executive budget appropriates $10,370,709,982 in FY08 and $10,539,570,447 in FY09 for all funds. For general funds, this budget appropriates $5,185,780,822 in FY08 and $5,273,531,614 in FY09. Compared with the budget submitted by the Governor in December 2006, as adjusted by the seven governor's messages throughout this Legislative Session, this budget represents a decrease of $4,707,738 in FY08 and another decrease of $12,672,889 in FY09 in general fund appropriations.

"Madam President, your Conference Committee recognized that Hawaii's economy is slowing, and inflation is eating up some of the State's current growth in general fund revenues. This is reflected in the most recent forecast of the Council on Revenues in March when it decided to keep unchanged its December forecast of the general fund tax revenues for fiscal year 2007-2008 through fiscal year 2012-2013. Essentially, the forecast of the Council on Revenues underscores the need for us to adopt a fiscally prudent, sustainable, budget for the State of Hawai'i, as there are no substantial increases in revenue being forecast.

"Finally, Madam President, while in the middle of Conference, your Conference Committee was informed of the potential impacts of the Government Accounting and Standards Board's Statement No. 45, which established standards for measuring and recognizing other post-employment benefits that primarily consist of retiree healthcare services. Because many government agencies cover healthcare costs on a pay-as-you-go basis, a large unfunded liability has developed, on the magnitude of $11.1 billion dollars (which I would note is over twice as large as the State's annual general fund budget!). Not addressing this liability will in the long run have a negative impact on the State's bond rating. That's why your Conference Committee was cautious in our approach to this budget and we have great concerns about this issue and have requested of the administration that all stakeholders – the Executive Branch, the Mayors of the Counties, State and County Legislators, the Judiciary, and others that have a stake in the health fund – come together to determine the best way to address this liability on a going forward basis next Session. Addressing this matter will certainly impact deliberations on the supplemental budget next year.

"On that fiscally prudent note, Madam President, I respectfully ask my colleagues to vote favorably on this measure. The conference draft of the Executive Budget, I believe, addresses the urgent infrastructure and service needs of our State and provides for the strengthening of our families and communities, thus positioning Hawai'i for success in the global economy and the sustaining of Hawai'i as a great place to not only visit, but a great place to live.

"Mahalo."

Senator Hemmings rose to speak in favor of the measure and said:

“Madam President, I rise to speak in favor of H.B. No. 500, the State Budget.

“On behalf of Committee members from the Minority Party and the Minority Party, we, too, would like to add our accolades to the staff and the members of the Ways and Means Committee for their access and the information they provide us, but most importantly the free and open forum in which we discussed the issues. It was healthy. But nevertheless, we do have to disagree in some areas with the outcome of this budget.

“There are two points that I think would illustrate best our concerns with the direction we’re going. We heard at the beginning of the Session words about sustainability and sustaining this and sustaining that. Well, this budget, for lack of a better description, sustains the status quo that has been evident in state spending for well over two generations now – and that is to increase spending in certain areas with no accountability.

“I’d like to highlight two things that are important to us in the Minority Party that seemed to have been overlooked by the Majority Party. One is housing for the poor. The Governor had built a budget – and we all know that the executive branch proposes, and the legislative branch disposes – that would have allowed for $244 million for housing to be spent in the Hawai‘i Housing Finance Development Corporation and Hawai‘i Public Housing Authority. This budget only allows for approximately $90 million in spending for housing. So the rhetoric was hot and heavy at the beginning of Session about helping the housing problem, but this budget does not attain the levels the Governor had requested.

“More importantly and the question that’s often asked is, ‘Where does the money go?’ And your Republicans are concerned about that because we see the abyss in the public funding in education. We spend an incredible amount of more money with no accountability. By our calculations, this budget with CIP and operating funds is going to increase spending on education over $300 million in the next fiscal years that this budget accounts for – $355 million to be exact.

“What is particularly irksome is that we heard in 2004 that education was going to be reinvented and we would get better results. And the old mantra of ‘give us more money and we’ll do a better job’ has played over and over again in ensuing years. And since 2004, by our calculations, we have added approximately $1 billion to public education funding. And what are the results? Well, the results are that the Department of Education still comes to us and says, ‘We’re sorry about not doing that great of a job; give us more money and we’ll do a better job.’

“I have to point out, it’s the little things that are particularly irksome to the public. Just in this morning’s paper it says the DOE is to increase its spending for opinion polls. That is part of the façade that the DOE spends taxpayer’s money to put up. The last one we saw was almost laughed off the front page of the Honolulu Advertiser, and that was that the teachers work 15½ hours a day. Of course opinion polls are oftentimes commissioned by the DOE to obfuscate the obvious and that is that they’re spending more money and we’re getting less education into the marketplace. Because of these concerns, the Governor had a budget put together that would have held everybody accountable.

“And later on when we talk about tax relief, the public does have to know that they are not getting meaningful tax relief because this budget swallowed up most of the money the Governor recommended for tax relief. She had a budget that was balanced and would have offered about $346 million in real tax relief for the poor. And the tax relief we will be getting as a result of this budget is paltry in comparison, and unfortunately, the Majority Party continues to tax the poor the highest. Tax credits just don’t cut it, especially for the poor on the beach who don’t even file tax returns.

“So, with these caveats, I will be voting in favor of the budget. It’s a necessary document. Unfortunately, it’s not all that we had hoped it would be and hopefully we can work in a bipartisan manner not to sustain the status quo, Madam President, but to work cooperatively with the executive branch of government in a bipartisan manner to start creating new formulas on how we collect and spend the taxpayers’ money so that we can get some accountability.

“Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Trimble rose in opposition of the measure and said:

“Madam President, I rise in opposition to the state budget.

“Colleagues, as I said a year ago, I will repeat again today – It is during the good times that it is required, it is necessary that we save a portion of the good times for the bad times that are sure to follow. And during the last year, we have noticed the unfunded liability of the Employee Retirement System has showed a dramatic increase. It was announced a couple months ago that the unfunded liability for retirees’ health benefits now stands at $11.1 billion. I am not suggesting that public employees do not deserve pay increases; they certainly do. The larger issue is the size of the government workforce.

“During hard times, it is almost impossible to reduce the size of the government workforce because we would be eliminating a position that is somebody’s cousin, somebody’s auntie, somebody’s child. It is only during the good times when unemployment is low that we should exercise our fiscal responsibility by reducing the size of the public workforce, and in doing that and reducing the cost of government to set aside a portion of the surplus, to be able to take care of the bad times that surely will follow.

“So in going forward, I hope by next year I will not have to stand and give the same speech, and I will be voting ‘no’ on the budget for the reasons I’ve just stated. Thank you.”

Senator Chun Oakland rose in support of the measure and said:

“I would like to thank the Chair and Vice Chair of Ways and Means as well as Finance and the members that sit on both Committees, as well as the Legislature, the public who has weighed in significantly on this measure, as well as the executive branch.

“In the area of Department of Human Services, I wanted to highlight a few things. Generally, we have in this measure provided significant public resources to help families that are on temporary assistance to become self-sufficient. We have provided a significant amount of resources to help those that are in need of domestic violence shelters; child protection services; adult protection services; vocational rehabilitation for persons with disabilities; services for our young people; services in terms of early childhood; the personal needs allowance increase that has been significant this Session that will touch a number of people’s lives – thousands, literally; and significant amounts of money for healthcare for our citizens.

"I wanted to highlight, in particular, a priority that has been a top priority for both the Legislature and the executive branch, and the community in general – and that is in the area of housing. In terms of homeless services, I believe in the executive budget there was a request for about $5 million or $6.2 million to help with homeless services, whether it's outreach, shelters, etc. In this measure, we have included about $17,604,423 worth of services in this area. We are very proud of this.

"In the area of public housing repair and maintenance, the request I believe from the executive branch was about $40 million for repair and maintenance and another about $10 million, I believe, for elevators. We fell a little bit short, but nevertheless comparably at $34,585,000.

"In the area of rental housing, where we will be helping with the help of the private sector in building affordable rentals, we have put in this budget approximately $15 million, and with another measure that we will be voting on later in the morning, S.B. No. 1917, we anticipate about an additional $14 million for a total of $29 million in rental housing moneys. That is actually something that the executive branch is very happy about and was supportive of. In addition, we will be including another $25 million for Kukui Gardens which is a residential area that supports many of our low-income residents.

"So, in terms of the total dollar amount for housing and homeless type expenses, we have allocated in this budget $111,181,771 just in the first year. And so, I do want to thank everyone for their support. I think it was a very collaborative effort and we look forward to being able to see the fruits of this as well other measures that we pass for the people of Hawai'i.

"Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Slom rose in opposition of the measure and said:

"Madam President, I rise in opposition to the budget.

"It's a lot harder to oppose a budget, any budget, because the budget always is a mixture of good things and bad things. The problem is that we started the year with a sizeable surplus – one of the biggest surpluses we've ever had in our history. And we were under a mandate to return that money, or at least a sizeable and meaningful portion, to our citizens – and we didn't do that.

"We tell our citizens that their obligation is basically to support their government which in turn will then decide how to support other people and other activities. We urge restraint on the very taxpayers that created the surplus and that have to come up with the money to support our budgets, yet we in here do not use restraint.

"We can talk about this being a conservative budget, but in fact it is not. In terms of overall expenditures, we're talking about $20 billion. Some of my colleagues have a difficult time in looking at line items because they stumble over the differences between millions and billions. And one of the reasons they do that is because this budget does not represent our money it represents the people's money and the people's revenues. And we continue to wonder why we have more homeless that we then say we have to take care of by increasing taxes and spending and revenues and fees.

"People ask us all the time what it is that we can do, or what it is that we are doing, and it all starts with the budget. If we can't have a fiscally responsible restrained budget to reflect the difficulties that our citizens are going through, then nothing else matters financially.

"The last speaker talked about a number of items which are important and which are necessary in terms of affordable housing and helping individuals. She added bills that were separate from this budget – separate and in addition to the $20 billion in this budget. And in fact, if we added up all of the expenditures, the budgeted expenditures and the individual appropriation expenditures, we would find that we have had a tremendous increase, particularly if we looked at five years ago, 10 years ago, or 20 years ago. And other than unionized workers, I would submit that most of us have not seen compensation increases during that period of time in order to pay for these things.

"So yes, it is the responsibility of government to do a number of different things, but it's a responsibility to do them in a way that matches the income growth and revenue opportunities of the citizens who support the government.

"And in terms of prioritization, many of us have different ideas as to what the priorities should be. But I fear that we are getting farther and farther away from what the people actually tell us they want and what they need, and we're carving out niches for specific classes of people who we shower with subsidies, grants, and large operating balances.

"Several people have already talked about the unfunded liabilities for this state and for the people. These are liabilities not for Senators, not for the House of Representatives – they are liabilities for the taxpayers and for the keiki that we say that we're so concerned about.

"So reluctantly, Madam President, I will again cast a 'no' vote on this budget knowing that there are some good things within the document but knowing that we still have not as a Legislative Body decided that it is not our money that we are expending, it is not our choices and opportunities that we are voting on – it's others'. And until we come to grips with this, we're going to continue to have difficult times financially.

"We're talking about good times right now, but they're not good times for everyone; they're not good times for a lot of families; they're not good times for a lot of small businesses; they're not a good time for retirees. They are times of struggle because they are on fixed incomes or fixed budgets and everything that we do in here that has an impact on increasing cost will increase their cost and increase their liability and vulnerability as well.

"Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Sakamoto rose in support of the measure and said:

"Madam President, I rise in support of the budget.

"I'm happy that the Ways and Means Chair has chosen to highlight education in at least explaining their many dollars in higher education and lower education. And in response to some of the previous speaker's comments, I believe that when we talk to the man and woman taxpayer on the street or man and woman or boy and girl on the street, they say, 'Fix our schools'; they say, 'Help our teachers teach'; they say, 'Help education.' So I believe comments are justified in how we are spending our dollars.

"In part, this budget includes funding business managers for our complex areas so the schools can account for their money better and allow the principals and teachers to spend more time on education. This budget includes $100 million for school R&M including electrical upgrades. We have a backlog that, at least as of last year, was $341 million and this budget and the work should help lower that again. We still have work to do.

For the University of Hawai'i System as well, R&M dollars. This budget expands the capability for higher education, including West Oahu.

"I believe many of these items, as well as many other items in bills and in the budget, we are spending the money to help our citizens, to help our people become better educated and do what they need to do to live a better life.

"So, I appreciate all of that and if we could include this in the Journal, I'd appreciate it."

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Sakamoto's Education Cube is identified as ATTACHMENT "A" to the Journal of this day.

Senator Espero rose in support of the measure and said:

"Madam President, just to expand on the comments of our former speaker, I'd like to thank the Ways and Means Committee for funding the growth and development in West Oahu. As we know, the effort for the city and county and the state is to direct growth and development, and with that comes the infrastructure needs in order to take care of our future.

"UH West Oahu has an appropriation for $135 million in this budget. This is a project that has been a dream of many in West Oahu for decades. It is becoming a reality with this budget, and I thank colleagues in the House and in the Senate for taking care of this district.

"UH West Oahu will take care of three areas. It will provide economic opportunities, jobs for the region. It will help the traffic situation, which we know at times is unbearable in West Oahu. But most importantly, it will provide the missing link in West Oahu – the four-year institution which this region so desperately wants and desires, and we know that data and statistics show that the closer one lives to a university, the more likely those individuals are to attend that university.

"So, for the youth of the North Shore, Mililani, Waianae Coast, Kapolei, Makakilo, Ewa Beach, Waipahu, Pearl City, and all the others that will be attending this, we thank you on behalf of the community.

"Aloha."

Senator Hooser rose in support of the measure and said:

"Madam President, I rise in support of H.B. No. 500, S.D. 1. I'll keep my remarks brief.

"I'd like to add my compliments again to the Chair and the Vice Chair and the Committee on Ways and Means and their staff for the fine work that they've done. After looking at the budget closely, reading the committee report, and speaking to many people, I just have to applaud them. It's a very challenging job sorting out priorities because there are so many. And again, I think they've done a fine job balancing those priorities and deflecting, if you would, the myths, in my opinion, of this huge surplus.

"I think if anyone takes an honest look at the condition of our state, the condition of our budget, and looks at the infrastructure, the deferred maintenance, the years of cutbacks and neglect that have gone on because of the very tight budget times, they would agree and admit that these funds are needed to catch up on much of this in our public education system, our public schools. I'm really pleased to see that the money will be going to catch up on this – to invest in electricity upgrades, allowing our schools to have much-needed air conditioning, the technology improvements that are needed.

"There are needs in the university, needs on our highways, our hospitals, our natural resources, affordable housing, but I'm most pleased to support the increase in education – the increase in rewarding teachers to go into disadvantaged areas and in the many, many other areas that have increased in public education spending. I, for one, prefer to call this a forward-thinking, progressive budget because we're looking forward – we're looking at investing in our future, whether it's West Oahu or investing in our schools.

"And where the Minority Leader and others might wish to cut education, or squeeze our public schools, or reduce the spending on education, I, for one, am not satisfied. I'm not satisfied with the status quo, not satisfied with cutting back, but feel strongly that we must invest in our schools and give them the support that they deserve.

"For that reason and many others, I'll be voting in support of this. Thank you."

Senator Hemmings rose in rebuttal and said:

"Madam President, I rise in rebuttal.

"The Minority is not advocating cutting spending in public education. What we are advocating is holding the system accountable. How can you justify a $1 billion increase in overall spending in education since the Majority Party reinvented education and promised better results in 2004, and the results overwhelmingly remain static with no improved education results.

"We support the teachers, but we don't support the bloated bureaucracy that is consuming a large portion of the state budget in the DOE. We don't support the status quo. We don't support studies that misrepresent the facts regarding the state budget in relationship to public education. Forty percent of A-funds go into public education; 20 percent of all funds go into public education, and what results do we have year in and year out? With a promise to look to the future and all the rhetoric about the keiki, and let's take care of the kids, and let's improve education, what we get, year in and year out are excuses and failure. That's not my opinion. It's the opinion of every tested score system that is rendered in our public education system.

"Republicans support funding education adequately, and it is. $2.7 billion for 179,000 kids? You've heard the numbers. I repeat them every year because we get the same results – let's give them more money, let's give them more money – we'll get better results. We do give them more money, and we don't get better results. We cannot deny those facts. Those are the numbers. They're in the budget – $1 billion since we heard that campaign rhetoric of 2004 – reinventing education. We were supposed to give the superintendent the money and the authority to do things and we'd hold her accountable. Well, it's four years later, $1 billion later, where are the results?

"Can anybody in the Majority Party answer? Show us the improvements. Show us the test scores. Show us how our keiki are getting educated. They're not. And all we get is requests for more money, more money. Republicans and the Minority want to spend money wisely, but we don't want to spend it on a bloated bureaucracy that is not producing results.

"I feel sorry for the teachers in the classrooms because they know what we know – that the majority of money is going into the bureaucracy and it's never seeing the light of day when it comes to the classroom. Teachers are actually having to reach into their pockets to pay for some basic supplies. The money is there. The system is failing the teachers, the students, and the taxpayers of this state and the numbers speak louder than my words.

“Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Sakamoto rose in rebuttal as follows:

“I’m not here to go on and on with lists. And yes, we’ve heard these comments before. One of the frustrations of our education system here in Hawai‘i and in Utah, and Connecticut, and Vermont is what some people have agreed to as ‘No Child Left Behind’ but has burdened our school system. We’ve passed resolutions on this Floor with lists of suggestions on how to improve that, and I’m not going to reiterate all of those.

“The sad condition of some of our classrooms or schools, it doesn’t take a brain surgeon or a scientist to figure out that if we can fix our classrooms that continue to deteriorate, that isn’t necessarily going to help educate a teacher or a child, but we need to have our schools safe and in proper order. There’re many things that need improvement and I believe we’re moving in the right direction. Suffice it as that, at this point.”

Senator Hooser rose in rebuttal and stated:

“I take exception again with the Minority Leader constantly denigrating and putting down our public education system. The people that I know that go to public school, their families are proud graduates of public school. I myself graduated from Radford High School. In general, people are proud of their schools, and I don’t think it does the public school system any service whatsoever for members to stand up here and rip and shred and use false information also and talk about how bad the schools are.

“We can improve our schools, there’s no question about that. I think if you look at the test scores and you look at academic achievement, you’ll find the Hawai‘i State assessment that third grade has been improving, and that’s an important benchmark. Most of those categories have been improving. If you look at the Stanford Achievement Test, you’ll see that our students score – again, I’m looking at the third grade in particular – above the national average. And in most categories, they’re at the national average or above.

“Our schools, in many cases, do a fine job and they have tremendous challenges. We all know that half the students in our schools have special needs – either English as a second language, or Title I students, or have other learning disabilities. And again, we are making progress.

“The average budget increases are somewhere around 2 to 4 percent and if you look over the long term you’ll see that it just goes with inflation, very little above that. And for the Senate Minority Leader to say that he does not support cutting education, I find disingenuous when he stands up and says that he does not support increasing. In my mind, that is the same. We’re here prepared to increase spending and the Minority Leader is opposing that.

“Again, I urge my colleagues and the entire State of Hawai‘i to put our faith and confidence and energy and our money behind our public education system. Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Slom rose in rebuttal and said:

“Madam President, I rise in brief rebuttal.

“I didn’t know we were going to get into a discussion on public education, but if we are, let’s make sure again, because apparently the Majority Leader doesn’t understand. Maybe we’ll have to read it to him. We are not opposed and have never been opposed to public education. What we’re opposed to is the wasteful use of the taxpayer’s money and not holding people accountable, not being able to see responsibility.

“When we talk about the ‘No Child Left Behind’ program, for example, let’s remember that the DOE left money on the table, money that was there for ‘No Child Left Behind’ – $15 million at one swack, more than $30 million overall that was left there.

“Let’s also talk about the problems that the public education system have had. They didn’t just occur within the last couple of years with ‘No Child Left Behind,’ which by the way was a bipartisan, Democrat/Republican proposal that passed the U.S. Congress, and Hawai‘i was one of states that sought to get out of that and exempt itself saying, in effect, ‘Our kids can’t handle it; our teachers can’t handle it; our schools can’t handle it.’ Republicans do not believe that. We’ve never believed that. That’s why we support the educational system; that’s why we support teachers.

“For somebody to stand up and say the information is false, that the statistics are false, is amazing to me. When we look at these statistics, and they haven’t changed over 30 years, the number of attending kids in public education at 179,000 is actually down from what it was 20 years ago, yet the money that we pump in for non-classroom use, for other kinds of activities has continued to increase tremendously.

“So, if you want to have a debate on the budget, and you want to have a debate on what we’ve gotten for our money’s worth, then you look at the actual amounts and the figures. You can talk about them being false. They are absolutely the same figures that come out from the U.S. Department of Education and the State Department of Education. We have done everything to placate the educational unions and not to take care of the classroom teachers or the real needs of the children here.

“So I find it really ironic that when we’re talking about failures, or we’re talking about criticism, the real criticism is the so-called reinvention of education here. After Act 51 was passed and we had all the bravado about all the things that the Legislature and the DOE were going to do together, we’ve seen year after year the DOE come back to the Legislature and try to get out of the very responsibilities that they wanted to take head on with Act 51.

“So if we want to talk about false things, let’s keep the record straight, and let’s talk honestly and don’t use the term that the Republicans don’t want to support public education. We do, but we want people to get their money’s worth and we want kids to be educated, not to be indoctrinated. We want to see that money is useful for producing better citizens with our community. We’re not seeing that and I would ask the Majority, if we’re not spending enough money and they want to spend more money which is not their money – it’s the taxpayers’ money – how much more money should we spend? $3 billion, $5 billion, $10 billion? Should there be any limit whatsoever without any responsibility.

“Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Chun Oakland rose in rebuttal and said:

“Madam President, I stand also in brief rebuttal to the previous speaker and would like the words of the Majority Leader inserted as my own.

“As a parent of public school children, I have seen great strides in terms of our educators, the children, and the parents working extremely hard, and I have seen very good results. In one of my children’s school alone, they have increased their reading scores significantly, despite the majority of children coming from low-income families with a lot of challenges.

“So, for the educators and the children and the parents that are continuing to work extremely hard to make sure our public school is excellent, I support this budget, and I support the efforts of the Legislature and the community.

“Thank you.”

Senator Tsutsui rose in support of the measure as follows:

“Madam President, many things have been said this morning about the many good things in this bill. I think if you read the committee report as well as the entire bill, you’ll see thousands of good things about H.B. No. 500.

“The comments have shifted away from the many good items in the bill and have focused on the Majority Party and their spending, spending, spending. I’d like to note for the record, however, that H.B. No. 500 in its House draft form, in the Senate draft form, as well as the conference draft has always remained below the executive’s request, both on the operating as well as the CIP side.

“So, for those reasons, I urge my colleagues to support the measure.”

Senator Baker rose and said:

"Madam President, may I request that remarks be inserted in the Journal for Conf. Com. Rep. No. 39."

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Baker's remarks read as follows:

"Madam President, I rise to speak in favor of this measure

"Its purpose is to provide financial relief for residents of certain residential care homes by increasing the monthly needs allowance of care home residents.

"The monthly needs allowance for residents of long-term care and community care home facilities in Hawai'i has not been increased since 1988, when it was set at $30. The amount is far too low for these residents to procure the daily necessities essential to enjoy a minimally acceptable quality of life. This bill raises the monthly needs allowance from $30 to $50. The measure also requires that for individuals who are incapacitated, the operator of the residence or facility where the person resides to spend the needs allowance on behalf of the person and provide a written accounting of the spending.

"Madam President, this measure is long overdue and I urge all of my colleagues to join me in voting in favor of this measure. Thank you."

Senator Baker rose and said:

"Madam President, may I request that remarks be inserted in the Journal for Conf. Com. Rep. No. 45."

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Baker's remarks read as follows:

"Madam President, I rise in support of this bill.

"Madam President, colleagues, the U.S. spends more on health care than any other nation in the world. By making unfair and excessive health insurance rates illegal, this measure addresses the problem head on. By mandating rate filings this measure increases oversight in the health care industry. By establishing penalties for violating these regulations, we are creating a deterrent for illegal and unethical health insurance practices. If we want to fix our health care problems, we need to make high prices and unfair rates illegal.

"In 2002 the State Legislature approved such regulations on our healthcare system by passing act 74. However, because of a sunset provision in the act, the act was repealed in June of 2006. We need to pass this measure and reestablish these regulations.

"This is a good bill, this is a fair bill, and this is a bill we need to pass. Thank you"

Senator Ige rose and said:

"Madam President, I also have some comments that I'd like inserted into the Journal on Conf. Com. Rep. No. 45."

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Ige's remarks read as follows:

"Madam President, I rise in support of Senate Bill. 12, relating to health insurance rate regulation.

"The purpose of Senate Bill 12, Conference Draft 1, is to regulate the rates of health insurance offered by managed care plans. Hawai'i, although progressive in its requirement of employer prepaid group health plans, nevertheless faces a health care crisis, like the rest of the country.

"One meaningful step that this Legislature can take to address this crisis is to re-establish health insurance rate regulation for managed care plans. As members know, rate regulation was enacted by Act 74, Session Laws of Hawaii (2002), but was repealed by operation of a sunset provision on June 30, 2006.

"Unfortunately, the crisis that prompted the enactment of Act 74 in 2002 has not abated, and it is imperative that we re-establish the authority of the Insurance Commissioner to regulate health insurance premium rates charged by managed care plans. Because of the concentrated nature of Hawai'i's managed care plan insurance market, such rate oversight is necessary to ensure that rates are not excessive, inadequate, nor discriminatory.

"I would like to take this opportunity to clarify one matter. Managed care plans are health care or assisted living arrangements designed to coordinate patient care or control costs through utilization review, case management, or use of specific provider networks. Although the definition of "managed care plans" in Conference Draft 1 broadly refers to "health plans" as defined in Hawaii Revised Statutes article 431:10A, or chapter 432 or 432D, the legislative intent is that only managed care plans would be subject to regulation under Senate Bill 12, and not other types of health insurance that are not managed care plans.

"Rate regulation is only part of the solution to the State's health insurance crisis, and complex issues such as reimbursement rate and malpractice may need to be addressed in the future. However, this Body can take a meaningful step now by passing this measure.

"For the foregoing reasons, I urge Senators to support this measure."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 45 was adopted and S.B. No. 12, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HEALTH INSURANCE RATE REGULATION," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 47 (S.B. No. 678, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1):

“Madam President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

“I am in strong support of strengthening ethics laws. We talk about ethics laws – we don’t do it; we just talk about it. But we also talk about home rule, and this bill is a very good example that we’re very selective in talking about home rule because we’re telling the counties what they should do, what the makeup of their commissions should be and everything else. This should be left to the counties. If we really want ethics then it is ethical to allow individuals and individual governmental agencies to make these choices.

“Thank you.”

“Colleagues, this confers high school diplomas by fiat. We just spent several minutes talking about how to improve the quality of education. I would suggest to you that passing a law to confer diplomas is not the way to do it. In fact, it demeans the value of the diploma for everyone in our society that spent time and effort to earn it.

“Thank you.”

Senator Whalen rose in opposition to the measure and said:

"Madam President, I rise in opposition.

"I apologize to the Judiciary Chair. I didn't catch this until, obviously, I was reading it for today. But, by inserting the language on page 5 that a person can 'recklessly' cause substantial bodily injury to an animal, we're creating a misdemeanor for someone driving down the road and hitting a dog or cat or something else. I know that's not the intention of this bill, but that's what it does with 'reckless' in there. So, for that reason, I'll vote 'no.'

Senator Hee rose in support of the measure and said:

"Madam President, I rise in strong support of this measure.

"Madam President and colleagues, our pets are very important members of our families. When a helpless pet is hurt by an act of cruelty or neglect, the whole family is hurt and suffers tremendously.

"The FBI, criminologists, and other law enforcement officials have recognized and documented this tormented link between animal cruelty and human violence. In an in-depth analysis of some of the country's most famous serial killers, the evidence shows that their earliest acts of violence were targeted towards helpless and innocent animals. But this link is not just isolated with serial killers. This link is also found in the lives of perpetrators who commit more common forms of violence, such as child abuse, spouse abuse, and elder abuse.

"We are an island community. Many of us were born and raised here in Hawai'i. Yet we often regard animal cruelty as something that happens on the mainland and not here in our own neighborhood. I myself have witnessed atrocities of animal neglect and cruelty in my district in Kahaolu, like many of you who have witnessed similar atrocities in your districts.

"When someone is cruel or neglects a helpless animal, this begins a cycle of violence which often escalates towards humans – people like you, myself, our parents, or our children. Sadly, Hawai'i is one of only eight states that does not have felony level offenses for animal cruelty. S.B. No. 1665 creates felony-level penalties for serious acts of cruelty toward our pet animals.

"I urge you all to vote 'yes.' This bill is not just about creating a safer place for our pets; this bill is about creating a safer community for all of us. Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Whalen rose and said:

"Madam President, this goes to show you the damage of having preprinted speeches. What I said had nothing to do with what the Judiciary Chair talked about. I'm talking about the law that we currently have that he amended, or someone amended in the Conference Committee or some point along the line. That's a great speech. It has nothing to do with what I'm talking about.

"On the existing section, it was added in there under the reckless part, 'causes substantial bodily injury.' You hit an animal with your car, that's substantial. It's now going to be a misdemeanor. That's what I'm talking about. I'm not talking about the first section. I'm talking about the second section, and that should not be in there. It was added in this year and it doesn't belong there because that whole section is talking about torturing, overloading, beating, driving, tormenting. Substantial bodily injury doesn't belong in there.

"It shouldn't be a crime because some dog runs out on the road and you hit it."

Senator Hee rose in rebuttal and said:

"Madam President, just a brief rebuttal.

"My speech was not intended to respond to the previous speaker's concerns, and I will not apologize if he thought it did.

"Frankly, this bill has been worked on by all aspects of law enforcement. From our side of the aisle, we worked with former Prosecutor, Keith Kaneshiro, and we tried to craft a bill that met all standards, including the example that the previous speaker describes. On the other hand, if the previous speaker or others assert or continue to believe that in fact the bill does not adequately address the situation, then I would encourage the previous speaker, who's a friend of mine, to work on the bill with me next year and see if we can make it even better.

"Thank you."

Senator Menor rose in support of the measure and said:

"Madam President, I rise to offer some brief remarks in support of this measure.

"Madam President, this bill is an important pro-environment bill to the extent that it will beef up our invasive species program. However, I'd like to point out for the edification, or bring to the attention of my colleagues, the fact that there is an ambiguity in the bill in that it does not specify which entity is supposed to be contributing to the fund that will be utilized for the invasive species program. So in that regard, I just wanted to clarify that it is the intent of the Legislature that the fee is to be collected from the importer of any shipment that comes into Hawai'i.

"Thank you."

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and said:

"Madam President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"My opposition is very selective. It has to do with the funding mechanism. The funding mechanism is supposed to be $1 per TEU, which stands for 20-foot equivalent unit, which refers to a container used in overseas or ocean transportation. Most containers used by Matson in the old days were 24 foot; Sea Land or Sea Train serving Puerto Rico, 35 foot; the standard that came later is 20 and 40.

"The problem is twofold. One, taxing containers, which this is, I believe is unconstitutional or at least in violation of federal law that relates to interstate commerce. Second, it applies to containers, either full or empty. Third, Harbors Division of the Department of Transportation is already collecting excess for cargo that arrives from international ports. They are collecting that fee because historically, foreign containers required inspection by not only Ag, but by Customs.

"The problem is not that the fee is not being collected now. It is just not getting to the Department of Agriculture. So, to the extent that Harbors Division is already collecting money, I think it is incumbent upon this Body to look at that money and see if that in itself shouldn't be transferred in all or in part to the Department of Agriculture.

"Finally, when we're looking at invasive species, it is not shipping containers alone – it is ships, it is airplanes, and it can be cargo that is not in containers. So, while the objective of this legislation is certainly worthwhile, the manner in which they seek to collect the money – the funding mechanism – is flawed. And for that reason, I'll vote against it."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 43 was adopted and S.B. No. 1066, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO INVASIVE SPECIES," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and said:

"Madam President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

"Briefly, this is one of a series that we have seen over the last few years which seeks to increase certification for any number of different groups. My standard comment is, certification in itself does not ensure that there is also a corresponding increase in quality. It just ensures that the costs go up.

"Thank you."

Senator Baker rose in support of the measure and said:

“Madam President, I rise in support of this legislation.

“Colleagues, this is one of the professions or occupations for which there had been an auditor’s review and this is one of the ones that the auditor came back and said yes indeed, this is exactly what we ought to be doing. We need to have nurse aides certified because without the standards and without making sure that the individuals who are part of our care-giving community are up to standard, there can be potential harm.

“Nurse aides have been regulated and registered for a number of years, but there was a glitch that came about in our law as a result of some changes in some of DSH’s language. This measure reinstates it. The bill has been worked on by DCCA. It’s been worked on by the Department of Health, and Department of Human Services, as well as the nurse aide community, and their employers.

“This is a good bill. It’s a necessary bill and I ask all my colleagues to vote up.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 56 was adopted and H.B. No. 71, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO NURSE AIDES,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure as follows:

“We’ve seen this bill before. Interestingly and euphemistically it’s called ‘Relating to Child Protection,’ but there is no child protection in this bill. It is a bill about abandonment and non-responsibility, and non-accountability. It’s a bill about granting immunity and special privileges to people that decide to leave their babies at hospitals or police stations or other locations. It deleted a requirement that written information be provided on family medical history so as to endanger the baby even more.

“I don’t know how we can stand here and honestly say that this bill is for child protection. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 66 was adopted and H.B. No. 1830, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CHILD PROTECTION,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

“Colleagues, criminal property damage is already against the law. We don’t need to specifically talk about copper. And if it is good for copper, then it also should be good for aluminum. The same standards that we’re applying for scrap dealers if we’re really trying to stop illegal activity, should be consistent regardless of whether it’s copper or gold or aluminum.

“So instead of specifically identifying a metal that happens to be the ‘flavor of the month,’ or the ‘flavor of this year,’ because at the beginning of Session people wanted to draw public attention to the social costs that were being created by the stealing of copper. I’m glad they got the media attention, but it does not require that we need to pass this bill, because they’ve already gotten the media attention and it’s already against the law.

“Thank you.”

"Colleagues, on the surface, rents are expensive in Hawai'i; therefore, we solve the problem by helping those at the bottom of the scale with something called rent supplemental assistance, and we think we're doing good. Actually, all we're doing is raising the rent because landlords now find out that they can get more money for an apartment because the state has increased its rent supplemental program. Probably the clearest analogy I could give you is sort of like when you're at a parade and you're looking at the view passing below you. If you stand up, you get a better view, but when everybody stands up, the view is the same. That is what we do when we increase the rent supplement – we don't increase the supply of housing; we just make it more expensive. It is not helping those at the lower income level; it is helping the landlord.

"Thank you."

“I share the concerns of those that are upset about what’s happened in Darfur which continues to happen today. But I don’t think by us micromanaging the ERS and telling them what they should invest in and what they shouldn’t invest in is going to help, particularly since the United Nations continues to fail so miserably in trying to really help people in need.

“What this bill would do, however, is to harm the people in Darfur even more because if it results in lack of investment, lack of opportunities, lack of employment, that’s going to hurt even more people within the area.

“So, it’s interesting that we sit here and we want to micromanage everything and we want to tell everybody what they should do and what they should not do, and yet the agencies that are set up to accomplish these things have failed and we continue to allow them to be funded. So, I urge a ‘no’ vote on this. Thank you.”

Senator Inouye noted:

"With regards to S.B. No. 798, the House version had better clarity in the language that extends the lapse date of emergency disaster relief appropriations made by Act 118 for one year for victims of the October 15, 2006 earthquake."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, the Senate agreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 798, S.D. 3, and S.B. No. 798, S.D. 3, H.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO DISASTER RELIEF," was placed on the calendar for Final Reading on Thursday, May 3, 2007.

MOTIONS TO OVERRIDE VETOES

S.B. No. 14, S.D. 1, H.D. 1:

In accordance with Article III, Section 17, of the Hawaii State Constitution, Senator Sakamoto moved that the Senate override the veto of S.B. No. 14, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, as contained in Gov. Msg. No. 768, seconded by Senator Tokuda.

Senator Sakamoto rose in support of the override and said:

"Madam President, a few years back, this Body had proposed a constitutional amendment and a composition of a candidate advisory committee which was composed of seven members that would suggest names to the Governor for her selection. I'm not going to go over all the details at this point, but at that point in time, the Governor vetoed the first composition and said it was premature. Subsequently, as we all know, the people voted and the people voted for a change – the change meaning not having the Governor select just out of whatever mechanism governors select from, but the people voted for a candidate advisory committee.

"We then proposed a measure that permitted the candidate advisory committee of seven people – one appointed by the Governor, one by the Senate President, one by the Speaker of the House, one representing the emeritus regents, one representing alumni, one from the student caucuses, one from the faculty senate. The last two, the student and faculty, they couldn't appoint someone who had been their member for the last five years. This was to address concerns raised of perhaps too close to the fire and to have people further out and not be politically motivated.

"In the process, we have always asked, 'Are there better suggestions? How can we improve the measure?' In essence, the Governor's suggestion was – let the Governor pick the committee; let the Governor choose the chair. I think in most people's minds it would have been, 'That doesn't make sense because that's the current practice.' Another proposal was to have the Governor appoint three people; the Senate President, two; and the Speaker of the House, two. In most people's minds, and I believe in the public minds, that would have been, 'that sounds very political.'

"More recently, the newspapers have placed the people in the candidate advisory committee before us, in their editorials, and one of the papers at least saying, 'Why should the Senate President have a pick and why should the Speaker of the House have a pick? That's political.' But, I believe that is less political than three by the governor, two by the Senate President, two by the House. And at this point, these seven members would suggest, well ideally, screen, solicit, and suggest candidates to prepare a list for the Governor. And in no case does it predict or even determine that any member of the board of regents would be from any of these constituent groups – as the main objection, at least as far as I understand it, is fear that constituent groups would have a seat or a designated spot on the regents. And that is far from what our current proposal does.

"People suggest perhaps the public didn't understand what they were voting on but the current chair of the board of regents had debated and been on public radio, public TV – public not meaning necessarily the public station, but out in the public – out in the media, addressing the proposal that we had before us. And that was prior to the vote, so I believe the people clearly understood what they want. The people wanted the composition changed to allow this candidate advisory council.

"So I ask my members to let's do what the public said, and after years, this proposal I believe is a good proposal. It's been adjusted to address the concerns that were brought forward to the degree we could. Madam President, I ask for a Roll Call vote at the appropriate time.

"Thank you."

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the override as follows:

"Madam President, I rise in support of sustaining the Governor's veto.

"It is a fiction to say that this new alignment depoliticizes the process of selecting boards of regents. It is true, however, that it takes away from the executive responsibility so that we can't point the finger and say, 'This is the person that really is accountable and responsible for these decisions.'

"I don't question the public's support of the constitutional amendment. I don't think that they were misled or misunderstood. However, it was the details that were not disclosed, and I think that's the crux of the problem. It's not a question of having an advisory council; it's having this kind of narrowly based, narrowly focused advisory council. It's also in some of the other details that the previous speaker neglected to mention. Number one, this council can advise the Governor on as few as two choices, and only two choices to be considered, thus narrowing the field of many competent and qualified and experienced individuals to serve on the board of regents. Also not mentioned by the previous speaker is the fact that three of the nation's leading accreditation organizations – specifically, the Association of Governing Boards of Universities and Colleges (AGB), the Western Association of Schools and Colleges (WASC), and the Accrediting Commission of Community and Junior Colleges (ACCJC) – all expressed serious concerns not with the idea of having an advisory council, but with having the kind of advisory council that is set up in this bill. They said that it runs counter to any other state and to national policy when looking at the free and independent administration of a university.

"Also neglected by the previous speaker was the fact that the President of the University of Hawai'i very specifically and adamantly urged us not to pass this kind of legislation. We are celebrating the 100th year of my alma mater and we say that we want independence and growth and autonomy for the University of Hawai'i, and yet when an issue comes about and they tell us exactly what they feel about it, we turn our backs and we ignore them. One would think that they would know better, certainly better than us sitting here and pontificating, and that they know about the administration of the university.

"The Governor had sent down pieces of legislation which did provide for a broad, community-wide, inclusive council that would have increased the number of people that would have been in the selection pool, but that was rejected by this Body.

"Also, and finally, the previous speaker neglected to mention that in this bill, we exempt the council from Chapter 92F, the sunshine provision. Here we are talking continuously about transparency and the public's right-to-know, and we have an obligation to know, not behind closed doors but full out in the open, the discussion and the individuals that are being considered. And yet, in this instance we say, 'It's okay to go behind closed doors and not to let the public know until after the decision has been made.' Thus, disallowing any input either from the university or from the public at-large.

"Madam President, I think that we all want to see the best state university that we can have. We want to see the best, most qualified, most dedicated regents that we can have. We certainly want to have as much community input as we can have, but ultimately, there has to be decision and decision responsibility, and that should fall on the executive branch as it always has, and as it does in nearly all of the other states.

"So, for this and other reasons, I urge my colleagues to take a look at this, and if you're really concerned about our university, and if you're concerned about the statements that our university has made, and if you take into consideration what national organizations responsible for the accreditation of our university have said, then you will not vote today to override the Governor's veto.

"Thank you, Madam President."

At 2:34 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 2:34 o'clock p.m.

At this time, the President made the following observation:

"Members, a 'yes' vote is to override the Governor's veto. A 'no' vote is to sustain the veto. The motion before you is to move to override."

Senator Inouye rose in opposition and said:

"Madam President, I have comments I wish to be entered into the Journal, and I rise to speak against the veto of S.B. No. 14. Thank you."

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Inouye's remarks read as follows:

"Madam President, I rise in opposition to S.B. No. 14.

"I am very troubled that the candidate advisory council will be exempt from Chapter 92, which relates to the Sunshine Law. I also believe that the process is too broad and that perhaps the Governor, Senate President, and Speaker should be sufficient to select Council members."

At 2:35 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 2:36 o'clock p.m.

The Chair made the following announcement:

"Members, again, a 'yes' vote is to support the motion, which is to override. A 'no' vote is to sustain the veto. A Roll Call vote has been requested."

The motion was put by the Chair and, Roll Call vote having been requested, the veto of S.B. No. 14, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE UNIVERSITY OF HAWAII," was overridden by not less than two-thirds vote of all members to which the Senate is entitled, on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 17. Ayes with Reservations, 1 (Gabbard). Noes, 7 (Bunda, Espero, Hemmings, Inouye, Menor, Slom, Trimble). Excused, 1 (Whalen).

At 2:38 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 2:40 o'clock p.m.

S.B. No. 1063, S.D. 1, H.D. 1:

In accordance with Article III, Section 17, of the Hawaii State Constitution, Senator Hee moved that the Senate override the veto of S.B. No. 1063, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, as contained in Gov. Msg. No. 794, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Hee rose in support of the override and said:

"This bill remedies the problem that the Legislature and the State of Hawai'i was faced with previously when the Governor appointed Bev Harbin to the House of Representatives. It has been said over and over again that Ms. Harbin did not become a member of the Democratic Party until three days prior to her appointment.

"This bill requires the governor, in filling vacancies in the State Senate, the House, the U.S. Senate, to select from a list of three prospective appointees nominated by the political party of the prior incumbent. It requires prospective appointees to be members of the nominating political parties at the time of submission of their names to the governor. Effective on approval, it requires prospective appointees to be residents of the same electoral district as the prior incumbent at the time of the appointment.

"I urge my colleagues to vote to override the veto. Thank you."

Senator Trimble rose to speak against the override and said:

"Madam President, I rise to speak not to override the Governor's veto.

"Politics, politics, politics. You know, most of the people have had too much of politics, and that's what this is all about. I think if you ask the people out there, when the Legislature's in session they want the best representation they can get. And that really isn't politics. Politics is important when the individuals in that party are running for the election. They try and distinguish between what is on the right, which is where Sam is, and on the left, which is where you guys are. But, after the election is over, after the people have cast their vote, they want to be represented by the person that will do the best job for them. And part of that means talking to you guys. Part of that means trying to figure out what will bring society together.

"So, what we want is we want a governor that has the best interest of the people in mind. The people that belong to the Democratic Party that have a card in the Democratic Party is not more than seven or eight percent of our population. The same is true with the Republicans. Most people out there that vote are independent, and they want somebody to represent them that looks like them, that understands their problems, and that is the person the governor should appoint – somebody that understands their problems and will represent them, irregardless of political party.

"So, when you think about voting on this bill, I want you to think about what is the vote that would represent the people. It's not about politics, politics, politics. Thank you.

"Madam President, could we have a Roll Call vote?"

Senator Hee rose and said:

"I couldn't agree more with the previous speaker, because the fact of the matter is, if the people had wanted the best person to represent them in the district, it would not have been Bev Harbin. The fact of the matter is, the Governor, when she found out about Bev Harbin, asked Bev Harbin herself to step down. So, I suppose one could draw from that conclusion, at least in that example, clearly she wished she didn't make the mistake that she had made.

"If it is in the best interest of the people in mind, then clearly the people have spoken following the election. Bev Harbin, who ran for reelection, didn't win. I would urge my colleagues to override the Governor's veto and to prevent a mistake like that from happening again.

"Thank you."

Senator Ihara rose in support of the override and said:

"Madam President, I rise in support of the motion to override.

"Madam President, I am in support of overriding the Governor's veto on this bill. I believe S.B. No. 1063 is needed to establish a fundamental principle for filling legislative vacancies. S.B. No. 1063 supports the principle that the political party of a vacating legislator should have significant input in the filling of legislative vacant seats. This principle would apply to all political parties – Republican, Democrat, and other parties. I believe this principle for filling legislative vacancies is needed in order to limit possible abuses, actual or perceived, by either party's governor.

"This measure would eliminate the possibility of a legislative replacement being a party member in name only, as some have suggested was the case with the seat vacated by Representative Hiraki in 2004. This measure would also significantly reduce the possibility of a governor appointing a replacement legislator who later switches parties, as was done twice before. Republican legislators appointed by Democratic governors in 1986 to fill Republican seats vacated by Senator Soares and Representative Ikeda, switched parties. These party switches allowed Democrats to gain control of former Republican seats in the House and Senate.

“This bill will reduce political mischief in filling legislative vacancies, and for this reason, I urge a ‘yes’ vote to override the veto in S.B. No. 1063. Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Trimble rose in rebuttal and said:

“Madam President, I rise in brief, very brief rebuttal.

“I appreciate the remarks of the previous speaker because they highlighted the core of the problem – and that is politics, politics, politics. The abuses cited were with previous governors, not the present one. So, by all means, keep this bill alive. Keep it in your hip pocket and when the people decide to elect a Democrat governor, bring it out and pass it then.

“Thank you.”

The President announced:

“Again, members, an ‘aye’ vote is a vote to override the veto, a ‘no’ is to sustain.”

The motion was put by the Chair and, Roll Call vote having been requested, the veto of S.B. No. 1063, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO LEGISLATIVE VACANCIES,” was overridden by not less than two-thirds vote of all members to which the Senate is entitled, on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 20. Noes, 4 (Gabbard, Hemmings, Slom, Trimble). Excused, 1 (Whalen).

S.B. No. 1642, S.D. 1, H.D. 1:

In accordance with Article III, Section 17, of the Hawaii State Constitution, Senator Hee moved that the Senate override the veto of S.B. No. 1642, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, as contained in Gov. Msg. No. 793, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Hee rose to speak in support of the override and said:

“Madam President, it is appropriate that on International Workers’ Day I stand in support of the override of the Governor’s veto of S.B. No. 1642.

“S.B. No. 1642 represents the essence of collective bargaining. Collective bargaining is premised on labor-management harmony which is achieved through joint decision-making. The Supreme Court had stated it as follows, quote: ‘For if Section 89-9(a) were considered disjunctively, on the one hand, all matters affecting the terms and conditions of employment would be referred to the bargaining table, regardless of employer rights. On the other hand, Section 89-9(d), viewed in isolation, would preclude nearly every matter affecting terms and conditions of employment from the scope of bargaining.’ In order to effect the intent of Chapter 89, there needs to be a clear communication of the rights of the parties to negotiate.

“The case of Hannemann v UPW resulted with an imbalance in the collective bargaining. S.B. No. 1642 addresses that imbalance. Under Hannemann v UPW, the Hawai‘i Supreme Court ruled that there is no requirement for the City and County of Honolulu to negotiate the effects of a unilateral transfer of employees from Pearl City to Downtown Honolulu. The troubling nature of the decision was the fact that the Supreme Court relied not upon whether or not the parties had actually negotiated the transfer, but on the language of Chapter 89-9(d).

Over the course of collective bargaining, the state and counties have negotiated these rights listed in 89-9(d) with the unions and received concessions as a result of these negotiations. With the ruling of the Hawai‘i Supreme Court, all of the negotiations, more importantly, concessions, which may have been given by the workers, are now gone.

“S.B. No. 1642 merely does the following: It says that provisions of 89-9(d), also known as management rights, shall not be used to invalidate any provisions of the collective bargaining agreements in existence after June 30, 2007. This is fair because the parties have negotiated and have given concessions, neither directions, in order to come up with the managing document, which is the collective bargaining agreement.

“The next provision of S.B. No. 1642 states that it shall not preclude negotiations over the procedures and criteria on permissive subjects of bargaining. The, quote, ‘shall not preclude,’ end quote, addresses the essence of Hannemann v UPW. The language used in this section speaks to procedure. In footnote 13 of Hannemann v UPW, the Hawai‘i Supreme Court recognized that in fact the parties could negotiate over procedures governing the promotion and transfer of employees. What this amendment does is it codifies footnote 13.

“What is the difference between permissive versus mandatory? Very simple – permissive subjects of bargaining requires two parties in order to even begin the discussion. A prohibitive practice charge or unfair labor practice charge is not appropriate as to permissive subjects of bargaining. This is because the subject matter of the discussion is not mandatory, but merely permissive.

“Finally, the last provision relates to arbitration. If there is any violation of the contract negotiated, it would be arbitrated – and that is, of course, understood. For example, if you believe that management has violated the provision of an existing collective bargaining agreement, you should arbitrate it.

“The concern that somehow this law affects the transfer and the rights to designate in the case of emergency is absolutely false. The parties have negotiated many of those types of situations in the collective bargaining agreement and it has worked until today.

“So, why is it now that the City and County of Honolulu, in particular, finds it imperative to say that the change in law, which merely codifies what has happened in the past, is something that will prohibit public safety? That is completely disingenuous and without basis.

“So, in the interest of preserving one of the most important aspects of labor-management relations, it is the right to bargain over permissive subjects and to preserve that which you have made concessions for to date, that have not been challenged by management. Therefore, colleagues, the veto of S.B. No. 1642 must be overridden.

“Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the override and said:

“Madam President, I rise in opposition to overriding the Governor’s veto of S.B. No. 1642.

“First of all, let me say that I’m very proud and honored to have a very personal letter sent to me from Russell Okata of the HGEA, thanking me for my support of HGEA during the Session. I also received, as all of my colleagues did, this green sheet that basically says that the Chief of Police of the City and County of Honolulu, Chief of Police of the County of Maui, the Chief of Police of the County of Hawai'i, the Chief of Police of the County of Kauai, the Mayors of all four counties, law enforcement personnel and emergency responders are liars and telling falsehoods – that they don't know what they're talking about when they say that this bill, if allowed to stand, will interfere with management's rights to protect the public safety, county by county, throughout the State of Hawai'i.

"Now, let's see; let's get this straight. Um . . . so far this Session, this Senate has disregarded the wishes, very specific and very clear, of Native Hawaiian groups; we've disregarded the wishes and very specific points of environmentalist groups; we have disregarded the wishes of the general public and voters; today, a few minutes ago, we just disregarded the wishes of the University of Hawai'i President, administration, and national accreditation organizations; and now we want to disregard the wishes and the advice and the expertise and the background of the chiefs of police, the mayors of the four counties, and the first responders.

"We're saying that there's one group and one organization that knows better than all of them – that's the HGEA. Well, Madam President, I guess here are my keys to my office and to the Chamber. I guess we might as well just give them to the HGEA. Oh, wait a minute! They've already got them. So, I'll just hold on to my keys. We don't need to do that. That's what this is all about. Who is going to determine public safety? Those who have been elected and appointed to do so, or those who want to interfere with the management's rights and responsibilities to do that?

"We're told this is just a protection of contractual rights. We're told that this is a permissive bill. This is not a permissive bill. Nothing could be farther from the truth, and the supporters know it. The only permission here is if the union – if the union – agrees to any changes made. Otherwise, what the law has said is if there is anything in any collective bargaining agreement and we go to renegotiation or new negotiation, any part that was in any previous active collective bargaining agreement stays unless the union gives permission to remove it. So in other words, they keep everything that they've ever had and then they move into additional rights. And as the previous speaker said, if we don't like that, we can go to arbitration, but the arbitration processes hold this very same thing – that if there was something in a previous collective bargaining agreement, you cannot put that on the table to talk about it or discuss it. So, the only permissiveness here is one-sided and it is labor.

"Now, if you believe that there is really no purpose for management, if you sincerely believe that the police and the fire and the mayors and the first emergency responders are telling you falsehoods or that they don't know what they're talking about, and only the HGEA knows what they're talking about, then you will override this veto. But, if you are concerned about the public safety in this state, and if you are, at the least, in belief of what these people have said . . . it's unprecedented, we had all of the police chiefs down here – they don't lobby; they need time to protect us, but they thought it was important enough, and they thought it was clear enough what damage would be done here.

"So, you've got an opportunity not to override this veto, because if you do, you will be doing more than just giving a favor to a union. You are taking away the very important managerial rights that are so necessary in terms of public safety emergencies or disasters, which we have spent a lot of time talking about and appropriating funds for. We would not only blur the lines of distinction between labor and management – we will erase those lines. And it will only be labor – organized labor – that will determine where they want to go, when they want to do it, where they want to work, how they want to work, what they do. And if that's the case, we don't need the chiefs of police, we don't need the chiefs of fire, we don't need the first responders. But would you really do this? There is no other way to read this bill. You can say anything you want about it, but there is no other way, knowing labor law in the State of Hawai'i. This is not permissive on both sides. It is permissive on one side and one side only.

"I urge you to think about what you're doing before you vote to override, because you're not hurting the Governor, you're not taking power away from the Governor. You are disrespecting our law enforcement personnel and the home rule of each of the counties.

"Thank you, Madam President. I request a Roll Call vote."

The President made the following observation:

"Again, members, a 'yes' vote is to override the veto. A 'no' is to sustain it."

The motion was put by the Chair and, Roll Call vote having been requested, the veto of S.B. No. 1642, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO LABOR," was overridden by not less than two-thirds vote of all members to which the Senate is entitled, on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 20. Ayes with Reservations, 4 (Bunda, Kim, Nishihara, Sakamoto). Noes, 4 (Gabbard, Hemmings, Slom, Trimble). Excused, 1 (Whalen).

S.B. No. 1816, S.D. 1, H.D. 1:

In accordance with Article III, Section 17, of the Hawaii State Constitution, Senator Kokubun moved that the Senate override the veto of S.B. No. 1816, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, as contained in Gov. Msg. No. 803, seconded by Senator Tokuda.

Senator Kokubun rose to support the override and said:

"Madam President, the objections that are raised to this bill actually point out, I guess, one of the disconnects here. This bill, in my mind, recognizes the importance of Native Hawaiian cultural protocol. The kahuna nui for Mo'okini Heiau has been included in the language that deeded the land from Castle and Cooke to the state. This has long been – many, many generations – the responsibility of a certain family to look after Mo'okini Heiau and, in fact, the other sites in the Kohala Historic Sites State Monument. I think it's important that we recognize that and the fact that Auntie Momi Lum has been doing a good job as reflected in the fact that it continues to be a point of education for our young people in teaching the cultural values of this very, very important monument and site in North Kohala.

"So, I think the fact that this was unique – the language with respect to the kahuna nui of the Mo'okini Heiau as found in the deed – sets it apart, and certainly state law can recognize Native Hawaiian cultural protocol.

"Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the override as follows:

"Madam President, I rise in opposition to the override of this veto.

"I supported this bill in our Committee, and I thought that the concept and the intent of the bill was a good one. I don't quarrel with that, and I still don't. What I've had to wrestle with since, and why I support the Governor's veto is, if we were truly trying to seek historic preservation, then in fact we would not pass legislation that benefits one individual and gives subsidy and grants-in-aid to one individual with not even looking at additional individuals, organizations, and even the Office of Hawaiian Affairs. Instead, this is very special legislation, and as good as one individual may be, testimony has shown and the discussion has proven that if we're going to talk about historic preservation, then it should be about the preservation and not about preserving someone's individual grant-in-aid.

"Thank you, Madam President."

The President announced:

"Again, members, 'aye' is to override the veto, 'no' is to sustain."

The motion was put by the Chair and, Roll Call vote having been requested, the veto of S.B. No. 1816, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HISTORIC PRESERVATION," was overridden by not less than two-thirds vote of all members to which the Senate is entitled, on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 20. Noes, 4 (Gabbard, Hemmings, Slom, Trimble). Excused, 1 (Whalen).

S.B. No. 1956:

In accordance with Article III, Section 17, of the Hawaii State Constitution, Senator Hee moved that the Senate override the veto of S.B. No. 1956, as contained in Gov. Msg. No. 787, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Hee rose in support of the override and said:

"Well, really quick, Madam President, the bill is self-explanatory. It changes the electoral vote to national popular vote, or in other words, had this been during the last presidential election, the President would have been Al Gore and not George Bush. That's as simple as I can make it.

"Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Hemmings rose in opposition and stated:

"Madam President, I rise to speak against the motion to override the Governor's veto of S.B. No. 1956.

"I suggest that since you're so concerned about the last election, that the Majority Party really analyze what this bill does, because it would have far-reaching consequences way beyond the last election. Abolishing the electoral college or reducing it to irrelevance by doing an end run around the U.S. Constitution to an interstate compact, as proposed by this bill, is the wrong approach to addressing what is so rare a problem – a candidate winning the presidency but not the popular vote. This, in short, will hurt Hawai'i because we are a small state.

"Such a fundamental change to the system enshrined in the U.S. Constitution by the founders should be sought through established process of amendment whereby three-quarters of all states must agree. It should not be effectuated by as few as 11 large states through a process described by the New York Times as an ingenious way around the U.S. Constitution.

"Madam President, colleagues, there are many ingenious people out there with ingenious schemes. The tried and true system was established by our founding fathers for good reason. It's the same reason that we have a United States Senate constituted by two-member representatives from the districts rather than by populations.

"Had this concept been in effect in Hawai'i since Statehood, Hawaii's electoral votes would have gone to a candidate whom the majority of Hawai'i voters did not vote for in four of the 12 presidential elections. I hope the Majority Party listens to this closely because here's what the results would have been – Hawaii's electoral votes would have gone to Richard Nixon rather than Humphries in 1968; Hawaii's four electoral votes would have gone to Ronald Reagan rather than Carter in 1980; Hawaii's four electoral votes would have gone to George H.W. Bush rather than Dukakis in 1988; and to George W. Bush rather than Kerry in 2004.

"Think about it. Think what you're doing here. Think about the future. This bill is a knee-jerk reaction by shortsighted people to a problem that rarely exists and will make things worse. What we're doing with this bill, Majority Party members, is you're pledging your electoral votes to big states. You're giving up your right to have your electoral college members vote the way the people of this state wanted you to vote.

"As was just pointed out, you're giving your electoral votes to the other party. Do you really want to do that? As a matter of principle, but as a matter of function to the founding fathers who were so brilliant in devising the electoral college, Hawaii's electoral votes should go to the candidates who the majority of the people of Hawai'i vote for. I urge you to think about this because the right thing for you to do is to vote 'no' against the motion to override this veto and sustain the Governor's very intelligent, well thought-out veto that more than anything else, protects your constituents and their majority requests in four of the last 12 elections since statehood.

"Please join common sense in voting 'no' against the motion to override the veto. I urge a Roll Call vote, Madam President."

The President announced:

"Again, members, an 'aye' vote is a vote to override the veto, a 'no' is to sustain."

The motion was put by the Chair and, Roll Call vote having been requested, the veto of S.B. "Madam President, I have written remarks on Conf. Com. Rep. No. 41 that I'd like to have submitted into the Journal in support."

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Baker's remarks read as follows:

"Madam President, I rise to speak in favor of this measure.

"During the first 10 weeks of 2007 we were all shocked by the news that one pedestrian per week was killed on our streets and sidewalks. Overwhelmingly, the victims were elderly.

"Through this bill, we begin to address this grave danger in our communities by providing $3 million over the next biennium for the Department of Transportation to work with nonprofits and the counties to improve pedestrian safety.

"Madam President, of the $3 million, $1.8 million will go toward recalibrating traffic signals to lengthen crossing times, accelerating the installation of traffic countdown timers for the most dangerous intersections, developing a statewide public awareness campaign, enforcing crosswalk laws for cars and pedestrians, and implementing pilot projects such as pedestrian-activated flashing signals, in-pavement warning lights, portable hand-carried signs and flags, and advanced crosswalk markers.

"The remaining $1.2 million will be provided to the counties for traffic countdown timers and other pedestrian safety improvements on a 1:1 matching funds basis: City and County of Honolulu – $600,000; Hawai'i County – $300,000; Kaua'i County – $150,000; and Maui County – $150,000.

"Special thanks goes to AARP Hawai'i staff, volunteers, and community partners who a year ago gathered at intersections across Hawai'i to conduct 'walkability' assessments along many of Hawai'i's busiest streets. AARP identified many intersections where the timeframes to safely cross the street were too short for Hawai'i's elderly, disabled, and young pedestrians. AARP Hawai'i kept this message before us through consistent advocacy this Session.

"Your vote in favor of S.B. No. 1191 will make Hawai'i's roadways safer for pedestrians. Our action supports Kamehameha's famous law, Ke Kanawai Mamalahoe, the Law of the Splintered Paddle, which assures that every man, woman, and child is able to travel freely and in peace. This law is established in article IX, section 10, of the Hawai'i State Constitution.

"Madam President, I urge all of my colleagues to join me in voting in favor of this measure. Thank you."

Senator Baker rose in support and said:

"Madam President, I have written remarks on Conf. Com. Rep. No. 117 that I'd like to have submitted into the Journal in support."

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Baker's remarks read as follows:

"Madam President, I rise to speak in favor of this measure.

"Medicaid payments in Hawai'i and nationally are insufficient to cover the actual costs of care. The disparity between payments and actual costs contributes to the health care crisis we are facing. To make up for the financial shortfall, health care providers must internally shift revenue received from other sources to cover the unpaid costs of providing care to Medicaid recipients.

"However, those other sources of funding are becoming less and less available. For example, Medicare payments also do not cover the cost of care. Also, many uninsured patients do not have the ability to pay for the health care services they receive. In addition, health insurance plans are being pressured to keep premiums down, so their ability to raise payments to health care providers is limited.

"The Legislative Reference Bureau issued a report in December 2006 entitled, 'Medicaid and Quest Provider Payment and Reimbursement Rates,' which concluded that providers often receive insufficient payments for health care from government programs.

"In addition, the Hawai'i Health Care Task Force, including a broad representation of interests, recommended that payments to providers through state government insurance programs should be reviewed and increased to address the impact of inadequate reimbursements.

"Medical care services, especially for specialty care coverage in rural areas and on the neighbor islands, have reached crisis proportions. Hawaii's physicians servicing Medicaid eligible persons have been adversely affected by the inadequacy of Medicaid reimbursements and payments.

"This bill is intended to take a step toward restoring financial viability of the health care industry in Hawai'i. This measure appropriates $8 million dollars in fiscal years 08 and 09 to increase Medicaid reimbursements to health care providers in Hawai'i. It is in the public interest to ensure that health care payments made with state funds or controlled by the state are sufficient to cover the actual costs of care. The monies appropriated through this bill will allow us to receive additional matching federal funds.

"Madam President, I urge all of my colleagues to join me in voting in favor of this measure. Thank you."

"The EAST (environmental and spatial technology) student-centered, project-based learning model has been recognized nationally as an innovative, relevant and successful approach to education. This initiative is now a proven model over the last six years within our Hawai'i public schools. I was fortunate to be able to promote this program on Maui when I worked with the county several years ago. It has been nurtured by the Maui Economic Development Board and their Women in Technology program. Delivered from within the DOE, EAST provides students with hands on learning and application of some of the most current, cutting edge technologies available for problem-solving to address community issues and concerns.

"EAST students routinely interact with hardware and software in animation, computer aided design, engineering design, visualization, database design, webpage design, programming, office automation, global positioning systems, and geographic information systems. In the process of solving problems they learn to become creative, intuitive, adaptable learners who can solve unpredictable, real-world problems.

"Seven project EAST labs have been established in Hawai'i – Chiefess Kamakaha Middle School on Kauai; Maui High School, Baldwin High School, King Kekaulike High School, Lahainaluna High School, and Kihei Charter School on Maui; and Kea'au High School on Hawai'i. Since 2001, Hawai'i students have won a number of awards at the National EAST Conference, competing successfully against approximately 200 schools in six other states.

"The purpose of this Act is to maintain the project EAST program in existing schools and to expand the program to schools statewide. Over 80 percent of EAST participants go on to higher education in technology fields. EAST has demonstrated its value and sustainability over the years. And it attracts students who may have had difficulty learning in traditional ways. It challenges and enables student learning and achievement.

"Madam President, I urge all of my colleagues to join me in voting in favor of this measure. Thank you."

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and said:

"Madam President, I rise in opposition.

"Colleagues, this bill, in part, gives the University of Hawai'i the authority to issue revenue bonds. This authority should not be lightly given. If we look around at other state departments that have this authority – highways, airports, harbors – they pledge land as collateral. And in fact they're in pretty good position because they happen to be a monopolist either in the harbor or the airport. So, we have very little to worry about in terms of knowing that somehow they will be able to come up with the income stream necessary to pay off these bonds.

"It is a very different position when we give this authority to the University of Hawai'i, which is not in the position of a monopolist to raise money. And we might find ourselves with the University of Hawai'i pledging collateral far in excess of the revenue, I mean in terms of the amount that is owed, and that we will have to come in at some later date to bail it out just to keep property and assets in the hands of the public.

"Thank you."

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Madam President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"We've talked about this bill several times before. There are ongoing negotiations about Kukui Gardens. We are injecting the state and the taxpayers into this project. As has been reported in the news, it's $25 million, but that's only half of the story. It's $25 million this year, $26 million next year, $51 million initially in general obligation bonds – general obligation to the people of this state to purchase or to have an interest in this property.

"We should allow the negotiations to continue. We should have our input in the negotiations, but the state should not be acquiring more property at taxpayer expense."

Senator Baker rose in support of the measure and said:

"Madam President, I rise in support of this measure.

"Madam President, this measure comes before us because the state has a unique opportunity to purchase land under an affordable housing project and keep it as affordable housing in perpetuity. Indeed, we're purchasing part of the parcel and another non-profit entity, who has agreed to keep the property as an affordable project for a significant period of time, has the other piece of it. This will preserve the state's option to pick up the rest of the parcel at a future date.

"I would remind my colleagues that if we were to purchase raw land and put up units, we would be looking at between $300 and $400 million to do a project like that one that we are able to acquire with only $25 million in general obligation bonds.

“There are a number of very low income seniors and others living in this project and it’s very important to preserve it in perpetuity for the purpose for which it is being acquired – low-income affordable housing.

“Thank you.”

Senator Chun Oakland rose to support the measure and said:

“Madam President, I also stand in support of this measure.

“In addition to the previous speaker’s comments, I would also like to share with the Senate that the $25 million that is being looked at is actually supportive of the negotiations that are going on. It is a request that was made by the administration. Thank you.”

Senator Baker rose in support and said:

“Madam President, may I have remarks in support of this measure inserted into the Journal?”

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Baker’s remarks read as follows:

“Madam President, colleagues, this is exactly the kind of bill that we have the obligation to our constituents to pursue as a part of our multi-pronged attack on the traffic crisis in Hawaii. Traffic congestion continues to be one of the biggest concerns for the people of Maui. Traffic is not just an inconvenience to commuters, but it is also a detriment to Maui’s businesses and a threat to public safety. We need to find ways to improve and increase the capacity of our highways without the expense and visual blight of building more lanes. This measure does exactly that by using communications and information technology to resolve traffic control issues and reduce congestion by maximizing traffic flow.

“This is a wise, prudent step toward alleviating some of the traffic congestion that bogs down our State daily and I urge all of my colleagues to support it. Thank you.”

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure as follows:

“Colleagues, my opposition is very narrowly focused. It relates specifically to references for the building of OHA’s headquarters at Pier 1. I’ve talked about that two or three times before in this Session. From my perspective, their offices would be more appropriately located in the Capitol District, not at Pier 1.

“I encourage you to read the latest issue of Hawai’i Business. It has a nice editorial piece by former Governor Ariyoshi who says, ‘Honolulu Harbor is a non-renewable resource. We can build condominiums in many places, but we only have one Honolulu Harbor.’ He suggests that we step back, think about it, and preserve our maritime lands for maritime use.

“Thank you.”

"Madam President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"Again, this bill further expands the beverage container tax measure. People were smart enough to switch from smaller containers to larger containers, but this bill will now penalize them for doing that and continues to add employees to the Department of Health; add costs to the recycling program; does not show any signs of helping the landfill situation or the original purposes for recycling; maintains at least a $25 million surplus within the state; allows the state to benefit from the recycling, thus adding to the cost and adding to the cost of consumers greatly.

"Thank you."

Senator Baker rose in support and said:

“Madam President, may I have some remarks in support of this measure inserted into the Journal. Thank you.”

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Baker’s remarks read as follows:

“Madam President, S.B. No. 1882, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, reduces the tax burden for low to middle income resident taxpayers by establishing a graduated food/excise tax credit.

“S.B. No. 1882 is a properly structured income tax credit for food targeting lower income individuals. This targeted tax relief is estimated to cost $24 million, and will benefit over 400,000 or 60 percent of Hawaii’s taxpayers.

“Madam President, the most recent Tax Review Commission recommended that rather than exempting food and other items from the GET (which the Tax Review Commission found to be undesirable), ‘if the Legislature finds it desirable to grant such tax relief on equity grounds, it should pursue those goals either through low-income credits against income taxes or through the appropriation and expenditure process, which enhances transparency and accountability.’ S.B. No. 1882 does exactly that.

“This progressive tax relief legislation is accomplished by expanding the currently existing low-income refundable tax credit and reinstating the ‘refundable food/excise tax credit.’ The measure:

- Creates additional income brackets and raises the income cap to increase the number of people who qualify for the credit; and
- Raises the amount of the tax credit for each bracket to provide greater tax relief for lower income families.

“Colleagues, I believe that this measure provides tax relief in a meaningful way to people who really need it – the working poor and the folks who are struggling to make ends meet. They need the relief this measure can provide and they need it now.

“Madam President, I urge all of my colleagues to join me in voting in favor of S.B. No. 1882, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1. Mahalo.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 113 was adopted and S.B. No. 1882, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

At 3:43 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 3:44 o'clock p.m.

Senator Slom rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

"Madam President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

"You know, I was reminded of this about an hour or so ago on page 39, under 11, Miscellaneous Communications, Misc. Com. No. 2 – Miscellaneous Communication from the Senate President, that would be you, and the Speaker of the House in extending our Session, extending the time in which committee reports were allowed to be filed from 12 midnight on Friday until 12 noon on Saturday. Madam President, I've been around this Capitol for a long time, and I remember the good old days when we approached the deadline and we had electric clocks with plugs and the gentlemanly thing to do is to reach up and unplug the clock at 11:59 and 55 seconds. And that was fair because everybody was in the room and everybody saw that. Making a miscellaneous communication, which is now being filed three days after the fact, I think begs the question of whether or not we really have followed the rules of the road this Session, and particularly the intent.

"I keep mentioning, as if I have to because my colleagues remind me, I'm definitely from the old school, and the old school says if you have a deadline for something, you meet the deadline. If you don't meet the deadline, it's over. That's to encourage people to be responsible and do due diligence and do their reporting on time.

"I can remember in my first or second Session when we all gathered in the House Chambers for the last part of discussion and debate on committee reports, conference reports, signing those reports, and I remember that the Senate and House Clerks were there to receive same. And I remember quite vividly that some of those reports were handed in at 12:01 a.m. and the Clerks at the time refused to accept them because the rules said we adjourned at 12:00 midnight. And because they refused, some of those bills and some of those Conferences, even though there was a lot of explanation – well, we were running across the room, or somebody was absent, or somebody had to go to the bathroom, or this or that or whatever – we still maintained the rule.

"I think we have a real problem this Session because of the waiver of so many rules. I'm not saying that we can't do it. Obviously, the Majority can. The Majority has made the rules. But I would suggest that it sends the wrong message not only to people in this Body who may have not gotten the Miscellaneous Communication prior to it being issued, but also watching in Committees as bills that died, mysteriously and miraculously came back to life – not once, not twice, sometimes three times this Session. And it was all perfectly legal. And again we had are continuing charade of conflicts of interest and ethics approval and waivers.

"You know, I think we can only fool the public so long. We know what the intent of rules are. We know what deadlines are. And if we don't adhere to them, how can we expect the public to adhere to them? So, I think, Madam Chair, that, as I say, legally there probably is no leg to stand on because we make the rules; we break the rules; we change the rules; we waive the rules. I think that we all should be doing a much better job.

"Once we set a calendar, once we set a deadline, once we have a vote, and everybody understands what that means, we should do that and we should stick by it.

"Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Baker rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

"Madam President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

"Madam President, colleagues, it's unfortunate that the good representative from Hawai'i Kai didn't stay up with us until midnight that night to see exactly what did happen. The President and Speaker of the House addressed the entire body, noting that we had finished our work in terms of meeting our deadlines and voting on the conference drafts, but due to the volume of bills, some of those measures didn't have the technical opportunity to have them completed by the Clerk's Office. It wasn't that decisions weren't made, the decisions were made, but some of those reports could not be physically printed and produced.

"The Clerks were there and accepted everything that was ready. There could be no more decisions made after midnight – there were no more decisions made after midnight, and things weren't changed. But to handicap the Legislature because of ministerial kinds of actions that needed to be taken, our Leadership, both the House and the Senate, felt like that shouldn't be the case and we would lose good measures that needed to go forward.

"Yes, we make the rules and we can change the rules. But it wasn't changing the rules because we met the deadlines in terms of making the decisions, and I believe that our Leadership acted appropriately in full view of everybody that was there. It was not something that was done after. This, quite frankly, putting it on our OD is the formal piece of it, but everything was done out in the open, in the view of the public, there was the media there, and there were others.

“It’s just unfortunate that some of our colleagues chose not to be available and not to participate in the process up until the end. Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Slom rose in rebuttal as follows:

“Madam President, just a brief rebuttal just to let the kind Senator from Maui know that I was awake and alert and that we had 60 working days to get our business finished. And the fact of the matter is that we didn’t do it! We can make all the excuses we want. And the next time that I have a problem getting my tax returns in or something that’s required because my computer broke down, or the mail didn’t pick up my material, or copier didn’t work, I certainly want the good Senator from Maui to stand behind me and say, ‘That’s okay, it was just ministerial.’

“We enforce deadlines on everyone else in this state and we should set the example by meeting them ourselves. It’s not that we didn’t have enough time! It’s not that people didn’t show up at the right time! It’s that we didn’t get it done. Why? Because we were haggling and arguing amongst ourselves and between our good colleagues over in the House.

“Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Hooser rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

“Madam President, I rise on a point of personal privilege, please.

“I don’t want to belabor the subject, but I’m also from the old school, and in the old school you show up when your responsibilities call you to show up. And I want to repeat for the record that a number, actually, on the Minority side, did not show up, were not there to represent their colleagues, and if they had been there, they could have spoken directly to the President, directly to the Speaker, directly to Leadership on both sides to express any concerns that they had.

“So I find the objection at this point in time, quite frankly, a little bit ludicrous. Thank you.”

Senator Ige rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

“The Minority Leader last week had mentioned a concern about Gov. Msg. No. 693, and I just wanted to have entered into the Journal a status report of Gov. Msg. No. 693 which reflects the actions taken by the Senate Health Committee. I also wanted to have in the Journal the record of votes and would like to note that there was bipartisan unanimous decision to not advise and consent to this Governor’s nomination.

“I also wanted to share with the Minority Leader some of the misinformation that the Senate Committee on Health reviewed and used this Session in dealing with many of these issues involving the State Health Planning and Development Agency, otherwise known as SHPDA. First of all, I’m providing copies of three documents that I hope will help the Minority Leader with his homework on the next time he needs to deal with SHPDA. First is a copy of HRS 323D, Section 43, Certificate of Need, which provides the statutory framework for the certificate of need process. Next, I did want to provide a copy of Hawai’i Administrative Rules, Title 11, Chapter 186, SHPDA Certificate of Need Program, which outlines specifically what the process involves in the administrative rules that provide for the certificate of need process. And I would note specifically, that in Subchapter 3, Criteria for Agency Reviews, it specifically lists 12 criteria that any certificate of need should be judged on, and in fact it admonishes the advisory committee to not look at anything other than these 12 criteria in evaluating certificate of need applications presented to the agency.

“And finally, I just wanted to provide the misinformation to the Minority Leader concerning the SHPDA council members orientation manual, which explicitly talks about the fact that . . . and I would like to note on the 12 criteria that popularity amongst the community is not one of the criteria, political pressure from elected leaders is not a criteria, and political posturing is not a criteria for decision making. And in fact, if he was to review the council members’ orientation guide, it explicitly prohibits ex parte contacts with anyone involved with any of the applications, which was one of the reasons why the nominee was rejected.

“So I just wanted to provide this misinformation to the Minority Leader so that he could do some of his homework. I’m certain that any of the Health Committee members would be more than willing to tutor the Minority Leader should he wish to pursue SHPDA issues in the future. It’s unfortunate that his tutor, although she may be an attorney, is not fit to serve on any of the advisory committees.

“And finally, I also would like to note that I’m quite confident I could convince my 11-year-old son to offer free-of-charge surfing lessons to the Minority Leader – at least lessons on surfing the Internet – because all of these documents are clearly identified on the website that have been put together and made available by the hardworking public servants at the agency. And I clearly would invite the Minority Leader to review more carefully the information provided on the website.

“Thank you.”

The Chair having so ordered, a record of the vote and the status of Gov. Msg. No. 693 are identified as ATTACHMENT “B” to the Journal of this day.

Senator Hemmings rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

“Are you surprised that I’m rising on a point of personal privilege, Madam President?”

“I love you guys – really do. The chutzpah and the gall you have in insulting the intelligence of the people of Hawai’i by what you do here, especially insulting the intelligence of the people of Maui who so desperately and, yes, people are dying. They’re dying on Maui because they don’t have a well-rounded medical care system.

“I’ll tell you what I do know. I do know that in the 1980s, when I was in the House of Representatives, the federal government got rid of the CON process as a mandate because it wasn’t working. I do know that most other states who have the CON process have it very narrowly defined mostly for long-term care facilities. I do know that most other states do not have a medical care monopoly as they have for the poor people on Maui where the state is operating a hospital with no choice or no opportunity for the people of Maui. I do know that the people of Maui overwhelmingly want a second hospital there but this, in my estimation, antitrust CON process doesn’t allow it to be there.

“So, in spite of the insults from the previous speaker – personal insults – I wished he dealt with the issue. And the issue is, what is best for the people of this state, more specifically in this instance, what is safe and best for the people of Maui. It seems the people of Maui know what’s best for them, because everything I’ve heard from them is that they do want a second choice of hospital.

“But we know what this is all about. Previous speakers today really enunciated who’s running this Legislature. It’s not us. It’s a handful of political leaders and the HGEA who don’t want to see their hospital challenged by a private sector hospital. That’s why our harbors are empty – because we don’t want private sector partnership to put in marinas. We’re the last state in the nation. That’s why for 20 years this Legislature never moved on quarantine reform – because we didn’t want to upset a few jobs out at the Quarantine Station. And the list goes on and on and on and on.

“So, to the previous speaker, you can insult me personally all you want, but the facts speak for themselves of what you did and why you did it. And I’ll guarantee you the people of Maui know exactly what’s going on in spite of the smokescreen of SHPDA and the CON process that protect a state monopoly that is failing miserably.

“Thank you, Madam President.”

ADJOURNMENT

Gov. Msg. No. 808, dated May 1, 2007, transmitting her statement of objections to House Bill No. 854 which she has returned to the House of Representatives without her approval and which reads as follows:

“EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

May 1, 2007

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 854

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fourth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 854, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Continued Temporary Total Disability Benefits to Injured Employees.'

This bill allows the continuation of temporary total disability (TTD) benefits until the Director of Labor and Industrial Relations (Director) issues a decision terminating the benefits or until the employee's treating physician determines that the employee is able to resume work and the employer has made a bona fide offer of work within the employee's medical restrictions.

Currently, pursuant to section 386-31(b), Hawaii Revised Statutes, an employer/insurance carrier (employer) may terminate TTD benefits upon order of the Director or if an employee is able to return to work. The existing law provides that an employer must notify the employee and the Director of its intent to terminate TTD benefits at least two weeks prior to the date when the last payment is to be made. Section 386-31(b) also requires the notice to inform the employee that the employee may make a written request to the Director for a hearing if the employee disagrees with the employer's decision to terminate TTD benefits. Current law protects against unwarranted early termination of benefits by allowing the Labor Director to assess a twenty percent penalty against an employer who fails to continue paying an injured worker.

While I support the intent to ensure that injured workers collecting TTD benefits receive their benefits in a timely manner while preventing employers from unreasonably denying or delaying payment of TTD benefits, this bill is objectionable for the following reasons:

(1) It does not recognize that the twenty percent penalty already deters employers from terminating TTD benefits unless there is a valid and good faith basis to do so.

(2) Although this bill entitles an employer to a credit, any credit is limited to the amount paid to the employee after notification by the Director of the Director's determination. Any benefits paid prior to the decision of the Director are specifically not recoverable by the employer. Because most employers will immediately terminate benefits once they receive notice of the Director's decision, the period of credit allowed by the bill is an extremely short period of time, and more importantly, specifically excludes the period in which the employee collected benefits to which the employee was not entitled. In other words, even if the Director determines that TTD benefits should have been terminated at some prior date, an employer would not be entitled to a credit nor would it be allowed to recover any of the TTD benefits paid prior to the decision of the Director, thereby allowing a employee to retain benefits to which the employee was not entitled.

(3) The bill would needlessly increase the costs of workers' compensation claims and would also create a disincentive to return to work. More specifically, it may encourage certain employees to continue to contest returning to work because even if the Director determines the employee should and could have returned to work, the employee bears no risk for failing to do so, as the benefits the employee was paid are non-recoverable by the employer.

(4) It provides a process for an employee, but not an employer, to request a hearing. Pursuant to this bill, an employer cannot terminate TTD benefits unless the Director orders the termination of benefits or the employee's treating physician determines that the employee is able to resume work and the employer has made a bona fide offer of work within the employee's medical restrictions. The bill, however, does not provide a specific process for the employer to request a hearing, establishing inequitable treatment of the employer versus the employee through this provision.

(5) Finally, this bill establishes disincentives for an employee to return to work within a reasonable time since their wage benefits continue as long as they stay away from their job and their treating medical provider allows them to do so. Since the employee must initiate the request for a Department of Labor and Industrial Relations hearing, the bill is silent as to what happens if the employee fails to request a hearing.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 854 without my approval.

Respectfully,

/s/ Linda Lingle

Gov. Msg. No. 809, dated May 1, 2007, transmitting her statement of objections to House Bill No. 861 which she has returned to the House of Representatives without her approval and which reads as follows:

“EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

May 1, 2007

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 861

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fourth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 861, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Public Works.'

The purposes of this bill are as follows: (1) to require that public work projects financed through the issuance of special purpose revenue bonds (SPRBs) are reported by the Director of Finance to the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations (DLIR); (2) to require the DLIR to monitor projects where there is no governmental contracting agency for compliance with chapter 104, Hawaii Revised Statutes (H.R.S.), Hawaii's Wages and Hours of Employees on Public Works Law; 3) to make chapter 104, H.R.S., applicable to housing developed by the Hawaii Housing Finance and Development Corporation pursuant to chapter 201H, H.R.S.; and (4) to provide that, when a SPRB project party enters into a collective bargaining agreement with a bona fide labor union governing the projects party's workforce, the wages and terms provided by that collective bargaining agreement be deemed the prevailing wage and terms for that project party's work force on the public work construction project.

SPRBs are used to build hospitals, schools, early childhood education centers, utilities, housing projects, and related works deemed to be in the best interest of the general public. Often it is non-profit organizations that seek SPRBs to finance a new structure. This funding tool is used to lower interest costs of the financing for such projects. No taxpayer funds are used and taxpayers are not responsible for a default on the bonds.

Subjecting these projects to the administrative burdens in Chapter 104 runs counter to the intent and spirit of using SPRBs to help reduce expenses incurred by strictly private and non-profit entities and may actually act as a deterrent to using this financing mechanism and decrease the number of projects on behalf of the general community.

In 2003, the Attorney General's office opined that SPRB projects are public works projects as defined under Section 104-2(a) HRS and are subject to prevailing wage provisions. However, Chapter 104 requires that the public work is to be performed by a contracting government agency that oversees the work and holds the appropriated funds. However, with SPRBs, funds go directly from the lending institution to the entity building the project and no government agency oversees the work.

This bill attempts to remedy this problem by requiring the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations to act like the governmental contracting agency. However, the Department has no authority to oversee the work of a SPRB project nor would it be able to withhold funds should the non-profit or firm building the SPRB-financed project violate Chapter 104.

Furthermore, this bill specifies when an employer has entered into a collective bargaining agreement with a labor union, the terms of that agreement will be the prevailing wages on that project. This provision has the potential to create a different prevailing wage for each project and would negate current law requiring a single prevailing wage. This provision could also result in a conflict with Section 104-2(b)(2) which requires Hawaii's prevailing wages paid to workers to not be lower than the federal rates for Hawaii.

Additionally, this bill would place enforcement and monitoring functions on the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations without the commensurate resources to carry out these duties.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 861 without my approval.

Respectfully,

/s/ Linda Lingle

Gov. Msg. No. 810, dated May 1, 2007, transmitting her statement of objections to House Bill No. 910 which she has returned to the House of Representatives without her approval and which reads as follows:

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

May 1, 2007

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 910

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fourth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 910, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Public Financial Disclosure Statements.'

The purpose of this bill is to make the financial disclosure statements of the members of ten boards and commissions a matter of public record and available for inspection and duplication.

This bill is objectionable because it will adversely impact the ability of the State to attract knowledgeable and qualified volunteers to serve on boards and commissions.

Members of boards and commissions already file annual financial disclosure statements with the Ethics Commission. This allows members of the Ethics Commission to determine if conflicts of interest exist. These forms are not made public thus affording a careful balancing of the interest of the public and the privacy of the volunteers who serve. Subjecting a board member's personal financial, proprietary, and commercial information to public disclosure and duplication could adversely affect the ability of these individuals to conduct their business and maintain the confidentiality of their personal assets.

Second, this bill fails to recognize the safeguards already in place to ensure ethical behavior by board and commission members. Board and commission decisions are already subject to the Sunshine law requiring open meetings and public recording of the proceedings. Members of the public who are concerned that a conflict may exist have a reasonable opportunity to raise that concern. Furthermore, members of the public can request the Ethics Commission to investigate a commissioner or board member if they believe a conflict may be present.

Many board and commission members are subject to confirmation by the State Senate. The Senate has the opportunity and an obligation through this process to ensure that the members they are confirming will live up to the highest ethical standards of the State. Additionally, some boards, such as the Board of Land and Natural Resources, are already subject to statutorily mandated disclosure rules that require a member to disqualify themselves from voting or participation in a discussion where they have a direct or indirect interest. This bill fails to recognize these existing safeguards.

Third, this bill singles out ten specific boards and commissions but fails to address why these boards should be subject to public disclosure while numerous other boards and commissions that serve the State will not be subject to the same requirements. Furthermore, this bill attempts to improperly equate members of boards and commissions who serve without compensation as if they were the same as paid State employees or elected officials. If this proposed bill applied only to the Public Utilities Commissioners, it would be an acceptable measure since these commissioners are full-time paid members during their tenure.

Finally, the bill is objectionable because it would change the requirements of financial disclosure in mid-stream. Because this bill would take effect upon approval it would subject existing board and commission members to new rules that were not in place at the time they agreed to serve and were appointed to their positions. Changing the rules is both unfair and inappropriate to those who are giving of their time and talents to improve the operations of State government. If the measure applied prospectively, then it would be less onerous than as currently written.

My Administration has consistently supported open and timely disclosure of potential conflicts by members of all State boards and commissions. However, this disclosure should be handled in a manner that is appropriate to the specific board, such as the current statutory requirements applicable to the Board of Land and Natural Resources. This bill fails to meet that standard.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 910 without my approval.

Respectfully,

/s/ Linda Lingle

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 178 (S.B. No. 600, H.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Fukunaga moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 178 be adopted and S.B. No. 600, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senator Fukunaga rose and said:

"Madam President, I would like to insert comments into the Journal for S.B. No. 600, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 178. Thank you."

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Fukunaga's remarks read as follows:

"Madam President, I rise to speak in support of S.B. 600, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, Relating to Leasehold Conversion.

"The purpose of the measure is to encourage lessors of residential real properties to sell their fee simple interest by providing an incentive in the form of an income tax exemption for one hundred percent of the gain realized from the sale.

"By providing a capital gains tax exclusion, we believe fee owners – especially those made up of families and family trusts that may have developed a single condominium project on their property or cluster of properties – will be incentivized to sell their lease-fee interests since they would not have to defer taxes into another property. Many elderly fee owners do not want to continue real estate investing.

"This year's version of the leasehold conversion tax credit is timely in that a looming reversion issue will be upon us shortly, when multi-family leases start to expire in 2007. It is predictable that lessees will turn to state government for relief from surrendering their homes (a last vestige of Hawaii's residential leasehold system). It would be difficult for state government to find an appropriate solution given the limited range of alternatives: allow multi-family lessees the same rights as single-family lessees (Chapter 516, HRS – mandatory conversion), or take away the fee owner's right to reversion of the property. Both are unwieldy, difficult to implement concepts.

"Hundreds of existing leasehold condominium projects throughout the state whose underlying leases will be expiring soon (and those whose lessees are willing to pursue this innovative remedy) will now be able to present an alternative, win-win solution to their fee owners: lessees would be able to obtain fee simple home ownership and fee owners can profit through reinvesting the proceeds of their property sales. For all of the above reasons, I urge members to vote favorably on S.B. 600, H.D. 2, C.D. 1."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 178 was adopted and S.B. No. 600, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO LEASEHOLD CONVERSION," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 180 (S.B. No. 1922, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Fukunaga moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 180 be adopted and S.B. No. 1922, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Sakamoto.

Senator Fukunaga rose and said:

"Madam President, I would like to insert comments into the Journal for S.B. No. 1922, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 180. Thank you."

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Fukunaga's remarks read as follows:

"Madam President, I rise to speak in favor of S.B. No. 1922, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, Relating to Creative Media.

"The purpose of this bill is to provide financial incentives and appropriate funds to grow Hawai'i's creative media industry. It would:

- Demonstrate the legislature's commitment to the University of Hawai'i's Academy for Creative Media (ACM) by appropriating funds to equip a facility for ACM through an innovative partnership with PBS Hawaii on the UH-Manoa campus.
- Establish a pilot music and enterprise learning experience (MELE) program at Honolulu Community College to develop the artistic creativity, entertainment business expertise, and technical production skills required by Hawai'i's music artists and music industry. The program will collaborate with Belmont University of Nashville, Tennessee, on the joint use of Belmont's curriculum, technical facilities and equipment specifications, training, dual credit course offerings, and will also offer internships in some of the most varied music environments in the world.

"The Academy for Creative Media is the fastest growing new program at the University of Hawai'i. Spring 2007 enrollment includes 176 students (with 60 majors) who fill 275 seats in 20 of the 32 new courses in film production, screenwriting, indigenous filmmaking, computer animation, critical studies, and video game design. In three short years, more than 350 original short films and video games have been written, directed, and produced by students that reflect their unique diversity and backgrounds. Over 48 student films were screened at film festivals from Atlanta to Shanghai, including well-attended screenings at the Hawaii International Film Festival between 2004-2006.

"ACM's founder, Hawaii-born Chris Lee has been responsible for raising and funding all of ACM's operating expenses outside of faculty salaries and basic office overhead – hardware, software, computers, cameras, sound equipment, editing equipment, etc. Over $1,481,000 in private, foundation, federal and other innovation grants have been raised to support ACM programs since 2004.

"Why should Hawaii commit to building a creative media industry? Not only do creative media jobs offer higher-paying wages and more exciting career opportunities than our state's traditional service industry jobs. Today, it's because a rare combination of circumstances has arisen, allowing Hawaii to be competitive with wealthier, more well-established regions: modern technology (e.g., availability and access to high-speed broadband), Hawaii residents' innate story-telling skills, our island state's wholesome lifestyle, and the fact that the Asia-Pacific region is not only an emerging world-class producer of digital media entertainment products, but also potentially one of its largest consumers.

"If Hawaii fails to capitalize on its creative media assets today, other states, and other regions – like New Zealand, Singapore, Korea, China and Canada – will soon overtake us in establishing themselves as the new center for global creative media collaboration.

"As has been so eloquently stated by Chris Lee:

"Now that the Academy for Creative Media is established, and programs like Searider Productions have demonstrated the transformational power of multi-media literacy to engage our most at risk students, the DOE and UH really need to embrace and support educational opportunities in this area.

Hawaii needs to become the crossroads of the Pacific for Digital Education and the New Entertainment Industry. Let Hollywood be Hollywood, but let Hawai'i's natural constituency with the countries of the pacific rim and the rising tide of global popular culture in all its forms of video games, animation, and indigenous film be our advantage." (December 2006)"

FINAL READING

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 136 (H.B. No. 226, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Menor moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 136 be adopted and H.B. No. 226, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Baker.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and said:

"Madam President, I rise in opposition to the bill.

"I've given this a great deal of thought, and while there are many parts of the bill I can support, basically I see this as a backdoor approach to approving the Kyoto Protocols in that when the emissions controls go into effect, they are retroactive to 1990.

"I also see, while there is requirement for legislative approval, there is an absence of broad legislative oversight. Thank you."

Senator Baker rose in support of the measure and said:

"Madam President, I rise in strong support of this important piece of environmental legislation.

"Global warming has been a concern in the scientific community for some time, but only recently after the worldwide airing of Al Gore's documentary, An Inconvenient Truth, has the issue come into the popular conscience. We know for our island state Hawai'i will be negatively impacted by severe hurricanes, rising sea levels and ocean acidification if humanity's contribution to global warming is not systemically slowed, stopped, and then reduced. Through H.B. No. 226, C.D. 1, Hawai'i does its part by declaring that greenhouse gas emissions shall be reduced to 1990 levels by 2020 and by creating milestones to reach that goal. The bill also creates a greenhouse gas emissions reduction task force to prepare a work plan with specified objectives and regulatory scheme to meet the state's declared policy.

"By December 2011, Hawai'i will establish emission limits applicable to sources of emissions and reporting of statewide emissions monitoring and compliance. Setting this environmental policy is consistent with other bills that contribute to greenhouse reductions now by promoting multi-level transportation through safer walking, which we passed in S.B. No. 1191; more bicycling facilities we passed in H.B. No. 497; better bottle recycling we passed in S.B. No. 1026; and previous laws on alternative energy production, energy conservation in state facilities, and support for mass transit.

"I applaud the work of the conference managers, especially the House and Senate Chairs for leadership in taking a very unwieldy measure and crafting it into a workable, doable, yet significant measure that we can all support. I urge my colleagues to join me in voting 'aye.'

"Mahalo."

Senator Whalen rose to speak in opposition to the measure and said:

"Madam President, I rise in opposition.

"I just hope we can get the volcano to cooperate with us."

Senator Sakamoto rose in opposition and said:

"Madam President, I rise to speak against this measure.

"Certainly, all of us want injured workers to get proper treatment, proper medical care and I hope all of us hope that they get back to work as soon as possible. Before I came into this Body, this issue, workers' comp, and how do we balance employers, employees and providers was an important issue. If in our minds we picture a good worker who's injured and a good employer who wants that worker back to work, a lot of this, however we pass the laws many times doesn't matter in terms of getting the person back to work. It does matter on how the system deals with the injured worker, with the employer, and many times the employer has to have an insurer.

"In the case of this bill, when an injured worker is ready to come back to work under the current situation, the employer's insurer and the medical provider work with the treatment plan, and at some point the employee is deemed back to work. If we picture a good employee, that's not the issue.

"Unfortunately, some employees want to mangle and some providers want the injured worker to continue to get treatments. In years past, the chiropractors – not all of them, some of them – had used the system to continue to get more treatments – hot press, cold press, stretches, on and on and on – and that was abusing the system, and that's why the reforms of 1995 had lowered our auto insurance rates as well as the workers' comp rates, because their treatments were capped.

"This bill would allow the provider to continue to be the determinant – or would be the determinant – of how long these treatments go on. That would add costs, perhaps unnecessary treatment, and perhaps excessive treatment. That's one problem with this measure.

"The other problem is many times when we go to our doctors, ladies and gentlemen, many times the doctor says, 'You're sick, Senator? Do you want to go back to work tomorrow?' And you tell him, 'No, I'm not ready to go back to work tomorrow.' So many times the injured worker would be telling their medical provider, 'Oh, I'm not quite ready to back to work.' So, sometimes the abuse by the employee will cause the continuation of the benefits whether the employee really medically can go back to work. These procedures when challenged have to go through the hearing process and certainly we don't want more bureaucracy, more hearings, longer hearings, more delays.

"Bottom line, I believe this bill doesn't help to reduce the time to get employees back to work. It doesn't reduce the contentiousness, litigation in the hearing process. And for those measures, and there're others, I wish my colleagues to vote against this measure.

"Thank you."

"Madam President, please note my reservations on this bill."

The Chair so ordered.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

“I have real concerns about this bill, more than just reservations. I’m concerned, first of all, about whether or not the purpose of this project meets the legal requirements for the issuance of special purpose revenue bonds.

“Secondly, I’m concerned about the enormity of the project itself and whether or not it is realistic, and whether in the future, people will come back to the state to ask for financial support.

“And thirdly, I’m concerned about some of the people that supposedly are involved with this project but are not listed or not named publicly, and so we really are not sure who all of the principals are.

“Thank you.”

Senator Trimble requested his vote be cast “aye, with reservations,” and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 171 was adopted and S.B. Senator Baker rose in support and said:

“Madam President, I have some remarks in support of this measure I’d like to have inserted into the Journal. Thank you.”

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Baker’s remarks read as follows:

“Madam President, colleagues, with the growing number of students in our public schools in some areas of the State, it is imperative we have as many tools and as much flexibility as possible to meet the demands for new facilities and improvements to existing facilities. This bill allows the Department of Education to enter into financing agreements with private entities. This should make it easier for the department to explore alternative ways to finance capital improvements in our public school system.

“This bill is particularly important to the community of Kihei on Maui, where there is a great demand for a new high school, evident by overcrowding in existing schools and difficult commutes for the students from Kihei. However, there are similar instances in other growing communities throughout the state, which shows the importance and necessity of this bill.

“The education of the children of Hawaii is a shared responsibility, and we can do our part by supporting the passage of this measure. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 175 was adopted and S.B. No. 1820, S.D. 1, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Noes, 3 (Hemmings, Slom, Trimble).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 177 (S.B. No. 1133, S.D. 3, H.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Fukunaga moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 177 be adopted and S.B. No. 1133, S.D. 3, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Baker.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“Madam President, I wish to register my strong ‘no’ vote on this bill.

“This is one of the worst examples of legislation. We let the people believe that when we raised the rental car tax surcharge from $2 a day to $3 a day, it was going to sunset in three years. That sunset date is August 31st of this year, and now we’re removing the sunset date and we’re allowing this tax increase to stand.

“The argument is that it’s for the highway fund and yet we have raided the highway fund, as I’ve mentioned time and time and time again. So, even if the money were to go to the highway fund, there’s no guarantee or not any serious belief that the money will actually be used for highway purposes.

“And finally, a lot of people say, ‘Well it’s okay, it’s for rental cars for the tourists.’ And as I’ve pointed out before, at least 35 percent of rental vehicles are by local residents. So, it’s an additional tax and we’ve broken faith yet again with the people.

“Thank you.”

Senator Baker rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

“This measure simply extends for an additional year until August 31, 2008, the sunset of the $3 a day surcharge levied on rental cars in our state. This is not a new scheme either in Hawai’i or anyplace else, as many other states levy a similar fee on car rental users to assist in road improvements or, in some places, even airport projects.

“The State Highway Fund receives $14 million a year from this surcharge. The cost of road repair and maintenance projects has become more expensive. Over the past several years we’ve seen the damage that floodwaters, torrential rains, and earthquakes have caused to our transportation infrastructure – rock falls on the Pali, shoreline erosion undermining some of our scenic roadways, bridge repair, just to name a few. Those emergency repairs were not factored into the highway spending plan to the extent needed.

"In addition, there are continuing requirements to upgrade our highways and add new lanes or create new routes. Due to these demands, the unencumbered balance in our highway fund has begun to decline. The continued infusion of funds will help the fund remain stable while a long-range plan is developed and the financing plan updated. That task will fall to a joint legislative task force that will work during the interim to conduct a review of the State Highway Fund, its expenditures, and other potential sources of revenue. The Legislature will continue the task force report next Session in deciding the future of the rental car surcharge.

"For now, I urge my colleagues to vote favorably on this measure. Mahalo."

Senator Hemmings rose in opposition and stated:

"Madam President, I rise to speak against this legislation.

"I think it's important that the record reflect for the intent of having the public be knowledgeable of why this fund is running a deficit and not able to pay for the emergency repairs the previous speaker spoke of. It's not due to unintended expenditures such as the emergencies. Clearly, it's due, as the good Senator from Hawai'i Kai pointed out, that this Legislature and the very people that are increasing the taxes now to replenish this fund, systematically raided the highway fund to put money in the general fund for purposes other than for fixing highways. Most of it was put in for collective bargaining pay raises, I would suggest, because we know who's first in line when it comes to getting the benefits – the taxpayers' legacy to state government.

"So, to tell us that we have to increase this tax because we have to pay for emergencies is just false. The fund is depleted because it was raided and I believe the figure was something like $183 million in the last several years. So, the truth of the matter is that this tax is being increased because of the Legislature's fiscal irresponsibility in the past.

"Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Hooser rose in support of the measure and said:

"Madam President, I rise in support of this measure. I'll keep my remarks very brief.

"This is not a tax increase. It merely extends the sunset date. A close and honest look of past practices will show that the funds that are transferred from various funds are done so only when the state is in dire need – when budget times are very, very tight – in order to meet the basic needs of our state.

"For that reason, and others, I support this measure. Thank you."

Senator Menor requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 177 was adopted and S.B. No. 1133, S.D. 3, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 18. Ayes with Reservations, 1 (Menor). Noes, 7 (Bunda, Gabbard, Hemmings, Inouye, Slom, Trimble, Whalen).

Senator Fukunaga moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 183 be adopted and H.B. No. 1670, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Sakamoto.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Madam President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"This is a very strange bill. As DCCA and even the HSTA had testified, it's got a lot of ambiguities and a lot of missing data and missing information. No other state in the union has tried to have a ingenuity charter corporation set up by the Legislature. It is involving private interest and labor union interest, and I would suggest if they want to send up a corporation, they should go down to DCCA and file the papers like the rest of us and start a corporation, not come to the Legislature and have a publicly funded, private corporation.

"I also apologize to the good Senator from Moanalua. I should have gotten together with him because he makes such good graphs and charts. We could have probably had one about six feet long. This is the organizational chart that is presented for this bill, and it's one of the strangest things I've ever seen in all my days of looking at organizational charts and business plans. And it really doesn't make any sense at all except that we would have organized labor unions and groups such as the American Ingenuity Alliance, nationally, and the National Inventors Hall of Fame running this Hawai'i corporation.

"As I said, there's no other corporation like this in the country. There's no other plan like this. To me, it simply is a way of funding a job for the individual who has supported this legislation for the last couple years.

"It is a bad bill, colleagues, and if you really read it and if you read the testimony, there's no way that you can support this bill. I urge you to vote 'no' on this bill. Thank you."

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure and said:

"Madam President, I also rise in opposition to this measure.

"The good Senator from Hawai'i Kai forgot to mention two very salient points. The first one is that it's a for-profit corporation, and the second one is – and the reason why they need to come to us for permission to do this, if I read the bill correctly – it's a for-profit corporation that wouldn't have to pay income tax. Strange. I encourage you to vote 'no.'

"Thank you."

Senator Gabbard requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Fukunaga rose in support of the measure and said:

“This measure is really an innovative attempt to bring together inventors as well as beneficiaries who will ultimately be some of the public schools of Hawai‘i, in terms of allocating some of the potential royalties that can be derived from use of the patents which these inventors would like to put at the disposal of this entity.

“I do agree with some of the prior speakers that this is something that has not been done in any other state. However, I think that it certainly deserves further consideration since we have removed many of the sections of the bill which originally had raised alarms from DCCA as well as other departments.

“I’d just like to read briefly from the purpose clause of this measure:

‘The ingenuity company, which will be governed by a board of directors representing both the creators of intellectual property and educational or labor beneficiaries, provides an opportunity to focus the financial rewards of ingenuity on education and workforce development that will in turn lead to additional inventions and innovations. In this way, it will create a continuing incentive for seasoned inventors and for developing new talent in Hawai‘i.

‘The purpose of this Act is to establish an entity, in this case the ingenuity company, to hold patents and other intellectual property that has been acquired by the entity to fund educational initiatives contributing to increased workforce skills out of royalties generated from use of the patents; and to otherwise leverage intellectual property for the benefit of education and workforce development.’

“For these reasons, I urge my colleagues to support this measure. Thank you.”

Senator Baker rose in support and said:

“Madam President, I have remarks in support of this measure. May I have them inserted into the Journal? Thank you.”

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Baker’s remarks read as follows:

“Madam President, I rise to speak in favor of this measure.

“H.B. No. 212, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, is an ambitious effort to head off an impending healthcare crisis. It does so in the following ways:

“First, the measure empowers the citizens of Maui by:

- (1) Creating the Maui Health Initiative Task Force to develop a comprehensive strategic health plan that will determine the current and future health care needs of Maui County, develop an integrated plan for providing health care, and determine an appropriate role for Maui County health care facilities within the statewide system of emergency and trauma care; and
- (2) Requiring the State Planning and Development Agency (‘SHPDA’) to expedite the review of any application for a certificate of need whose health care service area is within Maui County and that demonstrates financial viability and meets the Hawai‘i health performance plan relating to Maui County. In addition, any required hearings or reviews are mandated be held in Maui County.

“Your conference committee has provided $100,000 in general funds to support the work of the Task Force which must report to the Legislature 20 days prior to the opening of the 2008 Session.

“Second, the measure establishes a mechanism for developing and maintaining a statewide comprehensive health care workforce map and database. It creates a partnership between the John A. Burns School of Medicine and SHPDA to help find solutions to Hawai‘i’s health care worker shortage.

“H.B. No. 212, C.D. 1, directs the John A. Burns School of Medicine, in cooperation with SHPDA, to:

- (1) Compile and analyze existing data on the supply and distribution of licensed health care practitioners, technicians, and other health care workers in the state by profession, specialty, and practice location;
- (2) Develop projections through 2020 of the workforce supply and demand to identify shortages;
- (3) Develop a plan to address and reduce any identified shortages of health care workers;
- (4) Develop a plan to collect and systematically update the data; and
- (5) Ensure that data collected is accurate and secure and that data specific to any practitioner is disclosed only with the express written consent of the practitioner.

“As noted by Dr. Gary Ostrander in testimony to your Committee on Ways and Means:

The data collected from this program is essential to understanding our workforce needs and to effectively address Hawai‘i’s severe shortage of health care workers, especially on the neighbor islands and in rural areas.

“With the collection and analysis of the data described above, the state will be better able to estimate the impact of different measures and make wise decisions about how to develop a health workforce that meets all of the healthcare needs of Hawai‘i. The money for the data mapping project is in the executive biennium budget bill, H.B. No. 500, C.D. 1.

“Madam President, I urge all of my colleagues to join me in voting in favor of this measure. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 201 was adopted and H.B. No. 212, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HEALTH CARE,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator English moved that H.B. No. 1757, H.D. 1, S.D. 3, C.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Hee.

Senator Trimble rose in opposition to the measure as follows:

“Madam President, I rise in opposition to this measure.

“The committee report says it lowers the cost to a trucking firm of having an overweight vehicle when it is cited. Colleagues, if you have done the numbers, I think you will come to the exact opposite conclusion.

“Number one, if you look at the period of time between when the last time when the rates or the fines were increased until today, it has not taken into account inflation.

“The second thing is that even though it doubles the fines, what we’re trying to prevent is overweight vehicles going down the Pali and the risk to other motorists that that type of situation creates. It is important, to avoid situations like this, that fines be progressive, that they increase.

“And the third thing is that when you mandate a change from allowing uncontested fines to the company to merely send in a check, that cost of going to court and waiting is truly more significant to the firm than the dollar amount of the fine.

“So we have not increased the fine, we have not increased the penalty. What we have done is we have made it less onerous for people that have overweight vehicles on the road. It’s bad policy. I suggest you vote ‘no.’

“Thank you.”

Senator English rose in support of the measure and said:

“Members, what we’ve done here is we’ve taken out the second and third tier of the fine, and we’ve taken the higher numbers as the fine after the courts came to us and said that it was clogging their system as well. I actually share some of the concerns of the previous speaker in that it does not address the weight issue, and I hope that we can take that up next year. But this deals with the fine part of the statute. And I do agree with what he said that it should be onerous. However, when the courts are overburdened, that’s where we have to come in.

“So, I ask for your support of the measure and I also invite the previous speaker to work with us next year to figure out a way to deal with the weight on the road.

“Thank you.”

Senator Baker rose in support of the measure and said:

“Madam President, I have some remarks in support of this measure on the other features of the bill that I’d like inserted into the Journal. Thank you.”

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Baker’s remarks read as follows:

“Madam President, I rise to speak in favor of this measure – specifically, Part II.

“Madam President, Part II of H.B. No. 1757, H.D. 1, S.D. 3, C.D. 1:

- Exempts the sale of alcohol fuels from the general excise tax;
- Establishes a $100,000 fine for producers and wholesalers who fail to pass on to the end consumer any savings realized from this exemption, with such failure deemed to be an unfair and deceptive trade practice enforceable under the powerful consumer protection provisions of HRS Chapter 480; and
- Increases the fuel tax by 1 cent per gallon.

“This measure would make it a little easier on the pocketbooks of everyone who needs to drive. And a lot of us do have to drive, and many of us have to drive long distances, particularly those of us on the Neighbor Islands and those, such as you, Madam President, who have long commutes to work here on Oahu.

“Exempting service stations from paying the four per cent general excise tax on each gallon of alcohol fuels sold should reduce the overall cost of gasoline to the consumer. Some dealers such as Aloha Petroleum have already announced their intention to do so. As I noted earlier, producers and wholesalers who fail to pass on to the end consumer the savings realized from this exemption are subject to substantial penalties.

“Madam President, the estimated revenue loss resulting from this measure is estimated to be $32 million per year. The benefit to consumers outweighs the loss. However, as a precaution in case the economy slows more than anticipated and state tax revenues decrease too much, this GET exemption for alcohol fuels has a sunset date of June 30, 2009. Since the GET is such a regressive tax, I’m hoping we’ll be able to make the exemption permanent.

“Finally, this bill will levy a one cent increase on each gallon of fuel distributed to service stations and other business enterprises that use the fuel. This will inject sorely needed revenue of approximately $9.2 million annually into the State Highway Fund. At a time of increasing costs and demands for repair and maintenance of our state highways, the State Highway Fund balance is projected to decline from $91.9 million in the current fiscal year to $5.2 million in 2013.

“We must recognize that the State Highway Fund provides moneys critical to the repair and maintenance of our state highways, and that money in the fund is used to match federal highway dollars in a 20 percent to 80 percent ratio, state to federal dollars. This measure is important for the driving public, both as a savings to their pocketbooks and as insurance that funds will be available for needed road repairs in the future.

“Madam President, I urge all of my colleagues to join me in voting in favor of this measure. Thank you.”

Senator Slom rose in support of the measure with reservations and said:

“Madam President, I rise to support the bill with reservations.

“In addition to the subject matter that was just discussed involving fees, of course the floor amendment provides an exemption from the general excise tax for liquid fuels, which is something that this Legislature should have done last year in terms of preserving the tax exemption that had already been there and which expired on December 31st, thus causing an increase in everyone’s gasoline purchase price. We will get some relief from this bill, but not for another couple of months as we watch the gasoline prices rising. And the other feature of the bill is that it raises the gasoline license tax by one penny per gallon.

“So, again we’re faced with poison pills. I will vote reluctantly with reservations, as I say, because the consumers of this state need, deserve, and should have had the exemption last year.

“Thank you.”

Senator Kokubun moved that H.B. No. 1270, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Baker.

Senator Gabbard rose in support of the measure and said:

“Madam President, I just wanted to have my remarks entered into the . . . actually, I want to give my remarks.

“Thank you, Madam President, and also to Senator Kokubun for allowing me to serve on this Hawai‘i 2050 Sustainability Task Force. I’ve been to the community meetings on Saturday mornings with Senator Nishihara and also in the evenings, and I think it’s a very important process to see people actually getting involved in what we want Hawai‘i to look like in 2050.

“So again, I would like to say, ‘thank you.’ And as you all know, the funding will go toward allowing us to complete this very important planning process.

“Thank you.”

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and said:

“Madam President, again, we have many fine points in this bill. It covers a lot of different areas, but it also creates yet another special fund, so I’ll be voting ‘no.’ Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 1270, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO STATE PLANNING,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

S.B. No. 1792, S.D. 3, H.D. 3, C.D. 2:

Senator Ige moved that S.B. No. 1792, S.D. 3, H.D. 3, C.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Baker.

Senator Hemmings rose in opposition to the measure and said:

“Madam President, I rise to speak against S.B. No. 1792.

“A laudable goal – and that is to create some sort of system where the people that live under the health umbrella of the Hawai‘i Health Care Systems Corporation would have more control of their destiny. And I’d like to suggest that in trying to determine how they could do that, to look at the reasons why they don’t and look at the reasons why Hawai‘i Health Care Systems hemorrhages $40-45 million a year where taxpayers have to subsidize the operation, and look at the reasons why oftentimes healthcare of individuals is imperiled, especially on the island of Maui where they need air ambulance service to bring people to Oahu to get certain services where I believe they don’t even have adequate neonatal services for the newborns that are born prematurely in dire need of immediate care.

“And the reasons have to do with bureaucracy that a regional health care organization made up of people of Maui will have no control over – the labor cost, management’s ability to be flexible. We just passed a bill not too long ago that’s going to allow labor unions’ collective bargaining agreements to preempt state law.

“Also, just the other day in a sad presentation here on the Floor, the Chairman of the Health Committee actually pointed out a sad truth regarding the ability of the people of Maui or the people of the state to control their destiny when it comes to health care. They can’t because it’s controlled by an untethered bureaucracy through SHPDA and the CON process. This bill would do nothing to preempt area organizations, both public and private, from doing anything in the medical care field to benefit the dying and the needy because first they’ll have to go through the SHPDA CON process.

“And as we heard from the Chairman of the Committee on Health, the public’s input is to be disregarded. The alleged 12-criterion law is to be disregarded because the SHPDA bureaucrats and most especially the Chairman of SHPDA knows better. And the last thing we want is to have an organization such as an area board subsidiary of HHSC making decisions that would go against the 12 points as outlined in the material produced by SHPDA, not codified by law, I might add.

“So, though we’re being told that, ‘My gosh, the problems of HHSC and the people on Maui are going to be solved and those others living under the umbrella of this state monopolistic hospital system will be solved with this corporation,’ the facts are that they won’t. And I think the words articulated by the Chairman of the Committee on Health, especially on the CON SHPDA process regarding the people controlling their destinies, speak louder than mine.

“Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Baker rose in support of the measure and stated:

“Madam President and colleagues, despite what the Minority Leader has said, this measure actually fulfills the original recommendation made back in 1994 when the blue ribbon panel was convened to consider how to best organize what was then a division of community hospitals in the Department of Health. It called for then, and we’re enacting with this measure today, a series of regional system boards to provide local community governance to the facilities that are part of Hawai‘i Health Systems Corporation.

“We’re empowering the local regions, we’re reengaging the community stakeholders, and we’re preserving the best features of the system – a system that has provided leadership to help the facilities advance and to take up the cause of providing cutting edge, leading edge services to their residents. It’s not the quality of the health care that’s provided in our regions that brought this forth. It has to do with giving the regions the ability to respond more nimbly, more quickly, more directly, more appropriately to the needs that are found uniquely in each of the five regions of this system.

“Some of the facilities are long-term care facilities; some are thriving acute care hospitals providing services found no place else in the state; some of them are very small, critical access hospitals – each of them with their unique needs and each of them serving a very important role. The system over time has changed; health care has changed; the delivery of those services have changed, and it’s time that our system evolves, and that’s what this measure does.

“I want to commend the executive CEO of the HHSC for the leadership that he’s shown along with the board members that have brought the system to this point.

“The purpose of this measure is to take our public hospital system into the next decade and beyond. I would note for the record that while initially some of it was characterized as Maui only, there is widespread support among the other regions of Hilo, Kauai, Kona, and Oahu. I’m pleased that once people looked at the measure they found a measure with merit. There was a lot of give and take back and forth. In the end there was a realization that we’ve got a framework here that can provide a more responsive and more efficient system. And while no bill that any human person drafts is going to be perfect, it is a starting point to ensure that our regions have an opportunity to take ownership of their facilities and the system which was really designed for them.

“So, I thank my colleagues on the Health Committee and the Conference Committee and others who have worked with us to craft something that will help move the Hawai‘i Health Systems Corporation forward. While not solving every problem that might ever exist with either the corporation or the system or health care in our state, it moves us light years forward.

“Mahalo.”

Senator Hemmings rose in rebuttal and said:

“Madam President, I rise to rebut the previous comments.

“I won’t belabor the point but I think the good Senator from Maui underscored my point quite accurately. These rules were first proposed in 1994 and now 13 years later allegedly something is going to be done that will have some consequence on healthcare on Maui and the other islands that are under the HHSC process.

“I would suggest to the people of Maui especially, that why 13 years later this has become such an urgent issue could be answered in one quick way – because on Maui, the people of that island have spoken clearly they want Malulani Hospital as an alternative to Maui Memorial. And I would further suggest that it would be in the people of Maui’s best interest to have two hospitals. Maui Memorial has some specialties that they do very well, but they have others that they don’t. I think those two hospitals could complement each other if Malulani was allowed into the marketplace.

“Here on Oahu, we have no state hospital. The private sector does a wonderful job of providing alternatives and specialties in different areas to serve all the medical needs of the people of Oahu. And I would suggest that in a constructive basis the same could be done on Maui. But this bill is precipitated by that issue, not necessarily doing what’s best for the people of Maui.

“I’ll read into the record at the appropriate time what the rules do say regarding the will of people concerning the process by which medical services can be brought to them.

“Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Baker rose and said:

“Madam President, I rise in brief response to the Minority Leader’s rebuttal.

“First, just to correct a couple of items, there is an Oahu region of HHSC. It will soon be populated with three hospitals – Kahuku, Leahi, and Maluhia. They are distinct and different, but they serve an important part of the population here on Oahu. While it’s certainly true that the bulk of the facilities in the HHSC system are on the neighbor islands, if we did not have those facilities, there would be more than just a few people flown to the island of Oahu for their health care.

“With regard to some of the other allegations that the good Senator made, I invite him to come to Maui to take a tour of Maui Memorial, to go up to Kula, maybe even go over to Lanai, to see some of the health care that is provided there in a very fine and efficient manner. I would also note that health care, unlike retail sales, depends on economies of scale for the physicians to maintain their skills, their talents. While I think my constituents and perhaps every constituent of every Senator in here would like to be able to access every conceivable health service they might ever need on their own island without having to travel very far to get it, it is not realistic. It is not possible. That’s why we have centers of excellence even among the HHSC hospitals that provide certain services while others do not. It would not be cost efficient. We could not find the sufficient appropriate personnel. And it would not make sense for the doctors to perform one or two or three procedures within a specialty per year. Their skills would not be appropriately maintained, and I would submit that we probably wouldn’t want to go to a doctor who wasn’t proficient.

“That’s why even with all of the wonderful care that is provided on Maui, on Hilo, in Kauai, on Oahu, some of our citizens need to travel outside of their region or the state to get their care. I submit that because of the size of our state and the size of our population, there are going to be some services that will forever be delivered elsewhere. That doesn’t mean that we shouldn’t strive to have the best and the most that we can provide for our citizens, because I think that’s all of our goal. Your Health Committee over the past number of years, including this year under the leadership of the Senator from Pearl City, has sought to make more services and more activities available throughout our state to improve the healthcare for all of our citizens.

“Madam President, this is a measure that will help to move the system forward. It will help us to be more efficient. It will help us to provide the kind of services that our citizens want.

“On a final note, let’s put Malulani to rest. Triad Hospitals was going to be the operations partner and the financing partner for this particular vision of a few folks on Maui. The deal died not because of a failed CON but because Triad was purchased by Community Hospitals and they do not have the ability now to provide financial backing. So this hospital, Malulani, CON or not, is not a live proposal anymore. It’s time to stop beating that horse and let’s all work together to provide for the kind of services we need on Maui and elsewhere. It is time to come together as we will through the health initiative task force that we just passed in H.B. No. 212 to do that.

“We can provide more care. We can provide better care, and if we all work together, it’s a much more efficient operation. Mahalo.”

Senator Ige rose in rebuttal as follows:

“I just wanted to clarify that in my comments on Tuesday I said that there was no place for political interference. I did not say community involvement. Clearly, SHPDA is an executive agency which was built as a partnership between Hawai’i’s healthcare industry and communities statewide. The whole process is built on involving the communities in the decisions and planning for development of healthcare facilities.

“Thank you.”

Senator Hooser rose in support the measure and said:

“Madam President, I rise in support of this measure.

“Madam President, this is about making good healthcare better, and I want to applaud the Senate Health Chair and the Health Committee members as well as the Chair of Ways and Means, the former Senate Health Chair, for the hard work that this has taken to get the bill to this point.

“Members, you know, anyone who has followed this issue knows that it’s been back and forth and in some areas it’s been relatively contentious, but we’ve come to a place now where people who were initially opposed to this measure are now applauding the measure and saying that it will be good for healthcare – rural healthcare especially – in the HHSC system and in rural areas around out state.

"I also want to applaud for the record, publicly, the good doctors, nurses, and administrators that serve in our HHSC hospitals. I visited and toured and met with Maui Memorial doctors and administrators, and nurses, and employees, and I have first-hand experience on Kauai with Kauai Veterans Memorial Hospital. And I want to just say for the record that these are good people providing excellent services to the people in my community and on Maui and elsewhere in the state. This measure will help to give them the tools to do an even better job.

"On Kauai, we have private hospitals and we have HHSC hospitals. And quite honestly, there are people on Kauai who actually seek out the services of Kauai Veterans Memorial Hospital because they do a better job than the other hospitals do. I think that's really the key – hospitals working together, all of us working together to support good healthcare in our state. Every hospital, healthcare providers all over our state struggle with similar issues, and this bill will go a long way toward making our system stronger for our entire community.

"I have to say I am in strong support of this bill. I started out with some reservations, but after working with the proponents of the measure and having full and complete confidence that those proponents will work together with communities around our state to continue to look at this issue and to address concerns that may arise in the future and resolve any challenges that may remain. For that reason, I'm urging my colleagues to vote in support of this measure.

"Thank you."

Senator Bunda requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, S.B. No. 1792, S.D. 3, H.D. 3, C.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HAWAII HEALTH SYSTEMS CORPORATION," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Ayes with Reservations, 1 (Bunda). Noes, 3 (Gabbard, Hemmings, Slom).

S.B. No. 1803, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 2:

Senator Taniguchi moved that S.B. No. 1803, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Hee.

Senator Taniguchi rose in support of the measure and said:

"Madam President, I would like to request that I be allowed to insert comments in support of this measure into the Journal. Thank you."

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Taniguchi's remarks read as follows:

"Affordable health insurance is one of the State's most pressing concerns. Many of Hawai'i's workers are subscribers of individual plans provided by Hawai'i's insurers. Because individual plans and group health plans with one or few number of employees are not part of larger employee pools, health insurance premiums for individual plans are generally more expensive than large group health plans. The cost of health insurance, particularly for self-employed workers, single employee corporations or partnerships, and small business group health plans with few number of employees are of significant concern to Hawai'i's business and general community.

"S.B. 1803, C.D. 2 is intended to permit insurers to offer a different plan to employer groups of one (sole proprietors, one person corporations and partnerships) compared to what they offer to employer groups of two or more, upon a determination by the Insurance Commissioner that the insurer can adequately deliver services to enrollees of additional groups given its obligations to existing employer groups. This is intended to provide the Division of Insurance the authority and duty to allow broader combinations of insurance benefits. This measure will also provide consumers with greater choices in their health insurance provider. Expanding the available insurance coverage options will increase competition to the consumers' benefit."

Senator Hee rose to speak in favor of the measure and stated:

"Madam President, I rise to speak in favor of this measure.

"Colleagues, it is the purpose and intent of this measure to expand access to health insurance by allowing broader coverage for less cost. S.B. No. 1803, C.D. 2, targets coverage to self-employed workers and businesses with one or very few employees. This measure provides greater flexibility for small insurers to provide comprehensive coverage to small businesses at a lesser cost.

"One of the reasons for this legislation is that in the past year, the current administration has chosen to interpret Hawai'i law in a different way than it has ever been interpreted before to prohibit combining drug and medical coverage; or from combining medical, dental, and drug; or any other combination of health related coverage into one insurance policy by small insurers. Numerous Hawai'i laws already permit combining various types of health coverage under one policy and this should be encouraged, not discouraged, to help provide the broadest health coverage possible for Hawai'i residents. This administration has chosen to consider these combined benefits as a violation of state anti-tying laws, even though regardless that the U.S. Supreme Court has made clear that a company with less than 30 percent market share has no coercive power in the marketplace and cannot violate federal anti-tying laws as articulated in Jefferson Parish Hospital v Hyde.

"Consistent with the federal standard, it is the Legislature's intent to encourage the existing practice by smaller accident and sickness insurers to bundle different classes of insurance such as health, dental, and vision together, thereby continuing the historical acceptance of this practice by small insurers who lack coercive power in the marketplace. In these circumstances, bundling provides broader healthcare coverage in single, unified policies, ultimately resulting in lower overall premiums, fostering greater competition within the Hawai'i insurance market place, and providing consumers with greater flexibility, coverage, and pricing options.

"Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Slom rose in support of the measure with reservations and said:

"Madam President, I rise in support of this bill with reservations.

"I know a little bit about small businesses and small business access to medical care, have been involved in negotiations for medical coverage for nearly three decades. I know that we are the only state in the Union that has the compulsory Prepaid Healthcare Act which forces employers to provide medical care. I know also that until about six years ago, most of the healthcare providers in Hawai'i did provide healthcare to small business groups and small businesses, including sole proprietors and independent contractors, but they stopped doing that at that period of time. And we also take cognizance of the fact that if we look at how many health insurers there were a decade ago and now, we find that there are a lot fewer.

“So, saying all of that, the problem has been for small businesses and small employee associations to once again have access to the same kinds of discounts and rates that larger businesses and larger groups had. That was one of the major purposes of this bill, and I applaud that bill right down to the conference draft and right down to Floor Amendment No. 27 which changed one word. The one word that’s changed in this amendment and causes my reservation is ‘shall.’ The word used to be ‘may.’ The insurance commissioner ‘may’ exempt certain group health plans offered. Now, the one-word change in that C.D. is that the insurance commissioner ‘must’ exempt certain small business insurer groups as defined.

“My reading and knowledge of the market shows me that there’s only one business healthcare provider that is affected by this and qualified, and I think that if we’re going to be passing regulatory legislation and we say it’s for the consumers and we say it’s for small business, then in fact it should help all small businesses. What this does is to exempt the benefits for any business that has only one employee, and recent statistics and data show a growing number of businesses in Hawai‘i with only one employee.

“So, the overall intent and purpose is a good one, but the change of this one word is going to be harmful to a lot of small businesses. Overall, however, I think the bill is more beneficial and that’s why I’ll vote for it with reservations.

“Thank you.”

Senator Baker moved that S.B. No. 148, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and said:

“This bill is a sham and a fraud. It skirts the constitutional requirement for a refund or rebate to every taxpayer. And while the lawyers are arguing this and the Attorney General is debating whether or not every taxpayer can mean only selective taxpayers, several things are clear. We had a substantial surplus. I know two days ago the Senate Majority Leader disputed the fact that there ever was a surplus. However, his colleagues in the House then an hour later had a press conference presenting a document and graph as to where the surplus went. We all know where the surplus has gone.

“The fact that we are selecting only a small group of people with limited income, I think, is reprehensible. They were not the people that primarily provided this surplus – it was the middle class and even the upper class that have provided information and also resources and particularly the taxes that went into this surplus. The Constitution has never been defined thusly before. We have plenty of programs that give to the poor or to selected groups. This mandated a refund or rebate to taxpayers, and anyone reading this would say that that is all of us who paid.

“And finally, to add insult to injury and to give the one thousandth cut, not only did we only appropriate approximately $25 million out of a $20 billion budget for tax relief, but it is only effective starting with the taxable year 2008, which means that the miniscule amount that will be returned to the very few will not be returned until 2009.

“Thank you.”

Senator Hemmings rose to oppose the measure and said:

“Madam President, I rise to speak against S.B. No. 148, relating to income tax credits.

“This is another in a long series of legislation that paints a pretty picture of helping the little guy, but in fact does little or nothing to help. In the past, we referred to these bills as ‘Trojan Horse bills’ or ‘facades’ where the appearances change, and this is just another one. I’m sure there are going to be Majority Party members that stand up and say, ‘This is a tax cut for the poor and why should we give a tax rebate to everybody, including the rich.’ Well, one of the reasons is because that’s what the Constitution says.

“But the other thing is, if you really look at this proposed tax cut, it really does not help the working poor. And I’ll enter into the record once again in case my colleagues across the aisle have not heard it, they, under total control of this Legislature and the laws of the State of Hawai‘i, tax the working poor the most of any other state in the Nation. Our standard deductions are less, and as a result, those on the lower end of the pay scale pay taxes in Hawai‘i, where in other states and at the federal level, they do not. The lowest 20 percentile of the wage earners of Hawai‘i – the poor – pay the highest percentage of their income in taxes in the State of Hawai‘i, while year in and year out Majority Party members stand up and decry tax cuts for the rich and how it can help the poor.

"I would also suggest that the real poor, the people that really need our help – help like not taxing them for being hungry and sick – aren't even going to file tax returns. Do you think the people living in tents in Waianae on the beach have the wherewithal and the money and the opportunity to file tax returns and collect this rebate? I don't think so.

"So, this is another one of those great Majority Party efforts to tell the people of Hawai'i we've ridden in on a white horse and saved you once again, when in fact it's just the opposite. The working poor continue to suffer in an oppressive economy with being the highest taxed people in the Nation.

"I urge my colleagues to vote 'no' on this bill and to come back and give the people something they really deserve by cutting taxes on the poor rather than finding tricky ways to deceive them into thinking they're going to get their money back.

"Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Baker rose to speak in support of the measure and said:

"Madam President, I rise in strong support of this measure.

"Madam President, colleagues, S.B. No. 148, C.D. 1, does in fact provide for satisfaction of the Hawai'i State Constitutional mandate requiring that taxpayers receive tax credit or refund as provided by law whenever the balance of the state general fund exceeds five percent of general revenues for each of two successive fiscal years. In other words, by law, the Legislature may define taxpayers, determine whether to give a refund or a credit, and to determine the size of the refund or credit. I would note for the record that in previous times when we have provided rebates, business taxpayers have not received one. It is the Legislature who defines what the term 'taxpayer' means.

"S.B. 148, C.D. 1, is a progressive tax credit. It provides for a graduated tax credit based on federal adjustable gross income to help low-income taxpayers. During the Floor discussion at the 1978 Constitutional Convention regarding this credit, Delegate Nozaki said it well when she stated: 'I speak in favor of this amendment, which comes down on the side of the hard-pressed taxpayers of our State.' This targeted tax relief is estimated to cost $26 million and will benefit over 600,000 people.

"Colleagues, as is the case with another of our tax relief measures (S.B. 1882, C.D. 1, our low-income food/excise tax credit bill), I believe that this measure comes down on the side of people who really need it – the working poor and the folks who are struggling to make ends meet.

"In response to the Minority Leader's suggestion that these folks will not be able to file a tax return to receive this credit back, what one of the floor amendments did was to make sure that it was refundable, and in other measures we have provided grants-in-aid to organizations that target individuals to help them not only claim the federal EITC credit, but they can help with this one as well.

"Madam President, I urge all of my colleagues to join me in support of this measure because I think it fulfills the mandate and provides some relief where it's needed. Mahalo."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, S.B. No. 148, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO INCOME TAX CREDIT," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 20. Noes, 3 (Hemmings, Slom, Trimble). Excused, 2 (Bunda, Whalen).

At 11:42 o'clock a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 11:51 o'clock a.m.

ADOPTION OF A HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

Senator Menor, Chair of the Committee on Energy and Environment, requested that the joint referral of H.C.R. No. 174 to the Committee on Energy and Environment and the Committee on Water, Land, Agriculture and Hawaiian Affairs be waived.

Senator Menor noted:

"Madam President, the reason I'm requesting this waiver is because this reso, which would require the Department of Land and Natural Resources to report to the Legislature on certain aquatic surf resources in the State and to look at funding a study on the feasibility of constructing artificial reefs, obviously addresses some important issues. However, I was recently informed that the Senate companion was not going to move out of the House. So, as such, I am respectfully requesting my colleagues to support the waiver of the referral of this particular reso so we can vote on it today.”

The Chair then granted the waiver.

H.C.R. No. 174:

On motion by Senator Menor, seconded by Senator Kokubun and carried, H.C.R. No. 174, entitled: “HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE DEPARTMENT OF LAND AND NATURAL RESOURCES TO REPORT TO THE LEGISLATURE ON CERTAIN AQUATIC SURF RESOURCES IN THE STATE INCLUDING THE COST OF FUNDING A STUDY ON THE FEASIBILITY OF CONSTRUCTING ARTIFICIAL REEFS,” was adopted.

At 11:53 o'clock a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 11:59 o'clock a.m.

MOTIONS TO OVERRIDE VETOES

H.B. No. 10, S.D. 1:

In accordance with Article III, Section 17, of the Hawaii State Constitution, Senator Ige moved that the Senate override the veto of H.B. No. 10, S.D. 1, as contained in Gov. Msg. No. 807, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senator Ige rose and said:

“Madam President, I request a Roll Call vote.”

The motion was put by the Chair and, Roll Call vote having been requested, the veto of H.B. No. 10, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PRESCRIPTION DRUGS,” was overridden by not less than two-thirds vote of all members to which the Senate is entitled, on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 18. Noes, 4 (Gabbard, Hemmings, Slom, Trimble). Excused, 3 (Bunda, Inouye, Whalen).

H.B. No. 861, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

In accordance with Article III, Section 17, of the Hawaii State Constitution, Senator Hee moved that the Senate override the veto of H.B. No. 861, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, as contained in Gov. Msg. No. 809, seconded by Senator Baker.

Senator Hee rose in support of the motion to override and said:

“Madam President, before I begin, it should be noted that the changes to the law made by this measure do not apply to projects that are financed by the proceeds of special purpose revenue bonds authorized prior to 2008.

“This bill, Madam President and colleagues, is a prospective bill and it does require, just as the Governor had said, that when an employer entered into a collective bargaining agreement with a labor union, the terms of that agreement will be the prevailing wages on that project whether or not they are SPRBs. For that reason, colleagues, I urge an override vote.

“Thank you.”

Senator Hemmings rose and said:

“Madam President, we’d like to ask for a Roll Call vote on this and the remaining bills on the agenda. Thank you.”

The Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and, Roll Call vote having been requested, the veto of H.B. No. 861, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC WORKS,” was overridden by not less than two-thirds vote of all members to which the Senate is entitled, on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 18. Noes, 4 (Gabbard, Hemmings, Slom, Trimble). Excused, 3 (Bunda, Inouye, Whalen).

H.B. No. 863, H.D. 1:

In accordance with Article III, Section 17, of the Hawaii State Constitution, Senator Hee moved that the Senate override the veto of H.B. No. 863, H.D. 1, as contained in Gov. Msg. No. 792, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Hee rose to support the override as follows:

“Madam President, colleagues, this is, again, a prevailing wage bill. This bill would require that in any public works project where more than 50 percent of the project is of the state or political subdivision leases or is assigned more than 50 percent of the project, that prevailing wages shall be agreed to be paid.

“Thank you, Madam President.”

The motion was put by the Chair and, Roll Call vote having been requested, the veto of H.B. No. 863, H.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC WORK PROJECTS,” was overridden by not less than two-thirds vote of all members to which the Senate is entitled, on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 19. Noes, 3 (Hemmings, Slom, Trimble). Excused, 3 (Bunda, Inouye, Whalen).

H.B. No. 1672:

In accordance with Article III, Section 17, of the Hawaii State Constitution, Senator Baker moved that the Senate override the veto of H.B. No. 1672, as contained in Gov. Msg. No. 758, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Baker rose to support the motion and said:

“Madam President, colleagues, this measure would de-link the legislative service agency heads’ and chief deputies’ salaries from the executive salary schedule. We think this is inappropriate, as we are a separate branch of government.”

Senator Hemmings rose in support and said:

“Madam President, I rise to speak in favor of the motion.

“Madam President, because I’m departing from the Governor’s wishes on this, I think it’s important that the record reflect that I do agree with the previous speaker that we are a separate branch of government and we should be able to compensate our people accordingly. But I have to enter into the record the message that the Governor gave us that in many instances deputy directors in legislative agencies will be making considerably more than directors in the executive branch of government – directors who in their employ have hundreds of people and have budgets of millions of dollars and more, as opposed to the legislative agencies who are oftentimes 7, 10, 15, or 20 people and have very miniscule budgets.

“Obviously, the executive branch of government’s responsibilities and work and scope of work is much more extensive, warranting them to get more pay. Having said that, in all fairness, if we are giving raises indexed to allow legislative branch of government employees to make more than executive branch agency directors, the honest thing to do would be to next year consider some realistic compensation for the executive branch of government.

“Nevertheless, I think the previous speaker’s point is well taken regarding separation of powers and compensation accordingly. And I just hope that this Legislature, with any degree of fairness and bipartisanship, will look at the opportunity to pay the people in the executive branch of government a fair and adequate wage in relationship with the work they do.

“Thank you, Madam President.”

The motion was put by the Chair and, Roll Call vote having been requested, the veto of H.B. No. 1672, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO LEGISLATIVE SERVICE AGENCIES,” was overridden by not less than two-thirds vote of all members to which the Senate is entitled, on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 19. Noes, 3 (Gabbard, Slom, Trimble). Excused, 3 (Bunda, Inouye, Whalen).

The following resolutions (S.R. Nos. 149 to 153) were read by the Clerk and were disposed as follows:

Offered by: Senators Hooser, Hemmings.

On motion by Senator Ige, seconded by Senator Gabbard and carried, S.R. No. 153 was adopted.

Senator Hemmings, Minority Leader, rose to deliver his closing remarks as follows:

“Madam President, I rise on a point of personal privilege to give a Minority perspective and recap on this past Session.

“Madam President, congratulations to the Majority Party. It seems that we have some new leadership and it’s resulted in some changes in the Senate. Procedurally, some of those changes have been beneficial and more transparent. I would have to say, in others, they haven’t been as transparent and they certainly have not been bipartisan, especially in relationship to the compensation our good employees make here at the Legislature.

“I do want to enter into the record, Madam President, some prepared comments on a contentious issue of several days ago regarding SHPDA and the CON process. I certainly don’t want to drag out that long process again. I want to say to the Chairman of the Health Committee of the Senate that, while I respect him personally, we just happen to disagree on this issue. Where I’ll tremendously agree with him is that his son is probably way better than me surfing on the Internet. I will concede that my 10-year old son also is way better than me, but I think that’s more indicative of the age that we’re in rather than his interest in the subjects at hand.

“In looking at what we did this Session, I would like to refer back to the Opening Day and the word that was so popular, Madam President. I think it’s a word that is worth considering in everything we do, especially in our island state, and that’s ‘sustainability.’ What we did in this Session was we sustained the status quo of how this government operates, and more importantly, who it operates for. It’s important that we look at how we do it. And I would suggest in the near future that people are not only going to consider what this Legislature did, because the truth of the matter is, when you look at the big picture, we didn’t accomplish any earth-shattering changes.

“We didn’t do much is probably what some will say is good, but how we did some things will be a subject of controversy, most especially is how we used our constitutional duty to advise and consent to the Governor’s nominations to cabinet positions. It’s readily apparent to us in the Minority and to, I would suggest, many in the public, including the usually sympathetic editorials of the two daily papers to the Majority point of view, that that whole process constituted a predetermined indictment and conviction of the nominees until such time as they could prove themselves worthy of advise and consent. And I would suggest that would have been very difficult under the circumstances.

“For the first time, subpoenas were utilized to bring to the table alleged unwilling testifiers. And for the first time, it was mentioned on numerous occasions about hearsay testimony and anonymous testimony. How sad that we would pass judgment on anybody by hearsay, gossip, and anonymous testimony. For the first time, we used closed hearings. How sad we would pass judgment on someone without the opportunity of that person to, in this case, address their accusers and at least have an inkling of what they said and the ability to address those charges.

“I think we’re all here because we believe in democracy and we believe that everybody is equal under the law, and that the law should be administered fairly and equally. But I would suggest that there are some people in the process more equal than others, and that there are some special interests that stand in line first in this Legislature.

“I would further suggest that the evidence and record of what we do year in and year out will clearly validate my suspicion. First in line are the government employee unions, most especially HGEA, UPW. When it comes time to make a budget, what this Legislature has done in the past and what it continues to do is put their desires before even the sick, the hungry, and the needy. It wasn’t too long ago that we raided special funds that earmarked money for human services and put them in a raid bill so that the general fund would look bloated enough so the labor unions could exploit binding arbitration. With the exception of one courageous leader in this Senate, we remember that the Senate reversed itself on right to strike and gave back to the system collective bargaining as mandated through binding arbitration. So there really is no downside risk to the labor unions having to go on strike to have their voice heard.

“I would like to remind everybody here that according to national statistics we’re number one in the Nation for employees in relationship to workers, or to population. I’d like to remind everyone that oftentimes we call public employees public servants when in fact the numbers are just the opposite. Our research uncovered that a janitor in public employ makes, with fringe benefits and wages, $38,000 a year. The same janitor in private sector makes about $26,000 a year.

“I’d like to remind the Majority Party that the fringe benefits of public employees are unprecedented in the Nation with the number of paid days off, the number of accrued holidays, sick leave, health care benefits for life, so much so, that if the Majority Party was making a budget based on the future rather than just flying by the seat of their pants from year to year as we do, they would see that these unfunded mandates, especially the healthcare as the newspapers so accurately pointed out, amounts to billions of dollars in the future.

“I certainly don’t want anyone to misunderstand. I truly believe that the vast majority of the public employees, especially the HGEA members, do a good job, but I also further understand they’re adequately compensated. I also understand that we’re all living in this economy together. And I would suggest to the heads of the unions, especially HGEA and our good friends there, that they’re not living in an isolated economy. Union members share in the bounty or the lack of in this economy along with everyone else, Madam President and colleagues. Their kids oftentimes go to school in public schools where they’re not getting the $2.7 billion education that we’re paying for and they deserve. They work in an economy where we have the highest prices of taxes, of food, and of basic services. They get stuck in traffic just like the rest of us.

“So the question I would ask is, do we want to continue to have this Legislature answer to one special interest group first and foremost before any other, including the needy, at the expense of the entire state, including those in the unions? I would suggest that we have to bring balance back to the system, that we have to consider everyone when we make decisions, not just those who campaign so hard to get us reelected at election time. I would suggest that the hallmark of this Legislature is becoming more and more apparent that this process does not serve all the people equally; that some get preferential treatment by the legislative process, but paid for more by the working men and women in Hawai‘i.

“I would further suggest, Madam President, that what we have done, especially this year, is further strengthen the hand of this special interest at the expense of everybody, including themselves – the members of the rank and file of the labor unions – who are far exceeding the point of diminishing returns in what should be an island state that is prospering with opportunity and economic prosperity.

“So, in summarizing this Session, under your new Leadership, Madam President, I would say in some ways you’ve made some progress in certain areas; in other ways, we have sustained the status quo. Ultimately, I hope an informed people make a decision on what’s best for them in the future. And I’m hoping that in the second year of this biennium Legislature we come back and undo some of the injustices we perpetrated during this Session.

“Thank you, Madam President.”

The President then delivered her closing remarks as follows:

“Members of the Senate, four months ago when I spoke at the opening of my first Legislative Session as Senate President, I talked about challenges and how much there was that needed to be done – the need to help our working families, the demand for housing, and the concerns of the next generation over whether they will find real opportunities and a comfortable life in this place we all love and in a place that we all call our home. Many of the Chairs and many of the members took on the challenges of heading Committees that they had not head before, and the members all served diligently with their new Chairs. And yes, of course, in any situation where we are going forward and making changes, we may have our ups and downs, but I would like to say to all the members on both sides of the aisle that it has been an honor and a pleasure to have been the President for this Session. And I think all the Chairs have made us all very proud.

“I would like to, however, put the record straight on certain things. First of all, when you talk about whether or not the Legislature is in the back pockets of the unions and you speak to the collective bargaining, I was actually going to applaud the Administration this year because this is one of the few times that we’ve actually seen collective bargaining result as a function of collective bargaining – in other words, that they negotiated it. They did not resort to binding arbitration. And what does that mean? It means exactly that – that what they did was they agreed. That made it, for this Body, the decision was whether we would agree to what the Administration decided in its wisdom among its administrators and the union as to what would be the appropriate pay raise and benefits for the working people. And I think that’s a great example that what this Administration did was negotiate, and it made it simply a matter for us of affirming it – affirming what they did. So let’s not get confused with binding arbitration when it in fact did not take place.

“We’ve also heard criticisms throughout this Session about our confirmation process. Let’s also look at that very carefully. This Body faced almost 400 confirmations – almost 400. Two hit the newspapers – Iwalani White and Peter Young.

“Let’s start first with Iwalani White. No one can say that the Senate is in the back pocket of the unions. After all, UPW testified in favor of Iwalani White and they are the major union when it comes to PSD. In addition to that, Senator Espero, who was the new Chair of PSD, did a very good job, so much so that he received emails from the Governor applauding him for a fair Session. So, because the media doesn’t agree, that doesn’t make it that we were wrong. It doesn’t make that the nine subpoenas that he requested were wrong. And, what the Senate did was follow the recommendation of that Chair.

“That brings us to Peter Young, where I think that committee members of the Water, Land, Agriculture and Hawaiian Affairs Committee should be applauded for doing an amazing job. And let us also be clear on the record as to what happened in that situation. It was not the Committee’s decision to be behind closed doors. It was in fact the Attorney General who requested that it be behind closed doors so that he could protect the ongoing investigation that he had. What the Committee did was everything it could to facilitate and accommodate and receive all the information that it needed to come before this Body to make the appropriate recommendation.

“That Committee took four days. Yes, four very long days. They were the ones who were meeting into the night listening to the testimony. And for that, they should not be faulted. Yes, the media may not have agreed, but that doesn’t make what they did any less important and it doesn’t make the decision of this Senate wrong because of that. It was not the choice of this Body that we would in essence have a situation which resulted in what people may say are closed door sessions which they really are executive sessions called upon by the request of the Attorney General.

“Now, we as a Body should take great pride in what we have accomplished. We have allocated new funds to housing for one thing – and that is to give new people, more families, a new place to live. We have provided tax relief to those who need it most. Yes, people may disagree in that they may feel that they don’t pay really the bulk of the taxes so why should they get the refunds? It is because they need it. And we have heard, many of us have heard from our constituents that let us give that tax relief to the people who want it and need it. And look, look at what many of our constituents have said, ‘Don’t give us back $100 or $25, fix the schools, or take care of the homeless.’ And that is what this Body did, and I applaud the Chair of Ways and Means and the Finance Chair for developing a method by which we could get the monies and the funds to those who need it because I believe that that is an appropriate role of government and we have not ignored that responsibility.

“We have relieved the burden of high gasoline prices by saving families close to $32 million, and our students should find their schools to be a better place. Look at the bills we passed in this Session. We know, under the real true leadership of Senator Sakamoto, that K-12 education, we provided their high priority items, and in many situations provided more than what the Governor’s budget actually requested. There’s $50 million in general funds for repairs and maintenance of the schools; $40 million for aid to schools for adjustments for the weighted student formula.

“I believe that we have affirmed our commitment to education of our most precious treasures – our children – with budget allocations totaling $2.4 billion. And remember part of that are the teachers. I am very glad that the teachers reached an agreement in collective bargaining and I cannot impress upon everyone how significant that is – that what they bargained for, no one may be all happy with it but that is what they bargained for and that was what this Legislature affirmed in our votes earlier on collective bargaining items. For our very vulnerable children, we provided an extra $2.5 million in general funds plus $2.2 million in federal funds for the Child Protective Services. This was about a half-million dollars more than what the Administration requested.

“At the beginning of Session, 857 families faced uncertainty as to whether or not their affordable housing would remain affordable. We all know this as the Kukui Gardens. We responded with a budget commitment that would guarantee that those 857 units remain affordable. But, this too is a significant act in and of itself, because what this showed is that when the Governor’s Office, Speaker, as well as the Senate work together and in a very short period of time came up with a plan that would maintain 11 acres in state control. And the remaining acreage of the 22 acres that comprise Kukui Gardens, of the other half, the 400-plus units for the next 55 years will remain affordable. And that is the guarantee made by the developer. So, we are maintaining and keeping the numbers in affordable in a very important part of our community. Again, it shows that when we work together, we’re able to accomplish things. But, issues such as this somehow fall by the wayside because it seems to move a bit too smoothly and it doesn’t catch anyone’s interest.

“To help address our housing crisis, we appropriated nearly $4.4 million over the next two years to operate homeless shelters, provide necessary services, and where possible, provide intervention services to prevent families from becoming homeless. We’re providing $15 million over the next year to be deposited into the rental housing trust fund, enabling additional gap equity, low-interest loans or grants to be available to developers of affordable rental housing.

“At this point I ask that you permit me to digress on something because I don’t want the image to be that somehow the homeless are unable or lack the wherewithal to file tax returns to get some kind of refund. Because, please be assured, the bulk of the homeless, like I said on Opening Day, are on my coast – the Waianae Coast. The bulk of the homeless that we are assisting on the Waianae Coast are those who you would classify as working poor. They’re not on the beaches because they want to be on the beaches. They’re not on the beaches because they don’t have jobs or they don’t know how to do things like file tax returns. Be assured, many of them are there because they just happen to be down on their luck and they need a little bit of help. So, please, do not feel that the homeless on the Waianae Coast somehow are less than everyone else. They just happen to be less on luck.

“Tax relief on a progressive scale will ease the economic burden on those in the community who most need help. We have provided an $80 million total tax relief package, returning dollars to the pockets of those who can truly benefit. Now, that is significant, especially when it comes to the issues of the food credits, and again, on how we would handle the issue of the rebates. And I believe that we have handled it well, bearing in mind what the obligations of government is.

“Yes, by addressing the needs of our community it may mean spending more money, and we have taken other actions that are so necessary. The Kupuna Caucus, of course, that has been something very passionately shepherded by Senator Chun Oakland with the assistance of Senator Ihara and we have looked at the fraud and financial manipulation and we’ve taken action to protect that.

“And let us also not forget that we have done something today – and that’s with the greenhouse emission law that we just passed, which is probably one of the most progressive in the Nation at this time.

“We have protected agricultural lands. One of the items in the budget that we haven’t really taken accolades for is the fact that we are there to preserve ag lands in Kunia, or the Del Monte lands. There is an appropriation of over $8 million to do that.

“And we have considered how do we help our workers, and we have done that through the workforce development efforts that we have all enacted in this Legislative Session.

“I am confident in saying that each and every one of us on both sides of the aisle, whatever our political or philosophical differences may be, we have brought to the job the sweat and focus and the purpose of working for what we respectively believe is in the interest of the people of the State of Hawai‘i. We may not agree, but you know what? That’s good. I may not agree with the Minority Leader and I definitely do not agree most of the time with my good friend, the Senator from Hawai‘i Kai, but that doesn’t mean that we’re not working for the purposes that we all believe in. And that’s part of this. But the democratic process is one where we make our cases, we argue our points, and we vote. And simply because we are Democrats who happen to be the Majority doesn’t mean in and of itself that we blindly follow anything that may be proposed by the Democrats. I believe as a member of the Senate that the one thing that I have admired about the Senate as an institution is the fact that we are 25 very independent people, and our votes show it. If you step back and don’t harp on the differences and you look at the measures that we have voted together on, you will find that the differences are just a minor percentage. But we seem to sort of lose sight of how well we, as a Body, have worked together.

“The challenge that faces us every Session is a reminder that there is more that we need to do. The fact that we stand here and we disagree about whether we’ve accomplished anything is great because that means we all recognize that there is more to do.

“When I first stood here to give the Opening Day speech, I said, ‘This is just the beginning of a journey. It is not something that we will end in this Session.’ It’s impossible. We have too much to do. And I also agree with the Minority Leader on one point – which is that next Session we will come back, we will do better, and we will work together better on some issues, and we will not work together on some issues, because that’s the wonderment of the democratic process.

“Members, again, it has been an honor and a pleasure to be your Senate President for this Session and I look forward to us all convening in the upcoming Session. It would also not be proper for me to simply end without thanking the people that we must thank, and that is of course, our Senate Clerk, Carol Taniguchi; our Assistant Clerk, who’s here in spirit, Laurel Johnston; and our Sergeant-at-Arms, Ben Villaflor; and our Assistant, Jayson Watts, over there; and all of our staff and everyone else that makes us work and makes us function – Capitol TV, who makes it accessible; the Public Access Room that takes the brunt of the emails for us though we have tried to assist them.

“Members, thank you very much. This is a Session that I believe we can all leave here very proud of. Thank you so much.”

The President then made the following announcement:

“What we are going to do this Session that we have not done in the past, members, with all of your permission is, Senator Gabbard wants us, and rightfully so, to leave on a very high note, so I’d like to turn it over to him and you can select those that need to assist you, but bear in mind, some of them cannot carry a note.”

Senator Hooser rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

“Madam President, before Senator Gabbard, I just have a point of personal privilege, if I could.

“On behalf of the Senate Majority, Madam President, I wanted to offer our thanks and mahalo to you for doing such a great job this Session. We’re all busy people, but we can only imagine the work, the pressure, the stress that goes with the Office of the President, and you’ve done an exceptional job and we want to thank you for that.

“Another thing, Madam President, we want to wish you a happy birthday. It’s my understanding your birthday is tomorrow and many of us won’t be here tomorrow, so on behalf of the Senate Majority and I’m sure that the Minority will join us in that we want to just say ‘Happy Birthday’ and thank you for all the hard work that you’ve done this year.”

The President responded.

“Thank you very much. I do want the Star-Bulletin to note something – I was not part of the class of ’56 of St. Andrews Priory. I would take it that they were maybe trying to give me a message. I hope it was that I looked pretty good for somebody who graduated in the year 1956 from St. Andrews Priory, but thank you very much.”

Senator Gabbard rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

“First of all, I would like to say mahalo also to the Senate Clerk’s Office, to Ben and everybody in the Sergeant-of-Arms and the Senate Minority Office as well as the Senate Majority Office, and also to you, my colleagues, for making this freshman season a very interesting one, to say the least.

“I would also like to follow in the lead of the good Senator from Maui in Senate District 6. At the beginning of this Session he asked for forgiveness, and I would like to ask for forgiveness from my colleagues – if I’ve offended you in any way, I ask for your forgiveness.

“I would like to have us all join in. This is going to be a group thing. It’s a song that we all know and love – ‘Hawai‘i Aloha’ – written by Pastor Lorenzo Lyons back in the 1800s. Unfortunately, we always used to sing one verse and the chorus, and it’s kind of at the end, so today we’re going to sing all three verses, and I’ve asked some of my colleagues to join me. It’s going to be a bilingual effort – we’ll do it in Hawaiian and in English. So, please stand and join me.

“Thank you.”

At this time, the members of the Senate rose and joined hands to sing “Hawai‘i Aloha.”

At 12:47 o’clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 1:39 o’clock p.m.

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

JULY 10, 2007

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 46

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fourth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 46, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Government Operations.'

This bill amends sections 89C-4, 92-5, 304A-1001, and 304A-1004, Hawaii Revised Statutes, to provide that proposed compensation or changes in compensation for administrative positions excluded from chapter 89C, Hawaii Revised Statutes, in the University of Hawaii system shall be disclosed in open meetings for purposes of public comment. Section 92-5(a)(2) is amended to narrow the purposes for which closed meetings may be held by excluding compensation or changes in compensation for University of Hawaii administrative positions. Section 304A-1001 is amended to require the Board of Regents to publicly disclose compensation or changes in compensation for the University's administrative positions no later than six business days before any related open meeting is convened for public comment.

This bill is objectionable for three reasons. First, disclosure would hinder the University's ability to negotiate terms, including salaries, of employment contracts favorable to the University and taxpayers. Allowing proposed compensation to be publicly disclosed, before a contract is negotiated or executed, could damage the University's bargaining stance. This frustrates a legitimate government purpose for which existing law provides protections.

Second, under the public records law (Uniform Information Practices Act Chapter 92F), the University of Hawaii is required to disclose actual salaries of exempt employees. In contrast, government employees have a privacy interest in proposed compensation and proposed pay, which is currently not considered public information and may be properly withheld from public disclosure. Further, the Uniform Information Practices Act is intended to protect an individual's privacy interest by allowing a board to discuss personnel matters in a closed meeting. Disclosure of proposed salaries of these University of Hawaii employees is not of sufficient public interest to sufficiently warrant the invasion of privacy of these public servants.

Third, transparency is already provided. The Sunshine Law, part I of chapter 92, Hawaii Revised Statutes, currently gives the public the opportunity to testify on matters listed on a board's agenda. While the exact salary the Board of Regents proposes to pay a specific employee is not included on the agenda, the Board is already required by the Sunshine Law to provide sufficient information to inform the public that it is considering a compensation matter for a prospective or current employee. Salary ranges are publicly disclosed and give the public an opportunity to know the parameters of the proposed personnel action.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 46 without my approval.

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 613, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Education.'

This bill is objectionable because it prematurely requires the Department to make changes in early childhood education programs prior to the completion of the work of the legislatively mandated Early Learning Educational Task Force set up pursuant to Act 259 of 2006.

This bill directs the Department of Education to conduct an assessment on an individual kindergarten or junior kindergarten student's readiness for grade one based on a range of characteristics that will be developed by the Department. However, the Department of Education believes it will not be able to comply with this requirement and develop the assessment tool within the time constraints imposed by this measure.

Additionally, this bill directs the Department of Education to report to the Legislature before the regular session of 2008 on the planning and development of the appropriate curriculum for junior kindergarten and to submit its findings and recommendations on the planned junior kindergarten curricula, successful models, and assessments to be used in the placement of junior kindergarten and kindergarten students in the first grade, as well as the facilities to be used for junior kindergarten. Again, the Department of Education has stated that this deadline is unrealistic and that it will not be able to comply.

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 755, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to County Ethics Commissions.'

The purpose of this bill is to direct counties to set forth, by county ordinance, a process by which county ethics commissioners will be selected by an independent body in the interest of ensuring sufficient independence and impartiality.

This bill is objectionable because it presumes that only one model, the State's model, is the only way to select independent and impartial county ethics commissioners. In addition, the bill establishes a criteria upon which commissioners are to be selected that is vague.

Further, the bill requires that the process be 'set forth by county ordinance,' which is problematic because it conflicts with existing county laws that require each of the county ethics commissions and the process for appointing commissions' members to be established by charter. As a result, each of the counties' charters would have to be amended to implement this bill's requirement that the appointment process be set forth by ordinance. This is an inappropriate and unnecessary infringement on county home rule.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 837

Honorable Members

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 837, entitled ‘A Bill Relating to Agriculture.’

This bill authorizes the agribusiness development corporation to purchase agricultural lands in the Kunia and Ewa areas of Oahu for the preservation of agricultural lands in the Kunia and Ewa areas and allows the agribusiness development corporation to enter into land lease agreements and contract with financial institutions to provide lease management services.

This bill is objectionable because it proposes to pay the full asking price advertised by a large private landowner and includes lands within the City’s Urban Growth Boundary scheduled for development under the Ewa Development Plan adopted in 1997 by the City and County of Honolulu, pursuant to Ordinance 97-49.

The General Fund appropriation contained in this bill coincidentally matches the sales price of two parcels of property offered by a large private corporation. Should the State wish to retain lands in agriculture for the public good, it is more appropriate to use eminent domain laws and purchase said property at market value, rather than the full asking price.

The inclusion of Ewa lands within the Urban Growth Boundary is unacceptable because the Attorney General has opined that the Governor cannot legally make a guarantee that the funds within this bill would not be considered for purchase of properties located in Ewa. Thus, if the State acquired lands or attempted to acquire lands in Ewa to keep the lands in agriculture, it may expose the State to unnecessary and avoidable litigation.

Further, it should be noted that the agribusiness development corporation already has statutory authority to purchase and lease lands under Hawaii Revised Statutes §163D-4. The State owns a 150 acre parcel of land planned for future use as the Royal Kunia Agricultural Park. The park will be under the oversight of the Department of Agriculture’s Agricultural Resource Management Division as part of this Administration’s program to preserve agricultural land in the area.

As noted in my July 5, 2007 communications to Speaker Say and President Hanabusa, the defect of this bill can be easily remedied by statutorily authorizing the use of eminent domain proceedings as provided for in Chapter 101-14 of the Hawaii Revised Statutes. I have asked the Legislature to make this amendment, which only the Legislature can do. Further, enacting this amendment would establish an important precedent of using eminent domain powers for the preservation of agricultural property. If the Legislature makes the necessary corrections to this bill, I have stated my willingness to sign this measure.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 870

Honorable Members

State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 870, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to the Designation of a Hawaii Archaeological Data Survey.’

The purpose of this bill is to establish as an online database a Hawaii archaeological data survey consisting of archaeological documents and materials including reports, maps, and artifacts beginning with the collections of the Bishop Museum and including records of the State Historic Preservation Division.

First, this bill is objectionable because the broad online public availability of records concerning the location of archaeological artifacts could put these artifacts in jeopardy. The test in the bill for withholding such information, Section 92F-13(3), Hawaii Revised Statutes, applies to records maintained by State and county agencies. Because Bishop Museum is a private, nonprofit organization, not a State agency, this section of the statutes would not be applicable.

Second, this bill may result in a constitutional violation. Although the Bernice Pauahi Bishop Museum has been designated as the ‘State Museum of Natural and Cultural History,’ the designation did not make the Bishop Museum a government agency. Because the Bishop Museum remains a private, nonprofit organization, this bill’s mandate to make available the Bishop Museum’s collection of archaeological material without compensation may result in an unconstitutional taking of property without just compensation.

Finally, there is concern that disclosure of items on federal lands, Department of Hawaiian Home Lands, and lands utilizing federal funds violates the Archaeological Resources Protection Act of 1979. Failure to secure and protect information on cultural and archaeological sites exposes the State and county agencies to federal funding sanctions. Additionally, the bill fails to recognize the homeland security restrictions that apply to sites on military installations.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 870 without my approval.

“EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS

July 10, 2007

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 932

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fourth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 932, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to A Comprehensive Offender Reentry System.’

The purposes of this bill are to establish a comprehensive offender reentry system for adult offenders with reentry programs, form a one-year pilot day reporting center work furlough program administered by the department of public safety, and create a legislative oversight committee. A total of $3.5 million is appropriated in fiscal year 2007-08 only for these programs.

This bill is objectionable because it endangers the well-being of the inmate population, compromises the safety of the community, may expose the State to costly litigation, and provides only a single year of funding for programs with multi-year impacts.

First, this bill would require the return of out-ofstate inmates at least one year prior to the inmate’s parole or release date, irrespective of whether there is available space to house the inmates. This is objectionable because statutorily requiring the indiscriminate determination of an offender’s eligibility for reentry into the community based on his/her release date, rather than the cognitive and behavioral preparedness of the offender without consideration for public safety and inmate security, endangers the safety of the community, may create additional overcrowding and unsafe conditions for prisoners, and exposes the State to liability. This will also increase the number of inmate litigations in cases where the department has no available beds and could result in the early release of prisoners.

Second, the bill establishes unrealistic expectations that inmates will be incarcerated in facilities nearest their families without providing the means for carrying out this policy. Overcrowding already exists at a number of Hawaii’s current in-state correctional institutions. To lead inmates to believe they will be placed in a location where there is no room is unfair to the prisoner, misleading to his or her family, and discriminates against those inmates who do not have dependents. Further, it may expose the State to potential costly litigation.

Third, the bill appropriates $3.5 million outside of the legislatively approved biennium budget to start programs in fiscal year 2007-2008 but fails to provide funding in the subsequent year or address the fiscal implications of these programs in future years. This is fiscally imprudent and could lead to the start-up of programs that would have to be closed down less than 12 months later.

Finally, The Offender Reentry Legislative Oversight Committee, established by Part II, is duplicative of the authority the Legislature already has to conduct site visits, access areas in correctional facilities, hold public meetings, and make recommendations to the Department of Public Safety. Further, this Committee duplicates efforts of the Corrections Population Management Commission established by Act 343 of 1993 which already includes members of the Legislature.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 932 without my approval.

“EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS

July 10, 2007

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 946

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fourth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 946, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to Administrative License Revocation.’

The purpose of this bill is to permit persons who have had their driver’s licenses administratively revoked for life, for repeatedly driving while intoxicated, to request and obtain a reinstatement of the license if: (1) ten years or more have passed since the revocation; (2) the person obtains certification that the person is not in need of substance abuse treatment; and (3) since the revocation, the person has not been arrested, convicted, or adjudicated for any traffic infraction.

This bill is objectionable because it will reduce the deterrent impact of the lifetime revocation provision and allow these high-risk offenders back on the roads, jeopardizing public safety. An individual is not subjected to a lifetime revocation unless he or she has been convicted of driving while intoxicated four times within a ten-year period. The lifetime revocation is not imposed suddenly or without warning. An individual subjected to a lifetime revocation has been arrested, put through the court process, and faced a judge at sentencing at least three times before receiving the lifetime suspension. History has shown that this individual did not benefit from the numerous court proceedings and sentencing provisions, which could have included periods of incarceration. This individual poses a high risk of danger to himself or herself and others on the road.

Another concern is that the bill could be interpreted to allow a reinstated driver to get three subsequent convictions for driving while intoxicated, and still avoid another lifetime revocation.

The bill does not have sufficient safeguards to prevent habitually intoxicated drivers who have had a lifetime revocation of their driver's license from driving under the influence again. To be eligible for relicensing, the bill only requires that an applicant have a recent certification (within ninety days) that the applicant is not in need of substance abuse treatment, and that the applicant has not been arrested, convicted, or adjudicated for any traffic infraction while the applicant's license was revoked. Neither of these requirements will prevent the relicensing of a person with current alcohol abuse problems.

The lifetime revocation provision has been part of Hawaii law since 1991. Prior to the 2000 legislative session, this provision was reviewed and made a part of a new comprehensive bill on impaired driving. Act 189, Session Laws of Hawaii 2000, included the enactment of chapter 291E, Use of Intoxicants While Operating a Vehicle. Chapter 291E was the result of a comprehensive effort to address the serious problem of impaired driving by the Department of Transportation and the Governor's Highway Safety Council Impaired Driving Task Force. The task force, made up of over seventy-five individuals and organizations from around the State, including but not limited to police, prosecutors, defense attorneys, judiciary representatives, the administrative driver's license revocation office, and emergency room physicians, undertook a comprehensive review of Hawaii's impaired driving laws and proposed to retain the lifetime revocation of driver's license provision in the law.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 946 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 1004

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fourth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 1004, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to Psychologists.’

The stated purpose of this bill ‘is to authorize appropriately trained and supervised licensed medical psychologists practicing in federally qualified health centers, to prescribe psychotropic medications for the treatment of mental illness.’

This bill is objectionable because its actual effect goes beyond its stated purpose by allowing psychologists who obtain the second of the two tiers of prescriptive authority established by the bill -- a prescription certificate -- to practice outside of federally qualified health centers (FQHCs) and to prescribe medications to individuals who are not patients at FQHCs. Furthermore, this bill does not require medical supervision of psychologists holding a prescription certificate.

This bill is also objectionable because psychologists do not have the training necessary to prescribe drugs and this bill does not require sufficient didactic and clinical training for prescriptive authority. Modeled after the Department of Defense's Psychopharmacology Demonstration Project (PDP), this bill differs significantly from the PDP. With respect to the didactic training differences, the bill lacks classroom training in two core areas, cell biology and clinical pharmacology, that is required by the PDP. Regarding the clinical training differences, the PDP specified the number of hours required and how many months must be inpatient and outpatient experience, whereas this bill fails to do so. The PDP, furthermore, required close supervision by a psychiatrist with advanced training in psychopharmacology while this bill only requires supervision two hours a week by a physician or psychiatrist.

Also, as noted in the 2007 report by the Legislative Reference Bureau, PDP psychologists trained in an ‘optimum learning environment in a comprehensive medical center that offered a wide range of medical care, proximity to a large number of physician and nonphysician health care providers, available diagnostic and treatment equipment and facilities, and other advantages or learning experiences that may not be available at small medical facilities.’ This bill, on the other hand, provides for practicum training in FQHCs that are smaller with limited staffing and equipment and not as well integrated into a larger medical environment. The clinical experience settings are distinctly different and the bill's practicum training is not comparable to that provided for in the PDP model.

In addition, this bill gives psychologists with prescriptive authority a scope of practice broader than that afforded to the PDP psychologists. PDP psychologists were limited to prescribing psychotropic medications to patients between the ages of 18 and 65 with mental conditions but without medical complications as evaluated by the supervising psychiatrist. This bill allows psychologists to prescribe psychotropic medications to patients of all ages, including children, elderly, and those with medical illnesses in addition to mental conditions. Psychologists with limited didactic and clinical training are not prepared to handle the side effects of psychotropic medications on patients with medical complications.

In recognition of this concern, both the Board of Medical Examiners and the Board of Psychology, the professional licensing bodies for these two professions, have asked that this bill not become law.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 1004 without my approval.

Respectfully,

Gov. Msg. No. 1044, dated July 10, 2007, transmitting her statement of objections to Senate Bill No. 1060 which she has returned to the Senate without her approval and which reads as follows:

“EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS

July 10, 2007

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO.
1060

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fourth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 1060, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to Workers’ Compensation Law.’

The purpose of this bill is to make numerous changes to the workers’ compensation statutes.

This bill is objectionable because the amendment it contains to Act 11, Special Session Laws of Hawaii 2005, would delete the sunset provision of Act 11. In 2005 the Legislature imposed a temporary moratorium on the Director of Labor and Industrial Relations’ workers’ compensation rule-making authority. By its terms, Act 11 envisioned the repeal of the temporary suspension of the Director’s rule-making authority on July 1, 2007.

This bill proposes to make the temporary moratorium on the Director’s rule-making authority permanent. Such a provision frustrates and prevents the ability of the Director to perform an important function. The bill permanently limits the Director’s ability to promptly respond to the changing needs of the workers’ compensation program. It is critical that the Director have the ability to expeditiously make, repeal, and amend rules pertaining to workers’ compensation in order to be responsive to the immediate needs of the State. To permanently prohibit the Director from adopting or amending rules having the force and effect of law would severely frustrate the State’s ability to facilitate and promote the efficient execution of the workers’ compensation laws.

This bill is also objectionable because it requires an employer or employer’s insurer to continue to pay for medical treatments and temporary total disability benefits after the employer or employer’s insurer, using a physician’s determination, considers the continued treatments and/or disability to be inappropriate, excessive, or for a non-compensable condition. Requiring payment for medical services and/or temporary total disability benefits that were determined unwarranted and unnecessary will likely result in higher workers’ compensation premiums because this adds to the workers’ compensation risk exposure of all businesses in Hawaii.

Further, the bill would create a disincentive to return to work. More specifically, it may encourage certain employees to continue to contest returning to work because even if the Director determines the employee should and could have returned to work, the employee bears no risk for failing to do so, as the benefits the employee were paid are non-recoverable by the employer.

Finally, this bill fundamentally changes the balance between employer and employee regarding the method by which medical care can be terminated. It essentially overrides the workers’ compensation medical fee schedule and negates the ‘reasonable and necessary’ language in current Hawaii workers’ compensation law, thereby placing in jeopardy the integrity of the State’s workers’ compensation system.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 1060 without my approval.

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 1066, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to Invasive Species.’

The purposes of this bill are to establish a special fund for invasive species inspection, quarantine, eradication, and monitoring programs and to impose a fee for the inspection, quarantine, and eradication of invasive species contained in any marine commercial container shipment, foreign or domestic, that is brought into the State, computed on a basis of $1 for each twenty-foot equivalent unit per container.

The goal to enhance inspections for invasive species is laudable. However the bill is objectionable because it creates a context in which out-of-state fees could be imposed on Hawaii shippers.

Currently the State of California is considering placing a surcharge fee on all containers leaving its ports. The proposed fee would be substantial -- $30 per container, per movement into and out of California. The majority of Hawaii’s goods are shipped out of Oakland and Long Beach ports and return to California. This would result in an estimated $45.2 million more per year to Hawaii consumers to ship basic essentials into our State. Passage of this bill would make it difficult to defend against efforts by other jurisdictions to impose their state-mandated fees on the containers coming into Hawaii.

This measure would undermine our efforts to persuade the California State Assembly and members of the United States Congress that state-imposed fees should not be imposed on containers moving in interstate commerce.

The Department of Agriculture presently conducts inspections of goods shipped into Hawaii for invasive species. The amount of $7,600,000 in general funds has been budgeted for fiscal year 2007-2008, and a similar amount for fiscal year 2008-2009, for the Plant, Pest, and Disease Control program to carry out program activities, including inspection for invasive species.

Twenty-Fourth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 1191, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Pedestrian Safety.'

This bill appropriates $1,500,000 in fiscal year 2007-2008 and $1,500,000 in fiscal year 2008-2009 for projects that are designed to increase pedestrian safety. The bill would require the State Department of Transportation to submit an interim report to the Legislature for the 2008 regular session and a final report before the 2009 regular session.

While my administration strongly supports improved pedestrian safety, we are concerned about the adverse impact this bill creates on the State Highway Fund. The State Highway Fund has been decreasing as a result of increased efforts to address long-standing highway construction needs in the State. In fiscal year 2005-2006 the Fund had a balance of $135,200,000. At the end of fiscal year 2008-2009, the Fund is projected to have a balance of about $36,700,000.

In recognition of this decline, my Administration requested a $72,000,000 cash infusion into the State Highway Fund to ensure that ongoing projects can continue. The Legislature did not approve this funding request. Diverting $3,000,000 from the State Highway Fund will cause further depletion of resources needed to match federal highway dollars and construct much needed roadways in our State.

The bill would allocate $1,200,000 from State Highway funds as grants to the counties to purchase and install pedestrian-related changes on county roads and county intersections. The county fuel tax is already available for addressing these types of improvements on county roadways.

As noted in my July 5, 2007 communication to Speaker Say and President Hanabusa, the defect in this bill can be easily remedied by appropriating moneys from the General Fund rather than the State Highway Fund. I have asked the Legislature to make this amendment so that I may sign this measure for improved pedestrian safety. Without this amendment, which only the Legislature can enact, the bill is unacceptable.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 1191 without my approval.

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 1922

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fourth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 1922, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Creative Media.'

The purposes of this bill are to: (1) require a portion of the existing Public Broadcasting System (PBS) facility and studio at the University of Hawaii Manoa campus to be designated as an interim home for the Academy for Creative Media; (2) require the existing PBS facility and studio be leased to PBS at no cost; and (3) establish the Music and Enterprise Learning Experience program at the University of Hawaii-Honolulu Community College.

This bill is objectionable for the following reasons. First, the bill's mandate of a lease of a particular property (the existing PBS facility) to a particular private entity (PBS) would likely be construed as a special and not a general law. Section 5 of Article XI of the State Constitution requires that the legislative power over state lands be exercised only by general law. The Attorney General has opined that this constitutional infirmity, in and of itself, justifies a veto of this bill.

Second, Section 6 of Article X of the State Constitution grants the University of Hawaii's Board of Regents exclusive jurisdiction over the internal structure, management, and operation of the university. Although this is qualified by the Legislature's power to enact laws of statewide concern, the assignment and use of campus facilities are inherently part of the University's internal structure, management, and operation and are not matters of statewide concern. Moreover, pursuant to the executive order setting aside the land on which the PBS facility is located, the set aside was explicitly stated as land set aside for educational purposes to be under the control and management of the Board of Regents of the University of Hawaii.

Third, Section 14 of Article III of the State Constitution provides that each law shall embrace but one subject, which shall be expressed in its title. It is questionable whether the PBS lease provisions of this bill properly fall within the scope of this bill's title, 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Creative Media,' again making this bill subject to a legal challenge.

This Administration is supportive of the work of the Academy for Creative Media. My Administration also recognizes the importance of the Public Broadcasting System in Hawaii. Additionally, my Administration proposed and fully supports the creation of a Music Education Learning Experience (MELE) at the University of Hawaii-Honolulu Community College. It is unfortunate that this measure failed to provide sufficient funding for this new program, as originally proposed in legislation requested by my Administration.

Regrettably, this measure is legally defective. As noted in my July 5, 2007 communication to Speaker Say and President Hanabusa, the defect in this bill can easily be remedied by deleting Section 3 of Part II of this bill dealing with the lease to the Public Broadcasting System. I have asked the Legislature to make this amendment so that I may sign this measure. Without this amendment, which only the Legislature can enact, the bill is constitutionally flawed.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 1922 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 1988

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fourth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 1988, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Honey.'

The purpose of this bill is to establish labeling and advertising requirements for products produced in whole or in part from Hawaii-produced honey.

This bill is objectionable because it raises serious constitutional issues, particularly in its effect on interstate commerce and commercial free speech.

While I applaud this bill's attempt to ensure the accurate labeling and advertising of honey products that are produced in Hawaii and the integrity of products that claim to contain Hawaii's high quality honey, this bill does not limit its application to such. Instead it is far-reaching in its application to all honey products that contain any amount of Hawaii-produced honey, even reaching labeling requirements for those who were not planning on making any claims with regard to geographic origin. For example, this bill would require particular geographic identification for honey with a very small quantity of Hawaii honey, even in the absence of a desire by the manufacturer to make any representation as to type or origin of the honey. Thus, this bill is simply not narrowly tailored to prevent the deception or misleading of consumers, as its labeling and advertising requirements would apply even to products that may not otherwise make a claim to contain Hawaii-produced honey or are not otherwise deceptive or misleading. Therefore, this bill's labeling and advertising requirements may be deemed to be more extensive than necessary to advance the Legislature's purpose, in violation of the First Amendment.

The bill also presents significant Commerce Clause issues, especially as it reaches products distributed outside Hawaii. The bill attempts to regulate manufacturers and advertisers outside of Hawaii who deal with products that contain at least a portion of Hawaii-produced honey. Additionally, the wording of this bill would require honey produced outside of Hawaii to meet Hawaii's grade standards.

In contrast, current law regulating the labeling of Hawaii-grown coffee applies only to the portion of the coffee that is Hawaii-grown. Similarly, labeling requirements for Hawaii-grown macadamia nuts apply only to package labels making the geographic claim that all or a portion of its macadamia nut contents were grown in Hawaii. These laws are more narrowly tailored to achieving accurate and non-deceptive labeling of Hawaii-grown products.

I believe this bill should be re-written so that misleading or deceptive claims about Hawaii honey are prohibited, but also so that the bill does not violate provisions of the United States Constitution.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 1988 without my approval.

Respectfully,

/s/ Linda Lingle

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

July 10, 2007

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 30

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fourth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 30, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to International Trade Agreements.'

The purpose of this bill is to prohibit the Governor from agreeing to bind the State in international trade agreements that contain procurement provisions between the United States and another nation without the approval of the Legislature by a simple majority vote on a concurrent resolution. This bill requires the Governor to notify the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives if the federal government seeks the State's participation in an international trade agreement when the Legislature is not in session. The Legislature may then consider the approval of the agreement's procurement provisions in a special session.

This bill is objectionable because it curtails the Governor's authority by requiring legislative approval for the State to enter into international trade agreements that relate to environmental, health, safety, and procurement issues where State standards may apply. This is an area that has traditionally been recognized as within the scope of executive responsibility.

Second, this bill would hinder the ability of the State to enter into international trade agreements and respond to the federal government in a timely manner because the federal government often requests states to consent within a limited period of time. When the Legislature is not in session, the agreement could not take effect until, and if, a special session was called, which will incur additional taxpayer-funded costs to bring the legislators back into session. If the Legislature failed to convene or to enact a concurrent resolution during a special or regular session, the State of Hawaii would be precluded from participation in the Agreement.

The procurement provisions of these international trade agreements are usually reciprocal. If the Legislature cannot or does not act in time to commit the State to consent to those reciprocal agreements, there may be adverse consequences for businesses in Hawaii. The Department of Accounting and General Services believes, and I agree, that the Legislature's involvement in the review of these international agreements could result in foreign companies not conducting business in Hawaii and Hawaii companies being subject to tariff and trade barriers.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 30 without my approval.

Honorable Members

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 91, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Public Accountancy.'

The purposes of this bill are to delete the private or government experience alternative for licensure as a certified public accountant (CPA) and to amend the educational requirements to take the CPA examination.

This bill is objectionable because it concurrently erects barriers to licensure while diluting CPA licensing requirements.

First, this bill repeals the ability of an applicant for a CPA license to substitute experience in the private or government sector for all or part of the two years of experience in public accounting practice that is required. Hawaii enacted its statute in 1997 to allow private sector or government experience to count toward the licensing requirement. The overwhelming majority of other licensing jurisdictions in the United States recognize and accept private and government work as qualifying experience for licensure as a CPA (i.e., out of fifty-five jurisdictions, fifty jurisdictions recognize government or private experience in one form or another).

Second, this bill lowers the standards for licensure by allowing an individual to sit for the CPA licensing examination without first obtaining a baccalaureate degree in accounting or a bachelor of arts degree in another field with an additional eighteen semester hours of upper division or graduate level accounting or auditing coursework. Instead, an individual with a baccalaureate degree in any course of study and no accounting or auditing coursework can sit for the examination. According to the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, this would make Hawaii the only state that would allow an individual to sit for the CPA licensing examination without the required baccalaureate accounting degree and accounting and auditing coursework.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 91 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 310

Honorable Members

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 310, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Technology.'

The purpose of this bill is to establish the fifteen-member Hawaii Broadband Task Force appointed by the Senate President and the Speaker of the House. This bill requires the Office of the Auditor to provide the research and organizational support services to the task force and appropriates $50,000 from general funds in fiscal year 2007-2008 to pay for the support.

Although creation of a broadband network in Hawaii is important, this bill is objectionable because it fails to recognize the proper and logical governmental agency to support the task force.

Assigning to the Office of the Auditor the responsibility to provide staff support for this effort is not consistent with the Auditor's statutory duties and is an inappropriate function of that office. Pursuant to section 23-4, Hawaii Revised Statutes, the Auditor's primary duties are to 'conduct postaudits of the transactions, accounts, programs, and performance of all departments, offices, and agencies of the State and its political subdivisions' and to conduct 'examinations to discover evidence of any unauthorized, illegal, irregular, improper, or unsafe handling or expenditure of state funds or other improper practice of financial administration.'

The Department of Accounting and General Services is the state agency tasked with the management of the State's Internet and website systems. This Department also handles the planning and implementation of the State's communication networks. The Department of Commerce and Consumer Affairs has oversight over communications entities. Either of these departments would be a more appropriate state agency than the Office of the Auditor to provide staff support to a Broadband Task Force.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 310 without my approval.

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 436, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Human Services.'

The purpose of this bill is to create a new section in chapter 346, Hawaii Revised Statutes, which would require the Department of Human Services (DHS) to cover chiropractic services for persons who receive Medicaid QUEST or fee-for-service benefits.

This bill is objectionable because of the precedent it sets in codifying a benefit into statute, thereby making it mandatory. Services provided under Medicaid QUEST and fee-for-service plans have been made part of the plan via submission of a State Plan amendment with the United States Department of Health and Human Services, Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services, and appropriating the requisite State matching funds.

Because this bill takes the approach of adding the benefit in State law, making chiropractic coverage a statutorily mandated benefit, doing so obligates the State to pay for this coverage without prescribed limits, since none are set in this bill. This jeopardizes other optional benefits if utilization rates for the mandatory benefits are higher than budgeted projections.

Additionally, there are significant potential fiscal implications for the Medicaid health system if chiropractic services are added.

Accordingly, I am returning House Bill No. 436 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 718

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fourth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 718, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Kakaako.'

The purposes of this bill are to (1) require the Hawaii Community Development Authority (HCDA) to set aside the old ice chute and fuel dock operations building site at the Kewalo Basin Cove for use by the Kewalo Keiki Fishing Conservancy, and (2) require HCDA to proceed with necessary environmental remediation at the site.

This bill is objectionable because Section 5 of Article XI of the State Constitution provides that '[t]he legislative power over the lands owned by or under the control of the state . . . shall be exercised only by general laws.'

Section 5 of Article XI clearly limits the Legislature's administration or disposition of lands owned or controlled by the State by general law only. In its broadest sense, the term 'general laws' denotes laws that apply uniformly throughout the political subdivisions of the State. Bulgo v. County of Maui, 50 Haw. 51 (1967). A law is special if it relates to particular persons or things. (82 C.J.S. Statutes Sec. 166, p. 279)

This bill makes a disposition of specific parcels of land, 'portions of tax map key (first division) 2-1-058:41 and 2-1-058:116,' for the benefit of a specific entity, the Kewalo

Keiki Fishing Conservancy. Therefore, the Attorney General has opined that the disposition is in violation of the State Constitution.

It should be noted that the site has environmental contamination issues and the Hawaii Community Development Authority has offered an alternative site to the Kewalo Keiki Fishing Conservancy.

For the foregoing reason, I am returning House Bill No. 718 without my approval.

Gov. Msg. No. 1054, dated July 10, 2007, transmitting her statement of objections to House Bill No. 855 which she has returned to the House of Representatives without her approval and which reads as follows:

“EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

July 10, 2007

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 855

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fourth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 855, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to Workers’ Compensation.’

This bill would allow an injured employee to continue to receive medical services when a dispute exists between the injured employee and the employer or employer’s insurer regarding whether medical care should continue, until the Director of Labor and Industrial Relations renders a final decision on the matter. Furthermore, this bill would further restrict the rulemaking authority of the Director of Labor and Industrial Relations.

This bill is objectionable because it requires an employer or employer’s insurer to continue to pay for medical treatments after the employer or employer’s insurer considers the continued treatments to be inappropriate, excessive, or for a non-compensable condition, and after an independent medical examiner has concluded that the treatment the employee is ready to return to work. Requiring an insurer to pay for medical services that were determined unwarranted or unnecessary with no substantive right to recovery until the parties are notified of the Director’s decision denying such benefits, will likely result in higher workers’ compensation premiums since this adds to the workers’ compensation risk exposure of all businesses in Hawaii.

This bill fundamentally changes the balance between employer and employee regarding the method by which medical care can be terminated. It essentially overrides the workers’ compensation medical fee schedule and negates the ‘reasonable and necessary’ language in current Hawaii workers’ compensation law by requiring an employer or employer’s insurer to pay for medical benefits that the Director determines is unreasonable and unnecessary until the parties are notified of the Director’s decision, thereby placing in jeopardy the fiscal integrity of the State’s workers’ compensation system.

The bill additionally restricts the ability to recover inappropriate and unwarranted medical payments by not permitting recapture of these payments prior to the issuance of the Director’s decision. This is unfair to those employees who genuinely need their medical treatments by allowing other employees who are fit to return to work to draw down benefits, adversely impacting the workers’ compensation fund.

This bill is also objectionable because, by requiring that the Director of Labor and Industrial Relations submit any proposed adoption, amendment, or repeal of workers’ compensation rules to the Legislature for approval prior to submission to the Governor, it would limit the Director’s ability to promptly respond to the changing needs of the workers’ compensation program. It is critical that the Director have the ability to expeditiously make, repeal, and amend rules pertaining to workers’ compensation in order to be responsive to the immediate needs of the State. To encumber the Director with the proposed procedure would severely frustrate the Director’s and the State’s ability to facilitate and promote the efficient execution of the workers’ compensation laws.

Finally, this bill requires that the Director of Labor and Industrial Relations’ proposed adoption, amendment, or repeal of workers’ compensation rules be submitted to both houses of the Legislature and must be approved in their entirety by concurrent resolution. Having given the Director the authority to create, amend and repeal workers’ compensation rules, the Legislature’s retaining the power to disapprove the Director’s proposed adoption, amendment, or repeal of workers’ compensation rules may violate the enactment and presentment provisions of the Hawaii Constitution and the separation of powers doctrine.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 855 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 1270

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fourth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1270, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to State Planning.’

The purpose of this bill is to revise the due date of completion of the Hawaii 2050 Sustainability Plan, appropriate an additional $850,000 to the Office of the Auditor to develop the plan, and set up a special fund for the Office of Planning’s geographic information system (GIS).

Although the enhancement of the GIS system is important, this bill is objectionable because it fails to recognize the proper location and logical nexus for development of the Hawaii 2050 Sustainability Plan.

Assigning the Office of the Auditor with the responsibility for developing the Hawaii 2050 Sustainability Plan is not consistent with the Auditor’s primary duties and is an inappropriate function of that office. Pursuant to section 23-4, Hawaii Revised Statutes, the Auditor's primary duties are 'to conduct post audits of the transactions, accounts, programs, and performance of all departments, offices, and agencies of the State and its political subdivisions' and 'examinations to discover evidence of any unauthorized, illegal, irregular, improper, or unsafe handling or expenditure of state funds or improper practice of financial administration.' The Office of Planning is responsible for comprehensive, long-range, and strategic planning, pursuant to chapter 225M, Hawaii Revised Statutes, and is the more appropriate agency to develop the Hawaii 2050 Sustainability Plan.

Second, this bill further delays the issuance of the sustainability report. The original report was due prior to the start of the 2006 legislative session. Act 211 of 2006 delayed this deadline to the 2007 legislative session. This bill further postpones the deadline to the start of the 2008 legislative session.

These delays have occurred despite the appropriation of $850,000 for this project. This measure proposes to appropriate an additional $850,000 to the Auditor's Office for the Hawaii 2050 Sustainability Plan. If approved, this measure would appropriate a total of $1,700,000 for this project. It is unclear that the project merits the expenditure of an additional $850,000 of taxpayer funds.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 1270 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 1503

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fourth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1503, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Employment'.

This bill expands the scope of Section 394B-9, Hawaii Revised Statutes, which requires an employer of a business employing fifty or more employees to provide to each employee and the Director of Labor and Industrial Relations at least sixty days' prior written notification of a 'closing, partial closing, or relocation.' It will also require a sixty days' prior written notification for any 'divestiture,' including the sale, transfer, merger, bankruptcy, or other business takeover or transaction of business interests that may cause workers to lose their jobs.

This bill is objectionable because requiring public disclosure may negatively impact the very employees this bill seeks to help since it can jeopardize the owner's efforts to reconstitute the business.

Although this bill exempts from the notice requirement an owner actively seeking a buyer for the business, it does not provide a similar exemption for an owner actively renegotiating a lease, seeking refinancing, seeking additional credit, or making other last minute efforts to save a business that is in imminent danger of closure. Requiring a business to post public notice of impending closure may jeopardize any attempts to save the businesses, because financial institutions may stop extending credit or refuse to grant loans. Customers may take their business elsewhere and employees may seek immediate employment elsewhere.

By including bankruptcies, this bill will unreasonably burden businesses least able to afford added burdens and may force a failing company to close sooner than expected or lay off more workers to retain sufficient finances for payments.

This bill also adds additional penalties to section 394B-9 for back pay and benefits and a $500 civil penalty for each day of violation. Current law already makes employers liable to all affected employees in an amount equal to the value of all their wages, benefits, and other compensation for the three months preceding the closure, partial closure, or relocation of the covered establishment.

Additionally, the federal law under Worker Adjustment and Retraining Notification Act of 1989 (WARN) allows an employer to give less than sixty days notice under certain circumstances where, at the time notice would have been required, the employer was actively seeking capital to avoid or postpone closure and believed that public notice would jeopardize the business transition. This bill has no similar provision. Thus, this bill creates inconsistencies between federal and state law without good reason.

Although this measure intends to protect employees from the effects of unexpected and sudden layoffs or terminations, it may result in earlier business closures and less monetary benefit for the employee.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill 1503 without my approval.

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1605, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Traffic Control.'

The purpose of this bill is to appropriate funds for the development and implementation of an intelligent transportation system architectural plan for Maui that includes a Maui traffic control center.

I concur with the goal to establish a traffic control system on each of the major islands that allows both the public and highway traffic managers to better utilize routes and re route traffic as traffic congestion occurs.

However, this bill is objectionable because it utilizes moneys from the State Highway Fund for a project that is not yet on the approved State Transportation Improvement Plan (STIP). This plan sets priorities of traffic improvement projects on each island and allows a fair and transparent use of highway funds for the priority projects that are specifically on the plan as set by the community. To divert moneys out of the Highway Fund for this specific project at the expense of other community approved projects that have been waiting for funding is both unfair and not sound fiscal planning.

Further, the State has been informed by the County of Maui that it has not budgeted its own funds for the Maui Traffic Control Center and it is unknown at the present time whether Maui will allocate resources for this project.

As noted in my July 5, 2007 communication to Speaker Say and President Hanabusa, the defect in this bill can be easily remedied by appropriating moneys from the General Fund rather than the State Highway Fund to construct this center. I have asked the Legislature to make this amendment so that I may sign this measure for the people of Maui. Without this amendment, which only the Legislature can enact, the bill is unacceptable.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 1605 without my approval.

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1659, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Procurement.'

The purpose of this bill is to require that all funds received by, on behalf of, or for the benefit of a governmental body pursuant to a solicitation by a governmental body to pay for the costs of State-sponsored trips and other efforts to generate business opportunities, be deposited in the General Fund, to be disbursed pursuant to legislative appropriation. The bill also appropriates $50,000 in Fiscal Year 2007-2008 only to cover costs for such public-private marketing endeavors.

This bill is objectionable because it would compromise the effectiveness of State agencies such as the Department of Business and Economic Development (DBEDT), Department of Agriculture, and the High Technology Innovation Corporation in their efforts to coordinate trade shows and endeavors that feature and highlight many of Hawaii's businesses and business opportunities. While the bill would allow such agencies to solicit partnership funds from the private sector, those funds would be deposited into the General Fund and there is no assurance that the agency that solicited the funds would have access to the funds for the specific purpose for which they were contributed.

Furthermore, this bill would result in the use of public dollars to purchase trade show booths, exhibit space, convention fees, and marketing expenses that should be borne by the private businesses and firms that directly benefit from these activities. It is inappropriate and poor fiscal policy to ask the taxpayers of the State of Hawaii to subsidize profitable, private firms.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 1659 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 1670

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fourth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1670, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to the Ingenuity Charter.'

The purpose of this bill is to establish the Ingenuity Company, a private, for-profit, non-stock, limited liability company chartered by the State, authorized to hold and leverage intellectual property.

This bill is objectionable for a number of reasons. First, this bill appropriates public funds to a private, for-profit company but does so absent standards required by Section 4 of Article VII of the State Constitution that prohibits State appropriations for private purposes.

Second, while its title refers to ingenuity, it is unclear how the bill assists inventors or attracts them to Hawaii. The benefits to the inventor members who grant their intellectual property rights to the company appear to be minimal. The inventor must license their invention to the company under contract. But the bill fails to describe any rights the inventor members receive in return, other than royalties. In that respect, they receive no profits beyond royalties. The bill states that financial rewards of ingenuity are meant to be distributed to others, not to the actual inventors. The remaining portion of generated income from their invention would be distributed to the other members as fees or as distributed profits, of which the inventor member does not share. The members who receive all profits are designated private organizations that are not part of the inventors' work. In addition, the inventor members have no guaranteed voting rights in the company.

Under the bill, all assets of this company would be distributed to the private organization members upon dissolution. Rights to the original licenses, remaining funds, and all other assets are neither returned to the inventor members nor to the State. In turn, the private organization members would not be subject to any State oversight and, thus, there would be no accountability for the manner in which these public funds are used. This bill appears to create a vehicle to appropriate public money for private organizations without public accountability.

Third, the bill creates ambiguities and contradictions that are difficult to resolve. Though the company is created by State charter, it is not a government instrumentality. This makes it look as though the company is actually just a conventional private company receiving preferential treatment from the State. The Attorney General believes this unequal treatment may subject this bill to a constitutional challenge under the Equal Protection Clause.

Further, the tension in the bill between creating a State charter, but maintaining the entity as a private, for-profit company, makes unclear the State's authority and legal responsibilities with respect to the Ingenuity Company. On the one hand, there is no attachment to or oversight by a governmental department. On the other hand, a degree of governmental control is interjected in the bill. This degree of control could render the State legally responsible for the acts of this private company.

To further confuse the rights and obligations of this company, the bill states that the Ingenuity Company is both a 'body corporate' and a limited liability company, as defined under chapter 428, Hawaii Revised Statutes. The bill seems to create a hybrid entity with unusual provisions, such as authorizing parties who are not members or managers of the company, to control the voting rights of members. In other words, those who manage the company may vote if and only if third-parties to the company permit these managing members to vote. This creates oversight control by third-parties without imposing any fiduciary responsibility or accountability.

The Ingenuity Company also takes on characteristics of a corporation, rather than a limited liability company. If the company were directed to register as a business in Hawaii as a private company in its current formation, the company would not be able to register due to the ambiguity of its business structure.

It is imperative that we transform Hawaii's economy. Encouraging ingenuity and rewarding innovators who take risks are central to that transformation. This bill does neither. Instead, it transfers the benefits of our inventors' hard work to designated private organizations. Equally important is the care we take in using our resources to be sure that we do not waste them on underdeveloped or impractical solutions. It does a disservice to promote and pass a bill that supports innovation in name only. It is unclear how this bill in its current incarnation attracts inventors to Hawaii or assists them in their innovation.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 1670 without my approval.

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1764, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to the Issuance of Revenue Bonds to Assist Hawaii Health Systems Corporation or Any of its Regional Subsidiary Corporations.'

This bill would authorize 'the Hawaii health systems corporation, its regional system boards, or any of its regional subsidiary corporations,' upon the approval of the Governor, to issue revenue bonds of up to $100,000,000 to finance the costs of acquisition, construction, improvement, or extension of healthcare facilities exclusively on Maui.

This bill is objectionable because of its potential adverse impact upon the powers of newly created regional systems boards (regional boards) within the Hawaii Health Systems Corporation (HHSC). This session, Senate Bill No. 1792 has been passed to create five new regional boards within HHSC with the intent to give greater local control over the governance of the HHSC hospitals. Senate Bill No. 1792 vests all five of these regional boards with the authority to issue revenue bonds up to $100,000,000. The issuance of these bonds is subject to approval by HHSC and the Governor or the Director of Budget and Finance. The bond underwriters would need to determine that there are sufficient revenues to support the issuance of revenue bonds.

However, Senate Bill No. 1792 specifically provides that if House Bill 1764 becomes law in any form this session, then the amendments to section 333F-7(c)(15) that empowers all five regional boards with bond issuing authority 'shall not take effect.' Therefore, this bill must be returned without my approval in order for all five regional boards to be vested with the full revenue bond issuing authority that is granted under Senate Bill No. 1792.

For the foregoing reason, I am returning House Bill No. 1764 without my approval.

State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1818, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to Government Employees.’

The reported purpose of this bill is to ‘close a loophole that could potentially allow a department head of an executive department to remain in a holdover capacity indefinitely.’ This bill amends section 26-31, Hawaii Revised Statutes, to provide that the single executive head of a principal department, who is not renominated during the regular session of the Legislature immediately following the expiration of the executive’s term, shall cease to hold office, including in the capacity of a holdover, upon the end of the legislative session. This bill also amends section 26-33, Hawaii Revised Statutes, to insert a proviso stating that, if the Governor does not designate an officer or employee, the ‘highest ranking and most senior’ officer as specified in the proviso shall perform the duties of the vacant office. Furthermore, this bill amends section 26-33 to exclude from its application boards and commissions, unless the chair of the board or commission is the executive of a department.

This bill is objectionable because it goes beyond its reported purpose by depriving the Governor of the power, under section 26-33, Hawaii Revised Statutes, to designate a state officer or employee to temporarily perform the duties of a member of a board or commission to which the Governor has the power of appointment or nomination if a vacancy occurs on the board or commission. The bill appears to be drafted under the mistaken belief that section 26-33 is to be used for the vacant offices of only department heads. However, there are other offices for which the Governor has the power of appointment or nomination, including positions on boards and commissions that are not executive heads of departments. Section 26-33 has, for example, been used to designate state employees to temporarily perform the duties of members of the three-member Hawaii Paroling Authority when two of the authority’s members resigned in close succession during the 2003 legislative session. If the temporary designations had not been made, the operation of the Hawaii Paroling Authority would have come to a halt until the process for appointing and confirming members to fill the vacancies was completed or until the legislative session ended and the Governor could make interim appointments. The Governor’s power to make temporary designations when vacancies occur on boards and commissions is necessary to achieve the strong policy interest in continuing governmental functions.

Furthermore, the bill could lead to situations where an employee with little executive management experience may be put in charge of a large state department with hundreds of employees and millions of dollars in operating and capital improvement program funds. There are legitimate circumstances that may arise when it is difficult to identify the most qualified candidate to fill a department head position. Because these positions pay relatively less than comparable private sector jobs, the field of candidates is smaller and those who do step forward make financial sacrifices to do so. To place an artificial timetable on this process could lead to placing an unqualified person in the department director position, contrary to sound public and personnel policies.

Also, this bill is ambiguous because it relies upon two different factors for determining who would be put in charge of a department. It is unclear whether it would designate the highest ranking person by virtue of that person’s title and position within a department, or the person with the most seniority, regardless of that person’s position. Enactment of this measure could jeopardize the ability of the State to deliver services and programs to the residents of Hawaii in the most effective manner.

While I concur in the position that an acting director should not remain in place indefinitely, I can assure you this Administration has acted in good faith to fill vacant senior positions with well qualified individuals.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 1818 without my approval.

Respectfully,

/s/ Linda Lingle

Gov. Msg. No. 1062, dated July 10, 2007, transmitting her statement of objections to House Bill No. 1830 which she has returned to the House of Representatives without her approval and which reads as follows:

“EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

July 10, 2007

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 1830

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fourth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1830, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to Child Protection.’

The purpose of this bill is to provide full immunity from prosecution for any person who abandons an infant at a hospital, fire or police station, or with emergency medical services personnel as long as the infant is left within 72 hours of birth and is left in unharmed condition.

My Administration shares the goal of ensuring that every child in Hawaii has a safe and secure home. However, this bill has consequences that could adversely impact the very children it is attempting to help.

Under this bill, persons abandoning an infant would not be required to identify themselves or to demonstrate their relationship to the infant. As such, it would be impossible to determine if the person leaving the infant was lawfully in possession of the infant at the time of abandonment. In this regard, House Bill 1830 provides no safeguards to protect the rights of both parents to seek custody of their child. Similarly, there are no safeguards to allow extended family members, especially grandparents, to assert their interests in caring for the infant.

The infant would be prevented from learning about its medical and genealogical history, which could have health implications for the infant, particularly later in life.

Unlike other states, Hawaii provides a number of programs that provide benefits based on one's ancestral roots. Enactment of this bill would preclude abandoned children of Hawaiian ancestry from knowing of, or being able to prove, their blood quantum to qualify for housing, schooling, or other benefits.

Enactment of H.B. No. 1830 may lead some women, who would ordinarily relinquish their child via adoption proceedings, to take the more expedient route of abandoning their infant.

Adoption is the preferable approach for parents to surrender their parental rights because adoption proceedings provide a mechanism by which the medical history and the genealogical history of the infant may be determined and verified. In addition, adoption procedures provide a mechanism to safeguard the rights of the infant's father and to ascertain if the father or members of the parents' extended families are willing and able to adopt the infant.

Programs such as Project Cuddle focus on the pregnant girl or woman and work with frightened prospective mothers to find safe, legal options for their newborns and are a more constructive approach to this problem.

This Administration remains committed to protecting the welfare of all children and will continue its comprehensive efforts to provide the full array of supportive services and nurturing environments that young mothers and their newborns deserve.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 1830 without my approval.

Respectfully,

/s/ Linda Lingle

Gov. Msg. No. 1063, informing the Senate that on July 10, 2007, she permitted the following measure to become law without her signature:

Senate Bill No. 1833 as Act 265, entitled: "RELATING TO FAMILY LEAVE."

"Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: Senate Bill No. 1833 SD1 HD1 CD1

On July 10, 2007, Senate Bill No. 1833, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Family Leave' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii.

The purpose of this bill is to allow the employee, rather than the employer, the choice of either taking unpaid leave or substituting available accrued paid leave for any part of the four-week period allowed for family leave under Hawaii's Family Leave Law.

I continue to have concerns regarding bills that legislate the relationship between employers and employees within the State of Hawaii since these legislative mandates act as a deterrent to the establishment of enterprises within our state. Matters pertaining to leave are best determined by collective bargaining negotiations, by company policies, and by cooperative working relationships between employers and employees.

Under the State Family Leave Law and accompanying administrative rules, employee rights in this area are currently safeguarded. Employers are required to give prior notice to employees if the employer intends to substitute accrued paid leave for all or part of the family leave. And, an employer cannot retroactively apply accrued paid leave against family leave after the employee has returned to work, without employee consent. Furthermore, Hawaii's Family Leave Law is consistent with the federal Family and Medical Leave Act that allows employers to require use of paid leave when a person is on family leave.

I remain concerned that this bill might discourage some employers from providing paid sick leave or other paid leave benefits to their employees since these benefits will accumulate on top of four weeks of unpaid family leave mandated in State law. However, I also recognize the importance of giving employees an opportunity to identify how they wish to take family leave when emergencies occur in their household.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed Senate Bill No. 1833 to become law as Act 265, effective July 10, 2007, without my signature.

Sincerely,

/s/ Linda Lingle

Gov. Msg. No. 1064, informing the Senate that on July 10, 2007, she permitted the following measure to become law without her signature:

House Bill No. 899 as Act 266, entitled: "RELATING TO INTEGRATED STRATEGIES FOR STATEWIDE FOOD AND ENERGY CROP PRODUCTION."

"Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: House Bill No. 899 HD1 SD1 CD1

On July 10, 2007, House Bill No. 899, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Integrated Strategies for Statewide Food and Energy Crop Production' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii.

House Bill 899 appropriates out of the general revenues of the State of Hawaii the sum of $450,000 or so much thereof as may be necessary for fiscal year 2007-2008 to the University of Hawaii Center for Conservation Research and Training ('CCRT') for Phase 1 of a project to develop 'best strategies consistent with comprehensive agricultural management practices to facilitate sustainable production of crops through long-term enhancement of soil quality using ecologically responsible means.' I am told Phase 1 on the project would identify and test charcoal additive strategies to improve the nutrient levels in soils.

There are several concerns with this measure. This bill identifies Phase 1 of a research and development project without providing any insight into what subsequent phases may entail, or whether or not there will be subsequent phases. This raises both fiscal and programmatic concerns. The bill contains neither a plan of action nor recognizable outcomes for the funds invested. Further, it is unclear how the expenditure of moneys in fiscal year 2007-2008 would impact funding levels in subsequent fiscal years.

There appears to be doubt within the scientific community, as expressed in a number of journals and formal publications, as to whether using charcoal as a geologic carbon sequestration technique should be researched and developed at the expense of other environmentally sound, technologically feasible, and economically affordable solutions to climate change, such as improving energy efficient power generation, developing renewable energy, and protecting threatened forests.

Similarly, extensive research into using charcoal as a long-term enhancement of soil quality has been conducted by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and various agricultural research entities. It is unclear how the research proposed in this measure would not duplicate or overlap existing analyses. As the bill recognizes, the use of high carbon anthropogenic soil for agricultural purposes has been applied 'since ancient times by indigenous communities in other tropical regions around the world.' Thus, it is questionable whether the research contemplated in this measure would significantly help advance human understanding of this technology.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed House Bill No. 899 to become law as Act 266 effective July 10, 2007 without my signature.

Sincerely,

/s/ Linda Lingle

Gov. Msg. No. 1065, informing the Senate that on July 10, 2007, she permitted the following measure to become law without her signature:

House Bill No. 1083 as Act 267, entitled: "RELATING TO HIGH TECHNOLOGY."

"Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: House Bill No. 1083 HD2 SD2 CD1

On July 10, 2007, House Bill No. 1083, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to High Technology' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii.

The bill would appropriate $5 million in general funds for firms that have already received federal funds through the Hawaii Technology Development Venture or the National Defense Center of Excellence for Research in Ocean Sciences.

This bill raises a number of concerns. First, it dedicates a significant portion of State taxpayer dollars ($5 million) to a small number of private firms, most of which are for-profit ventures. An estimated thirteen companies would be eligible for the money. The bill does not establish any standards, criteria, or oversight procedures to ensure that the funds are used to achieve a clear public purpose. The bill also lacks specific results against which the effectiveness of this use of public funds will be measured.

Second, the organization that would select the firms who receive the funds is comprised of individuals who do not appear to have scientific or engineering background, nor are they individuals with extensive credentials in the fields of technology, engineering, and science. To entrust this group with decisions on the allocation of funds that should be based on merit and technical analysis is not appropriate.

Finally, it appears that the bill fails to meet the requirements of a grant in aid, in that it exempts from the statutory requirements in Chapter 42F, Hawaii Revised Statutes, the funding provided for in this bill, yet section 3 of this measure says that the funds shall be provided as a grant, pursuant to Chapter 42F. This internal inconsistency in the language will make it difficult for the Budget and Finance Department to comply with the language regarding the release of money in this bill.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed House Bill No. 1083 to become law as Act 267, effective July 10, 2007, without my signature.

Sincerely,

/s/ Linda Lingle

Gov. Msg. No. 1066, informing the Senate that on July 10, 2007, she permitted the following measure to become law without her signature:

Senate Bill No. 1614 as Act 268, entitled: "RELATING TO EDUCATION."

"Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: Senate Bill No. 1614 SD1 HD1 CD1

On July 10, 2007, Senate Bill No. 1614, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Education' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii.

This bill appropriates $1 million over the biennium period to the Department of Education to implement a human resources management model in the Waianae area complex.

It is important for schools to be able to recruit, train, and retain good teachers. However, it should be pointed out that the Department already has over $12 million specifically allocated for teacher training and teacher retention. Over $2.2 million is provided for teacher recruitment and $5 million has been set aside for professional development, not counting funds imbedded in other administrative support programs.

The Waianae area should be commended for receiving a $1 million grant from the U. S. Department of Education to implement teacher recruitment and retention systems targeted for their high school. This three-year grant still has two more years before the project is complete.

Thus, the funding in this bill duplicates resources already within the Department of Education budget and is premature. We would encourage the Waianae area complex to continue the work it has begun under the U. S. Department of Education grant and to provide a comprehensive post-project analysis that can be used by schools in that area, as well as elsewhere throughout the public education system to help identify, place, and retain high quality teachers.

For this reason, I allowed Senate Bill No. 1614 to become law as Act 268, effective July 10, 2007, without my signature.

House Bill No. 895 as Act 269, entitled: “RELATING TO MOTOR VEHICLES.”

“Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: House Bill No. 895 HD2 SD1 CD1

On July 10, 2007, House Bill No. 895, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to Motor Vehicles’ became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii.

This bill authorizes the counties to increase from $5 to $10 the portion of the motor vehicle registration fee for disposing of abandoned vehicles. This bill also allows towing companies contracted by a county to increase vehicle towing and storage fees.

This bill runs counter to my long-held position that counties should be given greater flexibility in the administration of county functions. This bill establishes in State statute the specific fees the counties can and cannot charge for motor vehicle-related activities. As I have stated previously, State statutes should not micromanage the activities of duly elected officials at the county level.

For this reason, I allowed House Bill No. 895 to become law as Act 269 effective July 10, 2007 without my signature.

“Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: House Bill No. 507 HD2 SD1

On July 10, 2007, House Bill No. 507, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to Boating’ became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii.

The purpose of this bill is to prohibit the State from transferring small boat harbors to any county or contracting with any county to manage a small boat harbor unless the Legislature passes a law allowing this transfer.

The bill is objectionable because the proposed statute prohibiting the transfer of the small boat harbors to the counties is more restrictive than the already existing statute (section 200-2.5, Hawaii Revised Statutes). The statutes already authorizes the Board of Land and Natural Resources to lease fast lands within an existing State boating facility for private development, management, and operation without legislative approval.

House Bill No. 507 provides that a similar transfer to a county would be prohibited. To the extent that the Legislature has already authorized the Board to lease fast lands to private parties, the prohibition of leases to the counties, which are public bodies that are directly responsible to their citizens, is contrary to public policy because it places the counties at a disadvantage when compared with private parties if the counties desire to seek authority to operate a State-owned small boat harbor.

House Bill No. 1630 as Act 271, entitled: “RELATING TO TECHNOLOGY WORKFORCE DEVELOPMENT.”

“Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: House Bill No. 1630 HD2 SD2 CD1

On July 10, 2007, House Bill No. 1630, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to Technology Workforce Development’ became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii.

This bill appropriates $1.1 million to be expended by the Economic Development Alliance of Hawaii for the project EAST program. EAST stands for environmental and spatial technology.

This bill poses possible constitutional concerns in that it sets up a spending mechanism without parameters and outside of the State Treasury. Article VII Section 4 of the Hawaii Constitution requires public funds to be spent pursuant to standards provided by law. Based on a review by the Attorney General, we find there are no standards specified in this bill or prior law for the Hawaii 3Ts school technology laboratories fund. There is another provision of existing law that says expenditures shall be approved by the Department of Business, Economic Development and Tourism director. The Department of Business, Economic Development and Tourism would, therefore, assume the burden of ensuring these funds are spent in accordance with statutorily required standards. An unclear line of accountability for public funds is not in the public’s best interest.

House Bill No. 122 as Act 272, entitled: "RELATING TO STATE FUNDS."

"Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: House Bill No. 122 HD1 SD1 CD1

On July 10, 2007, House Bill No. 122 entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to State Funds' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

This bill requires the Department of Budget and Finance to establish by January 1, 2009 a searchable website that the public can access at no cost for information regarding State grants, contracts, and other awards.

Although the intent of this legislation is in keeping with my Administration's overall theme of transparency and accountability about how government operates and how public funds are spent, this bill raises a number of concerns.

The State Procurement Office (SPO) uses the National Institute of Government Purchasing coding system for purposes of defining categories for Hawaii's electronic procurement system. This bill requires that each award be identified using the North American Industry Classification System code – a code not used by the Department of Budget and Finance or SPO. The value of requiring awards to be identified by this coding system is dubious, as compared to the burden on government agencies and awardees to learn the system.

The basic information required for public accountability with regard to procurement is presently available on the SPO's website. Expansion of SPO's existing website to include additional information on grants or other awards could be accomplished without legislation.

Because some of the information required is not presently captured under current procurement and grant processes, the requirement that subaward information be collected and posted online will increase costs to taxpayers of contracts and grants because the bill allows contractors, subcontractors, grantees, and subgrantees to allocate 'reasonable costs' to comply with the subaward reporting requirements.

Additionally, it should be pointed out that the responsibility for collecting and posting data of the type suggested in this bill is more appropriately a function of the Department of Accounting and General Services rather than the Department of Budget and Finance, as proposed in this measure.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed House Bill No. 122 to become law as Act 272, effective July 10, 2007, without my signature.

House Bill No. 777 as Act 273, entitled: "RELATING TO THE HAWAII EDUCATOR LOAN PROGRAM."

"Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: House Bill No. 777 HD2 SD2 CD1

On July 10, 2007, House Bill No. 777, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to the Hawaii Educator Loan Program' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii.

The bill makes changes to the Hawaii Educator Loan Program administered by the University of Hawaii and appropriates $250,000 in general funds to the University for the program.

I am a strong supporter of the Hawaii Educator Loan Program and believe it is a tool we can utilize to increase the number of qualified teachers in Hawaii. That is why I introduced House Bill No. 2350 and Senate Bill No. 2313 in 2006, to provide and funding support to the Hawaii Educator Loan Program. However, this bill does not adopt the programmatic changes that would increase the number of qualified teachers in Hawaii.

Recipients of the Hawaii Educator Loan Program should be allowed to attend any State approved teacher education program approved by the Hawaii Teacher Standards Board, not just the University of Hawaii. Other Hawaii colleges who have State approved teacher education programs include Brigham Young University – Hawaii, Chaminade University of Hawaii, Hawaii Pacific University, and the University of Phoenix – Hawaii. However, the students who attend these schools cannot qualify for the Hawaii Educator Loan Program. Further, recipients of the program should be able to teach in charter schools.

I am hopeful that the Legislature will come back next year and make these needed changes to the Hawaii Educator Loan Program in order to increase the number of qualified teachers in Hawaii.

For the foregoing reason, I allowed House Bill No. 777 to become law as Act 273 effective July 10, 2007, without my signature.

Senate Bill No. 686 as Act 274, entitled: "RELATING TO EDUCATIONAL ASSISTANTS."

"Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: Senate Bill No. 686 SD1 HD1 CD1

On July 10, 2007, Senate Bill No. 686 entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Educational Assistants' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

The bill requires the Department of Education to report to the 2008 Legislature on a career ladder program for educational assistants and the cost of repricing these positions.

Although the need to recruit and retain educational assistants is understandable, I question the need for this bill.

The Department of Education provided testimony which requested general fund appropriations of $8 million in fiscal year 2007-2008 and $13 million in fiscal year 2008-2009. The Department gave this amount as the cost of implementing a career ladder for education assistants. The Department also testified that 3,100 educational assistants would qualify for the career ladder program. It is not clear how this data, which was provided to the Legislature during session, is different than the data required by this bill. The bill appears to unnecessarily duplicate the analysis that has already been completed by the Department.

Although there is no appropriation contained in this bill, the possibility of future appropriations is evident and causes concern because this was not an item of priority in the Board of Education approved Department of Education budget request, and a significant amount of general funds were requested by the Department outside of their approved budget to implement a career ladder during testimony on this bill.

On July 10, 2007, House Bill No. 598 entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Education' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

The purpose of this bill is to create the Online Learning Task Force, attached to the Department of Education, to develop a plan to expand online learning to students across the State. This bill appropriates $50,000 in general funds in fiscal year 2007-2008 to the Department of Education for the work of the task force.

The intent of this legislation is laudable and the inclusion of programmatic measures of success is a constructive feature in this bill.

However, this bill appears to duplicate the existing efforts of the Hawaii Educational Networking Consortium (HENC). The HENC is a collaborative relationship between the Department of Education, University of Hawaii, East-West Center, and the Hawaii Association of Independent Schools. HENC's purpose is, 'to develop, facilitate and promote the use of telecommunications technology in education and research in Hawai'i.' It appears that HENC's purpose and membership are similar to that of the proposed task force and, as such, may be a duplication of effort.

House Bill No. 15 as Act 276, entitled: "RELATING TO EDUCATION."

Re: House Bill No. 15 HD2 SD2 CD1

On July 10, 2007, House Bill No. 15, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Education' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

The purpose of this bill is to establish the Felix Stipend Program Special Fund. Repayments from students who failed to meet their contractual agreements with the Department of Education under the Felix Stipend Program will be deposited into this fund, and fund moneys will then be used for the Felix Consent Decree Recruitment and Retention Program, or any successor programs, and related costs.

Although this bill recognizes the Department of Education has encountered challenges in recruiting and retaining special education teachers for public schools, this bill presents two concerns.

According to financial records, the existing Felix Stipend Program has a 30% default rate on student stipends. This indicates that the program has not been as successful as was intended and should not be expanded until a proper review and assessment can be conducted based on the merits and problems with this program.

Second, there are concerns with the establishment of a special fund that does not meet the statutory criteria for a special fund. It appears the Stipend Program Special Fund created in this bill would not be self-sustaining. The Department of Education testified that an appropriation amount of $50,000 for the fund was recommended, based on average yearly collections for the program. Instead, this bill does not allow legislative appropriations to be deposited into the fund, and appropriates $250,000 out of the fund. Based on the Department's estimate of $50,000 in yearly collections, it is unlikely that the Department would be able to operate the retention and recruitment program without a general fund appropriation to supplement the repayments.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed House Bill No. 15 to become law as Act 276, effective July 10, 2007, without my signature.

House Bill 1477 appropriates $4 million in the biennium for the University of Hawaii John A. Burns School of Medicine to provide rural primary health care services. Wahiawa General Hospital has determined that it can no longer support a medical residency program at its facility.

While the goal of maintaining such a program is laudable, it appears that a residency program operated by the John A. Burns School of Medicine would need to be accredited to become eligible for federal matching funds from the Center for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS). The accreditation process usually takes two to three years. CMS payments would go to the participating hospitals and cover the salaries of the doctors-in-residence. They would not cover the costs the medical school might incur in overseeing this type of residency program.

The University did not submit an Executive Budget request for this program. With regard to this bill, the University stated, 'while this is a worthwhile cause, the John A. Burns School of Medicine has much larger commitments and priorities in fulfilling its mission to train physicians to serve Hawaii and conduct research to improve the lives of our people.'

Re: Senate Bill No. 1676 SD2 HD1 CD1

On July 10, 2007, Senate Bill No. 1676, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to the Hawaii Health Systems Corporation' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

The stated purpose of this bill is to require the Hawaii Health Systems Corporation (HHSC) to submit a feasibility report to the Legislature on establishing a domestic captive insurance company to provide medical malpractice and hospital professional and general liability coverage for the corporation, establishes a captive insurance board and appropriates $20,000,000 to capitalize the formation of a captive entity.

Although my Administration supports creation of captive insurance companies to lessen health care costs, the bill is problematic because it sets up a governance system for the captive entity that runs contrary to established practices, is ill-timed, and will complicate implementation of new regional boards for HHSC.

The bill contains explicit language that precludes the HHSC management and the HHSC board from managing or overseeing the captive entity. This governance structure runs counter to established practices that ensure a parent company has a seat on its captive entity's board and oversees its captive insurance entity.

In light of the enactment of SB No. 1792 today, which will create five new regional boards within HHSC, it would be prudent to wait until the anticipated changes in HHSC occur and the regional board members are seated who could then provide input and expertise as to the creation of a captive entity that would best serve the needs of HHSC.

Further, this bill proposes to use $13,279,000 from the Hawaii Health Systems Corporation Special Fund that is necessary to operate the State's regional 13-facility hospital network and provide basic health care services to our residents.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed Senate Bill No. 1676 to become law as Act 278, effective July 10, 2007, without my signature.

House Bill No. 1866 as Act 279, entitled: "RELATING TO MIXED MARTIAL ARTS."

"Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: House Bill No. 1866 HD3 SD2 CD1

On July 10, 2007, House Bill No. 1866, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Mixed Martial Arts' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

The purpose of this bill is to establish a new, comprehensive regulatory scheme for professional mixed martial arts contests and participants.

Mixed martial arts contests are growing in popularity throughout Hawaii with eight such events held in 2000 and 29 events held in 2005. Thus the need to regulate these contests is apparent and I have therefore allowed this bill to become law as a matter of public safety in order to best protect those engaged in mixed martial arts activities.

This bill is objectionable because it finances the start-up costs of mixed martial arts regulation from the Compliance Resolution Fund (CRF). General funds should be used to defray the start-up costs of implementing new professional or vocational regulatory programs. By using CRF funds, this bill forces licensees from other professional and vocational licensing programs who pay into the CRF (e.g., certified public accountants, nurses, emergency medical technicians, social workers) to subsidize the start-up costs of another profession.

The manner in which the sources of funding in this bill was decided is also troubling. From its introduction in January through the end of April, the language in the first six versions of this bill was consistent in sourcing the appropriations for the start-up costs of the mixed martial arts regulatory scheme from the general fund. Only in Conference Committee was the source of funding switched from general funds to CRF. While such legislative action is not unprecedented, it is nevertheless unfortunate.

Additionally, I am troubled that the regulations the Department of Commerce and Consumer Affairs develops to protect the participants of this sport will not be allowed to take effect until July 1, 2009.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed House Bill No. 1866 to become law as Act 279, effective July 10, 2007, without my signature.

House Bill No. 1014 as Act 280, entitled: "RELATING TO EDUCATION."

"Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: House Bill No. 1014 HD2 SD1 CD1

On July 10, 2007, House Bill No. 1014, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Education' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

The purpose of this bill is to appropriate $585,000 in Fiscal Year 2007-2008 to the Department of Education for five complex areas for support services including professional development, alignment or curriculum, and mentoring in schools. This bill also appropriates $165,000 in Fiscal Year 2007-2008 to the Department of Education for the Teach for America program.

This bill raises two concerns.

First, appropriations for professional development of teachers in the classroom should be under the jurisdiction, decision making, and expending authority of the school principal. This bill contradicts the spirit of Act 51, Session Laws of Hawaii 2004, weighted student formula, and control by the principal over school-level funding priorities and programs. It also fails to recognize that the Department of Education has funds within its base budget for professional development, training, and curriculum alignment.

Second, this bill also appropriates general funds to the Department of Education for the Teach for America program. The Teach for America project is currently funded by federal dollars, pursuant to the No Child Left Behind law, and should continue to be funded in that manner because this federal funding source will be ongoing for several years.

The University of Hawaii has also expressed concern that they should have been the designated expending agency for the appropriation contained in this bill, and not the Department of Education. The University of Hawaii is the responsible state agency for training the participants in the Teach for America program so these teachers can obtain a teaching certificate in Hawaii.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed House Bill No. 1014 to become law as Act 280, effective July 10, 2007, without my signature.

On July 10, 2007, Senate Bill No. 688, entitled "A Bill for an Act Relating to Education" became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

The bill appropriates $100,000 in general funds over fiscal biennium 2007-2009, for the P-20 Initiative. This Initiative is tasked with creating a continuum of education from early learning to adulthood.

Although the intent of the P-20 Initiative is laudable, I question the need for State funding of this project.

In April 2007, the P-20 Initiative received a $10 million grant from the W.K. Kellogg Foundation to support the Initiative's goal of having every third grader in Hawaii reading at grade level by 2015. This $10 million provides substantial private investment for the Initiative.

This year there were programs of priority that did not receive adequate State general funds. Since the P-20 Initiative received a large private award, the $100,000 in State funds could be used for other worthwhile programs.

For the foregoing reason, I allowed Senate Bill No. 688 to become law as Act 281, effective July 10, 2007, without my signature.

Re: House Bill No. 767 HD2 SD2 CD1

On July 10, 2007, House Bill No. 767, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to the Running Start Program for College Preparation' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

The purpose of this bill to require the Department of Education to provide students who participate in the Running Start Program with guidance in how to earn credit toward high school graduation through the satisfactory completion of University of Hawaii courses, and to provide funding for scholarships to students who participate in the Running Start Program.

Although the intent of this legislation is laudable, the funding does not appear essential at this time. Scholarship monies for the Running Start Program are funded through GEAR UP – Hawaii, a federally financed program. It appears federal support is likely to continue for this program.

Scholarships for the Running Start program were not identified as a priority for the University of Hawaii in their Board of Regents approved biennium budget request. Further, University of Hawaii has the ability to waive tuition for needy students in the program.

Senate Bill No. 1931 as Act 283, entitled: “RELATING TO EDUCATION.”

“Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: Senate Bill 1931 SD2 HD3 CD2

On July 10, 2007, Senate Bill No. 1931, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to Education’ became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

Senate Bill 1931 establishes a working group administered by the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations to analyze if workforce development needs are being met by the public schools, and to report to the 2008 Legislative session. Additionally, the University of Hawaii and the Department of Education are required to submit specific reports to the 2008 Legislature on workforce development. The bill appropriates $200,000 in general funds to the Department of Education and the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations.

The major concern with this bill is that it is redundant with existing programs in the Department of Education and the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations.

The Work Force Development Councils, established in 1998, and attached to the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations, already are tasked with identifying and implementing ways in which our educational system can meet the needs of our workforce. Additionally, this function is also a part of the wider mission of the P-20 Initiative that began in 1993.

This bill contains an appropriation totaling $175,000 for the two-year biennium to the Department of Education to fund three new staff positions. The Department of Education has stated that the resources are insufficient for it to carry out the functions of this bill.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed Senate Bill No. 1931 to become law as Act 283, effective July 10, 2007, without my signature.

Senate Bill No. 1672 as Act 284, entitled: “RELATING TO HEALTH.”

“Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: Senate Bill 1672 SD2 HD3 CD1

On July 10, 2007, Senate Bill No. 1672, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to Health’ became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

This bill: (1) appropriates $8 million in fiscal year 2007-2008 and $8 million in fiscal year 2008-2009 to the Department of Human Services (DHS) in order to increase physician reimbursement rates that are paid to doctors who provide care under Medicaid and QUEST; and (2) requires DHS to submit a supplemental budget request of $8 million or more for FY2009 to the 2008 Legislature to sustain the increased Medicaid and QUEST payments to physicians.

The objective of this bill to increase physician reimbursement rates is laudable. It is vitally important to address the rates of physician reimbursement to ensure that all Hawaii patients, particularly those who live in rural areas, have access to quality health care. However, this bill poses several serious concerns.

Regrettably, the Legislature appropriated these funds outside of the normal budget process. These expenditures have not been included in the State’s six-year financial plan and have not been weighed against other State priorities. Since I took office in 2002, I have urged the Legislature to exercise fiscal discipline and prudent financial planning by acting only after developing a comprehensive, multi-year fiscal framework. This year, as I have in all previous legislative sessions, I exercised financial discipline by developing a six-year, balanced and comprehensive financial plan prior to submitting my executive budget.

Unfortunately, the Legislature did not exercise the same fiscal responsibility by including this appropriation as part of the Executive Biennium Budget. In addition, such a large appropriation raises concerns on the potential adverse impact this expenditure may have on future State spending requirements.

This bill is also objectionable because it unfairly intrudes upon the basic tenants of the separation of powers among the branches of government. The bill unduly interferes into the prerogatives of the Executive Branch by requiring DHS to add millions of dollars to its base budget request.

In addition, this bill is objectionable because, in practice, it will be hard to implement -- particularly for the physicians who provide services to QUEST patients. Unlike Medicaid fee-for-service, DHS does not pay a specified rate for physicians who provide services to Medicaid QUEST patients. Instead, DHS pays a capitated, per person daily rate to the contractors who provide services. Therefore it will be difficult for QUEST to distribute equitably the additional funds, and may subject existing physician-insurer contracts to renegotiation.

This Administration will continue to work with the health industry to develop quality health access standards for both Medicaid-eligible patients and those under managed care programs such as QUEST.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed Senate Bill 1672 to become law as Act 284, effective July 10, 2007, without my signature.

Senate Bill No. 1026 as Act 285, entitled: "RELATING TO SOLID WASTE."

"Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: Senate Bill No. 1026 SD2 HD3 CD1

On July 10, 2007, Senate Bill No. 1026 entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Solid Waste' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

The purpose of this bill is to make 2-liter bottles subject to the deposit beverage container law, authorizes the Director of Health to suspend a statutory provision which requires the automatic increase of the non-refundable deposit beverage container fee, and requires redemption centers in high density areas to remain open 30 hours per week, of which at least 5 hours must be on Saturday or Sunday.

This bill is similar to a bill that I vetoed last year that would have included 2-liter bottles under the beverage container program. I vetoed this prior bill because 2-liter bottles are difficult to recycle and would have had little impact on beach or roadside litter. The prior bill did not provide for a phased implementation date to give manufacturers and retailers sufficient time to implement the new law and inclusion of 2-liter bottles under the bottle law would have had a disproportionate impact on families.

This bill addresses one concern from last year by including a phase-in for manufacturers and distributors to label the 2-liter bottles with the 'HI-5' designation between December 1, 2007 and March 1, 2008.

However, this bill will still have a disproportionate impact on families. Two-liter bottles are purchased more often by those seeking to buy in bulk to conserve funds and lower their grocery bills. Including larger size containers within the fee and deposit requirements of the beverage container program subjects these buyers to higher costs imposed by this program.

Two-liter bottles are more difficult to recycle. The reverse vending machines that are used in State are not built to redeem 2-liter bottles. While there may be reverse vending machines available, it is not assured that any redemption center will import these machines into the State. In addition, 2-liter bottles are bulkier and cannot be crushed if they are redeemed using machine technologies.

I remain concerned that the Legislature's continued detailed management of the deposit beverage container program may lead some companies to terminate their participation in the program. This bill mandates that redemption centers that are located in 'high density' areas remain open 30 hours per week, of which at least 5 hours must be on Saturday or Sunday. Private businesses that are voluntarily operating as redemption centers in the deposit beverage container program have expressed concerns that this provision will force them to operate without adequate staff and expose them to liability if they are unable to remain open.

On balance, however, I feel that Hawaii families and other residents would suffer more harm if this bill does not become law. Currently, section 342G-102, Hawaii Revised Statutes, provides that if the redemption rate exceeds 70% for a particular fiscal year, then the non-refundable container fee will increase to 1.5 cents per container. This bill authorizes the Director of Health to temporarily suspend this automatic increase if, after consultation with the Auditor, it is determined that the Deposit Beverage Container Special Fund contains sufficient funds. This discretion is necessary to ensure that Hawaii residents do not have to pay more for the administration of the beverage container program.

This year, I sought comprehensive amendments to the deposit beverage container program that would have eliminated the non-refundable container fee and would have allowed consumers to redeem their bottles at retailers. This approach would have eliminated the State's role in the administration of the program. It is unfortunate that the Legislature did not enact this proposed bill.

I remain convinced that the best way to protect our environment is through comprehensive curbside recycling programs of all recyclable products. Our experience with this deposit beverage container law has now borne out this conclusion. The program has collected more than $50 million in fees and deposits over the past three years and yet it addresses only a small fraction, about 2%, of the waste in Hawaii. It would be more cost-effective to phase out this law and to use the accumulated funds to implement comprehensive curbside recycling programs.

Accordingly, for the foregoing reasons, I allowed Senate Bill No. 1026 to become law as Act 285, effective July 10, 2007, without my signature.

House Bill No. 497 as Act 286, entitled: "RELATING TO TRANSPORTATION."

"Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

RE: House Bill No. 497 HD2 SD2

On July 10, 2007, House Bill 497 HD2 SD2 entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Transportation' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

House Bill No. 497 amends Sections 248-9 and 264-18, Hawaii Revised Statutes to expand the obligations of the State highway fund to require it to fund multi-use paths and bicycle lanes on new or existing roadways under design, plan, construction, or reconstruction. Additionally, this bill requires that the planning for mass transit shall include the accommodation for bikeways, bicycle lanes, bicycle routes, and bicycle racks on mass transit vehicles.

While it is understandable that multi-use paths are desirable along certain roadways, it should be recognized that this requirement will add cost burdens to highway projects because these types of facilities require acquisition of wider rights-of-way.

This bill requires the Department of Transportation to work with certain groups of the bicycling community in making determinations where bikeways will not be established. The Department is already working with the biking community to update the Bike Plan Hawaii. Thus, this provision is not needed and may not name some groups that should be involved in the process.

Additionally, the bill fails to recognize that the planning and design of Oahu's mass transit system has been an ongoing undertaking by the City and County of Honolulu. This bill sets requirements on the project that may not be in keeping with Oahu's plans, may not meet federal mass transit criteria, and may impose additional financial and engineering burdens on that project. Further, if the vision is a high speed train system, it is unclear how bike racks on mass transit vehicles will allow these vehicles to move at the speed envisioned in the plan.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed House Bill No. 497 to become law as Act 286, effective July 10, 2007, without my signature.

On July 10, 2007, House Bill No. 399 entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Agriculture' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

House Bill No. 399 appropriates $500,000 for fiscal year 2007-2008 to the Hawaii Association of Conservation Districts for the operation of the sixteen soil and water conservation districts.

The objective of this bill to support the soil and water districts in Hawaii is laudable.

Regrettably, the Legislature appropriated these funds outside of the normal budget process. These expenditures have not been included in the State's six-year financial plan and have not been weighed against other State priorities. On July 10, 2007, Senate Bill No. 1047 entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Highway Safety' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

Senate Bill No. 1047 will allow drivers aged 19 to 20 to drive vehicles weighing 15,000 pounds or less or carrying 15 or fewer occupants. Further, this bill prohibits the acceptance of plea-bargains by commercial drivers for traffic violations, other than parking violations.

In 2005 I vetoed a similar measure which would have allowed commercial drivers licenses to be issued to drivers under the age of 21. This measure is more limited in its scope and application and, thus, I have allowed it to become law. However, I remain concerned that national statistics continue to document that younger drivers have more accidents and exhibit less maturity of judgment in making driving decisions. I would urge the commercial transportation community to institute mandatory training for 19 and 20 year olds, a feature we requested in this bill but was not included by the Legislature.

This measure also contains language that conforms Hawaii statutes to the revised federal Motor Carrier Safety Regulations and will ensure Hawaii continues to be eligible for federal highway matching funds.

House Bill No. 531 as Act 289, entitled: "RELATING TO CHILDREN."

"Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: House Bill No. 531 HD3 SD2 CD1

On July 10, 2007, House Bill No. 531 entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Children' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

The purpose of this bill is to establish a 'Hawaii 3-5 Transition' task force to study the feasibility of expanding eligibility, pursuant to Part C of the Individuals with Disabilities in Education Act (IDEA), for services from the Department of Health (DOH) Early Intervention Section to children between 3 to 5 years old who have developmental disabilities. The task force is to submit a report on its findings no later than 20 days prior to the start of the 2008 legislative session, which would be early January 2008. The task force is appropriated $120,000 for fiscal year 2007-2008. The task force shall cease to exist at the end of the 2008 regular legislative session.

While the objectives of enriching services for early childhood care have merit, I find this bill does not provide sufficient time to study the critical issues that it requests be studied and then to prepare a comprehensive report. The Department of Education, the Department of Health (DOH), and the University of Hawaii's Center for Disability Studies have all expressed concerns that the timeline is too short to accomplish the tasks that are requested in this measure.

The task force must identify the potential number of children who would be served in this new population and who may benefit from intervention services under Part B of the IDEA; research evidence-based practices and service models; define the array of services and derive resource and cost projections; and conduct a needs assessment, including an statewide qualitative study of families of young children who are receiving special education, as well as those who have exited from intervention services.

Conducting the feasibility study will be further hampered because the final federal regulations have not been issued implementing Part B of the Individuals with Disabilities in Education Act of 2004 (PL 108-446). The proposed regulations for 34 Code of Federal Regulations Part 303 were recently published for the notice and comment period. The final federal regulations will not be issued until later this year. Thus, the task force's efforts may be premature.

In addition, this bill proposes to create a large, diverse group that is representative of the affected State agencies, providers, advocates, family members, and other stakeholders. Six months is insufficient time for the task force members to be identified, meet and develop a work plan, explore the relevant topics, develop a state-community-family consensus on issues, and draft, review, finalize, and submit a comprehensive report.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed House Bill No. 531 to become law as Act 289, effective July 10, 2007, without my signature.

Gov. Msg. No. 1088, informing the Senate that on July 10, 2007, she permitted the following measure to become law without her signature:

Senate Bill No. 1792 as Act 290, entitled: "RELATING TO THE HAWAII HEALTH SYSTEMS CORPORATION."

"Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: Senate Bill No. 1792 SD3 HD3 CD2

On July 10, 2007, Senate Bill No. 1792 entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to the Hawaii Health Systems Corporation' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

The purpose of this bill is to create five regional boards within the Hawaii Health Systems Corporation (HHSC), to give these regional boards authority over the operation and governance of HHSC facilities that are located within their regions, to retain the central corporation and increase the membership of the HHSC Board, to exempt the HHSC Board and the regional boards from the Sunshine Laws, and to exempt the regional boards from the Public Procurement Code.

The bill contemplates that the regional boards will exercise substantial control and responsibility for the management of the HHSC facilities and other assets located in their regions, while HHSC and the HHSC Board will act upon corporation-wide matters. Regional boards will be able to retain revenues that are generated by facilities located within their regions, and the regional boards will be responsible for developing budgets and submitting them to the HHSC board for submission to the Legislature. Both HHSC and the regional boards will have authority to contract for goods, services, and construction.

I support the intent of this bill to give local regions more control over the operation of the HHSC facilities that are located in their area. However, I did not sign the bill because this bill poses a number of concerns that could adversely affect the operation of the HHSC hospitals, which is our State's 'safety net' of medical facilities.

Among my concerns is this bill exempts the regional boards and the HHSC Board from Part I of this State's Sunshine Law in chapter 92, Hawaii Revised Statutes. This bill also exempts the regional boards from Hawaii's Public Procurement Code. These two exemptions remove transparency, openness, and accountability in the administration of this State's public hospitals, including the utilization of public funds by the regional boards.

Exempting the HHSC Board and the regional boards from 'open meetings' requirements of the Sunshine Law means that they will no longer be required to, among other things, post notice of their meetings, allow the public to attend and testify at meetings, or make their minutes publicly available. The HHSC's Board and regional boards will be able to set policy, enter into contracts, begin or conduct lawsuits, and oversee the administration of public health facilities without wide community scrutiny or participation. Although this bill requires each regional board to hold two informational community meetings per year to take comments on the region's performance, this is a far lesser standard of public participation and scrutiny than is provided for under the Sunshine Law.

A governmental agency with the authority to expend funds also should be in compliance with the Procurement Code, which promotes the policy of fair and equitable treatment of all persons and companies who deal with the government, fosters effective broad-based competition, and increases public confidence in public procurement. Open bidding procedures assure that the State obtains value and that potential vendors/contractors are treated fairly. The Procurement Code establishes a time-tested, fair, and reliable set of rules and processes for award of contracts. To the extent that agencies may need specific purchases to be exempted from the Code requirements, the Code provides an exemption process.

I also have concerns about the timetable for implementation of this bill. Within 15 days, I must receive a total of 120 names of candidates for the regional boards from the Senate President, House Speaker, Management Advisory Committees, and HHSC staff. Thereafter, I have 30 days to select the 60 most qualified persons--12 persons for each region.

In addition to this timetable for selecting regional board members, SB 1792 specifically provides for a new selection of HHSC corporate board members--some of whose terms will prematurely expire in December 2007 and the rest of whose terms will prematurely expire in September 2008. Even supporters of this bill have expressed concern that with a 100% turnover in the HHSC Board at the same time that the regional boards are being constituted, HHSC, as a whole, will lose the 'institutional knowledge' of HHSC Board members. At the time of great change in corporate governance, vis-à-vis the constitution of the new regional boards and the sharing of authority and obligations with HHSC, it would appear unwise to have further changes in the governance of HHSC.

I also remain concerned that this bill requires the Governor to select candidates solely from enumerated lists. The Governor's ability to select the most qualified person to fill a vacancy should not be so narrowly restricted.

Additionally, I am concerned that this bill comes at a time when HHSC is facing serious fiscal difficulties and has just assumed responsibility for a new facility--Kahuku Hospital. It is my hope that funding for each respective region will be set based upon true need and not solely as a function of the political power of a respective region's elected officials.

Although I cannot in good conscience endorse this bill with my signature, I wish to reaffirm my commitment to improving the access of local communities in decision-making regarding their health care providers. I have consistently held the position for more than twenty-five years that the government which is closest to the people is the government that can best meet the needs of its citizens. It is refreshing to note that the Legislature has finally recognized this in passing this measure.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed Senate Bill 1792 to become law as Act 290, effective July 10, 2007, without my signature.

Senate Bill No. 162 as Act 291, entitled: "RELATING TO IOLANI PALACE."

"Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: Senate Bill No. 162 SD1 HD2 CD1

On July 10, 2007, Senate Bill No. 162, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Iolani Palace' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii.

The purpose of this bill is to designate a private organization, The Friends of Iolani Palace ('The Friends'), as the 'State of Hawaii Museum of Monarchy History' and to exempt it from chapter 42F, Hawaii Revised Statutes, which provides standards to be met by private persons or organizations in order to receive grants or subsidies of State funds.

This bill is objectionable because the exemption from chapter 42F would allow The Friends to receive State funding without requiring it to meet the standards provided for private organizations to receive public money.

Section 4 of Article VII of the State Constitution states, 'No grant of public money or property shall be made except pursuant to standards provided by law.' The general standards for the grant of public money to private organizations are provided by law in chapter 42F, Hawaii Revised Statutes. This bill would exempt The Friends from the qualifying standards and conditions related to the receipt of funds under chapter 42F, but this bill does not provide substitute standards that would satisfy the requirement of 'standards provided by law' that are required by Section 4 of Article VII of the State Constitution. Consequently, any public money appropriated as a grant to The Friends would be a grant made in violation of the State Constitution.

Because Senate Bill No. 162 does not make an appropriation to The Friends of Iolani Palace, this bill, in and of itself, is not unconstitutional. However, the Legislature will need to amend the bill to reinstate the standards of chapter 42F, Hawaii Revised Statutes, or provide alternate standards that meet the constitutional test before this organization could receive public moneys.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed Senate Bill No. 162 to become law as Act 291, effective July 10, 2007, without my signature.

Sincerely,

/s/ Linda Lingle

Gov. Msg. No. 1090, informing the Senate that on July 10, 2007, she permitted the following measure to become law without her signature:

Senate Bill No. 138 as Act 292, entitled: "RELATING TO DIAMOND HEAD STATE MONUMENT."

"Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: Senate Bill No. 138 SD1 HD1 CD1

On July 10, 2007, Senate Bill No. 138, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Diamond Head State Monument' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii.

This bill creates a sub-account of the State Parks Special Fund into which fifty-five percent (55%) of the proceeds of the admission fees for the Diamond Head State Monument will be allocated to be used for the maintenance, repair, and operations of the Monument.

This bill raises concerns because it could have an adverse impact on the maintenance and upkeep of our statewide system of parks.

The establishment of a sub-account within the State Parks Special Fund may set a precedent for other revenue generating parks to request sub-accounts for their use. The State Parks Special Fund is used to support the maintenance and operation of all parks statewide. This will be the first sub-account for a special purpose in this fund. Earmarking moneys within the fund will make it difficult to allocate funds where they are needed for the operations of park facilities. The Department of Land and Natural Resources estimates funding available for other parks will decrease by approximately $250,000, based upon fiscal year 2006-2007 revenues as a result of this measure.

It should be pointed out that Diamond Head State Monument also receives general fund money and capital improvement funds from the State Treasury, in excess of the amounts it generates. Isolating its admission fees and making it impossible to use these fees for other recreational needs will make it harder to justify using general taxpayer dollars for this particular facility.

Diamond Head State Monument is a universally recognized landmark. Providing a funding stream for this monument is an understandable objective but, unfortunately, this approach may jeopardize other natural assets within our state.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed Senate Bill No. 138 to become law as Act 292, effective July 10, 2007, without my signature.

Sincerely,

/s/ Linda Lingle

Senate Bill No. 810 as Act 293, entitled: "RELATING TO WAIMANO RIDGE."

"Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: Senate Bill No. 810 SD2 HD1 CD1

On July 10, 2007, Senate Bill No. 810, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Waimano Ridge' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii.

This bill appropriates $150,000 in fiscal year 2007-2008 and $150,000 in fiscal year 2008-2009 to the Department of Health for operating expenses of the Waimano Ridge task force. My administration supports the work of this task force, established to give members of the community surrounding the former location of the Waimano Hospital and Training School (Waimano Ridge) an opportunity to provide input into the development of Waimano Ridge.

Because the Department of Health has existing funds within the Executive Biennium Budget to accomplish the goals of the Waimano Ridge task force, this bill is unnecessary.

The Executive Biennium Budget in Act 213 (House Bill No. 500) contains substantial appropriations for improvements to Waimano Ridge and the development of a master plan for Waimano Ridge. For fiscal year 2007-2008, a total of $9,700,000 is appropriated in capital improvement and operating funds specifically for Waimano Ridge, including $700,000 for the development of a master plan for the area. For fiscal 2008-2009, $1,800,000 is specifically appropriated for Waimano Ridge building and water system improvements.

Additionally, this bill is technically flawed because it does not contain standard language that provides that 'members shall not receive compensation but shall be reimbursed for necessary expenses incurred in carrying out their duties.' As a result, this bill lacks the standard prohibitions that make it clear that public funds cannot be used to provide salaries or hourly compensation for task force members.

The Department of Health will continue to assist the task force in carrying out its duties as the planning and improvements work at Waimano Ridge proceeds, using resources already within its budget.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed Senate Bill No. 810 to become law as Act 293, effective July 10, 2007, without my signature.

Sincerely,

Gov. Msg. No. 1092, informing the Senate that on July 10, 2007, she permitted the following measure to become law without her signature:

House Bill No. 1746 as Act 294, entitled: "RELATING TO VOLUNTARY EMPLOYEES' BENEFICIARY ASSOCIATION TRUSTS."

"Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: House Bill No. 1746 SD2

On July 10, 2007, House Bill No. 1746, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Voluntary Employees' Beneficiary Association Trusts' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii.

The purposes of this bill are to extend the repeal date of Act 245, Session Laws of Hawaii 2005 ('Act 245'), from July 1, 2008 to July 1, 2009; to prohibit the establishment of new voluntary employees' beneficiary association trusts ('VEBA trusts') under Act 245; and to require an employee organization that established a VEBA trust under Act 245 to submit a report to the Legislature after two full plan years of VEBA trust operations.

This bill is objectionable because, if VEBA trust improve benefits, they likely do so for a select group of employees at the expense of others. As noted in my statement of concerns regarding the original passage of Act 245, VEBA trust result in increased costs for employee groups that consist of older, less healthy members. This is because VEBA trusts increase adverse selection in two ways. First, bargaining units that have employees with better than average claims or loss experience can form a VEBA trust and exit the Hawaii Employer-Union Health Benefits Trust Fund ('EUTF'). This increases the average claims and loss experience for the remaining EUTF membership and tends to lead to increased rates for that remaining membership. Second, Act 245 provides for VEBA trusts to cover all future retirees but not current retirees. This causes the EUTF to be left with an increasingly older group of existing retirees, resulting in higher rate for the EUTF plans.

The provision of health benefits through a single health benefits delivery system, the EUTF, is the most effective way to control health benefits costs and meet the needs of all State and county employees, retirees, and their dependents. The EUTF was formed, in part, to: (1) eliminate the negative effect on health benefit plan rates due to adverse selection caused by employee organization sponsored health plans; (2) eliminate the duplication of administrative costs caused by having multiple health plans for State and county employees; and (3) establish one large health plan that would have the leverage to negotiate better rates and benefits with insurance carriers and others offering health benefits plans.

As also noted in my statement of concerns regarding the original passage of Act 245, I remain concerned about the effectiveness of the safeguards in that Act against fraud or mismanagement by VEBA trustees. VEBA trusts established under Act 245 are not covered by the strict standards of the federal Employee Retirement Income and Security Act of 1974 ('ERISA'). Unlike ERISA, there is no single State agency responsible for administering and regulating VEBA trusts. No State agency has been authorized to make rules for administering and regulating VEBA trusts and no funding has been provided for such administration and regulation.

Despite these objections and concerns, I will permit the pilot program for VEBA trusts to operate through June 30, 2009, rather than June 30, 2008, as originally proposed under Act 245. The State Auditor should conduct the study required under State Concurrent Resolution No. 178 and submit a report to the Legislature for consideration at the 2008 legislative regular session. Based on the data in that study and report, the Legislature should make a decision on whether to terminate the VEBA trust established under Act 245 on June 30, 2008 or allow the trust to continue for one additional year. I believe under no circumstances should the VEBA pilot program be extended beyond June 30, 2009.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed House Bill No. 1746 to become law as Act 294, effective July 10, 2007, without my signature.

Sincerely,

/s/ Linda Lingle

Rule 41. Order of Business: Committee Reports and Gubernatorial Messages

Reports from Conference or Joint Committees, and from Leadership Committee on Legislative Management, shall be in order at all times after the second order of business, and, upon motion, messages from the Governor or from the House of Representatives may be received at any time. All questions relating to the priority of business to be acted upon shall be decided without debate.

PART V. BILLSRule 45. Bills: Introduction

Any bill may be introduced on the report of the committee or by any member, except appropriation bills subject to the next paragraph, and except short form bills which may only be introduced by the majority leader or the minority leader after appropriate consultation with committee chairs and other members of the Senate.

The Executive Budget, Judiciary Budget, Legislative Budget, General Appropriations Bill, Supplemental Appropriations Bill, Office of Hawaiian Affairs Budget, and bills for criminal injuries compensation, for claims against the State and for funding of collective bargaining agreements may be introduced only by the President. Each member may introduce only one bill appropriating money for capital improvements projects in the member's district. The majority leaders and the minority leader shall develop a policy governing introduction by individual members of bills intended to appropriate money or to authorize the issuance of state bonds.

Bills, which shall carry over from a regular session in an odd-numbered year to the next regular session, shall retain the numbers assigned to them. The Clerk shall keep a record of the status of all bills in possession of the Senate at the end of the odd-numbered year session and shall publish the record of the status of all such bills prior to the convening of the next regular session.

Every bill introduced or reported out of any committee, which amends an existing section or subsection of the Hawaii Revised Statutes or Session Laws of Hawaii, shall set forth the section or subsection in full, and the matter to be deleted shall be enclosed in brackets and stricken and any new matter added to the section or subsection shall be underscored. However, a Supplemental Appropriations Bill need not conform to this rule, nor an amending bill where the intent and effect of the amending bill can be clearly identified and understood without repeating the entire section or subsection, in which case only the paragraphs, subparagraphs, clauses or items to be amended need be set forth as the President may allow. The President may allow additional exceptions to this rule.

Rule 46. Bills: Referral to Committee

(1) Upon introduction, all bills shall be numbered by the Clerk in numerical sequence, shall bear an identification as a Senate Bill, and shall pass first reading.

(2) The majority staff office shall make recommendations to the majority leadership on the referral of each such bill to appropriate Leadership or Standing Committees.

(3) Each such bill shall be referred by members of the majority leadership appointed by the President, to one or more appropriate Leadership or Standing Committees for consideration.

(4) Any referral may be reconsidered by the President upon written request of any chair who is aggrieved by the referral made within three working days. The President shall decide the request for reconsideration within a reasonable time, which decision shall be final. No request for reconsideration shall be considered if the timing of the request would have the effect of killing a bill or resolution.

(5) Each Leadership and Standing Committee shall consider the bills and other matters referred to it as expeditiously as may be possible.

Rule 47. Bills: Required Readings

No bill shall pass the Senate unless it shall have passed three readings in the Senate on separate days. The President shall give notice in each instance whether it be the first, second or third reading.

Rule 48. Bills: First Reading

(1) The first reading of a bill shall be for information. If opposition be made to it, the question shall be: "Shall this bill be rejected?" which question may be debated. But no one shall speak more than once upon such question, except the introducer of the bill, who may close the debate.

(2) If the question to reject be negative, the bill shall go to its second reading without question.

Rule 49. Bills: Second Reading

A bill upon its second reading may be read by its title only. It then shall be subject to a motion to commit. If it is not referred to a Leadership Committee, Standing Committee, or Special Committee, but is ordered to be considered in Committee of the Whole, a day for such consideration shall be determined by the chair of such committee. When the bill is reported from committee it shall take its place in the order of business for future consideration.

Rule 50. Bills: Third Reading

(1) No bill shall pass third or final reading in the Senate unless printed copies of the bill in the form to be passed have been made available to the members of the Senate for at least 48 hours. Form to be passed means the form in which a bill is to be (a) passed on third reading in the Senate, (b) concurred to by the Senate after amendments have been made by the House, or (c) passed by the Senate after a Conference Committee has agreed upon it.

(2) A bill on its third or final reading may be read by its title only. Upon the final passage of any bill, the Ayes and Noes shall be called. Such passage shall require the affirmative vote of a majority of all the members of the Senate and the Ayes and Noes shall be entered on the Journal.

(3) All bills, except on first reading, shall be printed by title on the Order of the Day before consideration by the members unless waived by the President.

Rule 51. Bills: Property of Senate

All bills introduced in the Senate shall be deemed the property of the Senate and under its control unless they shall become law, subject however to the right of the House of Representatives to amend or to refuse to agree with the bills.

Any bill pending at the final adjournment of a regular session in an odd-numbered year shall carry over with the same status to the next regular session; provided that if such bill shall have passed third reading in the Senate in an odd-numbered session, it shall pass at least one reading in the Senate in the next regular session upon its return to the Senate from the House.

Rule 52. Bills: Recall from Committee

Twenty days after a bill has been referred to a committee, the same may be recalled from such committee by the affirmative vote of one-third of the members of the Senate.

Rule 53. Matters Tabled

When a bill or resolution or other matter has been laid upon the table, it shall not thereafter be taken from the table and be considered or restored to a place upon the calendar of the Senate without the consent of a majority.

Rule 54. Bills: Amendments

(1) All amendments proposed to any bill shall be in writing, unless otherwise ordered by the Senate, and shall be sent to the Clerk's desk to be filed with the bill.

(2) The fundamental purpose of any amendment to a bill shall be germane to the fundamental purpose of the bill.

(3) The Clerk shall prepare and distribute copies of any proposed floor amendment to each member of the Senate present.

(4) A floor amendment shall be deemed pending only after its proponent has been recognized by the President and its adoption has been properly moved and seconded.

(5) A floor amendment that relates to a different subject, is intended to accomplish a different purpose, incorporates any other bill pending before the Senate, or would alter the nature of the bill as reported, is not germane and shall not be considered by the Senate.

(6) An amendment to a floor amendment that is not germane to both the floor amendment and the bill as reported shall not be considered by the Senate.

Rule 55. Bills: Certification

When a bill is passed it shall be certified by the Clerk who shall note the day of its passage in the journal along with a record of the ayes and noes.

Rule 56. Bills: Received from House of Representatives

Whenever a House bill which has passed Third Reading in the House of Representatives shall be certified to the Senate for its action, such bill shall be read three times before final passage, in accordance with the provision of the rules for the passage of bills introduced in the Senate.

Rule 57. Bills: Transmittal to House of Representatives

When a bill originating in the Senate shall have passed its third reading, or when a bill originating in the House which has been received from the House shall have been amended, or when a carry-over bill from an odd-numbered year originating in the House passes its third reading in the Senate in an even-numbered year session, such bill or such amended bill shall immediately be certified by the President and Clerk and sent to the House of Representatives for its consideration.

Rule 58. Bills: Correction of Errors

When a bill has passed both the Senate and the House of Representatives and an error in it is discovered prior to its having received the approval of the Governor, the bill may be returned by Concurrent Resolution to the house last considering the bill for proper correction.

Rule 59. Bills: Order of Consideration

(1) The Clerk shall send bills that have passed first reading to be printed immediately. When they have been printed and circulated to the members of the Senate, the Majority Leadership, appointed by the President, shall refer them to the various committees. When the committees have considered them and reported on them, the committees shall return them to the Clerk, and the Clerk shall place them in the Second Reading File. The Senate shall consider them in the order in which they appear in the Second Reading File.

(2) The Clerk shall arrange bills that have passed second reading in the order of their passage on second reading, regardless of the date of their reference to committee or the date of the committee report on them. The Clerk shall place them on the Third Reading File in the order in which they passed second reading and the Senate shall consider them on third reading in that same order. However, if the third reading of a bill is set for some particular date, that bill shall be removed from the Third Reading File.

Rule 60. Bills: Special Order of Consideration

All bills and other matters set for consideration on particular dates, shall be arranged in the order of the several votes making such assignments. A list shall be made of such special orders, and when the time for consideration arrives, such bills and other matters shall be considered in the order of assignment. If an adjournment shall be had before all of such special orders are disposed of, the remainder shall go over and come under the head of unfinished business on the following day, unless otherwise ordered.

PART VI. RESOLUTIONS; MOTIONS

Rule 61. Resolutions and Motions: Form

All resolutions shall be typewritten, dated and signed by the introducer, otherwise they shall not be considered. The Senate shall not introduce any congratulatory, commemorative or memorial resolution but shall express the sentiment contained in such resolutions by means of a suitable certificate. Motions and amendments may be verbal but shall be reduced to writing if requested by the President, and shall be read from the desk if so ordered.

Rule 62. Motions: Disposition

After a motion is stated or read by the President, it shall be deemed to be in the possession of the Senate, and shall be disposed of by vote of the Senate; however, it may be withdrawn by the mover at any time before an amendment has been adopted or before the decision on the motion if not amended.

Rule 63. Motions Applicable to Pending Matters

Whenever any bill or resolution or other matter shall be under discussion, the only motions relative thereto shall be:

- (1) To lay upon the table,
- (2) To postpone to a certain time,
- (3) To postpone indefinitely,
- (4) To commit or recommit, and
- (5) To amend, which motions shall have precedence in the order named.

The first two motions shall be decided without debate and shall be put as soon as made.

A motion to recommit will require a floor vote.

When any of the motions shall be decided in the negative, they shall not be revived the same day relative to the main question under discussion. If all are negative as aforesaid, the only remaining question shall be as to the adoption of the bill, resolution or other main question.

Rule 64. Matters Postponed Indefinitely

When a question is postponed indefinitely, the question shall not be acted upon again during the session in which it was introduced.

Rule 65. Motion for Previous Question

The object of the motion for the previous question is to cut off debate. It shall always be in order. It shall require a three-fifths vote to carry it.

Whenever the motion shall be carried, the author of the resolution or introducer of the bill under discussion shall be permitted to close the debate, after which the main question, subject to Rule 63, shall be put. The author or introducer may delegate to another such right to close.

Rule 66. Motion for Reconsideration

(1) When a motion has been once made and carried in the affirmative or negative, it shall not be in order for any member who voted on the side that did not prevail to move for a reconsideration thereof; but any member who voted on the prevailing side may move to reconsider it on the same or the succeeding day of session, or, with the consent of the Senate, on any subsequent day and such motion shall take precedence of all other questions, except a motion to adjourn.

(2) When a motion for reconsideration has been decided by vote, that vote shall not be reconsidered.

(3) When a bill or resolution or other matter upon which a vote has been taken shall have gone out of the possession of the Senate, and shall have been transmitted to the House of Representatives, a motion to reconsider shall be deemed to include a request to the House to return the same. If not complied with by the House, then the vote on the motion to reconsider shall be set aside. If such motion shall pass, the Clerk shall promptly communicate to the House the request for return of the matter to be reconsidered.

PART VII. PETITIONS AND COMMUNICATIONS

Rule 67. Petitions, Memorials, and Miscellaneous Communications

(1) Any person may petition the Senate. Petitions and other memorials, except as provided in Rule 61, shall be in writing, signed by the petitioners.

(2) All petitions, memorials and other papers addressed to the Senate or to the President and members shall be presented to the Senate by the Clerk.

(3) A brief statement of the contents of such petitions, memorials or other papers shall be made orally by the Clerk.

(4) Every such petition, memorial or other paper shall be ordered filed or referred to a committee, as of course, by the President, unless such action is objected to by a member at the time such petition, memorial or other paper is presented.

(5) No such petition, memorial or other paper shall be debated on the day it is presented, except with the consent of the Senate.

PART VIII. ORDER; DEBATE; VOTING

Rule 68. Questions of Order

(1) A question of order may be raised at any stage of the proceedings, except during the calling of the roll when the Ayes and Noes are called for. Unless submitted to the Senate, such questions shall be decided without debate by the presiding officer, subject to an appeal to the Senate. Laying such appeal on the table shall be held as sustaining the ruling of the presiding officer.

(2) Any question of order may be submitted to the Senate for its decision.

Rule 69. Debate: General Limitation

No member shall speak more than twice, unless such member be the mover of the matter pending, in which case such member shall not be permitted to speak in reply until every member choosing to speak shall have spoken.

Rule 70. Voting: Methods

There shall be five methods of ascertaining the decision of the Senate upon any matter.

(1) First, by voice; Second, by raising of hands; Third, by rising; Fourth, by call of the roll of the members and a record of the Clerk of the vote of each; and Fifth, by unanimous consent.

(2) Whenever the Senate is ready to vote on any question, the President shall rise, and after stating the question, shall request all those in favor of the affirmative of the question to vote "Aye." The President then shall call upon all voting in the negative of the question to vote "No." The President then shall announce the result to the Senate.

(3) If any member shall doubt the result, as announced, the President again shall state the question and call upon the members to vote either by rising in their places, and they shall remain standing until counted, or by raising their hands and the result again shall be announced.

(4) The President shall, when one-fifth of the members present so request, and may, when one member so requests, allow a roll-call vote. Clerk shall call the roll of the members of the Senate. Each member, when called, shall vote in a clear loud voice, "Aye," if voting in the affirmative, or "No," if voting in the negative. The Clerk shall record each vote and such record shall become a part of the Journal of the Senate. The President shall announce the results as above set forth.

(5) With the unanimous consent of the Senate, the President may direct the Clerk to record an "Aye" vote for each member of the Senate. If there is no objection, the Clerk shall so record the vote. If there is objection, the President shall ask for the names of the members voting "No" and order the Clerk to record no votes for them.

Rule 71. Voting: Rights of Members

(1) No member, on any account, shall refrain from voting unless excused by the President. A member voting "with reservations" shall be counted as a favorable vote. A member may vote "Kanalua" the first time the member's name is called by the Clerk on any vote, but if the member votes "Kanalua" on the next call of the member's name, the member's vote shall be recorded as "Aye."

(2) The President may excuse a member who has a monetary interest in the question, or whose right to a seat in the Senate will be affected by the question, or whose official conduct is involved in the question. If a member thinks there may be a personal interest in the question, the member shall rise and disclose the interest to the President. The President then shall rule whether the member has a conflict of interest. If so, the member shall be excused from voting.

(3) Whenever the Ayes and Noes are called, no one, without unanimous consent, shall be permitted to explain a vote.

(4) After the announcement by the President of the result, no one shall be allowed to vote or to change a vote.

PART IX. DECORUM; DISCLOSURES; PEER REVIEW; PUNISHMENT

Rule 72. Misconduct; Procedure; Peer Review

No member of the Senate shall be subject to a charge for misconduct, disorderly behavior, or neglect of duty unless the person making the charge shall have first given notice of the charge to the President and to the member being charged.

Upon receipt of the charge, the President shall attempt to resolve the matter in an administrative proceeding. If the matter cannot be resolved administratively, the President may appoint a Special Committee to be chaired by the Vice-President or such other member as the President may designate to investigate, hear and report upon the conduct of the member charged for misconduct, disorderly behavior or neglect of duty. Any member so charged shall be informed in writing of the specific charge or charges made against the member and have opportunity to present evidence and be heard in the member's own defense before the Special Committee. Following its investigation and hearing, the Special Committee shall file its report with the President setting forth its findings and recommendations.

If the committee recommends dismissal of the charge or charges, the President may dismiss the charges without further hearing, or the President may present the report of the committee to the Senate for its consideration. The Senate, by a majority vote, may dismiss the charge or charges against the member without a hearing.

If there is no dismissal of the charge or charges, or if the committee recommends censure, suspension or expulsion, the President shall present the report of the committee to the Senate for its consideration and decision. The member who is charged, shall be informed in writing of the presentation of the charge or charges of the committee report to the Senate and be given an opportunity to be heard in the member's own defense. The Senate, by a majority vote, may dismiss the charge or charges without a hearing, or with notice and an opportunity to be heard in the member's own defense, censure a member or, upon a two-thirds vote of all the members of the Senate, suspend or expel a member.

At any stage of the charge against a member, the member shall have a right to be represented by a person or persons of the member's own choosing.

Rule 73. Decorum: Transgression of Rules

If any member transgresses the rules of the Senate, the President, or any member, may call such member to order, and, when so called to order, the member immediately shall sit down. The President then shall decide the question of order without debate, subject to an appeal to the Senate.

The President may call for the sense of the Senate on any question of order.

Rule 74. Decorum: Address

When any member is about to speak, such member shall rise from the member's seat and address all remarks to the President. While speaking, the member shall confine all remarks to the question under debate, shall refer to other Senators by title only (e.g., "Senator from the _____ District"; "The Chair of the Committee on _____"; "The Majority Leader,") and not by name and shall avoid personalities.

Rule 75. Decorum: Person Called to Order While Speaking

Whenever any person shall be called to order while speaking, such person shall be deemed to be in possession of the floor when the question of order is decided and may proceed with the matter under discussion.

Rule 76. Decorum: Presence in Senate

No person shall sit at the desk of the President or Clerk, except by permission of the President, nor shall any person, other than a member, officer or permitted employee or person, sit in the main Senate floor area during any of the sessions of the Senate.

Rule 77. Decorum: Conduct in Session

When the President is putting any question or addressing the Senate, no one shall walk out of the room or across the floor. When a member is speaking, no one shall entertain a private discourse, nor shall anyone pass between the member speaking and the Chair.

No one shall cause any annoyance or disturbance on the Senate floor by use of sound-emitting electronic devices such as cell phones or pagers.

Rule 78. Decorum: Disorderly Conduct in Session

If, during any session of the Senate, any member should behave in a disorderly manner the President shall order the member to be seated and preserve the peace. If such member then shall persist in disorderly conduct, the President shall order the Sergeant-at-Arms to remove the member from the Senate and the member shall not be permitted to take a seat during the remainder of that day's session, except upon satisfactory pledge given to the Senate for future good behavior.

For the punishment of any person not a member, the provisions of Article III, Section 18 of the Constitution shall govern.

Rule 79. Decorum: Recording of Debate Called to Order

If any Senator is called to order for words spoken in debate, upon the member's demand or on that of any other Senator, the words objected to shall be taken down in writing and noted by the Clerk, and, if required, shall be read for the information of the Senate.

Rule 80. Decorum: Smoking

No member or other officer shall smoke anywhere within the capitol building unless permitted by law.

Rule 81. Standards of Conduct

(1) Members should conduct themselves in a respectful manner befitting the office with which they as elected officials have been entrusted, respecting and complying with the law and acting at all times in a manner that promotes public confidence in the integrity of the Senate.

(2) Members should not lend the prestige of public office to advance the private interests of themselves or others ; nor should members convey or permit others to convey the impression that they are in a special position to unduly influence pending public business before them.

(3) Members should treat their fellow Senate members, staff, and the general public with respect and courtesy, regardless of political or religious beliefs, race, ethnicity, sex, sexual orientation, or physical disability.

(4) The legislative duties of members as prescribed by law and these Rules should take precedence over all of their other business or professional activities. Members should freely and willingly accept certain restrictions on their business activities and professional conduct that might be considered burdensome by an ordinary private citizen, and should perform the duties or elected office impartially and diligently. To the greatest extent reasonably possible, members should:

(a) Refrain from allowing family, social, business, or other relationships to unduly influence the member's legislative conduct or judgment.

(b) Refrain from showing bias or prejudice, including but not limited to bias or prejudice based on political or religious beliefs, race, ethnicity, sex, sexual orientation, or physical disability, in the performance of their official duties.

(c) Exercise patience, tolerance and courtesy to all those with whom they deal with in an official capacity, and require staff and others subject to their direction and control to maintain similar standards of conduct, fidelity, and diligence inherent in public service.

(d) Exercise the power of appointment impartially and on the basis of merit, refraining from making unnecessary appointments and approving compensation of appointees beyond the fair value of services rendered.

(e) Afford to every person who wishes to participate in the legislative process the opportunity to be heard according to established procedures.

(f) Consider at all times whether their conduct would create in reasonable minds the perception that their ability to carry out legislative responsibilities with integrity and independence is either questionable or impaired.

(g) Refrain from using, or permitting the use of, the privileges and prestige of their public office to derive undue personal, professional, or financial benefits for themselves, members of their families, or others with whom they maintain personal, business, or professional relationships.

(i) Refrain from engaging in financial and business dealings that involve them in frequent transactions, or continuing business or professional relationships, with those persons likely to derive benefits from public financial matters either pending or already deliberated and voted upon by the Senate, to the extent that such conduct may reasonably be perceived as personal exploitation of their public office.

Rule 82. Decorum: Solicitation Prohibited

An officer or employee of the Senate shall not solicit subscriptions, for any purpose, from any other officer or employee thereof, nor from any Senator. Nor shall any person be permitted to solicit or receive subscriptions or contributions for any purpose on the floor or in the lobby of the Senate or in any Senate office.

Rule 83. Disclosures

Each member shall file with the Ethics Commission of the State of Hawaii, a disclosure of the member's private financial interests, as prescribed by law. Each member shall file with the Ethics Commission any change in such financial interests.

If a legislative matter which affects a member's interests arises before the member has made a disclosure to the Ethics Commission, the member shall disclose orally such interest to the Senate before voting. The member then shall immediately make the written disclosure required by law and the Rules of the Senate.

Any member who has filed a disclosure as required by this Rule need not make a further oral disclosure on the Senate floor of any interest so filed.

Rule 84. Violating Confidence

If any matter covered in Rule 35 or 36 shall be disclosed by any Senator, the Senator shall be liable to censure, or, by a two-thirds vote, to suspension or expulsion from the Senate. If an officer or other person authorized to hear such matter shall disclose the matter, such officer shall be dismissed and such other person shall be liable to punishment for contempt comparable to the punishment provided for by Article III, Section 18 of the Constitution and in the manner as therein prescribed.

Rule 85. Conflicts of Interest

(1) No member shall vote on any legislation if the member has a direct financial interest in the legislation, unless the member is part of the class of people affected by the official action based upon the member's profession, trade or business; provided that this rule shall not apply to votes on the recommendations of a committee when a member has disclosed a potential conflict. For the purposes of this rule, a "direct financial interest" means that the legislation affects the legislator's personal business, property, or financial interest.

(2) If a member is uncertain as to whether a conflict of interest exists, the member may request a ruling from the President by giving notice and disclosing the direct financial interest to the President prior to voting. When making a determination in cases where a portion of a measure may place a member in a conflict of interest, the President shall give due consideration to the context of that portion as it relates to the overall purpose of the measure. If the President determines that a conflict exists, the President shall excuse the member from voting.

PART X. QUESTIONS TO STATE OFFICERSRule 86. Questions to State Officers

Any member of the Senate may ask any question of any state officer relating to the officer's respective department by reducing such questions to writing, over the member's signature, reading the same before the Senate, and furnishing the officer with a copy of such written question. Any officer questioned shall reply to such question upon the following day, unless the Senate shall grant a definite extension of time for replying.

PART XI. AMENDMENT, SUSPENSION AND INTERPRETATION OF RULESRule 87. Amendments; Suspension; Violations

(1) No rule of the Senate shall be amended or rescinded nor shall any new rule be adopted, without one day's notice of such change. Any such action shall require a majority vote of the members of the Senate.

(2) Any rule may be suspended for a particular purpose upon a majority vote of the members of the Senate.

(3) Any violation of these Rules shall be referred to the President for appropriate action.

Rule 88. Parliamentary Procedure

PART XII. MISCELLANEOUS POWERRule 89. Administrative and Financial Manuals

(1) The Senate shall adopt by majority vote an administrative and financial manual of guides, the purpose of which is to establish uniformity in administrative practices and to ensure compliance with Senate policies.
