On motion by Senator Sakamoto, seconded by Senator Slom and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and S.C.R. Senator Hemmings rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

"Thank you, Madam President. I'm sure you all missed me tremendously last week when I was gone. I'm back.

"When I was gone for three days, I was invited to the National Conference of State Legislatures' meeting in Washington, D.C. to discuss the stimulus package, and we had a number of extremely invigorating, interesting meetings, including a briefing by Speaker Pelosi on Capitol Hill. No matter what your political persuasion is, the stimulus package does—and I have to report to you—have an absolutely astounding impact on the federal budget, the $780 billion of borrowed money. You know, our political side of the aisle thinks we're stimulating a lot of government growth and a massive redistribution of money. That aside, there's something more important that I want to report to you which came up by the NCSL in the course of discussions, including a meeting with the Vice President of the United States where they made presentations. No matter what your political persuasion is, you should take notice: this legislation subordinates the legislative authority in many states that have constitutions which say the legislature shall make budgets. I suspect that with our good organization here we'll be able to directly appropriate the money that is necessary to carry out the stimulus package. But the stimulus package itself says, 'the governor shall' in many instances 'do the appropriations' with no mention of the state or the legislature; in other words, bypassing the legislative process for expenditures of the money. It further eliminates the states' rights and responsibilities in the area of expenditures of funds because it delineates exactly how the money should be spent. Third of all, and curiously enough, it does subordinate the governor. Because the legislation is so tightly construed and has punitive measures in it with timelines and exactly how and where the money can be spent, it basically makes the Governor of the State of Hawai'i and the Legislature subordinate in the expenditure of most if not all of the money that will be coming to us.

"Our nation has been slowly migrating towards losing the federalist system that was so cleverly designed by the Founding Fathers. I would suggest if you take a look at the impact of this legislation and our role in spending this money—which is limited and we're just basically being directed by Washington—we are totally usurping our rights and our responsibility to spend the money as we see fit. And it's quite obvious to me that the genius of the Founding Fathers. If you look in the Federalist Papers No. 45, Madison very explicitly spells out what the role of the federal government is in relationship to states. Clearly he wanted the power to reside with the states because we know best how to spend our money.

"I just wanted to share that with you—and especially the Chair of the Ways and Means Committee, who I know is going to be scrutinizing this money from the federal government very closely. We may be losing our rights as state legislators and individual states to dictate our future because it's being yielded to the federal government. Thank you, Madam President."

At this time, the Chair made the following announcement:

“Referrals and re-referrals are made in accordance with the Supplemental Order of the Day that will be distributed to your offices later this afternoon.

ORDER OF THE DAY

THIRD READING

H.B. No. 520, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

On motion by Senator Fukunaga, seconded by Senator Baker and carried, H.B. No. 520, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO BUILDINGS,” passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

RECALL OF HOUSE BILL 444

Pursuant to Senate Rule 52, Senator Hooser moved to recall H.B. No. 444, H.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CIVIL UNIONS,” from the Committee on Judiciary and Government Operations, seconded by Senator Ihara.

The President then inquired:

“Madam Clerk, have 20 days elapsed since H.B. No. 444, H.D. 1 was referred to committee?”

The Clerk replied:

“Madam President, H.B. No. 444, H.D. 1 was referred to the Committee on Judiciary and Government Operations on February 18, 2009. The required number of days has elapsed since referral.”

The Chair then stated:

“In accordance with parliamentary procedures established pursuant to Mason’s Manual of Legislative Procedures, 2000 Edition, the Chair will provide for limited debate on the motion to recall, but H.B. No. 444, H.D. 1, is not open to debate.”

Senator Hooser rose and said:

“Madam President, I rise today and humbly ask that the members join me in a vote to recall H.B. No. 444, H.D. 1, a bill that extends the same rights, benefits and protections and responsibilities of spouses in a marriage to partners in a civil union. I’m asking for your help and support, members, not as a Majority Leader, but as an individual Senator and as a primary sponsor of the Senate version of this bill, but more so as someone who believes strongly that it is my duty and obligation—that it is our duty and obligation—to treat people equally and to provide and protect the equal rights of all people.”

Senator Tsutsui interjected:

“Madam President, point of order.”

The Chair recognized Senator Tsutsui, and Senator Tsutsui continued:

“I believe the speaker should be speaking to the merits of the motion on the floor and not the merits of the underlying measure.”

The President then said:

“Senator Hooser, please continue your statements as to the procedural motion.”

“Yes, Madam President, I’m speaking in support of pulling this bill to the floor because I believe in the principle that it is our duty and obligation to treat people equally and to provide and protect the equal rights of all people. And that is why I am here today to request that each of the Senators support the pulling of H.B. No. 444, H.D. 1 to the floor because that’s the only way we will have a full and open debate, and ultimately a full and open vote on these issues. And on answering the important question, ‘should we extend the same rights and benefits, protections and responsibilities...’”

Senator Kokubun interjected:

The Chair recognized Senator Kokubun, and Senator Kokubun continued:

“The Senator that is now speaking has some good points that should be addressed on the substance of the issue, but the motion now is to have us vote to determine whether there is a constitutionally-required one-third number of Senators to recall the measure to the full Senate. Thank you.”

The President then said:

“Senator Hooser...”

Senator Ihara interjected:

“Madam President, I rise on a point of parliamentary inquiry or information.”

The Chair recognized Senator Ihara, and Senator Ihara continued:

“I believe the movant has the right to speak to explain why he wants to recall the bill. I believe that it is not in order to debate the merits of the bill, but I believe he has the constitutional right on this constitutional recall motion to explain why he wants to recall the bill.”

The Chair responded:

“Senator Ihara, the point is well taken. Notwithstanding, what we are debating here is the recall motion and it’s a procedural motion in nature and it is the Chair’s ruling that the debate is to the procedural motion of the recall.”

Senator Hooser interjected:

“Madam President, may I ask a question?”

The Chair recognized Senator Hooser, and Senator Hooser continued:

“Am I allowed to describe the bill that we are talking about at all, or just by number?”

The Chair responded:

“You can describe the purpose of the...you can describe for a limited purpose what the bill is—and I think you have done that, Senator Hooser. But if you wish to restate what the bill is, please restate what the bill is.”

“Thank you, Madam President. I think it’s important that the purpose of the bill, as is stated on the bill itself—these are not my words, Madam President, and I think they speak to the very fundamental nature of this debate. The question is, in the bill, should we extend the same rights, benefits, and protections, and responsibilities of spouses in a marriage to partners in a civil union? That’s what we’re debating whether or not to pull to the floor from committee. For me, the answer is, ‘Yes, without question, we should do both.’ We should pull this to the floor for a full debate, and we should extend the same rights.

“At the minimum, the question deserves to come to this floor for a public discussion and a public vote, rather than to sit bottled up in committee, hamstrung by a 3-3 tie vote. This is an important, important issue about the fundamental rights of people, and if it's allowed to sit bottled up—and I'm here today to un-bottle it and to encourage members to vote—it will simply wither away and die an ignoble and anonymous death, stuck undecided and unresolved in committee because of a tie vote. I believe that's what will happen if we do not pull it to the floor and that's what I'm speaking to. This is an important issue. It deserves more than just to sit in that committee, unresolved and undecided because we have a tie. This issue and the people that have brought the issue forward, the people who have worked so hard to get it to where it is today, deserve to have it discussed and voted on by the full Senate, and I am here today to ask for you to join me and allow this to happen.

“H.B. No. 444, H.D. 1 lies stuck in committee because of a tie vote, after travelling over two years through the process. A similar effort to pass legislation died in the House two years ago after the House Judiciary failed to take a vote on it. Advocates were told at the time, ‘Be patient, take the next year off, build a broad based coalition; include labor, religious groups and others around the community in your effort. Get it passed in the House, and we are pretty confident the votes in the Senate will be there.’ So guess what? That is exactly what they did. They were patient. They took a year. They gathered broad based community coalition support—loud, diverse support, strong support—and just a few days ago that coalition issued a statement asking this body to recall the bill from committee to take a full vote in the Senate. And I have an open letter to the Senators speaking to the issue of the recall. It says: ‘As leaders of diverse communities across the islands, we call on you to bring the civil unions bill to the floor for passage. We believe this is a civil rights issue. This is an issue of economic justice. This is about ohana.’ This letter is signed by Dr. Amy Agbayani, Co-Chair of the Friends of Civil Rights and Filipinos for Affirmative Action; Shawn Benton, President of the Japanese American Citizens League; Alphonso Bragg, President of Hawai'i NAACP; Puanani Burgess, Principle of One Peace-At-A-Time; Eric Gill, Financial Secretary of the Unite Here! Local 5; Debi Hartmann, Former Chair of the Hawai'i State Board of Education; Lynette Hi'ilani Cruz, Professor of Anthropology, President of Ka Lei Maile Ali'i Hawaiian Civic Club; Faye Kennedy, Co-Chair of the Hawai'i Friends of Civil Rights; Poka Laenui, Director of the Institute for the Advancement of Hawaiian Affairs; Brien Matson, President of the Musicians Association; Wayne Panoke, Executive Director of 'Ilio'ulaokalani Coalition; Vicky Holt Takamine, Executive Director of PA'I Foundation; Alliecn Tasaka and Debbie Shimizu, Co-Chairs of the Hawai'i State Democratic Women's Caucus. These are leaders in our community speaking directly to the issue of pulling the bill from committee and strongly encouraging us to do so.

“H.B. No. 444, H.D. 1 passed the House with a 33 to 17 vote, only one vote shy of a supermajority. Even members of the Minority party and previously-thought conservative Democrats voted in support. Eighteen members of this body of the Senate then indicated they were in support, one more than the supermajority needed to override a veto, and the measure was scheduled for committee hearing. Knowing the possibility of a tie vote was strong, members were polled on the possibility of a recall, such as we're trying today, and at the end of the day 13 said they would support a pull. Shortly thereafter, a marathon public hearing was held, the vote was taken, the results were 3 for and 3 against. The Chair of the committee voted ‘yes’ in support of the bill. The Vice-Chair of the committee voted ‘yes’ in support of the bill. A majority of Democrats on the committee voted in support of the bill, and two Democrats joined with one Republican Minority member to successfully block H.B. No. 444, H.D. 1 in committee. In the end, this bill will live or die, not because of the actions taken by that committee but through our action or inaction as a group, which is why the motion is being made here today on the floor, which is why I'm asking you to join me in allowing this very important measure to be brought to the full floor for a full and open discussion on its merits. As you can see, we're not allowed to discuss the issue on its merits here today; we're not allowed to discuss why we may or may not support civil unions. We can only discuss this particular measure asking to be pulled from the floor. Why wouldn't we be willing to recall this bill from committee for a full discussion and floor vote? What are the reasons why we would not want to have a full and open discussion on this very important issue? If there are 18 Senators who support the bill, if there are 18 Senators who support extending the same rights, benefits, protections and responsibilities of spouses in a marriage to partners in a civil union, why is there hesitation now? That language, by the way, is not new language. Though the word ‘marriage’ seems to make a lot of people very nervous, that language has been there from the beginning...”

Senator Kokubun interjected:

“Madam President, point of order please.”

The Chair recognized Senator Kokubun, and Senator Kokubun continued:

“I really would request that this discussion be centered on the motion to recall. Thank you.”

The Chair acknowledged the point of order and allowed Senator Hooser to continue.

“Madam President, I understand that, and the points I'm going to raise now are the points that have been discussed in the past as reasons why not to recall this bill. When discussed individually and otherwise asking members why they may or may not support the recall of this bill, there were four general objections. Recalling the bill from committee sets a bad precedent, some will say, and somehow violates the internal committee process and structure of the Senate. That's number 1. Number 2: H.B. No. 444, H.D. 1 is likely to be vetoed by the Governor, and so why should we expose ourselves politically when she will veto and the likelihood of being able to override the veto is slim. So why even bother to take it further? Number 3 objection: H.B. No. 444, H.D. 1 is likely to be challenged in court and we could wind up like Connecticut with same-sex marriage being legalized. The fourth most common objection is instead of passing this bill, we should focus on amending the bill, deleting references to marriage, and granting some additional rights but not all the rights. In the interests of time, I will not go into great detail refuting each of those concerns but I will touch briefly on this.

“The ability to recall the bill from committee is a constitutional right that is rarely used but is there for exactly these types of situations. It was created in our Constitution for situations in which bills are kept bottled up in committee. Bills have been recalled for a variety of measures over the years. I've got a list I'd like to introduce into the record: there was a bill in 1994 relating to marriage, H.B. No. 2312. 1996. 1998. 2002. (The Chair having so ordered, the list is identified as “ATTACHMENT A” to the Journal of this day.) Though it is rare, it is not unheard of; it is not uncommon. A review of the votes and the reasons given will clearly show the recalls were made based on the bill being stuck in committee and members feeling strongly that the full Senate needed to debate and vote on the substance of the issue. This is why they recalled in the past, and this is some of the reasons I'm asking for the recall today. A further review of the history also clearly shows that in each case of recall, there was no subsequent breakdown of the committee process. There was no rush or flurry of attempts to recall other bills. A review of the history also shows that many members here today, who I believe are not in support of the recall, have in the past voted to recall other measures.

“The second objection regarding the veto: Worrying about whether the Governor will veto the measure or not, worrying about whether we have the votes to override or whether the House has the votes to override, and failing to act as a result of that worry, I believe, is a fruitless and self-defeating exercise. If we truly feel that granting full and equal rights—I’m sorry, I apologize for talking about the substance of the bill. If we fully believe that doing what we’re here today, doing what I’m proposing today is the right thing to do, then we should simply call this measure to the floor, have a full and open discussion, and do it, and let the Governor do what she must do. At the end of the day, we must each look ourselves in the mirror and judge ourselves on the action we take; and the decision we make today should be based on what we believe is right and just, and not on what we speculate the Governor may or may not do.

“Number three: Recent concerns raise that this bill is too close to the Connecticut law and the courts may, as a result, legalize same-sex marriage. These concerns, I believe, are unfounded. Though it is very likely—not unlikely—that the law could be challenged in court, Hawai‘i attorney and Professor of Constitutional Law and well-respected attorney Jon Van Dyke has stated clearly and in writing that the likelihood of this occurring is remote, and in fact, he used the word ‘impossible.’ In addition, retired Hawai‘i Supreme Court Associate Justice Steven Levinson has also written, ‘I concur completely with Professor Van Dyke’s analysis.’ I have another letter here from the ACLU attorney Lois Perrin that says, ‘There is no legal basis for any argument that H.B. No. 444, as currently written, will be used as a basis for a lawsuit for same-sex marriage under the Hawai‘i State Constitution.’ I would like to enter those three communications into the record as well. (The Chair having so ordered, the letters are identified as “ATTACHMENT B” to the Journal of this day.)

“Last but not least is the objection that we should amend the bill; somehow remove the word ‘marriage’ from the language, reduce the amount of rights we are granting, and pass it back over to the House, an amended version that the Governor is not likely to veto. This option, the one that I do not personally support, remains a possibility.

“I would like to thank the Senator from Ewa Beach, the Senator from Downtown who have each worked very hard, spending many hours trying to craft such an amendment that might be acceptable to the advocates and to the Senate majority. I applaud their efforts and encourage them today to support the vote today and then offer the amendments to the full Senate on Friday. Should a majority of members vote in support of those amendments, I will join you in that support for the final amended vote. I’ll repeat that: Should a majority of members vote in support of those amendments, I will join in that vote of support for the final amended bill.

“In conclusion, Madam President, members, this is a tough issue, probably the toughest one we’ve been involved with in a while. For myself, I think it’s important. I think the reason I was elected was to make these kinds of decisions. You know, we have plenty of pressure from all sides. There’s no shortage of pressure. There are plenty of reasons we can come up with to postpone this vote or to vote ‘no.’ For me, the main reason to vote ‘yes,’ the main reason that I’ve personally have not been able to avoid is one of principle and one of obligation. The principle, of course, is that all people are created equal, and all people deserve to be treated fairly, equally, and with respect and dignity. All people are created equal and that all people deserve to be treated fairly, equally, and with respect and dignity—I cannot say that often enough. The principle that knowing this is the right thing to do, the principle that the people affected by this legislation deserve better and deserve our vote and support.

I’m voting in support of this measure today, and I’m asking you to join me because we owe it to these people. These are our friends, our neighbors, our family members. We owe them a full and open discussion of the issue and a full vote on the floor of this chamber, and I’m here today requesting your support in recalling H.B. No. 444, H.D. 1 to the floor of the Senate, but more than that, I am asking that each of you simply vote your conscience. Vote the issue. Vote the principle. Vote for what you know and believe to be right in your heart. Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the motion and said:

“Madam President, I rise in opposition to the motion...”

At this time, Senator Baker rose on a point of order.

The Chair then said:

“Member of the gallery, please have decorum. Thank you.”

“Madam President, unlike the previous speaker, I will respect your wishes and your ruling and stick within the argument about the recall.

“I must say, however, as a member of the Judiciary Committee, I take great umbrage at the misinformation and false statements made by the previous speaker. If we’re talking about principle and obligation, then one must ask, ‘Where is the principle and obligation if we have a stated procedure? Why do we not follow it?’ And before I go any further, Madam President, let me make sure that I specifically request a Roll Call vote when this debate is finished. (The Chair so ordered.)

“I want to tell you that I was here for the pulling of two of the last measures that the good Senator from Kaua‘i spoke about, and I voted for the pulling. But what the good Senator neglected to tell this body and the gallery was that those bills were pulled because the committee chairs refused to hold hearing on those bills. And when we talk about a bill being stuck in a committee and when the good Senator says we need a full and open debate, where was the good Senator for the 18 hours of full and open debate that this Senate committee held just a few short weeks ago? Eighteen hours, the longest continuous hearing on any single issue ever held in the State Senate; from 9:00 a.m. on Tuesday to 3:00 a.m. on Wednesday. And everyone, everyone, had ample opportunity to stand up and say whatever they wanted to say. We had nearly 1,500 pieces of testimony and nearly 500 people came and testified in that auditorium. It was an amazing sight. It was democracy in action. And I credit the Judiciary Chairman for not only his patience and forbearance, but the ability to allow everyone to be heard. And then what happened? After a full and open debate with arguments back and forth, the committee of six voted, and the vote was 3 to 3, and the bill failed. It is not unusual to have tie votes or tie actions. We have them in athletics, we have them in educational decision making, and we certainly have them in politics. And a tie vote is a vote. Everyone had their opportunity to do that. What could we do differently if we yanked—and notice it is always talked about yanking the bill or forcing—the bill out of the Judiciary Committee after that full and open hearing? What could we do differently in this body on this floor? Well, I think we heard some of it in some of the remarks that were supposed to be addressed to the procedure. By pointing out the political representation on the Committee and pointing out the alleged votes by members of a political party, I think that some members of this body and some of the advocates want to truly politicize this issue. Is it really something that is necessary and needed at this time when we have supposedly been struggling the budget and the livelihood and the standard of living of individuals, families, and businesses in this community? I don’t think so. We have a process. The process has been followed. We had a hearing. We had a vote, and the vote has been tallied. Now, some people don't like the vote and they want to get their way, and there was ample opportunity to amend this bill prior to and during the hearing. But it was made clear by advocates of this bill they don't want any changes. They don't want anything that is different from erasing the dividing line between so-called civil unions and marriage. That's what they want; and that is their right, and I respect that right. But we have thoroughly legislated it, and now to say we're going to force this onto the floor because some people may have additional political aspirations next year is not going to help this community, is not going to reflect positively on this Senate.

Senator Baker rose on a point of order.

"So, Madam President, we must vote 'no' on this measure because the bill is not stuck in the committee, the bill is not bottled up in the committee, the bill has not done without hearing. We followed the process. We have done all of that and we came to a conclusion, and the conclusion was there was not enough support to pass this bill at this time. Now the good Senator from Kaua'i brought up four canards about why we shouldn't do this or why we should yank the bill, and he talked about bad precedent and I mentioned what the precedents have been. Certainly we have a constitutional right to do this, but the idea is why should we when we have followed all of the things that we have to do and when everyone has spoken out about this?"

"Secondly, I almost fell off my chair, Madam President, when the good Senator said the Governor is likely to veto this bill. I don't know where he got his information. I would be very, very surprised if the Governor vetoed this bill. And why should the good Senator worry with 23 members out of 25 in this body, and with a record of overriding the Governor's vetoes at whim? Why worry about that?"

"Thirdly, he talked about a challenge being made, and he talked about Connecticut, and he talked about Professor Van Dyke. If he would have gone a little further and given you more accurate information, he would have mentioned that Professor Van Dyke discussed the Connecticut case and there is a basic difference between Connecticut and the State of Hawai'i. The Connecticut case relied upon the state constitution in Connecticut and not the federal Constitution. As Professor Van Dyke pointed out, it would be very difficult in Hawai'i, at the appellate level, to change things here because in 1998 more than 70 percent of the people voted for what they believed to be a definition of marriage between one man and one woman, but they did reserve the final decision to the Legislature, and the Legislature acted, amending chapter 572-1 and 572-1.5, which states: 'marriage in the State of Hawai'i is between a man and a woman.' So, we're not talking about civil rights here. We're not talking about equality. We're talking about trying to erase bright lines and we're talking about, in the end, as so many people testified, money and benefits and not civil rights. We have had the debate—I am certain this debate will continue—but to try to force this on the floor when the committee and its members did their job and when everyone in the community had ample opportunity—not only to testify, not only to send in information—to watch live 18 hours of that debate. That is reason for us to reject this motion, and I urge my colleagues to do so. Thank you, Madam President."

The Chair addressed the chamber and said:

"Members...members of the public...members of the public, you are here to watch the Senators' debate. We would like to ask you to respect the decorum of the Senate chambers. We would like to ask all sides of this issue to please refrain from any outbursts, and the reason being that the Senators are here to debate a very critical issue that all of you may have—and we believe have opinions of—but please permit us to complete our process."

Senator Ihara rose in support of the motion to recall and said:

"Madam President, I will endeavor to keep my comments within the interpretation that you had laid out. I would hope that the Senate would continue its tradition of not having narrow interpretations of parliamentary rules, but I'll do my best.

"I first want to address the motion itself: the motion to recall the civil unions bill from committee. In 1950, Hawai'i voters ratified a constitutional amendment, article III, section 10, that empowered a minority of legislators to recall a bill for full Senate action. O'ahu delegate Elizabeth Kellerman introduced this proposal, and there was a debate in the 1950 Constitutional Convention on July 7, 1950. In that debate she said: 'If the minority can bring a bill out to the floor, it will give them an opportunity to express their views, and it seems to me that the people ought to know how the members of the legislature feel and stand on certain measures. I believe that everything should be out in the open, and I think this amendment will provide for "putting democracy to work" and I believe this amendment will help to do that, and that is why I am in favor of it.' That was the statement from the proposer of this Constitutional right to recall given to a minority of legislators. This constitutional right of a minority was designed to protect our majority: to protect it from what historians have called 'the tyranny of the majority'. Our democracy depends on hearing the voices of the minority, and the minority right to recall was so important to our constitutional framers that this right was placed in the Hawai'i State Constitution. While a minority has a right to recall and vote on a bill that's in committee, bottled up or otherwise, it is the majority that decides the fate of such a bill. Whether the recall motion succeeds or fails will determine, in fact, whether a minority of same gender couples and families will finally receive the legal rights that heterosexuals already enjoy. I would like to ask fellow Senators, respectfully, especially the majority that may oppose this motion, if it might be possible to honor Hawai'i's constitutional minority right motion to recall a bill from committee, and hold those thoughts about acting against those who may support this motion.

"Martin Luther King said, 'Means we use must be as pure as the ends we seek.' Madam President, I support the motion to recall H.B. No. 444 because I believe there is no better day than today to stand up for the basic human right of every person to enjoy a family relationship without discrimination. I believe today is the day the Legislature could signal its intention to finally use its constitutional authority to grant equal legal rights to gay and lesbian couples. I will vote... I will vote for the recall motion because the denial of equal rights to same gender couples is too important to delay another day. I'm trying to censor some of my speaking as I go along to not be too offensive in bringing up the subject matter.

"Madam President, I believe this motion to recall is an appropriate method for a minority of Senators to invite other Senators to finally debate and vote on the merits of civil unions bill. I am interested in understanding the public policy rationale, hopefully in a future debate, that might be proposed for denying same sex couples the legal rights that heterosexual families already have. I believe it is time, starting today hopefully, to move past the fear of H.B. No. 444, which I believe is legitimate, and face the reality that same gender families exist in our society today. And I believe they deserve equal rights under the laws of the State of Hawai'i. I have let go of my own fear of being disliked as gay and lesbians may have felt sometimes and perhaps intensely by some that may dislike myself and others who may support this motion to recall. I have compassion for the fear that segments of our community may feel about this bill and their disappointment of those Senators who are supporting this motion, but I say to you that we are standing up for equal protection, equal rights, to same gender couples as civil unions, not as marriage.

"I support the motion to recall because I believe this vote may be the last chance this year to address the civil unions issue and allow the people's elected representatives to vote on whether same gender couples and families should receive the same legal rights as opposite sex couples. To the majority in the Senate, I am presuming that those who support this motion are a minority and I want to speak for the rights of minorities, and as I do sometimes with our political Minority, I do want to stand up for the minorities and invoke this constitutional minority rights' power to bring this issue to the floor if we succeed, if we have nine votes, and then have the debate on the issue. Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Taniguchi rose in opposition to the motion and said:

"This is a very difficult decision for me. I don't have to remind you that I did vote in favor of the bill in committee and have supported the bill, and as Chairman of the committee, actually heard the bill. I didn't anticipate it would take 18 hours, but I think we did have a thorough hearing on the bill, and I think we at least touched upon a lot of the issues that are intertwined with this bill. But I am voting today in opposition to this motion because I believe it is premature. I believe we still have some time. I did ask the Senator from Kaua'i to hold off on his motion, but he felt the necessity to do so today. I believe if we have additional time, it will allow us to work on possibly passing this bill or possibly amending this bill. Approving the motion today, I believe, will foreclose all that, and I ask my colleagues to vote in opposition to this motion. Thank you."

Senator Baker rose in support of the motion and said:

"Some might ask, particularly after the Chair's remarks, why a current committee chair would support a move to recall a bill from somebody else's committee: 'Don't you support the committee process?' I can hear some of my colleagues asking. Yes, I do in fact support the committee process because it is integral to how we get our work done, and for 99 percent of the time I think it works well. Bills are heard. Testimony is taken. Decisions are made. Most all of our committees have an uneven number of members so tie votes are rare, even rarer on this floor. There are, however, those unique situations when the committee system, I believe, doesn't work as it was intended, and that is what I believe has transpired with the action on H.B. No. 444, H.D. 1. After long hours of hearings and much deliberation, the Chair of the committee did in fact make a motion to pass the bill unamended, but the committee with all of the members present could not move the bill forward, but didn't flat-out reject the Chair's recommendation either. In addition, I believe that a bill of such importance as this one deserves to be handled by the entire body on a clear vote. The framers of our Constitution provided a procedure for such situations as we are in today. In invoking that safety valve, I believe we are honoring our rules and paying tribute to the integrity of the process afforded to us by our Constitution. I ask my colleagues to join me, so that the entire Senate can address an issue which will impact many people in our state. It is because I believe in the process that I stand in support of this measure. In my view, it is simply the right thing to do. Mahalo."

Senator Kokubun rose in opposition of the motion to recall and said:

"You know, I certainly respect the Constitutional provision regarding recall, particularly when there is a situation where a measure is being held in committee by a chair or not being heard at all. This situation, in my opinion, though was very different. Let me first thank the Chair and members of the Judiciary and Government Operations Committee for providing, through a public hearing, the opportunity for people to express themselves on an issue of great interest. It is also important to note that, as mentioned previously, the hearing took close to 18 hours to complete and provided all who wished to testify that opportunity. It is also to the credit of the Chair and committee members that they listened intently and participated for the duration of the hearing, including decision making that occurred after the extended hearing ended at 3:00 a.m. Notably, at the conclusion of the hearing, people who participated in the hearing, whether they were for or against the measure, expressed gratitude for the respect and courtesies provided to all by Chair Taniguchi and the committee members. Chair Taniguchi and the members of the Judiciary and Government Operations Committee, thank you for representing the Senate with forthrightness and earnestness. As we all know, the committee vote ended in a deadlock. My point is that the bill received an extraordinary hearing and decision making process. This is not a situation where a measure is being held by a chair. The Senate Committee structure and the leadership demonstrated by chairs and members functions very well. This situation does not rise, in my opinion, to the level of abuse that requires the extraordinary action of recall. I ask my colleagues to support the integrity of the Senate and its functions, and vote 'no' on this motion. Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Kidani rose and said:

"Thank you Madam President. As a candidate for this office I supported..."

The Chair interjected:

"Senator Kidani, for what purpose do you rise?"

Senator Kidani responded:

"Sorry, I stand in support of this measure. As a candidate for this office, I supported civil unions because I believed that it was the right thing to do. I supported the pull from committee because three weeks ago I thought the Chair and Vice Chair also supported that measure, and I made commitments based on that. I can't turn my back on those commitments because other senators have changed their mind. As a freshman senator, I know I have a lot to learn and I have to hit the ground running. And I'm sorry if this vote is not what you guys want to hear, but it is my conscience. So today, in honor and in memory of Ah Quon McElrath, I will cast a vote in support. Thank you."

Senator Tokuda rose in opposition to the motion and said:

"We all have very different reasons for supporting or opposing pulling this bill to the floor, and let me be very clear: My opposition to this pull does not in any way diminish or change my strong support for civil unions and my desire to live in a society where equal rights and equal treatment exists for all. But that is not what we are discussing today. While some may disagree, the discussion we're having right now is not on the merits or the importance of the bill, but rather our legislative process and the exception to the rule that we are considering today. To many, the work that we do is quite a mystery and we do this work on behalf of the people that we serve. While many may not understand the complexity of our calendar or how our committee system works, they do know that a process exists by which an individual may voice their opinion prior to decisions being made. And, like decisions made in all other sectors of government, business, and in our everyday life, they expect us to stand by the decisions that are made. While not pulling the bill to the floor in deference to the process and out of respect to the committee structure and its chair may seem cold and overly technical, at the end of the day our process validates the decisions that we make. Our system has been established on the basis that the process legitimizes the purposes we act upon. It gives weight and credence to the decisions that we make, and if there are questions or a lack of trust in how we do things and how things are done, what faith will people have in what we have done? This is very difficult for me, Madam Chair and colleagues, for even as I stand before you here today and look around the room at all of you, it's not your faces that I see. I see many of the faces of my friends, family members, loved ones and constituents who have waited for equality and justice for too long, and I feel the full weight of their disappointment and loss upon me. This issue has once again seriously divided our communities when really ensuring equal treatment and equal rights for all should unite us. The hate, the stereotypes, the misinformation and threats we have heard on this has been nothing short of blasphemous. It has made it clear to me that while this debate has been about civil unions, we still have such a long way to go in seeing each other as human beings—all equal, all unique, and all free to be who we are under the eyes of whatever, if any, God we so choose. While I do not support the motion to pull this bill to the floor, my support for equal rights, civil rights, remains unwavering. Today is the day when there will be no winners, for when one individual is denied the rights of others, we all lose. But there will be a tomorrow, and I remain committed to the fight going forward. Thank you."

Senator Slom rose in brief rebuttal and said:

"I just want to comment on a couple statements that had been made. As I had mentioned in my original remarks, I certainly understand our constitutional right to do this and the good Senator from Kaimuki read passages from someone who I knew and respected, Mrs. Kellerman. But just because you put a right into a document doesn't mean that you are to use it frivolously. It is there, and I would fight for the right to have it there, for use in extraordinary circumstances. And as you've heard today, this is not an extraordinary circumstance. We followed procedure, we had the hearing, we had people testify, and then we took a vote. And that is absolutely different from the other situations which I described where I supported pulling bills because the chairmen of those committees refused to have open hearings. We've had the hearing. We've had the debate. And when it comes to minorities, I absolutely know what it means to be a minority, particular in this political house. My colleague, Senator Hemmings and I—every day we come to work, it's 23 to 2. And many times, if you look at the votes, it'll even be 24 to 1; I can't even convince him to vote with me. But that's the nature of the political system and as long as it's done transparently, and with openness, and we follow the procedures, you can't say, 'Well, I don't like it here, and so I want to change the rules.' Can't do that.

"I also want to reiterate some statement that was made—a quotation from Dr. Martin Luther King, who we all respect and admire. During that 18-hour hearing, there were many African Americans who spoke, and each one of them—each one of them—said that they were not comfortable with the fact that people were using Dr. King to speak on this issue because he never made one utterance about civil unions or same sex marriages. So to use his name and take it out of context, I think, is not something that we should be doing.

"Also, to paint those of us that either voted 'no' on the bill or are going to vote 'no' on this procedure as being afraid, or being disrespectful, or being somehow uncomfortable with individuals because of their lifestyle, is missing the point entirely. We are talking about the condition of law. We're talking about procedures, both in the judiciary and also in the legislative branch, that we should follow. If we do it on one issue and one area, we should do it on all others.

"And then the statement was brought up that how unique this was that the Judiciary Committee had only six people and it resulted in a tie of 3 to 3. Well, Madam President, as you well know, there are fourteen Senate committees and five of those committees have even numbered members: Education and Housing, the Health Committee, the Human Services Committee, the Judiciary Committee, and even the Ways and Means Committee. Five out of the fourteen. So, it's possible to have tie votes. It's very rare. And when people listen to the testimony, generally they're not that equal or not that split, but in this case, we were.

"So, don't make shabby the process by doing this. Vote your conscience, by all means. Keep your promises, by all means, but in the end all of us will do the right thing as our conscience demands. And maybe, Madam President, the last thing to say is maybe we could get out of this quandary if we ordered an environmental impact statement of civil unions before we vote. Thank you, Madam President."

The Chair addressed the chamber and said:

"Members...members of the gallery, members of the public, may we have order."

Senator Tsutsui rose in opposition to the motion and said:

"Madam President, it has been said today on the Senate floor that this bill will sit here and wither and die. It has also been said that we can't wait any longer, and I also heard a statement saying that this is our last chance.

"Madam President, colleagues, I disagree. We still have time. I have seen several members propose various amendments and unfortunately, because of one person's political agenda, one person's political timeline, we are being asked to vote on a measure prematurely."

Senator Ihara interjected and said:

"I believe our parliamentary procedures do not allow the criticism of another member of the Senate or ascribing a motive to a motion."

The Chair acknowledged Senator Ihara and said:

"You are correct. I'm not quite sure which member it's being ascribed to, but you may proceed, Senator Tsutsui, with that admonishment."

"Thank you, Madam President. Madam President, you know, I believe, again, we still have time to work on a measure. We have time to work on a measure that will bring this community together, not divide them as this procedure is trying to do. Madam President, I believe with your leadership we can continue to engage with individuals on both sides of the issue, and to have a measure that would both provide equality and the protection of civil rights for every single person in our state. Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Baker rose again in support of the motion and said:

"Once again, I rise in support of this motion. As I was looking through the materials that I brought down to the chamber with me, I came across a small bumper sticker that you'll start seeing cropped up around. It says, 'Practice Aloha'. As we are about to cast our votes, maybe that's the Hawaiian value that we need to keep in our mind as we exercise our right to vote. Thank you."

The motion to recall H.B. No. 444, H.D. 1 from the Committee on Judiciary and Government Operations was put by the Chair and, Roll Call vote having been requested, failed on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 6. Noes, 18 (Bunda, Espero, Gabbard, Galuteria, Green, Hanabusa, Hee, Hemmings, Ige, Kim, Kokubun, Nishihara, Sakamoto, Slom, Takamine, Taniguchi, Tokuda, Tsutsui). Excused, 1 (English).

The Chair addressed the chamber and said:

“Members of the public. Members of the public. Please, please respect the decorum of the Senate. Thank you.”

At 12:55 p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:56 p.m.

The Chair addressed the chamber and said:

“Members of the public, as you leave the chamber we ask that you please do it quietly.”

The Chair continued, making the following announcements:

“The deadline for filing bills moving laterally to final committee that need to pass Second Reading is 9:00 p.m. tonight.

“Referrals and re-referrals are made in accordance with the Supplemental Order of the Day that may be distributed to your offices later this afternoon.”

RE-REFERRAL OF HOUSE BILLS

Senator Gary Hooser
 Hawaii State Senate
 Honolulu, Hawaii 96813

Dear Senator Hooser:

This letter is written in response to your request for a professional opinion regarding HB 444 HD 1. This opinion is based on my professional background, which includes teaching Constitutional Law since 1968 at Catholic University, the Hastings College of Law, and (since 1976) at the William S. Richardson School of Law at the University of Hawaii, but it is offered in my individual capacity and is not presented as the views of the University of Hawaii.

This letter addresses the concern that even though HB 444 HD1 is designed only to allow same-sex couples to establish "civil unions," the effect of this enactment might, in fact, be to enable same-sex couples to have the status of "marriage," in light of the decision of the Connecticut Supreme Court in Kerrigan v. Comm'r of Public Health, 89 Conn. 135, 957 A.2d 407 (2008). This concern has been raised because, in Kerrigan, the Connecticut Supreme Court ruled that same-sex couples who had established civil unions under Connecticut law could establish a legally-cognizable injury in being excluded from the institution of marriage and hence that the Connecticut law that restricted marriage to heterosexual couples violated the equal protection rights of the same-sex couples under the Connecticut Constitution.

This same result could not, however, be reached by the appellate courts of Hawaii if HB444 HD1 is passed, because of the differences between the Connecticut and Hawaii State Constitutions. It is important to emphasize that the Kerrigan decision was based on the Connecticut State Constitution, specifically Article First § 20, and not on the U.S. Constitution. The Connecticut Supreme Court was very careful in this regard and constantly referred to the "state constitution" rather than to the federal constitution.

The Hawaii Constitution contains language in Article I, Section 5 that is similar to the language in Connecticut's Article First § 20, stating that no person shall be "denied the equal protection" of the law, but Hawaii's Constitution now contains the additional provision in Article I, Section 23 (added in 1998) stating that: "The legislature shall have the power to reserve marriage to opposite-sex couples." This constitutional amendment granted additional power to Hawaii's Legislature and the Hawaii State Legislature has, in fact, reserved marriage to unions "between a man and a woman" in H.R.S. §§ 572-1 and 572-1.5. It would therefore be impossible for an appellate court in Hawaii to reach a result similar to that reached in Connecticut in the Kerrigan decision, i.e., it would be impossible for a Hawaii appellate court to rule that allowing same-sex couples to establish "civil unions" but not "marriages" violated the Hawaii State Constitution.

Such a result would be impossible because it would ignore the requirement to read the Hawaii Constitution as a whole, and thereby to give meaning to Article I, Section 23 (as well as Article I, Section 5). Such a result would also be inconsistent with fundamental concept of the Separation of Powers, the doctrine that separates powers and responsibilities between the Judicial and Legislative Branches. In Hawaii, unlike Connecticut, our Constitution gives the Legislative Branch sole responsibility to determine eligibility for "marriage," and that power is thus removed from consideration and review by the Judicial Branch.

The Hawaii Supreme Court, in fact, already reached that very result in 1999 after Article I, Section 23 was added to the Hawaii Constitution. In Baehr v. Miike, No. 91-1394-05 (Hawaii Supreme Court, Dec. 9, 1999) (described in David Orgon Coolidge, the Hawaii Marriage Amendment: Its Origins, Meaning and Fate, 22 U. HAWAII L. REV. 19, 108-09 (2000)), the Hawaii Supreme Court ruled that the approval by the voters of what became Article I, Section 23 took the question of who was eligible to enter into a "marriage" out of "the ambit of the equal protection clause." "Whether or not" H.R.S. §§ 572-1 and 572-1.5 were previously constitutional, the Court explained, these statutes had been given "new footing" by the amendment, and therefore they "must be given full force and effect."

The enactment of HB 444 HD 1 would not change the Hawaii Constitution in any manner, and hence any challenge to H.R.S. §§ 572-1 and 572-1.5 after passage of HB 444 HD 1 would lead to the same result that the previous challenge met in December 1999. Hawaii's Constitution gives the responsibility of defining marriage to the State Legislature, and Hawaii's appellate courts will decline to address any challenge to the definition established by the Legislature.

Because Hawaii's Constitution is different in this important manner from the Connecticut Constitution, therefore, the enactment of HB 444 HD 1 would not lead to any Hawaii appellate opinion comparable to the Kerrigan decision, and the definition of "marriage" established by the Hawaii Legislature in H.R.S. §§ 572-1 and 572-1.5 would be allowed to stand.

Please let me know if I can be of any further assistance on this or any other matter.

Sincerely yours,

Jon M. Van Dyke

Importance: High

Dear Representative Oshiro:

In responding to your question regarding Kerrigan v. Connecticut – there is no argument that HB444 as currently drafted, is – or could be – a “backdoor” attempt to attain marriage under the Hawaii Constitution.

Simply put, there is no legal basis for any argument that HB444, as currently written, will be used as the basis for a lawsuit for same-sex marriage under the Hawaii State Constitution. A lawsuit for marriage based on the equal protection clause of the Hawaii Constitution (Article 1, Section 5) would almost certainly fail on its face because of Article 1, Section 23 of the Hawaii Constitution, which provides: “The legislature shall have the power to reserve marriage to opposite-sex couples.”

Three principles of statutory construction – which apply in like force to constitutional construction – compel this result. As the Hawaii Supreme Court has explained:

First, legislative enactments are presumptively valid and should be interpreted in such a manner as to give them effect. Second, laws in pari materia, or upon the same subject matter, shall be construed with reference to each other. What is clear in one statute may be called in aid to explain what is doubtful in another. Third, where there is a plainly irreconcilable conflict between a general and a specific statute concerning the same subject matter, the specific will be favored. However, where the statutes simply overlap in their application, effect will be given to both if possible, as repeal by implication is disfavored.

Richardson v. City and County of Honolulu, 76 Hawai'i 46, 54-55, 868 P.2d 1193, 1201-02 (1994) (citations, internal quotation signals, and brackets omitted).

A lawsuit alleging that HB444 must be construed as authorizing marriage in accordance with Article 1, Section 5 (equal protection) would fail because, to reach that result, the Court would have to ignore Article 1, Section 23 (marriage). These provisions must be interpreted with reference to each other. The Hawaii Constitution contains a general provision on equal protection and a specific provision authorizing the Legislature to define marriage; an argument that Section 5 compelled same-sex marriage would put Sections 5 and 23 in plain conflict, and the specific provision – Article 23 – would prevail.

Kerrigan v. Connecticut is not applicable in Hawaii because Kerrigan involved the Connecticut Supreme Court's interpretation of the Connecticut Constitution. The Connecticut Constitution is fundamentally different from the Hawaii Constitution because, in 1998, Hawaii voters approved what is now Article 1, Section 23 of the Hawaii Constitution. This provision alone makes Connecticut's Constitution – and the Connecticut Supreme Court's interpretation thereof – inapposite. A new statute – in this case, HB 444 – does not change the interpretation of what the Constitution means.

We are, of course, available for questions.

Aloha all:

I apologize for putting in everyone's emails without some bcc's or privacy, but based on the need for an expedited response, I was hoping some (if not all) of you could take a look at this most recently raised objection.

As I understand it, tomorrow, the Senate Leadership will meet in the morning and then there will be a caucus in the afternoon to discuss the potential pull of HB444 to the floor. Apparently, there is now an attack to the bill that it is a “backdoor” attempt to get marriage based on the Kerrigan v. Connecticut decision.
<http://www.jud.state.ct.us/external/supapp/Cases/ARocr/CR289/289CR152.pdf>
 This argument is being made by someone who is very influential in the discussion and will likely have the ability to sway the ultimate decision and vote.

I have never tried to hide the fact that HB444's language was based largely on Connecticut, simply because it was the most clear and straight-forward. However, now, it is being characterized as a way to allow advocates to get positioned for a Hawaii Supreme Court challenge to effectuate marriage.

However, as I see it, this argument is completely misplaced and misleading. The Kerrigan case is easily distinguishable because our Hawaii State Constitution was specifically amended to empower the legislature to define marriage. Even if the Hawaii Supreme Court found that there was an equal protection violation under similar reasoning with Kerrigan, the constitutional amendment makes that a moot issue and under the separation of powers doctrine, would NOT be able to order the legislature to re-define marriage.

Please let me know if this evaluation or reasoning is incorrect or if there are other points that I missed. I need to get a response to Senator Hooser immediately and before his meetings and I am hoping to have as much “legal” and “constitutional” expertise chime in as possible.

Please contact me if you have any questions.

Subject: [RE]Fwd: Re: Civil Unions HB444 and Kerrigan v. Connecticut

Dear Representative Oshiro,

Thank you for your email dated March 23, 2008. I concur completely with Professor Van Dyke's analysis, in particular, with Professor Van Dyke's conclusion that the Kerrigan decision is inapposite to any construction of the relationship between HB 444 and the Hawai'i Constitution. In my personal opinion, although article I, section 23 of the Hawai'i Constitution authorizes the Hawai'i legislature to define marriage as it sees fit as a matter of public policy, including a definition that would extend to same-sex couples, it in no way compels the legislature to define marriage as available to same-sex couples, and HB 444 does not do so. Indeed, article I, section 23 gives the legislature a monopoly over that policy decision; that being the case, the courts could not compel a statutory definition of marriage that includes same-sex couples. Accordingly, HB 444, which affords same-sex partners to a civil union the same rights and benefits as those enjoyed by partners to a statutory marriage relationship, is not only consonant with article I, section 23 of the Hawai'i Constitution, but is very possibly compelled by article I, sections 3 and 5. However, as I understand HB 444, civil union is a relation that remains distinct from marriage, although the statutory rights and benefits afforded by state law would be the same as to both relations.

Sincerely,

Senator Espero rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

"A few weeks ago, our state lost a wonderful person. In an unexpected, tragic sequence of events we lost a loving mother, a compassionate wife, a mentor and a teacher to our students. We wrote a certificate for Asa Shimabukuro Yamashita, and I would like to read to you some of the words from the certificate.

"In high school, Asa aspired to become a writer. 'She was an incredible storyteller,' Bryan says. She knew her authors, poets and Shakespeare. Her love of literature and the English language is why England was her favorite travel destination. She also knew all the places where they could find good books. 'How many people do you know,' Bryan asks, 'would pay $100 for a 27-pound unabridged Oxford Dictionary that came with a magnifying glass as part of the packet?'

"Asa and Bryan were independent travelers, extensively exploring the United States and Europe together, enjoying the historical sites, people, challenges, and fulfillment along the way. Their awesome experiences strengthened their relationship and helped the couple become best buddies. Bryan says that travelling was a metaphor for life: journeying together, sharing their uncertainties and discoveries, and staying together.

"Bryan's warmest memories of Asa was their July 31, 1993 wedding and the adoption of their two daughters in 2002 and 2005. 'It was amazing,' Bryan remembers, 'all the long paperwork and huge cost.' When they finally arrived and the agency put their girls in their arms, life went from zero to 60 in one second. He and Asa went from being a couple to parents, all of a sudden having this incredible responsibility and wonderful opportunity to nurture life. Asa was an incredibly dedicated mother. Life with daughters Katie and Tori is full of crazy goods and crazy bads. Their hobbies became their children. ‘You must love ‘em like nuts; make ‘em feel they’re center of the universe,’ Bryan says. It’s amazing how God changed their hearts. Both girls are from towns in China within a hundred miles of each other, and are the most incredible people, both very smart in different ways.

“A faithful Christian, Asa was a member of the Nu‘uanu Congregational Church. She came from a wonderful family. She was an understanding wife and a good, close loyal friend.

“Asa believed in giving back through public service, which was hard for her to do, given her dedication to her family and her work. She was the scholarship committee chair of the Farrington High School Alumni Association.

“Lastly, Asa was an educator who cared deeply about reading and trying to improve learning. She was Wai‘anae High School’s reading strategies coach and head of the English Department. The school’s Sustained Silent Reading Library was never meant to hold this kind of silence. Teacher Asa Yamashita is no longer there to fill the room that she was so instrumental in starting to help students to learn to read and love.

“At this time, Madam President, I know we do express our condolences and sympathies and prayers to the family, and I’d like to pass the mic on to Senator Sakamoto for introductions.”

At this time, Senator Sakamoto introduced Bryan Yamashita, daughters Katie and Tori, and family members of the late Asa Shimabukuro Yamashita to the members of the Senate.

Senator Sakamoto requested that the Senate adjourn on a rising vote to observe a moment of silence in honor of Asa Yamashita.

The Chair so ordered.

At 12:05 p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:08 p.m.

At this time, the Chair made the following announcement:

“The Hawai‘i Medal of Honor ceremony will be held jointly with the House tomorrow afternoon at 2:00 p.m. here in the Senate Chamber. The Senate will convene its regular session at 11:30 a.m.”

At this time, Senator Slom rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

"Madam President, let them eat cake. Tomorrow, even though it's a recess day and it's April Fool's Day, please don't be a fool. Come to my office between 11:00 and 1:00. We will be having a Let-Them-Eat-Cake Extravaganza for the Hawai'i Foodbank.

"And by the way, Madam President, poor, poor Marie Antoinette; because of translation errors, she got a bum deal and lost her head. She reportedly had said, 'Let them eat cake,' and people took that as a slur against the people that were unemployed and did not have money for food. In fact, the actual statement that Marie made was, 'Let them buy cake at the same price as bread.' And while Marie's reputation was that of an indulgent socialite, it's difficult to shake that definition, but it appears to be unwarranted and is a reminder that history was written by victors. She was known to have said, 'It is quite certain that in seeing the people who treat us so well despite their own misfortune, we are more obliged than ever to work hard for their happiness.' So, please don't lose your head. Don't be a fool. Come and help the Foodbank tomorrow. Aloha. Thank you, Madam President."

At this time, the Chair made the following announcement:

"The Hawai'i Medal of Honor ceremony will begin promptly at 2:00 p.m. this afternoon. Please report to the Senate chamber at 1:45 p.m."

At 11:46 a.m., on motion by Senator Sakamoto, seconded by Senator Slom and carried, the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair to meet in Joint Session with the House of Representatives, in accordance with Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 2, to award the Hawai'i Medal of Honor to United States military service members with Hawai'i connections who were killed in action while serving in dangerous, volatile, and unstable areas of the world, including Iraq and Afghanistan.

JOINT SESSION

The Joint Session of the Senate and the House of Representatives of the Twenty-Fifth Legislature of the State of Hawai'i, Regular Session of 2009, was called to order at 2:04 p.m. by the Honorable Colleen Hanabusa, President of the Senate.

The President addressed the Chamber, stating:

"This is indeed a momentous occasion. We honor members of the Armed Forces of the United States, with ties to Hawai'i, who fought and died bravely, in a combat zone designated by presidential order.

"On behalf of House Speaker Say and all of the members of the Hawai'i State Legislature, I convey our deepest condolences to our very special guests—the family, friends, and colleagues of loved ones who have lost their lives overseas in the Middle East. Our prayers are with you, and we are honored by your presence.

“Please rise for the posting of colors by the Joint Service Color Guard and the Hawai‘i Air National Guard, Royal Guard, and remain standing for the singing of the National Anthem and Hawai‘i Pono‘i by Mr. Eric Wahilani, which will be followed by the invocation by Master Sergeant Raymond Ganotise (ret.).

“Joint Service Color Guard and Royal Guard, please present the colors.”

At this time, the members of the Twenty-Fifth Legislature and special guests rose for the Posting of Colors by the Joint Service Color Guard and the Hawaii Air National Guard, Royal Guard.

The members of the Legislature and guests remained standing for the singing of the National Anthem and “Hawai‘i Pono‘i” by Mr. Eric Wahilani.

The Divine Blessing was then invoked by Master Sergeant Raymond Ganotise (ret.).

At this time, the President thanked the Joint Service Color Guard, Royal Guard, Mr. Wahilani, and Master Sergeant Raymond Ganotise (ret.) for their participation in today’s ceremony.

The President then addressed the members of the Legislature and guests as follows:

“As a citizen of this great land, born with the freedom to speak, to believe and to dream, free to express personal thoughts without fear of recrimination or reprisal, to protest and participate in government, I am thankful to be a part of this ceremony in honor of our fallen heroes.

“In protecting all we treasure, in defending all we hold dear, and in preserving those values which distinguish us as proud Americans, no man and no woman stands sentry alone. We stand as a nation and a community, beside them in spirit and with them in a shared commitment.

“And just as surely as we will not see them stand alone, we will not allow them to fall alone. We stand together in their name, by pausing to reflect on the unshakable duty and unquenchable bravery that have marked their passage among us. We share the pride of countrymen, and share the tears of brothers, sisters, mothers, fathers and friends.

“Today, we gather in joint session to honor those who have made a sacrifice for which we cannot ask, and shall not forget. We honor the family, friends and colleagues who have also sacrificed...who have themselves paid a price...and who helped make today’s honorees the brave, strong individuals that we called on and counted on to serve our nation.

“We offer this honor as a small token that can never in itself repay the honor that has been given us. An honor borne of courage, driven by duty, and paid for in loss.

“The roll of heroes that we call today is more than a list of names. It is an acknowledgement of community.

“The Hawai‘i Medal of Honor is reserved for those who have touched our islands, and have felt the touch of our people. And in offering it to those gathered here, in memory of those who have fallen, we recognize that they are a part of us. For each and every one of you, your tears are our tears. Your loss, our loss. Your pride, our pride. Wherever each of these medals finds its final home, a piece of our hearts goes with it. You will always be a part of our ‘ohana, our family, because you have brought us honor, and allowed us to share these lives.

“These medals symbolize our aloha. Our farewell to those we have lost. But also our love for those who have lived among us, touched us, and sacrificed for us. And our enduring welcome for all represented here today, the fallen and their families, who will be counted among us forever.

“A grateful state best honors and remembers the sacrifices of these who have served our nation by living our lives in deepest appreciation of our freedom. That is what they defended. That is what they fought and died for.

“In reflecting on another day marked with great bravery and great sacrifice, Shakespeare wrote, ‘This story shall the good man teach his son.’ We owe no less a duty to our honorees and to future generations. These names and deeds shall remain etched in our state’s shared history. And we will each say to a companion, young or old, at a moment of great pride or great sadness, ‘I have heard a story of brave Americans.’

“Today, we remember, in moments of quiet reflection, each and every one of these heroes. We stand united to honor their memory and express our profound gratitude for their ultimate sacrifice. Mahalo.”

The President then stated:

“Before proceeding any further, I would like to acknowledge the presence of our state, congressional, and military leaders.”

At this time, the President welcomed and introduced the following distinguished guests to the members of the Twenty-Fifth Legislature:

The Honorable Linda Lingle, Governor of the State of Hawai‘i;

The President then said:

“Let us again acknowledge these fine military and congressional leaders and all of the other military personnel here today.”

At this time, the President presented to the members of the Twenty-Fifth Legislature and special guests the Honorable Linda Lingle, Governor of the State of Hawai'i.

The Governor addressed the Joint Session and guests as follows:

“Lieutenant Governor Aiona, President Hanabusa, Speaker Say, legislators, Major General Lee, and all of our special guests here today, Aloha.

“We are gathered for a somber purpose. These soldiers who are no longer with us represent a profound loss for their families, for our state, and for our nation. However, I am grateful for this opportunity to recognize these soldiers who died for our freedom and to express my personal and our collective gratitude to their loved ones. It's a privilege to help present the Hawai'i Medal of Honor to families of these 23 heroes.

“Honor is a rare and precious quality. Honor is something that's earned. As Calvin Coolidge said, ‘No person was ever honored for what he received. Honor has been the reward for what he gave.’ These soldiers gave their country their very best. They paid the ultimate price, and the Hawai'i Medal of Honor represents just a very small token of our very deep appreciation.

“The military has a long history here in our community. Soldiers have protected our people and our shores. They've also defended democracy abroad. This legacy of service is epitomized by Nisei soldiers in the 442nd Regimental Combat Team, the 100th Battalion, and the Military Intelligence Service. In October of this past year, I was privileged to visit members of today's military training at Fort Hood. This included National Guard soldiers from our 29th Brigade Combat Team and the Army Reserve's 442nd Infantry. It's important that soldiers know how much the people of Hawai'i respect their service, that we will continue to support their families until their safe return. When soldiers don't return, our responsibility to their families is even greater. I was very touched recently by a ceremony in my office by an organization called the Home of the Brave Quilt. They made a presentation to Deyson Cariaga's mother, Theresa Inouye. You all remember that we honored Deyson here with a Hawai'i Medal of Honor in 2006. I was there that day, and I was with Deyson's mother right after he died, and I was with her when she received the quilt. And it was incredibly meaningful to her because she said it showed that the community hadn't forgotten about her son or about her loss.

“Every service member we are honoring today, regardless of where he was born, was a beloved member of our ‘ohana. I appreciate that many of you have travelled from the neighbor islands and from the mainland United States to be with us today. You are part of our ‘ohana as well. The people of Hawai'i join you in sorrow and in praise for your loved one's courage and bravery.

“The poet Henry Wadsworth Longfellow wrote movingly of fallen soldiers. In poem he wrote: ‘Your silent tents of green we deck with fragrant flowers; yours has the suffering been, the memory shall be ours.’ I know that each of you consider it a privilege to have known these soldiers during your lives whether as a wife, a mother, a father, a brother, a sister, a cousin, a friend, or a fellow soldier. Our collective privilege as a state and as a nation is that we were able to benefit from their service. Their memories will live on through you, and they will live on in the proud tradition of service that they perpetuated. The rights and freedoms we enjoy are precious gifts that your loved ones gave their lives to protect, and we will never forget. Mahalo, God bless you all, and God bless America.”

The President thanked the Governor for her insights then called upon Major General Robert Lee to deliver his remarks on behalf of the military.

General Lee addressed the Joint Session and guests as follows:

“Good afternoon and aloha. I want to take this opportunity to recognize a key individual who can't be here today, a person instrumental in establishing this award and this ceremony: State Representative Mark Takai. Representative Takai is currently Major Mark Takai, United States Army, serving in Camp Arifjan, Kuwait. So, Mark, I hope you're watching through the internet. It's only 3:30 in the Middle East; it's time to get up anyway. Mark immobilized this past February and is currently serving as a civil affairs officer on the staff of the 29th Infantry Brigade Combat Team, and we look forward to his return and all of the soldiers of Hawai'i's 29th Brigade this summer.

“This ceremony has been held annually since 2006 to honor the ultimate sacrifice of our heroes with ties to Hawai'i. This is the time when the civilian and military community in Hawai'i can bond together in a spirit of shared sacrifice and recognition. From the thousands who have answered our nation's call to duty, we honor today 23 members of the United States Army and the United States Marine Corps who gave their last full measure. While it may be difficult for civilians to understand the world in which the military inhabits, I certainly appreciate very much how our civilian community in Hawai'i supports our troops. From the many care packages sent to our troops overseas to the genuine appreciation expressed to our troops at the airports and restaurants across the state... Mahalo.

“Everyone who puts on the uniform and takes the oath to support and defend our Constitution knows that he or she may be called upon to put their life on the line. There is an inherent risk involved in service to our nation. It is one of the few professions where prospective employees are told they will be challenged to the limits of their physical and mental stamina. They may be asked to perform their jobs in dangerous locations, and maybe they might not come back. In spite of the risk, we are just so fortunate that thousands volunteer to serve in the Armed Forces of the United States. And I have personally witnessed in Iraq, Afghanistan, and trouble spots throughout the world the finest sons and daughters America has ever produced, so we are most saddened when we lose one of our own.

“The State Medal of Honor is Hawai'i's way to remember their ultimate sacrifice: to show our appreciation to their families, to share in their loss, and to assure them they will always be part of this state's ‘ohana, of this state's family. The kalo, or taro, leaves in the medal is emblematic of the embrace of the people of Hawai'i; whether the fallen soldier, marine, sailor, airman or coastguardsman grew up in Hawai'i or were members of units based in Hawai'i, he is still embraced as part of our 'ohana. Following America's tradition in past wars, a gold star was often displayed in the window to let the entire neighborhood know that the life of a hero who had grown up here had been taken. Today, the gold star in the middle coat of arms represents the 50th state star on the American flag and also represents the person who's being honored today. The attachment device in the red and yellow ribbon is a rendering of the ancient puela, or flag, that Hawaiians raised at sea above the sail of their canoes. All who saw the puela from afar knew that a person of the highest rank or honor was coming. Today, this service ribbon and its puela will remind us that these families are of the highest rank and honor. There is no greater sacrifice a family can make than the loss of their soldier, sailor, marine, airman, or coastguardsman while in service to our nation. And there is no greater honor that the people of Hawai'i can bestow upon them to symbolize their sacrifice. So to the families of our fallen heroes, I humbly ask that you accept this Hawai'i Medal of Honor on behalf of the people of Hawai'i who are today and forever shall be your devoted 'ohana. May God bless all of you, and may God bless the United States of America."

A 21-gun Salute and Taps were then carried out by the U.S. Air Force and the U.S. Navy.

The Speaker then gave his closing remarks:

"On this most hallowed day, I am reminded of the eloquent Memorial Day remarks offered by the late Supreme Court Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes in 1884 that continue to ring true today:

'Such hearts were stilled twenty years ago; and to us who remain behind is left this day of memories. Every year—in the full tide of spring, at the height of the symphony of flowers and love and life—there comes a pause, and through the silence we hear the lonely pipe of death...Year after year the comrades of the dead follow, with public honor, procession, and commemorative flags and funeral march—honor and grief from us who stand almost alone, and have seen the best and noblest of our generation pass away.'

"The pain of losing the best and the most valiant is raw and unrelenting. I hope you will find some consolation in understanding that our young men and women of the United States armed forces died a noble death. They died to ensure that no further harm may reach our shores. They sacrificed their lives to protect their loved ones at home. They perished defending the American ideals of democracy, liberty, and justice.

"There is a high cost that comes with conflict. Over 200 servicemen and women with Hawai'i ties have been lost in Iraq and Afghanistan. Many more have returned wounded, both in body and in spirit. Their survivors bear emotional and physical scars that most of us can never fully feel or know.

"It is often said that nothing that is of value in this world comes without a price. Well, our soldiers have paid that price a hundredfold. And for those who are still paying for the wages of war, the people of the State of Hawai'i are in your debt

"How do we turn our collective sorrow into positivity? How do we honor them? We can commit ourselves to remain true to the spirit of the deceased. Be involved in the activities he or she enjoyed that are greater than our self-interest. Put family and community above personal gain. Live a life enriched with the 'aloha spirit'...of pono (balance), with maika'i (goodness/wellness) and ho'okipa (hospitality).

"Live life as if it were a gift.

"Finally, with the recent announced troop reductions in the Middle East, we can rededicate our efforts to do whatever we can to make sure that all of our sons and daughters are brought home as quickly as possible. For where we love is home...home that our feet may leave, but not our hearts. Ultimately, all the soldiers should be home, with their loved ones. And for those who did not find their way home, please take some solace in knowing that their hearts and spirits are at home, where they have always belonged, with you.

"It is my greatest hope that one day soon, it will no longer be necessary for us to come together every spring to memorialize the fallen. My greatest wish is for the Hawai'i Medal of Honor to retire quietly into history, a poignant but obsolete relic of a past that no longer burdens us.

"I conclude with the final passage from Justice Holmes' speech. His words echo my own hope for a brighter future replete with peace, harmony, charity, respect, and love.

"'But grief is not the end of all... Our dead brothers [and sisters] still live for us, and bid us think of life, not death... As I listen, the great chorus of life and joy begins again, and amid the awful orchestra of seen and unseen powers and destinies of good and evil, our trumpets sound once more a note of daring, hope, and will.' To all of you, Aloha."

The Speaker then stated:

"Members of the House and Senate, and special guests, please rise for the retiring of colors."

At this time, the members of the Twenty-Fifth Legislature and special guests rose for the Retiring of the Colors by the Joint Service Color Guard and the Hawai'i Air National Guard, Royal Guard.

The Speaker stated:

"There being no further business, I declare this Joint Session adjourned."

At 2:58 p.m., Speaker Say declared the Joint Session adjourned.

THIRD READING

H.B. No. 1186, H.D. 1:

Senator Sakamoto moved that H.B. No. 1186, H.D. 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Hee.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"I think the intent of the measure is good. We want more affordable housing. But I'm afraid that this measure goes in the opposite direction by removing options, particularly when we're talking about the cash in lieu of payment option. As it was testified by the various government agencies involved, this actually diminishes their flexibility and diminishes, in times of downturn, the ability to use money or cash for additional options in additional land transactions for affordable housing. So I would ask my colleagues, if they're concerned about affordable housing, to vote 'no' on this bill. Thank you."

Senator Sakamoto rose in support of the measure and stated:

"I understand some of the concerns that our colleague has brought up. Historically, many times the cash that has come in hasn't been used or hasn't been sufficient to build affordable housing or affordable rentals. The concern has been that if the cash isn't used or is not enough to actually build more affordable units, then we'd prefer to actually have the units themselves than the cash that's inadequate."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 1186, H.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HOUSING DEVELOPMENT," passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 19. Noes, 1 (Slom). Excused, 5 (Bunda, English, Green, Hemmings, Tsutsui).

Senator Hemmings rose in support of the measure and stated:

“This resolution is well-intended but misdirected in so many ways. I do support it because there needs to be more awareness of the violence against women throughout the world. However, where I really find disparity in the resolution is in the moral equivalency that seems to go on in issues of this nature. There’s no doubt that women are abused, even in first-world nations and alleged civilized countries, but it is no comparison to what is happening in the Muslim world with extremists. Just in the last several weeks we read and heard the terrible story of a 17-year-old girl being beaten by Muslim extremists in Afghanistan. We’ve read about a 75-year-old woman, who was a widow, being lashed as part of the penal process in Saudi Arabia for committing the crime of talking to men. This type of incredible abuse of human rights and women seems to go unnoticed by people purporting to represent themselves as ‘protectors of women’s rights.’ I’m always especially ashamed of women’s rights groups in this country, who have sat on the sidelines and been especially mute on this issue in the Muslim world of extremists. And that’s not to indict all Muslims, but it certainly is to indict—with the strongest words of condemnation—those Muslim extremists who are literally killing women, preventing them from being educated, and doing other abuses on them while the rest of the civilized world, including Hawai’i, seems to write resolutions and not even spell it out. So I would ask that this Legislature, when addressing these issues, speak more forthrightly and strongly against what’s going on in the Muslim world concerning the human rights of women. Thank you, Madam President.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and H.C.R. No. 32, S.D. 1, entitled: “HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION SUPPORTING INTERNATIONAL WHITE RIBBON CAMPAIGNS TO END MEN’S VIOLENCE AGAINST WOMEN AND ENCOURAGING THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A WHITE RIBBON CAMPAIGN ORGANIZATION IN HAWAII,” was adopted.

Senator Hemmings rose on point of inquiry and said:

“Would that include people from this side of the aisle, who are very concerned about health care assistance?”

Senator Hemmings rose on a point of order and said:

“Madam President, I thought maybe it was taken in jest, but my question was quite serious and I didn’t get a response to it. Senator Hemmings rose to speak in support of the measure and stated:

“I guess if I was a prudent politician I’d be voting against this bill because some constituencies have testified against it, including the Kailua Neighborhood Board. I find that in Kailua we have to assume some of the responsibilities of contributing to the economy like everybody else. We’re spending a tremendous amount of money promoting the film industry in Hawai’i, and if we start carving out niches for whatever reasons where they cannot film, sooner or later every community will ban the film industry, and I don’t think that will be constructive for anyone. So, I’ll be voting in favor of this. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 1141, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THRILL CRAFT OPERATION,” passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

No. 1663, S.D. 1, pass Second Reading and be referred to the Committee on Water, Land, Agriculture, and Hawaiian Affairs. On March 30th, H.B. “This measure was deferred for decision-making to 2:45 p.m. tomorrow, 4/9, which will be too late for it to be placed on that day’s floor session agenda. Because it is a single referral measure, it must pass Second Reading on Thursday 4/9 in order to be placed on the Calendar for Third Reading on Tuesday 4/14.”

Senator Hooser rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

"I don't know how many checked their CNN.com news site today or watched CNN on TV, but I'm very proud of the residents in District 7 of Kaaui and Ni'ihau. There's a front page story, if you would, about residents gathering together and overcoming some significant obstacles with regard to the closure of parks. As we all know, the state is in some dire budget conditions right now, and Polihale Park has been closed to the public, and it's really a treasure of a park. It's been closed since December and the state has not had the money to repair the park—to fix the road, to fix the bridges—and the Department of Land and Natural Resources had estimated it to be a $4 million project to do this and might take up to a year to complete. But the citizens of Kaaui got together with the Department of Land and Natural Resources. Their livelihoods were being threatened, their businesses. Some private residents weren't able to go to the beach—go fishing, go surfing—and they were tired of waiting for government's help, so business owners and residents pulled together and completed the $4 million repair state job to a state park for free. They did this with contribution of many businesses, contractors, private citizens; they did in 8 days what the state had estimated it might take up to a year to do, and the park is now fixed. They're getting ready to do their final inspections. I think this is just an indication of the type of citizenship, the type of working together, the type of public-private partnerships that we all talk about, but this in action. And I just want to acknowledge the people in my community, specifically Bruce Pleas, who's a local surfer who helped organize the volunteers. The list of people who contributed is far too long to read today, but I want to applaud their actions and point out again they saved the state $4 million. And I would like to ask the Co-Chair of the Ways and Means Committee to please credit the District 7 CIP list with that amount so we can move on to other projects. Thank you, Madam President."

At this time, the Chair made the following announcement:

"The deadline for filing House bills to be positioned for Third Reading on Tuesday is 6:00 p.m. tonight.

"Referrals and re-referrals are made in accordance with the Supplemental Order of the Day that may be distributed to your offices later this afternoon."

MATTER DEFERRED FROM THURSDAY, APRIL 9, 2009

H.B. No. 1663, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

Senator Gabbard moved that H.B. No. 1663, H.D. 1, S.D. 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator English.

Senator Tokuda then offered the following amendment (Floor Amendment No. 4) to H.B. No. 1663, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

SECTION 1. House Bill No. 1663, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, is amended by deleting the contents of section 1 its entirety and replacing it with the contents of an earlier version of the measure, House Bill No. 1663, H.D. 1, as amended, to read as follows:

"SECTION 1. Kalo, the Hawaiian word for taro (Colocasia esculenta), is a culturally significant plant to the kanaka maoli (Hawaii's indigenous peoples) and the State of Hawaii. Kalo intrinsically embodies the interdependency of the past, the present, and the future, the essence of procreation and regeneration, as the foundation of any sustainable practice. Kalo expresses the spiritual and physical well-being of not only the kanaka maoli and their heritage, but also symbolizes the environmental, social, and cultural values important to the State. This relationship is represented in the use of the kalo plant on the crown of King Kalakaua. The state seal, adopted in 1959, includes eight taro leaves below the shield, honoring the connection between the health of the land and the health of the state. Today, the logo of the office of Hawaiian affairs and many commercial enterprises throughout the state use this symbol to communicate ohana, integrity, and a connection to Hawaiian culture. The State of Hawaii further recognized the cultural and historic significance of taro by designating it as the official state plant.

Over three hundred kalo varieties may have existed at the time of the arrival of European explorers (Pukui and Elbert, Hawaiian Dictionary, 1986). Of these, sixty-nine varieties are unique to the Hawaiian islands due to the horticultural skills of native Hawaiian farmers (according to Bulletin 84: Taro Varieties in Hawaii, 1939). Some varieties are extremely rare. Protecting and maintaining the genetic identity of these varieties is critically important to the recovery of old taro varieties in Hawaii.

Kalo is an important food crop in Hawaii and a complex carbohydrate the hypo-allergenic properties of which are life-saving for those with digestive disorders and allergies, including young children and the elderly. The health implications of non-taro genes in genetically engineered kalo have never been tested, nor have they been approved for human consumption.

Historically, there were thousands of acres under taro cultivation in Hawaii. Today, however, there remain less than five hundred acres of taro in production. In 2007, the most recent year for the National Agricultural Statistics Service market values, 4,000,000 pounds were produced on three hundred eighty acres of commercial taro land (10,526 pounds per acre) at a farm gate value of $2,360,000, amounting to an estimated per acre value of $6,210, excluding luau leaf. Raw taro and value-added taro products represent a multi-million dollar crop in Hawaii with great potential for further growth as the State moves towards food security and self-sufficiency. Control of the single worst taro pest, the apple snail (Pomacea canaliculata), will increase taro production on existing acreage by as much as twenty-five per cent (Levin 2006). Cold water and adjusting growing regimes will further reduce taro disease. Neither of these issues requires a genetically engineered taro solution. Most locally-grown taro is consumed within the State, indicating a highly specialized market. Millers and consumers have specifically and consistently rejected the use of genetically modified taro or poi.

The 2008 legislature established the two-year taro security and purity task force under Act 211, Session Laws of Hawaii 2008, to address non-genetically modified organism alternatives to taro farmer issues, including land and water concerns, threats from pests, diseases and taro imports, educational opportunities, and economic issues. In November of 2008, the county of Hawaii passed Bill No. 361 banning the testing, propagating, cultivating, raising, planting, growing, introduction, or release of genetically modified taro on that island.

The purpose of this Act is to further protect:

- (1) The cultural integrity of kalo as part of the heritage of the Hawaiian people and the State;
- (2) The genetic biodiversity and integrity of Hawaiian taro varieties in the State as part of the sacred trust between the State and the indigenous peoples of Hawaii; and

(3) Hawaii taro farmers' raw taro, poi, luau, and value-added markets, by establishing a ban on developing, testing, propagating, releasing, importing, planting, and growing of genetically modified Hawaiian taro in the State of Hawaii.

Because proponents of the ban have expressed concern about the possibility of cross-pollination of Hawaiian taro with genetically modified non-Hawaiian taro, this Act also establishes additional prohibitions on the conduct of certain activities relating to genetically modified non-Hawaiian taro."

SECTION 2. House Bill No. 1663, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, is amended by amending section 2 to read as follows:

"SECTION 2. The Hawaii Revised Statutes is amended by adding a new chapter to be appropriately designated and to read as follows:

"CHAPTER
GENETICALLY ENGINEERED TARO

§ -1 Definitions. As used in this chapter:

"Genetically engineered" means alterations to a life form or its living progeny at the nucleic acid level, using the techniques collectively referred to as recombinant DNA technology.

"Hawaiian taro" means taro species that are unique to Hawaii, as listed in Bulletin 84: Taro Varieties in Hawaii, 1939.

"Recombinant DNA technology" means the transfer of genes, regulatory sequences, or nucleic acid between hosts by the use of vectors or laboratory manipulations and includes the insertion, excision, duplication, inactivation, or relocation of specific genes, regulatory sequences, or sections of nucleic acid. This term does not apply to a material or an organism developed exclusively through traditional methods of breeding, hybridization, or nondirected mutagenesis.

"Release" means a discharge, emission, or liberation of any genetically engineered organisms, or the product of a genetically engineered organism, into the open environment.

§ -2 Genetically engineered Hawaiian taro; prohibited. No genetically engineered Hawaiian taro shall be developed, tested, propagated, released, imported, planted, or grown in the State of Hawaii.

§ -3 Genetically engineered non-Hawaiian taro; certain prohibitions. (a) No non-Hawaiian taro, to wit, those varieties that are not unique to Hawaii, including, but not limited to, the Chinese taro (Bun long) and araimo varieties, shall be genetically engineered outside an enclosed laboratory. No genetic engineering of non-Hawaiian taro shall be allowed inside an enclosed laboratory, unless entry into the enclosed laboratory is prohibited to the general public.

(b) No genetically engineered non-Hawaiian taro shall be tested, propagated, planted, or grown outside an enclosed structure. No genetically engineered non-Hawaiian taro shall be tested, propagated, planted, or grown inside an enclosed structure, unless entry into the enclosed structure is prohibited to the general public."

SECTION 3. House Bill No. 1663, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, is amended by amending section 4 to read as follows:

"SECTION 4. This Act shall take effect on July 1, 2009; provided that this Act shall be repealed on June 30, 2014."

Senator Tokuda moved that Floor Amendment No. 4 be adopted, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Tokuda rose to speak in support of the motion as follows:

"The purpose of this floor amendment is to better represent the Senate position on the issue of the genetic modification of taro. In deference and out of respect for native Hawaiian cultural beliefs, this amendment will prohibit the genetic modification of taro varieties unique to Hawai'i and will further protect those varieties by prohibiting the field testing, propagation and planting of genetic modification of any genetically modified taro in Hawai'i. That being said, this bill will allow for the genetic modification and research upon those varieties of taro not unique to Hawai'i, including but not limited to Bun-Long and araimo, under strict laboratory conditions. It is also important to note that this is a compromise position that has been offered by taro growers from around the state and presents a balanced approach to this very controversial issue."

The motion to adopt Floor Amendment No. 4 was put by the Chair and carried.

By unanimous consent, H.B. No. 1663, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TARO SECURITY," was placed on the calendar for Third Reading on Thursday, April 16, 2009.

"SECTION 3. Section 92-8, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is amended by amending subsections (a) and (b) to read as follows:

"(a) If a board finds that an imminent peril to the public health, safety, or welfare requires a meeting in less time than is provided for in section 92-7, the board may hold an emergency meeting; provided that:

Senator Taniguchi rose to speak on the amendment as follows:

“With regard to this floor amendment, it basically just adds language to clarify that a board has to transmit notice of an emergency meeting to an individual by the requested method of communication only if the board has that method established. The current language in the bill could be interpreted to require a board to communicate through any means requested.”

The motion to adopt Floor Amendment No. 5 was put by the Chair and carried.

SECTION 1. House Bill No. 611, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, is amended by amending the clarification in section 1, the purpose section (at page 1, lines 11-14), which expresses the legislature’s intent regarding the application of the measure’s amendments to section 235-110.7, Hawaii Revised Statutes, relating to the capital goods excise tax credit. As amended, the purpose clause clarifies the legislature’s intent that the amendments made to section 235-110.7 apply to property placed in service in taxable years beginning before July 1, 2009, rather than taxable years beginning before January 1, 2010.

SECTION 2. House Bill No. 611, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, is amended by amending the new section 235-B, Hawaii Revised Statutes, (at page 26, lines 13-14) to delete the application of the capital goods excise tax credit under section 235-110.7, Hawaii Revised Statutes, to property purchased pursuant to a binding contract in taxable years beginning after December 31, 2011.

SECTION 3. House Bill No. 611, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, is amended by adding a new section 10 to read as follows:

“SECTION 10. The department of taxation shall perform an evaluation of the following tax exemptions and submit a report of the evaluation to the legislature by no later than twenty days prior to the convening of the 2010 regular session:

- (1) Section 237-24, Hawaii Revised Statutes (general excise tax; amounts not taxable); and
- (2) Section 237-28.1, Hawaii Revised Statutes (general excise tax; exemption of certain shipbuilding and ship repair business).

The evaluation of the tax exemptions in this section shall achieve the objectives identified and set forth in subsections (e) and (f) of section 8 of this Act.”

SECTION 4. House Bill No. 611, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, is amended by adding a new part III to read as follows:

“PART III

SECTION 11. Section 373K-2, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is amended by amending subsection (a) to read as follows:

“(a) Where any client company uses the services of assigned employees and co-employs assigned employees with a professional employment organization, the client company and the professional employment organization, with respect to the assigned employees, shall not be exempt from the requirements of any federal, state, or county law, including labor or employment laws, collective bargaining rights, anti-discrimination provisions, or other laws with respect to the protection and rights of employees, including chapters 377 and 378, that would apply to the assigned employees if the assigned employees were employees of the client company alone, and were not co-employees of the professional employment organization.

These employee rights shall not be abrogated by any contract or agreement between the client company and the professional employment organization, or the professional employment organization and the assigned employee, which contains terms or conditions that could not be lawfully contained in a contract or agreement directly between the client company and the assigned employee in which no professional employment organization is involved. [~~Notwithstanding any statute, local ordinance, executive order, rule, or regulation to the contrary, where the laws, rights, and protections referred to in this section define or require a determination of the “employer”;~~] For purposes of chapter 237, the employer shall be deemed to be the client company and not the professional employment organization. The department of labor and industrial relations shall notify the department of taxation in writing of any violation of this subsection.””

SECTION 5. House Bill No. 611, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, is amended by renumbering the existing sections 10 and 11, as sections 12 and 13, respectively.

Senator Fukunaga moved that Floor Amendment No. 8 be adopted, seconded by Senator Baker.

Senator Fukunaga rose to speak on the amendment as follows:

“Madam President, the amendments proposed in Senate Floor Amendment No. 8 provide corrections to H.B. No. 611, S.D. 1, which were previously submitted to the Committee on Ways and Means but were not included in S.D. 1. These amendments will ensure that we are able to obtain the maximum revenue gain from the capital goods suspension.”

The motion to adopt Floor Amendment No. 8 was put by the Chair and carried.

Senator Fukunaga then moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1322 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Baker and carried.

By unanimous consent, H.B. No. 611, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION,” was placed on the calendar for Third Reading on Thursday, April 16, 2009.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1324 (H.B. No. 1766, H.D. 2, S.D. 2):

Senator Kim moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1324 be adopted and H.B. No. 1766, H.D. 2, S.D. 2 pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Galuteria then offered the following amendment (Floor Amendment No. 9) to H.B. No. 1766, H.D. 2, S.D. 2:

SECTION 1. House Bill No. 1766, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, is amended by adding a new Section 3 to read as follows:

<sup>1</sup> Two versions of HB984, SD2 were inadvertently filed – see Day 47 for second version that was decked for 48 hour notice as required by Constitution

“SECTION 3. Section 200-8, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is amended to read as follows:

“~~§200-8~~ Boating program; payment of costs. The cost of administering a comprehensive statewide boating program, including, but not limited to, the cost of:

- (1) Operating, maintaining, and managing all boating facilities under the control of the department; provided that any fees collected within each small boat harbor shall only be expended on costs related to the operation, upkeep, maintenance, and improvement of the small boat harbor from which the fee revenues were collected;
- (2) Improving boating safety;
- (3) Operating a vessel registration and boating casualty investigation and reporting system; and
- (4) Other boating program activities, shall be paid from the boating special fund. The amortization (principal and interest) of the costs of capital improvements for boating facilities appropriated after July 1, 1975, including, but not limited to, berths, slips, ramps, related accommodations, general navigation channels, breakwaters, aids to navigation, and other harbor structures, may be paid from the boating special fund or from general revenues as the legislature may authorize in each situation. Revenues provided in this chapter for the boating special fund shall be at least sufficient to pay the special fund costs established in this section.”

SECTION 2. House Bill No. 1766, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, is amended by renumbering Sections 3, 4, 5, 6, and 7 as Sections 4, 5, 6, 7, and 8, respectively.

Senator Galuteria moved that Floor Amendment No. 9 be adopted, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland.

Senator Galuteria rose to speak on the amendment as follows:

“Madam President, this amendment supports a harbor fund for the Ala Wai Harbor that can only be used for harbor improvements in the Ala Wai Harbor, and a harbor fund for Ke‘ehi Harbor that can only be used for harbor improvements in the Ke‘ehi Boat Harbor, in addition to a harbor fund for each of the small harbors throughout Hawai‘i. The new DLNR Recreational Renaissance plan designates 3 special funds that would allow the transfer of harbor funds to any of 60 land-based projects—hiking trails, public park facilities and roadway improvements—and 29 water-based projects for a total of 90 statewide projects. It is my understanding that roughly one-third of the distribution of bond funds would be allocated to harbor improvements. Boaters have voiced concern over the increases of harbor user fees and worry that they would be carrying a disproportionate share of financing the Recreational Renaissance plan. If this amendment is passed and other small harbors have specific funds to repair their harbors, these harbors could generate more revenue so Hawai‘i might be more successful in attracting local residents and all visitors who come to our island state. So this amendment is offered in support of addressing a way to set up funds for the specific use of improving, repairing and maintaining our small boat harbors, including Ala Wai and Ke‘ehi. For all the reasons I have outlined, I seek these amendments to H.B. No. 1766, H.D. 2, S.D. 2.”

The motion to adopt Floor Amendment No. 9 was put by the Chair and carried.

Senator Galuteria then moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1324 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland and carried.

By unanimous consent, H.B. No. 1766, H.D. 2, S.D. 3, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SMALL BOAT HARBORS,” was placed on the calendar for Third Reading on Thursday, April 16, 2009.

MATTERS DEFERRED FROM THURSDAY, APRIL 9, 2009

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1184 (H.B. No. 591, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

Senator Baker moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1184 be adopted and H.B. No. 591, H.D. 1, S.D. 2 pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Ige.

Senator Hemmings rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“I would like to preface my remarks by letting you know that I personally—and I think I speak for my colleague—feel a deep sense of responsibility to offer an alternative to business-as-usual in this legislative process and that our point of view hopefully does represent those that are concerned with the path the state’s on and we’re on with bills such as these that end up probably creating more havoc in the economic marketplace and more hardship for consumers than we intend. And I know everyone in this room has the best of intentions.

“This bill very simply will, as testified by DCCA, raise the rates paid by electric consumers. We should all note that here in Hawai‘i—and it was just reported in a nationally-publicized article—that we pay the highest electrical rates in the nation. At the height of the fuel crisis last year, I think you realize that we were paying electric rates that were 190 percent above the national average, far in excess of the rates caused by the greedy, big oil companies that everybody seems to want to demonize. Electric rates in Hawaii are prohibitive and that is due to the politics of a one-company monopoly, which we will not get into now.

“This bill also, besides raising costs for consumers—North Hawaiian Electric—will sustain fossil fuels. If we are to look into the future, the real solution to our energy problems is eliminating the internal combustion engine. It would not only help the environment, but it would also help eliminate our dependency on foreign fuel. By subsidizing fossil fuels, we sustain the use of the internal combustion engine when the great effort (like going to the moon) that our nation should be undertaking to retool our number one industry—car production (or one of our biggest industries)—should be electric cars.

“Also, in third world countries, this type of mentality has proved to be disastrous where we are literally taking our land that should be utilized to grow food to grow energy, and oftentimes energy is more productive financially, so we’re opting out for the dollar rather than the wisdom of doing what’s best for the people in the long term—feeding them.

“And secondly, thirdly, fourthly, or fifthly, whatever point I’m on, the creates a labor and environmentally intensive way to get fuel. We know that a lot of the crops used for fuel, mostly sugar, are very water consumptive so it is not in the best interest of the environment, it’s not in the best interest of consumers, and it’s certainly not in the best interest for energy diversity in the future.

“So, I’d urge my colleagues to really take a look at these bills and the long-term implications before rubber-stamping them with your ‘yea’ vote. I will be voting ‘no.’”

Senator Baker rose in support of the measure and stated:

“I believe the good Senator from the other side of the island has misread this measure. This measure is an attempt to assist agriculture in their energy production which they also sell to an electric company. And I’d like to take just a moment to read some of the words from the agricultural community that really talks about how this measure is focused on renewable energy and not on fossil fuel. And I know that on my island we have a very important agricultural entity and their form of electric generation is bagasse.

“In the testimony submitted to the Committee on Commerce and Consumer Protection, representatives of the agriculture community noted that ‘Hawai’i was a world leader in renewable energy production up to the 1980’s. Other countries came to Hawai’i to see how it was done. Rural areas of Hawai’i obtained most of their energy from agriculture. The sugarcane companies not only produced energy to meet their own needs, but provided for the community as well. This is the model we need to increase our level of energy self-sufficiency,’ and that’s what many of the measures are later on in our Order of the Day talk about. How can we promote and continue to preserve not only agriculture, but switch to energy generation from renewables?

“The testimony further notes that ‘our farms and ranches all need energy, whether it’s to run refrigeration to cool their produce or for processing plants, as many of our ranches look to vertically integrate to process their own beef. The excess energy could then be sold to the utility as in the sugarcane model and help agriculture be viable. By producing their own energy, our farms and ranches can reduce the load on the utility company. The proposed preferential rate would incentivize our farms and ranches to move in this direction.’ And he cites an example on the Big Island: ‘Kahua Ranch on the Big Island is a prime example. It utilizes various forms of energy production (solar, wind and PV) to provide for its operation as well as for the residents on the ranch. They are a true model of self-sufficiency.’

“Madam President, colleagues, that’s what this bill is about: It is renewable energy and self-sufficiency that benefits both consumers and our agriculture industry that is in great need. Mahalo.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1184 was adopted and H.B. No. 591, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC UTILITIES,” passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Taniguchi moved that H.B. No. 1212, H.D. 1, S.D. 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Takamine.

Senator Ihara rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“Madam President, this bill relates to consumer complaints against regulated businesses. This issue here is whether the public should have the right to know if complaints have been filed against a business regulated by state government.

“I must object to H.B. No. 1212 because it seeks to solve a specific problem by removing from public disclosure potentially all information on certain government records. This bill allows an exception to the open records law that involves nondisclosure of consumer complaints against business persons regulated by government, particularly when a person makes a right to privacy claim to keep the complaints secret. Government regulates businesses to protect consumers and I don’t believe government should withhold from consumers frivolous complaints by eliminating potentially all complaints from public review, including those that may turn out to be valid. I believe this bill should not move forward because the concern about frivolous complaints can be addressed administratively. DCCA could implement its website policy and remove all complaints filed over five years ago. The Department can also more clearly advise its website viewers that pending complaints indicate only the fact that the complaint has been filed, which may or may not be worthy and valid. I believe consumers smart enough to find DCCA’s website will more than likely understand that a complaint that is pending does not mean that the business did anything wrong.

“Madam President, I would like to encourage fellow Senators to look at this bill from the consumer’s point of view. Government regulates businesses to protect consumers, and I believe consumers want to know if fellow consumers have filed complaints against businesses they might want to employ. I urge the Senate to defeat this attempt to open a significant hole in the State's open records law. I believe the public policy of transparency for consumers outweighs the narrow concern about frivolous consumer complaints. Thank you, Madam President."

Senators Bunda, Chun Oakland, Ige, Fukunaga, Baker, and Kidani requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 1212, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO INFORMATION PRACTICES," passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Ayes with Reservations, 6 (Baker, Bunda, Chun Oakland, Fukunaga, Ige, Kidani). Noes, 2 (Espero, Ihara).

At 10:06 a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 10:08 a.m.

H.B. No. 332, H.D. 2, S.D. 1:

Senator Takamine moved that H.B. No. 332, H.D. 2, S.D. 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Let's remember how this bill got here. It was originally an unemployment compensation bill tied to domestic violence and rights of employees or beneficiaries, and it was gutted and replaced with the bill that pops up annually for the last 5 years to force employers to retain all existing employees if there is a sale, transfer, or merger. Every business organization testified against this bill because it is a bad business bill. It ties the hands of employers. It makes them responsible for their actions but does not allow them the very basic tenets of hiring and firing. The bill says that this is necessary in these economic times, and I would argue that just the opposite is true because we're seeing businesses shut down; we're seeing massive layoffs. If we want to preserve businesses, then we must preserve the ability for those employers to take whatever necessary steps they must to secure the continuation of the business. This absolutely guarantees the opposite, and as the Kuaa'i Chamber of Commerce said, 'It will also guarantee bankruptcies.' Thank you."

Senator Takamine rose in support of the measure and stated:

"In the interest of time, I respectfully request that the remarks made by me on March 6, 2009, in support of S.B. No. 688 be inserted into the Journal." The Chair so ordered.<sup>1</sup>

Senators Ihara, Ige, Green, Nishihara, and Kim requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 332, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EMPLOYMENT SECURITY," passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Ayes with Reservations, 5 (Green, Ige, Ihara, Kim, Nishihara). Noes, 3 (Hemmings, Sakamoto, Slom).

H.B. No. 35, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

Senator Kim moved that H.B. No. 35, H.D. 1, S.D. 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Under the Constitution, the taxpayers, the residents of Hawai'i, are due a tax refund if there are two consecutive periods of tax surplus. And while it seems a little silly right now that we're debating this in times of economic crisis, the Constitutional amendment is important, and it is also important that we have a rational and reasonable amount of return in those good times that are going to return to the State. So, to relegate this to an unspecified amount and to put the money in the general fund, rather than to return it, would be a mistake. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 35, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO INCOME TAX CREDIT," passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, 1 (Slom).

H.B. No. 1744, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

Senator Kim moved that H.B. No. 1744, H.D. 1, S.D. 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Hooser requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

At 10:13 a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 10:14 a.m.

Senators Tsutsui, Taniguchi, Takamine, Kokubun, Tokuda, Ige, Chun Oakland, English, Fukunaga, and Ihara requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Kim requested comments in support of the measure be entered into the Journal.

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Kim's remarks read as follows:

"Madam President, I rise in support of House Bill 1744. No one said it would be easy or that we would get buy ins but the Legislature must balance the needs of the counties against the State's programs and expenses supported by the general fund through a review and reallocation of the Transient Accommodations Tax (TAT).

"The direct tax allocation of TAT to the counties has really been a windfall. The counties pleaded for complete control of the real property tax at the 1978 Constitutional Convention. The counties contended that with complete control over the real property tax, they would be able to raise the revenues they needed. Even after getting complete control of the real property tax, the counties continued to seek State financial support by requesting grants-in-aid or other taxing powers in the early 1980's. And in the late 1980's the Legislature used some of the TAT funds to make a one-time grant to the counties.

"Later, when the TAT was earmarked for the convention center, lawmakers earmarked a fixed percentage of TAT collections for each county. Over the years, counties shifted more and more of the real property tax burden onto nonresidential classes of property, creating the illusion that more programs could be provided without raising property taxes on residential property. Now it appears that the nonresidential properties have been tapped out. Politically, the counties have avoided the option to go back to homeowners and ask for increases in their property taxes to keep receiving the same level of county services.

"Your Committee recognizes that county governments have not experienced the tremendous decline in revenues experienced by state government.

"HB 1744, HD1, SD1, to suspend the TAT distributions to the counties came from the House as a means to help support the huge mess of the State Hospitals on the neighbor islands. As a former Councilmember for 14 years, I am very sensitive to the counties reliance on the TAT. So I amended the bill to suspend the TAT distributions starting in FY 2011, allowing the counties time to reassess their budgetary priorities and give them the authority option to implement a TAT surcharge of up to five percent. Would they rather have the TAT outright? Of course. Do I wish we didn't have to do this? Of course.

"The 5% surcharge is estimated to bring in $66.5 million (Oahu County); $47.5 million (Maui County); $20.0 million (Hawaii County); and $15 million (Kauai County). Estimated general fund revenues gain is $97.6M (FY11); $103.0M (FY12); $109.3M (FY13); $116.1M (FY14); and $123.6M (FY15).

"The funds will still benefit the counties indirectly through State funded services. For example, the $30 million general fund subsidy to the HHSC regions allows its facilities to continue serving its communities, primarily rural communities on the neighbor islands, at the same levels of service and to work on important initiatives to expand needed services. For some counties, HHSC is the sole source for emergency health care.

"For years, the counties have sought home rule and taxing authority. This measure will do just that."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 1744, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE TRANSIENT ACCOMMODATIONS TAX," passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 19. Ayes with Reservations, 11 (Chun Oakland, English, Fukunaga, Hooser, Ige, Ihara, Kokubun, Takamine, Taniguchi, Tokuda, Tsutsui). Noes, 6 (Baker, Bunda, Espero, Green, Hemmings, Slom).

H.B. No. 1747, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

Senator Kim moved that H.B. No. 1747, H.D. 1, S.D. 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"This is the second of many more bills to raise taxes, and it seems that the popular thing in our nation and in our community is to try to have class warfare and say, 'We're going to tax the rich.' The problem is when most families in this community who are forced to work more than one job look around at their total gross income, they find out, 'Oh! I'm the rich and we're taxed.' To be taxing anyone—but particularly individuals, families and small businesses at this time—taxing them more than they're already taxed third highest in the nation, is not going to help us. It's going to hurt our economy and slow our recovery more. So, I urge our members to consider this and vote 'no.' Thank you."

Senator Hemmings rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"I'd like to, in speaking against it, just share some thoughts regarding wealth. Honest wealth comes from productivity, it comes from ingenuity, it comes from innovation, it comes from risk taking—attributes that we should be certainly encouraging throughout our society. Wealth is not a finite commodity. The harder you work, the more productive you are, the more ingenuity you use, the more wealth you can create.

"There seems to be a growing tendency, as the good Senator from Hawai'i Kai mentioned, in this nation to evoke class warfare as an excuse to raise taxes. It should be noted that by far and away, most of the taxes paid are paid by the wealthy. I'd like to ask a rhetorical question since people seem to be so quick to condemn wealth and wealthy people, although most of us aspire to attain that status: How do the wealthy hurt us? I would suggest how fortunate we are to have wealth in our nation, to have wealth in our state, and to have wealthy people here, because they do not hurt us. They're the ones that pay for the welfare that we give out to those who are less fortunate than us. They're the ones in large part who pay for the benefits of running a large, expensive government. So taxing the wealthy may make an additional incentive for the wealthy to go elsewhere to live. It's done all the time.

"But as usual there are alternatives that are being ignored in addressing our fiscal problems. Those alternatives are what most poor people and indeed some wealthy do when financial times get difficult. They stop spending. They become wiser in how they spend their money. They do not, in this particular case of government, cater to some special interest groups that are being fed from the trough of big government and high taxes. So you may think that you're incurring favor with the people of Hawai'i by taxing the wealthy with that rhetorical statement when indeed it is not true. This does increase taxes and takes it from the producers and the private sector and puts it into government, oftentimes to be spent inefficiently and ineffectively to benefit those people who government should be benefitting. I'd urge my colleagues to vote 'no' against this legislation."

Senator Hooser rose in support of the measure and stated:

"I'll keep my comments very brief. There are going to be several bills that we're going to be voting on and discussing here today that relate to the state budget; several of those involve taking the discussion forward to increasing fees and taxes. And I don't think any of us really look forward to raising fees and taxes, but I think looking at the entire situation—the state budget—we realize that everyone, everyone in our state must share in the burden of balancing the budget, and this proposal levels the playing field. And I think most of us here in this room support a progressive tax system, and we're much criticized for having a very regressive tax system here. But when you take all of the taxes combined citizens in Hawai'i pay, the very poorest of our citizens pay an average of 12.6 percent in taxes, state-local taxes combined. The very poorest pay 12.6 percent, while the top 1 percent pay a net 5.8 percent of their total tax burden. And as you can see, in terms of leveling the playing field, in terms of shifting the burden somewhat, this bill will certainly help in that. I think no one here, certainly I've heard no one here today say, 'Vilify or demonize the rich and the wealthy.' We clearly count on entrepreneurs and business to build wealth, but this is a case of everyone helping and leveling the playing field somewhat, and I urge my colleagues to vote in support. Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Hemmings rose in rebuttal and said:

“The previous speaker illuminated some situations that I think oftentimes are a matter of perspective. He mentioned sharing the burden. Well, there’s one group that isn’t sharing any burden. They’re not taking any pay cuts. They’re pretty much immune from accountability as far as the quality of their work goes, and we just saw the quality of their work in the Ways and Means Committee the other day. By a massive ignorance of their own job, they’re not taking a pay cut—at least they’re negotiating not to—and they have some of the most benevolent benefits of any employees in the nation. And that, of course, is our public workers who this budget and tax exercise we go through is designed to benefit. And I don’t want to take anything away from most public workers. I think they do an excellent job, but they along with the rest of us are being cheated by their fellow workers who don’t, and we don’t seem to have any recourse to hold them accountable.

“It was also mentioned by the previous speaker that no one’s offering an alternative. Yes, there is an alternative. I think the budget can be balanced through meaningful pay cuts across the board and through other innovative things that some special interests don’t want us to do, but the Governor has offered means to balance the budget without raising these problems that we’re addressing in this bill.

“And the third thing I’d like to mention is by every standard measurement of fairness in the nation, Hawai‘i is amongst the highest taxed people in the nation and we are, by every standard, taxed the most regressively. Now you can spin out any figures you want to paint the picture you want, such as income tax burden. But when you combine all the taxes that we pay, including the extremely regressive tax on food, on certain medical care and over-the-counter pharmaceuticals, and all the other tax impacts, there’s no doubt by most everybody—including our standard deductions, by the way—that Hawai‘i’s poor pay the disproportionate largest part of their income in taxes. But we shouldn’t be pitting the poor against the wealthy, and we should not have a tax environment that penalizes anybody to the extent that we can reduce government spending in a lot of innovative ways rather than consistently going in year out when we have economic hard times to find ways to squeeze more money out of the people of Hawai‘i to continue the folly of our own government. And I use the word ‘folly’ very explicitly. We saw it the other day, just as I said in the Ways and Means Committee where the people testifying, employees of state government... How can I put this nicely? I think someone in the Committee wisely said it was ‘embarrassing’ and that’s probably the nicest thing one could say about it. So, we really have to look at better ways to balance the budget rather than increasing taxes because inevitably it hurts the rich and the poor, and it’s just not the right thing to do in a bad economic environment. Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Hooser rose in rebuttal and said:

“I want to clarify that the numbers I quoted were the combined tax burden for the very poorest in our community and the very wealthiest. And again, it shows the very poorest pay 12.6 percent combined all taxes, and the very wealthiest pay 5.8 percent.

“I’d also like to say for the record, what the previous speaker said that public workers have not been asked to give on this situation in our budget I think is going to be a reoccurring theme here today. I think it’s easy to use public workers as a whipping boy. I am personally insulted on behalf of the thousands of public workers who do a fine job for our state in all areas. And for the record, in Ways and Means we did vote, and we’re going to vote here again today. We voted to cut wages for the executive, judicial and legislative branches. I believe those wages are public worker wages. And for the record, the only person to vote against cutting those wages was the Minority Leader who voted against cutting his own wages while everybody else on the committee supported that. There’s a long process we have to go through yet to balance the budget. This is but one small part and I believe again we must all share in this. So, thank you, Madam President.”

Senators Bunda, Ige, and Fukunaga requested their votes be cast “aye, with reservations,” and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 1747, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION,” passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Ayes with Reservations, 3 (Bunda, Fukunaga, Ige). Noes, 4 (Gabbard, Green, Hemmings, Slom).

H.B. No. 813, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

On motion by Senator Chun Oakland, seconded by Senator Ihara and carried, H.B. No. 813, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO LANGUAGE ACCESS,” passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, 1 (Hemmings).

H.B. No. 39, H.D. 2, S.D. 1:

Senator Kim moved that H.B. No. 39, H.D. 2, S.D. 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“This bill would raid most special funds, put them in the general treasury, would also take interest from other general funds, would jeopardize those special funds that are required by the federal government for federal deposits or federal matching, and would set yet another bad precedent involving special funds in this community. Thank you.”

Senator Hooser rose in support of the measure and stated:

“I was initially going to vote with some reservations, but it’s a very small part of the bill. I want it to be on the public record that the Hawai‘i Elections Campaign Fund is named and it’s part of a check-off box; and I believe that consumers, when they check off the box, expect it to go to a certain place and so I’m hesitant to support that particular measure. But again, there’s lots of measures that we’re going to be voting on today and they’re all important to making the budget work in the end, and so I’m voting in support and urging my colleagues to do likewise. Thank you.”

Senator Hemmings rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“We have done this so many times before, and I would suggest that the Majority party—and I certainly agree with the previous statement made on this floor. I’m rising to speak against this legislation, Madam President, for point of clarification. No one’s a whipping boy here. I will say, and I’ll say it again, because I know I’ll be accused of bashing public workers. Most public workers are good, hardworking people and deserve the pay they earn so diligently, but some are not, and some exploit their fellow workers.

“This is a raid on the funds to fatten the general fund for collective bargaining. So the collective bargaining process—and we all know the labor unions and so-called ‘public workers’ are, in these difficult times, basically negotiating to freeze their salaries, and not take a pay cut or be laid off like everyone else in the community, which may be very foolish because if we run out of money, they will be laid off because we cannot pay them. This transfers special funds. There could be a constitutional question in some of these issues, as we learned from the insurance compliance fund—we've done this before. In order to fatten the last round of collective bargaining I think four sessions ago, we actually raided special funds and held hostage all the human service programs. That's what this is all about. Let's be honest about it. This isn't about balancing the budget. This is about fattening up the general fund so collective bargaining for public workers can walk away not helping to balance the budget through sharing in the pain of what we're going through here, especially those 40,000 plus citizens who no longer have a job. It was so bad one year we were actually going to shut down the DCCA and take all their money and put it in the general fund so it'd be a nice, fatted cow for the collective bargaining process. That's what this is all about, and anybody who says otherwise is either extremely deceptive or naive. I would suggest that I am for a balanced economy. I am for fairness in the marketplace and public employment. I'm very much in favor of rewarding those hard public workers that do a good job. But likewise, I'm in favor of holding everyone accountable in the process and making sure that public workers participate in contributing to the economic welfare of the entire state. And by no means, as the previous speaker said, am I pointing out one particular group as a whipping boy. I'm just putting on the table the honest assessment of what's going on here, and it's not fair. Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Sakamoto rose in support of the measure and stated:

"Unfortunately, some of the focus has been placed on public workers, but I believe the focus should be on balancing the budget and maintaining the services that our state needs to provide. If the state doesn't need to provide certain things that we're currently doing, I believe the people who can most control that are the Administration. They've been governing and they manage, so they can determine which services could be more efficient or should be more efficient, and perhaps which services should go. On the other hand, in recent months, some services have been put on the chopping block and we can see the results. Why are people shot? Why are people stabbed? Why are there potholes in the road? Why are the prisons overflowing? Why are people complaining about services that our state government should perform better? They're complaining because our state government should perform them better and it's not the fault of the public workers. It's the fault of a system that could be more efficient and some of that efficiency requires the correct amount of dollars for the system to perform the work properly. You can't push a car 10 miles when you fill in only 90 miles of gas and you want to go 100 miles. You can't ask public workers to push 10 miles, and then you say, 'Why don't you get there on time?' We need to fuel our system and run our system efficiently. Unfortunately, the economy, global and national matters have caused our budget to be in a problematic state. We need to do all we can do, and if there are funds sitting in accounts that are not being used, we ought to use them because we need to maintain the services for the people of Hawai'i. Thank you very much."

Senator Baker rose in support of the measure with reservations and stated:

"I'd like to return to the bill at hand and look at the various funds that are being proposed to contribute some of their seemingly unrequired balances for purposes of budget balancing. And I know that the Chair of Ways and Means is looking at some of these funds reluctantly. She has only so many quivers in her packet of arrows and tools that she can use, and so I applaud the effort that she's making because I know it's not an easy task. I would just ask that as this measure goes to conference, that perhaps if there are some of the smaller funds that in fact do support health and human service areas that we don't look at the whole 5 percent on central services assessment but perhaps assess a smaller percentage. I'm concerned that while some of the University funds are being excluded from assessment, others are not, and one that is particularly important to me because it's important to our state, is the Cancer Research Fund. It appears to me that it may still be in this measure not to raid but to require payment of a central services assessment fee and I would hope that as it advances, perhaps another look can be taken at that one because those funds are definitely needed for building out the expansion of CRCH and to make sure that we keep our NCI designation. I think that it's important. As we move forward, we have to look at all of the funds at our discretion to see how best we can come up with an overall plan that's going to move us forward. The economic situation was not of this body's making, and it's certainly wasn't of our public employees' making and it wasn't our residents' making, so we need to figure out how we can best balance all of the legitimate and competing interests we have, and I applaud Ways and Means for making a valiant effort."

Senator Kim rose in support of the measure and stated:

"Madam President, this measure takes excess funds, and it doesn't jeopardize any federal funds. And I'd just like to state that the Ways and Means staff has worked very tirelessly on looking at every single one of these funds. They have looked at the expenditures, the revenues over the period of years, and have estimated based on talks with the departments as to what in fact they need of these funds in order to be able to continue to do their services. And with all of that information, Madam President, we were able to identify certain amount of sums for each of these. There are many other funds that we looked at. After discussions with the departments and various people, we were not able to take those funds because of just that fact: That they need that in order to operate. This is no different, Madam President, from the Governor taking the Bottle Bill Fund, taking the money from PUC, 9-11, and so this just goes along that line. If we're going to say 'no' to a lot of revenue measures, then we'd better look at everything else that's on the table because at the end of the day, we're not going to have enough money for all of your projects that many of you have requested. Thank you."

Senator Green rose in support of the measure and stated:

"I just wanted to say that we're all trying to strike a balance here today. I'm voting in favor of some tax increases and against others, and I commend the Chair of Ways and Means for bringing this bill forward because I think it does take the pressure off of some of the tax increases in order to get us where we need to be for our state. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 39, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO STATE REVENUES," passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Ayes with Reservations, 1 (Baker). Noes, 3 (Gabbard, Hemmings, Slom).

H.B. No. 1605, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

Senator Kim moved that H.B. No. 1605, H.D. 1, S.D. 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"I, like I'm sure most of my colleagues, support home rule, and we had this debate-discussion a number of years ago when the City and County of Honolulu was given an increase in the general excise tax for the rail. Even the Governor argued that that was home rule. It was not home rule because it specified what county could do what, what they couldn't do, what the rate would be and everything else. This bill here purports to give a retail sales tax authority to the counties, but it sets the maximum rate at 1 percent. And in other bills we're going to be taking, or proposing to take away, existing revenues from the counties. So you can't really talk about the idea of home rule; what you're really talking about is yet another tax increase. And this would be even more interesting because on top of the general excise tax, on top of the general excise surcharge in the City and County of Honolulu, you could now have the possibility of a sales tax. This would be an absolute nightmare for businesses that would have to have two sets of information to differentiate between the general excise tax and between the sales tax. It also leaves many unanswered questions, and I am absolutely confident that, of course, this is something to take us into conference committee with, but I see that a number of the bills we're just throwing them out there to see who salutes and what the ultimate is going to be. However, if they all came home to roost and they all were passed, what we would see is we would absolutely go from number three in the nation on tax burden to number one at a time when we cannot afford it. So, you know, it's interesting if we want to talk about home rule, then let's go all the way and let's turn over all taxing authorities to the counties without any kind of limitation or recognition of what the money is going to be used for. Thank you."

Senator Kim rose in support of the measure and stated:

"Madam President, after decades of lobbying and fighting for home rule and additional taxing authority—and I should know because I spent 14 years on the Honolulu City Council—it's interesting now that the counties are now shying away from any taxing authority and instead would like us to raise the GET tax. Never mind that the GET tax is regressive and will hurt businesses across the state. They certainly didn't shy away in 2004 when Honolulu pushed for the ½ percent GET tax for rail; and it's my understanding that other counties now wish that they'd opted for the ½ percent tax. In fact, I'm told that the Big Island mayor has been lobbying the House for this option early on during the Session.

"By allowing each county to implement a retail sales tax of up to 1 percent on the sale of tangible, personal property, the counties will be able to demonstrate greater self-sufficiency by enhancing their authority to generate revenues necessary to fund vital programs and services within their jurisdiction. According to DoTax, assuming that the tax rate is 1 percent, the annual revenue gains would be, for the respective counties: $143 million for Honolulu, $39 million for Maui County, $29 million for Hawai'i County, and $16 million for Kaua'i County.

"The retail sales tax does not pyramid like the GET. And although much of the conversation regarding this bill focused on the county's loss of the potential TAT revenues, this measure does not address the TAT, which is a separate issue. But, Madam President, at the end of the day, if the counties do not want this tax, then certainly I'm not going to vote in favor of it. Thank you."

Senator Kim moved that H.B. No. 1364, H.D. 1, S.D. 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Hemmings rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Madam Chair, in speaking against this bill, I want to highlight a problem that's been spoken of before peripherally but not in very much detail. I will give you some concerns that I think all Americans, especially those of us in Hawai'i who are rapidly becoming the highest taxed people in the nation, have regarding American Recovery and Reinvestment Act. This Act is unprecedented and it really puts us in a very difficult place at the state levels because it's going to provide us with a lot of revenue but will also leave us with increased debt to pay it off. It's important to note that some states and the federal government's spending are out of control—in fact some have stayed at the national level. The American Recovery and Reinvestment Act combined with budget increases and future spending initiatives at the federal level are going to take the federal government down the same path as the State of California. Prior to January 20th of this year, the deficit (that's the one year deficit spending for the federal government) was projected to be $500 billion. In the few short months since that time, our national deficit for one year has soared to $1.7 trillion. It's hard to understand that number. Nevertheless, that's what it is. Someone's going to have to pay that back or more drastic things will happen to our economy.

"There's another problem that has been highlighted before but never quite recognized by many, especially those in the federal government, and unfortunately too many in state governments. What's going on with the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act is when they're giving us the money, it comes with a tremendous amount of strings attached. It is in some instances so bizarre that the actual legislation President Obama signed into law says that the governor shall spend the money without necessarily having legislative oversight. Who needs us? But it violates a much more important principle to the very structure of our government and that is—I had mentioned this before but I thought I'd whip it out and read it—Federalist Papers No. 4, where Madison, in writing to Publius, a fictitious person in New York, regarding the Constitution said, 'The powers delegated by the proposed Constitution to the federal government are few and defined. Those which remain in the state governments are numerous and indefinite. The former will be exercised principally on external objects (war, peace, negotiation of foreign commerce) with which the last power of taxation will, for the most part, be connected. The powers reserved to the several states will extend to all the objects which, in the ordinary course of affairs, concerns the lives, the liberties, the properties of the people in the internal order in improvement and prosperity of the states.’ So obviously our government was built to have us control our destiny here in the State of Hawai‘i, not politicians in Washington, D.C. They are literally printing money and spending what they don’t have. I will admit, in Washington, people on both sides of the aisle are guilty of this. It’s going to bankrupt our nation and more importantly, it’s going to take away control of our destiny from the Hawaiian Islands. The Reinvestment Act is mandating numerous initiatives to where we do not control our destiny. The Reinvestment Act funds programs that really don’t have any justification at the national level. Jimmy Carter started the federal Department of Education. It’s gone downhill ever since. There are numerous federal initiatives that take away our ability to control our destiny. The genius of the constitutional structure of our government is that we have states and a federal system, wherein the states control our destiny. We have many different needs and obligations here in Hawai‘i than the people of Maine or Minnesota, and that is something we should cherish and encourage. This American Recovery and Reinvestment Act is a step in the wrong direction, and I would seriously consider not taking the money if it weren’t for the fact that we have to pay it back. So I’ll be voting ‘no’ to make that point. Thank you, Madam President.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 1364, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE BUDGET,” passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, 2 (Hemmings, Slom).

H.B. No. 1739, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

Senator Kim moved that H.B. No. 1739, H.D. 1, S.D. 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Baker requested her vote be cast “aye, with reservations,” and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Kim requested comments in support of the measure be entered into the Journal.

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Kim’s remarks read as follows:

“Madam President, I rise in support of House Bill 1739. This measure started out as a conformity bill to standardize the penalties that tax preparers pay for improperly filing state tax documents so they would be at the same level as federal penalties these tax preparers would pay for improper filing of federal tax documents. During the hearing, many tax professionals testified that they are not opposed to the conformity of the penalties but asked that if they are to conform to the federal penalties, they should be given the same safeguards and appeals process that are built into the federal code.

“With this in mind, the Committee on Ways and Means proceeded to amend the bill with the help of tax professionals and the Department of Taxation to conform not only to the federal penalties but to provide the same safeguards and appeals process that are in the federal code.

“More specifically, the measure:

- Amends the definition of ‘tax preparer’ to conform with the IRC’s definition

- Provides for an expedited administrative appeals program
- Authorizes the department to undertake temporary rulemaking
- Makes documents submitted to the tax review board public information
- Clarifies the burden of proof with respect to issues relating to false or fraudulent tax returns and the intent to evade taxes be more in-line with the federal standard

“The belief is that this measure changes Hawaii’s tax law to conform with the Internal Revenue Code (IRC) with respect to issues relating to tax preparers and the deterrence of tax fraud. The changes in the current measure will provide tax payers and practitioners with more guidance and notice of the tax department’s policies through the issuance of preliminary rules and the availability of tax review board documents. The department will also be able to respond more quickly to tax appeals through the expedited appeals program.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 1739, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION,” passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Ayes with Reservations, 1 (Baker). Noes, 1 (Bunda).

H.B. No. 1741, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

Senator Kim moved that H.B. No. 1741, H.D. 1, S.D. 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“The bill talks about redistribution or temporary distribution of the conveyance tax funds, but what it also does is have the provision in there to raise the conveyance tax. We’ve gone through this before. I’ve spoken against the increase in conveyance tax because it also affects every recorded document, whether it’s a rental or lease agreement or anything else. And so, again, we’re talking about yet another tax increase. Thank you.”

Senator Hooser rose in support of the measure with reservations and stated:

“Madam President, colleagues, I want to commend the Chair of the Ways and Means Committee and the Vice President here. They’re working together on an amendment which dramatically improves the bill, as opposed to when it was first introduced to the Committee. And it does dramatically improve it, but I do have some concerns that when it goes into conference that it might slip back and further negatively impact the Legacy Land Fund, the NARS funds, and affordable housing. And so I am expressing my reservations. Thank you.”

Senator Kokubun rose in support of the measure and stated:

“I want to first thank the Chair of Ways and Means for allowing me to work on this bill. With respect to the concerns that have been raised about the additional taxes, I think that the way the structure is now, there is a graduated scale for certain values, and that graduated scale has just been extended into the higher value lands and residences that are being exchanged. So I think it’s consistent in that regard, and I think what’s even more important is that these moneys will be used for some very, very good programs. And it’s something that I think, you know, we need to continue to support, and I think in the long run it’s going to be beneficial to the entire state. So with that, I ask my colleagues to support this measure. Thank you.”

Senators Hooser, Ihara, Baker, Ige, English, Taniguchi, and Espero requested their votes be cast “aye, with reservations,” and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Kim requested comments in support of the measure be entered into the Journal.

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Kim’s remarks read as follows:

“Madam President, I rise in support of HB 1741 HD1 SD1 – Relating to the Conveyance Tax. Temporarily retaining a greater share of conveyance tax in the general fund will help maintain core services funded by the general fund, while easing the loss of revenue to these important programs. Specifically, this measure changes the distribution of conveyance tax revenue beginning July 1, 2009 to June 30, 2012, by temporarily reducing the distribution of conveyance tax revenue to the Land Conservation Fund (from 10% to 5%), Rental Housing Trust Fund (from 30% to 25%), and Natural Area Reserve Fund (from 25% to 20%), respectively.

“The measure recognizes that the rise in property values in the State and the increases in residential home investment will provide the State with additional revenue.

- For properties valued in excess of $1 million, the conveyance tax rate ranges from THIRTY CENTS to $1.00 per $100 of value for properties valued from $1 million to $10 million or more.
- For properties that do not qualify for a county homeowner’s exemption, the rates range from FORTY CENTS to $1.25 per $100 of value for properties valued from $1 million to $10 million or more.

“Finally, it should be noted that with the restoration of the five percent reductions to the Land Conservation Fund, Rental Housing Trust Fund, and Natural Area Reserve Fund in June 2012, these programs will be poised to receive greater conveyance tax revenue in light of the increased tax rates on high-value real property and residential investments.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 1741, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE CONVEYANCE TAX,” passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 18. Ayes with Reservations, 7 (Baker, English, Espero, Hooser, Ige, Ihara, Taniguchi). Noes, 7 (Bunda, Gabbard, Green, Hemmings, Slom, Tokuda, Tsutsui).

H.B. No. 135:

Senator Fukunaga moved that H.B. No. 135 pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Baker.

Senator Slom rose in support of the measure and stated:

“It is so good to be able to talk about a bill of great importance that doesn’t involve finances, taxation, spending or debt. This bill would name the Kamehameha butterfly as the state insect, and as you know, we have the state tree and the state mammal, and the state everything else. The Kamehameha butterfly is one of two native species of butterfly. Actually the Kamehameha part was misnamed when the name first was used after the death of the last of the Kamehameha king line. In our Committee there was testimony from one class of one school children, so I really am a little concerned, even though I’m supporting the bill, that the bill was not properly vetted. I know that there was talk about yanking the bill from Committee onto the Senate floor so that we’d have further discussion but that did not happen. And since the time that the bill passed, I have been besieged by constituents, and I’m sure many of my colleagues also, by what they consider to be the true insect of the State of Hawai’i. When we think of Hawai’i and we think of insects, of course we think naturally of the cockroach. And when we think of the cockroach, we think of a very important industry in the state that goes also with it: the slipper. But even though the cockroach did not get its day and its due in the Committee, I will support the will of our keiki in school because as you know, Madam President, everything we do in this building, every tax we raise, every special fund we create, every debt that we incur, is ultimately going to be paid by our keiki. So, I stand in support of the beautiful butterfly, Madam President. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 135, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE STATE INSECT,” passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

H.B. No. 1260, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

Senator Kim moved that H.B. No. 1260, H.D. 1, S.D. 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senators Taniguchi, Ihara, Chun Oakland, Fukunaga, Tsutsui, Tokuda, Ige, Green, and Bunda requested their votes be cast “aye, with reservations,” and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 1260, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO GOVERNMENT,” passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Ayes with Reservations, 9 (Bunda, Chun Oakland, Fukunaga, Green, Ige, Ihara, Taniguchi, Tokuda, Tsutsui). Noes, 3 (Baker, Hemmings, Slom).

H.B. No. 1536, H.D. 2, S.D. 1:

Senator Taniguchi moved that H.B. No. 1536, H.D. 2, S.D. 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Kim.

Senator Bunda rose in support of the measure with reservations and stated:

“The subject of legislative pay raises in my mind is one of the most controversial issues before us this session. Of course, there are opponents and supporters of most every bill, but the legislature seems and appears to be the only source of support for a pay increase during this economic downturn. Per column inch in the newspapers, it has received the glaring amount of negative attention where opinions expressed in letters and commentaries have been critical and even derogatory. While public outcry normally causes us to take notice of any issue, we seem to be unusually calm about accepting pay raises in the face of such criticism. As someone who has walked these hallways since 1982, I am sympathetic for those legislators who devote themselves full-time to what is still meant to be a part-time commitment. However, in light of the extreme fiscal challenges before us, no one can claim to be above making sacrifices. No matter how long it takes, we should all come out of this whole at the end of this economic crisis. Madam President, I believe that the 5 percent reduction specified in this bill will be perceived as a token gesture and not enough to count towards our economic recovery. This may be a time when we will have to ask the public to tighten their belts beyond the belt notch. Who are we fooling? We should do our part and lead by example. This bill should be amended in conference, and at the end of the day it should provide a much greater contribution to the collective effort it will take to balance our state’s budget. For these reasons, Madam President, I am voting ‘with reservations’ on this bill.”

Senator Hemmings rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"In proceeding, I want to point out that one of the astute observations from the other side of the aisle regarding previous legislation enumerated—or illuminated, I think would be the better word—the fact that I voted against this bill in committee, which I did. But my vote here today is not a vote of political convenience, so I sound self-righteous by knocking back my pay by 5 percent and knocking back the pay of executive and judicial branch of government 5 percent. My vote is hopefully a vote of conscience because it is extremely unfair.

"The collective cost of executive, legislative and judicial salaries is approximately $20 million. The collective cost of collective bargaining salaries—unionized employees—is about 70 percent of A Fund expenditures, over $3 billion. This is a token measure, at best. And people have been talking about let's be fair, let's be fair, let's be fair. Well let's be fair. The fairest solution, which would go a huge, huge way in balancing our budget, is to cut everybody collecting a paycheck from government's salary 5 percent. That would be fair. We would all share in balancing the budget in a fair and equitable way. But that's not what's happening.

"I have to add, to cut overhead we should cut programs that could be done better by the private sector and cut programs that aren't working at all. Public workers in the State of Hawai'i enjoy some of the best compensation, oftentimes far in excess of the people in the private sector. Public workers are indeed getting paid a fair wage for fair work. What's not mentioned oftentimes in discussion, and certainly not mentioned here, are the fringe benefits. Extrapolate from numbers. The fringe benefits of public workers are 37 percent of the cost of employment. The private sector is lucky if it's 20 percent. We pay for an enormous amount of benefits: 13 paid holidays a year and 14 in an election year—I think you all know where they are on Election Day because right in your manual they say they elect their bosses—21 paid sick days, which can accumulate to be a vast sum of money, and 21 days of holidays. Private sector people are lucky if they get 15 days after 15 years of employment. Sick leave is exploited to a great extent because you don't need a doctor's note; oftentimes you just call in and take a day off, and get paid. So the combined salaries and benefits of public workers exceed, in many instances, those of the private sector. And for them to not be sharing in this process of reducing spending is unconscionable.

"And I want to say once again that I'm not here to single out or bash or use any particular group for a whipping boy. I'm just putting the facts on the table and asking us to be fair with everybody and have everybody equally share in the burden and cost of these financial hard times. It was very astutely said by a previous speaker: much of these hardships that we're enduring now have not been heaped on us because of our own problems or misdoings here. But certainly, the burden of them should be shared on a fair and equitable basis for everybody, and we should be reducing the pay for everyone collecting a government paycheck, not just a select few, especially when that pay cut amounts to pennies in relationship to the cuts that need to be made. Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Slom rose in support of the measure and stated:

"I agree with many of the remarks made by the good Senator from the North Shore that primarily this is symbolic; it's not going to help balance the budget or anything else. But you know, Madam President, I've spoken on this floor before about my real concerns and disdain for the so-called Salary Commission. We had a constitutional amendment several years ago, and the public voted to allow for these Salary Commissions. I don't believe the public fully realized what they were going to get in return for the Commission. The Commission is a stealth way of allowing salaries and compensation to be raised without benefit of any public hearing, without benefit of any public vote, without benefit of any adjustment. I certainly agree with, again, the Senator from the North Shore that many legislators of both houses take this part-time job and they spend a great deal of time and effort year-round. They work really hard. There was not a salary increase granted and maybe one should have been. But to the extent that it was 36 percent, most people would agree that that was too large, particularly during this period in time. But we never had the opportunity, as I said, of a hearing, of a vote, or to say, 'Well, maybe 36 percent is too large, but maybe 10 percent is okay and justified.' We also, in taking this action in this bill, are taking the action in freezing the salaries as of June 30 of this year. July 1st of the last two years, both the executive branch and the judiciary received handsome salary increases, and they were due to receive yet another one on July 1st.

"So, the whole point is there's something wrong with the whole process. And we should all be up in arms when we talk so much about having hearings and about public input and about transparency, and there is no transparency on the granting of compensation for those in the executive branch, judicial branch and those of us here. So while it is a flawed bill and while it is probably more symbolic than anything else, I will support it and hope that in the future we can look at abolishing the Salary Commissions and being honest about debating whether or not people, want, deserve, and should have salary increases. Thank you."

Senator Kim rose in support of the measure and stated:

"This is one of those measures, damned-if-you-do and damned-if-you-don't. And certainly we can talk all we like about whether or not we should take greater cuts or take no cuts or turn back the raises, but I haven't seen any floor amendments. Certainly anyone here wishing and seriously enough that they could have offered a floor amendment. Instead, we got none. So, with that, Madam President, I will be voting in favor. Thank you."

Senator Hemmings rose on a point of personal inquiry and said:

"I want to find out if I heard correctly: Is the Majority party going to hear Republican floor amendments and be willing to consider them in a democratic fashion?"

The Chair then responded:

"Senator Hemmings, we won't know until you try. And since you didn't try, you don't know. I think I have answered your inquiry."

"Madam President, very quickly and incisively so. Congratulations."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 1536, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SALARIES," passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Ayes with Reservations, 1 (Bunda). Noes, 1 (Hemmings).

H.B. No. 128, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

Senator Taniguchi moved that H.B. No. 128, H.D. 1, S.D. 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Takamine.

Senator Ihara rose in support of the measure with reservations and stated:

"Madam President, this bill relates to consumer complaints against regulated businesses. This issue here is whether the public should have the right to know if complaints have been filed against a business regulated by state government.

"I must object to H.B. No. 1212 because it seeks to solve a specific problem by removing from public disclosure potentially all information on certain government records. This bill allows an exception to the open records law that involves nondisclosure of consumer complaints against business persons regulated by government, particularly when a person makes a right to privacy claim to keep the complaints secret. Government regulates businesses to protect consumers and I don't believe government should withhold from consumers frivolous complaints by eliminating potentially all complaints from public review, including those that may turn out to be valid. I believe this bill should not move forward because the concern about frivolous complaints can be addressed administratively. DCCA could implement its website policy and remove all complaints filed over five years ago. The Department can also more clearly advise its website viewers that pending complaints indicate only the fact that the complaint has been filed, which may or may not be worthy and valid. I believe consumers smart enough to find DCCA's website will more than likely understand that a complaint that is pending does not mean that the business did anything wrong.

"Madam President, I would like to encourage fellow Senators to look at this bill from the consumer's point of view. Government regulates businesses to protect consumers, and I believe consumers want to know if fellow consumers have filed complaints against businesses they might want to employ. I urge the Senate to defeat this attempt to open a significant hole in the State's open records law. I believe the public policy of transparency for consumers outweighs the narrow concern about frivolous consumer complaints. Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Hemmings rose in support of the measured and stated:

"I too want to speak in favor of truth, limiting ambiguity, and speak in favor of transparency. And, what is not transparent is the incredible benefit a certain group of our populous gets on election days and how that benefit turns into an in-kind contribution to their selected candidates. And I do know the laws from campaigning myself, that if you receive in-kind goods, you have to report them. But on Election Day, 48,000 people get a paid day off, and they're public union workers. That costs taxpayers well over $10 million. That's an in-kind contribution of enormous sense.

"I know many good candidates who stand on the side of the road and wave signs in the primary. They confront a great number of people; seeking their votes, they wave at them. In the general election, which falls on a weekday, they have a hard time getting their sign wavers out because they're all at work, but oftentimes their opponent has 10, 20, 30 sign wavers. One of my friends who is running for office and a member of my party, which is struggling—if that's not an understatement, I don't know what is—asked one of his opponent's sign wavers, 'Why are you here? I've never seen you here before. Why are you holding signs?' And the answer was quite honest. He said, 'We got told to.' So this is just another example of how the system is skewed in favor of one special interest group to the detriment of open, honest, transparent government. And so when we pass bills like this, we really should look at the big picture and make it transparent across the board so we really know where the money's going and where the big money's being spent at the cost of the process. Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Slom requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Taniguchi rose to request comments in support of the measure be entered into the Journal.

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Taniguchi's remarks read as follows:

"I am supporting HB 128, HD1, SD1 for the following reasons. The bill as introduced is based on the Campaign Spending Commission's recodification committee. Your Committee on Judiciary and Government Operations made further amendments to recodify current law into new parts and sections to make it easier to read and understand the campaign finance laws. I believe that we will be further revising this bill but at least we are moving in a direction to provide clarification. Your Committee also made substantive amendments including permitting candidate committees to make donations to schools and public libraries from campaign funds without the limitation currently imposed on community donations; allowing a vacancy on the Campaign Spending Commission to be filled from one of two nominations from the Judicial Council and providing discretionary fine amounts in lieu of mandatory fines for violations. I want to note that the last substantive amendment came at the request of the Campaign Spending Commission.

With these amendments and further work on this bill, I believe we will be moving towards a better law that is easier for candidates and the public to understand."

Senators Tsutsui and Ige requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 128, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ELECTIONS," passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Ayes with Reservations, 4 (Ige, Ihara, Slom, Tsutsui). Noes, none.

H.B. No. 31, S.D. 1:

Senator Takamine moved that H.B. No. 31, S.D. 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"This bill would create a new discriminatory practice against employers, those employers that use credit history checks as a means of being one tool for hiring or discharging an employee. We, by passing this bill, raise this practice to the level of discrimination by race, color, creed, national origin, and so forth, and create another opportunity for attorneys to sue. It was testified to that of course there are a number of occupations that require that credit history be not only checked, but also be taken into consideration. And so the bill was amended to exempt those who are employed pursuant to any federal or state law and also with any occupation that has to do with federal financial requirements. However, what does that do to employers who have employees in other areas, particularly in these difficult economic times, particularly as the retail merchants testified, where you have a lot of people—non-supervisory, non-mandatory—that are handling money and cash all the time? While there are opportunities for misuse of this information and while we are all familiar with identity theft right now, there is an opportunity to explain any kind of conditions. But for an employer not to utilize all tools at hand and take all of this information into consideration, I think, is criticism of the employer. What we're trying to do is interfere with that hiring process.

"Now there is one other amendment that was made to the bill in its current form, and that says that you can look into the credit history of any employee, but only after an offer of employment has been made. Now if you make an offer of employment to someone, then you check the credit history and it is such that it would be a red flag for any prudent person, and then you try to deny that person that employment history, that person will also seek an attorney and go after you because you have a bona fide contract for employment. So, for these reasons, Madam President, let's stick with the laws that we have for real discrimination and allow employers to do their business in hiring and firing. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 31, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EMPLOYMENT PRACTICES," passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, 2 (Hemmings, Slom). Excused, 2 (Galuteria, Tsutsui).

H.B. No. 200, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

Senator Kim moved that H.B. No. 200, H.D. 1, S.D. 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Hemmings rose in support of the measure and stated:

"In your wisdom and knowing all the transparent position you hold, I think you realize that I share apprehensions about this budget and voted, I believe, 'no' in WAM. After hearing myself speak so eloquently about it, I decided to vote 'no.' One of the reasons I am, Madam President, is because, rest assured, know that I want to be on conference committee and so it would be definitely difficult to be on such, and I've just been informed that amendments from Republicans will be eagerly looked forward to. So we hope they'll be democratically considered. So, thank you, Madam President.

"This budget comes at a very difficult time when the State should be reducing spending to really balance the budget. And as with all economies, you cannot escape the immutable truths about supply and demand, regarding spending and revenue generating. And we do have targeted cuts in this budget. But when you look at the big picture, there's no doubt that there has to be dramatic tax increases somewhere to do what the Constitution mandates us to do: balance the budget, which is a good mandate. I would like to suggest the first thing people do is say, 'Well okay, what program do you want to cut?' Do you want to cut aid to the keiki? Do you want to cut aid to the sick and elderly, which has been done in the past to balance budgets? Tell us what program you want to cut. There really is a huge opportunity that we have been speaking about for years to make this budget more cost-effective and accountable. We advocated, way back in 2004, to restructure public education. The budget for the department then was $1.7 billion a year. It's now $2.4 billion. The DOE balked, and there was literally a threat from the head of the Department of Education; Patricia Hamamoto said to give her the money and she would be held accountable and do a better job—I think is what she told us here. Well, we did and she didn't. We don't know where the $2.4 billion goes because the Department of Education hasn't been audited. I would suggest to the Superintendent of Education: If does she want to close something to save money, don't close the schools. Close the Department of Education and save a huge amount of money. But we'll never know because we don't know exactly where the money goes, and I would suggest that they don't either because they have not had a management audit since 1974.

"We know we can cut money on incarcerating prisoners, and there's a very positive thing being done about that. We can release and with technology monitor, prisoners who don't pretend to be, nor are they, an immediate threat to the health and welfare of the people. We know that sending prisoners to Arizona cuts the cost in half for incarcerating them. Yet, we want to bring prisoners home, adding to the cost of the budget. We know—and excuse me for using this blasphemous word on the floor—we know that the private sector through something called 'privatization' can do a public service oftentimes quicker, faster, and for less money. And I'll give you an example because we're headed in that direction now, not because we want to, but because we have to. And that's privatization of the state medical hospitals. And you've heard those arguments for the last 3 or 4 years now, of how the CON process protects the government monopoly on hospitals to protect certain jobs at the expense of health and safety and cost to all taxpayers.

"So this budget is an honest effort, and I do commend the Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee on trying to balance a very difficult situation because income has plummeted and costs remain the same. But over the long haul, the real solution is to give the people back the power to control their destiny economically without increasing taxes. And to put out a state budget that for once cuts spending, it's important to note that the economy grows sometimes 2, 3, 4 percent a year; if we're real lucky, 5 or 6. It's stagnating now and that's why we call it a recession. But down to the years with single digit growth of the private sector economy that pays the taxes that employs everybody, the state budget has oftentimes grown 2 or 3 times the rate of the private sector. And I would suggest to you that over the long haul, it will lead to bankruptcy. It's not a new thought. It's like many things in life. The exercise we're going through here has been done through the millenniums of societies or governments, and leaders try to make things happen.

"I'd like to quote from one of my favorite reading materials. I won't tell you where my favorite place is to read it, but it's one of my favorite reading materials: the Small Business Hawai'i tabloid. 'The budget should be balanced. The treasury should be refilled. Public debt should be reduced. The arrogance of officialdom should be tempered and controlled. And the 'assistance'—and this doesn't apply here but it worthy of reading for national government—'to foreign lands should be curtailed lest Rome become bankrupt. People must again learn to work instead of living on public assistance.' Cicero, 55 B.C.

"This budget is a budget that is necessary and I'm voting in favor of it so hopefully some voices of moderation can be heard in the conference committee. But nevertheless, it continues the formula of fattening up the general fund for the purposes of some special interest groups and to the detriment of everyone, including those special interest groups that pay some of the highest taxes in the nation to fund it. So, I'm hoping as this session goes on and we get near the adjournment sine die, that we'll take further consideration of alternatives to taxing and spending, because it will never buy our way back to economic prosperity. Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Kim rose in support of the measure and stated:

"Madam President, before I speak on the specifics of the Senate draft of H.B. No. 200, I take this opportunity to acknowledge a number of people. Madam President, chairing WAM for the first time during the worst budget deficit in our state's history, coupled with a completely new Ways and Means staff has been very challenging, and many have asked me why would I want to do this at this time, but I've always loved a good challenge, Madam President. I was very fortunate to be able to entice back to the Senate to help on the budget some very capable individuals. They were able to get me up and running right from Day One. Their tireless efforts, their long hours, and essentially no social life were fundamental to the development of our proposed state financial plan and budget. The Ways and Means staff is led by Brian Hallett, our committee coordinator; I would ask if he would rise, Brian? And members you can save your applause to the very end because I'm going to introduce them all. I think they deserve it. They worked very hard. The budget chief, Rod Becker. Ross Tsukenjo, my bills chief. The three of them, Madam President, colleagues, have been valuable to me throughout this entire process, and I thank them very much. Also, our capital improvement program specialist, Keira Kamiya; she's not here today. The budget analysts are Jenae Barona, Brian Davies, George Gray, Jennifer Larson, Mona Maehara, Susan Maracle-Sweeny, and Stacy Ogimi. Bill researchers: Victoria Corkhill, Robert Tassie who is on funeral leave today, Anthony Valdez, and Cathy Yasuda. My office staff, also new to the Legislature, Madam President, played an integral role in supporting the work of the Committee. My office manager, Gina Williams. My committee clerk, Debbie Hiramoto, here on the floor. Arline Gorkan, WAM clerk. And our legislative aides: Francis Nakamura, Elizabeth Narkon, Hiroku Nakamura, and we have one volunteer, Kalani Koko Abrams. All of them, Madam President, colleagues, have worked weekends, late into the night, and I really have a profound respect for all past WAM staff and for this staff. I give you all a round of applause. Thank you.

“Madam President, I also would like to thank the members of the Ways and Means Committee, and especially my Vice Chair from Maui, Senator Tsutsui. I also thank the members of the House, representatives of the many executive agencies, and the numerous members of the public whom I’ve met both individually and collectively. I’m also appreciative of all of your input from members, the countless phone calls and e-mails my office have received that have conveyed both support and concern for the various state programs. And finally, my thanks to you, Madam President, and your staff for your assistance. And I also want to thank the two former WAM Chairs for their guidance throughout this process.

“Madam President, we are well aware there are many competing needs with limited state resources. An examination of the Governor’s proposed budget and that proposed by the House of Representatives could not make this more apparent. To balance their financial plans, both found it necessary to reduce certain programs and services that many find important. Various revenue measures, further budget reductions, the availability of federal stimulus funds, and state special funds have allowed your Committee to respond to calls to restore funding for Adult Dental Services, Partnerships in Community Living, Healthy Start, respite care, the Disability and Communications Access Board, the State Health Planning and Development Agency, and Career Kokua. In order to help fund these programs, the Committee employed a number of techniques to locate general fund savings. In addition to accepting most reductions proposed by the Governor, starting in fiscal year 2010, 105 vacant positions beyond those proposed by the Governor will be reduced, resulting in a savings of $4.7 million.

“At this point, Madam President, I must correct an error reported by one of the major newspapers that we eliminated 315 field positions in this measure. The majority of the 315 positions reported on are in fact vacant. A very limited number of filled positions are being reduced on our draft. They include 17 exempt positions that result in $1.2 million in savings. Most of the filled positions proposed for reduction are 42.5 positions related to the State’s occupational safety program. However, this reduction does not take effect until fiscal year 2011 and will allow us time to transfer this program to federal jurisdiction. Fifty-four positions equaling $19 million will be shifted to non-general funds for additional general funds savings. We also identified $7.6 million that was budgeted in excess of the requirements needed for out-of-state inmate contract. And a number of other adjustments were also made in an effort to reach the Governor’s 20 percent target reduction amounts to discretionary spending.

“Madam President, the availability of federal stimulus funds under the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 has allowed the Committee to provide a higher level of support for education than afforded by the Governor. The vague details of the Governor’s financial plan have left the Committee unable to accept some of its proposals. Of note is the $278 million in savings targeted to be achieved through savings in collective bargaining agreements. It is unclear how this late-coming proposal would attain such savings. Further, the lack of a Governor’s message to adjust the proposed budget by this amount leaves the Committee unsure of the seriousness of this proposal.

“Your Committee also made a conscious effort not to raid the Hurricane Relief Fund and the Emergency Budget Reserve Fund in the State’s financial plan. At this juncture, we were able to balance the budget without relying on these funds, but that could change in conference. If it does, we must be mindful of not exhausting the rainy day fund that may be needed should the financial condition of the State further deteriorate.

“Though no one can really say with certainty how the economic downturn will continue to unfold, responses to a recent survey of my community were unanimous that Hawai‘i has not seen the worst of it yet. Speeches made at the start of the legislative session stated that it would not be business as usual, and that people would be walking across the aisle to work together on the fiscal situation confronting us. Indeed, most have worked together in this spirit, and for that I am truly appreciative. And I encourage those who have not yet participated in this spirit to join us, to stop unnecessarily limiting options and to stop attempting to pit the House against the Senate or divide neighbor islands against O‘ahu. We in the Senate pledged early on to keep all options on the table and we have done that. Yeah, it might have been with a lot of ‘with reservations’, Madam President, but we’ve done that. We’ve moved out all of our revenue measures, including the GET, and hopefully by the end of today we will send most of the House’s revenue bills into conference.

“Madam President, your Ways and Means Committee has earnestly considered all recommendations received throughout the process of developing this budget. Colleagues, the measure before you strives to address your priorities, the desires of the community, and the concerns of the executive. We all knew at the beginning of this session that expenditures would have to be cut and some tough choices would have to be made. And although there are no tax increases in this bill, our financial plan does identify revenues to support this budget. Despite the need for cuts, many of you asked for additions, and each somehow expected someone else’s budget would be cut. And no matter how non-core a function may be, there will always be a group somewhere vehemently opposed, and the knee-jerk reaction is to put it back in. But what do we cut in its place? ‘Just find more revenues,’ you say. Okay, but we said ‘no’ to gambling and ‘yes’—you did say ‘yes’—to a possible raise in the GET. However, the House said ‘no’ to both, while the Governor promised she would veto a GET increase. We even tried borrowing the transit surcharge from the City, as you, Madam President, and our good Senator from Mānoa proposed. But the Mayor opposed that, too. And so, with limited revenue bills and a growing deficit, the Committee had no option but to consider the House’s bill retaining the entire transit accommodation tax, which I might add, would provide the Hawai‘i Health Systems Corporation $30 million each year of the biennium to support its hospitals and the lion’s share of which would be needed by neighbor island facilities.

“So, Madam President, colleagues, the time for tough choices is upon us. I urge you to join me in supporting the product of our shared efforts to shape a responsible expenditure plan that enhances government efficiency and minimizes impacts to vital state services. Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Slom rose in support of the measure with reservations and stated:

“First of all, I too would commend the Ways and Means Chair, the Committee, and the staff for their hard work. I can say that this probably without a doubt has been the most difficult budget that we’ve had to work with in anyone’s memory. And I commend the Chair because of the transparency that’s gone into the budget. But it is a big budget and there are other bills—tax bills and others—and I am one of those voices that says that really, if we want to genuinely improve the economy and standard of living for everyone, then it is a question of enhancing the business climate, the investment climate, so that more people are willing to do business, create jobs, pay salaries, stay in business, and make a profit in this state. And if I had my way, we would revert to a zero-based budget so that every two years we would start from zero and have to put back each point, point by point. Part of the problem is—and the Ways and Means Chair indicated this—everyone has their pet projects and they say, ‘Well, I’m all for cutting, except for this project and that project.’ And, of course, that highlights the problem that we’ve had year after year and that is: We continue to add new programs, new offices, and more money to existing programs even though we don’t hold them accountable. I don’t think that we’ve done as good a job as we could in terms of absolute prioritizing because we’re not looking at this from a business model, an investment model. We’re looking at it from a political model.

“So we will go into conference committee, and we’ll see what happens there. The only problem is for the public: there’s no input from the public in the conference process. Most of us, even if we’re on the committee, don’t see any action until the very last moment when a conference committee draft is proposed.

“In all of this, we’re still overlooking the fact that all of the money, all of the revenue, doesn’t come from the people in this room, in this hall; it comes from the taxpayers, the families, the small businesses out there. And I think it disingenuous that we talk about holding the line and making serious cuts as we’re proposing here in the budget when in the other bills we’re seeking new tax increases, more mandates, more prohibitions, more regulations. And in fact even the so-called ‘stimulus funds,’ which I look at as greater debt for all of us, as I’ve pointed out before, the stimulus bill itself is 1,000 pages but there are 66 pages of prohibitions and restrictions and mandates as to what the state must do, what the departments must do, and some of those mandates may not be in our best interest. And now we’ve seen in the last couple days that some of the institutions that have already been the recipients of stimulus money have tried to give it back and they were denied by the federal government. Others tried not to accept it. And they were told by the federal government, ‘You will accept it, and you will accept our rules.’ And so, in a state that is so much concerned about sovereignty, I think we have to be extra careful that we don’t give away even more of our sovereignty for the lure of federal dollars, all of which—federal dollars, state dollars, county dollars—all come from the same pockets of the hardworking men and women in this state. Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Hooser rose in support to this measure and stated:

“I want to just add my accolades, if you would, for a moment, to the Chair of the Committee and the Vice Chair. I think the Chair did an excellent job steering the Committee through some very turbulent waters. And the Committee members themselves also, through these discussions, have come to realize that it’s not all about what we’re going to pay for, but it’s also about how we’re going to pay for it.

“You know, I would be less than honest if I said I liked it all, and I don’t. I think most of us have some mixed emotions on this. We prefer less cuts to our particular subject matter preferences. I’d prefer that we would’ve supported human services, education, environmental programs more, prefer not to raise taxes, but then I realized, Madam President, colleagues, that we cannot have it all. And I think to vote here in support of the budget and to vote against the revenue components that we’ve already had on our agenda is somewhat disingenuous because we cannot—we cannot—do what we’re proposing to do here without making some of those hard revenue choices. So those throughout this chamber who are not supporting those, I encourage you to reconsider and give it some serious thought on how we’re going to pay for this, or else go to the Chair and express what areas of the budget you’d like to further cut rather than raise those taxes or raid those funds.

“There’s some very difficult choices we have to make. The Governor’s made some of those choices. The House has made some of those choices. And now we move forward to reconcile our differences. Like everyone here the past 3 months, you know, my door has been full, my office has been full, a line extending out the door sometimes. People lining up to say, ‘No, don’t cut my program. Don’t cut my job. Don’t cut the environment. Don’t cut education. Don’t cut human services. Don’t cut business. Don’t cut high tech tax credits. You name it; everyone says, ‘No, no, no, no.’ Very few have come and said, ‘You know, I understand. You folks have to cut some. Please cut me a little bit and save these important parts.’ And I know the Chair and the Committee is very grateful to those departments and those programs who have taken that approach and helped us make these tough decisions. You know, so we have to make these tough decisions. Some would say that we can’t. Business cannot pay a price, tourists cannot pay a price, wealthy cannot pay a price, but it’s okay for the mentally ill, schools and libraries, health and human services to pay the price. But this budget, I believe, spreads the pain, spreads the benefits throughout and, President, colleagues, given the circumstance, this budget and related bills does attempt to spread those impacts throughout. I encourage everyone to vote in support, and before I close, I want to add my accolades also to the staff of the Ways and Means Committee who are the audience today. I’m here late and I’m here early, and usually there’s someone from Ways and Means working before I get here and working after I go home. And they burn the midnight oil. They’ve done above and beyond the call of duty, and for the record, they’re all public workers, and I think we should applaud them and I encourage my colleagues to vote in support. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 200, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE STATE BUDGET,” passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“There’s no question that genetics, genetic engineering, and everything to do with genetics is extremely important nationally, as well as locally. As far as creating another licensing program, however, it’s my understanding that the legislative auditor said that this is unnecessary. And I think we should be looking at things if they’re unnecessary, we should not be doing them at this time. Thank you.”

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Certainly, I think we should all be concerned about illegal immigrants working, whether it's in contracting or anything else. This bill penalizes contractors however; singles them out and allows for revocation or suspension of their license, putting the burden of proof on them rather than the burden of proof on illegal immigrants. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1238 was adopted and H.B. No. 643, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CONTRACTORS," passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Galuteria rose in support of the measure and stated:

"Colleagues, this bill repeals the Hawai'i Tourism Authority and establishes a Department of Tourism to replace it. As a veteran of the travel industry, please know that this action is not contemplated without due consideration. Furthermore, as a freshman in this esteemed body, even I know that the creation of a new state department is a drastic measure. However, as legislators, we're tasked with asking the hard questions and making the hard calls. And during these trying economic times, it's doubly important to take those measures of accountability and recalibrate, if necessary, and therein lies the basis for my comments.

"So colleagues, I'm convinced of the necessity for much greater industry accountability after sitting through numerous hearings in Chair Nishihara's Tourism Committee where I asked time and time again the same questions: 'Who runs tourism? Who's in charge? Who's accountable?' As straightforward as these questions seem, they were not answered simply or succinctly by any of the top players of the industry. But ironically after further review, it wasn't due to their perceived evasiveness; I suspect the fundamental make up of visitor industry accountability is in question. As an example, our state Tourism Strategic Plan 2005-2015 indicates, as its strategic framework, nine areas or strands of responsibility that range from access—which is the maintenance and improvement of all access points to and from and within Hawai'i, that's the airports and harbors and so on—to marketing, natural resources, research and planning, safety and security, Hawaiian culture, tourism product development, communications and outreach, and workforce development. The Hawai'i Tourism Authority is recognized as the lead agency in three of these strands and support agency for the rest. However, the HTA has asked to be the sinew or the facilitator of discussion between the other designated lead agencies—DLNR, DOT, DLIR, and the State Foundation on Culture and the Arts. Now they do this via the board of directors where the agencies sit as ex-officio members. Now in a perfect world, dialogue that affects the industry would be engaged on that table. In fact, however, quite often these ex-officio board members did not even attend the board meetings. There is little to suggest that initiatives, such as the DLNR's Recreational Renaissance or DOT's airport or harbors modernization initiative, entered into any meaningful dialogue with the travel industry. They could have, perhaps, but there's nothing on record for review. So the question arises once again, where's the accountability?

"Repealing HTA and creating the Department of Tourism is not meant to be or intended to be a short-term fix. Colleagues, it will be setting the foundation for a healthy and strong tourism industry which is vitally important to our state's financial well-being far into the future when none of us are here, and none of the current leaders in the travel industry will be here either. Furthermore, I'd like to clear up any obvious confusion that might arise as a result of having this measure proposed while simultaneously advancing several other measures that were intended to strengthen the HTA. Systematic accountability requires immediate action and the other measures, H.B. No. 754 and H.B. No. 960, would provide a vehicle to drive us in that direction until we can institute a more permanent, strong and viable solution. Moreover, a new Department of Tourism would not be up and operational in timely enough a manner to face head-first the current, serious tourist-related difficulties. But, it does prepare for a new administration to develop a department for the major industry in our state.

"In closing, I'd like to propose a question that perhaps you might feel is a little glib, but if we must have a Department of Agriculture, then why wouldn't we have a Department of Tourism? We have 15 state departments and agencies, and tourism is tucked neatly into one of them almost as an afterthought. That is not acceptable. Tourism is Hawai'i's economic engine and it deserves to have a seat at the big table, represented by a cabinet-level official. As I see it, along with several other colleagues, this is the best step that we can take to ensure that the central questions—Who runs tourism? Who's in charge? Who's accountable?—can be answered. And the answer, we have before us, colleagues, it's called the Department of Tourism. For these reasons, I strongly support H.B. No. 1763, H.D. 2, S.D. 1 and I urge you to support it as well. Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"I, too, attended the hearings in the Tourism Committee and listened to the debate and the discussion, and I can say in full disclosure, years ago I was in opposition to the creation of the Hawai'i Tourism Authority. It's just something in my DNA; I don't like the word 'authority,' you know, involved in this organization. But the industry wanted it, those in government wanted it at the time, and they wanted an independent body staffed by and volunteered by those professionals within the industry. They felt that was much better than a government department telling the industry what to do.

“I think, generally speaking, the HTA has proven itself quite well in most instances. I recall, however, that a number of years ago, there were problems with the Board not getting information, or the Board not being diversified, the Board not attending certain meetings. And to some extent that has been rectified, but we still have a problem with people that have not participated fully. But I view this kind of legislation as announcing that you’re going to replace the basketball coach during half-time of the big game. Even though a proposed Department of Tourism won’t be up and running for some time, this sends a message, not only to the employees and leaders and volunteers in the HTA, but also to the industry that we’re trying to stabilize and trying to enhance. If the state government doesn’t have credibility with or support of the HTA, then those vendors and those people that the HTA does business with will not have that support and credibility also. So I think that this maybe something that we want to look at and probably determine later on. I don’t think this is the time to do it and I don’t think putting this all under government is the way to go. I think we heard in some of the comments, the political ramifications of doing this, rather than allowing the semi-autonomous or independent status of the HTA. I think what we should be doing is rectifying those areas that we feel are not being done properly, taking a very close look at the funding and the marketing programs and all that, but without a doubt, without this industry as strong as it can be, all of us suffer because it is Hawai’i’s number one industry. I don’t see any savings that have been proposed. I don’t see any more effectiveness or productivity by having it state government. The HTA still comes to the big table, they still have the influence, they still have the ability to turn the industry around, and I think we should give them our support. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1245 was adopted and H.B. No. 1763, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HAWAII TOURISM AUTHORITY,” passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, 2 (Hemmings, Slom).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1247 (H.B. No. 899, H.D. 1, S.D. 1):

Senator Kim moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1247 be adopted and H.B. No. 899, H.D. 1, S.D. 1 pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Slom rose in support of the measure with reservations and stated:

“I think that we need to take a much closer look at the OHA budgeting and OHA expenditures, and I’m particularly troubled by the portion in the bill that allows for OHA to issue revenue bonds without any oversight or jurisdiction by the State Legislature. Let’s remember if we can: OHA is a state agency, and OHA should be subject to the same requirements as any other state agency. And we usually put these other agencies under a great deal of scrutiny particularly when it comes to finances, but we let that slide with OHA, and I think it’s time that we take a closer look and have more transparency. Thank you.”

Senator Hemmings rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“You know, we’re all sharing in these problems that we face in the state, and everybody has to tighten their belts during this and raid funds and oftentimes raid human service programs, and cut back on programs that literally help the sick and the hungry and those in most need in our society. And the good Senator from Hawai’i Kai is exactly right. OHA is a state agency, and I’m very pleased that the very astute Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee saw fit in certain areas to have OHA pay for more of its own management running through its own resources.

“But I should point out to all of us that there are a number of targeted Hawaiian programs that are not paid for by OHA, including Department of Hawaiian Home Lands; and it’s important to note that the Office of Hawaiian Affairs is sitting on over $300 million in trust assets. These assets are very clearly and fairly set aside to benefit the Hawaiians, and they should, and they should, through the budget process. So, you were looking for ways to better improve the budget without necessarily having to raise taxes. My suggestion would be, quite constructively, to have the trust fund help pay for Hawaiian programs, including Department of Hawaiian Home Lands. Clearly, that’s what that money’s supposed to do—benefit the Hawaiians—and clearly it should, and this would be a huge savings because many programs that are currently benefitting specifically the Hawaiians are being funded through A Funds or other special funds. So, with that in mind, I think this is an opportunity to have this budget be more accountable to the larger picture here in Hawai’i. That is my suggestion. Thank you, Madam President.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1247 was adopted and H.B. No. 899, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE OFFICE OF HAWAIIAN AFFAIRS,” passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Ayes with Reservations, 1 (Slom). Noes, 1 (Hemmings).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1248 (H.B. No. 1175, H.D. 3, S.D. 2):

Senator Tsutsui moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1248 be adopted and H.B. No. 1175, H.D. 3, S.D. 2 pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“I oppose it because it’s a tax increase. I oppose it because it is another bill aimed at people who are becoming more and more of a minority in this state: cigarette smokers who are involved in a legal activity. And yet, we’re taxing them to the brink where they will not purchase their products here, thus hurting also those retailers that deal in these products. And we do it just enough; we just raise the tax enough each year so that they continue to provide revenue for other services. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1248 was adopted and H.B. No. 1175, H.D. 3, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION,” passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Kim moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1254 be adopted and H.B. No. 895, H.D. 2, S.D. 2 pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Hooser rose in support to this measure with reservations and stated:

"Madam President, colleagues, I have no problem raising the taxes on most of these products—the ones that are targeted toward children, the flavored cigarettes, the new methods of delivery that the tobacco companies have come up with to deliver nicotine. If we tax some of those very bad products out of existence, I would be okay with that.

"There is a subcategory in this; that is hand-rolled cigars made from locally-grown tobacco on Kaua'i and I believe other places in the state. It's a specialty product. It's aimed at adults. It's more of, again, a specialty product; it's definitely not marketed to children, and I'm hoping that the conference committee will consider making this a separate category, and raise the taxes as they must but perhaps not as much as the other products. So, therefore, I am expressing a vote of reservations. Thank you."

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Unlike the previous speaker, I do take umbrage with raising the taxes, and this tax is particularly onerous on tobacco products other than cigarettes. It raises the tax to 60 percent of the wholesale price this year, then it goes to 70 percent, then in two years goes to 90 percent. It's confiscatory taxation and it doesn't allow for any alternatives to legal tobacco use. Thank you."

Senator Baker rose in support of the measure and stated:

"Madam President, statistics have shown us that when we raise the tax on cigarettes it has a deterrent effect, particularly among young people. The similar will be true on snuff and assorted other tobacco products that are just as harmful to a person's health. It's also been shown that if there is a precipitous rise in the tax on one product and not on the other, that you're just shifting people over to that other product. This is an attempt to level the playing field with similar taxes on all of these products that have a deleterious effect on peoples' health. Thank you, Madam President."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1254 was adopted and H.B. No. 895, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAX ON TOBACCO PRODUCTS OTHER THAN CIGARETTES,"

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"What this bill would do is to extend civil service benefits and coverage to those that, in fact, have not yet been covered by civil service. I think it's premature, and if they become civil service employees, then they can get the benefits there, too. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1268 was adopted and H.B. No. 541, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CIVIL SERVICE PERSONNEL," passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Primarily, I don't object to having a mobile medical van, but I think that it clearly is an inappropriate use of the homeland security funds for this purpose, and in fact may be challenged later. Thank you."

Senator Green rose in support of the measure with reservations and stated:

"Having mobile medical vans and providing extra care is good, especially in rural areas, but we have to be careful that it not distract us from the greater job at hand, which is stabilizing the health care system, and we do have some very comprehensive legislation to do that. I think that people sometimes get the wrong ideas when they hear that we've solved the problem with a quick fix or we're just putting our thumb in the dam, but this will really provide only very minimal care as compared to our community hospitals on the neighbor islands. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1270 was adopted and H.B. No. 317, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MOBILE MEDICAL CARE," passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"I oppose this bill as I've always opposed this bill. This bill not only is an increased tax on the consumers of Hawai'i, but now it's no longer a backdoor tax on the Internet. It's a full frontal attack on the Internet. It's not just a question of trying to recapture tax funds that are due us, but it is an entirely new direction of all of the states and the federal government looking at the Internet because it's so popular and because it offers true choice and alternatives for consumers all over the country. So the immediate response is, 'Let's tax it and let's tax it well.' I think it's a mistake. I think it's going to be costly to our residents, particularly. Thank you."

Senator Fukunaga rose in support of the measure and stated:

"I rise to speak in support of this measure and to correct some of the comments that were made by the prior speaker. On the contrary, this bill is really seeking to level the playing field for Hawai'i retailers, and the bill in its original form would have sought to capture those e-commerce sales taxes that would accrue through what is commonly known as 'click-throughs.'

So if you have a local website and you redirect traffic from your website to other retailers like eBay or Amazon.com, then you as a small, Hawai'i e-commerce retailer receive affiliate fees from the larger, Internet web retailer to assist you in defraying the costs of your website. However, the Streamlined Sales and Use Tax Project is really an effort to help states collect all use taxes on out-of-state purchases, so unlike the situation that the prior speaker was referring to, we have amended the bill to provide a more comprehensive means of collecting use taxes on catalog sales, direct mail, as well as e-commerce. For those reasons, I would urge my colleagues to vote in support of this measure. Thank you."

Senator Hemmings rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"In talking about 'clicking,' I would imagine in the future, with us heading towards an economy that's worldwide through the Internet and goods and services being provided by off-shore countries and businesses, that people will very easily click through to buying their airline ticket, for instance, through New Zealand or buying their Land's End shirt directly from China, and therefore we will not collect any taxes. So, this may be a huge step in the wrong direction for balancing the playing field to the advantage of our foreign economies and foreign competitors. Thank you, Madam President."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1278 was adopted and H.B. No. 1405, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE GENERAL EXCISE TAX," passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom rose in support of the measure with reservations and stated:

"This is our annual bill where we pay off people. I would still urge—because as the bill goes further, the amounts get larger—that we look at the individual expenditures much closer, and that we urge in many cases that action be taken rather than just settle or pay people off. Otherwise, we are in the tradition of the Somali pirates where we have things taken and we simply pay for them. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1279 was adopted and H.B. No. 1016, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING APPROPRIATIONS FOR CLAIMS AGAINST THE STATE, ITS OFFICERS, OR ITS EMPLOYEES," passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"This bill is back again, the so-called 'clothesline' bill. And while it was amended and is not as onerous as it was last year, it still interferes with contracts and with associations and communities who want to regulate their own sense of appeal. And while I certainly don't discourage the use of clotheslines, I do discourage the use of government intervention in private contracts. Thank you."

"We continue to talk nationally and locally about universal health care. If any state has the closest thing to universal health care, it's been Hawai'i for more than 35 years. It's not universal health care that will solve our health problems, and universal health care is only a convenient way of transferring who gets to pay. If we're concerned about making reforms and changes within health care, then we should pinpoint and focus on those changes. But just having additional spending, taxation and shifting the burden of payment under universal health care is not going to improve the system. Thank you."

“I think it is bad precedent to put fees in statute form, rather than allowing for administrative fee determination. If you have the administration or the agency determining, they must have a public hearing. There can be input and so forth. There can be increases, as well as decreases, as we’ve seen recently in DCCA. If you put it in statute, there’s no hearings, there’s no discussion, there’s no movement on the fees. Thank you.”

Senator Tokuda rose in support of the measure and stated:

“While much has been said about this bill and the proponents behind it, we must wade through the rhetoric and the years of mistrust to see this measure for what it really is: a chance for the University of Hawai’i and for all of us to do the right thing for Mauna Kea. I think we can all agree that in the past serious mistakes were made, and in the absence of best practices, Mauna Kea was not given the respect it deserved and suffered severe damage. But since that time, we’ve seen the creation of the 2000 Master Plan; the establishment of the Office of Mauna Kea Management; a recognition of the importance of Hawaiian culture and knowledge through the advice and counsel of the Kahu Ku Mauna Council; the need to protect the mountain from inappropriate behavior through the Mauna Kea Ranger Corps; and most recently, the completion and final acceptance by the State Land Board of the comprehensive master plan. These are all important pieces that need one thing to bring them together: the ability to promulgate and enforce culturally sensitive and appropriate rules to manage the Mauna Kea lands.

"Oftentimes we are critical of departments or agencies for not following through on the recommendations of the Office of the State Auditor. In both her 1998 and 2005 reports, while she notes improvements made, it clearly states that the University still faces management challenges, specifically the lack of administrative rulemaking authority. They state that under the general lease, the University is responsible for the protection of cultural and natural resources within its jurisdiction, but currently does not provide protection due to its lack of authority to establish or enforce administrative rules for the science reserve. This measure would directly address and follow through on these Auditor's specific recommendations.

"Recently, statements have been made that this bill directly contradicts the Land Board's ruling last week, would allow the University to restrict public access, would limit cultural practices, and establish a private police force. Having sat through an extensive hearing with all parties involved at the table, I can assure you that these statements are absolutely not true. What is true is the chair of the Land Board has testified in support of granting UH rulemaking authority so as to allow them to manage and regulate activities on Mauna Kea. Both the University and the DLNR have fully acknowledged and recognized that the Land Board has the final authority to approve all land uses within conservation lands and all uses would be subject to final review and approval by the Land Board. This bill would not change nor challenge this authority. On the contrary, this measure would provide a management framework to manage the valued cultural and natural resources on Mauna Kea. This bill will also not allow the University to restrict public access or limit cultural practices. Your Senate Committees, in an effort to strengthen the bill's recognition of native Hawaiian's cultural practices and rites, has strengthened the measure's PASH language and has required the University to develop and enforce rules and fines in consultation with the Office of Hawaiian Affairs. We have also strongly encouraged, in the committee report, that the University consult with the plaintiffs in the civil case Mauna Kea Anaina Hou vs. the BLNR in all of their efforts moving forward. This bill would not establish a private police force. The Ranger Corps form under the jurisdiction of the Office of Mauna Kea Management, which is based out of the University of Hawai'i at Hilo, and like the University, are subject to the terms and conditions of the lease agreement with the Board of Land and Natural Resources. Currently, all the Ranger Corps can do is witness the desecration and damage being inflicted upon the mountain. By granting rulemaking authority and allowing the University to assess and collect administrative fines, we can now truly protect and preserve this culturally and ecologically important area.

"Parallel and complimentary to this bill is the final approval and conditions imposed upon the Comprehensive Management Plan by the Land Board. One of the concerns raised during our hearing was that this bill would allow the University to have an unlimited capacity to increase telescope construction and commercialize the mountain while offering no plan to remove obsolete telescopes. Any new telescope or any new commercial activity or use would have to go through an extensive public process including DLNR's own CDUP process. In addition, while the University has acknowledged that they were going to begin to look at the process of decommissioning telescopes, one of the Land Board's conditions will be requiring them to develop a sub-plan on this very issue within one year.

"We could go on and on debating the merits and dispelling the myths surrounding this measure and the management of Mauna Kea, but at the end of the day, colleagues, I hope that you will support the passage of this measure as a means of truly protecting and preserving this important area. Thank you."

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Hawai'i's prepaid health care act requires right now that an employer must provide health insurance coverage for any employee working more than 19 hours per week. What this bill does is reduce that number to 15. It's going to have a deleterious effect on both employers and employees because a number of employees already are having their hours cut back. This will ensure that their hours are cut back more because the employers will not be able to afford coverage for the employee and their family as required by this act. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1332 was adopted and H.B. No. 690, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO INSURANCE," passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom rose in support of the measure and stated:

“This is the so-called ‘Karen’s Law’ legislation, and I’m happy that we’re going to be passing it today. However, I am a little disappointed that the bill was amended that limits the applicability to murder in the first degree. The original legislation had murder in the first degree and second degree, and also to cases where the minor has not been charged with any other criminal offenses arising from the same incident. But this is a very positive piece of legislation. Unfortunately, it came too late for Karen Ertell.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1336 was adopted and H.B. No. 819, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CRIME,” passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“You know, we can dress it up any way we want, this card check bill, this unionization bill. What it does though is basically take away the right of secret ballot and voting from employees. Secondly, what it does is to allow union organization to be exempted from trespass and other property violation laws, and it’s just a bad piece of legislation all the way around. Even at the federal level, they are still jockeying back and forth in trying to amend that position, but this is probably the broadest piece of legislation of any of the states. And when we talk about supporting business—we talk about supporting employers, we talk about creating a better business climate—this is the number one bill that all business organizations have testified against. The Chamber of Commerce had more than 100 business owners here the other day, visiting all of our offices. This was the number one thing that they said: ‘Please do not pass this bill.’ I urge my colleagues to rethink supporting this bill. Thank you.”

Senators Kim, Chun Oakland, Gabbard, Ige, Espero, and Kidani requested their votes be cast “aye, with reservations,” and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1340 was adopted and H.B. No. 952, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO LABOR,” passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

On motion by Senator Baker, seconded by Senator Ige and carried, the Senate agreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 426, and S.B. No. 426, H.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO DENTISTRY,” passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Ihara).

S.B. No. 715, H.D. 1:

Senator English moved that S.B. No. 715, H.D. 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Gabbard.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“It’s a short bill and it looks very innocuous, but on page 2, lines 5-13, the way I read it and interpret it, it means that the State can be on the financial hook for a county-operated transportation system ‘that may require state financial assistance for a twenty-year period.’ The only county-operated transportation system I’m aware of is the City and County of Honolulu ‘train to nowhere’, the $6 billion financial disaster. And for this bill to put the State in financial obligation for up to 20 years for this, I think is a gross mistake and a hardship on the taxpayers, and I urge consideration and a ‘no’ vote. Thank you.”

At 11:45 a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 11:50 a.m.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, the Senate agreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 715, and S.B. No. 715, H.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TRANSPORTATION,” passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Noes, 2 (Hemmings, Slom). Excused, 1 (Ihara).

THIRD READING

H.B. No. 1663, H.D. 1, S.D. 2:

Senator Gabbard moved that H.B. No. 1663, H.D. 1, S.D. 2 pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator English.

Senator Tokuda rose in support of the measure and stated:

“The issue of genetically modifying taro has drawn a wide range of supporters and detractors to the debate, and it is my belief that this bill strikes a middle ground and proposes a compromise that has been put forth by taro growers from across the state. While the measure does not call for the prohibition of transgenic research and development on all taro varieties, it does acknowledge and respects the cultural importance of Hawaiian varieties of taro unique to these islands. In addition to prohibiting the development, testing, propagation, release and importation of genetically modified Hawaiian varieties of taro in the State of Hawai‘i, this measure would also prohibit the field testing, propagation, and planting of any genetically modified taro. It should also be noted that while lab testing on those varieties not unique to Hawai‘i, such as Bun long and araimo, will be allowed, the tenets of the bill strictly dictate the security conditions that will be required to ensure the containment of the research to the facility.

“This measure would also sunset in 5 years. In the agricultural world, much can happen during this time and perhaps at that point we will be that much wiser in understanding the threats, the opportunities, and the safeguards needed to sustain traditional and non-traditional taro production in Hawai‘i. Leaf blight, the Alomae-Bobone virus, the taro beetle, and other threats have ravished and decimated taro production and severely impacted food supplies in our Pacific island neighbors of Samoa, Papua New Guinea and the Solomon Islands. While locally we have struggled with the apple snail and leaf blight, many in the industry know that it is just a matter of time when an even more serious and potentially devastating threat will arrive on our shores. With over one million pounds of unchecked and unaccounted for taro being imported into Hawai‘i each year, threats to our taro industry hide behind a cloud of federal preemption, currently making it impossible to adequately protect ourselves from possible blight and infestation. When that day comes, it is important that we have an arsenal of tools ready to combat these threats. This includes breeding techniques to improve disease resistance, an understanding of quarantine and field sanitation measures found to be successful in other countries, and the dissemination of disease-resistant cultivars. Being prepared also means having the best available science that can help us better understand the threats facing taro and ways to strengthen our crops. That is what this bill, as amended, hopes to achieve: a balance that respects the will and the desire of native Hawaiians to protect and preserve varieties unique to these islands, while allowing laboratory-based research to continue in preparation for that day when Hawai‘i’s taro industry will need all the help it can get.

“Colleagues, it is my sincerest hope that the discussions on how to best protect and preserve the purity of Hawaiian varieties of taro will continue, but at the same time, this bill is a step in the right direction towards the preferred future that we all want to see: a sustainable Hawai‘i, where the most ancient of taro varieties are preserved and perpetuated, and where all varieties contribute to the sustenance and economic vitality of our state. Thank you.”

Senator Hemmings rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“I want to preface my comments by saying I really appreciate the hard work, diligence, and the efforts to reach some resolution on this matter by the previous speaker. It is a laudable effort, and we all do want to preserve the culturally rich heritage of taro growing and the taro itself here in Hawai‘i. But I would suggest that by passing this bill, we may put taro at great jeopardy.

“The previous speaker did enumerate some instances in the other South Pacific islands where entire crops have been wiped out; so could be true of taro here in Hawai‘i. We’re living in perilous times when it comes to the world and how fast diseases and pandemics and blight travel around the world. Within five years, it’d very easily imaginable that the entire taro industry could be decimated, and Hawaiian taro as we know it could be wiped out entirely by some unknown blight.

“It was mentioned also in the previous speaker’s presentation to you that we can utilize breeding techniques to further protect endemic species. Well, that’s basically what genetic modification is; it is science speeding up the process of genetic modification to protect or enhance the value of a certain breed of plant or animal. Therefore we have within our power, because of the wisdom of humankind to protect and further make viable economically, the taros of Hawai‘i. Both of those goals, I think, we all would share. This bill does just the opposite. It will stop progress on protecting Hawaiian taro and protecting the integrity of the native Hawaiian plant—not only integrity of it but also the very survival of it.

“Something was mentioned about compromise. Compromise is a wonderful thing and it’s absolutely necessary in our process. However, sometimes when you compromise with wrong, what you end up with is wrong; and I would say this bill is the wrong bill at the wrong time for the best interests of Hawaiian taro. Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“I, too, would like to thank the efforts of the Chair and the Committee. We’ve discussed this bill, or some style of it, for the last several years. And I think possibly that the real problem here is that in trying to stop research in this specific area, we are very selective in what we do. I think it’s been brought up on the Senate floor, for example, also in the last couple years, about research that’s going on in Kaka’ako dealing with potentially very deadly viruses that could, if not totally secure, hurt our entire human population here. We’ve also been very selective when we’ve discussed things like embryonic stem cell research and other areas as well. And if we look back over the testimony of the people that opposed this measure over the years, it is the scientific community, it is the agriculture community, the very community that stresses agricultural viability and also sustainability. So, I think that while we’re making a step in the right direction, the step is not far enough. And as the good Senate Minority leader said that if you’re compromising and you’re compromising with something that may be erroneous from the beginning, you still wind up with wrong result. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 1663, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TARO SECURITY,” passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

H.B. No. 1148, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

On motion by Senator Taniguchi, seconded by Senator Takamine and carried, H.B. No. 1148, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC AGENCY MEETINGS,” passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Ihara).

H.B. No. 1031, S.D. 3:

On motion by Senator Taniguchi, seconded by Senator Takamine and carried, H.B. No. 1031, S.D. 3, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CHAPTER 480, HAWAII REVISED STATUTES,” passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Ihara).

At this time, the Chair made the following announcement:

“Members, before proceeding any further, I would like to clarify the record on the next item on the Order of the Day—H.B. No. 984, S.D. 2.

“For the members’ information, two versions of this bill have been filed as H.B. No. 984, S.D. 2. The first was the draft filed with Standing Committee Report No. 1314 from the Committee on Ways and Means on April 9, 2009, which recommended that H.B. No. 984, S.D. 2 pass Third Reading.

“On Tuesday, April 14, we amended H.B. No. 984, S.D. 2 by adopting Floor Amendment No. 7. However, due to a typographical error, the bill attached to the floor amendment was designated as Senate Draft 2, which resulted in the creation of two versions of H.B. No. 984, S.D. 2.

“For the purpose of clarifying today’s Third Reading vote, we are voting on the second and subsequent version of H.B. No. 984, S.D. 2, that was attached to Floor Amendment No. 7. This version was printed and distributed to the members at Tuesday’s floor session and the constitutionally required 48-hour notice of its final form prior to today’s Third Reading vote has been satisfied.”

H.B. No. 984, H.D. 4, S.D. 2:

Senator Kim moved that H.B. No. 984, H.D. 4, S.D. 2 pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator English rose to speak with reservations on the measure and said:

“Madam President, I’d like to register a ‘reservation’ on this measure because it took out the provisions protecting the PEG access group, so I’m hoping that that would be restored in conference. Thank you.”

Senators Slom, Tsutsui, and Kim requested their votes be cast “aye, with reservations,” and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 984, H.D. 4, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TECHNOLOGY,” passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Ayes with Reservations, 4 (English, Kim, Slom, Tsutsui). Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Ihara).

H.B. No. 611, H.D. 1, S.D. 2:

On motion by Senator Kim, seconded by Senator Tsutsui and carried, H.B. No. 611, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION,” passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Ihara).

H.B. No. 1766, H.D. 2, S.D. 3:

Senator Kim moved that H.B. No. 1766, H.D. 2, S.D. 3 pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Hemmings rose in support of the measure and stated:

“I’d like to illuminate that the battle at the Ala Wai and, to a certain extent, at Ke’ehi Lagoon has been long-standing, and this bill will go a long way in providing the state the resources to improve the situations in both those harbors; most especially the Ala Wai, where you have certain long-term, vested special interest—specific boat owners that want to protect their dominion while the state likewise does not have the resources to improve our harbors. This bill will help solve those problems. But I would suggest, because of an amendment, this bill could go a lot farther, and it’s important for us to look at the maritime industry in our harbors. The findings clause to this bill says that the state operates and manages 21 harbors, 50 boat ramps, 2,122 moorings and berths, and 19 piers spread throughout the various counties of this state. ‘The legislature finds that these ocean recreation facilities, in light of the present demand, are in short supply’—that’s a very important statement. ‘In most cases, where they exist, are in dire need of long overdue repair and maintenance. Some facilities are in such need of repair and replacement that they cannot be used and pose a public safety hazard.’ That’s truly unfortunate and it is, unfortunately, so true. It’s important to add to those statistics that we are the fourth largest coastline in the nation—of course, Alaska, California, and Florida have more coastline—but yet with all the ocean activity that we have and could have here in Hawai‘i and considering the size of our coastline, we have the least amount of recreational mooring space for our public than any other state in the nation. In fact, it’s sad to say that many, if not most, of the land-locked states have more recreational space on their lakes than we have in the State of Hawai‘i. Not to mention that maritime industries could be a huge economic engine for the beleaguered Hawaiian economy.

“This bill took out a line that was in H.D. 2 which would have assisted the state in creating public-private partnerships to develop recreational resources, and that said, ‘the prior authorization by the legislature by concurrent resolution for the lease of submerged lands shall not be required.’ That should apply to every harbor. If we could lease submerged lands, we could have what most other states do: private-public partnerships in developing recreational resources for the people of Hawai‘i. Now I’ve heard it said that, ‘Well, we can’t do that because it is privatization and the public would not have access to leased facilities.’ That could be very easily remedied by leases that demand that the public does have 100 percent access, especially with regard to mooring ramps, and that a certain number of slips would be set aside at state rates. Right now, we have 100 percent access to nothing because of our limited space. So, if we had access through public-private partnerships and public access for people driving their boats from home or being allowed at state rates to lease space, it would create way more public access than we have now. So, I’m hoping in conference, when this bill goes there, that the leaders of the conference committees will take a look at opening up our state to public-private partnerships to develop marinas throughout this state, which is done healthily in other countries and in other parts of this nation. We could actually have a maritime industry, and Hawai‘i could really be one of the great stopping places for boats, recreational and otherwise, plying the Pacific basin. This step is a small step in the right direction, but it’s a small step and I’m hoping that we could take a much bigger one. Thank you, Madam President.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 1766, H.D. 2, S.D. 3, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SMALL BOAT HARBORS,” passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Ihara).

At this time, the Chair made the following announcement:

“Referrals and re-referrals are made in accordance with the Supplemental Order of the Day that may be distributed to your offices later this afternoon.”

Senator Hemmings rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"The title of this bill is 'Urging Congress to Approve the United States National Health Care Act.' Certainly, we need a remedy to the nation's health care problems, but having politicians in Washington, D.C., added to the mix is certainly not going to drive down the cost anywhere; it's just going to redistribute who pays and when they pay. There's a long history regarding the nationalization and the politicization of programs that could be served better by competition in the marketplace called 'free enterprise.' The biggest one is Social Security; it is a monopoly, a Ponzi scheme of the worst sorts. It's supposed to be bankrupt in 2032. It's going to cause financial havoc, so either young people who are working today paying in the system aren't going to get benefits or everybody's going to have to pay more taxes to take care of it. Two of the biggest costs in the federal government are two other monopoly programs, Medicaid and Medicare; the subsidized, one-size-fits-all care for the elderly and the people who cannot afford their own healthcare. Both of these programs have tremendous costs that largely impact the cost of running state government. My point being, that having federal government run these programs takes the control of our destiny out of the hands of the individual citizens and creates government-sanctioned monopolies that end up actually costing more and create long-term debt way beyond our ability to pay off, which is exactly what's happening at the national level.

"I would urge our congressional delegation and other enlightened leaders in Washington, D.C., to look at ways to empower different agencies in different businesses in the marketplace of health care insurance to compete to bring the best product possible at the best price to the consumers of America. We do have ways to take care of those who cannot afford total health care for themselves and, of course, we do have ways to try to preempt the needy from having health care in the first place by more health maintenance on their own part. So there are options to the monopoly of the national health care system, and I'll be voting 'no' because I think this is just going to be another national disaster like programs we've just spoken of. Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Slom requested that his vote be cast "No," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and S.C.R. No. 172, S.D. 1, entitled: "SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION URGING CONGRESS TO APPROVE THE UNITED STATES

Senator Gabbard moved that S.B. No. 1260, S.D. 1, H.D. 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Kim.

Senator Hemmings rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"I voted 'yes' on these bills in committees, but after further rumination on it, I believe it is a perplexing problem. On one hand, we want to balance the playing field and remove the exemption of fees for air pollution emissions for one of the state's biggest polluters, Hawaiian Electric, in excess of 400 tons. They were not paying an annual fee so this would be fair. And of course, the environmental groups, always seeking punitive action rather than positive, thought this was wonderful. Let's whack Hawaiian Electric, which quite frankly I don't mind. But the bottom line is, after thinking this all over, what really happens is this is going to be passed on to consumers, so it's really going to add to the terrible cost of electricity in Hawai'i.

"I want to remind all of us that the most egregious state-sanctioned, private sector monopoly is probably Hawaiian Electric. Last year at the height of the fuel crisis, when the nation was lamenting gas prices—which were here in Hawai'i about 40 percent above the national average—Hawaiian Electric's electric rates were 190 percent above the national average. One hundred and ninety percent. I have several constituents who lamented that they had a small family and they had solar water heater to cut their electric prices, and they were paying $300 a month just for electricity. You might remember that, how problematic it was.

"In the meantime, Hawaiian Electric, this monolithic, sanctioned monopoly, continues to have our state number one in the nation for fossil fuel dependency to create electricity, and has continued to blight our landscape with above ground utilities. Since 1995, in the 13 years when the numbers were computed, they collected over $2 billion in HEI profits, the holding company for the regional electric companies. Six hundred million of that money was given to stockholders. The rest, $1.4 billion, was invested in private sector, for-profit organizations that would feed HEI more money. You might remember one of them, especially the good Senator from Kaua'i; one of the electric company's holdings was an insurance company that left the market after the hurricane there, leaving everybody in the entire state holding the bag. Do you all remember your insurance rates going up to pay into the Insurance Hurricane Relief Fund? That was partially due to that insurance company Hawaiian Electric owned that abandoned the market after they saw they couldn't pay out the benefits they owed.

"We had a recent blackout; lasted 36 hours. People came and testified in the Energy Committee that it was at the height of the season for Christmas business, and it left restaurants not only losing their food, but losing one of the most productive evenings in their market; so they lost a tremendous amount of money. What they didn't report is that there is a system called

'black start' for $15 million out of the close to $2 billion Hawaiian Electric gouged from this market. Black start would allow them to cut the time that the system's down to several hours rather than 36 hours. You don't know, but I'll tell you now that Hawaiian Electric invested in a company in inner Mongolia to generate electricity and it went belly up, and Hawaiian Electric lost that money.

"So the point is that Hawaiian Electric has the money and the resources to do what is good and necessary for Hawai'i. And unfortunately this bill makes a lot of sense as far as protecting the environment, but doesn't make a lot of sense economically because Hawaiian Electric will do as they always have done. They will pass the cost of this on to the consumers. It will drive up electric rates and it will do nothing, as Hawaiian Electric has done nothing to wean us from fossil fuel dependency. All it will be is just an additional cost. So with all good intention I voted 'yes' in committee on this bill, but I will vote 'no' now because ultimately the poor consumer once again will get hit for Hawaiian Electric's sins. Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Gabbard rose in support of the measure and stated:

"Colleagues, this bill would eliminate a disincentive to pollution reduction by removing the cap to fees for air pollutant emissions. Right now, the polluters are not charged additional fees once they go over 4,000 tons in a year. S.B. No. 1260 would close this loophole and make it so companies that do produce more than 4,000 tons of air pollution annually would pay additional fees. This will encourage large polluters to reduce their emissions in the interest of public health and our environment; and so I urge you to join me in supporting this measure. Mahalo."

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"The fact of the matter is this: this bill applies to one company that we know of right now. And, secondarily, as the Minority leader said, this is simply a pass-through and pass-on to the consumers. We're going to be paying more. Now if there were truly a message that we want to send to companies that were polluting the most, then we would put into the bill, as we have in other bills, that in fact these charges cannot be passed on. Besides, this is a company regulated by the Public Utilities Commission and so therefore we have every right to request that, but we haven't done that. So rather than send a message to Hawaiian Electric or anyone else, it just sends a message that the Legislature is willing once again to burden the taxpayers and let them pick up the freight for all of this, and any question of wrong-doing is swept under the rug. Thank you."

Senator Baker rose in support of the measure with reservations and stated:

"I rise with some pretty strong reservations on this measure. We heard this bill last year, and it didn't advance primarily because of some of the objections raised by the prior speakers. And I really think that, in this instance, this measure is going to have a serious impact on my island and I'm very concerned about it. And I had wished that there had been a little bit more discussion before putting it in this fashion because I think there might have been a way to achieve a balance so that the notice could be given, and give the company an opportunity to make some changes in their policies, rather than having it be effective upon approval. So I do have reservations on this measure. I know that from a long-term perspective it will probably be a good thing for our air quality, but in the short-term, it is going to cost our residents an increase in their electric rates, I'm afraid. Thank you."

Senator Hemmings rose in rebuttal and said:

"I think there's a fundamental economic axiom that's being missed here. This isn't going to cut pollution; it's going to drive up the cost of electricity. Hawaiian Electric has had 25 years or more since I was in the Legislature in the 80s to reduce our dependency on pollutants, fossil fuels, and they've gone backwards, making us the number one state in the nation for dependency. If I really thought this was going to cut pollutants, I might vote in favor of it. What it's going to do is simply drive up the price. I think the fundamental economic axiom that is missing here is: All companies when they're taxed or pay fees do not pay it with money they manufacture in the basement of their business; it's simply an add-on to the cost of doing business. And you say, 'Well, they can take it out of their profits.' Well, as we can see by Hawaiian Electric's numbers, they don't take anything out of their profits. Maui Electric, look at your electrical rates on Maui. Big Island, look at your electrical rates. The Big Island, they're still using World War II type diesel generators on an island that could be totally energy independent with geothermal. But somehow political clout means a lot, and Hawaiian Electric pays a lot for it, I understand—I think we'll be seeing those numbers in the future—but the bottom line is this is not going to reduce pollution. It's going to drive up costs. So, I really believe the good Senator from Maui's partially correct on this, that this is not prudent at this time. Thank you, Madam President."

ORDER OF THE DAY

FINAL READING

S.B. No. 161, H.D. 1:

On motion by Senator Takamine, seconded by Senator Kim and carried, the Senate agreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 161, and S.B. No. 161, H.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION," passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Sakamoto).

S.B. No. 190, S.D. 1, H.D. 2:

Senator Chun Oakland moved that S.B. No. 190, S.D. 1, H.D. 2 pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Ihara.

Senator Chun Oakland rose in support of the measure stated:

"Could the Clerk please insert some remarks in support of this measure into the Journal? And I would also like to read excerpts from letters from Charlotte Kaide and Mrs. Terry Kaide. Charlotte Miyoko Kaide writes: 'After reading the front page cover story of the Hawai'i Tribune Herald on March 11, tears welled in my eyes as the Lord spoke to me. I began to understand that behind all the heartbreaks, sorrow, and frustration of Mom not being able to live together with Dad for the past two years, a deeper meaning to this heart-wrenching story of a forced separation was apparent. It's about protecting and keeping our 'ohana together in Hawai'i. S.B. No. 190 would have never been birthed if a waiver would have been granted to Mom to live with Dad in his community care foster family home early on. We have faith to believe that soon S.B. No. 190 would be signed into law by our Governor and that Mom will be able to live with her husband happily ever after. We highly commend our awesome lawmakers who joined us in our plight to change the present law to bring justice to a fundamental right of a husband and wife wanting to live out their lives together and fulfill their marriage vows, for marriage is a sacred union. What a blessing to see this love story have a happy ending and that everyone in our Hawai'i Nei can benefit from this compassionate, compelling, historical epic.'

"Terry Kaide writes: 'I sincerely thank my God for I know He has answered my prayers, and I will be together with my husband very soon. I feel so blessed that my husband is still alive and that I, too, am still alive. I look forward to when I can move into his community care foster family home and never have to be separated from my husband until we go home to be with our Lord. I am overjoyed that I will be able to enjoy whatever days we have left together. I am ever so grateful to all of our legislators for understanding our plight and for working arduously to help pass S.B. No. 190 in order that married couples like myself can live together in their golden years. I am thankful to my daughters for their efforts of having worked tenaciously in supporting S.B. No. 190, Charlotte and Gale.'

"Colleagues, S.B. No. 190 offers a beacon of hope not only to the Kaide family, but everyone in the state who find themselves in similar circumstances. I urge my colleagues to support this bill. Thank you."

Senator Chun Oakland requested additional comments in support of the measure be entered into the Journal. The Chair so ordered

The Chair having so ordered, the letters from Charlotte Miyoko Kaide and Terry Kaide are identified as "ATTACHMENT A" to the Journal of this day.

Senator Takamine rose to request that comments in support of the measure be entered into the Journal.

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Takamine's remarks read as follows:

"Madam President, I rise to speak in support of S.B. No. 190, S.D. 1, H.D. 2, relating to community foster care family homes. S.B. No. 190 would allow two private pay parties sharing specified relationships to live in the same adult residential foster home. The current law does not allow for this, causing many families hardship and emotional pain. This bill's inception is due to the Kaide family, residents of Papaikou, who were placed in separate care homes after 63 years of marriage.

"The Kaides have been passionately advocating for this bill and believe that their separation has contributed to the deterioration of their health. Mr. Kaide was placed in a care home in 2003, after suffering a stroke. Two years ago, Mrs. Kaide also suffered a physical ailment which required her to move to a skilled nursing facility. In order to see her husband, she must travel almost 12 miles from her care home to the care facility in which he resides. She is unable to see him every day due to her own physical limitations and pays a caregiver $500 per month to drive her to see her husband.

"The Momohara family is another family who has also been negatively impacted by the current law. The Momohara family, who lived in Laupahoehoe, faced the same challenge until the recent passing of Mr. Momohara earlier this month. The separation and anxiety of being apart from his wife contributed significantly to the decline of Mr. Momohara's health and his passing. Although Mr. Momohara is no longer with us, Mrs. Momohara expresses her full support for this measure, so that other families will not have to undergo the suffering and heartache that they had to endure.

"Madam President, we pride ourselves in being a state of aloha, which means showing care and compassion for others. Therefore, passage of this legislation should stand as an 'apology'; an apology to people like Kazumi and Teruko Haide, and to Hideo and Akiko Momohara, and others, who have had to tolerate separation at a time when companionship meant so much. SB190 would allow loved ones to be cared for 'together,' during what may be the final phase of their long and special relationship. This bill is about caring for people, and it is about justice for our 'kupuna.' I ask all my colleagues to support S.B. No. 190."

At 11:48 a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 11:48 a.m.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, the Senate agreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 190, S.D. 1, and S.B. No. 190, S.D. 1, H.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO COMMUNITY CARE FOSTER FAMILY HOME," passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Sakamoto).

S.B. No. 537, S.D. 2, H.D. 2:

Senator Espero moved that S.B. No. 537, S.D. 2, H.D. 2 pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Kim.

Senator Hemmings rose in support of the measure and stated:

"Passage of this bill does not create a new initiative for Hawai'i, and I really hope it's not an exercise in futility. We heard a rather illuminating prayer about standing on the shoulders of our predecessors and providing broad shoulders for those who will follow us to stand on. And I hope this bill is not, as I said, an exercise in futility because a generation ago back in the 80's, Governor John Waihe'e launched an initiative for aerospace development for the Hawaiian islands. And you've heard before that the southeast flank of the Big Island of Hawai'i is indeed the greatest location in the world for simultaneous equatorial and polar launches. Hilo could have been gateway to the stars years ago with a combination of viewing into eternity on the top of Mauna Kea through telescopes and launching both public and private aerospace development from South Point [or the area thereof].

"But unfortunately important political decisions in Hawai'i often yield to the whims of the most vociferous minority. We've given the lowest common denominator so much vested power and it is not in our best interest. The shoulders of support for the aerospace industry 20 years ago could not withstand the protest of a minority of activists and pseudo-environmentalists who claimed this would have been devastating for their special interests or their passions, which is fair, but certainly not in the best interests of the vast majority.

"The aerospace industry can be an industry with great potential for future generations. It could be an industry of the future where we would not have to be reliant on tourism. The reason I stand is because from this study group that we're creating—for something that was studied 25 years ago and failed to become a reality—will come specific proposals. And with good fortune maybe some company will come to Hawai'i and say, 'Yes, it makes a tremendous amount of sense to launch our vehicles and develop space industries and enterprises, futuristic ones, from the State of Hawai'i.' Will we allow the very narrow shoulders of very selfish, short-thinking people to deny us this industry once again by standing in protest, or will we yield to the long-range thinkers and people who really are working for the best interests of all the people of Hawai'i? I bring this up now in voting in favor of this bill because we've been down this road before, to no success, and I'm hoping by passing this legislation when something specific does come about, that we will have the courage of our convictions and do what's best for the most. Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Espero rose in support of the measure and stated:

"I was not planning on speaking on this measure in support of it. However with the students from 'Ewa Elementary School here, I'd just like to briefly explain. This is a bill that's going to help our aerospace industry. When people usually think of Hawai'i and the economy, they think of tourism. But here at the State Capitol, we're trying to expand into science, technology, engineering, and math jobs; and technology has been an area that we've looked at for the last several years. But this is going to be an opportunity for Hawai'i to launch space tourism, one of them, where individuals will be able to get on a rocket plane or space plane and take off from the Big Island, go into space—anti-gravity, weightlessness—and land possibly in your backyard at the Kalaheo Airport or maybe Honolulu International.

"This advisory committee will be experts from the mainland, from Hawai'i, and possibly from Asia that will help us build this space industry. As you may know, on the Big Island we have the telescopes which are the best telescopes for viewing and exploring space in the world. And there are jobs and opportunities for you there. We also have a possibility of being the first state, through our university, to launch small satellites. We have a program at UH Mānoa working with the military, where in the next couple years we may be able to launch small satellites from Kaua'i into space, working with the military. And in the future, there are strong commercial applications for that, where again there could be jobs for you students there if you go to UH West O'ahu and get your degrees. And then, also, we're looking at building a lunar base on the Big Island. There's a race by China, Russia, India, the U.S., Japan to get back to the moon by 2020, and there are people working on the possibility of a lunar base for training; and this measure, the Aerospace Development Committee, will help with our NASA initiatives and efforts and space exploration. Thank you, Madam President."

APRIL 21, 2009

TO: SENATOR SUZANNE CHUN OAKLAND
 FROM: CHARLOTTE MIYOKO KAIDE
 SUBJECT: SENATE BILL 190, SD1, HD2
 PROTECTING AND KEEPING OUR OHANA TOGETHER IN HAWAII

After reading the front page cover story of the Hawaii Tribune Herald on March 11, tears welled up in my eyes as the Lord spoke to me. I began to understand that behind all the heartbreaks, sorrow and frustration of Mom not being able to live together with Dad for the past two years had a deeper meaning to this heart-wrenching story of a "forced separation". It's about protecting and keeping our OHANA together in Hawaii.

The Lord impressed upon my heart that it was all in God's plan that DHS did not grant us a waiver but denied our three insistent requests for Mom to move into Dad's community care foster family home and occupy the vacant bed two years ago. He directed me to share with my parents and sisters that He had chosen my mother and father to be the privileged couple to suffer along with our family that others may not have to experience this same painful dilemma.

Therefore Senate Bill 190 was drafted by yourself, Senator Suzanne Chun Oakland to offer a beacon of hope not only for my parent's however, for everyone in the State of Hawaii. We thank God and we are honored to be able to bless our community by ushering this bill through the Senate and the House standing up for what we believe. This has been a priceless experience to work with our legislators to bring about changes in our laws that will benefit everyone.

Senator Chun Oakland, your guidance and support through this all has been outstanding and we want to express our gratitude for having the faith to believe with us that together we can make a difference and touch many lives through our united efforts.

Senate Bill 190 would have never been birthed if a waiver would have been granted to Mom to live with Dad in his community care foster family home early on. We have faith to believe that soon Senate Bill 190 will be signed into law by our Governor Linda Lingde and that Mom will be able to live with her husband happily ever after.

We highly commend our awesome lawmakers who joined us in our plight to change the present law to bring justice to a fundamental right of a husband and wife wanting to live out their lives together and fulfill their marriage vows for marriage is a sacred union.

What a blessing to see this love story have a happy ending and that everyone in our Hawaii Nei can benefit from this compassionate compelling historical epic.

April 21, 2009

TO: SENATOR SUZANNE CHUN OAKLAND
 FROM: TERRY KAIDE
 SUBJECT: SENATE BILL 190, SD1, HD2
 TO ALLOW TWO PRIVATE PAY CLIENTS TO LIVE TOGETHER IN THE SAME COMMUNITY CARE FOSTER FAMILY HOME

I sincerely thank my God for I know He has answered our prayers and I will be together with my husband very soon. It's been a long and painstaking journey however being near to my husband is what I most desire.

I feel so blessed that my husband is still alive and that I too am still alive. I look forward to when I can move into his community care foster family home and never have to be separated from my husband until we go home to be with our Lord. I am overjoyed that I will be able to enjoy whatever days we have left together.

I am ever so grateful to you, Senator Chun Oakland for crafting Senate Bill 190, also to all of our legislators for understanding our plight and for working arduously to help pass Senate Bill 190 in order that married couples like myself can also live together in their golden years.

I am thankful to my daughters for their efforts on having worked tenaciously in support of Senate Bill 190. Charlotte, Gale and I will be at the Hawaii State Capitol for the last Senate floor voting at 11:30 A.M. today. We trust that the Senate will pass SB 190 and that the Governor will sign it into law today.

Once again, mahalo to you Senator Chun Oakland for making my dream a reality. I am expectant of what will transpire today. We are ready to celebrate.

FINAL READING

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 1 (H.B. No. 1741, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Kim moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 1 be adopted and H.B. No. 1741, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Galuteria.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"You will see me and hear me rising quite frequently in the next couple of minutes because what we're talking about are tax increases. And to some people, a particular tax doesn't seem to be very difficult, and particularly if they don't happen to use the service or the product, then they're okay with the tax. Now let's remember what this is all about: the conveyance tax. It's about conveying property. It's also about registering leases and all kinds of other things. Now, this bill raises to a level of $2 million what the increase tax is going to be, but still it is an increase tax. It also points out that people that may have a second property would be subject to this additional tax.

"You know, we're in a period of time when we're trying to get people 'stimulated' and we're trying to get people to buy and to purchase things. And unless the conveyance tax is directly related to the actual act of the conveyance and the cost of the Bureau of Conveyances, then we should not be talking about increasing it; and yet we are, and we're just starting with this bill, and we have others ahead. So I will be casting a 'no' vote. Thank you."

Senator Kokubun rose in support of the measure and stated:

"You know, I think the conveyance tax is a necessary evil, if you will, in the sense that there are so many different programs aligned with real property that I think this is the best and most meaningful way to help provide for those services. Now, I know all of you know that, with respect to the conveyance tax, certain programs are funded through this, and I think these are very, very worthy programs. We're talking about the Land Conservation Fund, which leads to our Legacy Lands Program, where we can purchase property so that it will remain in the public domain. We're also talking about our Natural Area Reserve fund, which provides cost sharing for people doing watershed partnership programs; and it also provides moneys for the rental housing trust fund. So these are all, to me, issues that have a very rational nexus with the conveyance of property in this state. And I think what we have done with this bill actually is a very positive thing in the sense that we are continuing to have everyone share in this; everyone who conveys tax will be participating and providing for these services and these benefits to the greater good of the State of Hawai'i, and I want us to keep that in mind as we're looking to this.

"The other issue that I also want to raise is that this is not a permanent increase; that the way the rates are structured, that it will only be in play for three years and then after that it will return to the normal rates in terms of the distribution of funds for those very special services and projects. So, I would ask my colleagues to support this measure. Thank you."

Senator Ige requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations, and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 1 was adopted and H.B. No. 1741, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE CONVEYANCE TAX," passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 17. Ayes with Reservations, 1 (Ige). Noes, 7 (Baker, Bunda, English, Green, Hemmings, Slom, Tsutsui). Excused, 1 (Sakamoto).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 2 (H.B. No. 1747, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Kim moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 2 be adopted and H.B. No. 1747, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Galuteria.

Senator Hemmings rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Madam President, it's, I guess, politically correct and sounds awfully appealing to the huddled masses out there yearning to breathe free that this is a tax increase on the rich, but that's not necessarily true. And further than that you cannot help the poor by destroying the rich, and you cannot further the brotherhood of man by inciting class envy or even hatred. 'We'll punish the rich,' seems awfully popular these days, both here locally and nationally, but it's important to ask ourselves, in raising taxes, what the impact is on Hawai'i in its totality, and then secondly, where the taxes go.

"I think we can safely say that this session is probably the biggest session in the history of the state for raising taxes. And it's necessary in some areas that we have progressive taxation, but it's not a necessary evil as the previous speaker said because there's an alternative to raising taxes, and that is to reduce spending. In looking over the spreadsheet on previous budgets, the gross domestic product in '07 was approximately 5 percent; the state budget grew by 8 percent, as it did the following year, and the gross domestic product for the nation went down. This year with all the problems we have, in looking preliminarily at HB200, we're going to have to reduce spending from the previous year by approximately 1 percent. So we have to make up a lot of money.

"The Ways and Means Committee Chair has a daunting task in front of her. She's reducing spending marginally by approximately 1 percent, but that won't cover what we have to pay for. So what follows is a dramatic increase in taxation that will be very regressive for the economy. And who are we doing this for? Who's benefitting—the people paying the taxes? No. The people that are working in the private sector trying to survive? The people that are getting laid off and collecting unemployment? This is being done for one special interest group to walk away from the state crisis without contributing a thing, and that is the government employee unions, mostly the HGEA.

"It's important to note what this Legislature has done for this special interest, and I recognize how powerful they are in that first Tuesday in November. I also recognize I have that day off as a convenience—a paid day off, by the way—which the private sector does not enjoy. This special group enjoys pay benefits far in excess in some areas than their counterparts in the private sector. Their perks, or benefits, the number of days off, far exceed the private sector. In many cases and as we've seen by numerous audits, they're immune from accountability. They are immune from being held accountable for misdeeds and poor work; and yet, throughout this whole budget process, they're going to walk away unscathed under this current plan. And it goes back to when, I believe it was, 13 of the legislators did a 180 on their previous vote under the leadership of Governor Cayetano; public unions were required to strike when they had an impasse. But a number of people on this floor reversed themselves on that vote and voted to go back to collective bargaining. And as the union says in their manual, they elect their bosses and their bosses have done them well. Because every year since then, the entire budget process has been one designed in collective bargaining years to put as much money in the general fund as possible, so when you go into binding arbitration, the arbitrators say, 'Well, we can give you the 3, 4, 5 percent pay increase because the state has enough money.' And that money sometimes is taken from the mouths of the needy and the poor and the hungry. I remember one year when it was just absolutely scurrilous that we raided all the special funds in order to fund human service programs rather than funding them out of the general fund. And we're doing it again this year because we have to keep the fatted calf untouched by the economic crisis; while in the private sector, numbers of people are being laid off and suffering these hardships in these poor economic times. No public workers to date have been laid off, except those that are being proposed to be laid off who are not unionized.

"This specific tax, added with all the other taxes—and some of the numbers are hard to come by because we don't know what the final verdict is going to be—is going to take over one half billion dollars a year, by our calculations, out of the private sector economy and put it into the general fund. And we know who it's for, and it's not for the good working people of Hawai'i. I would suggest to those union members who do work hard and do suffer in this economy like everyone else—which they do because they live here—that they've passed the point of diminishing returns that they too suffer at the hands of excessive taxation and poor performance by government in many areas as audit after audit shows.

"So, we think we're doing a good thing here, or some think, because this is a politically correct tax on the rich. Well, it's not. It's a tax on the economy that, coupled with the rest of the tax increases, is going to fund an increasingly expensive government that oftentimes fails the people in many areas, such as public education; and yet public workers walk away unscathed by this crisis. It's just not fair, and it will come back to haunt us. I especially like that a number of these tax increase bills are somewhat recognized as being onerous because they're being repealed in the year 2015. If they're such good ideas, why would we repeal them? We'd repeal them because we know they're not good ideas. And it's a sleight of hand because I don't recall of many instances where taxes that have been enacted had been repealed. So this is just another nail in the economic coffin of Hawai'i; and added together with all of the other tax increases we will be voting on over the next several weeks, it will make Hawai'i a more expensive and less productive place to live in.

"I urge my colleagues, when voting on these bills, to not only look at the exact bill but look at the big picture. We have been ranked consistently amongst the highest taxed people in the nation, and increasingly we tax the poor the most; although income tax brackets had been adjusted in some bills and other bills are allowing tax breaks allegedly for the working poor. But Hawai'i nevertheless, according to a special report by the Tax Foundation of America, is ranked number five in the nation for state and local tax burden on its people. And that's what makes living in Hawai'i so problematic, especially for the working poor. So I'd urge my colleagues to really look at the big picture when voting on these taxes because they will ultimately reduce revenue to government because people are not going to be able to afford to work and live and invest in Hawai'i and they'll go somewhere else. Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Hooser rose in support of the measure and stated:

"Frankly, I don't know where to start, so I apologize if I jump around a little bit in my remarks. You know, for one to say it's politically correct or politically popular to raise taxes is ridiculous at best. None of us here take any pleasure or get any political points for proposing tax increases whatsoever. None of us here are demonizing the rich. We all have—I hope we all have—some friends who have money and who will be taxed at these levels. Rather, I think it's politically correct for the other side to demonize public workers. It seems like that's the politically correct, the bandwagon. Let's bang on public workers. Let's bang on the clerks. Let's bang on those fixing our roads and our highways. Let's bang on the secretaries. Let's bang on the lifeguards, the police, our teachers. Oh, no, let's not forget them—let's bang on our teachers.

"You know, we have to raise income to balance the budget. We will be cutting programs. We have already cut jobs. Public workers have already paid the price and will continue to pay a price, certainly with their health care benefits; I think most understand that. The question was asked, 'Who benefits?' Well I think the people that benefit are the people that use the services: the people that use the parks; the people that use the roads, the highways, the airports; people that stand in line to get their driver's licenses; people that benefit from the health department; people that benefit from mental health services. There's a long list of people who benefit, colleagues and Madam President. It seems the Minority leader wants to benefit but doesn't want to pay, doesn't believe anybody should pay any more money for these benefits, but believes those public workers, whom many are friends of all of ours... Our children grew up with them; they play soccer together. They're our neighbors, those public workers who provide the services. It seems that some in this room don't want to pay an extra dime for those services but want the people that provide the services to pay that extra dime. So they want public workers to provide the same services and take pay cuts and take layoffs, take reduction in benefits. Something's wrong with that picture. And frankly, we've been getting it—most of us all week long, maybe for the last few weeks. People saying, 'No, no, no; don't do this. Don't cut me. Don't raise my taxes. Don't cut the services.' But fortunately there's only a few that spend their time bashing public workers, wanting us to reduce their pay, reduce their benefits. Well, let's just get rid of them. Oh, but we need the services.

"You know, these are my friends. These are office managers, these are clerks, these are staff members, these are people in this room today helping us to pass laws, helping us to run the business of government, and I for one have a difficult time hearing over and over again how they must bear the burden of balancing the state budget. They're nurses. We didn't hear the hospital system mentioned today; we probably will before the end of the day.

"We hear how public workers get paid more and more than the private sector, more and more benefits. In some cases that's true, but in many cases it's not. Electricians, welders, carpenters, auto mechanics, equipment mechanics all get paid less in the public sector than they do in the private sector: electricians, 32 percent less; pharmacists, 40 percent less. Medical record librarians, clinical psychologists, auditors, occupational therapists—there's a long list of people in the public sector who get paid significantly less than the private sector. And, yes, they have their vacation, they have their medical; and they choose to work in the public sector because of those benefits and they take less pay. And by the way, they negotiate that pay with the administration. Our current Governor has negotiated and agreed to the current levels and the benefits that public workers have today. I, for one, have a difficult time changing the rules on public workers who have negotiated in good faith just because people who use the services aren't willing to pay more. These are people that run our schools, our airports, our highways, our hospitals, our police. Yes, let's bang on public workers. Let's pick on the good, hardworking people who provide these services. They're not overpaid. Yes, the benefits are good, but the pay is often less; and again, they negotiated and agreed to this pay. Yes, it's easy to say, 'Everybody must share.' Everybody except the tourists, everybody except the wealthy, everybody except property buyers, everybody except business, must pay. Let's put it all on the back of the public workers. It's easy to bang on the clerks and the janitors. Why don't we bang on the bankers who created this mess in the first place? Why don't we bang on President Bush, who through his policies led us down this path? Why don't we bang on HMSA? Bang on Hawaiian Tel? Bang on AIG? No, no, no, let's pick on the clerks and the bus drivers. Why don't we bang on the Governor who's had six years to streamline government, to reduce cost, to modernize government, to put into place programs that might have resulted in a better condition than we're in right now? No, we're not going to bang on the Governor. We're not going to bang on big business. We're going to pick on labor. We're going to pick on public workers. Public workers are to be the whipping boy of the day.

"Madam President, I, for one, realize that everyone does have to share, and public workers are sharing in this, but we have to raise taxes. No one likes to do it. We have to spread it around the community, and I encourage my colleagues to vote in support. Thank you."

Senator Hemmings rose in rebuttal and said:

"I'm not bashing all public workers, and I certainly agree with the previous speaker that most are good, conscientious public workers. But many are not. I won't go over all the audits, but I think you will remember—certainly because we convened a special commission to investigate it—the audit of the Conveyance Department showing they collected hundreds of thousands of dollars in one year in overtime and produced less work because they made an art form of exploiting the system. Literally they received more money for doing less. I think we've seen a similar article on the exploitation of overtime in other departments, such as the Department of Public Safety, which was audited. So, yes, it's true; most public workers do a good job, but many don't.

"It's amazing how deceptive, or how perception can be different because I, too, have the 'accurate' information—and I'll tell you the whole story and not try to deceive you by just telling you half of it—of what compensation is for public workers. In Bargaining Unit 1, it's true as the previous speaker said: electricians and welders and carpenters, high-end specialists do make less than their counterparts in the private sector. But plumbers make 6 percent more, groundskeepers make 9 percent more, general laborers make 10 percent more, cooks make 15 percent more, kitchen helpers make 28 percent more, warehouse workers make 34 percent more, general laborers make 39 percent more. Should I go further? In Bargaining Unit 13, personnel specialists make 4 percent more, accountants make 6 percent more, recreational therapists make 22 percent more. Bargaining Unit 3: secretaries, 8 percent; data entry, 11 percent; legal secretary, 14 percent; personal clerk, 22 percent; secretary III, 37 percent; secretary IV, 54 percent. So the facts are when you combine that with their benefit package—21 vacation days a year as compared to the private sector's 10 after working 10 years, and sick leave, 21 days can accumulate up to 90—the private sector is not as well compensated in most instances as the public sector. So it's just not true what the previous speaker said; and the numbers here are to validate, and if anybody want to see them I'm more than happy to show them.

"We are raising taxes. And there are alternatives to balancing the budget, and we've talked about them before. We can privatize many services that can be done better and for less money by the private sector. And we can protect public jobs by having a warm-bodies policy and reduce the workforce through attrition. No one has to lose their jobs. I'll quote again what I said before: The alternative is, for instance in prisons, to send our prisoners to Arizona where it costs half as much to incarcerate a prisoner and keep the public safe. What are we doing this session? We're probably going to bring them home so we can pay twice as much when we can't even afford what we already have. And yes, I will talk about the education system. If they're doing such a good job with their bureaucracy, how come we can't get the numbers on where the money's going? How come they get you, the Majority party, to not even allow us to audit them as we audit everybody else? We do know we're spending $2.4 billion on public education, or have been. And we do know, by national rankings, they're producing about the 47th ranked product in the nation when it comes to educating our kids. And hospitals; hospitals, hospitals, hospitals. How I love those hospitals, because this year we're going to spend $50 to $60 million in the next several years subsidizing monopoly hospitals on Maui, Hilo and Kona, when services could easily, as is done on Oahu, be provided by private sector. But what we're really doing is taking taxpayers' money, including union workers' money, and subsidizing huge, economic losses in monopoly state hospitals. So, there are alternatives to raising taxes. It's just not true.

"Quite frankly, I want to set the record straight: I am not demonizing public workers. I'm demonizing the Majority party, who continues to abuse everyone in this state with high taxes and in many instances, poor government services, including public workers who suffer. I might note that we are one of the states with the highest number of students in private education, many of them children of public workers. Several years ago, they did a survey of present and previous HSTA teachers and found out that they themselves sent their kids to private schools.

"So let's be honest, and let's especially be honest when we start talking about the numbers, about their compensation, because the previous speaker really misled us by only giving you the figures he wanted you to hear and not all the figures and not the big picture. The facts are public workers are very generously compensated, they're immune from accountability, very few if any of them have been laid off for cause or otherwise for economic hardship, while the private sector suffers tremendously. We are heaping more taxes on the private sector to protect this system which is not serving everyone, including unionized workers. I stand by my position on this, Madam President, and time has proven me right."

Senator Espero rose in support of the measure and stated:

"The good Senator from East Honolulu has mentioned that we have to look at the big picture, and I think no one here will disagree with that statement. The big picture is that these budgetary times are probably the most difficult we have faced since statehood. There are some individuals who say that, nationally and globally, this is the worst it has been since the Depression. In Hawai'i the signs are very, very stormy and gloomy. The visitor count is down and we expect it to be down through the end of this year. Foreclosures are on the rise. Bankruptcies are on the rise. Unemployment is the worst in the last 30 years at 6.5 at least, and I wouldn't be surprised if it hits 7 percent before the end of this year. So that is the backdrop and the environment before this legislative body, and the decisions that we are making today in raising taxes and other measures between now and the end of session will be thought of very carefully, no doubt.

"As was stated, nobody likes the idea of raising taxes, but before this session is ended we will probably have raised some taxes. We will probably have taken pay cuts for some state employees. We will likely be having some state employees laid off, losing their jobs. We are looking at a reduction in programs and services within every agency and every department in the state; and the trickle effect on non-profit organizations within the state, which help every single one of our districts and the constituents we serve are going to be severely, negatively impacted as well. The taxes we're looking at, I believe, are reasonable when you look at the bigger picture. We're not looking at one big tax or one big cut somewhere. We are attempting to sacrifice throughout and transfer what we must do through all segments of our government. It is a difficult time, and at the end of session we are going to be responsible for the 1.2 million people who live in this state, and it is our jobs to make those difficult decisions which must be made.

"I'd also like to go back on the comment regarding public education. I believe the Senator from East Honolulu said that public education is a failure in this state. That is a completely wrong statement. It is incorrect. It is false. Public education is not a failure in our state. I can tell you, in my district we are educating and graduating very productive members of our society; these young men and women who will go on into college, who will join unions, who will join the military, and become other productive members. If there are problems in the good Senator's district, I'm certain that he will look into them and recommend the changes that have to be made. To say we've never audited the Board of Education or DOE is false. We have audited them. They have been reviewed and reevaluated, maybe not to the standard you want, but we have. It is not as if they are running like a chicken without a head.

"But, Madam President, I do support H.B. No. 1747, which we are voting on now. It is one small tax increase, yet it is just one segment of what we must do in order to close this $2 billion gap over the next two fiscal years. Thank you."

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"There were a lot of things said and I'm not going to try to rebut them all. I just want to make sure that we put a couple things on the record. First of all, we're not talking about a small tax increase; we're talking about a projected $60 million per year for this bill. If we take the bills that are on our agenda, the proposed increases would be over $330 million in fiscal year '10 and another $445 million in fiscal year '11; so we are actually approaching a trillion dollars just in tax increases, so it is significant.

"And, you know, every time I hear somebody say, 'Well, no one really likes to raise taxes,' then I have to ask myself, 'Then why do we raise these taxes? Why do we do it?' And why don't we listen to the people that tell us that they don't want taxes raised? Not that they're not going to pay more or pay for what they're using; they're already paying. They're among the highest paying taxpayers in the nation. And what they're saying to us, everyone one of us, is: 'You're supposed to represent us. You're supposed to look at the big picture of the economy as a whole.' Now if it were a question of taxing into prosperity or spending by government into prosperity, then we would have numerous examples to look at throughout history and throughout our community. But, unfortunately, we can't find one; not one example where more government, bigger government, more expenditures, more taxation has resulted in more prosperity. It's just the opposite.

"You know, we continue to talk about the rich and the wealthy—not only in this bill but in others—and yet all of us in this room know that Hawai'i is a special situation in terms of income, particularly gross income. That's why we don't have a sales tax; we have a gross income excise tax. And we know that people here probably work more jobs per capita than anywhere else. And so, guess what? The gross income is higher than in most areas. But so is the housing. So is the health care. So is the food. So is the transportation. So is everything that we do. And yet, we talk about 'the rich.' If we look in the mirror, we find out in most cases, we are the rich that we're talking about. And then we can look at small businesses; and we get a lot of platitudes from this body about how wonderful small businesses are, and how important they are to the community and the nation, and yet we go along and we regulate them. We prohibit them, we add employer mandates, and we have taxes. And for anybody that knows anything about businesses, both here and on the mainland, they know that most businesses—primarily sole proprietors that make up the largest segment of businesses—pay on a Schedule C through their income tax, thus giving the gross income tax a boost which is not found in most other places. And these are the people that we're talking about taxing. And that's what we do.

"Madam President, you know that for the last couple years, I've always taken issue with the so-called conformity bill, the bill that would conform Hawai'i's tax laws to the Internal Revenue Code laws. And one of the things I've always pointed out is something that's addressed in this bill: that in the State of Hawai'i at $1,040, a person is about one-third of what he or she is according to the IRS and federal tax guidelines because that's the amount of the personal exemption. One-third of what it is on federal returns and in most other states. Now this bill seeks to do two things to lessen the impact of the tax increase. One is to minimally increase the standard deduction which several of us have argued for for years, but it's a minimal increase. And secondly, it seeks to increase the personal exemption; and it would go all the way from the current $1,040 per person right now up to $1,144 if this bill is passed. We still would be treated as one-third of what the federal exemption is. So, this bill, when everybody says how difficult it is to raise taxes, it is difficult because it doesn't succeed in stimulating the economy. And if people are having difficulty in paying bills and costs and taxes right now, how does adding to that burden by these tax bills make it any better or any easier or any more fulfilling?"

"And again, not to belabor the point or kick a dead horse; the Minority leader has never said that he has a problem with public or government workers. He doesn't 'bang' them. What he has said is: In the era of the Obama 'shared sacrifice', where all of us are supposed to be sharing, there is no sharing coming from the government sector. Now you can argue, 'Well, that's going to be the subject of collective bargaining later on.' But if there's money in the till—if there's more than $1 billion in new taxes—then that goes into the collective bargaining process and certainly into the arbitration process. And the argument then is: 'Oh, what do you mean the state doesn't have money? Look at what you've got,' and you've got more sources of revenue.

"So we're not doing anybody a favor by raising taxes. We're not solving our economic policies by raising taxes. The pure and simple fact is our government has gotten too bloated, too big, and that's what the thousand or more people tried to tell us last week at this Capitol. And by the way, they were not members of any particular political party, or they were members of several different political parties, but most of them were not members of political parties. They were just coming here to ask us to please, please listen to them and to do things for them; and if we pass these tax bills, we are ignoring them completely. And the only people that get banged are the people that are called upon to pay all the bills: the taxpayers and small businesses of this state. Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Hooser rose in rebuttal and said:

"Just a couple of things I believe that deserve a rebuttal: On the Center on Budget Policy Priorities, April 20, 2009, lots of states are going through the same process we're going through trying to balance their budgets, trying to balance between tax increases and cutting services. But in this paper written at the start of the last recession, Nobel-prize winning MIT economist Joseph Stiglitz and his associates, Brookings Institute economists, now director of the Federal Office of the Budget and Management, concluded that tax increases on higher income families are preferable for closing state fiscal deficits in the short-run. And this bill does have a sunset on it; 2015, as was brought up. But in the short-run, tax increases on higher income families are preferable because they reason the reduction in government spending on goods and services or in the transfer of payments to lower income families. So if we're going to take away money from lower income families, we're going to take money away from goods and services, that's money that comes out of the economy and reduces money in circulation and reduces demand on the economy. By contrast, taxes on the higher income, wealthiest individuals/households, the impact on the economy is not as great because most of that additional payment comes out of savings rather than out of funds that are spent on a regular basis. So the studies clearly show that this has less of a negative impact in terms of taking money out of circulation.

"There is also extensive information I'd be happy to share with the members that talks about the fallacious argument that says this is going to cause people to flee the community. The studies clearly show that wealthy individuals do not look first at the tax rates of the states. They look first at the environment. They look first at the weather. They look first at the quality of life issues. And states that have raised similar taxes in the past have not seen a flight of capital or of individuals to other states. So thank you, Madam President."

Senators Ihara and Ige requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations, and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 2 was adopted and H.B. No. 1747, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 18. Ayes with Reservations, 2 (Ige, Ihara). Noes, 6 (Baker, Bunda, Gabbard, Green, Hemmings, Slom). Excused, 1 (Sakamoto).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 3 (H.B. No. 1175, H.D. 3, S.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Ige moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 3 be adopted and H.B. No. 1175, H.D. 3, S.D. 2, C.D. 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Kim.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Boy, it's really popular to stand up and defend cigarettes from another tax increase, isn't it? Because we've made cigarettes into one of the evils, just like the combustion engine of the automobile; so let's tax them. You know, the argument used to be that we're doing this because of second-hand smoke. We're doing it because of health. We're doing it because of employees. Well, that was all a shibai. We don't have to worry about that anymore because we're doing it purely for money. And the reason that we're only raising it a little bit each year, little bit more, is because we want that money to keep flowing in. And then we have the recipients of the money fighting over where the distribution is. Remember when it was all going to be for education to stop young people and others from smoking? Now, we've got different uses for that money. So, the point is: What is the real justification for raising the cigarette tax? Because it's easy to do. We can do it on those smokers. And for those of us that don't smoke, don't believe in smoking, advise against it but still say that raising the taxes and even accusing these people of being sinners—because after all, cigarettes represent a 'sin tax'—makes it all too easy, especially when it's about money, and that's what it's about. If people really felt the health issues were important, as I've said time and time again here, then try to ban cigarettes and all tobacco products and everything else you don't like: soft drinks and candy and the combustion engine and all of that. Ban them. See if you can. But you'll know you have a hard time doing that because cigarettes, like the automobile, represent freedom; the freedom of people to choose to do what they want to do with their life even knowing what the risks are. And for us to be very pompous, to say, 'Well, they shouldn't do that, but we're not going to make sure that their health is protected. We'll just tax them more for it.' And that's what we're doing and that's what this bill does. It's kind of like cooking the frog. We don't put the frog in hot water; we put him in cool, tepid water, and then keep raising the temperature, and that's what we're doing here. So I have no problem standing against yet another tax increase. Thank you."

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Tobacco products. Well, here we go. If I don't like cigarettes, I don't like tobacco products, but there's a lot of tobacco products. There's this pipe, there's this cigar—and by the way, we have some extra cigars for those in the gallery who are here who love to smoke a cigar but don't want to talk about it now. Why are we doing this? Why are we raising wholesale prices again on these products? Why? Money, and because it's easy; and we call them 'sin.' They're legal products, they're legal activities, and yet we're saying, 'Let's raise the wholesale price.'

"And then we go even further. We want to make sure we micromanage and we pick out little cigars, and we define 'little cigars,' and then we also have a tax for the circumference, or ring size, of large cigars. I'm sorry, Madam President, I do apologize; I could not get a large enough Clinton cigar to go with these here. I just have regular-sized cigars. But that's what we're doing: 'other' tobacco products. And it won't be long before we go after 'other' food products and 'other' things that you do because that's what government is trying to do. It does not support freedom. It does not support choice. It does not allow for different lifestyles, except in maybe the sexual area, but not in the private consumption area. This is a mistake. We shouldn't be doing this. I'm voting 'no.' Thank you."

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“Well, here’s the trifecta. Now, we’ve gone after the sinners. We’ve gone after small businesses. Now we’ll go after the ailing visitor industry. We’re going to raise the hotel room tax, the transit accommodation tax, by 1 percent next year, another 2 percent after that. You know, we’ve had all kinds of summits and task forces and people getting together trying to figure out how can we balance our visitor industry in times where it’s really difficult and times where the President of the United States says don’t go on trips to places like here. We’ve seen that the private partners within the industry have tried to put together packages, lower prices, to make it more attractive to people across the country—the value-added aspect. And yet, here’s what we’re going to do: We’re going to say again, we’re going to tax the visitor industry. We’re going to put a tax on them. And when people do look at vacation and business destinations, they do look at the total cost. They look at the car rental cost. They look at the hotel room cost. They look at the transportation cost, in total. And perhaps, just one aspect of that may not be enough to discourage or to encourage the travel, but when you put all of these things together and people look at it, they say we’re going after the tourists at a time when we say that we want to rebuild the industry. I think it’s very short-sighted.

“All of us have heard from the people in the industry. They don’t support it. They don’t say it’s a positive thing. They don’t say that there’s any way of putting a spin on this other than it’s going to be more costly for people to come to Hawai‘i either on business, for pleasure, or for eco-tourism or anything else. Why do we do these things? It’s not going to pay benefits. It is going to cost us more in terms of revenues of people that don’t come here. Please reconsider your vote. Thank you.”

Senator Kim rose in support of the measure and stated:

“It’s never a good time to increase the TAT, and from its inception in 1987 and years leading up to its adoption, of the TAT, the visitor industry has argued that a hotel room tax would impact negatively upon the visitor and will prevent visitors from coming to Hawai‘i. But this did not happen. Six years later in 1994, the TAT went from 5 percent to 6 percent to create a revenue stream for the debt service of the Convention Center. The economy in 1993 was not robust. In fact the economy had slowed as a result of the first Gulf War that put us in a prolonged slump that lasted nearly until the end of the 90s. In 1999, the Legislature once again raised the TAT to its current level of 7.25 percent. The economy was still challenged, which is evidenced by the convening of the ERTF, the Economic Revitalization Task Force, during the 1997 interim. In fact, raising the TAT was one of the proposals put forth by the ERTF to comprehensively address the economic downturn and to support programs and marketing efforts of the industry.

“Today, we have several bills in conference that supports the effort of HTA. One of them is to redefine the use of HTA’s $5 million emergency fund and another to give them $10 million additional funding for marketing. And despite the doom and gloom of the past that the TAT would hurt visitors’ arrivals, Madam President, Hawai‘i’s visitors’ totals soared to over 7 million visitors. And during this time the industry entertained programs of carrying capacity, to limit the number of visitors, and targeting just the higher spending visitor. So, Madam President, our visitor industry is not the problem. In fact, they are part of the solution, and as I have pointed out, they have been just that in our past economic downturn. So as part of the solution, we all need to share in the cuts, raising of revenue, and in sacrifices.

“This bill raises the TAT 1 percent, or to 8.25 percent, from July 1, 2009, to June 30, 2010. And then it raises it another 1 percent—9.25 percent—so the bill reads 2 percent from July 1, 2010 to 2015. Amending this bill with the sunset provision in 2015 allows us and the House and the industry to evaluate and reevaluate the actual impacts on this bill for next year and up until 2015. Madam President, I urge the members to support this measure. Thank you.”

Senator Hemmings rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“I agree with the previous speaker’s history of tax increases in the travel industry and the impacts because they’re undeniable. Everything she said did happen. But we’re not talking about the 1990s; we’re not even talking about the turn of the 21st century. We’re talking about now, and we’re talking about—excuse the metaphor—the goose that is laying the golden egg. And the facts are these times are quite a bit more perilous than the ones previously talked about. Visitor arrivals have been decimated by the national slowdown in the economy. People have become incredibly price sensitive. Retirees have lost 30, 40, 50 percent of their IRA value. Investors, likewise, have lost. People are not travelling, and when they do, they are very wary of how much they spend. I’ll read some numbers from a much respected leader in the travel industry whose family has been doing business in Hawai‘i since the 1940s. He made a comparison of a Waikiki package compared to similar hotels, 4 star hotels in Acapulco. The average cost of the Waikiki package was $733; Acapulco was $661. What we’re doing here today will add to the cost of the Hawaiian package and make us less competitive.

“But people say, for the most part, that TAT increases is exported and is paid by people who come here, so we’re trying to eliminate the hurt for our residents when we’re raising taxes. Well, as I quote, that sounds good but in real life there’s a serious consequence. Tax collections may actually go down when the tourist market suffers, as they have. We have evidence now. This beleaguered industry that’s suffering 20 percent reduction in arrivals is directly responsible because it’s the single and biggest producing private sector industry in Hawai‘i, is the reason why our tax receipts are down.

“So let me see if I’ve got this right: You guys aren’t paying enough taxes because you don’t have enough business to pay your taxes, so we’re going to solve it by taxing you more. Does that make sense? No, it doesn’t. We’re further eroding our tax base by increasing taxes in the worst time to do it, in a time when the industry is struggling. I would submit to you that this is going to further damage our travel industry and result in fewer taxes collected rather than more. So, I urge my colleagues to give consideration to voting ‘no’ on this legislation.”

"I rise to speak in support of Governor's Message 313, confirming Grant Tuck Sun Teichman to the University of Hawaii Board of Regents.

"Mr. Teichman received support from a number of university, community, and business organizations, as well as a numerous individuals from across the state.

"He is a third generation graduate from the University of Hawai'i of which he earned a Bachelor's degree in Classical European History, with honors, and Political Science. While attending the University of Hawai'i at Mānoa (UHM), Mr. Teichman committed himself to serving on a number of student organizations. He twice served as the president of the Associated Students of the University of Hawai'i, and most recently as the president-elect for the University of Hawai'i Student Union Campus Center Board. He was also a staff writer and associate editor for the UHM student newspaper, Ka Leo o Hawai'i.

"Mr. Teichman's commitment to service also extended beyond the campus, where he served as a member of the Honolulu Mayor's High-Capacity Transit Committee and is an active member of the Atherton YMCA's Board of Directors.

"As a result of his service and academic honors, Mr. Teichman was the recipient of numerous scholarships and awards, including being a Rhodes Scholar nominee, and was a member of the UHM Deans List for four semesters. Continuing his education, Mr. Teichman will be attending the William S. Richardson Law School this fall.

"While there were a number of letters and testifiers in support for Mr. Teichman's nomination, testimony in opposition was presented by members of the University of Hawaii Student Caucus. As a result of the concerns raised by the students over serious lapses in communication and access to Mr. Teichman during the nomination process, your committee has been working with Karen Lee, Vice President for Student Affairs, to mediate and improve this important relationship.

"In deference to those student leaders who wished to engage Mr. Teichman in conversations prior to his confirmation, your committee held off bringing his name to the floor until a meeting was arranged. While good faith attempts were made by Mr. Teichman to meet with the Student Caucus as a whole, in the end, a formal invitation to address the group was not achieved.

"Recognizing the importance of student participation in the governance of the University, we will continue to work closely with Mr. Teichman and student leaders and various student organizations to ensure that there will be good communication and active student participation going forward.

"Having spent many hours speaking to Mr. Teichman, I believe that he will be an asset to the Board of Regents, and as a result of his confirmation proceedings, has learned how to be an even better representative of his constituency group.

"Mr. Teichman's academic accomplishments and commitment to both the university community and the community at large are testaments to his qualifications for serving as the student regent. It is for that reason that I wholeheartedly support his nomination, and encourage my colleagues to do so as well."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Fukunaga).

Senator Kim, Chair of the Committee on Ways and Means, requested a waiver of the notice requirement pursuant to Senate Rule 21 for H.C.R. No. 76, H.D. 1 (Proposed S.D. 1).

Senator Kim noted:

"We had a brilliant idea at this time and we think it'll help improve government, reinvent government, and make government more efficient, and we think we need to get it before Session ends."

The Chair granted the waiver.

At this time, the Chair made the following announcement:

Gov. Msg. No. 629, informing the Senate that on April 23, 2009, the Governor allowed the following measure to become law without signature, which reads as follows:

House Bill No. 1186, H.D. 1 as Act 18, entitled: "RELATING TO HOUSING DEVELOPMENT."

"Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: House Bill No. 1186 HD 1

On April 23, 2009, House Bill No. 1186, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Housing Development' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

The purpose of this bill is to eliminate the Hawaii Community Development Authority's ability to accept cash in lieu of a developer's reserved housing construction requirements, except in cases of a fractional unit resulting from the percentage requirement calculation.

The Lingle-Aiona Administration shares the Legislature's goal to increase affordable housing in Hawaii. However, this legislation will likely be counterproductive to that goal by eliminating the ability to leverage cash from private sources with public dollars to develop affordable housing for working families, singles, and seniors.

The cash in lieu option has been a successful tool in the Hawaii Community Development Authority's (HCDA) reserved housing program. It has allowed HCDA to work with other State agencies to develop hundreds of rental units throughout the Kakaako region for those who cannot afford market-rate housing.

The cash in lieu option has given HCDA the flexibility and control to develop the type and supply of affordable housing units responsive to the needs of the community. For example, the monies collected through this option have been used to time construction to periods when bids are more competitive and prices are lower. Cash in lieu payments are also leveraged with other public and private resources, such as rental housing trust funds or Hula-Mae bonds, to build a larger number or different types of affordable housing units than the developer might be required or able to provide with only private funds.

In summary, policy makers should not view HCDA's cash in lieu option in a vacuum. Rather, this program should be viewed collectively with a variety of other statutory tools, administrative rules, and home financing programs that encourage the development of affordable housing. I would encourage the Legislature to reinstate this option in future years.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed House Bill No. 1186 to become law as Act 18, effective April 23, 2009, without my signature.

Sincerely,

/s/ Linda Lingle
LINDA LINGLE"

ACT RELATING TO TAXATION,” passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 53 (S.B. No. 603, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Baker moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 53 be adopted and S.B. No. 603, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Ige.

Senator Slom rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations and stated:

“You know, initially I supported the bill and I thought it was a good bill because it’s supposed to help in deregulation and to level the playing field between fixed landline communication and Internet and wireless communication. But as the bill has been amended and with the C.D. version, I’m concerned that as a matter of fact it does not level the playing field; what it does is create more regulations. I think it’s going to shift the cost to different parties within our community and actually result in higher cost, and in the long run it looks like it may in fact create monopolies in the wireless and Internet industries just like we’ve had in landline. So, I’m concerned about these and other changes within the bill. I’d be very happy to hear any comforting words from the supporters. Thank you.”

Senator Ihara requested his vote be cast “aye, with reservations,” and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Baker rose to speak in support of the measure and stated:

“Members, I appreciate the reservations that some of you may be feeling on this measure. It’s an attempt by your committee in conference, and CPC and CPN committees prior, to provide a little bit more of a level playing field on the retail side, the residential side. This measure tries to give a company that is regulated by the PUC some parity with those companies that are not regulated by the PUC. The PUC has no jurisdiction over voice over internet protocol (VOIP) nor over wireless. If you look on page 5 of the bill, it says, ‘This section shall apply to retail rates charged for services to end-user customers only and shall not apply to wholesale rates charged for services provided by telecommunications carriers to other telecommunications providers, a wireless communications provider, a voice over internet protocol communications provider, or other similar communications providers.’ This language is an attempt to limit the measure solely to residential customers. We know that other folks rely on the landline services in order to deliver their services, and those filings would still have to go to the PUC and those filings would have to run through the whole gamut. What this C.D. 1 does is take that approval from the PUC off of residential rates, but we cap the rates at the current tariff. So if there’s ever an intent to go higher, they will have to come back to the PUC for that. They do have an opportunity with this bill in place to bundle residential services, to offer promotions, to do things and be more nimble like the wireless and the voice over folks can already. This is really an attempt to level the playing field, and I think we all know that it’s important to have a healthy landline operator in the state and this is one way to assist in that endeavor. So I ask my colleagues to vote up on this measure. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 53 was adopted and S.B. No. 603, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC UTILITIES,” passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Ayes with Reservations, 2 (Ihara, Slom). Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Bunda).

Senator Hee rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

“The Hawaiian word for the day is ‘pua’; used in a sentence, ‘Oh, da pua ting.’ I hope that brings comfort to the Senator who wanted comforting words.

“But the ‘pua ting’ is the public because, oh, the ‘pua ting’, on the front page of yesterday’s Star Bulletin: ‘OHA gets zip from Senate.’ ‘Pua ting’, the public, misinformed. The fact of the matter is the Senate position on OHA is $15.1 million, as it was last year, the year before, and every year since this present governor was seated as governor. That hasn’t changed. What has changed is that there was no disclosure by the Office of Hawaiian Affairs of a windfall that they received from the Native Hawaiian Legal Corporation in a case which involved the Hokuli’a development when Judge Ibarra awarded attorney fees to NHLC—2.03 something, something, something million dollars. What isn’t known is that NHLC never returned the money to OHA. What we do know, that in a letter dated January 30, 2008 to the executive director of NHLC from Legal Services Corporation, America’s partner for equal justice, from the Office of Compliance and Enforcement... I’ll just read a little bit. It’s to the director, and this person from the Office of Compliance says, ‘Thank you for your response to the July 2, 2007 letter.’ They received the award from Judge Ibarra in an agreement dated March 7, 2006 by the Deputy Attorney General. So over a year later, the Office of Compliance says, ‘Thank you for your response to the July 2, 2007 letter,’ from Legal Services Corporation Office of Compliance and Enforcement requesting information from NHLC about the recording in NHLC’s 2006 audited financial statements, as unrestricted revenue, a court judgment in the amount of $2,037,733. The letter continues and says, ‘OHA funds must be considered public funds. As such, Legal Services Corporation requests that NHLC take the following actions: divest immediately of attorney fees in that amount by returning this amount plus interest from the date of collection of the amount to OHA.’ There’s two other actions requested, and then the last one says: ‘Submit proof that this has been accomplished by the close of business on February 11, 2008.’ No one knows if NHLC did as was directed by the Office of Compliance and Enforcement, but let us assume that they did. OHA is a state agency; Freddy Rice determined that to be true. Whether we agree or disagree, OHA is a state agency. The Committee on Ways and Means, in their analysis, has said among other things, as a result, the entire amount of the attorney fees and interest represent a windfall to OHA since that amount could not have been budgeted for nor anticipated. It also does not account for the additional interest that was paid by NHLC from March 2006.

“This afternoon at 4:30 p.m., NHLC will be holding a press conference at the Queen’s statue. Among the things they assert in an email written to me, dated Saturday, April 25, it says that ‘the purpose is to publicize this funding issue on Monday, April 27, 4:30 p.m., at the Queen’s statue.’ And it says that ‘it is to call attention to OHA’s budget cuts to NHLC.’ This Legislature in 2005 passed Act 109; the President of the Senate was the Chair of the Committee on Judiciary. Act 109 requires that legal services to the Office of Hawaiian Affairs be procured because OHA is a state agency. After getting ripped in the newspaper, the Senate President, using all the tact that she could muster, said to me, ‘Don’t respond. I’ll respond.’ I would like to read excerpts of her response dated Friday, May 20, 2005: ‘Let there be no question. Rice v. Cayetano established that OHA is a state agency. OHA is not exempt from the state’s procurement code. OHA knows and understands this. NHLC is a non-profit corporation. NHLC is not part of OHA. NHLC has enjoyed its special status until this bill became law. NHLC did not have to ‘stand in line’ like others, bid for, or provide explanation to the Senate Ways and Means or House Finance Committee as to how it will use their funds, regardless that the funds are general funds. The reason for the general fund match is that if NHLC were to receive only trust fund from OHA, then NHLC could only serve 50 percent blood quantum or more.' Then the President says, 'I personally disagree with this position.' And I concur. She finishes with one sentence: 'It is not our job in the Legislature to make a funding entitlement for one non-profit over others.' NHLC, in a letter and in this article, has indicated that OHA has indicated that if the Senate Ways and Means position prevails, their budget will be cut. They must have forgot about Act 109. It's not their budget. They have to go through procurement like all others. The assumption 'that their budget' is incorrect. In fact, what the Committee on Ways and Means has done is keep intact $15.1 million. That hasn't changed. I asked the Committee on Ways and Means to take $2.03 million and run it at 8, 10, and 12 percent to get a range of what the interest dividend would be today. All results were over $3 million regardless because while I yield that the last year has been a pitiful year in the investment market, the same cannot be said for the previous two years. The fact of the matter is the Senate Ways and Means Committee, by leaving the attorney fees plus interest intact and not asking for that money to be returned to the taxpayers, amounts to less than a 20 percent cut from the $3 million that they should have received. There are some of you who may argue that the $15.1 million and the $3 million are $18.1 million, and 20 percent less of 18.1 million is $3.65 million. It would be difficult to respond to that argument. Nonetheless, the House and the Senate have not engaged in that argument. I would submit to all of you that the Committee on Ways and Means pored through this information and, in my opinion, took the high road by leaving a larger amount, by leaving the attorney fees in place. What this means on the House position is that $3.0 less 20 percent is $2.4. That's in the House position. What's also in the House position are the attorney fees. They have not asked for those funds back. So what OHA received is not a 20 percent cut; it's an increase. And it's an increase at a time when everything else is on the table, and it's very unfortunate that NHLC believes that it's an entitlement to them, evidently has forgotten about Act 109 which requires procurement from a state agency—which I might add has a portfolio of $300 million. That's part of the record. And if NHLC feels very strongly and OHA concurs, OHA has the funds to not only make up what any perceived, imaginary and wholly false shortfall by adding more trust funds. OHA has said in a letter to Ways and Means that it cannot do so because their portfolio is limited to 5 percent. That's not statute. That's trustees getting together and saying, 'Okay boys and girls, how are we going to limit the portfolio? Five percent.' Well, if you raise 5 percent to 5.1 percent, you can take care of the short fall. It's very unfortunate that when those who complain about the yoke of ward ship are unable to make tough decisions and instead rely on ward ship when the going gets tough, because that's the situation. And colleagues, it is a very sad, in my opinion, day when the complainers come in the face of false data and limited disclosure of information. Thank you."

At this time, the Chair made the following announcement:

"Re-referrals are made in accordance with Order of the Day and the Supplemental Order of the Day that may be distributed to your offices later this afternoon."

HOUSE COMMUNICATION

MATTER DEFERRED FROM EARLIER ON THE CALENDAR

On motion by Senator Hee, seconded by Senator Tokuda and carried, the Senate agreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.C.R. No. 38, S.D. 1, and S.C.R. No. 38, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, entitled: "SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION URGING THE DEVELOPMENT OF A PLAN FOR INCREASING AID AND ASSISTANCE TO CERTIFIED ORGANIC FARMERS," was placed on the calendar for Final Adoption on Wednesday, April 29, 2009.

Senator Hemmings rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

"Probably tonight or in the near future, this legislature will be making a momentous decision on the economic viability of this state for the next several years in deciding on the budget, H.B. No. 200. I'm very pleased that, under the leadership of the Ways and Means and Water, Land and Hawaiian Affairs, the budget for the operation of OHA included some innovation that allowed the resources of OHA, the generous resources of OHA, to share in the cost of running OHA for the next several years. This is going to contribute significantly to the welfare of the state budget as we will not have to underwrite that agency.

"Nevertheless, we face a daunting task in front of us, and I would like to suggest that it is going to have a far-reaching effect into the future, and that is: Are we going to innovate or are we going to have business as usual? And so far, we're headed towards the road of business as usual which includes raiding funds, cutting grants-in-aids to sometimes the most needy in our community, and probably the most massive tax increase in the history of the state. We've been able to compute tax increases in excess of $400 million that will be taken out of the people of Hawai'i's pockets and others in the name of balancing the budget.

"Our budget is morbidly obese and will eventually collapse under the weight of too much spending; and Hawai'i is suffering from the chances of going the same route as California, where the point will come when we can no longer pay our bills. And I've talked often about the ferocious appetite of one special interest group that refuses to contribute along with everybody else to balancing the budget in a fair and just way. I won't belabor that issue, but I will tell you that the rank and file laborers of this state do not live in a separate kingdom. They, too, are living in an economy with diminishing returns. When they drive down the highway, the potholes don't say HGEA workers, for instance, are immune from the potholes. Our public education system, which is $2.4 billion and ranks 47th in the nation, poses the same problems for the rank and file as it poses for the rest of the people of Hawai'i. Our cost of living, the basics—water, land, food, medical care—is a burden on everybody, including organized labor. I'm making a plea to organized labor, specifically to Randy Perreira and the heads of the other major unions, to try to reconsider their recalcitrant position of not contributing to balancing the budget through some modest pay cuts because what will happen instead is when the state does run out of money, there will have to be layoffs. And I would suggest to organized labor that pay cuts now are better than layoffs later.

"I'm not saying I'm Nostradamus, Madam President, but for years I've stood up along with my colleague next to me and talked about some of the ways that we could innovate savings to the state budget. For years, in order to preserve special interests in the Hawai'i health care systems, we've poured 10, 20, 30, 40, 50, and now more than $60 million into subsidizing hospitals on the neighbor islands that could have easily been privatized years ago and operated under their own recognizance. For years we've poured billions into the DOE and got us stagnated results where we continue to rank lowest amongst the states for total performance of public education.

"I would hope that this legislature would have the courage, as we did with OHA, to change the formula of how we collect and spend taxpayers' money. But it does not look like we're headed that way. And I will tell you that in my tenure here at the State Legislature, this is much more serious a problem than the wake of 9/11, because at 9/11 we had a robust economy and once our national security was reestablished, our economy recovered rather rapidly. This is a whole different ball game, and I would suggest that playing it by the old rules and the old ways will simply lead us down the road that California has unfortunately succumbed to.

"Madam President, I guess this is the difference between what we stand for on this side of the aisle and what you stand for, but I was hoping in the conference committees and in the diligence of our duty, we would find some common ground to maybe try some different things. It's not too late. I'm hoping that reasonable people will come to reasonable conclusions on what is the best course for the economic future of this state, and I will leave with these words: that there's never been anyone, individually or collectively, that is taxed and spent their way back into economic prosperity. It just doesn't work. Thank you, Madam President."

At this time, the Chair made the following announcement:

"Re-referrals are made in accordance with Order of the Day and the Supplemental Order of the Day that may be distributed to your offices later this afternoon."

ADJOURNMENT

FIFTY-SIXTH DAY

Wednesday, April 29, 2009

The Senate of the Twenty-Fifth Legislature of the State of Hawai'i, Regular Session of 2009, convened at 11:42 a.m. with the President in the Chair.

The Divine Blessing was invoked by the Honorable Mike Gabbard, Hawai'i State Senate, after which the Roll was called showing all Senators present.

The President announced that she had read and approved the Journal of the Fifty-Fifth Day.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

The following message from the Governor (Gov. Msg. No. 632) was read by the Clerk and was placed on file:

Gov. Msg. No. 632, informing the Senate that on April 28, 2009, the Governor allowed the following measure to become law without signature, which reads as follows:

Senate Bill No. 1676, S.D. 2 as Act 20, entitled: "RELATING TO HEALTH."

"Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: Senate Bill No. 1676 SD2

On April 28, 2009, Senate Bill No. 1676, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Health' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

The purpose of this bill is to clarify that telemedicine is within the scope of a physician's practice and sets requirements and standards for the practice of telemedicine services. Telemedicine means the use of telecommunications services, such as video or web conferencing, telephone, or internet links between a physician and a patient to evaluate or treat a patient.

Modern technology has given us the ability to perform activities not imagined just a few years ago. The advent of telemedicine is a recent phenomenon that now allows patients to contact their doctor outside of the normal medical office arrangements. This technology also allows doctors to provide services to remote or hard to reach locations, as well as consult in real time video conferences with colleagues and specialists out of state who can help diagnose a disease or recommend a specific treatment program not available locally.

Senate Bill No. 1676 attempts to foster the use of telemedicine by better defining the practice, setting forth the circumstances under which treatment recommendations can be made, clarifying the medical licensing requirements for telemedicine practices, and reaffirming that medical insurance covers this technique for delivering medical services.

Modern technology also brings new issues and concerns that have not been adequately addressed in this bill. Three areas in particular are of concern to the medical community and deserve further attention in forthcoming legislative sessions.

First, there remains an understandable concern that a face-to-face relationship should be developed first between a primary care physician and a patient before the doctor is allowed to provide diagnoses or treatments via telemedicine. The Hawaii Medical Board has acknowledged this preference and believes it is fundamental to the delivery of appropriately provided medical services within generally accepted community standards of care.

Second, as written, the bill appears to allow both an individual patient, as well as that patient's doctor, to consult with and obtain treatments from an out-of-state physician or other non-Hawaii-based medical services provider. It would appear more prudent for these out-of-state consultations to be restricted to doctor-to-doctor discussions where the Hawaii-based physicians know their consulting colleague and can ensure the discussions are technically and medically accurate.

Third, enforcement oversight issues for out-of-state physicians have not been adequately addressed in this bill. Neither the Hawaii Medical Board nor the Regulated Industries Complaints Office of the State Department of Commerce and Consumer Affairs has jurisdiction over out-of-state practitioners and cannot sanction them for actions that may not meet Hawaii's standards of medical care. As the medical community seeks out and uses specialists and medical providers outside of Hawaii, it is important that states like Hawaii work with other jurisdictions to address how best to ensure that the out-of-state individuals providing medical advice meet the educational, licensing, and ethical standards we have established for our own medical community.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed Senate Bill No. 1676 to become law as Act 20, effective April 28, 2009, without my signature.

Sincerely,

/s/ Linda Lingle
LINDA LINGLE."

Senator Green rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

“This is regarding swine flu. I thought just like a little mini, one-minute presentation might be in order. I did send a document to all of us and over in the House.

“First of all, swine flu is the flu but a more virulent strain. There’s no way to really prevent it other than to keep your hands clean and not be in touch with people who have the flu. As of yesterday, there were 64 cases that have been isolated in the United States. Forty-five of them were in New York; most of the others were in California and Texas. The concern about swine flu is that it really is a strong form of the flu, and it did cause a lot of fatalities initially in Mexico; over a hundred individuals died. If you get the flu, in general, you have headaches, or fever, or body aches, cough, and so it’s something to go see your doctor about. You can get a culture done there if it were to happen. Fortunately, we have not had any cases in Hawai‘i. I know the Department of Health is working very closely. Of course, it has a huge human impact if we have a pandemic, which means spread of the flu across countries or worlds. And it has—beyond the human impact—it has a lot of other consequences like isolating different communities. It has an implication on economies globally, and so it’s all something that’s very serious. But I think the three page handout that I forwarded to you is a good resource, very cleanly written by the Department of Health to tell people about the flu and flu symptoms. It might be worth forwarding to interested constituents, and if anyone wants to know more about the flu, normally we’d be getting updates, but I’ll be happy to talk to anyone about it.”

Gov. Msg. No. 636, informing the Senate that on April 29, 2009, the Governor allowed the following measure to become law without signature, which reads as follows:

Senate Bill No. 438 as Act 24, entitled: "RELATING TO BOARD OF EDUCATION MEETINGS."

"Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: Senate Bill No. 438

On April 29, 2009, Senate Bill No. 438, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Board of Education Meetings' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

The purpose of this bill is to shorten the time requirement for posting Board of Education meeting notices, from six days to two days, if the agenda items are related to legislation pending before the Legislature.

Currently under the Sunshine Law, boards and commissions are able to file meeting notices less than six days prior to board meetings, as long as certain requirements are met pursuant to the emergency meetings provision of Section 92-8, Hawaii Revised Statutes. As stated by both the Office of Information Practices and the League of Women Voters of Hawaii, the Sunshine Law was enacted to facilitate public participation in government processes and should not be tinkered with for expediency's sake. As a result, I am concerned that making an exception to shorten the time requirement for filing meeting notices may not be the correct approach for resolving the issue of responding to legislation in a timely manner.

I am also concerned that this bill will allow for special treatment of the Board of Education under the Sunshine Law, as no other board or commission will be provided with the same exception provided under this bill. This bill will require the Office of Information Practices to make a distinction for the Board of Education and treat it differently from the numerous other boards and commissions that must also respond to tight legislative deadlines. Moreover, because the Sunshine Law, like the Uniform Information Practices Act, is supposed to be administered uniformly across all agencies and boards, creating a special exception for only the Board of Education sets an unnecessary precedent.

I call upon the Legislature to address in a comprehensive manner the conflicts between the Sunshine Law and legislative notices that provide inadequate time for boards, commissions, and the public to respond. At a minimum, the Legislature should consider revising emergency meeting procedures for all boards and commissions that should be afforded the opportunity to comment on pending legislation.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed Senate Bill No. 438 to become law as Act 24, effective April 29, 2009, without my signature.

Sincerely,

/s/ Linda Lingle
LINDA LINGLE"

Senator Takamine moved that the Senate reconsider its action taken on April 16, 2009, in disagreeing to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 876, S.D. 2, seconded by Senator Tsutsui and carried.

In accordance with the Conference Committee Procedures agreed upon by the Senate and the House of Representatives, the managers on the part of the Senate recommended that the Senate agree to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 876, S.D. 2 on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 3 (Takamine, Tsutsui, Slom). Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Bunda).

Senator Takamine moved that the Senate agree to the amendments made by the House to S.B. No. 876, S.D. 2, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Takamine spoke in support of the motion as follows:

"The measure essentially is an administration bill that is housekeeping in nature. There were two additional provisions in the House draft. The first was technical in nature relating to a valuation date. The second was language to provide additional leeway in time for those in the military service to be able to return and still meet the deadline for conversion."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, the Senate agreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 876, S.D. 2, and S.B. No. 876, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE EMPLOYEES' RETIREMENT SYSTEM," was placed on the calendar for Final Reading on Friday, May 1, 2009.

Senator Hooser rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

"Madam President, I wanted to briefly recognize Miscellaneous Communication No. 4 from Equal Justice for All, dated April 30, 2009, submitting the petition to pass H.B. No. 444, 'Relating to Civil Unions', which contained the names of 10,351 Hawai'i residents.

"Madam President, colleagues, I think regardless of where we stand on this particular issue, regardless of our feelings and our votes, I believe that such an effort that occurred over just a relatively few days deserves recognition and the people that put this effort in deserve to be applauded. I think it's a testimony to civic participation, a testimony to public involvement, a testimony to a commitment to a cause, a testimony to persistence, conviction and dedication. And, again regardless of one's position on the issue, I would want to offer my respect—and I'm sure the people in the room would share that—applaud the work and the effort that took the hundreds of people going door-to-door, gathering names for a cause they believe in. And I just wanted to put those remarks in the record, please. Thank you.”

At this time, the Chair made the following announcements:

“Conference committee reports on non fiscal bills should be filed in the Clerk's office by midnight tonight.

“Second, tomorrow is the final decking deadline for all fiscal bills in conference. All conference committee meetings must conclude by 6:00 p.m. and the Senate will convene at 6:30 p.m.”

Senate Bill No. 1108 as Act 39, entitled: "RELATING TO NATIVE HAWAIIANS."

"Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: Senate Bill No. 1108

On April 30, 2009, Senate Bill No. 1108, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Native Hawaiians' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

The purpose of this bill is to extend from June 30, 2009 to June 30, 2011 the sunset date for the operation of the Aha Kiole Advisory Committee.

This Committee was established in 2007 to initiate a process for using indigenous best practices in managing State natural resources. This Administration supports the concepts embodied in the original bill which called for the adoption of traditional, community-based natural resource management techniques.

Unfortunately, the actual operations of the Committee have strayed from the original intent, to the extent that certain Native Hawaiian organizations are calling for the Committee to be abolished.

The concerns with this bill are twofold. First, it fails to address the need for a larger cross-section of the native Hawaiian community to be represented on the membership. Act 212 established a membership selection process that required the Governor to select names submitted by only one umbrella organization. There are many groups and individuals in the Native Hawaiian community who care deeply about the preservation and restoration of our ecosystems. It is unfortunate that the membership has come from only one portion of that community and no efforts were made to expand that membership in this bill.

Second, there is a growing concern about the focus and positions that this Advisory Committee has taken. The Committee has taken official stances on issues that appear to be outside of the scope of its intended jurisdiction, which are the natural resources of the State of the Hawaii. The Advisory Committee has weighed in on the issue of fisheries management in jurisdictions outside of this state, affecting other countries and their ability to oversee their own resources. Further, the Committee has acted in a manner that masks its advisory nature, blurring the lines between advising others and taking positions independent of the State or the Department of Land and Natural Resources. Again, this bill to extend the Committee fails to redefine and clarify the matters that the Committee should address.

This measure does not include an appropriation for the Advisory Committee. I believe it is incumbent upon the Legislature to review the sources of support the Aha Kiole Advisory Committee has used and determine if those sources have compromised the independence or objectivity of the Committee.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed Senate Bill No. 1108 to become law as Act 39, effective April 30, 2009, without my signature.

Sincerely,

/s/ Linda Lingle
LINDA LINGLE.”

Gov. Msg. No. 653, informing the Senate that on April 30, 2009, the Governor withdrew the nomination of LAURA K. MISSION to the Koke'e State Park Advisory Council, under Gov. Msg. No. 388, dated January 29, 2009.

In compliance with Gov. Msg. No. 653, the nomination listed under Gov. Msg. No. 388 was returned.

HOUSE COMMUNICATION

The following communication from the House (Hse. Com. No. 721) was read by the Clerk and was placed on file:

Hse. Com. No. 721, informing the Senate that on May 1, 2009, H.C.R. No. 313, entitled: “HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION RELATING TO RECESS AND SESSION DAYS OF THE REGULAR SESSION OF 2009,” was adopted in the House of Representatives.

Senator Sakamoto moved that H.C.R. No. 313 be adopted, seconded by Senator Slom.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the motion and said:

“Yes, thank you Madam President. I rise in opposition to the resolution. I have difficulty in understanding why we are going to extend the legislative session for two days. I did see a press release from the Majority Party saying that this was being to help the Governor. I further don’t see how this is going to help the governor and in addition I know that we require a two-thirds support and vote for an extension and I don’t recall if the Minority was even approached to discuss this or to have an opportunity to sign. So, for these reasons I oppose the resolution and I would like to request a roll call vote. Thank you.”

Senator Hemmings rose on a point of personal inquiry and said:

“I would like to request from you, the President of the Senate, or from one of your colleagues, what the reason for the extension is.”

The Chair responded:

“Senator Hemmings, it is the opinion of the Senate that—or the President—let me respond for myself. That we need to ensure that because these bills are available to us that we make a very clear statement as to what the policy is of the majority of the Senate as to what the revenue generations are that the Governor can rely on as she faces a new Council of Revenue projections of May 28, as well as we proceed to July when the final budget is adopted.”

Senator Hemmings continued:

“I’m having a difficult time interpreting that. Let me repeat what I think I heard you say: that we’re extending the session in case the Governor vetoes the tax increase bills so we can override them.”

The Chair responded.

“I don’t believe that I necessarily said that, but if that is your interpretation then Senator Hemmings you may proceed.”

Senator Hemmings responded.

“Thank you, Madam President.”

The Chair replied.

“You’re very welcome, Senator Hemmings.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.C.R. No. 313, entitled: “HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION RELATING TO RECESS AND SESSION DAYS OF THE REGULAR SESSION OF 2009,” Roll Call vote having been requested, was adopted on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Ayes with Reservations, 1 (Ihara). Noes, 2 (Hemmings, Slom). Excused, 1 (Bunda).

Senator Hee rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

“Madam President, I thought someone else would have raised this issue by now, but nonetheless... Tuesday of this week, the front page of section B of The Honolulu Advertiser indicated that the Kamehameha School’s three estate trustee finalists have been selected, and I guess one of three members graduated from the school. I wanted to offer some comments on the article, not so much because two of the three are alumni, but rather because two of the three were political appointments, and one of the three is a sitting cabinet member of the present administration. But the issue here for me is that in the article, ‘Randy Roth, co-author of the 2006 book Broken Trust that chronicled the 1990s political and ethics scandals at the Kamehameha School said, Soon and Kane are ‘excellent candidates.’ Roth, a University of Hawai‘i law professor, added that Kane, with whom he worked with in the Lingle administration, has done an impressive job at the DHHL and ‘would be a terrific trustee.’ Randy Roth wrote the book, Broken Trust, along with four Hawaiians. He says on page 7: ‘Trustee compensation, though reduced, remained high for part-time overseers of a charitable trust. The chairman was paid $120,000 and other members $97,500, compared to a national average of $6,500 for trustees of charities with assets of more than $500 million. Trustees selection,’ he continued, ‘was shifted from the Supreme Court to the Probate Court. Critics, however, saw potential for continued political favoritism with an unchanged judicial selection process, compensation still temptingly high, and an absence of transparent criteria for choosing trustees. The new trustees remained secretive in their actions, and the attorney general and the Probate Court reverted to their pre-scandal reluctance to provide close oversight of trustees. The impact of the Bishop Estate scandal in the broad community was far-reaching and profound. It exposed Hawai‘i’s political rot and helped set the stage for putting a new party in the Governor’s office for the first time in 40 years.’ It’s interesting because the person that Professor Roth had said would make an excellent candidate in an article by the Hawaii Reporter said that when Linda Lingle ran for Governor of Hawai‘i on the Republican ticket in ‘98 and ‘02, one of her top three campaign promises, in addition to reforming the state’s public school system and boosting the economy, was ‘to clean up political corruption.’ The article continues and says, ‘However, two and a half years into her four year term, an investigation by Hawaii Reporter shows the Lingle Administration, mainly the state attorney general and DAGS, have done virtually nothing to clean up political corruption, especially in the areas of government procurement.’

“I am not here to quibble with Randy Roth other than to say he evidently, now that the parties have changed on the fifth floor, has changed the mantra from ‘do as I say, not as I do.’

All of this can be avoided in my opinion—the appointment of a sitting cabinet member, unprecedented in the history of the state; the appointment of one of the three who sat as the head of the Minority party, unprecedented for this particular process. If the trustees served at no compensation, no compensation, not unlike Punahou School, 'Iolani School, Harvard University, Stanford University, Yale University, because if they served at no compensation, who could claim that the political corruption and rot that Professor Roth talked about was not here today? So when I looked up the trustees of Punahou School—Ethan Abbott, David Carey, Steve Case, Margaret Cole, Wendy Crabb, Judith Sheehan Dawson, Mark Fukunaga, Ron Higgins, Constance Lau, Warren Luke, Duncan MacNaughton, Randolph Moore, Michael Pietsch, Jefferey Watanabe, Kathleen Sullivan Wo—these are people who could easily be attributed to the excellent scholastic and athletic achievements of the number one school in the nation, Punahou School, and they serve for no compensation. Zero compensation. 'Iolani Board of Governors: William Aull, James Kawashima, David Hulihee, Dr. Mark Mugiishi. 'Iolani, one of the top scholastic schools in the State of Hawai'i; they serve for free. They serve because they want to serve, and there's no discussion on whether or not they serve for the compensation. That's the process of making evidently a good school because it dismisses the argument that if you don't pay them, they won't come. In fact, they do come; the only difference is they come for the right reasons. And it is too bad that, in my opinion with this group, at least for two—one who is an appointment of a Democrat governor and one who is a sitting cabinet member of the Republican Governor—that in those two instances, unfortunately the selection has been one where you had to reach up to touch bottom. Thank you, Madam President."

This language was removed because S.B. No. 298 contained that language and has already been signed into law. Therefore, we are removing the duplicative language based on the Governor's attorneys indicating that this language would be problematic in this bill. The Aging in Place for elderly and disabled unit owners language is still in this bill. Thank you."

"While this does expand the investigative powers of the insurance commissioner, notably absent from that ability is workers' compensation; and with growing workers' compensation fraud which affects all of us, whether it's by employee or by employer or doctor or hospital, we all pay the cost for that. So, I note my reservations. Thank you."

Senator Baker moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 30 be adopted and H.B. No. 643, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Takamine.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“This bill seeks to ferret out illegal employees, and that’s a good thing and I think we should all support that. However, it unfairly penalizes contractors who may have been the victims as well. I note that in testimony and in discussion, everybody was more worried about the illegal immigrants and workers, and they wanted to penalize contractors. We should make it very clear that illegality is the issue here; criminal offense is the issue here, and not piling onto the contractors. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 30 was adopted and H.B. No. 643, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CONTRACTORS,” passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“What this bill does is create a new legal offense, and that is a crime for an employer to check credit references for employees. While there have been certain exemptions carved out, notably in the financial sector, those people that testified in the retail sector say that people that deal with cash and money all the time pose a potential threat; and if the money is lost, they’re not going to go after the employee, they’re going to go after the employer. So in this age of credit transparency where all of us have our credit information taken, it should not be a crime, and it should not be unfair for employers to potentially look at employees’ credit history. Thank you.”

Senators Sakamoto, Nishihara, and Kidani requested their votes be cast “aye, with reservations,” and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Ige moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 42 be adopted and H.B. No. 1379, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“This bill has had a long path to where it is right now, and at one point the Senate draft, I think, was a good bill which tightened up and made secure a person giving their power of attorney basically for order of life sustaining treatment or whatever. What’s happened now in the conference draft, I think it went back to the House version, which was much broader and allowed for many other people to give consent for the patient. And I think that was not the intent and I think that opens up the possibilities of a great deal of harm here, so I’ll be voting ‘no.’ Thank you.”

Senator Baker rose in support of the measure and stated:

“Unfortunately, the good Senator from East Honolulu has mischaracterized this bill. This bill actually went back to existing statute and provides that, in fact, an individual can ensure that his or her advance directives are honored. It also allows the physician to provide the individual with a piece of paper that “orders” and officially acknowledges, really, what the individual wants, and that makes it easier for emergency personnel who may be called to a scene when the individual does not want to be resuscitated. This is something that our statute has sought to ensure, that those of us who make an advanced directive can, with certainty, have our wishes honored. That is really all this measure does. It is in line with what is being adopted in a number of other states in terms of physicians’ orders, and I think this is an appropriate way to ensure that those of us who have advance directives have those advance directives followed when needed. Thank you, Madam President.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 42 was adopted and H.B. No. 1379, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PHYSICIAN ORDERS FOR LIFE SUSTAINING TREATMENT,” passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 71 (S.B. No. 605, S.D. 1, H.D. 3, C.D. 1):

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“I think we all recognize we’ve got a problem with noise. It’s all around us. We want to try to control it. We want to make sure that there’s not excessive noise. But this bill, which talks about 50 decibels, one wonders where the 50 decibels has come from because that basically is ordinary conversation. And I think anytime that you try to place restrictions on individuals and you don't have a realistic benchmark, it creates problems not only for adjudication of the law, but also for respect of the law. So, I think that this bill is overly broad and vague, and if we were to use the higher number or indicated how we arrived at that number, I think it would be fairer to all. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 71 was adopted and S.B. No. 605, S.D. 1, H.D. 3, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO NOISE," passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"This is our annual clothesline bill; and while I have no problem with people using clotheslines as an alternative, I do have a problem with the government interfering with private contracts and private covenants in residential or other areas. And I think this is something that we should be able to convince people it's something good that they should do if they want to do, but if they have already entered into a private covenant and they're prohibited from doing that, the government has no business violating that contract. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 79 was adopted and S.B. No. 1338, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HOUSEHOLD ENERGY DEMAND," passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Taniguchi moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 80 be adopted and S.B. No. 19, S.D. 1, H.D. 2, C.D. 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Takamine.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"I think the intent is good here to give preference in construction contracts and also to recognize the importance of apprenticeship. However, this bill is totally one-sided and requires that people that get the benefits have to be unionized in their apprenticeship programs and will either force people to be unionized or will completely cut out a growing segment of the construction industry that provides apprenticeship and workplace programs but are in fact independent and merit based. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 80 was adopted and S.B. No. 19, S.D. 1, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PROCUREMENT," passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"I was looking for all my ACLU friends and everyone else that's concerned about civil liberties because this bill actually allows for trampling of civil liberties—allows people to enter your home or business to get samples merely for an administrative investigation. We're not talking about epidemics or actual things that have taken place, but this is for administrative investigations. And I don't think we want government bureaucrats coming into our homes and offices more than they do already on hunting expeditions. So, I'll be voting 'no'. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 87 was adopted and S.B. No. 931, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EPIDEMIOLOGIC INVESTIGATIONS," passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 89 (S.B. No. 1073, S.D. 1, H.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Ige moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 89 be adopted and S.B. No. 1073, S.D. 1, H.D. 2, C.D. 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Espero.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"You know, part of the smoking ban was that the smoking ban was supposed to apply to all people, and then for a while it allowed the prisoners to have their own exemption; it allowed prisoners to smoke. We took that exemption away, but now we're allowing employees of the prison to have a designated smoking area and allowed to smoke. You know, I continue to be concerned and confused about this because all the initial banning legislation was to protect the health of individuals—worried about firsthand smoke, secondhand smoke, third-hand smoke, but apparently we don't because we allow certain people to carve out their own exemptions for them. So I'm in opposition to it because it really comes down to the money—the money that is generated by smoking—and not the health. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 89 was adopted and S.B. No. 1073, S.D. 1, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CORRECTIONAL FACILITIES," passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, 2 (Hemmings, Slom).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 91 (S.B. No. 764, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Baker moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 91 be adopted and S.B. No. 764, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senator Hemmings rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"In doing so, I recognize the lack of public debate on many of the issues that are being passed today, and I do recognize that absolute power does have absolute results. So I'm very proud that the good Senator from Hawai'i Kai and I have the opportunity to challenge some of these initiatives.

“The intent of this bill is to alleviate the economic burden on lessees of certain commercial and industrial leases. The concern as expressed by the AG is that the bill violates the contracts clause of the United States Constitution because it changes the process for renegotiating the amount of rent during the term of existing commercial or industrial leases. The attorney general said it’s well-established that a retroactive law, in a constitutional sense, is one that takes away or pares vested rights acquired under existing law or catches new obligations, imposes a new duty, or taxes a new disability with respect to the transaction or consideration already concluded. In other words, it rewrites a deal after it’s made to the benefit of one and the detriment of another; in this case, the land owner. It’s interesting to note that Professor Van Dyke, I guess a hired expert witness, assessed the constitutionality of the legislation, and he provided testimony which is doubtful in relationship to the attorney general’s very broad opinion that points out the problems with this legislation constitutionally. So, I’d urge my colleagues to be real careful on legislation like this. A deal’s a deal, and people coming after the fact and trying to rewrite the deal is unfair. So I’d urge my colleagues to vote ‘no’.”

Senator Slom requested his vote be cast “aye, with reservations,” and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 91 was adopted and S.B. No. 764, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO REAL PROPERTY,” passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Ayes with Reservations, 1 (Slom). Noes, 1 (Hemmings).

Senator Fukunaga moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 92 be adopted and S.B. No. 1005, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“I’ve sat through the hearings on the bill and I think, again, the intent is a good one—to protect individuals’ likeness and their contributions. However, try as we may, even with this version here, I think that the bill is overly broad and I think it opens up the possibilities for unintended consequences, particularly with the use of images, voices, and so forth on the internet and the expansion thereof. So, while I support the intent, I think that this would probably have a problem with free speech, usage, and also with growing technology. Thank you.”

Senator Fukunaga rose in support of the measure and stated:

“During the discussions on this bill, we did hear from the Internet Coalition and others who have businesses that are based on search engines, so this version of the bill specifically excludes those types of entities from the reach of the bill. I believe that all of the parties who participated in the discussions, including those involved in the recording industry and entertainment industry, are satisfied with the current draft. For those reasons, I urge everyone to vote in support of this measure. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 92 was adopted and S.B. No. 1005, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLICITY RIGHTS,” passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 99 was adopted and S.B. No. 695, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO WORKERS’ COMPENSATION,” passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Takamine moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 115 be adopted and H.B. No. 952, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“I had to promise the Labor Chair that I would be ‘soft’ opposition. Yeah, but you know, if it oinks like a pig and makes bacon like a pig, it’s still a pig. It’s still a bad bill. It still is anti-business. It’s anti-investment climate. It is the union card-check bill, and while the House version is a little bit less offensive than the Senate bill, it still is offensive. It’s offensive to workers; it’s offensive to those that still want the right to have a secret ballot. And even though this version, the final version, changes the bill from the number of employees to gross sales—$5 million or more—it still is going to affect people, and we know that these numbers continue to be manipulated and can be changed. It also provides for a secession or exemption of some of the criminal penalties that would apply otherwise to criminal trespass, criminal assault when labor union organization is involved. We recall that Hawai‘i still is the second highest labor union represented state in the nation, behind New York. There’s been no problem up to this point in organizing, and there’s been no problem in allowing a secret ballot; and this still is an affront to our democratic way of life. Thank you.”

Senators Kim, Ige, Kidani, Espero, and Gabbard requested their votes be cast “aye, with reservations,” and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 115 was adopted and H.B. No. 952, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO LABOR,” passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Gabbard moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 125 be adopted and H.B. No. 1809, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, C.D. 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Baker.

Senator Gabbard rose to request comments be entered into the Journal.

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Gabbard's remarks read as follows:

"Madame President, I rise in support of HB 1809 CD1. Colleagues, last year we passed the e-waste recycling law that addresses our old computers, printers, monitors, and lap tops. This bill would add TVs to that list. As you know, TVs contain toxic materials and it would be much better for our environment if these materials were recycled and not allowed to be dumped in our landfills. This bill has industry support so I hope you'll join me in voting in favor of HB 1809 CD1. Mahalo."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 125 was adopted and H.B. No. 1809, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO RECYCLING," passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 139 (S.B. No. 166, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Ige moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 139 be adopted and S.B. No. 166, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Baker.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"This is another mandate of our prepaid health care act; and while we're concerned about patients getting adequate care, when there is a contract and when there is a determination that one type of care will be covered and another is not, it is not the purpose of government to interfere with that. Thank you."

Senator Baker rose in support of the measure and stated:

"Madam President, as technology and pharmaceuticals advance, there's a natural tension that develops when we have new procedures and new abilities to make a patient's—particularly a cancer patient's—quality of life better, and that's what this bill seeks to do. In many instances, most of our prepaid health contracts do in fact make no distinction in the kind of treatment for cancer that one takes, but there are a few that do. And it's so important that when we have advances that can improve a person's quality of life and keep them from being either tethered to a doctor's office to get their intravenous infusions of chemotherapy or make them go out of their way to get those life-saving treatments, why wouldn't we want to make those available on an equal basis? That's really all this bill does. If you have a plan that provides for cancer treatment and its infusion, you need to also have, if it's medically necessary, the ability to have it delivered in an oral fashion. This is something that's so important for all of our cancer patients. In talking with the major carriers, because of the way we worked on the language and worked with them on it, it is not anticipated to raise anybody's costs. It just makes it fair and equitable for anybody who's going through that dreadful disease to make sure that they have the best possible care and delivered in the most appropriate way according to their physician. So, I urge my colleagues to vote strongly in support of this measure. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 139 was adopted and S.B. No. 166, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO INSURANCE," passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, 1 (Slom).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 172 (S.B. No. 1350, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Sakamoto moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 172 be adopted and S.B. No. 1350, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Hee.

Senators Fukunaga and Ige requested their vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Sakamoto rose to request that remarks in support of the measure be entered into the Journal.

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Sakamoto's remarks read as follows:

"Honolulu and Oahu are facing a housing crisis that has been increasing for decades. The solution of the past was to expand with new housing developments outside of urban Honolulu. This has resulted in sprawl, high infrastructure costs, increased traffic, and loss of open space and agricultural lands.

"We have an opportunity to refocus and optimize the use of one of the few developable areas within urban Honolulu. Kaka'ako has been designated one of those areas. The renewed emphasis on this special development district will allow a master plan to design Kaka'ako to meet housing, commercial, industrial, and community needs. These uses are often not easily accommodated side-by-side or when left to the self-interest of private and individual developers, could create banks of luxury condominiums rather than a well-planned mixed-use community.

"SB1350 proposes to refocus the Honolulu Community Development Corporation (HCDA) to increase the affordable housing provided, make use of access to mass transit and create a vibrant commercial and industrial center with recreational and leisure amenities for its workers and residents. The bill requires a fair percentage of square footage dedicated to affordable housing. It also gives developers a menu of options to meet reserve housing requirements within or without the design district. It emphasizes the urgency for action by providing a five year window of opportunity with a lower percentage dedicated to reserve housing so that developers will act more expeditiously. Finally, the bill attempts to keep for sale affordable housing affordable with ten year requirements and incentives to keep rentals affordable for at least twenty years.

"While the bill may not be perfect and advocates and detractors may still not be fully satisfied, the bill will provide the catalyst for action that should not be put off. With rail transit coming, housing in shortage, further delays could allow Kaka'ako to become a patchwork of developments that do not meet the needs of the whole nor be effectively contribute to a well-planned, and coordinated mixed-use community.

"To put things in a different perspective, let's look at a hypothetical 80,000 sq ft property. The land value at $250/sq ft would be $20,000,000. When developed this could produce over 300 residential units of which 60 would be required to be affordable if the property is less than 80,000 sq ft or 90 affordable units for a 80,000+ sq ft property. Is that too much to require based on our state's investment in the Kaka'ako district?

"I urge my colleagues to support this bill. There may be provisions we will have to further adjust but there are no fatal flaws. The bill is the result of many recommendations by many individuals and entities with disparate interests. We must not act in haste, but we must also act with urgency and with decisiveness. Access to both for sale and for rental affordable housing and the advent of rail transit cannot be delayed or hampered because we have yet to provide a basis for HCDA to optimize this valuable and critical asset. Increasing the affordable housing footprint within urban Honolulu reduces traffic, requires less new infrastructure, and can provide our residents with a pleasant and vibrant community when residing, working, or playing. Mahalo."

Senator Baker moved that S.B. No. 1568, S.D. 2, H.D. 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Ige.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Basically what this bill does is to extend unemployment compensation benefits to part-time workers, and also provides that if there is 'compelling family reasons' for a person leaving work that they can still be compensated, and I think that 'compelling family reasons' can be very broad. The examples we discussed, of course, were domestic violence and I think everybody feels very concerned about that, but if you're on the other end of that, if you're an employer and your employee leaves, you still have a problem. You're going to wind up paying for the unemployment compensation benefits and you're going to have to pay for another employee in addition to that. I think this bill needs more work. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, the Senate agreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 1568, S.D. 2, and S.B. No. 1568, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE," passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

SECTION 4. Senate Bill No. 199, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 2 is amended by deleting subsection (i) in section 235-110.9, Hawaii Revised Statutes, and replacing it with a new subsection (i) to read as follows:

- (1) Aggregate and periodic credit caps for all new investments. The maximum amount of high technology business investment tax credits available under this section shall not exceed the following amounts for the following periods:
  - (A) $80,000,000 to be claimed over the five-year period set forth in subsection (a) for investments made beginning on May 1, 2009, and through December 31, 2009; and

- (B) $80,000,000 to be claimed over the five-year period set forth in subsection (a), for investments made during the calendar year beginning on January 1, 2010, and ending on December 31, 2010, plus any carryover credit allotments available from unused credit allotments from the prior calendar years and in subparagraph (A).
- (2) Credit allotments. Beginning on May 1, 2009, the department shall provide credit allotments to qualified high technology businesses up to the maximum amount of high technology business investment tax credits as provided in paragraph (1). A qualified high technology business may apply for a credit allotment of high technology business investment tax credits in any amount not to exceed an aggregate of $10,000,000 for investments it receives in a single calendar year (to be claimed over the five-year period set forth in subsection (a)) for investments, as defined in section 235-1, made in a qualified high technology business in the same calendar year. A qualified high technology business may apply for an allotment of high technology business investment tax credits, on a form prescribed by the department, or by a duly executed written letter or statement delivered to the department prior to the time that the department has established and published a prescribed form, on or after the day on which that qualified high technology business has received the investment for which that allotment is applied for; provided that in order to apply for that allotment, the qualified high technology business shall attest and declare to the department the amount of investment that the qualified high technology business has received for which it is applying for that allotment; provided further that the qualified high technology business submits to the department a copy of the checks, bank deposit receipts, wire transfer confirmations, or other evidence reasonably acceptable to the department to verify that the qualified high technology business has received the investment for which the allotment is being applied for. All allotments issued by the department shall be made on a first to apply basis only. Notices of all allotments and denials thereof shall be certified in writing and delivered to the respective qualified high technology business by the department by email, fax, United States Postal Service, or other means reasonably requested by the qualified high technology business and approved by the department, within one business day of the department's receipt of the application for that allotment. If a qualified high technology business does not receive the full allotment of high technology business investment tax credits applied for, the qualified high technology business may, at an investor's option, refund to that investor all or any portion of that investor's investment for which allotment was applied for. An investor's right to receive such refund of its investment shall not negate or invalidate an investment's status as being nonrefundable or at risk, as required by section 235-1. Beginning no later than July 1, 2009, the department shall post on its website in a manner accessible to the general public the total amount of allotments made, and the total unused allotments of credits remaining available under this subsection, which posting shall be updated by the department within one business day of making any allotment of credits pursuant to this subsection.
- (3) Non-transferable nature of allotments. All credit allotments issued by the department shall be non-transferable, non-negotiable, and non-assignable; provided that a statutory conversion in the form of business entity shall not be considered a transfer or assignment.

- (4) Credit claims subject to audit. Notwithstanding a credit allotment under this section, every claim for credit shall be subject to audit or review by the department.”

SECTION 5. Senate Bill No. 199, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 2, is amended by renumbering Sections 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, and 10, as sections 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, and 9, respectively.

Senator Bunda moved that Floor Amendment No. 17 be adopted, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland.

Senator Bunda rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

“This bill actually adds a $10 million cap per investor for investments made between May 2009 and January 2011, and it adds an aggregate cap of $80 million in investments per year for which credits may be claimed. It also removes the credit allocation ratio limitation of 1 to 1. But, Madam President, it adds a partial deferral of credits that will provide an additional budget savings and result in a total cost savings of more than $151 million over the next biennium.

“Colleagues, this amendment will provide for continued employment for people now in the industry, as well as the creation of new job opportunities in the state. I urge all of you to vote for this amendment. Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Kim rose to speak in opposition to the measure and said:

“Madam President, certainly we’re willing to have this amendment be considered and looked at, but despite the fact that the House took the amendment up and the amendment did not pass, I have to speak against the amendment at this point in time. This measure is an important bill to our financial plan. Should this measure fail, we will have a big hole in the budget. Also, the difference with this measure is the 2 for 1 credits; that is the only difference. This floor amendment will allow the multiple credits to be taken, which is one of the biggest criticisms of the measure. But again, despite that, I was willing to consider the amendment, but the fact that the House has in fact voted against it—it has failed—then I ask my colleagues to please do not support the amendment. Thank you.”

Senator Slom requested a Roll Call vote and the Chair so ordered.

The motion to adopt Floor Amendment No. 17 was put by the Chair and, Roll Call vote having been requested, failed to carry on the following Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 7. Noes, 18 (English, Espero, Gabbard, Galuteria, Green, Hanabusa, Hee, Hemmings, Hooser, Kidani, Kim, Kokubun, Nishihara, Sakamoto, Takamine, Taniguchi, Tokuda, Tsutsui).

At 1:04 p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 1:05 p.m.

By unanimous consent, action S.B. No. 199, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION,” was deferred until Thursday, May 7, 2009.

ADJOURNMENT

At 1:06 p.m., on motion by Senator Sakamoto, seconded by Senator Slom and carried, the Senate adjourned until 11:30 a.m., Wednesday, May 6, 2009.

Gov. Msg. No. 658, informing the Senate that on May 5, 2009, the Governor allowed the following measure to become law without signature, which reads as follows:

Senate Bill No. 1260 as Act 42, entitled: "RELATING TO AIR POLLUTION FEES."

"Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: Senate Bill No. 1260 SD1 HD1

On May 5, 2009, Senate Bill No. 1260, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Air Pollution Fees' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

The purpose of this bill is to eliminate the cap on air pollution fees for covered air pollution sources permitted under the federal Clean Water Act. The federal government allowed states to set caps in recognition of the impact high fees would have on the users of electricity. Currently, Section 342B-29, Hawaii Revised Statutes, allows the Department of Health to assess fees for the first 4,000 tons of air pollutants from a covered air pollution source. This legislation would remove the cap which will result in an increase in fees for certain entities, most notably larger power plants.

At most times and in most places in Hawaii, we enjoy some of the best air quality in the nation. This is reaffirmed through the fact that the State meets the federal Environmental Protection Agency's air pollution attainment standards. The Department of Health works diligently to regulate and monitor air pollution sources and has the authority to assess fees to support programs to improve our air quality statewide.

While enactment of this bill may provide an incentive for certain large power plants to reduce their emissions, we must be mindful of the fact that any increase in fees will almost certainly be passed on to the consumer through higher electric utility rates. This bill attempts to address renewable energy goals through punitive measures that adversely impact our residents rather than through the positive, proactive approaches my Administration has implemented through our Hawaii Clean Energy Initiative. In these difficult economic times, we cannot continue to operate government programs and services by burdening consumers with higher taxes and fees.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed Senate Bill No. 1260 to become law as Act 42, effective May 5, 2009, without my signature.

Sincerely,

/s/ Linda Lingle
LINDA LINGLE"

ADOPTION OF RESOLUTIONS

MATTERS DEFERRED FROM TUESDAY, MAY 5, 2009

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1557 (H.C.R. No. 100, H.D. 1):

Senator Sakamoto moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1557 and H.C.R. No. 100, H.D. 1 be adopted, seconded by Senator Slom.

Senator Hemmings rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"This resolution may have a humiliating effect for Hawai'i on the national and possibly the world stage, and it may be doing the bidding of a House member with an agenda.

"In looking at the resolution, I agree with some of the premises of H.C.R. No. 100. The majority of the members of the Islam faith are productive, caring, responsible people; and it is estimated that radical Islamists comprise only about 10 percent of that religion. But the 10 percent does not belie the truth because 10 percent of that religion equates to over 100 million advocates who have supported terror and the war on the civilized world. These radical Islamists would like nothing better than to destroy the United States and Israel, as they have stated. They treat many people, mainly their women, most inhumanely. We should all abhor these terrorists who willfully destroy innocent people in the name of their religion.

“What is the motivation behind this resolution? Is it the act of contrition of some legislators in the House? We should not feel any sense of guilt for hating what those radicals have done, and we should certainly hold them accountable. Remember the bombings of the USS Cole, the United States embassies abroad, the World Trade Center, the subway in England, the train in Spain, the nightclub of young people in Bali, the slaughter of Jews in Israel, and 9/11? All committed in the name of Allah. These terrorists have publicly cut off the head of a newsman, stoned to death women for adultery, poured acid on young girls for going to school, and flogged a 74-year old woman, a widow, for having coffee with two young men. Islamic terrorists have put bombs on mentally-disabled people and even their own children to blow up innocent people. These terrorists do not represent the vast majority of Muslims, but they do represent a huge problem. They’re responsible for unspeakable acts of terror.

“What is this resolution saying? Or is it just the work of someone’s personal agenda in the House? We should not feel the need to have a special day to recognize the second largest religion in the world when we never proclaimed a special day recognizing the largest religion in the world, Christianity. Will we be required to proclaim other days in recognition of Buddhism, Judaism, Hinduism, Shinto Day, Baha’i Day?

“This resolution steps over the line of separating church and state. Legislators should refrain from proclaiming special days to recognize any particular reason in the explicit way this one does. I recall radical Islamists around the world cheering the absolute horrors of 9/11. This is the day all civilized people of all religions should remember.

“I would ask in order to avoid voting on this that it be recommitted for reconsideration, or to absolve us from this whole process by just recommitting it and having it disappear in the ash bin of this legislative process. I will be voting ‘no,’ and I would urge my colleagues to give serious consideration to the implications of this resolution by voting it into law, and I would like to call a Roll Call vote.”

At 11:41 a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 11:59 a.m.

At this time the Chair made the following announcement:

“If there are no objections from the members, we will be taking a Roll Call vote on H.C.R. No. 100, H.D. 1 separately from the other resolutions. Members, the motion to be voted on next will be for all resolutions other than H.C.R. No. 100, H.D. 1, which we will vote on by Roll Call immediately following the vote on these resolutions.”

At 12:00 p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:00 p.m.

Senator Hooser rose in support of the measure and stated:

“You know, there was extensive discussion by the Minority leader earlier in opposition to this resolution; the members clearly have looked at it closely and talked about it. I’ve re-read it myself and given it much thought. Like many here, I was born a Christian, but I believe we live in a tolerant society that recognizes the good in all faiths, whether it’s Buddhist, Muslim, Christian, Jewish, or any number of other faiths. You know, I also agree and support the separation of church and state. However, I think I would be remiss to not point out that this doctrine is not followed by our state government to the letter. We do have prayers in this body before session starts. We have a variety of faiths who offer those prayers. We recognize not just Christmas, but Good Friday, a very sacred Christian holy day, as a state holiday. And I for one believe that we should honor Islamic faith as we do other faiths, and if you read the resolution—which I will not go into detail to read, but I’d be happy to do so if we would like extensive debate on this issue—it merely does that. It merely honors the faith and nothing more. So I urge my colleagues to vote in support. Thank you.”

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“I wasn’t going to say anything, but after the words of our good colleague just a moment ago, I think it’s incumbent upon me to rise and say I think we all seek tolerance. I don’t think there’s ever been any country in the history of the world that’s been more tolerant than the United States of America. And because of that tolerance, we’ve looked the other way a lot of times and many thousands of our citizens have been killed by terrorists. I think also that some of us still have the memory a number of years ago when a seemingly innocuous resolution was passed in both the House and the Senate with just a few of us voting ‘no’ on that, and that was later referred to as the ‘Aloha Saddam’ resolution which basically gave credence to Saddam Hussein and to the dictatorship and to the things that he did, in the name of ‘aloha spirit.’ You know, we’ve got to be, I think, very discriminating in terms of what we say and what we do.

“I’d also like to say that this resolution came before the committee that I serve on, EDT, and we were told that day that because of internal deadlines, we could not change that resolution in any way. It had to pass exactly the way it was. So, inquiring minds would say, ‘What’s the rush? Why the hurry? Why special treatment for a special group of people?’ Tolerance, yes. Ignorance, no. Thank you.”

Senator Hee rose on a point of inquiry and said:

“Madam President, will you ask the previous speaker if he will respond to a point of inquiry?”

The Chair then asked Senator Slom if he would respond to the point of inquiry. Senator Slom agreed to the point of inquiry, and Senator Hee was instructed to proceed.

“Would you ask the previous speaker which specific passages in the resolution he spoke about that he would like to be changed, as a member of the committee. Ask him to please be specific.”

Senator Slom responded:

“Well yes, I’ll respond to it. As I said, we were told from the moment that we started taking up that particular resolution that we would be unable to make any changes. So therefore, people that came to testify and those of us on the Committee did not get involved on the specifics of change since we were told it had to go through that Committee and had to go through that day. Hope that answers your question, Senator Hee.”

Senator Hee responded:

“Madam President, would the previous speaker like me to restate my question?”

The Chair then said:

“Are you saying, Senator Hee, that he did not respond to your question?”

Senator Hee responded:

"I asked the previous speaker, because he wanted to amend it, which specific passages in the resolution—since I am not a member of that committee—does he specifically wish to have amended so that we can hold this over until next year? Thank you."

Senator Slom responded:

"Yes, thank you, Madam President. I would be very happy, if it's the will of the Senate, to hold this resolution over; we have a full and open hearing, and then we discuss specifics of changes that might be made."

The Chair then stated:

"Senator Hee and Senator Slom, I believe that we can all surmise that Senator Slom does not have specific passages in his mind at this particular point in time. Would that be a correct statement, Senator Slom?"

Senator Slom replied:

"Well only partially, Madam President. I would say that what is specific is the fact that this is specific legislation, a specific resolution, narrowly defined and narrowly interpreted. Thank you."

Senator Green rose in support of the measure with reservations and stated:

"I just think we're going down a slippery slope. I think that there are good people here that are good testifiers across the state on all issues, and I just would rather see us not insinuate religion into our decision making. I think we can use compassion, good judgment, any number of things, but separation of church and state is very important to me personally. I am concerned, based on today's audience, people who I care very deeply about are approaching some issues from a religious standpoint rather than a standpoint of decision making in government. And I think separation of church and state better darned well be preserved or we're not going to be the country we want to be. Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Hemmings rose in rebuttal and said:

"Thank you Madam President. I rise in rebuttal to some of the statements made and in an attempt to answer a question that was asked."

The Chair responded:

"I don't recall a question asked of you, Senator Hemmings, but you may state your point of rebuttal."

"Well then I will address that question in a pejorative statement without specifically answering it."

"Separation of church and state is a doctrine that we all hold dear, especially those of us who are practicing Catholics, or Christians, or practicing Buddhists, or practicing Muslims, or anything. We do not want to have what they have in the mideast in Muslim states, and that is theocracies, where puppets like Ahmadinejad proclaim, in the name of the mullahs, his wish to eradicate the nation of Israel, referring to it as a 'rotting carcass.' Specifically, this resolution praises the Islamic religion by setting it aside as a specific religious holiday. Clearly, Thomas Jefferson, in writing to the Baptists in Danbury, articulated the position of separation of church and state. It is not in the Constitution, but nevertheless, it is a valid point that we should consider. This resolution also may violate, for the purposes of the good Senator from the Kahaaluu area, our own rules. Rule 61, I believe, is a little ambiguous, but certainly it should be considered. And I do appreciate the wise words of the good Senator from Kona on the Big Island that we should not be going down this religious road on the floor of the Senate or the House.

"The good Senator from Kaua'i—and I understand his passion on these things, completely understand it—should recognize that, exactly as he said, that most religions are indeed peaceful. But, in the case of Islam, there are a great number of Islamists—they estimate 10 percent, and 10 percent of a billion plus people is 100 million supporters—who quite frankly don't qualify. Specifically, what is said in this resolution contradicts the will and the deeds of 100 million people who wish to eradicate the civilized world unless we adhere to Shari'a, as they see it. And the atrocities they have committed in the name of their religion speak louder than my words.

"I would urge you; this is really not an issue we should be dealing with. It may contradict the doctrine of separation of church and state; and yes, there are holidays that are deemed religious. However these holidays were not enacted under the guise of declaring them a religious holiday of a specific religion as this resolution does. If we want to celebrate Islam, we can celebrate within our communities as we so desire. And we know on the evolution of common law in these areas, we're starting to celebrate Hanukkah more on a regular basis, and we're celebrating other days of other religions on a regular basis; and that's the beauty of freedom. But this resolution contradicts that freedom. And it also contradicts the lives and the goodwill of people that are fighting a terrible, terrible war, not against a nation-state but against a religious state that would just as soon eradicate us if they had their way. So I would urge, once again, that in the wisdom of the Senate that we take this House resolution and recommit it or vote it down. Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Espero rose in support of the measure and stated:

"I believe that we should pass this resolution, Madam President, in the spirit of aloha, diversity, tolerance. If you read the resolution, we are highlighting the positives. Many religions, many peoples, many countries have evil, bad people with bad intentions. Even in the name of Christianity, over the decades, over the centuries, there have been atrocities done in the name of Christianity. Yet, the majority of the people in this state are Christians, in this nation are Christians; I believe also in the world.

"But we're not here to look at a religion and a people and to emphasize all the negative and bad things that have been done in their name. That's not what this resolution is about. It is about tolerance. It's about compassion. If you look at our own host culture and the native Hawaiians, they talk about a god—and they still do today—known as Pele. I'm sure many people in this room have mentioned her name. I'm certain many people in the gallery have mentioned her name; and yet, this is a name, this is a god that contradicts Christianity. I'm not here to say it is right or wrong, but I'm saying we are a state of tolerance. We understand that people have different beliefs. We may not all agree on every single item and issue out there, but to highlight the negativity of the Islamic people is an insult to the majority of Muslims who are good, law-abiding citizens of the world. We have countries which the United States of America are allied with Islamic nations. We have people in prison, U.S. citizens, who are Christians.

"So let's not take this resolution and twist it. Let's not take what should be really a positive resolution of aloha, tolerance, diversification of people and cultures, and suddenly say, 'There's some bad people there and thus you don't deserve any recognition in this state legislature.' As was stated, we celebrate Good Friday. We celebrate Christmas. We celebrate Easter. We say prayers every morning. Our currency says, 'In God we trust.' And the god that I worship as a Catholic is a god who is compassionate, merciful, forgiving and loving, and I don't feel if I pass this resolution, He will strike me down. Because there are differences, and we must remember that when we think about this measure. Thank you, Madam President."

ADOPTION OF RESOLUTION

MATTER DEFERRED FROM WEDNESDAY, MAY 6, 2009

H.C.R. No. 199:

Senator Sakamoto moved that H.C.R. No. 199 be adopted, seconded by Senator Slom.

Senator Hemmings rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"It's uncalled for and certainly is, from the Saguaro Correctional Center's perspective, harassment of a private business that is contracted with the State of Hawai'i to provide a much needed service of housing our prisoners. And it certainly should be noted that the (what I would refer to as the) 'criminal' lobby here at the Legislature has done an excellent job of lobbying for and protecting, sometimes unfairly so, the interests of the criminals, that this bill basically does their bidding. It should be noted that we have tremendous budget problems in the State of Hawai'i, and Saguaro Prison and the other prisons on the mainland house our prisoners for about one-half the cost that it costs us here in the State of Hawai'i. And of course, we'll hear more about that with bills that are to come later. But the bottom line is that this resolution does not serve the public's best interest. It serves one particular interest group—prisoners—and I think it's unnecessary and it does not serve the interests of the people of Hawai'i. So I'll be voting 'no'."

Senator Slom requested that a "no" vote be entered and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Espero rose in support of the measure and stated:

"The comments that the good Senator from Hawai'i Kai made are wrong. They are not looking after any criminal or prisoners' interests. They are looking after the interests of our state. We spend over $50 million per year to send inmates to the mainland, and we've been doing this for over a decade; and in that time period, we have never audited the operations. It just makes common sense, and it's fiscally prudent to do an audit to make certain that we are getting the necessary programming and services for the over $50 million we are exporting to the mainland. Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Hemmings rose and said:

"It's amazing how perspectives on things can be so different. Yes, we are exporting..."

The Chair interjected:

"Senator Hemmings, you are rising in rebuttal?"

"I rise in rebuttal of the previous speaker. Thank you, Madam President for pointing that out. Yes, we do export $50 million, but if we house those same prisoners here it would cost the taxpayers $100 million. So it appears to me with my elementary math that we're saving the taxpayers approximately $50 million by 'exporting our prisoners.' And I think we should all remember when we pass resolutions like this that these people are prisoners, who have broken the law and violated, in many ways and sometimes very violently, the best interests of the people of Hawai'i, and they're serving a prison term. They're not away at some camp. So I think this resolution, once again, is uncalled for. Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Espero rose in rebuttal and said:

"I agree that prisoners must be incarcerated and they must spend their time for certain crimes that they have committed. But again, this does not have anything to do with bringing prisoners back to Hawai'i. It's an audit to make certain that there is not waste in the $50 million we are spending and that operations on the mainland are efficient and cost-effective. It's just good sense and good government. Thank you, Madam President."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.C.R. No. 199, entitled: "HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE AUDITOR TO CONDUCT A PRIVATE PRISON PERFORMANCE AUDIT OF SAGUARO CORRECTIONAL CENTER," was adopted with Senators Hemmings and Slom voting "No".

FINAL READING

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 167 (H.B. No. 200, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Kim moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 167 be adopted and H.B. No. 200, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland.

Senator Kim rose in support of the measure and stated:

"Madam President, it's been three months, two weeks and one day—but who's counting?—since Opening Day and marking the journey to balance the budget. What a roller coaster ride it's been, and obviously, I don't care too much for roller coasters. If it wasn't the Council of Revenues changing its projections, it was the stimulus numbers; and if it wasn't the stimulus numbers, it was the FMAP or it was Medicaid. The target kept moving. Bets were being placed in Chinatown that we would not be able to close the budget on time, but all the while, I was optimistic that we would be able to close by today, and I looked upon the deficit as an opportunity to downsize government, to cut out the fat, deliver more efficient services, reorganize departments and get our priorities in order.

"Your Committee on Conference set out to find common ground in areas we believed were the least detrimental to core and direct services. Hard choices had to be made, and the House Finance Chair and I made them. It boiled down to a lot of compromising between the House and Senate positions, and we did our best to respond to individual legislators' requests. In some cases, it was restoring cut positions; in others, a proviso or two, or maybe even ten. Various revenue measures, further budget restrictions, the availability of federal stimulus funds, and state special funds enabled the Committee to provide support to revive the following programs cut by the Governor: Adult Dental Services, Immigrant Health Services, Partnerships in Community Living, Healthy Start, Respite Care, Invasive Species Support, Lifeguard Services, and even the Bishop Museum. Also of note is the $14.3 million general fund subsidy being provided to the Hawai'i Health Systems Corporation for FY10. This subsidy is essential for our hospitals to continue serving as a public safety net to many residents and visitors, especially those of the neighbor islands. In addition, $30 million will also be provided to the hospital system over the biennium through a mix of general funds and matching federal funds. I must give a note of thanks to the Health Chair for shepherding the bill, and to my Vice Chair who never let me forget that we had to find funding for the hospitals in this budget.

"To support these important programs, we accepted most of the reductions proposed by the Governor. Additionally, 120 vacant positions were reduced, resulting in a general fund savings of $7 million. The cost of 36 positions and $8 million will be shifted from general fund to non-general funds in FY10; an additional $9 million in costs will be shifted to FY11; $7.6 million budgeted in excess of the needs for an out-of-state inmate contract will also be reduced; and a number of other adjustments were made in an effort to reach the Governor's desired target reduction of 20 percent to discretionary spending.

"We have used federal stimulus funds available under the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 to provide a higher level of support for education than afforded by the Governor. Your Committee held fast to the concept that these ARRA funds were intended to stabilize education over the fiscal biennium, and helped to offset some of the reductions initially proposed by the Governor and the Legislature. During the passage of the Senate draft of this budget, I stated that the Senate did not rely upon the Hurricane Relief Fund to balance the state financial plan; and I am pleased, Madam President, to report that under this Legislature's current plan, the Hurricane Relief Fund is still intact. It is a resource that the administration may choose to utilize should the revenue picture continue to worsen. This budget appropriates $5.1 billion and change in general funds and $10.8 billion in all means of financing for FY10.

"Madam President, your Conference Committee worked diligently with all parties involved during the development of this budget. The budget is truly a joint effort. It reflects the priorities, concerns and desires of the community, their elected representatives, the executive branch. The measure before you enhances government efficiency and minimized impacts to important state services.

“Finally, Madam President, I want to close by expressing my gratitude to all of those involved in supporting the Legislature’s task of shaping the responsible expenditure plan. They include the countless concerned citizens across the state that provided feedback by letter, fax, e-mail and phone. Numerous members of the executive branch also played a key role in guiding our efforts. I personally want to thank you, Madam President, for your constant support throughout the process. I commend the chairs who actually found cuts in the budget, along with chairs who calmed down their subject matter advocates when we could not accommodate their requests into the budget. And in closing, I know I speak for all of you when I say there are not enough words to express our thanks to our hardworking staff; and I especially need to single out the seven budget analysts and the five bill researchers who stayed up until wee hours of the morning these last couple of weeks, preparing the budget and the revenue bills and making sure we dotted the i’s and crossed the t’s. This being my first budget, I relied upon the experience and knowledge of three key staffers: Brian Hallett, Rod Becker, and Ross Tsukenjo. Of course, Madam President, the conference draft now before you wouldn’t be possible if it weren’t for the willingness of members of both the Senate and the House working together. All in all, your Committees of Ways and Means and Finance put together a responsible and balanced budget, and I sincerely thank you, Madam President. I thank you, my colleagues, for the opportunity to serve as the Ways and Means Chair. Thank you.”

Senator Hemmings rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“Before I start, I do want to acknowledge the tenacious and hardworking Chair of the WAM Committee who stepped into this position probably the most difficult time in the history of the State. And though I don’t agree with the results of the budget, I certainly applaud her openness and even-handedness in considering everyone’s point of view in putting together this budget.

“And much can be said about the circumstances that have brought us to this juncture in the affairs of our state and to this budget. We can point the finger of blame on the economic crisis we face, but ultimately we control our destiny here in Hawai’i. Certainly over the last several decades if we’d been more vigilant on how we spent the money of the people of Hawai’i, our problems would be manageable. With less spending, our taxes could be reduced, thus enhancing our reputation as a good place to do business. There are reasons why our single industry economy is over-dependent on that one single industry, tourism. This Legislature’s spending policies have made us tremendously vulnerable. So now, even a foolish comment about air travel by the Vice President of the United States can have a devastating effect on Hawai’i’s delicate tourist industry. In years gone by, we could have done much to enhance the quality of life of our citizens while simultaneously reducing government spending. We could have privatized the monopolistic big hospitals such as Maui Memorial, Hilo, and Kona, saving hundreds of millions of dollars. It’s been tallied in this budget we will subsidize this system by over an astounding $200 million. The DOE continues to be a black hole, sucking in billions of dollars and producing, by national standards and tests, sometimes stagnating results. By dismantling the top-heavy bureaucracy and restructuring public education, hundreds of millions of dollars could be saved. But, you know what, Madam President, colleagues? We’ll never know because this Legislature audits everyone in the state but the DOE, the biggest spender. They have not had a comprehensive audit since 1973, so we just don’t know where the money is going and how big the bureaucracy is. Children, parents and teachers suffer while we continue to throw billions of dollars at the system, which this budget will do.

“These reforms alone could go a long way in balancing the budget, and though our numbers are small, we’re not going to surrender. We Republicans continue to hold the system accountable as best we can. We’ll continue to advocate the reform of the Hawai’i Health Care Systems Corporation, the Department of Education, and other government agencies that we believe could be doing more, spending less. And of course, we can have public-private partnerships that could greatly enhance our viability, such as the sadly killed Renaissance Plan for parks. Much more could be said about restructuring and streamlining government. Our budget could be balanced without raising taxes, as the Governor is trying to do.

“So people of Hawai’i have to ask themselves, and we should ask ourselves, why do we persist with business as usual when it clearly is driving us to the brink of economic collapse, as has happened in California, who has utilized the same formula we have. The answer is that government labor unions will not share in the burden the rest of us face in this failing economy. Thousands, thousands of our citizens are unemployed, taking dramatic pay cuts and being furloughed. Longstanding Hawai’i businesses have gone bankrupt. Government unions want to walk away from this crisis unscathed. This Legislature seems to be doing their bidding. And this is not union bashing; it’s the truth. It is a sincere and deep concern shared by a growing majority of the people of Hawai’i that we can do a better job.

“This budget is balanced by economically devastating tax increases, raiding funds designed sometimes to help the needy, and other punitive initiatives that will further erode our economic viability. And I recognize the vexing problem the Chair of WAM faces. I believe the budget was crafted with transparency, and, as I said, is a sincere effort. But the bottom line is that ultimately, it is business as usual. As a matter of practicality and principle, I must vote ‘no’ against the results. Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Chun Oakland rose in support of the measure and stated:

“First of all, I would like to thank my Senate colleagues for identifying the preservation of Hawai’i’s safety net as one of the key priorities this session. Health Chair Ige, Labor Chair Takamine, and I, as your Chair of Human Services, truly appreciate your support and commitment to making sure that the basic needs of our people to have food, shelter, health and safety were preserved in the state budget. Having the foresight and compassion to develop a budget that supports an expanded safety net for our struggling and working families, for our children and youth, and our kupuna during these very difficult times is truly appreciated. I would like to express my thanks to Senate President, Speaker of the House, the Senate and House leadership teams, the Chairs and Vice Chairs of Ways and Means and Finance, for their steadfast support of human services. Also, I would like to thank my House counterpart, Representative Mizuno, Chair of the House Human Services Committee, for his compassion and dedicated efforts. With everyone’s leadership and the help of the Ways and Means and House Finance staff, the Governor, the director and staff of Department of Human Services, the many community advocates, as well as President Obama, our Hawai’i delegation, and the other members of Congress, the budget for human services is in good shape to support many of our families and individuals who are being severely impacted by the global economic downturn.

“The budget for the Department of Human Services reflects many important safety net programs. I wanted to highlight some of the significant programs that were supported in the biennium budget:

“As you are aware, there is a growing public demand for health insurance coverage through our Medicaid program. The Quest program currently serves 187,000 people and the Medicaid rolls continue to go up by an average of 1,725 new cases per month since April 2008. In Fiscal Year 2009, the Medicaid budget has seen a $50 million shortfall of general funds. Thanks to the increase in FMAP, or what we call Federal Medical Assistance Percentage, from 55.11 percent to 67.35 percent for at least the next seven quarters and possibly two more starting in October 2008, Hawai‘i will see approximately $350 million new dollars come from the federal government to offset the growing need for health services for our people. This allocation also covers Quest expanded program to provide long-term care services for Hawai‘i’s kupuna and disabled population each year. This program currently helps approximately 40,000 people in the state. We have allocated for Quest and Quest-expanded $1.3 billion each fiscal year.

“This budget also restores funding for the Immigrant Health Initiative program mentioned by the WAM Chair for immigrants needing health care coverage in the amount of $275,000, as well as funding for keiki care in the amount of $200,000 to provide health insurance coverage for children whose parents have lost their jobs but do not qualify for Quest.

“$69.5 million in 2010 and $62.5 million in Fiscal Year 2011 is appropriated to fund the increasing number of families qualifying for the state’s Temporary Assistance to Needy Families program, where there is one parent and children in the household, as well as TAONF, or Temporary Assistance to Other Needy Families, which are two parent households with children. Currently, there are 14,628 people who are receiving TANF assistance; 12,070 of them are children. Each month we are seeing a significant increase in families needing help with basic needs for food and shelter. In addition, $13 million in 2010 and $11.6 million in 2011 is appropriated to help 2,648 families requesting assistance through TAONF specifically. In order to qualify for TANF or TAONF, a family of four, for example, has a household income per month of $958. Each month there are 1,857 applications received by DHS; 59 percent of them are rejected. Many families are hurting and cannot qualify because our income and asset limits are too stringent.

“There is also $13 million in Fiscal Year 2010 and $11.8 million in 2011 set aside for work programs to help people become self-sufficient, to be competitive in the workforce.

“$15.1 million and $13.2 million will help support child welfare programs, and this is for the protection of our abused and neglected children.

“$11.9 million and $11.5 million in each fiscal year has been appropriated to support our elders and disabled with community care services and adult protective services.

“$5.4 million has been allocated to non-school hour programs that prevent teen pregnancy and promote healthy alternatives for our youth. We will be able to provide approximately 230,960 youth, ages 5-19, with challenging, stimulating opportunities to grow and be involved with positive youth development activities.

“$61.9 million each year is allocated to child care services that will support 10,985 children under the age of 5.

“$1.5 million of TANF moneys and $3 million of tobacco settlement moneys will be allocated, totaling $4.5 million, for Healthy Start, Hawai‘i’s premier child abuse prevention program that has had a 99.8 percent success rate in preventing child abuse and neglect among the highest risk families with newborn babies. In addition, $4 million and $3.2 million in TANF funds will be used for Enhanced Healthy Start. These are for families who are already involved in child protection and we have seen a cycle of abuse. This has helped with a variety of family strengthening programs and reduced our re-abuse rate significantly to 3 percent, one of the lowest re-abuse rates in the nation.

“TANF funding has also been allocated to fund youth gang prevention services, legal services for the poor, domestic violence shelters and services, and sexual assault services.

“State vocational rehabilitation services funds have been preserved also for the visually impaired, those that are blind, hearing impaired, and deaf persons.

“Adult dental services funding, which was originally cut, has been restored. This means that adults in the Medicaid program will be able to receive preventive dental services and dentures, and not be subjected to only emergency services involving the pulling of teeth.

“$19.8 million and $15.5 million has been appropriated to support homeless shelters, transitional housing services, and other critical services for individuals and families who are homeless. On the average, daily there are 5,800 people who are in these circumstances, and these essential services will at least afford them a safe place to sleep and eat. In the course of a year, approximately 14,000 unduplicated people enter homelessness and access the services provided by the state appropriation, and the majority are able to move into permanent housing.

“In 2008, $175 million was appropriated for the Supplemental Nutritional Assistance Program, or SNAP—this is the former Food Stamp Program—to help approximately 55,582 people. We are expecting significantly more federal funding to support the growing number of people qualifying for this assistance, and so we really do thank Congress and the President for coming to our aid for these next two years.

“The funding allocated in the budget will also allow the Office of Youth Services to be able to address the on-going improvements being made at the Hawai‘i Youth Correctional Facility, which we are very close to addressing the numerous concerns identified several years ago that Hawai‘i needed to address for the health and safety of the youth in the State’s custody.

“The funding levels approved in the DHS budget will allow Hawai‘i to continue improving the child welfare program and meet the benchmarks of the stringent federal requirements spelled out in our State Performance Improvement Plan for Child Welfare Services.

“In the area of health, some funding was preserved to support children with developmental disabilities, mental health services for children and adults, substance abuse treatment for adolescents and adults, health coverage for the uninsured, the Hawai‘i Health Systems Corporation to operate the neighbor island hospitals, as well as Kahuku Hospital and Maluhia and Leahi long-term care hospitals on Oahu, primary health care centers, and kupuna care services, which I am very grateful for.

“Thank you to the people of Hawai‘i for supporting these essential safety net services with your tax dollars for the people of our state, and mahalo to the Legislature, the Governor and her administration, and the many human service and health organizations that helped to shape the budget before us. I appreciate your support very much.”

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“It’s always difficult to stand up and vote against a budget, particularly when the budget is so big, when the budget contains so many different amounts and programs, and all of that. And that's exactly the problem. I, too, concur that the Ways and Means Committee had a very difficult time, and they did very good in transparent resolution of the budget as they see it in their ideology. Those of us on this side have a different ideology, and we've talked about it in good times as well as bad; and basically, the problem has been that our budget has continued to grow and outpace the growth of the economic livelihood of the people in this state. So when we talk about a moving target, and refer to the estimates made by the Council of Revenues and others, that certainly is true. But the real moving target in this state are the taxpayers, the families, the small businesses, because we search them out and we target them to pay more and more and more. At a time when they are cutting back and doing without things that they really need, as opposed to things that they would want, we continue spending. We continue putting money back in programs that had been reduced, cut, or eliminated.

"The problem is this is what we've done year after year, good times or bad times; and so we have more people that have become more dependent on government. I'm from a generation that remembers when people took care of themselves; when families took care of their family members, when churches and charities and other eleemosynary groups took care of these people within each community. But that's hard to do now; it's hard to do because the numbers keep rising. You just heard a dissertation on how many people are dependent and how many people need this service and that service, but that's the problem. Because what's going to happen after these tax increases that this Legislature has passed cripples more business, after the hotel room tax cripples our number one industry, after we have poor legislation such as the union card check bill that cripples all businesses, but particularly small businesses—where's the money going to be generated? 'Ah,' you say, 'President Obama and the Democratic Congress.' Well, that's fine. You talk about the ARRA, the so-called Recovery Act, the so-called stimulus, which is a.k.a. for more debt, more spending, more taxes. Take that money because this budget is based on that money; even the executive branch based their calculations on getting the money from Washington. But two things: Where does the money come from in Washington? It doesn't come out of the Congressmen's wallets or pants pockets just like nothing comes from us here. We rely on the public. Number two, as was said: At best, these so-called stimulus funds will count for one to two years; what happens then? And if we put everybody back in the programs that were reduced or cut or eliminated, what do they say in two years? 'We can't get by without government. We need more government. We need more taxes. We need more spending.' And that's the vicious cycle that we're in.

"We talk about safety nets. Where's the safety net for the taxpayer, the typical Hawai'i family, the small business? There's no safety net for us. We talk about the government in its generosity giving things to people. Government can't give anything to anybody unless it first takes it away from somebody else; and we're seeing the most massive, incredible redistribution of wealth this country has ever seen. And it will not be for a good purpose because you're going to destroy the incentive of those people that work and produce and invest. Instead you're going to have more and more and more people with their hands out. 'Gimme, gimme, gimme. I'm poor. I'm needy.' And some of them aren't. But we have to prioritize, just like we do in our own lives. And those people that come to this Legislature and hear all these fancy words—particularly after the Legislature raised its own salaries this year, and we had a raise in the executive and judiciary salaries in the last two years—and we look at expenditures and what we spend money on, and any individual would take a look at some of those figures and say, 'You can't spend money on this. Why are you doing that?' And we're talking about $11 billion per year. That's what this budget is all about.

"And then we're talking about raiding funds, raiding special funds. Madam President and my colleagues know I vote against the creation of every new special fund because guess what: They're not special. People think that they're giving more money for a particular cause—clean up the oceans, clean up the parks, clean up this, build highways—and then they find that that money is taken away, and what's it taken for? For the general operating expenditures of the State Legislature or the state government. And when that money is gone, it doesn't come back either. We're talking about a one year, one time raid on funds.

"So the real problem here is not that we haven't spent enough, not that our limitations are too strict. If our limitations were too strict, less people—not more people—would be on the rolls to get different kinds of assistance, but we have more every day. Why? Because of our tax policies and philosophies of taxation and spending. They are absolutely connected, and if we continue in this direction then those figures today will seem real easy four or five years from now because they'll double, and we'll have more people. But what happens when you don't have the people working and investing and providing the funds to take care of the rest? And what happens when you have some people saying, 'Well, I'm tired of working and having the fruits of my labor taxed away. I can't make my own decisions for my family, for my business, for anyone else. Why should I work? Why should I stay here?' And that's the danger that we have.

"So no one likes to vote 'no.' No one likes to say, 'These problems might mean that some people will not get what they say they want.' And, again, that's part of the problem with the whole welfare and subsidy situation because what do we do? We pick a number and we say if you're above that number, you don't get anything. If you're a dollar above, you don't get anything, but if you're a dollar below and more, then you're entitled to this. We don't look at individuals. Why? Because we say, 'That's too time-consuming. It's too difficult to look at individuals.' So we just give the money. We're seeing what's happening with Medicaid fraud and welfare fraud across the country. It's happening here. But we're more interested in giving because it's a lot easier when you can tell someone, 'I gave you this. I'm the one that took care of your teeth. I took care of your artificial limb.' That's wonderful, except that you didn't do that; the taxpayers did it.

"So we're going to have to come to a point where either we realize this and we do make some very tough decisions and stand by them, or we're going to see a state that continues to lose business and investment opportunities and with it, the tax revenues to do all the things that we say we'd like to do. Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Hooser rose in support of the measure and stated:

"I'd like to commend the Chair of the Committee and the Vice Chair and the entire Committee and staff for a fine job under very, very difficult circumstances. All of us here during these past months have had to speak to people throughout our community, people from all walks of life, and explain to them as best we can how there's not enough money to go around, and that we're forced by constitutional mandate to have a balanced budget; and so therefore, our options are limited. They're limited to cutting programs, eliminating tax credits, raising taxes, laying people off. And so the Committee struggled with this because everyone that came before us—everyone, whether they're advocating for the environment, advocating for business, advocating for the very poorest in our community—they all had good arguments, and what they all said was true: that if we cut their program, that there was a bigger price to pay down the road. And I think in virtually every instance, we did have to cut because we were forced to do so. But I want to commend the Committee for their work.

"I would be remiss if I didn't correct just a few of the misstatements and misinformation presented by the previous speaker. The remarks characterized the tax increases that we passed as affecting the typical Hawai'i taxpayer; and those that are following this issue will know that those tax increases that we struggled with, but did pass ultimately, target the very wealthiest in our community. It targets people purchasing property over $2 million. And yes, they target tourists, but the research clearly shows that the increases that have been passed in this body, when similar increases were passed in other neighborhoods and other jurisdictions, had no negative impacts, no discernible impacts on the economy. The research also clearly says that those middle class taxpayers and those at the very bottom of the tax scale pay far more in taxes as part of their net tax burden, pay far more in their tax burden than the very wealthiest in our community. So when you look at the overall tax burden, it is obvious and clear and a fact that the wealthiest in our community pay far less than those at the bottom in our community.

"To talk about welfare fraud, Medicare fraud, you know, I don't know why we're not talking about bank fraud or insurance company fraud or investment scams. Okay? Let's look at what really brought us to where we're at in our economy, members. We're not here because poor people are banging on our door for help. We're here because the very wealthiest, the very wealthiest in our nation have abused the system and caused us to be on the brink of economic collapse; and if not for the action of our President and others, we may very well be in much worse condition than we are now. So I for one am thankful for that action. And we have cut hundreds of millions of dollars from this budget.

"The Legislature did not raise our salaries; that's another misstatement. We did not raise our salaries. Those salaries were a recommended increase by a salary commission, which is established in our Constitution, as is how it's been for many, many years.

"You know, the Governor this afternoon is going to be holding a press conference, a grand extravaganza to put on a show like ancient Rome, to go down, veto those tax increases, gathering as many people as she can to show how brave and noble the act is, to protect those who earn the very most in our community, those who can afford $2 million properties and better. But you know there was no press conferences offered when the Governor cut children's health care, no press conferences offered when the very poorest in our community—those who through no fault of their own are unemployable, whether from circumstances of health or birth or otherwise—who are receiving in round numbers at one point maybe $500 a month from the state to help them, help them survive a basic, basic existence. And no press conference was held when that amount was cut in half from the very poorest in our community.

"And I echo the words of the Chair of the Human Services Committee when she repeated the cuts that we've restored from the Governor's budget; and yes, we got those from reducing tax credits and from raising taxes. And you know the people that were the loudest at my door in my office were not the poor people, were not the people that were sick and in need of our help. It was the high technology people, the people who were trying to start their businesses and grow their businesses, and I don't begrudge them that. But it was also the tourism people. This is not about helping only the poor. There are many segments in our community that the government supports as best we can to stimulate the economy, to help those greatest in need, and there were cuts made all the way around. I applaud the Committee for its work and urge the members here in the room to vote in support. Thank you."

Senator Slom rose and said:

"I am always open and welcome for someone to correct my remarks if they are wrong or for some rational argument. Unfortunately, that didn't occur here."

The Chair interjected:

"Senator Slom, for what purpose do you rise?"

Senator Slom responded:

"I rise for a brief rebuttal. We were talking about the budget. Bailouts for banks, which I've never supported; bailouts for insurance companies, which I've never supported; bailouts for any big businesses, which I've never supported—it's not part of this argument for the budget. Welfare fraud and Medicaid fraud, however, should be an integral part since we spend so much in the budget in these areas. In addition to that, we don't have time to get into who really was involved—former high ranking state and federal officials, particularly those in Fannie May and Freddie Mac—but we're talking about the budget. And the good Senator from Kaua'i kept talking about, as he usually does, about the wealthy, the wealthy, the wealthy. He has some knowledge of small businesses, and he should understand that most small businesses, the preponderance of small businesses, file their business income along with their personal income on a Schedule C 1040, which makes the gross amount much larger. But you ask them; they're not wealthy, but they're going to get hit hard with this. And by the way, the rate, the top rate which will go to 11 percent, will be the highest rate in the nation, even higher than bankrupt California. So we're not just talking about the wealthy. And when we talk about the very poorest in our community—excuse me, but the very poorest in our community don't have a tax liability at this point, and we have always advocated greater reductions and standard deductions for the very poor in our community.

"The good Senator from Kaua'i said, 'Oh, yeah, well it's true the tourists will get hit, but that's okay. They're the tourists.' That's our number one industry. Our number one industry is flagging right now, and when people from the industry come and talk to you, you should listen to them rather than brush them off because I can guarantee you from past hearings, if people don't come from business or the industry, then some of my colleagues say, 'See, if it were that important, where were they?' Well Senator, they were out earning a living, paying their bills, taking care of their employees, and providing services for their clientele. So when we talk about these tax increases matter-of-factly and the other labor bills and so forth, they all have an impact, and maybe some of my colleagues can't see it, but those of us in small business see it every day. Thank you."

Senator Baker rose in support of the measure and stated:

"I think it's important to note that in times like these that are trying for all of us that there's probably no way that the Committee on Ways and Means or the Committee on Finance could have come up with a bill that was going to make everybody happy. I think the Committee did an excellent job of trying to address unintended consequences that could have cost us a great deal more money than they would have saved in cuts, and so I applaud them for that. They've attempted to put together a balanced budget, and while I, like everybody else in this room, would have preferred that there was something else in it or maybe a cut taken someplace else to have preserved something else, that's not the role that they're given. They're tasked with coming up with a budget that is going to move the state forward and carry us through these very difficult times, and I for one appreciate the hard work and the time and effort they've put into it. Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Ige rose in support of the measure and stated:

"I would just like to make a couple of brief comments. I did want to thank the Chair and Vice Chair of the WAM Committee for their strong support for health in this budget. Clearly, the Chair of Human Services had talked about all the work that they did to restore the safety net services that were shredded by the executive. I also wanted to comment about the fact that the House budget devastated the Department of Health, and the WAM Committee and staff worked diligently to restore most of the cuts that the House had made to the Department of Health. I think more fundamentally important, the House had attempted to return the Hawai'i Health Systems Corporation into the Department of Health, which would have been the biggest mistake that we could ever make.

"But on a positive note, I did want to thank the Committee for two fundamental and important measures that are included in this budget that help the HHSC to be a more sustainable and more structured organization in the future going forward. First, they made the smart move of separating administrative costs from the operating costs, so that the Legislature can be more clear and aware of the system support that HHSC provides to each and every facility. More importantly, they invested more than $14 million in general funds direct subsidy to the Corporation and another $15 million of federal funds and state funds through the Department of Human Services to ensure and support safety net services that these institutions provide to each and every community.

"And I did want to state one fact and I wanted to thank all of the Senators working to help me in working through the issues of Health Systems Corporation. There have been some comments made by the Minority about the losses sustained by the Corporation. I did want to state for the record that the executive, since 2004, has drawn down more than $130 million in federal funds as a direct result of operating losses that the HHSC has sustained, and has diverted it to other uses. More importantly, in the current biennium, just the two years that the budget projects, HHSC is looking to draw down more than $24 million in each of the fiscal years that would directly reduce the operating subsidy that the state provides. I think it's very important to know that the executive has purposely created a budget that exacerbates and expands the losses that the Corporation accrues, and we hope to clear that up in the interim. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 167 was adopted and H.B. No. 200, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE STATE BUDGET," passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

We have passed a budget but we can't do anything more until the House passes the budget, and they're still in debate. On a normal day, we would recess and come back at a certain time. I've decided we'd convene again so we could explain to everyone, all of you—so you don't just sit there and wonder what's going on—that we, the Senate, will be taking a recess until 12 noon, and we're hoping that the House will pass the budget at that time. As I explained earlier, we cannot proceed to any of the other fiscal bills until the budget is actually received by the Governor. So with that, the Chair is calling a recess; we will reconvene at 12 noon. Thank you."

"Madam President, colleagues, this piece of legislation is out of this world. It will launch Hawai'i in the competition to launch citizens into outer space. There is a competition now between many countries and cities to get on the ground floor of this new economy, space tourism, which can provide a tremendous to our tourist market. With this funding, it is conceivable that within four to six years, we may be launching residents, tourists, from the Big Island going into outer space and landing at Honolulu International Airport or Kalaheo. We would be the only destination in the world going point-to-point because other destinations are looking at landing and taking off from the same airport or space port. I believe this is something that will also benefit our efforts with STEM, with our students in science, technology, engineering and mathematics, and it is an opportunity for our youth to have high paying jobs in the aerospace industry. So I request your support. Thank you, Madam President."

"While I support the intent of the bill and the projects therein, there was discussion during the hearings and after the hearings, and there seems to be a legal difference of opinion as to whether or not we're entitled to use Reed funds for this purpose. So with that in mind, I'll express reservations. Thank you."

Senator Tokuda rose in support of the measure and stated:

"I'd just like to go on the record and clarify, so that the good Senator from Hawai'i Kai can support this without reservations, that we have in fact cleared this with the Federal Department of Labor at both the regional and the federal level in D.C. that the way we have worded the bill in its current form is the appropriate and legal use of Reed Act funding. Thank you very much, and I hope you all support this measure."

Senator Baker requested comments in support of the measure be entered into the Journal.

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Baker’s remarks read as follows:

“Madame President I rise in support of this measure. The debate surrounding state regulation of mortgage loan originators was settled by adoption of the SAFE Act on July 31, 2008, by the Congress of the United States. The passage of the federal Secure and Fair Enforcement for Mortgage Licensing Act of 2008 (SAFE Mortgage Licensing Act of 2008), 12 United States Code sections 5101 to 5116, adopted standards for regulation in this area and gave states a limited timeframe to bring their statutes into compliance or face federal preemption.

“Thus, passage of this measure is necessary in order for the State of Hawaii to comply with the Federal SAFE Act. Without this measure, our State’s right to regulate the mortgage industry would default to the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development. That would be unacceptable as it is critical that the State retain its right to respond to unique local circumstances in regulating the mortgage industry.

“The states were given until July 31 of 2009 to implement a system which complies with the requirements of the SAFE Act. This measure, based on the model act, ensures that the deadline is met and that regulation of this industry remains within the state of Hawaii so that we can address those issues unique to our island state.

“While this measure establishes the regulatory framework mandated by federal law, it recognizes that this new framework will remain subject to additional improvements as the Division of Financial Institutions (Division) implements the provisions of this measure. This measure requires the Commissioner of Financial Institutions to report to the 2010 Legislature on the Division’s progress of implementing this measure, utilizing guidance from HUD, and to make recommendations for additional legislative action.

“And, perhaps most importantly, under these difficult economic circumstances, the fee structure contained in this measure will allow the mortgage originator regulatory system to be financially self-sufficient. I urge all my colleagues to vote in favor of this measure. Mahalo.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 102 was adopted and S.B. No. 1218, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MORTGAGE LOAN ORIGINATORS,” passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

“Since we do not have scientific information or fact about global warming, I’ll be voting ‘no.’”

Senator Espero rose in support of the measure and stated:

“Hawai‘i is at ground zero if there are global warming issues and climate change issues. Why we would not want to look at this and how it would affect our island state amazes me that someone would vote against it. This is certainly a measure which we should be looking at in terms of our future—our economic future, the future of the state—and I ask our colleagues to support it. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 104 was adopted and S.B. No. 266, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO GLOBAL WARMING,” passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Hemmings rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“Of course, the easy and politically convenient thing would be, Madam President, would be to vote in favor of that noble gesture of reducing our own salaries and the salaries of the executive branch leadership along with it. But that’s deceptive because the total impact on the budget will be millions of dollars. What we really should be doing in order to be fair and equitable to the people of Hawai‘i is reduce the pay of all employees collecting checks from state government. That would have a tremendous impact on the state budget and save hundreds of millions of dollars, and we’d be able to balance our budget without—along with other savings—without having to raise taxes. So this is showmanship at its worst, and I’ll be voting ‘no.’”

Senator Bunda requested his vote be cast “aye, with reservations,” and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 112 was adopted and H.B. No. 1536, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SALARIES,” passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Kim moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 114 be adopted and H.B. No. 1550, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, C.D. 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Hooser.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“This is the rollover bill, and it seeks to tax employee contributions as they roll them over from deferred plans. Currently, Hawai‘i and the federal government do not tax these amounts until there’s distribution. So, again, it’s another way of taxing, or increase, and particularly for retirees. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 114 was adopted and H.B. No. 1550, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION,” passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Hee moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 118 be adopted and H.B. No. 1552, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Kim.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“You know, we seem to send out mixed signals, both the State and the City and County of Honolulu, if it’s okay for people to live in parks or it’s not okay. Are the parks for the general public or for specific people who utilize political means to get residential status there? And that’s what we’re doing in this bill here. I think we should have taken more time to look at the options, but the option for allowing people to live and expand in public parks is a bad one, no matter whether it’s on the windward side or on the leeward side. Thank you.”

Senator Hee rose in support of the measure and stated:

“This bill takes into account the recommendations made by the Legislative Reference Bureau report dated 2001. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 118 was adopted and H.B. No. 1552, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC LANDS,” passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Takamine moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 122 be adopted and H.B. No. 111, S.D. 2, C.D. 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Kim.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“The current situation with this bill is if a government employee is overpaid, the government has an unlimited time in which to try to collect that money. This bill, the final version, I think gets it down to two years, and after that the money is theirs. Now, there’s no malicious intent. Obviously, the mistake was made by the state, but it’s taxpayer money and we should use every opportunity to restore all of that money. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 122 was adopted and H.B. No. 111, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO STATE SALARIES,” passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, 2 (Hemmings, Slom).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 123 (H.B. No. 343, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1):

On motion by Senator Gabbard, seconded by Senator English and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 126 was adopted and H.B. No. 1807, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO WATER QUALITY,” passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom rose in support of the measure with reservations and stated:

“Boy, this is one of those toughies. Right now, there’s an exemption on naphtha fuel used in generating facilities, generation for electricity. There is a sunset clause which is due to expire this year. If the sunset clause expires, I believe that the tax returns to its pre-sunset level of 17 cents. If we accept this bill, it extends the sunset for another three years, but adds a new tax increase. So you’re kind of darned-if-you-do and darned-if-you-don’t. So I’ll vote ‘with reservations’ because 1 to 2 cents is better than 17 cents. Aloha.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 127 was adopted and H.B. No. 371, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION,” passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 130 (H.B. No. 1504, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Ige moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 130 be adopted and H.B. No. 1504, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Baker.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“Stripped away from all of its language, this bill seeks to put us on the further slippery slide of universal health care. I understand that that is a popular political, not health, concern nationally. We are the only state in the union that ever adopted a prepaid health care act, which is as close to universal health care in this state as any piece of legislation. And what we’re seeing now is a reduction in the number of people that are covered because of increasing premium costs, increasing mandates. The idea with health care is that we do have major problems in our health delivery system, but people don’t go running to other countries as they do to the United States for medical care. So it would seem to me that the real objective would be to correct the problems, including portability of medical insurance within the health care system, but not throw it out for a socialist, collectivist, universal health care. All we’re doing is substituting the method of financing and instead of individuals paying for their health care, we put the burden on all of the taxpayers instead. With all of the expenditures and costs and tax measures we’re doing right now, I have no idea now we’re going to afford this additional mandate. Thank you.”

Senator Baker rose in support of the measure and stated:

“You know, it’s unfortunate that the term ‘universal health’ has, in some people’s mind, connoted ‘single payer’ as found in Great Britain or Canada. Actually universal health care really means that we believe that all of our citizens ought to have health insurance and the ability to pay for the health care that they need. It is fundamental to making sure that we have access to health care. What this bill does is not mandate one system or another, but really takes a look at how we might move to the point where there are no uninsured in our state. Our prepaid health law is great, but it’s an anachronism of sorts because it’s caught in time. And in order for us to amend it substantially, to address some of the inequities that exist in the health care delivery system, we have to go to the Congress. This measure is an attempt to position Hawai‘i to be in a better place should the Congress enact some form of improvement in the health delivery system. I think this is something we need to be on top of and should be moving forward, and I ask my colleagues to support this measure.”

Senator Hemmings rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“This is a step towards universal health care. To be at a better place, what Congress is considering is universal, single payer health care system, which will take away the choice of the marketplace of doctors and patients to do what’s best for themselves. It’ll also set up, as with social security, a national monopoly health care system that guarantee will be bankrupt within generations, and secondly, will decrease the quality of health care service in this country. Therefore, this is a step, as the previous speaker noted, towards being in the ‘right’ position to take advantage of Congress’ initiatives, which under the President is universal health care. Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Green rose in support of this measure and stated:

“Just wanted to say that this bill was kind of the labor of love of a very important person, Ah Quon McElrath, and I’d like to dedicate the passage of this bill today to her.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 130 was adopted and H.B. No. 1504, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HEALTH,” passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, 2 (Hemmings, Slom).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 132 (S.B. No. 199, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 2):

Senator Kim moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 132 be adopted and S.B. No. 199, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 2 pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Kokubun.

Senator Fukunaga rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“Colleagues, I know that we have had many lengthy discussions regarding the future of technology in Hawai‘i and the many businesses that have benefitted from Act 221 financing. During some of the floor debates on the House side, one of the points made by the proponents of S.B. No. 199, C.D. 2 was that this change in the tax credit would have little, if any, effect on many of the Hawai‘i businesses.

“I’d like to read just a few excerpts from some of the e-mails that many of us have been receiving. This one is from Darren Kimura, who states: ‘My biggest issue with this current version is that it effectively eliminates the attraction of outside capital to Hawai‘i. Historically, companies have shifted equity to the outside investor in exchange for tax credits. It is this outside money that makes the difference because the Hawai‘i private investor capacity is much too small. As it stands today, Sopoty believes we’re one step away from preparing for an initial public offering and I’m very concerned that the modification of Act 221/215 will negatively affect our new and potentially final private financing. Once a public company, we can access public funds and debt, but not before.’

“Another e-mailer who sent remarks to the Senate states: ‘I am writing to let you know that without the ability to reallocate the 100 percent tax credit between our investors, we will simply not be able to attract the necessary mainland financing to build our facility.’

“Those comments were from a letter from Stephan Smith who sent copies of his letter to all Senators, who said: ‘The reason for this is simple. Building a sound stage facility is a high-risk endeavor. The only way for a mainland investor to mitigate its risk is to trade its tax credits to the Hawai‘i investor in exchange for some form of preferential rights in the company. Interestingly, disproportionate tax credit allocation is not unique to Act 221 and 215. In fact, the federal new markets tax credits have the same feature. So as long as an investment is made subject to the federal guidelines, the tax credits can be allocated in any manner most beneficial to the project.’

“Colleagues, there have been many, many e-mails that have been sent to us. I’m sure I could go on and on, but I won’t belabor the point. I would simply ask that you reconsider your prior decision and vote ‘no’ on this measure. Thank you.”

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“I didn’t want the Chair of EDT to be standing alone because the Majority party is not used to standing alone and voting ‘no,’ so I thought I would give her support.

“You know, years ago, I was not in support of the original Act 221 and the arguments that were made. And over the years, we’ve seen some people that have taken advantage of the tax credits. We've had a great many informational briefings on all of that. But I've come to the conclusion this year that at this time with us having so few economic options, that the tech industry in Hawai'i has started to grow and take wings. Now don't get me wrong; philosophically, I'm absolutely in the camp of Lowell Kalapa and others as we've said on this Senate floor many times. In an ideal world, there would be no tax credits whatsoever. We would simply lower the tax rates and taxes imposed upon everyone here—businesses, individuals, families, and so forth. But that's not what we do. We pick and choose. And if we're going to do that, those of us that listen through the hearings and through the informational briefings had really one question to answer in our minds and that is: For every dollar of state investment for the tech industry, were we getting back less than one dollar? Were we getting back more than one dollar? Were we actually creating jobs as the industry had said? Were we actually positioning ourselves to be one of the top states in the nation? And again, it's kind of a mixed message thing. I mean, we all hail our robotics teams; we watch the growth that they've made. We hail our STEM programs of science and engineering in the schools, and yet here is an industry that actually has produced. They've produced more jobs—full-time jobs, part-time jobs, independent contractor jobs. They have produced more revenue.

"Now the question is, I mean normally I'll defer on the side of the tax director, but quite frankly, his figures I had questions with and I don't think those questions were answered. Maybe the tech industry was using a little bit of puffery in increasing the revenue stream that they projected, but there's no question if we look around that they are doing it. And I've had a lot of calls from small businesses that I didn't expect were involved in technology, but they are and I think that's part of the situation here. We're not really cognizant of all of the people benefitting. It's kind of like the tourism industry or anything else; you think of the big players, you think of the hotels and all that. You don't think about the smaller businesses who actually, relying on Act 221, have started businesses or expanded businesses, added employees. We've been very successful in getting people back from the Silicon Valley, from Austin, Texas, from Concord and Cambridge, Massachusetts. So, when we look at programs as we should to see if they're really working, this program seems to be working.

"Now the conference committee, when it came out, nobody was happy. The administration was not happy (they wanted more revenue), the Legislature wanted more revenue, and the techie group, they wanted less restrictions. But I think that what happened was one of our drafts that we had come closer to saving the industry—not saving it, but enhancing it. Do I think that we should continue to subsidize any business or industry or individual? No, the answer is 'no,' but we have a situation right now where if we take this away—where people have relied upon this legislation—we not only pull the carpet out from under existing businesses, those businesses that wanted to invest here, but also we may be setting up legal problems because some of these businesses, in reliance of these laws, if they find that they no longer have access to these laws, may bring suit against the State for the changes. Now I'm not one that worries about lawsuits or threatened lawsuits and all that, but I think it's something we should consider. And if we're talking about the fairness and if we're talking about the effectiveness and the actual productivity, then I think that we find that Hawai'i's technology industry is among the leading industries in the nation and is giving us both economic revenue and employment growth. Thank you."

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"I'll be voting against this bill; the reason is certainly we want to enforce our tax laws, we want people to pay their fair share and all that. The fact of the matter is we are in a cash economy right now, and I think that this bill is too heavy-handed on enforcement and goes after a lot of individuals and small businesses. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 143 was adopted and S.B. No. 972, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAX ADMINISTRATION," passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Tokuda moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 149 be adopted and S.B. No. 43, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Ige.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“This bill does two negative things. First of all, it creates a new special fund. Secondly, it creates an additional $60 fee upon renewal of physician and osteopathic physician licenses. We already have a problem losing doctors in this state. All you want to do is single them out and make sure that we tax them and make fees even more. Thank you.”

Senator Baker rose in support of the measure and stated:

“Madam President, we started a project last year to try to get firm data on the number of physicians and the distribution of physicians by specialty. This will enable us to continue that work and move it forward. We’re not going to be able to recruit appropriately or make sure that the med school is engaging in the right residency programs, which is the only way we can truly recruit and retain physicians, if we don’t have good data. This follows along with what we have worked with for nurses in the Center for Nursing; adding a fee that they did not object to but proposed, so that we could have good data and work on issues important to nurses. That is what this particular fee will do. Even with this $60 fee, we have a license fee for physicians in our state that is less than in virtually all the other states. So I don’t think this is a barrier; I think this will actually help physicians and preliminarily, we’re already seeing it. Anecdotally we hear that physicians leaving in droves when actually according to the data, our physician count is flat. We need to make sure that we get the good data, follow the good data, and then we can have better basis on which to make policies. Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Green rose in support of the measure and stated:

“Look, as a physician, I don’t mind the $60 fee. The bigger issue for physicians I think has been reimbursement. And the reason this bill is particularly good is because as we isolate where we have shortages, there has been a fair amount of dialogue about changing the structure of reimbursements into the primary care areas where it’s harder to get care for people. It will have some success, from a scientific standpoint, to be able to really isolate where we have shortages; really isolate where we can do things such as loan repayment or increase reimbursements in areas that we have no physicians and bring them there. So actually, this will be a windfall for physicians that work in shortage areas over time, and I think that that, among many other reasons, is a very good reason to have an analytical approach to our shortage rather than a speculative one which we’ve had for years. Thank you.”

Senator Slom rose in rebuttal to the measure and stated:

“With all due respect to the nurses and to Dr. Green—who doesn’t mind paying the $60 and may pay for other doctors too, if we tell them to come see him—I think the testimony by the doctors was that they opposed this fee increase. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 149 was adopted and S.B. No. 43, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PHYSICIAN WORKFORCE ASSESSMENT,” passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, 2 (Hemmings, Slom).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 151 (H.B. No. 427, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Gabbard moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 151 be adopted and H.B. No. 427, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Kim.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“I will be voting against all five of the bills which seek special purpose revenue bond money from the State. Number one, we keep hearing over and over again how we don’t have money; and while there is no direct link between the State backing these bonds for these companies, it is true that the companies get a break both on interest that they pay and also on floating the bonds in the first place. Number two, we have issued a lot of special purpose revenue bonds over the last five, six years, and I think we’ve gone afoul of what the original law was and what the intent is. They were supposed to be educational, health-related, and so forth, and we’re going into different directions here, and some of these bond approvals may in fact have constitutional or other questions. And then, the final problem that I have with a number of these companies: While their names sound good, I don’t think many of us have seen the information about how these companies have actually been up and running and created anything other than a desire to tap into State approval and State money. So I will be voting against all five. Thank you.”

Senator Baker rose in support of the measure and stated:

“Madam President, there’s been some confusion even amongst colleagues as to the efficacy of floating special purpose revenue bonds. In our statute and Constitution, it sets out several purposes. We, by constitutional amendment, allowed lower educational institutions to access them. In the renewable energy area, the federal government has additional guidelines and there’s a threshold beyond which, if a company wants non-taxable special purpose revenue bonds, it is a much smaller amount. So these measures follow the current statute, the current laws. I would also note that it is not an obligation of the State. In fact, the companies that want to access special purpose revenue bonds have to do their own due diligence—they have to pay for that—and they have to pay a fee to the Department of Budget and Finance for their assistance in reviewing form and so forth. So if it helps with renewable energy projects, if it helps with standing up schools, if it helps with utilities, hospitals, and the other items that entities can use a special purpose revenue bond for, I think that it’s good for our state and one that we should be supporting. The due diligence is the company’s, not ours.”

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“One buck? One buck? That’s what we’re going to get? That’s our refund? One buck? See, if you want real stimulus, give the money back to the people that earned it, but not one buck. That’s not going to do it. I say, ‘no.’”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 157 was adopted and H.B. No. 35, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO INCOME TAX CREDIT,” passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Kim moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 159 be adopted and H.B. No. 1544, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Hooser.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“I can’t believe it, Madam President. I’m voting ‘no’ because first you’re giving us a buck, and then you’re going to start phasing out our personal exemption. Hawai’i’s personal exemption right now is one-third of what it is on the federal tax return; so I guess people here are one-third of a person compared to the national, although we work three times harder with our businesses and our jobs. So, you’re going to phase it out; you’re not going to conform it with the good stuff, only going to conform the payout. So I say, ‘no,’ Madam President.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 159 was adopted and H.B. No. 1544, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAX EXEMPTIONS,” passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, 2 (Hemmings, Slom).

The Senate reconvened at 1:18 p.m.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 161 (H.B. No. 899, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Ayes, 23. Noes, 1 (Hemmings). Excused, 1 (Slom).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 162 (H.B. No. 1364, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Kim moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 162 be adopted and H.B. No. 1364, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Galuteria.

Senator Hemmings rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“This bill is... I remember years ago a popular term here was ‘shibai’. This is one of the greatest ‘shibais’ ever perpetrated on a national peoples, and certainly is the biggest debt ever passed with one single vote in Washington, D.C., by legislators who never had the opportunity and/or never read what they were voting on. There are many reasons why the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act is a foolhardy investment for the taxpayers of this country, but more importantly, it will have a negative effect on those of us who were pledged to serve in the State of Hawai’i.

“First and foremost, this is unprecedented spending. On the fiscal year ending October 1, the federal government in 2008, the national deficit for that one year was $459 billion. As of right now, and the year’s far from over, our national deficit for one year is $1.7 trillion. I’d like you to ponder that figure, but like the word ‘infinity,’ it’s difficult to understand what 1.7 trillion is. When you look at the bigger picture, our national carry-forward debt as of March 4 was $10 trillion approaching $11 trillion. For a family of four, an average Hawaiian family, you and your children owe the federal government about $150,000. We’re on the way to bankrupting the nation. We’re spending money, under the Obama administration, that we do not have. It will lead to further erosion of our credibility on world credit markets. Nations like China will not lend us the money. We’re being fiscally supported by China, and they’re very smart business people; they don’t lend money to people that are going bankrupt. It is a foolhardy proposition from the get-go.

“This bill will also lead to something that you have heard before from several circles, but I want to reiterate it: This is leading to the rapid erosion and elimination of federalism as we know it. Because of the terms and conditions attached to the federal stimulus money, we legislators and the people of Hawai’i will no longer, in many areas, control our destiny because debt-financed money is being sent to us with strings attached and if we don’t spend it the way Obama and the federal government wants, we will be penalized. So it’s really taking away our power and our responsibility as State legislators to control our destiny; and I will guarantee you that the needs of the people of Hawai’i are far different than the needs of the people, for instance, of Maine or Minnesota or many of the land-locked states on the continent.

“They say that this Recovery Act, as it’s called, is going to stimulate the economy. It’s going to stimulate government growth. It’s going to stimulate special interests, such as ACORN, a group that’s under investigation for voter fraud problems, and other special interests who have been a political asset to the incumbent party of the President. And it may be a one-time job creation for those who are lucky enough in the private sector to have funding, but since it dries up in two years, it will really not stimulate true economic growth in a fertile economic environment. It will be an artificial environment, a one-time stimulation with borrowed money.

“And the last question we should all ask ourselves about the alleged American Recovery and Reinvestment Act is: What happens two years from now when we’re not getting the money anymore? So I really believe that this is a bad investment at a bad time for America’s future. I will be voting ‘no’.”

Senator Espero rose in support of the measure and stated:

“It is unfortunate that we have to have billions of dollars injected into our national economy at this time. However, if it were not for the ill-advised Republican administration led by former President Bush, Vice President Cheney, and Secretary of Defense Rumsfeld, where we invaded Iraq, got ourselves into a war that has cost our nation trillions of dollars, we may not be in this mess in the first place. Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Hemmings rose and said:

“Madam Chair, despite the applause of the previous speaker...”

The Chair interjected:

“But for what purpose do you rise?”

Senator Hemmings responded:

“I rise in rebuttal. Our national deficit is being created on an on-going basis by a number of programs that are called ‘mandates’ and now are actually becoming ‘rights.’ Medicaid and Medicare are huge gaping holes in our national expenditures, as is Social Security. They make up two-thirds of yearly expenditures. Granted the Iraq war cost us money, but it has paid one incredible dividend—along with our war on terror which we discussed yesterday—and that is America is safe. But I’m not here to debate the past. I’m here to speak for the future. And this reinvestment act is unprecedented by any president of any party, and, as I said before, will lead to the economic hardship as they’re seeing in California because they spent money they did not have. Thank you, Madam President.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 162 was adopted and H.B. No. 1364, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE BUDGET,” passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, 2 (Hemmings, Slom).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 163 (H.B. No. 183, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1):

On motion by Senator Sakamoto, seconded by Senator Tsutsui and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 163 was adopted and H.B. No. 183, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION,” passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 164 (H.B. No. 1405, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Tsutsui moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 164 be adopted and H.B. No. 1405, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Hooser.

Senator Fukunaga rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“Colleagues, this is one of a pair of Internet-related bills that the conference committees labored on, and during our negotiations, there were a number of small Internet web-based businesses in Hawai‘i who expressed very strong concerns. Although many of you would probably not be likely to consider voting against this conference draft, I did want to bring their concerns to your attention. Of all of the people who would be hardest hit, the greatest number will be small businesses.

“If you look at the material that has just been distributed to you, one of the e-mails is from Dean Takamine who runs a small tech business and website. If I could just highlight the concerns he has raised, these would certainly bear further review and I hope that you will consider voting ‘no’ on this measure. The first point that Mr. Takamine raises is that online merchants will simply terminate their advertising contracts with Hawai‘i publishers to avoid paying the tax. This is a ‘click-through’ type of relationship where Hawai‘i-based retailers or those who have local websites are paid affiliate fees if people who click on their websites ultimately end up at Amazon.com or other kinds of websites. As he points out, sites like Amazon.com will not pay the excise tax because they have already written letters to their affiliates letting them know that they will drop all advertising contracts with Hawai‘i residents if the bill passes. Second, he cites an example of Star Bulletin’s website which he believes represents an example of other Hawai‘i online media businesses that will be hard-hit by this bill. The third thing that he cites is that Hawai‘i will not be able to enforce this law effectively. It will be much too costly to police the law and to find all of the instances in which other technology types of businesses are evading paying the Hawai‘i excise tax. Although we did try to narrow this bill somewhat in committee, I urge my colleagues to vote in opposition to this bill. Thank you.”

Senator Hooser requested his vote be cast “aye, with reservations,” and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“Again, your intent is one thing; the way the bill is worded is another thing. And as the Chair correctly pointed out, this is going to have a devastating impact, not only on small businesses but on some well-known businesses as well. That’s why I oppose the streamlining tax in its entirety. We’ll probably get to that in a little while. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 164 was adopted and H.B. No. 1405, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE GENERAL EXCISE TAX,” passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 17. Ayes with Reservations, 5 (Chun Oakland, Espero, Galuteria, Hooser, Kidani). Noes, 8 (Baker, Bunda, Fukunaga, Hemmings, Ige, Ihara, Nishihara, Slom).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 165 (H.B. No. 900, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Hee moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 165 be adopted and H.B. No. 900, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, C.D. 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Kim.

Senator Hemmings rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“These are perilous times economically for all the citizens of Hawai‘i. As citizens we should share the burden of economic hardship plaguing our state. OHA has enjoyed the benefits of Hawai‘i’s bounty during good times. However during times of hardship, OHA does not seem to want to even underwrite their own programs and administration with their massive $300 million plus trust fund. It should be our duty to do what is fair for all of Hawai‘i’s people, including native Hawaiians. I do commend the Senate Ways and Means and Water, Land, Agriculture and Hawaiian Affairs Committees for attempting to do what is just, rather than just yielding to the convenience. During conference committee, they drove a hard bargain for having OHA assume its fair share of the burden our state is facing. But unfortunately, in conference the House would not yield. The results are that general revenue funds are being allocated to an agency of state government that has over $300 million in reserves. I want the Majority party to think about that because you’re so quick to raid tobacco funds that takes money out of health programs that could possibly stop people from smoking or recover from cancer. You’re quick to raid special funds that fund programs that oftentimes take care of the least fortunate in our society. But this massive $300 million fund is sitting there while we’re underwriting the operating cost of the agency that has all this money. I would urge you to vote ‘no’ and make OHA pay its fair share in digging our state out of the economic abyss that we are in. Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Hee rose in support of the measure and stated:

“I want to thank the previous speaker for holding the line that he has with regard to the budget. He, as well as the Chair on Ways and Means, perhaps know better than most of the difficulties that the budget proceedings entailed. To a certain extent, the previous speaker is absolutely correct. Much of what the distraction of the discussion with the Office of Hawaiian Affairs budget had to do with attorney fees that were awarded to Native Hawaiian Legal Corporation, and many of you are familiar with the details because I’ve given a speech to that extent earlier this session. The long and short of it is that while every other agency and state department is experiencing a 20 percent cut, the Office of Hawaiian Affairs is experiencing a 30 percent increase. That’s a fact. The fact of the matter is that increase is due to a windfall that the Office did not voluntarily disclose to the lawmakers. That’s a fact. The windfall is a result of attorney fees that were awarded by Judge Ibarra to Native Hawaiian Legal Corporation that did not voluntarily disclose to the Office of Hawaiian Affairs, and that’s a fact. It is only after Native Hawaiian Legal Corporation’s failed attempt to disguise the attorney fees as tribal funds did the Office of Compliance and Enforcement of the federal government order Native Hawaiian Legal Corporation to return the fees to OHA. I’m not here to stand before this august body to suggest that Native Hawaiian Legal Corporation does a good or doesn’t do a good job. I’m here instead to say that the law is clear and the law applies to everyone regardless that we may agree or disagree. The fact of the matter is Act 109, Session Law ‘05, requires the Office of Hawaiian Affairs to procure legal services in accordance with Chapter 103D and 103F. That’s a fact. So while I agree with the previous speaker—because he’s correct—the fact of the matter is he’s also correct that the House would not yield. And so in trying to strike a compromise, this is the best that I believe is possible.

“Now some of you may disagree. You have that opportunity now. You can vote against the budget. That’s your prerogative. But the facts as they are are indeed accurate from my perspective. I will vote for this budget because it’s the best deal that I believe, in terms of a compromise, that could be struck; and that the Office of Hawaiian Affairs is a state agency where anyone present in this chamber can run as a trustee and everyone present in this chamber is entitled to vote in the Office of Hawaiian Affairs elections. It is the best that we could do. It is not the Senate position. We all know that, but I will support the budget. Thank you very much.”

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“I think that the last speaker made very cogent arguments with his factual dissertation of the way things are, as he had done in his previous speech. And I’m left with a problem, and that is when we get to a point where we say that one house or one group or one individual has the political muscle to dissuade us from doing what we think is right and what we think is the best position, then I think that maybe more of us should stand on principle, even if it means, ‘Hey, you want to hold this up and you want to be the reason that we don’t have a budget.’ We’re sticking to what’s right.

“A couple points need reaffirming, and that is that OHA is a state agency. A lot of people try to forget that or they gloss over it, but it is a state agency, therefore subject to all of the other requirements of the state. Secondly, as the previous speaker brought up, it is subject to the procurement laws of the State of Hawai‘i, and in fact avoided the procurement laws in the selection of its legal services agency. Thirdly, it did not disclose this information, and when the federal government told them to give back the money to OHA—and we were talking about a figure of about $3 million—what happened in the conference committee? In the conference committee a deal was struck that they only have to give back a little bit of the money and they can keep more of the money. To me these are ill-gotten gains. They should not be kept at all, and we as the Senate should adhere to our position because in this case, as in so many others, our position is right. The arguments and the facts substantiate that. The final point is some of us have been trying to get a complete audit of the Office of Hawaiian Affairs for a number of years now, and we’ve not gotten that audit. And a lot of people have asked questions in committees about where the money for OHA goes, and we don’t know that either because they don’t disclose it. And yet they are a state agency; they are required to provide that information. So, I would ask my colleagues to think about that as well. Thank you.”

Senator Hee rose in rebuttal and said:

“Many of the things he said he’s entitled to exercise, and the assumption I have is that he will exercise it as he has with other bills. I didn’t want to get into this, to the other side of the argument that went beyond the budget, but let me say that it is, in my view, the discussion about the $300 million portfolio, the reporting by the audit, are all outside of the realm of what your Committee on Water, Land and Hawaiian Affairs and your Committee on Ways and Means deliberated with the House. It may be a fair statement, as the previous speaker has indicated, to do just that; and he has the prerogative to so sponsor legislation to call for an audit, and I would welcome him to do so. And if he’d like, I’ll co-sponsor it with him. But the budget is what it is. This is the branch of government that functions on compromise. It is not what the Senate would have preferred, but it is a budget that continues to address the needs of the indigenous host culture. I would urge my colleagues to vote ‘yes’. Thank you.”

Senator Slom rose in rebuttal and said:

“The good Senator from Kahlau should be aware that in fact last year I did introduce a bill to fully audit OHA, and I do accept his invitation right now that in 2010, we can have the Hee-Slom bill, or Slom-Hee. We’ll have to argue on that later on. Thank you.”

Senator Hee rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

“That’s what I like about us. We compromise...in the Hee-Slom audit.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 165 was adopted and H.B. No. 900, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE BUDGET OF THE OFFICE OF HAWAIIAN AFFAIRS,” passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, 2 (Hemmings, Slom).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 166 (H.B. No. 300, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 168 (S.B. No. 21, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1):

On motion by Senator Taniguchi, seconded by Senator Takamine and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 168 was adopted and S.B. No. 21, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO GOVERNMENT,” passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, 2 (Hemmings, Slom).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 169 (S.B. No. 1678, S.D. 3, H.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Fukunaga moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 169 be adopted and S.B. No. 1678, S.D. 3, H.D. 1, C.D. 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“I think it’s been four years now. I think the love affair with the EDT Chair has probably ended for this day, but I’m opposed to this bill. This is a bill that requires individual states to join in a compact, and then wait for the federal government—congressional action—to pass a bill, and then they will tax each of the states that have signed up on interstate and interline purchases. That means your Amazon, that means your Land’s End, that means all of the things that you do on the Internet right now. To me it’s an anti-technology bill because every time we come up with something, we have somebody that wants to tax it. The supporters will say that 22 states have already signed onto this compact, although several of them have different opinions as to what exactly it’s going to have. But as far as the 22 states, that means that 28 states in fact have not signed onto it. I think it was a mistake that Hawai’i got involved in this in the very beginning, and I don’t see any positive things coming but I do see companies on the mainland saying, ‘Hey, we’re not going to do business with Hawai’i’ as we heard on that last bill with Amazon. I don’t think that’s what we really want; and besides that, I think we’re looking to try to help our consumers get a better bargain than they’ve gotten right now. Thank you.”

Senator Fukunaga rose in support of the measure and stated:

“Simply two points of rebuttal to the prior speaker: Number one, the use tax is an existing tax that this project will help the State of Hawai’i collect at a time when it needs every single penny that it is entitled to. Number two, many of those who are part of the Internet coalition including Amazon.com, AOL, AT&T, eHarmony, Expedia, Experian, Comcast, IAC, Match.com, Trustee, United Online, Overstock, Yahoo and others fully support the Streamlined Sales and Use Tax Project as a far more logical and reasonable way of collecting existing state taxes. For those reasons, I urge my colleagues to vote ‘aye’.”

Senator Sakamoto rose in support of the measure and stated:

“I’ve stood up before, and I guess the small business advocate from Hawai’i Kai is saying, ‘What about those who buy off the Internet and would have to pay more if they paid what is due to Hawai’i?’ I believe this is a measure that would help the small businesses, and I hope the Senator from Hawai’i Kai would realize that Hawai’i’s small businesses collect the taxes due; and when people circumvent taxes by buying on the Internet, it’s hurting Hawai’i’s small businesses. This would help level the playing field. Thank you very much.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 169 was adopted and S.B. No. 1678, S.D. 3, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION,” passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, 2 (Hemmings, Slom).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 171 (S.B. No. 884, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Ige moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 171 be adopted and S.B. No. 884, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Baker.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“This bill is the granddaddy of all raid bills. It raids indiscriminately from many different kinds of special funds only because the money is there. It does not give credence to the purpose for which those additional taxes or fees were collected, and it takes it to scoop it into the general fund and for the budget, and for many of those programs that we talked about earlier that originally were reduced or cut and now are going to be restored at the expense of these funds. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 171 was adopted and S.B. No. 884, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO NON-GENERAL FUNDS,” passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, 2 (Hemmings, Slom).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 173 (S.B. No. 1673, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Ige moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 173 be adopted and S.B. No. 1673, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Tsutsui.

Senator Hemmings rose in support of the measure and stated:

“I think this bill at first blush could be a vindication of the good Senator from Hawai’i Kai and myself and others who for years now, since the turn of the millennium, had been advocating the privatization of Hawai’i Health Care Systems. It’s important for the good people of Hawai’i to know that the state operates monopoly hospitals—and some big ones—on the neighbor islands. And since their inception in 1996, we have subsidized them well over one-half billion dollars while the health care and medical needs of the people of Hawai’i are met by private hospitals with relatively no direct government subsidies. From Fiscal Year 2008 and with the passage of the budget through 2011, according to figures supplied by Hawai’i Health Care Systems Corporation, we will spend a whopping $300 million subsidizing these hospitals. It is proof that government owned and operated medical care creates more problems than it solves and certainly adds to the cost.

"I also want to say that this bill is vindication but I want to share this concern with you: That part VI, section 15 provides 'transition of Hawai'i health systems regional system or health facilities to a new entity,' and it goes on to say that those new entities can be a non-profit corporation, for-profit corporation, municipal facility, public benefit corporation, any two or more of these entities, and the 'transition shall occur through the sale, lease or transfer of all or substantially all of the assets of the facility or regional system, except for real property which shall only be transferred by lease. Any transition shall comply with chapter 323.' So this appears, and I emphasize the word 'appears,' to authorize the privatization of Hawai'i Health Care System's facilities because if the facilities were to transition to a non-profit corporation or for-profit corporation, clearly it would need to be private which means it's no longer a state entity.

"The bill, as currently written, does not specify or say anything about Chapters 76 and 89 of Hawai'i Revised Statutes, and those are the civil service and collective bargaining laws, respectively. S.B. No. 1673 does not mandate privatization of Hawai'i Health Care Systems Corporation's facilities, but by implication may allow for it. Section 1 of the bill mentions that public hospitals in other states have converted to non-public status. It goes on to state that it is essential that this transition be optional available to various regional systems and facilities of the HHSC. Because there's no direct precedent, we cannot predict with any certainty whether Hawai'i appellate courts would find this sufficient language to permit HHSC facilities to privatize and abolish all their civil service positions; and even if they did, chances are they'd be subject to a challenge by the unions. Let me quote the testimony of the United Public Workers on another case: 'We oppose privatization and urge you to reject any attempt to violate constitutional merit principles.' The reference is Kono v. County of Hawai'i in a 1977 case. Services which have been historically and customarily performed by all civil servants cannot be privatized. Furthermore, S.B. No. 1673 provides, on page 20, lines 14-17, that any transition would be subject to certain terms and conditions including that 'all liabilities of the regional system or facility related to collective bargaining contracts negotiated by the State, shall become the responsibility of the State.' So what's that mean? Does that mean, 'Yes, you can privatize the hospital, but we've got to keep paying all the state workers that were working there?' So it's unclear what liabilities this provision refers to and could possibly be construed to mean the state would have to continue to pay those workers.

"Nevertheless, this bill seems to be, at face value, a step in the right direction and hopefully, reasonable people will come to reasonable conclusions on how to resolve this long-standing problem. You know, on the budget I always get asked, rather sarcastically, 'Oh, you want to balance the budget. Well, what services would you cut? You know everybody's working so hard to make our lives better in Hawai'i. What services would you cut?' Well, here's what I would cut. In our budget right now is approximately $200 million to further subsidize these state monopoly hospitals. By going to the private sector they would operate much more efficiently and be able to provide the medical care that neighbor island people deserve. They'd probably create competition in the medical marketplace which would further provide choice and competition in prices to everybody's benefit. This bill is a step in the right direction and, like I said, somewhat vindicates our long-standing position regarding privatization of these hospitals, but it remains to be seen what will happen. Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Baker rose in support of the measure and stated:

"Let it never be said that the contents of this bill are a vindication of the Minority leader or the Senator from Hawai'i Kai. This is a good bill, and it allows and empowers the regions to do what they need to do to be effective and efficient deliverers of health care, primarily on the neighbor islands. It does allow create a process for transition from quasi-state agency to another type of entity—for profit, non-profit, mutual benefit corporations for instance. It allows the regions to drive the process, to make the call, so to speak.

"Couple of things: I have some written remarks in support of this measure I'd like inserted in the Journal, but I need to, Madam President, just challenge a couple of the assertions by the previous speaker. First, he points out that the subsidization of health care for these facilities started back in 1996. Well, I remember in 1996 these facilities were pulled out of the Department of Health. They'd been a total and complete responsibility of the State since their creation, so to say that somehow a reorganization changed things in 1996, I think, is not a correct interpretation or even a proper recitation of history. He also notes that if they're private, then they don't need any subsidization from the state. Well, I would point out that just a few measures ago, we passed what's called the disproportionate share hospital bill that authorizes about $12 million in general funds to pull down $14 or $15 million in federal funds, all of which goes to the private hospitals, most of them on this island. So to say that because a facility is affiliated with the state means somehow that they don't have the ability to deliver good health care or that the privates don't ever have to get any kind of subsidy is really not an accurate statement. I have no problem helping out the private hospitals with both state money and federal money because they're in the same situation that HHSC facilities are in. They don't get adequate reimbursements, they have to provide charity care, and the cost of health care across the board is outstripping the ability to provide those services. So there's going to be a subsidy for hospitals, no matter what kind of organization that they have.

"I was surprised to see that the former speaker noted that he supported this bill, and perhaps that's an example of a bill being damned by faint praise. This bill, like the one that we passed a couple of years ago, is not perfect; and I expect that we'll be coming back to assist in further clarification and further refinements of this measure. But for now it is a giant step, and for that I do agree with the previous speaker. It gives our regions the opportunity to be the best that they can be by giving them the authority to help chart their own course; and that, for the neighbor island hospitals, is very important. And I would like to say for the record that I appreciate so much the leadership of the Chair of the Senate Health Committee in helping move this measure forward, to all my Majority colleagues for making this measure a part of our package, and for all of the neighbor island colleagues for working so diligently to get it into a good shape that gives important self-determination to our facilities on the neighbor islands. Mahalo."

Senator Baker requested that additional remarks in support of the measure be entered into the Journal.

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Baker's remarks read as follows:

"Madam President, I rise in support of this measure.

"Colleagues, the passage of this measure will ensure improved health care services to the people of Hawaii. I would like to clarify the intent of this measure. This bill does not look to eliminate the Hawaii Health Systems Corporation but rather to improve the operations and autonomy of our community hospitals. This bill strengthens the viability of the regional acute care hospitals that provide vital services to our neighbor island communities. This bill provides the regional systems of Hawaii Health Systems Corporation with more autonomy by authorizing any of the regional systems or individual facilities of the Hawaii Health Systems Corporation to transition into a new entity. In addition, this measure allows HHSC or any regional board to negotiate and executive memoranda of understanding for employees under its control and to alter any collective bargaining agreement on any items subject to collective bargaining. SB 1673 increases autonomy and accountability at the regional level and allows communities to be involved in determining critical, safety-net levels of service which cannot be reduced, as well as in plans for the expansion or enhancement of new services or the reduction or elimination of other non-critical services.

“Hawaii is comprised of diverse communities in which the demand of specific health care services can often be significantly different from each other. In addition the access and availability of health care often depends on the location and demographic make-up of the community. This measure looks to increase our efforts to assist our public hospitals in providing quality health care to all of the people of Hawaii as well as increasing the availability of health care to our constituents. In addition to the transition from a central statewide hospital corporation, this bill provides for further operational abilities for the regional health system; includes internal audit provisions for fiscal accountability and enables the corporation to conduct criminal history record checks. I strongly believe that the provisions provided in this bill will improve our public hospitals and our access to quality health care in Hawaii. I urge all of you to support the passage of this bill.”

Senator Ige rose in support of the measure and stated:

“I would like to first of all, thank all of my neighbor island colleagues who spent so much time as we worked through this. I would like to acknowledge also the support and efforts by the labor unions involved. They came to the table and worked with us to try and come up with a program. I think we all recognize the important role that these facilities play in each and every one of our communities. For the record, I would like to note that the private hospitals have incurred losses of about $150 million in 2007, and about half of those losses are due to underpayment of government programs, both Medicare and Medicaid. So, the hospital business in and of itself, both public and private sector, is under severe duress because the reimbursements simply do not cover their costs.

“This measure is a comprehensive measure that puts the Hawai'i Health Systems Corporation on reasonable financial standing to be able to ponder their future. It engages the local communities in a dialogue to define what are the basic levels of services which should be provided in each and every one of these facilities. More importantly, it invites those community members to think about the future and to think about what new services and enhancements could be provided in these facilities that would allow the community to be better served. And finally, it really does invite the community to take ownership and to invest, both financially and by participating, in the future of these facilities.

“It does provide and makes clear that the HHSC can negotiate for memorandums of understanding to alter the basic collective bargaining agreements, recognizing the unique situation that each and every one of these facilities are in. It also does, as the Majority leader has said, allows for new kinds of partnerships that can invest external capital into our system so that our facilities can move forward and provide better services to the community. Once again, I just would like to thank all of those who committed much time to try and move this measure forward. I do think, members, that on a going-forward basis, the Hawai'i Health Systems Corporation will be in a much, much better place come July 1st. Thank you.”

Senator Hemmings rose in rebuttal and said:

“I think we're headed towards Never Never Land here because this is a vindication of sorts, and I do have to set the record straight regarding some things that's often our plight here: to look at something and reach completely different conclusions on what we see. Sometimes it's semantical. Sometimes it's ideological. Sometimes it's political stubbornness. Call it what you will. The facts are the number's out of the budget and out of the Hawai'i Health Care Systems. I don't care what you called it before 1996, and quite frankly I don't care what you call it now. The fact is it's a state monopoly hospital, and the facts are in those years, they've been subsidized over a half billion dollars.

“There is no moral equivalency and oftentimes we get mired down in this; well, we see it oftentimes in the war on terror. We're killing them. They're killing us. What's the difference? Well, the difference is right and wrong. And there's no doubt, and I certainly agree with the good Senator from Maui and the Chairman of the Health Committee that private hospitals are indeed in a terrible plight, and I think it's absolutely amazing that the good Senator—the Chairman of the Health Committee—actually told us why: because government programs are bankrupt and not paying doctors enough. Geez. So, we want to continue with a government-owned and operated hospital?”

“But I think we are headed towards a reasonable solution but I do want to, in closing, say that neither of the previous speakers—and I would welcome the opportunity to be enlightened—addressed my original concern, specifically: Will the labor unions be allowed to file suit against the state for privatizing their jobs, or worse yet, will the state have to retain them in some other needless capacity in order to satisfy what this bill would accomplish? That remains to be seen. But it's partially addressed by the budget, as I said, because despite this bold move as we heard two years ago, or three years ago, when we passed the last major reform that proved to do nothing but create more problems, that we are putting $200 million plus in the budget to carry this corporation forward. And there is a difference between the private sector and public sector hospitals, and I'll tell you one, which was testified in committee on this issue. The labor costs of a state hospital, especially Maui Memorial and Hilo and Kona, are 17 percent higher—17 percent higher—according to testimony, than their private counterparts, and therein is the difference.

“So once again I applaud the Senate for moving in this direction, and I pray that in voting 'yes' on this bill that it is not a façade, that it is really genuine reform, and that this state is headed in a direction that most other states have done; and that is, not operating public monopoly hospitals. Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Sakamoto rose in support of the measure and stated:

“There is one person who is not in this room who can make a big difference if the statement about 17 percent more in labor cost is true. Labor costs highly get generated by manning and how you man different positions; and I believe in our state, that's pretty much collective bargaining. Our current Governor has had the opportunity several times—in good times, in medium times, and currently in bad times—to make a difference. And I believe it's not about lawsuits; it's about relationships and about working together. Again, this is an opportunity for our administration to work with the respective bargaining units and work together, not for the hospitals, but to work together for the people who vitally need those services. This is an opportunity to not just talk about working together. Perhaps in an hour or so she'll say, 'I shall also have an opportunity to work together as opposed to work against.' Mahalo.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 173 was adopted and S.B. No. 1673, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HAWAII HEALTH SYSTEMS CORPORATION," passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Ige moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 175 be adopted and H.B. No. 690, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1 pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Takamine.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"What this bill does, it amends the prepaid health care act to further put limitations and mandates on small business. The law right now requires businesses to cover any employee who works more than 19 hours per week. What this bill does is drop the figure to 15. It also says that if the employer adds family benefits to coverage for those full-time employees, he or she must also add them to the part-time employees. Small businesses have the right now, if they want to and if they can afford it, to give any employee—even if they work 5 hours a week—coverage, but if they can't afford it this has been a major problem. And now what we're doing is, yet again, with taxes and mandates we're forcing them to go ahead and cover 15. Next year, we'll probably come back here, it'll be 5 hours or 1 hour as most of the unions want."

Senator Ige rose in support of the measure and said:

"I just wanted to correct one issue. The employee would be fully responsible for 100 percent of the cost. The employer is just obligated to offer the coverage to the part-time employee. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 175 was adopted and H.B. No. 690, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO INSURANCE," passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Gabbard rose and requested comments in support of the measure be entered into the Journal.

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Gabbard's remarks read as follows:

"Madame President, I rise in support of SB 464 CD2. Colleagues, the Obama Administration and Congress recently converted the federal investment tax credit for solar into a grant in order to drive more investment into renewable energy as soon as possible. As you know, President Obama has made it clear that he views renewable energy as one sector of the economy that can lead our country out of this crisis. Hawaii is in a perfect position to take advantage of this new direction in federal policy. This measure would help many more Hawaii homeowners and businesses take advantage of the federal incentives for solar and in the process increase our state's energy security and reduce our carbon emissions. This change in law will drive growth in exactly the kind of jobs Hawaii needs and stimulate our state's economy, in part by making renewable energy projects viable for state buildings, such as public schools. I urge you to join me in supporting SB 464 CD2."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, S.B. No. 464, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Baker moved that S.B. No. 1461, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 2 pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Ige.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

“What this bill does is to require filers to file earlier, and for businesses this will be yet another hardship. What we should be doing is making sure that the returns are filed adequately, that money is paid, but by moving this up, it is a hardship. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, S.B. No. 1461, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION,” passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom rose in support of the measure with reservations and stated:

“Of course we have this bill every year, and the amount of money that the State (read: taxpayers) has to pay continues to grow by the time we get to the final version of it. But I notice in looking at some of the individual claims against the State, I’m afraid the State is too willing to settle rather than to take these to court; and I notice that there are a number of claims by prisoners, prisoners suing the State. Now maybe some of these are justified, but maybe many are not. The practice of using taxpayer money to further reward the prisoners, as my colleague said, the ‘criminal lobby’ here has been extremely successful in doing this. So, I understand some of the payments that have to be made, but I’d like to see a much more aggressive attorney general. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 1016, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, C.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING APPROPRIATIONS FOR CLAIMS AGAINST THE STATE, ITS OFFICERS, OR ITS EMPLOYEES,” passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Ayes with Reservations, 1 (Slom). Noes, none. Excused, 2 (Bunda, Tsutsui).

S.B. No. 387, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 2:

Senator Baker moved that S.B. No. 387, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 2 pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Ige.

Senator Kim requested comments in support of the measure be entered into the Journal.

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Kim’s remarks read as follows:

“Madam President, I rise in support of S.B. No. 387, C.D. 1.

“This bill requires the governor or the director of finance to report to the legislature the reason for and impact of any restrictions on a particular program. This provides transparency and helps the public to understand why appropriations authorized by the Legislature are being restricted.

“Also included in this bill are the contents of H.B. No. 1260, executive branch reorganization.

“During these tough economic times, your conference committee has not only focused on cutting dollars and cents from the budget but also ways to streamline government and the way we deliver services.

“The House and Senate carefully scrutinized the reorganizational proposals by both houses. We agreed that these transfers should assist the Department of business, economic development, to focus on its core functions and become more efficient.

“The bill:

1. Transfers the Small Business Regulatory Review Board to CCA
2. Transfers NELHA to DAGS
3. Establishes the special advisor for Tourism in the Gov. Office
4. Transfers the Arts and Culture Dev. Branch from DBEDT to DAGS-State Foundation on Culture and the Arts
5. Transfers the Film Industry Branch to HTA

“We found that these programs would be better suited in other departments and saw opportunities where under new guidance, they could be more efficient and effective.

“For example, the Film Branch provides an excellent opportunity to showcase Hawaii’s beauty and attract more tourists.

“In 2007 alone, Hawaii’s direct expenditures for film production totaled $229 million with $22 million in tax revenue and created thousands of local jobs. It is estimated that close to 79% of those employed on the sets were Hawaii residents. States are vigorously competing to attract these productions. 21 other states have their film office part of their Tourism office.

“It is critical for the state to provide marketing resources to the film branch so that they are able to effectively compete for these productions. Attaching the film office to HTA will create new synergy and efficiencies for both entities. Movies, TV series, commercials, game shows and documentaries all promote Hawaii. The Tourism program’s existing relationships, global marketing partners and marketing experience provide an excellent opportunity to leverage those resources to ensure that the film branch is an economic driver for the State. And provide the Film office endless support and opportunities to become even more competitive.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, S.B. No. 387, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE STATE BUDGET,” passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, 2 (Hemmings, Slom). Excused, 2 (Bunda, Tsutsui).

H.B. No. 754, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 2:

On motion by Senator Nishihara, seconded by Senator Kim and carried, H.B. No. 754, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HAWAII TOURISM AUTHORITY,” passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, 2 (Hemmings, Slom). Excused, 2 (Bunda, Tsutsui).

At this time the Chair made the following announcement:

“Members, we are returning to page 14; this is just for a point of clarification. This is regarding Conf. Com. Rep. No. 33/H.B. No. 1776, C.D. 1. So that the record is clear, I am going to ask the Clerk to restate the vote and I will then add that the bill passed Final Reading.”

The Clerk stated:

“22 Ayes, 1 No.”

The Chair then said:

"H.B. No. 1776, C.D. 1 passes Final Reading. That was just for clarification."

At 2:15 p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 4:22 p.m.

RECALL OF HOUSE BILL 444, H.D. 1

In accordance with Article III, Section 12, of the Hawai'i State Constitution, and pursuant to Senate Rule 52, Senator Ihara moved to recall H.B. No. 444, H.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CIVIL UNIONS," from the Committee on Judiciary and Government Operations, seconded by Senator Kidani.

The Chair then made the following announcement:

"The Chair will provide for limited debate as to the advisability of the motion to recall, but the merits of H.B. No. 444, H.D. 1, are not open to debate at this time."

Senator Ihara rose in support of the motion and stated:

"The purpose of this recall motion is to allow the Senate to vote on the civil unions bill, which seeks to end discrimination against a minority group in our community. If this motion is successful, H.B. No. 444 would be immediately brought to the Senate floor for second reading, and tomorrow the bill would receive full debate and a final reading.

"Madam President, today a minority of Senators will be invoking Article III, Section 10 of our State Constitution. This constitutional provision gives nine Senators the power to require a vote on a bill that is held up in a legislative committee. I must disagree respectfully with a claim that this motion would harm the integrity of the legislative process. This recall motion is authorized by our State Constitution, which everyone knows is a higher authority than Senate rules.

"I believe this motion to recall H.B. No. 444 should be viewed as a friendly motion to Senators who want to end discrimination against the gay community because the motion would help accomplish this objective. In fact, if the recall motion fails today, discrimination will continue for the foreseeable future, probably past the next election, and H.B. No. 444 will have its final defeat this session. The intent of this motion is to pass the bill this session, not next session. Let today be the day we free H.B. No. 444 for a full Senate vote. Let today be the day we remove the shackles that have prevented many Senators from taking our place in history in ending discrimination. Today is the day to stand up for the basic human right of every person to enjoy a family relationship without discrimination. Thank you, Madam President; and I'd like to request a Roll Call vote."

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the motion and stated:

"You know, we talk about discrimination; we use that word loosely. We have many statutes in the State of Hawai'i. We have been a leader in ending discrimination. But until now, discrimination has always been viewed as something like race, color, creed; something that a person has no opportunity to change or no opportunity to..."

Senator Baker rose on a point of order and said:

"I believe the discussion is supposed to be on the motion and not on the substance of the measure."

The Chair then said:

"Senator Slom, Senator Baker is correct. You must keep your debate to the advisability of the motion to recall."

"Certainly, Madam President, and let me keep the debate to recall. You know, we had an 18 hour hearing on this bill, the longest continuous hearing in the Senate's history since statehood. Eighteen hours; started at 9 a.m. one day, and ended 3 o'clock the next day. We had over 500 people that testified, we had over 1,500 points of view, and everyone had an opportunity. And at the end of that, we had six members of the committee who, really unusually, we all stayed the entire time. We discussed it. We voted on it. The result was a tie vote, 3 to 3. The measure failed. We have had tie votes before on the floor and in committees. As was erroneously pointed out the last time we discussed this, we were the only committee that had an even number of members on that committee. As I pointed out to correct that mistake, there are 5 committees out of 14. So therefore, when we had a vote—and we did—when we went through the entire process—and we did—the vote was not to advance the bill. The bill is not being held up in committee. The bill was not being held hostage or anything like that. We had a vote. That was the vote. The bill failed. But a number of people were not satisfied with that result, and there's been great deal of political pressure, from both inside the state and certainly outside the state, with money and resources as well. And then on this Senate floor, we took a vote to yank that bill out of the committee, and that vote failed. Now we're back for the third bite of this apple, and we were supposed to be adjourned today. Other than for the fact that the Legislature decided to extend the session so that they could override the Governor's vetoes tomorrow, we would have been gone. We would have all held hands, and sang 'Aloha 'Oe', and had all that love and kindness that we're all noted for, but we didn't. And we were told at the very beginning today was going to be a historic day. And why was it historic? Because the political machinations and the very careful orchestration of yanking this bill and not being satisfied with the results were already in place. Everybody had their speeches made. Everybody knew how they were going to vote, which is fine. The problem is when do you come to the end of the line? When do you accept a vote as being final?"

"Now, I mentioned at the last go-around that I had supported yanking bills two times from committees in the past over the past 10 years, but the difference was and the reason for that was the chairs of those committees, despite tremendous public support, both pro and con, refused to have a hearing on those bills. This is entirely different. We had a hearing. The Chairman of the Judiciary Committee bent over backwards, and then backwards again, and moreover backwards to make sure that everyone was heard. But in the end, there was a decision, and the decision was the bill is dead. And then on the second time around, the bill is still dead. And yet, here we are again trying to resurrect this. I've got to tell you, since the Majority runs everything around here, I have all of the trees that have been killed in my office with the e-mails on H.B. No. 444; there are well over 2,000. They run 70 percent opposed and 30 percent in favor, which was just about what the amount was when we took the only referendum on this issue 10 years ago; and yet we're trying to undo that. We're disrespecting the majority of people here. I certainly believe in protecting the minority. Of course it doesn't happen on the Senate floor here as my colleague and I know; that's why we're usually standing up for one vote or two votes. But I think that at some point after you have had the discussion, after you had the vote—and a tie vote is a vote—then you let it go. Come back next year or come back whenever you want to. No one is being discriminated against, but a lot of people are not getting the kind of financial additional benefits and tax perks that they want. And after all, when all is said and done, that's what this is about. It's not about equal rights. It's not about discrimination. It's about more money and getting benefits that somebody else has. So, I urge a 'no' vote on this, Madam President."

Senator Sakamoto rose in opposition to the motion and stated:

"My frustration lies in action or inaction after the last attempt to pull the measure, I sincerely believed that efforts would continue to improve the measure. The bills we voted on today—C.D. 1, C.D. 1, C.D. 1—that means people conferenced on it, there were differences in opinion, and bills were amended. The frustration I personally have is, I believe the people observing us, as well as many of us here; wanted a measure to be improved earlier on. At that point in time people were saying, 'You can't change the bill. You can't change the bill.' So it's very frustrating at this later date. In my mind, I believe the integrity of our colleagues here was 'let's try and improve the bill, and work on it to make improvements.' So for those reasons, I object to this motion at this time."

Senator Hemmings rose in opposition to the motion and stated:

"This motion violates the procedures that had been fair and just through my tenure here at the State Senate. Why should one special interest group be accorded special treatment at the expense of all the others who came and labored through this process, some winning and some losing, but nevertheless lived by the process? We've heard a lot about the word 'rights' and I would say the rights of those who play by the rules and have lived with the dictates of this process, their rights would be violated. And what do we do? Do we open up this process? As the good Senator from Hawai'i Kai said, every time some special interest group feels it's justified bringing the issue up two, three, four times? This is a bad precedent. This motion must be defeated. This legislation was aired fairly and justly by the committee; a decision was made and so be it. Let's respect the rights of all involved in this process. I urge my colleagues to vote 'no' on this motion."

Senator Hooser rose in support of the motion and stated:

"I'll keep my remarks brief, and I'll keep my remarks focused on the motion. You know, I think for the record this violates no procedure whatsoever. It's a constitutionally-permitted measure that we're discussing here. The Constitution specifically calls for and allows for this, and so we violate no rule, no measure, no procedure. There's lots of arguments to weigh. Earlier speakers had mentioned: How many times are we going to come back and ask for this? And I would suggest: Until there is justice and equal rights, we should come back as often as we need to. Thank you."

Senator Galuteria rose in support of the motion with reservations and stated:

"I wish to speak to nothing more than the procedure itself, the motion to recall H.B. No. 444. If the infamous pull prevails, I will share my thoughts about H.B. No. 444, but no sooner than that.

"What's important here is that the matter at hand is purely a constitutional issue and option. Obviously those who came before us, colleagues, in their wisdom saw a need to allow for such an option to be available to us. The procedural rule predates us all; it was written into our original State Constitution in 1959, and when our Constitution was amended by convention two subsequent times—first in '68 and '78—it remained intact. Indeed I voted against pulling the bill out of committee earlier in the session, but I've changed my mind. I've changed it because now I better understand our internal process as a body, and I'm very mindful and appreciative of our Committee on Judiciary and Government Operations. Their 18-hour marathon hearing, as the good Senator from the east side reminded us, is indeed a testament to our dedication to the democratic principles. I am also heartened by the congeniality that we share as senators and very respectful of our leadership and all of our committee chairs. But at the end of the day, we're elected to uphold the Constitution and exercise our different rights within, and therefore this constitutional procedure affords us the opportunity up, down, or even if we amend it through debate to address this subject matter on the Senate floor. And so with that, I support 'with reservations'."

The motion to recall H.B. No. 444, H.D. 1 from the Committee on Judiciary and Government Operations was put by the Chair and, Roll Call vote having been requested, carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 10. Ayes with Reservations, 2 (Galuteria, Nishihara). Noes, 15 (Bunda, Espero, Gabbard, Green, Hanabusa, Hee, Hemmings, Kim, Kokubun, Sakamoto, Slom, Takamine, Taniguchi, Tokuda, Tsutsui)

The President then made the following observation:

"The motion is carried, H.B. No. 444, H.D. 1, is recalled and is accordingly in the possession of this body."

Senator Ihara moved that H.B. No. 444, H.D. 1, pass Second Reading, seconded by Senator Kidani.

Senator Tsutsui rose and said:

"Madam President, I wish to offer a floor amendment to H.B. No. 444, H.D. 1."

At 4:40 p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 4:52 p.m.

The Chair then made the following announcement:

"Members, I've been asked to explain the requirement of the recall, and we apologize to the people in the gallery. All that was needed to pass the recall was 9 votes. So there were 10 votes, and that is why we are now in the process of the floor amendment."

Senator Tsutsui then offered the following amendment (Floor Amendment No. 20) to H.B. No. 444, H.D. 1:

SECTION 1: House Bill No. 444, H.D. 1 is amended by adding a purpose section to be designated as Section 1 and to read as follows:

"SECTION 1. The intent of this measure is to recognize civil unions in Hawaii. By establishing the status of civil unions in our State, it is not the legislature's intent to revise the definition or eligibility requirements of marriage under chapter 572, Hawaii Revised Statutes."

SECTION 2. House Bill No. 444, H.D. 1 is amended by amending Section 1 of the measure to read as follows:

§ -8 Record of solemnization; reported by whom; affidavit; evidentiary weight of certificate or affidavit. (a) Each person who solemnizes a civil union shall certify upon the civil union license certificate the fact, time, and place of the solemnization of the civil union and return the license to the agent within three business days following the solemnization of the civil union, or as may otherwise be prescribed by the department of health.

(b) If any person who has solemnized a civil union fails to return the certificate to the agent as required under subsection (a), the partners joined in a civil union may provide the agent with a notarized affidavit attesting to the fact that they were joined in a civil union and stating the date and place of the solemnization of the civil union. Upon the recording of that affidavit by the agent, the civil union of the partners shall be deemed to be valid as of the date of the solemnization of the civil union stated in the affidavit.

SECTION 4: House Bill No. 444, H.D. 1 is amended by inserting a new section to read as follows:

“SECTION 4. A party to a civil union shall be included in any definition or use of the terms “spouse”, “family”, “immediate family”, “dependent”, “next of kin” and other terms that denote the spousal relationship, as those terms are used throughout the law.”

SECTION 5: House Bill No. 444, H.D. 1 is amended by renumbering Sections 4, 5, and 6 of the measure as Sections 5, 6, and 7 respectively.

Senator Tsutsui moved that Floor Amendment No. 20 be adopted, seconded by Senator Tokuda.

Senator Tsutsui rose to speak in support of the amendment as follows:

“Madam President, this amendment clarifies that it is not the intent of the Legislature to revise the definition or eligibility requirements of marriage pursuant to chapter 572, HRS. The statement of the Legislature’s intent is meant to avoid the situation which arose in Connecticut, where a statute was enacted creating civil unions that equated the rights provided to civil unions to those provided to married persons. The Connecticut civil unions statute was effectively converted by that state court, the Connecticut Supreme Court, to require the allowance of same-sex marriage. Madam President, this amendment also makes civil unions available to all persons by removing the limitation that civil unions be limited to persons of the same-sex. In addition, Madam President, this amendment also makes civil unions available to persons who are otherwise eligible to be married or enter into a reciprocal beneficiary relationship.”

Senator Tokuda rose in support of the amendment and stated:

“The amendment that is put forward before you today was put together by advocates of the measure seeking to address the concerns raised during our extensive hearing process. As was mentioned by the previous speaker, it clarifies the legislative intent that we are not seeking to redefine marriage pursuant to chapter 572. It also expands civil unions to include relationships beyond same-sex couples. By amending this bill, the Senate would be making a commitment to keeping the discussion alive while allowing for the time needed for a full and open consideration of the issue during the interim. The Chair of the Judiciary Committee has indicated his strong willingness and preference to convene a working group of representatives from both sides of the debate prior to the start of the next session to review the proposed amendments and to consider alternatives or additional amendments.

“Colleagues, I would ask that calmer heads prevail as we move toward these final hours of the legislative session. While high emotions and looming deadlines may make you feel that voting on this version of H.B. No. 444 is the only option, I ask that you consider the big picture and all of the options available to us. Let’s keep our focus on what will get us to the end goal we would all like to see: equal rights for all. Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Hooser rose in opposition to the amendment and stated:

“You know, I don’t have a perfect crystal ball. None of us do. But looking at the legislative history of these types of amendments or these types of measures, looking at the nature of it, in my opinion, passage of this amendment effectively kills the underlying substance of the measure certainly for this session, would defer it to next legislative session and put it back in the hands of the House, possibly a conference committee. And again, I think if you look at history, the likelihood of this measure dying somewhere along the process is very, very high. I think the underlying measure, H.B. No. 444, H.D. 1, is a good one. I think it was well-written. It presents the rights that are necessary to be presented to bring equality to all people. The argument about the Connecticut ruling, the court ruling, has been addressed on numerous occasions by numerous attorneys, including a former Supreme Court justice. Many other attorneys have said that this ruling does not apply because of Hawai’i’s Constitution. And for those reasons, primarily because I do not want to see this measure die, I’d like to see it pass in the version that it is in now, and I’d like to see it passed right away. Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Taniguchi rose in support of the amendment and stated:

“Madam President, I would like to ask members to support the amendment because I believe it makes it a better bill. It also addresses some of the concerns with H.D. 1. Members, I guess there’s been some discussion about convening something over the interim, and I’d be very happy to participate in that or possibly delegate it to other members, but we will try to encourage those discussions during the interim, and I encourage all the members to vote for this amendment.”

Senator Baker rose in opposition to the amendment and stated:

“I firmly believe that the time to pass this measure unamended is now because in my view, like justice, equality delayed is equality denied. There were so many instances during the hearing and at other times that make it crystal clear that equality under the law is something that most of us believe in and believe in very strongly. You know, we always have a Hawaiian word of the day when we close our session. Well, I think the Hawaiian word for the day should be ‘kaulike’—equality. While kaulike is a uniquely Hawaiian word in its shades of meaning, it’s also a universal expression that is embodied in basic, human civil rights. Being treated equally is the basic founding principle of the civil rights movement, both in America and across the globe, historically and now. The social philosophic notion of some more equal than others was discarded in favor of uniformity and opportunity in action enforced by law. That’s really what is at stake here. And if we adopt this amendment, with all due respect to some of my colleagues who sincerely believe that this amendment would not kill this bill, I submit that we will have killed this measure for this year and I firmly believe for next year because historically, we don’t go back and pull items from a previous session that have moved up to a point but not gone further. We typically start the whole process over again. I think it’s time for us to stand up for people who have been discriminated against far too long and the time, I believe, for kaulike is now.”

Senator Ihara rose in opposition to the amendment and stated:

“Madam President, I had requested time to review the bill. There has been no hearing on this bill. I have not received any comments and testimony on it. In fact, there is a letter signed by 15 University of Hawai’i law professors that says that there is no need to amend this bill because the Connecticut Kerrigan decision is not relevant at all to H.B. No. 444. In fact, one of the state’s leading constitutional attorneys, in his analysis says about the concern raised about the Connecticut Supreme Court opinion, his conclusion is: ‘it would therefore be impossible for an appellate court in Hawai’i to reach results similar to that reached in Connecticut.’ So I had thought that was completely off the table. I know of no constitutional scholar that has supported the notion that this bill is constitutionally defective. In fact, all of the opinion from all of the attorneys and constitutional scholars is that there is no constitutional impediment to this bill whatsoever.

“This amendment also can be viewed as a way to kill the bill for this session. In fact, that’s the effect. If you vote for the amendment, you are saying that discrimination will continue for another day, perhaps years, and that equality will be deferred, I believe, for years. So, I want to be clear that those who support equal rights, civil rights, those who want to end discrimination, this is your chance by voting against the amendment and for H.B. No. 444, H.D. 1. Thank you.”

Senator Hemmings rose and said:

“This is a most paradoxical...”

The Chair interjected:

“Senator Hemmings, for what purpose do you rise?”

Senator Hemmings then responded:

“I am voting in favor of the amendment in which could be termed one of the most paradoxical votes we’ve taken. I’d like to reflect on some things that have been said about equality and rights because I believe those words have become some of the most abused words in contemporary politics. In reality, true rights are endowed by our creator and clearly enunciated in our Bill of Rights. It is indeed unfortunate many proponents of the original bill, H.B. No. 444, do not respect that simple truth. The exploitation of the term has become rampant. In a free society, we all should be worried of any group that attaches itself to the struggles of the African Americans or to the equality of women for the convenience of their narrowly-focused agenda. The last I checked, same-sex marriage and civil unions was not in the Constitution or the Bill of Rights. Marriage, civil unions, is a licensed privilege granted by the people through the legislative process; and I might add, not through an errant, activist Supreme Court. Calling H.B. No. 444 a right is an insult. Our nation’s social fabric has been weaved in many ways: through the traditions of the family; through individuals’ personal moralities; in many ways in our churches, in our synagogues and places of worship; and in the documents that constitute the very foundation of America. If we allowed the measure 444 to advance, we would be negating the true rights of all Americans for the convenience of political correctness and the interests of a very small group of special interests.

“This bill can be debated again next session, but I recall correctly next session’s an election year. So paradoxically, I’m voting in favor of this amendment because it will do the right thing for the people of Hawai‘i. Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Hooser rose and said:

“Madam President, may I ask the Minority Leader a question to clarify his position?”

The Chair then said:

“If the Minority Leader wishes to respond to you—Senator Hemmings?”

Senator Hemmings responded:

“He can certainly ask, and I’ll respond if I wish.”

The Chair instructed Senator Hooser to proceed.

“I was a little confused by your remarks in support. So my question is: Are you voting in support of the amendment because you support equal rights and the passage of civil union legislation as is being proposed, or are you voting in support so the bill is likely to die?”

Senator Hemmings responded:

“I thought I enunciated my position regarding this alleged right very clearly, but let me be more succinct for your purposes, good Senator from Kaua‘i. I’m voting in favor of this amendment because it will kill the bill for this session.”

Senator Espero rose in support of the amendment with reservations and stated:

“Colleagues, you’re aware that I, with a couple other senators, worked on a compromise bill. I have a copy of it right here—311 pages. And I believe this was a strong compromise because when I shared it with both the opponents and proponents, both sides did not like it. With that said, I will support this measure so that we may continue the dialogue, and I certainly hope and pray that we do have the courage and the political will to act on this next session.

“This has been a very divisive issue, and the issue of equality is complex. In the United States today, in the state of California—the university system, the legal system—they are looking now at rules and laws that may limit the number of Asian Americans who are attending the universities. People are saying this is an issue of equality. In the east coast, there is a case regarding a local fire department where an individual is challenging some hiring policies and practices because he has not been chosen and he feels he should have been moved up, whereas others who may be less qualified have replaced him. It is an issue, he thinks, of equality, of his rights.

“It’s not that simple and easy, and I truly hope that we can work with these opponents and the proponents in the spirit of aloha. I say that again so that we may come up with a piece of legislation that we are proud of and that we believe is fair and just for all of us. Colleagues, I believe we are doing the right thing, and I certainly hope you will pass this motion to amend. Thank you.”

Senator Tokuda rose and said:

“Despite what previous speakers have said, the goal of this floor amendment, as well as the goal of the bill in its present form, are not mutually exclusive. You can support this floor amendment and support equality and civil rights. It was also mentioned by one of the speakers that he did not have enough time to review this measure. The bottom line is that had this pull motion not been acted upon prematurely, there would have been more than enough time for us to convene a working group to deliberate this issue over the interim. Another speaker also stated that we have never taken up bills again during the second year of the biennium, or that it is not typical for us to actually take a bill up where it started on the second year. If that is the case, it is also not customary or traditional for us to pull bills out of committee where a full-fledged discussion and vote has actually taken place, and where no amendments were actually even considered or deliberated in conference. So, I would argue again that this floor amendment will help us advance the end goal that we all seek, which is equal rights to all, and I thank you for allowing me to clarify those statements.”

Senator Gabbard rose in support of the amendment with reservations and stated:

“Madam President, colleagues, I had the—I don’t know if ‘honor’ is quite the word—to sit through 18 hours of testimony with our fearless leader, the Chair of the Judiciary and Government Operations Committee. And during that time, you know, after the hearing at 3 o’clock in the morning, it was interesting because as we listened to both sides going back and forth, that one of the comments that struck me was that people were actually very appreciative that the six of us sat there through that whole process to hear them. This is participatory democracy in action. And there was actually one lady that I was talking to who was actually crying about it; she’d sat through hours and hours and hours and she couldn’t believe that we’d actually sat there through the whole process.

“Madam President, colleagues, couple other points. One is that those who oppose H.B. No. 444, from day one what I’d been hearing is that they’ve always been willing to sit down and to discuss maybe some middle ground on this thing. And I really think that we have not done enough. We need to sit back and go back to the table and see if there is some middle ground on this, and so that’s why I will be supporting this amendment with reservations. Mahalo.”

Senator Slom rose in support to the amendment and stated:

“It was difficult looking at this amendment and supporting it since I did not support H.B. No. 444, and do not. But it’s interesting even more so to me that the strongest proponents of 444 legislation took this amendment and want to vote against the amendment, and it's basically their language. It's their language; it's what they wanted. What I want is to have further discussion next year. We saw that the House rammed this legislation through. Most people didn't even know it was on the radar, or below the radar, and all of a sudden it was in the Senate. And the idea was pass it; don't make changes. And as the good Senator from Ewa Beach said, he had offered an amendment. There was another amendment offered previously, but they weren't considered.

"I do have to tell you that I do take umbrage with proponents of this legislation that attack the rest of us and say that we are not supporting equal rights or that we are not opposed to discrimination. There's no one in this room that that description fits, and I think it's a very unfortunate way of trying to get your way on a piece of legislation. Do we look at things differently? You bet we do. That's why we have differences. That's why we have bills that go through modifications in the House and the Senate and wind up in conference committee, but this bill did not. So now to bring this to final resolution tonight, we have a resolution and an amendment that, as I say, is the actual words of the supporters, and they're telling you to vote 'no'. I'll be voting 'yes'. Thank you."

Senator Ihara rose in rebuttal and stated:

"First I might mention in response to the Senator from Hawai'i Kai that the proponents would rather have this bill than the bill that they were required to put forward in this floor amendment because they were told that the bill that they originally wanted would not pass. Secondly, I might point out that what we're doing today, if this floor amendment passes, actually we're already making history by the very fact of proposing this floor amendment on second reading. The Senate, in all the years I've been in office, has never amended a bill on second reading. Bills are amended on third reading, and that leads me to the difficulty I have in reconciling two notions: the notion that proponents of the floor amendment are for civil unions, and the other notion that this floor amendment will kill the bill for the session. Please, please don't let this civil rights bill die this year. Thank you."

Senator Slom rose to request a Roll Call vote and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Galuteria rose in support of the amendment and stated:

"This is the exact reason why I wanted to join the nine other senators to bring the debate to the floor because what this has done is not only articulated positions, but it's made for absolutely strange bedfellows, no pun intended. I just want to hold our dear friends from the east side and the windward side to their word and remind them that they're going to be voting on something that says, and I quote, 'the intent of this measure is to recognize civil unions in Hawai'i.' Whether their intent is to kill this bill or not, they're on record. Number two: 'by establishing the status of civil unions in our state, it is not the legislature's intent to revise the definition or eligibility requirements of marriage under chapter 572.' We're not trying to change that definition at all. We're just trying to create a situation where people will have the rights to enjoy the same quality of life that we all do. So I thank you, and to clarify, I do stand in support of the floor amendment. Thank you very much."

Senator Chun Oakland rose in support of the amendment and stated:

"I thank the proponents of the bill and Senate President for working on this language before us in the floor amendment. I am putting my faith and trust in my colleagues and the proponents of this measure and others to come up with something that will achieve equity and fair treatment. I believe we do care about each other, and I am putting my faith in my colleagues to have something come out next year, including the Chair of Judiciary. I know you folks have been very strong advocates for equality, and I am willing to help in any way. Thank you."

The motion to adopt Floor Amendment No. 20 was put by the Chair and, Roll Call vote having been requested, carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 16. Ayes with Reservations, 5 (Bunda, Espero, Gabbard, Kim, Sakamoto). Noes, 9 (Baker, English, Fukunaga, Green, Hee, Hooser, Ige, Ihara, Kidani).

At 5:20 p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 5:30 p.m.

The President then made the following observation:

"Members, we are back to the main motion to pass H.B. No. 444, H.D. 1, as amended, on Second Reading."

Senator Ihara rose to request a Roll Call vote and the Chair so ordered.

The motion to pass H.B. No. 444, H.D. 1, as amended in S.D. 1, on Second Reading was put by the Chair and, Roll Call vote having been requested, carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Baker voted "aye."

At 5:31 p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 5:33 p.m.

The Chair said:

"Madam Clerk, I believe we were taking a Roll Call vote."

The Roll Call vote continued, and H.B. No. 444, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CIVIL UNIONS," passed Second Reading and 48 hours notice was given for Third Reading, on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 20. Ayes with Reservations, 1 (Espero). Noes, 4 (Bunda, Gabbard, Hemmings, Sakamoto, Slom). Excused, 1 (Kim).

Senator Ihara rose on a point of information and said:

"In 48 hours we will not be in this building, so are you in effect announcing that there will be no Third Reading vote on this bill this year?"

The Chair responded:

"There will be no third reading vote on this bill this year. The third reading vote will continue into the 2010 legislative session."

Senator Baker rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

"Madam President, would you please ask the Clerk to note in the Journal that had I been present on the floor when the fiscal consent calendar was adopted that I would have voted 'aye' on all those measures?"

Senator Nishihara rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

"I would like to note for the record that had I been present for the vote on H.B. No. 200, C.D. 1, I would have voted 'aye', as well as the following bills on today's OD: H.B. No. 1057,

C.D. 1; H.B. No. 1071, C.D. 1; and S.B. No. 1673, C.D. 1.
Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Chun Oakland rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

“Similarly, on the fiscal consent calendar I would have voted ‘aye’ on all measures. Thank you.”

Senator Ige rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

“Similarly, if I was present, on the fiscal consent calendar I would have voted ‘aye’ on all measures.”

ADJOURNMENT

At 5:38 p.m., on motion by Senator Sakamoto, seconded by Senator Slom and carried, the Senate adjourned until 10:00 a.m., Friday, May 8, 2009.

The Senate of the Twenty-Fifth Legislature of the State of Hawai'i, Regular Session of 2009, convened at 10:14 a.m. with the President in the Chair.

The Divine Blessing was invoked by Mr. Hakim Ouansafi, President of the Muslim Association of Hawai'i, after which the Roll was called showing all Senators present.

The President announced that she had read and approved the Journal of the Sixty-First Day.

At 10:24 a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 10:33 a.m.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

The following messages from the Governor (Gov. Msg. Nos. 672 to 678) were read by the Clerk and were disposed of as follows:

Gov. Msg. No. 672, informing the Senate that on May 7, 2009, the Governor signed into law Senate Bill No. 301, S.D. 2, H.D. 1 as Act 55, entitled: "RELATING TO THE HAWAII REGISTERED AGENTS ACT," was placed on file.

Gov. Msg. No. 673, informing the Senate that on May 7, 2009, the Governor signed into law House Bill No. 1175, H.D. 3, S.D. 2, C.D. 1 as Act 56, entitled: "RELATING TO TAXATION," was placed on file.

Gov. Msg. No. 674, dated May 7, 2009, transmitting the Governor's statement of objections to Senate Bill No. 1111, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," which was returned to the Senate without approval and which reads as follows:

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

May 7, 2009

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 1111

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fifth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 1111, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Taxation.'

The purposes of this bill are to increase the transient accommodations tax from 7.25 percent to 8.25 percent for the period July 1, 2009 to July 30, 2010, and to further increase the tax to 9.25 percent from July 1, 2010 to June 30, 2015. The money from this tax increase would be deposited into the general fund.

This bill is objectionable because an increase in the Transient Accommodations Tax will prolong our state's ability to recover its economic vitality. It will raise the cost of visiting Hawaii, discourage both leisure and business travelers, and comes at a time when Hawaii's hospitality industry is experiencing its steepest decline in 22 years.

Hawaii's economy cannot recover from the current economic recession without a recovery in tourism. Almost three-quarters of private sector employment in the State is linked, either directly or indirectly, to tourism. The 66.9 percent statewide hotel occupancy rate recorded this March represents a 16.6 percent plunge from a year earlier. It is the 13th consecutive monthly decline in an industry that employs over 100,000 residents of our state. These occupancy rates were only achieved after hotels and rental units slashed daily room rates more than 12 percent. Despite the efforts to keep hotel rooms occupied, the visitor industry has lost 6,200 jobs in the past 12 months. As our hospitality industry fights to keep workers employed, we should not make their job harder by raising the taxes they must pay to the State.

Some have argued that a Transient Accommodations Tax increase will not discourage visitors since a tax of 8.25 or 9.25 percent is still less than the double-digit room tax rates seen on the mainland. However, it must be noted that even as room rates continue to fall in Hawaii, the average room rate statewide is $170 per night, whereas the average room rate nationwide is only $100 per night. In real dollars, tourists have to pay more to come to Hawaii. According to the American Hotel and Lodging Foundation, Hawaii visitors pay an average of $25.79 per night in lodging taxes versus the national average of $12.69.

Passage of this bill has resulted in adverse coverage in the national press that has resulted in comments that Hawaii is trying to take our economic frustrations out on our visitors. As the State of Aloha that depends upon our hospitality for our economic well-being, this is the wrong message to be sending.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 1111 without my approval.

Respectfully,

/s/ Linda Lingle
LINDA LINGLE
Governor of Hawaii,"

was placed on file.

In accordance with Article III, Section 17 of the Hawai'i State Constitution, Senator Hooser moved that the Senate override the veto of S.B. No. 1111, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, as contained in Gov. Msg. No. 674, seconded by Senator Sakamoto.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the motion to override and stated:

"You know, it seems just incredible that we're talking about the economic difficulties in the state, and the number one economic engine in the state is our visitor industry; and we've watched by every indicator how that industry keeps slowing down. We have the Vice President of the United States telling people not to travel. We have more economic news of gloom with layoffs in the future; and yet, this body, this Legislature, wants to raise the hotel room tax, wants to further penalize those people that have a choice as to where they come. Some people have said that it's only the tourists and the tourists won't mind paying a couple of extra dollars per person per night, but that's not the point. They're already paying plenty when we look at Hawai'i compared to other destination areas—the cost of arriving here, the daily cost of maintaining a stay here. And those legislators that think that it's okay because we're just going to tax the tourists are absolutely wrong. We're taxing the employees of this industry because if this industry continues to sink, there will be more layoffs in this industry and that will have more negative impact across the state. Those of you that did not attend yesterday outside would've seen hundreds of employees from the visitor industry. You've all had visits from people in the industry begging you not to do this; that this is the wrong thing, the wrong time, the wrong measure. But today you want to show your political muscle. This is not the only way that we could balance the budget. We're going to look at other tax measures as well. But no state, no nation has ever spent and taxed themselves into prosperity. And all this will do, if you override this veto, it will further delay the true economic recovery of this state, but it will have deleterious effects, not as much on the tourists as it will on our local people. Aloha."

Senator Kim rose to speak in support of the motion to override and stated:

"Madam President, the Governor has stated in a recent speech on May 6 that if the TAT increase is allowed to stand, it will deter visitors from coming to Hawai'i. It will also decrease spending at our retail stores and restaurants, causing further job loss, because when visitors pay more in hotel taxes, they have less to spend on the rest of their vacation, including food, activities and gifts. If this is true, Madam President, then why did the hotels, along with the retail merchants and the HTA, just two weeks ago, voice support for an increase of the GET? The 1 percent GET increase would tax not only the visitor hotel accommodations, but their food, activities and gifts. If the hotels are concerned about the visitor having less to spend on the rest of their vacation, then their support of the GET increase contradicts their arguments.

"The 1 percent increase in the TAT is only $1 on a $100 room. Oh but wait a minute, how many $100 hotel rooms are there really for our visitors? In fact, if you look at the statistics, of the 74,000 rooms that we have in the state of Hawai'i, over 50 percent range from $250 on up to over $500. The industry representatives say that the TAT shows up in the cost of the vacation package, thus making the package less competitive compared to other destinations. The fact is the cost of the hotel, besides the airfare, is the largest component of the vacation package cost. If an additional 1 percent or 2 percent on a $200 room—that is $2 to $4—is going to deter the visitor, then why not cut the hotel room rate by a measly $10? The harsh reality is that while the industry complains about the room tax, the hotel room rates continue to rise all the time. In fact, the reason Hawai'i often loses large conventions is because the hotels will not block the rooms or give reasonable room rates. While the government keeps the TAT down and low compared to many jurisdictions on the mainland, the hotels have no trouble raising their rates when the demands are high and dropping the rates minimally during bad times. Case in point: During the 9/11, statistics show that the room rates dropped by only an average of $4. The Governor stated in her speech that for every 1 percent point increase in the hotel room tax, 3,200 jobs will be lost in Hawai'i. If this is true, then why is it that every time the hotels raise their rates by 10 percentage points, we haven't lost 32,000 hotel jobs? When the Legislature raised the TAT in 1998, from 6 percent to 7.25 percent, we did not see a loss of 4,000 jobs. Tourism boomed to over 7 million visitors, forcing HTA and the industry to consider programs to target less numbers and higher spending visitors. I challenge the Governor to show us when in the past that the 1 percent increase in TAT amounted to a loss of 3,200 jobs. These are irresponsible and inconsistent statements that cannot go unchallenged. I urge the members to override this veto. Thank you."

Senator Baker rose to speak in opposition to the motion to override and stated:

"This is a very uncomfortable position for me to take because it puts me at odds with my colleagues in the Majority in this chamber, and that's something that doesn't happen often. But I also represent one of the larger destination districts in the state, from Makena to Wailea to Lahaina, Ka'anapali and Kapalua. Many of my constituents either work in the hotel industry, work in visitor condominiums or B&Bs. We've already seen a layoff of many jobs, and I know more are coming because our occupancy is in decline. I had intended to bring a prop from a newspaper headline from the other day talking about how low our occupancy is. These are different times. This is not 1997. This is not even 2002. It's a different time and requires different actions, and it will engender different outcomes. Because we have taken the tack of basically saying 'aloha' to our tech industry with other measures that have been adopted, we are going to need to rely more and more on the visitor industry; and I believe that a different approach—a smaller increase in the TAT—would not have had the negative outcome that this one will. And so it is with regret that I will be voting 'no' and voting to sustain the Governor's veto."

Senator Slom rose in rebuttal and said:

"Of course I have no regret in voting 'no' on this, but I would just like to comment a little bit on some of the things that the good Senator from Kalihi had mentioned. First of all, the previous speaker did point out quite correctly that we're not comparing apples with apples when we talk about when we had boom times here. The hotels in fact have lowered their rates—are lowering their rates—are doing all kinds of things to stay competitive, but I think it's difficult when everybody says, 'Just cut your prices.' I heard somebody on the radio this morning say, 'Well, we'd be okay if all the stores just reduced all of their prices and everything.' And if you're talking about retail outlets, you're talking about groceries; particularly, you're talking about a 1 to 2 percent margin that they operate on. You can't cut your costs when the labor costs keep rising, when the taxes keep rising, when the employer mandates keep rising, when the costs of permitting and other government requirements keep rising, and that's where we are at this point.

"But I think the main thing is—and I do not wish to validate the decision that was made by some spokespeople from both retailing and visitor industry—they were given a stupid question: Which would you rather have, a bullet in the head or be beheaded? And so they said, 'Oh, well it's preferable to raise the general excise tax.' It was a stupid question, and they shouldn't have fallen for that. They should have said, 'No tax increase because it's going to hurt everybody.' But our first job in an industry is to protect the industry, protect the jobs, because if you continue to have a weakening economy and you continue to lose visitors, then as I said, the real recipients of this tax increase are going to be the employees and their families. And we talk in here all the time about rising welfare demands and all of that; you're going to see even more of that. We know that to be the case. We don't have to guess, just like we know that we're going to have a reduction on May 28 from the Council on Revenues. But having known this, you're still willing to go ahead and do this, and I think that's irresponsible. Thank you."

Senator Hemmings requested a Roll Call vote and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Hooser rose to speak in support of the motion to override and stated:

"I'd like to respond if I could to a couple of the comments made by those in opposition. To say that it's a stupid decision to choose one tax increase over another is a statement that... You know, I first of all don't like the word 'stupid.' I taught my children not to use that word, so I won't use it again to refer to the statement that was referred to as 'stupid'. So I won't use that word.

"You know, I think we're in a position here where we had to make tough choices. I mean, we're required by the Constitution to balance our budget and there is not enough money to go around. So, it is a choice of bad choices. Which of the bad choices do we need to choose? Do we need to raise one tax or raise another tax? Do we need to cut education more than mental health? Or do we cut homeless services more than libraries? Or do we cut environmental protection? Or do we cut tax credits from the high tech industry more or less? So it is a choice the people have to make; and the visitor industry did express to us that they preferred a general excise tax increase, and I believe that that is a reasonable statement for them to make. I do not believe that it is an unreasonable statement, which I prefer to the word 'stupid'. I think reasonable and unreasonable is a better choice of words.

"You know, the research I've done and certainly living in District 7 and looking at why people visit our state, I believe the number one reason they visit our state is because it's a beautiful place to come to: because the people are warm and wonderful, because we have a tremendous and vital culture, and because of our natural environment. And I think if we want to keep that, we need to pay a price for it. It's not because whether it's $1 or $2 or $3 or $4 more than some other location. And we could have made the choice of keeping some of our parks closed, paying less for services that help the mentally ill, and the list goes on and on and on, but we didn't. We chose to cut everywhere and to raise taxes on a very limited basis and in a very limited number of situations. It's a hard choice, it's a difficult choice, but we had to make that choice.

"You know, one issue I have with this and the grand spectacle the Governor put on yesterday—bussing in the employees, bringing in the people from the tourism industry and having them chant, 'Veto, veto, veto,' and then going down vetoing—is that the Governor chooses to oppose taxes that she doesn't like, but yet during the same legislative session she proposes her own slate of taxes, her own set of fee increases. With her Recreational Renaissance program, she'd like to raise the fees to tourists and our parks; so instead of them paying $1 or $2 more for the hotel room, they would pay $2 or $5 more to go to Koke'e or other places like that. So she prefers those tax increases, but she doesn't prefer this tax increase. She prefers raising the highway taxes for a highway modernization fund, but wants to veto these. She wants to modernize and raise the harbor fees, but yet she doesn't like the taxes that we propose. But she's not holding press conferences on the taxes she proposes and has supported in the past.

"Balancing the budget is a difficult situation and it requires a little give from everyone, and I believe this budget does so and am encouraging everyone to vote in support of the override. Thank you."

Senator Hemmings rose to speak in opposition to the motion to override and stated:

"I am inspired by the previous speaker—good-looking guy. We do make tough choices; and in this process we usually make choices that curry favor with those who support us and which, for Sam and I, don't leave us many choices and special interest groups that participate here. And what we're doing today is we're making a choice as a state to make the tough choices to balance our budget. On one hand, the two of us on this side of the aisle would love to see us balance the budget through making tough choices on how we spend our money. On your side of the aisle, you seem to think that increasing taxes, fees, regulations, and all of that will bode our economy well and we'll all be happy a couple years from now. And we can debate statistics on all of these bills and, from your perspective, raising a tax a dollar or two here or there for staying in a hotel room is just a dollar or two increase. But when you look at the total revenue impact of all of these, you begin to see a different picture. You see that we're taking a $100 million out of income tax that could be spent through increased jobs over the next two years. We're seeing that we're taking approximately $90 million in hotel room tax out of the industry that could save jobs from people that are being laid off. So the one or two dollars, they do add up. How much payroll in hotel industry could have met with the $80 million we've taken out of their budgets, money that can't be spent because it's been taken away in taxes?

"And there are tough choices to be made, but we could have made tough choices in our budget process so we wouldn't need to raise taxes to balance it. And we always mention education, but I really believe that if we ever had an audit of the public education system, we probably could cut several hundred million dollars by just eliminating the bureaucracy and the expense of paid people that are doing curriculum specialists on potty training or all the other God-knows-what jobs that the bureaucracy performs. But we'll never know exactly how much money we can save. We know this year in this budget we're subsidizing the state hospital systems by $200 million. Why didn't we, several years ago as was suggested then, allow some of these bigger hospitals to become privatized or let someone else in the market help provide choice and better access and possibly more competitive prices, so we wouldn't have to spend in this budget $200 million subsidizing hospitals? And the list goes on and on and on and on. It was mentioned about the Recreational Renaissance. Well, that plan came from the good public workers who worked so hard and labored so diligently and passionately in the DLNR to improve our parks for everybody, including the tourists, and make them affordable. Something that's done very successfully—if you go to a national park, Haleakala or the Big Island, you'll see how well-kept those park are. So across the board, we could make choices and we could've reduced state spending so we wouldn't have to raise taxes. We're going to be taking hundreds of millions of dollars out of our economy to, in my estimation, sustain a huge portion of government that doesn't need to be sustained, and could be done better, or maybe eliminated completely.

"But I agree with the previous speaker; we have to make tough choices, and you will and we will. What we do have is a history of what has happened in Hawai'i and, quite frankly, I think it's no surprise that we're not a good place to do business and we are a one-industry economy, which is tourism. Just recent headline in a newspaper says, 'island hotel indexes fall in 3 different categories' about the productivity of the industry. And in previous times, good times, maybe the hotel industry could stand the jerk. But I would suggest that people aren't coming to Hawai'i because there's a worldwide financial crisis and people aren't coming because they don't have the money. So, how smart are we, selling a product that people can't afford and telling the industry that's selling the product, 'People can't afford it, but we're going to help you. We're going to raise the prices.' Because that's basically what we're telling the market, and they'll respond. So, I would urge you to sustain the Governor's veto and make a contribution to sustaining our economy and the single industry that's been able to survive here in Hawai'i despite our policies. Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Sakamoto rose to speak in support of the motion to override and stated:

"Basically our state government is a service company. We are a service conglomerate. We provide services to the homeless. We provide services for education, for those who need help that are struggling. We provide services to those who need hospital care. We provide services in the criminal system. And we have choices if we want to maintain a certain of quantity of services, or perhaps there's services that people feel we don't need.

"Looking at what Ways and Means did, apparently general fund budget cuts totaled $1.147 billion. Some of the critics to tax increases say, 'Well, tighten your belts, tighten your belts. State government is bloated.' $1.147 billion sounds like a lot of belt-tightening, and a lot of that to me is reducing the quantity of service. We talk about wanting to be a place to do business and for the tourists—if they want to see more homeless people in Kapi'olani Park, if they want to see people needing mental help helped sitting outside Kalākāua Beach on Kalākāua Avenue at Waikiki Beach. I don't think so. We don't think so. Belt tightening, $1.147, transfers, reduction of tax credits... I believe Ways and Means and Finance did a good job at attempting to reduce where we can, reducing the quantity of services from the state needs to produce. Federal stimulus, thankfully, $115 million is added in to help and that's not permanent.

"If we want to maintain a certain level of excellence because visitors don't want to come to a state, come to a destination where the services are not excellent in terms of what the state needs to do—highways, airports, harbors, educated workforce—we need to make tough choices. We could leave a 6 foot deep hole that perhaps we could refill with reduced services or reducing the quality of our workforce or reducing the compensation to our government workers. I believe this revenue measure in part reduces the 6 foot deep hole and perhaps 4 feet deep; if we pass all of the measures today, perhaps the hole is 2 feet deep. Public workers do need to share in getting us out of the hole. But a 6 foot deep hole for an educational assistant to have 10 percent pay cuts, they cannot survive, and the services they provide to our students are vital. There are many examples. We need to do what we need to do. If we can provide the reasonable quantity of services while doing an excellent job, visitors will come, our residents will grow, and our state will thrive. Thank you."

Senator Ihara rose to speak in support of the motion to override with reservations and stated:

"I would like to explain my concerns about this bill, although I will be voting for it. I have, as you know, declined to support an extension of this session. Because we extended the session by two days, we are deciding to override these vetoes, and I believe there are the votes to do that. However, I would have wanted to have all the pieces on the table all at once during a special session so that we can see, using a holistic approach rather than a piecemeal approach, on what each sector, how much program reductions and budget cuts and fund transfers. And we've already decided the salary reductions for non-union employees and it leaves the last group, the union employees, I believe, either fortunate for having to provide a lesser share of the deficit or unfortunate and unlucky in having to perhaps provide a larger burden because we don't know what the final deficit will be. We are deciding this now before the Council on Revenues' projections, and if it goes down as far as some think that could pose a problem to the last group that may carry the burden or be fortunate in finally reducing the deficit that we now have. I have a particular concern about this bill because its intention is to raise revenues and I do support that—it's necessary and I hope that happens—but I am concerned that it may actually cause a decline in our tourism industry. Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Espero rose to speak in support of the motion to override and stated:

"Imagine going to work one day and being told, 'You need to fill a gap because we're going to have a shortage of $2 billion.' That was the task of your Legislature this year. Our nation's economy is in a major downfall right now. It's affecting us certainly here, and when you look at the bigger picture, the total picture, nobody likes the position which we're currently in. As lawmakers, as public servants, this is the worst case scenario for serving our constituents and our state: being in a recession, being in an economy where jobs are being lost, people are suffering. And this session we saw it when they came to our offices, and not only government officials and government workers, but non-profit agencies/organizations, and the elderly, and the needy. And you could see it in their eyes, and you could see it in their demeanor, and you could hear it in their voices that they all need help and they all need assistance.

"Now, we could take some philosophies and just say, 'Well, let's just cut. Let's cut. Let's cut. Let's cut. Let's cut programs. Let's cut departments. Let's cut budgets. Let's lay off workers. Let's cut, and we don't have to look at any revenue generation because the economy is bad.' There are some people who certainly believe that. But we had to look at the total picture because our responsibility here is to deal with the 1.2 million people in this state, and they are across the spectrum—rich, poor, elderly, youth, working, unemployed, animals (we've helped some animals this session)—but it's tough. It's difficult, and I applaud the WAM Chair, the Finance Chair, and the committee members for wading through this whole process over the last four months. And the decisions which we came up with, it was a multiple approach. We looked at all possibilities, all solutions. We are cutting government budgets. We are cutting the budgets of non-profits that we have assisted. In my district, in your districts, they are hurting. They are concerned. The bank of last resort, state government, has told many of them, 'No, we don't have the money to give you and to assist you at this time.' It is a bad situation for them; and from that, it will filter in to our constituents and the individuals in our state are citizens which we help.

"We are cutting vacant positions and not funding those. We are laying off a few state workers. We are looking at pay cuts in the executive branch, legislative branch, and the judicial branch. We are transferring some funds from special funds to general funds. We are relying on our federal government with the stimulus money. Of course it's only a one-time, two-time deal. We know that it is not permanent, but thank goodness that federal money is coming our way. Although, earlier there were many who were critical of what the federal government is doing. My goodness, can you imagine the big hole we would be in today without that stimulus money?"

"And then we had to look at the issue of revenue generation, and today we will be addressing several bills on revenue generation. And yes, the TAT is one that we would prefer not to raise, but when you look at the actual numbers, as the WAM Chair spoke earlier, for those rooms that are $200, $300, $400, $500, those people can afford to come to Hawai'i. And as the good Senator from Waimanalo stated, for those that cannot come to Hawai'i, they shouldn't come to Hawai'i because it is not affordable. But if the average room at $200 is going to be an additional $2 a day or $14 a week, I believe that is a reasonable increase that the travelers coming to Hawai'i—because they want to be in Hawai'i—will be more than willing to pay.

"I was talking with my parents recently about traveling. 'Why don't you go on a cruise to Alaska? Why don't you go to the Vatican and watch the Father Damien ceremony.' At no time did we talk about, 'Well, let's double check what the hotel room tax.' And I think if most people are like me, we don't think about the hotel room tax; and our hotel room tax is not that high compared to many other locations—California, New York, other places. We are competitive, no doubt. And from the perspective of a percentage, it's less than 1 percent a day on the cost of a hotel room.

"So colleagues, the hotel industry does not like this. It is not something we want to do, but we believe we must do it because it is just one part of the total solution. And we know that when the economy is strong and times are good, these hotels make money. We're talking about some billion dollar corporations when you look at Hilton, Marriott, Sheraton. Yes, there are smaller operators and we understand their concerns and needs, but this is a cycle that we are in that is unfortunate but we are stuck in it, and we're not going to blame certain individuals or administrations or the people on why we're here, but we are here. And I believe this Legislature has worked diligently and hard to put this solution forward. It's a great solution, and members, to override is the proper thing to do. Thank you."

Senator Hee rose to speak in support of the motion to override and stated:

"You know, I remember, I think it was 1985—because Governor Cayetano ran for Lieutenant Governor I believe in '86—and he was in the Senate and I was in the Senate when the first TAT was implemented. It was a long time ago. Borreca was still here. Bill Kresnik was here. Jerry Burris was here. They were in this side of the well. Mark Matsunaga ran around. It was a long time ago. And I remember the arguments back then, in the implementation of the TAT, and those of you who were here may also remember; and it was very similar to the arguments being made by the Minority members this morning: People not going to come, it's not a good time to raise taxes, the industry's going to collapse. I remember the banks with the— at the time, it was the green and white striped computer printouts that flopped out. I can't remember the economist's name, but he stood on the tabletop and he flopped this thing out to demonstrate that people not going to come, and the industry's going to go to hell in a hand basket. And I remember Senator Buddy Soares—good friend of ours—and he was in the tourist industry at the time, and he came to Cayetano and myself during a recess and he said, 'Hey, Ben...' And before he could finish his sentence, I remember Cayetano saying, 'Not this one, Buddy. I've been waiting too long for this.' I remember Cayetano saying, 'At least there'll now be another revenue stream that will be unlike the GET that everyone has to pay.' And I remember him saying that if somebody has to pay the taxes, it would be better for the visitors than for the local people. And I remember him saying that because I was a freshman in the Senate at the time; and the Legislature, in its wisdom, voted for the tax and established for the first time a transit accommodations tax. And what happened? The economy got better than it was at the time; more visitors came. And what happened to the hotel rooms? They went up. They went up and up, and then the Japan bubble came and more high end resorts—Wailea, Four Seasons—were built. And more people came and the tax became an afterthought.

"But if, in fact, as some have said this morning that people won't come, well that's what they said in 1985. But if they won't come, then it would suggest that we should be removing the tax. Then they'll come? I don't think so. Let's be clear. I don't think so. The global economy is in a financial crisis. That's why they're not coming. If you, like me, have been receiving e-mails on the resolution with relationship to Islam, the people who say they're not coming aren't saying because you're raising the tax; it's because of the resolution. The reality is all of us know that we're a one-industry state. That's the same argument made 25 years ago and that hasn't changed, has it? The only thing that's changed is other destination resorts have opened and proliferated at our expense. That's not rocket science; that's reality.

"So I'm sure Borreca and Burris, since they're still writing—I think Kresnik may be retired, I have no idea where Mark Matsunaga is—I'm sure if they go in the archival articles, they will see that many of the arguments that have been made this morning haven't changed since 1985. And in fact the more things change, the more things stay the same. No one likes to raise taxes, but let's face it. Let's be real. If you're going to raise the tax, the visitor industry is a less bitter pill to swallow than a tax on local people. I will vote to override. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Roll Call vote having been requested, the veto of S.B. No. 1111, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," was overridden by not less than two-thirds vote of all members to which the Senate is entitled, on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 19. Noes, 6 (Baker, Bunda, Fukunaga, Green, Hemmings, Slom).

Gov. Msg. No. 675, dated May 7, 2009, transmitting the Governor's statement of objections to House Bill No. 1741, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE CONVEYANCE TAX," which was returned to the Senate without approval and which reads as follows:

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

May 7, 2009

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 1741

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fifth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1741, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to the Conveyance Tax.'

The purpose of House Bill No. 1741 is to increase the rate of the conveyance tax on all transfers or conveyances of properties with a value of $1,000,000 or more. This bill also reduces from July 1, 2009 to June 30, 2012, the distribution of conveyance tax moneys into the Rental Housing Trust Fund and the Natural Area Reserve Fund.

This bill is objectionable because it would discourage investments, adversely impact land transactions to promote business and housing development, and further slow our economic recovery by extracting money out of the pockets of families and businesses.

In the first quarter of 2009, sales of single family homes were down 35 percent compared to the first quarter of 2008. March 2009 was the 9th consecutive month of double-digit increases in Hawaii's foreclosure rate. Reversing these trends cannot be achieved by adding to the tax burden. Economic recovery depends on encouraging capital investment, yet this bill does the opposite.

Although there is the perception that only the wealthy will be impacted by this bill, the reality is this bill increases the conveyance tax by over 230 percent on purchases of commercial, industrial, and agricultural properties.

Legislators fail to recognize that the sale or purchase of non-residential property means properties are being conveyed that will provide space for a business, house the production of goods or services for consumers, and provide a site for employment of our residents.

What is equally unfortunate is the conveyance tax increase will also adversely impact affordable housing projects and non-profit organizations, including churches, schools, and youth organizations. For example, an affordable housing project like Kukui Gardens on Oahu, which sold for $72 million, would pay $504,000 or over half a million dollars more in conveyance taxes if this bill became law.

Even religious or non-profit organizations that are recipients of donated property would have to pay the higher conveyance tax rates on the property donation. Further, kamaaina landowners who are transferring larger properties for agricultural farms, housing development, and environmental programs would also be adversely impacted, if not discouraged, from doing the right thing when they are faced with tax payments 230 percent higher than current levels.

Whether it is the non-residential property that will house a business producing goods and services for consumers or a charity providing much-needed services in the community, this conveyance tax increase ultimately impacts everyone.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 1741 without my approval.

Respectfully,

/s/ Linda Lingle
LINDA LINGLE
Governor of Hawaii,"

was placed on file.

In accordance with Article III, Section 17 of the Hawai'i State Constitution, Senator Hooser moved that the Senate override the veto of H.B. No. 1741, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, as contained in Gov. Msg. No. 675, seconded by Senator Sakamoto.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the motion to override and stated:

"You know, the conveyance tax is one of those taxes that's kind of slipped under the radar. We've raised it four times in the last six or seven years. And people say, 'Well, it doesn't really add that much.' It's just like all of the arguments that you make. It only adds a few cents or a dollar, or a couple dollars, to a transaction. And again, remember that the conveyance tax is for the purchase, for the sale, for recordation of leases. That's what it was originally for; now it is a revenue stream. And this latest increase will affect not just the wealthy, but it will affect people that invest. And as the Governor pointed out in her veto message and yesterday, non-profits are not exempt from this. And so if you have apartment buildings or affordable housing—or the example that she gave, Kukui Plaza, which was estimated at $70 million—if the law had been in effect, the conveyance tax on that conveyance would be over half a million dollars, over $500,000. So, when we look at this as: (a) not being very much—it is; (b) it's only affecting the wealthy... Again, and that seems to be the theme of everything this session has done—separate out people that we like to call 'the wealthy' and then hammer them. This is going to affect a lot of people. And again, one of the things that will help us in overcoming our economic malaise will be the economic stimulation of private investment funds, not government funds that are ethereal and will evaporate in one or two years. It's measures like this that will, in fact, deter people from investing. Thank you."

Senator Kokubun rose to speak in support of the motion to override and stated:

"Members, let us not lose sight of the purposes of this measure, which relates directly to our quality of life. Clearly, the purposes for which it is intended are issues that are dear to the hearts of all of us who live here in Hawai'i. First, it recognizes that our land is a finite resource and that we need to protect it, and we need to preserve legacy lands in the public domain; as well as to be sure that certain uses, such as agriculture, are maintained on these lands.

"The second most important aspect of this bill has to do with the preservation of our natural resources and the recognition that they are vital to our quality of life and to our cultural values. The programs that benefit from the Natural Area Reserve fund include our Watershed Partnership programs, which protect the sources of our fresh water and work in partnership with the private sector to provide maintenance and improvement. It also provides the funds to manage our Natural Area Reserves, which are critical areas in our state, duly recognized because of their value for either being habitat for endangered species or just as being very, very special areas that deserve this kind of acknowledgement and protection.

"The third benefit is the need to provide shelter for our residents who are most in need of housing. And this is really focusing on the rental housing trust fund and the development of rental housing that would benefit those who are in the lower to moderate income levels.

"I think these programs are essential for providing a bright future and a positive vision for Hawai'i, and there's a clear nexus between the Conveyance Tax and the beneficial purposes for which it is intended. So I would ask all my colleagues to support this motion to override the veto. Thank you."

Senator Hemmings rose to speak in opposition to the motion to override and stated:

"You know, we're raising taxes to help these laudable programs, but we also raided funds that support those programs, so it seems somewhat contradictory. Secondly, we do have to look at the larger picture of how much money, once again, is taken out of our economy that could be utilized to create more jobs and payroll and hire more people. You know, in this whole discussion this morning so far on these two bills, we've heard a lot about how responsible this budget is and how we've done such an equitable job in sharing the sacrifice that has to be made. And yesterday we did the grand thing of saving a couple million dollars by even reducing our salary; I think it was five percent or something like that. But I challenge you, Majority party, in this rhetorical question, and I'm hoping one of you can rise and enlighten me: What sacrifice has been made by government labor unions? How much pay cut have they given? In the budget, someone had the audacity to say, 'Oh, we laid off 11 people.' Well, those were exempt positions. But please, one of you please stand up and tell me. It's been suggested that if we had been equitable, we would've cut everybody's pay in the state that's collecting a check, including ours, by five percent. That would have preempted the need for these tax increases that we're voting on; that alone could have saved $160+ million a year. But I challenge you: Stand up and tell me what sacrifice this special interest group has made. This special interest group with the greatest fringe benefits of any public employees in most any state in the nation—including 14 days off a year, 21 paid holidays the minute they sign up, 21 days sick days without needing a doctor's notice, pay comparable or, in most parts by most people, categories better than their counterparts in private sector. And you're right; I'm not bashing them. Most of them—60, 70 percent of them—do a wonderful job. They're conscientious and hard working, just like the people in the DLNR that produced that wonderful recreational renaissance plan. I applaud them. They do a good job, but everybody else in this state that does a good job has all taken a hit. Please, please, one of you stand up. Defend what you're doing. Tell me what sacrifices they've made. And don't give me that lame excuse that you can't cut their budget because of collective bargaining. I checked with the Attorney General; we can do anything we want. We're the Legislature. We make the budgets, not the collective bargaining people. If we cut funding for jobs, that's what the collective bargainers have to work with, but we're doing just the opposite. We're fattening the coffers so this group can walk away without contributing. And these are good people, but you know what? So is everybody else that's sacrificing and making huge contributions. There are a lot of other good people. The people with the companies that have been laid off, that went bankrupt. Some of them we drove out of town or some of the policies of some people we drove out of town, like Superferry. Those were good people that worked for that company. The people who have taken pay cut across the board, who are working more and getting paid less—they're good people. We're all in this together. I challenge you: Please, please, someone stand up and tell me how this budget and these tax increases, how the sacrifices of public workers that are unionized have contributed to helping us in this time of plight for our state? And I would like to call for a Roll Call on this vote also, Madam President.” (The Chair so ordered.)

Senator Sakamoto rose in support of the motion to override and stated:

“My understanding is the Governor has, through the media, asked for furlough days for our public workers. One size fits all; one size furlough, everybody furlough. By the way, maybe $250 a month more in health benefits. I think the Governor has had opportunities to collective bargain several times; and if the previous speaker thinks we can collective bargain, then by all means, we’ll do that. I believe, Madam President, you can do a better job doing that than has transpired thus far, at least based on what we know and what the media has portrayed. But if furlough days amount to, say, two days a month is 10 percent of somebody’s pay, and if that somebody’s making $30,000 and that somebody says, ‘Well, tough beans. Furlough,’ now you have $27,000. I think for people in that pay category, that’s very difficult to survive a 10 percent pay cut. That’s a 6 foot hole. If a $100 million is 5 percent, perhaps that’s survivable. And I think the Governor has every opportunity, and I believe should work to agree with different public sector unions—the four of them, primarily—on how they can address the previous Senator’s question. I think that is to be rolled out by collective bargaining and not by us. So I respectfully don’t agree that we can set pay rates here. I believe there’s processes for dealing with that, and I hope in the next month that will be dealt with, but I don’t believe it should be one size fits all. I believe for those workers who are making $30,000, they shouldn’t have the same reduction as someone who perhaps is making $60,000 or $90,000 or $120,000 or $150,000. I believe there ought to be a thoughtful process on how to deal with different bargaining units but not the one size fits all approach. Not everybody should have a furlough and 5 percent or 7½ percent or 10 percent reductions. Not everybody should have to pay $200 a month more in health insurance. That’s not fair, especially for the workers on the bottom half of the pay range. Thank you very much.”

Senator Galuteria rose to speak in support of the motion to override and stated:

“My remarks will focus specifically on what the Governor asserts and what the fine Senator from Hawai‘i Kai refers to, with regard to this measure’s potential to adversely impact affordable housing projects like Kukui Gardens, which resides in District 12—the district that I represent—which sold for $72 million and how the conveyance tax would bring in half a million dollars more if it became law. I just want to point out to the Governor and to the good Senator that those conveyance taxes were waived. So, one can only surmise the type of wordsmithing going on with regard to examples of vast, adverse, impact on any projects with regard to this tax increase. Thank you, Madam Chair.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Roll Call vote having been requested, the veto of H.B. No. 1741, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE CONVEYANCE TAX,” was overridden by not less than two-thirds vote of all members to which the Senate is entitled, on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Ayes with Reservations, 3 (Baker, Ige, Ihara). Noes, 4 (Bunda, Green, Hemmings, Slom).

At 11:32 a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 11:43 a.m.

Gov. Msg. No. 676, dated May 7, 2009, transmitting the Governor’s statement of objections to House Bill No. 1747, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION,” which was returned to the Senate without approval and which reads as follows:

“EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

May 7, 2009

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 1747

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fifth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1747, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to Taxation.’

The purposes of House Bill No. 1747 are to increase the State income tax rates for certain income brackets and revise the standard deduction and personal exemption. The bill amends Hawaii’s income tax law by (1) increasing the State income tax rates for income earners above a specified level for taxable years 2009 through 2015; (2) increasing the standard deduction amount and the allowable personal exemption amount, for taxable years 2011 through 2015; and (3) increasing the amount of the personal deduction by ten percent for the 2011 through 2015 tax period. The bill provides that no penalty or interest shall be imposed because of underpayment of taxes attributable to the increase in the tax rates. The bill also establishes a repeal (sunset) date of December 31, 2015.

This bill is objectionable because it increases the tax burden on Hawaii’s families and small businesses by increasing the marginal income tax rate by as much as 33.3 percent. Hawaii currently has the eighth highest top personal income tax rate in the United States. By increasing the top marginal tax rate from 8.25 to 11 percent, this bill will make Hawaii the state with the highest personal income tax rate in the nation. Although there is the misconception that only wealthy people will be affected, this bill will adversely impact almost 37,000 persons, of which about 27,000 are sole proprietors, partnerships, or subchapter “S” corporations whose owners report their business income through personal income tax returns.

In this broad recession which affects both the wealthy and poor and where recovery depends on people investing, buying consumer goods, and donating to charities, a tax increase will put an unnecessary strain on everyone’s pocket book. Small business owners who count their business income as personal income will find it more difficult to support and grow their enterprises. This could mean more business closures, layoffs, and fewer job opportunities.

Furthermore, these tax increases will make it more difficult to attract high caliber talent to Hawaii—professions such as psychiatrists, neurosurgeons, astronomers, or engineers—who earn higher salaries and who will be deterred by our high taxes as well as our high cost of living. In an economy in serious need of top quality talent and a kick start, this is a bad idea that is not worth the revenue impact this bill is expected to produce.

During these difficult economic times, when we need to take action to support our families and businesses, we should not be taking actions to balance the State budget at the expense of the taxpayers.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 1747 without my approval.

Respectfully,

/s/ Linda Lingle
LINDA LINGLE
Governor of Hawaii,”

In accordance with Article III, Section 17 of the Hawai‘i State Constitution, Senator Hooser moved that the Senate override the veto of H.B. No. 1747, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, as contained in Gov. Msg. No. 676, seconded by Senator Sakamoto.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the motion to override and stated:

“You know of all the bills that we’ve talked about—tax increases and those that didn’t go through this year—this bill probably has been the one that has had the most erroneous information. It’s been maligned. In fact, I recall hearing the Speaker of the House saying, ‘Well, it’s a tax on the rich people of Kahala and they can afford to pay it.’ In fact, this is not a tax on the rich people of Kahala. This is a tax on many thousands of people, particularly small business people, who, like I as a sole proprietor, file my income on my income tax, thus increasing the gross income that I report. What this tax rate does is increase the rates from 8.25 percent currently to a high of 11 percent, which would then place us squarely on top of the highest tax rate in the United States, surpassing California, which has the top rate of 8.55 percent. Those small businesses and others who add gross amounts to their personal income tax are the ones that are going to be penalized.

“Two things about the bill: It says it’s going to sunset in 2015. Well, we understand how sunset works here; it doesn’t work, particularly if it’s an increase in revenues, fees or taxes. We don’t repeal them. We just extend the sunset. Secondly, there are two good provisions in the bill which my colleague and I have advocated for years, and that is an expansion of the standard deduction and an increase in the personal exemption. I’ve talked about this several times, even yesterday, about how we have the lowest personal exemption in the United States. What this bill does is raise the standard exemption and that’s good. It increases the personal exemption by a paltry 10 percent, but I guess 10 percent is better than nothing. The only problem is this tax would go into effect and apply to incomes filed and generated during 2009, and the standard deduction and the personal exemption would not go into effect until 2011. So it is a bill that’s going to have a tremendous impact.

“Again, you know, for my colleagues that say that this particular bill is only this amount, and this particular bill is only this amount, they all add up and pretty soon they don’t spell ‘mother’. And particularly hard hit are the small businesses in our community, and this is just one more step to penalizing them. Thank you.”

Senator Hemmings rose to speak in opposition to the motion to override and stated:

“Sometimes we get so caught up on our perspective of life and our day-to-day events, we don’t realize that debates like this have been going on for thousands of years. Earlier in the session, I read a quote from Cicero from 55 B.C. about him worrying about the Roman Empire spending and taxing its way into problems. We’re very fortunate that we do have history to look at. More importantly, we have a neighbor to look at: California. And we can look at what they have done and the results it has produced, including some of the alternatives that they have not enacted to balance their economy.

“One of the great intellects of the country writes for the Washington Post; his name is George Will. I’d like to read some excerpts from an article that appeared just recently: ‘Liberal orthodoxy has made the state dependent,’—and this is California and it could be Hawai‘i—‘on a volatile source of revenues—high income tax rates on the wealthy. In 2006, the top 1 percent of earners paid 48 percent of the incomes taxes. California’s income and sales taxes are among the nation’s highest and its business conditions among the worst, as measured by 16 variables directly influenced by the Legislature. Unemployment, the nation’s fourth-highest, is 11.2 percent. Required by law to balance the budget, the Legislature has ‘solved’ the problem by, among other things, increasing the income, sales, gas and vehicle taxes.’ Sounds familiar. He goes on his article and he writes about some of the solutions that could have been enacted to avoid this crisis, and you’ve heard about those things on the floor of this Legislature for the last nine years that I’ve been here. He writes: ‘If, since 1990, [California] state spending increases had been held to the inflation rate plus population growth,’—in other words, if their spending increases government had mirrored the growth of the economy—‘the state would have had a $15 billion surplus instead of a $42 billion deficit.’ But let’s look at the results that he writes about because these are statistics that could be heckled here: ‘For four consecutive years, more Americans have moved out of California than have moved in. California’s business costs are more than 20 percent higher than the average state’s. In the past decade, net out-migration of Americans has been 1.4 million. California is exporting talent while importing Mexico’s poverty.’ Does this all sound familiar? Well this bill, along with its companions, is another step in this direction that California took, and you know they’re bankrupt. I would suggest that we should learn the lessons from others’ mistakes, because business as usual—raising taxes and constricting our economy with these confiscatory policies—will take us down the road of California. I would urge my colleagues to vote ‘no’. Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Sakamoto rose to speak in support of the motion to override with reservations and stated:

“I agree with the speaker, the Senator from Hawai‘i Kai, for the business portion of it. For partnerships and certain limited liability corporation partnerships, when they do earn money, if they are taxed on this schedule. In fact if they had left the money in the company versus taking it out to buy goods or taking it out to invest elsewhere—it might be detrimental in the long run. So I would be in favor of moving this forward, but I would hope the Tax Department and knowledgeable people can determine to what extent a partner is taking the money out. Therefore let’s tax them—versus attempting to leave the money in, but being taxed on it because of their business structure. I think we should see if there’s a way to save them from paying the tax if indeed they’re leaving the money in the company, and brighter minds need to look at that. Thank you very much.”

Senator Hooser rose to speak in support of the motion to override and stated:

“You know, it’s been said earlier, it’s not easy, it’s not something that we seek, to raise taxes but it’s something that’s necessary. It’s one of the choices being made to balance this budget. You know one of my very, very closest friends called me a few days ago and asking, ‘Please do not raise these taxes.’ And I explained to him as best I could the situation, and he wasn’t happy. He’s not going to be happy. Another friend called about the high tech tax credits, Act 221; he’s not going to be happy either. I have friends calling about relatives and neighbors with mental health issues, who are concerned about the services that they were getting that are being cut. Friends that are concerned about cervical cancer. People I know that do not leave their homes to go outside their homes to look for a job or to meet with friends because they can't afford proper dental care. Others with severe disabilities who no longer have a companion to take them shopping or take them to the movies because of the budget cuts. I've talked to ranchers who are concerned about the cut to invasive species, worried about their pasture land.

"Again, it's a question of choices, and this was a difficult choice but I believe it's a choice that reflects our philosophy on the Majority side that all will need to share. We are all in this together. The Minority and the executive branch consistently reflect it's every man for himself or every woman for themselves. I believe our philosophy is different. The Minority, the executive branch, consistently bash public workers, bash public education. All government is bad and all tax increases are bad—the Sean Hannity, Karl Rove, Rush Limbaugh, Sarah Palin, Fox News perspective of the world. I would encourage them to change the channel. We're all in this together, Madam President. We all need to share a little bit. For that reason I encourage all members to vote in support of the override. Thank you."

Senator Hemmings rose in rebuttal and said:

"I'm flabbergasted by the self-serving, contradictory rhetoric this morning. We have one Senator stand up and say, 'Let's pass a conveyance tax because it's because it's going to help the environment,' while that same bill cuts funding to the very programs, including affordable housing. Then we have another Senator stand up and say, 'We all have to share.' And I agree. And I rather resent by innuendo of being accused of bashing public employees. I've said every time I've brought up this issue that most public employees are good, hard-working people. But I ask again, in the face of the contradictory rhetoric in class warfare tax policies: How are the public workers sharing? Please, please tell me. What cut have they taken? What sacrifice have they made?"

"And speaking of class warfare, it's absolutely incredulous, once again, about the sacrifice that everybody's making and how we're going to tax the rich when the facts are—and you know it—that because of our insidious excise tax and our tax on food and sometimes the tax we levy on people who are sick, that we are the most regressive state in the nation for taxing the poor. How dare you try to imply how wonderful you all are in the Majority party because you're just taxing the rich, because you're taxing the poor even more. And the point is, in any good society we do need a certain amount of taxes—no one denies that—but we also have to have a balanced economy that encourages growth and not dependency. And you're right: There is a philosophical difference, and what you see is what you get. What you see in California, we will get in Hawai'i.

"But please, please, stand up, one of you. Tell me how the public workers are sharing, and don't give me that lame excuse once again that it's up to collective bargaining. It's not. If we don't put the money in the budget, it's not there to bargain for. And I know for a fact since I've been in this Senate that every collective bargaining year you guys all fatten the calf by raiding funds to put it in the general fund for collective bargainers to say, 'Hey, we can give 5, 6 percent pay increase', and they don't have to strike because they get the luxury of going to binding arbitration, so we'll just fatten the coffers. You guys were even going to close a whole department one year—DCCA—one-time slug of money. 'Ah, they got enough money. Give them what they want.'

"Raiding funds: You want to talk about raiding funds? One year, you took all the money for human service programs and put it in a bill and held it hostage—human services—so you could raid funds, and took it off the books. I know what's going on here and so does the public. They're finally catching up with you.

"So don't give us this self-righteous, Majority party's here taxing the rich guys and we care for the little guy and we all got to share, because that's shibai. You're taxing everybody, and you tax the poor the most. Fact. And there's a special interest group that takes 70 percent of what the state's spending that's not sharing one cent in the sacrifices we all have to make. I don't mind open and honest debate, and I appreciate, Madam President, that it's open. At least you still allow us to have open debate, because I think there's some in your caucus would just as soon not have that. But let's also be honest. I'm voting 'no'."

Senator Nishihara rose to speak in support of the motion to override with reservations and said:

"I'll be voting 'with reservations' because I concur with the comments and concerns raised by the good Senator from Moanalua. Thank you."

Senator Hooser rose and said:

"Madam President, the Minority Leader's remarks..."

The Chair interjected:

"For what purpose do you rise?"

Senator Hooser responded:

"I rise in rebuttal and in support of the override. I would be remiss if on the last day of the session I did not address some of the misstatements stated no doubt in the emotional fervor of the moment. I'm not sure if it was the 'change the channel comment', that I didn't mean to rile up the good Senator.

"You know, there was talk about 'let's be honest, let's talk about contradictory, let's talk about shibai.' You know, we're here balancing a state budget brought on by world events, national events, national economy—problems, in large part, that we have no control over. And this tax increase, which is reluctant and which does have a sunset, is one small part of a package that involves cuts, tax credit reductions, fund transfers, and tax increases. It's not about just beating up on the rich.

"But I think I would be remiss if we did not point out that we were here today also because of the constitutional mandate, because it's our responsibility, and because the executive branch and the Minority party has not done their job over the last six years. The Minority party, the executive branch, has been in charge of this government, at the head of this government for the last six years, and I have seen nothing at all that they've done to streamline government, to modernize government, to transform the way government works, to cut the fat. No, none of the promises of the so-called 'new beginning' have I seen. Actually, I've seen the legislative branch take the initiative in the Department of Business and Economic Development, the Bureau of Conveyances, and trying our best with the public housing situation. But the executive branch and the Minority party have done nothing, and there's plenty they could do without legislative authority. So I think we should tell it like it is. We've seen nothing in the way of streamlining, modernizing, cutting government from the executive branch. All we've seen is grand announcements. We're going to buy Turtle Bay. We're going to have an innovation economy. We're going to have new harbors, new highways, new recreation. Well, that sounds like tax and spend to me. Let's raise the fees on harbors, highways and recreation, and spend money. I didn't hear of a health care renaissance. No, it's tax and spend. For six years, nothing except press conferences, grand announcements, while the Legislature's done the heavy lifting. We're here today, unfortunately, because of a combination of situations. We're here raising taxes we don't want to raise. We're here cutting budgets, reducing services that we don't want to do. We're here in spite of the inaction of the executive branch and we've done the heavy lifting, and we need to override the veto. Thank you, Madam President."

No. 1747, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," was overridden by not less than two-thirds vote of all members to which the Senate is entitled, on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

May 7, 2009

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 895

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fifth Legislature
State of Hawai'i

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 895, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Tax on Tobacco Products Other Than Cigarettes.'

The purpose of this bill is to increase the tax rate on tobacco products other than cigarettes, including smokeless tobacco, snuff, cigars, and pipe tobacco.

This bill is objectionable because it contains major technical flaws that defeat the purpose of the legislation and will make it virtually impossible to implement. First, this bill temporarily suspends the current 40 percent tax on all tobacco products other than cigarettes. Although this error may have been unintentional, it will, in effect, create a tax holiday for many tobacco products from the date the bill becomes law until September 29, 2009. This provision runs counter to the stated purpose of the bill and represents a major flaw that cannot be overlooked.

Second, provisions in this bill cannot be reconciled with existing statutes and proposed legislation to increase the tax on cigarettes. The bill sought to tax "little cigars" at a rate comparable to the cigarette tax rate and set forth the cigarette tax rate of 11 cents as of October 1, 2009, 12 cents on September 30, 2010, and 13 cents on September 30, 2011. However, this language would lower the cigarette tax rate, which is supposed to go into effect on July 1, 2010 from 14 cents per cigarette to 12 cents per cigarette on September 30, 2010. Similarly, the bill would lower the cigarette tax rate that would go into effect on July 1, 2011 from 15 cents per cigarette to 13 cents per cigarette on September 30, 2011. It is questionable what the actual intent of the Legislature is and whether the Legislative Reference Bureau can properly reconcile these matters when codifying these provisions into statutes.

Finally, most retailers and manufacturers nationwide recognize a difference between large and small cigars and are accustomed to labeling them accordingly. This bill creates a new category of cigars, which would require Hawaii retailers to establish a different labeling system in order to calculate the correct tax. The tax is to be imposed based on the ring gauge size of the cigar. However, manufacturers and retailers are not required to identify the ring gauge of their product and the federally established labeling requirements on these products do not require that the size be listed. Further, the federal Bureau of Tobacco and Firearms uses weight rather than ring gauge for the purposes of determining the federal tax on these types of tobacco products. Thus, to impose the tax, the Hawaii Department of Taxation would have to measure the size of cigars themselves or require wholesalers or distributors to do so. This would be extremely burdensome for Hawaii wholesalers and retailers and may prove impossible to enforce.

My position against smoking and the encouragement of healthy lifestyles remains steadfast. Unfortunately, the technical flaws in this bill defeat its stated purpose to lower the usage of certain types of tobacco products.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 895 without my approval.

Respectfully,

/s/ Linda Lingle

In accordance with Article III, Section 17 of the Hawai'i State Constitution, Senator Hooser moved that the Senate override the veto of H.B. No. 895, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, as contained in Gov. Msg. No. 677, seconded by Senator Sakamoto.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the motion to override and stated:

"This is really interesting for me; I think it's a paradoxical thing, as the Minority leader said yesterday. The Governor vetoed this bill because of technical flaws in the bill, and she points out that the legal analysis of the bill shows there was no clear intent in this bill that the current wholesale tax of 40 percent on other than cigarette tobacco products continue until date, I guess the end of September; and so it is her feeling that that 40 percent tax is going to be, I guess, a cessation. It will not be in effect as of today through September 29. She also points out that there is a problem with the definition of 'little cigars' and that impacts your recent increase on cigarettes; that in fact the unintended consequence will be that the tax on cigarettes will actually be reduced because of the unclear language here. As you know, I voted 'no' against this bill because I think it was a bad bill to increase the taxes, pure and simple. There was one thing though, that in the governor's message we both agreed on, and that is that the definition which was created in this bill of a 'little cigar' is a new definition, which is not used locally or nationally or by the Bureau of Tobacco and Firearms. In fact, they use a distinction of weight to distinguish between cigars for taxation purposes, and every retailer and wholesaler across the country and locally uses this same definition. The technical flaw here is that in creating a new type of cigar, then someone is going to have to follow up on this. Now I don't know how many staff they have in the Department of Taxation, but either they're going to have to go and measure the circumference of every cigar that's being smoked or they're going to put an additional burden on retailers and wholesalers to make them do it, because as I say, it's not standard issue. So even though we disagree on the reasons for the veto, I still will sustain her veto. Aloha."

Senator Baker rose and said:

"I rise in support of this measure albeit with some reservations because there are some technical flaws in this measure. However..."

The Chair interjected:

“Senator Baker, you rise in support of the override?”

Senator Baker responded:

“I rise in support of the override. Sorry. There are some technical issues with this measure, however some of them, I believe, based on a measure that we passed a number years ago with supposedly similar flaws will not jeopardize the measure's implementation. The updated policy on the cigarette tax has been established by a measure the Governor has already signed and is actually the prevailing policy. I believe the reviser of statutes can do with this measure what was done with an earlier cigarette tax measure and make sure that all of the sections align.

“The bigger trouble, of course, is the supposed drafting error that would appear to give a tax holiday for other tobacco products. I'm hoping that we can come back and fix that, assuming that we come back for anything else in the special session. It's unfortunate that this wasn't caught before it came to this point. I'm hoping, however, that perhaps I am misreading the language and the tax department and AG will work diligently to ensure that these revenues continue to be collected. I do know that the tax enforcement section in the attorney general's office looks at all matters relating to conformity for retailers, wholesalers, and others to comply with all laws regarding the collection of all appropriate taxes on tobacco. So I'm looking to them for some assistance in this area.

“With regard to the question raised about the definition for ‘little cigar’: It's actually an amalgam of two definitions as I recall from the federal government, one in a federal tax act and another in one of the other acts that Congress passed. So, there really shouldn't be any difficulty for retailers, wholesalers, or others knowing how to price and tax appropriately ‘little cigars’. And so, I will be voting in favor of this measure wishing that we had drafted a bill with more clarity but I think the underlying policy is a good one, and I'm confident that we can fix any of the technical issues that surround it. Thank you, Madam President.”

At 12:13 p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:14 p.m.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Roll Call vote having been requested, the veto of H.B. No. 895, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAX ON TOBACCO PRODUCTS OTHER THAN CIGARETTES,” was overridden by not less than two-thirds vote of all members to which the Senate is entitled, on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Gov. Msg. No. 678, informing the Senate that on May 7, 2009, the Governor allowed the following measure to become law without signature, which reads as follows:

Senate Bill No. 521, S.D. 2, H.D. 1 as Act 57, entitled: “RELATING TO REAL PROPERTY.”

“Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: Senate Bill No. 521 SD2 HD1

On May 7, 2009, Senate Bill No. 521, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to Real Property’ became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

This bill would require the registrar's office within the Bureau of Conveyances to provide within ten days after the end of each week an image and index of all instruments and documents recorded during the week to a county designated as a central clearinghouse. Further, the registrar is prohibited from charging for the information and the bill prescribes the seven specific pieces of information the Bureau of Conveyances must provide and the manner in which the information must be delivered.

Currently the Bureau of Conveyances already provides to several entities on a daily basis in electronic format data on all of the transactions that have occurred in the registrar's office for the previous day. At least one county, the City and County of Honolulu, has the ability to extract from this data the information needed by all counties for real property assessment purposes. However, the City and County of Honolulu instead relies on a third party to provide their real property assessment information. This bill would unnecessarily shift this burden to the Bureau of Conveyances and require that they provide this data within a statutorily set deadline, regardless of the impact on their other duties.

Further, this bill prescribes the exact data that must be provided, making it difficult, without changing the law, to revamp the format or type of information the counties may require. Additionally, this bill restricts the State from charging the county for the work involved in providing the information every week. While the State does not currently charge for the electronic data they provide to third parties on a daily basis, we should not be precluded from considering charges at a future time when it may be warranted.

The State remains receptive to entering into written agreements with the counties to ensure that the counties receive the data they need in a manner that best fits their individual requirements.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed Senate Bill No. 521 to become law as Act 57, effective May 7, 2009, without my signature.

Respectfully,

/s/ Linda Lingle

At 12:16 p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:17 p.m.

Senator Kim rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

"Madam President, about a month ago your Ways and Means Committee and the Committee on Transportation and International Affairs held a public hearing on a resolution to audit the Department of Transportation. During that hearing, the committees learned that DOT had a $1.5 million contract for an AVI system called the 'Automated Vehicle Identification' system at the Honolulu International Airport that was nine years old, and as of that meeting in April, the system was not operational. They did tell us that the state had not paid the contractor and that the contractor had put up a surety bond in the amount of $1,495,000. However upon reviewing the contract documents that I requested from DOT, the documents show that the representative from DOT did not tell us the truth. Records show that the state indeed had paid the contractor $1.2 million of the contract. Airport officials also assured the Committee and legislators that the contract had until April 30—which has passed—to install the operational system.

"Well, a few days ago I received a letter from DOT signed by Brian Sekiguchi, the Deputy Director of Airports, of which I sent copies to the committee members, and I will read you what he wrote: 'Dear Chair Kim: This is to inform you that on April 30, 2009, the Oahu district staff met with Mr. Thomas N. Terayama, President of Ted's Wiring Service, and determined that his company did not meet the established deadline of April 30, 2009, to install and have operational the automated vehicle identification system at the Honolulu International Airport pursuant to the contractor requirements under Project No. AO1112-23. We have initiated default proceedings to remit the surety bond in the amount of $1.4 million to the Department of Transportation, State of Hawai'i. Sincerely, Brian Sekiguchi.'

"But hold on. This morning, I learned that there may be a kink in this: That I'm now being told that while the deputy director and the director of DOT believed that April 30th was the deadline for this 9-year old contract, the district head or division head or airport head—I'm really not sure who, someone who oversees the contract—had supposedly given the contractor another extension. It seems that the right hand does not know what the left hand is doing, and this was very evident in the committee hearing among the DOT representatives at the hearing. But now we learn that it's also happening with the department directors who are also aware of what is going on. This is certainly something that I believe the Legislature must correct and we must demand accountability, and you can rest assured that the Committee on Ways and Means will be holding a follow-up hearing to get to the bottom of this fiasco shortly. Thank you.”

Senator Hee rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

“Several days ago, I had spoken about the three finalists for Kamehameha Schools trustee, one being a former Democrat appointee to the Department of Hawaiian Homelands, one being the present head of HCDA and previously was head of the Land Use Commission, and then the other being astonishingly enough a sitting member of the Governor’s cabinet. Well, not to be undone by the Governor’s cabinet member, I recall that at the time I said that what was astounding to me was that Randy Roth, the co-author of the 2006 Broken Trust, had said that both Soon and Kane are excellent candidates and added that Kane, whom he worked with in the Lingle Administration—presumably when Kane was the head of the Republican party—has done an impressive job at the Department of Home Lands and would be ‘a terrific trustee.’ And I had said that well, evidently, Professor Roth believes in the school of ‘do as I say, not as I do.’

“Not to be undone by what evidently is the short list of 68 candidates for Kamehameha Schools, the University of Hawai‘i presently is undergoing a search for its own president, and one of the finalists—and again it’s a gang of three like Kamehameha Schools—one of the finalists is a woman named M.R.C. Greenwood. In the San Francisco Chronicle dated Saturday, November 5, 2005, there was an article that the University of California second-in-command Provost M.R.C. Greenwood abruptly resigned because of an investigation regarding the possibility of impropriety in Greenwood’s decision to promote her friend, UC Santa Cruz Vice Provost Lynda Goff, to jobs at UC headquarters in Oakland. And that in addition to a salary carrying $192,100 and in addition to being friends, Greenwood and Goff evidently owned rental property together in Davis, California, at the time. They’re also looking into one of Greenwood’s subordinates, an individual named Winston Doby, whether he did anything improper to help Greenwood’s son, James Greenwood, land a job in August as a paid senior intern at UC’s new campus in Merced. But they said, this article indicated that it was—at least at the time of publication—a mere investigation. It did end by saying that this is not the first time Greenwood has faced controversy. Some regents objected last year when she was hired as Provost at a salary of $380,000, nearly $100,000 more than her predecessor; and that at the time she needed a higher salary to cover the cost of buying a home near UC headquarters in downtown Oakland and that UC gave her a $125,000 relocation incentive to move 70 miles from Santa Cruz to Oakland, in addition to $17,950 for temporary housing and another $9,527 for moving expenses, and a low-interest loan to buy a condominium in Oakland. Well, on January 9, 2006, the investigation of Greenwood’s hiring of Lynda Goff was concluded, and the conclusion was that former UC Provost M.R.C. Greenwood, one of three finalists for the president’s office at the University of Hawai‘i system, had indeed violated the university policies regarding conflict of interest. I wonder where the citizen’s panel was when these articles were published. Or maybe, like I said with regard to the Kamehameha Schools trustees search, at least with two of them, you needed to reach up to touch bottom. Dr. Greenwood evidently violated university conflicts policy when she offered Dr. Goff’s successive appointments in the Office of President and failed to disclose this fact to general counsel. The article further went on to indicate that her son, James Greenwood, is at the center of another hiring controversy. Evidently, the University of California senior officials had concluded, with the University of California Office of the University Auditor, in a report that this matter does not appear to have been the subject of extensive critical thinking about the possible perceptions regarding the propriety of hiring the provost’s son. I’m going to stop there because I think it says it all. If the previous president ran into problems at the university system, can you imagine now knowing what at least the Senate knows about one of three finalists? This is the State of Hawai‘i and this is the situation in Hawai‘i, given short committees and in the case of the Kamehameha Schools trustee, the probate court and the author of Broken Trust. Only time will tell. In 30 days, probate court will decide which of the three is the anointed one, and only time will tell on the fate of M.R.C. Greenwood. But can’t you just wait for the other two of the three on the short list for the University of Hawai‘i presidential search? Thank you, Madam President.”

Senator Takamine rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

“Madam President, I guess being a member of the freshman class, this is the first time I get a chance to exercise this mechanism of point of personal privilege. We never had such a mechanism in the House; and for the first exercise of it, I’d like to express my appreciation to you, Madam President, and certainly to all of my colleagues because I think this has been a very educational session for me. I guess as the good Education Chair has indicated, learning is a continuing process, and I think there was a lot of confirmation of that for me this session. Certainly the scope of the challenges that we face as a Legislature, or as the Senate body, was daunting, but I found this experience very invigorating. Thank you very much.”

The Chair made the following announcement:

“The Chair has a few comments, and I’m going to make it short because I was going to pass until I received an e-mail from a staffer from one of the good Senators. And this person felt compelled to write because he felt that we are not acknowledging what he considers to be the extraordinary work that our Data Systems has provided. He called upon his own experience in the federal government and compared it and said that they were absolutely extraordinary, and I think that we have, not intentionally, but we do tend to ignore our permanent support staff. So I’d like to take this opportunity, on behalf of all the Senators, to thank the permanent support staff. In this particular situation, he asked us to, of course, single out the Data Systems, but I think we also must thank the Clerk’s office, Sergeant-At-Arms, as well as the Print Shop—which we have converted, and they’ve done a great job of converting—and of course our Journal, and all the other support staffs that come with them.

“I think we also should look back at this time and think about what we went through. This is probably one of the most difficult sessions that anyone has had to go through in recent times; and when you think about it, it’s because we were really just strapped by the economic situations and how it would affect the budget. And we do know Ways and Means Chair Donna Kim has had an extremely difficult time in many situations passing bills that I know personally just tugged at her to even do, but realizing that we had to balance that budget. But when you look at what we started with, and I went back and I rarely do this, but I went back and looked at the opening day remarks. One of the things we said we would propose was an unemployment insurance fund to be used in the short term to keep employees as part of your workforce; and thanks to Senator Takamine we did accomplish that. There is a bill that does exactly that.

“We did say we’d examine tax credits to ensure that they’re performing and enhancing the economy as they should. This may have been controversial for some, but there is a bill that, in fact, did that. And though we may have had vigorous debate on whether it should have taken the form that it did, nonetheless we did not shy away from actually addressing it and coming up with a resolution.

“We did follow the national trend in adopting the streamlined sales tax, and I was very pleased, after the many discussions that we’ve had, to be able to tell Senator Fukunaga that the House actually attributed $10 million in the budget to streamline tax. And I’m sure it took a lot for them to do that, but they did do it and it is something that we had pointed out.

“We did say we would examine the executive, judicial, legislative pay, and that bill also passed. And I know that that caused my good friend Senator Taniguchi a lot of consternation, but he did do it, even if it was something that we went back and forth on.

“And we do know that there was a sense of betrayal that many of our Native Hawaiian community felt over the Supreme Court case that went up, came back 9-0; and under the leadership of Senator Hee we came up with the resolution. The Senate position is SB1677, and we all know that what has happened there is what is going to result with the complete settlement of that matter between OHA, three of the four plaintiffs, and the State of Hawai‘i. And it will be a dismissal without prejudice, which to me is a very critical element of that; and it also incorporates a position of the Senate that we took about two years ago, which is that a two-thirds affirmative vote would be necessary before any of the public lands would be sold, and it was enhanced with the fact that of course even transfers would fall into the category of requiring notification to Office of Hawaiian Affairs before any of it takes place.

“We had concerns about the health systems, and you know we must give much credit to Senator Ige for his leadership in this area, and I know Senator Ige has shared that with the neighbor island Senators. I was privy to many of their meetings, and they met over the interim and even through this session to try and fix HHSC, and I think the bill that they came up with was extraordinary in the sense that at every turn we always wondered whether or not we would have something. But it’s, I think, Senator Ige’s personality and his ability to work with everyone that resulted with that—even the House, his ability to convince the House.

“But we also must thank Senator Ige for a more important task, and that was that in addition to everything else that he had to do, he did do what we asked him as our Majority technology leader. We went successfully through this session paperless, and I think that without his knowledge of how these things, these computers work, how it interfaces, and I believe with the support of Data Systems, we were able to do this. And I also think many of you Senators should thank your staff members as I also thank the Clerk’s office when they went out of their way to help us make it work. They gave their time and sat with Senator Ige and their little group—we could call it a task force—and provided the input and made it all work. So I believe that when the rest of the nation looks upon what we did, it will be in line with that award that Senator Ige managed to secure for us from the NCSL when it comes to being extremely progressive in how we handle this thing called paper.

“We had asked, remember early on, and we said we would pass a resolution and we did and that was for the FMAP, and the FMAP has been an integral part of the balancing of our budget.

“We did, under the leadership of the new Energy Chair, Senator Gabbard, we did look at all the energy issues, and I believe that even in these difficult times we have passed those bills which many of the technology stakeholders were pleased with and staying with us until the wee hours.

“And of course, there’s always been the issue of the preservation of agriculture and how we would face that. In terms of our state lands, I believe that we’ve managed to protect them from being lost, but we still need to revisit next session with that interesting bill between Senator Hee and Senator Bunda about the preservation of lands in perpetuity—well, actually it was about a hundred years—in agricultural use.

“But those are the things that we as a Senate set forth as we set out for this legislative session, and I think when you look at it, I think though this session may be remembered for many things, I think we forget about the real things that we accomplished as well. I think the health systems merits major, major accolades because of what it means for the rural hospital systems as well as for the neighbor islands; the ability to balance the budget which is part of today’s override session as well. But more importantly than that, colleagues, I thank you as your President for a wonderful session. As strange as that may sound, the one thing that I look forward to at the end of the session is to think back and to make sure that whatever differences and trials and tribulations that we may have all gone through, that we are still smiling on this day and people are still speaking to each other. And I think that’s a major thing because what I think distinguishes the Senate from any other body is the fact that we are considered, for some reason, the older body—and maybe that may not be too far from the truth—but we’re also considered the wiser body, and I am proud to say that I believe that it is an adjective well-deserved by everyone in this room. And it has been an honor and a privilege to be a part of you and to sit with each and every one of you, so I thank you for that.

“At this time we would like to take a short recess to inform the House that the Senate is ready to adjourn sine die. Before I call ourselves out, please at least 13 of you come back. We can’t end this session, but recess subject to the call of the Chair.”

At 12:39 p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:48 p.m.

Senator Slom rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

“I do apologize; I was told that I was not aggressive enough earlier to get your attention, you know. Let me say on behalf of the Minority—and I know you were thanking everybody but you forgot to thank the Minority, and I know that was just an oversight that you really wanted to thank your Minority because without the Minority there would not be half the levity and all of that.

“I just wanted to say a few words. You know, it’s kind of interesting coming to work every day when you’re outnumbered eleven and a half to one. When you introduce bills and they’re not even heard in session, but yet, yet, you have respect for your colleagues, you enjoy the Senate, and as Senator Takamine knows and as he said, ‘There’s a big difference between that body over there and this one here.’ We do have more lively debate and also, like herding cats, we have 25 individuals here. And from time to time, one never knows exactly how one is going to respond or vote, but as the President knows, your Minority generally supports the Majority bills 95 percent of the time. We have few bills that we disagree on, and we’re very passionate in our disagreement.

“I enjoy my colleagues, each and every one of them—particularly the ones that try to tell us how we should be and what we should watch on TV. By the way, for the Majority leader, good news for you. CNN called me today about the outrageous Islamic resolution that we passed, so I’ll watch CNN tonight.

“We have humor. We have investigation. The spritely Senator from Kalihi back there is the queen of investigations, and as you know, Republicans love to serve on investigative committees. And because it was done so professionally, I supported the recommendations of the Committee just as you, Madam Chair, earlier when we set the tone for Senate investigations with the Felix Committee. We had a bipartisan group from the House and the Senate, and I think we uncovered a great deal of information which has turned into helpful change and legislation.

“The good Senator from Kahaluu, when he’s not wearing his cowboy hat and riding, he’s always getting the lowdown for us on some lowdown people, and I appreciate that because I think it is important that we discuss things. And oftentimes I get a little frustrated, as you know Madam President, when you folks love to call a recess and go behind closed doors. You get the rubber hoses out, you get the good bento food, and then everybody comes out and they all vote ‘aye, aye, aye.’ I think we should have even more spirited discussions on the floor of the Senate, because it is to the benefit of the people of this state. They know where we’re coming from, and there are different positions that we elucidate.

“I, for one, am disappointed about the tax proposals that have been adopted, but we will see how this plays out and we will see what has to be done. I’m also, as you know, very suspicious about the federal funding. At best, we know that it’s only going to last one year or two years. And the problem is by putting back things into the budget, by creating additional positions and revenue sources, we’re going to be stuck because we’re going to have that permanent demand for expenditures over the years.

“But all in all, I think it has been a session that people will remember. They’ll remember it for different reasons, and I’m so excited that the good Senator from Kahaluu yesterday indicated that we will co-sponsor a full, total, and complete audit of OHA. We could do that after the session today, Senator, if you’d like. We can, you know, write it out. The only thing we were arguing about whether it’s going to be called the Hee-Slom or the Slom-Hee audit.

“But I think that the freshmen in our group this year, I think they accounted themselves very well. They added to our discussions. I think we probably had more people up the gallery than ever before, so I know that was a Majority trick to get people to come here and it worked. We have really tough issues, and in most cases there’s not easy answers. And so, on behalf of your loyal Minority, I want to thank you too, Madam President, particularly for the openness and allowing us free reign and free speech. We try not to take advantage of it. We try to raise legitimate points, as the good Minority Senator had said. I know that there are some people within your caucus that would be very happy if there were 25 of you with D’s here, and then all the votes would be easy and you could get out on time. You could, you know, call the session to order at 11:30 and 11:45 you’d all be gone because everybody would be in lock-step. But I hope that you will think and agree that it is important that if issues are brought up and questions are asked, that the real point is to try to solve the problems, answer the questions and move on, because without a doubt I know that all of us have the best intentions of the State. So thank you again for a session. We’ll be back next year. Aloha.”

At this time, the Chair rose and said:

“Senator Slom, it was not an oversight because when I referred to the Senators as my colleagues, I’m sure we all feel that once we’re in this room, we’re all Senators and you’re all colleagues.”

Senator Slom replied:

“Excuse me, Madam President, but at least Senator Espero mentions us by name in his poem. You know, you mentioned everybody else. Are we chopped liver? You didn’t mention us. Thank you, Madam President.”

The Chair replied:

“Thank you, Senator. I will note that next time. But I did have an oversight. I forgot to mention our respective support staff that is bi-party: the Senate Minority Office and well as the Senate Majority Office, which we would not be able to do many of the things we do without them.”

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

July 1, 2009

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 1405

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fifth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1405, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to the General Excise Tax.'

The purpose of this bill is to establish the nexus standard when the State can tax out-of-state businesses that do not have a physical presence in Hawaii. Specifically, this bill requires out-of-state companies to pay the general excise tax if their Hawaii revenue is at least $10,000 per year and they solicit business through Hawaii representatives who receive commission for referring customers, whether through the internet or in person. This bill also requires out-of-state businesses to pay taxes under Title 14 of the Hawaii Revised Statutes, such as income tax and transient accommodations tax, if their Hawaii revenue is at least $100,000 per year or they transacted with at least 20 Hawaii residents per year.

This bill is objectionable because its content violates Article III, Section 14 of the Hawaii State Constitution, which provides that "each law shall embrace but one subject, which shall be expressed in its title." Since the title of this measure is "A Bill for an Act Relating to the General Excise Tax," it is questionable whether Part II of this bill, which applies to all taxes under Title 14, such as income tax, conveyance tax, cigarette tax, transient accommodations tax, and franchise taxes, is included in the subject of the title.

Second, this bill places the nexus language in the general tax administration chapter (Hawaii Revised Statutes Chapter 231). It is likely this placement will present constitutional challenges present in the United States Supreme Court cases of Quill v. North Dakota and Complete Auto Transit, Inc. v. Brady.

Because the imposition of the nexus standard in New York last year has led to a challenge by Amazon.com regarding the constitutionality of requiring out-of-state businesses with no physical presence to collect state sales and use taxes, it would be premature to enact legislation on this issue until the New York case is resolved.

Finally, given the State's current economic situation, this bill is harmful to small Hawaii businesses making customer referrals to out-of-state businesses and those in Hawaii developing an on-line media industry. Website developers use affiliate advertisements to cover the costs of operating and developing their sites. As a result of New York's law, Overstock.com canceled its New York affiliates program last year in order to avoid collecting sales tax. Companies such as Audible.com and Zappos.com have already notified their Hawaii affiliates that they will cancel their programs as a result of the Legislature's passage of this bill and will no longer pay commission for referrals made. This will handicap Hawaii entrepreneurs and place them at a competitive disadvantage to Mainland and international companies.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 1405 without my approval.

Respectfully,

/s/ Linda Lingle
LINDA LINGLE

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

July 6, 2009

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 690

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fifth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 690, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Insurance.'

The purpose of this bill is to require all health insurers and employers who provide coverage to any regular employees in any group or association to offer the same coverage to part-time employees (persons working at least fifteen but less than twenty hours per week for at least eighteen months) of that employer.

This bill is objectionable because portions of the bill are preempted by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act (ERISA), 29 U.S.C. § 1001, et seq., because they relate to an employee welfare benefit plan regulated by ERISA. ERISA supersedes state laws that relate to employee benefit plans.

Portions of this measure reference family coverage offered to regular workers by a group or association, i.e., an employer. This bill provides that the group or association "shall offer the same family coverage to part-time employees." The coverage offered to the regular employees is an employee welfare benefit plan per ERISA. The bill also imposes certain duties upon the employer regarding enrollment, premiums, and payments.

The health insurance coverage that the bill requires employers to provide for part-time employees is measured by reference to the existing health insurance coverage for regular employees and would be equivalent thereto. Employer-sponsored health insurance programs are subject to ERISA regulation and any state law imposing requirements by reference to such covered programs is preempted by ERISA.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 690 without my approval.

Respectfully,

/s/ Linda Lingle

Gov. Msg. No. 793, dated July 6, 2009, transmitting the Governor's statement of objections to House Bill No. 1611, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO LABELING OF MEAT AND FISH PRODUCTS," which was returned to the Senate without approval and which reads as follows:

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

July 6, 2009

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 1611

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fifth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1611, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to the Labeling of Meat and Fish Products.'

The purpose of this bill is to regulate food labeling by requiring distributors of meat and fish products to notify consumers when their products have been gas-treated and to indicate on the label the type of gas used.

This bill is objectionable for two reasons. First, section 2 of this measure, which would require meat that had been gas-treated to bear a label stating that fact, violates the Supremacy Clause of the United States Constitution because it is preempted by the Federal Meat Inspection Act of 1907 (FMIA), as amended by the Wholesome Meat Act of 1967. Section 408 of the FMIA specifically preempts state meat labeling laws that are different from those already established by federal law. Section 2 is inconsistent with current federal meat labeling standards and is, therefore, preempted.

Second, section 3 of this bill would remove from the Hawaii Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act the criminal sanctions that apply to certain violations of that Act. Section 3 deletes the imprisonment provision in section 328-29(a), Hawaii Revised Statutes, that makes violating section 328-6, Hawaii Revised Statutes, punishable as a criminal misdemeanor and leaves only increased monetary fines. The misdemeanor criminal sanctions currently found in section 328-29 are essential to the effective administration of the State's laws with respect to food cleanliness, drugs, and cosmetics. By removing these criminal sanctions, the Legislature has adversely impacted the ability of the Department of Health to protect the health and safety of the public. The prohibited acts described in section 328-6 constitute willful and egregious behavior that, in the interest of safeguarding public health, should continue to be punishable as crimes under section 328-29.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 1611 without my approval.

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS

July 15, 2009

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 912

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fifth Legislature

State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 912, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to the Permanency Hearings.'

The purpose of this bill is to ensure compliance with federal Title IV-E hearing requirements to be consistent with the federal case review system in section 475(5) of the Social Security Act.

This bill is objectionable because it does not ensure compliance with the federal Title IV-E hearing requirements and it is not consistent with the federal case review system in section 475(5) of the Social Security Act.

The federal Department of Health and Human Services, recognizing this bill is defective, has granted the State an extension of time to draft new legislation that complies with federal requirements which will be introduced in the 2010 legislative session.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 912 without my approval.

Gov. Msg. No. 795, dated July 6, 2009, transmitting the Governor's statement of objections to Senate Bill No. 1058, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CONTROLLED SUBSTANCES," which was returned to the Senate without approval and which reads as follows:

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

July 6, 2009

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 1058

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fifth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 1058, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Controlled Substances.'

This bill establishes the medical cannabis task force within the Department of Public Safety to review issues relating to the medical marijuana program and make recommendations for any proposed legislation and rules. This bill also establishes the Salvia divinorum task force within the Department of Public Safety to review issues regarding the effects, use, and sale of Salvia divinorum and its primary psychoactive constituent, salvinorin A, and make appropriate legislative recommendations regarding the possible regulation of Salvia divinorum and salvinorin A. The Director of Public Safety is required to submit reports for both task forces to the Legislature prior to the convening of the regular session of 2010.

This bill is objectionable because the proposed task forces are unnecessary and would redirect limited resources within the Department of Public Safety from their primary functions of corrections and operations of the Sheriff Division.

The medical cannabis task force is unnecessary because it would attempt to deal with issues raised by medical marijuana users that can only be addressed by circumventing federal law.

The use of marijuana and the distribution of marijuana are still illegal under federal law. Until that law is changed, it is inappropriate for the State of Hawaii to support the production, transportation, and distribution of marijuana. The task force will not be able to resolve these issues.

The Salvia divinorum task force is also unnecessary. The Narcotics Enforcement Division of the Department of Public Safety is already working with county police departments, the Alcohol and Drug Abuse Division of the Department of Health, and the federal Drug Enforcement Administration to closely monitor this substance and determine if it should be scheduled as a controlled substance. Under the provisions of section 329-11, Hawaii Revised Statutes, the Department of Public Safety has the duty to annually recommend to the Legislature the necessary scheduling of any controlled substances, and the Department has the authority to temporarily establish the emergency scheduling of any substance, if necessary, pending legislative action.

The provisions pertaining to the Salvia divinorum task force may also raise a possible objection under Section 14 of Article III of the State Constitution, which states in pertinent part, 'Each law shall embrace but one subject, which shall be expressed in its title.' Salvia divinorum is not a controlled substance under Hawaii law and the bill is not amending our controlled substances law to include it. Consequently, the provisions pertaining to the Salvia divinorum task force could possibly be challenged as being beyond the scope of the subject of this bill as expressed in its title.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 1058 without my approval.

Respectfully,
/s/ Linda Lingle

Gov. Msg. No. 797, informing the Senate that on July 10, 2009, the Governor signed into law Senate Bill No. 1248, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1 as Act 174, entitled: "RELATING TO STATE ENTERPRISE ZONES."

Gov. Msg. No. 798, dated July 10, 2009, transmitting the Governor's statement of objections to House Bill No. 36, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HEALTH," which was returned to the Senate without approval and which reads as follows:

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU
July 10, 2009

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 36

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fifth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 36, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to the Health.'

The purpose of this bill is to expand the use of the Environmental Health Education Fund by renaming it the 'Sanitation and Environmental Health Special Fund,' and increasing the amount that does not lapse on an annual basis into the general fund from $300,000 to $2,445,000.

This bill is objectionable because it would erode general fund revenues in the midst of a serious State budget crisis by increasing the amount retained in the special fund at the end of the fiscal year. Traditionally, amounts that are not spent during the fiscal year are in excess of the program's annual funding requirements and, therefore, should be reviewed and reallocated based on statewide priorities.

Most of the money in this special account is collected from fees imposed on food establishments to obtain a food permit. The fund has no limit on the amount it may collect each year. Moneys in the fund should be used to conduct sanitation inspections and excess amounts should be returned to the general fund that benefits all residents.

Although the stated purpose of this bill is to broaden the scope of the environmental health fund to cover sanitation, the bill in its current form does not accomplish this purpose. The bill renames the fund without clarifying the purposes of the fund, as set forth in section 321-11 of Hawaii Revised Statutes. Last minute amendments by the Legislature to this bill resulted in inconsistent and conflicting language in sections 321-27 and 321-11 of Hawaii Revised Statutes. Due to the discrepancies in the bill language, enactment would create confusion as to the fund's actual and permissible uses.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 36 without my approval.

Respectfully,

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 343

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fifth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 343, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Rural Primary Health Care Training.'

This bill appropriates $140,000 from the State general fund for fiscal biennium 2009-2011 for the University of Hawaii's John A. Burns School of Medicine to provide rural primary health care training to increase access to primary health care services to medically underserved residents residing in rural areas of the State. The bill requires the development of a statewide rural primary health care training program in each county, beginning with Hawaii County.

Although the goal of this bill is laudable, this bill is objectionable because the State does not have the ability to provide the general fund appropriation allocated in this bill, nor can we afford the subsequent funding that a statewide rural primary health care training program as prescribed in this bill would require in the forthcoming years.

The severity of the State's fiscal condition at present and in the foreseeable future warrants caution in the development of new programs, including those with merit, such as the rural primary health care training program proposed in this bill.

Furthermore, it appears this program would not qualify for federal funding under the requirements established by the Center for Medicare and Medicaid Services within the U. S. Department of Health and Human Services.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 343 without my approval.

Respectfully,

/s/ Linda Lingle

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 358

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fifth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 358, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Drug Treatment.'

The purpose of this legislation is to permit the courts to require that an individual reside in a secure drug treatment facility as a condition of probation. The legislation defines this facility as a minimum-security detention center, including continuous direct supervision.

This bill is objectionable because it conflicts with nationally-accepted security protocols within the corrections profession and instructs the courts to direct offenders to facilities that do not exist within the State.

First, the terminology used in this bill is not in keeping with the security procedures and requirements that the Department of Public Safety must follow. Minimum-security detention centers do not require continuous direct supervision of each inmate, but this bill would establish a new standard that would require this security protocol. This requirement would create a new type of detention center with supervision, staffing ratios, and physical confinement requirements that are not recognized within the corrections professions and not in keeping with the requirements set by the U. S. Department of Justice.

Second, this bill presents serious operational problems since it would instruct the courts to direct probationers to facilities that do not exist and where there are no immediate or foreseeable plans for these facilities to exist. Additionally, the concepts in this bill are based on questionable treatment principles that have been not been shown to provide the types of evidence-based drug rehabilitation outcomes that are considered effective, as noted by the Drug Policy Forum of Hawaii.

My Administration has been at the forefront of developing programs that address substance abuse and that provide appropriate treatment regimens and settings for those who require substance abuse treatment. This legislation fails to accomplish its intended purpose.

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

July 10, 2009

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 982

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fifth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 982, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Family Leave.'

This bill provides for the development and maintenance of a family leave data collection system designed by the University of Hawaii Center on Aging and funded by a $10,000 appropriation from the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations' Special Fund for Disability Benefits.

This bill is objectionable because it creates a new data collection system, using funds that fall outside the scope and intent of the Special Fund. Hawaii Revised Statutes Chapter 37-523 requires special funds to be used only for the purposes originally established, the uses must reflect a clear nexus between the benefits sought and the expenditures to be made, must provide an appropriate means of financing an activity, and must demonstrate that the program can be financially self-sustaining. Using funds from the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations' Special Fund for Disability Benefits for family leave purposes does not meet the statutory criteria.

This bill is also objectionable because all of the provisions in this bill take effect on the same day, July 1, 2009, irrespective of whether the contemplated database has been completed and is operational. Consequently, because the new 'family leave data collection system' is not yet in existence as a web-based data system, employees seeking family leave benefits will be unable to enter pertinent data on the circumstances and need for family leave benefits, will be unable to print out a form to be submitted to the employer certifying that required data have been entered, and will be unable to comply with the new statutory requirements in section 398-5, Hawaii Revised Statutes, to provide to their employers evidence of having submitted the data in order to request family leave benefits.

Finally, this bill appears to suggest that a new paid family benefit should be developed and implemented for employees in Hawaii. Public sector employees already earn generous paid vacation and sick leave that can be used for family leave purposes. As I have stated in the past, any system that mandates employer-paid wage replacement benefits will increase the already high cost of doing business in the State and I caution the Legislature from recommending such mandates in the future.

For the foregoing reason, I am returning House Bill No. 982 without my approval.

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 986

Honorable Members
 Twenty-Fifth Legislature
 State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 986, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Public School Facilities.'

The purpose of this bill is to upgrade the energy efficiency of school buildings by requiring the adoption of Collaborative for High Performance Schools (CHPS) standards, as well as existing Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) standards, for all Department of Education projects, including renovations and repairs of less than 5,000 square feet.

Although this bill may be well-intended to help save energy and create green jobs, the legislation is not well thought out, presents operational challenges that are impractical and difficult to carry out, and will have immediate increased fiscal impacts.

Current law, as codified in Section 196-9 of Hawaii Revised Statutes, and the State Building Code already require energy efficiency and environmental standards for State facilities, motor vehicles, and transportation fuel. Nine detailed, specific criteria are embodied in our state statutes to include such energy-efficiency measures as installing R-19 insulation in walls and roofs, switching to solar water heating systems, recycling and reusing water, and incorporating ENERGY STAR appliances.

The Collaborative for High Performance Schools uses methodologies, evaluation criteria, and design factors that are contradictory to and different from the standards already codified in State law. For example, building codes encourage the use of white roofs to reflect heat and lower internal temperatures. But CHPS discourages their use out of concern for the heat they transmit back into the atmosphere. The LEED standard encourages the use of maximum open space in building designs. CHPS requires a reduced footprint for buildings. Attempts to reconcile these conflicting standards would likely lead to legal challenges and delays in building school facilities.

Both the Department of Education and the Department of Budget and Finance have correctly pointed out that the CHPS criteria will add an estimated 8-15% to the costs of construction projects undertaken by the Department of Education. Given the existing backlog of work and dwindling State resources, it is imperative that we embark on projects that are both energy efficient and cost effective with paybacks that can be realized within acceptable time periods. This does not appear to be the case for the Collaborative for High Performance Schools.

Furthermore, this bill is also troubling in the manner in which it mandates the Department of Education to prioritize its capital improvement projects. For example, it requires the DOE to use local and regional job creation criteria and gives higher priority to projects that promote Science Technology Engineering and Math (STEM) education. While these are laudable goals, the Department of Education correctly noted that they must prioritize projects that impact the health and safety of school children and to superimpose other vague standards makes their prioritization process impractical and ineffective.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 986 without my approval.

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 989

Honorable Members
 Twenty-Fifth Legislature
 State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 989, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Children's Health Care.'

The purpose of this bill is to reinstate the Hawaii Children's Health Care Program, otherwise known as Keiki Care, for three years and require the participants to receive primary health care services at federally qualified health centers. The program is funded through an appropriation of $400,000 from the general fund for the biennium.

This bill is objectionable because it fails to carry out the legislative intent of the Keiki Care program, as established pursuant to Act 236, Session Laws of Hawaii 2007. That intent was to provide health care coverage to children who are uninsured and ineligible for the State's Med-QUEST programs or other health care coverage.

An evaluation of the program found that when Keiki Care was launched in April 2008, there were 1,804 children enrolled, of which 1,750 or 95% were previously insured by their own families through HMSA's Children's Plan.

When the State evaluated the program in August 2008, it discovered that of the nearly 2,021 children enrolled in Keiki Care, only approximately 300 or 15% met the criteria of 'gap group' children who were uninsured and ineligible for their coverage. The program failed to assist the neediest children who were being crowded out by participants who could afford to purchase health coverage at a minimal cost through HMSA's Children's Plan but had switched to Keiki Care to receive free medical care at taxpayer expense.

This bill is also objectionable because it revives the Keiki Care program but fails to address substantive problems previously encountered with its implementation. The bill does not contain a mechanism to target program participation to the truly needy who are unable to access other State health care coverage programs, such as ensuring the children are from households that meet the residency and income thresholds.

Further, this bill raises concerns because it requires Keiki Care participants to receive medical care only at federally qualified health centers. While the State's fourteen federally qualified health centers play a vital role in Hawaii's healthcare safety net, the State should not establish the practice of limiting patients to specific providers without good cause. Moreover, this provision fails to recognize that federally qualified health centers may not be accessible to all children because of their geographic locations. At a time when federally qualified health centers report an increased strain on the health care safety net, adding to the strain is unwise.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 989 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 1504

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fifth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1504, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to the Health.'

The purpose of this bill is to establish the Hawaii Health Authority to develop a comprehensive plan for providing universal health care in Hawaii. This bill also appropriates $50,000 from the State Health Planning and Development Special Fund for the Authority's operations.

This bill is objectionable because the mission and duties of the Hawaii Health Authority as established by this bill are duplicative of past and existing efforts. Act 223, Session Laws of Hawaii 2005, established the temporary Healthcare Task Force to develop a plan to implement health care for all Hawaii residents and appropriated $200,000 in general funds for the task force. An eighty-five page report, titled 'Analysis of the Impact of an Illustrative Single-Payer System for Hawaii,' was submitted to the task force and published on June 30, 2006. Many issues that this bill is seeking to address have already been addressed by the report. That report also addressed issues that this bill does not consider, such as the impact of a universal health care system on insurance providers. The report concluded that in order to implement a universal health care system for all State residents, a payroll tax of at least nine and one half percent must be assessed from all workers in the State. It does not make sense for the State to expend additional resources to develop a plan when a plan was already completed in 2006.

Additionally, this bill establishes the Hawaii Health Authority as an agency administratively attached to the Department of Budget and Finance. The mission of the Authority is to be 'responsible for overall health planning for the state.' This is similar to the mission of the State Health Planning and Development Agency, which is tasked with promoting 'accessibility for all the people of the State to quality health care services at reasonable cost.' Because the Department of Budget and Finance has no expertise in health care, it is inappropriate for the Authority to be attached to the Department instead of the Department of Health. Since the State already has an existing agency administratively attached to the Department of Health with a similar mission, creating a new program during these difficult economic times is not justified.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 1504 without my approval.

Twenty-Fifth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 266, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Global Warming.'

The purpose of this bill is to establish a 'Climate Change Task Force' to assess the impacts of global warming and climate change trends in the State and to appropriate $50,000 from the Tourism Special Fund for fiscal year 2009-2010 and the same amount for fiscal year 2010-2011 for this purpose.

This bill is objectionable because it appropriates funds from the Tourism Special Fund at a time when we are least able to afford it. Moneys in the fund must be prioritized for programs that generate revenue, such as tourism marketing and promotion, rather than task forces that are designed to study issues but rarely produce tangible results.

There is already wide-ranging research and recommendations available from global and national organizations on the issue of climate change. We cannot afford to use our limited resources, particularly at this time, to create a task force whose main purpose is to study an issue that we already know much about.

Further, there is already an active Greenhouse Gas Emissions Reduction Task Force in the State whose work is underway. Although the intended purposes of these two task forces may differ, their goal of improving the environment by reducing greenhouse gas emissions and its impact is the same. It should be noted that some of the same members of the existing task force may be asked to join the new task force created by this bill, and, therefore, would be required to share time and resources on what is ultimately the same issue. Given the economic difficulties our state is enduring, it is inefficient and shortsighted to ask professionals in the public and private sector to duplicate their work.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 266 without my approval.

The purpose of this bill is to appropriate $12,291,054 out of the general fund to provide a State match required to access $15,000,000 in federal funding available through the federal Disproportionate Share Hospital payment program. The funds provided are to offset the cost of uncompensated medical care provided by hospitals to Medicaid and charity care patients. State funds are required to draw down the federal appropriation.

Although the purpose of this bill holds merit, there are no State funds available to afford this expenditure. The bill's $12,291,054 appropriation will negatively impact the general fund and exacerbate the State's budget deficit. While I appreciate the Legislature's attempt to maximize federal sources of funding, it is my duty as Governor to ensure that the bills that become law can be realistically and responsibly supported by the State.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 1665

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fifth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 1665, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Higher Education.'

The purpose of this bill is to appropriate $2,400,000 from the Unemployment Insurance Trust Fund and to provide each community college with $200,000 to establish a skilled worker and business development center at each college.

This bill is objectionable because it expends funds that are needed to pay unemployment benefits and the program that would be set up under this bill duplicates existing workforce development and skills training programs.

Regrettably, unemployment in Hawaii has grown over the past year from 3.6% in May 2008 to 7.4% as of May 2009. This steep rise in unemployment, coupled with an extension of benefits required under federal laws, has meant that the State's fund used to pay unemployed workers is spending more than is currently coming into the fund. While the fund enjoyed very significant balances in 2007 and prior years in excess of $500,000,000, the fund currently has a balance of $303,000,000 as of May 2009. This decrease is understandable, given current economic conditions.

However, since none of us knows the depth and length of the current economic crisis, it is imperative that we take steps to preserve these unemployment insurance funds that can be used to pay workers who have lost their job. This is money they need to feed their families and pay their bills. Any leakage out of the fund will mean less dollars for our workforce.

The bill is also objectionable because it proposes to fund the establishment of skilled-worker and business development centers at each community college that duplicate the efforts of the Workforce Development Boards, the One Stop Centers under the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations, and the Worklinks program. Further, this bill asks these new centers at each community college to provide retraining and cross-training for workers in new technology. However, the University of Hawaii Pacific Center for Advanced Technology and Training already provides these types of services.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 1692

Honorable Members
 Twenty-Fifth Legislature
 State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1692, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Housing.'

The purpose of this bill is to impose residency restrictions on the amount of time persons can reside in State public housing. The bill requires the Hawaii Public Housing Authority to conduct a pilot project at one of its State public housing sites, wherein occupancy will be limited to five years for current residents and seven years for new residents. The bill provides exemptions from the occupancy limits for persons fifty-five years of age and older, persons with a mental or physical disability, and persons retired for medical reasons.

This bill is objectionable because it treats like individuals in a disparate manner, making the State vulnerable to a legal challenge. A subset of existing public housing tenants will be singled out and be placed on a time clock of how long they will be allowed to reside in public housing. This will occur regardless of their ability to become self-sufficient, the availability of alternative housing, or the nature of the economic conditions that impact their ability to find alternate housing.

This bill also raises legal concerns in that the purpose section (section 1) encourages 'families to move out of public housing,' contrary to the requirements of section 515-3, Hawaii Revised Statutes, which provides that it is a discriminatory practice, in part, to 'discriminate against a person in the terms, conditions, or privileges of a real estate transaction' because of 'familial status'. Familial status discrimination is prohibited under Title VIII of the Civil Rights Act of 1968, as amended. The bill's narrow reference to families in describing the pilot project prescribed in this bill may render the Hawaii Public Housing Authority vulnerable to legal challenges related to fair housing laws.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 1692 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 1160

Honorable Members
 Twenty-Fifth Legislature
 State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 1160, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to the Hawaii Public Housing Authority.'

The purpose of this bill is to make the administration of public housing by the Hawaii Public Housing Authority (HPHA) more efficient.

This bill is objectionable because section 4 adds a new subsection to section 356D-93, Hawaii Revised Statutes, that requires evictions from State low-income housing be conducted by a hearings officer appointed by HPHA. The requirement that evictions from State low-income housing be conducted by a hearings officer conflicts with section 356D-44(c), Hawaii Revised Statutes, which states that State low-income housing projects shall be subject to chapter 521, Hawaii Revised Statutes. Chapter 521, the 'Residential Landlord-Tenant Code,' provides for eviction through summary possession proceedings or other proper action. Section 666-6, Hawaii Revised Statutes, requires that summary possession actions shall be brought in the district court of the circuit in which the property is situated. The bill does not amend section 356D-44(c) and, therefore, creates a conflict as to whether State low-income housing evictions are to be handled through judicial procedure or administrative procedure.

Section 4 of the bill is also objectionable in requiring that in an eviction hearing, where the tenant has custody of a school-aged child or children, the eviction board or hearings officer shall:

solicit information regarding the tenant's regular participation in school activities or meetings during the current and previous school year from the school or schools in which the child or children are or were enrolled. This information shall be considered in determining the findings, conclusions, decision, and order.

The requirement in section 4 that the hearings officer and eviction board must solicit information about a tenant's involvement in the tenant's child's school activities and use this information in making findings of facts, conclusions of law, and the decision and order in an eviction hearing is objectionable. There is no rational relationship between a tenant's involvement in their child's school activities and whether or not the tenant has violated the rental agreement with HPHA.

Section 6 of the bill amends HPHA's general powers in section 356D-4, Hawaii Revised Statutes, to state that the HPHA 'shall not sell any land developed for any public housing project,' but this bill does not amend section 356D-8(c), Hawaii Revised Statutes, which states in relevant part that HPHA 'may sell, exchange, transfer, assign, or pledge, any property, real or personal, or any interest therein to any person or government.' There does not appear to be any justification for a blanket prohibition against a sale when 'exchange, transfer, assign, or pledge' would still be authorized.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 1160 without my approval.

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
 HONOLULU
 July 13, 2009

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL
NO. 1350

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fifth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 1350, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Kakaako.'

This bill increases the current reserved housing requirements on developments within the Kakaako Community Development District. In doing so, it places a new housing exaction on purely commercial development and increases reserved housing requirements currently enforced by the Hawaii Community Development Authority.

This bill is objectionable because it contains many technical and practical flaws that will substantially impede commercial development and the construction of affordable housing in Kakaako. Among other things, this bill defined 'development' over broadly to include enlargements of an existing building or structure, including minor changes in the floor area of a warehouse or parking facility. This legislation is the wrong approach at a time when the State should be encouraging economic activity in Kakaako.

The legislation contains flawed language in the manner in which it attempts to adjust the percentage of reserve housing that will be required in future years, making the adjustment nil. Further, the provisions of the bill appear to permit a development project to satisfy a reserve housing requirement outside of Kakaako, but Section 3 of the bill eliminates the power of the Hawaii Community Development Authority to allow these outside developments.

My Administration has consistently supported efforts to build more affordable housing units throughout the State. I am proud of the partnerships we have forged with the private sector to support for-sale and rental housing developments on all islands through the work performed by the Hawaii Housing Finance and Development Corporation and the Department of Hawaiian Home Lands. Thousands of families now have a place they can call home as a result of these efforts.

Regrettably, this legislation will curtail, not enhance, the development of additional housing in the Kakaako district by setting requirements that make it economically infeasible to move forward. For example, requirements that would raise an affordable housing requirement from 550 units to over 1,200 units are not financially viable, despite the best of intentions of the Legislature. The practical impact will be a halt to redevelopment in a major urban area that remains partially blighted despite over thirty years of government efforts under the Hawaii Community Development Authority.

Finally, it is unwise public policy to place a de facto halt on the permitting of new projects in Kakaako until such time as the Hawaii Community Development Authority completes rulemaking actions that would be required to implement the provisions of this bill. History has shown that the rulemaking process takes months to properly draft rules and ensure adequate public input. It is inappropriate and counterproductive to place a moratorium on development while the rulemaking process occurs, particularly at a time when we need to be reinvigorating the economy and creating jobs for our residents.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 1350 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 31

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fifth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 31, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Employment Practices.'

The purpose of this bill is to establish an employer's use of an individual's credit history as an unlawful discriminatory employment practice, subject to certain exceptions.

This bill is objectionable because it places another restriction on employers that could impact their ability to protect the safety and financial security of their workplaces. If enacted, this bill would restrict an employer's ability to verify statements made in a job interview or on a resume which can be indicative of that individual's honesty and trustworthiness. It would also restrict an employer's ability to periodically check on the current credit history of their workforce.

Congress recognized the sensitive nature of information contained in credit histories and, as a result, passed the Fair Credit Reporting Act which governs an employer's use of such information. It is unclear why the Legislature felt the need to pass additional legislation when federal law already places restrictions on employers and provides appropriate protections for employees.

It is not appropriate to place restrictions on employers who are working hard to create environments that are safe for themselves, their employees, and the public. Police departments have noted that credit reports help them conduct thorough background screenings to ensure they have a comprehensive portrait of an individual's readiness for employment in a position of public trust. In addition, insurance agencies, retailers, hotels, non-profit organizations, churches, and many others have noted that their ability to conduct credit checks on employees is vital to protecting their day-to-day operations. For example, hotel workers have access to many things of value including a hotel guest's jewelry, clothing, credit card numbers, and cash. Hotels go to great lengths to ensure their employees meet the highest standards and can be trusted with a customer's personal effects.

It makes sense for private, public, and non-profit employers to use credit histories to ensure their employees are worthy of being placed in a position that impacts the satisfaction and trust of their clients and the financial well-being of their operations.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 31 without my approval.

Gov. Msg. No. 814, dated July 14, 2009, transmitting the Governor's statement of objections to House Bill No. 952, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO LABOR," which was returned to the Senate without approval and which reads as follows:

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

July 14, 2009

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 952

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fifth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 952, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Labor.'

The purposes of this bill are to: (1) change the union certification process by allowing certification of a union representative through card check authorizations without a secret ballot election; (2) to permit a union and individual employees, but not an employer, to collect attorneys' fees and costs in actions before the Hawaii Labor Relations Board (HLRB); and (3) to allow a civil penalty if an employer or employee, but not a union, willfully or repeatedly commits a prohibited practice.

This bill is objectionable for the following reasons:

1. Certification of Union Representative Through Card Check Authorization

Section 1 provides for board certification of a union representative through card check authorization, which undermines employees' right to organize for purpose of collective bargaining under both the Constitution and the statute.

Under Sections 1 and 2 of Article XIII of the State Constitution, employees have the constitutional right to 'organize for purpose of collective bargaining.' Based on this right, the Legislature granted employees freedom to participate in the collective bargaining process through representation of their own choosing. Sections 89-3 and 377-4, Hawaii Revised Statutes (HRS), were enacted and designed to protect employees. These statutes provide that employees have the right of self-organization and the right to form, join, or assist labor organizations, and bargain collectively through representatives of their own choosing. Further, sections 89-3 and 377-4, Hawaii Revised Statutes, also provide that employees have a right to refrain from such activities.

In Hawaii, elections have been the exclusive means by which a union may obtain certification by the HLRB to act as a collective bargaining representative for a group of employees. However, if enacted, this bill would obligate the HLRB to certify a union based on authorization cards without an election. Authorization cards are poor indicators of support and this method of certifying a collective bargaining representative is susceptible to intimidation, coercion, and introduces irrelevant factors into the calculus of whether to select union representation.

Secret ballot elections, on the other hand, provide employees with an opportunity to carefully consider their choice after being fully informed by both the union and the employer of the advantages and disadvantages of union representation. The National Labor Relations Board has repeatedly stated that secret elections are generally the most satisfactory and indeed the preferred method of ascertaining whether a union has majority support.

We should continue the current process of certifying union representatives through election, which is patterned after how we vote for public officials.

2. Award of Attorneys' Fees and Costs

Section 2 seeks an amendment to section 377-9, Hawaii Revised Statutes, modifying the remedial powers of the HLRB to include authority to award interest on back pay awards, plus costs and attorneys' fees, in favor of employees.

Section 89-14, Hawaii Revised Statutes, provides that any controversy concerning prohibited practices may be submitted to the HLRB in the same manner and with the same effect as provided in section 377-9, Hawaii Revised Statutes. Section 89-13, Hawaii Revised Statutes, provides that it is unlawful for either employers or unions to engage in prohibited practices either against one another or against individual employees. Complaints alleging prohibited practices may be lodged by a union against an employer on behalf of one or more union members by an employer against a union, or by an individual employee against his union, his employer, or both.

If this bill becomes law, this amendment would mean that unions or employees could seek to recover attorneys' fees and costs from employers upon prevailing in prohibited practice complaints, but employers would be provided with no such reciprocal right. This failure gives unions and employees an unfair advantage over employers.

This bill may also have a detrimental impact on the resolution of labor disputes through the grievance procedure and arbitration provided for in the current public collective bargaining agreements. Those public collective bargaining agreements provide that each side will bear its own costs and fees. If this bill is enacted, the incentive for union attorneys to file HLRB claims, instead of grievances, will be greatly increased.

3. Civil Penalty Against Employers

The bill amends section 377-9, Hawaii Revised Statutes, by mandating that HLRB impose a civil penalty not to exceed $10,000 in the event that an employer or employee is found to have 'wilfully or repeatedly' committed a prohibited practice. The Legislature did not explain why such a mandatory penalty is necessary in the first place, particularly in light of the fact that the HLRB is already empowered with a wide range of discretionary remedial tools.

More importantly, even if one assumes that mandatory penalties of this nature are needed, this proposal unaccountably fails to provide for such penalties against a union if the HLRB finds it has committed prohibited practices against an employer. The bill also fails to provide for the imposition of a civil penalty in the event that a union has been found to have committed prohibited practices against one of its own members. In short, this bill gives unions an unfair advantage over both employers and individual employees.

4. Conflict With Current Law

This bill also appears to conflict with current law. The bill states that if the parties cannot reach a collective bargaining agreement, either party may request conciliation under section 377-3, Hawaii Revised Statutes. On page 3, lines 4-11, the bill also states that '[i]f, after the expiration of the twenty-day period beginning on the date on which the request for conciliation is made . . . or such additional period as the parties may agree upon, the conciliator is not able to bring the parties to agreement . . . the board shall refer the dispute to an arbitration panel[.]'

Because the bill allows the parties to agree to conciliation beyond twenty days, it is not consistent with section 377-3, Hawaii Revised Statutes, which only empowers a conciliator to resolve disputes for ten to twenty days.

5. Collective Bargaining Restrictions

This bill is also objectionable because it places arbitrary restrictions on the negotiating parties without regard to the complexity of the agreement or the importance of free and non-coercive bargaining. Forcing parties to agree is antithetical to the system of labor relations that has served our country well. With the prospect of mandatory mediation and binding arbitration, bargaining may become more unrealistic as labor representatives push for very high wages in negotiation and employers counter that union demands would put them out of business.

This bill takes away the rights of unions and employers to bargain in good faith and interjects an arbitration panel to write the contract terms of the two parties. This undermines the purpose of a collective bargaining process and unnecessarily shifts power to the arbitration panels.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 952 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 1479

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fifth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1479, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Labor.'

The purpose of this bill is to require public works contractors and subcontractors to provide a certified copy of a fringe benefit reporting form covering health and welfare benefits, pensions, annuities, vacation, training, and other fringe benefit costs. This submission shall be submitted weekly to the government contracting office.

This legislation is objectionable because it imposes an undue and unnecessary burden on contractors and subcontractors and would require them to report information that has been considered proprietary.

Contractors and subcontractors submit weekly certified payroll records to confirm compliance with Hawaii prevailing wage law. Fringe benefits, such as vacation and sick leave, help attract and retain workers and provide workers with non-tax incentives they might not otherwise enjoy. To force disclosure of this information could jeopardize these employee incentives and place firms working on public works projects at a competitive disadvantage to counterpart firms who do not have to disclose this data.

Further, the need for such legislation is not supported by the empirical data collected by the State Department of Labor and Industrial Relations each year when they conduct their random investigations of public works contractors.

Adding to the paperwork burdens and accounting costs of employers at this time of economic stress is not sound policy and detracts from our efforts to encourage and assist employers and employees in the construction sector.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 1479 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 1676

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fifth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1676, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Public Works.'

The purpose of this bill is to require contractors of public works projects financed through Special Purpose Revenue Bonds to submit a collective bargaining agreement for laborers and mechanics to the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations.

This bill is objectionable because it attempts to assign to the Department of Labor a function that is the responsibility of the Hawaii Labor Relations Board or the National Labor Relations Board.

In 2007 Act 61 was passed that specified projects funded by special purpose revenue bonds, even though they are not government projects, were considered public works and, therefore, subject to Hawaii prevailing wage law, as set forth in chapter 104 of Hawaii Revised Statutes. That being the case, contractors who work on these projects can meet the requirements of Chapter 104 by submitting certified copies of their weekly payrolls to the State Department of Labor and Industrial Relations. A collective bargaining agreement need not be in place to meet prevailing wage requirements and it should not be assumed that a private contractor must have such an agreement to comply.

There are times when there are concerns about the content of a collective bargaining agreement between a private contractor and his/her workforce or between the employees and their union representatives. When these concerns arise, they can be brought to the attention of the National Labor Relations Board or, for those firms not covered by the National Labor Relations Board, the Hawaii Labor Relations Board.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 1676 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 695

Honorable Members
 Twenty-Fifth Legislature
 State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 695, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Workers' Compensation.'

The purpose of this bill is to allow a continuation of medical services for injured employees when a dispute exists between the employee and the employer or employer's insurer regarding a treatment plan. The medical services shall continue until the Director of Labor and Industrial Relations issues a decision on the matter.

As I have stated in the past, this bill is objectionable because it requires an employer or employer's insurer to continue to pay for medical treatments after it has been determined that continued treatments are inappropriate, excessive, or for a non-compensable condition. Requiring an employer to pay for medical services that were determined unwarranted or unnecessary with no substantive right to recovery until the Director decides to deny such benefits will result in higher workers' compensation premiums for all businesses in Hawaii at a time when they can least afford it. In addition, this bill fundamentally upsets the balance between the employer and the employee regarding the method by which medical care can be terminated.

This bill is fundamentally unfair to hard-working employees who suffer work-related injuries and are in need of treatment. This bill tolerates and encourages abuse of the workers' compensation system by allowing healthy employees, who are fit to return to work, to continue drawing benefits. This abuse has a negative impact on the workers' compensation system and hurts all of Hawaii's workers.

Given the current state of our economy, I sincerely hope the Legislature will reconsider its previous support for this bill. We simply cannot afford to pass legislation that will increase the cost of doing business during such challenging economic times. If we continue to burden business with mandates and regulation, there will be fewer jobs to be had and all employees will suffer. This bill will further delay our economic recovery and represents poor public policy.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 695 without my approval.

Honorable Members
 Twenty-Fifth Legislature

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 1, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Opihi.'

The purpose of this bill is to make it unlawful to take, harvest, or possess opihi, except under certain prescribed circumstances.

This bill is objectionable because it establishes unenforceable standards for the harvesting of opihi that run counter to good fisheries management practices.

Legislation that addresses the management and sustainability of certain fisheries should be evidenced-based, using best practices tools that are scientifically supported. For example, seasonable closures should be based on the spawning and rejuvenation periods for select species of marine life, not on randomly picked dates.

Based on their extensive experience with the management of fishing areas, the Department of Land and Natural Resources has found that tools such as bag limits and seasonal closures are more easily enforceable and more readily understood by the public. This bill would require State enforcement personnel to attempt to determine if the opihi in a person's possession was picked above the waterline or below the waterline, a virtually impossible task when the opihi is already in a collection pail.

Further, the bill would require enforcement personnel to determine if the opihi picker was exercising native gathering rights and whether the amount of opihi in his/her possession met precise weight limits. Additionally, this bill fails to recognize those persons, particularly on the neighbor islands, who consider opihi harvesting a profession that sustains them throughout the year.

The Department of Land and Natural Resources has existing authority to regulate near-shore fisheries and aquatic stocks, including the establishment of marine resources management areas that have worked successfully for certain species. I have asked the Department to conduct a scientific, fact-based review of opihi to determine whether harvesting limits should be imposed and when they should be imposed. This bill is both unnecessary and counter-productive to that effort.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 1 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 19

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fifth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 19, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to the Procurement.’

The purpose of this bill is to create a five percent procurement preference for offerors who bid on public works construction contracts valued at not less than $250,000 if, at the time of bidding, the offerors are parties to an apprenticeship agreement that is registered with the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations for each apprenticeable trade the offeror will employ if awarded the contract. This reduction in bidding price is for evaluation purposes only and does not reduce the cost of the offer to the contracting governmental body.

This bill is objectionable because implementation of this new bid preference will increase the cost of the State’s public works projects. If the preference of five percent results in the bidder being awarded the contract, the State must still pay the full contract price, even though there was a lower offer. Given the State’s current financial situation, we simply cannot afford to overpay for public works projects in this manner. Additional costs would also be incurred through an unnecessary increase in the administration and oversight responsibilities of government contracting agencies, which would have to ensure that apprenticeship agreements are being maintained for the length of the contract.

Further, this bill would also place construction contractors that do not have registered apprentice programs at a competitive disadvantage without compelling justification. Apprenticeship programs are useful training programs when a trade requires a length of time to become proficient, but are not necessary to ensure the qualification of contractors to perform State work. The purpose of the public works bidding process is to ensure the State obtains the specified work at the best possible price. An essential element of this process is a level playing field whereby the most efficient, skilled, and well-managed companies are awarded contracts.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 19 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 43

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fifth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 43, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to Physician Workforce Assessment.’

The purpose of this bill is to establish a John A. Burns School of Medicine special fund, funded by a $60 fee assessed when physicians and surgeons renew their licenses, to support physician workforce assessment and planning.

Although the purpose of this bill has merit, it fails to address the larger issues that are causing a shortage of doctors from practicing in Hawaii, such as low insurance reimbursement rates, high medical malpractice insurance costs, increased taxes on physicians and surgeons, and the increasing expense of operating a medical practice within our State.

The Hawaii Medical Association, representing the State’s doctors, cautioned that this bill could establish a dangerous precedent of using license fees to address an assortment of health-related issues and studies. Fees should be dedicated to the regulation of the medical profession.

Further, this bill is objectionable because in order for a physician or surgeon to renew their license, they would be required to provide personal and professional information, such as their medical specialty, location of practice, their hospital privileges, and the size and scope of their practice, which have no relationship to the qualifications that are required to maintain a license.

If a physician fails to provide the required physician workforce assessment information required, the license would be denied. Although the bill requires the University of Hawaii to obtain express consent from a physician before releasing information specific to that individual, the bill does not provide for instances in which a physician may object to providing personal and profession information based on privacy or confidentiality concerns. It would be inappropriate to deny licensure based on an unwillingness to provide information that has no relationship to the qualifications of the applicant seeking to continue his or her medical practice in Hawaii.

The bill is also objectionable because the special fund established by the provisions of this legislation fails to meet the requirements of Hawaii Revised Statutes Sections 37-52.3 and 37-53.4 regarding both the means of financing and the financial self-sufficiency of the fund.

Finally, I would point out that in 2003, I signed Act 181 that established a Hawaii Medical Education Council within the University of Hawaii to undertake a review of physician workforce needs as envisioned in this bill. That work was not done. If this is a priority, then the John A. Burns School of Medicine should proceed using the statutory authority it already has. Duplicate legislation is unnecessary.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 43 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 50

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fifth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 50, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to Renewable Energy Producers.’

The purpose of this bill is to create a new section of Chapter 171, Hawaii Revised Statutes, setting forth terms and conditions for leases of public lands to renewable energy producers.

While it is important that the use of public lands, particularly when they are leased without a public auction, are handled in a transparent, fair, and standard manner, this bill places additional burdens on a subset of lessees, namely renewable energy producers, that is burdensome and counter to the clean renewable energy goals of this state.

Specifically, this bill would require the Board of Land and Natural Resources, when they receive an application from a firm or entity that wishes to site a renewable energy project on public lands, to conduct not less than two public hearings on the island where the public land is located.

The Board already follows a well-established process for discussion and decision-making on actions before it that abides by the open meeting provisions of Chapter 92. To saddle renewable energy projects with additional hearings requirements adds costs and delays and treats these projects in an adverse fashion, compared to similar applications for use of public lands.

Further, it should be remembered that the approval process for renewable energy projects currently provides opportunities for public comment at both the State and county level. For example public hearings are required prior to a project receiving an incidental take license, for a conservation district use permit, for a water quality certification, for a non-point pollution discharge permit, for a water use permit, for a special use permit, for a special management area permit, and for a shoreline setback permit. Additionally, projects that use public lands usually prepare an environmental assessment that has a public comment component.

Of additional concern, this bill requires a proposed renewable energy project to publicly disclose their financing plan, business concepts, and conceptual plan. Understandably, entities pursuing these projects, who have invested their own resources into the endeavor, are concerned that public disclosure of sensitive business data could place them at a competitive disadvantage.

The Board of Land and Natural Resources understands there may be times when more than one entity is interested in the same public lands. It is currently within their purview to ensure a fair and open airing for all interested parties to make the best decision on behalf of the public. Complicating the process the Board must follow to make determinations on the use of public lands that will reduce the State’s dependence on imported foreign oil is not in the best interests of the public.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 50 without my approval.

“EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS

July 15, 2009

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 387

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fifth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 387, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to the State Budget.’

The purpose of this bill is to transfer various programs and divisions within the Department of Business, Economic Development and Tourism to the Office of the Governor, Department of Accounting and General Services, Department of Commerce and Consumer Affairs, and the Hawaii Tourism Authority. This measure also requires the Governor to report budget restrictions to the Legislature within thirty days of the end of the quarterly allotment period.

This bill is objectionable because transferring the Department of Business, Economic Development and Tourism’s functions and responsibilities to other departments will not reduce the cost of government or improve the delivery of public services. In all likelihood, such transfers will interrupt services as the programs and divisions must plan for the transfer and make necessary adjustments, in addition to making needed changes to ensure that appropriate references are updated in statutes and administrative rules.

Moreover, the proposed transfer of these functions and responsibilities to other departments demonstrates a lack of understanding of the mission of these economic development programs and divisions and the mission and functions of the receiving departments. In fact, some of the proposed transfers are contradictory to sound public policy and the conduct of government. As an example, this measure transfers the Small Business Regulatory Review Board from the Department of Business, Economic Development and Tourism to the Department of Commerce and Consumer Affairs. Since the Department of Commerce and Consumer Affairs has numerous rules and regulations that affect small businesses, it could be a conflict of interest to attach the Review Board to the department whose rules it must review, critique, and make a recommendation to approve or not approve. Such a move would call into question the independence of the Small Business Regulatory Review Board.

The proposed transfers contained in this bill come at a time when we must remain focused on the economic recovery and regaining the vitality of the business sector in our state. To propose to dismantle the State agency tasked with this responsibility at this time is shortsighted and disruptive to our recovery efforts.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 387 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 415

Honorable Members
 Twenty-Fifth Legislature
 State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 415, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Home Care Agencies.'

The purpose of this bill is to require the Department of Health to license home care agencies from July 1, 2010 until June 30, 2014.

This bill is objectionable because it exempts home care agencies under contract with the City and County of Honolulu's Elderly Affairs Division from the licensing requirement. Therefore, the City and County of Honolulu will be allowed to contract with unlicensed home care agencies. All other counties will be subject to the licensing requirement even though they have administrative entities similar to the City and County of Honolulu's Elderly Affairs Division. The bill does not provide a basis for granting the single exemption, nor does it reconcile the differential treatment of the municipalities. The specific exemption for the City and County of Honolulu appears to be a special law rather than a general law, which is prohibited by Article VIII, Section 1 of the Hawaii Constitution. Home care licensing requirements should be applied uniformly throughout all political subdivisions of the State.

This bill is also objectionable because a new program should not be added to the Department of Health. Authority to license home care agencies should be placed with the Department of Human Services and not the Department of Health. The Department of Human Services has expertise in monitoring health services through its history with the certification of Community Care Foster Family Homes and the 1915(c) Medicaid Waiver and Chore Service programs. The Department currently has regulatory and support functions established through its Social Services Division, Adult and Community Care Services Branch, that will be capable of establishing a home care agency licensing program at a future time when the State's fiscal condition has improved.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 415 without my approval.

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
 HONOLULU

July 15, 2009

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 420

Honorable Members
 Twenty-Fifth Legislature
 State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 420, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Naturopathic Medicine.'

The purposes of this bill are to: (1) expand the scope of practice of naturopathic physicians by authorizing them to administer injections, perform minor office procedures, prescribe medicines and non-controlled substances, perform common diagnostic procedures (including the taking of blood and x-rays), and practice behavioral medicine, (2) authorize the issuance of temporary licenses for out-of-state naturopathic physicians in times of emergency, and (3) clarify the titles that may not be used by unlicensed persons.

This bill is objectionable because it does not provide adequate protection for the health and safety of the public. While the practice of naturopathy has a long history, there are concerns that this bill would allow naturopaths to practice beyond the scope of their education and training. Under this bill, naturopaths would be able to prescribe, administer by injection or other means, and dispense nonscheduled prescription drugs and other powerful substances that are capable of causing harm. Similarly, minor surgeries performed in an office setting have the potential to cause harm if not done by an individual with rigorous training and the proper expertise.

Additionally, this bill provides the Board of Examiners in Naturopathy with the authority to establish and publish a naturopathic formulary of medicines, prescription drugs, and other substances from which naturopaths would be able to prescribe, administer, or dispense. The Board of Examiners in Naturopathy is composed of three naturopathic physicians and two public members. Thus, the determination of the formulary would be primarily the decision of naturopaths themselves. It would be preferable that the establishment of any naturopathic formulary include the participation of medical doctors and licensed pharmacists. No such protections are provided in this bill.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 420 without my approval.

Respectfully,

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS

July 15, 2009

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 539

Honorable Members

Twenty-Fifth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 539, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Corrections.'

The purposes of this bill are to rename the intake service centers set forth in section 353-10, Hawaii Revised Statutes, to 'reentry intake services centers,' and require that they not only 'screen, evaluate, and classify' individuals entering community correctional centers but also 'provide for their successful reentry' into the community. Accordingly, this bill also specifies additional duties and responsibilities of the division that include providing reentry services and working with the furlough programs in each county, the Hawaii Paroling Authority, and the Corrections Program Services Division. Additionally, the bill establishes a 'reentry commission' in the Department of Public Safety to monitor and review reentry and parole services.

This bill is objectionable because it proposes an inappropriate, vague, and unfunded reorganization of the Department of Public Safety.

The Department of Public Safety has developed a comprehensive offender reentry plan to assist with the reintegration of incarcerated individuals. This bill merely establishes additional undefined requirements for the Department of Public Safety to meet without providing the funding and staff necessary to do so. Not being able to execute statutory requirements could expose the Department of Public Safety to unnecessary litigation.

Moreover, the Intake Services Centers Division currently coordinates and collaborates with other divisions, branches, and sections within the Department of Public Safety, as well as with the Hawaii Paroling Authority and various community based organizations. Such interactions do not need to be codified.

Additionally, the Department of Public Safety should be given the flexibility to carry out its own internal reorganization plans without unnecessary impediments. This measure not only ignores the reorganization efforts already underway, but fails to recognize that the Department is in the best position to comprehend the complexities of corrections operations, functions, and responsibilities at the division level.

Finally, the reentry commission established under this measure duplicates the functions and duties of the Corrections Population Management Commission, established in 1993. The reentry commission is, therefore, unnecessary and duplicative.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 539 without my approval.

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU
July 15, 2009

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 605

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fifth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 605, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Noise.'

The purpose of this bill is to require the Department of Health to add the dBC decibel weighting system to the current dBA weighting system for community noise control. In addition, the bill establishes a maximum nighttime sound level of fifty to sixty decibels dBC for urban land use districts. Finally, the bill directs the county liquor commissions, with the assistance of the Department of Health and the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations, to develop recommendations for a permanent maximum sound level in dBC decibels for licensed liquor establishments.

Noise can be a major irritant for residents living in urban districts, especially those living in mixed use areas. Nighttime noise can be especially disruptive to residents who are trying to relax after work, spend time with their families, and get much needed sleep. Unfortunately, noise is a reality of urban living and it is something most urban residents learn to tolerate over time.

This bill is objectionable because it sets a new maximum nighttime noise level for urban land use districts which is not based on scientific, validated research. The new maximum sound level would be measured with the dBC weighting system, which has not been previously used by the Department of Health or the county liquor commissions. As a result, more study and research is needed before adopting this system and mandating a maximum sound level that will unfairly impact many law-abiding businesses located in mixed used areas.

I support provisions in the bill which would require the county liquor commissions, along with the Department of Health and the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations, to develop recommendations for maximum sound levels in urban areas. I encourage these entities to research and study this issue even though I am issuing a veto of this bill.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 605 without my approval.

State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 777, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Comprehensive Sexuality Health Education.'

This bill requires sexual health education programs that receive State funding to provide medically accurate and factual information that is age appropriate that includes education on abstinence, contraception, and prevention of unintended pregnancies and sexually transmitted diseases when engaging in intercourse.

This bill is objectionable because it will prohibit the use of State funds for a legitimate, proven form of sex education that encourages children to abstain from sexual intercourse.

Programs such as 'Try Wait,' offered by Catholic Charities, help teenagers to understand the implications of sexual activity and the options of refraining from such activity. According to data collected by the U. S. Department of Health and Human Services, Hawaii ranks 12th in the nation in teen pregnancies and 10th in the nation in sexually transmitted diseases. Students and their parents deserve to have options that provide instruction in and encourage abstinence.

The State Department of Health and the State Department of Education already provide medically accurate and factual content in the sexual health education programs they offer. The Board of Education's Policy No. 2110 requires schools' abstinence-based education programs to include information on protective devices and methods for preventing pregnancy and sexually transmitted diseases. Should the Department of Education elect to teach courses that focus on abstinence only that do not include instruction on preventing pregnancies and sexually transmitted disease, this bill would prohibit these education programs from receiving State funds.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 777 without my approval.

Honorable Members

State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 1005, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Publicity Rights.'

The purpose of this bill is to confirm the existence of a property right in the commercial use of a person's name, voice, signature, or likeness, known as the right of publicity. The bill also states that a 'publicity right' must be registered in the trade name registry maintained by the Department of Commerce and Consumer Affairs in order for the right to be recognized and protected.

It is understandable that heirs would want to protect and control the use of the images, names, and creative products of their family members who are deceased. However, such protections need to be implemented in a manner that does not adversely impact the growth of creative industries within Hawaii and that does not use a business registration system ill-suited for the protections sought.

This bill is objectionable because it fails to provide sufficient guidance and clarity on the registration rights and requirements necessary to recognize and protect 'publicity rights.'

The 'publicity right' provided for in this bill has to do with intangibles and estate transfers unrelated to a business trade name, both in law and in fact. This bill offers no meaningful guidance on how to revoke the right, how to terminate the right, the grounds for rejecting a registration, whether an appeal right exists to an administrative hearing or a court, whether the State can charge for the filing of a publicity right trade name, and how often the information must be updated. These are requirements set for the registration of trade names and trademarks that are absent in this bill.

Further, this bill allows for the registration of a publicity rights trade name that is owned by multiple parties, whereas, currently, the trade name registration system does not allow for multiple ownership. It is unclear how the State handles the registration of the publicity right when the ownership parties do not agree.

My Administration recognizes there are individuals, particularly within the Hawaiian community, who seek legal protection for the names and images of the many talented artists who are no longer with us. My Administration is willing to work with legislators, stakeholders, model legislation experts, and the National Conference of Commissioners on uniform State laws to identify and draft a bill that meets the objectives sought but not achieved in this legislation.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 1005 without my approval.

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 1183, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Discriminatory Practices.'

The purpose of this bill is to authorize and require the Hawaii Civil Rights Commission to adopt administrative rules to define certain terms regarding disability discrimination in employment.

This bill is objectionable because it is unnecessary and could lead to lesser protections for workers in the State of Hawaii.

This legislation is not required because the Hawaii Civil Rights Commission already has statutory authority to promulgate administrative rules, as clearly enumerated in section 368-3, Hawaii Revised Statutes.

States usually amend their rules after the relevant federal agency, in this case the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission has issued guidance on revisions to federal law. The federal Equal Employment Opportunity Commission has not yet issued rules pertaining to changes in the Americans with Disabilities Act, as amended in 2008, although they have recently issued a notice of proposed rulemaking. It would be premature to ask the Hawaii Civil Rights Commission to act prior to the completion of federal rulemaking. It is also improper to ask the State to complete our rules by a date certain in the absence of knowing when the federal government will finish its rulemaking process. It should be noted that changes to terms such as 'disability' can have wide ranging implications for the State in that a number of major benefit programs are provided for persons with disabilities. Thus, steps taken to revise definitions that impact these eligibilities should be undertaken with caution and not done in haste or under artificial deadlines.

Finally, it is important to point out that Hawaii has been proactive in statutorily defining protections in employment for those with disabilities. Some of our current definitions provide stronger protections for persons in the workforce than the definitions found in federal law.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 1183 without my approval.

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 1206, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Counties.'

The purpose of this bill is to allow Honolulu city and county boards to issue revenue bonds in their own name that are not subject to taxation by the State of Hawaii.

This bill is objectionable because it interferes with the jurisdictional authority of the City and County of Honolulu and agencies within that jurisdiction. The Honolulu City Charter, Section 7-105, authorizes the Honolulu Board of Water Supply to issue revenue bonds in its own name. Additionally, section 49-3 of Hawaii Revised Statutes provides all counties within the State of Hawaii with the authority to issue revenue bonds.

It is within the legitimate purview of the county councils to determine if they should exercise oversight of the revenue bond issuances of governmental and quasi-governmental entities within their respective counties. The State should not dictate what this relationship should be.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 1206 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 1218

Honorable Members

State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 1218, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Mortgage Loan Originators.'

The purpose of this bill is to establish a regulatory program for the mortgage lending industry in compliance with the requirements of the federal Secure and Fair Enforcement for Mortgage Licensing Act of 2008 (S.A.F.E. Mortgage Licensing Act of 2008).

This legislation is objectionable because it does not establish a regulatory framework that complies with the S.A.F.E. Mortgage Licensing Act. A review conducted by national officials found serious deficiencies in this proposed legislation, including the fact that the bill fails to regulate independent contractors and underwriters who initiate and finance mortgages.

Further, the proposed bill neglects to address the regulation of mortgage brokers. Mortgage brokers would continue to be licensed under the existing Hawaii Revised Statutes, Chapter 454, while mortgage solicitors, as of August 1, 2010, would no longer be subject to this chapter. Mortgage brokers, their officers, directors, and administrative staff would not be required to meet the requirements of background checks, credit checks, pre-licensing testing, and continuing education obligations because current law is silent on these requirements and the proposed legislation does not encompass brokers.

Additionally, to implement the programs in this legislation, the Department of Commerce and Consumer Affairs would use fee charges from other businesses to initially set up the mortgage industry regulations, would not be allowed to charge fees until 2012, and those fees would likely be inadequate to cover the costs of administering the program.

If this legislation does not become law, the mortgage industry in Hawaii will be regulated, pursuant to the provisions of the S.A.F.E. Mortgage Licensing Act, which balance protections for the public with adequate scope for the industry to provide its lending services.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 1218 without my approval.

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL
NO. 1224

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fifth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 1224, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Airport Concessions.'

The purpose of this bill is to authorize the State to change the terms of certain airport concession contracts between the period of July 1, 2009 through July 1, 2011. This bill would apply to a narrow group of concessionaires who entered into their contracts after November 1, 2006 and who made capital improvements to their concession premises, or who make capital improvements as a result of Act 201, Session Laws of Hawaii 2004, or Act 128, Session Laws of Hawaii 2006.

While it is understandable that concessionaires should seek relief as a result of the downturn in airline travel and the economy, this bill poses a number of fiscal and programmatic concerns. I would note that the Department of Transportation already has the ability to adjust the terms and conditions of concession contracts when specific concessionaires are experiencing economic challenges.

The Hawaii State airport system is unlike any in the rest of the United States. Fifteen airports on six islands operate as a single State-run unit. Airlines and users are charged on a single system-wide basis. More than any other state, Hawaii is dependent upon air transportation as our critical link to the rest of the globe.

This bill fails to acknowledge that the airport must be a self-sustaining operation pursuant to the mandates and operational constraints established by the United States Federal Aviation Administration. Revenues from airlines, concessionaires, and other users, as well as federal grants, landing fees, and taxes, must cover the developmental and operating costs of the State airport system. When revenues are adjusted downward for one user, they must be adjusted upward for another user.

This is particularly important to remember as the State begins its third year of a twelve year $2,300,000,000 airport modernization plan launched in 2006. This plan is funded by revenue bonds issued in the open market. The buyers of these bonds are depending upon the stream of revenues from the State to pay the interest and principal on these borrowings. The State of Hawaii is poised to issue the first increment of airport revenue bonds for the modernization project. Hawaii was fortunate that these bonds have been favorably rated by the nationally recognized bond rating firms, notably Moody's, Standard and Poor's, and Fitch, precisely because the State has pledged a stable stream of revenues to support the repayment of these bonds.

To take steps now to change course or cause the investment markets to question our commitment to financing the airport modernization project would be adverse to a project that is critical to the long-term economic health of our state. The Department of Transportation estimates that adjusting the terms and conditions of concession contracts of concessionaires experiencing economic challenges could cost between $4,100,000 and $7,100,000 per year that would otherwise be available to help cover the operational costs and bond payments to improve our airports.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 1224 without my approval.

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fifth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 1250, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Education.'

The purpose of this bill is to clarify that no individual may be employed by the Department of Education as a teacher on an emergency basis for more than four years in the aggregate and that during the time the individual is so employed, the individual shall demonstrate active pursuit of licensing as a teacher in each year of employment.

This bill is objectionable because section 302A-804, Hawaii Revised Statutes, was amended last year to limit the employment of an individual as a teacher on an emergency basis to no more than three years. This aligns Hawaii's teacher licensure requirements with the criteria for highly qualified teachers, as prescribed by the federal No Child Left Behind (NCLB) Act of 2001. Increasing the number of years that unlicensed, emergency hire teachers are allowed to teach in the classroom from three to four years misaligns State law with federal requirements that stipulate licensure in three years. This could also jeopardize federal funding under Title II of the NCLB Act and federal competitive funds available under the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act.

Furthermore, this bill amends section 302A-804 to state that individuals may be employed on an emergency basis by the Department of Education for no more than four years in the aggregate 'beginning July 1, 2009.' The amendment could be read to mean that even though an individual has worked for several years on an emergency basis as a teacher before July 1, 2009, that individual will be able to work on an emergency basis as an unlicensed teacher for an additional four years beginning on July 1, 2009. The latter possible interpretation is unacceptable.

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 1345, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Agriculture.'

The purpose of this bill is to provide additional compensation and rights to lessees of agricultural and pasture lands when the Board of Land and Natural Resources withdraws a portion of the leased land or when there is a condemnation of a portion of the leased land.

This bill is objectionable because it disproportionately and inappropriately compensates these lessees of public lands above other lessees of State lands. Current law, as embodied in Chapter 171 of Hawaii Revised Statutes, already provides procedures for the withdrawal of leased lands. Lessees must be given reasonable notice of the planned withdrawal. Their lease rents must be adjusted to reflect the portion of lands withdrawn and they must be compensated for the value of any improvements on the withdrawn portion. Further, if there are crops on the land, the lands cannot be withdrawn until the crops are harvested or the State pays for the value of the crops.

This bill would require the Board of Land and Natural Resources to also compensate certain lessees for the projected or presumed income losses they would incur on the withdrawn portions of their lease and for the insurance costs they incurred. Of even greater concern, this bill would grant these lessees an automatic extension of their lease on the remainder of the public lands they control. This automatic extension circumvents the authority of the Board of Land and Natural Resources and hinders their ability to ensure that public lands are used for the highest and best public use.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 1345 without my approval.

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS

NO. 1678

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fifth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 1678, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Taxation.'

The purpose of this bill is to implement the Streamlined Sales and Use Tax Model Agreement and Act (SSUTA) by making changes to the Hawaii tax code and enacting such changes when Congress consents to the Agreement. This bill would also grant amnesty to certain taxpayers, foregoing revenues they owe the State, and impose a destination-sourcing rule on the imposition of taxes.

This bill is objectionable because it would abdicate the authority of the State to establish, administer, and change its general excise tax structure; grants amnesty to certain taxpayers, absolving them of the requirement to pay taxes due the State; and treats out-of-state vendors more favorably than in-state vendors.

In order to comply with the Streamline Sales and Use Tax Model Agreement and Act, the State and each local taxing jurisdiction must have a single tax rate, thus requiring Hawaii to set aside its current general excise tax structure and adopt a replacement tax structure. This replacement tax structure may not be permitted under the SSUTA. Of more significant concern, once the State of Hawaii participates in the SSUTA, the State must certify to a national governing board that the State's tax laws comply with the SSUTA. Any tax law changes in Hawaii in the future would be subject to the requirements of the national governing board, thus limiting, if not turning over, to an outside body the ability of the State to determine its own tax revenue collections. Since taxes are the lifeblood of government, it is unsound public policy to give up the ability to determine the financial destiny of our state to a faceless entity thousands of miles from our shores that does not have the best interests of the people of Hawaii foremost in their consideration.

Secondly, the SSUTA requires the State to provide amnesty to out-of-state sellers that may or may not have nexus with the State. Thus, Hawaii would be relinquishing its right to collect general excise taxes that are justly due to the State. This will likely result in a revenue loss to Hawaii at a time when we can least afford to propose revenue losses.

Third, the SSUTA requires the State to pay out-of-state vendors who voluntarily participate in the SSUTA for collecting Hawaii taxes. The taxes we receive would be reduced by the collection fee paid to the out-of-state vendor. This gives out-of-state vendors an unfair advantage since Hawaii does not compensate in-state businesses for collecting and paying the required taxes.

Finally, the effective date of this bill is ambiguous in that the bill becomes effective 'when the United States Congress enacts legislation overturning Quill v. North Dakota... by consenting to the Streamlined Sales and Use Tax Agreement.' It is unclear as to what constitutes the overturning of Quill v. North Dakota and what constitutes consent to the Agreement.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 1678 without my approval.

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fifth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 128, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Elections.'

The primary purpose of this bill is to repeal and recodify, update, and clarify Chapter 11 of Hawaii Revised Statutes, the campaign spending laws. However, this bill also makes certain significant substantive amendments to the current law.

This bill is objectionable for several reasons. First, this bill changes the process for filling vacancies on the Campaign Spending Commission by significantly reducing the number of nominees. Rather than making a selection from the original list of ten individuals, as presently provided for in section 11-192, Hawaii Revised Statutes, the Governor will be required to select from only two names submitted by the Judicial Council.

Second, this bill narrows the prohibition on contributions by State and county contractors presently specified in section 11-205.5, Hawaii Revised Statutes, to only those contractors that are exempt from competitive bid solicitations pursuant to chapters 102, 103, 103D, and 103F, Hawaii Revised Statutes. The bill further indicates that State and county contractors who are selected via a 'competitive solicitation process' will be allowed to make political contributions, but fails to define this term, which is not defined in State procurement statutes.

Third, this bill increases the limit on campaign contributions by nonresidents from the twenty percent presently specified in section 11-204.5, Hawaii Revised Statutes, to thirty percent of the total contributions received by a candidate or candidate committee in an election period, allowing more non-Hawaii entities to influence local elections.

Finally, this bill allows surplus or residual campaign funds to be contributed by a candidate to the candidate's party as long as they are not earmarked for another candidate. This means donors who contributed funds to a specific candidate because they supported and admired the opinions of that candidate, may see their funds diverted to a political party that may or may not reflect their views and philosophy.

These types of significant changes in our campaign finance laws should be carefully and thoroughly discussed before they become part of the manner in which we finance political campaigns in this state.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 128 without my approval.

Respectfully,

/s/ Linda Lingle

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 183

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fifth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 183, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Education.'

The purpose of this bill is to expand the membership of the Hawaii Teacher Standards Board, allow the Hawaii Teacher Standards Board to employ an executive director approved by the Board of Education, and authorize the Hawaii Teacher Standards Board to grant additional licensing extensions.

This bill fails to address fundamental problems identified by the Legislative Auditor in the operations and authority of the Hawaii Teacher Standards Board. Specifically, the Auditor found this Board is 'in a state of confusion, unable to develop, administer, and deliver an effective teacher licensing program.' The Auditor pointed out that the Board's action jeopardized the Department of Education's ability to meet No Child Left Behind (NCLB). Most serious was the fact that the executive director of the Board approved approximately 3,800 teacher licenses since 2003 without the explicit authority to do so.

The Auditor found numerous other problems, including the expenditure of $1 million on two sole source contracts that failed to complete the task of developing an on-line licensing program. The Auditor concluded that the laws governing the Hawaii Teacher Standards Board should be repealed and the responsibility for teacher licensing be transferred to the Board of Education.

This legislation does not correct the underlying problems with the operations of the Board.

The Legislature could have directly and accurately addressed the problems with the Hawaii Teacher Standards Board by following the Auditor's recommendations that the statutes governing the operations of the Board be repealed and the responsibility for teacher licensing be transferred to the Board of Education. I urge the Legislature to address this matter swiftly in the 2010 legislative session.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 183 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 541

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fifth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 541, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to Civil Service Personnel.’

The purpose of this bill is to amend the repeal date for Act 221, Session Laws of Hawaii 2005, from June 30, 2009, to June 30, 2011. The purpose of Act 221, Session Laws of Hawaii 2005, was to ensure that the civil service benefits of Department of Education civil service employees are the same as those provided to civil service employees of other executive branch agencies pursuant to chapter 76, Hawaii Revised Statutes.

This bill is legally flawed because it cannot accomplish its purpose by amending the repeal date for Act 221, Session Laws of Hawaii 2005, from June 30, 2009, to June 30, 2011. This bill would take effect on July 1, 2009, but Act 221, Session Laws of Hawaii 2005, will already have been repealed on June 30, 2009.

Act 51, Session Laws of Hawaii 2004, provided the Department of Education with the authority and responsibility to establish its own civil service system separate from the civil service system administered by the Department of Human Resources Development. Effective July 1, 2005, the Department of Education was supposed to have administered its own civil service system pursuant to Act 51.

Act 221, Session Laws of Hawaii 2005, provided that civil service employees transferred to the Department of Education from other executive branch agencies retained their benefits during the period of transition when the Department of Education was establishing its own civil service system.

The Department has had five years to develop this system. The Department of Education has received training from the State Department of Human Resources Development and received sample rules, forms, and procedures more than four years ago to make it easier for them to adopt their own civil service system. Yet, they have failed to implement their own system.

To continue to give Department of Education more time to do the work they were supposed to do almost five years ago is no guarantee they will ever fulfill their responsibilities to enact their own civil service system. It is appropriate that Act 221, Session Laws of Hawaii 2005, be repealed.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 541 without my approval.

This bill is objectionable because it is unnecessary, duplicative legislation. House Bill No. 1464, also passed by the Legislature, includes the same amendment made by this bill. Because I approved House Bill No. 1464 as Act 155, there is no need to also approve this bill.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 754

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fifth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 754, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to the Hawaii Tourism Authority.’

The purpose of this bill is to make various changes to the Hawaii Tourism Authority. In addition, this bill would divert approximately $7,500,000 from the general fund to the Tourism Special Fund in Fiscal Year 2010-2011.

This bill is objectionable because it makes a number of changes to the Hawaii Tourism Authority that have the potential to negatively impact our most important industry. First, the bill removes the authority of the Department of Business, Economic Development and Tourism to conduct tourism research and statistics. The bill transfers this responsibility to the Hawaii Tourism Authority and gives it the power to contract for these services.

While this change may seem insignificant on its face, I believe it has the ability to jeopardize the independence and accuracy of the research we receive. It is critical that the agency charged with achieving tourism goals separate itself from the agency responsible for measuring how well those goals have been met. This separation provides credibility and stronger public confidence in both the data and the respective agencies.

In addition, I am disappointed that the Legislature has chosen to remove the four ex-officio members from the Hawaii Tourism Authority Board in this bill. These members represent the Department of Business, Economic Development and Tourism, the Department of Land and Natural Resources, the Department of Transportation, and the State Foundation on Culture and the Arts. These individuals represent key agencies with missions that directly relate to the tourism industry. Their expertise and experience strengthen the Board and help guide decisions regarding the types of tourism products offered. Removing them serves no public purpose and does a disservice to those who depend upon a healthy tourism industry for their livelihood.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 754 without my approval.

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

July 15, 2009

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 975

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fifth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 975, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Agricultural Water Systems.'

The purpose of this bill is to allow the Agricultural Development Corporation to accept agricultural water systems as a gift without gubernatorial oversight and without going through the standard prescribed county subdivision requirements.

The Agricultural Development Corporation already has the authority to acquire agricultural water systems pursuant to the requirements of Chapter 163D, Hawaii Revised Statutes. However, this bill raises serious liability and home rule issues that go beyond the current authority of the Corporation.

This proposed legislation allows the owner of a water system to transfer that system to the State after they have completed a metes and bounds survey, but without executing the process of a formal subdivision as required by the counties. Failure to follow subdivision ordinances will mean the parcel being transferred, as well as the balance of the parcel not transferred, will not be formally recognized by the county. The absence of records will hinder the ability of the counties to issue building and related permits, as well as ensure that the parcel has adequate access for fire protection and police purposes, is not prone to environmental hazards, and does not contain other features that can affect the surrounding community and adjoining property owners. For these reasons, the counties objected to this legislation.

The bill is silent as to the liabilities the State will be incurring upon acceptance of a gifted agricultural waterway. Many of these systems were built at the beginning of the previous century and require major repairs and renovations to their spillways, drains, flooding outlets, and ditch beds. To shift these responsibilities to the State, without accompanying resources, imposes upon the State significant costs, as well as exposes the State to liabilities should operational hazards occur with these ditches. A study of the Lake Wilson water system found, for example, that operational conditions of the dam and spillway could impose costs of $6-8 million on State residents.

The Administration recognizes the role that water pays in the success and sustainability of agricultural operations in Hawaii. We also recognize the important role the Agricultural Development Corporation plays in operating a limited number of agricultural water systems. However, to require the State to accept additional systems without adequate protections and by circumventing the counties and the land management procedures they have in place is not prudent public policy and does not work to the benefit of the parties involved.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 975 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 1271

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fifth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1271, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Government.'

The purpose of House Bill No. 1271 is to provide a source of funding to support government programs, personnel, task forces, and grants-in-aid intended to promote energy and food security in the State. The funding will be generated by instituting a $1.00 increase in the tax imposed on each barrel or fractional part of a barrel of oil sold by a distributor to any retail dealer or end user in the State.

This bill is objectionable because it raises taxes on Hawaii residents and businesses by an estimated $31 million per year at a time when the community can least afford these taxes. Just like the many struggling families and business owners across our state, we must prioritize expenditures in a budget and then learn to live within our means.

What is particularly important to recognize is that higher energy prices discriminate against poor families more than any other group in our society. Energy costs comprise a higher percentage of family expenses for those at the lower income levels. Their ability to curtail their energy usage is marginal. What is particularly disturbing is these taxes on the poor would most benefit businesses and wealthier individuals who can afford to purchase a photovoltaic system or invest in a solar panel company. This taxing policy runs counter to a progressive tax structure.

As I have said before, we cannot tax our way out of the fiscal crisis we are in. We must make tough choices and direct the funds we have to the areas that need it most. I agree that energy and food security are important and have prioritized funding for these programs and personnel through the Executive Biennium Budget. The Legislature, however, chose to prioritize other programs and is now asking the taxpayer to bear the burden through higher gas prices, utility bills, shipping costs, airline fares, and numerous impacts that will ripple through our entire economic system.

I believe the bill's supporters have the best interest of the State in mind. During my Administration, energy and food security have been top priorities and I have been pleased to work with the Legislature, federal officials, academia, and members of the private sector on these important issues.

In 2006, the Legislature passed and I signed ground-breaking legislation known as Energy for Tomorrow that laid the foundation to wean Hawaii off imported oil. In 2008, my Administration signed a historic, one-of-a-kind agreement with the U. S. Department of Energy intended to decrease energy demand and accelerate the use of renewable energy resources in Hawaii. This year, I joined the Legislature in supporting legislation drafted by members of the Hawaii Clean Energy Initiative that will help us meet our goal of 70 percent clean energy by 2030. I am proud to share these accomplishments with the Legislature and others who are committed to strengthening our economy and making Hawaii a cleaner, greener, place to live.

I believe we can continue to make significant progress in this arena without this tax and the bureaucracies it will fund. We must, however, be willing to make the tough choices and work together to prioritize the public programs that have the potential to do the most good for our state.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 1271 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 1471

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fifth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1471, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Farms.'

The purpose of this bill is to appropriate $140,000 from the Hawaii Tourism Authority Special Fund to finance a one year pilot food safety certification program. The program is to be managed by the State Department of Agriculture with the assistance of the Department of Health.

The safety of our food is of utmost concern to all and remains a priority for the State of Hawaii. The Department of Health is responsible for investigating complaints regarding food-borne illnesses and maintains a rigorous inspection and investigation program to ensure that foods are properly handled, particularly in restaurants, hotels, and food markets. They conduct hundreds of inspections each year on behalf of Hawaii consumers and have important enforcement powers to close establishments that do not abide by cleanliness and proper food handling procedures.

Likewise, the State Department of Agriculture has worked with farmers, ranchers, and the fishing industry on their picking, packing, shipping, and sanitation programs. In 2007 the Department started an innovative program to trace certain food products through a radio frequency tracking system starting in the fields at the farm all the way to the consumer's table. Additionally, Department of Agriculture inspectors conduct regular inspections of food shipments into Hawaii to ensure foods do not contain pests, mold, and harmful insects.

The proposed pilot program contained in this bill diverts State tourism funds to a program that has already been adopted by some Hawaii farmers on a voluntary basis. The link between the uses of the Tourism Special Fund and this program does not meet the criteria set forth in State statutes. In particular, HRS 37-52.3 requires special funds to be used only for the purposes originally sought, must reflect a clear nexus between the benefits and the charges imposed on a particular group of people, and must demonstrate that it can be self-sustaining. The use of tourism dollars in this bill fails to meet these criteria.

Furthermore, this bill does not contain a statutory enforcement mechanism nor does it give the Department of Agriculture rulemaking authority to enforce the food safety certification program. As such, this appears to be a gesture to improve food safety without the teeth necessary to make it a viable program.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 1471 without my approval.

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1525, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Medicaid.'

The purpose of this bill is to require the Department of Human Services to include specified reporting requirements in all future Medicaid health insurance plan contracts.

This bill is objectionable because it requires reporting requirements that will not improve the Department of Human Services' ability to provide quality health care services to Medicaid clients or expand access to care for those patients. Instead, this bill requires non-essential information that is designed to deliberately reflect detrimentally upon private health care provider organizations who wish to contract with the State.

For example, the bill requires health insurance organizations to provide employment information, including the compensation provided to the five highest paid Hawaii employees and the five highest paid employees nationwide, and a description of each position. Other requirements include the amount of funds set aside to meet shareholder payments. This data is irrelevant to the issue that matters most--are Medicaid patients receiving quality care at the most cost-effective rate for the State.

It is time for legislators to support the new, more cost-effective approach the State has taken to contracting for Medicaid services and recognize the courts and the State Procurement Office have reaffirmed the validity of the contracts.

For the foregoing reason, I am returning House Bill No. 1525 without my approval.

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1538, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Environmentally-Sensitive Products.'

The purpose of this bill is to require the Department of Education to give first preference, where feasible, to the purchase of environmentally-sensitive cleaning and maintenance products, approved by Green Seal, for use at public school facilities. It also requires the Department of Health to develop and maintain a list of Green Seal approved products for use as a first preference guideline by the Department of Education.

Although the intent of this bill has merit, the bill is objectionable because it gives first preference to products certified by a single private organization--Green Seal. Unlike similar legislation adopted by other states, this bill does not include the more comprehensive and scientifically reliable certifications granted by the U. S. Environmental Protection Agency. It is preferable for the State to use federal guidelines and certifications, particularly when they pertain to health and safety issues.

Secondly, the purchase preference created in this bill cannot be applied to disinfectants, which are commonly used in schools to protect students, teachers, and staff from the spread of infectious diseases.

Additionally, the bill uses a procurement preference which is not recognized in the State procurement code or in procurement regulations, making the Department of Education's purchasing decisions subject to legal challenge.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 1538 without my approval.

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 1544

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fifth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1544, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Tax Exemptions.'

The purpose of this bill is to phase out the Hawaii income tax personal exemption starting in tax year 2009. This measure decreases the Hawaii personal exemption of $1,040 per person by two percent for every $2,500 over the income threshold of $119,963 for individual filers and $179,963 for joint filers. The measure sunsets on June 30, 2015.

This bill is objectionable because it is a tax increase on Hawaii residents and businesses at a time when additional taxation will delay our economic recovery. Unlike the Hawaii personal exemption of $1,040, which has not been adjusted since 1985, the current federal income tax personal exemption is $3,500 and it is adjusted annually for inflation.

The purpose of a personal exemption was to recognize that a certain basic level of income should not be taxed since it serves as a floor to cover living costs. This original purpose has seriously eroded over time. Hawaii's personal exemption is only one-third of what the federal government recognizes and does not take into account the current higher cost of living in Hawaii and the escalating costs households and businesses are experiencing.

Finally, this bill targets the same group of taxpayers that are already affected by the income tax increase enacted by the Legislature earlier this session. It will particularly impact those companies that report their income as personal income. This legislation will further curtail their ability to create jobs or increase wages of their current employees. It is inappropriate for the same taxpayers to shoulder more tax burden, which discourages spending and investments.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 1544 without my approval.

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 1552

Honorable Members
Twenty-Fifth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1552, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Public Lands.'

The purpose of this bill is to establish a living park planning council to develop a master plan for State living parks and to place a two-year moratorium on evictions of persons who reside in the Kahana Valley State Park and who meet certain criteria.

This bill is objectionable because section 3 of the bill violates Section 5 of Article XI of the Hawaii Constitution. This section provides that '[t]he legislative power over the lands owned by or under the control of the State and its political subdivisions shall be exercised only by general laws, except in respect to transfers to or for the use of the State, or a political subdivision, or any department or agency thereof.' The bill's moratorium provision contemplates applicability to a certain group of private persons who are allowed to use State lands, granting them State-imbued special privileges. The classification of persons allowed to benefit from the moratorium is factually limited to those already benefitting from the use of the State lands. As such, the moratorium provision of this bill is special legislation in violation of Section 5 of Article XI of the Hawaii Constitution. See Sierra Club v. Dept. of Transportation, 120 Hawaii 181, 202 P.2d 1226 (2009).

My Administration recognizes the special relationship certain families have had with Kahana Valley and the ahupua'a used by pre-contact Hawaiians that existed in this region. We also recognize that efforts to develop a consensus plan on the management and direction of this living park have not succeeded for the past 39 years. I believe it is important to respect the attachment of certain families to the lands within the park. As a result, I am affirming in this veto message my Administration's commitment to not evict the families in the park during the balance of the term of my Administration, as long as the persons residing in the park meet their lease responsibilities to participate in activities benefitting the park and do not engage in criminal activities.

Further, I am pledging my commitment to introduce legislation in the 2010 legislative session that would allow the Department of Land and Natural Resources to issue replacement leases to those who qualified for such leases, pursuant to Act 5 of 1987 and who agree to abide by the original intent and requirements of that Act.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 1552 without my approval.

Senate Bill No. 300, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1 as Act 177, entitled: "RELATING TO INTOXICATING LIQUOR."

"Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: Senate Bill No. 300 SD2 HD2 CD1

On July 15, 2009, Senate Bill No. 300, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Intoxicating Liquor' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

The purpose of this bill is to require restaurants, retailers, dispensers, clubs, cabarets, hotels, brewpubs, and condominium hotels to maintain liquor liability coverage in an amount of $1,000,000. In addition, this bill prohibits the county liquor commissions from issuing, renewing, or transferring a liquor license unless the applicant can show proof of the mandated insurance coverage.

I understand the intent of this legislation and support efforts to encourage responsible business practices. When tragedy occurs, those who have taken proactive measures to protect themselves should not be burdened disproportionately because others were less responsible.

This bill raises concerns because it has the potential to put some small establishments out of business. There is reason to believe that smaller liquor establishments are either unaware of the requirements of this legislation or unable to afford the mandated coverage. Many of the businesses in this situation are owned and operated by immigrants who are non-native English speakers.

In addition, I am concerned about the immediacy of the bill's July 1, 2009 effective date. This effective date provides no grace period for businesses to learn about the bill, contact an insurance company, negotiate a quote, secure a policy, and generate the necessary funds that would be needed to comply. My office has been working with the Executive Directors of the Liquor Commissions of the four counties to allow for a reasonable period of time for liquor establishments to comply before instituting punitive actions against these businesses.

Finally, it should be noted that insurance mandates do not address the root of the problem. Until people take personal responsibility for their actions and change their behavior, we will continue to see deaths on our roads as a result of drinking and driving. Unfortunately, no amount of money can bring back a loved one lost because of another person's irresponsible behavior. We must all work hard to address this issue in our communities and among our family and friends if we want to affect real change.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed Senate Bill No. 300 to become law as Act 177, effective July 15, 2009, without my signature.

Sincerely,

/s/ Linda Lingle

Senate Bill No. 199, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 2 as Act 178, entitled: "RELATING TO TAXATION."

"Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: Senate Bill No. 199 SD1 HD1 CD2

On July 15, 2009, Senate Bill No. 199, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Taxation' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

The purpose of this law is to amend the High Technology Business Investment Tax Credit by limiting claims to 80 percent of tax liability, allowing only one to one credit allocation ratios, and eliminating carryovers for investments made between May 1, 2009 and December 31, 2010. This law also suspends the Capital Goods Excise Tax Credit for investments, renovation costs, or the purchase of eligible depreciable tangible properties from December 1, 2008 through December 31, 2009.

This bill retains Hawaii's high technology investment tax credits as one of the most generous credits available from state governments. Investors will still be allowed to claim up to one hundred percent of the amounts invested against their tax liability and will be able to offset up to eighty percent of the actual income taxes owed each year.

However, it should be recognized that this bill changes the terms of the High Technology Investment Tax Credits eighteen months prior to the expiration of these credits. I am concerned that this sends a signal to potential investors and the business community that they cannot depend upon the continuation of a government policy that encouraged them to behave in a certain manner, presuming the same investment rules would stay in place through 2010.

Also, the suspension of the Capital Goods Excise Tax Credit is troubling because this credit assists Hawaii's businesses with capital good investments. This is the time when companies should be encouraged to make such investments as one of our economic recovery tools. Certainly encouraging the purchase of capital goods was recognized by President Obama's Administration when they included bonus depreciation provisions in the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act.

On balance, I believe the fiscal implications of this legislation outweigh the concerns I have noted above. For the foregoing reasons, I allowed Senate Bill No. 199 to become law as Act 178, effective July 15, 2009, without my signature.

Sincerely,

"Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: House Bill No. 1316 HD2 SD1 CD1

On July 15, 2009, House Bill No. 1316, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Torts' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

The purpose of this bill is to provide a limitation on the liability for design professionals engaged in work on highway projects where a design professional is determined to be a joint tortfeasor along with one or more other joint tortfeasors, the degree of negligence is ten percent or less, and the contract value was $1,000,000 or less.

This bill raises concerns because it gives a negligent design professional more protection from liability than the law affords the developer, the State of Hawaii, the counties, or the construction entities, who rely on the expertise of the design professional when building the highway.

This bill amends by law previous contracts between design professionals and the developers, the State of Hawaii, the counties, or the construction entities. I am concerned that this allows the professional to avoid contractual duties and obligations they fairly and voluntarily entered into.

The State recognizes that some design professionals elect not to bid on State highway projects as a result of the liability exposure that might accrue as a result of working on these projects. We believe the more appropriate approach would be to enact meaningful tort reform in Hawaii that would cover most professions and also put reasonable limits on the financial exposure of the State and the counties.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed House Bill No. 1316 to become law as Act 179, effective July 15, 2009, without my signature.

Senate Bill No. 603, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1 as Act 180, entitled: "RELATING TO PUBLIC UTILITIES."

"Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: Senate Bill No. 603 SD1 HD1 CD1

On July 15, 2009, Senate Bill No. 603, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Public Utilities' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

The purpose of this bill is to direct the Public Utilities Commission of the State of Hawaii to treat local exchange intrastate services as fully competitive.

The intent of this bill is laudable in that it attempts to update Hawaii's regulatory framework for telecommunications providers and create market parity among phone service providers. However, several provisions of this bill raise concerns because the language is vague and extends beyond the intended scope.

This bill directs that 'fully competitive' treatment be accorded to local exchange intrastate services, '[n]otwithstanding section 269-16.9 or any other law to the contrary.' The provisions in the bill, however, are not limited to local exchange intrastate services and providers of such services. Rather, the provisions extend to any telecommunications carrier, not just a carrier providing local exchange intrastate service.

Under the bill, any telecommunications carrier may modify its rates and services without the approval of the Commission, regardless of whether the carrier has received an exemption pursuant to section 269-16.9, Hawaii Revised Statutes. In addition, the carrier is not required to provide cost support and other information to the Commission for such modifications.

The absence of cost support and other information may impair the ability of the Commission to fulfill the statutory directive in section 269-40, Hawaii Revised Statutes, to ensure that all consumers are provided with 'nondiscriminatory, reasonable, and equitable access to high quality telecommunication network facilities and capabilities ... at just, reasonable, and nondiscriminatory rates that are based on reasonably identifiable costs of providing the services.'

The bill provides that a telecommunications carrier's rates for any retail telecommunications service cannot be higher than the rate for the same service included in the carrier's filed tariff 'except upon receiving the approval of the commission.'

The significance of the Commission's approval with respect to rate increases for local exchange intrastate service is questionable, given the 'fully competitive' treatment directed by the bill. With regard to any other telecommunications service, the Commission's role is in doubt because the bill provides that all rates, fares, charges, and bundled service offerings shall be filed with the Commission for 'information purposes only,' which raises a question as to whether any applicable tariff can be enforced by the Commission.

Because this language creates an ambiguity over the role of the Commission in enforcing tariffs, my Administration will be proposing amendments to this bill for consideration by the 2010 Legislature that deletes this clause and clarifies the scope and applicability of this measure.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed Senate Bill No. 603 to become law as Act 180, effective July 15, 2009, without my signature.

Sincerely,

House Bill No. 1550, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, C.D. 1 as Act 181, entitled: "RELATING TO TAXATION."

"Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: House Bill No. 1550 HD2 SD1 CD1

On July 15, 2009, House Bill No. 1550, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Taxation' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

The purpose of this bill is to amend Hawaii's income tax law to impose a State income tax on rollovers or transfers made by State and county employees from qualifying deferred compensation plans and qualifying annuity plans to eligible retirement plans.

However, although it was the intent of the legislative conference committee to tax both rollovers and transfers, as stated in the committee report, the actual language of House Bill No. 1550 only imposes a State tax liability on moneys that are rolled over from a qualifying account to the Employees' Retirement System plan. This inadvertent mistake may result in unequal treatment of those State and county employees who choose to purchase Employees' Retirement System hybrid plan credits in a lump sum via a rollover of funds, as defined in the Internal Revenue Code, sections 403 and 457, versus those employees who elect to transfer funds in accordance with the definitions contained in these sections of the Internal Revenue Code.

I encourage the Department of Taxation and the Employees' Retirement System to implement this measure fairly by ensuring equal tax treatment of all public employees using deferred-compensation and annuity plans for their hybrid plan upgrade. In addition, I also encourage the Legislature to fix this technical error in the bill language during the 2010 legislative session.

Senate Bill No. 1673, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1 as Act 182, entitled: "RELATING TO THE HAWAII HEALTH SYSTEMS CORPORATION."

"Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: Senate Bill No. 1673 SD2 HD2 CD1

On July 15, 2009, Senate Bill No. 1673, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to the Hawaii Health Systems Corporation' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

The purpose of this bill is to make changes to the laws that affect the operations of the Hawaii Health Systems Corporation (HHSC), the regional system boards, and their facilities. The legislation attempts to begin the reforms necessary to strengthen the network of thirteen public hospitals in our state. However, I am concerned that this bill is unclear in several important respects which will make implementation difficult.

One important reform made by this bill is that it would allow individual facilities to transition into various other legal entities, including non-profit, for-profit, or public benefit corporations. The bill states that upon its transition, 'all liabilities of the regional system or facility related to collective bargaining contracts negotiated by the State, shall become the responsibility of the State[.]'

This provision is unclear because it does not define which liabilities are being addressed. It could be interpreted that only pending collective bargaining disputes, grievances, or issues become the responsibility of the State once the facility has transitioned into a new legal entity. However, it could also be argued that this provision means that the State must continue to pay the wages for the State workers after the facility has transitioned to a private entity. This lack of clarity could cause significant problems. In addition, this provision could create a sizeable financial burden for the State since there are no limitations contained in the bill. I believe this section must be clarified before any transitions occur.

Second, it appears that the 'transition' language in the bill would authorize a HHSC facility to become a private entity. However, the bill as currently written does not specifically state that this new entity would be exempt from chapters 76 and 89, Hawaii Revised Statutes, the civil service laws and collective bargaining laws, respectively.

In 1997 the Hawaii Supreme Court held that the government could not privatize one of its operations without express statutory authority. In 2004, the Hawaii Supreme Court further held that the privatization of another government operation was legal because there was a statute that mandated the privatization. This bill does not mandate privatization of HHSC facilities, but by implication allows for it.

Because there is no direct precedent, it is difficult to predict whether the Hawaii appellate courts would find this to be sufficient language to permit HHSC facilities to become private entities and abolish their civil service positions. This uncertainty could cause lengthy and costly litigation that should be avoided by clearer drafting of the law.

Additionally, we remain concerned that this bill transfers to the Department of Health liabilities and debts that the HHSC hospitals accrued prior to June 30, 1996. It is unclear how this transfer will occur under generally accepted accounting principles, since the receivables are not properly reflected on the books of the corporation.

While certain provisions in this bill make small steps towards reforms needed to improve the viability of our public hospital system, such as allowing criminal background checks, I had hoped for more aggressive and comprehensive efforts to address the fiscal problems of the public hospitals. My Administration has outlined a vision for reform, which was presented to the Legislature by the State's Director of Health, Dr. Chiyome Fukino, that deserves serious consideration.

It will be necessary to amend this law in the next legislative session to resolve the ambiguities in the bill.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed Senate Bill No. 1673 to become law as Act 182, effective July 15, 2009, without my signature.

House Bill No. 1809, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, C.D. 1 as Act 183, entitled: "RELATING TO RECYCLING."

"Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: House Bill No. 1809 HD2 SD1 CD1

On July 15, 2009, House Bill No. 1809, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Recycling' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

The purpose of this bill is to mandate the recycling of televisions sold in the State by expanding the Department of Health's existing electronic device recycling program.

As I have stated in the past, I have strong concerns about establishing new State programs that are not essential to nor improve the efficiency of government. Given that we face a budget shortfall of at least $2.73 billion over the next several years, I question how the Legislature can justify passing legislation that creates a new program and increases the demand on personnel, while at the same time making funding reductions to State departments.

In addition, I am concerned that the program created by this bill places numerous requirements on manufacturers and retailers that will increase the cost of doing business in our state. Further, the fees and increased reporting requirements mandated by this bill will likely be passed on to consumers through higher retail prices.

While I agree that it is important to encourage proper recycling methods for computers, televisions, and other electronic devices, the private sector already provides a number of options to consumers and these options continue to grow. In the Department of Health's report to the Legislature on Act 13,

Special Session Laws of 2008, I note the following reference to a recycling program developed by the Sony Corporation:

'Sony established a national recycling program for consumer electronics. The Sony Take Back Recycling Program allows consumers to recycle all Sony-branded products for no fee at 75 Waste Management Recycle America eCycling drop-off centers throughout the U.S. The program, began on September 15, 2007 (and) was developed in collaboration with WM Recycle America, LLC, a wholly owned subsidiary of Waste Management, Inc. The program also allows consumers to recycle other manufacturers' consumer electronics products at market prices, and may include a recycling fee for some types of materials.'

Given that programs such as this already exist in the private sector, there is little advantage to be gained by setting up a State-managed television recycling program.

Despite these strong concerns, I am allowing this bill to become law without my signature. If this bill does not become law, televisions would be subject to the more onerous recycling requirements of Act 13 of the 2008 Special Session. In the coming 2010 Legislative Session, I encourage the Legislature to reconsider its support for both the electronic device and television recycling programs in this bill and in Act 13 and consider repealing them.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed House Bill No. 1809 to become law as Act 183, effective July 15, 2009, without my signature.

Senate Bill No. 470, H.D. 1, C.D. 1 as Act 184, entitled: "RELATING TO LIQUOR."

"Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: Senate Bill No. 470 HD1 CD1

On July 15, 2009, Senate Bill No. 470, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Liquor' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

The purpose of this bill is to make various amendments to the State's liquor laws. Included in these amendments are provisions that: 1) allow the Department of Taxation to provide tax clearances to liquor establishments for license renewals as long as these establishments enter into a payment plan for taxes owed, 2) allow the county liquor commissions to extend the deadline for making liquor license application decisions from a maximum of 30 days up to 120 days, and 3) allow the county liquor commissions to use up to ten percent of fines collected to fund public liquor-related educational and enforcement programs.

While this measure is well-intentioned, I have concerns regarding two provisions in this bill. Although I understand the economic difficulties that liquor establishments are facing as a result of the current downturn, I am concerned that this bill does not provide a means for immediately revoking a liquor license if an establishment fails to make payments to the Department of Taxation while already on an installment plan for taxes owed. Currently, contractors are able to obtain temporary tax clearances and renew their licenses as long as they enter into a payment plan with the Department of Taxation. However, their license can be promptly revoked if the contractor fails to make payments. For liquor establishments, the only way for the Department of Taxation to proceed with a liquor license revocation is to apply to the county liquor commissions for a hearing, which allows a liquor establishment to operate without paying taxes until the commission makes the decision to revoke the license.

Additionally, I am concerned that extending the deadline for making liquor license application decisions will result in longer wait times for small businesses attempting to set up an establishment that requires a liquor license. Since liquor establishments must locate and lease space prior to applying for a liquor license, it would be difficult for these businesses to continue paying rent for their establishment up to 120 days after the hearings process when they cannot start operations until a license is approved. While I understand that the original intent is to allow the county liquor commissions more time to evaluate establishments with complicated liquor license applications, rather than automatically denying those establishments a license, timetables should be limited to ensure licenses are granted expeditiously.

Since the intent of this measure is to help businesses struggling during these economic times, I hope the county liquor commissions will work with all stakeholders to administer this bill fairly and equitably so that the above concerns can be addressed.

On July 15, 2009, House Bill No. 591, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to Public Utilities’ became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

The purpose of this bill is to allow the Public Utilities Commission to establish preferential rates for renewable energy produced in conjunction with agricultural activities.

This measure is intended to provide an incentive to both agricultural and renewable energy producers by providing better rates to agricultural energy producers selling electricity to utilities. While the Lingle-Aiona Administration supports local agricultural production and the goal to increase renewable energy, this bill could result in shifting of the costs of electricity onto consumers to compensate for the preferential rates given to agricultural operations. I am concerned that this cost shifting could adversely impact the bulk of electrical users in the State.

Moreover, the phrase ‘renewable energy produced in conjunction with agricultural activities’ lacks clarity as to what constitutes a sufficient relationship between energy production and agricultural activities. It would be unfortunate if non-agricultural producers are able to take advantage of the vague wording in this measure to establish preferential rates intended to support agricultural operations.

“Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: House Bill No. 1379 HD2 SD2 CD1

On July 15, 2009, House Bill No. 1379, entitled ‘A Bill for an Act Relating to Physician Orders for Life Sustaining Treatment’ became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

The purpose of this bill is to create a means for individuals or their surrogates to provide evidence of their wishes regarding life sustaining treatment to health care providers through a standardized form.

I support measures that help individuals and their families make personal decisions about end of life care. The Physician Orders for Life Sustaining Treatment form created by this bill would give individuals an opportunity to be very specific about the course of medical attention they desire should they become gravely ill or incapacitated. In addition, this form has the potential to provide clear guidance to emergency care workers regarding what types of life sustaining treatment they should provide to a critically ill patient.

Whenever possible, decisions regarding end of life care should be made by individuals before they become ill or incapacitated. Making such decisions through an advance healthcare directive, living will, or another legal form provides friends and family members with clear guidance about the level of care one desires and can help alleviate some of the pain when a loved one is suffering.

While I can understand and support the intent of this legislation, I am concerned about provisions in the bill that allow a surrogate to make decisions on behalf of an incapacitated patient without the patient’s knowledge or authorization. Specifically, the bill states that the Physician Orders for Life Sustaining Treatment form may be executed by a physician and a surrogate if the patient is incapacitated. I am concerned that this provision could lead to an abuse by a surrogate. In addition, it is unclear why the authors of the bill feel that a surrogate should be afforded the power to make life sustaining treatment decisions without authorization or appointment by the patient.

We must be cautious when legislating in areas that deal with such complex ethical questions. While it makes sense to give individuals the opportunity to make decisions about life sustaining treatments, it is questionable why government should give that same authority to surrogates who may not represent the patient’s wishes.

"Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: House Bill No. 994 HD1 SD2 CD1

On July 15, 2009, House Bill No. 994, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Tourism' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

The purpose of this bill is to appropriate $500,000 for the application of a spaceport license from the Federal Aviation Administration. An appropriation of $250,000 will come from the Department of Transportation's Airport Revenue Fund and a similar amount from the Hawaii Tourism Authority's Tourism Special Fund.

Over the past year, Hawaii's tourism industry has faced devastating losses due to a downturn in the global economy. While we work to rebuild this critical industry, we must also diversify and strengthen tourism opportunities for the future. Space tourism has the potential to provide business opportunities and jobs for our state as new applications dependent on commercial space transportation emerge.

A number of companies are at work to develop reusable launch vehicles that could be used to carry people to space and potentially enable the development of a commercial space tourism industry. Some of these companies have expressed interest in launching this type of vehicle from Honolulu and/or Kona International Airports. In order to start the process to become a launch site, Hawaii must obtain a commercial space transportation license from the Federal Aviation Administration.

This bill would start the application process for a commercial space transportation license from the Federal Aviation Administration. Specifically, the funding provided would support the work needed to conduct the environmental and safety studies required for licensure.

In light of the State's economic situation, I have serious concerns about the appropriations made in this bill. First, monies from the Tourism Special Fund should be targeted towards marketing programs which will translate into immediate returns for the tourism industry. Given that a spaceport will take a number of years to come to fruition, may never happen, and may not be self-sustaining if built, it is difficult to justify spending any amount of public money on a spaceport license.

Second, monies from the Airport Revenue Fund must be approved for use by the Federal Aviation Administration. It is clear that more discussion will be required with the Federal Aviation Administration to ensure the funds appropriated by this measure can be used for the intended purpose. In addition, I am concerned that tapping into the Airport Revenue Fund could be interpreted as a deviation from our focus to use these monies for the much needed Airports Modernization Initiative.

State law presently prohibits inmates from receiving public assistance.

Although I support the policy of screening inmates for public assistance, this task might have been more easily accomplished through a Memorandum of Agreement or Memorandum of Understanding between the Department of Public Safety and the Department of Human Services. "Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: Senate Bill No. 764 SD2 HD2 CD1

On July 15, 2009, Senate Bill No. 764, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Real Property' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

The purpose of this bill is to change the process for renegotiating the amount of rent during the term of an existing commercial or industrial lease, unless expressly stated otherwise in the lease. The bill requires the term 'fair and reasonable' annual rent of any lease of commercial or industrial leasehold property to be construed as fair and reasonable to both the lessor and the lessee to the lease, and to consider other relevant circumstances relating to the lease, such as surface characteristics of the property. If the lessee is a master lessee, these requirements shall apply if the master lessee agrees to act comparably when determining the renegotiated sublease rental amount charged to a sublessee.

This measure appears to be targeted at a single landowner for the benefit of its lessees. The ability to freely negotiate contracts without government intrusion is essential to a fair and open marketplace and a principle that I support.

However, this bill addresses a case where the free market between lessor and lessee is not functioning. We have seen a concentration of land ownership of urban commercial and industrial properties become centered in a few large firms that distort market forces and leave businesses in Hawaii with little recourse.

It is unfortunate that the actions of a single land owner have created the situation where the Legislature has intervened between the parties, albeit only for a single year.

This bill impacts the renegotiations of lease rent by interjecting, unless otherwise stated in the lease, its construction of 'fair and reasonable annual rent' in commercial or industrial leases. In addition, this bill requires master lessees to limit any sublease rental amount negotiated or renewed during the period the lease rent is renegotiated with the master lessee to the lesser of a) the 'fair and reasonable' amount determined according to the aforementioned requirements or b) the rental amount as calculated under the renegotiation or renewal provisions of the sublease.

House Bill No. 111, S.D. 2, C.D. 1 as Act 190, entitled: "RELATING TO STATE SALARIES."

"Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: House Bill No. 111 SD2 CD1

On July 15, 2009, House Bill No. 111, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to State Salaries' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

The purpose of this bill is to establish a two-year statute of limitations for governmental bodies to recover salary or wage overpayments to their employees.

We are concerned that the two-year limitation does not allow the State and counties sufficient opportunity to recover salary overpayments. It often takes time to review an employee's daily work records to determine whether the employee has been overpaid. Most salary overpayments are discovered when the employee is about to retire and the employee's pension is calculated.

Salary overpayments are made by mistake, and while some employees, upon becoming aware of overpayments, promptly report the overpayments, not all do so. Employees are not entitled to keep overpayments and should not benefit from an inadvertent error. An overpayment to an employee deprives another employee or program of the use of those funds.

The existing statutes protect an employee from an arbitrary employer action. There is a process that the State and counties must follow to recover the overpayment, and the employee is free to contest the government's assertion that there has been an overpayment. Current law provides that the employee may request a hearing and, if the employee so chooses, may appeal an adverse determination.

While it is understandable that some would contend that the State should not have an unlimited period to recoup its mistakes, limiting this period to only two years will hamper the State and counties and result in the unjust enrichment of some.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed House Bill No. 111 to become law as Act 190, effective July 15, 2009, without my signature.

House Bill No. 1362, H.D. 1, S.D. 2 as Act 191, entitled: "RELATING TO GENETIC COUNSELORS."

"Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: House Bill No. 1362 HD1 SD2

On July 15, 2009, House Bill No. 1362, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Genetic Counselors' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

The purpose of this bill is to establish a genetic counseling licensure program within the Department of Health.

In 2006 an analysis by the State Auditor concluded that establishing a licensing program for this profession is largely about title protection. It gives licensed individuals the ability to use the title but does not prohibit the practice by unlicensed practitioners. This bill prohibits unlicensed individuals from using the title 'genetic counselor' or 'licensed genetic counselor,' but it would not prohibit them from offering services. It should also be noted that licensing would not impact the commercial marketing of DNA testing and counseling, especially at-home genetic self-testing, which is a growing industry.

While the bill calls for fees to be assessed to defray the cost of the license requirement, the cost of initial implementation is not funded and will have to be covered by the Department of Health when the program is implemented in 2011.

Genetic counselors provide valuable services to individuals and families with health issues who need to understand their family's health history.

In the interim, until this bill becomes law, should individuals in need of services seek knowledge about a genetic counselor's qualifications, they can consult the American Board of Genetic Counseling, which serves as the credentialing organization for the genetic counseling profession in the United States and Canada.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed House Bill No. 1362 to become law as Act 191, effective July 15, 2009, without my signature.

Senate Bill No. 1338, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1 as Act 192, entitled: "RELATING TO HOUSEHOLD ENERGY DEMAND."

"Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: Senate Bill No. 1338 SD2 HD2 CD1

On July 15, 2009, Senate Bill No. 1338, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Household Energy Demand' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

The purpose of this bill is to prohibit real estate contracts, agreements, and rules from precluding the use of a clothesline on single-family dwellings or townhouses and to allow private entities to adopt rules that reasonably restrict the placement and use of clotheslines.

Hawaii residents should consider using clotheslines as an alternative to electric dryers. This is a simple and easy way to lower individual energy costs, help the environment, and move us closer to meeting our goals of 70 percent clean energy by 2030. However, the proper way to promote this practice is through public education campaigns, not government laws.

This bill addresses an issue that can and should be addressed at the local, community level. Homeowners who choose to buy a home or townhouse in a neighborhood governed by a community association do so for a reason - they want to live in a community that provides and protects a certain aesthetic. These homeowners often pay more for this option, and, upon purchase, agree to abide by specific covenants and rules that regulate certain activities, such as the number of cars that can be parked on the street, the color of the paint on their house, and the use or placement of a clothesline.

This bill recognizes that homeowners associations should be allowed to adopt rules for the placement of clotheslines in their communities. As such, this measure is less onerous than the legislation I vetoed last year.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed Senate Bill No. 1338 to become law as Act 192, effective July 15, 2009, without my signature.

House Bill No. 1422, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1 as Act 193, entitled: "RELATING TO ABANDONED VEHICLES."

"Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: House Bill No. 1422 HD1 SD1 CD1

On July 15, 2009, House Bill No. 1422, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Abandoned Vehicles' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

The purpose of this bill is to allow the counties to remove abandoned motor vehicles from private roads if the private road owner pays for the removal of the vehicle and agrees to indemnify and hold the county harmless for claims arising from the removal and disposal of the vehicle. This Act shall be repealed on January 1, 2010.

It can be both dangerous and frustrating to have abandoned vehicles parked on or near one's property. Many property owners and neighborhoods struggle with this issue and I can understand their concern. However, it appears that property owners already have authority under current law, Section 290-11, Hawaii Revised Statutes, to remove abandoned vehicles in certain circumstances. Based on the testimony provided on this bill, it appears there is some uncertainty as to how this provision applies and, as a result, the Legislature felt it necessary to clarify the statute through passage of this bill.

In addition, I note that this bill will only be in effect for six months. Legislation should be used for critical policy matters, not for settling short term disputes. I am concerned that changing a State statute for such a short time period calls into question whether this represents sound public policy for the State.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed House Bill No. 1422 to become law as Act 193, effective July 15, 2009, without my signature.

Senate Bill No. 1329, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1 as Act 194, entitled: "RELATING TO EARLY LEARNING."

"Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: Senate Bill No. 1329 SD2 HD2 CD1

On July 15, 2009, Senate Bill No. 1329, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Early Learning' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

The purpose of this bill is to amend the structure and duties of the Early Learning Council and the early learning system by: (1) authorizing members of the Early Learning Council to assign a designee to represent them on the Council; (2) adding a representative from a Head Start provider agency to serve as a member of the Council; (3) directing the Council to develop a plan to address the operations of the junior kindergarten program, (4) prohibiting the Department of Education from moving a child between junior kindergarten and kindergarten unless they use an assessment tool to determine the placement, and (5) renaming the Keiki First Steps Trust Fund as the Early Learning Trust Fund.

This bill presents policy concerns that will adversely impact the delivery of education to the children in our State. First, the legislation further blurs the relationship and responsibilities of the Department of Education over the junior kindergarten program. The bill is prescriptive in what the Department of Education can and can not do in operating its junior kindergarten and kindergarten programs. For example, it expressly prohibits the Department of Education from moving a student between junior kindergarten and kindergarten, except after a detailed assessment is conducted using an evaluation system to be developed by the Early Learning Council.

The bill also continues the presumption that the State should continue to develop an early childhood learning program that operates outside of the purview of the Department of Human Services. The powers vested in the Early Learning Council could adversely impact the ability of the Department of Human Services to license, fund, regulate, and terminate early childhood education programs as provided for in Chapter 346, Hawaii Revised Statutes.

Last year I warned of the indeterminate costs to fully implement an early learning system. Since Act 14 became law, the State's fiscal outlook has worsened and it is difficult to foresee how the State could support a program with a projected implementation cost ranging from $144 million to $170 million.

The Department of Education has raised concerns about its ability to administratively support the continued operation of the Council. The Department of Education's 2009 report to the Legislature on the Early Learning Council states, "The progress report from the Early Learning Council indicates that the Council must explore options for its continued work, beyond June 30, 2009, as the funding has been eliminated from the Department of Education budget. Without future funding, it will be challenging to secure the staff to ensure the smooth operations of the Council."

Additionally, this bill fails to recognize the substantial progress my Administration has made in early learning. The Department of Human Services has worked closely with the preschool community of providers to adopt preschool content standards, improve teacher qualifications, and add slots for low-income children who could not previously attend preschool.

I will continue to support expanded early learning opportunities for children through the Quality Care Program administered by the Department of Human Services. I am particularly proud of the fact that this program has enabled over 2,000 additional disadvantaged children to attend preschool. This legislation, regrettably, does not build upon that progress.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed Senate Bill No. 1329 to become law as Act 194, effective July 15, 2009, without my signature.

Senate Bill No. 203, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1 as Act 195, entitled: "RELATING TO CONTRACTORS."

"Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: Senate Bill No. 203 SD2 HD1 CD1

On July 15, 2009, Senate Bill No. 203, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Contractors' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

The purpose of this bill is to increase the monetary penalties for unlicensed contracting from (1) $500 to $2,500 for the first offense, or 40% of the contract cost, and (2) from $1,000 to $3,500, or 40% of the contract cost, for the second offense.

Although this bill has the goal of deterring unlicensed contracting in the State of Hawaii, I am concerned that this legislation dramatically increases monetary fines without a corresponding increase in the threshold under the contractor licensing law's 'handyman' exemption. This exemption provides that the licensing law does not apply to any project or operation for which the aggregate contract price for labor, materials, taxes, and all other items is not more than $1,000.

The $1,000 threshold has not been increased since 1992. The handyman exemption allows property owners to seek help with minor repairs and renovations. The dollar value of the threshold should be adjusted to reflect cost changes that have occurred over the past 17 years.

Although the Department of Commerce and Consumer Affairs has indicated that it plans to use reasonable discretion in imposing penalties under this bill, unlicensed workers may nevertheless face substantial fines when the work they are doing might more appropriately fall under the handyman exemption.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed Senate Bill No. 203 to become law as Act 195, effective July 15, 2009, without my signature.

Senate Bill No. 1461, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 2 as Act 196, entitled: "RELATING TO TAXATION."

"Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: Senate Bill No. 1461 SD2 HD1 CD2

On July 15, 2009, Senate Bill No. 1461, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Taxation' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

The purpose of this bill is to advance the general excise tax filing and payment deadline from the last day of the month to the twentieth of the month. This bill also allows the Department of Taxation to require electronic filing and payment of taxes if the taxpayer is already doing the same for federal taxes. Finally, this bill extends the sunset of Act 239, SLH 2007, the general excise tax exemption for common expense reimbursements received by timeshare sub-operators and condominium association managers and sub-managers, by instituting an aggregate cap on exempted amounts for one year.

This bill contains a number of technical and administrative flaws that adversely impact the fair and impartial administration of tax laws in the State of Hawaii.

First, while I supported the concept of advancing the general excise tax filing and payment date from the last day of the month to the twentieth of the month, it is of concern to me that the Department of Taxation and business community are expected to implement this measure for payments due after May 31, 2009. This timeframe is too short and unrealistic for the Department of Taxation to adequately implement this change, as it does not allow taxpayers throughout the State adequate time to prepare for and implement the new payment schedules.

Second, the bill also contains unrealistic deadlines for taxpayers to comply with the requirements to remit their tax payments electronically to the State Department of Taxation. Unrealistic and overzealous timetables create confusion among the taxpaying public and result in additional, unnecessary work for public employees who are helping them to comply.

Third, in attempting to control the general fund revenue impact of the extension, the Legislature put a cap of $400,000 in aggregate tax exemptions on all eligible timeshare owners and condo managers. The cap, if it is to be applied, should have been a cap on the tax credit, not the tax exemption, since the exemption reduces the gross proceeds on which the GET tax is calculated, effectively lowering how much is due the State.

It is also unfortunate and unfair that the general excise tax exemption will be unequally applied to condominium associations governed by Chapter 514A, Hawaii Revised Statutes. Condominium associations created after July 1, 2006 are governed by Chapter 514B and already had the excise tax exemption for reimbursements prior to Act 239. Therefore, the $400,000 exemption cap will be applied to condominium associations created before July 1, 2006, but not those created thereafter. As a result, I am concerned with the unequal treatment of condominium associations created by this provision.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed Senate Bill No. 1461 to become law as Act 196, effective July 15, 2009, without my signature.

Sincerely,

Senate Bill No. 522, S.D. 2, H.D. 1 as Act 197, entitled: "RELATING TO LAND COURT."

"Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: Senate Bill No. 522 SD2 HD1

On July 15, 2009, Senate Bill No. 522, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Land Court' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

This bill would require the registrar's office within the Bureau of Conveyances to provide within ten days after the end of each week an image and index of all instruments and documents recorded in Land Court during the week to a county designated as a central clearinghouse. Further, the registrar is prohibited from charging for the information and the bill prescribes the seven specific pieces of information the Bureau of Conveyances Land Court section must provide and the manner in which the information must be delivered.

Currently the Bureau of Conveyances already provides to several entities on a daily basis in electronic format data on all of the transactions that have occurred in the registrar's office and Land Court for the previous day. At least one county, the City and County of Honolulu, has the ability to extract from this data the information needed by all counties for real property assessment purposes. However, the City and County of Honolulu instead relies on a third party to provide their real property assessment information. This bill would unnecessarily shift this burden to the Bureau of Conveyances Land Court staff and require that they provide this data within a statutorily set deadline, regardless of the impact on their other duties.

Further, this bill prescribes the exact data that must be provided, making it difficult, without changing the law, to revamp the format or type of information the counties may require. Additionally, this bill restricts the State from charging the county for the work involved in providing the information every week. While the State does not currently charge for the electronic data they provide to third parties on a daily basis, we should not be precluded from considering charges at a future time when it may be warranted.

The State remains receptive to entering into written agreements with the counties to ensure that the counties receive the data they need in a manner that best fits their individual requirements.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed Senate Bill No. 522 to become law as Act 197, effective July 15, 2009, without my signature.

House Bill No. 371, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1 as Act 198, entitled: "RELATING TO TAXATION."

"Dear Madam President and Members of the Senate:

Re: House Bill No. 371 HD2 SD2 CD1

On July 15, 2009, House Bill No. 371, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Taxation' became law without my signature, pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the State Constitution.

The purpose of this bill is to extend the exemption of naphtha fuel used in electrical generation from the transportation fuel tax. This measure retains the exemption until December 31, 2012. I support this exemption but believe the sunset date should have been removed in its entirety.

Naphtha, a bi-product of the manufacture of gasoline, is recognized as a low-carbon emission fuel, preferable to other fossil fuel sources. This legislation recognizes the importance of naphtha as a fuel source used in the State today.

However, this legislation also doubles the tax imposed on naphtha fuel used to generate electricity on Kauai and along the Hamakua coast. This increase, which totals an estimated $440,000 per year for both facilities, will be passed along to rate payers in each jurisdiction.

The increase from 1 cent to 2 cents per gallon, even though some will consider it small, is a 100% increase or a doubling of the tax on this fuel. What is particularly troubling is the increase comes at a time when our families and residents are most vulnerable to additional costs, even small costs, as they struggle with lay-offs, business closures, downsizing, and increasing State and county taxes.

The amount of additional tax is not enough to significantly assist the highway program and does not contribute to closing the State general fund budget gap. Thus, it has no measurable fiscal benefit to the State, while adversely impacting those communities that receive electricity from naphtha-burning power plants. However, if this law did not go into effect, then the much larger highway fuel tax would apply to naphtha starting January 1, 2010.

For the foregoing reasons, I allowed House Bill No. 371 to become law as Act 198, effective July 15, 2009, without my signature.

On bills that have been referred to more than one committee, unless otherwise ordered by the Senate, the subsequent referral committee shall make no substantive change, except changes which affect the subject matter over which the subsequent referral committee has primary jurisdiction, without prior written approval of the preceding referral committee chair having primary jurisdiction over the subject matter affected by the change.

Rule 19 Committee on Ways and Means: Special Responsibility.

It shall be the duty of the Committee on Ways and Means, in considering the General Appropriations Bill or the Supplemental Appropriations Bill, to determine for each fiscal year of the biennium the appropriate level of total expenditures and the level of expenditures for program areas.

To the extent practicable, the Committee on Ways and Means shall make available to members of the Senate the contents of the General Appropriations Bill or the Supplemental Appropriations Bill during the 48-hour period prior to the passage of such bills on third and final reading.

Rule 21 Meetings of Committees.

Meetings, including decision-making sessions, of leadership committees appointed by the President, and Standing Committees shall be public provided that meetings in executive session may be allowed in such exceptional circumstances when committee discussion could unfairly damage the reputation of individuals or where there is a legal question concerning a bill.

The 72 hour notice requirement is waived for the initial decision-making meeting for short form bills.

No committee shall sit during the time when the Senate is actually in session without first securing the approval of the President, except Conference Committees that may sit at any time.

As practicable, committees shall schedule their meetings at times and at places as are convenient for attendance by the general public, and in coordination with other committees of the House or Senate, shall endeavor to hold joint meetings and public hearings on matters of mutual interest.

The meetings of a Conference Committee shall be conducted as agreed upon by the members of the Conference Committee. Conference Committee meetings and decision-making sessions shall be public. Public notice of Conference Committee meetings shall be given to the extent practicable.

Rule 22 Decision-Making by Committee.

(1) The chair of a standing committee may commence a decision-making meeting and open discussion on matters referred to the committee without a quorum; provided that the decision-making by the committee on matters that are referred to it shall be conducted with a quorum of the committee present. A quorum shall be a majority of the membership of the committee.

(2) A favorable vote of a majority of the members present at a decision-making meeting duly constituted with a quorum is required to report a matter out of committee. A member voting "with reservations" shall be counted as a favorable vote.

(3) The presence of a quorum and the final vote of each member who is present at the decision-making meeting of a standing committee shall be recorded by the chair or by a member of the committee designated by the chair. This record shall be attached to and shall be a part of the report of the standing committee.

Rule 23 Public Hearings on Bills.

(1) Subject to this rule, the selection and scheduling of a bill for public hearing shall be at the discretion of the chair of the committee having jurisdiction over the bill.

(2) The chair's determination that a bill will have a public hearing shall be final notwithstanding the opposition of a majority of the members of the committee.

(3) At the written request of a majority of the members of the committee, the chair shall schedule a bill for public hearing.

(4) If a bill:

- (A) Has been referred to more than one standing committee and more than one committee hearing is required for passage of the bill out of the Senate;
- (B) Contains any significant or substantial amendment made by a committee other than the last standing committee to which the bill has been referred; and
- (C) The public has not been provided with an opportunity to submit testimony on the significant or substantial amendment;

then, prior to reporting the bill out of the last standing committee, the last standing committee to which the bill has been referred shall hold a public hearing to provide the public with the opportunity to testify on the bill.

Rule 24 Committee Reports.

(1) The leadership committees as may be appointed by the President and Standing Committees shall report from time to time upon all matters referred to them.

(2) Special Committees shall report upon matters referred to them within the time permitted in the appointment of the Special Committee unless further time is given by vote of the Senate.

(3) A Conference Committee shall not report upon the matter referred unless a majority of the members of each house appointed by their respective presiding officer have concurred in the report.

Rule 25 Committees: Fact-finding and Content of Reports.

(1) Whenever any matter shall be referred to a committee, it shall be the duty of the committee to make diligent inquiry into all of the facts and circumstances connected with the matter. If necessary, witnesses shall be summoned or subpoenaed, and everything shall be done to bring all facts pertaining to the matter before the Senate in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 21 of the Hawaii Revised Statutes. The President may exercise such powers authorized under Chapter 21, relating to the issuance of subpoenas, and the President, committee chair and other duly delegated members of the Senate may exercise such powers authorized under Chapter 21 aforesaid, relating to the administering of oaths, and the compelling of witnesses who have been subpoenaed to testify. All committee meetings held on matters referred to it by the Senate shall be open to the public unless otherwise ordered by the Senate or otherwise provided by these Rules.

(2) The report of the committee shall state findings of fact and conclusions based thereon, together with a distinct recommendation as to the disposal of that matter.

(3) The report shall also include a reference that testimony on the measure is available electronically on the Legislature's website and a brief summary of the positions taken in the testimonies submitted.

(4) A report upon a bill shall state clearly the amendments, if any, proposed. If a substitute bill for one or more referred to the committee shall be reported, such substitute bill shall agree with the subject of the bill or bills referred to the committee.

(5) The committee shall report whenever a majority of the members present at the decision-making meeting duly constituted with a quorum is in favor of reporting the bill or resolution out of the committee. The report, after being made available, for review by the members of the committee, and after subsequent revisions thereto, if any, shall be the final report of the committee. The final report of the committee shall be attested to by the signature of the chair on behalf of the members of the committee. The action of the committee on the bill or resolution or any amendments thereto, if any, and the final vote of each member of the committee recorded by the chair or the chair's designee at a decision-making meeting shall not be changed in the review of the report, unless the change is made at an open decision-making meeting conducted with a quorum of the committee present. The minority of the members present at any decision-making meeting duly constituted with a quorum may report.

Rule 26 Committee of the Whole.

(1) The Senate from time to time may resolve itself into a Committee of the Whole. Whenever any matter shall be referred to such committee upon the adoption of a motion to that effect, the President shall call some member to take the Chair (unless the Senate shall nominate a chair), which being done, the Senate then shall be in committee.

(2) The Clerk of the Senate shall act as Clerk of the Committee of the Whole without extra compensation, and shall make a careful record of the proceedings, which shall be filed as one of the records of the Senate.

(3) The Committee, on motion, may rise and ask leave to sit at any future time.

(4) When a bill shall be referred to the Committee of the Whole, the bill shall be first read throughout by the Clerk, and then again read and debated by sections, leaving the preamble to be the last. All amendments, noting the page and line, shall be duly entered by the Clerk on a separate paper, as the same shall be agreed to by the committee, and so reported. When a bill is ordered into Committee of the Whole, such order may dispense with the reading of the whole bill before considering it section by section.

(5) In Committee of the Whole, the rules of procedure in the Senate shall be observed except that any member may speak more than once on the same subject, but no person shall speak a second or further time until others desiring to speak shall have had an opportunity, nor shall the motion for the previous question be allowed. A time limit for debate may be fixed by vote.

PART III. SESSIONS; ATTENDANCE; NOMINATIONS

The Executive Budget, Judiciary Budget, Legislative Budget, General Appropriations Bill, Supplemental Appropriations Bill, Office of Hawaiian Affairs Budget, and bills for criminal injuries compensation, for claims against the State and for funding of collective bargaining agreements may be introduced only by the President. Each member may introduce only one bill appropriating money for capital improvements projects in the member's district. The majority leaders and the minority leader shall develop a policy governing introduction by individual members of bills intended to appropriate money or to authorize the issuance of state bonds.

Bills, which shall carry over from a regular session in an odd-numbered year to the next regular session, shall retain the numbers assigned to them. The Clerk shall keep a record of the status of all bills in possession of the Senate at the end of the odd-numbered year session and shall publish the record of the status of all such bills prior to the convening of the next regular session.

Every bill introduced or reported out of any committee, which amends an existing section or subsection of the Hawaii Revised Statutes or Session Laws of Hawaii, shall set forth the section or subsection in full, and the matter to be deleted shall be enclosed in brackets and stricken and any new matter added to the section or subsection shall be underscored. However, a Supplemental Appropriations Bill need not conform to this rule, nor an amending bill where the intent and effect of the amending bill can be clearly identified and understood without repeating the entire section or subsection, in which case only the paragraphs, subparagraphs, clauses or items to be amended need be set forth as the President may allow. The President may allow additional exceptions to this rule.

Rule 46 Bills: Referral to Committee.

(1) Upon introduction, all bills shall be numbered by the Clerk in numerical sequence, shall bear an identification as a Senate Bill, and shall pass first reading.

(3) Each such bill shall be referred by members of the majority leadership appointed by the President, to one or more appropriate Leadership or Standing Committees for consideration.

(4) Any referral may be reconsidered by the President upon written request of any chair who is aggrieved by the referral made within three working days. The President shall decide the request for reconsideration within a reasonable time, which decision shall be final. No request for reconsideration shall be considered if the timing of the request would have the effect of killing a bill or resolution.

(5) Each Leadership and Standing Committee shall consider the bills and other matters referred to it as expeditiously as may be possible.

Rule 47 Bills: Required Readings.

No bill shall pass the Senate unless it shall have passed three readings in the Senate on separate days. The President shall give notice in each instance whether it be the first, second or third reading.

Rule 48 Bills: First Reading.

(1) The first reading of a bill shall be for information. If opposition be made to it, the question shall be: "Shall this bill be rejected?" which question may be debated. But no one shall speak more than once upon such question, except the introducer of the bill, who may close the debate.

(2) If the question to reject be negative, the bill shall go to its second reading without question.

Rule 49 Bills: Second Reading.

A bill upon its second reading may be read by its title only. It then shall be subject to a motion to commit. If it is not referred to a Leadership Committee, Standing Committee, or Special Committee, but is ordered to be considered in Committee of the Whole, a day for such consideration shall be determined by the chair of such committee. When the bill is reported from committee, it shall take its place in the order of business for future consideration.

Rule 50 Bills: Third Reading.

(1) No bill shall pass third or final reading in the Senate unless copies of the bill in the form to be passed have been made available to the members of the Senate for at least 48 hours. (2) A bill on its third or final reading may be read by its title only. Upon the final passage of any bill, the Ayes and Noes shall be called. Such passage shall require the affirmative vote of a majority of all the members of the Senate and the Ayes and Noes shall be entered on the Journal.

(3) All bills, except on first reading, shall be identified by title on the Order of the Day before consideration by the members unless waived by the President.

Rule 51 Bills: Property of Senate.

All bills introduced in the Senate shall be deemed the property of the Senate and under its control unless they shall become law, subject however to the right of the House of Representatives to amend or to refuse to agree with the bills.

Any bill pending at the final adjournment of a regular session in an odd-numbered year shall carry over with the same status to the next regular session; provided that if such bill shall have passed third reading in the Senate in an odd-numbered session, it shall pass at least one reading in the Senate in the next regular session upon its return to the Senate from the House.

Rule 52 Bills: Recall from Committee.

Twenty days after a bill has been referred to a committee, the same may be recalled from such committee by the affirmative vote of one-third of the members of the Senate.

Rule 53 Matters Tabled.

When a bill or resolution or other matter has been laid upon the table, it shall not thereafter be taken from the table and be considered or restored to a place upon the calendar of the Senate without the consent of a majority.

Rule 54 Bills: Amendments.

(1) All amendments proposed to any bill shall be in writing, unless otherwise ordered by the Senate, and shall be sent to the Clerk's desk to be filed with the bill.

(2) The fundamental purpose of any amendment to a bill shall be germane to the fundamental purpose of the bill.

(3) The Clerk shall prepare and distribute copies of any proposed floor amendment to each member of the Senate present.

(4) A floor amendment shall be deemed pending only after its proponent has been recognized by the President and its adoption has been properly moved and seconded.

(5) A floor amendment that relates to a different subject, is intended to accomplish a different purpose, incorporates any other bill pending before the Senate, or would alter the nature of the bill as reported, is not germane and shall not be considered by the Senate.

(6) An amendment to a floor amendment that is not germane to both the floor amendment and the bill as reported shall not be considered by the Senate.

Rule 55 Bills: Certification.

When a bill is passed, it shall be certified by the Clerk who shall note the day of its passage in the Journal along with a record of the ayes and noes.

Rule 56 Bills: Received from House of Representatives.

Whenever a House bill which has passed Third Reading in the House of Representatives shall be certified to the Senate for its action, such bill shall be read three times before final passage, in accordance with the provision of the rules for the passage of bills introduced in the Senate.

Rule 57 Bills: Transmittal to House of Representatives.

When a bill originating in the Senate shall have passed its third reading, or when a bill originating in the House which has been received from the House shall have been amended, or when a carry-over bill from an odd-numbered year originating in the House passes its third reading in the Senate in an even-numbered year session, such bill or such amended bill shall immediately be certified by the President and Clerk and sent to the House of Representatives for its consideration.

Rule 58 Bills: Correction of Errors.

When a bill has passed both the Senate and the House of Representatives and an error in it is discovered prior to its having received the approval of the Governor, the bill may be returned by Concurrent Resolution to the house last considering the bill for proper correction.

Rule 59 Bills: Order of Consideration.

(1) The Clerk shall ensure that bills that have passed first reading are made immediately available. When the bills have been made available to the members of the Senate, the Majority Leadership, appointed by the President, shall refer the bills to the various committees. When the committees have considered the bills and reported on them, the committees shall return the bills to the Clerk, and the Clerk shall place the bills in the Second Reading File. The Senate shall consider the bills in the order in which they appear in the Second Reading File.

(2) The Clerk shall arrange bills that have passed second reading in the order of their passage on second reading, regardless of the date of their reference to committee or the date of the committee report on them. The Clerk shall place them on the Third Reading File in the order in which they passed second reading and the Senate shall consider them on third reading in that same order. However, if the third reading of a bill is set for some particular date, that bill shall be removed from the Third Reading File.

Rule 60 Bills: Special Order of Consideration.

All bills and other matters set for consideration on particular dates, shall be arranged in the order of the several votes making such assignments. A list shall be made of such special orders, and when the time for consideration arrives, such bills and other matters shall be considered in the order of assignment. If an adjournment shall be had before all of such special orders are disposed of, the remainder shall go over and come under the head of unfinished business on the following day, unless otherwise ordered.

PART VI. RESOLUTIONS; MOTIONS*Rule 61 Resolutions and Motions: Form.

All resolutions shall be typewritten, dated and signed by the introducer, otherwise they shall not be considered. The Senate shall not introduce any congratulatory, commemorative or memorial resolution but shall express the sentiment contained in such resolutions by means of a suitable certificate. Motions and amendments may be verbal but shall be reduced to writing if requested by the President, and shall be read from the desk if so ordered.

Rule 62 Motions: Disposition.

After a motion is stated or read by the President, it shall be deemed to be in the possession of the Senate, and shall be disposed of by vote of the Senate; however, it may be withdrawn by the mover at any time before an amendment has been adopted or before the decision on the motion if not amended.

Rule 63 Motions Applicable to Pending Matters.

Whenever any bill or resolution or other matter shall be under discussion, the only motions relative thereto shall be:

- (1) To lay upon the table,
- (2) To postpone to a certain time,
- (3) To postpone indefinitely,
- (4) To commit or recommit, and
- (5) To amend, which motions shall have precedence in the order named.

The first two motions shall be decided without debate and shall be put as soon as made.

A motion to recommit will require a floor vote.

When any of the motions shall be decided in the negative, they shall not be revived the same day relative to the main question under discussion. If all are negative as aforesaid, the only remaining question shall be as to the adoption of the bill, resolution or other main question.

Rule 64 Matters Postponed Indefinitely.

When a question is postponed indefinitely, the question shall not be acted upon again during the session in which it was introduced.

Rule 65 Motion for Previous Question.

The object of the motion for the previous question is to cut off debate. It shall always be in order. It shall require a three-fifths vote to carry it.

Whenever the motion shall be carried, the author of the resolution or introducer of the bill under discussion shall be permitted to close the debate, after which the main question, subject to Rule 63, shall be put. The author or introducer may delegate to another such right to close.

Rule 66 Motion for Reconsideration.

(1) When a motion has been once made and carried in the affirmative or negative, it shall not be in order for any member who voted on the side that did not prevail to move for a reconsideration thereof; but any member who voted on the prevailing side may move to reconsider it on the same or the succeeding day of session, or, with the consent of the Senate, on any subsequent day and such motion shall take precedence of all other questions, except a motion to adjourn.

(2) When a motion for reconsideration has been decided by vote, that vote shall not be reconsidered.

(3) When a bill or resolution or other matter upon which a vote has been taken shall have gone out of the possession of the Senate, and shall have been transmitted to the House of Representatives, a motion to reconsider shall be deemed to include a request to the House to return the same. If not complied with by the House, then the vote on the motion to reconsider shall be set aside. If such motion shall pass, the Clerk shall promptly communicate to the House the request for return of the matter to be reconsidered.

PART VII. PETITIONS AND COMMUNICATIONS*Rule 67 Petitions, Memorials, and Miscellaneous Communications.

(1) Any person may petition the Senate. Petitions and other memorials, except as provided in Rule 61, shall be in writing, signed by the petitioners.

(3) A brief statement of the contents of such petitions, memorials or other papers shall be made orally by the Clerk.

(4) Every such petition, memorial or other paper shall be ordered filed or referred to a committee, as of course, by the President, unless such action is objected to by a member at the time such petition, memorial or other paper is presented.

PART VIII. ORDER; DEBATE; VOTING*Rule 68 Questions of Order.

(1) A question of order may be raised at any stage of the proceedings, except during the calling of the roll when the Ayes and Noes are called for. Unless submitted to the Senate, such questions shall be decided without debate by the presiding officer, subject to an appeal to the Senate. Laying such appeal on the table shall be held as sustaining the ruling of the presiding officer.

(2) Any question of order may be submitted to the Senate for its decision.

Rule 69 Debate: General Limitation.

No member shall speak more than twice, unless such member be the mover of the matter pending, in which case such member shall not be permitted to speak in reply until every member choosing to speak shall have spoken.

Rule 70 Voting: Methods.

There shall be five methods of ascertaining the decision of the Senate upon any matter.

(1) First, by voice; Second, by raising of hands; Third, by rising; Fourth, by call of the roll of the members and a record of the Clerk of the vote of each; and Fifth, by unanimous consent.

(2) Whenever the Senate is ready to vote on any question, the President shall rise, and after stating the question, shall request all those in favor of the affirmative of the question to vote "Aye." The President then shall call upon all voting in the negative of the question to vote "No." The President then shall announce the result to the Senate.

(3) If any member shall doubt the result, as announced, the President again shall state the question and call upon the members to vote either by rising in their places, and they shall remain standing until counted, or by raising their hands and the result again shall be announced.

(4) The President shall, when one-fifth of the members present so request, and may, when one member so requests, allow a roll-call vote. Clerk shall call the roll of the members of the Senate. Each member, when called, shall vote in a clear loud voice, "Aye," if voting in the affirmative, or "No," if voting in the negative. The Clerk shall record each vote and such record shall become a part of the Journal of the Senate. The President shall announce the results as above set forth.

(5) With the unanimous consent of the Senate, the President may direct the Clerk to record an "Aye" vote for each member of the Senate. If there is no objection, the Clerk shall so record the vote. If there is objection, the President shall ask for the names of the members voting "No" and order the Clerk to record no votes for them.

Rule 71 Voting: Rights of Members.

(1) No member, on any account, shall refrain from voting unless excused by the President. A member voting "with reservations" shall be counted as a favorable vote. A member may vote "Kanalua" the first time the member's name is called by the Clerk on any vote, but if the member votes "Kanalua" on the next call of the member's name, the member's vote shall be recorded as "Aye."

(2) The President may excuse a member who has a monetary interest in the question, or whose right to a seat in the Senate will be affected by the question, or whose official conduct is involved in the question. If a member thinks there may be a personal interest in the question, the member shall rise and disclose the interest to the President. The President then shall rule whether the member has a conflict of interest. If so, the member shall be excused from voting.

(3) Whenever the Ayes and Noes are called, no one, without unanimous consent, shall be permitted to explain a vote.

(4) After the announcement by the President of the result, no one shall be allowed to vote or to change a vote.

The Senate, by a majority vote, may dismiss the charge or charges against the member without a hearing.

If there is no dismissal of the charge or charges, or if the committee recommends censure, suspension or expulsion, the President shall present the report of the committee to the Senate for its consideration and decision. The member who is charged, shall be informed in writing of the presentation of the charge or charges of the committee report to the Senate and be given an opportunity to be heard in the member's own defense. The Senate, by a majority vote, may dismiss the charge or charges without a hearing, or with notice and an opportunity to be heard in the member's own defense, censure a member or, upon a two-thirds vote of all the members of the Senate, suspend or expel a member.

At any stage of the charge against a member, the member shall have a right to be represented by a person or persons of the member's own choosing.

Rule 73 Decorum: Transgression of Rules.

If any member transgresses the rules of the Senate, the President, or any member, may call such member to order, and, when so called to order, the member immediately shall sit down. The President then shall decide the question of order without debate, subject to an appeal to the Senate.

The President may call for the sense of the Senate on any question of order.

Rule 77 Decorum: Conduct in Session.

When the President is putting any question or addressing the Senate, no one shall walk out of the room or across the floor. When a member is speaking, no one shall entertain a private discourse, nor shall anyone pass between the member speaking and the Chair.

No one shall cause any annoyance or disturbance on the Senate floor by use of sound-emitting electronic devices such as cell phones or pagers.

Rule 78 Decorum: Disorderly Conduct in Session.

If, during any session of the Senate, any member should behave in a disorderly manner the President shall order the member to be seated and preserve the peace. If such member then shall persist in disorderly conduct, the President shall order the Sergeant-at-Arms to remove the member from the Senate and the member shall not be permitted to take a seat during the remainder of that day's session, except upon satisfactory pledge given to the Senate for future good behavior.

For the punishment of any person not a member, the provisions of Article III, Section 18 of the Constitution shall govern.

Rule 79 Decorum: Recording of Debate Called to Order.

If any Senator is called to order for words spoken in debate, upon the member's demand or on that of any other Senator, the words objected to shall be taken down in writing and noted by the Clerk, and, if required, shall be read for the information of the Senate.

Rule 80 Decorum: Smoking.

No member or other officer shall smoke anywhere within the capitol building unless permitted by law.

Rule 81 Standards of Conduct.

(1) Members should conduct themselves in a respectful manner befitting the office with which they as elected officials have been entrusted, respecting and complying with the law and acting at all times in a manner that promotes public confidence in the integrity of the Senate.

(2) Members should not lend the prestige of public office to advance the private interests of themselves or others; nor should members convey or permit others to convey the impression that they are in a special position to unduly influence pending public business before them.

(3) Members should treat their fellow Senate members, staff, and the general public with respect and courtesy, regardless of political or religious beliefs, race, ethnicity, sex, sexual orientation, or physical disability.

(4) The legislative duties of members as prescribed by law and these Rules should take precedence over all of their other business or professional activities. Members should freely and willingly accept certain restrictions on their business activities and professional conduct that might be considered burdensome by an ordinary private citizen, and should perform the duties or elected office impartially and diligently. To the greatest extent reasonably possible, members should:

- (A) Refrain from allowing family, social, business, or other relationships to unduly influence the member's legislative conduct or judgment.

Rule 82 Decorum: Solicitation Prohibited.

An officer or employee of the Senate shall not solicit subscriptions, for any purpose, from any other officer or employee thereof, nor from any Senator. Nor shall any person be permitted to solicit or receive subscriptions or contributions for any purpose on the floor or in the lobby of the Senate or in any Senate office.

Rule 83 Disclosures.

Each member shall file with the Ethics Commission of the State of Hawaii, a disclosure of the member's private financial interests, as prescribed by law. Each member shall file with the Ethics Commission any change in such financial interests.

If a legislative matter which affects a member's interests arises before the member has made a disclosure to the Ethics Commission, the member shall disclose orally such interest to the Senate before voting. The member then shall immediately make the written disclosure required by law and the Rules of the Senate.

Any member who has filed a disclosure as required by this Rule need not make a further oral disclosure on the Senate floor of any interest so filed.

Rule 84 Violating Confidence.

If any matter covered in Rule 35 or 36 shall be disclosed by any Senator, the Senator shall be liable to censure, or, by a two-thirds vote, to suspension or expulsion from the Senate. If an officer or other person authorized to hear such matter shall disclose the matter, such officer shall be dismissed and such other person shall be liable to punishment for contempt comparable to the punishment provided for by Article III, Section 18 of the Constitution and in the manner as therein prescribed.

Rule 85 Conflicts of Interest.

(1) No member shall vote on any legislation if the member has a direct financial interest in the legislation, unless the member is part of the class of people affected by the official action based upon the member's profession, trade or business; provided that this rule shall not apply to votes on the recommendations of a committee when a member has disclosed a potential conflict. For the purposes of this rule, a "direct financial interest" means that the legislation affects the legislator's personal business, property, or financial interest.

(2) If a member is uncertain as to whether a conflict of interest exists, the member may request a ruling from the President by giving notice and disclosing the direct financial interest to the President prior to voting. When making a determination in cases where a portion of a measure may place a member in a conflict of interest, the President shall give due consideration to the context of that portion as it relates to the overall purpose of the measure. If the President determines that a conflict exists, the President shall excuse the member from voting.

PART X. QUESTIONS TO STATE OFFICERS

Rule 86 Questions to State Officers.

Any member of the Senate may ask any question of any state officer relating to the officer's respective department by reducing such questions to writing, over the member's signature, reading the same before the Senate, and furnishing the officer with a copy of such written question. Any officer questioned shall reply to such question upon the following day, unless the Senate shall grant a definite extension of time for replying.

PART XI. AMENDMENT, SUSPENSION AND INTERPRETATION OF RULES

Rule 87 Amendments; Suspension; Violations.

(1) No rule of the Senate shall be amended or rescinded nor shall any new rule be adopted, without one day's notice of such change. Any such action shall require a majority vote of the members of the Senate.

(2) Any rule may be suspended for a particular purpose upon a majority vote of the members of the Senate.

(3) Any violation of these Rules shall be referred to the President for appropriate action.

Rule 88 Parliamentary Procedure.

Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedures, 2000 edition, where not inconsistent with the Rules and practices of the Senate, shall govern.

PART XII. MISCELLANEOUS POWER

Rule 89 Administrative and Financial Manuals.

(1) The Senate shall adopt by majority vote an administrative and financial manual of guides, the purpose of which is to establish uniformity in administrative practices and to ensure compliance with Senate policies.
