ORDER OF THE DAY

THIRD READING

S.B. No. 97, S.D. 2:

Senator Ige moved that S.B. No. 97, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Kidani.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

“What this bill does is expand the scope of the conveyance tax, and part of it is vague in its application and also the rates that actually apply. The floor amendment, I think, is a positive amendment in that it does say that a corporation, partnership, or LLC are not subject to the tax if they are owned for at least three years, but the tax burden is still going to fall heaviest on small local businesses. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, S.B. No. 97, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, 1 (Slom).

Senator Taniguchi moved that S.B. No. 563, S.D. 3, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Ige.

Senator Slom rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations as follows:

“You know, the original intent of the bill, as part of the recommendations from the Senate Special Committee on Accountability last year, was to provide for more oversight of the university and particularly the regents. It was also to make clear a differentiation between the council and the governor’s responsibilities.

“The changes that were made here takes out the purpose clause originally and also takes out the ability for the Legislature, the President of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House to have input and puts the council, at least temporarily, within the Office of the Governor, and it’s not clear what’s going to happen in the future.

“So, I’ll support the bill with the changes, but with the aforementioned recommendations. Thank you.”

At 11:56 a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 11:57 a.m.

Senator Slom rose to make the following remarks:

“I was just informed that some of the information I had was incorrect, and the legislative ability to make presentations is still back in the bill. So, I thank my colleague for that information, and I will now vote straight up on the bill. Thank you very much.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, S.B. No. 563, S.D. 3, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE UNIVERSITY OF HAWAII,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

S.B. No. 1289, S.D. 2:

Senator Ige moved that S.B. No. 1289, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Kidani.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

“More and more we are seeing that Form 1099, non-compensation filings, are required under various legislative acts. While I, as an employer, comply with that and file those 1099 forms, this particular measure has severe penalties for any failure to file, lack of information, or information that is not correct, even if it is not maliciously so. Based on that, I am going to be voting ‘no.’ Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, S.B. No. 1289, S.D. 2, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, 1 (Slom).

S.B. No. 215, S.D. 3:

Senator Dela Cruz moved that S.B. No. 215, S.D. 3, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Slom.

Senator Ruderman rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

“I support my colleague’s desire for the Wahiawa Main Street project and will work to support it in every way that I can, but this does not include a new development agency created in the image of the PLDC.

“I supported the 21st-century schools bill, including the public-private partnership, because it was carefully crafted, limited in scope, true to its original intent, and aimed at one of our most pressing needs.

“For SB215, there has been an outpouring of opposition from my constituents. They are concerned about the PLDC-like nature of this bill. I acknowledge the good work done by my colleagues to improve the bill in the last couple of weeks, but my constituents overwhelmingly do not trust it.

“It was a ‘gut and replace’ bill, with PLDC-like exemptions from county rules that were glossed over at first, then addressed up to the last minute only as more attention was focused on it.

“There are consequences to losing the public’s trust on such issues. One of those consequences is lingering suspicion of new public-private partnership agencies. The new agency is not needed to support the specific projects and is seen as a newly open door to further potential abuses.

“Because of opposition from my constituents, I will vote ‘no’ on this bill. Thank you.”

Senator Thielen rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

“I rise conflicted about this bill, if that’s permitted. I am going to oppose this bill. Senators, I ask you to cast your minds back to your freshman year (and I realize for many of you that’s going to be a lengthy cast). You know, going through the last few days and voting on over 350 bills, it’s been a real learning experience, and I am sure you can remember – and probably still do wrestle with – many of these bills. But I think many of you have become accustomed to this decision making process and have found lines that you can draw and also understand what’s coming in the second half of session better than we as freshmen can.

“I want to echo my colleague’s appreciation for the floor amendments and the other work that was done by many of you that share the concerns that we have about what was originally in this bill and in the Public Land Development Corporation, and the floor amendment does make it better.

“But I still am going to vote ‘no’ because I share my colleague’s concerns about the genesis of this bill and the public’s suspicion that has surrounded how it came forward, and some of the last-minute changes being made to it, and then what’s going to happen in the second half of session and whether we’re still going to have to monitor this so closely – every sentence – before it comes out of the conference committee at the end to make sure that the intent doesn't change again.

"So my preference is as a body we would not move this forward, although I do support the individual projects in it, and I commend the senator from Wahiawa for being such a strong supporter for economic development in his district. But I think it is time that we move on to other issues in front of the Senate, so I will be opposing it. Thank you."

Senator Galuteria rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

"With aloha to the previous speakers, this is a learning moment, members. This is where we do take the public into consideration; the full measure of their opposition as it relates to the legislation at hand means that we have heard them. We've heard them loud and clear. We also want to hearken back and echo the original mission, and this actually brings it to a place that provides for three projects. Period. I want to thank the author for taking it down to that particular level because this is just exactly what, in my opinion, the public wants: they want us to take their opinions into consideration and then decide.

"So, it is at this particular point that we have come to this decision, and I would ask humbly that all of the members vote in support of the amendment. Thank you."

Senator Hee rose on a point of inquiry and said:

"Will you ask the senator from the Big Island or the senator from Kailua what specifically is imperfect about this bill, and let me explain.

"It sounds like the senator from the Big Island is concerned because of constituency communications that he has received. I'm not sure if that means the constituency concerns are accurate or it's simply because he received them.

"With respect to the senator from Kailua, the concern that I have is – and the reason for the point of inquiry is – there's evidently some concern about the unknown in the future. Well, that could apply to all bills and, in fact, this issue may pop up yet again in a different iteration of which a title is appropriate.

"So, rather than stand up in opposition on a broadly-worded explanation, what is it specifically about this bill that is objectionable, so that we can ascertain the information prior to casting our vote. Thank you."

At 12:05 p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:08 p.m.

At this time, the Chair stated:

"We are still in discussion. The inquiry was made; is there anyone wishing to address the inquiry? I see not."

Senator Kouchi rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

"When the minority caucus leader comments, 'Let's get to the other business at hand,' we have three simple ways of dealing with the greatest problem that faces this state, which is balancing our budget with revenue shortfalls: We can raise taxes, which nobody wants; we can cut employees but we've cut over 3,000 jobs from the state payroll since 2009; or we can stimulate economy. This is one of the few remaining vehicles that is attempting to stimulate our economy. In light of prior testimony and public outcry about broad exemptions for potentially unlimited development, this is a way to look at a more limited, private-public partnership and an opportunity to stimulate economy so we're not here talking about raising taxes, and we're not here talking about cutting more jobs.

Because if we do cut those jobs today, it will impact our ability to process permits that will foster the economic recovery that each and every one of us would like to see happen.

"And so, I think we need to have vehicles in place so that when my esteemed colleague across the way stands up and tells me what day of the session it is and we've not done anything, I can stand and say we've done something. So, I will be supporting the bill. Thank you."

Senator Kahele rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

"I agree with all the previous speakers, with the exception of those that oppose the bill, and stand firmly behind the senator from Kāne'ohe who eloquently stated his position. In response to the many emails that I also received in reference to S.B. No. 215, inferring that it was similar to the Public Land Development Corporation bill, I responded to one – because in general most of them were the same – and asked for a specific response as to what was wrong with S.B. No. 215, specifically to any sentence or any part of the bill and paragraph, and I did not receive a response.

"So, before going any further with this – linking it up with the Public Land Development Corporation – colleagues, I ask for your support to be courageous as we move forward to do something to help the economy. I commend the senator from Wahiawa for all of the heat, if you will, that he took with that particular bill to come forward with something, a resolution, to help the economy of the State of Hawai'i and in accommodating the concerns of the Hawai'i County Council, my island, who was in opposition to the Public Land Development Corporation. I would encourage those officials on the neighbor islands that came forward and opposed that particular bill to stand up and say that this is a bill that will move the economy forward and it is a solution towards resolving that end. So, again, I commend the senator from Wahiawa for coming up with a solution rather than being in opposition to everything else. Thank you."

Senator Dela Cruz rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

"Thank you, Madam President, and I want to thank all my colleagues who spoke to support the measure. You know, this body has been very patient and accepting of the Water and Land Committee and the Economic Development Committee in coming up with a solution and at the same time addressing the concerns of the Public Land Development Corporation. And as a body, we said, 'Okay, we're going to respond.' And so, we will soon see 'RIP' on the PLDC. But what's our option? What's our opportunity?

"This is an opportunity to show that we're not giving up on Hawai'i. I really believe in Hawai'i's potential. I don't really want to be in a position where we are going to be raising taxes or fees; our middle class is taking so much of a hit. Every department comes in and they say, 'You know, we don't have the staff.' We have so many programs that just don't have the revenue it needs, especially in DLNR, DOE, University of Hawai'i – every place we are asking the departments to be more creative.

"We had a joint hearing and every development corporation or authority came forward and said that they needed to be here because they facilitated economic development, and that our current laws don't really allow them the flexibility so they had to be created separately. No one wants to do the hard work here of restructuring government, so instead of restructuring, we've created these exemptions. It's easy to say, 'No, I'm opposed.' But what's your solution for economic development?

"We've talked about it for years when I was in high school: We're going to reverse the brain drain; we're going to diversify the economy. You know, I had a conversation this morning with the majority leader. His son is the same age as I am, his grandkids are in college, and there's no opportunity for them to come home. How serious are we really going to be about improving our economy and creating the opportunities for the future?"

"So what we are doing here is we are limiting the scope. I mean, I've worked with many of you to try and limit the scope so that we can show what we're really talking about. Unfortunately, we can't explain everything in theory or in the abstract, so what we have here is a bill that sets three specific projects; and our committee has worked very hard in working with the counties to get them on board and get their support. You don't see one county saying this is against home rule; that was a huge issue, especially as you mentioned in your opening day remarks. There are a number of us from the counties that support the counties. The counties see this as a vehicle that they need so that they can get some things moving."

"You know, if we didn't have this vacuum for creating this public-private partnership you wouldn't see things like the renaissance program. You wouldn't see things like harbors and parks authority. You wouldn't see things like twenty-first century schools. The question was asked, 'Why can't we do it already?' Because we can't, so we have to create. This body should be the architects of the future and we are creating something to allow this opportunity."

"So, I thank everyone for their patience. I'm really excited to show Hawai'i what we are talking about in the success of these three projects so that we can talk about expanding it later."

"Again, the changes, they don't include one exemption – not one exemption. We're talking about three limited projects. We're talking about a five-year sunset. So, if the worst fears occur, you know, it's going to be sunsetted anyway. It allows this body to revisit the legislation and say, 'Is this something that we want to expand?' You know, we've tried to address every concern, and so I really do wish that my colleagues who are standing up in opposition reconsider their position because we have to give Hawai'i a chance. Thank you."

Senator Thielen rose to speak in rebuttal as follows:

"I would just like to respond to some of the remarks. I think there is an implication that those of us who are concerned about fast-tracking development oppose economic development. That's not true."

"I support a diversified economy in Hawai'i. Becoming too reliant on development of land for our economy eventually is going to come to an end because we live on an island and we have only so much area in which to develop. I want to take a look at other areas of economic development."

"I'm sure my colleague who spoke out against this bill feels the same. I think it's ironic because he has, to my understanding, started several stores on the Big Island and has something like over 100, or close to 150, employees. That's economic development. I know I haven't done what he's done and I doubt very many other people in this room have as well. So, I think it's wrong to say that because we raise these concerns that we are opposed to economic development."

"I have two daughters. One is about to graduate from college and one is going to be graduating from high school soon, and I am concerned about their future and their ability to come back to this state. I think that there are many other ways we can work together."

"As far as the concerns in saying that this bill is going to sunset, you can ask my colleague in Hawai'i Kai how many bills where we've done things that are supposed to sunset that later on don't. So, raising concerns about what is the intent down the line are valid concerns when voting on this bill. Thank you for your time."

Senator Dela Cruz rose to speak in rebuttal as follows:

"Thank you, I just would like to make one correction in what was stated: this bill does not fast-track the development. That's very incorrect. I'm not sure where that's coming from. I think that's part of creating the hysteria that we really don't need in providing solutions. You know, instead of drawing upon people's worst fears, we should be figuring out how we can achieve their hopes, and giving correct information is what's really important. So, thank you."

Senator Solomon rose to speak in strong support of the measure as follows:

"Thank you, Madam President. I just want to speak in strong support; I am going to be submitting some written comments for the Journal. However, in response to remarks that were made by the previous speaker in terms of not wanting to be considered being anti-development, well, Madam President, I'm really tired of people thinking that I am anti- the environment. With my colleague from Kāne'ohe, we were in the Kalama Valley struggle. At Sand Island, many were arrested. So many of the environmental laws we have on the books – we were responsible."

"We are on the verge of bankruptcy! 2016. That's what we're talking about here. I've done everything that I can possibly think of for revenue generation; they call me the gaming queen and I don't even gamble. Why? Why? Because I want to create a future."

"I believe in 'Ua Mau ke Ea o ka 'Āina i ka Pono'. When the Hawaiians, na po'e kahiko, took care of this 'āina, when we were a kingdom, we supported an economy of over one million people. You know what we raised? Kalo, mai'a, 'uala. The ocean was our source of protein. We can't even do this today! This state can't even feed themselves with a population of 1.3 million!"

"This is the proud heritage that I represent, as a native Hawaiian. This is one of the reasons why I came back to this body – to help. To kōkua. But now I am getting blasted all over Twitter and social internet – calling me the maligned senator, this and that – because of my strong positions and my commitment to get this economy moving. I find it very offensive, Madam President. Accusing us of gutting and replacing and so on – six bills were gutted and replaced just within this legislative session; it's a process."

"Although I appreciate leadership's challenge – hey, I didn't create it: 120 days, 2,300 bills, referrals that involve now three or four committees. Every issue we discuss, we have three committee chairmen all trying to make a decision, all representing from different committee perspectives – that's how tough it is when you are trying to deal with economic recovery. Look how long it has taken us to get agriculture moving – over 30 years and we haven't achieved our goals."

"Our mo'opuna, our children: what is their future? These are my concerns within my na'au and my pūwai. I want them to have more opportunities. I graduated from the university; I never, ever thought that I could not get a job in Hawai'i. Not once did that come to my mind. But that is where we are at now."

"How many of you hear that from your 'ohana? 'Gee, I wish I could get a job, but I cannot; I gotta move to San Francisco.'

Look how many billions of dollars we're spending in higher education and our job market does not provide enough job diversification. Where are our graduates going? New York, San Francisco, all over the world – states other than ourselves are benefitting from our hard-earned money that we've invested in our citizens.

"This is what this bill is all about! This is what this Legislature is all about! Not sitting meekly by. Well, you know what? That's why you're elected to sit in this chair. Have some na'au! Have some strength! Be proud of who we are! Make this state the most beautiful it can be!

"We were once the most beautiful city in the Pacific. Have you walked downtown lately? Last night I did; I was walking over the homeless as I was leaving. Everything smells like what the Hawaiians call 'pu'u mimi' – and for those of you that don't understand it, that's urine – all over the place. Is that what we want? We can't even afford to clean our streets.

"My daughter comes to me, 'Hey mama, did you know that our airport is one of the most vulnerable for contagious diseases?' The fourth in the country – is that what we want? Well, I don't want it, Madam President. I want this to be the place that we all admire, and that's the legacy we represent in this building. Thank you very much."

Senator Dela Cruz rose to make the following inquiry:

"Madam President, I would like to find out – from the question that was posed on the point of inquiry – if there is a response.

The Chair responded:

"I asked for that; there was no response at the time."

Senator Ruderman rose in response and said:

"Briefly, without wasting any of my colleagues' time: If anyone's interested in my reasons for opposition, I'd refer them to my previous comments in which I specifically and clearly stated my opposition to it. Thank you very much."

Senator Slom rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

"It's been a very interesting discussion, although, you know, it pains me greatly to see disarray among my colleagues of the majority since the minority is always 100 percent when it comes to this body.

"Look, I opposed Act 55 and the PLDC, and we repealed it. I asked for changes to be made from the Chairman of Economic Development and he kept his word. I hate 'gut-and-replace' bills, and I don't care if there are one of them or six of them or ten of them – we should do without them. But they're here, and it's a matter of majority policy.

"But the point is I've had a lot of discussions with my constituents, too, and many of them are very concerned because they think it's an end run around the old PLDC and they think this could happen, that could happen, but they're not very specific. They're not very specific as to what really is the opposition other than it reminds them of PLDC and fast-tracking, which the chairman of the committee just said, really, this bill doesn't do that.

"Do I have problems with the bill? Yeah, I do. As the senator from Hawai'i Kai and Waimānalo said, I've been a strong critic of the sunset process because we tell people that we are going to sunset something, it comes up to that year, and we don't do it. But wait a minute – that's the responsibility of the people that elect us. I really wish that the public in Hawai'i would spend more time with the Legislature and with lawmaking than they do with Dancing with the Stars or even with Aerosmith. I think it's abysmal the lack of economic education and the fact that we're not moving in this community.

"Now, I will take the intent and the words of my colleagues at face value; I will trust them. Of course, when they said that they don't support tax increases, that means that 24 of you will have to go change your votes from the other day, Tuesday. But we are faced with crises, as the budget director said; I think he said 2017, we'll be bankrupt.

"As I've said many times on this floor, I'm bullish about the future of Hawai'i. I'm bullish about the people that we have and the opportunities. But we've missed opportunities, and instead we do the same old thing. So, here some of my colleagues have tried to innovatively and creatively try to find a way around this, to try to open up new avenues of economic development. And while, again, I look at some of these proposals with a jaundiced eye, I'm willing to look at them and try because there is nothing else that we have done that is even remotely positive for jobs, the environment, wages, and so forth.

"We all have to make sure, however, that the promises that are made, the statements that are promised, are fulfilled. That's our job as senators, and that's the public's job – those that elect us, and pay for everything that we do. But if we are now afraid to take a chance and do anything, then we make a self-fulfilling prophecy for our state and for our future, and that prophecy is we become total wards of the federal government, which has its own problems, or we kick the can down the road or we give up any opportunity whatsoever.

"I said in Ways and Means the thing I don't like about this bill, also, is the fact that we continue to use the term 'authority' – the public-private 'authority'. I don't like that. I bristle every time I hear that because I've never seen an authority that's done a good job.

"But semantics aside, we do need economic opportunity and economic development in this state, and it doesn't have to be mutually exclusive with protecting the environment. In fact, it cannot be because if we continue to harm the environment, then we all lose. But we have an opportunity to do things and I would suggest, once again, every time we have people that have been successful in our community, the real job creators, when they come in and testify, they tell us what we need to do – no more taxes, no more regulations that harm businesses, no more fees, no more cost to them – we don't listen. We have to start listening.

"So, if we truly are to have a partnership, I will weigh in on that, but I will continue to be eternally vigilant and I ask my colleagues to do the same thing. Thank you, Madam President; now maybe you can get on with the vote."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, S.B. No. 215, S.D. 3, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 20; Ayes with Reservations (Taniguchi). Noes, 5 (Gabbard, Green, Ihara, Ruderman, Thielen).

S.B. No. 10, S.D. 1:

Senator Galuteria moved that S.B. No. 10, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Hee.

“You know, we spend a lot of time talking about and debating the use of outside attorneys. In fact, the Legislature and the governmental agencies seem to revolve around how many outside attorneys and how much can we pay them. In this case here, the Hawaiian Homes Commission wants the ability to continue to be able to hire outside counsel. The attorney general testified against this. As I said, we’ve had numerous discussions as to why this is not a good policy, why it is extremely costly, and what the lack of benefits are. However, if the Hawaiian Homes Commission wanted to hire the attorneys and pay for them out of their budget, I wouldn’t be objecting. But instead, they don’t; they want the taxpayers again to pick up the cost of this, and that is why I oppose it. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, S.B. No. 10, S.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HAWAIIAN HOMES COMMISSION,” having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24; Ayes with Reservations (Thielen). Noes, 1 (Slom).
