ORDER OF THE DAY

ADVISE AND CONSENT

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1201 (Gov. Msg. No. 577):

Senator Inouye moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1201 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator English and carried.

Senator Inouye then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of JADE BUTAY as Director of the Department of Transportation, term to expire at noon on December 5, 2022, seconded by Senator English.

Senator Inouye rose to speak in support of the nominee as follows:

“Once again, colleagues, I am honored to present Mr. Jade Butay as the governor’s nominee for the director of the state Department of Transportation. Like last year, when Jade was first appointed to this post, I’d like to tell you a little of his background. Jade is a Filipino immigrant who came to Hawai’i at age 13 with almost no English-speaking ability. He attended and graduated from Radford High School with honors, and went on to get a bachelor’s degree from the University of Hawai’i at Mānoa in business administration and finance and accounting. He went on to get his master’s of business administration at Babson College in Massachusetts, one of the most prestigious schools for entrepreneurship in the United States.

“Jade’s long professional career spans the course of 26 years in various positions of increasing responsibility in both the private sector and government. His first stint in government was working for the state Department of Business, Economic Development, and Tourism as a budget analyst and a legislative coordinator. He worked for former U.S. Congressman Neil Abercrombie as a congressional aide before moving on to several construction firms in the private sector. In 2011, Mr. Butay was appointed to the Department of Transportation as the deputy director for administration under the Abercrombie administration before being appointed deputy director for the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations until 2014, when he was reappointed back to the Transportation department as deputy director for administration again in 2014 under the Ige administration. Jade was first appointed as director of the Department of Transportation in 2017, and we confirmed him in the Senate last year. The governor reappointed Jade as the Transportation director for another term; this is a reflection of the governor’s confidence in Jade in continuing the outstanding work he has done since that initial appointment last year. As you know, the Transportation department has had to deal with all kinds of emergencies, ranging from flooding rains on O’ahu, Kaua’i, and the Big Island; the Puna volcano eruption; to the recent landslides along the Pali Highway.

“While Jade is well-versed in the areas of process and technology as applied to each division of the Transportation department, he firmly believes that the people who work for the department are major factors in keeping the processes running well. He stated, ‘The DOT has 2,600 positions. I believe that as with any large department, leading by example, being respectful of others’ opinions, creating a consistent and fair process, listening to others’ feedback, and understanding that one cannot succeed without the support of staff, creates a positive working environment.’ He goes on to state, ‘I will continue to focus on improving communications across the department and up and down the management chain, [and implement] greater recognition of employee contribution to the mission.’ Leadership development and employee training opportunities will continue while preserving teamwork, accountability, excellence, transparency, and communications to make sure employees can carry out the department’s mission on behalf of the state.

“Jade outlined the department’s top priorities for the fiscal biennium from 2019 to 2021 as follows:

- Ensure the safety of the public;
- Improve operational efficiency;
- Improve infrastructures ‘to provide domestic and international travelers a unique destination experience’;
- Airports, harbors, and highways modernization;
- Support commerce in the state through cost-effective maintenance of facilities;
- Promote ‘revenue enhancements’;
- Leverage federal funds with state funds;
- Better communication with the public.

“Members, the accolades for Jade Butay are plentiful. All of the testimony the Transportation committee received was overwhelmingly supportive. Jade is humble but an extremely able public servant who knows how to manage the department and get the job done. I ask for your full support and vote of confidence for Director Butay.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, none. Excused, 2 (Harimoto, Kouchi).

At this time, Senator Inouye introduced Director Jade Butay, who was present in the gallery with his mother, Raynie Butay; his brother Waldon; his sister Melody; his sister-in-law Jasmine; and staff supporters from the Department of Transportation.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1202 (Gov. Msg. No. 578):

Senator Inouye moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1202 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator English and carried.

Senator Inouye then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of LYNN A.S. ARAKI-REGAN as Deputy Director of the Department of Transportation, term to expire at noon on December 5, 2022, seconded by Senator English.

Senator Inouye rose to speak in support of the nominee as follows:

“I am honored to present Lynn A.S. Araki-Regan as the governor’s nominee for deputy director of the state Department of Transportation. Lynn has worked in both the private and public sector for many years. Most recently, she was the managing director for the County of Maui. She served in that position from 2018 to this year, when she was tapped for the deputy director’s position for DOT this year. Prior to that, Lynn served as the Maui mayor’s chief of staff from 2017 to 2018. She managed the Communications, Budget, Community Development Block Grant offices and the Office of Economic Development programs. She also assisted the mayor with public relations efforts, and helped facilitate effective decision-making. She coordinated the execution of strategic initiatives and ensured that all staff issues were properly addressed. Lynn’s other public service positions include budget director for the County of Maui, economic development coordinator for the County of Maui as well, and law clerk at the Hawai’i Supreme Court. She is a member of the Hawaii State Bar Association, and has been practicing law since 1996. She has 22 years of experience in litigation, commercial transactions, creditors’ rights, and landlord/tenant law. Her private sector experience includes realtor at Keller Williams Realty on Maui; etiquette instructor at the Hawaii School of Etiquette (do we need all that at DOT?); and faculty instructor at the University of Phoenix, also in Maui.

“Lynn has also been highly engaged in her community, being involved in organizations as diverse as the Maui Chamber of Commerce, Maui Filipino Chamber of Commerce, the Realtors Association of Maui, Boy Scouts of America, Hospice Maui, Caring K9s Maui, the Japanese Cultural Center of Hawai’i, and the H.P. Baldwin High School Foundation.

“Lynn is a graduate of the William S. Richardson School of Law at the University of Hawai’i, where she got her juris doctor in 1995. She got her bachelor of science degree in accounting at Santa Clara University in California and graduated summa cum laude from Baldwin High School on Maui.

“Lynn cites her experience in law and the positions of budget director and the mayor’s chief of staff for the County of Maui as qualifications to this appointment. She stated, ‘I have gained invaluable experience in a variety of areas including overseeing and managing operations, budgeting, public relations, strategic planning, community coalition building, grant writing and monitoring, preparing for emergencies, environmental issues, working in the EOC, and personnel/HR issues—all of which are extremely valuable for the position deputy director responsible for the administrative functions of the department.’ (I don’t think this girl sleeps.) While in her various capacities at Maui County, Lynn also worked closely with the county’s Department of Transportation and the Department of Public Works throughout the annual budget process and addressing transportation-related issues.

"In her position as deputy director of the Hawai'i State Department of Transportation, Lynn's vision for the DOT is 'to enhance the quality of life and the environment of Hawai'i's residents and visitors by creating an integrated transportation system that focuses on safely moving people and goods by offering an efficient and sustainable inter-modal transportation system.' She will emphasize safety, people, integrity and respect in her new position. Some of her goals include filling vacant positions within the department, completing a transportation funding study, and proposing long-term alternatives for funding.

"Members, Lynn Araki-Regan is a highly qualified individual with years of knowledge and experience in both the public and private sectors. This has prepared her for the position of deputy director of DOT. I ask for your full support and vote of confidence to advise and consent. Thank you, Madam President and colleagues."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, none. Excused, 2 (Harimoto, Kouchi).

At this time, Senator Inouye introduced Deputy Director Lynn Araki-Regan, who was present in the gallery with her husband, Keith Regan; her parents, Ann and Fred Araki; and staff supporters from the Department of Transportation.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1203 (Gov. Msg. No. 579):

Senator Thielen moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1203 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Inouye and carried.

Senator Thielen then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of CURT T. OTAGURO as Comptroller of the Department of Accounting and General Services, term to expire at noon on December 5, 2022, seconded by Senator Inouye.

Senator Thielen rose to speak in support of the nominee as follows:

"Colleagues, we are very fortuitous: Mr. Otaguro was thinking about retiring and moving on from First Hawaiian Bank but knew he wasn't really quite ready for full-time retirement. Due to a chance conversation, he decided to put his name in to apply to be a director with Governor Ige's cabinet, and, fortunately, Governor Ige was smart enough to realize the tremendous opportunity he had in inviting Mr. Otaguro to join the cabinet.

"Prior to his appointment by the governor, Mr. Otaguro worked for First Hawaiian Bank for over 37 years, where he spent most of his career in various positions of increasing responsibility. Most recently, he served as the executive vice president and division manager of the Digital Banking Division of First Hawaiian Bank. He has also served, among other positions, as executive vice president and division manager for the Personal and e-Banking Division; executive vice president and regional manager of the Retail Banking Group; executive vice president and group manager of the Card Services Group; senior vice president and division manager of the Information Management Group and Operations Research and Development Division; and vice president and department manager of the Research and Development Department.

"Mr. Otaguro is a graduate of 'Iolani School and earned his bachelor of science in business management from the University of Redlands in California. His nearly 40 years of private sector management experience will be especially helpful when directing and coordinating the various activities of the Department of Accounting and General Services. His knowledge of the banking and financial services industry will also ensure that the state has the highest standard of financial reporting and accounting operations, which are central to this department and the position of comptroller for the state Accounting and General Services. So, colleagues, please join me in giving your wholehearted support and confirmation for Mr. Otaguro as comptroller for DAGS."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, none. Excused, 2 (Harimoto, Kouchi).

At this time, Senator Thielen introduced Comptroller Curt Otaguro, who was present in the gallery with his wife, Mi-Sun Otaguro; his parents, Herbert and Ethel Otaguro; his sister Cheryl Yamane and her husband, Steve Yamane; and his son Devan Otaguro.

Senator Thielen moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1204 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Inouye and carried.

Senator Thielen then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of AUDREY HIDANO as Deputy Comptroller of the Department of Accounting and General Services, term to expire at noon on December 5, 2022, seconded by Senator Inouye.

Senator Thielen rose to speak in support of the nominee as follows:

"Many of you will recognize Audrey Hidano; she served as the deputy comptroller for the Department of Accounting and General Services during Governor Ige's first term—actually, since April of 2015. Previously, before that, she served as the deputy director of the Department of Transportation and twice served as the deputy director of the Department of Labor and Industrial Relations. She also has an extensive career in the private sector. She co-founded Hidano Construction, Inc., with her husband in 1974 and helped run the company until its voluntary closure in 2016, and previously served as a co-owner of Rim-Pac, Incorporated. Ms. Hidano has extensive community ties in addition to her public and private sector experience, having served as a board member of the City and County of Honolulu Neighborhood Board No. 12 since 1989—that is 30 years. So, not only is she deeply involved in community issues, she also must have the patience of a saint. And she's serving as a current board member of the Nu'uano YMCA.

"Ms. Hidano's invaluable background in the private and public sectors arm her with a wealth of experience to craft innovative solutions for the department. Her experience in construction gives her a deep understanding of the industry and a wealth of industry context, which will be invaluable to her as she contributes to the leadership of a department charged with overseeing numerous state construction contracts. Members, please join me in supporting and confirming Ms. Audrey Hidano as the deputy comptroller for the State of Hawai'i."

The Chair commented:

"I'd like to interject that in a former life, I worked with Ms. Hidano, back in 1969. I'm not telling you her age; that was a long time ago."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, none. Excused, 2 (Harimoto, Kouchi).

Senator Thielen introduced Deputy Comptroller Audrey Hidano, who was present in the gallery with her husband, Steven Hidano; her daughters Ruby Fukuji, Wendy Sugihara, Jody Mukaigawa, and Lory Hidano; her son-in-law Tommy Mukaigawa; and her secretary Dawn Lino.
