At this time, Senator Gabbard rose to speak on a point of personal privilege as follows:

“Mr. President, colleagues, staff, and guests: If you’ll recall this past Friday, January 24th, we were in recess, and we missed two very important celebrations. Second in importance, it was actually Belly Laugh Day, which was created in 2005 by a professional yoga teacher who came up with the idea to celebrate laughter. She believed that we celebrated many things in life, such as love and gratitude, but we often neglect the importance of laughter, and, thus, Belly Laugh Day was born on January 24th. Of course, we don’t have to wait till next January 24th to have a good belly laugh; I had one personally this morning when my staff showed me my weekly schedule of all the bills I’ll be hearing in AEN—very hearty belly laugh I had.

“But the most important celebration some of us missed was the 62nd birthday of our beloved JDC chair from District 13, seated to my left. I know the Senate rules—I’m not allowed to mention his name, but there he is. So belated birthday aloha to you, and we hope you enjoyed your day and your toffee. Aloha.”

ADJOURNMENT
