THIRD READING

H.B. No. 1151, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

Senator Fukunaga moved that H.B. No. 1151, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Levin.

Senator Chun rose in support of the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in favor of the bill.

"Mr. President, It is an essential thing that we do in order to make sure that the funds are there to continue the Child and Adolescent Mental Health Program in order to comply with the Felix/Waihee consent decree. However, Mr. President, I want to note for the record the findings of our own Auditor in regard to the management of that program.

"In the Auditor's summary of March 1999, she found the following:

'We also found that the inability of the Child and Adolescent Mental Health Division to effectively manage its contracts with private providers is an on-going problem. Poor contract management controls leave no assurance that quality services are delivered effectively and efficiently by outside providers. The Division's new performance based method of contracting requires increased oversight for which the Division is not adequately prepared. The Division may not be able to compel contractor performance because it did not finalize clinical treatment standards before issuing its fiscal year 1997-1998 request for proposals for contracted services.

'On site monitoring of all contracts is not conducted regularly and private providers are not giving the Division the information necessary to assess whether services are required or provided.

'Finally, we found that the Division has been unable to analyze and control the cost of private provider contract services. An in-house analysis was never conducted to determine the cost effectiveness of privatization. Also, the Division has been unable to project accurately the number of children and adolescents who will require services. Without accurate information a Division cannot determine the costs and benefits of privatization.'

"Mr. President, while there has been a response by the Department regarding the severe criticism by the Auditor, and while we do want to continue providing these services to the children, I really must remind all of us that we need to consider the quality of the services that we are providing, whether it be in mental health or other kinds of contracts. We need to focus on quality and not merely quantity.

"I trust, though, with this action and the report that was submitted by the Auditor that the Department will now follow through and be very, very careful and very, very aware that they need to make sure that the funds that we are giving them, as Legislators, are adequately spent and do what they are supposed to be doing -- i.e., reach the children, and not just go to feather other people's beds.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Iwase also rose in support of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I'm rising in support of the bill.

"I would just like to ask that the comments of the Senator from South Kauai be incorporated in the Journal as though they were my own. Thank you."

The Chair so ordered.

Senator Slom rose to support the measure with reservations and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise to support the bill with reservations.

"I would also like to 'piggyback' on the comments made by my colleague from Kauai in terms of the Auditor's report.

"Mr. President, I'm very concerned, as I've mentioned numerous times before this body, we really watered down the term 'emergency,' because everything now is an emergency -- a critical emergency funding. We're talking about $42 million in this bill right now. It's my understanding that the Department of Health actually ran out of money last Friday for the funding of these critical services. It's also my further understanding that the Department of Health borrowed about $6 million from its payroll. It's also my understanding that the Department of Health borrowed an additional $3 million from the Department of Education. It's also my understanding that they're still $2 million short; that they're going to have to borrow that additional $2 million. And of the total amount of $42 million, more than $10 million represent obligations going back to fiscal year '98.

"So it makes me wonder why, and I hope my colleagues wonder as well, if the Department of Health can get by for nine months without paying these bills, then how can we be concerned about a delay now. The Auditor hit it right on the head. This is a question not of money. It is a question of management and leadership. And too often this body is rubber-stamping proposals to give more money without requiring that action be taken. We don't follow up on the Legislative Auditor's reports. I have a room full of them. They're wonderful reports, but we don't do anything about it.

"And everything that we're calling emergency and critical right now, is our responsibility. And at some point here, we're going to have to say no. We're going to have to say that, as my colleague said, it's a question of quality rather than quantity. And it's a question, as I said, of leadership versus money.

"I note further that in the committee report, while there is a requirement that there be one report made within 30 days of this appropriation, there was also sentiment expressed by the Ways and Means Committee that there be on-going continuous 30-day updates. But unlike bills that are aimed at business, where this government says you shall do this; you must do that, the committee report only says 'The Department of Health should provide continuous thirty-day updates,' and 'The Department of Health should seek out data,' and 'The Department of Health should improve its forward planning.'

"When are we going to get tough on the people that are spending the taxpayers' money and that are responsible for the things that are not being done correctly? We're always saying that we're concerned about the children. If we are truly concerned about the children, let's pass better bills. Let's implement the Auditor's reports, and let's hold people responsible.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Anderson rose and said:

"Mr. President, would you please note my W/R and have both the Majority Floor Leader's and the Minority Floor Leader's words put in the Journal as though they were my own."

The Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 1151, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING AN EMERGENCY APPROPRIATION FOR THE CHILD AND ADOLESCENT MENTAL HEALTH DIVISION," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Ihara).

The Senate reconvened at 6:36 o'clock p.m.

Senator Chumbley, for the Committee on Judiciary, requested a waiver pursuant to Senate Rule 20 for H.B. No. 162, and the Chair granted the waiver.

Senator Slom rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

"Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

"I, like many people, was caught by surprise yesterday by the announcement that this body is going to be considering a tax increase bill on Saturday. Here we are on the 38th day of our 60-day session. The opening day . . . we heard speeches all through that week by the President, by the Speaker of the House, by the Governor, telling us how we're going to improve our economy; we're going to lighten the burden for our taxpayers and our single mothers and our small businesses; we're going to cut taxes; we're going to cut back on regulations; we're going to improve the business climate. And for 38 days we've done nothing. We have nothing to show for this, Mr. President.

"And then yesterday, we hear that we're going to have a tax increase -- a general excise tax increase, the 'son of the ERTF' that the taxpayers and the business people fought last year.

"Mr. President, I feel like the Senate which I was very proud to be part of last year when we stood against the tide for increasing taxes, I'm ashamed today that we would even think about this. And all the public hearing on Saturday on Prince Kuhio Day, on the Prince Kuhio weekend . . . I know Prince Kuhio was a Republican but that's no way to treat a Republican. (Laughter.) I can't believe it!

"I remember on opening day, I was sitting here and that wonderful little girl was right by the Majority Leader's desk and she was singing the Oscar Meyer song about baloney. Little did I know, Mr. President, little did I believe that on the 38th day this body would be enveloped in baloney.

"A general excise tax increase! Didn't we learn anything? Where was all that talk about the message that came out of the 1998 general election? I feel like we've been stabbed in the back. I feel like the taxpayers have been betrayed and we're part of it. And some people, some people talk about this bill and they say, 'Oh, this is beneficial. It's going to be beneficial for the taxpayers, for small business, for our keiki.' Everything we say we do in here is for our keiki.

"And then the sponsors of this bill add insult to injury because they tell us, 'It's only a 1.35 percent increase.' It's a 34 percent increase, exactly like the increase last year that was proposed -- 34 percent! And they tell us, 'Yes, but we're going to reduce pyramiding general excise tax and help small business.'

"Mr. President, this body, several weeks ago, passed a good bill to eliminate pyramiding, to help small business. This bill doesn't do it. It phases it out over seven years -- seven years we'll have more dead and dying businesses; we'll have more people that have left this state because of the general excise tax -- a gross income tax, not a sales tax. It's the most insidious, the most onerous tax that we have! We pay it first. We all pay it first and then, maybe later, over seven years we get some benefit. Businesses can't wait that long. Taxpayers can't wait that long. Families can't wait that long. And then the sponsors tell us -- they have the temerity to tell us -- 'Oh yes, but we're going to exempt food also. It's in the bill.' Interesting concept! Republicans have been pushing for the food exemption for 50 years now. All of a sudden, somebody thought about this and tied it into general excise. But there's only one problem -- it's not in this bill, Mr. President. They sold us another bad bill of goods. If we were before the Commerce Committee or DCCA, it would be fraudulent. And that's what this bill is all about.

"Why this bill? Why now? Why, when we haven't done anything for the people? Why do we talk about increasing the taxes more? If someone loses their job, does their child ask for an increase in his allowance? If business is suffering because people aren't buying, do they raise their prices? Only the Legislature seems to act on the idea that if we have more problems brought on by taxes and regulations, we will provide more taxes and more regulations.

"We haven't gotten the message. We're not listening to the people. They didn't send us here to increase their burden. They sent us here to make it lighter. I can't believe this.

"And, Mr. President, I heard again the favorite word that comes out of this body -- it was a collaborative style to introduce this tax increase. What collaboration? Who knew about it? Who collaborated on it? Who cooperated on it? Why now? And is it just for discussion? Is it just for leverage? Is it just to make talk? Why don't we pass good bills? We have good bills. The Senate has passed good bills. But instead, we put this to the forefront.

"Mr. President, everybody is talking about Y2K and the problems and the things, the tragedies, that could happen next year, January 1. If this bill becomes law, this is a bigger tragedy and has a bigger impact than anything that Y2K could do. We've got to stop this bill now. It's no good! We don't need it! We don't want it! And if we believe in the taxpayers of this State, let's stand up and say 'No,' as a body, and make sure that it doesn't even go further than Saturday.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Anderson also rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

"Mr. President, I'd like the words of the Minority Floor Leader put in the Journal as though they were my own.

"I guess I have an announcement also. Since I wasn't a part of the collaboration, I had made prior commitments, and then I saw that we're going to have WAM meetings scheduled for Saturday at 3:00 and 3:30. I already had commitments. I won't be at the meeting. I wanted to announce that I would hope that the neighbor island people . . . if people want you at a hearing, have it at 8:00 in the morning, 8:30 in the morning, not in mid-afternoon when the public has other things to do and so do your colleagues. We have commitments as well as everybody else. So, I'm going to make my commitment right now -- I'm going to be busy and I'm not going to be there.

"I would hope everybody else just doesn't go, because I don't think that's fair that I have to watch television to find out that we're going to have a raise in taxes. We had people for dinner last night and they said we heard, but it wasn't until television told me that we were having it. Rumors, they said, were around this chamber. That's a helluva way for anybody who is a part of this Senate to find out that we have a possibility of raising taxes, especially when we're asked to do things that would help the economy in other ways. And we have many ways.

"So, I'm sorry, Madam Chair and my fellow colleague, the other co-chair, I would hope that I would have been there but because of the poor collaboration and because of the poor notices, we made other commitments and I'm afraid that I will not be there. So that's my announcement, Mr. President, and I thank you."

"Thank you, first of all. It's been an honor to be here in front of the body that perpetuates our State. It's a really great honor, so I thank you for that.

"I guess you could say we've been honored twice this week -- first, to be in front of you all, and secondly, to be the 47th Cherry Blossom Court.

"This year, we plan to do many things. Although it's not really set in stone yet, we have great plans for this year. One of our missions is definitely to perpetuate our culture and our heritage, to get the community involved. Our second plan is to definitely get into the youth, to teach them, and to become a good role model for them as well. MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

Gov. Msg. No. 251, informing the Senate that on March 25, 1999, he signed into law Senate Bill No. 1639 as Act 2, entitled: "MAKING AN EMERGENCY APPROPRIATION FOR KAPOLEI HIGH SCHOOL," was read by the Clerk and was placed on file.

ORDER OF THE DAY

THIRD READING

H.B. No. 850, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

Senator Kanno moved that H.B. No. 850, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senator Iwase rose in support of the measure with reservations as follows:

"Mr. President, I'm rising to speak in support of the bill with reservations.

"Mr. President, the purpose of this bill is to extend amnesty for uninsured motorists, purportedly to encourage these uninsured motorists to buy auto insurance.

"Mr. President, the last time we dealt with auto insurance, we had statistics showing about somewhere between 15 to 20 percent of the automobile drivers weren't insured. And so, one of the discussions that occurred when we enacted the reforms three years ago, four years ago, was that by reducing the premiums and providing amnesty, people would buy auto insurance because uninsured motorists pose a problem for our state. It is unfair, therefore, for the 80 percent who are presently struggling to pay for auto insurance to continue to pay when we continue to extend the amnesty provisions.

"Moreover, Mr. President, and with sympathy to those who are having difficulty and therefore cannot buy auto insurance, if the auto insurance costs are not affordable because the reforms have not provided the affordability that was promised, then perhaps the better answer is to eliminate no-fault altogether as insurance and let people choose, or to enact a choice bill which was before this body four years ago, to let people choose whether or not they want to buy no-fault insurance or buy some form of a modification of that, or to elect not to buy auto insurance at all.

"But at this point in time, Mr. President, we ought to not continue to extend this amnesty. Thank you."

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in opposition to this bill.

"I'd like to reflect some of the comments that my colleague just made about the amnesty provisions, but I'd like to go a little bit further. First of all, we've had two amnesty periods already, and now we're having a third and probably we'll have a fourth and a fifth. It makes a mockery of what we're doing here in terms of laws.

"The Honolulu Police Department testified against this bill very vehemently. As my colleague mentioned, really what we should be doing is giving people a choice or ending the mandatory requirement for insurance, if that's what we're concerned about. In addition to that, we don't make any distinction in this bill between those who have any kind of hardship or special case scenario or anything else. We just continue the amnesty.

"So, if we're going to continue to do that, as I say, it really makes a mockery of trying to have a law that punishes those of us who are the good citizens and pay the bills and do the things we're supposed to do.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senators Bunda and Sakamoto requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Kawamoto then rose and said:

"As one who favored a choice bill, with reservations, please."

The Chair so ordered.

At this time, Senators Chun, Buen, Matsunaga, also requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 850, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MOTOR VEHICLE INSURANCE," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

H.B. No. 1548, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

Senator Nakata moved that H.B. No. 1548, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator M. Ige.

Senator Anderson requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

H.B. No. 1203, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

On motion by Senator Fukunaga, seconded by Senator Levin and carried, H.B. No. 1203, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE COLLECTION OF TAXES," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

H.B. No. 1061, H.D. 2, S.D. 1:

On motion by Senator Fukunaga, seconded by Senator Levin and carried, H.B. No. 1061, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO GRANTS AND SUBSIDIES," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

H.B. No. 1086, S.D. 1:

RE-REFERRAL OF HOUSE BILL

The Chair re-referred the following House bill that was received:

House Bill Referred to:

No. 150, H.D. 2 Jointly to the Committee on Education and Technology and the Committee on Ways and Means and the Committee on Judiciary

Senator Chun Oakland, for the Committee on Health and Human Services, requested a waiver pursuant to Senate Rule 20 for S.C.R. Nos. 42, 112, 113, 119 and 121; and S.R. No. 50, and the Chair granted the waiver.

Senator Slom rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

"I, like many of my colleagues I'm sure, are very saddened today with the news that we apparently have lost Baywatch. Day after day, for weeks on end, Mr. President, we've been following the news and hoping against hope that this intellectual series would come to our fair shores. What boobs, Mr. President, what boobs made this decision to relinquish the opportunity for us to have this TV series here? I just don't understand it. You know, we tried so hard. The Legislature tried to throw money at them. The Governor personally lobbied. The media had an unrelenting campaign. And yet, it looks like the decision was made not here, but in Los Angeles by the Teamsters Union. I'm very saddened by that.

"Of course, we also are losing the Biotech edge that we had at the University of Hawaii because we didn't lobby for that, because we didn't throw money at that, because we didn't keep our promises, because the Governor didn't get personally involved. And we go out and we look for other businesses across the country and industries that don't exist here, while denying existing businesses an improved business climate or tax reduction. And we wonder why we lose them.

"What boobs, Mr. President. We should take care of the things that we have, first, and make them better, before we move on.

"Thank you."

Senator Anderson also rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

"Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

"I agree with the Minority Floor Leader, but I think, Mr. President, it's a shame that I have to constantly get up on a point of personal privilege because the economy is so bad, and then read in the editorial that we make brave noises and that education has got to be first and foremost, and the economy is low. Hell, we know that. Everything that comes up . . . I think what we have here is a group of people that are a little deaf. I don't make strange noises or noises for political causes that make it where we're going to move forward for no reason. We come up with solutions.

"We have education, for instance. Charter schools, vouchers, tax credits -- you folks may not like those ideas, but the people do. And there's nothing wrong with those kinds of deals. I had a woman call my office and said, 'Why don't we go ahead and charge the private schools?' Well, my daughter has two children going to private schools. She pays taxes for public schools. She needs all the help she can get from us if we can go ahead and help our grandchildren, because our public schools are in sad shape.

"The federal government just said we had $15 million, and we're going to put it where? -- in the general fund. And yet, the other day when Representative McDermott was on, somebody said, 'Hell, 70 percent of those kids belong to military parents. They're not ours. The federal government should take care of them.' Then why don't we take those federal dollars and take care of the schools if the percentage is so high of students from the military?"

"Let me go into another one -- streamlining of government. I've been talking about that. There's nothing wrong with a unicameral system. I'm not worried about my political future. I said get rid of 25 people. To make it where people could understand, I said visualize that second floor with no Senators, no staff, no equipment. In reality, it's 25 less people. I'm running this time. I would just as soon take a chance on being a senator or a representative. That means what? That I have to run against Representative Goodenow? So if they dump me, they pick up him. If they dump him, they pick up me. That's the chance that we all take. And that's cutting government."

"I've said regulatory reform. The Governor wants to go ahead on administrative rules. Four years, SWAT team. Two years is what we set. Make sure that all rules and regs drop dead in two years, unless a department can justify them. And what's wrong with that? Four years to find out an impact on businesses that's taking them down the tubes. How many more businesses can we lose? And yet, we just voted this morning for more rules and regs."

"Gambling. I just watched on television the group against gambling. Well hell, there's only two states that don't have gambling, and even Utah says that we can have horse racing for sportsmanship. But if this group is so strong and it's so vital for you folks to listen to them, then why aren't the other states listening?"

"I went and asked for some statistics this morning for people, since we passed years ago that alcohol would be legal. It's costing us $500 billion in gambling, yearly, but in our pathological deal it's another, what is it, five million problem? That's not too bad. When we passed alcohol, we had 14 million Americans that had problems, and it's costing us over $100 billion a year. I don't see anybody changing that law. Why don't we change that if it's so bad? But what you do every year is you try to figure out how we can get more money from alcohol. We tax it more. That's your solution to everything -- tax, not to get rid of anything. Just tax it."

"I don't see anyone that turns around and says, son or daughter or whatever, how about joining me in a game of poker or dice in the evening. But most of us have told our children, would you like a sip of wine; how about a little beer? But we don't ask them to gamble. And the law says 21. But that's the way to stimulate the economy."

"What we have here is people saying that we have to raise taxes and that we have people who will stand up and say brave things. Well, that's not quite true. I've had people come to my door with people on welfare and needing help because they're single parents and everything else. They don't care where they're getting the money from. They just tell them, see the Senator. Well, we have a realistic way of trying to control government, a realistic way of trying to look at helping the economy. It's not something that we just think up. And if you think that we just play games over here, you must be deaf and blind because you folks really don't look at the situation and you don't listen. What you do is walk out every year to say that we're just mouthing off."

"I thank you for listening, Mr. President, and I wish that we would seriously consider all of the different things that we don't need to raise taxes on, but we can help our economy and make sure that we move forward and that we don't blame Asia and others for the problems that we can go ahead and help solve."

"Thank you very much."

ORDER OF THE DAY

MATTER DEFERRED FROM TUESDAY, MARCH 30, 1999

AGREE/DISAGREE

S.B. No. 1125, H.D. 1:

On motion by Senator Taniguchi, seconded by Senator Kanno and carried, the Senate disagreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 1125 and requested a conference on the subject matter thereof.

Senator Slom rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

"Today, in Commerce and Consumer Protection one of the resolutions we took up had to do with slamming and cramming. Slamming and cramming had to do with abuses, apparently, with the telecommunications industry. However, Mr.

President, in watching the news last night and hearing the comments from our Governor, I felt like we've been slammed and crammed and maybe more.

"The Governor was talking about the budgetary problems. And you know, I've been asking since last July, Where is that $156 million surplus that the Governor was talking about? I don't know of anybody that ever saw it. I kept asking to see it, and I kept asking about the economic turn-around. And now I hear, Mr. President, that the turn-around is not here just yet, but what is here is a call for more taxes from the Governor, and a call that we're having problems with the budget, and the possibility of the closure of the state hospital in Kaneohe, and the possibility of having a special session in either June or October.

"Mr. President, fellow colleagues, haven't we learned our lesson? First of all, we spent 42 days here so far; we've passed two bills, although the hula bill is close to being passed so we will have an official State dance. We haven't done anything to improve the economy. We haven't done anything to lighten the load of our families. We haven't done anything to help small business people, but we keep talking about it. And now we're talking about raising taxes and having a special session. A special session for what, Mr. President? If we would do our jobs, if we would do our work like our constituents have to do, if we would meet our obligations, if we would put in the time and have some results, we wouldn't even have to talk about a special session because, believe me colleagues, there's nothing special about a special session that can't deal with the budgetary problems that we ourselves have helped create.

"The idea that we would talk about more taxes, tax increases, at a time when our people are suffering so much, when we're still losing businesses, when we're still losing people from this state, appalls me. And so, taking a leaf out of today's Commerce and Consumer Protection Committee, I would urge this body to get even more serious, do the things that we have to do in the time that we have allotted, because that's what people sent us here for, and stop this slamming, cramming, jamming, whamming, and most of all, ramming the taxpayers of this State.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against the bill.

"The purpose of the act in Section 1 says that the purpose is to remove the requirement of displaying specific mandatory information, such as the social security number. This is something that we've been discussing for a number of years, something that I've been personally involved in. However, in the bill in Section 2, it says, 'Information to be secured. The department of the attorney general shall require,' and then it goes on to list a number of items, and on page 3 it lists '(9) The social security number of the applicant.' How can we say that the purpose is to remove the social security number and then say that the Attorney General shall require the social security number of the applicant?

"Unless someone can explain that difference to me, Mr. President, I'll vote 'no' on the bill.

"Thank you."

Senator Anderson rose to speak on the measure with reservations as follows:

"Mr. President, I have some reservations on the bill primarily because I've taken down a check to the bank and they're State checks, so I gave them this ID badge that we all carry. It says, 'This is to certify that Whitney T. Anderson is a member of the Senate.' It's got the State seal and it's signed by the Lt. Governor. And they asked for my driver's license because it doesn't have anything else on it. And we pay for this. And I brought it up before.

"And I don't know why we're paying for an ID? An identification card that says that you're a Senator, when they don't really give a damn if you're a Senator. And yet you have a State check that they won't cash unless you show them something with a social security number and other identification that they believe is pertinent.

"So, I would have a lot of concerns on spending money on something that's not worth a damn. So that's why I have some reservations on some of our ID cards and things that we carry.

"Thank you very much, Mr. President."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 992, H.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE ISSUANCE OF CERTIFICATES OF IDENTIFICATION," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom rose to speak on the measure with reservations as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak for the bill with reservations.

"Mr. President, I notice that on the bills we have today (whether we are going to vote for all of them or not) I've raised the question about special purpose revenue bonds before. But our hardworking, industrious Minority staff has totalled the amounts of these special purpose revenue bond bills. Just today, they totalled $212,700,000, plus an additional bill that only has an appropriation of $1 (H.B. No. 1594), plus a blank amount in H.B. No. 854. I'm very concerned, Mr. President, about the totals and the amounts and the fact that most of my colleagues I don't think spend much time looking at those totals when we do things piecemeal.

"So, I'll vote for the bill because of the purpose of the bill, but with reservations.

"Thank you."

Senator Anderson requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Anderson rose to speak on the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I'd also like to mention that when you say 'not for profit' we know that we have some that make a profit, but the non-profit -- normally the administrative groups -- probably make more money than anyone else, and they make sure that their companies come out with a non-profit. So those are some of my concerns that I've had over the years because we keep forming non-profit organizations. And let me tell you, when you start looking at the administrators and the money that they're making, the non-profit makes more money than the for-profit.

"I just wanted to make that a little clear on why we have some reservations, also."

Senator Slom rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against the bill.

"I know that many people in our community are suffering and they're hurting right now, and they're hurting because of what our government has done to them in terms of taxes and regulations and the cost of living. But our pensioners and our retirees are among the best paid pensioners and retirees in the nation. And to continue to increase bonuses, particularly unfunded bonuses, I think hurts everyone in the community.

"And if we're saying that the pensioners have not had a bonus because it has not kept pace with the cost of living, it depends on what measure we take. If we're using a measure of inflation, we find out that we've had almost nil inflation in this State. If we got to the point where we use that as a measurement and we had deflation, then we would have to require the pensioners to actually give us money back.

"I think the real problem here is that people don't understand if we continue to add to our costs of pension and retirement, add the bills that are presently before this session to add even more people and more money for more pensions, more retirement, more health care benefits, then the remaining people who are not government public employee pensioners and retirees are going to continue to suffer in this State, or to leave this State. So I think it's a bad precedent. I think it's bad financial planning, and I think it harms all of us, so I'll be voting 'no.'

"Thank you."

Senator Nakata moved that H.B. No. 102, H.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator M. Ige.

Senator Sakamoto rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in opposition to the measure.

"This measure's purpose, supposedly, is to eliminate the ambiguity in penalties assessed against employers who fail to pay wages. Now, nobody would be in favor of an employer who fails to pay wages. The proposed ambiguity that this bill clears up is that the current law says that the penalties assessed can be up to the amount of unpaid wages. This bill eliminates the 'up to'; eliminates the discretion on what the penalty is to be and proposes that the penalty amounts be equal to the unpaid wages.

"There are many reasons why wages are unpaid -- maybe time sheets are not turned in, maybe overtime isn't properly calculated, maybe there was a holiday and correct wages weren't paid. I'm not arguing the case of correct wages should be paid, but I am arguing the point that taking away the 'up to' takes away the discretion from the Department of Labor or whoever the adjudicator is to assess an appropriate penalty. And certainly, we don't want bills that harm employers.

"And the argument can be made that nobody testified against it. The testimonies supporting the measure were from the Consumer Lawyers of Hawaii and the National Employment Lawyers Association. And maybe the question is, Well, who speaks for business? I guess I do, and I hope many of you do, as well. When we purport that the economy is our major issue, then why should we want to press on business anymore than we have?

"So, for those reasons, Mr. President, I speak against the bill. Thank you."

At this time, Senators Bunda, Iwase and Inouye requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 102, H.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO WAGE PAYMENTS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 20. Noes, 4 (Anderson, Matsuura, Sakamoto, Slom). Excused, 1 (Tanaka).

On motion by Senator Nakata, seconded by Senator M. Ige and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1384 was adopted and H.B. No. 1124, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE STATE ADVISORY COUNCIL ON REHABILITATION," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Tanaka).

H.B. No. 765;
H.B. No. 1017;
H.B. No. 1183;
H.B. No. 1522;
H.B. No. 1649; and
H.B. No. 1726,

and the Chair granted the waiver.

Senator Anderson rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

"Mr. President, I stand on a point of personal privilege.

"Mr. President, I was told today at a hearing that I do floor speeches, so I thought I'd do one. When I'm in a hearing and I question people and the answers don't really go the way I think the public wants, I'm not an attorney so I get a little upset and I tell them just what the hell I feel because that's what the people feel. So, if you accuse me of doing a floor speech, this is a floor speech.

"And let me tell you, I think it's a shame that we can come here to represent the people and then ask for waivers so that they don't come to hearings. Then we turn around and we blame staff because I got the Order of the Day today at 11:06. Now that's a floor speech and I think it's a shame that we go to these committee hearings; we have to vote in public because it sounds so great, but we can't pass anything if we don't have a quorum. So all the bills pile up the way that they normally do. And if we do have a quorum and they don't have the vote that they want, we can defer the bloody bill. And that's been happening over and over and over again. And the staff is being blamed for that.

"I think it's a shame that we have a practice, Mr. President, that isn't working, and I don't care how many goody goods think that voting in public is satisfying everybody when, in fact, they are making the laws that we have, the worst that we've ever had. We are giving away, Mr. President, and relinquishing the responsibilities to the Board of Education that we have with budgets by giving away the safety net that this Democratic Party says they're so proud of by saying we're going to let groups take over. If you wanted to do a reform, we said long ago, de-centralize the Board of Education. That would have been people voting for those people from their own districts.

"As far as the state hospital, when I was in the House I told them that we should be moving it to a place that we owned a lot more land, which was Waimano Home. And we had a group of people up there that was similar. We had the types of facilities, but what are we going to do? We're going to say, 'No, you're not going to be able to get the types of treatment that you need.' And then we can get rid of some people that we want to in government, Mr. President. Well, that's a helluva way to do it.

"Now, this is a floor speech. And I would hope that once in a while that you folks would listen, rather than say, 'There he goes again,' because that's how your constituents feel, my friends -- that we don't listen.

"And the reason that I'm angry with some of the police people and others that were there is that we have laws on the books that are not being enforced. I have asked for people who are dealing in drugs and given them license plate numbers and given them everything that we can, and it's not enforceable.

"I have people in business that don't like vending on the streets because they have to pay property taxes. They have to pay for their buildings that they're in and everything else, and some guy can get a 4 percent gross income license and he can vend on the streets. And I'm not a very bright person and I'm not an attorney, but when a judge says you have a 4 percent gross income license and I think you're just trying to earn a living, I tell them I can get a gross income license for breeding my animals because then all of the vet bills and the food, I can write off. But once those puppies or horses or whatever give birth, I can't go and sell them on the street. That's not what the 4 percent gross income is all about.

"There are other laws that we have on the books that are not being enforced, and that's what you folks should be looking at. That's what we should be looking at in committees, instead of making believe that things are going to get better and going to turn around. And that's why the frustrations are there, Mr. President, because I'm not an attorney and I'm not one that has the most uninvolved type of personality there is. When I get frustrated, I'm not interested in questions and answers. I'm trying to get a point across, and it's not a floor speech. It's as sincere as can be.

"So I do thank you for your time, Mr. President, and that's the concerns that I have. Thank you very much."

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Tanaka).

H.B. No. 746, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

Senator D. Ige moved that H.B. No. 746, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Sakamoto.

Senator Slom rose in support of the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this bill.

"Yes, it is a pleasure to speak for a bill and also for such an important bill. This is probably what Mr. President and the Governor meant about turning our economy around, because now that we will have hula as our official State dance, I know that we will be able to turn our economy around, although I am a little concerned about some of the various interpretations of the dance. And I am concerned, Mr. President, that the 'humuhumunukunuaipuaa' still has to run for re-election as the official State fish. But I'm very pleased to support this bill and I urge, I urge, all of my colleagues to please support this bill. Let us pass a good bill.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 746, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HULA," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Tanaka).

H.B. No. 1180, S.D. 1:

On motion by Senator Inouye, seconded by Senator Buen and carried, H.B. No. 1180, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE LICENSE FOR IMPORTED MARINE LIFE," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Tanaka).

H.B. No. 83, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

Senator Chumbley moved that H.B. No. 83, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Matsunaga.

Senator Slom rose to speak in support of the bill with reservations and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of this bill with reservations.

"As a former juror, myself, and one who expects and hopes to be on a jury again, I certainly believe in the idea here that everybody should serve this very basic and fundamental civic duty and responsibility. But I am a little concerned with the bill that does call for elected officials to serve on juries, particularly during legislative sessions. I'm particularly concerned about that and think that maybe the bill should have been amended or could be amended to specify that elected officials would not serve during the period of an active legislative session, because otherwise, Mr. President, it could be a terrible thing -- you could have 50 percent of your Minority serving on a jury and they would not be present to discuss and vote on the many, many bad bills that are discussed here.

"So, with that reservation, I'm pleased to support the bill, Mr. President. Thank you."

Senator Anderson also rose to speak on the measure with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, I, too, have some reservations, partly for the same reasons. But I also believe that the appointed people that are helping to run our State should also, from the period, say, of January to April or May, whenever we are in session, if they are called for to give testimony . . . I do know that in the past because we did not have one of the department heads that went to testify in one of our committees, she was later not reappointed. And I think that was a shame because somebody said that they sent in the second string, rather than the first. So, if those people are not eligible because they are on jury duty and for some reason a judge does not feel that it's fair, they could be in trouble.

"So, I would hope that all people who are elected and those that are appointed would have from certain times when we're in session that they would be excluded from being on jury duty. And those are some of my concerns along with my colleague's.

"Thank you very much, Mr. President."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 83, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO COURTS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

"Mr. President, I want to express some concerns with one provision -- the provision that 'If a towing company does not comply with the insurance and signage requirements, any person, including the registered owner, lienholder, or insurer of the vehicle may sue the company for any resulting damages and, if that person prevails, the sum of not less than $1,000 or threefold damages plus reasonable attorneys fees and costs shall be awarded.' I think for an improper sign, that's a little heavy. So, hopefully in conference committee, issues like this can be worked out.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senators Slom and Chun requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Kawamoto rose and stated:

"The chair would stand up and address this bill, but we recommend that since Judiciary was unfortunately left out in the traffic of this bill, we recommend that Judiciary be a member on this conference committee.

Senator Fukunaga moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1400 be adopted and H.B. No. 743, H.D. 3, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Levin.

Senator Iwase rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I'm rising to speak in opposition to the bill.

"Mr. President, my opposition is not based upon the merits of whether or not advanced practice registered nurses should or should not be included in direct payments from insurance companies, but what this bill does is put them into that category for both auto insurance costs and workers' comp costs, and I think the implications are great and I would like to have just a few seconds to explain it.

"Mr. President, we have been, over the last two, three, four years, attempting to drive down the cost of auto insurance and workers' comp insurance. We passed reforms to deal with auto insurance and workers' comp insurance. With respect to auto insurance, as well as workers' comp, I think what we looked at were two areas that were driving the costs up. One was legal costs, the law suits, and we sought to tighten that up both with auto and workers' comp. Second was the medical cost that impacted upon premiums, and we sought to tighten that up by trying to provide certain gatekeepers to monitor who or what kind of treatments would be provided and under what conditions. There has been some success, at least in the workers' comp area. In auto reform, the jury is still out.

"Mr. President, what we're doing now is adding back into the restricted categories of direct payees, another profession. And therein lies the problem. I think that before we do these things, we ought to look at criteria to determine whether or not a particular profession should be added back into both the workers' compensation law and the auto insurance law to determine whether or not they should be direct payees. If we do not do so and we take it on an ad hoc basis -- how many people come down and testify, how sympathetic is their plight -- then we have a problem, because it's based purely on subjectivity, rather than objectivity.

"Out there now, Mr. President, and who could seek to come back in to direct payment under the workers' comp and auto insurance law, would be professions such as physical therapists, massage therapists. I understand that physician assistants are now seeking licensure and they could seek to come back in as a direct payee, and of course there's the acupuncturists.

"Mr. President, I believe that we ought to be very circumspect when we add categories of professions back as direct payees, because if we do not do so, all the efforts that we have made to drive down workers' comp costs and auto insurance costs which impact upon the pocketbooks of the people of this State and the employers of this State are not going to succeed.

"So for those reasons, Mr. President, I'll be casting a 'no' vote. Thank you."

Senator Sakamoto also rose in opposition to the measure and said:

"I rise in opposition, Mr. President, similarly to the Senator from Mililani, similar concerns.

"In addition, my understanding is that rules for that profession and their practice still have not been implemented as well. So we're certainly ahead of the curve on some issues and let's be wise in what we do. So I'm in opposition, and certainly, there are places that health care providers such as those are needed, but they don't have to be on the workers' comp schedule, on the auto schedule, where we worked so hard to save consumers' dollars.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Slom requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

Senator M. Ige then rose to speak against the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I, too, would like to rise in opposition.

"Mr. President, I just want to echo the sentiments of the Senator to my left that I, too, am concerned about this potential cost driver to automobile insurance, I guess, to bring it up to where it may be unaffordable again. It seems to me like a step backwards.

"So, I do want to express my opposition. Thank you."

Senators Inouye, Anderson, D. Ige, Buen and Chun then requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1400 was adopted and H.B. No. 743, H.D. 3, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ADVANCED PRACTICE REGISTERED NURSES," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom rose to support the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of the bill.

"I support this bill as I did the Senate bill, but again with the same caveat, and that is -- while I think it certainly is altogether right and fitting that all employees in the state government be afforded the opportunity to purchase medical insurance and other insurance as well, I want to make sure, though, that it is the intent of the Legislature that this is a non-charge to the employer, to the state and to the taxpayers, and that there will not be any attempt in the future to make retroactively these costs a charge on the taxpayers or the state.

"Thank you."

"Mr. President, I rise to support the bill with reservations.

"We passed landmark legislation last year giving the University of Hawaii autonomy and yet the autonomy is not complete in many areas, and we see that it's not complete in the area of legal representation. So I think from that standpoint it's inconsistent.

"But the problem I have with this bill is that it doesn't provide any standard for the University of Hawaii to use to determine when it should use its own legal counsel, and when it should be using the Attorney General's office. It doesn't address this issue at all. Providing the University access to two separate state attorney offices without any guidelines creates an ambiguity and could result in a waste of money because each legal office would be prone to either over- or under-staff. So I think that the bill should establish that the University must use its own counsel except for certain enumerated situations.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Anderson then requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

Senator M. Ige rose in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak with reservations on this measure.

"Mr. President, as Government Operations co-chair a couple of years back, we had such difficulty working with the Attorney General's office and I just feel that we absolutely need to have some control over these contracts and that we should have those agreements looked at by someone within our own state government. And I just have some reservations about bypassing the Attorney General's office.

"Thank you."

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in opposition to the bill.

"We are continuing to load additional fees and taxes on our motor vehicle owners, and to go from $1 to $3 in this bill does not guarantee that we're going to use it for that specific purpose. And a fee is a tax, is a tax, is a tax.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1430 was adopted and H.B. No. 719, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ABANDONED MOTOR VEHICLES," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

"Mr. President, again as one of your Government Operations co-chairs a couple of years back, the Auditor was very critical of this program. I support QUEST. I think the intent is valid and must be supported, but when the Auditor came back she was critical in expressing the fact that some of the costs were out of control, definitions weren't in place. And to see a measure without any cost implications, I have grave reservations about that. And I hope that during conference we'll be able to iron out those figures and be able to come up with what kind of financial impact this measure will have on the people of Hawaii.

"Thank you."

Senator Kawamoto also rose with reservations on the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor with reservations.

"Mr. President, six years ago seems like a long time. But six years ago when QUEST came about, the idea of QUEST was to save money and to cover more people. It appears, since I've been on the Ways and Means for five years now, every year there's been an emergency request for helping QUEST, and every year we've paid it. Somehow we have to, again, curtail the cost of our health care. We need to look and scrutinize also because of the fact that the Auditor came aboard and indicated there is some problems in the QUEST management. We need to look at that. Therefore, I support the bill but with reservations.

"Thank you."

Senators Anderson, Slom, Iwase and Buen then requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

MATTERS DEFERRED FROM FRIDAY, APRIL 9, 1999

THIRD READING

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1399 (H.B. No. 677, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

Senator Fukunaga moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1399 be adopted and H.B. No. 677, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Levin.

Senator Slom rose in support of the measure with reservations and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of the measure with reservations.

"The original measure, I think, called for an appropriation of $100,000 for yet another study. We have spent money on this ocean platform in terms of having a conference prior to this. There is abundant research out in the real world as to what the possibilities are. I believe the Japanese and others have been working on this, so I have reservations. I would like to see the University become more prominent. I'd like to see us do things. I don't want to see more studies, however.

"Thank you."

Senator Taniguchi rose to support the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I stand in support of this bill.

"Mr. President, this is a bill that was supported by the late Dennis Toyomura who actively lobbied for this bill and who recently passed away. I would hope that the members would support this bill in his memory.

"Thank you."

Senator Iwase then added:

"Mr. President, I'm rising to speak in support of the bill.

"I would like the comments of the Senator from Manoa incorporated as though they were my own. This is something for Dennis."

The Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1399 was adopted and H.B. No. 677, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO AN OCEAN FLOATING, ALL-NATURAL CLEAN ENERGY POWER STATION," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

Senator Anderson rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

"Mr. President, would it be improper if I wanted to stand on a point of personal privilege?"

The Chair responded: "Please state your point."

"Thank you very much, Mr. President.

"Since we just started and this was the first bill, I'd like to say that there's been some rumors around that a lot of us vote because of our party. I would like you to know, if that's the case then I would vote against every bill here and we could all play games. I think we've come to the point where most of us feel that we owe the people of the State of Hawaii the best that we can possibly give to help them. And that's what most of these bills reflect. It has nothing to do with party. And that's what I'd like to say this morning. There have been some bills that have been overlooked that might have moved us forward economically, but for the best part, most of us here are going to be voting for what's good for the State of Hawaii and not because of party.

"Thank you very much, Mr. President."

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against the bill.

"Mr. President, the bill is a good bill. It promotes recycling. We're all in favor of recycling, but I will be entirely consistent. I will vote against every bill that seeks to establish or re-establish a special fund within the State.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1407 was adopted and H.B. No. 1012, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE CLEAN HAWAII FUND," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Fukunaga moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1409 be adopted and H.B. No. 1095, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Levin.

Senator Anderson rose to speak on the measure with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, I will be voting for this measure with some reservations.

"I'm just worried that the Office of Hawaiian Affairs was started, supposedly, not as a part of the State, yet it is depending on some of its budget to come from us, and we are looking at giving them a retirement fund and other things. I have some questions as to if those funds will ever be returned to the State, if in fact they will be excluded as a department and stand on their own, whereby those of us who do vote for the Office of Hawaiian Affairs trustees will make them where they are subject to do the best that they can for the overall Hawaiian community and not have to worry about if they are going to be doing the best that they can for the constituency of the State of Hawaii and not the beneficiaries for whom they represent.

"The way it stands right now, it seems that we're looking at taking some of the dollars that OHA has for benefits of different types of state funding that we need. And also, we look at the trustees who are looking at trying to invest the money rather than put them out for the programs that are very needed for the Hawaiian community.

"Thank you very much, Mr. President."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1409 was adopted and H.B. No. 1095, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE REVIEW OF THE SALARIES OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE OFFICE OF HAWAIIAN AFFAIRS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (M. Ige).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1413 (H.B. No. 1575, H.D. 2, S.D. 1):

Senator Fukunaga moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1413 be adopted and H.B. No. 1575, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Levin.

Senator Slom rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against the bill.

"While I'm certainly in favor of all kinds of initiatives for young people and for conferences and activities that will bring people to the State of Hawaii, I'm troubled by this bill. First of all, it's sponsored by an organization called Peace Child International, which is a London based corporation, non-profit, and also supported by the United Nations.

"During the hearings there was conflicting testimony as to what the money was going to be used for, who the money was going to pay for, who was going to choose the delegates from around the world, and I think the last bit of testimony was that there probably would be no more than two delegates from the State of Hawaii. We'll be bringing in young people, but the question is what the agenda would be.

"In the past, unfortunately, we have gotten involved as a state and as a nation in using taxpayer money to support those kinds of projects and those kinds of activities that basically did not stress the free market, did not stress our Republican form of government, did not stress overall economic development, and in fact, using money to host and to sponsor conferences and seminars in opposition.

"So, while I certainly applaud the efforts of a private entity to do this on their own, I do not think that the State should be using taxpayer money to do this, particularly when we are using a blank amount or a $2 amount to do it. So I will be voting 'no.'

"Thank you."

Senator Chun Oakland rose to speak in support of the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I speak in support of this bill.

"The Millennium Young People's Congress, which will occur from October 25 to 29, is an effort on the part of the United Nations in conjunction with the State of Hawaii who has been chosen as the host site for this international congress to occur. Hawaii had vied with London for the honor of being the host for this international event. It will involve over 193 countries. Young people from all over the world will be here -- two per country being represented -- along with many local students who will be involved not only as representatives at the Congress but also as volunteer stewards who will be participating in making sure that the Congress and its activities will be undertaken and implemented in a very professional manner.

"It is quite exciting to know that there will be 15- to 18-year olds from all over the world that will be discussing global issues in regards to the sustainability of the globe in the next millennium. And I think we're very honored to be that host for this international conference, and I know that there will be much publicity world-wide about this event and for a very worthy cause.

"Thank you."

Senator Anderson inquired:

"Mr. President, may I ask the chairman of the committee a question?"

Senator Chun Oakland having answered in the affirmative, Senator Anderson continued:

"I know that there's a $2 figure. Do we have an accurate figure of approximately . . . because that's what we seem to end up with rather than an accurate but an approximate figure."

Senator Chun Oakland replied:

"Yes, it's $250,000 and this is an appropriation bill specifically to make sure that the homestay accommodations for all the young people that will be coming from the various countries . . ."

Senator Anderson interjected:

"So it's approximately $350,000?"

Senator Chun Oakland responded:

"Two hundred and fifty thousand dollars."

Senator Anderson then said:

"Two hundred and fifty thousand dollars. Mahalo."

Senator Anderson then requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1413 was adopted and H.B. No. 1575, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING AN APPROPRIATION FOR THE MILLENIUM YOUNG PEOPLE'S CONGRESS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, 1 (Slom). Excused, 1 (M. Ige).

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against the bill.

"We have been talking about Year 2000 compliant bills and exempting liability and paying costs for several years now. First of all, I take issue with this as an emergency appropriation. Secondly, in the testimony that's been given in the hearings, the Department of Accounting and General Services and other state departments have said that they are right on schedule and they're near to where they're supposed to be. They'll be finished by September. Therefore, I don't think they need either additional immunity nor additional taxpayer appropriations for this.

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support with reservations.

"Mr. President, this bill . . . I guess I'm deeply concerned that separation of the family unit will result if this bill is passed in its present form. I believe we're moving too fast and too often in allowing the Department the opportunity to file a motion for a permanent planned hearing if the child has been residing outside the family for 12 consecutive months or an aggregate of 15 out of the past 22 months.

"Mr. President, I believe the family unit is important to facilitate family culture, customs, discipline and responsibilities, and some cultures require a longer time than others, therefore, a specific time is not what's considered to be best in this case for a permanent plan hearing.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1459 was adopted and H.B. No. 274, H.D. 3, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO FAMILIES," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of the bill with reservations.

"We all understand that all public employees should be protected in the area of Felix/Cayetano, and the Department of Education folks will be in the front lines. What troubles me, Mr. President, is that this should be a job for the Attorney General and not to go out and hire additional attorneys, and that's what we're doing not only in the DOE but also in other agencies in other bills that will be coming up. I think it is improper that we do that because our first responsibility is to take care of Felix/Cayetano. We have a time certain date on that, and I know that the Attorney General is busy with so many other activities but I think this is yet another example of the Attorney General's office not establishing priorities. So I'll vote with reservations.

"Thank you."

Senator Anderson then said:

"Likewise, Mr. President. I believe we brought this up in the first round and the bill hasn't really changed any."

Senator Kawamoto rose to support the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of the bill.

"Mr. President, this bill came about because of the fact that our people in the field have no confidence in the Attorney General to protect their rights and protect their ability to do their jobs. That's the reason why we had to put this bill forward and we ask all of our colleagues to vote 'aye' on his bill.

"Thank you."

Senator Slom, rising in opposition to the measure, then stated:

"Mr. President, I'm rising to speak against the bill.

"I had indicated earlier that I would go along with salaries this year as long as all of the other financial concerns were taken care of by this Legislature, and also that our promise on the first day of this Legislature to stimulate economic development and a better business climate would be realized. Unfortunately, we have not kept our promise. We have not done anything. We've not passed anything. We've not turned the economy around, other than to have the Baywatch babes, of course, coming. And while I believe that the judges do, in fact, deserve a pay raise, we are back to the point where we don't know how much that pay raise is going to be. It was going to be 18 percent, retroactive. Now we have a blank amount. Everybody is worrying about what's going to happen in conference, but we're called upon to vote today. So, voting without actual figures and without having legislation that has improved our economy so that we can pay greater salaries, I'm forced to vote 'no.'

"Thank you."

Senator Tam rose with reservations as follows:

"Mr. President, I stand before you to vote with reservations on this bill.

"Mr. President and fellow colleagues, to be consistent in terms of what I said before, I truly believe that since agreements were made in collective bargaining last year or so, we should keep our promise and, therefore, judges or executives, cabinet members, and even ourselves should be secondary.

"Also, I received a letter from Chief Justice Moon. He expressed concern over what I said previously in terms of what he had stated about two years ago that he would fire clerks. Well, he expressed concern because he feels that morale would be lowered if people knew what he said. And therefore, he acknowledges truthfully that clerks within the Judiciary should receive a pay raise first before he does.

"Thank you."

Senator Iwase requested a conflict ruling as follows:

"Mr. President, a ruling on a conflict.

"A family member is a judge."

The Chair responded:

Senator Slom rose to support the measure with reservations as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to support the bill with reservations.

"I think that basically it's a good bill with a good intent. Unfortunately, I think that we've got a problem in terms of fees and penalties, and this could turn out to be a very bad bill for both retailers and consumers, depending on how the administrative rules are actually developed.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1476 was adopted and H.B. No. 176, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TOBACCO TAX," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

"I'm going to rise to support the bill with reservations, Mr. President.

"I'm just wondering whether putting OHA trustee retirees on the public retirement system is constitutionally valid. I haven't heard that issue addressed, so I would like to hear a clarification on that, but in the meantime I still will go with reservations.

"Thank you."

Senator Anderson requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Inouye rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I speak in opposition of this bill.

"My office has been inundated with phone calls and my constituents have expressed serious concerns about this bill. They tell me that a racing park is incompatible with the surrounding areas and just a bad site for the speedway.

"For those reasons, Mr. President, I will be voting in opposition of this bill."

Senator Slom also rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in opposition to the bill, also.

"I think, first of all, the land to be granted by the State in this bill is not specifically identified. Secondly, the alleged investors are not identified. Thirdly, the bill itself makes no specific mechanism for the land exchange. Fourth, the bill doesn't identify which state agency or entity shall decide whether to make the exchange or what guidelines it shall use in making the ultimate decision, if any. And fifth and finally, we have to ask the question, Why should the people of the State pay for half the appraisal if the concern is that the appraiser be disinterested? Make the other party pay and give the State the money to pay for the appraisal.

"I think there are too many questions about this and I think we've been around before on raceway parks. I don't want us to get into that situation again.

"Thank you."

Senator Anderson requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

At 10:53 o'clock a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

"Thank you."

Senator Iwase rose to speak on the measure with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, because of the questions raised by the Senator from Hawaii Kai, please record a 'with reservation' vote for me.

"Also, I believe the normal process in the past was, and I think it's by statute, that we disapprove land exchanges and at that time more specifics are presented to the Senate to make a determination of whether to approve or disapprove. I believe it's a disapproval process. But because of the questions raised, I will support the bill with reservations.

"Thank you."

Senator Levin then said:

"Could I request an 'end of calendar' for this item?"

By unanimous consent, action on Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1481 and H.B. No. 806, H.D. 2, S.D. 2 was deferred to the end of the calendar.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1482 (H.B. No. 1018, H.D. 2, S.D. 1):

Senator Fukunaga moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1482 be adopted and H.B. No. 1018, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Levin.

Senator Sakamoto rose to speak on the measure with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support with reservations.

"Mr. President, I agree with the intent to help people have homes, but I have grave concern with the bill because of the potential adverse impact to the owners of these federally assisted rental housing projects. With all of these caveats imposed on the owners, such as the right of first refusal to the tenant association and to provide a one-year notice for any intent to terminate a subsidy contract, I dare say there'll be very little desire or incentive of developers to take the financial risks to provide rental units, homes, for many people needing them.

"So, is it good public policy to benefit having 20 years of affordable units provided by the owners of a building, then changing the rules on the owners? For this reason, I vote with reservations."

Senators Slom and Anderson requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

Senator M. Ige then stated:

"Mr. President, may the words of Senator Sakamoto be entered into the Journal as though they were my own, and I will be voting 'W/R.'"

The Chair so ordered.

Senator Iwase then requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Tam rose to speak in support of the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I speak in favor of this bill.

"Thank you."

Senator Slom rose to speak on the measure with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to support the bill with reservations.

"Gosh, you know we've been discussing this bill before I got here and we're still discussing this bill. And I thought we had an agreement on this bill. All the parties seem to be in agreement. They worked very hard together, both private sector educational institutions and public sector and the state government. And then there were some changes made to the bill late on that caused reason for concern.

"So, I will support the concept. We certainly don't want diploma mills in our State, but on the other hand, we don't want to squelch any new technology or additional educational choices and opportunities for our residents and citizens.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1489 was adopted and H.B. No. 252, H.D. 3, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO DEGREE GRANTING INSTITUTIONS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Sakamoto, rising in opposition to the measure, then stated:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in opposition.

"This measure limits the general contractor's retention to 5 percent, Mr. President, and there's voluminous testimony on both sides of the measure, and I feel strongly that many people do not understand retainage as used in the construction industry.

"Currently, in the marketplace the standard practice is 10 percent, and even then, general contractors are often forced to pay out-of-pocket when a subcontractor does not satisfactorily perform a job. So, retention and bonding are existing tools to assure that a taxpayer in this State receives a quality product in a timely fashion.

"This measure, if moved forward, removes public safeguards and allows government to interfere with contractual obligations between general contractors and subcontractors.

"Now let's say, Mr. President or anyone here, you hired a general contractor to renovate your kitchen for $20,000. And being concerned -- you want to be assured that the work is completed, that all the bills are paid, that you don't get a mechanic's lien or you don't have somebody asking you for the money later on -- you ask your general contractor, 'So how can you assure me that the work will be done? How can you assure me that my plumber won't come two months later saying, pay me? So the general contractor says, 'Well, you could retain some of the money. You could retain part of what you owe me.' The general contractor also says, 'You could ask for a bond, a performance bond, that an insurance company will be behind to assure that the work will be completed. In addition, you can ask for a payment bond that payments will be made to assure that you won't have to pay two times, that the insurance company will pay.' So you and the general contractor agree that you, the owner, can retain money; that you, the owner, shall have a performance bond; that you, the owner, shall have a payment bond. And who are all these protections with? The general contractor. So you have this assurance.

"Now, the general contractor has to deal with his subcontractors -- the plumber that doesn't finish or doesn't provide what's correct, and the general contractor has to correct that. The general contractor has a subcontract with his subs. They agree on that relationship and it's usually a 10 percent retainage and usually no bond. Many subs in our State cannot bond.

"Finally, Mr. President, let me read part of our Department of Accounting and General Services testimony. This is dated April 5:

'The concern we have regarding the regulation of subcontractors, certainly DAGS contracts only with the general contractor. All responsibility for the success of the project rests with the general contractor. If the State starts to regulate subcontractors, there may be repercussions such that the State may be held responsible to resolve all disputes between the contractor and the subcontractor. This would be a heavy burden that could affect the timely completion of many projects.'

"So for those reasons, Mr. President, I'm voting 'no.'"

Senator Chumbley also rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in opposition to this measure.

"Colleagues, this is a House draft. This bill is going to go directly up to the Governor, so I think you need to be very thoughtful about this proposal. This bill deals with the retainage issue, and right now the State has a contractual obligation to the general contractor and not to the subcontractor. With this bill, the State is putting themselves in a new mandated relationship with the subs. And I'm not sure we really want to do that, Mr. President.

"Some of the problems that the generals have been sharing with me about the retainage include the issue of past performance of a sub where it may have been poor, so they retain more money to make sure that they can cover the work that the general must go back and do. Subs have not been paying their employees properly in some cases -- for example, the Davis-Bacon obligations -- or they've not been paying their suppliers or generals or paying the suppliers so the generals retain a higher percentage for the risk that the subs put them in.

"Also, some of the subs are not paying the trust funds as they are obligated to do. Those trust funds are not audited but maybe once every six months to a year. So therefore, the subs are running out on their obligations to some of the trust funds.

"Mr. President, this measure appears to be a solution looking for a problem, and I urge all my colleagues to reject this bill."

Senator Tam rose to support of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President and fellow colleagues, I speak in favor of this bill.

"Let me point out some points in terms of this bill. First of all, it does not involve in terms of private funds. It involves state funds. Secondly, the concern is the misuse of government funds, basically by the general contractor when he pays in terms of the subcontractor. Thirdly, the State retains 5 percent from the general contractors. Therefore the general contractor shall retain no more than 5 percent to the subcontractor in the use of state funds.

"Also, if I may address in terms of concern, if the general contractor wants to make sure that the work is done properly by the subcontractor and if I were a general contractor, I would bond my subcontractor. If the general contractor does not want to bond the subcontractor because he or she wants to make more money, that's their fault.

"Thank you."

Senator Sakamoto rose again in opposition and said:

"Mr. President, I think people in the industry, generals and subs, know about bonding. Bonding is not to be taken lightly. It's a financial responsibility tool.

"The reason why many subs are subs and not generals is that many of them cannot get a bond, so they work as subcontractors. To lightly say that, well, why don't the generals just bond subs? The subcontractor bond, many times, costs 2 or maybe 5 percent.

"Now, if all of you were subcontractors to me, a general contractor, and I said, 'Okay, all 24 of you go get bonds. Go pay the insurance company in Chicago, in Seattle, wherever. Pay them your 5 percent and I'll hire you, or work with me the way I work with my private industry clients. We'll do 10 percent retainage, or if you agree, maybe we'll do something else, and in the end you get all your money.' Why should we say, paying 5 percent to somebody, someplace else, some insurance company is going to solve our problems? You've got to understand this industry. You've got to understand what bonding is. And in the real world, in this State, if you're a representative of the subcontractors here, probably 20 percent of you can get a bond on your own with the right rates. Most of you would have to go look for somebody else to help you get that bond."

Senator Inouye then stated:

"Mr. President, in light of the discussion here this morning, please register a 'no' vote for me."

Senator Anderson rose to speak with reservations on the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I listened to everyone as much as possible, and what Senator Tam said made me look at the bill and he's right. It does say 'public contracts.' Before the representatives who were voting 'no' in the back of me . . . I have reservations, I'm sorry.

"I have bid in the past. I think the problem with most people is there wasn't a contractor, sub or general, who even entered my office. It's because I do bid or have bid in the past and I understand exactly what he's saying. But I have reservations because both sides are right. There have been contractors who have not paid their subs accordingly and there are subcontractors who have not fulfilled their obligations. So that's why I have reservations.

"But I think that it's important that if people want you to vote on a particular measure, they darn well better talk to you. Otherwise, it's very hard for us to come up with, 'I'm 100 percent behind you or I don't support you.' And it's great. I was just accused the other day because it just so happened that I was a swing vote, I guess you would call it, and when I voted 'no,' everybody and his brother said, 'It's you.' There's only two Republicans. But when it failed, it was my fault. If it passes, it doesn't make a darn. You're not worth very much, anyway. Your vote doesn't count. And that's what makes it so laughable. They don't come in to talk to you -- anyone. But when you vote, they take it very, very positively that you're against them. How the hell are you against them or for them, if they never talk to you.

"This bill is a very complicated one because it represents both sides of the story. That's why I've always said I've been for licensed contractors. I'm for people who are locally hired. I'm not interested in anything else. I'm not interested in who's right and who's wrong as far as a general and a sub.

"So I have reservations, very strongly, Mr. President, because they are both right. So, for those reasons, I will be going 'with reservations.'

"Thank you."

Senators Tanaka, Taniguchi, Buen, Chun Oakland, Matsunaga, Chun, D. Ige, Bunda and M. Ige requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 1338, H.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC CONTRACTS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 20. Noes, 5 (Chumbley, Inouye, Iwase, Sakamoto, Slom).

At 11:15 o'clock a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 11:27 o'clock a.m.

H.B. No. 999, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

On motion by Senator Chumbley, seconded by Senator Matsunaga and carried, H.B. No. 999, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ORGANIZED CRIME," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1502 (H.B. No. 133, S.D. 1):

Senator Fukunaga moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1502 be adopted and H.B. No. 133, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Levin.

Senator Slom rose to support the measure with reservations as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of the bill with reservations.

"Act 168, last year, was a landmark piece of legislation -- the small business reform and flexibility act -- and it was due to the efforts of a great many people in the small business community. I notice that Ms. Betty Tatum of NFIB is here today. She had a leading role to play in that bill. The act was recognized nationally. The State is being used as a model. What's wrong with this picture? We haven't done anything. The bill was enacted into law in July of last year and there were some specific provisions made for a council to be appointed. It has not.

"The key provision in this bill is the small business defender position, which the Legislature took great pride in. However, no small business defender has been appointed. No office has been established. No appropriations have been made. And last year we saw that the Office of the Ombudsman did not want the position there. And then we saw jockeying between the House and the Senate for where the position was going to go and who's going to appoint that person. Then the Governor's Office got involved in it.

"And now we've evolved to this bill here. This bill, besides having a defective date of July 1, 1801, also takes the position now out of the Legislature, and puts the position within the Department of Commerce and Consumer Affairs, which is contrary to what we said and what we said we wanted to do, and that is to have legislative intent to show that we were in favor of small business. In addition, there is no appropriation amount. There's no specifics on how the defender position is going to be selected. And the idea that it's taken from the Legislature and given to DCCA means that DCCA will have both the selection process and also the right of appropriation and salary.

"So, while I support, certainly, the measure and we applaud the things that were done, I think that too often, after the applause is over and after people start reading the fine print, we find out that we really haven't done that much after all. And I would urge my colleagues that when we go into conference to make sure that we get back to the original intent of those small business people that worked so hard and so long on this process, and we fund the position and get on with it without delay.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Anderson requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1502 was adopted and H.B. No. 133, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING AN APPROPRIATION TO FUND THE SMALL BUSINESS DEFENDER POSITION

AND OTHER SUPPORT PERSONNEL ESTABLISHED UNDER ACT 168, SESSION LAWS OF HAWAII 1998," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1507 (H.B. No. 532, H.D. 3, S.D. 2):

Senator Fukunaga moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1507 be adopted and H.B. No. 532, H.D. 3, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Levin.

Senator Slom rose to speak with reservations on the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak for the bill with reservations.

"It's like so many other things that we talk about. It seems like such a simple thing -- gender equity. Who, in fact, can be opposed to gender equity? And the answer is no one could be or should be.

"Secondly, we find that we have dragged our feet for many years now in terms of high school athletics. We have federal rules which govern college athletics and we have federal rules which also govern high school athletics, as well. But somehow we found that one gender, particularly young female athletes, has been left behind, and things have not been done in terms of giving them equal access to sports, recognizing their abilities, making it easier for them in terms of qualification for scholarships because of scheduling conflicts and everything else.

"So, the simple matter seems to be, pass a law and say we will have gender equity. The problem is that if we're really talking about gender equity, it goes far beyond this bill. And it goes far beyond just proclaiming that we're all in favor of it, and I think that we should all be aware that what we're doing and what we're supporting in this bill means that we will have a continual financial support for changing existing athletic fields, for purchasing probably more land, for adding more staff, for doing the things that have to be done to truly bring gender equity.

"As I said, I speak in favor of this bill, but I want my colleagues and I want the public to understand that just by saying that we're for gender equity is not going to bring it about, and it is going to cost us a great deal more in the future.

"Thank you."

Senator Anderson also rose to speak on the measure with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, I'm going with reservations, but when we went over this bill originally, I even asked them what's the need for it. My understanding is we already have gender equity -- girls and boys are wrestling, they play soccer, they do other things together. But it was my understanding in trying to get more information that we should be offering more, say, athletic responsibilities to women. We should be making sure that they do get the scholarships, making sure that they are in equity with the men. And that's what this bill is all about. It's not who's participating on different teams. It's to make sure that there's going to be jobs provided at equal pay and making sure that they're going to be looked upon as equals to the men.

"But I did have reservations on even needing this bill. I would hope that we could have spelled it out so everybody would know what they're voting for, so we're not in any way hampered by thinking we're voting for one thing when in reality it's to try to do something in the future.

"Thank you very much, Mr. President."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1507 was adopted and H.B. No. 532, H.D. 3, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO GENDER EQUITY IN SPORTS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1508 (H.B. No. 634, H.D. 1, S.D. 1):

Senator Levin moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1508 be adopted and H.B. No. 634, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Buen.

Senator Slom rose to speak in support of the measure with reservations as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of the bill with reservations.

"Certainly, we, in the past, present and I'm sure in the future will be recognizing all groups that have come to Hawaii and made their marks and made many contributions. And the 100th anniversary of the Puerto Rican arrivals is worthy of celebration. But I'm a little curious as to why this bill, unlike bills that we've had in the past celebrating the arrival of the Japanese, the Chinese, the Okinawans and everyone else doesn't speak really to that, because in this bill we have a fund created to be known as the 'ethnic celebration trust fund.'

"Now, every other fund, every other appropriation that we've passed here has been very specific to the people and to the culture that has been represented. I don't know why this doesn't say for the Puerto Rican arrival celebration fund or something else, or why it has suddenly become the 'ethnic celebration trust fund.' That's number one. Number two, of course, it is a blank amount so we don't know how much is planned and that's not good fiscal policy.

"So I will support the intent, but with reservations.

"Thank you."

Senator Anderson rose to speak with reservations as follows:

"Reservations, and again I'll ask if the chairman or whoever has an idea on what we are looking at in dollars and cents, if we were just to support the Puerto Rican celebration of the centennial."

Senator Inouye responded:

"Mr. President, I'll be happy to respond. Would you state your question again."

Senator Anderson inquired:

"I'd like to know, rather than establishing a commission, I'd like to know what the cost would be to celebrate the centennial of the Puerto Rican community."

Senator Inouye replied:

"I believe the request is for $100,000, the same as the Okinawan festival and those in the past."

"If I might, Mr. President, I do support this, but I do remember when we were in the House, we had a centennial for the Norwegians, the Scandinavians -- $30,000 and they had wanted a one-time only. And it was killed by this administration today who took it away when they were in charge of Finance or Ways and Means because I believe he was in the Senate. The problem that I had at that time is every one of us who are made up of different ethnic backgrounds, I think, is very proud that we can celebrate our centennial. At that time when it was killed, we were told, who really cares, it's only a bunch of haoles anyway. That's the kind of attitude that we had. I would never go against a centennial because of an ethnic 'unliking' if you would like to say that, or discrimination of some type.

"I don't know if we have to really establish a commission, but I'd like to say that I'm very happy that we're going to celebrate the centennial of the Puerto Ricans. I have a grandson who's part Puerto Rican. So I would like to let you know that most of us are made up of a whole bunch of different ethnic backgrounds and to go against any ethnic background because of a personal problem that you have with an individual, I think, is wrong. So for that reason, I would hope all of my colleagues will vote for that in the spirit of the centennial for an ethnic group that well deserves it.

"Thank you very much, Mr. President."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1508 was adopted and H.B. "Mr. President, I rise to speak against the bill.

"Yet again, this is yet another special fund that we're creating. I think it's poor fiscal policy. I'll vote 'no.'"

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1512 was adopted and H.B. No. 1198, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE INTEGRATED TAX INFORMATION MANAGEMENT

Senator Iwase requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Anderson spoke with reservations on the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I'm going to have reservations on this particular measure and that's because we're going to allow tour buses that are not up to standard for safety.

"Years back when you had buses that transported children back and forth, be it private or not (Kamehameha Schools for instance was painted blue and white; Punahou was buff and blue), we had numerous pre-school buses that had little children on them or nursery rhymes or whatever, and they would be able to tell their children which buses to get on. In order for us to get federal funding, we had to bring all of those buses, including those we had already contracted with, Gomes and others, up to standard. That meant that all of the buses had to be reinforced. They all had to be painted yellow. They had to come up to a standard of safety for our children.

"This bill says minimum safety standards such as we have in the City and County. Those are the reasons that I have some real concerns. I think that what we're looking at is trying to be expedient in getting children back and forth, one way or the other. But we're not looking at the safety of our children who should be first and foremost. So I have reservations and I hope that when we go into committee, you'd be thinking of what's happening to the type of safety that you want and to see if we do have any buses, tour buses, that have the standards that we're looking for.

"Thank you very much, Mr. President."

Senator Slom requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Slom rose to speak against the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against the bill.

"We're raising the fees here, substantially. We're also selectively exempting certain groups of people. I think that this is more of a revenue enhancement measure than trying to pay back the actual cost of duplicating these records. No, please."

"While the bill is basically a good bill in that it has a blanket uniform $100 fee for probates, it also adds and increases additional fees for court usage. So I have reservations.

"Thank you."

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against this bill.

"Unlike some of the press that was given recently to the activities of the Office of Elections and the Elections Appointment Review Panel, I'm not convinced that they've done the best job they could, nor that we have the best people that we could. And I'm certainly not convinced that we have any oversight whatsoever. While I was not a firm believer in having the elections process in the Office of the Lt. Governor, at least then we knew where it was. There was access and there was oversight.

"The vote, I think last week, to approve the Elections Officer, again by strictly party line votes, indicates to me that we have very serious problems with this process, and that the people of this State cannot rest assured that their voting process is in the best possible hands. So I cast a 'no' vote.

"Thank you."

Senator Iwase rose in support of the measure with reservations:

"Mr. President, I'm rising to speak in support of the bill with reservations.

"Mr. President, the bill would create or expand the present panel from an appointment panel to an appointment and review panel to oversee elections, in general, and the conduct of the Chief Elections Officer. The issue is really one of accountability and credibility in the conduct of the elections. And as I have earlier stated, I do believe that we should consider restoring the election responsibility with the Office of the Lt. Governor. I believe an elected official is much more sensitive and responsive to public concerns, much more sensitive and responsive to the concept that you do not conduct bad elections, and that you have to restore or retain people's faith and confidence in the election process.

"I understand there's a resolution before this body that would undertake this review about restoring it to the Lt. Governor's Office. I hope that passes. I do not think, however, that elevating a committee to oversight is the way to go. There's an old adage that 'a camel is a horse designed by a committee,' and I don't think elections are camels and I think it's very important. And I think we ought to have accountability with one individual.

"Thank you."

Senators Hanabusa and Sakamoto requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1524 was adopted and H.B. No. 1471, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ELECTIONS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, 1 (Slom).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1525 (H.B. No. 1145, S.D. 2):

Senator Fukunaga moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1525 be adopted and H.B. No. 1145, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Levin.

Senator Chun rose in support of the measure with reservations as follows:

"Mr. President, I stand in support of this measure with reservations.

"Mr. President, as we found out during the committee hearing on this bill, there is no emergency. The monies to become due for emergency medical services will become due, if any, after this current fiscal year. If there is going to be an appropriation to handle the additional sums for collective bargaining raises, that will be made effective the next fiscal year, fiscal year 2000.

"So, this bill is really not needed. And I think that by going through this kind of exercise, I think we're fooling ourselves. But I stand in support because an appropriation needs to be made. I believe, in conference, that kind of defect can be taken care of.

"Thank you."

Senator Hanabusa requested a conflict ruling as follows:

"Mr. President, I request a conflict ruling from the Chair."

The Chair responded:

"Please state your potential conflict."

Senator Hanabusa continued:

"I represent the Maui Paramedics Association which would be the employees who may receive a pay raise."

The Chair ruled that Senator Hanabusa was not in conflict.

Senators Slom, M. Ige and Buen requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1531 (H.B. No. 1409, H.D. 2, S.D. 1):

On motion by Senator Fukunaga, seconded by Senator Levin and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1531 was adopted and H.B. No. 1409, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE LAND USE COMMISSION," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1534 (H.B. No. 139, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

Senator Fukunaga moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1534 be adopted and H.B. No. 139, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Levin.

Senator Kawamoto rose in support of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this bill.

"Mr. President, first, I would like to apologize to my colleagues and you for making you vote on three similar bills today. (Laughter.) But I also would like to say that all of these bills have a different mission addressing three different concerns with one bottom line of keeping profits and wages generated in Hawaii remain in Hawaii to enhance our economy.

"Mr. President, with the passage of these bills, I guarantee you and the people of Hawaii that (1) state revenues will go up; (2) our unemployment rate will go down, especially in the construction industry; (3) people's confidence will go up; and (4) we will be in a better position to take care of all the social services and educational concerns. It would be like the 80's and early 90's again.

"I remember not too long ago, there was a time when, per capita, Hawaii had the highest husband and wife working families, and small businesses and restaurants were flourishing throughout our communities. Mr. President, these bills will bring us back to those flourishing times.

"Specifically, H.B. No. 139, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, addresses federal and military contracts by providing the definition of 'state resident' which is extremely important because the current Public Law 8078, since 1987 states that when Alaska and Hawaii's unemployment rate goes higher than the national average, which Hawaii's unemployment rate has been since 1994, defense and other federal jobs would go to the 'state resident.'

"Unfortunately, Mr. President, like our Senior Senator Inouye indicated in 1998, this law was never implemented the way it was intended to because Hawaii's labor laws did not clearly define 'state resident.' With this lack of definition, all the military agencies -- Army, Navy, Air Force and Marines -- used their own definitions and thereby the discrepancy of percentage of work was given to state residents by these agencies.

"This lack of definition opened the door for mainland based contractors with their other state employees to take jobs that rightfully should have gone to truly state residents as defined in this bill. When this bill is passed, we will ask the military agencies to honor our definition of 'state resident.'

"Mr. President, this bill also provides the definition of what constitutes a state contractor and subcontractor. This bill provides state subcontractors with a GET exemption upon receiving a military and federal subcontract.

"We further provided enabling legislation whereby the Governor, our congressional delegation, and component Commanders in Hawaii, upon assessment among all parties, agree to implement project labor agreements (PLAs) with federal or military construction projects in the best interest of the military and the U.S. government. Project labor agreements provide on-time, on-budget project accountability, quality work force, and quality work. Project labor agreements have been used successfully on Hoover Dam, Disney World, Boston Harbor, and many more projects across the country. One suggested project for PLAs in Hawaii would be the Ford Island development or parts thereof.

"Mr. President, President Clinton through a memorandum suggested the use of project labor agreements by the military and all other federal agencies:

"Mr. President, not only do we need the Senate's resounding vote of confidence, but we need each Senator, who believes like we do, to talk to our colleagues in the House and see if we can pass this bill to help our economy.

"All we need to do is use what's coming to Hawaii in the next few years, about $350 to $400 million of construction dollars per year. We just need to change a few policies and do what is necessary to get Hawaii's state contractors a share of the military and other federal construction contracts. We cannot stand and do nothing and be status quo, like we have in the past 4-5 years, losing 12,000 jobs and seeing our construction industry take a nose-dive after receiving $3.8 billion with $2.2 billion in construction renovation and building housing and barracks.

"As my fellow colleagues here have said and some of you have expressed, we cannot be labeled a do-nothing Legislature. Well, my friends, by passing these bills we will be doing something in positioning ourselves to better utilize the millions of dollars coming to Hawaii in military and other federal construction jobs. I urge all my colleagues to vote 'aye' and send a strong message to our military counterparts and our Mainland contractors. We are going to fight for our fair share of the military and other federal construction projects here in Hawaii to help our people.

"Thank you."

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in opposition to the bill.

"First of all, I do accept the apology offered from my colleague from God's country. And this is the first of his trilogy of bills. I think, however, that there's more demand for the Star Wars trilogy than the Kawamoto trilogy. (Laughter.)

"In any event, I think the good Senator with all his good intentions is trying to ride a dead horse and dead horses are hard to ride. Even if you change the jockey or you change the saddle, a dead horse is still a dead horse. If you give the dead horse artificial insemination or any kind of CPR, you still have a dead horse. (More laughter.) What we have here, Mr. President, is a dead horse.

"The bottom line is that this and the other bills that will follow calls for unionization, project labor agreements. That is what the bottom line is. The bottom line is not improving the economy. The bottom line is not doing what people are asking for. What they're asking for, they're not standing in line demanding to be part of PLA. They're demanding tax reduction. They're demanding regulatory reform. They're demanding that we do things positively. They're not demanding that we take away their choices because right now they have choices.

"Now, I know that my good colleague Senator has wax poetic about the 80's and I share his poetry because, of course, that was the time of Reagan and Bush and a much gentler, kinder era of trickle down economics, so I can understand why he'd want to go there. I don't understand why he wants to go to the early 90's, the time of the Japanese bubble bursting and so forth and the rise of the Clintonians.

"But be that as it may, we are approaching the new millennium and the new millennium says that we have to be competitive, and we have to do things that the people that risked their time and effort and labor want us to do. And what they've told us to do is get our labor laws in line with the rest of the country, get our tax laws, get our regulations in line, and do these things and provide choices for people that want to work. They want to work; they want to stay in Hawaii. But we are taxing them to death and we're regulating them to death, and unfortunately, the bottom line on this bill is more regulations.

"So, do we want to have a do-nothing Legislature? Of course not. But there's only one thing worse than do nothing, and that is to do the wrong thing and do harm. And unfortunately, this bill, on balance, will do more harm than good.

"And I'll be very happy to help the good Senator with many things to bring jobs and economic opportunity, but dead horses should be buried.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Chun rose to speak in support of the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I stand in favor of this bill.

"Mr. President, I have not been an ardent supporter of project labor agreements. As some of you know, I voted against it the last time. However, on viewing this bill and going to committee hearings and finding out exactly what the details are, and talking with some of the people involved in project labor agreements, including the unions, I've come to know that there is a problem out there. In my discussions this morning, the problem is that there are out-of-state contractors bringing in workers from out of the state. These out-of-state contractors don't pay GET on their wages. They perform work that's out of their classification. They also avoid the prevailing wage laws from Hawaii because they bring them in from out of state and they're very difficult to track down. And these are some of the reasons why some of the proponents of the PLA believe that this bill is needed. I feel that those are problems. I haven't heard any discussions to show that those are not the problems.

"I support this bill not because it will solve those problems, but at least it will put to rest whether or not this methodology can be used to take care of those concerns. But what really disturbs me most is that even though these problems are out there, we're going to have to engage in all these machinations to find out ways to solve the problem when the simple way to solving the problem is to have the department whose job it is to oversee GET collections, to have departments to oversee whether or not people are performing out of their classifications, to have the departments to oversee whether or not people are actually paying prevailing wages to do their jobs.

"Oftentimes we're accused of a do-nothing Legislature, but I think the heart of the problem is that sometimes there is a do-nothing department, that they're busy doing other things rather than what they're supposed to be doing.

"And I've asked this question straight out to some of the people who came to talk to me this morning. I said, 'Well, I know these are problems. What's being done? Because everything you mention right now is against the law right now. What's happening? Why aren't we doing our job?' And they can't answer that question. And because they can't answer that question, bills like this keep on surfacing. We keep on adopting bills to protect the departments from having to do their jobs. And that's one basic reason why I oppose in general these project labor games because we're trying to solve the problems of the department. We're trying to protect them from not having to do their jobs. I think the easiest way to do that, rather than think of bills like this and to have the Honorable Senator from Waipahu think of four different ways to get it done, is to force the departments to do their jobs.

"But going on to this specific bill, Mr. President, I'm supporting it because in the committee this bill was represented to me as reflected in the committee report that this bill specifically is only intended to address situations where there is a 100 percent federal project, a 100 percent federally funded on federal property. And this is the only situation in which this bill is intended to cover. It doesn't intend to cover any situation where there is a joint federal and state sharing of funding between general funds and federal funds. It's not intended to take situations where there are federal funds used on state property. This bill, according to the committee report and as discussed in the committee, is only intended to affect projects which are 100 percent federally funded and 100 percent on federal property.

"Now, I bring that out because also in the committee I've noticed that if that's the situation, if that's the intent of the bill, that there are some inconsistencies within the bill because if it is 100 percent federally funded on 100 percent federal property, then there are provisions in this bill, specifically in Part 3 of the bill, which covers project labor agreements that make reference to state law. As we all know, Mr. President, state law does not govern federal contracts; does not govern federal property; does not govern federal funds. And so I noted it in the committee that if this bill goes forward, those kinds of language changes need to be made. And it was assured to me by the Honorable Senator from Waipahu and the WAM Committee members that those changes or those considerations will be made in conference if it goes down there as far as the Senate is concerned.

"Mr. President, knowing the limitations of this bill, I think it is worthy of at least a study to see whether or not something like this on a 100 percent federally funded project on 100 percent federal property, where I believe from the Honorable Senator from Waipahu that most of the abuses are occurring, that a project labor agreement can at least ease the burden of our state departments and try to find out whether or not they can do their jobs better. But I believe with all of our posturing, with all of our discussions, with all of our debates, I think we should go on with the business of making our departments do their jobs better, rather than eating up our valuable time and resources to talk about bills like this on experimental. Rather than experimenting, we should actually work on doing what we do best and that is having the laws that we have on the books now, enforced.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Sakamoto rose in opposition to the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in opposition.

"I'm opposed to the project labor agreement part. I'm supportive of the 'state resident' definition, the exemption of GET on federal contracts. I think those parts will do a lot. Certainly, I'm not going to promise you, like the Senator from Waipahu has promised, but certainly, making local contractors -- union or not -- more competitive and using the provisions of a resident to deal with jobs, we really ought to be dealing with the jobs of our local residents. And there are local residents in our workforce, both working for signatory and not. We don't have a Hoover Dam; we don't have a Boston Harbor. If the bill purports to deal with federal contracts, as our Senator from Kauai has said, on federal lands, I think this really isn't a dead horse; it's an invisible horse, if that's the case. But since we're debating it, project labor agreements do not guarantee workers will be local residents. There are signatory members all over this country, signatory to the various unions.

"It doesn't guarantee anything. I want jobs for local residents, and if local residents do work, we don't want those who are not signatory to have to pay in benefits to trust funds for pensions, for health funds, etc., and these funds be swept into trust funds and the worker moves on to another job and he loses these benefits -- he, his family. That's not what we are about. So these bills discriminate against workers in our State who are not represented by a labor union, and don't want their funds deposited in union trust funds. Especially if they don't work there and become vested from the union standpoint, they would want these workers to stay in the union. But we're not here as a legislature to help unions sign up workers, Mr. President. That's their job and they can do that. We aren't here and we shouldn't be here to enforce that.

"And let's not increase the cost to the taxpayers of our State. The current procurement system is fair; is adequate; is working. Most of the jobs are not going to Mainland contractors at this point in time, Mr. President. We want the jobs for our local workers, though."

Senator Chumbley rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in opposition to this measure.

"First, I do also want to accept the apology of our good Senator from Waipahu, and I hope he understands my apology when I vote 'no' all three times on PLAs. I do want to commend him for his persistence; I applaud that.

"I do want to believe that we can do something, but I just don't believe that this bill is going to achieve what it sets forth to do.

"It's unfortunate that I have to vote 'no' on a bill that does have a good component of it, and that's the exemption to the general excise tax for these contractors. I think that's a good provision of the bill. However, the definition of 'state resident,' although it's improved and it's no longer as onerous as it was in the past, one of my constituents, Steve Goodfellow, who owns Goodfellow Construction in Kihei called this morning and expressed concern about the definition of a 'domestic corporation' on page 5.

"Goodfellow Brothers is a company that has been in operation for 75 years. They've been headquartered in Hawaii for the last 25 years. I believe that they are incorporated and registered to do business in the State of Washington. But they've been here for 25 years. They've been providing jobs for hundreds of people throughout our State, and they're going to be affected by this bill, not only as a corporation, but also by the onerous requirement that if one or more of the employees, 100 percent of its employees have to be a state resident as defined by 'state resident.' And although this attempts to address the concerns where we have contractors who are receiving federal awards who come from out-of-state and bring out-of-state residents, I don't believe that this, as written, is going to be in the best interest of our state residents. It will have unintended consequences.

"Mr. President, Part III of the bill, I think, is the most egregious part. This is the part that again attempts to put into session laws -- not into statute -- the PLA provisions. Part III, page 7 through Part IV, page 11, articulates what the President had ordered through a presidential memo, and that's not you, Mr. President, it's President Clinton. In June of 1997, President Clinton issued a memorandum directing all federal agencies to issue procedures for the consideration of union only PLAs on federal construction projects. The memorandum was issued only after the President withdrew a draft executive order imposing more stringent union only requirements in the face of strong congressional opposition.

"Mr. President, there have been no studies demonstrating any need for union only PLAs for federal projects. There have been no cost studies showing any savings likely to result from these PLAs. There have been no significant reported labor disruptions preventing or delaying federal projects in Hawaii. Construction workers on federal projects are already protected as to their wages and benefits by the Davis-Bacon Act and numerous other federal laws and regulations. Thus, this presidential memorandum and the agency procedures resulting therefrom, departs from the congressional mandated policy in favor of open competition expressed in the Competition and Contracting Act and the related provisions of the FAR with no justification whatsoever. This unwarranted federal initiative will certainly be challenged in court on its full implementation.

"Mr. President and colleagues, I again applaud the Senator from Waipahu for his efforts, but I just don't believe that this bill will end up providing for our State the intentions, and I urge all of you to vote 'no.'"

Senator Inouye rose to speak against the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I wish to speak in opposition to this bill.

"I concur with the comments made by my colleagues from Moanalua and Salt Lake, and East Maui and North Kauai, and I apologize to my classmate and a hardworking Senator who has done much in the three bills, but I do want to register my comments with regard to the parts from my colleague from East Maui and North Kauai and I wish to register their comments as if they were my own into the Journal, Mr. President."

The Chair so ordered.

Senator Taniguchi then said:

"Mr. President, would you note my reservations on this bill, for the record. Thank you."

The Chair so ordered.

Senator Anderson rose in opposition and said:

"Mr. President, I will be voting 'no' on this particular measure.

"I'd like to make reference to all of those concerns that all of the Senators made, including the good Senator from Hawaii Kai, and I do applaud the Senator from Waipahu. But for the Majority Floor Leader's words where it's only on federal projects, it states here in Section 6 that to award these it would be the State procurement officer who would be given the authorization to do this. It's not just a full federal concern. And I did talk to the procurement officer, and he said the way the bills are written, he would have to follow the procurement laws; and yes, in fact it's exactly what Senator Sakamoto had said that it would take care of benefits that would probably already be on board that some of the contractors had. They would go into a project labor contract.

"For those concerns I am going 'no.' I normally have reservations and hope that we'll fix something up. We never fix anything, really. So I'm just going to vote 'no' this time and I apologize to my good friend because I know that he has been trying very, very hard to help our local people get jobs, especially in the construction industry. But everything that I've read and input that he would have gladly given me, we would have to re-write the whole bill. So, for those reasons I will be going 'no' Mr. President."

Senator D. Ige then said:

"Mr. President, I'd just like to note my reservations, please. Thank you."

The Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1534 was adopted and H.B. No. 139, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO FEDERAL CONSTRUCTION," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 16. Noes, 9 (Anderson, Buen, Chumbley, Inouye, Matsunaga, Matsuura, Sakamoto, Slom, Tanaka).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1535 (H.B. No. 1038, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

Senator Fukunaga moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1535 be adopted and H.B. No. 1038, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Levin.

Senator Slom rose to support the measure with reservations as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to support the bill with reservations.

"While I certainly support the idea of funding the collective bargaining agreements already made and negotiated, I take umbrage with the fact that we're also going to continue to include other executives, other officers, other people in government to give them a free ride, as well. I think we should honor our commitments with the negotiated contracts, but I don't think we should use this or any other measure to add on additional people to raise our cost.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1535 was adopted and H.B. No. 1038, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING APPROPRIATIONS FOR COLLECTIVE BARGAINING COST ITEMS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

At 12:15 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 1:11 o'clock p.m.

H.B. No. 990, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

Senator Hanabusa moved that H.B. No. 990, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Fukunaga.

Senator M. Ige requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 990, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING AN EMERGENCY APPROPRIATION FOR LEGAL SERVICES FOR DEPARTMENT OF HAWAIIAN HOME LANDS INDIVIDUAL CLAIMS REVIEW," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Buen).

H.B. No. 411, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

On motion by Senator Kanno, seconded by Senator Taniguchi and carried, H.B. No. 411, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MOTOR VEHICLES," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Buen).

H.B. No. 150, H.D. 2, S.D. 1:

Senator D. Ige moved that H.B. No. 150, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Fukunaga.

Senator D. Ige rose in support of the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of this measure.

"Mr. President, H.B. No. 150, S.D. 1, raises the bar on our public conversation about governance of the public school system. House bill 150 proposes to align the authority, resources and responsibility over our public school system with the Board of Education.

"Mr. President, the current system is clearly broken with no clear lines of accountability. House bill 150 proposes a constitutional amendment that would make the Board of Education a political subdivision unto themselves with no police power, but full control and authority over the personal income tax and the authority to raise the retail sales tax on tangible personal property, up to a maximum of one penny per dollar or one percent. The current personal income tax approximates the total amount of general funds that we currently spend for operations and debt service on the public school system.

"Additionally, we've added amendments to insure fiscal restraint of this new public subdivision. We've added an expenditure ceiling to insure that the rate of growth of the operating funds do not exceed the current CPI index. In addition, we've extended the bond ceiling to insure that this organization does not over-leverage itself.

"Clearly, Mr. President, our previous discussions of governance have really been superficial, focussing just on an appointed or elected Board. This measure before us aligns authority, resources and responsibilities to insure that the elected Board of Education is clearly accountable for the public school system. I truly believe that this is a beginning of a public conversation on governance. It really does give us the best opportunity, I believe, to insure that those who govern the public schools are truly accountable.

"I urge all of my colleagues to vote in support. Thank you."

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to the bill.

"We can talk about accountability. We can talk about governance. We can talk about educational improvement. But what we're talking about in this bill is a tax increase pure and simple. It also is a bill that would strip away even more protections from the resident citizen taxpayers of this State.

"The idea that we would authorize the wholesale transfer of our personal income tax, now stated at $1.1 billion, to the Department of Education, thus denies the State Legislature the ability to try to utilize the income tax program for such things as incentives for new and existing industries, for economic development and economic policy. What we're doing is transferring that to the Department of Education/Board of Education.

"There's several problems with that, not the least of which are the reports that have been done by the Legislative Auditor criticizing the policies and lack of fiscal responsibility and fiscal restraint of the Department of Education. If they can't handle their finances now, what are they going to do when they have a tremendous increase and a largess from more tax monies -- the $1.1 billion plus.

"More troubling, Mr. President, however, is the ability to give them the taxing power to institute yet another tax, a sales tax. You know, people talk about getting the message from last year's election. Apparently, nobody's gotten the message, at least in the legislative body. Our constituents, the public out there, think we're fools. Here we are, the highest taxed state in the nation; here we are, losing people every day, and what are we doing? We're debating increasing taxes and giving new taxing authority to the Department of Education/Board of Education.

"Now, if my esteemed colleague thinks that just because we limit that to 1 percent that that's where the tax will stay, my colleague is respectfully mistaken. Any time we talk about limiting taxes and giving it to a tax authority, we know that the taxes go one direction and that direction is up. In addition to that, if the tax goes up or even at 1 percent -- and we're talking about several hundred million dollars -- we're talking about this in addition to the general excise tax, in addition to the corporate income tax, in addition to real property tax.

"There was an attempt to draw a comparison between this bill and what happens in the Mainland. But we can't make a comparison between here and the Mainland for one very simple reason and that is that we are the only state in the Union that has a single district, state-wide school district; the only state in the Union where education is not a local function but it is a state function.

"Now, I know that years ago we talked about making our educational system second to none, and more than the people in Kosovo, I worry about the people in 'none' because if we're second to none, we're in big trouble. We haven't improved education and there's no indication that more money and lack of fiscal oversight is going to improve that education further.

"I recommend to my colleagues the report done by ALEC, the American Legislative Exchange Council, in January of this year that everyone received, and that report said very clearly there is no, no direct correlation between the amount of money spent on education and the quality of education. We have standards, but we don't enforce them. We have a bar, but we are operating below the bar. We don't reward excellence; we reward mediocrity. We try to pass people along. We try to allow them to get by and we make excuses.

"So, giving additional tax powers and government authority and more bureaucracy to the Board of Education and the Department of Education, I don't think is going to solve our problems. And the Superintendent of Education, Dr. LeMahieu, was very hard pressed in our last public hearing to tell us exactly how there was going to be improvement made in education. He couldn't do it. He was just very glad, as are a number of other agencies and institutions, that they would have more money. But more money doesn't make it better, Mr. President.

"Also, if the State loses the $1.1 billion in personal income, then one of two things is likely to happen -- either the corporate income tax, which we keep talking about that we're going to reduce or eliminate to stimulate business, would be increased, or the general excise would be increased; or the State would look for yet another source of revenue, because we aren't looking for ways of cutting expenditures. We're always looking for that magic revenue enhancement.

"So I think that we have a real problem here, and the problem is not one of lack of money. It is one of lack of leadership and responsibility. Creating a political subdivision which is separate unto itself, I don't think is going to help us, because that would now give us five branches of government -- the three traditional branches of government, OHA, and a new political subdivision called the BOE/DOE.

"What we really need, Mr. President, is decentralization. We need more input by parents, by teachers and by the students. And this bill, in addition to sapping everyone of additional financial resources, is going to make it even separate, more separate, the idea of supporting the educational system and having a say in it.

"We are unlike any other state also in that we are the only state in the Union that has neither statewide initiative, referendum or recall. In the other states where education is a local mandate, the taxpayers in a particular county, or city, or school district, or municipality have to vote on whether or not they have the wherewithal to afford the tax increase or the bond issue, and that gives them a direct input into the governance and the quality of education.

"I can't see by this bill, Mr. President, that we've done anything other than to allow our taxes to increase, our spending to increase, our debt to increase, and this to me represents an abdication of the Legislature's responsibility if we want to continue to have statewide education.

"Thank you."

Senator Iwase rose in opposition to the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I'm rising to speak in opposition to the bill.

"First of all, Mr. President, I want to thank you for putting forth a bill that would focus our attention again on the importance of education and the need for, at times, maybe radical reforms. However, I would like to echo the comments of the previous speaker, the Senator from Hawaii Kai, with respect to taxes.

"I'm opposing this bill because it does create a new taxing authority; it creates a new tax; and thirdly (and I think it's important to understand and remember what was told to us at the hearing), the GET tax and the income tax, the revenues generated by those two taxes represent 80 percent of the monies that go into the general fund -- 80 percent of the monies. And with that money, we take care of all of the education and other programs in the State of Hawaii, and what we'd be doing is sending away the income tax.

"And as it was also told to us at the hearing, when we are imposing an income tax or taxes on the people of this State, we are responsible to take into account a broad category of issues, because this is not just something that should be focussed on just education. It's an impact on small business, it's an impact on jobs, it's an impact on Hawaii's business image and the kind of revenues we do need to take care of all the other programs that we have to fund -- welfare, the University of Hawaii. And so therefore, because of the need to consider a broad range of issues, as well as the implications of a taxing authority, taxing powers should remain with the Legislature and not with an agency that would raise taxes for one purpose only, which would be the Board of Education.

"I also pointed out at the hearing, Mr. President, that this bill, because it was raised at this late date, would obviously not pass this session. And I welcome the debate, as the Education chair mentioned, the debate and discussion that will occur on this bill, but I believe that we should not limit ourselves to a bill so controversial in the taxing aspect that we are going to lose the discussion about the kinds of reforms that should be undertaken by the Department of Education, the Board of Education, the Governor, and the Legislature, and that we should therefore include into this bill other options that were proposed in the past.

"I mentioned specifically at the hearing this study done by the 1992 Task Force on Educational Governance. We authorized this task force. We created this task force by Act 332 in 1991. We told this task force of 15 members, you go out and conduct hearings and you study the problems, the broad range of problems, and you come back and report to us. And they did do so in 1992. And that task force was composed of a number of people throughout a broad and diverse cross section of this community -- seven months of study, studies and hearings throughout this State, public hearings in communities throughout this State -- and they came forward with this proposal.

"I'm glad that the Chair of the Education Committee cited this report in the committee report saying that these things should be considered, but I would hope and what I had asked and what I hope still can happen is that the proposals set forth by the task force would be included in this bill to be discussed and to be looked at and to be reviewed and debated, because they include reforms that are needed. They touched upon selection of the school staff. They touched upon the structure of the Board of Education, and they touched upon dedicating a percent of the funds from the general funds to education. That is accountability. That is resource. That is responsibility. And that was something that was recommended to us by a body that we created in 1991, presented us with a study, and unfortunately this study sat on the shelf. We have implemented some of it. We need to implement more of it.

"And I would hope, Mr. President, with all due respect to the proposal that is contained in this bill, that we not limit ourselves to just this proposal, because if we do, we are going to lose the debate on education. We are going to lose it to the debate over taxes.

"Thank you."

Senator Tam rose to support the bill and said:

"Mr. President, I speak in favor of this bill.

"Mr. President, I stand in favor of this bill. This bill is a positive, stimulating bill that needs to move along this legislative session. The details of this bill will become clear as all of the educational partners -- the educators, the Board of Education, the Governor, parents and Legislators -- work together on this bill. In fact, in my discussion with the Board of Education at the April 1, 1999, Board of Education meeting, the Board members generally favored the proposed legislation.

"I think it's too premature to fully criticize this bill. We need to bring the partners in to work on this proposal. This bill embraces the responsibilities of the elected Board of Education to that of Hawaii's voters.

"Thank you."

Senator Chun rose in support of the measure with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, I stand in favor of the bill with reservations.

"Mr. President, everybody agrees that the system is broke. We know that. They know that. The House knows that. The public knows that. The question is not whether it's broke. The question is what we're going to do to fix it and when we're going to fix it.

"The fix, Mr. President, is not money. The fix is not saying the more money we put into it the better the system is going to be. We've learned our lessons from that vicious cycle. The fix really is accountability, and I think everybody agrees with that. We need to bring accountability back into the schools. We don't bring accountability by putting more people in charge of the system. We bring accountability to the system when we limit the number of people in charge so that they know that the buck stops there.

"Also, Mr. President, this bill talks about the taxing authority and bringing the income tax here where testimony is submitted that really thinks that, that would not be a good idea to bring the income tax into the mix of how to bring accountability back into the schools.

"Unfortunately, Mr. President, this is the only bill there is. There is no other bill that talks about education and how to improve it. There is no other mechanism or vehicle that we can use to continue discussion.

"If there's anything we've learned in the past, it is that silence really doesn't do anybody a favor. Ignoring problems does not make it go away, and putting something off to another year will not make it better. We need to open the dialogue to have a fix. We need to get people involved in these discussions. We need to get people to take notice that we as public leaders are willing to do something and put our ideas out and have them discussed and have them changed and be willing to say, 'Hey, I might not have the best answer but if you have a better one, come forward and talk about it.'

"We as public officials can't afford to be quiet. We have to get people involved. And by being quiet, we don't do that. By being quiet, we discourage involvement. By being quiet, we discourage people from looking at new ideas.

"And if I were to vote against this bill I think that would be just another sign that we're just going to take it safe and not do anything. And that's the last thing that I personally want to do, Mr. President. So I will be supporting this bill not because it is a perfect bill, not because I'm going to say that we thought about everything, but because this is the only vehicle that we have to continue this discussion to bring to the forefront the problems that we have with our school system. And Mr. President, I will support this bill because it will ensure that people will be heard and that we will not be quiet and that we will want to go forward.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Anderson rose in opposition to the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I voted twice against this bill and I'll vote against it again.

"I think what it is, is our inability to correct the out-of-control Department of Education by giving them taxing powers. And I'd like to read from the Committee chairmen themselves where it says, 'Your Committees find that after years of attempting to make the department of education fully responsible through lump sum budgeting, school-by-school budgeting, and school and community based management, it is necessary to take the last step toward autonomy by making the department of education a political subdivision with its own taxing powers.' All we're doing is circumventing the very laws that we have that give us a responsibility.

"I just heard the Majority Floor Leader say that we need to look at this and we need dialogue; we need reform. And I agree. We need good reform. We should have taken these measures long ago to reform the Department of Education -- not by taxing powers -- by making sure that the programs were good programs. Look who supports this bill, Mr. President -- 'University of Hawaii Professional Assembly, Hawaii State Teachers Association, Hawaii Government Employees Association Retirees Unit, Superintendent of Education, State Librarian, and three individuals.' The opposition was by State Representatives, Hawaii Congress of Parents, Teachers and Students. Those are the ones that realize that would just be giving the Board of Education the right to tax.

"And it's an emotional deal. We all have children and we want to make sure that they get the best education, but not by circumventing your responsibility and mine, but by making sure that our tax dollars are spent properly and that the teachers are going to be able to say we've got a ratio of 21 to 1 or whatever, not that we have students that we can't even count and the budget is not reflected to those other four or five. They have all kinds of problems in the Department of Education. And I haven't heard one Board of Education person. As I said earlier, they don't even come to your office anyway -- at least not to mine.

"I've spent years, two or three years as a voluntary person. I said to my chairman, if you want me, I'll go with your committee, so I volunteered for that committee. Most people didn't want it, and the reason being because not very many people go to your fund raiser if you're on that particular committee. But I thought it was important. We ran 5,000 books short on the Windward District and then Representative Charles Toguchi and I fought like hell to make sure that they got the books that they needed.

"So the problems aren't new. Your responsibilities aren't new. But reform is needed -- not taxing powers. That's why I'm going 'no,' Mr. President.

"Thank you very much."

Senator Sakamoto rose in support of the measure with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in support with reservations.

"The purpose of the bill is to amend the Constitution to provide clear accountability for the public schools and the Board of Education. Mr. President, I'm in favor of measures that benefit education, improve accountability, and certainly I believe as the Senator from South Kauai that the issue really is accountability. And I think once we deal with that, then we can look at funding mechanisms that will make sense.

"Thank you."

Senator Kanno rose in support of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of the measure.

"Mr. President, this bill provides the authority and oversight of our public schools by a single entity, and with that comes the accountability that is badly needed by our school system. When it comes to our schools, maintaining the status quo is unacceptable. If this bill is passed by the Legislature, it will be the voters of the State of Hawaii that will ultimately decide this issue through a vote in the November 2000 election.

"I urge my colleagues to support this measure. Thank you."

Senator Anderson then rose and said:

"May I have a slight rebuttal?"

"If I remember correctly, if they decide to ignore that particular measure when they go to vote, it will be counted as an 'aye.' When you say that taxpayers have a chance, why don't you really give them a chance. Why don't we change the Constitution that says the Superintendent will be appointed. That's reform. That's changing. Get rid of the Department of Education. We've been fighting with them for years. Decentralize them and that gives you folks a chance to vote for that individual. That's reform. That's looking at it positively.

"You know, you can't go ahead and say the voters are going to do this when, in fact, you change it so that their vote doesn't count if they don't want to vote on that particular measure. I've told you before, when people have not fully understood something, they'll say I'm going to leave this blank and let somebody else take care of it. But now it's counted as an 'aye.' That's ridiculous. They didn't vote for it because they didn't want it. They didn't know what to do with it in many cases. But you're going to say the voters are really given a chance when in fact even if they leave a vote blank because they are sick of us and they don't even want to get involved, it's going to be counted.

"Thank you very much, Mr. President."

Senator Matsuura rose and said:

"With reservations, please."

The Chair so ordered.

Senator Taniguchi rose to speak on the measure with reservations:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak with reservations on this bill.

"Mr. President, I am speaking because nobody has really expressed some of the reservations that I have about the bill. Initially, what I want to say is that I was first elected in 1980 and served my first session in 1981. My daughter was born in 1982, and she's been going to public schools since about 1986, 1987. She's gone to Noelani Elementary, to Stevenson, and now she's a junior at Roosevelt. I think to that extent, I've seen some of the process. I visit all the schools in my district. I try to do it at least once every year.

"Part of the problem that I see is that there is a lack of resources, and I think that in some ways this bill does try to address that. It tries to take a look at the kinds of resources that are available. With regard to governance, I'm not clear that the governance proposed will necessarily be better. I think it would be different, but I haven't been guaranteed that it's going to be better. And being a parent with two children in the public school system (my son is a 7th grader at Stevenson right now), I know we've got to try to deal with that, but a lot of us are dealing with it only on a very philosophical level. And I think for the parents and some of us whose kids do go to public schools, for us it's a matter of resources -- pure and simple. That's why I think there may be other ways of dealing with this. I would hope that we'll look at dealing with this in a more up-front way.

"I urge my colleagues to support this bill, because I think we need further discussion on it. Thank you."

Senator Nakata rose with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, I just want to have the comments of the Senator from Manoa registered as my own, and I'll be voting with reservations.

"Thank you."

The Chair so ordered.

Senator Buen then rose and said:

"Mr. President, I'll be voting with reservations. Thank you."

The Chair so ordered.

Senators Hanabusa and Inouye then requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Bunda also rose with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak with some reservations on the measure.

"Mr. President, you first announced in your press release that we can no longer conduct business as usual when the future of our children is at stake. Mr. President, I believe this bill is business as usual. As usual, we don't have sufficient time to explore the ramifications of the proposal. As usual, we need critical information to make informed decisions. As usual, we are diverting our attention away from the real issues of educational governance and not just whether it's an appointed board or an elected board.

"Mr. President, while I feel that this particular measure deserves to stay alive and is a step in the right direction, I believe that the timetable is unrealistic on this particular measure. With the economy the way it is, we need to tackle all of those hard funding decisions, demonstrating by our bold actions, our commitment to quality education.

"More importantly, Mr. President, I don't think we should be punting by creating another tax authority that shifts responsibility away from us. I think we should do the things that the people elected us to do and that is to legislate and not delegate.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and said:

"Mr. President, additional comments in opposition.

"Well, I've heard my colleagues say that they want to keep this measure alive because it's the only measure there is. And one colleague said that we're going to have a great revelation in conference committee -- we don't know what that is, but it will be a revelation.

"The problem is we're asked to vote on things as they are and as we see them, whether they have blank dollar amounts or whether they say certain things or they don't say them. And what this bill says, what it screams is, we're going to raise your taxes some more! We're going to hurt you some more! We're going to destroy the business climate some more! That's what it says.

"My colleague the Majority Floor Leader wants us to speak up. He wants us to be heard. I hope we're being heard. We're going to raise your taxes! That's what this bill says now. And to the question, we don't have anything else? We have passed several good bills. Now, what happens to those good bills, we don't know, because that will be revealed to us also in the murky depths of the conference committees. Suppose all of those good bills fail and this is the only bill that passes this year. Would you like to look yourself in the mirror, to look at your kids (because my kids go to public schools also), to our friends and neighbors and say, 'Yes sir, I sure worked on education this year. I raised your taxes and your state debt some more.'

"And we're challenged, Mr. President, to think out of the box. Think out of the box? This is deep in the crevice of the box -- more taxes, more spending, more debt. You want to be out of the box? Abolish the DOE! You want to be out of the box? Get rid of the state-wide school district! You want to be out of the box? Let the parents and teachers and students run education in this community! That would be out of the box. But instead, no, we're going to leave it up to another branch of government. Actually, I'm kind of disappointed that we didn't leave the police powers there. I'd like to see the Superintendent with a badge and a gun walking around. But you know what? If we pass this, we'll give him a badge and a gun because they can forcibly take more of our resources.

"Our people can't afford this. And it has nothing to do with improving education. Why can't we get it? That's what education is all about -- to understand. And there is no relationship to more taxes, more pain and suffering and better quality education and accountability. So I would urge my colleagues, this is the bill right now -- this is what we have. I urge you to vote 'no.'

"Thank you."

Senator Iwase rose and stated:

"Mr. President, just also in rebuttal on two points that were raised.

"One, a statement was made about how we've engaged in a philosophical discussion on the educational issue. I don't know if that's necessarily true. Many of us here come from the public school system. Many of us have children in the public school system. But it's really totally irrelevant whether or not you went to a public school or private school, whether you have children in the public school or not. Those of us who sit in this body care a whole lot about the education of our children. You don't have to have kids to care about the education of children. This issue is very, very important to all of us. It's not a philosophical discussion. It is a real discussion about the real problems about the Department of Education. It's been a problem since I've been in school. Resources have been a problem since I've been in school. And that's a half century ago, Mr. President. That's how long that we've either not accomplished what we wanted to accomplish or at least we've gotten along.

"Second, the comment that was made that this is a constitutional amendment, people have a right to vote. I totally agree. But there are proposals by the task force that requires a constitutional amendment. The 30 percent dedication to the general fund requires a constitutional amendment. Changing the Board of Education is a constitutional amendment. We are not allowing the people of this State, by virtue of this bill, to have access to that vote because we've closed it off. Right now, we've closed it off. And all we're offering the people of this State, as the Senator from Hawaii Kai said, is that we're going to increase your taxes; we're going to create a new tax; we're going to create a new taxing authority.

"Mr. President, accountability is one. That is needed and we failed on that and maybe that's why there's discussion on whether to have an appointed board or an appointed superintendent. That's accountability. How the policies are developed; who develops those policies; who executes on those policies -- that is accountability. Again, the debate on who should appoint the superintendent and whether the board should be elected or not. That's why that debate should occur. Because that is the problem with the education. That is not philosophical. That is real.

"Second, money -- the fiscal aspect. This bill deals with the fiscal aspect. We're going to let the DOE tax. Okay. Well that's covered by this report. That proposal should be reviewed. That's a constitutional amendment. Accountability and fiscal responsibility, and we proposed only one solution. That is not the only solution, and if we believe that is something that is the only thing that we should consider in helping the children of this State, I'm sorry, because you're wrong.

"Thank you."

Senator Kanno then rose and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to rebut the comments made by the Senator from Waimanalo.

"I believe the previous speaker, when speaking about how blank votes get counted on constitutional amendment questions, may be looking at this from another perspective. The question to the voters is, would you give the Board of Education taxing powers, yes or no. My understanding about his position is that he would be opposed to it. He has said that blank votes would hurt his effort because the impact of blank votes would mean that the people wouldn't have a vote at all.

"My understanding about the court ruling is that blank votes, in effect, are counted as 'no' votes. So in order for the Board of Education to receive this taxing power, it will require an extraordinary number of 'yes' votes. Blank votes are, in effect, counted as 'no' votes. In order for this constitutional amendment to pass, there will need to be a substantial amount of 'yes' votes, so the people will have to affirmatively decide on this issue whether they want the Board of Education to have these taxing powers and this authority.

"Thank you."

Senator Anderson then said:

"Mr. President, point of clarification, if I might, for the good Senator.

"I really don't care if it's counted as 'no' that's going to help me or not. It's how the bill is going to be put out there, how it's going to be worded. Normally we do it to be as confusing as possible. But my whole idea on this is not that you're giving them a fair shake. All we're saying is, Are you going to vote 'yes' or 'no' for this? Put it that way. It's not fair that you're not giving them the opportunity to say, Do you want a Board of Education? Do you want to have the Superintendent? You're not giving them any options, except one -- you want your taxes raised so you can take care of your kids.

"I'm not saying they have to go my way. I'm not saying it's going to be improper for me to try to push them into my thinking or that it's proper. I'm just saying that it's a terrible shame that we're circumventing our responsibility by even having this. I don't care who introduced it or why. You want reform, then do reform. There's many, many ways to have responsibility and this isn't one of them, my friends. And I'm not asking everybody that they have to go my way. But I've watched how we sit there and frame our words so that it's so confusing that people get disgusted because they're saying, I don't know; if I vote this way, I think I'm wrong; I may be right; so they just leave it blank. And that's not fair, even though it goes my way. It's not fair to them, sir.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator M. Ige rose to speak on the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I wasn't intending to say anything but . . ."

The Chair interjected:

"Are you speaking for or against the measure?"

Senator M. Ige replied then continued:

"I'm standing to speak against the measure.

"Mr. President, I guess I'm a little bit touched by the Senator from Manoa, Senator Taniguchi, when he mentioned about his daughter being a junior at Roosevelt. You know, Mr. President, I think the question here is resources. And if this whole debate can bring more money to our schools in this budget, I think it's all worth it to have the passion and emotion. But when you go to the schools . . . you see in the newspaper and, you know, a certain Senator said someone's drinking out of a trough, our school is asking for electrical because they cannot have more computers. You know, just by transferring everything into this bill, by moving everything over, it sort of distracts the community from, Where does the buck stop? Who ultimately should be held accountable?

"You know, Mr. President, when we ran, when people bring up education and the quality of education and students passing HSTEC on the first try, we are held accountable. People ask us. To sit here, to listen to the debate, you sort of cringe under the pressure and say, maybe it is better to just shift everything over so we can kind of deflect what the community is saying about what we should be doing.

"But you know, Mr. President, people are saying about the school that it's broken. It cannot be fixed or it needs to be fixed today. Mr. President, let's fix it. Look at the budget. Have we sacrificed enough today to make sure that our kids can learn and meet the challenges of the new century? Look at the budget. And maybe I should save my comments for the budget. But look at it and tell me what we have done to help our kids be ready for the challenges that we're going to face tomorrow.

"So when I hear Senator Taniguchi from Manoa, and I know I'm not supposed to be using names (Senate Rules), but when I hear his voice about his daughter being a junior and I think about my daughter going through public schools, and then when I see Senator Nakata, as well as Taniguchi, introduce measures that they took a lot of heat on -- increasing the taxes just to get more resources to our schools -- these individuals had the courage to stand up and be counted.

"And I just hope -- I just hope -- that during conference we can look at this budget and set a clear direction, set clear goals on how we're going to address education, because, Mr. President, I do not believe that this bill before us will help us meet the challenges of the future. We have an opportunity to place the resources where it is absolutely necessary. We can do it now and I sincerely hope that we do so within the remaining weeks.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 150, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 20. Noes, 5 (Anderson, M. Ige, Iwase, Slom, Tanaka).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1542 (H.B. No. 266, H.D. 2, S.D. 2):

Senator Chumbley moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1542 be adopted and H.B. No. 266, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Matsunaga.

Senator Slom rose in support of the measure with reservations:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of the bill with reservations.

"Mr. President, I've gone through an epiphany recently and I just have to tell you that I'm very happy my original objections to the bill were that the bill was going to force a lot of things in the workplace. But I'm very pleased that some of the amendments were made in committee and the chair from Alewa Heights, Kalihi, Liliha, Nuuanu, Palama, Puunui exposed me, Mr. President, to other arguments of breast-feeding, and so I've tried to keep an open mind and open heart.

"And so I'm going to support this bill with reservations and the reservations are these: that the original proponents were very clear in what they wanted. What they wanted was mandatory time off with pay, mandatory set-aside space in an office of every employer regardless of size or number of employees, mandatory set-aside refrigeration and/or other equipment. As I said, it's not in this bill now and I know that my colleagues will not support that in the future.

"So therefore, Mr. President, with the gracious help of the Health and Human Services chairwoman, I'm very happy to support this bill with reservations. Got milk, Mr. President?" (Laughter.)

Senator Anderson also rose in support of the measure as follows:

"I'll vote for the bill, but for those in the chamber that don't have the bill before them, the title is 'Relating to New Mothers Breastfeeding Promotion and Protection Act,' and I think that's why the good Senator was so concerned in the beginning of the way it was written. But he's been enlightened and as he said, it's an open subject.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1542 was adopted and H.B. No. 266, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO NEW MOTHERS BREASTFEEDING PROMOTION AND PROTECTION ACT," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, none. Excused, 2 (Bunda, Kawamoto).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1543 (H.B. No. 936, H.D. 2):

On motion by Senator Chumbley, seconded by Senator Matsunaga and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1543 was adopted and H.B. No. 936, H.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO COMMERCIAL PAPER," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, none. Excused, 2 (Bunda, Kawamoto).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1544 (H.B. No. 1267, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

On motion by Senator Chumbley, seconded by Senator Matsunaga and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1544 was adopted and H.B. No. 1267, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO FORECLOSURES," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, none. Excused, 2 (Bunda, Kawamoto).

H.B. No. 122, H.D. 2, S.D. 1:

Senator Tam moved that H.B. No. 122, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Matsuura.

Senator Sakamoto rose to speak against the bill and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to the bill.

"This bill, I guess, creates serious penalties for not paying on time. Prompt payments are good, especially in bad economic times. People want their money paid on time. Presently, there are existing laws on the books to handle delinquent general contractors who do not adhere to the 10-day prompt payment law. But in speaking with DAGS, Department of Accounting and General Services, who oversees all of the complaints, they said they've received very few complaints, and they have the authority to enforce this.

"As was previously mentioned here, maybe they can do a better job. Maybe other state agencies can do a better job as well, but because of the lack of complaints, I think the seriousness of the penalties proposed is way overboard. The subcontractors can also contact the general contractor's bonding company.

"We passed a measure on this very floor a few years back called the Little Miller Act. Subcontractors were complaining that for periods of time they didn't get paid, and that measure said that if they don't get paid when finishing their part of the work, in 90 days they can get a claim from the general contractor's bonding company. If subcontractors aren't aware of that provision, they should be. That's a remedy. People are saying they haven't got paid for years and years, that's past. That has been cured. And if they haven't used the remedy of going to DAGS or the bonding company, they should.

"These measures in this bill, Mr. President, if you didn't pay a mortgage payment by one day after you're due to pay it, does that equate to a $1,000 fine or 10 percent, or $5,000 fine or 10 percent, or $10,000 fine or 10 percent, whichever is greater? And as you are aware, contracts are large amounts. General contractors and subcontractors have subcontracts. They work these things out. Mr. President, all of this can all happen on one payment -- somebody's bookkeeper fails to pass the checks out, something goes wrong.

"In a bill previously in the Judiciary Committee about fish, you catch all of the species in one net and maybe it should be incidences, but I made that comment earlier, but that wasn't fixed. So this is just too much, Mr. President. The State shouldn't get in the way of general contractors doing their contracts. DAGS isn't in favor of this, and I don't think it's a very good bill, Mr. President.

"So I urge my colleagues to vote 'no,' all of you."

Senator Chumbley rose in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in opposition to this bill.

"Mr. President, before I proceed, I do want to assure our colleague from Moanalua that we did take care of the fish bill. It's not per fish, per rock. That was taken care of.

"Mr. President, this bill goes too far in the penalties. The civil provisions that it allows for of a $1,000 fine or 10 percent of the contract, whichever is greater, for the first offense, is too far; $5,000 fine or 10 percent of the contract on a second offense goes too far; $10,000 or 10 percent of the contract, whichever is greater, and the prohibition from bidding for three years for a third offense just goes too far.

"I'll draw all my colleague's attention to a recent court case, Metcalf Construction, where under Chapter 104D the court attempted to bring charges against Metcalf Construction and they actually won the court case because the penalties were too severe. I think that penalties are appropriate, Mr. President, but these go far, far too far. For those reasons I'll be voting 'no' on this bill."

Senator Taniguchi rose and said:

"Mr. President, would you note my reservations on this bill."

The Chair so ordered.

Senator Inouye then said:

"Please register me as a 'no' vote, please."

The Chair so ordered.

Senator Matsuura requested a ruling from the Chair as follows:

"Mr. President, I would like to request a conflict ruling from the Chair."

The Chair stated:

"Please state your potential conflict."

Senator Matsuura replied:

"My brother is a subcontractor on many state jobs."

The Chair ruled that Senator Matsuura was not in conflict.

Senators Buen, Anderson and Tanaka requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Tam rose and said:

"Mr. President, just to clear up the air in terms of this bill, I speak in favor of it.

"Many of the provisions written in this bill are the proposals of the administration.

"Thank you."

Senator Sakamoto inquired:

"Mr. President, will the chair of GOH yield to a question?"

Senator Tam having answered in the affirmative, Senator Sakamoto continued his inquiry:

"I don't understand. Which administration?"

Senator Tam answered:

"The State administration."

Senator Sakamoto responded:

"From my knowledge, this isn't their current position. I think when we met with them, they acknowledged that there were few complaints and this wasn't their position the last time we met."

Senator Tam then stated:

"Unfortunately, you didn't have any further dialogue with them. They communicated with me afterwards."

Senator Sakamoto further inquired:

"That they're in favor of these penalties?"

Senator Tam answered:

"Yes."

Senator Sakamoto then said:

"Well, I haven't communicated with them after you. It may be so, but I would seriously consider that this isn't their position."

Senator Tam then commented:

"My suggestion is that you talk to them.

"Thank you."

Senator D. Ige then said:

"Mr. President, if you could just note my reservations on this measure."

The Chair so ordered.

Senator Hanabusa requested her vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 122, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC CONTRACTS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 16. Noes, 9 (Bunda, Chumbley, Chun, M. Ige, Inouye, Iwase, Matsunaga, Sakamoto, Slom).

H.B. No. 460, H.D. 2, S.D. 1:

Senator Kanno moved that H.B. No. 460, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senator Slom rose in support of the measure with reservations as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of the bill with reservations.

"The check cashing business and industry has become very widespread. It's probably a growth industry here, and a number of people want to put many restrictions on the business. Protecting the public against fraud is a legitimate and valid concern. However, I think that a number of people seek to restrict the business because they are concerned about just how much growth has taken place. For example, we heard that a lot of older people are using check cashing services in lieu of banks because they find that even with the supposed high fees that these companies are charging, the fees are lower than going through a regular bank where in fact maybe the fees are higher or they can't even get the amount of money that they want because of certain limits and other considerations, or they don't have the convenience.

"So I think that whenever we're passing legislation to protect the public, we should make sure that we are in fact protecting the public, that there is a real and not a perceived problem, and that in fact we are not protecting another industry such as the banking industry.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 460, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CHECK CASHING," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Matsuura).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1547 (H.B. No. 1361, H.D. 2, S.D. 2):

Senator Kanno moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1547 be adopted and H.B. No. 1361, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senator Slom rose in support of the bill with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of the bill with reservations.

"The bill was originally dubbed the 'Jimmy's Tour' bill and sought to prohibit what had occurred to a number of people who were taken advantage of by one charter tour company. And while that is regrettable and should not be accepted or tolerated and the laws should be enforced, I think that this bill puts some undue burdens on legitimate tour and charter operators, particularly with the financial disclosure, reporting, bonding, and other requirements. So I'll support the basic concept but with reservations.

"Thank you."

Senators Anderson and M. Ige requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1547 was adopted and H.B. No. 1361, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CHARTER TOUR OPERATORS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Matsuura).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1548 (H.B. No. 37, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

Senator Fukunaga moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1548 be adopted and H.B. No. 37, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Levin.

Senator Slom rose to speak against the bill as follows:

"Mr. President, I'll speak in opposition to the bill.

"While I certainly support our film industry in the efforts that we have done, again, this is a bill that will create a special fund, the State of Hawaii Film Revolving Fund. I think good prudent policy requires that we use appropriate general fund means.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1548 was adopted and H.B. No. 37, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO FILM PRODUCTION FUNDING," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, 1 (Slom).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1549 (H.B. No. 162, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

On motion by Senator Fukunaga, seconded by Senator Levin and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1549 was adopted and H.B. No. 162, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC SERVICE," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Fukunaga moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1550 be adopted and H.B. No. 756, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Levin.

Senator Buen requested a conflict ruling from the Chair as follows:

"Mr. President, may I have a ruling on a conflict."

The Chair then said:

"Please state your potential conflict."

Senator Buen replied:

"I work for Maui Electric Company."

The Chair responded:

"No conflict. You may vote on this measure."

Senator Buen then rose to speak against the bill and said:

"I rise to oppose this bill, Mr. President.

"Mr. President and my honorable colleagues, the Legislature created the Public Utilities Commission to approve or disapprove projects, case by case. And the Public Utilities Commission holds public hearings and hears all sides and takes into full consideration direct and indirect financial, economic and social factors. This means that the Public Utilities Commission very carefully studies health factors, including EMF, and the cost factors to rate payers. I understand the concerns for visual impact and possible health effects like EMF, and I share the concern, but we must balance these factors involved.

"In 1997 the Legislature passed a bill known as Act 95. That act lists factors that the public utilities must take into account including EMFs, visual impact, reliability of electric service, and cost. The PUC must consider the factors listed in the statutes.

"What we are essentially doing by passing this bill is to say to the electric utilities, yes, go ahead and raise those rates. And some people say they can pay, but many absolutely cannot or will have a real tough time. Families are hurting. Many of them are just making ends meet. Many of them will not be able to pay those rate increases. Senior citizens who are on fixed incomes, and young families, will just have a real tough time paying higher electric rates.

"There's something wrong with this picture, Mr. President and fellow colleagues. This bill is wrong. I certainly appreciate that there are some Senators responding to their constituents in their districts who are lobbying very hard to underground the large overhead transmission lines. But, and I say but, leave it to the Public Utilities Commission. It's their job. Let them make the decision.

"I urge you to consider the long-term consequences of interfering with the public utilities' work. We have to look beyond the emotion of visual impact, and I ask my fellow colleagues to vote 'no' on this bill.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Anderson rose to speak against the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I vote 'no' on this particular measure and the reason being that again we're using children, as I said on the tour buses, etc.

"In this particular measure, when we started off, we were playing around with kilowatts. What was dangerous and what wasn't, and a hundred and somewhat volts versus 30, 40, 60 or whatever, and with anything placed near schools or a preschool or hospital. We played around with a lot of things. And this bill has changed considerably. The fact of the matter is there is all kinds of data. I have said originally when we were doing H3. Everybody was worried about the overhead placement of utilities at that time. It held up the project for a while.

"With this one here it's saying that it's in a residential area. In reality, it's because it's ugly and they want it underground. And it's not going to be that only those people in that area are going to be paying for it. We all are, now and in the future. In some areas such as Hawaii Kai, if I remember correctly, in Koko Head, etc. they all went underground. That's because the developer did it that way. Those people paid for it when they bought their homes. This one is saying we want it underground now, and they are going to take and make sure that the cost is going to be given across the board.

"They've taken out that it's only going to be in areas with 500,000 people or more. That's no longer in the bill, but that was in the bill. In other words, safety of children on Oahu was very pertinent. Neighbor islands, we didn't matter too much. Some of them said, well we don't have the same problems that you do today. But when we put out a bill, it should be looking at the future. That's where the problem is anyway. We do everything, we react rather than act positively and with good common sense.

"And for those reasons I'll be voting 'no,' because I think that when we originally put this bill out, it was to take care of a matter that some people had in their areas. But they're going to happen all over this State because this State is growing. And soon, Maui will have populations over 500,000 and so will Kauai and the Big Island. We're growing and I hope that we grow with a positive mode with good planning and not something that we're going to just react to for that very moment and we pass bills that are not going to be for the future of our kids. They're going to have to take care of their own problems. We're just going to take care of today.

"Thank you very much, Mr. President."

Senator Kanno spoke in favor of the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of the measure.

"Mr. President, one of the previous speakers indicated that the Public Utilities Commission has the responsibility to weigh all of these factors and make decisions on undergrounding power lines. At the confirmation hearing last week, Mr. Greg Pai, who's been serving on an interim basis on the commission, indicated that there is really no method or means to underground lines unless there is another source to pay for it, either federal funds or special highway funds. What he said to us at the hearing is that they aren't going to be undergrounding any power lines.

"This measure addresses a great deal of community concern and concern from Legislators about the Public Utilities Commission's inability to decide on the side of the community's request to underground. Time and time again requests to underground have gone unheeded by the Public Utilities Commission. So I urge my colleagues to support this measure.

"One item in closing is that the bill does not mean that there will necessarily be higher rates. The bill specifically says new 138 KV lines. First of all, there are very few projects that are pending of this magnitude. Second of all, the utilities always have the right and the opportunity to relocate proposed lines away from these areas. They can build all of their lines overhead as long as they don't come within residential areas where the public has voiced their concerns.

"Thank you."

Senator Chun rose in opposition to the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this bill.

"Mr. President, I appreciate the time and effort that was put into this bill by my colleagues from Manoa and Makakilo. They have spent a lot of time and effort to try to draft a bill that would meet the needs of everybody. However, unfortunately, this bill as currently drafted does not seem to accomplish that.

"It seems confusing that the background for this bill either states that either for visual purposes or for safety. If it's for visual purposes, I see no reference in here in regard to what impact utility lines will have on the visual scene of the State of Hawaii. If it's for safety, it sets a standard of 300 feet but there has been no testimony or evidence regarding to see whether or not even this 300 feet is safe, if at all. In fact, if it goes to safety, I must turn to the testimony of Bruce Anderson, the nominee for the Director of Health for the State of Hawaii, in regards to maybe a companion Senate Resolution. Dr. Anderson states that the information regarding EMF is incomplete, at best. He goes on to say that it states that one federal health agency, the National Institute of Environmental Health, convened an international committee that concluded that the power line frequency in EMF can possibly cause cancer in humans. However, Dr. Anderson goes on to say, it neglects to mention that two other U.S. federal health agencies do not believe that EMFs are a health risk.

"In July 1997 the National Cancer Institute reported its own study which found that EMF did not cause leukemia in children of Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, New Jersey, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin. In January 1997 the National Academy of Sciences reported specifically no conclusive and consistent evidence shows that exposure to residential electric and magnetic fields produce cancer, adverse neuro-behavioral effects or reproductive and development effects. Because of this, Dr. Anderson says there can be no federal or Hawaii standards for EMF which are based on health. No one, including the PUC, can establish a health-based standard for something which is not proven a health hazard. If this is the case, Mr. President, if there is no standard for determining what is safe, if there is no standard in determining what's the impact of our economy in terms of preserving the visual impact of certain scenery, if there are no standards as far as how much is enough in terms of what we pay for electrical costs, if there are no standards for what the impact is going to be on businesses in terms of whether they're going to be able to stay in business or keep people employed, if there are no standards for these important considerations, then this bill really should not be passed.

"I submit, Mr. President, that these decisions to underground lines based upon health, to underground lines based upon cost, to underground lines based upon other social impacts should be done by the PUC and I suggest that if we are not comfortable with the appointees to the PUC regarding their ability to make these hard decisions, then I suggest, Mr. President, that this body not confirm them. But those are where the discussions should take place, where the people who we actually charge with making these decisions, because if we don't charge and if we don't trust them to make the decisions, we shouldn't appoint them.

"It goes back to what I said in an earlier bill, why are we trying to protect departments from doing their job? Why are we doing that? Why are we doing laws to second guess them because we don't trust them, and then we keep on continuing to appoint them. Oftentimes we have nobody to blame but ourselves, if that is the case. For those reasons, Mr. President, I urge my colleagues to vote against this bill.

"Thank you."

Senator D. Ige then rose and said:

"Mr. President, I would just like to note my support with reservations. Thank you."

The Chair so ordered.

Senator Inouye rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

"Point of personal privilege please, Mr. President.

"This bill has been amended several times, and one of the amendments that sort of bothers me was deleting the 46 kilovolt transmission system now is recognized to 138 kilovolt, and my question is, Where would a 138 kilovolt system be built, if any, on any of the neighbor islands? Because this is a large system, I was just wondering where would these systems be built, if at all possible, if there is anything that's pending now, and how many in the future?"

At 2:18 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 2:24 o'clock p.m.

"Thank you, Mr. President. I do want to correct myself. This act is applicable to new 138 kilovolts and my question is still relevant. I would like to ask anyone who could answer, Where would a system like this be built, and if any, are there any outstanding applications to the PUC?"

"Thank you."

Senator Taniguchi responded:

"Mr. President, in response, there's currently only one possible place and actually the application has not been filed. This is for the Kamoku-Pukele project, which goes up Wa'ahila Ridge. According to the testimony, to the best of my knowledge, that's the only 138 KV line project that is even being contemplated, although others fear it on other islands.

"To continue, Mr. President, I had not planned to speak on this bill and I had thought that my colleague from Waianae was going to counterattack my colleague from South Kauai (laughter), but if you recall, Mr. President, previously we passed S.B. No. 143, S.D. 1, which included a number of provisions, and made them applicable to 46 KV lines and above. We have now changed this to make it applicable to 138 KV lines and above. On the neighbor islands, the highest kilovolt lines are 69 kilovolts.

"We have done this to try to accommodate some of the concerns. The original S.B. No. 143 also had a retroactive provision which would make it applicable to projects that had been approved but had not been completed, and we have taken that out. It would only be applicable to perspective applications. There was discussion about exempting the neighbor islands, but that was defeated in the Ways and Means Committee.

"With regard to EMF, generally the agreement is that health studies are inconclusive as to the effects of EMF as a cancer causing agent, but we would prefer to err on the side of safety. In the past we've had other kinds of chemicals -- lead paint, heptachlor, all these kinds of chemicals -- that we did not know the effect, even secondary smoke from tobacco. We've had those kinds of problems. So I think your committees were concerned that we should err on the side of safety.

"There's also been some question about the spreading of the cost and the mandatory nature of this bill. Yes, the current draft of H.B. No. 756, S.D. 2, does include a mandatory provision, but I'd like to point out that currently even in the Wa'ahila Ridge/Kamoku-Pukele project, parts of this are mandated to go underground because HECO is required to do so based on City ordinances mandating that type of undergrounding. They also comply with City ordinances in the Capitol District where they're required to underground utility lines. So we have State statutes that mandate undergrounding already, and those costs are spread to all ratepayers.

"I would ask my colleagues to support the bill and that we will be continuing discussions on this.

"Thank you."

Senator Bunda rose in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I am going 'no' on this measure.

"However, to the credit of the chairs, they did change the voltage to 138 KV. I just hope as it moves along, if it does pass, that the 138 KV will not change.

"Thank you very much."

Senator Hanabusa rose in support of the measure and said:

"Mr. President, it's not really for my colleague from Manoa but his 16 year old daughter that I speak in favor of this measure.

"Mr. President, there is a lot of misperceptions and misconceptions about 138 KV lines, EMFs and what it means. My colleague from Manoa is correct. The only potential new application is that which is going to go from Kamoku to Pukele, which is really for those of you who have children at Iolani School, right next to Iolani School to the top of Wa'ahila Ridge and behind Palolo Valley. There is also another 138 KV line which is to be constructed underground from Archer, which is behind Honolulu Club. Those of you who go there you should know that there is a 138 KV facility located there and it's going to go underground, basically down Kapiolani again to Iolani School, and that completes the Island of Oahu's 138 KV grid.

"Mr. President, this is really an issue of fairness. My colleagues, you raised various issues about cost, why should everyone pay. Do you know, for example, that 138 KV lines will never go overhead in Palolo? The reason is because the residents of Palolo, I believe some of our colleagues were involved in it, sued. And as a result, Hawaiian Electric agreed that it would not put any overhead lines in Palolo, and if it does go, it will be go underground.

"You asked what is the PUC's rule. Nothing. It doesn't care, as long as you make the decision for it. East Honolulu -- you have a beautiful highway there, 'Kal' Highway. I call it rock gardens. Somehow your highways are beautiful. You should come out and see the highways we have in Waianae. But having said that, do you know that underneath your median strip are the lines ready to accept 46 KV lines? So they will go underground, as well. Do you know who paid for that? We did -- ratepayers -- half of it by ratepayer base, the other half by our tax base. Is that fair? Is that fair for the rest of the island? But these are things that are not in your face so you are not addressing that.

"We talk about the health concerns. My colleague from Manoa is perfectly correct. The jury is out. In the PUC hearings on EMF -- the longest that they've ever had -- Hawaiian Electric brought in five experts, most of them earning about $2,500 a day just to sit there. And of course, we paid for it because it's in our rate base. Now, what was the conclusion of all our learned experts? Very simple. It's either like the glass is half full or half empty, whichever way you want to look at it. And if you ask them quite candidly at about 11:30 at night when everyone is a bit punchy, they'll say, 'of course we want the jury to remain out.' That's what keeps us in business. And they will tell you a very important fact. Do you know that the tobacco industry, until very, very recently, never admitted that there was a causal link between the smoking of tobacco or the inhaling of smoke and lung cancer. They won't admit that. It's a legal determination that makes the link because scientifically, if you want a scientific determination of a causal link, you're not going to get it because, colleagues, science never proves, it only fails to disprove. So if you ask any scientist -- for those of my colleagues who are attorneys, you know -- they will give you reasonable scientific certainty, but they will never say that there is a causal link. So you will not have a causal link.

"What this bill does is it makes difficult decisions for an entity that doesn't want to make the decision, the PUC.

"You should also be aware that the Hawaii Supreme Court made a decision on the Island of Kauai where the County Council there wanted to tell the Kauai's Citizens Utilities that it could not build electric poles higher than 'X'-amount of feet. The Hawaii Supreme Court said, those are issues within the jurisdiction of the PUC.

"Look at county ordinances or city ordinances that required the undergrounding of lines from Liliha to Archer because a portion of it is a design district. Look at why on King Street you will never have overhead lines because there is an ordinance or state statute that says you will not have anything overhead. We make those kinds of laws for whatever reasons.

"We now have become a lot more educated along the way. We know that there may be a concern about EMFs; there may be concerns about our children. This statute gives the utilities a choice. It tells the PUC that if the utilities come within 'X'-amount of feet of a school, they must go underground. But they can always engineer it other ways. They can avoid it. We're not saying, like an ordinance, that 'Hey, it's going to go underground.' We're giving them a choice.

"Colleagues, this measure is not onerous. I ask that you support it because it sends a clear message and it gets us going on the right track.

"Thank you very much."

Senator Anderson rose to speak on the bill again and said:

"Mr. President, I guess it's a little rebuttal, if I may.

"I think what the good Senator from Waianae said is factual -- that we can't get a clear determination from the scientists and that's why we have a problem here. We don't get a clear anything from the attorneys. It's always so vague that it's not this is what's going to happen. And for those of us who are not attorneys, if we say the Constitution says this and it is harming these people or this rule is harming these people, how can we help. They always tell you what the court said. I'm not interested in the supreme court, the circuit court and the rest of it. I want to find out if in fact, because I'm not part of the administration's in crowd, why we have to pay for certain things after the fact.

"If Palolo, which is an old community, has to have wiring, I can understand you standing up and saying Hawaiian Electric should pay. I just don't know why we have to go across the board and all the rest of us pay. If Waianae has a brand new subdivision, I can understand that going underground. That's what they're looking for.

"That's why it bothers me so much that we make laws which tells us what we should do, after the fact. If we're going to disallow certain groups from the neighboring islands because right now they don't have the same problems, they're going to end up with the same problems. And then they're going to say, 'Hey, we would like to have underground wiring. We would have liked to have had that.' So we should look to the future and say if we're going to change the law for the State of Hawaii and if we're going to say strictly because we want to do it for children, then it should be every island and it should be an automatic deal. It shouldn't matter if you have a constituency of 500,000 or more to start off with.

"And I agree with you. Hawaiian Electric has . . . I have a lot of problems because my dad and them used to be stockholders and everything they say is we have to do this for the stockholders. Well, what about the rest of us that are not stockholders. We don't have a blue chip stock, so they're charging us. That's why I fight big business over here and everybody laughs and thinks it's funny. All I want them to be is competitive, not looking at who's going to benefit and who's not. Be competitive and let's fight for the good of the people of the State of Hawaii is what I'm saying. And this bill doesn't do that. This bill only takes care of certain groups for now, not for the future.

"And if we're going to help everybody, like we're supposed to, then that's what we should be looking at. So for those reasons I'm still going 'no,' Mr. President."

Senator Chun rose again and said:

"Mr. President, also in rebuttal, I guess, to the statements made. I would agree with the statements made by the Senator from Waianae that the question really is equality. The question really is why does one neighborhood get underground utility lines down their highway and why one doesn't. I think those are important questions.

"What is happening in those kinds of situations, in all the situations in which they have an underground in, for example in the Honorable Senator from Hawaii Kai, in that one, it was done by a cost-sharing agreement between the State Department of Transportation and the utilities. And in certain circumstances, the State Department of Transportation refuses to enter into those kinds of agreements with the utilities and then that's when they go overhead.

"But again, the focus really is what is the department doing? Why are they favoring one area over another? Why are they building it underground one time and overhead the other? Why is one neighborhood discriminated against on the other side? I think those are the questions we need to ask because I think once you get cooperation with the departments and you get equality of treatment, then you are going to truly have a situation where both worlds can be realized. You can preserve the integrity of the visual impacts of the neighborhoods. You can look at potential safety once we have done standards to determine what is safe and what is not. And you can have underground utility lines, but again, rather than force the departments to make those fair decisions and fair judgments, we're going to ignore the departments and have the ratepayers pay all of that and absorb all the cost, as opposed to having the departments and all the general taxpayers to make fair and equitable decisions throughout the whole state.

"I think that's what I would want -- a bill that would have required the Department of Transportation or even the counties, for that matter, when they do road widening projects to make provisions in their budget, in their construction plans for the undergrounding of utilities. It's as easy as that. The utility companies can save money and the ratepayers can save money on those, and the Department of Transportation and the counties could plan ahead in terms of coordinating their efforts with the utility companies. Easy as that. Easy as that.

"I think those kinds of bills would have foresight and planning in mind as opposed to a hammer, would go a long way to making this State a better place to live.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Sakamoto rose in support of the bill with reservations:

"Mr. President, I rise in support with reservations.

"No one likes to see overhead lines. The public would prefer all lines underground, but like everything else, cost is the problem. And I agree with the Senator from South Kauai that perhaps road widening projects, when those are done, certainly, that would be the best time as opposed to a measure like this. And certainly, we need to see how we can deal with this problem because it is something that I think in the future we want all lines underground, Mr. President."

Senator Iwase then requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1550 was adopted and H.B. No. 756, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC UTILITIES COMMISSION," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Fukunaga moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1551 be adopted and H.B. No. 1041, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Levin.

Senator Anderson requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1551 was adopted and H.B. No. 1041, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE PUBLIC EMPLOYEES HEALTH FUND," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1552 (H.B. No. 1071, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

Senator Fukunaga moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1552 be adopted and H.B. No. 1071, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Levin.

Senator Slom rose to speak against the bill and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in opposition to the bill.

"The bill establishes a special fund in order to pay an administrator to monitor the continuing education of insurance licensees, and it also raises fees that are going to be collected by the insurance commissioner. So I'm voting 'no.'

"Thank you."

Senator Tam rose requested a conflict ruling as follows:

"Mr. President, I may have a possible conflict of interest.

"I sell life insurance."

The Chair ruled that Senator Tam was not in conflict.

Senators Anderson, Chun, Bunda, Buen and Iwase requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1552 was adopted and H.B. No. 1071, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE INSURANCE CODE," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, 1 (Slom).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1553 (H.B. No. 1522, H.D. 1, S.D. 1):

Senator Fukunaga moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1553 be adopted and H.B. No. 1522, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Levin.

Senator Slom rose to oppose the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in opposition to the bill.

"The bill proposes to exempt county real estate appraisers for ad valorem taxes, from licensing and other requirements for other property appraisers in the State. And the argument is, and the justification is that this is a county function and the appraisers should not be subject to the State rules. However, the county appraisers have been subject to the State rules. I haven't seen or heard any problems with that requirement for registration or for licensing, but I have seen problems, particularly in the City and County of Honolulu, where the county appraisers were told to do and, in fact, did illegal acts in over-assessing certain kinds of property, commercial property, because, as it was stressed, the administration of the City and County of Honolulu was seeking greater revenue enhancement from higher property appraisals. And so I think it would be incumbent upon us not to support the exemption of the county appraisers, particularly since at least the City and County of Honolulu is still saying that it needs more revenues and may be seeking them through the appraisal process.

"Thank you."

Senator Anderson rose with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, I'm reading this from the legal check and I don't know if I want to go 'no' or 'with reservations.' I think at this point I'll go 'with reservations' because it does say that it possibly gives them a chance to go over the fair market value which is not what we want to do with this particular bill -- I don't think. I believe that they wanted to have a fair appraisal, not one that would go over fair market value.

"Thank you very much, Mr. President."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1553 was adopted and H.B. No. 1522, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO REAL PROPERTY APPRAISALS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, though I support the intent of the bill, again it creates yet another special fund, the Developmental Disabilities Special Fund. So I'll be voting 'no.'"

Senator Anderson then requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1555 was adopted and H.B. No. 632, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO DISABILITIES," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Fukunaga moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1557 be adopted and H.B. No. 235, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Levin.

Senator Anderson rose to speak on the measure with reservations:

"Mr. President, I have some reservations on this bill.

"If I'm reading this properly, it still permits people who live out-of-state to be able to vote for the Hawaiian Homes Commissioners. I didn't think that that was fair. I can't go to another state and vote for the people from their state. Their choice was to move out of state for whatever reason. I do believe that you should be a resident to vote for the commissioners on Hawaiian Home lands. And I have some reservations the way it's written and some other concerns, but that's my main concern.

"Thank you very much."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1557 was adopted and H.B. No. 235, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HAWAIIAN HOMES COMMISSION," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1559 (H.B. No. 1703):

On motion by Senator Fukunaga, seconded by Senator Levin and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1559 was adopted and H.B. No. 1703, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO WAIMANALO," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Matsuura).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1560 (H.B. No. 142, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

On motion by Senator Fukunaga, seconded by Senator Levin and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1560 was adopted and H.B. No. 142, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC EMPLOYMENT," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Matsuura).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1561 (H.B. No. 765, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

Senator Fukunaga moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1561 be adopted and H.B. No. 765, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Levin.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the bill and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against the bill.

"Again, Mr. President, the bill is a tax increase. The bill would seek to increase the daily motor vehicle rental surcharge tax. I think the original proposal was to $5 from the current $2. Then it was down to $3. Then it was a blank amount. I do not like voting for blank amounts for any purpose. But the purpose of this bill again is to raise the taxes.

"We always say that this is going to be on the tourists; we won't have to pay it. At least 25 percent of us are tourists when we go to the neighbor islands or when we rent a rental car. So the burden will fall on all of us and I think it's a bad bill.

"Thank you."

Senator Chun also rose in opposition and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to the bill.

"Mr. President, during the testimony on this bill it was indicated that the practice of unbundling in some states is considered to be deceptive for the consumers. I don't feel comfortable, Mr. President, that we would make a deal to allow a deceptive practice for our consumers, or potentially deceptive practice for our consumers, in exchange for getting a higher fee. If we're going to set the fee at a higher rate in order to pay some of the expenses, fine. But it should not be subject to a deal to potentially expose our consumers to a deceptive act. And for that reason, alone, as a matter of principle, Mr. President, I don't believe that we should engage in that kind of trading.

"Thank you."

Senator Anderson rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I'll be going 'no' on this particular measure.

"In the beginning, there were quite a few of the car rental people who were opposed to this, and again because we deferred it, tried to change it, correct problems that they had, they're now for it. The reason being that they're able to charge for the insurance part of it. It helps get commissions for their people. It doesn't make any difference when you write a bill and you correct it. Then you have those who are opposed to it and now they're for it. The rest of them are still opposed to this. There's only a certain group.

"In the beginning, their argument was that it was going to hurt the constituency that they had, the tourists that came in. All of a sudden, you fix it up so they're making a few bucks, then it's a worthwhile deal. That's not fair to what we're trying to do. And that's why I'm opposed to it, Mr. President."

Senator D. Ige then rose and said:

"Mr. President, I just would like to note my reservations."

The Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1561 was adopted and H.B. No. 765, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MOTOR VEHICLE RENTAL INDUSTRY," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 17. Noes, 8 (Anderson, Buen, Chun, Inouye, Iwase, Matsuura, Sakamoto, Slom).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1562 (H.B. No. 1726, H.D. 1, S.D. 1):

Senator Fukunaga moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1562 be adopted and H.B. No. 1726, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Levin.

Senator Nakata requested a ruling from the Chair as follows:

"Mr. President, I'm asking for a ruling on a possible conflict."

The Chair then said:

"State your potential conflict."

Senator Nakata replied:

"My agency may potentially benefit from this bill."

The Chair responded:

"The Chair rules no conflict. You may vote on this measure."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1562 was adopted and H.B. No. 1726, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO FAMILY HEALTH SERVICES," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

At 2:51 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 3:04 o'clock p.m.

H.B. No. 232, H.D. 2, S.D. 1:

Senator Fukunaga moved that H.B. No. 232, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Levin.

Senators Taniguchi and Nakata requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 232, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, 1 (M. Ige).

H.B. No. 1028, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

Senator Inouye moved that H.B. No. 1028, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Fukunaga.

Senator Tam rose in support of the measure with reservations:

"Mr. President, I am voting in favor of this bill, H.B. No. 1028, with reservations.

"My reservations are due to the history of this bill and the stand of the House of Representatives and the developer, Trinity Corporation, and what may happen in Conference.

"This bill, coming from the House of Representatives, was proposed to build a parking structure at the Irwin Memorial Park which was dedicated park land by the Irwin family in the early 1900's. Let me make it very clear that opposition is not against the need for more parking, but opposition is to the condemnation of the Irwin Memorial Park for parking.

"Surprisingly, Trinity Corporation, the owner and developer of the Aloha Tower Marketplace, finding opposition to building a parking structure at Irwin Memorial Park, proposed a Senate draft. The Senate draft allowed a parking structure to be built on piers 10 and 11 with the condition that if the State does not give the air rights above the parking structure, the taxpayers of the State of Hawaii would have to pay $5 million to Trinity Corporation.

"Fortunately, thanks to the supporters of the park lands desiring open space, and my colleagues on the Economic Development Committee and the Ways and Means Committee, the bill was amended whereby no parking will be built on Irwin Memorial Park. The Department of Transportation and the Aloha Tower Development Corporation, along with Trinity Corporation, will review the proposal to build parking on piers 10 and 11. The parties must also report back to us on the progress.

"My message to Trinity Corporation and the law firm of McCarriston Miho Miller and Mukai, which represents Trinity Corporation, is, 'Let us work together and stop making deals behind closed doors through former Governor John Waihee against the good of the public who are the taxpayers of the State of Hawaii. The public and the Senate will be watching you.'

"There is concern in the community that Trinity Corporation will try hard to push through the back door in building a parking structure in Irwin Memorial Park with the help of the House of Representatives who support the parking structure on the park. I ask my colleagues to stand firm on the Senate version of H.B. No. 1028 in conference between the House and the Senate.

"I wish to send a message to the House of Representatives -- let us not legislatively interfere with the dialogue between the State Attorney General on behalf of the Aloha Tower Development Corporation and the attorney of the Irwin family trust, located in California, in regards to the Irwin Park's future. If the House position is adopted, the State of Hawaii will be legally challenged by the Irwin family trust, which means that the proposed bill originally was for condemnation of the park.

"Members of the Economic Development Committee and the Ways and Means Committee, I thank you for acknowledging the great negative consequences of the State of Hawaii being sued if we interfere in the dialogue between the Attorney General and the Irwin family trust.

"Thank you."

Senator Iwase spoke in favor of the measure with reservations:

"I'm rising to speak in support of the bill with reservations.

"I commend the co-chairs of WAM and the chair of Economic Development for recognizing the need to keep Irwin Park a park. That was part of the statute when this developer was selected to construct the Aloha Tower project. Part of the reason this development proposal was selected and was so attractive was that it was very respectful of Irwin Park and the view plains, so therefore I hope that the Aloha Tower Development Corporation will respect that.

"Second, the developer was supposed to have put in parking at the complex. If they cannot go under piers 8, 9, 10, 11 which is where it was supposed to be, then I suggest that the developer look at piers 5 and 6 or perhaps 10 and 11. And again, it is something to be negotiated between the developer and the Aloha Tower Development Corporation. And so therefore I hope the Senate does not back off from its position and allow development at Irwin Park.

"Thank you."

Senator Slom rose in support of the measure with reservations:

"Mr. President, I, too, rise in support with reservations.

"I'd like to echo my colleagues that the Senate make very clear that our position is that Irwin Park is to be returned as a grade level park, as was said and as was promised all along, because if the wishes of the heirs of this estate and their donation to our community can be changed, then any of us are at risk, and it sends a dire message for the future.

"The State has sought to absolve itself from any liability in the Aloha Tower project and yet it made representations not only to the developer but also to the tenants, the lessees. The State merely tries to hold itself out as a land owner right now, yet it wants the benefits of tax revenues and all of the benefits of employment. So the State has an obligation and the obligation is to move forward, but to move forward to provide parking and to provide those things that will make this project truly viable not at the expense of anyone else, particularly at the expense of Irwin Park. So I would urge my colleagues, when we go into Conference, that this position is non-negotiable, that it's extremely clear and that we want to preserve Irwin Park.

"Thank you."

At 3:11 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 3:15 o'clock p.m.

Senator Buen rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I voted 'no' on this bill in the Economic Development Committee and also in the Ways and Means Committee, and I will still vote 'no' on it.

"According to the Aloha Tower Development Corporation and the Department of Transportation, they don't really need this bill, and they have been having ongoing discussions and so I will vote 'no' on this measure.

"Thank you."

Senator M. Ige rose to speak in favor of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to support this bill.

"Mr. President, first of all I just want to recognize the chair of the Economic Development Committee. Being on that committee, I know what both she and the vice chair have gone through -- their patience and perseverance in listening to all the testimony.

"Mr. President, I just hope that . . . this bill is turning out to be a bit larger than originally planned because I think what's happening is it may jeopardize our cruise ships. And I'm hoping that during conference we could look at having the DOT chair, trans chair, involved, because if we're not going to build the parking structure over 10 and 11, then we're looking at 5 and 6. But if the long-term vision is to build it on Foreign Trade Zone, pier 2, and DBEDT is dragging its feet in determining the future of the Foreign Trade Zone, then our whole industry may be in jeopardy. And I hope that we can get everybody together with transportation and work this problem out before it becomes, I guess, a real negative impact on our economy.

"Thank you."

Senator Anderson rose to speak on the bill with reservations:

"Mr. President, I have reservations on the bill and I thought I would further read it.

"As the Senator from Kaneohe said, it says that we're going to allow for the group to sue. They're going to be able to have, I guess, a board. The purpose of this act is to preserve Irwin Park in the future, etc. That's what I thought it was all about. But then it says, 'The Development Corporation shall have all the powers necessary to carry out its purposes, including the following powers: (1) To sue and to be sued; (2) To have a seal and alter the same at its pleasure; (3) To make and execute contracts and all other instruments necessary or convenient for the exercise of its powers' I'm just not sure exactly what we're setting up here, and how long this group is going to be in. I also don't know how much it's going to cost because it says here that they're able to circumvent some of our chapters, I guess, and who they are going to be able to hire or appoint, and they can fix their salaries without regard to chapters 76 and 77.

So, there's a whole bunch of things that I'm not sure of on this bill. So I'm going with reservations and I would hope that others who thought it was a simple bill would look at it and realize that it's a lot more than we thought in the beginning.

"Thank you very much, Mr. President."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 1028, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING

Senator Chumbley moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1570 be adopted and H.B. No. 1117, H.D. 3, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Matsunaga.

Senator Sakamoto rose in support of the bill with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support with reservations.

"Similar to a bill before, this measure is to conform Hawaii law with the federal Adoption and Safe Families Act, which seeks to expedite permanency for children in foster care. So I support the goal of protecting children, but we are dealing with the permanent removal of a child from his parents and it is vital that we allow parents as much time as possible to correct the problem in their home before we permanently take their children away.

"This measure reduces the time period that triggers a show cause hearing under which the child can be permanently removed from 18 months to 12 consecutive months in which the child has been residing outside the family home. I believe 12 months is too short a period in which to give up on a family. We should never give up. Protect -- yes. Help -- yes. Give up -- no, never give up."

Senator Kawamoto rose to speak in opposition to the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against this bill.

"Mr. President, the position I have taken today has hurt two of the chairmen that I do have a special bond with -- the Senator from Palolo, Waialae and Kahala, their family and his dad who was a Senator from Hawaii who really did help me when I was in the military, and I really appreciate that effort and I'm sorry for some damage of this special bond because of this position and the aggressive nature which I took on this bill.

"Unfortunately, this bill came about very quickly and I never in my wildest dreams would think that this bill would come this far.

"To the Senator from Hamakua and North Hilo, she always mentioned that we were classmates and there's no further bond as classmates of Hilo High School, Class of '58. (Laughter.)

"But Mr. President, the public enemy number one of our quality of life and society in the last 40 years has been drugs. I would venture to guess that everyone here in this Senate chamber has been affected personally by drugs or drug-related crimes. I, myself, have been burglarized four times in one year, three years ago. People are looking for fast cash items and jewelry for drugs. The insurance company wouldn't insure me if I didn't have a $5,000, 24-hour alarm system.

"The police claim that 90 percent of all crimes are related to drugs.

"If you are not convinced that drugs are bad, then take a trip to Bobby Benson Center and see all those young, beautiful people whose brains are fried and will never recover again, or you can ask my good friend Senator Bunda, a former director of the Bobby Benson Center, and ask him what he has seen.

"Mr. President, hemp is drug-related plant. Don't ask me, I say ask the professionals -- the Drug Enforcement Agency (DEA), police, prosecutors and detectives. Ask these people who deal with drugs everyday. Don't ask a State Representative; don't ask a farmer; don't ask a professor, and don't ask us Senators. Listen to the professionals, all of these people testified against this bill.

"If hemp is not a drug, as some would like to make you believe, why must the police and the drug enforcement agency monitor and oversee this project? These professionals must do the monitoring because hemp is a drug. Fellow Senators, a drug is a drug, is a drug!

"Police say that you cannot differentiate between the two plants which would make the control of pakalolo that much more difficult. But some Senators who have not gone on a green harvest raid (I have not), will say that you can tell the difference when the plants are mature. Did anyone take the time to ask the law enforcement agencies if they can tell the difference when they go out to eradicate these plants? I was told that the major green harvest missions are done before the plants are mature, when it is difficult to detect the differences in the plants. And we have here, I quote: 'It is virtually impossible to distinguish with the naked eye the differences between a hemp plant and a marijuana plant.'

"Mr. President, are we trying to see if the police and the DEA personnel have extra time to do additional work to monitor this pilot program? The answer is no! The police and the DEA are maxed out fighting the war on drugs! They are out-manned, out-equipped, and out-financed in their efforts on the war on drugs. In fact, we were told at the National Conference on the Council of State Governments at San Antonio, Texas, this past November, that the National DEA claims to have proof that illegal drug monies are financing the movement of hemp on the Mainland. You might ask yourself why is this. What's next? Ice? Cocaine? Even in this statement, and I quote again from the statement of testimony: 'Pro-legalization organizations, such as National Organization for the Reform of Marijuana Laws, support the hemp industry.'

"Mr. President, our State will be the first in the country to legalize industrial hemp. In fact, I was told that the proponents of hemp in other states are using Hawaii's proposed bill to sue Kentucky for turning down a similar bill

"Mr. President, I, like you, may have been born in the wrong era, (laughter) but what we are doing here is wrong. I do not want to learn more about drugs or how they grow or what oil they produce. I do not want to learn that because I know what it can do to young people. I know we are a long way from solving this problem of stopping public enemy number one. We cannot and must not legalize another drug and open the door for other drugs when we are having so much trouble controlling what we have on the streets today.

"I am familiar with the war on drugs in a small way. My wife and a group of ladies meet twice a month to make quilts for babies born to drug parents. They give away 35 to 40 quilts a month. That's a lot of babies born in our community with drug parents. The war is far from over. Let's not add another day.

"Let's not allow a pilot project on hemp or be the first in the nation to legalize hemp. This is not something that Hawaii should be proud of.

"Mr. President, hemp is a drug. Hemp will hinder the fight against drugs.

"I urge my colleagues who believe as I do to speak out today against this bill, on this floor. You must act now. The future of your young people and their children are in our hands. If this bill passes this floor, we will legalize hemp and it will be too late to stop it. Speak out! This is a conscience vote and a major one. This will forever affect the lives of our young people. And again, for those who will be going up, may God have mercy on your soul.

"For those of you who think you are doing the right thing, and bless your heart, or think that this is a section fight -- it is not; the meaning of a Chair loyalty -- it is not; a means of leadership -- it is not. This is a conscience vote and a major one. This will forever affect the lives of our young people. And again, for those who will be going up, may God have mercy on your soul.

"Thank you." (Laughter.)

The Chair then said:

"God's country, right?" (More laughter.)

Senator Inouye rose in support of the measure and said:

"Mr. President, should I say 'amen' to that?"

"Mr. President, I speak in support of this bill, and I for one have been against drugs and drug use for the years of my life. As a former mayor and former councilwoman, I've always supported the police and their mission. I have not turned down since I was mayor, any monies from the Feds to continue eradication of marijuana on the Big Island.

"Much has been said about industrial hemp, and I think there is some misconception about what this bill is before us. Much discussion has been made as to why is Hawaii the only state in our country to consider research. I'd like to share with my colleagues some information that I've received as well as the publication in my local newspaper the Hawaii Tribune Herald.

"Montana and Virginia have formerly called for an end to a federal ban on industrial hemp, which is grown in more than 20 countries for a variety of products including cosmetics, beer, plastics and paper. New Hampshire, North Dakota and Tennessee also are actively considering pro-hemp legislation, while lawmakers in New Mexico recently funded hemp research according to AgriTech Communications, Inc. which tracks the agricultural fiber business.

"We are talking about research, and we are talking about experimenting to find a hemp variety in which the THC content meets the international standard of 0.3 percent, or less, compared with 6 to 15 percent found in marijuana.

"Canada started allowing hemp production last year. Farmers planted 6,000 acres, claiming profits of as much as $200 an acre at a time when growers struggle just to break even on traditional crops like wheat.

"We don't talk about the unemployment rate, as high as it is on my island, Mr. President. We're talking about those that are there who want to get into farming and experiment with other products.

"Proponents of hemp say it is the last thing marijuana growers would want next to their plants because cross pollination would diminish the potency of their marijuana.

"We are also talking about the research into the feasibility of producing industrial hemp in Hawaii, accomplished with the appropriate authorization from and within the controls of the Federal Drug Enforcement and Administration and the state Department of Public Safety. We're talking about utilizing the expertise at the University of Hawaii's College of Tropical Agriculture, and we're also talking about a very small parcel of land.

"I ask my colleagues to please let us consider doing this research. Otherwise, we would never know.

"Thank you very much."

Senator Slom also rose to support the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of the bill.

"This bill's not about drugs. This bill's about agriculture. This bill's about economic development. It's about options. Isn't it interesting, though, that of all the bills that we've talked about today and debated, and bills that we still have yet to talk about that have tremendous significance on the fiscal situation of our people, this is going to be the one bill that's going to have the closest vote to it. The one bill that people have gotten so passionate about. They don't care about over-taxing, over-regulating. They don't care about the bankruptcies and the foreclosures, and the people leaving the State. They don't care about the uneducated children. But we care about industrial hemp.

"By the way, I don't pretend to be an expert, but my information is that industrial hemp is tall and reedy with very few leaves, and that other plant is short and bushy and leafy. There's a big difference.

"We're talking about a privately funded research to see whether or not we have another viable crop. We've lost sugar. We've lost a number of opportunities. We've lost jobs, local jobs. We're arguing now about forcing people into unionization to keep local jobs. This may be an opportunity to create more local jobs. It may be an opportunity to create jobs where jobs have been lost. It may be an opportunity to protect and preserve agriculture and open space.

"And we're the state that likes to be first, but we don't want to be first in this instance. Why? What is it that we're afraid of? We can't stand here and defend drugs. Nobody would. Nobody in their right mind would. But when the Senator from God's country talks about the war on drugs, he should know that the war has been lost. We have spent billions of dollars and we are losing more and more people all the time. Everything that we have tried is not working.

"But we're talking about economic development. We're talking about an optional choice for a potential crop. And will that crop be successful or viable? We don't know. That's what it's all about. We're not talking about legalization. We're talking about a simulated test under very strict conditions. We're talking about sterilized seed of a plant which is incapable of germination. And when we say that industrial hemp is related to marijuana or other drugs, it's like saying that table salt is related to a poison; tomatoes are related a poison; apricot seeds, if taken in enough quantity, are a poison and will kill you. There is that relationship, certainly. But, that's not what we're talking about.

And to cloud the issue and not give us an opportunity to at least find out if it's viable . . . Here we're not even using taxpayer money. It's private research. We don't have the luxury of saying, 'No, we don't want this.' And yet that's what we've done. We've turned down opportunities for a paper mill. We've turned down, initially, an opportunity for corn seed, geothermal. We've turned our backs on everything, and other areas would love to have these opportunities. We don't have the economic base nor the business climate to turn down everything, and yet that is the reputation that we've gotten. So I think that we should take a chance on this because the chance is very well and carefully regulated and restricted.

"And finally, my colleagues were kind enough to serenade me today at lunch time because it is my natal day, but I share this birthday with Thomas Jefferson. Unfortunately, the Senator from Waipahu, even though he is an Aries, comes a day late, so he's a dollar short. (Laughter.) Thomas Jefferson wore clothing made out of hemp. He wrote famous speeches on paper made out of hemp. He used medicinal compounds made out of hemp. The colonists used building materials made out of hemp. They ate food made out of hemp. We can do these things again. We have an opportunity -- not because we want to advance drugs or we want to turn the other way, but because we want to look for something or many things that can give us agricultural choices and economic development.

"I urge my colleagues to vote 'yes' on this bill. Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Sakamoto rose to speak against the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in opposition to this measure.

"The purpose of the bill, yes, as the Senator from Hawaii Kai said, is privately funding industrial hemp research in Hawaii. So, the war -- lost? Economic development -- take a chance? And please bear with me, I have some information to share.

"There's numerous reasons why H.B. No. 32 should be killed. First, hemp is a four-letter word -- D-R-U-G. Also, its value as a commercial product is highly questionable for the reasons I will give. Mr. President and fellow Senators, there is no economic or environmental justification for legalization and introduction of hemp cultivation. The campaign to introduce hemp marijuana as a viable agricultural commodity is one of a number of strategies being promoted by the pro-drug lobby to legalize marijuana. The introduction of hemp marijuana as a crop has been proposed for consideration by Canada's Parliament. In the United States, petitions have been distributed by the pro-drug lobby to place the hemp marijuana cultivation initiative on election ballots in several states.

"It's been said that the hemp marijuana campaign is particularly aimed at high school and college students who are being recruited by the pro-drug lobby, specifically using false environmental claims as a ruse. This is evidenced by the dramatic rise in marijuana hemp symbols, youth oriented products, pro-hemp marijuana clubs.

"Mr. President, the claimed advantages of hemp marijuana over raw materials are false. There is no need for products made from Cannabis sativa -- true hemp. Better alternate products exist in every case. Why are we wasting our time on a product of unproven commercial or environmental quality?

"Permit me to re-state this rationale from the Drug Watch International. First, many plants such as corn, alfalfa and other crops produce more tonnage, per acre, and are more soil-building than hemp. They are already meeting market demands for alternative fuels such as ethanol fuel. Hemp fiber is inferior for making rope, twine and other products where durability and strength are important. Unlike plastics and synthetics, hemp absorbs water, becomes heavy and rots easily. Cannabis cultivation has caused serious environmental consequences. The extensive use of herbicides and chemical fertilizers which are used in the process of Cannabis cultivation results in deforestation and soil erosion.

"The definition of industrial hemp, as stated in H.B. No. 32, means marijuana with .3 percent or less of tetrahydrocannabinols (THC). This level is one of . . . and the plant cannot be discerned by the naked eye, so let me reiterate -- you cannot see it. That means hemp could easily be diverted into an illegal drug market. The cost to monitor this system would be incalculable.

"Mr. President, many of our seniors are claiming or believing that hemp has therapeutic benefits. In 1982, Surgeon General C. Everette Koop, who was just here, issued a warning against hemp marijuana use. In February 1994, hemp marijuana was disallowed as a medicine by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, the National Institute of Health and the DEA, also, because it repeatedly failed to meet any of the criteria used by the FDA for an approved substance as a medicine.

"Finally, Mr. President, like many of our colleagues, I'm a Lions Club member and hopefully a good one. Lions Club International and the Lions of Hawaii are very successful in a positive prevention program in our schools, called Lions Quest. This program was a result of a worldwide survey in 1983 to determine the greatest concern facing mankind and what we can do about it. The answer was, our young people of the world and what drugs are doing to them.

"Mr. President, this is an insidious disease. And it's been said that 85 percent of the inmates in our prisons are there because of drugs. However, with proper education and prevention, problems with drugs can be mitigated to some degree. This Legislature can help to mitigate this drug problem by not enacting well-meaning legislation that will do more harm than good.

"So Mr. President, I urge my colleagues to vote 'no.' Why should we waste time and money on a product that has absolutely no proven quality. Instead, we should focus on commercial activities in Hawaii that are being done. Diversified ag can be an asset for our community. So today is the time to kill this dangerous bill. We should not get on this slippery slope. Stay off. Vote 'no.' Tomorrow is too late."

Senator Iwase rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in opposition to the bill.

"Very briefly, Mr. President. We've heard all the arguments for and against -- the economic issue, the drug issue, the Abner Hale argument from the Senator from Waipahu -- 'God have mercy on your soul' argument.

"Mr. President, looking at this bill, it seems to me that it's premature. It says that you can allow this research to be conducted only when the Hawaii State Department of Public Safety, Narcotics Division, issues a controlled substance registration, and the United States Department of Justice, Drug Enforcement Administration, issues a federally-controlled substance registration. By the fact that those two registrations are required, clearly indicates that this plant and what is going to be produced is in fact a drug -- a controlled substance drug, an illegal drug.

"So therefore, it seems to me that rather than us having to go through this whole debate about whether or not this is or is not a drug, whether this is or is not bad for the drug war and whether we've lost the drug war, whether or not this is or is not bad economically so we should have research, we should get these departments to tell us that these registration certificates would be issued -- in fact, are issued -- and that the research can proceed in Hawaii with the approval of the Legislature. At this point in time, we don't have that.

"We have all this debate, and like I said, Mr. President, I think it's premature. We don't need this bill at this point in time. And clearly, even if we passed it, it would need federal approval and I don't know if the federal government has given approval anywhere, which means we've gone through this whole debate and exercise over the last 20 minutes for nothing.

"Thank you."

Senator Anderson rose to support the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I'll be voting for the bill.

"My understanding of federal government is, as long as they don't have any laws or they're opposed to something, we have a right to pass our own bills.

"Let me tell you, I think that when we allow a privately funded research, that's fair and equitable -- on a quarter acre. We earlier passed an exchange of lands which, according to what I have here, is completely illegal according to our laws. But we exchanged them because you folks thought that was great. That can be challenged in court, I guess. But this is privately funded. This doesn't give someone a chance to go and find an investor. This one here, this person already found someone to do the research and pay for it on a quarter acre of land.

"I told you the other day, or I told some of the people in committee, liquor used to be illegal. We made a law that made it permissible. Nobody's ever come up with let's get rid of that law. They want to just tax it more. That's the only problem.

"How many of you here would have voted to allow marijuana for medical purposes? If that was on before you, you would have allowed it. Maybe Senator Kawamoto and a couple of others wouldn't, but it would have passed. Everything that we heard in Judiciary, we had maybe 20 that I can count, 20 different things that were brought in from different parts of countries that were made with hemp. I was not really opposed, but I had some reservations on hemp until we did more research. I can remember when Representative Tarnas first brought forth this idea. I read everything that I could. I didn't think it was a bad idea. And to have a study, I think is a very good idea. Most of you come from good plantation areas. I did in Waimanalo. When I went to school, plantation was working. I said the other day we had the highest paid plantation workers in the world. Today we have the highest paid unemployed plantation workers in the world.

"This is to help put people back to work if it's a good product. There's all different kinds of by-products that you can get from hemp. I also explained the other day one of the by-products we used to have for sugar was canec. I just removed a 50-something year old ceiling made from canec. It was a good by-product. With scientific studies it would probably be as good as what we have today called dry-wall. But we put them out of business -- a by-product that would have been great.

"We need to help, as much as possible, our people move forward. Now, the good Senator from Waipahu said we're the first that's going to be doing this. Now, if they want to push something, I always hear the Majority say, 'This is going to be the first. Our state is going to be a leader. It's a class act.' But when you want to kill something, 'Oh, we're going to be the first to ever introduce this kind of bill. It should not move.' I'm never sure what you folks want to do -- be the first because it's good, or if you want to kill it, we're going to be the first because it's bad. It all depends on how you write, how you raise your voice and how you drop it.

"We're here to see if we can move something that's fair and equitable for agriculture. It doesn't say for drugs. I'm opposed to drugs. But this was brought out in the hearing that there was a vast difference and it's going to be under all kinds of scrutiny. And I've said the police department and others may be against it, but once it's passed, then they would have to make sure that others don't take advantage and misuse the law that we make a law that's equitable for everyone in the Department of Ag.

"So I would hope that you would look at this in a very fair way that's something that's not going to cost you because the taxpayers aren't paying for it. A private individual is. And I have to give credit to a representative that goes out and finds something who's willing to put their money up if we will provide the necessary tool for them, not somebody who says, 'We want an exchange of land, however, we don't have the investor right now. Later on we'll come forth with one.' And you say, 'That's a good idea. It's going to help the economy, $2 million, construction.' It's all right to help one group but not the other. And that's not fair.

"So I'll be voting for this regardless of who put it in, why they put it in, as long as it's going to help our people, I think it's fair and equitable.

"Thank you."

Senator Matsuura rose in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, fellow colleagues, I kind of find it a little bit ironic that I'm standing in opposition to this bill since this research money, as everybody touts on, will be coming to my district. This is an economic development project for my district or our island. The sponsoring Representative is the Representative from Hilo, and as some of you may know, I was the sponsor of the companion Senate bill. (Laughter.) But after being much lobbied and much researched on this project, especially what really changed my mind and why I am standing up in opposition is, after 4 hours of testimony in Hilo with the House Committee on Agriculture in Hilo, it really proved to me that this is not a viable crop.

"What I want to concentrate right here on is that this is truly an economic development . . . it is being pushed as an economic development project crop. All the testimony in favor of it was from the people who are using it. And all of them were very consistent. They obtained the raw material from China. And I do not know any agricultural business that can compete on a raw product using a raw material with a third world country. Why do they want to spend $200,000 in Hawaii when our land base is so small compared to any of these third world countries? I'm not really quite sure.

"Two hundred dollars an acre, as my fellow Senator from Hamakua said . . . orchids, what I'm growing, we gross over $30,000 an acre. That is one crop. Anthuriums is something similar. We have other crops. We have a lot of other crops that we can investigate and put money into that would greatly help our economy and not have all these other problems that this crop has.

"Another one of the things that I want to address, for my colleague from Hawaii Kai, is that this is Cannabis sativa. This is the same product, so it is a drug.

"As many of you know, a Maui onion is a Texas round onion. But what makes it so great is our environment, our tropical environment and our growing conditions. From people that I have talked to within the drug enforcement, this Cannabis sativa will turn into the high value, the high THC illegal crop, not into this fibrous crop that supposedly is used in various products.

"I'm not against all of it. There is a worldwide use for hemp. However, after consulting with also the largest landowners within our island -- Brewer Industries and Bishop Estate -- they have no intention and they will not grow this crop. So we do not have the land for it. We do not have the ability to grow it, and financially, I don't think this is a viable crop for Hawaii. And with all the related problems, legally, the drug-related problems, I think that maybe we should extend more of our efforts to other crops that show more potential.

"Thank you."

Senator Hanabusa rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in opposition to this bill.

"I'd like to thank my colleagues -- the Senator from North Hilo, the Senator from East Maui and the Senator from Palolo-Waialae -- for all their hard work on this bill. And I also believe that we must recognize the Representative from the Windward side who should really give registered lobbyists a lesson on how to lobby. She's done a very good job on this bill.

"My opposition follows what the Senator from Kaneohe stated earlier, when he was speaking in opposition to the education bill, that is, What are we going to stand for? Mr. President, you and I had a passing discussion about how people remember us for the oddest things. It is my belief that they may remember us for the hemp bill. And that's not a message that I want and neither is it a message that I wish to validate.

"This bill does make a correct statement as to: how we view economic development, how we view the use of public funds, and really, how we define our future. And this bill is full of contradictions. Let's look at it. The first question which the Senator from God's country, as well as Moanalua, raised, was whether or not this is drug related. Is it pakalolo or is it not? We're being told it's not pakalolo. It's definitely not pakalolo. But look at the bill. Look at what it says. It's trying to define industrial hemp. This is because industrial hemp doesn't exist. We don't know, as our colleague from Hilo said, whether due to tropical conditions it will flourish into pakalolo, no matter what anyone does.

"Look also at what the bill calls for. The bill calls for the Department of Justice, DEA, to issue a registration of research. It calls for the Department of Public Safety to issue a controlled substance registration. The bill also requires that there be monitoring, basically, by the Department of Public Safety in cooperation with the DEA and the appropriate county law enforcement agencies. Colleagues, that's a cost item. Who's going to pay for that? And if this is such a wonderful product, why are we having to monitor it? Why do we need to know whether the THC reaches '.3%' It's because at that point it is pakalolo.

"My colleague from Hawaii Kai who hates special funds, I think that if there is any evidence of where a special fund may be necessary, it's here. The people who proposed this crop can pay for the additional costs for the Department of Public Safety, for DEA, as well as for the respective county agencies.

"Let's look at it in terms of economic development and what does it say. We already talked about the cost of monitoring. What kind of economic development are we talking about here? We have spoken about technology. We have said that's the way we want to go. We have spoken about ecotourism. We speak about the environment. We speak about wanting to have agriculture developed in a way that it is environmentally sensitive. Here we have a product that can deposit a foreign substance into our economy and into our agriculture base. Do we want to do that?

"And hemp is like my colleague from Hawaii Kai said -- it's not a new product. He mentioned Thomas Jefferson and the fact that he wrote on hemp and he wore hemp, and he went on and on. Yes, hemp was in the United States and it was pretty active until the 1600s. What's the significance of that? They lost slavery, and therefore it became an uneconomical crop. Hemp is a labor intensive crop. That's probably why Thomas Jefferson could do it and we haven't heard about anyone subsequent to that wearing hemp or writing on hemp.

"Now, we've also had reports. We've seen it in the committee reports that 30 countries are growing it. We've heard our colleague from Hilo say 20 countries are doing it. If that's the case, why do we have to do it? Why Hawaii? Why do we need to create this plant? -- a plant that if it doesn't work, we definitely don't want it here.

"What's really troubling, colleagues, is the fact that I see this bill as a request for us to validate something. If this is a measure that requires the DEA to give a permit or give permission, then let them go to the DEA. Why do we have to intervene? That's not necessary. This is not a message that we want to send to the public, because when we talk about economic development, colleagues, we talk about it responsibly. We talk about it knowing that there is a potential and there is a future. If we wanted industrial hemp and if we believed that this was not a product that would cause us any problems with federal agencies or all of our law enforcement agencies, why does this bill have the conditions in it? If we believe in it, then we should stand behind it, not put onerous conditions on it. But the reason the onerous conditions are there is because we don't know what kind of product we're going to get.

"Colleagues, I'm voting in opposition and I ask you to do the same because we should not be the guinea pig. If we're going to do anything, we should have some sort of assurance of success. And my learned colleague from Hilo, if there's anything I will always defer to him on, it's agriculture. If he says that this is not a viable crop and probably what's going to happen is we're going to have a very high level potency, I am more inclined to believe someone who has the experience than someone who does not.

"Colleagues, I believe this is a bad bill. It sends a bad message and we should vote it down.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Matsunaga rose to speak in support of the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of this measure.

"First of all, Mr. President, I applaud the anti-drug efforts of the Senator from Waipahu and let me assure him that I still hold him in the highest esteem. I simply disagree with him that this issue has anything to do about harmful drugs.

"Mr. President, one of our late colleagues used to always stand up and talk about the common sense law, and when something didn't meet the common sense law, he used to criticize it, and oftentimes he'd be the only voice criticizing a bill or a measure.

"I think it's appropriate to dispel some of the myths about industrial hemp, which is presently cultivated, as people have said, in over 30 countries for use in making building and clothing materials and personal care products. And I think the Economic Development chair has done a very good job of addressing the positive economic development aspects of this crop, which would further diversify our agricultural industry and allow us to compete in a global marketplace.

"First of all, myth number one -- I've heard that some people fear that we will be endorsing the production of marijuana by passing this bill. That's simply not true. Industrial hemp is a non-intoxicating form of cannabis with 3/10 of 1 percent of the controlled substance THC. It is physically and chemically distinguishable from its intoxicating cousin, marijuana, which is cultivated at about 18 percent THC or higher.

"I understand that hemp is tall and unbranched and cane-like, as the Senator from Hawaii Kai has stated, about 8 feet and taller, whereas marijuana is short, branched and bushy, only a few feet tall. The plants are grown differently, as well. Hemp is spaced only a few inches apart in the field, and marijuana is spaced several feet apart for maximum exposure to the sun to produce a large, leafy plant with abundant branches containing numerous flowers. Thus, hemp is of little or no interest to drug dealers. Police and growers in those 30 countries do not report pilfering of field materials. Law enforcement officials in these countries have no difficulty distinguishing between hemp and marijuana in the field.

"Mr. President, mistaking marijuana for industrial hemp would be like mistaking Danny Glover for Danny DeVito or Penny Hardaway for Penny Marshall, or Arnold Schwarzenegger for Arnold the pig. It simply doesn't make sense, Mr. President.

"Myth number two -- I've heard that this is a Republican measure and therefore we shouldn't support it. First of all, 19 of the 21 co-sponsors of the measure are Democrats including the chairs of the Health, Judiciary and Finance Committees of our House colleagues. Further, regarding Republican issues, believe it or not members, some good ideas actually do come out of our Republican dynamic duo over there, and need I remind us that it was a Republican, Representative Barbara Marumoto, who spearheaded the measure of limiting passengers from riding in the back of pickup trucks. So, to simply not support a bill because it may have come from Republicans, it just doesn't make sense.

"Myth number three -- I've heard that bad people, such as marijuana growers and those who want to legalize it, support this measure. Again, we don't have evidence of this in our committee. Not one of the people who supported, for example, medicinal marijuana, contacted us or submitted testimony in support of this measure, and we had about 100 people contacting us on that measure. In fact, the marijuana growers would likely be opposed to this measure because industrial hemp, if cross-pollinated with marijuana, taints and reduces the THC level in the marijuana plants. And besides, not all bad people support bad ideas. One of our favorite antagonists, Fidel Castro, loves baseball; and Larry Flint was a strong supporter of First Amendment rights, Mr. President. You don't oppose a good bill because bad people support it.

"Myth number four, Mr. President -- I've heard that the law enforcement community is unanimously opposed to this measure. Again, this is not true. While we have received testimony in opposition from three members of the Law Enforcement Coalition, the Law Enforcement Coalition did not take an official position on this measure. The Department of Justice did not oppose this measure. The County Prosecutor from Kauai did not oppose this measure. The County Prosecutor from Maui did not oppose this measure. The County Prosecutor from the Big Island did not oppose this measure. The Department of Public Safety did not oppose this measure. And we did not hear from the Attorney General, either. Mr. President, to compare that to another issue, for example gambling, they all came out in full opposition to that measure.

"Mr. President and members, if we are truly concerned about substance abuse, let's focus on the real problems we have with alcohol and tobacco use amongst our young people. If we are really concerned about illegal drugs, let's focus on fighting the use of crystal methamphetamine, crack cocaine, and the intoxicating form of marijuana. Let's focus on measures that provide funds for substance abuse treatment and education and prevention programs aimed at our youth.

"Let's not be diverted from our efforts to support economic development by myths about industrial hemp. Through this measure, we are being asked to support a quarter acre research project which will be the most scrutinized piece of property in the State. Federal, state and local law enforcement agencies will be monitoring the site per both federal and state laws. Trying to grow marijuana within this proposed quarter acre research project would be like trying to sell marijuana brownies at a SHOPO bake sale, or it would be like trying to hold up your parole officer. Mr. President, it just doesn't make sense.

"We don't prohibit poppy seed muffins because they come from the same plant as opium poppy. We don't prohibit the carrying of baking soda in a plastic baggie because it can be confused for cocaine. We don't prohibit farmers from having roosters because they can be trained as fighting cocks. And we shouldn't prohibit a quarter acre legitimate research project with a potential for economic diversification and competition within a global marketplace because of myths and unfounded fears. It just doesn't make sense, Mr. President.

"And finally, I'd like to leave you all with a poem:

I once knew a man, not too bright,
Smoked industrial hemp, day and night,
Till he said with a sigh,
This stuff won't get me high,
So he built products sturdy and light.'

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Chumbley also rose to support the bill and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of this measure.

"Colleagues, this is not about drugs. And Mr. President, I'm not for drugs, and colleagues, I think you know that. In the last five years that I've sat as either a chair or a member of the Judiciary Committee, my record supports that. I am against drugs. But this bill is not about drugs, or have I said that, Mr. President.

"One of the things that I think this is about is biotechnology. Seiji Naya, in his testimony before our committee, submitted a statement in the February 1999 issue of Ag Fiber Technology News. The publication notes, 'Hawaii's bill will probably pass and could lead to the emergence of Hawaii as a prime seed development and research area.' Mr. President, that's about biotechnology. This is not about commercialization. We are not legalizing hemp for commercial purposes.

"And for those colleagues who want it to be the first in the nation, I hate to disappoint you but there's a press release out this morning -- 'North Dakota poised to become the first state to legalize industrial hemp. Several U.S. states have been competing to become first to re-commercialize industrial hemp. North Dakota looks to be the winner. A bill in North Dakota now awaiting the governor's signature declares "Any person in this state may plant, grow, harvest, possess, process, sell and buy industrial hemp after complying with licensing procedures.' This House bill, H.B. No. 1428, passed yesterday in the Senate on a landslide vote of 44 to 3 and just a few days before in the North Dakota House on an 86 to 7 vote.

"They're going to commercialization; we're talking a 10,000 square foot research project, DEA permitted, Department of Public Safety permitted, and also monitored by the local law enforcement agency. We're not talking about drugs, here. We're talking about biotechnology.

"I ask all my colleagues to please consider support for this measure, and if you have concerns, I think any reasonable person, when you explain to them what it's about, will understand that you too do not support drugs.

"Thank you."

Senator Kawamoto then stated:

"Just a short rebuttal, Mr. President. I was called by Major Carvalho, Deputy Chief of the Honolulu Police Department. Again, I've known this gentleman for many years and his interest was deeply involved with the trafficking of drugs and concern of this bill. The rationale . . . I asked him how come they haven't really fully come out for that. They said they expanded all they could in the House side of this Legislature.

"As you know, when we introduced or entertained the gambling bill, we were the first, and that's why they came out. But to say that they weren't there, maybe they weren't there at our Judiciary, but they were there at the House Judiciary. I had the opportunity to be one of the first people to go through the Citizens' Police Academy. It was a 15-week training and someday I hope that I can nominate the co-chairs for Judiciary to attend that class and understand what the police have to go through. We can do that.

"Thank you very much."

Senator Anderson rose and said:

"Mr. President, slight rebuttal or really some information.

"I keep forgetting districts, but our Senator from Maui and the other one from Palolo or Kaimuki, I believe they could give a little background on the Big Island where we have a substance that's really a drug plant, which is the cocoa plant. And it has the same specifications, scrutiny, from the testimony we got the other day. And that's more of a drug than this one is.

"And also, as far as it being a Republican bill, I want you to know that when I was in the House, it was on Saturday afternoon, Representative John Medeiros at that time and myself happened to be in a hearing that Representative David Hagino was doing. We voted and were speaking against the bill. He called a recess and took us out and he said that's a Republican bill. And we said, 'Well, it's a little too late now. We already talked against it so we're going to vote no.' See, we don't look at the end to find out who put it in. Is it a friend, a foe, or whatever? It was a bill that took away the rights of people, so we voted against it. And that's what I'm trying to get everybody to realize.

"You know, 2 to 23 makes it rather ridiculous to all of a sudden say that it's a Republican bill so it's 'no.' If it's good for what we're doing, Mr. President, I would hope that we could move forward on the basis of the bill, rather on the basis of political parties.

"And I do thank the two chairmen. In fact, if I may, Mr. President, I'd like to have Senator Matsunaga's words put in the Journal as though they were my own, including his little pun at the end.

"Thank you very much."

Senator Sakamoto rose again and stated:

"Mr. President, I know proponents say it's only a quarter acre, but we're here to deal with our future. Let's say that the proponents prevail, and let's say the quarter acre prevails, and let's say that the DEA, after scrutiny, allows this, and let's say the crop is a good crop. Let's say it's better than the North Dakota crop. Then what? Then what? Then we say, 'Oh, a quarter acre works. In fact, why don't we do 40 acres? In fact, why don't we do 640 acres? In fact, why don't we let everyone grow their own crop? The poor farmers of Hamakua need crops. Let them grow hemp!'

"Now, Ka'u guys might say we want to grow it too. So what do we create? Quarter acre plots experimental in everybody's backyard. And you can say, when they grow 8 feet tall, 16 feet tall, 48 feet tall, sure. You can say we're going to control the seed -- sure! Who? This is ridiculous! Where are we going? Who says we can compete with China and who the heck says we're going to compete with North Dakota? Crazy!"

Senator Slom also rose again and said:

"Mr. President, are we still on the same bill?"

"This is really great. And the interesting thing is, when we take this vote, you know when they talk about strange bedfellows and all that, it's going to be terrific. But I've heard things today that I've never heard before.

"First we were told that this crop was not going to be viable. Now we're told that it could be so successfully viable that we're going to stop the farmers from growing it. Now, farmers will only grow something if they can make money and if they think it's valuable. I agree with what was said earlier -- let the farmers decide and all of that.

"Then, I never thought, Mr. President, I would hear a Democratic colleague, especially one from beautiful Waianae where they don't have rock roads, complain that we can't have an economic alternative because quote, 'It would be too labor intensive.' My God! Here we are talking about trying to create more jobs and everything else and now the Majority party members, some of them, are saying that we don't want this because it could be too labor intensive.

"I remind our colleagues again, the seed that is brought in here is sterilized seed, so it's not going to create anything else; it's not going to germinate; it's not going to do any of those other things.

"I would like to have other crops and other options too. But where are they? Where are they? Where are the people that have offered other crops and other options? Where are the investors? Here we have a private investor. Here we have a specific crop. Here we have somebody who thinks that they can make money and can do it. And they may be wrong, but it's their nickel.

"And I guess finally . . . oh, two things. We talk about technology. If we really want to talk about technology, the most technology that our country and the world has ever seen has come out of agriculture, agricultural products and diversification.

"But finally, I think we should ask ourselves since, Mr. President, as you know, the Governor and I are like that. (Laughter.) The Governor owns and, I am told, wears two industrial hemp aloha shirts. I want to know and I think we should investigate whether or not he got those shirts as a result of the international drug cartel. (Laughter.)

"Let's be serious, as has been said. Let's be rational, as has been said. And I would much prefer if we had battled over tax bills and over the budget and all of those other things, but we're not. We're battling over this. And what it shows is, we don't have the capacity in this building to allow the free market to work and to allow entrepreneurs to risk their own funds and to do things differently. Let's give it a chance. I don't want to be the poster boy for industrial hemp, but on the other hand, I don't want to be the person that always says we had an opportunity and yet again Hawaii said no.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1574 was adopted and H.B. No. 32, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO AGRICULTURE," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 13. Noes, 12 (Buen, Bunda, Chun, Hanabusa, M. Ige, Iwase, Kawamoto, Matsuura, Nakata, Sakamoto, Tam, Tanaka).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1577 (H.B. No. 294, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

Senator Chumbley moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1577 be adopted and H.B. No. 294, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Matsuunaga.

Senator Chumbley rose and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of the bill and I have some written comments to be inserted into the Journal. Thank you."

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Chumbley's remarks read as follows:

"Mr. President, although First Amendment rights may be implicated by the restrictions on the distribution of tobacco promotional products and materials, the State has a compelling interest in reducing illegal sales of tobacco products to minors -- PROTECTING THE HEALTH AND SAFETY OF OUR YOUTHS. Because promotional items are all too often used to deliver a selling message to children, and because there is no way to limit the distribution of these products to only adults, such products may be permissibly banned without offending the First Amendment (Commercial Speech).

- 3,000 children become regular smokers every day; that amounts to 1,000,000 per year.
- Over 80 percent of adult smokers started when they were children or adolescents; virtually no one over the age of 21 becomes a tobacco user.
- 30 percent of kids aged 12-17 years old, both smokers and non-smokers own at least one tobacco promotional item such as t-shirts, backpacks, or CD players. These items turn kids into 'walking tobacco billboards,' bringing tobacco advertising into places such as schools where tobacco advertising would otherwise not exist.
- Tobacco companies annual spending on promotional items quadrupled, from $184 million to $756 million in just two years from 1991-1993.
- The distribution of brand name promotional items is a major component of the tobacco industry's marketing strategy. The industry spends over $600 million annually distributing such products.
- The public overwhelmingly supports restrictions on tobacco advertising. 83 percent of adults believe that images such as Joe Camel should not be in magazines read by kids. 78.7 percent believe that advertising such as the Marlboro Cowboy on t-shirts, hats, backpacks, etc. used by kids should be banned.

"Mr. President, for all the above reasons I urge all my colleagues to support this measure."

Senator Sakamoto rose to speak in favor of the measure with reservations:

"Mr. President, I rise in support with reservations.

"Certainly, there was a tobacco bill before us and that bill was a little better, but this one, you know, nobody likes tobacco as far as its harmful effects on our young people. However, the reservations are because this bill is too broad.

"This is yet another example of big brother trying to help little brother. And I understand the purpose. Our young people are everywhere -- in our schools, public and private, on the streets, buses, businesses, concerts, athletic activities. So what's next? This bill says 1,000 feet. Maybe it will be 2,000 feet, maybe 1 mile. What's next? Soda water? Chewing gum? Tight jeans? You know, what have you. Hemp pants? (Laughter.)

"I vote with reservations, Mr. President."

Senator Slom then added:

"Mr. President, after that passionate display from the Senator from Moanalua, I must vote with reservations also."

The Chair so ordered.

Senator Anderson then requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1577 was adopted and H.B. No. 294, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE DISTRIBUTION OF SAMPLE TOBACCO PRODUCTS AND TOBACCO PROMOTIONAL MATERIALS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Matsuura).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1578 (H.B. No. 1073, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

Senator Chumbley moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1578 be adopted and H.B. No. 1073, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Matsunaga.

Senator Sakamoto rose to speak with reservations on the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise with reservations on this measure.

"I support the committee's efforts to protect the public and prevent telemarketing fraud. It's especially important that we protect the vulnerable members of our society that are being victimized by criminals operating fraudulent telemarketing schemes.

"However, Mr. President, we must remember that telemarketing, in and by itself, is not illegal. It's a marketing and promotional tool utilized by many legitimate businesses. Even if we find some of them irritating or inconvenient, we should not be criminalizing them. For example, this measure would criminalize the use of an auto dialer to initiate outbound calls resulting in a call abandonment rate of greater than 5 percent. Now, what does that mean and how would we predict an abandonment rate prior to calling? Why should that be illegal, Mr. President? So I have reservations.

"Thank you."

Senator Slom rose to speak on the measure with reservations:

"Mr. President, I, too, have reservations for many of the same reasons that the good Senator from Moanalua mentioned, plus the fact that in this bill it defines an abusive practice as allowing the telephone to ring 7 times. I want to know, Mr. President, who's going to be counting the rings? The person on the receiving end or the person on the calling end or is it going to be labor intensive so we have a ring counter for this. This bill is much too broad.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Iwase then requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Anderson rose to oppose the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I'm going to be voting 'no' on this particular bill, and I did so in committee because there was no proof that there was any fraud at this time. They said there might be later on and also that they were going to be helping to protect the elderly because they were more inclined to be the ones that were going to be, I guess, abused and smooth talked into telemarketing fraud.

"I think that as a senior citizen I'm as well educated as the rest that I do not have to accept something if I don't want to. And why should we go ahead and put a bill when there is no fraud at this time? There hasn't been any reason to even think we're going to have fraud, but they're anticipating. All the studies that they have done, I guess, it might be in the future.

They're not sure when. But it is something that we don't need. It's just another bill, so I will be voting 'no.'

"Thank you very much."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1578 was adopted and H.B. No. 1073, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TELEMARKETING FRAUD," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Noes, 1 (Anderson). Excused, 2 (M. Ige, Matsuura).

H.B. No. 996:

Senator Chumbley moved that H.B. No. 996, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Matsunaga.

Senator Slom rose to speak against the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in opposition to the bill.

"I think we have seen a steady progression of turning out the lights, blinding the sunshine in our meetings, and we're giving too many exceptions to those meetings that do not have to follow the State sunshine law. And I think that the decision here to allow the Board wider discretion in determining what can be kept private is not a good move. Those of us that have kept up with this issue over a number of years have seen that even though we have laws on the books, we probably have less access now than we've ever had before. So, I'll vote 'no' on the bill."

Senator Tam requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 996, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MEETINGS OF STATE AND COUNTY BOARDS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Tam rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I'm voting 'no' on this bill for two reasons. Number one, the State of Hawaii already has provisions and guidelines in regards to lawsuits. Number two, this bill desired by the state administration and private sector displays the lack of self confidence and unwillingness to take care of the Y2K problem.

"Thank you."

Senator Nakata rose to speak against the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise also to speak in opposition to this bill.

"I believe that with this bill we are immunizing those who are most able to protect themselves and take on the computer manufacturers who have created the problem, and at the same time we are taking away the rights of those who are least able to defend themselves.

"Thank you."

Senator Chumbley rose and said:

"Mr. President, I do have written comments in support of the measure and I'd like to have them inserted into the Journal."

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Chumbley's remarks read as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of this measure.

"How is the Y2K bill ok for the consumer?"

"Private section: The basis effect of this bill is not 'immunity' -- more accurately, it is a codification of how the negligence standard applies in the Y2K area. This bill will not prevent consumers from recovering for Y2K injuries. In fact, it will even allow them to recover out-of-pocket costs when a defendant was not 'negligent' -- it took all the steps that were commercially reasonable, on time, but there was a problem anyway -- which is more than a consumer might get without the bill.

- So why are businesses behind this? Because it will provide greater certainty about what steps they need to take to not be at fault. In other words, they want a clearer definition of what they need to do to avoid being at fault. That will insulate them from liability only in the sense that if they follow all the remediation steps in timely fashion, they know they're not likely to be liable for any incident that occurs.
- Where there were 'tort reform' type provisions in the bill that could operate in an anti-plaintiff way, the committee took them out. This includes a cap on non-economic damages, an exclusion from joint and several liability, and a provision limiting the circumstances in which punitive damages could be awarded.
- The Alternative Dispute Resolutions in this draft of the bill allow for greater flexibility, and thus will help consumers and businesses both determine a form of ADR appropriate to the case. Instead of having a mandatory arbitration provision similar to the CAAP program, when a Y2K case is filed, as soon as all the pleadings are finished (complaint, answer, counterclaim, etc.) the parties will meet with a judge and try to come up with a form of ADR that works for them all. That might be mediation, one of the many forms of arbitration, minitrial, or whatever the parties think will work best for them. Parties may also choose to remain in the court system. This is expected to help these cases reach conclusion considerably faster than the average court case. Of course, parties can always choose to use ADR from the beginning without ever filing a court case; the ADR provision simply helps those who do start out in court to get together and figure out an appropriate method of ADR.
- This draft excludes software and hardware manufacturers from the coverage of the bill. While it may be confusing to have potentially different standards applicable to different parties in a complex case, excluding software and hardware manufacturers should reassure those who are concerned that a Microsoft will somehow get an easy escape from liability through this bill.
- In a final effort to help consumers, this draft of the bill includes a provision barring creditors and credit reporting companies from reporting negative credit information about consumers resulting from Y2K problems. This would be the most likely negative outcome from Y2K hang-ups in financial transactions.

"Public section: The public section of the bill provides the government with qualified immunity, not absolute immunity, for Y2K errors caused by government computer systems.

- Thus, a person can recover against the government for gross negligence (actions in good faith aren't gross negligence). So the bill will not cut off an injured person from recovery against the government where someone in the government screwed up big time; but it will help protect the State's financial resources by preventing the government from having to argue the case where the government might or might not have screwed up in a small way. The government has an actual immunity, unlike the private sector, but it's still a limited immunity.
- An individual (or the State) can still sue a software or hardware manufacturer or supplier who supplied the computer system to the government.

"How will this apply in the real world?"

"A selection of hypotheticals:

"Mom and Pop Store v. Everyone Responsible for the Accounting and Register Systems.

"Mom and Pop store had (1) failure of its accounting and check-making software, resulting in late payments to suppliers and trouble for store, and (2) failure of its credit card readers and cash registers. They blame Computer Village, which sold the accounting software, and NCR, which sold the credit card readers and cash registers.

"So, Mom and Pop file their lawsuit, and Computer Village brings in Evilsoft, which made the software, and Hell Computer Corporation, which provided the computers it ran on. Evilsoft's, Hell Computer's, and NCR's liability aren't affected by the Act. Computer Village's liability falls under the act.

"Whether the parties use ADR or stay in court, Computer Village's liability will be determined by the Act. So, the question will be, did it take timely, commercially reasonable steps? In this case, it probably did. Computer Village would not have been able to do much about the Evilsoft software (it couldn't unilaterally change the code). Perhaps it reasonably relied on Evilsoft representations that the software was Y2K compliant and sold it on that understanding. If Computer Village took commercially reasonable steps, then Mom and Pop can still get the price of the software and the fee they paid to a computer guru to come in and fix the bug (their out-of-pocket costs) from Computer Village. Against Evilsoft, Hell, and NCR, their claim will proceed under current liability principles (probably product liability, negligence, and breach of contract).

 How do they decide whether to use ADR? After the complaint, answer, 3rd party complaint and answer, and any counterclaims, are all filed, all the parties meet with a judge to try to put the case into alternative dispute resolution. This is very early in the lawsuit, so the parties have not spent much on attorney fees yet. Now they can decide what form of ADR will work best in this situation, and move into ADR to resolve the dispute quicker. Or, if they prefer, they may stay in court.

"Small-time Contractor v. Supplier.

"Jane Q. Contractor does work at less than $1,000 a job -- no contractor license. She specializes in building walls. Despite the bad economy, Y2K paranoia has led many people to contract for her services and she has orders for walls to be built through March 2000. A Y2K problem at Aloha Cement, one of her suppliers, messes up her supply line. Aloha Cement is focused on getting cement to its bigger customers and Jane doesn't get new cement supplies until late February. By then, she's long since run out of cement and has had to cancel or delay a bunch of contracts, exposing her to lawsuits and disgruntled customers.

"The issue between Jane and Aloha Cement will be whether Aloha took commercially reasonable steps. Let's say Aloha started looking into the problem early on, but it didn't do any tests of its Y2K fix until 2 weeks before the end of 1999. When the test showed a problem, all they could do was try to fix the new problem and cross their fingers. That was probably not a timely implementation of the steps, so Aloha's actions were probably not commercially reasonable. It looks like Aloha will be liable to Jane for all her damages, including her loss of business goodwill.

"Meanwhile, Aloha blames its Y2K problems on TechGods, the computer consultants it hired to help make sure its proprietary software was ready for Y2K. TechGods claims that because Aloha didn't hire it until it already was too late for TechGods to do a full fix considering its obligations to all its other clients, it was Aloha's own fault that the fix was not timely. If TechGods didn't do the remediation steps for Aloha in timely fashion, but Aloha was also untimely in when it hired TechGods, TechGods will be liable to Aloha for Aloha's damages (including the damages Aloha is having to pay to contractors like Jane), but the damages will be reduced to the degree that Aloha's own untimeliness caused the problem.

"Dead Patient's Family v. Hospital.

"Alii Hospital has been looking at the Y2K problem for several years, and has run tests of all its major systems. When the big odometer turns over, the power, the lights, the ICU machinery, all continues to work. But 7 years ago, the hospital gave Guy Make a pacemaker. It sent all its pacemaker patients a brochure asking them to come in for testing, but Guy Make had moved 3 times since the surgery and never got his. At the last stroke of midnight, his pacemaker turned itself off for 93 years and Mr. Make had a heart attack and died. Now the Make family is suing Alii for wrongful death.

"The issue between Alii and the Make family will be whether Alii took commercially reasonable steps to prevent the problem. This will be a tough call. If Alii did not take commercially reasonable steps, then the Makes can recover all their damages, including the pain and suffering (non-economic damages) they're claiming. (Although, if Guy Make was unreasonable in failing to ask anyone about whether his pacemaker could have a Y2K problem, the recovery might be reduced by the degree of his responsibility.) If Alii did take commercially reasonable steps (which is like saying Alii was not negligent), then the Makes can recover only out-of-pocket costs (the funeral expenses?).

"Alii will probably bring in the pacemaker manufacturer, and the Makes may well sue the pacemaker-maker too. Assuming the pacemaker-maker qualifies as a software or hardware manufacturer, liability won't be determined by the Act. Alii and the Makes can base their claims on strict product liability (probably arguing that the pacemaker had a defective design). Perhaps they can all reach an early settlement through mediation.

"The Famous Traffic Light Case.

"Let's assume the 4-way green light so frequently mentioned does, in fact, happen due to a Y2K failure in a government computer, causing a car crash with car damage and soft tissue injuries to the drivers and passengers. Can they all sue each other? Yes, sure -- they're not the government or government employees, but the error was caused by a government computer, so their claims against each other won't be governed by either the public or the private sections of the Act. Can they sue the government? Yes, but they won't win unless the government was grossly negligent -- in other words, the government screwed up, and badly, in its efforts (or lack of efforts) to find and fix the potential problem. Can they, and the government, sue the company that supplied the traffic-light timing software and the hardware it ran on? Yes, using whatever legal basis would apply under current law. Claims against hardware and software manufacturers and suppliers are excepted from the public section of the Act."

Senator Kawamoto rose to speak in favor of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this bill.

"Mr. President, this is my second flank coming from the north. This is our second attempt to tell our second story, but it addresses really a crucial thing. It addresses state residents, state contractors, provides project labor for state contracts. It adds what the Senator from Hilo wanted -- the State's prison -- in there. It adds like projects for the State prison and the University of Hawaii West Oahu campus.

"It also adds a preference bill, Mr. President, and I have been very much in favor of this. Right in my backyard in Waipahu, I have a $3 million sidewalk project and it was outbid by a Mainland contractor who has 80 percent of the people working on that contract from the Mainland. Mr. President, these are the kinds of things we're trying to protect.

"The preference bill goes to $8 million and below projects. Again, we're trying to tell the big boys that although they are state residents, please leave these projects for truly the state contractors in Hawaii.

"Thank you."

Senator Chumbley rose to oppose the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in opposition to this measure.

"Mr. President and colleagues, this is my second attempt to tell the other side of the story and will do this from the south flank.

"Mr. President, since Boston Harbor, the most significant and successful legal challenges to union-only PLAs on public works have arisen under state competitive bidding laws. It is significant to note that in the only two states whose highest courts have examined public union-only requirements, both New Jersey and New York have held that under most circumstances, governmental union-only PLAs violate state competitive bidding laws.

"The New Jersey Supreme Court has acted twice to invalidate union-only PLAs. First, in George Harms Const. Co. v. New Jersey Turnpike Auth., the court struck down a PLA which mandated that all successful bidders sign agreements with a specified building trades union. The court held:

'The paramount policy of our public bidding laws fosters "unfettered competition" in public contracts; the effect of project-labor agreements is to lessen competition. . . . Our function is not to make the policy choice; our function is to assess whether the [government agency's] choice is consistent with the existing State public-bidding policy to foster competition.'

The court rejected the argument that the PLA permitted competition because bidding was 'open to all,' comparing the situation to one in which the public entity arbitrarily imposed a bid requirement which favored a sole source provider.

"The New Jersey court reaffirmed and expanded its opinion in Tormee Construction, Inc. v. Mercer County Improvement Auth. There, the court observed:

'PLAs can violate the goals of competitive bidding. By mandating that workers belong to certain limited unions, PLAs restrict bidders to contractors with relationships with those unions. The obvious effect of such a restriction is to lessen competition.'

The court invalidated a PLA which would have required contractors to agree to sign union agreements (with any 'appropriate' union) as a condition of performing work on county courthouses.

"The only other state whose highest court has ruled on PLAs in the public sector is New York. There, the Court of Appeals issued a consolidated opinion reaching different results in deciding two PLA cases, in New York State Chapt. AGC v. New York State Thruway; and General Building Contractors v. Roswell Park Dormitory Authority. Properly construed, the New York court's joint holdings restrict PLAs to only the most extraordinary circumstances and prohibit PLAs in the most common public works settings.

"Finding that 'more than a rational basis must be shown' to support a PLA, the Court of Appeals held that a public agency operating under a competitive bidding law 'bears the burden of showing that the decision to enter into the PLA had as its purpose and likely effect the advancement of the interest embodied in the competitive bidding statutes.'

"Many cases have been filed around the country since these New Jersey and New York court decisions, but none has reached any definitive conclusion before the highest courts of any other state. The more persuasive judicial view thus remains that union-only PLAs are in derogation of fundamental policies underlying state competitive bidding laws, and they should not be sanctioned except in the most extraordinary circumstances.

"I have additional comments, Mr. President, that I'd like to have inserted into the Journal. But colleagues, again, this is just not a good public policy decision and I believe it takes us down the wrong path.

"Thank you."

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Chumbley's additional remarks read as follows:

"In response to the many legal and policy challenges to union-only PLAs, their advocates have presented a variety of rationales in support of such bidding restrictions. None of these justifications provides a valid basis for imposing union-only PLAs in the public sector.

"First, PLA advocates have contended that these agreements can reduce costs and increase efficiency when compared to union construction work which is conducted under a variety of different contracts and work rules. This argument applies only to situations where all or most of the performing contractors are in fact already unionized, as was frequently the case fifty years ago. There is no known study finding increased efficiency or lower costs when a union-only PLA is compared to a fully competitive, open, or mixed-use construction project. In addition, by forcing more efficient nonunion contractors to adopt wasteful and unfamiliar union work rules and practices, a union-only PLA deprives construction users of the demonstrated cost advantages of open-shop construction.

"Ironically, many union-only PLAs have been proposed in areas where the government projects are already subject to prevailing wage legislation, which are supposedly designed to prevent nonunion contractors from undercutting their unionized competitors at the expense of employee salaries. Yet, even in these jurisdictions, open competition has been shown to result in cost savings, as compared to union-only requirements.

"Second, PLA supporters have claimed that PLAs are necessary in order to insure a steady supply of skilled or productive workers. This argument is impossible to support in a market where 80 percent of the industry is nonunion and where every type of large project, from industrial plants to stadiums, has been built on an open-shop basis over the last several decades. Similarly, OSHA workplace fatality statistics have shown, contrary to the claims of PLA supporters, that there is no safety advantage in union versus nonunion construction and that open-shop employees have suffered fewer fatalities.

"Finally, PLA advocates contend that union-only requirements are needed to maintain 'labor peace' and to avoid delays and disruption of construction timetables arising out of labor disputes. As one judge has correctly pointed out:

[A] determination to use a project labor agreement in order to avoid the costs associated with such activity smacks of acquiescence to extortion. It is no less opposite to the interests embodied in the competitive bidding statutes than would be the disqualification of an otherwise responsible bidder in order to lessen a threat of vandalism by an unsuccessful bidder."

Senator Chun rose in opposition to the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I stand in opposition to the bill.

"Mr. President, I voted in favor of the previous bill which included PLAs regarding federal contracts because I believe that in terms of getting an experiment done or a test case done, I think that might be a good place to start it. Mr. President, though, this bill goes beyond just a test case. This bill attempts to go into all state contracts.

"I agree with the problems. I agree that there are problems right now in our industry in regards to abuses by general contractors or employers which discriminate or which prevent our own workers over here from getting jobs. I don't disagree with that. I believe there are other ways, though, to take care of those problems. And I think without an adequate discussion as to what other methods we can use to take care of this problem, focusing on just one solution is not in the best interest of the people of this State.

"In fact, Mr. President, as I stated before, if the real problem stems from the lack of enforcement by our state government as far as the bidding requirements, as far as the GET, as far as doing work that are out of their classes, then why aren't we enforcing them? Why are we using a complicated methodology to try to solve a simple problem of getting our state workers to work better.

"I think if once we start going down that road, we start ignoring getting our own people to work better and start thinking of legislative fixes, which I think is one reason why our State is in the quandary we're in right now. We make things more and more complicated, as opposed to looking for the simple solution -- i.e., fix what is broken; do what is right; work the way we're supposed to work.

"So until we can have adequate discussions in terms of getting our employees to do the jobs that they're supposed to be doing, until we have those kinds of discussions, until we have explored all possible solutions which would be less costly and less divisive and less potentially unlawful, I think I cannot support this bill as it stands today, and ask my colleagues to vote against it.

"Thank you."

Senator Tam rose to speak in favor of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I speak in favor of this bill.

"Our message in regard to this bill is that this bill allows the State of Hawaii, through the procurement officer, in the construction of state facilities to use guidelines of safety and health, and fair pay and skilled workers. Also, to draw your attention, members and colleagues, that in the establishment of parameters for these guidelines that I mentioned, Chapter 91 will be used by the administration.

"Thank you."

Senator Taniguchi then stated:

"Mr. President, would you note my reservations to this measure."

The Chair so ordered.

Senators D. Ige and Chun Oakland then requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1596 was adopted and H.B. No. 1593, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE HAWAII PUBLIC PROCUREMENT CODE," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 14. Noes, 9 (Anderson, Buen, Chumbley, Chun, Inouye, Matsunaga, Sakamoto, Slom, Tanaka). Excused, 2 (Fukunaga, Matsuura).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1597 (H.B. No. 159, H.D. 2, S.D. 2):

Senator Chumbley moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1597 be adopted and H.B. No. 159, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Matsunaga.

Senators Slom and Sakamoto requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1597 was adopted and H.B. No. 159, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO WHISTLEBLOWER PROTECTION," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Matsuura).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1599 (H.B. No. 167, H.D. 3, S.D. 2):

Senator Chumbley moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1599 be adopted and H.B. No. 167, H.D. 3, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Matsunaga.

Senator Levin rose in support of the bill with reservations:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this bill with reservations.

"If I read this bill correctly, it would provide that no one under the age of 18 would be able to apply for a driver's license unless they have taken a driver education course including 10 hours of behind-the-wheel training and 30 hours of classroom training. I think that is going to create a tremendous hardship, particularly in those geographic areas where schools do not offer driver training. And I think that is a fairly common situation throughout our State.

"For those geographic areas, particularly where there is not adequate public transportation, individuals under the age of 18 really do need to be able to drive to get to work, to get to school, and to live a full life. So I would urge that as this bill works its way through conference, those who are conferees please give some consideration to those individuals and perhaps come up with other approaches.

"Thank you."

Senator Slom requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Sakamoto rose to speak in favor of the measure with reservations:

"Mr. President, I'd like to speak in favor with reservations. I know the hour is getting late, but just a little information.

"Similar to the Senator from Ka'u, I'm concerned about the education requirement -- 10 hours behind the wheel, 30 hours of classroom training. Already the Department of Education is faced with a financial crunch, therefore either these services won't be provided or we'll be asked, here, for additional funds for the thousands of applicants.

"So, what can we say? Do we say let's raise the fee in the Department of Education to cover the cost, which might be $200; or do we say go seek private providers which might be even more. So there's about 10,000 people, young people, each year trying to get their driver's licenses. So really, we need to look at another way to enforce safety in that regard.

"Thank you."

Senator Iwase requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Kawamoto rose in support of the bill and said:

"Mr. President, I'd like to speak in favor of this bill.

"Mr. President, for, I think, three years we tried to pass through similar bills and I guess thanks to the young people from Maui who came to visit the good Senator from Maui, they were able to convince him to pass out a bill that is similar to the bill that they wanted. But it was young people asking the Senate to save young people's lives. And that, you cannot turn down. It's important to see our young people come out and, again, testify in favor of trying to save young people's lives.

"Therefore Mr. President, I urge all my colleagues to vote 'aye' on this bill. Thank you."

Senator Tam then requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1599 was adopted and H.B. No. 167, H.D. 3, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MOTOR VEHICLE DRIVER LICENSING," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1600 (H.B. No. 171, H.D. 2, S.D. 2):

Senator Chumbley moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1600 be adopted and H.B. No. 171, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Matsunaga.

Senator Sakamoto spoke in favor of the measure with reservations:

"Mr. President, I rise in support with reservations.

"The Judiciary co-chairs have greatly improved the bill, but I still have some concerns about placing a burden on the surrogate. When do you decide to withhold food and water if it's your mother or your mother lying there? What if you have pulled the plug and then medical experts discover a cure to the disease or condition that has incapacitated your loved one? So I have concerns, Mr. President."

Senator Slom requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1600 was adopted and H.B. No. 171, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HEALTH CARE DECISIONS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Fukunaga moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1602 be adopted and H.B. No. 140, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Levin.

Senator Kawamoto spoke on the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, this is my third and last flank.

"This is the most important bill. This bill came to us from the House and in one paragraph it tries to circumvent 104D, and this is the Little Davis-Bacon Act. And I understand that opponents of project labor have used this throughout the country to again circumvent the Little Davis-Bacon Act. And if many of you don't know (maybe you're too young) but the Little Davis-Bacon Act comes from the 1946 sugar strike and efforts that were made there. People died in their efforts to get this Little Davis-Bacon Act. And we cannot afford to allow people circumventing 104D.

"Thank you."

Senator Chumbley rose to speak against the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in opposition to this measure, and I hope this is the last time I have to rise also.

"Mr. President, I want to share with you and some of our colleagues the problems with PLAs. I can't speak to the contents of this measure before it was amended as to that merit, but just to the bills that came out and are before us now.

"Public construction work has long been awarded on the basis of competitive bidding and to the lowest responsible bidder. At all levels of government, it has been rightly perceived that favoritism in the award of government contracts is a form of corruption which leads inevitably to higher costs and lower performance. At the same time, the majority of construction users have recognized that the labor affiliation of a bidding contractor bears no relationship to the ability of the contractor to perform construction work.

"In order to sign PLAs, open-shop contractors are forced radically to alter their normal structure of operations and work rules, which are normally more flexible and less rigid than under union agreements. Particularly where 80 percent of the construction industry performs work on a nonunion basis, union-only PLAs inherently discourage many contractors from bidding for work under such circumstances.

"Recent studies have shown that public sector PLAs significantly reduce the number of bidders for government work and significantly increase the costs of construction. One such study in Roswell Park, New York, conducted both before and after a PLA was temporarily imposed in 1995, revealed that there were 30 percent fewer bidders to perform the work under the PLA and that costs increased by more than 26 percent. Similarly, a GAO study of a Department of Energy PLA in Idaho found that labor costs on the project were more than 20 percent higher than the prevailing wage in the area.

"In a pending case in Nevada, a water authority rejected a responsive bid which was more than $200,000 lower than all others, solely because the contractor could not and would not sign a union contract. Similar testimony of inflated costs of PLAs at both the Tappan Zee Bridge in New York and the Central Artery Tunnel in Boston is contained in the record of U.S. Senate Hearings held on the subject in 1997.

"Supporters of PLAs have asserted that nonunion contractors have in fact bid upon selected work performed under union-only PLAs, and that only a matter of 'choice' prevents other open-shop contractors from competing for PLA work. The true question, however, is not whether open-shop contractors are completely precluded from bidding on union-only contracts, but whether imposition of the union-only requirement discourages bidders from coming forward, to the detriment of taxpayers.

"Clearly, imposition of a union-only PLA has the inherent effect of deterring a large number of contractors from submitting bids, and not merely as a matter of philosophical 'choice.' Rather, in order to bid on union-only work, nonunion contractors must submit to radical restructuring of their operations -- from hiring to work rules to fringe-benefit plans -- jeopardizing many of the very characteristics which have made them successful and cost efficient in the first place.

"PLAs likewise discriminate against the employees of open-shop contractors by imposing on them, by government edict, an unwanted union representative. Regardless of whether the employees are required to pay dues to the union under a PLA, a frequent requirement, they are necessarily bound by whatever agreement the union negotiates as to their wages, hours, and working conditions, regardless of their personal choice. It is little consolation to such employees that their unwanted union status is limited to a particular project -- indeed, this fact often results in depriving the employees of any opportunity to vest in any meaningful benefits from the union health, welfare, and pension fund contributions which must be made by their employers to union trust funds under most PLAs.

"Even many union contractors, who might be expected to benefit from union-only PLAs, in reality are disadvantaged by them. According to Associated General Contractors, an association representing many union contractors, public sector PLAs unfairly remove contractors from the collective bargaining process and give unwarranted leverage to union officials who deal directly and advantageously with government procurement managers.

"In each of these instances, it is the taxpayers who suffer most directly from governmentally imposed union-only PLAs. Unlike private sector agreements, in which corporate directors and shareholders can evaluate the risks and rewards of labor agreements in direct relation to market forces, there are no similar restraints on government officials exercising control over public construction dollars. Union-only PLAs threaten to undermine the public trust in the competitive bidding process.

"Mr. President, in conclusion, imposition of union only PLAs in the public sector cannot be shown to serve the public interest. The government should not enter into the realm of labor management relations by arbitrarily creating a protected enclave for union work at the expense of the taxpayers and to the detriment of fair and open competition. Government agencies that impose union-only PLAs, in response to short term political pressure from labor organizations, will suffer long term consequences in the form of litigation, increased cost of construction, and adverse taxpayer reaction.

"Mr. President, like the other two votes, I will be voting 'no' on this measure and encourage all my colleagues to do the same.

"Thank you."

Senator Kawamoto rose to respond and said:

"Just a slight rebuttal, Mr. President.

"Mr. President, I know the day is long and we've been here a long time, but I just couldn't sit there and take all the accusations given by my colleague from Maui. All these accusations, again, were presented in court, presented everywhere else. They are opinions by the ABC. The ABC tried to resolve this problem. They went to the Supreme Court and the Supreme Court voted 9 to 0 in favor of project labor. Therefore, Mr. President, these accusations are false."

Senator Chumbley then said:

"Mr. President, a short rebuttal.

"Mr. President and colleagues, my statements are not those of ABC and I resent that. And the Supreme Court in a 9 to 0 ruling upheld the Boston Harbor agreement in a very narrowly defined area. So, Mr. President, I'm not speaking in behalf of any organization, nor am I speaking in behalf of ABC. I'm speaking in behalf of the taxpayers.

"Thank you."

Senator Chun rose to speak against the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I stand in opposition to the bill.

"I think the comment on ABC was for Avery 'Buttons' Chumbley.

"I stand in opposition to this bill for the same reasons that I stated in H.B. No. 1593 and ask that the record would so reflect.

"Thank you."

Senator Taniguchi requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Slom rose to oppose the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I stand in opposition to the bill.

"Is this the end of the trilogy for today? This is it? Okay. It's only five of five.

"For the reasons that I expressed before, but also the supporter of the bill from God's country started off talking about Davis-Bacon, and this bill is not about Davis-Bacon. It is about project labor agreements.

"The description in the Order of the Day says 'Relating to Public-Private Infrastructure Partnerships.' It's not about partnerships. It's about lack of choice and about forcing people to do things that they may choose not to do. Also, we have a provision in here for the definition of state contractor and state subcontractor requiring that 100 percent of all employees, if that contractor or subcontractor has one or more, must be Hawaii residents, which is not a reasonable requirement.

"The Davis-Bacon Act, by the way, is the law of the land. It is required. It is pursued aggressively. But I think the bottom line in all of this is, this bill is so convoluted with so many things thrown into it with the idea just being to get PLA passed, that it's not going to do anything to either improve our economy; it's not going to do anything to provide opportunities for local employees; it's not going to provide more construction opportunities. That will be dependent on our economic conditions which we have not addressed here today.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator D. Ige then rose and said:

"I'd just like to note my 'support, with reservations.'"

Senator Chun Oakland requested her vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1602 was adopted and H.B. No. 140, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC-PRIVATE INFRASTRUCTURE PARTNERSHIPS," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 15. Noes, 9 (Anderson, Buen, Chumbley, Chun, Inouye, Matsunaga, Sakamoto, Slom, Tanaka). Excused, 1 (Matsuura).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1603 (H.B. No. 985, H.D. 1, S.D. 2):

Senator Fukunaga moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1603 be adopted and H.B. No. 985, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Levin.

Senator Sakamoto rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

"Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

"Regarding the bill before us deals with procurement, I want to just clarify. It's important to me that my fellow Senators can rely on the accuracy of information or testimony I present. So to this end, I felt it necessary to confirm that we confirmed with DAGS the position that I presented as part of my floor speech on H.B. No. 122 that was questioned by the Senator from Nuuanu.

"So, per a telephone conversation with the Comptroller this afternoon, they did in fact verify that DAGS is opposed to H.B. No. 122, S.D. 1, Relating to Prompt Payment, and they also confirmed that the Public Works Administrator and his assistant conveyed this position in a meeting with the GOH chair and his staff at which I was present. Further, they confirmed that they have not communicated any change of that position.

"So for the record, it is important for the construction industry and my staff has been contacting DAGS almost every other day for the past month. And they confirmed that they are opposed to both the prompt payment and the retention bills, Mr. President. They have not changed that position.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1603 was adopted and H.B. No. 985, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PROCUREMENT," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Fukunaga moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1606 be adopted and H.B. No. 1664, H.D. 3, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Levin.

Senator Iwase then rose and said:

"Mr. President, 'W/R,' one-subject rule. Thank you."

The Chair so ordered.

Senators Slom and Anderson requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1606 was adopted and H.B. No. 1664, H.D. 3, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HEALTH," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Matsuura).

H.B. No. 100, H.D. 1, S.D. 1:

Senator Fukunaga moved that H.B. No. 100, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Third Reading, seconded by Senator Levin.

Senator Fukunaga rose to speak in favor of the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in brief support of this measure. I know it's been a long day, colleagues.

"The Senate Ways and Means Committee heard the call of Hawaii's voters over the past several months. And in response to many of our colleagues' questions, our answer is that: State government's role in economic recovery and improving the efficiency of state government services must change now.

"What we have tried to do in this version of the Senate budget is three things: First, we have tried to create greater accountability in government and focus on delivering core services to the general public in a more cost-effective manner. In so doing, we have complied with the Felix Consent Decree by making it the Senate's top priority so that we can ensure that we meet our June 30, 2000 deadline. To that end, I would note that all of the Executive Request funding items associated with Felix-compliance have been included in this version of the budget. We have also answered the call for greater accountability by providing that all Felix-related services shall be funded out of the Governor's Office (GOV 200) and to provide schools and school complexes with greater say in determining the services that are to be provided to the students that they serve.

"Secondly, we have tried to be vigilant stewards of taxpayer dollars. And in so doing, we have vigorously controlled government spending, partly by reducing approximately 40 percent of all vacant positions in state government.

"Thirdly, we have tried to focus on what needs to be done for people. We have concentrated on core functions and essential programs and services dealing with health, safety, education, economic development or those services mandated at state levels.

"We are also proud to say that while we have addressed all these core priority areas, we are spending no more than $3 million in FY 2000 than we are currently spending in this fiscal year. As we focus on what is perhaps the most important part of the Senate's economic plan, I'd like to defer to Co-Chair Levin to talk about some of the things which we have done in the area of economic recovery."

Senator Levin also rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, we have come to the belief that in order to stimulate our economy and spur an economic rebound, we have got to reduce taxes. We have listened to the business community. We recognize that it is the business community, not government, which is the key player to turn the economy around.

"We do recognize that it's the government's role to provide business with a better business climate and with the tools to facilitate success. So to restore a vibrant economy, we provide significant tax relief for taxpayers, and we build it into our financial plan, and we keep our budget tight so that we can afford the tax reductions.

"Last year, the Legislature passed the largest personal income tax reduction in the State's history. It should come out to approximately $752 million in tax reductions over the next four years. That's an extra three-quarters of a billion dollars in spending power given back to our people.

"Mr. President, you said on opening day that we needed to rally and respond to help small business. That is precisely what we are trying to do this year again, with a number of tax incentives. Our Minority Floor Leader has said that we have not passed anything, and our Minority Floor Leader is an honorable man. But I think it is important to recognize that we have proposed, and we have just passed on this floor, a reduction in general excise tax pyramiding. Over the next five to seven years, when fully implemented, that alone would result in a $150 million tax reduction per year.

"This year we have also proposed tax incentives and resources for venture capital investment for a call center industry and improvements to hotel and resort properties. We've also put in tax breaks for the counties and for levelling the import/export playing field so that our local people can export competitively and products that are coming in will be taxed more fairly. These are the tax incentives that we believe are needed, and in many cases they will be implemented immediately, which means an immediate break for businesses and an immediate boost to our economy.

"We hope that with this package and the budget itself, we will move our economy in the right direction.

"Thank you. I'd like to turn the microphone back to my co-chair."

Senator Fukunaga continued in support of the measure as follows:

"Certainly, Mr. President, we recognize that crafting a document as massive as the state budget is not one that could be done without a lot of support. So first, we'd like to turn to all of you, our colleagues -- and our subject matter chairs and Ways and Means Committee members -- and say thank you for your input, your guidance and recommendations as we have crafted this document, as well as many of the subsidiary 'moving parts' of the process. We would also like to thank our Senate Ways and Means staff who are currently arrayed in the gallery above us.

"This massive set of documents could not have been undertaken or produced on time, on budget, without their assistance and we'd like to ask them all to rise to be recognized. Chief clerk, Barbara Stanton; budget supervisor, Debbie Nakagawa; bill research team head, Garret Kashimoto, and all of their respective staff, please rise and accept our thanks. (The staff members seated in the gallery rose to be recognized.)

"Secondly, we would also like to thank and acknowledge many of the people from the legislative agencies, Legislative Reference Bureau, our Senate Majority research staff, as well as your office, Mr. President, in helping us craft this document.

"We believe it puts us in good position to go into conference and we believe that the Senate will have a product that it can truly be proud of.

"Thank you."

Senator Sakamoto rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in support, and I also appreciate the chairs' efforts in passing the tax measures which certainly would help.

"As you are aware, Radford High School was in the news a lot and I appreciate you putting in the Radford project and hopefully that prevails.

"I guess, for me, our staff was trying to compare the numbers between the House and the Senate and glad to see a lot of numbers are reductions. So hopefully, we can prevail in making our government more efficient, as well.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Levin rose and said:

"Mr. President, if I may be allowed one more word of thanks, both to our committee members and to staff.

"As a first year co-chair of Ways and Means, I had always understood what the job entailed toward the end of session, when people would come with sleeping bags and devote endless hours to the job at hand. Now, as co-chair, I realize that the sleeping bag part starts from day one, perhaps even before session starts. The group that is in the gallery is comprised of the most extraordinary people in terms of the dedication and hours that they have put in, and I couldn't be more grateful to them, as well as to my co-chair who also puts in endless hours and keeps me in tow. I thank them all. The staff is just remarkable and deserves everybody's thanks.

"Thank you."

Senator Inouye rose to speak in favor of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I speak in support of the bill and I'd like to thank the Ways and Means and all my colleagues for their support.

"This is a great economic package and I believe first time for the counties and I'd like to say on behalf of the counties, thank you very much for assisting them. And I think as I can reflect back to my role as a former mayor who had pleaded with this Legislature for a number of years and those who had preceded me in that role and those until today came to this Legislature to ask for support on behalf of the counties, thank you very much."

Senator Slom rose in support of the bill with reservations:

"Mr. President, I rise to support the measure with reservations.

"First of all, let me thank my colleague, the good Senator from Ka'u, for establishing that I am, in fact, an honorable man. I appreciate that.

"It's a massive undertaking for the budget -- no question about it. There was a lot of work put in, a lot of sacrifice and so forth -- a lot of good items. And unlike the erroneous reports from the media, the Senate budget is not higher but in fact is lower than both the Governor's recommendations and the House recommendations. So I think that's a good point.

"However, I think that as always we should strive to do better and that should be the goal in the conference committee. There are a number of changes between the House and Senate versions and it's going to take very acute, I guess, negotiating, and we hope that our team will have the best talents possible.

"Also, I note that a number of the measures within the budget actually call for facilitating and advancing the idea of restructuring various departments because of the funding mechanism in which it was given.

"The only final comment that I would make is that in terms of economic development, in terms of tax relief. While it is laudatory that this is in the budget and we're going to pass this today, that's fine, then we go into conference committee. First of all, I will stand by my statement earlier that had we really been serious about jump-starting the economy and solving some of the problems that have existed for nine years now and listening to the people that have had to reach in their own pockets to create the jobs and create the income, we would have done this very early. Instead, we pass bills that pay for our expenses and we pass other bills that have interest to a narrow majority within our community. This is the most important thing that we have to do.

"In terms of some of the specifics within the budget itself, as the good Senator from Ka'u mentioned, the tax relief is spread out over 5 to 7 years. My only concern, Mr. President, is that this does not give a signal of immediacy or urgency, not like all the emergency appropriations that we pass every time we vote on things. The emergency is for those businesses and those householders and those single moms who will not be here in five to seven years because they will not be able to afford it. In the meantime, what we've done today and what we'll do now is pass a really good budget document for discussion, but we also passed an increase in taxation and new taxes allowable for the Department of Education.

"So I think the bottom line message is going to be, when people look at what we've done today and what we've done in this session -- unless we make some very dramatic changes in conference -- is that we did not do what we came to do and we said we would do, and that is to alleviate the high cost of taxation and the high cost of living and the burden that faces every individual in this community. And that's should have been job number one. We should have done that immediately on a bi-partisan basis.

"So I will support this budget with reservations and I hope, as I say, that we will get more concessions as go in the conference process.

"Thank you."

Senator Anderson rose to support the measure with reservations:

"I, too, will be voting with reservations, and I would like to thank the staff from Ways and Means. They worked very, very hard and they were very helpful and so were the two co-chairs.

"However, I, too, echo the five to seven years incentive is not immediate. We could have passed the GET 4 percent off of food and drugs, which would have been immediate for our people -- the most regressive tax -- but we didn't.

"Also, because we don't have the staff that some do, but our Minority research did some work on this and they have down here that on the Felix-Cayetano we have it two areas, consequently I'm not sure if it's budgeted twice, but I believe that's why it seems that in the first year we're 8.1 percent over and 8.6 in the second year. That's something we can look at.

"Also, I'm not sure if we did right because we didn't even do anything with the prisons. We grumble a lot. We still haven't made decisions because we're not decision makers, evidently. But what we should have done is make that decision. We did tell the people of Ka'u when the two Judiciary chairmen and myself were up there with a few others. And I was told that, I guess, Pele would be upset with us because it was a spiritual place. And it was a group of people who weren't even Hawaiian at the time they told me that. And I told them, you know in our day, culturally, you brought prisons because that's part of your culture. In our day, we didn't have prisons. We had the kapu system and if you violated the kapu system, you better haul down to the City of Refuge, otherwise 'pau kahana' for you. So they brought their culture and that's why we have prisons. But unfortunately, we're not building them. We're making mandates on public safety and other things that the people need, but we're not making decisions to build that because it's on a particular part of an island that somebody doesn't want. And as soon as I said they could build it in, as far as I was concerned, Kawainui and let me fight it, immediately one of my Senators stood up and said, 'My people would be opposed to that. We can't have it over there.' That was just a gesture. This is what we don't do. We don't do the kinds of things that should be in the budget. We should pass it, but we don't.

"So those are some of my reservations that I have, Mr. President. And I once told my friend, if you have lots of reservations for 15 minutes, you should vote 'no.' So I'm going to quit as this point.

"Thank you very much."

Senator M. Ige requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, H.B. No. 100, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE STATE BUDGET," having been read throughout, passed Third Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

ADJOURNMENT

At 5:20 o'clock p.m., on motion by Senator Chun, seconded by Senator Slom and carried, the Senate adjourned until 11:30 o'clock a.m., Thursday, April 15, 1999.

FORTY-NINTH DAY

Thursday, April 15, 1999

The Senate of the Twentieth Legislature of the State of Hawaii, Regular Session of 1999, convened at 11:39 o'clock a.m. with the President in the Chair.

The Divine Blessing was invoked by Pastor David Yamashiro, Christ's Church at Kapolei, after which the Roll was called showing all Senators present with the exception of Senators Bunda, Iwase and Kawamoto who were excused.

The President announced that he had read and approved the Journal of the Forty-Ninth Day.

At this time, the following introductions were made to the members of the Senate:

Senator Tam congratulated McKinley High School's Electric Car Team on capturing first place at the Fourth Annual Electron Marathon and introduced the following members of the team: Richard Duong, William Wong, Aaron Iwasaki, David Baker and Andrea Lee.

Senator Chun Oakland introduced Jordan Salis and commended him on being an outstanding role model for youth and for being selected as one of twenty Hawaii representatives to tour Europe this summer as a "People to People Ambassador." Accompanying Jordan was his father, Derek Salis; sisters, Dayna and Lindsey; brother, Dane; and Gary Aki, president of the Kamehameha Homes Tenant Association.

Senator Sakamoto introduced and congratulated Colonel Ann M. Testa, Commander of the 15th Air Base Wing, Hickam Air Force Base, Hawaii, in recognition of Hickam Air Force Base as the winner of the Commander-In-Chief's Annual Award for Installation Excellence. Accompanying Colonel Testa were June Takekawa, president of the Friends of Hickam, and Chief Master Sergeant Earl W. Brewster, Command Chief Master Sergeant for Hickam AFB.

At this time, the Chair appointed Senators Sakamoto, Anderson and Ihara to escort Colonel Ann Testa to the podium to address the members of the Senate.

Colonel Testa addressed the members of the Senate and their guests as follows:

"Mr. President, other members of the Senate, guests -- I've decided I want to recruit the McKinley High School folks who built that electric car. We could use their expertise at Hickam Air Force Base.

"Thank you very much for this honor. I proudly and humbly accept this certificate on behalf of the men and women of Hickam Air Force Base. The installation excellence award competition, in my mind, is much like the superbowl of the Air Force. It takes a dedicated team of people to earn this award. And I say earn, as opposed to win, because we all work very hard, each and every day -- the base personnel and the off-base community working together -- to make this happen.

"I'd like to stress the important role the community played and ask June Takekawa to be recognized as the past president of the Friends of Hickam and a key player on our base's team. Our Friends of Hickam are truly, truly a unique group. This is a group that you don't see in other installations and affiliated with other installations around the world. Never has such a small but dedicated group of local business leaders given so much aloha, ensuring our military personnel and their families feel welcomed to this beautiful island.

"This close bond with our off-base community is particularly important during these trying times when our military men and women are deployed around the world into potentially life-threatening and definitely hostile situations. The families left behind in Hawaii are made to feel cared for and safe, and that's a big burden off the shoulders of their loved ones, our military deployed overseas. Because of this aloha, our military members are better able to concentrate on their jobs at hand -- and that is protecting the American interests around the world.

"Please accept my deep appreciation to the people of this State for their help in making us the best Air Force installation in the world. Mahalo."

At 12:05 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:17 o'clock p.m.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

Gov. Msg. No. 287, dated April 13, 1999, returning to the House of Representatives as requested by the Legislature through H.C.R. No. 262, adopted on April 9, 1999, the following House bills:

FIFTIETH DAY

Friday, April 16, 1999

The Senate of the Twentieth Legislature of the State of Hawaii, Regular Session of 1999, convened at 10:45 o'clock a.m. with the President in the Chair.

The Divine Blessing was invoked by Mr. Al Jones, Interim Director of The Youth Ministry for the Diocese of Honolulu, after which the Roll was called showing all Senators present with the exception of Senator Iwase who was excused.

The President announced that he had read and approved the Journal of the Forty-Ninth Day.

At this time, the following introductions were made to the members of the Senate:

Senator Hanabusa recognized and congratulated the first graduating class of the Hawaiian language immersion schools of Nawahikalaniopuu and Anuenue and introduced the following members of the Class of 1999: Kekuamanoa Burgess, Kananinohea Kawaiaea, Kauikeolani Naniole, Hulilauakea Wilson and Kalimahana Young from Nawahikalaniopuu; and Kaimalino Woo Andrade, Hoku Fox, Kaheao Naauao, Kaliko Palmeira, Aneala Lopez and Kini Kaakimaka from Anuenue. Accompanying the students were teachers Puanani Wilhelm and Alahalani Housman and student teacher Keahi Renaud.

Senator Sakamoto, with the assistance of Senators Inouye and M. Ige, introduced and congratulated the following Prudential Spirit of Community Award winners: Andrew Allshouse, Aaron Romero, Nina Yuen and Theresa Engel. Accompanying the honorees were Todd Thacker, vice president of the Prudential Insurance Company of America; Fred Borenstein, managing director of Prudential Financial Services in Hawaii; and Dayna Colbertson, a Hawaii Prudential representative.

Senator Kawamoto then introduced Lieutenant General Edwin P. Smith, Commanding General of the U.S. Army, Pacific, and his wife, Jan and extended a warm aloha to the General and his family.

At this time, the Chair appointed Senators Kawamoto, Anderson and Ihara to escort General Smith to the podium to address the members of the Senate.

General Smith addressed the members of the Senate and their guests as follows:

"Mr. President, distinguished members of the Hawaii State Senate, and friends, it is indeed a pleasure for my wife Jan and I to be formally introduced to all of you today. And it is so because, as I do every morning when I walk around the place known as Palm Circle on historic Ft. Shafter to work every morning at the headquarters that I work in, as I do so, I can't help but be overwhelmed every morning by the historic beauty and the beautiful setting in which I am lucky enough to work. I feel delighted . . . we both feel delighted to be back here on our second assignment in Hawaii commanding soldiers, especially among such loyal and supportive Americans as exist in this State.

"The Asia/Pacific theater in which those of my command serve is, as you know, big, diverse and important -- no doubt about that. Our role everyday is to engage all of the counterpart armies, regional armies, in the Asia/Pacific theater in ways that convince them of our professionalism and capabilities and also in ways that clearly demonstrate our leadership to help keep this region prosperous and stable. That's what we do, and our priorities to keep us ready to do that are three. First, trained and ready soldiers and units, highly deployable and ready for any task that they might be called upon to do. Second, the welfare and positive growth of all of the people for which we are responsible. And third, and I think most important, a sincere commitment to the enduring values of the United States of America and the Army that has served us so well for over 200 years. And to that end, we pledge our best every day. You here and the rest of our countrymen in the United States of America deserve nothing less.

"I'd like to thank you, again, for your loyal, continuing, steady support of all of the soldiers that serve here in this theater, of all of their families of our great civilian workforce and everyone else. It's a privilege and a pleasure to be back.

"Mahalo."

At 11:22 o'clock a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 11:31 o'clock a.m.

Senator Chumbley moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1716 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Matsunaga and carried.

Senator Chumbley then moved that the Senate consent to the nomination of GARY W.B. CHANG as Judge of the 14th Division, Circuit Court of the First Circuit, for a term of ten years, in accordance with the provisions of Article VI, Section 3, of the Hawaii State Constitution, and in accordance with Gov. Msg. No. 247, seconded by Senator Matsunaga.

Senator Matsunaga rose in support of the nominee and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of the nominee.

"Mr. President, I have more extensive comments I'd like inserted into the Journal, but let me please summarize by saying that Mr. Chang's appointment comes with great community support and is very well deserved. I am confident that Mr. Chang's commitment for excellence will enhance and protect the quality of life for all of us in our community.

"I urge my colleagues to consent to this nomination.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Matsunaga's remarks read as follows:

"Mr. President and members, Gary Chang holds a Bachelor's degree from the University of Hawaii at Manoa and a J.D. degree from the University of Gonzaga Law School. Mr. Chang has 20 years of law experience and has served as a State Deputy Attorney General. He is also a member of the Hawaii State Bar Association, the American Bar Association and Na Hoaloaha O McKinley.

"During the Senate Judiciary Committee hearing, the Committee heard his views on pressing community issues such as tort reform, community service, and the balance of powers between the judicial branch and the legislative branch of government. The Committee also heard several members of the legal community as well as organizations and private citizens come forward to voice their overwhelming support for Mr. Chang. To quote some of the testimony that was reiterated several times -- 'Gary Chang is a fair-minded, humble, compassionate, and hard-working individual with a great sense of humor.' 'Mr. Chang possesses the legal knowledge and ability, professional experience, judicial temperament, and impartiality needed to be qualified as a judge in the First Circuit Court.'

"As you can see, this appointment comes with great community support and is well deserved. I am confident that Mr. Chang's commitment to excellence will enhance and protect the quality of life for all of us in our community. I urge my colleagues to consent to this nomination."

Senator Chun rose in support of the nominee and stated:

"Mr. President, I also urge my colleagues to vote in favor of the advice and consent of Mr. Chang as a Circuit Court Judge of the First Circuit.

"I knew Mr. Chang when I first went to law school at Gonzaga University School of Law. One of the first people I met from Hawaii was Mr. Chang and I was awed by his knowledge and humor. That continued after we all graduated and took the bar exam and when he was working in various positions within the state as a lawyer. I was always awed by his knowledge of the law and his commitment to excellence.

"Mr. President, I received several faxes from my fellow colleagues from Gonzaga University School of Law and they wanted to be sure that their position was known and that his antics would not go unnoticed, but I decided against reading them here. But suffice to say that Mr. Chang's knowledge of the law, his humanity and his commitment to excellence will bring much credit to the judicial profession.

"I urge my colleagues to vote in favor of this measure.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Iwase).

Senator Chumbley rose in support of the nominee and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of this nomination.

"On behalf of Senators Tanaka and Buen, I want to urge our colleagues to support this nomination.

"As you may know, Joe Cardoza has been very active both in the legal community in his profession as president of the Maui Bar Association, president of the Hawaii Prosecuting Attorneys Association, and numerous community activities. Some of the words that came to mind during the confirmation hearing were, that he was very trustworthy, compassionate, hardworking, possesses the highest level of integrity and professionalism for his work.

"Mr. President, we believe that Mr. Cardoza will make an excellent judge for Maui and we want to urge all of our colleagues to support this confirmation.

"Thank you."

Senator Chumbley moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1718 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Matsunaga and carried.

MURASHIGE as Judge of the District Court of the Fifth Circuit, for a term of six years, in accordance with the provisions of Section 604-2, Hawaii Revised Statutes, and in accordance with Jud. Com. No. 1, seconded by Senator Matsunaga.

Senator Chumbley rose to support the confirmation as follows:

"Mr. President, I also rise to speak in support of this confirmation.

"On behalf of my colleague from Kauai, we also want to urge our colleagues to support this nomination.

"Calvin Murashige has been very active, both in the legal community and different organizations such as the Boy Scouts and the Lihue Christian Church on Kauai. I think many of the people on Kauai look up to him and respect his community involvement and professional involvement for the years that he has been contributing to the Island of Kauai.

"We have found him to be extremely competent and of high moral character, caring and fair, and also very compassionate, and we believe that he would be an excellent judge to the bench on Kauai and we urge all our colleagues to support him.

"Thank you."

Senator Chun also rose to support the nominee as follows:

"Mr. President, I also urge all my colleagues to support this nomination.

"Mr. Murashige's reputation in the community is completely spotless and his dedication to the law is only second to his dedication to his family. I had the pleasure of serving with Mr. Murashige on the board of the Ae Kamali'i Preschool where

I've come to know him as a very straight forward and honest person who really cares about the children. I'm very, very happy with the nomination and I urge all my colleagues to support him.

"Thank you very much."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, none. Excused, 2 (Iwase, Kawamoto).

At this time, Senator Chumbley introduced Judge Gary W.B. Chang, Judge Joseph E. Cardoza and Judge Calvin K. Murashige who were seated in the gallery with their families and friends.

Senator Anderson rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

"Mr. President, I stand on a point of personal privilege.

"At 5:30 this morning, Mr. President, I was reading the Advertiser. I'm lucky we get it early. And it says, 'The Governor Threatens to Pardon Inmates.' One of the things that disturbed me was that he more or less said it was because of non-funding and nobody has guts here to speak up. Now, we did mention that the other day that it was not in the budget, and I felt that was very wrong, just as Senator Slom said over and over. But we've got to also remember the Governor has moved it maybe to five different areas on the Big Island so that he can be friends with everybody. We have three Senators here from the Big Island that may not want it in their backyard. But I want to let you know that in Kailua we have the Boys Home, the Girls Home. We now have the Women's Prison. We have all kinds of abusive homes. Anything that the public would be concerned about, we have. I've also said that since we have the rubbish dump and they want to build another one, we'll take it if we could get all the employees. But they wouldn't do that.

"I think what bothers me about his statement, though, Mr. President, is he said a lot of it is pork barrel, and he's going to hold it back. Well, that may be true, but let me tell you, when we were looking at trying to come up with some CIP, we wanted to make sure that we did the best we could for our district. For instance, for a few years now we've been trying to get the Waimanalo Intermediate School basketball court, which is outdoors, resurfaced. I think it's $30,000, but we give him a billion-dollar budget for our construction and, to the best of my knowledge, that resurfacing has not happened yet. I also said I would back Representative Goodenow because he wanted $117,000, I think, for Kailua Library. Now the wastewater management is for everybody and I said I would back that.

"I think the Governor has got to understand. First of all, he's got to make sure now it's Kulani. But once he has said he is going to have the prison there, then he can come down and try to get votes. He may call you guys, upstairs, but he sure as hell doesn't walk downstairs. And every governor that I've known, even long before I got in . . . Governor Burns came down -- he was interested in votes, not in parties -- so did Governor Ariyoshi, so did Governor Waihee. But you come down and you ask -- we need this; we have to have it. You don't stay up in your little tower.

"Another thing that bothers me is he said that Mr. Anzai told him that this is a good time to borrow money, not to have private enterprise. Private enterprise couldn't do the job, evidently, yet we're sending our prisoners to the Mainland to private prisons. Why is it that if they're not good, we're sending them there? Why couldn't we find someone in private enterprise to build a prison that's going to give you high security, medium security, low security, whatever you need? There's enough data that he could get. If I could ask my staff (they're very short-handed) and if I gave them a couple of days, they could find out all of the information on private prisons on the Mainland -- Who's failed? Why? How? We found out from the National Conference of State Legislators that by bidding, sometimes they have cheated the prison inmates by not feeding them properly because they bid too low. They didn't do well for the guards because they held back on the number of guards. Consequently, they got a lot of overtime, but there wasn't enough guards to do the job. There's all kinds of data that we have, my friends.

"And then you have the Speaker of the House who I believe is saying that not all of the projects that they have over there are pork, they're for the good of the people. If we're going to show leadership over here, we have to make sure, Mr. President, that the Governor comes down, he talks to the Senate, tells them what their priorities are. And when I say all of us, I mean all of us. I talked to him a couple of years ago. We had some good ideas, but they didn't figure in certain things that they should have. Then he said, 'God, if we figure that in then we don't have to subsidize.' But then the next year that project was gone. It's no longer a priority. You see, if a project is good today, it's good tomorrow; it's good the next day. We don't have the type of people in leadership that are doing this right now, and it's frustrating and it's bothering me, and I'm sure it bothers Senator Slom. It should be bothering you.

"I had many, many people yesterday that are employed, they're long time Democrats. They said, 'What's happening to our institution? What are you guys doing?' And I said we stand on the floor but we don't have the votes; you have the votes and you're not exercising them. Either you don't want to agree with someone because he or she happens to be a Republican, or this is going to be very, very bad for my uncle's cousin's brother. I've got a genealogy upstairs that will make you sick. Everybody said, you know, they think we come from Mars. I've got more family than the man in the moon. When I stand up here, I represent, I believe, as many people as I can. If it hurts some, I'm awfully sorry. It's to benefit the most.

"So, Mr. President, regardless of what the Governor thinks of this Senate, I believe that he should come down and talk to us, let us know where his priorities are. He himself has got to start making some decisions. And Mr. President, we have to start making some tough decisions. That's what we were elected for, hired for, whatever anybody wants to say the reason that we're here, but we owe the people of Hawaii to make tough decisions, not to look at what's best for an individual friend, or a group, or ourselves.

"Thank you very much, Mr. President."

Senator Slom also rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

"Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

"I echo the words and sentiments of the Minority Leader -- things that we've said for quite some time -- but I did want to clear up a misconception, Mr. President. Some people thought that I wrote the speech for the Governor, since he was borrowing heavily from words that had been attributed to me in the past, but I assure you, Mr. President, I did not.

"I can understand the Governor's frustration, because the ratio of Majority Party to Minority Party is 23 to 2, here, so I can understand why he has a difficult time getting his things through. But when he makes the charge that we're a 'do-nothing' body, Mr. President, I take personal umbrage at that because he's not been down here to see the number of beauty contestants that we honor. He's not been down here to see the strange fruits and vegetables that we have distributed. He's not been here to witness the chin-ups and the push-ups and the belly-flops and the things that we do here and the former politicians that we've honored.

"So, my colleagues, we still have ten days left, and I'm still confident. I'm not that disappointed yet. I still think that we can do things and accomplish things, because in your hearts you know the right thing to do. And in the end, when you have to vote and your name has to be attributed to that vote and that position, whether it be taxes or regulation or bureaucracy, I'm confident that you will do the right thing.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

ADJOURNMENT

"Mr. President, I speak in favor of the nominee Gary Baldwin.

"Mr. President, it's no secret on my island that Gary Baldwin and I sometimes don't get along. We've had many discussions and arguments on certain issues. Mr. President, after talking with Mr. Baldwin and the Governor about how we can move forward for the betterment of this State and also for the Island of Kauai, I feel confident that Mr. Baldwin will have nothing but the best interests of Kauai and of the State and he has the definite ability to move forward into the twenty-first century for the Tourism Authority.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1721 (Gov. Msg. No. 144):

Senator Inouye moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1721 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Kawamoto and carried.

Senator Inouye then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of JAMES J. NAKATANI as Chairperson, Board of Agriculture, term to expire December 31, 2002, seconded by Senator Kawamoto.

Senator Inouye rose in support of the nominee as follows:

"Mr. President, I support Mr. Nakatani's nomination.

"Mr. Nakatani has been Chairperson of the Board Agriculture, Department of Agriculture since January 1995 and has served as an officer or member of numerous agricultural organizations, including the Hawaii Farm Bureau Federation, the Hawaii State Farm Fair, the Watercress Grower's Association, the Agribusiness Development Corporation, and the Western United States Agricultural Trade Association, among others.

"Mr. Nakatani is both an experienced farmer and a seasoned administrator. During his tenure, he has streamlined permitting processes and promoted economic development in the State, while remaining mindful of Hawaii's unique environmental qualities. He has actively sought solutions to problems affecting Hawaii's agricultural and aquacultural industries during a period of extensive change for Hawaii's farmers.

"I urge my colleagues' support of Mr. Nakatani's nomination.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator M. Ige rose in opposition to the nominee and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against this nomination.

"Mr. President, last year the Legislature passed a bill relating to slaughterhouses for the State, and I had been quite concerned because the slaughterhouse basically uses pork from a lot of hard-working farmers out there. In the bill that we passed last year, it talks about a slaughterhouse or floating $10 million of revenue bonds for a slaughterhouse including a meat-processing facility. And yet today, when you speak to some of the farmers, that has not become a reality, nor has it even been close to where we want to be. And I just hope that during the interim or during these final weeks we can continue to ask these questions so that we can produce a facility that talks about jobs and economic diversity in the community.

"Mr. President, I've never come across so many people telling me that they support my 'no' vote in the committee and that they would want to say things to me off the record. And my response has been, if you cannot put it on record, then I don't want to hear it. You come up with the criticism and I'll help you. But if you come to me with anonymous phone calls, forget it, I'm not interested.

"Mr. President, this is not the kind of leader we need to bring the agricultural community to meet the challenges of the twenty-first century.

"Thank you."

Senator Kawamoto rose in support of the nominee as follows:

"Mr. President, I speak in favor of the nominee.

"Mr. President, I had the opportunity not this past Saturday but two Saturdays ago on Ag Day . . . we had diversified ag from all over the State come to the Ag Day out in Pearl City, and not one, not one had any negative comment about Jimmy Nakatani. They all had glowing words. They said things like if it wasn't for Jimmy they wouldn't have had this opportunity for diversified ag.

"I've been on the Economic Committee for four years and his devotion to the water situation, his devotion to diversified ag was of utmost importance to the success of these activities. Therefore, Mr. President, I urge all my colleagues to vote 'aye' on this nominee.

"Thank you."

Senator Buen rose to speak against the nomination as follows:

"Mr. President, I, too, want to speak against this appointment.

"Many of the Maui farmers have called me. I know in the Economic Development Committee I had voted in favor, however, after that I had received many calls regarding this appointment and these are farmers who have expressed their concern about the administration, and I need to let you know and to my fellow colleagues that I'm opposed to the nomination because of the farmers' concerns on Maui.

"Thank you."

Senator Chumbley rose to speak in favor of the nominee and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this nomination.

"Mr. President and colleagues, this is a changing time for agriculture, however it is also a time where we have great opportunities. The mono-crop of sugar is nearly gone from our islands. In fact, there's only two islands left with sugar, both of which I represent. The vast amount of lands that are left behind need a diversified agricultural crop. And I can attest, having been a previous board member of the Department of Agriculture, that the department is going in the right direction, Mr. President. And under the leadership of Jimmy Nakatani, we've taken some great steps forward in the recent years.

"I want to support his nomination and I urge all my colleagues to do so. We will move forward with agriculture. We will become diversified, and I think he is the right person to lead us in that direction.

"Thank you."

Senator Hanabusa requested her vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, 2 (Buen, M. Ige).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1722 (Gov. Msg. No. 147):

Senator Inouye then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of SEIJI F. NAYA, Ph.D., as Director of Business, Economic Development, and Tourism, term to expire December 2, 2002, seconded by Senator Buen.

Senator Inouye rose to speak in support of the nominee and said:

"Mr. President, I speak on behalf of the nominee, Dr. Seiji Naya.

"Dr. Naya has brought a global perspective to the department and his longstanding experience and extensive networks with the Asian Development Bank have allowed Hawaii companies to access markets throughout Asia, in part due to the high degree of respect many of American's trading partners hold for Dr. Naya. Dr. Naya has also been an active participant in reducing the State's regulatory burden for business, and has worked with a broad selection of public and private sector agencies to support and promote Hawaii's business community.

"Mr. President, I urge all of my colleagues to support Dr. Naya's nomination.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1723 (Gov. Msg. No. 149):

Senator Kawamoto then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of EDWARD V. RICHARDSON as Adjutant General, term to expire December 2, 2002, seconded by Senator Bunda.

Senator Kawamoto rose to support the nominee as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this nominee.

"Mr. President, your nominee General Edward V. Richardson has served as Adjutant General since 1991. He first showed his immense management capability when Hurricane Iniki came in 1992. By collecting all the forces, he did a tremendous job in ensuring disaster preparedness and disaster relief for the Island of Kauai and in Waianae.

"For all the things he did, your Committee has reviewed his extensive background and finds the utmost qualified person in General Richardson. Therefore, I recommend our colleagues to vote 'aye' on General Richardson."

Senator M. Ige also rose in support of the nominee and said:

"Mr. President, I, too, rise in support of General Richardson.

"Mr. President, General Richardson and the Government Operations Committee, a couple of years back, had, I guess, a misunderstanding on an appropriation involving half a million dollars. The committee questioned the department. And I just want to say for the record that the General handled himself with integrity. His word was always good. He was always open to staff inquiries into the appropriation, into the amount that was in discrepancy.

"And Mr. President, I just want to say that I've come to know him a little better during these last couple of years. And I believe that he is the kind of person that we do need in our government -- a person who is good for his word, who has integrity.

"Mr. President, I'm deeply concerned about Y2K and the State not being ready. He anticipated a lot of the concerns of the community regarding Y2K and began meeting immediately with various sectors of the community. And I think this is the kind of leadership we need. I have every confidence that we are going to be facing problems on January 1 of the new year, but I believe that the General has everything well under control.

"Thank you."

Senator Inouye added her remarks in support of the nominee as follows:

"Mr. President, I speak on behalf of the nominee.

"General Richardson has been good for Hawaii. He's the head of the civil defense operation for the State, and as former mayor of the County of Hawaii I've had extensive working relationships with the General. I urge my colleagues to support this fine gentleman."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

At this time, Senator Kawamoto introduced General Richardson who was seated in the gallery.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1724 (Gov. Msg. No. 158):

Senator Kawamoto moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1724 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Bunda and carried.

Senator Kawamoto then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of KAZU HAYASHIDA as Director of Transportation, term to expire December 2, 2002, seconded by Senator Bunda.

Senator Kawamoto rose in support of the nominee and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in favor of the nominee.

"Mr. President, this nominee has worked hard in the administration these last four years and has done a tremendous job. We have received, I think more than any other director, the most capital improvements money wise than any director since the history of the State Department of Transportation. So I'd like to congratulate him for that.

"When we all started, we agreed to get capital improvement projects out and got out in the fields so that the construction guys could go back to work and help our economy. We worked to expedite the process and got many projects out on time and on budget.

"So, Mr. President, I urge all my colleagues to vote 'aye' on this nominee.

"Thank you."

Senator Anderson then rose in support of all the nominees and stated:

"I waited till last, Mr. President, so that I can vote in favor of all the nominees that are here, and last time I did have a conflict since General Richardson is relation. At that time you said no conflict so I didn't think I'd have one this time. But I did want to say that I support all of them and wish them the best of luck. And I thank you very much, Mr. President."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

At this time, Senator Kawamoto introduced Mr. Hayashida who was seated in the gallery.

Senator Inouye then introduced Dr. Naya and Mr. Nakatani who were also seated in the gallery.

Senator Chumbley, on behalf of the Senate, extended happy birthday wishes to Senator Ihara.

Senator Buen rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

"Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

"The Honolulu Advertiser on Sunday, April 18, 1999, had an article that stated that 'Lanai Co. offers to help with repairs -- Harbor breakwater destroyed in 1992.'

"This is good news for me and all of the residents of Lanai. For a very long, long time many people have worked very hard to find funding for the repairs to Kaunapali Harbor. This harbor is vital to the residents as one of the means for commerce and economic development of this island.

"I have, on behalf of the Lanai residents, met with Mr. David Murdock, CEO of Lanai Co., to encourage him to fund the $1.5 million with a match of $1.5 million from Governor Cayetano. Governor Cayetano has agreed to fund this amount.

"My greatest concern is that in the upcoming conference meetings, the $1.5 million is maintained in the Senate budget. We must ensure that we maintain our part to make matching funds available from the State for the repairs to Kaunapali Harbor.

"I look forward to receiving the check from Mr. Murdock and passing it on to Governor Cayetano.

"Thank you."

Senator Anderson rose on a point of personal privilege and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

"Mr. President, I'm so upset that I have to keep reading in the paper what we're doing, what kinds of deals are being made, but what bothers me is that this one here says we're going to raid the $6 billion retirement fund or $9 billion retirement fund so that we can help the counties and there's a caveat. It states that we're also going to help repair schools. That's what we should have been doing for 40 years. There's supposed to be money set aside.

"I think what really is interesting though, Mr. President, is when they come out with a proposal such as this with the Governor's picture on the front of it saying how badly it's needed. He has here that he's willing to do the retroactive pay raises. Now it was my understanding in Ways and Means that we were going to take care of that. Now I think that the employees who have gone through the collective bargaining agreement have got to realize that the money that we're talking about in the retirement system is our money -- their's and our's -- that has been there. Those of us that belong to the retirement system need the money there because it will be like social security -- they keep tapping it. And if I read correctly, even the Speaker of the House says this has been the seventh time that we're using this money to bail out counties or to do other things.

"Now, if the Governor calls this civil service reform, I'm sorry. It doesn't even measure up to that.

"In the editorial, Mr. President, it says it's not a permanent cure. We've given permanent cures, not by party, not by House or Senate, but by means of looking at this as a business type of deal. The banks should have been here saying it's a good way to handle the economy if we're going to be able to make loans to people, and we're going to use state lands and we're going to give out 5-year leases, 7-year leases, whatever we might come up with, or if we're going to build cultural parks. We've come out with all kinds of solutions. We've even said the referendum for gambling would help the economy. This is not reform, hitting the retirement system for the people who have already gone through a collective bargaining deal, and we've agreed to pay them in the past. And then they put another caveat that they'll have to agree that they won't ask for another pay raise for two years.

"I think that this is an absolute shame, Mr. President, that we have lowered ourselves to again raiding the funds that we have put aside. If I remember . . . let's see if I can remember the number of people we have within the retirement system -- 90,000 active retired and county workers -- 90,000 -- and seven times we have hit the retirement system. All we're saying here, or the Governor is saying, well they made more money than they were supposed to so we're only going to take a certain percentage. Well, that's a shame, we've earned it.

"And if we can't budget accordingly . . . we're not saying . . . in the beginning we said we don't have to fire people. We have attrition for those who are going to be retiring. We have some departments that are short of people. We have some that have too many. We need a training program. We need to look at what the heck we have. That's reform. That's streamlining. That's making sure we know how we're working.

"No one upstairs is doing their job, and we're being blamed for it. And I think it's a shame that we have to tell the employees that we'll pay you with your money.

"Thank you very much, Mr. President."

At 12:06 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:09 o'clock p.m.

Senator Anderson rose again on a point of information as follows:

"Mr. President, on a point of information, I guess.

"I forgot something when I had a point for personal privilege. In this article today, it also says that the Mayor is very happy that we're willing to help the counties and he's going to need it for the pay raises that he has to pay. However, in yesterday's paper, Councilman Mufi Hanneman, who today says that he's glad that we're going to be forthcoming, said that they budgeted. In yesterday's paper we budgeted that money, 20-point-something million dollars, and the Mayor spent it like it was there on good management and he had saved the dollars. So you know, if we're going to help the counties, they have to be more responsible for what they're doing.

"Now I don't know the Mayor from Maui too well, Mayor Apana, but at least when he raised taxes it was across the board. When we do it here on Oahu, what we do is find out who lives out of state; who owns property that is out of state. They then tax those people so that they don't have to raise across the board for you and me because we vote. And they want to make sure that we vote for them, not against them. That's some of the problems that we have here on this island. We're not being fair to the residents that we are supposed to represent, and as a taxpayer not only to the state but to the county, I resent it. I think it's unfair. I think it's unfair when I live in Waimanalo and have a street -- and we've been there since 1946 -- that's still being argued as to ownership -- city or state. And two years before my dad passed away they finally put in a fire hydrant, and guess what -- the fire department says now we can save your house so your insurance drops.

"Those are the kinds of things that I think we have to look at when we're helping, is to find out what they're going to do for themselves because I think that's what we should be doing. We should be looking at what we have to do and the counties have to be responsible for their own responsibilities and not always say the State should help us that we cannot have the people vote against us. We don't have to raise property tax. We don't have to do the things that we do, other than build new parks.

"Thank you very much, Mr. President."

Senator M. Ige also rose on a point of personal privilege and stated:

"Mr. President, personal privilege, as well.

"Mr. President, I just want to thank Senator Anderson for raising the issue of the pay raises, and of course Senator Fukunaga from WAM to clarify that. It's good to know that those pay raises are included in the Senate financial plan and I think for the public, we all need to know that.

"Thank you."

No. 66, H.D. 1	Jointly to the Committee on Commerce and Consumer Protection and the Committee on Ways and Means
No. 73	Jointly to the Committee on Government Operations and Housing and the Committee on Ways and Means

Senator M. Ige rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

"Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

"Mr. President, I, like Senator Anderson, this morning got up -- I don't know how early; I know it wasn't 5:30 -- and got to the newspaper and read that, or basically found out that the Governor, who we know is campaigning for the Attorney General's reappointment, is saying that those Senators who are opposed to her reappointment are doing so because of special interests. He identifies the Bishop Estate, tobacco and gasoline companies as special interests.

"Mr. President, I find these allegations so very unfortunate. I believe that all of us here -- all of us here -- vote based on what we believe is right for Hawaii and not based on special interests. But speaking about special interest, I did find to be of interest, maybe even of special interest to me, the fact that two of the litigations -- tobacco and gasoline -- have been given by the Attorney General to one law firm. Let me tell you who the law firm is: Galiher DeRobertis Nakamura Ono Takitani. Mr. President, I hope -- I sincerely hope -- there is no personal interest in this selection because if there is, if there is, it will be of interest to all of us.

"Thank you."

Senator D. Ige, for the Committee on Education and Technology, requested a waiver pursuant to Senate Rule 20 for Gov. Msg. Nos. 182, 241 and 245, and the Chair granted the waiver.

Senator Chumbley, for the Committee on Judiciary, requested a waiver pursuant to Senate Rule 20 for Gov. Msg. Nos. 289 and 295, and the Chair granted the waiver.

At 12:11 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:12 o'clock p.m.

Senator Anderson rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

"Mr. President, the other day I said it was too bad that the Governor hasn't made a decision on where the prison should be constructed. He picked several different areas on the Big Island, but not wanting to get in the way of any of our three Senators from the Big Island, it was up in the air. I did say it was also our fault because the prison financing is not in the budget. But to find out we're now going to have a new location in Vegas, really got me a little upset. As I said the other day, the Governor with his staff, or at least the majority party with their staff, could certainly get information as to what happens if you privatize a prison.

"Well, I asked our staff if they would do some research. And it seems that the growth in the U.S. incarceration population results in an increase in the cost of incarceration. We make laws that mandate jail or mandate prison, and then we turn around and we don't ensure there are proper facilities to incarcerate offenders!

"In 1995, there was 1,365 state correctional facilities -- 289 of those were maximum security; 438 medium security; and 648 minimum security. In 1995, the census reported that there were 98 private correctional facilities under contracts to state authorities. By 1999, a study showed that there were 119 private correctional facilities in the United States. Now we have where these facts came from. It was the United States Department Bureau of Justice. There's all kinds of documentation on the growing need for prison construction.

"One of the other things that we found out is a private prison can be built in Hawaii. We've been saying that it could help if we were to build it at home here and have the private sector take over, rather than the state borrowing money. And last night I understood (when we were in Finance and I went through some of the provisos) that to pay for our GO bonds interest and principal will cost the state some $400 million. So there's nothing wrong with looking at private enterprise. For example, Texas has 43 private prisons within the state, and the State of Texas found that the private prisons have positive economic impacts, i.e., they hire local employees, purchase local goods and they contribute to the tax base. And I would think that would make my colleague here from God's country very happy because we're helping our local industry.

"I also know we can draft anything in the appropriate legislation we want so that we have some kind of impact on what happens if we want private enterprise to build that prison. The legislation can approve a low, medium, or maximum security facility, what type of construction, etc. Legislators can choose the Department of Public Safety to oversee the bid to ensure that they hire enough guards or administrators and that the facility down to the food will be adequate.

"There's all kinds of ideas and data available. And for us to sit back and allow a prison to be built in Vegas is a shame. I'm not sure if that means that every cell will have a one-arm bandit or that we're going to have the recreational facility into a casino.

"You know, we have to make some decisions that are tough, ladies and gentlemen, and we're not doing it. Neither is the Governor and he's the highest elected official in this State to make decisions. And he should not say, well, I don't want to hurt this Senator or that House member or this person, so I'll keep changing that facility location. That's not being a leader.

"So there's all kinds of data out there, there's information. The majority party can get it; the Governor can get it. And I would hope that once he makes the decision, then we will go ahead and fund this much needed facility like we're supposed to.

"Thank you very much, Mr. President."

ADJOURNMENT

At 12:19 o'clock p.m., on motion by Senator Chun, seconded by Senator Slom and carried, the Senate adjourned until 11:30 o'clock a.m., Thursday, April 22, 1999.

FIFTY-FOURTH DAY

Thursday, April 22, 1999

The Senate of the Twentieth Legislature of the State of Hawaii, Regular Session of 1999, convened at 11:39 o'clock a.m. with the President in the Chair.

The Divine Blessing was invoked by Lieutenant Richard Pease, The Salvation Army, Central Oahu Corps, after which the Roll was called showing all Senators present.

The President announced that he had read and approved the Journal of the Fifty-Third Day.

At this time, the following introductions were made to the members of the Senate:

Senator Sakamoto congratulated the Moanalua High School Girls Wrestling Team on becoming the Hawaii High School Athletic Association State Champions, as well as the Oahu Interscholastic Association, Western Division Champions for 1999 and introduced the following individuals: Coach Joel Kawachi; Jacqueline Heupel, principal; George Goto, athletic director; and co-captains Renee Nakata and Shelley-Ann Tomita.

Senator M. Ige then introduced Keolalaulani Dalire of Keolalaulani Halau 'Olapa 'O Laka and congratulated her on capturing the title of Miss Alhoa Hula at the 36th Annual Merrie Monarch Festival. Accompanying Miss Dalire was her mother, kumu hula Aloha Dalire, and her father, John Dalire.

Senators Ihara and Matsunaga congratulated the Kaimuki High School Cheerleading Squad on becoming the 1999 National Cheerleader Champions, Small Varsity Division, and the 1999 Hawaii State Cheerleader Grand Champions and introduced the following members of the squad: Christine Nguyen, Ludia Park, Noweo Akau, Jo'el Lujan, Lindy Nagata, Linda Nguyen, Joy Okada and Iwalani Yamaguchi. Accompanying the young ladies were Coach Brandy Rhinelander, and advisor, Gail Gushikuma.

Senator Kawamoto introduced Admiral Dennis C. Blair, Commander in Chief of the U.S. Pacific Command, and his wife Diane and extended a warm welcome-back and aloha to the Admiral and his family.

Senator Kawamoto then introduced General Patrick K. Gamble, Commander of the Pacific Air Forces, and extended best wishes and a warm aloha to the General, his wife Aileese, and his family.

At this time, the Chair appointed Senators Kawamoto, Anderson and Ihara to escort Admiral Blair and General Gamble to the rostrum to address the members of the Senate.

Admiral Blair addressed the members of the Senate and their guests as follows:

"Thank you very much, Senators.

"When General Gamble and I are in a group, generally we're the best looking uniforms there, but this morning we've been completely upstaged by the uniforms and the skills of the Kaimuki cheerleaders. (Laughter.) It was very nicely done, ladies, and let me know who your tailor is and we'll see what we can do. (More laughter.)

"Thank you very much for this recognition. The State of Hawaii has always meant a great deal to the Armed Forces of the United States, both the Hawaiians who have served with honor and distinction in the past -- the 442nd Regiment, of course, with its distinguished history; the workers at Pearl Harbor Shipyard who patched together two old aircraft carriers which went out to win the greatest battle in naval history. Hawaii has always made a great contribution to our armed forces, and the way I see the future, it will in upcoming years as well.

"By the same token, the armed forces have always meant a great deal to Hawaii. When we woke up this morning there were about 44,000 of us who put on the uniform and went to work here in Hawaii or on the ships that are stationed here. And by the time you add in our families, the civilian workers who work side-by-side with us, the guardsmen, the reservists, the retirees, their families, there are about 120,000 of us who live here in Hawaii who are connected with the Armed Forces of the United States. So we mean a great deal to this State as well.

"Our goal is to be good residents, good neighbors, and to work in very close cooperation with the people of Hawaii, their elected representatives and all the officials who are here in this State. I hope that when they look back on these years in the future, they will look at these years as a time in which those of us in uniform and those of you who live in this State worked together to solve the problems that face us, both for our country, for the State, and for all of our people. And it certainly is my goal, during my time here, to work with you towards that end.

"Thank you very much."

General Gamble then addressed the members of the Senate and their guests as follows:

"Mr. President, Senators and friends -- let me first say thank you for the honor that you do me, personally, and my wife Aileese, who is out of town and couldn't be here today.

"The spirit of aloha is something that we are learning, having only been here eight months, and appreciating very much because it has so much more to it than the simple word that it is. As a Commander, I know you look upon me as I stand here representing some 45,000 Air Force people in the Pacific, and believe me, we all have felt the spirit of aloha and it's made coming to the Islands one of the premier assignments in the Air Force, and I certainly am happy to be a part of that. And on behalf of all those who have been the beneficiaries of that grateful hospitality and the openness that the heart feels when welcoming a stranger into your area, let me say thank you on behalf of all those Air Force people and those that will come long into the future.

"We in the Air Force are part of a joint team here in Hawaii. I am a component commander and offer aerospace capability to my commander the CINC, and that teamwork and that jointness is very, very important and it is epitomized, I think, best of all by the fact that our headquarters here are almost co-located and so this becomes a very, very important military location for an area that covers half of the world. I'm very thankful for that because it makes my job easier and it makes our effectiveness in the Pacific much better to be co-located and have our staffs be able to work together. And we've done this for a long time here. I think the first airplane showed up here in about 1917. Luke Field out on Ford Island was where the first flight of an aircraft in the Army Air Corps occurred here in the islands, and then within two years we were carrying the mail to Hilo. And we've been here ever since and it looks like we're going to be here to stay because, unfortunately as we all know, the world is not an easy place to get along, and U.S. security interests out here will need the entire team, all the forces, and the Air Force is a part of that team.

"I think it would be safe to say at this point in time, as you look at world events, that we could not do what we're doing these days in the Air Force unless we were a total team. A total team effort means our Reserve and Guard Forces too, and your Air National Guard and the 154th here are so very important to what we do in the Pacific. I am very grateful that I have them by my side doing the job that I have to do. But I must tell you that they don't just stay here in the Pacific. Right now their aircraft are in Iceland pulling air defense alert. Their tankers have been to Bosnia and Kosovo, and their C-130's fly missions throughout the Pacific. You can be very, very proud of them as I am.

"Finally, let me say on behalf of all the Air Force people that I represent, that we in the community here admire you for what you are doing to step up to very difficult challenges and decisions of running a government that has all the problems that governments have that face you every single day, trying to make apportionment decisions, resource decisions, decisions that affect all the citizenry of the Islands, including all those Air Force people who are part of your community. We know that's tough and we know that the decisions you make are people decisions and we're part of those people. And on behalf of all those who appreciate the good work that you do, let me say thank you for that and for what you do, just as you've honored me this morning.

"Thank you very much."

At 12:13 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:23 o'clock p.m.

"Mr. McCartney is a former colleague of many of you, so you know him well. He has a Bachelor of Science degree from Pacific University. He has completed graduate studies in mediation and conflict resolution at the University of Hawaii at Manoa, skills which I think stood him in good stead when he was in this body. I look forward to working with him in these skill areas in the near future as we work on civil service reform.

"Mr. McCartney also has served for ten years in this body and he chaired the Committees on Education, Higher Education, Governmental Operations, and Labor and Human Resources. He also served as Negotiations Specialist and Field Representative for the Hawaii State Teachers Association.

"He has been honored with several awards including the Freshman Legislator of the Year awarded by the University of Hawaii Professional Assembly, the Nona Beamer Community Service Award for Exceptional Leadership awarded by the Hawaii Association for the Education of Young Children, the Lawmaker of the Year awarded by Small Business Hawaii, Good Guy Award for Open Government awarded by Common Cause Hawaii, and the Provost Award for Outstanding Public Service awarded by Windward Community College.

"He was supported in the hearing by a diverse group of individuals and groups -- the Personnel Director for the Judiciary, the Director of Human Resources for the City and County of Honolulu, Director of Personnel for Hawaii County and the other counties, Hawaii Health Systems Corporation, and several other organizations.

"We all know the kind of person that Mike is, the optimism and the commitment that he brings to the work that he does. We know his human traits, his ability to work with people. So I highly recommend this nominee for advise and consent.

"Thank you."

Senator Kawamoto also rose to speak in support of the nominee and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this nominee.

"Mr. President, former Senator Mike McCartney and I many times were on opposite sides, primarily because he was from the Windward side and I was from the Leeward side. But anyway, we had our fights, we had our arguments, we had our positions.

"One really stands out in my mind. He sat there and he said, 'You know, Kawamoto, why can't I be hard-head like you?' Why couldn't he be that way? I said, 'Well, Senator, you're the Majority Co-leader, and you're campaign coordinator for the Governor. That's the difference.' He realized that and we had a few discussions.

"All in all, he is a man of vision, a man of understanding the makings of the Senate. I personally thank him for the many lessons that he has given me.

"So, Mike, best wishes. Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Tanaka).

At this time, Senator Nakata introduced and congratulated former Senator Mike McCartney who was seated in the gallery with his family and friends.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1743 (Gov. Msg. No. 154):

Senator Nakata moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1743 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator M. Ige and carried.

Senator Nakata then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of LORRAINE H. AKIBA as Director of Labor and Industrial Relations, term to expire December 2, 2002, seconded by Senator M. Ige.

Senator Nakata rose in support of the nominee as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak also in favor of this nominee.

"Lorraine Akiba has already served in this office for four years and she has served with distinction. She holds a Bachelor degree in Political Science from the University of California at Berkeley and a J.D. degree from Hastings College of Law. Ms. Akiba has 13 years of legal experience in private practice including environmental law, real estate, products liability, and lender liability litigation. She has been honored with several awards and honors including Phi Beta Kappa membership and Outstanding Lawyer of 1990 awarded by the Hawaii Women Lawyers.

"She was also supported strongly by many administrators, office chiefs and heads of administratively attached agencies of her department, the USDA Forest Service Institute of Pacific Islands Forestry, Maui County Private Industry Council, Maui Economic Development Board, Inc., the Hawaii School-to-Work Executive Council, the YWCA of Oahu, Catholic Charities of the Diocese of Honolulu, Child and Family Service, and many other organizations and a number of individuals.

"It has been a pleasure working with Ms. Akiba. She is someone of energy and talent, a strong leader. I must say, though, that she talks awfully fast, and one of the suggestions that I would have for her is that she slow down a little bit so that the rest of us can keep up with her.

"I would urge this body to support her confirmation.

"Thank you."

Senator Kawamoto rose in opposition to the nominee and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against this nomination.

"Mr. President, a long time ago if you will remember, maybe some of you don't, but there was a guy named Lucky Luck, and he said, 'If you cannot say anything good about nobody, no say nothing.' Well, in this instance I'm just trying to make a point and maybe the message will get across.

"Four years ago when we had Ms. Akiba as a nominee, I went 'with reservations.' My primary reservation was because of the fact that we had 19 transition centers in the high schools. This was a pilot project, and in the midst of her appointment there was a discussion whether they go to the Department of Education or stay in Labor. Efforts were made and it went to the Department of Education. This is really a great program.

During this time, we had a conference with many student leaders from the State and the number one program that the students wanted at their school was transition centers. They wanted one for every school. So the pilot project worked. We finally gave it to the DOE and as everything happened as we thought, funds cut in the DOE were still available, and we had around a million dollars in the Department of Labor to run this program, yet after three years, we do not have any. Waipahu High School had the only transition center and it just died about a year-and-a-half ago.

"The concern is here because of the desire to have our workforce ready to work. Many of the employees and many of the small business folks, as you have heard Senator Slom say, indicate that the quality of the workforce that's coming out of high school is not as good as it used to be. And there are many complaints about the workforce.

"So I felt, at that time, that the transition center had done a great job, so did the students. The students that came to this statewide conference voted unanimously, all except for one person that was against it. But this was the number one -- number one -- program they wanted in their schools. Today, we do not have it. Although school-to-work was supposed to be the answer to this program, because of different emphasis, we haven't touched on the workforce of our public and private employers.

"And these past four years we had opportunities to enhance labor -- which is the name of her department, Labor Department. We haven't done that. Most recently, we asked the Department, and even if it was a consensus within the Minority Party, asked the Department to look at a definition of state resident so that we could enhance our chances for more federal jobs, because we want to define state resident. And we had a symposium and we still didn't get one. So finally we asked the Tax Department to help us with that and we finally found a definition. But we're in the midst of a big fight with the House. And we're talking about trying to get jobs for the State of Hawaii. We're trying to define what a labor task force is. We're trying to define what a state resident is. And we haven't done that. That's my concern that's out there.

"I always try to live up to Lucky Luck, but sometimes we have to speak out about our concerns so we can progress in what we're trying to do.

"Thank you very much."

Senator Chun also rose to speak against the nominee and said:

"Mr. President, I reluctantly stand in opposition to the nomination.

"I was going to originally, Mr. President, go W/R on this one, but I think after being reminded that I'm a hard head sometimes just like the Senator from Waipahu, he reminded me about some of the problems that we've been having this session.

"He reminded me of the PLA, and even though I did not support that bill brought up by the Honorable Senator from Waipahu, I took the time and talked to the people who really supported it as to why we need to have a bill like that. And they kept on coming back and telling us because of the failure of the Departments to enforce the laws. It forces now a bill in front of us to basically take care of that problem.

"I remember in the past, also, we had another bill in front of us from the physicians asking for a change in the workers compensation schedule. They put a bill in front of us to ask us to legislate that kind of change because of the failure of the Department to take into consideration their concerns and to make that change.

"I also recall another bill in front of us regarding . . . see, right now I forgot what it was. But time and time again we have bills in front of us not because the law needs to be changed but because there is a failure in the administration to do something about that. And if you recall, Mr. President, I came in and talked on another bill and said, Why do we keep on coming and having arguments amongst ourselves about bills which could easily be taken care of if the departments were doing their jobs?"

"Now, not to pick on Ms. Akiba, because I'm confident that she has the votes right now, today, to get confirmed and I'm happy for her for that, but I also believe that I need to stand up and make a statement. When we vote for these people to confirm and to advise and consent, we've got to remember not only the good things they've done, because Ms. Akiba has done some very good things -- she has a lot of energy; she's very intelligent; she has some good people working for her -- but we also must remember why our government is the way it is right now, and that is because we have not gone forward to make ourselves better and we try to legislate people to make them better. We can't do that.

"I would hope that with this comment Ms. Akiba will look through her department and try to work with the people to make sure that our laws -- the laws that we have on the books right now -- are enforced adequately so we don't have to keep on making patch-work quilts of laws to take care of situations because our workers don't work, or because our priorities don't match up with our laws.

"I am reluctant. I know I'm taking a risk over here. I know that maybe the former Senator holding this chair probably would have not said anything. But I think we probably would need to remember that the reason why we came over, the reason why the public wants our advice and consent is to look solidly at all aspects of a person's qualifications and a person's performance and to make sure we send a message that the performance has to meet the law, and we have to make sure that's done.

"Mr. President, I reluctantly have to stand up because not often do I agree with the Honorable Senator from Waipahu, but I agree with him on this one point that we need to send a message and the message is -- please, don't make us have to do laws because your department is not able to address problems of the community.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Slom also rose in opposition and said:

"Mr. President, I, too, rise in opposition to the nominee.

"I'm not concerned about the fast talking of the nominee. I'm concerned about the actions and particularly how they have impacted the 24,000 small businesses in this State. For most small businesses this Department is the single most important, single most powerful, and single biggest problem that small business owners have to deal with. It is, after all, the Department of Labor, and yet I think that the leadership has forgotten that labor includes all of us -- all of us who work, including those of us who own businesses. We labor all the time. Yet, there seems to be a different standard for those that own businesses and how they're treated, particularly, in the various divisions -- workers compensation, unemployment compensation and OSHA or HIOSH. There have been problems, and the problems have been discussed but they have not been addressed.

"Another specific problem that I've had from the very beginning has been the attitude of the Department in regards to the employee payroll and training tax. Initially, that tax was instituted for a five-year period with a specific sunset date. The leadership of the Department of Labor supported that, advocated it, then when it came time near to the five-year period, lobbied extensively to get that date removed and the plan continued. There was then a moratorium of that tax, and during that period of the moratorium the Department aggressively went out, took money that had not been used previously and gave from one group of people to another group of people encouraging them -- individuals, small businesses and organizations -- to utilize the money, in effect, telling them, 'You know, you've paid the money in, you might as well get some back.' But the problem is that most people, most businesses did not get anything back; did not want to have the money removed in the first place.

"And now the tax is reinstated on Hawaii's employers. And I asked the nominee what the position was in terms of the future, and the future is not that this program be sunsetted or this tax be relaxed, but that it be continued and probably expanded.

"So for these and other reasons, Mr. President, I will be voting 'no' on this nomination.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 20. Noes, 4 (Chun, Hanabusa, Kawamoto, Slom). Excused, 1 (Tanaka).

At this time, Senator Nakata introduced and congratulated Ms. Akiba who was seated in the gallery.

Senator Chumbley rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

"Mr. President and colleagues, on Tuesday morning the State of Hawaii awoke to the horror and the tragedy taking place at Columbine High School in Littleton, Colorado. At a time when we are so engaged in debate and deliberations on the issues facing the citizens of our State, these discussions seem so insignificant to the problems in Colorado. One can only imagine the shock and grief that the fellow students, the families and the community of Littleton are feeling today. I was encouraged this morning, Mr. President, to hear that there is an extensive effort to provide crisis counselling to the thousands of students, families and the community affected by this horrific act.

"Mr. President and colleagues, we are truly blessed that here in Hawaii our schools are considered safer than most. However, this does not mean that a similar incident could not take place here in any community in Hawaii. To my fellow policy makers, to the Department of Education, to the teachers and parents, statewide, who may be listening at this moment, I urge you to get involved in your community schools to develop programs and curriculum which teach our young children anger and conflict management. At a time when we are inundated with violence and blood throughout the millions of TV sets across our nation and as Hollywood continues to bring us more of the same on the big screens, we must -- we must -- resolve our differences with words and not with violence.

"Mr. President, in memory of the slain students and teacher at Columbine High School, I request a standing adjournment with a moment of silence for all of them.

"Thank you."

The Chair so ordered.

ORDER OF THE DAY

ADVISE AND CONSENT

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1745 (Gov. Msg. No. 151):

Senator Chun Oakland moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1745 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Iwase and carried.

Senator Chun Oakland then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of BRUCE S. ANDERSON, Ph.D., as Director of Health, term to expire December 2, 2002, seconded by Senator Iwase.

Senator Chun Oakland rose to support the nominee as follows:

"Mr. President, I would like to speak in support of Gov. Msg. No. 151.

"Dr. Bruce Anderson, I believe is an excellent candidate to serve as Director of the Department of Health. He received a Bachelor of Arts degree from Colorado College, a Master of Public Health degree from Yale University, and a Doctor of Philosophy degree in biomedical sciences from the University of Hawaii.

"For the past 11 years, Dr. Anderson has served as Deputy Director for Environmental Health in the Health Department, during which time he worked diligently to create public/private community partnerships to help the Department focus its limited resources on the most pressing environmental problems of this State. As a steward of the State's environmental health issues, Dr. Anderson has shown much creativity and determination in crafting state programs to meet the unique needs of Hawaii. Efforts such as the formation of the Environmental Management Advisory Group, an advisory committee of community stakeholders and the Ala Wai Canal Watershed Improvement Project, a federally funded effort, demonstrate some of the ways in which Dr. Anderson advanced the Department of Health's mandate of protecting public health in this State.

"Testimony in support of this nominee was submitted by the Community Health Nursing Division of the Department of Health, Commission on Water Resource Management of the Department of Land and Natural Resources, United States Environmental Protection Agency Region 9 Office, Hawaii Health Systems Corporation, Waikiki Health Center, Puna Geothermal Venture, American Academy of Pediatrics, Chamber of Commerce of Hawaii, Hawaii State Primary Care Association, Hawaii Neuropsychology Community Research Bureau, Kona-Kohala Chamber of Commerce, Hawaii Public Health Association, NAMI Oahu, Hawaii Association of Environmental and Recycling Companies, Hawaii Nurses' Association, Hawaii Agricultural Research Center, Hawaii Dietetic Association, Kauai Paramedics Association, Kaiser Permanente, Hawaii Leeward Planning Conference, Hawaii Island Geothermal Alliance, Hawaii Hotel Association, and many others . . . Hawaii Medical Association. The list is quite extensive.

"Dr. Anderson articulated to your committee that he aims to establish his department as a national trendsetter when it comes to policies, programs and services by creating new partnerships with or expanding existing ones in the community and maximizing all financial resources within the department, as well as to streamline and reassess efforts started either by himself or his predecessors.

"Although he recognizes that the fate of the department depends heavily on the state's economy, he does say he is extremely dedicated to meeting the needs of the public with the level of resources allocated. Dr. Anderson reiterated that within the constraints of budgetary appropriations, the department should do all it can to address the problem of smoking and drug abuse in the teen-age population, focus on providing early intervention services for those families at risk for incidences of child abuse and domestic violence, develop more options for long-term care, preserve our state's environmental resources, promote the fitness sports recreation, good nutrition and other healthy activities in our state and around the world, create opportunities for the development of new health technologies and processes in Hawaii, and address some of the under-served populations in our state, such as children needing mental health services and those individuals with developmental disabilities who desire to live in their home or in the community.

"I really, truly believe that Dr. Anderson will be an asset to the administration and with his dedication over these many years to public service, I strongly urge my colleagues to vote in favor of this nominee.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Noes, none. Excused, 3 (Fukunaga, D. Ige, Levin).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1746 (Gov. Msg. No. 153):

Senator Chun Oakland moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1746 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Fukunaga and carried.

Senator Chun Oakland then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of SUSAN MEYERS CHANDLER, Ph.D., as Director of Human Services, term to expire December 2, 2002, seconded by Senator Fukunaga.

Senator Chun Oakland rose in support of the nominee and said:

"Mr. President, I also speak in favor of this nominee on Gov. Msg. No. 153.

"I believe Dr. Susan Chandler is eminently qualified to lead the Department of Human Services in meeting its legal mandates as well as its stated missions in the years to come. I am confident, based on her tireless work these past four years, that we will continue to see improvements in the area of human services.

"Dr. Chandler has extensive expertise and a highly regarded reputation in her field and has demonstrated immense dedication to public service. She received a Bachelor of Science degree from Cornell University, a Master of Social Work degree from the University of Hawaii, and a Doctor of Philosophy degree in social welfare from the University of California at Berkeley.

"For the past four years, Dr. Chandler has served in arguably one of the toughest positions in this State, that of Director of Human Services. During her tenure as director she constantly looked for creative and innovative approaches that allow the Department of Human Services to accomplish its mission of protecting and helping those least able to care for themselves in a climate of declining state revenues and government right-sizing. In her efforts to develop a more efficient department that serves the public more effectively, she involved all levels of staff, private non-profit organizations, the public, and other governmental agencies.

"Testimony in support of this nominee included a number of different employees and managers of the Department of Human Services, the Office of Youth Services, Housing Community Development Corporation of Hawaii, Children's Advocacy Centers of Hawaii, Healthcare Association of Hawaii, Aloha State Association of the Deaf, State Rehabilitation Advisory Council for the Deaf and Hard-of-Hearing, Good Beginnings Alliance, Mental Health Association in Hawaii, Salvation Army Family Treatment Services, Waikiki Health Center, Hawaii Center for Independent Living, Kamaaina Kids, NAMI Oahu, Adoption Connection, Communities in Schools - Hawaii, National Association of Social Workers, Hawaii State Primary Care Association, American Academy of Pediatrics, Hawaii Medical Association, Comprehensive Evaluation of Hawaii's Healthy Start Program, American Friends Service Committee, Goodwill Industries, Family Support Services of West Hawaii, Domestic Violence Clearinghouse and Legal Hotline, Hawaii Long Term Care Association, Child and Family Service, Hawaii Nurses' Association, and many individuals.

"Dr. Chandler has been able, within the four year period, to accomplish much with the assistance of the community as well as the Legislature. I wanted to reiterate some of these accomplishments.

"The Department of Human Services implemented the electronic benefit transfer system statewide on August 1, 1998, which replaced the old food stamp distribution system. Hawaii completed this ahead of federal mandate and plans to use this system for all cash payments. Hawaii ranks second in the nation for food stamp accuracy and received a $1.8 million bonus from the federal government last year and many years prior to that, as well.

"The Department of Human Services also received approval of its welfare reform program from the federal government and put it into place via pursuit of new opportunities program in December 1996. Our data shows that more people are employed, earned income and the number of hours worked have increased substantially among people on welfare.

"The Department of Human Services has instituted two new programs to assist welfare recipients to find work. One is the Transitional Opportunity Program and the Work-Plus Program, which has assisted hundreds of welfare recipients. The Grant-Plus Program is scheduled to begin July 1, 1999 as an incentive for non-profit organizations to hire welfare recipients.

"In fiscal year 1998, this is the fourth year of MedQuest as a demonstration project. The per capita cost, per member, per month is now $148.08. The per capita cost without QUEST, if we hadn't implemented it and without the support of the administration, would have been $198, average, for a fee for service program. Thirty-six percent more coverage has been provided in the first four years of QUEST than would have been provided by the temporary assistance to needy families, the state health insurance program and general assistance program combined.

"All of the home and community base waiver programs have significantly expanded their services to serve more people. These waivers include the nursing homes without walls, the residential alternatives community care, developmentally disabled and mentally retarded home and community based services, the program for all-inclusive care and HIV/AIDS community care programs. Institutionalization as a result of her efforts and those of the community and her staff basically provided the prevention or the delay of 1,435 frail elders and disabled adults through chore services, adult day care programs, adult foster care programs, as well as the 1,607 people with the waiver program.

"The Department has also adopted seven outcome statements that are being used to assess the effectiveness of child welfare programs, and I know this particular area has been in the media and has been of great concern to all of us. The child welfare services program has continued to make significant progress in its efforts to protect children from harm and neglect. New state and federal legislation, which we have been involved in these past few years, has made child protection paramount in every decision. Various new initiatives have been implemented, statewide.

"The vocational rehabilitation and services for the Blind Division served 5,627 citizens with disabilities in this state and this is also part of the Department -- 82 percent were competitively employed at the closure of their case; 95 percent of those who were working increased their earnings at the case closure, basically allowing more people to be empowered to be able to live independently.

"Dr. Chandler articulated to your committee that she also aims to establish her department as a national leader and trendsetter when it comes to policies relating to human services. Although she recognizes that the fate of her department depends heavily on the State of Hawaii's economy, she says that she is extremely dedicated to meeting the needs of the public with the level of resources allocated.

"Specifically, in regards to the child protective services area, as chair of the Human Services both in the House as well as now in the Senate, it has been a pleasure to be working with the Department, in general, with regards to the area of child protective services. In the four years that Dr. Chandler has served, she has been personally involved in many of our child protective service roundtable discussions and has actually created opportunities that we had talked about prior to her becoming a director and making it a reality in order that we have better trained personnel within the Department of Human Services, have better opportunities to support the social workers who are doing a tremendous job in this area, also to create more funding opportunities using federal dollars that have become available to various states, including Hawaii, in the recent years. They have actually developed a risk assessment matrix which I think will be more systematic in assessing the child abuse cases that are brought to the attention of the Department. And I believe, overall, her accessibility in many of these issues has been a welcome by this chair.

"I believe that there are a number of concerns that, together, the Legislature, the Department, the Judiciary, the Department of Health, the Police Departments, and many others -- parents, the children involved, advocates, nonprofit organizations -- need to work on. I look forward to this body also providing unanimous support to this nominee.

"Thank you."

Senator Iwase rose to oppose the nomination as follows:

"Mr. President, I'm rising to speak in opposition to the nomination.

"Mr. President, I do so with great reluctance, having met Dr. Chandler. She's a very fine lady with a good heart.

"In his Federalist Papers, James Madison wrote: 'The appointment of public officials, under the doctrine of separation of powers, is an Executive function.' And because of that, I believe that a chief executive should have broad discretion when he or she appoints a public official, a cabinet member, and that nominee should be rejected only for compelling reasons. And I believe those compelling reasons exist today.

"Mr. President, the Department of Human Services is the lead agency for establishing, extending and strengthening services for the protection and care of neglected children. Under the Child Protective Act, Chapter 587, DHS is responsible for investigating reported cases of abuse and neglect, assuming temporary foster custody of children, and petitioning the Family Court for child protective cases. The Department has 230 social workers (I'm reading from the Auditor's Report), 110 social service assistants and family service assistants, with a median case load of 18 -- far less than several years ago when there was an overwhelming amount of cases for the worker -- 18.

"In January 1999, the Legislative Auditor issued her report, 99-5, on the Child Protective Services System. The audit documents the disappointing failure -- failure -- of the system's management in protecting Hawaii's children, and I'd like to read some brief excerpts from the report:

'We found that DHS has not ensured that all child abuse and neglect reports are investigated when appropriate. Supervisory review at key decision-making points has been insufficient and staff have failed to follow established procedures to assess the risk of harm when receiving and investigating reports of suspected abuse and neglect.

'We reviewed 112 cases statewide that were not referred to investigation and were unable to confirm DHS' supervisory review for 88 percent of these cases. Statewide, supervisory review was documented in only 5 percent of the investigated dispositions we reviewed. In a sample of written reports made by individuals who are legally mandated to report suspected abuse and neglect, we found that 13 percent of these reports were not identified' -- not identified -- 'on the DHS intake logs and in the Child Protective Services System. . . .

'Nearly half of the child abuse and neglect cases reported statewide during June 1998 were not registered in the CPSS. . . . In a one-month period that we reviewed, DHS failed to refer' -- failed to refer -- 'to the county police about 40 percent of the reports of child sexual assault that it received. . . .

'DHS has also been remiss in its obligation to seek Family Court jurisdiction when required.'

"Mr. President, the audit was performed from June 1998 to January 1999, and since the audit, DHS has taken steps to implement changes. And I thank Dr. Chandler for meeting with me and I am pleased that she is pursuing these much needed reforms. However, these serious, grievous, and documented deficiencies in management should have been addressed and eliminated earlier. It should not have been prompted, nor accelerated, by an audit.

"Over the past year-and-a-half, we have witnessed horrific cases of child abuse that break your heart -- Peter Boy Kema, Reubyn Buentipo, the Pada case are but a few. And while no system is perfect and no perfect system will ever prevent all cases of child abuse, it is DHS's responsibility to provide the best system possible. The Auditor's report establishes that we fell far short of that duty and obligation. And when the State fails in that duty, the children of this State -- who most need our protection -- are harmed and suffer.

"As adults, when children are involved, we must expect and we must demand more of ourselves in our performance, and this did not happen with Child Protective Services -- management failed. And for this reason, Mr. President, I will be -- for the first time in my political career -- casting a 'no' vote on a nominee to the cabinet.

"Thank you."

Senator Chun then rose in support of the nominee and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in favor of the nominee.

"Mr. President, I have some of the same concerns as the Honorable Senator from Mililani. And also, Mr. President, I've had many phone calls asking me to vote against the nominee. But Mr. President, I feel that it was my duty also, like the Senator from Mililani, to go down and look into more details, because while it is important that we get public input and public sentiment in terms of the nomination for the department head, we need to go beyond that and to find out how good of a job the person is doing as a manager. And despite what public sentiment is going to be, we owe that not only to the public, but also to the person, to go down and to find out more details and not make nominations a point of public popularity or unpopularity.

"Mr. President, I had the opportunity to sit down with Ms. Chandler and discuss some of my concerns and the concerns of the people who called me, specifically in regard to child welfare. I specifically asked her a question: What steps have been taken to assure that as a manager, the employees under her believe and will follow through on some of the important policies and procedures that are in place to protect the children? I asked her what kind of consequences she has implemented, both positive and negative, to ensure that the employees of her department and those divisions working with children know how severe and important it is to follow those procedures, and most of all, to be concerned not with procedures, but with the welfare of the children.

"I sat down and talked with her heart to heart in terms of what efforts she has taken, and what some of her frustrations have been about working within the system. And I've come away from that conversation with the feeling that she genuinely believes that she can do a good job. I've come away with a feeling that she genuinely believes and wants to help the children and she will not stand to have people and procedures stand in the way of a child's welfare. I've come away from that conversation that she will and can be a good director for the State.

"So Mr. President, based upon my conversation with her, based upon my looking at not only the Auditor's report but some of the progress that has been made since then, I believe that Ms. Chandler will go forward and follow through with some of the commitments that she has made for the benefit of the children. So I ask all my colleagues to support the nomination."

Senator Slom rose to speak against the nominee and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in opposition to the nomination.

"I, too, had an opportunity to meet with and discuss issues with Dr. Chandler and I appreciate that. But I also had an opportunity to talk to employees, confidentially, within the Department, and many of those employees give a very different perspective as to what has happened, what is happening, and what they believe will happen in the future. And many of them were extremely concerned and they are very disheartened about the things that have happened and fallen through the cracks.

"The Senator from Mililani mentioned the Auditor's report, but actually there were three Auditor's reports, starting with December 1997, the Management Audit of the Department of Human Services; in April of last year, the Audit of the Implementation of the Child Support Enforcement Agency's Information System; and then finally, the Audit of the Child Protective Services System. In each and every one of these reports there were glaring inefficiencies and management problems, and they have not been corrected.

"While it is true that steps are now being taken, the question is, How long must we wait? And how many more people are going to have to suffer? The committee report that reviewed the nomination said, quote 'there have been small signs of improvement in the Child Protective Services system (CPS) over the last two years, and notes that improvements are ongoing.' But it 'still requires serious attention.' The committee report went on to say, 'Your Committee does not believe that Dr. Chandler should be faulted for any individual tragedy.' And I would subscribe to that, Mr. President, except for the fact that we're not talking about fault as much as we are talking about accountability and responsibility.

"Throughout my lifetime in my career I've held a number of different positions -- first, as an employee. And as an employee, I had responsibilities, particularly if I had supervisory or managerial responsibilities. And if I didn't get the job done, the job that was expected of me, if there were mistakes everybody said, 'Well, he's really trying; he's got a good heart; he's a good soul; but he didn't do it -- see you.' Because the objective is to get the job done and protect the people that you're supposed to protect.

"As an employer with employees, I strive for the best and encourage my employees, but they have to take responsibility. And if the don't do the job, as painful as it is, they must be replaced in order that your objectives are fulfilled and that the trust people place in you is well placed.

"In a previous life I was a professor and a teacher, called upon to grade students of all ages and all backgrounds, and it's tough grading people. However, if you're going to be a good professor or good teacher you don't grade them on what they could do, what their potential is, what they might do, what they feel, what they say or how concerned they are. You must grade them on what they have done -- either their accomplishments or lack thereof.

"And finally, Mr. President, as a Legislator, I, among my colleagues, must look at the people and the issues, the bills that we vote for. And we must be content in our own minds that we have done the very best job not only in researching and talking to people and listening to all points of view, but taking the responsibility and accountability for ourselves, because that, after all, is the bottom line. It is our responsibility.

"In our State, next to our State motto seems to be our assistant motto: It's not my fault; it's not me; it's the Legislature; it's the system; it's the budget; it's this; it's that. Somebody has to stand up and say, 'Yeah, it is me.' In small business we have to do that all the time because it's my name up there on the marquee. I can't blame it on lack of staff or inconsideration or lack of budget or anything else. And I think that we have to hold people just as accountable, particularly when we approve them, because when we approve them, we are saying we approve what they do or what they have not done.

"Far too often we grow attachments to individuals. And the people that we are giving the taxpayers' money to, and the taxpayers' trust, we kind of forget a little about the taxpayers and about the people outside and the attachment is for the political appointee. I saw the tears, and the sensitivity and the hugging for the political appointee. But where are the tears and the hugging and the sensitivity for Reubyne and Peter Boy and Cedra and the others? We have to get our priorities straight. We have to know who we're responsible for. When we're talking about child protection, we must protect the children! And we're not doing it! It's pure and simple.

"And when the department is called the Department of Human Services, it may be good to talk about how many food stamps we've processed, how much money we've saved, how many opportunities we've created. But if it's human services, then we have to provide that, first and foremost, and not think that we can do a better job; we have to do the better job. And that is what we should grade, and that is what we should vote upon, and I call upon my colleagues to search their consciences and to reject this nomination today.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Tam rose to speak with reservations on the nominee and said:

"Mr. President, I stand before you to vote with reservations on the appointee.

"This is not an easy task to do so, but I look upon it in terms of my confirmation vote as one of looking at management capabilities. As many of you know, now that I have the responsibility as the chairman for Government Operations and Housing, I have outlined in terms of what we expect out of our managers of the administration, and it's basically to establish goals and objectives and an action plan. For you see, out there in the real world, if one does not have that, one is not a manager.

"But I also realize that the nominee, Susan Chandler, is a very nice person and also I'm impressed with her academic background. And she has done some things which I appreciate, very much so, and she's taken care of our social problems. But what comes to my mind now is basically the frustrations of the public. One in particular that comes to mind at this time is that she refuses to monitor the group living facilities throughout the whole State of Hawaii. I have group living facilities within my community. I'm concerned about the safety and health of these people or residents, who essentially are adults. When I found out that Dr. Chandler refused to monitor these facilities for the sake of the residents living there and the rest of the community, I was quite concerned.

"I remember when I was in the House of Representatives in the days when the issue was child abuse. And what did we have to do in the Legislature? We reacted. We created laws. But the question is, Why do we have to do that? Why doesn't the administration, whatever administration it is, take hold of preventive measurements? Do we always have to be reactionary? It seems like that's what we doing constantly, year after year.

"A good manager takes care of the day-to-day operations and alleviates the burden out there in society. So I'm very concerned in this case of our group-living facilities.

"I wish to have much clearer directions for the Department of Human Services, but I'm willing to work with the Director in resolving these issues this year. We have before us some legislation and I hope that she will change her mind and agree to work together, rather than objecting to the legislation before us.

"Again, it's quite frustrating when administrators refuse to address the problem before the problem occurs. We are all prone to reactions and I don't want to be emotional about this reaction whereby out there in the community, after incidents occur then we have to react. We should be preventive. Preventive in nature is good for all society.

"Thank you."

Senator Hanabusa requested her vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Levin rose to support the nominee as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of the nominee.

"Mr. President, it's been noted by my worthy colleague that these child abuse cases, which seem to be the focus of much of this discussion, break hearts. There's no doubt about it, they break all our hearts. And there is also no doubt that they break the heart of Dr. Chandler every time a case like this comes up.

"A vote against Dr. Chandler would be a vote that denies the State the services of a dedicated, effective public servant. And for that reason, I think such a vote would be a mistake. I urge all my colleagues to vote 'aye.'"

Senator Anderson rose to oppose the nomination and said:

"Mr. President, I'll be speaking against the nominee.

"I agree she's a very nice person. However, I listened to my colleague that read the reports from the Auditor. When the Majority Floor Leader says that we are not supposed to listen to all of the people, I don't think that's quite true. This is one of the few times that my fax machines have gone crazy, telling me why people are opposed to having the person nominated or renominated. The people have all kinds of concerns.

"I personally, from one of my constituents, had a letter on fraud -- absolutely bona fide, documented -- and the only thing that the Department of Human Services told me at first was the caseload person who handled it said there was no problem; then he or she said they were short of staff. It took over a year to take care and remedy that problem. That's not fair to what we're trying to do here.

"I have no animosity against the person and I didn't even plan on speaking. But it bothers me when people have reservations or say, 'I talked to them and they're going to be good administrators from here on in.' I'm not sure what happens when you have an administrator who says, can you handle this. I don't really know if there's follow-up. I don't know if they really do ask people to handle a lot of these things that go on in the different departments. We're not privileged with this kind of information. The Auditor says that it doesn't happen; I rely on the Auditor's in depth analysis.

"And for these reasons and on behalf of all of the different people that have told me, mostly from the neighboring islands, their concerns on what is not happening, I will be voting 'no,' Mr. President.

"Thank you very much."

Senator Nakata rose to support the nominee as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this nominee.

"The task that she has been performing and is performing and I hope will continue to perform is a very difficult one. It involves working with some of the most delicate human relations problems that we encounter. I have no reason to doubt her heart and her caring for those who are in her charge. And in working with fragile human beings, judgment calls have to be made by her and by her staff.

"From what I know of her, I have no doubt that she wishes the best for all who are in her charge. Certainly, mistakes get made, but I think with this person, we need to give her the benefit of the doubt. I shouldn't even be saying that. I fully support this nominee. There have been times when we have differed. She did, I think, a good job on welfare reform. I didn't agree with everything that came out.

"I'm personally acquainted with a family situation where I did not agree with her actions, but I still fully support this nominee.

"Thank you."

Senator Inouye then added her remarks in support as follows:

"Mr. President, I'll be speaking in support of the nominee.

"As reflected by the words of my colleague, the Senator of Puna and South Kona, I would like the Journal to reflect those comments as if they were my own, please, Mr. President."

Senator Matsuura then rose with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, I rise with reservations.

"I commend her on what she has done on the welfare service over the past years, but I plead with her to use the same vigor that she has done with the welfare system to pursue helping the Child Protective Service.

"I will be voting with reservations. Thank you."

Senator Kawamoto also rose to speak with reservations on the nominee and said:

"Mr. President, I rise with reservations.

"Mr. President, five years ago when we went into MedQuest, the concept was low cost, more coverage. Ever since we had MedQuest, every year we have an emergency between $31 million to $42 million this year. And every year, I think we have increased or not touched the Human Services budget and I don't know how our co-chairs of Ways and Means can manage the budget with continuous requests for emergency funds. In this case, I hope this reservation would have her look at the budget and ensure that we've seen the last of emergency funds for this department.

"Thank you."

Senator Bunda requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 19. Noes, 6 (Anderson, Buen, M. Ige, Iwase, Slom, Tanaka). Excused, none.

At this time, Senator Chun Oakland introduced Dr. Anderson and Dr. Chandler who were seated in the gallery with their supporters.

Senator Levin rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

"May I be permitted to rise on a point of personal privilege?"

"I wanted to state publicly my regret that I was unable to be here to vote 'aye' on Dr. Bruce Anderson's nomination as Director of Health. I very much enjoyed working with him in my years as chair of the Health Committee in the Senate when he was a deputy director, and I have since enjoyed working with him in his capacity as Director of Health since his appointment.

"I think he's doing a fine job, and I certainly would have supported his nomination had I been on the floor. Thank you."

Senator M. Ige rose on a point of information as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise on a point of information. I guess it's a point of information for the co-chair of Ways and Means.

Senator Hanabusa rose in support of the nominee and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of Mr. Soon's appointment.

"Mr. President and colleagues, I believe we are very fortunate to have someone of Mr. Soon's caliber, character and experience to stand before us as the Chairman for the Hawaii Homes Commission. Mr. Soon has had a myriad of experience with the Commission itself. From 1991 to the current time, he has served in the Commission. He is what we all want to see -- someone who actually knows how the institution, how the department operates, and basically works his way, not necessarily from the bottom, but through all of its different aspects so he can lead it as a leader that it does need.

"From 1991 to 1993, Mr. Soon served as the administrator of the Land Development Division. From 1993 to 1995, he served as the administrator for the Land Management Division. From 1996 to current, he has been the administrator for the Temporary Development Assistance Group.

"Mr. Soon is a local boy, being a 1967 graduate of Kalani High School. He received his Bachelor's of Fine Arts at the University of Hawaii, Manoa and in 1976 he received his Masters in City Planning at Harvard University. Mr. Soon served in both the public and private sectors prior to coming here, and now he is willing to take on the responsibility of the Department of Hawaiian Home Lands.

"As a personal note, one of the things that confirmed my support of Mr. Soon is when we heard the controversial elected Hawaiian Homes Commission bill. There was, of course, the institutional position on the topic, but Mr. Soon came before the committee, in a personal capacity, saying that, 'it was time.' He shed his cloak, or whatever you want to call it, as the acting administrator and took on the role as a Hawaiian and spoke for what he believed to be the betterment of the beneficial group. I think that takes a lot of courage, and as I stated earlier, I have gained a lot of respect for this gentleman.

"I ask that you vote in concurrence of his confirmation.

"Thank you very much."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Noes, none. Excused, 3 (Bunda, Fukunaga, Levin).

Senator Hanabusa then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of TIMOTHY E. JOHNS as Chairperson, Board of Land and Natural Resources, term to expire December 31, 2002, seconded by Senator Tanaka.

Senator Hanabusa rose to speak in support of the nominee and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of Mr. Johns.

"Mr. President and members, Mr. Johns comes with such a diverse background. I first met him when he was the General Counsel for AmFac/JMB. At that time I was not aware that Mr. Johns had actually developed a reputation as an environmentalist, as the Director of Protection for the Nature Conservancy of Hawaii. Mr. Johns was a practicing attorney and had received his law degree from the University of Southern California.

"As we all know, Mr. Johns also served on the Water Commission. He's very familiar with water related issues. Think about what a unique bundle of talent plus experience that he brings -- an environmentalist, a real estate developer with AmFac/JMB, and water, as some people believe to be probably the most precious of our resources. And in Mr. Johns we have someone who understands all of this.

"What I'd like to share with you is a statement that Mr. Johns submitted to the Committee on Water, Land, and Hawaiian Affairs. When asked about what he wants to see for the Department, his responded as follows:

'I hope to inject a new entrepreneurial spirit into the Department's inner workings, empowering the staff and community while at the same time making them more accountable to the clients we serve and the natural resources we protect. I am confident that with the proper support and with a fresh analysis of our functions, we can reinvent the way we operate and learn together how to do it better.'

"As a personal note, in watching the confirmation, Mr. Johns and his staff people who we have, of course, taken testimony from throughout this session, and we are at a point where you can tell when someone is testifying sincerely or just testifying. And I can honestly say that from watching them, they were all in very sincere support of Mr. Johns as their leader. And on a similar note, we had asked, as the Committee, for an audit. Mr. Johns with great concern asked that when we do this audit, it not be a witch hunt of his staff personnel because his staff personnel were doing an excellent job.

"And you know, it is that combination -- both the support of his rank and file and a leader such as him -- which I believe will take this Department to achieve those goals that Mr. Johns has set forth. So my colleagues, I ask that you join me in confirming Mr. Timothy Johns.

"Thank you very much."

Senator Inouye also rose in support of the nominee and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of the nominee.

"Your Committee on Economic Development also had the opportunity to work with Tim Johns on bills that dealt with commercial fisheries and aquaculture, aquatic resources, ocean based recreation, forest recreation, recreational fisheries, park development and operation, and parks administration. He was always helpful and available in providing valuable information and was willing and able to work with the committee on issues that arose during our hearings.

"I am very impressed that he has demonstrated a willingness to work with various constituencies to ensure their concerns are addressed by the department's policies. And my staff and I also think he has a cute smile. (Laughter.) I can think of no one better suited to lead the Department of Land and Natural Resources and I urge all of my colleagues to vote on his nomination.

"Thank you."

Senator Kawamoto rose to speak in favor of the nominee and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in favor of this nominee.

"Mr. President, I worked with this nominee as AmFac/JMB's counsel. He, working with me for the community of Waipahu, was involved with the Waipahu Business Association, Waipahu 2000, Hans L'Orange Park. We may not have agreed all the time, but the bottom line was his interest of the Waipahu community and the goodness AmFac/JMB can provide. So I'd like to speak on behalf of Tim Johns and urge all my colleagues to vote 'aye' on this nominee.

"Thank you."

Senator Chun also rose to support the nominee and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in favor of the nominee.

"Mr. President, I rise in favor of the nominee not because he has a cute smile, but because unlike some of my other colleagues I have had an opportunity to work with Mr. Johns in an adversarial nature. Oftentimes when Mr. Johns was working for AmFac, his position or his company's position, did not always jive with the position of the County of Kauai who I represented. But through those times, Mr. President, I have always respected him because we were able to talk about our differences, and we were able to go beyond that in a method of cooperation and mutual trust. And I think that's what he brings to the Department. I look forward to working with him because even though we might not agree on everything, we know that through Mr. Johns, and the department, we can work with him through our differences because there is a willingness to do that. There is a sense of cooperation and there is a sense of trust which he has clearly shown even though he has just been recently appointed to the Department. The Department has seen that in him a new energy, a new sense of going forward. And I look forward to working with him in our Committee on Water, Land, and Hawaiian Affairs.

"So for those reasons, Mr. President, I ask all my colleagues to support the nomination of Tim Johns."

Senator Matsuura requested a conflict ruling as follows:

"Mr. President, I would like to request a conflict ruling from the Chair. I am an employee and corporate officer of a company that has a contractual relationship with the Department of Land and Natural Resources."

The Chair ruled that Senator Matsuura was not in conflict.

Senator Matsuura then continued:

"Thank you very much. I also would like the Journal to reflect my strong support of Tim Johns for the new directorship of the DLNR."

Senator Buen then rose to support the nominee and said:

"Mr. President, I, too, wish to support Tim Johns in his nomination. Mr. Johns provides a fairness. He provides a balance and is able to handle tough issues.

"I asked Mr. Johns to fly over to Maui on a weekend to listen to the fishermen on Maui when they expressed their concerns over waters of Kahoolawe, and they were very concerned because the waters were closed off to them. Mr. Johns moved his schedule around and flew over to Maui to listen to these fishermen. And I think by listening to them he was aware of all the concerns that these fishermen had. He took the time out, moving his schedule around, and I know his boys were having a soccer game and he asked his wife to handle that arrangement in providing the transportation for them. Being the kind of person he is and by taking the time out and flying over and just by doing that, Mr. President, I feel that this person will do a good job and will be open to any kind of tough issues.

"Thank you, Mr. President. I will vote in favor and I ask my colleagues to do the same."

Senator Anderson rose in support and said:

"I might as well make it unanimous for the committee. I'm in favor but I had some notes and I think the chairman of Water, Land, and Hawaiian Affairs found them, so could her remarks be put in the Journal as though they were my own. Thank you very much. I'm in favor."

The Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Bunda).

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1789 (Gov. Msg. No. 143):

Senator Tam moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1789 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Matsuura and carried.

Senator Tam then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of RAYMOND H. SATO as Comptroller, term to expire December 2, 2002, seconded by Senator Matsuura.

Senator Tam rose in support of the nominee and said:

"Mr. President, fellow colleagues, I rise to speak in favor of Raymond H. Sato.

"As the chairman of the Senate Committee on Government Operations and Housing, our committee has reviewed the qualifications of Raymond Sato, his education, experience, and his commitment to public service and the people of Hawaii. We fully support the nomination of Mr. Raymond Sato as Comptroller of the Department of Accounting and General Services.

"Most important, as Senator of the Thirteenth District, Ray Sato represents the excellence of McKinley High School and the Thirteenth Senatorial District.

"Mr. Sato has the following qualifications:

- (1) He is detailed and technically oriented by education and profession with a Bachelor's of Science and Master's of Science in Civil Engineering degrees;
- (2) He is dedicated to public service, starting his career with the State of California, Department of Transportation, then coming home to serve his true love -- the 'people of Hawaii' and the County of Kauai, Department of Water;
- (3) He was groomed for his calling as comptroller in management as Chief of Operations, Deputy Manager, Manager and Chief Engineer with the Board of Water on Kauai. Eager for greater challenges and the politics of Honolulu, he then became Deputy Manager and Chief Engineer of the Board of Water Supply for the City and County of Honolulu, then its Manager;
- (4) He is ready and able and still a youngster to take on the responsibilities of leading the many functions of the Department of Accounting and General Services in providing quality government services;
- (5) He is personable and caring in his management style, guiding and supporting staff to utilize their skills. This is evident by the numerous testimonies received before our committee. Ray's integrity, professionalism, ethical responsibility and commitment makes him a highly valued steward of Hawaii's public resources.
- (6) He is a leader whose mission is to deliver improved quality government services, greater customer satisfaction within government and public sectors. Ray Sato's goals and objectives will bring a responsible focus to the Department of Accounting and General Services.

"Let's get on with the show and confirm Ray Sato.

"Thank you."

Senator Chun also rose to support the nominee and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in favor of the nominee.

"Mr. Sato is well known in the County of Kauai and also in the City and County of Honolulu as their Board of Water Supply director. I believe that Mr. Sato brings a unique perspective to state government and that is the understanding of the problems and concerns of local government and how the state can work cooperatively with both the state and the counties. I feel that with this knowledge and with his working experience we can go forward to work together to make a better future for all of us.

"So I strongly support the nomination of Mr. Sato and urge all my colleagues to do so also."

Senator Kawamoto rose to speak in support of the nominee and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of the nominee.

"Mr. President, as we ventured out to look at military construction and our desire to retain profit and wages in Hawaii, addressing the 15 percent preference, PLAs, and how we can work some of the bills that we have before this body, Mr. Sato got himself involved with us during the symposium and helped us put together some bills that we put forth to the Legislature to consider.

"So therefore, I'd like to thank Ray Sato for his efforts and urge my colleagues to vote 'aye' on this nominee.

"Thank you."

House Bill No. 1703 as Act 54, entitled: "RELATING TO WAIMANALO."

Gov. Msg. No. 352, dated April 27, 1999, transmitting his statement of objections to House Bill No. 1431 which he has returned to the House of Representatives without his approval and which reads as follows:

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

April 27, 1999

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 1431

Honorable Members
Twentieth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1431, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Public Financial Disclosure Statements.'

The purpose of House Bill No. 1431 is to require public financial disclosures, without dollar amounts, from members of the University of Hawaii Board of Regents, the Board of Land and Natural Resources, the Board of Agriculture, and the Hawaiian Homes Commission.

The University's Board of Regents has adopted a rather stringent conflict of interest policy that requires the regents to declare any possible conflict and to recuse themselves from matters that might have even an appearance of conflict. Since the Legislature has given the University autonomy over its own affairs, I believe that the regents should be allowed to administer their own conflict of interest policy without further legislatively imposed requirements.

Moreover, service on all of these boards is voluntary and uncompensated. Public disclosure of private financial interests of the uncompensated members appears to be unnecessarily burdensome, especially when there has been no problem with the existing requirements, and may have a chilling effect on my ability to convince the most appropriate and qualified individuals to serve on these boards.

On the other hand, if public financial disclosures are considered to be necessary notwithstanding the seemingly unnecessary burden and the probable chilling effect, there appears to be no rational basis for requiring the members of only these four boards out of the 160 state boards and commissions to file public financial disclosures. The members of other executive and regulatory boards and commissions should likewise be required to file public financial disclosures.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 1431 without my approval.

Respectfully,

/s/ Benjamin J. Cayetano
BENJAMIN J. CAYETANO
Governor of Hawaii"

Senator Kawamoto rose in support of the nominee and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise in favor of this nominee.

"Mr. President, as you know, we worked very hard in trying to get a 'state resident' definition. You know, we did not have a definition for the work force. We had a seminar. Mr. Kamikawa came to the seminar and provided information and came to the second meeting and provided information on a good logical definition of a 'state resident.' We have before this legislative session a possibility where we can define 'state resident' so that the federal government can address Public Law 8078. In which they said that if Hawaii's unemployment is higher than the national average, Hawaii's state residents would have preference in federal contracts. Mr. Kamikawa provided us with a workable definition and that's what we're using.

"His efforts in helping the economy in this area is tremendously appreciated. Therefore, I urge all my colleagues to support the nominee, Ray Kamikawa."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

At this time, Senator Kawamoto introduced Ray Kamikawa who was seated in the gallery.

MATTERS DEFERRED FROM EARLIER ON THE CALENDAR

"A brief recess, Mr. President."

The Chair ordered the Clerk to continue.

Senator Chumbley interjected:

"Mr. President, a brief recess, please."

At 11:59 o'clock a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 12:00 o'clock noon.

Senator Chumbley moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1805 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Matsunaga and carried.

Senator Chumbley then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of MARGERIE S. BRONSTER as Attorney General, term to expire December 2, 2002, seconded by Senator Matsunaga.

Senator Matsunaga rose to support the nominee as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of the confirmation of Margery Bronster to the office of Attorney General.

"Mr. President, each of the members of the Senate, today, must be asking themselves two questions: (1) What do we think of Margery Bronster for State Attorney General? and (2) Will she be good for the people of the State as Attorney General? To state the obvious, we have three choices today -- we may vote 'aye'; we may vote 'aye, with reservations'; and we may vote 'no.'

"Mr. President, Ms. Bronster has been a solid and often stellar Attorney General. According to testimony, letters, phone calls, faxes, e-mails, she is an intelligent, caring, tough and courageous lawyer who supports law enforcement, protects the State's interests, and is fearless when it comes to advocating on behalf of the people of Hawaii. Mr. President, I am wholeheartedly in support of the nomination without any reservations, whatsoever.

"However, Ms. Bronster is not perfect. Even those of us who are her friends know that she can be overbearing at times. That being said, you cannot expect a department head with limited resources to be perfect. No department head has ever been able to address all the areas of concern under their jurisdiction. Even this Legislature, with all its power, cannot satisfy everyone's needs. If solving every problem and meeting every need was a standard for confirmation, then no department head would ever be confirmed.

"In assessing this nominee, Mr. President, we must look at Ms. Bronster's entire record, including her impressive list of accomplishments during her relatively short tenure as Attorney General. We can't simply judge her solely on a few shortcomings, however valid, without at least giving her a fair chance, along with the adequate resources, to address them. Recall that even though all the nominees for department posts this session had shortcomings, they were all confirmed. When we voted on those nominees, we looked at their overall performance, questioned them regarding their apparent shortcomings, and we voted to confirm. All of them will be given an opportunity to work to address those concerns. Mr. President, shouldn't we afford Ms. Bronster the same consideration?

"Many members have expressed reservations about Ms. Bronster -- reservations regarding her management style; reservations regarding the allocation of resources; reservations regarding statements attributed to her, regarding the timeliness of her response to our colleagues' inquiries. And many of these concerns may be valid, Mr. President. However, we cannot hold Ms. Bronster wholly accountable for matters for which she is only partially responsible. We cannot hold her responsible for resolving the entire Felix matter, especially after the Superintendent of Education, Paul LeMahieu has stated that she has provided appropriate services to the DOE on that matter. In Monday's Advertiser, Mr. LeMahieu stated, 'I don't know what else or more an attorney general should do.'

"Mr. President, everyone has faults -- Achilles was vulnerable at the heel; Shaquille O'Neal cannot shoot free throws -- but we have not been striking the Governor's nominations because they have had a few faults, and we should not start now.

"If members have reservations about the nominee, then they should vote 'aye, with reservations.'

"Our role, Mr. President, is not to say whether Ms. Bronster would be the best choice for Attorney General, or even whether she is the superior choice for Attorney General. We are here to review what is and has always been the Governor's prerogative. That is his choice for Attorney General. We are not a rubber stamp, but we are also not a selection committee. Mr. President, just because the Governor's choice would not be your first choice for Attorney General is not a sufficient reason to vote 'no.' If you have reservations, you should vote 'aye with reservations.'

"If members recognize that Ms. Bronster has both good qualities as well as shortcomings, then they must understand that a 'no' vote will deprive this State of all the positive qualities that she has to offer, and let's consider her accomplishments over the past four years. She has brought to our State over $1 billion from the tobacco litigation, raising our initial allotment from $800 million to a whopping $1.3 billion. That would even make Senator Inouye proud. She has taken on the big oil companies, a move which was followed very shortly by a steep drop in local gas prices. She has gotten our beleaguered prisons out from under the prison consent decree. She has brought to a close the seemingly never ending stadium litigation, bringing the State an additional $10 million above and beyond original estimates. She has been a leader of law enforcement and a strong advocate in the fight against domestic violence. And finally, she has conducted investigations into matters that no other Attorney General has ever dared look into. This is what she brings to the job. And this is the kind of person that the people of this State will lose if we vote 'no' on this confirmation.

"In addition, Mr. President, we must consider that if we vote not to confirm, future attorneys general will know that if they go after the politically powerful they will pay with their jobs.

"Ms. Bronster has all that too rare quality called integrity. Unfortunately, Mr. President, while integrity inspires accolades from some, it often garners animosity from others. Integrity can make enemies. In Ms. Bronster's case, it has made her some very, very powerful enemies.

"With this in mind, we must understand one thing -- that the public, as well as future appointees, will watch this vote to see whether a person can investigate the politically powerful and still keep their job. It is my hope, Mr. President, that we have the right answer to this question here today.

"Mr. President, no Attorney General has ever dared to ignore the status quo and tackle the issues that Ms. Bronster has, and chances are, the Governor will not be able to find another one who will. Mr. President, the people of Hawaii stand to lose much if we vote 'no' on this confirmation. And I would not be surprised if many voters decided not to forgive us for doing so.

"Mr. President, I urge my colleagues to vote 'yes.' Thank you."

Senator Slom rose in support of the nominee with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, perception is extremely powerful and the perception today is that we're going to do something historic. I stand and vote for the confirmation with reservations.

"I have said from the outset and from the time that I first ran for office, I would always try to fairly and equitably listen to all of the evidence, listen to all of the people, and make up my mind accordingly, and that's what I've tried to do. Over the last week-and-a-half we have logged in our office and at my home and at my business office more than 327 personal phone calls, 117 e-mails, 112 faxes, 17 letters. Among those were very thoughtful people. Among those were threats, intimidation, warnings which I do not appreciate for my wife and children and my staff members. But I'm not swayed by threats or innuendo or ultimatums. In the end, as I said, I listened to everyone. I attended all the hearings. I read all the testimony. And it was life long personal friends of many different persuasions that came to me and their perception is that this nomination is extremely important and that this must be done today. And the perception is that if we don't do this that it damages further the reputation of this Senate.

"Mr. President, I've only been in this Senate for three years. I don't know whether I'll be back in this Senate, but I have a great deal of regard for the Senate as an institution and for my colleagues. And I know that it's extremely difficult to take very difficult positions. And whenever you do, you anger a number of people, and yet that's what you have to do.

"But I will tell you this, Mr. President, in the three years that I've been here, I have never had the kind of personal response on any issue that I've had on this issue. I've never had the depth of commitment and passion and explanation that I've had in the last week-and-a-half.

"Do I have problems with the Attorney General? You bet, I do. That's why I was one of the first people to come out and say that I had those problems, and my inclination was to vote 'no.' Those problems have not gone away. They involve: poor administration within the department; the cost of that department; the tremendous increase and the number full-time deputy attorneys general in that department and yet still going outside for additional attorneys; the problems that individuals, agencies and departments have had in trying to get legal assistance especially as related to Felix-Cayetano issues; the problems that individual voters have had after the election when the Attorney General's deputy ruled that even though individual citizens have a right to examine ballots that the fact that the Elections Officer did not make administrative rules, even though he has been in that process for 18 years, supersedes the right of individuals -- that bothers me a great deal; the fact that the Attorney General's staff came and begged for and argued for an extension of immunity in this so-called Y2K problem, the original bills that they argued for that I voted against sought eleven-and-a-half years of immunity that no matter what this State would do that they should be immune -- that bothers me; the fact that some people have a very difficult time in getting decisions rendered -- that bothers me; the Attorney General's position in the original Shell-Texaco case which was very negative and had a tremendous impact on many small service station business owners -- that troubled me.

"But you know, Mr. President, in the three years that I've been here, I've taken a lot of unpopular positions. I've tried to argue forcefully for tax and spending reductions, reduction in government, and tried to do the right thing. And I get a little frustrated and discouraged when we're voting on a major tax bill and the vote comes out 20 to 5 for more taxes, more government, more debt, and I only get five or six phone calls from outside. I get very concerned when the other day we approved the head of the Department of Human Services for another four years, when this one department and this one individual had one responsibility -- to take care of our children. After all, that's what we say every single day here, it's our keiki. We're certainly not here for ourselves, is it? It's for our keiki. And yet there were so many mistakes made that led to deaths and nobody wanted to take responsibility, no one wanted to blame anybody or be accountable and the vote on that issue was 19 to 6.

"So, my problems with the Attorney General, from the beginning, have been management, style, money, micro-managing. And to me, they pale towards the problems in these other areas that I've outlined and other areas too, where nobody seems to think it's that important.

"I promised my constituents that I would listen to them, and I listened through the threats and harangues and everything else. And I told them I would do the right thing as I see it. And so today, I'm going to cast my vote, as I say, with reservations, in hopes that these problems are controlled. And to those of the public that called me and said that I had become a member of the 'old boy' network, I'm still too young for that. (Laughter.) For those of you that said I was in the pocket of the Bishop Estate, their pocket isn't big enough to hold me, and I remind you that they voted for and supported my opponent three years ago and I'm a commercial lessee and I write out a big check to them every month. I have no special interest, direct or indirect.

"And if the perception is that we continue with this Attorney General in order to make change in this State, that's what I campaigned on and that's what I believe. And I will challenge the people that are in this gallery -- many of whom have never been down here before, many of whom have never picked up a telephone before -- then walk the walk as well as talk the talk. And if you want change, then make sure that you see it through. And don't do it for one person or one personality. Make sure that we have the changes that are necessary in this community, in this State, and not for me and not for my colleagues, but for our children, if you really believe that.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Inouye rose in support of the nominee as follows:

"Mr. President and fellow colleagues, for many weeks there has been much discussion and extensive media coverage concerning the nomination of Ms. Bronster for another four years as our State Attorney General. In spite of all this close scrutiny, Ms. Bronster, in her own words, has told the people of Hawaii that she is, quote, 'committed to do my very best every moment that I have left,' unquote. I truly believe that this is the kind of commitment to the job that she has shown for the past four years. She has faced daunting challenges and handled them with a dedication above and beyond the call of duty without regard to personal gain.

"This nomination should not be one of politics. This should be a nomination with concern for the greater public good. In my view, Ms. Bronster has shown that she has tackled issues large and small with the public's best interest at heart. She's been criticized for not providing sufficient AG resources to such issues as the Felix consent decree. I believe she has managed her resources as best she could for what she had.

"Before voting on whether or not to confirm her, I suggest that we all do some self reflection. Have we as Legislators given her the resources needed to do the work she has been expected to do?

"I believe there is no finer public servant than Margery Bronster. She gave up a lucrative private sector career to serve the people of Hawaii, and I believe she has done so with the utmost of professionalism and dedication.

"Mr. President, for the reasons I've stated, I urge my colleagues to vote 'yes' in confirming Ms. Bronster for another four years as our State Attorney General.

"Mahalo."

Senator Iwase also rose in support of Ms. Bronster and said:

"Mr. President, I'm rising to speak in support of the nomination.

"Mr. President, each session there are about one or two issues which define us in the public's eye. And over the past few years we have failed the public. On these defining issues, we have not fulfilled their expectations that we be responsive to their concerns. In 1999, the confirmation of Margery Bronster will define this Senate.

"Like the Senator from Hawaii Kai, I have received over 500 communications -- more than I've received on any other issue. The public's expectation, at least based on what I've received, is to support the confirmation. Some of the communications were from my constituents, many were not -- 484 in support of the nomination and 12 in opposition.

"Mr. President, this past Monday, I voted 'no' on the confirmation of a cabinet nominee. And at that time, I stated that broad discretion must be granted to the Chief Executive in appointing his cabinet and that we should reject the nominee only if there are documented facts establishing substantial and compelling reasons to vote 'no' against the nominee.

"At the 1950 Constitutional Convention, Delegate Crosley stated, 'There is validity in the principle that we should shape up responsibility to where it belongs. The Chief Executive is responsible for the administration of government. He is responsible for appointing these department heads.' This sentiment was echoed at the 1968 Constitutional Convention where there was discussion on eliminating the requirement of Senate confirmation for the removal of department heads with the exception of the Attorney General and the Board of Regents. Moreover, in words that should be remembered here today, the committee report in support of eliminating the requirement stated, 'The confirmation requirement often invites political maneuvering outside the public arena. This makes recruiting of good executive talent more difficult.' At that Constitutional Convention was a delegate named Nelson Doi, then a 13-year member of the State Senate, and he made a speech in support of the proposal. And again with words we should heed today, because I think we ought to really seriously consider what he said, let me read to you, with your indulgence, what Delegate Doi said:

"The thing that bothers me the most, it happens quite often when we have important nominations come down from the Governor's office to the Senate, especially people in the cabinet, it happens that the confirmation is postponed and postponed right up to the end of the session, if possible. Why is this done? So that when it gets to the very close, the very end of session, you find many bills just before the point of passage. All the business of the Senate is then waiting to be acted on, and this is the time when you must get your vote to pass a particular measure or confirm a particular nominee. And what happens here? You exchange the vote for a nominee, for a bill. You exchange the vote for a special legislation for a vote on the nominee. And this is what happens.

"Mr. Chairman, I am compelled here to tell the story and this, I believe, is the truth. This happens almost every time we have a big nominee coming down from the Governor's office. And if this be true, then we are abusing the power of confirmation."

"Mr. President, we must never abuse this very important power of confirmation. These are department heads who run departments that serve the people of this State. We must respect the principles of separation of power and give leeway to the chief executive to select and be responsible for the cabinet choices. We must recognize, recognize that no nominee is free of blemish or fault. I believe that where substantial and compelling reasons exist, we are duty bound to reject the nominee. However, where such a record does not exist, we have the obligation to confirm.

"Mr. President, for the past few years, on the defining issues before this body, we have sorely and we have sadly disappointed the public. The public wants us to do right. They are waiting for us to do right.

"Mr. President, the Attorney General's office is where I started as an attorney. It is my home. I still consider it my home. There are good people there. It is an office that is to be respected. It's not an office that is to be abused. It is not an office to play politics with. We must do the right thing. Mr. President, we must not abuse the power of confirmation. We must support this nomination, and I will do so today.

"Thank you very much."

Senator Levin then rose to support the nominee and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of the nominee without reservation.

"Mr. President, I don't have the eloquence of some of my colleagues, but I am proud to stand with the speakers from Hamakua, Mililani, and especially the speaker from Palolo, and I ask that the remarks of the speaker from Palolo be incorporated in the record as if they were my own."

The Chair so ordered.

Senator Bunda, rising in support of the nominee with reservations, then stated:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of this nomination with reservations.

"Mr. President, the current controversy surrounding the Attorney General's confirmation has pitted Margery Bronster against the Bishop Estate. Lost in all of this are the real issues concerning the people of our State -- the budget, our depressed economy, and providing accountability in our educational system. These issues should take priority over this confirmation process.

"Mr. President, I believe that the Attorney General's preoccupation with the Bishop Estate case has adversely affected her management of her Department. Granted, some of the problems reported by her critics existed before she took office. But her performance today is being evaluated by the public not on her administrative ability or lack of it, but solely on her crusade against Bishop Estate. However, Mr. President, I really don't feel that the Attorney General's removal from office would bring about any meaningful resolution to the Bishop Estate lawsuit, nor will it resolve the other crucial issues facing our State. We need to bring closure to the Bishop Estate controversy which has taken up an extraordinary amount of time and our State's limited resources.

"Mr. President, if the trustees are found guilty of wrongdoing, then Margery Bronster's preoccupation with this case will ultimately be forgiven. If it is the trustees who are vindicated, then it will be Margery Bronster and the Governor who will be held responsible for the expenditure of our taxpayers' money. Therefore, Mr. President, I'm voting 'yes, with reservations' today in hope that this controversy over her confirmation will be taken as a strong signal to Ms. Bronster to fix the administrative problems within her department. I sincerely hope that this debate will result in a stronger focus on those issues that affect us all, not just the condition of Bishop Estate.

"I believe it is the time to see some light at the end of the tunnel. We as legislators are often called upon to make hard decisions based on a perspective of the 'big picture.' We cannot make reasonable decisions based on a 'single-issue' mentality. We should expect the same from our Attorney General, Margery Bronster.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Chun then rose in opposition and said:

"Mr. President, I speak in opposition to the nomination.

"Mr. President, I'll be the first to speak in opposition. I don't know what people out there think about me, but I will state my reasons because I will always state my reasons and my concerns. I will never hide them from anybody.

"I agree with the discussions that have been made supporting the nomination. I agree that we should protect abuses of power. I agree that we should protect the institution of the Senate and the integrity of the separation of powers. But the problem I have is I disagree with the statement made today that when there are doubts, we should always give the nod to the Governor. On most every situation I would agree except for the Attorney General because the Attorney General serves as the attorney and legal adviser for the Legislative Branch. Because of this obligation that she has, she is also our attorney, my attorney. I need to be as comfortable as the Governor with her legal advice and her character as I would my own personal attorney. And Mr. President, at this point in time I have not come to that conclusion.

"Let me explain the reason why I'm not comfortable at this point in time. First of all, in discussing with the departments why there are failures in performing their duties, the consistent theme is that the Attorney General's office has not given them sufficient support. By itself, I don't give that much credence because being a former government attorney myself, I know the problems of the Attorney General's office and the deputies over there. I know how hard they work and how much demands are placed upon their time and energy. However, I feel as a Senator I need to go into more detail and so I asked them, Why? What led to those things? What is the problem? And I found time and time again, in my informal discussions with them, that oftentimes, at least the perception is there, that it has arisen because there have been disputes or fights between the Attorney General and the department heads. And that concerns me. Now if it is because of overwork, I can accept that, but when a department head and division chiefs or employees come back and say, the reason why they feel they're not being serviced is because the Attorney General has a fight with their department, that raises a red flag in my mind.

"I went further and asked other people, Why is this happening? I even asked some of the Governor's own people about this perception and they agreed that there is this perception out there, and they agreed that there were disputes between Ms. Bronster and other department heads. And they have agreed that those disagreements have affected the working relationships between the Attorney General's department and that department. And that is the heart of my concern. If the Attorney General uses her position and lets personal differences get involved with the work of servicing other departments, then the question I need to ask is, Who's next? Because if she's my legal advisor and if she has disputes with the Senate or the House, what assurances do I have that she would not treat us the same way?

"Now, I'm not going to say that this is an absolute, that there is no way she can be confirmed. But this has raised a concern in my mind. I brought those concerns to Ms. Bronster, and Ms. Bronster has said in front of me that she will work on those areas. But, Mr. President, I need more assurances. I need more assurances that she will do more than just work on it, because, Mr. President, once we confirm her, that's it. We have no recourse. The Governor might be able to fire her, but not the Senate. If she doesn't follow through with those commitments, we have no recourse. That's what concerns me. In light of that, I have offered Ms. Bronster an opportunity to see if we can have a trial period in which she would have at least an opportunity to see whether she can work her way through those situations. I have offered her the opportunity, at least a suggestion, that she sit down, withdraw the name and serve as an interim attorney general. During the interim she can begin to work on her relationship with other departments. She can begin to work with her relationship with the Legislature. If during this period she has shown that she can go beyond her disputes and her disagreements and work closely with others, then I say we should bring it up for confirmation next year. However, that option was not accepted, either by Ms. Bronster or the Governor.

"I've also offered, as an alternative, if Bishop Estate is the true rallying cry in that if Ms. Bronster is not confirmed the Bishop Estate matter will fall apart, I've offered her the opportunity, or at least the suggestion, that she be retained as special counsel in charge of Bishop Estate. This would allow that litigation to continue. That offer and that option were not accepted either.

"That raises a question in my mind, Mr. President, that if options, if compromises, if discussions regarding working out differences are not acceptable to Ms. Bronster now, will it be acceptable to her in the future? I think I've been reasonable. I think I've been forthright in terms of my concerns. I think I've discussed it many times with Ms. Bronster and I have to be honest, I am not quite 100 percent comfortable because if I'm being asked to retain my own attorney to represent me to give me clean legal advice, I need to be 100 percent sure. And I'm not going to give the benefit of a doubt when it is gray.

"The other thing that has concerned me about these situations with Ms. Bronster is that I have gotten many calls, and I have to be honest -- some of them from my island; many of them from Honolulu and I hope they come to Kauai and vote for me one day. Anyway, I have gotten many calls from them and in all those calls, especially the ones from my island, I have made a point to call them up and I listen to them. And yes, Ms. Bronster, you have a lot of support on Kauai also. I listened to them. I listened to their points. I told them my viewpoints. We might have disagreed on some. We agreed on some others. But in all those things, I make a point to listen to them and give them an opportunity to voice their opinion, and agree to disagree sometimes. I think that's really what the heart of the problem is that I have with the nominee. I don't believe right now she has shown me the ability to agree to disagree. I have a lot of respect for somebody who can do that. I think we need to look for people who have the ability to go beyond disagreement and to work together for the common good. That's what I'm looking for in all nominees.

"That's one reason why I did vote for Ms. Chandler because if the vote for Ms. Chandler was a vote based on public opinion or public perception, honestly, I think she would have lost. But I had to go beyond public perception and I went and asked Ms. Chandler about the specific concerns I had and her answers were satisfactory, and I was comfortable with her sincerity. I was comfortable with the people of her department saying that she does have the heart, that she is willing to listening; she is willing to change; she is willing to go forward. And for those reasons, I did vote for Ms. Chandler.

"Mr. President, also there've been other phone calls which have not been so gracious -- phone calls making threats; phone calls, and I don't know from what department it is but phone calls from the state government saying that if I vote against Ms. Bronster or any other Governor's nominee that I will be punished. Mr. President, I do not take well to those threats. Maybe in the past those threats might have worked with other people sitting here in this desk, but today, as I stand today, I will make a decision what I feel is right, not because I can benefit from the government by saying I can get certain projects through or maybe made to look good in front of my voters. I do not take well to those. There has to be a new era. There has to be a new generation of people who are willing to stand up, no matter how unpopular it is and say you cannot bribe me for my vote. You can talk to me about the factors, you can talk to me about the basis for the decision, but don't bribe me, don't threaten me. I don't take well to those.

"For Ms. Bronster, I wish her well. I really don't know Ms. Bronster, what this vote is going to be on the floor today, and if it's for your favor, I'll be happy. If it's against you, I'm not going to be happy about that. But if it's for you, I would want to say this, I want her to show all of us that these concerns of mine, whether she has the ability to agree to disagree and not let personal differences interfere with her ability to offer straight and honest legal advice, whether we will be punished or not punished by her office for supporting or not supporting the nominee . . . I think that will be interesting. For me, either way, whether the votes goes, I'll be interested to see what happens. And if the vote goes against, I'll be interested to see if the state government does act to punish the ones who voted 'no,' because that will tell us where our state government is. That will tell us whether there is a new generation of people wanting to do what is right or bending to what the popular vote is. That will tell us, Mr. President.

"But as I stand here today, I'm willing to stand up and tell everybody what my concerns are. I'm willing to open myself up and say go ahead, if you disagree, fine; I agree to disagree. I am open to saying, I'm putting myself out, if people want to vote me out, fine. I'm open to saying, if you want to punish me, punish me. But this kind of bribery, this kind of threat, these kinds of trade-offs for votes that are not based on the merits have got to stop. And it's got to stop someplace, and to me, I'm going to stop it right here by my vote.

"Thank you very much, Mr. President."

Senator Hanabusa also rose to speak against the nominee as follows:

"Mr. President, I also rise to speak in opposition to the nominee.

"Mr. President, as I thought about this issue, I recalled that the last time I sat and pondered a nominee as carefully as I did this one, was Ms. Himeno who came before this body for confirmation to the Supreme Court. I signed a petition in opposition. I do not take those acts very lightly. I am a practicing attorney, as Ms. Bronster and Ms. Himeno are, but yet there are times when we must stand for principle.

"Mr. President, by the Attorney General's own words, the Department of the Attorney General is responsible to preserve and uphold the State's laws and constitution for all citizens of Hawaii.

"My colleagues, I'm not unlike you, I have received calls as well. As a matter of fact, I think they called my colleague from Hawaii Kai first, and then they called me, and then they say, 'I have a lot of relatives in Waianae and I'm going to tell them all to vote against you.' I have received about three or so calls from my district, and they also say they're going to do some kind of campaign against me. But their issue is always the Bishop Estate, unquestionably the Bishop Estate. And I felt that Ms. Bronster's actions on the Bishop Estate warrants that even if this body were to not confirm her, that she should continue as a special attorney in that area, and I've made those sentiments known in the press. I've also shared my view that I believe a lot of the issues regarding Bishop Estate is really for the IRS, and this morning's paper confirmed that. The Internal Revenue Service, after all, is the ultimate power when it comes to a nonprofit tax-exempt corporation.

"However, what we are faced here with, is the Attorney General. What is the Attorney General? My colleagues, the Attorney General is really a department head. Unlike other department heads or directors, she has a special status because she serves as the chief legal officer for all of the State, including the Legislature. Now, as the department head and the chief legal officer, the responsibility falls on her, definitely and squarely, as to state laws and the Constitution.

"This brings me to the issue that my colleagues are very well aware of that has brought me at odds with the Attorney General's office since, almost, coming to the Senate, and that's the voter issue. As you all know, there is no fundamental constitutional right as sacred as the right to vote. And I will tell you it doesn't matter whether it's one vote; two votes; 10,000; 50,000 votes -- every single vote matters. The manner in which the Attorney General's office treated that issue, the declarations filed in the Supreme Court, the arguments made, and what the people's perceptions were of my constituents, was extremely hurtful. And yet it took three months from my letter, five months from the time the pleadings were made before we received any response from the Attorney General.

"The right to vote, the encouragement of people to participate, my colleagues, that is the fundamental issue that brings all of us here -- the right to vote. You cannot treat flippantly, everyone's right. And we want to encourage people. We want to encourage those who may feel disenfranchised to vote. This is what I am talking about. And you do not need the chief legal officer's deputy attorney general or statements attributed to that office to dissuade people, especially people of my district.

"Then this brings us to another concern. The Bishop Estate matter, as I stated earlier, has basically blanketed and controlled this process. I bet if my colleagues were to stack the responses and e-mails they received, you would have a ream for Bishop Estate and maybe a couple pages of 'others,' but it's primarily Bishop Estate. This is not to say Bishop Estate is not an important issue. But my colleagues, Bishop Estate is a private trust.

"What about the public trust?"

"As you all know, I sit as chair of Water, Land, and Hawaiian Affairs. We have heard, colleagues, the Budget Director come before us and say, 'Well, you know, our bond rating can't get any worse. We're only above Guam.' Why? Why is that? It is because we have not resolved the ceded lands issues; we have not resolved our disputes with OHA. I have come to learn that OHA has seven other lawsuits that they're ready to file against the State. And you know, what do we know about the status of ceded lands, colleagues? Those who are on Water, Land, and Hawaiian Affairs, as well as in the Majority, know that I have asked time and time again to have the administration's position told to us through the Attorney General's office as far as OHA and the negotiations. And what have we heard? Nothing.

"If the administration had put even a fraction of the effort expended on the confirmation of the Attorney General to address the ceded lands issue, we would maybe have an OHA settlement today. Let us not forget the Attorney General is a participant in that process.

"And colleagues, we want to move this economy forward. We want to infuse money into this economy. It's CIP projects and we are paying a premium. The taxpayers are paying a premium on those bonds because we have such a lousy bond rating. That lousy bond rating is due to the OHA disputes. Now that is an issue of the public trust.

"Again, members of my committee, we have sat there on individual claims. People who are talking about the Bishop Estate, let me call your attention to the Hawaiian Homes Commission. Let me call your attention to the fact that this body in 1988 began the process and in 1991 agreed to pay the individual claims. And from then forth we had a process. So what then happens? In 1997, the Attorney General's office doesn't like the results, so they come before us again, this year, after 43 percent of those claimants have gone through the process and say, let's change the rules. I told the Attorney General's office, 'You know, only you can come here and tell us to change the rules now because you don't like the results. You must do your job. If you, representing the State, if you, representing the Hawaiian Homes Commission, have lost these claims, then come with us and pay them.

"We had to listen, the members of the committee, and watch the kupunas come forward, many of them who will never see their dream come true of being on a homestead because this process has taken so long. And I would like to see them paid some reparation, some form of compensation before they, too, pass on. Most of them have no husbands anymore. They can't get on the homestead. They can't afford it. What about that, colleagues? That is a public trust. Those are the kinds of issues that you should be concerned about. Those are the kinds of issues that should bother you. Those are the kinds of issues that you have to judge a department head by.

"We've heard of colleagues talk about the fact that they voted against Susan Chandler. Susan Chandler is a department head. We don't believe that Susan Chandler is hands-on on all of the various cases, but we hold her accountable, and that's exactly the same standard that I'm saying that you hold the Attorney General to. You sit here, you say, well she micro-manages; there's all these different problems that we're faced with, but that's okay. But we hold other department heads accountable for the performance of those who work for them because, after all, they're department heads. They run the whole department or are responsible for its results or lack thereof.

"Colleagues, I'd also like to tell you something else. Once the press kindly noted my opposition, I received further calls. One was of real interest. It was another commission who called and said now that we know how you feel about the Attorney General, we'd like to ask if you could amend a bill and give us the right to hire a special attorney. I told them, 'You know, show me, show me why you need it.' And I received a stack of papers, these papers here, and they asked one question. We pay for a specific Attorney General with federal funds, and yet we're not given access. And the Attorney General's office has told us, if we don't like it, you just go to a general pool. But they are paying with federal funds for this attorney. And they asked the question, Is that proper? Can you deny us access to this attorney which we pay for with federal funds? And there is a contract entered into that says that this attorney shall solely serve this commission, unless they -- the commission and the Attorney General -- both agree otherwise. They didn't agree that this attorney could be used for other matters. And what's the retribution for asserting their right -- they will go to a general pool.

"Members, my colleagues, we are here to advice and consent. I do not take that responsibility lightly and I believe that the Attorney General's office is not there for any private trust. It is there for the benefit of the public. We serve the public trust. That is our priority. We have very limited resources and we must prioritize it. And I ask you again, for those who may not know which way they're going to vote, prioritize what it is that we must do as the elected body. It is not an easy thing to turn your back on or to try and put less emphasis when the population is calling about a private entity and how, of course, people don't like the idea that you have an entity that powerful or perceived to be as powerful. But we must judge and we must do what we must do in the public's interest.

"As even the Attorney General said, for all citizens of Hawaii -- for all citizens -- and let's not forget our trust responsibilities of our own, the public trust.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Kawamoto rose to speak in opposition to the nominee and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in opposition of the nominee.

"Again, Mr. President, for the second time this session with deep regret, I break one of my favorite DJ's from the '50s and '60s, Mr. Lucky Luck, cardinal sin about speaking anything bad about anyone. But I must say that I have received, as the others have, numerous phone calls, threats and all those things that happened. Well, the threats, they can do as they please. This is a free country. They can organize opposition to my election in 2002, that's fine. I welcome their efforts in that area.

"As for those who sincerely thought that I should not oppose the nominee, here's some concerns that I have. There are no qualms about the nominee's ability, talents to litigate, to, as the Governor said, the most aggressive Attorney General we've had in this State. There are no doubts about those abilities. There's no doubt about that she did a great job or is doing a great job with Bishop Estate, the gasoline. I think if the State had a medal for citizenship or whatever it calls, they should give her a medal for that.

"But, Mr. President, I'm here to speak for those that are unable to be here because they're out trying to do their jobs to the best of their ability to provide for the needs of the State to take care of the physically challenged, and that is the special needs education program. These people are very talented, just as the nominee. These people have the heart, just as the nominee. These people have the dedication, just as the nominee, and there are many of those people. When people tell me you need to weigh the value of the situation, sure, monetarily, the Bishop Estate, the tobacco outweigh the teachers' salaries, the teachers' support, the supplies, truly, but these are individuals. These are employees of the State who are trying to do their best to do what's asked of them, without question. Today they're there to do that.

"But, Mr. President, as the Senator from Waialae, Kahala and Palolo had said, in here we have a letter from Dr. LeMahieu about his perception that the Attorney General did a good job for the education department. Mr. LeMahieu, I think you should go down to the teaching level, the front line, and talk to these teachers and principals, from whom I have received 50 or more letters here. Some of it says, let me quote . . . and my good friend the Senator from Mililani and Waipahu, you know, he told me, he took me aside one day, he says, 'Kawamoto, you've got to go get some facts. Get letters. Do what you need. This is the way you gotta do that.' And I normally take his advice because it's free. Maybe I have to loan him my golf clubs but no monetary value in that, Senator. But anyway, here's the facts, Senator. It says here, 'School level decisions are now very involved and all staff needs to make legal sound decisions. Parents bring tape recorders to conferences. They bring advocates. They bring attorneys. School staff needs to feel as supported. As principal, I've addressed the situation such as child falls down from equipment, parents threaten to sue. Parent says teacher hits child, threatens to sue. Parent accuses another child for hurting her child, threatens to sue the teacher. Most educational officers will carry personal liability insurance due to the threats,' unquote, of a lawsuit.

"Another letter: 'The Deputy Attorney General who represents us do not believe that the educational officers are professionals.' What are they? Another quote: 'Due processing hearing was filed in October, held in May. The entire period between October and May was spent in negotiation to settle the hearing that we clearly could have won. As a result, we lost the hearing because we were inadequately prepared and the Attorney General's office refused to appeal the officer's decision.' Another quote: 'DOE must prevent frivolous lawsuits and needs expertise to mediate the cases of plaintiff attorneys and have them think twice for charging ahead against school personnel. Attorneys need to be accessible to school personnel on many issues as a result of federal compliance.'

"Mr. President, you know, also in this package of things I have here is a letter from Mr. Walter Kupau. You know, in there he says that he will support Ms. Bronster, but I want to be like him. I want to be like him as he protects his carpenters. I want to be like him to protect the employees of the State. You know, it's some of our fiduciary job. He needs to protect the rights and interests of his carpenters. We as Legislators and as Attorney General need to protect the rights and personal liability of our teachers and principals.

"Mr. President, these employees go out every day doing the most difficult and challenging tasks that we have in education system. These warriors are teachers and principals of special ed. It's a tough task to begin with. And doing it with threat of a lawsuit over their head makes this job a little more difficult. These plaintiff officers are telling these teachers increase your personal liability in your home owners because we're coming after you, your husband or your wife, whatever it may be, that you're going to be personally liable for these IEP. IEP means individual education program for each special ed student. Granted, the Attorney General has come out and said, and we've asked her to do this, has said that we're immune. But where is the policy down there telling them they're immune. It's not down there because you go throughout the State and all these letters are from the neighbor islands, throughout the state there's the same conception. If they are immune, then tell them. Give them memos. Tell the plaintiff attorneys, hands off, whatever you have to do. But avoid the possibility of a threat there.

"These teachers are leaving the profession; they're taking leave of absence. Some of them, long time residents, are leaving to go to the Mainland, breaking off family ties and going to the Mainland. They're tired. They're frustrated. How much money is that? The personal lifestyle of these individuals -- Is it worth more than the lawsuit from the billion dollars we got from the tobacco company? Maybe not monetary-wise, but quality of life is important also.

"It is our job to protect and give them the tools they need to do their jobs. We need to stand by them. They are public servants.

"This is so important that this year, Mr. Shishido, interim District Superintendent of the Honolulu District, some of the teachers came to see me and they wanted to hire their own attorney for special ed. Is it so important to all of us that this bill still goes forward from the Education Committee? It still goes forward and Ways and Means is thinking about providing that opportunity.

"And this is not the first case. We've seen ERS come for a special attorney. We've seen the Tax Department ask for a special attorney. Ladies and gentlemen, the Attorney General's office has 161 deputies, the largest law firm in the State of Hawaii, and yet they cannot provide for their concerns. (And Mr. Chumbley is saying 161. It was 171 and the Attorney General, after our interview, told me she had 161, so that's from her.)

"The desire to be involved with all the contracts that go into different departments that goes into the Attorney General, the departments won't tell you this, but the workers will tell you. Get down and talk to the workers. They said turning something into the Attorney General's office for opinion is a deep, deep, deep black hole. Lucky if it comes out after six months. I'm taking the average. I'm sure somebody's going to send me something saying one day, but I'm just taking the average.

"The other thing, Mr. President, I was disappointed, extremely disappointed that as I went through my process of researching and trying to find to make the right decision . . . One of it was again my good friend lawyer from Mililani and Waipahu, he says, you may have to bring her in; you have to talk to her. I said okay, so I did. I brought her in, April 23, Friday, I think it was 10:30 or 9:30. I may have forgotten the time. We talked for about an hour, discussed the issues, discussed my concerns. We did that. Before she left, I asked her if she had any questions. She said, I have one question, Are you ready to help confirm me or not? I said, at this time I'm not ready to make that commitment as of yet, but I'll think about it over the weekend. At 4:15, I received a fax letter, and I don't have the letter; I thought I had it, but I don't have the letter; the Governor took it. I don't have a letter. It said that one of your bills, there's a probability that it may be unconstitutional. That's okay too, that's part of her job. But I hope it's not coincidental or if it is coincidental and it's not due to the fact we wanted to play games. I don't like to play games, especially when it deals with people. I hope that wasn't so.

"But let me tell you, we have worked very hard on the military construction bills. We had five bills, three resos and it's getting difficult to pass some of these. But regardless, we have asked the Attorney General to come to these symposiums. We asked the Attorney General to come as Mr. Kamikawa was asked. We asked her to come to the second solution symposium. She wasn't there or her staff wasn't there. We packaged all these five bills and three resos and we sent it over to the AG's office. No comment. And nine days before the session ends, she sends me this letter or her staff, not she. I take that back. Her staff signs a letter to me saying that one of my bills could be unconstitutional. I hope it's not part of the threats. I hope it's not part of the effects of these efforts of trying to do a good job and trying to make the decision.

"Mr. President, many other concerns . . . I'm sure many of my fellow Senators will be rising to speak for those. But again, we need to provide when we have talented people in their own right trying to do a good job for the State of Hawaii, for the Education Department, trying to be out there to teach our students, to educate them to live a normal quality of life, it is our duty and our commitment to protect these people. And many say, Why don't you ask her to do it and give her a second chance? We've done that. We in the Ways and Means Committee, I've sat in there for five years . . . we in the Ways and Means Committee, we interviewed all the department heads. We asked them questions. We asked them about concerns about their constituents. They answer us. And when we get these kind of letters that come to us, we have concerns. We have concerns because we give them 161 attorneys. We spend money on the department. And yet, the basic right of these employees are not protected. The basic right of a working man and woman is not protected. And I blame the head of the Attorney General's office, the nominee who has been the AG for the past four years.

"Thank you very much."

Senator Tanaka rose to speak against the nominee and said:

"Mr. President, it's always nice to follow the Senator from God's country and I swear I'm not going to keep it that long. I think they need a break.

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition of Gov. Msg. No. 145.

"Mr. President, I had the same concerns as many of my colleagues that spoke against, even with reservations. I concur with them. But I have also left my door open because I felt that it's important to let the people voice their concerns. And as we all know, they did. We had tons and tons of calls, e-mails and everything, and I want to thank them for participating in this process.

"One point of interest was my neighbor island, so I expected many calls or faxes or e-mails, but I received few -- no more than six, I think. And that concerns me. I don't know if this problem is only for Oahu. I think Maui is part of the State and I think we should all be concerned.

"My opposition to her, aside from all of the others that we heard, is that, as a seating Senator here, she has not responded, in fact she has disregarded my letter dated November 6, 1998, as co-chair of Economic Development. In the process of running the so-called committee, I needed a legal opinion. I've waited and waited -- none. Then on July 29, 1998, I wrote to the AG once again for the same request saying that we needed to get ready for the next session. Again, no response. Later I had a phone call. But, Mr. President, as a seating Senator I think I deserve a written legal opinion from the AG's office. If she disregards me, what can I expect for the general public. And I felt very bad for my constituents, and especially for the people that requested the legal opinion, that I had nothing to give them. And this is the third year and I still don't have anything to give them.

"So that's only one of my concerns and I have many. So with that I'll keep it short.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Tam, also rising in opposition, then said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against the confirmation of Margery S. Bronster.

"First of all, I'd like to state for the record, I am not here to argue on the confirmation of Gov. Msg. No. 145. I'm here to state in terms for the record in terms of how I'm voting. Many people have different reasons, but let me tell you in terms of my justification. I have made my decision based on a solid foundation of rational reasonings, not based on emotionalism of the present lawsuits at hand, namely that which has entered the picture, the Bishop Estate. In fact, I am not a friend of the Bishop Estate, the people associated which are considered in opposition towards me. My opposition has been expressed by their opposing me this past election last year.

"The Committee on Government Operations and Housing for which I have the responsibility of being chairman is responsible for evaluating all departments of the State of Hawaii with regards to their productivity and efficiency in the delivery of public service. Thus, in deciding on the confirmation of Ms. Bronster, I must base my decision on the nominee's management capabilities, not on legal abilities only. If I may also remind everybody, I am not only a Legislator. My background is in personnel and I have been in the negotiation area and also in the management area in personnel. I'm also a former budget analyst within the State and also in the private sector. And I'm also a businessman in the private sector at this time. In fact, ironically as a businessman, my wife says that she would not want to work for me. Why? Because I have hard standards. In fact, quite frankly, I've told her several times, jokingly, that I would fire her if she were employed by me.

"While evaluating the Office of the Attorney General, we discovered that many, many departments within the State government have voiced concerns about not receiving timely legal assistance from that office under the current acting director. Several departments have requested and subsequently received legislative and Governor's approval to retain their own counsel, legal counsel. My staff has taken the pains of documenting from 1995 to the present, the many departments within our State government who have requested legislation allowing them to retain their own legal counsels, and they include such departments or agencies as, (1) the University of Hawaii (I remember that one last year, basically, a very, very strong fight by the University of Hawaii, all parties involved be it in terms of the President, the Board of Regents which are appointed by the Governor, the faculty members, the students, the community at large); (2) the Office of Consumer Protection; (3) Ombudsman, which represents the public in terms of the concerns out there; (4) Department of Taxation; (5) Insurance Division of the Department of Commerce and Consumer Affairs (now this Insurance Division represents our consumers out there and protects the consumers from illegalities of insurance companies); (6) This year, the Department of Education, which I fully support, because why? Our young ones are crying out there for legal assistance which we are not providing at this time during our present course of direction.

"Once again the Governor has approved departments and agencies to hire their own legal counsel. By the way, we did not cut the Department of the Attorney General's budget when we gave these positions of legal counsel to the other departments. We enabled her to keep on this legal counsel, whereby taking care of the concerns. But these concerns, as I mentioned in terms of servicing the public, are not being taken care of in terms of a timely manner at this time.

"Once again, these departments would not request to retain their own counsel if the Office of the Attorney General was managed efficiently. All these separate requests add to the cost of State government. And one wonders in the general public, why has the cost of government increased? Well, mainly so because government productivity and efficiency is bad. And here, we have to vote on confirmation of management. If I am to vote on a 'yes' for Margery Bronster, I'll be guilty of enlarging government due to the lack of productivity and efficiency.

"Based primarily on these occurrences, we can only conclude that the Office of the Attorney General needs to be reorganized from a management standpoint in order to increase productivity and efficiency. Delivery of services and support of state government, to Legislators and to the public is most inefficient at this time. It takes months for a simple response. What needs to be done, and I did talk to the Governor in doing so, is to establish time tables to get responses. I have problems within my office whereby from experience I've asked for legal opinions and it has taken months. Now, I get repercussions from my constituents because I'm supposedly not doing my job, but I must wait, unfortunately, for the Attorney General's office to respond to the legal concerns I have.

"The Governor has acknowledged, through his lieutenants, that there is a problem with administration at the Attorney General's office at this time. We had offered to consider alternatives and have asked for a plan. However, to this date we are not in receipt of a plan.

"This has become a very personal and emotional issue to many of our constituents and the public in general, and we have personally received telephone calls from our supporters voicing support of Ms. Bronster. And I think she appreciates that. I think she appreciates that in terms of what she's doing on the legal side, but people are not emphasizing the management side. We realize that people are basing their support for Ms. Bronster essentially on her willingness to take on the Bishop Estate. However, it is her management of the Office of the Attorney General that is in question.

"The current acting Attorney General lacks the principles of management, which consist of: (1) unity of command; (2) delegation of authority; (3) acceptance of responsibility; (4) knowledge of the job; (5) leadership; (6) integrity; (7) ability to make sound and fair decisions; (8) stimulating a positive work environment; (9) pride in quality job performance; (10) teaching employees; (11) seeking easier and better ways of doing work; (12) delivery of service with available resources; (13) cost control and cost reduction of budgetary responsibility; and of course, my favorite as you have all heard me say this year time and time again, and I realize that people have laughed at me in the past but I'm very serious about it -- goals and objectives with an action plan to reach those goals and objectives and, essentially, a timetable with that. And this is a problem that we have in government. Currently, we do not have goals and objectives and especially, if I may state, in the Attorney General's office.

"As you all know, and many of you laughed at me out there in the community, that when I had marathon sessions of two days with all the departments, all 15-plus departments and agencies, on what are their goals and objectives and their action plans, it was actually very educational for me. I found out that the Attorney General's office only has surface goals, no objectives, no action plans, no timetable. And it bothers me. Goals and objectives and action plans are used to develop a budget. And our responsibility here in the Legislature is to develop a budget. Right? How are we able to develop a budget without goals and objectives and action plans? It's very questionable.

"And let me give you a personal experience and I'm very happy about it. When I first got married 11 years ago, I told my wife that we're going to buy a house, and we're going to buy a house in two years. And we were able to do it because we budgeted correctly based on our goal. So I was able to buy the house through my own means without any assistance. And quite frankly, I'm very proud of it. And that's how much goals and objectives mean to me.

"The many phone calls have encouraged us to re-examine our position. However, I for one am more convinced than ever that we should oppose Ms. Bronster's reappointment. Within the last few days, the phone calls have evolved into threats, which have further reaffirmed that I am doing the right thing. I forgive those in the community who have threatened me, and there was a former police officer that called me about eleven o'clock about a day-and-a-half ago and threatened me. But I have to forgive those because of their state of mind -- emotionalism based on the Bishop Estate. I have to deal with this issue on a non-emotional state of mind, and therefore I'm trying my best to do so.

"By the way, for those of you in the community who will ask the question and have asked me personally, Where's the Rod Tam that's an independent person, a liberal person who votes for rational reasons? Well, I'm still here. Quite frankly, I would not be here at this time. No. Economically, I'm suffering. I qualify at this time for welfare. Believe it or not. Economy is difficult but I'm willing to make a tough decision here. And by the way, I didn't get to this position because I took the easy way out. Some of you heard about the experience I had with Huna Street, whereby opposing the old boys' machine, a 122-unit condominium built off of Kuakini Street. I was threatened constantly for two years, but here I am because I believe what I'm doing is right.

"Also too, there's one issue here today and I thank my colleagues for resolving it. We concluded in conference this morning. That is the Aloha Tower Marketplace. We stood up to the old boys whereby we decided not to give in politically. And so I appreciate my colleagues for supporting that.

"As a State Senator, the public expects that we will neither be influenced by political pressures or the emotions of the time. Therefore, we must remain objective in this matter and vote what we know to be in the best interest of the public. In closing, my greatest concern is a lack of the formation of goals and objectives with the action plans in the present and future operations of the Office of the Attorney General. We legislators must depend on goals and objectives and action plans to budget for public services.

"I previously had a public hearing on Senate Resolution No. 70 and the first Deputy Attorney General attended and he even admitted this year there is inefficiency and unproductivity in the Attorney General's office at this time. And I asked him in terms of what are we going to do about it. He said, I don't know. I said, well let's work together on it, but do you have an idea? He said, I don't know. Now, that's the kind of leadership that we have in that office and it worries me. It really does.

"We have a hard time putting the budget together today. How are we going to put this budget together? I don't know because we don't have any direction from the administration. If we go overtime this session, quite frankly we're all at fault. But basically, let me say this, we don't know what the administration's priorities are. What are their goals and objectives? There's no action plan at hand. The public is demanding that the State government be more productive, efficient and accountable in spending tax dollars.

"Therefore, Mr. President, I am voting against the confirmation of Ms. Bronster as Attorney General in the State of Hawaii. And if I may say, I'm sorry, Governor Cayetano. It's nothing personal against you but remember our conversation on Monday evening I had mentioned to you of my concerns, serious concerns. I mentioned why not appoint Ms. Bronster as a special counsel to take care of the Bishop Estate and other cases in court so that we don't go astray, and your response was to me, vote up or down and we'll take care of it after confirmation in terms of productivity and efficiency. No presentation of a model. That worries me. Basically, are we going to continue what we're doing now? I just wanted to see a simple model and I couldn't get it.

"Lastly, my message is that I use this motto: 'Do not be afraid of threats, for remember, fear is fear itself.'

"Thank you."

At 1:27 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 1:38 o'clock p.m.

Senator Sakamoto then rose to support the nominee with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support with reservations.

"Mr. President, I've had some of the similar concerns mentioned by different members of this body today, especially the management type of concerns, and I've had the opportunity to look into some of these issues.

"Firstly, on the Felix issue, which certainly is a concern to all of us, part of the response from the Attorney General's office, particularly regarding that issue, is related to providing attorneys. I know there are some problems, but I'd like to just summarize and not go into the whole letter. Part of it says that had attorneys been provided at all of the different evaluation processes, their feeling was that, that probably might 'only serve to increase the adversarial nature of the process.' As far as for me, I'm not in favor of having attorneys fencing with attorneys in the Felix case, when what we're all out to get is the best care for our children. We need to spend the resources on the children, not to have attorneys fencing with other attorneys.

"In regard to some of the unfortunate feelings of being liable, by people on the front line, as the Senator from Waipahu mentioned, in this letter it indicates that unfortunately there are some consultants from the Mainland that helped to train some of the school officials, and it says, 'Unfortunately, those consultants did not know or understand that school officials in Hawaii are state employees and enjoy the protection of the state's sovereign immunity, unlike educators in other states who are employees of school districts and are not school officials.' So, Mr. President, unfortunately, many people did suffer unduly or did fear unduly, but I believe, with this letter and with the concerns raised, those issues will be resolved. We are not about going backwards. We are about going forward, Mr. President.

"And relating to the concerns mentioned, everybody is concerned about Felix issues. Related to the staff, related to concerns about micro-management, etc., I was really surprised that I received, and I believe some of my other colleagues here received this petition. This petition is not members of the community, but this petition is from 'We are the employees of the Department of the Attorney General, State of Hawaii, and we support the confirmation of Margery S. Bronster as Attorney General.' So certainly, this is 'make a difference' day. Where else in this State have you seen employees willing to say we stand behind our boss? (Applause.)

"We can all agree that there were problems in the past. I myself had concerns, but certainly today is 'make a difference' day. Today, is 'make your vote count' day, Mr. President. Each of us has a vote to count and certainly they will be counted.

"Unfortunately, as the Senator from Mililani mentioned, this session comes down to the Bronster session. So here we are in the Bronster session when we all said at the beginning of this session it was the economy; it was education; and here we are -- the Bronster session.

"All I can say is, each person, no matter what they said prior, needs to think about what we will be, not tomorrow, not next year, what we will be maybe five years from now, because this will not be forgotten as the Bronster session. And really our job here, our ethical job, is to do what is best for the people of Hawaii.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Anderson then rose to oppose the nomination as follows:

"Mr. President, at this time I will be voting 'no.'

"I think it's most impressive to have this many people here. I don't think I've seen almost as many since we did the same sex marriage and our faxes were going crazy and the economy was still down at that time. It hasn't improved.

"I think that you've all heard the problems that we're having with education and the Waihee/Felix problems within the system. I think that you've heard all of the good things that the AG has done, like the gasoline, having the gas tax go down. Well, in reality that wasn't the Governor's nor the AG's position. It was Keoni Dudley when he ran for lieutenant governor. That was his issue and he fought it every day. Then they picked it up. Because the Mainland was so dominantly lower in gas costs, Keoni picked it up as his issue, and then they ran with it.

"While we're here, I'm going to say that there were two questions that our Senator from . . . Senator Matsunaga, I keep forgetting which district everybody is from . . . what do we think as Senators and what do we think for the people. Well let me tell you, I didn't see one Hawaiian down here, calling me up and raising hell when the Governor of this State got rid of Kali Watson as a director. And we as Hawaiians at the Association of Hawaiian Civic Clubs convention gave him a standing ovation for a job well done, and when he was fired it was stated he didn't give me the Hawaiian vote the way it should have been. I didn't hear too many Hawaiians grumbling at that time and I thought that was unusual.

"The ceded lands, some people don't understand what we're doing. We develop state land or lands that we buy and develop and there's revenue. And then on the ceded lands next door, we build schools, we build hospitals, and there's no income for the 20 percent. So now they're fighting in court, but the AG says you can sell land and you can do other things.

"There was a group, yesterday, that came to see me and they're worried about the trustees and the pay that they're getting. And again, ladies and gentlemen, that's our fault. We did the land reform bill. In the old days, the Bishop Estate was land-rich, money-poor. They couldn't even pay their teachers. What they did is say, 'Hell, hold on to your paychecks until another week when we have enough money in there.' Nobody really cared in those days. Once everybody said we want that land and we passed a law for the land reform act, they had to sell Bishop Estate lands, Campbell Estate lands, other estates. They were working on a commission and their commission is fat only because we made it that way.

"I look at every Hawaiian issue and I'm Part-Hawaiian. And when it comes to Bishop Estate and you have land that is appraised like Ka Iwi Shores for $80 million, and then we take it for $11 million, that's a loss, ladies and gentlemen, of $69 million. And then when they take my tax money because the trustees are making too much money and they say we're gonna fight this, I'm losing out as a Hawaiian and I'm losing out as a taxpayer. And I don't think that's fair.

"When I fight for you on Waiahole/Waikane, when we were doing the Waiahole Ditch, water that was stolen years ago, got cheap pay for the people who ran plantations, AmFac made a lot of money. When we bought that ditch, we gave them $10.5 million and I said let's lease it; let's put it under condemnation; let them give it to us. There's all kinds of things that could have been done, but no, we're going to buy it. So I wrote the AG a letter saying 'On behalf of the constituents, can I sue the Governor.' It took months before I got any reply that they didn't break any laws. And when I read the committee report, we have laws on the books that circumvented everything that the Governor needed to do to give AmFac $10.5 million. The Waiahole Ditch now costs you over a million dollars, per year, for repairs and maintenance.

"That's my job here. I'm here to represent you the best possible way that I can. That's why they make us State Legislators. They don't say you're the Senator from Waimanalo/Kailua. You're a State Legislator.

"When I have people from the neighboring islands call me and tell me that they're not getting sufficient help from the Attorney General's office in those dads that don't pay support. When you can have them say that they're not getting the proper feedback on child abuse, on legal areas that they're asking, I owe them to follow up on that. If you had to wait four months for me to give you an answer to some of your questions, you'd tell me that I'm lax and not doing my job and what a rotten person I am. But it's not my fault if we can't give you the information as readily as we'd like to.

"We've said before, for education -- two attorneys; for Bishop Estate -- seven to nine . . . 171, even though my colleague corrected us and said that the AG said she only has 161. We also allow her to hire outside attorneys. Ladies and gentlemen, you come here, you're looking at one issue. As I stand before you, there are many issues. We have put in many bills to help our economy and nothing has happened and I don't get the calls and the need from you folks.

"Now, I listened to the Attorney General this morning on television and they were talking about conflicts and how everybody, as far as she is concerned I guess, should state their conflicts. Part of what I say, I think it's maybe the media's fault that they don't tell you how often I stand on this floor and say my wife works for Bishop Estate, but she had 41 years with Hawaiian Airlines. And since the 70's I've had to stand on this floor and say I had a conflict of interest, Mr. President, my wife works for Hawaiian Airlines. When I fought Bishop Estate, some of the very people today said you have the audacity to fight Bishop Estate. Who do you think you are? Today they're saying, Who do you think you are, sticking up for Bishop Estate? I'm sticking up for programs that Hawaiians have lost -- program after program.

"When I first got elected, Kinau Kamalii was our Minority Leader in the House. We had 28 Hawaiians. Today, I'm the last in the Senate. I think there's four or five. Everybody says you have too much. But you really don't look at the issues and that's why I have to stand here and fight on a cultural part of it, and then I have to look at the needs of the people and where we're squandering your money. And it's been 40 years. And none of you seem to really care that the educational system has second to none. I don't think that there's really second to one, because we're the worst. We're going down hill.

"A conflict of interest that I mentioned earlier, Senator Matsunaga works at the same or, I guess, with the same law firm. I think that's a conflict. I think that it's a conflict that I didn't even know that Margery Bronster wasn't Bronster. I didn't even care. She was the AG. Just recently that I naively found out that her husband owns Servco. That's Bishop Estate land. Is that a conflict? Or is it a conflict that there's almost non-bid contracts for that company? That's a conflict. They gave the Governor $6,000, over and above what they should have, and what happened? The Campaign Spending said well, like other corporations they were late and they filed late. I don't think that that's fair.

"And the last conflict that I have, ladies and gentlemen, this morning my son-in-law received a call from the school. He works up there as a maintenance person. He used to work for me until my business was going down the tubes. And my daughter's been there a long time. She used to be a receptionist. Now she's a secretary for six different people. I don't think that their salary is probably one combined of what some of you make. But they were told that if your father-in-law doesn't vote the way we want, you'll lose your job. And let me tell you, ladies and gentlemen, that makes me angrier than hell. I don't care what you do to Whitney Anderson, but don't you pick on my family! Because I've signed Ethics Commission reports year in and year out. And if these people down here who work for the media don't print it often enough, then that's not my fault. I have never denied who I am, what I am, or what I intend to do.

"Thank you very much for listening, Mr. President, and thank you ladies and gentlemen for coming."

Senator Nakata rose to speak on the appointment and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak on this appointment."

The President interjected:

"Are you for or against?"

Senator Nakata replied:

"I will get to that. I have agonized over this decision like I've never agonized over any decision in my life.

"Shortly after the Governor's Message came down, I started saying that I would be voting against this nomination because of the firing of Bill Tam at the water commission, under conditions which I didn't think were proper. But that was to be just a protest vote. I did not imagine that we would be in this kind of situation that we are today.

"Subsequently, I started to change my mind, as most of you in this body know, and I started to change my mind because I liked what she was doing with regard to the Bishop Estate -- not the estate, the trustees -- let me be clear on that -- not the estate, the trustees. I have been fighting with this entity for nearly 30 years of my life over water issues, over land issues, planning and zoning issues.

"As the discussion became more and more heated, I tried to back away from commitments I had made to vote against this nomination. I did. I went so far as to commit, also, that I would vote for it, but as I was making my way to the chambers for this session, I was reminded again of that water case. This was the biggest case that has been before the Water Commission in its brief history. Mr. Tam is someone who had taken, with another deputy, the biggest case in this State's history -- the Hanapepe Water Case. They took it to the U.S. Supreme Court, and they won.

"As I was sitting here listening to all of the speeches, details of the firing kept running through my mind. The circumstances were these. When that Waiahole Ditch case started, Ms. Bronster chose to argue the State's case before the Water Commission. Her deputy, Mr. Tam, her employee, was counsel to the Water Commission. I do not believe that she should have entered the case in that way. She could have asked one of her other deputies to handle the State's case, and when I asked her about it, she said that the Governor asked her to enter that case. Remember now, after being confirmed, she is independent of the Governor. He cannot fire her. It is only this body that can fire her.

"Having argued the case under circumstances which she said were not related to this case, she fired him. I believe that as soon as she entered that case, the entire supervision of Mr. Tam should have been passed on to her First Deputy, but the firing was done by her. Granted, Mr. Tam can be a prickly person, but he is a dedicated civil servant. He missed a court appearance on, I believe it was, Maui at 9:00 a.m. one morning. He did call the Judge at 8:00 a.m. He accepted the fines that were imposed on him. The reason he missed that court appearance was a serious accident that happened to his girlfriend the night before.

"The timing of the firing is what now bothers me as I stand here. It was as Mr. Tam was preparing the position of the Water Commission on the Waiahole Ditch case which, if you recollect, was a massive case -- 27 parties involved, 27 attorneys, boxes and boxes of testimony. The Water Commission begged her to let him continue. Then they begged her to let him just finish out that case. She refused. The Commission did not have confidence in the deputy assigned because of the massiveness of the case and because that deputy had not sat through the hearings. My suspicion is that Dr. Miike, who was on the Commission at that time and also has training as an attorney, probably worked on the Commission's position. This incident raises questions of conflict of interest -- the timing does.

"And so for that reason, with apologies to Ms. Bronster, with apologies to others who I may have told that I would be voting up, I will have to vote against this nomination.

"Thank you."

Senator Matsuura then rose in opposition to the nominee as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this nomination.

"Like many of you, I also received a lot of threats. But what really disturbed me this morning was when I turned on the television and I actually saw a threat from the Attorney General herself against one of our colleagues. When she, on the morning of her nomination, told the press that she will now proceed with a criminal proceedings indictment against one of our colleagues, that is not only a threat against him, it is a threat against us as a Senate. It's for that reason, I'm strongly opposed to this nomination.

"Thank you."

Senator Buen also rose to oppose Ms. Bronster and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition on the confirmation of Attorney General Margery Bronster.

"For more than weeks, I have been bombarded with phone calls, letters, media interviews, faxes, e-mail and visitors, regarding Ms. Bronster. Many have been for her confirmation, while many have been in opposition. And I, too, have received personal insults and direct innuendos of corruption, threats and other vile remarks which had no foundation or facts. Nevertheless, Mr. President and colleagues, I have welcomed and given everyone an opportunity to voice his or her opinion.

"I wish that these calls were to share ideas on how to help families and children and how to improve our economy -- not calls on Bishop Estate matters or emotional calls.

"Mr. President, I have many concerns about Ms. Bronster's performance in running the Attorney General's office. The media has elaborated those concerns so I will not dwell on them. However, as a member of the Ways and Means Committee, I have noted in our committee hearings this year, that the Department of Education (DOE) came forward and told us that only two attorneys were assigned to them. This untenable situation has already been mentioned because my other colleagues have also heard these same statements as members of the Ways and Means Committee. And as the Senator from Waipahu/Pearl City had said earlier, many teachers were concerned about the lack of legal help from the Attorney General's office. Mr. President, at this time when we're crying for special education teachers, our own hometown, local teachers, special ed teachers are leaving for the Mainland for fear of liability suits of not having legal representation. I have had calls from my friends and neighbors from Maui telling me that they have not had the legal representation when they go into meetings with the special ed children's parents. These parents bring their own attorneys while our teachers don't have any legal representation. I think there is a liability here. And I asked Dr. LeMahieu, yes go down and talk to the teachers. Get it from them. This situation along with requests from many departments to hire their own attorneys bring about many concerns about her managerial incompetence in discharging her duties.

"The decision not to confirm Ms. Bronster was mine and mine alone. Never was I influenced by anyone. I based my decision on testimonies, hearings and other research which I did on my own.

"In closing, Mr. President, I stand by my decision to oppose Ms. Bronster's nomination.

"Thank you."

Senator Chun Oakland rose to support the nominee and said:

"Mr. President, I speak in favor of this nomination.

"I would like to ask the Clerk to insert the words of the Senators from Palolo and Hamakua into the Journal as if they were my own.

"I believe Margery Bronster has demonstrated great courage. Her perseverance and dedication to public service is very admirable. We have much work to do as a State. I have had very positive working relationships with both Margery Bronster and her department despite the increasing workload and decreasing resources we have given to her department. I look forward to working with Margery Bronster, the Department of the Attorney General and the community to continue to deal with very critical issues.

"I believe that the Attorney General's office, in the four years that I have worked with her and her department, have worked very diligently and tried to address the challenges of providing the legal expertise to afford educational opportunities for children with mental health service needs through the Felix consent decree. But I, like many colleagues, feel we must do more in this area.

"I appreciate the support that she has given with regards to the Hawaii State Hospital, the increase in cases of elder abuse, neglect and fraud in the State. The services that we need to provide to people with developmental disabilities, the increase in cases that we've seen in child protective services -- the workload is so great. We need to do a lot more in the area of child support enforcement and that is an area that I would like to see much more focus on. I appreciate the work that has been done in the area of the tobacco settlement and medicaid fraud.

"Last, but not least, I do believe that we, including the Attorney General, must work more closely and cooperatively with OHA and the Department of Hawaiian Home Lands, because we do need to fairly address the issues of our Hawaiian people.

"On that note, I hope that we do support this Attorney General. Thank you."

Senator Chumbley then rose to support the nomination of Ms. Bronster and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in full support of this nominee with no reservations whatsoever.

"Mr. President, I've listened to the many issues raised by the members thus far. These same issues have been raised in the past few weeks, both in our confirmation hearing in the Judiciary Committee and in the media. I believe that there has been sufficient public debate and will not attempt to address these individually.

"However, Mr. President, these issues share one common weakness -- none of them, none of them rise to the level of justifying a 'no' vote. If any member believes that any one issue is problematic, then the member should vote 'yes, with reservations.' The only reason to vote 'no' is that a member wants to stop or remove Attorney General Margery Bronster.

"I would like to remind the members that our task today, pursuant to Article V, section 6, of our State Constitution, is to advise and consent to the gubernatorial nomination. I have heard no compelling arguments as to why we shouldn't choose to consent to this nomination. I wonder if some of our colleagues are confused, because in this same section of our Constitution, we are also empowered to remove the attorney general as the chief legal officer on this State. However, that is not what this vote is about today -- we have not been asked by the Governor, nor by the people of this State to remove the Attorney General. Quite the opposite, Mr. President, we have been asked by the Governor, with the support of the people of this State, to consent to this nomination today.

"Two years ago, when voting on another highly debated issue, I stated that my vote was guided by our oath of office, which requires us to uphold our Hawaii State Constitution. Today, I feel equally compelled to follow that pledge. I am troubled that some of our members may be using our constitutional authority and responsibility as an opportunity to cast a vote in order to simply send a message. One message might be to the administration that 'we don't like your politics.' Another message might be that 'we are protecting our friends in high places.' Yet another message might be to members within our own body that 'we don't agree with your leadership style or actions on other issues.'

"Mr. President and colleagues, I believe that using our constitutional authority to 'send a message' is an irresponsible, an irresponsible exercise of that authority and one which lacks accountability -- which raises the final point which I would like for all of us to consider. In exercising our constitutional authority, to whom are we ultimately accountable? I believe that we are accountable to the people of this State. And based upon what I have heard from the hundreds of telephone calls, faxes, e-mail messages, and letters, just as my colleagues have, Ms. Bronster has the support of the people of our State of Hawaii. From what I have read and what I have heard from recent media accounts, Ms. Bronster does have the support of our people. Who am I, or who are we, as a body, sending a message to, when we take vote? We are sending a message to the people of our State.

"And I want the people of our State to know that I'll be voting 'yes' to support Ms. Bronster.

"Mr. President, I would also like to clarify several points that were made that I think needs some clarification. There was a previous statement that we have no ability to remove the Attorney General. As I stated, Mr. President, Article V, Section 6 of our Constitution does empower this body, the Senate, to remove the Attorney General from her position.

"The second point, there was a comment made that maybe the Governor should withdraw and then reappoint her as an interim AG. That's unconstitutional. Once this body has received the Governor's Message, we're compelled to vote either up or down. The Governor can withdraw that nomination, however, under the Constitution, the Governor cannot reappoint her as an interim Attorney General. This was similar to the Greg Pai situation.

"The third point is, I don't believe that Ms. Bronster has the character that would retaliate against someone simply because there is an unpopular and legal decision to be made that would go against some member who may be voting against her.

"Fourth point, there were comments made about the threat of lawsuits to teachers. I want to read from an Attorney General's letter dated April 27: 'It is critical to the State's successful implementation of the Felix consent decree, that the record be corrected and that the teachers and all who are involved in the implementation know that the legal support is available for the effort. For the record, of the approximately 15 lawsuits currently pending involving the Department of Education Special Education Program, none of these suits, none of these 15 suits are against teachers. All suits properly named either the DOE or the educational officials, and they, the teachers, are all being fully represented by the Attorney General's office.'

"Fifth point, Mr. President, Mark Fukunaga gave a legal contribution to Governor Cayetano in his campaign. He gave him the maximum contribution of $6,000. He was negligent in reporting that contribution in a timely manner. The contribution, however, was not illegal. He was as negligent as hundreds of other companies and corporations throughout this State were because of a change that we had made to the campaign spending laws.

"Mr. President, I support Margery Bronster for our Attorney General and I ask that at the appropriate time, Mr. President, may we have a roll call vote.

"Thank you."

Senator Kanno rose to speak against the nominee as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against the nominee.

"Mr. President, I'd like to begin by commending Ms. Bronster for her work on the Bishop Estate investigation, the tobacco lawsuit and the gasoline pricing lawsuit. With respect to these three areas, her courage and leadership must be commended.

"There are, however, a number of critical issues that have been brought forward about Ms. Bronster.

"As the State's chief legal officer, we need the most highly qualified individual whose opinions are respected by the courts, State agencies and those in public service.

"The legal counsel she provided to the Office of Elections added to the public mistrust of our election system. When a large number of spoiled ballots were counted in one Waianae District, she blamed the low education levels of the people of Waianae.

"When the blank ballots were an issue on the constitutional amendments, she issued an opinion that there shall be a constitutional convention. A legal challenge in the courts resulted in the Attorney General and the State losing on the matter.

"Her role in the ceded land dispute and the Hawaiian Home Lands settlements have angered many in our community.

"In the book purchasing controversy with our library system, Ms. Bronster defended the State and lost. It was found that the State didn't comply with the State Procurement Law.

"The Felix consent decree is one of the most troubling issues affecting all of our schools. Out of the 161 attorneys in her office, only two are assigned to work on Felix. School administrators and teachers are left feeling they have been left hanging out to dry.

"Along with Felix, the State is also struggling under a consent decree for the State Hospital. As the State's chief legal officer, it is her obligation to ensure compliance with these consent decrees. Failure to do so means potential risks of further court infractions and millions of dollars in State expenditures.

"State agencies have indicated a difficulty in getting timely responses from the Attorney General.

"In an audit of the Health Fund released yesterday by the State Auditor Marion Higa, auditors found that 11 of 13 contracts that should have been effective from July 1, 1996 to June 30, 1999 have not been signed yet. According to the Health Fund, the Attorney General's office did not approve signing the contracts. These 11 contracts represent a cost of approximately $200 million for each year. The two signed contracts equal $3.2 million. The audit indicates, 'its failure to properly execute the contracts not only means the enforcement of contract provisions is unlikely but also that both the Health Fund and the State are at risk if contractual disagreements arise.'

"It has also come to my attention that the Budget Director and others have not complied with opinions issued by Ms. Bronster.

"In deciding on Ms. Bronster's nomination, I believe we must consider the good that she has done with the Bishop Estate investigation, the tobacco lawsuit and the gasoline pricing lawsuit. That must be weighed with the concerns that have been brought forward.

"This question about Ms. Bronster needs to be asked: 'Is there someone who is more qualified to be Attorney General?' The answer I have heard from many is 'Yes. There are others who are more qualified.'

"As chief legal officer for the State of Hawaii, we need the most highly qualified person. Someone whose opinions will hold up in the courts. Someone whose opinions will be respected by those in her own administration. Someone who will provide proper legal counsel to State agencies in a timely manner.

"Is she the most qualified? When Ms. Bronster is held to this highest of standards, I have to say 'No, she is not the most qualified for this position.'

"I urge my colleagues to vote 'no.'"

The motion was put by the Chair and failed to carry on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 11. Noes, 14 (Anderson, Buen, Chun, Fukunaga, Hanabusa, D. Ige, M. Ige, Kanno, Kawamoto, Matsuura, Mizuguchi, Nakata, Tam, Tanaka).

At 2:24 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 2:32 o'clock p.m.

Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1806 (Gov. Msg. No. 146):

Senator Levin moved that Stand. Com. Rep. No. 1806 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland and carried.

Senator Levin then moved that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination of EARL I. ANZAI as Director of Finance, term to expire December 2, 2002, seconded by Senator Chun Oakland.

Senator Tam rose in opposition to the nominee and said:

"Mr. President and fellow colleagues, I rise to speak against Mr. Earl I. Anzai as the State of Hawaii's Director of Finance.

"I make it a practice, if I may before starting, to always give justification in terms of my vote. I've learned that rather than letting negative perceptions be available in people's minds, you might as well make it clear in people's minds, because the human mind is more negative than positive. And so I had to vote in terms of what is the rational basis. So here it goes.

"My opposition is based on the basis of the acting Finance Director not only representing the Governor but also representing us, the Legislature. He's only recommended to us for confirmation. The Legislature represents elected Representatives and Senators who embrace our form of government called democracy. Democracy embraces the public hearing process which we go through painfully for 60 working days, away from our families and so forth, eating improperly, eating at 12 o'clock midnight, which I do for dinner many times and many of you do also.

"Democracy embraces the public hearing process, thus what it means is public involvement. Unfortunately, I'm not trying to criticize Mr. Anzai, but he has stated, publicly, his opposition of the public hearing process in disclosing proposed budget allocation restrictions by the Governor. Democracy is very dear to my heart. I was raised on that basis. They call it brainwashed or whatever you may call it, but that's what I've learned through our public educational system. If I'm wrong, then we're teaching our students, our young ones, wrongfully. But I don't think so. This is what we all personally enjoy. I've been to other countries and, if I may say openly, I've been to countries where they have communism, and believe me, when you are in a country of communism you feel like everybody is watching you all around. You may be a diplomat there representing, say in this case, Hawaii, but you feel very, very cautious in what you're doing and you're very, very cautious in what you're saying also too. But I've been lucky when I traveled abroad, and things have gone smoothly in that regard.

"We are public servants of Hawaii's citizens and are obligated, obligated to protect our form of government called democracy through the voices of Hawaii's citizens. You know, I take it very seriously when we're sworn into office. I remember at the start of this legislative session, I had to take the oath of office to abide by our form of government called democracy, the open hearing process. And it's not an easy process, but it invites comments whether they be for or against, and I appreciate that process and we should really embrace it, whether it be from us as Legislators or from administration, all government officials across the State of Hawaii. And for us to deny that process to the citizens of the State of Hawaii is wrongful. One should give up their citizenship, if I may say harshly.

"Also, the second reason of my concern is that the acting Finance Director opposes what has been very dear to me in working all these years -- the use of the federal impact aid money for our students. We receive money from the federal government on a yearly basis. I believe this year we're going to receive about $25 million. But you know what has happened to this $25 million over the years? When we receive it, respectively, it is co-mingled into the general fund. It is not used for education which is supposed to be above that of the general funds we budget for education. And what has it been called? Whether it be the administration in the past of Ariyoshi, administration of Governor Waihee, or even the current administration, they say it is a reimbursement. Yes, technically, it is a reimbursement, but it's what the federal calls it. But they didn't mean for it to intend that for every dollar that we receive from the federal, we're going to return back the money to the general funds. Their intention was that the federal imposes a burden because they have employees of the federal government who have children who go to public schools, and this is their way of saying, well, let's give a helping hand to the states. Put in more money for education. Take care of the needs, the repairs and maintenance of the schools. Many of you know that is very dear to me -- taking care of safety and health, textbooks, computers, and whatever. We need those things. Otherwise improper education occurs.

"But what has happened, as I stated, every dollar that comes in goes back into the general fund. So our students in the public schools do not get to benefit from that. And I have time and time again, over the years, stated that this is wrong, but time and time again, especially currently, the present Finance Director has stated no. The terminology for reimbursement is that the dollar we receive from the federal shall go back into the general fund, and I really believe that's wrong. And for that reason I'm voting 'no.'

"Thank you."

Senator Fukunaga also rose in opposition to the nominee and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in opposition to this nomination.

"Mr. President, the past four years have been enormously difficult financial times for the State of Hawaii. They require us to exercise extreme care in identifying ways in which we may balance the State's budget as we seek to rebuild the State's economy.

"Let me provide just one example of the reasons for my opposing the nomination of this State Budget Director. In late 1996, the nominee requested an Attorney General's Opinion about whether he could include budget restrictions in the State's financial plan, pursuant to Hawaii Revised Statutes, Chapter 37. On January 13, 1997 the nominee received the Attorney General's Opinion which reaffirmed an earlier 1983 Attorney General's opinion which stated, in essence, that budget restrictions could not be used to balance the State's financial plan.

"Relying on the State Constitution and the Hawaii Revised Statutes, the earlier opinion said, in part: '... the Governor cannot substitute his judgment for that of the Legislature by reducing expenditures, for that would result in an abuse of power by the Governor of the executive spending power. While the allotment system authorizes the Governor to reduce expenditures where unanticipated revenue shortfalls occur, it does not permit the Executive Branch to prioritize authorized expenditures and to reallocate resources, for to do so would be usurpation of the Legislature's appropriation powers.'

"Mr. President, although the nominee received the Attorney General's Opinion that said that he could not balance the budget using budget restrictions, he nevertheless proceeded to do just that in the financial plan that he has submitted to the 1999 Legislature. What this means is that the Legislature cannot properly exercise its oversight role and examine whether the expenditures being proposed are prudent, whether they will ensure effective delivery of services and whether government can in fact remove some of the obstacles that hinder our economic recovery. This robs the Legislature of the opportunity to exercise its proper role of providing oversight over state spending.

"I believe that the development of the State's spending policy represents the most important blueprint for our government's operations. Without an accurate picture of how we are spending public dollars and how and when we will be reducing such spending, I cannot in good conscience support Mr. Anzai's nomination.

"I regretfully urge my colleagues to vote in opposition.

"Thank you."

Senator Anderson then made the following request:

"Mr. President, I have some remarks on my vote that I would like to insert into the Journal."

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Anderson's remarks read as follows:

"MR. ANZAI DOES NOT TELL THE STORY STRAIGHT"

"Mr. Anzai described the monies in the highway fund as 'surplus.' The administration proposed transferring funds from the highway fund to the general fund which the legislature subsequently acted upon. Other economists, as stated prior to the transfer, indicated the highway fund will have a deficit in four years and the gas taxes will need to be increased to make up for the shortfall. In short, Mr. Anzai's advice to the legislature led to a raid of the highway fund and the bottom line is that taxes will rise.

EMPLOYEES RETIREMENT FUND

"Mr. Anzai also encourages raiding the Employees Retirement Fund. This year, Mr. Anzai wants to raid the ERS funds to give money to the counties and to pay for school repairs. In 1995, Mr. Anzai was extremely reluctant to reduce the state contribution to the ERS below a 5 percent salary increase assumption in order to protect the integrity of the retirement system, as he stated in a November 12, 1995 Advertiser article. The very next year, he changed his position and presented testimony in WAM supporting a 4 percent assumption. As of this morning, April 28, 1999, it now earns about 3.5 percent down from $9 billion to $8.2 billion.

"As he stated in the above mentioned article, 'Raiding the retirement fund would betray public trust. We cannot raid an already underfunded pension system just because it would be an easy way to solve today's budget crisis.' Yet, this is exactly what Mr. Anzai is advocating today.

DETERMINING HAWAII'S BOND RATING

"Mr. Anzai continuously testifies that the Legislature must protect the State's bond rating. The year end balance of the general fund is an important element in determining the State's bond rating and consequently, the interest rate to be paid on bonds sold. In 1995, he advised the Legislature the State must keep 5 percent of the amount of the general fund ($150 million) to meet the bond counsel's standard. Later, he testified that the State must keep a 2 1/2 - 3 percent or 75-100 million dollars in the general fund or the State would lose its current bond rating. However, when there was a danger the general fund might dip to $42 million, Mr. Anzai testified that $50 million in the general fund was safe. This is totally contrary to his own previous statements.

BUDGET REALITIES

"How much is really in the general fund as compared to yesterday or tomorrow? In September 1998, Mr. Anzai announced a state surplus of $154 million which he anticipated would increase to $234 million for FY 1999. In fact, the surplus was not due to prudent fiscal management; it was a result of non-funding of State employee raises ($70m), the payroll lag ($45m), and raiding of a number of special funds. This is another example of how Mr. Anzai adjusts his statements to the facts at hand. How much will really be in the general fund at the end of FY 1999? Does even Mr. Anzai know?

ARROGANCE

"Mr. Anzai can be non-responsive and in fact, arrogant in committee hearings. Mr. Anzai illustrated this arrogance when he walked out of an important WAM hearing on performance based budgeting. Before the Senators completed questioning Mr. Anzai, he left to testify in another committee.

"In a January 13, 1997 opinion, the Attorney General advised against using spending restrictions to balance the budget. The budget presented was not prioritized and over-sized, contrary to advisement of the Attorney General. When questioned in a WAM hearing as to why he ignored the advice, Mr. Anzai is quoted as saying that he 'either overlooked it or didn't even consider it. I don't even remember it.' In preparing the Administration's budget, figures should reflect the Administration's priorities and should not institutionalize budget balancing by restrictions and lapsing of funds, but should come up with a balanced budget that's based on forethought instead of afterthought.

"Mr. Anzai is dawdling in his role of reforming the budget process, obviously not taking it as seriously as he should. The 1998 Legislature passed a bill requiring a committee to meet and develop a performance based budget that is transparent and understandable to the public. As a member of the committee and as the State Budget Director, Mr. Anzai has not been proactive in this role.

"Earl Anzai should pursue all of his roles and duties aggressively in order to address the needs of a state that is in increasing economic woes. Time is money."

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

The following messages from the Governor (Gov. Msg. Nos. 353 to 355) were read by the Clerk and were placed on file:

Gov. Msg. No. 353, dated April 27, 1999, transmitting his statement of objections to House Bill No. 1413 which he has returned to the House of Representatives without his approval and which reads as follows:

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

April 27, 1999

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 1413

Honorable Members
Twentieth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1413, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to QUEST.'

The purpose of House Bill No. 1413 is to require the Department of Human Services (DHS) to use actuarially valid risk factor adjustments derived from actual QUEST member experience to modify payments to the various QUEST plans. This bill amends chapter 346, Hawaii Revised Statutes, to require DHS to do the following: (1) conduct an annual review of the risk factor adjustment methodology; (2) include in the risk factor adjustment methodology, after consultation with the contracted health plans, the health characteristics of the QUEST patients being served; and (3) identify those characteristics that are to be considered high risk.

Assuming the existing structure for the methodology remained the same, DHS has no objection in principle to modifying the risk factor adjustments based upon validated data. However, this bill presents severe financial and administrative problems. First, the data must be validated. The process of validating sufficient data upon which the risk factor adjustment methodology may be changed is expensive and time consuming. There is no funding for the contract monitoring and new data collection procedures to be implemented. As a practical matter, therefore, this process cannot be completed in the near future.

Second, a change in the methodology to add health characteristics requires DHS to create an entirely new risk factor adjustment methodology, one for which there is currently no good model. The use of health characteristics as risk adjustment factors is extremely difficult and complicated. There is no consensus among the six existing providers as to the appropriate health conditions to be included. Although at least one state does use health characteristics, that state's experience with risk adjustment factors is extremely poor, and there is no nationally recognized model upon which DHS can base such a system of risk adjustment.

Third, even if DHS could make the necessary changes required by this bill, the changes would require DHS to cancel the existing contract awards, notice a new request for proposal, and proceed through the procurement process again. DHS has recently awarded three-year contracts to various health plans based upon a specific risk factor methodology that was included in the request for proposal, but the contracts have not been signed yet and will not be effective until July 1, 1999. If this bill becomes law in April 1999, DHS must change the proposed contract language in order to conform to the changes required by this bill. The change in the terms and conditions of the contract will then require that the existing contract awards be canceled, a new request for proposal be noticed, and the procurement process be repeated in order to adequately notice the public as to the changed conditions of the bid. DHS estimates that a rebid would result in a seven-month delay. Any delay in the procurement process will cause confusion and uncertainty among the QUEST recipients.

Furthermore, the rebids are likely to be higher than the current bids. The current bids are below DHS estimates and the savings were reported in my administration's budget message. My administration reported projected savings of $8.9 million dollars in fiscal year 1999-2000 and an additional projected savings of $8.9 million in fiscal year 2000-2001. If this bill becomes law, DHS believes that these moneys will no longer be savings and will be needed to implement the new law.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 1413 without my approval.

Respectfully,

/s/ Benjamin J. Cayetano
BENJAMIN J. CAYETANO
Governor of Hawaii"

Gov. Msg. No. 354, informing the Senate that on April 28, 1999, he signed into law House Bill No. 1013 as Act 55, entitled: "MAKING AN APPROPRIATION FOR THE HAWAII TOURISM AUTHORITY."

Gov. Msg. No. 355, dated April 29, 1999, transmitting his statement of objections to House Bill No. 1338 which he has returned to the House of Representatives without his approval and which reads as follows:

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS
HONOLULU

April 29, 1999

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 1338

Honorable Members
Twentieth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1338, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Public Contracts.'

The purpose of House Bill No. 1338 is to limit the amount of retainage to be withheld by a contractor from its subcontractor on a public works contract to a maximum of five percent of the subcontractor's contract price. This limitation would also apply to subcontractors on public works contracts who subcontract work to other subcontractors.

Historically, the laws affecting public works contracts have always avoided inserting the government into the relationship between the general contractor and its subcontractors. In doing so, the government deals directly only with the general contractor and not with the numerous subcontractors on a public works project. This results in a more efficient and cost-effective project. By mandating the amount of retainage a general contractor may withhold from its subcontractors, this bill interferes with their relationship. In addition, I believe that if this bill is enacted, general contractors may begin requiring subcontractors to post performance and payment bonds for participation in public works projects, which will lead to higher costs of public works projects. Furthermore, if such bonding requirements are imposed on subcontractors by the general contractors, smaller subcontractors will not be able to participate in public works projects, thereby eliminating competition among the subcontractors that would otherwise exist.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 1338 without my approval.

Respectfully,

/s/ Benjamin J. Cayetano
BENJAMIN J. CAYETANO
Governor of Hawaii"

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of the nomination.

"Mr. President, among the nominee's many achievements, Dr. Gregory Pai holds a Ph.D. in economics from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and a Master's degree in architecture from Harvard University. He has worked as an economist with the Bureau of Economic Analysis in the U.S. Department of Commerce and has served for six years as vice-president and chief economist with First Hawaiian Bank.

"Dr. Pai has a distinguished history of public service. In 1989 he was appointed special assistant to the governor for economic affairs and was subsequently named director of the Office of State Planning. He is currently an interim commissioner on the PUC.

"In addition, Dr. Pai is active in community affairs, having served as president of the Korean Chamber of Commerce of Hawaii, the American Statistical Association - Hawaii Chapter, and First Night Honolulu. He has served on the boards of numerous organizations, including Hawaii Public Radio, the Honolulu Symphony Orchestra, the Health and Community Services Council of Hawaii, and the Girl Scout Council of the Pacific.

"Dr. Pai's expertise in economic analysis and planning has been invaluable to the PUC in its decision making since a significant number of utility filings involve complex economic issues. Further, his diverse experiences in the public and private sectors have given him a broad and balanced perspective on the issues facing the PUC.

"Dr. Pai's strong points include his extensive knowledge of the regulatory process, dedication, independence, leadership, and a commitment to public service.

"Dr. Pai's supporters include: the chair of the Public Utilities Commission (PUC); the administrative director of the PUC; the Hawaii Korean Chamber of Commerce; the Korean American Bar Association Hawaii; the Hawaii Han-in Sports Association; the Honolulu Korean Jaycees; the Korean American Women's Club; and the Korean American Coalition - Hawaii Chapter.

"The members of the Committee on Commerce and Consumer Protection, after full consideration of the background, character, experience and qualifications of the nominee, have found him to be qualified for the position to which he has been nominated and recommends that the Senate advise and consent to the nomination.

"Thank you."

Senator Kanno then rose in opposition to the nominee and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against the nominee.

"Mr. President, there were a number of concerns that were brought up at the hearing on Mr. Pai's nomination. First, there was the concern of a lack of background in telecommunications -- a concern that the Public Utilities Commission is increasingly needing to address very technical issues and very complex ones having to do with the area of telecommunications and the concern that Mr. Pai does not have the background in that particular area.

"Secondly, there was testimony opposed to Mr. Pai coming from a resident of the Kapolei area. Previously, Mr. Pai served as chair of the Barbers Point Redevelopment Commission and during that time, when he first came on, there were many difficult issues that the community was dealing with, including locating a reliever airport at Barbers Point. Mr. Pai started his term promising many in the community that there would be more input and more time allowed for community discussions during the meetings. During his tenure at the Barbers Point Redevelopment Commission things changed, and the community was left very upset about the way that he conducted the meetings and the lack of opportunity for the community to participate in the meetings. At times, the community asked to be able to provide comments on issues that were up for a vote before the commission and the suggestion was made to the community that their comments could only come at the end of the meeting, long after the vote. That was a major concern for the community.

"Lastly, the issue which is important to me is the issue of undergrounding of power lines. Mr. Pai indicated that he opposed measures mandating the undergrounding of power lines in residential areas or near schools and child care centers. Secondly, he indicated that in his thinking there is not a means for the Public Utilities Commission to underground a power line and to spread that cost throughout the rate base.

"As the Legislature and the community as a whole have struggled with the undergrounding of power lines, many of us have wanted the Public Utilities Commission to look at these areas. At this point, Mr. Pai has indicated that there isn't a mechanism that would allow for the undergrounding of power lines and the spreading of those costs to the rate base unless there are specific federal funds or other special funds, and that is very troubling. The Public Utilities Commission is responsible for determining whether a power line gets built above ground or underground, and there have been a number of instances where the community has wanted to be a part of the proceedings and have these concerns be a part of the discussion at the Public Utilities Commission. Mr. Pai's nomination unfortunately means that the community will not have a real opportunity to advocate for the undergrounding of power lines.

"As well as the issues about open proceedings, Mr. Pai indicated that the Public Utilities Commission is moving towards a process that will involve the public more. Some of what he said, though, is really about getting information out to the community. I think the community's real concern is being able to have input, real input, into the commission's dealings, have the commissioners listen to the community and have that input be a part of the decisions that come out. Currently, the position that Mr. Pai is taking is that there really will not be the undergrounding of power lines where the cost will have to be passed on to the rate payers, and that's a very unfortunate situation.

"I just hope that if Mr. Pai is confirmed this evening that he takes a little broader perspective and maybe an open mind to the issue, because it is an important issue for our community. To enter into a position as important as a member of the Public Utilities Commission and be closed to the idea of undergrounding of power lines when it's an important community issue, and to have a background where concerns have been raised about public input and concerns about his background in the area of telecommunications, I do hope that he and the other members of the commission will consider the community interest in this area.

"I urge my colleagues to vote 'no.' Thank you."

Senator Hanabusa then rose and said:

"Mr. President, I request that the comments of the Senator from Ewa be reflected in the Journal as if they were my own.

"Thank you."

The Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 19. Noes, 3 (Fukunaga, Hanabusa, Kanno). Excused, 3 (Bunda, D. Ige, Iwase).

At this time, Senator Taniguchi introduced Dr. Pai who was seated in the gallery.

At 7:57 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 8:01 o'clock p.m.

Senator Slom rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

"Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

"About an hour ago I was watching a live television interview with the Governor and I was very happy to see the Governor since we have not seen the Governor very much during this legislative session. And it was a very interesting interview, Mr. President, because the Governor was asked during the interview whether or not he made any threats against any Senators for any of their actions. And he said no, he made no threats. And he was asked if there would be any retaliation against any Senators, and the Governor replied that retaliation was not his priority.

"And then, Mr. President, the question was asked if he in fact could work with you further in the future. And the Governor responded that yes, he could work with you, Mr. President, professionally, and then he brought my name into it, somehow, saying that he could work with me, also, professionally, but not socially and that you don't have to love people that you work with. So I felt very good about that, in a way. And then the Governor did say that he has been hard at work behind the scenes but now it's time to bring the issues into the sunlight. So, since this is the 59th day of the session, I'm very happy that we're finally going to see some sunlight on many of these issues that we've all been concerned about.

"So I was hoping that you had seen it too so that you would feel as warm and fuzzy as I do, Mr. President.

"Thank you very much."

"Mr. President, would you please put me down 'with reservations' on the administrative rules.

"I do remember the Governor on opening day stating that he was going to have the Lt. Governor work on administrative rules and it would help business. I had said at that time that we did have a bill that would have made all rules -- there's some 34 feet of them -- it would have made them all drop dead in two years, and the departments could justify those rules that were needed. That would have helped business, would have made it easier for the people of Hawaii to understand the rules that we have in place because they do have the rule of the law.

"So for that reason I'm going with reservations at this time."

At this time, Senator Slom requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Sakamoto spoke on the measure with reservations as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak with reservations on this measure.

"While I applaud the efforts of the Motor Vehicle Insurance Benefits Task Force and agree that the reporting deadline should be extended, I'm concerned about the section of the bill that expands the free insurance coverage. We already provide free coverage for individuals receiving public assistance benefits consisting of direct cash payments. This measure will also include those receiving public assistance in the form of medical services prior to July 1994 and are still receiving benefits through the Department of Human Services.

"While it's a nice thing to do, it's an increase in cost of government and its time, and we should be doing all possible to decrease costs.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Slom also rose in support with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, I, too, rise in support with reservations.

"You know, we keep talking about free insurance, free lunches, and everything else. There is no cost attached to this bill. We have a cost for it. And instead of trying to reduce and eliminate those people who are getting the insurance at the cost of other people, we should not be in the process of expanding it. So, reservations please."

Senators Iwase and Anderson requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 10 was adopted and S.B. No. 957, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MOTOR VEHICLE INSURANCE," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Tam's remarks read as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of S.B. No. 1519, Relating to Housing.

"Within our State, there are more than 3,000 federally assisted housing units, which contributed an estimated $20 million annually to our economy. The original 20-year contracts with the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development are expiring on many of these projects.

"With this act, we propose to:

- (1) Provide protection to residents of HUD assisted housing;
- (2) Preserve as many assisted units as possible from sale on the open market; and
- (3) Create the federally assisted rental housing preservation program.

"This rental housing preservation program will:

- (1) Provide for a one-year notice of termination by the owner;
- (2) Include the anticipated date of termination;
- (3) Include anticipated rent increases;
- (4) Include notice sent to the HCDCH and the county;
- (5) Include a statement of possibility that the project may remain in the federal program; and
- (6) Include timetables and deadlines.

"The right to purchase shall be first provided to:

- (1) The tenant association;

- (2) Local nonprofit;
- (3) HCDCH or county; and
- (4) Regional or national nonprofit or public agency.

"Within my district, the Mauna Kea Towers is in this situation. In the McCully area of town, the McCully Circle Apartments will soon be providing notice. Many of the occupants are elderly and barely able to pay $150 each month for rent.

"I ask my colleagues in the Senate for your wholehearted support for this measure."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 17 was adopted and S.B. No. 1519, S.D. 3, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HOUSING," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Sakamoto rose in support of the measure with reservations as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in support with reservations.

"I agree that contractors should be penalized for violations relating to wage and hours if they are delinquent. But these penalties, part of it stated in this bill, are too steep. What if the violation occurs in one pay period? The bill states that each employee and each project shall be considered a separate violation. So this could all happen in one pay period to three different individuals, and then there'll be immediate suspension. So I don't think it should be each employee, each project. I think we should look at making the offenses separate.

"Thank you."

Senators Inouye, Slom and Iwase then requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 18 was adopted and S.B. No. 1149, S.D. 1, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ENFORCEMENT OF WAGE LAWS," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 21 was adopted and S.B. No. 664, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SPECIAL NUMBER PLATES," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom rose to speak against the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against the bill.

"While the purpose of the bill is laudatory, as are so many of the bills we discuss every year, the problem with this bill is, I believe, that basically it's unconstitutional because it creates a presumption that the car owner was the photographed violator, in the bill. Certainly we want to move towards the use of technology in our quest for law enforcement, but at the same time we don't want to do it at the expense of denying civil rights.

"What this bill does is remove the defendant's presumption of innocence and it does so by providing, quote, 'evidence that the motor vehicle described in the citation or summons issued pursuant to this act was operated in violation of those sections of the Hawaii Revised Statutes together with proof that the person to whom this summons or citation was sent was a registered owner of the vehicle at the time of the violation, and it shall constitute prima facie evidence that the registered owner of the vehicle was the person who committed the violation.'

"So what this does, in effect, it retains the unconstitutional presumption of guilt and it requires that the innocent defendant get the actual violator to waive his or her Fifth Amendment rights. And we really don't have to do this because the Hawaii Revised Statutes already provides in Section 291C-223 a procedure for officers to issue summons by mail for violations such as found currently in the high occupancy lane for restrictions. So I'll be voting 'no.'

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Anderson then rose in opposition and said:

"Mr. President, I will be going 'no' for the same reasons as the Minority Floor Leader and I thank you very much."

Senator Kawamoto spoke in favor of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I speak in favor of this bill.

"Mr. President, this bill is just amending something we passed last year. Last year we had the same presumption clauses in the bill and it was passed as an Act. This is just an amendment to further provide the opportunity to ensure these things work.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 22 was adopted and S.B. No. 709, S.D. 1, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TRAFFIC ENFORCEMENT," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom rose to oppose the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I'm going to rise and speak against the bill.

"Again, I think the purpose here is to remove laser pointers from children or minors because of possible injury, because of possible harassment. But the problem is we continue to ban things and to take away the legitimate use from individuals who act responsibly. And in addition, in the penalty provision of this bill we allow for up to 30 days in prison for the mere possession of a laser pointer.

"I think that again if we are going to worry about where prisons are going to be or where people are going to be, then we should think about that before we pass additional laws that are going to fine and/or imprison people.

"Thank you."

Senator Kanno rose in support of the bill and said:

"Mr. President, I'd like to speak in support of the measure.

"To clarify the provisions of the C.D. 1, the provision for imprisonment was eliminated from the bill for minors. The provision for a 30-day imprisonment applies only to adults who are found guilty of using it to harass others.

Senator Slom rose to speak against the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against this bill.

"This bill, again, makes the presumption that those of us over 39 really can't take care of ourselves and need special treatment because we are so old and doddering that we can't answer the telephone or hang up on the telephone. But the interesting thing about this bill is that while it seeks to curtail telemarketing fraud, it also seeks to curtail a lot of the activities of telemarketing. While I'm not in favor of telemarketing, itself, again one can just say no and one can hang up.

"The provision that was changed that I arose and spoke against during the crossover about the number of rings has now been changed to a time limit on it. And one final interesting thing is that financial institutions have been exempted from this bill. So I don't think it's really offering us consumer protection.

"I'll be voting 'no.'"

Senator Anderson also rose to oppose the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I'll also be going 'no.'"

"It does say that there's $40 billion a year of fraud within the United States, but when we asked about in Hawaii, we don't have a problem right now with fraud. The bill was in case there is and later on. And then as the Minority Floor Leader said, it was supposed to be that they were going to help the seniors. They weren't interested in other areas. Most of the seniors I talked to are smart enough and intelligent enough to hang up and they don't fall for every line that somebody has.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 30 was adopted and S.B. No. 947, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TELEMARKETING FRAUD," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Sakamoto rose to support the measure with reservations as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support with reservations.

"My reservations concern what groups or individuals would be considered a ballot issue committee. I believe it's beneficial to society and government that citizens become actively involved in the process, and I think we should do all possible to enable participation in the process of governance and law making. I'm concerned that this measure, this part of the bill, will hinder that effort.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senators Slom and Anderson requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Slom rose in opposition and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against the bill.

"I have continually spoken against mandates, whether it is, in this bill, contraceptive devices or other devices.

"The original purpose of the prepaid health care act in 1974 was to provide basic medical services, and since that time we've added many additional services and other things that are not related directly to health at great cost, primarily to small business employers who pay usually from 90 to 100 percent of all the cost. There has been no change in the law since 1974 in terms of the contributions that employees can make. So I'll vote 'no.'"

Senator Slom rose in support of the measure with reservations as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of the bill with reservations.

"Well, this bill had a spotty history during this session. We were supposed to do something to help the merchants at Aloha Tower, and we were supposed to do something to keep the State's promise from the outset on this project.

"The battle over this particular bill -- the Aloha Tower Marketplace -- really came down to whether or not we would do anything against the estate of the Irwin family and Irwin Park. And to the credit of this body, we stood firm in opposition to paving over the park as a park into a parking lot, but at the same time as this bill comes out now, it doesn't do anything to alleviate the original problem or to restore the promise made by the State when it first developed this project and that was the State said very specifically 'we will provide parking; we will use Piers 1 and 2 or 5 and 6 or 8 and 9 or 10 and 11.' And so the State hasn't done anything. And meanwhile, the viability, the economic prosperity of this project remains in doubt.

"So if anything, this lesson should be twofold: (1) we should certainly honor wills and the wishes of estates; and (2) we should make this State keep its promises or 'let the buyer beware' whenever they go into any kind of business with the State government.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Anderson rose to oppose the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I will be going 'no' for the very reasons that the Minority Floor Leader talked about.

"We did nothing to take care of the problems that were before us. I have no problem with civil service employees, but that's not what the intent of this bill was in the first place. And again, it's something that we start out well. We were going to make a lot of corrections. We were going to help a development that we were responsible for. Yet, we're not going to take care of the parking and the rest of the responsibilities that we've taken on.

"For that reason I will go 'no.'"

Senator M. Ige spoke on the measure with reservations as follows:

"Mr. President, I, too, rise with some reservations.

"Mr. President, during the testimony there were a lot of businesses from the area who came who need parking. I think that was the original purpose of the bill. Unfortunately, the bill that comes before us does not solve the issue as the two previous speakers mentioned.

"In speaking to the chair of the Transportation Committee, this appears to be an economic development issue. It's just unfortunate that we did not have the courage to say we're going to build a parking structure at Pier 5 to provide the parking for these individuals.

"Unfortunately, we didn't do a lot of things, and I just hope that during the interim we can look at the cruise ships and how the whole thing fits into this master plan with Pier 2, Pier 5, Pier 10 and 11 and the monies.

"As the chair of Transportation also stated, there's another bill coming up that looks at Pier 2, the Foreign Trade Zone, monies which I will be speaking on. But on this one, it's just a very sad day that we did not seize the opportunity for the merchants out there that are suffering because they don't have the parking.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 59 was adopted and H.B. No. 1028, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ALOHA TOWER DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, 2 (Anderson, Slom).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 63 (H.B. No. 806, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Hanabusa moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 63 be adopted and H.B. No. 806, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1 having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Levin.

Senator Anderson rose to oppose the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I'm afraid I'm going to have to go 'no' on this particular measure.

"I did go 'with reservations' so that it could go to conference, and from what we can understand from our attorney, the land change is against our Hawaii Revised Statutes. It clearly spells out how and why we should go ahead and exchange lands and this is not one of the purposes. Because of all of those reasons it is not the reasons of the neighbors or anything, but because it's against the laws that we have in place on land. And I would have hoped that everybody would have read that so that we would not just push the bill forward to allow a race track that hopefully will stimulate the economy, but not on illegal lands.

"Thank you very much, Mr. President."

Senator Inouye rose to speak against the bill and said:

"Mr. President, I will be voting 'no' on this bill for the simple reason that my constituents feel that they should be told about this beforehand and that they would certainly want to have some say in making decisions in the land exchange, as well as the particular site in question.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Iwase requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 63 was adopted and H.B. No. 806, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO LAND EXCHANGE," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 19. Noes, 6 (Anderson, Chumbley, Ihara, Inouye, Matsunaga, Slom).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 64 (H.B. No. 1522, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Kanno moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 64 be adopted and H.B. No. 1522, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1 having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against the bill.

"This bill exempts county property tax assessors from the real estate appraiser licensing requirements. And as I pointed out when this bill crossed over before, the problem is that I believe that the county appraiser should be held to the same standards as all other real estate appraisers. And in the past we've seen, particularly here in the City and County of Honolulu, falsification of appraisal values by county appraisers on behalf of the Mayor and the City administration in order to get higher property taxes from the hotel and commercial interests.

"So in fairness to all and in the idea of everybody playing by the same rules, I urge my colleagues to vote 'no' on this bill.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 64 was adopted and H.B. No. 1522, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO REAL PROPERTY APPRAISALS," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, 2 (Anderson, Slom).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 65 (H.B. No. 602, S.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Kawamoto moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 65 be adopted and H.B. No. 602, S.D. 1, C.D. 1 having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Bunda.

Senator Slom rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"I rise to speak against the bill, Mr. President.

"Well, you know, I sat through the hearings and we had proposed an increase from $5 for the penalty and we proposed it up to $10. We were going to double it, but the House, you know they like to spend a lot more money and have bigger fines. They went all the way up to $50 and the justification was: Well, that's the way it is for cars, but the trailer is not a car. And I couldn't find any additional justification to raise the fine ten times, so I'm forced to go 'no.'

"Thank you."

Senator Kawamoto rose to support the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in favor of this bill.

"Mr. President, we looked at the $10 charge versus the $50 charge. The City came by and said that they're having problems. Again, this is a penalty -- if you don't register your trailer, you pay $50; the same as a car. The car penalty has been working very well. The registration has been up as far as if you sold the car. They would like to have the same method, the same remedy for the trailers not being registered. So we agreed with the City and County and also with the House.

"Thank you."

Senator Anderson rose in opposition to the bill and said:

"Mr. President, I'll be going 'no' for the very reason that the, I'm afraid the committee chairman. If the City needs to raise funds, I don't think that all you have to do is look at raising fees to the constituency. I think they should go ahead and do them the way they're supposed to, not raise every little bit here and there to make up the shortfall that they have. I think it's an unjust way, and for that reason I'll be going 'no.'

"And I wish that the Minority Floor Leader's words and the words of the chairman will also be inserted as my own.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 65 was adopted and H.B. No. 602, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO REGISTRATION OF A TRAILER," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, 2 (Anderson, Slom).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 66 (H.B. No. 719, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Kawamoto moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 66 be adopted and H.B. No. 719, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, C.D. 1 having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Fukunaga.

Senator Slom rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against this bill.

"It seems innocuous enough. We're only going to raise the fee from $1 to $2, although it's doubling the fee, and it's supposed to be for abandoned vehicles and for beautification. And who can be opposed to that, particularly the neighbor islands which have a real problem with abandoned vehicles and we certainly should take care of that. However, as testimony during the hearings on this bill showed, some of the counties look at this as an additional source of revenue. In fact, the City and County came in and testified when the bill originally proposed $3, and it was even suggested $5, that this would be a way of adding 17 more employees to the payroll.

"The bill does not absolutely require that the additional revenues be limited to beautification and/or removal of abandoned vehicles. And I am absolutely confident that if we double it this year we'll come back next year to double it again. And all of these $1, $2 increases continue to add up for the people in this State that are still the highest taxed, highest regulated people in the nation.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Kawamoto then rose to speak in favor of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of the bill.

"Mr. President, this bill came to us. Many members thought that if we go from $1 to $3, that would be sufficient. But since then, we have taken out the beautification part of the bill. It only addresses abandoned vehicles and this $1 increase would help the neighbor islands. But also, we had some problems with the U-Drives, so we exempt the U-Drives from this bill.

So the charge is $1 to $2 to help the neighbor islands and the Honolulu district with the abandoned vehicles.

"Thank you."

Senators Iwase and Sakamoto requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 66 was adopted and H.B. No. 719, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ABANDONED MOTOR VEHICLES," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, 2 (Anderson, Slom).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 67 (H.B. No. 221, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Inouye moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 67 be adopted and H.B. No. 221, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, C.D. 1 having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Fukunaga.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against this bill.

"I think the efforts of the committee in trying to hammer out the agreements and changes in both the HTA and also the Convention Authority are very laudable, but there is an egregious portion in this bill that I cannot support. This bill would allow the HTA board to 'withhold from public inspection and copying, any consultant's report and internal analysis related to the formulation of the strategic tourism marketing plan if, in the opinion of at least two-thirds of the HTA Board members, public disclosure of the documents would frustrate the ability of HTA to implement its strategic tourism marketing plan and maximize the economic benefit of its expenditures, contracts, and agreements.' It allows the HTA Board to 'discuss such documents' privately behind closed doors 'in executive session.'

"Mr. President, I've spoken against bills like this for the last three years. We are turning off the sunshine in this State. We are taking more things behind closed doors. The public has the right, they have a duty, they have an obligation to know what's going on, particularly if it's their money. If it's a private organization and they're ponying up their own money, let them do what they want, but we're spending the people's money and telling them that they don't have the right to see these things.

"Now I was told, Mr. President, that the reason that this is important is because suppose they're looking at a consultant's plan and we have 'spies' from Mexico or the Caribbean who want to find out about our plan. Mr. President, I think that they are doing well enough in Mexico and the Caribbean and all points around the world that they don't have to copy our plans. I think we're really concerned whether or not we ever have any plans. We know that we're spending money. We know that we're not getting results. So I think the more sunshine we can have on this, the better, and I would urge a 'no' vote on this bill.

"Thank you."

Senator Anderson requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

Ayes, 24. Noes, 1 (Slom).

At 11:19 o'clock a.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 11:23 o'clock a.m.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 74 (H.B. No. 1637, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator D. Ige moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 74 be adopted and H.B. No. 1637, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1 having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Fukunaga.

Senator Anderson rose to speak against the bill and stated:

"Mr. President, I'm afraid I'm still going to go 'no' on this particular measure.

"It started out when we were discussing this that the safety of our children was looked at because of the use of those buses that did not have the proper safety standards that the Department of Transportation had asked for a few years back. I see that that's not in the bill anymore. So they've just actually said we don't have to worry about safety.

"I think that when we had our old buses, if you remember, Kamehameha was blue and white; Punahou was buff and blue. We had a lot of the preschools that had little children on them and the whole bit. And then when the federal government said you had to come up by certain standards, you had to build a structure that would make it so if the bus got into an accident it was going to be stronger. Every bus had to be painted yellow. They had to follow a standard and they had to make sure that standard was going to be safety for our children. That's why they were painted yellow so that everybody knew it was a school bus.

"In this particular measure it says, availability if they do not have a bus that's going to be used with a bottom structure, I guess for bands or football equipment. Well, my understanding from some of the school bus people is they do have those types of buses. All they have to do is let them know ahead of time if they're going to be available or not on a particular day. This one says if they're not available, so I'm not sure how much time they have to give the bus company to make sure if that bus is going to be available.

"It also says to define a motorcoach as 'a vehicle that carries more than 25 passengers, has a gross vehicle weight rating of at least 26,000 pounds and is no more than 15 years old.' Again, it doesn't say anything about the safety for the children. Is that bus because it's 15 years old has it been upgraded, like you do your cars a lot of times? There's nothing in here that really reads out what we're doing for the children and what we're doing to the Department of Transportation to make them a more responsible department.

"For those reasons, I'll be going 'no', Mr. President."

Senator Kawamoto rose to speak on the measure with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, I'd like to speak for this bill with reservations.

"The primary concern I have, Mr. President, is that since it was safety of a vehicle and DOT's responsibility, this bill did not come to our committee. Therefore, I would like to go 'WR' at this time."

Senator Bunda requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 74 was adopted and H.B. No. 1637, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SCHOOL BUSES," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Noes, 3 (Anderson, M. Ige, Tanaka).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 75 (H.B. No. 167, H.D. 3, S.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Kawamoto moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 75 be adopted and H.B. No. 167, H.D. 3, S.D. 2, C.D. 1 having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Chumbley.

Senator Sakamoto rose in support of the bill with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in support with reservations.

"Mr. President, I strongly support safety on our roads, especially for the teenagers, and I support the efforts of the Transportation chair to provide necessary training to increase the safety of children and drivers in our State. But, before we require proof from every applicant under the age of 18 that he or she has completed a driver education program, including a behind-the-wheel driver training course certified by the Department of Transportation, we should have the program in place and be sure that the program can accommodate all children throughout the State at a cost we can afford. A mandate should not be put in place until we're sure we can do our part to fulfill it.

"Thank you."

Senator Iwase requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Kawamoto rose to support the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of this bill.

"Mr. President, this is one of the bills that the youth are trying to save youth, and there was a youth-in-action group that came out and came out strong from Maui County and Honolulu County to support this bill. Although it's not as far reaching as they wanted, it is a bill providing to save lives for young people. And when you have youth trying to save youth's lives, it's important for us to act on such a bill.

"Thank you."

Senator Levin spoke in favor of the measure with reservations as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of the bill with reservations.

"I would ask that the remarks of the Senator from Moanalua be incorporated in the Journal as if they were my own.

"We do have an obligation to provide services if we're going to mandate services.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 75 was adopted and H.B. No. 167, H.D. 3, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MOTOR VEHICLE DRIVER LICENSING," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Fukunaga).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 76 (H.B. No. 32, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Inouye moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 76 be adopted and H.B. No. 32, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1 having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Matsunaga.

Senator Sakamoto then rose and said:

"Mr. President, may I have some remarks inserted into the Journal, please."

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Sakamoto's remarks read as follows:

"The purpose of this bill is to allow privately funded industrial hemp research to be conducted in Hawaii.

"Mr. President, I speak in opposition to H.B. No. 32, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1. To my colleagues who have rejected this dangerous bill in a previous session, I again request your indulgence in voting it down. To my colleagues who chose to vote for the bill before, I beseech your utmost attention to its proposed purpose and the potential adverse impact it could create.

"Mr. President and my fellow Senators, there is no economical or environmental justification for the introduction of hemp cultivation in Hawaii. Ask the expert, Mr. J.W.A. (Doc) Buyers, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of C. Brewer and Company, who has been in diversified agriculture for the past 23 years. He said that hemp is not nor can it ever be an economically viable agricultural crop in Hawaii. He was astounded that this bill was passed out of the Senate when there is no harvesting equipment, processing plant, market plan, or infrastructure for growing hemp in Hawaii. How can we compete with countries such as Russia, China, Canada, Mexico, etc. that have a large population base and cheap labor?"

"Mr. President, there is no economical or environmental sound justification for legalization and reintroduction of hemp cultivation in North America or Hawaii. Ask the expert, The Coalition for a Drug-Free Hawaii. It stated that the campaign to reintroduce hemp as a viable agriculture commodity is one of a number of strategies being promoted by the pro-drug lobby to legalize marijuana. This may or may not be true in this case, but why should anyone invest $200,000 to experiment/research a commodity that can be done cheaper elsewhere. Mr. President, for this reason, this project is suspicious from the very beginning.

"Mr. President, a couple of days ago, a Big Island House member circulated a newspaper article from the Hawaii Tribune-Herald of April 26, 1999 titled: 'Big Isle Eyed for Ethanol Plant.' The inference there was the potential for hemp as a potential for petroleum fuel. Mr. President, ask the expert, Dr. Robert G. Robinson, Ph.D, Professor Emeritus, University of Minnesota, Department of Agronomy and Plant Genetics, who grew hemp for crop research purposes. He stated that the claim that hemp is needed to replace petroleum fuel is misleading because corn is already meeting market demands. Other plants such as sorghum, sugar cane, and sugar beets can be and are being used worldwide for that purpose.

"Mr. President, what kind of message would H.B. No. 32 give to our kids and the community if we pass it out? Ask the experts: The Honolulu Police Department is opposed to the bill because of the message it will convey regarding Hawaii's drug policy.

"Mr. President, even the Democratic Party of Hawaii is opposed to the cultivation of industrial hemp. At the Hawaii County Democratic Committee and at the State Convention of Democrats, the members rejected a resolution on hemp cultivation.

"Mr. President, I am voting 'NO' on H.B. No. 32 and I hope all my colleagues will join me in rejecting this bill. I do believe the people of this State are telling us to vote it down. It is timely that we listen to the wishes of the people!"

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 76 was adopted and H.B. No. 32, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO AGRICULTURE," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 13. Noes, 11 (Buen, Chun, Hanabusa, M. Ige, Iwase, Kawamoto, Matsuura, Nakata, Sakamoto, Tam, Tanaka). Excused, 1 (Fukunaga).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 77 (H.B. No. 212, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1):

On motion by Senator Kawamoto, seconded by Senator Chumbley and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 77 was adopted and H.B. No. 212, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO DRIVING UNDER THE INFLUENCE OF INTOXICATING LIQUOR," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Fukunaga).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 78 (H.B. No. 1401, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Kawamoto moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 78 be adopted and H.B. No. 1401, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, C.D. 1 having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Taniguchi.

Senator Sakamoto rose in opposition to the bill and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition.

"I agree that tow operators should be covered by insurance to protect the owners of the towed vehicles in the event of vehicle loss or damage due to towing. I don't agree that if there's a judgment against the tow operator that the damages should be punitive damages three times, and in addition to costs and attorney's fees. And if the tow operator wins, there's no compensation for them. But this three times punitive damages, that's just too much."

Senator Bunda rose in support of the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of this measure.

"This is a consumer protection bill, Mr. President. I believe this bill really protects the owners of towed vehicles. And if the companies are derelict in not having financial responsibility, I really do believe they should be liable, and the $1,000 travel damages should be fair and it puts them on notice.

"Originally the bill had a $15,000 bond, but the penalties in Section 480-13 matches the penalties in the Unfair and Deceptive Trade law.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 78 was adopted and H.B. No. 1401, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MOTOR VEHICLE TOWING," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, even though there are many good aspects to this bill, I'm going to have to vote 'no' on this bill.

"I think those of us who have been faced with real life situations with people in the immediate family and those of us concerned about ourselves in terms of final medical decisions to be made want to have options and alternatives, and the idea of a surrogate is a very positive thing. However, this bill has a number of troubling aspects, not the least of which is that in terms of the hierarchy of agents to surrogates and to guardians, the physician himself or herself is not mentioned specifically.

"A number of people have been very concerned about other aspects of this bill. So, as I say, while the idea is laudable, I think we really should pay a little bit more attention to what people's concerns are and craft a better bill.

"Thank you."

Senator Sakamoto rose in support of the measure with reservations as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in support with reservations.

"The Judiciary co-chairs and Human Services chair have worked greatly to improve the bill, but I still have concerns about placing the burden on the surrogate. When do you decide to withhold food and water? If it's your mother, your child lying there and you decide to stop the food and water and then a cure is found, what then? We don't want to have a patient die due to lack of food and water, Mr. President."

Senators Matsuura and Buen requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 80 was adopted and H.B. No. 171, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HEALTH CARE DECISIONS," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against the bill.

"Again, the idea of the bill is terrific -- to provide privacy of health care information. But the question is, does the bill really do that and will the law really do that? A number of health care professionals have expressed very strong reservations and concerns that the privacy, in fact, will not be protected. For these reasons, I'm going to vote 'no.'"

Senator Anderson requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 92 was adopted and H.B. No. 351, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PRIVACY OF HEALTH CARE INFORMATION," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and said:

"I'm going to vote 'no,' Mr. President, on this bill.

"I don't know why we need a study to study this. We study everything all the time. And I think that, again, what we're doing is putting the parents farther away from the educational system and then we wonder why our educational system is not reformed or getting better.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 95 was adopted and H.B. No. 1088, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO SCHOOL ATTENDANCE," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Tam rose on a conflict ruling as follows:

"Mr. President, I may have a possible conflict of interest. I sell life insurance."

The Chair ruled that Senator Tam was not in conflict.

Senator Anderson then requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 114 was adopted and S.B. No. 1129, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO INSURANCE," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator D. Ige rose in support of the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of this measure.

"Mr. President, charter schools are really break the mold schools. It's an attempt to redefine and start with a blank sheet of paper to define public education across the country.

"This measure before us provides a broad framework for empowering schools and communities to be different. It empowers them with the ultimate waiver, the waiver from all laws except a limited number -- collective bargaining, discrimination, and other essential laws. It is an emphatic statement that we trust those closest to the students, closest to the children to make any and all decisions on their behalf.

"This is a broad, sweeping measure that allows anyone to initiate a proposal for a charter school, whether it be a group of business and residents in Kihei on the Island of Maui wanting to create a high school of the future, or Hawaiian language immersion teachers at Honokaa High School, or the Chamber of Commerce creating an opportunity to be very different. Any and all of them can initiate a proposal for a new century charter school.

"This is an integrated program that integrates conversion of the existing schools or new start-up schools or even schools within a school to be charter schools. It allows for new collective bargaining agreements, even those that may be entirely different from existing master contracts. It allows for schools to define new procedures for selection of personnel. It allows for charter schools to truly chart their own destinies in being different from the system.

"Mr. President, this is a comprehensive measure that I believe will be critical in pursuing and making schools different and better for all of our students and children. I urge all of my colleagues to vote in support.

"Thank you."

Senator Chumbley rose in support of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this measure.

"Mr. President and colleagues, there's a sleeper in every session and there's been some criticism from the media and those outside of these chambers that we are doing nothing for public education, well this is the sleeper, Mr. President. This bill will, in fact, allow many of our communities and many of those who want to think outside of the box the opportunity to do so.

"I'd like to commend the chair of the Education Committee for his efforts in working so hard on this measure. The chairman was involved in the creation of the student centered schools back in 1993 when I had the opportunity to serve as his vice chair in the Education Committee, and now again, with the new century schools, he had a very strong hand in its creation.

"Mr. President and colleagues, this is really something that I think you can take back to your communities that will make a difference in public education. I urge all my colleagues to support this measure.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 119 was adopted and S.B. No. 1501, S.D. 3, H.D. 3, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO EDUCATION," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 122 (S.B. No. 1583, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator D. Ige moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 122 be adopted and S.B. No. 1583, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Inouye.

Senator D. Ige spoke in favor of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of this measure.

"Mr. President, Hawaii stands at the dawn of a new millennium with strategic choices to make that will determine our future. Hawaii is geographically the most isolated community on earth. This has limited the economic opportunities that we could pursue in the past. The new economy is global. It is digital. It is knowledge-based and networked. It is driven by the convergence of the computing, communications and content industries. Innovation and intellectual capital is more important than physical or natural resources. Geography no longer matters in the economy of the twenty-first century. Each and every opportunity lies before us if we are bold enough to pursue it.

"Mr. President, there are no quick fixes, no magic bullets to turn our economy into a digital economy, but S.B. No. 1583 charts a strategic course to ensure that Hawaii prospers in the twenty-first century. First of all, Mr. President, we create a special advisor to the governor for technology to ensure that we get expert advice in charting this course. One of the primary roles of this adviser would be to look at the alphabet soup of technology agencies across state government and recommend a consolidated effort to ensure integration and focus by all of state government.

"We also provide for the special advisory council on technology development to provide assistance. We hope to include Hawaii expatriates on the council who have expressed interest in helping Hawaii define a successful technology future -- people such as Dan Case, currently CEO of the largest investment banking firm in Silicon Valley focussed on technology development, a former Hawaii resident who believes that we can create a technology future for Hawaii; people like Ron Yara, a graduate of Lanai High School who went and started as a chip designer at Intel, a small little company in the early '70s. He has since started two successful start-up chip design companies in Silicon Valley and is semi-retired at the relatively young age of 50. He now spends his time looking at new start-up businesses that may provide additional potential business opportunity, and he desperately wants to help Hawaii create quality jobs for our people and our children.

"Mr. President, everyone we met in Silicon Valley stated that the number one priority in attracting high tech companies is the quality of people. There is a horrendous global shortage of information technology workers. Currently, there are 190,000 IT jobs vacant across the country. By the year 2005 it is estimated that more than 750,000 IT jobs will lie vacant because of lack of qualified people.

"Mr. President, we heard over and over on our trip to Silicon Valley that if you have the workers, the companies will come. It is a common theme. Senate Bill 1583 focuses on workforce development to build the talent pool required to attract IT businesses to Hawaii.

"For the public schools, we initiate the E Academy, a public/private partnership that focuses on networking skills for high school graduates. Seventeen of the thirty-eight high schools across the State will be implementing either the Cisco or 3Com curriculum which will be training high school students to become network technicians. These students will graduate from high school and be employable directly into IT jobs across the State.

"We also make an investment in the millennium workforce development training program, another joint venture between public and private sectors, focussed on ensuring that we have skilled residents to fill technology jobs that currently go to outside residents because of lack of qualified applicants. We are making a strategic investment in the University of Hawaii through the community colleges system to ensure that we do a better job of matching resident skills with future jobs.

"And finally, Mr. President, it makes a vital investment in the internet infrastructure of the world. It endorses U.H. participation in the Hawaii internet exchange and ensures that Hawaii becomes the hub of the Pacific on the internet, rather than just a pass-through point.

"Mr. President, I urge all my colleagues to vote in favor of this measure and I would like to yield to my friend and colleague from the Big Island who will talk about the investment and tax portions of this measure."

Senator Inouye also rose in support of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I also rise to speak in support of this bill.

"First of all, let me say that this measure is part of a package of bills that will help to turn our economy around. First and foremost, Mr. President, we must reduce the cost of doing business in Hawaii for all businesses. The 'depyramiding' of the general excise tax for services will reduce costs for all businesses and help them be competitive in the global economy. This is the cornerstone of our economic recovery.

"We have also leveled the playing field for our service businesses by exempting exported services from the GET and levying a use tax on imported services. This is very critical in supporting knowledge-based service industries such as engineering, architectural, legal, and other professions as they expand to provide services throughout the Pacific and the world.

"Senate Bill 1583 provides several key provisions that provide a strategic advantage for the digital economy of the twenty-first century.

"First, we commit Hawaii to be an Internet Tax-Free Zone through the year 2005. There will be no new taxes on internet-based businesses that currently exist or are established in Hawaii.

"Next, we must create an environment that encourages and attracts innovators and creative entrepreneurs. We provide both businesses and individuals exemptions from taxes on stock options, royalties and other income derived from copyrights and patents from high technology businesses. We expanded the federal definition of high tech businesses to include software development companies. This will help support local efforts to start high tech companies and help to attract companies from Silicon Valley and other areas.

"In addition, we have provided tax credits for investments in high tech businesses in Hawaii and allow financial institutions and insurance companies to also benefit from investments in high tech businesses. This should help to increase capital available for companies in Hawaii.

"I would like to note, Mr. President, that these measures were carefully crafted to ensure that the impact of these tax incentives on the current financial plan is negligible. Tax Direct Ray Kamikawa has been very involved to insure that the incentives were focused in the areas that would provide maximum benefit with minimal revenue losses.

"Finally, Mr. President, the state budget (H.B. No. 100) includes a $1 million investment in the Hawaii Strategic Development Corporation so that we can provide additional start-up and venture capital to Hawaii companies. This will make it easier for Hawaii entrepreneurs to get access to capital to start their businesses.

"Senate Bill 1583 provides a comprehensive program to nurture and support the growing high tech industry in Hawaii. I urge all my colleagues to support it.

"Thank you."

Senator Fukunaga rose to speak on the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I'd like to commend the chairs of the Economic Development and Education and Technology Committees for their hard work.

"I have some additional written remarks that I'd like inserted into the Journal, underscoring the tax incentives and benefits which we believe will really help stimulate high tech business in Hawaii.

"Thank you."

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Fukunaga's additional remarks read as follows:

"I'm especially proud of the way that these technology tax incentives and other tax relief can give Hawaii a major competitive advantage as a place to live and to conduct Information Age business. Today, with the cost of doing business in Silicon Valley rising exponentially, Hawaii's quality of life offers an appealing alternative to businesses looking for a way to combine entrepreneurial opportunities while enjoying an island lifestyle. Senate Bill 1583 will give these businesses an immediate boost through the following tax benefits:

Hawaii Internet Tax Freedom Act (Section 9)

- This section prohibits the imposition of discriminatory taxes on electronic commerce or Internet access, for taxable years 2000-2005.
- Discriminatory taxes include instances in which an Internet service provider (ISP) is deemed to be an agent of a remote seller for tax purposes solely as the result of displaying information from, or processing orders through, an out-of-state server or access provider; or in which the ability to electronically access a site on an out-of-state server is considered to be a factor in determining tax collection obligations.

Stock Options Exemption (Section 20)

- This section exempts from income taxation all income received from stock options from qualified technology businesses by an employee (which would otherwise be taxed as ordinary income or capital gains), and is applicable to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1999.
- The definition of qualified high tech businesses includes those that perform qualified research (research that is technological in nature and the application of which is intended to be useful development of new or improved business components), as well as software development companies. Operations of qualified high tech businesses are not limited to the State of Hawaii.

Royalties and Other Income Exclusion (Section 22)

- Excludes from income taxation those amounts received by an individual or qualified high tech business as royalties and other income from copyrights/patents owned by an individual or qualified high tech business, and/or developed by a qualified high tech business.
- Uses the same definition of qualified high tech businesses as the stock option tax exemption and is applicable to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1999.

Tax Credit for High Tech Business Investment (Sections 24, 26 and 27)

- Allows taxpayers an investment income tax credit for an amount equal to 10 percent of an investment made (up to $500,000 for the taxable year) in a qualified high tech business. The excess tax credit can be used for subsequent tax years if the tax credit exceeds the taxpayer's net income tax liability.
- Uses the same definition of qualified high tech business as the stock option tax exemption, but is limited to those qualified high tech businesses operating in Hawaii. It allows financial institutions and insurance companies to use the tax credit for a period beginning at the time the bill is approved; it is otherwise applicable to income tax liability as of January 1, 1999 through 2005.

Tax Credit for Increased Research Activities (Section 25)

- Allows a tax credit for increased research activities performed in Hawaii by conforming State tax provisions to the federal IRC Sections 41 and 280, relating to qualified research. The excess tax credit can be used for subsequent tax years if the tax credit exceeds the taxpayer's net income tax liability.
- Applicable to taxable years 2000 to 2005."

Senator Nakata also rose to speak on the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I, too, would like to commend the work of our Education chair. I believe this is the most important bill that we'll be passing in this session, and he has quietly and effectively worked at creating this and provided the leadership that has brought it to this point.

"Thank you."

Senator Anderson spoke on the measure with reservations as follows:

"Mr. President, I'll go with reservations. I do commend everybody.

"I think it's important that we have high tech. However, I find it interesting that we're giving the 9th graders and up . . . they're going to be provided with e-mail service. I find nothing in the bill that's going to provide the criteria as to how we're going to pay for it. The BOE is not in there as far as how we're going to take care of that. And while the internet access -- and that's not in the bill -- is often important for research, etc., is the e-mail that critical? And many students who utilize this, I see no mechanism that it will be used strictly for educational purposes. They could use it for others. I think that there should be something in there to make sure that what we're paying for is those students to do it on the educational part of it. Other than that, I do think that it's very, very important and I do commend the chairman for his hard work.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 122 was adopted and S.B. No. 1583, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TECHNOLOGY," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 126 (H.B. No. 294, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Chun Oakland moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 126 be adopted and H.B. No. 294, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1 having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Chumbley.

Senator Anderson rose to speak on the measure with reservations as follows:

"Mr. President, 'WR' please. I was in favor of the cigarette part of it, then it got to be that they were going to worry about coupons and others, and that kind of worried me a little bit that all of a sudden we're going so far. We may get out of step with ourselves, but I do have reservations on that."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 126 was adopted and H.B. No. 294, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE DISTRIBUTION OF SAMPLE TOBACCO PRODUCTS AND TOBACCO PROMOTIONAL MATERIALS," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Nakata).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 129 (H.B. No. 743, H.D. 3, S.D. 1, C.D. 1):

On motion by Senator Taniguchi, seconded by Senator Kanno and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 129 was adopted and H.B. No. 743, H.D. 3, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO ADVANCED PRACTICE REGISTERED NURSES," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Nakata).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 131 (H.B. No. 122, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Tam moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 131 be adopted and H.B. No. 122, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, C.D. 1 having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Hanabusa.

Senator Sakamoto rose in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to the bill.

"I appreciate the intent of the bill to entice contractors to promptly pay their subcontractors who are entitled to payment. The present language requires the comptroller to adopt rules necessary to implement penalties, monetary fines, interest, and possible debarment for noncompliance. Previously in testimony, disgruntled subcontractors have not communicated payment problems to the Department of Accounting and General Services, who could help them make right what's wrong. There are really enough laws in place to address these concerns, Mr. President.

"Clearly, this bill would allow government to interfere with the private sector of which government intervention is not necessary. The industry should work out their own problems and not burden government, not burden DAGS with more rule making. We're supposed to be going in the opposite direction. So I urge my colleagues to oppose this measure, Mr. President."

Senator Iwase spoke on the measure with reservations as follows:

"Mr. President, I'll go with reservations on this measure.

"The one subject requirement of the Constitution, I believe, has been implicated here. Mr. President, this is a bill that started out as prompt payment to the general and general contractor to subcontractors and now has within its body a totally unrelated matter on group living facilities and public hearings and priorities to be given to group living facilities, and I have a concern about that. So I'll be going with reservations.

"Thank you."

Senators Taniguchi and Anderson requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 131 was adopted and H.B. No. 122, H.D. 2, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO PUBLIC CONTRACTS," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 22. Noes, 3 (Inouye, Sakamoto, Slom).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 132 (H.B. No. 850, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Taniguchi moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 132 be adopted and H.B. No. 850, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1 having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Kanno.

Senator Iwase rose to speak against the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I'll be voting 'no' on this measure.

"This is the measure which extends the no-fault amnesty for uninsured motorists, and it's something we've been doing year after year after year. At some point we have to stop, and I think we should stop this year.

"Thank you."

Senator Slom also rose in opposition to the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I, too, am voting 'no' on this.

"We've said it before, we make a farce out of the term 'amnesty,' and we've extended this period of time. Either we have a law and we enforce the law, or we allow people to voluntarily opt out of the insurance system. But since we've had the law, for those of us who have to pay the insurance unwillingly it makes it a travesty by extending amnesty again and again. So I'll be voting 'no.'"

Senator Bunda requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 132 was adopted and H.B. No. 850, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MOTOR VEHICLE INSURANCE," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Sakamoto rose in support with reservations as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in support with reservations.

"Mr. President, I'm concerned that in our zeal to protect the public from another incident like that of Jimmy's Travel, we may be over-reacting, over-regulating this industry. We don't want to put existing businesses out of business. We do not want to stop new businesses from forming. One of the recognized, outstanding new businesses this year was a tour company, and while he started with very little and built his business one client at a time, he found a niche in the charter tour industry to the Philippines and worked hard, slowly, to develop his company. Hawaii Business Community has recognized his efforts and his entrepreneurial spirit. Had this law been in place, I don't know if his beginnings would have been possible.

"We need to protect the public, but we must also foster business if we are to ever create long-term economic stability in this State."

Senators Slom and Anderson requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 134 was adopted and H.B. No. 1361, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CHARTER TOUR OPERATORS," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Chumbley rose in support of the bill and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of this measure but have lengthy written comments I'd like to have inserted into the Journal."

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Chumbley's remarks read as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in support.

"This measure provides balanced protections for businesses and consumers against injuries and losses that may result from Y2K computer errors. Primary responsibility for losses is placed upon computer hardware and software manufacturers that designed and sold products with Y2K defects.

"Businesses that take commercially reasonable efforts to make their computer Y2K safe are given partial immunity from liability for economic damages and total immunity from non-economic damages, statutory minimum and treble damages.

"Small businesses and consumers are protected against out-of-pocket losses in all instances and are entitled to all other economic losses where there is a failure to take commercially reasonable preventive steps.

"Treble damages, non-economic losses and punitive damages are allowed only where there is intentional or other extreme conduct.

"In addition, the State is given immunity, unless it fails to take good-faith preventive action and is grossly negligent.

Three Levels of Protection and Immunity

- 1) Commercially Reasonable Steps Taken
 - a) Liability for businesses that take commercially reasonable steps is limited to out-of-pocket expenses only. Immunity is provided for:
 - A) All other consequential and economic damages, such as lost profits and lost business opportunities.
 - B) All non-economic damages, such as emotional distress and mental anguish.
 - C) All treble damages, punitive damages and statutory minimum damages.
 - b) Small businesses and consumers are allowed to recoup their out-of-pocket expenses, such as extra accounting charges to reconstruct financial transactions that get messed-up by Y2K computer errors.
- 2) Commercially Reasonable Steps Not Taken
 - a) Businesses forfeit immunity for all economic damages, retain immunity for non-economic damages, treble and statutory minimum damages.
 - b) Consumers and small businesses can recover all of their economic losses.
- 3) Y2K Losses Intentionally Inflicted
 - a) Businesses get no immunity.

- b) Consumers and small businesses can recover all losses without limitation.

STATE IMMUNITY

"The State, including the counties, is given immunity against Y2K claims, so long as it makes a good-faith effort to become Y2K compliant and is not grossly negligent.

OTHER PROVISIONS

"Hardware and Software Manufacturers Liable: Computer hardware and software manufacturers that designed and sold products with Y2K defects remain primarily liable and have no immunity. This places the responsibility for Y2K errors on those who created the problem, rather than innocent businesses that bought and use defective computer equipment.

"Alternative Dispute Resolution: An ADR conference must be held with the court in all Y2K lawsuits to consider appropriate ADR procedures.

"Physical Injury and Death: There is no immunity to physically injure or kill people.

"Consumer Credit Protection: Failure to make payments because of Y2K problems cannot be reflected on credit reports as bad credit history."

Senator Tam rose to speak against the bill and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in opposition to H.B. No. 1111, Relating to Year 2000 Errors by Computer-Based Systems.

"The State of Hawaii began its efforts in earnest beginning in October 1996. Remediation, testing and implementation of all remaining systems are expected to be completed by September 30, 1999. The State should be 100 percent by that date.

"The Bank of Hawaii is already advertising banking by computer from your home. The Red Cross representative says that all of our financial institutions are Y2K ready.

"There has been ample time for all businesses as well as government to 'get up to speed' on Y2K.

"I view this legislation as a cop out for our State government which leaves open the ability for big money interests to be protected also.

"There are laws currently on the books against frivolous lawsuits or unsubstantiated lawsuits. I believe this law takes away people's 'day in court.'

"I respectfully ask my colleagues to vote against this legislation."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 150 was adopted and H.B. No. 1111, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO YEAR 2000 ERRORS BY COMPUTER-BASED SYSTEMS," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom rose in opposition and said:

"Mr. President, I will be voting 'no' because it establishes a special fund, the rural health special fund."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 153 was adopted and S.B. No. 102, S.D. 3, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO HEALTH," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, 1 (Slom).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 154 (S.B. No. 513, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Chun Oakland moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 154 be adopted and S.B. No. 513, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1 having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Kanno.

Senator Slom rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in opposition to this bill.

"The issue of child care, of course, has many factors that are important in our community -- sociological and demographic. But the point of the matter is that, as we said before, people that live in condominiums and town houses, but particularly condominiums, have for the most part chosen to live there, and they want a particular style of living as supported by the association bylaws. And one of the things that they don't want is business activities, and another thing they don't want, whether we like it or not, is children. And they have chosen to be there. They've also been very concerned about the problems associated with ADA rulings and problems associated with liability.

"And while this bill has been crafted and has gone through many changes, the people that actually are on the front lines that live in these buildings and abide by these association rulings are not convinced that their concerns have been alleviated. Further, it makes a bad precedent because what it says is that, in effect, people living in private situations cannot have their own rules and cannot decide for themselves what they want to do. There have been buildings, condominiums and others, that have decided upon their own to make changes within their rules and they are still capable of doing that. I don't think it's the place for government and this Legislature to be involved in this area.

"Thank you."

Senator Sakamoto rose to speak on the measure with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, I rise with reservations similar to items stated by the Senator from Hawaii Kai, because many people, seniors especially, have chosen to live there, listening to their soap operas, etc., they want the peace and quiet. So people have chosen where they live for some of those reasons, because of peace and quiet."

Senator Chun rose to speak in favor of the measure with reservations as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in favor of this bill with reservations.

"Mr. President, although I support fully the intent of this bill to provide child care for all families and to open up that industry because there is a big need in our society to do that, I have reservations in regards to requiring people who live in home owners associations to allow that kind of business on their property. Mr. President, I think when government starts interfering with people in terms of how they will have to use their property, we have to tread on that area very lightly. Those are my reservations regarding this bill.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 154 was adopted and S.B. No. 513, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO FAMILY CHILD CARE," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom opposed the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in opposition.

"The bill, again, is a thinly disguised way of raising more taxes. It provides additional administrative fees on top of the already existing fees and the bottom line is it's going to cost people more, and there's no justification for those fees.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 165 was adopted and H.B. No. 1454, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO FEES," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

MATTER DEFERRED FROM EARLIER ON THE CALENDAR

FINAL READING

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 43 (S.B. No. 36, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Tam moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 43 be adopted and S.B. No. 36, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1 having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Matsunaga.

Senator Tam rose in support of the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of S.B. No. 36, Relating to Condominiums.

"At a time when we had hoped that financial institutions would participate with us to relieve the strain on our economy caused by foreclosures, we found ourselves standing alone. It appears that we, in government, are expected to fix the economy and resolve all of the ills of our State. Under extreme pressure, we were successful in passing this legislation on behalf of the condominium owners. I hope that we can do more to assist condominium ownership during the next legislative session.

"This bill does the following:

1. I am pleased to announce that condominium associations now have the ability to enforce liens resulting from delinquent maintenance fees. The Association of Owners is now empowered under priority of lien to file for non-judicial foreclosure and power of sale foreclosure when it is unable to obtain delinquent maintenance fee payments.

2. Especially during the foreclosure process, maintenance fees remain unpaid for as long as two years. Financial institutions have also avoided paying maintenance fees by holding off recording ownership at the Bureau of Conveyance. The law now clarified when a purchaser in a foreclosure becomes responsible for assessments and maintenance fees.
3. Previously, the Association of Owners could not collect delinquent maintenance fees from the tenant. The Association is now permitted to collect directly from the tenant an amount up to the delinquent fees owed by the owner.
4. More frequently, associations of apartment owners are having to look for alternatives to federally insured bank deposits. By allowing associations to invest in mutual funds, obligations of the United States Government, or the State of Hawaii, this bill will also contribute to the economy of our State.

"In conclusion, for our next session I will be asking for your assistance, colleagues, to again pass legislation which will allow condominium associations a six-month priority lien that will enable the associations to recover up to six months of delinquent maintenance fees from the secondary mortgage market, more specifically, Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac.

"Members, I wish to inform you, unfortunately, the House of Representatives' conferees refused to conference on the six-month priority lien.

"Thank you."

Senator Bunda then requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

FINAL READING

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 50 (S.B. No. 392, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1):

On motion by Senator Kawamoto, seconded by Senator Levin and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 50 was adopted and S.B. No. 392, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TRANSPORTATION," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Hanabusa moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 96 be adopted and H.B. No. 1183, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1 having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Inouye.

Senator Levin spoke in favor of the measure with reservations as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this bill with reservations.

"My reservations are that this measure might be construed to authorize some future Department of Land and Natural Resources to lease out segments of coastal lands, such that a public beach would be rendered private. I therefore wanted to make clear that it is the Legislature's intent that the right of public access to our beaches and oceans is inviolate. As partial evidence of this intent, I would note that the bill allows the Department of Land and Natural Resources to lease public beach lands for the purpose of generating revenues, but only subject to Chapter 171. Section 171-26 of that Chapter provides for the preservation of rights of ways for people to utilize public beaches.

"We are not overriding that provision today, nor do we want to, because our dedication to the principle of free, unfettered access takes precedence over our desire to raise revenue. It is not the Legislature's intent to sell the birthright of our people no matter how worthy the cause.

"Thank you."

Senator Slom rose to oppose the bill as follows:

"I'll be voting 'no' against this bill because it does establish the beach restoration special fund.

"Thank you."

Senator Anderson then requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 96 was adopted and H.B. No. 1183, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO BEACH LANDS," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 102 (S.B. No. 1256, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Kawamoto moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 102 be adopted and S.B. No. 1256, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Fukunaga.

Senator Kawamoto rose in support of the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of the bill.

"I'd just like to say that this is a needed system that will help the Molokai unemployment situation there and would provide much needed jobs for their community.

"I'd like to yield to the Senator from Molokai."

Senator Buen rose to speak on the measure as follows:

"Thank you Mr. President, and thank you Senator Kawamoto.

"This bill was needed to help the people of Molokai with their employment. Many of the residents have moved to Maui to seek employment and their families are now broken up because of that. There are hardly any jobs there on Molokai.

"The Committee has worked very hard. For a number years the people of Molokai have asked for a ferry system so that they can travel daily to the Island of Maui and then possibly the ferry can also . . . we're looking at coming to Oahu. But this is a bill very needed for Molokai residents and I want to thank you again, Senator Kawamoto, and also the Ways and Means Committee for helping pass this bill.

"Thank you."

Senator Kawamoto rose and said:

"Mr. President, I'd like to also add that this would be matching funds and would bring in $3 million to $4 million from federal dollars.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 102 was adopted and S.B. No. 1256, S.D. 2, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO AN INTERISLAND FERRY SYSTEM," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 112 (S.B. No. 1518, H.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Tam moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 112 be adopted and S.B. No. 1518, H.D. 1, C.D. 1 having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Levin.

Senator Chun spoke in favor of the measure with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in favor of this bill with reservations.

"Mr. President, I favor this bill in terms that it will allow the counties and the State to go forward with funding the collective bargaining raises. However, I have a concern that the bill puts an absolute ban on any raises to be negotiated for the next two years, the biennium. Mr. President, that provision starts us down the path of getting involved with collective bargaining directly with the unions -- a path that our Legislature, when we first enacted Chapter 89, decided not to take. At this point in time, Mr. President, I have not seen any compelling reason why we would want to bring ourselves on that path and start involving ourselves with bargaining with the unions directly.

"I believe, Mr. President, though, that we could have accomplished the same goal by actually putting inside a bill, such as this, a provision so that in any kind of bargaining between the employer and the union, we will not look towards using the ERS fund for the pay raises. I think that would have been a better way to do it. That would have been a cleaner way to do it, and it would not involve us in the collective bargaining process.

"Another way we could have gone, Mr. President, is also put a specific limitation in terms of how much money we should have in the ERS fund at any given time to ensure that at all times there is a standard to be met. If we are to take money from that fund, certain limitations have got to be complied with.

"Mr. President, we have to stop looking at using this fund on a case by case basis whenever we get into financial trouble. We should be setting up firm plans for the future. And I believe, Mr. President, we should look at that in the next session and be very clear that we should not raid this fund whenever it's convenient for us.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Tam also rose to support the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise in support of S.B. No. 1518, Relating to Government Operations.

"In this respective bill there are two parts of this bill. The first relates to goals for the State of Hawaii, which provides an overall direction for the State. The Committee on Government Operations and Housing conducted two very long public hearings on the goals and objectives of state departments and other agencies including the Judiciary. Many of our departments do not have any formally established goals and objectives. Accordingly, this bill requires that goals and objectives be identified to provide a basis for determining priorities and allocating limited public funds and human resources.

"We are reminded that government should operate more like a business. Developing a time-driven action plan consisting of milestones and benchmarks will enable us to evaluate whether or not government is productive and efficient. I thank my colleagues in the Senate for your support of departmental goals and objectives in the Majority package.

"The second part of this bill addresses pay raises for government employees. I am very pleased that retroactive pay raises for government employees have been funded in this bill. It is long overdue. We are tapping into the State retirement system, hopefully for the last time, to fund pay raises which is primarily a bailout for the City and County of Honolulu.

"For the sake of the public, the financial condition of the City and County of Honolulu shall be reviewed this interim before the next legislative session. More than 20 percent of the City's funds come from the State; therefore we must find out what happened to taxpayer dollars within the State of Hawaii.

"It is unfortunate that one part of the bill provides for no pay raises for the next two years. This is a requirement which was insisted upon by Governor Cayetano and the House of Representatives at the eleventh hour of the deadline of this session for passage of the bills which was this past Friday. Otherwise the pay package would not have passed this session. I will be introducing a bill next session to remove this condition and ask my colleagues to support me. We should not interfere in collective bargaining, but unfortunately due to some sense our hands were tied.

"I am encouraged by the leadership exhibited by this Senate in its effort to restructure government and bolster our sagging economy, and I thank all of you for your support."

Senator Iwase rose in support of the bill with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, I'm rising in support of the bill with reservations.

"I'm very pleased we're making efforts to fund the retroactive pay raises which were agreed to pursuant to collective bargaining, and which I believe we are legally, if not morally, bound to fulfill.

"What does concern me is what the Senator from Kauai spoke about which is the provisions relating to the cap on negotiating cost items. Mr. President, what this bill does is amend Chapter 89, which is the collective bargaining law. It's a major statute in Hawaii law. I do not believe that we should be amending the law by slipping a provision into a bill that purportedly seeks to fund pay raises for public workers.

"Secondly, I do not believe we should be doing this at all because there is a process for negotiating in the collective bargaining law, Chapter 89, and the process is that the executive branch has people negotiating, that they agree to particular raises. The Legislature is supposed to accept or reject it. We are here today with this retroactive pay raise issue before us because, first, the executive branch negotiators agreed to the increase, and secondly, the legislative branch did not reject it.

"We are the backstop. We are the safeguard. This is not necessary. We should not be intruding into the collective bargaining process in this manner. We should do it in a cleaner way if we want to amend the collective bargaining law with a specific bill and a specific title saying relating to collective bargaining, so all the world knows that we are amending the collective bargaining law.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against the bill.

"Mr. President, this is a weasel bill. I've spoken in support of keeping our promises and funding the contracts that have already been negotiated and that's what we should do. What we should not do is pass a bill like this. People have their reservations about it. These are wimpy reservations. We should vote 'no' on this bill because first of all, it contains two separate and totally different ideas and concepts within the bill. As far as requiring all departments and agencies to identify their goals and objectives, that's a laudable objective in itself and it should be done, and I commend the sponsor for that particular section.

"It's interesting that this is the bill that originally started out as the privatization of the State hospital bill and was completely gutted and changed into this.

"Now Mr. President, I know that there was no public hearing held in the Senate on the ERS raid. I'm not sure that there was a public hearing held in the House. So, because this encompasses two separate and distinct subjects, one of which should be by itself -- collective bargaining; because there were no hearings held; because there was no input held; and because what we're saying here is this is a one-time only raid on the Employees' Retirement System . . . get real! Do we believe that -- a one-time raid like the one-time raid on special funds we've made.

"The other thing is this Legislature is trying to bind future Legislatures, and that is very difficult, if not impossible, to do. And it also is trying to bind the labor organizations so that they in fact cannot negotiate for a two-year period, and that we should not do. The two are separate items. We should honor our commitment and fund the pay raise.

"The way this bill works, it applies 10 percent of actuarial investment earnings in excess of a 10 percent investment yield for fiscal years '97 and '98 in lieu of the contributions to the pension accumulation fund required for the State and Counties. This is a fund for retirees. They paid into it. We're tapping it. We're raiding it. We're doing something different with it.

"The other thing is that what we're saying is we're expecting that the fund is going to be healthy. Now, for the years '97 and '98 there was a very attractive return on investment, but not for the year 1999 fiscal year when the return on the investment was down to 3-1/2 percent and may be lower in the future.

"So for this and other reasons, I think that we have to do more than say, hopefully this is the last time that we'll do something like this. We know this is wrong. We know it should not occur. We should vote 'no.'

"Thank you."

Senator Sakamoto rose to support the measure with reservations as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in support with reservations.

"I hear the strong words of the Senator from Hawaii Kai. I agree with the concerns about the money. This is a 'spend now, pay later' bill. Social Security in America, same thing -- spend the money now, pay later. An employee in my company wanted to borrow money out of his 401K plan and he needed to spend it now, pay later. I saw an unemployed painter on the street. He took all of his money out of his annuity fund because he needed to spend it now and pay later. And that's really a problem.

"We don't have a 'rainy day' fund. The ERS should not be the 'rainy day' fund. The highway fund should not be the 'rainy day' fund. Special funds should not be the 'rainy day' fund. We really need to spend only what we have. We need to look to next session, seriously, along with the civil service reform measures and other measures, because we cannot keep spending what we don't have. We only can spend what we have, Mr. President."

Senator Anderson rose to speak against the bill and said:

"Mr. President, I was going with reservations and I think that the Minority Floor Leader is absolutely right. I would rather go 'no,' and the reason I'm going 'no' is this is one of the reasons that I voted against Mr. Anzai. I didn't think it was fair that we raid again for the seventh time the Retirement System. We keep calling it a one-time deal.

"Also, it bothers me that we're going to give the counties some dollars to bail them out because we have to take care of the employees at the county level. The county council gave $20 million to the county -- $20 million. All of a sudden the Mayor said that was a savings because he had done such a great job in streamlining the government. What he did was he took $20 million that they put there and he spent it. Now he's telling you and me, we have to take care of that. And the Governor and the rest of them want to give those savings that he spent. We're now going to take it from the Retirement System.

"When we had the UPW director sitting next to Mr. Anzai, I said how are you possibly going to use the Retirement System money to pay back the employees the dollars that they have put into the system. You're going to pay them with that dollar that they've saved and then you're going to turn around and tell them that they can't do anything for two years. I find that despicable that we would even consider doing that. The Retirement System is for the retirees. We don't have a cash flow because we have no idea how we're going to turn this State around. We have no plan. They don't use any of the plans that we've given so that we can help move this State forward. And without the cash flow, the only thing that they're looking at is $9 billion in the Retirement System which is now down to 8.2 because it took a loss. For those reasons I will be going 'no' on this particular bill.

"I want to give the people the raises that they deserve. They've gone through the system. But I don't think we should do it with the dollars that they themselves have earned and the dollars that we have earned in total on the Retirement System. For those reasons I'll be going 'no,' Mr. President."

At this time, Senators Taniguchi and Bunda requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

Senator Chun Oakland also rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I speak in opposition to this measure.

"A few years ago, the Legislature had made a commitment to stop taking from the Employees' Retirement System. Under our Senate financial plan, we did not need to use the ERS for the purpose of funding retroactively the collective bargaining pay raises. I think this is not the way to go.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Chumbley rose in support of the measure with reservations and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of the measure with reservations.

"Mr. President, while I'm glad that we are finally meeting our obligation of funding the collective bargaining contracts, I share in many of the concerns that have been expressed about the language included in this proposal, which will prohibit the employees from bargaining with the executive branch relative to Chapter 89. I hope that as we move forward, Mr. President, that this language can be reconsidered and removed earlier than the two-year period.

"Thank you."

Senators Hanabusa, Kanno, Tanaka and Buen then requested their votes be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 112 was adopted and S.B. No. 1518, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO GOVERNMENT OPERATIONS," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 21. Noes, 4 (Anderson, Chun Oakland, D. Ige, Slom).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 120 (S.B. No. 131, S.D. 3, H.D. 3, C.D. 1):

Senator Chun Oakland moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 120 be adopted and S.B. No. 131, S.D. 3, H.D. 3, C.D. 1 having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Kanno.

Senator Chun Oakland rose to speak in support of the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of this measure.

"Mr. President and fellow colleagues, long-term care coverage is a critical economic health issue facing our State today. I know this body had made this a priority and I appreciate that we've come this far.

"As the new century approaches and our State's population ages rapidly, our State must come to the realization that we face an enormous challenge when it comes to financing long-term care costs in the near future. The recession that has lingered in the State for the last eight years has affected not only our pocketbooks as individual consumers, but also decreased our ability as businesses and employees to build funds for retirement and any long-term business or personal needs.

"Under these circumstances, Hawaii residents face an overwhelming task when it comes to financing any type of long-term care needs for the future, either for themselves or for the ones they love, because they lack the significant financial resources to plan for a future that seems to be so far away.

"Long-term care financing poses a serious problem for many residents in our State because its costs often exceed a family's ability to pay. The current ways to finance long-term care involve a combination of medicaid, medicare, private insurance and personal assets. Medicaid, the largest pair of long-term care services is strictly limited to financial eligibility, while medicare only provides a limited amount of long-term care benefits to the individuals in this State.

"As you know, our medicaid budget continues to skyrocket. Trends show that in the future medicaid, medicare and social security might cover even smaller portions of a person's long-term care cost due to the fact that more and more people will be accessing medicaid and medicare benefits and services as their private insurance benefits and/or personal assets dwindle.

"The situation, however, is worsened in Hawaii because small businesses are not able to provide sizeable pension plans and other benefits for their employees. The majority of the State's working population are employed by small business. Senate Bill 131 then provides the mechanism to begin dealing with the difficult issue of financing long-term care for individuals in this State: (1) It gives the employers the option of offering long-term care insurance coverage for their employees; and (2) It creates standards to regulate those long-term care insurance products that enter the local insurance market.

"The measure, as amended, incorporates the provisions of the July 1998 Model Long-Term Care Insurance Act and Model Regulations which was developed by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners and establishes a baseline for long-term care insurance policies that are sold here in Hawaii. This, we hope will be a minimum to protect the consumers of the State.

"In an effort to avoid preemption by the Federal Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, known as ERISA, S.B. No. 131 gives employers the option of offering long-term care and does not mandate this offering. It by no means mandates that such coverage shall be provided to employees as a benefit.

"The measure, in addition, also extends the work of the Joint Legislative Committee on Long-Term Care and authorizes them to continue their efforts in developing possible long-term care solutions to financing the needs of our residents.

"This measure is one step towards, I believe, a much greater comprehensive effort that we need to work towards. And I believe that this is a balanced solution in trying to work with the private sector first in encouraging people of our State to purchase long-term care insurance. There are other measures that we are considering today that also provide some tax deduction, as well as builds the capacity of the Insurance Commissioner to make sure that we can analyze the policies that are being offered in our State with regard to long-term care insurance products.

"I really need to thank the members of the Joint Legislative Committee, the members of the Senate and the House of Representatives, as well as many other people from the community who have put a lot of time into this measure. I thank you for your commitment to this issue and look forward to making this a continued high priority of this State.

"Thank you very much."

Senator Slom also rose in support of the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of this measure.

"I want to commend the chair for her efforts and the efforts of the Joint Committee. We worked very long and very hard on this issue which is of major importance to all of us. I don't think there was any other issue that sought so aggressively public input, took that public input, worked with different people, tried to come up with different solutions.

"Admittedly, this is just the first of a building block for long-term care, but as the chair just reminded us, we will be voting in a few minutes on a bill that will bring Hawaii's tax laws in conformity with the Internal Revenue Code and there were other suggested incentives that were being used. The main thing is that this is a bill that uses a carrot without any sticks. It is a bill that encourages incentives and encourages people in the private sector and the public sector to offer alternatives to employees and others

"And I note for my part, Mr. President, I will do all I can in the small business community to encourage employers to offer long-term care insurance because we've made a commitment here that we want to do this and we want to do it voluntarily without mandates and without force. So I urge all my colleagues to support this measure and thank the chair again for her efforts."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 120 was adopted and S.B. No. 131, S.D. 3, H.D. 3, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO Ayes, 24. Noes, 1 (Anderson).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 137 (H.B. No. 1085, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator D. Ige moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 137 be adopted and H.B. No. 1085, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1 having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Fukunaga.

Senator Slom spoke in opposition to the measure and said:

"Mr. President, unfortunately I'm going to have to rise and speak against this bill.

"As I mentioned during the crossover, you know, we have used the term emergency during this session so many times that it doesn't mean anything anymore. And this is not an emergency appropriation and this is not an emergency appropriation for Felix/Cayetano. The basis of this bill is restoring cuts that were being made last year, only a small portion out of the $11 million -- $1.9 million I believe -- is for Felix/Cayetano related expenditures.

"We've got to learn to be more open. We've got to learn to be more honest. We've got to tell the truth about our fiscal appropriations and things that we vote on. And if we're going to say that things are emergencies, then they better be emergencies. And emergencies are those things that prudent individuals, rational individuals, could not and should not have anticipated. And all of these things have been anticipated and people have talked about them before. So if we're going to be honest about this, we have to hold people accountable for the expenditures and for the appropriations that they ask.

"This is not an emergency appropriation and it is not $11 million for Felix/Cayetano.

"Thank you."

Senator Anderson then requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 137 was adopted and H.B. No. 1085, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING EMERGENCY APPROPRIATIONS FOR EDUCATION," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, 1 (Slom).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 138 (H.B. No. 988, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator D. Ige moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 138 be adopted and H.B. No. 988, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1 having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Fukunaga.

Senator Slom rose to speak against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, deja vu. Here's another emergency appropriation that just followed the last emergency appropriation. Where is the emergency? We've been talking about Y2K. We have voted money for the State government for compliance. And now it's an emergency? No, Mr. President, there's not an emergency except for when we vote for bills like this. Cast my vote as 'no,' Mr. President."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 138 was adopted and H.B. No. 988, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING AN EMERGENCY APPROPRIATION FOR STATE GOVERNMENT TO IMPLEMENT YEAR 2000 COMPLIANCE EFFORTS," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Fukunaga moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 143 be adopted and H.B. No. 86, S.D. 1, C.D. 1 having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Levin.

Senator Anderson requested his vote be cast "aye, with reservations," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 143 was adopted and H.B. No. 86, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO STATE BONDS," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 148 (H.B. No. 20, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Chumbley moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 148 be received and placed on file, seconded by Senator Matsunaga.

Senator Chumbley explained:

"Mr. President, the reason for separation is the inconsistencies between the committee report and the measure."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried.

Senator Chumbley then moved that H.B. No. 20, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1 having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Matsunaga.

Senator Chumbley rose in support of the measure and said:

"Mr. President, the purpose of this bill is to increase the salaries of our judges. Although the Conference members intended the increase of salaries of judges to be 11 percent beginning July 1999, and another 11 percent beginning July 2000, in the haste of Conference Committee deliberations, and preparing the committee report under the pressures of time, an unfortunate and unintended inconsistency resulted in reference to the salary increases in the contents of the bill and the committee report.

"I would like to now clarify for the Journal that in acting on the bill after separating the committee report, we are relying on the principle that the specific salary figures in the bill must represent the intent of the Legislature as controlling over other general references on the same subject. The Journal should reflect that the specific salary figures listed in the bill are correct.

"While we have to accept those figures and cannot at this late hour change them to reflect the Conference Committee's actual intent, we would recommend to this body that we approve these modest increases now by voting 'aye.'

"We want the Journal to reflect the intent of the Conference Committee and also note our recommendation that the 2000 Legislature correct the figures to represent what we had intended -- that is to provide for a salary increase of 11 percent effective July 1999 and another 11 percent beginning July 2000.

"I urge my colleagues to vote 'aye' on this measure.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Iwase then rose and said:

"Mr. President, you previously ruled 'no conflict' on my voting on this bill. Would that position still remain the same?"

The Chair ruled that Senator Iwase was not in conflict.

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I'm compelled to stand up and vote against this measure.

"I was fully prepared, after three years, to support an increase in the judicial salaries although I still do not subscribe to the belief that if you pay judges more you'll get better rulings. My problem is that, as the Judiciary co-chairman just mentioned, in the haste of doing things. We have done so many things here in haste, and I think deliberation is extremely important. And the fact that we were hasty in passing this bill along with the committee report at the last moment leads to a great deal of confusion in terms of the public and whether or not we're talking about an 11 percent increase, a 13 percent increase, or a 27 percent increase over two years. In fact, if we're talking about 11 percent, we're talking about 22 percent because it's 11 percent over each of the next two years.

"While I fully support the idea of increasing the judicial salaries, I find that many of our friends and neighbors and family members in our community have not only not gotten any salary increases but in fact they do not have jobs. And for us to be talking about salary increases in the range of 22 to 27 percent, I think at a time when our economy is the way it is and when we haven't anything to provide additional revenues, is too much and is not fair for the rest of the community who are themselves called upon to pay it. We in the Senate do not reach in our pockets and pay those salaries. We ask the people that vote for us to pay the salaries. I think it's excessive at this time."

Senator Anderson supported the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I'm going to be voting 'aye,' and I could sit here and I very seldom disagree with my Minority Floor Leader. I think this bill is important because I've gone year after year fighting the judges' pay raises. I've talked about restructuring collective bargaining and making sure not everybody across the board gets the same pay raises.

"However, I made time to go down to talk to the judges and they turned around and said, 'You know, I would hope that after a while people would start to listen. We do not get any union backing. We do not have collective bargaining. We also have no constituency. And what you're asking us to do is, if we give a favorable decision, then you will give us a raise. If we make an improper decision, you don't want to give us a raise.' And I never looked at it that way, and I think that it's fair and acceptable that we look at what they've done. The raises that they have not received over the years strictly because everybody is saying this is what you are making, consequently you should go no higher; moreover, we don't even like your decisions. I don't think that it's fair. For those reasons alone, I will be voting for the judges' pay raise.

"I don't know about their retirement system and other things that everybody has been talking about. You've got to remember that you don't live in their shoes, you don't know exactly what amount of money they pay for medical, what happens to their families if somebody could be sick; is there private schools that they go to. I don't know. I don't live with those judges. I don't socialize with them. So I don't know that the problems that they're having, which is everyday, are any different than the rest of us. So I will be voting 'aye,' Mr. President."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 148 was adopted and H.B. No. 20, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE JUDICIARY," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, 2 (Kanno, Slom).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 156 (S.B. No. 1034, S.D. 1, H.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Chun Oakland moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 156 be adopted and S.B. No. 1034, S.D. 1, H.D. 2, C.D. 1 having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Fukunaga.

Senator Chun Oakland rose in support of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in strong support of this measure.

"Fellow colleagues, last November, 46 states, including Hawaii, settled historic class action lawsuits against the nation's tobacco companies and won unprecedented amounts of compensation and concessions from tobacco manufacturers who held a firm grip on American's consumer market for a number of years. Although individual settlement agreements did not specify the way in which monetary awards should be spent, attorney generals throughout the nation indicated that the tobacco settlement agreements they entered into presented a very unique opportunity to use tobacco companies' own profits to reduce the usage of tobacco products in the United States.

"Statistics show that reductions in the use of tobacco not only saves lives and dramatically improves the overall health of the public, but it also saves billions dollars spent annually to deal with the negative health consequences created by smoking and using tobacco products. Estimates suggest that the public and private expenditures to treat tobacco related health problems exceed $70 billion a year with state medicaid payments surpassing $12.5 billion annually. Research studies suggest that even 1 percent decrease in the usage of tobacco products over the next five years could produce monetary savings equating to roughly $600 million. Of course, this is in addition to the thousands of lives saved and the thousands of lives positively impacted by the reduction in the use of tobacco products over the same period of time.

"Senate Bill 1034 represents the State Legislature's best effort to reduce and control tobacco usage in the State while establishing mechanisms to develop an infrastructure to support general programs for health and wellness, most notably those supporting children's health initiatives. This measure, as written, establishes the public/private trust fund dedicating 25 percent of the settlement, per year, to support public education efforts and community and school based programs designed to counter tobacco marketing and reduce tobacco usage among the State's one million-plus residents. It allows for the development of strategic planning processes through which a variety of stake holders can create comprehensive plans to reduce tobacco usage in the State and improve the overall health of Hawaii's island community. It gives the Department of Health the opportunity to supplement and augment their existing health and wellness programs by dedicating an additional 35 percent of the settlement funds per year.

"In addition, S.B. No. 1034 provides for the establishment of an emergency and budget reserve fund dedicating 40 percent of the settlement each year that gives the State a financial reserve that can be accessed in an emergency or in economic downturn that proves detrimental to its continued operation. It spells out strict conditions under which the emergency and budget reserve fund can be accessed, as well as describing the procedure by which the Governor and the Legislature must go through before any of those reserve funds are used.

"In addition, I believe that the State of Hawaii will be one of the leaders in the nation in terms of the percentage that we are dedicating of the tobacco settlement monies to support health related programs.

"I'm very proud of this and I really thank the Legislature and the community for being a part of the crafting of this bill.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Slom rose to speak against the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against the bill.

"Again, this is an indication of creating the universal service fund as a special fund outside of the treasury."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 163 was adopted and S.B. No. 1279, S.D. 2, H.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE UNIVERSAL SERVICE FUND," having been read

Senator Slom spoke against the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against this bill.

"This bill raises the tax on the rental of vehicles by 50 percent, from $2 to $3 a day. Originally, the purpose of the tax in the first place was to go to the visitor industry, and now we see that the counties and others are looking at this as an increase source of revenue for general operations.

"I think what people continue to forget is that 30 percent of the rental cars go to residents and so therefore we are voting to tax ourselves again. There's no justification for raising this increase and again I would remind my colleagues that the original versions of the bill sought to have an even higher rate and they will be back next year to seek a higher rate. So, I urge a 'no' vote."

Senator Iwase rose in opposition and said:

"Mr. President, for the reasons articulated by my colleague from Hawaii Kai, I will be voting 'no.'

"Thank you."

Senator Chun rose to support the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise in favor of this bill.

"Mr. President, even though I voted against the bill in the initial crossover, after talking with the Conference chairmen and reading literature regarding the disclosure of certain service charges and fees in other states and how that can be held as deceptive in those states, I have looked at the provisions and the protections contained in this bill and I'm satisfied that we are not going to be in similar situations.

"So, Mr. President, I believe this bill is good. It is helpful to our economy and I think it's a good compromise by all parties concerned."

Senator Sakamoto rose to speak on the measure with reservations as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak with reservations.

"I understand, just as the Senator from Kauai, that numerous letters have been sent in about the compromise the industry had requested for the unbundling because of many tourists' complaints. And I'm sure the complaints were because of high costs. We cannot keep coming to our industry -- in this case, the rental car industry, a business that really is a part of our State -- just raising fees, putting it in the highway fund and then taking it back out.

"Down the road, Mr. President, we're going to raise gas taxes because we don't have money in that fund, and if we take these monies out for these types of things, we're going to be in trouble. You wouldn't want to come home, Mr. President, and find a syphon hose sticking out of your gas tank. Nobody would. I think we ought to use the funds and monies for the appropriate use and not just steal it for other uses, Mr. President.

"Thank you."

Senator Kawamoto rose to speak on the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I'd like to thank you for allowing me to sit in as a member on this committee because a lot of these items in this bill were pertaining to TIA, and many of the concerns were taken out of the bill; many concerns that we had were put into the bill.

"This bill does give us an opportunity to give $11 million to the general fund and add another $11 million to the highway fund. And after two years it provides the money . . . for eight years provides the money for the highway fund. This would provide an opportunity where we may not have a gas tax increase in 2001. So all of this included, this is a good bill.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 184 was adopted and H.B. No. 765, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO MOTOR VEHICLE RENTAL INDUSTRY," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Slom rose to speak against the bill and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak against this bill.

"This establishes the integrated tax information management system special fund and appropriates $17.8 million in the next fiscal year and then $7.5 million after that. These are monies that should be in the general fund and accountable, not in special funds.

"Thank you"

Senator Slom rose in opposition to the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I'm rising to speak against this bill.

"While there are many people that are entitled to claims against the State and it seems that the number grows every year, a careful examination of the people that are being compensated here shows that one individual -- a person who used to be one of the top three lieutenants in the past gubernatorial administration -- is receiving approximately three-quarters of a million dollars in claims for legal fees paid and I don't think that's right. I don't think that's the purpose of this claim fund.

"I urge a 'no' vote."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 186 was adopted and H.B. No. 989, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO THE RELIEF OF CERTAIN PERSONS' CLAIMS AGAINST THE STATE AND PROVIDING APPROPRIATIONS THEREFOR," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Senator Nakata rose in support of the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak briefly in favor of this bill.

"This bill will fulfill a long-standing commitment to the public workers of this State, so I urge my colleagues to vote for it.

"Thank you."

Senator Slom spoke in favor of the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of this bill.

"As I mentioned before, I fully support the State's promise to fund collective bargaining agreements that were bargained in full faith and negotiation, and this is what we should do. This is the proper way to do it -- have a separate bill and address that issue and that issue only, and not combine it with other issues.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 193 was adopted and H.B. No. 1038, H.D. 1, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING APPROPRIATIONS FOR COLLECTIVE BARGAINING COST ITEMS," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

The Senate reconvened at 2:55 o'clock p.m.

RECONSIDERATION OF ACTIONS TAKEN

S.B. No. 44, S.D. 1, H.D. 2:

Senator Fukunaga moved that the Senate reconsider its action taken on April 15, 1999, in disagreeing to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 44, S.D. 1, seconded by Senator Chun and carried.

Senator Fukunaga moved that the Senate agree to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 44, S.D. 1, seconded by Senator Chun.

Senator Fukunaga explained:

"Mr. President, S.B. No. 44 and S.B. No. 638 are part of the Senate's original business incentives package. During conference, your Senate managers held out for perhaps more artfully drafted versions of S.B. No. 44, S.D. 1, H.D. 2, and S.B. No. 638, S.D. 1, H.D. 2. This is not because they were flawed but because they could be improved upon. Mr. President, you, members of the Senate, and your Committee on Ways and Means, throughout this session have supported the change in taxing exported and imported services and the depyramiding of the general excise tax on services. As stated in the budget committee report, these tax incentives would yield the greatest positive impact on the business community, both large and small, crossing all industries. They will stimulate the economy by lowering the cost of doing business in Hawaii, making Hawaii's service providers more competitive and levelling the playing field for Hawaii's service providers. Finally, they will bring money into the State as service providers will no longer be at a 4 percent disadvantage in competition with Mainland counterparts.

"The House has advised us that the Department of Taxation has approved both of these bills and that it can administer them both. I would note that both bills are effective on January 1, 2000 and any problems that exist can be quickly addressed during the year 2000 Regular Session. These bills would round out the Legislature's attempt to improve the economy. Coupled with other tax incentives provided in this year's S.B. No. 1583 for high technology businesses and the income tax decrease enacted last year, the Senate will have sent to the Governor the tools necessary for improving our economy.

"For all of the foregoing reasons, Mr. President, I would urge my colleagues to vote in support of these measures.

"Thank you."

At 3:01 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 3:05 o'clock p.m.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried.

On motion by Senator Fukunaga, seconded by Senator Chun and carried, the Senate agreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 44, S.D. 1, and S.B. No. 44, S.D. 1, H.D. 2, entitled: "A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO TAXATION," having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 25. Noes, none.

S.B. No. 638, S.D. 1, H.D. 2:

Senator Fukunaga moved that the Senate reconsider its action taken on April 15, 1999, in disagreeing to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 638, S.D. 1, seconded by Senator Chun and carried.

Senator Fukunaga moved that the Senate agree to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 638, S.D. 1, seconded by Senator Chun and carried.

Senator Fukunaga moved that S.B. No. 638, S.D. 1, H.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Chun.

Senator Kanno rose to speak in support of the measure and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in support of S.B. No. 638.

"This is a key measure to help the small business community. The bill reduces the pyramiding effect of the general excise tax by reducing to one-half of 1 percent on the wholesale sale of services that are currently taxed at the 4 percent rate.

"The president and CEO of the Chamber of Commerce of Hawaii was quoted as saying, 'This is the best approach to helping small business and to revitalize the economy.'

"This bill lessens the tax burden on small business, and I urge my colleagues to support this measure. Thank you."

Senator Slom rose in support of the measure with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of the bill with reservations.

"I certainly appreciate the kind remarks of the small business representative -- my colleague from Makakilo who has always stood for small business issues -- but lest anybody get overjoyed, what the business community has said about general excise tax pyramiding is -- it has been the number one issue year, after year, after year. And the idea was to get rid of pyramiding, and it's unfortunate that our Governor, last year, thought it would have a major impact on our economy and then this year did a 180 degree turn and said that it wasn't that important. And the bill that we are passing, while it is a good bill and it addresses a major issue, we're talking about nearly seven years, Mr. President, seven years until the 4 percent general excise tax is phased down and the pyramiding reduced to 0.5 percent.

"I would suggest to you and to my colleagues that many of our business friends will not be here in seven years to enjoy the benefits of that bill. So, I would suggest again, when we talk about something at the beginning of the legislative session and say how important it is and what we're going to do, then, by God, we should do it! And we should do it right away and we should do it completely, not piece meal and not over seven years. So, with those caveats, I support the bill, Mr. President.

"Thank you."

Senator Anderson then said:

"Can that be a me too?" (Laughter.)

The Chair replied:

"We will incorporate the Minority Floor Leader's remarks as if they were your own."

Senator Nakata rose to speak in favor of the measure with reservations and said:

"Mr. President, I rise to speak in favor of this bill with reservations that are somewhat different from my colleague from Hawaii Kai.

"My reservation does relate back to the ERTF package which also, in addition to the depyramiding, included a slight raise in the general excise tax.

"Thank you."

Senator Taniguchi supported the measure with reservations as follow:

"Mr. President, I also wish to rise in support of this bill with reservations similar to the Senator from Kahaluu, and dissimilar to the ones from the Senator from Hawaii Kai."

Senator Levin rose to speak on the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I have two comments, actually both directed to the media.

"First of all, those of little faith who reported that depyramiding was dead on Friday, I hope that those stories will be retracted. Second, whenever there is any discussion whatsoever about increasing a tax, say from 4 percent to 5 percent, that is not reported to be a 1 percent increase; that's a 25 percent increase. I hope as we go down from 4 percent to 3-1/2 and 3, that those will be portrayed as 12-1/2 percent and 25 percent decreases as they should be if there is to be fairness and equity.

"Thank you."

Senator Fukunaga moved that the Senate agree to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 1325, S.D. 1, seconded by Senator Chun.

Senator Fukunaga noted:

"I'd like to note, Mr. President, that S.B. No. 1325, S.D. 1, H.D. 2, is a measure that signifies the Senate's commitment to rebuilding the economy by providing a qualified improvement tax credit, the core of which is improvement to hotels which will stimulate the hotel industry. Unfortunately, during our conference deliberations this bill was not amended into an appropriate form. If we do not act upon this bill today, the discussion is ended and our opportunity to take action will be lost. If we can send this bill to the Governor, the dialogue can continue, and if the House and the Governor agree, we can meet at a later date to fully flesh out this bill with appropriate corrections.

"For all of the foregoing reasons, Mr. President, I would urge my colleagues to vote in support of this measure.

"Thank you."

Senator Iwase rose to inquire as follows:

"Mr. President, just a point of inquiry. We received a memo, May 3, 1999, setting forth the bills that we are discussing now for final reading, and S.B. No. 1325 is not on it. Are we adding this to that agenda?"

The Chair responded: "Exactly."

"Okay. Thank you very much."

Senator Fukunaga moved that S.B. No. 1325, S.D. 1, H.D. 2, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Chun.

Senator Inouye rose to support the measure as follows:

"Mr. President, I speak in support of this measure. I am very pleased that we are able to resurrect the subject measure to assist hotels in construction renovations through this action of tax credit. We have been presented with plans for renovations and added construction from some in the industry who are committed to making necessary improvements to their properties, in turn, enhancing areas within their districts, adding new job opportunities for our people. It also gives other hotels incentives to upgrade their facilities, as well.

"Mr. President, I need to apologize. I have been a pain in your side for my persistence to resurrect the hotel renovations and construction bill. Though I also pushed for one addressing all construction, all is not lost, Mr. President. On behalf of the Hiltons, the Outriggers and, hopefully, more to follow, we thank you very much.

"I urge my colleagues' support."

Senator Anderson rose to speak with reservations on the measure and said:

"Mr. President, I had reservations on this measure. I'm glad it's out, but originally we were looking at $25 million before they had any tax credits and then when we first started out it was supposed to be 4 percent across for them. I was upset that we were going to give a 4 percent off of refurbishing, when in fact every state building, every school, we have done nothing for in repair and maintenance and yet we're going to help private industry. However, the evening of going over these renovation bills, what we did is we allowed from $25 million we went down to $5 million. I asked if there is a way that we can take care of some of the smaller hotels. So Mr. Towill was going to give us a book on that. Maybe now with this bill at least going up to the Governor, I don't think it will be passed. I think he will veto it, and we'll be able to work on it.

"But the concerns are the smaller hotels. There should be an area in there where you can go from a zero to a hundred room hotel or motel whereby those people would be able to get at least a $2 million break, if they refurbish. There's got to be a way so that we are not having big business fight small business all the time.

"So I think for those reasons and those reservations, I would hope my colleagues would consider it if it comes back.

"Thank you."

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, the Senate agreed to the amendments proposed by the House to S.B. No. 1325, S.D. 1, and S.B. MISCELLANEOUS COMMUNICATION

Misc. Com. No. 15, from the Senate Judiciary Committee dated April 12, 1999, transmitting the executive summary and report reflecting the Committee's inquiry into the management of and safety within Hawaii's correctional facilities and the response submitted by the Department of Public Safety, was read by the Clerk and was placed on file.

Senator Chumbley rose at this time and stated:

"Mr. President, in January you had instructed your Judiciary Committee to undertake a fact-finding inquiry into the management of and the safety within the Hawaii Correctional Facilities. Mr. President, we'd like to have these two reports (Misc. Com. No. 15) inserted into the Journal for the record."

The Chair having so ordered, Misc. Com. No. 15 is identified as ATTACHMENT "A" to the Journal of this day.

Senator Anderson rose on a point of personal privilege and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

"Mr. President, as you well know, over the last few days I think a lot of us have been getting a lot of communications. I don't mind when someone does a lot of name calling or whatever, but I think it's pretty bad when they think I'm rather stupid and don't understand what a threat is. And I just got this one today that says, 'Please understand that this is not a threat. This is a plea for reality.'

"Well, let me tell you what a threat is. When you have people phoning up . . . the last one was yesterday that says, 'Tell your father-in-law either vote the right way -- this is your second chance -- or you lose your job.' And my son-in-law said, 'I'm a custodian. You can have my job.' That's a threat. When you have people say, 'Things can happen to your house, we know where you live.' That's a threat. When you have people telling you your car is a certain color; your house is located in a certain area; your wife works at a certain place; your children go to school; we know where they play different games. That's a threat.

"Now, the Governor (the other night on television during a half hour that the media gave him) said that a threat, we don't understand. He said the Senators, I think, are rather new and they don't understand these people are not going to vote for them. Well, if that's the way the Governor feels, I don't know why he has guards all around him that we pay for. I don't understand why his house has security guards all around his home. I think that he believes that we are different. He has threats; all we get is people telling us what they're not going to do.

"So for those reasons, Mr. President, I stand now to tell people I don't think we're rather dumb. I don't mind being told that they won't vote for me. I don't mind if they feel they have to work against me. But don't make me feel like I'm a fool and I don't understand what a damn threat is, because I do. I resent it, and I will not stand for it. We have turned it over to the Police Department. That's how dumb we are. We have also turned it over to the school. That's how dumb we are.

"So I would hope that my colleagues, if you get the same thing, we were told if you get any threats turn it in, because if anything happens to you, if anything happens to your family, at least it's on record. So for those of you who believe that the Governor is right and it's just the people out there getting a little emotional and telling you that they're not going to vote for you or work for you, let me tell you there is a difference.

"Thank you."

Senator Tam rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

"Mr. President, I thank my colleague from the windward side. Now that he mentions in terms of the threat and respectively I have received a threat for my family, and I have turned it over to the Police Department and they are now investigating. I thank you for reminding us in terms of to stand up and be accounted for and be brave and not to be afraid of threats. I, quite frankly, don't take it lightly, especially when it goes against my family, my two young ones who are very innocent and who are now six years old and seven years old. It's very distasteful to me and to the rest of society.

"And also a second announcement, if I may, Mr. President. Previously, as the chairman for the Education Committee under your guidance, we had the pleasure during the interim of making a report on the players of educational roles, and respectively I will be submitting this to your office for the record. Thank you. We have identified in regards to the description of the roles of the players like the parents, the educator, the principal, the legislator and even the governor. And we appreciate in terms of the involvement in describing their respective roles so that we can work together.

"Thank you."

At 3:33 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 3:34 o'clock p.m.

Senator Slom also rose on a point of personal privilege and said:

"A point of personal privilege, Mr. President.

"So, we've come to the end of another legislative session. I just want to thank you, Mr. President, and I want to thank members of the Majority caucus, my colleagues.

"The fact is that I think the public has seen that in this body we have had full and open debate. We have debated a number of issues -- sometimes we've agreed; sometimes we've disagreed. Hopefully, the points that have been raised have been valid points and will make people think further and look at things further. And I think that's very healthy for democracy and for our process. I think that we understand that the purpose of us being here is to have better legislation and have a better economy, have a better standard of living for the people who sent us here.

"In the words of the Senator from Palolo that are historic . . . they were made just about a week-and-a-half ago as I was being lambasted by cheerleaders from one of my own area high schools. The Senator from Palolo made remarks that will be carved and etched in stone like this. He said and I quote: 'High Risk throw ups.' And some of the high risk throw ups this time were the fact that we did not work on the stress factor in workers' compensation. And we did not really turn the economy around. We did not really allay the fears of those who are hanging on by their fingernails and who will not be with us next year. We talk a great deal. We still are big in spending other people's money. We still have a lot of studies and task forces and panels and blue ribbon commissions. And we have to learn how to do things a little bit more efficiently and have the urgency that our friends and our neighbors have in our communities.

"But we made a start, Mr. President, and I'm here to say that I appreciate everything that my colleagues have done and the staff has done -- the staff of every individual here -- because those of us that are here know how hard they work and how dedicated they are and what they try to do.

"So I say mahalo for all of these things and remind you that this is the first session of the Twentieth State Legislature. We will all be back next year and hopefully -- after spending more time with our constituents and listening because, with apologies to Mitch Kahle, that's why God gave us two ears and only one mouth; it's better to listen and to find out what our constituents have to say -- we can come back and we can do even better. Because when we say that there's something important and we want to do it, then lets do it immediately. Let's do it during the first months. Let's do it in January or February. Let's not wait until 11:59 p.m. on the 60th day of the legislative session. Let's get the people's work done.

"Reverend Peter Kamakawiwoole today in his prayer to us this morning said that it is a privilege for us to serve, and let us never forget that -- that it is a privilege and that we are, in fact, public servants. Let us not forget who sent us here and what they expect us to do. Let us listen to them. Let us accept their wisdom because every day they are faced with tough decisions that they alone have to make, and they have to reach into their own pockets and they have to do without. So when we vote on bills and we consider legislation, let's make sure that we can do the very best that we can do for our children, for our friends, and for our constituents.

"Thank you and Aloha, Mr. President."

Senator Buen rose on a point of personal privilege and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

"Last week, Mr. President, some of us freshman Senators discovered that a trophy was given to a freshman Senator. And as a freshman Senator, I think I can speak for the other freshmen that this came as no surprise when our colleague from Waianae was selected by the University of Hawaii Professional Assembly to be honored and recognized as the outstanding freshman Senator. We were really proud of her.

"At this time, I'd like to ask the Senator from Hilo to come up and present the trophy on behalf of the University of Hawaii Professional Assembly, for all to see."

Senator Matsuura then rose and said:

"One other comment I would also like the Journal to reflect, the media to reflect, and especially our colleagues to understand, is that, as of today, we are no longer the freshman group. We are now the sophomore group.

"Thank you, Mr. President."

Senator Buen then added:

"Mr. President and fellow Senators, as freshmen, I'd like to say that when it comes to making tough decisions and hearing tough issues, we are no longer considered as freshmen.

"Thank you."

At 3:40 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

At this time, Senator Matsuura presented Senator Hanabusa with the trophy from the University of Hawaii Professional Assembly.

The Senate reconvened at 3:41 o'clock p.m.

Senator Matsunaga then rose and stated:

"Mr. President, I rise on a point of personal privilege.

"First of all, I want to thank the Senator from Hawaii Kai for reminding me of my historic words not too long ago. I had hoped that we would entertain a motion for reconsideration of Gov. Msg. No. 145, but it doesn't look like that's going to happen.

"On behalf of the Senate Judiciary Committee, I would like to thank all the members for their kokua. People often ask me why we're pushing out such tough crime bills. There was an article in yesterday's paper that I would just like to make sure everyone is aware of: 'A man attacked Ernie and Cookie

Monster in yesterday's Sesame Street live performance at Blaisdell arena. The unidentified man in the audience of the 1:00 p.m. show apparently flew into a rage after volunteering to dance with the character on stage. He flipped Ernie over and tried to pull off Cookie Monster's head. The woman who plays Ernie suffered from a stiff neck and went to the hospital. The performer who plays Cookie Monster was shaken but not injured.' Mr. President, that's why we need tougher crime laws. (Laughter.)

"One final mention, on H.B. No. 32 we didn't have the vigorous debate that we had had previously and I just want to read a poem that I had drafted. This is on industrial hemp. (Laughter.) I didn't read it during the debate because I was kind of hoping the bill would just slide through and it seems to have worked.

'A tiger lily is not a large cat,
The comic book Batman isn't a bat,
A dogwood isn't a canine, you know,
And wishing it was, still won't make it so,
The spice girls will not season your cooking,
And wine glasses will not help with your looking,
Linda Lingle, of course, isn't Kimo Apana,
And industrial hemp is not marijuana.' (Laughter.)

"Thank you, Mr. President."

The Chair responded:

"I believe there is a continuing education course in poetry writing at the University of Hawaii, Senator." (More laughter.)

Senator Sakamoto rose on a point of personal privilege as follows:

"A point of personal privilege, Mr. President.

"I like the levity from the Senator from Palolo, but I think Walt Disney said, 'perception is reality, and we're all on a stage here, like it or not.' And my prayer or my hope is that in the interim we can change the perception that we're all bad people, that we're all this or we're all that, into being truly representative of our people, and on issues, the hard issues, people have justifiable reasons for voting the way they voted. But my prayer is that we can get renewed and come back and work together, Mr. President."

Senator Chun Oakland then rose and said:

"Mr. President, I also wanted to say thank you to my colleagues for all the hard work that you have done, as well as our staff, the media and everyone here.

"I did want to acknowledge two colleagues of ours, the birthdays of Senators Andrew Levin as well as the birthday of Senator Colleen Hanabusa. Can we please extend a happy birthday to them."

Senate President Mizuguchi then delivered his closing remarks as follows:

"Members of the Senate, after many 'Sleepless in Honolulu' nights, I know you all want to head home for a well-deserved rest, so I'll keep my remarks very brief this evening.

"On opening day of the Twentieth State Legislature, I talked about the many challenging issues we faced during this special time in our history when two centuries will soon be converging.

"I also said that our most serious challenge during this session was -- and still is -- the economy. After lengthy and careful deliberations, we reached agreement with the House of Representatives on a number of measures that will lay the foundation for improving Hawaii's economy and helping all the people of our island community, most especially our children.

ADJOURNMENT

- First and foremost is the cornerstone of our tax relief package -- de-pyramiding of the General Excise Tax on goods and services that will provide our businesses with the tax relief they have sought for many years. In addition, excise taxes on professional services performed out-of-state have been eliminated, thus continuing our efforts to improve the business climate in Hawaii.
- We passed a balanced budget that provides for current services, including the basic necessities of health, human services, public safety, and education.
- We passed a high-tech omnibus bill that provides tax credits and other incentives for those wishing to invest in the technology business.
- We passed comprehensive legislation to establish 'new-century' schools, whereby existing and new schools will have the autonomy to chart their own course in meeting the demands of the twenty-first century. While these student-centered schools will have the flexibility to define their academic goals, they will be held accountable for the academic performance of their students.
- We provided funding to enable the Department of Education to fulfill the requirements of the Felix v. Cayetano consent decree and prevent reducing or discontinuing essential services for students in regular and special-education programs.
- We held fast to our promise to make good on the retroactive collective-bargaining pay raises negotiated for government workers last year. We are also providing for well-deserved judicial pay raises.
- We passed measures to put more 'teeth' into our criminal justice system in order to protect women and most especially our children.

"The 1999 legislative session ends today, but our work does not end. During the interim, I will be conferring with the various chairs to address their respective key issues and the work we must do as we enter the new millennium. Two vital areas that will need our full attention during the interim are to develop major reforms in education and civil service.

"I want to thank all the Majority and Minority Senators who worked together to develop the final product that we can all be proud of. The vast experience of the veteran Senators coupled with the fresh ideas and enthusiasm of the freshmen Senators greatly contributed to the excellent balance during the process.

"We all want to serve our constituents and the greater public good. In working together, the chords of unity within the Senate became a bit frayed at times. However, I am confident after this session that we will continue to work together toward the noble objectives that have brought us together.

"I'm grateful to you and your staffs for all the hard work.

"Mahalo and aloha."

At this time, the President appointed Senators Ihara, Chumbley, Chun, Anderson and Slom to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate is ready to adjourn, Sine Die.

At 3:49 o'clock p.m., the Senate stood in recess subject to the call of the Chair.

The Senate reconvened at 4:06 o'clock p.m.

Senator Chun moved that the Senate of the Twentieth Legislature of the State of Hawaii, Regular Session of 1999, adjourn Sine Die, seconded by Senator Slom and carried.

At 4:07 o'clock p.m., the President rapped his gavel and declared the Senate of the Twentieth Legislature of the State of Hawaii, Regular Session of 1999, adjourned Sine Die.

Senate Judiciary Committee
Inquiry into the Management of and Safety within Hawaii's Correctional Facilities

During the summer of 1998, as the Co-Chairs of the Senate Judiciary Committee, we were contacted by journalist Robert Rees, Governor Benjamin Cayetano, members of the American Civil Liberties Union of Hawaii and the United States Civil Rights Commission, and others who urged the Committee to investigate allegations of physical abuse and neglect of inmates incarcerated in Hawaii correctional facilities. Based upon these concerns, we made the commitment to conduct a fact-finding investigation during the 1999 legislative session. After consultation with the Senate leadership, we have proceeded with a fact-finding inquiry that was conducted within the Senate's limited resources and time constraints of the legislative session. The following summarizes the Committee's findings:

- Inmate abuse and neglect is a symptom of a larger problem, which is the lack of a clear vision for the state correctional system and the lack of strong leadership to address systemwide problems that have plagued the Department of Public Safety (formerly the Department of Corrections) since its inception.
- Communication between the department's administration and the management and staff at state correctional facilities has been poor, resulting in widely differing interpretations of departmental policy and procedures.
- Personnel recruitment, screening, promotion, and grievance procedures are ineffective, resulting in low employee morale and vast disparities in employee quality within state correctional facilities.
- The department's grievance process and internal investigation mechanisms lack accountability, which have resulted in inadequate investigation and follow-up regarding allegations of inmate abuse and neglect.

In our capacity as legislators, we have limited authority over the administration of the department and the management of their programs and personnel. However, as the Co-Chairs of the Senate Judiciary Committee, we acknowledge our responsibility for the oversight of public safety programs and our need to address these findings to the extent practicable. Thus, we are recommending a multi-level approach, to include:

- A written response from the department's administration, to be submitted to the Committee within thirty days, outlining a plan of action and timelines to correct deficiencies noted by the Committee in their report to the department, including an immediate review of and any necessary revisions to departmental policies and procedures relating to acts of violence within the correctional facilities.
- The introduction and adoption by the Legislature of a Senate Concurrent Resolution requesting a department-wide management and financial audit, with annual follow-up audits during the tenure of the present administration.

- The establishment of a joint interim oversight committee to receive and review status reports on the administration's progress in implementing their action plan to address the Committee's findings.
- Transmittal of information received by the Committee, which may need further investigation by either the county or federal prosecutor, or both.

SENATE JUDICIARY COMMITTEE

INQUIRY INTO THE MANAGEMENT OF AND SAFETY WITHIN HAWAII'S CORRECTIONAL FACILITIES

I. BACKGROUND

A. THE PRISON SYSTEM

As of January 24, 1999, Hawaii's eight correctional facilities housed a total population of 3,634 inmates. This number does not include the 1,200 inmates residing in mainland facilities. Statewide, correctional facilities are operating well above the desired normal occupancy rates. Hawaii's correctional facilities have a total design capacity of 2,197 and an operational capacity of 3,122. This translates into an occupancy rate of 116 percent. Halawa Correctional Facility is operating at an occupancy rate of 129 percent. Rapid growth in the prison population has taxed all systems within the prisons: construction, programming efforts, and training of corrections staff have all been challenged by the ongoing increases in the number of inmates committed to our correctional system.

Ensuring the safety of inmates and staff is an immense challenge for prison officials, given the nature and size of the prison population. Many of the inmates housed within the correctional facilities, especially Halawa, have demonstrated a strong propensity for violence. All of them have a history of violating established rules and norms set by society.

Nevertheless, the Eighth Amendment of the United States Constitution requires that prison officials provide inmates with such minimum essentials as adequate food, shelter, clothing, medical care, and safety. The basic responsibility of PSD is to house offenders in an environment that is secure. This security includes an obligation to prevent physical harm to inmates wherever possible.

B. THE INQUIRY

1. The issue is brought to the Committee's attention.

In the July 22, 1998 edition of the Honolulu Weekly, journalist Robert Rees wrote an expose, entitled "Notes from the Underground," which recounted the stories of several Halawa Correctional Facility inmates who died, suffered serious injuries, or apparently committed suicide while in the correctional system. As a result of this article, Governor Benjamin Cayetano, the American Civil Liberties Union of Hawaii, the United States Civil Rights Commission, and others urged the Committee to investigate the allegations of physical abuse and neglect of prison inmates.

2. The Committee begins its inquiry.

It is within this Committee's purview to oversee all matters relating to public safety and corrections pursuant to the Senate rules. Thus, the Co-Chairs sought the advice and approval of the Senate President to conduct an investigation into the abuse and neglect of inmates by correctional officers. The possibility of creating a senate special investigative committee with full subpoena power was discussed and rejected as being too presumptive at this time. Therefore, the Committee's inquiry was limited to those resources available and at our disposal.

In December 1998, the Committee began its inquiry by researching reported cases of inmate abuse and neglect, including inmate deaths. The Committee also spent several weeks conducting interviews with the State Auditor, the Ombudsman, several correctional officers who preferred to remain anonymous, and other disinterested individuals to fully understand the extent of the problem, the underlying causes, and possible solutions. The Committee believed that these disinterested individuals would provide a reasonably objective view of the issues involved.

3. The Committee holds a public inquiry.

The Committee held a two-day inquiry to determine the status of efforts in the state correctional system to ensure the safety and welfare of inmates and staff. On January 28, 1999, the Committee held a public inquiry and requested the presence of the Acting Director of the Department of Public Safety, the Attorney General, the State Director of the United Public Workers' Union, the American Civil Liberties Union, the United States Commission on Civil Rights, and journalist Robert Rees.

On January 29, the Committee provided the general public an opportunity to voice concerns about the perceived problems within the correctional system. The intent of this hearing was to afford any individuals who were not invited to the prior day's inquiry or interviewed by the Committee an opportunity to share their knowledge and concerns about the issue. Testimony was received from the Community Alliance on Prisons, Government Efficiency Teams, Inc., TJ Mahoney & Associates, former inmates of the Womens Community Correctional Facility, family members of current and former inmates, and other concerned individuals.

II. FINDINGS

Due to the severe time and resource constraints, the Committee limited its review to documents and information reasonably available. Therefore, this fact summary is in no way meant to be exhaustive. The majority of information contained in this summary originates from:

- The Department of Public Safety
- The Department of the Attorney General
- The Department of Human Resource Development
- The State Auditor
- The State Ombudsman
- The American Civil Liberties Union
- The United States Commission on Civil Rights
- Inmates, including their attorneys or family members
- Employees of the Department of Public Safety who wished to remain anonymous

The Committee recognizes that neither the inmates nor PSD personnel can be considered neutral witnesses. For reasons that are self-evident, inmates and staff are interested in the outcome of this inquiry. The Committee must also take into account the undeniable presence of a "code of silence." As the evidence clearly shows, this unwritten but widely understood code is designed to encourage prison employees to remain silent regarding the improper behavior of their fellow employees, particularly where excessive or unreasonable force has been alleged. Those who defy the code risk retaliation and harassment. The Committee has considered all of the above, as well as the manner and demeanor of informants, in assessing their credibility and in making our findings.

A. PROFESSIONALISM OF PSD EMPLOYEES AND STAFF

A serious problem for PSD is the recruitment, training, and retention of qualified staff. By all accounts, the duties of a correctional officer are stressful and oftentimes dangerous. All parties agree that correctional officers work with some of the most antisocial persons in our community, but many are inadequately trained or are not given the support they need to effectively deal with the inmates.

This inability of some correctional officers to deal with difficult inmates leads some to conclude that all correctional officers are corrupt, violent, and brutal manipulators of the system. Despite the stigma attached to their occupation, the majority of officers work diligently and take pride in their work.

1. Recruitment

Entrance requirements for a correctional officer are essentially similar to those of a deputy sheriff, a police officer, and other law enforcement personnel. Applicants are required to demonstrate that they possess the traits and characteristics required for the job. These include alertness, tact, integrity, honesty, good judgment, and the ability to deal with inmates and other employees. In addition, applicants are required to possess the emotional and mental stability appropriate to the job and working conditions. However, the Committee notes that these qualifications are so subjective that they render ineffective any screening process based solely on these factors.

2. Training and Retention

Proper training of correctional officers is the means through which staff can understand the responsibilities of their job, how they receive instruction and training for promotions, and how the department's goals, objectives, and vision are made known. Testimony indicated that newly recruited correctional officers are required to attend a 264-hour basic training course that covers such areas as security procedures, supervision of inmates, suicide detection, use of force, safety procedures, fire and other emergency procedures, interpersonal relations, stress management, and governing rules and regulations. This basic training appears to meet the standards set forth by the American Corrections Association.

At the same time, PSD also provides a variety of in-service and out-service training programs to meet the needs of all departmental employees. The typical courses offered by the department include: anger management, conflict management, communications, cultural diversity, dealing with conflict, and dealing with hostile people among others. Further, PSD affords its employees the opportunity to attend classes conducted by the Department of Human Resources Development as well as attend training classes sponsored by other governmental agencies and the National Institute of Corrections.

The Committee finds that while PSD offers adequate training courses for all of its employees, correctional officers do not take advantage of these classes. PSD testified at the inquiry that it is sometimes difficult for employees to take advantage of the training courses, because when an employee attends training, the department needs to find another employee to cover the shift, which may lead to overtime compensation. However, the Committee has also learned that many correctional officers are not receptive to the idea of additional training, and some officers view training as a type of punishment, and therefore, they may not put into practice what they have learned.

3. Staff Morale

Staff morale is an important key to effective management and maintaining sound employee/management relationships.

During its preliminary research, the Committee learned that many correctional officers were dissatisfied with the low salary, the limited opportunities for promotion, and the promotion process in general. There were several reported instances where correctional officers were promoted after passing a written examination even though they had been subject to disciplinary action in the past. This practice had a demoralizing effect upon other correctional officers who had clean records, perfect attendance records, and superior job performance ratings. At the inquiry, the Committee questioned PSD officials and learned that promotions are awarded based solely upon a written examination process. Seniority is a factor that is considered only when there are two equally qualified individuals and that disciplinary actions are not considered when determining promotions.

Another factor that impacts upon staff morale is the lack of a nepotism policy. Section 378-2, Hawaii Revised Statutes, prohibits an employer from refusing to hire, fire, or promote an employee based on a marital relationship. However, there is nothing in statutes that would prohibit the department from promulgating its own rules or establishing guidelines that would prohibit a spouse or close relative from working in any part of the organization where they would be under the direct or indirect supervision of a relative.

The Committee also noted during its investigation that a dichotomy exists between the correctional officers and other employees within the facility. The result is that these two groups do not work cooperatively together and are often at odds with each other. The correctional officers are charged with controlling the security of the facility and view their role as maintaining discipline and preventing escapes. On the other hand, the other institutional employees are identified as the "professionals;" social workers, nurses, psychologists, physicians, and teachers whose role is to provide counseling to the inmates and help inmates improve their lifestyles.

B. INCIDENTS OF ABUSE AND NEGLECT

1. Standard of Conduct

Although correctional officers abide by a code of conduct, the Committee was told that this code is "hypocritical" and ineffective because employees constantly violate these standards.

2. Possible Deviations from Standards

According to the 1997 Sourcebook of Criminal Justice Statistics, a total of eleven inmates died while in Hawaii's prisons. Six inmates died of illnesses or from natural causes. One inmate died from AIDS. Another died at the hands of another. Three inmates committed suicide. This means that for every 1,000 inmates, 3.1 inmates die. In Utah, whose prison population is similar in size to Hawaii, they average only 1.7 inmate deaths per 1,000 inmates. Thus, Hawaii is on par with the death rate of Texas (3.1) which has a significantly larger prison population. Texas has a total population of 127,766 inmates with 399 prison deaths.

During the inquiry, the Committee heard stories of corruption and inappropriate staff misconduct in which inmates were allegedly abused throughout the state correctional system. While the Committee cannot judge the validity of this information, the fact that there is a widespread perception of abuse must serve as a clear warning sign that PSD has many significant problems to overcome.

Since the early 1980s, the corrections system has been hampered by allegations of the use of excessive force by correctional officers when subduing or regaining control of inmates. In 1981, the Oahu Community Correction Center conducted a search and seizure of the facility that lasted five days, cost the state well over $250,000, and led to a series of investigations spanning three years. During this 1981 shakedown, seventeen inmates were treated for injuries and one inmate had to be sent to a local hospital for treatment. The Ombudsman conducted an investigation into the 1981 shakedown and found evidence that unreasonable force had been used against forty-four inmates and requested that disciplinary action be brought against thirty-two employees. However, all charges against these officers were dismissed. The use of unreasonable force became a chronic problem that allegedly continues today.

The Committee discovered that the number of inmate complaints alleging the use of force peaked during 1995 and 1996 at Halawa Correctional Facility and attributes this to the policy of "Treatment for Special Case Inmates." This was articulated in a memo from the Chief of Security to the Warden providing guidelines "in an effort to manage disruptive inmates who continue to disregard the good government of the facility." There seems to be a dispute about who knew of the existence of the policy and what administrators and line staff were involved in the implementation of the policy. However, it is undisputed that the policy was in effect and several inmates were seriously injured because of it. The Committee noted that the use of video monitors placed at strategic points, which would provide an objective view of all in-prison activities, are severely lacking inside the correctional facilities. The Committee believes that there is a compelling need for this type of monitoring, which would provide an independent view of events, after the fact, if required to assist an investigation.

3. Prior Complaints and Investigations

According to the Department of the Attorney General, from 1991-1998, the state settled 67 lawsuits, arising from actions taken by PSD, for approximately $3,174,357. From 1989 to the present, the Tort Litigation Division handled approximately 204 civil lawsuits filed by or on behalf of inmates. Of these 204 cases, fifty-six cases involved issues of brutality, use of excessive force, and/or inappropriate conduct.

In two reported and well-publicized cases of inmate abuse, the Ulysses Kim and Anthony DeGuzman lawsuits, the State settled out of court for a total of approximately $400,000. The Attorney General noted that the State does not settle cases without some substantiation of negligence on behalf of the State, whether it is the line staff or the administration. The Committee was informed that along with the recommendation to settle a lawsuit, the Attorney General offers PSD possible resolutions to the present problem in order to prevent future similar lawsuits. In the cases of Kim and DeGuzman, the special handling policy was withdrawn before the State settled these cases. The Attorney General was not aware of that any other recommendations were given to PSD.

The Committee was informed of allegations of inadequate investigation, questionable practices by the Internal Affairs, and that no disciplinary actions were taken in any of those cases.

4. Allegations of Specific Abuses

The Committee received information from several independent sources alleging abuses ranging from individual cases to system-wide corruption. The Committee recognizes the serious nature of these charges. However, this Committee has neither the appropriate authority nor the personnel, resources, or time to investigate these claims. Furthermore, the Legislature is not the appropriate branch of government for the investigation of any criminal activity. The Committee believes that the prosecutors, either state or federal, would be the more appropriate body to pursue these charges.

C. ACCOUNTABILITY OF STAFF FOR THEIR MISCONDUCT THE GRIEVANCE PROCEDURES

There are multiple mechanisms within Hawaii's correctional facilities for reporting incidents or conditions that require the attention of upper management. PSD officials testified about its inmate grievance procedures and the role of the Investigations Division Administrator and the Internal Affairs divisions that investigate all inmate complaints. In addition, independent agencies such as the Ombudsman's Office, the American Civil Liberties Union Hawaii Chapter, the courts, and the legislature also play a role in overseeing prison conditions.

Within PSD, various divisions have distinct responsibilities for dealing with problems within the state correctional system. The following is an overview of these mechanisms.

1. The Inmate Grievance Process

The grievance system operates through the normal chain of command. As part of inmate orientation, inmates are given an explanation of their right to complain about conditions or events. Every grievance is reviewed by staff not associated with the event or condition for which a grievance is made.

The grievance process has three steps. The first step of review of inmate grievances takes place in the unit where the inmate is incarcerated and is handled by the facility's grievance officer. An inmate must file a grievance within fourteen days from the date of the incident. The grievance officer has fourteen days to respond to the inmate's complaint. For all grievances where this informal resolution is not possible, the grievance officer assigns appropriate staff to investigate and respond within fifteen days. If the inmate is not satisfied with the result, the second step is that the inmate may file an appeal and the appropriate personnel have fifteen days to respond. The final step is that if the inmate appeal is not resolved to the inmate's satisfaction, the inmate may file an appeal with the division administrator or the inspector general who must respond to the inmate within 20 days. The inmate should also receive written notification of the disposition of his case at each step of the process. Inmates must exhaust their administrative remedies in the grievance system before they can pursue either state or federal litigation.

During 1995, Hawaii correctional facilities reported 5,658 inmate grievances. In 1998, Halawa Correctional Facility alone reported approximately 4,000 inmate grievances. The majority of inmate complaints concerned missing clothing or other laundry mishaps. However, PSD testified that it could not provide the Committee with any specific information on these grievances.

2. Investigation of Grievances

Once an inmate files a complaint alleging brutality, excessive force, or inappropriate conduct on behalf of a correctional officer, the incident reports are reviewed and an investigation is conducted by the correctional facility. If the investigation finds that a correctional officer has used excessive force, the division administrator recommends to the Director that internal affairs should become involved in the investigation.

PSD could not provide the Committee with information regarding how many cases of excessive force are reviewed each year or the number of allegations that were sustained and resulted in a disciplinary action.

However, there are important questions that still remain:

- How many staff members received serious injuries in altercations with inmates?
- How many inmates received serious injuries in altercations with correctional officers?
- How many cases involved an inmate who was seriously injured and yet the department did not find an excessive use of force?
- Is there a correlation between excessive force and serious injury?
- Is there a correlation between the filing of multiple grievances by an individual inmate and subsequent injury to the inmate?

The problems associated with the lack of a reliable system for reporting serious injuries became apparent during the inquiry. Enough injuries take place in the prison system to warrant some type of remedial action. However, in the absence of a clear accounting of injuries, it is impossible for prison managers to specify where action is most needed and where they are likely to be most effective. Systemic problems and dangerous trends are impossible to remedy if they have not been specifically identified.

III. RECOMMENDATIONS

A. SUMMARY

Throughout the two month long inquiry into the state correctional system, the one major theme that kept surfacing was that the management of the department dictates whether or not the correctional facilities are run properly. Although the Committee received favorable comments about the ability of the Acting Director to lead the Department of Public Safety, the Committee has reservations about the efficacy of the department to make the necessary changes without outside assistance and oversight.

Since the Governor controls the ultimate management of PSD, through his appointment of the Director, the Committee believes that the Governor should assist the Acting Director with developing and articulating a clear philosophy of corrections. Therefore, the Committee requests that the Acting Director submit, within thirty days, a plan of action that clearly articulates the Department's long-term, intermediate, and short-term goals and objectives; including the specific means and a timetable by which these goals and objectives will be achieved.

B. SPECIFIC RECOMMENDATIONS FOR THE DIRECTOR

This plan should also address the following:

1. Administration

- The department's administration needs to take a more "hands on" and directly involved approach to the management of corrections. The Director should be more visible within the prisons and to be more readily accessible to discuss problems and concerns with correctional employees. The Director is encouraged to not adopt a strict "chain of command" approach in which he relies exclusively on his correctional administrators and supervisors to inform him of problems and needs within our State's prisons. The Director is advised to set up regularly scheduled, on-site visits to each correctional facility during which he can talk with corrections employees and meet with representatives of each management and employee group, and especially with adult correctional officers.
- Correctional branch administrators should be given no later than the end of the year to bring their management skills up to acceptable standards. If the administrator fails to do so, a process should be undertaken immediately to replace the administrator.

- The department's administration needs to better and more thoroughly familiarize itself with contemporary studies and research relating to the department's correctional programs and management.
- The department's administration must work to foster communication and working relationships among the administrators and staff of the correctional facilities and between each facility and the department. It is especially important that each facility shares a common understanding of departmental priorities and objectives.
- The director should seek the input of correctional professionals and experts from Hawaii and the mainland.
- In the future, the department's administration needs to be more open with the Legislature in discussing concerns and problems affecting the state correctional system.
- The department's administration should examine, with the Attorney General, the feasibility of requesting a full-time deputy attorney general and support staff dedicated to managing and monitoring all inmate grievances and legal proceedings, especially to ensure that all settlement recommendations are followed through.

2. Personnel

- The administration of the department needs to make visible and substantial progress in resolving long-standing management problems within corrections.
- The department's administration should make a greater and more visible effort to discipline or reprimand supervisors or other employees within the department who are guilty of misconduct.
- The department's administration should collaborate with the Department of Human Resources Development to conduct a "needs assessment" for all departmental staff, and then institute training and educational programs that will facilitate improving staff morale.
- The department's administration should collaborate with the University of Hawaii, through the community colleges, and other corrections experts to develop a curriculum that would help correctional officers deal with the daily on-the-job situations. (similar to the EMS programs)
- The department's administration should consider the implementation of a nepotism policy and work with the Department of the Attorney General to develop such a policy.
- The department's administration should consider reviewing and revising the screening factors for hiring of correctional facility staff and the promotions policy.
- The department's administration should consider, with the United Public Workers Union, feasibility of allowing employees to transfer to from one facility to another voluntarily without the employee having to show hardship.

3. Inmate Abuse and Neglect

- The department's administration should examine the feasibility of requesting assistance for those inmates who suffer from mental illnesses from the appropriate mental health agency. In addition, the department's administration should collaborate with these agencies to examine ways to get the inmates the treatment they need.
- The department's administration should examine the problem of substance abuse by both inmates and staff and to identify the ways in which drugs are being brought into the system.

- The department's administration should examine the feasibility of using video monitoring at all correctional facilities as a means of monitoring the activities of inmates and staff as well as a tool to assist in the timely administration of an investigation.

4. Grievance Process

- The department's administration should examine the investigation process - the internal affairs structure, staffing, and the independence of the division.
- The department's administration should implement a more effective information management system. There is a clear need for an accurate, comprehensive reporting system that will enable PSD to look beyond anecdotal evidence to determine where prison conditions are unnecessarily dangerous.

C. Recommendations to the Auditor

In addition, the Committee will request that the Auditor conduct a comprehensive financial and management audit of the Department of Public Safety and require yearly follow-up audits for the next four years to ensure that the Director implements the recommendations of the Auditor.

D. Recommendations for Further Legislative Action

In addition, the Committee will request that the Legislature adopt a concurrent resolution that establishes a committee that will provide oversight and further direction to the department's administration regarding the implementation of these recommendations.

E. Recommendations for Further Criminal Investigation

The Committee received information that alleges abuses ranging from individual cases to system-wide corruption and believes that some of these charges might indicate criminal activities that should be made known to the appropriate agencies for investigation.

IV. CONCLUSION

It is important to note that there are limits to the efficacy of measures taken to ensure inmate and corrections officer safety. No amount of heightened vigilance can prevent isolated altercations from occurring between physically confined individuals with histories of aggressive behavior or untreated mental illness. The most effective method for dealing with this challenge is to implement clear rules for both guards and inmates, and to make the consequences of inappropriate behavior swift and fair. The relationship between the safety of guards and inmates cannot be overemphasized. If guards feel safe in their jobs, they are much more likely to respond to difficult situations in an appropriate, measured manner. If inmates feel safe, they are less likely to be aggressive to ward staff and other inmates.

The Committee heard troubling testimony about various kinds of problems within the state correctional system. Although much of the testimony was compelling, the fact remains that the Committee - and the Legislature in general - is not the appropriate venue to adjudicate specific disputes or to determine the veracity of wildly differing accounts of the same event. Thus, in this report, the Committee does not believe it should respond in a reckless manner, resulting in setting "policy by anecdote", but rather the Committee seeks to establish standards of accountability that will be generally applicable in guiding the correctional system in creating sound management policy for the future.

Department of Public Safety Response to the Senate Judiciary Committee's
Inquiry into the Management of and Safety within Hawaii's Correctional Facilities

Submitted to the Senate Judiciary Committee
March 10, 1999

INTRODUCTION

We would like to thank the Senate Judiciary Committee for this opportunity to respond to the findings and recommendations of its Inquiry into the Management and Safety within Hawaii's Correctional Facilities. The Department of Public Safety (PSD) submits the following response.

Vision for the State Correctional System

The Director of Public Safety is a corrections professional. Like the Committee, he is painfully aware that there has been a lack of clear vision for the state correctional system. This problem has been compounded by instability in the leadership of the department. From 1987, when the Department of Corrections (predecessor to the Department of Public Safety) was formed, until 1998, five separate persons have served as director or acting director. Only one of these persons had any background in corrections.

This Director has a firm understanding of the various complex aspects of corrections. He is aware that much work needs to be done in such basic areas as inmate programming, inmate classification, delivery of health care, security awareness, staff-inmate interaction, and emergency preparedness. He has already changed some important procedures and started the implementation of training programs to effect other changes. Even more importantly, he has emphasized - and will continue to emphasize - to correctional staff that his operational philosophy is rooted in principles such as:

- Correctional facilities operate within our nation's overall system of democracy, and one of the basic tenets of any democratic community is justice. Therefore, the principles of justice must be applied inside the correctional facilities as well. All persons in any correctional facility--every employee and all inmates--deserve to be treated justly;
- Inmates are incarcerated as punishment, not for punishment; they are criminal offenders, but they are human beings first;
- The primary purpose of correctional facilities is to securely incarcerate, but this period of incarceration gives us a unique opportunity to effect positive changes in peoples' lives;
- Everyone who works in corrections is a role model for inmates. Therefore we must model positive behaviors for inmates; and
- While sound programming is essential, it cannot take place unless there is adequate and appropriate security.

The Director also understands the need for strong leadership in the department, and is willing and prepared to provide it. He believes leadership is best communicated through actions. To this end, he is committed to hard work; open communication with staff, inmates, and the public; a high level of visibility; and an unwavering adherence to ethical behavior and professional standards.

The Director is also keenly aware of the need for leadership and accountability at all management levels of the department. To this end, he has instituted training for key managers in leadership principles, as part of a process of clarifying the department's mission and developing a unified strategy for fulfilling that mission. This process will also help to solidify the leadership team for the department. The Director is also committed to holding managers accountable, and will insist that managers in turn hold their subordinates accountable.

Policies and Procedures Relating to Acts of Violence

The department has asked the American Correctional Association (ACA) to review five of its policies and procedures relating to acts of violence within correctional facilities. The department will review recommendations made by the ACA and incorporate changes to our present policies as soon as it receives ACA's response. Meanwhile, the department has moved forward with the following:

- I. Reiterated current policies by emphasizing to all managers that use of unnecessary or excessive force will not be tolerated. Any staff member found guilty of using unnecessary or excessive force will receive immediate and appropriate disciplinary action.
- II. Reviewed the training course provided for adult correctional officers in Use of Force and identified needed improvements. The Director has tasked several experienced senior staff who are also qualified trainers, with updating this course. All adult corrections officers in the system will be retrained by May 30, 1999.
- III. Committed to implementing training in Crisis Intervention and Defusion Techniques. This course is designed to defuse and contain crises to minimize the instances in which physical force is needed. It also trains staff on defensive techniques that help them out of situations that turn physical.
- IV. Twelve departmental staff will be provided with intensive training to certify them as instructors in this course. Subsequently, these staff members will train other staff who have inmate contact. The department projects that it will take at least one year to put its entire correctional staff through this week-long course, after the trainers are certified.
- V. Reiterated current policies by emphasizing to all managers that the following will be strictly enforced:
 - A. All incidents in which force is used shall be immediately reported to the Director.
 - B. All staff involved in incidents in which force is used shall submit written reports prior to leaving the facility.
 - C. All planned uses of force shall be video taped.
 - D. The Director shall be immediately notified of all deaths.

- E. The scene of each death shall be handled as a crime scene. The police and Internal Affairs shall investigate each death. All staff involved in the case shall submit written reports prior to leaving the facility.
- F. The Health Care Unit of the facility shall complete a mortality review in each case of an inmate death.

RESPONSE TO SPECIFIC RECOMMENDATIONS FOR THE DIRECTOR

I. Administration

- A. The Director's preferred style is "leadership by walking around (LeBWA)"--that is, making it a point to be physically present throughout his department on a regular basis. He intends to visit correctional facilities periodically, on announced and unannounced bases. Effective immediately, he expects his deputies and division administrators to adopt this management style as well.

Furthermore, the Director has an open door policy that extends to all staff within the department, regardless of their position and rank. His willingness to talk with all departmental staff led him to visit all facilities at various times, including the night shift, prior to the opening of the 1999 Legislative Session.

- B. The Director is currently planning the implementation of an accountability system for correctional managers. The system will involve the establishment of clear performance standards for each manager. This will enable the executive staff of the department to measure the progress made by its managers. In turn, each manager will know what is expected of him/her (i.e., identifying priorities, setting goals and objectives, etc.). Performance expectations will be set forth by June 30, 1999. This system will provide information essential to conducting each manager's Annual Performance Appraisal (PAS). At the end of each annual rating period, managers who do not meet performance expectations will be handled in accordance with established State personnel rules.
- C. The department understands that it can improve its programs and management by taking advantage of contemporary studies and research relating to corrections. It will take full advantage of all opportunities that may be available. For example, in January, the department arranged through the Department of Justice to have two experts review its substance abuse treatment program. Specifically, these experts focused on assessments, appropriateness of available programs, and whether the department's policies and practices facilitate proper placement of inmates in the treatment programs consistent with their need.

Also, this week, the leading national expert on suicides in correctional facilities will be reviewing the department's policies and procedures for identifying inmates at risk of suicide, as well as programs for preventing suicides. We intend to implement every recommendation made by the consultant to the extent possible and as our resources allow. The department also intends to utilize the consultant's expertise to provide training to staff, if training is needed to improve our programs.

The Director's executive management team will be in continuous contact with resource organizations such as the American Correctional Association and the National Institute for Corrections (NIC) for technical and training assistance and to keep abreast of current issues and trends in correctional program management. For example, the Director recently learned that the NIC will be providing a series of training courses for the Northern Marianas, Guam and Saipan. He has obtained an oral commitment from the Director of the NIC to allow trainers to stop in Hawaii to provide training for Hawaii's correctional staff.

The department will make every effort to bring national experts to Hawaii as often as possible, so that its staff can be exposed to the latest research and best programs and practices in the field. The department recognizes, however, that this is not enough. We also need to attend training seminars in other states, visit other effective programs and facilities to obtain first hand perceptions, and attend professional conferences where we can meet and learn from the leaders in our field.

To this end, the department will request a budget of $30,000 to allow at least twelve of its staff to attend selected conferences and seminars, and to make site visits so that they can improve their programs. This will also be used to develop up and coming managers who will be the future leaders of the department.

In addition, the Department will make every effort to nominate its staff, especially its line and middle management staff, for training slots at the NIC's National Training Academy.

- D. To foster better communication and better working relationships among all levels, the department will institute the following, effective immediately:
1. The department administration will hold regular staff meetings with wardens and other correctional managers. Each correctional manager will be expected to hold weekly staff meetings with their section supervisors. These section supervisors will be required to inform their subordinates of what transpired at the meetings.
 2. In addition, the department is researching the feasibility and cost-benefits of implementing pre-shift briefings between supervisors and correctional officers for each shift. Currently only OCCC conducts such briefings. Other facilities can conduct such briefings only if they pay overtime to officers. These briefings are essential for effective communication with officers. To remedy this situation, the department has two alternatives: pay officers overtime for briefings; or negotiate a change in work schedules to allow for briefing times as part of the regular workday. The department has estimated that these briefings will result in a cost of about $1.7 million. It has also informally discussed with the union the possibility of a change in work schedules. The union expressed a willingness to work out a change in schedules, because it recognizes the importance of briefings. Because the new Agreement, now pending implementation, includes a major change in the scheduling procedures, the union and the department has chosen to wait until after the implementation of the new Agreement before attempting to affect another change in scheduling.

3. Moreover, each warden, deputy warden, and chief of security will be required to walk through the facility at least three times per week to get a pulse of what is occurring and to provide an opportunity for him or her to talk to line staff and inmates. At least one of these persons shall walk through each day.
 4. Each Watch Commander shall make a complete tour of every part of the facility at least once per work shift.
 5. Each warden, deputy warden, and chief of security will periodically work a variety of shifts and on weekends.
- E. Over the years, the Director has established, nurtured, and maintained contacts with corrections professionals across the nation. He has established relationships with the Director of the National Institute of Corrections (NIC); the Chief of the Prisons Division of the NIC; the Chief of the Training Academy Division of the NIC; the President of the American Correctional Association; the co-Executive Directors of the Association of State Correctional Administrators; and the Director of the Corrections Program Office of the Department of Justice. The Director will not hesitate to contact them for advise and assistance on any matter.

The Director is also aware that local resources are available at the University of Hawaii and Chaminade University, and that some of his own staff has developed a strong level of professional expertise in corrections. He will seek their input and counsel as well, and encourage his staff to do the same.

- F. The department's administration welcomes the interest of the Legislature on issues involving all aspects of corrections operations, and will respond to all questions/concerns raised by the Legislature. The Director invites the Legislature to visit its operations at any time.
- G. The department is working to improve its internal grievance process to better address concerns prior to involving the Attorney General. The department will be submitting a reorganization proposal that clarifies the roles and responsibilities for management and staff involved in the grievance process. Target date for submission of the department's reorganization proposal to the Department of Budget and Finance is September 1999.

In addition, the department will open discussions with the Attorney General to assess the feasibility of requesting a full-time deputy attorney general and support staff dedicated to managing and monitoring all inmate grievances and legal proceedings. Issues such as appropriate funding sources and organizational placements of these positions will need to be considered.

II. Personnel

- A. The department will take steps to make visible and substantial progress to resolve long-standing management problems. These actions will require planning and collaboration with other organizations so that the steps can be systemic and have long-term positive effects. The department will not make change simply for the sake of making change.
- B. Accountability System: As noted in our response to recommendation #1, the department is currently planning for the establishment of an accountability system, through which managers will be provided with clear performance expectations. Managers will be required to provide regular reports to the department's executive management team, which will enable the Director to monitor and measure performance. These reports will include oral presentations in which managers will be expected to explain and defend their reports.

The department will continue its commitment to holding managers and staff accountable for any misconduct. Personnel records confirm that the department has taken and will continue to take disciplinary action against staff, including managers, when just and proper cause is established.

The department is also restructuring its model for disciplinary action to allow managers to carry out such action in an orderly and timely fashion. We will be working with the United Public Workers and the Hawaii Government Employees' Association to accomplish this task. A target date of May 30, 1999 has been set.

- C. Training and Retention: PSD and the Department of Human Resources and Development (DHRD) have begun the process of identifying staff needs and instituting training and educational programs for Public Safety staff members. This process will include collaboration with staff and staff groups.

To enable more staff to take advantage of training opportunities, the department will immediately:

1. Conduct training, when feasible, at the correctional facilities rather than at off-site locations.
2. For selected courses, allow facilities to "lock-down" inmates to allow for maximum participation by adult corrections officers.
3. With the assistance of DHRD, conduct a needs assessment by June 30, 1999 to:
 - a) Identify staff training needs;
 - b) Seek reinstatement of the Management Development Leadership Academy. This successful program was terminated several years ago. Since then, state government has not had any program for development of managers. Additional funds will be required to establish this program; and
 - c) Implement a Career Development Program that will provide staff with incentives towards professional development, thereby encouraging the retention and promotion of qualified individuals.

4. In addition, the department will develop a more proactive approach in its training program, to address the perception that assignment to training is considered as punishment. To achieve this goal, the department will ensure that appropriate training is provided to all staff members on a regular, on-going basis before incidents occur. The department plans to meet this goal of having policies and procedures in place by September 30, 1999.

- D. Recruitment: The department, with the assistance of the DHRD, reconstructed its screening factors for the hiring of correctional officers. This resulted in a new entrance examination process that was implemented in 1996. Prior to that time, applicants for adult corrections officer positions were hired after passing a relatively simple written test rated at the 8th grade level.

Under the new process, candidates are required to pass a series of tests before they can qualify for an interview. These tests include a written civil service examination rated at high school equivalency, physical abilities test, and psychological inventory test. For those who pass this battery of tests, a background check, consisting of a criminal history check, a check on employment history, a door to door character check, a drug test, and a physical examination is then conducted.

- E. Staff Morale: The department will examine the feasibility of conducting a study, with the guidance of DHRD and possibly a consultant, to determine whether it has a problem with staff morale. If the department determines that there is in fact a problem, it will proceed to address the appropriate areas.

Additionally, the department is taking the following steps towards improving staff morale, with respect to salary levels and opportunities and processes for promotion.

1. Salary schedule: The Department acknowledges that the perceived low salary levels has a negative effect on correction officers' morale. For example, recruit police officers currently make more than correction officer sergeants. This situation is compounded by the fact that there have been no collective bargaining increases for corrections officers since 1995.
2. Promotion process: The department will work with DHRD to reevaluate its selection criteria to include any available record of disciplinary action as a weighted factor when awarding promotions. The department expects to have revised selection criteria by April 30, 1999.

The department notes the following, however, regarding the use of disciplinary action as a part of the selection criteria when awarding promotions:

- a) Discipline should not be an automatic disqualifies. To ensure that each candidate has a fair and equal opportunity for advancement, the department must assess the relatedness of the disciplinary action and subsequent effect of rehabilitation to the candidate's present ability to perform at the higher level.

- b) Under collective bargaining agreements, staff have the right to have adverse information removed from their files after two years. In these cases, the disciplinary action cannot be used in any way against the staff member.

In addition, the department has already collaborated with DHRD to improve the promotion process for adult corrections officers. This new process, implemented in 1998, involves an intra-departmental competitive examination administered by DHRD, followed by selection interviews conducted by PSD. Prior to this new process selection interviews were conducted only by individual facilities and were the only factor in determining promotions.

- F. Policy on Nepotism: The department will work with the DHRD to adopt a policy on nepotism. Because there is no state-wide policy, the department must develop an internal one. We are in the process of examining other departments' internal policies as models for our own. The department expects to have its policy completed and implemented by May 30, 1999.
- G. Dichotomy Between Correctional Officers and Others: The department acknowledges that a dichotomy exists between correctional officers and other groups of staff in the various correctional facilities. To address this problem, the department will:
 1. Institute a Unit Team Management Program to improve communications among staff from various areas and between staff and inmates. This concept involves teams of staff members across disciplines such as social workers, corrections officers, and mental health professionals working together on individual inmates. The department's training administrator has made contact with the National Institute of Corrections to provide technical assistance in implementing this concept, starting with the Halawa Correctional Facility. Training in Unit Management will begin no later than October 1, 1999.
 2. The department will ask DHRD to examine the feasibility of broadbanding correctional positions, to foster a team building climate, shared responsibilities, and cross-training opportunities within the correctional facilities (e.g., allow adult corrections officers to provide some counseling to inmates; allow social workers and others to perform minor security functions).
 3. Hold managers accountable for team building and collaborative approaches to care and custody of inmates.
- H. Staff turnover: In 1998, the Department adopted a policy that requires a three-year waiting period after initial employment before a staff member can request a voluntary transfer from one facility to another, except where a staff member can show a bona fide hardship. This policy was implemented due to previous abuse of the voluntary transfer policy.

In the past, adult corrections officers would accept positions in certain districts with less employment competition, only as a means of entering the civil service system. After completing their probationary period, these individuals would then transfer to other facilities in the district of their true preference.

This abuse of policy resulted in a constant turnover at facilities in certain counties, such as the Maui Community Correctional Center (MCCC) and the Kauai Community Correctional Center (KCCC), which thereby affected the stability of the operations at these facilities. The restriction on voluntary transfers was promulgated in response to these abuses.

The Department, in consultation with the United Public Workers, will review the effectiveness of this policy. Discussions with UPW will begin no later than March 30, 1999.

III. Inmate Abuse and Neglect

- A. Mental Health Services: In recent years the department has witnessed an increase in the number of inmates who exhibit symptoms of mental illness. Some of this increase is a result of an increase in the total inmate population. However, the department suspects that the increase can also be attributed to other factors. Unfortunately, the level of staffing of mental health professionals has not kept pace with the increase in population or the need for such specialized services. The director has therefore instructed the Health Care Division to fill its vacancies in this area. Moreover, the Health Care Division has suffered from a lack of leadership in the past year. A Physician, who is a dedicated professional, has been asked to serve as Physician for several correctional facilities as well as Health Care Administrator. This constitutes a virtually impossible task. Therefore, the department has recruited for a Health Care Administrator, and expects to fill that position by May 1, 1999. One of the new Administrator's top priorities will be to develop a plan to provide appropriate services for inmates suffering from mental illness.
- B. Mental Health Training: The Director has instructed corrections health care administrators to re-implement mental health training programs for corrections officers by April 30, 1999. It has been two years since this type of training has been provided.
- C. Substance Abuse: The presence of illicit drugs is a major concern in any organization, especially correctional facilities. Therefore, the department has addressed this problem in several ways:
 1. Drug Testing of Inmates: The department conducts substance abuse testing of inmates on the basis of random selection, suspicion, and participation in treatment programs. If inmates test positive, they can be sanctioned and will be referred to treatment programs. The department is assessing the cost-benefits of conducting drug testing of all inmates upon admission.
 2. Drug Testing of Staff: The department now conducts drug testing of all applicants for employment in positions that involve inmate contact or powers of arrest. The department also conducts drug testing for a small number of staff who hold commercial driver's licenses, pursuant to Federal regulations.

Regarding other staff, the department is awaiting the final language of the recently negotiated Bargaining Unit 10 Agreement. This new agreement includes a provision that will allow for the substance abuse testing of Adult Correctional Officers. The department is currently developing a plan and the Director will implement this new program, as soon he receives authorization to do so from the Office of Collective Bargaining.

3. Interdiction: Drugs enter correctional facilities in many ways. They can be brought in by staff or visitors; they can arrive through the mail; they can be hidden in supplies, equipment, and vehicles that enter the facility for official purposes; they can be thrown over walls or fences; and they can be passed surreptitiously to inmates who have outside privileges.

Drug interdiction requires strict adherence to policies and procedures and constant vigilance by all correctional staff, especially the adult corrections officers. The department has the appropriate policies in place that require adult corrections officers to search all visitors, vehicles, supplies, and equipment that enter the facility. screen and search all inmate mail; regularly inspect recreation and other outside areas; and strip search all inmates who re-enter the facility.

To ensure that these and other security controls are carried out, the department has implemented a system of regular audits of operational and security procedures. All facilities will be audited on an annual and on an as-need basis. The first audit was conducted in February, 1999, at the Kulani Correctional Facility. The Halawa Correctional Facility will be audited beginning the end of March.

4. Searches: Each facility conducts regular searches of areas in which drugs may be found. In addition, each facility conducts shakedowns whenever there is information that drugs may be present.

In 1998, the Department established a canine unit, consisting of three trained dogs, under the Sheriff's Division. In January 1999, a fourth dog was added to the unit. This unit will enable the Department to conduct searches on a more effective and efficient manner. Every facility will be searched by the canine unit on a regular basis. In addition each Warden can request the use of the unit, or the Director can order a search of a facility using the unit.

The Wardens and the Sheriff Division will work out a schedule for searches by March 15, 1999.

5. Criminal and Disciplinary Action: Any person who brings drugs into a correctional facility has committed a felony. The department has and will continue to prosecute all persons who are suspected of bringing drugs into any correctional facility. In addition, the department has and will continue to take administrative action against any staff member who brings drugs into any correctional facility.

Since 1992, 30 staff have been convicted for drug use. Of this amount, 28 have been dismissed and 2 have resigned from employment. In addition, 7 staff have been terminated and 2 have resigned without known convictions for drug use.

- D. Video Surveillance: There is no doubt that strategically placed cameras will enhance our ability to obtain objective information and facilitate investigations. The department is aware of the value of video surveillance and has taken the first step in this direction by installing cameras in modules at Oahu Community Correctional Center (OCCC). Complete installation of video surveillance at OCCC is targeted for completion in December, 1999. The department is also estimating the cost and feasibility of installing cameras in selected locations of the Halawa Correctional Facility. If funds are available in FY 1999, the department will proceed with the installation by July 1, 1999.

In addition to fixed cameras, the Department instituted a policy in 1998 requiring that all planned cell extractions, planned use of force incidents, and other significant events be video taped. Each facility was required to purchase video-cameras for this purpose. In early December, the Director instructed the Wardens, both at a meeting and in writing, that this policy will be strictly enforced.

IV. Grievance Process

- A. The Director is committed to the establishment of an Internal Affairs Office that is professional, competent, and independent. In the past two years, there has been an almost complete turnover of staff in this office. An experienced investigator has been installed as the administrator of the office, and a new team of investigators has been hired. Only one of the current staff members was with the office prior to 1997.

In addition, the Director has taken the following steps since he took office in December:

1. By directive, required that the Office reports to the Director and no one else. Previously, the Office reported to the Director through an intermediary.
2. Started the process to formally and permanently reorganize and expand the Office. Under this plan, which must eventually be approved by the Governor, the Office will report directly to the Director and will consist of three Sections - Criminal Investigations, Administrative Investigations, and Technical Support.
3. As part of the formal reorganization, the department will seek to add five additional positions to the Office. The office now consists of the administrator, five investigators, and one clerk. The new office will consist of the administrator, eight investigators, one technical specialist, and two clerical support staff. In comparison, the Honolulu Police Department, which has a comparable number of staff, has fourteen Investigators.

- B. The department believes that an effective management information system will be developed through the successful implementation of several management improvement initiatives. These include the management accountability system, revamped grievance system, and facility inspections program. Information gathered through these programs will provide as "early warning signals" that should enable the department to address present a danger to staff or inmates. The department expects to have its MIS system in place by December 31, 1999.

CONCLUSION

The Department of Public Safety has the capability of achieving the highest level of quality in the management of its operations. Although it recognizes its weaknesses, the department has made, and continues to make, substantial improvements as evinced by its recent release from the 1985 Spear v. Cayetano Consent Decree. The Women's Community Correctional Center was released from the consent decree in June 1998 and the Oahu Community Correctional Center was just released in March 1999.

As the Director has mentioned on several occasions, problems within the correctional facilities cannot be instantly repaired with the wave of a wand. In fact, it will take many months of hard work and the full commitment of the director's management staff to achieve the objectives of the action plan delineated in this report. The Director has every confidence that the vision he has set forth for the department will be realized.

Twentieth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1660, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Higher Education.'

The purpose of House Bill No. 1660 is to authorize the University of Hawaii to carry over for one fiscal year any unexpended and unencumbered general fund appropriation. In addition, the bill exempts the University of Hawaii from the allotment controls of chapter 37, Hawaii Revised Statutes.

The intent of this bill, to give the University of Hawaii more budgetary flexibility, has some merit in light of the autonomy granted to the University. However, if general revenues are lower than expected and the University of Hawaii is free from budgetary adjustments through allotment controls, every other state department and program will have to bear a greater burden of adjustments. This is not fair or reasonable.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 1660 without my approval.

State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 223, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to a Canine Corps in the Department of Public Safety.'

The purpose of the bill is to establish a canine corps to reduce, if not eliminate, illegal drugs in state correctional facilities. This bill requires the Department of Public Safety to establish a canine corps. Under the Director of Public Safety's existing general authority set forth in section 352C-2, Hawaii Revised Statutes, the department has already established canine units with granted funds. Since this bill provides no additional funding for the maintenance or expansion of the canine corps, this bill is unnecessary.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 223 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 450

Honorable Members
Twentieth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 450, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to State Government.'

The purpose of Senate Bill No. 450 is to revise provisions of Act 230, Session Laws of Hawaii 1998, to (1) convert the ad hoc committee, established last year for the sole purpose of developing a managed process for the Legislature's consideration and adoption, into a permanent state committee; (2) expand the responsibilities of the committee to include operationalizing the managed process statewide; and (3) require all contracts entered into on or after July 20, 1998, to a one-time review against the requirements of the yet-to-be-developed managed process.

I understand that the managed process committee of state and county officials, private and public sector labor leaders, and profit and nonprofit business persons that we established pursuant to Act 230 late last year, is well on its way to completing the assignment it undertook pursuant to Act 230. It appreciates the need for the managed process to include cost data and has taken steps to ensure that their proposal addresses this need. The committee also recognizes that once a process is established, policy and procedure manuals, guidelines, and training must be available to support its continued and successful implementation. Clearly, the committee has already taken the initiative and addressed much of what this bill proposes to add to Act 230. Many of this bill's provisions are unnecessary.

Moreover, the revisions this bill makes convert what was originally a one-time development effort into a continuing operational program that is to be managed by a board composed of volunteers, and applied both prospectively and retrospectively.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 450 without my approval.

Respectfully,

/s/ Benjamin J. Cayetano

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 921

Honorable Members
Twentieth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 921, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to District Court.'

The purpose of Senate Bill No. 921 is to amend section 291D-10, Hawaii Revised Statutes, to create a procedure for the issuance of penal summons and bench warrants when any person fails to pay a monetary assessment for a traffic violation. Senate Bill No. 921, however, imposes a process prior to referral to the Department of the Attorney General for collection that is unnecessary, because the monetary assessments have already been reduced to judgment. Furthermore, this bill will disrupt the collection procedures already established between the Judiciary and the Department of the Attorney General, which have been very successful, and will require additional resources to implement, because additional hearings will be required. Without this bill, post-judgment remedies can be utilized and recovery of the monetary assessments can occur earlier and at less cost.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 921 without my approval.

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 21, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Athletic Contest Officials.'

The purpose of Senate Bill No. 21 is to expand the scope of assault in the second degree to include within the definition of 'educational worker' any person who is employed by the department of education on a contractual basis, not only for carrying out an educational function, but for a school program, activity, or function that is established, sanctioned, or approved by the Department of Education.

As drafted, the bill will expand assault in the second degree to include within the definition of 'educational worker' a very large number of individuals in many capacities, including individuals not employed as athletic contest officials. Although this bill has merit, the subject of this bill as expressed in its title is 'athletic contest officials.' Section 14 of Article III of the State Constitution requires that '[e]ach law shall embrace but one subject, which shall be expressed in its title.' Since the amendment made by this bill will affect many individuals who are not athletic contest officials, this bill is in violation of Section 14 of Article III of the State Constitution.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 21 without my approval.

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 46, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to School-Based Budgeting.'

The purpose of Senate Bill No. 46 is to require the Department of Education to provide the schools and the legislature, by the opening day of each regular legislative session, reports on its proposed school-by-school budget allocation and give each school maximum flexibility in the expenditure of its allocation.

While I support the intent of this bill, the measure is unnecessary and overburdensome and does not carry out the intent of the bill. School-by-school allocations for the over 250 schools statewide are an incredible burden for which the schools and the department do not have the capacity nor resources to accomplish. Furthermore, there is no provision for increasing the flexibility in expenditures. The Department of Education has worked hard to preserve the equitable allocation among all schools while balancing the individual needs of the schools.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 46 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 560

Honorable Members
Twentieth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 560, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Special Management Areas.'

The purpose of this bill is to halt the long-term degradation of natural resources by providing guidance in determining what constitutes substantial adverse environmental or ecological effect in terms of the coastal zone management law. Before approving development within a special management area (SMA), county planning authorities must make a finding that the development will not have any substantial adverse environmental or ecological effect, except as such adverse effect is minimized to the extent practicable and clearly outweighed by public health, safety, or compelling public interest.

This bill, however, does not achieve its purpose because it establishes unnecessary standards for SMA permit reviews. Currently, all major SMA permits involve extensive agency reviews for compliance with applicable requirements and also must go through public hearings before county planning commissions; provide notification to surrounding property owners of the proposed action and public hearing dates; and go through a contested case hearing. The current SMA permit review process is adequate and does not need additional standards.

In addition, this bill would impose potentially high costs on applicants for SMA permits that are unnecessary in the vast majority of instances. These costs would involve additional technical studies such as air quality, noise, and water pollution baseline studies. The determination as to whether these additional studies are necessary should be done on a case-by-case basis.

This bill will overly complicate the SMA permit review process and increase costs for county planning departments by requiring additional staff.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 560 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 1499

Honorable Members
Twentieth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 1499, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to the Randolph-Sheppard Revolving Account.'

The purposes of Senate Bill No. 1499 are to require the Department of Human Services (DHS) to expend $30,000 from the state Randolph-Sheppard revolving account (the 'special fund') each year if an authorization or allocation is received; to require DHS to deposit this money into a separate account for the State Committee of Blind Vendors (the 'Committee'); to authorize the Committee to spend $30,000 each year from the special fund without necessarily receiving an appropriation or allocation from the legislature; and to authorize the Committee to hire independent legal counsel.

The bill contains several serious problems. First, sections 2 and 3 of the bill amend chapter 347 and section 28-8.3, Hawaii Revised Statutes, in order to authorize the Committee to hire attorneys. Pursuant to Section 14 of Article III of the State Constitution, 'Each law shall embrace but one subject, which shall be expressed in its title.' Even though the constitutional requirement is to be interpreted liberally, there are still limits. In this case, the title of the bill is 'Relating to the Randolph-Sheppard Revolving Account.' The Committee's authority to hire attorneys is independent of any use of the Randolph-Sheppard Revolving Account. One might argue that the bill's provisions should be interpreted as requiring that counsel be paid with only special fund moneys in order to remain within the scope of the bill's title. But the title of the bill does not appear in the statutory provisions that will be codified in the Hawaii Revised Statutes. The necessity for this interpretation in order to avoid an unconstitutional result, therefore, would not be apparent to any reader of the statute. Accordingly, sections 2 and 3 of the bill appear to violate Section 14 of Article III of the State Constitution.

Second, although DHS must receive an appropriation by the Legislature before transferring moneys from the special fund to a separate account of the Committee, section 4 of the bill apparently authorizes the Committee to spend $30,000 from the special fund each year without any appropriation. By authorizing the Committee to make this expenditure without an appropriation, this bill may violate Section 5 of Article VII of the State Constitution, which prohibits the expenditure of any public moneys except pursuant to appropriations made by law. The federal Randolph-Sheppard Act requires that the Committee be a state entity, and the Committee can trace its creation to state rules. The moneys are obviously state moneys. Accordingly, the proposed amendment allowing the Committee to simply spend $30,000 each year from the special fund without a biennial appropriation authorizing the Committee to spend the money violates the Hawaii State Constitution.

Finally, the bill authorizes the Committee to hire independent counsel whenever the Committee finds the representation from the Department of the Attorney General to be inadequate. As a general matter, the hiring of private counsel can be an expensive and often unnecessary expenditure of public moneys. The Department of the Attorney General is uniquely situated to understand those special defenses and claims that can be asserted by state entities. There are relatively few private attorneys who fully understand issues relating to the Eleventh Amendment, sovereign immunity, the Sunshine Law, the Uniform Information Practices Act (Modified), and government procurement practices. The use of deputy attorneys general also reduces state costs, develops in-house expertise, and ensures continuity in legal advice and consistency in legal interpretations among all state agencies. Allowing any state agency to hire separate counsel simply because the agency finds the representation to be 'inadequate' merely allows the agency to forum shop for a preferred, but not necessarily correct, legal opinion and takes away the Department of the Attorney General's authority to determine the course of litigation.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 1499 without my approval.

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 827, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Public Lands.'

The purpose of House Bill No. 827 is to stimulate tourism in Hilo, Hawaii, by authorizing the Department of Land and Natural Resources to issue new, up to fifty-year leases to existing lessees in the Banyan Drive resort area. The bill also provides that if another bidder is interested in the property the successful bidder must pay the existing lessee the replacement value of the improvements.

While I support the intent of the bill and am sympathetic with the concerns of the present lessees, I cannot support a measure that does not uphold equal treatment and good faith competition. This measure attempts to address the concerns of the lessees by treating the lessees differently than all other lessees of state lands, and virtually shutting out competition by requiring a competitor to pay the replacement value of the improvements rather than the residual value.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 1711

Honorable Members
Twentieth Legislature

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1711, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Kaneohe Bay.'

The purpose of House Bill No. 1711 is to protect residential noncommercial piers at Kaneohe Bay and Kahaluu from fully complying with chapter 183C, Hawaii Revised Statutes, regardless of when the pier was built and to establish a lease rent moratorium on those piers until the Department of Land and Natural Resources (DLNR) adopts a private residential noncommercial pier lease rent formula.

Section 14 of Article III of the State Constitution requires that '[e]ach law shall embrace but one subject, which shall be expressed in its title.' The subject of this bill, as expressed in its title, is 'Kaneohe Bay.' However, this bill exempts all residential noncommercial piers, and all docks, public or private, commercial or non-commercial, regardless of location, from prior legislative and gubernatorial approval under section 171-53, Hawaii Revised Statutes. Because section 3 of the bill exempts all residential noncommercial piers and all docks from the requirements for a lease of submerged lands under section 171-53, Hawaii Revised Statutes, not just those located in Kaneohe Bay, this bill violates Section 14 of Article III of the State Constitution.

Additionally, this bill establishes a lease moratorium on submerged lands and private piers until DLNR adopts a residential lease rent formula. This moratorium is unnecessary. DLNR by statute is required to charge fair market rent and should not be additionally required to adopt a special 'residential lease rent formula' prior to collecting any fair market rent owed. The moratorium to stay collection of lease rents does not serve any public purpose and is not in the public interest. The bill also provides for a credit for owners of legal piers who have paid rent in the past for the use of submerged lands. Crediting moneys paid to DLNR for the use of submerged lands is a windfall to private parties and serves no public purpose.

The bill would restrict access to piers in Kaneohe Bay where no restriction currently exists. This restriction is not in the public interest. The bill appears to favor owners of illegal piers by allowing those piers to be considered non-conforming uses in the conservation district and by forgiving any past rent that may be owed for the use of submerged lands. The bill would also prohibit the assessment of any fines against owners of illegal piers. It is inequitable for the owners of piers in Kaneohe Bay who have complied with the laws and paid for the use of submerged lands to be placed at a disadvantage over those that have violated the law.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 1711 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 221

Honorable Members
Twentieth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 221, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to the Hawaii Tourism Authority.'

This bill requires the Hawaii Tourism Authority (HTA) to submit a long-term policy plan to the Legislature by January 1, 2000, and specifies that the strategic tourism marketing plan shall be updated every two years and implement the recommendations of the long-term policy plan. The bill also allows the HTA board to withhold from public inspection and copying any consultant's report and internal analysis related to the formulation of the strategic tourism marketing plan if, in the opinion of at least two-thirds of the HTA board members, public disclosure of the documents would frustrate the ability of HTA to implement its strategic tourism marketing plan and maximize the economic benefit of its expenditures, contracts, and agreements. The bill allows the HTA board to discuss such documents in executive session.

The provisions allowing HTA to withhold consultant reports and internal analysis from public inspection and to go into executive session to discuss such documents were added to the bill on April 29, 1999, by the Committee on Conference. Thus, neither the Office of Information Practices (OIP), which is the agency charged with administering the Uniform Information Practices Act (Modified), chapter 92F, Hawaii Revised Statutes, nor members of the general public had an opportunity to testify on this bill, which affects both the Uniform Information Practices Act (Modified) and the Sunshine Law, part I of chapter 92, Hawaii Revised Statutes.

Both chapters 92 and 92F promote the policies of open government and public participation in government. As such, exemptions from the requirements of these laws must be carefully tailored to balance the interests of the public and the legitimate concerns of governmental agencies. The exemptions to these laws for HTA made by this bill were not subjected to public comment and scrutiny, but were included in this bill after the opportunity for testimony had passed. A more thorough exposition of the competing interests at issue here is necessary before it is clear that these exemptions are warranted.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 221 without my approval.

Respectfully,

/s/ Benjamin J. Cayetano
BENJAMIN J. CAYETANO

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 260

Honorable Members
Twentieth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 260, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Early Childhood.'

The purpose of House Bill No. 260 is to provide a means for early childhood screening when a child reaches the age of three.

I am returning this measure because while I support the intent of the bill, the measure is redundant and unnecessary. The Department of Education already has in place a 'Child Find' effort to fulfill the federal mandate to screen for children ages three to five who have disabilities. Furthermore, early childhood experts caution against formal screening that may inadvertently label a child as developmentally delayed or disabled, when, in fact, such is not the case.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 260 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 310

Honorable Members
Twentieth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 310, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Planning and Budgeting for New Schools.'

The purpose of House Bill No. 310 is to require the Director of Finance, in consultation with the Superintendent of Education, to include funding for athletics when budgeting for new schools. In addition, this bill requires the Department of Education to study the setting of coaches' salaries.

While this bill specifically provides that budgeting for new schools include athletic costs, this action undermines the authority of the Board of Education in setting the educational goals of the Department of Education by singling out athletics as a curriculum priority. Further, since the State and the Department of Education must accomplish their budgeted objectives within the limitations of available revenues, the enactment of this bill would reduce the options available to them to address changing fiscal conditions.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 310 without my approval.

Honorable Members
Twentieth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 806, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Land Exchange.'

The purpose of House Bill No. 806 is to provide legislative pre-approval of a proposed land exchange of public lands in North Kona for private lands, yet to be acquired, along the Kona Coast. The purpose of the exchange is to develop a new motor speedway.

This bill sets a bad precedent of approving a 'land exchange' where: (1) the proposed exchange party has not purchased nor even identified the lands to be exchanged, (2) the identities of the private real parties in interest are not even known, (3) no one knows the value of the lands to be exchanged, and (4) the Board of Land and Natural Resources has not yet reviewed and approved the proposed exchange. Normally, a land exchange is subject to legislative disapproval when all of this information has been disclosed and the transaction has been approved by the Board of Land and Natural Resources.

For the foregoing reason, I am returning House Bill No. 806 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 990

Honorable Members
Twentieth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 990, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Making an Emergency Appropriation for Legal Services for Department of Hawaiian Home Lands Individual Claims Review.'

The purpose of this bill is to appropriate additional general fund moneys on an emergency basis for fiscal year 1998-1999 to allow the Department of the Attorney General to continue its legal representation of the Department of Hawaiian Home Lands under chapter 674, Hawaii Revised Statutes.

Unfortunately, this bill will take effect on July 1, 1999. The authorization to expend funds appropriated for fiscal year 1998-1999 will expire at the end of that fiscal period on June 30, 1999. Because the authorization to expend the funds will expire on the day before this bill becomes effective, this bill will not accomplish its purpose and need not become law.

For the foregoing reason, I am returning House Bill No. 990 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 98

Honorable Members
Twentieth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 98, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Pensioners' Bonus.'

The purpose of House Bill No. 98 is to extend the sunset date of the pensioners' retirement bonus adopted in 1990 for another two years, until June 30, 2001. Retirees who have been retired for a minimum of five years and have at least ten years of credited service are eligible for the pensioners' bonus. This bonus provides an incremental adjustment every five years with a progressively larger bonus for those retired the longest. The bonus is in addition to the 2.5 percent annual post retirement increase that is automatically provided every July 1.

The pensioners' bonuses are funded on a pay-as-you-go basis with state and county appropriations to the Employees' Retirement System's (ERS) pension accumulation fund. The ERS' actuary reports that extending the pensioners' bonus as provided in this bill would increase the ERS' unfunded liability by $37,500,000 and annual State and county governments' appropriations to the ERS by $3,700,000. Of the $3,700,000, the State's share would be $2,200,000. I believe that it is not appropriate, when fiscal and budgetary restraints need to be exercised, to permit enhancement of retirement benefits in this manner. This bill permanently raises employer pension costs and increases the retirement benefits for those retirees with ten years of service and who have been retired for at least five years over and above the existing statutory cost of living pension increases. Furthermore, this additional benefit is inconsistent with the Legislature's action, in Senate Bill No. 1518, to prohibit any pay increase for current employees during the fiscal biennium ending June 30, 2001.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 98 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 661

Honorable Members
Twentieth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 661, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Enhanced Wireless Emergency 911 Service.'

The purpose of House Bill No. 661 is to encourage enhanced wireless emergency 911 service as required by the Federal Communications Commission ('FCC'). Enhanced wireless emergency 911 service would provide automatic caller number identification and caller location to the public safety agency that receives 911 calls from wireless telephones and dispatches safety, health, or fire responders. This bill would subsidize the development and implementation of the enhanced wireless 911 service through a monthly surcharge of 30 to 50 cents imposed upon all cellular telephone users. Providers and resellers of cellular telephone services would bill for, collect, and deposit the surcharge into the wireless enhanced 911 fund. The fund would be administered by the Wireless Enhanced 911 Board ('Board'), which would be administratively attached to the Department of Health. The Board would set the amount of the monthly surcharge. Providers and public safety agencies would apply to the Board to recover the costs of development and implementation of wireless enhanced 911 services from the fund.

The Department of Health does not have sufficient information and staff expertise to proceed with administering this project at this time. At the present time, the costs to establish and operate the system proposed by this bill are uncertain and the surcharges collected may not be sufficient to cover these system costs. Finally, although it requires a cost recovery system for enhanced wireless 911 service, the FCC has set no deadline for the establishment of such a system. Accordingly, this bill is premature at this time.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 661 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 570

Honorable Members
Twentieth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 570, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to the Waianae Coast Community Benchmarking Pilot Project and Appropriating Funds to Support the Project.'

The purposes of Senate Bill No. 570 are to extend the Waianae Coast Community Benchmarking Pilot Project from June 30, 2000, to June 30, 2003, and to appropriate $2 for fiscal year 1999-2000 to support the work of the project.

This community benchmarking project, intended to improve the quality of life on the Waianae coast, involves setting community goals and establishing indicators or benchmarks to show movement toward those goals. This project was started several years ago by private agencies and much of its goal setting and visioning have already been accomplished. In 1997, proponents sought funding to implement some of its subprojects; however, no funding was provided. Instead, the Legislature acknowledged their efforts by formally establishing the Waianae Coast Benchmarking Pilot Project.

This year, proponents once again sought funding for six subprojects, including a culture and arts program, a communications infrastructure project, a health academy, managed care for the elderly, a pre-school program, and an ethno-botanical Hawaiian garden. The project's request was for $350,000 in general funds, $50,000 for each of six subprojects and an additional $50,000 as a grant to the Hawaii Community Services Council for overall technical support services to the project. However, this bill will appropriate only $2 to the project.

This bill is unnecessary, especially with the insignificant appropriation. Even without this bill, the project has one more year before its automatic repeal date of June 30, 2000.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 570 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 953

Honorable Members
Twentieth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 953, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Natural and Cultural Resources.'

The purposes of Senate Bill No. 953 are to (1) establish a stewardship and partnering program to protect and enhance natural and cultural resources, (2) exempt a new environmental special fund for the program from the five percent central services fee and pro rata administrative expenses, and to preserve those exemptions after certain session law repeal dates, and (3) change the Environmental Council from fifteen to sixteen members, require that certain people be appointed to the council (the chair of the Board of Land and Natural Resources, the Director of State Planning, a landowner, and a native Hawaiian), and increase the council's duties.

The stewardship and partnering program is to be headed by an administrator with broad powers who will be appointed by the Environmental Council, which is administratively attached to the Department of Health, and the program enjoys many special provisions under the bill. Among other things, the bill authorizes the administrator to acquire real property, contract for grants and accept gifts, award grants and loans, 'leverage' state resources with private funding and in-kind matches, and facilitate land acquisition for various natural and cultural resource purposes, and authorizes the program to acquire real property for temporary purposes with the consent of the council.

The bill's provisions are too broad. For example, the bill directs the administrator to create partnerships, support innovative approaches to integrate human activities and natural and cultural resources, and enhance and develop locally owned businesses.

The bill duplicates functions of the Department of Land and Natural Resources (DLNR), such as preserve coastlines and forests, and restore wildlife habitats. Under section 171-3, Hawaii Revised Statutes (HRS), DLNR already has authority to manage, administer, and exercise control over public lands, water resources, ocean waters, navigable streams, and coastal areas. Under section 171-3, the DLNR also manages and administers the state parks, historical sites, forests, forest reserves, aquatic life and aquaculture programs, aquatic life sanctuaries, public fishing areas, boating, ocean recreation, and coastal programs, wildlife, wildlife sanctuaries, game management areas, public hunting areas, and natural area reserves. The bill also appears to overlap with some of the powers and duties of the Board of Land and Natural Resources under sections 171-6 and 171-7, HRS, such as establishing restrictions, requirements, and conditions on certain land dispositions, and conducting sales pertaining to the disposition of public lands and other property authorized by the board. DLNR already administers two programs, Natural area partnership and forest stewardship, which overlap with the proposed stewardship and partnering program.

The bill creates an environmental special fund to be used for salaries and expenses of the program, but the fund will be unable to meet the Legislative Auditor's criteria on self-sustainability, because no regular source of revenue, such as specific fees, is identified for this special fund. Instead, the program will be supported by general fund appropriations, private gifts, and interest deposited in the special fund. Since no source of revenue is identified and no appropriation of general funds is made, this bill establishes a program that is unfunded and cannot be implemented.

Finally, the program is exempt from taxation, the procurement code, and the grants and subsidies law, but no justification was provided for these exemptions.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 953 without my approval.

This bill is not necessary for two reasons. First, it makes no statutory change or appropriation. Second, the Department of Health has already convened an informal, ad hoc task force, the composition of which closely mirrors the membership proposed in the bill. The purpose of Senate Bill No. 1519 is to require assisted housing development owners to give one year's advance notice to tenants of their intent to terminate the provision of assisted housing under various specified programs. Senate Bill No. 1519 also gives tenant associations and certain nonprofit organizations priority opportunities to purchase the affected development. If enacted, this bill would place substantial administrative burdens on the Housing and Community Development Corporation of Hawaii without the necessary additional funding to accommodate these additional obligations. "EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS

June 10, 1999

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 100

Honorable Members
Twentieth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 100, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to the State Budget.'

The purpose of House Bill No. 100 is to appropriate funds for the fiscal biennium July 1, 1999, to June 30, 2001, for the operating expenditures of the various executive branch agencies and programs and capital improvement projects. While the bill as a whole has merit, the appropriations for the operating expenses of the Department of Transportation at Kaunapali Harbor in item C-25 of section 3 on page 15 of this bill for fiscal years 1999-2000 and 2000-2001 are negative amounts. In addition, the appropriations for the State's contribution to the Employees' Retirement System for retirement costs for fiscal years 1999-2000 and 2000-2001 in item K-24 of section 3 on page 49 of this bill, and the related proviso in section 62 on page 83, do not take into account the reduction in contributions that will result from Senate Bill No. 1518, which was also passed this session by the Legislature.

Consequently, I have indicated my objections to the appropriations in item C-25 of section 3 on page 15 of this bill by striking out '-5654B' for each fiscal year. Furthermore, I have indicated my objections to the retirement appropriations in item K-24 of section 3 on page 49 by reducing the general fund appropriation for fiscal year 1999-2000 from $189,228,048 to $106,425,888 and reducing the general fund appropriation for fiscal year 2000-2001 from $192,131,046 to $162,111,766. I have also made the same reductions in the same amounts stated on lines 12 and 13 in the related proviso, section 62 at page 83 of the bill. Finally, to be consistent, I have reduced the amounts specified for pension accumulation at line 16 of section 62 on page 83 from $86,435,920 to $3,633,760 for fiscal year 1999-2000 and from $87,810,000 to $57,790,720 for fiscal year 2000-2001.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 100 only with the negative amounts stricken from item C-25 of section 3 and the general fund appropriations reduced as indicated above in item K-24 of section 3 and the related proviso in section 62 of this bill by $82,802,160 for fiscal year 1999-2000 and $30,019,280 for fiscal year 2000-2001.

Gov. Msg. No. 374, dated June 14, 1999, transmitting his statement of objections to Senate Bill No. 1518 which he has returned to the Senate without his approval and which reads as follows:

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS

June 10, 1999

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 1518

Honorable Members
Twentieth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 1518, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Government Operations.'

The purpose of Senate Bill No. 1518 is to allow the actuarial investment earnings in excess of a ten percent actuarial investment yield from fiscal years 1996-1997 and 1997-1998 from the Employees' Retirement System be used to reduce the State's and the counties' contribution to the Employees' Retirement System for retirement costs for fiscal years 1999-2000 and 2000-2001. In addition, this bill appropriates state general funds to the counties for fiscal years 1998-1999, 1999-2000, and 2000-2001 for the collective bargaining costs of agreements negotiated with the Hawaii Government Employees Association and the United Public Workers. Moreover, this bill requires all state departments and agencies to identify their goals, objectives, and policies to provide a basis for determining priorities and allocating limited public funds and human resources.

While this bill as a whole has merit, I object to the general fund appropriations made to the counties in section 4 of this bill for fiscal years 1998-1999, 1999-2000, and 2000-2001 to assist the counties with their collective bargaining costs. The counties will realize a tremendous, one-time savings from the reduction in the amounts that they would have to pay to the Employees' Retirement System for retirement costs. As a matter of policy, it is wrong to use state tax dollars from the general fund to pay for county employees' raises. Counties are responsible for funding collective bargaining costs for their employees. Furthermore, the general fund appropriations for fiscal year 1998-1999 have an effective date of July 1, 1999. Since the authorization to expend funds appropriated for fiscal year 1998-1999 expires at the end of that fiscal period on June 30, 1999, the authorization to expend the funds will expire on the day before these appropriations become effective.

Consequently, I have indicated my objections to the appropriations in section 4 of this bill by striking out the general fund appropriations for fiscal year 1998-1999 of $2,133,499 for Maui County and $154,500 for Kauai County; the general fund appropriations for fiscal year 1999-2000 of $11,059,400 for the City and County of Honolulu, $2,065,600 for Hawaii County, $2,701,400 for Maui County, and $858,900 for Kauai County; and the general fund appropriations for fiscal year 2000-2001 of $11,059,400 for the City and County of Honolulu, $2,065,600 for Hawaii County, $2,701,400 for Maui County, and $858,900 for Kauai County.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 1518 with the appropriations set forth above totaling $2,287,999 for fiscal year 1998-1999, $16,685,300 for fiscal year 1999-2000, and $16,685,300 for fiscal year 2000-2001 stricken from section 4 of the bill.

"EXECUTIVE CHAMBERS

June 10, 1999

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 788

Honorable Members
Twentieth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 788, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Taxation.'

The purpose of Senate Bill No. 788 is to establish a mandatory cigarette tax stamp system as a means to assess, collect, and enforce the cigarette tax. The bill is intended to reduce the loss of cigarette tax revenue to the State from the illegal sale of untaxed cigarettes.

The Department of Health's discussions with the United States Customs Service, the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms, and representatives of military exchanges indicated that there is no evidence of large-scale black market cigarette sales. The Department of Taxation also has repeatedly requested actual proof of cigarette smuggling, but no such information has been provided.

Even if such a problem exists, this bill will not solve the problem without appropriate monitoring and enforcement. Since this bill requires enforcement by county liquor commissions, which do not have the requisite expertise to enforce cigarette tax violations, it is doubtful that this bill could accomplish its objective of preventing the sale of black market cigarettes.

Furthermore, this bill will be costly to implement and will require additional administrative rules. Given the lack of concrete evidence that large-scale smuggling of cigarettes exists, it is uncertain whether the State will be able to recoup these costs. Moreover, this bill requires the use of tax stamps beginning December 1, 1999, which is too short a period for adopting the rules necessary to implement such an ambitious tax collection system. Before implementing this collection system, stamps and tax forms would have to be designed and printed and a system for distribution, collection, reporting, and enforcement would have to be created.

Finally, the conference committee report on this bill is misleading, because it states that a cigarette tax stamp system is necessary to share in the proceeds from recent tobacco litigation. In actuality, a cigarette tax stamp system is not required to meet the terms of the tobacco litigation and to share in the proceeds.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 788 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 919

Honorable Members
Twentieth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 919, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Robbery.'

The purpose of Senate Bill No. 919 is to amend the statutes for robbery in the first and second degrees to permit a robbery conviction even though the victim was unaware that a theft had been committed and to amend the definition of 'dangerous instrument' to include the term 'an animal.'

Permitting a robbery conviction even though the victim was unaware of the theft would overturn the recent Hawaii Supreme Court decision in State v. Mitsuda, 86 Haw. 37, 947 P.2d 349 (1997). This requirement that the victim of a robbery be aware of the theft comes from a fundamental notion regarding robbery -- that robbery is in essence a forcible theft from the person.

The definition of robbery in the Hawaii Penal Code embodies this concept of forcible theft from the person by requiring that the person threatened during the robbery be present and that the threat be made with the intent 'to compel acquiescence to the taking of or escaping with the property.' In Mitsuda, the Hawaii Supreme Court found that the requirement that the person be aware of the theft is consistent with the law defining the offense of robbery in Hawaii even before the adoption of the Hawaii Penal Code. It is for this reason, as noted by the Hawaii Supreme Court, that robbery is punished more severely than its component parts, assault and theft, because of the heightened sense of danger to a victim who is aware of having possessions taken through the use or threat of force. Deleting the requirement that the victim be aware of the theft undermines the rationale for punishing robbery more severely than its component parts.

Furthermore, the amendments to the robbery offense, as proposed in this bill, were prompted by a unique case. The facts in Mitsuda were unusual, because a defendant rarely is charged with a robbery offense when the victim of the robbery is unaware of the theft. Moreover, the defendant in the Mitsuda case did not go unpunished, because the defendant was convicted of burglary and theft. The robbery offense should not be rewritten because of one unusual case, especially when there are historical and cogent reasons in support of the Supreme Court's decision in the Mitsuda case.

This bill also adds 'an animal' to the definition of 'dangerous instrument' in section 708-840, Hawaii Revised Statutes. However, the current definition of 'dangerous instrument' already includes 'any . . . weapon, device, instrument, material, or substance, whether animate or inanimate.' 'Animate' would of course include 'an animal.' Since the existing statute already defines 'dangerous instrument' to include 'an animal,' this bill's amendment to the definition is superfluous.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 919 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO. 1119

Honorable Members
Twentieth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 1119, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Homicide.'

The purpose of Senate Bill No. 1119 is to change the burden of proof of the extreme mental or emotional disturbance (EMED) defense of manslaughter by placing the burden on the defendant and not on the prosecution. The bill seeks to achieve this change by labeling the EMED defense, as an 'affirmative defense.'

The major impetus of this legislation appears to be a misunderstanding of the current law that resulted from widespread media coverage of a homicide case. The EMED defense in its current form has been part of Hawaii law for nearly thirty years and has been clarified and explained through a number of well-reasoned appellate cases. The Hawaii Penal Code's formulation of the EMED defense was adopted from, and is consistent with, the Model Penal Code.

Shifting the burden on the EMED defense to the defendant will have the unintended effect of denying the defense under some circumstances to persons, such as battered women, who should be legitimately entitled to its benefit. It is not uncommon for a battered woman to kill her abuser when he is sleeping or not posing an immediate threat. Under this bill, in order to successfully raise the EMED defense, a battered woman will be required to prove by a preponderance of the evidence that she acted under an extreme mental or emotional disturbance for which there is a reasonable explanation, although the circumstances may show no immediate threat -- and, by inference, little reason for a disturbance. This may impose on the battered woman an evidentiary burden that may be difficult or impossible to meet.

Additionally, restructuring the extreme mental or emotional disturbance manslaughter ('voluntary manslaughter') defense into an affirmative defense, thereby requiring the defendant to prove by a preponderance of the evidence that he or she was under extreme mental or emotional distress for which there is a reasonable explanation, raises due process concerns because of the unique nature of the offense of 'voluntary' manslaughter in Hawaii.

This bill will consequently not only require the defendant to come forward with evidence, it will likely compel the defendant to testify in order to prove the defense. Indeed, this bill assumes that the defendant will invariably be able to establish the 'affirmative defense' to the satisfaction of the jury when it exists in fact. However, this is not necessarily true, because the defendant may not be able to establish the 'affirmative defense,' even when the prosecutor acknowledges its applicability. The burden, therefore, should properly remain on the prosecution.

It is not surprising that the vast majority of jurisdictions nationwide, including the federal jurisdiction, do not require the defendant to prove the EMED defense; instead, they place the burden on the prosecution, as the law in Hawaii currently provides. Such an overwhelming lack of endorsement of the use of the affirmative defense as applied to the EMED defense is not a good indication of the viability of its use.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 1119 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO SENATE BILL NO.
1635

Honorable Members
Twentieth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 1635, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Public Land Trust.'

The purpose of Senate Bill No. 1635 is to facilitate the resolution of public land trust issues. This bill requires completion of an inventory of the lands subject to the public trust imposed by section 5 (f) of the Admission Act and provides an alternative funding mechanism for transferring a portion of the income and proceeds from the lands of the public trust to the Office of Hawaiian Affairs for an additional year.

This bill has the same purpose as Act 329, Session Laws of Hawaii 1997, whose principal purpose also was to fashion a comprehensive, just, and lasting or global resolution of all controversies relating to the proper management and disposition of the public land trust and the income and proceeds the trust generates. However, this bill neither extends the life of the executive-legislative committee that Act 329 established for gathering information, facilitating discussions, and formulating recommendations for a global resolution of all public land trust-related controversies, nor establishes an alternative mechanism for furthering and securing this bill's stated purpose.

In addition, the trustees of the Office of Hawaiian Affairs have discontinued our earlier settlement efforts and asked me to veto this bill. I understand further that the trustees prefer that the differences between the State and OHA presently pending before the Hawaii Supreme Court in the State's appeal in OHA v. State, S.Ct. No. 20281, be decided by the Court. I must assume that the trustees are aware that federal legislation precludes the State's airports system from paying for the use of public land trust lands with airport revenue, and that without the $16,060,000 appropriation this bill would make, there will be no non-airport revenue appropriation to pay for the airport system's use.

Given OHA's request, the State's pressing need to apply its limited general revenues as productively as possible, and the fact that this bill provides no concrete means for furthering the effort toward a global resolution of all outstanding issues relating to the public land trust, I am not convinced of the necessity of this bill.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning Senate Bill No. 1635 without my approval.

Honorable Members

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 1638, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Educational Officers.'

The purpose of Senate Bill No. 1638 is to require the Department of Education (DOE) and the exclusive representative for bargaining unit 6 to study possible inequities in pay for educational officers within the DOE and report to the Legislature before the convening of the regular session of 2000.

However, the DOE is able to pursue an internal review of the matter without this legislation. Moreover, some of the requirements of this bill are duplicated by a proviso contained in House Bill No. 100, the bill that will enact the General Appropriations Act of 1999, which requires the Auditor to conduct a study of the compensation of DOE personnel. The Auditor office is in a better position to conduct an impartial review because the Auditor has no vested interest in the results of the study.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 104

Honorable Members
Twentieth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 104, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to the Public Employees Health Fund.'

The purpose of this bill is to amend Act 309, Session Laws of Hawaii 1996, which authorized the establishment of a committee comprised of representatives from state and county public employers and public employee unions to develop, recommend, and implement an employer-union trust concept for determining and administering employee and retiree health benefits, by changing the composition of the committee and its purpose. Act 309 was enacted to establish a timetable to proceed with the conversion to an employer-union trust concept for determining and administering public employee and retiree health benefits, and to mandate that public employers and employee organizations work together on this effort.

This bill is objectionable first because it amends Act 309 by deleting the references to 'employer-union trust concept' and replacing it with 'alternative concepts,' which redirects the committee to explore other concepts and obscures the purpose of Act 309. Second, the bill is unclear and ambiguous about whether it authorizes the appointment of two, three, or more co-chairs to lead the committee. Third, the bill proposes an amendment to section 2 of Act 309, which allows 'any committee member or group of members [to] finalize a proposal to replace the existing public employees health fund with a system based on alternative concepts in the form of proposed legislation.' This provision undermines the objective of the Employer-Union Trust Concept Committee because (1) it promotes dissension among committee members and diverts the focus of the committee from its primary mission; and (2) it would inadvertently permit the submission to the Legislature of a proposal from any committee member or any group of committee members, which may not be the proposal supported by the overall committee.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 104 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 273

Honorable Members
Twentieth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 273, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Children.'

The purpose of House Bill No. 273 is to amend chapter 707, Hawaii Revised Statutes, to create three new sections for the offenses of child abuse in the first, second, and third degrees, which are classified as A, B, and C felony offenses, respectively. The graduation for these offenses is based on the defendant's state of mind and the extent of the injury caused to the minor victim, who must be twelve years old or younger. This bill also amends sections 707-710 and 707-711, Hawaii

Revised Statutes, relating to the offenses of assault in the first and second degrees, which are classified as B and C felony offenses, respectively, by adding the provision that the victim be thirteen years old or older. Lastly, the bill adds the three new child abuse offenses to section 706-662, Hawaii Revised Statutes, which sets out the criteria for extended terms of imprisonment.

I understand that this measure was passed at least partially in response to a few cases widely reported in the media. However, the prohibited conduct covered by the newly created offenses is already punishable under our existing assault statutes. Consequently, the real impact of this bill is simply to elevate the criminal penalties that are presently prescribed in our statutes when the assaults are committed against a person who is twelve years old or younger. It is unnecessary to create new child abuse offenses and redefine our existing assault offenses when the only effect is the increase of possible penalties when the assault is committed against a minor under the age of thirteen years.

Furthermore, the new child abuse offenses or the redefined assault offenses will not be lesser included offenses in the offense of attempted murder. Lesser included offenses must meet the requirements listed in section 701-109(4), Hawaii Revised Statutes. Because the new and redefined offenses will require proof of the victim's age and the offense of attempted murder does not require proof of the victim's age, the new child abuse and redefined assault offenses will require proof of more facts than those required to establish attempted murder. Since the other requirements of section 701-109(4), Hawaii Revised Statutes, are not met, the new and redefined offenses will not be lesser included offenses of attempted murder. This change to be effectuated by this bill will seriously disadvantage both the prosecution and the defense in criminal prosecutions. The Legislature has inserted age requirements in two particular offenses in the Hawaii Penal Code and in three newly created offenses, apparently without being cognizant that the Penal Code has internal consistency and amending one statute may have significant incongruous consequences in another context.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 273 without my approval.

Respectfully,

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 300

Honorable Members
Twentieth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 300, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to the Penal Code.'

The purpose of House Bill No. 300 is to create a new offense of assault against a police officer in the first degree. Under this bill, any person who intentionally or knowingly causes bodily injury to a police officer who is engaged in the performance of duty would be guilty of a class C felony. In addition, the bill renames the current offense of 'assault against a police officer' to 'assault against a police officer in the second degree' and penalizes any person who recklessly causes bodily injury to a police officer engaged in the performance of duty.

The intent of this bill is to enhance the penalty for assaulting a police officer in order to deter suspects who might otherwise escalate encounters with police officers into physical confrontations. However, the practical effect of this bill is the opposite. As passed, this bill creates a situation where a person committing the less serious misdemeanor offense of assault against a police officer in the second degree would receive a penalty of a mandatory thirty days in prison while another person who commits the more serious felony offense of assault against a police officer in the first degree would not. Instead, the convicted felon may receive a sentence of probation without any prison term imposed.

Furthermore, although Senate Standing Committee Report No. 1493 on this bill noted that 359 cases of assaults against police officers were filed in 1997, it has been reported that the incidents of assaults against police officers have been decreasing. For example, in 1995, there were 372 reported cases of assaults against police officers of the Honolulu Police Department. Two years later in 1997, the number of assault cases involving Honolulu police officers dropped nearly twenty-five percent to 284. I am concerned that, with these significant decreasing figures, the added costs of felony prosecution of such offenses may be an unnecessary additional expenditure.

Moreover, if a significant number of the 359 cases of assaults against police officers are prosecuted as felonies, the circuit courts of Hawaii will be inundated with these felony cases and these cases may severely impact a system already straining to keep up with its responsibilities with respect to defendants charged with violating felony laws. Yet, no additional resources are provided in this bill either to the criminal justice system or to the correctional system to address these additional costs.

In the same vein, the legislative committee reports do not cite to any data that indicate that an enhancement of the penalty from a misdemeanor to a felony would have any real effect on reducing the number of assaults against police officers. Indeed, no data are cited as to whether the current authority to impose a term of imprisonment of up to one year, in conjunction with the thirty days mandatory imprisonment, would not provide an adequate and sufficient deterrent effect.

Additionally, this bill will set the threshold trigger in the felony assault against a police officer to only require 'bodily injury' to a police officer. We all recognize that police officers are our front-line protection against crime and are called upon to handle volatile situations. However, this bill will allow a felony prosecution when a police officer suffered the slightest pain during an arrest in which the arrestee may have resisted arrest. The conduct sought to be proscribed by the new felony offense created in this bill is similar to and overlaps the conduct attendant to the misdemeanor offense of resisting arrest.

The legislative committee reports noted that existing laws upgrade misdemeanor assaults to class C felony offenses when committed against correctional and educational workers. This bill apparently seeks to extend equivalent protection to police officers. However, educational workers are afforded special protection because they are unarmed and not trained to deal with aggressive persons. Similarly, while correctional workers may receive some training in handling difficult persons, this training is offset by the fact that correctional workers are unarmed and work in daily close contact with the inmates they supervise. It is reasonable and understandable that the law must provide educational and correctional workers with added protection through enhanced penalties, but the circumstances of those workers are not the same as those of police officers.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 300 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 499

Honorable Members
 Twentieth Legislature
 State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 499, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to the Employees' Retirement System.'

The purpose of House Bill No. 499 is to provide conservation and resources law enforcement (DOCARE) officers in the Department of Land and Natural Resources retirement benefits similar to police officers. Currently, the DOCARE officers' retirement benefits are the same as most State employees. This bill allows DOCARE officers the option to convert from class C (noncontributory) membership to class A (contributory) membership effective July 1, 1999, provided that any credited class C service prior to July 1, 1999, will remain class C. New DOCARE officers who are hired after June 30, 1999, are required to become class A members.

I believe that it is not appropriate, when fiscal and budgetary restraint needs to be exercised, to permit such enhancement of retirement benefits. Depending upon the number of class C DOCARE officers who elect to convert to class A membership, the Employees' Retirement System's actuary has determined that this bill would increase the unfunded actuarial accrued liability of the Employees' Retirement System between $3,700,000 and $6,500,000, and increase annual state general fund appropriations to the Employees' Retirement System pension accumulation fund to between $800,000 and $1,000,000.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 499 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 522

Honorable Members
Twentieth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 522, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to the School-to-Work Opportunities Pilot Project.'

The purpose of House Bill No. 522 is to amend Act 343, Session Laws of Hawaii 1997, to codify the school-to-work opportunities pilot project into permanent law by creating a new part of chapter 302A, Hawaii Revised Statutes, that will make the School-to-Work Opportunities Executive Council advisory in nature, and transfer management of the school-to-work opportunities staff to the Department of Education (DOE). This bill requires the DOE to employ an executive director for the school-to-work opportunities pilot project, who will be nominated by the superintendent and approved by the School-to-Work Opportunities Executive Council. This bill also transfers the responsibility for employing exempt staff from the Council to the DOE with the Council continuing to govern the school-to-work system. In addition, this bill requires Council members to pay their own travel expenses, unless actually engaged in Council business, and requires the Council and the Superintendent to develop a transition plan by July 1, 1999, to be implemented by September 1, 1999.

However, the bill includes a grandfather clause that allows the DOE to place employees into civil service positions and requires that the employees be retained if the program or position is abolished. Furthermore, there is no appropriation to implement the provisions of the bill. Consequently, this bill is contrary to the civil service reforms in progress and lacks the legislative funding commitment necessary to implement its provisions.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 522 without my approval.

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 532, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Gender Equity in Sports.'

The purpose of this bill is to ensure high school compliance with the gender equity provisions of Title IX of the United States Code. This bill will add a new subpart to chapter 302A, Hawaii Revised Statutes, to establish an advisory commission on gender equity in sports and require rules and a three-year strategic plan to implement recommendations.

This bill is unnecessary, the Department of Education (DOE) is currently in compliance with basic Title IX requirements and will continue to promote its short- and long-term compliance efforts. Furthermore, the Superintendent has stated that he is committed to continuing the DOE's short- and long-term compliance efforts. As proponents of the bill testified, this bill would be unnecessary if they had DOE's assurance on increased compliance efforts.

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 895, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Emergency Medical Services.'

The purpose of House Bill No. 895 is to further the development of immediate critical care and transport by fixed- or rotary-wing aircraft of a patient to a specialized medical care facility (emergency aeromedical services or EAS) by, among other things, authorizing the Department of Health to include EAS as part of the statewide emergency medical services system, requiring the Department of Health to establish an emergency aeromedical medical services information system (EAMSIS) to collect specified data to help determine the effectiveness of the aeromedical quality improvement program and to identify EAS system strengths and weaknesses, and requiring the Department of Health to establish an emergency aeromedical services quality improvement advisory committee (advisory committee) with specified membership to analyze EAMSIS information.

The bill appears to be unnecessary, because the functions required by this bill can be implemented administratively by the Department of Health. Moreover, the advisory committee would be required to analyze EAMSIS data, but the advisory committee would exclude Department of Health representation. Analysis of EAMSIS data and development of recommendations, as well as cost implications, to improve the EAS system should be functions of the Department of Health.

The study is to include the establishment of readiness standards for entering kindergartners and the procedure to assess children by these standards. No appropriation is made for the study.

I support the goal of the bill to improve education. However, establishing readiness standards for entrance and assessing children by such standards risk excluding children who most need to have educational experiences to support their intellectual, language, and social development. A better approach is to improve accountability at each grade level and prohibit social promotion. Furthermore, this bill lacks the legislative funding commitment to conduct the study.

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1416, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to the Employees' Retirement System.'

The purpose of House Bill No. 1416 is to provide deputy sheriffs in the Department of Public Safety with the option to have retirement benefits similar to other high-risk occupations, such as police officers. Currently, the deputy sheriffs' retirement benefits are the same as most state employees. This bill allows deputy sheriffs the option to convert from class C (noncontributory) membership to class A (contributory) membership effective July 1, 1999, provided that any credited class C service prior to July 1, 1999, will remain class C. New deputy sheriffs who are hired after June 30, 1999, are required to become class A members.

I believe that it is not appropriate, when fiscal and budgetary restraint needs to be exercised, to permit such enhancement of retirement benefits. Depending upon the number of class C deputy sheriffs who elect to convert to class A membership, the Employees' Retirement System's actuary has determined that this bill would increase the unfunded actuarial accrued liability of the Employees' Retirement System between $200,000 and $3,200,000, and increase annual state general fund appropriations to the Employees' Retirement System pension accumulation fund to between $500,000 and $800,000.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 1675

Honorable Members
Twentieth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1675, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Hawaiian Home Lands Trust Individual Claims.'

The purpose of this bill is to extend the individual claims review process for one more year, without correcting the applicable criteria and formula for damages. This bill will also create a compensation commission to develop proposals for alternative means of compensating claimants who have received a favorable ruling from the Hawaiian Home Lands Individual Trust Claims Review Panel ('Panel').

By way of background, the individual claims review process was established by the Legislature in 1991 and it has been in operation for the last eight years. Moreover, after being established, the Panel took six long years before it finally submitted its first report to the Legislature with its recommended damage awards. This occurred in 1997. To date, the Panel has reviewed less than half of the more than 4000 claims filed. At this pace, it would certainly take more than 'one more year' for the Panel to complete its review of all the claims. This is totally unacceptable. The claimants as well as the State have been dragged through this process long enough, and this bill does nothing to expedite the matter.

Moreover, throughout the Panel's administrative review process, the Panel has continually misapplied the claims' criteria and formula for damages. For example, the Panel has improperly included 'wait list' claims as viable claims under chapter 674, Hawaii Revised Statutes. The problem of beneficiaries 'waiting' too long for a homestead was intended to be remedied by Act 14, Session Laws of Hawaii 1995, and not by the individual claims review process under chapter 674. Yet, under the currently applied criteria and formula, the Panel has deemed waiting list claims to be compensable. This bill fails to correct the Panel's erroneous inclusion of wait list claims as compensable claims.

Furthermore, in response to the Panel's first report to the Legislature containing recommended damages, the Legislature in 1997 enacted Act 382, which created a Working Group consisting of the Attorney General, the Director of Finance, the Chairperson of the Hawaiian Homes Commission, and the Chairperson of the Panel. This Working Group was created because the Legislature specifically found that there was 'disagreement between the parties over the formula utilized by the [Panel] to arrive at award amounts.' Accordingly, the Working Group was directed to discuss and formulate 'an appropriate formula and any criteria necessary to qualify and resolve all claims made under chapter 674, Hawaii Revised Statutes.' Upon approval by the Governor, the recommendations of the Working Group were to be applied by the Panel. Unfortunately, due to a civil lawsuit brought by several of the claimants, the Panel was enjoined from considering the twenty-five recommendations of the Working Group. Notwithstanding the injunction, this Legislature was still free to correct the disagreement over the claims' criteria and formula. The Legislature, having the opportunity this past legislative session to correct this matter, nevertheless failed to do this.

Other concerns with the validity of the Panel's recommended awards were further identified by the Attorney General in her response to the Panel's Report to the Governor and the 1999 Hawaii Legislature. Concerns were also raised by the Attorney General relative to the Panel's bias and conflicts of interests. None of these concerns are addressed by this bill.

Consequently, not only has the Legislature failed to clarify the disagreement over the criteria and formula for damages for these claims, but the Legislature is also responsible, in part, for the two-year delay, caused by the litigation, in processing these claims. Now, this bill will perpetuate the same erroneous standards for another year. This, in turn, will perpetuate the beneficiaries' misunderstanding that the Panel's recommended awards are valid. This misunderstanding by the beneficiaries cannot be allowed to continue.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 1675 without my approval.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTIONS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 1296

Honorable Members
Twentieth Legislature
State of Hawaii

Pursuant to Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, I am returning herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1296, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Kaneohe Bay.'

The purpose of House Bill No. 1296 is to require administrative rules governing commercial operations at Kaneohe Bay to be based on the provisions of the original Kaneohe Bay Master Plan, instead of a master plan as it may be amended by the Kaneohe Bay Regional Council, unless a rule is required to protect public health or safety or to ensure resource preservation or protection.

This bill is unnecessary, because the Kaneohe Bay Master Plan is in the process of being updated under the current statute. That updating process should address the concerns raised in the committee reports on this bill regarding preserving the long-term integrity and beauty of Kaneohe Bay while addressing the needs of the commercial operators who utilize Kaneohe Bay as their place of business.

For the foregoing reasons, I am returning House Bill No. 1296 without my approval.

Respectfully,

/s/ Mazie K. Hirono
MAZIE K. HIRONO
Acting Governor of Hawaii"

"P R O C L A M A T I O N

WHEREAS, under Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, the Governor is required to give notice, by a proclamation, of his plan to return with his objections any bill presented to him less than ten days before adjournment sine die or presented to him after adjournment sine die of the Legislature; and

WHEREAS, House Bill No. 1296, entitled 'A Bill for an Act Relating to Kaneohe Bay,' passed by the Legislature, was presented to the Governor within the aforementioned period; and

WHEREAS, House Bill No. 1296 is unacceptable to the Governor of the State of Hawaii;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, MAZIE K. HIRONO, Acting Governor of the State of Hawaii, do hereby issue this proclamation, pursuant to the provisions of Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii, giving notice of my plan to return House Bill No. 1296 with my objections thereon to the Legislature as provided by said Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution.

DONE at the State Capitol, this 15th day of June, 1999.

MAZIE K. HIRONO

The Senate stands as a people-oriented institution that serves all of the people, whatever their background or persuasion. The Senate works for the public good and strives to give every person an equal opportunity to realize his or her highest potential. Either Chair or both of them on committees having co-chairs, as they shall agree, or the Chair of committees not having co-chairs, shall call meetings and preside.

(2) Whenever the word "chair" is used in these rules in reference to Committees having co-chairs, it means both chairs, or either one of them, as shall be appropriate in the context in which the word is used.

Rule 17. Standing Committees: General Responsibility

(1) General Responsibility. On the bills referred to it by the President, the committee shall determine objectives, make program recommendations and, where appropriate, make expenditure recommendations. For those bills which require appropriations, the committee shall make expenditure recommendations consistent with the expenditure allocations established for the bills by the Committee on Ways and Means, which shall make the final recommendation to the Senate.

(2) Subsequent referral committees. On bills that have been referred by the President to more than one committee, unless otherwise ordered by the Senate, the subsequent referral committee shall make no substantive change, except changes which affect the subject matter over which the subsequent referral committee has primary jurisdiction, without prior written approval of the preceding referral committee chair having primary jurisdiction over the subject matter affected by the change.

Rule 18. Committee on Ways and Means: Special Responsibility

It shall be the duty of the Committee on Ways and Means, in considering the General Appropriations Bill or the Supplemental Appropriations Bill, to determine for each fiscal year of the biennium the appropriate level of total expenditures and the level of expenditures for program areas.

To the extent practicable, the Committee on Ways and Means shall make available to members of the Senate the contents of the General Appropriations Bill or the Supplemental Appropriations Bill during the 48-hour period prior to the passage of such bills on third and final reading.

Concerning all other bills requiring appropriations, it shall be the duty of the Committee on Ways and Means to inform the Standing Committee responsible for the program area to which the appropriation relates of the amount and type of financial resources available, and it shall review the expenditure recommendation of the Standing Committee to determine that the recommendation is consistent with the resources available.

In determining the amount and type of resources available for a bill requiring an appropriation and in reviewing the expenditure recommendation of the Standing Committee, the Committee on Ways and Means shall invite the recommendation of the chair of the Standing Committee responsible for the program area to which the appropriation relates.

Rule 19. Leadership Committees

Leadership Committees shall be appointed by the President at the opening of the session, or as soon thereafter as possible. A leadership Committee on Legislative Management shall be appointed by the President to perform the duties and responsibilities of the Committee as may be provided by law, or to make recommendations to the President on issues of Senate policy. Because Leadership Committees have jurisdiction over issues of organizational and institutional interest to the Senate, their membership shall include members drawn from the ranks of the Senate Leadership, thus assuring high-level consideration of these issues.

Rule 20. Meetings of Committees

Meetings, including decision-making sessions, of leadership committees appointed by the President, and Standing Committees shall be public provided that meetings in executive session may be allowed in such exceptional circumstances when committee discussion could unfairly damage the reputation of individuals or where there is a legal question concerning a bill.

Notice of meetings and decision-making sessions shall include the number and title of the bills or resolutions, and brief descriptions and committee referrals of each of the subject matters to be covered, and shall be publicly posted by first referral committees at least 72 hours before their meetings and by subsequent referral committees at least 48 hours before their meetings, provided that these notice requirements may be waived with the approval of the President upon good cause shown.

No committee shall sit during the time when the Senate is actually in session without first securing the approval of the President, except Conference Committees that may sit at any time.

As practicable, committees shall schedule their meetings at times and at places as are convenient for attendance by the general public, and in coordination with other committees of the House or Senate, shall endeavor to hold joint meetings and public hearings on matters of mutual interest.

The meetings of a Conference Committee shall be conducted as agreed upon by the members of the Conference Committee. Conference Committee meetings and decision-making sessions shall be public. Public notice of Conference Committee meetings shall be given to the extent practicable.

Rule 21. Decision-Making by Committee

(1) The chair of a standing committee may commence a decision-making meeting and open discussion on matters referred to the committee without a quorum; provided that the decision-making by the committee on matters that are referred to it shall be conducted with a quorum of the committee present. A quorum shall be a majority of the membership of the committee.

(2) A favorable vote of a majority of the members present at a decision-making meeting duly constituted with a quorum is required to report a matter out of committee. A member voting "with reservations" shall be counted as a favorable vote.

(3) The presence of a quorum and the final vote of each member who is present at the decision-making meeting of a standing committee shall be recorded by the chair or by a member of the committee designated by the chair. This record shall be attached to and shall be a part of the report of the standing committee.

Rule 22. Public Hearings on Bills

(1) Subject to this rule, the selection and scheduling of a bill for public hearing shall be at the discretion of the chair of the committee having jurisdiction over the bill.

(2) The chair's determination that a bill will have a public hearing shall be final notwithstanding the opposition of a majority of the members of the committee.

(3) At the written request of a majority of the members of the committee, the chair shall schedule a bill for public hearing.

Rule 23. Committee Reports

(1) The leadership committees as may be appointed by the President and Standing Committees shall report from time to time upon all matters referred to them.

(2) Special Committees shall report upon matters referred to them within the time permitted in the appointment of the Special Committee unless further time is given by vote of the Senate.

(3) A Conference Committee shall not report upon the matter referred unless a majority of the members appointed by the President have concurred in the report.

Rule 24. Committees: Factfinding and Content of Reports

(1) Whenever any matter shall be referred to a committee it shall be the duty of the committee to make diligent inquiry into all of the facts and circumstances connected with the matter. If necessary, witnesses shall be summoned or subpoenaed, and everything shall be done to bring all facts pertaining to the matter before the Senate in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 21 of the Hawaii Revised Statutes. The President may exercise such powers authorized under Chapter 21, relating to the issuance of subpoenas, and the President, committee chair and other duly delegated members of the Senate may exercise such powers authorized under Chapter 21 aforesaid, relating to the administering of oaths, and the compelling of witnesses who have been subpoenaed to testify. All committee meetings held on matters referred to it by the Senate shall be open to the public unless otherwise ordered by the Senate or otherwise provided by these Rules.

(2) The report of the committee shall state findings of fact and conclusions based thereon, together with a distinct recommendation as to the disposal of that matter.

(3) A report upon a bill shall state clearly the amendments, if any, proposed. If a substitute bill for one or more referred to the committee shall be reported, such substitute bill shall agree with the subject of the bill or bills referred to the committee.

(4) The committee shall report whenever a majority of the members present at the decision-making meeting duly constituted with a quorum is in favor of reporting the bill or resolution out of the committee. The report, after being made available, for review by the members of the committee, and after subsequent revisions thereto, if any, shall be the final report of the committee. The final report of the committee shall be attested to by the signature of the chair on behalf of the members of the committee. The action of the committee on the bill or resolution or any amendments thereto, if any, and the final vote of each member of the committee recorded by the chair or the chair's designee at a decision-making meeting shall not be changed in the review of the report, unless the change is made at an open decision-making meeting conducted with a quorum of the committee present. The minority of the members present at any decision-making meeting duly constituted with a quorum may report.

Rule 25. Committee of the Whole

(1) The Senate from time to time may resolve itself into a Committee of the Whole. Whenever any matter shall be referred to such committee upon the adoption of a motion to that effect, the President shall call some member to take the Chair (unless the Senate shall nominate a chair), which being done, the Senate then shall be in committee.

(2) The Clerk of the Senate shall act as Clerk of the Committee of the Whole without extra compensation, and shall make a careful record of the proceedings, which shall be filed as one of the records of the Senate.

(3) The committee, on motion, may rise and ask leave to sit at any future time.

(4) When a bill shall be referred to the Committee of the Whole, the bill shall be first read throughout by the Clerk, and then again read and debated by sections, leaving the preamble to be the last. All amendments, noting the page and line, shall be duly entered by the Clerk on a separate paper, as the same shall be agreed to by the committee, and so reported. When a bill is ordered into Committee of the Whole, such order may dispense with the reading of the whole bill before considering it section by section.

(5) In Committee of the Whole, the rules of procedure in the Senate shall be observed except that any member may speak more than once on the same subject, but no person shall speak a second or further time until others desiring to speak shall have had an opportunity, nor shall the motion for the previous question be allowed. A time limit for debate may be fixed by vote.

PART III. SESSIONS; ATTENDANCE; NOMINATIONS

A motion to adjourn is always in order, and shall be decided without debate. One motion to adjourn shall not follow another without intervening business.

Rule 33. Quorum

For the transaction of business, a majority of the number of members to which the Senate is entitled shall constitute a quorum, of which quorum a majority vote shall suffice, but the final passage of a bill shall require the vote of the majority of the members of the Senate. A smaller number than a quorum may adjourn from day to day and compel the attendance of absent members. For the purpose of compelling the attendance of absent members, a majority of the members present, by resolution, may direct the Sergeant-at-Arms to place the members who are absent under arrest and return them to the Senate. Any warrant pursuant to such a resolution shall be issued in the name of the Senate and shall be signed by the member then presiding. For the purpose of ascertaining whether there is a quorum present, the President shall count the members present.

Rule 34. Executive Session

(1) If the Senate considers it necessary to act confidentially upon any communication from the Governor or upon any nomination or other matter, it may go into executive session.

(1) Nominations made by the Governor and removal of the chief legal officer of the State which require the advice and consent of the Senate, and appointments which require the confirmation or consent of the Senate shall be referred to the standing committee having jurisdiction within five legislative days of receipt of the nomination or appointment. The standing committee to which a nomination, removal of the chief legal officer or appointment is referred, shall report to the Senate with a recommendation to advise and consent, confirm, or reject on or before the fifty-ninth day of the session.

(2) Except for the appointment of a justice or judge, a nomination or appointment made by the Governor which is received by the Senate after the fifty-first day of the session of the Legislature shall be returned to the Governor without action, unless a confirmation or consent is required to further a public purpose which cannot be satisfied by an interim appointment. Notice of this rule shall be given to the Governor not later than the twentieth day of the session of the Legislature.

(3) The final question on nominations made by the Governor shall be: "Will the Senate advise and consent to this nomination?"

Rule 40. Order of Business: Committee Reports and Gubernatorial Messages

Reports from Conference or Joint Committees, and from the Leadership Committee on Legislative Management, shall be in order at all times after the second order of business, and, upon motion, messages from the Governor or from the House of Representatives may be received at any time. After the first seven orders of business set forth in Rule 38, it shall be in order, pending consideration thereof, to move that the Senate proceed to dispose of the unfinished business or to the Order of the Day. If such motion be decided in the affirmative, such consideration shall immediately be taken up.

All questions relating to the priority of business to be acted upon shall be decided without debate.

PART V. BILLS; RESOLUTIONSRule 44. Bills: Introduction

Any bill may be introduced on the report of the committee or by any member, except appropriation bills subject to the next paragraph and except short form bills which may only be introduced by the majority party leader or the minority party leader after appropriate consultation with committee chairs and other members of the Senate.

The Executive Budget, Judiciary Budget, Legislative Budget, General Appropriations Bill, Supplemental Appropriations Bill, Office of Hawaiian Affairs Budget, and bills for criminal injuries compensation, for claims against the State and for funding of collective bargaining agreements may be introduced only by the President. Each member may introduce only one bill appropriating money for capital improvements projects in the member's district. The majority party leader and the minority party leader shall develop a policy governing introduction by individual members of bills intended to appropriate money or to authorize the issuance of state bonds.

All bills shall be introduced under the order of resolutions.

Bills which shall carry over from a regular session in an odd-numbered year to the next regular session shall retain the numbers assigned to them. The Clerk shall keep a record of the status of all bills in possession of the Senate at the end of the odd-numbered year session and shall publish the record of the status of all such bills prior to the convening of the next regular session.

Every bill introduced or reported out of any committee, which amends an existing section or subsection of the Hawaii Revised Statutes or Session Laws of Hawaii, shall set forth the section or subsection in full, and the matter to be deleted shall be enclosed in brackets and any new matter added to the section or subsection shall be underscored. However, a Supplemental Appropriations Bill need not conform to this rule, nor an amending bill where the intent and effect of the amending bill can be clearly identified and understood without repeating the entire section or subsection, in which case only the paragraphs, subparagraphs, clauses or items to be amended need be set forth as the President may allow. The President may allow additional exceptions to this rule.

Rule 45. Bills: Referral to Committee

(1) Upon introduction all bills shall be numbered by the Clerk in numerical sequence, shall bear an identification as a Senate Bill, and shall pass first reading.

(2) Each such bill shall be referred by the President to one or more appropriate Leadership or Standing Committees for consideration.

(3) Any referral may be reconsidered by the President upon written request of any chair who is aggrieved by the referral made within forty-eight hours of the referral. The President shall decide the request for reconsideration within a reasonable time. The President's decision on a request for reconsideration may be appealed by any chair aggrieved by that decision to the Leadership Committee. No request for reconsideration or appeal shall be considered if the timing of the request would have the effect of killing a bill or resolution.

(4) Each Leadership and Standing Committee shall consider the bills referred to it as expeditiously as may be possible.

Rule 46. Bills: Required Readings

No bill shall pass the Senate unless it shall have passed three readings in the Senate on separate days. The President shall give notice in each instance whether it be the first, second or third reading.

Rule 47. Bills: First Reading

(1) The first reading of a bill shall be for information. If opposition be made to it, the question shall be: "Shall this bill be rejected?" which question may be debated. But no one shall speak more than once upon such question, except the introducer of the bill, who may close the debate.

(2) If the question to reject be negative, the bill shall go to its second reading without question.

Rule 48. Bills: Second Reading

A bill upon its second reading may be read by its title only. It then shall be subject to a motion to commit. If it is not referred to a Leadership Committee, Standing Committee, or Special Committee, but is ordered to be considered in Committee of the Whole, a day for such consideration shall be determined by the chair of such committee. When the bill is reported from committee it shall take its place in the order of business for future consideration.

Rule 49. Bills: Third Reading

(1) No bill shall pass third or final reading in the Senate unless printed copies of the bill in the form to be passed have been made available to the members of the Senate for at least 48 hours. Form to be passed means the form in which a bill is to be (a) passed on third reading in the Senate, (b) concurred to by the Senate after amendments have been made by the House, or (c) passed by the Senate after a Conference Committee has agreed upon it.

(2) A bill on its third or final reading may be read by its title only, and the President then shall ask the Senate: "Shall this bill pass its third reading?" or "Shall this bill pass its final reading?" as the case may be. Upon the final passage of any bill, the Ayes and Noes shall be called. Such passage shall require the affirmative vote of a majority of all the members of the Senate and the Ayes and Noes shall be entered on the Journal.

Rule 50. Bills: Property of Senate

All bills introduced in the Senate shall be deemed the property of the Senate and under its control unless they shall become law, subject however to the right of the House of Representatives to amend or to refuse to agree with the bills.

Any bill pending at the final adjournment of a regular session in an odd-numbered year shall carry over with the same status to the next regular session; provided that if such bill shall have passed third reading in the Senate in an odd-numbered session, it shall pass at least one reading in the Senate in the next regular session upon its return to the Senate from the House.

Rule 51. Bills: Recall from Committee

Twenty days after a bill has been referred to a committee, the same may be recalled from such committee by the affirmative vote of one-third of the members of the Senate.

Rule 52. Matters Tabled

When a bill or resolution or other matter has been laid upon the table, it shall not thereafter be taken from the table and be considered or restored to a place upon the calendar of the Senate without the consent of a majority.

Rule 53. Bills: Amendments

(1) All amendments proposed to any bill shall be in writing, unless otherwise ordered by the Senate, and shall be sent to the Clerk's desk to be filed with the bill.

(2) No floor amendment to a bill shall be voted upon unless a copy of the amendment, together with a copy of the complete bill in a form that incorporates the floor amendment, shall have been presented to the Clerk no later than 9:00 o'clock a.m. on the day of the session at which the amendment is to be offered. The Clerk shall prepare and distribute copies of the floor amendment to each member of the Senate present.

(3) A floor amendment shall be deemed pending only after its proponent has been recognized by the President and its adoption has been properly moved and seconded.

(4) A floor amendment that relates to a different subject, is intended to accomplish a different purpose, incorporates any other bill pending before the Senate, or would alter the nature of the bill as reported, is not germane and shall not be considered by the Senate.

(5) An amendment to a floor amendment that is not germane to both the floor amendment and the bill as reported shall not be considered by the Senate.

Rule 54. Bills: Certification

When a bill is passed it shall be certified by the Clerk who shall note the day of its passage at the bottom of the last page of the bill.

Rule 55. Bills: Received from House of Representatives

Whenever a bill which has finally passed the House of Representatives shall be certified to the Senate for its action, such bill shall be read three times before final passage, in accordance with the provision of the rules for the passage of bills introduced in the Senate.

Rule 56. Bills: Transmittal to House of Representatives

When a bill originating in the Senate shall have passed its third reading, or when a bill originating in the House which has been received from the House shall have been amended, or when a carry-over bill from an odd-numbered year originating in the House passes its third reading in the Senate in an even-numbered year session, such bill or such amended bill shall immediately be certified by the President and Clerk and sent to the House of Representatives for its consideration.

Rule 57. Bills: Correction of Errors

When a bill has passed both the Senate and the House of Representatives and an error in it is discovered prior to its having received the approval of the Governor, the bill may be returned by Concurrent Resolution to the house last considering the bill for proper correction.

Rule 58. Bills: Order of Consideration

(1) The Clerk shall send bills that have passed first reading to be printed immediately. When they have been printed and circulated to the members of the Senate, the President shall refer them to the various committees. When the committees have considered them and reported on them, the committees shall return them to the Clerk, and the Clerk shall place them in the Second Reading File. The Senate shall consider them in the order in which they appear in the Second Reading File.

(2) The Clerk shall arrange bills that have passed second reading in the order of their passage on second reading, regardless of the date of their reference to committee or the date of the committee report on them. The Clerk shall place them on the Third Reading File in the order in which they passed second reading and the Senate shall consider them on third reading in that same order. However, if the third reading of a bill is set for some particular date, that bill shall be removed from the Third Reading File.

Rule 59. Bills: Special Order of Consideration

All bills and other matters set for consideration on particular dates, shall be arranged in the order of the several votes making such assignments. A list shall be made of such special orders, and when the time for consideration arrives, such bills and other matters shall be considered in the order of assignment. If an adjournment shall be had before all of such special orders are disposed of, the remainder shall go over and come under the head of unfinished business on the following day, unless otherwise ordered.

PART VI. RESOLUTIONS; MOTIONS

Rule 60. Resolutions and Motions: Form

All resolutions shall be typewritten, dated and signed by the introducer, otherwise they shall not be considered. The Senate shall not introduce any congratulatory, commemorative or memorial resolution but shall express the sentiment contained in such resolutions by means of a suitable certificate. Motions and amendments may be verbal but shall be reduced to writing if requested by the President, and shall be read from the desk if so ordered.

Rule 61. Motions: Second Required

No motion shall be received and considered by the Senate until the motion is seconded.

Rule 62. Motions: Disposition

After a motion is stated or read by the President, it shall be deemed to be in the possession of the Senate, and shall be disposed of by vote of the Senate; however, it may be withdrawn by the movant at any time before an amendment has been adopted or before the decision on the motion if not amended.

Rule 63. Motions Applicable to Pending Matters

Whenever any bill or resolution or other matter shall be under discussion, the only motions relative thereto shall be:

- (1) To lay upon the table,
- (2) To postpone to a certain time,
- (3) To postpone indefinitely,
- (4) To commit, and
- (5) To amend,

which motions shall have precedence in the order named.

The first two motions shall be decided without debate and shall be put as soon as made.

When any of the motions shall be decided in the negative, they shall not be revived the same day relative to the main question under discussion. If all are negative as aforesaid, the only remaining question shall be as to the adoption of the bill, resolution or other main question.

Rule 64. Matters Postponed Indefinitely

When a question is postponed indefinitely, the question shall not be acted upon again during the session in which it was introduced.

Rule 65. Motion for Previous Question

The object of the motion for the previous question is to cut off debate. It shall always be in order. It shall require a three-fifths vote to carry it.

Whenever the motion shall be carried, the author of the resolution or introducer of the bill under discussion shall be permitted to close the debate, after which the main question, subject to Rule 63, shall be put. The author or introducer may delegate to another such right to close.

Rule 66. Motion for Reconsideration

(1) When a motion has been once made and carried in the affirmative or negative, it shall not be in order for any member who voted in the minority to move for a reconsideration thereof; but any member who voted with the majority may move to reconsider it on the same or the succeeding day of session, or, with the consent of the Senate, on any subsequent day and such motion shall take precedence of all other questions, except a motion to adjourn.

(2) When a motion for reconsideration has been decided by vote, that vote shall not be reconsidered.

(3) When a bill or resolution or other matter upon which a vote has been taken shall have gone out of the possession of the Senate, and shall have been transmitted to the House of Representatives, a motion to reconsider shall be deemed to include a request to the House to return the same. If not complied with by the House, then the vote on the motion to reconsider shall be set aside. If such motion shall pass, the Clerk shall promptly communicate to the House the request for return of the matter to be reconsidered.

PART VII. PETITIONS AND COMMUNICATIONSRule 67. Petitions, Memorials, and Miscellaneous Communications

PART VIII. ORDER; DEBATE; VOTINGRule 68. Questions of Order

- (1) A question of order may be raised at any stage of the proceedings, except during the calling of the roll when the Ayes and Noes are called for. Unless submitted to the Senate, such questions shall be decided without debate by the presiding officer, subject to an appeal to the Senate. Laying such appeal on the table shall be held as sustaining the ruling of the presiding officer.
- (2) Any question of order may be submitted to the Senate for its decision.

Rule 69. Debate: General Limitation

No member shall speak more than twice, unless such member be the movant of the matter pending, in which case such member shall not be permitted to speak in reply until every member choosing to speak shall have spoken.

Rule 70. Voting: Methods

There shall be five methods of ascertaining the decision of the Senate upon any matter.

- (1) First, by voice or raising of hands; Second, by rising; Third, by ballot; Fourth, by call of the roll of the members and a record of the Clerk of the vote of each; and Fifth, by unanimous consent.
- (2) Whenever the Senate is ready to vote on any question, the President shall rise, and after stating the question, shall request all those in favor of the affirmative of the question to vote "Aye." The President then shall call upon all voting in the negative of the question to vote "No." The President then shall announce the result to the Senate.
- (3) If any member shall doubt the result, as announced, the President again shall state the question and call upon the members to vote by rising in their places, and they shall remain standing until counted, and the result again shall be announced.
- (4) The method of voting by ballot shall be as customary. The President shall appoint one or more tellers, or direct the Messengers to collect the ballots, which shall be counted by the Clerk. On motion, the Senate may vote upon any question by ballot.
- (5) Whenever one-fifth of the members present shall request, the Clerk shall call the roll of the members of the Senate. Each member, when called, shall vote in a clear loud voice, "Aye," if voting in the affirmative, or "No," if voting in the negative. The Clerk shall record each vote and such record shall become a part of the Journal of the Senate. The President shall announce the results as above set forth.
- (6) With the unanimous consent of the Senate, the President may direct the Clerk to record an "Aye" vote for each member of the Senate. If there is no objection, the Clerk shall so record the vote. If there is objection, the President shall ask for the names of the members voting "No" and order the Clerk to record no votes for them.

Rule 71. Voting: Rights of Members

- (1) No member, on any account, shall refrain from voting unless excused by the President. A member may vote "Kanalua" the first time the member's name is called by the Clerk on any vote, but if the member votes "Kanalua" on the next call of the member's name, the member's vote shall be recorded as "Aye."

(2) The President may excuse a member who has a monetary interest in the question, or whose right to a seat in the Senate will be affected by the question, or whose official conduct is involved in the question. If a member thinks there may be a personal interest in the question, the member shall rise and disclose the interest to the President. The President then shall rule whether the member has a conflict of interest. If so, the member shall be excused from voting.

(3) Whenever the Ayes and Noes are called, no one, without unanimous consent, shall be permitted to explain a vote.

Rule 78. Decorum: Disorderly Conduct in Session

If, during any session of the Senate, any member should behave in a disorderly manner the President shall order the member to be seated and preserve the peace. Rule 82. Disclosures

Each member shall file with the Ethics Commission of the State of Hawaii, a disclosure of the member's private financial interests, as prescribed by law. Each member shall file with the Ethics Commission any change in such financial interests.
