Senator Hemmings rose in opposition to the measure and stated:

"The title of this bill is 'Urging Congress to Approve the United States National Health Care Act.' Certainly, we need a remedy to the nation's health care problems, but having politicians in Washington, D.C., added to the mix is certainly not going to drive down the cost anywhere; it's just going to redistribute who pays and when they pay. There's a long history regarding the nationalization and the politicization of programs that could be served better by competition in the marketplace called 'free enterprise.' The biggest one is Social Security; it is a monopoly, a Ponzi scheme of the worst sorts. It's supposed to be bankrupt in 2032. It's going to cause financial havoc, so either young people who are working today paying in the system aren't going to get benefits or everybody's going to have to pay more taxes to take care of it. Two of the biggest costs in the federal government are two other monopoly programs, Medicaid and Medicare; the subsidized, one-size-fits-all care for the elderly and the people who cannot afford their own healthcare. Both of these programs have tremendous costs that largely impact the cost of running state government. My point being, that having federal government run these programs takes the control of our destiny out of the hands of the individual citizens and creates government-sanctioned monopolies that end up actually costing more and create long-term debt way beyond our ability to pay off, which is exactly what's happening at the national level.

"I would urge our congressional delegation and other enlightened leaders in Washington, D.C., to look at ways to empower different agencies in different businesses in the marketplace of health care insurance to compete to bring the best product possible at the best price to the consumers of America. We do have ways to take care of those who cannot afford total health care for themselves and, of course, we do have ways to try to preempt the needy from having health care in the first place by more health maintenance on their own part. So there are options to the monopoly of the national health care system, and I'll be voting 'no' because I think this is just going to be another national disaster like programs we've just spoken of. Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Slom requested that his vote be cast "No," and the Chair so ordered.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, the report of the Committee was adopted and S.C.R. No. 172, S.D. 1, entitled: "SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION URGING CONGRESS TO APPROVE THE UNITED STATES
