TUESDAY, APRIL 30, 2013

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 56 (H.B. No. 31, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Hee moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 56 be adopted and H.B. No. 31, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Shimabukuro.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

“As I discussed the other day with this bill, I find this very troubling. First of all, I don’t think this is a state issue or a state matter. I definitely think that it has to do with home rule – it’s the counties. And it also comes at a time when we have spent a great deal of our efforts and resources and time on trying to find solutions to homelessness. So I think this sends the wrong message, I think it’s unnecessary, and it’s an unwarranted intrusion by the state into county affairs. Thank you.”

Senator English moved that the Senate recommit Conf. Com. Rep. No. 56 and H.B. No. 31, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1 to the Committee on Conference.

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 56 and H.B. No. 31, H.D. 1, S.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO DISORDERLY CONDUCT,” were recommitted to the Committee on Conference.

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 130 (S.B. No. 946, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Hee moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 130 be adopted and S.B. No. 946, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Ige.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

“Madam President, I guess there’s discussion, and the discussion is why – while we all are for recapitalization of our unfunded debt, our tremendous $25 billion unfunded debt – this bill, as amended and as changed by the House, I think does more of a disservice. The bill that the Senate had produced and provided, I think, was a clean bill and was an attempt to move us in the direction of recapitalization. But I think this bill fails in terms of the amount of money that would be mandated and committed over a period of time, and also the idea of setting up a statewide, state-operated, government captive insurance company again is not the way to properly do the fiscal decisions that need to be made. So, I would urge a ‘no’ vote on this bill. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and failed to carry, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 130 failed to be adopted, and S.B. No. 946, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO RESOLVING THE UNFUNDED LIABILITIES OF THE STATE AND THE COUNTIES,” having been read throughout, failed to pass Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 4; Ayes with Reservations (Espero). Noes, 20 (Baker, Chun Oakland, Dela Cruz, English, Gabbard, Galuteria, Green, Ihara, Kahele, Keith-Agaran, Kidani, Kouchi, Nishihara, Ruderman, Shimabukuro, Slom, Solomon, Thielen, Tokuda, Wakai). Excused, 1 (Taniguchi).

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 167 (S.B. No. 909, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1):

Senator Hee moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 167 be adopted and S.B. No. 909, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Ige.

Senator Ige rose to make the following remarks:

“Yes, Madam President. I would like to request to be able – as you all know, Unit 13 had rejected the proposed settlement. So I would like to insert some comments into the Journal and a copy of the letter requesting the governor to line-item veto those appropriations that are explicit to the collective bargaining agreement, but allowing those other excluded members to receive the 4 percent raises that was offered.”

The Chair having so ordered, Senator Ige’s remarks read as follows:

“I rise to speak in support of this measure.

“Hawaii Government Employees Association – Unit 13 voted on April 30, 2013 to not ratify a proposed tentative agreement. The Administration has provided via Governor’s Message the estimated costs to fund increased salaries associated for the proposed tentative agreement. Included in the Governor’s Message was funding for those employees who are considered exempt and excluded and not affiliated as unionized employees of the State of Hawaii. For administrative purposes, salary increases and fringe benefits have previously been mirrored to those provided to Hawaii Government Employees Association - Unit 13 through finalized agreements. However, the Legislature recognizes Executive and Judiciary Branch authority to set salary increases for those employees who are exempt and excluded and not affiliated on a collectively bargained salary schedule. In light of Unit 13 not ratifying a contract prior to the conclusion of the 2013 Legislature, in sending this bill to the Governor, the Legislature recommends the executive to line-item veto any funding attributable to Hawaii Government Employees Association – Unit 13 costs, but allow for funding for those employees who are exempt and excluded and not affiliated on a collective bargained salary schedule at the Governor’s prerogative.”

The Chair having so ordered, the letter is identified as “ATTACHMENT A” to the Journal of this day.

Senator Slom rose to speak in opposition to the measure as follows:

“As my colleagues know, I have spoken and voted against every collective bargaining bill this year, saying that in fact it was excessive; it was not fair to the private sector, who have to pay for these raises; and in addition to that, it was a question of fairness and equity in terms of increases at a time when our economy still struggled.

“But this was an interesting matter in that the state’s largest public employee union apparently voted to not accept the terms and conditions of the contract, which to me is amazing since it, as I said, is excessive in my point of view. But I think that there’s good reason not to adopt this. And also, one might even look into how fair that vote was because a number of the rank and file are complaining that while they supported it, their leadership, in a non-democratic manner, voted to decline the offer.

“So with all of this, I think it’s a bad bill, and I think we should decline it. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 167 was adopted and S.B. No. 909, S.D. 1, H.D. 1, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT MAKING APPROPRIATIONS FOR COLLECTIVE BARGAINING

COST ITEMS,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 23. Noes, 1 (Slom). Excused, 1 (Taniguchi).

RECONSIDERATION OF ACTIONS TAKEN

Conf. Com. Rep. No. 125 (H.B. No. 1147, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1):

Senator Hee moved that the Senate reconsider its previous action taken on April 30, 2013, in recommitting Conf. Com. Rep. No. 125 and H.B. No. 1147, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1 to the Committee on Conference, seconded by Senator Espero and carried.

Senator Hee moved that Conf. Com. Rep. No. 125 be adopted and H.B. No. 1147, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, having been read throughout, pass Final Reading, seconded by Senator Ige.

Senator Hee rose to speak in support of the measure as follows:

“Evidently, wisdom has prevailed and the House has reconsidered its preemptive action two days ago on the Senate recommendation that both bills, S.B. No. 31 and H.B. No. 1147, although similar, we passed it and rely on the advice of the attorney general to give counsel to the governor which of the two bills is in the interest of the people of Hawai‘i.

“As all of you know, both measures have to do with the disclosure of campaign contributions by Super PACs and the role of the Super PAC in elections of the past – the mayor’s race comes to mind immediately – and elections prospectively. Both bills promote transparency; both bills promote accountability. It’s unfortunate that the House two days ago unilaterally decided to recommit S.B. No. 31, but evidently, they have been persuaded to bring it back; and I am persuaded by you, Madam President, to honor the commitment of passing H.B. No. 1147 as we would have done on Tuesday. Thank you.”

The motion was put by the Chair and carried, Conf. Com. Rep. No. 125 was adopted and H.B. No. 1147, H.D. 2, S.D. 2, C.D. 1, entitled: “A BILL FOR AN ACT RELATING TO CAMPAIGN SPENDING,” having been read throughout, passed Final Reading on the following showing of Ayes and Noes:

Ayes, 24. Noes, none. Excused, 1 (Taniguchi).

S.R. No. 154, entitled: “SENATE RESOLUTION INFORMING THE HOUSE AND GOVERNOR THAT THE SENATE IS READY TO ADJOURN SINE DIE.”

Offered by: Senators Galuteria, Slom.

On motion by Senator Espero, seconded by Senator Slom and carried, S.R. No. 154 was adopted.

At this time, Senator Kahele introduced Pi‘ilani Kaupiko and Micah Alameda, members of his staff who were seated in the gallery.

Senator Hee rose to speak on a point of personal privilege as follows:

“I want to say a few words about H.B. No. 622, the media shield bill, believe it or not. I think much has been said – actually, too much has been said – with regard to the process, but it does highlight what I believe to be, or should I say... I don’t want to say ‘irresponsible,’ but maybe not ‘complete’ in the media’s reporting. For the last couple days, there’s been some comment by Jeff Portnoy, and so I want to focus on some of the things in the process that H.B. No. 622 went through.

“It’s been suggested that the blame be laid squarely on me, the Senate’s Judiciary and Labor Chairman. That suggests that it’s really an indictment, in my opinion, on everybody else – on everybody else. Jeff Portnoy, I presume, suggests that but for me, this bill would have passed; but for me, the sunset would have occurred, would have been removed.

"So, let's look at the record. On January 29, 2013, the House Committee on Judiciary recommended that H.B. No. 622 be passed with amendments. The votes were as follows: 11 ayes, 0 noes, 2 excused. On February 12, H.B. No. 622 passed Second Reading, as amended, unanimously by the House. On Third Reading, it would have been unanimously adopted but for one vote – that was 'no.' On April 3, 2013, after crossover, the bill was heard by the Committee on Judiciary and Labor, and recommended that the measure be passed with amendments. The votes in the committee were 5 ayes, 0 noes, 0 excused. On April 5, the bill passed Second Reading by unanimous vote. On April 9, the bill passed Third Reading with one 'no' vote. On April 25, after the Conference Committees had deliberated and agreed by a vote to recommend a conference draft for the Senate, there were three votes in favor: Hee, Shimabukuro, and Slom, with reservations. There were two excused: Gabbard and Ihara. On February 25, the House committee recommended and there was one 'no' vote. And finally, on April 30, there were 16 'aye' votes and 9 'no' votes.

"I appreciate that Jeff Portnoy has offered me up as the one responsible. However, it indicts democracy, and that's unfortunate. 'The ship of democracy has weathered many storms.' Guess who said that. You wouldn't believe it if I told you, but I'm going to tell you. Not Big Bird, not Bert, not Elmo – because I went through all of these names – not Cookie Monster. Grover. Grover. I don't even know what Grover looks like. Not Grover Cleveland.

"It's interesting that much has been said over something that we've all participated in. I didn't plan on talking about this, but I was humored by I don't know what article I read where the Senate majority policy leader was quoted as saying, 'Democracy is at stake.' Oooh. 'Democracy is at stake.'

"A few years ago, Judith Miller, a reporter for the New York Times, reported in her article that the CIA was in Iraq, and that the CIA individual that Judith Miller outed was Valerie Plame. And it was stated that part of her work, Plame's work, concerned the determination of the use of aluminum tubes purchased by Iraq. CIA analysts, prior to the Iraq invasion, were quoted by the White House as believing that Iraq was trying to acquire nuclear weapons and that these aluminum tubes could be used in a centrifuge for nuclear enrichment. David Corn and Michael Isikoff argued that the undercover work being done by Plame and her CIA colleagues in the Directorate of Central Intelligence Nonproliferation Center strongly contradicted such a claim. However, the CIA was concerned enough to send Plame's husband, Joseph Wilson, to Niger in 2002, to investigate the potential sale of nuclear materials from Niger to Iraq. 'My name and identity were carelessly and recklessly abused by senior government officials in the White House and the State Department,' and this abuse occurred for purely political reasons.

"You folks are old enough but may be, like me, too old to remember the details of this. This was George Bush's effort to justify bombing Iraq, and to do so he sent Scooter Libby to drop on Judith Miller a small detail: there are weapons of mass destruction and the United States needs to take a proactive, aggressive action to stop the weapons of mass destruction. None were found – but democracy was at stake. Oooh. Democracy.

"But to finish off the story, Judith Miller was sent to jail; and after 85 days, she outed the outer, Scooter Libby. And shortly thereafter, guess what happened to Scooter Libby: President Bush pardoned him. Democracy was at stake. Oooh.

"The same policy leader said in an article I read that there were not enough votes for an amendment. You know, it's like my son Kaohu once told me when he was trying out for the basketball team, and I kept telling him, 'Why don't you shoot the ball?' I told him, 'If you score ten points, you guys win.' And he told me, 'I might not make the basket.' So, if you don't have the votes, how do you know? How do you know? You don't know. Lay them down. Like we did on this bill was lay it down. Lay them down. But to say democracy is at risk and we don't have the votes is to say, 'I'm going to take my ball, and you know what, we're going home because you know what? We cannot win.' Sounds good. Sounds good, but if you don't shoot the ball, you cannot make the basket. And this ball was shot many times, and the same one who's now complaining about what's at stake with democracy was the one who voted every time, every time.

"Here's a guy – I don't know if he's a journalist – Rick Tubania in Civil Beat, who says, 'What's the big deal? If journalists are truthful, then they should not worry.' If journalists are truthful, then they should not worry. But many of them, in order to sell, they report mistruth, half-truths, and hide behind the shield law. If journalists write about something that is their opinion, then they have no worry, but to cite something as true but not really is irresponsible journalism, creating false controversy. These journalists want to have their cake and eat it, too.

"I guess we'll find out. Journalism seemed to be quite remarkable before this bill became law; and I suspect that democracy is really not at stake, that the earth will not swallow us up, and that the sky is not going to fall. These are the same kinds of arguments three years ago with the passage of civil unions: 'The sky is going to fall.' Damn near two and a half decades with the establishment of the hotel room tax: tourists weren't going to come; the hotels were going to go empty. Fact is, I think Grover got it right: democracy has weathered many storms. Thank you, Madam President."

Senator Galuteria rose to make the following remarks:

"Thank you, Madam President. Just a very brief follow-up to the previous speaker with regard to the bill we were talking about: I think equally important about the contents of the bill was the learning moment that happened. Now, the floor amendment that was presented by the House was a very substantive change. It's how we do business with our colleagues across the way, and how they intend to do business with us in the future. Now, to introduce such a change moments before the Senate begins its session lacked the transparency and openness that the public deserves. Ironically, it was to accommodate the needs of the media, an industry that calls for transparency, and that particular industry would advocate for a process that locks out the openness that the public deserves.

"This Senate will not stand for that, so we sent back the message that said, 'No, listen; this is not correct. We do business the way we do business.' And so the House has learned that the Senate stands for good business and transparency and openness, and that's the way we're going to play it from here on in.

"So, the majority stands firmly, and I'm sure the minority leader will have something to say; perhaps not. We stand firmly behind Senator Hee and the process that the Senate advocates for. Thank you for that, Madam President.

"Now lastly, I would like to take this opportunity to say thank you. This is a 'thank you' moment. Madam President, this was your first session as our leader. I know that you've taken great pains to wear the new clothes, and so we thank you for that and for allowing us to do our work. To our Vice President: we thank him for his leadership, steady hand. To the money chair: we could not have asked for a better gentleman and scholar to lead us through our money deliberations. To all of the chairs of our different committees: thank you so much for taking everything that you had, pouring everything into your work so that we could come out with our documents to govern this great land of ours.

“So as we finish off this particular session, we’ve learned so much about not only the way the House intends to do business with us, but we’ve sent a strong signal about how we intend to do business with the House. And in knowing how we do business together, we will just continue to ensure the quality of life for this great land we call home – our Hawai‘i nei.

“So having said that, thank you to each and every one of our staffers and everyone who works at the Senate and in this beautiful building that is the people’s building. Thank you again for allowing me the time to share this mahalo nui loa as we move closer to our final sine die. Mahalo. Aloha.”

Senator Slom rose to make the following remarks:

“Madam President, as unaccustomed as I am to stand up, let me just say it was a very interesting and unique session this year. I think we accomplished many positive things, and there are other things that need our attention.

“I think that first of all, I want to thank the people that are really responsible for everything we do here – the taxpayers of Hawai‘i, because we pass things in their name but they get the bills. They don’t get the credit; they get the bills. So, thanks to all the taxpayers.

“I want to thank you, Madam President, and the leadership, who have treated me respectfully. I especially want to the Chair of the Economic Development Committee. He took a chance and he took a risk to do something that had not been done here in 21 years, and that is to have a member of the other party in a leadership position. When my early discussions with him were taking place, I said, ‘I’m going to disagree with you. I’m going to vote against some of your bills,’ and all that, and he said, ‘That’s alright,’ and we did that throughout the entire session. So, I thank him for that. I enjoyed that position, and if he needs help in the future, I’ll be glad to do that.

“I think that of all the things that we did we kept our promise on repeal of the PLDC; the Governor has now signed that bill into law. I think that we were very serious this year in terms of the recapitalization of our massive $25 billion unfunded debt. We can’t do it all in one year. We have to keep the promises that we made to people who have relied on those government promises in the past. But we have made steps, taken serious steps towards paying that amount down and to changing the direction that we have.

“I want to thank my staff as well; I’ve thanked them previously. My staff is unique in this building; they have the responsibility for getting me in and around and knowledgeable of all 16 Senate committees, and they’ve done a fantastic job all session doing that. They’ve done it with grace. They’ve done it with energy. They’ve done it with enthusiasm.

“I mentioned our Budget Director, Mr. Paul Harleman, who did an alternative budget like no other that’s been done the last several years. It’s still up online now; it is a serious document. It shows what can be done in another direction to get us away from this death spiral of taxes and fees and more debt. We’ve got to do that because we know the direction that we’re headed right now financially. Our state budget director has told us. We can see it. Anybody that can read a simple balance sheet or balance their checkbook knows that you cannot keep spending more than you take in; and yet we keep trying to do that.

“So, those were some of the good things that we did. I think that it was interesting that we probably had fewer bills come out of conference committee this year than in past years, but hopefully they are good bills. And while we disagreed on some of the issues, and I narrowly lost the votes 24 to 1 usually, at least we had discussion. And if we’re talking about transparency, I would encourage more discussion. We need to let the public know why we support a bill or why we oppose it, and we need to vote it up or down; it’s as simple as that. And we’ve done that this year, to a greater extent, but we still have a ways to go, and I don’t think any of my colleagues would disagree that we can always do better, whatever it is that we do.

“So the budget, the $24 billion budget, is going to loom large. Again, as I said the other day, we respect and admire all of the work that was done and the conscientiousness, including the work that the Vice Chairman of Ways and Means did with the capital improvements budget. It’s really hard when you’ve got everybody asking for something and you have to say ‘no,’ or ‘not at this time,’ or ‘no, not this amount.’ And that’s our job. We’re not here to be buddies, particularly to special interests or certain groups or certain individuals. We are here to do the people’s business, and it is all about democracy. And democracy – it’s interesting. It gets battered. It gets knocked down. It gets up again. It gets knocked down. It gets up again. That’s what we do.

“I’m probably most concerned that a number of things did not happen, Madam President. You may recall, back in January, my opening statement. One of the things that I said was that we really don’t take care of the misuse of public funds or misuse of authority. There are no consequences for bad behavior in government. I think this is still clear in the issue of the University of Hawai‘i, my alma mater. We’re all proud of the university. We like to highlight the things that they’ve done, but believe me, they have not done the things that the Senate Special Accountability Committee ordered or asked them to do, and what the public supported. The public supported the Senate; the public supported our investigation of what was going on, and they kept begging us to make sure that there are changes at the university. I am not sure that the head administration has gotten the message. I am not sure that we’re going to see the independence that we need from the Board of Regents. But that’s our job, too – to follow up and to work on it – and so we’ll do the best that we can.

“On opening day also, I talked about one of our citizens, one of our residents, who now has been imprisoned by the federal government for nearly three years: Roger Christie of the Big Island. I think it’s a travesty that this Senate could not even adopt a resolution in support of Mr. Christie. We’re not talking about his guilt or innocence. We’re talking about an individual who has been denied basic civil and judicial rights for three years because the federal government wants to make an example of him. But we couldn’t even come together in this body to show support and to ask that he be given the very simple things like a bail hearing. Yet, we have a Secret Service agent who was here for APEC last year who allegedly killed another individual; he was out on bail. He’s okay. But somehow, Roger Christie remains a danger and a threat to our society. Can’t understand that; can’t believe that. And that was the Senate that did not adopt that.

“And again, I’m sorry to say that even though we’ve had such great aloha for animals, the poor native Hawaiian hoary bat again did not pass this state, did not pass this legislature. Held hostage for a number of personal and political reasons; not because of the bat itself because even the environmentalists were saying what a wonderful creature he is (or ‘she’ is, in the case of ‘madam’ bats).

“And then we did talk about the journalism shield law and bill, and there’s been a lot of discussion. There’s a couple things that I guess could be mentioned: number one, the government really has no business involving itself in the freedom of speech or journalism issue, but we did. Five years ago, we passed model legislation, which has been copied around the country and it’s gotten good reviews and worked really well. And in the discussion from the Judiciary Chairman about votes and how this bill progressed, there was no discussion about how the committee members did not see the drafts of the bill before the votes were taken, or how difficult it was for some committee members and the public to actually get details. But I am happy that we've moved from 1947 and the Dewey Headline up to Judith Miller, so we are making some progress there. The Legislature should not coddle or help specifically one industry over another. And again, this area of free speech and journalism is important, but neither should we be trying to determine and define who is a journalist and what is acceptable journalism, particularly since we laud ourselves on our technological advances and we have moved away from the old printed monopoly publication of news. But be that as it may, this will be for another day and another discussion.

"It is important to note that we in the Senate do have a different responsibility and a greater responsibility than our members across the hall. And process is extremely important, but I think far too often we use process as an excuse not to do things that we can do. And again, it's really simple. Vote something up or vote it down – we can bring that forward.

"So overall, Madam President, I think we can say safely that we accomplished a number of positive things for the community, but we cannot and should not forget the taxpayers of this state because ultimately it is their burden. And we must work harder to improve our business and economic climate. I couldn't find one bill this year that was beneficial to businesses, particularly when we asked them to come here and tell us what they need to expand their business, to keep their business, to have new investment. We have bills and we have legislation that they wound up spending most of their time opposing. Fortunately, most of the bills did not pass. Fortunately, in the budget that we adopted, there are no new major tax incentives – or, I should say, tax increases. Many of the incentives are still under discussion, but we do have a lot of mandated benefits for business, and a tremendous amount of new fees or increased fees for business. Somebody's got to pay this, and ultimately it is the taxpayers and the consumers of our state.

"So, Madam President, thank you again for your leadership. Thank you to my colleagues for your courtesies, and hopefully we'll all be back next year to do an even better job. Aloha."

At this time, the President delivered her closing remarks as follows:

"As this 27th legislative session draws to a close, I would like to take this time to thank all of you for the amount of work and passion you have devoted to representing your respective districts.

"While we all have different issues that we are passionate about, this body and the House of Representatives can take a good measure of satisfaction in what we were able to achieve collectively.

"We began the year with unexpected changes thrust upon us with little time to prepare ourselves. But the Senate adjusted, and we did what was needed to ready ourselves for the responsibility entrusted to us by the electorate. While it took the House a little longer, the new leadership of both houses brought refreshing changes.

"We dealt with the uncertainty in the direction of our economic recovery and the pent-up demand to restore the cutbacks of recent years and evaluated and considered hundreds of proposals as part of our normal course of business. Despite the scope of the work before us, I believe we fulfilled our obligations as legislators and succeeded in providing a solid foundation for the continued progress of our island community.

"I would be remiss in not highlighting the huge change both Houses adopted in the way we deliberated over the budget and how we dealt with the final day of conference committees. Gone were the late nights of agree/disagree/limbo budget volleying. Gone was the Friday deadline extensions and the chaos that ensued in Committee Room 309, making decisions while the midnight dead line loomed.

"We were able to accomplish this largely due to the our money chairs and vice chairs closing the budget and CIP in record time and by House and Senate leadership sticking to a firm deadline with not a single extension on bill negotiations. This took discipline from both houses and I commend all of you for that. But this day, and every day of our session, was not of our own doing. So I'd like to take this opportunity, speaking for all Senators, to extend our heartfelt and profound gratitude to those who worked on our behalf and that of all the people of Hawaii. I speak of our unseen heroes – our legislative aides, office managers, and support staff who kept us informed and got us where we needed to be, on time and worked long hours into the night and on weekends.

"Our Senate Clerk Carol Taniguchi and her staff, who ensured that our bills and committee reports were timely and properly, prepared the orders of the day, and oversaw the many legal nuances of the legislative process.

"The Ways and Means and Judiciary staffers, who made preparations long before we formally convened in anticipation of the complex measures we were to consider and were often the last ones to leave this building.

"The Sergeant-at-Arms Ben Villafior and his staff, who prepared our committee rooms, kept order in the gallery and assisted us with everything from the mundane to the impossible.

"Data Systems – Jon Shimabuku and his staff kept us both connected and paperless.

"The document center – Tia Lobendahn – and Journal Clerk Grace Wong did a remarkable job in keeping abreast of the day-to-day flurry of activity.

"The Senate Majority Office – Casey Hines, Richard Wada, and the SMA staff; Senate Minority Office – Sam Slom with Paul and Herb; and Legislative Reference Bureau – Charlotte Carter-Yamauchi. These teams did yeoman's work in drafting bills, committee reports, legal checks and dealt with Chairs to get research and committee reports completed yesterday.

"Capitol TV and the Public Access Room who brought our proceedings to the public.

"Finally, on a personal note for my staff Terrence, Gina, Frances, Daniel, Nancy, Lauren and volunteers Bridget and Sam: I don't thank them enough for all that they do and for stepping up to help me fulfill my duties as President.

"Please, members, join me in a standing ovation to commend and thank these exceptional people for their professionalism and commitment to this institution.

"I dare to say that this has been a productive and successful session. It wasn't perfect and it wasn't always easy. But I am not only proud of what we achieved but appreciative of your spirit of teamwork and aloha. While we may not always agree on specific ideas, we can all agree that we want the people of Hawaii to enjoy a quality of life second to none and a future filled with hope and opportunity. Let's keep our eyes on this goal and let it inspire us to continue working together in the interim. Because even though the session formally ends today, we all know that our work continues throughout the interim. Committee Chairs you will be getting a memo soon requesting that you pick an interim project to work on that will to prepare us and could be included in our Majority package for the 28th Legislative Session.

“But for now, let’s sine die, and collectively join in with our House colleagues.... for a House/Senate end of session gathering. Mahalo!”

ADJOURNMENT

THE LEGISLATURE
State of Hawaii

STATE CAPITOL
415 SOUTH BERETANIA STREET
HONOLULU, HAWAII 96813

May 1, 2013

The Honorable Neil Abercrombie
Governor, State of Hawaii
Executive Chambers, State Capitol
Honolulu, Hawaii 96813

Dear Governor Abercrombie:

Hawaii Government Employees Association - Unit 13 voted on April 30, 2013 to not ratify a proposed tentative agreement. The Administration provided, via Governor's Message 272, the estimated costs to fund increased salaries associated for the proposed tentative agreement. Included in the Governor's Message was funding for those employees who are considered exempt and excluded and not affiliated as unionized employees of the State of Hawaii.

For administrative purposes, salary increases and fringe benefits have previously been mirrored to those provided to Hawaii Government Employees Association - Unit 13 through finalized agreements. However, we recognize the Executive and Judiciary Branch authority to set salary increases for those employees who are exempt and excluded and not affiliated on a collectively bargained salary schedule.

In light of Unit 13 not ratifying a contract prior to the conclusion of the 2013 Legislature, in sending this bill to the Governor, we recommend that line-item veto power be exercised with respect to any funding attributable to Hawaii Government Employees Association - Unit 13 included employee costs, but allow for funding for those employees who are exempt and excluded and not affiliated on a collective bargained salary schedule at the Governor's prerogative.

Sincerely,
