

TESTIMONY OF
THE DEPARTMENT OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL
TWENTY-SEVENTH LEGISLATURE, 2014

ON THE FOLLOWING MEASURE:

S.B. NO. 2248, S.D. 2, RELATING TO PUBLIC LAND LIABILITY.

BEFORE THE:

HOUSE COMMITTEE ON WATER AND LAND

DATE: Monday, March 10, 2014

TIME: 8:45 a.m.

LOCATION: State Capitol, Room 325

TESTIFIER(S): David M. Louie, Attorney General, or Robin M. Kishi, Deputy Attorney General

Chair Evans and Members of the Committee:

The Department of the Attorney General strongly supports this bill.

The purpose of this bill is two-fold. First, and most significantly, the bill will make Act 82, Session Laws of Hawaii 2003, permanent. Act 82 had been successful in improving the safety of public lands for public users by establishing a comprehensive statewide system in which hazards thereon are identified and evaluated for the placement of appropriate warning signs and devices.

The system includes the design of state-of-the-art warning signs, evaluation of placement of those signs, and signage maintenance and monitoring guidelines. If the governmental entity proposes its plan for the warning of a dangerous condition for consideration by the Risk Assessment Working Group, and approval by the Board of Land and Natural Resources, the governmental entity is afforded a conclusive presumption that the hazard-appropriate sign posted provides legally adequate warning of the dangerous condition of which it warns.

The enactment of Act 82 has spurred the State and counties to be more proactive in their hazard identification and risk assessment. The law has also encouraged the uniformity of signs statewide.

Act 82 must be made permanent. The need to preserve the system that the law established is even more imperative now, as Hawaii continues to maintain its status as, and grow, as a destination for visitors seeking outdoor activities, some of which may be very risky.

If it is allowed to sunset on June 30, 2014, the counties and State may gradually lapse and revert to use of more island specific and idiosyncratic signage and placement. Eventually, the comprehensive statewide hazard evaluation and warning system will dissolve to the detriment of our visitor and residents.

Second, the proposed amendments to section 2 of Act 82 will extend the conclusive presumption that posted Act 82 signage as legally adequate warning of dangerous conditions to “non-natural” conditions on unimproved lands. The State has already begun to post Act 82 signs on unimproved lands on which both natural and non-natural conditions have been identified. However, at present, the law does not afford the State a conclusive presumption even when appropriate signs are posted.

For example, the Department of Land and Natural Resources (DLNR) posted Act 82, and other, warning signs at the head of and along an unofficial trail that leads to a cliff face in Mokuleia that rock climbers have been using for a number of years. Unfortunately, however, notwithstanding DLNR’s efforts, under the wording contained in the current law, the State is not given a presumption that it has provided adequately warning of the dangers at this site. DLNR also posted similar signs along a path that leads to at a smaller cliff face on unimproved land in Makapuu that is also used by rock climbers.

By amending Act 82 to include the proposed wording, the law will encourage the State and counties to be proactive in identifying and evaluating non-natural dangerous conditions on unimproved lands. The identification and evaluation of non-natural dangerous conditions on unimproved lands may become increasing more important and, therefore, should be encouraged, as both visitors and residents alike expand their recreational activities beyond the park lands and official statewide trail system.

We respectfully and strongly recommend that this bill be passed.

Testimony of
WILLIAM J. AILA, JR.

Before the House Committee on WATER & LAND

State Capitol, Conference Room 325

In consideration of
SENATE BILL 2248, SENATE DRAFT 2
RELATING TO PUBLIC LAND LIABILITY

Senate Bill 2248, Senate Draft 2, proposes to amend Act 82, Session Laws of Hawaii (SLH) 2003, by deleting the sunset date of June 30, 2014, thus making permanent the liability protections provided by warning signs for outdoor recreation on public lands. The Department of Land and Natural Resources (Department) strongly supports this measure. This measure addresses the sunset date of Act 82, but also includes provisions that would clarify government's duty to warn where recreational activities such as rock climbing occur.

Since the passage of legislation in the form of Act 82, SLH 2003, and in the ensuing 11 years, the Department has initiated a comprehensive sign program that is deployed statewide in public recreational areas associated with parks and wilderness trails. These actions have resulted in a variety of critical outcomes and now institutionalized management practices associated with Act 82:

- The creation of a statewide risk assessment working group that established general design and placement standards for of warning signs and continues to review the placement of these signs and new design as warranted by conditions and exposure.
- The promulgation of Chapter 13-8, Hawaii Administrative Rules, for the Design and Placement of Warning Signs
- The approval process through the Board of Land and Natural Resources (Board) on the placement, and as warranted, the design of new warning signs.
- Sign inspection that includes records of the date of each sign location Board approval, installation, and the sign's condition over time.
- Over 400 Act 82 warning signs have been installed and are maintained by the Divisions of State Parks and Forestry and Wildlife, Na Ala Hele Trails and Access Program.

In addition to making Act 82 permanent after 11 years of departmental and county implementation, Senate Bill 2248, Senate Draft 2, contains language that would allow for liability protection on public land where recreational activities such as rock climbing occur, with the posting of warning signs associated with exposure to hazards associated with this activity.

The public now has become accustomed to seeing the uniform, standard signs warning of potential exposure to hazardous natural conditions at managed trailheads and park entrances - in addition to at the actual point of exposure - across the State of Hawaii.

This sign program strikes the balance between the government's duty to warn, and the public's responsibility to heed that warning and make an informed choice, before engaging in recreational activity.

It is time to now make this warning management protocol permanent.

The Department supports Senate Bill 2248, Senate Draft 2.

TESTIMONY OF ROBERT TOYOFUKU ON BEHALF OF THE HAWAII ASSOCIATION FOR JUSTICE (HAJ) IN OPPOSITION TO S.B. NO. 2248, SD 2

Date: Monday, March 10, 2014

Time: 8:45 am

To: Chairperson Cindy Evans and Members of the House Committee on Water and Land:

My name is Bob Toyofuku and I am presenting this testimony on behalf of the Hawaii Association for Justice (HAJ) in OPPOSITION to S.B. No. 2248, SD 2, Relating to Public Land Liability.

The issue raised in the Senate Draft 1 as well as included in the SD 2 is to include signage for non-natural conditions to the presumption section of the government's duty to warn on unimproved public lands and possibly on improved public lands as well.

First of all, the purpose of Act 82 when it was enacted and during the ensuing years is to warn citizens and visitors of dangerous natural conditions to prevent harm and injury and provide some protection to the government. The current Act provides for these protections. HAJ objects to the proposed changes in this SD 2 because it does not follow the purpose of the original act to warn of dangerous natural conditions on improved public lands. Persons using state parks have no control over and may not even be aware of any dangerous natural conditions and therefore the warning system is to protect them from these conditions. On the other hand, where there is a non-natural condition which is "man-made" and created by a person or by government itself, there should not be any immunity from negligence or a presumption of immunity when merely a warning sign is erected. There needs to be accountability whenever a so-called non-natural condition is created by government or by an individual in order to protect the safety of anyone that is on public land.

Secondly, HAJ notes that this addition may increase the burden to the state and counties. The issue raised in this measure is the extent to which government should expend resources to discover and monitor non-natural conditions created by members of the public on government lands that are independent of the warnings that they create and place to warn of natural conditions at state and county parks. The competing factors are the burden to government to find and maintain these so-called non-natural conditions which may be located in more remote locations versus the public safety benefit of warning of non-natural hazardous conditions.

The importance of measures which define minimum standards for governmental entities related to improved public lands, as defined in Act 82 must be viewed in the context that they exist for the benefit of the general public.

Thank you very much for allowing me to testify in OPPOSITION to this measure. We appreciate consideration of our concerns. Please feel free to contact me should you have any questions or desire additional information.

Aloha Committee on Water and Land,

I support the passage of SB2248 in order to protect the state from lawsuits brought by people enjoying the mountains on lands that are administered by the state of Hawaii. This will begin to bring us into alignment with the other Western states where the beauty and adventure of the mountains are the very reasons that people live and visit in those states. This is one small step in the much larger scope of tort reform that is needed to allow our state to be a true paradise that allows all users the chance to push their own personal limits while not holding land owners responsible when accidents happen.

By passing this law you will:

- Protect tax payers from unnecessary legal fees and lawsuits brought by users of public lands.
- Encourage the opening of more trails that the citizens and visitors of Hawaii demand.
- Alert visitors and residents alike to take responsibility for themselves in the mountain environments.
- Support the DLNR and their mission to provide access to our state lands while not making them babysit each and every trail user through over signage and closing trails.
- End the days of people profiting from their making poor decisions and holding the land manager or administrator responsible for their own poorly thought out actions.
- Encourage the growing tourism market that seeks to enjoy the mountains as well as the beach on vacations
- Bring mountain areas into alignment with the protections given to beach managers. When was the last time Pipeline was shut down after someone died? Has anyone ever been sued for that death at Pipeline? no, and it should be the same way in the mountain environments.

Sincerely yours,

David Nash

We, the undersigned residents of Hawaii and/or possible visitors to Hawaii very strongly support the passage of SB 2248 (SD2) and any provisions that will make this legislation permanent.

We support this measure because we cherish our right to freely enjoy a wide variety of recreational activities in Hawaii's mountains including hiking, biking, trail running, climbing, paragliding and other activities. We are baffled by the State's current absence of liability protection, which has led to ongoing closures of climbing areas, hiking trails, and other scenic sites due to the State's legitimate fear of lawsuits. We strongly believe that public lands need to remain open to the public. It is patently absurd that the State should decide when, where, and how people are able to experience Hawaii's natural wonders - especially when such decisions are made largely based on liability risk assessments. It is time to take a significant step toward tort reform and shift our landowner liability paradigm toward something sensible, sustainable, and sane.

In comparison to other Western States, Hawaii's recreational liability statutes are sorely lacking. We do not want to see access to mountain sports across the Hawaiian Islands denied or restricted because the lobby for a small group of trial attorneys holds the rest of us hostage. We strongly disagree with previous testimony against liability reform in Hawaii that suggests that the status quo is in the best interest of the public, or that the status quo will keep us safer by holding the State liable for accidents (such as the Brem case in 2012). We are a responsible group of citizens who recognize the assumed risks in engaging in recreational activities on State lands. We believe that individuals who choose to go hiking, climbing, mountain biking, paragliding, or who choose to engage in any other recreational use of public lands, should do so at their own risk.

Without the passage of this bill, the State of Hawaii is left with very little protection from litigation resulting from injuries that occur on State lands. We believe the lack of liability protection is wholly untenable, especially given the ever-growing popularity of mountain recreation to residents in Hawaii and visitors comprising our tourist economy.

This bill is an agreeable compromise. It notably does not provide the State with absolute immunity, but does require that those engaging in hazardous recreational activities accept the risks associated with their actions. This bill will effectively balance State responsibilities (to maintain public trail systems and to warn of possible hazards) with the responsibilities of individuals to keep themselves safe and adequately prepared. Thus, we fully endorse this essential legislation and urge the Hawaii State Legislature to pass it into law.

Sincerely,

Mike Solis

Testimony of Alex Colby on behalf of the Hawaii Paragliding Association in SUPPORT of S.B.
2248, SD 2

Date: Monday, March 10, 2014
Time: 8:45 am - hearing

Dear Chair Evans and Committee Members:

The Hawaii Paragliding Association is united with the climbing, hiking and mountain biking communities, and other Hawaii outdoor recreation groups, in our desire to promote responsible access to public lands, without undue liability for the state or other landowners. Therefore we strongly support the passage of S.B. 2248 SD 2 and any provisions that will make this legislation permanent.

We believe this bill will effectively balance state responsibilities to maintain public trail systems, and to warn of possible hazards, with the responsibilities of individuals to keep themselves safe and adequately prepared. We fully endorse this legislation and urge the Hawaii State Legislature to pass it into law.

WRITTEN TESTIMONY IN SUPPORT OF SB2248 SD2

KENNETH MCKELL
HONOLULU, HI

I would like to inform the Water and Land Committee of my support for SB2248 SD2. As a resident of Makiki and an avid outdoorsperson, it is my opinion that the State should not be liable for accidents that occur on State land where manmade improvements have been made by people other than the State. With the addition of signage, as provided for in this bill, informing the casual outdoorsperson of the potential dangers when that are known to the State, I feel that this represents a fair balance between the State caring for its residents and visitors and people in general acting with common sense and caution.

Thank you for considering SB2248. I urge you to pass it out of committee.

Comments: I, the undersigned resident of Hawaii very strongly support the passage of SB 2248 (SD2) and any provisions that will make this legislation permanent. I support this measure because I cherish our right to freely enjoy a wide variety of recreational activities in Hawaii's mountains including hiking, biking, trail running, climbing, hand gliding, paragliding and other activities. I am baffled by the State's current absence of liability protection, which has led to ongoing closures of climbing areas, hiking trails, and other scenic sites due to the State's legitimate fear of lawsuits. I strongly believe that public lands need to remain open to the public. It is patently absurd that the State should decide when, where, and how people are able to experience Hawaii's natural wonders - especially when such decisions are made largely based on liability risk assessments. It is time to take a significant step toward tort reform and shift our landowner liability paradigm toward something sensible, sustainable, and sane. In comparison to other Western States, Hawaii's recreational liability statutes are sorely lacking. I do not want to see access to mountain sports across the Hawaiian Islands denied or restricted because the lobby for a small group of trial attorneys holds the rest of us hostage. I strongly disagree with previous testimony against liability reform in Hawaii that suggests that the status quo is in the best interest of the public, or that the status quo will keep me safer by holding the State liable for accidents (such as the Brem case in 2012). I am a responsible citizen who recognizes the assumed risks in engaging in recreational activities on State lands. I believe that individuals who choose to go hiking, climbing, mountain biking, paragliding, or who choose to engage in any other recreational use of public lands, should do so at their own risk. This bill would also facilitate traditional uses such as shoreline fishing and gathering in both mauka and makai locations, where access requires traversing private or public properties. Additionally, this is an issue that relates to public health, for without access to recreate, the public has less opportunity to exercise, and the resulting negative impacts to public health are many. Without the passage of this bill, the State of Hawaii is left with very little protection from litigation resulting from injuries that occur on State lands. I believe the lack of liability protection is wholly untenable, especially given the ever-growing popularity of mountain recreation to residents in Hawaii and visitors comprising our tourist economy. This bill is an agreeable compromise. It notably does not provide the State with absolute immunity, but does require that those engaging in hazardous recreational activities accept the risks associated with their actions. This bill will effectively balance State responsibilities (to maintain public trail systems and to warn of possible hazards) with the responsibilities of individuals to keep themselves safe and adequately prepared. Thus, I fully endorse this essential legislation and urge the Hawaii State Legislature to pass it into law. Thank you, Graham Paul Knopp, Ph.D. PO Box 1310 Honokaa, Hawaii

Comments: As a longtime resident and outdoor enthusiast, I support SB2248, and respectfully ask that you pass this legislation to promote responsible access to public lands, without undue liability for the state. While I worry about all the signage this bill would cause to be billboarded on our aina, it does seem an unfortunate necessary step to educate those folks who haven't done their due diligence in educating themselves before venturing into an unfamiliar environment. This bill is a step in the right direction of balancing state responsibilities to maintain public trail systems and to warn of possible hazards with the responsibilities of individuals to keep themselves safe and adequately prepared.

Measure Number SB 2248 SD2

I am writing as an individual who is an avid climber, hiker, and mountain enthusiast. I am also submitting testimony on behalf of the over 2000 hikers, climbers, mountain bikers, tourists, and advocates for a better and more balanced liability law in Hawaii who also believe that Act 82 should be made permanent and extend to protect the state from activities that may take place on any type of public land. Attached is our original petition in support of SB 1007 HD1, which is the exact same bill as SB 2248 SD2 that is before the committee today.

The people listed here are those who love the land, enjoy the mountains, and want to ensure that the State protects their access. They are also people who feel the state's current liability laws are deeply flawed and need to be changed. We were able to generate the bulk of these signatures in two days, but since it was originally submitted with 1300 signatures, you can see that our support has continued to grow.

We hope very much that you will listen to the testimony of those who love to be in the mountains and want to see the state have better liability protection.

Unfortunately, access to the mountain areas is severely restricted by military land, private lands, housing developments, KSBE lands, and BWS lands. A reasonable number of access points to the mountains should be provided and in some cases, large entities such as KSBE and BWS should allow recreational users access to their lands with no fear of lawsuits.

We are baffled by the State's current absence of liability protection, which has led to ongoing closures of climbing areas, hiking trails, and other scenic sites due to the State's legitimate fear of lawsuits. We strongly believe that public lands need to remain open to the public. It is patently absurd that the State should decide when, where, and how people are able to experience Hawaii's natural wonders - especially when such decisions are made largely based on liability risk assessments. It is time to take a significant step toward tort reform and shift our landowner liability paradigm toward something sensible, sustainable, and sane. In comparison to other Western States, Hawaii's recreational liability statutes are sorely lacking. We do not want to see access to mountain sports across the Hawaiian Islands denied or restricted because the lobby for a small group of trial attorneys holds the rest of us hostage. We strongly disagree with previous testimony against liability reform in Hawaii that suggests that the status quo is in the best interest of the public, or that the status quo will keep us safer by holding the State liable for accidents (such as the Brem case in 2012). We are a responsible group of citizens who recognize the assumed risks in engaging in recreational activities on State lands. We believe that individuals who choose to go hiking, climbing, mountain biking, paragliding, or who choose to engage in any other recreational use of public lands, should do so at their own risk. Without the passage of this bill, the State of Hawaii is left with very little protection from litigation resulting from injuries that occur on State lands. We believe the lack of liability protection is wholly untenable, especially given the ever-growing popularity of mountain recreation to residents in Hawaii and visitors comprising our tourist economy. This bill is an agreeable compromise. It notably does not provide the State with absolute immunity, but does require that those engaging in hazardous recreational activities accept the risks associated with their actions. This bill will effectively balance State responsibilities (to maintain public trail systems and to warn of possible hazards) with the responsibilities of individuals to keep themselves safe and adequately prepared. Thus, we fully endorse this essential legislation and urge the Hawaii State Legislature to pass it into law. Sincerely, Ryan Colle

KEALA FUNG	HALEIWA, HI	2014-01-28	as a rock climber, hiker, mountain biker, and outdoor enthusiast, I value and cherish access to beautiful spots on this beautiful island
Wendy Gibson	Honolulu, HI	2014-01-28	Climbers need to practice to stay proficient. Other sports in Hawaii are not shut out from their sites out of fear of litigation. Other sports (such as surfing) have a much higher rate of serious injury and death than climbing (which is ZERO). Please return the climbing sites to these responsible climbers--who have an outstanding safety track record.

Teley Brandon	Aiea, HI	2014-01-28	Public lands are for the public (period)
Vincent Fung	Ormond Beach, FL	2014-01-28	I love the outdoors and everyone deserves to share my love. How can we do that if there aren't any lands to love?
Julia Fain	Lexington, KY	2014-01-28	Everyone should have access to climbing.
James McCown	Columbia, MO	2014-01-28	I visit Hawaii annually. They recently gated the Mariner's Ridge hike, which I do with my daughter every year.
George Cummins	Franklin, VA	2014-01-28	Public lands should be open to use by the public - but this doesn't mean the state should be responsible for anything someone does on state land. Closing land to protect the state clearly shows the problem with the current laws, and does not provide fair access to public lands by the people.
Rachel Richards	Magrath, Canada	2014-01-28	Hiking is one of the main reasons I go to Hawaii! Take away hiking and I may go check out Cuba instead. Don't alienate yourself from this important segment of tourists!
Markus Grünzweig	Wien, Austria	2014-01-28	this is a question of freedom and why should anybody be banned from walking in this beautiful landscape? There should be warnings that the state distances itself from all happenings that are related to hiking-accidents..... shit happens

I have climbed for many years and have recently taken to climbing El Capitan in Yosemite National Park. I am knowledgeable of rock climbing techniques and dangers,. To close climbing in Hawaii would be to deprive your people of an amazing resource. Climbers are aware of risk in their sport and wish to accept liability for themselves.

Justin Stevens	Aiea, HI	2014-01-28	Much of the beauty of the islands can only been seen along these trails to which this would restrict. Many have only learned to cherish the island & its beauty in these ways as well as maintaining a healthy lifestyle through socializing and hiking activities along these trails. There are already plenty of regulations that prevent hiking on certain trails but to restrict majority or all of them would be catastrophic for not only the hiking community of Hawaii but Hawaii as a whole.

Hank Grant	Boulder, CO	2014-01-28	I love climbing and want to preserve for future generations the ability to enjoy the outdoors. I would be a potential visitor to Hawaii and this severely limits my outdoor adventures by having the lands closed. Please consider re-opening these lands.
Jennifer Homcy	Haleiwa, HI	2014-01-28	Because public lands are open spaces that we have earned and pay taxes to protect and access!
David Wickman	San Francisco, CA	2014-01-28	I have enjoyed rock climbing in the Hawaiian islands. I think we need to keep this safe and fun recreational activity available.
Gary Beach	San Francisco, CA	2014-01-28	I come to Hawaii to paraglide
Jayson Nissen	Old Town, ME	2014-01-28	As a mountain athlete I know and accept the risks of my sports and so does anyone else who participates.
Chris Stark	Keaau, HI	2014-01-28	I am a hiker and lifelong resident of Hawaii
Jed Hill	Taylorville, UT	2014-01-28	I'm a climber who would love to come to Hawaii to rock climb!
Walter Edelberg	Evanston, IL	2014-01-28	My wife and I are avid hikers (and former rock climbers), with an avid interest in hiking in Hawaii.
Chris Wiley	Sunnyvale, CA	2014-01-28	i was born and raised in hawaii, am now a recreational rock climber, and am saddened by the closure of the few climbing areas that hawaii has to offer its residents.
kimberly jonas	Ewa Beach, HI	2014-01-28	Hiking is a great stress reliever, not to mention a great work out. We live in Hawaii that offers such beautiful views that you don't see when surrounded by homes & businesses.
Aisha Heredia	Haleiwa, HI	2014-01-28	It is important to allow access to public lands.
Ryan Moss	Honolulu, HI	2014-01-28	It is important to me because these are the places that have come to be the most meaningful places in my life. I find peace clarity and lose myself in the beauty of nature.
Laura Sikes	Norman, OK	2014-01-28	I am planning a vacation this year. I really want to visit Hawaii, but if there is no possible way to climb there, I will probably have to pick another location.
Patricia Kupchak	Kailua, HI	2014-01-28	I have been hiking on Oahu for over 40 years and am appalled by how many trails have been closed over the years.
Jason Young	Los Alamos, NM	2014-01-28	I am a climber who has been affected by area closures in several states. It is always sad and discouraging. Preventing area closures is preferable to re-opening them, but it's hopeful to see that a solution may exist for this area. Public lands should remain open! I lived on Oahu for about three years, but was not a climber at that time. I plan to return, and getting to climb there would be a great experience!

Joshua Thomas	Kailua, HI	2014-01-28	Public lands belong to the people. With current recreational infrastructure, locals are being compelled to use the land irresponsibly, i.e. illegal trails, etc. We are healthy, responsible adults who choose and promote beneficial lifestyles. If we are to promote health and wellbeing for the public, which Hawaii sorely needs, we need the ability to do so. The available sanctioned areas of recreation are crowded at best, what happens when more individuals decide to use these areas?
Kelly Quin	Honolulu, HI	2014-01-28	As an avid hiker and nature lover, who takes full responsibility for her actions when hiking I want to support the passing of SB1007 HD1 to keep trails open and re-open the ones that have been closed. Mahalo!

Roberto Torres	Honolulu, HI	2014-01-28	I'm an avid hiker who sustained injuries last year due to a fall. I alone am accountable for that and desire to continue navigating trails at my own risk. It is a passion I would rather the government not prohibit me from pursuing
Natnan Nachtigall	Kailua, HI	2014-01-28	This is one of the best ways to exercise and meet awesome people while on the trail.
Jessica Klein	St. Augustine, FL	2014-01-28	I just moved off island, and as often as possible when I lived there I was out on the trails and mountains breathing fresh air, sweating, and taking in the gorgeousness that is Oahu. Every bit of it. It would be a tragedy for the magic of Hawaii's hiking trails to be lost to the public.
Megan Zynn	South Pasadena, CA	2014-01-28	We should have the freedom to enjoy the Earth!
Cleveland Wilson	Villa Hills, KY	2014-01-28	I love nature!
John Hall	Honolulu, HI	2014-01-28	Our mountains are so beautiful and hiking in them is a soothing, relaxing, energizing experience. Like all sports, there are some hazards involved in hiking, but this is no reason to deny access to the great many people who approach the mountains with care and respect and who benefit so greatly from the healthy exercise and spiritual refreshment. Please help us to maintain access to our lovely and much valued trails! Thank you.
John Rennie	Ware, United Kingdom	2014-01-28	The people should have access to the beautiful land they live in and tourists should also or they won't be there

Gordon Bromley	orono, ME	2014-01-28	I use and appreciate open spaces and recreational activities therein. I also advocate the responsibility of the individual in all outdoor activities.
Laura Clagstone	Kaneohe, HI	2014-01-28	Hiking is one of the most wonderful activities in Hawaii, both for locals and as an attraction to entice tourists to visit us. Please pass this bill.
Robert Myint	Kaneohe, HI	2014-01-28	I am part of the public. Public land should be accessible to all who respect and use it wisely.
Holly Smith	Pearl City, HI	2014-01-28	I love hiking these trails they are closing off!
Barbara Gurtler	Peoria, IL	2014-01-28	I like to climb.
Mitchell Sulkers	Whistler, BC, Canada	2014-01-28	We enjoy access to the wild areas in Kauai each time we come visit. That's why we go to Kauai and not Maui or Oahu.
Dawn Bruns	Haleiwa, HI	2014-01-28	Endangered plants and animals lose advocates every time someone stops going into nature because their favorite hiking trail is closed. I miss my Sundays with friends because of closure of the Mokuleia climbing area. My tax dollars are being used to pay off personal injury lawyers (the only opposition to this bill's contents). PLEASE REOPEN HAWAII
Matt Edlund	West St. Paul, MN	2014-01-28	Rock climbing on the north shore of Oahu was the main reason I decided to visit Hawaii. If access is removed then future tourism revenue will surely go with it.
Rodolf Pan	Honolulu, HI	2014-01-28	The 'Aina is for everyone to respect and enjoy! Just put up warning/no liability signs and let people enjoy what the 'aina has to offer!! As a trained scientist, the public will only value what it can see, touch, learn from, and enjoy! Let the next generation enjoy what the 'aina has to offer, and can teach them! Mahalo nui loa!
Carol Janezic	Kaneohe, HI	2014-01-28	Hiking Hawaii's mountains is one of the great jewels of my life, but I hike with my eyes open, knowing there are risks. The State of Hawaii should not be held liable when people disregard warning signs and partake in dangerous activities. The State must protect itself from these liabilities and continue to allow access to our treasured mountain areas and natural sites.
Staci Irish	Johnson City, TN	2014-01-28	I will be moving to Hawaii in June and hiking is one of my favorite activities. The closure of trails due to accidents is ridiculous. All individuals participating in potentially dangerous activities do so at their own risk. Holding the state of Hawaii responsible is absurd. Closing trails is not in the best interest of the individuals living in Hawaii.
Sigmund Young	Alexandria, VA	2014-01-28	It is important to keep public lands open to the people.

Reese Phillips	Albuquerque, NM	2014-01-29	I frequently hike in the mountains of Oahu and other islands. I recognize the potential risks associated with this activity. The State (HI) should not be held liable for my willing participation. Nor should the State try to limit my access for my "own good." People must be held accountable for their choices!

Matt Okahata	Honolulu, HI	2014-01-29	Closing public access is a mere bandaid to a serious issue and closing off venues that serve as a means to exercise will have negative repercussions upon the health of the population. Hawaii is known for its beautiful outdoors, let's not forget that.

Zachary Mildon	Shakopee, MN	2014-01-29	I only recently moved away from Alaska, Hawaii's odd sibling. I've only had the opportunity to visit the Big Island on one occasions. Like Alaska, Hawaii holds some of the most amazing places in the US, these and all public lands should remain open to the public. Exploring Alaska I never once assumed that anyone other then myself was responsible for my well being, nor would I assume any different anywhere else.
Michael Solis	Laie, HI	2014-01-29	I use the mountains for enjoyment as do my friends and family. It is important the State know that I take responsibility for my actions and support this bill.
CHRIS GROVER	Tigard, OR	2014-01-29	We made a trip to Hawaii and wanted to Mt Bike and Climb. My wife checked into the climbing closures and we decided to limit the number of days on the islands. Chris Farrar	Honolulu, HI	2014-01-29	One of the best aspects about being in Hawai'i for residents and visitors alike is the ability to enjoy the outdoors and discover all the beautiful sites this state has to offer. However, over the past few years this has become more and more difficult due to increased restrictions on access to public lands and the threat of heavy-handed fines or imprisonment if these restrictions are violated. If this predicament is due to the threat of litigation, we need to pass this bill. Other states have passed similar legislation to protect themselves against frivolous lawsuits... Why can't Hawai'i? This bill would not only be a benefit to the residents of this state, but without it, more and more visitors are likely to start looking for other places to vacation where their ability to enjoy the outdoors is not so limited.

Jodi Hoffman	Olympia, WA	2014-01-29	I lived on Oahu for 4 years. I enjoyed and treasure my time there to this day. The freedom to explore Hawaii's beauty should not be taken away from locals or people like me that come to the islands. There are risks people take everyday and known consequences of any situation. It should be up to the individuals to take these risk not any government!!! So much is being taken away and limited by our government today lets not make the beauty of the islands one of them!!!

michael sturm	Waianae, HI	2014-01-29	I have a deep appreciation for the land and I hike, hunt, bike, climb, and generally have a good time all over these mountains! It upsets me when my favorite trails are shut down due to potential injury. Lets keep them open!
Andrew Lee	Saint James City, FL	2014-01-29	Outdoor recreation on public lands is the reason we visit Hawaii and spend money in restaurants and shops. Mountain biking and hiking is usually a central theme in our trips to Hawaii. The recent closures of trails is devastating, especially in a place where land is at a premium.
Chris Bruns	Haleiwa, HI	2014-01-29	When I go windsurfing at Mokuleia Beach Park, it would be nice if my wife could go climbing with her friends at the Mokuleia Crag. DLNR closed the Mokuleia climbing area over a year and a half ago and it's adversely affected our weekend plans. Let her climb!

Jessica Molina	Honolulu, HI	2014-01-29	The real danger in life is not enjoying this land that God created for our pleasure to it's fullest potential. If I ever get hurt or worse while surfing, hiking, biking, climbing, etc, know that I died with a huge smile on my face doing something that I love and enjoying the simple pleasures of life. The statistics on humans dying are staggering...100% of all living organisms will die. Measure your life on it's quality not quantity of years. Please keep public lands open and prevent ANY AND ALL lawsuits that target the state or private land owners for accidents on their land.
Johnny Le	Honolulu, HI	2014-01-29	I love hiking and personally experiencing the beauty that the islands have to offer and would be devastated if I lost access to my favorite trails.

Sarah Griswold	Matthews, NC	2014-01-29	Hawaii is a beautiful place that should be fully accessible to all who wish to enjoy the beauty it has to offer!
Ashley Douglas	Kailua, HI	2014-01-29	I enjoy hiking the many trails throughout our beautiful state and am dismayed by the increasing closure of access points. We should not be denied access to the land due to fear on the part of the state or landowners that they will be sued when an accident occurs on their land.
David Hyney	Little Falls, NY	2014-01-29	Closing climbing is just one step closer to us as Americans losing freedom. Every step that reduces this freedom just drives us to spend money in other locations within the US or countries that allow us to be ourselves as individuals and Americans.

Shannon Stuart-Smith	Lexington, KY	2014-01-29	I am life-long advocate for access to responsible outdoor recreation on public land and SB 1007 achieves this goal in a balanced, common sense approach. Providing access to outdoor recreation should be a priority for any governmental or regulatory agency charged with the health and welfare of the public and managing public land. Access to outdoor physical recreation should part of a broader public health policy that encourages physical activity not take it away. Public lands should remain open to the public, especially for recreation. This bill (and eventual law) would rectify Hawaii's liability omission and be a benefit for all citizens.
Dave Palombo	Honolulu, HI	2014-01-29	Being able to experience the natural wonder of Hawaii is huge part of my life, To remove this because of a selfish group of people is not right.

rebbaz roye	oakland, CA	2014-01-29	As a climber, I specifically visit places that I can climb at. ie, I have been to France, not to visit Paris, but rather to climb in Fontainebleau. Mark Denzer	HONolulu, HI	2014-01-29	Improve tourism with free access. Allow my family access.
Elle Robertson	Annapolis, MD	2014-01-29	The land held by the state does not belong to the government but to the citizens who put that government in place. Public land needs to remain open to the public. The government must pass SB1007 to ensure land remains accessible. As someone who has enjoyed hiking and climbing on Oahu, Kauai, Maui, Lanai, and the Big Island, I am a responsible citizen who engaged in these activities knowingly at my own risk. I strongly believe in personal responsibility. Others who engaging in similar activities must accept the risks associated with their choices. Pass SB1007 to enact liability protections against unwarranted lawsuits and to keep land accessible.

Liz Croegaert	Honolulu, HI	2014-01-29	As an avid hiker and trail runner, with the utmost respect for the land here, I would never hold the state responsible for my own actions in the mountains. Those that oppose this bill are only searching for money, and those who abuse the current laws should not be hiking these dangerous, yet magnificent mountains. This bill will help to make our trails safer, and help us enjoy the land at it's best.

Ann Crites	Honolulu, HI	2014-01-29	I believe in protecting access to public lands in Hawaii. Closing trails and allowing lawsuit judgments (which taxpayers must pay) is a plug-and-patch measure that helps no one except lawyers who want to make money from the misfortunes of others. I love to hike on our beautiful islands, and this bill will keep hiking trails open to users like me and many others, while protecting taxpayers from frivolous million-dollar lawsuits. As long as there are warning signs, outdoor enthusiasts like me should be responsible for their own actions on Hawaii's public lands.
Sheri Morgan	Marietta, GA	2014-01-29	We are in the processes of planning a trip to Hawaii. Our main source of recreation is climbing and hiking. These are also the same activities we would expect to enjoy in Hawaii. As wonderful of a place that Hawaii is, if we are not able to enjoy our favorite pastime we would rather find another destination.
Mike Reardon	Asheville, NC	2014-01-29	It provides access to rock climbing areas
Johnathan Clark	Chilliwack, Canada	2014-01-29	I am a paraglider, and have visited and intend to visit Hawaii again to fly. Access to the sites on the islands is paramount for ensuring return trips for me, and for the many other paraglider pilots who visit the islands to experience the amazing scenery and the friendly people.
lois crozer	kailu, HI	2014-01-29	too many people doing stupid things and expecting someone else to take responsibility for their mishaps
susan mccoy	kaneohe, HI	2014-01-29	it's important to save hawaii from the developers and politicians who are making$$$$ off the backs of our future generations

Alan Fitzgerald	San Diego, CA	2014-01-29	I'm a hiker
Travis Potter	Frida Harbor, WA	2014-01-29	I travel to Hawaii to hike/paraglide etc, its important that things stay open!
Cort Montague	Kirkland, WA	2014-01-29	I vacation to the Hawaiian Islands for hiking and paragliding.
Lisa Ueki	Brooklyn, NY	2014-01-29	Former Hawaii resident with family still in the islands - annual visitor
Ruaraidh Stenson	Bellevue, WA	2014-01-29	As a regular visitor, this is critical to protect access to the Hawaii we all love.
Rick Peder	Bellevue, WA	2014-01-29	I support the measure because it's important to keep these lands open to public access.

William DeLey	San Francisco, CA	2014-01-29	Because freedom of access to public lands should be free not blocked and if this is the way to solve the liability issue then let's solve it and not take away something that the people should have full access to for whatever they want to use it for that doesn't harm others
Gordon Grice	Issaquah, WA	2014-01-29	I travel to Hawaii for paragliding. If quality sites are not available I will go elsewhere.
Elisha Wood-Charlson	HONolulu, HI	2014-01-29	Because the land is beautiful and can only be truly appreciated if it is available to all
Alex Colby	Hauula, HI	2014-01-29	The Hawaii paragliding community is united with the climbing and hiking communities, and other Hawaii outdoor recreation groups, in our desire to promote responsible access to public lands, without undue liability for the state or other landowners. Therefore we strongly support the passage of SB 1007 (HD1) and any provisions that will make this legislation permanent.
Pete Clines	Honolulu, HI	2014-01-29	Hiking, mountain biking, and other outdoor activities are healthy, fun, and rewarding pursuits that should be encouraged. With increasing rates of obesity and other diseases in Hawaii, it is irresponsible for us to create additional barriers to exercise by closing trails. Thank you.
Kevin Hester	BELMONT, CA	2014-01-29	I paraglide.
Doug Walsh	Snoqualmie, WA	2014-01-29	Like a lot of my friends, I don't vacation to Hawaii for the resorts or golf. We come for the mountains, to go hiking and biking, and to enjoy the natural beauty of these amazing islands. Recreationists understand the inherent dangers of some outdoor activities and want the state to protect itself while allowing us to trust our better judgment and skills.
Dave Melanson	Somerset, MA	2014-01-29	Because it's right.
Alex Neigher	San Francisco, CA	2014-01-29	We need to preserve outdoor spaces!

Christina Wycheck	Pearl City, HI	2014-01-29	Avid hiker and born and raised here wanting to continue to enjoy all the islands have in store.
Herman Marciel	Spokane, WA	2014-01-29	There is risk in many of the things we do in life. When we take a risk, it is our responsibility. To bow to the wishes of attorneys on a matter lessens our personal responsibility and denies us access to the things in life we may enjoy.

Loren Sperber	Coloma, CA	2014-01-29	As an avid hiker, paraglider pilot, and outdoorsman, I cherish our public lands and encourage policies to promote community access in responsible ways.
Michael Lee	Honolulu, HI	2014-01-29	Reasonable access, reasonable risk. We all share responsibility for the `aina and the quality of our trails. I trust the agencies to balance the needs and make informed decisions for the protection of the land and people.
Tanya Daly	Mitcham, United Kingdom	2014-01-29	Im tired of lawyers killing our ability to enjoy life!

Gregory Wirth	Kamuela, HI	2014-01-29	Here on the Big Island, we are surrounded by spectacularly scenic places, and yet cannot legally enjoy them because access is denied. These include both public lands (Waipio Valley headlands) and private (Parker Ranch lands). I was amazed to visit England and find that people can and do roam freely, far and wide, on a vast network of walking trails covering public and private lands. I want to see those same freedoms granted to those of us who live here in beautiful Hawaii. Until we change the laws, it's "look but don't touch". So sad to see to see people banned from the great outdoors in an area in which we could be enjoying trails every day of the year.
Chris McKeage	sutter creek, CA	2014-01-29	Please do not limit public use of public land. Hold people accountable for their own action and not allow suits to the State for private actions. thank you cm
Aaron Montgomery	Westminster, CO	2014-01-29	I would love to climb in HI later this year and believe that the people of HI should be able to do so forever.
Corey Nakayama	Honolulu, HI	2014-01-29	I am opposed to closure of State land due to frivolous lawsuit.
Mike Thomas	Reigate, United Kingdom	2014-01-29	I am a UK based paraglider pilot and strongly feel our flying community understands the risks in our sport and should be responsible for our own actions. Yours is a beautiful part of the world and I would sincerely love to fly in Hawaii one day.
Shiggy Harada	Pleasanton, CA	2014-01-29	I love Hawaii. It is good to have to access public lands.
George Sturtevant	North Bend, WA	2014-01-29	As a paraglider pilot there are few enough sites on State land and closing any would have an adverse effect on my participation in my chosen recreation.
Peter Jennings	Ben Lomond, CA	2014-01-29	I support this petition because I have traveled to Hawaii on several occasions to engage in the sport of paragliding. It is good for the state economy to welcome participants in outdoor sports in your mountains.
Erik Tamura	Wahiawa, HI	2014-01-30	I speak for myself as well as many others who have found hiking and other positive recreational activities as a way to stay out of trouble. As a former educator, I've seen what happens to youth when positive programs are taken away. Often, it leads to crime or other undesirable behavior. Personally, hiking has given me a deeper understanding and respect for the land and its history as well as being an educational experience. I've learned a lot from fellow hikers about native plants and how to help preserve them. It also made Hawaiian history (which was boring to me while in school) come alive and more meaningful. Denying access to these trails will deprive many others of these types of experiences.
Mark Edgley	Point Roberts, WA	2014-01-30	I have traveled to Hawaii numerous times specifically and solely to participate in the exceptional paragliding opportunities in this beautiful and naturally wondrous state. If such activities were banned, I would likely never travel there again (and would thus not be spending any of my travel money in the Hawaiian economy). We all recognize the risks, we assume all burden of the risks ourselves, and we have signed waivers against our filing any lawsuits related to these activities. Please pass this bill. We do not need to be protected from ourselves by attorneys.
John Hosea	Huntsville, AL	2014-01-30	I work a lot in Hawaii (Oahu and Kwai) and use the beautiful hiking trails every weekend.
Ronald Biancaniello	Honolulu, HI	2014-01-30	The freedom to explore nature.
Shawnette Hamada	Keaau, HI	2014-01-30	Because it should be our right to use these places or activities as we see fit. To pass on certain family values and heritage to our own kamalii as we were once taught by our kupunas.. Why should our keikis suffer because of this? It is whomevers kuleana to take care of themselves if they wish to participate in such activities..

John Miller	Honolulu, HI	2014-01-30	I want to continue climbing. I'm old, don't have many years left to climb; it's taking legislation too long to get this resolved !
Paul McLennan	Victoria, Canada	2014-01-30	As an avid hiker and paraglider, who has taken multi week trips to Hawaii to enjoy the amazing nature that it holds four of the last five years, I support SB107 HD1. As a visitor I sign the Hawaii Paragliding Association's (HPA) waivers for personal liability exclusion as i understand the personal responsibility and risks as a participant in the sports that i love. I have also been able, before it was closed, to enjoy the magnificent Mokuliea wall trail and was in awe of the untouched beauty. It would be a shame if I had to look for travel alternatives to participate in the sports that I look forward to all year long.
L. Steve Enomoto	Honolulu, HI	2014-01-30	1) Access to public lands. 2) Unnecessary liability to Hawaii government/citizenry. 3)Failure to take personal responsibility for individual actions.

Bruce Hachtmann	San Martin, CA	2014-01-30	I come to Hawaii often, mostly to enjoy your outdoors experience on the mountain or in the water. You need to no let a few greedy individuals dictate policy. Please keep the land available to all of us in trust.
Dennis Merritt	Asheville, NC	2014-01-30	Enjoy climbing and other, so-called, risky mountain sports.
Keith Timberlake	Desert Hills, AZ	2014-01-30	I travel and climb. Climbing in Hawaii should legal, and people should participate in things they know are inherently dangerous. We do not say it is illegal to surf, yet that is clearly dangerous.
Annette Iniguez	Laveen, AZ	2014-01-30	My friend believes in it. One day I will visit Hawaii and I want it preserved

Adrienne Ziegler	Waianae, HI	2014-01-30	Outdoor recreational and sports activities all come with inherent risks. This doesn't mean more restrictions, but more education and warnings (by way of signage, etc.). It's no different than the visual warnings we have at many of our beaches. The state doesn't have to be liable for our individual choices and the land is there for public use and benefit. Let's keep it that way!
Jordi Morros	North Vancouver, Canada	2014-01-30	Access to hiking and mountain biking for my family and I are reasons why we holiday in certain areas.
Arthur Young	Pearl City, HI	2014-01-30	This is important to me because it is my tax dollars and dollars that I have yet to earn to go in to hands of individuals because a few irresponsible people decided to sue the State. State money = my money and your money. People who don't do outdoor activities should be concerned as well because their money is used to pay for settlements and not for improving roads or pay off the rail.

I would love for my children and grandchildren, etc. to be able to hike the same trails I have and my parents and grandparents have...to see the same awe-inspiring views that I have witness and tried to capture and no matter how many photos I take, nothing can beat the personal experience of having been there yourself.

Heather Barron	Victoria, Canada	2014-01-30	I travel to Hawaii for vacations to enjoy the outdoor recreational opportunities (hiking is my main activity although I had a great paragliding experience). If these types of activities were so limited, or if I had to pay someone to go for a simple hike, I just wouldn't visit the state any more. At some point people are going to have to take responsibility for their own injuries instead of blaming and suing anyone they can point a finger at.
Paul Collins	Usk, United Kingdom., United Kingdom	2014-01-30	As a former visitor to Hawaii, and having done a lot of hiking and paragliding there, in my opinion any closure of public land to activity hobbies is likely to work contrary to the best interests of Hawaii's tourism industry.

Eric Blum	Richmond, CA	2014-01-30	As outdoor sport enthusiasts we are happy to assume liability for our actions and risks in the outdoors.
Tom Frazer	Santa Rosa, CA	2014-01-30	Maintaining access to public lands is a very important issue!
Carol Sturtevant	North Bend, WA	2014-01-30	I have made numerous visits to Hawaii and have flown my paraglider on Maui and Oahu. One of the major lure of visitors to Hawaii is the amazing variety of outdoor recreation activities offered on each island. Hang gliding and paragliding are sports that are enjoyed by many visitors to the islands. Please ensure that I and other future visitors can participate in these, and other "adventure" sports, in the years to come.
jack robinson	honolulu, HI	2014-01-30	Seriously why is this even coming up!?! i mean pretty much every other state in the union requires access across private property if its blocking off public lands, in the way of ingress/egress and R.O.W. easements. and if this is a push by some greedy snide land owners, they shoulda thought about that before they got property next to a public area. we already have access requirements for beaches, which are all public btw, then why not for everything else public? A prime example of this is the whole haiku stairs aka Stairway to heaven situation, the state spent millions OF TAX PAYERS MONEY! fixing up and refurbishing the whole stairway only to have it closed off shortly thereafter by whoever owns that property leading into them. Thats like paying for an expensive stereo system but not being allowed to listen to anything on it, youre only allowed to sit there and look at it, id be pissed and want my money back!
Mark Rogers	Tacoma, WA	2014-01-30	I am a Paraglider Pilot who loves the freedom of personal flight. It would be a shame for such a fantastic site to be lost due to litigation. Personal flight is a fantastic way to experience our beautiful country! Glider pilots are good for the environment as we work to keep our flying sites clean and safe for all. Justin Kocher	San Antonio, TX	2014-01-31	I am currently living in Texas but return to Hawaii for vacation regularly. I also lived there from 2008-2012 and plan on eventually retiring to Honolulu. In my opinion, people who take advantage of all that Hawaii has to offer in the outdoors are doing it at their own risk and so liability for said activities should be left to each individual and not the State of Hawaii. I frequently hike and run trail on Honolulu and scuba dive all around the island. I want to continue to be able to do these activities but will do so at my own risk - the state should not be held liable if i am injured while doing activities like these and i would hate for a law to encourage the state too be held liable, particularly if it encourages the state to limit access to Hawaii's land and water. Thanks!

Christina Speed	Kailua, HI	2014-01-31	Personally I think the entire American lawsuit culture is appalling. I choose to do many dangerous things and I accept responsibility for the risks. If you get hurt climbing or doing anything risky, it is not the landowner's fault. Change the laws so that people have to accept responsibility for their own actions and can't sue everyone. Restricting access to public land is not the answer and is just asking for trouble.

Pat McDermott	Chandler, AZ	2014-02-01	Use of public lands for a variety outdoor activities is important for the physical and mental health of a community. Availability of public lands is what sets us apart from many parts of the world. On a practical note how can a state that has a large tourist industry chop a portion of the attraction to tourists out of its menu of attractions. It makes no sense.

Ryan Haskell	Auckland, New Zealand	2014-02-03	Hawaii has some of the best paragliding sites in the world, would be a true shame to loose.
Berndt Knothe	Kristianstad, Sweden	2014-02-03	I'm a paragliderpilot and love to be out in the nature and I strongly believe I can judge what to do or not to do and take the consequence if I mess up without blaming someone else for it. A visit to Hawai for paragliding is on my wishlist.
Carlo Papica	Los Angeles, CA	2014-02-03	I enjoy various outdoor sport activities.
Chandrashekar Vijayarenu	Mountainview, CA	2014-02-03	Because people should be able fly.
Orion Watson	Burien, WA	2014-02-03	Outdoor recreation is important for everyone.
Cannon Brooke	Honolulu, HI	2014-02-04	The benevolent state of HI is shutting down public access to land. This has to change.
brett armstrong	delta, Canada	2014-02-04	I travel and ride my bike!!
kathleen maddux	honolulu, HI	2014-02-04	public lands need to be open to the public....We live in an awesome place and everyone should have the right to enjoy our natural resources...
Sheree Mullen	Roanoke, VA	2014-02-05	This is an important piece of legislation to me because I will soon be moving to Hawaii and becoming a resident. My life's profession is outdoor recreation and I therefore find access and usage to be very important. My main purpose in moving to Hawaii is for an outdoor recreation position where I hope to have access to teach others the joy and power of exercise and outdoor activities including climbing and hiking. With so many health issues in the US and Hawaii I find it important to encourage and not hinder healthy activities, that will in turn produce many benefits for the community.
Chris German	Front Royal, VA	2014-02-05	The public land needs to remain open to the public. The State shouldn't fear lawsuits. The subject should be fully responsible for her/his actions and NOT the State. The State should train Search and Rescue teams that are volunteer to ensure if someone does get hurt or needs help, there is something in place.
Andrea Stuart	Front Royal, VA	2014-02-05	We need to take responsibilities for our actions. Personal accountability
Wayne Tomchick	Richmond, BC, Canada	2014-02-05	I visit Oahu at least four times per year and enjoy paragliding. This silent sport has very little impact on the environment while promoting physical health.

Name	Location	Date	Comment
Zachary Smith	Chelsea, MA	2014-02-06	Access to climbing should be available to everyone.
Grant Farmer	Chelsea, MA	2014-02-06	Climbing is an important part of my life, and when my vacation time is limited, I pick destinations that are both interesting and are climbing destinations.
lee thomas	Abergavenny, United Kingdom	2014-02-07	we cherish our right to freely
Dawn Russell-Lee	Anderson, CA	2014-02-08	These places are beautiful & should be shared with Generations to come
Scott Morey	Honolulu, HI	2014-02-08	Because hiking and fair access to the land is an important part of Hawaiian culture.
Peter Volf	Dvur Kralove, Czech Republic	2014-02-08	Paragliding pilot and instructor, mtn biker, hiker
Vuylsteke stefaan	oostende, Belgium	2014-02-08	cause I love to one day visit this magic place from up there!
Kierstan Beuru	Douglasville, PA	2014-02-09	I'm a climber and I think everyone should be able to experience the views and the fun times if they go to or live in Hawaii.
Eva Schunova	Honolulu, HI	2014-02-11	I ride mtb and Hawaii is one of the best and most beautiful places to do it. It's also a great way for kids how to spend their free time and embrace the importance and fun of exercise and Hawaii's natural beauty.
Sara Vermillion	Savage, MD	2014-02-13	My family and I have visited and plan to visit again in the future. We were disappointed on our last trip to not be able to climb outdoors.
Dala McNew	Wahiawa, HI	2014-02-14	Because its a beautiful site and a lot of money was spent to make it nice and now its going to waste if people can't enjoy it.
Carisa Segovia	Honolulu, HI	2014-02-16	Live in Hawaii, love to hike.
Linda Chau	Ewa Beach, HI	2014-02-16	Hiking is my passion and keeps me sane. It would be devastating to us, to not be able to enjoy God's creation, and the beauty of our Island. Thank you for your understands!
Barbara haight	Waimea, HI	2014-02-20	I love hiking and access to our island environments -
ben kea	Ewa Beach, HI	2014-02-24	I'm a very active hiker it's ashamed that a lot of hikers are being affected by this people should learn to respect the land and share the beauty of Hawaii
Claudia Baker	Apopka, FL	2014-02-26	I have traveled to Hawaii several times.. this IS important to everyone
Glen Gayer	Moreno Valley, CA	2014-02-27	No one person or entity (corporations) has the right to block or hamper public access to any public land access or egress period !
Jordan Lang	Haleiwa, HI	2014-03-01	I am in strong favor of SB 1007 and to have the climbing and other recreational activities reopened to the public.
Derek Belanger	Worcester, MA	2014-03-02	I love the outdoors - please let me experience them!
jeff ihli	aiea, HI	2014-03-04	It is enjoyable and the training keeps my skills sharp for work.
Shelly Leslie	Waialua, HI	2014-03-07	Unable to hike on unspoiled areas? Why would you block that?

Comments: Dear Chair Evans and Members of the Committee, I very strongly support the passage of SB 2248 (SD2) and any provisions that will make this legislation permanent. I support this measure because I cherish our right to freely enjoy a wide variety of recreational activities in Hawaii's mountains including hiking, biking, trail running, climbing, paragliding and other activities. I am baffled by the State's current absence of liability protection, which has led to ongoing closures of climbing areas, hiking trails, and other scenic sites due to the State's legitimate fear of lawsuits. I strongly believe that public lands need to remain open to the public. It is patently absurd that the State should decide when, where, and how people are able to experience Hawaii's natural wonders - especially when such decisions are made largely based on liability risk assessments. It is time to take a significant step toward tort reform and shift our landowner liability paradigm toward something sensible, sustainable, and sane. In comparison to other Western States, Hawaii's recreational liability statutes are sorely lacking. I do not want to see access to mountain sports across the Hawaiian Islands denied or restricted because the lobby for a small group of trial attorneys holds the rest of us hostage. I strongly disagree with previous testimony against liability reform in Hawaii that suggests that the status quo is in the best interest of the public, or that the status quo will keep us safer by holding the State liable for accidents (such as the Brem case in 2012). We are a responsible group of citizens who recognize the assumed risks in engaging in recreational activities on State lands. I believe that individuals who choose to go hiking, climbing, mountain biking, paragliding, or who choose to engage in any other recreational use of public lands, should do so at their own risk. Without the passage of this bill, the State of Hawaii is left with very little protection from litigation resulting from injuries that occur on State lands. We believe the lack of liability protection is wholly untenable, especially given the ever-growing popularity of mountain recreation to residents in Hawaii and visitors comprising our tourist economy. This bill is an agreeable compromise. It notably does not provide the State with absolute immunity, but does require that those engaging in hazardous recreational activities accept the risks associated with their actions. This bill will effectively balance State responsibilities (to maintain public trail systems and to warn of possible hazards) with the responsibilities of individuals to keep themselves safe and adequately prepared. Thus, we fully endorse this essential legislation and urge the Hawaii State Legislature to pass it into law. Sincerely, Michael S. Richardson

In comparison to other Western States, Hawaii's recreational liability statutes are sorely lacking. I strongly disagree with previous testimony against liability reform in Hawaii that suggests that the status quo is in the best interest of the public, or that status quo will keep us safer by holding the State liable for accidents (such as the Brem case in 2012). We, the undersigned residents of Hawaii and/or possible visitors to Hawaii very strongly support the passage of SB 1007 (HD1) and any provisions that will make this legislation permanent.

Hawaii's natural resources are a wealth of richness for experiencing the environment. I have worked as a conservation biologist in Hawaii for the last 6 years and I have watched the natural environment continue to degrade. It is a terrifying reality that if our current rate of degradation continues we will lose much of what makes Hawaii special, mainly our natural resources. In order for people to value these resources they must build passion for it through experience. Some of the most low impact ways to experience these natural wonders are through outdoor sports and ecotourism.

We support this measure because we cherish our right to freely enjoy a wide variety of recreational activities in Hawaii's mountains including hiking, biking, trail running, climbing, paragliding and other activities. We are baffled by the State's current absence of liability protection, which has led to ongoing closures of climbing areas, hiking trails, and other scenic sites due to the State's legitimate fear of lawsuits. We strongly believe that public lands need to remain open to the public.

In comparison to other Western States, Hawaii's recreational liability statutes are sorely lacking. We do not want to see access to mountain sports across the Hawaiian Islands denied or restricted because a minority group of less than 150 trial attorneys holds the rest of hostage. We strongly disagree with previous testimony against liability reform in Hawaii that suggests that the status quo is in the best interest of the public, or that status quo will keep us safer by holding the State liable for accidents (such as the Brem case in 2012). We are a responsible group of citizens who recognize the assumed risks in engaging in recreational activities on State lands. Comments: I ask that the State approve this bill so that a reasonable balance can be struck between liability and land usage. I have been a rock climber for over 20 years now, it's part of who I am and I now have a young son who I would like to teach to climb so that he can enjoy the connection with nature and physical challenge that I have. I feel terrible for the young girl that was injured several years back however I have climbed at the site for approximately 12 years and never witnessed a similar occurrence or even near miss. There are freak accidents out there. Climbing is an inherently risky sport. Many of the things we do are inherently risky. However, we manage our risk and there are ways the state can minimize theirs relative to future lawsuits. Please try and find a balance on this issue and put into effect laws that are similar to other states which have not banned rock climbing as a whole. It has been long enough, the climbers have been patient and worked hard to get this to a reasonable compromise - please pass this bill. Aloha, Nathan Toothman, P.E.

We believe the lack of liability protection is wholly untenable, especially given the ever-growing popularity of mountain recreation to residents in Hawaii and visitors comprising our tourist economy. This bill is an agreeable compromise. It notably does not provide the State with absolute immunity, but does require that those engaging in hazardous recreational activities accept the risks associated with their actions. This bill will effectively balance State responsibilities (to maintain public trail systems and to warn of possible hazards) with the responsibilities of individuals to keep themselves safe and adequately prepared. Thus, we fully endorse this essential legislation and urge the Hawaii State Legislature to pass it into law. Sincerely, Raimar van den Bylaardt II

Comments: We, the undersigned residents of Hawaii and/or possible visitors to Hawaii very strongly support the passage of SB 2248 (SD2) and any provisions that will make this legislation permanent. We support this measure because we cherish our right to freely enjoy a wide variety of recreational activities in Hawaii's mountains including hiking, biking, trail running, climbing, paragliding and other activities. We are baffled by the State's current absence of liability protection, which has led to ongoing closures of climbing areas, hiking trails, and other scenic sites due to the State's legitimate fear of lawsuits. We strongly believe that public lands need to remain open to the public. It is patently absurd that the State should decide when, where, and how people are able to experience Hawaii's natural wonders - especially when such decisions are made largely based on liability risk assessments. It is time to take a significant step toward tort reform and shift our landowner liability paradigm toward something sensible, sustainable, and sane. In comparison to other Western States, Hawaii's recreational liability statutes are sorely lacking. We do not want to see access to mountain sports across the Hawaiian Islands denied or restricted because the lobby for a small group of trial attorneys holds the rest of us hostage. We strongly disagree with previous testimony against liability reform in Hawaii that suggests that the status quo is in the best interest of the public, or that the status quo will keep us safer by holding the State liable for accidents (such as the Brem case in 2012). We are a responsible group of citizens who recognize the assumed risks in engaging in recreational activities on State lands. We believe that individuals who choose to go hiking, climbing, mountain biking, paragliding, or who choose to engage in any other recreational use of public lands, should do so at their own risk. Without the passage of this bill, the State of Hawaii is left with very little protection from litigation resulting from injuries that occur on State lands. We believe the lack of liability protection is wholly untenable, especially given the ever-growing popularity of mountain recreation to residents in Hawaii and visitors comprising our tourist economy. This bill is an agreeable compromise. SB2248 In SUPPORT of.

Thomas Therrien

It saddens me that our time has to be wasted on this at all. I am outraged that we do not have similar limited liability that is common in almost every other state. Perhaps it is due to the fact that people living here must work very hard to enjoy those precious moments in the great Hawaiian outdoors and cannot spend time or money fighting paid, seasoned, lawyer lobbyists.

Our tourism is diversifying. Hawaii is a safe eco-adventure destination, so far anyway. If we cannot fight these lobbyist I fear that a fence will be put up around the entire outdoors and a vision of Hawaii's beauty will only be from past pictures and videos. Ah, but the lawyers would never allow that...no one could get hurt and they would be out of a job.

People that enter these trails, or use these climbing walls or fly off these hillsides accept the risk that something might happen. If a sign will mitigate the liability for the State and the people can have their outdoors back, then let it be.

Please Pass SB2248 and give this privilege back to the people.

I strongly support the passage of SB 2248 (SD2) and any provisions that will make this legislation permanent.

Having been born and raised in Hawaii, I have since had the opportunity to live throughout the United States and find the fallout of liability concerns truly ridiculous and unparalleled to anything I have seen elsewhere. I am baffled by the State's current absence of liability protection, which has led to ongoing closures of climbing areas, hiking trails, and other scenic sites due to the State's legitimate fear of lawsuits.

Outdoor activities are a thriving industry and I support this measure because I cherish the right to freely enjoy a wide variety of recreational activities in Hawaii's mountains and am positive that their promotion will have economic benefits. I strongly believe that public lands need to remain open to the public. It is patently absurd that the State should decide when, where, and how people are able to experience Hawaii's natural wonders - especially when such decisions are made largely based on liability risk assessments.

Comments: Please pass whatever legislation the AG's office needs you to pass so the Mokuleia Rock Climbing Area can be reopened. It is my understanding this legislation is needed by the AG to reopen Mokuleia so please pass it. Rock climbing is my favorite weekend activity and I've not climbed in two years because of the Mokuleia closure. I don't care how this or any other legislation is written as long as the AG's office is satisfied and Mokuleia Rock Climbing area is reopened this year. Thank you for any assistance you can provide to ensure Mokuleia is reopened. A large community of rock climbers appreciates your assistance very much.

From: Rob Turan, Nationally-Recognized Rock Climbing Ranger

To State of Hawaii House of Representatives, House Committee on Water and Land

Dear Members of the Committee:

My name is Rob Turan and I would like to submit testimony in support of SB2248 HD2 PROPOSED which would update outdoor recreation (including rock climbing) liability protection for the State of Hawaii. I have been a National Park Service law enforcement Park Ranger and the Climbing Park Ranger for 30 years at National Parks including Grand Canyon, New River Gorge, Obed Wild and Scenic River, and Sunset Rock, Lookout Mountain, Tennessee. As the primary staff person dealing with all aspects of climbing management at these National Parks, from policy, anchor replacement, resource impact and mitigation, and search and rescue, my overall experience is without peer. In addition I have been an active rock climber since 1978. I helped institute the very first anchor replacement initiative to occur within federally managed land and this in turn set precedence for all other climbing parks to do the same to preserve rim ecosystems. I am the National Park Service's rock climbing rescue lead instructor. There are very few people who have more experience and expertise with rock climbing and crag management than I do and I provide this testimony on that basis.

I visited the North Shore of Oahu the spring of 2012, specifically to rock climb at the Mokuleia Crag, an incredible basalt/volcanic cliff that I had heard so much about from friends in the climbing community and in various magazine articles. I also bouldered at two other ocean-front areas on State land and these were spectacular also. In particular, I would like to point out that everything about the Mokuleia rock climbing crag, from the hike in, to the quality and texture of the smooth basalt, to the unique and safe top roping system, is of a world-class nature. I absolutely loved climbing at Mokuleia. I was very impressed that a cache was on site with safety equipment including a litter, helmets, rope and so forth. I have never seen such dedication placed into an area, nor such thorough attention to safety and on-site preparedness for a carry out operation in the event of an injury. The effort the Hawaii climbers have made to be safe is unparalleled in my extensive experience. In addition, the very well-maintained bolts and "string system" the local climbers have developed at the Mokuleia crag enables ropes, for top-roping, to be put into place from the ground, without any of the environmental damage and rockfall risk that often occurs along the top of climbing cliffs. Because of this system, climbers at the Mokuleia wall don't have to access the fragile environments above the solid basalt crag. The Mokuleia crag's rock quality, measures for safety, thoroughness of maintenance, and attention to ensuring adverse impacts to the environment are avoided are, in my professional opinion, world class. The Mokuleia Crag's safety record is superior – 20+ years with only one serious injury (which resulted in the Crag's closure almost two years ago) is excellent. I notice a group of Hawaii personal injury lawyers has been working to oppose the various measures in bill and while I sympathize with their concern that passage of this bill into law could, some far day in the future, result in one of them foregoing a payout from the State's funds, I hope that you will rule in favor of the State and the public good by ensuring this bill passes into law.

In addition to the objective safety of this crag and the objective need the State has for updated liability law, the subjective is also worth mentioning here: the ocean scenery when on a rope on the Mokuleia crag is breathtaking. There is no cliff anywhere in the world that offers the combination of view and quality of the rock climbing the Mokuleia Crag offers. I most heartedly endorse preserving The Mokuleia Crag as a world class climbing destination. Please update Hawaii law to enable DLNR to reopen the Mokuleia crag open so that climbers from across the planet can enjoy the best of Hawaii as I did.

RE In Support Of SB 2248 SD2

Aloha House Water and Land Committee Chair, Vice Chair and Committee Members,

The Hawaiian Trail and Mountain Club is a nonprofit all-volunteer organization founded in 1910 that offers hikes to the public as well as our five hundred plus members. Our organization emphasizes and shares safe hiking practices with all who participate.

I am writing on behalf of our Board of Directors to state our strong support for SB2248 SD2 and making current Act 82, relating to State liability on public lands permanent.

Sincerely,

Thea Ferentinos

We, the undersigned residents of Hawaii and/or possible visitors to Hawaii very strongly support the passage of SB 2248 (SD2) and any provisions that will make this legislation permanent.

We support this measure because we cherish our right to freely enjoy a wide variety of recreational activities in Hawaii's mountains including hiking, biking, trail running, climbing, paragliding and other activities. We are baffled by the State's current absence of liability protection, which has led to ongoing closures of climbing areas, hiking trails, and other scenic sites due to the State's legitimate fear of lawsuits. We strongly believe that public lands need to remain open to the public. It is patently absurd that the State should decide when, where, and how people are able to experience Hawaii's natural wonders - especially when such decisions are made largely based on liability risk assessments. It is time to take a significant step toward tort reform and shift our landowner liability paradigm toward something sensible, sustainable, and sane.

In comparison to other Western States, Hawaii's recreational liability statutes are sorely lacking. We do not want to see access to mountain sports across the Hawaiian Islands denied or restricted because the lobby for a small group of trial attorneys holds the rest of us hostage. We strongly disagree with previous testimony against liability reform in Hawaii that suggests that the status quo is in the best interest of the public, or that the status quo will keep us safer by holding the State liable for accidents (such as the Brem case in 2012). We are a responsible group of citizens who recognize the assumed risks in engaging in recreational activities on State lands. We believe that individuals who choose to go hiking, climbing, mountain biking, paragliding, or who choose to engage in any other recreational use of public lands, should do so at their own risk.

Without the passage of this bill, the State of Hawaii is left with very little protection from litigation resulting from injuries that occur on State lands. We believe the lack of liability protection is wholly untenable, especially given the ever-growing popularity of mountain recreation to residents in Hawaii and visitors comprising our tourist economy.

This bill is an agreeable compromise. It notably does not provide the

LATE

State with absolute immunity, but does require that those engaging in hazardous recreational activities accept the risks associated with their actions. This bill will effectively balance State responsibilities (to maintain public trail systems and to warn of possible hazards) with the responsibilities of individuals to keep themselves safe and adequately prepared. Thus, we fully endorse this essential legislation and urge the Hawaii State Legislature to pass it into law.

Sincerely,
Yoshio Akaha

Comments: The Hawaii Bicycling League supports this bill that essentially allows use of public lands for hiking, rock climbing, bicycling, and exploring nature by having such users assume liability for themselves. The benefits of such activities for a person's health and well-being far outweigh the dangers inherent in such activities. Most of us welcome these risks as more manageable by our training, experience, and alertness, than the risk of traveling on our roads where we are exposed to the lack of alertness by others. Those who live in and visit Hawaii cannot lose access to our public lands because of concerns about liability in wild areas, where the state has less of a duty to protect or warn compared to official, developed areas.
