A BILL FOR AN ACT

RELATED TO AGRICULTURE.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF HAWAII:

1 SECTION 1. The legislature finds that Hawai'i's traditional 2 farming systems, such as loko i'a (fishponds), māla (cultivated 3 gardens), and lo'i (irrigated patches), were important 4 agricultural technologies and once sustained a thriving and 5 robust island community. The legislature further finds that 6 these traditional Hawaiian farming systems still play a critical role in Hawai'i and should be encouraged to promote greater self-7 8 sufficiency, crop diversity, and food security. Moreover, 9 traditional Hawaiian crops like kalo, 'uala (sweet potato), limu 10 (various seaweeds), 'awa, hō'i'o (large native fern), and 'olena 11 (turmeric) that were cultivated using these traditional Hawaiian 12 farming techniques continue to be important agricultural 13 products for food, medicine, and cultural practices today. 14 Prioritizing traditional agricultural techniques such as 15 traditional Hawaiian farming is increasingly viewed as good 16 policy. The United Nations Commission on Trade and Development 17 urges nation states to support the development of sustainable

1 small-scale farms and traditional farming systems to achieve 2 food security, particularly in light of climate change. 3 Supporting traditional farming is also consistent with the 4 recommendations of the taro security and purity task force's 2010 legislative report E ola hou ke kalo; ho'i hou ka 'āina 5 6 lē'ia: The taro lives; abundance returns to the land. The 7 report emphasizes the need to invest in traditional farming and 8 crops to perpetuate culture, and to support disaster 9 preparedness and food security in our islands.

10 The legislature finds that article XI, section 3 of the 11 Constitution of the State of Hawai'i requires the legislature to 12 provide standards and criteria to increase Hawai'i's agricultural 13 self-sufficiency.

14 The purpose of this Act is to update the State's 15 agricultural planning statute to add the growth and development 16 of traditional Hawaiian farming systems and traditional Hawaiian 17 crops, as well as the growth and development of small-scale 18 farms, as agricultural objectives of the State.
