RE: SENATE BILL 2922 - PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO ARTICLES VIII AND X OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF HAWAII TO AUTHORIZE THE LEGISLATURE TO ESTABLISH A SURCHARGE TO INCREASE FUNDING FOR PUBLIC EDUCATION.

HEARING: Tuesday, February 27, 2018, at 9:30 a.m.

Aloha Chair Taniguchi, Vice Chair Rhoads and Members of the Committee,

The Hawai'i Association of REALTORS® ("HAR"), the voice of real estate in Hawai'i, and its close to 9,500 members, strongly opposes Senate Bill 2922. This measure proposes amendments to the Constitution of the State of Hawai'i to establish a surcharge on residential investment property valued at over a million dollars and visitor accommodations.

While we continue to recognize the importance of education, we are concerned that the responsibility in funding this effort will be shifted from the overall general tax paying public to those that own residential investment property and visitors to our State. More importantly, there is no clear nexus between those that own residential investment property and education.

According to the Department of Business, Economic Development and Tourism, Hawai'i had the 47th lowest homeownership rate in the nation, at about 57% in 2016, which also implies that 43% are renters. Any residential investment tax proposed would more than likely be passed on to renters, which would go contrary to our need for affordable housing and rentals.

With rising housing costs, more homeowners today are purchasing an investment property so that their children have a place to call home or to plan for retirement. With Hawaii's high cost of living and housing, this would further burden our working individuals and families.

Mahalo for the opportunity to testify on this measure.

TESTIMONY FOR SENATE BILL 2922, PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO ARTICLES VIII AND X OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF HAWAI'I TO AUTHORIZE THE LEGISLATURE TO ESTABLISH A SURCHARGE TO INCREASE FUNDING FOR PUBLIC EDUCATION

Senate Committee on Judiciary
Hon. Brian T. Taniguchi, Chair
Hon. Karl Rhoads, Vice Chair

Tuesday, February 27, 2018, 9:30 AM
State Capitol, Conference Room 016

Honorable Chair Taniguchi and committee members:

I am Kris Coffield, representing IMUAlliance, a nonpartisan political advocacy organization that currently boasts over 400 members. On behalf of our members, we offer this testimony in strong support of Senate Bill 2922, proposing amendments to Articles VIII and X of the Constitution of the State of Hawai'i to authorize the Legislature to establish a surcharge to increase funding for public education.

In comparison to school districts of similar size and demographic composition, Hawai'i, ranks 227th in per-pupil funding before adjusting for cost of living, at $12,855 per child. Washington D.C., New York City, Boston, Pittsburgh, and Cincinnati school districts, for example, spend nearly twice as much as Hawai'i per pupil, at well over $22,000 to over $26,000 per student. Similarly, local private schools, discounting Catholic institutions, spend nearly $19,173 dollars per student, with Punahou President Jim Scott revealing, in 2014, "The real cost of our education per student is $26,000," owing to the school's then-total endowment of $235 million and fundraising operations of $12-$15 million annually.

Moreover, for the 2017-2018 school year, the Hawai'i State Department of Education report 1,011 teacher vacancies. The number of new teachers hired who have not completed a state approved teacher education program has increased from 125 for the 2011-2012 school year to 294 for the 2016-2017 school year. Over the same period, the number of teacher resignations has increased from 624 in 2011-2012 to 850 in 2015-2016, while the total number of voluntary teacher separations has increased from 934 in 2011-2012 to 1,170 in 2016-2017. In short, hundreds of teachers are leaving the workforce each year at an accelerating pace, while the DOE does not have enough trained and licensed teachers in waiting to fill the holes they leave. Accordingly, we must raise Hawai'i's last-in-the-nation teacher pay (adjusted for cost of living) as a means of addressing the problem. Studies have shown that as teacher pay increases, so, too, does student achievement. A Stanford University study found that "raising teacher wages by 10 percent reduces high school dropout rates by 3 percent to 4 percent," while a Florida study showed that pay raises reduced teacher attrition by as much as 25 percent for hard-to-fill subject areas, with children's learning growth gaining from more exposure to experienced educators. Recently, the Hawai'i State Teachers Association performed a study of teacher compensation in comparison with mainland peer districts. HSTA discovered that teachers' wages are $4,000 to $26,000 below that of their mainland peers. Put simply, to reduce teacher turnover, we must pay educators what they're worth.

We are also heartened by this measure's potential for making Hawai'i more affordable. Hawai'i residents face the highest housing costs in the nation, at more than twice the national average. Researchers who authored the National Low Income Housing Coalition's Out of Reach 2017 report found that a full-time worker would need to earn $35.20/hour to afford a two-bedroom apartment at fair market value in our state, with Honolulu experiencing a 67 percent increase in fair market rent between 2005 and 2015. Average rent for a two-bedroom unit surpassed $2,000 in recent years, with minimum wage workers needing to log 116 hours per week to afford a modest one-bedroom apartment at fair market value and 139 hours per week to afford a two-bedroom–a number that is equivalent to working 20 hours a day with no days off year-round. In the past three years alone, Honolulu rent has increased by more than 25 percent. While 43 percent of Hawai'i residents are renters (a number that does not include individuals and families renting outside of the regulated rental market), they earn an average wage of $15.64/hour, scarcely enough to meet their basic needs. One out of every four households in Hawai'i report that they are "doubling up" or are three paychecks or less away from being homeless, per the Hawai'i Appleseed Center for Law and Economic Justice. Additionally, 54 percent of households are cost-burdened, meaning that they pay more than 30 percent of their income for housing costs, a number that rises to 83 percent of extremely low-income households.

We are in the midst of an affordable housing crisis. Our state's cost of housing has skyrocketed over the last decade, leaving many families searching for affordable alternatives, in shelters, or on the streets. For context, the median price of condominiums on O'ahu increased 6 percent in the summer of 2017 to a record $425,000, while the median price for single-family homes increased by 3 percent to $795,000, according to the Honolulu Board of Realtors, a number that they expect to increase by at least another 5 percent in 2018. Average fair market rent for two-bedroom apartments in outlying communities in the City and County of Honolulu now exceeds $2,700, with the cost of a four-bedroom home in urban Honolulu now exceeding $1.1 million. At least 46 percent of residences in Hawai'i are owner unoccupied, according to the National Low-

Income Housing Coalition, meaning that nearly 50 percent–and by some estimates over half–of Hawai'i's homes are likely investment properties.

Many of those properties, in turn, are owned by mainland and foreign buyers, whose real estate market speculation is a prime driver of Hawai'i's highest-in-the-nation cost of housing. According to a study released in May of 2016 by the Hawai'i Department of Business, Economic Development, and Tourism, there are "clear distinctions" between the average price of homes bought by local residents, mainlanders, and foreigners. Analyzing purchases made between 2008 and 2015, DBEDT found: "The average sale price was highest among foreign buyers. The average sale price of the total of 5,775 homes sold to foreign buyers from 2008 to 2015 was $786,186, 28.3 percent higher than the average sale price to the mainlanders ($612,770) and 64.7 percent higher than the average sale price to local buyers ($477,460)." Experts at DBEDT now estimate that Hawai'i needs 66,000 new housing units by the year 2025 to keep up with demand, more than 80 percent of which is needed to meet the demand of people who qualify for affordable housing. Yet, for every 100 extremely low-income renters on O'ahu, there exist only 40 affordable rentals, according to the Urban Institute, of which only 11 are "naturally affordable," meaning they are affordable without federal subsidies.

We must ask ourselves: do we want to allow people who live outside of Hawai'i to use the islands as their private monopoly board or do we want to create a first-rate education system for our children? We submit that this constitutional amendment disincentivizes the rampant real estate speculation driving up our state's housing and rental prices and forces those most responsible for pricing families out of paradise to pay their fair share to improve our keiki's future.

All children deserve a chance at happiness and prosperity. Mahalo for the opportunity to testify in support of this bill.

Sincerely,

RE: SB 2922 - PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO ARTICLES VIII AND X OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF HAWAII TO AUTHORIZE THE LEGISLATURE TO ESTABLISH A SURCHARGE TO INCREASE FUNDING FOR PUBLIC EDUCATION

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 2018

COREY ROSENLEE, PRESIDENT
HAWAII STATE TEACHERS ASSOCIATION

Chair Taniguchi and Members of the Committee:

The Hawaii State Teachers Association strongly supports SB 2922, proposing amendments to Articles VIII and X of the Constitution of the State of Hawai'i to authorize the Legislature to establish a surcharge to increase funding for public education.

Let the people vote.

Today, we are not asking you to vote on increasing anyone's taxes. Rather, we are urging you to champion democracy by allowing the people of Hawai'i to decide whether or not to increase funding for public education.

Hawai'i still shortchanges its public schools. While our state's per-pupil spending of $12,855 ranks 17th in the nation when compared to other states in raw dollars, comparison with school districts of similar size and demographics yields different results. Mainland districts with high costs of living are typically urban and averaged with rural districts experiencing lower costs of living in statewide analyses, a geographic and fiscal situation that is not applicable to the islands' single statewide school district.

When comparing school districts of similar size, Hawai'i ranked 227th in per-pupil funding before adjusting for cost of living, according to an analysis performed by Ballotpedia.org. Likewise, the Department of Business, Economic Development, and Tourism reported, in March of 2017, that Hawai'i's education expenditures, as s share of combined state and local government spending, is 27.3 percent, which ranks as the lowest in the nation. Hawaii's major private schools, in contrast, average $15,173 in per-pupil spending. When Catholic schools, subsidized by the Roman Catholic Diocese, are removed, private school spending jumps to nearly $19,173 dollars per student, sans endowment funds that further boost private school baselines. Punahou President Jim Scott revealed, in 2014, that the "real cost of our education per student is $26,000," with the school's endowment standing then at $235 million and fundraising operations generating an additional $12-$15 million each year. It is no wonder, then, that Hawai'i has one of the highest private school enrollment rates in the nation. According to U.S. Census Bureau data, for the 2016-2017 school year, approximately 20 percent of K-12 students on O'ahu attended private schools, with that number rising to 38 percent for students living in the urban core of Honolulu.

The islands also continue to suffer from a shortage of qualified teachers. According to the DOE's STRIVE HI accountability reports, for the 2017-2018 school year, the state saw 1,011 SATEP vacancies, up from 920 SATEP vacancies in 2016-2017, including a slight increase in SPED SATEP vacancies, from 290 in 2016-2017 to 311 in 2017-2018. SPED teacher attrition has led to a situation in which 1 out of every 6 SPED teachers have not completed a state-sanctioned teacher training program. Our teacher shortage problem is further clarified in the DOE's 2016-2017 Employment Report, which shows that teacher resignations increased from 781 in 2015-2016 to 850 in 2016-2017. Similarly in-state SATEP hires decreased from 404 to 387 over that time span, while out-of-state SATEP hires increased from 508 to 572. Teacher attrition is even worse in high-poverty areas. In the Nanakuli-Waianae Complex Area, for example, an astounding 18 out of 19 SPED teachers hired for the 2017-2018 school year do not have a special education license.

Moreover. In 2015, the DOE released a study entitled Equitable Access to Excellent Educators, which found that an average of 14.48 percent of teachers in low-poverty schools are inexperienced (haven't completed one full year of full-time teaching), unqualified (have not obtained full licensure in Hawai'i), or teaching out of their field of expertise. In high-poverty schools, however, the study noted that an average of 21.48 percent of teachers are inexperienced, unqualified, or out-of-field. In other

Our children deserve better. Again, please let the people vote on this critical issue. Authorize our state to debate the condition of our public school system, a debate that has been a long time coming. When you vote for this measure, you are not voting on the details of complex tax increase. Instead, you are voting to entrust Hawai'i's people with the opportunity to chart the course of their children's future.

To deliver the schools our keiki deserve, the Hawaii State Teachers Association asks your committee to support this bill.

Dear Senator Taniguchi, Senator Rhoads and Members of the Senate Judiciary Committee:

Testimony in Opposition to SB2922

The Kohala Coast Resort Association (KCRA) opposes SB2922 proposing amendments to Articles VIII and X of the Hawaii State Constitution to allow the Legislature to establish a surcharge on residential investment properties and visitor accommodations to increase funding for public education.

The Kohala Coast Resort Association values our public education system. However, we recognize that the state already receives the largest share of the transient accommodations taxes, which are placed in the general fund. Therefore, it is already within the Legislature's authority to use those transient accommodations taxes, collected from visitors, to enhance funding for the public education of our residents. A separate tax on the back of our visitors is not required. And though not under the purview of the Legislature directly, we would like members of the committee to recognize that residential investment properties and resort zoned properties saw a disproportionate increase in their property taxes in Hawaii County last year. Government authorities at both the county and state levels cannot continue to place the largest tax burden time and time again on the same citizens.

KCRA is a collection of master-planned resorts and hotels situated north of the airport which represents more than 3,500 hotel accommodations and an equal number of resort residential units. This is approximately 35 percent of the accommodations available on the Island of Hawai`i. KCRA member properties annually pay more than $20 million in TAT and $20 million in GET.

We encourage your opposition to this measure.

HAWAII APPLESEED
CENTER FOR LAW & ECONOMIC JUSTICE

Testimony of Hawai‘i Appleseed Center for Law and Economic Justice
Supporting SB 2922 –
Proposing Amendments... to Establish a Surcharge to Increase Funding for Public Education
Senate Committee on Judiciary
Scheduled for hearing at 9:30 am on Tuesday, February 27, 2018 in conference room 016

Dear Chair Taniguchi, Vice Chair Rhoads, and members of the Committee:

Thank you for the opportunity to testify in SUPPORT of SB 2922, which proposes amendments to the Constitution of the State of Hawaii to advance the State's goal of providing a quality education for the children of Hawaii by authorizing the legislature to establish, as provided by law, a surcharge on residential investment property and visitor accommodations.

Hawai‘i is the only state in the nation that doesn't use property taxes to help fund our schools. We also have the lowest property taxes in the nation, according to the Tax Foundation. Our effective rate is 0.28 percent of home value, which is almost ten times lower than the rate in states like New Jersey, Illinois and New Hampshire.

Such low property taxes make it easier for out-of-state investors to purchase properties in Hawai‘i and leave them vacant for much of the year, which drives up home prices and reduces the amount of housing available to local residents.

Meanwhile, our state’s public school performance was graded a D-plus for K-12 achievement, C-plus for Chance-for-Success, and a C overall by Education Week. To improve these grades, our schools will need more funding.

SB 2922 would put a question on the ballot for the public to vote to amend a specific section of the Constitution that would allow a state surcharge on investment properties valued at over a million dollars, and excluding owner-occupied homes. This bill would also add a surcharge to visitor accommodations to help fund our public schools.

For the reasons outlined above, the proposed ballot question deserves to be put before the public for a vote. We appreciate your consideration of this testimony.

The Hawai‘i Appleseed Center for Law and Economic Justice is committed to a more socially just Hawai‘i, where everyone has genuine opportunities to achieve economic security and fulfill their potential. We change systems that perpetuate inequality and injustice through policy development, advocacy, and coalition building.

February 27, 2018

Dear Chair Taniguchi, Vice Chair Rhoads, and Members of the Committee,

We support SB2922 proposing a constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to establish a surcharge on residential investment property and visitor accommodations to increase funding for education.

Hui for Excellence in Education, or "HE'E," is a statewide coalition of diverse stakeholders committed to working collaboratively to identify opportunities to improve public education in Hawai'i. HE'E seeks to be the nexus for community and parent engagement while serving as a public resource for educational policy.

The Coalition was formed in May 2010 by parents and community members who stood up and said "no" to school furloughs and "yes" to re-establishing education as a public priority. We have been following public education policy at the Board of Education (BOE) and the Hawaii State Legislature consistently since our inception. We are thankful to the legislature for its support of public education; however, we also know that the current funding for education is insufficient to cover the needs of our students, teachers, administrators and schools. An alternative revenue stream dedicated to education is needed.

In 2016, the BOE approved an update of the BOE/DOE Strategic Plan, which puts a focus on the state's achievement gap that has persisted over the years. We agree that help is most needed for our struggling students. We feel that the education surcharge would benefit these students.

Thank you for the opportunity to testify. Our support of these bills represents a 75% consensus or more of our voting membership.

Sincerely,

Cheri Nakamura

RE: S.B. 2922 - PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO ARTICLES VIII AND X OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF HAWAII TO AUTHORIZE THE LEGISLATURE TO ESTABLISH A SURCHARGE TO INCREASE FUNDING FOR PUBLIC EDUCATION.

Dear Chair Taniguchi and Members of the Committee,

The Special Education Advisory Council (SEAC), Hawaii's State Advisory Panel under the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA), strongly supports the intent of S.B. 2922 to increase funding for public education in Hawaii.

Hawaii serves a smaller percentage of students with disabilities compared to the entire student population than the national average--10.6% compared to 13.0% for most states--which may indicate that we are not identifying and serving all students who are eligible for special education services. Those who are served have experienced lackluster progress and a growing achievement gap with their non-disabled peers. Hawaii also serves significantly fewer children in the general education classroom contrary to IDEA mandates for placement in the least restrictive environment.

To address these inequities will take additional resources, including higher teacher pay to attract more qualified teachers to the field, smaller class sizes to encourage greater inclusion and specialized services and supports to meet the unique learning needs of these students. An enhanced funding stream for public education would benefit ALL children in Hawaii, including those who are most vulnerable to academic failure.

Thank you for the opportunity to provide testimony on this important legislation. If you have questions or concerns, please contact us.

SUBJECT: CONCERNS OF S.B.2922

The City and County of Honolulu (City) has concerns about S.B.2922. This bill proposes amendments to Articles VII and X of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii to authorize the Legislature to establish a surcharge on residential investment property and visitor accommodations to increase funding for public education.

The City has a significant shortage of affordable rental housing. Imposing an additional surcharge on all residential investment property will have a substantial impact on the affordable rental market as landlords will pass this cost on to their tenants. While the City recognizes importance of public education, the City is deeply concerned that this measure will provide funds at the expense of the affordable rental housing market.

Article VII, section 3 of the State Constitution reserves to the State the power to tax, except all functions, powers and duties relating to the taxation of real property, which is to be exercised exclusively by the counties. Real property taxes and are the most significant source of revenue for the City. This measure encroaches into the City's only permanent taxing authority and will adversely affect the stability of our major revenue source and bond rating. The State, unlike the City, has a wide range of taxing authority and can impose other taxes to increase funding for public education. Under Article X of the State Constitution, the State is solely responsible for the education of Hawaii's students.

Thank you for your consideration of these concerns.

RE: Senate Bill 2922, Relating to Constitutional Amendment

Chair Taniguchi and Members of the Committee:

RBOAA must OPPOSE the bill.

This Bill proposes Constitutional amendments to authorize a "Surcharge on residential investment property and visitor accommodation to fund quality public education for all of Hawaii's children."

RBOAA takes no position as to the need or merit of additional funding for education.

RBOAA has great concern with the proposed method of payment for additional education funding as follows:

1. Residential investment property that cannot claim a homeowner's exemption.

Among the counties there is not a uniform definition of when a property owner can claim a homeowner's exemption. Each county has defined the duration of use differently, therefore, without a one definition of when a homeowner's exemption can be applied, the result will inherently be discriminatory.

Further, the Privileges and Immunities Clause protects against State Legislation that bears unequally on nonresidents and exempts nonresidents from any higher taxation or excises than are imposed by a State on its own citizens. It is hard to find the rational basis for taxing only certain properties to fund education which is a benefit to all children who reside in the State. While there are some resident owners who indeed do have residential investment property, as seen in last year's proposal, they are likely to receive benefits and offsets that nonresidents will not. It is also noted that the Legislature has requested studies of nonresident property ownership, so it is well known to the legislature that the nonresident will be significantly more impacted by this Bill.

2. Additional surcharge on visitor accommodations.

As everyone is aware, the legislature in special session last summer increased the transient accommodation tax to pay for funding for the Honolulu transit system. It is only a month ago that transient accommodation operators had an increase of 1% (total 10.25%). The increases over the past several years are significant already. It is unknown if there will be a negative impact with this newly implemented increase. With every increase in TAT there is an increased risk that the tourists will cut back on other expenditures that are vital to the economy.

RBOAA must also question the nexus to investment property and tourist operations and education. Generally, where there is a special tax imposed on only certain sectors there is a nexus to it which justifies having to bear the expense. There is not such connection here. Indeed, tourists do not send children to school, and investment property generally is not connected with sending children to a local school.

3. The Constitution of the United States

We urge the legislature to consider the U.S. Constitution's Equal Protection Clause that provides for protection from discriminatory actions, the Privileges and Immunities Clause that protects against State Legislation that bears unequally on nonresidents and exempts nonresidents from any higher taxation or excises than are imposed by a State on its own citizens. It is hard to find the rational basis for taxing only one or two uses of property to fund education which is a benefit to all children who reside in the State.

We ask you to please consider that money needed to fund "education for all of Hawaii's children" should be funded by all revenue sources rather than selecting only residential investment property and visitor accommodations to fund additional revenue for education.

Thank you for the opportunity to testify on this measure.

Americans for Democratic Action is an organization founded in the 1950s by leading supporters of the New Deal and led by Patsy Mink in the 1970s. We are devoted to the promotion of progressive public policies.

We support SB2922 as it would provide the voters an option to increase tax revenue for education. Investing in our public schools will pay off in a better economy and fewer people living off of income assistance and fewer in our criminal justice system.

Thank you for your favorable consideration.

RE: Testimony in Support of Senate Bill 2922 PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO ARTICLES VI11 AND X OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF HAWAII TO AUTHORIZE THE LEGISLATURE TO ESTABLISH A SURCHARGE TO INCREASE FUNDING FOR PUBLIC EDUCATION

To the Honorable Brian T. Taniguchi, Chair; the Honorable Karl Rhoads, Vice-Chair, and Members of the Committee on Commerce, Consumer Protection and Health:

Good morning. My name is Melodie Aduja. I serve as Chair of the Oahu County ("OCC") Legislative Priorities Committee of the Democratic Party of Hawaii. Thank you for the opportunity to provide written testimony on Senate Bill No. 2922 relating to Public Education; Residential Investment Property; Visitor Accommodations; Surcharge; and a Constitutional Amendment.

The OCC Legislative Priorities Committee is in favor of Senate Bill No .2922 and supports its passage.

Senate Bill No.2922 is in accord with the Platform of the Democratic Party of Hawai'i ("DPH"), 2016, as it proposes amendments to the Constitution of the State of Hawaii to advance the State's goal of providing a quality education for the children of Hawaii by authorizing the legislature to establish, as provided by law, a surcharge on residential investment property and visitor accommodations.

Specifically, the DPH Platform provides that "[w]e support a dedicated source of funding for the Department of Education." (Platform of the DPH, P. 6, Line 329 (2016)).

Given that Senate Bill No.2922 proposes amendments to the Constitution of the State of Hawaii to advance the State's goal of providing a quality education for the children of Hawaii by authorizing the legislature to establish, as provided by law, a surcharge on residential investment property and visitor accommodations, it is the position of the OCC Legislative Priorities Committee to support this measure.

Thank you very much for your kind consideration.

Sincerely yours,

/s/ Melodie Aduja

Dear Chair Taniguchi and Committee Members:

Re: SB 2922 Relating to Constitutional Amendment to Allow Surcharge
Hearing Date: 02/27/18 – 9:30 am; Conference Room 016

As a former teacher myself, I fully appreciate the efforts of this Legislature to properly fund education. However, I cannot support SB 2922, and must speak against it.

Effect on real property taxes. The County of Hawai'i, as is true of the other counties, has little or no control over its revenue except in one area, real property taxes, and the County relies overwhelmingly on real property taxes to fund its operations. The burden of that tax can be heavy for many residents, but since it is virtually the only tool we have, we use it the best we can.

A surcharge on residential investment properties would obviously limit County options and make it even more difficult to balance our budgets. Therefore, we have to jealously guard this taxing authority, and ask that you not breach this line of authority.

Effect on TAT. Given our County's limited resources, we are fortunate that the Legislature has seen fit to allow the counties to share in the TAT. That has been a great help, and we thank you for it.

However, this source of revenue is under constant pressure, and every session the Legislature is asked to increase the counties' share of TAT so that we can better serve our constituents and visitors. The TAT pie can only be divided into so many pieces, and even though the TAT is not mentioned in SB 2922, a surcharge on visitor accommodations, even for the most noble of purposes, will obviously limit what can be raised and spent elsewhere.

Please do not deprive the counties of these needed sources of revenue, by dividing the pie even further.

Respectfully submitted,

Harry Kim

Coalition for Equal Taxation

Committee on Judiciary
SB2922
February 28, 2018

Chair Taniguchi, Vice Chair Rhoads and Committee Members

The Coalition for Equal Taxation takes no position on the merit of increased education funding. The Coalition, however, OPPOSES the proposed method of achieving the additional funding.

We respectfully urge the Legislature to evaluate the fiscal and long term CONSEQUENCES of this Bill. The question is not do we want a quality education for our children. Of course everyone wants that.

The question is HOW do we achieve that goal.

1. Currently, only the Legislature is responsible for determining distribution of funds to all departments within the State operation. Question to consider:

Is it prudent to provide a pathway where one department has the authority to source their own revenue through taxation?

If this pathway is established, the Legislature surely should expect that this will not be the last proposal of such a dedicated source of tax revenue to a department or cause.

While many look at this as an "extra" source of revenue, economic principal clearly defines it as a competing factor for a government trying to raise revenue to balance budgets.

In other governmental jurisdictions where this has occurred, the dedicated revenue stream recipient has found that the Legislature actually cuts back the amount of funds allotted from the general fund, especially in times of financial scarcity.

The proposed method of funding called for in this Bill may prove to be problematic in the long run for the Department of Education, rather than a solution.

2. This Bill significantly impacts and harms the counties. As each county has testified, a diversion of property tax revenue will adversely impact their ability to raise property taxes for their own budgeting needs. The counties are solely dependent upon property taxes for their operations.

Where do the counties spend their property tax revenue?

Primarily on county government employees, including police and firefighters. The employee expense category pays for wages, health benefits, pensions. Smaller amounts go to roads, parks, cemeteries, interest on bond debt and services for community centers for children and the elderly.

Is it reasonable to ask counties to lay off employees so that employees in the Department of Education can receive those taxing funds? That does not seem to be a reasonable solution.

3. Visitor Accommodations surcharge. The visitor industry has just been impacted by the need to pay for the Honolulu Rail System. Although the neighbor islands will not benefit from the Honolulu Rail, none the less, they are assessed a higher transient accommodation tax to pay for it.

Again, while some see this as a pass through to tourists, economic principal does not support that conclusion. Tourism is a commodity that must be competitive. If not, it loses in market share. We have no assurance that the last increase that started 1/1/18 will be completely absorbed by the tourist, or will it reduce tourism resulting in a loss of revenue to the State. That is yet to be seen.

For the above reasons, The Coalition of Equal Taxation encourages the Department of Education and the Legislature to find solutions to budgeting that retains the revenue source from the general fund.

RE: SENATE BILL 2922 PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO ARTICLES VIII AND X OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF HAWAII TO AUTHORIZE THE LEGISLATURE TO ESTABLISH A SURCHARGE TO INCREASE FUNDING FOR PUBLIC EDUCATION – OPPOSE

Dear Chair Taniguchi, Vice-Chair Rhoads and Members of the Education Committee:

Thank you for the opportunity to testify on the proposed Constitutional Amendment. On behalf of the American Resort Development Association (ARDA) Hawaii, the time share association, we respectfully oppose this bill.

While the discussion and policy decisions about the proper level of funding for public education is an important one that has been ongoing for several years, the approach taken in this bill seeks to have just two sectors of the economy bear that burden, one of which being the visitor accommodations. We believe this is an unfair targeting of one type of property owners and property users being taxed. While this does not mean ARDA-Hawaii necessarily supports a broad-based tax increase, we believe that would be a much more reasonable policy discussion for the entire general public to engage in. Moreover, these proposals single-out these areas to have them pay these fees for services and programs which do not have a direct nexus to the surcharge that is sought to be imposed. Finally, the transient accommodations tax was just recently raised in this fall in the special session in order to fund the Honolulu Rail Project, as such, we do not believe that adding additional tax increases so soon and quickly is prudent as it places an undue burden on these sectors.

Our tourism industry remains the number #1 economic driver. Unfortunately, our other important economic driver, the military support and spending, is also tenuous and uncertain due to changes at the federal level in the past few years including sequestration, no longer allowing specific appropriation or "pork-barrel" projects, and loss of congressional seniority, along with an uncertain and yet to be determined approach by the new federal Administration. As such, additional targeted fees or taxes on our visitor accommodations has the potential to drag down our tourism market momentum and inhibit Hawaii's continued cost-competitiveness as a sought-after tropical destination.

It is for these reasons that ARDA-Hawaii must respectfully oppose this bill. Thank you for the opportunity to testify.

TESTIMONY BEFORE THE SENATE COMMITTEE ON JUDICIARY

RE: SB 2922 RELATING TO EDUCATION

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 2018

9:30 a.m.

Aloha Chair Taniguchi and Members of the Committee:

On behalf of the Hawai'i Alliance for Progressive Action (HAPA). I am submitting testimony is support of SB2922 to increase funding for public schools.

HAPA is a statewide environmental, social and economic justice organization. HAPA engages over 10,000 local residents annually through our work.

HAPA and several of our partners have held a series of input gathering forums across the islands called the People's Congress. Over 800 people attended forums on Kaua'i, O'ahu, Maui and Hawai'i Island to discuss the most pressing issues facing their communities. The chronic underfunding of our public schools was one of the top concerns and priorities raised by residents across the state.

Our children are our future. When teachers instruct their students, we build the foundation for equality and prosperity for tomorrow's generations. Every dollar invested in our community's public schools yields exponential returns, not just for our economy, but for the promise of a more open and democratic society.

Supporting this proposal will lift Hawai'i's schools into the 21st Century. A vote for these measures is a vote for lower class sizes that allow teachers to connect with their students, whole child education that includes the arts and Hawaiian studies, providing resources and services for students with special needs, and professional pay that reflects the value of our hardworking teachers.

The Hawai'i Alliance for Progressive Action (HAPA) is a public non-profit organization under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. HAPA's mission is to catalyze community empowerment and systemic change towards valuing 'aina (environment) and people ahead of corporate profit.

We need additional funding for our public schools, because we need to grow the next generation of civicly engaged, informed, leaders and decision-makers. Our schools must prepare our young people for the challenges they will need to face in their lifetime from climate change and food security to an increasingly globalized economy. The education of our keiki is the single most important investment we can make for a better future.

To deliver the schools our keiki deserve, please support this bill.

We need your help. Mahalo.

TAX FOUNDATION OF HAWAII

SUBJECT: REAL PROPERTY, TRANSIENT ACCOMMODATIONS, Education Surcharge on Residential Investment Properties and Visitor Accommodations

BILL NUMBER: SB 2922; HB 2608 (Similar)

INTRODUCED BY: SB by KIDANI, S. CHANG, ESPERO, GALUTERIA, HARIMOTO, K. RHOADS, K. KAHELE; HB by WOODSON, AQUINO, BROWER, CREAGAN, DECOITE, EVANS, GATES, ING, JOHANSON, KEOHOKALOLE, C. LEE, LOPRESTI, LOWEN, MORIKAWA, NISHIMOTO, SAN BUENAVENTURA, TODD, Nakamura, Nakashima, Yamashita

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY: Allows the legislature to impose a surcharge on real property tax for residential investment property, and on transient accommodations. We question why this type of increase is being sought given that the Department of Education already has a gargantuan share of the State budget but is still beset with such issues as frustrated teachers and students roasting in our classrooms. Limits should be written into the amendment or the voters should be apprised that they are voting only on granting power to the legislature to impose a state level real property tax surcharge, with no limitations on that power.

SYNOPSIS: Empowers the legislature to establish a surcharge on residential investment property valued at one million dollars or greater and visitor accommodations.

Residential investment property is defined as all real property including apartments and condominiums and appurtenances thereto, including buildings, structures, fences, and improvements erected on or affixed to such real property and any fixture which is erected on or affixed to the land, buildings, structures, fences, and improvements; and all machinery and other mechanical or other allied equipment and the foundations thereof, that are dedicated for residential use and that do not serve as the owner's primary residence.

Visitor accommodations are defined as any room, apartment, suite, single family dwelling, or time share unit furnished for less than one hundred eighty consecutive days for each letting in a hotel, apartment hotel, motel, condominium property regime, apartment, time share vacation property, cooperative apartment, dwelling unit, or rooming house that provides living quarters, sleeping, or housekeeping accommodations, or any other place in which lodgings are furnished to transients.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This amendment shall take effect upon compliance with article XVII, section 3, of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii.

STAFF COMMENTS: A tax increase of any magnitude in Hawaii's fragile economy will, no doubt, have a negative impact as costs soar due to higher taxes. As costs and overhead increase, employers must find ways to stay in business by either increasing prices to their customers or cut back on costs. This may take the form of reducing inventory, shortening business hours, reducing employee hours, or even laying off workers. A tax increase of any magnitude would send many companies, especially smaller ones, out of business taking with them the jobs the community so desperately needs at this time.

While the teachers believe that they have not been given a fair shake at the negotiating table, that is an issue that should be resolved at the table and not by asking for tax increases or an earmarked source of funding. It is up to the teachers to ask for what money is available just like any other collective bargaining units. Although public employee union leaders complain about how the public employees should not be asked to bear the brunt of the downturn in the economy, they seem to ignore the fact that employees in the private sector have taken hits early and often, with many of them either working shorter hours or having taken pay cuts if they are working at all. A recent analysis of Bureau of Economic Analysis data done by the Grassroot Institute of Hawaii, [http://www.grassrootinstitute.org/2017/01/islanders-shouldnt-be-taxed-extra-for-teacher-bonuses/] for example, showed that Hawaii teachers make low wages and benefits, 42nd in the nation, but that Hawaii's private sector workers made the lowest wages and benefits nationally when adjusted for cost of living.

Teachers do have a legitimate complaint that should demand the attention of lawmakers and Board of Education members, namely that teachers are being asked to do more and more administrative work and are spending less and less time in the classroom. If nothing else, the funds that are being appropriated to the DOE are failing to reach the classroom because of the top-heavy administrative structure of the department that demands reports and schedules and evaluations to justify the role of administrators. The frustration of classroom teachers is that they spend too much time filling out forms and reports and not enough time in the actual classroom. Unfortunately, with more than $1.5 billion in its budget and more than 20% of the general fund budget, teachers are frustrated, and kids are roasting in the schools. The department of education still cannot get it right. It needs to be able to spend its existing resources efficiently. Until it does, there is little justification for an increase of financial resources.

Also, it is troubling that there are no limits on the proposed tax. The current version of SB 686, implementing legislation designed for last year's version of this bill, would if approved impose a surcharge of $7.50 per $1,000 of property value on "residential investment" properties that are valued at $2 million or more. But if the constitutional amendment is approved, there is no reason why legislators can't change the implementing legislation or come up with an entirely new bill. It could be the year the amendment is approved, or the next year, or the year after that. They could change it to impose the surcharge on all "residential investment" property regardless of value. They could change the surcharge rate. They could do all these things because the constitutional amendment gives the legislature this power.

In other words, once the amendment passes, the genie is out of the bottle. It may not even be under control of the members now in the legislature, because future legislators (note that this year is an election year) may have different ideas from current members.

We need to ask ourselves if we want to or need to give the genie that much power. If we do, then we only have ourselves to blame for what happens when the genie does come out. If we don't, then we should either kill the constitutional amendment or write strict limits into it.

SB 2922, PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO ARTICLES VIII AND X OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF HAWAII TO AUTHORIZE THE LEGISLATURE TO ESTABLISH A SURCHARGE TO INCREASE FUNDING FOR PUBLIC EDUCATION

TESTIMONY
Janet Mason, Legislative Committee, League of Women Voters of Hawaii

Chair Taniguchi, Vice-Chair Rhoads, and Committee Members:

The League of Women Voters Hawaii offers the following comments on SB 2922 which proposes a tax surcharge on residential investment property and visitor accommodations to increase funding for public education.

1. One part of the proposed tax surcharge would be on residential investment property above $1 million in value which does not qualify for a homeowner's exemption. We point out that no exemptions are offered for properties that may be rented for affordable rates (such as less than $1,500 per month), properties rented to low-income seniors or disabled veterans; Hawaiian homesteads; and properties used exclusively for charitable purposes. At a time when Hawaii is struggling with an inadequate supply of affordable housing this may aggravate this problem.

2. There is no tax rate proposed in the measure. Not having any limit on the proposed residential tax troubles us because not all 'investors' having property valued at one million dollars or greater are wealthy. Recent tax valuations can put an old, in need of repair property in Kaimuki well above one million dollars. Hawaii citizens may have inherited such a property or invested over decades in hopes of gaining retirement security. If the surcharge was large, hitting such an 'investor' with a new tax may cause a Hawaii citizen to lose a property or a business person to think twice about ever investing in Hawaii, defeating the intent of the bill.

3. Regarding the visitor accommodations tax, Hawaii's economy is tourism dependent. All citizens recognize this and rely on this economic sector for employment and continued economic growth. To remain profitable, operators of tourism accommodations must always be able to estimate their operating expenses, including the transient accommodations tax, yet no tax rate is suggested for this surcharge. We also wonder whether this surcharge would provide a reliable revenue stream in the event of a recession and we think it is extremely important to have an impartial analysis of how such an increased tax would impact the visitor market.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS®

49 South Hotel Street, Room 314 | Honolulu, HI 96813
www.lwv-hawaii.com | 808.531.7448 | voters@lwv-hawaii.com

4. It now appears unlikely that relying solely on the general fund revenue, primarily derived from our GET tax, assures adequate funding for Hawaii's public schools. But before putting SB 2922 to the citizens for a vote that would change their Constitution, we would like to hear more discussion of the amount of revenue that could be generated under different property surcharge scenarios. A good case can be made that property taxes are relatively low throughout Hawaii, but more discussion about revenue vs. projected expenses of the Department of Education is important. For example, we do not understand why the measure lists specific types of public education expenses.

5. Hawaii's Constitution established a single, state-wide school system, funded from the general budget (not property taxes) to ensure an egalitarian education for all students so schools in the then agricultural areas, whose citizens did not earn as much as urban residents, would have equivalent resources for education. The framers of the Constitution did this because they wanted the schools to be fairly treated in budgets, whether they were urban or agrarian. Perhaps surcharging all property owners preserves the egalitarian logic presented by the original framers of Hawaii's Constitution, but this measure appears to discriminate against a limited class of residential property owners.

The League supports equal educational opportunity for every child in the K-12 school system and financing methods to reach this goal. To us there is no public goal more important than this, so we sincerely hope supporters of this measure can collaborate to come up with a simple but equitable plan for the much-needed investment in our public schools.

Thank you for the opportunity to submit testimony.

Aloha Chair Taniguchi, Vice Chair Rhoads and members of the Senate Committee on Judiciary,

The Young Progressives Demanding Action – Hawai‘i strongly supports SB2922. As young adults, we are uniquely positioned between past and future. We look to our kūpuna to provide us with the wisdom of the past, and we look to our keiki and see the hope of our future. Millennials believe strongly that education is the key to transferring this ‘ike from past to future. This vital transference can transform our society into a place where equality, justice and compassion prevail over greed, ignorance and barbarism. When education is missing in the framework of our society, we see the tragic and crippling effects it has on our most vulnerable, and on each and every one of us. And that happens far too often in Hawai‘i, where teachers are underpaid, classrooms are underfunded, and bureaucracy shifts the focus away from skill-building toward test-taking.

When teachers are properly paid and classrooms are properly funded, instruction thrives and ‘ike is transferred to the student, building the foundations for equality and prosperity into perpetuity. Studies have shown that every dollar invested into our community’s public schools yields exponential returns, not just in economic terms, but in terms of the promise of a more open and democratic society.

This measure carries with it the potential to elevate Hawai‘i’s schools into a leadership position within a 21st century educational framework. With more funding comes smaller class sizes, allowing teachers to connect with students in a deeper and more meaningful way. With more funding comes the infrastructure to support whole-child education rich with learning in the arts, music, Hawaiian studies and humanities—crucial for developing critical thinkers and compassionate problem solvers. With more funding comes vital resources and services for students with special needs. With more funding comes appropriate professional pay that reflects the value of our hardworking teachers.

When schools can provide their students with opportunity and a pathway to success in the 21st century, society flourishes and we all benefit. To deliver the schools our keiki deserve, please support this bill.

Senate Judiciary Committee
Hawaii State Capitol

Dear Senator Taniguchi, Senator Rhoads and Members of the Senate Judiciary Committee:

Testimony in Opposition to SB2922

Mauna Kea Resort opposes SB2922 proposing amendments to Articles VIII and X of the Hawaii State Constitution to allow the Legislature to establish a surcharge on residential investment properties and visitor accommodations to increase funding for public education.

Mauna Kea Resort values our public education system and many of our management team volunteer as guest teachers at schools here on the Island of Hawaii. However, we recognize that the state already receives the largest share of the transient accommodations taxes, which are placed in the general fund. Therefore it is already within the Legislature's authority to use those transient accommodations taxes, collected from visitors, to enhance funding for the public education of our residents. A separate tax on the back of our visitors is not required. And though not under the purview of the Legislature directly, we would like members of the committee to recognize that residential investment properties and resort zoned properties saw a disproportionate increase in their property taxes in Hawaii County last year. Government authorities at both the county and state levels cannot continue to place the largest tax burden time and time again on the same citizens.

Mauna Kea Resort employs over 1000 residents of Hawaii Island and pays nearly $10 Million in TAT and GET annually.

We encourage your opposition to this measure.

Sincerely,

Craig Anderson
VP Resort Operations

SUBJECT: HEARING OF FEBRUARY 27, 2018; TESTIMONY IN OPPOSITION TO SB 2922, PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO ARTICLES VIII AND X OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF HAWAII TO AUTHORIZE THE LEGISLATURE TO ESTABLISH A SURCHARGE TO INCREASE FUNDING FOR PUBLIC EDUCATION

Thank you for the opportunity to testify in opposition to this measure. The purpose of this bill is propose amendments to the Constitution of the State of Hawaii to establish a surcharge on residential investment property and visitor accommodations.

The Maui County Council has not had the opportunity to take a formal position on this measure. Therefore, I am providing this testimony in my capacity as an individual member of the Maui County Council.

I oppose this measure for the following reasons:

1. Although the Department of Education receives almost 20 percent of the entire budget of the State of Hawaii, the administrators, teachers, students and advocates of this bill have legitimate reasons to demand more funding to provide quality education for our keiki. But the proposed measure before you is flawed, which is why I implore the legislature to defer this bill.

2. Increasing costs of visitor-related programs like transportation, sewer and water, fire, police, and parks maintenance continue to be a challenge as the counties do not receive a fair share of the transient accommodations tax. To pay for these services, businesses and homeowners will continue to be burdened and face potential increases in real property taxes.

3. Real property taxes are counties' primary and largest source of revenue to fund county programs. The counties must account for raising expenses such as salary increases for all bargaining units this year, which we are obligated to fund. Raising property taxes is our only reasonable option to balance the budget.

4. In many mainland communities, local real estate taxes are used to support local schools. The communities decide for themselves what they can afford and tax their residents accordingly. In Hawaii, a decision was made decades ago to establish a statewide school and healthcare system, which differs from most of the nation, and would be funded through state tax collections. If lawmakers and the governor believe schools are underfunded, the legislature should accept the responsibility and appropriately fund education without causing financial challenges for the counties.

5. The State has far more taxing authority than the counties and should be able to handle any increased need for funds. The premise that the counties should fund schools without having a greater say in the way that monies are spent ignores the importance of the community's right to decision making.

For the foregoing reasons, I oppose this measure.

We need additional funding for our public schools, because we have a crises on our hands. Our teachers are underpaid, our classrooms under staffed, out of date materials, a budget that doesn't allow for proper educational tools, too many kids falling through the cracks and a lack of a safety net to help those students that are struggling. Our keiki are refused meals if they don't have enough money in their account! No kids should go hungry at school.

To deliver the schools our keiki deserve, please support this bill.

TESTIMONY BEFORE THE SENATE COMMITTEE ON JUDICIARY

RE: SB 2922 RELATING TO EDUCATION

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 2018

9:30 a.m.

Chair Taniguchi and Members of the Committee:

I strongly urge the Judiciary Committee to support SB 2922 to increase funding for public schools.

Our children are a treasure. They are not only our future; as we have seen on the national stage in recent weeks, they lead where their predecessors (we!) may fear to tread. When teachers instruct our students, we build their capacity as change makers both now and going forward. Every dollar invested in our community's public schools yields exponential returns not just for our economy, but for the promise of a more open and democratic society.

This year I applied for a $250,000 Hawai'i Innovation Fund grant to create a space on our campus where students, staff, whole classes have access to "STEM" tools—computer-aided design workstations, 3D printers and computer controlled routers and mills, laser cutters, electronic workbenches and programming workstations, teleconference and remote collaboration facilities—all the things that make a MakerSpace a place where people apply design thinking to the creative process within diverse disciplines and interests. Such a space—something like a library annex—empowers people to make webs of connections among their studies, their interests, and their lives. My argument was and is that such opportunities should not be the sole prerogative of 'Iolani students, and I am doing what is in my power to bring those opportunities to Baldwin.

Although we did not receive the grant, I am not giving up—I am strategizing ways to make this dream come true for future BHS students—but if schools were better funded this would be less of a lift. If a proposed room in which to build such a facility did not require $150,000 (or more) in renovation (including air conditioning and even insect barriers), if there were not so many other more pressing demands on the extremely limited resources with which schools must do everything, if I did not have to split my attention between my teaching vocation and the side job that helps pay the bills, this dream could readily come true. But until schools are much better funded than they are now, it is difficult to make such dreams a reality.

Supporting SB2922 will lift Hawai‘i’s schools from the 19th to the 21st century (or at least the late 20th). A vote for this measure is a vote for:

- Lower class sizes that allow teachers to connect with their students
- Whole child education that includes the arts and Hawaiian studies
- Resources and services for students with special needs
- Professional pay that reflects the value of our hardworking teachers
- True innovation that seeks new solutions to the multifaceted challenges our schools and keiki face

We need additional funding for our public schools, because our public school students right now:

- Look at their peers attending private schools and wonder why private school students get better and broader opportunities than do public school students
- See their choices of enrichment (“elective”) courses like music, dance, theatre, Hawaiian studies, and vocational studies increasingly curtailed
- Try to learn in crumbling, sweltering classrooms, poorly equipped and with sharply limited resources
- Try to learn from teachers who are working multiple jobs and burning the candle at both ends is so they can remain in the classroom

To deliver the schools our keiki deserve—to redeem the dreams our keiki dream—please support this bill.

We need your help. Mahalo.

Enough. At this rate you will taxing more than 100% of our income. We are paying a surcharge for rail, allowoing HART to waste even more money, as evidenced in news reports this week that they overpaid relocation fees by at least $4 million. If public educastion needs increased funding, take the money away from other programs, even the legislative and exec office budgets, but do NOT take money out of our pockets.

HSTA is reaching too far.

Aloha Chair Taniguchi and Members of the Committee,

My name is Christina Russo and I am a science teacher at James Campbell High Schoo. I am submitting testimony in support of SB 2922 to increase funding for public schools. I am appalled that Hawaii's education expenditures, as a share of combined state and local government expenditures, is 27.3 per cent and ranks lowest in the nation! As an educator, we must prepare students to take on the challenges of an ever-changing world as well as create graduates who can compete in a global economy. How can Hawaii graduates compete with those from the mainland or abroad when we invest so little in their education? Not only is the lack in funding affecting students in hidden ways like students lacking a competitive edge, but it is affecting them in more conspicuous ways as well. It is painfully obvious that Hawaii schools are deteriorating. The infrastructure lacks basic accommodations such as air conditioning, auditoriums, athletic facilities, and inviting learning spaces. Furthermore, the infrastructure presents several security flaws. We have open campuses that are completely accessible by intruders and that go largely unmonitored. Furthermore, staff/student notification systems are not clear nor easily heard and school security staffing is insufficient. Other ways lack of funding puts us far behind school districts in the mainland is our lack of investment in student well-being. We need to fund programs that educate staff and students on suicide prevention, bullying, and violence prevention. We also need to educate the whole child through art, music, and Hawaiian cultural programs. Finally, we need funding to support genuine teacher retention efforts. Going to the mainland and recruiting teachers to work here is a short-term fix. Teachers brought in from the mainland usually do not stay in Hawaii due to cost of living, culture shock, and missing home. We need to increase teacher salaries to increase retention and we need to incentivize HAWAII residents to teach--those who will likely stay in Hawaii and commit to teaching Hawaii's keiki. Without funding, we will continue to have teacher shortages and student education will suffer. Currently, there are a huge number of long-term subs filling in for teachers. If students are continuously in the classroom with long-term subs, the state's commitment to educate students is being broken because subs are not teachers, and they are likely not educated in the content students are supposed to be learning. I appreciate your time and I thank you for your support! Please pass SB2922.

Thank you for your time.

Testimony regarding SB 2922

PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO ARTICLES VIII AND X OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF HAWAII TO AUTHORIZE THE LEGISLATURE TO ESTABLISH A SURCHARGE TO INCREASE FUNDING FOR PUBLIC EDUCATION.

Dear Chair Taniguchi and committee members:

My name is Roy Vandoorn and I write in opposition to SB2922.

I am in favor of

- More funding for classroom teachers and programs
- More funding for smaller class sizes
- More funding for afterschool programs.

The problem is, SB2922 will do none of the things I am in favor of and it will raise the cost of housing in our state.

It has been shown over and over again, that when a special or new funding source is found for some program, the first thing that happens is that equivalent amount of funding is removed from the old funding sources. In other words, at the end of the day, this approach will most likely result in zero additional dollars being given to the schools and this additional revenue will be distributed across all the other state budget items.

I am sure you are all aware that the budgeting exercise is a priority exercise. As State of Hawaii Senators, you must decide where the education of Hawaii's children falls in your priority list and then fund accordingly. You also have control of how much revenue you collect from the taxpayers of Hawaii. You have the ability to raise the income tax, the GET tax, and the TAT tax. In this session you are considering numerous bills that will give tax credits for one thing or another. Every tax credit is a loss of revenue.

With all due respect, if you truly believe that education in Hawaii requires more funding, then make the hard decisions. Raise education to the appropriate priority level. Stand up and vote for an income tax increase. Say no to tax credits for some special interest, so that revenue is not lost.

This bill does not help education, it does raise the cost of housing. This is especially problematic for individuals that are renters. It is very simple, raising property taxes raises rents. Rents in Hawaii are already extremely high and now you are considering a bill that will make them even higher. It is not a stretch to say that SB2922 does not help education, but it does increase homelessness.

SB2922 will do nothing to help education and will increase the cost of housing in Hawaii. So it doesn't do what is intended to do and makes an already bad situation worse. Please vote NO on SB2922. Thank you for allowing me to present my testimony.

SENATE BILL NO. 2922

PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO ARTICLES VIII AND X OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF HAWAII TO AUTHORIZE THE LEGISLATURE TO ESTABLISH A SURCHARGE TO INCREASE FUDING FOR PUBLIC EDUCATION

Senate Bill No. 2922 proposes to amend the Constitution of the State of Hawai‘i to authorize the Legislature to establish a surcharge on residential investment property valued at $1 million or greater and visitor accommodations in order to fund a quality public education including, but not limited to, the recruitment and retention of teachers, public preschools, lower class sizes, special education programming, career and technical education, art, music, Hawaiian studies, Hawaiian language instruction, and afterschool programs.

The Department of Budget and Finance offers the following comments on this measure. Under the Hawai‘i Constitution, the State has assumed administrative and financial responsibility for providing compulsory public education services, in accordance with applicable state and federal laws. This exclusive jurisdiction is unlike that of any other public education system across our nation, where administrative and fiscal responsibility is exclusively assigned to, or shared with, local governments. Because of the State's exclusive jurisdiction, we are particularly concerned with the language in the amendment that states: "to fund a quality public education for all of Hawaii's children." While the language reflects a worthy goal, should there be a legal challenge about the Department of Education's implementation of "a quality public education for all of Hawaii's children," the State will be solely responsible for identifying additional revenues that will be needed to meet the court's definition of "a quality public education for all Hawaii's children." Thus, we respectfully advise that the word "quality" be deleted from the language of the amendment.

Finally, in addition to the financing of our public school system, our State is also solely responsible for such core government services as the public library system, public housing, Med-Quest health insurance coverage, and correctional facilities, amongst many others. Because the State has assumed many of these core functions that are usually administered by local governments, the Hawai‘i Constitution appropriately assigns to the counties the exclusive use of real property taxation for county functions such as water, sewer, waste disposal, and law enforcement to be paid by property owner taxes and assessments. While we appreciate the legislature's intent to find additional revenues to fund our public education system, using the property tax to support a State function as proposed in Senate Bill No. 2922, represents a fundamental departure from the current constitutional structure of functions and revenue sources.

Thank you for your consideration of our comments.

PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO ARTICLES VIII AND X OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF HAWAII TO AUTHORIZE THE LEGISLATURE TO ESTABLISH A SURCHARGE TO INCREASE FUNDING FOR PUBLIC EDUCATION.

COMMITTEE ON JUDICIARY
Tuesday, February 27, 2018, 9:30 am
Conference Room 016

Dear Chair Taniguchi, Vice Chair Rhoads, and Members of the Committee,

The Maui Hotel & Lodging Association (MHLA) is the legislative arm of the visitor industry. Our membership includes 185 property and allied business members in Maui County – all of whom have an interest in the visitor industry. Collectively, MHLA's membership employs over 25,000 residents and represents over 19,000 rooms. The visitor industry is the economic driver for Maui County. We are the largest employer of residents on the Island - directly employing approximately 40% of all residents (indirectly, the percentage increases to 75%).

MHLA opposes SB2922, which proposes amendments to the Constitution of the State of Hawaii to advance the State's goal of providing a quality education for the children of Hawaii by authorizing the legislature to establish, as provided by law, a surcharge on residential investment property and visitor accommodations.

Keeping our costs level is critical to our ability to compete against other sun destinations, especially now when we are seeing an increased amount of competition with new resort locations and other destinations' deeply discounted air/hotel packages. Last August, the Legislature raised the TAT, to the point where guests now pay a TAT of 10.25 percent. Coupled with the general excise tax, guests pay a 14.41 percent tax on the Neighbor Islands and 14.96 percent on O'ahu. Hawai'i has reached the point where high business costs and tax rates make it increasingly difficult for business to be profitable and competitive, in both the domestic and international markets.

Tourism continues to be the largest single source of private capital for our economy. Recent reports have noted that (a) tourism accounted for 204,000 jobs; (b) visitor spending last year totaled $16.8 billion, a new high; and (c) the state's tax take was $1.96 billion. Of that sum, TAT revenues alone generated nearly $508 million for the state's coffers last fiscal year. While the TAT was established to promote and market the visitor industry, it has since become a major source of revenue for purposes other than originally intended. We would conclude that public education may already be receiving a share of TAT revenue through its general fund budget allocations

Maui Hotel & Lodging Association is opposed to raising taxes and leveraging extra fees on the visitor industry.

Thank you for the opportunity to testify.

Title of Bill: SB 2922 PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO ARTICLES VIII AND X OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF HAWAII TO AUTHORIZE THE LEGISLATURE TO ESTABLISH A SURCHARGE TO INCREASE FUNDING FOR PUBLIC EDUCATION.

Purpose of Bill: Proposes amendments to the Constitution of the State of Hawaii to advance the State's goal of providing a quality education for the children of Hawaii by authorizing the legislature to establish, as provided by law, a surcharge on residential investment property and visitor accommodations.

Department's Position:
The Department of Education supports the intent of this measure.

The Department has made every effort to wisely spend appropriations provided. However, funding has not kept pace with 2008 levels of state fiscal support, adjusted for inflation as measured by the Consumer Price Index.

Education is a key investment in the state's economic development and an investment in its local employee base capacity for all Hawaii industries. A funding increase will provide adequate student funding and teacher pay to support an equitable high quality instructional system with respectful 21st century learning environments through quality facilities.

Thank you for the opportunity to provide testimony on this measure.

The Hawaii State Department of Education seeks to advance the goals of the Strategic Plan which is focused on student success, staff success, and successful systems of support. This is achieved through targeted work around three impact strategies: school design, student voice, and teacher collaboration. Detailed information is available at www.hawaiipublicschools.org.

We need additional funding for our public schools, because.the lack of funding has made it very difficult to teach our special needs students with the proper resources. I spend between $800-$1000 of my own money every year because of people who cannot understand the needs of our schools, students, and teachers. Mahalo for your support of SB 2922. Additional funding for Hawaii's public school system is long over due. Problems that aren't solved, become bigger problems. This funding is a step in the right direction to solve a myriad of problems HIDOE faces.

Chair Taniguchi and Members of the Committee:

My name is Catherine M Davis. I am a Special Education Teacher at Kamali'i Elementary in the Maui District on the island of Maui. I am submitting testimony in support of SB 2922 to increase funding for public schools.

Our children are our future. When teachers instruct their students, we build the foundation for equality and prosperity for tomorrow's generations. Every dollar invested in our community's public schools yields exponential returns, not just for our economy, but for the promise of a more open and democratic society.

Supporting this proposal will lift Hawai'i's schools into the 21st Century. A vote for this measure is a vote for lower class sizes that allow teachers to connect with their students, whole child education that includes the arts and Hawaiian studies, providing resources and services for students with special needs, and professional pay that reflects the value of our hardworking teachers.

It has been my personal experience that when my class sizes have been smaller I have had more time and energy to individualize and differentiate my instruction. I have also noticed that students who struggle and do not get this type of instruction early on often get behind and some later become eligible for IDEA services. When students get behind they suffer. With the additional pressure of standardized testing and CCSS, students lose interest in even trying to meet expectations. Our keiki deserve to have instruction that meets their needs and doesn't leave them completely overwhelmed.

Please support our students and our communities by supporting this bill.

We need your help.

My name is Andrea Diaz. I am a first grade teacher at Pearl Harbor Elementary. I am submitting testimony in support of SB 2922 to increase funding for public schools.

I feel bad for the students at my school. Our buildings are old and my students sit at old metal desks with damaged tops from termites. The teachers at my school use their own money to buy furniture for their classrooms. I realize that my school was built in 1956 and is in need of repair. These are cosmetic concerns and we have learned to work around them.

My hope is that we will have smaller class sizes in the future. This would help me concentrate on the reading foundation skills that my first-graders need to succeed in school. In the past, I have had up to 27 students. This makes it difficult to work with students individually and tailor instruction to meet their individual needs.

We need additional funding for our public schools, because our children's future depends on the funds in order to enrich and obtain quality and productive citizens of society. On the contrary our fights outside our country may be in vein since our future Populations, both Soldiers and Civilians will have less assets for our country to depend on and reduce our chances for a better and stronger country. We need to invest in our children because our legacy is at stake. Our current lack of funding affects your children/ students/community, how low pay and a lack of resources are driving teachers in your schools out of the profession, how teachers have to hold second and third jobs when they should be able to concentrate on their students instead of rushing off to second jobs. We need assets and not counterproductive assets beating us to the ground because Education outcome, economy, resources, grants, scholarships are unavailable for a bright student to help our country be great again and fight our trending issues way ahead of us. Chair Taniguchi and Members of the Committee:

My name is Justin Hughey. I am a teacher at King Kamehameha III Elementary in on Maui. I am submitting testimony in strong support of SB 2922 to increase funding for public schools.

The problems of meager funding, too few teachers and dilapidated buildings have plagued Hawaii since 1911. When are we going to address the neglect to our public education system?

My administrator tells me that he is only as good as the list of teachers he can choose from. He would like a bigger list. It is not possible to attract more teachers when this state pays the worst salary in the country when factored in the cost of living. We need to be able to pay competitive wages. Its not like the weather is keeping highly qualified teachers away. In Lahaina, experienced teachers earn roughly 2600 a month and are paying 2000 dollars in rent for a one bedroom apartment. This makes no sense. The children suffer if they are not taught by a certified teacher. The last two years we have started the school year with 1600 teacher vacancies.

I say let the people vote. What is more democratic than that? Our keiki deserve a quality education, even if our state constitution doesn't ensure it.

If we believe in democracy, we need an educated citizenry. If we want a thriving economy we need to provide a quality education to every child.

I feel fortunate to be successful. The students I teach are not given the same opportunity as myself. I want to have a child and I want my child to have the same opportunity I had. This state has never valued public education and that has to change. A proper education should not be a privilege that is only given if your family is wealthy enough to enroll you into a private school.

We need additional funding for our public schools because as much as I truly love Hawaii and its Keiki, the amazing students I feel blessed to serve here, I simply don't know how much longer I can continue to afford to work here on just my teaching income. Since moving here, I have had to rely on the income of my boyfriend to supplement, and we still had to resort to moving to an income restricted apartment just to survive. I also cannot afford professional development courses I would love to take that I know would help me improve my teaching skills and ultimately, enhance my students' learning. I have had to pay for additional training that was well beyond my means on credit cards. Two years ago, I sacrificed being closer to my only daughter, taking a $15, 000 pay cut and "starting all over" to move here. Teaching in Hawaii is my dream job, but unfortunately, it's a dream that's far beyond my means financially.

I have been teaching for 15 years, and I know I am a teacher who brings my years of experience and dedication to my classroom, but if like me, other teachers simply can't afford to stay here, it will continue to cause problems in recruiting enough teachers. I had to move back to the mainland back in 2009/2010, after teaching for a year at Waianae High School, when my daughter moved off the island because I couldn't afford to live here alone. I came back in 2016 with a heart to help students with special needs here and was (and am still) willing to live as cheaply as possible to do my part to help them, but I have also sacrificed my whole life to become a teacher and now I feel as if all that sacrifice was wasted if I have to continue to live in poverty in the years of teaching I have left before retirement.

We need additional funding for our public schools because as I am typing out this testimony, I am at my weekend tutorial job. I have been doing this for a number of years now, leaving my toddler son at home with my husband. I cannot spend time with my son as it is rather necessary to work multiple jobs, here in Hawaii, outside of my Monday through Friday classroom career. Last year, I refinanced my Makakilo townhome for another thirty years. My take-home pay could not cover the monthly mortgage payment and increasing maintenance fees. I have not had home internet since 2002, I simply cannot afford it. My grade level vice principal mandates that I upload my students' grades to Infinite Campus weekly, otherwise I face a conference with her. Since I cannot afford home internet, I find myself at the neighborhood Starbucks at 4 am or with my laptop in Target cafe area, after I am done with my grocery shopping. I should be able to concentrate on my grade seven students instead of rushing off to my second job, couponing, or find the next Secret Shop experience in order to feed my family. Investing in our public schools today is an investment in our society and future. My son Taizo turns three next month. We could not afford to send him to preschool this year, though my husband and I both value education before kindergarten. We have yet to figure out how to pay for his preschool when he is four.

We need additional funding for our public schools, because at our school, I serve as the curriculum coordinator, registrar, Title I coordinator, and have 4 more job titles. We do this at our school so we can devote more resources to having qualified teachers in our classes. However, the quality of the service I give to the students and parents suffers because it's impossible to fulfill all these job responsibilities with consistent high quality. It's just too much. And many of our teachers take on additional duties to provide our students with the services they deserve, including extracurricular activities. We need additional funding for our public schools, because the amount of students in my classroom has been increasing. I have a total of 17 students in a special education classroom with students of a variety of disabilities. I had started with only 10 students to decrease the size of another special education classroom that had a total of 19 students. Now my class size is again at a high number as a fully self contained setting. I also have a limited number of educational assistants that I must work with due to lack of funds to hire more educational assistants. I also continue to provide materials for my students so they can have the necessary learning beyond just the classroom. These students also need differential learning and the best tool for each student is having their own technical devices such as Chromebooks. Instead, I have 17 students sharing 6 technical devices.

Both of our children attend Hawai'i Public Schools because we believe that public schools are the foundation of a democratic society. We value the diversity of experiences and cultures public schools provide. Every dollar invested in our community's public schools yields exponential returns, not just for our economy, but for the promise of a more open and democratic society.

We need additional funding for our public schools, because our children's teachers must work two jobs to make ends meet. They need clay in their art classes, bunsen burners and microscopes in their science classes, music instruments in music classes. Our children need a nurse and social worker/counselor in every school. Every child deserves smaller class sizes, nice facilities, and teachers who are compensated equitably for the tremendous work they do.

I currently teach with a guy who is leaving Hawaii to teach on the mainland, because he holds 2 jobs here to make ends meet. He's headed for California, and if nothing changes, I suspect we will continue to "bleed" dozens of teachers to higer wages of other states like Cali, teachers who would love to work here but cannot afford the high cost of living.

TESTIMONY BEFORE THE SENATE COMMITTEE ON JUDICIARY
RE: SB 2922 RELATING TO EDUCATION
TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 2018
9:30 a.m.

Chair Taniguchi and Members of the Committee:

My name is Caroline Flynn. I am a Teacher at Kamalii Elementary in Kihei on Maui. I am submitting testimony in support of SB 2922 to increase funding for public schools.

Our children are our future. When teachers instruct their students, we build the foundation for equality and prosperity for tomorrow's generations. Every dollar invested in our community's public schools yields exponential returns, not just for our economy, but for the promise of a more open and democratic society.

Supporting this proposal will lift Hawai'i's schools into the 21st Century. A vote for this measure is a vote for lower class sizes that allow teachers to connect with their students, whole child education that includes the arts and Hawaiian studies, providing resources and services for students with special needs, and professional pay that reflects the value of our hardworking teachers.

We need additional funding for our public schools, because low pay and a lack of resources are driving teachers in my area out of the profession, teachers have to hold second and third jobs when they should be able to concentrate on their students instead of rushing off to second jobs, investing in our public schools is an investment in our future.

To deliver the schools our keiki deserve, please support this bill.

We need your help. Mahalo.

RE: SB 2922 RELATING TO EDUCATION

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 2018

9:30 a.m.

Chair Taniguchi and Members of the Committee:

My name is Chris Santomauro. I am a teacher on the Windward District of O`ahu. I am submitting testimony in support of SB 2922 to increase funding for public schools.

Our children are our future. When teachers instruct their students, we build the foundation for equality and prosperity for tomorrow's generations. Every dollar invested in our community's public schools yields exponential returns, not just for our economy, but for the promise of a more open and democratic society.

Supporting this proposals will lift Hawai`i's schools into the 21st Century. A vote for these measures is a vote for lower class sizes that allow teachers to connect with their students, whole child education that includes the arts and Hawaiian studies, providing resources and services for students with special needs, and professional pay that reflects the value of our hardworking teachers.

We need additional funding for our public schools, because this is an issue of social justice. The fact that private schools spend significantly more per student than public schools, and that public schools are largely composed of students of color, especially Hawaiian and Filipino students, while private schools are largely comprised of white and Japanese students, demonstrates the inequity that exists in our society around class and race. If you believe in providing resources to our more vulnerable populations in order to move towards a more just society, increasing funding for public schools is a necessary step to take.

To deliver the schools our keiki deserve, please support this bill.

We need your help. Mahalo.

TESTIMONY BEFORE THE SENATE COMMITTEE ON JUDICIARY
RE: SB 2922 RELATING TO EDUCATION
TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 2018, 9:30 a.m.

Aloha Chair Taniguchi and Members of the Committee:

My name is E. A. Ho'oipo Pa Nakea. I am a public high school special education teacher at Castle High School in Kane'ohe's Windward District on O'ahu. I am submitting testimony in support of SB 2922 to prioritize and increase funding for public schools.

After the illegal "overthrow" of Queen Lili'uokalani and her constitutional monarchy, succeeding regimes set about systematically repressing the Hawaiian national consciousness and Americanizing the population. Fortunately, there is an upsurge of national consciousness across Hawai'i as many refuse to allow the Hawaiian past to be obliterated. Hawaiians are seeking justice in the aftermath of the "conspiracy between the U.S. diplomatic and military personnel and a group of anti-monarchical insurgents that resulted in the illegal overthrow of the Hawaiian monarchy in 1893," and long-standing illegal American occupation of Hawai'i. Substantial research exists documenting the injurious nature of U.S. stewardship over Hawaiian people since the change in regime.

The challenge of how best to educate Hawai'i's students in our Americanized and capitalism-oriented society is heavy. As fellow Castle teacher Ingrid Vascelieu described, "There is a culture clash between the forces of the well-known rabid American consumerism and exacerbated individualism with the local system of values centered upon the community, ohana, the informal, personal cooperation, and symbolic identity." It is more than just teaching them academically; for Native Hawaiians in particular, there is a rebuilding from the ground up that needs to occur. They need to know of the historical achievements of our kūpuna, and know what intelligent and capable people they were; and we must ask ourselves:

1. What are the next steps for us, as 21st century education stakeholders?
2. What will we draw from to inform our future?

3. How will we innovate, create, and be successful like our kūpuna? Beamer, Kamanamaikalani. No MÄKou Ka Mana: Liberating the Nation. Kamehameha Publishing, 2010

Our children are our future. When teachers instruct our students, we build the foundation for equality and prosperity for tomorrow's generations. Every dollar invested in our community's public schools yields exponential returns, not just for our economy, but for the promise of a more open and democratic society.
Supporting this proposal will lift Hawai'i's schools into the 21st Century. A vote for this measure is a vote for lower class sizes that allow teachers to connect with their students, whole child education that includes the arts and Hawaiian studies, providing resources and services for students with special needs, and professional pay that reflects the value of our hardworking teachers.

We need additional funding for our public schools. It's critically essential that we reverse the acts of intentional underfunding of the public education system, as in the territorial days when the "buildings, maintenance, equipment, resources (e.g., libraries), salaries, number of teachers, and number of schools, were deemed inadequate ... [because] 'the expense which the Territory has been placed on account of its schools is but a small fraction of costs which communities on the mainland have had to meet.'"

Mo'i Liholiho led a successful literacy initiative in the 1820s that distributed books with the pī'apā, the Hawaiian alphabet, throughout the islands;[1] and by the mid-1800s, Hawai'i was considered one of the most literate populations in the entire world.[2] In the late-1800s, through the early-1900s there were over a dozen Hawaiian language newspapers regularly published across Hawai'i. Within three years from Queen Lili'uokalani's abdication to the U.S., the Hawaiian language was outlawed and no longer taught in the education system contributing to the steep decline of literacy rates in Hawai'i.[3] This decline in Hawaiian literacy was a direct outcome of the severing of traditional ties through the removal of the mo'i, the influx of a large English-speaking population, and the oligarchy's desire to Americanize Hawai'i.

'Olelo Hawai'i, the Hawaiian language, was ingrained within the social, political and judicial systems of the Kingdom. The Hawaiian nation enjoyed one of the highest literacy rates of any country in the world by the mid-1800's, and the language was 'olelo Hawai'i. It is said that "this legendary rise in literacy climbed from a near-zero literacy rate in 1820, to between 91 to 95 percent by 1834."[4] That's only twelve years from the time the first book was printed! Schools were established and Native Hawaiians learned to read and write in their own rich language; and in 1867, at the Paris International Exhibition, Hawai'i's ali'i proudly displayed how its high literacy rates were obtained.

"When 'Oiwi became publishers of their own newspapers, they appropriated the printing press and turned it into an engine for ancient mo'olelo and mo'oku'auhau that distinctly celebrated Hawaiian heritage and ensured 'that their knowledge was passed on to future generations.'[5] Noenoe Silva documented how 'O'iwi used newspapers as a medium for preserving cultural and national history, and for creating a forum to express their collective identity as a people.

In addition to the law removing 'olelo Hawai'i as a medium for classroom instruction, Lorrin Thurston, a Hawai'i-born politician and businessman, called for the removal of the Hawaiian language as a qualification for being a representative on May 5, 1894. In 1896, under the the "traitorish" Sanford B. Dole, (formerly Supreme Court Justice under King Kalakaua, and Privy Council member under Queen Lili'uokalani of the Hawaiian Kingdom, who morphed into the leadership of the adverse Provisional Government, Republic of Hawai'i and then became Territory of Hawai'i Governor), implemented an official ban on the use of 'olelo Hawai'i in Hawai'i schools. Even Kamehameha Schools, founded to benefit Hawaiian children, forbade the use and teaching of Hawaiian language for a time period. These measures steadily ushered the Hawaiian language out of the public sphere and reinforced the use of the English language in all areas of government.

The effects were felt in all aspects of society, particularly in schools. Students in the territory would be physically punished and mentally abused for speaking their native tongue in public schools. While gaining a new language and new customs and values, children often lost the traditions and customs of their old culture. These active efforts to expel the Hawaiian language from the public sphere led to its disappearance from the private sphere as well. Largely because of shame and ridicule, many native speakers chose not to teach Hawaiian to their children and grandchildren.

Professor Jon Osorio observed, "This is such a different situation than it was in the 19th century, when we were a kingdom. When we had our own government, and when we had one of the highest literacy rates in the entire world." The damage to the Hawaiian people was expansive as the United Church of Christ described in its 1993 apology to the Hawaiian people, presented on the 100th anniversary of the illegal "overthrow:"

> Some of these men and women, however, sometimes confused the ways of the West with the ways of Christ. Assumptions of cultural and racial superiority and alien economic understanding led some of them and those who followed them to discount or undervalue the strengths of the mature society they encountered. Therefore, the rich indigenous values of Na Kanaka Maoli, their language, their spirituality, and their respect for the land, were denigrated.

The resulting social, political, and economic implications of these harmful attitudes contributed to the suffering.

It has already been determined that the deplorable state of affairs of public education in Hawai'i is grounded in the original purposes of the public education system and the ways in which it perpetuates and hardens social divisions along racial, ethnic, and class lines. HSTA.org. (2017). School Our Keiki Deserve: From the HSTA Speaker's Bureau. [online] Available at: http://www.hsta.org/docs-forms/uploads/SchoolsOurKeikiDeserve.pdf [Accessed 3 Dec. 2017]. The original purposes of public education in Hawai'i were formed in the historical context of cultural imperialism, illegal occupation, and racial assimilation, and this can still be seen in the ways public education suffers from underfunding and marginalization. This was especially in comparison to private schools in Hawai'i.

Segregation in Hawai'i's education originated in the 19th century between private and public schools , when sons of American Protestant missionaries imported foreign laborers for sugar and pineapple production. The white plantation owners used race-based wage rates, language and cultural barriers, and differential access to perquisites to divide the plantation workers and successfully control them as sources of cheap labor. Public schools claim to have accomplished their assimilative tasks with the Hawaiians and the non- white immigrants arguing that racial integration is being accepted as natural and is increasing in both the public and private schools. Bernhard L. Hormann and Lawrence M. Kasdon, Integration in Hawaii's Schools, Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development (1959).

It is most important that the underfunding and marginalization of public education be reversed as education is a key component for raising consciousness. Both individuals and society benefit from the right to education. It is fundamental for human, social, and economic development and a key element to achieving lasting peace and sustainable development. It is a powerful tool in developing the full potential of everyone and ensuring human dignity, and in promoting individual and collective wellbeing. In brief: 1) it is an empowerment right, 2) it lifts marginalized groups out of poverty, 3) it is an indispensable means of realizing other rights; 4) it contributes to the full development of the human personality For more details, see the Committee on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights' General Comment 13 on the right to education (1999, para. 1)

Our school system was designed in 1893 to provide workers for jobs that no longer exist. Inequitable school funding demonstrates the low priority of education, leading to a de-professionalization of the teacher's job and lack of sufficient funding for learning materials and equipment. Loss of teacher autonomy and voice is also a problem. Instead of investing ten million dollars to bring in teachers from outside of Hawai'i', invest that money in Hawai'i' and create the best teachers locally. Of course our students deserve the best teachers, whether from in or out of Hawai'i. But by investing in local development, students might benefit from teachers that they feel understand and look like them. Teachers express concern over the psychological effects that toxic testing culture has on students, and the ways in which student's fundamental sense of humanity and self-worth are increasingly undermined by highly pressurized and hypercompetitive public school culture.

It is past time for all students to learn the truth about our islands' history and culture in an effective and transformative way. It's time to support teachers with classroom resources that will provide for a shared understanding of our collective past, in order to walk together into a better future.

To deliver the schools our keiki deserve, please support this bill.

Testimony regarding SB 2922

PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO ARTICLES VIII AND X OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF HAWAII TO AUTHORIZE THE LEGISLATURE TO ESTABLISH A SURCHARGE TO INCREASE FUNDING FOR PUBLIC EDUCATION.

Dear Chair Taniguchi and committee members:

My name is Tracy Stice and I write in opposition to this proposal to place this constitutional amendment on the ballot.

As the father of three children , one of whom is a teacher , born and raised in the Hawaii educational system with two of them having attended the University of Hawaii, I see this measure as not facing the real challenge. It is attempting to export the responsibility the state has to educate our children. We already have enough mechanisms to collect the necessary taxes to adequately fund education via the GET tax, and income taxes. We do not need another tax that will drive up housing rents to the very school teachers this bill presumes to benefit.

In 2001, my wife Laura and I , together with my son Jeremy who was attending UH at the time purchased two little homes in Palolo. Jeremy was a 50% owner and he worked at Hula Grill while attending classes , lived in one of the houses. We rented the other house to students. After he finished, having no further need to own the property , we sold it. Our timing in the market was good and we made a profit. All of the profit went to pay off school debt. Jeremy got a great start in life as an adult by not having the burden of school loans.

We have purchased other investment properties in Hawaii over the past 40 years, fixed up a lot of falling down houses and turned them in to needed , long term rentals, and actually made a profit most of the time and paid a lot of taxes. Please don't close this door to Hawaii investors.

This bill really confounds me. Most of the affordable rentals in the state are in larger apartment building with more than 3 units. I don't think you can find a 3 unit apartment building or larger priced under $1,000,000 in Honolulu or Maui. Perhaps you can on Hawaii of Kauai. By raising the property taxes on these buildings, this bill will directly be the cause of rental increase as most landlords run a business, not a philanthropy. Granted, the state probably does not pay teachers enough to buy homes , so it forces many of them to be renters. Raise taxes ,so you can pay the poor teachers more to pay for their rental increases ? Who wins ?

As the father of a high school teacher and the son of a school teacher, I certainly remember the countless hours I helped my mother grade papers at night, so I know how under paid and overworked teachers are.

This bill is a political ploy to offset the responsibilities that you as legislators have. Shifting the responsibility to the voters by disguising this bill a necessary solution to legislators lack of will to use the tools at hand and make the hard decisions they were elected to make is a cop out.

The complications that this bill creates for the various counties face to administrate, collect and remit taxes to the state , and then hope that they actually end up in increased teacher salaries and needed capital improvements and repairs, rather than in the hands of the bureaucracy of the DOE is not necessary.

Look at what happened with the TAT and Conveyance Taxes. The reasons they were created are long buried in how they are presently treated. TAT increase paying for rail ? Conveyance taxes paying for everything other than the bureau of Conveyances ? Come on, don't create another avenue for mis-management, special funds that avoid budget scrutiny, and just another way to stay politically safe.

Take responsibility for your jobs and give the DOE what they need as part of the normal budget process.

Mahalo for allowing me to testify.

to increase funding for public schools. Our children are our future. When teachers instruct their students, we build the foundation for their entire life and future generations. Every dollar

We need additional funding for our public schools, because, let’s face it our schools could be so much better! We owe this to our islands! Wouldn’t it be great if Hawaii ranked as one of the highest schools in America?

Each year I've invested my own money for my students needs. I've had Homeless students as well as lots from public housing. It is hard for those children to not have what they need. It creates an unequal situation which impacts their learning environment!

Teacher’s low pay and lack of resources drives away perspective teachers and many new teachers leave the profession entirely! Many teachers at my school had to hold second and third jobs when they should be able to concentrate on their students instead of rushing

Attention: Senator Brian T. Taniguchi, Chair
Senator Karl Roads, Vice Chair

Regarding: Support for SB2922: PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO ARTICLES VIII AND X OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF HAWAII TO AUTHORIZE THE LEGISLATURE TO ESTABLISH A SURCHARGE TO INCREASE FUNDING FOR PUBLIC EDUCATION.

The Labor Caucus of the Democratic Party of Hawaii stands in support of SB2922. Public education is an essential function of government and a central purpose of the state. Moreover, public schools are working class schools. Hawai‘i’s public schools have struggled with outdated facilities, too few staff, and a shortage of teachers. Our keiki deserve better than this. Whether we look at k-12, the University of Hawai‘i, or public libraries, the common theme is the defunding of public education. We urge the legislature to fully fund public education.

SUBJECT: COMMENTS OF SB 2922, RELATING TO EDUCATION FUNDING

The County of Maui, Real Property Assessment Division (RPAD) strongly opposes SB 2922, Relating to Education Funding.

Real property taxes within the State of Hawaii are based upon fair market value, various tax relief programs and a tax rate use classification system. Each county code states that assessments must be uniform and equalized throughout the county. Assessments have not been equalized throughout the state since 1981. Since 1981, the four counties have modified their real property tax systems to the point where they are economically unique. The differences that have evolved since the 1980's preclude an efficient, systematic, uniform and equalized statewide real property tax base and classification system.

We urge you to defer this bill at this time as it would be devastating to not fully understand the consequences on existing operations and affect the county's largest revenue source.

Thank you for the opportunity to testify on this matter.

Chair Taniguchi and Members of the Committee:

My name is Kelly Wadlegger. I am a grade 9-12 teacher/ performing arts/dance eduator at Castle High School in the Windward District on Oahu. I am submitting testimony in support of SB 2922 to increase funding for public schools. Our schools desperately need more funding in Hawaii. Many buildings need repairs, many teachers use their own money for supplies. My building has electrical issues that still have not been finished. I had a student pass out due to the extremed heat because my air conditioning in the dance studio has still not been fixed.

Many students have financial and food insecurity and rely on discounted or free lunch.

Students deserve financial resources to help them get quality education and keep and hire qualified good teachers. Students complain about teachers who are "burnt out" "don't care" and don't know what they are doing. Quality experienced teachers mean paying them a decent competitive salary. Many have to work a second job to make ends meet in Hawaii.

All of our children (not only rich private school) are also the future leaders, doctors, lawyers, politicians etc.. When teachers instruct their students, we build the foundation for equality and prosperity for tomorrow’s generations. Every dollar invested in our community’s public schools yields exponential returns, not just for our economy, but for the promise of a more open and democratic society.

Supporting this proposal will lift Hawai’i’s schools into the 21st Century. Please vote for this bill because we need to have lower class sizes that allow teachers to really connect with their students. We need to provide whole child education that includes the arts and Hawaiian studies, providing resources and services for students with special needs, and professional equitable pay that reflects the value of our hardworking teachers.

We need additional funding for our public schools, I see every day how lack of funding affects my own child's education, and the students in my community. Low pay and a lack of resources are driving teachers in Hawaii schools out of the profession, us teachers have to hold second and third jobs when we should be able to concentrate on our students instead of rushing off to second jobs, etc. Not everyone can afford to send kids to private schools. We need to properly fund our schools. I myself love my job at Castle and I see how our performing arts program literally saves kids who come from tough backgrounds. Students thrive in our arts program. It would be tragedy to lose funding for the arts because it gives my students life skills: focus, discipline, dedication, commitment, social skills, creative thinking and problem solving skills, inter and intrapersonal skills and confidence.

Children today are coming to us with hosts of difficulties because of the culture we adults are building. Now more than ever, they need the arts and trained counselors. Teachers can barely pay rent. I can barely afford to live on island. I have three jobs and truthfully, spend any extra money on supplies and snacks for my students. Teachers need to able to support themselves so that they can come to school without the stress of working three jobs so they can meet students with positive attitudes. Every dollar invested in our community's public schools yields exponential returns, not just for our economy, but for the promise of a more open and democratic society.
Supporting this proposal will lift Hawai'i's schools into the 21st Century. A vote for this measure is a vote for lower class sizes that allow teachers to connect with their students, whole child education that includes the arts and Hawaiian studies, providing resources and services for students with special needs, and professional pay that reflects the value of our hardworking teachers.

We need additional funding for our public schools because the profession of teaching is severely undervalued. Because of this, I see enthusiastic teachers leave year after year leaving vacant positions and leaving children with long term substitutes who are not qualified to provide the education that our children deserve. Teachers are leaving because they are expected to work above and beyond for little recognition and no reimbursement. They are not given the time or training necessary to address today's learners. They are overwhelmed so they are left with two options: to do the bare minimum in order to maintain their own health and sanity, or to pursue another career.

Our keiki deserve more than the bare minimum. To deliver the schools our keiki deserve, please support this bill.

We need your help. Mahalo.

We need additional funding for our public schools, because our students lack the necessary supplies, equipment and materials in order to excel in our education system. If we want to have computers and move into the direction of having students become more than adequate at technology than we need the resources and the infrastructure in order to support them. My own classroom only has two outlets in the entire room and cannot sustain a mobile lab or a smartboard for classroom instruction. We have a few labs on our campus, but everyone needs to share and rotate the usage of it. We could better use google classroom and our accelerated reading programs if our students has the necessary tools, equipment, and materials.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 2018

Aloha Kakahiaka, Good Morning,

This testimony is to be heard by Chair Taniguchi and Members of the Committee:

My name is Joyce Haase. I am a 6th grade teacher at Kaunakakai School on the Friendly Island of Molokai. I am submitting testimony in support of SB 2922 to increase funding for public schools. I have taught for almost ten years on Molokai and know that education is key to the success and sustainability of Hawaii. Because our children are our future, we as adults have to budget our state funds to make consideration to the growing needs of our schools and our students. The foundation for equality and prosperity in Hawaii new is based on the education our Keiki receive now. Every dollar invested in our community's public schools yields exponential returns, not just for our economy, but for the promise of a more open and democratic society.

It is time for Hawaii to step up its game and provide funding for education so schools and educators can keep pace with other states. Supporting this proposal will lift Hawai'i's schools into the 21st Century with technology and retaining adequately trained teachers to fill ALL positions throughout the islands. A vote for this measure is a vote for lower class sizes that allow teachers to connect with their students, whole child education that includes the arts, music education, physical education, computer and technical education, and Hawaiian studies. It is imperative we provide resources and services for students with special needs and those who are gifted and talented as well. Professional pay that reflects the value of our hardworking teachers must not be overlooked as an important element of funding schools, remember it is the teachers who each year are asked to do more and carry a heavier workload. Here on Molokai 3 out of 7 6th grade teaching positions are filled by a under qualified, long term substitute teachers for the 2017-2018 school year, is that acceptable to you?

We need additional funding for our public schools, because a poor educational foundation reverberates into our communities and creates many issues for the future.

To deliver the schools our keiki deserve, please support this bill.
I appreciate your help and a yes vote on SB 2922.

Dear Chair Taniguchi and Members of the Committee:

My name is Lynn Otaguro. I am a teacher at Lincoln Elementary in Honolulu on Oahu. I am submitting testimony in support of SB 2922 to increase funding for the public schools.

I am writing to ask that you support this measure because I believe in our public schools. Our schools are tasked with the responsibility of teaching all students and providing them with the support and guidance to learn not only academic content but also the life skills that will help them to succeed. In doing so, our public schools also serve the greater society by by providing a more informed citizenry and by helping to elevate our communities economically.

Unfortunately, for our schools, funding has been a chronic problem. Teacher recruitment and retention is a concern when we cannot pay our teachers enough to make their rent. A young teacher I know has chosen to live away because she cannot afford to live independently in Hawaii. In the special education area, it would be helpful to have more funding to provide personnel for our students who need additional adult support to function in the school setting. Recruitment and retention of educational assistants and tutors could also be improved through pay and benefits that would make it easier to stay and develop in those positions.

SB 2922 is a step toward addressing the funding shortfall experienced by our schools. To deliver the schools our keiki deserve, please support this bill.

Thank you,
Lynn Otaguro

We need additional funding for our public schools, because what we are pouring in now, does not suffice to maintain quality facilities, pay decent salary and maintain the materials needed for a quality education. As a Nationally Certified teacher since 2003, I do my part to help train teachers. For a mere $100 stipend, I train a teacher each year to help build our workforce. This person is with me 8 hours a day for 4.5 months. I receive no additional pay raise, time to teach, or external benefit other than the joy of training others with the gift I have been give, the love of teaching. But the system then does not maintain the beginning teacher by giving the adequate support through the first few years. Teachers are getting burned out at the beginning years, and the training is being left for the veteran teachers who receive no compensation for their hard work and dedication. Over the past 29 years in the profession, I watch quality teachers leave because they do not have the full support needed to stay on as a teacher. Every year I train a teacher from the University in hopes that they too will get the teaching desire to stay on through the tough times. More often, they don't last ten years in our state. We need to train, and maintain these quality people because our island's future depends upon it, and it costs money. Please provide the additional funds in our budget to pull our schools together.

Our school has been at full capacity for the past five years. We have no more room for students, and classes have been cut not because of the lack of teachers but the lack of space. We have new subdivisions being built with no where to make more classes, and there is no plan for the future. We need more funds in education to address the situational needs of each school to address their problems.

Mahalo.

God willing that we will be able to move forward providing quality education to our students. BUT we need your help. I love and respect our government, and that is why I ask in respectful sincerity for your help.

It has been my personal experience that when my class sizes have been smaller I have had more time and energy to individualize and differentiate my instruction. I have also noticed that students who struggle and do not get this type of instruction early on often get behind and some later become eligible for IDEA services. When students get behind they suffer. With the additional pressure of standardized testing and CCSS, students lose interest in even trying to meet expectations. The teachers at my school use their own money to buy furniture for their classrooms. I realize that my school was built in 1956 and is in need of repair. These are cosmetic concerns and we have learned to work around them.

My hope is that we will have smaller class sizes in the future. This would help me concentrate on the reading foundation skills that my first-graders need to succeed in school. Chair Taniguchi and Members of the Committee:

My name is Justin Hughey. I am a teacher at King Kamehameha III Elementary in on Maui. I am submitting testimony in strong support of SB 2922 to increase funding for public schools.

The problems of meager funding, too few teachers and dilapidated buildings have plagued Hawaii since 1911. When are we going to address the neglect to our public education system?

My administrator tells me that he is only as good as the list of teachers he can choose from. He would like a bigger list. It is not possible to attract more teachers when this state pays the worst salary in the country when factored in the cost of living. We need to be able to pay competitive wages. Its not like the weather is keeping highly qualified teachers away. In Lahaina, experienced teachers earn roughly 2600 a month and are paying 2000 dollars in rent for a one bedroom apartment. This makes no sense. The children suffer if they are not taught by a certified teacher. The last two years we have started the school year with 1600 teacher vacancies.

I say let the people vote. What is more democratic than that? Our keiki deserve a quality education, even if our state constitution doesn't ensure it.

If we believe in democracy, we need an educated citizenry. If we want a thriving economy we need to provide a quality education to every child.

I feel fortunate to be successful. The students I teach are not given the same opportunity as myself. I want to have a child and I want my child to have the same opportunity I had. This state has never valued public education and that has to change. A proper education should not be a privilege that is only given if your family is wealthy enough to enroll you into a private school.

To deliver the schools our keiki deserve, please support this bill.
We need you to address the funding neglect that has plagued this state since 1911. Education needs some justice!

Every dollar invested in our community's public schools yields exponential returns, not just for our economy, but for the promise of a more open and democratic society.

Supporting this proposal will lift Hawai'i's schools into the 21st Century. A vote for this measure is a vote for lower class sizes that allow teachers to connect with their students, whole child education that includes the arts and Hawaiian studies, providing resources and services for students with special needs, and professional pay that reflects the value of our hardworking teachers.

We need additional funding for our public schools, low pay and a lack of resources are driving teachers in my schools out of the profession, or a number of teachers have to hold second jobs. There also are safety concerns, where things hasn't been fixed for a number of years.

Please support this bill to deliver the schools our children deserve.

We need additional funding for our public schools because as much as I truly love Hawaii and its Keiki, the amazing students I feel blessed to serve here, I simply don't know how much longer I can continue to afford to work here on just my teaching income. Since moving here, I have had to rely on the income of my boyfriend to supplement, and we still had to resort to moving to an income restricted apartment just to survive. I also cannot afford professional development courses I would love to take that I know would help me improve my teaching skills and ultimately, enhance my students' learning. I have had to pay for additional training that was well beyond my means on credit cards. Two years ago, I sacrificed being closer to my only daughter, taking a $15, 000 pay cut and "starting all over" to move here. Teaching in Hawaii is my dream job, but unfortunately, it's a dream that's far beyond my means financially.

I have been teaching for 15 years, and I know I am a teacher who brings my years of experience and dedication to my classroom, but if like me, other teachers simply can't afford to stay here, it will continue to cause problems in recruiting enough teachers. I had to move back to the mainland back in 2009/2010, after teaching for a year at Waianae High School, when my daughter moved off the island because I couldn't afford to live here alone. I came back in 2016 with a heart to help students with special needs here and was (and am still) willing to live as cheaply as possible to do my part to help them, but I have also sacrificed my whole life to become a teacher and now I feel as if all that sacrifice was wasted if I have to continue to live in poverty in the years of teaching I have left before retirement.

We need additional funding for our public schools, because we currently have a teacher shortage and I don't want my daughter who goes to Ewa Beach Elementary school to be taught by a different teacher every quarter. Low pay and a lack of resources are driving teachers in my school out of the profession teachers including myself have to hold second and third jobs when they should be able to concentrate on their students instead of rushing off to second jobs. An investment in public school is an investment in the future of Hawaii.

We need additional funding for our public schools because as I am typing out this testimony, I am at my weekend tutorial job. I have been doing this for a number of years now, leaving my toddler son at home with my husband. I cannot spend time with my son as it is rather necessary to work multiple jobs, here in Hawaii, outside of my Monday through Friday classroom career. Last year, I refinanced my Makakilo townhome for another thirty years. My take-home pay could not cover the monthly mortgage payment and increasing maintenance fees. I have not had home internet since 2002, I simply cannot afford it. My grade level vice principal mandates that I upload my students' grades to Infinite Campus weekly, otherwise I face a conference with her. Since I cannot afford home internet, I find myself at the neighborhood Starbucks at 4 am or with my laptop in Target cafe area, after I am done with my grocery shopping. I should be able to concentrate on my grade seven students instead of rushing off to my second job, couponing, or find the next Secret Shop experience in order to feed my family. Investing in our public schools today is an investment in our society and future. My son Taizo turns three next month. We could not afford to send him to preschool this year, though my husband and I both value education before kindergarten. We have yet to figure out how to pay for his preschool when he is four.

We need additional funding for our public schools, because at our school, I serve as the curriculum coordinator, registrar, Title I coordinator, and have 4 more job titles. We do this at our school so we can devote more resources to having qualified teachers in our classes. However, the quality of the service I give to the students and parents suffers because it's impossible to fulfill all these job responsibilities with consistent high quality. It's just too much. And many of our teachers take on additional duties to provide our students with the services they deserve, including extracurricular activities. We need additional funding for our public schools, because the amount of students in my classroom has been increasing. I have a total of 17 students in a special education classroom with students of a variety of disabilities. I had started with only 10 students to decrease the size of another special education classroom that had a total of 19 students. Now my class size is again at a high number as a fully self contained setting. I also have a limited number of educational assistants that I must work with due to lack of funds to hire more educational assistants. I also continue to provide materials for my students so they can have the necessary learning beyond just the classroom. These students also need differential learning and the best tool for each student is having their own technical devices such as Chromebooks. Instead, I have 17 students sharing 6 technical devices.

Currently, Hawaii is the only state that does not use property taxes to fund education. Yes, it was given to the City, however, this is not a City or County responsibility, but a State since we are a one-State education system.

We need additional funding for our public schools, because so many amazing, talented people would like to enter the profession, but the pay given the high cost of living in Hawaii does not make it feasible. Many teachers currently are holding second and third jobs. Investing in our public school is an investment in our society. I went into teaching because of the influence my teacher had on me. Both of our children attend Hawai'i Public Schools because we believe that public schools are the foundation of a democratic society. We need additional funding for our public schools, because our children's teachers must work two jobs to make ends meet. They need clay in their art classes, bunsen burners and microscopes in their science classes, music instruments in music classes. Our children need a nurse and social worker/counselor in every school. Every child deserves smaller class sizes, nice facilities, and teachers who are compensated equitably for the tremendous work they do.

We need additional funding for our public schools, because this is an issue of social justice. The fact that private schools spend significantly more per student than public schools, and that public schools are largely composed of students of color, especially Hawaiian and Filipino students, while private schools are largely comprised of white and Japanese students, demonstrates the inequity that exists in our society around class and race. RE: SB 2922 RELATING TO EDUCATION
TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 2018, 9:30 a.m.

Aloha Chair Taniguchi and Members of the Committee:

My name is E. A. Ho'oipo Pa Nakea. I am a public high school special education teacher at Castle High School in Kane'ohe's Windward District on O'ahu. I am submitting testimony in support of SB 2922 to prioritize and increase funding for public schools.

After the illegal "overthrow" of Queen Lili'uokalani and her constitutional monarchy, succeeding regimes set about systematically repressing the Hawaiian national consciousness and Americanizing the population. Fortunately, there is an upsurge of national consciousness across Hawai'i as many refuse to allow the Hawaiian past to be obliterated. Hawaiians are seeking justice in the aftermath of the "conspiracy between the U.S. diplomatic and military personnel and a group of anti-monarchical insurgents that resulted in the illegal overthrow of the Hawaiian monarchy in 1893," and long-standing illegal American occupation of Hawai'i. Substantial research exists documenting the injurious nature of U.S. stewardship over Hawaiian people since the change in regime.

The challenge of how best to educate Hawai'i's students in our Americanized and capitalism-oriented society is heavy. As fellow Castle teacher Ingrid Vascelieu described, "There is a culture clash between the forces of the well-known rabid American consumerism and exacerbated individualism with the local system of values centered upon the community, ohana, the informal, personal cooperation, and symbolic identity." It is more than just teaching them academically; for Native Hawaiians in particular, there is a rebuilding from the ground up that needs to occur. They need to know of the historical achievements of our kūpuna, and know what intelligent and capable people they were; and we must ask ourselves:

1. What are the next steps for us, as 21st century education stakeholders?
2. What will we draw from to inform our future?

3. How will we innovate, create, and be successful like our kūpuna? Beamer, Kamanamaikalani. No MÄKou Ka Mana: Liberating the Nation. Kamehameha Publishing, 2010

Our children are our future. When teachers instruct our students, we build the foundation for equality and prosperity for tomorrow's generations. Every dollar invested in our community's public schools yields exponential returns, not just for our economy, but for the promise of a more open and democratic society.
Supporting this proposal will lift Hawai'i's schools into the 21st Century. A vote for this measure is a vote for lower class sizes that allow teachers to connect with their students, whole child education that includes the arts and Hawaiian studies, providing resources and services for students with special needs, and professional pay that reflects the value of our hardworking teachers.

We need additional funding for our public schools. It's critically essential that we reverse the acts of intentional underfunding of the public education system, as in the territorial days when the "buildings, maintenance, equipment, resources (e.g., libraries), salaries, number of teachers, and number of schools, were deemed inadequate ... [because] 'the expense which the Territory has been placed on account of its schools is but a small fraction of costs which communities on the mainland have had to meet.'"

Mo'i Liholiho led a successful literacy initiative in the 1820s that distributed books with the pī'apā, the Hawaiian alphabet, throughout the islands;[1] and by the mid-1800s, Hawai'i was considered one of the most literate populations in the entire world.[2] In the late-1800s, through the early-1900s there were over a dozen Hawaiian language newspapers regularly published across Hawai'i. Within three years from Queen Lili'uokalani's abdication to the U.S., the Hawaiian language was outlawed and no longer taught in the education system contributing to the steep decline of literacy rates in Hawai'i.[3] This decline in Hawaiian literacy was a direct outcome of the severing of traditional ties through the removal of the mo'i, the influx of a large English-speaking population, and the oligarchy's desire to Americanize Hawai'i.

'Olelo Hawai'i, the Hawaiian language, was ingrained within the social, political and judicial systems of the Kingdom. The Hawaiian nation enjoyed one of the highest literacy rates of any country in the world by the mid-1800's, and the language was 'olelo Hawai'i. It is said that "this legendary rise in literacy climbed from a near-zero literacy rate in 1820, to between 91 to 95 percent by 1834."[4] That's only twelve years from the time the first book was printed! Schools were established and Native Hawaiians learned to read and write in their own rich language; and in 1867, at the Paris International Exhibition, Hawai'i's ali'i proudly displayed how its high literacy rates were obtained.

"When 'Oiwi became publishers of their own newspapers, they appropriated the printing press and turned it into an engine for ancient mo'olelo and mo'oku'auhau that distinctly celebrated Hawaiian heritage and ensured 'that their knowledge was passed on to future generations.'[5] Noenoe Silva documented how 'O'iwi used newspapers as a medium for preserving cultural and national history, and for creating a forum to express their collective identity as a people.

In addition to the law removing 'olelo Hawai'i as a medium for classroom instruction, Lorrin Thurston, a Hawai'i-born politician and businessman, called for the removal of the Hawaiian language as a qualification for being a representative on May 5, 1894. In 1896, under the the "traitorish" Sanford B. Dole, (formerly Supreme Court Justice under King Kalakaua, and Privy Council member under Queen Lili'uokalani of the Hawaiian Kingdom, who morphed into the leadership of the adverse Provisional Government, Republic of Hawai'i and then became Territory of Hawai'i Governor), implemented an official ban on the use of 'olelo Hawai'i in Hawai'i schools. Even Kamehameha Schools, founded to benefit Hawaiian children, forbade the use and teaching of Hawaiian language for a time period. These measures steadily ushered the Hawaiian language out of the public sphere and reinforced the use of the English language in all areas of government.

The effects were felt in all aspects of society, particularly in schools. Students in the territory would be physically punished and mentally abused for speaking their native tongue in public schools. While gaining a new language and new customs and values, children often lost the traditions and customs of their old culture. These active efforts to expel the Hawaiian language from the public sphere led to its disappearance from the private sphere as well. Largely because of shame and ridicule, many native speakers chose not to teach Hawaiian to their children and grandchildren.

Professor Jon Osorio observed, "This is such a different situation than it was in the 19th century, when we were a kingdom. When we had our own government, and when we had one of the highest literacy rates in the entire world." The damage to the Hawaiian people was expansive as the United Church of Christ described in its 1993 apology to the Hawaiian people, presented on the 100th anniversary of the illegal "overthrow:"

> Some of these men and women, however, sometimes confused the ways of the West with the ways of Christ. Assumptions of cultural and racial superiority and alien economic understanding led some of them and those who followed them to discount or undervalue the strengths of the mature society they encountered. Therefore, the rich indigenous values of Na Kanaka Maoli, their language, their spirituality, and their respect for the land, were denigrated.

The resulting social, political, and economic implications of these harmful attitudes contributed to the suffering.

It has already been determined that the deplorable state of affairs of public education in Hawai'i is grounded in the original purposes of the public education system and the ways in which it perpetuates and hardens social divisions along racial, ethnic, and class lines. HSTA.org. (2017). School Our Keiki Deserve: From the HSTA Speaker's Bureau. [online] Available at: http://www.hsta.org/docs-forms/uploads/SchoolsOurKeikiDeserve.pdf [Accessed 3 Dec. 2017]. The original purposes of public education in Hawai'i were formed in the historical context of cultural imperialism, illegal occupation, and racial assimilation, and this can still be seen in the ways public education suffers from underfunding and marginalization. This was especially in comparison to private schools in Hawai'i.

Segregation in Hawai'i's education originated in the 19th century between private and public schools , when sons of American Protestant missionaries imported foreign laborers for sugar and pineapple production. The white plantation owners used race-based wage rates, language and cultural barriers, and differential access to perquisites to divide the plantation workers and successfully control them as sources of cheap labor. Public schools claim to have accomplished their assimilative tasks with the Hawaiians and the non- white immigrants arguing that racial integration is being accepted as natural and is increasing in both the public and private schools. Bernhard L. Hormann and Lawrence M. Kasdon, Integration in Hawaii's Schools, Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development (1959).

It is most important that the underfunding and marginalization of public education be reversed as education is a key component for raising consciousness. Both individuals and society benefit from the right to education. It is fundamental for human, social, and economic development and a key element to achieving lasting peace and sustainable development. It is a powerful tool in developing the full potential of everyone and ensuring human dignity, and in promoting individual and collective wellbeing. In brief: 1) it is an empowerment right, 2) it lifts marginalized groups out of poverty, 3) it is an indispensable means of realizing other rights; 4) it contributes to the full development of the human personality For more details, see the Committee on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights' General Comment 13 on the right to education (1999, para. 1)

Our school system was designed in 1893 to provide workers for jobs that no longer exist. Inequitable school funding demonstrates the low priority of education, leading to a de-professionalization of the teacher's job and lack of sufficient funding for learning materials and equipment. Loss of teacher autonomy and voice is also a problem. Instead of investing ten million dollars to bring in teachers from outside of Hawai'i', invest that money in Hawai'i' and create the best teachers locally. Of course our students deserve the best teachers, whether from in or out of Hawai'i. But by investing in local development, students might benefit from teachers that they feel understand and look like them. Teachers express concern over the psychological effects that toxic testing culture has on students, and the ways in which student's fundamental sense of humanity and self-worth are increasingly undermined by highly pressurized and hypercompetitive public school culture.

It is past time for all students to learn the truth about our islands' history and culture in an effective and transformative way. It's time to support teachers with classroom resources that will provide for a shared understanding of our collective past, in order to walk together into a better future.

To deliver the schools our keiki deserve, please support this bill.

Testimony regarding SB 2922

PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO ARTICLES VIII AND X OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF HAWAII TO AUTHORIZE THE LEGISLATURE TO ESTABLISH A SURCHARGE TO INCREASE FUNDING FOR PUBLIC EDUCATION.

Dear Chair Taniguchi and committee members:

My name is Tracy Stice and I write in opposition to this proposal to place this constitutional amendment on the ballot.

As the father of three children , one of whom is a teacher , born and raised in the Hawaii educational system with two of them having attended the University of Hawaii, I see this measure as not facing the real challenge. It is attempting to export the responsibility the state has to educate our children. We already have enough mechanisms to collect the necessary taxes to adequately fund education via the GET tax, and income taxes. We do not need another tax that will drive up housing rents to the very school teachers this bill presumes to benefit.

In 2001, my wife Laura and I , together with my son Jeremy who was attending UH at the time purchased two little homes in Palolo. Jeremy was a 50% owner and he worked at Hula Grill while attending classes , lived in one of the houses. We rented the other house to students. After he finished, having no further need to own the property , we sold it. Our timing in the market was good and we made a profit. All of the profit went to pay off school debt. Jeremy got a great start in life as an adult by not having the burden of school loans.

We have purchased other investment properties in Hawaii over the past 40 years, fixed up a lot of falling down houses and turned them in to needed , long term rentals, and actually made a profit most of the time and paid a lot of taxes. Please don't close this door to Hawaii investors.

This bill really confounds me. Most of the affordable rentals in the state are in larger apartment building with more than 3 units. I don't think you can find a 3 unit apartment building or larger priced under $1,000,000 in Honolulu or Maui. Perhaps you can on Hawaii of Kauai. By raising the property taxes on these buildings, this bill will directly be the cause of rental increase as most landlords run a business, not a philanthropy. Granted, the state probably does not pay teachers enough to buy homes , so it forces many of them to be renters. Raise taxes ,so you can pay the poor teachers more to pay for their rental increases ? Who wins ?

As the father of a high school teacher and the son of a school teacher, I certainly remember the countless hours I helped my mother grade papers at night, so I know how under paid and overworked teachers are.

This bill is a political ploy to offset the responsibilities that you as legislators have. Shifting the responsibility to the voters by disguising this bill a necessary solution to legislators lack of will to use the tools at hand and make the hard decisions they were elected to make is a cop out.

The complications that this bill creates for the various counties face to administrate, collect and remit taxes to the state , and then hope that they actually end up in increased teacher salaries and needed capital improvements and repairs, rather than in the hands of the bureaucracy of the DOE is not necessary.

Look at what happened with the TAT and Conveyance Taxes. The reasons they were created are long buried in how they are presently treated. TAT increase paying for rail ? Conveyance taxes paying for everything other than the bureau of Conveyances ? Come on, don't create another avenue for mis-management, special funds that avoid budget scrutiny, and just another way to stay politically safe.

Take responsibility for your jobs and give the DOE what they need as part of the normal budget process.

Mahalo for allowing me to testify.

to increase funding for public schools. Our children are our future. When teachers instruct their students, we build the foundation for their entire life and future generations. Every dollar invested in our community's public schools returns, to our local economy, and promises a better future of a more open and democratic society. Supporting this proposal will lift Hawai'i's schools into the 21st Century. A vote for this measure is a vote for lower class sizes that allow teachers to connect with their students, whole child education that includes the arts and Hawaiian studies, providing resources and services for students with special needs, and professional pay that reflects the value of our hardworking teachers.

We need additional funding for our public schools, because, let’s face it our schools could be so much better! We owe this to our islands! Wouldn’t it be great if Hawaii ranked as one of the highest schools in America?

Each year I've invested my own money for my students needs. I've had Homeless students as well as lots from public housing. It is hard for those children to not have what they need. It creates an unequal situation which impacts their learning environment!

Teacher’s low pay and lack of resources drives away perspective teachers and many new teachers leave the profession entirely! Many teachers at my school had to hold second and third jobs when they should be able to concentrate on their students instead of rushing off to another jobs.

Investing in our public schools is an investment in our society and our future.

Senator Karl Roads, Vice Chair

Regarding: Support for SB2922: PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO ARTICLES VIII AND X OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF HAWAII TO AUTHORIZE THE LEGISLATURE TO ESTABLISH A SURCHARGE TO INCREASE FUNDING FOR PUBLIC EDUCATION.

The Labor Caucus of the Democratic Party of Hawaii stands in support of SB2922. Public education is an essential function of government and a central purpose of the state. Moreover, public schools are working class schools. Hawai‘i’s public schools have struggled with outdated facilities, too few staff, and a shortage of teachers. Our keiki deserve better than this. Whether we look at k-12, the University of Hawai‘i, or public libraries, the common theme is the defunding of public education. We urge the legislature to fully fund public education.

SUBJECT: COMMENTS OF SB 2922, RELATING TO EDUCATION FUNDING

The County of Maui, Real Property Assessment Division (RPAD) strongly opposes SB 2922, Relating to Education Funding.

Real property taxes within the State of Hawaii are based upon fair market value, various tax relief programs and a tax rate use classification system. Each county code states that assessments must be uniform and equalized throughout the county. Assessments have not been equalized throughout the state since 1981. Since 1981, the four counties have modified their real property tax systems to the point where they are economically unique. The differences that have evolved since the 1980's preclude an efficient, systematic, uniform and equalized statewide real property tax base and classification system.

We urge you to defer this bill at this time as it would be devastating to not fully understand the consequences on existing operations and affect the county's largest revenue source.

Thank you for the opportunity to testify on this matter.

Chair Taniguchi and Members of the Committee:

My name is Kelly Wadlegger. I am a grade 9-12 teacher/ performing arts/dance eduator at Castle High School in the Windward District on Oahu. I am submitting testimony in support of SB 2922 to increase funding for public schools. Our schools desperately need more funding in Hawaii. Many buildings need repairs, many teachers use their own money for supplies. My building has electrical issues that still have not been finished. I had a student pass out due to the extremed heat because my air conditioning in the dance studio has still not been fixed.

Many students have financial and food insecurity and rely on discounted or free lunch.

Students deserve financial resources to help them get quality education and keep and hire qualified good teachers. Students complain about teachers who are "burnt out" "don't care" and don't know what they are doing. Quality experienced teachers mean paying them a decent competitive salary. Many have to work a second job to make ends meet in Hawaii.

All of our children (not only rich private school) are also the future leaders, doctors, lawyers, politicians etc.. When teachers instruct their students, we build the foundation for equality and prosperity for tomorrow’s generations. Every dollar invested in our community’s public schools yields exponential returns, not just for our economy, but for the promise of a more open and democratic society.

Supporting this proposal will lift Hawai’i’s schools into the 21st Century. Please vote for this bill because we need to have lower class sizes that allow teachers to really connect with their students. We need to provide whole child education that includes the arts and Hawaiian studies, providing resources and services for students with special needs, and professional equitable pay that reflects the value of our hardworking teachers.

We need additional funding for our public schools, I see every day how lack of funding affects my own child's education, and the students in my community. Low pay and a lack of resources are driving teachers in Hawaii schools out of the profession, us teachers have to hold second and third jobs when we should be able to concentrate on our students instead of rushing off to second jobs, etc. Not everyone can afford to send kids to private schools. We need to properly fund our schools. I myself love my job at Castle and I see how our performing arts program literally saves kids who come from tough backgrounds. Students thrive in our arts program. It would be tragedy to lose funding for the arts because it gives my students life skills: focus, discipline, dedication, commitment, social skills, creative thinking and problem solving skills, inter and intrapersonal skills and confidence.

Children today are coming to us with hosts of difficulties because of the culture we adults are building. Now more than ever, they need the arts and trained counselors. Teachers can barely pay rent. I can barely afford to live on island. I have three jobs and truthfully, spend any extra money on supplies and snacks for my students. Teachers need to able to support themselves so that they can come to school without the stress of working three jobs so they can meet students with positive attitudes. TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 2018

Aloha Kakahiaka, Good Morning,

This testimony is to be heard by Chair Taniguchi and Members of the Committee:

My name is Joyce Haase. I am a 6th grade teacher at Kaunakakai School on the Friendly Island of Molokai. I am submitting testimony in support of SB 2922 to increase funding for public schools. I have taught for almost ten years on Molokai and know that education is key to the success and sustainability of Hawaii. Because our children are our future, we as adults have to budget our state funds to make consideration to the growing needs of our schools and our students. The foundation for equality and prosperity in Hawaii new is based on the education our Keiki receive now. Every dollar invested in our community's public schools yields exponential returns, not just for our economy, but for the promise of a more open and democratic society.

It is time for Hawaii to step up its game and provide funding for education so schools and educators can keep pace with other states. Supporting this proposal will lift Hawai'i's schools into the 21st Century with technology and retaining adequately trained teachers to fill ALL positions throughout the islands. A vote for this measure is a vote for lower class sizes that allow teachers to connect with their students, whole child education that includes the arts, music education, physical education, computer and technical education, and Hawaiian studies. It is imperative we provide resources and services for students with special needs and those who are gifted and talented as well. Professional pay that reflects the value of our hardworking teachers must not be overlooked as an important element of funding schools, remember it is the teachers who each year are asked to do more and carry a heavier workload. Here on Molokai 3 out of 7 6th grade teaching positions are filled by a under qualified, long term substitute teachers for the 2017-2018 school year, is that acceptable to you?

We need additional funding for our public schools, because a poor educational foundation reverberates into our communities and creates many issues for the future.

To deliver the schools our keiki deserve, please support this bill.
I appreciate your help and a yes vote on SB 2922.
Mahalo.

Dear Chair Taniguchi and Members of the Committee:

My name is Lynn Otaguro. I am a teacher at Lincoln Elementary in Honolulu on Oahu. I am submitting testimony in support of SB 2922 to increase funding for the public schools.

I am writing to ask that you support this measure because I believe in our public schools. Our schools are tasked with the responsibility of teaching all students and providing them with the support and guidance to learn not only academic content but also the life skills that will help them to succeed. In doing so, our public schools also serve the greater society by by providing a more informed citizenry and by helping to elevate our communities economically.

Unfortunately, for our schools, funding has been a chronic problem. Teacher recruitment and retention is a concern when we cannot pay our teachers enough to make their rent. A young teacher I know has chosen to live away because she cannot afford to live independently in Hawaii. In the special education area, it would be helpful to have more funding to provide personnel for our students who need additional adult support to function in the school setting. Recruitment and retention of educational assistants and tutors could also be improved through pay and benefits that would make it easier to stay and develop in those positions.

SB 2922 is a step toward addressing the funding shortfall experienced by our schools. To deliver the schools our keiki deserve, please support this bill.

Thank you,
Lynn Otaguro

We need additional funding for our public schools, because what we are pouring in now, does not suffice to maintain quality facilities, pay decent salary and maintain the materials needed for a quality education. As a Nationally Certified teacher since 2003, I do my part to help train teachers. For a mere $100 stipend, I train a teacher each year to help build our workforce. This person is with me 8 hours a day for 4.5 months. I receive no additional pay raise, time to teach, or external benefit other than the joy of training others with the gift I have been give, the love of teaching. But the system then does not maintain the beginning teacher by giving the adequate support through the first few years. Teachers are getting burned out at the beginning years, and the training is being left for the veteran teachers who receive no compensation for their hard work and dedication. Over the past 29 years in the profession, I watch quality teachers leave because they do not have the full support needed to stay on as a teacher. Every year I train a teacher from the University in hopes that they too will get the teaching desire to stay on through the tough times. More often, they don't last ten years in our state. We need to train, and maintain these quality people because our island's future depends upon it, and it costs money. Please provide the additional funds in our budget to pull our schools together.

Our school has been at full capacity for the past five years. We have no more room for students, and classes have been cut not because of the lack of teachers but the lack of space. We have new subdivisions being built with no where to make more classes, and there is no plan for the future. We need more funds in education to address the situational needs of each school to address their problems.

Mahalo.

God willing that we will be able to move forward providing quality education to our students. BUT we need your help. I love and respect our government, and that is why I ask in respectful sincerity for your help.

We need additional funding for our public schools, because.the lack of funding has made it very difficult to teach our special needs students with the proper resources. I spend between $800-$1000 of my own money every year because of people who cannot understand the needs of our schools, students, and teachers. I have also worked 22 years in a row without taking any summer off because of the low pay. This makes things much more stressful on my health and family.

It has been my personal experience that when my class sizes have been smaller I have had more time and energy to individualize and differentiate my instruction. I have also noticed that students who struggle and do not get this type of instruction early on often get behind and some later become eligible for IDEA services. When students get behind they suffer. With the additional pressure of standardized testing and CCSS, students lose interest in even trying to meet expectations. Our keiki deserve to have instruction that meets their needs and doesn't leave them completely overwhelmed.

I feel bad for the students at my school. Our buildings are old and my students sit at old metal desks with damaged tops from termites. The teachers at my school use their own money to buy furniture for their classrooms. I realize that my school was built in 1956 and is in need of repair. These are cosmetic concerns and we have learned to work around them.

My hope is that we will have smaller class sizes in the future. This would help me concentrate on the reading foundation skills that my first-graders need to succeed in school. In the past, I have had up to 27 students. This makes it difficult to work with students individually and tailor instruction to meet their individual needs.

We need additional funding for our public schools, because our children's future depends on the funds in order to enrich and obtain quality and productive citizens of society. On the contrary our fights outside our country may be in vein since our future Populations, both Soldiers and Civilians will have less assets for our country to depend on and reduce our chances for a better and stronger country. We need to invest in our children because our legacy is at stake. Our current lack of funding affects your children/ students/community, how low pay and a lack of resources are driving teachers in your schools out of the profession, how teachers have to hold second and third jobs when they should be able to concentrate on their students instead of rushing off to second jobs. We need assets and not counterproductive assets beating us to the ground because Education outcome, economy, resources, grants, scholarships are unavailable for a bright student to help our country be great again and fight our trending issues way ahead of us. Chair Taniguchi and Members of the Committee:

My name is Justin Hughey. I am a teacher at King Kamehameha III Elementary in on Maui. I am submitting testimony in strong support of SB 2922 to increase funding for public schools.

The problems of meager funding, too few teachers and dilapidated buildings have plagued Hawaii since 1911. When are we going to address the neglect to our public education system?

My administrator tells me that he is only as good as the list of teachers he can choose from. He would like a bigger list. It is not possible to attract more teachers when this state pays the worst salary in the country when factored in the cost of living. We need to be able to pay competitive wages. Its not like the weather is keeping highly qualified teachers away. In Lahaina, experienced teachers earn roughly 2600 a month and are paying 2000 dollars in rent for a one bedroom apartment. This makes no sense. The children suffer if they are not taught by a certified teacher. The last two years we have started the school year with 1600 teacher vacancies.

I say let the people vote. What is more democratic than that? Our keiki deserve a quality education, even if our state constitution doesn't ensure it.

If we believe in democracy, we need an educated citizenry. If we want a thriving economy we need to provide a quality education to every child.

I feel fortunate to be successful. The students I teach are not given the same opportunity as myself. I want to have a child and I want my child to have the same opportunity I had. This state has never valued public education and that has to change. A proper education should not be a privilege that is only given if your family is wealthy enough to enroll you into a private school.

We need additional funding for our public schools because as much as I truly love Hawaii and its Keiki, the amazing students I feel blessed to serve here, I simply don't know how much longer I can continue to afford to work here on just my teaching income. Since moving here, I have had to rely on the income of my boyfriend to supplement, and we still had to resort to moving to an income restricted apartment just to survive. I also cannot afford professional development courses I would love to take that I know would help me improve my teaching skills and ultimately, enhance my students' learning. I have had to pay for additional training that was well beyond my means on credit cards. Two years ago, I sacrificed being closer to my only daughter, taking a $15, 000 pay cut and "starting all over" to move here. Teaching in Hawaii is my dream job, but unfortunately, it's a dream that's far beyond my means financially.

I have been teaching for 15 years, and I know I am a teacher who brings my years of experience and dedication to my classroom, but if like me, other teachers simply can't afford to stay here, it will continue to cause problems in recruiting enough teachers. I had to move back to the mainland back in 2009/2010, after teaching for a year at Waianae High School, when my daughter moved off the island because I couldn't afford to live here alone. I came back in 2016 with a heart to help students with special needs here and was (and am still) willing to live as cheaply as possible to do my part to help them, but I have also sacrificed my whole life to become a teacher and now I feel as if all that sacrifice was wasted if I have to continue to live in poverty in the years of teaching I have left before retirement.

We need additional funding for our public schools because as I am typing out this testimony, I am at my weekend tutorial job. I have been doing this for a number of years now, leaving my toddler son at home with my husband. I cannot spend time with my son as it is rather necessary to work multiple jobs, here in Hawaii, outside of my Monday through Friday classroom career. Last year, I refinanced my Makakilo townhome for another thirty years. My take-home pay could not cover the monthly mortgage payment and increasing maintenance fees. I have not had home internet since 2002, I simply cannot afford it. My grade level vice principal mandates that I upload my students' grades to Infinite Campus weekly, otherwise I face a conference with her. Since I cannot afford home internet, I find myself at the neighborhood Starbucks at 4 am or with my laptop in Target cafe area, after I am done with my grocery shopping. I should be able to concentrate on my grade seven students instead of rushing off to my second job, couponing, or find the next Secret Shop experience in order to feed my family. Investing in our public schools today is an investment in our society and future. My son Taizo turns three next month. We could not afford to send him to preschool this year, though my husband and I both value education before kindergarten. We have yet to figure out how to pay for his preschool when he is four.

Every dollar invested in our community's public schools yields exponential returns, not just for our economy, but for the promise of a more open and democratic society.

Supporting this proposal will lift Hawai'i's schools into the 21st Century. A vote for this measure is a vote for lower class sizes that allow teachers to connect with their students, whole child education that includes the arts and Hawaiian studies, providing resources and services for students with special needs, and professional pay that reflects the value of our hardworking teachers.

We need additional funding for our public schools, because at our school, I serve as the curriculum coordinator, registrar, Title I coordinator, and have 4 more job titles. We do this at our school so we can devote more resources to having qualified teachers in our classes. However, the quality of the service I give to the students and parents suffers because it's impossible to fulfill all these job responsibilities with consistent high quality. It's just too much. And many of our teachers take on additional duties to provide our students with the services they deserve, including extracurricular activities. Our small rural schools and staff want to provide the best support possible for our keiki, but we are underfunded.

To deliver the schools our keiki deserve, please support this bill.

Chair Taniguchi and Members of the Committee:

My name is Bonnie Blake. I am a Special Education Teacher at Kahuku High and Intermediate School in the Windward District on O'ahu. I am submitting testimony in support of SB 2922 to increase funding for public schools.

Our children are our future. When teachers instruct their students, we build the foundation for equality and prosperity for tomorrow's generations. Every dollar invested in our community's public schools yields exponential returns, not just for our economy, but for the promise of a more open and democratic society.

Supporting this proposal will lift Hawai'i's schools into the 21st Century. We need additional funding for our public schools, because the amount of students in my classroom has been increasing. I have a total of 17 students in a special education classroom with students of a variety of disabilities. I had started with only 10 students to decrease the size of another special education classroom that had a total of 19 students. Now my class size is again at a high number as a fully self contained setting. I also have a limited number of educational assistants that I must work with due to lack of funds to hire more educational assistants. I also continue to provide materials for my students so they can have the necessary learning beyond just the classroom. These students also need differential learning and the best tool for each student is having their own technical devices such as Chromebooks. Instead, I have 17 students sharing 6 technical devices.

To deliver the schools our keiki deserve, please support this bill.

Currently, Hawaii is the only state that does not use property taxes to fund education. Yes, it was given to the City, however, this is not a City or County responsibility, but a State since we are a one-State education system.

We need additional funding for our public schools, because so many amazing, talented people would like to enter the profession, but the pay given the high cost of living in Hawaii does not make it feasible. Many teachers currently are holding second and third jobs. Investing in our public school is an investment in our society. I went into teaching because of the influence my teacher had on me. We need additional funding for our public schools, because our children's teachers must work two jobs to make ends meet. They need clay in their art classes, bunsen burners and microscopes in their science classes, music instruments in music classes. Our children need a nurse and social worker/counselor in every school. Every child deserves smaller class sizes, nice facilities, and teachers who are compensated equitably for the tremendous work they do.

We need additional funding for our public schools, because this is an issue of social justice. The fact that private schools spend significantly more per student than public schools, and that public schools are largely composed of students of color, especially Hawaiian and Filipino students, while private schools are largely comprised of white and Japanese students, demonstrates the inequity that exists in our society around class and race. RE: SB 2922 RELATING TO EDUCATION
TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 2018, 9:30 a.m.

Aloha Chair Taniguchi and Members of the Committee:

My name is E. A. Ho'oipo Pa Nakea. I am a public high school special education teacher at Castle High School in Kane'ohe's Windward District on O'ahu. I am submitting testimony in support of SB 2922 to prioritize and increase funding for public schools.

After the illegal "overthrow" of Queen Lili'uokalani and her constitutional monarchy, succeeding regimes set about systematically repressing the Hawaiian national consciousness and Americanizing the population. Fortunately, there is an upsurge of national consciousness across Hawai'i as many refuse to allow the Hawaiian past to be obliterated. Hawaiians are seeking justice in the aftermath of the "conspiracy between the U.S. diplomatic and military personnel and a group of anti-monarchical insurgents that resulted in the illegal overthrow of the Hawaiian monarchy in 1893," and long-standing illegal American occupation of Hawai'i. Substantial research exists documenting the injurious nature of U.S. stewardship over Hawaiian people since the change in regime.

The challenge of how best to educate Hawai'i's students in our Americanized and capitalism-oriented society is heavy. As fellow Castle teacher Ingrid Vascelieu described, "There is a culture clash between the forces of the well-known rabid American consumerism and exacerbated individualism with the local system of values centered upon the community, ohana, the informal, personal cooperation, and symbolic identity." It is more than just teaching them academically; for Native Hawaiians in particular, there is a rebuilding from the ground up that needs to occur. They need to know of the historical achievements of our kūpuna, and know what intelligent and capable people they were; and we must ask ourselves:

1. What are the next steps for us, as 21st century education stakeholders?
2. What will we draw from to inform our future?

3. How will we innovate, create, and be successful like our kūpuna? Beamer, Kamanamaikalani. No MÄKou Ka Mana: Liberating the Nation. Kamehameha Publishing, 2010

Our children are our future. When teachers instruct our students, we build the foundation for equality and prosperity for tomorrow's generations. Every dollar invested in our community's public schools yields exponential returns, not just for our economy, but for the promise of a more open and democratic society.
Supporting this proposal will lift Hawai'i's schools into the 21st Century. A vote for this measure is a vote for lower class sizes that allow teachers to connect with their students, whole child education that includes the arts and Hawaiian studies, providing resources and services for students with special needs, and professional pay that reflects the value of our hardworking teachers.

We need additional funding for our public schools. It's critically essential that we reverse the acts of intentional underfunding of the public education system, as in the territorial days when the "buildings, maintenance, equipment, resources (e.g., libraries), salaries, number of teachers, and number of schools, were deemed inadequate ... [because] 'the expense which the Territory has been placed on account of its schools is but a small fraction of costs which communities on the mainland have had to meet.'"

Mo'i Liholiho led a successful literacy initiative in the 1820s that distributed books with the pī'apā, the Hawaiian alphabet, throughout the islands;[1] and by the mid-1800s, Hawai'i was considered one of the most literate populations in the entire world.[2] In the late-1800s, through the early-1900s there were over a dozen Hawaiian language newspapers regularly published across Hawai'i. Within three years from Queen Lili'uokalani's abdication to the U.S., the Hawaiian language was outlawed and no longer taught in the education system contributing to the steep decline of literacy rates in Hawai'i.[3] This decline in Hawaiian literacy was a direct outcome of the severing of traditional ties through the removal of the mo'i, the influx of a large English-speaking population, and the oligarchy's desire to Americanize Hawai'i.

'Olelo Hawai'i, the Hawaiian language, was ingrained within the social, political and judicial systems of the Kingdom. The Hawaiian nation enjoyed one of the highest literacy rates of any country in the world by the mid-1800's, and the language was 'olelo Hawai'i. It is said that "this legendary rise in literacy climbed from a near-zero literacy rate in 1820, to between 91 to 95 percent by 1834."[4] That's only twelve years from the time the first book was printed! Schools were established and Native Hawaiians learned to read and write in their own rich language; and in 1867, at the Paris International Exhibition, Hawai'i's ali'i proudly displayed how its high literacy rates were obtained.

"When 'Oiwi became publishers of their own newspapers, they appropriated the printing press and turned it into an engine for ancient mo'olelo and mo'oku'auhau that distinctly celebrated Hawaiian heritage and ensured 'that their knowledge was passed on to future generations.'[5] Noenoe Silva documented how 'O'iwi used newspapers as a medium for preserving cultural and national history, and for creating a forum to express their collective identity as a people.

In addition to the law removing 'olelo Hawai'i as a medium for classroom instruction, Lorrin Thurston, a Hawai'i-born politician and businessman, called for the removal of the Hawaiian language as a qualification for being a representative on May 5, 1894. In 1896, under the the "traitorish" Sanford B. Dole, (formerly Supreme Court Justice under King Kalakaua, and Privy Council member under Queen Lili'uokalani of the Hawaiian Kingdom, who morphed into the leadership of the adverse Provisional Government, Republic of Hawai'i and then became Territory of Hawai'i Governor), implemented an official ban on the use of 'olelo Hawai'i in Hawai'i schools. Even Kamehameha Schools, founded to benefit Hawaiian children, forbade the use and teaching of Hawaiian language for a time period. These measures steadily ushered the Hawaiian language out of the public sphere and reinforced the use of the English language in all areas of government.

The effects were felt in all aspects of society, particularly in schools. Students in the territory would be physically punished and mentally abused for speaking their native tongue in public schools. While gaining a new language and new customs and values, children often lost the traditions and customs of their old culture. These active efforts to expel the Hawaiian language from the public sphere led to its disappearance from the private sphere as well. Largely because of shame and ridicule, many native speakers chose not to teach Hawaiian to their children and grandchildren.

Professor Jon Osorio observed, "This is such a different situation than it was in the 19th century, when we were a kingdom. When we had our own government, and when we had one of the highest literacy rates in the entire world." The damage to the Hawaiian people was expansive as the United Church of Christ described in its 1993 apology to the Hawaiian people, presented on the 100th anniversary of the illegal "overthrow:"

> Some of these men and women, however, sometimes confused the ways of the West with the ways of Christ. Assumptions of cultural and racial superiority and alien economic understanding led some of them and those who followed them to discount or undervalue the strengths of the mature society they encountered. Therefore, the rich indigenous values of Na Kanaka Maoli, their language, their spirituality, and their respect for the land, were denigrated.

The resulting social, political, and economic implications of these harmful attitudes contributed to the suffering.

It has already been determined that the deplorable state of affairs of public education in Hawai'i is grounded in the original purposes of the public education system and the ways in which it perpetuates and hardens social divisions along racial, ethnic, and class lines. HSTA.org. (2017). School Our Keiki Deserve: From the HSTA Speaker's Bureau. [online] Available at: http://www.hsta.org/docs-forms/uploads/SchoolsOurKeikiDeserve.pdf [Accessed 3 Dec. 2017]. The original purposes of public education in Hawai'i were formed in the historical context of cultural imperialism, illegal occupation, and racial assimilation, and this can still be seen in the ways public education suffers from underfunding and marginalization. This was especially in comparison to private schools in Hawai'i.

Segregation in Hawai'i's education originated in the 19th century between private and public schools , when sons of American Protestant missionaries imported foreign laborers for sugar and pineapple production. The white plantation owners used race-based wage rates, language and cultural barriers, and differential access to perquisites to divide the plantation workers and successfully control them as sources of cheap labor. Public schools claim to have accomplished their assimilative tasks with the Hawaiians and the non- white immigrants arguing that racial integration is being accepted as natural and is increasing in both the public and private schools. Bernhard L. Hormann and Lawrence M. Kasdon, Integration in Hawaii's Schools, Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development (1959).

It is most important that the underfunding and marginalization of public education be reversed as education is a key component for raising consciousness. Both individuals and society benefit from the right to education. It is fundamental for human, social, and economic development and a key element to achieving lasting peace and sustainable development. It is a powerful tool in developing the full potential of everyone and ensuring human dignity, and in promoting individual and collective wellbeing. In brief: 1) it is an empowerment right, 2) it lifts marginalized groups out of poverty, 3) it is an indispensable means of realizing other rights; 4) it contributes to the full development of the human personality For more details, see the Committee on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights' General Comment 13 on the right to education (1999, para. 1)

Our school system was designed in 1893 to provide workers for jobs that no longer exist. Inequitable school funding demonstrates the low priority of education, leading to a de-professionalization of the teacher's job and lack of sufficient funding for learning materials and equipment. Loss of teacher autonomy and voice is also a problem. Instead of investing ten million dollars to bring in teachers from outside of Hawai'i', invest that money in Hawai'i' and create the best teachers locally. Of course our students deserve the best teachers, whether from in or out of Hawai'i. But by investing in local development, students might benefit from teachers that they feel understand and look like them. Teachers express concern over the psychological effects that toxic testing culture has on students, and the ways in which student's fundamental sense of humanity and self-worth are increasingly undermined by highly pressurized and hypercompetitive public school culture.

It is past time for all students to learn the truth about our islands' history and culture in an effective and transformative way. It's time to support teachers with classroom resources that will provide for a shared understanding of our collective past, in order to walk together into a better future.

Testimony regarding SB 2922

PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO ARTICLES VIII AND X OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF HAWAII TO AUTHORIZE THE LEGISLATURE TO ESTABLISH A SURCHARGE TO INCREASE FUNDING FOR PUBLIC EDUCATION.

Dear Chair Taniguchi and committee members:

My name is Tracy Stice and I write in opposition to this proposal to place this constitutional amendment on the ballot.

As the father of three children , one of whom is a teacher , born and raised in the Hawaii educational system with two of them having attended the University of Hawaii, I see this measure as not facing the real challenge. It is attempting to export the responsibility the state has to educate our children. We already have enough mechanisms to collect the necessary taxes to adequately fund education via the GET tax, and income taxes. We do not need another tax that will drive up housing rents to the very school teachers this bill presumes to benefit.

In 2001, my wife Laura and I , together with my son Jeremy who was attending UH at the time purchased two little homes in Palolo. Jeremy was a 50% owner and he worked at Hula Grill while attending classes , lived in one of the houses. We rented the other house to students. After he finished, having no further need to own the property , we sold it. Our timing in the market was good and we made a profit. All of the profit went to pay off school debt. Jeremy got a great start in life as an adult by not having the burden of school loans.

We have purchased other investment properties in Hawaii over the past 40 years, fixed up a lot of falling down houses and turned them in to needed , long term rentals, and actually made a profit most of the time and paid a lot of taxes. Please don't close this door to Hawaii investors.

This bill really confounds me. Most of the affordable rentals in the state are in larger apartment building with more than 3 units. I don't think you can find a 3 unit apartment building or larger priced under $1,000,000 in Honolulu or Maui. Perhaps you can on Hawaii of Kauai. By raising the property taxes on these buildings, this bill will directly be the cause of rental increase as most landlords run a business, not a philanthropy. Granted, the state probably does not pay teachers enough to buy homes , so it forces many of them to be renters. Raise taxes ,so you can pay the poor teachers more to pay for their rental increases ? Who wins ?

As the father of a high school teacher and the son of a school teacher, I certainly remember the countless hours I helped my mother grade papers at night, so I know how under paid and overworked teachers are.

This bill is a political ploy to offset the responsibilities that you as legislators have. Shifting the responsibility to the voters by disguising this bill a necessary solution to legislators lack of will to use the tools at hand and make the hard decisions they were elected to make is a cop out.

The complications that this bill creates for the various counties face to administrate, collect and remit taxes to the state , and then hope that they actually end up in increased teacher salaries and needed capital improvements and repairs, rather than in the hands of the bureaucracy of the DOE is not necessary.

Look at what happened with the TAT and Conveyance Taxes. The reasons they were created are long buried in how they are presently treated. TAT increase paying for rail ? Conveyance taxes paying for everything other than the bureau of Conveyances ? Come on, don't create another avenue for mis-management, special funds that avoid budget scrutiny, and just another way to stay politically safe.

Take responsibility for your jobs and give the DOE what they need as part of the normal budget process.

Mahalo for allowing me to testify.

We need additional funding for our public schools, because, let’s face it our schools could be so much better! We owe this to our islands! Wouldn’t it be great if Hawaii ranked as one of the highest schools in America?

Each year I've invested my own money for my students needs. I've had Homeless students as well as lots from public housing. It is hard for those children to not have what they need. It creates an unequal situation which impacts their learning environment!

Teacher’s low pay and lack of resources drives away perspective teachers and many

Attention: Senator Brian T. Taniguchi, Chair
Senator Karl Roads, Vice Chair

Regarding: Support for SB2922: PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO ARTICLES VIII AND X OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF HAWAII TO AUTHORIZE THE LEGISLATURE TO ESTABLISH A SURCHARGE TO INCREASE FUNDING FOR PUBLIC EDUCATION.

The Labor Caucus of the Democratic Party of Hawaii stands in support of SB2922. Public education is an essential function of government and a central purpose of the state. Moreover, public schools are working class schools. Hawai‘i’s public schools have struggled with outdated facilities, too few staff, and a shortage of teachers. Our keiki deserve better than this. Whether we look at k-12, the University of Hawai‘i, or public libraries, the common theme is the defunding of public education. We urge the legislature to fully fund public education.

County of Maui

SUBJECT: COMMENTS OF SB 2922, RELATING TO EDUCATION FUNDING

The County of Maui, Real Property Assessment Division (RPAD) strongly opposes SB 2922, Relating to Education Funding.

Real property taxes within the State of Hawaii are based upon fair market value, various tax relief programs and a tax rate use classification system. Each county code states that assessments must be uniform and equalized throughout the county. Assessments have not been equalized throughout the state since 1981. Since 1981, the four counties have modified their real property tax systems to the point where they are economically unique. The differences that have evolved since the 1980's preclude an efficient, systematic, uniform and equalized statewide real property tax base and classification system.

We urge you to defer this bill at this time as it would be devastating to not fully understand the consequences on existing operations and affect the county's largest revenue source.

Thank you for the opportunity to testify on this matter.

Sincerely,

Scott K. Teruya, AAS
Real Property Tax Administrator

My name is Melissa Turner. I am a teacher at Honokaa Elementary School in West Hawaii on the big Island. I am submitting testimony in support of SB 2922 to increase funding for public schools.

Our children are our future. When teachers instruct their students, we build the foundation for equality and prosperity for tomorrow's generations. Every dollar invested in our community's public schools yields exponential returns, not just for our economy, but for the promise of a more open and democratic society.

Supporting this proposal will lift Hawai'i's schools into the 21st Century. A vote for this measure is a vote for lower class sizes that allow teachers to connect with their students, whole child education that includes the arts and Hawaiian studies, providing resources and services for students with special needs, and professional pay that reflects the value of our hardworking teachers.

We need additional funding for our public schools, because as a teacher here in Hawaii I am forced to work three jobs to make ends meet. I would love to invest more of my time into our kids, but I must rush off after school to get to another job. I would also love to be a home owner here someday, however, with such a low salary I don't think it will be obtainable. I may, like so many other teachers, be forced to return to the mainland to work. There I could make ends meet with one job.

To deliver the schools our keiki deserve, please support this bill.

We need your help. Mahalo.

Chair Taniguchi and Members of the Committee:

My name is Kelly Wadlegger. I am a grade 9-12 teacher/ performing arts/dance eduator at Castle High School in the Windward District on Oahu. I am submitting testimony in support of SB 2922 to increase funding for public schools. Our schools desperately need more funding in Hawaii. Many buildings need repairs, many teachers use their own money for supplies. My building has electrical issues that still have not been finished. I had a student pass out due to the extremed heat because my air conditioning in the dance studio has still not been fixed.

Many students have financial and food insecurity and rely on discounted or free lunch.

Students deserve financial resources to help them get quality education and keep and hire qualified good teachers. Students complain about teachers who are "burnt out" "don't care" and don't know what they are doing. Quality experienced teachers mean paying them a decent competitive salary. Many have to work a second job to make ends meet in Hawaii.

All of our children (not only rich private school) are also the future leaders, doctors, lawyers, politicians etc.. When teachers instruct their students, we build the foundation for equality and prosperity for tomorrow’s generations. Every dollar invested in our community’s public schools yields exponential returns, not just for our economy, but for the promise of a more open and democratic society.

Supporting this proposal will lift Hawai’i’s schools into the 21st Century. Please vote for this bill because we need to have lower class sizes that allow teachers to really connect with their students. We need to provide whole child education that includes the arts and Hawaiian studies, providing resources and services for students with special needs, and professional equitable pay that reflects the value of our hardworking teachers.

We need additional funding for our public schools, I see every day how lack of funding affects my own child's education, and the students in my community. Low pay and a lack of resources are driving teachers in Hawaii schools out of the profession, us teachers have to hold second and third jobs when we should be able to concentrate on our students instead of rushing off to second jobs, etc. Not everyone can afford to send kids to private schools. We need to properly fund our schools. I myself love my job at Castle and I see how our performing arts program literally saves kids who come from tough backgrounds. Students thrive in our arts program. It would be tragedy to lose funding for the arts because it gives my students life skills: focus, discipline, dedication, commitment, social skills, creative thinking and problem solving skills, inter and intrapersonal skills and confidence.

To deliver the schools our keiki deserve, please support this bill.

We need additional funding for our public schools, because these children are inheriting a world of problems and they need every resource available to prepare themselves for the future ahead. Children today are coming to us with hosts of difficulties because of the culture we adults are building. Now more than ever, they need the arts and trained counselors. Teachers can barely pay rent. I can barely afford to live on island. I have three jobs and truthfully, spend any extra money on supplies and snacks for my students. Teachers need to able to support themselves so that they can come to school without the stress of working three jobs so they can meet students with positive attitudes. How can we support the needs of our children when we are tired from working three jobs and stressed from debt? We need additional funding for our public schools because the profession of teaching is severely undervalued. Because of this, I see enthusiastic teachers leave year after year leaving vacant positions and leaving children with long term substitutes who are not qualified to provide the education that our children deserve. Teachers are leaving because they are expected to work above and beyond for little recognition and no reimbursement. They are not given the time or training necessary to address today's learners. They are overwhelmed so they are left with two options: to do the bare minimum in order to maintain their own health and sanity, or to pursue another career.

If we want to have computers and move into the direction of having students become more than adequate at technology than we need the resources and the infrastructure in order to support them. My own classroom only has two outlets in the entire room and cannot sustain a mobile lab or a smartboard for classroom instruction. We have a few labs on our campus, but everyone needs to share and rotate the usage of it. We could better use google classroom and our accelerated reading programs if our students has the necessary tools, equipment, and materials.

RE: SB 2922 RELATING TO EDUCATION
TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 2018

Aloha Kakahiaka, Good Morning,

This testimony is to be heard by Chair Taniguchi and Members of the Committee:

My name is Joyce Haase. I am a 6th grade teacher at Kaunakakai School on the Friendly Island of Molokai. I am submitting testimony in support of SB 2922 to increase funding for public schools. I have taught for almost ten years on Molokai and know that education is key to the success and sustainability of Hawaii. Because our children are our future, we as adults have to budget our state funds to make consideration to the growing needs of our schools and our students. The foundation for equality and prosperity in Hawaii new is based on the education our Keiki receive now. Every dollar invested in our community's public schools yields exponential returns, not just for our economy, but for the promise of a more open and democratic society.

It is time for Hawaii to step up its game and provide funding for education so schools and educators can keep pace with other states. Supporting this proposal will lift Hawai'i's schools into the 21st Century with technology and retaining adequately trained teachers to fill ALL positions throughout the islands. A vote for this measure is a vote for lower class sizes that allow teachers to connect with their students, whole child education that includes the arts, music education, physical education, computer and technical education, and Hawaiian studies. It is imperative we provide resources and services for students with special needs and those who are gifted and talented as well. Professional pay that reflects the value of our hardworking teachers must not be overlooked as an important element of funding schools, remember it is the teachers who each year are asked to do more and carry a heavier workload. Here on Molokai 3 out of 7 6th grade teaching positions are filled by a under qualified, long term substitute teachers for the 2017-2018 school year, is that acceptable to you?

We need additional funding for our public schools, because a poor educational foundation reverberates into our communities and creates many issues for the future.

To deliver the schools our keiki deserve, please support this bill.
I appreciate your help and a yes vote on SB 2922.

Dear Chair Taniguchi and Members of the Committee:

My name is Lynn Otaguro. I am a teacher at Lincoln Elementary in Honolulu on Oahu. I am submitting testimony in support of SB 2922 to increase funding for the public schools.

I am writing to ask that you support this measure because I believe in our public schools. Our schools are tasked with the responsibility of teaching all students and providing them with the support and guidance to learn not only academic content but also the life skills that will help them to succeed. In doing so, our public schools also serve the greater society by by providing a more informed citizenry and by helping to elevate our communities economically.

Unfortunately, for our schools, funding has been a chronic problem. Teacher recruitment and retention is a concern when we cannot pay our teachers enough to make their rent. A young teacher I know has chosen to live away because she cannot afford to live independently in Hawaii. In the special education area, it would be helpful to have more funding to provide personnel for our students who need additional adult support to function in the school setting. Recruitment and retention of educational assistants and tutors could also be improved through pay and benefits that would make it easier to stay and develop in those positions.

SB 2922 is a step toward addressing the funding shortfall experienced by our schools. To deliver the schools our keiki deserve, please support this bill.

Thank you,
Lynn Otaguro

We need additional funding for our public schools, because what we are pouring in now, does not suffice to maintain quality facilities, pay decent salary and maintain the materials needed for a quality education. As a Nationally Certified teacher since 2003, I do my part to help train teachers. For a mere $100 stipend, I train a teacher each year to help build our workforce. This person is with me 8 hours a day for 4.5 months. I receive no additional pay raise, time to teach, or external benefit other than the joy of training others with the gift I have been give, the love of teaching. But the system then does not maintain the beginning teacher by giving the adequate support through the first few years. Teachers are getting burned out at the beginning years, and the training is being left for the veteran teachers who receive no compensation for their hard work and dedication. Over the past 29 years in the profession, I watch quality teachers leave because they do not have the full support needed to stay on as a teacher. Every year I train a teacher from the University in hopes that they too will get the teaching desire to stay on through the tough times. More often, they don't last ten years in our state. We need to train, and maintain these quality people because our island's future depends upon it, and it costs money. Please provide the additional funds in our budget to pull our schools together.

Our school has been at full capacity for the past five years. We have no more room for students, and classes have been cut not because of the lack of teachers but the lack of space. We have new subdivisions being built with no where to make more classes, and there is no plan for the future. We need more funds in education to address the situational needs of each school to address their problems.

Mahalo.

God willing that we will be able to move forward providing quality education to our students. BUT we need your help. I love and respect our government, and that is why I ask in respectful sincerity for your help.

Chair and members of the Judiciary committee

I am Marcia Linville testyfying in support of SB2922.

I have served as a teacher, librarian at city, state and Federal leval, President of Librarians Associationof Hawaii, Secton head of Hawaiii Library Association, Board member of Hawaii Literacy, League of Women Voters and a number of other organizations, Agency Council Head Unit 13,DOE, HGEA, and Distrct Chair, Education Caucus chair, SCC and Legislative Laison for the Democratic Party of Hawaii.

In all of these position I have been made aware of the limitations of Hawaii's Eduction caused by inadequate funding. These have resaulted in loss of qualified teachers, closure of school libraries, law cases brought against the state for various causes and constant complaints from the public. Hopes that these could be mitigated by an appointed board with different fiscal priorities, have proved unfounded and only resaulted in the exclusion of the public from the Boards deliberation.

Money will not sove all the DOE's problems, but they cannot be solved without money. A number of solutions have been proposed. All of them have failed to solve the problem. SB2922 seems the most likely to provide needed finaces,at the lowest cost to the states residents.

Please support this bill.

HAWAI'I LODGING & TOURISM ASSOCIATION

Testimony of

Mufi Hannemann
President & CEO
Hawai‘i Lodging & Tourism Association

Senate Committee on Judiciary

Senate Bill 2922

Chair Taniguchi, Vice Chair Rhoads, and members of the Committee on Judiciary, mahalo for the opportunity to offer this testimony on behalf of the nearly 700 members of the Hawai‘i Lodging & Tourism Association, the state's largest private sector visitor industry organization.

Regarding Senate Bill 2922, the Hawaii Lodging & Tourism Association specifically opposes the provision on the visitor accommodation surcharge. As much as we support improving upon our state's education system, we must seriously take into consideration the tax burden our visitor industry already bears.

Our respectful opposition is based on the following reasons:

Higher taxes and fees harm our ability to compete. Last August, the Legislature raised the TAT, to the point where guests now pay a TAT of 10.25 percent. Coupled with the general excise tax, guests pay a 14.41 percent tax on the Neighbor Islands and 14.96 percent on O‘ahu. Hawai‘i has reached the point where high business costs and tax rates make it increasingly difficult for business to be profitable and competitive, in both the domestic and international markets.

Tourism already is the state's largest revenue producer. Tourism continues to be the largest single source of private capital for our economy. Recent reports have noted that (a) tourism accounted for 204,000 jobs; (b) visitor spending last year totaled $16.8 billion, a new high; and (c) the state's tax take was $1.96 billion. Of that sum, TAT revenues alone generated nearly $545 million for the state's coffers last fiscal year.

The hospitality industry in not an infinitely prosperous, infinitely taxable entity. Lower-priced destinations and long-haul airline flights make travel to other locales easier and cheaper, and Hawai‘i must remain competitive in our pricing in order to protect our value and appeal in the eyes of travelers.

More than half of TAT revenue now goes to the general fund. While the TAT was established to promote and market the visitor industry, it has since become a major source of revenue for purposes other than originally intended. Latest reports reveal that now it's a whopping 60% of the TAT that goes to the general fund. We would surmise that public education may already be receiving a share of TAT revenue through its general fund budget allocations.

HAWAI'I LODGING & TOURISM
ASSOCIATION

The state government is not collecting TAT and general excise taxes on transient vacation rentals. The Hawai'i Lodging & Tourism Association supports legislation that would ensure a level playing field for all visitor accommodations, from the traditional hospitality businesses to the alternative accommodations offered online. There are tens of thousands of alternative accommodations in the Hawaiian Islands competing with hotels, resorts, timeshares, and bed-and-breakfasts, except that the majority of them are most likely avoiding TAT and general excise taxes. If the House and Senate could agree on a legislative measure with the Governor's concurrence, millions of dollars would find its way into the state coffers.

For these reasons, the Hawai'i Lodging & Tourism Association continues to oppose raising taxes and extra fees on the visitor industry and we respectfully urge you to remove the establishment of a transient vacation surcharge from Senate Bill 2922.

Mahalo for the opportunity to testify.

Re: SB 2922: Proposing Amendments to Articles VIII and X of the Constitution of the State of Hawaii to Authorize the Legislature to Establish a Surcharge to Increase Funding for Public Education
Hearing: Tuesday, February 27, 2018, Conference Room 016

Dear Chair Taniguchi, Vice Chair Rhoads, and Committee members:

This testimony is in strong support for SB 2922, related to the proposed amendments to the State Constitution to authorize the legislature to establish a surcharge to increase funding for public education.

I am writing on behalf of Parents for Public Schools of Hawai‘i (PPS Hawai‘i), a non-profit organization focused on supporting and improving Hawaii's public schools through family engagement. Our group emerged from the Furlough Friday crisis, and we have 1,000 members statewide.

As you know, the majority, a total of 180,000 children and youth in our State, attend public schools. Public education is the bedrock of a strong democracy. It is the great equalizer--a place where children from all walks of life can gain the knowledge and skills to become future leaders of our communities. In our public schools, children of all backgrounds, including those from immigrant and low income families, are exposed to new ideas, can develop their talents, and discover who they are and want to become.

Our children are our greatest asset. Given what is at stake, public schools should be our State's highest priority, and this should be reflected in our public spending. All children deserve highly qualified and caring teachers, who recognize their assets and challenge them with new and engaging curricula. Every child should walk onto their school campus in excitement of what awaits them—wonderful teachers and well-cared for and equipped facilities to engage and challenge them to learn.

Unfortunately, we know that our schools are chronically under-funded. We don't have the resources to recruit and retain the best teachers for all of our schools. When we asked our members what concerned them most about our public schools, we heard about the series of substitute teachers that appeared in classrooms throughout the year. Substitutes, who did not know the subjects they were there to teach. Other parents talked about dilapidated and uncomfortable facilities that made learning difficult. Many mentioned their children's lack of access to education of in arts, music, and other subjects that engage children and are part of a well-rounded education. The situation is the worst at schools serving children in rural, low-income and neighbor island communities.

Our 1,000 members, whose children are in the public schools, want change. We want the opportunity for the public to vote on the creation of a permanent funding stream that will provide necessary resources for our schools to flourish. This is the time for us to truly invest in our children—to show them that they are our highest priority. Please support SB 2922.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Aloha,

Lois Yamauchi, PhD
President, Parents for Public Schools of Hawai'i

Parents for Public Schools Hawaii (PPSHI) is a not-for-profit 501(c)(3) volunteer organization of parents, community members, and educators working to improve and support public education through family engagement. We are committed to ensuring all children in Hawai`i have access to a quality public education.

Chair Taniguchi and Members of the Committee,

I am submitting testimony in support of SB 2922 to increase funding for public schools. Our children are our future. When teachers instruct their students, we build the foundation for equality and prosperity for tomorrow's generations. Every dollar invested in our community's public schools yields exponential returns, not just for our economy, but for the promise of a more open and democratic society.

Supporting this proposal will lift Hawai'i's schools into the 21st Century. A vote for this measure is a vote for lower class sizes that allow teachers to connect with their students, whole child education that includes the arts and Hawaiian studies, providing resources and services for students with special needs, and professional pay that reflects the value of our hardworking teachers.

We need additional funding for our public schools, because qualified teachers who are passionate about teaching the keiki in Hawai'i are being driven out of the profession due to low wages. I have a part time job on top of being a full time special education teacher just to make ends meet. If I didn't have this part time job, I would be able to focus more on my full time job as a teacher and be an even better teacher for my students. Investing in our schools, students, and teachers will be the best for our future!

To deliver the schools our keiki deserve, please support this bill.

We need your help. Mahalo.

RE: SB 2922 RELATING TO EDUCATION

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 2018

Dear Chair Taniguchi and Members of the Committee:

First, I thank you for considering our testimony in support of SB 2922 to increase funding for public schools.. We are Clare Hanusz and Nevzat Soguk, parents of two children at Kaiser High School. Our kids have been in public schools since kindergarten. Nevzat is a faculty member at UH Manoa and Clare is an attorney and board member with Parents for Public Schools Hawaii. We are passionate about public schools and Hawaii's public school kids, and teachers.

Our schools are suffering from lack of funding. Class sizes are too large, facilities are crumbling, classrooms are hot and teachers are underpaid. Our kids deserve better. Passing this bill will give the public the opportunity to weigh in on funding options that would vastly improve the state of our schools, for our kids and generations to come.

Our keiki deserve more than they are getting. Please support this bill.

A vote for this measure is a vote for lower class sizes that allow teachers to connect with their students, whole child education that includes the arts and Hawaiian studies, providing resources and services for students with special needs, and professional pay that reflects the value of our hardworking teachers.

We need additional funding for our public schools, because... [OPTIONAL: INSERT a paragraph or two, tell your personal story or specific anecdotes about how lack of funding affects your children/ students/community, how low pay and a lack of resources are driving teachers in your schools out of the profession, how teachers have to hold second and third jobs when they should be able to concentrate on their students instead of rushing off to second jobs, etc., how investing in our public schools is an investment in our society/future]

To deliver the schools our keiki deserve, please support this bill.

We need your help. Mahalo.

Subject: Foster youth -Senate Bill 2790
Date: Monday, February 26, 2018 9:51:14 PM

Aloha~

My name is Leahne Toscano, and I am emailing you today to encourage you to pass Senate Bill 2790. This is a no-cost bill to ensure that foster youth are provided rights in foster care that will keep them safe, informed, empowered and thriving. Thank you for considering this request and thank you for supporting Hawaii's foster children and youth.

Mahalo for your support and assistance in helping our Hawaii foster youth feel heard, empowered, and successful in their lives~ I believe Senate Bill 2790 is the first step (in one of many) to begin this process!! Mahalos!!

Sincerely,

Leahne S.Toscano, MSW

RE: Hawaii's public schools are chronically underfunded, leading to teacher shortages, large class sizes, and a failure to prepare our special needs students. I am asking you to support SB 2922 and HB 2608 to build the schools our keiki deserve by supporting a Constitutional Amendment that would allow the legislature to fund a quality public education for all of Hawaii's children, including the recruitment and retention of teachers, public preschools, lower class sizes, special education programming, career and technical education, art, music, Hawaiian studies, Hawaiian language instruction, and after school programs by establishing a surcharge on visitor accommodations and residential investment property valued at one million dollars or greater, excluding a homeowner's primary residence, as provided by law.

RE: Hawaii's public schools are chronically underfunded, leading to teacher shortages, large class sizes, and a failure to prepare our special needs students. I am asking you to support SB 2922 and HB 2608 to build the schools our keiki deserve by supporting a Constitutional Amendment that would allow the legislature to fund a quality public education for all of Hawaii's children, including the recruitment and retention of teachers, public preschools, lower class sizes, special education programming, career and technical education, art, music, Hawaiian studies, Hawaiian language instruction, and after school programs by establishing a surcharge on visitor accommodations and residential investment property valued at one million dollars or greater, excluding a homeowner's primary residence, as provided by law.

Comments: I am a special education teacher in a FSC. I am regularly short two of tthe necessary staff two days a week because the positions are minimum wage with no medical and only 19 hours a week. With a 2% unemployment rate there is no one who wants these positions. With 11-13 students in my classroom daily and a staff shortage my students are not getting their needs met.

Hawaii's public schools are chronically underfunded, leading to teacher shortages, large class sizes, and a failure to prepare our special needs students. I am asking you to support SB 2922 and HB 2608 to build the schools our keiki deserve by supporting a Constitutional Amendment that would allow the legislature to fund a quality public education for all of Hawaii's children, including the recruitment and retention of teachers, public preschools, lower class sizes, special education programming, career and technical education, art, music, Hawaiian studies, Hawaiian language instruction, and after school programs by establishing a surcharge on visitor accommodations and residential investment property valued at one million dollars or greater, excluding a homeowner's primary residence, as provided by law.

Comments: Hello Legislators,

My name is Sarah Milianta-Laffin and I'm a new teacher in Hawaii teaching 7th grade STEM Lab at Ilima Intermediate in Ewa Beach. (I live at 971 Ku'ou Street #207 Kapolei)

Coming from Houston, TX - I was shocked at the conditions of Hawaii schools. With 12 years experience in Houston, I was making $60,000 a year. In Hawaii, I make $49,000. I knew it was going to be less, but with the teacher shortage I thought I'd get credit for my years of service.

While my Principal at Ilima is amazing and trying to the best he can, the conditions of the classrooms is bleak. I'm one of the lucky ones to have air conditioning but some rooms on campus have been recorded as high at 105 degrees. I have a sink that's broken in my room, and a chronic pest problem that makes it hard to keep food for students who don't have breakfast or lunch.

Please advocate for our children and teachers!

Hawaii's public schools are chronically underfunded, leading to teacher shortages, large class sizes, and a failure to prepare our special needs students. I am asking you to support SB 2922 and HB 2608 to build the schools our keiki deserve by supporting a Constitutional Amendment that would allow the legislature to fund a quality public education for all of Hawaii's children, including the recruitment and retention of teachers, public preschools, lower class sizes, special education programming, career and technical education, art, music, Hawaiian studies, Hawaiian language instruction, and after school programs by establishing a surcharge on visitor accommodations and residential investment property valued at one million dollars or greater, excluding a homeowner's primary residence, as provided by law.
Thank you,

Comments: I support this...as long as Charter Schools benefit from this and are not left out.

Comments: As a teacher at a school over 150 years old, I can speak personally to the need of smaller classes and funding for teacher retention. Our salaries need to increase with the rising prices of health insurance and cost of living. Unfortunately, as a teacher with a family of four, my primary income will never be enough to own a home on Oahu big enough to meet my families' needs. I know of at least 3 teachers moving to the mainland at the end of the year because of the cost of living. Please help the kanaka to stay and teach the Keiki.

Comments: My name is Michał Nowicki and I am a teacher at the University Laboratory School. I have been teaching in Hawaii Public Schools for 10 years. I am writing to urge you to support SB2922 and HB2608 and which would help increase funding for public schools.

Hawaii's public schools have ranked at the bottom of our nation's schools for too long. Our children deserve better opportunities and facilities. They deserve a teacher in every classroom. The state entrusts teachers with care for our youth, yet, year after year, has fallen short in supporting us in our profession.

I and many teachers have made a considerable effort over the course of a number of years to share our concerns with the Department of Education and the Board of Education and our legislators, but very little meaningful action has been taken to avert a dangerous course on which we have stayed for far too long. We always hear that it is complicated. That something must be done. And ultimately it comes down to the fact that there simply is not enough money for our public schools in the budget right now. The proposed SB2922 and HB2608 provide a means to address this critical issue.

Over the course of the last two years, I saw 6 of my teacher friends leave public schools. They now work for private schools, in the private sector, or have left the state for good. They were all highly educated and effective teachers, who each gave almost 10 years to the public classrooms. They, like many of us in our 30's, are forced to seriously consider the extent of the sacrifice we have made to provide our services to the public.

And although our hearts are in public education, when our wallets are empty, when we know that we won't be able to afford a mortgage for another decade, when confronted with the fact that we just gave 10 years of our lives, sweating in hot and overcrowded classrooms, and have nothing to show for it, it is hard for us not to reconsider our commitments.

Passing SB 2922 and HB 2608 is a very concrete, viable step we can take to start turning the tide. This is not a state vs. county issue. It is not a poor vs. wealthy issue. Public education is the responsibility of all of us. Everyone benefits from an educated society and no one should be able to opt out from the discussion simply because they get to afford private school for their children, because they do not have kids, or because they "paid their dues."

Our public schools are facing a crisis. Unless we create a working source of funding for our schools, we will see a revolving door of under-qualified educators replacing our highly effective teachers. Teacher will keep leaving to pursue opportunities that will allow them and their families to afford to live in Hawaii. Ultimately, if the state cannot pick up the tab, all of our kids will.

Hawaii's public schools are chronically underfunded, leading to teacher shortages, large class sizes, and a failure to prepare our special needs students. I am asking you to support SB 2922 and HB 2608 to build the schools our keiki deserve by supporting a Constitutional Amendment that would allow the legislature to fund a quality public education for all of Hawaii's children, including the recruitment and retention of teachers, public preschools, lower class sizes, special education programming, career and technical education, art, music, Hawaiian studies, Hawaiian language instruction, and after school programs by establishing a surcharge on visitor accommodations and residential investment property valued at one million dollars or greater, excluding a homeowner's primary residence, as provided by law.
Thank you,

Comments: Education seems to be the least of worries for Hawaii. Less education, more people homeless.

Comments: Public schools, including public charter schools are the most cost effective way to meet the educational needs of Hawaii. For profit private schools have an economic incentive to do the minimum they can get away with. Public schools, including public character schools, are the most most effective way to raise employment skills of Hawaiians.

Comments: Dear Senator Kouchi and Rep. Morikawa,
Thank you for supporting our public schools, this is the year to pass legislation to fully fund our schools. Teachers must be paid a professional wage. We all know it's the teachers who make it a school, not the building, not the A/C.

Many of my mommy friends and I talk about how we're really nervous about our kids starting public school. Speaking for myself, I don't want my kids to spend the day with a person who is stressed about how they're going to manage to pay for their lives for another month. I don't their teacher to be overworked and exhausted because they closed the restaurant the night before. This is the reality. We must change the story this year! Mahalo!

Hawaii's public schools are chronically underfunded, leading to teacher shortages, large class sizes, and a failure to prepare our special needs students. I am asking you to support SB 2922 and HB 2608 to build the schools our keiki deserve by supporting a Constitutional Amendment that would allow the legislature to fund a quality public education for all of Hawaii's children, including the recruitment and retention of teachers, public preschools, lower class sizes, special education programming, career and technical education, art, music, Hawaiian studies, Hawaiian language instruction, and after school programs by establishing a surcharge on visitor accommodations and residential investment property valued at one million dollars or greater, excluding a homeowner's primary residence, as provided by law.
Thank you,

Comments: Please support SB 2922!

Comments: I have been teaching in Hawaii for 4 years now. I have seen teachers leave every year in the middle of the year because they could not make the income work. This means I usually take on an extra case load and more students. We need better funding and more support for our schools to ensure our students receive the best education possible.

Hawaii's public schools are chronically underfunded, leading to teacher shortages, large class sizes, and a failure to prepare our special needs students. I am asking you to support SB 2922 and HB 2608 to build the schools our keiki deserve by supporting a Constitutional Amendment that would allow the legislature to fund a quality public education for all of Hawaii's children, including the recruitment and retention of teachers, public preschools, lower class sizes, special education programming, career and technical education, art, music, Hawaiian studies, Hawaiian language instruction, and after school programs by establishing a surcharge on visitor accommodations and residential investment property valued at one million dollars or greater, excluding a homeowner's primary residence, as provided by law.
Thank you,

Comments: Please support SB 2922 & HB 2608 to fund public schools properly for all Hawaii's children.

Comments: I am a first grade teacher here on O'ahu. I moved back from teaching on the mainland and I had to take almost a one third pay cut to do so. I have the family and financial support to do that, but there are so many people who do not have that privilege. If we want great teachers they need to be able to make a living and survive.

Hawaii's public schools are chronically underfunded, leading to teacher shortages, large class sizes, and a failure to prepare our special needs students. I am asking you to support SB 2922 and HB 2608 to build the schools our keiki deserve by supporting a Constitutional Amendment that would allow the legislature to fund a quality public education for all of Hawaii's children, including the recruitment and retention of teachers, public preschools, lower class sizes, special education programming, career and technical education, art, music, Hawaiian studies, Hawaiian language instruction, and after school programs by establishing a surcharge on visitor accommodations and residential investment property valued at one million dollars or greater, excluding a homeowner's primary residence, as provided by law.
Thank you,

Comments: Please support SB 2922 and HB 2608 to build the schools our keiki deserve by supporting a constitutional amendment. No one can afford to live on maui under a teachers salary. I'm faced with serious living challenges as a single father and can hardly afford to live. Too many good teachers leave and dont say because they can't afford to live. Please think outside the box and come up with ways for teachers to own property at discounted prices/rates. Please look at increasing pay more than 14% over a certain amount of time. I buy my students food because their families cannot afford to live here. Put teachers in a better place. Please.

Comments: Please stand with teachers that are trying to fund our education system. It is a shame that our education system has been underfunded for so long, that teachers are not insentivised to stay in the profession with respectful wages, we have a 1100 teacher shortage that has only gotten worse, we can't fund 21st century classrooms, and we continually fail to address the needs of our special needs students. Help us improve teaching and learning environments by letting us vote on the ConAm amendment in November. Mahalo for supporting schools our keiki deserve!

Hawaii's public schools are chronically underfunded, leading to teacher shortages, large class sizes, and a failure to prepare our special needs students. I am asking you to support SB 2922 and HB 2608 to build the schools our keiki deserve by supporting a Constitutional Amendment that would allow the legislature to fund a quality public education for all of Hawaii's children, including the recruitment and retention of teachers, public preschools, lower class sizes, special education programming, career and technical education, art, music, Hawaiian studies, Hawaiian language instruction, and after school programs by establishing a surcharge on visitor accommodations and residential investment property valued at one million dollars or greater, excluding a homeowner's primary residence, as provided by law.
Thank you,

Comments: Please help us. Our schools need proper funding and support and major improvements.

Comments: A great education system=An amazing democracy. Investing in our education system should be a priority, investing in our teachers who guide our future leaders should be a priority. Better schools mean lesser prison and more opportunities for the young people of Hawaii. We can better prepare our young people for the future if we lay the foundations for them.

Comments: Thank you for the Air Conditioning that was installed in our school. We still have classrooms that are not. I do not like looking at the giant cockroaches living in the classroom cabinets because we do not have adequate windows. We only have shutter windows. Our school was built on an old seventies model of open classrooms. It is noisy and stressful for the students and the teachers. Please help us build some classrooms that allow students to be in their own classroom place.

Comments: It is very frustrating AND A SAFETY ISSUE not having sufficient personnel to provide service for our students. The lack of funding is shameful! As an educator of kindergarten students I am aware of this all too well. When I began my career as an educator 12 +years ago, I had an EA in my classroom. Young students have difficulty separating from parents, need assistance at times when an "accident" occurs, without another adult in the classroom it is a safety issue, as I am unable to leave the other students to assist. I could go on with many examples of why we need to ensure adequate funding for our schools. The students are our future. Invest in them.

Hawaii's public schools are chronically underfunded, leading to teacher shortages, large class sizes, and a failure to prepare our special needs students. I am asking you to support SB 2922 and HB 2608 to build the schools our keiki deserve by supporting a Constitutional Amendment that would allow the legislature to fund a quality public education for all of Hawaii's children, including the recruitment and retention of teachers, public preschools, lower class sizes, special education programming, career and technical education, art, music, Hawaiian studies, Hawaiian language instruction, and after school programs by establishing a surcharge on visitor accommodations and residential investment property valued at one million dollars or greater, excluding a homeowner's primary residence, as provided by law.
Thank you,

Comments: I am asking you to support SB 2922 and HB 2608 to build and properly maintain schools our keiki deserve, todays students step off the bus into the past in the majority of schools without the proper infrastructure for future innovation. As an art teacher, it is refreshing to see how the arts are naturally infused into the curriculum of Korea, China, and every other first world country; when will the United States recognize the need for arts education and what it can do for the required creative problem solving and aesthetic sensitivities of future generations? We have been underfunded and neglected for far too long. Do what's right for our keiki, PLEASE! Mahalo

Hawaii's public schools are chronically underfunded, leading to teacher shortages, large class sizes, and a failure to prepare our special needs students. I am asking you to support SB 2922 and HB 2608 to build the schools our keiki deserve by supporting a Constitutional Amendment that would allow the legislature to fund a quality public education for all of Hawaii's children, including the recruitment and retention of teachers, public preschools, lower class sizes, special education programming, career and technical education, art, music, Hawaiian studies, Hawaiian language instruction, and after school programs by establishing a surcharge on visitor accommodations and residential investment property valued at one million dollars or greater, excluding a homeowner's primary residence, as provided by law.
Thank you,

Comments: Teachers help to shape our future leaders. If they do not have the proper funding to do so through education, then we are doomed. I ask that you fight for our students to have teachers that do not need to use their personal money to supply basic necessities within the classroom. Honor them with a premium that reflects their place as educators of our future.

Comments: Would like to see more covered areas for schools so they can do pe and recess more certified pe teachers. Covered areas like heeia elm school would be good for all our elm schools to block the sun and rain so kids can play no matter what the weather and teachers can teach pe in a controlled environment. Parks and rec centers in kaneohe be more open to what people want like putting down the main court runs so kids can practice on a court with lines on it for real situations in basketball game. Because the side court runs they put down do not have the regulation lines so the kids do not know the orientation of the court to learn the game properly. Thank you for your service aloha, greg

Thank you,

Comments: More funding needs to be appropriated for education. The cost of education and the number of children being serviced in Hawai'i has increased greatly in last 7-10 years, including the price of inflation, yet the overall pot of money allotted for education has not increased in the same amount of lapsed time.

Comments: Let the people decide... I am appalled at the loss of respect for the accomplishments of teacher unions which have made it possible to retain good teachers in a climate of political erosion of the funding needed for quality public education. Teachers don't just advocate for decent wages and fair working conditions for themselves, they are the best advocates for the quality of education our students deserve, students of all ages and backgrounds — deserve!!!

Comments: As a special education teacher, it is extremely frustrating to not have the time or the funding to properly staff and prepare for my life skills class. Proper funding would encourage teachers from out of state, like myself, to stay in Hawaii and teach. Right now, my husband and I can barely afford to keep our growing family afloat on the salary that the Hawaii DOE pays and is forcing us to have to move back to the mainland.

Comments: Teachers have a very important role in society. Teachers are disrespected in Pay vs. most other professions and Teachers are laying the foundation of the next generation. We need to have and retain the best out there and make it financially feasible to attract the best Teachers to the profession.
Teachers are Educational Engineers having to solve many different problems throughout the day. Teachers are not even considered on par with engineers in respect for the career and in Pay. I know because I was an Engineer.

Comments: I believe our school system is underfunded and our educators are underpaid. A successful school system starts with teachers. They are the backbone of the education system and, just like any career professional, must be compensated fairly based on cost of living and on other successful state education systems. If you expect students to succeed, then teachers must succeed and strive to be great. Providing better pay will both motivate and force teachers to work hard. It will bring more and the most qualified people into the industry and allow for the education system to hold high standards with a means of backing them up and keeping accountability. Improvement starts with better pay and an income that can support a family in Hawaii. This is the only way to start creating a better public education system.

Comments: This tax bill is the best way to raise money for our schools. People who have expendable income to be able to afford investment properties and vacation homes in paradise can afford the taxes we are asking them to pay. And this will ensure that our schools have the necessary funding for everything, especially offering a competitive wage so we can hire enough quality teachers for our keiki!

Comments: As a first year teacher that is currently enrolled in a SATEP I have felt the heavy burden of taking on this role. I love my job and working with these students is why I made this career change. However, there are many resources that are not made available to myself and other SPED teachers. We are faced with many responsibilities (some that are out of our scope of practice) and are not given the proper amount of time (no prep periods) or resources to make sure everything on our to do list is getting done. I truly believe this is a huge reason for the turn over rate in this field. We get burnt out! It's exhausting to not be heard or understood so most teachers throw in the towel and that leaves our students in oversized FSC classes with very limited adult support. I hope these testimonies give our sped teachers a voice. Just like our students, we deserve every fair opportunity that our colleagues receive.

Being an educator (classroom) for almost 25 years, I've never felt that I've had support to do the best job I could. There is so much "red tape" and a "one size fits all" that it feels overwhelming to do my job efficiently. We need to make the teaching profession respected by the community at large. Thank you for your support.

Thank you,

Comments: We really need to fund quality education in Hawai'i, and charging property tax on luxury investment properties is a great way to do it. We have the lowest property taxes in the country right now; wealthy off-island investors are cashing in without contributing anything.

Hawaii's public schools are chronically underfunded, leading to teacher shortages, large class sizes, and a failure to prepare our special needs students. I am asking you to support SB 2922 and HB 2608 to build the schools our keiki deserve by supporting a Constitutional Amendment that would allow the legislature to fund a quality public education for all of Hawaii's children, including the recruitment and retention of teachers, public preschools, lower class sizes, special education programming, career and technical education, art, music, Hawaiian studies, Hawaiian language instruction, and after school programs by establishing a surcharge on visitor accommodations and residential investment property valued at one million dollars or greater, excluding a homeowner's primary residence, as provided by law.
Thank you,

To Whom It May Concern:

I am a 4th grade teacher in my first year at Naalehu Elementary in Hawaii. I would like to advocate not for my behalf, but on behalf of my students. Currently, I have 28 students in a small classroom where even fire marshalls have been forced to turn their checks. In addition, the class and room size limit the amount of small group instruction that can truly/meaningfully take place - we are right on top of each other. Also, we are anticipating that class size to increase w/ a neighboring charter

The state funds various initiatives for a few years but once the programs begin to show its effectiveness, the state cuts the funding and expects the school to come up with the funding. An example is the funding for the ACT testing for 9th & 10th grade students. Since 9th & 10th grade students do not have any ~~standards~~ state testing, a school has no measures until their 11th grade year.

Hawaii's teachers are the backbone of our state. We nurture our State's keiki with values of respect, aloha and integrity. We instill positive attitudes despite the negative press and public opinion against us and our education system.

We teach, we share our mana'o every day yet don't get the appreciation we deserve. Yet we continue to give. Please support our teachers. We are people too.

One thing that does work with our students from Micronesia, are small classes where they can more easily develop a personal relationship with their teacher. It takes money to do this. I teach Deaf & Hard of Hearing students. They are 12% of the population and are therefore a minority group within the Special Needs population. As funds filter down through the various programs, less goes to low incidence programs like mine. Additional funds will benefit all students, particularly the students in this type of program.

Hawaii's public schools are chronically underfunded, leading to teacher shortages, large class sizes, and a failure to prepare our special needs students. I am asking you to support SB 2922 and HB 2608 to build the schools our keiki deserve by supporting a Constitutional Amendment that would allow the legislature to fund a quality public education for all of Hawaii's children, including the recruitment and retention of teachers, public preschools, lower class sizes, special education programming, career and technical education, art, music, Hawaiian studies, Hawaiian language instruction, and after school programs by establishing a surcharge on visitor accommodations and residential investment property valued at one million dollars or greater, excluding a homeowner's primary residence, as provided by law.
Thank you,

Thank you for your past support of teachers. I ask for your continued support to make teaching a more desirable profession for our young adults. Having taught in the public schools for 20+ years, teaching has become more and more taxing. Things are constantly being added to our already full plate. Once I hit my 30 yrs, I'm done – if nothing is going to be done to retain teachers. Maybe the DOE wants a younger, cheaper teaching force but I hope they realize that many of these younger teachers don't envision teaching as a life long career.

Thank you for your support of teachers and the educational welfare of our children.

As a teacher, I believe in the unlimited capabilities of our children. Your support helps us to help our students realize their potential and ability to succeed in life.

As a parent, I have supported public school and joined in collaboratively enriching the education of my own child. Her teachers have been ✕ wonderful models and influences in her quest to continue serving the keiki of Hawaii. :)

I would also support, as an alternative to hotel tax, is an increase in the general excise tax. If education received an eight of what we're spending on the Rail, our children would have an improved educational experience.

What can be done on the outrageous price gouging being done by outside companies that make bids on state projects/jobs? Bids for projects like air conditioning or building a simple stage in the cafeteria appear to be overly inflated. 3 million (2 mill for construction and $300,000 for design,!) seems ridiculous for a 20 x 30 stage!!

Last time, the Speaker of the House at the time (Joe Souki), killed the bill for public funding. This time, please let SB 2922 and HB 2608 pass. My class size is so large, I am unable to fully help my students, even though I put in 90-120 hrs. per week (even though I'm only paid to work 35 hrs. per week).

As a public high school teacher, I have over 180 students on my class rosters. I wake up at 5 am. to get to school at 7am and prepare my materials for my lessons. After school, I spend my time grading. Ugh. On the weekends. I limit my social life to one event per weekend, to ensure I have some time to lesson plan and grade. I have so many students and so much work, I cannot imagine having enough time to even have children of my own. I can honestly say it would be more than fair to use funds from those who have surplus income enough to purchase second and third homes to fund education, decrease class sizes, and create a livable working minimum for teachers. I myself was only able to purchase my own condo unit on a teacher's salary because I was hit by a car and was awarded some money in a settlement. How is it fair that a teacher works in the conditions once due to underfunded schools can barely afford a home when investors are snatching properties up at exhorbitant prices because millionaire/billionaire

Thank you,

Comments: I spoke with a journalist from Finland a year or so ago. She was studying the educational system here. She said in Finland there are no private schools by law. Rich people send their kids to the same schools as everybody else so they make sure those schools are good. Finland is the #1 rated educational system in the world or close to it. Maybe we need a constitutional ammendment to outlaw private schools so those resources can be shared more fairly and everyone will benefit.

In particular, I have been dealing with over-sized classes. This makes teaching difficult when trying to meet the needs of diverse students and helping all students meet proficiency of basic skills as well as meeting rigorous testing content. Please vote in favor of teachers, students, + schools.

Hawaii's public schools are chronically underfunded, leading to teacher shortages, large class sizes, and a failure to prepare our special needs students. I am asking you to support SB 2922 and HB 2608 to build the schools our keiki deserve by supporting a Constitutional Amendment that would allow the legislature to fund a quality public education for all of Hawaii's children, including the recruitment and retention of teachers, public preschools, lower class sizes, special education programming, career and technical education, art, music, Hawaiian studies, Hawaiian language instruction, and after school programs by establishing a surcharge on visitor accommodations and residential investment property valued at one million dollars or greater, excluding a homeowner's primary residence, as provided by law.
Thank you,

Comments: I am currently a 6th grade teacher at Kainalu Elementary. I also have a child in kindergarten. I love my job because I am able see the difference I make in my students' lives. I believe in public education. I am sincerely asking for your support on this bill.

Thank you,

Comments: I am asking you to support Senate Bill 2922 and House Bill 2608 which will allow for a solution to helping fund education in our state. Our teachers and schools are seriously underfunded and it is a travesty. Our children are our future. Everyday these hardworking and dedicated individuals pour into our future with not even a living wage in our state and many in conditions that are unexcuseable. These are highly trained professionals, who dedicate many hours of overtime, for which they are not fairly compensated. We need to pay our teachers a wage that makes it possible to live a comfortable existence in the communities they are pouring themselves into every day. Our teachers are paid less than most city and state administrative positions. Teachers are leaving everyday for private industry so that they can afford to live in these islands. Hawaii is the land of 2nd homes, vacation homes and the playground of the wealthy and well to do. These folks need to help support our island community they have the priviledge of "playing in". Our teachers deserve to be paid a living wage for Hawaii. We cannot retain good teachers or attract new teachers with compensation levels at the low level they are in currently. Our schools need attention and resources. This comes with funding. Please show our teachers that our government is doing all they can to support them, and that our community appreciates and values the important work they do for our children every day. Thank you.

Comments: Aloha, thank you for your continued support of education. I am asking in these trying times to continue to support education and pass legislation that gives public education more funding. This is the only way that our students can get the education they deserve. Thank you for investing in public schools and ultimately investing in the futures of our children and our state.

Hawaii's public schools are chronically underfunded, leading to teacher shortages, large class sizes, and a failure to prepare our special needs students. I am asking you to support SB 2922 and HB 2608 to build the schools our keiki deserve by supporting a Constitutional Amendment that would allow the legislature to fund a quality public education for all of Hawaii's children, including the recruitment and retention of teachers, public preschools, lower class sizes, special education programming, career and technical education, art, music, Hawaiian studies, Hawaiian language instruction, and after school programs by establishing a surcharge on visitor accommodations and residential investment property valued at one million dollars or greater, excluding a homeowner's primary residence, as provided by law.

Thank you,

Comments: I spent over a decade in higher education and shifted my career into K12 because I could either bemoan the low quality of students feeding into our colleges or I could actively become a contributing part of the solution. Our public schools need, and our children deserve, high quality schools and educators, especially if we want our students to have brighter futures.

Comments: Aloha Rep Gates and Senator Shimabukuro,

Thank you for considering my thoughts regarding this bill. I am a parent of public and public charter school students, Kawaihona Public Charter School & Papahana Mailikukahi. My children are thriving in these spaces in spite of the lack of financial resources available to them. I am responsible for the transportation of my keiki because there are no funds available for Papahana Mailikukahi students. This poses a logistical and economic hardship for myself and children. Both Kawaihona & Papahanamailikukahi need and deserve support to build out their campuses and are able to demonstrate the need. As a parent each year I am concerned about the stability of the school. Unfortunately my son's school at Kawaihona will not build out in time for him to be a freshmen. The transition from Kawaihona to Waianae High School will be dramatic and I worry about the potential for him to fall through the cracks. My daughter is a 1st grader at Papahanamailikukahi the only campus that services immersion learners. I worry about her not being able to continue her education in olelo which will definitely impact her learning. Please support this bill and fight for our keiki to access a quality education complete with facilities and highly qualified educators. As a professional in the field of higher education, I work hard to recruit and retain individuals that want to be educators. Most if not all share that the cost and the lack of financial incentive make choosing and staying in this profession all the more difficult. Financial incentives, mentorship, college support and financing will alleviate the burden of attaining a degree and create meaningful and pragmatic reason for individuals to stay. Mahalo once again for all your support and contributions to the well being of our community.

Comments: There is a severe shortage of qualified Hawaiian Language Immersion teachers. Our student enrollment continues to grow. The state needs to offer a pathway to attract more teachers into this field. Additional pay for the bilingual requirement and lack of curriculum in place. Our teachers and children deserve it.

Comments: I feel that with the support of SB2922 we are able to provide a rigorous and engaging education for students from all levels and all ages. It would do so by supporting students through teacher consistency, better teacher to student ratio, and implementation of interesting subjects. It will also give teachers security and lessen financial and job stress.

Hawaii's public schools are chronically underfunded, leading to teacher shortages, large class sizes, and a failure to prepare our special needs students. I am asking you to support SB 2922 and HB 2608 to build the schools our keiki deserve by supporting a Constitutional Amendment that would allow the legislature to fund a quality public education for all of Hawaii's children, including the recruitment and retention of teachers, public preschools, lower class sizes, special education programming, career and technical education, art, music, Hawaiian studies, Hawaiian language instruction, and after school programs by establishing a surcharge on visitor accommodations and residential investment property valued at one million dollars or greater, excluding a homeowner's primary residence, as provided by law.

Hawaii's public schools are chronically underfunded, leading to teacher shortages, large class sizes, and a failure to prepare our special needs students. I am asking you to support SB 2922 and HB 2608 to build the schools our keiki deserve by supporting a Constitutional Amendment that would allow the legislature to fund a quality public education for all of Hawaii's children, including the recruitment and retention of teachers, public preschools, lower class sizes, special education programming, career and technical education, art, music, Hawaiian studies, Hawaiian language instruction, and after school programs by establishing a surcharge on visitor accommodations and residential investment property valued at one million dollars or greater, excluding a homeowner's primary residence, as provided by law.

Comments: I'd like to risk giving the voters a say in this funding issue—even if we come to find that there is NOT strong support for funding public education...for a myriad of reasons, including their personal experiences.

Thank you,

Comments: $200 a year for teachers to get supplies for their classrooms is not enough. How many other professionals "outfit" themselves and their "clients" out of pocket as teachers do for their students on a regular basis?
Also. All preK-Grade 1 teachers should have a full-time qualified aide in their classrooms. Early education is critical to a child's development.
Every school should have a designated PE, music and art teacher—smaller schools can share itinerant teachers in these specialties .

Comments: Please support SB 2922 and HB 2608 to build the schools our keiki deserve by supporting a constitutional amendment. No one can afford to live on maui under a teachers salary. I'm faced with serious living challenges as a single father and can hardly afford to live. Too many good teachers leave and dont say because they can't afford to live. Please think outside the box and come up with ways for teachers to own property at discounted prices/rates. Please look at increasing pay more than 14% over a certain amount of time. I buy my students food because their families cannot afford to live here. Put teachers in a better place. Please.

Hawaii's public schools are chronically underfunded, leading to teacher shortages, large class sizes, and a failure to prepare our special needs students. I am asking you to support SB 2922 and HB 2608 to build the schools our keiki deserve by supporting a Constitutional Amendment that would allow the legislature to fund a quality public education for all of Hawaii's children, including the recruitment and retention of teachers, public preschools, lower class sizes, special education programming, career and technical education, art, music, Hawaiian studies, Hawaiian language instruction, and after school programs by establishing a surcharge on visitor accommodations and residential investment property valued at one million dollars or greater, excluding a homeowner's primary residence, as provided by law.
Thank you,

Comments: Please stand with teachers that are trying to fund our education system. It is a shame that our education system has been underfunded for so long, that teachers are not insentivised to stay in the profession with respectful wages, we have a 1100 teacher shortage that has only gotten worse, we can't fund 21st century classrooms, and we continually fail to address the needs of our special needs students. Help us improve teaching and learning environments by letting us vote on the ConAm amendment in November. Mahalo for supporting schools our keiki deserve!

Comments: A great education system=An amazing democracy. Investing in our education system should be a priority, investing in our teachers who guide our future leaders should be a priority. Better schools mean lesser prison and more opportunities for the young people of Hawaii. We can better prepare our young people for the future if we lay the foundations for them.

Fukumoto, Beth

Hawaii's public schools are chronically underfunded, leading to teacher shortages, large class sizes, and a failure to prepare our special needs students. I am asking you to support SB 2922 and HB 2608 to build the schools our keiki deserve by supporting a Constitutional Amendment that would allow the legislature to fund a quality public education for all of Hawaii's children, including the recruitment and retention of teachers, public preschools, lower class sizes, special education programming, career and technical education, art, music, Hawaiian studies, Hawaiian language instruction, and after school programs by establishing a surcharge on visitor accommodations and residential investment property valued at one million dollars or greater, excluding a homeowner's primary residence, as provided by law.
Thank you,

Comments: Thank you for the Air Conditioning that was installed in our school. We still have classrooms that are not. I do not like looking at the giant cockroaches living in the classroom cabinets because we do not have adequate windows. We only have shutter windows. Our school was built on an old seventies model of open classrooms. It is noisy and stressful for the students and the teachers. Please help us build some classrooms that allow students to be in their own classroom place.

Comments: It is very frustrating AND A SAFETY ISSUE not having sufficient personnel to provide service for our students. The lack of funding is shameful! As an educator of kindergarten students I am aware of this all too well. When I began my career as an educator 12 +years ago, I had an EA in my classroom. Young students have difficulty separating from parents, need assistance at times when an "accident" occurs, without another adult in the classroom it is a safety issue, as I am unable to leave the other students to assist. I could go on with many examples of why we need to ensure adequate funding for our schools. The students are our future. Invest in them.

Hawaii's public schools are chronically underfunded, leading to teacher shortages, large class sizes, and a failure to prepare our special needs students. I am asking you to support SB 2922 and HB 2608 to build the schools our keiki deserve by supporting a Constitutional Amendment that would allow the legislature to fund a quality public education for all of Hawaii's children, including the recruitment and retention of teachers, public preschools, lower class sizes, special education programming, career and technical education, art, music, Hawaiian studies, Hawaiian language instruction, and after school programs by establishing a surcharge on visitor accommodations and residential investment property valued at one million dollars or greater, excluding a homeowner's primary residence, as provided by law.
Thank you,

Hawaii's public schools are chronically underfunded, leading to teacher shortages, large class sizes, and a failure to prepare our special needs students. I am asking you to support SB 2922 and HB 2608 to build the schools our keiki deserve by supporting a Constitutional Amendment that would allow the legislature to fund a quality public education for all of Hawaii's children, including the recruitment and retention of teachers, public preschools, lower class sizes, special education programming, career and technical education, art, music, Hawaiian studies, Hawaiian language instruction, and after school programs by establishing a surcharge on visitor accommodations and residential investment property valued at one million dollars or greater, excluding a homeowner's primary residence, as provided by law.
Thank you,

Comments: Please vote in favor of this ConAm to increase funding for Hawaii's public schools. Take our education system out of the Plantation Era and increase funding so we can educate the children of Hawai'i to be contributing and civically active members of our state.

Comments: I am asking you to support SB 2922 and HB 2608 to build and properly maintain schools our keiki deserve, todays students step off the bus into the past in the majority of schools without the proper infrastructure for future innovation. As an art teacher, it is refreshing to see how the arts are naturally infused into the curriculum of Korea, China, and every other first world country; when will the United States recognize the need for arts education and what it can do for the required creative problem solving and aesthetic sensitivities of future generations? We have been underfunded and neglected for far too long. Do what's right for our keiki, PLEASE! Mahalo

Comments: Teachers help to shape our future leaders. If they do not have the proper funding to do so through education, then we are doomed. I ask that you fight for our students to have teachers that do not need to use their personal money to supply basic necessities within the classroom. Honor them with a premium that reflects their place as educators of our future.

Hawaii's public schools are chronically underfunded, leading to teacher shortages, large class sizes, and a failure to prepare our special needs students. I am asking you to support SB 2922 and HB 2608 to build the schools our keiki deserve by supporting a Constitutional Amendment that would allow the legislature to fund a quality public education for all of Hawaii's children, including the recruitment and retention of teachers, public preschools, lower class sizes, special education programming, career and technical education, art, music, Hawaiian studies, Hawaiian language instruction, and after school programs by establishing a surcharge on visitor accommodations and residential investment property valued at one million dollars or greater, excluding a homeowner's primary residence, as provided by law.
Thank you,

Comments: Please support the children of Hawaii by supporting teachers by increasing funding to our public schools.

Hawaii's public schools are chronically underfunded, leading to teacher shortages, large class sizes, and a failure to prepare our special needs students. I am asking you to support SB 2922 and HB 2608 to build the schools our keiki deserve by supporting a Constitutional Amendment that would allow the legislature to fund a quality public education for all of Hawaii's children, including the recruitment and retention of teachers, public preschools, lower class sizes, special education programming, career and technical education, art, music, Hawaiian studies, Hawaiian language instruction, and after school programs by establishing a surcharge on visitor accommodations and residential investment property valued at one million dollars or greater, excluding a homeowner's primary residence, as provided by law.

Thank you,

Comments: Would like to see more covered areas for schools so they can do pe and recess more certified pe teachers. Covered areas like heeia elm school would be good for all our elm schools to block the sun and rain so kids can play no matter what the weather and teachers can teach pe in a controlled environment. Parks and rec centers in kaneohe be more open to what people want like putting down the main court runs so kids can practice on a court with lines on it for real situations in basketball game. Because the side court runs they put down do not have the regulation lines so the kids do not know the orientation of the court to learn the game properly. Thank you for your service aloha, greg

Comments: More funding needs to be appropriated for education. The cost of education and the number of children being serviced in Hawai'i has increased greatly in last 7-10 years, including the price of inflation, yet the overall pot of money allotted for education has not increased in the same amount of lapsed time.

Comments: Let the people decide... I am appalled at the loss of respect for the accomplishments of teacher unions which have made it possible to retain good teachers in a climate of political erosion of the funding needed for quality public education. Teachers don't just advocate for decent wages and fair working conditions for themselves, they are the best advocates for the quality of education our students deserve, students of all ages and backgrounds — deserve!!!

RE: Hawaii's public schools are chronically underfunded, leading to teacher shortages, large class sizes, and a failure to prepare our special needs students. I am asking you to support SB 2922 and HB 2608 to build the schools our keiki deserve by supporting a Constitutional Amendment that would allow the legislature to fund a quality public education for all of Hawaii's children, including the recruitment and retention of teachers, public preschools, lower class sizes, special education programming, career and technical education, art, music, Hawaiian studies, Hawaiian language instruction, and after school programs by establishing a surcharge on visitor accommodations and residential investment property valued at one million dollars or greater, excluding a homeowner's primary residence, as provided by law.

Thank you,

TO: THE HONORABLE CHAIR BRIAN T. TANIGUCH,
THE HONORABLE CHAIR KARL RHOADS,
AND MEMBERS OF THE COMMITTEES

FROM: KEN M. SHIMONISHI, DIRECTOR OF FINANCE
COUNTY OF KAUA'I

SUBJECT: OPPOSITION TO S.B. No. 2922

The County of Kaua'i strongly opposes S.B. No. 2922, which proposes amendments to the Constitution of the State of Hawai'i to authorize the Legislature to establish a surcharge on real property categories classified as residential investment property and visitor accommodations.

In 1978, the public ratified the decision to give the power to impose and collect real property taxes solely to the counties through a constitutional amendment. Real property taxes currently make up over 83% of our county's general fund revenues, with the lion's share of these funds used to provide essential government functions such as police, fire, emergency management services, public transportation, parks, and landfill operations. We believe that the counties are carrying out their duties responsibly and have managed tax rates appropriately. Further, the Legislature has restricted the revenue flow of the counties' by capping the counties' share of Transient Accommodations Tax (TAT).

By amending the State Constitution for a state surcharge, this bill seeks to weaken counties' authority on the main source of revenue to the counties', and thereby undermine the counties ability to fund essential services. As such, we must strongly oppose the intent and passage of S.B No. 2922. Thank you for your consideration of this testimony.
