II. Background and Summary

This section shall clearly and concisely summarize and highlight the contents of the request in such a way as to provide the State Legislature with a broad understanding of the request. Please include the following:

1. A brief description of the applicant's background;

Established in 2002, The Lao Buddhist Foundation of Hawai'i is a community-based, 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization located in Hau'ula, O'ahu. Our mission is to promote and preserve elements of Asian and American traditional and cultural values that positively contribute to the social, economic, and educational progress and spiritual well-being of our multi-ethnic island communities.

The Lao Buddhist Foundation of Hawai'i has always welcomed people from diverse backgrounds and cultures as we believe that there is unity in diversity, and we share the spirit of Aloha with one and all. Dating back to initial migration of Laotian farmers to Kahuku, the Laotian community continues to contribute positively to the greater north O'ahu community.

2. The goals and objectives related to the request;

The goals and objectives of this capital project is to establish a welcoming community gathering space, where community members can come together in a safe and serene place without having to travel far from home. Once completed, the Lao Buddhist Foundation of Hawai'i's multi-purpose community center will serve as the north O'ahu community's meeting center (communities from Kahuku to Ka'a'awa), where residents can host community meetings and events or celebrate special occasions with family and friends.

Nationally, community centers create public spaces for community events, exercise classes, meditation retreats, and other community events in safe and inviting environments. While the process of building community centers are often times difficult and costly, they provide incalculable benefits for the communities where they are constructed. There are a multitude of benefits that a community center can provide including a safe and covered place for community events, a space for youth to interact with one another and establish relationships, promote community involvement, improve the value of a community, and promote better health and happiness through exercise.

Once completed, our goal is to have the community space occupied by community groups and members throughout the week, creating a community gathering space in heart of Hau'ula on the Island of O'ahu.

3. The public purpose and need to be served;

After years of community-led discussions regarding the need for a multi-purpose community center in north O'ahu, the leadership team at the Lao Buddhist Foundation of Hawai'i has responded by raising critically needed funding and initiating construction of a multi-purpose community center from the betterment of the north O'ahu community. The community center will serve as a permanent community space that will address our rural community's need for a community space for generations to come.

To ease rural isolation, the Lao Buddhist Foundation of Hawai'i began constructing a multi-purpose community center on the organization's 5-acre parcel located on Puhuli Road. The center is approximately 60% completed and is slated to open to the public by 2021. Complete with a commercial grade community kitchen, multi-stall restrooms, and ample covered air-conditioned space, the multi-purpose community center will become the social and civic hub of the north O'ahu community.

4. Describe the target population to be served; and

The target population for the proposed multi-purpose community center includes residents and students residing between Kahuku and Ka'a'awa. The breakdown of this population includes:

Kahuku – 2,614
La'ie – 6,138
Kahalu'u – 4,738
Hau'ula – 4,148
Punalu'u 1,164
Ka'a'awa – 1,379
Brigham Young University - Hawai'i – 2,952

Our community (from Kahuku to Ka'a'awa) is home to five (5) Title 1 schools, with Title 1 eligibility percentages ranging between 49.49% – 66.03% and Brigham Young University – Hawai'i. Irrespective of family's financial capacity, members of all communities should have access to safe spaces where they can go to socialize, exercise, get back to nature, and care for themselves. Once completed, the new multi-purpose community center will serve as a gathering place for north O'ahu residents, creating a stronger, more unified community.

5. Describe the geographic coverage.

In rural north O'ahu, there is a need for a welcoming community gathering space, where community members can come together in a safe and serene place without having to travel far from home. Once completed, the Lao Buddhist Foundation of Hawai'i's multi-purpose community center will serve as the north O'ahu community's meeting center (communities from Kahuku to Ka'a'awa), where residents can host community meetings and events or celebrate special occasions with family and friends.

III. Service Summary and Outcomes

The Service Summary shall include a detailed discussion of the applicant's approach to the request. The applicant shall clearly and concisely specify the results, outcomes, and measures of effectiveness from this request. The applicant shall:

1. Describe the scope of work, tasks and responsibilities;

To support the sustainable improvement in the well-being and quality of life our local communities, especially low to moderate income rural areas, the Lao Buddhist Foundation of Hawai'i will construct an 11,000 sq. ft. multi-purpose community center on the organizations 5-acre parcel located on Puhuli Road in the rural town of Hau'ula. Once the original settlement in Hawai'i for first generation of Laotian farmers, the north O'ahu community is home to a diverse population of Hawai'i residents. We believe that diversity unifies our north O'ahu community and we are in the process of building a community space that will further bring together our community members.

The multi-purpose community center will host a variety of features that will positively impact the lives of our north O’ahu residents. The community center will be complete with a certified community kitchen to help implement public health strategies to prevent food insecurity through reducing social isolation, improving food and cooking skills and empowering participants. As contributing members of Hawai’i’s farming and agriculture industry for decades, the Laotian community will offer our north O’ahu community members healthy eating and cooking workshops with the intent of creating a healthier and sustainable community. The 5-acre parcel that the community center sits upon is filled with an organic community vegetable garden and fruit trees, creating a garden-to-table atmosphere, an environment that inspires healthy living and wellness.

Additionally, the 11,000 sq. ft. multi-purpose community center will double as an emergency community shelter in the case of natural disaster. The large open floorplan makes it ideal to house emergency evacuees during times of natural disaster. Once completed, our team will work with the Red Cross and other disaster relief agencies to create another emergency shelter options for our friends and neighbors.

The center is approximately 60% completed and is slated to open to the public by 2022. Complete with a commercial grade community kitchen, multi-stall restroom facilities, and ample covered air-conditioned space, the multi-purpose community center will become a social and civic hub of the north O’ahu community once completed.

To complete this capital project, LBFH will need to complete the following construction-related items.

The applicant shall also provide a listing of verifiable experience of related projects or contracts for the most recent three years that are pertinent to the request.

Founded in 2002, The Lao Buddhist Foundation of Hawai'i has successfully completed a few capital improvement projects including the fee-simple purchase of the 5-acre parcel upon which the 11,000 sq. ft. multi-purpose community center is located and the initial campaign to raise $1,400,000 to initiate the design and Phase 1 of construction of the community center.

The Lao Buddhist Foundation of Hawai'i has appointed Nara Sihavong, as the organization's chairman and executive director. Sihavong brings to the Foundation decades of professional experience working with Fortune 50 companies and continues to infuse his knowledge, skillsets, and professionalism into the capital campaign. A true visionary with a propensity to get things done, Sihavong will lead his fellow Board of Directors and advisors through this capital improvement project.

2. Facilities

The applicant shall provide a description of its facilities and demonstrate its adequacy in relation to the request. If facilities are not presently available, describe plans to secure facilities.

To ease rural isolation, the Lao Buddhist Foundation of Hawai'i began constructing a multi-purpose community center on the organization's fee-owned 5-acre parcel located on Puhuli Road in rural Hau'ula. The center is approximately 60% completed and is slated to open to the public by 2022. Complete with a commercial grade community kitchen, multi-stall restrooms, and ample covered air-conditioned space, the multi-purpose community center will become the social and civic hub of the north O'ahu community.

VI. Personnel: Project Organization and Staffing

1. Proposed Staffing, Staff Qualifications, Supervision and Training

The applicant shall describe the proposed staffing pattern and proposed service capacity appropriate for the viability of the request. The applicant shall provide the qualifications and experience of personnel for the request and shall describe its ability to supervise, train and provide administrative direction relative to the request.

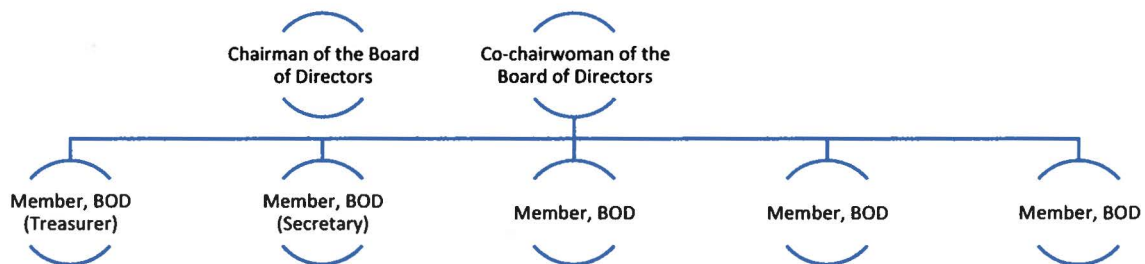

Lao Buddhist Foundation of Hawai'i (LBFH) proposes the following staffing pattern to manage the proposed capital project. LBFH will contract the services of a project coordinator/owner's representative to manage the capital project on behalf of LBFH.

Duties of an owner's representative

- An owner's representative should be knowledgeable on the entire aspects of construction and the design of an industry. Whenever problems arise, these professionals provide solutions to many small scale problems while eliminating larger problems that arise and recommending solutions to the project owner.
- Owner's representatives work with their project owners regarding the close out of their construction process. Other duties offered by an owner's representative includes field supervision, budgeting and cost control.
- Regardless of product type or services they sell, their foremost tasks are to attract buyers as well as purchasing agents in their services or merchandise and to properly address clients' concerns and questions. Owner's representative demonstrates products and advises their clients on the function of the products in order to increase revenue and reduce costs.

2. Organization Chart

The applicant shall illustrate the position of each staff and line of responsibility/supervision. If the request is part of a large, multi-purpose organization, include an organization chart that illustrates the placement of this request.

3. Compensation

The applicant shall provide an annual salary range paid by the applicant to the three highest paid officers, directors, or employees of the organization by position title, not employee name.

Lao Buddhist Foundation operates on a volunteer basis, with each member of the Board of Directors conducting the work of the Foundation on a pro-bono basis. Based on the demands of the proposed capital project, a project coordinator/owner's representative will be contracted to manage the capital project.

VII. Other

1. Litigation

The applicant shall disclose any pending litigation to which they are a party, including the disclosure of any outstanding judgement. If applicable, please explain.

Lao Buddhist Foundation of Hawai'i is not a party of pending litigation and any outstanding judgement.

2. Licensure or Accreditation

The applicant shall specify any special qualifications, including but not limited to licensure or accreditation that the applicant possesses relevant to this request.

Lao Buddhist Foundation of Hawai'i does not hold any specific licensures or accreditations

3. Private Educational Institutions

The applicant shall specify whether the grant will be used to support or benefit a sectarian or non-sectarian private educational institution. Please see Article X, Section 1, of the State Constitution for the relevance of this question.

Lao Buddhist Foundation of Hawai'i is not a sectarian or non-sectarian private educational institution. No grant funding will be used to support or benefit sectarian or non-sectarian private educational institution.

4. Future Sustainability Plan

The applicant shall provide a plan for sustaining after fiscal year 2020-21 the activity funded by the grant if the grant of this application is:

- (a) Received by the applicant for fiscal year 2020-21, but

Should Lao Buddhist Foundation of Hawai'i receive a Grant-in-aid for fiscal year 2020-21, the Foundation will use the funds to complete the proposed project components within the projected timeline list above. Additional grant making institutions will be reached out to with the intent of raising the additional capital needed to complete the capital project.

(b) Not received by the applicant thereafter.

Fundraising will continue in earnest until all of funding necessary to complete the capital project is raised and the construction of the multi-purpose community center is completed. The Foundation has secured the services of a proven grant writer to assist with the drafting and submissions of grant applications to respective funders including government agencies, private foundations, trusts and corporate giving programs.
