
A BILL FOR AN ACT

RELATING TO CLIMATE CHANGE.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF HAWAII:

1 SECTION 1. Greenhouse gas emissions are a leading cause of 2 global warming and climate change. The legislature has passed
3 numerous measures over the last decade to address climate
4 change. Among them, Act 32, Session Laws of Hawaii 2017,
5 commits the State to systematically reduce greenhouse gas
6 emissions and improve resiliency to climate change in alignment
7 with the principles and goals of the Paris Climate Agreement.

8 The legislature finds that the State has increasing
9 exposure to climate change related risks and events. However,
10 the islands also have environmental resources including forests, 11 wetlands, coral reefs, and other natural infrastructure that - 12 if healthy, well-managed, and functioning - can help reduce 13 emissions as well as mitigate the risks and related loss and 14 damages from climate change. Accordingly, it is important to 15 invest in nature-based solutions to climate change.

1 The purpose of this Act is to add to the authority of the 2 Hawaii climate change mitigation and adaptation commission by 3 directing it to:

4 (1) Identify and prioritize nature-based solutions to 5 climate change; and

6 (2) Assess opportunities for insurance and other risk 7 transfer mechanisms that incentivize investment in 8 nature-based solutions to climate change.

9 SECTION 2. Section 225P-2, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is 10 amended by adding a new definition to be appropriately inserted 11 and to read as follows:

12 "Nature-based solutions" means actions to protect,
13 sustainably manage, and restore natural or modified ecosystems
14 that contribute to climate change mitigation, adaptation, or 15 risk management, that can be implemented alone or in conjunction 16 with other solutions to climate change, and provide benefits to 17 people and the environment."

18 SECTION 3. Section 225P-3, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is 19 amended to read as follows:
