
A BILL FOR AN ACT

RELATING TO CRIMINAL PENALTIES.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF HAWAII:

1 SECTION 1. The legislature finds that the Hawaii State
2 Planning Act, chapter 226, Hawaii Revised Statutes, sets forth
3 the State's objectives and policies. Pursuant to 4 section 226-24, Hawaii Revised Statutes, it is the policy of the 5 State, in part, to protect individuals from criminal acts and 6 alleviate the consequences of criminal acts in order to foster a 7 safe and secure environment. To achieve this policy, 8 section 226-26, Hawaii Revised Statutes, establishes the 9 following objectives:

10 (1) Ensuring that public safety programs are effective and 11 responsive to community needs; and

12 (2) With respect to criminal justice, supporting criminal
13 justice programs aimed at preventing and curtailing
14 criminal activities.

15 The legislature further finds that increasing the penalties
16 for offenses against the person and property rights would help
17 deter heinous acts, including the number of violent acts that

1 have recently been reported. For example, in December 2019, a 2 seventy-five-year old woman was severely injured when a group of 3 men drove up to her, stole her purse, and fled. The woman was 4 walking to church that early Sunday morning when she was 5 attacked and dragged across the pavement, still tangled in her 6 purse strap. The offenders left her injured and lying in the 7 roadway.

8 Other recent vicious offenses have been reported to the 9 police, including a midnight robbery and carjacking of a cab
10 driver in Makiki on the island of Oahu and a man in Waikiki who 11 was found barely conscious and bleeding profusely from the head
12 after being beaten by a man who got away with his fanny pack.

13 The purpose of this Act is to increase the penalties for 14 the offenses of assault, burglary, criminal property damage, and 15 theft by one grade.
