A BILL FOR AN ACT

RELATING TO ACCESS TO BEHAVIORAL HEALTH SERVICES.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF HAWAII:

1           SECTION 1. The legislature finds that emergency
2 governmental proclamations to restrict and manage in-person
3 gatherings and meetings during the coronavirus disease 2019
4 (COVID-19) pandemic have suspended certain laws that exclude the 5 use of standard telephone contacts from the definition of 6 "telehealth" to enable health care providers and patients to 7 minimize in-person meetings while also ensure access to care.

8           The availability of insurance reimbursement for telehealth
9 provided through standard telephone contacts has greatly
10 increased access to care for vulnerable populations, including 11 the elderly, low-income, medically- and socially-complex
12 patients, and those in rural areas who do not have the broadband 13 capabilities, electronic equipment, financial means,
14 transportation options, or technological proficiency to operate
15 sophisticated digital video conferencing software. Allowing 16 standard telephone contacts to qualify as "telehealth" also

1 avoids problems with devices, internet, sufficient bandwidth,
2 power and battery charging capabilities, and digital literacy.

3 The legislature further finds that the prolonged nature of 4 the public health emergency created by COVID-19 and its 5 attendant personal, familial, work, social, and economic 6 disruptions have created chronic and unprecedented emotional
7 distress, anxiety, and mental conditions for all of Hawaii's 8 communities. The demand for mental health services has never 9 been so high.

10 Research has found standard telephone contacts to be an 11 effective, viable means for providing timely mental health
12 services to patients. Talk therapy and other audio-only 13 treatment modalities do not require physical examinations or 14 medical prescriptions. As recently noted by the Hawaii
15 department of human services in testimony submitted in support
16 of a similar measure (which was broadly and enthusiastically 17 supported by the medical community with the exception of the 18 health insurance companies), "telephone calls have been shown to 19 be clinically effective for some services such as behavioral
20 health." Moreover, standard telephone contacts for telehealth

1 purposes is endorsed nationally by the American Psychological
2 Association.

3 Therefore, the purpose of this Act is to allow for the use
4 and reimbursement of standard telephone contacts for telehealth
5 purposes by mental health professionals.

6 SECTION 2. Section 346-59.1, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is 7 amended by amending subsection (g) to read as follows:
