Hawaii Island Schools to Receive Funding for Campus Improvements

Honolulu- Construction at two Big Island schools will soon get underway. Haaheo Elementary School and Kalaniana'ole Elementary and Intermediate School have both received funding from the Department of Education to improve its campuses. The projects include road upgrades at Haaheo Elementary and a new roof for one of Kalaniana'ole Elementary and Intermediate's buildings.

"I am pleased that the governor has released the funding for these much needed Capital Improvement Projects at Haaheo Elementary and Kalaniana'ole Elementary and Intermediate," said Senator Malama Solomon, who represents District 1 (Waimea, Hamakua, North Hilo, Rural South Hilo, and Hilo) on Hawaii Island. "Our schools' facilities play a pivotal role in the educational environment of our children. By investing in our schools' infrastructure, we provide a safer and more conducive learning environment where our children can learn and play."

The projects will cost nearly four-hundred sixty-seven-thousand dollars.

"These projects will also stimulate our economy and create jobs our residents so urgently need," added Solomon.

The start dates of the construction work have yet to be determined.
