II. Background and Summary

This section shall clearly and concisely summarize and highlight the contents of the request in such a way as to provide the State Legislature with a broad understanding of the request. Please include the following:

1. A brief description of the applicant's background;

Hale Puna supports the rehabilitation of historic properties in West Kaua‘i in order to revitalize and foster the economic development of our rural community.

Currently, its main project is the restoration of an iconic site, the Gulick-Rowell Mission House (G-R House) in Waimea, which is the oldest house on the island and the second oldest in all the islands.

The goal is to give back to the community, by turning this beautiful old house into a cultural center for the community to use, learn from, and benefit from.

We currently produce several programs on the grounds including:

- A weekly farmer’s market (we were the first farmer’s market on island to accept SNAP/EBT/DABUX).
- Kūpuna-led craft programs on wreath and lei-making
- Active food forest that provides local produce to the community (including Nana’s House and Kōke‘e Lodge restaurant, food giveaways at Habitat for Humanity).
- After-school internship program for local youth to learn agriculture (and local food security), in partnership with Alu Like.
- Cultural arts programs, including an annual Old Time music festival, sponsored by Hawai‘i Tourism Authority and many others, and storytelling, in partnership with Friends of King Kaumuali‘i and sponsored by Hawai‘i Council for Humanities

Once G-R House is restored, we will expand our offerings to make the house and gardens available for daily tours as well as community events and programs.

Please see attached addendum for a summary list of milestones reached in the restoration project thus far, including pictures.

2. The goals and objectives related to the request;

Hale Puna is in its 7th year of restoring Gulick-Rowell Mission House in Waimea, Kaua‘i. We have completed the technical phase (Phase 1) of the restoration project and are moving into the construction phase, Phase 2.

The overall goal is to complete the restoration work on the house, and make the site accessible for all members of the community, especially youth and kūpuna. Some objectives for new programs include:

- Therapeutic gardening for our kūpuna from nearby Kauai Veterans Memorial Hospital and Kauai Care Center
- Kanikapila
- Craft workshops in lei making, flower arranging and card making
- Cooking demonstrations
- Hula and music performances in garden and on the lanai
- Continued after-school programs centered around agricultural entrepreneurship
- Continued weekly farmers' market to support local farmers and artisans

The objective for this request is to complete construction to provide critical protection for the house.

Hale Puna was awarded a Grant-in-Aid for $400,000 for 2023/24 toward the completion of Phase 2 of the construction work, to replace the damaged sections of the concrete floor of the lanai, and reconstruct the two-story lanai with its roof. This work is critical to the protection of the coral walls, windows and doors. This current request for 24/25 is for an additional $50,000 to complete the exterior work needed to secure and seal the structure, which is estimated to cost $100,000. This involves the repair and reconstruction of the gable end walls and windows.

3. The public purpose and need to be served;

The Gulick-Rowell (G-R) Mission house is an important part of West Kaua'i's history. Established in 1828, with a house built by 1831, it is one of the very first durable houses that was built in all the islands.

It is the oldest house on Kaua'i and considered one of the most unique sites in the islands by restoration architect Glenn Mason. (Please see attached letter verifying such.) The public purpose is to preserve an important part of Kaua'i's history, and make it available as a desirable location for the community to spend time in healthy outdoor activities and cultural activities.

There is a strong need for activities for kūpuna and youth in the area. According to Kauai's latest Community Health Needs Assessment, 23.8% of Kaua'i County adults 75 years and over reported that they did not engage in physical activity. This is lower than the percentage of kūpuna statewide (26.1%) reporting physical inactivity. A strong request for more youth activities also emerged from the community surveys conducted for this report.

In addition, other than the Waimea Theater, there are no locations on the West side to enjoy arts performances, such as hula or live music. G-R House could fill this gap in the community for appreciating local performing arts.

"Merely defining the group in the present pales against the possibility of forming an identity based on a rich past," wrote Peter Stearns in his essay published by the American Historical Association (2020). G-R House is a place where community members can discover just how rich their history is. This is recognized as a vital part of identity development for youth and adults, particularly those of visible minorities living in economically depressed regions.

4. Describe the target population to be served; and

The target population is the residents of West Kaua'i (population 19,715 (2020)). Hale Puna does not discriminate based on race, class, gender, ethnicity, or sexual orientation.

5. Describe the geographic coverage.

Geographic coverage is the entire island of Kaua'i. Our main focus is on the region of West Kaua'i.

Subject: Gulick-Rowell House

Dear Anne:

It sometimes feels really daunting to save the Gulick-Rowell House, but there are so many things that are special about it that I think they bear reiterating.

- The age of the building makes it one of the oldest in Hawaii, possibly the oldest on Kauai. It was started in 1828, and finished in the 1840s.
- It has several unique features that to my knowledge, are not matched by any other building in Hawaii. These include the coral block floor in the cellar, the fact that the cellar walls seem to be mortared with a soil/lime mix, and the plastered wall between the kitchen and hall, which is plaster on a woven mat supported by relatively small members.
- There are relatively few coral stone buildings left in Hawaii. This is one of them, which speaks to its early origins.
- There is a phenomenal amount of original material in this building. All the window sash are original, the joists are hand-hewn Ohia, and the presence of cut nails in the finishes speaks to most of the finishes being original. There is one structure that claims to be older, but I know most of it has been replaced.

I have been worried about termites, as you know. Having the building tented was a big step in the right direction. I hope a way can be found to keep going with the good work. As always, let me know how I can help.

Sincerely,

Glenn E. Mason, FAIA
Vice president
