About OHA

Our Mission

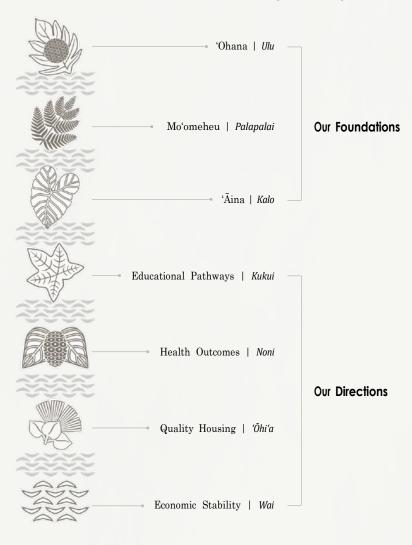

To mālama Hawai'i's people and environmental resources, and OHA's assets, toward ensuring the perpetuation of the culture, the enhancement of lifestyle and the protection of entitlements of Native Hawaiians, while enabling the building of a strong and healthy Hawaiian people and lāhui, recognized nationally and internationally.

Our Vision

Hoʻoulu Lāhui Aloha

OHA's vision statement (To Raise a Beloved Lāhui) blends the thoughts and leadership of both King Kalākaua and his sister, Queen Lili'uokalani. Both faced tumultuous times as we do today, and met their challenges head on.

"Hoʻoulu Lāhui" was King Kalākaua's motto. Aloha expresses the high values of Queen Lili'uokalani.

OHA believes building connections to 'ohana (family), mo'omeheu (culture) and 'āina (land) is very important. As we increase these foundational strengths, we increase our mana, and ability to create greater wellbeing in other areas of our lives, such as education, health, housing and economic stability.

Messages from the Chair and the CEO

Aloha mai kākou,

On behalf of the Board of Trustees, it is my distinct privilege to present the Annual Report for the Office of Hawaiian Affairs, covering the activities of our organization from July 1, 2022, to June 30, 2023.

As a look back over this period, I am reminded that "O ke kahua ma mua, ma hope ke kūkulu – the foundation comes first, and then the building."

As we continued our work to better the lives of Native Hawaiians, it was a year of working diligently to set foundations that the organization can build upon for decades to come.

We are justifiably proud that we have ushered in a new era of accountability and financial transparency that has positioned OHA to serve its beneficiaries better than ever before after a thorough overhaul of our policies, procedures and practices.

We have established a governance and policy framework for the Board with updated bylaws, implemented technology upgrades for grants, accounting and contract management, and approved policy amendments to improve fiscal management in budget preparation, format and reporting requirements.

We mahalo and aloha cultural practitioner Kumu Cy Bridges for his thoughtful selection of the name Hakuone to represent our 30-acre property formerly known as Kaka'ako Makai. Hakuone wil represent the history and cultural significance of the area for generations to come, and we will perservere in our dream of building residential housing at Hakuone.

Our Native Hawaiian Revolving Loan Fund program introduced a new program during the fiscal year to support Native Hawaiian farmers across the pae 'āina. The Mahi 'Ai Agricultural Loan Program is now another way that OHA is meeting the business needs of Native Hawaiians – in this case, those who are starting a farm or expanding an existing one.

I am gratified by the achievements highlighted in this annual report.

Our organization has remained pa'a (firm), guided by the true dedication of our wonderful team members, the support of our community partners, and the trust bestowed upon us by our beneficiaries. We have proved that our greatest strengths are in unity and lokahi.

Carmen "Hulu" Lindsey

Board of Trustees Chair | Trustee, Maui

Aloha mai kākou,

OHA is unique in the world; an independent branch of the Hawai'i State government created in 1978 by a constitutional amendment to change the status quo of Hawaiians by "bettering their conditions." That was, and continues to be, the principle that calls us to service and guides our operations.

OHA's actions are grounded in our love and connection to our 'āina, 'ohana, and culture. We continue to focus our efforts on building and supporting education, health, housing, and economic development programs for Hawaiians that increase our wellbeing and foster a strong sense of Hawaiian identity.

Our trustees recommitted themselves to working together in service to our lāhui as they emerged from the shadow of the COVID-19 pandemic and publicly took their oaths of office together for the first time in many years. Our trustees' diverse perspectives will guide OHA's efforts moving forward.

OHA advanced its stewardship of its Kaka'ako Makai lands, now known as Hakuone, with a view towards creating a place where Hawaiians may live, work, play, and celebrate Hawaiian culture together.

In the not-too-distant past, Kaka'ako was disrespected, neglected, and used as a city dump; today these lands are a symbol of hope, wellbeing, and relevance as OHA begins to plan a vibrant one-of-a-kind community in the heart of Honolulu. OHA is now actively engaged in conducting its due diligence and planning how best to use these lands to serve our beneficiaries.

The forced assimilation of Hawaiians by the United States in the aftermath of the armed overthrow of our constitutional monarchy in 1893 has left deep scars on the identity, health, and wellbeing of Hawaiians.

The outlawing of the Hawaiian language as a medium of instruction in the territorial years through the first two decades of statehood has been addressed by tenacious language advocates who have been instrumental in revitalizing our language over the past 40 years.

This year, OHA received its first federal language grant of $312,000 from the Administration for Native Americans (ANA) and re-distributed these funds to four local nonprofits working to re-establish 'ōlelo Hawai'i. This represents progress toward ensuring that our language thrives for generations to come, that the harmful effects of forced assimilation are overcome, and that a strong sense of Hawaiian identity is fostered.

We Hawaiians have a deep connection to our 'āina, and it is our kuleana to steward and care for these precious resources. Thus, OHA is working with the community to develop comprehensive management plans to mālama 'āina – heal and sustain our planet – through the development of pono ocean policies.

OHA exists to respond to challenges such as these. We look forward to the day when the conditions of Hawaiians, and our 'āina, are as they should be, and there is no longer a need for an Office of Hawaiian Affairs to exist.

Until that day, we will stay the course and work together to serve our lāhui. Mālama pono.

A New Era of Accountability

In November of 2022, Office of Hawaiian Affairs Board Chair Carmen "Hulu" Lindsey detailed the steps that the organization has taken over the last three years to improve overall organizational accountability.

"OHA is now positioned to serve its beneficiaries better than ever before after a thorough overhaul of its policies, procedures and practices," Lindsey said.

In September 2018, OHA engaged a top 10 national accounting firm – Clifton-LarsonAllen LLP (CLA) – to conduct a detailed review of a sample of OHA and limited liability company (LLC) contracts and disbursements from five fiscal years (2012-2016).

While OHA was not required to take this extraordinary step, the Board of Trustees opted to do so despite OHA undergoing regular state audits and receiving clean annual independent financial audits for 14 consecutive years (now 18 years).

CLA presented the results of their engagement in December 2019, including 73 OHA, 30 LLC and six general oversight and governance recommendations.

Better stewardship through tighter systems and controls

Lindsey highlighted the improvement steps taken by OHA since December 2019 to better align policies, procedures and practices, through Administration's Recommendations Implementation Plan which addressed CLA recommendations, including but not limited to:

- Implemented three major technology systems for grants management, accounting and contract management.
- Established a governance and policy framework for the BOT with updated bylaws.
- Approved policy amendments to improve fiscal management and transparency in budget preparation, format, and reporting requirements.
- Established contract monitoring as the responsibility of the operating unit with oversight by the business line executive.
- Subjected all grants and sponsorships to approval by the Board of Trustees
- Eliminated CEO-initiated sponsorships and the CEO management override practice.
- Required that employee-related events be compliant with OHA policies.
- Established a financial transparency website that includes 18 years of financial statements and independent auditors' opinions, Trustee Protocol Allowance and Annual Reports.

A Symbolic Investiture

In December 2022, Office of Hawaiian Affairs' trustees elected that year were inducted into their terms of office at an investiture ceremony held at Kawaiaha'o Church.

Newly elected At-Large Trustees Brickwood Galuteria and Keoni Souza, At-Large Trustee John Waihe'e, Hawai'i Island Trustee Mililani Trask, Maui Island Trustee Carmen "Hulu" Lindsey and O'ahu Trustee Kalei Akaka won election this year. Kaua'i Island Trustee Dan Ahuna, Moloka'i and Lāna'i Island Trustee Luana Alapa and At-Large Trustee Keli'i Akina won election in 2020, however, due to the Covid-19 pandemic, OHA's 2020 investiture ceremony was cancelled.

In a symbolic show of unity, the ceremony marked the first investiture where all nine trustees were inducted together since the first OHA board was established in 1981.

With a theme of "Ho'oulu Lāhui Aloha – To Raise a Beloved Lāhui," the ceremony was attended by the Royal Benevolent Societies, ali'i trusts, state and county officials, OHA staff, and beneficiaries. Each of the trustees was presented with a lei hulu and received a special blessing from Kahu Ken Makuakāne to prepare for the important work ahead of them.

"As one who has preached the value of working together in a spirit of lōkahi since first being elected as chair of this board two years ago, I see a symbolism in all of us receiving Ke Akua's blessing together today," Board Chair Lindsey said. "May we continue to work in unity as one 'ohana as we move forward with the mission of this institution."

All nine Office of Hawaiian Affairs trustees were sworn into office on Dec. 8, 2022, at a formal investiture ceremony at Kawaiaha'o Church. Hakuone: Reimagining Kaka'ako Makai

In 2012, the State of Hawai'i transferred approximately 30 acres of land in urban Honolulu to the Office of Hawaiian Affairs in lieu of three decades of unpaid pro-rata shares of income and proceeds from the Public Land Trust (PLT) owed to Native Hawaiians.

The land is comprised of 10 separate parcels and located at Kaka'ako Makai, a man-made peninsula in the heart of Honolulu adjacent to Kewalo Basin.

In November 2022, OHA rebranded its lands as "Hakuone," which refers to a small land division cultivated for a chief – it is a name of cultural significance with layers of meaning that was gifted by respected Kumu Cy Bridges.

To ensure that OHA's vision for Hakuone was pono, a series of eight community meetings and virtual townhalls attended by hundreds of participants were scheduled between November 2022 and January 2023.

OHA's vision for its property is first and foremost to mālama 'āina (care for the land) by cleaning and restoring life to Hakuone to make it safe and productive once again.

In terms of development, OHA wants to balance commerce and culture; to ensure that the land will be developed in such a way that it not only generates revenue for Native Hawaiians, but also creates a Hawaiian "sense of place." It is a vision of community – a place where people can live, work and play – so housing has always been part of the equation.

Given Hawai'i's affordable housing crisis, and the effect this has had on Native Hawaiians in particular, during the 2023 legislative session OHA again pursued a repeal of the restriction on residential development at Kaka'ako Makai which prevents the organization from developing affordable housing on its property.

It was deeply disappointing that this effort failed – a bitter pill to swallow in light of the preponderance of luxury condominiums being developed just across the street on the ma uka side of Ala Moana Boulevard.

Introducing the new Mahi 'Ai Loan

The Office of Hawaiian Affairs (OHA) Native Hawaiian Revolving Loan Fund introduced a new program in May 2023 to support Native Hawaiian farmers across the pae 'āina.

The Mahi 'Ai Agricultural Loan Program is another way that OHA is meeting the business needs of Native Hawaiians who are starting a farm or expanding an existing one.

The program has unique features that keep the needs of mahi 'ai in mind. In addition to the low-interest rates, new borrowers have the option of deferring their loan payments for the first six months without incurring additional interest.

"We recognize that it takes time for crops to grow, or livestock to reach a certain stage, before they can generate revenue for farmers, and we've taken that into consideration to help ensure our loan recipients are off to a good start," said Aikūʻē Kalima, OHA's Native Hawaiian Revolving Loan manager. "These loans will not only help Native Hawaiians build strong businesses working in harmony with the land to support their families and provide jobs for others in the community, but also support food security to help Hawai'i become more resilient."

Creating Postive Change for Native Hawaiians

Desiree Kanae Loperfido and her husband, Chef Donato Loperfido, operate Flavors of Italy LLC, a licensed importer and distributor of alcohol and spirits specializing in a wide range of wines and cheese. In September 2022, they received a $250,000 Hua Kanu loan through OHA's Mālama Loans Program.

"I spoke with my husband, and we decided to reach out to OHA and see if they could help us because we needed that extra money to expand our business. The interest rates are great, and we are very appreciative of what OHA and its Mālama Loans program does for the Hawaiian community. We're grateful for the help because we really needed it."

Supporting Language Revitalization

Language is the foundation of any culture. For Indigenous peoples, our languages reflect our unique world-views, our values and even our histories.

Over the past four decades, 'ōlelo Hawai'i advocates have revitalized the Hawaiian language and increased the number of speakers from just a few hundred (mostly kūpuna) to some 20,000 individuals, most of whom are younger than 40.

Nevertheless, the Hawaiian language remains vulnerable and sustained effort is required to perpetuate and transmit 'ōlelo Hawai'i to upcoming generations.

Recognizing that many Indigenous languages spoken in America are endangered, the federal government's Administration for Native Americans (ANA) has established American Rescue Plan (ARP) grant funding to support federally and state-recognized Tribes and Alaska Native, Native Hawaiian and Pacific Islander community organizations that are trying to ensure the survival and continuing vitality of their native languages.

The American Rescue Plan Act of 2021 allocated approximately $20 million in grant funding to 210 recipients – one of which was OHA. It was the first ANA grant awarded to OHA and the first time that OHA has served as a grant administrator of ANA funds ($300,000 was awarded) to distribute monies to support programming and lead research in 'ōlelo Hawai'i.

The grant application was a joint effort of OHA's Research Department, Office of Strategy Management, and Grants Program. The grant award enabled OHA in FY2023 to provide funding to four solicited nonprofit organizations from across the State of Hawai'i that are actively perpetuating Hawaiian language revitalization: 'Aha Pūnana Leo, Hui o Hanohano, Ke Kula 'o Pi'ilani, and Papahana Kuaola.

Ideally, this grant administration model – of passing through federal monies directly to smaller nonprofits in Hawai'i – will serve as a foundational model for OHA and other large Native Hawaiian-serving organizations to provide valuable financial resources directly to the communities we collectively serve.

Four solicited nonprofit organizations who received the Perpetuation of 'Ōlelo Hawai'i Grant:

• `Aha Pūnana Leo Hawaiʻi, Kauaʻi, Maui, Molokaʻi, Oʻahu

• Hui o Hanohano Hawai'i

• Ke Kula 'o Pi'ilani

• Papahana Kuaola Oʻahu

The group is a network of agencies, health organizations, nonprofits, and others.

Partners in Care

OHA's RD and OSM provides research support to PIC in the form of committee participation, report review, and editing of the PIC Native Hawaiian Sub-Report.

Developing OHA's Ocean Policy

OHA's sphere of advocacy includes international, federal, state and county governments as it pertains to Native Hawaiian traditional and customary practices and associated rights from the near shore to the high seas.

This includes everything from protecting traditional aquaculture to advocating for protections against highly extractive activities such as the commercial aquarium fish trade, excessive tourism, industrial commercial fishing, and deep-sea mining.

For these reasons, OHA is in the process of developing innovative and effective ocean policies reflective of Hawaiian and Oceanic cultural values and traditions that meet or exceed global standards of practice.

In October and November 2022, OHA hosted a series of nine in-person Ocean Policy development meetings throughout the islands, as well as an online meeting via Zoom and, in addition, created a web survey to gather mana'o from the community.

Several hundred people participated in the meetings which were intended to enhance, develop and integrate 'ike kūpuna (ancestral knowledge) with western science to inform OHA's Ocean Policy and advocacy and to support sustainable, intergenerational protection and management of our ocean ecosystems.

The meetings were conducted by OHA's "ocean team" comprised of staff from its advocacy, communications, community engagement, research and public policy divisions as well as administrators and trustees.

These gatherings brought together Native Hawaiian cultural practitioners, fishers, divers, and other ocean people, along with Native Hawaiians and others who are already working to steward our marine ecosystems and ocean realms.

By meeting together, we have identified opportunities to build upon our collective strength to address the ongoing challenges to our Moananuiākea (Pacific Ocean) moving forward.

About the Mana i Mauli Ola Artwork

Upland rain provides life-giving water that sustains the 'āina, ma uka to ma kai. Captured in the watershed of ma uka rainforests, the wai flows down into lush valleys and onto vast agricultural plains, touching and nourishing all within the ahupua'a as it journeys to the sea. The artwork for OHA's Strategic Plan, Mana i Mauli Ola, reflects this journey with each element representing a foundational or directional aspect of the plan as we move collectively toward a more vibrant future.
