
A BILL FOR AN ACT

RELATING TO THE ESTATE TAX.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF HAWAII:

1 SECTION 1. The legislature finds that there are 2 significant challenges to running a business in Hawaii and, as a 3 result, many local family-owned businesses are having difficulty
4 maintaining their operations. Specifically, family businesses
5 in Hawaii face an uncertain future maintaining their business
6 and local roots in Hawaii due to significant tax burdens.

7 The legislature also finds that, in addition to the federal 8 estate tax, Hawaii levies an additional state estate tax. Many 9 other states do not impose state estate taxes or have 10 significantly raised the exemption levels, in recognition that 11 the imposition of state estate taxes, especially when an estate 12 is not subject to the payment of federal estate taxes, 13 negatively impacts a state's economy and competitiveness by 14 discouraging family business investment and encouraging the 15 owners of these businesses to relocate to other states without 16 an estate tax. Further, having to pay significant estate taxes 17 diverts funds that could otherwise be reinvested in the 1 businesses or community. If these funds were to remain as part 2 of the state economy, additional jobs could be created.

3 The legislature further finds that Hawaii has one of the 4 highest estate taxes in the nation due to its high estate tax 5 rate and low exclusion amount. In contrast, the current federal 6 exclusion amount applicable to gift and estate transfers is more 7 than double the amount of the Hawaii estate tax exclusion 8 amount. This difference has resulted in the need for 9 complicated and technical estate planning. Further, because of 10 the different exclusion amounts, the department of taxation must 11 independently monitor and examine the filings of estate tax 12 returns. Until 2018, the Hawaii estate tax exclusion amount had 13 been coupled with the federal exclusion amount. Therefore, in 14 the past, the department of taxation could more easily rely upon 15 determinations made by the Internal Revenue Service with respect 16 to estate tax returns.

17 The legislature also finds that the federal exclusion
18 amount will be decreased by approximately one-half for decedents 19 dying after December 31, 2025. Therefore, it is likely that the 20 difference between the federal exclusion amount and the current 21 Hawaii estate tax exclusion amount will not be significant.

1 Instead, having the Hawaii estate tax exclusion amount conform
2 with the federal exclusion amount would benefit the state 3 economy because costs to monitor and audit for differences could 4 be avoided.

5 It is of critical importance to the state economy to 6 support our family businesses by ensuring that their owners are 7 not overly burdened by a combined federal and state estate tax 8 that could effectively cause the closure of family businesses or 9 the sale of family businesses to an entity owned by persons 10 outside of Hawaii.

11 Hawaii Business Magazine conducted a groundbreaking survey 12 of owners of approximately one hundred forty family-owned local 13 companies in 2017. The results of the survey found that family 14 businesses are facing a huge challenge in the coming years, 15 which impacts the state economy because Hawaii has so many 16 family businesses. If the companies are not able to manage this 17 transition well, they may be acquired by mainland corporations 18 or, even worse, be forced to close down entirely.

19 Family businesses that are based in Hawaii are a critically 20 important part of the state economy. As many economists have 21 observed, small and medium-sized businesses, which are usually

1 family businesses, are the biggest generators of jobs in the 2 economy.

3 Family businesses also benefit the Hawaii community in 4 other important ways. The companies and their employees provide 5 a substantial portion of tax revenues to the State in income and 6 excise taxes. Unlike companies that are based outside of the 7 State, Hawaii family businesses attract, employ, and develop 8 middle managers and executives who contribute to the 9 intellectual capital of the Hawaii community and keep it 10 vibrant. The owners of family businesses bring innovative 11 ideas, high energy, and collaboration, and often serve 12 voluntarily on governmental bodies and nonprofit boards. Family 13 businesses also regularly support nonprofit organizations in 14 donations and nonmonetary assistance to a far greater extent 15 than companies owned by nonresidents and based outside of 16 Hawaii.

17 Families who own family businesses typically have their 18 family identities rooted in those businesses, see themselves as 19 custodians of those businesses, and, as all healthy businesses 20 must do, reinvest the great bulk of their profits into the 21 family businesses to keep the companies competitive and growing.

1 As a result, most of the profits received by family businesses 2 are reinvested into more employees, better facilities, and 3 smarter technology, all of which are illiquid. The imposition 4 of estate taxes upon the death of the owner of a family business 5 has sometimes resulted in the sale of that business, as that is 6 the only way sufficient cash can be raised to pay those taxes.
7 In other cases, family businesses have sold key assets or 8 operating divisions to raise cash for those taxes. Even if a 9 family has prepared for those taxes by procuring life insurance 10 for its members, the life insurance premiums are a major 11 diversion of capital from the family businesses. This capital 12 could be put to far better use by creating jobs and buildings in 13 Hawaii, rather than being sent outside of the state economy to 14 life insurance companies.

15 Finally, as a matter of tax policy, the Hawaii estate tax 16 may not be the most efficient way to raise long-term revenue.
17 While the estate tax does yield revenue, it does so by depriving 18 growth capital from businesses and, in some cases, destroying 19 those businesses. Over time, the income and excise tax revenues 20 provided by a growing, healthy family business and its employees 21 will exceed the immediate revenues produced by the estate tax.

1 Accordingly, the State should take reasonable steps to ensure 2 that family businesses in Hawaii are able to continue their 3 operations upon the death of their owners.

4 The purpose of this Act is to:

- 5 (1) Conform Hawaii estate tax laws to the operative
6 provisions of the Internal Revenue Code to decrease 7 the burden on taxpayers and increase efficiencies in 8 the department of taxation's monitoring and auditing 9 of estate tax returns; and
- 10 (2) Establish an estate tax deduction for the value of 11 closely held business interests that will help ensure 12 that locally-owned family businesses can continue to 13 contribute to the Hawaii economy and assist families 14 to retain the ownership interest in their family 15 businesses.

16 SECTION 2. Chapter 236E, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is 17 amended by adding a new section to be appropriately designated 18 and to read as follows:

19 "§236E- Deductions. (a) For all taxable years 20 beginning after December 31, 2024, and for the purposes of 21 determining a tax due under this chapter, a deduction is allowed

1 for the value of the decedent's qualified family-owned business
2 interests. The estate of a decedent shall be allowed a 3 deduction from the gross estate of the decedent for the value of 4 any qualified family-owned business interest held by the 5 decedent at the time of death; provided that:

6 (1) Interest in a closely held business was owned by the 7 decedent; and

8 (2) There was material participation by the decedent in 9 the operation of the trade or business to which the 10 interest relates.

11 (b) If the estate tax due on an estate includes taxes
12 attributable to the value of a qualified family-owned business 13 interest, the estate shall be allowed a deduction from the gross 14 estate of the decedent equal to the value of the interest in a 15 closely held business.

16 (c) For the purpose of this section:

17 "Interest in a closely held business" has the same meaning 18 as defined in section 6166 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, 19 as amended.

1 "Material participation" shall be determined in a manner 2 similar to the manner used in section 2032A(e)(6) of the 3 Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended.

4 "Qualified family-owned business interest" means any 5 interest in a closely held business that meets the following 6 requirements:

- 7 (1) The decedent had a material participation in the trade
8 or business for at least five of the eight years 9 preceding the date of death;
- 10 (2) The value of the trade or business, including the 11 value of the decedent's interest in the trade or 12 business, shall be at least thirty-five per cent of 13 the adjusted gross estate of the decedent; and
- 14 (3) At least fifty-one per cent of the voting stock of the 15 corporation shall be owned by members of two or more 16 families who are related by blood, marriage, or 17 adoption."

18 SECTION 3. Section 236E-6, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is 19 amended by amending subsection (a) to read as follows:

20 "(a) An exclusion from a Hawaii taxable estate shall be 21 allowed to the estate of every decedent against the tax imposed

1 by section 236E-8. For the purpose of this section, the 2 applicable exclusion amount is equal to:

- 3 (1) The federal applicable exclusion amount;
- 4 (2) The exemption equivalent of the unified credit reduced
5 by the amount of taxable gifts made by the decedent 6 that reduces the amount of the federal applicable 7 exclusion amount; or
- 8 (3) The exemption equivalent of the unified credit on the 9 decedent's federal estate tax return,

10 as set forth for the decedent in chapter 11 of the Internal 11 Revenue Code [~~as amended as of December 21, 2017, as if the~~ 12 ~~decedent died on December 31, 2017, and~~] as further adjusted 13 pursuant to subsection (b)."

14 SECTION 4. Statutory material to be repealed is bracketed
15 and stricken. New statutory material is underscored.

16 SECTION 5. This Act shall take effect on July 1, 2040;
17 provided that this Act shall apply to decedents dying or taxable 18 transfers occurring after December 31, 2024.
