Activities

Professionally I volunteer with local humane societies and assisted during the disaster response for Lahaina Maui fires. Previously I have volunteered with the Honolulu Veterinary Society an organization that works for professional and educational development of local veterinarians by organizing multiple networking events along with continuing educational events and community out reach programs. Currently I am an AVMA and HVMA member in good standing. Activities at Ross University included student tutor for three primary subjects, and active SCAVMA member. Student leadership rolls in undergraduate programs include pre-vet club treasurer, student peer mentor and Orange Key Ambassador Society member.

In my spare time I enjoy ballroom dance, ultimate frisbee, hiking, bicycle touring and various water sports.
