
A BILL FOR AN ACT

RELATING TO TAX EXPENDITURE EVALUATION.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF HAWAII:

1 SECTION 1. The legislature finds that certain tax
2 expenditures should be evaluated annually to determine whether 3 they are efficiently fulfilling their intended purpose.

4 Once enacted, these provisions often remain in place for 5 years with limited reassessment. Periodic review and evaluation
6 of tax expenditures is essential to ensure they remain
7 effective, fair, and aligned with evolving public priorities.
8 Regular evaluation strengthens accountability, supports sound
9 budget decisions, ensures equitable competition, and ultimately 10 maximizes benefits for taxpayers.

11 Income tax credits and general excise and use tax 12 exemptions represent a form of public spending, even though they 13 appear as reduced revenue rather than direct expenditures.
14 Without systematic evaluation, policymakers and the public may 15 lack clear insight, or even hard data, that can show how public 16 resources are being used and whether anticipated outcomes are 17 being achieved.

1 Especially in this uncertain economic climate, there is 2 constant pressure to allocate limited resources among competing
3 needs, such as education, healthcare, infrastructure, and public
4 safety. Tax expenditures that were justified under past
5 economic or social conditions may no longer reflect current 6 priorities. Reviewing these provisions allows lawmakers to 7 determine whether funds tied up in tax incentives could be 8 better directed elsewhere or whether successful programs merit
9 continued or expanded support. Periodic evaluation helps to 10 align tax incentives with current budget priorities.

11 The legislature believes that effective tax policy should 12 be guided by data, rather than assumptions. Periodic reviews
13 allow for the measurement of outcomes, such as job creation,
14 economic growth, investment levels, or targeted social benefits,
15 relative to the cost of the incentive. When returns are clearly 16 defined and measured, policymakers can distinguish between 17 programs that deliver strong value and those that fall short.

18 The legislature recognizes that regular review can 19 determine if initial objectives have been achieved. Some tax 20 expenditures are enacted with specific goals, such as 21 encouraging renewable energy development, revitalizing

1 distressed communities, or supporting research and development.
2 Over time, circumstances may change or goals may be met.
3 Periodic review can provide the data that can point to whether a
4 credit or exemption should be continued, modified, phased out,
5 or replaced with a more effective approach. A tax expenditure
6 that made sense decades ago may no longer be relevant or 7 efficient today. Periodic evaluation makes sense to ensure that 8 tax policy adapts to changing realities and that necessary
9 adjustments are made to maintain effectiveness and fairness.

10 Most importantly, regular review provides better data for 11 long-term oversight. Collecting and analyzing consistent
12 information on tax expenditures improves legislative oversight
13 and policy design. High-quality data enables evidence-based 14 decision-making, reduces reliance on anecdotal claims, and 15 strengthens the overall integrity of the tax system.

16 The legislature also recognizes that one possible benefit
17 of regular review is ensuring equitable competition among key
18 industry sectors. Long-standing tax expenditures can 19 unintentionally favor certain industries or firms, creating 20 market distortions and competitive imbalances. Periodic review
21 helps determine whether incentives continue to serve a

1 legitimate public purpose or whether they provide unfair
2 advantages that hinder innovation and competition. A level
3 playing field encourages efficiency and economic resilience
4 across sectors.

5 Additionally, from the taxpayer's perspective, periodic 6 evaluation helps identify tangible benefits. Taxpayers deserve
7 assurance that foregone revenue translates into public value,
8 such as economic opportunity, improved services, or long-term
9 fiscal stability.

10 The legislature notes that the periodic review and 11 evaluation of tax expenditures is not merely a best practice, 12 but a necessity for responsible fiscal management. By promoting 13 accountability, aligning incentives with budget priorities, 14 measuring returns, ensuring fair competition, and adapting to 15 change, government can ensure that tax policies serve their 16 intended purpose and deliver meaningful value to taxpayers.
17 Regular evaluation strengthens public trust and helps build a 18 more effective, equitable, and sustainable tax system. Periodic 19 evaluations can clarify whether tax incentives truly benefit the 20 broader public or primarily serve narrow interests.

1 Accordingly, the purpose of this Act is to facilitate tax
2 reviews and the State's evaluation of tax policies by requiring 3 certain taxpayers to make disclosures in return for their income
4 tax credits or general excise and use tax exemptions.

5 SECTION 2. Chapter 201, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is 6 amended by adding a new section to part I to be appropriately
7 designated and to read as follows:

8 "§201- Evaluation of tax expenditures. (a) As a 9 condition to claiming the credit, each taxpayer claiming an 10 income tax credit under chapter 235, other than a tax credit
11 claimed under section 235-15 or under part III of chapter 235, 12 for a period of five tax years following the initial claiming of 13 the credit, shall provide to the department annually on the due
14 date, including extensions, of the taxpayer's income tax return 15 the taxpayer's name and the total cost of the tax credit to the 16 State during the taxable year.

17 (b) As a condition to claiming the exemption, each 18 taxpayer claiming a general excise tax exemption under 19 chapter 237 and any related use tax exemption under chapter 238,
20 shall provide to the department annually on the due date,
21 including extensions, of the taxpayer's general excise and use

1 tax return the taxpayer's name, general excise tax license
2 number, the amount exempted, and the total cost of the exemption
3 to the State for the taxable year.

4 (c) The department, in collaboration with the department
5 of taxation, shall use the information collected to study the 6 effectiveness of the tax expenditures under this section and to 7 prepare summary descriptive statistics. The department shall 8 report the information required under this subsection to the 9 legislature by September 1 of each year.

10 (d) Notwithstanding any other law to the contrary, the 11 information collected and compiled by the department under this 12 section shall be available for public inspection and 13 dissemination, subject to chapter 92F.

14 (e) The director of business, economic development, and 15 tourism and the director of taxation shall adopt rules pursuant 16 to chapter 91 and prepare any forms necessary to carry out this 17 section."

18 SECTION 3. Chapter 231, Hawaii Revised Statutes, is 19 amended by adding a new section to be appropriately designated 20 and to read as follows:

"§231- Department of business, economic development, and tourism; access to tax records or other information for the evaluation of tax expenditures. Notwithstanding any other law to the contrary, the department shall provide to the department of business, economic development, and tourism any tax records and other information maintained by the department that are requested by the department of business, economic development, and tourism pursuant to section 201- . The information provided by the department to the department of business, economic development, and tourism under this section shall be available for public inspection and dissemination, subject to chapter 92F."

SECTION 4. New statutory material is underscored.

SECTION 5. This Act shall take effect on July 1, 2026, and shall apply to taxable years beginning after December 31, 2026.
