A BILL FOR AN ACT

RELATING TO HUMAN AND COMMUNITY RESILIENCE.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF HAWAII:

1       SECTION 1. The legislature finds that food security and 2 healthy diets are essential for positive youth development,
3 thriving families, and resilient communities. Yet according to 4 the Hawaii Foodbank, more than thirty per cent of households are 5 food insecure, a level that is higher than during the pandemic.

6       The legislature further finds that one of the university of 7 Hawaii at Manoa college of tropical agriculture and human 8 resilience's core missions is to help local families with food 9 security, and the college intends to build a new human and 10 community resilience institute that is community-based and data-
11 driven. The institute plans to unite the centers and programs 12 with a shared purpose to increase children's food and 13 nutritional security, positive youth development and health
14 outcomes, family well-being, and community resilience. The 15 institute plans to include a center on the family, children's 16 healthy living center, Hawaii nutrition center, expanded food
17 and nutrition education program, and a statewide Hawaii 4-H

1 youth development program. The objectives of the institute are 2 to:

3 (1) Conduct community needs assessments, policy analyses,
4 and program evaluations to drive family and community
5 resilience in collaboration with governmental agencies
6 and nonprofit organizations;

7 (2) Develop and implement data-driven, family, and 8 community-based approaches to enhance food and 9 nutritional security, family well-being, and community
10 resilience;

11 (3) Build 4-H youth development programs that foster food
12 and farming entrepreneurship, healthy eating habits,
13 and resilient food systems and community leadership;

14 (4) Build capacity for basic nutrition and healthy eating
15 education in communities, K-12 schools, and colleges; 16 and

17 (5) Develop a new community-engaged scholarship and 18 learning program, a master community nutrition
19 education volunteer program, and a new master's degree
20 program in family and community resilience.
