SUBJECT: HB 2208 HD1 – RELATING TO FOOD SECURITY.

Hearing: February 26, 2026, 2:00 p.m.
Conference Room 308 & Videoconference, State Capitol

DEPARTMENT'S POSITION: The Department of Human Services (DHS) appreciates the intent of the bill and provides comments. This bill establishes and appropriates funds for the Hawaii Farm to Families Program under the Department to alleviate food shortages in the State.

In addition to the amount required for grant funds, should this measure continue to proceed, DHS will require additional resources to administer the program as proposed, and at a minimum, one (1) full-time equivalent program specialist position that would require a general fund appropriation to oversee the statewide coordination of services that would include development of administrative rules, procurement development and execution, and contract monitoring. The Department will continue to update its testimony with the resource needs for implementation as this bill progresses. DHS respectfully requests that the appropriation not replace or reduce budget priorities identified in the executive budget.

Most recently, to address the impacts of the 2025 federal government shutdown, DHS provided funds to the Hawaii Foodbank and its network to purchase and distribute food. In the past, DHS has also facilitated grants appropriated under Chapter 42F, Hawaii Revised Statutes, to community food bank organizations.

The Department recognizes that residents, including those who receive Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) benefits, also rely on community organizations for food and other assistance to meet nutritional and other needs not met by government programs.

However, at this time, DHS is focused on implementing programmatic changes required by the One Big Beautiful Bill Act (OBBBA), Public Law 119-21, and does not currently have sufficient administrative capacity and resources to initiate and oversee a new program.

For the committee’s information, beginning in federal fiscal year 2028 and continuing annually, OBBBA authorized a new cost-share model for SNAP benefits tied to payment error rates. Currently, the SNAP benefit is 100% federally funded and the OBBBA cost-share will require states to pay a percentage of the SNAP benefit. Specifically, states with a payment error rate of 6% or higher, based on their payment error rate from either federal fiscal year 2025 or 2026 (states choose which year's error rate to use as the baseline), will be required to state-fund a percentage of total SNAP benefits.

Hawaii currently issues roughly $660 million in SNAP benefits annually. Using this annual amount as an estimate, the percentage tiering for Hawaii would be the following:

Table 1. Cost Share for SNAP Benefits by payment error rate, beginning federal fiscal year 2028.

Payment Error Rate	Cost Share for SNAP Benefits
	% of State Cost Share for SNAP	Est. Annual Amount to be paid by Hawaii
<6%	0%	$0
6-7.99%	5%	$33,000,000
8-9.99%	10%	$66,000,000
10% or above	15%	$99,000,000

For the federal fiscal year 2024, DHS had a payment error rate of 6.68%. This is the most recent official and final federal fiscal year error rate published by the United States Department of Agriculture, Food & Nutrition Services. DHS achieved this by streamlining and solidifying certain processes, thereby stabilizing the overall eligibility process. Although we continue to work to lower the payment error rate, some OBBBA changes took effect on July 4, 2025, the date OBBBA was signed, and we anticipate payment errors. Understanding the financial magnitude a high error rate would have for the State, the Department will continue to prioritize lowering our payment error rate as our top on-going priority for SNAP.

Lastly, the Department requests an extended effective date to draft and adopt administrative rules that would allow grant submissions in accordance with this new program and to identify and acquire resources needed to implement this measure.

Thank you for the opportunity to provide testimony on this measure.

TESTIMONY ON HB 2208 HD1 Relating to Food Security

Aloha Chair Todd, Vice Chair Takenouchi and Members of the Committee,

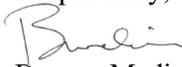

I am Benson Medina, Director of the Department of Research and Development, County of Hawai'i. One of the agricultural objectives of this department is to support collaboration, innovation, resource development, and programmatic sustainability throughout the food system to reduce food waste, improve producer viability and resilience, develop workforce development pathways, or increase access to locally produced food among low-income residents.

The County of Hawai'i provides written testimony in SUPPORT of HB2208 HD1, to establish and appropriate funds in the form of grants for the Hawai'i Farm to Families Program under the Department of Human Services to alleviate food shortages in the State.

Hawai'i County faces the highest rates of food insecurity in the State, with 43% of Hawai'i County households reporting food insecurity in a 2025 report by Hawai'i Foodbank. The Food Basket (TFB), Hawai'i Island's food bank is at the forefront of Farm to Family initiatives, pioneering efforts to connect local farmers with communities in need. In 2025, our department collaborated with TFB to award $500,000 in federally-funded grants to 29 food access organizations. This investment prioritized projects that increase cold, dry, or freezer storage, as well as equipment and supplies, expanding the capacity of food access programs around the island to receive and store fresh Farm to Families produce.

The Farm to Families program improves emergency food access, boosts local agriculture, and strengthens Hawai'i's food system during the ongoing economic crisis that is affecting so many families across the state. Thank you for the opportunity to provide testimony in SUPPORT of HB2208 HD1.

RE: SUPPORT OF HOUSE BILL 2208, HD1, RELATING TO FOOD SECURITY

The City and County of Honolulu's ("City") Office of Climate Change, Sustainability, and Resiliency ("Resilience Office") supports House Bill 2208, HD1, which establishes and appropriates funds in the form of grants for the Hawai'i Farm to Families Program to alleviate food shortages in the state.

Food insecurity across the state remains at crisis levels, with continued pandemic-level demand at food banks now compounded by high living costs, climate-related disruptions, and uncertainty in federal support. These conditions highlight the need for sustainable, locally rooted solutions that strengthen both daily food access and long-term resilience.

This measure complements ongoing City efforts to build a more resilient food system, including development of a first-ever O'ahu Food Systems Plan and the O'ahu Good Food Program, which supports institutions in increasing local food procurement. Strengthening food banks' ability to purchase and distribute local products helps reinforce these broader market shifts while directly serving communities most in need.

Investing in Hawai'i-grown food reduces reliance on imported goods and vulnerable global supply chains, and improves our ability to respond to disaster while ensuring families have access to fresh, nutritious, and culturally-relevant food.

Mahalo for the opportunity to testify in support of HB2208, HD1.

Comments:

Aloha,

I serve as Maui County Council Chair Alice Lee's representative on the Board of the Maui Food Bank, and ask for your support of this important measure. With our housing crisis being foremost in everyone's minds, we cannot fail to also address our food security crisis -- which includes 34 percent of our keiki experiencing food insecurity!

HB2208, HD1 -- the Farm to Families Bill -- is a win-win-win-win: it provides access to fresh food for food insecure families; it invests in local farmers and growers; it strengthens our community food systems; and it improves our health and resiliency.

- If we invest in local agriculture, we reduce our dependence on imported goods and thus create more resilient and sustainable food systems.

- If we provide a steady market for local produce, then farmers can plan for future growth.

- If we provide healthy food options, we provide essential nutrients to individuals, thus fighting hunger and promoting long-term health and wellness.

Please give HB2208, HD1 your whole-hearted support!

Mahalo for your consideration.

Aloha Chair Todd, Vice Chair Takenouchi, and Members of the House Finance Committee,

The Hawai'i Farmers Union is a 501(c)(5) agricultural advocacy nonprofit representing a network of over 2,500 family farmers and their supporters across the Hawaiian Islands. HFU strongly supports HB2208.

HB2208 is a transformative measure to alleviate immediate hunger and grow the agricultural economy while building long-term community resilience.

Recent data shows a staggering one in three households in Hawai'i faces food insecurity. HB2208 establishes the Hawai'i Farm to Families Program to bridge the gap between local farms and those in need. By facilitating the consistent procurement of fresh, nutritious food, this program provides an immediate lifeline to our state's most vulnerable populations.

For Hawai'i's farmers to thrive and scale, they need market stability. By ensuring a stable and predictable demand for locally sourced products, the program keeps public dollars circulating within the local economy. This gives our agricultural producers the financial certainty they need to expand operations, create jobs, and strengthen the state's overall food self-sufficiency.

Perhaps most importantly, HB2208 builds a more diversified emergency food network capable of pivoting between Hawai'i-grown and imported goods. By investing in the cold storage and transportation essential for local food distribution, the program reduces our dependence on global shipping as a sole supply source.

This procurement infrastructure creates a resilient safety net that can adapt to changing conditions. Whether facing a global supply chain disruption or a local natural disaster, HB2208 guarantees that Hawai'i's people remain fed by establishing a system that functions effectively even when external or internal supply chains are compromised.

HB2208 is more than a hunger relief bill; it is a strategic investment in the long-term resilience of our community, the economic viability of our local farmers, and the food security of every Hawai'i family.

RE: Support for HB 2208 HD1, Relating to Food Security

Aloha Chair Todd, Vice Chair Takenouchi, and members of the committee,

On behalf of the Maui Food Bank, I express our strong support for HB 2208 HD1 Relating to Food Security which establishes and appropriates funds in the form of grants for the Hawaii Farm to Families Program under the Department of Human Services to alleviate food shortages in the State.

For over 30 years, Maui Food Bank has provided daily and emergency assistance to those facing food insecurity in Maui County. Maui Food Bank distributes food to families and individuals on Maui, Molokai and Lanai through direct service programs and through our network of 148 agency partners. Last fiscal year, we served on average 40,000 people each month, distributing a total of 7.6 million pounds of nutritious food, including 2.9 million pounds of fresh produce. Of those served, 35% are children and youth.

With 1 in 3 households in the entire State of Hawai'i facing food insecurity, including 34% of all children, it is critical that we take action to ensure that everyone in our community has access to safe and healthy food. This bill is a win-win. It will provide critical access to fresh, culturally relevant foods for food insecure families, while also investing in local farmers and growers, who are critical to strengthening our community food systems and creating a healthier, more resilient Hawai'i.

The partnership between local farms and food organizations benefits families in our communities and our economy by:

- 1. Strengthening Hawai'i's Food Supply Chain: By investing in local agriculture, we reduce our dependence on imported goods, creating a more resilient and sustainable food system for Hawai'i.
- 2. Supporting Local Farmers: The bill offers a direct benefit to Hawai'i's agricultural sector, providing a steady and fair market for local produce. Farmers can plan for future growth knowing their products will feed their neighbors in need.
- 3. Enhancing Nutritional Access: Fresh, local produce provides essential nutrients to individuals and families who may otherwise lack access to healthy food options.

Maui Food Bank
Nourishing Lives, Feeding Futures

This not only fights hunger but also promotes long-term health and wellness in our communities.

As an example, in FY25 the Maui Food Bank:

- Purchased 650,000 pounds of locally grown/produced food from 29 farmers/ranchers
- Generated $1.1 million in revenue for local food producers and $3.5 million for other Maui County food industry businesses.
- Collected 2.6 million pounds of surplus food from 78 business donors

Thank you for your leadership and commitment to our shared vision of a thriving, food-secure Hawai'i. I am deeply grateful for your consideration of this important legislation. HB 2208 HD1 empowers food distribution organizations to forge stronger partnerships with local farmers and food producers, ensuring that fresh, locally grown produce reaches families experiencing food insecurity. These collaborations between local farms and food organizations deliver benefits to both our communities and the economy.

HOUSE COMMITTEE ON FINANCE

TESTIMONY ON HB 2208, HD1
RELATING TO FOOD SECURITY

Conference Room 308 & Videoconference
2:00 PM

Aloha Chair Todd, Vice-Chair Takenouchi, and Members of the Committee:

I am Brian Miyamoto, Executive Director of the Hawai'i Farm Bureau (HFB). Organized since 1948, the HFB is comprised of 1,800 farm family members statewide and serves as Hawai'i's voice of agriculture to protect, advocate, and advance the social, economic, and educational interests of our diverse agricultural community.

The Hawai'i Farm Bureau supports HB 2208, HD1, which establishes and appropriates funds for the Hawai'i Farm to Families Program under the Department of Human Services to alleviate food shortages in the State while supporting local agricultural producers.

Hawai'i continues to face persistent food insecurity challenges, with many families lacking consistent access to fresh, nutritious food. At the same time, local farmers and ranchers often struggle with unpredictable markets, high distribution costs, and limited access to stable buyers. The Farm to Families Program addresses both challenges by connecting locally grown food with community feeding programs and households in need.

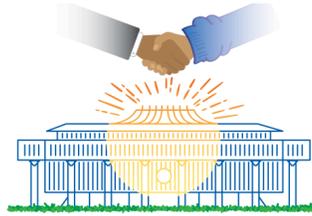

Since 2020, HFB has partnered with Hawai'i's food banks to help source fresh, locally grown food for community distribution. Through these partnerships, the Hawai'i Foodbank, Maui Food Bank, Kaua'i Foodbank, and the Hawai'i Island Food Basket work with hundreds of agency partners statewide to distribute safe, nutritious food to food-insecure individuals and families. These collaborations have demonstrated that purchasing local agricultural products strengthens food access while supporting Hawai'i's farmers and ranchers.

HB 2208, HD1 builds on this proven model by providing a structured, state-supported program that creates a reliable market for local producers while improving access to fresh, locally sourced food for vulnerable populations. Investing in local agriculture through programs like Farm to Families helps reduce reliance on imports, strengthens Hawai'i's food system resilience, and ensures that public resources support both community well-being and local economic activity.

We appreciate the placement of this program within the Department of Human Services, recognizing food security as both a human services and agricultural issue. By aligning social support programs with local food production, HB 2208, HD1 represents a practical, collaborative approach to addressing hunger in Hawai'i.

Thank you for the opportunity to provide testimony.

Re: STRONG SUPPORT for HB2208 HD1 RELATING TO FOOD SECURITY

Aloha Chair, Vice Chair, and members of the Committee on Finance,

We are youth leaders from the Hawai'i Climate Future Forum, a youth-led organization bringing together young people across the islands to address key climate issues, and the Hawai'i Youth Food Council (HYFC), a youth-led council empowering high school and college students to engage in food systems advocacy and education. On behalf of the Climate Future Forum's Regenerative Food Systems Working Group and HYFC, we respectfully submit this joint youth testimony in strong support of HB2208 HD1.

HB2208 is a response to a crisis: one in three households in Hawai'i struggles to secure consistent access to food, and many families are skipping meals or going whole days without eating. From a youth climate and food systems perspective, this is a systems-level crisis. The same communities that are on the frontlines of climate change also experience the highest levels of food insecurity.

Farm to Families can support farming practices that can improve soil health, reduce emissions associated with long-distance imports, and maintain agro-biodiversity that is necessary for climate resilience.

This is the kind of structural investment that moves us away from a semi-functioning reactive emergency model toward a truly regenerative food system.

As youth working in climate action and food systems, we see Farm to Families as a model policy that simultaneously addresses food insecurity, supports local farmers, and strengthens Hawai'i's capacity to withstand future disruptions. HB2208 helps create a Hawai'i where every family has consistent access to locally grown food, and where our food system itself is part of our climate solution instead of a vulnerability.

For these reasons, the Climate Future Forum Regenerative Food Systems Working Group Youth Policy Leaders and the Hawai'i Youth Food Council are in strong support of HB2208 HD1 and respectfully urge the Committee to pass this measure.

Chair Todd, Vice Chair Takenouchi, and Members of the Committee,

The Hawaii Cattlemen's Council supports HB2208 HD1 which establishes and appropriates funds for the Hawai'i Farm to Families Program under the Department of Human Services to alleviate food shortages in the State.

Food security is a base need for our community. No family should go hungry. We support this bill that will help feed our community as well as support local agriculture. Providing funds to our food banks to purchase local food is a win-win and encourages producers to increase local food production. Ranchers are always generous with their donations, but this program can ensure that beef purchases can be made when appropriate as well.

We appreciate the opportunity to testify on this measure. The Hawaii Cattlemen's Council (HCC) is the Statewide umbrella organization comprised of the four county-level Cattlemen's Associations. Ranchers produce a high-quality protein and are the stewards of almost 750 thousand acres of land in Hawaii, or nearly 20% of the State's total land mass. Aloha e Chair Todd, Vice Chair Takenouchi and Members of the House Committee on Finance,

Re: Testimony in Support of HB 2208, Relating to Food Security

On behalf of Agriculture Stewardship Hawai'i, we strongly support HB 2208, Relating to Food Security, which establishes and funds the Hawai'i Farm to Families Program within the Department of Human Services to address food shortages and require legislative reporting.

Agriculture Stewardship Hawai'i is a nonprofit organization dedicated to strengthening the viability of Hawai'i's farmers and ranchers through technical assistance, resource coordination, business education, and policy support. In our daily work across the state, we see the stark reality of food insecurity—including among those who grow and produce our food. Nationally, food system workers are more than twice as likely as workers in other sectors to rely on SNAP and other food assistance. The people feeding our communities are too often struggling to feed their own families.

HB 2208 represents a fiscally responsible, high-impact investment. The Farm to Families Program addresses food insecurity while supporting local producers, keeping state dollars circulating in Hawai'i's economy, sustaining local jobs, and strengthening supply chain resilience. These funds generate multiplier effects across producers, distributors, food hubs, and communities—while reducing reliance on imported food and external supply chains. Embedding and expanding this program within core state operations ensures stability, accountability, and measurable outcomes.

With roughly one in three Hawai'i households experiencing food insecurity, strategic investments like this are both urgent and prudent. HB 2208 advances a smart, win-win approach that strengthens families, stabilizes agricultural businesses, and builds long-term economic resilience.

Mahalo for your leadership and commitment to Hawai'i's farmers, food workers, and communities. We respectfully urge your support for HB 2208.

TESTIMONY IN SUPPORT OF HB 2208 HD1
RELATING TO FOOD SECURITY

To: Chair Todd, Vice Chair Takenouchi, and members of the House Committee on Finance

From: Rona Yagi Fukumoto, President and CEO

Date: Wednesday, February 25, 2026

On behalf of Lanakila Pacific, I am testifying in strong support of HB 2208 HD1, which appropriates funds in the form of grants for the Hawaii Farm to Families Program to alleviate food shortages in the state. As a safety net provider of food for seniors and people with disabilities through the Lanakila Meals on Wheels Program, Lanakila Pacific supports the request to increase funding that will strengthen the local food system.

A strong local food supply chain will be more resilient when tested by disaster. The community will need local producers to feed residents when supplies are cut off due to a natural disaster, man-made disaster, or government shutdown. That said, to be effective, the emergency food system must have a foundation in the continually operating local food system. What better way than to support local farms which in turn work with community-based organizations to feed families that are food insecure.

At Lanakila Pacific, our mission is to build independence and an improved quality of life for individuals with cognitive, physical, social or age-related challenges. Throughout our 87-year history, we provided job training, work experience, and support for jobseekers with disabilities as well as nutrition programs to allow people to live independently. Working and being independent is extremely difficult if you are hungry.

HB 2208 HD1 is a step toward ensuring resilience in many sectors of support. Thank you for the opportunity to provide testimony. Please contact me at 808-356-8569 or rfukumoto@lanakilapacific.org if you have any questions.

February 26, 2026, 2:00 PM

Dear Chair Todd, Vice Chair Takenouchi, and Committee Members,

On behalf of Hawai'i Children's Action Network Speaks!, I am writing in SUPPORT of HB2208 HD1. This bill establishes and appropriates funds for the Hawai'i Farm to Families Program to alleviate food shortages in the State and requires reports to the Legislature prior to the Regular Sessions of 2027 and 2028.

According to the Hawai'i Food Bank, one third (34%) of children in Hawai'i are living in households in which one or more of them are food insecure.¹ Especially with the highest cost of living and most expensive groceries in the nation,² it is nearly impossible for the low-income families in Hawai'i to afford to buy healthy food, such as fresh fruits and vegetables.

In addition, it is well established that the stresses of childhood poverty have both immediate and long-term effects on keiki's physical and mental health, behavioral self-control, academic achievement, and earnings as adults.³

That's why it's so important to support Hawai'i's food banks and farmers by providing state funds to Hawai'i food banks to secure consistent supplies of locally produced or grown food for hungry families.

Food banks and their partner agencies help ensure that struggling families with keiki do not go hungry by distributing millions of pounds of food per year to those in need in our state. The recent years of high inflation, especially for groceries, the devastating wildfires, and federal layoffs and cuts have led our state's food banks to struggle with continual rising demand.⁴

This program would have the added plus of supporting our local farms. Farm to families is a win-win, by providing local food to those who need it, supporting local farmers, and strengthening local food systems.

Mahalo for the opportunity to provide this testimony. Please pass this bill.

Group Testimony in Support of HB2208HD1 RELATING TO FOOD SECURITY

Aloha,

'Ahahui o nā Kauka is an organization of Native Hawaiian physicians dedicated to the health of the people of Hawai'i and Native Hawaiians in particular. We are writing in support of HB2208 Farm to Families aimed to alleviate food shortages in the State of Hawai'i. With 1 in 3 households in Hawai'i facing food insecurity, including 34% of all children, it is critical that we take action to ensure that everyone in our community has access to safe and healthy food. This bill is a win-win. It will provide critical access to fresh, culturally relevant foods for food insecure families, while also investing in local farmers and growers, who are critical to strengthening our community food systems and creating a healthier, more resilient Hawai'i.

The partnership between local farms and food organizations benefits families in our communities and our economy by:

1. Strengthening Hawai'i's Food Supply Chain: By investing in local agriculture, we reduce our dependence on imported goods, creating a more resilient and sustainable food system for Hawai'i.
2. Supporting Local Farmers: The bill offers a direct benefit to Hawai'i's agricultural sector, providing a steady and fair market for local produce. Farmers can plan for future growth knowing their products will feed their neighbors in need.

3. Enhancing Nutritional Access: Fresh, local produce provides essential nutrients to individuals and families who may otherwise lack access to healthy food options. This not only fights hunger but also promotes long-term health and wellness in our communities.

We know that food insecurity and access to healthy and culturally relevant foods is a fundamental determinant of health that impacts overall Maui Ola (health and wellness). Today, Hawai'i relies on external markets and imports 85-90% of food, and thus Hawai'i's people are no longer connected to food sources, how it's processed or know where the food comes from. We also know that people who face challenges accessing enough food also face challenges affording adequate housing, healthcare, transportation and other basic needs. Studies show that among those experiencing food insecurity, over 60% described either delaying filling prescriptions or taking less medicine in order to save money.

Thank you for your leadership and commitment to our shared vision of a thriving, food-secure Hawai'i. We are deeply grateful for your consideration of this important legislation.

Support for HB 2208 – Relating to Food Security
House Committee on Finance
Thursday, February 26, 2026, at 2:00PM

Dear Chair Todd, Vice Chair Takenouchi, and members of the Committee:

Thank you for the opportunity to submit testimony in support of HB 2208, which would support a Farm to Families program. This bill would appropriate additional funds to alleviate food shortages in the State by ensuring fresh produce is directed to families in need.

A strong emergency food system is a critical pillar of food equity and resiliency. This legislation is a small investment that would go a long way in strengthening local food supply chains, from supporting the local agricultural economy to guaranteeing that nutritious food is available to more families, to reducing farm food waste.

Fresh, local produce is essential for improving community health, yet is often out of reach for many families struggling to afford life in Hawai‘i. This program would help make healthy, whole foods available to more people, thereby alleviating hunger and preventing long-term health issues like diabetes, heart disease, stroke, and depression.¹

Farm to families not only strengthens Hawai‘i’s food supply chain but also provides a backup, or “safety net” market for local farmers during times of economic crisis or natural disaster. When these events strike, the emergency food system becomes a lifeline both for families seeking food, and for farmers seeking markets when tourism plummets. During the recent federal shutdown, as the state worked toward alleviating the pause in SNAP benefits, federal workers without paychecks, SNAP recipients, and those struggling to put food on the table were pointed to the food banks. Once again, the food banks and distribution partners stepped in—institutions that historically have relied almost entirely on charitable contributions.

By strengthening the partnerships between local farmers and our food banks, we are setting up a food system that is not as reliant on imports and puts back money in our local economy. Our state has set goals to double our local food production by 2030; passing this bill is one step to getting us there.²

Thank you for the opportunity to provide testimony in support of HB 2208. We are pleased that the Hawai‘i legislature is paying attention to improving food security. By investing in this initiative, we can create a stronger, healthier, and more equitable Hawai‘i for generations to come.

Testimony in Strong Support of HB2208 HD1 — Relating to Food Security

Aloha Chair, Vice Chair, and Members of the Committee,

My name is Bev Brody, and I am submitting testimony on behalf of Get Fit Kauai, a countywide Healthy Eating Active Living coalition dedicated to improving the health and well-being of Kaua'i residents. I am writing in strong support of HB2208 HD1, which establishes and funds the Farm to Families program under the Department of Human Services.

Food insecurity continues to affect far too many Hawai'i households, with families struggling to access fresh, nutritious foods that support long-term health. At the same time, our local farmers face ongoing challenges in securing stable, predictable markets for their crops. HB2208 HD1 addresses both issues with one smart, community-centered solution.

By enabling food banks to purchase locally grown produce, this bill:

- Strengthens Hawaii's food system by keeping food dollars circulating locally and reducing reliance on imports.
- Supports local farmers with consistent demand and fair purchasing agreements that allow them to plan, grow, and thrive.
- Improves community health by ensuring that families facing hardship have access to fresh, culturally relevant foods.

This program is not only practical — it is deeply aligned with our statewide goals of food security, agricultural resilience, and community health. It invests in our people, our farmers, and our future.

On behalf of Get Fit Kauai, I respectfully urge the Committee to pass HB2208 HD1.

Mahalo for your time and consideration.

TESTIMONY IN SUPPORT OF HB2208 HD1: Farm to Families
House Committee on Finance
Hearing Date: Thursday, February 26, 2026 at 2:00 PM

Dear Chair Todd, Vice Chair Takenouchi, and Members of the Committee,

My name is Kat Saneewong, and I serve as the Farmers Market Program Navigator with the Hawai'i Good Food Alliance. I am writing in strong support of HB2208 HD1, the Farm to Families bill, which addresses food insecurity in our state by expanding access to fresh, locally grown food while strengthening Hawai'i's agricultural economy

HB2208 HD1 strengthens the Hawai'i Farm to Families Program and represents a thoughtful investment in both community food access and local agricultural stability. Hawai'i continues to face elevated rates of food insecurity while farmers navigate rising input costs and uncertain market conditions. This measure addresses both challenges in a coordinated and fiscally responsible way. By advancing this program, the Legislature will:

- Create Reliable Market Opportunities for Hawai'i Farmers – Consistent procurement through Farm to Families provides growers with dependable demand, helping stabilize farm income and supporting long-term operational planning. Strengthening local markets keeps agricultural production viable and preserves critical farmland resources across the state.
- Expand Access to Nutritious, Locally Grown Food – Families experiencing food insecurity gain increased access to fresh, culturally appropriate produce grown here in Hawai'i. Improving availability of nutritious food contributes to better health outcomes and supports community well-being.
- Reinforce Hawai'i's Food System Infrastructure – Strategic investment in local sourcing and distribution reduces reliance on imported food and builds stronger in-state supply networks. Strengthening these systems now improves resilience against future economic or supply disruptions.

At the Hawai'i Good Food Alliance, we work with farmers and community partners statewide to strengthen our local food system. We have seen how farm-to-community programs connect families, kūpuna, and keiki with fresh, Hawai'i-grown food while supporting farmer viability. HB2208 HD1 builds on this progress and moves our state toward a more resilient and food-secure future.

Mahalo for your leadership and commitment to food security and agricultural sustainability.

RE: Support for HB 2208, Relating to Food Security

Dear Chair Todd, Vice Chair Takenouchi, and members of the committee,

The Hawai'i Hunger Action Network, a coalition of more than twenty local organizations with the mission to advocate for food security for Hawai'i households, would like to express strong support for HB 2208, which would provide additional funding for the Farm to Families program.

Our network is intimately familiar with the toll disasters can take on communities, and many of our members are at the frontlines of response efforts. Whether it is in response to wildfires, a pandemic, a government shutdown, a hurricane, flood, volcano eruption—or just the day-to-day emergency of needing to put food on the table in an economy when many families are one paycheck away from financial devastation—our emergency food partners are there to respond to the community's needs.

They are doing this with already stretched and limited resources—relying heavily on private donations and grants—while also facing recent cuts to federal funding.

A strong emergency food system is a critical pillar of resiliency, not just because of its role in a disaster, but also in its potential to strengthen local food supply chains and our island's agricultural economy. This program guarantees that nutritious food is available to more families, supporting local farmers, and even reducing farm food waste across the islands.

Thank you for your leadership and for your consideration of this important legislation.

With aloha,
Hawai'i Hunger Action Network membership

CATHOLIC CHARITIES HAWAI'I

SUPPORT HB 2208 HD1: RELATING TO FOOD SECURITY

TO: House Committee on Finance
FROM: Betty Lou Larson, Legislative Liaison, Catholic Charities Hawai'i
Hearing: Thursday, 2/26/26; 2:00 PM. CR 308 & Videoconference

Aloha Chair Todd, Vice Chair Takenouchi, and Members, Committee on Finance:

My name is Betty Lou Larson from Catholic Charities Hawai'i. We are in strong support of HB 2208 HD1, which funds the Farm to Families Program.

With one in three households in Hawai'i experiencing food insecurity, including 34 percent of children, decisive action is needed to ensure families have consistent access to safe, nutritious, and culturally appropriate food. HB 2208 represents a meaningful and practical solution to this urgent challenge.

This measure creates a win-win opportunity for Hawai'i by simultaneously addressing hunger and strengthening our local food system. By supporting partnerships between local farmers and food organizations, the bill expands access to fresh, healthy food for food-insecure families while investing in Hawai'i's agricultural community.

Specifically, HB 2208 HD1 will:

- Strengthen Hawai'i's food supply chain by increasing local food production and reducing reliance on imported goods, helping to build a more resilient and sustainable food system.
- Support local farmers and growers by providing a reliable and fair market for locally grown produce, enabling farmers to plan for growth and stability while feeding their neighbors in need.
- Enhance nutritional access and health outcomes by increasing the availability of fresh, local produce for families who may otherwise lack access to healthy food options—addressing both immediate hunger and long-term wellness.

Catholic Charities Hawai'i works daily with families struggling to make ends meet. We see firsthand how access to fresh, nutritious food can stabilize households, improve health, and strengthen communities. HB 2208 HD1 aligns with these goals and reflects a thoughtful investment in both people and local agriculture. For these reasons, Catholic Charities Hawai'i strongly supports HB2208 HD1 and respectfully urges the Committee to pass this important measure.

Mahalo for the opportunity to submit testimony. If you have any questions, please contact our Legislative Liaison, Betty Lou Larson, at (808) 527-4813.

Re: Testimony in Strong Support of HB2208

From: Andrew Ogata, Hawai'i Health & Harm Reduction Center

Aloha Chair Todd, Vice Chair Takenouchi, and Members of the Committee,

My name is Andrew Ogata, and I am submitting testimony on behalf of the Hawai'i Health & Harm Reduction Center (H3RC) in strong support of HB 2208.

Food insecurity continues to be one of the most pressing issues facing the communities we serve. Many of our clients are already dealing with housing instability, chronic health conditions, and limited income. When access to food is unreliable, everything else becomes harder. Managing health, staying housed, and even showing up for services can quickly fall apart when people are skipping meals or going days without eating.

H3RC provides low-barrier, harm reduction–based services to the LGBTQIA+ community, individuals living with or affected by HIV, hepatitis, substance use, mental illness, and homelessness. Food access is a consistent need we see across all of our programs. It is not just about hunger. It directly affects health outcomes, medication adherence, and overall stability.

We have partnered with the Hawai'i Foodbank for many years to help address this need. During the pandemic, we helped distribute more than 500,000 pounds of food across O'ahu. Today, even with fewer emergency supports in place, demand remains extremely high. We currently distribute over 140,000 pounds of food each year, and the need continues to grow.

HB 2208 is an important step toward addressing food insecurity in a sustainable way. By supporting food banks' ability to purchase and distribute fresh, Hawai'i-grown food, this bill improves access to nutritious food for families while also supporting local farmers and strengthening our local food system. This kind of investment helps communities now and builds resilience for the future.

We respectfully urge the Committee to support HB 2208.

Thank you for the opportunity to testify.

RE: HOUSE BILL NO. 2208, HOUSE DRAFT 1, RELATING TO FOOD SECURITY.

Chair Todd, Vice Chair Takenouchi, and Members of the Committee:

The Hawaii Primary Care Association (HPCA) is a 501(c)(3) organization established to advocate for, expand access to, and sustain high quality care through the statewide network of Community Health Centers throughout the State of Hawaii. The HPCA SUPPORTS THE INTENT of House Bill No. 2208, House Draft 1, RELATING TO FOOD SECURITY.

By way of background, the HPCA represents Hawaii's Federally Qualified Health Centers (FQHCs). FQHCs provide desperately needed medical services at the frontlines to over 150,000 patients each year who live in rural and underserved communities. Long considered champions for creating a more sustainable, integrated, and wellness-oriented system of health, FQHCs provide a more efficient, more effective and more comprehensive system of healthcare.

The measure, as received by your Committee, would establish the Hawaii Farm to Families Program (Program) to fund food banks in the State to purchase, store, and transport fresh, Hawaii-grown or -produced food to food insecure communities. In addition, the bill would appropriate an unspecified amount of general funds for fiscal year 2026-2027, for the administration of the Program and provision of food to Food Banks through the Program.

The bill would take effect on July 1, 3000.

The HPCA acknowledges that pursuant to Act 213, Session Laws of Hawaii 2022, the Hawaii State Legislature established a five-year Food Hub Pilot Program to provide eligible applicants with financial assistance to establish and expand food hub operations on a scale to meet local demands. The Legislature further found that additional funding was necessary to facilitate the intended goals of the Food Hub Pilot Program by enacting Act 185, Session Laws of Hawaii 2025, to appropriate $1,500,000 in general funds for fiscal 2025-2026 and the same amount for fiscal year 2026-2027.

Testimony on House Bill No. 2208, House Draft 1
Thursday, February 26, 2026; 2:00 p.m.

The HPCA has supported the Food Hub Pilot Program since its creation in 2022 and had also supported the provision of additional funding for that program in 2025.

In November 2025, the federal government shutdown stopped the provision of SNAP benefits to Hawaii's citizens. This placed an enormous strain on Hawaii's social safety net to prevent catastrophic outcomes for our most vulnerable communities. This crisis demonstrated how fragile Hawaii's food distribution system is and that the need for additional mechanisms to support nonprofit organizations throughout the State is prevalent and acute.

To the extent that the program proposed by this bill will provide additional resources to nonprofit organizations such as the Food Bank, the HPCA wholeheartedly supports this measure. However, we also note that the manner in which State resources are provided to nonprofits must be carefully examined.

We note that for measures seeking to appropriate funds to non-governmental agencies, the Attorney General had opined that such efforts may conflict with Article VII, Section 4 of the Hawaii Constitution. (See, House Bill No. 1468, Regular Session of 2019, among others.). We acknowledge that the authority to issue grants is solely that of the Legislative branch so how state funds are distributed to food banks must comply with Chapter 42F, Hawaii Revised Statutes, among others.

Be that as it may, we urge your favorable consideration of this measure to further discussion.

Thank you for the opportunity to testify. Should you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact Public Affairs and Policy Director Erik K. Abe at 536-8442, or eabe@hawaiiipca.net.

Ulupono Initiative supports HB 2208 HD1, Relating to Food Security

Dear Chair Todd and Members of the Committee:

My name is Micah Munekata, and I am the Vice President of Government Affairs at Ulupono Initiative. We are a Hawai'i-focused impact investment firm that strives to improve the quality of life throughout the islands by helping our communities become more resilient and self-sufficient through locally produced food, renewable energy and clean transportation choices, and better management of freshwater resources.

Ulupono supports HB 2208 HD1, which establishes and appropriates funds in the form of grants for the Hawai'i Farm to Families Program under the Department of Human Services to alleviate food shortages in the State.

Over the last few years, one of the most pressing issues for many local families has been food insecurity. With many out of work and surviving on government unemployment support, communities have relied on the efforts of food banks and local food producers to meet their basic need to eat.

In response to the COVID pandemic, federal monies injected into Hawai'i through county initiatives helped grow a local farm-to-food bank effort, in which food banks were able to purchase local products for distribution to communities in need. This effort was a win-win-win, in that local food producers had a market to sell their products when hotels and restaurants shuttered their doors, local families received fresh and nutritious food products made locally island-wide, and food banks that were struggling to purchase shelf-stable food due to nationwide shortages were rescued by Hawai'i's farmers and ranchers who provided local food to their communities.

These farm-to-food bank efforts across the state led to many important foundational relationships between local farmers, ranchers, and community feeding organizations that helped struggling communities cope with the social and economic consequences of the COVID pandemic. Unfortunately, natural disasters, food supply chain disruptions, and state emergencies have become a harsh, consistent reality for our local communities. Food banks across the state regularly organize food drives to sustain these vital community resources, which depend increasingly on donations and local producers for consistent supply. Meeting these food security challenges will require ongoing support, and strengthening partnerships between farms and food banks is a valuable investment.

Thank you for the opportunity to testify.

Respectfully,

Micah Munekata

Aloha Chair, Vice Chair, and Members of the Committee,

I am writing in strong support of HB 2208 HD1, which establishes the Hawai'i Farm to Families Program to help address food insecurity across our state.

Food insecurity remains a serious challenge in Hawaii, with many households struggling to access consistent, nutritious meals. Strengthening our local food systems is one of the most practical and sustainable ways to address this issue. By enabling food banks and community organizations to purchase more locally grown food, this program creates a meaningful solution that benefits both families in need and our local farmers.

Local farmers often face significant barriers to reliable markets for their products. The Farm to Families Program would help stabilize demand for locally grown food, support agricultural businesses, and keep food dollars circulating within our local economy. At the same time, it would increase the availability of fresh, healthy food for families experiencing hardship.

This investment is also critical for disaster preparedness. During emergencies and economic downturns, food banks become essential lifelines for many residents, yet they rely heavily on private donations and grants. Providing dedicated funding for local food purchasing will strengthen emergency food distribution networks while improving long-term food security and resilience.

For these reasons, I respectfully urge you to support HB 2208 HD1.

Mahalo for your consideration.

In strong support of HB2208 HD1

Aloha Chair Todd, Vice Chair Takenouchi, and FIN Committee members;

I am Co-Founder of the Hawai'i chapter of 350.org, the largest international organization dedicated to fighting climate change. 350Hawaii.org is in strong support of HB2208 HD1 that establishes and appropriates funds in the form of grants for the Hawai'i Farm to Families Program under the Department of Human Services to alleviate food shortages in the State.

One in three households in Hawai'i faces food insecurity, and our most vulnerable populations need our support. This critical measure will establish and appropriate funds for the Hawai'i Farm to Families Program to fund food banks to purchase, store, and transport fresh, Hawai'i-grown or -produced food. By doing so, this program ensures fresh, locally grown produce reaches families facing food insecurity, and helps alleviate hunger.

Many families in Hawai'i struggle to put food on the table on a consistent basis. HB2208 HD1 is an important step toward reducing hunger in our islands. Moreover, efforts to invest in local agriculture and support our farmers builds Hawai'i's resiliency, and avoids the greenhouse gases that would have been emitted from shipping in food. HB2208 HD1 is a triple win for our families, our farmers, and our climate!

Please pass HB2208 HD1 so that we all may reap these benefits.

Mahalo for the opportunity to testify in strong support of this important legislation.

Subject: Hawai'i Foodbank in Strong Support of HB 2208 HD1 Relating to Food Security

Aloha Chair Todd, Vice Chair Takenouchi, and members of the committee,

On behalf of Hawai'i Foodbank, I express our STRONG support for HB 2208, HD1 Relating to Food Security. This bill establishes and appropriates funds for the Hawai'i Farm to Families Program under the Department of Human Services to alleviate food shortages in the State. It also requires reports to the Legislature before the Regular Sessions of 2027 and 2028.

As the state's largest hunger-relief organization, Hawai'i Foodbank has been committed to ensuring no one in Hawai'i goes hungry since 1983. We work with over 250 hunger relief partners on O'ahu and Kaua'i to distribute food, and programs like Food 4 Keiki and 'Ohana Produce Plus provide nutritious meals to children and families. In addition to addressing daily needs, our organization mobilizes during emergencies to provide immediate relief and aid long-term recovery efforts.

Hawai'i Foodbank's Farm to Families program provides fresh, healthy food to those in need while also supporting local farmers and producers. Launched in 2020, it has already demonstrated its impact by investing $13 million into more than 40 local farms and food hubs, distributing over 10.5 million pounds of Hawai'i-grown produce and proteins. HB 2208 will expand this initiative by strengthening the supply chain, ensuring fresh, Hawai'i-grown food reaches food-insecure households while supporting local agriculture.

Increased funding for Farm to Families is critically needed. The "State of Food Insecurity in Hawai'i 2024-2025" report revealed that 32% of households in our state experience food insecurity. Thirty-four percent (34%) of children experience food insecurity, up from 29% in 2023; and in households with children food security among adults was a staggering 45%, up from 38% in 2023. These figures highlight the urgent need for a sustainable solution to hunger in Hawai'i.

Hawai'i Foodbank is currently serving more than 160,000 people a month – as many people as during the height of the pandemic and twice as many people as we served prior. Given recent federal cuts, these numbers will only go up. Now, more than ever, we must increase our investment in our local food systems, building resilience for local farmers and families.

Mahalo for the opportunity to testify on this vital measure and for your dedication to supporting our communities through initiatives like HB 2208.

With aloha,

Amy Miller

Testimony in Support of Farm to Families

Aloha,

My name is Steve Ulene and I am Vice-Chair of the Board of Maui Food Bank.

I am writing in strong support of Farm to Families.

With 1 in 3 households in Hawai‘i facing food insecurity, including 34% of all children, it is critical that we take action to ensure that everyone in our community has access to safe and healthy food. This bill is a win-win. It will provide critical access to fresh, culturally relevant foods for food insecure families, while also investing in local farmers and growers, who are critical to strengthening our community food systems and creating a healthier, more resilient Hawai‘i.

The partnership between local farms and food organizations benefits families in our communities and our economy by:

- Strengthening Hawai‘i’s Food Supply Chain: By investing in local agriculture, we reduce our dependence on imported goods, creating a more resilient and sustainable food system for Hawai‘i.
- Supporting Local Farmers: The bill offers a direct benefit to Hawai‘i’s agricultural sector, providing a steady and fair market for local produce. Farmers can plan for future growth knowing their products will feed their neighbors in need.
- Enhancing Nutritional Access: Fresh, local produce provides essential nutrients to individuals and families who may otherwise lack access to healthy food options. This not only fights hunger but also promotes long-term health and wellness in our communities.

Thank you for your leadership and commitment to our shared vision of a thriving, food-secure Hawai‘i. I am deeply grateful for your consideration of this important legislation.

Ending hunger in Hawaii is important to me because for 15+ years, our Church has conducted an outreach called Church on the Beach. This effort has fed many people over the years from those houseless in the parks to those working class families to kupuna. We have seen the difference in having available local food and produce that can help feed the people of the south side of Kaua`i making their lives better.

Aloha,

This letter is on behalf of Pacific Birth Collective, a Maui-based nonprofit dedicated to supporting families and fostering resilient communities. We are reaching out in support of HB2208, the “Farm to Families” bill. This critical legislation has the potential to transform Hawai‘i’s food security by strengthening partnerships between food distribution organizations and local farmers, ensuring fresh, locally grown produce reaches families facing food insecurity.

Through our Farm to Mother program, Pacific Birth Collective has seen firsthand the profound impact of connecting local farms to families in need. Collaborating with partners such as the Maui Food Bank, Common Ground Collective, and local farmers, we have provided nutritious, locally sourced foods to hundreds of families across our community. This bill would expand and strengthen such initiatives, amplifying benefits that extend far beyond food access.

Partnerships between local farms and food distribution organizations strengthen our communities in several crucial ways:

- Building resilient food systems: Investing in local agriculture reduces Hawai‘i’s reliance on imported goods and fosters a sustainable food supply chain capable of withstanding global disruptions.
- Empowering local farmers: By providing a reliable and fair market for their produce, this legislation supports local farmers, enabling them to grow their businesses while feeding their neighbors.
- Promoting community health: Centering nutritious, locally sourced foods ensures families have access to essential nutrients, addressing hunger while improving long-term wellness.

For us, this work is deeply personal. Following the devastating 2023 Maui wildfires, the need for food security became clearer than ever. Families in crisis turned to organizations like ours not only for supplies and food, but for hope. Programs like Farm to Mother demonstrate that supporting local food systems is a life-changing solution for communities across Hawai‘i.

Thank you for your leadership and commitment to a food-secure Hawai‘i. We are deeply grateful for your consideration of the “Farm to Families” bill and stand ready to collaborate to bring its vision to life.

Mahalo nui loa,
Kiana Rowley, Board President

Testimony in Support of Farm to Families

Aloha,

Karin S. Carlson from Maui and a memembr of the Board of Directors of the Mui Food Bank

I am writing in strong support of Farm to Families.

With 1 in 3 households in Hawai'i facing food insecurity, including 34% of all children, it is critical that we take action to ensure that everyone in our community has access to safe and healthy food. This bill is a win-win. It will provide critical access to fresh, culturally relevant foods for food insecure families, while also investing in local farmers and growers, who are critical to strengthening our community food systems and creating a healthier, more resilient Hawai'i.

The partnership between local farms and food organizations benefits families in our communities and our economy by:

1. Strengthening Hawai‘i’s Food Supply Chain: By investing in local agriculture, we reduce our dependence on imported goods, creating a more resilient and sustainable food system for Hawai‘i.
1. Supporting Local Farmers: The bill offers a direct benefit to Hawai‘i’s agricultural sector, providing a steady and fair market for local produce. Farmers can plan for future growth knowing their products will feed their neighbors in need.
1. Enhancing Nutritional Access: Fresh, local produce provides essential nutrients to individuals and families who may otherwise lack access to healthy food options. This not only fights hunger but also promotes long-term health and wellness in our communities.

Ending hunger is critical to the health of the people fo Hawaii. If you feed them, they can function, from children in school to those struggling to survive in one of the most costly places to live in the USA.

Thank you for your leadership and commitment to our shared vision of a thriving, food-secure Hawai‘i. I am deeply grateful for your consideration of this important legislation.

Thank you,

Karin S. Carlson

Greetings Committee Members,

Please support HB 2208. An extremely high percentage of households in Hawaii are experiencing food insecurity. Increasing the ability of food banks to purchase locally grown food is a win-win for our communities and farmers. This will help grow our local food and agriculture economy by giving farmers reliable access to markets while providing our communities with nutritious food. We really need to work toward food security in the long term by increasing local food production. Food banks rely almost exclusively on private donations and grants, even though local governments rely heavily on them during times of crisis. The Farm to Families program would provide funding for purchasing from local farmers, improving emergency food access for families and opening up a local market for farmers during times of economic crisis.

Mahalo for your attention.

Marcia Kemble

Makiki

Aloha Hawai'i State Legislature,

We are writing in strong support of increased funding for the Farm to Families program under the Department of Human Services.

Thirty-two percent (32%) of all households in Hawai'i are food insecure, including 34% of all children. In 11% of households' children are going hungry. It is critical that we take action NOW to ensure that everyone in our community has access to safe and healthy food.

Farm to Families legislation represents a meaningful opportunity to advance both food security and community resilience across the state. By increasing our investment in locally grown food for distribution to households facing hardship, Farm to Families improves access to fresh, nutritious meals while supporting Hawai'i farmers. This connection between agriculture and food assistance builds resilience for both families and farmers in times of crisis.

Thank you for your leadership and commitment to our shared vision of a thriving, food-secure Hawai'i. We are deeply grateful for your consideration of this important legislation.

Aloha!

My name is Jody Smith. I am a retiree with 18 years of experience with the sustainable agriculture program at UH Manoa College of Tropical Agriculture and Human Resources. I regularly donate to and volunteer with the Hawai'i Food Bank. I help out with the Food 4 Keiki Program, the CSFP Kupuna Food Box Program, and the food distribution program operated by Kings Cathedral in Aina Haina.

As a HFB volunteer, I unpack boxes and boxes of beautiful fruits and produce grown by our local farmers. I help fill and hand out bags of vegetables. I enjoy watching our local clients growing excited by the variety and selection of popular vegetables (like bok choy, daikon, bitter melon) and local tropical fruits (papaya, pineapple) — the flavors of our islands. The partnership between the Hawaii Food Bank and the Hawaii Farm Bureau has allowed us to distribute this delicious and nourishing fresh produce.

Continuation and expansion of this program via the "Farm to Families" bill will bring multiple benefits to our state.

Please provide full support for the the "Farm to Families" bill, a pivotal piece of legislation that has the potential to transform our state's food security landscape. This bill will allow food distributing organizations to strengthen their partnerships with local farmers and food producers, ensuring that fresh, locally grown produce reaches families facing food insecurity.

As a former agricultural professional in Hawaii, I understand the importance of growing, purchasing and distributing locally grown foods.

Investing in local agriculture reduces the state's dependence on imported food (now estimated at 85% — extraordinarily high).

With a reliable market for their produce, Hawaii's farmers are better able to plan for and supply delicious and nutritious food.

Fresh, local produce provides essential nutrients to individuals and families who may otherwise lack access to healthy food options, fighting hunger and promoting long-term health and wellness in our communities.

Please support the "Farm to Families" bill.

Please support Farm to Families legislation. The need is urgent. 1 in 3 households in Hawai‘i face food insecurity, including 34% of all children.

The partnership between local farms and food organizations benefits families in our communities and our economy by:

- Strengthening Hawai‘i’s Food Supply Chain: By investing in local agriculture, we reduce our dependence on imported goods, creating a more resilient and sustainable food system for Hawai‘i.
- Supporting Local Farmers: The bill offers a direct benefit to Hawai‘i’s agricultural sector, providing a steady and fair market for local produce. Farmers can plan for future growth knowing their products will feed their neighbors in need.

Subject: HB2208 HD1, Relating to Food Security

Aloha,

My name is Sydney Haas and I am a farmer in Hale'iwa. I am writing in support of HB2208 HD1, which establishes and provides funding for the Hawai'i Farm to Families Program to help alleviate food shortages amongst our communities.

Our communities deserve better than to be left struggling to feed themselves and their families. Food insecure individuals are pressured to choose between nutritious choices, if available, and what is affordable enough to feed themselves and their 'ohana. Many parents are forced to skip meals, go full days without food, or for-go their prescription medicine to afford food for their keiki. Those facing hunger also experience higher rates of nutritional deficiencies, and physical and mental health disparities. No family across the pae 'āina should need to experience this level of distress. The extent to which people need food in Hawai'i is far greater than what many of us could ever realize.

Recent cuts to federal funding are threatening the future of Hawai'i's food banks and their ability to adequately serve our communities and farmers. Food banks rely on these funds to purchase from local farmers and to operate programs like mobile markets, which help reach underserved communities. The demand for food bank resources remains at alarming levels, and yet, as the demand grows, support is fading. Funding for our food banks has been slashed, resulting in a loss of millions of dollars from federal sources. The money lost could have been used to support local farmers and provide quality, nutritious, and locally grown food for our communities. It is critical for the State to take on the initiative of equipping our food banks with the means to feed our communities and keiki.

As a farmer, I understand how important the food bank's purchasing power is for local producers. This bill would support our food banks' ability to purchase in larger quantities from farms, which many other market outlets and customers aren't capable of doing. It would provide a beneficial customer for our farms, while also helping to put more locally grown food on peoples' plates, and contributing to Hawai'i's local economies.

I urge the committee to pass HB2208 HD1 to help reduce hunger within our communities and support the well-being of all growing keiki. Passing this measure can help compensate for the uncertainty of support from federal sources for our food banks, and provide a beneficial market for local farmers.

Mahalo to the committee for the opportunity to testify,

Sydney Haas

Chair and Members of the Committee,

Thank you for the opportunity to testify on HB2208. No one can read the findings of this bill without recognizing the seriousness of food insecurity in Hawai‘i. When families skip meals and keiki go entire days without eating, the issue is not abstract; it is immediate and human. Strengthening connections between local farmers and food banks is a constructive response that addresses both hunger and agricultural resilience.

The concept behind the Hawaii Farm to Families Program has merit. Purchasing fresh, Hawai‘i-grown food for distribution through existing food banks can:

- Improve nutritional quality for families in need;
- Provide stable markets for local producers;
- Keep dollars circulating in our local economy; and
- Reduce long-term dependence on imported food.

However, to ensure this program fulfills its promise while respecting taxpayers and community partners, I respectfully offer the following considerations:

1. Fiscal Transparency and Measurable Outcomes

Appropriated funds should be tied to clear, publicly reported performance metrics—such as pounds of local produce purchased, number of households served, cost per meal delivered, and measurable health or food access outcomes. Transparent reporting will build public trust and allow the Legislature to evaluate cost-effectiveness relative to alternative approaches.

2. Guard Against Market Distortion

While supporting local farmers is a worthy goal, care should be taken to avoid unintentionally crowding out private markets or favoring certain producers over others. Grant criteria should be neutral, competitive, and structured to avoid creating long-term dependency on state purchasing.

3. Administrative Efficiency

The bill creates a new program within the Department of Human Services. The Legislature should ensure that administrative overhead remains minimal and that funds flow primarily to food acquisition and distribution, not bureaucracy. Leveraging existing food bank infrastructure is a strength; maintaining that lean model will be key.

4. Sunset or Review Mechanism

Given the scale of the appropriation, the Legislature may wish to include a sunset clause or structured reauthorization requirement. Periodic review ensures the program remains effective, accountable, and aligned with evolving community needs.

Hawai'i's long-term food security will ultimately depend not only on public programs, but also on policies that lower barriers for farmers, reduce regulatory burdens, expand access to land and water, and allow community-based solutions to flourish. HB2208 can be a constructive part of that broader effort if implemented with strong accountability and fiscal discipline.

With thoughtful amendments to ensure transparency, efficiency, and measurable results, this bill can support vulnerable families while strengthening our local food system. Mahalo for your consideration.

2208 HB RELATING TO FOOD SECURITY.

February 2, 2026
Testimony in Support of Farm to Families

Aloha,

My name is Lindsay Domantay from Kapolei, Hawaii.

I am writing in strong support of Farm to Families.

With 1 in 3 households in Hawai'i facing food insecurity, including 34% of all children, it is critical that we take action to ensure that everyone in our community has access to safe and healthy food. This bill is a win-win. It will provide critical access to fresh, culturally relevant foods for food insecure families, while also investing in local farmers and growers, who are critical to strengthening our community food systems and creating a healthier, more resilient Hawai'i.

The partnership between local farms and food organizations benefits families in our communities and our economy by:

- 1. Strengthening Hawai'i's Food Supply Chain: By investing in local agriculture, we reduce our dependence on imported goods, creating a more resilient and sustainable food system for Hawai'i.
- 2. Supporting Local Farmers: The bill offers a direct benefit to Hawai'i's agricultural sector, providing a steady and fair market for local produce. Farmers can plan for future growth knowing their products will feed their neighbors in need.
- 3. Enhancing Nutritional Access: Fresh, local produce provides essential nutrients to individuals and families who may otherwise lack access to healthy food options. This not only fights hunger but also promotes long-term health and wellness in our communities.

I am fortunate to have been born and raised in Hawai'i, with the notion that community is our kuleana, instilled in me. No one should go hungry. Basic needs— healthy food, clean water, and shelter are essential for survival. This bill will help support local farmers and help build a sustainable food system here in the islands, while ensuring that nutritious food will be made accessible to our neighbors in need.

Thank you for your leadership and commitment to our shared vision of a thriving, food-secure Hawai'i. I am deeply grateful for your consideration of this important legislation.

Thank you,

Lindsay Domantay

Please support HB 2208 HD1. The statistics around food insecurity in Hawai'i are staggering. One in three households in Hawaii report experiencing food insecurity. Nearly half (46%) of ALICE households lack consistent access to food. Increasing the ability of food banks to purchase locally grown food is a win-win for our communities and farmers. One major challenge local farmers face is access to markets. This will help grow our local food and agriculture economy while providing our communities with nutritious food. As the cost of imports continues to increase, investing in our local food economy will help bolster our local production and food security in the long term.

Preparing Hawai'i's families in the wake of disaster, food banks rely almost exclusively on private donations and grants, even though local governments rely heavily on them during times of crisis. The Farm to Families program would provide funding for purchasing from local farmers, improving emergency food access for families and opening up a local market for farmers during times of economic crisis.

Thank you.

Aloha Chairperson and Committee Members,

My name is Christopher Egbo, and I am a concerned citizen of Honolulu writing in strong support of HB 2208 HD1. This bill represents a vital step toward addressing two of Hawai‘i’s most pressing challenges: food insecurity and the need to strengthen our local agricultural economy.

The statistics are sobering. One in three households in Hawai‘i experiences food insecurity, and nearly half of ALICE households, those who are employed but struggle to meet basic needs, lack consistent access to nutritious food. At the same time, many of our local farmers face significant barriers to accessing reliable markets. HB 2208 HD1 offers a solution that bridges both gaps: by enabling food banks to purchase more locally grown food, we can nourish our communities while supporting Hawai‘i’s farmers.

Investing in this program is a win-win. It helps grow our local food economy, reduces our reliance on costly imports, and ensures that families in need have access to fresh, healthy food. As the cost of imports continues to rise, strengthening our local food system is not just a matter of economic sense, it’s a matter of long-term resilience and food security.

We also know that in times of disaster—whether a hurricane, volcanic eruption, or global pandemic, food banks are on the front lines, yet they are expected to respond with little to no government support. Currently, they rely almost exclusively on private donations and grants, even though local governments depend on them during crises. The Farm to Families program would change that by providing dedicated funding to purchase food from local farmers, improving emergency food access for families and creating a stable, local market for farmers when they need it most.

This is a smart, compassionate, and forward-looking investment in our communities. I urge you to support HB 2208 HD1.

Mahalo for your time and consideration,

Christopher Egbo

Hello Chair and Members of the Committee,

My name is Nanea Lo, and I respectfully submit this testimony in strong support of HB 2208 HD1, relating to the Farm to Families Program.

Food insecurity in Hawai‘i has reached alarming levels. One in three households in our state experiences food insecurity, and nearly half of ALICE households struggle to maintain consistent access to food. These are not abstract numbers — they represent our kūpuna, working families, and keiki who are doing their best in an increasingly unaffordable state.

HB 2208 HD1 offers a practical, community-based solution. By establishing the Hawai‘i Farm to Families Program, this bill strengthens our local food system while addressing hunger directly. Increasing the ability of food banks to purchase locally grown food is a win-win. It supports local farmers — many of whom face ongoing challenges accessing stable markets — while ensuring that families receive fresh, nutritious, locally sourced food.

As import costs continue to rise and supply chains remain vulnerable, investing in our local agricultural economy is not just beneficial — it is necessary for long-term food security. The COVID-19 pandemic and recent disasters have shown us how fragile our food systems can be. Food banks are essential partners in times of crisis, yet they rely heavily on private donations and grants despite being critical components of our emergency response infrastructure.

The Farm to Families Program would provide consistent funding for food banks to purchase directly from local farmers, strengthening both our emergency preparedness and our agricultural economy. This is a smart investment in resilience, sustainability, and community well-being.

For these reasons, I respectfully urge you to support HB 2208 HD1.

Aloha Chair and Members of the Committee,

My name is Joell Edwards. I am a Wainiha resident and small rural grocery store owner on the North Shore of Kaua‘i. Each month, on the last Wednesday, we host a mobile food pantry provided by the Hawai‘i Foodbank Kaua‘i on our property because we know that is when many families are stretched to their limit. I am writing in strong support of HB2208 HD1. Living in rural Kaua‘i already comes with structural challenges — geographic isolation, limited infrastructure, and repeated natural disasters that can cut us off from the rest of the island. When heavy rains flood Kūhiō Highway or landslides close access routes, deliveries stop. Our shelves thin out quickly. In those moments, families cannot simply “drive to the next store.” There isn’t one. Layered on top of that is Hawai‘i’s extreme cost of living. Families here face some of the highest food, housing, fuel, and utility costs in the nation. For many working households, even those with full-time employment, one unexpected expense — a car repair, medical bill, or week of reduced hours — can mean the grocery budget collapses. By the last week of the month, the strain is visible. That is why the timing of the mobile pantry matters so much.

One in three households in Hawai‘i experiences food insecurity. Nearly half of ALICE households lack consistent access to food. In rural communities like mine, where prices are higher and options are fewer, those realities are intensified.

HB2208 HD1 strengthens our resilience in two critical ways. First, it supports local farmers by creating a dependable institutional market — something many small producers lack. Second, it ensures that food banks can provide fresh, locally grown food to families who are struggling under the weight of Hawai‘i’s high cost structure.

As import costs continue to rise and climate events become more frequent, relying heavily on distant supply chains increases both price volatility and risk. Investing in local food production stabilizes supply, keeps dollars circulating in our islands, and builds long-term food security.

Food banks are essential emergency infrastructure, yet they rely largely on private donations and grants — even though government agencies depend on them during disasters and economic downturns. Providing funding to purchase from local farmers strengthens both emergency preparedness and economic stability.

HB2208 HD1 is not just about food access — it is about addressing the high cost of living, strengthening local agriculture, and ensuring rural communities like mine are not left behind when the next crisis comes.

Mahalo for your strong support.

TESTIMONY IN SUPPORT : HB 2008, HD1 - RELATING TO FOOD SECURITY.

Aloha Chair Todd, Vice Chair Takenouchi, my Rep. Miyake for Wailuku, Rep. Yamashita of Maui, and Members of the Committee,

My name is Christine Andrews and I am a long-term resident of Wailuku, Maui. I write to you today in strong support of HB 2208, HD1, relating to food security. HB 2208, HD1 establishes and appropriates funds for the Hawaii Farm to Families Program under the Department of Human Services to alleviate food shortages in the State and requires reports to the Legislature before the Regular Sessions of 2027 and 2028.

I remember when my daughters were in elementary and middle school on Maui, they had a school garden. The students participated in a research project with Cornell University whereby they trialed different soil rehabilitation techniques, collected samples, and documented their results. I remember with pride my daughters speaking about the results of this project to a standing-room only meeting of the Hawaii Farmers Union United chapter at the Haiku Community Center. This experience really shaped my children and our choices as a family.

My youngest daughter went on to study environmental science at Vassar College. Her senior thesis focused on the subject of sustainability and food security in Hawaii. Her garden teacher went on to be executive director of Grow Some Good. After graduation, my daughter returned to Maui, and we make our weekly shopping trip to the Upcountry Farmers Market. We fully embrace a circular economy of depending on our farmers rather than imports. Venison stew made of locally-sourced axis deer by Maui Nui Venison is one of our favorites. My tenant is a teacher at Baldwin High School. He received grants to develop a hydroponic system for his classroom to produce tilapia and fresh produce. Farm to Families is modern Maui culture, and I have seen the benefits to health, well-being, community, and our economy from such efforts.

As a result of my lived experience with farm to families such as mine, I strongly support HB 2008, HD1 and request that you do as well.

Mahalo nui for supporting Hawai'i students and families,

I am writing in strong support of HB 2208. The statistics around food insecurity in Hawai'i are staggering. One in three households in Hawai'i report experiencing food insecurity. In Hawai'i County we have 43% or 90,000 individuals facing regular food insecurity. Increasing the ability of food banks to purchase locally grown food is a win-win for our communities and farmers. One major challenge local farmers face is access to markets. This program will help grow our local economy while providing our communities with nutritious food. Aloha Chair Todd, Vice Chair Takenouchi, and Members of the Committee,

My name is Jackie Keefe, and I am in strong support of HB2208 HD1, which establishes the Hawai'i Farm to Families Program to alleviate food shortages in the State.

I have worked as an advocate for Lahaina fire survivors in various capacities for the past 30 months, and food insecurity has consistently been one of the primary challenges they've faced. A community facing significant trauma has no path to healing without food and housing security, and this bill takes steps to address one of those challenges.

The statistics around food insecurity in Hawai'i are staggering. One in three households in Hawaii report experiencing food insecurity. Nearly half (46%) of ALICE households lack consistent access to food. Increasing the ability of food banks to purchase locally grown food is a win-win for our communities and farmers. Please support HB 2208 HD1. Food insecurity in Hawai‘i is a crisis hiding in plain sight. One in three households struggles to put food on the table, and nearly half of ALICE families face empty cupboards far too often. Empowering food banks to buy from local farmers is a win for everyone: it nourishes our communities and strengthens our farmers. Local growers often struggle to find buyers for their harvests, but this bill opens new doors. By investing in our local food system, we can grow a resilient agricultural economy and ensure our neighbors have access to fresh, healthy food. As import costs climb, supporting local production is not just smart—it is essential for Hawai‘i’s future.

When disaster strikes, Hawai‘i’s families turn to food banks for help. Yet these lifelines depend almost entirely on private donations and grants, even as local governments count on them in emergencies. The Farm to Families program would change that by providing crucial funding to buy from local farmers, ensuring families have food when they need it most, and giving farmers a reliable market during tough times.

Aloha and Mahalo for allowing this testimony.

I am writing to support HB2208 HD1 relating to Food Security in Hawaii. Supporting consistent access to food, particularly locally grown items, for our Hawaii residents is a crucial decision for our legislators. Living on an island compounds the need for passing this request. The desire to "support local" is an ongoing mantra for those living in Hawaii. Our residents, particularly children, those with limited incomes, those marginalized by society and those struggling just to have housing security, can all benefit from this relief. Children with limited access to food can impact their developmental development, possibly impacting a greater need later in life. Our FoodBanks provide a valuable resource by distributing excess food items, generously donated by our local farmers. This funding can impact our residents at all levels and can benefit our community immediately and in the long run.

Thank you for proposing and considering legislation with direct, beneficial impacts to those most needing the support!

Jill

This bill is a win-win. It will provide critical access to fresh, culturally relevant foods for food insecure families, while also investing in local farmers and growers, who are critical to strengthening our community food systems and creating a healthier, more resilient Hawai‘i.

The partnership between local farms and food organizations benefits families in our communities and our economy by:

1. Strengthening Hawai‘i’s Food Supply Chain: By investing in local agriculture, we reduce our dependence on imported goods, creating a more resilient and sustainable food system for Hawai‘i.
2. Supporting Local Farmers: The bill offers a direct benefit to Hawai‘i’s agricultural sector, providing a steady and fair market for local produce. Farmers can plan for future growth knowing their products will feed their neighbors in need.
3. Enhancing Nutritional Access: Fresh, local produce provides essential nutrients to individuals and families who may otherwise lack access to healthy food options. This not only fights hunger but also promotes long-term health and wellness in our communities.

This is important to me as someone who was born and raised here and sees first hand the challenges that our neighbors face everyday just to make ends meet. This is a win-win program and I hope this program continues to be funded.

Thank you for your leadership and commitment to our shared vision of a thriving, food-secure Hawai'i. I am deeply grateful for your consideration of this important legislation.

Thank you,

Testimony in Support of Farm to Families

Aloha,

I am a board member of the Maui Food Bank, and I am writing in strong support of Farm to Families.

With 1 in 3 households in Hawai‘i facing food insecurity, including 34% of all children, it is critical that we take action to ensure that everyone in our community has access to safe and healthy food. This bill is a win-win. It will provide critical access to fresh, culturally relevant foods for food insecure families, while also investing in local farmers and growers, who are critical to strengthening our community food systems and creating a healthier, more resilient Hawai‘i.

Our neighbors want to have access to healthy, culturally-relevant food options to feed their families. Local food is often the most requested item at Maui Food Bank's food distribution sites across Maui, Molokai, and Lāna'i. HB2208 supports our local farmers, and it supports the health of our community.

Thank you for your leadership and commitment to our shared vision of a thriving, food-secure Hawai'i. I am deeply grateful for your consideration of this important legislation.

Thank you,

Testimony in support of increased funding for the Farm to Families program under the Department of Human Services.

Aloha. My name is Gustavo de la Pena. As a person who has been living in Hawai'i for more than 20 years, and during that time being volunteering for initiatives related with farm work, environmental protection, and food allocation and delivery, I have witnessed the deep dislocation between the different components of the farm to consumer chain in our island.

We have farmers working hard for maintaining their family production units and for finding opportunities and mechanisms for introducing their products in the market. We also have an incremental crisis in the capacity for access to enough and nutritious food by an important part of the population. There is a not satisfactory offer of food for our kids in terms of quality in their schools, as well as significative waste of produce and, in general, a big dependency of the population of the state on imported food from continental USA and beyond.

Bill 2208 doesn't pretend or can resolve all the incoherencies of the farm-food chain like the ones mentioned above, but is one step in supporting the work of organizations involved in the relevant and urgent conversation on both food security and community resilience across the state. Besides, by increasing investment in locally grown food for distribution to households facing hardship, Farm to Families could keep improving access to fresh, nutritious meals while supporting Hawai'i farmers. This connection between agriculture and food assistance builds resilience for both families and farmers in times of crisis.

Mahalo

Please support HB 2208 HD1. The statistics around food insecurity in Hawai'i are staggering. One in three households in Hawaii report experiencing food insecurity. Nearly half (46%) of ALICE households lack consistent access to food. Increasing the ability of food banks to purchase locally grown food is a win-win for our communities and farmers. One major challenge local farmers face is access to markets. This will help grow our local food and agriculture economy while providing our communities with nutritious food. As the cost of imports continues to increase, investing in our local food economy will help bolster our local production and food security in the long term.

Preparing Hawai'i's families in the wake of disaster, food banks rely almost exclusively on private donations and grants, even though local governments rely heavily on them during times of crisis. The Farm to Families program would provide funding for purchasing from local farmers, improving emergency food access for families and opening up a local market for farmers during times of economic crisis.

Mahalo for your consideration!
