Josh Green, M.D.
Governor, State of Hawai'i

A BILL FOR AN ACT

RELATING TO ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF HAWAII:

1 SECTION 1. The legislature finds that access to 2 affordable, right-sized credit is essential for small business
3 formation, survival, and expansion in the State's geographically
4 isolated and high-cost economy. Small businesses, particularly 5 startups, sole proprietors, and very small employers, depend on 6 smaller-dollar loans to finance working capital, equipment,
7 inventory, leasehold improvements, and early operating expenses.

8 The legislature further finds that publicly available data
9 from the United States Small Business Administration (SBA)
10 indicates that a substantial share of SBA-backed loans made to 11 Hawaii businesses are originated by lenders headquartered 12 outside the State, rather than by Hawaii-based banks and 13 community lenders. This pattern reflects limited local capacity
14 for smaller-dollar lending and constrained lender risk tolerance
15 in the absence of credit enhancement tools.

16 The legislature additionally finds that when small business
17 credit is primarily originated by out-of-state lenders, interest

1 payments, fees, and servicing revenues are more likely to leave
2 the State, reducing the local economic multiplier effect that 3 would otherwise occur if those dollars were retained and 4 reinvested through local financial institutions. Over time,
5 this dynamic contributes to capital leakage from the State and 6 weakens the State's locally rooted small business financing
7 ecosystem.

8 The legislature also finds that limited availability of 9 locally delivered micro-loans increases financial risk for 10 Hawaii entrepreneurs. In the absence of sufficient 11 micro-lending capacity among local lenders, small businesses may 12 be forced to rely on higher-cost or riskier credit products,
13 accept less favorable loan terms, or delay business formation,
14 expansion, and hiring altogether. These constraints
15 disproportionately affect early-stage businesses, rural 16 communities, and neighbor islands.

17 The legislature recognizes that other states have 18 successfully addressed similar capital access challenges through 19 state-supported loan loss reserve and credit enhancement
20 programs that share risk with lenders while leveraging private 21 capital. In particular:

- 1 (1) California operates a long-standing small business
2 capital access program that establishes loan loss
3 reserve accounts funded by borrower and lender
4 contributions matched by the state, enabling lenders
5 to extend credit to small businesses that would not 6 otherwise qualify on comparable terms;
- 7 (2) Colorado administers a credit reserve program that 8 uses borrower fees and state matching contributions to 9 capitalize lender-held reserve accounts that absorb
10 first losses on enrolled loans, expanding access to 11 smaller-dollar loans while preserving prudent
12 underwriting standards and voluntary participation;
13 and
- 14 (3) Florida operates a state capital access program that 15 similarly establishes loan loss reserve accounts
16 through borrower and lender contributions matched by 17 the state,
- 18 demonstrating that credit enhancement models can be successfully
19 deployed in tourism-driven, small-business-dominated economies
20 with significant seasonal cash-flow variability, conditions that 21 closely mirror Hawaii's economic structure.

1 approved by the department to encourage lending that would not
2 otherwise occur on comparable terms.

10 or more of the following mechanisms:

14 of initial losses on qualified micro-loans; or 15 (3) Other risk-sharing mechanisms approved by the 16 department that are consistent with recognized state
17 small business credit enhancement practices.

18 (b) The department may require, as a condition of 19 participation in the program, that:

1 (1) A qualified borrower pay a fee of up to one per cent
2 of the micro-loan principal, which shall be deposited 3 into a lender-held loan loss reserve account; and

4 (2) The program provide a matching contribution, in an 5 amount determined by the department, deposited into

10 § -4 Eligible uses; exclusions. (a) Qualified
11 micro-loans may be used for standard business purposes,
12 including working capital, equipment, inventory, leasehold

15 necessary to protect the integrity of the program.

16 § -5 Administration; rules; contracts. (a) The

16 convening of each regular session, the department shall submit a
17 report to the legislature that details the following:

18 (1) The number and dollar amount of micro-loans supported
19 pursuant to this chapter;

20 (2) The lenders participating in the program;

- 2 program;
- 3 (4) The reserve contributions, claims, and recoveries
- 4 under the program; and
- 5 (5) The estimated private capital leveraged per state
- 6 dollar under the program."

7 SECTION 3. There is appropriated out of the Hawaii
8 micro-lending credit enhancement special fund the sum of
