The Department of Labor and Industrial Relations supports the confirmation of Ashleigh Loa to the Workforce Development Council.

Ms. Loa brings a strong record of service in community development, workforce engagement, and programs that expand opportunities for residents across the state. Her experience includes coordinating initiatives that support career readiness, strengthening connections between service providers and the communities they serve, and helping individuals navigate pathways toward employment and skill building. Re: GM 793: Gubernatorial Nominee, Ashleigh Loa

WORKFORCE DEVELOPMENT COUNCIL IN STRONG SUPPORT

The Workforce Development Council (WDC) respectfully submits this testimony in support of the confirmation of Ms. Ashleigh Loa as a member of the Council.

Ms. Loa brings a deeply rooted commitment to community, shaped by her upbringing on O‘ahu and guided by values of compassion, integrity, and service. These values are reflected in both her personal journey and her professional work.

Ms. Loa currently serves as the Director of Operations for Hawaiian Community Assets (HCA), a respected community development financial institution with a mission to build the capacity of low- and moderate-income communities to achieve and sustain economic self-sufficiency, with a particular focus on Native Hawaiians. Through its Kahua Waiwai philosophy, HCA emphasizes the importance of housing as a foundation for long-term stability, recognizing that a secure home environment enables families to build financial strength, preserve cultural values, and create opportunities for future generations.

In her role, Ms. Loa contributes to advancing programs that integrate affordable housing, culturally grounded financial education, and asset-building strategies. These efforts are directly aligned with workforce development goals, as stable housing and financial literacy are essential to sustained employment, career advancement, and overall economic mobility.

Ms. Loa's background in the nonprofit sector, including her experience providing direct services in a homeless shelter and leading an interfaith organization focused on social justice and grassroots leadership, gives her a strong understanding of the challenges faced by underserved communities. Her work reflects a holistic view of workforce development, one that recognizes that employment outcomes are closely tied to housing stability, financial capability, and community support systems.

Her perspective will be especially valuable as the State advances its Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA) State Unified Plan and continues to work toward the Generational Workforce Commitment, ensuring that all residents of Hawai'i have pathways to learn, work, thrive, and belong.

Ms. Loa brings an important voice to the Council, one that reflects community experience, cultural grounding, and a strong commitment to equity and opportunity for Native Hawaiian and local communities.

For these reasons, the Workforce Development Council respectfully supports the confirmation of Ms. Ashleigh Loa.

Mahalo for the opportunity to provide testimony.

Respectfully Submitted,

Aloha Chair, Vice Chair, and Members of the Committee,

My name is Chanel Josiah, and I am writing in strong support of the appointment of Ashleigh Loa to the Workforce Development Council.

I have had the privilege of working alongside Ashleigh and seeing firsthand how she shows up in community, in systems work, and in spaces where decisions directly impact people’s lives. What stands out most about Ashleigh is not just her professional capability, but the depth of understanding she brings to the work.

In my work, I engage regularly with individuals and families across different islands who are trying to stabilize, find opportunity, and build something better for themselves. Through this, it is clear that workforce development in Hawai‘i cannot be approached from a purely technical or policy-driven lens. Its success depends on whether systems reflect what people are actually navigating day to day—cost of living, housing instability, transportation, and access to opportunity. These factors ultimately determine whether individuals can participate in and benefit from workforce programs at all.

Ashleigh understands this through lived experience, and she consistently works to bridge the gap between how systems are designed and how they are experienced by those who interact with them.

She has a unique ability to move between strategy and reality. She can sit in conversations about policy, alignment, and systems-level coordination, and at the same time remain grounded in what will actually work for the people those systems are meant to serve. She brings clarity where there is often fragmentation and keeps the focus on outcomes that matter.

The Workforce Development Council plays a critical role in aligning workforce systems, advising on priorities, and ensuring that efforts across the state are coordinated and effective. This work requires leaders who understand both systems and communities; leaders who can bridge that space with intention and accountability.

Ashleigh brings both.

In my professional opinion, Ashleigh exceeds the expectations of this role. She brings insight, integrity, and a culturally grounded perspective that will strengthen the Council's ability to serve Hawai'i's people in a meaningful way.

For these reasons, I respectfully urge the Committee to support GM 793 and confirm her appointment.

Na'u me ke aloha,

Aloha Chair Elefante, Vice Chair Lamosao, and members of the Senate Committee on Labor and Technology,

I wish to express my full SUPPORT for Ashleigh Loa, candidate for membership on the Hawai'i Workforce Development Council. I have known Ms. Loa for a decade in both a personal and professional capacity. She was my staff organizer at Faith Action for Community Equity before I left the organization in her hands to carry on our important grassroots organizing work in the community.

Her work experience with low-income, homeless and housing insecure families throughout her career has given her the perspective and understanding that I strongly believe she will contribute to this Council. She is well aware of the needs of families in Hawai'i as well as the significant employment barriers they experience. Ms. Loa has an innovative and creative mind and is a very intent listener, flexible, collaborative, and solution-focused.

I hope Ms. Loa is given the opportunity to contribute her ideas and passion to the Council. Mahalo for your consideration.

Dear LBT Committte:

I write in strong support of the nomination of Ashleigh Loa.

I have had the privilege of working with Ashleigh in my capacity as a former Board President of Faith Action Hawai'i, where I supervised her during her tenure as Executive Director. During that time, I witnessed firsthand her leadership, resilience, and deep commitment to serving our community.

Ashleigh led the organization during a particularly challenging period, marked by limited resources and a decline in participation among faith-based groups. Despite these constraints, she worked diligently to rebuild relationships, re-engage stakeholders, and bring diverse communities back together around shared priorities. In particular, she played a critical role in organizing and advocating around affordable housing; an issue she understands not only professionally, but personally, as a working mother navigating the realities of Hawai'i's high cost of living.

Her leadership style is both strategic and deeply empathetic. Ashleigh effectively supervised three other organizers, while also guiding advocacy efforts on key policy measures. She possesses a strong ability to connect lived experiences with policy solutions, which is especially important at a time when workforce development and economic stability in Hawai'i are closely tied to access to affordable housing.

Ashleigh's background as a nonprofit executive, combined with her personal experiences, makes her uniquely qualified to serve in this role. She brings emotional intelligence, integrity, and a genuine commitment to improving the lives of working families across our state.

I respectfully urge the Committee to support her nomination.

Mahalo for the opportunity to provide testimony.

Sincerely,

Committee Referral: LBT

Subject: Strong Support for the Appointment of Ashleigh Loa to the Hawai'i Workforce Development Council (GM 793)

Dear Chair and Members of the Committee,

I am writing to express my strong support for the appointment of Ashleigh Loa to the Hawai'i Workforce Development Council, pursuant to GM 793.

I have had the privilege of working alongside Ashleigh on economic justice, housing, and social impact initiatives, and I can speak firsthand to her deep commitment to expanding opportunity for Hawai'i's working families. She brings strong policy insight and a grounded understanding of the real-world challenges people face in accessing stable housing, quality jobs, and pathways to economic mobility.

Ashleigh's leadership as Executive Director of Faith Action for Community Equity reflects her deep commitment to community-driven change. In that role, she worked closely with interfaith partners and grassroots leaders to address the root causes of social and economic inequities in Hawai'i, particularly around affordable housing, civic engagement, and community empowerment.

She has helped mobilize residents to participate in the legislative process and advocate for policies that improve the quality of life across our islands. Just as importantly, her grassroots organizing experience translates directly into workforce policy impact, ensuring that workforce strategies are informed by the lived experiences of working families and responsive to the barriers they face in accessing employment, training, and financial stability.

This experience, combined with her current leadership at Hawaiian Community Assets and her background in direct service, gives Ashleigh a uniquely comprehensive perspective. She understands that workforce development is deeply interconnected with housing stability, financial capability, and long-term economic security, and she brings a systems-level approach to policy development that is firmly grounded in community voice.

In my experience working with her, Ashleigh is thoughtful, strategic, and deeply values-driven. She has a rare ability to bring people together across public and private sectors, center the perspectives of vulnerable and marginalized populations, and move complex conversations toward actionable outcomes.

The Hawai'i Workforce Development Council plays a critical role in shaping a workforce system that is responsive to modern challenges. Ashleigh's experience and leadership will be an asset to that work, helping to ensure that workforce strategies reflect the diversity of Hawai'i's population and promote inclusivity and prosperity for future generations.

I strongly urge the Committee to confirm her appointment. She will be an outstanding addition to the Workforce Development Council and a visionary leader in building a more equitable and resilient economy for Hawai'i.

Sincerely,

Kris Coffield

Aloha, I submit this testimony in strong support of the confirmation of Ashleigh Loa as a member of the Workforce Development Council (WDC).

I work at Central Union Church in Honolulu and I first met Ashleigh in 2020 through a workshop the church hosted on racial justice, led by our then pastoral intern. At the time, Ashleigh was the Executive Director for Faith Action for Community Equity. She eventually brought on that intern to the Faith Action staff, and brought me on to the Faith Action board. This showed me not only her ability to develop people, but also her knowledge of building foundations with the ‘right’ people, people who will be involved and impacted. For several years, Ashleigh’s remaining time with Faith Action, we worked closely together. I have witnessed her care for community, administrative capacity, and strong work ethic.

Through all of this, we also became good friends and I got to learn more about her background, what she cares about, and other areas where she chooses to give her time. Ashleigh is deeply rooted in community, understands problems of working people, has years of relevant professional experience, and also a great spirit that is sure to bring not only wisdom but also joy to the work.

People like Ashleigh are rare and the Workforce Development Council would be fortunate to have Ashleigh as a member!

Mahalo for the opportunity to share and affirm the nomination of Ashleigh Loa.

GM 793 Confirmation of Ashleigh Loa to the Hawaii Workforce Development Council
Testimony in Support

Aloha Chair Elefante, Vice Chair Lamosao, and committee members:

I testify today as an individual. I am not here representing the ACLU of Hawai'i or any other organization.

I have known Ashleigh Loa for many years and have had the privilege of working with her on issues ranging from minimum wage to paid family leave. She is a passionate and tireless advocate for workers of all stripes.

Her career as a social justice warrior spans nearly a decade and numerous distinguished organizations. She has a deep well of compassion and spent her entire professional career working to improve the lives of the people of Hawaii.

There is no doubt she will serve the Hawaii Workforce Development Council with thoughtful integrity and I applaud the Governor on the appointment of Ashleigh.

Please support this appointment and recommend to the full Senate Ashleigh Loa's confirmation.

Mahalo for the opportunity to testify.

Re: GM793 Submitting for consideration and confirmation to the Hawai'i Workforce Development Council, Gubernatorial Nominee, ASHLEIGH LOA, for a term to expire 06-30-2030.

Aloha Chair Elefante, Vice Chair Lamosao, and Members of the Committee,

I am writing in strong support of the confirmation of Ashleigh Loa to the Hawai'i Workforce Development Council.

Ashleigh's deep involvement in community gives her a uniquely valuable perspective into Hawai'i's workforce and economic development needs. As the Director of Operations at Hawaiian Community Assets, she supports local families through housing and financial empowerment initiatives. She sees every day the needs of Hawai'i's workforce — and how the state can better meet those needs.

Previously, she served as Executive Director of Ceeds of Peace, which gave her insight into what youth and adults need to create compassionate communities, and as Executive Director of Faith Action for Community Equity, where she led community organizing efforts to address the root causes of Hawai'i's most pressing challenges. She also worked at Family Promise of Hawai'i, which serves families experiencing homelessness, and saw how workforce development is often core to housing stability.

Ashleigh's well-rounded professional perspective is accompanied by her professionalism, integrity, and collaborative approach, which I have seen personally when working with her on many projects throughout the years. These traits were also recognized by the Obama Foundation, which named her an Obama Leader in 2022. She is also dedicated to the community outside of her professional roles, as a consistent volunteer and board member for numerous causes.

I strongly support Ashleigh's confirmation and am confident she would bring an important voice to the Hawai'i Workforce Development Council. Mahalo for your consideration and the opportunity to provide this testimony.

Sincerely,

Ryan Catalani

TECHNOLOGY

FROM: RADIANT CORDERO

SUBJECT: TESTIMONY IN SUPPORT OF GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE NO. 793

Aloha Honorable Chair Elefante, Vice Chair Lamosao, and Members of the Senate Committee on Labor and Technology:

I respectfully submit this testimony in support of Governor's Message No. 793, requesting the Senate to consider for confirmation Ms. Ashleigh Loa to serve on the Hawai'i Workforce Development Council (WDC).

The Council plays a critical role in aligning workforce development, education, and economic strategy across the state. In its federal capacity under the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act, it coordinates workforce training and employment programs statewide. In its state capacity, it advises the Governor and oversees the implementation of Hawai'i's workforce development plan, ensuring that programs respond to real workforce and economic needs.

Ms. Loa's experience directly reflects and supports this mission. Through her leadership as Director of Operations at Hawaiian Community Assets, she has led and managed data-driven systems for workforce training, staff development, and organizational performance across the state and different counties. Her work to improve onboarding, training, and performance management systems mirrors the WDC's focus on strengthening workforce pipelines and ensuring programs are effective, measurable, and aligned with industry needs. Her leadership in updating financial education and homebuyer programs demonstrates a clear understanding of how workforce development connects to economic mobility and long-term stability.

Ms. Loa's previous positions also align closely with the WDC's responsibility to coordinate across sectors and address unmet workforce needs across the state. Previously, as Executive Director of Ceeds of Peace and through her work with AHE Group and Faith Action for Community Equity, Ms. Loa has brought together cross-sector partners, advanced community-informed policy solutions, and developed programs that integrate workforce development with housing, education, and community well-being.

Equally important is her deep, sustained community work. Ms. Loa has spent her career working directly with local families and communities across Hawai'i, particularly those navigating housing instability, financial hardship, and barriers to employment. For example, at Family Promise of Hawai'i, she helped significantly increase housing placements and developed financial literacy and housing readiness programs that supported families in achieving long-term stability. This work not only brought critical resources directly to communities, but also helped create the stability families need to pursue workforce and economic opportunities.

Ms. Loa's experience and commitment to community brings a combination of systems-level leadership and on-the-ground community engagement is exactly what the WDC requires to effectively coordinate across sectors and address Hawai'i's workforce challenges. practical experience, a collaborative approach, and a deep commitment to equity and opportunity for Hawai'i's people. She understands how workforce development connects to broader issues like housing stability and economic mobility and has demonstrated the ability to turn that understanding into meaningful action.

For these reasons, I respectfully urge the Senate Committee on Labor and Technology, and the Senate as a whole, to support her confirmation to the Hawai'i Workforce Development Council.

Mahalo for this opportunity to testify in support of Governor's Message No. 793.

Dear Chair Elefante, Vice Chair Lamosao, and members of the Committee on Labor and Technology,

I have known Ashleigh for many years, and know she will be a strong leader and contributor to this important group advancing the needs of building a better workforce in our State.

Ashleigh has proven time and time again to be a force in many different sectors, including working in nonprofit, legal, and community-based settings. She is selfless, caring, and always puts others above herself, while being thoughtful and mindful in whatever role she finds herself in.
