SUBJECT: Testimony on S.B. No. 2313, Relating to Public Financing for Candidates to Elected Office.
Friday, February 6, 2026, at 9:00 a.m.
Conference Room 016 & Videoconference

Thank you for the opportunity to testify on this bill. The Campaign Spending Commission (“Commission”) supports the intent of this bill and provides the following comments.

This bill establishes a comprehensive system of public financing for all candidates seeking election to state and county public offices to beginning with the 2028 general election year, appropriates funds to the Hawaii Election Campaign Fund, and appropriates funds to the Commission. This public financing program is modeled after the pilot Hawaii County Council Comprehensive Public Funding Project¹ that ran in 2010 and 2012.

The bill establishes the maximum amount of comprehensive public funds (“CPF Max”) for each office as well as the minimum qualifying $5 contributions (“$5 MQC”) that must be raised for each office. The following table shows the $5 MQC and CPF Max for each office:

Office	$5 MQC	CPF Max
Governor	6,250	$2,500,000
Lieutenant Governor	3,000	$1,200,000
Senator	250	$100,000
Representative	125	$50,000
OHA	100	$40,000

Honolulu Mayor	5,750	$2,300,000
Hawaii Mayor	900	$360,000
Maui Mayor	1,500	$600,000
Kauai Mayor ²	875	$350,000
Hon. Pros. Atty	563	$225,000
Hawaii Pros. Atty	100	$40,000
Kauai Pros. Atty	63	$25,000
Hon. County Council	338	$135,000
Hawaii County Council	50	$20,000
Maui County Council	138	$55,000
Kauai County Council	75	$30,000

If one candidate for each office qualified and received the CPF Max in the 2028 election period, this program will pay out $15,110,000 in public financing to the qualified candidates. In contrast, if one candidate for each office qualified to receive partial public funding in the 2026 elections, the state will pay a maximum of $2,948,612 in public financing. Under §11-O of the proposed new subpart to Part XIII of Chapter 11, Hawaii Revised Statutes, there must be a minimum of $30,000,000 in the Hawaii Election Campaign Fund on September 1, 2027, in order for the Commission to run the comprehensive public financing program established by the bill.

The Commission notes this bill includes $30,200,000 in general fund appropriation to the Hawaii Election Campaign Fund which is necessary to implement the new comprehensive public financing program. The Commission appreciates the appropriation of $200,000 in this and the next fiscal years from the Hawaii Election Campaign Fund in Section 7 of the bill for the Commission to hire two full-time equivalent (2.0 FTE) permanent positions to prepare for comprehensive public financing in the 2028 elections. Currently, the Commission has 5 staff and is in the process of hiring an investigator and elections assistant due to the increase in candidates, candidate committees, and noncandidate committees which require hundreds of staff hours to assist with over the phone, in person, and by email. In contrast to Hawaii County Council Comprehensive Public Funding Project for which this program is modeled, this bill addresses all elected offices, and therefore, the scope and magnitude of providing at least four trainings set forth in Section 11-N will be significant especially in consideration of the penalties set forth in Section 11-M. This further underscore the importance of increasing staff at the Commission.

The balance in the Hawaii Election Campaign Fund is $2,412,282.94 as of June 30, 2025. This amount is insufficient to pay for the comprehensive public funding program, including the additional personnel the Commission will need, and thus, the total appropriation of $30,200,000 in Section 6 of the bill is necessary.

² On page 19, line 4 of the bill, “mayor of” should be inserted after “(9) For the office of.”

In addition to the foregoing, the Commission notes the comprehensive funding program is referenced in the bill on page 4 lines 8 and 9 as “the comprehensive public financing program” and then referenced on page 7, lines 7-8 and throughout the remainder of the bill as “a comprehensive public funding program”. The Commission recommends amending page 4, lines 7-8 to read “a comprehensive public funding program” so the term is consistent throughout the bill.

The Commission respectfully requests that this Committee pass this bill as amended.

SB2313 – RELATING TO PUBLIC FINANCING FOR CANDIDATES TO ELECTED OFFICE.

TESTIMONY

Beppie Shapiro, Legislative Committee, League of Women Voters of Hawaii

Chair Rhoads, Vice Chair Gabbard, and Committee Members:

The League of Women Voters of Hawaii thanks the Committee Chairs and members for hearing this valuable and popular bill.

The League of Women Voters of Hawaii strongly supports SB2313 which: Establishes a comprehensive system of public financing for all candidates seeking election to state and county public offices in the State, to begin with the 2028 general election year. Requires the Campaign Spending Commission to submit reports to the Legislature. Appropriates funds. We also offer comments.

The League of Women Voters of the United States believes that methods of financing political campaigns should enhance political equality for all citizens; protect representative democracy from being distorted by big spending in election campaigns; ensure the public's right to know who is using money to influence elections; enable candidates to compete equitably for public office; ensure that candidates have sufficient funds to communicate their messages to the public; and combat corruption and undue influence in government.

Delegates and voters in the 1978 Constitutional Convention in Hawaii realized the importance of this concept, resulting in the creation of the Hawaii Election Campaign Fund and Hawaii's partial public funding option. Below is a quote from the Convention during the discussion of the HECF: ". . . if we think these tremendous sums being spent [on elections], these tremendous sums being contributed, are not sums for which we are going to ultimately pay because of poor government . . . and because of undue influence . . . we are fooling ourselves.” Delegate Naomi Campbell during the 1978 Constitutional Convention.

Public financing of campaigns for political office is an investment in good governance, like budgeting for the Office of Elections or the Campaign Spending Commission or the Legislature itself. (See the recommendations of the Commission to Improve Standards of Conduct). Public Financing can return the value invested in it by increasing the extent to which elected officials work for the benefit of all state residents, rather than wealthy businesses or individuals; increasing voter confidence in government; and encouraging more citizen participation in elections and communication with their representatives.

The cost of this investment in good governance would not be a major portion of the state budget. The writers of this bill, as well as the Campaign Spending Commission (CSC), calculate that to pay for the comprehensive public funding program, even including personnel the CSC would need for implementation, would require an appropriation of $30,200,000.

It is also probable that legislative spending and state contracts would be more effective and efficient when directed by the needs and values of the population, rather than being swayed by financial relationships with special interests.

Thank you for the opportunity to submit testimony.

Re: Testimony in STRONG SUPPORT of SB2313

Aloha Chair Rhoads, Vice Chair Gabbard, and Members of the Committee,

On behalf of Indivisible Hawai'i, thank you for this opportunity to testify in strong support of SB2313.

Too many people believe our political system is driven by money instead of community needs. Public financing is a proven way to reduce the influence of wealthy donors and special interests, while giving everyday people a real voice in our elections.

By allowing candidates to run competitive campaigns without relying on private donations, this bill helps level the playing field and encourages more community-focused leaders to step forward. It also allows elected officials to spend more time listening to constituents and working on solutions instead of constantly fundraising.

Hawai'i has already shown a commitment to clean elections, and past pilot programs demonstrated that public financing can work here. We thank you for your support of SB2313.

Sincerely,

Marlene Thom

SB2313 - Relating to Public Financing for Candidates to Elected Office - Strong Support

Aloha Chair Lee, Vice Chair Inouye and Members of the Committee,

HULI PAC strongly supports SB 2313, which proposes comprehensive public financing for elections in Hawai'i. A public financing system that truly levels the playing field will reduce the outsized influence of large donors and expand meaningful access for everyday people who want to run for office.

Current public financing structures have not been updated in decades and are contributing to the barriers faced by new candidates, especially community members historically shut out of political participation. Reforming public financing will uplift democratic participation and create conditions where our elected officials better reflect the rich diversity of our local communities.

By shifting toward a fully publicly financed elections system, we can encourage a broader range of candidates to step forward — increasing civic engagement and strengthening trust in our democratic process. Hawai'i should lead the nation in building fair, accessible, and equitable elections that put the voices of people ahead of money.

We respectfully urge the Committee to support passage of SB 2313.

Mahalo.

Senate Committee on Judiciary
Hawai'i Alliance for Progressive Action (HAPA) Strongly Supports SB2313
Friday, February 6th, 9 AM in Conference Room 016 & Videoconference

Aloha Chair Rhoads, Vice Chair Gabbard, and members of the committee,

Hawai'i Alliance for Progressive Action supports SB2313, establishing a comprehensive system of public financing for all candidates running for election in Hawai'i.

A robust public financing system is essential to reducing the outsized influence of large donors and creating fairer, more accessible elections. Hawai'i's existing public financing structures have not kept pace with the realities of modern campaigns and continue to create barriers for candidates who do not have access to wealth or established donor networks.

SB 2313 takes an important step toward strengthening public financing so that more community members can realistically run for office without relying on private money. Expanding and modernizing public financing supports broader participation, increases competitiveness, and helps ensure that elected officials are accountable to voters rather than major donors.

Publicly financed elections are a key good governance reform that promotes transparency, equity, and public trust in government. SB 2313 advances these goals by investing in a system that prioritizes people over money in our democratic process.

For all these reasons, we respectfully urge support of SB 2462.

TESTIMONY IN SUPPORT OF SB 2313, WITH SUGGESTED AMENDMENTS

RELATING TO PUBLIC FINANCING AND PARITY FOR OFFICE OF HAWAIIAN AFFAIRS ELECTIONS

Submitted by: Kalihi Palama Hawaiian Civic Club

Aloha Chair, Vice Chair, and Members of the Senate Judiciary Committee;

The Kalihi Palama Hawaiian Civic Club submits this testimony in support of the intent of SB 2313 and respectfully offers targeted amendments to address a remaining parity issue affecting elections for the Office of Hawaiian Affairs (OHA).

PURPOSE AND LEGAL CONTEXT

SB 2313 establishes a voluntary public financing framework intended to promote fairness, transparency, and equal access across Hawai'i's electoral system. The inclusion of OHA trustee elections within this framework is appropriate and consistent with the statewide nature of those elections.

However, from a statutory parity and equal-treatment perspective, the bill as currently drafted applies a funding and qualification structure to OHA elections that is not fully aligned with how those elections function in practice or how comparable offices are treated under the same bill.

STATEWIDE STATUS AND PARTICIPATION REALITIES OF OHA ELECTIONS

Certified statewide election results from the 2025 General Election demonstrate that Office of Hawaiian Affairs elections are statewide ballot contests.

We recognize that between 37.5% and 45.4% of voters who returned a ballot left OHA races blank, resulting in an effective participating electorate of approximately 55%–62% of statewide voters.

This participation pattern is significantly different from that of State House and State Senate races, where blank-vote rates are substantially lower.

Importantly, however, even accounting for this differential participation, the number of voters who actively participate in OHA elections remains substantially larger than the electorate of any single legislative district.

From a legal and structural standpoint, OHA elections therefore occupy a hybrid position as they are statewide in administration and ballot access, but are decided by a distinct, self-selecting electorate.

PARITY CONCERNS UNDER SB 2313

Under SB 2313 as drafted:

- Candidates for the State House of Representatives may receive up to $50,000 in public financing.
- Candidates for the Office of Hawaiian Affairs are capped at $40,000.
- Qualifying contribution and certification provisions rely on a district-based framework that does not clearly correspond to the statewide electorate that determines OHA elections.

This structure raises parity concerns because:

1. OHA elections are administered statewide and require statewide compliance, reporting, and ballot placement;
2. OHA candidates must communicate across multiple islands and jurisdictions;
3. The effective participating electorate for OHA elections is larger than that of legislative districts;
4. OHA candidates are afforded less public financing support than State House candidates.

From a Judiciary perspective, this raises questions of internal consistency within the statutory scheme, rather than questions of policy preference.

SUGGESTED AMENDMENTS TO ADDRESS PARITY

To better align SB 2313 with principles of equal treatment and rational classification, the Kalihi Palama Hawaiian Civic Club respectfully suggests the following amendments:

- Public Financing Cap Adjustment
 - Amend the bill to provide that public financing for OHA trustee candidates shall be no less than the amount provided for State House candidates, recognizing the statewide scope and larger effective electorate of OHA elections.
- Clarification of Qualifying Contribution Electorate
 - Clarify that, for purposes of qualifying contributions and certification, the relevant electorate for OHA candidates is statewide registered voters, notwithstanding trustee residency requirements.
- Retention of Reasonable Qualification Thresholds
 - Maintain modest qualification thresholds for OHA candidates to ensure accessibility for community-based Native Hawaiian candidates while preserving program integrity.

These amendments are narrowly tailored and do not seek to elevate OHA elections to the funding level of gubernatorial or other executive offices.

SB 2313 represents a meaningful advancement in Hawai'i's public financing framework. With modest amendments to address parity for OHA elections, the bill can better reflect consistent statutory treatment of similarly situated offices, grounded in actual voter participation and election administration realities.

The Kalihi Palama Hawaiian Civic Club respectfully urges the Committee to move SB 2313 forward with amendments that align OHA public financing provisions with principles of fairness, consistency, and proportionality.

Mahalo for the opportunity to submit testimony.

Testimony in Support of SB2313

Submitted to the Senate Judiciary Committee
by Evan Weber, Managing Director, Our Hawai'i, 2/6/2025

Chair Rhoads, Vice Chair Gabbard, and all Committee members,

Mahalo for the opportunity to testify before you today. On behalf of Our Hawai'i's over 38,000 members and supporters across the pae 'āina, I write in strong support for Senate Bill SB2313, relating to public financing of candidates to elected office. Our members and supporters are local people — kama'āina and kānaka maoli, keiki and kūpuna, from Kaua'i to Kohala, Kailua to Kapolei and every place in between. They have joined our movement to fight for a Hawai'i that puts local people — not big money interests — first, because they are deeply worried about the direction of our islands and believe now is the time for change.

Our supporters are not alone. The crisis of public trust in government has reached a tipping point. After years of the FBI putting our officials in handcuffs, resignations, and scandals, Hawai'i voters as a whole in the 2022 election ranked government corruption as their number 3 top issue, only behind inflation and affordable housing, in a survey conducted on behalf of Our Hawai'i by the most accurate polling firm in US elections in 2020.

The incomplete reforms adopted by the legislature in 2023, while important, did not go far enough on a policy matter or in terms of shifting public perception. Polling conducted in 2024 by the Clean Elections Hawai'i Coalition, consisting of over 3-dozen local organizations, showed that two out of three voters (66%) believe that “elected officials care more about wealthy donors than the needs of my community.” Ouch. 9 out of 10 voters also believe that influence or obligate legislators to some degree, with over half of voters believing that degree is “greatly.”

Two Out of Three Voters Say Elected Officials Care More About Wealthy Donors Than Needs of Communities

This poll was conducted in March 2024, right before the April 17th bombshell exposé dropped on the front page of the New York Times exposing to the world the deep culture of pay-to-play corruption that has existed at high levels of Hawai'i political leadership. Now, of course, in 2026, the “$35,000 in a paper bag scandal” hangs over all of your heads. The truth is, the status quo private donor campaign system creates the perception of corruption for all elected officials, and fosters an actual culture of corruption that eventually impacts you all. But it doesn't have to be this way. A solution has been on the table for you to solve this problem.

"Great" Concern Over Money In Politics and Private Campaign Spending for Majorities

The same voters, across race, ethnicity, income level, and political party, overwhelming support a Clean Elections program when it is described to them in plain terms, with 68% of voters saying they would support passing a law to create a Clean Elections program in Hawai'i. And they are 4 times more likely to support than oppose a candidate for office who backs and champions such a program as well.

With public trust at an all time low, now is the time for systemic and transformative solutions.

While progress has been made, it is not enough. We need to address the overriding issue of money in our politics where it begins, in our elections.

SB2313 would go as far as is legally possible under the United States constitution, by providing a viable alternative to the status quo private money campaign system. It would level the playing field for candidates who are not wealthy or well-connected, and take a historic step towards getting big money out of our elections.

No longer would legislators have to look over their shoulders, worried about how their donors who will fund their next campaign might react to each and every vote. Legislators can be fully focused on delivering for their constituents, not campaign donors. That's how democracy is supposed to work!

We know that programs like this work, and are cost-effective: we've seen it in places like Connecticut, Maine, Hawai'i County and cities all around the US. Even if Hawai'i saw higher participation rates than any other State, estimates show the cost would be less than $10 million per year—just 0.05% of the state budget. That's just over $6 per resident or less than $1 per tourist—a small price to pay for a more transparent, accountable government, and an amount that a majority of those polled said they'd be willing to pay.

We have the policy. We have the public desire for change. We have the resources. The only question is do we have the political will? That will be up to you to make it so. As you deliberate, know the public is watching.

Mahalo nui loa for your courage and action. Laulima, we can move forward to a better future for our Hawai'i.

Aloha Chair Rhoads, Vice Chair Gabbard, and Committee Members,

I strongly support SB2313. Public campaign financing is essential to keeping Hawaii's elections fair and transparent. In a state with small, island-based communities, personal connections and wealthy donors can give some candidates an unfair advantage over others who may have stronger community support but less funding. By encouraging small contributions from everyday voters, this bill strengthens local participation and ensures candidates reflect the voices of residents rather than private interests. It also builds public trust by making the electoral process more transparent.

Hawaii's unique geography, small districts, and history of close ties between money and politics make public financing a critical tool for fairer elections. This system empowers both candidates and communities, ensuring that political power stays with the people—not outside interests with no regard for local needs.

Aloha Honorable Chair Rhoades, Co-Chair Keohokalole and Members of the Senate Finance Committee,

I am writing in strong support of Senate Bill 2313, which would strengthen Hawaii's public campaign financing system and help reduce the influence of money in our elections.

*Hawai'i's political system allows a heavy reliance on campaign contributions from donors and special interests has led to a system where 2 in 3 people believe elected officials are more focused on the interests of their donors than the needs of their communities. In 2024, I submitted the 19 pages of the most powerful politician we are under right now...to the Finance Committees of both bodies of the State Legislature. They were appalled at the money given & where it came from, however, not only they, but many others have been compromised in their ability to ethically enact The Golden Rule instead of CYA by going along with the "program" of this person who has evidence he has committed a list of wrongdoing. With that, our electorate sinks further into hopelessness...the homeowners from Lahaina are a deeply-disturbing cas-in-point. . As a result, good policies are often blocked while harmful ones move forward. This dynamic erodes public trust and encourages corruption. SB 51 is a critical step toward fixing this broken system by allowing candidates to run competitive campaigns without being dependent on special interest money.**

By providing full public financing for qualified candidates, SB 2313 will break the link between private money and electoral success.

Public financing is both popular and cost-effective.

For these reasons, I urge you to pass SB 2313. This bill will restore trust in our democracy, empower candidates to focus on their communities rather than fundraising, and ensure that our government truly serves the people of Hawai'i.

Mahalo for reading & considering my testimony.

Aloha,

I am in full support of this bill.

We need to remove the money out of politics and create fair elections, where candidates are judged by their beliefs, resumes, and ideas, rather than being perceived as a better candidate because they were able to purchase more advertisements.

I would suspect that those with heavy war chests, large financial backing, and ties to large corporations will be against this bill, but this truly would help create a fair election and result in the best candidate being elected. This will benefit the people of Hawaii and make Hawaii a better place.

Dear Mr. Chairman and members of the Judiciary Committee,

As former chair of the Commission to Improve Standards of Conduct (CISC), I submit this testimony in support of SB 2313 RELATING TO PUBLIC FINANCING OF CANDIDATES TO ELECTIVE OFFICE.

CISC proposed a bill to increase public funding of elections to "help counter the repercussions of Citizens United because public funding expands the reach of many small donors and can relieve candidates of the need to rely on the support of special interest groups or large donors." CISC December 1, 2022 Report at 32.

Although the CISC proposed bill was for an increase in partial funding of elections, CISC encouraged the Legislature to be bold and devote additional fiscal resources fo funding elections as SB 2313 would do. Id.

Comments:

I vehemently oppose SB2313. We don't need to expand the partial public funding of political candidates to be a more comprehensive program.

This would be a horrendous abuse of taxpayer funds and allow many non-viable candidates to receive money with minimal effort and minimal support of their constituents. It should be up to candidates to convince residents that they are a candidate who deserves their financial support.

We are currently learning how wasteful government programs are and how they have been defrauded. We don't want another government program that wastes tax dollars as this proposal is apt to do.

We don't need a pilot project to determine this is a bad idea.

Do not pass SB2313.

My name is Elizabeth Weltin, and I am writing in strong support of SB2313.

I believe our democracy works best when elected officials are accountable to the people they serve, not to wealthy donors or special interests. SB2313 takes an important step toward restoring public trust by establishing a comprehensive system of public financing for state and county elections beginning in 2028.

Running for office in Hawai‘i has become increasingly expensive, which discourages qualified candidates—especially working people, young people, and community leaders—from even considering public service. Public financing would help level the playing field, allowing candidates to focus on listening to voters and addressing real community needs rather than spending endless hours fundraising.

This bill also strengthens transparency and accountability by requiring the Campaign Spending Commission to report to the Legislature. That oversight is critical to ensuring the system is fair, effective, and responsive to the public.

Public financing has been shown in other jurisdictions to reduce the influence of big money, increase voter confidence, and encourage broader participation in our democracy. SB2313 moves Hawai‘i toward elections that are more equitable, more accessible, and more representative of the people who live here.

I strongly urge your support for SB2313.

Mahalo for the opportunity to submit testimony.

Aloha Chair, Vice Chair, and Members of the Committee,

I am testifying today in strong support of SB2313, which would establish a comprehensive system of publicly-financed elections for Hawai‘i.

Our democracy is built on a simple, powerful ideal: that every voter has an equal voice and that elected officials are accountable first and foremost to the people they serve. Yet, the reality of our current campaign finance system has eroded this foundation. Running for office has become a relentless fundraising race, where candidates must spend countless hours dialing for dollars from wealthy individuals, corporations, and special interests.

This creates a cycle of dependency and influence that distorts our democracy. When campaigns are privately funded, candidates are understandably beholden to the priorities of their largest donors. This dynamic shapes which issues are championed, which bills are advanced, and whose voices are heard loudest in the halls of power. It means that a donor with a large checkbook often has more access and influence than an ordinary constituent.

SB2313 offers a transformative solution: it allows qualified candidates to fund their campaigns using public funds, freeing them from the private fundraising treadmill. This "clean elections" model has a proven track record. In jurisdictions that have adopted similar systems—from Maine to Arizona to cities across the nation—we see more competitive races, more diverse candidates who can run without personal wealth or wealthy networks, and legislators who report spending far more time listening to constituents instead of courting donors.

This bill is an investment in the integrity of our government and the power of our people. It puts voters back in the driver's seat. When candidates are not obligated to any special interest, they are free to be truly accountable to the public interest. They can debate policies on their merits, respond to the needs of their communities, and make decisions based on what is best for Hawai‘i's future, not what satisfies a donor.

Publicly financed elections will foster a healthier, more robust democracy where ideas compete on a level playing field, and where any committed citizen of good character can run for office without being forced into a system of legalized corruption.

For a government that is truly of, by, and for the people, I urge you to pass SB2313.

Mahalo for the opportunity to testify.

am writing in strong support of Senate Bill 2313, which would strengthen Hawaii’s public campaign financing system and help reduce the influence of money in our elections.

Hawai‘i’s political system is broken. The heavy reliance on campaign contributions from wealthy donors and special interests has led to a system where 2 in 3 people believe elected officials are more focused on the interests of their donors than the needs of their communities. As a result, good policies are often blocked while harmful ones move forward. This dynamic erodes public trust and encourages corruption. SB 51 is a critical step toward fixing this broken system by allowing candidates to run competitive campaigns without being dependent on special interest money.

By providing full public financing for qualified candidates, SB 2313 will break the link between private money and electoral success. This will create a fairer and more honest system where elected officials are accountable to their constituents rather than big donors. Importantly, similar programs in other states show that public financing does not lead to higher incumbent turnover or drastic shifts in political makeup, but it does change who holds influence in government—ensuring that everyday people, not just the wealthy few, have a voice.

Public financing is both popular and cost-effective. Three out of four voters support a clean elections program. States like Connecticut and Maine have successfully run similar programs for decades, and Hawai‘i County piloted a version in 2010 and 2012. Even if Hawai‘i saw higher participation rates than any other state, estimates show the cost would be less than $10 million per year—just 0.05% of the state budget. That’s under $7 per resident or less than $1 per tourist—a small price to pay for a more transparent, accountable government.

For these reasons, I urge you to pass SB 2313. This bill will restore trust in our democracy, empower candidates to focus on their communities rather than fundraising, and ensure that our government truly serves the people of Hawai‘i.

Thank you for the opportunity to testify.

SB 2528 - Updates and expands the partial public financing of elections system

I am writing to express support for SB2528, which seeks to increase the amount of partial public campaign financing available for all state and county elective offices. The partial public financing system is long overdue for an update, and this legislation represents a significant step toward enhancing the integrity and accessibility of our electoral process.

The major issue with the current partial public financing system is that for state legislative races, the caps are too low to make a meaningful contribution to a candidate's campaigning. House and Senate candidates who opt-in limit their fundraising abilities while not getting much out of the program, making it not worth much to participate. This is not the case for certain county council races like Maui or Kaua'i where at-large voting means that the caps — calculated based on the number of registered voters in the "district" in the prior election — are much higher.

Critically, this bill raises the expenditure limits across the board by 20%, allowing candidates who opt-in to receive public financing not at as significant of a handicap against their opponents, allowing them to raise and spend the money required to win a race.

Increasing public financing can help restore public trust in our political system. When elected officials are less dependent on private contributions, constituents can have greater confidence that policy decisions are made in the public's best interest, rather than being swayed by major donors.

SB 2462 - Increase funding for the public financing of elections

Dear Chair and Members of the Committee,

Mahalo for the opportunity to testify today. I am writing in strong support of SB 2462, which increases the designated income tax check-off amounts for the Hawaii Election Campaign Fund to $6 for individual filers and $12 for joint filers with at least that amount of tax liability.

This modest change empowers taxpayers to more meaningfully support clean elections in Hawai'i. The Election Campaign Fund is a valuable tool that allows everyday residents to contribute directly to public financing of campaigns without writing large checks or being part of special interest fundraising. Increasing the check-off amount makes it easier for more people to participate and help build a fund that can support competitive, grassroots candidates who are accountable to voters—not big money donors.

This is an easy way to ensure the Campaign Spending Fund receives more resources without raising any new taxes.

For these reasons, I urge you to pass SB 2462.

Mahalo nui loa for your consideration.

As a former candidate for State House who ran twice on partial public funding I am writing you in strong support of comprehensive public funding. After reading the current bill I have two points I'd like you to consider.

- 1) Please consider a change in the formula used for calculations regarding Hawaii County Council funding. It is extremely low and would be almost impossible for a first time candidate to run a competitive campaign at that rate. Please consider an amendment to adjust that one.
- 2) I continue to remain of the mind that unless and until ALL candidates are required to abide by the same contribution and expenditure restrictions, regardless of public financing or otherwise, it will be impossible to have truly "free and fair" elections.

Please continue to use your positions of influence to advocate for ways to get private interest money out of our elections.

We need to level the political playing field by removing money as a variable in campaigning for public office. Aloha, my name is Jordan Kapono Nakamura and I'm a Honolulu resident testifying in strong support of this bill which establishes a system of adequate public financing for state and county public offices. Unlike Hawai'i's current public funding system, which is so prohibitive to candidtes that aren't already well funded or connected to wealthy corporate donors that the public funding (especially given the low spending cap) is increasingly refused out of neccessity, New York City's far higher 8-1 public funding makes it possible for much more fair representation by allowing candidates who do not have access to large amounts of money to forecast and initiate viable campaigns, and was instrumental in the recent election of their latest Mayor who saw the highest voter turnout in decades. This showcases the affordability of running a campaign's direct relation to increased civic engagement, and how increased public funding creates a much more accurate and fair landscape of candidates who actually resemble their districts and persuade voters to participate in Hawai'i's democratic process. Mahalo for your consideration and kokua for the people and future of Hawai'i.

Greetings and aloha. I'm writing today in support of SB2313. As you know, this bill establishes a comprehensive system of public financing for candidates seeking state and county elected offices in Hawaii, in order to reduce reliance on private donations and the appearance of undue influence from special interests.

Mahalo for supporting this initiative to restore integrity to our political system!

I support legislative actions that fund Hawaii elections in ways eliminate corporate contributions in exchange for payback expectations. This bill is a step in that directions even though it is only voluntary on the candidates willingness to comply. This will help the less wealthy candidates, but will have little effect on well financed and corporate backed candidates that choose not to abide with the public funding guidelines.

I am in strong support of SB2313.

Public financing is a proven way to reduce the influence of wealthy donors and special interests, while giving everyday people a real voice in our elections.

By allowing candidates to run competitive campaigns without relying on private donations, this bill helps level the playing field and encourages more community-focused leaders to step forward. It also allows elected officials to spend more time listening to constituents and working on solutions, instead of constantly fundraising.

In strong support of SB2313

Aloha Chair Rhoads, Vice Chair Gabbard, and members of the JDC Committee,

I am Co-Founder of the Hawaii chapter of 350.org, the largest international organization dedicated to fighting climate change. 350Hawaii.org is in strong support of SB2313 that establishes a comprehensive system of public financing for all candidates seeking election to state and county public offices in the State.

SB2313 will help restore the people's trust in government. Considering the convictions of Senator J. Kalani English and Representative Ty Cullen for cash bribes, it is clear that the legislature must do everything in its power to remove the influence that money has on our politics, including reforms like public financing. Public financing of elections is one of the most important ways to free our state political system from undue influence from corporations, businesses, and special interest groups. Three out of four voters support a clean elections program.

Public financing will make campaigning easier. No one likes asking individuals for large sums of money. Public financing will free candidates from fundraisers and countless phone calls. Reducing or even eliminating candidates' reliance on wealthy donors and the need to perpetually fundraise frees candidates and officials to spend more time with their constituents and to focus on the most pressing issues of their community, such as the impacts from the growing climate crisis. It also promotes public trust in officials and in government.

SB2313 would provide participating candidates with competitive amounts of funding they need to run an effective campaign. This system worked very well for Hawaii County Council races in 2010 and 2012, and currently works very well statewide in places like Connecticut and Maine.

Please take this opportunity to get money out of politics. Pass SB2313.

Mahalo for the opportunity to testify in strong support of this important legislation.

Dear Chair and Members of the Committee,

I am writing in strong support of Senate Bill 2313, which would strengthen Hawaii’s public campaign financing system and help reduce the influence of money in our elections.

Hawai‘i’s political system is broken. The heavy reliance on campaign contributions from wealthy donors and special interests has led to a system where 2 in 3 people believe elected officials are more focused on the interests of their donors than the needs of their communities. As a result, good policies are often blocked while harmful ones move forward. This dynamic erodes public trust and encourages corruption. SB 51 is a critical step toward fixing this broken system by allowing candidates to run competitive campaigns without being dependent on special interest money.

By providing full public financing for qualified candidates, SB 2313 will break the link between private money and electoral success. This will create a fairer and more honest system where elected officials are accountable to their constituents rather than big donors. Importantly, similar programs in other states show that public financing does not lead to higher incumbent turnover or drastic shifts in political makeup, but it does change who holds influence in government—ensuring that everyday people, not just the wealthy few, have a voice.

Public financing is both popular and cost-effective. Three out of four voters support a clean elections program. States like Connecticut and Maine have successfully run similar programs for decades, and Hawai‘i County piloted a version in 2010 and 2012. Even if Hawai‘i saw higher participation rates than any other state, estimates show the cost would be less than $10 million per year—just 0.05% of the state budget. That’s under $7 per resident or less than $1 per tourist—a small price to pay for a more transparent, accountable government.

For these reasons, I urge you to pass SB 2313. This bill will restore trust in our democracy, empower candidates to focus on their communities rather than fundraising, and ensure that our government truly serves the people of Hawai‘i.

Thank you for listening to this constituent who represents 50 other voting residents of this state.

Respectfully,

Leslee Cook

This legislation is long overdue to ensure politicians are not influenced toward supporting or rejecting policies, bills, etc. because by doing so they support the desires of their largest campaign donors. I like to feel I can trust decisions are being made for the greater good of the society and not for only a selective few with money to buy votes. Thank you for introducing a bill to minimize what might be perceived as, or actually might be, donor influence in politics.

Private fundraising in the US elections corrupts the incentives of elected officials, advantages entrenched elites, and harms electoral competition. Public funding of elections would level the electoral playing field and better align the interests of elected officials and citizens.

The best empirical evidence suggests that public-funding programs promote candidate entry and electoral competition.

As an American Citizen and resident of Hawai'i for all of my life it is my belief that we (all of us) must abide by the Constitution and the Rule of Law.

Our elections process should follow in that stead and no one should be trying to control or influence a State run election by soliciting "pay to play" in our government. Our Sunshine Law was passed long ago, and it still is the expectation of anyone who is involved in our government. In order to uphold the integrity of our elections a comprehensive funding of public elections continues to be a reliable choice to keep greed and corruption out of public service.

We must protect our elections or we will lose Trust in Government and Trust is essential.

Aloha Chair Rhoads, Vice Chair Gabbard, and Members of the Committee,

My name is Joell Edwards, and I am writing in strong support of SB2313.

I have had the opportunity to work on several grassroots campaigns here on Kaua‘i, and I saw firsthand how difficult it is for community-rooted candidates to compete in a system dominated by money. Too often, people believe our political system is driven by who can raise the most funds, rather than by the needs of everyday families. That belief discourages good people from running and weakens trust in government.

Public financing is a proven way to change that. It reduces the influence of wealthy donors and special interests while giving everyday people a real voice in our elections. When candidates are able to run competitive campaigns without relying on private donations, they can focus on listening to constituents, showing up in the community, and working on real solutions.

Hawai‘i has already demonstrated a commitment to clean elections, and past pilot programs showed that public financing can work here. SB2313 builds on that success and strengthens our democracy by making it more accessible to community-focused leaders.

I respectfully urge you to support SB2313.
